Foreword

So, I'm Ben. I figure I should introduce myself since I've been publishing so rarely of late. I've been self-publishing hotwife erotica for a decade now. I was hoping to be more consistent with writing, and to that end, I was trying to build out a large universe of interrelated characters. I still have some sequels in the works. But ultimately, that isn't my strength. I'm a pantsner. I actively find it difficult to write once I have the story fully sketched out. I like to let my characters surprise me. More than that, I tend to write around a idea or concept — a scene, sometimes even just a line of dialogue — rather than a full story arc.

This story is a good example. It's the line that concluded Chapter One. That's what I started with. That was the impetus. Everything else just... happened. Anyway, I hope you like this slight, silly, hotwife-on-vacation plotline. Many of my favorites from among the books I've written are variations on this premise. There is something about being away from home, the sun, the drinks, and the suntan lotion that just lends itself to sexy time.

I'd like to thank Kenny Wright for his editorial and design help. Readers Andrew and Anna also lent a hand in ferreting out typos. Many surely remain, but hopefully not so many as to distract you from the fun.

Please don't hesitate to reach out with feedback. My email is ben.boswell.author@gmail.com or go to my website, www.benboswell.com for all of my publications as well as to sign up for my mailing list (which I will never sell and only use for monthly updates).

One

I swear it was just a glance. I mean, she had big blond hair, big bouncing boobs, a big juicy booty, and a red dress that seemed moments away from just surrendering all.

“Careful, your eyes will pop out of your head if you stare that way,” my wife snarked.

I quickly returned my gaze to Casey. “Sorry Sweetie.”

“Sweetie, huh? So, is that the kind of woman you’d leave me for?”

I laughed. “Honestly, I’d rather look than touch.”

She rolled her eyes. “Uh huh.”

“I mean, pretty woman, no doubt. But, not really my type.”

“You’re full of shit Gary. If that girl gave you half a glance, and I was not around, you’d leap out of your skin to follow her.” She opened her mouth and wagged her tongue. “Like a dog.”

“I would never cheat on you with someone like her.”

She took a sip of beer. "So who would you cheat on me with?"

I laughed. "When did you stop beating your wife? Really counselor, you can do better."

My wife, I should note, is a lawyer, in addition to being a petite, slender brunette, and the mother of my children.

"No, seriously, Gar. I'm curious. What gets your blood flowing these days?" I opened my mouth to speak. She preempted me. "I know, me. Blah blah. Assume you've checked all the placate-the-wife boxes, and have a little fun. It's why we're here right?"

Which was true. The kids, two and five, were safely back home with Gammy, and we were down in Key Largo, on an outside terrace, eating ceviche, drinking cold beer, and looking forward to some uninterrupted lovin' later that night. It was something we needed. We had fallen into something of a rut, a common place to be at our stage in life.

"I'm not just placating you. You really are my type. That woman is sexy, in a porny sort of way. But it's just, like, too much. I don't know if that makes sense. But it's true. I mean I wouldn't immediately turn it off if she showed up on one of the Tube sites, but like I say, she's the sort of woman I think I'd rather watch getting railed than try to handle myself."

She laughed. "Handle?"

"You know what they say," I held up my hands and mimicked squeezing a pair of breasts, "more than a handful is wasted. Or maybe it's mouthful? Either way."

She seemed skeptical, but didn't argue that point. "Okay, but what about the hair? Have you ever been with a natural blonde?"

"You mean, like carpets match the drapes?"

She nodded.

“Um, no. I mean, not that I know of. There was one girl, quite blond, but also no carpet.”

“You should have had her grow it out,” she proposed.

I laughed. “We didn’t get to the making-recommendations-on-personal-grooming phase of the relationship. Not even a relationship, actually. Just a weekend. Hooked up at a Friday party, spent Saturday and Sunday in bed, and then never quite connected again.”

“She ghosted you?”

I shrugged. “Sorta. I’m not sure I was that interested either. Felt like it had basically run its course by then.”

Casey nodded knowingly, and then ran her finger over her eyebrows. “That’s the trick, you know? Pubes and eyebrows tend to be the same color.”

“That cannot be a good idea,” I said.

“The things we do for love... or dick I guess.”

“Anyway, I’m guessing that the blonde,” I nodded in the direction of the woman who’d provoked this conversation, “was neither natural nor unshaved.”

“No, she seemed a little, um, plastic.”

“Like I said, not my thing.”

“You’re boring Gar. Sounds like your dream girl is... me. What kind of man only lusts after his wife?”

I chuckled. “Is that a serious question?”

“Not really. But come on, give me something. What kind of woman would turn you on? Me with an accent? W’as y’r ples’r guvnor?” she said in a horrible cockney.

I cringed. “Luckily there are other things you do better with your mouth.”

She gave me a grin and raised her eyebrows at me. “Aha, but I don’t do everything with my mouth, do I?”

She had let me come in her mouth once and renounced it thereafter. I tried to convince her it was an acquired taste, and she assured me she had no interest in developing her palate in that regard. I wondered if she was hinting at making another effort at that.

“Okay fair, you, but maybe a little more adventurous.”

“Younger?”

I shrugged. “Sure, why not.”

“So your dream girl is me, but younger and dirtier.”

That seemed a safe enough admission.

“Sure.”

I took a sip of beer.

“How about you? What kind of man would make you consider cheating on me?”

She took a swig and pondered. Then she leaned forward conspiratorially.

“He’d be the opposite of you in every possible way.”

Two

My throat constricted. She grinned unabashedly. An egret croaked from among the reeds in the bay. A warm, humid breeze passed across the terrace. I took a sip of beer.

“Um, what?” I said.

She turned her head, nodded at the passing waiter, and gestured for two more beers.

“You heard me.”

“I did.”

“So?”

I took a breath and tried to compose my thoughts. “So... let me see if I understand,” I began. “Are we starting from the assumption that you are, uh, required to do this, and this would be the man you’d choose? Or, like, are you saying you’ve actively fantasized about this?”

She finished her beer and leaned forward again, elbows on the table, resting her chin in her palms. “The latter.”

“Often?”

She contemplated for a moment. “Couple of times a week.”

“And you, um, act on this?”

She rocked back upright and laughed. Casey has a great laugh, enthusiastic and contagious. I found myself chuckling in response.

“Are you asking me if I actually cheat on you with this opposite-man or whether I just, um, pleasure myself to the thought?”

“Seems a relevant concern.”

She milked the moment, and the waiter helped by bringing our next round at the moment. He asked us how we were doing. Casey asked him about the fish tacos. He praised them. She raised an eyebrow at me, her way of asking if I wanted to order them. I shrugged, my way of saying sure, why not? Married people communicate in code sometimes. She ordered. The waiter confirmed they’d be out soon and walked away.

I stared at my wife, waiting for her to answer my question. She played dumb, as if she’d forgotten.

“Erm, Case?”

“Oh, right, there is a question on the table.”

“And?”

She laughed again. “I’m having too much fun observing that kaleidoscope playing across your face. She’s messing with me. No, she isn’t. Yes. No.”

“Case...”

“Oh Gar, just a fantasy.” She held up her right hand and wiggled her fingers. “Just digits, lurid thoughts, and my clit.” She paused and turned pensive. “Well, that’s not quite true. I have done, um, more.”

“More?”

She leaned forward again. “More.” A pause. “Sometimes, I use toys.” Then she laughed again.

I shook my head. It was a relief, of course, that she wasn’t actually having an affair. But that solace was a short-lived balm as the implications of what she had admitted sank in. On a regular basis, my wife masturbated thinking about other men.

“A specific man?”

“Many specific men. But all of a type.”

“Like, a black guy?”

She laughed. “I don’t care about skin color. That’s not the thing.”

“So, what?”

“Well, describe yourself. I mean, other than being white.”

I threw my hands up in exasperation. “I dunno.” I looked down at myself. “I guess I’m skinny?”

“You’re slender and fit.”

“So you fantasize about a fat guy?”

She laughed. “Don’t be so literal. No, not fat necessarily, though a bit of beer belly is fine. Thinking more barrel chested. Thick arms. Tree trunk legs. Those big, strong, beefy hands some guys have. Burly and powerful rather than slender and fit. Both sexy, but different.”

I shuddered. She laughed. “You cold?”

“A little shook,” I admitted. “So, that’s what you mean by ‘opposite’?”

“In part.”

“What else?” I pressed.

“Describe yourself more,” she insisted.

I sighed.

“Oh, come on Gar, play along.”

“I dunno.” I turned my palms up and looked myself over.

“It’s not just physical,” she noted.

“Erm, okay, I guess, I’m, uh, a bit milquetoast?”

She shook her head. “You are not. Stop running yourself down. You’re too humble for your own good sometimes.”

“And your dream man is a braggart instead?”

She shrugged. “Maybe a bit of one. Not an all-out blowhard, certainly. That would be awfully tedious even in the short-run, but yeah, confident, self-assured.” She paused and fingered the rim of her beer bottle. “Maybe even a little selfish, you know? You’re very kind and considerate; he’d be more self-centered.”

“He sounds delightful.”

She laughed. “I don’t think about marrying him.”

“Just fucking him.”

She reached out and clinked her bottle against mine. “Precisely.”

“Big dick?”

Another laugh. “Yours is plenty big. But sure. Not some sort of freak show thing, but yes, well-hung, bigger than I am used to.”

“Older, younger?” I asked.

“When I was younger, he was always older. Now it is about fifty-fifty.”

“And what does he do for a living?” I asked.

I shook my head and laughed. “You know, Case, I would never have pegged you for one of those women with sweaty construction worker fantasies. But here we are.”

She fanned herself. “Oh my.” She laughed again and shrugged. “What can I say? Who knows where our kinks come from?”

“So, have you actually ever dated such a man?”

We paused as our tacos arrived. Casey ordered another round of beers. She took a bite of our newly-arrived food.

“Mmmm, these are good.” She finished chewing and continued, “No, I mean, that’s probably part of it, right? I’ve always been such a nice girl, dating nice, bookish boys... and anyone not like that was bound to turn into, like, forbidden fruit.”

“Forbidden by whom?”

She waved her hands around as if to implicate the whole world. “Society, family, expectations.”

“So, not even like a fling? Like a one night stand?”

“Like your Ms. Pale-Skin-and-Shaved-Coochie? No. I’ve never done that. We’ve talked about this.”

“I thought you were just being delicate. Women have been known to, uh, memory-hole that sort of thing.”

She took another bite of taco. Some juice ran down her chin. She giggled and scooped it up with her finger, which she licked clean.

“Not me. Three men. Well, two boys and one man. Daniel, my first boyfriend. He’s a doctor now. Alex. He’s, um, also a doctor now.”

I laughed. “So I’m the bad boy in the mix?”

She laughed. “Sooo dangerous, Baby. Tell me more about annualized returns.”

I’m a financial planner.

I shook my head. “Still water runs deep.”

“Are you talking about me or are you about to reveal some deep, dark secret of your past?”

“I have killed a man.”

She narrowed her eyes.

“Many men, actually. In video games, but, you know, still.”

She laughed, loud enough that the people at tables around us turned.

Three

We returned to our hotel room, toasty, and both of us a little aroused from our dinner conversation. I could sense it in the glow on her cheeks and the sweatiness of her palms. We opened up the sliding doors to our small balcony letting in the warm, moist air and the sounds of the surf breaking on the shore. Pale moonlight illuminated the room.

Casey kicked off her cork sandals and looked up at me. In her bare feet, she seemed even more petite. I pulled her into an embrace. We kissed, moving from tentative to deep in an instant, a testament to our excitement. She pressed against me, her body grinding on mine. I palmed her tight, little ass. She rubbed my cock through my khakis.

We dropped onto the bed, Casey pausing to yank her sundress off. She climbed on top of me in her bra and panties. She kissed again, wet, tongues flashing. She ran her hands beneath my polo and pressed it upward. As I pulled it the rest of the way off, she flicked at my nipples with her tongue.

I moaned softly and cupped the back of her head, drawing her back up so that we could kiss again. Her body writhed against mine. My cock throbbed. I unsnapped her bra and pulled it off, and then rolled us onto our sides, I leaned down and began sucking on her hard nipples. She sighed and reached her hand into my pants, grasping my cock firmly, stroking me hard.

I rolled her the rest of the way onto her back and climbed between her legs. I kissed down from her nipples to her flat belly. I slid my thumbs into her panties and drew them down the length of her slender legs. Then I kissed my way back up, teasing her shins and her inner thighs with my tongue. The scent of her arousal was intoxicating. The dim light was enough to make out the contours of her closely trimmed triangle of dark hair, and the damp pink of her shaved labia. I licked her slit. She shuddered and ran her hands through my hair.

“Oh Gary,” she sighed as I flicked at her swollen clit.

I looked up to see her, eyes closed, her head turned to the side, her tongue flashing out as she gasped. I pressed a finger into her tight, juicy snatch. She moaned louder.

“Take off your pants,” she said.

I continued playing with her pussy for another few moments before acceding to her request. She watched me as I pulled off the remainder of my clothes, her eyes playing over my body. And as I returned to her, she pulled her knees back to her chest, opening herself to me. I wanted to taste her again, but she gripped my shoulders and guided me upward. She grabbed my cock and placed the head against her pussy. I entered her slowly. She moaned.

We kissed again, I began thrusting inside her. We made love deliberately, tenderly. Her hands caressed my back. She closed her eyes. I wondered....

“Do you think of other men when we make love?”

She opened her eyes and looked at me, but hesitated to respond. I thrust in deep.

“You can tell me,” I reassured her.

“Sometimes,” she admitted, regarding me anxiously, awaiting my reaction.

Part of me was hurt, but a bigger part was intrigued, thrilled even. “Now?”

She shook her head. “No.”

“Do it,” I said, my own excitement spiking, thrusting in hard.

She gasped. “Oh Gary.”

“I’m not Gary. Does your fantasy lover fuck hard?”

Another gasp. “Yes. So, so hard.”

I pounded into her. Her pussy gushed. Our bodies slapped together. Her eyes closed, her head lolled from side to side.

“Oh God,” she gasped.

I wondered what else her fantasy lover did. “Do you want me to—”

“Just do it,” she hissed, cutting me off.

It was like a slap, and I drew back, my cock sliding from her warm embrace. She gazed up at me apprehensively. But I wasn’t upset. I was just girding myself.

“Get on your hands and knees,” I ordered.

She gave me a mild look of surprise, but then started to move. I grabbed her waist and hurried her along. I ignored a stifled giggle and gave her a sharp smack on her upturned ass.

“Hey!” she yelped, but she also arched her back, letting me know she wasn’t wholly opposed.

We used to do it doggy once in a while back in the day, always at her instigation, but it hadn't been part of our love making in years. I missed it. With her narrow waist and cute booty, it had always been a thrill. A couple of kids later, her hips flared wider, she had a little more ass, and in this position, she looked divine.

I rubbed my cock up and down her slit, and when the head slipped inside, I entered her, hard and deep. She gasped. I gave her ass another swat. This time she let out a sultry moan. I grabbed her hips and began fucking her vigorously. Her moans intensified and she thrust back against me. Sweat began to bead on my forehead and down my cheeks.

"Oh God," she cried out, throwing her head back.

Her pussy pulsed on my cock. I thrust in deep and also went over the edge. I pumped in a few more times, and then drained and lightheaded, collapsed onto the bed beside her. She curled up against me, and I pulled the sheet tightly around us.

Four

I woke up, still naked. Casey wasn't beside me, but I spotted her out on the balcony sipping a cup of coffee. She was wearing a beach dress, a blue sleeveless tunic, and staring out at the water through her amber-tinted aviators. I found my boxers and pulled them on, adding a tee-shirt to feel more covered.

I hesitated before joining her, the memory of last night was both exciting and anxiety-provoking. In the moment, it had been hot. In retrospect, I wondered if I'd gone too far.

"Hey," I said tentatively.

"There's coffee made. Get a cup and come out and join me."

Her tone wasn't angry, but nor was it comforting. It had that 'we need to talk' vibe. I poured myself a cup, and went outside. I leaned down to kiss her and she offered me her cheek. I took my seat beside her.

"I guess we need to talk," I proposed.

She nodded. "Yeah. Listen Gary... I'm sorry about last night."

"You're sorry?"

She turned toward me and lowered her shades so we could make eye-contact. “I got carried away. I wasn’t thinking about how hurtful I was.”

“Hurtful?”

“Gary, you don’t have to, you know, pretend. Yeah, hurtful. Comparing you to other men. Telling you I fantasize about....” She looked back out to sea. “I was a cunt.”

I chuckled. “Erm, sorry to break it to you, but it was hot. I was going to apologize to you, actually.”

“Huh?”

“For smacking your butt and, like, putting you on all-fours. I didn’t even ask about boundaries.”

“I literally told you to ‘just do it’,” she noted.

I shrugged. “I know. But it still feels like I took advantage of you being in a funny mood.”

She laughed. “Look at us. I don’t know about you, but I had fun last night.” I nodded. “And we’re, like, beating ourselves up over it.”

“I guess.”

“Don’t guess, Gar. It was fun. It was good. And... and I appreciate you going out of your comfort zone to play the part. I feel like I owe you one.”

I thought back to her glorious ass thrusting back at me. “You do not owe me one.”

“Whatever you say,” she said.

The coffee was doing its trick, so I made my excuses. “Hey, Case, I’m going to take a shower and get dressed.”

She smiled. “Take your time. I need to run out and buy a couple of things.”

Casey was still out when I was done with my morning ablutions. I dressed in swim trunks and a race tee and settled on the balcony with a book and a second cup of coffee.

She returned transformed. Her cute, but shapeless, beach dress had been replaced with a pair of tight, terry cloth shorts and matching blue crop top. Beneath, she was wearing a tiny yellow bikini top and, I assumed, matching bottoms. She'd traded in her aviators for a pair of neon pink sunglasses which caught the tint of her new lip gloss. She was sporting several new, dimestore rings, a scrunchy around her wrist, and on her inner arm, a temporary tattoo of a thorny rose with the caption, love hurts.

I took in her attire and grinned. She preened and gave me a sexy, little wiggle.

"I left my ID at home," she chimed. "Will you buy me a drink later?"

I laughed. "You are apt to get carded dressed like that."

"You did say you wanted a younger version of me."

She didn't add the second part of that sentiment – younger and dirtier. But I wasn't about to complain. This was good enough.

"I love you at any age."

She made a "W" with her fingers, and added, "I'm always starving the morning after sex. Let's get breakfast."

We went out with our beach bags to grab some food before finding a spot on the sand.

We did get some looks. I'm graying, and attired as I was, I could easily have passed for Casey's father, which would have been fine had she not been all giggling and affectionate the whole time. As it was, I looked like a middle aged crisis with his inappropriately young trophy.

“We’re making a scene,” I said.

“Imagine if they knew you’d put me on all fours last night and spanked my ass.” Her eyes flashed with an idea. “Should I call you Daddy?”

“Please don’t.”

She giggled and booped my nose. “Don’t be a fuddy-duddy.”

We got to the breakfast place, the smell of eggs and bacon mixing with the salt air. They had Jimmy Buffett on, and half the tables featured appalling, oversized Bloody Marys with enough fried food ladled on that just seeing them made my arteries clog. Looking around, I noted that I was not the only man in the place with a young looking companion... and yes, several were quite likely companions.

The hostess rolled her eyes at us, but sat us at a nice table overlooking the water. We ordered Bloody Marys, but without the accouterments. Casey was not carded, which seemed to disappoint her.

“Early 20s is still pretty good,” I said. “Shaved a good decade off your age.”

She shrugged. “I’d look even younger with longer hair.”

She was right. When we met, it was down to the middle of her back, whereas now she wore it chin length.

I nodded. “You look amazing either way. And I think your college girl cosplay is hot.”

“I’m glad you like it.”

“I do. But you really don’t have to, you know.”

“I know, but it’s fun. And it might even get more fun later.” She winked.

