Hired Help

Steven never imagined that his momentary lapse with a beautiful stripper while on a stag weekend in Prague would completely change the sexual landscape of his marriage...

Since Steven and Alicia often discuss what they'd done with previous partners as a way ramping up their foreplay, Steven's certain that Alicia won't hold his erotic tryst against him. After all, the stripper was nothing more than hired help, like a cleaner or a gardener. However, his attempts to kickstart their sex life by sharing the details of his adventure with Saskia don't quite go to plan.

After an initial outburst he hadn't expected, Alicia treats him to a night of passion reminiscent of the exhilarating early days of their relationship. The spark has been truly rekindled. Until Alicia one-ups him with a long, sexy night with a hunky gigolo.

Though the inequality of her retaliation leaves Steven reeling, he's knocked sideways by a difficult truth — the idea of his stunning wife in the arms of another man is far more appealing than he's imagined. In fact, he can't believe how much he fantasises about sharing her.

While Steve seeks out further thrills in the friendly arms of local sex worker Jo-Jo, who's happy to tell him stories about all the other men she's been with, Alicia wonders how she can replicate the dirty thrill he gets from his hired helpers. What do they have that she doesn't?

Maybe if she could learn to scratch his itch, their burning desire could become even hotter...

Chapter 1

Steven returned from the bar in the airport departure lounge with six bottles of Budvar, handing one to each of the other five men.

“Cheers, Stevie.” Ewan, the groom-to-be, held up his bottle. “Cracking weekend, boys. Top banana. Thanks for coming.”

“That’s what Saskia said.” Oggie’s retort brought a chorus of sniggers from the others.

“And remember,” Ewan said, putting on the expression he probably used when reprimanding kids at school, “what goes on tour, stays on tour.”

Steven caught Tom looking his way.

As the group wandered towards a table, Tom moved closer. “I think the first thing you need to do when you’re home is get an STD test,” he whispered.

Steven laughed. “Don’t worry, I used a johnny.”

Tom tipped the neck of his bottle towards Oggie. “He didn’t wear a condom.”

“He didn’t fuck her. He just went in her mouth.”

“I heard she sucked you, too.”

Steven grinned. “Yeah, what a fucking dirty—”

“Were you wearing a rubber when she did that?”

“No, but...” He frowned. “Why?”

“You can catch most STDs from saliva, mate. Hepatitis can be transferred that way.”

“I’m sure it’s all fine,” Steven said with a dismissive smile. “She looked pretty healthy to me.” That was an understatement. She’d looked absolutely stunning. Straight blonde hair with a long fringe, high cheekbones and gorgeous hazel eyes. And what a body!

“You should still get a test. And wait for the results before you touch Alicia.”

Steven scoffed, wondering why his pal was scaremongering. Maybe he regretted not paying a little extra and getting a private dance for himself.

“Oggie was in her mouth for a lot longer. Does he look worried?”

“Oggie’s not got a wife and kids.”

“Get off your fuckin’ high horse. It was just a bit of fun.” Actually, he and Alicia had been using condoms since she’d come off the pill after Isla was born, but he saw no reason why his friend needed that information. “Trust me, Alicia won’t mind.”

“You’re going to tell her?” Tom looked incredulous.

“Yeah, course. It’s hardly like I had a love affair, is it? I fucked a stripper. I don’t think that’s any worse than having a wank, which is probably what you did when you sneaked back to the apartment early.”

Tom shook his head. “It’s your wife and your life, mate. What do I know?”

Steven nodded his agreement. “So, are you going to tell Maddison?”

“I’ll tell her that I’ve drank more in the last three days than I have in the previous three months. And that I went to a couple of strip clubs and saw some very sexy women taking their clothes off. I’ll also admit to watching a live sex show on stage. As for what the others in the group did, I’m taking Ewan’s advice. That stuff stays on tour.”

Steven nodded. “Cheers. But Alicia will be fine about it.”

Tom took a pull from his beer. “Well, if she’s fine about it and wants to tell Maddie, that’s up to her. But I don’t think it’s my place to tell my wife that her best friend’s husband’s been dangling his cock in some Czech lovely.”

“There was no fucking dangle. That was my hardest boner since I discovered PornHub as a teenager.”

Tom laughed and shook his head.

Their flight was announced, advising of the gate number. While the lads finished their drinks, Tom headed to the duty-free shops. He caught up with them as they queued at the boarding gate.

Ewan whooped when he saw Tom’s carrier bag. “Yay, Tommy’s bought us a bottle for the flight.”

“Sorry lads, you’ll have to buy your own booze from the trolley dolly.” He lifted a couple of toys from the bag. “I’ve bought things for the kids, and some perfume for the missus.”

Steven shook his head. “What’ve you done that for? We’ve only been here two nights.”

“I’ve spent the best part of eight-hundred quid on this weekend, and Maddie’s not whinged about it once. She’s been stuck at home with two kids under five while I’ve been having a ball. A bottle of smellies is the least she deserves.” He shrugged. “Besides, whenever I spend the night away from home with work, I always buy the kids something.”

The queue started moving, and Steven took his boarding pass and passport from his pocket. “You’re making me look like a right twat.”

Tom smirked. “What you did with Saskia’s already done that. Not buying Alicia perfume will be the least of your worries if you give her the clap.”

“Piss off.”

Tom chuckled, holding up his passport for the steward to inspect.

* * * *

Steven dozed for most of the flight back to Leeds, the late nights and over-indulgence finally catching up with him. While trudging through passport control, he was relieved to hear that Oggie had driven to the airport on Friday and was offering lifts home. His own blood alcohol level would probably remain over the legal limit for the rest of the week.

Having waved Oggie off outside his home, Steven saw the curtain move as he made his way up the drive. He heard his daughter’s squeal through the open window. The front door flew open before he’d even reached for his keys. Four-year-old Isla ran out to greet him.

Steven bent to pick her up and she flung her arms around his neck, shouting ‘Daddy’s home’ far too loud and too many times for his liking. As he stepped through the front door with his daughter in his arms, Alicia came out of the kitchen.

“Oh dear,” she said, laughing. “I hope you don’t feel as ill as you look.”

He shook his head, kissed Isla before putting her down, then smiled at his son’s shy face as he peered from behind his mum’s legs. “Hi Brad.”

The toddler grinned but seemed reluctant to let go of his mother.

“Fancy a coffee?” Alicia asked.

“That’d be great, thanks.” He dropped his bag under the stairs and followed her into the kitchen, wishing he’d done the same as Tom and bought some gifts.

Alicia opened the French doors and suggested the kids have a play in the garden while Daddy rested his headache.

He smiled at her, then shook his head. "I think it's the lack of sleep rather than a hangover."

"Have you eaten?"

"We had a huge breakfast just before we got the taxi to the airport." He frowned. "I may need to go to the loo before I can eat anything else."

Alicia grimaced. "Way too much information. I'll need to bathe the kids later, so don't you dare use the family bathroom."

Steven smiled his thanks as she placed a mug of coffee on the table. "So, how's your weekend been?"

"It's been fine. Maddie came round with her two yesterday, and we went to Mum and Dad's earlier today. Mum cooked us lunch." She sat down opposite him. "How was Prague?"

"It was amazing. Lots of drinking, lots of women taking their clothes off, and lots of hangovers."

"What was it like sharing an apartment with five other men?"

He closed his eyes. "Bloody crowded. Three twin rooms, but only one bathroom. Ewan came in for a crap while I was in the shower!"

"Okay, don't tell me anymore." She chuckled. "Was Ewan alright? You didn't shave his eyebrows or get him tattooed, did you?"

He laughed. "No, there was no groom-baiting."

"I'm glad to hear it."

Just then a cry was heard from outside, and Isla rushed to the open French doors. "Bradley's fallen off the slide."

Alicia started to get up, but Steven shook his head.

"I'll go. You finish your coffee."

By the time he got outside, Brad had dusted himself down and climbed back up the three small steps to the top again. Steven enjoyed the warmth of the sun and the clear afternoon air. He hadn't spent much time outside over the last 72 hours.

* * * *

Alicia drank her coffee, watching Steve with the kids. Trying to entertain two screaming and excited toddlers was probably the last thing he needed if he was suffering from a hangover, but she was grateful for the peace and quiet. She'd had Bradley in her bed for most of Friday night, and then Isla had joined her last night after a nightmare about spiders.

Coffee finished, she rinsed their mugs and went through to pick up the toys scattered all over the living room. After dumping them in the basket behind the sofa, she headed upstairs to make the beds. By the time she got back downstairs, Steve and the kids were in the kitchen. Isla was showing him the drawings she'd done, and Bradley was asking for a biscuit.

"No biscuits till after dinner, young man," she said. "If you eat all your Bolognese, you can have a biscuit then. Okay?"

Bradley's bottom lip came out and he gave a solemn nod.

"Steve, why do you smell like an ashtray?"

"Me and Tom got a lift with Oggie, who smoked all the way back from Leeds airport."

She hadn't a clue who he was talking about. "A lift with who?"

"James Ogilvie."

"Ah, right. Well, I suggest you go and have a shower. Leave all your clothes on the landing and I'll put them straight in the washer."

"Right, cheers." He kissed Isla's head. "They're great, darling. Maybe after dinner we can choose a couple to stick on the fridge?"

Isla smiled happily and started sorting through her felt-pen works of art. Alicia put water on for the spaghetti and placed the Bolognese in a saucepan over a low heat. When she heard the shower running, she went upstairs for Steve's clothes. She'd been right—they all stank of stale beer. And perfume!

Alicia gathered everything up, carefully avoiding direct contact with any of his boxers. She hated to think what state they'd be in if he'd spent hours ogling strippers.

By the time Steve returned to the kitchen in t-shirt and football shorts, the kids had finished their spaghetti and were eating yoghurts.

"Feeling more human?" she asked.

"Much. I was really tired and bloated." He grinned. "We'll probably need a Geiger counter to see when we can go back into the downstairs loo, though."

“Charming.” She stroked his arm. “You’re no longer on the stag weekend, so feel free to stop discussing your bowel movements.”

He nodded like a reprimanded child, then Isla held up the pictures she’d chosen to be displayed the fridge.

Steve frowned. “I thought we’d agreed on putting two of them on.”

“I like all of these,” she explained.

“Me too, but the fridge isn’t really big enough for those six.”

She looked down at her drawings, frowning in concentration, then back up at her dad. She gave a smile, revealing the gap where her front teeth used to be.

“Tell you what,” he said. “How about you choose three that I can put on my wall at work? Then we can stick the other three on the fridge.”

Placated, Isla divided the drawings into two piles and went to see which of Bradley’s pictures she could remove from the fridge to make room for her latest masterpieces.

“Right guys,” Alicia said. “You can go and play in the garden for another twenty minutes and then it’ll be time for your bath.”

Once the kids were back outside, she moved closer to her husband and rubbed his arm. “You’re still looking a bit peaky. Maybe you’re too old to be hanging around with the younger crowd.” She knew the other men in his football team referred to him as Pirlo because he was the oldest player.

He scowled. “Every time they went to the bar they came back with all sorts of stuff—spritizers, blitzers, shitzers or whatever. Tasted like dog piss and diesel.”

She giggled. “Not like in your day, eh Grandad?”

“Ha ha.” He looked at the cooker. “Have you eaten yet?”

“My mum made a huge lunch so I’m not really hungry, but I’ll make you something if you like?”

He shook his head. “No, I might just have a slice of toast.”

“Okay. You do that, and I’ll go and run a bath for that pair.”

“No, it’s okay. I’ll do them after my toast, you take a rest.”

She smiled brightly. “Thanks. In that case, I’ll go and catch up with Masterchef.”

Steve bathed the kids and got them into their jammies, then an hour later he took them up to bed and read them a story. By the time he’d collapsed back onto the sofa, it was eight-thirty.

Alicia looked at the dark rings under his eyes. "I'm guessing you don't want to watch anything on telly."

He shook his head. "No, I'm knackered."

"I think you'd better have an early night."

He looked up hopefully. "Want to join me?"

"What, and let you use me to work off all that pent up frustration from the strippers?"

He laughed as he got to his feet once again.

After nibbling on snacks through a gripping quarter-final episode, Alicia moved Steve's clothes from the washing machine to the tumble dryer, turned everything off and went upstairs. Having brushed her teeth, she pulled back the quilt and saw her sleeping husband's full erection pressing flat against his belly. He was no doubt dreaming about all the young flesh he'd feasted his eyes on over the past couple of nights.

She got into bed and turned the lamp off.

* * * *

Steven woke early on Monday morning and climbed out of bed without disturbing his wife. By the time he'd showered and shaved, everyone else was awake.

"Morning," Alicia said with a smile. "Feeling back to normal yet?"

"Yeah." When Isla raised her arms, he picked her up. "Do you want some breakfast?"

She smiled and nodded.

"Come on, let's see what we can find in the cupboard." He glanced at the bed, where his son was hiding under the quilt. "I don't know where Brad is, so you can have sweets instead of cereal."

Brad jumped out from beneath the quilt, screaming at the top of his lungs. "Sweeties!"

Steven laughed. "That was just a ruse to bring you out of hiding."

"You can't do that," Alicia said, getting out of bed.

Steven's gaze instinctively slid over her long legs.

She caught him looking and smiled. "You're going to have to give him some sweets, now."

"Okay. Do you want a coffee in bed?"

“That would be lovely.” She got back beneath the quilt and propped up her pillow as a backrest. “And maybe a couple of slices of toast, thanks.”

He put two bowls in front of each child, filling one with cereal and the other with a modest number of sweeties. By the time he’d served his wife breakfast in bed, both kids had eaten all their sweets and were now too full for cereal. Cursing his own schoolboy error, Steven herded them upstairs and helped Isla into her school uniform while Alicia dressed Brad.

He checked his watch. “Will you be okay from here? I need to be getting off.”

“Yeah, no problem. See you later.” She kissed his cheek, then turned to the kids. “Say bye to Daddy, you two.”

Isla ran downstairs ahead of him and found the three drawings for him to put up on his office wall at work. He gave her a kiss at the door and left.

Fifteen minutes later, he pulled into the site where he worked. A couple of the guys who worked in the yard waved as he made his way toward the main building. To get to the buying office, he had to walk past the trade counter where Maria and Stan were chatting.

“Morning,” he said brightly.

“Well, you look a lot better than James does,” Maria said.

Steven laughed. “Of course I do. I put it down to good genes and the fact he’s half pit bull.”

“He’s also got eyes like slits. Did you go out with him again last night?”

“God, no. I won’t need another drink until November.”

Just then, Oggie stopped his forklift outside the door and then strode inside wearing his trademark beanie and grin. “Stevie D! How’s the hangover?”

“Better than yours by the look of it. Did you go out again last night?”

“Course I did. So did Ewan, Dazza and Rush.” He glanced at Maria and Stan. “It’s only the old guys who can’t keep up.”

“Yeah, well,” said Maria with a laugh. “He looks a lot more human than you do this morning.”

While they gossiped, Steven walked into the office he shared with two other men. He pinned Isla’s drawings on the wall behind his desk, fired up his computer, and then retreated to the toilet to look up the closest sexual health clinic on his phone. Tom's words of warning had been rattling around his head for most of the previous evening. He booked himself an online appointment for later that afternoon, updated his calendar to show a fake dentist's appointment, and from that point, the rest of the morning passed like any other Monday's. He chatted to all the lads from the builders' yard at the snack van, with Oggie telling everyone the lowlights of their stag weekend. Thankfully, he didn't mention the part where the two of them had spit-roasted one of the strippers after a private dance.

His clinic appointment was straightforward. The nurse told him to phone for his results on Wednesday afternoon but advised him to get tested again in a couple of weeks because some STI's wouldn't show up so soon after exposure.

When he got home that night, Alicia reminded him she was meeting up with a few of the mums from Isla's class, including Tom's wife Maddie. Steven bathed the kids and got them to bed, then spent the evening watching TV.

He had decided to keep what had happened in Prague from Alicia until they were getting intimate. She was sure to want lots of details, and hopefully they'd be able to use his adventure to rekindle the spark. Their sex-life had always been good, though since having kids things had waned a little—which he knew was perfectly normal.

He woke when he felt cold feet touching his own. As she spooned him from behind, his cock rose immediately.

“Are you going to demand my body?” he asked hopefully.

She giggled and stroked his back. “Not tonight, babe. You'll have to save it up for a bit longer.”

Chapter 2

On Tuesday night after Steve had left for football practice, Alicia got the kids bathed and settled before watching another episode of Masterchef. The couple of glasses of wine she'd had the previous night had been enough to give her a hangover. Mother and Toddler group had been torture this morning, but she was feeling better now.

Maybe she'd see if Steve had enough energy left after training to work off his frustrations from Prague. Maddie had confided that Tom had jumped her as soon as their kids were asleep on Sunday night.

It was after nine by the time Steve arrived home, freshly showered but still a bit pink after his five-a-side, or whatever he did at training.

"How was football?" she asked when he dropped into the armchair.

"Hard work, but good."

"Are the others recovered from the stag weekend?"

"They don't realise it's over and have kept drinking."

Alicia smirked. "Well, they're younger than you are, Pirlo."

He laughed and nodded toward the glass in her hand. "What's in there?"

"The Chilean pinot. After last night, I realised I need to build up my tolerance. I only had two glasses and I would have been anybody's."

"Ooh, that sounds sexy."

She smiled at him, holding his gaze for a second. "Want to get yourself a drink and tell me about Prague?"

He returned from the kitchen with a bottle of beer, sitting next to her on the sofa instead of returning to the armchair. "Which sights are you most interested in?" he whispered.

"Start off with the apartment. Whereabouts was it?"

"In Wenceslas Square, near the Old Town. Pretty central."

"And what's the city like?"

He laughed. "I didn't see a lot, but what I did see on the way to various bars was fabulous. There's a castle and a wide river. We walked over Charles Bridge, which was full of artists and buskers. It'd be a nice place for us to go."

Alicia smiled, wondering if going there with his family would seem dull in comparison. "So it's not just strip clubs?"

He laughed and shook his head. "No, definitely not. Amazing architecture and loads of history."

"And what about the women?"

"Probably not your type."

She slapped his arm. "Come on, I know you must have seen a lot of flesh. Maddie told me Tom wouldn't leave her alone all Sunday night."

"The pervert."

Alicia looked into his eyes. "So, were all the girls young and pretty with firm boobs that don't sag or leak?"

"They weren't that young—probably in their mid-twenties." He shrugged. "But yeah, they were all attractive."

"What did they wear?" She felt silly for asking, but she'd never been to a strip club.

"Sparkly bikinis and stripper heels, mostly. Some had wrap-around skirts with a slit up the front, others had see-through blouses, but most just strutted around in very little."

"I see." She placed a hand on his crotch, which bulged immediately. "And what sort of things did these strippers do while stripping off their clothes?"

Steve took a breath and she could see the need in his eyes. "Different clubs had different set-ups. The first we went to had a long runway down the centre, with bench seats all around the edge of the room. The girls walked down the stage two at a time, did a bit of dancing and bending over, but didn't take anything off."

"And where were you lot? All standing at the stage with your tongues out?"

"No, everyone stayed on the benches. After a while, the girls came down off the stage and worked their way along, sitting in each guy's lap until some money was pushed into the waistband of their thong."

"And did you put some money in?"

"Well, as team captain, I had to lead by example."

"How much does a girl get for crawling on a man's knee?"

“We usually put in two-hundred Koruna.”

“Which is...?”

“About six pound fifty.”

“Six quid for sitting on your knee?”

He nodded, laughing. “And there were about fifty guys in there, so by the time the women got back on stage there was probably a couple of hundred quid tucked into their panties.”

“And what did they do then?”

“Finished their dance, finally taking their bikini tops off during the last few bars of the song.”

Alicia watched his face. “And did it turn you on?”

He took a long pull from his beer. “That place, not particularly.”

“Why not?”

“I don’t know, probably because it was our first night and we were all a bit...” He laughed. “I was going to say ‘reserved’ but that’s not the right word. I guess we were a bit dazzled. Later, two of the girls got a guy up on stage. It was his stag do too, and they stripped him off, got him to rub baby oil all over their boobs, then danced with him, rubbing their bodies against his.”

“God, that must have been embarrassing for him.”

“I’m not so sure, he got a hard-on.”

“On stage?” Alicia cringed. “What did the strippers do?”

“They laughed and kept dancing.”

“They didn’t touch it?”

He shook his head. “No, and they left as soon as the music stopped. The guy got dressed and tucked it away.”

“God.” She shook her head. “So did Ewan go up on stage?”

“No.” He drained his beer. “Then we went to another club where there was pole dancing.”

Alicia drained her glass and licked her lips. “Shall we take this conversation to the bedroom?”

He grinned and practically jogged upstairs.

By the time she’d checked the kids and turned off the landing light, Steve was in bed. She saw the tenting of the quilt. “Is there any point in telling you not to think about those strippers while you’re with me?”

“Probably not.”

She slid into bed next to him and reached down, wrapping her fingers around his erection. “And what is this?”

His eyes fluttered as she slowly pumped her hand up and down. He reached over and opened the top drawer of his bedside cabinet.

She leaned close and nibbled his earlobe. “I’m right at the end of my cycle,” she whispered. “There’s no need to—”

“No, I’ll use one.” He ripped the foil with his teeth and rolled the condom down his shaft.

Alicia frowned. This was the first time in their eight-year relationship that he’d not taken up the offer of skin-on-skin sex.

He must have seen her surprise. “If I wear this, I may last long enough to get all the way in.”

“Well in that case,” she said, throwing her leg over him, “I’d better get on top to make sure I get my fun sooner rather than later.” Sometimes she struggled to climax with him on top.

“Fine by me.”

Steve held his cock upright as she manoeuvred herself into position. She lowered herself onto him and he sighed, digging his fingers into her hips as she slowly rocked forward and back.

She pressed his chest. “Wait, slow down. Let me...” Rising up and moving forward slightly, she shifted her clit over his pubic bone. Then she began to rock her hips, grinding deliciously against—

“Oh, that’s nice.” His eyes were closed, his jaw clenched.

“Don’t you dare come yet.” She rocked faster but could tell from his expression that he was already close.

He pushed his groin up and opened his mouth.

“Steve, just stay still. I’m almost—”

With a grunt he bucked beneath her. She brought her hand down to her crotch and rubbed her clit frantically, finally getting over the hurdle before he’d finished twitching.

She lay down on his chest, catching her breath. “Better now?”

He smiled and slipped his arms around her waist, his hands stroking her bum. “I’m sorry if it was a bit brief.”

“It was, but I got myself over the line. I suppose it’s understandable after a weekend of having hot young bodies draped all over you.”

A flash of surprise crossed his face, but then he laughed. “They were no better than the hot, older body I’ve got draped all over me now.”

“Yeah, right.” Alicia reached down and held the condom onto his cock as she raised herself off him. “And how many of the strippers had Caesarean scars over their pubic hair?”

“Most of them didn’t have any pubic hair at all. And the ones who did only had a narrow landing strip.”

Alicia blinked. “I thought they only took their tops off?”

“That’s all that happened in the first club.” He sat up, removed the condom and tied a knot in the open end. “At the second club, the girls stripped down to nothing.”

“And did they crawl over your laps asking for money, too?”

“No, but one of them walked to the edge of the stage and stood with her legs splayed. A guy held up a 1000 Koruna note, and she used her twat to take it from his hand.”

“Eww, gross.”

He laughed. “I assume the paper stuck in her juices.”

Alicia grimaced. “How much is a thousand?”

“About thirty-three quid.”

“Oh well, that’s probably worth it, then.”

Steve laughed, then bobbed his eyebrows. “Wait till you hear about the club we went to on Saturday night.”

“Was that worse?”

“You might think so, but we all thought it was better.” He gave a lewd grin. “Much better.”

“I’m not sure I want to—”

“There was a live sex show.”

“Really?” Alicia thought about it. Do I actually want to know? In the end, her curiosity outweighed everything else. “And what exactly did that entail?”

“The couple on stage did a bit of play-acting as a guy narrated a story over the PA system.”

“Sounds cheesy.”

“It was quite funny. Basically, the man was trying to charm the girl, who pretended she wasn’t interested. The guy telling the tale had some funny lines for the crowd, but once the couple started touching each other, the laughing stopped.”

“Were they good-looking?”

He nodded. “She was a very sexy brunette with a great figure. He was a gym-rat covered in tattoos.”

“And what did they do?”

“What you’d expect. They stripped, she dropped to her knees and sucked him until he was hard, then they had sex. Started off with her sitting on a table and him standing between her legs. Then they both stood, with her bent over the table. It finished with her on all fours facing the crowd while he fucked her doggy-style. The crowd cheered when he came over her back.”

“Charming.” Although trying not to show it, she was actually fascinated. The idea of watching titillated her. “And did the men in the crowd stick money to the wet patches on her back, too?”

“No, because that would be gross.”

Alicia rolled off him and laid on her own side of the bed. “And was it sexy, watching them have sex?”

Steve bit his lower lip, then nodded. “Yes.” He reached up and stroked her breast. “In fact, after the couple left the stage, the strippers came back on and everyone seemed to be a bit more buzzed, somehow.”

“And did these ones take off just their tops, or bottoms as well?”

“Everything. They also offered private dances.”

“Private dances?”

He nodded. “They had small cubicles at the side of the club. There was a red curtain for a door, and a chair in the middle.”

“And you know this how?”

He licked his lips and leaned closer, his hand still stroking her boob. “I might have had a couple of private dances...”

“Oh, did you?” She couldn’t help smiling at the thought of her husband gawping at a hottie. “And what exactly did a private dance involve?”

“I was told to sit on the chair, and the girl danced in front of me for two songs. During the first song she stripped off her top and thong, and during the second she gave me a lap dance.”

“Lap dance?”

“What parts did she rub, exactly?”

He smiled. “All the good bits. She rubbed her boobs across my face and ground her fanny on my thigh.”

“Naked?”

He nodded.

“Did you suck her nipples?”

He laughed and nodded. “It seemed rude not to, because she kept pushing them into my mouth.”

“And what about the thing she was rubbing against your thigh? Did you feel obliged to touch that, too? See if your money would stick?”

“I might have had a little feel.”

Alicia stared at him. “A feel?”

He nodded. “Yeah, but that’s all that happened on the first dance.”

A chill crept into her stomach. Not anger exactly, but she wasn’t happy that her husband had felt the need to grope a younger, firmer body. “So what happened on the second dance?”

As he held her gaze, she got the impression he was debating how much to reveal. She widened her eyes expectantly.

“After the first dance, I went back to the other lads. We watched a few more girls on stage and drank a lot more beer. Me and Oggie went for a piss at the same time, and I told him about my private dance with Saskia.”

“You asked her name?”

“They all introduce themselves. Anyway, as we came back through the crowd, Saskia approached and suggested she dance for both of us.”

“You and Oggie—James?”

He nodded.

“And is that what happened?”

“Yeah. Same deal again, but there was only one chair for the two of us. I sat and Oggie stood next to me. Saskia stripped off while dancing to the first song, then she rubbed herself all over the pair of us for the second. But she was acting dirtier, and I got the feeling she wanted more.”

The coldness spread throughout Alicia’s gut. Her throat constricted. “How was she dirtier?”

“She ground herself against my crotch instead of my thigh. Then she turned around and rubbed herself on the tent in my jeans while holding onto to Oggie’s hips.”

“You were hard?”

He snorted. “Of course I was. So was Oggie—his trousers were bulging. And then...”

Alicia waited, dread seeping through her. She didn’t like the hesitancy that had crept into Steve’s manner. “And then... what?”

“She said that for two thousand Koruna she’d make it a night to remember. Oggie handed over the cash before I could say anything.”

“And what did she do for the money?”

“She sucked my cock for a few seconds, rolled a condom on, then turned around and lowered herself onto me.”

“You went inside her.” It was getting harder to breathe.

He nodded. “Then she leaned forward and Oggie held out his cock for her to suck.”

“You shagged her while she sucked your mate’s dick?” God...

Steve laughed, but Alicia found herself seething as she looked into his eyes. “And did you come while you were inside her?”

“Well, yeah. She was bouncing and wiggling so much that I didn’t last long. Oggie blew his muck down her throat.”

Alicia sat up and pushed his hand off her. “How can you talk like that?”

He looked surprised. “Talk like what?”

“So...” She shook her head, struggling to articulate her feelings. “So matter-of-fact. You go away for a weekend and you act like a...” She closed her eyes and rubbed her forehead.

“It was just a bit of fun. I thought you’d find it amusing.”

“What? Am I supposed to laugh when the father of my children tells me about sex with another woman?”

“It didn’t mean anything. She was just a strip—”

“Stop saying that!” Alicia got out of bed and glared down at him. “Do you think treating a woman like that is justified because she’s a sex worker?”

“What?”

“You two treated her like a piece of meat.”

“Look, she invited us into the cubicle, and she suggested giving us more than a dance.”

“Did you ever stop to wonder why she was doing it?”

“I’m pretty sure the two thousand—”

“Not with you, I mean in general. Why would a girl choose to have sex in a seedy club with two men she’ll never see again?”

“Because it’s easy money,” he said with a smirk.

“Do you know how many girls are forced into sex work against their will?”

His smile finally disappeared. “I don’t think she—”

“Oh really? How do you know? What makes you so sure that she wasn’t abused as a child, taken into care, then sold to sex-traffickers?”

“What?” Steve shook his head. “You’re suggesting that just because a girl chooses—”

“Why would she choose to do that?” Her gut was now knotted with anger. “To let two men use her like that for... what, less than seventy pounds?”

“It’s probably better money than she could earn in an office. She had the face, and she had the body. She probably earns a lot more—”

“And how much of that money do you think she gets to keep?”

He blinked. “I’ve no idea, but—”

“Exactly! You’ve no... fucking... idea.” She shook her head. “Still, you got your rocks off, and Oddie blew his muck down her throat. Jesus, Steve, I thought you were better than that.”

“I thought you’d see it for what it was. It was just a bit of fun. I saw her as nothing more than hired help.”

“Hired help?”

“Yeah. It was like paying someone to cut the grass or clean the windows.” Steve sat up in bed and shrugged. “I don’t attempt to analyse the sociological or psychological history of the guy who works in the carwash, and I didn’t do it for Saskia.”

“You simply paid her to empty your sack for you?”

He gave a weak smile. “Yeah, that’s one way of putting it.”

“What about Tom? Did he do the same?”

“No. He’d left before—”

“Do you know he brought Maddie some perfume back?”

Steve sighed. “I was only away for—”

“I know. I’m not complaining that I didn’t get anything. I just wondered if Tom had only bought his wife perfume because of a guilty conscience.”

Steve shook his head. “Doubt it. Tom left early and said he went back to the apartment. I have no reason to think he did otherwise.”

She exhaled, easily able to believe that. “Yeah, he’s a nice guy.”

Before Steve could respond, the bedroom door was pushed open and Isla came in, blinking in the light.

“Mummy, I had another nightmare.”

“Okay, baby. Get into my bed with me. Daddy will sleep in yours.”

Steve frowned, got up and pulled on his boxers. Then he left the bedroom to spend the rest of the night next door, banished.

Chapter 3

Lying alone in Isla's bed, Steven shook his head in disbelief. How had Alicia managed to twist his bit of fun with Saskia into a matter of feminism and exploitation? Her reaction to the cheating aspect was fair enough, but he hadn't expected to be blindsided by a lecture on sex workers' human rights.

He'd thought they'd use it as foreplay; she'd ask for details, and he'd get hard again by recounting what had gone on. In his dirtiest fantasy, Alicia might even have offered to dress up and perform a lap dance of her own...

He closed his eyes and thought back to the first private dance, the one Saskia had given to him alone: the thumping bass of the song, the coloured spotlights casting gyrating shadows on the floor around her feet. Her eyes bored into his as she rocked forward and back, her expression so suggestive it was as if she were fucking him there and then.

There had been nothing to suggest she was anything but a willing performer. Steven still believed that now, despite Alicia's theory.

As for the second dance, when Oggie was there...

Saskia's actions then were more than suggestive. They were provocative, practically incendiary. She'd wanted something from the men, he was sure. Something more than the money.

Steven visualised her rubbing her naked body against Oggie's. She crushed her tits against his chest while staring into his eyes, then turned round and bent over, pushing her arse against his crotch. It was then that she'd made her suggestion and Oggie handed over the wad of cash.

Steven pictured Saskia dropping to her knees and looking into his eyes, her lower lip between her teeth as she released his aching cock. She held his gaze while licking around the head, a thin strand of precum clinging to the tip of her tongue. Then she parted those scarlet lips and took him into her hot, wet mouth.

She'd produced a condom and he now realised he had no idea where it had come from—she'd been naked apart from her transparent shoes.

Maybe the chairs in the cubicles had a special shelf under the seat?

Both men watched intently as she ripped open the foil with her painted nails, placed the condom on the tip of Steven's cock, and rolled it down the shaft. She stood up, turned around and bent over to give him a glorious view of her perfect backside. The pink slit of her sex glistened in the spotlights.

Steven remembered wondering about the other men she'd already performed for. How many that night? That week? There were so many questions he'd wanted to ask. And then she lowered herself onto his lap, guiding his cock into her.

At that instant he was breaking his wedding vows, but he'd felt sure Alicia wouldn't see it as infidelity. They'd often used things like this as part of their foreplay—the 'what if' and 'would you' scenarios in their pillow talk.

Gripping Saskia's hips, he pulled her down onto him and revelled in the sensation as she clenched and wiggled. As she leaned forward and sucked Oggie, Steven's mind went into overdrive. She was the perfect slut. He groped her firm tits and fucked her tight hole. She moaned theatrically, writhing and bucking her hips. Saskia's moaning and gulping tipped him over the edge, and he flooded the condom. While Oggie continued to fuck her face, spasms wracked Steven's body as he pumped more and more cum into the rubber. Saskia eventually raised herself off him and looked down at his cock, presumably checking the condom was still in place.

As she'd wiped a dribble of cum from her lips, she smiled. Oggie handed over more money, and they'd left the cubicle.

Steven now sported another erection and knew it would go to waste—masturbating in his daughter's bed was not an option. He closed his eyes and tried to think of mundane things, but his mind kept slipping back to the look in Saskia's eyes as she'd rolled the condom down his cock.

No way had she been coerced into doing what she did.

Alicia lay in the dark, listening to her daughter's steady breathing. Her own heartbeat had finally slowed to a more regular rhythm. She now regretted her outburst at Steve's confession, though some residual disappointment at his behaviour lingered. Claiming the dancer meant nothing to him emotionally was one thing, but the way he'd acted proved she'd been nothing more than a commodity in his eyes. Of course men like that existed, but she'd never have guessed her husband was one of them.

'It didn't mean anything. She was just a stripper.'

To her mind, having his friend involved at the same time made what Steve did even worse. James should have let the dancer perform her services on Steve, then taken the chair and enjoyed his own lap dance and shag. Why had he felt the need to ram his cock down this girl's throat while she was already impaled?

The answer, Alicia suspected, was that James regarded the stripper in exactly the same way that Steve did—not as a woman, just something to be used.

She smiled at the thought of Steve lying in Isla's bed, bemused by her reaction. There probably weren't many women who, on hearing their husband had been unfaithful, would be angry on the other woman's behalf.

Your husband's been unfaithful. She let those words echo in her mind a few times.

Am I jealous?

She wasn't, and that worried her a little. She still loved him and, as weird as it sounded only three days after he'd had sex with another woman, she knew he loved her.

Am I hurt?

She was, though that was probably just vanity. What if he'd found the stripper so much more attractive than her?

Am I angry?

That was a difficult one. She sighed. There was anger, but for reasons she couldn't explain, it was all based on the fact he'd shared the dancer with another man. It must have been so demeaning for the poor girl. How desperate must her situation be to have to resort to that sort of thing every Saturday night? Or maybe it wasn't just on Saturdays...

Alicia turned onto her side. She tried to visualise the scene Steve had described and wondered what music had been playing. What sexy moves the girl had made to make her husband and his friend so hard...

You're definitely jealous. Jealous you no longer have that effect on men.

Steven woke with a sore back, no doubt the result of sharing a single bed with a unicorn, a narwhal and a snowman. His watch showed it was a little after six. He pushed Olaf out of the way and got up, heading for the bathroom. A glance into the main bedroom showed the two women in his life still fast asleep. He also looked in the nursery, where Brad snoozed flat on his back in the cot.

After showering, Steven went downstairs for coffee in his robe rather than risk disturbing the girls by creeping into the bedroom to get clothes.

He was sitting at the kitchen table with his coffee when Alicia walked in.

She gave him a smile and ran her hand over his shoulders as she walked past to click the kettle on. "How did you sleep?"

"I don't think Isla's mattress or quilt are intended for adults." He watched her face, waiting for a second wave of recriminations. "Did she have any more nightmares?"

"Nope." Alicia poured herself a coffee, then sat opposite, frowning. "I'm sorry for the way I reacted to your confession."

He tried to read her eyes. "It surprised me a little."

"It was probably because I'd recently watched a documentary on people trafficking."

"I'm sorry there was anything for me to confess. I shouldn't have done it."

"Just...please tell me it wasn't because you no longer find me desirable."

"What?" Her thinking he no longer fancied her was even more shocking than her exploitation rant.

"I know my body's not as firm as it—"

"Your body's fabulous. It's as good now as it was before the kids. How could you possibly think...?" He shook his head and sighed. "What I did had nothing to do with how I see you. I was drunk, horny and in another country. And she suggested it. I'd never have made the first move. If she'd offered extras on the dance when I was alone, I'd have refused. I think that may have been why she suggested a dance for the two of us, that second time. Men think there's safety in numbers."

Alicia didn't look convinced. "Her having two men at once made what happened seedier, somehow."

He smirked. "Well, there was twice as much seed."

She shook her head in disgust. "You know what I mean."

He nodded. "It shouldn't have happened at all. Tom told me off."

"Really?"

"Not in so many words, but he pointed out that Oggie doesn't have a wife and kids. I suspect Tom thinks I should have left the club when he did. In his eyes, private dances are for the single guys."

"I like Tom." She pushed her foot against his. "But then I don't suppose he and Maddie rev each other up by discussing what they've done with their past partners."

This was the reaction he'd been hoping for last night. "Do we rev each other up?"

She leaned over the table and looked into his eyes. "I liked hearing about when you were a young builder's apprentice and working at the mature Polish woman's house."

"Ah, Inga." He smiled at the memory. "Forty-seven and filthy. Every nineteen-year-old's dream."

"And I know it turns you on when I describe how Rob liked to cover me in strawberry mousse and lick it off."

"That doesn't turn me on as much as the stories about him tying your hands behind your back and fucking you any way he wanted."

She grinned. "Yeah, I remember you getting extra frisky when I told you how he'd alternate between my snatch and my mouth."

In spite of his aching back and tiredness, Steven's cock swelled under the robe.

She laughed at his expression. "And now you're wondering if we have time for a quickie before the kids wake up."

He tried for a nonchalant head shake. "That thought hadn't crossed ___"

"Bollocks. I can practically hear the blood rushing to your dick."

Chuckling, he picked up his cup. "Doesn't that prove that I still fancy you?"

“I suppose so.”

Now they seemed to be on a more even keel, he took her hand. “So you’re not still mad?”

“No, Steve, I’m not mad. Though I am disappointed.”

“I’m sorry.”

“Good.” She sat back and tucked a strand of hair behind her ear.

“Can I ask you something?”

“Yeah, course.”

“Did you really wear a condom with her?”

“I just wondered, because I’ve never known you to turn down skin-on-skin nookie with me.”

He bit his lip, then decided to be completely honest. “I was telling the truth about wanting to last longer, but you’re right, I was trying to be careful. She’d sucked me, and Tom pointed out that it’s possible to transmit things with saliva.”

“Really?”

“Apparently. So I went to get tested on Monday. I can phone for the results this afternoon but have been advised to get tested again at the end of next week.”

“Okay.” She nodded. “I’m glad you’ve been sensible. I know you don’t like condoms, but you’re going to have to wear them until all your tests come back negative. Maybe I should go back on the pill.”

He smiled. “That’d be good. Then I could do the same as Rob did. Tie you up and play double-dip to my heart’s content.”

“Dream on! I only let Rob do that because he was hung and had a ripped body.”

Just then, Isla walked into the kitchen holding Brad’s hand. Alicia gave Steven a knowing smile. “I guess we’ll have to postpone this conversation until later.” She glanced down at his robe. “And don’t let anything pop out when you stand up.”

Laughing, he stood up and tightened the robe to hide his semi. Then he lifted Brad into the highchair and got the cereal from the cupboard.

“I’ll get their breakfast if you want to go get dressed,” Alicia said.

“Cheers, love.” When he got back to the kitchen, Isla asked if he had time to play snakes and ladders. He bent and kissed her cheek. “No, sorry.

But I'll play with you tonight, okay?"

She nodded and gave him a gummy smile. "Bye daddy!"

He kissed Brad on the forehead because his cheeks were smeared with Weetabix. "Bye champ."

Alicia stood next to the fridge. "Will you play with me tonight too, Daddy?"

"Snakes and ladders?" he asked, slipping his hands onto her hips.

She leaned close so she could whisper without the kids hearing. "If I can get hold of a ladder, will you bring the snake?"

He laughed, then walked out to his car feeling a lot happier than he had when he'd woken up.

* * * *

It was a lovely sunny morning, so once Alicia and Maddie had waved their kids off at school, they took their toddlers to the park. While the kids were watching the ducks at the small lake, Alicia took advantage of them being out of earshot.

"So," she asked, "is Tom allowing you to get any sleep yet?"

"Yeah. He's back to normal, which is a shame. I quite enjoyed him acting like a horny teenager. How about Steve?"

She briefly considered telling her friend what her husband had confessed to, but dismissed the idea. "I think he's still got some energy to work off."

"Lucky you!"

As they made their way towards the playground, Alicia surreptitiously looked at her friend's figure. They'd had kids at a similar time and were both now thirty-one. Maddie was carrying a bit of weight around her waist and thighs but, as Alicia hadn't known her before she'd been pregnant, she didn't know if this was her natural shape or a result of having children.

She tried to keep the tone of her voice casual. "Did it bother you, Tom ogling all those women with perfect bodies?"

Maddie laughed. "No. I got quite a lot of attention, thanks to them. I doubt anyone else would want to watch me parading around in the buff, though."

“Yeah, nor me.”

Alicia was momentarily speechless. “Thanks, but I don’t think—”

“You’re the hottest mum in the playground. Why d’you think none of the other mums let their husbands take their kids to school anymore?”

Alicia smiled brightly. “You’ve just made my month.”

Maddie waved her daughter over from the slide. “Come on, I’ll buy us a coffee from the kiosk and get these two an ice cream.”

By the time Alicia got home, Brad was fractious. She made him some lunch then put him down for a nap while she tidied the house. She still felt the buzz that Maddie’s kind words had given her and wondered what she and Steve might do tonight.

For the first time in what felt like forever, she was actively thinking about sex instead of accepting it as something they needed to fit in when they had the energy.

* * * *

Steven arrived home through the back door as the kids were eating dinner. After greeting them both by blowing a raspberry on their cheek, he was just about to ask where mum was when Alicia came in, carrying clean washing from the line.

“Hiya,” she said, leaning over the bundled clothes to kiss his cheek. “How was your day?”

“Fine. Yours?”

She nodded. “Great. Maddie and I went to the park. Spent most of the morning there. Just bits and pieces this afternoon.”

“Nice.” He gave a hopeful grin. “Did you get a ladder?”

She laughed. “That depends. Did you bring the snake?”

“Always.”

“Maybe we could forgo the ladder if I learn to be a snake charmer.”

Though momentarily lost for words, his heart raced. It’d been a long time since she’d flirted with him like this. She smiled and pushed past him to the utility room. When she returned, she helped Brad capture the last spoonful of his dinner then took their plates away and gave each child a yoghurt.

“I’ll go and get changed,” he said. “I thought I’d cut the grass before we eat. Isla, do you want to make your mum a daisy chain necklace before I cut all their heads off?”

Isla nodded gleefully.

When he returned, both kids were already outside picking daisies while Alicia washed up at the kitchen sink. He moved to stand behind her, slipping his arms around her waist. She ground herself back into him, making his cock swell. Steven slid his hands up and cupped her breasts as she leaned her head back, resting it on his shoulder.

Looking into his eyes, she smiled. “I thought you were going to mow the lawn.”

“I was, but then you started acting all dirty.”

She raised her eyebrows. “Washing the pots is acting dirty?”

“Can be. If you were wearing yellow rubber gloves, it’d probably be classed as dirty and kinky.”

“Speaking of wearing rubber...?”

He grinned. “Results came back all clear.”

“Good.”

“So... As you were in the safe part of your cycle last night, I thought ___,”

“Forget it. You’ll be wearing a rubber until you’ve had your second test and got those results.”

He nodded, trying not to look too disappointed.

“Besides,” she said, smiling flirtatiously again, “I want you to last a lot longer than last night.”

He nodded. “I will, I promise.”

“Not if you’re still thinking about Saskia, you won’t.”

“Saskia who?”

“Good answer, but maybe you should wear two condoms. Not only will it make it less sensitive for you, it’ll increase your girth and I can pretend you’re Rob.”

“Ha ha. Very droll.”

“I try.”

Steven slapped her backside and headed out to the garden. After moving the kids' slide and other assorted toys off the lawn, he took out the mower and enjoyed the hum of the engine, the smell of the grass and the warm summer evening.

It took half an hour to mow the lawn and put the slide back in place. Isla proudly showed him the daisy chain she'd made.

"That's great, Isles. Did you make one, Brad?"

Brad opened his small, dirty fist, showing two daisy heads and an earthworm. Steven laughed, putting the worm back onto the soil of the border and leaving the flower heads in his hand. "Maybe Mummy could use those as earrings. Come on. Let's get you two cleaned up."

After he'd bathed the kids, Steven lay on the rug in the lounge playing snakes and ladders with Isla. Brad preferred pushing his plastic fire engine around the room while making engine noises.

Alicia popped her head in from the hall. "Having fun?"

"I'm winning," Isla shouted. "Daddy slid down the biggest snake."

"Did he?" Alicia looked into Steven's eyes. "It's a long time since I've been able to do that." With that, she went back into the kitchen.

He turned to his daughter. "Mummy thinks she's funny."

Isla giggled, completely oblivious to her mother's teasing remark.

Alicia came back into the lounge fifteen minutes later. "If you find a cartoon on the telly, they'll sit and watch it while we eat."

"Okay." Steven turned on the TV and found a kids' channel. "What do you want, Peppa Pig or Paw Patrol?"

Isla wanted Peppa Pig and Brad wanted Paw Patrol.

Steven scratched his chin as if trying to solve a great conundrum. "How about Pig Patrol? Or Peppa Paw?"

Both kids giggled.

"Tell you what," he said, knowing Brad would probably go back to his fire engine within a couple of minutes, "we'll put Peppa on first, and afterwards we can switch over to see how the pups are getting on. Who wants a biscuit?"

While the kids watched TV, Steven and Alicia ate and chatted about their respective days.

"Maddie cheered me up this morning."

"Oh?"

She nodded. "Making nice comments about my figure and telling me I was the hottest mum in the playground."

He nodded, waiting for her to say more. "And?"

"That's all. It made me feel better about myself."

He wondered if this was some leftover sarcasm from what he'd done in Prague. "I'm always telling you how good you look."

"Motherhood changes a woman's figure."

"It hasn't changed yours. When you were carrying both kids your belly and your boobs were the only thing that grew. You never looked pregnant from behind. By the time Brad was a couple of months old, you could fit back into your jeans."

Alicia shrugged. "Well, having someone else say things like that made me feel good."

"And so it should." He reminded himself to tell her how gorgeous she was more often, then pushed his leg against hers. "Maybe I could make you feel good when those two are asleep."

She smiled sexily. "Maybe you could."

At the end of a lovely, relaxed evening, Steven popped his head into Isla's bedroom to say goodnight. Her nightlight cast stars and moons all over the ceiling, and this illuminated the room enough for him to see her smiling eyes peeping over the top of her quilt.

He bent down and kissed her forehead. "Night night, sweetheart. I hope you have some nice dreams tonight."

She smiled and nodded.

In the nursery, the mobile over the cot was spinning slowly around and playing Brahms' lullaby. Brad was already fast asleep. Steven watched his son for a few seconds, then headed back downstairs.

When he walked into the lounge, he stopped dead in his tracks. Alicia wasn't there but the TV had been turned off, the curtains closed, and one of the hardbacked chairs from the kitchen placed in the middle of the room. On the seat was a hand-written note.

Sit Here

A tingling developed in his groin as he obeyed.

Chapter 4

Steven held his breath as Alicia stepped into the room. She'd pinned up her shoulder-length brown hair and applied mascara and lip gloss. Her wraparound pale blue dress finished above her knee, and her white sandals had a three-inch heel. Her legs were bare and tanned. He couldn't remember the last time she'd worn heels. They made her legs look incredible.

He swept his eyes from head to toe. "You look fantastic."

"Thanks. And do you like my jewellery?" She wore the daisy chain necklace Isla had made for her.

He smiled. "Classy."

Alicia stepped close, her eyes locked on his. "I'm not going to dance for you."

He didn't care. "That's fine."

"And I'm not going to suck your friend off, either."

He laughed. "I'm glad to hear it."

She placed her finger on his chest. "But I am going to get you hard."

"You already have."

"Good." Alicia moved her hands to the belt of her dress, slowly untied it and pulled it open. She was naked underneath. She shrugged it off onto the floor, then stepped closer until her legs were either side of his.

Steven's heart raced, his cock straining against his jogging bottoms. Alicia arched her back and presented her breasts in front of his face. He opened his mouth and sucked gently on a nipple.

Alicia rested her hand on the back of his head, stroking his hair as he moved his attention to the other. She leaned down and kissed the top of his head. "Feel how wet I am."

He placed his hand on the inside of her smooth thigh and slowly inched it upwards until his thumb reached her outer lips. They were so wet he wondered if she'd been touching herself.

"Finger me."

After sliding his first and second fingers into her soaked channel, he curled them towards him and pressed against her G-spot.

“Oh...” Alicia’s eyes closed, and her breathing became shallow.

Since her nipples stood out so invitingly, he took one back into his mouth and sucked it while he finger-fucked her.

She let out occasional moans, cradling his head to her breasts and rocking her hips. “Keep doing that,” she whispered.

He curled his fingers in more, pressing harder, then brought his thumb into play and moved it slowly around her clit.

“Steve, I’m going to come on your fingers.”

He released her nipple from his mouth. “Okay.”

Her long legs began to tremble. He increased the speed of his movements, pushing deeper with his fingers and rubbing faster with his thumb as he grazed his teeth gently over the beaded flesh of her nipple. Alicia groaned and pulled his hair painfully, her inner muscles contracting and spasming around his fingers. Her juices ran down his hand.

With a final yelp, she released his head and reached down to push his hand away. “Get your dick out.”

* * * *

Alicia watched with amusement as her husband clumsily untied the cord of his joggers and wrestled everything down to mid-thigh, releasing his erection.

“It’s a shame you can’t go in bare,” she said with a teasing smile. “It’d have been nice to feel you coming inside me.”

He looked like he might cry.

She stepped over to retrieve the condom she’d hidden under her phone on the sideboard, then passed it to him. “Since you’re not paying, you can put it on yourself.”

He chuckled, ripped open the foil and quickly rolled the condom down his cock. Alicia straddled his lap and rested her hands on his shoulders before lowering herself into position.

“Now put your dick inside me.”

He positioned the tip at the entrance of her sex, placed his hands on her hips and eased her down onto him.

“Oh.” She rocked her hips, working his cock deeper inside her and riding it. “That feels good. Does it feel good for you?”

“Yeah. It feels... great.” He sounded breathless. His hands gripped the cheeks of her backside.

“Don’t come yet. I want to come again.”

He nodded, breathing heavily through his mouth.

Alicia decided it was time. “Maddie’s compliment gave me an idea...”

“Oh?” He stared at her with a puzzled expression, probably wondering why she’d brought it up now.

“Yeah. It gave me confidence.” Her daisy chain necklace came apart, but she kept bouncing on her husband’s cock. “Confidence in my body.”

He nodded. “It’s a great body.”

She looked down and saw daisies falling one at a time past her pert boobs and flat tummy, landing where their groins met. “I’ve decided I won’t feel bad about showing it to someone else.”

His brow became more furrowed. He was close to orgasm, and she knew he wanted her to shut up so he could enjoy his release. “Show who?”

“The man I’m going to hire.” Her orgasm was building. She hoped they’d come together.

“What man?”

She took a breath and ground down against him. “The one I’m going to pay to fuck me. Just like you paid Saskia.”

He opened his mouth to speak, then his eyes rolled back and his cock pulsed inside her. Alicia dug her nails into his shoulders and bounced harder until the warm implosion of her own orgasm percolated through her lower body. She let out a long sigh, vaguely aware of daisies tumbling over her boobs and down her back. Steve gripped her backside and pulled her down on his cock, producing guttural grunts between sucking in air through clenched teeth.

