Prologue

Mike couldn't quite remember when the obsession had taken hold. It wasn't an obsession initially, of course. At first it was just run-of-the-mill jealousy. Kate, with her blonde hair and big breasts, always got looks. She ignored it or pretended to, probably a necessary coping mechanism a lot of women develop just to get through life, but Mike noticed. There were the envious guys, who often gave him a small nod and a rueful grin. There were the arrogant challengers, with their fixed stares and not-so-subtle flexing. Old guys, young guys, rich and poor, they see an attractive woman and immediately want to check out and compare themselves to the man she's with. Being out with Kate could feel like an endless contest as a result, even if she did nothing to encourage it.

But did she really do nothing? Mike knew it was probably just his insecurities speaking. Realistically, he couldn't expect Kate to refuse to speak to a man just because, behind her back he was shooting daggers at Mike. But it was also true that what she might code as "friendly" he sometimes saw as "flirty."

Over time, those feelings of jealousy faded. She didn't seem to be going anywhere, didn't seem to have eyes for other men. They moved in together and got married. The kids followed. Men still looked at Kate, but if anything, what Mike felt now was pride. It was a bit of a rush to be married to a genuine MILF. Mike sometimes found himself deliberately fading into the background at gatherings or taking his time returning from the bathroom if they were out at a bar, just to see if she spoke to another man. He wondered if she was just being polite, or if she ever were attracted to someone else. It would only be natural if she were, of course. As they say, being married isn't the same as being dead.

From there, the idea progressed. He wondered if she flirted with men she met. If maybe there was something with the guy who led her spinning class. Or perhaps someone at work, maybe even someone she met when traveling for business. Out of town, staying in a hotel, surely dealing with flirtatious men. It was sort of hot to think about it. Painful... yet hot.

When she mentioned her high school reunion, it immediately provoked thoughts about her running into an old boyfriend. Kate had always been guarded in talking about her past romances. There's nothing to tell. Which, of course, just made Mike more curious. After all, she had been interested in boys in high school, and in going to this reunion there was every chance she'd run into a guy she'd had a crush on back in the day. Even if that guy had been too stupid to pay attention to her at the time, there was no way a man pushing forty wouldn't notice her now. There was also the very real possibility that there was an old boyfriend in the mix. A man, who as a boy had kissed her tender lips, and handled her full breasts. Who had maybe experienced her hot mouth on his hard cock? Maybe even the man who'd taken her virginity. Would it be tempting to hook up again with her first? Just out of curiosity maybe? To do it right, perhaps, if her first time was disappointing like most? Or maybe just out of nostalgia?

He knew his teasing about an "old boyfriend" annoyed her. But he couldn't help himself. It was like picking at a scab. Her eyerolls, her frustrated sighs, even her attempts at a simple denial provoked him. Just getting a reaction out of her each time he raised it gave him a jolt. Faking an excuse to get out of the trip was a natural progression that would let him continue the game when she returned.

And then she came back, and she was... different. Until then the game had been one-sided, consisting mostly of Mike needling his wife. But after Cleveland, Kate suddenly seemed into it. Teasing him, taunting him, and even more frighteningly, acting with a sexual abandon that Mike had suspected... hoped... feared she might be hiding, but that she'd rarely displayed before.

Mike wasn't sure, couldn't be sure, what was going on. Had she just decided to have a little fun with his fantasy, or had he been closer to the truth than he realized? She denied everything, and yet she didn't. It was maddening and exhilarating.

Then the trip to New York... with her crazy, hot, sexed-up friend Jenna. A night alone in the city, but not alone for long. Kate had met a man in a bar. Mike asked for more information. She answered only after long, excruciating pauses. She mentioned that she wasn't wearing panties. That the man had invited her to his room. She wanted to know if she should go. Mike had wimped out... or come to his senses... she'd bluffed him... or she was really with another man... she'd taken his no for an answer... or she'd ignored him.

One minute he'd picture Kate sitting in bed, alone, reviewing her texts to him, and grinning to herself. It was a sexy thought. His beautiful wife spicing things up with a little role playing. A little fantasy. It was out of the blue, but certainly welcome, what with the years adding up and kids leaving little time for real romance. He promised himself that when Kate got home, he'd keep up his side of the bargain. Buy her flowers, surprise her with a babysitter arranged and reservations at her favorite restaurant.

But then a few minutes later, he'd imagine the reverse. That she had really met a man. That they had really had drinks. That, encouraged by her husband, she'd allowed herself to get excited enough that going to his room was even an option. And then Mike had pulled the plug. Or tried to. Because how realistic was it that she'd be able or even willing to turn it off so fast? And what about the man? Handsome enough to get her attention. Interesting enough to keep it. As comforting as the first image was, this one seemed almost more plausible and exhilarating, and it was just as easy to picture Kate hungrily kissing another man. Naked, stroking his big cock while his hands explored her luscious body. On her hands and knees, being taken hard from behind, gasping as he fucked her again and again, aroused beyond belief both at the sheer novelty of a new cock after so many years and at the naughtiness of cheating on her husband.

He texted her during the night but received no response. Was she sleeping? Teasing him? Or just too busy enjoying her new lover to respond?

Mike passed a sleepless night. And an anxious early morning. Where was she? Was she still sleeping? Were they still fucking? The kids were a brief distraction as he made their breakfast before they ran off to play video games (Jeremy) and watch Youtube videos (Becky). But then he was back where he'd been. Tired, agitated, and anxious....

Chapter One

Finally, his phone chirped.

<Kate>: Hey Honey, you up?

<Kate>: Sorry I missed your texts last night. Slept in.

Mike debated calling her, but he wasn't sure he could handle speaking to his wife. His insides were coiled up, pulled tight in a knot, and he didn't think he could breathe if he heard her voice.

<Mike>: Late Night?

An eternity seemed to pass before she replied, though the timestamp insisted it was only a minute.

<Kate>: Well. Yes and no.

He waited for her to clarify her cryptic text. She didn't.

<Mike>: I don't understand.

<Kate>: I went back to my room early. But it took me a while to get to sleep.

Mike read between the lines. He'd said she couldn't go to his room, but they hadn't discussed him going to hers. A surge of anger, a jolt of guilty arousal. He took a deep breath. No, that wasn't Kate's style. She wasn't legalistic like that. Before he could compose his answer, she texted again.

<Kate>: I was thinking... about you... about him....

<Mike>: But mostly him.

Another pause that felt like an eternity. He began to compose a text to let her off the hook, when she responded.

<Kate>: Yes.

Another searing thought. Kate, disappointed, tipsy, and horny, back in her room, alone, though not in her thoughts. Removing her clothes, staring wistfully into the mirror. Eyes closed, sliding her hands over her curves, imagining the touch of another man. What would it be like for him to caress her breasts, to tickle her thighs, to explore her smooth, shaved pussy, feeling her excitement, hot and damp? Mike imagined Kate, sliding back onto her overstuffed bed, naked, writhing as she explored her own body, fingers dipping into her juicy snatch, making tight, hard circles on her clit. Her moans, louder and louder, finally catching as she sucked in a final breath before her body shivered in orgasm.

<Mike>: Did you make yourself come?

<Kate>: <Blushing> Yes.

Then a moment later.

<Kate>: I'm sorry.

<Mike>: Don't be. I think it's hot. More than once?

<Kate>: Yes.

Mike groaned. The thought of Kate lying in bed all night, tossing and turning, all hot and bothered despite repeated attempts to get the poison out, was undeniably exciting. The fact that she was this way over another man was inexplicably even more electric. He realized he was touching himself, his cock hard and throbbing in his pants. He wondered if she was playing with herself again as she texted him. He was about to ask her when she texted again.

<Kate>: Baby.... He wants to see me again. And I want to see him. Can I spend another night in the city and meet him for drinks?

It hit him like a freight train and threw him into system failure. His heart raced, his head pounded. There was a ringing in his ears, and his vision blurred. His hands shook, and his legs trembled, and his pulsing cock filled with his pants with wet heat. He closed his eyes and rocked back and forth trying to control his breathing.

When he was finally sane again, he reread the text, trying to discern why it had so set him off. It took but a moment to realize it.

I want to see him.

There it was. Plain as day. Until now, it had been a game she was playing at Mike's behest. She was humoring him, indulging his fantasies. And now, suddenly it wasn't. After drinks and flirting, and a night thinking about another man, she was the one who wanted it.

Can I spend another night in the city and meet him for drinks?

A euphemism, but Mike translated it.

I want to fuck him.

It wasn't an easy thing to hear, even if he'd often fantasized about it. It was jarring to have to confront the possibility of a fanciful notion coming to life. It necessitated a different mindset, one more disciplined and practical. But that was, of course, impossible. The adrenaline in his bloodstream was a narcotic, blunting his ability to reason, forcing him back on his deeper and rawer instincts, tempting him to throw caution to the wind, to give her permission, encouragement even, to have sex with another man.

That was too much though. Instead, he allowed himself a rationalization. Transparent enough that it didn't quite convince him, but it was enough to allow him to answer. This surely wasn't their final conversation. Even if he agreed now, he could still get cold feet and end it later, as he did last night.

<Mike>: Wow. That's... interesting....

He paused to think about it, at least a little hopeful that she'd reply and let him off the hook. She didn't. And finally, he responded.

<Mike>: Yeah. Okay. We'll still talk later, right?

As Mike waited for his wife's answer, he rewrote the text in his mind, again and again. But he couldn't pull it back. So instead, he forced himself to be patient.

<Kate>: Whew. You had me worried that I'd upset you. I don't know that I can go through with it. But I sort of like the idea of having all day to think about it. And I promise we'll talk about everything. Okay, meeting up with Jenna. Ttyl.

Mike dropped his phone on the table as if it scalded and pushed back his chair. He ran his hands through his hair trying to process what he'd just done. What kind of husband allows his wife to have sex with another man? Encourages it even? Part of him wanted to call her back immediately and stop it. But even glancing at his phone provoked a surge of terror.

It seemed as if a herd of elephants was charging at him. It took Mike a moment to remember where he was, and that this was merely Jeremy charging around looking for a snack before resuming his gaming. Mike quickly covered his wet crotch with his hand and tossed a kitchen towel on top of the phone.

"Easy there Buddy, what's the rush?"

"Fortnite," his son answered, rushing out of the kitchen with a full pack of cookies. Some kid had just won three million dollars playing the game, and Jeremy was certain he'd found his calling.

"Okay, but you have TKD in a little, so don't get too wrapped up with...." He stopped, knowing it would fall on deaf ears, and that in any case it would take a mixture of threats and bribes to get the kids to move.

Chapter Two

Running the kids from Becky's ballet to Jeremy's martial arts, with a break for Five Guys in between and a grocery trip after, burned a big chunk of the day. Mike had left his phone at home; having it would make him incapable of parenting, but the result was a series of heroin-withdrawal-like pangs through most of the day.

Back at home, he rushed into the kitchen to check his phone. And he found... nothing. Zippo. No messages from Kate checking if he was still okay with it. No second thoughts on her part. Nothing. He knew he should stand down, but he couldn't help it.

<Mike>: Hey, Honey, just wanted to check in. Everything okay?

He stared at the phone. Crickets. With a sigh, Mike slid the useless brick into his pocket. There wasn't really time to focus on it anyway. Both kids had sleepovers scheduled, which meant frantic gathering of PJs, toothbrushes, sleep toys, a change of clothes, a swimsuit for Becky in case the Zhengs took her to the indoor pool tomorrow, Jeremy's basketball.... He was sure he was missing something, which Kate would surely have remembered... at least if she wasn't in New York ignoring her family and fantasizing about fucking another man.

Mike took a deep breath. All of that was true, but the sentiment wasn't fair. If Kate was where she was, he was as much to blame as she was. Maybe more. And if she did end up sleeping with another man, it would be as much at his behest as her own desires.

He finished gathering up everything, roused the kids, got them in the car, and drove them to their sleepovers. Each drop-off consisted of the usual mindless chit-chat, and all the while all Mike could really think about was Kate in Manhattan. He forced those thoughts out of his mind until Jeremy was safely ensconced at the Taylors' house. Then, in the car ride home, he finally allowed himself to focus again on his wife.

She'd spent all night masturbating about another man. She'd admitted as much. That was before she'd gotten permission to see him again. He could only imagine how inflamed that must have made her, her nipples hard as pebbles, her thighs slick with excitement, her lips swollen at the thought of tasting a new cock.

It was so hot... and so painful. Painful that she could feel this way about another man. Painful that she seemed to want to keep her husband at arm's length. She still hadn't written back or called.

Mike sighed and put himself in her place. Intellectually, her behavior was understandable. Sexual excitement promotes obsession. And Mike knew that by launching her on this path, he was responsible. He had no illusions that if she went through with it, that in the moment when she was in bed with another man, naked, kissing, his body poised between her legs, that at this moment when another man entered her, she would be thinking of nothing but her lover, his body, his lips, his hard cock plunging deep inside her.

When he got home, he texted Kate again, trying a different tack this time.

<Mike>: Honey, I thought you might have wanted to speak to the kids before their sleepovers.

This time, she responded.

<Kate>: I did. I asked Jane and Tracey to call me once the kids arrived and were settled in. Everything is great.

He waited for more. Second thoughts, doubts. Maybe some more discussion. But she was holding back.

<Mike>: So... when are you meeting him tonight?

<Kate>: Drinks at 7:00. Can't talk right now.

He sighed in frustration. It was a bit after 5:00pm. His wife would be meeting another man for drinks in just a couple of hours, with both of them surely expecting that to lead to more. He suspected she was enjoying the fantasy, and to do that, she had to lose herself in the anticipation of it. Kate couldn't hold Mike's hand, even as she prepared herself for her date with him.

It occurred to Mike that he didn't even know the other man's name. Perhaps it was best that way. What did it matter anyway? He was just a prop in this situation. An important prop, one who would surely very much enjoy his role if things came to fruition. But still, he was expendable. So perhaps best not to know his name.

Mike chuckled. The whole situation had him so discombobulated that he might momentarily forget that he couldn't even be sure that any of it was real. Kate might be sitting around with Jenna and just messing with him. That thought seemed like a moment of clarity. Of course, Kate was teasing him. She was much too practical to follow through on something so reckless and dangerous, but with Jenna around feeding the temptation to mess with him, he knew she'd milk it until he finally threw in the towel.

He looked at his watch. He couldn't get to Manhattan quite in time for Kate's "date," but perhaps in time for dinner and fun afterwards. If they could pretend that she was interested in a stranger, then who better to pretend to be that stranger than her husband?

The thought of picking up his wife, while pretending to be someone else, was surprisingly exciting.

He'd need help to make it happen. He messaged Jenna through Facebook, his only contact with her, asking her to call him.

Much to his shock, within a few minutes, his phone rang.

"Jenna?" he answered.

"I thought you might try to get in touch," she replied.

"Yeah?"

She chuckled. "I mean, yeah. You probably want someone to talk to, and I'm guessing it's a hard thing to bring up to a guy friend."

Mike sighed in relief. He didn't know Jenna well aside from his wife's stories and a few flimsy conversations at office functions. But it was like she could read his mind. There was no way he could bring up his fantasies to his male friends, Matt or Anik.

"Is she with you?" he asked, his voice dropping into an instinctive whisper.

"No," she replied in the same tone. Then she laughed. "And I won't tell her anything we talk about."

"Thanks. You're great. So—"

"Wait, before you say anything, I just want to say how amazing I think you are."

Mike felt himself puff up with pride. Compliments are nice. Compliments from beautiful women are like crack, addictive and mind-scrambling.

"Ugh... I mean, thanks... I—"

“And sexy,” Jenna added.

“Sexy?”

“Mmmm, yeah,” she cooed. “It’s amazing that you’re willing to let Kate experiment a little. Most men are so selfish and jealous. It takes a special guy to know that whatever happens, it’s just a little fun, and she’s coming home to you. There is nothing sexier than a generous and confident man. Kate is lucky. I’d kill to have a guy like you.”

Jenna was laying it on a little thick, but it still worked. Her praise was intoxicating. Between her looks and the stories he’d heard from his wife, even the merest glance from her was enough to tighten his trousers, and given the situation he couldn’t help but wonder if maybe, just maybe, there might be a quid pro quo in there, perhaps involving Jenna and him or even better, the three of them together. But while his dick was processing that part of the message, his brain was slammed by the other one. Kate wasn’t just teasing him. There was a man in New York City.

“Have you met him? What’s he like?” Then realizing he sounded a little desperate, he added, “I... I just want to make sure Kate is safe.”

She took a moment to answer, and Mike thought she might be stifling a giggle, but then she said, “You’re so sweet!”

Mike felt more embarrassed than sweet. Jenna had just confirmed to him that his wife was planning to fuck another man, and all he was able to say was that he hoped she would be safe. Almost anything would have been better.

“Well, I’m really going to take care of her when she gets home!”

“Oooh, that sounds exciting. Should I warn Kate?”

This whole conversation was going sideways. It felt like Jenna was either humoring him, or worse, making fun of him. He decided to ignore her question.

“So what are you doing tonight?”

She chuckled. “Do you mean who am I doing? I’ll send you a pic.” His phone buzzed a moment later. “Sweet dreams, Mike,” Jenna said as she hung up.

He opened her text. It was a mirror-selfie of a naked Jenna standing beside a very dark skinned, very muscular man, also naked. His arm was wrapped around her, covering her perfect breasts, and her hand was draped over his crotch, hiding, but not quite, what looked like a very impressive cock. Most shocking was that Jenna didn't even try to hide her narrow landing strip and bare pussy.

"Oh God," Mike groaned.

The conversation and the picture made it all very real. He wondered if Kate's date was also black. She hadn't said one way or the other, but after seeing what Jenna had sent, he couldn't help but imagine Kate with Jenna's man. He recognized the image as a cliché—a hot, busty, blonde MILF paired up with a powerfully built, exceptionally endowed black man. He could almost see the man's dark hands mauling his wife's creamy tits, his thick, ebony rod stretching her pussy to its limit. Kate begging for more and screaming in passion and clawing at his back while he roughly pounded her married twat.

He tried to call Kate, but the call went right to voicemail. He didn't leave a message. Instead, he tried to text again. It took a while to get the message right. He realized he'd been jerking her around, and at some level it wasn't fair of him. It was no longer about what he wanted, but rather what she wanted. He had to accept that.

<Mike>: Honey, have fun tonight. Whatever happens is okay with me. I just want to make sure you're okay.

She replied quickly.

<Kate>: Thank you, Baby. I love you so much. Here is something to fuel your imagination.

A picture appeared on his screen. A mirror-selfie of Kate in a luxurious hotel room. Unlike Jenna, she was by herself, but the image was, for Mike, even more provocative. There was his wife, looking sexier than ever, in a black mesh and satin bra with matching thong. With her hair recently blown out, her lips red and glossy, and her breasts pressed together to produce a delightful expanse of cleavage, she was a lusty vision. She had a hand self-consciously draped over her belly to hide an imaginary paunch, and that token of insecurity made her even more enticing.

He could only imagine the sheer, unadulterated delight her lover would feel when he unwrapped her and first feasted his eyes upon her. The feeling of excitement and gratitude he would experience as his hands explored her body. The euphoria of her lips on his, her hands in his hair, her tongue on his cock. The bliss of being inside her, sensing her tremulous arousal, her breasts crushed between their thrashing bodies, her gasping moans as she climaxed.

And Kate... handling a stranger's manhood, swooning at his hunger for her, giving herself to him, vulnerable, exposed, and being rewarded by his ardor, his gratitude, his cries of pleasure.

<Mike>: You are so beautiful. And he is so lucky.

Kate didn't reply. It was nearly 7:00. She was on her way to meet another man, a handsome stranger, for a night of exploration and feverish exhilaration.

Chapter Three

Mike was shaking uncontrollably. Kate had texted she'd gotten off the highway to get gas in West Hartford. That was 30 minutes ago, which meant that she was almost home.

She'd been gone for just two days, but it felt like forever, a different lifetime ago. Unless... unless it was all still just a game.

Mike couldn't be sure. He didn't even know what he really wanted. It changed from hour to hour, minute to minute even. Sometimes the idea that Kate had been with another man was sickening. Literally, stomach pains and nausea so severe he had to lie down. Then just a moment later, it was nearly the opposite. Well, not quite. The nausea was still there, but there was also a wild, mind-scrambling excitement. And that feeling was not just in his head. It was also down below, where his cock would become so hard it ached.

The last communication from last night he'd received from her was a picture from her hotel room before leaving for her "date." He'd studied that image obsessively, until every detail was etched into his brain. Mostly he focused on Kate. So familiar, and yet in a sense, wholly unrecognizable. His wife transformed into a pin-up girl in lingerie. Sexy and elegant all at the same time. Once his study of her curves and adulterous trousseau ceased to yield new details, his attention shifted elsewhere.

There was her small smile, mysterious like the Mona Lisa's. Did it signal anticipation or apprehension? And who was she thinking about when she took the picture, her husband or her lover? He noted the bed behind her, made up, but slightly rumpled. Had she sat on it as she pulled on her thong? Taken a post-brunch nap, perhaps, to prepare for a long night? He imagined her, buzzed and horny after Mimosas with Jenna where the two had discussed her plans and Jenna had surely encouraged her to allow herself to be seduced. Kate climbing into bed naked. Her body tingling with excitement. Is that where she planned to make love to her new man? Did she fantasize about his naked body? His strong hands roaming over her breasts? The taste of his hard cock? Did she imagine what sex with him would be like? Riding him up and down as he pinched her nipples. Or on her back with her knees to her chest as he pounded her hard. Would she get on her hands and knees for him, let him pull her ass cheeks apart and let him tease her virgin butthole?

Mike looked away from the screen and forced himself to breathe. It wouldn't do for him to greet Kate with his pants full of jism. But he knew he couldn't resist the temptation, so instead of trying, he turned his attention to the rest of the image. He noted her purse on the desk behind her, a red rose peeking out of a champagne flute, her shiny, black blouse draped over the back of the chair. Is that what she'd worn on her evening out?

It was too much to contemplate. He laced up his sneakers and went for a long run, hoping to veg out. It didn't work, but it did pass the time. He returned home and showered and waited.

A car pulled into the driveway and Mike's heart stopped for a moment, before restarting at a frantic pace, pounding so hard it felt like it might burst his chest. Frozen, rooted, paralyzed. The car door slammed shut. Keys in the lock. The front door creaked open. Kate's heels on the tile in the foyer. And then they were face to face.

Her hair was pulled back into a bun and she had no makeup on. She seemed both tired and a bit frazzled. She was wearing a flowered sundress that would have been appropriate for a church picnic. Nothing, in short, to suggest what she'd been up to in New York.

She froze when she saw him. Her face was a kaleidoscope of emotion. Mike was equally confused. How was he supposed to react? What was he supposed to say? The ordinary scripts of life, the how was your drive and hey, Babe, you're home, greetings were absurd, out of place. What should replace them?

Mike took a step toward his wife. A flash of terror crossed her face, and she flinched almost imperceptibly, but enough to halt his motion. He swallowed and tried to calm himself, but despite that his voice came out forced and reedy.

"I missed you."

She looked down at her feet, and then back up at him. Her eyes were moist. "I... I missed you too."

They moved toward each other, tentatively, like skittish kittens, eager for contact, but unsure of the reception that awaited.

Then just a couple of feet apart, they stopped again.

“So... did you?” he asked.

She nodded several times, and when she looked up her eyes were red-rimmed, and her cheeks were damp with tears.

“Are you okay?” he asked.

“I am if you are.”

“You had fun?”

A quick smile crossed her face before she composed herself.

“Yes,” she said quietly.

Mike’s heart slowed but rose into his throat. There was a part of him that wished it had all been a bluff, just a hot game between husband and wife. And there was a part of Mike that would have preferred that if she did go through with it, the result would be awkward and forgettable. Not unpleasant necessarily, but also not something she might want to repeat. That was now OBE as they said at work.

“Did you, um....”

It occurred to Mike that events had outpaced the development of a shared vocabulary to discuss their situation. Did she make love with the other man, or fuck him. Was he her lover or hook-up? Was he a cuckold or something else?

Kate looked around. “Where are the kids?”

“Still at their friends’. Need to pick up Jeremy before dinner, and they’ll drop off Becky around 4:00.” He looked down at his watch. “So we still have a little time.”

“Time for what?”

“Um....”

“I should probably take a shower before we get into details.”

The implication hit Mike like a gut punch. She hadn’t bathed since last seeing him. “You... him...?”

Kate laughed. She stepped in close and took her husband’s hand. “I was worried you might be mad, but instead it has just made you loopy.”

Mike felt his cheeks flush, and he looked away.

She laughed again, but kindly. “It’s okay, Baby. It is confusing. Really confusing.” She squeezed his hand. “Look at me Mike.”

He did. She was beautiful and glowing. Her tears had dried up and her eyes were bright and shining.

“Yes. We... had sex.” Mike felt like he’d been slapped. But Kate continued, “He made me come. Many times. And yes. Right before checkout time, we couldn’t resist doing it just one more time.”

“Oh God.”

“That’s what I said.”

Mike stared at his wife. There was so much to process, but his brain was stuck in neutral, revving loudly and getting nowhere. She giggled.

“I’m sorry,” she said. “I shouldn’t make jokes.”

He shook his head, but that just made him dizzy in addition to dull. “What did... you... and he...”

Kate hesitated. “Are you sure? I don’t want to hurt you if this wasn’t what you wanted or expected. Are you sure?”

“Yes,” he croaked.

She nodded and took a deep breath. Running through a last calculus. Convincing herself that her math was right.

“We did everything. Well, not... everything everything. But everything that a man and a woman usually do together in bed.” She paused to offer Mike a chance to respond, but when he didn’t, she continued. Her voice dropped lower, a touch of vocal fry creeping into her speech. “I sucked his cock.”

Mike sucked in through his teeth. He had a sensation of unraveling as different parts of his body reacted each in their own way. His mind processing the madness of the situation. His heart the pain and fear of losing her. His loins the excitement of the thought of his wife... his wife fellating another man.

“I took him inside me,” she continued. “Him on top and then me.”

“Was he big?”

Kate smiled. She knew the question was coming, and her grin gave away the answer before she spoke. “Yes.”

“How....”

“The biggest I’ve ever had,” she admitted.

“Oh. And....”

She nodded while at the same time squeezing his hands. “Yes, it made a difference. I don’t know why exactly. Part of it was that it reminded me that it wasn’t you. That I was with a different man. Part of it was... just that, you know, it was sexy. Just the way it looked. And yes, part of it is that it felt really nice to be stretched and fuller than usual. It's not like, wow, I'm hooked, but it was a surprise and a pleasant one."

"How many times?"

"How many times did he come? Or did I come?"

"Either... both...."

Kate giggled. "I'm sorry. I don't mean to laugh. It's just... this is so surreal. What happened. Talking about it. I owe you details. Whatever you want... need to hear. But it's weird."

"That's okay," Mike said. He was feeling a little queasy in any case. "You don't have to."

"I think he did six times. And I lost track of mine."

"Six?"

She blushed. "I know. He couldn't get enough." She hesitated briefly. "I couldn't either, I guess. It's the new relationship thing. You know?"

Mike felt his knees wobble and he took a step back to sit on the back of the sofa to avoid collapsing to the floor. The word relationship seemed to echo in his brain. Was he her... boyfriend?

Kate gasped. "Are you okay?"

He looked up at her, and the reality of the situation suddenly became that much clearer. His wife, the mother of his children, had spent a night... a long night... all night... screwing another man. Mike had set it all into motion, but it was obviously out of his control. He imagined them, naked in bed, sweaty from an athletic fuck, tired, Kate's pussy sore from being pounded by a huge cock. Then a kiss. A caress. A surge of longing. Everything suddenly frantic. Kate stroking a fat, rapidly stiffening tool, pulling him toward her, spreading her legs, feeling him enter her, filling her more than any man before, a twinge of pain overwhelmed by a flood of endorphins. A moan and an exhalation of hot breath.

"Take off your dress."

Kate seemed shocked. She tried to pull away. "Let me shower—"

He held her hand tightly. "No. I need to see you. Now."

They locked eyes. Then she smiled. "Okay, but I'm going to need this," she said as she shook her hand free.

He reluctantly released her. She took another deep breath and then reached behind her and pulled down her zipper. Kate rolled her shoulders and shimmied out of the dress. She was wearing a simple, white bra and panties set, a far cry from the sultry lace and thong set she'd worn for him.

"This too?" she asked.

He nodded, and Kate complied, briskly stripping out of her underwear. She stood in front of her husband, a hand self-consciously blocking his view of her sex. She looked away sheepishly. Mike studied her body. She was voluptuous and exciting, and he'd pushed her into another man's bed, onto another man's cock. Her body had been his. All night, over and over again. There probably was not an inch of her he had not explored, cupped, caressed, and possessed. He eased her hand aside and gazed at her shaved pussy. Just a couple of hours ago, it had been stretched by a hard cock, the biggest she'd ever had. Even now, it seemed puffy, glistening.

"Did you use a condom?"

She looked aghast. "No. I didn't even think..."

She's taken him bareback. He shuddered. He ran a finger across her damp slit. "Is this him?" His voice was raw.

Kate's eyes widened in surprise. "I don't—"

"Did he come inside you?" Mike demanded.

"Yes."

Something snapped in Mike's brain. He wasn't thinking anymore. All he could see was his wife, legs spread wide, being rammed by a huge prick, moaning in passion as another man filled her with his seed. He seized her hand and yanked her hard toward him.

"Hey!" she yelped.

"Shut up," he grunted. He grabbed her by the back of the neck and pulled her into a kiss. She tensed at the suddenness of it and tried to pull away. It infuriated Mike. She'd slutted it up for the past two days, and now suddenly she was going to be a prude. He threw her down on the sofa and draped himself across her.

"No, Baby, not like this, not like this," she cried.

"You didn't say no to him, did you? What? Is my cock not big enough?"

She stared in shock. Her eyes filled with tears. But she didn't resist as he wrenched his pants down. He stabbed his hard cock against her bare mound, finally sinking inside on the third thrust.

She hissed as he entered. "Go ahead, fuck me, you bastard."

Kate's pussy was hot and tight, slick rather than wet. He fucked her roughly, wanting her to feel it. Wanting to bang her so hard that she'd forget her other man. But he couldn't forget. He thought of her lover's big cock inside her. Of the multiple loads another man had deposited inside his wife. He thought of himself swimming in a pool of another man's jism. Mike grunted miserably. It was too much. He spurted inside her.

The frenzy was gone. Guilt flowed over him, hot and miserable.

