About Kenny Wright

About Ben Boswell

Also by Kenny Wright and Ben Boswell

Brad, have you seen my hairbrush?" Kenzie called from the bathroom. "I can't fucking find it anywhere."

She emerged a moment later, giving the room a harried sweep. The possibility of taking a job out of town had remained a source of stress in the weeks leading up to today—interview day.

For Kenzie, anyway. Not for me.

"You mean the brush that you always use before bedtime, and always leave on your bedside table?" I asked.

"Yes!" Kenzie barked in frustration. "Where is that damn thing?"

This was novel. Kenzie didn't usually get nervous. Or at least she didn't normally show it. Now she was becoming a total basket case. I glanced at the nightstand, where her brush sat in plain sight. A better man than me would have picked it up and handed it to her, but I can be a real asshole.

"Just go into the interview like that," I said as I openly checked her out. She hadn't put her dress on yet, treating me—most likely unintentionally—to what she'd wear beneath. The black demi-bra was new, lifting and pushing together her full tits, making them seem even larger. The panties matched, black and fringed in lace. And then there were the thigh-highs, nude colored, also topped in lace, hot as hell. "They won't even notice your hair."

That didn't even earn me an eyeroll, which really underscored how distracted she was. When she spotted her brush at last, she hurried over to it. Despite her state of undress, she didn't saunter or sway. She was all business, her demeanor the same as when she loaded the kids into the van when we were in a rush.

“Looks like you found it,” I said, my eyes locked on her ass and the way her thong plunged between her plush, round cheeks as she returned to the bathroom.

It was only when she was out of sight that she found her sass. “You’re an asshole,” she called out.

I chuckled. “I’ll get the coffee going.”

It had been a week since I’d learned about the phone interview. William & Crawford, a big executive recruitment and placement agency based out of Atlanta, wanted to start recruiting younger talent to expand their pipeline. Kenzie had built her career around doing just that, only on a much smaller scale.

Kenzie was still on the fence about it, and for two very good, if not very different, reasons. First of all, it was based out of Atlanta, and we lived in Chicago with our two kids. She’d only agreed to the in-person interview after they’d assured her that she could telecommute at least 50% of the time.

The second reason for her hesitancy—and the real thing I suspected was bothering her—was Deshawn. Back in her early 20s, when I’d first met her, she’d worked with Deshawn at Hooters. Reading between the lines, I’d figured out that things had been pretty hot and heavy between them, but she was hot and heavy with a lot of guys back in those days. I still didn’t understand the cause for concern...

My personal cause for concern involved Ashley, Kenzie’s BFF and the reason an ex-boyfriend—or whatever Deshawn was—was even a problem. Ashley was a hotwife to her husband, Dave, who enjoyed watching her with other men. Last year, during a visit to Atlanta, I’d stayed with them and, much to my surprise, witnessed the game in action.

It changed... well, it changed everything.

I wasn’t Dave. I wasn’t a cuckold. But I had to admit, I got a thrill out of the idea of the hotwife version of Kenzie. I mean, she was always hot, and for over a decade my wife, but somehow the idea of another man out there was exciting. Maybe I liked the competition aspect. Maybe it was just that it reminded me of how thrilling it was to be the guy who takes home the girl all the other men are eying.

She stalked out of the bathroom again, her dark hair now swept up into a high bun. It left her neck bare and drew attention to her elegant, dangling earrings. Despite the markedly unsexy way she crossed the room, my imagination still turned this scene into one of her doing this in front of her ex, prancing around him and showing off all of her smooth, bared skin.

I got up, making to follow her into our closet. Sensing my motive, Kenzie didn't even bother looking over at me. She just issued a "don't" and disappeared into the closet.

I grinned but didn't follow. "Saving it for your new coworker?"

In any other situation, in any other time, she'd have a witty retort. It was a softball for her. You got it. Next dick in this mouth's going to be very big and very black. But I didn't get that. Didn't get anything. I wasn't even sure if she heard me.

"How do I look?" She emerged from the closet wearing a gray, high-waisted pencil skirt and a black blouse, the sleeves stylishly rolled up.

"Hot."

Now the eye roll came. "Seriously, Brad—"

"You look great, Honey. Stop worrying. You've got this."

She wrung her fingers, twisting her wedding band nervously.

"Baby, you're going to be great. And what's—"

"The worst thing that can happen?" she said with a scowl. "Yes. You're nothing if not persistent when you want something."

That, of course, was the other thing about this whole arrangement. I did want her to take it. And why did I want her to take it? It wasn't the job or the potential earnings—although those were sweet. No, I wanted her to take the job because of all the opportunities it gave her to continue our game.

“I just want you to be happy,” I said. And by happy, I meant naughty in all the ways that being in such close proximity to Ashley and Deshawn could bring.

Kenzie simply grunted.

The trepidation continued even in the car ride to the airport. She fidgeted. She was quiet. She kept looking out the window as if contemplating the possibility of fleeing every time the car slowed even a little.

“Hey, think of this as a free trip to see Ashley,” I said as we approached O'Hare.

“I'm not even staying the night.” No tease. No, Oh, you'd like that, wouldn't you?

I licked my lips, tried to find another angle here, another means of encouragement. I think that her hesitancy partly fueled my own persistence—what you can't get and all that.

I started to form some new way to tell her it's just an interview when she took a deep breath. The kind of breath you only take when you're going to give someone bad news. The kind of breath that portends a cancer diagnosis. Or, I think we should see other people. Though in our case, we kind of already crossed that bridge.

“Brad, I need to tell you something.”

“Uh oh,” I said. “Is it really that bad? I don't have cancer, do I?”

That took her by surprise, and she laughed—kind of forced, sure, but I'd take it. Another deep breath and she said, “Okay, maybe I'm being a little melodramatic. But...” and she trailed off.

“Oh, God, I do have cancer! It’s not dick cancer, is it? I really love that little guy.”

She guffawed. “God, you’re an idiot sometimes.... Well, always, but I only notice it sometimes.”

“That’s a sign of true love. So, come on, Kenz, out with it.”

“So... I haven’t been completely honest about something.”

“Deshawn?”

She seemed a little surprised, but I could see her nod out of my peripheral vision.

“You’ve told me you had sex with him multiple times, so I’m not sure what revelation you have that could be so bad.”

“So... I don’t think I really did a good job explaining our relationship.”

“Was he your boyfriend? You weren’t, like, engaged, were you?”

She laughed. “He’s not the engagement type. Or wasn’t back then at least. I wasn’t either. So, no, not a boyfriend, but also not just a....”

“Fuckboy?”

“Brad, you’re not helping. I don’t know exactly what a ‘fuckboy’ is technically. But it was more than just random hookups.”

“Friends with benefits?”

“No. I mean, we were friendly, but it’s not like we ever hung out together when we weren’t banging. What I mean is that it was more... intense.”

“But you weren’t in love?” I asked, feeling suddenly a little uneasy.

“No,” she replied. “But there were times when... things felt very urgent. When being around him, I’d get a little dizzy.”

“Not great as a waitress.”

“Ha. I never spilled beer on anyone... at least not by accident.”

We were arriving at the airport. I almost thought about pulling into the parking lot to continue our conversation, but inertia led me into the departure drop off lane.

“You’re worried those old feelings will come back if you see him?” I asked.

“No. I don’t know. It’s just... I wanted you to know that.”

I pulled up at her doorway. “Baby, you’re going to do great. And I’m not worried about some guy from a million years ago, even if back then he got you all hot and bothered.”

She smiled a little wanly. “Okay.”

I kissed her. “Knock ‘em dead. I’ve always wanted to be a kept man, and frankly, Baby, you’re falling down on the job.”

She shook her head and laughed. I watched her walk into the terminal, admiring how nice her ass looked in her grey pencil skirt and high heels. And when I looked up, I noticed the Uber driver ahead of me was doing the same thing.

When I got home, I made the kids a snack, and then sat at the kitchen table. My phone buzzed.

<Kenzie>: Plane on time. I'll text when I land.

<Brad>: Safe trip.

I flipped over to the thread I had with Ashley and read over our past texts. I knew I couldn't confide in her. She had her own agenda, and it didn't necessarily involve my personal best interests. But the problem was, she was the only person who really understood the situation. So I texted her.

<Brad>: She's on her way.

<Ashley>: I'll take good care of her.

She added a devil emoji.

<Brad>: Why didn't you tell me about her and Deshawn?

<Ashley>: What? That they fucked? You knew that.

<Brad>: She says it was more than that.

She let me stew for a few minutes before responding.

<Ashley>: Yeah, she was a little obsessed. Ten inches of steel-hard black dick will do that to a girl.

<Brad>: What did she do?

<Ashley>: Now that, you'll definitely have to ask her, not me. But you're not worried about any of that, are you, Stud?

I stared at the phone.

<Brad>: How are you and Dave doing?

She didn't answer right away. I kept checking my phone for a reply as I did chores around the house. But none came.

My phone rang. I groaned. Only telemarketers call. But when I pulled it out of my pocket, I saw it was Kenzie. She'd texted earlier that she'd landed safely and was headed to her interview, but only a bit over an hour had passed, barely enough time to get a taxi and arrive at William & Crawford.

"Hey Babe, need another little pep talk?" I said.

"Oh my God, oh my God, he's here, he's here."

"Who, Deshawn? You knew he worked there, and—"

"I'm interviewing with him. I knew he worked here, but not that I'd be on the same team."

"It's okay. It was a long time ago. And even if they offer you the job, you can always say no."

She didn't answer right away. Instead, I could hear her breathing heavily.

"You can always say no," I repeated.

"That's the problem, Brad. That's the problem." I heard someone muffled in the background, then, "Well, they're calling me in. Here goes... whatever."

She didn't even say goodbye. She didn't wait for me to say it. She was there one moment, and then she was gone, an empty void where once my wife was.

No, that wasn't true. What was left in her absence was her panic, like an animal backed into a corner. I couldn't remember the last time I heard such hysteria in Kenzie's voice. I'm not sure if I ever had. If I had been hoping that she'd put aside her calm and collected self, here was my wish fulfilled in spades.

I'm not sure that I did, though, and I wanted to lash out at something. There was an easy target. Ashley.

<Brad>: Did you know?!

She didn't respond immediately, and I almost called her. That's how desperate I was. That was my state of mind. Did Ashley know that my wife would not just be interviewing at Deshawn's company, but actually for the man himself?

I stewed for what felt like an eternity, but actually was only about five minutes.

<Ashley>: Did I know what, Brad? Be more specific. Wouldn't want to spill the beans on any of Kiki's secrets.

I wanted to scream at this woman. There were no straight answers from her.

<Brad>: Did you know that Deshawn was hiring someone for his team?

<Ashley>: Hm... now that you mention it, maybe he did say something like that.

Winky-face emoji.

<Ashley>: And now that I think about it, that could be a very... intense work environment.

<Brad>: You're evil, you know. You just set your best friend up.

<Ashley>: If it's anything like the last time they were together, she'll be thanking me, not asking for my apology.

<Brad>: Things are different now.

I could practically hear the laughter in the space between the texts.

<Ashley>: Are they?

My turn to not reply. My turn to give her the last word. I stood up. I was sweaty, heat built up beneath my arms and under my t-shirt. I went downstairs to lift some weights, trying to take my mind off whatever was going on in Atlanta. It didn't work.

"Kids!" I called.

"What?"

I knew a place in the city where you could order food and have it brought right to you as you watched a movie. The kids were always begging to go there, but it never seemed sensible—Kenzie never thought it was sensible.

"What do you guys think about going to a movie for dinner?"

The squeals were almost enough to make me forget all about my frayed sanity. This, at least, would pass the time.

It sort of worked. The kids were great, taking my mind off things. More than that, with them, I was Dad. I couldn't be a basket case, or even the idiot persona I am when Kenzie and I are alone. When it was just me with Graham and Melanie, I needed to be the grownup.

Then just like that, my thoughts turned darker. What was she doing? Had she really changed, or was this life in Chicago just one big facade?

I didn't turn my phone off while in the theater, but set it to vibrate, expecting some communication from Kenzie. I was all ready to excuse myself to the bathroom to read or banter in private.

They never came. Nothing. Silence. By the time we stepped out of the movie theater, over five hours had passed since the interview began. The sun had started to set here. It was well past dinner time in Atlanta.

I checked my phone again, and to my horror, a stream of text messages came in, along with a couple missed calls and a voicemail.

"Fuck," I muttered before I realized that my kids were right there in front of me.

"Daddy said a bad word!" Melanie gasped.

"I'm telling Mom," Graham said sarcastically.

I barely heard them. My eyes were scanning the texts.

<Kenzie>: Interview's over. That was the most intense interview I've ever experienced. All the other directors were there, along with the VPs, and at the end, the CEO!

<Kenzie>: But I think I nailed it. :)

If she'd texted immediately after the interview, it meant the interview was close to three hours long. Intense, indeed.

<Kenzie>: Where are you, btw? I called home and no one picked up.

There was a gap in time after that text. An hour or so. I tried filling in the blanks but couldn't. My mind was trapped in mud.

<Kenzie>: Call me.

Another fifteen minutes or so passed, then the voicemail registered.

Then nothing.

That fucking theater must have blocked signal going in or something. All of that happened in the span of the two and a half hours that we were in there. And then some. It had been what? Forty-five minutes since the voicemail?

I called her before even listening to it, as we were pulling out onto the highway, headed out of the city. It rang and rang and went to Kenzie's voicemail.

I tried hiding my anxiety as I left a benign message for her. "Hey, Hon. Sorry to miss you. We went to the movies. Kids, tell your mom goodnight!"

"Goodnight, Mom!" Melanie yelled enthusiastically. Graham's was more fitting of a preteen boy.

“Call me when you get free. Would love to hear more about your... interview.” I only stumbled a little on that one. “Love you.”

I hung up.

We got home and for the first time in the history of history, the kids actually wanted my attention rather than being willing to mindlessly play video games and watch TV before bedtime. It was mostly about making sure I was fully prepared to get them off to school tomorrow morning. So, I had to assure Melanie that I knew what she had for lunch, and Graham insisted I wash his favorite sweatshirt so that it would be dry when he got up.

In the meantime, the clock was ticking. Now almost ninety minutes since she left her voicemail. I finally fled and locked myself in the bathroom. From outside, Melanie asked, “Daddy are you pooping?”

“Yes, Honey, I’m pooping.”

“Ewww!” she wailed before breaking into hysterical giggles.

I sat on the toilet and finally listened to Kenzie’s voicemail.

God, Brad, where are you? I need to talk to you. I need to talk to someone.

She was talking fast, clearly all charged up from the interview... or something.

It’s... it’s like a dream job. I’d have my own team. Own budget. Power to approve new initiatives. All they care about are results. Or, I don’t know, too good to be true. Deshawn got an MBA at some point! Still has the earring, but now throws down the corporate jargon. I can’t tell if he’s serious or what. I played it straight. I didn’t know if I was supposed to mention we knew each other. Do you say that in an interview?

Hooters had long since fallen off her resume. I suspected that this part of their lives would remain their little secret.

Brad... This is going so fast. They want to fill this position, like, yesterday. Real hard sell. The CEO all but offered me the job. They want me to stay the night and possibly meet some other people at the company tomorrow. Then he suggested I have dinner with Deshawn to answer any questions I might still have. I don't know. I should tell them to slow down, right? I need to come home and think, right? Brad! Call me. I'm sitting in a conference room pretending to be having a conversation with you.

I knew her Delta login, and I checked her reservation. Flight back changed to tomorrow afternoon.

I called her after that. It was 8. Bedtime. Also, if she had taken up the offer of dinner—and it sure seemed like she had—she was right in the middle of it.

Her phone went directly to voicemail. No ring. No chance for her to look and choose to ignore it. It was either out of batteries, or she'd turned it off. The former was improbable—Kenzie was obsessed with keeping it charged. The latter squeezed something in my gut, beneath my belly button, deeper than anything actually physical.

“Kenz...” I started when her cheerful voice finished telling me that she was unavailable and to leave a message. “That’s great that it went so well.” It was for a variety of confusing and sometimes conflicting reasons. “We can talk when you’re back, but I think you need to take this. The offer sounds too good to pass up.”

I picked up momentum, letting it push me past all the alarm bells a reasonable person would have. “We can deal with the Deshawn thing together. He's a professional, you're a professional. We live in a different era and all that."

It was all the right things to say. I should have hung up right there, but my little head took control and added one little, stupid, idiotic thing.

"And if you guys don't end up having a purely professional evening... well, you know the price."

I laughed. I hung up. Then immediately wished that I could take it back. That's the thing about voicemail, though, isn't it? Once it's out there, there are no undos or unsends. I could leave another, but that felt like defeat, and this was a game that I wasn't prepared to lose.

I put the kids to bed—we were well past wishing them goodnight over the phone—which put me into the nine o'clock hour. Ten o'clock in Atlanta, and still nothing from my wife.

Feeling like a minor case of the flu setting in, I went to my computer to do a little research on my competition—Deshawn. I'd tried looking him up before but hadn't gotten far. Not with just a first name and the fact that he'd worked for Hooters over a decade ago. Now I had more. I had his current employer.

Deshawn Douglas. Aged 41. He did indeed get his MBA—from Emory around the time Kenzie and I were tying the knot. He's been with William & Crawford for an astounding ten years, where he's now Associate Director of Professional Recruiting at William & Crawford.

His Instagram was filled with Deshawn hanging out with either attractive women—many, but not all, white chicks—or important looking business types. There was a photo of him shaking hands with Stacy Abrams. Another with T.I. Another with Matt Ryan and Julio Jones.

As impressive as any of that was, it was the man himself that I cared about, and he looked every bit as formidable as I'd feared. He was good looking and knew it, his cocky smile inviting anyone who wanted to look to go ahead and look. His skin was dark, almost as black as his trimmed goatee. His head was shaved and polished. And there was that earring.

I half-expected to see a picture of him out with Kenzie on some feed, but at least he was discreet. I didn't find any of Ashley, either, although I had a hunch that the two had hooked up recently. As if summoning the devil, a text came through from the blonde.

<Ashley>: Squirming?

<Brad>: What do you know?

Like the voicemail, I wanted to take it back, but now it was too late. I'd shown my hand, my weakness. Fuck.

<Ashley>: I know that Kenzie called me, asking me for advice.

Oh, God.

<Brad>: Seems like a bad idea.

<Ashley>: Oh, Brad, please. I told her she was welcome to crash at my place. Want me to text when she shows up?

I did, but that felt too much like being an overbearing father.

<Brad>: She's a big girl. She can take care of herself.

<Ashley>: Funny, that's the same advice that I gave her.

<Ashley>: Oh, and I also said that you'd be into it if she ends up riding Deshawn's black cock. You've already proven that, so what's the harm in having some fun?

This woman sure knew how to push my buttons.

<Brad>: You're a really great friend, Ashley. Thank you so much for being a part of our lives.

<Ashley>: Any time, Sailor.

<Ashley>: Oh, and I hope Kiki wore something sexy under her interview outfit. Deshawn's always been a sucker for some sexy lingerie.

Fuck you, Ashley. I didn't write her back.

It was now a waiting game. Normally, I'm pretty chill, phlegmatic, that sort of thing, but this felt off. Kenzie was always so unflappable, yet Deshawn seemed to... flap her. Was that a word? Sounded gross. And yet maybe appropriate?

The panic in her voice when she'd called earlier was still fresh, but it went beyond that. Her confession in the car—how things got intense, how he made her dizzy... back in the day. Maybe today, too?

Dave had mentioned him, too, back when this all started. How they'd all fucked him. How she'd fucked him along with Ashley and another Hooters girl. And how none of this—none of it—had she ever confessed herself. What other secrets did she hold?

Of course, I probably had nothing to worry about. This sort of thing happens all the time. You run into people from a past life in all sorts of unexpected situations. It usually just makes for a funny story. A guy my wife slept with back in the day by coincidence is interviewing her for a new job. Haha. That'll make for a great anecdote next time we go out with friends.

And even if she did hook up with him, why would that be a big deal? I'd fucked two new girls just in the past few months, and given how many guys Kenzie had fucked back in the day (and by the way, good for her), why would a trip down memory lane be so threatening?

But it was. And it was hot. Because at the moment, I wasn't sure if I would prefer to hear that Deshawn had been all business and appropriate or whether I wanted to hear that the first time he got Kenzie alone, he bent her over the nearest convenient surface, pulled up that tight skirt, slid her thong to the side and buried himself inside her.

From back in high school I remembered this quote, "The test of a first-rate intelligence is the ability to hold two opposed ideas in mind at the same time and still retain the ability to function." I wasn't sure how functional I was. And I'm not sure the thoughts were in my mind, or rather in my gut and my dick.

Like a bad penny, Ashley came back.

<Ashley>: They're here!

I waited, knowing by now that she was drawing things out for dramatic effect.

<Ashley>: And by here, I mean parked out front. You'd think they'd have had enough time to talk at dinner. But I guess there are some things that you can do in a darkened car that you can't in a restaurant. Isn't that right, Brad?

I groaned. Was that just Ashley's imagination or had Kenzie told her about Taylor? And if Kenzie had, was she planning to finally even the score in the same way?

I didn't want to encourage Ashley, but on the other hand, my imagination was demanding at least additional details. First rate intelligence.

<Brad>: What kind of car does he drive?

<Ashley>: A big, black sedan. A BMW maybe? But I promise you, that isn't the big, black thing she's most interested in.

I ignored the obvious dig, focusing instead on the car. She wouldn't be able to ride him like Taylor had in her Rav4, but that didn't mean she couldn't suck his cock, or climb into his lap and take him inside her, grinding down, while he sucked on her titties until she hissed in pleasure.

I slapped my face to clear out the fog.

<Brad>: What does Dave think of this? Doesn't he have some sort of night vision goggles you could be using?

I girded myself for some sort of comeback, but she didn't answer. And after a few more minutes, I reached out to her again.

<Brad>: Any updates?

Still nothing. Which meant that either something very bad or very good had happened. I was dying to find out which.

It was ten my time. Eleven hers. Not too late, but certainly late enough for something to happen between her and a former boyfriend. At dinner. In the car. On Ashley's couch as Dave watched from his secret room?

I considered Dave. Considered texting him. I maybe even would have if I'd had his number. I didn't, and we barely knew one another. It would have been weird anyway.

What I wasn't going to do was text Ashley again. She saw my questions already. They weren't going anywhere and probing for more just came off as pathetic. Same applied to Kenzie, although with her, as the minutes ticked by, it became too hard to resist.

At 10:32, I finally broke down.

<Brad>: Kenz, I think I'm going to head to bed. Hope you don't stay out too late. Need to be at your best and brightest tomorrow, right? Call me if you get this in the next few.

My thumb hovered over the send button as I read and re-read it. It wasn't the strongest thing, and I couldn't help but read the desperation in it, but I went ahead and sent it anyway.

She didn't immediately respond. She didn't respond a half hour later. Or an hour later. Time ticked on. I kept waiting, sitting there with my phone in hand willing it to buzz as my dick seemed to grow harder and harder at the implications.

At midnight, I went to bed. I actually slept, too, although it was far from restful. Twice I woke up—once at 2, then again at 5:15. Both times, I checked my phone, eyes blurry, brain half-awake. Neither time was there a message. Both times, it took almost an hour to fall back asleep.

I awoke to the sound of buzzing, and at first, I thought it might be my alarm, although I didn't remember setting one. I almost snoozed it anyway before seeing Kenzie's smiling face on the surface of my phone, taken when the two of us had slipped away to Greece for our tenth anniversary.

She was calling. At last. At seven in the fucking morning. I couldn't help but wonder if she was in bed with Deshawn even now, her head cradled in the crook of his arm as she called me. It put me in a bad mood when I answered.

"Hey, Stranger," I said gruffly.

Before I could even get the barb out, though, she was falling over herself apologizing. "I'm sorry. So, so sorry. I didn't get your message until just now. Would you believe it? My phone died sometime last night."