It did once we got to the beach. After a couple of Bloody Marys and too many calories, I was ready for a nap. But my sleepiness evaporated as Casey peeled off her shorts.

Calling her bikini bottom a thong seems like an exaggeration. It wasn't quite a string bikini, but it did leave precious little to the imagination. A narrow strip barely covered her labia, and she must have shaved her triangle down to a narrow wedge in order to avoid overflowing. I gazed around and counted a half-dozen guys checking her out.

She handed me the sunscreen and asked me to help her out.

"Your back?" I asked.

"All over."

So I set to coating my sexy, risque-bikini-clad wife with lotion. She arched and preened, and when I coated her inner thighs, she moaned softly. I adjusted my dick to hide my growing erection. Then she rolled onto her stomach and I rubbed sunscreen on her back. She lifted her ass slightly in the air.

"Make sure you get all my exposed skin," she said.

There was a lot of it. In the back, her suit was a spider web of narrow strips. I massaged her shoulders and down her spine, her hamstrings, and then her butt cheeks, which she wriggled in delight. As I spread lotion into her crack, my finger millimeters from her anus, she moaned again, as if on the verge of a climax. My cock throbbed.

"My turn," she chimed.

She began with my back and then rolled me over onto my stomach. She caressed my chest, running her fingers through my downy hair, then across my belly, and before I could stop her, she slipped her hand into my trunks.

“Case... ohhhh,” I moaned as she closed her palm on my shaft.

Her hand was warm and slippery with sunscreen. She stroked me up and down, her palm caressing the head of my cock and making me shiver and sigh.

“We’re in public,” I gasped.

“I know.”

She pumped her fist up and down my shaft, her eyes locked on mine.

“Case,” I moaned.

She stroked me faster. My vision blurred. I gasped and suddenly spurted in my shorts. My heart raced. It was one of the most intense orgasms I’d ever experienced. She kneaded my cock, milking every last drop of come, until I finally pushed her away, too sensitive to take any more stimulation.

Casey withdrew her hand and wiped the mix of come and sunscreen onto my belly.

“You’ll probably want to rinse that off when you recover.”

I was still breathing hard. “Oh God, Casey.”

“Dirty enough for you?”

I laughed. “God yes.”

She chuckled and lay face down on her towel. With her tiny bikini and legs parted slightly, she made a tempting portrait. More people arrived on the beach, and she got a lot of not-so-subtle glances in her direction from men who could easily imagine sliding those narrow strips of fabric aside and gaining access to her tempting, little holes. And from the grin on her face as she heard men walking by, Casey was thinking the same thing.

After my erection subsided, I took a dip in the ocean to clean off, and then returned to my beach towel, where the combination of a climax and those Bloody Marys soon had me napping.

I awoke and checked my watch. It was a little past noon. Casey was not beside me, and when I sat up, I saw her splashing herself in the waves. Glancing around the beach, there were several men checking her out, though since they all seemed to be coupled, they were doing it subtly. Just a bunch of guys, all staring out in the same direction like a flock of cats watching a bug on the ceiling. Nothing to do with the girl in the skimpy bikini kicking at the surf.

As I watched, I noticed a couple of guys ambling down the beach in her direction. They were young, in their early 20s probably, and both quite buff, abs and muscles and all that. They both had dark hair. The one on the left sporting a couple of days of stubble and a panoply of tattoos across his broad torso and arms. The one on the right had less ink, long, flowing hair, and was carrying a small portable speaker. I could hear a hip hop beat over the surf. I named them Tats and Tunes in my head.

As they got closer to Casey, Tunes turned down the music and they approached my wife. She gave a quick glance in my direction, and noticing I was sitting up, she pivoted toward them with a grin and a hand on her hip. Tats said something and Case nodded slightly. Then Tunes spoke and Casey shook her head and laughed. Tats spoke again, and again they all laughed. Tunes pointed up the beach. Case peered in that direction and then nodded again. She said something and they gave her a thumbs up before resuming their path down the beach.

Casey jogged over to me.

“Hey, Sleepy Head,” she chimed.

“Hey,” I replied, getting to my feet. “What did those guys want?”

She laughed. “Well, I am no great expert in the workings of the male mind, but I believe they wanted to fuck me.”

“Erm, probably. And did you want to fuck them?”

She glanced in their direction. “Cuties both. Nice muscles. Not exactly my type, but I bet they’d show a girl a good time.”

“You didn’t answer my question.”

She chuckled. “Let’s grab a bite.” She took my hand and walked me toward the restaurant fronting the beach. “What’s going on with you all of a sudden?”

“I don’t know. I just find it hot that you have these sexual thoughts.”

“But you know they’re just thoughts, right?”

“Sure. Though, you know, some people do act on those sorts of thoughts.”

“I can’t imagine doing that. Having sex with a complete stranger? That’d be weird.”

We took a table by the sand, and a waitress came over with menus and water. Casey ordered a Margarita and I joined her.

“People have sex with strangers all the time,” I noted. “We’re all strangers until we’re not. And having sex with someone has traditionally been one of those things people do to, um, get to know someone.”

“But I’m not interested in getting to know a couple of muscly chuckleheads who tried to pick me up on the beach.”

“Did they really try to pick you up?”

She laughed. “Well, they invited me to a beach club and offered me Molly. So, um, yeah.”

“But you’d never do something like that.”

“I’m married.”

“Let’s say you weren’t.”

She hesitated. “I don’t know, Gar. Probably not. I never did that sort of thing. I dunno, I guess my parents instilled a sort of guilt reflex about casual sex. They weren’t, like, nutty about it. It was all in the vein of empowerment, you know. Don’t sell yourself short. Blah blah. It’s all part of that notion that sex is, I dunno, demeaning or something. It’s not something you just give away.”

“Right. And we’ll probably do that with our kids, too,” I replied. “Aside from all the moralizing, I think it makes sense to err on the side of encouraging kids to be cautious and make good decisions. All that prefrontal cortex stuff. Not that we need to worry about that for a while.”

Our drinks arrived and we ordered some quesadillas for lunch. I took a sip. It was cold, sugary, and just a little bitter. A very solid Margarita.

“But,” I continued, “you’re all grown up, even if you’re dressed like a teeny-bopper.”

“Old habits die hard,” she replied. “I mean, look, will I flick my bean thinking about putting on a tight party dress, popping a couple of pills, and getting sandwiched by those guys? Sure. But that’s different from actually doing it.”

“Is that because you think the reality would not live up to the fantasy?”

“Probably. In part at least.”

“But you know that’s not true.”

“Huh?”

“Forget about the potential consequences for a minute. Just think about the act. So, you’re drunk, high, horny. The music is loud. You’re sweaty, they’re sweaty. They’re touching you, you’re touching them. There’s kissing, grinding. That’s all enjoyable, right?”

She nodded. "I guess."

"And the rest is enjoyable too, right? You don't consider sex a chore."

Casey laughed. "I do not."

"So there you have it. The reality is likely to be just as good as the fantasy. It could be worse... or it could be better. But ultimately, to the extent that you're fantasizing about sex, there is a good chance you'd enjoy it. Sex is usually enjoyable."

Our food arrived and Casey took a bite as she considered.

"Okay, fair enough. Purely in a physical sense, that's probably true. But," she tapped her temple, "it's not just physical, and there are consequences."

"Such as."

She laughed. "Such as blowing up everything."

"You think you'd fall in love?"

She shrugged. "Could be. People have been known to catch feelings after having sex."

"So, you're worried about falling for one of those, what did you call them, chuckleheads?"

She laughed. "Honestly, no. But you never really know."

"You never really know anything. There are no guarantees in life. All we can make are informed decisions and accept the residual risk."

"Or, you know, not make stupid decisions and cut out the risk altogether."

"Sure, but if you follow that logic to its conclusion, you end up doing nothing. I mean, we took a plane down here. It could have crashed! Wouldn't it have been smarter to just stay home?" She shrugged, unconvinced. "Then again," I continued, "if we'd been at home, it could get struck by lightning and we might have perished that way."

"You're getting dark, Honey."

“Just making a point.”

“Are you? Because, honestly, I am not seeing it.”

“You shouldn’t be afraid to try things if they seem like they might be fun. Life is too short.”

Casey laughed. “Gar, I think you’re forgetting something. Even if I were the type to just, you know, throw caution to the wind, then what about you?”

“What about me?”

She tilted her head. “Erm, I dunno. So, instead of me sitting here with you, having this absurd conversation, imagine if I’d gone off with those guys. I’m now in their condo, we’re passing around a bong, one thing leads to another, and....”

“Chinese finger trap,” I said.

She laughed. “Sure. Something like that.”

“Sounds fun.”

“Except it’s not just a story now. It is actually me, with a couple of other men, being, you know, intimate.”

“I’m not worried about you leaving me.”

She shook her head. “No, I know. But forget about that, and just focus on the situation. Me. Your wife. With another man or men.”

“That’d be hot.”

“Gar....”

“No, I’m serious. I admit I don’t know how I’d actually react. But the idea is hot.”

“I don’t get it.”

“I don’t either. Who knows where our kinks really come from. But I’m a bit of a voyeur, I guess. I did tell you I’d be more interested in watching that blonde from yesterday getting it on than I would to be with her myself. But my real fantasy is you... but more raunchy.”

“I thought that meant you wanted me to be more adventurous with you.”

I nodded. “Sure, that too. And maybe I’m sort of thinking of this as a means to an end, you know. Like a fling would make you more open to... whatever. Honestly, I am not even sure what that whatever is. But yeah, your fantasy seems to be to get railed by some beefy dude, and, well, I guess my fantasy is seeing you out of your mind with lust.”

“I don’t know whether to be appalled or....” She laughed. “Yeah, appalled.”

“You’re appalled, but you’re also sort of turned on.”

“I am not.”

I rolled my eyes. “Uh huh.”

She shook her head, amused. “Okay, maybe a little.”

I raised an eyebrow. “Maybe we should head back to the room after lunch.”

“I could be talked into that.”

When we arrived, I freshened up, and then spotted my wife out on the balcony, leaning over the railing, her nearly naked ass swaying invitingly.

“Hey,” I said, cupping her butt.

She peaked back at me over her shoulder. “You better hurry, Baby, my husband will be out of the bathroom any minute.”

“Out here?” I said, looking around anxiously. It was midafternoon, and none of the nearby balconies seemed occupied, but even still, anyone could come out at any moment.

She chuckled and took my hand and led me inside. She hopped up onto the bed and got on all fours. “This is how you like me, right?”

I nodded, dry mouthed. She looked amazing. I crawled up behind her and eased down her bottoms. Her pussy was swollen and glistening, her asshole pulsing. I leaned in and licked her snatch. Her taste was intoxicating, excitement mingled with sweat and sea. She let out a low growl and thrust back against me. I gently sucked her labia into my mouth. She dropped her head onto the mattress, lifting her ass higher, giving me access to her clit. I flicked my tongue over her swollen nub and pressed a finger inside her. She shuddered and sighed.

“Oh God, you’re going to make me cum,” she moaned.

I sucked on her clit and pumped her pussy with my digit. Her ass swirled. And then she let out a loud gasp and her pussy began to pulse.

“Oh God, oh God,” she cried out, her legs shaking.

She collapsed onto the bed. I pulled the blanket over her.

“Take off your clothes,” she demanded.

I stripped and climbed in with her. She pressed her hot, naked body against mine, her hand encircling my shaft. She stroked me slowly and locked eyes with me.

“Your turn. What do you want?”

“I... er... would you have really wanted to do it on the balcony?”

“Aren’t you the one who said something about life being short?”

I chuckled. “I guess I did.” I enjoyed her hand for a few moments and then asked, “What would your fantasy lover have done?”

“Pulled aside my thong and shoved his big cock inside me.”

I groaned, very close to coming. “Not even a little foreplay?”

“I was already wet and having him yank off my thong would have gotten me the rest of the way. Of course, he’d probably have already taken me right on the beach when he was lotioning my ass.”

“There were lots of people around.”

“He wouldn’t care. He takes what he wants.” She took a sharp intake of breath, her own words exciting her.

“Oh fuck,” I grunted as I spurted into her hand again.

She chuckled.

“I’m sorry,” I said.

“Don’t be. I love how this turns you on. Even if it makes you quick on the draw. Don’t you like it when you make me come?”

She was still stroking my now-wildly sensitive prick. I only barely managed to gasp out my response, “Yes... oh... that’s... oh. We should... ah... go to that beach club tonight.”

She chuckled and finally released my slimy prick. “This is not the sort of decision we should make while I’m playing with your dick.”

I rolled onto my back and stared at the ceiling. “No, probably not,” I admitted.

Five

After a nap and a shower, we discussed it and decided that the beach club was not such a hot idea. The clincher was when Case noted again that, as sexy and buff the young men on the beach were, they really were not her type. They were gym rats and clubbers, not the hard, manual laborers of her sweaty fantasies.

So I did a little research, and managed to track down a local bar, BJs, a bit of a dive, with live music that seemed to cater more to locals than tourists. I didn't share all that info with my wife, however, and instead just pitched it as a low-key place to catch a band. Casey dressed down appropriately, choosing tight jeans and a snug tee-shirt.

We had a light dinner and took an Uber to the bar, which was probably a pretty unique occurrence. Most of the spots out front were given over to pick ups. I think at that point, Casey figured out what I was up to, and she gave me a smirk.

Inside, the place was as I had expected. Neon beer signs, dusty bottles on the top shelf, scratched and gouged wooden bar, red naugahyde booths, a couple of waitresses who looked like they wanted nothing more than a smoke, and an oversized barkeep with a long, scraggly beard. There were a couple of pool tables, a jukebox, and a small stage where a band was playing southern rock covers.

The clientele were mostly locals by appearance and mostly men, though a handful of slumming tourists were also in the mix. We took a seat in one of the booths. The waitress came over and I ordered a couple of beers. Casey added a couple of SoCo shooters. I raised an eyebrow.

She chuckled. "Don't want to seem out of place. Plus I need to be tanked when the band breaks into Free Bird."

"We can leave," I said.

"Not on your life," she replied.

Our drinks arrived. We clinked the shot glasses and downed the brown liquor. Case winced and took a gulp of beer. As she drank, she took in the scene and the other patrons.

"You've done your homework," she said.

"See anyone you like?"

"Hold your horses, Gar. Tell me what we're doing here."

I shrugged. "I just figured given how hot and bothered those chuckleheads got you, it would be a hoot to see if we find someone who is a little closer to your, uh, fetish."

She laughed. A couple of guys turned toward us.

"Fetish?"

"You know what I mean."

"Do I?" She took another sip. "Okay, and then what? Let's say I do happen to spot my, uh, dream man. What happens then?"

"I haven't gotten that far in my thinking."

“Are you thinking I’m going to drag some guy into the bathroom and let him have his way with me?”

“God no,” I gasped, my cock chubbing up. “I mean, is that what you’d want?”

“What I’d want? Or what I’ve fantasized about?”

“Erm... is that what you fantasize about?”

She shrugged, finished her beer, and waved at the waitress for a second round. I was barely started on mine, and chugged to catch up. She clicked her fingernails on the scuffed table as she pondered her response. Our second round arrived quickly.

“Say what you will about the decor, but the service is pretty tight,” she said.

“I think this place’s motto might be ‘the drunker the better.’ But there is a question on the table.”

We downed the second shot. My head swam.

“When I have those fantasies....” She paused. “You need to understand, these are not, like whole, lengthy full-formed scenarios. They’re less structured than that. Just, you know, snippets.”

“Like a guy yanking your thong aside and putting it in.”

“Right. Or, you know, tossing me onto the bed and slapping my ass. Or yanking my hair or something. I’m not writing romance novels in my head. I’m just thinking of a sexy thought while, you know, jilling off. So I don’t know that I’ve ever had a really in-depth fantasy about meeting a man and all the sequence of events before, you know....”

“The good part,” I suggested.

She nodded. “The good part. That said, I mean, I don’t recall any of these fantasies involving 1000 thread count sheets or champagne and strawberries, you know.”

“So getting pounded in a dive bar bathroom...?”

Casey laughed. “It would be on brand, I guess. So is that why we’re here? So I can get bent over a sink?”

“I don’t have a firm agenda.” I chuckled. “Honestly, just provoking this conversation strikes me as a win.”

“You’re a strange man.”

“Horny. Horny is the word you’re looking for.”

We sipped our second beers and then ordered another round, minus the shooters this time. The band took a break, and I proposed playing pool.

Casey nodded. “Sure.”

We rose and approached the table. I slipped a dollar bill into the tray and the balls clattered out. As I racked them, I said, “So, should we make this interesting?”

“What are you thinking?” she said. I started to answer, but she put up her hand. “No, I have it. If you win, you take me into the bathroom and have your way with me.”

I smiled. “That sounds pretty good to me. What if I lose?”

She smirked. “Then, you have to watch me chat up a strange man.”

“Will you end up in the bathroom with him?”

A small shrug. “You never know where that sort of thing will end up, now do you?” She gave a moment to protest and then settled it. “Done. Now break.”

Casey and I are pretty well matched. We both suck. We giggled our way through missed shots and scratches for an embarrassingly long time. Although one advantage was that I got to surreptitiously observe the other customers observing us... well, mostly observing my wife. Every time she bent over to take a shot, she drew the attention of the various lustful men admiring her sexy, little ass.

Finally, we got down to brass tacks. I had finally cleared stripes, and had a shot on the eight ball. Before I could shoot, my wife stopped me. “Erm, Gar, you do understand the rules?”

“I think so.”

“So... you know that if you make this, then you get to take me into the bathroom, but if you miss this shot, I spend the rest of the evening flirting with another man.”

“Yup.”

She laughed. “Okay.”

It was an easy shot. Had it all lined up. That said, it was also an easy shot to mess up and follow the eight ball into the pocket with the cue. I took my time setting up. I peered around the bar. Plenty of men who seemed to match Casey’s tastes. I looked over at my wife. Her cheeks were flush with drink or excitement. She gave her cue a lewd stroke with her fist. A simple shot and we’d be in the bathroom, her jeans and panties down around her thighs, and my dick churning into her juicy pussy. Fun. But if I missed... who knew? Adventure.

I aimed the tip low on the cue ball and drew back the cue. Then as I shot, my hand slipped. The eight ball sank, and the cue ball continued to move toward the pocket. It approached closer and closer, stopped right on the lip before, suddenly, dropping in as well.

“Fuck,” I grunted.

She looked at me a little bit in shock. And then smiled. “Okay then.”

We returned to our booth and ordered another round of beers. She slowly surveyed the room. “So, who are you thinking?” she asked.

“That’s up to you, isn’t it?”

“It’s up to us, I think,” she replied. “This could very well end up being the man I think about when we’re doing it tonight. If you’re going to be a surrogate for another man, who would it be?”

I chuckled but scanned the room. There were a number of prospects, but one guy stood out above the rest. He was sitting at the corner of the bar with a few buddies, but he was clearly the leader of the group, seated at the center, and when he spoke the others seemed to listen. I’d noticed him when we first walked in, and then again as he closely observed Casey’s ass during the pool game.

He was probably in his late 40s or early 50s and was barrel chested and had thick arms. He was sandy haired and a bit ruddy in complexion, had pale blue eyes, and a few days of scruff. His shirt sleeves were rolled up exposing his powerful forearms, which were covered in faded tattoos. He wore jeans and well-worn work boots. There was no way this guy worked in an office all day.

“So, don’t be obvious, but see that guy at the corner of the bar? He was checking out your ass the whole time we were playing pool.”

Casey turned to look at him. She turned back, wincing. “Eek, I think he saw me,” she said.

And, of course, like an idiot, that made me look as well. His eyes met mine. I quickly looked down at the table, but it was too late. Out of my peripheral vision, I noticed him slide off his stool and stalk over to us.

“Oh fuck,” I mumbled.

“We got a problem?” he glowered, standing over us, hands on his hips. His voice was raspy, cigarette scarred, and he had a modest drawl.