"Oh God, Honey, I'm sorry," he cried out.

He tried to roll off her, but she held him tight. "It's okay, Baby. It's okay." She caressed his head, and he felt her tears on his cheek. "It's okay."

Chapter Four

The return of the kids from the sleepovers and playdates provided a welcome respite. As long as they were able to act like normal parents in front of the kids, Mike was reassured that they'd be able to overcome their marital challenges. Kate seemed to feel the same way. They were no longer new parents, and it had been years since they really doted on the kids, but both hyper focused on Jeremy and Becky, so much so that Jeremy actually volunteered to go to bed at the expected time rather than try to negotiate for another few minutes of video games.

After the kids were down, both Mike and Kate found pressing chores to accomplish. Mike just had to clean out the freezer in the garage, and Kate was equally focused on cataloging the kids' summer clothes, though it was still winter, because they were growing out of everything.

But the unavoidable unavoidably happened, and Mike and Kate, having run out of plausible excuses, got ready for bed. Mike was done first. He sat in bed, listening to Kate brushing and flossing. Did she do that also with her new lover? It had been so long that Mike didn't quite remember at what point such quotidian activities occurred in a new relationship.

Mike couldn't remember when going to bed with his wife had been so fraught. Perhaps never. Even that first night together, back at his place, after the party at Max's house, had been more comfortable. There had been the usual nervous excitement. Mike had, after all, been pursuing Kate for a while, and she'd rebuffed him before. Things seemed different. She'd been more open and less guarded all evening, which was why Mike had taken another shot at wooing her. He wasn't sure why she was seeing him in a different light all of a sudden. Part of him imagined that his charm had finally registered. Another part of him feared that she was just offering a pity fuck to get him off her back. Either way that night, she was different, flirtier, laughing at his jokes, and giving off that undeniable vibe that she was game for more. But he couldn't be sure that she wouldn't change her mind. Was that how it had been with her new man as well?

Kate turned off the water and clicked off the light in the bathroom. She closed the door behind her and walked toward the bedroom. Mike thought he heard her pause and take a deep breath before she appeared, in her PJs, with a big smile, which would have been reassuring had it not so obviously been forced.

He thought back to the afternoon, and his stomach ached.

“I’m so sorry about...” he couldn’t even complete the sentence out loud. It had been more rape than sex. About asserting his power over her.

She hurried to the bed and sat down beside him. She took his hand in hers.

Mike shook his head. “That’s no excuse. I.... It was my idea, and I... can’t hold it against you.”

She looked away for a moment and squeezed his hand. “This isn’t something you did. If anything, this is on me. A lot of men have crazy fantasies. I guess a lot of people do. And I could have shut it down, but I didn’t. And....” She paused and took a deep breath. “Mike, do you wish nothing had happened?”

“I gave you the go ahead. I encouraged it.”

Kate nodded. “I know. But that’s not what I’m asking. Forget about that. And forget about what you think you’re allowed to say, or even what you think you’re supposed to say. Do you regret this? Are you having second thoughts?”

Mike laughed louder than he expected and only stopped when he noticed Kate’s stricken expression.

“I’m sorry. It’s just... second thoughts? I’m more like on ten-billionth thoughts. You have no idea how many times I’ve gone over this in my head. How many times I tried to analyze and purge what seemed like an illness. How hard it was to even allow the idea to exist in my mind. How long it took me to share it with you as a joke. Hope you don’t run into an old boyfriend, haha. And then when suddenly you seemed interested in it, it’s been close to all-consuming ever since. Second thoughts are for amateurs.”

Kate chuckled softly. “And with all of that, you still didn’t shut it down?”

Mike shook his head. “No. And even now... it’s not that I don’t regret it. I do. Or at least part of me does. Kate, I have to admit, part of me is sick about it. I think of you with another man, and my stomach hurts. I think of losing you, and my heart breaks. There are moments when I hate you for not being the grownup and laughing it off. So, regrets? I've had a few." He almost couldn't look at his wife's face. Her eyes were welling up, and her cheeks were flushed, but she was also smiling. It was hard to see all those emotions, mirroring his own, reflected back at him. "But it is also so... God, I don't even know that I have the words. Thinking about you naked with another man. Taking him inside you. Crying out in passion. It's, Jesus, like this fucking surge of adrenaline. I just feel so alive, and it makes me love you and want you so much that I feel like I am about to burst."

Kate seemed almost speechless. "That's... pretty intense."

Mike chortled. "Yeah."

They just stared at each other for a few, long moments. Whatever happened next, this was a turning point. In a novel, their discussion would have occurred on a bridge, or at a fork in the road, but in real life it was just them, in their sleep clothes, sitting on the bedspread they'd bought at Target.

Finally, Mike spoke. "Were you committed to this? When you went to New York, I mean."

Kate nodded as if she'd been expecting the question or one like it. "I was open to it. You have to understand, this is weird for me. I think it would be challenging for any woman. Why is my husband doing this? Is he testing me? Challenging me? Does he not care? And for a long time, I guess I clung to that because it was safe. I didn't have to confront the question of whether I would be interested."

She squeezed his hands and locked eyes with him. "It made me think. Made me remember what it was like to meet someone new. How exciting it can be. How much fun. That sort of giddy feeling that you just don't get any more after fifteen years, no matter how good your marriage is. That whole new relationship energy. And yes, it got me thinking that I would be interested... if the right man came along."

"And he did?"

A quick smile crossed her lips, and Mike felt a pang of jealousy that thinking about this man could provoke such an immediate and unconscious reaction.

"His name is Adam."

It was not news that this man had a name, of course, but hearing it left Mike feeling unmoored. As long as Kate's lover was a nameless, faceless, big-dicked stud, it was all still a fantasy. But the smile and name, Adam, felt like body blows.

"Are you okay?" she asked.

Mike nodded. Forced himself to. And then said, "Tell me about Adam. Why was he the right man?"

"Are you sure?"

He nodded again. His throat was too tight for words.

"He's handsome. A bit of that Jon Hamm vibe. Broad chested. Tall. Funny too, or maybe silly. He made me laugh. Wasn't like he was on the make, though he was. He's from Chicago. Teaches high school. I don't know. He's just, I guess, sort of the kind of man I might be attracted to if I were not married." She blushed. "Or even though I am married."

Mike remained mute.

"Is this what you want to hear?"

Mike nodded. Once, twice, three, four times, trying to compose himself, trying to recover his ability to speak. His voice, when it returned, was quiet, hoarse. "Tell me how it happened."

"You know a lot of it. I got dressed up and went down to the hotel bar. I figured I'd flirt a little, get you worked up. That sort of thing. There were a couple of men actually. One guy was earlier, at a happy hour. He was part of the work meeting, and so he was off limits, even if he'd been interesting, which he wasn't. Then," she paused and giggled, "there was this very handsome older man, who thought I might be a prostitute."

"What?"

"I sort of hinted I was, I guess. I'm not even sure how we got there, but he offered to double whatever deal I had. I actually bargained him up to $3000!"

"Kate!"

"I didn't take it!" she laughed. Then she lowered her chin slightly and peered up at Mike. "Would it have been a turn on if I had?"

His mind was a swirl. Would it be a turn on? Yes. The whole wife playing hooker was a well-worn trope for a reason. But it was terrifying that this had occurred on Kate's initiative. She wasn't just fulfilling a fantasy for her husband; she was exploring her own.

“Was it a turn on for you?” he asked.

Kate covered her mouth and giggled. “Yeah, I guess it was. You know, I don’t always feel sexy. I don’t usually see myself that way. And here was this very handsome, obviously successful man, willing to pay to have sex with me. It’s a bit surreal.” She paused a moment before continuing. “Now you.”

“I don’t know.”

She looked down into her lap. “Look, Mike, I know this is hard... and weird. But, you know, this is also an opportunity for us to talk. Get things out in the open.”

“I know. I know. But, yeah, it is hard. I... just getting the words out is hard. I mean, fuck, what am I supposed to say? Yeah. It’s hot. I don’t know why. But yeah, thinking about you getting offered money is sexy.”

“And what if I’d taken it?”

Mike’s eyes went wide. “Did you?”

“Would it still be hot if I did?”

“I don’t know.”

“Mike. I want you to think about it. Not because I want to do it, but because I need to know how you really feel about all of this. Think about it. A man offers me money. I accept it. We go to his room. He hands me the cash. Then I take off my clothes for him. And I do whatever he tells me to do.”

He felt shaky with excitement. He hoped she wouldn’t reach into his lap. “I don’t know,” he said, trying to disguise his emotions.

She seemed to read his mind. “Do you not know, or does it just embarrass you to admit it.”

He shook his head slowly. “Kate... don’t.”

“I have to. We need to talk about what happened in New York. And no, I didn’t take the money. But I did have sex with Adam.”

“Yeah, over and over,” Mike groused. He sighed. “I’m sorry, I...”

“Yeah, over and over,” she echoed. “We kissed and tore our clothes off. I sucked his cock.”

“His big cock.”

“Yeah, his big, beautiful cock. So hard and thick, but not too big. A perfect cock for sex. I couldn’t get enough of it. And he was all over my body too. He licked my pussy. He loved my tits.”

“They are amazing,” Mike said.

Kate grinned. “See you and he have something in common.” She continued. “Then we fucked.”

Mike gasped.

“We did,” Kate said. “I spread my legs for him, and I cried out when he entered me. Can you see that? Not just imagine it in the abstract, but actually visualize it. Me... and Adam... naked... my legs wide open... my pussy wet and ready... his big cock, hard, glistening with my spit... then he enters me.”

“Oh God.”

“He fucked me hard. And we made love tenderly. He was on top, and then I was, with him playing with my hard nipples and squeezing my ass. He got me on all fours. And yeah, I loved it. I don’t know that I’ve ever felt sexier or more desirable.”

“It sounds like you want to see him again.”

She couldn’t contain herself. Her eyes flashed and her lips curled into a subtle, but unmistakable smile. Mike watched as she brought her features back into a neutral alignment. It all happened in a moment, but the meaning was clear. She did want to see him again. And she also wanted to hide that fact from her husband or at least disguise her enthusiasm.

“I had a good time,” she said in a muted tone that was infuriating given the situation. “But what do you want?”

“You keep answering questions with questions.”

“And you’re not reacting to anything. I described having sex with another man, and you barely reacted.”

“This afternoon, I—”

“Yeah, Mike,” she interrupted, “that’s the point. There has to be some middle ground between raping me and being comatose. Do I want to see him again? If I didn’t have you? Then yes, in a heartbeat. But I do have you. And we have all of this.” She waved her arms. “And so whether I’d want to see him again isn’t just about me. It’s about us. Does this make you love me more? Or at least want me more?”

“I don’t know.”

She shoved him back onto the bed and snuggled up beside him. She thrust her hand into his PJ bottoms and gripped his turgid member.

“Maybe my favorite time was when I sat in his lap. We’d done it a few times already. Gotten rid of that initial desperate hunger. Sore already. Sweaty. He was hard, and I climbed onto him. He couldn’t really thrust like that, but he was deep inside me. And we kissed and kissed.”

Mike gasped. He was rock hard.

“Seems like you like that,” she said, stroking him firmly.

He couldn’t speak. He just grunted affirmatively.

“He sucked on my nipples. They were so swollen and sensitive it was too much, and I pushed him away and kissed his neck.”

She jerked him, his precum lubricating his cock, squishing in her grip. He clawed at her, and she shed her bottoms as she rolled on top of him. She aimed his cock and he slid inside her hot, wet sleeve. She kissed his neck like she’d kissed Adam’s.

“Oh God, Mike, you’re so hard,” she breathed in his ear.

“Yes,” he groaned.

“This does turn you on,” she gasped.

“Yes.”

He thrust in harder and wrenched up her top. As she pulled it over her head, he drew one of her heavy breasts to his mouth and sucked on her nipple.

“Oh God, yes, Baby, that’s just how he did it. That’s how he sucked on my tits.”

Mike switched breasts. Her nipples were like swollen grapes. He gripped the one he’d sucked first. It was slick with his spit, and he rolled it between his thumb and forefinger, squeezing until she hissed. Kate was on fire. She humped him harder, grinding against his crotch, her pussy as wet as it had been in years.

“You want to see him again,” he moaned.

“Yes, Baby, yes. I want to see him again. I want to fuck him, and I want to come home and fuck you too.”

“Oh God,” Mike gasped as his climax overtook him.

Kate felt him pulsing inside her and slowed. When he was relaxed again, she extricated herself and slid down the length of his body. Mike looked down to see his wife positioned above his slimy, rapidly shrinking cock. Without hesitation, she sucked him into her hot, wet mouth. She licked the head, circling it with her tongue, then his shaft, deeper, deeper, until she had him to the root.

“Oh God,” he said, and in his mind he imagined her doing this to Adam, the other man, the bigger man. The man she wanted to fuck again.

“That’s it Baby,” she said as she felt him begin to stiffen. “I’m not done with you yet.”

“Did you do this for him?”

She sucked him deep and slowly lifted off. She pumped his rod in her hand and looked up at him through a mane of blonde hair. Her breasts swayed. The sexiest woman in the entire world.

“Yes. I was so hot, so excited that I just needed him again and again.”

Her eyes were glassy, and it was almost as if, for a moment, she was transported and was back with him. Mike could feel her hunger and urgency in the way she stroked his cock. She was thinking of Adam. Or maybe of both of her men at the same time. But it didn’t matter. She was with Mike now. That’s all that mattered.

Mike jolted as Kate flicked the head of her husband’s cock. She grinned at his reaction, and continued to tease his member as she worked off his bottoms and he slipped out of his top. Kate kissed her way up her husband’s now naked body.

“That’s better,” she sighed as she kissed one of his nipples.

He ran his hands through her thick golden locks as she squirmed against his body. He was rock hard again. Kate felt it too. She rose up on her knees, high above her husband. He cradled her hips and admired her. Her perfect teardrop breasts, areolas darkened with excitement, nipples seeming ready to burst. She was swaying slightly, grinning confidently. He’d never seen Kate quite so self-assured or so sexy. His eyes were drawn to her hands, sensuously running up and down between her upper thighs and abdomen, and to her pussy, shaved, swollen, lips glistening.

“God you’re beautiful,” he sighed.

Her smile faltered a bit, just for a second, the intensity of his tone seeming to demand a serious response. She recovered quickly. “Is that your way of saying I should sit on your dick?”

Mike felt a rush of heat. Who was this woman? And how had he gotten lucky enough to have her?

“Uh... yeah.”

She positioned herself over him and closed her fist around his cock. Mike sighed again as she rubbed the head of his prick up and down her wet slit. It felt nice, and looked absolutely amazing, her lips cleaving open, his cock glistening with the evidence of her excitement. This was new as well. Kate had never been shy about her breasts, but seeing her tease him with her pussy was heady. She moaned softly as she rubbed his glans against her clit, and Mike thought he might come without penetration if she made herself come that way. But she wanted him inside her. She slowly dipped lower, taking him between her lips, which seemed to grasp at his cock head as she did. And then, she slowly impaled herself on him, engulfing his prick.

“Oh God,” he moaned.

She giggled. “Take it easy, Bishop. No one here except us sinners.”

He laughed. “If this is sin, then....”

She began to move up and down and his mind went blank.

“Good one,” she teased.

He opened his mouth to speak, but he couldn’t find the words. Kate took advantage by tracing his lips with her index finger. He sucked it into his mouth as she rode him with languid, deep strokes.

Her eyes were closed. Mike couldn’t help but wonder who she was fucking. Him or Adam? He wasn’t sure what he’d want to hear, or which answer he’d find hotter. He kept his question to himself. It would be selfish to interrupt her pleasure, and anyway, he was mesmerized watching her. In his wildest dreams he’d never imagined his wife could be quite so sexy. Beautiful, yes. Sultry. Curvy. Desirable. But this was different. This wasn’t about her blonde hair and heavy tits. It wasn’t about the creamy skin of her thighs or the soft, downy hairs on her stomach. It wasn’t the way her voice became throaty when she was excited, or the blush on her cheeks when she was a bit tipsy and horny. All those things he’d seen before. He’d admired and lusted after them and deemed himself lucky. But he’d never seen her quite like this. Erotic and sensual. Hungry and so fucking confident. If it took fucking another man to discover that in her, it was worth it. Worth it a thousand times.

Then suddenly she twitched. She placed her hand on his chest to maintain her balance. She held herself perched above him, his cock half inside her, just in the right place apparently, and she began to shudder, her pussy spasming on his cock. She gasped, and then gasped again, and then she dropped down onto him and fell forward, mashing her big tits against his chest. He grabbed her ass and thrust upward, and that was all he could stand.

“Oh God,” he cried out again. “Oh God, I love you.”

She nuzzled against him, rubbing her nose against his cheek.

“You still love me? Even after I’ve been with another man.”

“More than ever.”

“Me too,” she said. “Me too.”

Chapter Five

Mike felt odd walking into his office Monday morning. Gerri at the front desk smiled and offered him a home-baked cookie. Billy from documents asked him to sign for a set of original incorporation documents pulled from the vault. Elena, his secretary, popped her head into his office as he checked voicemail and updated him on bills that had been sent to clients.

None of them seem to notice that he was a changed man. A cuckold. A happy cuckold, perhaps, but one nonetheless. His wife had slept with another man, come home and told him about it, and his reaction was to fall even deeper in love with her. His life had changed over the weekend. His wife had changed, and he had changed. No one noticed. It was disconcerting.

“You okay Buddy?”

Mike looked to see Matt standing in his doorway. His heart pounded in his chest.

“Yeah, why?”

Matt laughed. “Jeez, Dude, chill, I was just saying hi.”

Mike forced himself to breathe. “Sorry, man, you just startled me.”

“You look like you’ve seen a ghost.”

“Well, you are one pasty motherfucker,” Mike joked.

“Haha, like you’re one to talk,” Matt said as he dropped down in the chair across from Mike’s desk. “Got tickets for throwback jersey night versus the Bruins.”

Mike laughed. “Dude, you’re wasting your time. Whalers ain’t coming back.”

“They are for one night. Anyway, good weekend?”

Mike nodded, searching for something to say. I spent most of it either dreading or looking forward to my wife fucking another man. Though he and Matt were friends, that seemed the very definition of TMI.

“Pretty quiet. You know.”

“Wasn’t Kate out of town?”

Mike felt a surge of panic at the mention of his wife. He was pretty sure he'd never told Matt she was going to New York.

"How'd...?"

"You sure you're okay? Amy told me."

Mike nodded. Of course. Amy and Kate were friends. But were they close enough that.... Would Kate have told Amy about Adam? Was that what Matt was here to talk about? Was he fishing for something?

Matt followed up: "Are you and Kate okay?"

"Yeah, of course. What?"

"It's just... you're being weird. I just meant, like, did you get any downtime, have a few beers. I mean, fuck, when Amy is out of town it's the only time I get to myself. Even with the kids around, it is like parole."

"Should I tell Amy you consider being married like prison?"

"Oh, you don't think she feels the same? I mean, it's not the bad sort of Alcatraz prison, but yeah, those couples that spend all their free time together.... That's sorta creepy."

Mike chuckled. They often joked about the old ball and chains. It's what married men do, even when they love their wives.

But Mike couldn't help but wonder if there was more behind Matt's questions. What had Kate told Amy? And why would Kate share with Amy unless... unless Amy also.... It was like touching a live wire. Amy was a sexy woman. Slender, Asian, with a wicked sense of humor, and great legs. She wore high heels and tight skirts and always had a streak of color in her black hair, sometimes red, sometimes violet, sometimes blonde. Did she fuck other men too? Had she convinced Kate to do it?

"Dude?" Matt squinted at Mike.

It was all in his head. Mike tried to shake it off.

"Sorry man. Long weekend. Kids were a handful, and of course, once Kate got home it was like I had to debrief everything. Didn't sleep well. Fucking Williams depo coming up. Just frazzled."

Matt laughed. "Alright. Look. Let's grab a beer this week, yeah?"

"Yeah. Sounds great. Not today... but maybe... tomorrow?"

"Done."

When Matt left, Mike closed the door behind him. It wasn't normal office practice, and it would be noticed if he stayed locked in his office long, but he needed a few moments to collect himself.

“No one knows anything,” he whispered to himself.

He walked over to his window. Not much to look at. Other office buildings. A bit further, the highways, I91 running up the river and I84 bisecting the city. Hundreds of cars, thousands of people. And none of their lives had changed in the least over this weekend. But somehow Mike’s perception had.

Everyone has fantasies. That one there is a medieval pit fighter. This one here is the lady of a beautiful English manor. Everyone has a billionaire lurking inside of him or her and has already made detailed plans of how to dispose of the wealth. And everyone has sexual fantasies. He jerks off thinking of being dominated by a woman in leather and spiked heels. She dreams of having a stable of men to meet her every whim. Those fantasies are all harmless, fun, important, and yet not real. But Mike had crossed the invisible barrier, broken the fourth wall not to communicate with the audience, but rather to reach into the scene. Seeing how quickly and easily it could happen was a jolt, and he couldn’t help but wonder how many other people around him had also crossed the semipermeable layer between fantasy and reality.

Mike closed his eyes and took a deep breath. He couldn’t let this make him crazy. He had to be able to function in the world without obsessing about what lurid secrets everyone around him was harboring. It just wasn’t healthy. Another deep breath and Mike opened the door to his office. It was time to return to the real world and get to work.

Kate didn’t make it easy. She’d obviously come back from New York with some trepidations. Mike’s enthusiastic response seemed to reassure her, and she continued to blossom before his eyes. When Mike arrived home, the kids were already eating dinner, and Kate was prancing around in blue running tights and a racerback tank top. Given her curves, it would have been provocative even if she’d been wearing a sports bra beneath, but she wasn’t, and her breasts jiggled as she walked, her nipples seeming ready to tear a hole through the stretch fabric.

“Hi Honey,” she said nonchalantly when she saw him. She turned back to her cutting board, but he could have sworn she gave him a little ass wiggle.

Obviously, the kids didn't notice any of this. She was just Mom. But anyone else would... which is when Mike noticed the kids were eating Chipotle....

He gave the kids a kiss and stepped up close to his wife. He whispered in her ear, "Did you go out dressed like that?"

She grinned, eyes flashing. "Of course. Had errands to run. Dropped off the dry cleaning, grabbed food for the kids... oh, and I stopped by Grace's to order mulch like you asked me to."

Mike's heart raced. Grace's was the old hardware store in town, run by old man Grace and his three sons. Grace himself was a Vietnam-era veteran, and his sons were all thick armed, tough guys. Perfectly nice, but tatted up, handy, manly men. And the joke was that when Kate or one of her neighborhood friends was trying to get their husbands to do work around the house, the threat was to go down to Grace's and find a "real man" to do the job.

"Grace's?"

"Oh, they are so nice down there," Kate said. "They were falling all over themselves to help me. They even asked if they could arrange delivery when I was home so that I could show them exactly where I wanted it." She waited a beat before continuing. "Wasn't that nice?"

"Yes, very thoughtful," Mike said.

But of course, his mind went exactly where she'd intended. To an image of the Grace boys, sweaty and swole surrounding his buxom wife. Stripping her roughly, pawing at her, sloppy kisses, and then pushing her to her knees. Big cocks out, Kate flicking her hair to the side as she slurped on each in turn. Then on her hands and knees, a cock in her pussy, another in her mouth, getting fucked hard, breasts swaying.

He'd had this sort of vision before, but this time it was more vivid. He knew it was the same fantasy she was having, and the same the Grace boys surely had. So, they were all on the same page and a single word from Mike could make it happen. The same way that he'd made it happen with Adam. It was a terrifying realization because he could sense the lure of it, the temptation he'd need to refuse.

"They said Friday morning.... I could work from home," Kate proposed.

Mike felt faint. So easy. Too easy. He smiled. “No, I was planning to telework then anyway. I’ll take care of it.”

Kate grinned. “Of course. Just let me know if you change your mind.”

Kate and the Grace boys. Having that thought in the back of his head made it hard to parent. Reading The Gruffalo to a little girl while suppressing visions of her mother doing despicable things to strange men took significant mental energy. It didn’t help that Kate was prancing around... and yes, she was prancing... in her skimpy outfit, boobs swaying, waving her sexy ass as she sorted clothes into Becky’s dresser.

“Daa-deeee, the Gruffalo!”

Mike swallowed, “A mouse took a stroll...”

Kate didn’t bother with the pretense of putting on PJs. After brushing her teeth, she strolled out of the bathroom stark naked. As before, it wasn’t just her beauty that took Mike’s breath away, but also her new confidence. She was a changed woman. Sexy, enticing, and all his. Well, not quite, since what seemed to have triggered this change was an assignation with another man, but that Adam fellow, as lucky as he was, was just a prop, a sex toy as it were.

His eyes roamed over her nude body, and he delighted in her curves. Her breasts were perfect, any tit-man’s fantasy, heavy, jiggling, with plump raspberry nipples. She was shaved, a recent development so still novel, a hundred percent bare, her pussy so delectable it begged to be sucked and slurped. Soft, creamy skin, long blonde hair, wide eyes, plump lips that were made to kiss and suck cock.

“God Mike, you’re looking at me like a dog at a steak,” she laughed.

Mike looked away, a bit sheepishly, but his eyes were drawn back to her as she approached the bed.

“Fuck, you’re the sexiest MILF in the world.”

She dropped down on the bed beside him, propped up on an elbow, breasts quivering delightfully.

“Funny how a little competition seems to focus a man’s mind.”

The word competition felt like a slap. “I never take you for granted.”

She smiled. “No you don’t. But you also don’t always want to devour me like you do now.” She pinched one of her nipples, making it stiffen. Mike’s mouth watered. “What do you want to do to me?” she asked.

“Everything,” he said, craning his neck and sucking that swollen nipple into his mouth.

She moaned softly and cradled his head. “That feels nice.” She rolled onto her back, and he followed, his lips still attached to her breast. He switched to the other tit. “That’s right, Baby,” she said, “no playing favorites.”

Kate’s soft moans and subtle undulations were intoxicating.

“Are you thinking about the Grace boys?” Mike asked.

Kate chuckled. “No. From the way they were looking at me, I don’t think they’d be quite this gentle.”

“Does that turn you on?”

“Mmmm. A little. Who doesn’t fantasize about getting ravaged once in a while? Three strong men, tearing off my clothes, taking turns with me. Me loving it.”

Mike’s cock throbbed painfully. “God, what’s gotten into you?”

“Am I supposed to answer that literally?”

Mike looked up and their eyes met. She’d really done it. Fucked another man. He’d seen her naked. Explored her body with his hands. Thrust his big cock inside her again and again, and made her come. Kate took advantage of Mike’s stupefaction to push him onto his back. She straddled him, her hands on his chest.

“You’re wearing altogether too many clothes.”

She reached down and began peeling off his tee shirt. He squirmed awkwardly to help, and as the fabric passed over his face, Kate leaned forward, her nipples against his bare chest, and kissed his neck.

Kate breathed in his ear: “I love seeing you this turned on. If I’d known...”

I’d have fucked other men sooner. The conclusion of her sentence was hotter for being silent. She nibbled gently on his neck, his throat, his ears. She ground her pussy gently against his crotch, and he could feel her heat through his PJs. She began kissing her way down his body, fingers trailing through his sparse, downy chest hair.

He wondered about Adam. Tall, dark, and handsome. Did he have a hairy chest? Did Kate like it? Did she, oh my, suck on his nipples like she sucked on his? Lower still, her tongue flicking across his belly, her hair on his raging haddon. She edged down, her soft, naked butt pressed against her calves. She pulled down his waistband. His cock was dark red, the head leaking pre-come. She looked up at him through her eyelashes and licked off a drop of his jism, only to have it reappear right away.

She chuckled. “Hmmm, looks like I’m going to need to find another solution to that.”

Mike was speechless as his wife eased her way down to the foot of the bed, stripping him naked. Then she massaged and kissed back up, her hands on his quads, tongue licking up the inside of his thighs. She took his cock in her mouth and bobbed up and down several times.

“Oh God,” he moaned.

She squeezed his cock hard. “Don’t come yet. I want to try something.”

Mike wouldn’t even let himself hope. It was something he’d wanted to do since the first time he’d seen her naked, but he’d never had the guts to ask. But now, as she maneuvered herself into position, he could barely breathe, couldn’t speak, wouldn’t move for fear of breaking the spell. She sucked his cock wetly, spit dripping from her mouth, and then pressed his thighs apart so she could move in closer. Kate held his cock with one hand and mashed her chest against his erection. She cupped her boobs and pressed them together, and suddenly his cock was engulfed by her heavy breasts. She began to move, sliding up and down, fucking him with her tits. It was overwhelming. Her breasts full and hot, her nipples grazing against his belly, her fingertips on his cock. She was flush and sweaty, and the sight of his prick peeking out from her cleavage erotic beyond belief. Then the next time his cock appeared, she licked the leaking head.

“Oh God, oh God,” Mike cried out, his balls contracting.

And before he knew what was happening or could even think of stopping her, Kate took his cock into her mouth. She locked eyes with him as he pulsed into her mouth. A gallon of come, or at least that’s what it felt like. She didn't flinch, literally didn't bat an eyelash, and when he was done, she swallowed it all and then flashed him a happy smile.

She slid up beside him, her body hot and soft, her hand gently stroking his suddenly limp member.

"Oh God, Kate. Oh my God."

She giggled. "I take it you liked that."

"You're amazing."

"So we're still good?"

He nodded. But there was a small part of him, deep inside, that held him back. "Did you do that with him?"

Kate seemed a bit surprised at the question, and she took a breath before answering. "No, but I'd like to. And I don't want to give him anything I haven't shared with you first."

It was a fraught statement, and for a moment Mike's lawyer brain tried to parse it. What did it really say about how he and Adam ranked in her affections? "So, you do want to see him again?"

"Aren't we enjoying this?" she asked. "Isn't this as hot as when we were first together?"

"Hotter," Mike admitted.

"So?" She smiled and stroked his cock hard. "Would you rather I wait for the Grace boys' delivery? Or maybe go back into the city and see if that three-thousand-dollar offer is still on the table?"

His cock twitched. "Would you?"

"If you wanted me to."

"Oh God," Mike gasped.

Images flooded his mind. First the Graces. Their powerful, tattooed bodies closing in on Kate. Strong hands tearing off her clothes, forcing her to the ground, holding her down, mauling her tits, grinning crudely at her slutty, shaved snatch. Big cocks thrusting inside her roughly. In her cunt, her mouth, her ass.... And then Kate in a hotel room, a slinky cocktail dress, a wealthy man in an armchair commanding her to strip, slowly, to play with herself, and then finally spread wide on a luxurious bed, ready to obey his every whim.