Eventually they stilled. Alicia wrapped her arms around his neck and held him close while they got their breath back.

“Well,” he said with a laugh, “that certainly brought on the fireworks.”

“Did it?”

“Yeah.” He nuzzled her neck. “I mean, I was close anyway, but your little fantasy scenario definitely got me over the line quicker.” He leaned back and smiled. “Like a runner putting on a sprint at the end of a marathon.”

“I’m glad the idea turns you on as much as it does me.”

His smile faltered. “It was just sex-talk though, right?”

“Was it?” His cock withered inside her. She pushed herself up on still-shaky legs and stepped back from the chair.

“Yeah. Wasn’t it? I mean, you can’t seriously be thinking of—”

“Of what? Of doing exactly the same thing you did?”

“That was different. It was a spur of the moment thing, and it happened when I was seven hundred and fifty miles away.”

“Mine won’t be a spur of the moment thing, and I’ll be closer. About two hundred and fifty miles away.” She bent down and picked up her dress, slipped it on and tied the belt.

He frowned up at her. “What d’you mean? Where will you—?”

“Edinburgh. I’ve always fancied going there. I’d like to see the city and the castle.”

Steve removed and knotted the condom, then pulled up his jogging trousers without bothering to re-tie the cord. He glared at her with the flooded rubber dangling from his fingers. “And who do you intend going there with?”

She nodded at his hand. “Get rid of that and pour me a glass of wine from the bottle in the fridge. Then we’ll talk.”

He left the room, looking a little shell-shocked. Alicia moved the hardbacked chair to the wall and picked up the daisies from the rug before sitting in the armchair. She crossed her legs, admiring her sandals.

Steve returned with wine for her and a bottle of beer for himself. As he took a seat on the sofa, there was no evidence of his usual post-coital bliss. He raised his eyebrows to show he was still waiting for her to answer his question.

Alicia took a sip of wine while holding his gaze. “I won’t be going to Edinburgh with anyone. I’ll travel alone, probably by train.”

This answer didn’t seem to resolve his confusion.

“I’ll be meeting someone there,” she explained.

“Who?”

“I don’t know. I haven’t booked him yet.” Steve looked bewildered. She decided to put him out of his misery. “I’m going to book a male escort. We’ll go out for dinner, hopefully see a bit of the city, then go back to my hotel.”

“And what do you think you’ll be doing back at your hotel?” There was an edge to his voice. It wasn’t mockery exactly—more disbelief.

“Maybe we’ll have a drink in the bar first, I’ll see how things go. Then I’ll take him up to my room and we’ll have sex. That’s what I’ll be paying him for.”

“Is this your idea of payback?”

“No, I don’t see it as payback. Nor do I see it as retaliation, revenge, tit-for-tat, what’s good for the goose, or anything else along those lines.”

“So what is it, then?”

He groaned. “I’ve already explained, that wasn’t planned. It only happened because she—”

“I know that, Steve, but it still happened. It’s not like killing someone, where you get off lighter if you can prove it wasn’t premeditated.”

“But who will you—?”

“I don’t know. It’s not important, is it? He’ll be a sex worker, so it won’t mean anything.” She could tell from his expression that he remembered saying exactly those words to her.

“And how much will it all cost? The train ticket, the hotel, the escort?”

“How much did your trip to Prague cost?”

He frowned, but then a half-smile curled the corners of his mouth up. “You’re winding me up.”

She took another sip of wine. “You seemed to like the idea earlier. You said it brought on your fireworks.”

“Yeah, but that was because I thought it was just dirty talk.”

She recrossed her legs, pleased to see his gaze drop to her calves and sexy shoes. “I thought you’d like the idea.”

“What made you think that?”

“You like the thought of Rob fucking me with my hands tied behind my back.”

“Yeah, but... that was before we’d met.”

“So? What difference does that make?” she asked, playing dumb.

“Everyone accepts that their partner will have done things with other people before they’d met. But doing things with someone else after they’ve met is...” He shook his head, looking dejected. They both knew what she was going to say next.

“Saskia happened after we’d met.”

“Yeah.” His expression was solemn, and she could see him chewing the insides of his cheeks.

“So it was okay for you to—”

“I know what I did was wrong!” He leaned against the back of the sofa and closed his eyes.

“It wasn’t all bad. It gave us the impetus to do that.” She nodded at the chair he’d sat on while she fucked him. “It rekindled something that had been missing—”

“It was missing but it wasn’t lost.” He sat forward again. “I knew it’d come back when we got more time, more energy. We don’t need other people to—”

“No, we don’t need them.” She smiled. “Look, I said this wasn’t about retaliation, and I meant it. You felt the need to go with Saskia. Maybe I feel that need, too. I think it’ll help my self-esteem.”

“I don’t see how paying someone will do that. You could get anyone you want without having—”

“But by paying, it’ll prove to you that there’s no emotional connection.”

“And because I did it in Prague, there’s nothing I can say to stop you, right?”

She sat forward and looked deep into his eyes. “Why would you want to stop me?”

“Because you’re my wife.”

“I was your wife on Saturday, but you still let Saskia sit on your dick.”

“She was that type. You’re not.”

Alicia shook her head. “You don’t know anything about that girl. Maybe she was the cock-loving slut of your fantasies, or maybe she was a helpless individual in a hopeless situation. We’ll never know.”

Steve was stony-faced, probably afraid she was about to go into another monologue about sex-slaves.

“Besides,” she said, trying to lighten his mood, “I can be slutty. Remember me telling you about Glastonbury?”

He frowned, then shook his head. “I don’t think—”

“I’m sure I’ve told you. A bunch of us girls went to the festival and camped there for the weekend.”

“Oh yeah. It was a case of assault within tent.” He smiled at his own pun.

“Ha ha, but I wasn’t assaulted. I rode him like racehorse. We hadn’t spoken a single word to each other before I went into his tent—I just liked his smile. And I fucked him without ever knowing his name.”

Steve held eye contact for a couple of seconds before taking a gulp from his bottle. “So you’re saying that you don’t have to pay someone to make it emotionless sex?”

“Exactly. I think both men and women often have sex without feeling anything but physical attraction. And sometimes, there might not even be a physical attraction. It could just be a case of ‘I’m horny and he’s here.’”

“Do women think like that?”

She almost laughed at his expression of surprise. “Of course. I’m sure there are lots of people—men and women alike—who go out purely to get laid. It’s not always a case of ‘he’s so cute, I want to have sex with him.’ It can simply be ‘I want to fuck, and he’ll do.’”

His expression changed. They often used conversations like this as part of their foreplay, and she could see that it was pressing his buttons.

Alicia smiled. “Don’t tell me you’ve never had sex with a girl you had no intention of seeing again.”

“I don’t think I’ve ever had sex with a girl I didn’t find physically attractive.”

“Yeah, I suppose you’d need that to get a hard-on. Women can just close their eyes and pretend they’re being reamed by an Adonis.”

“Are you saying you’ve had sex with men you didn’t find physically attractive?”

“Lots of times. You should see my husband.”

He grinned and took another mouthful of beer. His eyes swept over her heels and legs again. “Tell me about a time when you’ve slept with a guy you didn’t find physically attractive.”

Alicia bit her lip as she trawled her memory banks. It’d be easy to fabricate a story, but there must be one from her late teens and early twenties. She’d had a lot of fun at university and had gone on to spend a couple of years living and working in a large city after graduating.

“Okay,” she said. “When I was living in Liverpool, I went clubbing with my housemates and we met three guys. One was really cute, the other two not so cute. Me and my mates drew straws, literally, and I got the shortest. Adele got off with the hunk, Cheryl had the second best, and I was stuck with the runt of the litter.”

“Couldn’t you have just found another guy in the club?”

“No, because that would have left one of their guys with no way of getting home. They all came back with us for the night.”

“They stayed over?”

“Yeah.” She smiled at the memory. “It was fine first time, when we’d just got home. It was dark and we were both horny. The next morning wasn’t so good.”

“You turned him down?”

“No, course not. But I insisted he take me doggy style.”

Steve laughed out loud. He finished the rest of his beer and nodded toward the glass in her hand. “Want another drink?”

Her groin was already tingling. “No, I’m okay thanks.”

He held her gaze. “So, what do you want?”

“I want a big strong man to sweep me off my feet, lie me on the bed and fuck me senseless.”

“And that’s something you’re willing to pay for?”

“Oh yes.” She put her glass down and rested her foot on his knee. “But in the meantime, I’ll make do with you trying your hardest.”

* * * *

Steven's pulse was thumping in his ears as he stood up and held out his hand, which she took. He pulled her to her feet, led her out of the lounge and up the stairs without bothering to turn off the lights or check the doors were locked. In the bedroom he turned her around and pulled her close, kissing her urgently, her nipples pushing against his chest. He removed the clips from her hair. Alicia shook it out. As it fell freely to her shoulders, she looked into his eyes, smiling.

He slowly untied her dress and eased it back off her shoulders. He kissed her forehead, her cheek, nuzzled her ear. "Lie on the bed."

Alicia did so, leaving her shoes on.

"Open your legs." His cock was already hard and, for the second time in an hour, he wished he could go in bare.

Alicia spread her legs and trailed her hand down to her sex, running her fingers through her pubes.

Steven quickly stripped and grabbed a condom, rolling it on while admiring his wife's body. He knelt between her thighs and placed his hand over hers. Then he pushed gently, forcing her finger inside along with his. Alicia let out a sigh and tilted her hips. He pressed a second finger against hers until she had four fingers inside, two of his and two of her own. He rocked his hand with a slow rhythm. She closed her eyes.

"Do you want to come like this or with my cock?"

Her breathing was shallow. "Like this."

He watched her changing expressions as she built up to orgasm. His cock ached to go inside her but having both their fingers working on her at the same time was giving him a huge buzz.

"Oh..." She opened her eyes briefly to look into his and then climaxed. Her hips bucked, her fingers plunging deeper, almost leaving his behind. With a gasp, she pushed both their hands away and pulled him down on top of her, guiding his cock in.

He shuddered as her heat enveloped him. She wrapped her legs around his and her arms up his back, hands gripping his shoulders. Steven fucked hard and fast and she moved with him, riding him from below. The softness of her body thrilled him, the taste of her lipstick, the heat of her cunt. She seemed eager, hungry.

Her hands gripped tighter, the nails digging painfully into his flesh. He felt the contraction of her orgasm, yet she made no sound. He looked down at her face to see her eyes squeezed shut and her lips drawn back in a silent scream. The second contraction was accompanied by a single grunt, then she opened her eyes and stared into his. “Fuck me.”

He pounded her, his hips like a jackhammer. Over and over he plunged into her soaking hole.

Alicia released her grip and lay on the bed like a sacrifice, arms and legs spread wide. Her eyes were closed and her head tossed from side to side as he slammed into her with all his might.

He was worried he’d run out of stamina before he could finish. Finally, the tingling sensation in his balls arrived. “I’m gonna... come.”

She opened her eyes and put her arms around his waist.

He increased the force of his final few thrusts, then held still. Every muscle clenched as he erupted. Waves of pleasure surged through him, and with each came another spurt until he was sure there wasn’t a drop left inside.

Taking a deep breath, he held himself still and looked down at his wife. There was something about the way she smiled that told him tonight had gone exactly as she’d planned. He rolled off and dumped the condom into the pedal bin in the bathroom. When he got back to the bedroom, Alicia’s sandals were on the carpet and she was under the quilt.

“I’ll go lock up.” When he’d done the lights and climbed back into bed, she snuggled into him, resting her head on his chest as his arm slipped around her shoulders. He kissed the top of her head.

As they lay in the dark, he couldn’t help smiling. Alicia may not have done the lap dance he’d fantasised about, but her performance had been beyond his wildest dreams. It had emphasised to him not only how sexy she looked, but also how imaginative she could be when in the mood.

Her ruse about hiring a male escort had been a great success. He’d had two powerful orgasms in an hour; he couldn’t remember the last time that’d happened.

Chapter 5

On Thursday morning, Alicia surreptitiously checked out the other mothers in the playground. Several of them were pretty with nice figures, which made her think that Maddie's kind words had been more flattery than fact.

After the girls had gone into class, she took Brad to the sports hall on the other side of the school grounds, where the mother and toddler group was held. Maddie was already inside with her youngest. She waved when she saw Alicia. Once Brad was occupied with some toys, they headed to a table and chairs at the edge of the mat.

"Have you got your outfit for the wedding?" Maddie asked.

"No, not yet. I have another three weeks to find one."

"I wish I could be that casual about it—I've just ordered three dresses online, and I'm hoping that one of them will make me look okay."

Alicia smiled. "I'm sure you'll look lovely in all of them."

"Have you got a sitter organised?"

"Yeah. We use Becky, our neighbour's teenage daughter. The kids love her to bits. How about you?"

"My sister's having mine for the night, so I want Tom to stay sober and not expend all his energy on the dancefloor."

Alicia giggled. "Lucky you. Are you staying over at the hotel?"

"No. By the time my sister offered to have them, all the rooms had been booked. Maybe the four of us can share a taxi?"

"Yeah, that'll be good."

They spent the rest of the session chatting to the other mums and overseeing their kids' activities. Brad and another boy somehow managed to get most of the purple sand from the sandpit all over the floor of the room while playing with the toy digger and crane. By the time Alicia got home, she was as tired and grumpy as her son. She made them both a sandwich for lunch, then put him down for a nap.

Walking back into the living room, she spotted a couple of daisies on the floor that she hadn't already picked up. A warm tingle ran through her as she remembered last night's session. While Brad was sleeping, she poured herself a glass of wine and picked up her laptop.

Typing male escorts in Edinburgh into the search bar brought up seventy-three hits, more than half of which seemed to be aimed at gay clientele. Although the results were peppered with terms like rent boys and gay erotic masseurs, she saw other terms that made her heart beat a little faster; gigolos, playboys and male companions all sounded enticing.

Scanning through the results, she clicked on the sites that looked the most promising. There were so many profiles it would have taken her forever to read them all, so she applied the policy she'd mentioned to Steve the previous night—I want to get fucked, and he'll do.

She decided the most user-friendly site was Gents4U and quickly scanned through the first dozen profiles. One photo made her groin clench. The guy was mixed race with his hair buzzed as short as his three-day stubble. He had dark brown eyes and a smile she'd describe as 'quietly confident'. He was listed as Xavier, but she doubted it was his real name.

When she clicked on 'availability', she saw he was free on Saturday. She peered at his picture again, then read his profile more closely. He was twenty-seven years old, had been born and raised in Leith, and his interests were art, sports and music.

Alicia thought about meeting him, talking to him, letting him see her naked. A shiver ran through her as she imagined seeing him naked.

Before she'd had time to lose her nerve, she clicked the 'make a date' icon and filled in her details. She got her bank cards and paid the fee from her own account, though for the train fare and hotel booking she used the joint account, just as Steve had done for his flight and apartment in Prague.

Finally she reactivated her prescription for birth control pills through her surgery's website. Obviously they'd be of no consequence for her trip to Edinburgh, but they'd make things better for her and Steve over the upcoming weeks. She suspected that her night with a gigolo would give their sex life a boost for quite a while.

Brad's crying from upstairs brought her back to normality. Checking her watch, she decided to leave early for school pick-up and call at the playground on the way so he could have a run around.

* * * *

Steven left work at the usual time but got stuck in a traffic jam caused by a three-vehicle collision at the busiest section of his journey. He finally arrived home twenty-five minutes later than usual.

Alicia gave him a smile from the kitchen table as the kids ran to greet him.

“Sorry I’m late,” he said, picking up a child in each arm. “Someone in a white van managed to hit two cars while trying to get across the Thornhill junction.”

“Oh dear.” She stood up and walked to the oven. “Your dinner might be a bit dry.”

“It’ll be fine. I’ll just go and change.” He put the kids down and took the stairs two at a time, returning a minute later in a t-shirt and shorts.

“How was your day?” she asked, putting his plated meal on the table in front of him.

“It was okay but tomorrow will be better.” He grinned. “The power tool rep is coming in, and he’s taking me out for lunch.”

“Ah, the perks of working in the buying office.”

“In truth, he’d be better off taking Maria and Stan. It’s the people on the counter who advise customers what brand to buy, not the guys in the office.”

“So tell him that.”

“What, and miss out on a pub lunch?”

She laughed. “Since it’s a nice evening, do you fancy a walk? Maybe we could take this pair to the park?”

“Yeah, that sounds good.”

“Great. You finish your dinner then get your trainers on. I’ll change Brad’s nappy.”

Five minutes later, they were walking down the road with Alicia pushing Brad in his buggy and Steven carrying Isla on his shoulders. The playground was almost deserted.

“Maddie suggested we share a taxi to Ewan’s wedding,” Alicia said, pushing Brad in one swing as Steven pushed Isla in the other.

“Great.”

“She also said she’s ordered a new outfit.”

“Oh, and I suppose that means you’ll need one too.”

She nodded. “I think so. I mean, as the team captain’s wife, I have to make an effort. Especially as all the other wives will be so much younger.”

Steven still thought Alicia was sexier than all of them, though he quite fancied their goalkeeper’s girlfriend. She always came to watch the matches wearing short skirts and high heels. He suspected she enjoyed the idea of twenty-two guys ogling—

“I could have a look for an outfit in Edinburgh.”

Her comment jerked him back to the present. “Sorry?”

“I said while I’m in Edinburgh, I might look for something to—”

“I thought Edinburgh was just…” Tension squeezed his stomach muscles.

“Was just what?”

“You know. I thought it was just… something to get us going.”

“Well it certainly got us going. I’m still sore from last night.”

He smiled, relaxing a little. “Yeah well, you shouldn’t have egged me on.”

“I’m not complaining. In fact, I’m hoping to be just as sore on Sunday.”

His muscles tensed again. “Sunday?”

“Yep. I’ve booked my trip to Edinburgh for this weekend.”

Isla was asking to go on the climbing frame, so he lifted her out and she ran off. Alicia lowered Brad down so he could follow his sister. Steven stayed by the swings with Alicia.

His vision seemed to blur at the edges. “And what have you booked, exactly?”

“The train, the hotel.” She held his gaze. “And the escort.”

“I don’t believe you.”

“Why would I lie about something like that?” She stepped closer until their faces were only a few inches apart. “Tell me you don’t like the idea.”

“I don’t like the idea.”

She placed her hand on his chest. “Think about it for a second, then tell me again.”

“I don’t need to think ab—”

“He’ll mean nothing to me emotionally.”

He tried to answer but hesitated, enjoying the playfulness in her eyes and body language.

She smiled triumphantly. “I can see you like the idea. Your shorts are beginning to bulge.”

“Why would you need him when you have me?”

She laughed out loud. “That’s like asking why I’d need a new outfit for the wedding when I have a wardrobe full of clothes.”

Before he could answer, she pushed her body against his, her groin moving invitingly against his semi. “But you already know the answer to both questions,” she whispered. “It’s because what I have is old and tatty, and something new will make me feel good for a few hours.” She gave another smile then walked over to join the kids at the climbing frame.

Steven ran his eyes over her from behind. Her jeans hugged her backside and the vest top showed off her toned arms and shoulders. In forty-eight hours, she’d be in a strange city with a strange man. The thought of it was like a block of ice in his stomach.

There was a warmer feeling lower down, though, and he had to adjust himself in his shorts before walking over to join the rest of his family.

Isla held out her hands. She wanted to walk over the rope-mesh bridge but was too nervous to do it alone.

Alicia flicked a knowing grin at his crotch. “I think I’d better help Isla.”

He sighed, regretting not putting on his jeans instead of the thin shorts. He was embarrassed by his body’s reaction to something that shouldn’t really arouse him.

They stayed in the park for another half hour or so before heading back. Once home, they both bathed the kids. Alicia took Brad to get his nappy and pyjamas on while Steven let Isla stretch out and lie full length in the bath, everything submerged apart from her face. She smiled up at him, her hair floating like a halo around her head.

Alicia came back in to get cream for Brad’s bum and smiled down at their daughter. “If you ask Daddy nicely, he might take you and Brad to the swimming baths on Sunday morning.”

“Yeah!” Isla sat up so fast she set up a tidal wave. “Can we, Daddy?”

“If you like.” He glanced up at Alicia. “Maybe Mummy can come too?”

“Oh, Mummy will be coming, I’m sure about that.” She grinned and left the bathroom.

* * * *

Alicia cuddled Brad in the armchair while Steve and Isla watched Peppa Pig from the couch. She could tell his mind wasn’t really on the TV, though. He was probably desperate for the kids to go to bed so he could resume his questioning. She also suspected that by the time they got into bed, he’d be desperate for something else, too.

She took Brad up first. By the time he was asleep, Steve was reading Isla a story in bed. Alicia went to give her a kiss goodnight, then headed back downstairs.

Steve joined her there ten minutes later. “Fancy a drink?”

“A cup of tea would be nice.”

He left and returned with a mug of tea for her and a beer for himself. He sat on the couch next to her. “So, I’ve been thinking about Edinburgh.”

“Oh?”

“Yeah, and I was wondering... Do you think you could justify using the services of a sex worker? I mean, what if he’s being forced into it by sex-traffickers?”

She couldn’t help smiling. “I suppose I could ask him to confirm that he’s doing it of his own free will.”

He laughed. “Yeah, you do that. When will you ask him? Before or after?”

“Yeah, that’d work. I’m sure he’ll have a clear, objective mind at that point.”

“Hmm.”

He sipped at his beer for a few moments, then took a deep breath.

“Have you really booked the train and hotel?”

“Yes.” She stared into his eyes, wondering why he still thought this was just a wind-up. “And the escort.”

“What are you going to do with him?”

She shrugged. “I don’t know—I’ve never done this before. I suppose a perfect evening would include a nice dinner and interesting conversation followed by good sex.”

He opened his mouth, then closed it again. He swallowed. “I don’t think you should do it.”

“Why not?”

“What if it changes things?”

“Why would it do that? It won’t mean anything. He’ll be just providing a service.”

“But what if it changes us?”

“Do you feel any differently about us after your night with Saskia?”

“No, but it was hardly a night. It was a couple of minutes.”

She smiled. “Well, I’d better get more than two minutes, or I’ll be demanding a refund.”

“You’re really going to fuck another man?”

“I’ve already fucked quite a few other men.”

“How many have you fucked since we’ve been married?”

“None, but that’s not the point. You don’t mind about the others, so I don’t see why one more will make any difference to the way we feel about each other.”

He nodded, but didn’t look appeased. “What will you let him do?”

She leaned close. “Maybe I’ll let him blow his muck down my throat.”

“Yeah, and you can get a lift with me to the sex clinic next week.”

When she’d finished her tea, she sat forward. “I’m going to have a bath. I’m drained.” She smiled. “Somebody kept me up all last night.”

“Yeah, and somebody else will be keeping you up all night on Saturday as well.”

“Ooh, I hope so.” Alicia took her cup through to the kitchen and heard the TV go on as she made her way upstairs.

After a long soak, Alicia shaved her legs then got out and dried herself. Back in the bedroom, she was surprised to see Steve smiling at her from the bed. She wondered what he was looking so pleased about until she noticed the tenting of the quilt. “Oh God, not again.”

“I thought you might need some practice before Saturday.”

She slipped off her dressing gown. “Okay. After our conversation downstairs, I expect you’ll come quickly.”

He looked hurt. “No I won’t.”

Alicia pulled the quilt back and looked at his dick. He’d obviously been playing with himself as there was a pearl of precum in the slit of his tip. “Yes you will, but that’ll be fine.” She bent over and ran her tongue up his shaft, avoiding contact with any precum. “I want you to come quickly.”

He reached over to the bedside cabinet, took out a condom and quickly fitted it. “Why?”

“Because it’ll prove the idea of me using some hired help turns you on.”

“I don’t need anything else to turn me on. You do that on your own.”

“Hmm.” She climbed onto the bed and straddled him.

He glanced down at her sex, then up into her eyes. “Don’t you need me to...?”

She shook her head. Having spent the last half hour fantasising about her trip to Edinburgh, she was more than wet enough. Gripping his cock, she lowered herself onto it and let out a sigh. It felt good, and she clenched around him.

Steve moaned and raised his hips, pushing deeper into her. “Are you going to do this to him?”

She ignored the question, keeping her eyes closed and rocking her hips. She wanted to make sure she was well on the way to her orgasm before she talked him into his. She felt his hands on her breasts, his thumbs grazing over the nipples.

“Will you let him play with these?”

She smiled, her eyes still closed. “He probably won’t bother—most women have bigger boobs than me. I wasn’t that big before having kids, but I think Brad drained them completely.”

“Not everyone likes a big bust.”

She rocked faster, his hardness filling her. She wouldn’t take long. “In that case he can play with them all he likes.” She opened her eyes. “Maybe I’ll ask him to blow his muck on my tits.”

He stared up at her, teeth clenched.

She smiled. "But I won't be allowing him to blow his muck anywhere until he's made me come."

His only response was to push himself deeper inside her.

She stroked his face. "You can come whenever you're ready."

He lowered his hands to her hips and bounced her on his dick. His fingers were hurting her, but she didn't care. She was already riding the upswell with no danger of missing the wave.

Steve let out a low groan just as Alicia's orgasm was about to break. It tipped her over the edge. His body jerked beneath hers. She bounced and twisted, conscious of his cock twitching inside her as they climaxed together. Jolts shot through her. For a moment she thought she might be able to come a second time, but the intensity faded. She slowed her movements.

When she opened her eyes, he was looking up at her, his expression solemn.

"What?" she asked, pushing her hair back from her face.

"After Saturday, it'll be my turn again."

"Your turn with me?"

"No. My turn with the hired help."

Chapter 6

Alicia sat on the train, sipping from the bottle of water she'd bought at the station. She'd put on a pair of jeans and a jumper since the weather wasn't as warm as it had been earlier in the week. The situation felt surreal: travelling 250 miles for the sole purpose of having sex with a stranger. Her mind flipped to thoughts of home. She'd left everything Steve needed for the kids' meals in the fridge. He would manage for a couple of days.

A couple of days dedicated exclusively to her own needs.

By pretending that she was the one being paid, it was easy to imagine herself as a courtesan. The more she thought about it, the more she liked the idea.

Have cunt, will travel.

Was this low-level buzz of nervous anticipation something Saskia also felt before her shifts at the club?

Will Xavier be feeling the same way now?

It was hard to believe someone with such a confident smile would get anxious about anything, though. It was even harder to believe that anyone from Scotland would actually name their child Xavier.

The journey passed quickly.

Waverley station had an impressive glass-domed ceiling that showed the overcast sky above. Outside on the pavement, the biting cold wind made her glad she hadn't chosen a light summer dress.

She took a taxi to the hotel, a large sandstone building with turrets, and checked in. Her room was nicer than she'd expected; she particularly liked the well-lit, marble-tiled bathroom. She quickly unpacked her holdall and hung up the dress she'd brought for that night, then left to explore the city.

The streets were crowded, the buildings magnificent. History seemed to seep out of every brick, and she wasn't surprised to see numerous signs for ghost tours. She wandered aimlessly down Princes Street and The Royal Mile, then bought a baguette from a stall in Grassmarket and sat on a bench to eat it. The castle loomed high on its rock at the end of the street.

Later, she wandered through a few boutiques and saw a dark grey dress which would be ideal for the wedding. It came to mid-calf, was sleeveless and had a halter neck and low-cut back. When she tried it on, the split up the front of her left leg went higher than she'd have liked. Other than that, the dress was perfect. But it also cost a small fortune.

On her way to replace it on the rack, she changed her mind veered to the tills, where she paid with her own credit card. It was an investment item, after all. As she made her way back to the hotel, she called at an off licence and bought a bottle of chilled Prosecco. She had three hours to kill before her date.

* * * *

Isla came out of the French doors as Steven was watering the patio tubs. "Daddy, I'm hungry."

"Okay. I'll just finish this then make you some dinner."

She gave a smile and headed back inside. Steven checked his watch. It was almost six. He wondered what Alicia would be doing at that moment. Maybe she was in the bath, getting herself clean and smooth for her date. Or maybe she'd finished that part already and was now doing the whole moisturising thing before applying her makeup. He tried to imagine how she'd wear her hair, and what colour lipstick she'd choose.

He closed his eyes and took a deep breath. His heart was thumping. He didn't know if it was down to anger, frustration, humiliation or jealousy. Maybe it was a cocktail of them all, with a little excitement thrown in to confuse him even more.

Why the hell do I feel excited about it?

For the past couple of days, he'd been dwelling on why Alicia had really gone to Edinburgh. Having hung onto the hope that she'd decided to go there to make him think she was meeting someone, he'd checked their banking app. The train ticket and hotel booking fee had been taken, but there was no evidence of a payment for an escort.

Maybe the guy didn't get paid until he'd provided the service.

Perhaps she'd paid from her own account.

Or maybe, Steven's rational mind kept saying, there wasn't going to be a man at all. Alicia could be intending to wander around a city she'd always wanted to visit, have a nice dinner and a few drinks, then go back to her room and get a good night's sleep without him or the kids pestering her.

Yet deep inside, he knew she wouldn't go to those lengths just to pretend, or to teach him a lesson. She'd never been the kind to give false threats, or—

“Daddy!”

He sighed. “Right, I'm coming. Fish fingers and potato waffles coming up.”

* * * *

Alicia peered at her reflection. She'd left her hair down but pinned one side behind her ear, and now couldn't decide if she liked it or not. Her makeup she did like. It'd been a while since she'd done the full works. Nowadays she barely had time to apply mascara and lippy, so regarding her face with foundation, blusher, eyeshadow and liner was like meeting an old friend. She walked over to the wardrobe and took out both dresses. The black one she'd intended to wear was nice, but she was drawn to the dress she'd bought earlier, at the boutique. It was classy and sexy, which was how she wanted to be perceived tonight.

After hanging the black one back in the wardrobe, she put on the new dress and walked to the full-length mirror. Looking good. She stepped into her shoes and admired her reflection again, turning slowly to check out her bum.

Alicia gave herself a sexy smile. “If Xavier doesn't turn up, I'll fuck you myself.”

A couple of minutes before the taxi was due to pick her up, she double-checked the contents of her sparkly clutch, gave the room a quick tidy, then walked down to the foyer.

At the reception desk, she was informed her taxi was already waiting. A couple of men chatting on the steps outside smiled as she walked past. In the reflection of the taxi's tinted window, she saw them turn around to check her out from behind. She gave the driver the name of the restaurant, then sat back and looked at all the fabulous buildings as the taxi made its way through the city.

The journey was quicker than expected. Arriving early, she paid and tipped the driver and walked over the wide pavement to the restaurant.

She recognised Xavier as soon as she stepped inside. He was sitting on a stool, chatting to the barman. She approached him, held out her hand and smiled. "Hi, I'm Alicia."

Momentary surprise flickered in his eyes before his confident smile slid into place. He stood up to shake her hand. "Hi Alicia, good to meet you." His voice was rich, the Scottish accent barely noticeable. "Can I order you a drink?"

"Gin and tonic would be great, thanks."

As he ordered, she studied him. He was even better looking in real life than in his photo, and much taller than she'd expected. Steve was six-one, but this guy was two or three inches taller. He wore a charcoal grey suit over a white shirt open at the neck.

Handing her the glass, he glanced around the room and pointed to a vacant leather couch in the corner. "Shall we sit there until our table's ready?"

Alicia nodded and he held out one arm, inviting her to lead the way. She put her drink on the low table and sat on the couch, conscious of how much leg the split in her dress showed. He behaved like the perfect gentleman and kept his dark brown eyes on her face.

"Have you been here before?" he asked, then nodded toward the window. "I mean the city, not the restaurant."

"No, first time. I came to Scotland as a child, but not Edinburgh. We toured the Highlands. I remember Glencoe, Fort William and a cable car ride up a mountain near Ben Nevis."

He nodded. "Aonach Mòr. It's popular with skiers in the winter."

"Yes, that was it." She took a sip of her drink, then a young Maître D' came to tell them their table was ready.

They followed him through the narrow arch into the main part of the restaurant. The low ceiling and wrought iron partitions gave the place an intimate feel. Once seated, they made more small talk about the city, and Alicia named the places she'd visited that day.

"So, how long are you in Edinburgh for?" he asked.

“Are you here on business?”

“No. I’m here purely for pleasure.”

His eyes widened fractionally, then he nodded. “Okay.” His eyes glanced down at her hand on the table.

She’d considered removing her wedding and engagement rings for the night but had decided against it.

“So,” he said, picking up his glass. “What sort of business do you work in?”

He gave a puzzled look. “You’re in some sort of counselling group? Or a charity of some sort?”

“We strive for oral perfection.”

He coughed his drink back into the glass, then wiped his mouth with the napkin. “Pardon?”

“Sorry,” she said, laughing. “I’m a dental lab technician. We try to give everyone the perfect smile.”

“Ah. That sort of oral perfection.”

“But I’m on a career break at the moment.”

“Oh.”

“Or to be more accurate, a prolonged maternity leave.”

“Maternity? You’ve had a baby?”

“I’ve had two. My eldest is almost five, and my youngest is seventeen months. By rights I should have started back at work six months ago, but I’ve managed to get my leave extended until the end of the year.”

“Cool.”

“What about you? Do you have a day job, or is entertaining lonely ladies your main role?”

He held her gaze for a few moments. “It doesn’t sound like you’re a lonely lady.”

“I’m not, but you didn’t answer my question.”

“This is my main role, but I also work a few hours a week as a personal trainer.”

The waiter arrived with menus and a basket of bread. Alicia skimmed through the menu and decided to have the sea bass.

“Is Xavier your real name?”

He gave an embarrassed shake of the head. “No. The website suggested it.”

When he didn’t elaborate on what his actual name was, Alicia shrugged. “It doesn’t matter. I’ll always think of you as Ed from Edinburgh.”

He grinned. “I suppose I’m lucky we didn’t arrange to meet in Dumbarton.”

Alicia laughed out loud. “Good point. So, can I ask you more questions about your work?”

“Of course.” He reached into the basket and took a chunk of bread.

“How did you get into it?”

“A friend of mine does it. He suggested I give it a try.”

“And how long have you been doing it?”

“Almost two years.”

She wondered how many women that meant he’d ‘escorted’.

“Any more questions?” he asked, an amused half-smile creating dimples beneath his stubble.

“Hundreds, but that’s just because I’m curious.” She shook her head and sighed. “Just assure me you’re not having to do this to pay for a drug habit or gambling debts.”

He laughed so loud that people at the other tables looked in their direction. Then he leaned forward and looked into her eyes. “I do this because I enjoy it. I get to meet some very nice people, and I always try to give customer satisfaction.”

Alicia squeezed her thighs together.

“What’s more,” he said, still smiling, “I don’t actually need the money. My parents own several properties in the city and let me live in one rent-free. I’m an only child and will probably inherit everything.” He pressed his fingers against the tabletop as a show of touching wood. “Though hopefully, that won’t be for a long time.”

Alicia nodded, happy to be able to reassure Steve in detail that her escort hadn’t been forced into the sex trade. The waiter came to take their order, and a few minutes later returned with the wine they’d chosen.

Xavier was looking at her with an expectant smile.

“What?” she asked.

“Aren’t you going to ask about my other clients?”

“I didn’t think that’d be appropriate—I’d hate to think that you’d tell your next client about me.”

“Sorry, I didn’t phrase that well. Obviously I never reveal anything about individuals, but people often ask about the types of women who use an escort service. That was my first question to the friend who suggested I try it.”

“So, what types of women do hire your services?”

“I’d say it’s a fifty-fifty split between people who live here and people who’re visiting. The visitors are usually professionals—here on business for a few days or travelling—who want a get together without the hassle of picking someone up.”

Alicia liked the idea of that. She could imagine that after a long day of stressful business meetings, a night between the sheets with this gorgeous guy would be a perfect way to unwind. “What about the local clients?”

“They’re women who don’t want a relationship but enjoy the occasional night with company. A lot of people seem to imagine that people who book escorts are sad, lonely women who can’t get a boyfriend.” He shook his head. “That’s not who they are. They’re attractive women who don’t feel the need for a full-time relationship. Some nights they’re happy to sit in alone and watch a movie, but on other nights they want to go out and have fun.”

“You must get to eat in a lot of nice places.”

“It sounds like a lot of fun.”

“It is.”

Their food arrived. As they ate, the conversation moved away from his life as an escort and onto general things.

“Your accent’s not as strong as that of some Scottish people I’ve met,” she said.

“Like any country, the accents are regional. Edinburgh alone has several very different accents. I mean, do the guys in Trainspotting sound anything like Sean Connery?”

She laughed. “No, I guess not.”

“So,” he said after he’d finished eating, “Am I also allowed to ask questions?”

She nodded. “I think that’s only fair.”

“I know you have two children, and I can see two very shiny rings on your wedding finger. Are you married or separated?”

“Married.”

“Okay.” Xavier looked a little unsure of himself for the first time. “Is your husband here in Edinburgh with you?”

“No, he’s back home in England looking after our children.”

He nodded. “Have you told him about your trip?”

“Yes. He knows where I am, and he knows why I’m here.”

“And he doesn’t mind?”

She hesitated. “I’m not completely sure. There’s probably some resentment on his part.”

He pursed his lips but didn’t comment.

“While my husband was visiting a strip club in Prague, he had sex with one of the lap dancers.”

“Ah. And he told you?”

She nodded. “He thought it’d turn me on.”

“Did it?”

“Maybe.” She shrugged, feeling slightly embarrassed at her confession. “But the idea of finding my own equivalent of his stripper turned me on a lot more.”

“So this is a revenge thing?”

“I don’t see it as revenge. It’s not me getting even, it’s me getting the same as he did.”

He grinned. “Do you want me to perform a lap dance for you?”

“No, I just want you to perform.”

He held her gaze. “It’ll be my pleasure.”

Heat welled in her groin. “Do you want dessert?”

“No thanks.”

“Good.” She signalled the waiter and asked for the bill. When it arrived, Xavier reached out for it, but Alicia shook her head. “I’m getting this.”

“We can split—”

“No, I’m paying.” She handed over her credit card. When the waiter returned with her receipt, she handed over £20 as a tip.

Once outside, Xavier asked her where she was staying. As she searched the streets for a taxi, she told him the name of the hotel.

“Oh, perfect. Did you book it after I suggested the restaurant?”

“No, why?”

“It took five minutes in the taxi coming here.”

“Could be due to the one-way streets, or maybe the driver liked looking at you in his mirror.”

“Or maybe he thought he’d rip off the tourist.”

“We don’t do that in Scotland—not even to the English.”

Goosebumps rose on her bare arms and back. Xavier must have noticed her shivering because he took off his jacket and draped it around her shoulders.

“Thank you.” She slipped her hand into his arm, looking around at the fabulous old buildings. The castle directly ahead looked even more spectacular when illuminated by spotlights. “It’s a beautiful city.”

“It is.”

She looked up into his face for a second, then stretched up and closed her eyes as she kissed him gently on the lips. His stubble tickled, and her insides fluttered. She pulled back and squeezed his arm. “Take me to the hotel.”

Chapter 7

Alicia opened her door and allowed Xavier to go in first. He turned to face her in the middle of the room. While her insides churned with a whole range of emotions, he seemed completely calm.

Of course he is. He's a professional.

Even wearing four-inch heels, she was much shorter than he was. She tried to hide how nervous she suddenly felt. "Is this where you usually take charge?"

"I'll do whatever you want me to. If you want to take charge, that'll be fine with me."

"Really?"

He nodded.

Her mind raced. She wanted so many things. "Okay, so would you take charge for a little while?"

He wrapped strong arms around her and pulled her close, cradling the back of her head as he kissed her deeply. Alicia opened her mouth and pushed her tongue into his. Eyes closed, she concentrated on the kiss and the way his arms felt around her. She ran her palms over his muscled back.

Xavier eventually broke the kiss, turning her so they both faced the full-length mirror. He bent and kissed her neck while running his hands up and down her arms. His kisses moved down to her bare shoulders and his hands slid around to her tummy.

Alicia gazed at their reflection as she relished the sensations. Xavier moved his hands higher and cupped her breasts. She let out a soft moan and rested her head back against his chest as his thumbs gently stroked her raised nipples.

He brought his fingers up and unfastened the halter neck. The front of the dress fell forward, baring her from the waist up.

She pushed back into him and shifted her bum from side to side, feeling the bulge of his cock in the small of her back. She watched through half-closed eyes as his large, dark hands explored her pale, untanned breasts.

Just as she was getting breathless, he released her breasts and slid his hands down to her hips. His fingers gripped the material of the dress and began to pull it up. He slid a hand through the split in the skirt and ran his warm palm over the front of her panties.

Alicia mumbled encouragement and pushed forward onto his hand. He nibbled her shoulder and ran his finger between her legs, pressing the sodden gusset of her panties into the swollen folds of her sex.

“Oh...” She pumped her hips, desperate for any sort of friction.

Xavier moved his mouth up to her ear, his hot breath giving her goosebumps. He turned so they were facing the bed, then bent her forward until she placed her hands on the mattress.

He dropped to his knees and kissed the back of her thigh, then moved his kisses higher. Pulling the panties to one side, he pressed the tip of his tongue against the puckered flesh of her anus. She groaned. As he pushed his tongue again, he ran a finger through the slick folds of her sex.

Alicia shuddered. Her breathing had become ragged.

He crouched lower and eased his face between her legs. His tongue swept through her cleft. Alicia whimpered as he did it again, this time circling her clit with a fingertip. At the end of the third sweep, he pushed his tongue into her channel and kept it there as his fingertip teased and stroked her engorged clit.

Alicia's legs began to shake. She bent her elbows and rested her forehead on the mattress between her hands as Xavier continued to fuck her with his tongue. Her individual moans had become one continuous murmur, pitching higher and higher.

Her legs locked straight, and she cried out as her orgasm broke. He pushed his tongue deep and held it there as her muscles spasmed and her mind soared.

When she regained her senses, he was gently kissing her inner thighs while tugging away her panties.

Alicia heard his zip open. She raised her head and glanced toward the mirror. A condom foil caught the light as it fluttered to the floor. She watched as he bent his knees, positioned his cock and, in one fluid movement, straightened his legs and entered her. Shock and pleasure made her cry out as he almost lifted her feet off the floor.

His second thrust went even deeper, making Alicia swear. Xavier seemed to take it as encouragement. He gripped her hips and fucked her with a steady rhythm. Once stretched enough to accommodate his girth, she pushed back to meet each thrust. Another orgasm was building.

Xavier kept up the same rhythm, pushing her ever closer to release. She clenched her jaw and slammed back onto his cock, lowering her head back to the mattress and bunching the sheet in her fists.

Just as she was reaching the point of no return, Xavier moved his hand around and touched her clit. It was like being electrocuted. With no time to cry out, she shuddered as the orgasm wracked her body.

Finally, Xavier stopped thrusting and pulled out. He helped her stand upright, then undid the zip at the side of her dress and lifted. Alicia watched as he shook it out and hung it carefully over the back of the hardbacked chair at the desk. When he turned around to face her, he smiled.

She ran her eyes down his body. His cock stood straight out the fly of his trousers, and the teat at the end of the pink condom was completely empty.

“Lie on the bed,” he instructed.

Alicia stepped out of her shoes and lay naked in the middle. Xavier held her gaze while he took off his shirt. His shoulders and arms were well-toned, his abs clearly defined. He shed the rest of his clothes and crawled onto the bed beside her.

“Ready to continue?”

She nodded, glancing at his rigid cock and wondering how on earth she’d managed to take it all.

He knelt between her parted knees and fed it back inside her. Supporting his upper body with his arms, he pumped slowly at first.

Alicia struggled to keep her eyes open as he picked up the pace but desperately wanted to watch his face while he fucked her. To be more precise, she wanted to see his expression when he came. She reached up and ran her hands over his solid, sculpted shoulders and arms.

He adjusted his angle so that his shaft slid against her clit with each thrust. Alicia rarely came twice. She couldn’t remember ever coming three times in a single session but, as Xavier's thick cock glided over her throbbing clit, she knew it was going to happen tonight.

The contact was delicious, sending a warm current radiating through every nerve. The heat intensified and she pushed her head back into the pillow. Despite her intentions, she squeezed her eyes shut. In her mind's eye, she could see water rising against a dam. The flow surged with each stroke, putting more and more strain on the wall.

Alicia opened her eyes as the dam finally broke. She arched her back and stared into his face as her third orgasm burst through her. She screamed and rocked her hips, grinding herself against him as he continued to plough into her.

She was almost too sensitive for contact but had no intention of asking for a rest. There was a look in his eyes that she'd seen many times before. He was ready to come.

Xavier reached down and lifted her left leg, placing it over his right shoulder. Then, with his head directly over hers, he resumed pumping his hips. Alicia reached up and placed her palms on his cheeks, watching his beautiful face. His jaw was clenched, and there was a sheen of sweat on his forehead.

He stroked into her several more times then held still. His nostrils flared and his cock pulsed. Alicia writhed beneath him. He pumped his hips a couple more times and held still again.

She slipped her leg off his shoulder and pulled him down on top, wrapping her arms around his waist and kissing his face as he gave the final few thrusts. He stilled, and they lay entwined. When his cock finally began to shrink inside her, he withdrew and removed the condom.

Alicia pulled the covers back and they slipped between the sheets. She laid her head on his chest and closed her eyes, listening to his heartbeat.

She turned onto her side and looked into his face. "Can I ask you more questions?"

He smiled and nodded. "Of course."

She wanted to know about his background but wasn't sure how to put it into words without offending him. "Tell me about your parents and their heritage?"

"My dad's Scottish, as were most of his ancestors. My mother's a French national, but she was born in Djibouti in East Africa."

“How did they meet?”

“My dad spent a couple of years in France. They worked together there, and when it was time for him to return to Scotland, he brought his new black bride with him.” He smiled. “I think his family was a little shocked at first, but she soon won them over.”

She smiled. “Can I ask another?”

“Sure.”

“You looked a bit uncomfortable earlier, when I told you that my husband knew why I’d come to Edinburgh.”

“Did I?”

She nodded. “Don’t you usually see married women?”

“I don’t usually ask. Some women wear rings on that finger, some don’t.”

“So why were you uncomfortable?”

He seemed to hesitate, then smiled. “I feel like we’ve been pretty open tonight. We’ve talked about things that aren’t usually mentioned.”

She sat up. “Have we?”

“Nobody else has asked me how my parents met, or if I have a drug or gambling habit.”

She laughed. “What can I say? I’m nosy.”

“Whatever the reason, I liked it. It felt...” He frowned again.

“What?”

He sighed. “It felt more like a regular date than a night where I’m working.”

“Is that bad?” She worried he’d prefer things to be more business-like.

“No, it’s a nice change. So, your questions. Yes, I see married women. I’m sure quite a few of my visiting clients are married women, but they never ask about my life or tell me about theirs. I’ve also met a couple of married women who’ve booked my services and asked me to perform while their husbands were present.”

“They wanted to fuck you while their husband watched?”

He nodded. “The first time, the guy sat on a chair and...” He gave an embarrassed shake of the head which she found endearing. “He played with himself while watching me and his wife.”

“Did it bother you?”

“It was... weird.”

“And the second?”

“The woman wanted me and her husband at the same time. Which was fine in itself—two guys at once is a common fantasy for a lot of women—but in this case, the wife kept saying hurtful things to her husband.”

“Hurtful as in...?”

“Cruel.” Xavier shook his head. “Picking on his penis size and his performance.”

“And she said those things while the three of you were in bed together?”

He nodded. “I felt sorry for him, so I got out of bed and dressed.”

“What did they say?”

“She said it was just an act they went through, and that she didn’t mean any of the things she’d said. Apparently, he liked to hear them while he watched her getting...” He shrugged. “I explained that it wasn’t something I was comfortable with. I apologised for wasting their time and guaranteed them a refund. Then I left.”

“I’ve read about people who live that lifestyle.”

He nodded. “Yeah, me too. I also know there are thousands of men who are only too happy to play the part of the bull. What’s more, they don’t usually charge for their services.”

“What if she hadn’t humiliated her husband? Would you have shared the bed with both of them?”

“Of course.”

“Have you done that before?”

He nodded. “Some women hire two men for the night.”

The thought of two guys like Xavier pleasuring her at the same time made Alicia tremble. “God, why didn’t I think of that?”

He chuckled and stroked her hair. “Are you telling me that I wasn’t enough?”

“No.” She looked into his eyes. “You were more than enough.”

“I’m glad to hear it.”

She wondered if he was still on the clock. “How long do I get you for?”

“How long do you need?”

She ran her hand down his hard tummy. “Probably longer than I can afford.”

“I’m yours for the night.”

“You are?”

When he nodded, Alicia slid her hand under the sheet. She stroked his cock, then moved lower and cupped his balls. They were as big as hen’s eggs. She gripped his cock and squeezed. Even flaccid, it was weighty and thick.

She kept her eyes on his and moved her body down the bed. Once level with his knees, she knelt up, eased down the sheet and leaned over him. His cock was already starting to grow. Keeping her gaze locked on his, she lowered her head and took him into her mouth. He tasted of condom lubricant, but she didn’t care. She swirled her tongue around the tip and pushed her head down. She didn’t manage to get more than half of his length in her mouth because his cock was getting bigger. And harder.

Steven couldn’t concentrate on the movie. The kids had been asleep for hours and he’d had a couple of beers. He glanced at the clock on the mantelpiece and imagined his wife with another man at a table for two, laughing and joking. Flirting.

When he thought about the first time he’d taken Alicia out, he smiled. He’d asked her out because of the way she looked—she had the best legs he’d ever seen, and her smile had made his knees weak. It still did. But she’d blown him away with her sense of humour. She’d been so sharp, her retorts funny and sassy.

At the end of the evening, she’d told him that if he wanted her to respect him, he should wait until the second date before trying to grope her body. He’d asked how many dates he’d need to wait if he wanted her to fall in love with him, and her expression changed. They’d gone back to her flat and spent the next twenty-four hours in bed. He’d moved in with her the following week.

And now, more than seven years later, he was sitting at home minding their children while she was providing funny ripostes and flirting with another man.

Would they have left the restaurant yet? Maybe they were in the hotel bar having one final nightcap before heading up to her room...

He snatched up the remote and turned off the TV. After checking the doors were locked, he turned off the lights and went upstairs, where he checked on Isla and Brad. Both were sleeping soundly, blissfully unaware of what Mummy was up to and of the effect it was having on Daddy.

In bed he lay on his back with his eyes sweeping over their bedroom, lit only by the faint glow from streetlights seeping around the edge of the curtains.

When he closed his eyes, he saw his wife's pretty face looking down at him. She was naked and slowly rocking her body. Glancing lower, he could see she had a cock inside her—but it wasn't his.

Another man's cock was buried in his wife's writhing body, and it was all his own fault. Alicia's eyes closed and her mouth dropped open. He'd seen that expression a thousand times, but this time somebody else was making her come.

He pushed his head back into his pillow and took his cock in his fist. He hated himself for having an erection. He clenched his jaw and sighed, then began to pump his hand up and down.

* * * *

Alicia gripped the base of Xavier's shaft and closed her lips around the tip, moving the flat of her tongue over the glans. He let out low murmurs of enjoyment. She only did this for a couple of minutes because what she wanted was to sit on his wonderful cock. To feel the full length of it pushing up into her.

Releasing him from her mouth, she crawled up his body to reach for the drawer in the side of the headboard. He groaned as she slowly smoothed another condom down his length.

Alicia was aware of him watching her. When she'd gotten the rubber as far down his dick as it would reach, she looked into his face. "Is it okay if I take charge for a little while?"

"Of course."

She knelt up and straddled his hips. Gripping his cock, she inched herself forwards, then lowered herself onto it. She was already stretched and lubricated but it was still a struggle—she had to pause and lift up a little before taking in more.

When she was finally able to accommodate it all, she placed her hands on his chest and began to move her body. She thrust her hips forward and back for a few seconds, then rotated in tiny circles before bouncing herself up and down. Every action brought delicious contact with different parts of her. He filled her completely, and it seemed like every nerve ending of her insides was being massaged.

Alicia ground down on him, eager to come again. She held her breath and rocked her clit against his body, only exhaling when the first surge of her orgasm broke. Gulping in deep breaths, she bounced up and down on his cock. It prodded deep and stretched her to the limit, but she didn't stop.

Xavier gave her a smile and placed his hands on her hips, raising his buttocks off the bed to go even deeper.

“Will you be able to come like this?” she asked, still breathless.

His expression became serious. “I could come just by looking at you.”

Alicia blinked, flattered, then reached behind and stroked his balls. “I want you to come.” She squeezed gently. “And I want to hold these while you do it.”

“Then just keep doing what you're doing.”

She bounced harder, the slap of their bodies and their ragged breaths filling the room. Then his eyes fluttered, and his balls jumped inside the sack.

Xavier let out a grunt and his balls flexed a second time. The thought of them firing more and more cum up his cock tipped her over the edge and she tumbled into another orgasm. She released his balls and fell forward onto his chest, shuddering.