He could easily have torn my head off, and it was less than comforting to see his buddies, still at the bar, eying us menacingly.

I shook my head. “No, sorry. Erm, we were just—”

Casey cut me off. “My husband says you were checking out my ass.”

He laughed but remained focused on me. “So what are you going to do about it?”

“I’m the one talking to you,” my wife exclaimed. “I don’t need my husband to fight my battles.”

He turned toward her. “Well, Sweetheart, I’m more of a lover than a fighter. So not much interested in battles, but I will fuck that tight, little ass of yours if you want.”

Casey gasped.

“Hey!” I said. “Don’t talk to her like that.”

“Or what?” he challenged.

Casey recovered her composure. “Are you always this aggressive? Or just having a bad day?”

He paused and regarded my wife for a few moments, particularly her nipples that were suddenly threatening to tear a hole in her tee shirt. He smirked. “You’re a sexy bitch. What do you expect when you check out strange men in bars?”

“Usually they just offer to buy me a drink.”

He laughed and snapped his fingers at the waitress. “Hey Trude, another round over here.”

She took a step toward us. “Just the beers? Or shooters too?”

“Shooters too,” he replied. “Make ‘em doubles.”

He pulled us a chair and sat at the head of the table. “Bought you a drink. Now what?”

Casey gave me a quick glance, but remained focused on him. "I'm Casey. This is my husband, Gary."

Without taking his eyes off her, he proffered his hand toward me, and proceeded to nearly crush it. He noticed me wince and grinned. "I'm Frank." He shook her hand as well, with less force, but enough that she surely felt his strength.

"We're on vacation," Casey said. "A few days away from the kids."

"So why are you in this shithole rather than some snazzy place on the beach?"

"I like live music."

The drinks arrived. He raised his shot glass and we clinked and gulped it down. He took a swig of beer and wiped his mouth with the back of his hand.

"And adventure," he said.

"Huh?"

"You know what I'm sayin'. Doing a little slumming. Get some juices flowing. Am I right?"

"You're reading a lot into very little," she replied.

He chuckled. "Classy ring," said he nodding at her engagement band mixed in with the other schlocky ones. "No piercings." He ran his finger across her forearm. "But a cheesy temporary tat and bubblegum lipstick. No, I think I have your number. What are you, Baby? Doctor or some shit?"

"Lawyer," she said.

"You look the type. Overeducated. Probably got some kids, but you worked that ass back into shape. Most women don't bother. You don't spend a lot of time in a place like this. Probably haven't been in a dive bar since college. But you sure did enjoy waving that sexy little ass around playing pool. Get another couple of drinks in you, and you'll be dirty dancing out on the floor, probably with hubby, but you'll be making eyes at guys like me. Then you guys go back to your expensive hotel and hubby fucks you, and you pretend it's some guy from the bar. But it's not the same. Not even close."

Casey seemed to be in shock. I know I was. He'd read us like an open book.

He reached out and drew his thumb across her cheek and chin. My wife shivered.

He stood and I wondered if things were going to get rough. Instead, he grinned. "I'll do things to you no man ever has." Her cheeks flushed. He added, "If you ever want to get in touch with me, ask old Marty," he gestured at the barkeep. "He knows how to get a hold of me." He winked at Casey, and then strode away, giving his crotch a quick grab to laughter from his cronies.

"We, um, probably should go," I proposed.

"Not until I finish my beer," she replied.

So we downed our beers with grim determination while I summoned an Uber. We paid and left just as the band started up their next set. And yes, sure enough, as we climbed into the car, we heard the opening chords of Free Bird from inside.

Sitting in the Uber, I placed my arm around Casey's shoulders. She was shivering. It was still close to 80 and humid, and the driver had his windows open rather than the A/C.

"Are you cold?"

She shook her head, but didn't reply.

"Are you okay?" I asked.

She nodded toward the driver and shook her head quickly. She didn't want to speak in the car. Luckily, we were not far from our hotel.

I expected her to want to return to our room. She was clearly shaken. But instead, she made a beeline for the beach bar and ordered a couple of beers.

She took a big swig. I waited for her to speak. But she seemed mute.

"So... that was intense," I said.

Still nothing.

"I guess that puts, like, a damper on things?"

She looked at me for a long moment and then laughed. "A damper?" She took another gulp and shook her head slowly. "Dangerous game, Gar. Dangerous game."

"Were you tempted to go off with him?"

"Yes. I mean, I wouldn't have. Just too weird, I think. But, wow, he did push my buttons."

"So why are we here rather than up in our room or... back at his place?"

"Because, we need to pull back on this. You have no idea what you're playing with."

"You don't think you'd enjoy it?"

"I don't know. Or maybe I'd enjoy it too much. Do you know what I was thinking about when he was at our table? I was thinking that he was strong enough to do anything he wanted with me. Just throw me around and use me like a sex doll."

I growled. "That's hot."

"No!" she said again, seemingly trying to convince herself more than me.

“Don’t worry about me,” I said. “The question is whether you’d enjoy it. Or rather whether you think there is enough chance of enjoying it to justify the risk.” She started to reply, but I cut her off. “And don’t even worry about enjoying it too much. That doesn’t even make sense. It might be too good?”

“Gary, look, that’s an easy thing to say. Pure theory. You’re looking at this through the lens of your experience with me. You’re just assuming that I’d be exactly the same person after as before, just, maybe a little more fun.”

“I am not,” I protested. “You’re overcomplicating things. You being turned on turns me on. It’s that simple.”

“Smoking crack is simple too.”

I took a deep breath and placed her hand on my crotch. I was rock hard. “Case, every word you say just gets me more excited. You’re telling me you’re worried about liking it too much, about, what, becoming addicted to it. Do you have any idea how arousing that is?”

She balled up her hands and shook them in front of her. “Yes, that idea is. But...”

“But what?”

She shook her head. “Gar, that guy is a menace. He won’t be satisfied playing whatever role you have scripted for him. You realize that, right? If we ended up in his web, he’d be calling the shots.”

“I know that.”

“Gary. We are not going back to that bar. And we’re not seeing that man again.”

She rose and began to stalk back toward our room.

“Except in our dreams,” I said quietly before following after her.

We didn't make love that night. There was too much tension between us. And also, we'd probably had too much to drink. I fell asleep fast.

I awoke around 2:30am. The bed was jiggling slightly, and I heard Casey gasp softly into her pillow. She didn't have to say his name to me to know she was playing with herself thinking about Frank. I stayed perfectly still and kept my breathing steady as her breaths quickened until, with a final small squeak, she put herself over the top.

Six

We both slept later than usual, especially Casey. When I woke up around 9:30am, she was sound asleep. The thought arose, unbidden, that she probably did not get much sleep last night, that the 2:30 session I'd observed had been just one of many times she'd played with herself during the night.

As I showered and dressed, I couldn't get out of my head the idea of her masturbating to Frank. The thought gave me a raging hard-on, and I only became more inflamed when it occurred to me that no matter how many times she scratched the itch, it would do little but defer and heighten her growing obsession with the fantasy of being with a hard, strong, boorish man.

I knew I was projecting onto her, at least in part. I'd often fantasized about Casey being more sexual. Not that she was a prude, far from it, but she also rarely evinced any real salaciousness. That sexy bikini she'd bought, her exhibitionism on the beach, and her fantasy about me pulling aside her bottoms and taking her on the balcony, much less her offer to do it in the bar bathroom, were already way more provocative actions than just about any from our years together. It should have been enough, yet it merely piqued my interest. It was a hint at a side of her I'd always daydreamed about, but had never known existed.

Even more, I knew that her behavior with me was a mere refraction of her real desires. Just like her self-love, anything she did with me, any playacting in which we indulged, were just a pale substitute for the real thing. And we'd met the real thing last night.

Frank was surely not the only man who could push her buttons, but he'd certainly done it. And I think both Casey and I knew his boast of being able to do things to her that no other man had was far from idle.

I paced the room waiting for her to arise, pausing to observe her. I slowly fondled my hard cock as I watched her sleep. Her eyes began to twitch beneath her closed lids. I couldn't know what she was dreaming, but that didn't stop me from imagining it was about Frank. What was he doing to her in her slumbers? Was he fucking her hard with his big cock? Was she on her knees worshiping his thick tool while he grabbed a handful of her hair? Was he slapping her sexy booty?

I slid the sheet off her sexy body. She was in the same tee shirt and panties from last night. I imagined her pussy getting swollen and juicy. I stared at her panties, hoping to see them become wet and translucent. I wished that she would slide her hand beneath the sheer fabric and begin to play with herself, her fingers rubbing her sensitive clit, squishing into her pussy.

"You think he'd be satisfied with watching?" she asked.

I startled. "You're awake."

She stretched and in a smooth motion reached out and palmed my cock.
“You’re hard.”

“I uh...” I backed away, but she gripped my cock.

“Take it out,” she said.

“I...”

“Sit on the bed and take it out and tell me what you were thinking about.”

I obeyed, sitting on the edge of the bed and pulling out my hardon. She rose and sat, legs criss-crossed, beside me.

“I heard you last night,” I said.

“Heard me?”

“Heard you and felt the bed move.”

She smiled.

“You were thinking of him, weren’t you?” I said.

“Maybe I was thinking of you. Thinking of you taking me into the bar’s bathroom. Or maybe, snuggling up beside me in the middle of the night and teasing me awake with your fingers on my clit.”

“Were you?”

She smirked, her fingertips tracing a small circle on her inner thigh.
“You’re holding out on me, Gary. All that stuff about me being your fantasy girl if I was just a little dirtier.”

“You don’t need to change for me.”

Casey laughed. “What if I want to? What if I wanted to become your dream slut, at least down here on vacation?” She paused, her hand resting on her crotch. “But that’s not your fantasy, is it?”

Now I laughed. “It is, though. God, you’re sexy. You have no idea.”

“Oh, I don’t doubt that you fantasize about me being a bad girl,” she said, the last two words coming out as a feral growl. “You just don’t fantasize about it being with you.”

I shook my head.

She pressed on. “Do you fantasize about me swallowing come?”

I groaned and my cock twitched. It was exciting even to hear her talk that way. “Yes. You... uh... know that.”

She nodded. “But do you fantasize about coming in my mouth?”

“Yes.”

She tilted her head. “Are you sure?”

“Yes,” I replied, though a little more shakily. “What are you getting at?”

“I don’t think you do. I think you’d enjoy it, sure. But I don’t think you fantasize about doing it yourself.”

“I... I dunno.”

She slipped her hand into her panties and moaned softly. “Stroke yourself,” she said.

Somewhat self-consciously, I did. Her eyes widened and she began rubbing her pussy. “I wanted to be your fantasy girl. I got a teeny-tiny bikini and shaved extra close. I had you lotion me all over. All over.”

I shuddered, remembering my fingers in her butt crack, coating her sexy butt.

“I bent over a railing for you and literally offered to take you into a bar bathroom for a quickie. I was even planning to finish you off with my mouth. The shooters were for courage. But you demurred.”

“I didn’t demure. I just scratched.”

She laughed. “You’re not that bad. At pool that is. You are a bad liar and something of a pervert, as it turns out.”

My hard-on began to deflate. This seemed likely to turn into a discussion.

“Look, I’m sorry about all of this. I just... you’re right... got carried away.”

She pulled her panties aside so I could see her finger sliding in and out of her primed pussy.

“No. It’s more than that. But I need to hear you say it.”

“Say what?”

“Who do you imagine coming in my mouth when you fantasize about me swallowing come?”

“Case....”

“Is it like me? Someone anonymous but, like, of a type? Or is it someone specific? Is it always the same person?”

“I don’t know.” I stared at her pussy and glistening fingers. “Right now it’s... uh... Frank.”

She let out a sultry moan and shivered. “Are you just saying that because it gets me hot?”

“I don’t know. I don’t know anymore. I just fantasize about a man, some man, getting you so worked up that you lose all your inhibitions.” As I spoke, my thoughts crystallized. “At first, I wanted it for me, but then, over time, I began to imagine that there was, maybe, someone else who could get you to do things that you wouldn’t with me.”

She chuckled ruefully. “So when you were fantasizing just about me, I was too, I guess, insecure to consider it. But now that I am feeling more confident in my own skin, your fantasy has moved on.”

She paused and for a few moments we just watched each other jerking off.

“So, tell me the truth, and be completely honest,” she said, “at this point, would you rather have me shed my inhibitions here, in bed with you, or would you rather watch me be ravaged by another man?”

“I don—”

“Yes. You. Do,” she insisted. “Close your eyes.”

I did.

She continued, “Imagine me naked, on my knees, sucking cock. Imagine me opening my mouth and jerking it, jerking it until it spurts in my mouth.”

I moaned as the image formed in my mind, her presence, the sound of her fingers squishing in her pussy, the throaty tone in her voice making it seem beyond vivid.

“Whose cock is it?” she asked. “Is it yours Gary? Or is it Frank’s?”

It wasn’t mine. It was too big and thick. And it wasn’t my hand grasping a handful of her hair. And she wasn’t looking up at me playfully and in control, but another man, and her expression was hungry and submissive.

“Frank’s,” I sighed.

She growled and began to shiver, her stomach rippling, her breath coming in ragged gasps. I came as well, coating my fist with my jism.

“Oh God,” she sighed. “I guess that settles that.”

I couldn’t look at her. Post-climax, a wave of mortification rolled over me. I couldn’t speak, couldn’t make eye contact. But I also could not deny the truth of the matter. Given a choice of ravishing my wife myself or watching another man do it, I opted for the latter.

She leaned forward and wrapped an arm around my neck. She kissed my cheek.

“I love you Gary, and always will. I don’t know if I can do it. In the end, it might just end up being you, me, and some dirty talk. But I’m not going to lie. I am very aroused right now, and this feels less like a game than a compulsion. I’m scared, but also feeling very impetuous.”

I looked up and found her gaze. She was smiling, her eyes wide, and her face flush with excitement.

“Me too,” I said.

She kissed me again and then chuckled. “Come on, let’s get cleaned up and figure out what comes next.”

Casey rose, took my hand, and let me into the bathroom. There was a large shower, and she got the water nice and hot. We stripped and stepped in together.

I’m always a little taken aback when Case and I are together in our bare feet. She’s 5’3” and I’m a touch over 6’, and I just tower over her. It makes her seem small and vulnerable. And I knew that was part of what fueled my fantasy and hers. Frank was no taller than me, maybe even a little shorter, but he probably outweighed me by fifty pounds or more. Some of that was fat, but a lot was muscle. She’d be like a toy in his hands.

Casey poured a handful of body wash into her hands and began lathering me up. She took her time, massaging my chest and shoulders. She lathered up my cock, which enjoyed the attention but was not up for so rapid a return to action. My wife handed me the soap, and I began to return the favor. She held my gaze as she did. Her message was unspoken, but unambiguous despite that: this is the body that will soon belong to another man.

I washed her all over, my hands lingering over her breasts and perky nipples, her tight, sexy ass, her juicy little pussy. As I rinsed her off, she ran her hand over her sex.

“I need to touch up,” she said. “Pass me the razor.”

I’d found her quite smooth, but this too sent a clear message: I want to be perfect for him.

She raised a leg and placed her foot on the small ledge in the shower. Then she began making small, precise strokes with the razor across her labia and lower abdomen. I gaped having never actually seen her shave before. It was wildly erotic. And then it became more so as she paused to ponder her narrow triangle of fur.

“Do you think I should shave it all off?”

My mouth was dry, but I managed to croak a response. “You’ve never gone completely bare.”

“I’ve never been with a man like Frank before either.”

I groaned softly, and she didn’t wait for a further comment. She lathered up her muff and shaved it all off. Then rinsing herself off, she put down the razor and took my hand, drawing it across her perfectly smooth flesh.

“Do you think he’ll like it?”

I nodded my head mutely, my fingers gently caressing her sex.

She laughed. “He won’t even notice.”

“Then why do it?”

“Because I want to feel sexy for him. And I suspect that me doing things for him, just for him, is a turn-on for you too.”

It was. My cock began to throb and grow. She noticed and closed her fist around my shaft. She looked up at me.

“Gar? I know I said I’m ready to shed some inhibitions, but I still have some.”

She was backing out. I nodded, admittedly a little relieved, but mostly disappointed, though I tried not to let it show.

“It’s okay, Case. Let’s take it one step at a time. This has been fun.”

Her eyes widened. “Oh... no... did you think I was having second thoughts about Frank?” She shook her head and chuckled as if the very thought was absurd. “It’s just, I know this turns you on, and, um, you might want to get a little frisky today in anticipation. But... well, with a new man, I just want to be as fresh as possible. So I think it is best if we continue to refrain from sex until... um... after.”

She released my cock. She was leaving me to my own devices.

“You don’t mind, do you?”

I nodded. “Not really what I was expecting, but okay.”

Casey smiled. “Thanks Babe. I still need to wash my hair. Do you want to get out and let me finish up?”

I nodded again and stepped out of the shower. As I did, I heard her begin to hum to herself.

By the time she finished up, it was well past 11am and my stomach was rumbling. Case threw on an old beach dress, her hair pulled into a simple clip. She had on her old aviators.

We went out to the beach bar and ordered up some Bloody Marys and brunch.

“So, we have a lot to do today,” Casey said.

“Oh?”

“You’re not a girl, but yeah, prepping for a first date is an all day affair.”

“I thought you’d already prepped,” I replied, thinking of her shaving in the shower.

“Oh that? Naw, that’s just one of many things. I need a new dress. A mani-pedi. Some sexy underthings.”

“I’m not sure Frank is going to much care about any of that.”

“He’ll appreciate it, even if he doesn’t care. Speaking of which, we need to get in touch with him. Do you want to do that?”

“Erm.”

“Well, one of us has to,” she said. “And I think it’d be weird if I do it. Feels a little desperate, you know?”

“I’m not sure I do.”

“I don’t want to come off as the aggressor. Make me seem a little reluctant. Like you’re talking me into it. Unless...” she smirked, “unless, that is, you want him to think I’m cheating on you?” She shook her head. “No, that won’t work. I think you want to watch, right? Or were you thinking of having a more active role?”

“Active?”

“I don’t know. My side of the fantasy is simple. I just want to be railed by a big, strong guy. Your side of it has a lot more variables. Does he know you know? Are you there watching? Are you thinking of yourself as more of a voyeur or is your fantasy more of a threesome thing?” She lowered her glasses to make eye-contact. “Do you want to be in my mouth while he’s doing me from behind? Or what?”

She replaced her glasses and returned her attention to her plate of food. I sat there dumbstruck.

“You know,” I said, “you go back and forth on this. Sometimes you’re all, like, reticent, and then sometimes you’re like a wicked tease.”

She giggled. “I know. This has me all aflutter, honestly, and I don’t quite know if I am this little ingénue being swept up in some momentary madness, or whether I am a wanton vamp manipulating the men around me to fulfill my sexual needs.”

“Could be both.”

“And surely is,” she said. “But... when it comes to Frank, I think I want him to see me as, uh, innocent. I want him to think he’s corrupting me.”

That hit me hard, in part because despite her ‘wicked tease’ persona and the fact that she’d been fantasizing about a man like Frank for years apparently, I was pretty sure that he would, in fact, do things to her and make her feel in ways that she had never imagined. For some reason, I held my tongue on that score. But I needed to address the rest.

“I think he nailed us pretty good, didn’t he? About the fantasy, I mean?”

“Yeah,” she nodded. “He did. It’s part of what got under my skin, you know? Like this guy has some special insight into me... us.”

“Or we’re just a couple of walking clichés.”

She laughed. “That too.”

“But anyway, I think he knows the score, so I think I’d like to watch... unless, I mean, that really doesn’t work for you.”

“I’ve never really fantasized about you watching. But then again, like I said, I’ve never really fantasized a whole scenario. It’s more just....”

“Some guy yanks your panties aside and takes you. And you can’t resist because he’s manly and strong.”