I wanted to believe it, but my groggy state was making it hard. "It did?"

"I know, right? I forgot my charger at home."

I looked, and sure enough, the white cord was still sitting there, plugged into the nightstand where she normally kept it. I relaxed a little at that.

"That's unlike you."

"Tell me about it. Have had a lot on my mind, I guess."

"So did the old feelings come back when you saw him?" I blurted, tired of talking about everything but the thing I wanted to talk about.

I heard the hesitation, too. Not a great sign. Also, a great sign. When she spoke, though, her voice was playful. I couldn't tell if it was forced. "You asking if I fucked him yet?”

“Did you?”

She took a deep breath that felt like something significant was coming. I braced myself. “This is a man who could be my new boss. It’s his recommendation, above all others, that will probably get me what’s shaping up to be the job of a lifetime.”

“So that’s a no?”

Again, the hesitation. This time, it dragged on and on.

“Kenz?”

“No, it’s not a no.”

The double negatives took me a second to parse, and even longer to comprehend. “I’m sorry, Babe, speak plainly. It’s early and I didn’t get great sleep.”

“I’m at his place now.”

My whole body seized up.

“I spent the whole night here. We... we didn’t sleep much, either.”

How could that feel like both the best and worst news ever? I defaulted, as usual, to humor. “But what about your interviews today? Don’t you need your beauty rest?”

Kenzie laughed to humor me—and herself. We were still Kenzie and Brad, the familiar couple with the familiar mannerisms. Even if she was in another man’s house right now. Even if she’d spent all night fucking his big, black cock.

“I’ll be fine,” she said. The moment hung. “You?”

“I will.”

I could hear her nod down the line. “We’ll talk when I’m home.”

“Yes.”

“You’ll be there? To pick me up?”

“Of course, Honey. Wouldn’t miss it.”

“Thank you.”

Kenzie walked out of the terminal wearing a business outfit that I didn’t recognize—a black, sleeveless, mock turtleneck tucked into a pair of pinstripe black slacks. With her sunglasses down and her dark brown hair falling in glossy waves around her shoulders, she already looked the part of a sexy-chic executive.

She smiled when she spotted my car, shouldering her laptop bag and hustling over to me. I got out of the car, which I normally don’t do when picking her up. This just felt like a get-out-of-the-car kind of reunion.

“Hey there,” I said. “Looking for a ride?”

Kenzie laughed, throwing her arms around me and hugging me tightly. She felt tiny in my arms. I wanted to cradle her there forever. “I’d love a ride, Cowboy, but let’s wait until we’re home.”

I kissed her, tasting her lipstick. She smelled differently than normal. She hadn’t intended to spend the night, so hadn’t packed her regular toiletries. Her hair smelled more masculine than her normal shampoo, and there was a muskiness on her skin that made me think about Axe body wash.

My insides squirmed. I kissed her harder, our tongues dueling before she pulled back with a laugh. “Come on, take me away in your chariot before we make a real scene here.”

“You know cowboys rode horses, not chariots, right?”

She stuck her tongue out at me and got in the car.

I didn’t think I could make it home. I wanted to pull over and fuck the hell out of Kenzie. Luckily, Evanston was close enough to O’Hare. The reclamation could wait.

“So did you take the job?”

“I haven’t decided.”

“How did today’s meetings go?”

“All a blur. This is all happening so quickly. Everyone’s talking like I’m already working there.”

“That’s a good sign.”

She nodded, looking out the window, her thoughts either on those meetings, or somewhere else. I didn’t probe or push. I gave her the space she needed.

She shifted, her body crunching against the leather of my car. I heard her lips part. Heard her take in a soft, nearly silent breath. I held my own, waiting, preparing. We pulled onto our street before her words came.

“The kids are still at school. Aftercare.” It was just 3:30 in the afternoon. We had time. “I thought about picking them up early to meet you, but...”

Kenzie looked at me, and I saw the mom in her warring with whoever had emerged last night. She nodded. I understand, she said without saying it. “Come on, let’s go inside.”

The last time we were reunited after something happened, we were all over one another. This felt different, like there was a wedge between us that I couldn’t see. Kenzie knelt down, picking up one of Melanie’s dolls, where it lay slumped against the base of the stairs.

“I can’t take the job,” she said, staring at the doll like she was talking to it.
“I’m going to tell them no.”

I was expecting this. I just didn’t know it until she said it. It made sense, despite the dream job. Once she came back to Chicago and our reality, she became the woman she’d grown into. If only I’d grown to be so mature.

“Tell me something...” I approached her, wrapping my arms around her.
“Are they offering you the job because of your history with Deshawn?”

“They don’t know about that.”

“Are they offering you a job because you slept with him last night?” God, saying that felt like pushing through a heavy door.

“I don’t think so, no.”

“So, take the job. You earned it, Babe.”

I felt her body yield. She knew I was right but was still stubbornly holding out. She emitted something halfway between a chuckle and a sigh. “You’ve been talking to Ash, haven’t you?”

I had but didn’t know what this had to do with it. “Hm?”

“She also wants me to take the job.” Kenzie set the doll down on the stairs, then rounded on me. “And I suspect for many of the same reasons that you do.”

The big, black thing she’s most interested in...

“We’re not the only two tempted by that reason.”

Kenzie bit her lower lip, her blue eyes going soft. “We should talk about that.”

“I’ve been dying to all day long,” I said.

“You know why I went to Deshawn’s last night?”

“I can think of a few reasons why.” I grinned, even as I felt things collapsing deep inside of me. It didn’t help that Serious Kenzie was back.

“I had to know.” She rubbed my chest, straightening the collar of my polo shirt. “I had to know if things were the same between us.”

“Intense.”

She nodded.

“And were they?”

Kenzie didn’t seem to hear my question. “I wasn’t going to. Not initially. We had a long dinner. It was... fun. Interesting. We never talked much, back in the day. What did we really have to talk about? Bands, bars, and booze? But last night felt more grown up. And we mostly talked about work and expectations and all of that. So it’s not like we were talking sex. But... yeah, the intensity was still there.”

“You wanted him.”

Her laugh said that that was an understatement. “I denied myself... all the way until we were parked outside of Ashley’s house and it was time to say goodnight.”

“And then you stopped denying yourself?”

I held my breath, because I knew it wasn’t just a simple goodnight. I wondered if she’d hide that. I wondered how I’d process it if she did.

“I... I kissed him.”

“You did.”

She bit her lip again and nodded.

“And...?”

“And then we talked about the kiss, and what it meant. He told me that he was surprised to see my name come out of HR, and even more surprised at how perfect I was for the job. That he believed that what was in the past was in the past, and that he’d never turn this into a #metoo thing. He said all the right things, Brad.”

“Which made you want him more.”

“Fuck yes, it did. Because even as he said it, I could practically fucking feel him get up inside me. Just like before.”

“So you fucked him.”

“So I ran out of the car!” She laughed. “I went into the house. Ashley and I talked. She convinced me that I could have this job and also have Deshawn’s black cock—”

“Such a charming girl.”

“I know, right? I’d be such a virtuous woman if it weren’t for you guys.” She kissed me, jokingly at first, until that turned into more. “Ashley seemed to think I could do it. You apparently do, too. But I wasn’t convinced.”

“So that’s why you spent the night with him?”

“I didn’t mean for that to happen. Honestly. It just... went.”

“You going to tell me about it already?”

“Come on. We need to be naked for the rest of this story.”

Upstairs in our bedroom, with the light of the afternoon streaming through our windows, I watched Kenzie strip. Beneath her mock turtleneck, she wore the same bra that she'd left in—a lacey black demi-bra that lifted and cupped her tits like a Victoria's Secret model.

“I didn't intend to stay the night, obviously.” She hooked her thumbs into the sides of her pinstripe slacks. “Had to borrow this outfit from Ash.”

She wiggled her hips as she pushed them down. Beneath she wore nothing, her pussy pink and swollen and wet. “I should have borrowed some panties,” Kenzie went on. “Because now I need to deal with these come stains.”

The inside of those trousers were definitely coated in white, although I couldn't tell if that was my wife or another man.

“That'll be an awkward dry-cleaning drop-off,” I said, stripping off of my own shirt.

Kenzie laughed, coming over to me. “I missed you.”

“It was just one night.”

“And it was some night.”

I reached behind her, grabbing her ass and squeezing. I loved how her cheeks filled my hands, full and round and meaty. She'd always had a great ass, but I loved it more than ever now. “I bet Deshawn loved this booty.”

“You go right for the stereotypes, don't you?” Her face glowed with mischief as she looked up at me. “But you're not wrong.”

Our kiss was so familiar, yet so new. Like we were once again exploring the boundaries of one another, finding new places where once we thought there were only edges. She unbuckled my pants, fishing my hardon out and rubbing it against her smooth belly.

“How did it start?” I asked.

She pulled me onto the bed by my cock. I went with her, pushing her back and running my own hand up the inside of her thigh.

“I know you were in the car with him for a while, outside of Ashley’s. Did anything happen then?”

“She told you that.” Kenzie wasn’t upset. More amused than anything else. “No, I told you, we just talked. And kissed. We wanted more, but... no, we just kissed.”

The image of the two of them making out in the car felt molten inside of me—even more than when she told me she’d fucked Terrance. The implied intimacy washed through me like the first hit of a new drug. Even the fact that they’d restrained themselves was intense.

“Then, I went inside. Talked for a long time about guys and the lifestyle and... I don’t know... freedom. She’s certainly got some opinions on things. She’s changed. Or maybe she’s not changed at all. Something’s going on there...”

I cleared my thoughts. I heard her, but also didn’t care about this. Not right now. “So, Deshawn?”

“Oh right. Forgot how single-minded you were.”

“We only have an hour or so.” I finished the journey up to her pussy, rubbing my fingers across those soft lips of hers before shifting lower, between her cheeks. She jumped when I touched her asshole. “And I intend to take my payment in that time.”

“About that...”

I knew what was coming next. I’d been prepared for it, so that I wouldn’t be disappointed. It was a game. I wasn’t mad. That was an area that she always said that she didn’t do, and I could keep on respecting that.

“Gonna have to give you an I.O.U. on that one.”

“It’s just that I’m so sore back there.”

I blinked at her. She just smiled back up at me. I pressed my fingers against her anus, popping one inside. She hissed, pain and... pleasure flickering across her face.

“Why’s that, Kenz?”

“Oh. Because Deshawn rode it hard last night. Like really fucking hard. Made sitting through today’s meetings difficult.”

“Fuuuuck.”

In my state of shock, Kenzie shifted beneath me, her hand finding my cock as if to make sure that I was still hard—still into this.

“He told me he wanted a constant reminder of him as I made my decision today. He told me that if I took the job, I could feel like that all the time.” The way she said it, this was far from a bad thing.

“But you said you didn’t like it.”

She pulled my hard cock to her pussy. I mounted her, sliding into her pussy that felt a lot looser than it had the last time we banged. Or maybe that was just my imagination.

“I said that I don’t do that.” I pulsed inside of her at her clarification.

“But you have.”

“Fuck, Kenzie,” I groaned.

“Every guy that I... that fucked me in the ass... wanted... wanted more.” She ran her fingernails across my back. “They were all like Deshawn.”

“Intense?”

“And dangerous.” She met my eyes. “And stupid.”

“Stupid how?”

Kenzie shook her head. A conversation for another day. “I liked you, Brad. And the more we hung out—” Meaning fucked. “—the more I really liked you.”

We’d still been dating that first time that I’d asked about anal sex. It was the only time I’d seriously asked. Every other time had been half a joke.

“So, you told me you didn’t do that,” I finished for her. I pulled out of her cunt and ran it down her taint, putting pressure on her ass. “And now you will.”

“Brad—”

I pushed forward, expecting to meet resistance. She’d asked that we do this later, but things were coming at me too quickly. My needs outweighed my consideration. When my cockhead pushed into the tight opening of my wife’s asshole for the first time, we both gasped.

Kenzie went off, the storm of her growing orgasm finally unleashing itself. She arched back, screaming as she came. “Oh my! Oh fuck! Oh, my... GOD!”

Somehow, I didn’t come. Somehow, despite the fact that she was trying to squeeze my dick off at the head with her anal ring, I managed to keep my own orgasm at bay. I pushed into her, sliding deeper and deeper into her glorious backdoor.

“Oh, shit, Brad!”

I pressed her thighs against her body, folding her in half as I plundered deeper. I’d never done this with Kenzie, but I’d done it before. I knew how to take her.

“You like that, don’t you?”

“Fuck yeah, I do.”

“A little too much?” I probed. It was like I’d been granted access to a new room in a familiar house. “It scares you how much you like it in the butt?”

“Jesus, that feels so big!”

I pushed all the way into her, pausing to take a breath.

“But not as big as Deshawn,” she added, peering up at me, gauging my reaction.

I shoved forward, squeezing her thighs. He was bigger than me. That was hot. It also awakened my competitive spirit. I could be better.

“So you went over there and what? He just shoved it in your ass?”

“First, he made me strip down... to my bra and panties... and blow him. “She pushed through her narrative as I pushed into her ass. “Then he made me take off my bra... so he could... fuck my tits.”

She reached between us so she could finger her pussy and rub her clit. “After that, he asked me if I wanted to swallow his spunk... or if I wanted him to come all over my face.”

I couldn’t hold back—and I was trying with all my might. This woman was a natural at the tease and had me so wound up that a breath would tip me over the edge.

Despite the anal sex, despite the sweat dripped from her forehead and the tightness between her brows, she found the space to look up at me, her eyes clear. “Brad, it’s been so long since I’ve actually gagged on a man’s come.” She teased the back of my head with her foot. “I’ve almost forgotten how much I love it.”

Everything squeezed around me—Kenzie’s ass, my imagination, the pressure in my balls and in my abs and in my brain. The world imploded. For one crystal clear moment, I saw myself reflected back in her eyes, out-of-control-and-fuck-who-cares expression and all.

Shoving one last time into her ass, I roared as I came. Kenzie tossed her head back again, delighting in the feel of my spunk filling her.

“Oh, fuck, that’s good,” she groaned, slapping her clit to get herself off.

I pulled free of her ass, collapsing at her side. “That was intense,” I said.

“Always is.”

“Can we make a habit of it?”

She laughed, patting my shoulder. I waited for a joke or a quip. It didn’t come, and her laugh trailed off into a thoughtful quiet.

“You know very few things scare me in life...” Her words felt like the beginning of a monologue that she’d been practicing, but then she didn’t follow it up with anything else.

“Is that a complete thought?”

She chuckled. “I’m thinking.”

“What scares you now?”

“Losing this. All of this.” She waved her hand at the ceiling, where our ceiling fan rotated lazily on its lowest setting. “But if I’m honest, I’ve been terrified ever since I realized I was falling in love with you.”

“Why? Because of your past? That’s kind of insane, you know.”

“Fear’s not really a sane emotion, but... If I told you I was a call girl, how would you feel?”

“Wait, you were a call girl?!”

“No, no! I’m just using it as an example, but you kind of illustrated it perfectly. You’d think of me differently, right?”

“I knew you were...experienced. I was too,” I said. “Didn’t change anything. Still doesn’t. So you got intense with Deshawn. You didn’t fall for him then. You think you will now?”

“No. Not likely.”

“And I’m not going to start thinking of you any differently. You forget, I still see the side of you that you’ve grown into—someone who’s got her shit together. Super mom, soon-to-be super exec. Girl who still reads fucking physical books from the library and bitches about grocery shopping on a Sunday afternoon—”

“Which is basically a punishment worse than death,” Kenzie interjected.

“And you see all those things in me. It’s what makes us more real. It’s what grounds us.”

“So you’re saying I should take this job.”

“Yes.”

“Even if it means I will definitely be sleeping with Deshawn.”

“Yes.” I started to grow hard again.

“And even if when I do fuck him, I may do some crazy shit.”

“I’m counting on it.”

Kenzie sighed, cuddling into me. “This is insane, you know. There are so many problems with all of this.”

“And we’ll solve them together, okay?”

“You just want more butt sex, don’t you?”

That got a laugh from me. “I mean, that’s what this is all about, right?”

“Pervert.”

“Slut.”

“Come on, let’s go shower so you can fuck me again. Think we’ve got a little more time before we need to get the kids.”

“Now there’s the Kenzie I know and love.”

So how's this going to work?" Charlie asked. Being the Dads of our two families, we were set in charge of grilling. It was Memorial Day, so unseasonably hot that it made our families' tradition of meeting at the pool actually not terrible.

"Well, first she'll need to build up her team. They've got some internal expertise, but Kenz is going to mostly have to start from scratch."

"No, not that. I mean, like... it's in Atlanta, right?"

I prodded the burgers and rolled the hotdogs. The gas grills at the public pool weren't great, but we'd staked our spot out early enough to grab the best one.

"We're converting the guest room of the house into an official office space. That's where she'll be most of the time. But she will have to be down in Atlanta the first week of every month. For now, she'll stay at Ashley's."

"Ashley's," Charlie said, his voice flat. He cupped his hands in front of his chest. "Ashley?"

"That's the one."

"You sure that's a good idea?"

I tried to remember what I'd told him about Ash, specifically. I know we talked when I'd first come back from Atlanta, but there were beers and emotion, and it was all hazy. Had I told him that Dave was a cuckold and she fucked black dudes? I didn't think so.

I hedged. "Why wouldn't it be?"

“Well, I mean, if I remember it all correctly, those two weren’t a great influence on each other... back in the day.” He looked towards the pool, like he didn’t want to meet my eyes. “And didn’t you say something about Ashley still going out and stuff? Dressing up? Clubs?”

“Yeah. The upside of having no kids.”

At that moment, the whistle blew across the pool, emptying it of all the kids. The rampage started. Charlie’s three boys thundered in our direction. His fourth, who was still a toddler and couldn’t quite keep up, wasn’t far behind.

He groaned. “You mean there’s a downside to that?”

I chuckled. The herd arrived.

For all of Charlie’s griping, he loved his family and his four boys. Even the complaining about parenthood fit his complete transformation into domesticity. He laughed as he dished out the grilled food. We didn’t even bother with plates. It was like feeding a pack of wild dogs. Graham got in there, too, mixing it up with the other boys. Melanie hung back with Kenzie, waiting for the insanity to die down.

“Congratulations again, Maggie,” I said to Charlie’s wife as she arrived. “When are you due again?”

Maggie rubbed her pregnant belly as Kenzie answered for her. “August 12, Brad.” To her friend, “He’ll ask again in about an hour. Watch.”

Maggie laughed. I swear, I’d never heard that date before. “It’s okay, I’m pretty sure Charlie doesn’t remember, either.”

“It’s August 12,” he said.

“Very good, dear.”

We ate at a picnic bench in the grassy area of the pool, talking mostly about Kenzie’s new job and the logistics about how it would work. In addition to that first week staying down in Atlanta, the job would require travel around the country.

“Being in Chicago, so close to a hub airport, is a real blessing,” Kenzie explained. “I don’t lose that much time with the kids.”

“And,” Maggie added, “you get all that time in a hotel room when you need a bit of quiet time.”

As if on cue, one of her boys punched the other, who then turned and tackled him back so hard they nearly knocked over a lifeguard passing by. “Boys!” Maggie growled.

“The hotels are a nice perk,” Kenzie said with a playful glance in my direction. I forced myself to think of the more innocent interpretation of that statement because I wore swimming trunks.

Charlie and Maggie didn’t notice the innuendo anyway. Charlie was too busy getting miffed about his wife’s comment about hotel rooms. “Hey, you’re the one who wanted Peanut Number 5 there.”

Maggie rubbed her belly again. “Maybe I just like the sex.”

Kenzie laughed. Charlie wasn’t having it. “And I offered to get snipped.”

“Daddy, what’s ‘snipped’?” asked their six-year-old.

“Nevermind, Leo.”

“My mom has already offered to help with the kids when we both have to travel,” Kenzie continued.

“Not just when I’m traveling,” I said. “I don’t think she entirely trusts me to take care of the kids on my own.”

“No comment,” Kenzie said with a laugh. “We’re also sending them away for sleep-away camp in August.”

“I’m not super thrilled by that.”

“Brad doesn’t love turning our kids into camp kids,” Kenzie said. “I think it’s good for them. That kind of independence is good.”

“Can you imagine, Hon?” Charlie said to Maggie. “A whole week alone together?”

Maggie rubbed her tummy. “Fantasies can sometimes come true?”

Kenzie and I shared a look.

“What?”

“Nothing,” we said in unison.

The pool opened back up. The kids stormed off, taking Maggie and Kenzie with them since the youngest kids needed a chaperone. Charlie’s eyes were glued to Kenzie’s ass as she left. “You are so fucking lucky.”

I’d tried talking her into wearing a bikini, but she wasn’t having it. Despite the evolution our relationship had taken over the last half year, here in Evanston, she was solidly Kenzie the Mom. Still, her aqua one piece didn’t do much to disguise her curves.

“How are things between you two? You guys seem...”

“What?”

“Like newlyweds? I don’t know. Maybe I’m just dealing with this imminent fifth boy.”

“So another boy?”

“Yeah. Mags is not happy. I mean, she’s happy, of course, but... she really wanted a girl.”

“You can always try again.”

“Oh, God...”

Happy. Like newlyweds. It wasn't a bad way to describe the kind of energy that Kenzie and I had. I contemplated telling him that she was actually working for Deshawn now. Haha, isn't that funny? But he also knew something of Deshawn's history with Kenzie, and also that I'd come to him at some point, concerned that she'd been sleeping with him while we were dating.

Was I still concerned about that? When I thought about it now, I started chubbing up. Still, there was a lick of discomfort in the excitement, a pinch of jealousy. Wasn't that a good thing? Wasn't it Ashley who said that as soon as Dave stopped feeling jealous, they had a problem?

We spent the week between Memorial Day and her first week in Atlanta fucking like the newlyweds that Charlie accused us of being. I spent the rest of my time dealing with my own jealousy. It didn't help that Kenzie seemed to be glued to her phone, always texting.

"Deshawn?" I asked, trying to keep it cool.

"Just working out some logistics." The way she was smiling at me was full of suggestion, daring me to ask for more. This felt different than the basket case she was before her interview and before the sex with Deshawn. She was almost flaunting it.

"Logistics like the quickest way to get you sitting on his cock?"

"Your mind is always in the gutter, you know that, Brad?" She read something on her phone and grinned. "But you're also not wrong."

"What did he just say?"

She read, "'I've just instituted a new office rule. Stockings only. No pantyhose.'"

"I can get behind that rule, but I feel like HR won't."

"Good thing neither of us is HR then." She came to sit by my side, getting serious once again. "You're sure you're okay with this?"

I shouldn't have been. Part of me still wasn't. Not exactly. This was risky. Calamity lurked in the wings. But it was that risk that made it so much more exciting. What had Dave said once? Overnight is hardcore? How about four overnights in a row?

“I am.”

It occurred to me at this point that I figured all of this was temporary. I was thinking short term, which is ironic considering I’m the guy who travels around the country making sure people are making long-term investments. Even armed with that level of self-awareness, I didn’t say a thing. I pushed it, even.

“What other new office rules has he instituted?”

“Whenever we travel, we’re required to share a room... to keep costs down.” Her smile was sly.

“You’ll be traveling together?”

“It’s certainly possible...” She put a hand on my knee. “How about you? Any new office rules you’d like to institute? We never talked about boundaries.”

“I thought you didn’t have any with him.” I don’t know why I felt so combative here.

“We’re talking about us, right here. You and me. What are the rules, Brad? Even Ash and Dave have rules.”

I stared at her hand, on my knee, covering it with my own. I squeezed. “No secrets?”

“That’s a good one. How about, this ends as soon as one of us stops having fun?”

“Of course.”

“How about Deshawn? What do you want to tell him about us?”

That was an interesting one. “What’s he think now?”

“We didn’t get into it much. He hasn’t asked... but he will.”

“And what did you tell him back when you were fucking both of us?”