He wrapped his big, strong arms around her and held her close, kissing her forehead as she rode out the final waves of pleasure. When she stopped moving, Xavier didn't let her go.

Alicia fell asleep with his arms around her and his softening cock still inside her.

Chapter 8

Steven woke early on Sunday morning, and he was showered and dressed before the kids got up. After they'd all had breakfast, he cleared away the dishes, then dressed the kids.

"Do you guys still want to go swimming?" he asked.

Isla squealed and Brad, mainly in response to his sister's excitement, ran around the room in circles, laughing.

Forty minutes later, Steven was sitting in the small pool at the local leisure centre. Brad used a small bucket to catch water cascading from the trunk of a large plastic elephant and poured it over his dad's head. Isla had made friends with a girl in a pink swimming costume, and the two of them were playing on the small slide at the other side of the kids' pool. After an hour, Steven insisted it was time to get out. Once dressed, they headed to the poolside café for a snack. Isla chose a fluorescent slushie that turned her tongue blue, and Brad seemed to get more chocolate round his mouth than in it.

Steven sipped his coffee and looked up at the clock at the far end of the pool. Alicia would be on the train home by now. He imagined her resting her head against the carriage window and ignoring the passing landscape as she replayed the previous night.

Will she tell me everything?

Hearing about what had happened would be a bittersweet experience; he craved yet dreaded the details.

A toddler at the next table screamed, interrupting Steven's thoughts. After putting all their detritus into the bin, he ushered the kids out of the building. The sun was trying its best to break through the clouds.

Once home, Steven spent an hour ironing his work clothes and Isla's school uniforms, then made the kids a sandwich for lunch. He wasn't hungry, his stomach too knotted. He checked his watch obsessively until he decided to take the kids to the station early so they could watch the trains.

There was a free bench on the platform, and two other trains stopped and departed before the intercity from Edinburgh arrived. The passengers disembarked, and Steven felt a pang of longing when he saw Alicia getting off the carriage. She looked great in a plain white top and jeans, her hair loose and shining in the sunlight.

Isla ran up the platform to meet her, but he waited by the bench with Brad, who squealed when he caught sight of his mum. Alicia bent to wrap her arms around her daughter and carried her back to the bench, then bent to pick up Brad, too. Steven took her bag, and Alicia smiled at him, Brad in one arm and Isla holding onto her other hand.

“Welcome home,” he said.

“Thanks.”

“How was your trip?”

She held his gaze for a moment. “Wonderful.”

It wasn’t really the answer he’d wanted. He slung the strap of her holdall over his shoulder. “Should I be happy for you?”

She laughed, leaning closer. “There’s no need. I’m happy enough for both of us.”

“Bitch.” They made their way along the platform and up the steps to the station exit.

She kissed his cheek. “Missed you, too.”

He snorted. “I find that hard to believe.”

“Yeah, it was a lie.” Alicia gave him a playful smile. “I’m just trying to cheer you up.”

“You can do that later, when the kids are asleep.”

She laughed out loud. “I don’t think I’ll be able to manage anything like that for a few days.”

He glared at her, which made her laugh again. She nuzzled Brad’s neck, then looked down at Isla. “Your eyes are pink. Did Daddy take you swimming?”

Isla nodded, then opened her mouth wide to show her blue tongue. “I had a slushie.”

“So I see.”

“Have the kids behaved for you?” she asked, as he pulled out onto the road.

“They’ve been really good.” He threw her a smirk. “How about you?”

“I’ve been very good, too.” She smiled. “At least, that’s what he said.”

Steven’s stomach clenched. “Lucky him.”

Alicia squeezed his arm, then turned round to talk to the kids. “How about we all go out to the pub with the great playground?”

The kids nodded enthusiastically.

“Shall I drive straight there?” he asked.

She shook her head. “Let’s go home first. They need cleaner clothes, and I’ll put a skirt on.”

He nodded, and for the rest of the journey Alicia chatted to the kids. Once home, he took her holdall upstairs and dropped it onto the bed, then changed his t-shirt. Alicia sorted the kids into new clothes, then came into the bedroom and stripped down to her underwear.

Steven let his eyes wander over her body.

“Checking for damage?”

He looked up, surprised she’d noticed his scrutiny. “Sorry?”

“Your close inspection reminds me of company rep checking a hire car for scratches.”

“Would I find any?”

“Probably.” She stepped close and looked up into his face. “You can look for them later, if you like.”

“I thought you’d need a few days to recover?”

“I only said you could look.”

He laughed, then inhaled her perfume. “You smell nice.”

“Thanks. Shall we walk to the pub? That way, we can both have a couple of drinks.”

The pub was about a mile away. “Yeah, that’ll be good. I’ll go put Brad in his buggy.”

* * * *

As they walked along the footpath, Brad singing happily in his buggy while Steve carried Isla on his shoulders, Alicia knew that anyone passing them would see a happy little family unit. Which they were.

Nobody would guess what she'd been up to the night before. The thought made her smile.

Steve did his best to keep the conversation casual, but she could sense his eagerness to ask questions about her night. During the train journey south, she'd decided to limit the details she gave to the physical aspects. She had no idea what her husband had been thinking while his stripper was bouncing on his cock, and she intended to be just as vague about her thoughts and emotions while with Xavier.

As they searched for a free table at the pub, Alicia heard someone call her name across the beer garden. Looking round, she saw Maddie and Tom sitting at a table with a couple she didn't recognise. When Isla saw her classmate, she wriggled until Steve put her down. The girls ran off toward the swings, quickly followed by Brad.

"Hiya," Maddie said, standing up to hug both Steve and Alicia. "This is Jodie and Chris, who we used to live next door to."

Alicia smiled in greeting and Steve leaned over to shake hands.

"Can I get you guys a drink?" Steve asked.

"I've just got a round," Tom said, standing up. "You take a pew, I'll go get you a drink. What's the order?"

"Cheers buddy. I'll have a pint of whatever lager they have, and...?" He looked towards Alicia.

"A white wine for me, please, and apple juice for Isla. I've got something for Brad already." She held up the changing bag.

After Tom had gone into the pub, the others made room for her and Steve to sit down.

Maddie looked at Steve. "Did you play five-a-side this morning, too?"

"No, I took the kids swimming."

"Ah, nice. Apparently Ewan twisted his ankle badly enough that they had to abandon the game to take him to A&E. Now he's worried he'll be limping down the aisle."

Steve looked aghast. "Jeez."

Alicia dug her elbow into his ribs. "Are you thinking about it ruining his honeymoon, or more worried that you'll be a player short at the start of next season?"

Steve looked a little embarrassed. "Both."

Tom returned with drinks, and the six adults chatted for an hour or so while the kids ran around the playground. Steve bought another round and, after the others had left, Alicia went inside to order their food.

As they ate, she could feel her husband's eyes on her. When the kids had eaten as much as they could and gone back to the playground, she sighed. "Okay, what do you want to know?"

"Everything."

"We met in a restaurant. He was nice, and—"

"What did he look like?"

"Tall, dark and handsome."

"Can you be a little more specific?"

She shrugged. "What does it matter? I have no idea what Saskia looked like."

His eyes opened in surprise, then he shrugged. "Straight blonde hair with a fringe, prominent cheekbones, greeny-hazel eyes."

"Okay. Mine looked a bit like a young Thierry Henry, but taller. He was about six-four."

"Thierry Henry's black."

She nodded. "Mine was mixed race—Scottish father, African mother."

Her answer seemed to have taken the wind out of his sails, so she continued. "We met in the restaurant and had dinner. I had sea bass, he had some sort of steak. We talked, then walked back to the hotel."

"What did you talk about?"

"Lots of things, including why he was a sex worker. He assured me he hadn't been forced into it." She smiled. "Apparently he enjoys it, and he's very good at his job."

Steve took a sip of his drink. "And what about when you got back to the hotel?"

"Ah..." She gave a little breathy sigh. "That's when we stopped talking for a while."

He watched her for a few seconds, then seemed to get impatient. "And?"

"And we had sex."

"I was expecting more detail than that."

"I don't think a beer garden is really the place to—"

“Just a brief outline of what went on, like I did for you.”

“Okay.” She checked nobody at the closest tables could hear, then leaned closer. “He went down on me, then we fucked. Twice. First time he started off from behind with me bent over the bed and finished in missionary. Second time I went on top.” She raised her eyebrows. “Happy now?”

He shook his head. “I have a lot of other questions.”

“Of course you do.” She nodded at her glass. “Let’s have one more drink, then we’ll go back and get the kids bathed and in bed. If you’re a good boy, I’ll give you a few more tidbits while I give you a handjob.”

His jaw dropped, but then he leaned closer. “Why just a handjob?”

“Because you’re waiting for the all-clear from the clinic, and I should probably go and get tested as well.” She decided to give him another prod of the jealousy stick. “I sucked his dick when he wasn’t wearing a condom.”

“You did what?”

“Just like Saskia sucked yours.” She smiled sweetly. “Now, go and get us another drink so we can enjoy the last of the sunshine.”

* * * *

Steven snatched up their glasses and walked into the pub, a cold knot of anger gripping him. He ordered the drinks, then tried to analyse his feelings. His wife had sucked and fucked another guy. Twice. How could that be counted as fair? He’d had his cock in Saskia’s mouth for only a few seconds, and his cock inside her a few minutes. Alicia’s revenge—and that’s what it was, no matter how much she denied it—had been completely over the top.

“Eight pounds fifty, please mate.”

He dumped his change into the guide dog charity box and stomped outside with the drinks to find Alicia leaning back in her chair, eyes closed and face tilted up to the sun. He experienced another stab of pain at the thought of her lying back with her eyes closed for the other guy.

“What was his name?”

She opened one eye to peer at him. “Who?”

“Who do you think?” Steven put the drinks down on the table.

“I don’t know, actually. He admitted his profile had a false name, so I decided to call him Ed from Edinburgh.”

“Ha-ha.” He sat down, glancing over to make sure the kids were still okay. “You seem to have gotten a lot more out of this arrangement than I did.”

“Did I?”

“You know you have. What I got was nothing in comparison.”

“Didn’t you get anything out of last night, Steve?”

He blinked in surprise, a nasty trickle of guilt worming its way through him. “What do you mean?”

“I mean didn’t you feel any sort of excitement, knowing what I was up to?”

Does she know I had a wank? “Excitement?”

She reached over the table and stroked his arm. “If we’re going to go down this road, I think it’d be better all-round if we were honest with each other.”

Steven took a breath. His heart was racing, and he suspected she could see right through his façade. He shrugged. “I guess I got a bit of a buzz, yeah.”

She smiled and nodded. “And now you’re being honest. Good.”

“Will you get a buzz when I have my second helping of hired help?” He tried for a defiant expression, but she didn’t seem to be intimidated.

“I don’t know. Maybe.” She licked her lips and leaned over the table to look into his eyes. “But I’m already getting a buzz thinking about my second helping.”

Though still angry at what he saw as a huge disparity in their respective trysts, his cock stirred inside his pants at the thought of Alicia experiencing another night with her stud. “I thought that since you’d had two helpings already from Ed, you wouldn’t need anything else.”

She frowned. “What do you mean, two helpings?”

“You said he fucked you twice.”

“I said he fucked me twice last night. You didn’t ask me about this morning.”

“What?”

She laughed out loud. “It’s not my fault he had plenty of stamina. If you want to get yourself another helping, that’s fine.” She gave him a steely look. “Just bear in mind that it’s the number of helpers that count, not what goes on during each date.”

A perverse excitement thrummed in his groin. “So after I’ve seen someone else, you’re going to go back to Edinburgh?”

She shook her head. “Oh no. Would you go back to the same lap dancer? Besides, it could get expensive.”

He nodded. “Maybe we should put a price limit on each date we have.”

“Yeah, I suppose we should.”

“So, if it’s not going to be your guy in Edinburgh, who’ll be next?”

“Maybe I’ll see who’s available in Hungerford.”

Her grin made him wonder if Rob, her ex, now lived there.

She rolled her eyes. “If the last was Ed from Edinburgh, that’d make the next guy Hung from...”

“Ah,” he said, nodding. “More cock humour.”

“I don’t care about the humour. I just want more cock.”

Steven was too stunned to reply, making her burst out laughing.

“Right,” she said, still amused. “No more dirty talk. Let’s get back to being Mr. and Mrs. Normal with two children and a regular life.”

“I’ll try.” He was still buzzing from her comment about wanting more cock. “It’s just that my mind seems to be constantly on other things at the moment.”

“Yeah,” she said, taking a sip of wine. “And just recently, so’s mine.”

They spent another few minutes finishing their drinks, then began the walk home. Brad fell asleep in his buggy and Isla was tetchy. As soon as they got in their house, Steven ran a bath while Alicia undressed the kids. It took less than thirty minutes to get them bathed and ready for bed. Steven read a story to Isla while Alicia got Brad settled.

Steven was already sitting on the armchair in the lounge when Alicia came downstairs. As she sat down on the couch, he ran his eyes over her legs, imagining them wrapped around another man.

When he looked up, she was watching him.

“What?” he asked.

“You were ogling me.”

He nodded. “I often do.”

“I like the way you look at me.”

“Well, I like the way you look.”

She smiled. “And what exactly were you thinking while your focus was my legs?”

He shrugged. “I’ve always liked your legs, you know that.”

“So your appreciative look just now was simply down to their pleasing shape, and nothing to do with the guy who was lying between them last night?”

Her ability to read him was unnerving. “He may have had something to do with it, yeah.”

She smiled. “Good. Now, I’ve been thinking...”

“About the guy who was between your legs last night?”

She laughed. “Oh, I’ve been thinking about him all day long. But what I was actually referring to was the long list of things you probably want to know.”

“Oh?”

“Yeah. I think we need to limit the details we share about our dates.”

He didn’t like this idea. “Why?”

“Because otherwise it’d get tedious.”

“No it wouldn’t.”

“So, I think we should limit it to five questions each.”

“That’s not—”

“You already know a lot of the details, so I’m sure five questions will be enough.” She crossed her legs and wriggled her bare toes, probably to distract him.

Five questions wouldn’t be anything like enough. “I don’t think that’s fair.”

“I won’t ask you more than five questions about your next date. If you want, you can think about it for a while and write down everything you want to know. Then you’ll have to choose the five you most want answers to.”

This wasn’t how he’d imagined their evening after her earlier offer of a handjob. He tried to sort out what he wanted to know the most. He was most curious about when—and for how long—she’d sucked Ed’s dick. He also wanted the blow-by-blow about what had happened this morning. And there were so many other details he craved.

“Are you ready to ask them now, or would you like to think about it for a few days? I’m kind of tired, so I may have an early night.”

He stood up immediately. “An early night’s fine with me.”

She laughed. “And what about the questions?”

“I’ll ask them when we’re in bed.”

“I thought you might.”

Ten minutes later, Steven was ready and waiting in bed when Alicia came in from the bathroom, completely naked. He knew his first three questions and had decided his last two would depend on her answers.

Alicia pulled back the covers and tutted. “You’re already hard.”

He nodded. “That’s your fault for mentioning a handjob in the pub.”

She smiled and straddled his legs, then took his dick in her hand and slowly pumped it.

His hips raised off the bed and he sighed at her touch. He was so turned on she’d probably bring him off before he’d got through his list.

She pushed her hair back behind one ear. “So, ask away...”

“Okay,” he said, trying hard to concentrate. “When did you suck him, and how long for?”

She watched his dick as she pumped it. “That’s actually two questions.”

“What?”

She smiled. “I’m just teasing. I sucked him twice. Last night, I did it after the first shag, probably for less than a minute and mainly to get him hard enough for the second shag.”

“And the second time? This still counts as the first question, by the way.”

She smiled. “The second time was this morning. That went on for longer. We showered together, then he lay on the bed and I sucked him for maybe two or three minutes.”

This led nicely into his planned second question. “And what happened after you sucked him this morning?”

“I fitted him with a condom and climbed onto his dick.” She pumped her hand slightly faster. “I rode him until I came, then he went on top and fucked me until he came.”

Steven closed his eyes, enjoying the feeling of being jerked off. A rogue question popped into his head and out of his mouth before he could stop himself. “Didn’t you want to make him come with your mouth?”

She smiled, knowingly.

They’d shared many secrets years ago, and she’d admitted that some of her most intense orgasms had occurred from masturbating while sucking off a guy. This was something that had turned him on a lot, and he’d been lucky enough to see it for himself several times.

“Yes. I’d have loved to, but sucking him was risky enough, even though I’d stake my life on him being completely STD-free.”

Steven nodded. And now he had his most important question. “How many times did each of you come, and when?”

“That’s actually three questions.”

He shook his head. “No it—”

“Me, him, when. Three questions.”

Before he could argue, she smiled. “He came three times, twice last night and once this morning.” She pumped her hand faster, making him groan. “I’m not exactly sure how many times I came. I think it was eight.”

“Eight?” Steven probably hadn’t made her come that many times during their entire honeymoon. If he wasn’t being wanked off, he may well have left the room in a huff.

“I think so. I first came when he went down on me, and then twice when he fucked me the first time.”

Steven watched her face, trying not to sulk. He was also trying hard not to come before the interrogation was over.

“And I came twice again when we fucked the second time last night.”

“With you on top?”

She nodded. “I rode him until I came, then kept riding him until he came, at which point I came again. Then we slept.”

“That’s five, so this morning you came three times.”

She nodded. “In the shower, while he washed and massaged me, and twice more while we fucked on the bed.”

Steven was visualising his wife lathered up when Alicia suddenly doubled the speed of her hand and cupped his balls. His legs locked straight and a cord of cum arced up over his body and landed on his chest. She kept pumping, sending several other shots over him.

He dug his heels into the mattress and lifted her off the bed. Alicia didn't stop, pumping his dick until he cried out as a spasm like a second orgasm shuddered through him. He opened his eyes in surprise and saw her smiling down at him.

"Better now?" she asked.

He glanced down at his chest, shocked. He doubted he'd ever come this much before. He looked up at her, then let his eyes wander down to her chest.

"Don't you dare," she said, already smiling.

He looked into her eyes and slid his hands up her arms.

She shook her head. "Steve—"

He pulled her down, crushing her body to his. She yelped and giggled as his cum smeared across her boobs and tummy. Then she began to slide on him, spreading it further over their bodies.

Steven gripped her hair and pulled down so her face tilted up towards his. They kissed, tongues and lips sliding together. He moved his hand lower, caressing her bum before probing between her legs. She was wet, and he pushed two fingers inside her. Alicia ground herself against his pubic bone. He fingered her from behind until she came, gulping in air and letting out grunts.

They eventually stilled, and she slapped his shoulder. "Now I need another shower."

"So do I." He stroked her hair. "Shall I join you?"

"If you like. I quite like the idea of showering with two different men on the same day."

"I thought you were going to say you like the idea of showering with two men at the same time."

She pulled her head up and looked at him. "Actually, that's something we talked about last night."

"Oh?"

She nodded. "Ed told me some women had booked him and another guy for the night."

"For a threesome?"

She nodded. "Why didn't I think of that?"

The thought of his wife pinned between two guys made his dick twitch, and by the expression on her face, Alicia had noticed it too.

“You’ve got a dirty mind,” she said.

“Yeah, I know.”

“Come on, let’s have a shower. At least that way our bodies will be clean.

Chapter 9

The kids had only one more week in school before the summer holidays and the mood in the playground had that end-of-term lightness to it. As pupils ran and laughed before going into their classrooms, Alicia chatted with the other parents about the upcoming break and what they had planned.

Once home, she spent the morning tidying the house and doing some laundry. After Brad had gone down for a nap, she decided to make the most of the sunshine. The dress she'd bought for the wedding showed off a lot of skin, which would look a lot better with a tan. Though their garden was completely enclosed and private, she dragged one of the loungers right up against the back wall under Brad's open bedroom window, so she'd hear him when he woke.

She slipped off her t-shirt, sprayed tanning oil on all the parts she could reach, then lay back and closed her eyes, enjoying the heat of the sun on her naked breasts. Her mind flooded with memories of Xavier—the sparkle in his eyes, the dimples in his cheeks, and the scratch of his stubble on her skin. He'd washed and massaged her in the shower, and she wondered why this was the part she was thinking about now, rather than the times when he'd had his cock deep inside her. There was something cute about the way he'd had to stoop to kiss her in the shower. Without heels, she was about a foot shorter, and he'd had to bend even more to get his fingers where she'd wanted them.

Alicia glanced around her garden, then popped the button on her cut-offs. As she slid her hand inside, her mind returned to Xavier. He'd spent a long time washing and teasing her body, his strong fingers stroking and caressing her. He'd run his hand down over her mons and between her outer lips. She'd parted her legs to give him access, the water pounding on her upturned face. Xavier had crouched down and pushed two fingers inside her as his mouth captured a nipple.

Alicia slid her hand lower. Her panties were already wet and her finger slipped easily between slick folds. She bit her lip, checking again that she couldn't be seen. Closing her eyes once more, she was back in the shower. Xavier released her nipple from his mouth and dropped to his knees. While pumping two fingers in and out of her, he leaned forward and pressed his tongue against her clit.

On the lounge, Alicia rolled over onto her front and pushed down her hand, rocking against it. As she felt the tell-tale beginnings of her climax, she remembered how Xavier had taken her to the very edge and then, just as she was about to come, he'd pushed a third finger into her backside. She'd seen stars, her knees had buckled, and she'd come so hard she'd screamed.

In the quiet of her garden, she managed to come silently, even though the orgasm was powerful. After her spasms had faded, she removed her hand and rested face down for a while. She brought her finger to her mouth and licked her juices from it, then pulled it away as she realised what she was doing. A little shocked at her own actions, she closed her eyes and dozed with the sun on her back until Brad woke an hour later.

* * * *

After the evening's five-a-side game, Steve showered and headed through to the bar with the rest of the lads. Ewan was sitting at their usual table with his lower leg in plaster and a pair of crutches leaning against the wall. The usual banter and jokes ensued, the injured man getting little sympathy from any of his friends.

"The doctor confirmed it's ligament damage," Ewan explained, "but he assured me I'll be out of plaster before the wedding."

"You should get him to strap a splint to your cock for the honeymoon," Oggie said. "Give the bride something to look forward to."

"Cheeky twat."

"How did you get here?" Tom asked, nodding at his plaster cast. "I assume you can't drive with that."

“My dad dropped me off. I’m hoping one of you guys can give me a lift home.”

As usual, Oggie was the first to respond. “Steve can drop you off. He usually cruises down Lambert Road most nights, anyway.”

A few of the others chuckled, but Steven didn’t get the joke. He nodded to Ewan. “Yeah, I’ll drop you off, no problem.”

They chatted for another hour or so, the subject jumping from football to Ewan’s wedding, from honeymoons in general to everyone else’s planned holidays, then back to football. As people started to leave, they wished Ewan a speedy recovery and said they’d see him at the wedding.

Steven walked slowly with him to the exit. “Wait here. I’m parked at the far end, so I’ll bring the car around.”

“Cheers, buddy.”

By the time he’d got back to Ewan, Oggie and another couple of the lads were waiting with him. As Steven leaned over to open the passenger door, Oggie grinned.

“Make sure you go straight home after dropping him off. I know what you’re like.”

Steven responded by flipping him the bird, and Ewan manoeuvred his crutches and then himself into the car.

Steven pulled out and drove up the small road to the first main junction. “Okay, so where am I going?”

“I live in the seedy east side,” Ewan said with a smile. “Get onto Blacken Road and head up the hill towards Amsworth.”

As he followed his directions, Steven realised how little he knew about Ewan except that he was a good midfielder. “How long have you lived there?”

“It’s my parents’ house and where I grew up. Me and Shaz have reserved one of the new houses being built on the Sheldon estate, but it won’t be ready for another three months. We’ve been in her flat for a couple of years but that’s on the fourth floor and has no lift, so I’ve moved back in with my mum and dad for a couple of weeks. I’ll probably stay there until after the wedding. Once the house is ready, we’ll sell the flat.”

“Right.” Steven nodded, taking in the surroundings. He was unfamiliar with the area, which was noticeably rougher than his own side of town. Most shops had security bars or grills, and there was litter scattered all over the pavements. “I don’t think I’ve been up here before,” he confessed.

“Yeah, I don’t blame you.” Ewan pointed to a street on the left as they passed it. “That’s where Oggie reckons you spend your nights.”

Steven saw the graffitied Lambert Road sign. “Oggie talks through his arse most of the time.”

“What do you mean ‘most’? He talks through his arse all of the time.” Ewan smiled. “That’s where the kerb-crawlers go. It’s the local skank market.” He laughed. “As teenagers, me and my mates used to walk down there trying to get freebie blowjobs.”

Steven laughed, but his heart was already racing.

Ewan pointed up ahead. “Take the next right, then go right again.”

Steven followed his directions onto an estate of red-brick, post-war council houses. Ewan’s parents’ house was at the end of a short cul-de-sac. He parked next to the gate.

“Cheers, Stevie.”

“No worries. I hope the ankle gets better quickly.”

“The plaster’s due to come off next week so I won’t look like a cripple on the wedding photos. I’ve been warned it could be three to four months before I’ll be able to start running on it, though.”

“That’s tough.” It was a definite blow for their team. Ewan was one of their best players.

“We’ll see. Hopefully, that’s just the worst-case scenario and it won’t be that long.”

After he’d watched Ewan make it to the front door, Steven turned around and drove back towards the main road. His curiosity got the better of him. At the junction, he turned down Lambert Road. He’d travelled less than two hundred yards when he saw a woman in denim jacket, red microskirt and high heels standing by a tall set of railings. She flashed him an inviting smile as he drove slowly past. A little further down he saw more women, some standing alone, others in pairs or small groups. There were blondes, brunettes and redheads, and also a few black and Asian girls.

It was amazing that he'd never heard of this area before—particularly as many of the discussions at work focused on the sleazier side of life. Lambert Road was less than five miles from home, but it felt like something he'd only seen in movies or on television.

A car further up the road stopped. Steven watched as a girl with spiky blonde hair and wobbly white thighs left her friends and approached the driver's door. After a brief conversation, she turned and waved to her friends before getting into the passenger seat. The car pulled away from the kerb and drove off down the road. A tingling of excitement coursed through Steven as he imagined what was about to happen.

He sighed, then headed for home.

* * * *

After school had closed for the summer break, Alicia found looking after both kids to be actually easier than one. Isla was a great help and Brad seemed happy just to be in his sister's presence. The days passed quickly until the day of Ewan's wedding. Alicia couldn't wait—she couldn't even remember the last time she'd been dancing.

On Saturday afternoon, while the kids were playing in the garden, Becky arrived.

Alicia answered the door with her hair already pinned up and makeup on, but still wearing a robe. "Hiya love, come in. The kids are outside in the garden if you want to say hello."

Becky put down her rucksack, which Alicia knew would contain her phone, tablet and several books, then headed outside to the kids.

In the bedroom, Alicia quickly put on the dress and her sexiest shoes, which were dark grey suede with a peep-toe and a four-inch heel. She checked her reflection in the mirror, then headed back downstairs.

Steve stared open-mouthed.

She smiled and did a twirl for him. "You like?"

“Yeah, it’s really nice. You look...” He shook his head and blew out his cheeks. “You look fabulous.”

“Thanks.” Because he’d been so flattering, she decided not to tell him she’d been wearing this dress when Xavier had bent her over the bed and fucked her. Nor did she mention that she’d been given the all-clear from the sex clinic and was now on the pill. If he played his cards right later, he could go in bareback.

Alicia and Steve both went out to say goodbye to the kids.

Isla stared wide-eyed. “Mummy, you look like a princess.”

“Aww, thanks, baby.” She bent down and kissed her daughter on the cheek, then wiped off the lip-gloss stain. “Be a good girl for Becky.”

“I promise.”

Brad came over with his muddy hands held wide. Alicia laughed and backed away. “No hugs for you, Mr Grubby-Paws.”

When a car horn beeped, Steve stepped onto the ladder of the slide to see over the fence. “Taxi’s here.” He ruffled Brad’s hair, then kissed Isla. “See you guys later.”

Alicia grabbed her clutch and the wedding card as they went through the house to the front door. Maddie and Tom were already in the taxi, so Alicia slid into the back seat with them, and Steve took the front seat next to the driver.

“You look gorgeous,” Maddie gushed.

“Thanks, and so do you.”

“I love your dress. Did you find it online?”

“No, I bought it in Edinburgh.”

“Edinburgh?”

Alicia nodded, aware that Steve was listening. “I went for a weekend.”

“Ooh, nice.” She ran her hand over the material. “It’s really lovely.”

The journey to the reception zipped by, Alicia chatting to Maddie about their first week of the summer holidays while Steve and Tom made small talk with the taxi driver. He pulled up outside the church hall of a small village twenty minutes outside of town. The grounds were surrounded by rhododendrons, and there were already a lot of guests standing on the lawn around the marquee, chatting in the sunshine. The light breeze had already spread the confetti far and wide.

After congratulating the bride and groom, the foursome each took a flute of champagne from a table set under a gazebo and sought out the other members of the football team. It wasn't long before they were invited to take their seats inside the marquee. The football team members and their partners took up three tables. Alicia was pleased to be sitting with Maddie and Tom. James, Steve's partner-in-crime from Prague, was at an adjacent table with two couples and three other single guys. Unsurprisingly, their table was the most raucous throughout the meal and speeches.

When coffee was finished, the guests were asked to vacate the marquee for a short time so that the tables could be moved to the edge. Most of the football team congregated by the outdoor bar. Since Alicia didn't know many of the other footie wives very well, she ended up talking mainly to Maddie.

Back inside the marquee, the women commandeered a couple of tables. It was a lovely summer evening and everyone's spirits were high. The DJ announced the bride and groom were ready for the first dance. The guests formed a circle as the bride danced and Ewan limped to a slow song Alicia didn't recognise. Everyone applauded at the end, and other guests joined the makeshift dance floor when the DJ changed the music to something upbeat.

Over the next hour or so, Alicia and Steve danced and drank and had a great time. They wandered outside to cool down for a while, then went back for more dancing. A light buffet was served later, which people took outside to eat as the marquee was so hot.

Maddie approached Alicia, smiling. "I think that dress is upstaging all the bridesmaids."

Alicia shook her head. "I doubt that." The bridesmaids were all in their early twenties and had changed out of their long dresses to matching minis.

"How can you not notice the amount of attention you're getting? Whenever you dance, all the men in the room are watching you."

Alicia looked down at her long leg showing through the slit in the dress. “Maybe I should have stitched the top of the split up to hide a little thigh.”

Maddie laughed and shook her head. “It’s not your thigh they’re looking at. I think all the guys are hoping to catch a glimpse of your panties.”

“I’m not showing my—”

“Yes you are! Don’t feel bad about it—if I had a body like yours, I’d show it off.”

“While I’m happy to show my legs, I wasn’t intending to flash my crotch.” Alicia grinned. “At least until I get home.”

Maddie giggled. “I’ve told Tom to save some of his energy for later. Have you phoned your sitter to check on the kids?”

Alicia shook her head. “She sent a text earlier to say both kids were asleep. How about you?”

“Yeah, everything’s fine.”

After Maddie had wandered off to chat with other people, Alicia looked around for Steve. He was deep in conversation with Tom and a few other guys from the team. She was eager to get him back on the dance floor. It’d been too long since they’d had a night like this.

* * * *

Steven was laughing at Oggie’s filthy joke when he looked up and caught Alicia’s eye. She gave him a smile, and he broke away from his mates and wandered over to her. Over the last hour he’d watched her dance with Maddie and the girls from their table. What’s more, he’d seen the other lads watching her dance, which had given him a warm feeling.

“I really like that dress,” he said.

“Thank you.”

“How much did you say it cost?”

“I didn’t, and you’ll be happier not knowing.”

He didn't care what it cost. It was worth every penny. "Have I seen those shoes before?"

She laughed. "Many times. I've had them years."

"Hmm..." He wasn't sure he believed her. "Fancy a drink?"

"Yes please."

He slipped his arm around her waist and led her to the bar. "What'll it be?"

"I'll have a beer to quench my thirst and a white wine to get me tiddly."

Alicia and Steven danced non-stop for the final hour of the reception. When the DJ started with the slow songs, Alicia pushed herself against his groin, smiling triumphantly when she realised his dick was beginning to harden.

"Behave," he said with a laugh.

"Why?"

"Because everyone is watching."

"Are they?" Her big-eyed expression of innocence didn't fool him. She'd been the centre of attention all night and they both knew it.

He slid his hands up and down her bare back. "Every guy in here wishes they were in my place right now."

Alicia smiled up into his face. "I think they'd rather be in your place in an hour's time."

His heart raced. "Oh? Where will I be then?"

She gave him another smile, then pulled away and swayed her body, turning around and backing into him. He glanced down at the dress hugging the curves of her bum, and the perfect skin of her suntanned back.

After the final song, Steven and Alicia went to say their goodbyes to the bride and groom. Tom and Maddie were nowhere to be seen, and Alicia suggested they may have already gone to wait for the taxi. Outside, the night was warm and clear. They walked hand-in-hand across the grass toward the line of waiting cars and taxis.

Steven saw Tom and Maddie standing off to one side, near the rhododendrons. At first he thought maybe they'd been having a sneaky grobe—Tom had mentioned their kids were somewhere else for the night—but it soon became obvious that they were bickering. Steven squeezed Alicia's hand to discreetly bring them to a stop, but Maddie had already seen them. She stalked straight over, glared at him, then turned her eyes to Alicia. "It seems like we've been taken for a pair of idiots."

"Have we?"

Maddie nodded, then spoke to Steven. "I overheard some of the guys talking about what you all got up to on the stag weekend."

Steven's heart dropped.

"Ah, I see." Alicia stepped closer to her friend, showing none of the dread that Steven felt.

Maddie nodded at Alicia in her dress. "One guy said he wouldn't have shagged a stripper if he had someone who looked like you at home."

Alicia laughed. "I think that's quite a compliment, don't you?"

Maddie looked stunned by her answer, then turned to Steven. "Is it true?"

Before he could answer, Tom stepped forward. "Mads, it's none of our business."

She turned on him, anger flashing in her eyes. "How can you say that? Of course it's my fucking business." She dragged her fingers through her hair. "I was the one looking after your kids while you and your friends were off doing God knows what."

"He didn't do anything." Steven waited until she looked back at him, then held her gaze. "Tom wasn't in the club when it happened."

"What, and I'm supposed to take your word for it?" She gave a humourless laugh. "You were probably all—"

"Tom had nothing to do with what happened. And when he heard about what I'd done, he told me off. He said I'd been selfish and stupid."

Maddie paused, then glanced at her husband. "Really?"

Tom shrugged, and Alicia stroked her friend's back. "Maddie, Steve admitted it to me straight away. He knew I'd be okay with it."

"What? How can you be...?" She shook her head. "How is doing that okay?"

“It’s something we’d agreed to beforehand.”

Steven blinked. Alicia was lying for his benefit.

“Why would you do that? Why would you—?”

“It doesn’t matter why. What does matter is that Tom hasn’t done anything wrong. As far as I’m concerned,” she said, nodding towards Steven, “the only thing he did wrong was to not buy perfume for me or toys for the kids.”

Before Maddie could answer, the taxi pulled up next to them. Alicia opened the back door and climbed in, dragging Maddie in beside her. Steven chose to sit next to the driver again, and Tom climbed into the back next to his wife.

Chapter 10

Steven was on edge for the entire journey home. The atmosphere in the taxi felt charged, with hardly any conversation between the four of them. When they pulled up outside their house, Steven got out of the car and reached in to pass Tom forty pounds, which was more than half of the fare they'd been quoted.

Alicia got out and bent to talk to Maddie while the door was still open. "Come round on Monday. We can have a coffee while the kids play."

He didn't hear Maddie's reply, but Alicia nodded and closed the door, then the taxi pulled away.

She raised her eyebrows. "Looks like the cat's out of the bag."

"Yeah."

They walked up the drive and entered their house. All was quiet. They found Becky reading a book on the couch in the living room.

"Everything okay?" Alicia asked.

"Yeah, not a peep out of either of them." Becky started to put her books and tablet into her rucksack. "How was the wedding?"

"Apart from getting blisters from too much dancing, we had a great time."

Steven handed the babysitter forty pounds, which she frowned at. "That's too much." They usually paid twenty.

"No it's not. You've been here eight hours and probably deserve more."

She beamed and pocketed it straightaway. "Thanks!"

He walked her to the end of the drive and watched until she'd reached her house across the road, where she gave him a wave and disappeared inside.

Steven walked back inside, then closed and locked the front door. Alicia wasn't anywhere to be seen. Probably checking on the kids. He slipped off his jacket, sat on the couch and kicked off his shoes. He was sweaty from dancing and should probably shower before getting into bed.

Alicia came downstairs. "They're spark out for the night."

He nodded. "Why did you lie for me?"

She shrugged. "I'm not sure I did. You knew it wouldn't be a problem."

"I hoped it wouldn't be a problem, but I shouldn't have done it. It was wrong of me to assume."

"Yeah, but if you hadn't, I wouldn't have gone to Edinburgh and found this dress."

"I doubt you'll remember Edinburgh for the shops."

Alicia smirked. "Probably not."

"What will you remember it for?"

She held his gaze for a second. "Sex."

His throat constricted and his cock swelled. "Sex?"

"I'll remember it for the number of times I was fucked and for the number of times I came." She stepped closer. "Isn't that what you wanted to hear?"

The buzz in his stomach confirmed it was.

She tilted her head to one side. "What will you remember Prague for?"

He thought about it. "I spent most of the weekend drinking and laughing, so that's probably what I'll remember."

"I don't believe you."

"It's true. I only had a very brief encounter. I didn't get the luxury of a full night in a bed."

She shrugged. "That's not my fault."

"No, it was mine." His stomach tingled with excitement. "I'll plan it better next time."

"Is there really going to be a next time?"

He frowned, puzzled. "I thought you liked the idea?"

“I do, but it’s not something I need. I’m happy to stop after one if that’s what you want.”

Steven looked up into her face, trying to gauge if she was serious. There was no comparison between what had happened in Prague and what she’d done in Edinburgh, and they both knew it. “What if I don’t want to stop?”

“Then don’t.”

“Will you stop?” he asked.

“Like I just said, I’ll stop whenever you want to.”

“How about you stop until I’ve caught up with what you did in Edinburgh?”

“Caught up?”

“Until I’ve had sex three times.”

She chuckled. “We both know that’s not going to fly.”

“Why not? I had less than five minutes, you had a full night.”

“I’m tired of this conversation. If you want somebody else, go ahead.”

As she left the room, Steven worried he’d pushed too far. They’d been close all evening and he immediately regretted using the conversation as a way of ramping up his excitement. He left his shoes and jacket where they were, turned off the lights and followed her upstairs.

In the bedroom, Alicia was standing at the side of the bed, wearing only her shoes. He stopped in his tracks and stared.

“Your teammate said if he had me at home, he wouldn’t fuck strippers.”

Steven nodded mutely. The guy was right; he shouldn’t need anyone else.

“Look,” she said, stepping closer. “If your need for somebody new is so strong, be my guest. But after you’ve done it, you’ll need to answer my five questions.”

He nodded. “Okay.”

“And after that, I’m going to fuck somebody else. You’ll get to ask your five questions, and then you can decide if you want us to stop seeing other people.”

His heart thumped in his chest. He didn’t know what turned him on more—his new adventure, or hers. “What about now?”

She reached down and stroked his cock through his trousers. He was already hard. “There’s nobody else here, so you’re going to have to make do with me.” She leaned in and blew in his ear. “Will that be okay?”

“It’ll be better than okay.”

“Good.” She began to undo the buttons of his shirt. “And Steve...?”

“Hmm?”

“I’ve had the all-clear from the sex clinic.”

“You actually went?” She hadn’t mentioned it in two weeks.

She grinned. “I told them my husband had cheated and I wanted to make sure he hadn’t infected me.”

“You didn’t mention sucking a stranger’s dick in Scotland?”

“That bit slipped my mind.” She dropped to her knees and unfastened his zip. He watched as she pulled his cock out and held it in her hand. Looking up into his face, she parted her lips and took him into her mouth.

He let out a long exhale but never broke eye contact.

She sucked him for maybe a minute, then released him from her mouth and stood up. “And there’s more good news.”

“Oh?”

“I’m back on the pill. You can go in bare, and you can come inside.” Before he could respond, she crawled onto the bed and lay on top of the covers with her shoes still on.

He quickly stripped, then climbed onto the bed with her. He caressed her breasts and stomach. “You looked fabulous tonight.”

“You weren’t bad yourself, all scrubbed up and dressed in your Sunday best.”

Steven ran his hand down to the opening of her sex and felt the wetness. He slipped a finger in, feeling the heat. He couldn’t remember the last time they’d had sex without a rubber. Manoeuvring himself over her, he pushed inside. As she clenched around him, he gasped.

They moved slowly, Alicia undulating beneath him. She leaned up and kissed him, running her hands over his back and shoulders. Steven relished the feeling of being skin on skin. Every nerve ending in his cock felt like it was being caressed by warm, wet satin. Her hot juices coated his shaft. He could feel them seeping down from the root and cooling on his balls.

Her body was soft and smooth, her face beautiful. She was everything a man could want, and yet some dirty desire kept niggling at him, and he couldn't—

“Oh...” She locked her feet behind his calves and dug her nails into his back. “Oh fuck.”

Steven felt the grip of her orgasm. He carried on at the same slow pace, pushing through the contractions that squeezed and relaxed with a steady rhythm of their own. Closing his eyes, he stroked deeper. He worked his way backwards through the alphabet in an attempt to delay his own orgasm.

Alicia moved with him. Her hands slid down his back to his buttocks, where her fingers dug in. She kissed the side of his face, her breath hot in his ear. As she began to clench and relax her inner muscles, Steven knew there was no way he'd get to A. He opened his eyes and looked into her face, desperate to last as long as he could.

She smiled at his expression. “Just let go and enjoy it.”

He took a breath and nodded, then closed his eyes and did exactly what she'd told him. When his climax arrived, it seemed to erupt from his very core. His entire body jerked with the first gush. Alicia moaned and clung to him. He grunted as a second spurt exploded from him, closely followed by a third and fourth.

Suddenly, Alicia started to grind herself against him, rocking her hips with urgency. She was trying to come again, and he pushed in as deep as he could. She moaned and clawed and shuddered, then let out a satisfied sigh. They moved together for a little while longer until Steven rolled off and lay on his back, slipping an arm around her shoulder and pulling her close.

She kissed his chest. “How was that?”

“I’d forgotten how good it felt to go in unsheathed.”

“Hmm. And I’d forgotten how messy it was to let you.”

“Are you leaking already?”

“Fancy joining me for a shower?” He gave what he hoped was a cheeky grin. “Or is that something you only do with the men you pay for?”

Alicia leaned up on one elbow and smiled at him. “We can, but we’ll need to be quiet or risk waking the kids.”

He got out of bed and padded naked to the bathroom. After turning on the shower, he brushed his teeth while waiting for the water to run hot, then stepped into the spray and closed his eyes. A few seconds later, Alicia got in behind him. She kissed his shoulder blade and slipped her arms around his waist, her nipples pressing into his back. He took the soap from the dish on the wall and placed it in her hands. She rubbed the bar against his tummy, then used her other hand to spread the lather up to his chest. Next, she moved her hands lower and rubbed the soap into his pubes. He held his breath as she put the soap back into the dish and wrapped both hands around his cock, pulling the skin back to wash all around his glans.

Steven closed his eyes as she slid her hands up and down his shaft. When it started to swell, he lathered his hands, then turned around and slowly washed her shoulders and chest, sliding his hands over her breasts.

Alicia looked down at his cock and resumed washing it, gripping it tighter and pumping faster as he developed a full erection. He moved his hands lower, but she shook her head and leaned him back so that the water rinsed the soap off.

“Don’t you need me to wash off the mess I left?” he asked.

“Am I?”

She leaned in and bit his nipple. “If you don’t, I may have to go and find the member of your team who wouldn’t fuck a stripper if he had me at home.”

“Oh no...” He turned off the water and pulled her out of the shower, grabbing towels on the way back to their bedroom. Once there, he draped one towel around his shoulders and leaned forward to kiss her. “We only fuck strangers.”

“Spoilsport.”

“Yeah.” He used the other towel to dry her. “And we always use condoms with strangers.”

“Double spoilsport.”

He pulled back and looked into her eyes. “You wouldn’t want stranger jizz in there, would you?”

She held his gaze for a second, then shook her head. “I know it’d be unwise...”

“But?”

She took the towel from him and rubbed her hair, then shrugged. “Nothing.”

“You’d have preferred it without condoms?”

She hesitated for a second, then nodded.

The thought of his wife wanting another guy’s cum shouldn’t turn him on, but it did. He reached out and stroked her face. “Where did you want him to come?”

“Inside me.” She looked up into his eyes, and he got the impression she was debating whether to say more.

“Just there?”

She shook her head. “When I sucked him, I wanted to take him all the way.”

“Is that what you did?”

“No.” He can’t have looked very convinced because she shook her head. “I didn’t.”

“But you wanted to.”

She nodded.

“Why?”

She shrugged. “To make it nice for him.”

“He fucked you three times. It was already nice for him.”

“It could have been nicer. And it would have made me feel...” She shrugged. “Empowered, I guess. It’s nice when you take a guy all the way.”

“But we can’t do that with sex workers.”

“I know, and that’s why I didn’t.”

He smiled. “You could take me all the way.”

She laughed. “I know, and I will. But not tonight.” She dropped the towel on the floor and nodded toward the bed. “I want you to lie on your back while I use your dick.”

“I like that idea.”

“Good. So stop talking and get on the bed.”

“Your wish is my command.”

* * * *

Brad’s crying woke Alicia early on Sunday morning. Her phone showed it was six thirty-five, which meant she’d had about four hours’ sleep. She elbowed Steve, who grumbled before opening his eyes.

“Isn’t it your turn to look after the kids this morning?” she asked.

“Huh?” He blinked, then looked at his watch.

Alicia reached down and stroked his tummy. “I’m still tired from having my body abused all night long.”

He scoffed. “I wasn’t the one doing the abusing.”

She aimed for her sweetest smile. “But I’m sore because you were so masterful. I doubt I’ll be able to stand up.” She gave him her big-eyed pleading expression to complete the performance.

“Oh, for fuck’s sake.” He threw the quilt back and got out of bed.

Alicia knew he wasn’t really angry. For two bareback rides, he’d have agreed to stay awake all night long. “Thanks, babe.”

Steve put on a pair of shorts and t-shirt. “I’ll think of a way for you to make it up to me.”

She pulled the quilt up and dozed for another two hours, then got up and showered. When she went downstairs, Steve was at the kitchen table with an empty cereal bowl in front of him. The kids were playing in the back garden.

She ran her hand over his shoulder. “Thank you. Do you want to go back to bed for another hour?”

“Who’ll look after the kids?”

“Pervert! I meant to catch up on your sleep while I watch the kids.”

“I’m okay. I snoozed while that pair watched cartoons.”

“Fancy a coffee?” she asked, clicking on the kettle.

“Yeah, cheers.”

Alicia poured two mugs, only adding milk to her husband’s. Then she sat opposite and ran her bare foot against his shin. “I wonder if Maddie got the night of passion she’d been hoping for.”

“What?”

“She’d been telling me for weeks that their kids were away for the night, so she hoped to make the most of the opportunity.”

Steve shook his head. “She didn’t look in the mood for anything but a fight.”

“I think she’d calmed down by the time we got back here.”

“I couldn’t tell—she didn’t say a word in the taxi.” He smirked. “Maybe she battered Tom to death, waited until rigor mortis set in, then rode his stiff dick.”

Alicia scowled at him. “You’re sick. She’s coming round tomorrow, so I’ll get the juicy gossip.”

“Will you admit you lied?” he asked.

“No.” She thought about it for a few seconds. “You were probably right about me not minding, but I’d have preferred you to have said something before it happened.”

“How could I?” he asked. “It wasn’t something I initiated. The first thing I knew about it was when Saskia dropped to her knees and started undoing my jeans.”

“Yeah, poor you.” Alicia took a sip of her coffee. “I wonder if Maddie will be as angry at me for what I did in Edinburgh?”

“You’re going to tell her?”

Alicia nodded, a bit surprised by his question. “Yeah.”

“I’d rather you didn’t.”

“Why not?”

“Because what we do is nobody else’s business.”

Alicia was annoyed at his attitude. “And yet you’re happy for your entire football team to know you fucked a stripper.”

“That’s not—”

“Well it’s how it seems to me.”

He sighed and gave a shrug. “It’s up to you.”

“I know.” She smiled at his discomfort. “I think last night proved that Tom hadn’t told Maddie about your indiscretion, though, so there’s no reason to think she’ll tell Tom about mine.”

The kids ran inside and stopped any more discussion on the subject. Isla needed the loo, and Brad wanted a biscuit.

They had a quiet day doing small jobs around the house and garden, then went for a walk to the park after dinner. By the time the kids were bathed and in bed, both parents were yawning. Steve headed up to bed at nine-thirty, and by the time Alicia joined him half an hour later, he was already asleep.

$$\Psi$$

Chapter 11

Steven was dressed and ready to leave for work before the kids were awake. He took a cup of tea up to Alicia in bed, then crept downstairs and out of the house. Traffic was lighter when the schools were closed, though he'd never understood why that was the case so early in the morning.

Several men from the builders' yard waved as he walked from his car to the main building that housed the buyers' office. Steven grabbed a coffee from the machine, then fired up his computer. Monday morning meant catching up with what items had been sold during Saturday when the counter was open but the office was closed. He had a pile of invoices and receipts to go through, which he'd cleared by the time the snack van arrived on site at ten-thirty.

Steven was queuing to get his bacon roll when Oggie's fork-lift truck came into view.

His friend climbed down and slapped Steven on the back. "You looked like you were enjoying yourself on Saturday."

"Yeah, it was a great do. Did you have a good time?"

"Cracking, mate. Pulled one of the bridesmaids. What a filthy little bitch."

Steven laughed. "Too much info, Ogg. I'm about to eat—the last thing I need is the image of you rutting."

"Cheeky cunt." Oggie smiled at the girl in the snack van who'd overheard his profanity, then looked back at Steven unabashed. "Your missus looked a dream, mate. What the fuck does she see in a twat like you?"

"I think she just appreciates the fact that I'm nothing like you."

"Fuck off."

Steven paid for his roll and coffee, then stood aside so Oggie could place his order.

“Sausage sandwich and a bottle of Coke please, doll.” Once they both had breakfast in hand, Oggie and Steven moved toward the side of the yard.

Oggie leaned against a pallet of bricks. “That dress and those shoes. Fuck me.” He took a mouthful of his sausage sandwich and shook his head. “Fucking great legs, mate. They’d look even better wrapped around my waist.”

“I’ll mention it to her later. She’ll be thrilled.” Though this was purely banter, Steven couldn’t deny the way his balls contracted and pulse raced.

“Ha-ha.” Oggie used his sleeve to wipe the grease from his chin. “I might have to wait my turn, though. Young Sharpie couldn’t keep his eyes off her.”

“Oh?” Steven wondered if it’d been Dean Sharp that Maddie had overheard.

“Yeah, kept going on about her all night. I think he’s in love.” He grinned. “I’ll bet he wanked himself silly when he got home.”

Steven pulled a face then pretended to throw-up.

Oggie laughed, then scratched his chin. “Actually, he’s only eighteen so probably couldn’t wait that long. I bet he cracked one off in the taxi.”

“You’re a sick man.”

“Yeah, that’s what the bridesmaid said when I slipped it up her arse.” He leered. “She fucking loved it, though.”

Steven shook his head. “Sometimes I wonder why you didn’t evolve with the rest of us.”

“Ha-ha. Fuck off.”

Steven laughed and headed back to his office. He checked his watch, wondering if Alicia had told Maddie yet about her night in Edinburgh. Will she go into detail?

No matter how he tried, he couldn’t stop thinking about his conversation with Oggie. The guy might be a bit rough around the edges, but beneath that Neanderthalic exterior, he had a heart of gold. And while he was a bantamweight when it came to social etiquette, he was probably a heavyweight where satisfying women was concerned; Oggie was built like a brick shithouse. When Steven thought about Alicia's legs wrapped around his friend's waist, he experienced an involuntary thrill. Another image filled his head: Alicia on all fours, Oggie taking her anally while Dean Sharp jerked himself off into her face.

Steven closed his eyes and took a steadying breath.

"You okay, Steve?" His colleague at the opposite desk sounded concerned.

"Yeah, just a bit knackered." He forced a smile. "Hectic weekend."

His colleague nodded and went back to his own work. Steven took a breath, grateful to be sitting at his desk. His cock was rigid inside his trousers.

* * * *

"I'm sorry about the scene I caused on Saturday night," Maddie said as she picked up her coffee. The women sat at the patio table while the four kids played at the far end of the garden.

"I could see you were angry."