She fanned herself.

“I suspect,” I continued, “if you really probed it, like you made me do with my desire to see you get naughty, you’d probably conclude that your fantasy has a cheating element to it. It would add to the transgressive, mad rush of passion, surrender to a powerful man vibe. But at this point, the only person who might be fooled about it would be Frank.”

“Do you think he’d be more turned on thinking he’s got me to cheat on you behind your back or would he rather show off to you?”

I chuckled. “No idea, really. If he’s, what did you say you like, ‘a bit of a braggart,’ then he might get a kick out of having me watch your defilement. But honestly, from the way he was watching your butt, I don’t think he’ll be thinking about much more than that.”

“Was he really watching me that much?”

“Yes. I mean, they all were. You were the sexiest woman in the place and you were calling attention to yourself.”

She took a deep breath as she contemplated that. “Okay, so you’re watching.”

“If that is okay with you.”

She nodded. “Everything has to be okay with both of us. I mean it, Gar, that’s one thing we need to promise each other. Anyone gets cold feet, we pull the plug and support each other.”

“Sure,” I replied. “But that’s easy enough for me to say. I won’t be in the throes of passion.”

“You’ll be as affected as I am.”

I shrugged. “Probably. So, okay, I’ll get in touch with him. Tell him he has our number and we’re interested in him proving his boasts.”

“Tell him, uh, that I’m uncertain and unsettled. That this isn’t a sure thing.”

“Okay. So maybe meet for drinks?”

She nodded.

We were finishing up our lunch and I asked for the tab.

“So, are we shopping together?”

She shook her head. “No. I want to do that alone. I want to try on things and imagine what he’ll think of them.”

I laughed. “Don’t get too hung up on that. He’s a man, and you’re fresh meat, and anything on the outside is just wrapping paper.”

She shuddered.

“You okay?” I asked.

She lowered her glasses again. “Yeah. That just prompted a dirty little thought about him tearing off my panties.”

I reached down and adjusted my hard cock.

It was walking distance from our hotel to the shops, so Casey went out on foot. I decided that rather than try to explain why I wanted to get in touch with Frank by phone, I would drive down to the dive bar and do it in person.

I went inside and found it much as we had the previous day, though less crowded with no band and only one waitress working. I took a seat at the bar and ordered a beer from Marty, the bartender. I could have asked him about Frank, but I hesitated for some reason. This would be bringing yet another person into the mix, and while I didn’t need to explain precisely why I wanted to speak to Frank, I knew it would come out eventually.

What did that dude want? He asked me to bang his wife.

Which was fine. I doubted I’d be back in this neck of the woods any time soon. But it still made me procrastinate. Instead, I pretended to watch golf on one of the overhead TVs. It was around 2pm, and as I nursed my beer, several different groups of men walked in. I didn’t see Frank, but they were, as Casey would say, of a type. Guys in work boots and reflective vests. Sweaty and red from working in the sun. They’d started early and were finished for the day to minimize time in the Florida heat.

They sat in clusters, drinking beer and downing shooters. I listened in as I could to get a sense of these men. The conversation was a usual bar mix of sports, politics, and sex. And, of course, lots of razing.

In the group to my right, one of the guys was bitching about his wife.

“Fucking Donna, man, anniversary, took her out to Louie’s, lobster, the works, and then we get back home and she’s, like, I have a headache. Frigid bitch.”

His buddy chuckled. “Funny. She ain’t frigid with me.”

“Yeah? You fucking my wife’s fat ass?”

The third guy jumped in, “Course with Pete’s micro cock, she probably didn’t even feel it.”

“I make sure Laura feels it when I come on her face. Think about that when you kiss her tonight.”

They all laughed. There was more crude talk, and I sort of vegged out until one of them caught my attention.

“You shoulda been here last night. Some tourist bitch shows with beanpole husband, and she spends like an hour shaking her ass at the pool table. Then she starts making eyes at Frankie. He goes over and I’m expecting a fight, but instead he sits down with them.”

I turned away from them and slouched down, trying to disguise my appearance, though I probably needn’t have bothered. Casey had clearly been the more interesting of the two of us.

“Then what?”

“Dunno. After a while he walks back to the bar, and then the couple leave, and he leaves a few minutes after. I popped out into the parking lot, thinking he might have arranged to bend her over the back of a car or something. You know, catch the show. But he just gets into his truck and drives off.”

“Think he fucked her? Like went back to their place?”

“Could be. She was a sexy little slut. Small titties, but great ass, and you can tell she knows how to work the dick.”

“How can you tell?”

“Experience.”

“The only experience you have is jerking off. Now, you want to talk about fucking tourist bitches, then you need to head down to Key West and catch up with one of those bachelorette parties. Those whores are all looking for some major dicking.”

“Want to take it up the pooper before settling down in some fucking suburb.”

More laughter.

One guy glanced at his watch. “Fuck, gotta blow. Kid’s ballgame.” He downed his beer. His buddies followed suit and left shortly thereafter.

I caught the bartender’s eye. He ambled over.

“You want another?” he asked.

I nodded. “Yeah. Oh, and I was talking to this guy last night, Frank? He said you’d be able to put me in touch with him if I needed.”

Marty narrowed his eyes. “What do you want with Frankie?”

“I, uh, owe him some money.”

“Money, eh?”

I shrugged.

He dug my beer out of the cooler and handed it to me. He tossed a pen and napkin at me. “Leave me your name and number and I’ll make sure he gets it.”

I considered arguing the point, but decided not to. I gave him my info and asked for the check. When I finished my beer, I left a generous tip.

I exited the bar into the hot, afternoon sun. The sky to the west was darkening and the wind began to blow.

I sat in my car and thought about going back in and pressing for Frank's contact info myself. As we'd left it, I didn't even know whether the message would even make it to him. That was disappointing, but also something of a relief. Like I'd dodged a bullet.

A heavy drop of rain splashed on my windshield. Then another. And then it was like being beneath a waterfall. But it didn't last long, a mere minute or two, and then the sun came back out and the rainwater immediately began to rise in vapors to renew the cycle.

I put the car in drive, but before I could pull out of the lot, my phone dinged with an incoming text.

Seven

Casey and I were both quite jittery as we drove out to meet Frank. He proposed an ocean bar with a terrace overlooking the waves. After conferring with Casey, we accepted and set a 7pm meeting time.

Now that we had made plans to meet with him, things suddenly got very, very real. Our flirtatious banter came to an immediate end, and was replaced, at least for me, with a bad case of the jitters. I had a pit in my stomach, my heart rate was at least 20 beats per minute faster than normal, and my palms were sweaty.

Casey seemed equally affected, dressing early and pacing our hotel room like an anxious cat. She alternated between asking me if I wanted to back out and seeking reassurance that she looked good, which she absolutely did. My encouragement didn't stop her from ducking back into the bathroom a half dozen times to adjust her makeup and her hair. I knew none of that would matter to him, and she surely knew as well, but it gave her something to do with her nerves.

She looked amazing as we left our room. She'd found a super sexy, floral sundress, backless, with a criss-cross tie around her throat that cradled her breasts but also exposed skin down to nearly her belly button. It was short as well, the ruffled hem barely at mid-thigh. Her expertly applied eyeliner and mascara highlighted her big, blue eyes. She wore a more conservative shade of lipstick than before, but added a layer of gloss that drew attention to her full lips and hinted at the promise of virtuoso oral skills.

We drove in silence and when we arrived, we both sat in the car staring through the windshield. I took her hand.

"We can back out at any time. Remember that," I said.

She nodded. "Either one of us. Okay? If you get...."

I laughed. "Jealous? I'm already that. Fuck you look hot."

"Should we, um, go back to our hotel?"

"Is that what you want?"

She hesitated and then shook her head. "No. I'd like to see where, uh, this goes. You?"

"Yeah, me too."

She nodded, but neither of us moved. I leaned in and kissed her cheek. "Have fun tonight, Case. Don't worry about me. If I'm having issues, I'll say something. But otherwise just do whatever feels good and right."

She laughed. "Gary, the problem is that what feels good might be very, very wrong."

I groaned with excitement and she grinned.

"Okay, let's do this," I said.

We stepped out of the rental into the warm, Florida evening. The sun was down, but the sky was still violet. Venus twinkled low on the horizon. Gulls wheeled and squawked over the surf. We proceeded up a wooden staircase to the terrace bar. It was tiki themed, and there was a group of women at the bar drinking from oversized glasses topped with umbrellas.

I peered around for Frank, but didn't see him, so we took a low table overlooking the water, two rattan, cushioned loveseats with a glass table in between. We instinctively sat opposite each other and ordered Mai Tais when the waitress came around.

We sat in silence awaiting our drinks, peering around awkwardly. Our vigilance was, apparently, imperfect because when our drinks arrived, suddenly Frank appeared from behind the waitress and sat down beside Casey. She jolted. So did I.

"Relax, Sweetie," he said, placing his hand on her exposed knee. He chuckled. "You two are nervous as a pair of cats."

I couldn't tear my eyes away from his hand on her leg, his thumb gently caressing her inner thigh.

Casey finally placed her hand on his and removed it from her bare skin. I was finally able to look up and meet his gaze.

"She did that for you," he said.

"What?"

He glanced down at her thigh. "She wants you to think she's as conflicted as you are. But she's not. She's been all-in since last night."

"I can speak for myself," Casey said softly.

"You already have," he replied. "That dress is something else. When you picked it, did you fantasize most about pulling open that bow behind your neck and exposing your cute titties or were you thinking about me lifting it up over your ass?"

Casey blushed a deep red. He replaced his hand on her knee.

He turned back toward me. “You can’t see it, but she’s trembling. Her whole body is thrumming with anticipation.”

I waited for her to respond or to remove his hand. But she didn’t. I looked at her, but she didn’t look me in the eyes. I took a big gulp of margarita for a hit of liquid courage.

“We’re in this together,” I said.

He gave me a cocky grin and slid his palm up and down her thigh. Are you? He seemed to be asking. I wasn’t sure. This strange man had a peculiar power over her, a thought I found unaccountably exciting.

“It’s different in person, isn’t it?” he asked. “Sort of like jumping out of an airplane. Sounds fun until you’re standing in front of that open door.”

“People do skydive,” I replied.

“They do. But some freak out and stay in the plane.” Which are you? “You’re all wide-eyed and I’m just touching her leg. How about when I kiss her?”

He didn’t wait for a response from me before turning toward my wife. He cupped the back of her neck and firmly pulled her in for a kiss. Casey stiffened for a moment until their lips touched and his tongue snaked into her mouth, then she seemed to melt into him, quickly turning it into a passionate embrace. When he finally pulled away, her lips seemed to follow after his, wanting more. She gazed at him, eyes-glassy, her expression lovelorn.

When I tore my attention away from her and back to him, he smirked at me.

“And not just kissing,” he said.

I watched as his hand released her neck and trailed down over her shoulder and down her bare arm. I noticed her goosebumps and the way her fine hairs stood on end. She and I gasped together as his hand slipped beneath her dress, cupping her breast.

“Your wife has great tits. Nice little handful and great nips.”

Despite the fabric, I could easily see him rolling her nipple between his fingers and thumb. Casey squirmed and sighed. He raised an eyebrow at me. Still good? I nodded, dry mouthed.

“But, of course, her thigh, her mouth, her tits, that’s all appetizer.”

His hand slowly retraced its path, releasing her boob, teasing her upper arm, caressing her neck, and then settling back down on her knee. He made circles with his fingertips and gradually worked his way up on her inner thigh, higher and higher, until his hand disappeared beneath the hem of her dress.

Her eyes widened and she reached down and grabbed his wrist. She scanned our surroundings. It was a party scene, people laughing and talking loudly. We were not calling attention to ourselves, but we were out in public, and anyone who did happen to notice us would clearly see Frank’s hand between my wife’s legs. If she meant to stop him, she didn’t. Maybe he was just too strong, or maybe, despite her embarrassment, she didn’t want to stop him.

She gasped suddenly.

“So wet, Baby. Soaked right through those little panties,” he said.

She blushed crimson.

“Tell him,” he said. “Are you as wet as I said?”

She hesitated and then moaned as he continued to touch her. Finally she sighed, “Yes.”

“You should take them off,” he said.

Casey shook her head.

His tone hardened. "Take them off, now."

She gasped at his command, another button pushed. She glanced around, and then quickly, seemingly trying to minimize outside attention, she deftly slipped off her panties. He took them from her and balled them up in his fist with a grin before handing them to me. He was right. They were soaked through. I started for a moment at the flimsy, white thong's undeniable, tactile evidence of my wife's arousal.

She moaned again, louder, longer.

"Your wife has a juicy pussy and completely shaved."

I nodded.

"And tonight it's mine."

I hesitated, but then nodded again. I didn't need to check with Casey. Her behavior and sounds made clear where she stood.

He withdrew his hand from beneath her dress. His digits glistened with her juices. He traced her lips with his damp fingers.

"Let's get out of here," he said.

He stood up and took Casey's hand. I quickly scrambled to throw some twenties on the table to cover the tab and followed after them.

"You drive," he said.

"I don't know where...."

He gave me his address and as I plugged it into my phone, he guided my wife into the backseat, sliding in after her. I clambered into the driver's seat. From the back I could hear them kissing passionately, wetly, Casey's moans attesting to his hands also actively exploring her body. I glanced over my shoulder and saw he'd untied her halter top, exposing her breasts. Her nipples stood out like pencil erasers.

My hands shook as I put the car in drive and turned onto the main road. I heard a belt unbuckle and the sound of a zipper. I adjusted the rearview mirror and peered in back to see Casey up on all fours on the seat, her dress pulled up over her bare ass, his hand cupping her cheeks and sliding between her legs. And then I heard, though I couldn't see, the unmistakable sounds of my wife sucking another man's cock.

Her sounds changed. It was no longer just the excited moans of a woman being fondled, but also the wet, delighted sighs and hums of a woman pleasuring a man.

"That's it, Baby, nice and deep," he groaned.

In addition to the slurping and licking coming from the back seat, I soon heard gagging and choking sounds added to the mix. My cock is average sized, and Casey has no problem taking me balls deep, which meant that Frank had to be noticeably bigger than I am. And it also spoke to my wife's ardor that the discomfort did nothing to deter her from continuing to enthusiastically pleasure him.

I followed the GPS prompts to his house. I turned into a driveway, bracketed by cypress trees, and pulled up in front of a modest, ranch home. Beneath a car port was an older model Buick in the middle of a rebuild and in the side yard a day cruiser on a trailer.

Their lubricious performance as we were driving did little to prepare me for the sonic overload that assailed me once I turned off the car. Without engine and road noise, I could hear every little detail: his fingers plunging into my wife's wet pussy, her mouth kissing, licking, sucking his big cock, her mewls of delight, his throaty praise of what a 'good girl' she was. They seemed to have retreated in an erotic bubble, focused completely on each other's bodies, heedless of the fact that we'd reached our destination.

I cleared my throat to no avail, and then stepped out and yanked open the back door.

Casey peered up at me, eyes glassy and a mouthful of cock, but she almost didn't seem to recognize me as she continued bobbing up and down on his big prick. Frank broke the spell by slipping his finger from her pussy, eliciting a disappointed whine, and grabbing a firm handful of her hair, yanking her upward.

He chuckled. "She can't get enough of my cock in her mouth. Just wait until she feels it in her cunt." He spanked her ass firmly. She yelped. "Let's go inside, Baby. I'm going to give you what you've been craving."

I didn't doubt it. Casey was a mess already, her chin covered in drool, lipstick smudged. She tottered unsteadily out of the back seat, her dress twisted, holding up her halter with one hand and covering a bare boob with the other. Frank followed her out, his erection tenting his pants obscenely.

He led us up a couple of steps to his front door. He flipped on the lights, and I stepped inside. His place was neat, sparsely furnished, and completely devoid of feminine touches. His kitchen had a small round table, a stovetop that seemed barely used, and a couple of empty pizza boxes on the counter. His living room featured a sectional facing a massive TV.

I realized they had not followed me all the way in, stopping in the foyer. I turned around just as he was slipping off her dress. He took a half-step back to admire her naked form. She wriggled sensuously, her hands playing over her bare skin. Her breasts were swollen, nipples rock hard, pussy pink and prominent.

He closed in on her again, one hand cupped her head and pulled her into a passionate embrace, while his other hand pressed up between her legs, two fingers thrusting deep inside her. She moaned passionately.

Then without a word, he spun her around and pushed her head down, bending her at the waist so that her ass jutted out toward him. He quickly slid down his pants, exposing his long, thick prick. He gripped the shaft and rubbed the purple head up and down her slit. It slipped inside, and he thrust in hard. She gasped and immediately began to shudder.

He ignored her orgasm as he began fucking her brutally from behind. Her gasps turned into high-pitched squeals. He held her in place by her hair and molested her with his other hand. He mauled her tits, slapped her ass, and rubbed her clit. She sounded more animal than human, but from the way she thrust back against his hard strokes, she clearly loved it.

She came again, and this time her knees buckled and she nearly swooned. He held her limp body upright and continued to ram his huge cock inside her.

“Fuck, she likes it hard,” he grunted. “Don’t you, Baby?” He spanked her firmly.

“Yes,” she gasped. “Yes.”

Although I knew the substance of her fantasies, I was still shocked at her response. What Frank was doing to her seemed more like an assault than sex. He was using her for his own pleasure, shredding her pussy, molesting her all over. More blows reddened her ass. His fingers streaked her tits.

She squealed, whimpered, and whined, but the only word that passed her lips was “yes, yes, yes,” cried out in increasingly desperate tones. His vicious thrusts forced her onto her tiptoes, but even that wasn’t enough, and as he drove into her, he jolted her off the floor altogether.

He palmed her throat, constricting her breath. Her eyes bulged and her tongue flicked out like a snake’s. She came, yet again, her entire body seeming to convulse. He slammed into her one last time and straightened up, lifting her off the floor completely, impaled on his prick. He turned to face me so I could see her battered pussy stuffed with his meat. I saw his scrotum tighten and his shaft pulse as he filled my wife with his come. He released her and she crumpled against him.

He glanced down at my panting wife and chuckled. "Fuck, that was a nice ice breaker. Time for a beer." He gestured toward the fridge. "Bring us a couple."

I nodded, quite shaken, and unable to speak, much less protest at being cast as a server. Also, I needed a drink. So I got three cans of beer out, cracked mine open and gulped half of it down.

I returned to find Frank had moved Casey into the living room. He had her on the sofa, still naked, legs splayed wide apart. He was naked as well, sitting beside her. As I entered, they broke their passionate embrace. Frank tapped her pussy with his palm, calling my attention to it. My wife's dainty, little slit, was now a swollen, red, glistening gash.

"You like freshly fucked cunt?" he asked. "Go ahead and give her a poke. Or is that not part of your game?"

"We've never done this before," I replied.

He laughed. "Well, that explains it. How long's it been since you had strange cock?"

Casey was half out of it, but still managed to mutter, "A long time."

He chuckled and pressed two fingers inside her. She winced, but didn't stop him. "Such a nice, tight, juicy pussy. Or at least it was. Got her nice and stretched out now. And so fucking sensitive. How many times did I make you come, Baby? Five, six?"

"A lot," she said as his fingers provoked a loud moan.

He withdrew his digits, coated with her arousal and streaked with his come. He fed his slimy fingers into her mouth. She licked and sucked them clean.

“You want more, don’t you?”

He thrust his fingers back inside her.

“Yes,” she gasped.

He looked up at me and read the expression on my face. “You didn’t know what a slut your wife was, did you?”

I shook my head. He reached out for the beers. He cracked them open and handed one to Casey while taking a gulp from the other. She took a sip, although his thick fingers plunging into her well-worn pussy distracted her.

He fed her his fingers again, and after she’d sucked them clean a second time, he relieved her of her beer and cupped the back of her head. “Let’s get that mouth back to work,” he said, guiding my wife’s face into his lap.