She stiffened at the question, her hand tightening on my knee. She relaxed after a soft breath. “I told him that we weren’t exclusive.”

“Then let’s go with that,” I said.

“Sounds like a plan.”

We went out for dinner the night before her first full week away. She’d be flying out Monday morning and back on Friday afternoon. “Most of the time will be orientation and onboarding, but I’ve also got some interviews lined up. You think I could poach Marshall? He’d be great...”

It had been like this all week. When we weren’t having honeymoon sex or reading one another about Deshawn, she was going on about the job. I hadn’t seen her this passionate about her career in years. She’d read me highlights off some of the resumes that they sent her or talked about people in her recruiting network who I knew she’d mentioned but I wasn’t listening too closely at the time.

“What?” she asked, stopping herself. “What are you grinning at?”

“Just... I think it’s great that you’re so excited about this job.” I was. I’d been so focused on “Kiki” going to Atlanta that I’d completely missed what this opportunity meant for Kenzie. “Also wondering if you were ready to order because I’m pretty sure our server has been by like five times.”

“Maybe I just liked the way he was checking me out.”

“There’s a lot worth checking out,” I agreed. The dress was new, a steel blue bodycon so tight that only someone with Kenzie’s body could pull it off. When we'd walked into Catch 35, every jaw in the place seemed to hit the ground. "I think even Jenny has the hots for you."

"New fantasy?" Kenzie asked.

"I'm not sure," I said. "You'll have to ask her." Jenny was our babysitter, a cute blonde who'd been watching our kids since she was a freshman in high school, but who was now in college. "She is at that experimental age."

"Maybe she needs an older woman to take her under her wing?" Kenzie shook her head. "You're a pervert."

"Takes one to know one."

"Would you really fuck our babysitter?"

"Would you be mad if I did?"

Kenzie gave the question more thought than it probably deserved. It was banter. A few months ago, that's all it would have been. Now, though, the hypothetical was actually a possibility. "If you did it when the kids were around, yes, I'd be pissed."

"But if we happened to take a detour as I drove her home?"

"You don't drive her home anymore," she pointed out. "She owns a car now."

"You're not making this easy."

"I don't want to make it that easy to fuck our babysitter."

Of course, our server arrived, again, just as Kenzie said this. She actually blushed, too, as he stumbled over asking if we were ready. And he was definitely doing his best not to stare down the front of Kenzie's dress.

"Shall I give you a few more minutes?"

"That won't be necessary," Kenzie said, looking up at him. Then, very deliberately, she scanned his broad shoulders and chest before locking eyes again. “Could you go over the specials again?”

Poor fucker.

We got our orders in and our food arrived. At last, we circled back around to the thing that I was dying to know. The dress gave me my opening. “So you bringing that dress to Atlanta?”

“I thought about it.” She glanced away, betraying herself.

“You bought it for him.” I wasn’t mad. I figured that I should make that clear. “I’m not mad. I think it’s hot how into this you are.”

“It was Ashley’s idea,” Kenzie offered. “She also said you’d think it was hot.”

“What else has she suggested I’d be into?”

“You know what ‘pegging’ is?”

I went white. Kenzie laughed. “I’m just fucking with you. Actually, you’d be surprised. She may be on the crazier sides—”

“An understatement.”

“—but she occasionally has some good advice.”

I found this nearly impossible to believe. “Always have condoms?”

“Laser hair removal is painful but worth it,” Kenzie added as a joke.

“Good advice. You are now making the big bucks,” I pointed out. “So seriously, what did the wise slut say?”

“She said that this needs to be about us. It’s our story. Deshawn—or Laura or Terry, for that matter—are just supporting characters.”

“Easy to categorize those others,” I said. “Deshawn is harder. You have history. And he’s not a onetime thing.”

“He’s not. But he’s also not you, and what we have...” She reached across the table and touched my hand. “It’s not what we have.”

You’ll tell me if it does. The statement was on my mind, but I heard the weakness, so I kept it to myself.

Kenzie knew me too well. “And I’ll tell you if it ever does.” She looked around, noticing our server coming back our way. “So, you think I should give him my number?”

What a woman I’d married.

She didn’t give him her number, of course, and didn’t get his. Instead, we stayed out until we were sure that the kids were in bed and asleep. We stayed mostly sober, and when we got home and said goodnight to Jenny—who was looking good in her tight jeans and tank top—we had farewell sex.

It was a good, last day together.

I’m only down there for less than a week, Kenzie reassured in my head as I drifted off to sleep. Don’t be so dramatic.

I laughed, and then was asleep.

What do you think? Does this meet the new dress code standards?"

It was very early Monday morning. The sun wasn't up, and I was only barely myself. Even still, when Kenzie emerged from the bathroom and I saw what she was wearing, it was like smelling salts.

The red bra and panties matched the garter belt, all constructed of lace so delicate it seemed to strain against Kenzie's voluptuous body. More importantly for the dress code, the garter belt held up a pair of nude-colored stockings.

I wanted to say something clever, but it was too early and all the red lingerie was too overwhelming. "Wow..."

"That's a yes then." She spun, sauntering back into the bathroom and treating me with a view of her thong-clad ass. I thought about the last time she'd dressed for Atlanta, and how nervous she'd been. All that was gone. The old, confident Kenzie was back. I tried to wrap my head around what that meant but put my head back on the pillow and fell back into a half-sleep instead.

She had a morning flight to catch and had scheduled an Uber to pick her up. This time our goodbyes were said at home, in the bedroom—where I did try to pull her back into bed for a quickie.

"Oh, no, you're not going to make me miss my flight." She laughed, pushing me away.

"How about a BJ? After seeing what you're wearing under the Miss Corporate suit, I'm going to have blue balls all week."

"That's why God gave you hands and opposable thumbs."

“And he gave you a big, black cock?”

“Amen.” She chanced another kiss. This time, I didn’t grab her. “I love you, Brad. I’ll keep you posted on... my day.”

“And night?”

“At least when I can get free.”

I watched her from the upstairs window as she pulled her roller bag towards the Uber, imagining her through Deshawn’s eyes. Her sleeveless, red blouse and black skirt were perfectly acceptable—almost conservative, even. Even her heels, as tall as they were, were not overtly sexual. The whole thing got me hard anyway.

Today was going to be a hard day to concentrate.

I don’t really remember what I did other than the vague shape of things. I got up, showered, fixed breakfast for the kids before shipping them off to school. I went to work, did some stuff there, picked the kids up from after care and I guess we had dinner. I must have put them to bed. It was all hazy.

Instead, I lived my day from text to text. It went something like this.

<Kenzie>: Landed safely. Getting my rental now. Love you!

<Kenzie>: I upgraded my rental. Too much?

The picture that accompanied it was a sleek, white Chevy Camaro.

<Brad>: Not much room to neck in.

<Kenzie>: Goof.

Hours later.

<Kenzie>: This day is flying. Still doing most of the admin stuff. Everyone here's really nice. So different to work in such a big agency.

<Kenzie>: My boss is pretty cute, too.

Even later.

<Kenzie>: Okay, calling it a day. And what a day. It was great, but right now I'm starving. Grabbing dinner. Boss is treating.

Winky face.

An agonizing hour and a half later...

<Kenzie>: Okay, now we're grabbing dinner. We took a little detour.

The following photo was of a bed, the covers nearly thrown off, and a large wet spot in the center of the dark, blue sheets.

<Kenzie>: Well, actually, definitely not little.

<Brad>: Remind me to thank God later for my opposable thumb.

<Kenzie>: LOL

Ashley didn't help, either. She picked up the tease after that, when I didn't hear from Kenzie for hours.

<Ashley>: Your wife never came home after work. I think she may be having an affair...

<Ashley>: I wonder how many times he's made her come.

<Ashley>: I bet he made her beg to fuck her in the ass. Kiki was always such a slut for anal sex. Especially with a guy who really knew how to give it.

<Ashley>: And Deshawn definitely knows how to give it.

I didn't answer any of Ashley's texts, and I didn't hear back from either of them all night. I did jerk off, though, just to take the edge off and get some rest myself. It kind of worked.

"Morning, Honey," Kenzie said over the phone. She sounded a lot more awake than I felt.

"Hey, Kenz." Her spot beside me was untouched. So yesterday hadn't been some fever dream. "You sleep well?"

"Sure... when I did sleep." I could hear the smile in her reply.

"You still at his place?" It was seven my time, eight hers. If she was still there...

"No. I'm at Ash's. I actually came back last night."

I was skeptical of that. "Last night?"

"Does four in the morning count as last night?"

"Not really." Jesus. "Four in the morning? How are you going to make it through the day?"

"Plenty of coffee?" She laughed. "It was probably a bad idea."

"But you two couldn't help it."

"No, no definitely not."

My chest tightened, right along with my pants.

“You going to be able to sit through all your meetings today?”

“Brad, are you asking if he took my ass?”

“Yeah, I guess I am.”

“He actually didn’t. Said that I had to earn in.” She sounded put out. Kiki was always such a slut for anal sex.

“And how did he say you can earn it?” I could imagine the scene on that bed that was now burned into my brain. Kenzie on all fours, Deshawn behind her, their bodies glistening with sweat. He’d press his finger against her asshole. You want it here? Yes! You’ll do anything for it here? Please... Not yet, Baby. Not yet. You’re gonna have to earn this dick...

“He didn’t!” She said, breaking into my thoughts. “He just said that I wasn’t worthy of it yet.”

“He’s a cocky one.”

A photo came through. “What’s this?” I asked before looking.

“Today’s underwear. Thought you’d like to see.”

“Tease.” But she wasn’t wrong. I looked. It was a selfie, taken in Ashley’s guest bathroom. Today she wore black—black stockings and garter belt, black thong, black pushup bra. “Huge tease. You never wore this stuff for me.”

“I always thought you were more of a get-naked-as-fast-as-possible type.”

“And I thought Deshawn was, too.”

Kenzie giggled—she actually giggled. “Nah, he’s more of a get-his-dick-in-a-hole-as-fast-as-possible kind of guy. Doesn’t mean I need to be naked.”

“Thanks for the clarification. Keep me posted on your potential earnings.”

“Of course.”

The week passed somehow, both excruciatingly slow and unbelievably fast. I managed to sleep a little better each night, but that was more a product of being worn down than relaxed.

She got in around 1:30 in the morning Wednesday, 2-ish on Thursday, and apparently around 7 Friday morning, with just enough time to shower and change before heading back out to work. I knew because Ashley gave me the play-by-play.

<Ashley>: I don't know why she's even staying here. I've barely seen her all week.

<Brad>: Someone's feeling jealous.

<Ashley>: Yeah, you should be! I had lunch with her Wednesday and I haven't heard her talk about a dick this much since... well, since Deshawn.

I wasn't sure what I was expecting once she got home. A part of me wondered if I'd even recognize her. Like she'd emerge from the Uber a stranger. But the travel-weary woman who pulled her roller bag up our front walk was the same Kenzie who'd left—albeit with bags under her eyes and a contented smile on her face.

She was dressed more like she had in her old job—jeans and a white blouse with a sport coat over it—and a far cry from the corporate look she'd shifted to. “Casual Friday? Or is this a request from your new boss?”

Kenzie glanced behind me, looking for the kids. “Honestly, I prefer skirts to jeans on summer Atlanta days, but I decided to assimilate. Fuck, it was hot.”

“Ashley's rubbing off on you.”

“Not this trip.” She bit a finger and grinned. “Maybe next though.”

“Come on in. You’re just in time for Friday movie night.”

It was nice. We ate pizza in front of the TV, watching Karate Kid. We got to experience the classic all over again through the eyes of our kids. Kenzie snuggled beside me, with Melody beside her and Graham bouncing around mimicking the karate of the movie. It was... nice.

But it also wasn’t what was primarily on my mind.

When she fucked Terry, I didn’t know until she was back home and in our bed. The last time that she went to Atlanta and fucked Deshawn, I didn’t know until the morning after it was done. Both felt like ambushes—albeit the best kind of ambushes.

This time around, we knew the score. There were no surprises. When Kenzie got on the plane for Atlanta, we knew she’d have a BBC in her by sundown. I thought that maybe it would have made everything easier to deal with. That this time, when I reclaimed her, it would all feel... normal.

But nothing was normal. Not anymore.

“I heard from a little birdie that you didn’t get in until early this morning,” I said once the kids were down.

“Actually, not all that early,” Kenzie said. She stripped out of her blouse. “Deshawn wanted to give me a farewell morning fuck that turned epic.”

She peeled her jeans down with little fanfare or seduction, taking her panties with them. It was like she was trying to make me see her as the woman I’d been with for a decade and a half, not the woman who’d spent last night in bed with another man. It did not work.

“Come here...”

“I’m a little tired, Honey.” But she said it with a wicked smile. When I reached for her, she dodged me. “It’s been a long day—”

I pulled her close, kissing her. She met it with a ferocity I wasn’t expecting after the coy act. I ran my hands down her body and over her ass, cupping her cheeks—cheeks that another man had fondled, that another man had fucked.

“God, I missed you,” she said between kisses. We freed her of her bra. She stripped me out of my clothes.

“I’m surprised you remember you were married, with all the time you spent in another man’s bed.”

“Ashley said you’d be jealous,” she said, rubbing my erect cock.

“Should I be?”

“She said you’d say that, too.”

I squeezed her ass. “You didn’t answer...”

“I guess it depends.” She broke away from me, taking my hand and leading us to the bed. “Does it make you jealous knowing that Deshawn fucked me so hard last night that I actually blacked out? Well, woozy at least. I don’t think I actually lost consciousness.”

“You’re going to enter the slut hall of fame.”

“You know it, Baby.”

“What else did he do to you?”

Her hair had tumbled over her face. She pushed it back and looked up at me. “He made me buy a dildo that’s his size so that I could fuck him even when he wasn’t home.”

“Is it here?” I glanced at her bag, still on the bed.

In response, she reached in, retrieving something in a black, velvet pouch. “You have no idea how scared I was taking this thing through security.” She undid the drawstring and removed a huge, black dildo. It must have been ten inches long, shaped like a real dick, complete with balls and a circumcised head.

“Is he really that...?”

Kenzie stroked it like she would a real cock. “Big? Just about, although Deshawn’s not cut.”

“Jesus,” I hissed.

“It has a suction cup for shower use.” She laughed. “He liked it when I squatted on it while I blew him this morning.” She lifted the fake cock to her mouth, like she was about to demonstrate.

I pushed her onto her back, working my hand up the soft landscape of her body. When I reached her breasts, she wiggled away, scooting up to the head of the bed. Spreading her legs wide, she traced the dildo down between her thighs. Her pussy was red, warm, still puffy from all the extra use this week.

She edged the fake cock across her clit, using the contours of the crown and veins to tease herself. I’d watched Kenzie masturbate before—although it had been a while—but never with toys. She’d always been a I-only-need-my-fingers girl, and as far as I knew, this was her only actual sex toy.

“Mmm... it’s so large...” she said, pushing the head of the black rubber into her. “Almost as good as the real thing.”

Her eyes fluttered shut and she bit down on her lower lip. I couldn’t tell if she was putting on a show for me, or was really into this. It didn’t matter, I realized, watching her saw the dildo along her shaved slit—Kenzie had always existed in the gray area between one thing and another. She could definitely hold space to both fuck with me and please herself.

Maybe that's what all of this was about...

"You going to come over here and reclaim your wife?"

I stroked myself as I watched her play, imagining what it would be like to watch her fuck a real cock. As she pushed the rubber phallus deep, I realized how much I wanted to see that. "I'll be there soon. Enjoying the view..."

"Deshawn did, too," she said with a glint in her eye.

"That how you earned your anal sex?"

She meant to giggle, but it turned into a heavy groan as she stuffed more of the dildo into her snatch. I didn't know how to read that, but I wasn't going to let it get to me. I got closer to her, close enough that I could run my hands along her toned calves. Her skin was so smooth, so soft. Another man had touched this skin, too.

I didn't want to ask again. I also couldn't help myself. "Kenz, what did he make you do?"

"He pushed me so hard..." And she pushed the rest of the hard dildo into her, right down to the fake balls. That was hot. I couldn't not imagine her with Deshawn, his sleek body stretched over her spread legs. She started fucking the toy the way he must have fucked her—pulling it out slowly, thrusting it back in hard. It was hypnotic.

I jacked off, watching my wife fuck herself. At some point, it ceased to be a show for her. She sank back into the pillows, back into her memories. I knew that look, knew what it meant as she squeezed her eyes shut and thought about her past week.

She shifted her grip on the dildo, moving it beneath one of her legs so she could drive it against her g-spot. Clutching her tit, she squeezed it as her face tightened in pained pleasure—in determination.

My balls boiled. The pressure built inside me with each hard thrust of the cock. She lifted her tit to her mouth, sucking on her own nipple. He'd done that to her. He'd feasted on her hard nibs as he fucked her, just like she was fucking herself.

I couldn't hold back any longer. I was going to come, and I wasn't going to come by my own hand. I closed the gap between us, sliding up beside her. She turned to look at me over a shoulder but didn't stop the self-pleasure—like I was a second man in her bed. Like I was a voyeur.

I kissed her, wet and loose, touching her body and feeling it tingle beneath my fingertips. She reached back, gripping my cock with her left hand as I took over playing with her wet and swollen nipple.

Had she ever been with two men at once? I realized that I didn't know the answer to it. But now wasn't the time to ask.

She twisted around onto her knees, her head in my lap. She took my cock in her mouth, and even still, she kept fucking herself with the large shaft. I brushed her hair from her face to watch her blow me, but my eyes drifted along the sweep of her back and out the flare of her ass.

Her lips tightened around my cock as I pressed a finger against her asshole. Kenzie was a proven, three-input slut. Had she experienced all three at once? Did I even want to know?

Was that what Deshawn made her do? I imagined her out at some swanky bar, dressed in something slinky and tight, Deshawn's hand resting confidently on her ass. A suggestive squeeze. What do you say? Like old times?

I nearly came, thrusting up hard enough that Kenzie gagged. "You thinking about collecting what I owe you?" she asked, wiggling her ass. "Or about what I had to do to get Deshawn to do it?"

I pulled her free, moving into place behind her. "What did you do?"

"You'll never guess—UH!"

I pulled the dildo free and buried my cock in her sweet pussy. She wasn't as tight as she'd been when she'd left—partly from the toy, mostly from a week with Deshawn. A fucking week!

“You're playing with me.”

“I am.”

I spanked her. She gasped with delight. “You're a dirty slut.”

“And hardworking, too—he made me work so hard to earn it.”

I pictured my wife dipping low, beneath his heavy balls, her tongue on his taint, then rimming his ass. Degrading herself in order to earn a dick in her ass. Was that what he'd demand? Or was that what I wished he would?

“Oh, fuck!” I shouted. I wanted to hold out. I wanted to reclaim her ass first. But it was too much. All of it was too fucking much.

She moaned, her body quaking as she came with me.

I collapsed into her and we rolled into a spoon, huffing hard. “That was intense,” one of us said. Maybe me? I wasn't sure.

We held one another in silence. The clock ticked somewhere in the hall. The wind gusted against our windows outside. A storm was brewing. It would be raining by morning.

“So, what did he make you do?” I asked as casually as I could.

“You're getting hard again.” She wasn't judging. She sounded pleased.

“But the tease is more fun than the truth.”

“Which is?”

“He said he wouldn’t fuck my ass until I’d hired my PA and at least three other staffers.” She released a barking laugh. “He’s one motivational boss, isn’t he?”

“Certainly, a creative one.”

Kenzie spent most of the month of June on video conference calls, assembling her team. Building out her home office was a bigger task than I anticipated.

“I’m going to be spending most of my time on calls out of here. It’s all about the presentation,” she said as she explained the necessity to install built in bookshelves that would frame the space behind her.

I went with it, of course. “You don’t need to justify built-ins if you want them. You’re making the big bucks now.”

“You’ve been very accommodating.”

“I like being a kept man.”

Kenzie snorted. “You like all the sex we’ve been having.”

“Not just that,” I said. “I like the stories, too.”

Kenzie had filled in some of the gaps of her last trip down to Atlanta. They’d fucked a lot, but only at his place. He knew a lot of people around town, and as much as he wanted Kenzie, he didn’t want to be known as the guy who was fucking around with an employee.

“So, he hasn’t made you blow him under his desk?” I’d just finished putting together Kenzie’s desk—a mid-century inspired thing from West Elm with far too few drawers to make it practical in my opinion.

“Nope, and he won’t,” Kenzie said. “Disappointed?”

But she was already pushing me into the desk chair and sinking beneath the desk. “His loss...”

That's the way it was. Everything felt charged with promise and innuendo.

For the Fourth of July week, my folks came down to visit. One day, after an active day of grilling and swimming at Lighthouse Beach, Kenzie and I ditched all of them and headed down into the city.

Chicago in summer can be hot, but it was a gorgeous day. There was a breeze off the lake, and the bright sunshine seemed to clear away all of the city's troubles for at least a little while. We walked hand in hand along the waterfront and took goofy pictures with the "bean" in Millennium Park. We walked up the Magnificent Mile, checking out the shops.

"You think this is maybe too much?" she asked.

I looked around. We were in front of a Williams Sonoma, where the display was advertising a Breville ice cream compressor. "Probably can get it on Amazon for cheaper. Kids would love it though."

She elbowed me in the ribs. "No, not the ice cream maker, idiot. The whole... thing."

"You mean the thing where you go down to Atlanta every few weeks and get ravaged by a hard fucking, kinky stud?" We walked on.

"You're terrible."

"I'm terrible? You're the one making a mockery of our marriage vows, letting your boss—your boss!—shove his huge, black cock up your tight, little married ass."

She laughed. "And my steaming, wet pussy. And my hungry mouth."

I exaggerated walking a little funny to adjust my pants.

"Seriously, though," she said, "I mean, what is the end game here?"

This is the Kenzie I'd come to know over the years. The one who set goals and managed our budget. The one who could balance all the things of our domestic life like she held a degree in it. This was the one I loved, and yet not the one that I wanted to play the game with.

I said, “Back in the Hooters days, what was your end game?”

She squinted at me. “To make it through college and get a better job?”

“No, not like career-wise.”

“You mean with the boys.” So, she did understand where I was going. “I was just having fun back then. Like binging on a show.” She connected the dots. “And your point, Mr. Deep Thinker, is why do we need to have an end game with all of this if we’re just... binging?”

I grinned, turned to her, and squeezed her hand. “You got it.”

She blinked at me. “You’re an idiot.”

“Look, I’m not saying that it’s the same as when we were dumb kids in our twenties—”

“But you kind of are...”

I ignored her interjection. “I’m just saying that not everything has to be so planned and measured. You think Ashley’s end game goes beyond getting a nice, hard BBC in her? And she’s a perfectly functioning teacher, right?”

“Who never had kids because she chose kinky adventures over diapers,” Kenzie said.

“That why they don’t have kids?”

“Part of it. It’s... complicated. Dave’s little guys aren’t strong swimmers—which led to a whole bunch of insecurities, which led to his... um...

“Cuck fantasies?”

“Sure. Which led to these games and Ash deciding just to have fun, and now here they are.”

“And you don’t want us to be Dave and Ashley?” I asked.

“I don’t,” Kenzie said seriously. And then, just as seriously, she turned the question on me. “Do you?”

I thought about Graham and Melody splashing along the beach earlier. I thought about Kenzie following in her broad-brimmed floppy hat, her flip flops at her side, painted toes in the sand. I thought about the feeling of her hand in mine, and a million other details that made up our lives.

“No. I love our life. I love you.”

“But?” Kenzie sensed.

“No ‘but’ there, really. Just... it doesn’t need to be like that. Ash made some weird choices, but I don’t think we need to make the same ones. We’re having fun, right?”

Kenzie eyed me with the same skepticism she usually reserves for when I try to convince her that it’s a good idea to go on a golf trip. “Just fun. Mmm Hmm.”