"When I heard those lads talking at the bar, I dragged Tom out of the marquee and confronted him. He said that, like me, he'd only heard about it second-hand." She shook her head. "I didn't believe him, and that's what we were arguing about when you two found us."

Alicia put her hand on Maddie's. "I'm sorry if it spoiled the wedding for you."

"No, I'm the one who should be sorry." Maddie shook her head. "Like Tom said, it's really none of my business. I just thought..." She sighed. "I thought if Steve had done it, then the other guys would have been more likely to... you know." She nodded her head at Alicia. "I mean, you're the last person I thought would be cheated on."

Alicia blinked, surprised. "Why would you think—?"

"Look at you, then look at me. I've put two stone on since I had kids, but you look like a bloody model. If your husband was tempted, what d'you think it would have been like for mine?”

“Tom’s a nice guy, and he wouldn’t do that.” Alicia tried for a reassuring smile. “Steve only did it because he knew I wouldn’t mind.”

“How can you not mind?”

“What can I say? We’re kinky, I guess. Anyway, I hope it didn’t ruin your plans for sexy times.”

Maddie laughed. “No, it didn’t.” She took a breath, dropped her head back and stared up at the sky. She was blushing. “It might even have helped.”

“Oh, tell me more.”

“I think Tom liked the idea of you letting Steve do what he wants.” Maddie shrugged but looked uncomfortable. “He sees Steve as some kind of sex guru who has it all.”

Alicia laughed out loud. “God, if only that was true.” She sighed, checked the kids were still occupied, then looked at her friend. “Before I met Steve, I had quite a few boyfriends and a lot of fun. Later, when we were married, he started to ask about stuff I’d done.”

Maddie nodded, her big brown eyes wide.

“So I told him. Steve’s not the jealous type, and neither am I. Some of the stories about what I’d done turned him on, and some of the things he’d done turned me on, too.” She smiled. “I guess things progressed from there.”

Maddie’s mouth had dropped open, and her eyes seemed even bigger. Then she shook her head. “We never talk about our exes. I doubt Tom’s interested in mine, and I certainly don’t want to hear about his.”

“Then it sounds like you two are perfect for each other. I’m impressed by his discretion.” She leaned over the patio table and raised her eyebrows. “So, Saturday night?”

Maddie’s blush deepened. “Tom was furious with me when we got home. He said my little outburst was exactly why he hadn’t told me about what happened.”

“Ooh, angry sex.”

Maddie covered her face with her hands. “You could say that.”

Alicia tipped her head to one side and waited.

Her friend gave an embarrassed groan. "He bent me over the back of the couch and started groping me from behind."

"That sounds sexy."

"I was worried about my dress getting creased."

"What? God, dresses can be cleaned. Or replaced. Enjoy the fun."

"Yeah, that's what he kept saying. I tried to get him to take me to bed but he wouldn't wait."

Alicia was getting a warm tingle from imagining Maddie and Tom going at it like teenagers. "So he took you over the back of the settee?"

"That's where he started. Then I sat on the seat of the couch for a while, and we finished it off halfway up the stairs."

Alicia laughed. "I'm glad you had a good time. I was worried after..." She shrugged.

"No, it was fine, and it didn't stop there. He was at me again as soon as he woke up."

"No better way to get over a hangover." Alicia sat back and let the sun warm her face. "We were exactly the same, although I kicked him out of bed when Brad woke up."

Maddie smiled, then stared down into her cup for a few seconds.

Alicia was sure her friend had questions on her mind. "It's okay to ask," she said, smiling.

Maddie played with her coffee mug, looking restless. "I'm not sure how I can without upsetting you."

"It's okay. I've got thick skin."

"Why did you bother getting married?"

This wasn't the question Alicia had been expecting. "Because we love each other, and we wanted to raise a family together."

"But if you love each other, why does Steve feel the need to...?"

"Fuck around?"

"I was going to say, 'see other women.'"

"He doesn't see other women, he just fucks them."

Maddie blinked. “And you’re okay with that?”

Alicia nodded.

“Doesn’t it bother you? Or make you feel like you’re not enough?”

“Of course not. If I told him I didn’t want him to do it, he’d stop.”

“So, why don’t you?”

“Because it’s not doing either of us any harm, and it’s fun.”

Maddie shook her head. “How can cheating not be harming your marriage?”

“Yes, he—”

“Cheating means he’s being deceitful. He’s not that. He tells me when he’s going to do it, and he knows he has my permission.” She smiled. “He also tells me about it when he gets home.”

Maddie looked stunned.

“And...” Alicia braced herself to be totally honest. “I tell Steve about what I’ve done.”

“What?” Maddie’s eyes were bigger than ever. “You do the same?”

“Of course I do.”

“But how? Where? Who?”

“Does it matter?”

“Yes, it does. It matters to me. I know for a fact that Tom fancies—”

“I’d never do anything like that.” Alicia took a breath, trying not to take Maddie’s response personally. “It’s only people we don’t know. For both of us.”

There was a long pause. They both sipped their drinks. Maddie looked mollified as she put her cup back down. “So, who do you...?”

“You know I told you about going to Edinburgh for the weekend?”

Maddie nodded.

“Well, I booked an escort beforehand.”

“You booked an...? You paid someone?”

“Mm hmm.”

“Why the fuck...?” She shook her head. “They should be paying you.”

Alicia laughed. “But then I’d feel guilty about getting all the pleasure. If I’m paying for the service, I expect to get...serviced.”

Maddie bit her bottom lip and stared at her. “What did he do?” she whispered.

“Everything I asked him to.”

Maddie sighed. “Oh God.” She leaned closer. “What did he look like?”

“Tall, dark and handsome.”

“I want more than that.”

“When I say tall, I mean about six-four. When I say dark, I mean mixed race, his mum’s African. When I say handsome, I mean twinkly brown eyes, a smile with dimples, and a ripped body.”

“Christ-on-a-bike.” She grinned. “The dads in the playground would all burst a blood vessel if they knew about this.”

“Then I think it best if we don’t tell them, don’t you?”

Maddie nodded, then frowned again. “I won’t tell Tom, either.”

Alicia paused, then nodded. “Thank you. Although I trust Tom to be discreet, I think I’d prefer him not know what a slut I am.”

“Don’t say that, it’s a horrible word.”

Alicia laughed and shook her head. “It depends how it’s used. I’ve actually looked it up in the dictionary. One definition is a woman with low standards of cleanliness—which I hope doesn’t apply. But the most common meaning is a woman with many casual sexual partners. And that one,” she said with a smile, “does apply to me.”

“Did you look up the definition of ‘many’?”

Alicia laughed. “No, but as I said earlier, I had a lot of fun before I met Steve.”

“I’ve only ever slept with four men.”

“Oh?” Alicia had no intention of trying to count her tally, but it was probably close to thirty.

“I lost my virginity to my high-school crush, and we split up when we went to different universities. After an awful one-night stand during my first year, I had a long-term relationship that lasted until after we graduated. He got a job in London, and we carried on seeing each other for a while, but...” She shrugged, looking a little sad. “Long-distance relationships don’t usually work out, and I didn’t want to move south. Then I met Tom, and the bastard got me up the duff.”

Alicia laughed. “I didn’t know that.”

“My parents weren’t happy about me walking up the aisle pregnant, but it’s all worked out fine.”

“Yes, and now you have a lovely husband and two beautiful children.”

Maddie nodded, then narrowed her eyes. “So do you, and yet you’re still behaving like you’re single.”

Alicia frowned. “Do you disapprove?”

Maddie shook her head. “It’s not my place to approve or disapprove. As your friend, I want you to be happy and not get hurt.” She shrugged. “What you’re both doing wouldn’t work for me. Even though lying beneath a gorgeous stud sounds like a wonderful way to spend the night—”

Alicia grinned. “I got on top, too!”

Maddie laughed. “I can imagine, but for me, I’d get too wound up by what Tom was doing with another woman. I’ve always had this intense jealousy.” She looked a little sad again. “I don’t have your figure, and I definitely don’t have your confidence. I’d be terrified that Tom would prefer the other women and eventually leave me.”

Alicia felt a pang of sympathy for her friend. “I know this isn’t for everyone, but we—”

“Don’t you worry that Steve will fall for somebody else? Or that you will?”

“What goes on with other people is nothing compared what we have with each other. I love Steve, and I know he loves me. I also know that we both love our kids and the family unit. The other people are just a bit of fun. The only feelings are physical ones.” She chuckled. “Really nice physical ones, sure, but nothing that could interfere with our marriage.”

Maddie smiled. "You know I told you I have this jealous streak?"

Alicia nodded.

"Well, now I'm jealous as fuck of all the fun you're having."

* * * *

Steven arrived home a little earlier than usual, and again wondered how school holidays could make a difference to the traffic at five o'clock. The conversation with Oggie that morning had produced a low-level hum of excitement that lasted the whole day. He was twitchy and horny, and knew the perfect way to alleviate his tension.

Alicia and the kids were in the kitchen. The kids were both eating strawberries while his wife stirred their dinner in the wok.

"Hi guys," he said, planting a kiss on each child's forehead before kissing Alicia on the cheek. "How was your day?"

Before she could answer, Isla went into a detailed description of everything she and her friend had played. She also described how Brad had managed to get so dirty that he'd needed three changes of clothes. Brad smiled to show he saw it as quite an achievement.

"It was my fault," Alicia said, smiling at her son. "I had the bright idea of filling balloons with water."

"Ah," Steven said, laughing. "Water bombs?"

Brad giggled again, which allowed a half-chewed strawberry to fall from his mouth onto the tray of his highchair. Without giving a thought to the fact it was now smeared with whatever he'd had as the first course, he popped it back into his mouth and ate it.

"Okay, you two," Alicia said. "Want to go and pick up some of the toys from outside while Daddy and I eat our dinner?"

Steven wiped Brad's hands and face, then lifted him out of his highchair. Once the kids were outside, he turned to Alicia. "So, how was Maddie?"

"Fine. She apologised for her outburst on Saturday."

Steven waited, but Alicia was concentrating on serving their stir-fry. He waited until she'd plated it up and sat down opposite him. "Did you mention your trip to Edinburgh?"

"Yeah." She smiled. "She said she'd keep it to herself."

"How much did you tell her?"

"Just that I'd booked a male escort and had sex with him."

He bit his lip. "Did you tell her you'd sucked his dick and came eight times?"

Alicia laughed and shook her head. "I really don't think those sorts of details would've been what she wanted to hear."

"So what did she want to hear?" As Alicia frowned and sighed, he worried he was being too inquisitive. He shrugged by way of apology.

"She only asked about what he looked like, nothing more."

"Oh." Steven wondered if this was all women cared about. Maybe he was weird for being more interested in the size of the guy's cock, and the number of times he'd used it to give his wife an orgasm.

"Are you glad she said she wouldn't tell Tom?"

He thought about it, then nodded. "Yeah. I'd rather what we did stayed between just us, to be honest."

"You should have thought about that before you fucked someone with James Ogilvie present."

He nodded. "Speaking of Oggie, he ended up taking one of the bridesmaids home."

"Why am I not surprised?"

"I was thinking..." Steven put his fork down and ran his hand through his hair. "I may go out for a couple of hours tonight."

Alicia held his gaze for a few seconds, pursed her lips, then nodded. "Okay."

"You don't mind?"

"Would it matter if I did?"

"Well, yes. That's why I'm asking."

She smiled and shook her head. "No, I don't mind. Have you got something arranged?"

“No, I just thought I’d have a drive around and see if...” He shrugged. “Nothing might happen.”

“Fine. Do whatever you need.” She gave him a smile that didn’t seem to reach her eyes, then went back to eating her dinner.

After he’d helped get the kids bathed and settled in bed, Steven put on a pair of jeans and a black t-shirt. As he walked into the lounge, Alicia was sitting on the couch with her laptop on her knee.

She looked him up and down. “Is that your pulling outfit?” This time, her smile seemed genuine.

He glanced down at his attire. “I don’t think what I’m wearing will be important, somehow.”

“Just make sure you wear a rubber.”

“I will.”

“Are you going to be out all night?”

“No.” Steven’s legs were shaking. Excitement or nerves? He didn’t know. If Alicia asked him to, he’d stay home.

“Okay, well... Enjoy yourself.”

He forced a smile. “Will you have your five questions ready for when I get home?”

“Not tonight. And if I’m asleep when you get in, don’t wake me.”

He looked down at the rug. When he looked back up again, she’d turned her focus back to her laptop. After a brief hesitation, he walked out to his car. Fifteen minutes later, he turned into Lambert Road.

The first woman he saw was a thin blonde in heeled sandals and a tight red dress. She smiled as he drove slowly past. Next were two women standing together and, like the blonde had, they turned their heads and smiled as he passed them.

His hands gripped the wheel, his guts fluttering with nervous energy. Knowing he could fuck whichever of these women he wanted made him feel like a kid in a sweet shop. The next woman was a redhead in a black leather jacket, green miniskirt and black stilettos. Steven pulled up at the kerb and buzzed down the passenger door window. Before she’d even bent over to talk to him, he could smell her perfume.

“Hey handsome, I’m Jo-Jo,” she said, hooking her silver-painted nails onto the door through the open window. “What can I do for you?”

Steven couldn’t place her accent, but she definitely wasn’t local. “I’m looking to have a little fun.”

“Then you’re definitely in the right place,” she said. “Fun is my middle name.” When she smiled, he could lip-gloss smeared over slightly uneven front teeth. She raised an eyebrow. “Are you going to invite me in?”

“Sure.”

Jo-Jo slid into the passenger seat, then looked into his eyes as she placed her hand on his thigh. “Do you have a room we can use?”

“No, I er...” He hadn’t thought of getting a room.

“That’s fine.” She squeezed his thigh and blinked her big brown eyes, which really didn’t need the ridiculously long false eyelashes. She shut the car door. “Let’s drive.”

Steven pulled away from the kerb and drove slowly along the road. The other women still turned their heads, but this time none of them smiled. He wondered if any had made a note of his car registration.

Jo-Jo moved her hand slightly higher up his thigh and leaned over to whisper in his ear. “We can either use your car, or I can get us a room—but that’ll cost more.”

“What sort of prices are we talking?” He really hadn’t got a clue about what he could get for his money.

“Hmm, well, seeing as you’re so handsome, I’ll give you my best rates.” She slid her hand over his crotch, smiling as her fingers passed over the bulge of his semi. “If you want to do it in the car, it’s just fifty for a blowjob or seventy-five for a straight fuck.”

It was less than he’d expected. He’d withdrawn £250 from the cash machine. “And how much if you got us a room?”

“I could get us a room for another fifty.” She blew in his ear. “And if we were in a room, we’d be able to stretch out on the bed.”

He reached over and placed his hand on her thigh. “I like that idea.”

Chapter 12

Steven followed her directions. He'd expected them to lead to some seedy hotel, but the area was residential, road after road lined with terraced houses. Jo-Jo ordered him to take another left, then to park wherever he could find a space. They got out of the car and walked along the pavement, and he was very aware of her heels clicking loudly on the stone slabs. He kept checking to see if any of the neighbours' curtains were moving.

She opened the front door and led him straight upstairs, her miniskirt giving him a good view of her legs. He even caught a glimpse of her red underwear and wondered if they'd clash with her pubes. Jo-Jo would be his first ever redhead.

At the small landing, Jo-Jo chose the middle door of three, which led to the room at the back of the house. It was small, with cheap carpet on the floor and wooden louvred blinds covering the window. The only piece of furniture was a double bed with a slightly creased cover. The possibility that she'd brought another client here earlier in the evening turned him on.

"So," she said with a husky whisper, "have you decided what you want?"

He nodded. "I want to fuck you."

She gave a smile. "Good. So, seventy-five, plus fifty for the room. If you take the one twenty-five from your pocket..." She nuzzled his neck and rubbed his cock through his jeans. "...I'll take this out."

Since the machine didn't issue fivers, Steve handed over one hundred and thirty pounds. Jo-Jo's eyes lingered on the rest of his cash as he folded it before returning it to his pocket.

"Thanks." She slipped her money into a zipped pocket of her leather jacket, which she promptly pulled off her shoulders onto the floor. Her lacy white top was so sheer that her red bra was clearly visible through it. Jo-Jo resumed stroking Steven's bulge. She leaned close and nibbled his shoulder through the t-shirt while using her fingers to pop open the buttons of his jeans.

She slipped her hand inside his boxers. Her soft fingers wrapped around his erection, and she let out a breathy sigh. "Oh, I'm going to enjoy having this inside me," she whispered, wanking him slowly.

He tried to keep his voice as casual as he could. "Don't you enjoy all the dicks you have inside you?"

"Some cocks are more enjoyable than others." She squeezed her grip and pumped faster. "Not everyone's as big as you."

He lowered his voice to a whisper. "But some are bigger."

"I've seen all sizes." She stepped back and slipped her top over her head, then rolled her stretchy miniskirt down her legs. Standing in front of him wearing only red underwear and black stilettos, she placed her hands on her hips and shook her hair back. "Like what you see?"

"Oh yeah." She had a good body and was curvier than Alicia. Her legs were not as long or as toned, but her boobs were considerably bigger.

Jo-Jo reached behind her back and unclipped the bra, revealing pale pink nipples and a faint smattering of freckles. She squeezed her breasts together, pulling her own nipples, then sat on the edge of the bed and pulled his jeans and shorts down to mid-thigh. Looking up into his face, she jerked his cock for a moment before wiping the tip against her cheeks, smearing his precum onto her face. She was breathing hard, her tits rising and falling.

He knew it was all an act, but he appreciated her effort to seem turned on.

"Well, I think we'd better get this," she whispered, squeezing his dick, "into his little suit, then you can give me the fucking I need."

"Good idea."

Jo-Jo reached down to her jacket, took out a condom and placed it on the head of his cock.

Mesmerised, Steven watched her silver-nailed finger and thumb expertly roll it down his shaft. He wanted to ask how many cocks she'd suited up in this way and how many she'd taken into that hot little body of hers, but now wasn't the time.

After she'd fitted the condom, she cupped his balls. "These fellas feel a bit too heavy. I think we need to take some of the weight out of them." She slipped off her panties but left on her shoes, then scooted herself into the middle of the bed. Holding his gaze, she lay back, bent her knees and let her legs fall open. Jo-Jo ran her fingers through her ginger pubic hair, inviting him to get a good look at the glistening dark pinkness of her sex. "Come on, handsome, give it to me."

Not bothering to take off his shoes, he pushed his jeans down to his knees and climbed on the bed between her feet. He fondled her tits, cupping their impressive fullness while he grazed his thumbs over her nipples.

Jo-Jo began thrusting her hips as if desperate for him to enter her.

He smiled, knowing she was only eager to get it over with. "What's the rush?"

She licked her lips. "I need your cock."

"Why's that?" He released her tits and ran his hand down her body.

"It's been too long..." she said in a breathy voice, moving her own hands to grip his shoulders.

He laughed. "I doubt that." He slid two fingers inside. She was hot, and incredibly wet. Maybe she used some kind of lube to avoid getting sore. "I mean, how long's it been since the last one?" he teased as he finger-fucked her. "You're one of the best-looking women down that street. I'd expect you to be busy all night long."

Jo-Jo studied his face for a few seconds, then nodded. "It can get very, very busy." Evidently she'd cottoned on to what he wanted to hear. She placed her hands on his hips and pulled him towards her. "Why don't you take what you've paid for and let me get back to work?"

He stroked his tip through the puffy folds of her well-used cunt. "So when you say you need my cock, what you really mean is that you need me to finish so you can go out and find a fresh one."

"Doesn't have to be a fresh one. If you get hard again after shooting your bolt, I'll be happy to take yours again. Just lay out another seventy-five."

There was a defiance in her eyes that he liked. "So you need me to shoot my bolt?" It was a phrase he'd never heard before.

“No, handsome. You need to shoot your bolt. I just need you to stop talking and start fucking.”

Steven stabbed his cock into her.

Jo-Jo let out a long groan and wrapped her legs around his, the high heels scraping against the bunched-up denim around his ankles. “Oh yeah...” She instantly slipped back into her role. “Oh, baby, that feels so good.” She dragged the last word out, and also seemed to have taken on an American accent. Maybe she watched a lot of porn.

Steven enjoyed her act. Her body writhed beneath his, her expressions ever-changing, as if in rapture. He pumped his hips, knowing he wouldn’t be keeping her there for long. She wanted him to come, and that worked for him. At this moment in time, she worked for him. Not having to consider her needs, all he concentrated on was which rhythm worked best to get enough friction from her hot little fuck-pot to get him off.

Jo-Jo began a low purring sound and worked it up into a wail of pleasure as he increased the pace of his thrusts. She thrashed her head from side to side, her hair dragging over the pillows and covering her face. She cried out as if she were coming, but there was no spasm gripping his cock. He didn’t care if she came or if she faked it. He raised himself up on straight arms, pounded her like a jackhammer, then gritted his teeth and held still. His climax was like an explosion from his balls. He half-expected the force of his spunk to burst the teat at the end of the condom.

As Jo-Jo leaned up off the bed and clung to his shoulders, he resumed the piston motion of his hips, sending gush after gush of cum into the rubber while riding the wave of his orgasm. When he finally stopped moving, she slid her arms down and around his waist and held him in a close hug. It felt surprisingly tender, and he was a little disconcerted.

He held the condom in place and pulled out, rolling onto his back next to her. Still panting a little, he knotted the rubber and dangled it from his fingers. “Where shall I put this?”

She took it from him and dropped it onto the floor on her side of the bed.

He grinned. “Do you have a bag ready for the refuse collector?”

“Yeah, and I need to get them collected in bulk because I use so many.” She leaned up on one elbow and dragged a fingernail down his stomach. “Is that what you like to think about, hon? Do you like to imagine me taking cock after cock, with all the men filling up their johnnies and me saving them in a bucket under the bed?”

Steven smiled. “Maybe.”

“Yeah, that’s what I figured. Some men like to imagine they’re the only one, and that I’m their girl.” She’d reached his crotch and now ran her fingernail up the length of his flaccid cock. “Others like to think of themselves as just one in a line.”

“I’m in the second group.”

“Oh, I know you are.” She leaned down and briefly sucked his nipple. “And I guess what you want to know right now is how far down the line you are...”

Steven shuddered and felt his balls rise in his sac.

“Oh, baby, you’re really into the numbers.” Chuckling, she leaned over him, dragging her hair across his chest. “I know you’ve still got some money left, so how about I tell you a few things?” She licked her lips seductively. “Maybe I’ll get you nice and hard again, then you can have another seventy-five pounds’ worth of fun.”

Steven still had enough cash on him. “Yeah, maybe.” He brushed the hair back from her face and stared into her eyes. “So, about those numbers...”

Jo-Jo sat up and swung a leg over him, straddling his thighs. She wrapped her fingers around his soft manhood and repeatedly stroked her thumb over the slick, sensitive cockhead. “What do you want to know?”

He had a million questions but started with the least personal ones. If he asked how long she’d been selling her body and why she’d first started, she’d likely refuse to play his game. “What time did your shift start tonight?”

“About five, to catch the guys on their way home from work.”

This was enlightening. He’d always imagined this was a late-till-early kind of business. “And how’s business been since then?”

Keeping her eyes on his, she began squeezing and releasing her grip on his cock. “It’s been steady.”

“I’m a bit naïve about these things,” he said.

“Oh, I don’t think you’re that naïve.” She leaned forward, hair grazing his stomach as she spat on his cock, slowly moving her hand, twisting her wrist with each upstroke. “I think you just want to hear me talk dirty.” She continued with her action in silence as the blood filled his cock, then looked up into his eyes. “Talking dirty is fine, but before we go any further, you’re going to need to put your hand back in your pocket.”

“How much will it cost for you to keep doing that?”

She looked surprised. “A handjob?”

He nodded.

“In your car, a handjob would be twenty-five.”

He wondered if she was going to try and charge him extra for the room. “And how much is it here?”

She grinned. “It’s the same, but for thirty-five you’d get to shoot your cum all over my tits.”

With a little difficulty, Steven reached down to his jeans pocket and extracted another two twenties.

“Thanks, sugar.” Jo-Jo smiled, then resumed jerking him off. “So, what else do you want to know?”

“How many clients does it take for you to consider the shift as ‘steady’?”

“I’d call one every hour steady.”

“So, if you started at five and I picked you up around nine—?”

“You’re my fifth tonight.”

A tremor ran up his spine, which he hoped Jo-Jo hadn’t sensed. “And the other four, what did they want?”

“They all wanted to fuck me, but one guy didn’t have enough money on him, so he had to settle for a blowjob.”

Steven looked at her mouth and imagined sliding his dick between those shiny red lips. “Maybe I’ll request a blowjob in the future.”

“You do that. I’ll make it feel like I’m sucking your balls up your dick.” She increased her hand speed.

“Will I get to come in your mouth?”

She smiled. “Yep, straight into a strawberry-flavoured condom. You won’t even notice wearing it, though. My throat’s tight, and my tongue’s always busy.”

His breathing was getting ragged, and his groin tingled with pre-orgasmic tension. He needed to ask his questions before she made him come. “How many of tonight’s men came to this room?”

“Just one before you. And I have a regular who’ll be coming back here at eleven.”

“You take bookings?” This was something else that had never occurred to him.

She laughed. “I have regulars.”

“Every night?”

“Once a week, once a month. It depends on the guy.” She batted her eyelashes again. “You could become a regular, and I could describe what the other men do to me.”

He wasn’t going to be able to delay for much longer. “Is there anything you wouldn’t do for a client?”

She snorted. “There’s a long list of things I won’t do. I don’t accept body fluids. That stretches from kissing on the mouth to drinking piss.”

His legs started to tremble. “So what can they do?”

“They can use my body in any way they like. They can stick their fingers and their dick in any hole they want, providing it’s wearing a rubber.”

“Any hole?”

She wanked him faster. “If you want to dance the backdoor boogie, it’ll cost you a nice round hundred, because I have a nice round butthole.”

He couldn’t help smiling. “When will your shift end?”

She shrugged. “I have another regular at one-thirty. He’s a doorman at a club, and he’ll probably be my last of the night. Mondays are fairly quiet.”

“What are the busiest nights?”

“Thursdays are busy—everyone likes to get in the weekend mood early. Friday and Saturdays are good, too.” She smiled and cupped his balls with her other hand. “I think you should leave the rest of your questions until next time, because your eyes are telling me you’re ready.”

He opened his mouth to ask one more, but realised she was right. Jo-Jo leaned forward and hung her boobs over his groin, then pumped him at double speed. Steven let out a grunt and bucked his hips as a thick cord of cum splattered her tits. She groaned and kept moving her hand, bringing more spurts from him.

When he’d finally stopped coming, she leaned down and pushed her boobs against his cock, sliding them up and down. It felt wonderful. He jerked his hips and flexed his balls, relishing the sensation, but there was no coming again. He was spent. He finally opened his eyes to see her smiling at him.

“Did you like that?”

He was too breathless to speak.

She laughed. “I think you should come back for a nice titty-fuck. It’ll be the best forty-five pounds you’ll ever spend.”

“That sounds like a plan.”

“Good.”

As she sat up on his thighs, stretching, he stared at her body, her boobs covered with his cum. “I thought you didn’t take body fluids?”

“Not inside, no. On my body is fine.”

“Does that include all body fluids?”

She shrugged. “If you want to piss on me, hon, you provide the room and bring plenty of money.”

He laughed and shook his head. “That’s not my thing.”

“Good. Now, I think I’d better go clean up.” She got off the bed, taking the forty pounds and her jacket with her, and disappeared through the door.

Steven leaned over her side of the bed and saw two soiled condoms on the cheap nylon carpet. Another thrill ran through him as he redressed.

Jo-Jo returned just a minute or so later, smelling of baby wipes. She pulled on her panties, then smiled at him.

“If you want to take my number, we can arrange a day and time for your next visit.”

He took down her number while she dressed, adding her to his contacts as JJ in the list of players from his football team. As they made their way downstairs, he asked if she lived there.

“Nah, this house belongs to a friend. He works away during the week and lets me use the spare bedroom.”

They stepped out onto the pavement, and he smirked. “Dare I ask how you pay him?”

She leaned close to whisper in his ear. “I suck his cock.” Then she laughed and slapped his arm. “You have a filthy mind. I give him the money I charge the clients, so tonight he’s already made a hundred, and there’ll be another fifty from later.”

“Nice arrangement for him.” He wasn’t sure he believed her. She could probably rent the house for about five hundred a month, which she could make in a few nights.

A few minutes later, she was directing him back towards Lambert Road. He checked his watch. She might have time to fit in one more guy before her regular at eleven. Once she’d told him where to stop, she flashed him a smile. “Text me.”

“I will.”

She squirmed in her seat as if excited by the thought of another date. “What are you going to do?”

He held her gaze. “I’m going to ask about the men you fuck.”

“I know that, but what will you want to do to me?”

“I’ll start off with a tit-fuck, and then I’ll want a blowjob.”

Her tongue appeared between her lips, and he wondered if that was her automatic reaction to the mention of oral sex. “I’m looking forward to it.”

“Me too.”

Jo-Jo got out of his car, smiled as she crossed the road in front of him, and walked back to stand with an Asian girl by the railings. Steven put the car into gear and drove home.

Chapter 13

Alicia was in bed when she heard Steve's car pull into their drive. He came into the house and straight upstairs. She closed her eyes and lay still as he opened the bedroom door, paused, then went to the bathroom. She heard the shower running and knew he'd fucked someone else. Knew he was washing off the smell of perfume, sex and condoms. The knowledge left her impassive.

There was no raging anger that he'd preferred to have sex with another woman, and none of the excitement he obviously felt about her trysts. She couldn't even raise any enthusiasm about the opportunity of her next adventure.

A few minutes later, he slid into bed beside her. He held his breath, probably trying to decide whether she was asleep or not, then settled on his side, facing away from her. His breathing eventually settled into the steady rhythm of sleep. Alicia lay awake for almost an hour, listening to her philandering husband's snores.

She woke up when he rested his hand on her shoulder. He'd brought her tea and whispered that Brad was awake and chattering to himself in his cot.

Alicia sat up and thanked him for her tea. "So, how was your night out?"

"Is that the first of your five questions?" He smirked, probably considering himself clever.

"No, that was just me being polite. I'd ask the same if you'd been to visit your granny."

He laughed. "I enjoyed my evening, thank you."

"Was she older than me or younger?"

He blinked, looking surprised.

"That's my first question," she confirmed.

"I didn't ask her age, but at a guess I'd say early to mid-twenties."

Alicia nodded. "Thanks. I'll have more questions later."

He left the bedroom and walked downstairs. She heard the back door close and his car start, and she'd almost finished her tea by the time Isla brought Brad into the bedroom.

"He woke me up," she said, climbing into bed. Brad giggled and climbed in after his sister.

Alicia spent fifteen minutes cuddling and laughing with the children in bed. They went downstairs in their jammies and Alicia made breakfast.

Once she'd got everyone washed and dressed, she had an idea. "Who wants to go swimming?"

Both kids screamed in unison, and Brad ran into the potted fern in his enthusiasm.

Thirty minutes later, Alicia and the kids emerged from the changing rooms and made their way to the kids' pool. She'd been bringing the kids swimming regularly since first taking Isla to the Water Babies classes, but today was the first time she'd paid any attention to the admiring looks she got from the men.

One guy in goggles was swimming up and down the main pool. He took a breather between lengths and watched her walk by. Alicia flashed him a smile because he had nice shoulders. In the kids' pool, one of the dads seemed unable to resist glancing in her direction every few seconds, so she gave him a friendly smile, too. It was nice to be noticed.

Although she'd assured Maddie that she didn't care about what Steve did, it wasn't completely true. She didn't care that Steve felt the need to fuck hookers, but she did worry that it was down to her own shortcomings as a sexual partner. No matter how many times he assured her otherwise, something at the back of her mind kept saying that he was only doing this because she wasn't enough. Whatever draw these women had for her husband, she simply didn't have it.

The day passed quietly and Steve arrived home at the usual time, kissing her on the cheek as soon as he'd walked through the door.

"When do you want to eat?" she asked. "The kids have had a picnic on the lawn, so we can eat whenever suits you."

"Sooner the better, thanks. I'm playing five-a-side at eight." He opened the fridge door and perused the contents. "Shall I make us a stir-fry?"

Alicia liked the idea of having dinner made for her. “That’d be lovely.”

“Okay. Why don’t you take a couple of forks out to the patio table, and I’ll get changed, then make dinner.”

“Sounds perfect. I might even take myself a glass of wine out, too. Do you want a beer?”

He shook his head. “No thanks. I struggle to keep up with the young guys as it is.”

She poured herself a glass. “It’s good that you know your limitations.”

It was still relatively warm outside. Isla and Brad were using coloured chalks to draw patterns on the garden path. Alicia sipped her wine and thought about what questions she’d ask Steve about his evening with his lady friend. She was actually curious about certain details and would have to decide which were most important. She only had four questions left.

Steve set down two bowls of steaming food and dropped into a chair next to her.

“Thanks,” she said. “This looks great.”

They chatted about their respective days while they ate. After they’d finished, she cleared up the kitchen while Steve spent time with Isla and Brad, giving them their bath. She was watching cartoons with them when he came downstairs with his kitbag and kissed the kids.

“I’ll see you later,” he said, kissing her last.

She nodded, knowing he couldn’t wait to tell her about his previous night’s exploits.

* * * *

After the five-a-side session, Steven and the rest of the players gathered in the bar. Spirits were high after a very competitive hour of pretty good football.

“I bet Ewan wishes he was here instead of on his honeymoon,” Tom said.

Oggie laughed. “I expect he’s bollocks-deep in his new wife at this very minute and just as sweaty as we were in the sports hall.”

“Yeah, lucky bastard,” said one of the younger lads.

“Speaking of lucky bastards,” Oggie said, putting his already empty pint glass down and looking in Steven’s direction, “what the fuck does your missus see in you, Pirlo? And don’t pretend you’re packing because we shower with you every week and know you’re not.”

“Funnily enough, you guys don’t have the same effect on my dick as she does.” Steven noticed Dean Sharp had averted his eyes.

More jibes and jokes followed, and the conversation switched to other topics. People started to leave an hour or so later. Steven walked out with a couple of the other players, waved goodbye and drove home.

He found Alicia watching TV from the couch in the living room. “Fancy a drink?”

She nodded towards a glass of white wine on the hearth. “Already got one, thanks.”

He got himself a beer and sat in the armchair opposite. “Nice evening?”

She nodded. “Kids settled down straight away and not a peep from them since. How was football?”

“Really good tonight. Sometimes one team’s much better, but the split was more even tonight. It was a close game, so everybody tried right up to the end.” He smiled at her blank expression, suspecting she hadn’t a clue what he was talking about. “If one team’s ten goals behind, they don’t bother. If there’s only a goal or two in it, they work hard until the final whistle.”

She frowned. “But who picks the teams? Why pick one stronger than the other?”

“It depends on when people arrive. Not everyone gets there on time, so if there are only six of us at the start, we split it into a fair three versus three. The rest of each team depends on who turns up next.”

“Guys are weird.” She picked up her wine. “Anyone mention the wedding?”

“Yeah. They all asked how I managed to get someone as gorgeous as you to marry me.”

“They asked me the same at the wedding. I told them it was because you encouraged me to fuck other men.” Her answer rendered him speechless, and she laughed. “Sorry, are we supposed to be keeping that secret from your football crowd?”

“Who did—?”

“I didn’t really say it, you dork.”

“Ah, right. You had me...” He shook his head. “Anyway, I don’t encourage you.”

“Yes you do.”

“No, I’d be happy for you to not fuck anyone else. I’d originally thought we could use my adventures to spice up our love life.”

Alicia’s eyes opened wide. “You thought I’d be happy with that arrangement?”

“After I’d told you about Saskia, we had the best sex we’d had in ages. I thought you’d got off on it, so it was a surprise when you announced you’d booked an escort.”

“But while I was in Edinburgh I had the best sex of my life.” His frown made her laugh again. “I’m kidding, but it was hot. And what’s more, I know for a fact that you got off on it, too.”

He had no intention of admitting he’d masturbated on the night she was in Scotland. “My reaction was... different than I’d expected.”

“How? Were you expecting to be distraught with jealousy?”

“I was jealous, and I still am. But the jealousy adds something. It kicks it up a notch.”

“That’s not what you said a minute ago. I thought you’d be happy for me not to fuck anybody else.”

He bit his lip and stared into her eyes, reluctant to admit how he really felt. “Your trip to Edinburgh made me... Thinking about your escort with anybody else doesn’t do anything for me. But thinking about him with you makes it...” He shrugged. “Sexy, I guess.”

“And what about the next time I go out? Will that be sexy?”

An involuntary muscle spasm squeezed his balls. “Yes.”

She seemed to think about this for a while, then nodded. “So, are you ready to answer more questions about last night?”

He nodded, tingling with anticipation.

“Where did you go?”

“I picked her up on the street and she took me back to a house.”

Alicia took a sip of wine as she seemed to consider his answer.

“How many times did you come with her, and how did she do it?”

“That’s technically two questions.”

“I know. And I’ll only have one more to ask after you’ve answered them.”

Her readiness to get the questions out of the way took the wind out of his sails. He’d tried to tease her, but she wasn’t getting into it in the way he’d hoped. He sighed, wishing they’d left this discussion until they were in bed. Or until she’d drunk a little more wine.

“I came twice,” he said. “The first while fucking her, the second when she gave me a handjob.”

Alicia looked surprised, then nodded. “I seem to remember you enjoying the handjob I gave you recently. Maybe that’s what inspired your choice.”

“Maybe. So, what’s the final question?”

“I’ll ask that one later. I thought by now you’d be ready for sex.”

“You thought I’d be...?” His throat constricted and his cock swelled.

Alicia put her glass down, stood up and pushed her leggings and panties down her to her ankles. Then she sat back on the edge of the couch, pulled them off over her feet and spread her legs. “I know talking about fucking your women makes you horny.”

Steven stared at her body, her open legs and exposed sex. “You make me horny.”

She shook her head. “You’re not thinking about me now, and it won’t be me you think about when you fuck me.”

“That’s not—”

“Shut up and get your dick inside me.”

He frowned, wondering if she was actually angry. He put his beer down on the side table.

She smiled at him. “I also know that thinking about your women makes you come quickly.”

“I won’t come that quickly.”

She smiled. “Yes you will, but that’s okay. I’ll probably come quickly, too.”

Steven undid his jeans and wanked his dick a couple of times to get it fully hard while positioning himself on his knees in front of her.

Alicia lay back against the couch, watching his face. He swiped his cock between her outer lips. She was hot and wet. Holding her gaze, he pushed forward and into her.

Her eyes fluttered. She smiled and reached forward to hold his face between her palms. “Mm, that’s nice.” She rocked her hips, first up and down, then side to side. “Ooh...”

Steven stroked her breasts through her top and bra. He thrust harder, pushing in as deep as he could go. Her inner muscles gripped him, squeezing his cock in the most delicious way. He closed his eyes and fucked her slowly, relishing the feel of skin on skin. Alicia let out a quiet moan. He opened his eyes to watch his cock sliding in and out. Her clit was engorged, peeking from its hood. He placed fingertips on either side and rubbed slowly.

“You seem to be turned on by my adventure,” he whispered.

“Hmm.” She let out a sigh. “Or maybe I’m turned on from thinking about what I’m going to do next.”

He rubbed faster. “I guess I’ll never know.”

She took a breath as if to speak, then exhaled and closed her eyes again. Steven ploughed in and out with force. She cried out, bucking up off the couch as he exploded inside her.

When the sensations had faded to twitches and tremors, Steven opened his eyes and stared at his wife. “That was a better homecoming than I’d dared hope for.” This wasn’t exactly true. She’d given herself to him but had seemed a little distant, somehow. Maybe it had been just his imagination.

“If I’d asked my questions last night,” she said, easing him out and slipping a tissue between her legs, “you wouldn’t have been so desperate for sex.”

“Yeah, you’re probably right.” He fastened his jeans and sat back on the armchair. “You still have one more question.”

Alicia quickly dressed, then picked up her wine. “Okay, final question.” She looked straight into his eyes. “Was it worth it?”

He was puzzled. “Do you mean did I get value for my money?”

“Not the money.” Her expression was a little sad. “I mean was the buzz you got from your night out worth having to accept that I’ll take another man to bed?”

He held her gaze, still too ashamed to admit that the buzz he’d get from her next adventure would rival the one he’d gotten from his own. “I think so.”

She smiled. "That's alright, then." After taking another sip, she crossed her legs and sat back on the couch. "Did we settle on a figure for each adventure?"

"Not that I remember. How about £200 a time?"

"Did you spend that much last night?"

He shook his head. "No, but I might want more next time."

"Hmm. This could get expensive."

He grinned, imagining a blowjob from Jo-Jo. "We'll find a way of fitting it into our budget."

* * * *

Alicia made herself a cup of tea and sat in the kitchen watching the light drizzle through the French doors. Steve was at work and the kids were watching TV.

She didn't bother browsing the web to look at escort services. Xavier's fee alone had cost more than their agreed price limit, and she'd still need to rent a room where she could do the deed.

Maddie's incredulity that Alicia had paid someone for sex kept going through her mind. In some ways, being a woman made casual sex easy. All she'd need to do was book a hotel room in a town where nobody knew her, go out to a bar, and wait for someone to hit on her. She was confident she'd have no problem finding a man she was attracted to.

Though the idea of picking up a man for casual sex was titillating, she suspected her excitement was only a fraction of what Steve felt while planning his nights out.

The kids giggled in the living room, bringing her back to reality. Her tea finished, she walked through to see what they were laughing about. On TV, Peppa and George were having fun burying Daddy Pig on the beach. This gave Alicia an idea.

A holiday resort would be the ideal place to pick up a stranger.

After lunch, Alicia got Brad down for a nap and then painted Isla's fingernails. When Brad woke up and saw his sister's pale blue varnish, he demanded the same. Alicia couldn't refuse. When Steve arrived home and saw his son running around the living room with painted fingernails, carrying two dolls, he looked questioningly at her.

She smiled. "He wants his toes done next, when you have a minute."

Steve picked Brad up and blew a raspberry on the back of his neck, making him giggle. "What's Mum done to your fingers, Champ?"

Brad wiggled them, a wide smile on his face. "Like Isla's."

"So I see. And is Isla letting you play with her dolls, too?"

Brad nodded.

"I think she wanted a little sister more than we realised," Steve said.

Alicia scoffed. "There's nothing wrong with little boys playing with dolls. Or wearing nail varnish."

"I know." He put Brad down, who resumed running in circles, flying the dolls like toy aeroplanes. Steve looked at Alicia. "And shall I do your toenails, too?" He raised his eyebrows and leaned close. "So you look sexy for your next date?"

Alicia checked that the kids were too involved with their game to listen. "I like to think I'll look sexy no matter what state my toenails are in."

He shook his head. "Men notice these things. You'd be surprised."

"I'd be amazed. The last guy fucked me with my shoes on and never bothered looking lower than my beaver. The closest he got to my feet was when I wrapped my ankles around his neck." His obvious discomfort made her laugh. "And now you're probably going to get hard thinking about that." She walked into the kitchen to check on dinner.

Steve followed. "So, have you made any arrangements yet?"

"I've not had time." The potatoes were done, so she turned off the heat and drained them over the sink. "I've been too busy looking after our children."

When she turned around, Steve looked a little despondent. Smiling, she went to the fridge for the butter, then opened the oven door to take out the salmon. "Could you drain the sweetcorn while I plate up?"

He nodded, took the sieve from the cupboard and did as she'd asked.

Once the kids had started eating, Alicia served their food and looked outside. The weather had brightened up, and everywhere looked dry. "Shall we eat alfresco?"

"Does that mean naked?"

Alicia didn't bother answering. She picked up her plate and cutlery, then opened the French doors and walked over to the patio table. Steve followed and sat opposite. They made small talk as they ate.

“I was thinking,” she said. “The forecast looks good for the weekend, so maybe we could take that pair to the beach.”

Steve smiled. “Yeah, that’d be good. Any idea where?”

“There are loads of nice beaches along the North Wales coast. We used to go there when I was a kid. We can pack a picnic and stop anywhere that takes our fancy.”

He nodded. “They’d both love that.”

“And if we see a resort that appears to have a lively nightlife, I’ll go back the following weekend.”

“You’ll go back...?” It seemed to take a few seconds for him to grasp what she meant. “On your own? You’ll go back on your own, and —?”

“Yes, Steve.” She put her knife and fork onto her empty plate and pushed it towards him. “Now, before you get an erection, take the plates in and get the kids a yoghurt from the fridge.”

Chapter 14

Steven insisted on leaving for the beach trip as early as possible. They hit the road before eight and traffic was mercifully light for most of the journey. By the time they got their first glimpse of the sea, the sun was well above the horizon and the day was already warm.

At Colwyn Bay, Steven set up the windbreak around their towels while Alicia changed the kids into their swimming costumes and applied their sunscreen. They all held hands and walked down to the shore. The sea was colder than he'd expected.

As the kids screamed with excitement and Alicia giggled, they walked further into the surf. The water wasn't even up to Steven's knees, but Brad was waist-deep and getting a little scared. Alicia picked him up, so Steven did the same with Isla and they walked a little deeper, bending to dip the kids' feet into the swells.

Eventually they went back to their towels and sat in the sun. Isla made friends with a girl whose family was sitting close by, and Steven helped Brad build a sandcastle while Alicia sunbathed.

Over the next couple of hours, they had several other excursions into the sea, bought and flew a kite that the kids soon tired of, and had ice cream.

Alicia sat up on the towels, eating a 99. "I don't think we should try and eat our picnic on the beach," she said. "Sand gets everywhere, and the kids would end up eating sand sandwiches."

He laughed. "What do you suggest?"

"Let's drive a little further along the coast and stop somewhere with either grass or picnic tables."

They packed up, assuring the kids they'd be back on another beach a little later, and made their way back to the car. Steven carried Brad, watching Alicia's bum in the tight denim cut-offs she was wearing.

Having found a picnic area with grass and picnic tables, he unloaded everything again. "So," he said, as the kids chased each other around a tree,

“tell me about your experiences of sand getting everywhere.”

“What, tell you about a dirty weekend in a caravan when I was nineteen?”

He nodded.

She held his gaze, then leaned closer. “You’re wearing shorts, and we both know you’d get a stiffie.”

“No, I wouldn’t.”

She laughed, picked up a bottle of water, and took a swig. “Let’s just say a day lying on a sandy beach isn’t the best preparation for your first time doing anal.”

Steven nearly fell off the picnic bench. “You had—?”

“Daddy,” Isla called. “Brad’s trod in some dog poo.”

Steven groaned, exasperated. “But you were just about to tell—”

“Go and get him. I’ll find the baby wipes.”

The moment passed, he trudged over to pick Brad up. Most of the dog shit was on the sole of his plastic sandal, but some was smeared between his toes. He grimaced at Brad. “Poo-wee.”

Brad laughed and wiggled his toes.

After their picnic, they made a pitstop at Conwy to pick up new sandals and visit the harbour — which the kids took zero interest in — then headed for the next beach on the isle of Anglesey. After almost three hours, Brad was so tired and grumpy they decided to call it a day. Both kids fell asleep just a few minutes into the journey home.

“Let’s stay on the coast road for a bit longer,” Alicia said, studying a map on her phone. “We can leave the A55 at Abergele and drive through Rhyl and Prestatyn.”

He smiled knowingly. “What for?”

She reached over and placed her hand on his crotch. “Research.”

His balls tingled with anticipation. “Just be careful of the sand.”

She laughed and gave his cock a squeeze. “Don’t worry, I won’t be going anywhere near the beach.”

They drove in silence for a while. Alicia directed him through the towns, both heaving with holidaymakers. There were families with small children, groups of teenage girls in short skirts and too much makeup, and old couples. There were also lots of men. Most of them looked like thugs.

“Are you sure this is the sort of place you want to come on your own?”

She stared at the hordes for a few seconds, then turned to him and nodded. “Yes. But you know that when I come, I won’t be on my own.”

The way she’d emphasised ‘when I come’ made him tingle. His body thrummed with excitement, and he hated himself for it.

* * * *

Alicia pushed away the last of the takeaway, watching the kids chattering happily in front of the TV in the living room. “I enjoyed today,” she said. “And those two definitely did.”

He nodded. “We should do it more often.”

She was more than a little worn out, though. “After all the sunshine and sea air, I think I’m going to have an early night.”

“Great plan.”

She laughed at his eager little face. “Sorry babe, but Mother Nature’s just called for her monthly visit.”

“Oh.”

She gave his arm a consoling pat. “On the bright side, I’ll be back in business for my next trip to Wales.”

“Hmm.”

She laughed again. “Come on, let’s go cuddle that pair until they’re ready for bed.”

* * * *

Steven spent most of the following week in a state of frustrated excitement. He was desperate to talk about what Alicia might get up to during her night away, but she showed no interest in discussing it. He’d tried to steer their conversations in that direction several times, asking if she’d chosen a hotel or decided what she’d wear. Each question had been answered with a non-committal shrug.

On Saturday morning they told the kids that Mummy was going to visit a friend and Daddy would be in charge. Isla and Brad both nodded to show this arrangement was fine with them.

Alicia took a bag out to her car, then came back to kiss the kids.

When it was Steven's turn, she leaned close and kissed his cheek.
"Look after my babies and try to get some sleep."

He blinked, wondering if she meant what he thought she did. He tried for a puzzled expression. "Sorry?"

She smiled. "You know what I'll be doing tonight, and I'm pretty sure I know what you'll be doing, too."

He had to force himself to maintain eye contact.

She let out a low chuckle. "Don't worry. I think it's a compliment."

He bit his lip, too embarrassed to say anything.

She glanced to make sure the kids weren't paying attention, then stroked his crotch. "Just make sure you don't get it on the sheets."

"Maybe I'll save it until you get home."

"No you won't. And besides, I know you'll have more to give me then." She walked to the door. "I'll text to let you know I've got there okay."

"Will you text to tell me anything else?"

She laughed. "Don't wait up."

Steven watched her walk down the drive. He knew what she was going to do later and also knew that if he had any sense, he'd ask her not to go.

"Can we have some chocolate?" Isla asked.

"Choc-choc," Brad said with an excited smile.

Steven nodded and went to the cupboard where the sweets were kept. For the rest of the afternoon, the kids played together while he worked his way through the ironing basket. Alicia's text arrived as he was making dinner. She'd sent a photo of the bed in her hotel room, adding the caption: This is where it'll happen.

He tried to think of a witty reply but failed. Glad you got there safe. Send another photo of you dressed to go out?

After dinner, he took the kids to the park. Although there were quite a few teenagers standing around in groups, Isla and Brad had the playground to themselves for thirty-odd minutes. Back home, he bathed and got them ready for bed, then let them watch TV. Brad fell asleep on the couch, and Steven managed to carry him upstairs and put him in his cot without waking him. He cuddled Isla for another thirty minutes, then took her to bed and read her a story. As he kissed her goodnight, he felt his mobile vibrate in his pocket.

Back downstairs, he snatched out his phone and opened the text. Alicia had taken a photo of herself in the mirror of the hotel. Her phone hid most of her face so he couldn't see her makeup, but he could see her outfit: white vest-top, black, figure-hugging skirt that came down to just above her knees, and black heeled sandals. Her legs were bare and tanned, her toenails painted dark red. The caption read: This is what he'll be getting.

Staring at the photograph, he ached for her. His rational mind told him to phone and ask her to drive home without changing clothes; the irrational part urged her to go out to a club and find someone. He's a lucky man, he replied.

Steven stared at his phone for fifteen minutes before accepting she wasn't going to send another text. Even so, he couldn't pay any real attention to the Bruce Willis film he'd settled for while channel-hopping and headed up to bed just before eleven.

After lying perfectly still for less than a minute, he sighed, sat up and opened the photograph of Alicia in her outfit. He thought about her dressed like that in a club, smiling and flirting with the men at the bar. He imagined her being groped on the darkened dancefloor. Some guy would take her back to her room, lay her out on that big bed and ram his cock deep into her willing body.

Steven pushed the quilt down and gripped his erection, stroking his thumb over the already slick tip. Closing his eyes, he pictured Alicia's expression as the guy prepared to enter her. A vision of Jo-Jo, smiling while jerking him off, flashed unexpectedly through his mind. He refocused his fantasy back to his wife and the faceless man who had her pinned to the bed. The guy pushed in. Alicia's head dropped back, eyes closed and mouth open. Steven stroked faster as the guy fucked her hard, bouncing her off the bed with each thrust. Her arms gripped the headboard, legs spread and knees bent. Steven imagined her groans getting louder, her breathing becoming more ragged. The guy would make her come, then he'd come, too.

Steven opened his eyes as a thick rope of cum arced onto his chest. He exhaled, then held his breath and pumped faster. More cum erupted, spattering across his abs. Gritting his teeth, he wanked long after the spasms had finished. He eventually stopped, then reached over for the box of tissues.