"Wow," Kate said, stroking his now rock-hard cock. "Tell me what you're thinking."

Mike shook his head. "No." it was too embarrassing.

“I want you, Baby,” she said.

She rolled over onto her back and pulled him on top of her. She squirmed beneath him, her hands palming his ass. She kissed his face sloppily, pausing only as he entered her. Her pussy was as hot and wet as he’d ever felt it, and it seemed to twitch and clench at his cock as if she were experiencing a series of mini orgasms. Had he not come already, he would never have been able to hold out.

“Tell me your fantasies, Mike. Tell me everything. Let me make them all come true.”

“Oh God,” he moaned.

His mind raced. So many lurid thoughts. All the old ones, of course. Kate with another man, with other men, with a dark skinned, big dick, black man. Kate trying to talk her way out of a speeding ticket. Bent over her desk at work and taken from behind. And then more, those darker thoughts that existed in the dark recesses of his mind, accessible only in nightmares or in altered states, jerking off drunk and frustrated on an endless work trip. Kate seduced, coerced, taken, her gorgeous body at the mercy of powerful men. Bound, gagging on cock, getting fucked up the ass.

“What should I do next, Baby?”

He shook his head. He couldn’t answer. They were fucking each other, her body rising off the mattress to meet his thrusts.

“What do you want?” he asked.

She hesitated for just a second. Just long enough not to seem too eager, but she was too eager to really sell it.

“I want to see him again.” He gave her a hard thrust, and she moaned. “I want to fuck Adam again.”

“Yeah?”

“Yeah, Baby. I want his big cock inside me. I want to suck it. Want to feel him thrusting inside me. And I want to know you’re thinking about me, and what I’m doing. Getting hard and horny... ugh God, Mike, yeah, just like that.”

His cock pistoned into her pussy, the wet slurping sound matching perfectly the sensation of her vagina swallowing his shaft. Her legs rose in the air, rotating her pelvis upward, allowing him to thrust deeper and harder still.

“You fuck me so hard when you’re thinking of him.”

“Yes,” he groaned.

“Oh God, Mike, I want this so much. I want to come for him and to make you nuts. I want to come home and tell you every, dirty, nasty thing I did for him.”

She was clutching at him, gasping, oozing excitement, barely in control. And he was along for the ride, maddened by her sexuality, her passion. She closed her eyes and a low growl formed in the back of her throat. She squeezed him between her thighs, and her pussy pulsed against his cock.

“Oh God, oh God,” she cried out.

She relaxed after but continued to urge Mike with her hands. As he felt his own orgasm building, she craned her neck and breathed in his ear.

“Will you let me see him?” she asked.

“Yes.”

“Will you let me suck his dick?”

“Yes.”

“Will you let me fuck him?”

“Yes, Baby, yes. Yes!”

He thrust in deep and arched his back as he came.

Then, feeling drained, he collapsed onto the bed beside his naked, panting wife. And immediately the doubts began.

Chapter Six

It was Friday before Mike found time for that beer with Matt. They met after work at Friday's. It was incongruously loud given that the crowd tended toward middle age. Mike chuckled as he watched men and women struggling to hear one another over the din. A small price to pay for the nostalgia of youth.

Mike spotted Matt at a high-top beneath a TV showing Sportscenter. He grabbed a beer at the bar and joined his friend.

"Game's this weekend, right?" Mike asked.

Matt grinned. "I swear to God, Ron Francis is coming back."

"And Gordy Howe."

"Meh. He was a Red Wing at heart."

Mike took a swig of beer. "So, you doing good?"

"Me? I'm great. You're the one who was weird the other day. All skittish. Like a cat."

"You calling me a pussy?"

"Well, yeah, sorta."

"Fuck you."

Matt chuckled and drained half his beer.

"So, all good at home?" he asked.

Mike shrugged in an effort at nonchalance. "You know. The usual stuff."

"You mean, you don't load the dishwasher right, and then your wife refuses to fuck you for a week?"

"Ouch. Amy does that?"

Matt laughed. "You think she just stays with me because of the kids?"

"Probably."

Mike knew his friend was just playing off the usual married man, lack of sex trope, but it gave him an idea. "You should give her a hall pass. Spice things up."

"Yeah, right, because just what I need is Amy going out and fucking some other dude who gives it to her better than I can."

“As long as she comes back to you, right?”

Matt finished his glass and waved at the server for another. “That’s pretty fucked up. I don’t know if I could handle that. Sort of feels like I married out of my league already. Why tempt fate?”

“I don’t know. Is that how women think? You really think that the reason Amy married you is because you’re her best lay ever?”

Matt’s beer arrived. He took a sip. “Jeez. I don’t know. Who the fuck wants to think about that kind of shit? I mean, I guess I fuck her good enough, right?”

Mike nodded. “Right. I’m sure. But... I mean... you ever wonder about dudes she’s been with before?”

“I don’t need to wonder, man. She and I were friends long before we hooked up. I could probably give you name, rank, and serial number on, like, half a dozen old boyfriends.”

Mike suppressed a shudder. Amy and those short skirts and great ass. Amy and that sexy highlight in her hair. Amy getting fucked by six dudes.

“What? You think Kate was a virgin when you met? I guarantee she was not a virgin.”

Mike knew that was true as well, but despite that it felt like an attack. “Why’d you say that?”

Matt rolled his eyes. “Cause she’s a POA. Like Amy, man. Those two... fuck. I mean, seriously, they’re still fucking hot. Imagine them all 19 and supple.”

Mike laughed. “Supple?”

“Whatever.”

“Supple makes me think of a piece of leather.”

“Ha ha. You know what I mean. All young and dumb and horny.”

“Yeah, those were the days,” Mike drawled.

“You brought it up, Asshole.”

“Take it easy. Just messing around. Okay, so... question for you. Would you let Amy mess around if it meant you got a free pass for yourself?”

Matt shook his head. “Ha. I’m not sure I could even pull ass nowadays. Not like I was exactly a stud back in the day. I mean, Amy had to work her way through our circle to get to me.”

“And then realized she’d struck paydirt.”

“Yeah, or she was tired of jerks who just wanted some tail.”

“Oh, and you were such a gentleman?”

Matt chuckled. “Fuck no. I was just like, finally. Anyway, I dunno, by that point we were all finishing up school and looking for jobs, and bed hopping was going out of style.” He paused and took a sip. “Now that I think about it, it’s like musical chairs, you know. Just at some point, it’s like, whoever you’re fucking now is who you’ll be fucking the rest of your life. Weird, right?”

Mike nodded. It wasn’t exactly like that with him and Kate, but also not that far off. How had they ended up together? How much of it was arbitrary, a matter of chance and timing? Had Kate met Adam earlier, would she be married to him instead?

“You need to be open to love, I guess.”

Matt snorted. “Thanks Oprah.”

Mike looked around the room. It was beginning to slow down. The older crowd at Friday’s was not able to keep a happy hour going much past that first hour. Now that the din was lower, the atmosphere was distinctly shabby. The decor corporate and soulless. The remaining patrons increasingly dour.

“We probably should head out. Looks like the regulars are taking over,” Mike said.

“That’s what I aspire to.”

“Being an old drunk? Way to aim high.”

“Gotta have dreams.” He reached out his hand as Mike stood up. “Good catching up, even if I’m not sure what the fuck we were talking about.”

Mike shrugged. He wasn’t sure what they’d talked about either.

“How much do you talk to Amy?” Mike asked in bed.

“Matt’s wife? I don’t know. Not that often. Why?”

“She knew you were in New York.”

Kate shook her head, but said, “Did she? I don’t know. Maybe something with the kids. Honestly don’t remember.”

“So, you guys didn’t talk about....”

Kate frowned. “About me fucking another man? No, that didn’t come up. Jesus, Mike, what are you suggesting?”

“I don’t know. Nothing. I don’t know. It’s... just, I don’t know how....” He paused and took a breath. “I don’t want to be known as the guy whose wife fucks around.”

“Oh, Baby, I have no idea where this is coming from, but you can’t really think I am doing this... that this happened to hurt you. What happened? What did Matt say?”

“Nothing. It’s not even him. I don’t know. Do you think Amy has lovers?”

Kate chuckled. “How would I know? What.... Mike, what’s gotten into you?”

“She’s pretty. I mean, I’m sure guys hit on her and—”

“And what?” Kate interrupted. “What even are we talking about?”

“I don’t know. Just you and her. Jesus, you’re both so sexy, and—”

“Oh Mike, for fuck’s sake. What, you think like Amy and I are constantly barraged with offers and looking to trade up?”

“Well, you are... I mean, the offers part.”

“Oh, and you, poor baby, just a successful partner in a law firm.”

“No. Not at all.” She paused. “Mike seriously, look around. How many forty-something women get remarried after a divorce?”

“You’re not forty.”

“I would be by the time we got done with haggling over terms. And then what? Yeah, there will be guys who want to screw me, and that’s about it. And you’d get remarried in like six months to some chick barely out of her twenties.”

Mike shook his head.

Kate tilted her head and gave him a wry grin. “Really, Mike, you don’t know how this world works?” She paused. “Mike, you’re crazy if you think this is about... what... you think I’m attractive and you’re not? So, what, like, I’m coercing you.”

“Well... maybe... a little. Forget about us. Look at Matt and Amy. Everyone wants to fuck her. Who wants to fuck him?”

Kate laughed. "Jesus, Mike, get out of your own head. You don't want to fuck Matt, but you'd love to fuck Amy, so—"

"I don't."

Kate guffawed.

"You wouldn't fuck Amy?"

Mike shrugged.

"You're such a fucking liar."

Mike relented, "I mean, if I were single."

Kate laughed. "Or if she offered and you thought I wouldn't find out."

"Maybe."

Kate suddenly turned serious. "Mike? Are you trying to tell me something? All of this hotwife fantasy stuff, was it just..."

It took a moment for Mike to realize what Kate was asking. It was the tears forming in her eyes that finally crystalized it. "No. No! Kate. No! I've never. I wouldn't. It's not like that."

She seemed skeptical. "You wouldn't have an affair if I gave you a free pass?"

He shrugged. "Honey. I don't know. Maybe I would. I do have fantasies about other women. I'm human. But no, this wasn't a set-up. It's not something I'm interested in. Something I'd pursue or try to make happen. I swear."

A single tear ran down her cheek, and she smiled. "You don't need to swear. I don't want you to have sex with other women. I know that's not fair, but I... I didn't mean to doubt you."

They stared at each other. Then she continued. "Mike, what is this about?"

"I don't know. I'm afraid. Turned on, but scared."

"Scared of what?"

He shrugged and turned his head so she couldn't see his eyes welling up. "Losing you, I guess."

"You won't."

"Maybe you shouldn't see this guy again?"

"Of course. If you don't want to do this again then—"

He shook his head. "I didn't.... I don't know that I mean that. This is so hot. And thinking of you with other men is so hot. I'm just.... I guess

I'm worried about entanglements."

She thought for a moment before answering. "Right. I get that. But women aren't like men. I can't.... I don't want to just screw a bunch of strangers. It's not how I'm wired. It's part of why it took me so long to respond to your hints, you know. And.... I mean, maybe there would be someone else at some point, but.... I feel comfortable with him."

"You barely know the guy. Drinks one night. Then a night together. I get that it was hot.... And fuck, it was hot hearing about it. You don't think you could have chemistry with someone else?"

Kate nodded slowly. "Maybe. I don't know. It's all, like, how much you want to do this? Like, what if it doesn't happen again? Maybe this thing with Adam was, like, a one-off. You know, great story, but that's it."

Mike reeled. A simultaneous surge of relief and disappointment. He didn't really want to share Kate. To risk losing her. But he also was disappointed. Kate being with another man had exceeded all expectations. She'd loved it. Her stories were hot. He thought of her titty-fucking him, a delicious moment when she wasn't a mom, and they weren't an old married couple. An instant where she was what she'd never been with him, a hot, sexually adventurous slut. Now that Mike had experienced that, he wasn't sure he wanted to give that up, could give it up.

"You really want to see him again?"

"Not if you don't want me to."

"But you do, right?"

She nodded.

He felt a surge of heat, starting in his chest, spreading up and down, to his head and his loins. "What do you want to do with him?"

Kate grinned and shook her head slowly. "No. That was last time. I showed you what I wanted to do."

Mike could almost feel his cock encased between her heavy breasts as she moved up and down. He remembered how hard he came. How surprisingly she swallowed his load.

"Now you tell me what you want me to do to him," she said.

He felt dizzy.

Then Kate added, "And I'll do it to you first."

He reeled at her proposal. He wasn't sure it was an unlimited offer, but he could tell by her shining eyes and pursed lips that she was serious and eager. If he let her see Adam again, he could do... anything... to her, with the caveat that her lover would benefit as well. It was a delicious dilemma, or perhaps a trap, but suddenly Mike didn't quite care.

"Like what?" he asked.

Her smile widened and she quickly stripped out of her PJs. Mike's eyes roamed over his wife's creamy, curvaceous naked body. He admired her full breasts and, as she sat back on her heels, he stared at her rounded ass. She gave herself a small, teasing slap on the butt.

Was she hinting at ass play? A staple male fantasy, but Mike had never done anything more than firmly squeeze his wife's butt. He imagined getting her up on all fours, fucking her from behind, spanking her ass red. Would she allow that? Would she permit more? He thought of spreading her cheeks, playing with her buttocks, and then slowly pressing his hard cock into her tight ass. His cock ached with excitement. But then the dilemma came into play. He didn't want Adam to fuck her up the ass. That was too much. Too far.

"Should I suck your cock while you think?"

"Uh... yeah."

"Maybe you should get naked then."

He did and then sat back down on the mattress, feeling exposed and a little awkward with his prick, red and erect, jutting from his lap. That didn't last long as Kate leaned forward and slowly ran her tongue up the underside of his cock. He slipped his fingers into her thick blonde hair as she slowly suckled on his prick.

"I could just continue doing this," she said, "but I'm afraid I've already done that for both you and him."

She swallowed him whole. "Oh God," he sighed both at the sensation of her hot, wet mouth on his cock and at the thought of her doing the same to Adam's big tool.

His mind raced. He imagined dressing her up in some slutty outfit. Kate was too curvy to pull off schoolgirl, but he nearly swooned at the thought of her dressed up as a slutty nurse or maybe a French maid. But that was too much work and required props, and her tongue swirling around his cock imposed a sense of urgency on his decision. He looked over at his pants, hung over the back of a chair, at his supple black leather belt. He thought about bringing it down on his wife's pale ass; he imagined wrapped it around her wrists. He thought about tying her to the bed, spreadeagle.

She lifted off his cock and stroked him slowly. A steady stream of pre-come leaked from the head. "I know this isn't all my doing. What's going on in your head?"

He wanted to sink inside her. No more time for games. "I want you to ride me."

She chuckled. "Oh Baby, haven't I done that hundreds of times? And I've done it for Adam too."

"Reversed. Reverse cowgirl," he muttered softly.

She heard but decided to tease him.

"Huh? Speak up."

He groaned. "I want to see your ass bouncing up and down on my cock."

"Hmmm. You sure? I don't think my fat ass is my best feature."

"It's perfect."

She laughed. "A hardon is the ultimate beer goggles."

"Honey, I... I love your ass."

She pressed her breasts together. "Better than my tits?"

Mike laughed. "Well, let's not get crazy."

"Hmmm. Actually, that's exactly what I think we should do. So... reverse cowgirl? You're going to make me feel like a pornstar."

"We don't have to if—"

"I want to feel like a pornstar."

"Oh God."

She chuckled and then gave him another deep suck. He only barely avoided coming. Then she rose on her hands and knees, as he slid down the bed. She mounted him confidently, and Mike was reminded again how much she'd changed. She was sexier and more playful than ever. Amazing what strange cock can do for a woman.

Kate gripped his cock and slowly ran it up and down her slit as she kneeled above him. He gasped at the sight of his prick sliding between her wet pussy lips. He traced her bare bottom, dipping his fingers into her crack. He wondered if she would have given him her ass if he'd asked. From the way she swayed sultrily, he thought she would. And then she dropped down and he was engulfed in heat and wetness. Her pussy was like a sleeve. Even after two kids she was perfectly tight, and he wondered for a second how she could even take Adam inside her before realizing that as good as she felt at the moment, her pussy probably felt even better on Adam's bigger prick, and as good as he surely felt inside her, she couldn't help but enjoy the sensation of being stretched even wider by her lover.

She leaned forward and began bouncing up and down. That position stretched her cheeks apart, and Mike groaned at the sight of his wife's puckered asshole, even as he admired the delicious visual of his cock pumping in and out of Kate's pretty pussy. He caressed her ass and gave in to the temptation to tease her anus.

"Oh God," she moaned as his thumb touched the sensitive flesh.

"What are you thinking about?" Mike asked.

"How good you feel," and then after a short pause. "And how he'll feel."

"You're going to do this for him?"

"Mmm yeah, Baby."

"You're thinking about his big cock?"

Her pussy seemed to flutter. "Yes," she hissed.

She moved faster. He could see her hand between her legs, working her clit as she rode him. Mike pressed his thumb against her ass.

"Should I let him finger my ass? He's going to want to if I do this."

"Oh God."

"Is that a yes, Baby?"

Mike's throat felt like it might close up. He imagined her on top of Adam. So wet and horny. Stretched around his cock, Adam's big hand on her ass, his thumb churning deep inside her.

"Yes. Yes, I want to see that. I want to watch you with him."

Kate froze and then began to shudder. Her pussy spasmed on his cock and her body shivered violently. She dropped down heavily on him, his cock buried fully in her steaming cunt. He gasped. He spurted inside her, again and again.

He didn't even quite remember them disengaging and slipping beneath the covers. But, as they snuggled together, still naked and sweaty, he remembered her asking, "You really want to watch?"

Chapter Seven

Things move surprisingly quickly. Or at least they seemed to. Kate made plans to visit Adam in Chicago in three weeks. They passed for Mike like three hours. Even with his wife all sexed up as a distraction, the date of her departure hurtled forward. When she kissed the kids goodbye and climbed into her Uber for a ride to the airport, it felt like no time had passed since her return from New York.

Mike wanted it to happen. He too had been operating in a fog of sexual excitement. Kate wanted sex every night. But as exciting as it was to see her so libidinous, it was also complicated.

There were times when it didn't feel like she was fucking him. Though she never called out Adam's name, he knew she was thinking about him as she felt her husband's cock inside her. He sometimes felt like a placeholder for the man she really wanted to see. And it didn't help that she seemed tethered to her phone, grinning in a way that made him certain she was texting with Adam... or, if Mike was honest, sexting. Mike always respected his wife's privacy, but there were many times when she seemed to disappear only to return a quarter hour later, clenching her phone, looking flush and a little guilty.

But there were also the times when Kate came to bed naked and ready to fuck. When she cupped his ass as she passed him in the staircase carrying a basket of laundry. The morning she woke him with a blowjob to completion. The time she joined him in the shower after his workout.

Even if she was thinking of Adam, wasn't that a small price to pay for the kind of sex life married men fantasize about? And that was before he even weighed how excited it all made him still. If she was thinking of Adam when they were having sex, so was Mike. Eyes closed as she rode him, he imagined that she was bouncing on Adam's prick. When she sucked his cock, he thought about her doing it with her lover.

It was a bitter and delicious cocktail of emotions. He was raw and wounded and aroused and eager. The thought of Kate and Adam fucking was overwhelming. The desire to see them doing it irresistible. The Friday afternoon he watched the Uber pull away, he felt the dual urge to run after her and stop it and equally strongly, an urgent need to see things through.

<Kate>: Landed.

It was their usual post-flight message, but on this trip, it felt discordantly terse. Mike stared at the phone, waiting for more, but none came. So, he imagined Kate getting off the plane, then walking through the terminal. Then, he wasn't sure. There had been a few conversations about what Kate and Adam might do sexually, but Mike didn't know about any of their other plans. Was he picking her up at the airport? Was she taking a cab? If so, to where?

She had her phone with her, and so those sorts of details didn't matter like in the past. What use was it to know what hotel she might be staying at if he'd reach her the same way as always? But despite that, Mike longed for details, but didn't know how to ask for them. Sex advice columns always stress the need for communication and more communication for couples embarking on any sort of sexual adventure involving third parties, but Mike found that hard. All their conversations about it were fraught. Brimming with emotion. Lust, fear, love, excitement. Their discussions had occurred in sudden, desperate bursts, so loaded with sexual energy that they were inevitably rushed and incomplete. It wasn't that Mike had regrets, that he agreed to things on the spur of the moment that he wished he could take back later. It was more that there were all these details left unexplored. Unexplorable. Superfluous in the heat of passion. Embarrassing in the cold light of day.

One of the details they'd never explicitly discussed was how much she'd communicate. The model from New York was of sparse interaction. Mike understood that she needed space to do this sort of thing, that at some level thinking constantly about her husband would make things distinctly unsexy. Because he understood that, he was reticent about intruding, but he wished she'd take it upon herself to share more.

The kids were a welcome distraction. Dinner, baths, and books read before bedtime. The problem was that come 9:00pm and the kids in bed, there was still no more word from Kate. He took two beers from the fridge, guzzled one quickly, and then poured the second into a mug to consume more sedately. He flipped on the TV, tuning to an NHL playoff game. He thought about calling Matt and maybe getting together, but he knew a single text from Kate would upend that. So instead, he sat in front of the TV watching, but not really paying attention to, a game in which he had no interest.

He finished his beer and then had another and another. It was the third period. 10:30 in Hartford, though an hour earlier in Chicago. Where were they? What were they doing? He'd been conjuring explanations for her silence. Maybe Adam was showing her around. Then perhaps dinner. But all that rang hollow. They were fucking. Adam was ramming his big cock inside her. She was moaning with pleasure. She had gone because Mike wanted to see her with another man, but she'd gone and was not sharing.

Then suddenly an unexpected chime rang from his phone. It took him a moment to realize it was a Facetime call. From Kate. He fumbled to answer it.

"Hey Baby," Kate said.

She sounded distant, and when the screen resolved, he saw that she was standing across the room. She was smiling, and in a fluffy white bathrobe.

"Where are you?" Mike asked.

The image on his phone panned around, and Mike realized that she was in Adam's home. In his bedroom. It was a tidy space, with wooden floors. There was a desk with a stack of papers, and a closet with white, wooden slats, closed, except for a small gap on the far end. Kate was standing in a doorway, leading to a bathroom beyond. And there were two other things he picked up. Judging by her bathrobe, they'd already fucked at least once, and since she was in the picture, it meant that Adam was holding the phone.

Kate answered by pulling on the robe's belt to release the knot. The robe slipped open slightly, just enough to reveal that she was at least topless beneath,

"I'm going to give you your treat," she said.

Mike wondered if she was speaking to him or to Adam. Probably both.

She took a step forward, and another. Adam's camera work was a bit shaky, though Mike couldn't fault him for that. Kate's advance was sultry, feral. She eased the robe off her shoulders so that only her nipples were covered.

"Do you want me to suck his cock?" she asked.

Mike nodded. And then realizing that she might not be able to see him clearly, added a throaty, "yes."

Adam's hand jolted with excitement and Kate smiled lewdly. She crawled up onto the bed. The bedspread had already been stripped off sloppily, giving additional weight to Mike's supposition that'd already had a private reunion. Kate slid up between Adam's muscular, hairy legs. She crawled out from under her bathrobe, showing that she was indeed completely naked beneath. As was Adam, which became obvious when the camera followed her hand reaching out to grasp his cock.

Adam's prick was chubby, but not fully erect, yet he was already impressively large, which didn't bother Mike quite as much as the obvious pleasure Kate took from handling it. Her smile widened, and she stroked him up and down, squeezing, kneading, enjoying his girth, her excitement growing as she felt him stiffen. He did want her to enjoy herself, but perhaps not so unreservedly, and better yet at something Adam was doing to her rather than just by handling his package.

It didn't get easier when she leaned forward and began kissing his prick, Mike's view was quickly blocked by a mass of blonde hair. Adam said something that Mike didn't quite catch, his voice low and throaty. Kate giggled and adjusted herself, flipping her hair over, so as to give her husband a better view of her lips engulfing her lover's cock. She slurped loudly at the head, moaning softly as she did, and Mike wondered if this was something of an act, either for him or for Adam, or whether she was indeed enjoying giving head as much as she seemed.

If it was a performance, it was a good one. She bobbed up and down, taking him deeper than Mike suspected she'd be able. His thick shaft glistened with her saliva, his spongy head darkening. Kate sucked him harder, her cheeks hollowing out, until she drew a rumbling moan from him. Adam's camera work suffered. The image drifted over her sexy curves, her naked ass in the air, then to the back of her head, rising and falling, and Adam's thick fingers combing through her hair.

“Mike? Mike? You there?”

Mike jolted. “Uh yeah.”

Kate giggled. “Thought maybe we’d lost you. Are you enjoying this?”

“Uh... yeah.”

“Are you sure?”

Mike wasn’t actually sure. Yes, his cock was hard, and his heart was racing. It was undeniably erotic to see this woman, his wife, the mother of his children, behaving like such wanton slut. It was so different and exciting, and yet.... He couldn’t quite put his finger on it.

“Yeah.”

“Do you want to see his beautiful prick inside me?” she asked.

Mike tried to answer, but his mouth was too dry to speak. He took a sip of beer and replied, “yes.” It was the only possible answer, especially since the messy bed hinted that she hadn’t waited for his permission before and probably wouldn’t after either.

“You ready?” she said.

“Yes,” Mike answered.

“Yes,” Adam said at the same time, and Mike realized it was her lover whom Kate had been consulting.

Mike shuddered. Adam had been a phantom until now. He existed and yet didn’t. Even off-screen he remained a disembodied presence. It wasn’t even his cock that was so disconcerting, it was the rest of it. His hands in his wife’s hair. The fact that he was wielding Kate’s phone. The reality that she was speaking to him. He wasn’t just some sort of sex toy, he was a living, breathing human, with whom Kate had formed a relationship.

The screen became confused as Kate and Adam adjusted themselves, and when the image stabilized, Mike was looking at his wife’s ass. She was on all fours, facing away from the camera, her legs straddling Adam’s. Her pussy was puffy and glistening. She reached between her legs and grasped Adam’s cock. She rubbed it back and forth between her lips. Her pussy seemed to open to him, her labia enveloping his cock head.

“Ohhhh,” Kate moaned as she sank down on his fat tool. “Oh God,” she added emphatically as she settled onto him.

His free hand reached out and palmed her ass. His thumb dipping between her cheeks. He guided her as she began to move back and forth on his cock. Mike had had this view himself recently. He knew how delicious it would feel on Adam's cock. And he could tell from Kate's moans that she was enjoying herself as well, delighting in the sensation of riding that thick shaft.

"Oh yeah," she groaned. "Oh God."

Mike could see her hand popping into view as she rose up, rubbing her clit. She thrust back harder. Adam's thumb teased Kate's anus. She groaned, louder and louder. Another hard thrust, and impaled on his prick, she rolled her hips. She rose up high, and let out a high-pitched whine, and then her body shook as she climaxed.

"Oh God, oh God, oh God," she gasped as she fell back onto the bed.

She peeked back over her shoulder, right past the camera on the phone, making eye contact with her lover.

"You're beautiful," Adam sighed.

"You ready?" she asked.

"Yeah," he answered.

The image pixelated as the camera swung around, and Adam and Kate moved off the bed. When it came back into focus, the side view of them was reflected in a full-length mirror. Adam, tall and muscular, standing and Kate, wild haired, kneeling before him. He held the phone in front of his face, but Mike could still see he was handsome, his body powerful. Kate leaned forward and suckled Adam's scrotum. Then she kissed up the base of his shaft, and without hesitation took him deep into her mouth.

Adam let her work for a while, but as his excitement grew, he began to thrust, deeper and deeper into her mouth. Kate didn't flinch, even as she began to gag and choke on his cock. Spit dripped down from her chin, and her hands twisted around the small bit of Adam's shaft that she couldn't swallow.

Then suddenly Adam pulled out, and Kate in what seemed like a practiced move, rose up on her knees and pressed her tits together. Adam jerked himself faster and faster, and then his cock erupted, a thick creamy load splashing on Kate's tits. Then another and another. When he seemed to be done, she leaned forward again and swallowed him tenderly into her mouth. She sucked and licked him, and then sat back on her heels.

The camera shifted again, now focused directly on Kate's big, beautiful, come-covered tits. She massaged his semen into her skin, using her fingertips to trace it around her hard nipples. The view shifted to her face.

“I hope you liked that, Baby. Goodnight.”

The call ended.

Mike stared at the phone. “Goodnight.”

Chapter Eight

The end of the call was jarring. Mike had been on tenterhooks, too absorbed to even jerk off. But now suddenly, he didn't even want to.

Kate was so sexy, and the scene had been so hot. Mike didn't think he'd ever quite be able to get the image of his wife riding that big cock out of his mind. Taking Adam's load on her chest was one of the most lurid and slutty things he'd ever witnessed. The scene had been everything he might have wished for or fantasized about.

So why did it leave him so cold? Part of it was that he didn't really feel like he was part of the scene. Yes, it had been staged for him, but he felt like an outsider. A third wheel, so to speak, although in principle a third wheel would add stability to a vehicle.

He tried to sleep, but slumber eluded him. He couldn't seem to get comfortable in bed. It was too hot or too cold. He couldn't figure out whether to face left or right. Most of all, his mind raced.

Intellectually, he knew he shouldn't be surprised. He'd encouraged Kate to have sex with another man. While they were together, it would be her mouth on his, his body against hers, his fat cock in her tight pussy. But Mike had hoped that the primary tether would still be between him and his wife.

It just didn't feel that way. It felt, instead, as if he were an intruder, an outsider peering in. That might be appealing if his fantasy were primarily voyeuristic, but it wasn't. His excitement came from the notion of his wife's sexuality blossoming. He wanted to be part of that. Not as an afterthought, and not as interloper, but as a partner.

Yet, it was hot. That queasiness that stalked his mind battled the visions of his wife riding that great big cock, her pussy stretched around his girth. He remembered her moans and squeals, and the way her body tensed as she came before slumping in satisfied exhaustion. But it wasn't just her pleasure that was so exciting, it was also her eagerness to please her lover. That hurt but was also arousing. Kate, on her knees, sucking a fat prick, taking a load of come on her tits. It was unbelievable, searing, demanding, and could easily become addictive.