He leaned back and sighed contentedly as Casey took his flaccid, but still hefty cock into her mouth.

“God damn, I could get used to this,” he said. He squeezed one of her butt cheeks. “How about it, Baby Doll, wanna be my regular fucktoy?”

Casey moaned sultrily around his cock.

He laughed and slapped her ass. “That is definitely a yes.”

I didn’t know if it was a yes or a no, or if she was serious or playing. But there was no denying her hunger for his cock. She licked him up and down. She swallowed him deep enough to gag herself. She fondled his shaft lovingly and suckled on his balls. And while he continued to spank and fondle her ass, she took matters into her own hand and began working her clit as she fellated him.

I sat down heavily into his arm chair to enjoy the show. Although... was it a show, really? Neither Frank nor Casey seemed to mind me being there, and Frank, at least, clearly took some pleasure from taunting me. But Casey seemed indifferent to me. She was completely focused on Frank and his big prick, and I had the distinct impression she wouldn't even notice if I left as long as Frank was there to give her the sexual thrills she craved.

She certainly seemed ecstatic as his cock swelled to its full grandeur. She slobbered over him and squished her hands up and down his shaft, grinning up at him, her ingenue eyes silently asking, Did I do that?

"Looks like someone wants more dick," he said.

She responded by swirling her tongue around the head of his cock. He grabbed her and effortlessly lifted her into his lap. As she straddled him, he slapped her titties, darkening her areolas. My wife gripped his cock and placed it at the entrance of her puffy, well-used pussy. She hissed as he entered her, but she nonetheless impaled herself firmly on his prick.

He kissed her hard and sloppily, their tongues wrestling, as she began pumping her hips, grinding against him. He sucked on her nipples. They looked even more sensitive than usual after his abuse. She gasped and threw her head back, her low, drawn-out growl signaling yet another orgasm.

She slowed her frantic pace. He squeezed her ass hard, his powerful hands kneading her cheeks, pulling them apart. He began bouncing her up and down on his cock, using her pussy almost like a sex toy. Her lips clung to his thick shaft.

My wife was back to wheezing, whining, and squealing as he again took control. She seemed overwhelmed, barely able to take it, but the moment he stopped jerking her up and down, she became active again, humping him like a woman possessed.

They alternated fucking each other that way. Though screwing with the intensity of a sprint, they had the stamina of marathoners. His ruddy countenance turned purple and sweaty. Casey, too, glistened with exertion.

When she next passed the baton to him and he recommenced tossing her around, he seemed particularly intent on spreading her cheeks. He slid one hand deeper into her crack, his middle finger teasing her anus. She moaned excitedly. He pressed his finger tip into her ass. She gasped and again her body convulsed.

I was leaning forward in my chair, unable to take my eyes off the lewd spectacle before me. My wife's reaction to this man had me nearly apoplectic. My heart raced, blood pounded in my head. Cold sweat dripped from my armpits. My emotions roiled. There was humiliation at another man pleasuring my woman better than I ever could. Anger at her for being a dirty slut. Resentment at him for his big cock and the crude manner that so seemed to captivate my wife.

But all of that, all of it, paled compared to my excitement at seeing Casey transformed into a lewd, wanton woman, hungry for big cocks and rough handling. Seeing her come over and over was painful but also the most arousing thing I'd ever seen.

Frank suddenly rose up. She wrapped her arms around his neck and he cupped her ass. Standing, he bounced her up and down on his cock, every stroke ending with her firmly impaled on his massive prick.

He walked her toward an open doorway, and after a moment, I followed them into his bedroom. His boudoir was spartan like the rest of his home: A simple king sized bed, a wooden side table, and a plain dresser.

Frank carried my wife and deposited her on her back on the mattress. He hooked his arms beneath her knees and folded her in half. With her legs wedged over his shoulders, he mounted her. She was defenseless, her pelvis tilted upward to accept his thrusts, her body engulfed by his.

He paused for just a moment and then with a conspicuous ferocity began jackhammering her already battered pussy. It took her breath away, and for a long moment, she just lay there, mouth open, eyes wide. And then she began to scream.

“Oh, oh, oh, oh my God! Oh my God! Oh my God!”

Casey clawed at him, leaving long, red, streaks across his broad, hairy back. He grunted and seemed to fuck her ever harder.

Her head swung from side to side, drops of sweat flying from her damp locks.

“Oh God! Oh God! Oh God!” she screamed.

Then suddenly she convulsed again and again. Her entire body seemed to throb and thrum. Her lips quivered and tears flowed down her cheek.

He rose up on his powerful arms and pounded into her, one, twice, three times. Then balls deep inside her, his body shuddered. Again I saw his scrotum tighten, his shaft pulse, as he flooded my wife’s womb with his seed.

When he rolled off her, they both lay on the bed, drenched in sweat, their bodies mottled, gasping for breath.

My gaze was drawn to her bald gash, gaping open, blood red, and soon leaking a thin stream of his come.

Eight

I helped my seemingly shell-shocked wife into her dress and walked her gingerly to the front door. Frank met us there in just his boxers.

He took her hands and gave her a surprisingly chaste kiss on the cheek. “I really enjoyed our time together,” he said.

She nodded mutely as he released her.

He took my hand and gave me a firm, but not crushing, handshake. “Your wife is a gorgeous, sensual woman. You’re a lucky man.”

I too nodded quietly.

I took my wife’s hand and we walked back out in the sodden Florida night. I helped Casey into the car and then went around to the driver’s side. I peered up at Frank’s house. He was standing in the doorway, drinking a beer, and watching us. He gave me a wave, and I awkwardly waved back. Then I got into the car and drove away.

The A/C was blowing hard, a splash of rain covered the windshield and then immediately dissipated. I glanced at the clock and noted it was just past 10. We'd only been at Frank's place a couple of hours, but it felt momentous.

Casey seems to have felt the same way. She stared blankly out the side window. We drove on in silence, with just the whirring fan and the road hum.

Finally, after several interminable minutes, Casey took an audible breath. When she spoke her voice was tight and brittle, "For fuck's sake, Gary, say something!"

I glanced over at her momentarily. "What?"

"Tell me you're angry, disgusted. Tell me you're leaving. Whatever it is, just fucking say it."

"Whoa, whoa, whoa. Are you okay?"

"I am fucking not okay. Okay?" she snorted. "Did you see what I did?"

"Case... did you want me to stop it? I... genuinely thought you were enjoying it. I—"

"I was enjoying it! That's the fucking problem."

"For who?" I asked.

"You, me, both of us."

We drove past a sleepy strip mall, and I pulled in. I put the car in park and turned toward my wife.

She was staring at me, lips quivering, eyes nearly overflowing. I wrapped my arms around her and hugged her tight. She pressed her face against mine, her tears wet against my cheek.

"Casey, if you're having regrets, we need to talk about it. And if you wanted me to stop it, I wish... I wish you'd said something. Or that we'd agreed on a safe word." My voice thickened as I considered the possibility that I'd failed her somehow.

She kissed my cheek. “You did nothing wrong. It’s... I...”

“You did nothing wrong either. You just had the best sex of your life.”

She shook her head. “No. No, Gary, don’t say that. You’re the—”

“No, don’t lie to me. You don’t need to. And anyway, I can see with my own eyes.” She was still shaking her head. “Casey... it was amazing. You. Were. Amazing. In my wildest fantasies, I had never imagined you had that in you. You must have come, like, a dozen times.”

Tears continued to run down her cheeks, but she smiled. “It wasn’t that many.” I smiled back at her. “But close,” she admitted.

I kissed her gently. “I love you Case. As much or more than ever.”

She shook her head. “I don’t see how.”

I chuckled. “You’ll need to trust me then.”

I squeezed her hand and then put the car in drive and pulled back onto the road.

The short remainder of our drive to the hotel was uneventful, though images of the evening continually replayed in my mind, at least in those moments when I wasn’t thinking of the fact that as my wife sat beside me, her pussy was full of another man’s come. Indeed, once we parked and stepped out of the car, I noticed a prominent wet spot on her dress where it had leaked out.

“Gar, stop by the bar and pick up a couple of beers?”

“Sure thing.”

We separated and I grabbed a couple for our room. When I got upstairs, Casey was in the shower. I groaned in disappointment. I’d wanted to explore her body before she bathed. She emerged a few minutes later, smelling of soap, shampoo, and mouthwash, and dressed in full-length PJs.

I laughed. "Nuh uh, Case. I want to see all of you."

She shook her head. "No, you don't want to. I'm a mess."

I handed her the beer. We clinked necks and took a sip.

"Don't make me beg."

She sighed. "I'll get naked if we turn off the lights."

"I watched him fuck your mouth and finger your ass. I'm pretty sure I can take it."

She hesitated. "Are you sure?"

"I want to see what he did to your body."

She nodded and wordlessly pulled her top over her head.

"All of it," I said.

My wife peeled off her bottoms. I took her hand and led her over to the bed. I gave her a gentle kiss and then slowly ran my hands over her body. She hadn't been kidding. The marks of his ardor were visible all over. The sides of her breasts had small bruises, as did her hips where he'd grabbed her as she rode him. Her ass was covered in splotchy red handprints.

I kissed each of her marks in turn. She even had bruising along her inner thighs. And as I kissed those, I peered up at her sex, less battered than before, but still darker, more swollen, more prominent than usual. I gently caressed her labia. She winced.

"I'm, uh, a little sore."

"Did it hurt while you were having sex?"

She shook her head. "Yes, but no, not really. The excitement... it just overwhelms everything else. Even the pain just, somehow, intensifies everything. I think it's like running a marathon, you know? While you're doing it, you have this endorphin high, and it masks everything. Then after... you feel like you were in an accident. Except, not quite, because every sore spot also, like, triggers a memory.”

I grazed her pussy. She squirmed. “What does that remind you of?”

“Oh God, so much. His thick fingers inside me. And then later, on his bed, when he fucked me. God, he was remorseless.”

“In a good way or....”

“It was amazing,” she said simply.

She cupped my cheek and pulled me upward so that we were face-to-face. She kissed me.

“I want you to make love to me, Gary. But you need to be very gentle. “We don’t have to.”

“Please, I want you to. I want to feel you inside me. I need to know that I don’t repulse you. That you still desire me.”

I laughed. “Case, I can honestly say that I’ve never been more attracted, more aroused, more in love with you.”

“You’re a sick man,” she teased.

She pushed me onto my back and stripped off my clothes. As she pulled off my pants, she slowly kissed her way up my legs. She paused at my hard cock.

“Why didn’t you have this out earlier?”

“I don’t know. I was very turned on... but I was so focused on you that... I just didn’t.”

She licked my shaft with the flat of her tongue before swallowing me deep. I groaned in delight.

“You liked sucking his cock, didn’t you?”

She didn’t answer, but gave me a quick nod as she continued fellating me.

I continued, "It was such a turn on when I heard you gagging on him. I was when I knew he was bigger than me."

She rose off my prick and giggled. She stroked my prick slowly. "I liked it too," she admitted. "Not that I was really thinking anything coherent. That man sort of caused my brain to shut down. But I did enjoy his girth and his length. The way I really had to open wide to take him, and the way he reached the back of my throat."

"Sounds like you're turning into a size queen."

She laughed. "I've always thought that was bullshit. And maybe it is. There was a lot going on tonight. He was different in so many ways. More aggressive. Rougher. More demanding. And yes, bigger. It's sexy. The way it looks. Feels. Thick and heavy."

She was fondling me, but from the way her eyes glazed over, I knew she was reminiscing about his cock.

She kissed my belly and then crawled over my body. Her nipples grazed my chest. She ground her midriff against my shaft. There was something particularly sensuous and sinuous about the way she moved, a heightened confidence about her body.

"You like how hot you got him," I said.

She kissed my neck. "Like you said, I was fresh meat. But, yes. I've never been with a man who was so hungry for me."

"Some of us have more self-control."

"That's not always a good thing."

"So I should be rougher?" I slapped her ass. I meant for it to be a firm blow, but instead it ended up being tepid. Even though she might have liked it, I couldn't bring myself to really spank her. I'd never be able to redden her ass like he did.

She chuckled. “Gar... don’t ever think I want you to become something other than what you are. I fell in love with you. I’m still in love with you. I want to grow old with you.” She paused and then shook her head.

I chortled uneasily. “Reconsidering that?”

“No. I’m just... I don’t want you to think I just want to be comfortable with you.” Still prone against my body, she lifted her head and looked me in the eyes. “I had an amazing time with Frank. And while I may think of a man like him when I fantasize sometimes, you... this... is what I want.”

“You don’t have to—”

She kissed me hard to shut me up. “No, I’m serious Gary. Tonight with Frank was amazing. Fucking tiramisu. An indulgence. Something you have as a special treat. But you, Gar, you’re my meat and potatoes or rice and beans or whatever. I want you every day.”

I wasn’t quite sure what to make of that. Who wants to be compared to nutrition rather than dessert? She sensed my dissatisfaction and groaned in frustration.

“Fuck,” she sighed. “I can’t think straight. Can’t talk straight. But this is what I want.”

She repositioned herself above me, grabbed my prick, and with a pained hiss, impaled herself on me.

I grabbed her hips to prevent her from taking more than the tip. “Case, you don’t need to do this.”

“Yes! I! Do!” She slid her fingers beneath my grip and dropped down all the way on me.

Her eyes narrowed in pain. Frank had really pummeled her pussy. My thoughts swirled, competing impulses leaving me reeling. I didn’t want to cause my wife discomfort, but the fact that her soreness had been caused by another man's fat cock and hard pounding made me unaccountably excited.

She felt different as well. Perhaps a little looser, but it was more than that. Her pussy was swollen, softer than usual, almost satiny. There was less friction as well. But she was also exceptionally sensitive, even gentle thrusts causing her to gasp and grunt.

My wife rocked back and forth on me. She held my gaze as if trying to plumb my soul. I understood Casey's desire for us to reconnect, for me to reassure her of my continued attraction to her. I knew she wanted this to be about us, but I couldn't get our third out of my head. Whether I liked it or not, whether Casey liked it or not, Frank loomed large in what should have been just an intimate moment for us as a couple. And it wasn't just the physical – the way he'd altered her body – but also mental and emotional.

"Watching you with him was so hot," I said.

"No Gary, don't—"

"I'm sorry, Case, I can't help it. The way he just bent you over and fucked you when we first got to his house."

She shook her head, but I could sense a rush of excitement coursing through her body. Her face flushed, her nipples turned dark red.

"He just took you," I groaned.

She shivered and pulled her knees beneath her, rising up above me. Her hips began to rock faster. "Yes," she gasped, her eyes closing, shutting me out, returning to him. "I couldn't have stopped him even if I'd wanted to."

"But you didn't want to."

"No. I just wanted him to use me."

"It was like he could read your mind."

She half grunted and half laughed. She spat out her response, “Mind? I was out of my mind. Just an overheated body and throbbing holes.”

“And a big hard dick and a big hard man to fill them.”

“Yes,” she groaned. She tilted her head back, her hips pumping like mad, slinging her cunt against my cock. Her soreness temporarily forgotten. “So big... so hard.”

I palmed her swollen breasts and flicked her engorged nipples with my thumbs.

“You wish you were with him right now,” I said.

“No!” But her body told a different tale. She was no longer with me. I could sense that in her mind she was with him. Her eyes were tightly shut. She writhed above me as if possessed by a succubus. I ran my hands over her. She felt feverish.

“You want his big dick,” I insisted.

She shook her head and opened her mouth, but no words came out at first. Then, after a few moments, she gasped and whispered, “Yes.”

“Say it.” I spanked her ass again, harder than before, but still a gentle caress compared to Frank.

“I want his big cock.” Her eyes flew open at her own words. “Oh God!” she hissed, her body suddenly wracked as she came.

I was already there. Her admission pushed me over the edge, and I shot what felt like a massive load inside her.

She collapsed onto me, gasping for breath. I was gasping as well. We were both drenched in sweat. My cock slipped out of her well-worn hole.

My phone dinged. I glanced at it. A text.

<Frank>: I had fun tonight. How about I take you guys out on my boat tomorrow? I know some great fishing spots.

I showed it to Casey. She laughed. “No.”

“What?”

“He does not want to take us fishing.”

“Of course not. He wants to fuck you again. And you want to fuck him again. And I want you to fuck him again. So....”

“Gary, no.”

I grabbed my phone and began texting back.

“What are you doing?” she reached for the phone.

I rolled her off me and turned away.

“Gary!!”

I showed her my handiwork.

<Gary>: Sounds good. Case and I were just talking about how we'd like to see you again.

She rolled her eyes. “This is fucking crazy.”

“No, what is fucking crazy is how fucking sexy you are right now. I don't want this to end. Do you?”

She started to answer, but then stopped. Then she started again. “Gary, are you sure?”

I ran my fingers through her sweaty hair and gave her a kiss.

Nine

I slept fitfully, if I slept at all. It's not that I wasn't tired. I was. Exhausted even. But my mind raced. I couldn't get our evening out of my head. Nor did I want to. So maybe I dozed off, but my main recollection is repeated cycles of sweaty arousal, my cock hard and aching, vivid visions of my wife getting railed swirling in my head.

She lay next to me. Her fatigue was deeper than mine or her sexual appetite more fully sated, but she slept soundly. Still, I was tempted to wake her. She was naked. I knew with just a few, well-chosen words, I could fire her arousal, and slide my throbbing prick into her juicy cunt. I didn't, though it wasn't simply out of consideration for her slumber. I wanted her pussy to recover. I wanted to make sure she was at a hundred percent for Frank tomorrow.

The mental images of her being fucked was beyond exciting. They were sexier than anything I might have imagined. Not that I'd ever really fantasized about that sort of thing. At least not any more than every man does. We all have those moments when we notice our wives' attractiveness and realize that other men notice it as well. But it passes. Just one intrusive thought among a stream of others. A small jolt of emotion: A mix of jealousy or annoyance or pride. But it had never occurred to me how much more intense the passion would be when it was not just me, noticing her and others, and instead when her desires and arousal were added to the mix.

I caressed my hard cock, edging myself along, restraining myself just enough to avoid blowing my load in my hand or giving in to the temptation of waking her.

I finally gave up on sleep and got out of bed as the sun began to peak around the curtains in our bedroom. My head and back ached, my mouth was dry, my dick remained in a persistent half-aroused state. I brewed a cup of coffee and took it out onto the balcony, watching the sun slowly rise above the ocean. Thoughts swirled in my mind but led nowhere. Sound and fury, signifying nothing. Yet, I sensed there was a nugget of something real in my vexation. Something important, but just out of reach.

The coffee helped clear my head and ease the dull throbbing. I panned from my left to right, dozens, hundreds of hotel rooms in my line of sight. An endless series of relationships, stories, experiences being played out in parallel. How many of the rooms were witness to adventures and explorations? To betrayals and revelations? How many affairs had been consummated behind the windows in my line of sight? How many fantasies explored? How many hungover regrets and giddy discoveries?

I heard her voice from behind me. "Hey."

I turned slowly to look at my wife. She had covered her nakedness with a tee shirt, but it only made her more enticing. Her nipples poked through the sheer fabric, and it barely shielded her sex, which I could tell was otherwise bare.

“Hey,” I said. “Do you want me to make more coffee?”

“I’ve already started another pot.”

She observed me, trying to read my emotional state.

I smiled. “What are you looking for?”

“Anger? Regret?” she proposed.

I patted the seat beside me, and she sat down. I took her hand. “The only regret I have is that we never opened up about this sort of thing before. And one thing I can definitely tell you I don’t regret is you experiencing the kind of sex you’ve always secretly craved.”

“I wasn’t craving anything. I just... this all escalated so quickly.”

“Well, it had to,” I said with a chuckle. “If we’d sat down to ponder it and weigh pros and cons we’d have chickened out.”

“Maybe that would have been better.”