As he lay in silence, catching his breath, his self-loathing surfaced. Being aroused by thinking about his wife with another man was bad enough. Getting so turned on that he needed to relieve the pressure was a whole new level he'd sunk to.

Another thought occurred — Alicia's trip to Wales was different to what they'd done so far. They'd taken turns to hire sex workers, but Alicia's date tonight was with a regular guy she'd picked up for sex. There was a name for women who went out to pick up guys for sex, yet he couldn't deny the thrill her behaviour was giving him.

Why would anyone get a boner from knowing the mother of his children was out there behaving like a slut?

He got out of bed and took a shower. After drying himself, he pulled on a pair of boxers and got back into bed. The clock told him it was midnight. Alicia would still be in the club. She was probably still flirting at the bar, but he'd already shot his load fantasising about what she'd do later.

He must have fallen asleep, because the vibrating buzz of his phone on the bedside drawers woke him up. It was two-forty-nine and Alicia had just sent another text. Mixed emotions flickered when he saw there was no picture. She'd sent a single line of text: Did you come?

He hesitated for only a second before replying. Yes.

His phone beeped immediately. Me too.

Biting his lip, he typed: How many times?

Only two so far. How about you?

So far? Steven frowned as he prodded the screen. Is he still there?

You're using up all your questions — save them for when I get home. See you tomorrow. xx

He realised she'd probably texted him while her one-night lover was asleep in the bed beside her. His dick was hard again. He tossed his phone aside and closed his eyes, feeling guilty and disgusted about his own involuntary response.

* * * *

Steven was drinking coffee in the kitchen when Isla walked in carrying her doll.

“Hey, baby,” he said, picking her up and kissing her cheek.

She giggled, running her hand over his stubble. “Tickly.”

“I know,” he said, blowing raspberries and scraping his chin on the nape of her neck. “I’m the tickling monster.”

Brad shouted from his cot soon after. Once they’d all had breakfast and got dressed, they went to play in the garden.

They were still out there when Alicia’s car pulled into the drive. Steven checked his watch, guessing she must have left Wales at about eight to get home so early. The kids ran to meet her as soon as she stepped from the car. Alicia crouched to kiss and hug them both, then looked up at Steven and smiled. “Hi.”

“Welcome home,” he said, wondering if the guy had fucked her again just before she left.

Isla and Brad were both talking at the same time, and Alicia nodded towards her car. “Would you bring my bag, please?”

Steven grabbed her holdall, which she opened as soon as she got into the kitchen, taking out two small gift bags for the kids.

“I bought you these.”

Isla had a beaded bag with a strap that went over her shoulder, and Brad had a plastic ray-gun that lit up and made an ear-piercing electronic screech.

“I wish you’d bought Brad a bag, too,” Steven said, smiling. “Did you get anything for me?”

Alicia stepped close. “You know I did.”

The butterflies started up in his stomach. “And what’s that?”

She slipped her arms around his waist and put her lips to his ear.

“Just for you, I got fucked.”

A shiver ran down his spine. “It wasn’t just for me, though, was it?”

She pushed the tip of her tongue into his ear. “It was mainly for you.”

“What makes you say that?” His cock was already swelling, and she pushed herself against him to show she was aware of it.

“I didn’t really like the guy. He was brash, and not particularly good looking.”

Puzzled, he pulled back to look into her face. “So why choose him?”

She shrugged. “He had a good body, and that’s all I was interested in. I didn’t need conversation, or even to look at his face.”

“What did you look at?”

“I lay on my back, opened my legs and stared at the ceiling while he used my body.”

He frowned, feeling uncomfortable. “That’s not like you. You usually—”

“I know what I usually do, and I know what I like. Last night I got exactly what I wanted.”

“And what was that?”

“We’ll have that discussion later, so start thinking about what questions you want to ask.” She raised her eyebrows. “Now, how about a cup of tea?”

Steven filled the kettle and Alicia took her bag upstairs.

By the time he’d made her a cuppa, she’d returned in cut-off shorts and a pale blue t-shirt.

“Thanks. So, what did you guys do yesterday?”

“Chilled out. Kids did a bit of drawing and watched TV while I did the ironing, then we went to the park.”

“And last night?” She gave him a knowing smile.

“Same as you—stared at the ceiling.”

Laughing, she headed for the French doors. “Let’s go sit in the sunshine.”

Before Steven could follow, the kids ran past him and across the lawn. Isla filled her new bag with petals from the rose bushes, and Brad chased imaginary aliens around the slide with his noisy new ray-gun. Steven hoped the batteries in it weren’t long-lasting ones.

To save the hassle of them cooking, he suggested a pub lunch. Everyone was in favour, but Isla demanded to know whether she could take her bag of roses.

“Yeah, if you like.”

“I...my gun?” asked Brad, hopefully.

“Yep,” Steven said with a grin. “With a bit of luck, you’ll break it while we’re there.”

At the pub, the kids headed straight for the play area in the beer garden. Once he and Alicia had settled with their drinks, Alicia gave him a knowing grin. "I'm wondering how long you'll wait before you start asking questions."

"You told me to ask them later."

"It is later. Ask your first one."

He'd decided to try and be a little less predictable. He took a sip of his beer. "How many tattoos did he have?"

She blinked. "That's really your first question?"

"Yep."

"Wow." She smiled. "Three."

"Three tattoos?"

She held his gaze, then shook her head. "I came three times."

"That's not what I asked."

"I know. Now ask me another question."

"How many times did he come?"

"Just one."

He wondered if this was a new game. "Is that orgasms or tattoos?"

"Orgasms. He only came once."

This was a surprise. "How come?"

"Ba-da-boosh," she said, her hands doing a drum roll.

"I mean, why did he stop after one?"

"Is that your third question?"

"I was seeking clarification on the answer to the second question."

"I didn't want a full night of passion. This was a sort of hit and run thing."

"Hit and run?"

"He fucked me for almost an hour. By the time he'd finished I was tired and sore, so I asked him to leave."

"Did he hurt you?"

"Only in the way I wanted to be hurt."

Steven stared into her eyes, worried that she'd had an unpleasant experience. The thought of someone being rough with her hadn't occurred to him until now. He shook his head. "I'm sorry, maybe we should rethink what we're doing."

"Why?"

“Because we might be putting you in danger.”

“I told him to fuck me hard, and that’s what he did.”

“You told him to—?”

“Steve, you’re free to get whatever you want from your dates, but you’re not allowed to question what I want from mine.” She stood up with the menus. “Fish and chips?”

He nodded, and she went inside to place their order. The subject of her night away wasn’t mentioned again at the pub.

Brad fell asleep in his buggy during the walk back home, and Steven cut the back lawn while Alicia and Isla did some baking. Once the kids were finally in bed, Steven sat his wife down in the living room.

“We can stop this, if you like,” he said.

“Do you want to stop?”

“I don’t want anything bad to happen to you.”

“Me neither, but nothing bad happened last night.” She smiled. “Are you going to fuck me now?”

“I thought...” He shrugged. “There’s no need to—”

“Yes, there is. It’s what we do. You go out and fuck somebody else. Afterwards, we fuck. Then I go out and fuck somebody else, and we fuck again. I call it ‘functional fucking’. It’s like masturbating, but we use each other’s body to do it.”

“That’s not—”

Alicia stood up and walked towards the door. “Come to bed. You get two more questions and I get your dick.”

After she’d gone upstairs, Steven sat worrying for another minute. Then he turned off the lights and followed to find her already lying naked. He undressed while inspecting her body. “There’s no visible evidence of a hit and run crime.”

She parted her legs. “Maybe blunt force trauma would be a better description of what happened.”

He laughed. “Were you traumatised into coming three times?”

“Is that your fourth question?”

“No.” He knelt on the bed and gently stroked her thigh. “My question is, what was he doing when you came?”

“My first one was pretty soon after he’d entered me, and the second was about halfway through, before I got sore.”

“And the third?”

“The third I gave to myself after he’d left. It was while lying in bed after I’d texted you.” She smiled. “Now, what’s your final question?”

“What do you want me to do to you?”

She gave him a beautiful smile. “Be slow and be gentle. And don’t say another word until you’ve come inside me.”

He did exactly as she’d asked, and she came after just a couple of minutes. He managed to last a lot longer, maybe not an hour, but long enough for Alicia to come a second time. Steven kept his movements as slow and gentle as he could. When his orgasm arrived, he shuddered and groaned as she held him close.

Chapter 15

Alicia texted Maddie to see if she fancied another playdate for their kids, and they agreed to meet up in the park on Thursday. By the time Alicia arrived with the kids, Maddie was already there. The women chatted as their kids played on the climbing frame.

“How’s the summer break going?” Alicia asked.

“It’s okay. We’re going to stay with Tom’s family in Yorkshire for a few days, then to Center Parcs the following week.”

“Ooh, nice. We had a day trip to the Welsh coast a couple of weeks back. We’ll try and do a few more trips like that.”

Maddie looked around and then shuffled closer. “Have you had any other day trips?”

Alicia smiled. “Maybe.”

“And?”

She wasn’t sure she wanted to keep Maddie informed about all her adventures. “And what?”

“Was he tall, dark and handsome?”

“Not particularly.”

“So, what was it like? Come on, spill the tea.”

Alicia wondered how much to tell her friend, then shrugged. “Let’s just say I didn’t pay for this one, and I got my money’s worth.”

Maddie frowned. “What does that mean?”

“When you pay for someone’s service, that’s what you get. When you pick a guy up and take him back for sex...” She shook her head. “I don’t think he’d ever been introduced to the clitoris. His idea of giving a girl a good time was fucking her as hard as he could for as long as he could.”

“That sounds like a pretty good time to me.”

Alicia sniggered. “It was exactly what I wanted at the time, but I kicked him out straight after. I didn’t think my undercarriage would forgive me if I let him stay until he was ready to go again.”

“Oh God!” Maddie looked off into the distance. “I’ve been thinking about... you know.” She looked back at Alicia. “What you’re doing.”

“Fucking around?”

Maddie nodded. “I love Tom, and I know he loves me. It’s just that sometimes...”

A coldness formed in Alicia’s belly. “Sometimes...?”

Maddie sighed, raking her fingers through her hair. “There’s this guy, a neighbour.”

“Oh Maddie, no.”

“Nothing’s happened,” she said quickly. “Nothing at all. He’s friendly, and...” She shook her head. “He’s on his own, and I seem to have bumped into him more often over the last couple of weeks.”

Alicia held her breath, terrified of what her friend might do as a result of her influence. “What about Tom?”

“Tom seemed to like the idea of what you and Steve do.”

“I thought you hadn’t told him?”

“I haven’t. You did, that night at the wedding. I told you about what he was like when we got home.”

“His lust on the night of the wedding probably had nothing to do with what me and Steve get up to. Your kids were away, and you were all gorgeous in your new dress and heels.”

Maddie laughed. “I don’t think it was—”

“Of course it was. If I’d gone home with you, I’d have fucked you over the back of the sofa.” Alicia gripped her by the shoulders. “Don’t risk losing your wonderful husband over something as meaningless as sex with a neighbour who just happens to smile at you. Besides, he’s probably on his own for a reason.”

“What d’you mean?”

Alicia shrugged. “Single guy, living alone? Probably watches porn every night and has a rubber fetish.”

Maddie laughed. “Don’t be nasty. He has two cats.”

“Say no more. He’s definitely a weirdo.”

Maddie leaned closer to whisper. “I bet he’s got a huge cock, though.”

“Really? In that case, let’s double-up and take turns trying to suffocate his python.”

Maddie squealed and turned away. “You’re so—”

“Yep, but you’re not.” Alicia hugged her friend. “Look, I have an idea—”

“I’m not introducing you to my neighbour. Once he sees you, he’ll stop smiling at me.”

“No, he won’t. Now, when are you going to Yorkshire?”

“Sunday.”

“Okay. So, how about tomorrow night you let the kids come to ours for a sleepover?”

“What?”

“Bring them over in the afternoon. Isla’s room has twin beds, and I have a travel cot.”

“But what—?”

“When Tom gets back from work, you’ll be dressed up all gorgeous and demand he takes you out for dinner and a few drinks. Then, when you get home, tell him to fuck your brains out all over the house.”

“What about Steve?”

“I don’t think he’s Tom’s type.”

“No, I mean what will he think about having my two stay over?”

“He’ll love it, and so will the kids. It’ll be fine.”

Maddie bit her lip, then frowned again. “Are you sure?”

“Yep, but obviously you’ll need to spill afterwards.”

“You didn’t tell me about your latest date.”

Alicia gave a mock sigh of exasperation. “Fine, so he was a twenty-one-year-old bodybuilder with a sleeve tattoo on each muscly arm and one of a Welsh dragon on his butt. He had numerous piercings and a thick dick that he didn’t really know how to drive. Happy now?”

“I envy your life.”

Alicia shook her head. “An hour lying under him was marginally less distressing for my bits than childbirth.”

Maddie laughed, shaking her head, then they wandered back towards their children.

* * * *

Steven returned from work to find his family in the garden. Both kids screamed and ran to greet him, and Alicia kissed his cheek when he went over to her.

“How was your day?” she asked.

“The usual. How about yours?”

“Good and bad. The good was meeting up with Maddie this morning. The bad is we made cookies this afternoon, and Brad helped.”

“Ah, so they’re not up to the usual standard?”

“He’s got a bit of a cold, so maybe make sure the choc-chips actually are choc-chips and not bogeys.”

“Charming. How’s Maddie?”

“Fine. I’ve suggested their kids come for a sleepover tomorrow night.”

“Cool. Isla will love that.”

“Yeah. Then they’re off to stay with Tom’s family next week.”

“Nice. Right, I’ll go and get changed.”

“Before you do, is there any chance you could get some milk? I forgot to pick some up, and we’ll need it for breakfast tomorrow morning.”

“Yeah, no problem.” Steven left his car on the drive and walked to the shop. It was only a few hundred yards away, and he’d had an idea. He took out his phone and brought up Jo-Jo’s number, then typed out a text: Any chance of meeting up tomorrow night?

His phone vibrated in his pocket as he was paying for the milk. Back on the pavement, he read her reply: 9.30 work for you?

He smiled and typed. Perfect.

When he got back home, the kids were eating pasta and Alicia was cutting up chicken breasts.

“Thanks,” she said as he placed the milk in the fridge. “What do you fancy later, curry or stir-fry?”

He slipped his arms around her waist. “Are they the only things on offer?”

“Why, is there something else you fancy eating?”

“Hmm.” He rested his forehead against hers. “I can think of something, yeah.”

“It sounds like my lucky night.” She flashed her eyes at him, and his cock swelled. “Now put me down and get the kids a yoghurt.”

He laughed, grabbed two Petits Filous from the fridge, and then went to get changed.

When they finally got to bed later, she didn't put on the vest top she usually slept in. Likewise, he removed his boxers.

"So," Alicia said, snuggling up to him and nibbling his earlobe. "Didn't you mention something about what you wanted to eat?"

"Yeah." He pushed her onto her back and plucked at the waistband of her panties. "But you seem to think I want a packed lunch."

She smiled and raised her bum off the bed, allowing him to pull her panties down. She bent her knees up and kicked the flimsy lace off her feet, then spread her legs on the mattress.

Steven knelt up and looked down at her, stroking her small boobs and flat, toned tummy. He decided to tease her. "Did we discuss a price for ___"

She placed her finger to his lips, her face serious. "This isn't about anybody else, and it's not going to be functional fucking." She removed her finger from his lips and stroked his cheek. "This is just a happily married couple making love in their own bed."

Steven nodded, leaned down to kiss her forehead, then her cheek, lips, jawline and neck. As he stroked her hips, he moved his mouth down to her breasts, sucking first one nipple, then the other. Gently, he drew small circles on the soft flesh of her inner thigh.

He kissed her tummy, pausing to probe her bellybutton with his tongue before moving down to her mound. Avoiding her clitoris completely, he swiped his tongue up through her folds, savouring her taste and musk. He repeated the action several times and on the final one, dragged the tip of his tongue over her clit.

Alicia let out a small moan. He circled his tongue a few times before pushing it as far into her as he could. She moaned louder and slipped her fingers into his hair, holding him still and grinding her crotch against his face. He moved up a little, repeated first the circling motion, then the deep probing, fucking her with his tongue.

Her moans and movements told him she was getting close, so he laid the flat of his tongue over her clit and pressed hard against her writhing body. She ground against his face, her breaths getting more ragged until she let out a long groan and pushed him away.

“Get inside.” She clawed his cock into position, then gripped his hips and pulled. “Fuck me slowly and I’ll come again.”

He did as she asked. Her heartbeat crashed against his chest and, as her breath caught, he felt the familiar clench of her orgasm.

“Oh god, Steve...”

He held her head and kissed her face as she came.

“Oh...” She opened her eyes and smiled. “Thank you.”

“It was my pleasure.” He pushed a little harder, and she scrunched up her nose.

“Speaking of your pleasure, how do you want to come?”

His mind involuntarily went back to his text from Jo-Jo. Tomorrow night he would come on her tits and then she’d suck him off. “What are the choices?”

“Well, you can either keep doing this, or I could get on top.” She smiled. “Or I could reciprocate what you did and make you come with my mouth.”

“If you’re going to talk dirty, I may not get the chance to do any of those.”

“You’re going to come already?”

“I’m hoping to last a bit longer.”

She pushed him onto his back, straddled him and put him back inside her. Sitting upright, she began to thrust her hips. “I suppose I’d better get as much fun as I can out of this before you fill me with your goodies.”

He laughed at the way she’d phrased it. “My goodies?”

She leaned over him, her hands flat on the pillow on either side of his head, her hair hanging into his face. “Your cum. Your spunk. Your salty little seed.”

“You like me coming inside you?”

She nodded. “I’ve missed it.”

“What d’you like about it?”

“The intimacy. The contact. The thought of your body fluids mingling with mine.”

“The skin on skin?”

“Yeah, but I suspect that’s not as important for women as for men. But I like the wet finish. It’s the perfect finale.”

He let out a sigh. “That finale’s getting closer.”

“Good.” Smiling, she leaned down and kissed him. “Come as hard as you can.”

He stared up into her beautiful face, clenched his teeth and exploded inside her. She rocked on him, letting out little whimpers of encouragement as he sent spurt after spurt deep inside her lurching body.

She eventually stilled, laying her upper body flat against his. “I’m going to sleep here and dribble all over you.”

“That’ll be fine with me.”

She raised her head and looked into his eyes. “Do you think Tom would cheat on Maddie?”

The change of subject threw him. “What? No, never. Why, does she think he—?”

“No, I just...” She shook her head. “I just wanted to be sure he didn’t do anything in Prague.”

“He didn’t. I’d have told you if he did.”

“Thanks.”

Steven hugged her. “His wife isn’t as understanding as mine.”

“You mean she isn’t as slutty as yours.”

“Exactly.” He kissed her cheek again, then closed his eyes and fell asleep.

* * * *

Alicia woke up sticky and uncomfortable in the middle of the night. She gently slid off her sleeping husband and went to clean up in the bathroom, then settled down on her own side of the bed.

She didn’t wake again until Steve kissed her cheek and said her cup of tea was on the bedside drawers. Blinking, she thanked him and checked the time. It was almost seven-thirty.

“Are the kids awake?” she asked, leaning her pillow against the headboard and sitting up.

“Yeah, they’re eating breakfast. I’ll have to leave in about ten minutes.”

“Okay, thanks. I’ll be down when I’ve finished my tea.”

Isla was talking about the sleepover when Alicia walked into the kitchen. “Mummy, what time are they coming?”

“This afternoon.” She turned to Steve. “They’ll be here when you get back.”

“No problem.” He moved close and whispered in her ear. “I might be going out for a little while later tonight, though.”

“What?” As soon as she saw the smug grin on his face, she knew where he would be going. “Are you serious?”

He looked surprised by her annoyance. “Yeah. Why, is it a problem?”

She held his gaze, stunned that last night’s intimacy seemed to mean nothing to him. “I just thought... I thought I might get some help looking after four kids.”

“The youngest will be fast asleep by then, and the others,” he nodded towards Isla, “will entertain themselves.”

It was too early for her to think straight. “I didn’t realise that this was going to be such a regular thing. We can’t afford to do this every week.”

“It’s payday, but you’re right. We might have to limit how often we do it—at least until you start back at work.”

She stared at him, aghast. She hadn’t given any thought to how long this arrangement would go on for, but Steve obviously had. Clearly it wasn’t just a passing phase for him.

“Right, I need to get to work,” he said. “End of the month means chasing up invoices.”

He kissed her cheek, then kissed the kids and left. Alicia felt like one of his dates. It was as if he’d used her for sex, then left almost straight after.

Her irritation lasted all morning as she set up the travel cot in Brad’s room, cleared all the teddies off the twin bed in Isla’s room and put on clean bedding. She was going through all this hassle so that Maddie and Tom could have some sexy times while Steve was off fucking a hooker for his payday treat.

She’d just about simmered down by the time Maddie arrived, mid-afternoon. The kids went straight upstairs to inspect their bedrooms, and Alicia led her friend outside to sit in the sunshine.

“Thanks for having the kids tonight,” Maddie said. “Was Steve okay with it?”

“Yeah, fine. Have you told Tom?”

Maddie smiled and shook her head. “No. It’ll be a surprise.”

“Well, if you’re going to greet him at the door wearing just your high heels and earrings, make sure your neighbour isn’t in his front garden.”

“Hmm, now there’s a thought...”

The kids came running outside and asked for biscuits.

Alicia smiled. “How about an ice lolly?”

When they all screamed with delight, she turned to Maddie. “Do you want one so you can practice your sucking technique for later?”

Maddie gave an embarrassed laugh and covered her face with her hands.

After Maddie had left, Alicia prepared a lavish picnic for the little ones and put a pasta bake in the oven for her and Steve. He got home at the usual time, spent half an hour playing in the garden with all four kids, then helped her serve the picnic.

When they were alone in the kitchen, she took their dinner from the oven. “I made pasta. I thought you’d need the energy for your date.”

He laughed, then turned serious. “If tonight’s a bad time, I can—”

“No, it’s fine. Go and do whatever it is you do.”

Steve wouldn’t meet her eye. “Okay. Thanks.”

She put the whole pasta bake on the table and passed him the serving spoon. “Only you know how much energy you’ll need.”

He laughed and helped himself to a large portion. “So are Tom and Maddie doing anything special tonight?”

Yes, they’re being a normal couple. “Just dinner and drinks, I think.”

“Nice. Maybe they could have our two one night and we could do the same.”

“Hmm. Or maybe we could go on a double dinner-date. You can bring one of your whores and I’ll bring a guy with a huge dick.”

Steve’s shocked expression encouraged her to go further. “She could suck you off while you watch me get reamed on the table by a monster-cock.”

He took a gulp of air, then shook his head as if struggling for words.

“Sorry,” she said, insincerely, “is that inappropriate?”

“Look, Alicia, if you’d rather I didn’t go out—”

“I’m just yanking your chain.”

He finished eating in silence, then suggested he make pancakes for the kids.

“I’m sure they’d love that, but if you need to go shower and make yourself presentable for whoever, I can do the pancakes.”

He gave her a smile. “No, I’ve got plenty of time.”

Chapter 16

At Isla's request, Steven put Toy Story 3 in the DVD player while Alicia got the four kids into their pyjamas. When they all came into the living room, he smiled at Alicia. "Have you got your tissues ready?" She always cried at this film.

"Shouldn't I be asking you that, given where you're going later?"

He shook his head, smiling. "You have an answer for everything."

"Not quite everything."

He hung around, waiting to see if she needed any more help.

Alicia sighed. "Steve, you're loitering like a teenager. Go and get ready. If you get there early you might get more of a choice."

Her smile told him she was just teasing, so he went upstairs and took a quick shower and dressed. Back downstairs, he stepped into the doorway. "Right," he said tentatively.

"All ready?"

"Yeah."

"Got your wallet and your wellies?"

He smiled with her, remembering her calling condoms 'Wellington boots for your willy' when they'd first started dating. "Yep, but thanks for reminding me."

"Okay, have fun. See you later."

Steven glanced at the kids, whose eyes hadn't left the screen, then back at Alicia. "I won't be late."

"Okay. I won't be asleep, but let's both pretend that I am."

Holding her gaze, he nodded, then turned and left the house.

Checking his watch, he saw he was about an hour early. From the prices Jo-Jo had quoted, tonight should cost a hundred and forty-five quid. He withdrew two hundred from the ATM, just in case prices had gone up in the last few weeks because of inflation, Brexit or whatever.

Alicia's jibe about having more choice was still fresh in his mind. Since he had time to kill, he decided to drive along Lambert Road to get a look at the other women. Jo-Jo was great, but he had no intention of seeing only her.

It was still daylight when he turned at the junction, but that didn't seem to bother the women on the pavement or the men in the cars. Steven drove slowly, checking out each woman as she turned to smile at him. He'd like to fuck them all. He recognised the blonde with the spiky hair and wobbly thighs from his first ever drive along the road. Without thinking, he pulled in at the kerb and buzzed down the passenger window.

She approached, bending at the waist to look in at him. "Alright, love? Fancy taking me for a ride?"

He smiled. "Yes, but I don't have time tonight. I was hoping to get your phone number so we could make a date for another night."

She sneered. "If I wanted to swap numbers and make dates, I'd join a dating site."

"I just wanted to make sure you'd be free the next time—"

"I'm never free, love. And I don't take bookings." She stood up and said something to her friends, then bent down again to look into his face. "Why don't you come back when you do have time? If I'm here, we can go for that ride."

"Okay, I'll do that."

She gave him a mirthless smile and strutted away.

Steven drove off and reached the end of the road without seeing Jo-Jo. A dirty little trickle of excitement ran through him. She was probably with another customer.

As if on autopilot, he turned left at the end of the road and took a right at the traffic lights. He drove slowly along the narrow streets of terraced houses, trying to remember where Jo-Jo had brought him last time. He eventually got the right road and found a parking space within sight of the front door. He checked his watch again. It was ten to nine, and he'd need to meet Jo-Jo on Lambert Road in forty minutes. This seemed like as good a place as any to wait.

At exactly 9:20, the front door opened and a big guy in his fifties stepped out onto the pavement. Jo-Jo walked out behind him and pulled the door shut. She looked tiny beside him, even in her high heels. He was at least a foot taller and probably twice her weight. They walked together to a black pickup truck and got in. The truck was facing the same way as Steven's car, so he didn't need to worry about ducking down to avoid being seen. He waited a couple of minutes, then followed the truck towards the main road. When he reached Lambert Road a few minutes later, he spotted Jo-Jo standing by the railings. He pulled up and she smiled at him through the window.

He leaned over to open the passenger door, but rather than getting into the car, she bent over and spoke to him through the gap.

"Hey, handsome," she said with a bright smile. "Are you just cruising the street, or—?"

"I'm your nine-thirty."

She batted her false eyelashes and slid into the seat beside him. "Oh, I didn't realise it was you."

"I bet you don't even remember me."

Jo-Jo slid her hand onto his thigh. "I remember you." She moved her hand up to rest on the bulge of his cock. "You're the one who's into the numbers."

He was amazed. "That's right."

"So, what's on your mind for tonight?"

"I told you last time, but I don't expect you—"

"Tit-fuck and blow, right?"

He stared, incredulous. "Wow."

She laughed. "People are always telling me with a memory like mine, I should go on Mastermind."

"Maybe you should."

"What, and waste my other talents?" She nodded at the road. "Let's go. You remember the way?"

"Yep. You're not the only one with a good memory."

When they got to the house, he was able to park in the slot the pickup had been in. As before, they went straight upstairs and into the back bedroom. Jo-Jo stopped by the bed and raised her eyebrows. He took out his cash. This time he'd also brought some five-pound notes.

"I can also remember the prices," he said as he counted the money into her open hand. "There's forty-five for the tit-fuck, fifty for the blowjob, and fifty for the room."

"Thanks, hon." She slipped her hand into the zipped pocket of her jacket. When she pulled it out again, the cash had disappeared and in its place was a condom. It was like a magician's trick.

She handed it to him, then stared into his eyes as she slowly removed her leather jacket, flimsy top and black bra. Her tits looked very inviting. Still wearing her stilettos and microskirt, she sat on the bed and crab-walked backwards until she was lying in the middle.

Nodding at the condom, she raised her eyebrows. "You want to get that on, hon?"

"I thought I wouldn't need it until the blowjob."

"That's not the deal. If you want to hose me down like a fireman..." She gave him a smile, and he remembered her saying last time that it'd cost him an extra tenner to come on her tits.

He reached into his pocket, peeled off another ten-pound note and dropped it on the bed next to her red stiletto. Then he kicked off his shoes, removed his jeans and boxers, and crawled up the bed. Straddling her waist, he knelt up with his erection sticking out straight in front of him.

"Looks like you're raring to go." She watched his face as she dragged her fingernails gently up his shaft. "You want it wet or dry?"

Confused, he shook his head. "I expect it'll be dry at first and wet at the end."

She laughed and gripped his cock. "Judging by how angry this looks, I'm pretty sure it'll be very wet at the end. What I meant was..." She slipped her free hand under a pillow and pulled out a bottle of baby oil. "Do you want to slide it between dry or wet titties?"

The idea of oil-slicked tits appealed. "With oil would be nice."

"Both are nice, hon, but wet it is." She opened the cap and poured a generous helping of oil into her cleavage. "Want to rub it in for me?"

Steven immediately placed his hands on her boobs and massaged the oil into the soft skin. She added more, pouring the oil over the backs of his hands as well as her boobs. He spent a couple of minutes kneading her flesh and tweaking her nipples, which were now sticking out like pencil rubbers.

"Now, bring me that nice cock of yours."

Steven inched further up the bed on his knees and leaned forward until his cock lay in her cleavage. Jo-Jo pushed her tits together around it, surrounding it in hot, oily flesh. It was almost as good as being inside her.

"Okay, now fuck my titties."

Steven pushed his hips forward and back, catching glimpses of the purple tip of his cock on the upstroke. It felt wonderful.

“Mmm, how’s that feel?”

“Good.” He gasped. “It feels good.”

“Yeah. So, got any more questions for me?”

Steven studied her face. She didn’t seem to be teasing or ridiculing him: just trying to give him everything he wanted. “I’ve always got questions, you know that.”

She smiled. “Then ask away. It’s a lot easier for me to answer like this than while you’re getting your blowjob.”

He thought about the big guy with the pickup truck who’d been in this room less than half an hour ago. Then he remembered Alicia’s teasing about her finding a guy with a huge dick for their double date.

Jo-Jo began moving her hands up and down, wanking him with the soft fullness of her tits. Sometimes she moved them in time with his thrusts, sometimes out of sync. It felt so good, there was a chance she’d bring him off before he got to ask her anything.

“Tell me about big cocks,” he said. He was already breathless.

She blinked. “What, you want me to describe them?”

“No, I want you to describe what it feels like when one pushes into your body.” He ran his hand over her hip and down to touch the smooth skin of her thigh below the hem of her skirt. “I mean, you’re pretty petite but I bet some of your clients are really packing.”

She licked her lips. “I have one regular client that’s bigger than most. He’s a doorman at a club—”

“The one you see after his shift?”

“Sometimes after, sometimes before.”

Steven nodded, enjoying not only the warm caress of her tits on his dick, but also the sensation of his oil-slicked balls sliding against her tummy.

“He’s a really big guy,” she said, “and he has a dick to match.”

Steven wondered if this was the guy with the pickup, but there was no way he could ask without looking like a stalker.

“The first time I saw his dick, it scared me. When he started to push it in, I worried he’d split me open like a satsuma.”

Steven watched her mouth as she spoke, admiring the shiny red gloss. He looked forward to sliding his cock between those lips later. “But you didn’t split open?”

She shook her head. “No, I just stretched and stretched until he was able to get the fat head of his cock inside.”

“Did it feel good?”

She nodded. “Once I’d got used to it, it felt really good. And when he started to push it further in, inch by inch, it felt even better. By the time he’d managed to sink the full length inside me, it felt wonderful.”

The vision building in Steven’s mind wasn’t of Jo-Jo. Well, not just of Jo-Jo. He imagined her kneeling between his legs and sucking his dick while the doorman fucked Alicia on their kitchen table. Her eyes were squeezed shut and her mouth was wide open, releasing screams of ecstasy as the doorman’s massive cock slid into her right up to the hilt.

“Then he started to fuck me with it,” Jo-Jo said, interrupting his fantasy, “and I realised I could take it all. The fat head was prodding against the roof, but I was taking it all. And now, I can take it anyway he wants to fuck me. I can bounce up and down on it like a cowgirl, or I can kneel on the bed and let him nail me doggy-style.”

Another image flickered onto the screen of Steven’s mind. It was similar to the one where Alicia was on all fours between Oggie and Dean Sharp, but this time she was bent over the kitchen table, being pleased from behind by the doorman while Steven jerked off into her face.

With a grunt, he ejaculated.

“Oh baby,” Jo-Jo said in a husky voice.

Steven opened his eyes in time to see his second gush splash on the underside of her chin. His first shot was already dripping down the side of her neck towards the pillow. He kept jerking his hips and sent a final jet into her cleavage. Jo-Jo gripped his cock and dragged the tip over her nipples, smearing each with cum.

“Oh baby,” she whispered again, reverting to the American accent she’d used on his last visit. “That’s so fucking hot. Shower my titties.”

He watched her play out the last of her act, then swung his leg off and lay back on the bed beside her. She sat up and smiled down at him. She had cum all over her breasts, neck, and shoulder.

“I guess I should wipe this off...” She licked her lips and leaned over his. “Unless you’d like me to leave it on while I suck you?”

He liked the idea, but not enough to pay extra. “Will it cost more?”

“No hon, your cum is on the house.” She bent down and ran a finger over his flaccid, oily cock. “What are we going to have to do to get the life back into your little friend here?”

“Tell me more tales about your life.”

She shook her head. “My life is my business.”

“I mean about your working life. About the things you’ve done with different men.”

“Big-cocked men?”

“I guess. Do they make you come?”

She narrowed her eyes. “You want the truth or the fairy tale?”

“What if I asked for the fairy tale?”

“Some guys are so damn sexy that I come as soon as they slide their big cock into my pussy.”

“And the truth?”

“I never come when I’m working. That’s only done in my own time.”

“Do you ever take more than one man at once?”

This question seemed to please her. She ran her finger down the length of his cock and then cupped his balls in her hand. “Why, are you going to bring a friend next time?”

Smiling, he shook his head. “No, but would it be a problem if I did?”

“Well, it wouldn’t be my first time.” Wrapping her soft hand around his cock, she slowly stroked the loose skin up and down the shaft while running her thumb over the head. “Want me to tell you about a time when I was asked to accompany three men to a hotel?”

Steven watched her face, trying to decide if this was a true story or just something to help get him hard. “Isn’t something like that dangerous?”

“I only agreed to it because one was a regular. He had a couple of friends over for the weekend and asked if I’d be willing.”

Steven’s dick was starting to recover, and she held the base with one hand while sliding the other up and down his shaft with a loose grip.

“He said I could bring a friend if I wanted, but obviously that would’ve meant sharing the fee.” She batted her eyelashes. “While I’m happy to share my body with others, I'm not so good at sharing the cash."

His cock grew harder with each sentence. Jo-Jo wiped her hand over her boob, smearing the mixture of cum and oil onto her palm before resuming a leisurely wank of his shaft.

Steven was happy to go along for the ride. "What did they want you to do?"

"They wanted me to dance for them."

"Do you dance?"

"Anyone can dance. All they really wanted was for me to move my body while taking off my clothes."

He thought of Saskia and the way she'd bent over and waited while men pressed paper money against her sex, the notes held in place by her juices. "And did you take off all your clothes?"

Jo-Jo reached under a pillow and found another condom. She held it up so he could see the strawberry printed on the foil, then used her teeth to open it. "Yeah, I took my clothes off." She slowly rolled the condom down his cock, then bent and took his entire length into her mouth.

He needn't have worried about the condom dulling the sensation. He could feel her tongue moving against the base of his shaft and the tightness of her throat on his cockhead. "And did you keep dancing?"

She pulled her head back and looked into his eyes. "No. Once I'd stripped down to just my shoes, they didn't seem to care about the dancing anymore."

"What did they care about?"

She licked her lips. "They just cared about putting their dicks inside me."

"And did all three of them put their dick inside you?"

Ignoring the question, she lowered her head and took him deep again, bobbing her head and using her tongue. Steven groaned and dropped his head back on the bed. Jo-Jo manoeuvred herself until she was lying on his legs, her wet, sticky tits pressed against his thighs and her head facing his. She released his cock and smiled at him. "Yeah. I took all three cocks, one after the other. I also took them all at once, if you know what I mean."

Leaving him to picture her with a man in every hole, she took him back into her mouth and worked her magic. She cupped and massaged his balls while pushing her tongue against the base of his shaft.

He didn't need to ask any more questions, and they both knew it. Steven lay on his back and clenched his buttocks, and Jo-Jo watched his face as she brought him to the brink.

His legs began to tremble, and his balls felt ready to burst. She smiled with her eyes, then squeezed a little tighter with the hand on his balls. His body arched, only heels and head touching the mattress. He cried out, his body jerking and jumping as his muscles flexed and spasmed. Blue stars flashed behind his eyelids as the orgasm shuddered through him.

Jo-Jo's eyes never left his face, and she kept sucking until he had to push her away, too sensitive for her to continue. She smiled. "You seemed to enjoy that."

He laughed, exhausted. "That's a bit of an understatement."

"Good." She removed the condom, tied the end and dropped it on the floor at the side of the bed as she had before. "Right, I'd better go and clean myself up."

After she'd left for the bathroom, Steven peered over the side of the bed to see five used condoms in an untidy tangle. Jo-Jo had probably been fucked four times already tonight, and it was only a little after ten-fifteen. She'd probably have as many again before she called it a night. A vision of Alicia dropping filled condoms at the side of her bed swept through his mind, making his balls tingle.

He stood up and pulled on his boxers and jeans. He was sitting on the bed tying his shoelaces when she came back into the room, her bare breasts now clean and smelling of baby wipes. She smiled down at him. "Are you going to come see me again?"

He nodded. She stepped closer, her boobs level with his face. She stared into his eyes and held a boob until he opened his mouth, then fed him her nipple to suck.

She cradled his head, then ran her fingers through his hair. "And what are you going to do to me next time?"

He released her nipple. "Fuck you doggy style."

"Hmm, that's my favourite position."

"Do many of the men fuck you like that?"

She laughed and slapped his shoulder. "There you go again. As soon as you've shot your bolt, you're back to the numbers."

"What can I say?"

She bit her lip and nodded. “Lots of men fuck me doggy style. They like to look at my ass while they fuck me.”

“That’s understandable.” He raised his eyebrows. “Do they only look at your ass?”

“If you want to fuck me doggy style and finger my ass for a while, then fuck my ass, you can.”

“A nice round hundred for a nice round butthole.”

“Ha! Did I tell you that last time?”

He nodded.

“Hmm, well bear it in mind, but if you’re going in two holes, you have to pay for each.” She licked her lips. “And as you seem to like hosing me down, for an extra twenty you can pull out, peel off the rubber and come all over my ass and back.”

His throat tightened. “I’d like that.”

“Me too.” She stepped away, picked up her bra and put it on. Then she slipped on her top and leather jacket, and finger-combed her hair. “Now, if you could drop me back in my usual place, it’s Friday night and getting towards closing time in the pubs.”

“Right, yeah.” Steven walked downstairs and Jo-Jo followed him out into the darkness. He quickly found his way back to the junction of Lambert Road and pulled over. “Can I text you?”

“You know you can. And now I have your number, I’ll know who it is.”

Steven watched her legs as she stepped out onto the pavement. The thought of her spreading them for another guy within the next half hour made his balls tingle, even though she’d emptied them twice in the last hour.

Chapter 17

Alicia was in the garden when Maddie and Tom came to pick up their kids on Saturday morning.

“Hiya,” Maddie said, a beaming smile on her face. “How was it?”

“They were absolutely fine. We all watched a film, then played a few rounds of Tummy Ache before bed.”

Tom frowned. “Tummy Ache? Were they okay?”

“It’s a card game where you either get nice food or bug-infested burgers,” Alicia explained. “Boring as hell but the kids like it.”

Isla stuck her head out of the French doors and frowned at Maddie. “You’re too early.”

Alicia laughed. “They’re right on time. It just seems too early because you’re having fun. Maybe you can play a bit longer while we have a cuppa...?” She turned to Maddie and Tom, who both nodded to show they weren’t in a rush.

Isla disappeared to tell her friend their game could continue for a bit longer, and Alicia motioned toward the patio table.

“You guys take a pew, and I’ll pop the kettle on.”

“Steve not around?” Tom asked as he dropped into a chair.

“He’s just gone to get something for his car. A sidelight bulb, I think. He shouldn’t be long.”

“I’ll give you a hand,” Maddie said, following Alicia into the kitchen.

While Maddie filled the kettle, Alicia took three cups from the cupboard. She waited until Maddie turned towards her, then raised her eyebrows. “Well?”

Maddie covered her face with her hands, peeping between her fingers. “It was a fuck-fest.”

Alicia giggled. “Did you greet him at the door wearing just your heels and perfume?”

“Not quite, but... ” She looked ready to confide, then shook her head. “I’m too embarrassed.”

“That’s okay. It’s none of my business anyway. I’m glad that you two had a good—”

“No, I want to tell you. It was because of you that I’d dared do it.”

Just then, Steve’s car pulled onto the drive. Alicia took another cup from the cupboard and poured four drinks. Picking up two of the cups, she went outside. Steve was already sitting with Tom, the pair of them chattering away.

“Here you go, boys,” she said, putting their coffee on the patio table. “Mads and I will be out in a minute, we’re just sorting all the kids’ pyjamas and overnight stuff.”

The men nodded, paying no attention.

Alicia checked the kids were busy in the living room, then picked up her cup and motioned for Maddie to follow her upstairs. They went into Isla’s room and closed the door.

“Right,” Alicia said, grinning. “Spill.”

“When I got back from dropping the kids off here, I showered, put on a sexy dress, high heels and no nylons. I waited for Tom in the living room. When he got home, he asked where the kids were. I said they were gone for the night, and he sort of stared at me.” Maddie shrugged. “I’d put on a lot of makeup and pinned my hair up. Without saying anything else, I slowly pulled up my dress.” She bit her lip. “I hadn’t put underwear on, and I ordered him to kiss me... there.”

“Ooh, you dirty bitch.”

Maddie hid her face again, laughing. “I made him drop to his knees and pleasure me. Then I made him take me out for a drink without him getting any pleasure himself. What’s more, I didn’t put any panties on.”

“You harlot! Where did you go?”

“A couple of bars in town. Tom wouldn’t leave me alone. He kept touching me, stroking my arm or leg at every opportunity.”

“Did you have a nice dinner?”

“We weren’t hungry. In the end, it got too much. We were back home before nine.”

“And did the fun last all night?”

Maddie closed her eyes. "Yes. It was like the night of the wedding all over again."

"Where did he ravish you? Over the back of the couch or on the stairs?"

"On the dining table."

Alicia remembered teasing Steve about watching her getting nailed on a table. She doubted Tom ever fantasised about Maddie getting fucked by someone else, and she wasn't sure if that made her happy or sad. "Now I'm jealous. Face up or face down?"

"Both." Maddie grinned. "Next we used the bed, then the bath, and then back to bed again."

"And was it a lot more fun than flirting with a neighbour?"

"Yes." Maddie gave a warm smile. "Thanks for talking some sense into me."

Alicia hugged her again, then quickly picked up the pyjamas and clothes that weren't Isla's. "Come on, let's go talk to the guys."

* * * *

When Tom and Maddie had left, Steven fitted the sidelight bulb on his car and cut the lawn. After lunch, they drove to a local country park and took the kids for a walk through the woods. As Isla led Brad along the path ahead of them, Steven took Alicia's hand and walked her through the dappled sunlight. The air was cool, the smell of leaf mulch strong in his nostrils.

"Did Maddie say where they went last night?" he asked.

"Sorry?"

"You said they were going out for dinner. I just wondered if they'd been anywhere we could try."

"Oh, right. No, I think they just had drinks in the end."

"Cool." He walked on, wondering if Alicia was going to ask him anything about his previous night's date.

As usual, she seemed to read his mind. "How was your adventure?"

"If I answer that, you'll only have four more questions."

She laughed. "Okay, first question. How many times did you come?"

"Twice."

“Hmm, impressive.”

“Not bad for an old guy, eh?”

She laughed. “What did this one look like? Hair, eyes, build.”

He realised she hadn’t asked these details before, so there was no need to admit it’d been the same woman. “Shoulder-length red hair, brown eyes, petite but curvy.”

She seemed to think about this while looking up at the branches. They walked in silence for over a minute.

“How did she make you come?”

“The first was with her boobs, and the—”

She stopped walking and turned to face him. “You mean a tit fuck?”

He nodded.

“Well, I guess that’s something I can’t give you.”

Steven paused, puzzled. “What d’you mean by that?”

“I’ve no bust. I didn’t have much to start with, and whatever I did have, Brad sucked dry.”

He laughed. “Your boobs are great, and they’ll never sag.”

“Hmm.” She didn’t look convinced, but at least she no longer looked hurt. “And the second?”

“The second was a blowjob.”

“With her mouth?”

“I don’t know of any other way she could give a blowjob.”

“Did she take you all the way?”

He nodded, puzzled by the question, but then caught on. “I wore a condom, if that’s what you’re worried about.”

“Good.” Alicia grimaced. “That can’t have been very pleasant for her, though. They taste awful.”

“She used a flavoured one.”

“Cheese and onion, by any chance?”

He laughed and dragged her along the path to catch up with the kids, who were busy attacking a fern with sticks they’d found on the forest floor.

“Are you suggesting I have knob cheese?”

Alicia laughed. “How many questions have I got left?”

“As many as you like.”

She shook her head. “If I did that, you’d expect the same the next time I go out.”

“That’s true. You’ve asked three so far — what she looked like, how many times, and where I put it.”

She nodded. “Okay, fourth question. Did she ask your name?”

“Er...” He frowned, struggling to remember. “I don’t think so. Why?”

She shrugged. “Just wondered. I guess I’m a little curious about how these women are. I didn’t ask the last guy his name, either.”

“Why not?”

“I didn’t see the point.”

“Did he ask yours?”

“Not that I remember.”

“Did he kiss you?”

“Oh yeah. We kissed a lot. He was more interesting to kiss than to talk to.”

Steven laughed, deciding not to admit he was never allowed to kiss his date. Alicia was too sharp by half; she’d instantly cotton onto the fact that he’d seen Jo-Jo more than once. He squeezed Alicia’s hand. “You’ve still got one more question.”

“I’ll have to think about what else I want to know,” she said.

“And you’ll also have to think about when you’re going to have your next adventure.”

She scoffed. “No, I won’t. Just because you shot out of the trap like a whippet as soon as payday arrived, it doesn’t mean I have to.”

Steven ran his hand around her shoulders and pulled her close. “Well don’t wait too long, or I might spend your half of the budget.”

“That’s fine, go for it. I can always double up next month.” She grinned. “It might be fun taking two at a time.”

Steven stopped in his tracks and stared at her.

Alicia turned to look at his face, then stopped as well. “Oh God! Now you’re getting a hard-on thinking about me being tag-teamed.”

He attempted a snort. “No I’m—”

She reached down and squeezed his crotch. His cock had already thickened inside his boxers. “Yes you are.”

“Well, I am now. You’re groping me, so I’m bound to—”

“You were getting hard before I touched you.”

He tried to laugh it off. Suddenly, he remembered Jo-Jo saying she'd taken three guys one after the other, then all at the same time. He imagined Alicia doing the same. For a second, all he noticed was the damp, earthy smell of the forest floor and the sound of the birds high up in the canopy, then Alicia slapped him playfully on the back of the head.

"Snap out of it, pervert," she said with a laugh.

Steven shook his head clear. "I'm not really a pervert."

"You get aroused when I have sexual relations with another man."

He took a breath to respond but hesitated, wondering if he should try and deny it.

She nodded, as if reading his thoughts. "You know it's true. I'm not judging you or saying it's wrong. I'm just stating a fact."

Steven looked down at his feet. He felt foolish and ashamed.

Gripping his shoulders, Alicia went up on tiptoes and kissed his cheek. "It's very flattering to know you get turned on by the thought of me having sex."

"Does that make me a pervert?"

"I'm sure we both know there's another name for what that makes you."

He kept his eyes cast down and nodded. "I'm not really. I mean, I don't yearn for the humiliation or anything like that. I just like to imagine you—"

"I know."

Clenching his jaw, he raised his gaze to meet hers. "It's not like I want you to say they're all alphas, or that I never satisfy you."

She laughed and nodded. "I know that. And we both know that you satisfy me."

"Thank you," he said.

"Obviously you don't satisfy me in the way that Edinburgh did..."

He smiled. "Ouch."

"You shouldn't let that upset you. Satisfying women is his job." She shrugged. "I mean, I wouldn't mind if you told me Saskia's a better dancer than I am. That's her job."

"Is this pep talk supposed to be cheering me up?"

She nodded. "Happy to help."

“Shall we head back now that you’ve slandered me and destroyed my self-confidence?”

“Okay. Come on, you two,” she called. “Dad’s going to buy us all an ice cream.”

* * * *

Once she’d got Brad settled, Alicia tiptoed past Isla’s room and heard Steve reading The Gruffalo’s Child. She went downstairs and got a couple of beers from the fridge, then sat on the sofa and waited for him.

He joined her a few minutes later, smiling a thanks as he took the beer. “She fell asleep before the end.”

“I’m not surprised. They were up late last night.”

He looked uncomfortable. “I’m sorry about going out. I mean, you had four kids to look after, and—”

“It’s done. I was a bit surprised you’d suggested it, but...” She shrugged. “Anyway, I don’t believe you’re really sorry. You had a tit-fuck and a blowjob.”

He nodded, looking even more uncomfortable.

“Which did you prefer?” she asked.

“Sorry?”

“That’s my final question. Which did you enjoy the most, cleavage sex or oral sex?”

He took his top lip between his teeth as if this question was really challenging him. “Cleavage sex, because she’d oiled her boobs and I didn’t have to wear a rubber, so I got more sensation.”

“No condom?”

“Not for that, no.”

“Where did you come?”

“Between her tits.” He gave a smug grin. “Some landed on her neck and shoulder.”

“I’m surprised they allow that. You know, body fluids.”

“As long as it’s external, I guess there’s no problem. When she gave me the handjob last time, she aimed it onto her tits.”

“It was the same woman?”

He stopped talking, eyes wide like a kid caught with his hand in the cookie jar.

She got impatient. “Was it the—?”

“Yes, it was the same one.” He gave a shrug. “The first time had gone okay, and she was there again last night so I thought, why not?”

Alicia absorbed the words without knowing how they made her feel.

“Is it a problem?” he asked.

“Well, some women might feel hurt if their husband announced that he preferred putting his dick into another woman.”

“I never said I pref—”

“I admit, it hurts me, too,” she said, talking over him. “But if he craves the dirty thrill of shagging a sex worker, who am I to stop him?”

He sighed. “Alic—”

“But now it appears it’s not just any sex worker, it’s a specific one.”

“She’s not a specific one. She was the one I chose the first time, and she was there again the next. It was just—”

“She’s made you come more times than I have in the last couple of weeks.”

“That’s not... Well, maybe it is, but it doesn’t mean anything.”

“How would you feel if I met up with the same guy week after week?”

“That’s different.”

“How?”

“Because he’d start to think of it as a regular thing. Like a relationship. Or an affair. You might start to have feelings for each other.”

“And you might develop feelings for your... What’s her name?”

“Sorry?” He was blinking like a rabbit under a fox’s gaze.

“I assume they all have names they use. When Denise or Beryl step into their high heels, they become Desiree, Brianna, or—”

“Jo-Jo.”

Alicia nodded. “Jo-Jo. Yeah, I can see that would work.”

He reached out and squeezed her hand. “She just happened to be there, on both occasions. It’s nothing more than that.”

Alicia stared at him, her mind racing at a hundred miles an hour. She wasn’t sure she believed it had been a coincidence, but did it matter? Surely one whore's hole ten times was better than ten whores' holes one time each. She took a long pull from her beer.

"What?" he asked, looking a little afraid.

"Nothing."

"Alicia, there's something that's bothering you and I'd rather we sorted it out right now."

"Where did you meet her?"

"On the street, like I told you."

"If this is some woman you know from work, or somewhere else..."

"It isn't. How could you think—?"

"If it is, I'll break your balls."

"I wouldn't do—"

"I mean it. I'll do dirty dancing in front of your football team, then I'll take them all one after the other."

"Alicia, I swear on our kids' lives, she's a sex worker." He frowned as if embarrassed. "That's the only reason I see her—because she fucks for money. I don't want a relationship with anyone else because you're my everything."

"Am I really, though?" Alicia shrugged. "If I was your everything, you wouldn't be sliding your dick between Jo-Jo's oily tits while I watch films with our children."