Was it habit forming for Kate as well? Like everything else, that thought was a double-edged sword. Terrifying that his wife might fall for another man but intoxicating to imagine her so powerless to her sexual desires.

Mike's phone buzzed. It was past two o'clock, so his do not disturb was on. Only a caller on his favorites list should get through. Sure enough, it was Kate.

A bit discombobulated, Mike answered. "Hello?"

No one responded.

"Hello?" he repeated.

Still no answer. Mike felt a surge of panic. Was she in trouble? How could he have let her travel half-way across the country to meet with a strange man?

"Kate?"

Nothing. But then he heard it. Muffled, in the background. Rustling, moving... the sounds of a struggle? No, softer, rhythmic. He switched the phone to speaker and turned up the volume. It was still quiet, but more distinct this way. He could hear soft moans, a man and a woman. Kate and Adam. Fucking. Making love. Whatever.

There was no sign that they knew he was on the line. A butt dial. While changing positions, they'd knocked her phone off the nightstand, and it had called him. Or maybe she'd dialed the phone and placed it to the side. There was no way to be sure.

He listened closely, and the indistinct sounds began to separate and resolve. He heard their bodies moving together, the thwap of flesh on flesh interwoven with wet squishes of a man penetrating a woman. Kisses and gasps.

As the pace increased, Kate became louder. "Ugh, ugh, ugh, oh yesss. Oh, oh, oh." Then deep kisses that muffled her sounds. "Oh yeah, oh yeah, Baby."

Mike could hear the passion in her voice. He knew her eyes were closed and her hands on Adam's ass. She was spread wide, completely open to him, taking him deep inside her. Her tits jiggling, her hair wild.

"Oh God, oh God, ugh, ugh, ugh."

Adam fucked her harder... faster... deeper....

"Ugh, ugh, ugh, oh God, ai ai ai.... Get off, get off!"

Mike heard what sounded like a heavy weight dropping on the bed.

“What’s the matter?” Adam asked.

Kate giggled. “Cramp.”

“You scared me.”

She laughed. “I’m sorry. It just came on.”

“Well, that’s a mood killer,” he said.

“Oh, I’m sorry. Should I have just ignored the excruciating pain in my leg?”

“You need to hydrate better. Or maybe do some yoga.”

Kate laughed again. It was throaty and genuine. “You think I need to take up a special exercise routine to have sex with you?”

“I do usually put my lovers through conditioning drills. You know, like they do with football players.”

Kate chuckled again. “Did you just compare sex with me to football?”

He chortled. “I just think you need to do some stretching.”

“I think you stretch me out plenty.”

“Mmmm, now that’s the sort of thing I like to hear. Come here. Let me cuddle you.”

“And by cuddle, you mean get your dick back inside me?”

He didn’t respond, but the answer came a moment later when Kate let out a low, contented sigh. “Oh God, that’s nice,” she said.

“Do I really stretch you out?”

“You have no idea. I’m sore for days after I see you.”

“I’m sorry.”

“Don’t be. I love it. Love the feeling like you’re still inside me. And I hate when it goes away.”

They fucked slowly. Maybe it was in Mike’s head, but he could sense the tenderness and affection in their coupling. He imagined them spooning, Kate’s sexy ass pressed against Adam’s crotch as he churned inside her. Their breaths came in tandem, Kate periodically emitting a passionate mewl as her lover caressed her body, her breasts, her belly, her bare, smooth mons. They kissed awkwardly over her shoulder, their lips touching as they swallowed each other’s gasps.

“Ohhhh,” Kate sighed. “Ohhhh God, Baby, oooooh.” She wasn’t coming, but instead was relishing a plateau of enjoyment.

Then suddenly she yelped. “Oh fuck. Oh fuck. Oh fuck.” Not in ecstasy, but rather in increasing angst.

“What’s the matter?” Mike heard Adam say distantly.

“Shhh,” Kate said. And then into the phone, “Mike?”

Mike froze. He didn’t dare move or even breathe, and answering was completely out of the question.

“Mike?” she said again louder.

He stared at the phone, gripped by an irrational terror that she could somehow see him.

“Mike?”

His lungs ached and he began to feel lightheaded.

And then, finally, the connection ended. Kate had hung up on her end.

Mike gasped for breath. But it didn’t make him feel better. He was suddenly sick to his stomach, barely making it to the toilet before puking his guts out.

Chapter Nine

Be careful what you wish for... Truism or cliché? Was there a difference? He ached all over. The fucking, it was just physical. It didn't mean anything... or at least he tried to convince himself of that. It was the rest, though, that shredded his insides. Her admission of longing for him. Their comfort together. It wasn't so much that she lusted for him. That was understandable. Hot even. Even the sentiments that sounded a bit like love could be just sex-driven infatuation, perhaps intense, but likely transitory. That wounded, but he'd recover. The problem was that she seemed to like him as well. They vibed. And laughed. It was the way they laughed together that wrecked him.

Mike needed someone to talk to, but the only person with whom he could open up was... Kate. It was another complication he had never foreseen. When things seemed to be going south, and he needed a supportive ear, the only person he could imagine filling that role was... unavailable.

As with the Facetime sex session, the phone call had left no record. He couldn't even go back to review what he'd seen and heard to try to make sense of it. It was possible he was over-reacting. In a moment of clarity, Mike acknowledged to himself that he could not really trust his own judgments. Kate fucking another man was disorientating. He was primed to be emotional and oversensitive. He tried to recall specifics and parse them. Had he really heard or seen anything other than two people enjoying some casual, meaningless sex? He couldn't be sure. All he had was his gut, and his gut ached and throbbed.

The sunlight beginning to peek through the curtains made Mike realize that it was fruitless to continue trying to sleep. He'd snatched a few unsettled, sweaty snippets of rest, but as he rose from bed, he felt dizzy.

A shower helped. Not much, but a little. A few bites of toast, morosely washed down with coffee got rid of the physical unsteadiness but did nothing for the queasiness he felt inside. He tried to immerse himself in chores, but after a few minutes found himself staring into space as his mind reeled, plowing again and again over the same ground, spinning in circles.

His phone rang. Mike glanced at it and felt a surge of terror. It was Kate, and Mike wasn't sure he could stand to speak to her, or worse, suffer through another butt dial of his wife and her lover being intimate. He was tempted to let it go to voicemail, but at the last second he flicked his finger across the "accept" button.

"Hey," he said.

"Mike?"

"Um... yeah."

"You sound weird. Are you okay?" Kate sounded concerned, which Mike found oddly annoying.

Mike forced himself to smile, knowing it would affect his tone. He wasn't ready to share his angst with his wife.

"Yeah, sorry. I'm okay. But yeah, also, this is weird."

"Weird good? Or weird bad?"

"I don't know for sure. You're having fun?"

"I'm not sure how to answer. Not if you're not."

Mike sighed. "You don't need to lie."

"You wanted this too, you know."

"I know. It's just... I'm feeling left out."

"We arranged that video call last night. It's...."

She paused to compose her thoughts, but Mike fixated on the pronoun. We. As in Kate and Adam. That was a problem.

She resumed, "This is for you, but it also has to work for me. And I can't just be your private porn star. Not if we're going to involve other people."

This time the we referred to Kate and Mike. It was such a small thing, but it made all the difference. A weight lifted off his chest. Not all the way off, but enough to breathe.

"No, I know that, of course. Just... I want to be part of this process. I don't want you to just suddenly drop things in my lap and then just as quickly disappear. It's too... jarring."

"Do you want me to come home early?"

Yes, yes, yes, his brain screamed. “No, don’t.” If she was going to cut her visit short, it had to be her decision, not his. He didn’t want to seem weak and needy like that. Even if he felt vulnerable and insecure.

“And do you want any more things like video or pictures... or....”

“Yes, but... I don’t know, can I have a little warning?”

“It... okay... but Mike? That’s complicated. I can’t... I don’t.... Ugh. This is so complicated. I can’t, like, schedule, you know, a... session. I mean, that’s what I was getting at about not being—”

“My personal pornstar. I know. I don’t know the answer, Kate. I like the high. But I’m still not sure about the aftermath.”

“Have to take the good with the bad, I guess. I’m not sure there is a way to make this not difficult.” She paused. “I should come home, right?”

Mike hesitated. If he said nothing, she’d give in to her apprehension. She’d come home, and it would be over. And she’d blame him for having encouraged her and then cut her fun short. Her fond memories of Adam and the sensation of him still being inside her would be set against her resentment at her husband.

“No. Don’t. Don’t change your plans.”

“You sure?”

Oh, God, Kate, don’t do this to me. Don’t make me beg for you to stay with him.

“Have fun.”

She breathed a sigh of relief that felt like a punch in the gut. “And do you still want, um, visuals?” She sounded almost giddy all of a sudden.

“Yes.”

“Okay. I’ll try to give you more of a buildup, yes?”

“Yes.”

“I love you,” she said.

“I love you too.”

Mike stared at the phone once they disconnected. He felt better, but something still gnawed at him, and he jolted when a text popped on his screen.

<Kate>: Oh, I forgot to ask. Did you call me last night? Like real late?

The butt dial.

<Mike>: No. But I see a call on my log.

<Kate>: Maybe I dialed you by mistake. But you didn't pick up?
He hesitated.

<Mike>: No. Why?

Mike wasn't sure why he'd lied. He pondered it as he folded a beach towel. His phone buzzed again. It was Kate, again, this time with a picture. It was a selfie of her in a sheer, flowered sundress, cut low, cleavage baring. She was smiling, happy, and looking very sexy and confident. Mike grinned. And then he remembered she was spending the day with another man, and the uncertainty returned.

Kate often overscheduled the kids when she was away. It was as if she didn't completely trust Mike to keep them productively occupied. Which was why once the kids woke up, the day turned into a scramble. In addition to laundry and some grocery shopping, Mike also had on his list Becky's ballet and Jeremy's TKD, as usual, but also new shoes for both, and supplies for Becky's art project to purchase at the crafts store. Then in the evening, Kate had arranged for them all to go to Amy and Matt's house so that Mike could "get a home cooked meal," but really because Kate probably wanted to forestall dinner at Shake Shack.

Stuck in traffic, with the kids whining in the back seat, Mike struggled to silence his inner monologue, which invariably seemed to circle back to some version of, If you're going to go out of town to fuck your boyfriend, the least you could do is let me parent the kids as I see fit. It was a sentiment that Mike, even in his somewhat fragile state, recognized as neither healthy nor fair. But regardless, it was also the sort of dark impulse he was having trouble letting go.

It didn't help that Mike's phone buzzed with incoming texts just as he'd packed the kids into the car. The phone now sat, like a hot brick in his pocket, demanding attention so insistently that it was almost painful to resist.

When they finally arrived at Amy and Matt's impossibly perfect farmhouse style home, Mike had to draw upon his last reserves of patience as he navigated the always-difficult process of getting the kids out of the car, which involved first getting them to stop playing or watching whatever they were entranced by, then finding shoes that had been misplaced, before finally managing to shoo them in the direction of the front door.

Matt was in khaki shorts and a blue polo when he opened the door. Amy was fetching in tight, blue Capris and a sheer white blouse that showed off the sexy, lace bra she wore beneath. The streak in her hair was pink this time. As she gave Mike a kiss on the cheek, he noticed that she smelled of lavender. The kids headed straight for the basement to rendezvous with Amy and Matt's kids. Matt clapped Mike on the shoulder.

"Want a beer?"

"Um, in a minute. I need to use your bathroom."

"You know where it is. Meet us in the kitchen."

Mike ducked into the lavatory and sat on the toilet. He didn't really need to go, but he did want to check on Kate's texts.

There were a half-dozen images. In all of them Kate was still in her sundress, sitting in the black leather, passenger seat of a sedan. In the first, her dress had ridden up to mid-thigh, and the shoulder belt crossed between her full breasts. In the next, the dress was higher still, so that her legs were completely bare, and the shoulder strap now rested below her breasts, lifting them up, offering up her cleavage as if on a platter.

From the first couple of images, Mike couldn't be sure if they were selfies or even if she was alone in the car. Maybe she was waiting for Adam somewhere and had decided to give her husband a little treat.

The next picture was sexier still. Her hem was hiked up so far that her panties should be visible, although she didn't seem to be wearing any. She had eased her dress off one shoulder, so that a plump breast topped by a swollen nipple was visible. The angle of the camera has shifted slightly as well, and Mike could see through the passenger-side window that they were in traffic, driving, which meant that Adam was there as well.

This was confirmed in the next image. Kate's dress was pulled down further, and both her big tits were out. A car was driving beside them, and Mike could see a man looking in at his nearly naked wife. Kate intensified the teasing, by playing with her nipples, stretching them out in the penultimate picture. The last picture seemed tamer at first glance. Kate's tits were covered, but then Mike noticed Adam's hand, resting casually on his wife's creamy thigh, so far up that he could surely feel the heat from her bare cunt.

There was one last text.

<Kate>: Click here, if you want to see what happened next.

He took the bait. A video opened in a browser window.

“Oh God, oh God, oh Fuck!” Kate cried out.

Mike scrambled to mute the sound. His heart raced. The video was jerky, as might be expected from two people filming themselves fucking inside a parked car. She was riding him, gasping and moaning. The camera panned down to a quick shot of Kate impaled on Adam's thick prick, slinging her hips back and forth as she rode him. Then the view shifted upward as he mauled and sucked on her fat tits.

Mike took the risk to put the volume up one click, just enough to hear, but hopefully not so much as to be overheard by anyone in the house.

Adam slurped wetly on her nipples. Her pussy squished on his prick. Her moans came out as sharp hisses of excitement.

“Oh fuck, oh fuck, oh fuck, Baby.”

The camera flashed around confusingly. Teases of her body, barely covered by her dress which was pulled off both shoulders and bunched up at her waist. His slick prick sliding in and out of her pussy. Her nipples, wet, swollen, and red. Her blonde hair swishing across the scene. Then a glimpse out the window, parked cars, as if they'd pulled into a strip mall parking lot to fuck. It was lurid and seedy, and incredibly hot.

“Oh fuck, oh fuck, ohhhh fuckkkk!” Kate cried out.

They kissed wetly, passionately. The camera panned to her grinding into his crotch.

“Come inside me, Baby,” she begged. “Go ahead and come inside me.”

She thrust into him harder and harder, demanding his come. The image shook. Adam grunted. They sighed together, and the video ended.

Mike shook uncontrollably. It was all so overwhelming. Emotions crashing. Pin pricks over his entire body. Excitement and terror pumping adrenaline into his bloodstream, spiking his heart rate and blood pressure.

Mike clicked on the link again and rewatched the video, muttering obscenities under his breath—cunt, whore, slut—while at the same time rubbing his crotch through his pants.

He managed to wrench down his pants just in time to avoid an accident, his load splattering in Amy and Matt's bathroom sink.

It released the pressure in his skull just enough for him to recover his wits, and also acknowledge the wave of shame that rolled over him as he contemplated his come snaking toward the drain. He turned on the water and washed it away, then splashed water on his face, and tried to pull himself together. How long had he been in the bathroom? Surely just a minute or two? Or was it more?

He hurried out and into the kitchen. It was large, with an open plan and a cooktop on a center island. Mike took a seat at the raised counter that fringed the workspace. Amy and Matt were busy putting away dishes and didn't seem to immediately notice Mike's return. He took a slow breath.

"Hey."

"We thought you fell in," Matt chuckled.

"No. Just being with the kids alone makes me appreciate any moment I get to myself."

Matt laughed. "Beer? Glass of wine?"

"What are you guys having?"

"Chardonnay?" Amy suggested.

Mike nodded, and Matt opened a bottle and poured three glasses. Mike tried to keep his attention on his co-worker, but his gaze kept being drawn to Amy who was searching for something in the fridge that seemed to require her to shake her shapely ass in his direction. Matt caught his friend looking. He handed over the wine glass with a raised eyebrow and an amused grin. Mike shrugged. You can't blame me.

Amy finally found what she was looking for and arranged a little cheese platter. She placed a slice of goat cheese on a cracker and took a sip of wine.

"Kate's been traveling a lot," she said.

Mike felt the hairs rise on his neck. What did she know?

"Oh, you know, work and stuff."

Amy looked surprised. "Oh, I thought she was visiting a high school friend or something?"

Mike took a gulp of wine. They'd never bothered to coordinate cover stories, which would presumably be a good idea if your wife is going to fuck other men, but you don't really want all your friends and neighbors to know about it.

"Honestly, I don't remember for sure. We've been married long enough that I don't always pay attention, I guess."

She laughed. Men. "You should be careful about that, Mike, or maybe one day she'll find someone who does."

The unease was back. Was that just a throwaway line, or did Amy know something? Mike knew he should let it go, but he couldn't, and it didn't help that he'd just jerked off to a video of Kate fucking another man.

"That would seem pretty extreme, don't you think?"

Matt chuckled. "Yeah, Honey, are you saying you'd cheat on me if I happened not to be paying attention sometimes?"

Amy smirked and ran her fingertip across the rim of her wine glass, making a low, humming whine. "Maybe I have, and you haven't been paying attention?"

"I trust you," he said.

The pink streak caught Mike's eye. It was a call for attention, and he was sure she got plenty. It was easy to imagine Amy in bed with another man, riding a big dick, her long, black hair shimmered as she writhed from side to side.

"Just like I want it."

She wheeled around and went back to the stove, peering into a heavy Dutch oven simmering on the burner. The smell of onions, garlic, and curry filled the kitchen.

"You like spicy, right?" Amy asked Mike over her shoulder.

That, he knew, was completely innocent. But why didn't it feel that way?

"Yeah. But, um, not too spicy."

Amy grinned. Was she saying that a real man would eat it extra spicy? And that Kate was fucking Adam because he was a real man? Did Adam eat Carolina Reapers raw?

Mike's phone vibrated in his pocket. He drew it out without thinking.

<Kate>: So, did you watch the video?

She didn't wait for a response.

<Kate>: Did you like it?

“Is that Kate?” Amy asked.

Mike felt a surge of terror. What if Amy asked to send Kate a text and saw their recent conversation, including the pictures of Kate naked in a stranger’s car?

“Um yeah,” Mike said as calmly as possible. At the same time his gaze involuntarily shifted to the doorway through which he might yet flee, though he was conscious that literally running away might raise more questions than it resolved.

“Tell her I said Hi.”

“Will do.”

He stood and as casually as possible edged away from the counter to get a little more privacy.

<Mike>: It was very hot.

<Kate>: Do you want more?

<Mike>: I’m at Amy and Matt’s.

<Kate>: Tell Amy I said Hi. And remind her we have lunch planned for Wednesday.

“Uh, Amy? Kate says ‘Hi’ too, and—”

“Yeah, we have lunch Wednesday. Tell her I look forward to catching up.”

<Mike> Amy says she looks forward to catching up.

<Kate> Do you think I should tell her what we’ve been up to?

<Mike>: You haven’t, have you?

<Kate>: lol. Not yet. But feel free to tell her that I’m sitting in a restaurant with my lover, rubbing his cock under the table.

Mike’s head swam. His thumbs hovered over the screen, but he couldn’t think of how to respond. He edged behind the breakfast table in Amy and Matt’s kitchen to hide his growing erection.

<Kate>: Baby? Still there?

<Mike>: Yeah.

Even his texts felt dry-mouthed.

<Kate>: I’m not going to make him cum. Not yet at least. He says if I don’t stop, he’s going to drag me into the bathroom and rape me. Should I let him?

Mike looked up. Amy and Matt were chatting softly, something about setting the table and the kids. It all seemed very domestic and normal, and about 180 degrees away from where he was.

<Kate>: Baby? Should I fuck my lover in a restaurant bathroom?

Mike finally found his voice.

<Mike>: No. Make him wait. Not in the car either. Back at his place. But not until you have me on Facetime.

<Kate>: Oooh, you are sooo naughty all of a sudden. So, you want me to tease him for the rest of the night. And then you want to watch when I finally let him put his cock inside me?

<Mike>: Yes.

<Kate>: Sounds like a plan. And Baby? Have a nice evening with our friends.

Mike adjusted himself and returned to the counter and his glass of wine.

“What’s Kate up to tonight?” Amy asked.

“Just, um, having dinner with a friend.”

“So,” Matt said, “is she seeing a friend or there on business?”

“A little of both, but tonight a friend.”

Did Amy and Matt exchange a subtle glance at that? Or was that all in his head?

“She’s lucky,” Amy said. “Chicago is a cool town. Great restaurants. Wasn’t she in New York recently?”

Mike nodded, trying not to flinch as Amy listed the cities that had hosted Kate’s adulterous liaisons. “Of course, she also ended up in Cleveland during a snowstorm, so there is that.”

“Oh right. Didn’t she end up spending the night in a hotel lobby?” Amy chuckled. “I would not have wanted to be the desk clerk who had to tell her they’d given away her room.”

Mike didn’t remember for sure, but in any case, he didn’t much want to continue the conversation about Kate’s travels. “How about you guys? Any fun plans coming up?”

Amy rolled her eyes as Matt answered. “We’re going camping. Up in the Berkshires.”

“I’m not sure I’m going,” Amy noted.

“Oh come on, Honey. It’ll be fun. You, me, the kids. Nature. Hikes.”

“Sleeping on lumpy ground in a tent, using public restrooms. I like Kate’s trips better.”

Matt chuckled. “Fine, you go with her next time. Mike will come with me into the woods, right?”

“Uh, yeah.”

Amy grinned. “See, he doesn’t like the idea either.”

Which was true, though that wasn’t the reason for Mike’s laconic response. His terseness, rather, was because Matt’s proposal had instantly triggered an image of Amy cavorting naked with Kate and Adam.

Mike’s lurid musings were cut short when Amy announced that dinner was ready. The kids all came upstairs, and dinner mostly involved the amused parents listening in as the kids told stories about school, each trying to upstage the others with tales either ridiculous or gross.

It was a nice break. Mike enjoyed his wine and Amy’s delicious curry. For at least an hour, he felt normal.

The break ended even before they got home. His phone buzzed with a text on the drive back, and after shooing the kids upstairs to change into their PJs, Mike checked on the message.

<Kate>: Are you home yet? Adam is getting desperate. I let him play with my titties in the cab home, and... oopsie... it just got him more worked up. Should I let him cum?

Mike felt his mouth curl into a grin.

<Mike>: No. Still have to put the kids to bed.

<Kate>: We got back to his place, and I took off my clothes... just to be ready. Now he’s sitting on the sofa groaning that his balls hurt.

Mike chuckled. It was hot, but he also liked that Kate seemed to be putting him in charge.

<Mike>: He’ll just have to wait.

<Kate>: Not too long, Baby. I have needs too.

<Mike>: Patience.

She sent a text. A mirror selfie taken in what looked like Adam’s living room. She was naked, except for heels, and looked ravishing and, indeed, very horny.

He put his phone face down on the kitchen counter and took a deep breath. He closed his eyes and tried to focus on anything other than his naked wife in another man's apartment. It was difficult, but ultimately, he managed to get his heart rate, and more importantly his erection, down.

Mike took his time with the kids, reading an extra book to Becky and waiting as Jeremy took a long bath before getting him off to bed. With the kids finally in their rooms for the night, he turned out the light in the upstairs hallway, and quietly went back downstairs.

He fought the urge to pick up his phone immediately. He'd taken long enough that he doubted that Kate and Adam had been able to, or willing to hold out. Even after nearly fifteen years of marriage, he'd have trouble resisting his wife if she were prancing around naked, and Kate and Adam were in that early, can't-keep-their-hands-off-each-other, part of the relationship.

He poured himself two fingers of whiskey. His palate was improving, and he was trying some different styles. This one was an Irish single malt. He took an extended sip, feeling the heat in his throat and a pleasing fuzziness begin to numb his brain.

Relationship. That is what Kate and Adam had. Mike had pushed her into it, but it now had a life of its own. It was inevitable, and maybe even necessary to the kind of rush he'd fantasized about. Kate wasn't going to just be horny and oversexed for just anyone. The side of his wife that he wanted to see, the sexual hunger, and physical desire that he found so exciting could only exist in the context of a romance. He'd always known that even if he hadn't quite been willing to admit it. As long as Kate didn't seem to forget he existed, Mike thought he could live with that, and enjoy the rollercoaster ride that initial excitement and novelty of the situation afforded.

He was ready to forgive Kate having given in to Adam tonight, if, as Mike suspected, they hadn't had sufficient self-control to wait until the bedtime routine with the kids was done. He took his phone into his study and shut the door behind him, locking it as a precaution. He sat in his leather reading chair. Flipping over his phone, he was pleasantly surprised to see that Kate seemed to be still drawing it out. There were three texts, spaced about fifteen minutes apart.

<Kate>: Baby, he's so, so desperate. I've been gently running my fingernail up the underside of his big, hard cock, but that doesn't seem to be helping.

Mike grinned at the torment his wife was inflicting on Adam, and on himself as well.

<Kate>: I'm so, so sorry Baby. I couldn't hold out any longer. So I agreed to let him lick my pussy. I think he thinks it'll break me down and let him finally cum.... And maybe it will. Don't be too late.... Ah... his tongue is so good.

He took another sip of his drink as he imagined Adam between her widely spread legs, lapping at her wet snatch, making her squirm and sigh in pleasure. He pictured her lover sliding a finger, and then two, inside her, Kate moaning, her hand on the back of his head.

There was one last text.

<Kate>: Oh God, Baby. He's not letting me cum either. I'm so wet. So ready. I don't know how much longer I can wait. He keeps begging, just the tip, just the tip, but I know that if I let his big, beautiful cock anywhere near my pussy, I won't be able to resist taking it all. Taking it deep. And creaming all over him.

Mike jolted as another text came in as he was viewing the screen. This was an image. Kate was naked, lying on Adam's bed. Her head was nestled into a deep, soft pillow, and her eyes smiled as she held a rose between her teeth. She had her upper arms close to her sides, pressing her lovely, full breasts together, creating an undulating expanse of creamy temptation. Her hands came together at her abdomen, her fingers on either side of her pussy, holding it open, pink, wet, and oh so fuckable.

Mike was rock hard as he admired his wife's glorious pulchritude. He wanted nothing more than to be able to launch himself at her and bury himself deep inside her. But he couldn't. She was over 800 miles away, and with another man. Kate exuded a raw, desperate sexuality that Mike had longed to see. Now that it had been exposed, he couldn't resist the desire to see it consummated... again.

He initiated a Facetime call. Kate answered immediately.

Before the picture even resolved, he heard Adam in the background. "Oh God, is that finally him?"

"No, a telemarketer," Kate replied, giggling.

Adam groaned.

Kate appeared on the screen. "Hey, Baby."

Mike could only see her face and bare shoulders, but it was easy to imagine the rest of her, naked and sprawled amidst Adam's comforter and cushions. She was grinning happily.

"Hey," Mike replied.

Kate's image shook, and Mike realized it was due to Adam joining her on the bed. Mike's chest felt tight.

"So...." she said.

"Did you?"

She shook her head. "Not yet. Not tonight. We were waiting for you to join us."

We. Us. Those words echoed in Mike's head. They'd waited for him, but they were the mass around which he revolved, which was inevitable, since she was in his city and in his bed. But it still stung.

There was a part of Mike that was tempted to try to pull the plug on the whole thing. He was scared that Kate would refuse. That she'd just close the connection, and then fuck the night away with her lover regardless. He was also worried that she might agree, and then he'd have her disappointment and sadness on his conscience. But most of all, he didn't want to shut down the raw sexuality she was exuding.

"Does he still want to?"

Kate giggled and swung the camera toward Adam. He was kneeling at the foot of the bed, buff and handsome and sporting a huge erection.

"What do you think?"

"And you still want him?" Mike asked.

"More than anything."

Adam smiled and Mike saw there was more than just sexual desire there. The camera swung around, and Kate reappeared.

"Can I, Baby? Can I fuck his big cock?"

"Are you sure you want to?"

She bit her lip and then answered, "Yeah, Baby, I really, really do. And I want you to watch. Do you want to see him fuck me?"

Mike answered through a dry mouth. "Yeah."

Kate smiled and then shifted her gaze to Adam. "My husband wants you to fuck me."

Mike heard the other man groan with excitement. Then Kate handed the phone to her lover as she rolled onto her back on the bed. Adam trained the camera on Kate's face. She gasped and eased her head back onto a fluffy pillow. She closed her eyes and moaned again. Mike was disappointed he hadn't seen Adam's cock enter her, but he realized he was wrong a few moments later as Adam panned down her sexy, wriggling body. He wasn't inside her. Not yet at least. Instead, he was kneeling between her raised thighs, gently teasing her swollen clit with the head of his big cock.

"Oh God, put it in," she sighed.

Adam chuckled.

"You sure you want it?"

"God yes,"

Mike expected Adam to tease her longer and really make her beg. He sort of hoped he would actually, but Adam didn't seem to have the required patience, and Mike couldn't really blame him. Kate was so ready, all juicy and moaning sensuously. He began to press inside her, and her pussy seemed to swallow his fat prick. She gasped and sighed, and her body shuddered sensuously.

"Oh fuck, that's good," Kate moaned.

Adam filmed himself slowly fucking Mike's sexy wife, his thick shaft glistening with her wetness. Those slow, deep strokes had Kate beside herself. Her mewls of pleasure intensified, and she ran her hands over her belly and breasts.

"Here," Adam said, as he handed the phone back to Kate.

Kate aimed the camera between them so that Mike had a view down over her naked body, her heaving breasts and swollen nipples, her hips rising to meet Adam's thrusts, and the sight of another man's thick tool disappearing again and again inside his wife.

Adam dropped forward onto his hands. He began fucking Kate harder. The camera shook and Kate's sultry mewls turned into deep grunts and high-pitched squeals.

"Oh God. Oh God. Oh Gawddd!" she cried out.

She found it hard to keep the phone focused between them. The camera swirled and then at some point, she seemed to suddenly drop it. She cried out louder and louder. The bed creaked. His grunts grew louder as well. They seemed headed for a rapid, mutual climax, and maybe she came, but Adam was just getting started.

Mike listened as another man pounded his woman. She periodically seemed to grab for the phone to focus the camera on the action, but Adam was just fucking her too hard, and after a few moments, the image was again bouncing all over, sheets, ceiling, a shoulder. Through it all, her cries of passion continued unabated, louder and louder, intense and erotic. Mike wondered if Adam had neighbors, and whether they too were hearing his wife being driven to orgasmic bliss.

“Ugh, ugh, ugh. Oh God, Baby. Baby, baby. Oh God!”

It wasn’t just her sounds, but also the slap of flesh on flesh, the wet squishing as Adam pistoned inside her.

“Oh, oh, oh! Oh fuck. Ohhh fuckkkk!”