“Do you actually have regrets or is it just that you think you should have regrets? Like that you’re concerned that enjoying yourself says something bad about you?”

“The latter,” she admitted. “It just feels wrong.”

“But also feels sooo good.”

She rolled her eyes. “So does heroin, or so I hear.”

“Worried about becoming addicted? Think you’ll leave me for Frank?”

“No. But what if I do start to crave it? What if this, you know, broke the seal. And now...”

“Think you’re now easy prey for every powerfully built, well-hung stud you come across?”

“Something like that.”

I laughed softly. “Case, if the worst case scenario is that you periodically find a little rough trade to rock your world, I can live with that.” I considered my statement and chuckled. “Hell, if the last few days are any indication, I might be the one who gets addicted first.”

She shook her head. “What do you get out of this?”

“You’re my fantasy girl. You, except, you know—”

“Sluttier.”

I squeezed her hand. “More open to her own desires.”

“But with you, right? Wasn’t that the fantasy? That, I don’t know, one day you’d come home, and I’d be like, ‘dinner is served,’ but when you walked in, it would just be me, legs spread on the dining room table?”

I laughed. “Hopefully the kids would be out of town.”

“You’re deflecting.”

“I am not. Yeah, that would be hot. If you’d done that all of a sudden it would have been a turn on, of course. And it still would. But the thing is, you’d be doing that for me. That’s not your fantasy. I’m sure you’d give it your best shot. You’d probably suppress the giggles and we’d have a good time. But it wouldn’t be the same. I don’t know if I would have recognized the difference before, but now that I’ve seen what is inside you, I think I would now. What I saw the last couple of nights was visceral. Raw. Amazing.”

She broke eye contact and stared out to sea.

I squeezed her hand again. “What he brings out in you is amazing. Your sounds. The way your body surrenders to him. And he’s a real stud. I’m not too insecure to admit it. He’s bigger, stronger. He fucks harder, longer.”

“Gary, don’t.”

“It’s okay. He does things I can’t. And maybe it isn’t even the physical part of it, but his attitude, and of course, your’s as you respond to him.

Whatever it is, it is magical, amazing. And you love it. And I love it.”

She didn’t speak. She was thinking, calculating, wondering about hidden agendas and traps. I understood where her hesitancy came from. It was a crazy situation, and one I would never have predicted either. But the reality was undeniable.

“Case?”

She turned toward me. “You can’t hold this against me. Not ever.”

I shook my head. “Not ever.” Then I raised an eyebrow. “It’s not dinner time, but maybe breakfast is served?”

She gave me a puzzled expression until I slid off my chair and knelt in front of her. I began pushing her legs apart.

“No, Baby, I haven’t even showered, I—”

“I want to see it. See what it looks like, you know, the morning after.”

“Gary....” she sighed. But she didn’t stop me either.

I spread her legs apart and caressed her inner thighs. Her tee shirt rode up and I had a lovely view of her bare pussy. It looked... unremarkable. Just her usual, tidy slit. No evidence of her debauchery – other than that the triangle of pubes was now gone.

“Wow,” I moaned. “Just like new.”

She giggled. “What did you expect? It bounces back after squeezing out babies. You don’t think a little vigorous sex would alter things, do you?”

Intellectually, I knew that was true. But it was still hard to reconcile the pretty, little pussy in front of me with the swollen, crimson, gash of last night. I gently traced her labia with my thumb.

“Are you still sore?” I asked.

She shook her head. “No. Not really. But.... I can still feel him. There is this residual sensation that I can’t quite explain.”

A strange excitement surged through me. Nothing I could quite verbalize. A subrational reaction. A bizarre mix of arousal, loss, hunger, and diffidence. It was not something I'd admit to Casey. I didn't want to feed any doubts she might have, both because I was loath to throw cold water on her demonstrated passions and because I didn't want to discourage her from feeding my own fantasies. That was the bizarre paradox. We both wanted the same thing – at least as far as I could tell – and yet we continued to dance around admitting it. She was telling me that, even a day later, she still felt Frank inside her. Was that purely physical? Surely not. Part of it was his emotional impact.

I leaned in and gently kissed her pussy. She sighed and cupped my cheek. I spread her legs wider and kissed the pale bruises on her inner thighs. I licked her slit. She shivered.

“Maybe we should go back inside,” she proposed.

I glanced around. She was sitting low in her chair, so not particularly exposed. And anyway, I couldn't see anyone watching us. There could be someone lurking behind closed windows, but that possibility struck me as exciting rather than a deterrent.

“No,” I replied.

“Gar—”

I ran my hands up under her tee shirt, caressing her sides then running my hand over her breasts. She squirmed as I touched her hard nipples. I peeled up her top, exposing her belly, and then more.

“Gary!” she hissed.

But she didn't stop me even when I pulled her tee shirt up over her head, leaving her completely naked and exposed.

I kissed the various blemishes that persisted from Frank's rough handling. I found those marks of her infidelity strangely arousing. Gawping at my wife's lovely, naked body, it was the thumbprint on her left breast that compelled my closest attention. It was a sentiment I decided to keep to myself.

I caressed and kissed her all over, reacquainting myself with her lithe, sensitive body. The fact that she'd been with another man awakened something in me. I remembered the first time we kissed, her soft lips, and the coolness of the fall evening as we walked after a dinner date. I remembered the first time we made love. The initial awkwardness and trepidation, the desire to please one another, but not knowing for sure how. I remembered how sensitive her nipples had been, how she writhed sensuously as I kissed them, and how wet I found her when I finally slipped my hand between her legs.

The past and present melded. She squirmed and let out soft gasps. I again licked her slit, finding it juicy, and I slipped a finger inside her. She was so tight. I thought of Frank's huge prick, agog that it could fit inside her, realizing how much he stretched her when he did.

I drew back, rocking onto my heels. She opened her eyes and glanced down at me.

"You're gorgeous," I sighed.

She blushed and grinned. "Let's go inside, Gar. Let's stay in bed all day. We'll fuck and have room service and stay naked the whole time."

It was a tempting offer. But it would have meant canceling on Frank. I gently caressed her pussy. Did I want it for myself? Or did I want to offer it again to another man? Her eyes were heavy lidded with lust. Was that for me? Or was I simply benefitting from his effect? And did it matter?

“Frank’s probably already getting things ready,” I noted.

My wife gazed down at me and, after a moment, smiled. “You’re crazy, you know? What kind of man turns down a day of sex with his wife in order for her to spend it with another man?”

I laughed and then leaned in and gave her pussy a chaste kiss.

“The kind of man whose wife goes absolutely, completely nuts for her well-hung lover.”

She chuckled and mussed my hair. “When this is all over, we’re going to have a nice long talk.” She grinned. “And we’re going to fuck until your dick falls off.”

“Deal. Now, get your sexy little ass inside before the neighbors call the cops on us.”

She rose. Slowly. And then stretched her arms over her head. And then, with studied insouciance, went inside.

I stared out at the surf and the morning joggers out on the hard packed sand. The sun was bright, the air humid and salty. The beach always has a strangely concupiscent feeling to me. Bikinis and fruity drinks. Coconut oil. Sex is in the air.

I gave my cock a quick tug. I wasn’t hard, but nor had I been fully flaccid in days. My cock seemed to know it was a supporting player at the moment.

Back inside, Casey was in the shower. The bathroom door was cracked open, inviting a peak. I stuck my head through the door. She noticed me, but didn’t acknowledge my presence. Razor in hand, she was shaving all over, making sure she was perfectly smooth for him. It was arousing, and somehow, what made it even more exciting was that Frank probably wouldn’t even notice. All he cared about was ramming his hard prick into her hungry mouth and juicy cunt.

Ten

We texted with Frank and arranged to meet him at the boat launch at a nearby marina a bit after ten. That gave us time for a light breakfast. Apart from idle – “it's gonna be a warm one today” – and utilitarian – “please pass the butter” – chit-chat, we were both quiet, lost in thought. We returned to the hotel room to change.

Casey, to my surprise, emerged from the bathroom in a quite modest outfit, shorts and a tee shirt, paired with flip-flops and a ball cap. She looked less like a vixen on the make than a college girl heading to class. I wondered if she was having second thoughts.

We drove in silence to our rendezvous, parked, and stepped out of the car. We spotted Frank, waving us over to his boat, tied up to the pier. As we approached, Casey took my hand and gave it a surprisingly firm squeeze.

“Thank you for this,” she said quietly.

Frank climbed down into the boat. Casey reached out her hand for support, but he encircled her waist and effortlessly swung her into the boat. She seemed almost giddy. I clambered in as well.

Frank was clearly proud of his craft. It was a recent model, very well maintained. There was fishing tackle in the rear, an open cockpit, and a flat deck at the front with foam mats for lounging. Below, there was a small head, and a tiny, low-roofed, cabin. Frank pointed out the cooler, well-stocked with snacks, water, beer, and hard seltzer.

As Frank untied the lines and pushed off from the dock, Casey quickly stripped off her shorts and tee. I needn't have been concerned by the coyness of her outfit. Beneath she was wearing that same, tiny bikini she'd purchased earlier in the week, and she proceeded to show off both its skimpiness and her sexy body by coating herself in sunscreen. Frank was unabashed in his admiration as he began to slowly pilot us through the marina to the exit.

I grabbed a beer and took a seat in the back and observed. Casey handed the sunscreen to Frank.

"Could you get my back?"

"Can you steer?"

She shrugged. "Tell me how."

He switched places with her. "One hand on the wheel, other on the throttle. Slow and steady. Head to the end of this row, then a left, and then a right past the breakwater."

She nodded. He waited a moment to make sure she had the hang of it, and then began rubbing lotion over her shoulders and back. His hands roamed over my wife's nearly naked body, sliding beneath the string top, and down her ribcage. She squirmed, her sexy little ass wiggling delightfully. It seemed to draw his attention. He massaged her cheeks more vigorously than strictly necessary.

It was at this point that I began to really notice that we were not in a private setting. Dozens of people were scattered on various boats and docks. They were not necessarily focusing on us, but it is the norm to look up at a passing boat and wave. I had no way to know how many of those people might know Frank and would therefore realize that the comely and scantily clad woman he was fondling was not his wife, and that she might instead be married to the beanpole sitting in the stern of his boat.

“Stop it!” Case giggled.

I peered closer and saw he’d slid his hand beneath her thong. She slapped at it.

“Hands on the wheel,” he chided, repositioning her hands.

She squirmed as his hand pressed between her legs.

He glanced back at me, a broad grin on his face. “So wet. It’d be a crime to waste it.”

I was immobilized as I processed both his statement and the fact that we were about to pass just a few yards behind a 42-foot cruiser with a half-dozen men and women chatting and watching the traffic. Frank had no such anxieties. He crouched down, pressed in close to Casey, and fumbled with his zipper.

“Fraaank!” she hissed. And then a moment later, a long, low, “ohhhhh” as he apparently thrust his hard cock inside her.

“Steady as she goes,” he said, reaching out and straightening the wheel.

Like me, Casey had noticed our potential audience. Despite her best efforts at maintaining a stoic demeanor, Frank’s fat prick, churning slowly inside her, had her red-faced and breathing hard.

I crept closer, not quite believing what I was seeing. Frank helpfully angled toward me and pulled her cheek aside to give me a view of his thick, glistening shaft plunging into my wife's pussy. He grasped her belly, holding her firmly as he fucked her. Then one hand slid down the front of her bikini and the other moved upward, under her top, and cupped her breast.

I thought I heard surprised murmurs from the boat we were passing, but was too embarrassed to look over and confirm my suspicion. There was still a modicum of deniability. To observers, it might still seem an overly amorous cuddle rather than public sex, PDA rather than raw exhibitionism.

Frank guided Casey into the channel leading to open water. We were past most of the boats, but the breakwaters were apparently a prime fishing venue, maybe a dozen men spread out along the sea wall, with rods, lawn chairs, and coolers.

One man peered back at us. He recognized Frank and called out to him, his words transforming in mid course from greeting to Frank to a call for attention from the others. "Hey Frankie... damn, Frankie's hooked a live one."

As the men craned their necks to look at us, Frank removed any ambiguity. He yanked up Casey's bikini top, exposing her cute breasts and perky nipples, and thrust harder into her, making her gasp and jolt. The men whistled and laughed. Hey come over here! Save some for us!

Whether a response to Frank's big cock or the exhibitionism, Casey's composure quickly broke down. Her moans became louder, her body rocking back against his as the demands of passion outstripped the dictates of decorum.

"Oh God!" she cried out, loud enough to be easily heard by the fishermen. Their redoubled hooting and hollering seemed to spur both Frank and Casey to even more intense ardor.

She parted her legs and juttied her ass backward to give him easier and deeper access. His shorts dropped down around his ankles. Their bodies slapped together. As they came abreast of the breakwater, they were openly fucking, heedless of their audience. His beefy palm gripped her throat. She growled and threw back her head.

“Oh God!!” she gasped, her body convulsing.

He peered over at me, sweat dripping from his forehead. “Take over.”

I wasn’t sure if he meant the boat or my wife, but he made his intention clear a moment later when he reached down, his hands clutching her thighs and lifting her off the floor. He turned toward me, and I gasped as the obscene sight of my wife, exposed, legs spread wide, impaled on an oversized cock. As I took the wheel, he stumbled backward, settled onto the banquette in the stern and ragdolled her on his prick. I steered the boat out onto the open water, finally escaping the laughs and shouts from the shore.

My wife was nearly delirious at his rough treatment. Her tongue lolled from her mouth and her head swayed. She gasped, whimpered, and wheezed. Her pussy and breasts swelled and darkened. She came again, her body tensing, and then all of a sudden becoming nearly limp.

Frank chuckled and relaxed his grip as she seemed to melt in slow motion, doubling over, and then collapsing onto the floor between his legs. As his cock slipped out, she gracefully wheeled to face him. He cupped the back of her head, and she began licking and sucking his meat.

Frank directed me south, through a channel, and into the protected waters of the keys. He talked about the reefs off shore, the protected bird mating grounds, and then as we crossed beneath Route 1, he talked about his favorite fishing spots.

All the while, my wife worshiped his cock. I'd heard her sucking him off in the car, and had been impressed with her enthusiasm, but it was a whole different experience watching it. Casey and I have a solid sex life, but there was a passion and intensity of her with him that I'd never seen before. She wasn't just licking his shaft or sucking it into her mouth. There was that, but also so much more. She suckled his balls, dribbled spit onto his cock, rubbed the head against her hard nips. She buried her face into his crotch, like a cat marking its territory with its whiskers.

Her ministrations soon had him punctuating his narrative with moans and sighs. He encouraged her to take him deeper, and soon she was gagging on his cock, her hands still active, working his scrotum and shaft.

"That's it, Baby Doll," he sighed. "I'm gonna give you what you want, and you're going to swallow it all."

I remembered the one time she'd let me finish in her mouth. The excitement and anticipation followed by the sudden retreat, retching, and her running off to the bathroom to spit it out even as my second and third spurts ended up onto my stomach. The ultimately anticlimactic climax.

She gave him a small nod and continued sucking the head as she fist pumped up and down. He gasped and I noticed his forearm muscles tense as he held her in place. Not that it was much needed. After a momentary flinch, Casey remained committed. I heard her gulping as she gobbled down his load.

"Look at your husband," he said.

She turned toward me, giving me a come-glazed grin. Her lips were coated with it. A mix of jism and spit dripped down her chin. She licked her lips and Frank helpfully scooped up the dribble on her face, and fed it into her mouth. She returned her attention to his prick, licking up the last drops of come and tidying up his entire package.

He rolled his eyes in delight and caressed her head. “Goddam, Girl, that was pro.”

She rose slowly, picking up her bikini off the floor. It was all tangled up, and she shrugged. “Guess, I’ll go no tan lines,” she said.

Both Frank and I watched as she strode to the bow, and arranged herself on her stomach to catch some rays and maybe a nap.

Frank pulled on his shorts and nudged me. “I’ll take over from here. Shallow waters.”

He maneuvered us into a protected cove. Birds swirled overhead and the wind blew through the mangroves on the dozens of small islets around us. Frank readied the fishing gear and he and I settled into the stern, with cold beers, and cast our lines into the water.

“So, how long have you guys been into this?” he asked.

“Fishing?” I replied.

He chuckled.

“I’m not sure what this is, actually,” I said after a moment. “But you’re the first person Casey has, um, hooked up with.”

“That you know of,” Casey chimed from the bow.

“That I know of,” I echoed.

“Why me?” he asked.

I sort of wished Casey would answer that one, but she remained mute, though I did notice she’d turned her head so she could more easily follow our conversation.

“Got talking about fantasies,” I said. “And, I dunno, one thing led to another.”

He laughed and grabbed his beer belly. "Yeah, I've been told I'm fantasy material. Brad Pitt not available?"

I chuckled. I didn't know why I was being coy. "My wife, it seems, has a thing for, uh, physical types. Guys who work with their hands, you know?"

"White collar girl looking for blue collar guy?" He grinned. "Got it. And I just happened to be at the right place at the right time?"

"Obviously she sees something in you beyond that, but yeah, that's about it. Right, Honey?"

"A strong man with a big dick. What more could a girl ask for?" she said.

He laughed. "Works for me. Is she always so sexual?"

I shook my head. "No, you seem to bring out the best in her."

"You're a lucky man. She's amazing. Maybe the nicest, juiciest pussy I've ever had."

I glanced over at my wife and noticed a smile play across her lips. We reeled in our lines and cast out again.

"So, what do you do when you're not, you know, fishing or fucking other men's wives?" I asked.

"I lay pipe."

"I'll say," Casey chortled.

"No seriously," I said.

"Seriously," he replied. "I work in oil and gas. Pipelines, wells. Been working on a rig in the Gulf the last couple of years."

I chuckled. "You found yourself a genuine roustabout," I said to Casey. Then back to him, "How do you get out there?"

"We work like 18 days on and 8 to 10 days off. You caught me on an off period. I head back in a couple of days. Nothing like her on board, though."

He chuckled. “What do you think, Baby, want to come out for a visit? About 120 guys like me out there at any one time.”

I glanced over at Casey wondering if she’d react, but her eyes were closed and she seemed to be napping.

We fished for a while longer. Nothing was biting, and instead we worked our way through some more beer. Frank talked about his stint in the Navy. I filled him in on our lives back home. We didn’t have much in common, other than an appreciation for my wife’s charms, but he seemed a decent guy.

After some time, I noticed him peering over at Casey more often. I wasn’t surprised when he placed his rod in the holder and told me, “Watch my line, will ya?”

I nodded.

He stood. I could see the bulge in his shorts. He grabbed the bottle of sunscreen and approached my wife. He sat down beside her.

“Oh hey,” she said.

He squeezed some lotion into his beefy hands and rubbed them together. “Worried you might burn.”

Frank began rubbing her back and shoulders, but I knew he wouldn’t stop there. She was still completely naked, and anyway, in the couple of days we’d known him, he’d never been shy about taking what he wanted. Which, of course, was part of what made him so appealing to Casey.

She sighed happily as he massaged her, his hands encircling her narrow waist and coating her lower back. She arched slightly, flashing her perky breasts. He continued down and began massaging her butt. There he remained for quite some time, kneading her cheeks and gradually sliding his hand into her crack.

My wife giggled as her lover fondled her ass. “I don’t get much sun down there.” She gasped and rose up on her elbows. “And definitely not in there!”

He placed one hand on her upper back, flattening her against the deck. His other hand remained between her cheeks, and I realized from the angle that he was fingering her asshole.

She squirmed. “Oh God, what are you doing?”

He chuckled, added some lotion, and then pressed in deeper. Casey shuddered.

He turned toward me. “Does she like it in the ass?”

I shook my head. “No, never.”

“Is that true, Baby? Sure there wasn’t some bad boy in your past who put it in there?”

“No and – urgh,” she whined. “That’s too much.”

“Just relax, Baby. It’s just a little finger.”

Her breathing quickened. She gasped. “Not so little.”