We were passing La Perla, the windows adorned with delicate lace undies. “That mean you wouldn’t have a problem if we pop in here? Help me pick something out for my boyfriend?”

She delivered the question like a challenge. This was Kenzie’s version of, Are you man enough? I glanced behind her, at the boutique lingerie shop. “DeShawn struck me as a boxer briefs kind of guy,” I said.

Kenzie laughed. “Briefs, actually.” She nibbled on her index finger. “It’s so sexy.”

She didn’t move past the lingerie shop, though, and her challenge remained in the air like gunpowder. I didn’t shop for lingerie. I didn’t shop with her at all. I wasn’t the type to sit outside the changing room so that she could solicit an opinion that she may not even really care about. Guys like Dave or Charlie did that.

But it also contradicted my last assertion—we were having fun. So back to her unspoken question: was I man enough?

“I don’t mind at all,” I said. “Lead on. I could use a nice fashion show.”

Kenzie pushed through the door, and I followed.

Kenzie could have been a lingerie model. She had the body for it, and the sass. We walked around the store. The lingerie was gorgeous. Shades of pink, silver, black, and white. Diaphanous fabrics and intricate lace. Skimpy and sexy and exotic. Peeking at a price tag made me do a double take.

She picked up a bustier with attached garters and a matching g-string, all in rose lace and nearly transparent.

“This is a little OTT, isn’t it?” I asked. I didn’t dare look at the price tag on something like that.

She just laughed and plucked it off the shelf, moving on to the next rack. She picked off a short, white, babydoll with string ties down the front. “I’ll try this, too.”

I glanced at the store attendant, who kept her distance once she saw that Kenzie was serious. What did that woman think of us? As emasculating as she was trying to make this, I wasn’t going to let her know she was being successful.

I picked up a set of pale blue silk, sleep shorts and a matching camisole. “You can wear this to sleep after,” I said.

“We sleep naked, when we sleep at all.” But she took it from me anyway. “It’s cute though. Maybe I can wear it for my first, out-of-town trip...”

I swallowed, then hoped that she didn’t see that. “When is that happening?”

“October. There’s a UCS conference out in California. We’re sending a small team out there.”

She was daring me to ask if Deshawn was also going. I didn't bite, and when she realized it, she shrugged and strode over to the fitting room.

I took a seat on a sofa just outside, feeling exactly like the tag-along husband that I didn't want to be. The store wasn't crowded, but there were a few women milling about, shooting me judgy glances that suggested I was a pervert. There was one other husband in there, alone and browsing a rack of push-up bras, and I couldn't suppress my own judgments. Pervert, I also thought.

Kenzie pulled the curtain aside to show off the first piece of lingerie—the bustier. It was lightly ribbed in darker pink, but most of it was see-through. Garter straps hung freely across her thighs, but it was easy to imagine them clipped into stockings. I could see that she was fully shaved through the sheer fabric of the g-string, and her light brown nipples were hard.

The show was quick, but the sole man in the store caught a glimpse. When the curtains were shut, he grinned at me and nodded. That made me feel a little less awkward.

She modeled the sleepwear last, venturing out of the dressing room and over to the mirror. I stood behind her, surreptitiously cupped her ass through the silk shorts.

“Damn, you're hot.”

She was staring at herself, thinking the same thing no doubt. Thinking of Deshawn, too, and how these outfits would affect him. It was a game to get under my skin, but it wasn't just a game.

She met my eyes in the reflection. “Okay, show's over.” She disappeared back behind the curtain. A moment later, her hand emerged from the curtains holding several sets of lingerie, including the babydoll and sleeping shorts and camisole. “Can you take these to the checkout while I get dressed?”

I just shook my head, and snatched the hangers from her, hoping she picked up on my unhappiness with the arrangement.

“As your reward, I’ll wear the bustier out, so here’s the tag.” That came next. “Thanks, Babe!”

I muttered to myself but did as I was directed to do. I didn’t wait for her in the store, though. Once the purchases were made—at an exorbitant price—I waited for her out in the street.

“Ah, that was fun,” she said, emerging minutes later. She was back in her sundress, only now she wore stockings beneath, and some very sexy lingerie. “I should take you shopping with me more often.”

“Uh huh.”

After the lingerie shopping, we headed to Londonhouse bar for a couple of their signature drinks and a bite to eat. We sat side-by-side on a charcoal grey sofa, looking out over Lake Michigan.

Kenzie was sipping on a champagne based cocktail, I had one with bourbon.

“You know I’m not Dave, right? I’m not into the humiliation thing. Like, at all.”

“Aw, did you feel humiliated?” Kenzie teased. “Your ego’s more fragile than I thought.”

“My ego is just fine, don’t worry. I just thought you should know that if you pull any cuck-shit on me, I’m done, right?”

“Got it,” she said. “So, I should return the cage.”

“Cage?”

“Cock cage. Ashley told me about it. Sometimes, when she wants to punish Dave, she locks his dick up in a chastity device so he can’t even get hard and wears the key as jewelry.”

“That’s fucked up,” I laughed. Then immediately shook my head. “Wait, you didn’t actually buy one of those, did you? No way am I fucking letting you do that.”

“I know, I know! It’s one of the things that I love about you.” She reached out, stroking the back of my hand with her thumb. “You’re my man. You’re a man. And it’s so sexy. You’d never put up with a cock-cage, and as soon as you did...”

“You’d start to lose some respect,” I finished for her.

“I don’t want to sound quite so judgy. Things would just be different is all. If you wanted me to start walking all over you—”

“I don’t.”

“—then we’d figure it out.”

It was a good moment. It felt like an us moment, which meant that I moved past it too quickly, like an idiot. “So now that you’re dressed in sexy lingerie, we’ve got my parents with the kids and the city before us, what shall we do for the rest of the evening?”

Together, we looked around the rooftop seating area. Lots of very attractive men and women up there. There, by the bar, two handsome black men. Right up Kenzie’s alley. I’d even noticed one of them checking her out earlier. A group of young Chinese tourists. I wondered how easy it would be to tempt one into a big city adventure.

At the table next to us, an attractive middle aged couple. They reminded me a little of Carol and Bob, though with a better marriage. They were holding hands and laughing. She had pale blue eyes and half a dozen gold bracelets on her wrist. He had streaks of grey in his hair and a strong chin. I wondered if they swung, and even if they didn't whether Kenzie and I could seduce them.

So many options. So many choices.

“Ugh, ugh, ugh,” Kenzie cried out.

Her dress was bunched at her waist, her luscious ass framed by the straps of her garter, her g-string pulled to the side. She arched her back to enhance her curves. She knew the effect that had on men. She spread her long legs apart, giving access to her pretty pussy, and she reached back with one hand to provide a better view of her butthole.

“Ugh. Ugh.”

She slapped her hand on the car's trunk. The metallic bass echoed in the concrete-lined space. She began thrusting back harder, faster. Impaling herself again and again. Her pussy wet, squishing.

“Oh fuck, oh fuck!”

She shook. An all over body quake. Her legs buckled. She collapsed onto the car's surface.

I was right there as well. Another hard thrust into her tight slot, and I was done, my seed filling her pussy.

She caught her breath and laughed.

“Thanks, Romeo. That's actually my first time getting fucked in a dingy garage bent over a car.”

I slapped her ass. “I aim to please.”

The challenges didn't stop, of course. That's not the nature of our relationship. A week later, Kenzie came out of the shower after a hard cycling session, holding her phone and smirking to herself.

"Deshawn," she announced, "wants proof that I just got out of the shower." She looked up at me. "What do you think? Should I send him some?"

I looked up from my phone, just in time to see her drop her towel and treat me with a nice shot of full-frontal nudity. She leaned against the doorframe, accentuating the curve of her body—from her shapely thighs to the curve of her hip and narrow waist and back out. Her nipples were hard. Her pussy was freshly shaved.

She held the phone up and out, tilting her head and looking up at it as she snapped a selfie. Satisfied, she pranced over to me and showed the image.

"What do you think?" The image was from the chin down, so "safe" in that it wasn't directly recognizable. Still felt dangerous.

"You sent him nudes before?"

"Maybe."

"That's a yes." I tapped on the share button of the photo, selected Deshawn, and texted him the photo. "Then fuck it, share away."

"Hey!" she said, seeing the message go through. "I haven't actually sent him nudes before."

Shit. "Well, now you have. That's payback for La Perla."

A moment later, her phone, still in my hand, rumbled.

<Deshawn>: So fucking hot, Babe. This thing can't wait to feel that all up against me again.

This thing came a moment later—a photo of his dick, hard and enormous. It was rail straight, like the shaft of a rake, capped in a dark, mushroom head, rising from his cleanly shaved crotch. The picture showed off his cut abs, too, sleek, chocolate brown ripples that I knew Kenzie appreciated.

“Should I write him back?” I asked. I loaded up the Messages app. “What else have you two been writing about, anyway?”

“Hey, give me my phone back!” she complained.

“No secrets, right? Wasn't that one of our rules?”

She looked at me the way I must have looked at her before she guided me into the lingerie shop, or when she made me buy it all for her. She was pinned by our game and our ravenous need to one-up each other.

“Fine, read away,” she said, slipping down between my thighs. “I'll even suck your cock as you get all hot and bothered.”

I wasn't sure that I actually wanted to read any of this, but the curiosity—and the challenge—drove me onward.

They didn't actually exchange all that many texts. I'd later learn that most of the professional chat was handled over Slack. The texts, on the other hand, were reserved for booty calls and sex talk.

<Deshawn>: Baby, you were fucking amazing last night. I love how hard you come.

<Kenzie>: It makes me lose my head.

<Deshawn>: I can't wait to do it again. I love fucking that sweet booty.

<Kenzie>: I love your big dick in my tight, little butt.

Kenzie was right, reading this stuff did get me all hot and bothered. Or maybe it was just her skilled mouth on my dick.

It was also so weird. Reading the text thread was like reading the texts of a stranger. They were longer and raunchier than I'd expected. Particularly after they'd been together. Where she liked to tease me, she put it all out there for him. How she loved fucking his cock. How she loved feeling it in her ass. How she just couldn't wait that one time and had to go down on him while he drove her from the airport.

But it was what I read all the way back at the beginning that got under my skin the most. These were her first exchanges with him after they fucked for the first time in years. She hadn't even taken the job yet, but they'd had dinner the evening before and fucked all through the night.

<Deshawn>: Take the job. You're perfect.

<Kenzie>: You just want to fuck me every few weeks.

<Deshawn>: You're not wrong. I love how you were shifting all morning in that chair. But that's not why I think you should take the job, and you know it.

<Kenzie>: I'm not sure that's a good idea.

<Deshawn>: Don't turn it down because of me. I can keep it in my pants... if that's what you want.

<Kenzie>: That's the problem. That's not what I want.

<Deshawn>: That's the girl I remember. We can make that work, too. Do it, Kenz. You know it's making you wet just thinking about all the possibilities.

<Kenzie>: You always think with your dick?

<Deshawn>: Only because it knows you're thinking of it, too.

<Kenzie>: ...

<Deshawn>: Suit yourself. For me, I'm going to go jerk off some more as I think about how hot it looks to see it sliding in and out. How you fucking begged for it.

<Kenzie>: I can't believe I did that. Brad and I never...

<Deshawn>: And that's what I offer. Things that you can't believe you'd ever do with Brad. Talk it over with him. Think about it. Then take the job.

Glancing past the phone, I met Kenzie's eyes, blue and so self-assured, staring back at me as she bobbed up and down my cock. A few months ago, this cock was the only one she'd sucked in years. Now she'd been with two other men, one of which offered to do things that she couldn't do with me.

She pulled off of me, although she kept her lips close to my shaft. "You finished invading my privacy?"

I scrolled back to the present, back to that photo of naked Kenzie and Deshawn's cock. With Kenzie watching, I started to thumb a new text.

"What are you doing?" she asked, finally startled.

"Just asking your boss for something that he can give, but I cannot." I finished my text, scanned it one time for typos, and hit send before I either lost my nerve or Kenzie snatched it from me. "Want to read what you just asked for?"

I turned the phone around to show her, grinning as I watched her eyes flare open.

<Kenzie>: You know what would be better than one big, black cock? Two big, black cocks. Next time I'm in town, why don't you invite a friend along.

"You are a real asshole, you know that?" Kenzie said.

"I'm just trying to push your boundaries a little."

"You sure about this, Cowboy?" She climbed into my lap. She was as wet as I was hard, and when she sank down onto me, we both groaned.

“Think you’ve got me confused,” I said. I ran my hands down her naked back. Her skin was rubbery soft from her recent shower. “I’m not the one who’ll be riding you all night long.”

The phone buzzed again. Another incoming text.

<Deshawn>: Like old times, eh? Want me to see if I can track Fred down?

“Kenz, who’s Fred?”

She pushed me down onto the bed, hands on my shoulders, her dark, wet hair all around us. “Bartender back at Hooters.” Her smile was full of mystery, daring me to ask for more. The phone buzzed again.

<Deshawn>: But actually, I know just the guy. You’re just his type.

Kenzie took the phone from me, rising up to a full straddle. She continued to pump her hips as she dictated her response.

“‘And what type is that?’” she said.

I touched her hips, caressing the cavity where her hip rolled into her waist. The phone rumbled, and she laughed. She read aloud, “‘Hot MILFs with big tits and shaved snatches.’ You fucking guys.”

It buzzed again. This text, apparently, wasn’t as amusing, and she didn’t immediately share it. “What?” I asked.

She lowered the phone and looked at me. “He says that a special occasion like this shouldn’t be squeezed into a weeknight.” She squeezed my dick as she leaned over me, pressing her breasts against my chest. “So I ask again, husband dear. You sure about this?”

So this was my decision, not hers. She didn’t want to deal with the guilt of staying in Atlanta on a weekend. Maybe this was all a big bluff on her part, anyway, but if so, it was one I intended to call.

“So stay Friday night. Have fun. Tell me all about it Saturday when you’re back.”

I could see her grind her teeth behind that smile and the slow shake of her head. This is on you, Babe, she seemed to say. Before I could pop, she picked her phone up and responded.

<Kenzie>: I’ll change my flight in the morning.

Kenzie's July trip came on like a hurricane hitting the coast. We felt it coming long before the storm. The pressure built as her departure day grew near. With the kids and our friends, she was normal Kenzie, the responsible mother and friend. On her conference calls from her home office, she was professional Kenzie, interviewing and building her large team.

With me, in private, she was Kiki. She showed off the dress that she bought for Friday night—a blood red bodycon party dress that put her tits and legs on display, paired with a pair of slinky, red sandals.

“I don't know. Maybe this guy wants the sexy, corporate version of you,” I said, playing it cool. She was determined to ruffle me, and I was determined to be unruffable.

“Deshawn gets that every night,” she shot back. “Friday, he gets the party girl.”

The week that she was gone was hard to get through. I tried focusing on work, but even my coworkers noticed my absent-mindedness. I did all the things that I needed to do. The kids didn't go hungry and got to bed relatively early. I only almost forgot to pick them up from their art camp once.

Kenzie sent a shower selfie Friday morning, her naked body still beaded with water.

<Kenzie>: What do you think? Hot MILF with big tits and a shaved snatch?

<Brad>: Silky.

<Kenzie>: Bought a new razor just for tonight.

Kissy face.

<Brad>: Have fun.

<Kenzie>: Hope you get some sleep. I know I won't.

That was all I got that night. I didn't text her back. I knew better than that. I considered seeing if Charlie was free for a drink but had no beer in the fridge and wasn't going to deal with the logistics of a babysitter last minute on a Friday night. I also decided not to jerk off, no matter how tempting. Kenzie would be home tomorrow and I was ready for the reclaim.

I did get some sleep, albeit restless and shitty. In the morning, I threw myself into the business of being a dad on a Saturday morning... all the way until Ashley texted me.

<Ashley>: So how do you feel, Sailor?

I didn't know how much Ashley knew, but I figured it was enough. Kenzie was still staying there while she was in Atlanta.

<Ashley>: Kiki looked hot when she left last night. Hasn't come back yet, although her bags are all packed by the front door. Wonder what happened...

<Brad>: You're envious, aren't you?

<Ashley>: Maybe a little. Will text when she's in.

The text came an hour later. Nine o'clock my time, ten Atlanta's. It was in the form of a photo. Kenzie wore the red dress that she teased me with. Her hair was damp, a pair of large sunglasses pushed up like a headband, and her makeup scrubbed free. She held her hand out before the camera, like a celebrity avoiding paparazzi, although she was laughing behind her fingers.

I ignored it, waiting for my wife to return home. Her flight was soon. She wouldn't have much time to get dressed and get to the airport. She did have enough time, however, to send me a video clip. It was the first direct line of communication I received from her since last night's "hope you sleep well" text, and it came with no other explanation.

The screenshot preview alone came at me like a punch to the gut. It was a POV shot—Deshawn's, no doubt. Kenzie stared up at the camera with her big, hazel eyes as she sucked on his cock. Behind her, just at the edge of the frame, another black man held her hips as he seemingly fucked her doggy style.

The kids were watching Saturday morning shows. I left them to go upstairs and into the master bathroom with a pair of headphones.

"You like that? You like James' cock?" Deshawn demanded.

"Yes," Kenzie whimpered between mouthfuls of Deshawn's meat. Her face was tight, her orgasm on the brink.

“You like the feeling of two cocks, Baby?”

“Mmmm...”

“Say it. You know what I want to hear.”

“I’m a slut for your cocks...” She bobbed along Deshawn’s shaft before continuing. “Use me... nghh... Fuck me...” Choke. “Do it to me until I pass out.”

The guy behind her really gave it to her, squeezing her ass cheeks as their skin slapped together. Whoever he was, he was just as fit as Deshawn, his six-pack abs rippling with each thrust. Kenzie didn’t just receive it, either. She undulated her hips, churning on his shaft in a way that I knew so well.

“Fuck, man,” he said. “I’m gonna pop.”

“Get on up here, J,” Deshawn said. He pulled out of her mouth, too. The camera shifted and was a blur until Kenzie was on her knees, a cock in each hand, sucking one after the other until they painted her face with their spunk.

I’d managed to avoid coming all last night and all morning. It took every ounce of willpower not to let it go now.

Kenzie took an Uber home, coming into the backyard as our kids climbed all over the jungle gym. She wore yoga pants and a t-shirt, a pair of flats, her dark hair up in a ponytail. She was Mommy. She was the picture of domesticity.

Hard to imagine this was the same woman who took two loads of come all over her face. Hard to not think of that, either.

“Mommy’s home!” Melody cheered as she whisked down the slide.

Kenzie looked tired, but also happy to be home. Happy to take the kids into her arms and squeeze them to her. For one moment, I wondered what the hell were we doing? Why did we need any more than this?

That night, we ordered pizza—“Hopefully that’s not all you’ve been feeding these kids while I was away”—and watched a movie. It felt like deja vu—Kenzie snuggled at my side, the kids engrossed in some Pixar movie, life the way it used to be. Only even that, I realized, was ephemeral. Before this life was the honeymoon period, and long before that was the Hooters one. Yet life wasn’t a series of stages. It was more fluid than that. Watching Kenzie get fucked hard by two black men was a reminder that there was more continuity to it all than we liked to think.

It all built and built, an itch that I couldn’t scratch, until the kids were in bed and Kenzie and I were finally alone in our bedroom. I slipped in behind her as she stood at the dresser and pulled off her shirt.

“So...” I whispered through the soft curtain of dark hair. She pushed her ass against me, feeling my erection through the thin material of her yoga leggings.

“So,” she repeated. Beneath her t-shirt she wore a lacy bra that barely held her tits in place. Turning to me, she looked so smug. “You have questions?”

I did. So many. But first, I needed her. Cupping her ass, I pulled her against me and kissed her hard. We stumbled to the bed, tearing at our clothes as we reacquainted one another with our naked bodies.

She bounced on her back on the mattress, propped up on her elbows, her legs spread. ‘Come to me,’ she beckoned with her body language. I obeyed, rising over her, nipping at her tits, at her neck, her chin. Our mouths came together as she guided me into her snatch, still loose from her all-nighter with two BBCs.

Kenzie dug her nails into my shoulder blades and her heels into my lower back, fucking up into me as I drilled her. I’d been holding back my orgasm all day and all night. I couldn't hold it any longer. Especially when she whispered, "Pump it into me, baby. I want three loads from different men at once."

"Oh, fuck." I went off like a virgin in bed with the prom queen.

She squeezed me, thighs, arms, cunt muscles all contracting around me as I emptied my balls deep, my come mixing with that of James and Deshawn before me.

"Did they really come in you?" I asked once I was able to catch my breath.

"That's really your first question?" She chuckled. "They did. James showed me his papers. He's clean. And yes, there may be some trace in there now. We got a little carried away in the shower this morning."

"You and the shower sex."

"This dirty girl likes to be clean."

I laughed. Turning onto my side, I reached out to lazily draw circles along her breasts with my fingertips. "So did they DP you?"

"Now that's the question you really wanted to ask, isn't it?" She snickered. "This is probably a disappointment, but no, no double penetration of your sweet wife."

"So, tell me what did happen."

True to her word, Kenzie told me everything, delighting in drawing out some of the details. She went over in the red dress and heels, wearing a red g-string and nothing else.

When she got there, they were out on his balcony, drinking beers. Deshawn pulled her close and started kissing her after only a simple "hey". After quick introductions with his buddy James, she was making out with him, too. Five minutes later, she was on her knees, dress pulled down over her tits, jerking one cock off while she sucked the other.

“Right out there on the balcony?” I asked.

“I could hear the sounds of cars going by below. I felt like such a slut.”

“Bet you liked feeling like that,” I said, smoothing out her hair. She didn’t say yes, but she also didn’t look like she disagreed. “So did they pop?”

She shook her head. “Not outside. We went into the bedroom where things got really crazy.”

They stripped off her dress but made her keep her heels and g-string on as she blew James and Deshawn fingered her. When they got to the fucking, apparently both men were rough in a way that Kenzie craved. They pulled her hair. They held her down. They pinned her arms behind her back as they spit-roasted her. They had all the power, and she had none.

“I shouldn’t have liked it as much as I did,” she said at one point.

“Damn, Kenz. I need to step up my game.”

She was already shaking her head. “You’ve got plenty of game already,” she said. Her hand curled around my cock, which was standing straight and hard. “Last night was just different. I...” Her eyes were unfocused as she searched for the right words. “...I needed to be smothered in all that... man-flesh. All those muscles... the smell of their sweat all around me...” She started beating me off faster. “You asked about a DP.”

“I did.” My voice rose with something between hope and a question.

“While I was in it...” She took a fortifying breath. “I would have done it—wanted them to do it. It’s so different than having a threesome with another chick. Nothing about it is soft. Nothing about it was mutual. By the time we all passed out, I was a mess. Come in my hair. Makeup streaked across my face. Dripping sweat and semen.”

“Wish I could have seen that,” I said.

“You can one of these days. Remember, whatever he gets, you get.” She leaned down and swirled her tongue around the head of my cock. She looked up at me with those bright, hazel eyes of hers. “If you want it.”

I thought about it—and not for the first time. “I’m not sure I want to share you like that.”

She chuckled. “Too late for that, don’t you think?”

“No, I mean you, me, and another dude,” I said.

“Oh, come on. It’s not like you’d have to suck his cock, too... unless you wanted to—”

“I don’t, you horny slut.”

“I bet Dave would—”

“And we established this. I’m not fucking Dave.”

She kissed me, and it felt condescending. “Okay then,” she said. “Next time, I’ll see if I can get a longer video.”

Next time... Of course there would be a next time.

For the next three weeks, between that trip and her return to Atlanta, we had almost constant sex. We couldn't keep our hands off each other, triggered in large part by the constant raunchy exchanges between Kenzie and Deshawn. There is something unbelievably exciting about getting sucked off by your wife while she's looking at another man's dick pics. Or fucking her as she's composing aloud a text about how much she wants it up the ass. Or helping her compose just the right selfie. Or helping her pick out the slutty underwear she's going to wear for her lover.