At some point, Mike had taken out his cock and he stroked it hard in time with his wife getting fucked. He could almost feel her pussy on his prick, wet and grasping. Almost experience her hot breath with each gasp. She hadn’t reached for the phone in a while, and Mike imagined her hands on Adam’s muscular ass, urging him to bang her harder and deeper. He was the biggest she’d ever had, and Mike was sure Kate was reminded of that with each plunging stroke.

“Oh yeah, oh yeah, oh yeahhh!” she cried out.

Her wild abandon was intoxicating, maddening. Mike gasped, and a jet of come arched from his cock. But unlike when he watched porn, he didn’t immediately turn off. There was a rush of shame, of course, but the excitement of hearing his wife getting expertly screwed overwhelmed that. His cock softened but didn’t fully deflate. He continued to stroke himself, his hand and shaft sloppy with his own come.

“Mmmmm, yeah. Mmmmm, yeah.” Kate moaned.

Adam had slowed enough to allow her to partially recover her wits. She picked up the phone again and panned it over her naked, sweaty body before focusing back on her face. She was flush and her eyes seemed glazed, as if she were literally drunk on sex.

“Oh God, Baby,” she cooed at her husband. “He’s fucking me sooo good and sooo deep.”

“I know.”

“Do you like it? Is this what you wanted? For me to become another man’s slut?”

Mike shivered in excitement. It was exactly what he’d wanted. He was embarrassed and terrified, but also amazingly charged.

“Yes.”

Adam continued to fuck her as they spoke. He pulled out slowly, making Kate moan and shudder, and then thrust back in hard, eliciting high squeals. He did it again and again.

“Ah, ah, ah, ugh. Ah, ah, ah ugh. Oh God Mike, he’s going to come inside me. Isn’t that right, Baby?”

Adam grunted in response and Mike grimaced when he realized that Baby was now Adam, and that she used that name for both of them. But her passion and her sweaty, heaving body drove that thought away.

“Ah, ah, ah, ugh. Ah, ah, ah ugh.”

Mike stroked himself faster. He was hard again.

“Oh, Baby, Babyyy, go ahead, come for me.”

Adam and Mike both sped up.

““Ah, ah, ah, ugh. Ah, ah, ah ugh.”

She managed to zoom in closer, Mike was mesmerized by the sight of Adam’s thick dong penetrating his wife. He stroked himself in time with the thrusts.

“Ah, ah, ah, ugh. Ah, ah, ah ugh.”

Adam’s groans got louder and louder. Mike was moaning in time. Adam thrust in hard, one last time, and shuddered between Kate’s legs. As he did, Mike came as well, coating his fist as another man filled his wife with jism.

Mike watched Adam pull out. She handed the phone to her lover, who carefully framed a shot of Kate’s wet, pulsing pussy. It was obscene and wildly exciting, but even as Mike stared at his wife’s well-fucked twat, he noticed a damp slurping sound in the background. Adam panned over Kate’s body, until the camera settled on the sight of Kate tenderly suckling on Adam’s fat cock. Cradling it between her palms, she sucked him deep. She seemed shockingly submissive, gratefully licking her juices off his impressive tool.

She glanced over at the phone and seemed surprised to see her husband there. She let Adam’s prick slip from her mouth, but continued to tenderly stroke it, keeping it close to her mouth in case she just needed another taste. Kate locked eyes with Mike.

Is this what you want? What you really want?

“Do you want to see more?” she asked,

They were going to fuck again. Of course, they were. New relationship energy. And she’d be coming home tomorrow. They’d take advantage of every available moment. Mike would have loved for her to dismiss Adam, and maybe spend the rest of the night linked electronically to Mike. Not even talking necessarily, but in a virtual cuddle. But that wasn’t realistic. He was in Hartford. And she was in Chicago... with Adam.

Kate licked and kissed the head of Adam’s cock as she waited for her husband’s response.

“I love you,” Mike said.

“I love you too,” she replied. She seemed to mean it, even if she was still fondling another man’s penis.

“Have fun you two.”

Kate smiled and Adam grunted his thanks off screen. Then Mike closed the connection. He finished off his booze as he sat with a puddle of his own jism in his lap.

Chapter Ten

There was less trepidation this time as Kate returned Sunday afternoon. They greeted each other chastely, as the kids were around, her saucy smile hinted at the fun they'd have later.

That night they met in their bedroom, with the door locked. Mike sat on the bed. Kate stood across the room from him. As before, the first thing he asked was for her to remove her clothes. He needed to see her naked, to see her body as she'd exposed it to Adam.

Kate had none of the butterflies that she'd had before. She didn't hesitate before stripping naked. She didn't cover her slit with her hands. And she didn't look away.

"You're so gorgeous," he groaned.

"Is that it?" she asked. "You just like the way I look? Or is it the way I behave now?"

"Both. But yes, sexy. You... you ooze it. I didn't...."

"Didn't know I had it in me?"

Mike began to protest, but she cut him off.

"I didn't know I had it in me either."

She approached her husband, and stood before him, hands on her hips. His gaze was drawn to the narrow slit that cleaved her mound.

"Do you want to eat my pussy?"

He looked up at her. "Did you...."

"I've showered since I was last with him. But I can't promise there isn't some of him left inside me. He puts it in pretty deep."

Mike didn't speak as Kate moved closer. She placed her foot on the bed and moved closer to him. Just inches from his face, he could detect a hint of pink glistening between her lips. He was drawn in, like a moth to a flame. His tongue flicked out. She sighed and placed her hand on the back of his head. Probing between her lips, he tasted her, fresh, slightly tangy. She was wetter than he realized, and her labia separated easily. He tongued her deeper, and she moaned louder.

"Oh, that's nice," she said. "Are you thinking of him?"

Mike didn't answer immediately, instead focusing on the way she responded to his tongue. But he was thinking about her with Adam, about how Adam had stretched her out, and left her gasping for breath and begging for more. She swayed gently, her fingertips massaging his scalp.

"Yes," he finally admitted. "You really like being with him."

She removed her foot from the bed. Mike worried he'd said the wrong thing. But then Kate dropped to her knees between his legs. She ran her hands gently up his thighs.

"I do. I love what he does to me. And what he lets me do to him. It's easy, you know, no kids, no house, no bills. Just two people, trying to please each other."

Kate unzipped Mike's shorts and eased them off. He removed his own shirt as she leaned in and ran her tongue up the underside of his cock. He shivered in excitement.

"He likes when I do that too."

She continued to tease his cock with just the tip of her tongue. She licked up and down the sides, and around the crown. She made small circles near the base of his shaft. It was subtle, just a small, little thing, but Mike knew it was something his wife had discovered in the many hours she and Adam had spent naked, in bed, just exploring new ways to arouse and satisfy one another.

"He liked this too," she said, as she took his balls into her mouth. Her tongue swirled over his scrotum. It was nice, but a little weird, and Mike tensed slightly. "Seems like you don't," she noted. "But how about this?"

She ducked beneath his balls and began licking his taint, moving closer toward.... He slid back on the bed.

"Too much," he said.

Kate giggled and slid up on the bed beside him. She continued to stroke his cock.

"That's okay. He doesn't much like that either. But I do."

Mike grunted at the veiled, but unmistakable, revelation that Adam had eaten his wife's ass. And that she'd enjoyed it. And it begged the further question....

"Did he also...." Mike struggled to find the words. "Was that just for fun, or was he, you know, getting you ready?"

Kate seemed momentarily puzzled, but then pieced it together.
“You want to know if we had anal sex?”

Mike nodded.

“Say it,” she said.

“Did you... um... have... anal sex?”

Kate leaned in and kissed his neck, and then whispered in his ear.
“Ask it like you really want to ask it.”

It was hard. They’d been together a long time, and with kids, they’d become even more prone to circumlocution and euphemisms. When your conversation is spotted with terms like “the potty” and “your weewee,” it is even more difficult to find an adult voice. It didn’t help that she was distracting him by sucking on his neck and stroking his cock.

“Did you let him... um... fuck... you... up the ass?”

“Ooooh, what a naughty thought. Should I have?”

Mike’s head spun. “I... I don’t know.”

“We talked about it,” she said.

He grunted softly as he imagined Kate and Adam, naked on his bed, hands gently exploring each other’s bodies. Their faces shiny with excitement as they discussed whether he was going to press his fat prick into her tight, virgin asshole.

“Did you?”

She shook her head. “No. I was too scared it would hurt. Should I have?”

“Would you? If I said yes?”

“Yes,” she said. “I would do that for you.”

“And for him.”

She laughed. “Yeah, he’d probably enjoy it. But I didn’t do it with him. Is that... something you want to try with me? Something you want me to do with him?”

Mike almost came right away, but he took a deep breath and the urgency dissipated. He couldn’t believe how lewd she’d become. Kate seemed to sense his thoughts.

“I know,” she said. “It’s hard to explain. It... I’ve tried to understand it myself. I don’t think it is anything special about Adam. You know, not like he’s some sort of Svengali. It’s just... there is no pressure. No... keeping score.”

“We keep score?”

“Don’t we?” she asked. “I think it’s normal. Not like anyone is taking advantage, I don’t think. But yeah, I keep track in the back of my mind about who’s been doing more laundry or whatever. In a relationship, you want to keep everything even, fair. And time is short. Even now, in the back of my head, I know we both have to be up early tomorrow, right?”

“It’s not like that with Adam?”

She shook her head. “No. There’s no pressure. So, we can play, experiment. I don’t really worry what he’ll think of me, or whatever.... I can’t really explain.”

It was reassuring, but also was a bit dispiriting because Mike knew that he would never be able to recreate that sort of carefree cocoon she could experience with Adam.

“But I’d like it to be like that between us,” she said. “Would you like to... um... try anal with me?”

It was tempting, so tempting. He thought about her riding him, reverse cowgirl, and the way her anus had winked at him invitingly. But then he worried that he’d hurt her. Or that things would be messy. And then they’d have to live with that for years to come.

“No. Not.... No, I don’t think so.”

Kate blinked, relieved, and Mike knew he’d made the right decision.

“I do want you inside me though,” she said.

She threw a leg over his body and slowly eased his prick into her hot, wet pussy. She winced slightly.

“You’re sore?”

She nodded. He thought of the late-night conversation he’d overheard between them. He knew her tenderness reminded her of Adam, and that she was only half in the room as a result. Kate confirmed it in her answer.

“Yes. We’re like bunnies when we’re together.”

She began to ride Mike’s cock up and down, slowly and sensuously, her palm flat on his chest, over his heart. Her breasts swayed gently.

“And he’s big.”

“And he’s big,” she admitted. “But we did it almost nonstop. The longest time between sessions was last night, when you kept us waiting.”

“When’d you sleep?”

“We didn’t. Not much,” she answered with a smile. “Play with my tits.”

Mike cupped his wife’s breasts and circled her nipples with his thumbs. She moaned softly and rolled her hips sensuously, sliding her pussy up and down his shaft.

“I like how you feel inside me,” she said.

“I like being inside you.”

She smiled. “Sharing me with another man does not mean you get less of me.”

“Are you saying you want to see him again?”

Kate tried to remain imperturbable, but her pussy fluttered and suddenly she seemed even wetter than before.

“Yes,” she admitted.

Her soreness had not worn off yet. She could still feel him inside her, but she was already thinking about seeing him again.

“Do you love him?”

Kate tensed and then leaned forward. Her breasts spread out across his chest. She kissed her husband tenderly on the lips.

“I love you,” she replied earnestly. “I love that you’re so kind and supportive. That you tolerate all my neuroses. I love that you are still so excited by me that you look for ways to deepen our passion. And I love that you love me so much that you’re willing to let me hurt you sometimes. And I hope that you know that I love you even when I do.”

Her eyes were damp with emotion. Mike knew his were as well.

“I know that,” he replied. “But do you love him?”

“Does it matter?”

“I don’t know. But... do you?”

She rose back up and began riding Mike again. She moved slowly, letting her pussy massage every inch of his cock. She reached back and gently fondled his balls.

“Do you like that, Baby?” she asked.

If she was trying to distract him from his question, it wasn’t going to work... even if it felt sooo good. “Yes, but—”

She put a finger to his lips. “How does it make you feel when we do this?”

“Amazing,” he admitted, “but, Kate—”

She silenced him again, this time by leaning forward and feeding a plump nipple into his mouth. He sucked on it instinctively, delighting in the way her body seemed to shudder in response.

“It’s like we’re connected, isn’t it? We’re two separate people, but right now, my pleasure is yours, and yours is mine.”

Kate straightened again. She placed her hands on Mike’s hips and began riding him faster.

“Ugh, that feels good, doesn’t it, Baby?” she said.

“Yeah,” he groaned. “But—”

“Play with my clit.”

Mike palmed his wife’s abdomen and began making hard, tight circles over her clit with his thumb.

She sucked in air through her teeth. “Ah fuck,” she moaned. “I love him when he’s inside me. Doing this to me.”

It hurt inside, but he understood. You can’t have sex with someone, especially again and again, without developing feelings. She moved faster still. Mike couldn’t speak. He just sighed and moaned in time with his wife. Kate gasped and stopped suddenly. Her pussy clenched again and again on his cock. It pushed him over the edge.

She melted onto him, her head resting on his rapidly beating chest. He ran his hand over her shoulders, enjoying the smoothness of her skin, and feeling the heat rising off her body. It was a moment of total peace, but Mike still churned inside.

Finally, he asked, “Kate? What about after?”

She didn’t move and he couldn’t see her expression, but he could tell she was thinking about how to answer, and in a way, that was an answer enough.

“I love you, Mike.”

He sighed. “I love you too.”

Chapter Eleven

Mike woke up cuddling his naked wife. It was dark out, and the alarm clock announced it was a bit after two o'clock in the morning. Even in sleep, she was desirable. Her skin was warm and soft, her curves enticing. If nothing else, this whole experience had made him even more aware than before about how beautiful and sexy his wife was.

He thought about what she'd said about having almost nonstop sex with Adam. If her lover woke up in the middle of the night like this, he'd probably begin kissing her neck and gently exploring her naked body until she stirred and sleepily began kissing him back. Their excitement growing moment by moment. It wouldn't be long before she was reaching back to guide his thick prick back inside her.

Mike's cock stiffened at the thought, but he couldn't bring himself to wake Kate. She was tired and needed her sleep, and they both had work in the morning. Instead, he rolled over and climbed out of bed, creeping silently across the room. He went into his study and began reviewing the texts she'd sent him, particularly the pictures.

While he'd focused on her body the first time around, this time he found himself drawn to her face, at least in those few pictures where it appeared. He found what he didn't even realize he was looking for. In each, she had a similar expression, expectant and excited, and most of all happy. He'd have liked to think it was about him; after all, she was sending pictures to her husband, but in the circumstance, it was obvious she was glowing thinking about Adam. And even if she wasn't in love, she was at least infatuated.

He reviewed the series of texts from Saturday night, when she and Adam had begged to be allowed to consummate their passion. He stared at that final, sultry image she'd sent, tits squeezed together and her pussy glistening with excitement. Even though she held a rose between her teeth, she was still visibly smiling.

Mike began to think about the passionate sex he'd witness afterward, how hard Adam had fucked his wife, and also how tenderly. But he kept being drawn back to the rose. There was something about it that held his attention, a vague feeling of deja vu. He tried to place it, and wondered if they had, either deliberately or by accident, recreated a scene from a famous painting, or maybe a movie. But that didn't seem to register. But there was something.

He scrolled back over previous texts, weeks of conversations and images. The text thread with his wife ran the gamut. Grocery lists, pictures of Becky at ballet, mundane chit-chat. He scanned over those, but he didn't slow until he got back to the texts of her weekend in New York. He paused at the last picture she'd sent him before meeting Adam for "drinks."

That smile. She had it even before she'd actually crossed the line with Adam. He'd charmed her quickly. Except... There was something off about the picture. The lingerie was new. When had she bought it? That day after he'd agreed she could meet up with Adam? And what had happened to the blouse she'd hung over the back of the chair? Mike couldn't remember dropping one off at the cleaners. And... then he saw it. On the nightstand, beside her rumpled bed, a single, red rose, displayed in a champagne flute.

Chapter Twelve

Mike didn't return to bed. He spent the rest of the night pondering the situation. In truth, his discovery only confirmed what he'd once suspected. Namely, that on Kate's first night in Manhattan she'd hooked up with Adam. She had asked him if she could. And Mike, feeling uncertain and vulnerable, had chickened out. But, obviously, she hadn't, even though she'd told Mike she'd honor his wishes. And then she misled him about what happened the following day.

It was a lie that became less devastating when Mike relented the following day. So, in one sense, it was a "no harm, no foul" situation. Kate's affair had begun before Mike agreed, but only by one night. A technicality. Not really a big deal.

Except...

It rankled. She'd lied. All the time when she was trying to talk Mike into letting his fantasy and her attraction come to fruition, she'd already spread her legs for another man. And it wasn't just her, it was Jenna too, who was surely in on the scheme. He recalled the conversation he'd had with her that Saturday, the way she'd called him brave for giving Kate the go-ahead. He blushed red in anger and embarrassment as he imagined the two of them laughing at his expense, probably just seconds after Kate finished gushing about Adam's huge prick.

He forced himself to calm down. Eyes closed, slow, deep breaths. All that was true. It was a betrayal and humiliating, but, in the grand scheme of things, just a white lie. He'd talk it over with Kate. She'd apologize. And all would be fine.

Except...

What if he hadn't come around? What if he'd changed his mind, and decided his fantasy was better as just a fantasy? Since Mike had gotten cold feet once, it was certainly possible he would again. When Kate had sex with Adam that Friday night, as Mike was now convinced had happened, she had to know that her husband might never come around. There was no guarantee of after-the-fact sanction, and so in a very real sense, it was cheating, plain and simple.

Of course, she'd gone to New York with the idea of maybe meeting a man. And that idea had been put in her head by Mike. She'd never even hinted at a fantasy affair until he raised the issue and she dismissed it at first. Even at the time, when he chickened out (or maybe came to his senses) on Friday evening, he knew that his vacillation might strike her as unreasonable. She'd overcome her self-conscious doubts to at least explore what was his fantasy. Having put herself out there, by what right did Mike pull the rug out from beneath her feet?

Except...

The more Mike thought about it over the next few hours, the more questions he had. The whole trip to New York seemed peculiar. Kate had always used the need to come home as a convenient excuse to ensure meetings didn't run on too long. In this case, she planned ahead to stay in the city. And not just stay in the city, but to book an expensive, romantic room in a luxury hotel. Something in all of that didn't add up.

As the sky gradually began to brighten outside, Mike's mood darkened. Part of it was lack of sleep that left him headachy and cranky, but even more was that gnawing realization that he was missing something. A sensation that he'd been played, not just by Kate, but also by Adam, and Jenna; that his wife had conspired with others against him. He felt a deep, angry shame because while he had often thought the idea of Kate being with another man was exciting, he'd never imagined that it would become known that he was a cuckold. In the grips of a fantasy, it is easy to forget to consider the day after.

Kate was cheerful that morning as she made breakfast for the kids and packed Mike's lunch. So cheerful, in fact, that it left Mike reeling. How could he feel so dark and she so light?

She was dressed for work in tight, black pants and a low-cut, sleeveless, red velvet top. It was the sort of outfit that had Mike, in the past, imagining how other men might ogle her, giving him an excited start to the day. Today it just added to his moroseness.

As he left for work, she gave him a saucy little grin, a kiss on the cheek, and said, "There's more where that came from."

Kate seemed to feel that nothing was wrong. Quite the contrary, that everything was great. Mike, tired, and somewhat confused, played along. He'd gone back and forth so many times during the night that he didn't know what to think any longer.

Work was mercifully busy, leaving Mike little time to think about his turbulent home life. On the commute home, he thought more about the situation. Having instigated Kate's affair, Mike knew he had to own the consequences. Jenna knowing was annoying, but he didn't really see her much, and of course Adam would know. There was no way around that. So, he just had to deal with the embarrassment of it.

As far as Kate jumping the gun.... Well, that was the right metaphor. He was willing, even eager, for her to run that particular race. And it had turned out beautifully, in a sense. Kate had enjoyed herself and seemed to be flowering sexually. Their sex life had already improved. It was a betrayal, but a small one.

Having talked himself around, Mike was able to play the dutiful father and husband role that evening. It was only behind their locked bedroom door that his anxiety rose again.

It shouldn't have. Or, at least, had Mike known beforehand how having an affair might transform Kate, he would never have imagined that it would provoke consternation. Tonight, Mike had read the last children's books and entered the bedroom with Kate already there. He could hear her in the master bathroom, humming softly to herself.

When she heard him close the door, she appeared. She was wearing that black lace, bra and thong set, the one from her supposed "first" night with Adam. She'd done up her eyes, and brightened her lips with lively, red lipstick. She looked ravishing, but Mike couldn't quite shake the association.

"Nice lingerie," he said.

She spun on her high heels, revealing the ass bisected by a narrow thong. "Oh, this little old thing?"

"What's, um, the occasion?"

Kate approached her husband. "I just wanted to give you a surprise. Last night was fun, but now that I am a little better rested, I thought I'd give you a treat befitting being the best husband in the world."

"What makes me such a good husband?"

She ran her fingernails up along the front of his dress shirt, and then across his neck. She palmed his cheeks and kissed him tenderly.

"You're kind. A great dad. You work hard to give us a nice life."

"You work too," I noted.

"Yes, but I don't have to, thanks to you. You're fun in bed. And," she paused and gave him an inviting smile, "you've encouraged me to have a lover."

"And you like that?"

She nodded. "More than I ever thought possible."

Mike again felt those dueling emotions. It hurt that she was so enamored with her new relationship, but it was also unimaginably exciting. Especially when she slowly dropped to her knees before him. She looked up at him with her smokey blue eyes.

"Is it okay if I suck your cock?"

He could only answer with a curt nod.

She smiled and unzipped his pants and carefully drew out his already hard prick. Before taking him into her mouth, she pressed down her bra, and drew out her large mounds. Then she effortlessly swallowed him whole. As good as it felt, Mike also knew that her ease came at least in part from her recent practice on Adam's much bigger member. He tried to focus on the moment, on his beautiful wife fellating him enthusiastically, on her playful tongue and active hands, but he couldn't stop picturing her doing the same thing for her lover. The madness of it was that those thoughts made him even harder and hungrier for her.

"I want to drink your come," she sighed.

She stroked him firmly, her mouth half-open beneath the head of his cock, ready to accept his load.

"Do you do that for him?"

"Every chance I get. And when he comes inside my pussy, I'll lick him clean just to get the last drops."

Mike knew that was true. He'd seen it on video. And as Kate pumped his shaft with her fist, the image in his mind was her tenderly sucking on Adam's fat, slick tool after he'd pounded her pussy raw. He came explosively, and Kate eagerly gulped down his jism.

"Does that feel better, Baby? Get all that nasty come out of your system?"

At that moment, with his beautiful wife acting like a perfect whore, Mike was ready to forgive and forget anything. She kept her foot on the accelerator. They moved over to the bed, and Kate helped strip him down. He was naked, but she remained in her sexy lingerie.

She curled up against him and started stroking him again, slowly, but firmly.

"I hope you know we're just getting started," she said. "I still have some more details to tell you from my trip. You want all the details, right?"

"Yes. No secrets between us."

Mike looked for a tell but saw none. Either Kate was getting comfortable with duplicity, or she hadn't made the connection to anything larger than the events of the past 48 hours.

"Well, let's see. You know what happened Friday night late, but not what happened when I first landed."

"Right."

"Actually... I probably should tell you something about the flight."

Mike jolted at that.

"What?" she asked. "What are you thinking?"

"Did you... have an encounter on the plane?"

She giggled. "Oh, you naughty, naughty boy. You think I might have joined the mile high club with another man while on my way to see my lover?"

"I... I don't know."

"Would that be wishful thinking by any chance?" She laughed again. "No, Honey, sorry to disappoint. No other man. Just my fingers. I didn't want to be too worked up when I first saw him. I figured a couple of orgasms might take the edge off.... It didn't."

She said the last words just inches from his ear, so he could feel her hot breath. She squeezed his cock at the same time, and for a second, Mike worried he was going to come again.

"He met me at the terminal. He gave me a hug and took my hand. I couldn't speak. I felt like I was a schoolgirl with her crush. He didn't say much either. Or maybe he did. I don't remember. All I could think about was how much I wanted him inside me."

Mike's cock was rock hard again. Kate released it before he blew and instead began making slow circles on his chest.

"When we got to the parking garage, I told him I couldn't wait. I leaned back against the passenger side door and lifted up my dress. He pulled my panties aside and put his dick inside me. I came right away, but that made me want more. I wanted it hard, but there were people walking by, so he had to fuck me slow, and make it look like we were just having an intense conversation."

She ran her fingertip over her husband's cock. It twitched ominously.

"I think you like the idea of your wife getting fucked, right there, out in the open, with people walking by."

"No," he groaned.

She teased the curly hair on his abdomen. "Are you sure? You certainly seem, um, primed. Anyway, I don't think anyone noticed, though, at the end, I was getting pretty loud, and not really paying much attention to anything other than his dick inside me."

"His big dick," Mike corrected.

"Hmmm. Yes. His big... thick... dick." She giggled. "You like it when I say it like that." He shook his head, but she knew better. "And then after he was done, and he was driving me to his place, I put my head in his lap and sucked that big... thick... dick all the way home. We were supposed to go out to dinner. He'd made reservations at a nice place, but we never got there. We fucked... and we fucked some more... and then again. And do you know what we did after?"

"You fucked?" Mike asked.

"No, Baby. I took a long shower, got all cleaned up, and then I called you. And then we fucked."

"I remember."

"I bet you do. What were you thinking about when you watched me with another man for the first time?"

"That it was hot. That you're so fucking sexy."

She batted her eyelashes and provocatively lifted a nipple to her mouth and licked it. "I bet you say that to all the girls."

“No, you’re amazing,” he gushed.

“Then why aren’t you fucking me?”

Mike felt as though he were navigating through a fog. He was so hard his dick ached. He was entranced with his wife, and also annoyed. Arousal and a swirl of emotions left him feeling unmoored. But yes. Why wasn’t he fucking her?

He looked over and saw that Kate had slipped off her thong and rolled onto her back. She pulled her knees back to her chest. She was completely open for him, just as she’d been for Adam, and that was exactly the image she was trying to conjure. Moving between her legs triggered a sense of deja vu, but it wasn’t his own experience he was reliving, but that of another man.

She smiled up at him. In a different situation it would have communicated eagerness, but Mike saw in it amusement at his confusion. Her pussy was captivating, pink, puffy, glistening with excitement. Millions of years of evolution compelled him to thrust his cock inside her, to rut wildly, and fill her with his seed. And maybe that instinct was even stronger precisely because another man had done the same so recently.

“Rub your cock on my clit,” she said.

It was what Adam had done. Mike wondered why she was asking for it. Was it just because she enjoyed it? Or did it better allow her to relive that night with Adam? Where was she in her head? With Mike or with Adam?

But it didn’t matter. Not in the moment. She was sprawled out before him deliciously. He rubbed his cockhead against her clit. She mewled and squirmed at the contact, giving him an irresistible rush of endorphins. He did it again, and her reaction was even more delicious, with a sultry moan, and a subtle thrust of her hips that allowed her puffy labia to caress his cock.

“Put it in,” she gasped.

His mind seemed cleaved in two. One side fuzzy with lust, deliriously enjoying his writhing spouse. The other, troubled by the suspicion that he was just a surrogate, a substitute for the man she would prefer, a stand-in allowing her to relive a recent moment of overwhelming passion.

He thrust inside. They moaned together. He slung his hips, driving his dick inside her. She lifted her butt off the bed to allow him to penetrate deeper. They moved together in a comfortable rhythm. He admired her every curve, delighted in the way her breasts spread out and jiggled, the way she sighed through pursed lips, her tongue flashing.

“Oh God, Baby,” she cried.

Her belly fluttered and her pussy clenched rapidly. He thrust all the way in, squeezing her hips. He came, and immediately felt lightheaded, collapsing onto the bed beside her.

“That worked,” she said with a laugh.

He nodded, not quite yet able to speak, particularly as his brain slowly knitted itself back together.

After cleaning up and turning out the lights, they cuddled in the dark. Mike’s mind roamed restlessly. At some point it had occurred to him to wonder if Kate knew Adam from before, and whether the trip to New York was itself part of the deception. Despite his exhaustion, he knew it would be another sleepless night.

Chapter Thirteen

Mike sat at his desk in his office. On the right were a series of folders containing documents he needed to review and edit. He looked at the pile but felt no desire to reach for one. He couldn't even imagine summoning up the energy and concentration he'd need to work his way through even one contract.

Instead, he turned toward the computer monitor to his left. He needed to know more about Adam.

Kate had mentioned that he was a teacher. That was a start. Most schools have faculty lists online to allow students and parents to contact them. Mike decided to focus on high schools first, since there are fewer men at the elementary and middle school levels. With a first name, a profession, and a general location, in and around Chicago, Mike hoped he'd be able to find his man.

Quick Google searches generated too many hits. Too many Adams in the mix, since he couldn't quite figure out how to get the search to focus just on staff rather than also bringing up any page that included students. Instead, he turned to the laborious process of searching through individual staff directories. Each one generated a couple of hits, producing after a couple of hours, a list of dozens of Adams teaching high school in Cook County.

Armed with this list, Mike tried to narrow it down, looking up the men on Facebook. Many of the names came up blank, but most provided a possible hit. Mike knew that it was very possible he'd already missed his man, but he plowed ahead. One problem was that he didn't know exactly what Kate's Adam looked like. In all the videos and pictures, Adam had been largely off-screen, and when he was on-screen, it was mostly snippets or odd angles, or body shots rather than head shots. Adam had dark hair, he was well-built, and he had a big cock. The latter, at least, didn't provide much help in narrowing down Facebook profiles.

Still, he had enough to cull the list. Of the Adams that appeared, he could disqualify many instantly. Some were too old, some Black or Asian, some blond, others too slender. He gradually whittled down the list to a dozen contenders, and then a second cut narrowed that down further. With full names to work with, his searches became more precise. Since Kate had gone to his place, he eliminated men who seemed to be married or even, judging by profile pics, in relationships. He'd come back to those if everyone else was eliminated, but by that process he got down to just two men: Adam Goldman, a chemistry teacher at South Side High School, and Adam Hunt, a journalism and English teacher at Evanston High School.