“Fuck, you’re tight. So fucking hot.”

Casey grunted softly as he probed her, but remained prone. He pulled her cheeks apart and thrust in deeper. She hissed.

“Okay, Baby Girl, show me what a nasty girl you really are. Play with your clit while I finger your ass. Make yourself come for me.”

“I... I can’t... It’s too much.”

She whimpered softly, “Nnah... nnah... nnah...”

But she also slipped a hand beneath her. Her ass rose off the deck slightly. He churned his thick finger inside her. Her hips began to pump up and down.

Casey's sounds changed, dropping in pitch, becoming more sultry, more moans than whines. "Ugh... ugh... ugh...."

"She likes it," Frank crowed.

I reeled in the lines and stood up to get a better look. Her legs parted. I saw his finger plunging into her anus. Her wet, pink pussy pulsed with each thrust. She rubbed her clit with two fingers, hard, desperate circles. Then suddenly she gasped, her body convulsing as she choked out, "Oh, fuck."

I was shaking. Seeing my wife come from being fingered in her ass by a virtual stranger, while sprawled completely naked on the deck of his boat had me close to apoplexy. Frank wasn't immune either to her rampant sexuality. The tent in his shorts struck me as both amusing and menacing.

My wife was still squirmed in post-orgasmic bliss when he wrenched her half-way off the deck, dropping her knees on the step below. She peered back over her shoulder as he yanked down his shorts. She raised her ass in the air. He thrust his hips. She gasped and her chest rose off the mat.

I couldn't believe she could take his cock in her ass. I stepped closer to get a better view and saw that he'd actually penetrated her wet cunt, though as I watched, he pressed his thumb between her cheeks and deep into her ass.

At every step, I'd been surprised and excited by Casey's response to Frank. Her obvious arousal after we first met him. The way she completely surrendered to him in the restaurant on our second meeting. Her enthusiastic slobbering on his knob in the backseat of the car. Her response to his hard fucking back at his place. Letting him fuck her in the boat as we passed the fishermen on the breakwater and then her sloppy hummer that culminated in her swallowing his come. But somehow, the intensity of watching her getting fucked from behind, a thumb in her butt, after having made herself come with his finger in her ass, was sexier still.

Their sex was raw, dirty, rough, and insanely exciting. He was almost feral, tearing off his tee shirt, his body scarlett and dripping sweat. Casey was beside herself, her head swinging from side to side, drops of sweat arcing, and her sounds were animalistic, pornographic.

“Ugh! Ugh! Fuck! Ugh!” she cried desperately.

Her extravagant response inflamed him further. He fucked her even harder, every thrust of his thick cock balls deep inside her battered cunt.

“Fuck! Fuck! Fuck!” she howled.

He wrapped his hand around her mouth, stifling her screams. Being muted provoked her even more. She screamed at the top of her lungs as he ravished her. And then, suddenly, she bucked wildly, coming so hard that it seemed almost like a seizure. He thrust in deep and held her tight as she spasmed on his prick. Her climax triggered his. With a growl, he ground against her, gasping, wheezing, filling her with his come.

He pulled out. Her pussy was wrecked. It gaped open, dark red and pulsing. She heaved, desperately trying to catch her breath. His come began to leak out, coating her thigh and even dripping onto the cushion beneath her. Her ass also gaped and pulsed in time with her breaths.

It triggered in me something primordial. I was rock hard, panting with excitement. In that moment, I was not a voyeur anymore. The heat, the humidity, the beers, the last couple of days... it all had me in a frenzy. She wasn't my wife. She was a hot, available slut. And I was just another hard dick ready to use her holes.

I moved in behind her, grabbed her hips. She didn't even look back. I got my cock out and slammed it home.

I had never felt anything like it. Fucking her recently-used pussy last night had been exciting. She'd been sensitive and sore, her pussy still engorged but already recovering from Frank's rough pounding. Her freshly-fucked cunt was a different sensation. Wetter than I'd ever felt, hotter as well. She was still having post-orgasmic tremors. Her pussy throbbed. But there was no friction, and I wasn't sure she could even feel me inside her.

Despite her looseness, I was quickly on edge. Her pussy squished as I churned into her come-filled hole. Her asshole winked at me with each thrust. Sweat beaded on her back and cohered into a small puddle on her lower back. I looked away from her ass and saw she had craned her neck and was smirking at me. I read into it all sorts of emotions, interpretations flashing through my mind. She was amused at how small my cock was. She was gloating about having tricked me into letting her take a better hung lover. Or maybe she was grateful that I'd let her experiment and that I was still attracted to her. Perhaps she just saw how close I was.

I came, hard, adding to the mess inside her. I almost immediately slipped out of her, though she remained bent over, extending the show. Finally, she spun around and sat down on the cushion and gestured toward the cooler. Frank grabbed a beer, twisted off the top, and handed it to her. She took a deep, grateful swig.

"Can I take a dip?"

"I know a quiet spot," Frank replied.

We stowed the fishing gear and Frank proceeded toward a small cay with a sandy beach. He anchored us a few yards off shore, and we all dove into the water, he and I in swim trunks, Casey still naked.

It didn't take long before they were cavorting in the shallow waters. I climbed back onto the boat and dried myself as I observed them. She'd shown again and again how excited his displays of strength were, and he didn't hold back now. He threw her in the air and spun her around as she shrieked in delight. They splashed each other, and after she managed to trip him up and dunk him in the water, she ran away and he chased after her. He tackled her in the shallow water, and rolled around, half-wrestling, half grinding on each other until they ended up on the hard packed sand with her astride him. She ground her naked pussy against his crotch.

"Seems like you can't get enough of me," she teased, though it seemed to me like he could have said the same to her.

Then she crawled backward off him, her ass in the air, pulling down his trunks as she went. He lay back on the sand, eyes closed, resting his head on his hands as my wife began licking and sucking his engorged cock and balls.

I had to hand it to the guy. He was middle-aged, but he had the sexual appetite of a teenager. I hadn't spent any time reflecting on him until now. He was mostly just a prop as far as I was concerned. But, of course, he wasn't. He had his own buttons, and the situation was pushing his as well. She was fresh meat, and that always gets a guy going. But I wondered if it also turned him on that she was married? Or was it how submissive she was with him? Or how visibly she got off on his big cock? Or the appeal of slutting out a "nice girl"? Or was it the exhibitionism?

The latter possibility became more relevant as a second boat pulled into the cove. They gave us plenty of room, but Casey and Frank were completely out in the open, right where the beach meets the water. On board were two young couples, a couple of sheets to the wind judging by their boisterousness. The girls were cute, in bikinis and shorts. One girl, a slender brunette had on a ball cap with her ponytail jutting out the back. The other girl had dirty blond hair, more curves, and an intricate tribal tat between her breasts.

At first, I didn't think Casey had noticed them. She was busy, after all. But after a couple of moments, she adjusted herself to give our new arrivals a better angle to see her swallowing Frank's prick as well as providing a peak at her pink pussy. That resulted in a round of cheers, and the blonde on the boat whooped as she mimed sucking cock herself.

My wife apparently decided to up the ante even further. After giving Frank's cock a vigorous tongue-lashing, she sat up and stroked him up and down. Then she kicked her leg over him and straddled his torso. Facing away from him she scanned from left to right, nodding first at me, and then fixing her attention on the boat of voyeurs. Holding his cock steady, she impaled herself on him and began to ride him reverse cowgirl.

"Yeah, Girl, ride that dick," shouted the brunette.

Her boyfriend grabbed a hold of her ponytail and palmed her belly. He nibbled at her neck as he slipped his hand into her tight shorts. He whispered something in her ear, and she nodded. A moment later, he unbuttoned her shorts and eased them down to mid-thigh. The girl thrust out her ass. He slipped her thong aside, and thrust inside her. The blonde seemed less adventurous. She fended off her guy's efforts to disrobe her, but she did begin to jerk him off when he placed his cock in her palm.

Casey grinned widely as she surveyed the scene. She'd initiated something of an orgy and she seemed pleased by it. She palmed Frank's tree-trunk thighs and began riding him faster, triggering an unspoken competition among the three women about who could make her man come fastest. Even the blonde got in on the act, dropping to her knees and throating her dude while grabbing his ass.

The crescendo arrived quickly. Blondie took a facial. Pony tail girl got really loud and then slumped over as her guy finished inside her. Frank grabbed my wife's hips and began thrusting upward, almost throwing her off. But Casey did her best rodeo rider impression and managed to ride Frank to the finish.

As she rolled off her lover with a weary smile, Blondie's lover whooped, "Fuck yeah!" Then he and the girls proceeded to shotgun some beers. They waved Frank and Casey over, but my wife seemed, finally, exhausted. Frank waved amiable, but shook his head. I think that's when the couples in the boat finally noticed me. They shared confused, drunken shrugs, and then head shakes, and finally chuckles as they put the pieces together. Or at least that's how I interpreted the scene.

The short swim back to the boat finished off Casey's reserves. I had to help her on board, and she was half-asleep as she slipped down below and sprawled on his bed in the cramped cabin. Frank weighed anchor and with a few more waves and shouts, we bid farewell to the other craft.

We cruised slowly back to the marina, enjoying the bright sunshine and beautiful coral blue water. Frank was grinning dumbly, like a man who'd thoroughly gotten his rocks off and then more.

"You like watching your wife get fucked?" he asked.

I hesitated and took a sip of beer as I considered the question. "I guess so."

He chuckled. "I'd think you'd want to be more sure than that."

"It's a tough question, you know. See, the thing is, I'm less interested in watching her get fucked than I am in seeing her so... fucking... sexual. It's like, I always had this fantasy about her being wild."

"Yeah, I get ya. Like she was back in the day, right?"

I shook my head. “No. At least I don’t think so. She was always pretty vanilla with me, and she says she was even more vanilla with her previous boyfriends.”

“You believe that?” he asked, not quite skeptically, but also not quite convinced. “I think most girls downplay their youthful adventures.”

“I know. And I’d always hoped that, you know, at some point something would come out. Some crazy adventure. Something that we might just talk about and relive vicariously or something. But no. And at this point, I believe her. So it was more like this fantasy that there was something there, buried but waiting to burst out. That’s what really has me hooked. And I dunno. Maybe I’ll get tired of it or, maybe, resentful. But for now, I’m still on the roller coaster. Still riding an adrenaline high. I don’t have that queasy feeling yet.”

It was strange sharing these intimate thoughts with a virtual stranger and another dude to boot. I’ve never been the manliest man out there, but I’ve also never been one of those in-touch-with-his-feelings guys either. But Frank and I did share a particular bond after the past couple of days.

He steered the boat northwest, circling a small cay, the sound of his engine rousing a flock of birds from the brush lining the shore. They rose in a mass, cawing, swirling, and then diving back toward land and disappearing into foliage.

“Well, Bro, not gonna lie. Your wife is one hell of a lay. Haven’t been with a girl who likes it as hard and long as she does in a long time.” He laughed. “Not since my first wife. God, that girl was a wild woman.”

“First?”

He held up three fingers. “Three so far. I’m oh-for.”

“Why’d you let the wild woman go?”

“Cause she was wild. And I was in the Navy. And it turned out that while I was stroking it at sea after a long-ass, sweaty day working on steam lines, she was handing it out like candy. Came a to head after one cruise when I found out she’d spent most of her time shacked up with a trio of fucking Marines.”

I nodded, but sensed reproach in his voice. Why wasn’t I equally aghast? But he went in a different direction.

He shrugged. “I was young and stupid. Not like I didn’t get my dick wet on liberty, but I didn’t have your intestinal fortitude I guess. Probably wouldn’t have worked out anyway. Not a lot of marriages survive the military. It’s a common joke to refer to first marriages as ‘starter marriage.’ Get hitched too young, get divorced in your twenties, if you’re lucky the second one takes. If not, you’re me.”

“So no other woman out there going to come gunning for us?” I joked.

He chuckled. “Naw. Closest thing I got to a regular is this married gal out in Mobile. Her hubby’s not like you. Strictly hush-hush.”

“Seems like you like married women.”

“Get to be my age and that’s all that’s left, except the psychos and the young ones looking for a baby daddy. But that ain’t for me.”

I spotted the marina entrance and was grateful to see that the morning fishermen had largely packed it in as we got to the peak of the afternoon heat. He maneuvered us past the million dollar yachts and the sleek, ocean-water sailboats, then down past a clutch of cabin cruisers where the quay had been turned into a shared patio, complete with makeshift tiki bar. Frank nodded at those.

“Want to get really crazy? Live on a boat at a marina. Those guys trade wives more often than they cast off.”

“You ever partake?”

“Once or twice,” he said with a grin. “Maybe I do have a thing for married broads.”

He backed us into his slip and I jumped ashore to tie us up. With the engine throttled down, Frank began to stack gear, and I started to carry it onto the dock.

“Frank, can you come help me with something?” Casey called from below.

He glanced at me. I shrugged. He slipped below as I continued to unload the boat. After a few minutes, with the fishing gear neatly stacked and the coolers resting on the pier, I realized that neither Frank nor Casey had surfaced.

I hopped back onto the boat and stuck my head through the hatch. It was dark, and coming out of the sunlight, I initially couldn't see anything. It was hot and humid. And I could hear them. Her soft moans and sighs. The bunk creaking beneath them. The sound of wet, deep kisses.

My eyes became accustomed to the light, and I could see them. They were above the covers, glistening in sweat. He was between her legs, slowly thrusting into her. She caressed his back and ass. They were talking as they fucked, kissing, giggling.

This time I did feel a bit queasy. They were not “fucking” so much as “making love.” It didn't quite overwhelm my excitement as I noted again how Casey seemed to have become an insatiable slut. But it did give me a twinge of anxiety.

I crept closer until I could hear them and see Casey more clearly. She wasn't in distress, far from it, but I could also tell she was feeling the effects of Frank's fat prick plunging into her battered pussy. She was smiling, eyes bright with excitement, but also narrowed at the corners and her sweaty brow furrowed.

“I want you to come in me,” she moaned.

“You’ve about drained me,” Frank chortled. “I’d need to go real hard to get there.”

“Do it.”

He hesitated. “You sure?”

“Do it,” she hissed.

He gave her a hard, wet kiss. “Fuck, you’re a sexy bitch.”

He began to thrust in harder and she began grunting loudly. Her face reddened. She rolled her head back and lifted her legs in the air.

He pounded into her, his cock a blur, making a slurping sound with each stroke, punctuated by her groans of mixed pain and pleasure. The rack shuddered with their exertions.

“Ugh!” she cried out, adding a hoarse “do it!” to keep him going.

He grabbed the beam that spanned the sleep platform and used the additional leverage to hammer my wife still harder. She squealed and gasped and again urged him on.

“Do it!”

He suddenly threw his head back and growled, “Oh Fuck! Fuck!” His balls tightened and his entire body shook. He then collapsed onto Casey, still grinding into her, giving her every last drop of his come.

When he was done, he rolled off her and sat on the side of the bed catching his breath.

I couldn’t take my eyes off my wife. She lay on his mattress, legs splayed open, panting and drenched in sweat. She absentmindedly caressed her gaping, glistening snatch. She looked like a porn star after a gangbang, drained and completely fucked out.

Frank got dressed and rose. He squeezed past me in the hatchway..

“You gonna take a turn?” he asked.

I shook my head.

He clapped my shoulder. “I think you’ve created a monster. Keep her close or you might find her entertaining a pack of Marines.”

I nodded. He spoke from experience. An oversexed woman can be both a blessing and a curse. But as my gaze returned to the sultry creature squirming on his bed as she slowly regained the wits he’d fucked out of her, all I could think about was how much I wanted to make love to her as we relived the experiences of this week together.

There was a stack of towels on a narrow dresser. I moistened a washcloth and sat beside her on the bed, mopping her sweat and wiping away the come leaking from her pussy. She was still in a daze and it took her a few moments to realize it was me.

She looked at me, concern in her eyes. “Are we... okay?”

I kissed her forehead. “We’re amazing.”

She smiled wanly and struggled to rise. I wrapped her in a larger towel and helped her up the steep steps to the deck. Her bikini was a shambles, but I got her into her shorts and tank top. We climbed onto the dock and exchanged somewhat awkward goodbyes with Frank. She leaned against me, exhausted, and I led her to the car. She was asleep in the passenger seat even before I got the car in drive.

Eleven

Casey snored as I drove. A prominent wet spot appeared at her crotch, his come leaking out of her. It was a situation I'd never have imagined. Driving my wife home after she'd spent a day being fucked hard by a powerful bull, her pussy filled with his sperm.

I imagined people looking at us as I led her through the hotel lobby to our room. Presumably they'd just assume she'd had one or two too many out in the sun, but I also felt that same queasy excitement I'd felt at the marina when I imagined that they knew what we'd been up to. I couldn't quite put my finger on precisely what I was feeling. Some strange combination of humiliation and excitement, and also a peculiar sense of pride, both at my wife's sexual prowess and at my own maturity in being able to handle the emotions of sharing my spouse.

Once inside, Casey almost immediately collapsed face down on the bed and resumed her exhausted slumber. I covered her with a light blanket, left a note for her to text me when she woke up, and then took my Kindle down to the hotel bar for a drink and some dinner.

I ordered a beer, but didn't crack open my book. Instead, I observed the scene around and let my mind wander.

I thought about the young couples we'd met on the beach, how they'd cheered on Casey riding Frank's cock and how they'd joined in on the fun themselves. I remembered the people on boats in the marina and the fishermen on the breakwater as they watched, both amused and aroused, Frank taking my wife from behind as she tried to steer his boat. I replayed in my mind Frank fingering Casey's ass and her making herself come as he stretched her anus. My dick throbbed at the memories.

Then there came the still exciting, but darker moments: How loose she was when I took my turn after Frank. That mix of excitement at the situation and minor terror as I wondered if I'd ever be able to really satisfy her ever again. And even worse, that moment of tenderness when we were docked again in his slip, when they made love, giggling and whispering in each other's ears. That source of angst was a real surprise. Who would have imagined that a shared joke would feel more like a challenge than the repeated rough shaggings that left her orgasmed out?

The speed of the transformation in our marriage was as terrifying as it was electrifying. What Casey had hidden barely below the surface was a shock. A wild, raw sexuality apparently just waiting to burst out. I wondered if I had always sensed it, somehow, subconsciously. When I wished for her to be sluttier, was I channeling some deep, unspoken, sense that this was inside her all along? Or had I provoked it in her?

I shook my head and chuckled to myself. I noticed a woman at the end of the bar glance at me side-eyed, like I was, perhaps, a little crazy. Which, of course, I was to any normal person. Not so much the muttering to myself, but my willing participation in my own cuckolding. Not that she knew about any of that? Or did she? Was she one of the women from the marina? Had she seen me leading Casey upstairs, her crotch soaked with another man's come? Surely not, but it wasn't as if Casey and I had been particularly secretive, and Frank, for his part, seemed almost determined to expose her as the slut she was.

Our vacation was coming to an end. I wondered what would happen next? Was this one of those, "what happens at the beach stays at the beach" situations? Or would there be other strong, rough men in the future. Would Casey seek them out? Or perhaps just find herself more open to what in the past might have been just a minor flirtation or even just a lusty gaze? The next time my wife was catcalled passing a construction site, would she scurry away? Or maybe slow and with a grin encourage the attention? Or perhaps, might she turn on her heels, squeeze through a safety fence and offer herself to a muscular, sweaty workman? And how sick did it make me that the thought of the latter made my dick hard.

I ordered a second beer and some nachos. The bar filled and emptied in waves, quiet one moment, boisterous the next. I scanned the crowd, wondering how many secrets, shared and unshared, swirled behind the laughter and conversation. Monogamy and coupling-up are so much the norm that it shapes our assumptions. But looking around, I wondered how many of the happy people around me had lovers in addition to their ostensible partners? How many kinks did they hide away behind facades of conventionality? Had Casey and I left the mainstream or unknowingly joined it?