We dropped the kids off at sleep-away camp together, and Kenzie spent the better part of I-94 giving me road head. "I did promise to do everything for you that I do for him," she said wickedly, looking up from my lap.

I just pushed her head back onto my cock and forced my eyes on the road.

That was the way it was with Kenzie—not just since Deshawn, but always. I'd just forgotten how intense it could get since we'd started to settle. Everything was a challenge. Everything came with a little twist.

One night, after the kids were away and we had the house to ourselves, I caught Kenzie playing with herself in her home office, watching interracial porn. She was still dressed up for her Zoom calls earlier that day, but her blouse was unbuttoned and her bra pulled down, and she had a hand working furiously inside of her tight, black yoga pants.

For a second, I thought she was having cybersex with Deshawn. She had her earbuds in and her total focus was on the screen, her gasps hushed with forced restraint. But it wasn't Deshawn on the other end. It was a video of three muscular, black men fucking a tawny brunette who could have passed for Kenzie, other than that this woman had bangs.

The woman was somewhere tropical, naked and riding one of the men as a second crouched over her, driving his cock into her ass. The third stood to the side, stroking his large cock before stepping forward and feeding it into the pornstar's mouth. Kenzie moaned at that.

This was a setup, of course. She'd left the office door wide open, knowing that I walked by there with relative frequency. She was daring me to catch her, to call her out, so she could pretend to be embarrassed while smirking the whole time.

As much as it was a temptation to "catch her" anyway and give her a good, hard fucking, I let her be—but not before capturing a short clip of her jilling off. Later that evening, when she came to bed, she didn't say a word about it, although judging from the way she was smiling at me, she probably knew that I knew.

Things continued like this even when she flew back down to Atlanta for her August trip, leaving me with an empty house. The first night that she was away, I was watching the Cubs game and trying to keep my mind off of what could be going on when I got a FaceTime call. I picked up without thinking.

There she was, on her knees, naked, sucking a huge ebony tool. It was shiny from her spit. She'd been at it for a while already.

"That's it, Baby, you love that big dick, don't you?"

I recognized Deshawn's voice.

"Mmmm hmmm," she moaned back. She kissed up and down the shaft, her tongue flicking out to lick the head. Then she sucked him back into her mouth.

“That’s it, Slut, throat that thing. Gag on my meat.”

She obeyed. More and more of him disappeared past her full lips. She choked on him. Gagged. Pulled back to breathe, and then once more swallowed him deep. Her cheeks hollowed out, her cheeks reddened. Saliva dripped from her chin.

“Fuck that’s good,” he moaned.

Then suddenly he flipped the phone, and we were face to face. “Your wife sucks a mean dick, you know that?”

I was too shocked to speak. I’d always been a passive observer. These had always been recorded videos. I nodded mutely.

He laughed. “She told me you liked it. You white boys are freaky.” He moaned. “Oh fuck, she’s sucking my balls.”

She told me you liked it. Those words, more than anything that came after, felt like a total betrayal. She told me. Kenzie had told him. It was humiliating. It pissed me the fuck off.

He flipped the phone again, and I was treated to a close up of my wife suckling his scrotum as she stroked his cock up and down roughly.

Then his face again. “So, which of her pretty little holes should I fuck first?”

I still couldn’t speak. Rage built behind my eyes. Why was I looking at Deshawn’s fucking face. Why was I even having this conversation?

“Maybe you need to see to decide.” Then to her, he said, “Come on, Baby, on your hands and knees.”

He trained the camera on her again. Her pussy was wet and swollen, pulsing, begging to be speared. Her asshole, tight and delectable. He fingered her. She moaned as he probed deep into her snatch, and then hissed as he explored her anus.

“Well, Brad? Ass or cunt?”

“Cunt,” I grunted—although maybe that’s what I was calling her.

He laughed again. “Sure thing, Boss.”

He aimed his flared cockhead and pressed inside her. She moaned in contentment, louder and louder as he went deeper. She rolled her hips and then thrust back against him.

“Do you love my cock?” he asked her.

“Yes.”

“Tell your hubby.”

She hesitated, but it only took three or four deep strokes to break her.

“Oh God, Brad, I love his cock.”

I ground my teeth and considered hanging up. But, of course, I didn’t. As fucked up as this situation was, it was also hot as fuck.

He chuckled and fucked her harder. Her moans got higher. Deeper, harder, flesh on flesh. She cried out in ecstasy, her body shuddering.

That got him going too. “Here it comes, Baby.”

Kenzie spun around quickly. She opened her mouth and jerked his slimy prick. He groaned and fired a rope into her mouth. She didn’t flinch. She waited patiently for him to finish, and then with a lewd smile, swallowed his load.

The call ended without warning.

I took a gulp of beer. Cubs were down 6-1. They were playing the Braves. I had a queasy feeling in my stomach and irrational thoughts of revenge and betrayal running through my head.

Sometimes when I get frustrated, I'll go for a hard run. Or pound out a few sets of heavy weights. But that next day, after a rough and restless night thinking about how fucked up it was to get a call from Deshawn, I didn't need to get even more pumped up. I needed to find a little calm. So, yoga.

Yeah, I do yoga. Is it all inner peace and connectedness for me? No. I mean, that's part of it, sure. The poses and the breathing require you to practice control. But I'm not going to lie. Babes in tights demonstrating their flexibility is also a way to find perspective.

At lunch, I headed over to the local studio, setting up my mat in the corner. I liked the looks I got. Not a lot of men do yoga, and I'm pretty fit. I stacked my blocks just so and rolled my blanket and placed it at the foot of my mat. I did a few stretches, and took some deep breaths with my eyes closed, and I pretended not to notice that I was being checked out.

The blonde to my right seemed particularly interested. She was attractive, but too far into middle age for me. Slender. Perhaps a little too much so. Her cheeks were a bit hollow as a result. I suspected her husband has developed a robust beer gut and she was overcompensating in the hopes he'd take the hint. I resisted the temptation to disabuse her of that notion.

Ahead of me, side by side, a pair of brunettes. One was Asian, with a tight little body. Her friend, pale skinned with bangs and just a hint of goth. I caught them glancing back at me and then exchanging a giggled comment. Now that would be fun.

As the class began, and we worked through a series of seated poses, I kept my eye on those two. I wondered what kind of angle might work. Direct probably. With each of them egging each other on and providing reassurance, I might be able to pull it off. Back in the day, I'd have certainly given it a shot. And since Kenzie was currently working on her ass-fucking merit badge with Deshawn, she certainly couldn't object.

But then as we moved into Downward Dog, I noticed the redhead two rows over and one ahead. I'd passed over her earlier, but some yoga pants are surprisingly see-through, and the very clear peek at her camel toe kicked my lascivious thoughts into high gear.

I worked up a nice sweat and kept up my casual observation of both the pair of brunettes and the panty-less red head. When we flowed into some standing poses, my interest solidified on the latter. I knew her. Ms. Tremayne. Melanie's second grade teacher. She seemed to recognize me as familiar, though obviously couldn't quite place me. I gave a quick smile, which she returned. Then we continued our routine.

At the end, as we were packing up, I approached.

"Hi. Ms. Tremayne? I'm Brad. I think you were my daughter's teacher last year. Melanie?"

She smiled and nodded. "Yes! I knew I knew you from somewhere."

I chuckled. "That's always dangerous, right? I went up to a guy one time at a restaurant and was like, 'Do I know you?' And he says, 'Yeah, you rear ended me on Maple.'"

She laughed.

"This is better. I get to say 'hi' to my daughter's favorite teacher." I got a blush out of that. "And prettiest," I added. She shot me a skeptical glance. "Just repeating my daughter's judgment. I think she'd like to have red hair."

"Oh my God, this has caused me nothing but trouble," she said as she ran her hand through her thick auburn bob. "You know, gingers have no soul."

I chuckled. "The rest of us are just jealous."

"Well, give Melanie a hug for me, okay?"

I nodded. She slung her mat over her shoulder and headed toward the door. I peered around the studio, but my brunettes had already departed. I gave the teacher a moment and followed after.

Happily, I found her again just moments later at the juice and smoothie place next door, where she was at the back of the queue. I settled in behind her.

“We meet again, Ms. Tremayne” I said.

She turned. “Are you following me?” she asked sternly. And when I seemed momentarily discomfited, she broke into a grin. “I’m Dori, by the way.”

“Dori, that’s a pretty name.”

She rolled her eyes. “I think, nowadays, it’s associated mostly with a forgetful fish.”

“Could be worse.”

“How so?”

“At least you’re not named Karen.”

“Ha. Funny thing, everyone just discovering Karens out there. Teachers have been dealing with them for years.”

“But my precious little snowflake is always perfectly behaved at home,”

She chuckled. “It’s more along the lines of, ‘Don’t you realize my child is the next Einstein?’ And then you have to remind them that little Bobby was glueing pieces of paper together with boogers, and when he ran out of his own, he borrowed some from other kids.”

“That did not happen.”

She laughed. “Hoo boy, I could give you dozens more.”

“You can’t have been teaching for that long.”

“Four years,” she replied. “But believe it, four years of second graders is like twenty of normal people.”

“Maybe you should switch grades?”

“See, that’s the thing. Second graders are about the best you can hope for. After that they only get surlier, and then around sixth grade, smellier too.”

“Well at least you get the summer off?”

She nodded. “I do love my job, actually. But yeah, a couple of months to unwind isn’t a perk. It’s a sanity requirement.”

“Big plans?”

Dori laughed. “If only the time off came with a salary that allowed big plans. But no, I’ll mostly be hanging around here.”

“The smoothie shop?”

She chuckled. We’d arrived at the front of the line. She ordered a Tart Cherry X-Treme.

“Let me get that,” I offered. “Start your big plans fund.”

“No, I—”

“It’s the least I can do.” I ordered a Strawberry-Blueberry with a protein kicker and paid for both drinks.

“You know, you’re supposed to give the teacher the apple before she grades your child.”

“You think I am trying to bribe you?”

She narrowed her eyes slightly. “Does your wife like yoga as well?”

I suppressed a grin. If she was asking about Kenzie, it was because she was thinking our little conversation was potentially fraught, and she wouldn’t be thinking that unless she was sensing at least a little attraction from her perspective.

“She doesn’t work out much.” I decided to gloss over Kenzie’s time on the spin cycle.

“I don’t believe that. I’ve seen your wife.”

“She’s a freak of nature. But honestly, she’s been working crazy hours recently. Lots of travel too. So she doesn’t get much time for exercise.” Though, of course, bouncing up and down on Deshawn’s dick for hours at a time was a pretty solid workout.

Our smoothies were ready. I raised mine and we tapped the cups together. “Do you want to have these here? Or would you like to walk around the park?”

She hesitated.

“We could call my wife in Atlanta and ask for permission,” I said.

A laugh. “You don’t seem the type to ask permission for things.”

I took a step toward the door. She followed after me. I said, “Oh, and what type is that?”

“I think you get your way a lot, is all.”

“That could make me either confident or a jerk.”

Dori smiled. “Or both.”

“True enough,” I said. I took a right at the split in the path and led Dori down toward the small duck pond at the center of the park. “But I can assure you I have no ulterior motive in buying you a smoothie.”

She chuckled. “Well, an ulterior motive suggests an ostensible motive as well. So technically, having but a single agenda means you have no ulterior motive by definition.”

“Huh?”

She said, “When did you decide you wanted to try to pick me up?”

I took a sip of my drink. “When I caught a peek of your juicy, little pussy through your yoga pants.” She reddened. “I bet it tastes even better than my smoothie, and my smoothie is very, very good. When did you decide you’d let me pick you up?”

She looked up at me. “I haven’t... yet.”

“Let me taste it,” I said.

Her eyes widened. “No, I—”

“Your smoothie,” I said.

She laughed. And tipped it in my direction. I took a sip.

“You need to get your mind out of the gutter,” I teased.

“I think you’re going to drag me into the gutter whether I like it or not.”

I leaned in and gave her a soft kiss on the lips. She sighed.

“It’ll be fun for both of us,” I promised.

I took her hand and led her back off the path, behind a row of thick hedges. I placed our drinks on the ground and pulled Dori into an embrace. She melted against me. We kissed hard. I cupped her ass and felt her large, firm breasts press into my chest. I slipped a hand into her thick hair and cupped the nape of her neck. I kissed her throat. She groaned softly. I slid down lower, lifting up her shirt to kiss her belly, and then beginning to roll down her pants as I settled to my knees before her.

I continued peeling off her tights. As I already knew, she was not wearing anything underneath. I sighed in delight as I exposed her pretty, little pink pussy, completely shaved, labia swollen and damp, the odor of arousal unmistakable.

She ran her fingers through my hair. I lightly licked her slit. She shivered excitedly.

I palmed her tight ass, squeezing her cheeks firmly, my fingers sliding into the crack. I pulled her against me and licked her pussy again, my tongue pressing between her soft lips, tasting the tangy flavor within. She moaned, louder this time. I sucked her clit into my mouth, tongue flicking at the hood.

“Oh fuck, oh fuck,” she hissed as she began to hump against my face. I squeezed her ass hard. She gasped and shuddered. “Oh my God!”

I chuckled as I gazed up at her. “How’s the gutter so far?”

Her eyes were glassy. “What do you want me to do?”

I pulled her down beside me and arranged her on all fours. I peeled down her yoga pants a little further and positioned myself behind her. Her body was lean, toned, yet curvy. She reminded me of a younger Kenzie, I thought as I explored her with my hands—her firm, round ass, her wet and ready pussy. I pressed my hands up under her sports bra and fondled her hard nipples. She rocked back against me.

I freed my cock and rubbed it up and down her slit.

“Put it in,” she gasped.

I did, slowly feeding my rock-hard cock into her hot, juicy cunt.

“You’re so big, you feel so good,” she cooed.

I fucked her with deep, hard, controlled strokes, as I relished the delicious novelty of a new pussy. I noted the way her ass quivered with each stroke. The way her head jolted as I entered her completely. The way her cute, little, wrinkled butthole seemed to pulse the harder I fucked her.

I worked her clit slowly, in time with my thrusts. Her breathing quickened, and before I knew it she was creaming on my meat. Feeling her body’s shudders set me off as well. I dropped a huge load into her.

“What now?” she said.

I took her hand. “I think we should find someplace more comfortable for the next rounds.”

“Rounds?”

I smiled and squeezed her hand.

I scrolled through the pictures I’d taken until I found exactly the right one. Dori was riding me, reverse cowgirl, my dick buried deep in her ass, her body twisted so that one plump tit was visible, her face hidden by her thick, red hair.

I sent it to Kenzie.

<Brad>: What do you think of my new friend? Does she look familiar?

I didn’t wait for her response. Instead, I sent along a second picture. This one was Dori on her knees, her face coated with ropes of my come.

Kenzie called. I could almost feel the phone vibrating with rage. I let it go to voicemail.

Kenzie doesn't mean ill, but sometimes she just gets inside her own head so much that it starts to color the way she sees the world. I don't like vanilla frosting. I never have. But at least once a year, she'll make a cake with vanilla frosting and present it to me with a cheery, "I made your favorite." I don't think she's fucking with me. It's just, well, her favorite.

The whole thing with Deshawn was hot. I can admit that. My wife's a sexy bitch. And it's exciting to see that unconstrained. And I did want her to pursue a great career opportunity. All win-win. But in the end, it was still about her pleasure and her career. I was happy to be supportive, and yeah, I got plenty of benefits from both parts of her new life, but as with the vanilla frosting, I sort of think Kenzie got it in her head that she was doing me a favor in all of this rather than the reverse.

I was expecting a big fight when she got home. I expected an "You fucked our daughter's second grade teacher?!" accusation, hands on hips, face twisted with outrage. Especially after getting the text from her best friend.

<Ashley>: You really got under her skin.

<Brad>: She made Deshawn think I'm a cuck.

<Ashley>: I mean, you are literally being cuckolded.

<Brad>: She crossed a line. And anyway, it's irrelevant. I didn't do anything she hasn't.

<Ashley>: She never fucked a second-grade teacher.

<Brad>: What grade do you teach again?

<Ashley>: First of all, fuck you. Second of all, high school seniors. And third of all, despite what you may think, Kiki and I haven't lezzed it out since you got married. She spends most of her time with the big D.

I didn't respond, and I didn't text Kenzie, either. Chances were, these two were conspiring, and I wasn't about to give Kenzie the upper hand. It was her move, anyway.

When we spoke on the phone later that evening, I waited for her to bring up Dori. She didn't. I waited for her to tease me about something related to Deshawn. She didn't do that either.

Mercifully, there were no other awkward Facetimes that week. No more disconcerting exchanges where Deshawn asked me how I wanted him to fuck my wife. Like an idiot, I let myself think that Kenzie had been cowed.

<Kenzie>: Hey, Hon. Had to move my flight up some for... reasons. ;-) Hope you're home at 7.

I didn't write her back, but did make sure not to work late. I also made sure I was nicely showered and shaved up for the homecoming.

I'd just cracked a beer when I heard her at the front door, keys rattling. I grabbed another beer and carried it out to the front door. "Welcome home, Hon. Want a..." My brain stuttered. "...beer?"

"That would be lovely, Brad," she said. "Thank you." It wasn't my wife standing in the foyer with a roller bag behind her, but a very pretty blonde in skin-tight white pants and a ribbed white tee that struggled to contain a pair of massive breasts.

"Ashley?"

"The one and only," she smiled, taking the beer from me. "Expecting someone else?"

"Actually yes, I was. You know, my wife."

She strolled past me, tracing her hand along my shoulder as she moved into my house. She smelled good.

"Oh, she's not coming back until at least tomorrow." She paused at the foot of the stairs. "I'm sorry if that wasn't clear."

She wore sandals with high, cork wedges, and I could just make out her thong through those white pants.

"Ashley, what are you doing here?"

"I'm here to keep you company, of course." She flipped her blond hair back as she regarded me over her shoulder, catching me looking at her ass. "Let me just put my things upstairs. We can talk over dinner."

This was a setup, of course, I just couldn't see Kenzie's angle yet, beyond throwing me off-balance. I wasn't going to let that happen, so I grabbed my keys and went to pick up some food.

I brought home sushi, which seemed to delight Ashley, and even though everything about this had me on edge, watching her nibble on maki rolls was unsettlingly erotic. Everything about her was.

“So did you fuck that teacher anymore?” Ashley asked.

“Nope.”

Ashley stared at me with her playful blue eyes. “Maybe we should see if she’s available tonight.”

“And what’s happening tonight, again?”

“Possibly threesome sex with me and—”

“Ooo, but I thought you liked games. Do you...” She faked hesitation, mocking me. “...do you want to spank me until I talk?”

I groaned, standing up. “I’m going to bed. I’ve had enough of this.”

“You could always just ask your wife what’s going on,” Ashley said.

I tapped my phone, to confirm that I had it, but didn’t pull it out. That’s what Kenzie wanted. Probably. Ashley watched my indecision with cruel joy.

Up in the master bedroom, I was half expecting Ashley’s overnight bag to be resting on the dresser. It wasn’t. She hadn’t assumed that much.

Sitting on the bed, I considered my situation. It was a little after 9:00 pm Chicago time, so 10:00 pm Atlanta time, which meant that Kenzie was probably impaled on Deshawn’s rake handle cock. In the meantime, her hot, slutty friend was downstairs in my house, up to something sinister.

I composed a text:

Hey Kenz... what is Ashley doing here?

I hesitated and then... deleted it. This was a game, and if Ashley and Kenzie had devised some kind of payback that involved me fucking the blonde, it was a game I was more than happy to play. Why was I even hesitating anymore? The old Brad sure as hell didn't.

I opened the bedroom door just as Ashley was about to knock on it. Only she'd changed. Gone were the white pants and top. In their place, she wore a black babydoll nightgown that showed off a prodigious amount of cleavage.

"Ashley, what are you doing?"

She glanced over at the alarm clock on my bedside table.

"Almost showtime."

"Showtime for what?"

"Take off your pants," she commanded.

She picked up the TV remote and flipped it on, clicking through the remotes until the screen mirroring option came up.

"What are you doing?" I asked again.

She lowered her chin, and in her best schoolteacher voice, she said, "Pants," and then started messing with her phone.

"I'm not taking off my pants until—"

My eyes were drawn to the TV.

"Is that your family room?"

She laughed. "Don't you recognize it? It's where you watched me fuck Andre."

“So, what....”

She hopped onto the bed and sat back against the headboard. Her babydoll crept up, and I got a quick flash of naked beaver before she fixed it. She patted the bed beside her.

“Pants. And join me.”

I hesitated.

“Have you ever watched your wife get fucked?”

I felt a rush of heat. My pants got tight.

“What is this?” I asked.

“Oh, Baby,” Ashley teased. “You’re not that naive. Ah, our lovely participants have arrived.”

Kenzie and Deshawn appeared, coming from the direction of the kitchen, holding glasses of champagne. He was dressed in a dark suit, no tie. She had on a low-cut sundress. He walked my wife toward the white sofas.

“You know, you’re entitled to your own corporate housing,” Deshawn said. “Although Ashley’s got a nice setup here.”

Ashley rapped the bed more insistently. I shrugged. If this was the game they wanted to play, I could be down. Pulling down my pants, I tossed my shirt aside and joined her on the bed. She confidently reached into my boxers and wrapped her hand around my shaft.

“You ready for this?” she asked.

“Can’t wait,” I said.

“We’ll see. It’s going to be pretty intense.” She squeezed my cock. “But don’t worry. I’m here.”

On screen, Kenzie said, “Seems like such a waste to shell out all that rent on a place that I’d barely sleep in.”

Deshawn drained his glass and placed it on the table. “We can switch things up then. I’d be happy to break in all that corporate furniture.”

Kenzie gave him a coquettish smile and ran her fingers along the inside of her décolletage. “Now that’s the way to a girl’s heart.”

She grinned and pulled open her dress. Beneath she was wearing the sexy lingerie we’d bought way back in July, the ribbed bustier, g-string, garter and stocking package.

“And you know exactly the way to my heart,” he said with a slow, silent clap. “Very hot, Babe.”

Ashley gave my cock a squeeze. “You never answered my question. Have you ever watched Kenzie get fucked by another man?”

I thought about the one, short exchange over FaceTime earlier that week. Was it really that same week? “Not really.”

Ashley chuckled. “You’re jumping in the deep end, then. Deshawn doesn’t just fuck her. He wrecks her.”

Deshawn approached my wife. He traced her plump lips with his thumb, and then pressed it into her mouth. She cupped her hand over his, keeping eye contact, she gently licked and sucked his digit.

“You are so fucking hot,” he said.

The two pressed together, bodies tight to each other, the mics good enough to pick up the sound of their kissing and the low hum from Kenzie as he palmed her ass. When they broke apart, he reached into his coat pocket and removed a long, shiny length of black satin.

“I want you to use me,” she said.

He carefully wound it around her head. “Oh, don’t worry. That’s the plan. You’ll see. Or rather...”

“...I won’t,” she finished for him. It was a reminder of how well these two knew one another.

The ribbon covered her eyes, blocking out everything.

“Kinky,” Ashley said. For a second, I’d forgotten that she was even there. I’d forgotten where I even was.

“What do you know about tonight?” I asked.

“Not much.” She stroked my cock. “I’m on this ride as much as you are.”

Deshawn produced a second strip and walked around her. He placed her hands behind her back, and then bound her wrists. She shivered as he slowly ran his fingertips over her body. Down behind her ears. Across her lower back. He carefully worked open the clasps of her bustier.

Ashley sidled up close, whispering into my ear. “Most guys can’t handle seeing their woman with another man. But even those who can often lose it when they see their woman get totally owned. Does that scare you?”

Deshawn eased down the cups of the loosened bustier and circled her hard nipple with his fingertip.

“Huh?” I asked.

“Not enough blood to operate both heads at the same time, eh? I like that.”

I tore my eyes from the screen to look at Ashley. She pulled her nightgown down, baring her tits. She lifted one up and gave the nipple a quick lick.