He swallowed. "I'll stop if you—"

"No chance. You keep seeing your whore and I'll keep spreading my legs for jacked fuckwits. But I'll tell you something." She shook her hair back from her face. "On my next night out, I'm going to suggest he sprays his cum all over me. And when I get home, I'll let you see how sticky he made me."

They sat in an awkward silence for a couple of minutes, and she started to feel guilty for her outburst. Why should she care if he saw the same woman every time? Maybe it was easier for him; it must be fairly intimidating picking up a woman and having to ask what he can do to her, and how much it'd cost him.

Eventually, he stroked a hand down her arm. "I'd never go with a woman I met at work or in a bar. That's not what any of this is about."

She sighed and leaned her head against him. "I know. I'm sorry for going off the deep end."

“No, I should have told you it was the same woman. I just didn’t want...”

“You didn’t want me to react the way I just did.”

He nodded, looking sheepish.

“Will you give me an honest answer if I ask one more thing?”

“Sure.”

“What I said about getting my next guy to come all over me... How did it make you feel?”

“You know how it made me feel.”

“And how do you feel about every other client Jo-Jo sees coming all over her?”

“Was that your attempt at a pun?”

He laughed and shook his head. “Sorry, I hadn’t realised what I’d said until you pointed it out. What I’m trying to say is, I like the idea of her with her other clients, but that’s nothing like as powerful as the kick I get from thinking about you with other men.”

She nodded, not quite sure how she felt about this reassurance.

“Is that a problem?” He looked worried.

“I don’t know.”

Steven held her gaze for a few moments, then looked away without responding.

* * * *

Lying in the dark, she thought about how her life had changed over the last couple of months. Being free to go and have sex with anyone who took her fancy was, in theory, a fantastic position to be in. Maddie certainly seemed to think so. Alicia wasn’t so sure the practice lived up to the theory, though.

While she had fond memories of her night in Edinburgh...

She grinned to herself in the darkness. ‘Fond’ memories was a vast understatement. She’d probably still be rubbing herself raw thinking about Xavier when she was in her eighties.

But her overnight stop in Prestatyn hadn’t been anything like that, and the thought of going out to find another guy wasn’t that appealing at the moment.

Steve, on the other hand, was getting a double whammy. He was living the dream with Jo-Jo. A tit-fuck here, a blowjob there, and a handjob wherever. Everything his dirty little heart desired. On top of that, he'd probably got more out of her trip to Prestatyn than she had.

They'd started playing this game together, yet now she felt doomed to be always on the losing team. But that wasn't really Steve's fault. It wasn't fair to snipe at him for having more fun than she was. What she needed to do was up her game and make the most of her trysts.

If her husband was going to start acting like a cuck—and like it or not, that's what he was—maybe she should embrace the role of a hotwife.

$$\Psi$$

Chapter 18

Steven was standing in the snack van queue on Thursday morning when someone slapped him on the back. He turned around, knowing there was only one possible culprit.

Oggie grinned at him. "Alright, Stevie? How's it hanging?"

"Couldn't be better, mate. After tomorrow, I'm off for a couple of weeks."

"Jammy bastard. Going anywhere nice?"

"Nothing booked. We'll do a few day trips here and there, depending on the weather."

"Nice." Oggie scratched his chin. "Are you going to be around a week on Saturday?"

"I'm not sure. Why?"

"We're trying to get a few friendly matches in before the season starts. One of the plumbers who comes in here plays for The Swan, and he's asked if we'd be interested."

"I can't guarantee I'll be around, mate. The missus would crush my nuts if I disappeared for a game of football halfway through my time off."

"Oh, just let me think about that..." Oggie gazed up at the sky, then bobbed his eyebrows. "Any chance she could give mine a squeeze, too?"

"I'll ask, but she doesn't usually go for mentally challenged knobheads."

"Bollocks. She married you!"

Steven laughed. After buying his bacon roll and coffee, he headed back into the office to read the football news on his work computer.

Coffee-break over, he went back to checking the list of different roofing tiles delivered earlier against what had been ordered. The numbers wouldn't add up, and his mind kept drifting back to his predicament at home.

After Alicia's outburst on Saturday night, he'd thought it best not to bring up the subject of their adventures. It was her turn to go out, but she didn't seem to be in any rush. He, on the other hand, was desperate. Since his last session with Jo-Jo, he'd fantasised about fucking her doggy style, then pulling out and sliding into her arsehole. He'd had her everywhere else, and this would give him the full house—an expression he'd learned from Oggie, and one that would never cross his lips outside the changing room. First, though, he needed Alicia to go out and do her bit.

Or did he?

He had Jo-Jo's number. If Alicia was going to dawdle getting her own fun, why should he suffer? Maybe Jo-Jo would agree to a lunchtime session. Today was probably too short notice, but tomorrow might work. What better way to start a two-week break than by drilling Jo-Jo in two holes then coating her arse-cheeks and back with jizz?

Taking out his phone, Steven closed his eyes and bit his lip. This was wrong. It was a betrayal of trust, and Alicia would have every right to be livid. But then again, she had joked that he could go ahead and she'd double-up next time.

The shiver he got from thinking about his wife being spit-roasted encouraged him to text Jo-Jo. Chances were that she wouldn't be free tomorrow lunchtime anyway.

He went back to the delivery note and started at the beginning, ticking each pallet accounted for. His phone buzzed on the desk. He held his breath and opened the text: Sure. What time?

This was his last chance to show some self-control.

He blew it. 12.30?

Great. See you at the house.

For the next ten minutes, he couldn't concentrate on anything. The list of products on his screen, the delivery note on his desk and the leaden weight of guilt in the pit of his stomach all lurked at the periphery of his consciousness. Jo-Jo, however, kneeling on the bed while wearing just her shoes, was in full focus. He closed his eyes and counted to ten, then shook his head clear and went back to the task at hand. He needed to get everything up to date before his leave began.

Alicia had decided to celebrate the start of their two-week break with a nice dinner, so she fed the kids early. By the time Steve got home, she'd already tidied the kitchen.

"Hiya," she said as he walked in. "Get yourself a beer and enjoy the start of your holiday."

He laughed, then picked up the kids to kiss them as they ran into the kitchen to greet him. "I'm going to go and have a quick shower first. We've been moving dusty box-files from the office all afternoon."

"No problem. Want to eat now or later?"

"Later's fine. How about a walk to the pub for an early-doors drink?"

Alicia smiled. "Now that's a great idea. You go and shower, I'll change the kids."

After changing Brad's nappy and putting both kids in clean clothes, Alicia checked her reflection and applied a bit of lippy. Then she went downstairs and got Brad into his buggy. Steve carried Isla on his shoulders and Alicia pushed the buggy as they walked to the pub.

"Weather looks good for all next week, so maybe we could do a few trips out," he said.

"Any suggestions?" She was half-expecting him to suggest they go back to Prestatyn so she could find another guy.

"The Lake District's great. We could hire a rowing boat and—"

"No, the kids are too young." She smiled. "A visit to The Lakes would be lovely, but I wouldn't be able to relax on a boat."

"Yeah, fair enough. We could do either the zoo or a safari park."

"Yeah, the zoo. They'd love that."

"One of the guys in the office told me about a big adventure park aimed at younger kids just off the M6."

"Gulliver's Kingdom," she said. "Some of the other mums have told me about it, too."

"Yeah, that's it."

Alicia smiled, happy that they'd be taking the kids for some nice days out.

"And where would you like to go, Princess?" he asked Isla.

"Swimming."

"Good idea. Shall we try to find a beach where the sea is warm?"

“That rules out this country,” Alicia said, laughing. “But we could go to a water park.”

“Yep.” He shook Isla’s legs. “We’re going to have a lot of fun this week.”

Alicia pushed the buggy and smiled. It was nice to see Steve in such a good mood. He’d seemed a bit distant since the weekend, but maybe it’d been work getting him down rather than her rant about Jo-Jo.

While the kids were busy in the playground, Alicia and Steve sat in the early evening sun and enjoyed their drinks.

“We can eat here if you want,” he offered.

She shook her head. “I’ve already taken stuff out of the freezer. Besides, we’ll be eating out quite a bit next week.”

He nodded, and they chatted about normal stuff for an hour or so, then walked home and got the kids bathed. Once the kids were in bed, they shared a relaxed evening during which Steve didn’t even drop one hint about her next adventure. It was nice not to feel so pressured into doing something.

They did a couple of short-distance excursions during the weekend: Saturday to the waterpark twenty-odd miles away, and Sunday to a nearby country park renowned for its children’s playground. On Monday they went to Gulliver’s Kingdom, which the kids thoroughly enjoyed, and after having a relatively relaxing Tuesday at home, they spent Wednesday at the zoo.

When the kids finally went to bed that night—Isla with her new fluffy flamingo, and Brad with his sequined penguin—Alicia collapsed on the sofa while Steve got them both a drink.

“That’s probably the most I’ve walked since I had Brad,” she announced, flexing her aching calves. She checked her fitness app. “Bloody hell. Twenty-eight thousand steps.”

Steve laughed, passing her a glass of wine then dropping into the armchair opposite her. “It’s good exercise. I’ve not been training for a couple of weeks, so it was nice to get out. Zoos have come a long way since I was a kid.”

Alicia nodded. Although freaked out after walking through the darkened bat enclosure with fluttering, leathery wings all around, she’d loved the butterfly house. A beautiful bright blue one had taken a liking to Isla's dress, landing on her sleeve and staying there for a couple of minutes. They'd taken some fabulous photos to capture the moment.

"What do you want to do tomorrow?" he asked.

"Maybe another day at home to catch our breath, then go somewhere else on Friday?"

"Works for me." He nodded at the phone in her hand. "What's the weather forecast?"

Alicia brought up the page and smiled. "Sunshine for the foreseeable."

"Great. There's a place on the road to Ashbourne where we can hire bikes and ride down an old disused railway line."

"I don't think the kids could manage that."

"I've checked," he assured her. "For kids Isla's age, there's an extra seat, wheel and pair of handlebars that attach to the back of an adult's bike, so it effectively becomes a tandem. And Brad can ride like a king in a towable trailer."

She liked the fact that he'd looked into it. "Okay, if it's something you want to do."

"This week isn't about what I want to do, it's about doing things for the kids' enjoyment. And I'm pretty sure they'd like it."

"Okay, let's do it. But don't forget it's your holiday, too."

He grinned. "I know, and I'm having a great time. Seeing their faces at the zoo made my week."

His words gave her a warm feeling inside. She decided he deserved a little treat.

The next day was much more relaxing. Steve moved the patio chairs onto the lawn and rigged up a play den by draping an old sheet over them. The kids played in there for an hour, giving both parents a chance to snooze on loungers in the sun. Even better, Isla demanded to have lunch in their den, leaving Alicia and Steve to have their lunch in peace on the patio.

"This week's been lovely," Alicia said, once they'd sat down.

He nodded. "They're not small for long, so we have to make the most of it. It's important for them to have a lot of nice memories."

Alicia watched his face, wondering whether to tell him about what she'd decided to do. As it was, she didn't get the chance; Brad pulled the sheet off the chairs, Isla shouted at him and then both kids began to cry.

They went to sort out the squabble. Steve fixed the den, and Alicia calmed both kids. By the time they'd sat back down to finish their lunch, the moment had passed. She'd surprise him later.

* * * *

Steven was just relaxing with a coffee after lunch when Isla wandered out of the repaired den and asked if they could have their paddling pool on the lawn. Brad hovered just behind her, bouncing excitedly.

Steven frowned. "I thought you were playing in your great den."

Isla scrunched up her nose. "It's spoiled now, and we're both a bit hot." She gave him her big-eyed hopeful smile.

"So, you want me to take down your den, carry the chairs back to the patio and put the sheet away, get your paddling pool from the shed, clean it, blow it up, and then carry a hundred buckets of water from the tap to fill it?"

Isla nodded as Brad ran in small circles behind her. Steven looked at Alicia, who was smiling.

"You go find the paddling pool," she said. "I'll dismantle their den. And you'll only have to carry the hot water in buckets. The cold can be put in using the hosepipe."

He sighed and headed to the shed. It took fifteen minutes to wipe the slime and mould from the inside of the pool and blow it up, and another fifteen to fill it. Alicia suggested setting up the gazebo over the pool to protect them from the sun, so he had to go back to the shed to get that as well.

When the kids were settled in the pool, Alicia brought him a beer and told him to have a rest. He gave her a grateful smile and took a long pull from the bottle. Alicia's obvious enjoyment of the time they were spending as a family made him feel guilty about his covert visit to Jo-Jo's place on the day he'd finished work. There had really been no need; it wasn't like he was starved of sex at home. Though the experience had been everything he'd hoped, it had left him with the unshakable feeling he'd abused Alicia's trust. He took another slug of his beer and tried to get his head back into happy-family mode.

The kids soon tired of the pool—spending less time in it than it'd taken to set up—and Isla wanted him to push her in the swing. Alicia giggled from her own lounge, then said she'd take Brad for his nap. Steven trudged up the garden to lift his daughter onto the swing, but the smile she gave him made it all worthwhile. When it got too hot outside, he spent a fun hour supervising her painting at the kitchen table. To cap off a near-perfect day, both kids ate their dinner without fuss or mess, and got out of the bath when asked them to.

He was sitting between them on the sofa watching TV when Alicia came into the living room wearing a white cold-shoulder top, a tight pair of jeans and heeled sandals. Her hair was down. She wore full makeup with her nails painted dark red. His heart crashed so loudly in his chest he worried the kids would hear it.

“I'm going out,” she said.

Isla glanced at her mum for about a second, and Brad didn't even bother taking his eyes from the TV.

Alicia looked slightly amused as he took in every detail, floating on a cloud of rapture. He could smell her perfume from eight feet away and see the shimmer of gold in her eyeshadow. Her eyeliner and thick mascara made her eyes look bigger than usual. Her red lip-gloss emphasised the whiteness of her teeth, and her exposed shoulders were sun-kissed bronze. Any man would be proud to have a wife so beautiful. Steven was both immensely proud and eternally grateful.

She wore silver dangly earrings and a matching bracelet on her left wrist, but her wedding finger was bare. While most husbands would be outraged if their wife removed her rings before going out, this made Steven's balls tingle with anticipation.

He swallowed and tried to smile. “Shall I pretend to be asleep when you get back?”

“No. Tonight I'll want you wide awake.”

His cock swelled. “Okay.”

“Bye guys,” she said to the kids.

Isla smiled and Brad waved.

She looked directly into Steven's eyes. “See you later.”

He nodded, watching her backside as she walked out of the room. The sound of her stiletto heels on the tiled kitchen floor was followed by the click of the backdoor latch. A few moments later, he heard her car start up and pull off the drive.

“Can I have another biscuit?” Isla asked.

“Biksit,” Brad agreed, the remains of his previous bourbon biscuit still smeared around his smiling mouth.

Steven got up and walked in a daze to the kitchen.

* * * *

Alicia drove from their housing estate without a clear idea of where she was going. As they lived in the south-east part of town, she'd decided to drive north-west and find a likely-looking pub. In a town with a population of almost a hundred thousand, the chances of her meeting anyone she knew over there would be pretty slim.

It took her about fifteen minutes to navigate around the town centre and out to where she wanted to be. She turned into a road near the hospital and passed a row of red-bricked buildings opposite a small park, lined with a few bistros and trendy bars, some with tables on the wide pavement outside. She parked twenty yards further up the road, checked her makeup in the interior mirror and got out.

Walking slowly back toward the bars, Alicia had butterflies in her stomach. She couldn't tell if they were due to nerves or excitement but decided it didn't really matter. With every step she took, the seam of her tight jeans rubbed against her crotch, making her tingle all over.

Several of the tables outside the first bar were occupied, mainly by smokers, and a couple of groups of men stood chatting in the warm summer evening at either side of the door. Alicia felt their eyes on her as she made her way between them.

It took her almost a minute to get through the throngs of chattering and laughing twenty-somethings to get to the bar and a few minutes longer before one of the rushed barmaids came over to take her order.

Alicia ordered a white wine spritzer, then glanced around the other people standing around the bar. Several of the men held eye contact, and she smiled at them all. Drink in hand, she stepped away to make room for the other people queuing to get served. It took less than two minutes for the first guy to come and talk to her. He was nice enough, with short dark hair and big brown eyes.

When he asked if she was on her own, she told him she was meeting up with a couple of girls from work but had received a text saying they were running late. They made small talk for a few minutes. She told him she worked in healthcare, which was kind of true, and she didn't correct him when he assumed she'd meant at the hospital, which was less than a five-minute walk from the bar.

When a couple of his friends joined them, Alicia got the impression her companion wasn't happy about their intrusion. All three men were attractive, and Alicia would happily have fucked any of them. As the group grew larger, the newcomers seemed to assume Alicia was part of their crowd, including her in their conversations. One of the women complimented Alicia on her eye makeup.

About ten feet away, a guy stood on his own, clutching a pint of lager. He stood out because not only was he slightly older than everyone else—probably mid-forties—but because he looked surly and kind of miserable. He had pale skin, watery blue eyes, and gingery-blond hair combed back from his forehead. He seemed to glare with disdain at everyone who brushed past him on their way to the bar or the loo. Alicia couldn't help thinking he'd be more at home in a pub where they played darts and cards. He didn't speak or smile at a single person in the five minutes she watched him.

Without really analysing why, she excused herself from the crowd she'd been part of for the last twenty-odd minutes and moved to stand next to him. He was about the same height as Steve, but wider. Not muscular, just a bigger build. He was also carrying a bit of a beer belly. The guy was so not her type, and yet here she was.

"Hi," she said, smiling brightly.

He blinked, then looked around to see if she was actually talking to someone standing next to him.

She smiled again. "You looked a bit sad, so I thought I'd come and see if I could cheer you up."

He glanced at her glass, presumably to see if she was hitting on him for a free drink, then looked back into her eyes. "What makes you think I need cheering up?"

She shrugged. “Just the impression I get. Are you saying you’d rather stand on your own without talking to anyone?”

“Are you trying to be funny?”

“No, I’m trying to get laid.”

The guy blinked again, then looked around as if suspecting some kind of ‘gotcha’ ruse. He opened his mouth, then paused. He nodded at her glass. “Do you want another drink?”

“No thanks.” She leaned closer and whispered, “I want you to take me back to your place.”

His eyes opened wide, then he looked around again to see if anyone was watching their exchange. Then he looked back at Alicia. “I live in the next street. It’s a two-minute walk.”

“Perfect. I’ll leave my car where it is then.” She nodded at the lager in his hand. “Are you going to finish that first?”

Without a word, he put his glass down. Alicia did the same, and they walked out past the crowd she’d been chatting with. The first guy with the dark hair looked almost as shocked as the guy she was leaving with.

It was dusk as the guy led her down the pavement, away from her car, then turned right at the first junction. He seemed reluctant to attempt small talk, as if scared he’d say something untoward that would prove to be a deal breaker.

He stopped outside a terraced house with net curtains. Pushing the key in the lock, he turned to her. “It’s not much, but it’s home.”

She smiled.

Immediately inside the front door was a rack where several coats hung. A door opened onto a living room on the right, and Alicia could see a well-worn armchair facing a huge flatscreen TV. Straight in front of them was the staircase, which she nodded toward. “I’m guessing the bed is upstairs.”

His throat bobbed as he swallowed. “First right at the top.”

Alicia smiled and walked up first, knowing he’d get a good view of her backside as he followed her. She stepped into the bedroom without turning the light on.

He walked past her to turn on a small bedside lamp. The room was sparsely furnished but surprisingly clean.

“You didn’t tell me your name,” he said.

“No. Is that a problem?”

He shook his head. “And I don’t suppose you want to know mine.”

“That’s right.” She gripped the hem of her top and pulled it up and off. While he stared at her breasts in the white lacy bra, Alicia undid her jeans and pushed them down her legs until they were below the knees, then sat on the bed to undo her sandals and slip her jeans off over her feet.

The guy stared wide-eyed at Alicia sitting on his bed in only her underwear.

“Are you going to keep your clothes on?” she asked.

“No, I...” He quickly unbuttoned his shirt and shrugged it off, then unbuckled his belt.

Alicia reached down and took a pack of condoms from her jeans pocket, then crawled back and lay in the middle of the bed on top of the quilt. She watched as he kicked off his shoes and opened his trousers. His cock was already hard.

“I can either keep my underwear on or take it off,” she said, pulling the thong aside to show he could enter her without removing it. She knew some men liked the lacy trimmings. “It’s up to you.”

“Off!” He coughed to clear his throat, then nodded. “Take them off, please.”

She slipped off her bra and panties, then lay down on one side of the bed and patted the quilt next to her. He eased himself down, still seeming afraid he’d break some kind of spell.

Alicia reached over and gripped his cock, which was bigger than it’d looked as he undressed. She ran her thumb over the tip, then looked up into his face. “What I’d like...” she said, wanking him slowly while using her other hand to stroke his balls, “is to fit this,” she waved the condom, “on here.” She gave his cock a squeeze. “And then I’d like to climb on top of you and ride it for a while.”

His eyes never left hers. “Okay.”

She tore the foil and placed the rubber on the end of his dick. He breathed shallowly as she rolled it slowly down his length. Then she swung her leg over him. Watching his face, she dipped two fingers into her sex then smeared her juices over the tip of his sheathed cock.

He watched her fingers and seemed to be holding his breath. Alicia held his shaft straight up, positioned herself over it and lowered herself onto him.

It felt big, and it felt good.

She had to take him a bit at a time, raising herself a little before pushing down further. “Oh.”

He placed his big hands on her hips and pulled her down, sending his cock all the way in.

Alicia let out a groan, then rocked her hips. “That’s nice.” She concentrated on the feeling of being stretched and filled. If she kept her eyes closed, she could pretend he was better looking, but right now his looks didn’t matter. The only important thing was his dick, and that was doing its job perfectly.

She pushed down and ground her clit against him as she rode his cock. “That feels good.” She licked her lips and let out a sigh. “Does it feel good for you?”

He opened his mouth to answer but she put her finger to his lips to shush him. “I don’t care. Just don’t come yet, okay?”

He nodded, pushing up into her.

Alicia closed her eyes and let the big cock stretching her wide apart become her focus. Nothing else mattered. She didn’t care about what the guy beneath her thought, or about her husband waiting at home with a hard-on. All she cared about was using the big, fat cock to get her off.

The first tingles rippled through her. She gritted her teeth, thrusting faster. The waves swelled and surged as she leaned forward, resting her hands on the pillows. The guy raised his head and sucked her nipple, but she ignored him. She was getting closer and closer...

The wave broke with an intensity that shocked her. She cried out and gripped the pillows. Raising herself and slamming down on his delicious cock, she screamed and flailed her head from side to side, whipping the guy’s face with her hair. An aftershock shot through her, almost as powerful as an orgasm. She grunted, then sat straight up and ground her clit against his pubic bone until the sensations finally abated.

She stopped moving and opened her eyes, staring at him through the tangle of hair over her face. His expression made her think of an old lady’s after her first-ever rollercoaster ride.

Alicia was so breathless it took her a moment to speak. “Thank you.”

He grinned, showing uneven, discoloured teeth.

“What I want now,” she said, tracing her fingernails down his chest, “is for you to get on top.”

He nodded quickly.

“But when you’re ready to come,” she said, leaning down so her face was only a few inches from his, “I want you to pull out, take the condom off and come over my body.”

His eyes went wide, and he pushed his dick up into her.

“I want to feel your cum splashing over me.” She traced her polished nails over her chest and stomach. “On my tits, and on my tummy. Do you think you could do that for me?”

He nodded again.

She raised herself off him, then lay down on the bed. He quickly got onto his knees, pushed the condom back down his shaft, then lowered himself into position.

Alicia raised her hips and sighed as he slid his cock all the way in. She held his waist and moved with him, slamming her groin up to meet his thrusts. It was clear from his face that he wasn’t going to last much longer.

He banged harder and faster for a just few seconds before pulling out, ripping the condom off and pointing his cock at her. A thick rope of cum shot out and landed on her chest. It was hot on her skin, and she moaned encouragement as he pumped his cock, ejecting more jizz over her body.

She reached up and gripped his dick, which was warm, slippery and rigid. She ran her palm over the sensitive tip and skated her fingertips over the crown. He groaned and lowered his hips, leaning over her again. Before she could stop him, he re-entered her. His cock, slick with cum, felt hot and even bigger than before.

She tried to push him off, but he was already fucking her again, his thrusts going deep, maybe deeper than before. And they felt hot and hard and wet and... It felt so fucking good. The damage was already done. If there was anything in his system, it’d already been transmitted. But he didn’t look like a guy who’d have a string of casual sexual encounters.

A tremor deep in her core signalled another orgasm was building. She held her breath and felt it swell and grow like a balloon. In just a few seconds it over-filled and burst, sending her into another series of groans and screams. She raised and bent her legs, the heels of her feet kicking his arse, her arms around his waist dragging him deeper.

He pulled out again and, to her amazement, sent another three or four gushes of cum over her already splattered body. He used his hand to wank himself, grunting and breathing heavily as the flow ebbed to just the occasional pearl being squeezed out.

Alicia looked down at her body, then up into his face.

"I'm sorry for... you know." He shook his head. "I just got carried away, and I didn't really think about... the pregnancy issue."

"I'm on the pill." When he looked relieved, she raised a brow at him. "But the condom wasn't there to stop me getting pregnant."

He blushed. "I can guarantee I don't have any... I work at the hospital, see."

Oh, no problem then.

He seemed to read her expression. "What I mean is, I'm seeing one of the nurses."

Alicia's felt a cold dread sweep through her.

"She's nothing like you. She's older and..." He held his arms wide to indicate she was a larger lady, then pointed towards himself. "She's the sort of woman you'd expect to see with someone like me. But she's married."

Alicia took a breath, the cum cooling on her skin and running down her sides.

"She makes me get tested regularly. I'm the only one she sees—except her husband, like—but she doesn't know about who I see. I don't tell her she's the only one, but..." He looked down and sighed. "Anyway," he said, his eyes re-focusing on Alicia's. "What I'm saying is, I've not even been with my nurse friend since my last test, and it was negative. They've always been negative."

"Thanks." She gave a little shrug. "As you no doubt saw from my reaction, I'm glad you got carried away."

He smiled, obviously relieved. "Do you want a drink or—?"

"No thanks. I really need to go now."

"Oh, right." He looked disappointed but not too surprised.

Alicia slipped off the bed and bent to pick up her panties. "I had a good time," she said, and meant it.

He nodded, then frowned at the mess his cum was making on the white silk and lace of her panties. “Do you want to wipe off—?”

“No, it’s fine.” I’m going to show it to my cuckolded husband. “It’ll give me a nice reminder as I drive home.”

His eyebrows went up. “Oh. Right.”

She quickly dressed and fastened her sandals while he took a grey dressing gown from a hook on the back of the door and slipped it on.

“I still can’t believe it happened,” he said, tying the belt around his waist.

She looked at him. “I hope you’re not having any regrets.”

“What? No, it was... It was like a dream.” He spluttered. “Or more like a porn film.”

“Hmm.” Alicia smiled to herself. She probably had come across a bit like a porn star. And now she was going to go home and tell her husband exactly what a slut she’d been.

Chapter 19

Steven had been waiting all evening for Alicia to get home, the last hour spent sitting on the edge of the armchair with his stomach tightly knotted. He saw the headlights through the curtains as she pulled into the driveway and stood up when he heard the backdoor open. Alicia stepped into the living room. Her hair and makeup didn't seem too much in disarray. Maybe she hadn't actually—

“I've been fucked,” she said.

A sudden lump in his throat prevented him from replying. He swallowed, then nodded.

“Are you glad I've been fucked, Steve?”

He studied her face, trying to determine her mood. Was this playful teasing or intentionally confrontational? “What do you—?”

“Simple question. I went to a bar and let a man take me back to his place, where I went to bed with him. Does that make you happy?”

He tried desperately to read her expression but failed. As a last resort, he decided to be completely honest. “Yes, it makes me happy.”

“Why?”

His chest tightened. He was reminded of being summoned to the headmaster's office after misbehaving at school. He took a steadying breath. “I'm happy because the thought of you...”

“Fucking?”

Steven nodded, smiling a little. “Yeah. Fucking. The thought of you fucking turns me on.”

“Is it the thought of me fucking in general, or the thought of me fucking someone else?”

He blinked, puzzled. He thought they'd established this. Or maybe this was her way of getting him to talk dirty. “Both. I get turned on thinking about you fucking me, and I get turned on thinking about you fucking someone else.” It was getting easier to speak as he became more relaxed. He grinned. “I even get turned on by the thought of you fucking yourself.”

Alicia stepped closer and stared into his eyes. Her perfume was overpowering, but there was another smell there. The musky smell of sex. It made his cock swell.

“Lots of cute guys hit on me,” she continued, “and yet I chose someone who wasn’t very cute.”

“Why?”

“I felt sorry for him. Nobody was paying him any attention. He was standing on his own and being ignored.”

“But you didn’t ignore him.”

“No, I didn’t.” She smiled. “Would you please undo my sandals?”

Steven looked down at her feet, then dropped to one knee and quickly unfastened both buckles.

Alicia stepped out of her shoes, undid the button of her jeans and pushed them down her thighs. “Would you pull these off, too?”

Steven gripped the denim and inched it down past her knees and calves. Alicia rested a hand on his shoulder as she took out foot, then the other.

“Thanks,” she said, stepping over to the armchair before turning to face him again. She gripped the hem of her shirt, lifted it off over her head, and quickly unclipped her bra.

Steven stared at her body, his brain playing catch-up with his eyes as he took in the dried opaque mess covering her breasts and tummy.

She shook her head back and held her arms out as if crucified, letting him inspect every inch of her front. “Since Jo-Jo lets you shoot your cum over her, I thought you’d like it if I let my guy shoot his over me.”

A vice-like grip made it hard to breathe. Guilt over his clandestine session resurfaced. Alicia couldn’t possibly know about him pulling out of Jo-Jo’s arse, tearing off the condom and covering her back, from her shoulder blades to her tiny waist, with cum.

“I know my tits are only small,” she was saying, “but he seemed to like coming on them.”

With a sigh of relief, Steven studied her body, hoping his face hadn’t given anything away. The cum in her bellybutton was still wet. Some of the stains disappeared below the waistband of her panties. He looked back into her eyes but still couldn’t speak.

Alicia inched her panties down to her thighs, sat in the armchair and quickly slid them down her legs and off. Then she sat back and smiled.

Steven couldn't resist the temptation of examining the recently revealed part of her body. Dried cum settled in the creases where her legs met her body, and her pubic hair was wet and matted with it.

"He came a lot, didn't he?" she asked.

"Yeah."

"He really hosed me down. I feel like a frosted cupcake."

His legs were shaking.

She sighed, as if reliving the memory of the guy coming on her. "If you want to ask your five questions, now would be the time."

Steven bit his lip. There were so many questions fighting for space in his head, but the most urgent of them reflected his worry about her doing this so close to home. Her previous encounters had been in different countries, even, but tonight... Where had she gone? Did she see anyone she knew? Could any of his friends or colleagues have seen her leaving the bar with another man? But they weren't the things he really wanted to know right now. He cleared his throat. "How many times did he fuck you?"

"Believe it or not, you've started with quite a hard question. He fucked me once, but he came twice."

"How could he come twice?"

"I don't know, but that's what he did. He fucked me until he came, then he fucked me some more and came again."

"Wow." Steven shook his head. "That's quite a party trick."

"Yes, it was." She ran her hand slowly down her tummy, through all the wet and dried cum, and lifted one leg onto the arm of the chair.

Steven couldn't help glancing down.

"What are you looking at, Steve?"

He snapped his gaze back to her face.

"Were you looking at my cunt?"

His chest was tightening again. "Yeah."

"Does it look puffy and battered?"

Steven took shallow breaths through his mouth and tried to hold eye contact, but he saw her hand move in his peripheral vision. Alicia was dragging her fingertips through her folds. Her juices made them glisten. She was dipping her spunk-covered fingers into her wet sex, mixing the guy's fluids with her own.

"I'm going to play with myself while you ask your other questions." She rocked her hand. "Do you think I'll be able to make myself come before you ask the other four?" She lay her hand over her crotch and pushed the second and third fingers into her slit.

"How many times did you come?"

"Twice."

Steven nodded, his gaze flicking between her face and her crotch. This seemed to amuse her. She pushed her fingers deeper and held them there.

Before he could ask his next question, Alicia started talking again. "The first time, I was on top. The second time, he went on top."

Steven watched her finger herself while visualising the guy's cock sliding in and out of her soaking hole instead of her fingers.

"Get your dick out."

Her words snapped him back to reality. "What?"

"Take out your dick." She glanced down at his crotch. "Are you hard?"

"You're jilling off in front of me. That'd make anyone hard."

"Hmm, maybe. But other men using my body always makes you hard, right?" She nodded at his crotch. "Get it out."

After a moment's hesitation he unzipped and released his aching cock. The tip oozed precum.

She made a point of inspecting the state of it and nodded approvingly. "Good. Now pump it in your fist."

He didn't want a wank. What he wanted was to ram it inside her and show her how hard he was. "Why would I do that?"

"Because I'm going to make myself come thinking about the stranger's cock I had tonight, and I want you to do the same."

He attempted a coaxing smile. "I can think of something better to do with it."

"I want you to add your cum to the sticky mess he's left on my body."

Though desperate to go inside her, Steven wrapped his fingers around his shaft and began to masturbate.

Alicia watched for a while, then looked back into his eyes. "I came like a train while I rode him. His neighbours must have heard my screams."

It seemed like she wasn't bothering to stick to her five-questions rule, but he wasn't complaining.

She watched his hand on his cock as she spoke. "When he got on top and fucked me, I told him I wanted him to come on my tits. Just like you've done to Jo-Jo."

"Did you enjoy it?"

She smiled. "Oh yeah. His cum was hot, and there was a lot of it."

Steven's balls tightened in his sack.

"I rubbed his dick, smearing his cum all over it. Then he went back inside me."

Steven's stomach chilled. "He what?"

"He pushed his dick back inside me. It was covered in cum. I tried to push him out, but then..." She shrugged. "I stopped trying because that's when he made me come a second time."

Steven's throat was so tight he struggled to speak. "You came on his unsheathed cock?"

She nodded. "It felt so..." She closed her eyes. "I'm going to come soon. I want you to come with me."

"Inside?"

She laughed and shook her head. "No. I want you to come on his mess."

Steven closed his eyes and wanked faster, already on the brink. "You want it now?"

She lifted her other leg onto the opposite arm of the chair so that she resembled a frog on its back. Even so, she looked incredibly sexy, her fingers busy between her legs.

Steven stepped closer. "Ready?"

Alicia nodded and fingered herself more urgently. Her eyes fluttered and Steven sent the first spurt high into the air over her. It landed on her neck, and she cried out. His second spurt left a thick rope down her left boob and tummy. She arched up off the chair and screamed as she came. He imagined her screaming like this earlier while riding the guy. Pumping fast and breathing hard, he sent more cum over her prone body. Fully spent, he opened his eyes. Alicia was looking up at him, a wide, beautiful smile on her face.

He blinked, still catching his breath. “What?”

“Was that okay?”

He laughed. “What, making me have a wank?”

“Not just that—the whole thing.”

“Yeah, it was...” His legs shook and he was gulping in air. He didn’t know if it was due to the exertion of jerking himself off or the chemical changes in his brain after his release. Whatever it was, he felt exhilarated. “It was really sexy.”

“Thank you.”

“You’ve never done that before.” He nodded at her hand, which now rested on her tummy, the middle two fingers covered with juices. “Not even after Edinburgh.”

She laughed. “Steve, I’ve jilled off a dozen times thinking about Edinburgh, but tonight I wanted to share it with you.”

The first part of her answer both stung and thrilled him, but he only addressed the second part. “Why did you want to share it tonight?”

“Because we’ve had such a lovely week. You made a point of making an effort to give the kids nice memories.” She looked down at her cum-soaked body. “I wanted to do something that’d give you nice memories, too.”

“I’ll remember this.”

“I’m hoping you remember the things I described, too.”

“I will.”

“And will you think about them when you’re alone?”

He nodded.

Alicia raised her hands and began to smear his cum all over her breasts. “And will you have another wank while imagining me riding his cock?”

He frowned, wondering if she was teasing him about his wife-sharing fetish. “I—”

“I want you to.” She held his gaze. “I want you to close your eyes and think about me fucking him, and I want you to beat your meat. I want you to be so turned on by the thought of it that you make yourself come.”

She was making his cock tingle. "If you keep talking like that, I'm going to want to go again."

She glanced down at his cock, then back into his eyes. "Really?"

He nodded.

"Can I have a shower first?"

"Another one?"

She laughed. "I mean one with hot water and soap."

"Only if I can go inside you."

Her brow furrowed. "I told you, he went inside me after he'd come."

"I know." Steven felt an overpowering urge to reclaim her.

"I thought you'd insist I go back to the sex clinic to get tested."

"Do you think the guy might have an STD?"

"No." She shook her head. "No, I'm sure he doesn't."

"So let me cover his mess on the inside as well as the outside."

She stood up. "I'll go take a shower. Would you carry my clothes up to the bedroom? I'll only be a couple of minutes."

* * * *

Once clean and dry, Alicia walked naked into the bedroom to find Steve on his back on the bed, slowly stroking his erection. His eyes were hooded and full of need. She hadn't seen him this horny in a long time.

"How do you want me?" she asked.

"I just want you. I don't care how."

His sincerity almost made her cry. "I'll do whatever you want."

He tapped the mattress next to him. "Lie here."

She lay beside him, and he propped himself up on one elbow and looked into her face. He placed his hand on her tummy, leaned close and kissed her gently on her lips.

"Why didn't you pick one of the better-looking guys?"

"He wasn't that unattractive, and I felt sorry for him. I knew I could give him a nice night."

"You probably gave him the best night of his life."

She smiled. "I hope so."

"And he left his cum inside you." The hungry look was back.

“Yes he did.” She could see the effect her taking the guy bare was having on him. “There’s probably still some of it there now. A shower doesn’t clean the inside.”

“Did you like him being in there, skin on skin?”

Once she’d got over the shock, it had felt good. “I suppose I must have done, because as soon as he went back inside, I came again.”

“Would you have liked him to come inside you instead of coming over your body a second time?”

“I didn’t think about it. I didn’t really expect him to come again, I just thought he’d fuck me until he lost his hard-on.”

“Think about it now.” He rolled on top of her and held himself up on his elbows so he could watch her face. “Think about him going back inside you, his cum still warm on your body...” He reached down and slid his cock in. “What would you have done if he’d told you he was going to come again?”

Steve’s cock felt good, and she squeezed herself around it. She clenched her jaw and pushed her groin up to meet his, mirroring his slow thrusts. “I don’t know...”

“I mean, you knew his cum was already inside you. You told me you’d smeared it all over his dick after his first shot.”

She nodded. “Yeah.”

“So the damage was done. Why not let him shoot the second lot inside you? We both know how much you like having a man come inside.”

Alicia was already feeling the early tingles of a building orgasm. She decided it was time for her to take the lead—in more ways than one. She pulled him over to one side and rolled on top in a fluid movement, keeping his cock snug inside her. As she started to thrust, she turned the question around. Looking into his eyes, she said, “What about you?”

“Huh?”

“Would you have liked him to come inside me?”

He frowned and shook his head. “I’m asking what you—”

“Yeah, I know. But I want to know which you’d prefer. Wouldn’t it be so much nicer for you now if I was already full of cum?”

Steven opened his mouth to answer, then his eyes fluttered.

She dropped her voice to a whisper. “Think how much wetter I’d be if you had to push through the mess left there by the last guy.”

His eyes squeezed shut and she felt his cock twitch.

“Come in me, Steve. Wash his spunk away.”

He cried out, and she ground herself on him, managing to get over the line just a few seconds after he had.

Eventually, they both stilled. They held each other close, her head lying next to his so she couldn't see his face.

“I know it's probably wrong,” he whispered, “and obviously not a good idea for health risks...”

She nibbled his ear. “We're just talking fantasies, here.”

“When you told me he'd gone in bare, it gave me a real buzz.”

Alicia kissed his neck. “Tell me where you like to think about him blowing his muck.” She raised her head, smiling at the thought of using the phrase to turn him on. It didn't seem that long since she'd told him off for using such degrading language. But he looked uncomfortable. “Don't sneak back into your shell, Steve. Talk to me.”

“I wish...” He looked reluctant to continue. “I wish he'd come inside you.”

“Thank you for being honest.” She kissed him gently on the lips. He'd opened himself up, and she felt obliged to do the same. “I'd have liked him to come inside me, too.”

* * * *

Alicia got up when Brad woke. She carried him downstairs and put him in his highchair. He was almost too big for it now and would soon be on a booster strapped to a normal chair.

She had a warm, gooey feeling in her tummy, and it wasn't just down to what Steve had put in there last night. The entire evening had gone better than she'd dared hope. Picking up a guy in her hometown was probably a risk she shouldn't have taken, and so was going back to his house. Her other times had been in a hotel room, and there was something reassuring about the men knowing there'd be CCTV footage as evidence if anything bad happened to her. That hadn't been the case last night, but she'd felt fairly safe with the guy in the pub.

What she'd done on her return home had been for Steve's benefit, and he'd obviously enjoyed the performance. And then later, when they were in bed, she felt like they'd overcome some big hurdles. For the first time ever, he'd shared his innermost thoughts, desires and fantasies.

Isla wandered into the kitchen, her hair a tangle of knots and her eyes full of sleep.

"Hi, baby," Alicia said, bending to pick her up and hug her close. "Would you like some breakfast?"

Once Isla and Brad had their cereal, Alicia made a coffee for Steve and carried it up to the bedroom. She woke him by kissing his shoulder.

He looked up at her and blinked, then smiled when he saw the cup. "Thanks," he said, sitting up and adjusting his pillow into a backrest.

"I thought you deserved a coffee in bed after your exertions last night."

He shook his head. "Shouldn't I be making you coffee in bed? You were the one who satisfied two men."

"Did I?"

"Yeah. And you also helped yourself to four orgasms."

She laughed, embarrassed. "Stop it! You're making me sound—"

"It's probably just as well that it's my turn to go out next."

All the joy left her. Did last night mean so little to him? They'd been close, had divulged fantasies and shared the sort of sex she thought he'd like. Steve obviously didn't think so. He'd simply moved past it and was now eager for his next fix.

She left him with his coffee and went to eat breakfast with the kids. While eating her toast, she took out her phone and texted Maddie.

*Hiya – hope you're having a nice time with the in-laws.
When are you back? I thought maybe we could have a girls' night out. X*

Maddie replied almost immediately. She'd had a nice week and was travelling back today because of Tom's football tomorrow. Alicia wondered if Steve was planning to play and hadn't mentioned it yet. She asked if Maddie fancied going out tonight and got a treble thumbs-up emoji in reply.

When Steve finally came downstairs, she didn't offer to make his breakfast. He cuddled the kids then put two slices of bread in the toaster. The kids wandered off to watch TV, and Steve sat opposite Alicia at the kitchen table, oblivious to her feelings regarding his eagerness for his next adventure.

“I’m going out for a drink with Maddie tonight,” she announced.

“Oh, okay. I thought they were staying with Tom’s folks.”

“Nope, they’re coming home today for tomorrow’s football.” She raised her eyebrows to let him know that now would be the time to tell her if he intended playing as well.

“Right. Oggie said he was trying to organise a friendly, but I didn’t know what we’d be doing so told him I couldn’t play.”

“Oh.” Now she felt guilty for thinking he’d kept it from her. “If you want to play—”

He shook his head. “No, I’m not bothered. Maybe we can go somewhere nice today.” He took another bite of toast and chewed.

“Yesterday was our day of rest, but then you went out and exhausted us both.” He smiled and pushed his foot against hers.

Alicia wondered if she’d overreacted earlier. She shook her head. “Let’s have another day at home, then maybe try another beach trip tomorrow.”

He nodded. “Fine by me.” He pushed back and picked up his empty plate. “I’m going to have more toast. Do you want any, or another cup of tea?”

She passed him her cup and smiled.

* * * *

Maddie was standing at the bar when Alicia arrived, and they hugged. Her friend was also wearing a summer dress and sandals, and the sun had brought out a smattering of freckles on her nose and shoulders.

“You look lovely,” Alicia said earnestly.

“Thanks. So do you, as usual.” Maddie had already ordered herself a drink and got one for Alicia, too. The women headed for a table near the open French doors that led to an outside paved area.

“How was Center Parcs and Yorkshire?” Alicia asked.

“Both were great. Yorkshire was really relaxing because Tom’s parents spent the entire time with the girls. I had more free time than I’ve had in years.”

“Good. I hope you made the most of it.” She bobbed her eyebrows.

Maddie laughed, then nodded. “We seem to have hit a groove.”

“You mean Tom won’t leave your groove alone.”

Both women giggled, then Maddie leaned closer. “It’s all your fault for sexing me up. Anyway, what about you? Tell me the latest instalment.”

Alicia started to shake her head, then shrugged. “I went out last night. I found a bar close to the hospital—”

“Here? You went out on the pull here?”

Alicia nodded. “I got sick of travelling hundreds of miles every few weeks. So, I walked into a bar, bought myself a drink and waited for someone to hit on me.”

“And did they? Forget that, of course they did. What was he like?”

“I got chatted up by a couple of cute guys, then their friends arrived and joined us. It was a nice friendly atmosphere.”

Maddie nodded, eyes wide as she sipped her drink through a straw.

“Then I noticed this grumpy looking guy on his own, and thought ‘why not?’ I went to talk to him and suggested he take me back to his place.”

“Was he as cute as the first guys?”

“Not really.”

“Was he built like your bodybuilder?”

Alicia laughed. “He had a tiny paunch and a gingery tinge to his hair.”

“So why go with him? You could get anyone you wanted.”

“I... I don’t know. Last night I wanted him.”

Maddie shook her head, as if mystified. “And how was it?”

Alicia smiled. “It was very satisfying. Afterwards, he told me he was seeing a married nurse and I felt a bit sorry for him.”

“Why would you feel sorry for someone who’s doing that?”

“I got the impression that he’s probably in love with her, but she sees him as a bit of naughty fun on the side.”

Maddie seemed to consider this, then said, “If he was in love with her, he wouldn’t have let you seduce him.”

“Maybe not.” Alicia took a sip of her drink, then decided to give a little more information. “When I got home, I described everything I’d done to Steve.”

“And what did he say?”

“He jerked off over me, then took me to bed and fucked me.”

“Jeez.” Maddie’s eyes were as big as saucers. “You mean Steve likes the idea of what you do? I’d assumed he had to accept it because he did it.”

Alicia didn’t want to call him a pervert, or a cuck. “I think he finds the idea of me enjoying myself arousing.”

Maddie nodded. “I find the idea of you enjoying yourself arousing, and I’m sure Tom does, too. Remember what he did to me after Ewan’s wedding?”

“As I’ve already pointed out, that was because of the way you looked, and nothing to do with me.” She swallowed. “Anyway, it seems me describing it all in graphic detail wasn’t enough for Steve, because as soon as he woke up this morning he was already planning his next date with a sex worker.”

“So? You can plan your next date.”

Alicia sighed. “I’m not sure they’re the answer. If I’m honest, I could probably have as much fun with a dirty book and my vibrator.”

Maddie squealed, drawing the attention of all the other drinkers. She covered her mouth, then laughed. “God, you slay me.” She leaned closer again. “Next time, choose someone who’s gorgeous. Go dancing, get sweaty and laugh a lot. Then find a dark corner at the back of the club and make him do you standing up.”

Alicia smiled. “I actually like that idea.”

Maddie nodded. “I used to fantasise about being swept off my feet, carried to a dark corner and rogered silly.”

“Did you ever do it?”

“No. I’m too much of a prude.”

“It wouldn’t help, though. Steve would still go back to his women for dirty sex.” Alicia gave a frustrated sigh. “I just don’t understand what he gets from them that he can’t get from me.”

“Why not ask?”

Alicia stared at her, a lightbulb flashing somewhere inside her head. Why hadn’t she thought of that?

Maddie hadn’t noticed Alicia’s epiphany and carried on talking. “Maybe he’d like you to ask. Maybe,” she said, grinning, “he’ll jerk off over you again while describing what they do for him.”

Alicia smiled and nodded, but her mind was already formulating a plan. She had no intention of asking Steve. She was going to ask Jo-Jo.

Chapter 20

Steven returned to work after his holiday to find paperwork piled high on his desk. He'd barely made an impact on the invoices by the time the snack van arrived. After he'd got his coffee and bacon roll, he saw Oggie walking across the yard to join the queue.

His friend gave a wide grin. "Stevie. How was the holiday?"

"Great thanks, mate."

"Have you got any pictures on your phone of your missus in a bikini?"

"Dozens, but apparently I'm only allowed to show them to people she'd like to see in their trunks."

"She'd be creaming her jeans if she saw me in a tight pair of Speedos, believe me."

"Don't put that image in my head, I'm about to eat. Anyway, how was the friendly against The Swan?"

Oggie frowned. "They hammered us. They've got a couple of young lads up front who are shit-hot. They ran us ragged."

Steven was quietly pleased that they'd lost without him, even though he knew his presence probably wouldn't have changed the outcome. "Any news on Ewan?"

Oggie nodded. "He played the last fifteen minutes. He couldn't do anything to stop them giving us the run-around, but he seemed to get through it okay. No problems with his ankle, like."

"Good to hear. Anyway, let me know when the next friendly is. I should be available for it."

"Okay, catch you later. And send me some of those photos."

Oggie ordered his own breakfast and Steven headed back to the office, still feeling good about his holiday. They'd had some great days out with the kids, and Alicia had taken another guy and then shared much more information than the five questions she usually restricted him to.

During the second week they'd gone back to the seaside, this time finding a cove with rock pools where he and Isla had spent hours catching crabs and putting them in her small bucket. They'd also attended a village fair and visited a petting farm.

He and Alicia had seemed much closer, which only intensified his guilt about sneaking in an extra session with Jo-Jo. He'd deliberately not brought up his next date all week. Now he was back at work, though, his restless mind kept picturing all those women in short skirts and high heels down Lambert Road.

Later that morning, Oggie called from the warehouse. A lorry delivering plasterboard seemed to have too few pallets, and he asked Steven to sort it out. After speaking to the suppliers—who apologised for the error and assured him the rest would be delivered the following day—he clarified things with Oggie then went back to his pile of invoices.

He'd sorted most of the backlog by mid-afternoon, the only outstanding problem being a rejected payment from a customers' bank. He tried phoning the guy, but his call went straight to voicemail. Steven left the customer a message but hadn't heard anything by the time he left the office and drove home.

Alicia greeted him with a smile and a kiss on the cheek. "How was your first day back?"

"It was okay." He looked around, wondering why the kids hadn't rushed to meet him. "This feels weirdly quiet."

She smiled. "They've decided you'd like to play hide and seek."

"Ah, right." He glanced around the kitchen, checked under the table, and then dropped onto all fours. "Fee-fi-fo-fum," he said loudly, in his giant-like voice. "I'm hungry for my dinner and need to eat some children."

Alicia slapped him on the backside. "Don't frighten them. Besides..." She leaned down to whisper in his ear. "If you're going to eat anybody, it'd better be me." As he looked up in shock, she shrugged. "I'm just saying, if you're that hungry..."

Steven wrapped his arms around her waist and pretended to gnaw on her hip.

Alicia squealed and pushed him off, laughing. "Go and find the kids while I put dinner out." She lowered her voice to a whisper. "You might want to start behind the sofa."

Steven crawled out of the kitchen and through the hall, making loud sniffing noises. "I think I can smell some tasty children," he said as he got to the door to the living room. "Mm-hmm, one for my dinner and another for my pudding."

Isla was giggling from behind the couch, and Brad was on the armchair under a blanket that shook with his laughter. Steven smiled, inching around the side of the sofa to find Isla crouched down, facing away from him. He reached out and tickled her bare feet, and she turned to hug him.

"Brad's under the blanket," she whispered.

"I'm glad you told me. I might never have found him." Steven crawled to the armchair and slowly pulled off the blanket to reveal his smiling son. "Hi, Champ."

Brad reached up and clung to his neck, and Steven stood. He picked up Isla as well, then carried them both back to the kitchen. "Look who I found, Mum. Pass me a knife and fork, and some salt."

Alicia smiled and nodded towards the highchair. "Stick him in there. Isles, you come and sit here, babe."

After dinner, he and Alicia took their coffee outside to the patio table. Steven explained that he'd caught up on the backlog, but still needed to speak to a customer about a bounced cheque.

"Do you think he's trying to wriggle out of it?" she asked.

He shook his head. "The guy's probably still waiting to get paid for his work. People delay paying as long as they can. He's held an account with us for years, and we know it happens. I just need to speak to him in case he's not aware his bank has rejected the payment."

She nodded and took a few sips of her coffee, then leaned closer. "So," she said quietly. "I suppose after your day with all those invoices, you'll be eager to work off your frustration."