He researched both as closely as he could on Facebook and LinkedIn. He found a possible Adam Goldman on Instagram as well. But all he could see were public profiles, which provided little more than a name, job, and headshot. In order to get closer, he'd need to create plausible Facebook profiles and friend request them. That would take time.

It was getting late. He'd "worked" all day at this, ignoring lunch, and only stopping for a couple of quick bathroom breaks. He knew he was being insane and obsessive. He splashed water on his face hoping to break the frenzy, but the moment he got back to his office, he went right back to the search.

Kate buzzed with a text.

<Kate>: Hey, when are you coming home?

It was already after six o'clock.

<Mike>: Soon. Just finishing something up.

<Kate>: Don't be too late. Lasagna for dinner!

It was a cute message. Homey and domestic, and completely at odds with the fact that he'd spent the entire day trying to research his wife's lover.

He sighed to himself. Chances were that neither of the men he'd identified was Kate's Adam. He rose to head home, and then sat back down.

Without even thinking it through he looked up the number of the hotel in Cleveland where Kate had stayed her reunion weekend. He dialed and the front desk picked up.

"Ramada Inn, this is Trisha, how can I help you?"

"Um, I... Um....," Mike wasn't sure what to ask or precisely why he'd called. It was all instinct, and so he let his instinct run. "I was a guest there a few months ago, and I need another copy of my receipt sent to me."

"Okay, sir, I can help with that. What is your name?"

“Adam...” He paused. Goldman or Hunt. South Side or Evanston. He chose the latter. “Hunt. I was there the weekend of, um, March 20.”

“Yes, sir,” she said pleasantly. “Checked in March 21 and out March 24. Shall I send that to your Maple Avenue address? Or would you prefer it by email?”

He thought about it. Which would Adam be less likely to be curious about? Snail mail would take time, and Adam would likely see it as just some automated thing. An email would get him worried about an identity thief.

“Yes sir, I’ll get that out right away. Is there anything else I can help you with?”

Mike didn’t answer. The realization of what he’d just discovered finally registered. Adam Hunt, a handsome, broad shouldered, teacher from the Chicago area had been in the same hotel his wife had been, weeks before they’d even discussed her having an affair. That was no coincidence, and this thing with Adam was not, at all, what Kate had made it out to be.

“Sir?”

He didn’t answer. Instead, he gently placed the phone back in its cradle. He turned and stared out the window.

Chapter Fourteen

The split that Mike had felt forming in his mind was now complete. Two separate compartments, each functional, but distinct. It wasn't a matter of choice, but of necessity. As long as he didn't have a clear course of action to pursue, he needed to be able to live as normal a life as possible.

So, at times, Mike brooded darkly. His wife was a cheat, a liar, and a manipulator. She'd pretended to be fulfilling his fantasy, when really, she was just using it as a cover for her affair. Then, she sought to make him complicit in it by making it part of their sex lives. There was much that rankled, much that hurt. The worst was when he imagined her inner dialogue, which he suspected dripped with contempt at his naivete and credulity. He thought of her, lying in bed, naked, with Adam, ridiculing her pathetic, small-dicked loser of a husband. Or Kate getting tipsy with Jenna and laughing about how she'd turned her husband into a cuckold and made him think it was his idea rather than her own.

But he wouldn't allow himself to be that man at home, at least not around the children, and also not around Kate. He knew he'd have to reveal himself at some point, but he wasn't ready yet. Until he knew whether he planned to fight or flee, confront or cajole, lash out or hold her tight, he was going to play his cards close to the vest. Mike realized this was, in some ways, convenient. Kate was still hyper-sexual after her visit with Adam, and part of playing along involved keeping up the pretense that he too was turned on rather than angry at his wife's affair.

Hence the compartments. They allowed Mike to be both the angry, aggrieved husband, and also the grateful beneficiary of Kate's newfound concupiscence. She didn't disappoint. In the following days, his wife seemed to pull out all the stops.

She had taken to sleeping in the nude, which was sexy in itself, especially when they cuddled, and she rubbed her naked butt against his crotch while he had his hand lodged between her heavy breasts. It made sex the nightly default rather than the usual married exception.

One day she woke him by sucking on his morning wood. The combination of needing to pee and the sudden unexpectedness of it, ratcheted the intensity. His orgasm was almost painfully intense, and the fact that Kate swallowed it all, and then arose to start her day without any desire for reciprocation, was itself exciting.

Another day, after she climaxed while in missionary position, she urged him to straddle her chest and titty-fuck her. And when he was close, she said he could come on her face if he wanted. He chose her breasts instead, and then watched as she methodically scooped up every last drop with her fingers and then licked them clean.

A week passed and then another in an uneasy one-sided truce. Kate, of course, didn't know there was a war on.

But he couldn't stay in this cocoon permanently. He also noticed that she was spending a lot of time with her phone in private, and several times she arrived in bed already so aroused that it was hard to avoid the sensation that he was just a coda to her real sex life with Adam.

Still, Mike didn't complain when she called him into the bathroom one night, and found her bent over the sink naked, her pussy already swollen and juicy.

"Fuck me, Baby," she cooed as she gazed at him in the mirror.

He was hard in an instant and inside her in seconds. She was drenched and steamy. She moaned like a pornstar.

"Harder, Baby," she insisted.

He thrust in hard, and she cried out satisfyingly in a mix of excitement that makes a man think he's doing a good job, and a hint of distress that suggested he was so big she could barely take him. Her pale, plump ass jiggled, demanding attention, and without even thinking he gave her a firm spank. It was harder than he realized and sounded like a gunshot in the tiled bathroom. So loud that Mike was sure he'd gone too far.

But Kate paired a loud yelp with a sultry "Oh, Baby."

"You like that, don't you?"

"Mmmm, yeah, I—"

SLAP. He nailed her other asscheek, leaving a prominent, red, handprint.

"Oh Baby!"

He spanked her again. She began thrusting back against him, harder and harder, wildly, seemingly determined to make him come. He reached around and grabbed her big tits. He thrust into her aggressively, mauling her breasts. It was a visceral, purely physical act. A man taking pleasure from a voluptuous stranger. A drunken fuck in a seedy alley. Mike growled as he came.

“Oh God, oh God,” he sighed.

She chuckled as she straightened. His cock slipped out of her gooey twat.

“Hmmm, did you like that?” she asked.

“Yes,” Mike answered.

But then he noticed her phone, propped up on the counter. He knew Adam was on the other end, and that the question had been for him.

Mike quickly retreated from the bathroom. Kate didn’t seem to notice. She took her time “freshening up,” and likely assessing Adam’s reaction. Maybe even watching him jerk off in response.

Mike stripped down his boxers and tee shirt and climbed into bed. When she finally came back into the bedroom proper, she was in a skimpy nightdress. She climbed into bed beside her husband, and snuggled close to him. Her body radiated heat.

“You and Adam have a lot in common.”

“Oh.”

“You both like to see me have sex with other men.”

Mike didn’t know how to respond. He didn’t want to be compared to Adam. He was her husband and Adam was... a stunt cock. How could she talk about them as if they were two sides of the same coin?

Kate seemed oblivious to her husband’s growing discomfort. She slipped her hand under his tee shirt and traced circles on his belly.

“He says that if he can’t be with me, he thinks I should at least be making love to someone. He says it is a waste, otherwise.” She chuckled. “That sounds awful, doesn’t it? Like I’m just some sort of sex object. But, for some reason, I think it’s sort of hot. You know what I’m saying?”

“You’re very hot.”

She chuckled. “You have to say that. You’re my husband.”

“So, it’s better to hear it from a stranger?”

“I’m not sure he quite qualifies as that anymore. But... yeah, I guess. And I know men will say anything to get a woman into bed. But.... I think he means it. And, you know, it’s like, little ol’ me?”

Mike had wanted to be an engineer. Then in a college calculus class, he suddenly realized that ten minutes had passed where he understood nothing. He was paying attention. And each individual step made sense but taken together they seemed incoherent. That was what this conversation was like. He was following along, and yet, in the end, felt confused and lost. What was he supposed to think? To say? What was Kate looking for?

"I still," she continued, "don't completely understand what you are getting out of this. Can you tell me? I want this to be good for you as well."

Mike caught a glimmer of meaning now.

"Because you want to continue, right?"

"I mean, only if you want to."

It was a lie. A transparent one. Mike wondered if he was meant to believe it, or whether Kate's posture was purely performative, a set of words and attitudes she felt she had to display.

"I don't want this to be one-sided," she said. "What if... what if next time I was with Adam, you had someone with you?"

The words were clear, but they left Mike stumbling around in a fog. He wondered if that was the intention. He'd seen this in trials, a momentous admission buried immediately by a dramatic assertion. Next time with Adam. There, she'd placed it into the record as a done deal. And then the distraction. Someone with you.

He couldn't help himself. As much as he wanted to make her at least ask permission to see Adam again rather than claiming it as a right, he bit on her expertly dangled bait.

"What do you mean, someone?"

Kate grinned at her easy victory. The circles she made on his belly grew larger, her fingertips trailing across his abdomen, then lower until the back of her hand grazed his swelling member.

"Do you remember Jenna?"

He was immediately hard, and embarrassed when Kate noticed.

"I guess you do," she said.

"Um... yes... what about her?"

"Jenna is, um, adventurous."

Mike didn't need the reminder. He still regularly studied the selfie she'd sent of her naked with her black lover. He'd zoomed in on her narrow landing strip and shaved pussy, and imagined it being speared by a thick black cock. Not that that was the first time he'd fantasized about Jenna. From the first time he met her at an office party, he'd had lurid thoughts about what he might do to Kate's hot, little friend.

Kate continued, "She thinks it might be fun to be with you the next time you're watching me and Adam."

"Fun how?"

Kate closed her fist around her husband's hard cock. "You're both adults. Who knows what you two might get up to?"

"And you wouldn't mind if something happened?"

She eased off his boxers and stroked his prick firmly.

"I'd be disappointed if it didn't," she replied. "What's good for the goose is good for the gander."

And yet again, his mind operated in parallel. Egged on by his wife's expert handjob, he excitedly imagined Jenna, naked, swallowing his prick, while he watched his wife, in another room slobbering all over her lover's big tool. At the same time, he processed the other implication, that Kate was now so enamored with Adam that she didn't care any longer what he did.

His train of thought was interrupted as Kate took his hard prick into her hot, wet mouth.

"Oh God," he moaned.

She swallowed him to the root, and then slowly rose back off him, kissing the head, and then gazing up at him.

"Maybe if you two have fun, the three of us could get together someday."

She meant it to be a tempting, sexy offer. And it was. But Mike couldn't escape the subtext. I'll do anything to continue seeing Adam.

It hurt, and it was the pain rather than the anticipation of pleasure that broke him.

"So, when are you seeing him again?"

She couldn't contain her excitement. She positively shone. She stripped off her nightdress and rolled on top of him. Easing his cock into her wet pussy, she sighed contentedly.

"Maybe next weekend? My mom wants to spend some time with the kids anyway."

"Where?"

"He's coming to Boston."

Mike nodded as his wife slowly rode him. He realized that this had already been planned out. All of it. Adam, Jenna, and Kate. They were all in on it, and he was the last to know.

“Are you going to fuck her?” Kate asked.

“Huh?”

“Jenna? Are you going to fuck my slutty, little friend?”

“I... I don’t know.”

Kate leaned in. Her heavy breasts pressed against him, her swollen nipples sliding back and forth across his chest. She sucked on his ear lobe and whispered in his ear.

“I hope you do, Baby. I want you to fuck her while Adam fucks me.”

She ground against him harder, rubbing her clit against his pelvis. She was thinking of Adam inside her. He knew it. He was the surrogate now. Just something to take the edge off between her assignments.

“Are you thinking of his big cock inside you?” he asked.

She moaned. “Oh yeah, Baby. Are you thinking about Jenna’s tight pussy?”

“Yes,” he lied.

Like Kate he was really thinking about his wife with her lover. About how this big dick stranger had turned her inside out. How one night with his dick in Cleveland had completely upended their marriage.

Kate's excitement was infectious. As she got closer to her climax, he could feel her pussy gushing, twitching, her body radiating heat. She gasped sultrily in his ear. And when she came, he did as well.

Chapter Fifteen

Mike was alone in the house. The kids were at Kate’s mom’s for the weekend, and Kate had departed mid-afternoon for her own weekend with Adam in Boston.

He’d gotten home from work and showered. He shaved and made sure to trim his nose hairs. It was like he was going on a date himself.

Then he waited. The minutes passed slowly, and Mike had to fight off the suspicion that he’d been played. What if Jenna didn’t show? It would be easy enough to invent a sudden illness, or a conveniently timed “family emergency.” By the time he heard from Jenna, Kate would be with Adam, and well, since he’s come all this way...

The skies darkened with a spring rainstorm. There was a flash of lightning followed by a clap of thunder. The house shook. Yet another potential excuse for Jenna not to show.

He poured himself a drink. The bottle was almost empty. It had been full just a couple of days earlier. But then he’d made that call to the hotel in Cleveland, and ever since it had taken a daily dose of self-medication to keep himself sane, and not just sane, but in the role in which he’d cast himself. Tonight though, he knew that things would come to a head. If Jenna didn’t --

The doorbell rang.

He opened the door just as heavy drops of rain began to splatter in the driveway. Jenna rushed in carrying an overnight bag.

“Jesus, that was close,” she said with a laugh. “Is that for me?” she asked. Without waiting for an answer, she took his glass and drained it.

She was in black yoga pants and a vee neck cropped top.

“Um. Hi Jenna.”

She laughed again, a bit maniacally. Her dark blue eyes glimmered. “You think she’s sucking on his big ol’ cock yet?”

Mike groaned. “I need a drink.”

Jenna waved the glass she’d taken. “Me too!”

Mike cracked open a new bottle. Johnny Walker Black this time. He poured himself a generous serving, pondered it for a moment, and then gulped it down. It burned in his throat and heat blossomed in his chest. Even better, a pleasant fog filled his head. He refilled his glass and then brought the bottle out to his guest. He filled her glass as well. She held it and they clinked. She took a sip, and then licked her lips.

“You don’t seem happy to see me,” she said with a pout.

“I’m not really sure why you’re here.”

“I’m here to keep you company while your wife, um, spends the weekend with her boyfriend.”

“I mean, why you came.”

“I haven’t come yet, Sweetie.” She laughed at her own joke, and then added, “I like mayhem.”

It was all a game to her. Mike sighed. "This is my life."

"Oh, poor, poor baby, your hot wife gives you your biggest fantasy, fucks your brains out every chance she gets, and then hooks you up with her slutty friend. Woe is me." She lifted her hand to her forehead and pantomimed a swoon. "How will I survive?"

"That's not.... You don't...."

She laughed and finished her drink. She held out her glass. He gave her another generous pour.

"Are you trying to get me drunk?"

Mike sighed again. "You're the one who keeps—"

Her giggle cut him short. "Oh Mikey, you are not having fun, are you?"

"I don't know," he admitted.

She took his hand and led him over to the sofa. He resisted as she tried to yank him down to sit beside her, but she just pulled harder, and he surrendered. She threw her legs over his and wrapped her free arm around his neck.

"Tell me all about it."

"Jenna... look, this...."

"Are you trying to get rid of me?" She clamped her arm tighter around him. "I don't think so."

He sighed.

"Come on, out with it," she demanded.

He remained mute.

She drained her glass again and leaned over to place it on the coffee table. She straightened and palmed his chest, moving her face close to his. Her breath was boozy and hot.

"Go ahead and tell me everything that is going wrong for you."

"You can stop mocking me. And tell me why you are here."

She shrugged. "Honestly, I thought it might be fun to sit on your dick while you watched your wife get fucked by another man. I'm kinky that way. But it seems like you're more interested in wallowing in your own, what.... That's what I don't get. This was your idea."

"Maybe Kate likes it too much," Mike said.

"Oh Honey. Really? Isn't that the whole point? Seeing her totally lose her shit over this other guy?"

It was frustrating. She was right, of course. But that didn't account for the betrayal, and that was the one thing he couldn't share with Jenna. Not yet at least.

"Do you think she loves him?" he asked.

Jenna hesitated, and Mike's heart sank. "That's an interesting qu—"

Mike's phone buzzed with an incoming text. He didn't check it right away, instead looking at Jenna in the hopes she'd finish her thought.

She didn't though. "You should check that," she said.

<Kate>: Hi Baby. Are you ready for some fun?

He showed the text to Jenna, who smirked.

"I bet she's already had some fun," Jenna said.

<Mike>: Jenna thinks you've already had some fun.

<Kate>: Takes a slut to know a slut.

Mike groaned feeling the situation continue to spiral out of his control.

<Kate>: She's right, though. I sucked his cock.

It conjured up that familiar witches' brew of excitement, anger, and humiliation.

Jenna chuckled as she read the text. "Well, fuck, looks like we're falling behind." With that she leaned back and yanked off her top, exposing her firm titties. "Not as big as Kate's," she said. "But you know what they say, anything more than a mouthful is wasted."

Mike stared at her perfect breasts. Jenna really was a free spirit. She'd never so much as hinted at being interested in him, and yet, here she was, topless in his lap. She rose up slightly and pulled his head to her chest. He sucked gently on the offered nipple.

His phone buzzed again.

<Kate>: So are we doing this?

Jenna read the text. "Can you mirror your phone on the TV?"

"Um, I think so."

"Go ahead and set it up. I want to see Kate's pussy getting stretched on a big screen."

She climbed off his lap and pushed him off the sofa. Mike rose and crab-walked to hide his erection, but Jenna just chuckled.

"You don't need to hide it. I'd be offended if I didn't get you hard."

Mike still felt awkward with his pants tented, even as he picked up the remote, turned on the TV, and adjusted the input. Jenna had stripped off her yoga pants, and was sitting cross-legged on the sofa, naked, and apparently completely at ease with her bare pussy on display. She clicked on Kate's text and brought up Facetime. The phone rang once and Kate picked up.

"You're an impatient little whore, aren't you?" Jenna teased.

The phone mirrored on the screen, and Mike jolted at the sight of his wife, looking right at him.

"You're one to talk. Lose your clothes already?" Kate replied.

It took Mike a moment to realize that even though he could see his wife, she was looking at her friend through the phone's camera.

"Yeah, but Mike is being a prude."

Jenna swung the camera around to focus on Mike, who awkwardly covered his erection. Kate chuckled.

"Looks like he likes what he sees," Kate said.

"What are you guys up to?" Jenna asked.

Kate raised her arm and gave them a better angle. She and Adam were in bed naked. Mike noted his awkward grin, broad chest, and his wife stroking her lover's big tool.

Jenna yelped in delight. "Let him hold the phone, and you get that big dick in your mouth, you worthless cunt."

Kate laughed, which Mike found a little shocking. Just a few months ago, none of this would have seemed at all plausible. The whole situation was completely surreal. And disturbing.

When he first shared his fantasy, Kate had thrown cold water on it, and even once she seemed to go lukewarm, she still made clear that she had no interest in him being with another woman. So, what had changed? Was she embracing desires she'd been too embarrassed or scared to in the past? Or had she just stopped caring about what Mike did and with whom?

His thoughts were cut short by the image that appeared on the TV. He'd so far watched Kate and Adam only on his phone. But here she was in 4K UHD, on a 60-inch screen. Adam was holding the phone, and his wife was stroking his big cock, eyes wide and shining with excitement, her lips wet as she lowered herself toward him. The detail was overwhelming. It was as if she was in the room with them. The audio added to the experience.

Her blowjob was wet and eager, with slurps punctuated by moans as she seemed to draw pleasure from pleasuring him.

Standing and staring at the TV, Mike didn't even notice Jenna kneeling before him, not until she began unzipping his pants. He looked down at Jenna, but Kate's sloppy work on Adam's knob demanded his attention. Jenna sucked him deep into her mouth. He gasped. So did Adam. Jenna kept an eye on the TV and sought to match Kate's pace. The sensation was extraordinarily intense. The combination of Jenna's talented mouth and the visual of his wife slobbering on her lover's dick was overwhelming, mind blowing.

"Slow down," Mike moaned.

Jenna looked up at him and managed to shake her head without missing a stroke.

"I'm going to—"

He glanced at the screen. Adam was running his fingers through Kate's hair, and he was rocking his hips, plunging his cock into her mouth as she bobbed up and down. She made gagging and choking sounds but didn't slow. Another man was face-fucking his wife, and she loved it.

Mike came suddenly.

Suddenly to him, at least, though not apparently to Jenna who swallowed his load as if she'd been waiting for it, even making sexy little mewls as she did. She looked up at him and smirked as she licked the last drops of jism from his cock.

On screen, Adam was still enjoying Kate's mouth. He panned the camera across her voluptuous body, pausing lecherously on her tits and her ass, reaching out to get a shot of her pussy, swollen and glistening with excitement.

"Oooh," Jenna cooed, "she's such a juicy little cunt. She can't wait to get that big dick inside her."

Heat rose in Mike's cheeks. Jenna laughed at his embarrassment. She rose to her feet, and then stood on her tiptoes. She trailed her fingernails gently across his chin and throat.

"I love how conflicted you are about all of this," she teased. "The way it gets you all hot and bothered and angry and resentful. I wish I loved someone enough to get that worked up. But, in the meantime, I need my pussy licked."

She placed her hands on his shoulders and pressed him down to his knees. She slipped two fingers between her labia and then pressed them into his mouth as she cupped the back of his head and pulled him close. Mike began licking Jenna's snatch.

"That's it, Baby, get your tongue nice and deep."

Out of the corner of his eye, Mike could still see the screen. Again, they were mirror-imaged, though differently now. Whereas before both men were being fellated, in this iteration it was Kate and Mike, each servicing their respective lovers.

Jenna was juicy and tasty, thrusting against him lewdly, and rewarding his probing tongue with sultry moans. On the screen, Adam propped the phone up against a pillow to free his hands. He began massaging Kate's swaying breasts with one hand, while cupping her ass with the other. Kate gasped as Adam began probing her hot, little pussy.

Mike matched Adam, slipping his finger into Jenna's hot, wet pussy. "Hmm, that's nice. But don't make me come too soon. I want to wait until he's inside her."

Kate moaned around Adam's fat prick. Her hips began pumping lewdly. Jenna moaned and began humping Mike's mouth faster in time with her friend's gyrations.

Adam framed Kate's face as she bobbed up and down on his prick. Mike could see his wife's tongue swirling the other man's tool. Finally, she let his cock slide from her mouth. She stroked it and eyed her lover hungrily.

"Please fuck me," Kate cooed. She stroked his meat and kissed the head. "Please." It was part of the show, but Kate's ardor was unmistakable. More tender kisses. Another sultry "Please."

Adam must have nodded positively because Kate spun around and got on all fours for him. She looked back over her shoulder at the camera. Adam panned down her body and paused at her ass. Kate was reaching back, spreading her cheeks, giving Adam and the camera a peek of her juicy cunt and puckered asshole. Adam rubbed his cock up and down her slit. Kate moaned desperately. He slid the cock further and placed it against her anus. Kate shivered but didn't pull away.

"He's going to fuck her ass," Jenna gasped. Her pussy gushed.

Mike was rock hard again. But Adam didn't take the opportunity that Kate was so clearly making available. Instead, he repositioned his prick and pressed that fat tool into her juicy pussy. Kate cried out excitedly, her hand reaching back to fondle Adam's balls as he slowly fucked her.

Jenna dropped onto all fours as well, her eyes glued to the screen. Mike moved behind her and entered her as well. Adam angled the phone to a close-up of his prick filling Kate's bare cunt.

Jenna looked back at Mike. "Do you see how he stretches her out? Look at the way her lips cling to his shaft."

Mike nodded. He'd noticed it as well. As nice as Jenna's pussy felt around his cock, he knew it was nothing compared to what Adam was doing to Kate. And Mike also knew that it was the voyeuristic rush rather than his own fucking that was making Jenna so hot.

On screen, Kate moaned and her whole body shuddered. Jenna sighed. "See how hard he makes her come? She's creaming all over that big cock. Fuck... that's hot."

Jenna's pussy spasmed and she rocked back harder against Mike, her ass gyrating. Mike groaned and came inside Jenna's juicy twat. But Adam was just getting started. He railed Kate hard. Her excitement rose again. And again.

Chapter Sixteen

Jenna did her best to keep Mike distracted. She was fit, sexy, and seemed perpetually horny. And if Mike could have gotten out of his head for even a few minutes, he would have to admit it was one of the best weekends of sex he'd ever had.

But Mike couldn't shed the realization that this was a shoddy payoff. Giving him Jenna was Kate's way of assuaging her own guilt. And though Jenna was sexual enough that she clearly got some enjoyment out of the weekend, it was nothing compared to the heights of passion Adam unleashed in Kate. It wasn't just his dick. It was the connection they had, and Mike continued to wonder if this relationship hadn't started even before Cleveland.

Kate's return followed the now-established pattern. She was insatiable. Reliving the details of her time with Adam brought her to the verge of climax even before Mike touched her. And though the debrief was ostensibly for him, Mike realized that it was also for Kate. She got off on remembering and describing her time with Adam. She also spoke about "next time" as a foregone conclusion. There was no more talk about the Graces or the man who'd offered her $3000. The fantasy was just a shell. A pretext. Her relationship with Adam was an end in itself.

Mike and Kate lay in bed naked. They had just fucked to Kate's detailed description of Adam folding her in two and pounding into her from above. She was caressing herself absentmindedly, clearly still as much in bed with her lover as her husband.

"I think next time, I'd like to be in the room with you two," Mike said.

Kate stiffened.

"Is that a problem?"

"Uh, no. I mean, it might be a little awkward. I don't know what Adam would think."

Mike stifled a surge of anger. Adam's feelings were irrelevant. "I'm sure if you told him it was what you wanted...."

That was precisely the problem, of course. It wasn't what Kate wanted. Kate wanted Adam. She wanted his cock and his body. She wanted that connection and spark. The videos, Jenna, everything else was the price she was willing to pay to get what she wanted.

She pulled up the sheet over her nakedness. "Right, well, I'll ask."

Kate clearly hoped that Mike would forget his request. But he wouldn't let her off the hook. Just as he granted the inevitability of Kate seeing Adam again, he also spoke about the three of them in the same room as a fait accomplis.

It turned into a bargaining session. Would the three of them be together the whole time? Would she get the chance to be alone with Adam at least part of the time? Kate tried to couch it in terms of her shared fantasy with her husband, but Mike knew she was really negotiating for herself.

Mike finally wore her down. She had no choice. Not really. As long as she wanted to see Adam, she'd have to play Mike's game. Mike made concessions. They'd meet for a weekend. Friday night the three of them in the same room. Saturday night Kate would spend with her lover.

They agreed to meet in Pittsburgh. Two sets of rooms at the Fairmont.

Chapter Seventeen

Kate and Mike arrived first. Kate was clearly nervous as they checked into their suite. Mike ignored his wife's discomfort. Instead, he hyped up his excitement at seeing Kate fuck Adam in person. It was easy. As angry as he was, Mike was also still turned on. His mind was still split in two. The thought of seeing another man fuck his hotwife... to hear her moans in person... feel the heat of her breath... fondle her shivering body as another man penetrated her.... It was everything he'd ever fantasized about and more... and less somehow.

Adam called to announce he'd arrived. The plan was to meet for dinner and drinks and then return to their suite for the evening.

Kate showered and dressed. She wore a tight, short black bodycon dress. It barely covered her ass. Beneath she wore a sheer thong and bra. In just her underwear, Mike could admire her shaved snatch and her plump nipples. She wore a lace choker and stiletto heels. Mike had picked it all out.

Adam knocked on their door and Mike opened it. Mike was wearing a gray suit with a black shirt and no tie. Adam looked fetching in tailored black pants and a tight, dark mauve sweater that highlighted his broad chest and strong arms. He was a handsome devil, Mike had to admit. Maybe even better looking in person than in those shaky videos.

The sexual tension between Adam and Kate was palpable. Had Mike not been there, they would have torn off each other's clothes. As it was, they seemed almost unable to resist the urge.

"Hey," Adam said to Kate.

"Hey," she replied.

Mike suppressed a grin as he remained between them. He held out his hand to Adam.

"Nice to finally meet the man who gets my wife so hot and bothered."

"Nice to meet you too," Adam replied. "You don't know how grateful I am to have met your wife."

“Oh, I think I have an idea.” Kate and Adam continued to eyefuck each other. “So, shall we get some drinks and dinner?” Mike asked.

Adam clapped Mike on the shoulder. “It’s on me. But... do you think Kate and I could have a few minutes? Maybe you can get us a table?”

Mike burned. The audacity of the man. Kate’s body language was unambiguous. Mike surrendered.

“Okay, but don’t take too long.”

He exited the room and stood on the other side of the closed door. From inside, he heard a loud moan. Unmistakably Kate. Obviously, the result of Adam’s big dick sliding deep into her pussy. Mike heard the slap slap of flesh on flesh. He could imagine Kate, her hands flat on the sideboard. Her dress hiked up, and thong pulled to the side. Her juicy pussy speared by Adam’s huge prick. Their coupling was urgent. Desperate. Passion unleashed.

Mike forced himself to walk away. He took the elevator down to the restaurant. Seated at his table, Mike sipped on a glass of champagne. Upstairs his wife was getting fucked. But he’d get the last laugh.

Kate and Adam joined him after a quarter of an hour. Just enough time for a quick, tension-relieving fuck, and probably a few minutes of discussion about how to handle the evening.

Mike poured champagne for his arrivals.

“Hope you don’t mind, I ordered some bubbly. This isn’t going to be too expensive, is it?”

“Well, I don’t quite make what a lawyer does,” Adam replied. “But I do okay.”

“You definitely do. So... do you often have affairs with married women?”

Kate rolled her eyes. Mike ignored it. Her cunt was probably still throbbing from Adam’s cock. She didn’t get to have airs.

Adam chuckled. “Not usually. But then again, I don’t often meet women as beautiful as your wife, married or not.”

“Dumb luck, isn’t it?” Mike mused. “I mean, if Kate and I hadn’t been talking about the whole hotwife fantasy.... What were you doing in New York that weekend? The weekend you first met.”

Kate gazed quickly at Adam. Mike kept his face neutral. His wife couldn't get enough of Adam's prick, but her expression seemed to express fear that Adam would get caught in a trap. I don't fuck as well as he does, Mike thought, but Kate doesn't seem really confident about Adam's wits.

“I like to travel. It's one of the perks of being unmarried,” Adam replied. “So... tourism.”

“Nice. Most people just take the Circle Line. You got balls deep.”

“Jesus, Mike,” Kate groused.

“Isn't he leaking out of you even now?”