“In a few minutes, and for the next couple of hours, she’ll barely remember your name.”

On the TV screen, Deshawn loomed behind Kenzie, reaching around to carefully unsnap the garters from her stockings. He kissed her neck. She sighed.

“I love a g-string on a woman with a body like yours,” he said, pushing his hand beneath the wispy panties.

Kenzie just moaned and swayed as he fingered her.

Ashley squeezed my cock and licked my ear.

“Let me suck your cock.” I was confused by all the stimulation that I wasn’t sure who asked it at first.

“Give me a good reason,” Deshawn asked my wife, clearing that up.

“Because you know I’m a good cocksucker,” Kenzie said.

“One of the best, but I know you can do better than that.” He kept circling her, throwing her senses off, touching her shoulder, her nipple, her hair.

“Because when I’m not with you, I dream of getting that big, black dick in my mouth.”

“Just dreaming?” Deshawn asked.

“Fantasizing. Playing with myself.”

“Using the toy?”

“Almost every day,” Kenzie admitted. With pride. To me, it felt shocking.

Ashley’s hand squished on my prick. She gave me a firm squeeze. “You listening? See how much of a slut she is for him?”

“When was the last time you used it?”

“Monday morning, just before my flight. In the shower.”

That could have been true, too. She did take a lengthy shower early that morning, before I was fully awake. The realization made my cock stiffen.

Ashley felt it.

“You like that idea, don’t you?”

“I do.” I wasn’t going to let her get under my skin.

Ashley pressed. “But you didn’t know, did you?”

“If you think I’m going to get upset at the idea of my wife playing with herself in the shower, then you don’t know me.”

The doorbell rang, and for one confusing moment, my whole body jolted. Was someone at our front door? Had a neighbor noticed Ashley’s rental and come to investigate?

“Ah, let me go get that,” Deshawn said. He peeled her bustier off and tossed it onto the sofa, standing back to admire her. She was stripped down to her g-string, stockings, and heels, blindfolded and wrists bound behind her. “You stay right where you are. Don’t go anywhere, and no peeking.”

I looked at Ashley, who was staring at the screen, enraptured. “Who’s at the door?” I asked.

The blonde shrugged, like she honestly had no idea. “Dave’s probably already blown his load,” she said, more to herself than to me.

Kenzie stood obediently, alone in the room, half-naked and vulnerable. Her nipples were erect, standing out nearly half an inch in her excitement.

Deshawn returned to the room after what felt like an eternity, followed closely by two fit, muscular—and very black—men Wow, Kiki. You've outdone yourself," Ashley said to herself.

Deshawn whispered something to one of the guys—James, I recognized from the video Kenzie had teased me with—who strolled right up to my wife, collected her in his arms, and pulled her into a deep, familiar kiss. She had to know that she wasn't kissing Deshawn. James was taller, for one, and where Deshawn had a clipped beard, James was clean cut.

"So Kenzie, let's talk a bit about consent, lest anyone watching be confused. You want us to use you."

"Yes," Kenzie said.

Deshawn moved right up behind her, setting his hands on her shoulders. "You want us to fuck you."

"Please," she said with an obedient nod. "I want to be fucked until I blackout."

Deshawn glanced at James, then back at his other, grinning friend. He pushed her down onto her knees. "And we can do whatever we want to this sweet, sweet body?"

Kenzie smiled beneath the blindfold. "I'm hoping you get creative."

James unbuckled his belt. Kenzie licked her lips at the sound of his pants opening, at the drag of his zipper, inches from her face.

Kenzie remained there, her posture kneeling and submissive.

"We'll get plenty creative," Deshawn said. He started unbuckling his own belt. "Why don't you get that sweet mouth to work."

Cock in hand, James rubbed the tip along her lips. He said, “Remind me how good you are with that mouth.”

Ashley rose up onto her knees, shedding her babydoll completely. Her body was a wet dream, lush and tanned, curvy yet tight and toned. Her navel was pierced with a bejeweled bar of silver and her hairless snatch glistened in the low light.

She got onto her hands and knees, big tits swaying beneath her, ass high in the air, like a cat ready to pounce. Looking up at me through her long lashes, she smiled and reached for my boxers. I helped her, lifting my hips as she yanked them down. She pulled her hair aside so I could watch as she sucked my cock deep into her mouth. Down in Atlanta, my wife was doing the same, eagerly swallowing James’s long, hard tool.

Ashley bobbed up and down. Her mouth was amazing. Hot and wet. Her tongue playful and active. She cupped my balls. I looked over her body, to the TV, where Kenzie was delivering James a hands-free blowjob of her own.

“That’s it, Kiki” Deshawn said. “Suck that black dick.”

James pulled back with a nod from Deshawn, who twisted her head around and pressed his own cock against her mouth. She eagerly swallowed. He pulled her deeper, his cock entering her throat with a gag. Ashley heard it, matched her. I entered her throat with a gasp. That first little taste had been a tease. This time, she gave me the full treatment.

Pulling back, Ashley worked her soft lips along my shaft, her tongue a relentless tornado around my glans. Wet and slobbery, her spit-covered fingers expertly working my nuts. She sucked hard, cheeks hollowed out, then soft moist kisses.

“Oh fuck,” I gasped.

On the screen, Kenzie, blindfolded and bound, was eagerly sucking both men, surrendering to them physically as they passed her back and forth. She kept her mouth open and inviting when one would pull out and the other would plunge back in, deeper and deeper, until their cocks had to be deep into her throat.

The third man, who I didn't recognize, stepped forward, eager to join. He was the tallest of the three, with short, black dreads and a little scruff. He was also softer than the gym-hewn bodies of James and Deshawn. His cock, though, was just as hard, and like his body, thicker than his friends.

When he quietly took Deshawn's place, fat dick in hand, and fed it into her wet mouth, she knew this was someone new.

"I know what you're thinking," Deshawn said, purposefully walking away to eliminate any doubt. "Just how many brothers did I invite?" He chuckled. "And you know what? You'll never know..."

The new guy, Dreads, pressed Kenzie's face against his closely, trimmed pubes and filled her throat with his thick meat. She gagged, but managed to keep him there until he withdrew, his shaft dripping with her spit. She was smiling, her mouth open, licking her lips and ready for more.

"That's so fucking hot," Ashley mumbled, staring at the TV and taking my cock back into her mouth. I pushed her back down onto me, where she worked on me like a pro. Her tongue swirled my prick. Her hand massaged my balls with just the right mix of restraint and aggression that it had me perpetually on edge.

I was close, so close. Between Kenzie's slutty performance and Ashley's magical tongue, it took all of my willpower and concentration to keep from blowing my load.

Ashley maneuvered between my legs and took my balls into her mouth. With her thumb and forefinger, she jerked my shaft hard. Down in Atlanta, the guys circled her, shoving their cocks into Kenzie's mouth, smothering her in dick flesh.

Ashley spit out my scrotum and began grinding her tits against my groin. I remembered her titty-fucking Andre, and Kenzie saying Deshawn had done it to her.

I pulled back from the brink, which was lucky because Deshawn lifted Kenzie off the floor and placed her onto the sofa. Sitting down, he positioned her face in his lap, aimed her g-string clad butt at the camera and palmed her ass. As she sucked him, I watched James move into place behind her. He pushed her panties to the side and started rubbing his cock along her smooth gash. She started thrusting back against the dick, but James didn't put it in. Not yet.

Ashley looked over her shoulder, checking in on my wife and seeing the same thing that I saw. "Look at how desperate that slut is. I bet she'd do anything to get off right now." She turned those big, blue eyes on me as she said anything, giving my shaft a nice squeeze. You would, too, she didn't have to add.

Instead, she said the other thing that was on my mind. "And you just love it..."

Only I didn't like the way she said it—not quite an insult, but there was an edge there, an unspoken implication. You love watching your wife lose it to other men... just like my cuck husband.

Ashley took me back into her mouth. She sucked me desperately, but my competitive juices were flowing, and regardless of what was happening in Atlanta, I wasn't going to come until I damn well wanted to.

With Deshawn's dick in Kenzie's throat, James finally entered her pussy. At the same time, he pressed his thumb against her ass. Her hips began pumping wildly.

Suddenly Ashley grabbed my thighs and yanked me downward. She was surprisingly strong, and I ended up flat on my back. She ducked beneath my legs.

"Does Kenzie eat your ass?" she asked.

Her tongue flicked into my butthole. This was new. Literally the first time anyone had done it to me. And it was marvelous. She stroked my cock hard as her tongue probed my ass. On screen James had two fingers in her ass, and Kenzie was grunting like an animal.

“She licks his ass,” Ashley teased. “She’ll do anything he asks.”

Ashley’s tongue pressed inside me.

“Oh God, oh God!” I gasped. My jism shot upward like a fountain. All over my chest and stomach.

On the TV, Kenzie whined a, “No, please!” James had pulled out of her, and Deshawn had pushed her away from his cock. Face down, ass up, hands bound behind her and blindfolded, she was so helpless, pleading like that. Her body writhed sensuously.

“You want my dick?” Deshawn said, circling her.

“Please...”

The men rotated. Dreads sat on the sofa. Deshawn rubbed his dick between her steaming folds. She swallowed Dreads and tried to back her pussy up against Deshawn.

“Fuck me... fuck me, baby, please...” my wife cried out.

Ashley began stroking my cock, using the last of my jism as lube. It was almost too much, but it felt so good.

“Such a desperate little slut,” Ashley teased.

They rotated again, just before she seemed to be cresting. James moving to the sofa to get his dick sucked, and Dreads stuffing his fat dick into Kenzie’s sweet sex. Deshawn looked on, stroking her back and running his fingers up her spine. He grabbed her by the hair, pulling her back, off of James.

“You want to come?” Deshawn asked.

“Please,” she gasped, face up and off-balance.

Releasing her hair, he ran his hand down her lower back again, pushing a thumb into her ass. She hissed and thrust back against him.

“Fuck me, Baby. Fuck me please.”

Deshawn yanked until the expensive g-string snapped. “If we let you come, what do we get out of it?”

Ashley smirked. “You ready to see how low she’ll go?” That’s when she saw that I was hard again, my cock betraying me once again. She nodded.

Deshawn nodded at James, who backed away, slowly, torturously pulling his slick dick from her. Kenzie whimpered, “No...”

Deshawn spit onto her anus now, rubbing the saliva against her rim. “What,” he asked again, “do we get out of it?”

She looked in the direction of Deshawn’s voice. She may have been bound, but she didn’t look shy or demure. That smile would have been enough to get me hard all over again, if I wasn’t already. She said, “I want you to fuck me with all those big dicks, all at once. Use me.”

“How?” Deshawn demanded. This, he said, looking right at the camera. I felt myself shrink, like he saw me right there, Ashley’s hand pumping my dick. It made me ashamed and mad but also so fucking turned on.

Deshawn’s thumb churned into my wife’s ass. She grunted and moaned. He repeated, “How? Tell me.”

“Double penetrate me. Please. Triple penetrate me. Fucking run a train on me with all those dicks.”

“And there it is,” Ashley whispered smugly, nipping at my ear. “Now you get to wonder if this is the first time he’s broken her.”

Deshawn nodded at his co-conspirators. They lifted her into Dreads lap, right onto his prick. She gasped, arching her back and straining against the cord that bound her wrists. She was so close. Right there on the very edge.

Deshawn moved into place behind her, the bull, the man, dark body glistening with sweat. Cock in hand, he pushed her flat against Dreads, her big tits flattening out and her plump ass cheeks presenting.

With one quick alignment, he thrust home, burying his dick into Kenzie's asshole, while she enjoyed another man stretching her cunt.

She yelped in passion. Her body shook, and she cried out again and again. "Oh, fuck! Oh, fuck! Oh!" The men began humping her, using her, double-dicking her.

"Fuck me, Baby. Fuck me with your big cock. Fuck me..." I heard her desperation, like she was climbing up the walls inside of her, clawing to get free. For release. "Yes!!!"

The television sound actually distorted as she went off, sandwiched between all that man flesh.

Something snapped inside of me, bathing everything in throbbing red. "You..." I turned from the television and the vision of my wife's debauchery. "You knew about this."

Whatever my face looked like must have scared Ashley. For the first time, she looked at me like maybe this was a mistake. Even her hand on my cock went slack.

"Brad, I—"

"No. Stop." If I gave her some room, she would talk her way out of this. "You've done enough talking tonight." I grabbed her by the inner thigh, pivoting her body around and onto her back. Spread out before me, she was a lush vision of temptation—one that I'd done so well denying. She was hotter than Taylor, hotter than Laura. It was amazing that we'd never fucked in all the time that we'd known each other. But I'd just never wanted to do that to Kenzie. Now—

"Fuck me!" Kenzie screamed.

“You love fucking me.”

“I... I do...”

“You’ve always loved fucking me.”

“All...alwayssss...”

“This is all really fucked up. Even for you, Ash.” I waved to the screen, to her, to this being the bedroom of her supposed best friend.

She found her voice at last. “I know a part of you likes it.”

“I’m not Dave,” I growled. Dave, the lens through which she was looking at Kenzie and me. It made sense in a way, all the teasing and tormenting. The way she was running her foot along my length now, teasing “the part” that she assumed liked all of this.

This time, Ashley wasn’t cowed. “I hear what you’re saying, but I also see how you’re reacting.” She stroked me between her toes—toes painted pinkish red, cute and sexy in a way that I never considered toes. “And as fucked up as this is, you’re getting off on seeing your wife getting DPed.”

I hated that smug look of hers. I wanted to wipe it away again, so I reached for the only tool I knew I could rely on. I pushed her thighs apart, flattening her knees on the bed as I mounted her. There was one way I knew beyond a shadow of a doubt that I could prove that I was different than Dave.

“I’m not Dave,” I repeated, teasing the ridge of my cock along her shaved gash. She was so smooth, so soft. She gasped, opening her legs wider. “We’re done playing games here.”

“No, you’re definitely—NOT!”

I plunged forward, driving into her without hesitation. Now that I decided to cross this line, I wasn’t going to hold back. Ashley was going to walk out of this bedroom desperate for—

“Oh, fuck! So full! That’s... so full!. Fuck me... fuck me har...DER!”

Kenzie's cries struck me the way a jockey strikes his horse. Spurred on, I folded her best friend in half and unleashed all that potential energy that's been built up between us for the last several months.

"Oh, Brad!"

She felt good—new and different and sexy because this was wrong. But then all of this was wrong. Every single part of it.

"That's it, my little whore," Deshawn said. "Come all over these big black dicks. There are always more to fuck you with."

"Yes! Use this slutty cunt!"

"That gets you so hard, Brad," Ashley said with a delighted gasp. "I can feel you throb inside me. Fuck that's hot."

"No."

"Admit it, Brad. You want Kenzie to be a little more like me." And to banish any doubt, she spelled that out. "A cock-hungry slut who just cannot be satisfied with one man."

"Fuck you, Ashley." I thrust hard, grabbing her hips and lifting her beneath my onslaught. "We're not all like you or your cucky Dave."

"But you kind of want to be." She glanced up, towards the television behind her. "She wants it."

As if choreographed, Kenzie exploded in a loud, guttural orgasm. I wanted to join her, but I wasn't quite there. Not after the earlier blowjob. Not after all this queasy torment. But I was also closer than I should have been.

Unless I really did have a little bit of Dave in me.

I pulled out of Ashley, long enough to flip her onto her stomach, lift her by the hips, and enter her from behind. When she tried to lift her head to look at the entertainment, though, I denied her, pushing her face into the mattress. This was a woman who always got what she wanted, and tonight, I wasn't in the obliging mood.

Especially not as I watched my wife on our large, mounted television as James stuffed his cock into her mouth, plugging her up. Air-tight and overwhelmed.

Anger flashed through me. At Ashley. At Deshawn. At my wife. Even, I admitted, at myself for getting turned on by all of this.

Fortunately or unfortunately, Ashley was there to receive that anger. As Kenzie screaming at the excess of cock, I squeezed Ashley's meaty buttocks until the flesh turned white, held her down, and fucked all of my angst into her.

Ashley, of course, didn't go along with my attempted catharsis. She was getting off on all of this, too, a sadist at heart. "Oh, Brad, harder. Deeper. Fuck me the way you wish you could fuck your wife... if she wasn't totally getting blacked right now!"

I spanked her, the loud slap thundering between my ears. We were alone in the house, but I wasn't sure I'd be able to keep it down even if we weren't.

Kenzie's gasp on the screen drew my attention back there. She still wore the mask, but her wrists were free. She was beating James off as she blew him and was otherwise clutching the back of the sofa for support as they ravaged her.

I jammed a thumb into Ashley's ass. The blonde cried out, tried to raise up onto all fours. I held her down, taking complete control of her body in a way that I knew Dave neither would, nor could.

"Oh, my... oh, fuck, Brad..." The taunting was gone. I had her now, shifting this from a fun little game of torment-the-cuckold-Bradley to one that involved a surprising, happy ending for herself.

"You're a fucked-up woman," I whispered, gathering her sweaty, blonde hair and pulling her head back. "You may watch them now."

“That looks so good,” she uttered.

“So, you like it there, too?” I still had a thumb in her ass. I twisted it, just so that she didn’t forget.

She moaned, but didn’t reply, so I pulled her hair.

“Answer me.”

“Yesss...”

I pushed a second finger into Ashley’s ass as I rose up and began to fuck her faster. Each thrust would run right across her g-spot, pulverizing that cluster of nerves until she would beg me to stop. It was a finishing move—one of my secret weapons that I’d developed before I ever met Kenzie yet honed over the years.

“Oh, fuck, Brad—” She could barely breathe. I felt her fingers squirm and work her clit beneath us, not even trying to rise up anymore. “Punish me. Punish this slut.”

I withdrew from Ashley’s pussy, dragged the head of my cock upwards, and rammed it into her anus. It was not a slow entry. It was far from a courteous one. But it was what this fucked-up slut deserved.

“Oh, my—!”

I shoved her face into the mattress, smothering her cries, and began to fuck her ass with the same hard pounds that Deshawn was now fucking Kenzie.

All that tenderness from before? Gone. What I’d read as love and intimacy was closer to dominance and submission, I realized. Kenzie did not have feelings for Deshawn, despite what this slut may have tried to make me believe.

Kenzie would do anything for Deshawn, yes. She’d also do anything for me. Deshawn showed me how to harness it. All I needed to do was figure out how to execute.

It's funny to have an epiphany like this, balls deep in my wife's best friend's ass as she took a black dick in her own, but there it was.

Not that either of them was getting off the hook for this stunt. And not that any of that took the edge off what I was watching on that big screen. My wife had arranged for me to watch her lose control while I was hundreds of miles away, unable to do a damn thing about it.

Ashley was fingering herself as her tight anus tried to pinch my cock off. I tugged on her silky hair, forcing a groan that was matched by my wife's. Kenzie was losing her mind as Deshawn and Dreads pummeled her. She couldn't suck James anymore, who just stood by, pumping his cock and waiting his turn.

That, more than any of the rest, undid me. More than Deshawn picking up the pace, his muscles sleek and straining as they worked over my wife's slender frame. More than watching her body shudder each time both men fucked it into her. More than the way Deshawn grabbed her hair and held her by the throat. It was that this was far from over—that she had a night ahead of her to be fucked, and that she absolutely wanted all of it.

Dreads came first, announcing it with a gravely, "I'm gonna nut!"

Deshawn thrust deep into her ass and paused, holding her up against his body as his friend came inside Kenzie.

I nearly came with him but held back out of sheer stubbornness. I wasn't going to come until Deshawn did.

Deshawn picked Kenzie up, turned her, and sat back heavily on the sofa, holding my wife in his lap, facing out—facing the camera. She looked at it, practically meeting my eyes over all that distance, even though she couldn't see me.

I didn't shy away from the virtual eye contact the way I did when Deshawn looked. I wasn't disgusted or jealous, and I certainly didn't feel the emotional angst that I'm sure Dave felt, and that Ashley hoped I felt.

No. With Kenzie's open legs spread wide, leaving nothing to the imagination, her bare and abandoned pussy creamy with another man's come, and Deshawn's cock stroking in and out of her asshole, I was mostly impressed. This was a thoroughbred. This was my wife.

James covered the view, his lean body blocking the camera as he took his turn in the double penetration. Kenzie went off, once again, arching stiffly against Deshawn as they stuffed her full.

I renewed my effort on Ashley, fucking her ass as she squirmed and writhed and gasped beneath me, all to the rhythmic cries of Kenzie and her two men.

I drove Ashley into the bed, pinning her beneath me, as if I could hold my orgasm at bay if I only fucked her even harder. I slapped her ass one more time, hard enough that my palm stung and she barked a smothered cry into the sheets. She was right there. I was right there.

I looked up at the screen, a drop of sweat dripping off my chin.

"Oh, yes. That's so—oh fuck—" Kenzie's eyes rolled wildly. "So fucking—FULL!"

Deshawn grabbed her tits, squeezed hard, and with one final thrust, emptied his balls deep into her bowels as Kenzie's clenched her teeth and flared her nostrils.

I saw black and red that somehow turned into stars. I saw James pull out and paint Kenzie's face with his come. Dreads, who'd been beating off beside them, added his own batter to the mix.

I wasn't breathing. I needed to breathe. I needed to stay conscious. But all this came at a cost. The whole night, the games, the emotion.

I saw Kenzie look up at the men, her face dripping with come and bewilderment in her wide, excited eyes. I saw her look towards the camera one last time before I fell into the well that had formed beneath me.

Before I even knew it, I was unconscious.

Anything interesting happen on your 'bachelor' week?" Kenzie asked.

It was Saturday afternoon, and because we still didn't have the kids and I had nothing else to do, I surprised her at the airport.

She was dressed for travel—yoga pants, flats, hair in a ponytail and little makeup. But it was all I could do not to ravish her as she stepped through the arrival gate.

"I caught an interesting thing or two on television," I said. "How was your week in Atlanta?"

"So full." She winked.

We were standing in the kitchen. She had a glass of water in hand. Without makeup, she looked so different than the cock-addled woman of last night. So...normal. Yet I knew that was still lurking inside.

"Guess we know what Deshawn's capable of making you do," I said. It sounded a lot more snarky and grudging than I'd intended, but since I was also tired and exhausted, I didn't correct myself.

Kenzie didn't back down. Not even a flinch. "And I'm going to have to be extra careful taking you to student-teacher conferences."

"I wonder if Dori's a three-input slut, too..."

That finally touched a nerve. “You know what, Brad? Fuck you. You know I’d do everything I did last night with you.”

“That why you sent your friend to keep me company?” I shot back. “To make sure that your torment was complete?”

“I see, I see. So that’s what you were thinking when you fucked Ashley up the ass. It wasn’t that you hated my guts at that moment and wanted revenge. You just hated Ashley right then and was going to rape her asshole to make her pay.”

“I didn’t rape her. And that logic doesn’t make sense—”

She ignored me, shaking angrily. Her hands flew to her waist, and before I knew it she’d wrested off her pants and panties. She spun around and bent over the kitchen counter.

“Go ahead, Brad. Slam my asshole. That’s what you like to do when you’re angry at a woman, right?”

“No!”

“Go ahead. It won’t hurt as much as you’d like because I’m definitely still stretched out from all those big, black cocks.” She licked her index finger, and then reached back and pressed it into her butt. She moaned and shook her ass at me.

“Stop being a cunt.”

She let out a curt, barking laugh. “Are you upset that Deshawn unlocked me in a way that you won’t?” She pumped her finger into her ass again, and then spread her legs wider so that her pussy cleaved open, damp and pink. “Go ahead, Brad. Maybe if you fuck it hard enough, it’ll almost be like you participated, rather than sat on the sidelines with Dave.

I saw red. “You want it?”

“Yes,” she hissed. “Fuck my ass so that you can feel like a man.”