He smiled, his cock stirring in his pants. "Are we revisiting the 'if you're going to eat anybody' conversation from earlier?"

"No." She ran her finger down his arm. "I was thinking that you're probably ready for another playdate by now. I know it's been a while."

Another wave of guilt washed through him. He considered admitting what he'd done so that Alicia could go out for her next date, but they both knew that he'd get almost as much out of that. "I don't understand why you ___"

"I wanted to show how much I appreciate the last couple of weeks. I was looking at the photos on my phone earlier. The kids had such a great time."

He reached out and squeezed her hand. "I loved every minute of it. I don't need a reward for enjoying time with my family."

"I know that." She leaned closer and nibbled his ear. "But maybe I'm eager to go out for my own fun, and this is just me being polite and letting you take your turn."

"How eager are you?"

Alicia shook her head. "That'd be telling."

Steven's heart thumped in his chest. He couldn't decide if she was being honest or just teasing him, but either way it had got his motor running. The thought of her wanting to go out and find another guy turned him on as much as the thought of him finding another woman. He'd already decided that his next visit wouldn't be with Jo-Jo, though he would definitely go back to her sometime in the future.

"What are you thinking about?" Alicia whispered.

The kids were playing together on the slide at the far end of the lawn, oblivious. "What do you think?"

"I guess you could be thinking about sticking your dick into another woman." She licked her lips. "Or you could just as easily be thinking about another man sticking his dick into me."

There was no point in him denying it. "Maybe I'm thinking about both."

"Like a double date?"

He laughed. "That might actually give me a heart attack." He turned serious. "If I were to go out tonight, do I still get to eat you when I come home?"

Alicia held his gaze for a while, then nodded. "If you like."

"And you can ask your five questions."

"I think we've moved past the five-question rule, don't you?"

The night was getting better by the minute. "Do you want another coffee?"

She shook her head. "No thanks. What time will you be going?"

“Probably about nine. I can help bathe the kids and get them to sleep before I leave.”

“Great, thanks.”

Steven remembered something from earlier. “Oggie asked me to send him some photos of you in your bikini.”

“Yeah?” She smiled. “Tell him I’ll sort him a couple out.”

He laughed. “No you won’t. I’m not having him beating his meat over you.”

“No. That’s your job.” Alicia smiled again, then sat back and closed her eyes.

Steven watched her face, wondering what she was thinking about. He hoped it was the next man she was going to let use her body.

* * * *

Alicia felt guilty for manipulating him, but this was the only way she could think of to find Jo-Jo. Since Steve had claimed he’d only picked Jo-Jo because she was there both times, she’d reasoned that he’d found a regular spot where he cruised for sex workers. Once she’d found the place, she’d go back one night when Steve was watching the kids and look for a petite redhead with big boobs.

Having decided on her plan earlier, Alicia had Becky lined up to babysit. She waited for the kids to fall asleep before asking Steve if he was going to shower before going out.

He shook his head. “I’ll shower when I get back.”

“Okay. I might have a bath.” She moved closer. “I don’t mind who you choose tonight.”

“What do you mean?”

“I mean if your favourite one happens to be there...” She shrugged. “Maybe I overreacted the other week.”

Steve smiled and shook his head. “I think a bit of variety might be nice.”

“It’s up to you. I just didn’t want you to avoid her because of the way I handled the news before.”

He nodded. “Thanks.”

As soon as Steve got behind the wheel, Alicia called Becky. She arrived before Steve had even reached the end of the road. Assuring the teenager that she'd be back within the hour, Alicia got in her car and followed Steve out of the estate. Though she had the Find My Phone app on standby in case she lost him, the fading light made it possible for her to tail him without being spotted.

Alicia followed his car through unfamiliar streets and up a hill towards an area she couldn't remember visiting before. Finally he turned left at a set of lights and she followed at a distance into a wide road with black railings. Women stood on the pavement on both sides.

Alicia held her breath as she watched her husband's car drive slowly down the road, about three hundred yards ahead. She pulled in at the kerb, but then she realised Steve had stopped and was reversing into a small side street. He was turning round. Panic set in. He'd see her car and realise what she was up to.

There was a gap in the railings a little further along the road, with a small driveway leading to a set of dilapidated garages. She quickly drove through the gap and up the drive, getting her car as far behind them as the overgrown bushes would allow. She got out and walked to the corner in time to see her husband pick up a woman with short blonde hair. Her skirt was ridiculously short and her heels ridiculously high. What made her look even more ridiculous was the fact that she had flabby thighs mottled with cellulite. Alicia couldn't help wondering if Steve had chosen this one because she'd admitted her last guy wasn't very attractive.

Once Steve had gone, curiosity got the better of her.

Alicia wandered down the pavement towards the other women. Even from thirty-odd yards away, she could see they all had much nicer figures than the one Steve had chosen. Suddenly, a car pulled up at the kerb beside her. It was a huge, black SUV. The tinted passenger window buzzed down and a good-looking guy in a suit and tie leaned over to look at her through the open window.

"Can I interest you in taking a short drive back to my hotel?" he asked.

Alicia felt panic like she'd never felt before. The guy thought she was on the game, even though she was dressed in a pair of jeans, plain black top and flat shoes. She tried to force a smile. “Sorry, I’m...” She shook her head. “Not tonight.”

He nodded slowly, a slight frown on his face. “That’s a shame. Another time, maybe.”

Alicia gestured towards the other women, who looked so much more alluring than she felt. “I’m sure you’ll find what you’re looking for a little further up the road.”

The guy nodded and smiled, then the tinted window slowly closed. Alicia watched him pull away in his Audi Q7. Its alloy wheels alone probably weighed as much as her little Fiat 500.

She hurried back to her car and turned it around, slowly manoeuvring it around the potholes behind the garages and back down to the gap in the railings. The Audi had disappeared. Alicia noted the street name and headed home. Becky was reading a book in the living room when she arrived.

“Not a peep from them,” she said, standing up. She shook her head as Alicia reached for her purse. “I don’t want to be paid for tonight. You haven’t been long, and you overpaid me last time.”

“Are you sure?”

Becky nodded, then left.

Alicia headed upstairs and started to draw a bath, her mind filled with images of women in skimpy dresses, high heels and far too much makeup.

* * * *

Steven left Elsa at Lambert Road and started to drive back toward home. His session with the blonde had been far less enjoyable than the ones he’d had with Jo-Jo. She’d directed him to a wooded area less than a mile away. They’d parked up under an overhanging tree and she’d laid out her prices, explaining that for an extra thirty pounds they could forego using a rubber. Steven had declined.

She was considerably cheaper than Jo-Jo, which wasn’t a surprise. She didn’t look as good, and the service she offered was far less satisfying. Once they’d agreed what he wanted—and she’d rebuffed all his questions about how busy she’d been that night—she knelt on the backseat while he stood at the side of the car and fucked her from behind through the open door. Each thrust sent a tremor down her meaty thighs, and she'd grunted encouragement throughout. At the end he'd dug his fingers into the flesh of her full hips and buried himself as deep as he could, his cock pumping hard. Elsa had squealed and rolled as if in ecstasy. He dropped the condom on the floor of his car and Elsa straightened her clothes and got back into the passenger seat. He'd retuned her to Lambert Road less than five minutes after his orgasm.

Once home, he dropped the knotted condom into the wheelie bin, then went inside. He found Alicia lying in the bath.

"Hi," he said.

She smiled at him, her face covered in drops of sweat and her hair sticking to her face. "How was your night?"

"I would have had a much better time staying home."

"I don't believe that. Did you get your dirty-fix?"

He nodded.

"Are you still hungry?"

He nodded again. "Famished."

She stood up and stepped out of the bath. She handed him the towel and held her arms above her head. "Dry me."

He did so, aware that Alicia's body was so much better than the one he'd just paid fifty-five quid to fuck. "Should I shower?"

Alicia shook her head. "You're not going to be touching me with your body, but you can brush your teeth if you like." She took the towel from him and dropped it into the laundry basket in the corner. "Or to be more specific, brush your tongue."

She left him in the bathroom and walked to their bedroom. When Steven followed a couple of minutes later, she was naked and spread-eagled on top of the bed. She looked fantastic.

He kicked off his shoes but left the rest of his clothes on. Kneeling on the mattress between her long legs, he ran a finger down one toned thigh. "Your legs are incredible."

"I bet you say that to all the girls who open them for you."

He shook his head. "No, I don't." Images of Elsa crouching in his car flashed through his mind, her thighs shuddering as he'd fucked her.

“Was it Jo-Jo?” She gave him a reassuring smile. “I really don’t mind.”

“It was someone else.”

“What was she like?” Alicia was watching his face, and she looked genuinely interested.

He thought about how to describe Elsa. He actually wondered why he’d chosen her in the first place. “She was the first woman I saw on the street, months ago. She was getting into a car, and...” He shrugged. “I knew she was going to get fucked by someone she’d probably never seen before. I knew she was going to spread her legs and take a stranger’s cock, and it turned me on. When I saw her tonight, I decided I’d let her spread her legs for me.”

“What did she look like?”

“She looked like the sort of woman you’d use for sex rather than the type you’d ask out on a date.”

“How?”

He shrugged. “She was big and brash and showing far more skin than a woman of her build probably should.”

She smiled. “The guy I fucked last week had a bit of a beer belly.”

“The woman I fucked tonight had wobbly thighs.”

Alicia ran her hands down her stomach to her crotch, then used her fingers to hold open her sex. “I took his cock in here, and he made me come twice.”

Steven nodded and looked into her eyes. “I rammed my cock into her wet hole and banged her as hard as I could on the backseat of my car until I came.”

“We’re sick bastards.”

“Yes we are.”

“Now stop blabbering and eat my cunt.”

His breath caught in his throat, and he dropped his face between her legs. He was rough, using his lips, teeth and tongue to jab and suck at her tender flesh. She groaned and pulled his hair, raising her hips off the bed to meet his onslaught. He slid a finger up her backside, and she grunted and clutched his hair tighter. She humped his face and came, crying out and wrapping her legs around his neck.

Suddenly she was pushing his head away and tearing at his clothes. She wrestled with his belt. "If you can't get it up," she said breathlessly, "I'm going to go out and find someone who can."

He pushed her onto her back and knelt over her. "Oh, I'll get it up."

"Yeah?" She smiled, teasing him. "That's a shame because I was looking forward to getting someone else."

He left his jeans on, just pushing them down enough to release his straining erection. "You can go and get somebody else after, but first you have to take... this."

Alicia groaned and started moving beneath him, riding him from below. "Maybe I will." She leaned up and bit his shoulder, which hurt. "Maybe I'll just take your cock and take your cum, then go out and find more."

Steven gripped her hair and pushed her head down onto the pillow so he could watch her face. "More cock or more cum?"

"Both."

He trembled. "That's fine with me, but when you get back here, you'll have to take mine again."

Her breathing was ragged. She placed her hands on his hips and directed his pace, which told him she was working up to another orgasm.

"Would you take mine again?" he asked, eager to keep her talking.

"As long as you don't mind sliding into a hole that's already full of another man's cream."

Without warning, he exploded inside her. He cried out, and she bucked and ground herself against him until he felt the grip of her orgasm. They writhed together, grabbing handfuls of flesh and scratching each other. Alicia rolled them over and rocked on him. He tried desperately to stay inside, reaching down past her backside and pressing the base of his cock, holding it in place with his fingers. She came again, and her contractions forced him out. He pushed his fingers in, and she cried out and rocked through her third orgasm.

Steven had never seen her act like this before, and it blew his mind. He lay beneath her and gulped in air, shellshocked by the way she'd acted and the things she'd said.

Alicia rolled off and lay on her side, looking at him.

He slipped his arm around her shoulder and pulled her close. “I don’t think I’ve ever come so hard.”

She nuzzled his chest. “You made me come three times.”

He shook his head. “You came three times. I just happened to be here.”

Alicia shook her head and kissed his neck. “No, it was your tongue, your finger and your dick.”

Steven didn’t want to admit that although her soft, lithe body had been wonderful, it had been her slutty threats to find another guy to satisfy her that had pushed him to the most intense orgasm he could remember.

Chapter 21

Alicia took the kids to the park the following morning to meet up with Maddie and her two. The women chatted about the start of school and a whole range of other things, but never touched on the subject of their sex lives.

Though still sore from last night's session, Alicia felt a warmth in the closeness she and Steve had shared, which was surprising considering how rough they'd been with each other. Sometimes they made love and sometimes they fucked. Last night had been the latter. It'd been raw and it'd been passionate, and she'd loved every minute. She was sure Steve had, too. If she could find out what he got from the women on Lambert Road, she'd be able to scratch whatever itch he seemed to have. She planned to find Jo-Jo and ask her a few questions, but before she could do that, there was something else she needed.

Ten minutes before the time Steve usually got home, Alicia took the small vacuum cleaner from the garage and gave the interior of her car a quick clean. When he pulled into the drive, she took out her phone and discreetly took a couple of photos of him as he killed the engine. She slid her phone into her back pocket as he climbed out of his car, smiling.

"Hiya. Shall I leave mine unlocked so you can do this one, too?"

"If you like." She stepped over to him and turned her cheek for his kiss. "How was your day?"

"Fine. Much calmer than yesterday."

"Did the guy get back to you about the bounced cheque?"

"Yeah, it's sorted. As expected, he was waiting on payment from a couple of jobs."

The kids came rushing out and Steve took them up the garden. Alicia quickly vacuumed his car, glancing at the backseat for any evidence of what he'd done the previous night. There wasn't any.

While Steve got the kids ready for bed, she edited the photo she'd taken of Steve in his car to remove the house from behind it. His face could be clearly seen, and so could his car. She wasn't sure if the women on Lambert Road remembered the faces of the men they fucked or the cars they were picked up in. Hopefully, Jo-Jo would remember Steve.

He was still reading to Isla as she went downstairs. Alicia left a note to say she'd popped to the supermarket, then went out to her car.

Fifteen minutes later, with the help of Google Maps, she'd turned at the traffic lights by Lambert Road and was driving slowly along the street. Women turned to look at her, most with an amused expression at her tiny Fiat 500. Some of the women were stunning, and there was a full range of choices. She wondered again about Steve's decision to choose the big blonde. Steve had given only brief details of what Jo-Jo looked like: petite but curvy, and long red hair.

About three-quarters of the way along, she spotted a girl who fitted that description. She wore a leather jacket, short blue skirt and ankle boots. Alicia pulled over at the kerb and the woman walked slowly over to meet her. She bent at the waist and looked in, then opened her eyes wide.

"Hi," Alicia said in what she hoped was a friendly tone.

"I'm sorry, hon. As sweet as you look, you're the wrong flavour."

"Can't I tempt you to try something new?"

The woman had lovely big brown eyes. "I don't think it'd be good business. With a guy, I know how long it'll take."

"How about if I pay for the time it usually takes for a guy to come, and you won't even need to open your legs. I just want to talk, nothing more."

The woman glanced up the road, then opened the car door and climbed in. She had great legs and was undeniably sexy. Just a couple of streets away, Alicia found somewhere safe to park along a narrow road with late-opening shops.

The redhead gestured at the customers coming and going, then smiled at Alicia. "Not very private if you're going to ask me to slip my hand up your skirt."

"We'll save that for our second date. I just need some advice." She took out her purse and opened it. "How much will ten minutes cost me?"

"You really just want to talk?"

Alicia nodded.

"There's no charge for a chat, hon. What d'you need to talk about?"

Alicia took out her phone and opened the photo of Steve. “Do you recognise this guy?”

The woman looked at it and smiled, then nodded. “You’ll be okay with Woody. He’s a nice guy.”

“Sorry?”

She nodded at Steve’s photo on Alicia’s phone. “Him. He’s not rough or anything like that.”

Alicia was too dumbstruck to say anything.

“He likes to talk though,” the woman said with a smile.

Alicia glanced at the photo of Steve, then looked back at the woman she was now certain was Jo-Jo. “His name’s Woody?”

Jo-Jo let out a laugh. “I never ask their real ones, but I give my regulars a name.”

Alicia presumed the stupid nickname was due to Steve’s erections, but Toy Story kept invading her thoughts.

“He likes the numbers,” Jo-Jo confided.

“Numbers?”

“He asks a lot of questions. He likes to hear all about what I do with my other clients, and how many there’ve been.”

“He... what?”

“He wants to know how many men I’ve seen before him, and how many I’ll see after he’s gone.” Jo-Jo shrugged. “There’s nothing wrong with that. If that’s what rings his bell, I’m happy to pull the rope.”

Alicia nodded.

Jo-Jo ran a finger through her hair, which was a lovely colour and shiny. “And he seems quite pre-occupied with size.”

“Size?”

“Yeah. He likes me to describe how it feels when a client with a big cock pushes in.”

“He asked that?”

Jo-Jo giggled. “Don’t knock it. If he wants me to tell him about stuff like that, I’ve got a thousand stories. I call him Woody because when he’s decided what he wants, he’ll ask would he be the first to do it that night.” She held out her hands palms up. “You’ll meet all sorts...”

She thinks I’m a sex worker!

“...and the quicker you work out what each guy wants, the more you’ll get coming back to you again and again.”

Alicia managed to nod and tried desperately not to laugh. “And Woody does that? He comes back again and again?”

“Yeah. And he’s cute.”

“What does he like the most?” she asked, regretting it immediately.

Jo-Jo seemed to think about it, then shook her head. “I think you should ask him that yourself. Guys like different things from different girls.”

Alicia glanced down at the redhead’s impressive cleavage. “Yeah, I can’t compete with those.”

Jo-Jo laughed, then turned serious. “Can I give you a word of advice?”

“Sure.”

“You’re really pretty. You’ve got big eyes and great bone structure, but the men won’t notice. Guys are looking for their wet dream. Trowel on your makeup and use a lot of blusher, even though with those cheekbones you probably don’t need any. Put these stupid spider things on”—she batted her false eyelashes—“and wear lots of eyeshadow. Use bright lipstick they can imagine leaving a red ring around their cock.” She glanced down at Alicia’s legs. “And show those off. Oil them up and wear killer heels. Every car drives past twenty-five women, so make yourself stand out. Make sure you’re the one they want to spend their money on.”

“And what do I do when they pick me up?”

“Listen to them. Read their eyes, their body language. You know they want to shoot their bolt, that’s why they’ve picked you up. Most want something more than that, though they might not know exactly what that something is.” Jo-Jo stared deep into her eyes. “If you can help them find it, they’ll keep coming back for more.”

“Did you help Woody find it?”

Jo-Jo shook her head. “He already knew what he wanted. I just served it up hotter.”

“What about physically? What sort of stuff does he like to do?”

“I think it’d be better if you ask him that. He might want different things from you.”

Now completely off-script, Alicia was making things up as she went along. “I was hoping for some sort of idea of what to expect if I took him up on his offer.”

“He likes to see his cum fly and to splash it over your body. But most of all, he likes you to tell him about satisfying other men.”

Alicia remembered Steve’s reaction from the night before, when she’d told him she was going to make him fuck her after another man had filled her with cum. She nodded, then got back to the interrogation. “And where does he like to shove his dick?”

“Everywhere. He’s plugged all my holes and covered me front and back.”

Woody, you lying bastard! Alicia bit her tongue.

Jo-Jo studied her for a while, then frowned. “If you don’t want that, tell him to keep the rubber on and let him come in there. Knowing Woody, all you’ll have to do is convince him you’re the biggest slut in town. He’ll get off thinking about all the cocks you’ve taken.”

Alicia looked out through the windscreen. The area was run down, with weeds growing through cracks in the pavement. It was depressing. Turning back to Jo-Jo, she sighed. “Why are you helping me? Don’t you see me as competition?”

“There’s enough horny men in this town for all of us, hon. Besides, I’m not going to be doing this for much longer.”

“Oh?”

“I came in with a business plan. I’ll work ’til I’m thirty, then retire a rich woman. You need to set yourself a plan, stick to it and invest your earnings.” She gave a smile. “I’ve worked hard, and I’m good at giving men what they want. I’m already rich enough to retire. Another eleven months and I’m out.” She looked Alicia straight in the eye, a serious expression on her face. “Stay away from drugs and men who want to be your manager, and you’ll do okay.”

“I’m not sure I can—”

“All the guys want is a little fun before they go back to their everyday lives. If you can give them that, then you’re keeping your end of the bargain. If you like them, give them a reason to come back. If you don’t like them, the next time they pull up at the kerb say you have a prior engagement.”

Alicia nodded. "Thank you. You've been really helpful."

Jo-Jo gave her what looked like a genuine smile. "We girls have to look out for each other. Are you new to the area or just starting out?"

"I'm..." She shrugged, wondering whether to be honest and admit why she'd sought her out, then decided there was no need. "I'm thinking about starting out."

Jo-Jo nodded slowly. "Don't undersell yourself. If a man wants you, make sure he pays what you want."

"I've no idea how much to ask for."

"Some of the girls on the street take twenty-five for a blowjob. I charge twice that. If a man wants to stick his dick in my body, he has to pay what I ask."

"How much for intercourse?"

"Seventy-five."

Alicia thought about the money she'd paid Xavier. "That doesn't seem very much."

"It's enough. I own a house nearby and charge an extra fifty to use it. I make a lot of money. I have a client who advises me on investments. I own properties and stocks. I don't do drugs and I don't gamble. There's money to be made for girls who look as good as we do."

Alicia laughed. "Thank you."

"You're welcome." Jo-Jo shrugged. "Maybe if I get asked to bring a friend along, we could double up. Arabs are always asking for two girls."

Alicia laughed, but a trickle of excitement fluttered between her legs. "Yeah, maybe."

Jo-Jo rested her hand on Alicia's arm. "Come on, take me back to the shop window."

Alicia returned her husband's favourite hooker to Lambert Road, returning Jo-Jo's smile as the woman got out to cross the road to her spot.

During the drive home, Alicia reflected on what she'd learned. In some ways, the mission had been a success; she now had a better idea of what Steve got from sex workers. But she'd also learned something else, and it was a crushing blow. Steve had lied to her, or at the very least, he hadn't told her everything. Jo-Jo had said he'd plugged her in every hole and come on her front and back, which was more than he'd admitted to.

These adventures worked on mutual trust. He'd betrayed that trust, which hurt.

When she walked into the kitchen, Steve was sitting at the kitchen table with his phone and a beer.

He smiled at her, then frowned. "I thought you'd gone shopping."

Not ready for a showdown, she simply shrugged. "They didn't have what I wanted. I'll get it from town tomorrow."

"Oh, okay." He went back to reading his phone.

Upstairs, she sank down on their bed, numb, even as her mind flipped between being hurt and being livid. Her stomach was tight and cold. She walked into the bathroom and stared at her reflection for a few seconds, then returned to the bedroom.

She stripped, fast, then chose a black bra and matching thong from her drawer. Then she went to her wardrobe. None of her skirts were as short as the ones she'd seen along Lambert Road, but she picked one that hugged her hips and finished well above the knee. It went nicely with her red silk blouse and heels. In the bathroom she applied more makeup than she'd ever put on, backcombed her hair and applied baby oil to her bare legs. Alicia regarded herself in the mirror; she looked ridiculous, like a parody of a drag queen. Finally, she put her phone and Steve's condoms into a small clutch bag and marched downstairs to the kitchen.

Steve almost choked on his beer as she swept up her car keys. "Alicia?"

She turned.

He looked puzzled, and a little worried. "What's happened?"

She scowled at him. "It's my turn, remember?"

She left without waiting for his reply.

Fifteen minutes later, she locked up her car and began to walk down Lambert Road. Her heart thumped in her chest, and she felt sick. But she knew that if the guy with the Audi turned up, she'd go anywhere he wanted and do anything he asked.

Before she'd gotten as far as the gap in the railings, a car had pulled up at the kerb. It wasn't the Audi, but a white hatchback. Inside was a guy who looked to be in his mid to late fifties. He looked even more nervous than she felt.

"Hello," he said. She saw him swallow. "I was wondering—"

Alicia opened his car door and got in. “Hi. I’m Lily.”

“Lily, hello.” He smiled nervously, “I was wondering if—”

“That’s perfectly...” The guy nodded. “Yes.”

“Okay.” Alicia tried to stop her legs from shaking. “Let’s go.”

The guy pulled away and drove down the street. A lot of the women turned to look, then immediately turned away when they saw there was already someone in the passenger seat. Jo-Jo wasn’t in her spot, probably at her house with a client.

The guy cleared his throat and glanced at her. “I have somewhere we could go, but I’m not sure if it’ll be acceptable.”

“Where?”

“It’s only a couple of miles, but it’s a workshop. Well, a garage. I fix-up classic cars as a hobby.”

“You want to take me to a garage?”

“I thought it’d be somewhere private, but I’ll understand if you find it unacceptable.”

She looked into his eyes. He seemed completely harmless. “Okay.”

The guy gave a grateful smile and drove them into an area she’d never been before. She forced herself to ignore the niggling worry that the guy could be a psycho.

It took just a few minutes to get to a small industrial unit. He pulled up in front of something about the width of a double garage, picked up a remote from his console and pressed a button. The roller door began to rise. His headlights lit the interior. The space was deep—maybe three car lengths—and there were two cars covered with sheets parked against the rear wall. He drove into the wide space in front of them and pressed the button again. The roller door closed behind them and spotlights burst into life.

The man killed the engine. He held out his hand. “I’m Charles, by the way.”

“Hello, Charles.”

He looked around then shrugged. “Is this alright? I wasn’t sure if...” He let out a sigh. “I feel it only fair to tell you I’m not really au fait with this sort of thing. I’m afraid you’re my first foray into...” He closed his eyes and shook his head. “I’m sorry, I talk too much when I’m nervous.”

“It’s fine.” Alicia gave what she hoped was a reassuring smile. She’d come out tonight with the intention of giving herself to whoever, just to get back at Steve. Now, though, she felt an overwhelming duty to provide the service that Charles was expecting. He’d picked her up for one reason, as Jo-Jo had pointed out, and it was her duty to help him achieve that. Though not yet aroused, an undercurrent of anticipation made her tingle. “Why don’t we swap places?”

Charles nodded and they passed each other in front of the bonnet. In her heels, she was only a couple of inches shorter.

Once they were back in his car, she leaned over and stroked his chest. “What is it that you’d like, Charles?”

He stared into her eyes. Words seemed to fail him.

She smiled. “Am I right in thinking you’d like to have sex?”

He swallowed and nodded. “Y... Yes, please.”

“Okay, then.” She leaned closer to his face and smiled while she ran her hand slowly down his wiry body to his belt. “Why don’t you just sit there while I have a look at what’s in here?” She undid his belt and popped the button on his grey trousers. She reached inside and gripped his dick, which was already hard.

Alicia smiled again, trying to look more confident than she felt. Getting a guy who’d had no experience with real sex workers had been a lucky break. She reminded herself this was just sex with a stranger, something she’d done when she was single more often than she liked to admit.

She released his dick from the confines of his white briefs. It was average in size and bent slightly to the right. She gripped it in one hand and stroked his balls with the other for a few seconds before reaching for her purse and taking out a condom. She quickly ripped the foil, placed the rubber on the tip and began to roll it down the shaft.

Charles let out a startled yelp and his body jerked, and she realised he’d come. She quickly pulled the condom off and wanked him, sending two more spurts onto her hands and his trousers. He cried out and shook, then hid his face behind his hands. His shoulders began to shake, and she thought he was actually crying.

“Hey,” she said quietly, now gently rubbing the sticky mess into his shrinking cock.

“I’m so sorry,” he said from behind his hands. “I’m so...” He let out a long, shuddering sigh then moved his hands. “It’s been a while since... And you’re so young and beautiful. I’d hoped...”

Alicia tried to think of something to say. “If it’s any consolation, a handjob is a lot cheaper.” She smiled brightly, making him laugh.

“I’ll pay the full amount,” he assured her, and took out his wallet. He counted out eighty pounds, hesitated, then added another twenty. “Here.”

She looked at the money, shook her head.

“I insist,” he said.

She reached for it but stopped, her hands sticky with cum. Charles noticed and his eyes widened. “Oh, right.” He opened the passenger door, got out and fastened his trousers. Then he walked over to a work bench, picked up a yellow plastic box and returned to the car. Ducking into the open door, he offered it to Alicia. It was a box of industrial wipes. Smiling her thanks, she quickly wiped the mess from her hands. Charles put the box on the workshop floor and climbed back into the passenger seat but left the car door open.

He handed Alicia the money again, and this time she accepted it.

“Thank you,” she said.

Charles took a deep breath, then quietly explained that he’d been happily married for over thirty-five years, and that he and his wife had a daughter who lived in London. Apparently his wife’s libido had taken a dive while his had stayed strong. She’d wanted sex less often as she’d reached menopause, and it had been over two years since she’d allowed him to touch her.

The more he spoke, the more Alicia felt sorry for him. He seemed meek and mild. He said it had taken him months to build up the courage to drive along Lambert Road, and numerous visits before he’d dared to actually stop. He told Alicia again how beautiful she was, and how he’d never imagined any of the women would be as understanding as she was being.

Alicia smiled and squeezed his hand.

“Would you...?” He frowned again and shook his head.

She leaned closer. “Would I what, Charles?”

“I was just wondering if... If I might have another chance. If we could possibly make another appointment, or date, whatever you call them.”

“You want to see me again?”

“Yes, very much so. I want to...” He shrugged one shoulder. “I’d never be able to forgive myself if this was all I ever managed to achieve in my foray into...” He shook his head. “I cannot tell you how ashamed I am.”

Alicia kissed his cheek, which was dry and smelled of coal tar soap. “You have nothing to be ashamed of, and I’d love to see you again.”

“Really?”

She nodded.

“Thank you.”

She ran her hand down his shirt and rested it on his crotch. “Do we actually need to wait until our next date?”

“I...er. Pardon?”

She rubbed his cock through his trousers. “I was wondering if there might be some life left in this.”

“I don’t think... I don’t know if I—”

“Let’s have a look, shall we?” Alicia opened his belt and trousers for a second time. This time his cock wasn’t hard. She ran a finger down the length of it through the cotton of his briefs, then pulled the elasticated waistband down and looked inside. His cock was withered and coated in cum.

“I’m afraid that I may not be...” He sighed. “It’s not a matter of my heart, I assure you, but at my age...”

She laughed. “I don’t think your age is going to stop us, do you?” She leaned down and blew warm air over his cock, then leaned lower and ran her tongue up the sticky length of his shaft.

She felt him twitch, heard his sharp intake of breath. When she got to the end of his cock, she parted her lips and took the tip into her mouth.

Charles shuddered. “Oh... Oh gosh. Lily, I... Oh.”

Alicia started to slowly bob her head, and Charles let out a long breath. She closed her eyes and used her tongue, cupping his balls in her right hand. His dick tasted of cum, and it was getting harder. This guy hadn’t had sex for two years, and he probably hadn’t had sex with anyone but his wife in over thirty-five, if ever.

“Lily, I’m sure...” He was breathless. “I’m sure it’s hard enough now to...”

Alicia released his dick and moved her face close to his. She kissed his mouth, wondering if he could taste his own dick on her lips. "I thought we'd agreed on another date."

"Yes, we have. But I..." He swallowed and shook his head. "I worry that if you continue to do that, I may embarrass myself again."

"I don't want you to embarrass yourself."

"No, that's what—"

"I want you to come in my mouth."

His jaw dropped. Alicia lowered her head and resumed the blowjob, taking him deeper. Charles groaned and whimpered and jerked his hips. Then he lifted himself off the seat.

A hot gush hit the back of her throat. A second gush forced her to swallow. The third she managed to capture and swirl around his cockhead, passing her tongue over the sensitive glans time after time. Charles was still off the seat, his legs shaking. Alicia eventually swallowed and then released his cock, kissing and licking the tip and shaft until Charles lowered himself back down.

She sat up and looked into his face. There were tears in his eyes. He closed them and took steadying breaths through his nose.

When he opened them again, he shook his head. "I don't know what to say. Words wouldn't do it justice."

Alicia smiled. "I'm glad you enjoyed it."

He let out a laugh, but it sounded more like a sob. He took out his wallet again and handed Alicia another wad of cash.

She shook her head. "That's not—"

"I insist. Really." He pushed the money onto her hand and closed his fist around hers so she couldn't let go of the cash. He looked into her eyes. "Please let me see you again."

She nodded. "Just tell me when."

"Any time you're available."

"Tomorrow?"

He nodded eagerly. "Yes please."

"Okay. If you tell me the name of this road, I'll meet you here. Nine o'clock?"

"Wonderful."

Charles dropped her off around the corner from Lambert Road, close to her car. She waited for him to stop thanking her and pull away before finding her keys. Once behind the wheel, her door shut and locked, she counted the cash. There was two hundred pounds.

She'd been paid for performing a sex act.

If it had been hard for Steve to admit he was a cuckold, it should have been even harder for her to admit she'd been a prostitute. But it wasn't. She'd whored herself out and she'd enjoyed it. It had given her a strange sense of control and power that she'd never expected.

And tomorrow night, she was going to do it again.

Chapter 22

When Alicia got home, Steve was in the living room. He stood up but didn't approach, and she felt a little guilty.

"Hi." She walked to the couch and sat down. When she crossed her legs, his eyes wandered down.

"What's happened?"

"You mean while I was out?"

"No, I mean what's happened to make you act like this."

"I thought you wanted me to act like this. I've just had my turn, so now you can go out again. That's how it works, right?"

He looked puzzled, but she could sense his excitement about whatever she'd just done.

Alicia waited for a few seconds, but he didn't say anything. She continued with her planned attack. "I mean, you go out for fresh cunt, then I go out for fresh dick. We take turns to fuck strangers."

"Alicia, why—?"

"We do take turns, don't we Steve? I mean, we're always honest with each other about that. We trust one another, right?"

He started to blink repeatedly, which he always did when he lied. "I like to think we're—"

"I know half of the fun for you is hearing about what I do, so you wouldn't want me to do things and keep them from you, would you?"

"No, of course not."

"And you wouldn't keep things from me. I mean, that's only fair."

He held her gaze for a second, then looked down at his feet, sighing. "I had—"

"It doesn't matter, and I don't care." She shook her head. "Actually, that's not true. It does matter and I do care. I'm hurt and I'm disappointed, but it'll pass. In the meantime..." She stood up and walked toward the door. "In the meantime, I'm going to carry on behaving like a slut. I just won't bother telling you about what I do because you've stopped telling me what you do."

"Alicia!"

Upstairs, she stripped off her slutty clothes and left them in a pile on the bedroom floor, then turned on the shower.

Had she overreacted? Possibly, but his betrayal had hurt. She'd been open with him and felt she had the right to expect the same. What they were doing had all started because of his actions on the stag weekend, but there was no denying that she was starting to get a buzz from it. Xavier had been the pinnacle, but now she was beginning to enjoy taking control with other men.

The guy from the bar had been the turning point, and tonight... Tonight had thrilled her more than she could explain. She'd given Charles something he'd always remember, and tomorrow she'd give him something else to treasure.

As she slowly washed her body, her thoughts returned to Steve and how she'd reacted towards him. Even though he'd lied, she found her anger coming off the boil. Did it matter if he fucked Jo-Jo a few more times than he admitted to? It wasn't as if she got off hearing about his exploits, anyway. That was his need, not hers. And it wasn't as if he'd tried to cheat her out of having her turn. Far from it—he'd been impatient for her to go out again after the bodybuilder in Wales.

It had been a mistake to make such a big deal about him seeing the same woman twice. That sort of behaviour would hardly encourage him to be honest. Now that she'd met Jo-Jo and seen the blonde, she could understand why he'd chosen to go with the former more than once.

Alicia turned off the shower, dried herself and walked through to the bedroom. She briefly considered going downstairs like this and apologising for her behaviour, but instead got into bed naked and waited in the dark for Steve to come and ask his questions. Maybe she'd tell him about how much she'd enjoyed giving an older man a handjob and a blowjob.

She fell asleep before he came to bed.

* * * *

Steven stared at the muted TV without really seeing the images on the screen. He didn't understand what had happened to bring about the change in Alicia. The sex they'd had after his disappointing night with the blonde had been electric. It had been more physical than emotional, but that had felt right at the time. He hadn't wanted to make love to his wife, he'd wanted to fuck the slut who enjoyed taking other guys.

Alicia's reaction to his roughness had made him think she'd enjoyed it, too. She'd never come three times in a single session with him before, and there'd been closeness between them afterwards. She'd even vacuumed his car!

So what had changed?

He closed his eyes, thinking about how she'd dressed. He couldn't remember her ever wearing that skirt with high heels. She'd wear shorts or her denim miniskirt with flat shoes in the summer, and she sometimes wore short skirts with opaque tights. But never with bare legs and heels.

Where had she been tonight? Any woman walking into a pub on her own dressed like that would immediately be seen as someone on the prowl.

The idea of it made him shiver with excitement, but discomfort killed his arousal. She could be putting herself in danger, and if any of their friends saw her dressed like that... There was no way he'd be able to explain that away. Then again, how could he explain his visits to Lambert Road if seen there by their friends?

He checked his watch, surprised to see it was so late. Alicia had been back for over an hour. He was desperate to go and talk to her but knew he'd end up on the losing side. How could she have guessed about his sneaky visit to Jo-Jo before the holiday? Maybe he'd started talking in his sleep.

Another possible explanation occurred to him. He picked up his phone and scrolled through the messages. He was sure he'd deleted the texts between himself and Jo-Jo as soon as he'd received the last one, but now he wondered if Alicia knew of a way to recover deleted texts. Finding no evidence of the deleted messages, Steve put his mobile back down on the coffee table.

All he could do was wait until she confronted him again. It wouldn't be wise to deny his actions. Lying once was bad enough. Somehow, Alicia knew what he'd done, and he had to accept the consequences of his deceit.

It was almost one in the morning by the time he went to bed. He checked on the kids, adjusting Brad's quilt that he'd managed to kick off, then slipped quietly into bed. He lay still and listened. Alicia's breathing was steady and quiet. He was sure she was asleep. Inching closer, he placed his leg against hers. She didn't kick it away. He waited a few more seconds, then moved his body closer to spoon her from behind. His chest touched bare skin rather than the cotton vest she usually wore. He placed his hand on her hip. There were no panties. Alicia was completely naked, which was something she usually only did when she wanted sex.

He held his breath. In spite of his trepidation, his cock began to swell. Lying as still as he could, he tried to work out her motive. Was it to tease him even more? Had she been expecting him to make a pass so she could slap him down and put him in his place? Despite this possibility, his cock was getting harder. He turned to face the other way. Prodding her awake with his erection would not be a wise move. He closed his eyes and tried to imagine where she'd been earlier, and what she'd done.

Steven slept fitfully and woke early. He got up and took a shower, then went downstairs and made himself coffee and Alicia a cup of tea. The kids were still sound asleep, so he tiptoed into the bedroom and placed Alicia's tea on her bedside drawers.

She opened her eyes and smiled. "Thank you."

He nodded, then waited to see if she was going to say anything else.

Alicia stared at him for a few seconds, then sat up. The quilt slid down to her waist. Her naked breasts looked pert and perfect. He tried to avoid glancing at them.

"I'm sorry if I was a bit abrupt last night," she said.

Steven took a breath, then decided to wait. He gave a shrug that he hoped suggested she had good reason to be abrupt.

"What we're doing is only going to work if we're honest with each other," she said.

"I know, and I'm sorry for not—"

"It doesn't matter now. But I think I deserve better. I let you do your thing, and I tell you about what I do because we both know how much you get out of it."

"I know, and as I said—"

“You can fuck who you want when you want. If that’s how you want it, do it. But we’re not made of money, so you need to bear that in mind.”

“I don’t want to—”

“And if you’re doing that, then so will I. But the five-question thing is over. You don’t tell me what you do, so I don’t feel obliged to tell you what I do.”

This wasn’t what he wanted, and he shook his head.

“Don’t worry,” she said. “When I’m in the mood, I’ll tell you enough stuff to get your pecker up.”

“I don’t need anything to—”

“No, I know. But sometimes I don’t want you to make love to me. Sometimes I want you to use me like you did the other night, and the way I get that is to feed you information about my dates.”

His chest tightened, and he nodded.

“Speaking of dates,” she said, picking up her tea. “I’m going out again tonight.”

It was his turn, but he didn’t point that out. He stared at her and kept his lips tightly closed.

“And if I’m in the mood...” She ran her free hand down to her breast and stroked her nipple. “I might tell you about it when I get back.”

What about last night? Again, Steven held his tongue. He glanced around the bedroom. Her clothes from last night were still on the floor, including the red stilettos she hadn’t worn in years. He looked back into her eyes.

Alicia was smiling. She’d seen him looking—it was probably why she’d left them there.

Before he had a chance to say anything more, the door opened and Isla walked in. She smiled at her dad and climbed into bed with her mum, who’d already pulled the quilt up to hide her boobs.

Steven said, “I need to make like a shepherd.”

Alicia smiled and finished his line. “Yeah, get the flock out of here.”

Relieved that they seemed to be okay again, he left the bedroom.

* * * *

Alicia fed the kids and made herself some toast and another cup of tea. She now regretted her behaviour from last night, even though she'd had good reason to be angry. Tonight, she'd make it up to him when she got back from her date with Charles. Now that Jo-Jo had told her what really pushed her husband's buttons, maybe she'd be able to give both men something special to remember.

The great weather had finally broken. It was drizzling outside so the kids watched TV, then played with their toys on the rug. Maddie texted, offering to have Isla and Brad for a sleepover sometime so that she and Steve could have a free night for shenanigans. Alicia replied with a thumbs-up and asked if she was ready for school to start the following week.

Maddie's reply was short and to the point: I can't fucking wait! Alicia laughed.

She thought about her upcoming evening, and about the lonely guy from the pub. Could she trust what he'd said about getting regular tests? She was pretty good at reading people and felt sure he'd been telling her the truth. It was important; her plan depended on it. Tonight she was going to fuck Charles bareback, and then she'd drive home and let Steve see the mess inside her. And she was going to show him exactly what a slut he'd married.

When Steve arrived home, he still had the haunted look of a guy who knew he'd done wrong. He smiled and answered her usual questions about his day, but she sensed a reticence.

After dinner, they took their coffee into the living room rather than the patio because the rain hadn't let up all day. They made small talk about the kids and what they'd been doing, but neither mentioned the previous night. He didn't ask what she'd done on her date, or what had made her suspect him of his clandestine meeting with Jo-Jo.

She decided to put him on the backfoot. "Will you be okay bathing the kids on your own? I'll need to get ready for my date."

His eyes widened and he nodded mutely.

"I'm seeing the guy I saw last night. He seemed eager for a second shot, so I thought, why not?" She smiled sweetly. "Like you said, if the first time is enjoyable, why not go back for more?"

Steve took a breath, then nodded. They both knew he'd never win this argument.

Alicia took both their cups into the kitchen, then went upstairs to get ready, replicating her makeup from the previous night. She chose the same short skirt, a dark grey stretchy top, and black patent stilettos. She didn't bother putting on a bra or panties, though she did put the latter into her handbag. She'd need a way of keeping Charles' cum inside her during the drive home.

Alicia called goodbye to Steve on her way out of the door, not wanting him to see the way she'd dressed until she returned home.

Finding Charles' garage was easy enough. When she pulled up outside, he climbed out of his white hatchback and smiled at her. She walked over to him, thankful that the rain had finally stopped.

"Hi," she said.

He looked nervous and excited and happy, all rolled into one. He had the door remote in his hand, held it up and pressed the button. "Tonight, I have a surprise."

Before the door was fully open, he ducked inside and flicked on the lights. Alicia stared into the garage. In the middle of the floorspace was a two-door sportscar with an incredibly long bonnet. It was pearl white with shiny chrome bumpers. There was no roof, and the spoked wheels sparkled in the spotlights. She realised this was one of the cars that had been covered with a sheet.

Alicia shook her head. "It's amazing."

He took her hand, led her inside and pressed the remote to close the door behind them. "It's a 1966 E-Type Jaguar," he informed her proudly, "Series 1. Only thirty-three thousand were made."

Alicia walked to the car and marvelled at it. The paintwork was highly polished, the dashboard walnut and the seats red leather. "Did you buy it like this?"

"Oh no." Charles ran a hand lovingly along the top of the windscreen. "When I bought it, the poor thing had been rather neglected."

"And you fixed it up?"

He gave a shy smile. "I restored it to its former glory."

"It must have taken a long time."

"Almost three years."

"Wow!" Alicia looked at the car again, then up at the lights on the ceiling. "Can you turn off all the lights except the one over this?"

Charles nodded, then walked over to the set of switches and flicked a couple. The rest of the workshop fell into darkness and the E-Type seemed to grow brighter. It looked almost unearthly, like something from the future. It was hard to believe this car was fifty-five years old.

She took out her phone. "Could I take a couple of photos of it? I've never seen a car like this up close before."

"Of course."

"I'll avoid the numberplate to keep it anonymous," she assured him.

"No need, it hasn't got one on yet. I'm having some pressed metal ones made."

Alicia snapped several pictures, walking around the car to cover all the angles.

Charles waited until she'd walked around the whole car, then held out his hand. "Would you like me to take a picture of you with the car?"

Alicia nodded and handed him the phone. Then she stood in her slutty clothes and tart's makeup by the side of the car while he took pictures. On impulse, she pulled up her top to reveal her breasts.

Charles lowered the phone and stared at her.

Alicia tilted her head to one side. "Is this one too much?"

"Oh no. It's incredible. I just wasn't sure if you'd want me to take a picture of you like that."

"It's my phone, so only I'll have the photos."

"Ah yes, of course." Charles looked at the screen and snapped a few more shots.

What the hell. Alicia inched up her skirt. The phone clicked repeatedly as he captured her showing a lot more thigh than she had when she first walked into the garage. She gripped the hem and dragged it up to her waist on one side, the cool air against her uncovered sex more exhilarating than she'd expected.

Charles' jaw dropped, but he kept taking pictures. Alicia stood with her top rolled up to her neck and her skirt rolled up to her waist as the man who was about to fuck her took photo after photo. Then she turned around, placed her feet a step apart and slowly bent over, resting her hands on the top of the door. She rocked her arse from side to side for a few seconds as the phone continued to click, then turned around and smiled at him.

Charles lowered the phone, his face flushed. "I'll take a couple of you sitting in the car, if you like."

Alicia adjusted her clothes and walked around to the driver's side. The steering wheel was much bigger than she was used to. She gripped it and smiled up at Charles as he took a few pictures. For her last trick, she walked around to the passenger door, hoisting her skirt up along the way, opened the door, and sat side-on to the passenger seat, keeping her left leg straight. She bent her right, carefully resting her stiletto on the edge of the door sill, then dropped her bended knee to the side, exposing her sex. Charles' final photo was a shot right between her legs, taken from only a couple of feet away.

"Thank you." She held out her hand, and he passed back her phone. She got out of the car to return her phone to her handbag. She licked her lips. "Are we allowed to sit in your car and...?"

He nodded. "As a child, I used to fantasise about having sex in a car like this."

"If that's what you want to do, it'll be fine with me."

Charles took out his wallet and passed her a wad of tenners. "This is for you."

Alicia frowned as she counted out fifteen notes. "This is twice as much as we agreed."

"It's fine. I..." He gave a nervous shrug. "Last night was twice as good as I'd ever dreamed. Money is just a number, and it's not an issue."

"Sit in the car, Charles." She put the cash to one side while she waited for him to get into the passenger seat, then pulled off her top and rolled off her skirt. Now naked apart from her shoes, she stepped close to the open door. He stared wide-eyed at her. The garage floor was stained with oil and covered in a fine layer of debris. "I should probably take off my heels. I don't want to scratch the interior of your—"

"No, it'll be fine. Please, leave them on."

Alicia smiled and crouched down next to the car to undo his belt and zip. He lifted himself up a little so she could pull everything down to his thighs. His cock was hard, the tip already slick with precum. She carefully climbed into the car, swinging her left leg over his and settling onto his lap. The feeling of his trousers against her bare thighs and bum made her tingle.

She looked into his eyes. "Last night—"

“Yes, I’m so sorry—”

She pressed her finger to his hips. “Shhh. Last night, I was going to use a condom.”

He nodded, his eyes wide above the painted nail still pressed against his mouth.

“But tonight, I don’t want there to be any barrier between us.”

He was hyperventilating.

She removed her finger and leaned in to kiss him on the lips. After a couple of gentle pecks, he returned the kiss. She slipped her tongue into his mouth, then pulled her head back to look into his eyes again.

“Would it be okay with you if I took you inside me without protection?”

He nodded eagerly.

“I’m ninety-nine percent certain I don’t have an STD, but I don’t want to force—”

“It’s fine,” he said. “I’ll take the risk.” He swallowed. “I assume pregnancy isn’t a concern?”

“No.” She looked down at his cock and gripped it in her hand. “I just want to feel it like this. And I want to feel you come in me.”

His eyes seemed to lose focus for a minute. “I can pay you more.”

“No.” She laughed and kissed him again. “Like you said, money’s not an issue. Tonight’s about fantasies. You’ve fantasised about having sex in a car like this, and I’ve spent the entire day fantasising about having you come inside me.”

Charles’s breathing seemed to stop. She held his dick upright, raised up and then slowly impaled herself. His breath came out in a long sigh, and she gripped his head and began to ride him. It felt good, and knowing he was going to come inside her gave her an added thrill. She pushed her tongue into his mouth again and rode his cock. His hands slid round to her bum cheeks and his fingers dug into her flesh.

She pulled her head back and watched his face when she felt the first tremors of her orgasm. She wanted him to see that she was getting pleasure. “Oh, Charles.” She fluttered her eyelashes and opened her mouth. She was exaggerating her reactions, but the orgasm was real. “Oh...” She rocked faster and her orgasm hit. She felt her contractions and, from his shocked expression, so did he.

He pushed up and grunted, and she felt his cock twitch. He unloaded inside her, and she screamed and moaned and bounced on his cock, probably in a way his wife had never done in their thirty-five years together.

When she finally stilled, she opened her eyes and looked at him. Charles' face was a picture. Before he had the chance to say anything, she climbed off him and stepped out of the car to collect her cash and redress. "I need to go."

He nodded, shaky hands tugging up his trousers. "Right, yes. I... I..." He gave a shocked smile. "Thank you."

She laughed and stepped close, running a finger down his cheek. "Thank you."

"Could we...? Can I see you again?"

Alicia retrieved her phone, unlocked it, and handed it over. "Put your mobile number in and send yourself a blank text."

Once she was ready, Charles opened the door, still smiling. "I'm going to stay a while. I need to get my breath back and gather myself before I go home."

"Good idea. I'll text you about meeting up next week." Once back in her car, Alicia pulled on her panties, started her car and headed home.

Steve was sitting in the living room when she walked in. He turned off the TV and looked at her, his eyes taking in her outfit.

"Hi," she said, dropping her bag onto the couch.

He seemed to make a point of running his eyes down her body, then looked back into her eyes. "How was your evening?"

"It was very pleasant, thank you."

She saw him chew his lip briefly. He took a breath, then sat back in his chair. "Have you been fucked again tonight?"

She hesitated. "I'm not sure."

"What?"

"I was on top, so was I fucked or was he?"

Steve shook his head. "I'm not sure there's any—"

"Which do you prefer?"

He blinked, then shrugged. "I suppose it depends on how it feels at the time."

Alicia laughed. "Not for you, silly. I mean which do you like to think about when I'm out on a date? Do you like the idea of me on my back getting fucked by another man, or do you prefer me on top riding his cock?”

Steve seemed to think about it for a second, then shook his head. “I like both.”

“Hmm, me too.” She walked over to the door, then turned to look at him over her shoulder. His eyes were on her legs and shoes. “Come upstairs, I’ve got something to show you.”

Without waiting, she walked out into the hall and started up the stairs. Steve came out of the living room before she’d made it to the fourth tread. She walked into the bedroom and turned to wait for him. “Take your clothes off and lie on the bed.”

Steve complied, which wasn’t a surprise. His dick was semi-hard and wet with precum. Alicia closed the bedroom door so they didn’t wake the kids, took off her top, then rolled her skirt and panties down in one go.

She stepped to the foot of the bed and let him look at her. “This is what I looked like when I fucked him.”

Steve’s only response was his Adam’s apple moving.

“He asked me to keep my shoes on.”

Steve nodded.

“Shall I keep my shoes on for you?”

“Are you going to fuck me?”

She shook her head. “No. You’re going to want to fuck me.”

He smiled. “Am I?”

Alicia straddled his waist, kneeling up. “I think you’ll be eager to fuck me when you learn that you’ll be getting sloppy seconds.”

“I’ve had sloppy seconds before.”

She ran her hand down her body to her sex. “Not this sloppy, you haven’t.” She pumped two fingers inside until they made a squelching sound, then she spread them in front of his face. They were covered in goo, thick strings of cum draped between them.

Steve looked stunned. “He came inside you?”

Alicia held his gaze but didn’t answer. Instead, she wiped the gooey mess from her hand over the tip of his cock then started to wank him.