Casey's text interrupted my conjectures.

<Casey>: I'm up... and hungry. Can you bring me a burger?

I chuckled and ordered a cheeseburger for her, another beer for me as I waited, and a couple more to take upstairs with me.

Upstairs, Casey was awaiting me on the bed, freshly showered, cross-legged, and in PJs. I handed her the burger, which she bit into ravenously, and opened the two beers. I watched in some amusement as she downed the food.

“Better?” I asked.

She nodded. “Much.”

“I guess getting railed all day builds up one’s appetite.” I meant for it to come out carefree, but instead a slight edge crept into my tone.

“Gar, are we still okay?”

“Erm... yes, of course.”

“You hesitated.”

“No... It’s fine.”

She shook her head. “Not good enough. You need to be honest. Brutally honest.”

“Case, it’s the same as before. I’m super turned on and by the nastiest things. Like, I can’t stop thinking about that wet spot in your shorts. Or, like, the way he fingered your butt.”

“But?” She grinned. “No pun intended.”

I shrugged. “No butts. Not really. I’m not sure I’m at my final destination emotionally yet, you know? I think I’m still processing. I...” I sighed. “I did get a little uncomfortable when you and Frank seemed more intimate.”

She nodded. “The kissing?”

“Yeah, and the talking and like, giggling. Like you were sharing secrets.”

She laughed, and I reddened. She placed her hand on my thigh. “I’m sorry. I didn’t mean to laugh. You’re making a fair point. It’s just, you know, it is a little funny that you're more angsty about a little pillow talk than you are about him screwing me raw. But you're right. That was, in this weird situation, inappropriate." She paused and then added. "But I have no secrets from you."

"What was he saying to you?"

"Mostly he was just telling me how much he enjoyed having sex with me."

"Is that what he said?"

She blushed and then met my gaze. "He said he loved fucking my juicy pussy. He said he loved how I was a nice girl on the outside and a nasty slut inside."

A surge of excitement ran through me.

"There's more," she said. "He said he knew he'd only scratched the surface with me. That I was dirtier than I even realized."

"Is he right?"

She looked past me for a moment. "I'm not sure." Then she again found my gaze. "But I think I'd like to find out."

"You want to see him again?"

"Erm... yes?"

"Now you hesitated."

She took a deep breath. "I need to ask you something. And I need you to know that you can definitely say no if you want. And maybe I sorta even want you to say no." She rubbed her hands nervously on her thighs.

"You want to see him without me," I said, putting two and two together.

Casey's eyes widened. "How'd..." She shook her head. "Nevermind." Another deep breath. Then, "Yes."

I nodded slowly, giving perhaps the impression of contemplation, but really just something to do as my mind went blank. “Why?” I asked finally.

“I think I want to see whether he’s right. About me being even raunchier than the last few days.”

“And you’re worried I’ll be shocked?”

“No. I mean, maybe a little. But I’d tell you everything regardless. It’s more that I just want to be able to focus on myself. Not worry about your expectations or reactions. At least not in the moment.”

“What, erm, are you thinking about doing?”

“No, you see, that’s the problem. I don’t want to raise expectations. I don’t want to sense your disappointment if I chicken out on... whatever.”

I nodded again, but again, I didn’t quite understand.

She shook her head. “Nevermind, Gar. That wasn’t a fair request. Let’s just—”

“No,” I said. “No, it’s okay. And I trust you. If you want to see Frank alone, then see Frank alone. You want to spend tomorrow with him?”

“Gar, you don’t need to do this.”

I leaned in suddenly. She flinched. I kissed her forehead. “I want to. I want you to. I want you to go as far and as dirty with him as you want. Just promise me you’ll tell me everything.”

She held my gaze, seeming to try to look into my soul. Whatever she saw satisfied her, or maybe her desires won out over her caution.

“He’s busy during the day tomorrow, so it would be tomorrow evening.” She bit her lip. “And, Gar, I’d sort of like to spend the night with him.”

The fact that it would be our last night in Key Largo remained unstated.

“Okay,” I said.

It was late. Despite Casey's nap, she was still exhausted. And she was too sore to fool around anyway. So, we cleaned up the platter, finished our beers, and got ready for bed.

For me, that involved taking a shower first. As I stood beneath the flow of hot water, my mind raced. I knew one thing Frank would do to my wife. I was sort of surprised he hadn't already taken her anal virginity. It had seemed imminent on the boat, but it would be a near certainty tomorrow.

I slowly stroked myself imagining his fat prick sliding into her ass. I also sensed that there would be more. Would he tie her up? Flog her? Make her kiss his feet or beg to be fucked? Did she fantasize about him coming on her face? I pictured my spouse, her ass gaping, jerking Frank's fat prick all over her face. I blew my load against the shower door as I imagined him doing the same to her pretty visage.

Twelve

We both slept in, only finally getting out of bed shortly before noon. But we both remained drained and agreed on a quiet day by the pool followed by an afternoon nap.

We didn't discuss Casey's impending date. She'd made clear her desire for some space, and I had the vague sense that she didn't want to give me an easy opening to pull the plug. So we playacted, pretending that the huge elephant stomping and snorting beside us wasn't there.

I couldn't keep my mind from racing, though. In normal circumstances, I think about my wife sexually a few times a day. Just the normal attraction I imagine most men feel for their spouses. Like if she pops out of the shower naked or if she's prancing around in yoga pants. But as we lounged around, the hours ticking down to Casey's overnight with Frank, those thoughts were omnipresent.

When I looked into her eyes, I imagined them locked on Frank's as she sucked his fat tool, and then rolling back into her head as he rammed his cock deep inside her. Her bare shoulders triggered the vision of his powerful hands pushing her down to her knees. I pictured her breasts, bare, mottled from rough handling, jiggling wildly as she rode him. Her abs rippling as she climaxed. Her thighs pressed to her chest. Her ankles over his shoulders.

But mostly I thought about her pussy, wet, hot, and stretched by his prick. And her ass... cheeks spread wide... his bulbous head forcing its way into her anus... her whines and whimpers turning to sighs and moans becoming, ultimately, cries of passion as she came with his dick buried in her ass.

I wondered if she was having the same thoughts, the same visions. And what else besides?

She ate lightly and didn't drink anything other than water and lemonade. We took long, chaste naps, and she ducked out quickly for some additional makeup. By late afternoon, she was in full date-prep mode. She showered, shaved, did her nails, applied and then touched up her makeup, and obsessed about which dress to wear before finally settling on a simple, flowered sundress. The result was surprisingly demure. She was sexy, but in that girl-next-door way.

I watched all of this with curiosity. Surely she knew little of that mattered to Frank. He'd soon have her stripped down, her mascara running, her lipstick smudged, her hair wound around his fist. Was she doing it just to give him a moment of pleasure before he debauched her? Was she merely doing it to tease me? But then it occurred to me that she was doing it to psyche herself up to go through with whatever deep, dark fantasy she was too anxious to share or to submit to whatever depraved intentions he may have. She was preparing for war, and her makeup and clothes were her armor.

As the time approached for her to leave, she paced anxiously. I finally took her aside. Standing before her, her hands in mine, I kissed her forehead.

“You’re beautiful and sexy,” I said. “I want you to have a great time. Don’t worry about me. Don’t think about me. Just, go with it. Wherever you want it to go. No matter what, I want you to tell me everything after. And no matter what, I’ll always love you.”

She gave me a crooked smile and fanned the tears from her eyes. “You’re making me cry.”

I laughed and gave her ass a playful swat. “Show him what a nasty, dirty slut you really are.”

She shook her head and chuckled. “I am married to a crazy person.”

Her phone buzzed. She checked it. “Uber’s here.,” she said.

“Then you better go.”

I found out, that night, the exquisite torture that it is when your wife is out on a date with another man.

Watching Casey and Frank had been exciting, and yet also awkward and constraining. I don’t think my dick was ever quite flaccid during our time with him, but nor had I been tempted to take it out and wank it as I watched them. Maybe I didn’t want to invite the comparison to his cock. Maybe it just seemed too weird, too desperate, too pathetic to jerk off as another man wrecked my wife’s pussy.

But being alone with my thoughts and the knowledge that she was with him had me in a state of extreme arousal.

My first shock came when I went to the bathroom after she'd left. The trash can was neatly stacked... too neatly. It invited an investigation. And when I dug down below the top layer I found what she'd been trying to hide: an enema kit.

Before I knew it, I was beating my meat like it owed me money while visualizing Frank sodomizing my wife's virgin asshole. I wondered if he'd made her beg for it. Down on her knees, slobbering over his big cock, recounting how she'd prepared herself for him, submissively presenting her ass, gasping as he violated her anally. That was my first orgasm of the evening.

It was far from my last. The time passed slowly. Even as I sat at the bar eating a chicken pasta dish, drinking a glass of wine, and watching a basketball game on TV, my mind inevitably speculated on what they might be doing now.

I imagined Casey again on her knees, sucking that big cock, come leaking from her ass. I thought of Frank, knowing she'd do just about anything he asked, enjoying her mouth and plotting what he'd do next. Another round of anal? Pound her pussy? Come down her throat?

My cock ached and I adjusted myself to hide my erection. I finished my meal, and taking advantage of a moment of reduced arousal, hied back to my room. I soon had my prick out, stroking it vigorously, replaying in my mind the sounds of my wife getting fucked raw, knowing that in my absence, she was probably even louder, more raunchy than before.

I flipped on the TV. Watched some porn on my phone. Played dozens of rounds of Angry Birds. And jerked off.

Each climax took the edge off for a moment. But it didn't last long. We hadn't gotten into details about what "spending the night" with Frank meant. Would she be back around midnight? Later? Would I not see her until morning? I didn't know. But I did know that as long as she was with him, she likely had his dick inside her, making her scream in passion, using her body for his pleasure.

Between bouts of arousal and masturbation, I caught a few moments of fitful sleep. But it wasn't enough. By the time the horizon began to brighten with the imminent sunrise, I was worn out: exhausted, headachy, my cock raw, and my orgasms producing barely a hint of come.

And then, finally, I heard the door to our hotel room whine as her keycard unlocked it. I sat up in bed, aware suddenly and embarrassed by the hotel towels balled up beside me, evidence of my self-love. But I didn't have time to clean up. Casey was back.

She too looked tired, dark circles beneath her eyes, and she moved gingerly. But she also exuded a palpable confidence. She reminded me of an athlete after a tough game. Sweaty and run-down, but also self-assured and vigorous.

"Hey," she said as she sat down on the bed.

I caressed her cheek and replied, "Hey."

She placed her hand over mine. "You look like you had a long night," she said.

"You do too."

She chuckled.

"Do you need a nap?" I asked.

"Yes... but later. First, I need to tell you... everything."

"Yeah?"

She nodded and stood. She pulled off her dress. She was naked beneath, her bra and panties apparently claimed by Frank as a trophy. He'd again handled her roughly. Her skin was blotchy, small bruises on her breasts, hips, and ass. She climbed beneath the covers beside me and pawed at my boxers.

I did.

We cuddled, face-to-face. I kissed her soft lips.

“Tell me first... was it good? Did you have fun?”

“Yes.” She paused for a moment and then added. “Yes. A lot. There were a lot of things that... that I didn’t know I’d like. That I now wonder why I didn’t before.”

“That you might want to do again?”

“Yes,” she admitted.

“Like anal?”

“Yes. That was one thing I knew I wanted to try.”

“I know. How was it?”

“Intense. A little scary.”

“Painful?”

She nodded. “A little. He... took it easy on me at first. Let me get used to it. I liked it. Liked the feeling of being really full, really stretched. But, a lot of it was also how it made me feel up here,” she said, tapping her temple. “It made me feel very sexual. Very slutty. At one point, I had this out-of-body moment when I was, sorta, watching him do it to me. Seeing his big cock slide into my butt. Hearing my own sounds. Before I knew it, I was rubbing my clit, coming with him deep in my ass. And that made me feel even more carnal, lewd.”

“That’s hot.”

She nodded. “It was.”

“I—”

She placed her hand on my chest. “Wait. I’ll answer all your questions, but first... first I have to get something off my chest.”

“Erm, okay.”

She took a deep breath. “I don’t know how you’re going to react to this.”

I chuckled. “I’m pretty sure I’ve already imagined everything Frank might have done to you.”

“It... it wasn’t just Frank.”

Duh, I thought to myself. She was there as well. Then I caught her meaning. “Oh.”

“I didn’t know, Gar. I swear.” She took another breath. “But I didn’t object either. And, I liked it.”

“Wow, a threesome. That’s... hot.”

She winced. “It wasn’t just a threesome.” Yet another deep breath. “Gary, I had sex with five men last night.”

My heart raced. “Okay, back up. Tell me what happened.”

“At first, it was just him and me. He was his usual dominant and aggressive self. He stripped me naked and got me on my knees. He said he knew I wanted to lose my anal virginity, and when I admitted he was right, he ordered me to get his dick hard and wet.

“Then he dragged me into his bedroom and threw me on the bed. Face down on his mattress, he made me spread myself open for him, and he began pressing his lubed up finger in my butt. He told me to relax, and then he put it in. It took my breath away. I thought I might split in half. I gasped into the pillow. He stroked my back and called me a ‘good girl.’ My stomach did a flip.

“He began thrusting in deeper, still slow, controlled, but persistent. He paused each time he was inside me, and I almost caught my breath, but not quite. I was lightheaded. He moaned in pleasure, telling me how tight I was, how sexy I looked taking his dick in my ass.

“He began thrusting harder, faster. It hurt more, but his excitement was a huge turn on. It almost felt like he was getting bigger, thicker. And then suddenly, I felt him pulsing inside me, filling my ass with his come.”

As Casey recounted the experience, she had a glazed look in her eyes, like she was as much back in his bed as she was with me. It gave me a twinge as I realized that whatever happened from here on out, Frank would always, somehow be a part of her life and ours. He had taken her anal virginity and opened her sexuality.

“Gar, are you still okay? This is only going to get more intense.”

I grabbed her hand and placed it on my erection. “What do you think?”

She chuckled. “That you’re a pervert.”

“And you’re a slut.”

“You have no idea.”

“So tell me.”

She stroked my cock. I gasped. It felt so good, but I was also tender from my self-exertions.

“He carried me into the shower. We soaped each other up, and he began playing with me. Sliding a finger deep in my pussy, rubbing my clit, sucking on my tits. My ass was still throbbing, and it all came together, and before I knew it, I was dizzy, coming so hard that my knees buckled.” She chuckled. “Which was fine with him because it meant I was in the right place to suck on his cock. After I got him hard again, he yanked me to my feet and pressed my face against the tile. I thought he might go back into my butt, but instead he took my pussy this time. God, he fucks so hard.”

“And you love it.”

“I do, Gar. I do. It’s overwhelming, and all I can do is take it. But surrendering like that feels very sexy. I can’t explain it.”

“You have a submissive streak.”

“Just a streak?” She chuckled. “When he was close, he got me back on my knees so he could finish in my mouth.”

“You’re starting to like that.”

She shook her head. “It’s complicated. I don’t know that I like it, but I like the way it makes me feel, and I like how much it turns men on.”

“Men?”

“I’m getting to that. But yes. All the men last night finished in my mouth at least once.” She paused. “I... I know this isn’t fair... but I’m not ready to do that with you.”

“That’s not even a little fair,” I replied. “But it’s also your choice. And... things are not always fair.”

She nodded.

“We took a little break after that. He offered me some wine. He had a beer. We munched on chips and salsa. Then he sodomized me again. On the kitchen table. He said he wanted to watch my face when he put it in. I took it a little easier this time, at least at first. But then he started fucking me hard. I couldn’t see straight. It was just so intense. Scary too. But so exciting as well. Maybe too exciting. I didn’t even notice his friends walk in, not until they started laughing and cheering after he finished in my ass.”

I battled competing emotions. On one hand, the whole scene, my wife being railed up the ass by her powerful lover and observed by other men was arousing. On the other hand, she must have felt horribly vulnerable and violated by their presence.

“Were you scared?” I asked.

“I... I was not thinking straight, you know. Massive cock in my ass and all that. And I wasn’t sure if they were just an audience or what. Frank does have the exhibitionist thing going on. So, mostly, I was catching my breath, confused, focused on his come leaking out of me. And then one of the guys – Danny – was all excited. ‘That’s the bitch from BJs.’ And Frank was, like, ‘told you’ and then he added, ‘freshly minted three input slut. So who’s next?’ And that’s when I realized they planned to gangbang me.”

She said it matter-of-factly, as if she’d been announcing a plan to see a movie or something.

“Case? Are you okay? That’s pretty intense.”

She nodded. “I wasn’t thinking straight,” she repeated. “Or thinking at all.” She chuckled. “I guess there is something to that whole getting-your-brains-fucked-out notion. I don’t think I processed all of it before I had another cock... and then two inside me.”

“At the same time?”

She nodded. “Three even. God that was intense.”

“And you liked it?”

“I know it seems hard to understand. If you’d told me last week that in less than a week, I’d be enjoying a gangbang, I’d have thought you were crazy. And maybe I’m the crazy one now. But... I’ve considered myself cute... sometimes sexy on a good day. But I’ve never felt I could drive a man... or men... crazy with lust. But Frank couldn’t get enough of me. Danny couldn’t. Steve and Mick. Hard cocks all around me, thrusting inside me, coming in all of my holes. It made me feel irresistible, even apart from the fact that I came more times than I could count.”

I shook my head in disbelief. “You’re amazing.”

She laughed. “That’s one word for it, I guess. I don’t know what to think about it. Not yet. I’m still making sense of it. It all seems almost like a dream or something. Did I really do all of that?”

“Having witnessed the first couple of days, I can assure you, upi absolutely did.”

“You know I don’t.” I smiled. “You surprised me, you know? And I like that. It gives me this reassuring sensation that we still have a lot of living and adventures ahead of us.”

Casey had released my cock by this point, and we were just talking. Her time with Frank and her gangbang had given us a lot of fodder to explore about sex, love, lust, and the future. She wanted details on what I’d fantasized about her, that evening and over the previous few years. And she filled me in on the hot and sometimes silly details of her adventurous night, errant come shots and ball-on-ball contact.

We talked for hours, our voices becoming hoarse, and our eyelids heavy. We dozed off face-to-face, holding hands, and were only roused by the front desk calling to remind us we’d missed checkout time.

We hustled to shower, pack up our clothes and made it to the airport on time for our flight home. Sitting in the main cabin, both of us yawning, Casey leaned over to me.

“I forgot to tell you about Brett.”

“Oh?”

“After the group stuff, he showed up. It was like four in the morning, and I was sore and exhausted. But he was intriguing. Really tall, heavy beard, a real lumberjack type... and he had a bike. He took me out for a ride on humid, misty backroads. It was thrilling. And that was even before he unzipped his jeans and had me sit on his dick as we cruised across the Key.”

I shook my head and chuckled. “I don’t know if I’m going to be able to keep you satisfied.”

She leaned in and kissed my cheek. “Luckily, you don’t have to do it alone.”

Epilogue

I had been a little worried that what happened in Key Largo would not remain in Key Largo, that before I knew it, Casey would be fucking her way through our social network. Happily, that was not the case. Even more happily, the memories of that week and additional details she recalled spiced up our love life. She was more adventurous, sexier, more playful in bed. We experimented with light bondage, and much to my delight, Casey decided that anal sex and oral comeshots would be part of our repertoire. She also kept herself deliciously shaved bare.

For me, those subtle changes were constant, sexy, reminders of that vacation week. I often found myself reliving moments and enjoying the surge of excitement they caused. It was an injection of new-relationship energy into our marriage.

But we didn't just live in the past. Casey also allowed her fantasies to continue to evolve. She communicated periodically with both Frank and his biker friend, Brett. And they made plans... nasty, slutty, plans. Those are just talk for now. But who knows what will happen next time we decide on a kid-free vacation? I know Casey has some very intriguing ideas.