She pressed a second finger into her ass. I remembered doing that to Ashley. And then shoving my dick in her ass. I thought about how I'd pressed her face into the pillow to shut her up. My angry thrusts into her rectum. I was hard and enraged at Kenzie's taunts.

I yanked down my pants and approached my wife. She reached back with her other hand and spread her asscheeks. I took in her tight, pulsing asshole. She deserved it. Deserved what I was going to do to her. I rubbed my cockhead against her anus and felt her body tense.

"Do it!" she hissed, her voice tight.

I palmed her lower back and pressed her down onto the counter. I thought about how good her ass would feel, and how, with so little preparation, I could make her whimper and whine. She was right. I was angry. I wanted to hurt her. I increased the pressure. Her asshole resisted, but I knew it wouldn't for long.

I took a deep breath and tensed my abs. And then... I shifted my cock. I found her pussy, wet and inviting, and slowly, gently, I entered her. She looked back at me, surprised. I fucked her tenderly. Her eyelids fluttered.

She opened her mouth to speak, but I preempted her. "I love you Kenzie."

Her eyes teared up as she replied, "Oh Brad, I love you too. Brad, I—"

I spun her around and shut her up with a kiss. She didn't hesitate to kiss me back, like she was waiting for this since we got off the phone this morning.

Kenzie kissed my chest, licking my nipples and nipping at the short hairs. I lifted her onto our kitchen table as she whisked off her thong, then slid back into her.

"Yes," she groaned, pulling me close and raking her fingernails along my back. "Fuck, I needed this."

I needed it too. Through the haze, our lips found one another, hungry and sloppy and wet. She stretched out across the table, knocking a glass off. It shattered. Neither of us stopped the fucking.

“Yes, Baby!” Her fingernails dug into my flesh. Her powerful legs squeezed around my sides. “Give it to me. Give me your come.”

I lifted off of her enough to look down into her eyes. My shoulders hunched; my balls swelled. “Tell me you love me.”

Her lips curled up at the ends in a smile. “I love you, Brad. I love fucking you, and I love your fucking dick. Now pump your come into me so I can make you mine again,” she said.

I pounded her harder, the love-making turned to fucking, yet still heavily laced with love. We both needed this. We both wanted it. This was the first time I truly got to reclaim my wife the morning after she’d been with another man—other men—and when I finally came, it was glorious.

Kenzie was there with me, breaking the kiss to moan and claw at me, to squeeze me and hold me and moan, Yes! Yes! with a passion that transcended last night, as wild and crazy and off the rails as that was.

“I needed that,” she said when it was over. She still hadn’t opened her eyes, like she could bask there a little longer. But like this game we were playing, when the intensity faded, it kept on going.

If anyone was keeping score, the ball was in my court now. After that intense exchange, I could have put it aside and gone into retirement, even after she'd epically one-upped me with her bound-and-blindfolded gangbang. But Kenzie also didn't seem to know how to take her foot off the gas.

As August pushed into September—a time when most people were focused on stuff like back-to-school and putting away summer clothing—Kenzie found new ways to torment me.

She was looking better than ever, thanks to a mixture of a ramped-up Peloton schedule and some extra time at the gym. She made sure that I knew she was getting in shape because she had to look good “for her men.”

One evening in early September, as she was straddling me after a hot shower, she rubbed the head up over her clit, grazing it through the sandpapery bristles above her mound. “Need me to touch that up?” I asked.

The regrowth was confined to an inverted triangular patch of hair that flared away from her clit. She saw me looking, saw the comprehension as I glanced up at her. “Deshawn prefers it this way,” she said with a smirk.

She sank her fingernails into my shoulders as she loomed over me, her tits pressed together, her hair falling forward. “Not over Deshawn's.”

I couldn't tell if she was fucking with me. I wasn't Dave, and yet this declaration had an impact. One she felt inside of her and made her smile with vindication.

She actually spent September taking short flights to various colleges and universities around the country, now that the semesters were in full swing. No Atlanta trip this month, and as far as I could tell, no trips with Deshawn, either. I wasn't going to ask, anyway.

When she wasn't traveling, she was working in her home office. She seemed to always be working. I came home early one day, while the kids were still in school, hoping to catch her up to something. When I passed by her office, though, she was, of course, on a call.

"...will circle back with USC. I can reach out to Marge over at the career center." Kenzie was on a Zoom call, the three-by-three grid of faces watching as she gave her update in front of her laptop.

She wore a light blue polo with William & Crawford's logo on the breast. Her hair was back in a ponytail, she wore makeup despite being at home most of the day, and she wore a headset with an attached mic that I teased her about. "Mission control, am I cleared for takeoff?"

Below and off-camera, the story was different. She was cross-legged in her office chair, for one, and because it was a blazingly hot September afternoon in Chicago, those crossed-legs were bare other than a pair of Daisy Dukes.

This was Kenzie in a nutshell these days—professional on the surface, but always with something more below.

She saw me out of the corner of her eye, giving me only a short smile in acknowledgement before conducting her meeting. She had the W&C background on the video call, so no one else saw me as I passed by the room and up the stairs.

A text came in as I was changing out of my own suit.

<Kenzie>: Why are you home early?

<Kenzie>: When?

<Brad>: In a half hour. Why?

<Kenzie>: Stay up there, and when I come in, don't say anything.

I considered ignoring the request—I still hadn't come up with a good payback—but in the end decided whatever she had planned would most likely be fun. About ten minutes later, I heard Kenzie ascend the stairs, still chatting on her headset.

“...yeah, we've got a busy semester coming up, but this group is more than capable.” She entered the room, holding her laptop in front of her. I gave her a quizzical look, but she completely ignored me, heading towards the bed. “Yes, yes. I'll handle the Cambridge schools. I know how important that trip is, but the team is more than capable of the others. We should be able to divide and conquer.”

All the corporate jargon still made me smile when I heard it from the same woman who regularly told the kids to put on their jammies. Now, though, I was mostly confused as to what was going on.

“You alone now?” At first, I thought the question was directed at me. I opened my mouth, but before I could get a word out, she said, “Good. Make sure that door is locked.”

She set the laptop on the bed, unplugged the headset, and pulled it off. “...I’m actually in Houston right now.” Deshawn’s deep voice in our bedroom felt very wrong. “Don’t worry, Babe, we’ve got privacy.”

“Take it out,” Kenzie said as she reached back and released her hair from her ponytail.

I settled into a chair opposite the laptop. I didn’t need to see whatever Deshawn was doing, but I sure as hell wanted a view of my wife.

“Give me a reason to,” he said.

Kenzie gave the quickest glance over the top of the laptop, meeting my eyes, before she crossed her arms before her and peeled her polo off. Her bra was cornflower blue, the scalloped cups straining to hold up her heavy tits.

“You’re looking nice and tanned.” I heard the appreciation in Deshawn’s voice.

“Nice thing about working from home is that I can sun in the backyard on my lunch hour.” She unsnapped the top of her jean shorts and wiggled them over her hips.

She unclasped the bra and her full breasts fell into view, along with the white, triangular outline of her bikini top. She cupped her tits, squeezing the soft flesh as her nipples hardened and rose.

“Now the bottoms,” he directed.

She hooked her thumbs into her panties, pulled one down low enough to show the arc of a tan line, and then finished the job. Her triangular patch of hair was darker now, a literal yield sign to me that I wasn’t the only man in her life now.

“Fuck, that’s hot. Look at it grow. Tell me, Kenzie, if you were here, what would you do?”

She was beginning to look glassy, all focus now on the laptop screen. “I’d get on my knees...”

“I like a girl on her knees,” Deshawn said.

“I’d wrap my hands around that big fucking cock, both hands, just like you like it.” She held out her hands, fingers curled, demonstrating.

“Mmmm...” he groaned.

“Then I’d tease the fuck out of you, slowly running my tongue around and around your cockhead... up and down your shaft... I’d suck on your big... heavy... balls...”

“Get your dildo, Baby,” Deshawn said. “I want to watch you stuff that tight snatch up.”

She reached into her nightstand and removed the large, black dildo he’d made her buy. Shifting onto the bed, the laptop pointed at her, she opened her legs and ran the plastic cock over her glistening lips.

She touched the triangular patch with her free hand, her wedding band glittering, and glanced at me briefly over the laptop lid. “He’s getting used to it again.”

“You tell him why you’re growing it back out?”

“Because you told me to.” Her eyes glittered.

“Bet he loved that.” There was no sarcasm in Deshawn’s voice. He assumed that I was a cuck, just like Dave. I frowned at that, especially when Kenzie didn’t correct him.

She fed the dildo into her pussy, arching as the obscenely large phallus opened her up. “Uhh, that’s so big...” she gasped.

I watched her play it up, teasing me as she teased her boss and fuck buddy. “That’s it, D, beat that meat...” and “I love watching a grown man stroke his big, black dick...” and “I cannot wait to feel you pound that hard cock into me.”

When she came, she was arched back, legs splayed wide, her fingers a blur on her clit and the dildo pressed down to the fake balls. It was a beautiful sight, like watching a diver leave a springboard and twist through the air.

I’d been stroking myself as she did this. Somehow, I managed to keep myself from joining. Deshawn did not. “Aw, fuck, Kenz.”

“Mmm, come, D!” she cried.

“Yes, yes, I’m there!”

“So... am... I, ugh!!”

Deshawn came hard and loud over the screen. I was glad I didn’t have to see that. Kenzie was descriptive enough as it was. “Too bad I’m not there to lick all that creamy spunk off your belly.”

“I liked it even better when you and Ashley cleaned me up together,” he said.

Wait, what?

Kenzie chanced a glance at me, full of wicked intent. “We were just trying to be helpful.”

“Like how you were helpful eating my come out of her snatch?”

“She is a very tempting bitch,” Kenzie said. “With a very juicy snatch.”

“Blonde and brunette licking up either side of my shaft. Nothing hotter than that.”

Was he talking about the past, back in the Hooters days? Or was this something more recent.

“You always did like the double beej.”

“Fuck, it’s been too long. I should join you in Boston, Babe.”

“I miss your cock, too, and I’m all set for a nice, smooth landing.” She ran her fingers along her newly grown in bush before closing her legs and crawling up to the laptop. Her tits swayed beneath her. “But it would be too hard to focus with the two of us alone in a strange city. I don’t think I could leave the hotel room.”

“Uh huh. Well, chat with you later.”

“Thanks, Boss.”

She hung up on Deshawn, already looking up at me with a proud smile across her face.

“You’re one evil bitch,” I said.

“What can I say? I’m good at what I do.”

I chuckled before climbing up onto the bed and flipping her onto her hands and knees. Grabbing the dildo, I pushed it deep into her cunt. Then, with a generous amount of lube, I thrust deep into her ass. Kenzie hissed. I groaned. I could feel the other phallus inside her. I came quickly, not quite sure if I’d satisfied my own lust or somehow given her more ideas.

It took me a full month to figure out how I wanted to get back at Kenzie.

It had been easy enough for Kenzie to one-up me. First of all, she had not one, but two accomplices. She also knew how to play my ego against me. The thing I needed to do was figure out a way to get under Kenzie's skin the same way.

Thing was, I'd already fucked her best friend and that apparently only got her more turned on. I considered going after her mom, Linda, but as sexy as she was, that was a bridge too far. So was Jenny, the babysitter. I could tease Kenzie about the coed—and she really was a sexy young woman now—she was also Jenny the Babysitter, and even I couldn't go there.

It was actually Charlie who inadvertently helped me get there.

"You sure about this?" I asked him as we pulled up to the hospital.

The man looked haggard, like an old t-shirt washed one too many times. I knew the feeling, although I barely remembered it—newborn-caused weariness. Jack, their newest, was two months old.

Despite how tired he looked, though, he nearly sprang out of the car. "Fuck yeah I'm sure," he said.

I chuckled and followed, saying, "You know I'm going to catch hell from this, too."

"I'm not gonna tell Maggie about you. I'll tell her that I took an Uber or something."

"You just needed an accomplice."

“Moral support,” he said.

“Not sure how moral getting a secret vasectomy is, but who am I to judge?”

He paused in the parking lot. “Look, I love my boys. I love Jack—or will whenever he lets me start sleeping again. But Maggie wants a girl—”

“Even after five kids?” I interrupted.

“She hasn’t said it, but she will. I can see it in her eyes, and man, I just can’t.”

I just shrugged. Maybe I should have tried harder to talk him out of this decision, but frankly I got it. I probably would have done the same thing. “Well, let’s go then.”

The operation was quick, and after that we went out for lunch and beers. “I love her, you know,” Charlie said after we’d settled in at the bar.

“Look, man, you don’t need to justify anything. I know you love her, but the possibility of six kids is a bit much.”

He was already shaking his head. “It’s not even that. I love our five so much, even this new, little terror. We have a good life.”

“Feels like a ‘but’ is incoming.”

With his head still down, Charlie turned his head to look at me. “That’s your problem, Brad. Always thinking about butts.” He chuckled to himself. “Not that I blame you. Kenzie’s got an amazing one.”

This was Charlie’s way of dithering. I kept quiet, letting him work through whatever he really wanted to say. It came at last.

“Maggie would have been fine if I got snipped. We’ve actually talked about it. She usually encourages it.”

“So why the secrecy?” I asked.

“Because sometimes a man’s got to do something on his own, for himself.” Here was a man ruled by family and the obligations that came with it. Most decisions in Charlie’s life were dictated by circumstance. He raised his glass to me in a toast. “So five it is!”

We clinked before he added, “Unless Mags decides to cuck me in revenge, and we end up with a surprise sixth.”

I nearly choked on my beer. Charlie just laughed and patted my shoulder.

I turned the revelation over in my head in the days to follow—not the cuckold comment, but the rest of it. Doing something for himself. Doing something that was inevitable. Doing something that everyone wanted, but that I resisted because I am a stubborn fuck.

The lesson here was probably to open up to Kenzie and talk through this. What Charlie did was a bad thing, with profound consequences. Instead, I applied it to my own life with my own, sex-laden spin.

And then I knew exactly how to one-up my dear wife.

So you're all settled in?" I asked over the phone.

"All settled and checked in. Thinking about seeing what's available down at the bar, though. The night is so young here."

"What about Deshawn?"

"He's just a guy I fuck. He never put a ring on it..." I could imagine her running her thumb along the two rings that I'd given her. "Think I'll have more luck with them on, or off?"

This was the game. She wanted to get a reaction. Tonight, it was my turn. But first, I couldn't let her question go unanswered. "Since when did you need any luck? Just pop a few buttons and they'll never see your fingers until you give them a handy."

Kenzie laughed. Still felt good to hear that. I went on. "Hey listen, I've actually got a little surprise for you."

"Yeah?"

"Open your laptop. I'll send you a link."

"You sending me porn?"

"Something like that." I could hear her set her laptop on the surface of her desk. I heard it boot up. I sent the link.

"Says I need a password," she said after trying to open it. I could hear the curiosity and hint of anxiety in her voice.

"'Party Girl', with a capital P and G," I said.

Kenzie snorted. “You’re hilarious—oh, shit!” The video must have loaded. “What is this?!”

I knew what she was seeing—a naked Deshawn on Ashley’s white sofa as the blonde, dressed in a pair of orange Hooters short-shorts and tight, white top, gave him a blow job. It was all being streamed from Dave’s fancy equipment. I knew all of this, not only because I set it up, but because I was there.

“This is you being hundreds of miles away and only getting to watch. Enjoy.” I hung up the phone and stepped in front of the camera to wave.

Four hours earlier, I was sitting across from Deshawn in this hole-in-the-wall piano bar as he stared at me like I was some kind of wild, possibly rabid, animal. “You want me to do what now?” he finally said. “You want me to fuck Ashley while your wife, Kenzie, watches?”

He said it like I needed to be reminded that my wife was actually Kenzie, and that all of this was a really bad idea. Which, to be fair, it probably was.

I’d reached out to him earlier, but he’d picked the venue. The back-alley lounge was marked only by a pale, blue neon sign that read, “Bar.” The pianist was a lovely, African-American woman in a white jumpsuit, with long twist braids. She was singing bluesy love songs to a small crowd made up equally of lovers and alcoholics.

“That’s the gist of it, yeah. I want the two of us to fuck her while Kenzie watches from LA.” It sounded even more ridiculous saying it aloud, but I went with it. “It’s a power game we’re playing.”

“Right.” I could see his mind turning it over and over, and I could see him connect a few dots. In the end, he drained his beer and said, “You two are fucked up. I'm getting another beer. You want one?"

He rose from the booth and went to the bar before I'd decided that I did, indeed, want another beer. As I waited, I listened to the singer, spinning a tale of big-hearted women and the lowly men who mistreated them. It seemed particularly appropriate at the time.

Kenzie and I, we were fucked up, but we were compatible in our fucked-up nature. It's what made me finally stop and think, She's the one, out of the myriad of women I used to date. I suppose there's a similar story with her.

Deshawn returned with a couple of beers, setting them down before us. "So, question," he said. "Isn't Kenzie going to flip her shit if you fuck her friend?"

"Wouldn't be the first time."

His brows went up. "You fucked Ashley before?"

"Well, yeah, but not just her," I said. Well, if we were going to do this, might as well give him the full story. "You ever meet Kenzie's friend, Teagan?"

"Redhead with big tits?" Deshawn leaned back, an arm over the back of the booth. "Not a natural redhead, you know."

"We're more alike, you and me, than you know, Deshawn."

"You are married and you're okay with me slamming your wife. That makes us quite a bit different. You also have kids and probably a pool membership and are up to date on the latest Pixar movies—"

"Fine, fine. I didn't say we were the same. I said we're more alike..." I stopped when I saw the look on his face, the one that told me to keep going. "Anyway, when I first got together with Kenzie, I wasn't the... pool membership kind of guy back then, and she was just another good lay."

"Sure."

“And she had some hot friends.”

“Uh huh.”

“And there may have been a time when I ran into one of them, Teagan, at a bar when Kenzie wasn’t around and one thing led to another.”

“She know about this?”

“Of course. Like I said, we weren’t really dating at the time, and honestly, it was in the aftermath of that dumb moment, when I thought I might lose her, that I realized that I didn’t want to lose her. You know?”

“Huh, interesting. Was this around the time she stopped working at Hooters?”

“Yeah.” Judging from the way Deshawn was looking at me, I felt that squeamish, horror-movie feeling roll over in my gut. “Why?”

He chuckled. “Explains a few things at the time’s all.” He dared me to ask for details.

I wanted to know but resisted. This conversation was every bit a power game as everything with Kenzie. “Anyway, after she learned about Teagan, I thought we were done. But we weren’t. She asked me if I was going to run off with her friend, I said no. She asked me if there were any other friends of hers that I’d fucked. I truthfully told her no and said that I wasn’t planning on fucking anyone else. Then we had this... moment. A month later, we weren’t just fucking, but dating.”

Deshawn nodded, taking all of this in. “And now, you want to fuck Ashley with me while she watches?”

I grinned. “We’re in a different place now.”

“I’ll say.” He chuckled. “Fuck it, I’m in.”

Ashley was kneeling on the sofa, in full profile of the camera, one hand wrapped around Deshawn's thick cock as she braced herself with the other. She'd tied her long, blond hair up into a messy up-do, the way she'd worn it at Hooters back in the day, so that the camera—and her audience—could see how much dick she was swallowing.

Dave sat off to the side, at the very edge of the viewfinder and what Kenzie could see, cuffed to a chair.

For all his tendencies, Dave was the kind of cuckold who liked to live in the shadows, hidden away from the harshest treatment. He was a watcher. He was a voyeur. He didn't want Ashley to play too much behind his back, but he also didn't like being in the same room. He'd built an entire house around this concept.

But tonight wasn't a night to be comfortable. If I was going to be stepping out of my safe space, so was fucking Dave. There he sat, in his house's rich, upholstered dining chair, high-backed with dark, wooden arms that'd we'd cuffed him to, watching as his wife bobbed on Deshawn girth.

"Hey, Kenz, bet you wish you were in Ashley's position, huh?" I said to the two-way mirror. "Does it make you jealous, seeing your bestie with your boyfriend?"

Ashley pulled off of Deshawn's dick, glancing over at me with an amused smirk. She looked over at the mirror, as though sharing a conspiratorial look with my distant wife, before saying, "Bet it would make her even more jealous seeing me with her husband."

When she rose off the couch, Ashley was liquid sex. For a moment, a couple strands of her golden hair had come loose from the bun, framing her cover girl face. When she crossed her arms over her chest, grasping the bottom of her tight, Hooters shirt, and peeled it up her lean body, I forgot all about my wife and the setup. I forgot all about the game.

There was that belly piercing, adorned with a sapphire jewel that matched her eyes. Her tits came next, unfettered by a bra—all that smooth underboob, then pale nipples, then the full double Ds, jiggling free. The act freed the rest of her hair, and it fell in a sexy, messy tussle.

I was vaguely aware of Deshawn sitting back, grinning to himself like a playa watching the stage in some Gentlemen's Club. Ash was far hotter than anyone at the Pink Pony, and when she slunk her way over to me, I was momentarily frozen.

“I cannot wait to take your MFM V-card,” she said before grabbing me and kissing me hard. She wasn't as tall as Kenzie, but wore a pair of orange heels that helped.

I palmed her ass on those short-shorts, squeezing her cheeks and feeling her muscles clench and ripple.

“I can't wait to feel you suck my cock,” I said, finding my composure, adding, “Again.”

With that, I pushed her down to her knees. She went very willingly, her eyes locked onto mine the whole way, even as she started working open my belt.

Ashley knew how to suck dick. She knew it was a performance, and she was a performer with a lot of practice. She was more aggressive with me than Kenzie was, her bouncing head somehow more demanding, the suction harder.

It was good. It felt fucking fantastic. Watching us in the mirror that separated me from the camera and Kenzie, we looked fantastic. But I also couldn't help thinking about the last time—the only time—I was with Ashley, and how I'd watched Kenzie at the same time. I missed that connection. I missed my wife.

Especially when Ashley jerked her head away and looked at her own partner. “This is what a real man looks like, Dave,” she said, stroking my cock. “This is why you could never satisfy me.”

Deshawn joined us, standing on the opposite side of Ashley. My turn to start feeling inadequate. The man was not only ripped, but he had a monstrous cock that any man would feel threatened by. I was impressed by how much Ashley could swallow.

She swapped back and forth between our two dicks, double fisting them and filling the room with plenty of slurps and gasps. It was honestly weird, standing so close to another naked man as he was serviced. I tried blocking out his grunts, focusing on watching Ashley perform like a pornstar.

Ashley had always craved attention, and with three men watching her, she stepped it up—rubbing our saliva-dripping dicks all over her face, popping from one cock to the other, working her way up to taking nearly all of our length into her throat, and all the delicious gagging that came with it. She was a real star.

But she wasn’t Kenzie. I wanted this to be Kenzie.

“I need a cock in my pussy,” Ashley said. “Please?”

We ended up on the sofa, giving the camera and Dave a spectacular view of Ashley, on her back, her head dangling off the end as Deshawn drilled his cock down her throat and I held her thigh against my chest, pumping into her bare shaven snatch.

“Oh, fuck! Oh, fuck!” Ashley cried when she wasn’t gargling on Deshawn’s meat. He played with her tits roughly, squeezing her nipples as she played rough with her own exposed clit. “Oh, Kiki, your man knows how to fuck!” she shouted.

It spurred me on as much as it must have taunted Kenzie. My wife was watching. Once, she’d admitted to getting turned on watching me with other women. I intended to give her a show. Pulling out, I said to Deshawn, “Switch.”

We rotated her, and suddenly it was my cock bulging in her throat as Deshawn and I spit-roasted her. For a couple of rivals just days ago, we made a pretty good tag-team. The weirdness of being so close to another guy melted away. Ashley's enthusiasm helped. Made me think back to watching Kenzie, and how into it she also got. Made me want to share that with her one day.

But today, we had other plans.

"You know what comes next, don't you?" I asked.

She looked up at me, her face glistening with sweat, her makeup starting to smear around her eyes. She nodded, unable to speak with my cock buried in her mouth.