She looked down. Adam cocked his head. “Dude, we okay here? What Kate and I do is... no secret, right?”

Mike smirked. “I'm just having a little fun. I mean, this is a weird situation, isn't it? What am I supposed to say? I hope her cunt felt as good as you remembered?”

“He's not leaking out of me,” Kate interjected. “I swallowed. Adam has the tastiest come I've ever had.”

Mike ignored the jibe. “I guess I'll need to ask about your diet,” he said. “You know, Kate never used to swallow for me. Guess she's developed a taste for it.” Adam and Kate exchanged a glance. Mike lifted his menu. “Alright, so... what looks good?”

It wasn't that Mike was deliberately trying to be obnoxious. But it was also one of the few sources of power he could assert. As long as Kate intended to maintain the pretense that everything was above board, she needed her husband's cooperation to continue her affair. That was thin gruel however, as their greeting quickie demonstrated. Watching them together removed any remaining doubt. It was not Mike and Kate meeting their stunt cock. It was Kate and Adam humoring Mike long enough to be able to be rid of him. For them, tonight was a chore. Tomorrow would be the real fun.

Provoking those reactions was another benefit of being crude and difficult. Seeing Kate turn to Adam for reassurance was devastating. Adam's cock driving her crazy was searingly painful, and wildly exciting. The realization that it was more than the sex, much more, that there was affection and mutual respect between them that put Mike into a mood to lash out.

Dinner passed awkwardly. They talked about the food and Pittsburgh. They talked about TV shows. It felt to Mike as if Kate and Adam were trying to make it all seem normal, when things were anything but. He couldn't shake the sound of them fucking behind the door. Over dessert, he finally broached it.

"It's too bad you two couldn't wait. Isn't the anticipation fun?"

Adam shrugged. "We don't get to see each other every day. I've been anticipating this for weeks."

Mike palmed his wife's thigh. "This one doesn't make it easy for you, does she? She doesn't mention it to me, but I know you two are sexting all the time."

"Not all the time," Kate replied.

He squeezed her thigh and slipped his hand between her legs.

"It's okay. Keeps her cunt nice and juicy for me."

"Mike, do you have to be so—" She didn't complete the thought.

"What? Crude? I mean, that's what this is all about. We're going to go upstairs in a few minutes and fuck, aren't we?"

"Maybe we shouldn't," she replied.

"Thinking maybe you just want to be with him tonight?" Mike asked.

She hesitated, then replied. "No. I'm here with you. But you don't have to be... snippy."

Mike bit his tongue. "I'm sorry. This is a little hard for me. And your little greeting get-together left me feeling left out."

She nodded. "I'm sorry about that. We let our... enthusiasm get away with us."

"That happens," Mike noted.

She didn't bite further and Mike turned to Adam. "What's your favorite thing about my wife?"

Adam took a sip of coffee. "She's smart, funny, sexy... what isn't there to like? I'm not sure you realize how lucky you are."

"Oh, I do. But come on, we're not at the 'getting to know you' stage. I was thinking more... which of her pretty little holes do you like best?"

“Honestly, what I like best is seeing her come.”

Mike eased his hand beneath her thong and traced her damp slit.

“Can you still feel him inside you?”

She placed her hand over his. “What do you want me to say?”

“Just the truth, Honey. How much do you want his dick?”

“I want both of you.”

“How?”

“I want to suck your cock while Adam fucks me.”

Mike finished his chocolate cake.

“What do you think?” he asked Adam.

“Seems like a plan.”

They went upstairs. Kate between her men, holding hands with both. Mike was aware of the gazes that followed them. There was no mystery what was going on. Anyone observing them would know a threesome was in the offing. That the hot blonde with the big tits was going to get tag teamed.

In their big suite, Mike turned on some music. Adam took a seat in the armchair. Kate remained standing.

“Are you sure you want to do this Mike?” she asked.

He approached her. “Of course. This is my fantasy, isn’t it?”

He could see the skepticism in her eyes. Still, she nodded.

He kissed her. “Thank you for making this come true.” He pressed his hand up under her dress. “You’re wet for him.”

“For both of you.”

He knew it was a lie. He lifted the hem of her dress up over her ass, exposing her bottom to Adam.

“Tell me about the first time you fucked her.”

Adam cleared his throat. “It was in New York. We met for drinks and... one thing led to another.”

“When did you realize you were going to have her?”

“I knew when she agreed to see me again. We had a lot of chemistry, and I knew.”

Mike pulled aside her thong and grabbed a handful of her ass. “How’d you do it? Tell me about the first time you made me a cuckold.”

Kate resolutely refused to make eye contact with Adam. Her lover proceeded cautiously, hoping not to step into a conflict with something she’d told Mike.

“There was a lot of kissing. Fondling. I was a little overwhelmed. She’s a lot of woman.”

“And you’re a lot of man,” Mike noted. He pressed his finger up inside her. “Were you scared when you first saw his dick?”

“A little,” she moaned. “But mostly excited. I could barely get him in my mouth, but I knew he’d fit perfectly in my pussy.”

Mike churned a finger into his wife’s juicy slit. “Just knew, did you?”

She nodded and smiled. Her eyes were glassy. “I did.”

Mike pulled his wife’s ass cheeks apart. He nodded at Adam. “Come fuck her.”

“Kate?” Adam inquired.

“Do it,” she sighed, her gaze locked on her husband.

Adam rose. His pants were tented, but he moved confidently. He strode up to Mike and Kate. She spread her legs slightly. Adam fished out his thick, hard cock. Mike spread his wife’s ass cheeks and offered her to her lover. Adam rubbed his prick up and down her slit. She thrust back toward him and moaned as his prick slid inside her.

Mike held his trembling wife as another man fucked her slowly. He peeled her dress off her shoulders and tweaked her hard nipples through her sheer bra. Kate moaned sensuously. Holding his wife’s trembling body, Mike felt his anger wane as his excitement waxed. So what if she’s cheated on him if he could be part of... this? He looked at his gorgeous wife. Her eyes were closed, lips pursed. She moaned softly in time with Adam’s strokes, which Mike could feel transmitted through his wife’s luscious body.

Mike had moved his hands when Adam approached, an instinctive reaction to avoid contact with another man. But as Adam slowly fucked his wife, Mike became bolder. He palmed her abdomen, sliding lower, two fingers to either side of her cunt, the base of his hand pressed against her swollen clit. He was as close to Adam’s cock as possible without actually touching it. He could feel the other man's thrusts viscerally. Kate's gasps. Her shivering body. And now he could feel her pussy stretching to accommodate him, feel the way he filled her.

Kate came suddenly and beautifully. A sultry moan. A full-body shudder. Her eyes closed tight.

"Oh God," she gasped as she fell to her knees.

Adam's cock slipped out and Mike couldn't resist staring at it, massive, glistening with his wife's juices, and ready for more.

Kate's dress was up over her ass and pulled down past her tits. Wordlessly, the men stripped her. Adam lifted her dress over her head. Mike removed her bra. They left her thong and heels on, and Kate got on all fours.

She looked up at Mike. "I want to suck you."

He nodded and freed his cock. She swallowed him whole just as Adam kneeled behind her and entered her again. She moaned, hot and sultry, on her husband's prick. Adam was chasing his own pleasure. He fucked Kate hard, forcing her onto Mike's cock. Each deep, forceful penetration leaving her gasping for breath. Mike groaned. His wife was on fire, set alight by another man. It was maybe the best head she'd ever given, but his pleasure was bittersweet. There was no doubt he was second fiddle.

Adam came suddenly with a loud moan. And when he pulled out, Kate sighed. Even as she sucked her husband, Mike could feel her disappointment at no longer having Adam's cock inside her. It felt like a slap.

Mike cupped her chin. "I want to fuck you."

Kate nodded. But then added a warning, "He just finished inside me."

"I know."

Mike quickly stripped down and lay back on the king bed. He pulled Kate onto him. She straddled him, sitting up, her big tits thrust out. Mike's cock was rock hard. Kate reached down and aimed his prick at her swollen sex. He thrust upward into her. She was so wet. And Adam has stretched her out. She was loose, hot, and slutty. And though he was sure it was his imagination, it felt as if his cock was swimming in Adam's jism.

Mike cupped the back of Kate's neck and pulled her close. He sucked on her swollen nips and kissed her passionately. It was amazing. Her body was so hot, so sexy, so exciting. But then the doubt. That was all Adam's doing. And in the back of his mind, Mike knew that Kate was just fucking him to buy time for Adam to get back to takeoff.

His orgasm, which had been imminent, receded. She was still hot and sexy. But she was also a cheat. A liar.

Mike cupped her ass and spread her cheeks. He thrust up inside her, and felt her juices and Adam's come leaking onto his balls. He dipped his thumb in the excess fluid and teased her anus. Kate moaned softly.

"I... Kate... there is one thing I really want," Mike sighed.

Kate sighed. "My butt?"

Mike shook his head. "No. I... I'm so embarrassed, but..."

"What Baby?"

"I... I want us both inside you at the same time."

"I don't under—"

Mike pressed his thumb into his wife's ass. She hissed excitedly. It was so tight and hot.

"I want Adam to fuck your ass while I'm in your pussy."

Kate ground against her husband. "Maybe later, Baby. Isn't this good enough?"

Mike craned upward and whispered in Kate's ear. "I want it. Now. I don't want to wait until our next trip to Cleveland."

Kate's eyes went wide.

Mike nodded. "I know."

Kate gulped.

Mike churned his thumb into her butt. "Adam, come fuck her ass."

"Kate?" he asked.

Eyes fixed on her husband, she nodded. "I want you in my ass."

"Are you sure—"

"Yes," she hissed.

Adam stripped off his clothes. He was hard again. The offer of her butt got him the rest of the way to ready. But he hesitated. They'd never done that before. Adam didn't even know if she ever had. And her preparation was limited to a little come and a thumb in her ass.

"Do it," Mike said.

"Kate?" Adam asked again.

"Fuck my ass," she demanded. Her tone was clipped, demanding.

Her insistence overwhelmed Adam's reticence. He placed his hard prick at her anal opening.

"Do it," she hissed, eyes locked on her husband.

Adam pressed at her opening. She gasped and then pressed back against him. He entered her. She hissed in pain.

"Are you okay?" Adam asked.

"She loves it," Mike insisted.

"Deeper," she grunted, her eyes tight and rimmed with tears.

Adam obeyed. His fat prick pressed deeper into Kate's virgin ass. Her body quivered. She groaned in pain.

"Kate?" Adam asked again.

"I want him to come in your ass," Mike said.

Kate swallowed and peered back at Adam. "Fuck my ass hard, Baby. Fuck me until you come."

"Are you sure?"

"Do it," Kate hissed.

Adam thrust in deeper. Mike gasped as he felt Adam stretch his wife's ass through the thin membrane separating her ass and cunt. Kate's body was sweaty, shivering. Her face expressed the pain of a big dick in her poorly prepared ass, but to Adam, she presented the impression of a hot slut. She rocked back against him, taking him deeper.

"He's balls deep in my ass," she grunted. "You happy, Baby? Another man is fucking me up the ass. Are you happy?"

"Yes," Mike moaned. Then to Adam. "Harder dude. Make that slut feel it."

Adam hesitated, but Kate urged him on. "Do it, Stud."

Adam fucked her harder, pounding into Kate. She moaned like a good little slut, but her face was contorted by the pain of that oversized prick in her ass. She hid it from Adam. Only Mike could see her penance.

Adam groaned, and Mike could feel him release inside his wife's ass. Then he pulled out from her battered butthole. Mike felt a gush of jism leak out onto his balls.

"You happy, Baby?" Kate asked. She continued to ride him, but there was no love, no passion there. Just anger.

"Are you?" Mike asked.

She kissed him hard, but without meaning or emotion, an act of aggression. “I’m just a dumb whore, right Baby?” He didn’t answer. She ground against him hard and whispered in his ear. “You’ll never get that. Remember that.”

Her taunt got under his skin. His face burned with anger. She bit his ear. He hissed in pain, and as he did, she thrust hard against him. Mike gasped as he came inside his slutty wife.

She rose off him before he was even completely done.

“Well, Baby, you got your fantasy. Now... if you don’t mind, Adam and I are going to reconnect.”

Mike knew better than to answer. Kate had made her decision.

She slipped back into her short dress. Adam dressed sheepishly and allowed Kate to lead him out of the room.

Mike remained on the bed, his dick drained, and his crotch wet with his wife’s juices and her lover’s come. He felt sick.

Chapter Eighteen

Mike woke early. She hadn't answered his texts. That was not really a surprise. He didn't try very hard. No contrition on his part.

He wondered what she was doing with Adam. They were probably fucking like animals, the unpleasantness of last night quickly forgotten. Or maybe not. Maybe they were having long talks about the future. A future without Mike in the picture.

It was a lovely day. Sunny and cool. A perfect day to walk around, holding hands with your girl. Mike roamed Pittsburgh's downtown aimlessly, crossing the Pitt campus, grinning at the two young women he saw hurrying together, still in their party clothes. The walk of shame. Did Kate feel any shame about what she'd done? Or, in her mind, had she excused all of it somehow, maybe even shifted blame onto her husband?

He deserved some of the blame. He'd planted the seed, and then been so fucking naive to allow it take root without realizing what was happening. But the responsibility didn't rest easily on his conscience. The attraction she felt for Adam had nothing to do with him. Maybe Mike's fantasy had lowered her inhibitions somewhat. But the allure of the man would have existed regardless of what Mike said or did. Plenty of women have affairs even when their husbands do nothing to provoke it. That was the rub. If Mike genuinely thought Kate had slept with Adam to please him, he could probably get over the messy details. To forgive her and make it work. But if his fantasy was just pretext, an excuse for Kate to have a hot affair because she wanted to have a hot affair, then he didn't know if he could rebuild the trust.

Mike looped back to the hotel. He checked his phone. Still nothing from Kate. Instead of sitting around all day by himself, Mike decided to take an earlier flight home. He sent Kate a text to that effect, sort of hoping that might provoke her to come back to him. But she instead responded with a curt, "Ok." Fine, he thought, fuck her.

He left the kids with the grandparents and spent the night alone at home. His anger and frustration grew. How dare she just go ahead with her plans with Adam?

He wondered what they were doing. Had they even left his room? Could they really fuck non-stop for two days? Probably. When Kate was horny, she was difficult to resist. And why would Adam want to resist. He'd lucked into the deal of a lifetime. A hot, busty blond seemingly determined to sow fifteen years of accumulated wild oats.

And Kate... she couldn't get enough of that big cock. Well, except when it was in her ass. Mike chuckled darkly, although he was sure they'd made that right by now. A shower together to clean off Mike's scent. Adam kneeling behind Kate, kissing and licking her ass. Does that feel better?

Then back on the bed. Kissing. Caressing. Adam making her come with his hands and mouth.

Are you sure?

Kate nodding, a little apprehensive, but eager.

Lots of lube. Slowly. First a finger. Then two. Kate growing used to the pressure, relaxing into it. Flat on her stomach, Adam mixing in a massage with his preparations. Kate relaxed and happy as he straddled her, spreading her cheeks, slowly pressing his fat cock again into her ass, slowly, patiently, waiting for Kate to ask for more.

Her sultry moan. Oh fuck that's good.

You really like it?

God yes.

A slow, deep ass-fucking. Kate sliding her hand beneath her, rubbing her clit in time with Adam's thrusts. And then a gasp, a shudder...

Mike came all over himself. He couldn't help it. The image of Kate with Adam was just too exciting to deny. He glanced over at Kate's side of the bed. He began to stroke himself again.

Chapter Nineteen

<Kate> I need some more time to myself.

That was how Kate announced she wasn't planning to come home immediately. Time to herself? Was that true? Or did she just want more time with Adam's cock? Was she angrier with Mike or just more infatuated with Adam? Which relationship dominated her emotional state?

Mike didn't have the luxury to ponder that endlessly. The kids were back at home. There was shopping and homework to get done. Dinner to cook and a bedtime routine. Kate participated remotely, reading to the kids even as she refused to communicate with her husband.

Mike seethed in silence. How had he become the bad guy in this scenario? She was the cheater. The liar. Yes, he'd lashed out. But even then, Adam didn't have to play along. That guy was perfectly happy to inflict the pain that Mike had set up. There was plenty of blame to go around.

It darkened his mood. In bed, that night, later, a little foggy from a nightcap of whiskey, Mike thought of Kate. Not a romantic picture this time. No kissing and caressing. This was another kind of fantasy. Kate in the wrong place at the wrong time. Broken down by the side of the road. Lost in an unfamiliar neighborhood. The setup varied, the denouement was consistent. A group of hard, rough men. Kate pleading, until silenced with a vicious slap. Clothes torn off. Kate bent over a table, or thrown on a dirty mattress. Fucked hard. Again and again. Her mouth. Her cunt. Her ass.

His orgasm didn't sate him. The scene continued. More men. Taunts. Humiliation. Kate being forced to beg for her own degradation. Sodomized anally, then forced to lick the dick clean while thanking her abuser.

Mike arrived at the office in a haze, but the pace of the demands on his time focused his mind. There were emails to read, a status update to prepare, an emergency motion to file.... He jolted as his office door slammed shut.

“What the—”

Jenna’s appearance silenced him. She was furious, that much was certain. It had her virtually quivering. She reached into a paper bag and produced a massive dildo.

“Pants off, asshole,” she snarled. “You’re going to learn what an unlubed dick in the ass feels like.”

“Put that away, Jenna. Are you crazy?”

“I’m serious, dickhead. So, you better bend over unless you want me to open your office door and let everyone in on this little scene.”

Mike hesitated. She was probably bluffing... but what if she wasn’t?

“Did Kate put you up to this?”

Jenna sighed. “No. That idiot is actually making excuses for you.”

“Maybe you should leave.”

She heaved the dildo at him, striking him square in the forehead.

“You know what, Mike? You don’t deserve her.”

Mike seethed. “I don’t deserve to be cheated on and lied to.”

“Cheated? She only did it because of your stupid fantasy. You sent her to Cleveland by herself. Basically, told her to hook up with an old boyfriend or something. She just did what you wanted, and she gave you all the benefits too. How many times did you two fuck while talking about Adam? How is that cheating?”

“You know that’s not how it all went down. You know. You were in on it.”

She shrugged. “Yeah, so fucking what? Girl like Kate. She should be taking advantage of the attention.”

“Spoken like a true whore.”

“You didn’t seem to mind when I was sucking your dick, did you? Fucking hypocrite.”

She smirked and put a hand on her hip. “Or what? You going to make a scene?”

Mike rolled his eyes.

“Don’t worry, I’m leaving. I’m just as sick of you as you are of me. And I don’t know why I am saying this because... honestly, I think Kate would be better off without you. But if you could just put your stupid fucking pride aside for a minute, you might be able to fix things.”

“I’m not sure I want to.”

“And why is that? Because she wanted to make sure you were serious before coming clean? Or is it that you’re just jealous that she actually likes this Adam guy. Did you really think Kate would just fuck some complete rando to make you happy? She’s not perfect, but you aren’t meeting her half-way either.”

“Are you done?”

Jenna shivered in frustration. She turned on her heels. “Fuck you, Mike.”

She slammed the door a second time as she left. Mike remained behind his desk, hoping that the rest of the office wasn’t paying attention.

Chapter Twenty

Mike left work early to be sure he'd be home when the kids' bus arrived. Kate was already there.

"You're back," he said.

He was still angry. The conversation with Jenna hadn't helped.

Kate met his gaze frankly and held her ground.

"I am."

There didn't seem much else to say. Or at least neither seemed inclined to make the first move. He nodded. "I'm going to get changed."

Mike took his time. Kate was home, so he didn't rush down when the kids burst through the front door. Instead, he took a long shower. Thoughts raced in and out of his mind. He ran through apologies, his, hers. He ran through recriminations. That list seemed longer at the moment. He wondered if she'd spent another night with him. That seemed likely. They couldn't seem to be able to get enough of each other. He wondered if they had concluded with yet another goodbye fuck. Already checked out of the hotel, the time to their respective flights ticking down, had she needed just one more screw. Was his come inside her even now? That seemed likely too. Mike jerked off thinking about that, Kate pressed up against the hotel room door, moaning as Adam's big cock stretched her. And then Kate in the airplane, surreptitiously touching herself, fingers slick with Adam's come leaking out of her.

Mike's dick was raw. How many times had he masturbated since Kate stormed off with Adam Friday night? A dozen, maybe more? He wondered if he or Adam had come more often during the weekend. It reminded Mike of the power Kate had over him. A power that had been held in abeyance for most of their normal, married life. But now it was unleashed. He was obsessed with his wife, and her disrespect and misbehaviors didn't change that. If anything, they seemed to feed the intensity of his response.

They avoided each other for most of the evening, co-parenting with the barest acknowledgement of the other. And then after, with the kids safely asleep, Mike found Kate sitting at their kitchen table. He pulled up a chair and sat opposite her.

“How long did you know?” she asked.

“I started putting it together a couple of weeks ago.”

Kate threw up her hands and groaned in frustration. “And you never mentioned it? You just plotted, what, revenge?”

“Wasn’t it your responsibility to come clean?”

She tilted her head and set her jaw. “Jesus, yes, of course. I fucked up. I admit it. I crossed the line. I let myself get picked up, and I fucked another man. And if that had been all, I’d have admitted the affair... or maybe not. Do you have any idea how many married people slip up and then keep it secret? That’s not just selfishness. Once it is done, it’s done, and coming clean just transforms your guilt into someone else’s pain. But... it wasn’t just a stupid fuckup because of the way it got you going.”

“Oh, so, you didn’t catch feelings?”

“I did!” she admitted. “I have. But truth is, cross my heart, if this had just been your standard issue marital fuck up, I’d have kept it to myself. All of it. The guilt and the fond memories. And you’d have never known. You’d be fat, dumb, and happy, noticing maybe your wife was in the mood a little more often, but having no idea of why.”

“Until you saw him again and got caught.”

“Maybe. I... I don’t think so. I’d have been too conscious of throwing this all away, and for what? A good fuck.”

Mike snorted. “You want to pretend that’s all you see in him? Do you think I’m a fucking idiot?”

“No, of course not. You’re right. I’ve caught feelings. I’m sorry. But if it had just been that one night, maybe... I don’t know.”

“You love him.”

She nodded and looked at him with teary eyes. “Yes.”

Mike sighed. “So... what happens now? Are you going to move out to Chicago to be with him? Or... what?”

“I love you too. I’m angry right now. But I love you even more than anything I feel for him. It’s easy with him. No bills. No kids. Just laughs and cuddles.”

“And sex.”

“And sex,” she admitted. She wiped away her tears, and new ones immediately appeared in their place. “I love you both. And I don’t want to lose you and everything we’ve made together. This life, even when it is exhausting and infuriating.”

“But you don’t want to lose him either.”

She sniffed. “That’s me. Your run-of-the-mill selfish cunt.”

“You’re anything but run-of-the-mill. You’re a world-class selfish cunt.”

He grinned and she rolled her eyes. “God, you’re a doofus sometimes. Why am I attracted to goofballs?” She shook her head, and then continued more seriously. “Mike, I’m stuck on this, though. I need to understand what happened this weekend. How much of it was planned and.... It just seems so fucking dark. You were going to ambush me with your big discovery and use it to... what... make Adam hurt me? Why? What was the plan?”

His shoulders slumped as he considered the question. “I don’t know. I was hurt and I wanted to hurt you back.”

“Was any of it real? The stuff about wanting to be in the same room. Or was it all a lie?”

“It... fuck... I don’t know. The truth is, I wish this had all stayed in my head. Just a fantasy, and then I could control it. And there wouldn’t be this other guy out there. This other man you love. Because now, I don’t know what to do. I don’t know how to make things right. I don’t know... anything. I didn’t have a big, thought-out plan. I thought there would be a confrontation. And, I don’t know, I guess at some level I sort of hoped you’d recognize the error of your ways. You’d banish him and ask me to forgive you.”

“Oh Mike.”

“I know. It’s ridiculous. And a part of why I never really thought it all the way through is because I probably knew it was ridiculous. But what choice did I have? What road led to anywhere other than where we are now?”

“Mike, but when did it go wrong for you? Was there any part of it you liked? Or at maybe more to the point, any part you don’t regret? Anything you wouldn’t want to undo?”

“You can’t undo life. It is what it is.” He paused. He knew what he had to say next and knew also how fraught it was. “What if I asked you not to see him again?”

“Like an ultimatum? Can I say no, or what?”

“Yeah, then, I guess, yes, like an ultimatum.”

Kate paused, then answered simply. “He’s not giving me one.”

Mike slept in the guest bedroom. There had been nothing more to say. It was an impasse.

Mike was angry. Of course, Adam wasn’t giving Kate an ultimatum. He was the other man, screwing this hot married chick he met in a bar. He knew what he was getting into, and as long as he was still getting his balls drained in wild sex weekends, what more could he want? Adam was living the dream.

But, of course, it was more complicated than that. If Kate had gone off and had a secret affair, the issue would be simpler, an ultimatum a reasonable solution. The timing at first was messy, but as frustrating as it was to admit, they had embarked on this path together, if not wholly synchronized. He’d agreed. And he’d enjoyed it. Even now, alone in bed, discouraged and annoyed, he still felt a rush of excitement when he imagined what Kate was up to next door. Had she sent Adam a good night selfie? Was she in bed, staring at a pic of Adam’s hard cock as she played with her juicy pussy and hard nips? Was she moaning his name and imagining the next time she could feel his fat prick inside her? Mike touched his swollen cock. A wave of shame washed over him, but he didn’t stop. Not until he’d shot another load of come in a handful of tissues.

He threw the soggy wad across the room and stared at the ceiling.

Chapter Twenty-One

One of the worst parts of marital discord is the work it takes to act as if everything is fine. Especially, when the cause is something lurid—an affair, some sort of financial impropriety. It's not something one wants to admit or burden friends and relations with. The details feel icky in the light of day. Yet the show must go on.

Matt and Amy arrived for dinner bearing a bottle of wine. The kids rushed off to play video games, though as it turns out, that is mostly one kid playing while the others watch. Amy and Kate disappeared into the kitchen.

"Can we go outside?" Matt said.

"Um sure. Little chilly no?"

"Summer is around the corner. Can I have one of those?" Matt gestured at Mike's glass of whiskey. He'd been going through it fast, but there was plenty left.

Matt was already outside when Mike came back with his drink.

"You okay, Dude?" Mike asked.

"Why didn't you just tell? Why all the dancing around with the 'hall pass' bullshit?"

Mike froze. So, Kate had told Amy. Or maybe she'd just confided in her after Pittsburgh? Mike stomach twisted in knots. How much had she spilled? Everything? Even the surprise anal?

"I... um... what?"

"Amy's fucking around," Matt said in a rush. He belatedly peered left and right in case anyone was listening.

"Amy?" Mike said. This was an odd turn. Or was this just Matt's way of making himself seem like a safe person to confide in? "What are you talking about?"

"That's what you were hinting at, right? It was eating at me, and then I pulled it all together. Working out like crazy, the late nights at work, being all snippy at home."

"I wasn't hinting at anything, Man. And Amy's always worked out and been a type-A. Snippy at home is just a consequence of being married with kids, isn't it? I mean, is this something you suspect, or something you know?"

"What, know as in have a video of her riding dick?" Matt shook his head. "But I know. Know what I mean? And I know who. It's her boss. Derek." He leaned over to spit out the bile saying the name seemed to produce. "It's always 'Derek this and Derek that' and 'Derek is so smart and handsome.'"

"Does she actually say that?"

"No, but I see it in her eyes."

"Dude, you're cracking up."

Matt shook his head and gulped the rest of the whiskey in his glass. "I should have known it at the Christmas party. She was wearing that tight leather skirt and the thigh-highs with the seam up the back. I caught him staring. I mentioned it to Amy, and she just told me I was imagining things. I thought it was all for me, but now I realize.... I need another." He shook his glass at Mike.

Mike topped him off from his own glass. Matt shrugged and took a gulp.

Matt was clearly in a tizzy, and Mike wasn't far off. This was hitting close to home, too close. But the need to reassure his friend pushed him on.

"Look, this could all be in your head. Have you talked to Amy about it?"

Matt shook his head.

"You should. Whatever is going on, you can get through it if you communicate enough."

"Could you get through it?"

Mike nodded. "I think... I think I could."

Mike waited for Kate in their bedroom as she finished up her bedtime routine. She jolted when she saw him.

"Do you want to switch rooms? Because, I'm not sure I'm ready to...."

"No, I just want to talk."

She stepped toward the bed and sat down on the opposite side, her knees curled beneath her in a way that only women can pull off.

“Ultimatum time?” she asked.

Mike hesitated. It was tempting. A one-off. Tear off the Band-Aid, deal with the pain, and move on. The alternative seemed to drag out drama and hurt for years.

“I want to know more about Adam. Why....”

“Why I love him?”

He nodded. He knew he’d never be able to get those words out easily. “Yes.”

She twisted her head as if looking for the answers on the wall. Then she looked down into her own lap.

“Is it just that he’s such a great lover?”

She chuckled. “I mean, it helps. But I don’t know that he’s that great. And it isn’t just that he’s well hung. I’ve been with men, you know. Some as good in bed, but you know, assholes. Not worth it. I know the difference.”

“So, why?”

“God, Mike, I don’t know that I do love him, whatever the fuck that magic word is supposed to mean. I just know that the idea of never seeing him again hurts. It hurts so much that I don’t want to think about it. It hurts enough that I’m willing to hurt you. Because I know that’s what I am doing. I know I’m being selfish. But I just keep hoping, wishing....”

She looked up, eyes wet with emotion. Mike leaned across the bed and took her hand. She sniffled.

“I just wish you could meet him, get to know him,” she said.

“We did meet. It... didn’t go well.”

“You didn’t give him a chance.”

Mike nodded grudgingly.

“Kate, I’m not sure what difference it would make. I mean, I’m not going to fall for him. He’s not... um... my type.”

“What type do you prefer in men?”

Mike chuckled. “Brad Pitt?”

“I’ll look for that next time,” she said.

“Seriously, though, what are you expecting?”

She shook her head. "I don't know. But if you still want to give me an ultimatum after, I'll..." Mike waited for her to finish the thought. But instead, she changed tack. "I just want to try this." Mike sighed, a dark thought entering his mind. Kate seemed to read it. "No sex. Just an evening. Drinks, conversation. And then we decide." She squeezed his hand. "You and I decide."

Mike nodded slowly. He could live with that. He chuckled.

"What?" Kate asked.

"Matt's in a state. He thinks Amy is cheating on him."