We repositioned on the sofa. Deshawn reclined into the back and Ashley straddled him. I made sure that Dave had a clear view of Ashley's full ass, taut and perfect from hours in spin class and yoga and Pilates, flexing as Deshawn thrust his black cock up into her shaved cunt. I made sure he could look right between my own muscled thighs as I pressed my cock against her puckered sphincter.

"Oh... fuck!" Ashley gasped as I began to press. "Oh, my... FUCK!"

Behind me, I heard the cuckold groan as well. "Noo—oh!" he barked, still uncertain of what he wanted.

"Your wife's ass is nice and tight, Dave," I said, focused on Ashley before me, her ass and how it swallowed up my cock. "I think she likes having two cocks in her."

Ashley was reduced to nearly unintelligible moans, although I managed to translate some of it—a blasphemous "so goddamn full" or just a simple "oh fucking fuck me!"

So we fucking fucked her. Hard. It was a strange sensation, doing it with Deshawn. Both of us were dominant men, both of us alphas in our own worlds. Our inner competitiveness came out, and poor Ashley and her lush body became the playing pitch.

I grabbed her hips, steadying her. Angling myself, I started driving down into her hard as Deshawn thrust up, fucking her in time, yet in our own style. It turned her inside out. She clutched the pillows on either side of Deshawn, her body seizing up, not knowing where to retreat or how to manage all the sensations.

“Who’s gonna pop first?” I asked Deshawn.

“Not me, Bro,” he said. “I could go all night. But then, I’m not in that tight ass of hers.”

Behind us, Dave was similarly reduced to groans. I could hear his restraints clattering as he struggled back there, no doubt trying to get to his cock. I almost felt bad for him, but I had other challenges before me.

“Brad,” Ashley pleaded, her voice strained. “Please...”

I spanked her ass. “You ready to feel it?” I said.

“Yes!”

“First, I want to hear an apology from you.”

She glanced back at me, her teeth clenched, her eyes heavy-lidded and smoldering. “Why?” Before I could answer, she answered for me.

“Because... because I made your lives more... ahaaa... exciting?”

Your lives. Plural. She still saw her influence as positive, like a whore-ish muse. Maybe it was, in a sense.

“You want me to... to fucking... apologize because I got Kiki out of... out of... out of retirement?” She was enjoying this. Despite getting double fucked, this one could still run her mouth.

That mouth turned up into a smile, deadly and knowing. Something was off here. This felt like the punchline, and I wasn’t delivering it.

She dropped the hammer. “Or should I apologize for letting Kiki in on your plan?”

“What?” I asked, like I didn’t understand the words.

“Hey, Studburger,” Kenzie said—not over a call, not over a video conference, but right there, right in the room. Turning, I saw her—and I saw the reason Dave was gasping and groaning. Dressed like Ashley had been in her Hooters uniform, my wife was on the floor between his knees, Dave’s cock in her hand, still slick with her spit.

I went off in Ashley’s ass.

Kenzie?” Deshawn was asking as I came out of my daze. “I thought you were in L.A.”

Kenzie rose, her legs toned and tanned in those tiny, orange shorts. They looked better now than they had back in the day—thicker, but also more shapely. She’d grown into this body, just as she’d grown into this life. It made the uniform seem all the more incongruent with our life now. And yet, it suited her perfectly.

“But what about the California trip?” It was funny, the two of them talking business with his cock still buried ball-deep in Ashley.

“Piper took over.” She seemed annoyed by it, her eyes continuing to track back to me. “We’ll discuss later.”

In addition to the shorts and tight, low-slung shirt, Kenzie wore a pair of white Keds that just lended to the time warp feeling I was getting. I could still remember pulling them off as I kissed along the inside of her calf the first time we ever fucked.

“That was some show,” she said, tussling Dave’s hair as she leaned in beside him. “Hope you have something left in the tank for me.”

She had played me. Somehow with Ashley help, she’d been one step ahead of me. I still hadn’t found my voice, something that I wasn’t used to. Kenzie took full advantage, sashaying the short distance between the bound Dave and our trio on the sofa.

Ashley looked hot in her Hooters uniform, but in a staged way, like it was a shoot on a porn set. Kenzie wore hers with authenticity. It wasn’t just the shoes or her more subtle makeup. It wasn’t that her hair was pulled back in the kind of ponytail she’d worn working at Hooters. It was because this was Kenzie, the woman I'd watched grow and mature and transform over all these years, overlaying on top of the woman I'd first met.

"Looks like it still fits," I finally managed to say.

"Little tighter on my hips and ass," she said, turning to show off just how tight they were on her rounded ass. Her cheeks were barely contained.

Ashley reached out and grabbed a handful of that ass. "I think it fits juuust right."

Kenzie leaned down and gave Ashley a soft kiss on the lips. "Oh do you?"

"I absolutely do," Ashley whispered. Their second kiss wasn't soft or slow or friendly. It wasn't for show, either. It was the kind of kiss shared by two hungry, horny bisexual women who couldn't hold it back any longer.

"Welcome back, Kiki."

Kenzie glanced at me. "Oh, I've been back," she said. "Right, honey?"

By that time, I was out of Ashley's ass, and was seated on the armchair perpendicular to the couch. "You and me both, apparently," I said.

Kenzie laughed, caressed Ashley's face one last time, and turned to kiss Deshawn. That sight sliced through me in a way that her lesbian makeout session didn't. I felt hot and cold and sick and so fucking turned on all at once. I'd watched them kiss before, but never in person, never right before me.

Ashley looked over at me, her smile cruel and amused. She gingerly pushed herself off of Deshawn's obscene erection and crossed over to me, sitting in my lap. Deshawn pulled Kenzie down to him, and she readily went, their kissing growing more furious.

"I see that you're not too mad," Ashley whispered as she caressed my hardening cock and watched Kenzie with Deshawn.

"You know you will be punished, right?" I said.

“Counting on it.” She covered my mouth with hers, furiously kissing me as the wet, smacking sounds of Kenzie and Deshawn assaulted my ears.

When we came up for air and I looked across at the sofa, I was just in time to see Kenzie strip out of her shirt. Unlike Ashley, she wore a bra designed to lift and press her tits together for maximum cleavage.

“Now this feels like old times,” Deshawn said, burying his face in her cleavage.

Kenzie laughed. “We aim to please at this establishment, Sir.”

His dark-skinned hands delved over her ass, pushing the short-shorts down enough to reveal the delicate straps of an orange g-string. Deshawn sure appreciated it.

Kenzie took the cue, sinking down to her knees to take the spot that Ashley had occupied when this whole evening had begun. Her racy panties made an orange whale tail out of her tiny shorts.

“You haven’t come yet, have you?” Kenzie asked DeShawn.

“Hungry for it?” he chuckled.

“Always.” She kissed the tip. “But I was actually thinking we have a little contest. You up for it, Bradley? Whichever man outlasts the other gets a prize.”

Ashley slid down to the floor, already anticipating my response. “I’ve already come -- hardly seems fair.”

“Then let’s raise the stakes some,” Kenzie said. “Loser sleeps on the couch while the winner goes upstairs and watches me and Ash put on the hottest lesbian show they’ve ever seen... just before fucking all night long.”

“His dick likes that idea,” Ashley said, lapping at my cock. “What I’m not sure about is which turns him on more—fucking the two of us or having to wait down here as we fuck Deshawn.”

“I just feel bad for my boy, Deshawn there,” I said. Although Ashley wasn’t too far off the mark. It was confusing. “Either way, I like my odds.”

Kenzie said, “Game on, then.”

“Here’s the thing, Brad,” Ashley whispered around my dick. “Deshawn there just has Kenzie sucking his dick. You’ve got me and the sight of Kenzie sucking his dick.”

She was right again. It was a double whammy. I thought that it wouldn’t be even close. Deshawn had to be right up on the edge. But then they shifted just enough and suddenly I was watching Kenzie’s cheeks cave in with each deep suck she made on this other man’s dick and I was right there on the edge with him.

It didn’t help matters when Deshawn said, “Take off that bra, Baby. You know what I want.”

“Mmmhmm...” Kenzie sucked off of him with a moist pop. She reached behind her and unclasped her bra as she spit the built up saliva into her cleavage.

“Deshawn loves a good titfuck,” Ashley announced. “How about you?”

I’d fucked Kenzie’s tits before, of course, but always preferred her mouth or pussy. The visual, though, of her wrapping her big boobs around Deshawn’s black shaft and bouncing all that soft flesh around him was intense.

When Ashley did the same, I was silently thankful because it was so much less intense than her mouth. Of course, it also left her free to talk and tease, and Ashley knew just how to get into my head.

“She ever tell you about Fred?” Ashley asked. The name sounded familiar, but I couldn’t place it. She went on. “He was a bartender at Hooters. Friend of Deshawn's."

Then I remembered. "The guy she had her first threesome with."

"The epitome of a BBC," Ashley said. "He was built like a linebacker. Intimidated even your wild wife."

"Oh yeah he did," Kenzie said. "Even a slut like me knows that there can be too much of a good thing?"

"Do you though?" I asked.

Ashley released me from her tits and glanced back. "Yeah, not sure about that."

"Well, it was partially your fault," Kenzie said. She, too, started working Deshawn with her mouth again. When she focused her attention back, I felt that sweet betrayal all over again. "You remember that night?"

"Wouldn't forget it," he said. "You were so pissed—"

"Teagan and Brad just couldn't keep it in their pants," Kenzie said. So that's what this was about. That's what happened just before we decided to start dating. "I came looking for you..."

"And you found me hanging with Fred."

"And I thought, 'What the hell?' Never had two dudes at once.' Holy shit, I don't think I walked right for a solid week after that. And my fucking jaw!"

"Get that jaw to work, Babe," Deshawn said, pushing her face into his crotch. She swallowed him deep. I realized that she was playing with herself with her free hand.

"They took turns fucking her until she passed out," Ashley said, between licks and nibbles. "She said she'd never felt pain like she did when Fred jammed his ten-inch cock into her asshole."

"And that was just the first night," Kenzie said.

“She invited me over the next day. Skipped work. D actually had to fire her because she missed her shift.”

“And you haven’t changed, have you?” Deshawn said. There was an edge in his voice now, and not from imminent release.

Kenzie met his eyes, his cock between them, frothy with spit and precum. “That’s why you hired me, right?”

Deshawn grabbed her by her ponytail, pulling her head back. She gasped. “It’s why I maybe shouldn’t have.”

Before she could say anything smart back, he shoved his cock all the way down her throat and began to face fuck her.

The protector instinct in me kicked in before I even realized how into it she was. How her hand was a blur between her legs. How she let go of his thrashing cock to pinch and abuse her tit. How her whole body rippled with each glug and thrust. Spittle drooled down her chin. I had never been so rough with her. I don’t know that I could.

“You should have seen them do this to her,” Ashley said, pausing in her blowjob to watch. “Deshawn fucking her face as Fred jabbed her up the butt. She totally blacked out.”

The only thing that prevented me from completely losing it there was that Ashley’s mouth wasn’t on me. Still, her hand was nearly enough.

“You begged for it, didn’t you,” Deshawn said, never relenting. “You begged to be used, and fuck, did we use you.”

I was right there. Right on edge. Ashley turned back to me, staring up at me with those big, blue eyes as she lapped at my balls and stroked. My whole body shuddered, but I managed to fight back the orgasm.

“And all because your boyfriend couldn’t keep it in his pants with Teagan.”

Deshawn looked at me. I shuddered. I realized just how much power he had in this moment. I may not be the cuckold that Dave was, but Deshawn had been playing the part of bull for years, and he knew how to push all the buttons.

He said, “So ultimately, Brad, Fred thanks you for letting him turn your future bride inside out.” He yanked Kenzie off his dick with a hard tug on her ponytail. “Tell Brad what you told me when we woke up the next morning.”

Kenzie shook her head, starting to glance towards me. Deshawn stopped her with a tight hand in her hair. “Don’t look at him,” he said. “Answer.”

“I said...” Kenzie hesitated. “I said I was addicted to your cock. That I would do anything for it.”

My chest tightened. My balls swelled.

“And like an addict, I needed to cut myself off.”

“But not until after that weekend, right? Not until after you invited Ash over and had me and Fred invite five of our friends over to pull a train on you.”

“Oh, God,” I groaned.

Ashley swallowed me half into her mouth and fondled my boiling balls.

“You hear what a slut she is, hubby? I bet we could get her to do it again, don’t you think?”

And with that, I came.

Oh, yes... yes... yes, yes, YES!”

Each cry was punctuated with a thump against the wall. It was Kenzie this time, moaning and begging and screaming for it. I knew, even from a floor below.

Dave and Ashley had an impressive, new home, with an open concept kitchen that transitioned into the expansive living room—same living room where so much action had taken place. We sat at the island counter in the kitchen, drinking beers.

To fill the silence, Dave started to say, “Sounds like he’s giving it to her pretty good—”

“Don’t.”

He nodded, cowed, But only for a moment. “I don’t get that, though. It’s hot, right? Listening to your wife so turned on?”

As if to highlight his point, we heard Kenzie’s voice rise to a crescendo, up in the master bedroom. “Fuck it into me! Oh, fuck it right into me!”

My cock stiffened enough that I need to shift on his barstool. “It’s a game,” I said, although I’m not feeling the excuse as much. “Brinkmanship.”

“Well, I’d say you’re pretty close to the brink now.” He finished off his beer and set it down on the white, marbled quartzite. “You want another?”

I had nothing else to do. “Sure, why not?”

“Sounds like they’re on a break,” Dave commented as he went to the fridge. We’d gotten dressed again, and in his khakis and golf shirt, it looked like any other day for this man.

“Hey, sorry about earlier. Tying you to that chair.”

Dave shook his head, chuckling. “You kidding? That was amazing. I normally like to hide, you know? That’s where I’m most comfortable. But part of this kink is getting uncomfortable. Ash tries to do that as much as she can, but it took you to force me out into the open.” He hands me the beer. “You’d make a pretty good bull, you know that?”

“And Kenzie would approve.” I jumped at Deshawn’s voice, and wished that I could take it back. “She’s just as much a voyeur as you two gentlemen.” He pointed at Dave’s beer. “Get me one of them.”

Dave did so quickly.

Deshawn wore his pants and his shirt, although it was still unbuttoned. “You’ve been requested,” he said to me.

I didn’t move. I didn’t like being the runner up. “I don’t do sloppy seconds,” I said.

Deshawn chuckled. “You don’t like to lose. I get that. But you got to understand, you didn’t. Not in the long game.” He looked in the direction of the bedroom. “Or maybe you did? I don’t know.”

“What are you talking about?”

He took the beer from Dave. “You know how she said she was addicted to my cock?”

“I get it. She still is, and I’m supposed to be all turned on by it,” I said.

“I mean, you are, right?” He chuckled and took a swig. “But no, that’s not what I’m talking about. No man, it’s become crystal clear to me that these days, she’s addicted to you.”

“She’s got a funny way of showing it.”

“To be sure. But think about it, man. She left me—and her whole lifestyle—for you. She restarted all of this knowing just how turned on you get—and I know you’re going to play the big man here and say you’re not like that and all that other bullshit that you tell yourself, but Kenz knows you better than you do. You two are so fucking codependent.”

I thought about the vanilla cake analogy. How I figured that I was the excuse for her doing a thing that she really wanted. Maybe it was more complicated than that.

“And here’s the thing, man. You two need to rein this shit in. She delegates one of the most high profile recruiting jobs to someone else, even though I explicitly told her she needed to go, all so she could one up you in this fucked to game you have going. That needs to stop.”

My first instinct here was to lock horns and tell him that he couldn’t tell me what to do. Then I realized that this wasn’t a threat, but merely an expression of the reality. If we didn’t pull back, he’d have to fire Kenzie. Just like at Hooters.

“Look man, you don’t know the kind of shit I’ve had to deal with to get where I am,” Deshawn said. “Your wife’s a hot piece of ass, and also fucking amazing at her job. But she’s not going to fuck up my own career, and right now, I’m not liking the current trajectory.”

I didn’t exactly know what to say, so I just nodded and said, “Right.”

“Anyway, get on up there, tiger. And don’t worry about any kind of sloppy seconds or whatever. By this time, those two sluts have probably cleaned my come out of each other already.” He nodded. “And trust me, friend, that’s not a thing you’ll want to miss.”

I could hear their moaning from down the hall and through the closed door, two women obviously having sex. I'd seen Kenzie with Laura, the blond coed. I'd even caught snippets of Kenzie with Ashley. What awaited me beyond that door still took my breath away.

They were naked, on the bed, leaning away from one another with their legs locked together, scissoring one another. Wilder still, they weren't just rubbing pussies. Between them, I caught the flash of a pink, transcultural, double-headed dildo.

"Oh fuck, oh yes!" Ashley cried, raking her fingers through her hair, blond gone dark and damp. Kenzie rose up, her toned body now angling down as she grinded the dildo hard between her best friends legs.

Ashley lost it, but Kenzie wasn't far behind. She hugged one of Ashley's legs to her as her body seized and she climaxed in a roar.

I was naked before either realized that I was there, crawling up to kiss my wife as she flopped back onto the bed. "Hey, there," I said.

She nuzzled my nose with hers. Her voice was raw and hoarse as she said, "Hey, back. You here to reclaim what's yours?"

Ashley slid away from us, taking the double-headed toy with her. I moved over Kenzie. "Pretty sure you're not one who can be owned." I positioned myself against her slick pussy, still adorned with the brush of pubes. I now realized that she'd grown that back as much to fuck with me as she had for Deshawn. "Borrowed, sure."

"You're an ass..." She sighed as I slipped inside. "...hole..."

"And you're a sneaky slut," I said. "You knew what I was planning the whole time?"

"My BFF let me know." She glanced to her side, where Ashley had settled in at the headboard, her half of the dildo still lodged in her. "Although I think she told me just to stir shit up more than be my friend."

I nodded. “That tracks. She’s an agent of chaos.”

Ashley laughed quietly, watching the two of us fuck. She said, “Not my problem you two are so easy to fuck with. Now put on a show. You two are way better at fucking than you are at talking.”

And a show we put on. I wasn’t sure how much Kenzie had left to give, but apparently it was a lot. After fucking her hard in missionary, I turned her onto her side, legs together, ass to me to create a tight channel of pussy to fuck as I fondled her ass.

We finished in one of my favorite positions—me sitting up against the headboard, Kenzie bouncing in my lap. We were covered in sweat. I wasn’t sure how she was still moving, still undulating, riding my cock like that.

Right beside me, Ashley watched, the dildo abandoned for her fingers, her moans mixing with those of Kenzie’s. I shut the blonde out in those last few minutes, locking eyes with Kenzie as she crested.

I’d seen so many versions of this woman over the years. The party girl. The bride. The slut. The wife. The mom. The professional. The girl-next-door. The love of my life.

The epiphany that I came to—the way some epiphanies come in the throes of an intense orgasm—was that it wasn’t like she cycled through these facets of herself. They were not modes. They were not compartmentalized. She was all of them, all the time, evolving and changing and growing.

And so was I.

And so, most importantly of all, were we.

Kenzie imploded into me as she came, cradling my head to her as she pulled me in for a deep, volcanic kiss. I held her close, pulling her hot skin to mine as I emptied my balls deep.

“Now that was a master class,” Ashley said when we finally came down. She crawled off the bed, slipping into a short, silky robe.

“Our audience is leaving us,” Kenzie said to me.

The robe was so short, drawing my eyes to her long legs. “More like, she’s looking for Deshawn’s dick to sit on.”

“He’s still here?” Kenzie asked. I heard the piqued interest in her voice. It only made me jealous a little.

“He didn’t look like he was going anywhere.”

Ashley paused at the door, hearing our conversation. “Should I bring him back here, or do you two want some alone time?”

I looked at Kenzie. She looked at me. “You know this is probably the last time he’s going to play with us,” I said.

“Unless he fires me,” Kenzie said.

“Let’s not do that. I like being a kept man.”

Kenzie snorted. “And I like my job.”

“You two are something else,” Ashley said, shaking her head. “I’ll be right back. I cannot wait to see Kiki with two cocks in her.”

When Ashley left, I held my wife close. She felt good—warm and soft and sweaty and familiar. “What?” she asked, seeing something in the way I was looking at her.

“Just you. Us. We’re meant for each other,” I said, not really sure what I was saying.

“More like, There’s not many other people in the world who’d be able to tolerate each other and survive.”

“Something like that,” I said. “But we did, and I couldn’t imagine living my life with anyone else. You know, when I thought you were miles away and I was fucking Ash, I felt—”

“Like something was missing?” she finished. “Yeah, I get that.”

“You feel the same when you’re with Deshawn?” I asked.

She snorted. “Sometimes.” She kissed me. “Mostly I’m just thinking how good his big, black D feels.”

I pinched her ass and she yelped.

“But I do get it,” she continued. “This is our thing. I only really let my slut out because I know you like it.”

“So does the party girl go back into the box after this is all over?” I asked.

She said, “We want that?”

I paused, not answering right away. She squeezed my cock tight and offered, “How about we let her out from time to time... just as long as we let this guy out, too. Watching you wreck my bestie was one of the highlights of the night.”

“Yeah?”

“Yup. Until you and Deshawn double fucked me.”

“I love you, Kiki.”

“I love you, too, studburger.”

The morning light was warm on our naked bodies. Kenzie rose and fell over me, her hips slow, our eyes locked. Last night was sex. Last night was fucking. This was something different.

I looked up at her, a vision in the bleary sunlight. She looked so good, tits rising and falling, dark hair tousled from sleep and a night of sex. This woman was more real than the pornstar performer from last night, and yet she was also that woman.

‘Oh, my... Oh... oh, my... oh, god ohgod!’ Kenzie was riding Deshawn, a tit in his mouth and his dick filling her pussy, as I jacked my dick in her ass.

I could feel Deshawn there, making her even tighter. I could feel just how much pressure my sweat-drenched wife was feeling.

Her ass was red from the spanking that Ashley had given her. Her hair was damp with exertion. I held her by her hips and bounced harder. She screamed.

Ashley edged poor Dave in the chair beside us. He was freed, but not allowed to touch her as she sucked his dick and balls until he squirmed, then cut him off until he’d calmed down. I could hear her taunts when I wasn’t so focused on fucking Kenzie—‘That’s how men fuck, that’s what it looks like to satisfy a woman... take notes, dear, maybe one day you’ll be able to satisfy me...’

We’d blown past Kenzie’s personal satisfaction hours ago. She was gasping now, her nails digging into Deshawn’s shoulders as we drove into both holes.

“Thinking about last night?” Kenzie asked, bringing me back to the present.

“Guilty.”

“You sure are.” She squeezed my cock with her pussy muscles. “But so am I, I suppose.”

I ran my palm up her arm and caressed her neck. She tilted her head and nuzzled the back of my hand. She said, “I’m sorry I made Deshawn think you were a cuckold. I just got caught up in—”

“Pressing my buttons?” I smiled. “I guess we were in kind of a self-destructive sex spiral there.”

“I still can’t believe you fucked our daughter’s second grade teacher.”

“Former teacher,” I corrected. “Although her third grade teacher is pretty hot—”

“Don’t.” But Kenzie was smiling.

“So you and Deshawn are...?”

“Done,” she said. “Or on an indefinite break. He’s right though. I shouldn’t have abandoned the Cali trip for this. I knew it at the time, but all I could think about was the look on your face when I walked in...”

“And was it worth it?”

“Your look of surprise was pretty priceless,” she said, touching my face now. “Easy to say knowing that I didn’t actually lose my job.”

“So what about us?” I asked. “Are we done, too?”

She bent down over me, her hair falling around her face. “I will never be done pressing your buttons, Bradley. And I don’t think you’re going to stop pressing mine.”

“How about I press some more buttons now?” I pushed up onto her haunches, lifting her up and swinging her onto her back. “You know, they probably have the whole house wired up.”

“Let’s give them a show then.”

The end