"He should be. She's been fucking her boss for months."

"What?"

Kate shrugged. "I'm not the only world-class, selfish cunt in the world."

Chapter Twenty-Two

Matt's problem was bad, but not quite the same. Amy wasn't smitten with her boss. Just bored. Or at least that's how Kate explained it. Mike avoided getting into too much detail about just how much Kate and Amy shared. It was maybe better not to know.

Adam agreed to Kate's plan. Of course, he did. Mike was pretty sure the two of them had hatched it together. He didn't probe that too much either. Also, perhaps better not to know.

They agreed to meet for dinner at Max Downtown. Great steaks, an impressive whiskey selection and solid wine list. Kate was skittish as a cat, taking forever to get ready.

"We're going to be late," Mike called up to her.

She finally came down the stairs. She had threaded the needle impressively. A mid-calf length, black skirt, and a tight, gray sweater. No skin on display, but lots of curves. She wore her pearl necklace and earrings and had put her hair up in a bun. With a pair of glasses, she could have been a caricature of a "sexy librarian," but there was nothing she could really do about that. Short of a sack dress, Kate would always turn heads.

"You look lovely," he said.

"Not too much, right?"

He kissed her cheek. They hadn't resumed normal sexual relations, but were again sharing casual demonstrations of affection, a kiss, a quick back rub. He took her hand.

"It's just dinner and drinks, right?"

She nodded and blew out a breath. "Okay, let's go."

They kissed the kids goodnight and Kate reminded the sitter of their phone numbers.

"She's watched them a hundred times," Mike said.

Kate nodded. "I know, I know." Then to the kids, who were already back on their devices, "don't stay up too late."

Mike chuckled to himself. Always a mom. Even when she was going out to dinner with her husband and her lover.

Mike drove. The BMW growled elegantly as he accelerated onto the highway. They didn't speak. Kate stared out the window. She slowly wrung her hands together. He patted her thigh. She smiled thinly.

They left the car with the valet and proceeded inside. Adam was waiting for them at the bar. He was dressed like Mike in a dark suit, no tie, his shirt charcoal gray to Mike's deep blue. He stood and there was an awkward moment before he finally decided to give Kate a peek on the cheek.

"You look beautiful," Adam said.

Kate blushed and looked down at her feet.

Mike stuck out his hand. "I'm sorry about last time. This... isn't easy."

Adam nodded. "I know. And I didn't make it any easier." Then he addressed them both. "I think we're all a little early. Drink at the bar or should we see if they can seat us?"

"Drinks sound good," Kate said.

"They have an amazing whiskey selection," Adam said.

"That's why I picked this place," Mike replied. "What's your favorite?"

"Spaysides and Islands if forced to pick."

Mike nodded. It conformed to his developing taste. "Macallan? Maybe the Talisker?"

"Talisker 18 is nice."

"Let's do the 25," Mike replied. "Consider it a peace offering."

"Cosmo for me," Kate added.

"You're such a girl," Adam teased. Mike grinned in agreement.

"Didn't realize that would come as such a surprise to you two," Kate said.

The drinks arrived quickly.

"Ooh, this is good," Adam said as he tasted his.

"I'd like to do a Scotland whiskey tour," Mike said. "But I don't think Kate would be up for it."

"Scotland is damp and cold most of the year and going from one dusty distillery to another is hardly my idea of a good time. Now, you might be able to talk me into a rum tour in the Caribbean."

“You bring the bikinis, I’ll bring the rum,” Adam joked. Then he looked at Mike. “Sorry man, didn’t mean to make that sexual.”

Mike chuckled. “Not sure we’re going to avoid that this evening. But I’d warn against the Caribbean thing. Pretty sure that Kate’s idea of a perfect companion on that rum tour would be a hot, dark-skinned, island guide.”

She rolled her eyes. “That’s your fantasy, not mine.”

“Would there be pics?” Adam asked.

“Like the ones of Jenna and the guy she met in New York?” Mike said.

“You saw those too?” Adam asked.

“She sent them to me. That night you two were not,” air quotes, “hooking up in New York.”

“She did what?” Kate gasped.

The men laughed. Mike lifted his glass and clinked Adam’s. Kate shook her head.

“Not a lot of secrets left between all of us and Jenna,” Mike said.

“Oh, there’s plenty of secrets that you two will never learn,” Kate teased.

Adam raised an eyebrow at Kate. “You and Jenna?”

“No, of course not,” Kate said, shaking her head while Mike nodded his. “Idiot,” she said as she slapped her husband’s arms.

“Well, if it isn’t true, it should be,” Adam added. He received a swat as well.

Another clink and the men finished their drinks laughing.

“Let’s get our table,” Kate said.

She rose off her barstool and walked toward the hostess. Mike and Adam followed her shapely figure.

“Think she and Jenna?” Adam asked.

“One can only dream. Think she’s ever been with a black man?”

“There’s another dream, huh?”

They sat at a table beneath a colorful, abstract mural. The crowd was lively and stylish like the restaurant. A popular date night spot. Mike ordered a bottle of rosé to start and they sipped as they looked over the menus. Kate's cheeks brightened as the alcohol hit. After ordering their meals, Mike turned serious.

"Guys, no more lies, okay?"

His dinner companions nodded.

"When did you two first meet? Cleveland or before?"

Adam nodded. "It was honestly dumb luck, snow, a cancelled flight, and a gamer convention. Just happened to be in the same Cleveland bar, and we started chatting."

"You started chatting her up, you mean."

Kate placed her hand on her husband's forearm.

"It's okay," Adam said quickly. "He's right. Honestly, you don't see a lot of beautiful women at miniatures conventions. Or... actually... any women at all. So I figured I'd say hi."

"And see how far you could get?" Mike said.

"Or just flirt a little."

Mike sat pondering for a few moments. Given his fears of a longer-term betrayal, hearing it only dated back to the one night in Cleveland was reassuring.

"Miniatures? Like Warhammer?" Mike asked.

"You play?"

"Naw. I used to play those hex wargames when I was kid. Bought Axis and Allies for Jeremy, but he wasn't into it."

"Oh, yeah, the old Avalon Hill games? I loved those. You must have played Squad Leader, right?"

Mike nodded.

Adam continued. "So, there's a miniatures game like it, Bolt Action. You'd like it. How old is Jeremy?"

"Ten," Mike answered.

Adam smiled. "I have a nice basic Warhammer set, all painted, that I'll send you for Jeremy. I bet he'll find those more interesting than models of aircraft carriers and tanks. At least I would have at his age."

It was also reassuring that Adam didn't know how old Jeremy was. Or maybe, Mike was just looking for reasons to feel comfortable. He looked over at Kate who seemed a little miffed.

“Upset about not being the center of attention for even a moment?” Mike asked.

Adam smirked.

“Maybe you two would like to be alone,” she sniffed. “Play with your board games.”

“Has she always been a game hater?” Adam asked.

Mike nodded enthusiastically. “I swear, we almost got divorced when I was into World of Warcraft.”

Adam’s eyes went wide. “Ally or Horde.”

“Alliance. Human and Night Elves have the nicest asses.”

“Well, at least until the Blood Elves in BC.”

“Jesus Christ,” Kate sighed. “Are all you men nowadays children?”

“Maybe you should have a fling with Jenna and see if that works better for you,” Mike said.

She rolled her eyes again as Adam chuckled.

Mike ordered a Napa Cab to accompany their main course. Between the wine and the cocktails, they were all a little lit.

“Will you be able to drive?” Kate asked.

“I have a pretty big room at the Goodwin,” Adam said.

Kate grimaced.

Mike responded in a 1950s announcer voice, “He said hopefully.” Then he chuckled. “We can always Uber home if worse comes to worse.”

Kate let out a sigh of relief.

“So, Kate says you’re a teacher?” Mike asked.

“Those who can, do, those who can’t, teach.”

“So, you can’t?”

Adam shrugged. “Studied journalism in school but came out in time to see the field collapsing. There are still jobs out there, but I could see the future, and didn’t want to just write clickbait. Figured I could teach and still maybe write.”

“Novels?” Mike asked.

“Naw, who has the imagination for that? Figured more like some sort of investigative journalism thing. There have been some really great books recently. Evicted. Ghettoside. That kind of book. Something to change the world. Make it better maybe. But it turns out, teaching high school is harder than it looks. Really time consuming to do it well.”

“Why not college, then? They give more time for writing.” Mike said. “Plus, the girls are hotter.”

Adam laughed. “Don’t sleep on the high school hotties.”

Mike chuckled. “Uh huh. Someday ask Kate to show you her prom picture.”

“She blossomed senior year.”

“But too late to make it into the populars?” Adam asked.

Kate rolled her eyes.

“I’ve always wondered if she put out in high school,” Mike said. “I know she didn’t at prom, but...”

“I’m right here,” Kate said. “You’ve never actually asked.”

“So, did you?”

“Did I what, Baby?” she cooed. “Did I jerk some boy off? Did I take his dick into my mouth? Did I let him suck on my big titties? Did I let him put it into my little, teenage pussy?”

Adam sighed and fanned himself. “Is it getting hot in here?”

“I’m getting warm,” Mike said, miming loosening his collar. “So, did you, any of those?”

Kate opened her mouth to speak, but then drew her lips into a smirk as the waitress appeared to clear away their dishes.

“Would you care to see the dessert menu?” she asked.

They ordered a piece of cake to share, coffee, and a glass of port each.

As the waitress walked away, Mike turned to Kate. “So, we’re still waiting.”

“For what?” Kate batted her eyelashes innocently.

“High school,” Adam said.

“You two are ganging up on me.”

Mike and Adam chuckled.

“I didn’t mean it like that,” Kate huffed. “Just for that, I’m not telling.”

Mike laughed. “Told you she loves to be the center of attention.”

Kate pointed at herself and mouthed, “moi?”

“Yes, you, Cupcake,” Mike said. “Out with it.”

“Oh come on,” she replied. “Who I fucked or didn’t fuck twenty years ago can hardly matter even a little now.”

“Please,” Adam said, holding his hands together in front of him. Mike nodded in agreement.

Kate giggled. “I’m sorry to disappoint you, but I went off to college a complete virgin. Hadn’t even seen a live dick.”

“How long did that last?” Mike asked.

She snorted. “A week. Got drunk at a dorm party and got about thirty seconds of bliss from a skinny freshman while his roommate stalked the hallway outside. Yay college.”

They shared a laugh, which turned into an awkward silence. Kate was trying assiduously to avoid looking at Adam. He was similarly studying the weft of the tablecloth. But the chemistry between them was electric. Mike considered the situation. He nodded slowly to himself.

Finally, Mike reached into his pocket and handed his car keys to his wife. “I’ll take an Uber home.”

She held up the keys. “Baby, I can’t drive either.”

“You can drive the car home tomorrow.”

Adam looked up.

Mike stood. “I’ll pay on the way out. You two enjoy dessert.”

Kate shook her head. “No, this isn’t what we agreed to.”

He leaned in and kissed his wife on the cheek. “I want it. And he wants it. And you want it.” Their eyes met. “Have fun.”

Mike strode toward the exit. Adam caught up to him.

“Dude, wait. This... this isn’t right,” Adam said.

“What is this, like a goodbye? Something new?”

Mike clapped Adam on the shoulder. He shrugged. “Who knows?” Then, with a smile, he added, “Make her come. A lot. Okay? And no pictures. Just the two of you, tonight.”

“Dude...”

Mike stuck out his hand. “Have fun.”

They shook, and then Mike stepped out in the late spring evening. It had rained earlier, and the streets glistened as Mike walked toward Bushnell Park. He stepped into the oasis of green and slowly circled the pond. A pair of young lovers ran past him in the opposite direction, giggling and holding hands.

Chapter Twenty-Three

Mike returned home with the kids in tow. Kate was in the kitchen, changed into her mom attire, yoga pants and a sweatshirt. Jeremy ran up to her.

“Mom, mom, I got my green belt!”

She gave him a big hug. “Congratulations! You’re not going to beat me up now, are you?”

“Mommmy,” he said, rolling his eyes and squirming away.

Kate turned toward her daughter. “How about you, Princess?”

Becky let out a loud burp. “Daddy got us milkshakes.”

Kate chuckled.

The kids disappeared into the family room. The TV came on. Loud.

Mike approached his wife. Her saccharine smile dissolved.

“Well, Mike, if that was a test, I failed.”

He glanced toward the family room and gestured quizzically.

“No, not them. Him.”

Mike raised his eyebrows. “Did you have fun?”

“What’s your game, Mike?”

He chuckled and took her hand. She resisted, but he led her into his study and shut the door.

“My only game is that I hope my sexy-ass wife got pounded hard and came so much that her abs hurt.”

He leaned in to kiss her, but she spun away. “Mike, I’m serious. We had a deal last night.”

“I called an audible.”

“You can’t do that on your own.”

He laughed. “It’s not like I blew him hard and forced you to sit on his dick. I just invited you to do it. So... did you?”

She blushed. “Yes.”

He pulled her into an embrace and pressed his forehead against hers. His arms wrapped around her, palms in the small of her back.

“You’re hard,” she said.

“Yes. Did he make you come?”

She nodded slowly, their heads moving together. "Yes."

"More than once?"

She rolled her eyes. "Oh yes."

He slipped his hands into the spandex and cupped his wife's ass. "Can you still feel him inside you? Did his big dick make your pussy all sore?"

"Yes," she gasped as he pulled aside her thong, and spread her cheeks, his fingers edging closer to her labia.

"I want to see."

He slowly dropped to his knees, pulling down her tights and thong as he went. The sight of her fully shaved pussy still felt novel, exciting. He traced his finger around her swollen vulva.

"Did he fuck you this morning?"

Her cheeks reddened even more. "Yes."

"Fuck that's hot," he sighed as he gently parted her lips, exposing the pink flesh inside. He imagined being this close when another man's cock was inside her. How exciting and excruciating it would be. He stuck his tongue out and flicked her clit.

"Oh Baby," Kate moaned. She ran her hands through his hair.

Her pussy pulsed with excitement, glistening. He licked her again, at the same time easing her yoga pants over her feet. She spread her legs slightly and leaned back against Mike's desk, thrusting toward him. He licked her deep, inhaling the scent of her arousal. Her moan was low, guttural.

"Does he eat your pussy?" he asked, looking up.

She glanced away.

"What?" he asked.

"Sometimes," she sighed, "but usually..."

"You just want his dick inside you."

"Yessss," she gasped.

"Does he make you beg for it?" He sucked her clit gently into his mouth.

"Yes. Oh Mike. Yes. Sometimes, he just teases me with the tip until I almost can't stand it."

Mike stood and freed his rock-hard cock. He slid the pre-come covered head against her slit.

“Like this?”

“Yes. Oh, Mike, fuck me.”

“Are you sure?” He rubbed his cock against her swollen clit. “Are you sure you didn’t get enough dick last night and this morning?”

“No,” she sighed. She wrapped her palms around his neck and thrust against him. “Please put it inside me.”

He eased back just enough to thwart her efforts. “Adam’s falling down on the job. I want you coming home from seeing him so tired and sore that you can’t even imagine fucking.”

“Never. I’ll never not want your dick. Especially when I come home from him. Especially then is when I need to feel you inside me. Please fuck meeeeeee...”

Mike thrust in hard but went in easily. She was wet and loose from arousal, but Mike also imagined that she was still stretched by her bigger lover. The excitement was too much. Mike thrust in raggedly, desperately. There was no making this moment last. Kate’s orgasm, sudden, unexpected, finished him. As her pussy squeezed his shaft, he exploded inside her.

“Oh fuck,” he gasped, lightheaded.

Kate stared at the ceiling, also gasping for breath.

“Fuck, Mike. Fuck.”

Chapter Twenty-Four

Spring had come. Not just an unseasonably warm day, but a genuine, New England Spring, with flowers beginning to appear and the leaves thickening in trees. Kate and Mike walked along the Windsor Locks Canal Towpath, holding hands, dodging bikers and runners, and enjoying the views of the river through the trees.

“Now that I have you somewhere safe, we need to talk,” Kate said. Mike chuckled. “Safe?”

“We need to talk about Adam, and I can’t have you stripping me down after two sentences like the last two times I tried to initiate this conversation.”

“I could drag you into the bushes.”

“I’d scream.”

“You promise?”

She shook her head. “Mike?”

“Okay, okay, I’ve been thinking too.”

“Oh?”

“About when we, well mostly you, might see him again.”

“Mike, no. We need to sort things out.”

“I think things are pretty sorted. He loves fucking you. You love fucking him. And I love you fucking him. Happily, he also seems to be happy with me fucking you. So, we’re all fucking happy.”

“Yes, if it were all just dicks and pussies, but there are also feelings. And that’s where the hurt comes in.”

“I think... it doesn’t have to.”

“I can’t just shut off my feelings. What he and I do. How he and I do it. And the way we talk in between.... I’m afraid I’ll only fall deeper for him.”

Mike stopped and turned Kate so that she faced him. He took her hands. “Kate, be honest. Does loving him make you love me any less?”

“Of course not. I’m not.... It’s not either or.”

“And I think I get that. It’s not easy. Not easy to hear the woman you love say she loves another man. Until you stop and say, so what? We all share the things we love. Family. Friends. Even experiences. They don't detract. They add."

They continued walking as Kate pondered. "That's very philosophical. But is it honest? Really honest?"

"I can't see the future. Will there come a time when I can't handle it anymore? Maybe something leaves me compromised, and I feel the competition more than excitement? Maybe. Or maybe it does turn out that your love for him comes at my expense. Then we cross that bridge when we come to it. Isn't that true of all relationships? They're good until they're not. But knowing they might go south isn't a reason not to try, is it?"

"So, you don't mind sharing your wife?"

He stopped again and faced her. "I'm not sharing you. You are you. You're the person who keeps me honest and makes me laugh. You fulfill me in every way. And you have various, say, attributes. Your brains. Your toughness...."

"My tits...."

"Your perfect tits, juicy ass, sweet, sweet, shaved pussy. And your face isn't bad either." Mike smiled at Kate, and she smiled back. "You have friends, family, and... a lover. It is all part of what you are and who you are. No sharing involved. Just recognizing you for who you are."

They continued down the path.

"I shouldn't have put us in this situation," she said.

"Do you regret it?"

She hesitated. "Yes and no. I wished I hadn't...."

"Tasted of the forbidden fruit?"

Kate chuckled. "I guess so. I wish I didn't know how I could feel with him. But now that I know...."

"I feel the same. It would be simpler. There would be less risk. But honestly, I am not sure I can live without it now that I know. I wasn't one-hundred percent sure. Not until I left you with him on Friday. Then as I walked in the park before calling an Uber, all I could think about was how much I hoped that you were happy with him. Enjoying your time. The anticipation as you finished dinner. The excitement of rushing to his room. The wild, madcap passion as you tore off each other's clothes. And that moment of sudden bliss as he entered you for the first time."

"It's like you were there."

Mike laughed. "I was. In my head. And I want to be there again in person, at some point, once you're both comfortable with that again. I totally fucked it up last time. But I want to hold you, feel you shuddering as he thrusts inside you. I want to enjoy your freshly fucked pussy while you suck on his big cock. Not all the time, but once in a while. Would you do that for me?"

"Oh God, Michael, yes. Of course."

Mike noticed the way her face glowed, and her breathing came in ragged little gasps.

"So, I was thinking, he should move out here."

"What?!"

"He wants to write. He could move into the apartment over the garage. We could fix it up nicely. Has its own access to the street. If he wants to teach a class or two, I'm sure Anik could hook him up with the journalism department at UConn. And he'd have time to write instead of teaching, whatever, like seven classes of high school English every day."

Kate stopped them this time. "Mike, are you crazy? You want to move my lover into our garage?"

"It's a perfectly nice little space. We imagined it as either an in-law suite or potential rental when we bought the place."

"I know that, but Jeez, what would people say?"

Mike chuckled. "I'm not actually proposing we tell people you're fucking him. We just tell people we decided to rent the place out. No one has to know he's paying the rent in dick."

Kate rolled her eyes. "Mike, this is cra—"

"And the people who do know, Jenna... Amy? Well, they're hardly likely to be scandalized are they?"

"And then what? Like every once in a while, when the kids are asleep, I—"

"I was thinking more, like, every day."

She rolled her eyes again.

He laughed and continued, "As the spirit moves you. You go over and fuck his brains out. Sometimes you come back to me, and I do the same. Other times, you spend the night with him. Sometimes, you go to him with me already inside you. He likes that too, doesn't he?"

She nodded. "This is crazy."

“Yup. Life is like that sometimes.”

Again, they continued down the path.

“I need to think about this some more. Do you have any more crazy ideas you want to share?”

Mike grinned. “Oh, I have a few.”

Epilogue

Mike and Adam sat naked on the sofa with Jenna wedged between them and stroking their hard cocks. She was naked as well, except for a pair of stiletto heels, and in that she matched Kate, who was half-way across the room, on her knees beside the king-sized bed, struggling to fellate Darren's massive prick.

Darren seemed to love the attention. He was built for it. Broad shoulders, ripped and muscular all over, and with a cock that wouldn't have been out of place at a porn shoot. He looked down at the pretty blonde kissing and licking his ebony shaft. He brushed the hair from her face to get a better view as she ducked low to suckle his balls, both her dainty hands wrapped around his thick tool, her wedding band glistening.

"She might not be able to get it in her mouth," Jenna teased, "but he's going to get all ten thick inches into her little pussy. You boys ready to see her get wrecked?"

"Yeah," sighed Adam. The combination of Jenna's hand and the sight of Kate kneeling before a huge, black cock left him hoarse.

Mike was even worse. All he could do was nod mutely.

Darren glanced at Jenna. She gave him a quick nod. He grinned as he coaxed Kate to her feet.

"Come on, Baby, get up on the bed. All fours like a good little slut," he said as he playfully swatted her ass.

He moved in behind and handled her body possessively. He squeezed her plump tits and palmed her throat. He fondled her ass and spread apart her cheeks.

"Does she take it in the ass?" he asked, his thumb pressing against her anus. She tensed.

"Not this time," Jenna replied. "This time, just work that cunt."

He chuckled and then pressed down on her upper back, "Face down, ass up."

Darren rubbed his bulbous head up and down Kate's slit. Her hips rocked back instinctively.

“See how she wants it?” asked Jenna. Her hands squished up and down the two cocks she was stroking as both men leaked copious pre-come. “See how she wants that big, black dick? Darren’s going to turn her into a prime snowbunny.”

Darren chuckled. “Fuck, she’s wet.”

Kate turned toward Mike. “Love you,” she mouthed. Then she shifted her gaze to Adam and repeated it to him. Her eyelids fluttered and she moaned as Darren pressed his oversized cock halfway into her willing pussy. He paused a moment, pulled out slightly, and then pressed the rest inside her. She shuddered and gasped, completely filled by this new cock.

Jenna pulsed her grip on the cocks. “If you boys can hold out longer than Darren, then you get to fuck her next. Otherwise, you’re spectators.”

Neither Mike nor Adam had much of a chance. Jenna’s expert, pre-come lubed handjob had them primed already. When Darren began pounding his huge prick into Kate, it brought them right to the edge. When Kate’s moans turned into high-pitched squeals and her body convulsed in a toe-curling orgasm, they both exploded as well.

Jenna smirked and raised her come-covered hands. “No more touchy for you two.” She approached Kate, who was glassy-eyed, and slowly recovering from her violent climax. “Your men made a mess for you to clean up.” She presented her hands to Kate, who enthusiastically licked and sucked Mike and Adam’s jism from Jenna’s hands and fingers as Darren drove his cock deeper than anything Kate had experienced before.

Both Mike and Adam were hard again and stroking themselves.

“Why don’t you give each other a hand?” Jenna teased.

“We’re good,” Mike replied. Adam nodded.

Jenna chuckled. “Men are such prudes. We girls don’t have any hangups about helping each other out, do we?”

Kate was too distracted to answer, Darren was again fucking her full-force, nearly knocking the wind out of her with each thrust. Jenna took more direct action. She grabbed a handful of Kate’s thick hair and yanked her head off the bed. “My man is getting you off, so the least you can do is get me off.”

Jenna scooted in closer and offered Kate her juicy snatch. Kate hesitated, but just a moment. Darren’s hard, deep thrusts overcame her reluctance, and she began licking Jenna's pussy.

"Mmmm, that's it, Baby. I've wanted to get you like this for a long time."

Kate's enthusiasm grew with the task, especially once Jenna's excitement grew and she began thrusting upward, humping Kate's face. Jenna climaxed with a squeal, leaving Kate's face slick with her juices.

Jenna then moved up beside her friend, trailing her fingernail over Kate's spine. Kate shivered as the combination of Jenna's light touch and Darren hard fucking drove her over the edge again. She collapsed face down on the bed. Jenna eagerly slurped Darren's cock into her mouth, swallowing an impressive amount, before letting it slide out one inch at a time.

"We're not done with you yet," Jenna said.

She and Darren rolled Kate onto her back. He lifted her legs over his powerful shoulders and plunged deep inside her again. Kate hissed excitedly. Darren fucked her hard. Her big tits spread across her chest and swayed wildly. Jenna molested her friend's body, squeezing and sucking her tits, and reaching down to rub Kate's clit in time with Darren's strokes.

Kate came yet again, gasping, panting. But Darren still wasn't done. He dropped forward onto his muscular arms, folding Kate in two. And now he fucked her harder still, his cock a blur, sweat dripping from his forehead onto Kate's face. Mike couldn't believe his wife could take the pounding, but it was as hot as anything he could have imagined. Adam's wide-eyed, open-mouthed stare suggested he felt the same.

Jenna slipped behind Darren and buried her face in his ass. Balls deep in a horny, married slut and with another dirty slut licking his asshole, Darren finally reached his limit. With a growl, his balls contracted, and he pumped his load deep inside Kate.

When he withdrew, Kate remained on the bed, covered in sweat, panting, her legs spread, and her battered pussy pulsed and gaped open. Jenna and Darren quickly gathered up their things as Mike and Adam approached Kate. She rolled onto her side, and Mike lay down beside her, face-to-face.

"Oh God, you're amazing," he sighed as he kissed her deeply.

Adam moved in behind her, sandwiching her between her two men. She gasped as he entered her from behind but continued to kiss Mike passionately. Mike massaged her breasts and nipples. Adam caressed her butt and shoulders as he slowly fucked her. Working together, they slowly, lovingly brought her to another climax. Not as earth shattering as Darren had given her, but infinitely more tender and caring, and enough to trigger Adam's orgasm as well.

Then Kate rolled over and kissed Adam, and Mike pressed his cock into her messy, stretched out pussy. His head spun. She was so wet and so hot. He could hear her wetly kissing Adam and feel her gently thrusting back against him. She was so open, raw, and vulnerable, naked not just physically, but emotionally. Though she was kissing another man, he'd never felt closer to his wife, more connected.

Kate lay sandwiched between her two men. She was sore all over. Exhausted, but also exhilarated. Darren's pounding had left her dizzy. Then Mike and Adam had taken turns with her. As she kissed one with deep, passionate soul kisses, the other gently churned into her swollen, sloppy pussy. There were no explosions at the end. Just warmth and love and sublime pleasure.

She wondered how many more men... and women... there would be. There would be more. But she knew that she'd always have Mike and Adam. That they loved her despite her flaws and her newly discovered needs. And that was enough.

Afterword

I hope you enjoyed this book. I very much enjoyed writing it. And despite the fact that I broke it into two parts, I hope you feel that I gave you value for your money.

I'll be writing a longer essay on this topic at some point. If you follow my Twitter you'll see notice of it. But I wanted to address for a bit some of the strong reactions I've received regarding Kate and her conduct.

Kate cheats on Mike. The fact that he expressed a vague interest beforehand and comes around to her having a lover does not diminish that fact. But does that make her a bad person, someone irredeemable, who has to be punished for her transgressions? I don't think so. People make mistakes. Sometimes they come clean and make amends. Often, they don't. In the real world, we don't hold our friends and relations to standards of perfection. We find reasons to excuse their behavior, to explain it. And we do that not because we condone the behavior, but because in the bigger picture we consider the relationship with have with those people to be too important to throw away. Now, of course, this has limits. And we all explore and manage those limits in different ways. Mike makes his choice. I don't think it is unrealistic, and I don't think it makes him weak. Is it the same choice I would make in this scenario? I don't know. Hard to tell, right?

Now, some early readers have argued that Kate got off easy. That what she did to him was worse than what he did to her. Maybe, but let me lay out a contrary perspective. First, I think what Mike did was worse. Kate's actions were selfish. But I don't think there is any moment when she was deliberately trying to hurt Mike. She did hurt him, but it was inadvertent. What she'd really have liked the whole time is to reconcile him to her affair by tapping into his fantasies about her. And look, he benefitted plenty. She became hot, lusty, and ready to go, and he very much appreciated it. Anyway, if she was selfish, causing pain through insufficient attention to his emotions, his response was malicious. He looked to lash out, hurt her.

He doesn't actually fantasize about the DP. He doesn't even really enjoy it. So, in that sense, I see his actions as worse. They were planned and deliberately hurtful.

More importantly, I don't think an "eye for an eye" or in this case, an "ass for an ass" is the morality I want to insist upon. They've both been shitty at times, but both love each other. And while many readers focus on Mike's pain, this has all been difficult for Kate as well. We see less of her in book 2, so we need to imagine it. But those days after the anal episode can be imagined in two ways. Way one is that she and Adam go off and romp happily. But in my mind, I see a lot more tears and angst. I thought about trying to include that somehow, but the POV complicated it. And when they get back together, Mike and Kate, I didn't want Kate to be going on and on about how much Mike had hurt her, both physically and emotionally, and how she'd been a mess the last few days, because from my perspective she doesn't want to continue the punishment cycle. Jenna works as a surrogate here in her confrontation with Mike. So, in my opinion, Kate's willingness to move past his malicious act is perhaps a greater kindness than his embrace of her polyamory.

But the point I'd like to make is this: I hope I've done a decent job of making Kate and Mike feel plausibly real, enough so that his decisions seem comprehensible, even if they are not the same decisions you might make.

I'll close by repeating my acknowledgement from the first book.

A lot of people provided feedback over the nearly two years this book was in the works. Kenny Wright was, again and always, my best sounding board. I don't say this enough, but if not for Kenny I'd have never become Ben Boswell, and my writing would not be half as good. Other folks provided great feedback as well. Mike, Gary, Andrew... It's been a while, so I may be forgetting someone. As always, I'm delighted by reader feedback. You can email me at Ben.Boswell.Author@gmail.com. Or follow my Twitter @BenBoswellAut.