“Why on Earth did you let him come inside you?”

“Because I wanted to give you something special.” She leaned down and ran her tongue over his cum-slicked cock. “And I wanted to give my date something special.”

Steve was shaking his head. "Letting him do that was irresponsible."

"Yeah, yeah, yeah." She swung her leg back over his body and lay down on her own side of the bed next to him. "In that case, we should just go to sleep." She turned her head and smiled at him. "I mean, I'm okay. I've already had sex."

Steve rolled up onto his side and up on his elbow. He glowered at her. "Are you going to admit it was irresponsible?"

She shook her head. "Are you going to flush his cum out with your own?"

He held her gaze but she knew she'd won; his eyes burned with lust.

Alicia bent her legs and let them drop open, the heels of her shoes facing each other.

He mounted her and pushed in with force, making her cry out. He pulled half out and then pushed in again, and she felt the warm wetness ooze out onto her inner thigh.

Alicia scratched his arms. "Can you feel it?"

He nodded and let out a groan.

"Does it feel good?"

He raked his fingers down her sides and fucked her harder.

"Does it feel good knowing that another man's been there before you? Knowing he's already stretched and creamed me up while you were waiting your turn?"

Steve was breathing through his nose. He scowled at her. She wasn't sure if he liked her talking like this or not, but she didn't care. Jo-Jo said he liked the numbers, so that's what she was going to give him.

"I've never had two men come in me on the same night before, but this won't be the last time. Maybe I'll have two men come inside me on my next date. Think how messy it'll be for you to go in third."

Steve banged her harder still.

She smiled. Time to push him over the edge. "I loved him coming in me, but his dick was only the same size as yours. Next time I'm going to get a guy with a really big cock." She licked her lips. "I want it to hurt when he pushes in, and I want to feel it bang against my loft door on every thrust. But most of all, I want him to shoot his spunk so far into my body that it takes hours to dribble back out."

Steve gripped her hair and pinned her head to the pillow, then raised himself up on straight arms and slammed into her so hard that it made the headboard bang against the wall. He fucked her with an intensity she'd never known.

Jo-Jo had told her to show him she was the biggest slut in town, and she was enjoying playing that role. "Come on, blow your muck and flush his spunk out."

Steve's eyes rolled back, and his cock lurched inside her. Alicia closed her eyes and clenched around it, milking him by rolling her hips. She hadn't managed to come, but she didn't care. This felt like mission accomplished.

Chapter 23

Steven lay in the dark while Alicia slept peacefully beside him. He was still a little shellshocked. He couldn't believe she'd let the guy come inside her, but even more unbelievable was what had happened in bed. He'd always loved sex with Alicia, but tonight had been on a different level. Not so much what she'd done, but the way she'd acted. He was no prude, but some of the things she'd said had stunned him. Saying she wanted to get two guys to come in her next time gave him a thrill he was too embarrassed to acknowledge, even to himself. And as for wanting a guy with a big dick to fuck her hard and come inside her...

He slipped out of bed, went downstairs and poured himself a glass of orange juice. He sat at the kitchen table without turning on the lights and tried to understand what had happened to Alicia since the weekend. It was as if someone had flicked a switch inside her head. It was scary, but the scariest thing of all was how much he liked this new version of her.

There was a silhouette at the door. Alicia was leaning against the jamb, watching him.

"I couldn't sleep," he explained.

She came into the kitchen and sat in the chair opposite. "I thought I'd worn you out."

He laughed. "You did. But only my body."

"What's on your mind?"

"Everything. I'm scared that I've fucked things up between us. I'm scared this is all getting out of control, that we're taking too many risks. But most of all I'm scared because I like what we're doing."

"Why do you think you've fucked things up?"

He sighed. "I met Jo-Jo and didn't tell you about it."

"Why did you feel the need to do that?"

"I don't know. I just wanted..." He shook his head. "I was selfish, and I thought I'd be able to get away with it."

She was silent for a few seconds, then nodded.

“I’m really sorry,” he whispered. It was too dark to read her eyes.

“Is that why you think it’s getting out of control? Because you felt the need to go behind my back?”

“Partly that, yeah. I should have had more self-control. But...” He knew he had to mention it. “I think you’re getting a little out of control, too.”

“How am I doing that?”

“You’re taking risks. The last couple of times you’ve gone out, you’ve dressed to make it obvious you’re trying to pick guys up.” He sighed. “This is where we live. You could have been seen by anyone whose kids go to the same school as Isla. You could have been seen by her teachers, or our friends.”

She was silent, and he got the impression she knew what else he considered a risk.

“And,” he said, “you let a total stranger come inside you.”

“He wasn’t a total stranger.”

Steven’s stomach seemed to drop away. Images of Oggie fucking his wife flashed through his mind. “What do you mean? Who was he?”

“I’d seen him the night before, so he wasn’t a total stranger. It was our second date.”

Relief coursed through him, and he let out a little snort of laughter. “You know what I mean.”

“I let you come inside me on our first date.” Her voice was teasing.

“Yes, you did.” He smiled. “I was prepared to wait for the second date, but you insisted.”

“Hmm. Well, with my date, I made him wait until our second time. Doesn’t that show that you were special?”

He shook his head. “Not really. I know how many one night stands you’d had before we met.”

“Ah, great memories. Anyway, I did it for you.”

“You did what for me?”

“Let him come inside me. I saw the way you reacted after I mentioned you sliding into a hole full of another man’s cream.”

He briefly considered whether to deny it, then nodded. “I thought we were just talking fantasies.”

“Tell me you didn’t enjoy fucking me with his cum there.”

He opened his mouth but couldn't say the words.

"Tell me you don't want to do it again."

"I... You have to think about—"

"On the first night, I had him come in my mouth."

"You what?"

"He came as I rolled on the condom. He was humiliated, and I felt sorry for him. So I gave him a blowjob."

Steven reeled, but at the same time images of Alicia with a cock in her mouth flashed through his mind.

"Are you angry or aroused, Steve?"

"I'm..." He let out a long shuddering breath. "Both."

"I sucked his dick to get him hard enough to try again, but then I didn't want to stop." She ran her bare foot up his calf. "He was making all sorts of noises, and I felt this overwhelming sense of power. I wanted to give him something special."

"You could have fitted another condom and fucked him. That would have been special enough."

She shook her head. "Not for me." Her foot moved higher up his leg. "And now I'm wondering if you want me to suck your dick like I sucked his."

Before he could answer, the sole of her soft foot pressed against the erection in his boxers. He hated himself for being so weak but was secretly proud to be hard again after such a powerful orgasm just an hour or so earlier.

Alicia smiled. "Are you going to take me to bed, or do you want me to drop onto my hands and knees and suck you under the table?"

"There's no need to—"

"Let's pretend we're at a dinner party with friends," she said, pushing her foot rhythmically against his cock. "There are six of us sitting at a big table in a nice house. The only light is from the candelabra."

Steven watched her silhouette, wishing now that he'd turned the light on so he could read her expression.

"We're all dressed up for the occasion," she continued. "The men in dinner suits, and the ladies in long dresses, sexy shoes and pretty makeup. Someone suggests a game where the women have to go beneath the table and pleasure the men with their mouths. The men don't know which woman they'll get."

Alicia pushed her chair back and disappeared beneath the kitchen table. He felt her between his thighs and leaned back a little. Her hand snaked into his boxers and found his cock, making him shiver.

She ran her thumb over the tip. "So, you're sitting at the table, and you feel hands undo your trousers. You have no idea who it is. It could be me, or it could be one of my friends. You feel hot breath on your cock, and then you feel a warm mouth." Alicia pushed her head forward and he was enveloped in wet heat.

He closed his eyes and let out a sigh.

She released him and squeezed the base of his shaft, pumping and twisting her hand. "You're enjoying the blowjob so much you don't actually care who it is. But then you notice your friends are also breathing a little heavier, and a thought occurs to you." Alicia sucked him again, this time sending his cock all the way into her throat. She bobbed her head as Steven gripped the edge of the table.

She pulled back and resumed pumping her hand. "You realise that if it isn't me sucking your dick, then I must be sucking one of your friends. While you're watching the enjoyment on your friends' faces, I'm working one of their cocks with my mouth. But then your dick's released, and you sense the women moving around under the table. We're changing places. Another mouth closes around your dick, and your friends' expressions tell you they're getting the same. So now you might have had two new girls sucking your dick, and I might have had two new dicks in my mouth. You just don't know."

Another bout of sucking ensued. She spent a couple of minutes pleasuring him before she stopped to continue her story.

"But what you men don't know," she whispered, "is that us girls had decided that once the first guy comes, everything stops. There's only one winner, and that's the girl who makes the man come first." Alicia wanked him faster. "And you know how competitive I can be. You're enjoying the sensation of your dick being sucked, but the guy opposite you is shaking and breathing hard. All of a sudden he cries out, and the warm, soft mouth around your dick moves away. You watch your friend shudder and moan, and somehow you just know that it's my mouth he's flooding."

Steven held his breath. He felt her tongue lick his tip, her lips kiss it, and then he was back in her mouth. She pushed all the way down onto him and he knew her story was over. He pictured Oggie at the dinner party, his face contorting while Alicia blew his cock and his mind. He imagined seeing his friend's excitement as she teased him towards climax, and his euphoria as she took him over the edge then sucked him completely dry.

Alicia moaned with his first spurt. He held her head in place and jerked his hips, and she gagged and swallowed furiously as he pumped more into her mouth. She didn't let up until he was completely spent.

Eventually she released him and tucked his cock back into his boxers. "Do you think you'll be able to sleep now?"

He laughed, pushed his chair back and helped her up off her knees. She moved close and kissed him tentatively on the lips. He got the impression she was testing him, seeing how he'd react to her cummy mouth. He gripped the hair on each side of her head and pulled her close, forcing his tongue between her lips.

Alicia moaned and kissed him back, sliding her tongue against his. He could taste cum but didn't care. Just as he was getting breathless, she pulled back with a smile, then held his hand and led him upstairs.

"What happened next at the dinner party?" he asked, once they were lying in bed.

"We ladies sat back in our chairs and returned to our previous conversation." She pushed her leg against his. "The man who'd got to come looked around at the ladies in turn but hadn't a clue which of us had swallowed his stuff. But when you caught my eye, my smile told you that it had been me."

He slipped his arm around her. "I quite like that story."

"What makes you think it's just a story?" She blew warm breath into his ear. "I went to a lot of dinner parties before we met."

Steven pulled her close. "You're such a slut."

"I know. That's why you love me."

Alicia had mixed emotions about the school holidays coming to an end. She'd enjoyed spending time with both kids and having lazy lie-ins.

Now it was back to getting up early to get the kids fed, washed, dressed and out the door by eight-thirty.

Steve hadn't mentioned going out on another date for over a week, but now she was getting impatient for her own fun. One evening after they'd got the kids to sleep, she suggested he go out.

He looked surprised. "Is that what you want?"

"No, but I have another date later this week and it is your turn."

"You have another date with the same guy as before?"

She nodded. "Is that a problem?"

"I don't know. Is it?"

She couldn't be certain, but thought he'd used the same words she had when he'd admitted to seeing Jo-Jo twice. She smiled sweetly. "Not for me."

His eyes narrowed. "Are you going to let him come inside you again?"

A warm glow developed between her legs. "Do you want me to?"

He held her gaze for a second but didn't answer.

Alicia was enjoying his turmoil. "It's entirely up to you, Steve. I'll make him wear a condom if you want me to."

He glanced down at the floor, then back into her eyes. He shook his head. "I don't see the point of a condom if he's come in you already."

She nodded. "He's been faithful to his wife for over thirty-five years. That's why I let him go in bare."

"How old is he?"

"Not too old, obviously."

Steve nodded but didn't say anything.

"So, are you going out tonight?"

"I feel like you're forcing me to."

"No, I'm not. If you're not bothered, I'm happy for you to stay in. Just don't whinge on Thursday when I go out."

Without another word, Steve got up and went upstairs. Five minutes later he was back wearing a clean shirt and smelling of aftershave. "Right," he said. "I'm going out for a shag."

She laughed. "Have fun."

He gave a smile and left. Alicia poured herself a glass of wine and watched Masterchef on her laptop until Steve got back an hour and a half later.

“So,” she said, as he handed her a refill. “How was your whore?”

He laughed. “She was cheap and filthy, thanks for asking.”

“Was it Jo-Jo again?”

“No.” He shook his head. “I did look for her, but she wasn’t there. I chose someone else.”

“Well, she might be there next time.”

He took a gulp of his beer, seeming to wait for her to ask for more details.

Alicia smiled. “The question-and-answer thing’s in the past, Steve. I’m not going to mention your evening again.”

There was a hint of resigned disappointment in his expression, but he simply nodded.

“I think I might take my wine up and have a quick bath before bed.”

“Okay. I’ll see what’s on telly.”

Alicia saw Charles again on Thursday evening. They used his garage and his other classic car, a 1971 Porche that still needed a lot of work. The bodywork was a rough, dull grey which he called primer, and there were numerous patches of paler grey all over it, which was apparently filler.

Charles requested she lie on the bonnet while he stood on the floor and fucked her, though he didn’t use that language. Alicia happily obliged, and even posed for a few more photos wearing just her shoes. After several minutes on the bonnet, she stood up and rested her hands on the bumper while he fucked her from behind. She was in this position when he came inside her. When she got home, Steve took her in exactly the same position while she braced herself on the seat of his armchair.

Over the following couple of months, they settled into a routine. The start of the new football season meant that Steve was now playing every Sunday morning and training every Tuesday evening. They limited their dates to one every three or four weeks, with Steve going out on a Thursday and Alicia on a Friday.

By the start of November, Steve had been out on three more dates and Alicia had been on four. Two were with Charles—one of them during a morning when Brad was at nursery—but the other two men who'd picked her up on Lambert Road had both fucked her in their cars while wearing condoms. She didn't actually like the first guy, but he'd lasted a long time and she'd managed to come. The second seemed much nicer but had come in less than a minute. She and Steve often had sex after her dates, though she only divulged very scant details.

He still thought she met men in bars.

One morning in the school playground, Maddie reminded Alicia of her offer to have the kids for a sleepover, and they settled on the upcoming weekend.

That evening, after she and Steve had bathed the kids, she told him about it. "Maddie thought we could go out to dinner."

"Yeah, that'd be nice."

Alicia watched him, waiting to see if he was going to say anything more. The kids were engrossed in the TV and their snack of biscuit and milk before bed. "I thought," she said, "that maybe we could both go out on a date."

His eyebrows went up. "What, together?"

"God, no. You can go out and find someone, and so will I. Then we can come home and spend the whole night discussing what we'd got up to."

"Is that what you want to do?"

She shrugged. "I'm just mentioning it as an option. We can go out to dinner and come home and make sweet love. Or..." She leaned close to whisper, so the kids didn't overhear. "We could go out and fuck strangers then come home and fuck each other."

Steve stared at her. "I think I like Plan B the most."

She smiled. This was her preferred option, too.

While Steve dropped the kids off at Maddie and Tom's late on Saturday afternoon, Alicia prepared for her date, looking forward to choosing from the new slutty outfits she'd bought with her earnings. She used less blusher and foundation than Jo-Jo had advised, but still applied a lot of mascara and an extra-shiny lip-gloss. For a change, she decided to pin her hair up, leaving tendrils hanging down either side of her face.

From her expanded wardrobe, she selected a mid-blue Lycra miniskirt and a black lacy top over black underwear. She put on a pair of dark blue peep-toed heels and a fur-lined denim jacket because it was now too cold at night to stand around in just a skimpy top.

Since Steve still preferred not to see what she was wearing until she got home, he took his shower while she got ready. She shouted her goodbye from the landing and left.

Alicia knew she'd have to find an alternative parking spot tonight because Steve might drive past the shops and see her car. Leaving the car by the dilapidated garages was a no-go. It'd get either nicked or vandalised. She resorted to finding a space on one of the nearby side roads, which meant it took longer than usual to walk to her usual spot. Lambert Road seemed much busier than it was on a Friday night. A couple of the other girls nodded as she walked past, and she smiled in return at the now familiar faces. Taking up a position near the black railings, she slipped a mint into her mouth and waited. She saw the black Audi when it was a hundred yards away and hoped it didn't stop to pick up any of the other girls first. As it got closer, Alicia stepped closer to the kerb.

The Audi pulled in and the tinted side window slid down. The good-looking guy gave her a smile. "Please tell me you've not got a prior engagement this time?"

She smiled and shook her head. "No, tonight I'm available."

"Great. Would you care to accompany me back to my hotel for a couple of hours?"

Alicia smiled. "I'd love to." She opened the door. "I'm Lily, by the way."

He smiled and held out his hand. "Jacob. I'd hoped we would meet again."

"Me too." As she stepped into the car, she saw his eyes rake over her long legs. A shiver ran through her.

Steven approached Lambert Road from the opposite direction to usual in the hope of seeing Jo-Jo first. By coming this way, he wouldn't need to turn around to drive past the other women to find a back-up if she wasn't available. He hadn't seen her at all since their sneaky lunchtime session and hadn't dared send her a text in case Alicia did know a way of retrieving deleted messages.

Jo-Jo was standing in her regular spot. Steven's cock twitched. He'd missed her, especially the little stories. When he pulled up opposite, she smiled and walked towards him, crossing the road to get into the passenger seat. "Hey, handsome. Long time, no see."

Steven nodded. "Yeah, you seem to have been otherwise engaged every time I've been here."

She flashed her big brown eyes. "I'll describe some of the highlights, if you like."

He laughed. "That sounds like a good way to spend my night." He put the car in gear and moved off. Approaching the far end, he saw a big, black SUV at the kerb on the opposite side of the road. As he drove past, he saw the woman the guy was talking to. He braked suddenly, throwing Jo-Jo forward against her seatbelt.

He turned his head and stared back at the SUV, now fifteen yards behind them. His heart crashed in his chest. The woman was wearing clothes he didn't recognise, but she was definitely Alicia.

Jo-Jo was peering over her shoulder and through the back window. "See something you like, hon?"

Steven couldn't answer.

"She'll be okay with that guy."

"What?" He turned and stared at Jo-Jo. "You know him?"

She nodded. "He cruises every month or so. Lives down south and comes to town on business."

Alicia was now in the guy's car.

"He always rents a suite in a fancy hotel, so she'll enjoy the luxury of that." Jo-Jo leaned closer to whisper in Steven's ear. "And that's not all she'll enjoy. He's got one of those big cocks that you like to hear all about."

He turned, astonished she thought he'd want to hear this. "I need you to get out of the car."

Jo-Jo looked like she'd been slapped. "What?"

The SUV pulled away from the kerb and started to drive away.

"Please, just get out of the car, I need to catch up with..." He let out a sigh.

"She's my wife."

Jo-Jo's eyes went wide, but then she laughed out loud. "Oh, baby!" She shook her head and clapped her hands. "That's classic."

Why was she so surprised he was married? "Jo-Jo, please. I can pay you for..." He reached for his wallet, but she placed her hand on his arm.

"It's okay. There's nothing to pay for tonight."

"I promise I'll make it up to you next time."

She gave him another wide smile. "We'll see about that. Have fun."

The moment she was safely back on the pavement, Steven did a hasty three-point turn in the road, then accelerated after the SUV, which was no longer in sight.

At the end of Lambert Road, Steven looked left and right. No Audi taillights. Jo-Jo had said the guy always booked a fancy hotel, so Steven took a gamble and turned left towards the centre of town.

Pieces of the puzzle fell into place as he drove. The slutty clothes Alicia had started going out in, the way she talked and acted during sex. When he'd assumed she'd been getting chatted up in pubs, she was actually selling her body as a sex worker. His stomach was knotted so tight he felt sick, but another sensation lower down replaced the shock and anger he should have felt with something far more dangerous.

He was enthralled.

As a set of traffic lights up ahead changed to green, Steven saw the SUV turn left. He heaved a sigh of relief that he'd caught up and signalled to join the filter lane. From a discreet distance, he saw the SUV indicate right and turn into a hotel.

When he pulled into the entrance, the barrier wouldn't open. A large poster helpfully informed him of the secure number plate recognition system in operation. He looked around desperately. Unwilling to abandon his car right outside the main entrance, he reversed out and parked at the side of the road. Doubting that the guy would take a scantily clad woman through the main reception, Steven jogged back into the car park, hoping to catch them up before they reached a side entrance.

It was the clicking of high heels that he heard first, then his wife's laughter. He rushed around the corner and had to stop suddenly to avoid a collision. The guy's hand was resting on the small of Alicia's back. Her eyes widened.

"Hi, er..." He ran his hand through his hair, suddenly not sure what he was going to say.

The guy gave him a friendly smile. "Can we help you? Lost your cardkey, or something?"

Steven frowned, then looked at Alicia. "I thought we had an appointment booked for tonight." It sounded lame, even to him. "When I saw you get in this gentleman's..." He nodded in the guy's direction. "I assumed you'd forgot our appointment and followed his car."

Alicia held his gaze, then shook her head. "I'm sorry babe, you must have the dates wrong." She slipped her hand into the other guy's arm. "I've already told Jacob that I'm available tonight. Maybe you and I could rearrange?"

"No, that's not..." He was getting desperate and suddenly realised he shouldn't have followed them. "I mean, I'll be going out of town for a while, and..."

Alicia gave him a smile. "Maybe later tonight?"

Was she telling him to go home and wait until she'd had a chance to do something she could describe to him? Steven nodded, then without thinking things through, blurted out, "Why not take us both now?"

Alicia's mouth dropped open. She started to shake her head, then turned to the guy called Jacob, who smiled and shrugged.

"I'd have no problem with that," he said. "And you could earn twice as much money."

Steven felt a cold shiver run down his spine. Could he do this? Would he be able to actually witness Alicia having sex with somebody else? Imagining it was one thing but seeing it for real might be too much to bear.

"Is that what you want?" Alicia asked, directing her question to Jacob.

"Sure. It could be fun." He stroked her arm. "But it's your call, Lily. Is it what you want?"

Lily?

Alicia turned to look at Steven. "It'll cost you a hundred to join us."

Steven nodded. He couldn't tell from her expression if she was angry at his intrusion, but right now he didn't care. Jacob used a cardkey to admit them into a small, dimly lit entrance hall. He called one of the lifts, then allowed Steven and Alicia in first. She didn't look at either man, staring at the closed doors as the lift ascended to the fifth floor.

Steven ran his eyes over her, wondering what was going through her mind. She looked fantastic, her hair pinned up and her lips glossy red. She wore silver dangly earrings he couldn't remember seeing before. And as for her clothes...

The lift came to a halt and the doors slid open. As Jacob led the way, his short, dark hair shining under every spotlight, Steven couldn't help noticing that the guy was a couple of inches taller and broader in the chest.

At room 512, Jacob unlocked the door and used the cardkey to switch the lights on.

Steven went in last and blinked in surprise. The room was huge with a wall of windows. Jo-Jo had said the guy always rented a big suite, and she wasn't kidding. This one had a dining table with four chairs, a kitchenette, a 50" flatscreen TV and a leather Chesterfield three-piece suite.

"Can I get anyone a drink?" Jacob asked, slipping off his suit jacket and dropping it onto one of the armchairs near the window wall.

"If I wanted a drink," Alicia said, "we'd have gone to a bar."

Steven was shocked, but guessed this was part of her Lily persona. As she slipped off her jacket, he was even more shocked. Her lace top was so sheer that her entire upper body could be seen through it. With the short skirt and ultra-high heels, she looked amazing.

"So," Jacob said, running his gaze over her, "why are we here?"

Alicia looked up into his eyes. "I'm here to get fucked." She glanced over at Steven. "And now it appears I'm here to get fucked twice." She smiled from one man to the other. "But before we can get into that, there's the small matter of payment."

Jacob retrieved his wallet, counted out some notes and passed them to Alicia. Steven didn't know if the guy was getting a better deal than he was, and he didn't care. He quickly counted out five twenties and handed them to his whore wife.

"Thank you," she said, picking up her coat and putting the money into one of its pockets. She stepped close to Jacob and ran her hand down his stomach. "This room is lovely, but I was hoping there might be a bed we could use."

He smiled and nodded toward one of two doors on the left-hand wall. "I think you might find what you're looking for in there."

Following Alicia into the bedroom, Steve once again found himself staring at the sheer size of the place. The bed was almost twice as wide as the one he and Alicia shared every night. This room also had floor-to-ceiling windows, fitted with intricately patterned net curtains.

Alicia stepped into the middle of the room, then turned to face the men. She swiftly removed her top and pushed down her skirt. In less than five seconds, she was down to her sexy black bra and matching thong with her peep-toed shoes. She looked fantastic.

Alicia smiled at Steven but walked over to Jacob. She looked up into his eyes and slowly loosened his tie. Then she reached up and kissed him gently on the lips.

Steven frowned. Jo-Jo had said kissing wasn't allowed. He'd never kissed any of the women he'd picked up.

Jacob seemed surprised too, but he didn't hesitate for long. Steven watched as his wife's tongue probed into the other man's mouth. It took Alicia a minute to undo all the buttons of Jacob's shirt, and during that time they never broke the kiss. She finally pulled back and smiled up at him, then turned to Steven and stepped close. He wasn't wearing a tie, so she started on his buttons and leaned to kiss him. When he pushed his tongue in she nipped it playfully, then sucked it into her mouth and kissed him passionately.

All too soon, his shirt was open and she broke away. "Okay boys, take your shirts off for me."

Steven felt a little intimidated as he complied. Although he was fit and toned, it was obvious that Jacob worked out in the gym. He also had a good suntan and probably waxed his chest.

Alicia smiled appreciatively at Jacob's body, then reached for his belt. Steven held his breath. He watched his wife open the front of Jacob's trousers, pull at the waistband of his boxers and peer down inside them. Her eyes widened and the pink tip of her tongue appeared between her scarlet-glossed lips.

Jacob's dick was as impressive as the rest of him. When Alicia pulled it loose and gripped it with both hands next to each other, there was still a couple of inches of smooth shaft and then the full tip sticking out.

"Take the rest of your clothes off," she told him, then looked Steven directly in the eye as she moved over to undo his belt and jeans.

He could sense her excitement and briefly wondered if Jacob was as big as her Edinburgh guy. That question would have to wait until they got home.

Alicia pushed down his shorts and gave him a knowing look when she saw how hard he was. “Strip off the rest,” she whispered.

Steven bent to untie his shoelaces. When he looked up, Jacob was completely naked and he and Alicia were kissing again. This time, she was slowly stroking his cock. His beautiful wife, wearing only her underwear and a pair of spiked heels, was jacking off a well-hung good-looking guy. It was like a scene from one of Steven’s fantasies, and he wished he could film the action on his phone.

The two of them eventually parted, and Alicia pulled a naked Steven into a kiss. Her hand gripped his cock, and her tongue probed his mouth. When she pulled her head back, he realised that she hadn’t released Jacob’s cock. She looked from one man to the other as she slowly wanked them simultaneously.

His heart racing, Steven said, “I’ll pay double to go in without a condom.”

Alicia blinked, obviously shocked. She frowned and shook her head. “I’m sorry, but—”

“So will I.” Jacob’s voice seemed to make her jump.

She looked up into his face, then back at Steven. “Let me see the colour of your money.”

Alicia didn’t bother counting the extra cash before placing it on the shelf at the side of the bed. “I suppose I’d better start earning my money. You,” she said, pointing at Jacob, “lie on the bed.” And to Steven, “You get to go in first, because I’ll need stretching a bit before I can take his.”

Her words hurt, which he assumed was her intention. Jacob lay in the middle of the wide bed with his all-over tan.

Alicia moved to the foot of the bed, reached around and unclipped her bra. Then she pushed her thong down her legs and bent to remove it in a fluid movement. Leaving her shoes on, she crawled onto the bed and placed a knee on either side of Jacob’s legs. Looking at Steven over her shoulder, she wriggled her hips. “Help yourself and take your time. I don’t want to rush this.”

He nodded as she held his gaze, silently warning him not to come too quickly, then watched as she turned back to Jacob and said something he didn’t catch. As Alicia lowered her head, Steven wished he could see her face. Wished he could watch her mouth open and take that big dick between those shiny red lips.

Jacob let out a sigh.

Steven's wife was sucking the guy's dick, and it sent a shiver down his spine. He looked around hoping to find a reflection, but there were no mirrors on the walls and the netting covered the windows. Instead, he marvelled at how sexy Alicia looked with her head down, arse raised up in the air, and the heels of her shoes sticking out over the edge of the bed. He stepped between her feet and ran his hand over the perfect curve of her bum. She wiggled from side to side invitingly. He gripped his cock and dragged the tip up through her folds. She was dripping wet.

Jacob let out a quiet mumble and ran his hand over the back of Alicia's head. Steven entered her slowly, then placed his hands on her hips. She moaned and pushed herself onto him. He eased back and drove in harder, then they all seemed to fall into a slow, lazy rhythm. As Steven thrust his hips, Alicia moved to and fro, pushing herself back onto the cock in her cunt then falling forward onto the one in her mouth.

They kept this up for a few minutes before Alicia raised her head and reached round to ease Steven out.

"Time for a change," she said, kicking off her shoes then crawling around until she was straddling Jacob's hips and facing Steven. She pointed Jacob's cock at her slit and then, holding eye contact with Steven, slowly lowered herself down. He watched the fat, bulbous tip stretch her open as it slipped inside. Her mouth became a small red O and her brow creased. It looked to be hurting her. She raised herself up a little, licked her lips and tried again. More of the cock disappeared and her mouth dropped open. Her eyes never left Steven's as he shared her pain and pleasure. She raised herself up again, and this time took the full length as she dropped down. She let out a guttural moan.

Resting her hands on Jacob's knees, she leaned forward and nodded at Steven's erection. "Bring that closer."

He shuddered as Alicia parted her lips and ran her tongue over the lower ridge of his cockhead. She pushed her head forward and took his entire length into her mouth, making him groan.

Alicia started to rock her body, riding Jacob's cock and bobbing her head to pleasure Steven. When her breathing grew ragged, he recognised the signs of her approaching orgasm.

She released Steven's dick from her mouth and gripped it with one hand. She looked up into his face and clenched her teeth, squeezing his dick but not pumping her hand. Her concentration was elsewhere. Her eyes fluttered and her head dropped back. Crying out, she let go of Steven's cock and rested both hands on Jacob's knees as she bounced faster. She squealed again, and Steven wondered if Jacob was coming at the same time. He was in turmoil, his guts knotted and his balls aching for release.

After Alicia's orgasm passed, she opened her eyes, gave a little smile, and raised herself up and off Jacob. He glanced down at the guy's cock. It was slick with her juices but still as hard and straight as before. He hadn't come yet.

Alicia turned and said something, and Jacob got up and knelt on the pillows. She got onto all fours and backed up a little, evidently wanting to be spit-roasted. Steven was more than happy to oblige. Watching his face, she ran her tongue around his aching cock, teasing him. Jacob entered her and she closed her eyes.

She took Steven back into her mouth and they fell into a new rhythm. Both men thrust their hips, sending their cocks deep into Alicia's welcoming body. She let out muffled grunts and moans. Steven saw Jacob grip her hips and pull her back onto his cock, breathing loudly through his nose, then suddenly he pushed deep and held still.

Alicia released Steven's cock and stared up into her husband's eyes as Jacob fired his cum into her body. Steven knew it was happening—from Alicia's expression, she could feel every spurt. He knew she'd be clenching and releasing that big dick, milking it with her inner muscles. Jacob's cock would be releasing more cum with each contraction. He could visualise it all.

He grabbed her hair and pulled her head forward, forcing his cock between her lips and right to the back of her throat. Alicia grunted in shock, but then bobbed her head on him as if urging him to come. He was desperate to shoot his load and flood her mouth, but Jacob's face was just a couple of feet away and for some reason, Steven's orgasm remained just out of reach.

Alicia must have sensed this because she pulled her head back and looked up at him. "Lie on your back," she instructed.

Steven did as he was told. Alicia knelt up and straddled her husband. She crawled up until she towered over him, her crotch over his waist. A smile crossed her face just as a warm splat hit his stomach. She'd intentionally squeezed a dollop of Jacob's cum onto him.

"Oops," she said, smiling.

Steven stared at the gooey mess, then smeared it over his abs before pushing three sticky fingers into her sopping cunt. She cried out as he finger-fucked her, then he pulled his hand out, manhandled her further down the bed and sent his cock deep inside her. She was as hot and wet as he'd ever known her.

Alicia screamed and bounced on him, her nails digging into his shoulders as she frantically jerked her hips. He arched off the bed and erupted, firing in his own gooey mess to mix with Jacob's. Spurt after spurt left him, and he eventually dropped back onto the bed. Alicia pushed down, grinding herself against him. Feeling the clench of her second orgasm, he held her hips and pushed his cock up into her as she rode out the final moments.

Alicia fell forward and rested her head next to Steven's. He wrapped his arms around her body and kissed the side of her head.

Jacob cleared his throat. "If nobody's in a rush to leave, this place has a fabulous whirlpool bath."

Alicia looked at him. "Is it big enough for three?"

"Definitely."

She glanced at Steven, who nodded. "Okay," she said, "run the water."

Jacob left the bedroom and Steven started to apologise for following them.

Alicia placed a finger on his lips and smiled. She leaned close to whisper in his ear. "I'm glad you did."

"Me too."

She nodded toward the door. "Come on, let's go wash all our sins away."

He laughed and they both got up off the bed.

* * * *

Alicia's legs shook when she stood up. Before she'd reached the bedroom door, stuff started to dribble out onto her thighs. She squeezed Steve's arm and pointed between her legs. Seeing the mess, his eyes took on the same hungry look she'd seen so many times lately.

"Pervert," she whispered.

He grinned, allowing her to enter the bathroom first.

The room was fabulous—at least three times as big as their bathroom at home. The wall and floor tiles were marble, the suite white and the taps brushed brass. The bath itself was massive, half as big again as a normal one. Bubbles dappled the surface, and steam had already condensed on the mirror over the counter running along one wall.

Alicia stepped into the water and sat in the middle. Jacob got in behind her, and Steven got in facing her. Because of their relative positions, she had little choice but to lean against Jacob's chest.

She smiled at her husband as she nestled back against another man's ripped body. "Well, I wasn't expecting this sort of luxury when I got dressed tonight," she admitted.

"I like to spoil myself when I come up here." Jacob's voice was soft in her ear.

Alicia smiled. "I think I'm the one who was spoiled tonight."

Jacob's chuckle resonated through her back. "You could be right, but you deserved it."

"I feel guilty for gatecrashing," Steve said, then smiled and shook his head. "Actually, that's a lie. I'm glad I did it."

Alicia nodded. "I think we all are."

They chatted above the noise of the bubbling water. Considering the situation, it didn't feel awkward or strained. Steve asked Jacob where he was based and how often he visited town, then about his business. After several minutes, the conversation petered out naturally. Alicia closed her eyes as hands began to stroke her under the water. Steve's hands caressed her feet and calves, Jacob's cupped her breasts and teased her nipples. She dropped her head back on his shoulder and he nuzzled her ear.

Alicia revelled in the attention for a few minutes, then stood up and looked from one man to the other. "Would you two please take me back to bed?"

After a token effort to dry themselves, they climbed back on the bed, still slightly damp.

Alicia lay on her back and opened her legs. "This time I want you to take turns. I want you to share me."

Jacob motioned for Steve to go first, which pleased her. She smiled up at her husband as he slid inside. Letting out a grateful groan, she slipped her arms around his waist and moved with him, both quickly finding their regular flow. Steve fucked her gently, his eyes never leaving hers. After a couple of minutes, he pulled out and lay on her left. Jacob took over, his cock stretching and filling her completely. She held eye contact with Jacob but was aware of Steve watching her face the entire time.

Jacob let Steve go back in. Alicia loved being passed from one to the other. It felt perfectly natural somehow, and more relaxed than taking both at once. When Jacob went in for his second time, she felt another orgasm start to build. She moved with him, trying to get more friction on her clit. Just as she felt herself approach the peak, he pulled out.

Alicia gave a frustrated sigh, then Steve was back inside. His slow thrusts felt good, and she resumed the climb. She closed her eyes and concentrated on the orgasm that was getting closer and closer. Clamping her hands onto his arse cheeks to make sure he didn't pull out before she summited, she felt the pleasure ratchet up sharply and her body began to shake. A low moan rumbled from her chest, then another.

She jerked as the orgasm wracked her body. She screamed, thrashed her head from side to side and clamped her legs around his.

Steve groaned and she saw his shocked expression. She felt his cock twitch and knew he was coming with her. She clung to him and writhed on the bed, her hands pulling his head down and holding him close as they both shuddered. They stayed together like that for a while after their pleasure had abated.

Finally, she opened her eyes and saw Jacob watching them, a smile on his lips. She glanced down his body, which was perfect, and looked at his dick, which was better than perfect. She pushed Steve to one side, then kissed his ear. "Okay you, make way for my other man."

He smiled and rolled off. They both knew whose turn it was.

Jacob ran his hand down Alicia's leg and stroked her foot. "Listen, Lily, I was wondering..."

She smiled up at him. “Hmm?”

“Do you do anal?”

Alicia blinked, then glanced at Steve. His eyes were wide, and he glanced at Jacob’s dick.

“It’ll be another hundred,” she said.

Steve’s face blanched.

Jacob smiled. “Should I get the money now?”

“No, after is fine. I trust you.”

“Thank you.”

Alicia got onto all fours and back crawled down the bed until her rear end was at the edge. Steve moved so he was sitting in front of her. Jacob stood on the floor and moved close.

* * * *

Steven felt numb as he watched his wife’s face. She was offering her backside to the guy at the foot of the bed, but that cock wouldn’t fit in there. It was too big, surely.

“You’ll have to use your finger first,” Alicia whispered. Then she closed her eyes and clenched her jaw as Jacob stroked and prodded at her behind.

Steven reached forward and gripped her hands, and she opened her eyes to look at him.

After a couple of minutes, Alicia let out a low breath. “Go back inside me first,” she said over her shoulder. “Use his cum as lube.”

As Steven watched, Jacob slid back into her sex, rocked gently a few times, then pulled out and re-positioned. Steven stretched his neck to get a better view, and as Jacob pushed forward, Alicia gripped his hands tighter. She let out a grunt as the cockhead slipped in. Jacob held still for a few moments, then began pushing in deeper.

Alicia winced. “Wait,” she said, breathlessly. “Just give me a second to stretch, and then start feeding me more.”

Jacob ran one hand up and down from her hip to her thigh. “Just tell me when.”

She exhaled slowly. “Okay, go for it.”

As Jacob started to thrust, Steven held his wife's hands. She was still wincing a little. He couldn't see how much of the guy's cock was going in, but it didn't matter. He was fucking her in a place that Steven had never been and, for reasons he didn't understand, it thrilled him. What's more, it was obvious that she was now enjoying it as well.

As the thrusts got more powerful, Alicia closed her eyes and clenched her teeth. Large sections of her hair had fallen out of the clips and were swinging, along with her earrings, in time with the slap of flesh on flesh.

Jacob's breathing became ragged. "Lily, do you want me to pull out?"

"No!" She shook her head. "No, come there. Come where you are."

Jacob nodded and slammed in a few more times before holding still. Alicia cried out. She was breathing heavily and, from her expression, Steven guessed that she could actually feel the hot jets firing deep into her body.

A flurry of emotions crashed through him. Pride, envy, lust, yearning. He felt all of these and more. Jacob started moving again, thrusting slowly as he rode out the rest of his pleasure.

Alicia looked at Steven and mouthed I love you. His heart melted and he squeezed her hands again.

Eventually, Jacob stilled and pulled out with an audible plop. Their evening was over. Alicia put on her underwear and stepped into her shoes, then they went into the main room of the suite to gather their clothes. Steven dressed in silence. He saw Jacob count out more money and hand it to Alicia.

When she was dressed, Alicia turned to Steven. "If you can drop me back at my car, it'll save Jacob having to leave the hotel."

Steven nodded, and Jacob seemed happy with the arrangement. They said their goodbyes, and Jacob handed Alicia his business card.

"I'll be back up here at the start of next month. Drop me a text if you're going to be available."

She smiled and took it. "I can't promise, but we'll see."

Jacob reached over to shake Steven's hand. "It was nice meeting you. I know I'd have enjoyed myself anyway, but I think having you here at the same time made this extra special."

Steven nodded, then glanced at Alicia. She stepped close and kissed Jacob one final time, then he opened the door and they walked silently toward the lifts. As soon as the lift doors closed behind them, they grabbed each other and kissed passionately. She pulled his hair and he roughly groped her through her clothes. By the time they finally broke the kiss, both were breathless. Alicia pressed the button for the ground floor and Steven ran his hand down her arm.

“That was the best night of my life,” he admitted.

“Really?”

He nodded.

She sighed. “I was worried that actually seeing it would—”

“So was I. But it wasn’t hurtful at all. It was so... You were so... fucking sexy.”

“Was I?”

He nodded and laughed and hugged her close.

The lift stopped and the doors opened. They walked hand-in-hand through the small entrance hall, pressed the door release button and made their way towards the main road.

“I hope my car hasn’t been clamped,” he mused.

“Why would it have been clamped?”

“I abandoned it on the pavement in my rush to catch up with you.”

His car hadn’t been clamped, and even though he’d evidently forgotten to lock it, it hadn’t been stolen either. Once in the car, he smiled at her. “Where’s your car parked?”

She shook her head. “Let’s go home, we can get it in the morning.”

“Home to our empty house where we can make as much noise as we like?”

Alicia slapped his arm. “Have you any idea how sore I am?”

He leaned close and kissed her cheek. “I promise to bathe you gently, then rock you to sleep.”

“Hmm, that sounds nice.”

He put the car in gear and drove them away from the hotel.

Chapter 25

Alicia headed straight upstairs and started to run a bath, trying desperately not to compare their own bathroom to the one at the hotel. Steve came up with a bottle of white wine and two glasses a few minutes after she'd immersed herself in the water.

"Are you getting in with me?" she asked.

He shook his head, rolled up his sleeves and dropped to his knees on the floor at the side of the bath. He slowly pulled the clips from her hair, then ran his fingers through it. She closed her eyes and enjoyed his gentle touches now he was back to treating her like his wife.

She opened her eyes and looked at him. "When did you first see me?"

"You were standing on the pavement talking to Jacob when I drove down Lambert Road."

"I'd wondered if you'd be the one to pick me up."

"If I'd seen you, I would have." He smiled, then poured the wine and handed her a glass. "Would you have given me a discount?"

"Certainly not." She remembered Jo-Jo's advice. "If you want to stick your dick in my body, you have to pay what I ask."

He gave a laugh, then turned serious. "So, is that what you were doing all along? The times I'd assumed you were letting men in bars chat you up?"

"No, some were exactly that. The guy who came twice was the last one I met in a bar. The older gentleman was the first I met on Lambert Road."

"The one who came inside?"

She nodded.

"How many more men did you meet there?"

"Two others." She waited to see if he asked further details, then gave them anyway. "They both fucked me in their cars, and both used a rubber."

"Were they both in the same night?"

She laughed and shook her head. “No, Steve. I came home after my fun.”

He seemed to think about it for a few seconds, then put his glass down, picked up the sponge and began to wash her shoulders. “What you did with Jacob tonight,” he said quietly.

She knew he was referring to anal. “What about it?”

He seemed to struggle to find words. “Is it something...? Did any of the others do that?”

“No.”

“What about the guy in Edinburgh?”

“No. I’d have told you if he had.”

“But you’ve done it before. I remember you mentioned something about it when we were at the beach.”

She sighed. “Is it important?”

“I was worried about you, that’s all. I mean, Jacob was really packing some meat.”

“Hmm, he was, wasn’t he?”

He held her gaze and she knew he wasn’t going to let it go.

“Okay. I dabbled a bit with Rob, my ex. He was into it, and we did it quite a few times.”

He nodded and seemed to consider this, then fished a little more.

“What about two guys at once? Had you ever done that before?”

“No, that was a first for me.”

“Really?”

“Yes.”

“Sorry, it’s just you seemed so... at ease. So in control.” He ran the sponge under her jaw and swept it down between her boobs. “I doubt Jacob would believe it was your first threesome.”

“I wanted to show you...” Her turn to struggle for the right words, now. She looked down at her knees poking out through the bubbles.

Steve leaned in and kissed the side of her head. “Show me what?”

When she looked at him, he was smiling. She decided to come clean. “I wanted to show you that I can be the slut you need.”

He opened his mouth, then seemed to hesitate and consider what she’d said.

“I refuse to be your slut all the time, but every once in a while it might be kind of exhilarating.”

“What will you be the rest of the time?”

“I’ll be me. Your wife and the mother of our children.”

He nodded.

“We’ll be a normal couple. Sometimes we’ll make love, and sometimes we’ll fuck. If I’m horny when you’re out, I’ll pleasure myself, and you’re welcome to do the same. But then every so often, when the mood takes us, I’ll be the slut you crave.”

Steve’s hands had stopped moving. He seemed to be sitting very still. “What will happen when you’re being a slut?” he whispered.

“I’ll let you share me with another man.”

“You will?”

She nodded. “But instead of picking up a total stranger, we’ll come out as a wife-sharing couple.”

“What?” He looked horrified.

“That’s what we are, Steve, and this way the guys will know what we both want.”

“What do you mean?”

“He’ll know whatever he does to me has your blessing. If you still want to pick up women on Lambert—”

“No.” He shook his head. “That’s finished.”

“It doesn’t have to be. If you—”

He shook his head again. “I don’t need them. Like I told you earlier, tonight was...” He sighed. “I don’t think any other woman could make me feel the way I felt watching you.”

A warm glow swept through her. This had been her goal. “We could do that again. Or you could just watch, then do whatever you want to me after he’s gone.”

“Really?”

She nodded. “That’s what they do. I’ll have a look at social media. We’ll open an anonymous Twitter account, post a few suggestive photos that don’t show my face and invite potential bulls to get in touch.”

“Can you do that?”

“Yes, and it’s a lot safer than climbing into cars with strangers.” She smiled. “We exchange private emails with them and only arrange to meet the ones we feel comfortable with.”

Steve was nodding slowly. She got the impression there was a lot of thinking going on behind his eyes.

“Come on,” Alicia said, “let’s go to bed and make as much noise as we like.”

“I’m tired, and you’ve already told me you’re sore.”

She stepped out of the bath, wrapping a towel around herself. “I think, when we get under the covers, we’ll realise that neither of those things will stop us.”

* * * *

Alicia was woken by gentle kisses on her head. She opened her eyes and looked up to see her smiling husband holding a cup of tea and a plate of croissants.

“Good morning,” he said.

“Wow, thanks.” She pulled herself up and rearranged her pillows. “I never felt you get up.”

“You were fast asleep, which isn’t surprising considering the night you had.”

She laughed. “How did you sleep?”

“Like a baby.”

“And how do you feel about what happened now you’ve slept on it? I hope you’re not having—”

“No, none.” He smiled brightly. “I still feel the same about last night, and I feel good about your suggestion for how we should go from now on.”

She smiled, relieved. “I think it’ll work for us.”

He nodded, then frowned. “I keep thinking about you standing on Lambert Road, and a dirty little part of me wishes...” He shook his head.

“Wishes what?”

“It doesn’t matter, and as you say, we’re moving in another direction.”

“Tell me!”

He sighed. “I wish you hadn’t stopped for the night after just one guy.”

A trickle of heat flared between her legs. “What do you mean?”

“I mean most girls there take more than one a night.” He offered an apologetic smile. “You said it yourself, I’m a pervert.”

Alicia thought about climbing into a car, spreading her legs and taking a client, then going back on the street and waiting for another. Then another. A shiver ran down her spine. “If I do it, will you take a turn?”

He shook his head. “Like you said, there are all sorts of risks with —”

“I’ll be a whore for one more night. I’ll stand on the street for six hours and see how many men pick me up.”

“No, I don’t... It’s okay, I was just—”

“I want to do it.” She reached to grip his hand. “The idea of it turns me on.”

“Really?”

“Yes, but I want you to drive along the road after a couple of hours and pick me up.”

He gave a wide-eyed nod. “Okay. But that’ll be your last time there.”

“Agreed.”

Steve dropped Alicia at her car on his way to his football match, and she went to pick up Isla and Brad from Maddie’s. The women had a coffee in the kitchen while the kids played in the living room.

“So,” Maddie said with a smile. “How was your night?”

Alicia had no intention of revealing what had happened so just said, “We had a lovely time, thanks.”

“I’m glad.” Maddie took a sip of coffee, then grinned. “How lovely?”

“Well I can still walk, but it hurts when I sit down.”

Maddie snorted, choking on her coffee. “God! What are you like?” She dabbed her chin, then a wide grin spread across her face. “Well, all your sexy shenanigans have had quite an effect me.”

“Oh?” Alicia worried that her friend had decided to do more than flirt with the neighbour.

“I’m pregnant.”

Alicia squealed and jumped up to hug her friend. “Congratulations!” The women laughed and chattered excitedly.

“If you have a boy,” Alicia said, “you can have all Brad’s clothes.”

“But what if you have another boy?”

“I’m happy with two, thanks very much.” That statement was also true about last night’s experience, not that she’d ever share that much detail with Maddie.

By the time Alicia got home, the kids were tired and grouchy. Steve returned an hour or so later in a similar mood—his team had lost the match, and he’d taken an elbow in the face, resulting in a swollen eye.

Alicia moved close to inspect the damage. “Hmm, you’ll live. But you might need to wear a bit of makeup to hide the bruise on Thursday night.”

“What’s happening on Thursday?”

“I’m going to work,” she said with a smile. “My shift starts at eight, and I’ve asked Becky if she can sit in with the kids between nine and ten.”

Steve’s eyes opened wide—even his swollen one—showing he understood what she’d meant. He looked genuinely worried. “Are you sure you want—?”

“Yes, Steve. And before you ask, I’m doing it because I want to.” She checked that the kids were concentrating on Tummy Ache rather than listening to Mummy and Daddy talking about the games they liked to play. “When you mentioned it, I got a tingle. The more I think about it, the dirtier it makes me feel.”

“Dirtier in a good way?”

“Oh yeah.” She nodded towards her laptop on the couch. “I’ve also started to look at social media. There are thousands of people into what we’re into.”

“Really?”

She nodded, taking her phone out of her back pocket. She opened the folder she’d made in her gallery of all the photos Charles had taken and passed it to Steve. “Have a look at these.”

He stared at the pictures in shock. “What are—?”

“My dates with Charles, the guy who’d been faithful for thirty-five years.”

“But why let him—?”

“Because I wanted to. He took them using my phone, don’t worry.”

He let out a sigh, looking only slightly more relieved. “Good thinking.”

She leaned closer. "If you ask nicely, I'll let you take my phone upstairs so you can play with yourself."

He grinned. "I'll just look for now, but maybe later you could wear the same clothes as in the photos, and I'll jack off over you then."

A flow of excitement pulsed down to her crotch. "Hmm, I like the sound of that."

"Mum," Isla called from the rug. "I'm hungry."

Alicia and Steve shared a smile, then she went into the kitchen to start lunch.

* * * *

Steven spent the first half of the week in a state of anxious excitement. The thought of what Alicia was going to do both thrilled and terrified him. It would be sod's law for something to go wrong on her final stint on Lambert Road. By Wednesday, he couldn't shake the fear that one of her clients might play a bit too rough, or there'd be a police raid, resulting in her being arrested for soliciting.

On Thursday morning he finally mentioned his fears, and Alicia laughed them off. He also suggested booking a room in a nearby hotel, but she explained the sordidness of sex in a car gave her an extra buzz. Once home that evening, he sorted the kids while she got ready but this time insisted on seeing her outfit before she left so he could easily recognise her on Lambert Road. As Isla and Brad had their milk and biscuit in the living room, Steven went up to the bedroom.

Alicia was applying the final touches to her makeup. She wore a sparkly blue miniskirt and tight-fitting strapless top with no bra. Both garments were made of some sort of stretchy material, and he visualised her with the skirt rolled up round her waist and the top pulled down below her breasts.

Makeup finished, she turned away from the mirror and stepped into a pair of killer heels, then pouted and struck a sexy pose. "Well?"

"You look fabulous."

"I don't want to look fabulous. I want to look like every man's wet dream."

His stomach flipped. "You certainly look like mine."

“Good. And when you pick me up later, I’ll act like it. But don’t expect any preferential treatment. There’ll be no discount, and you’ll have to wear a condom.”

He smiled. “Speaking of which, how many are you taking with you?”

“Enough. I even have some flavoured ones, just in case.”

He stared at her scarlet lip-gloss and thought about her giving a stranger a blowjob. A shiver ran through him and she laughed at his expression.

“Right,” she said, pulling on her jacket. “Becky will be here at nine. Don’t be too disappointed if you’re my first customer of the night.”

He shook his head. “I don’t think many men will be able to drive past you without stopping.”

Holding his gaze, she ran a hand over his crotch. “And how does that make you feel?”

“Lucky. Proud. Blessed.”

“Horny?”

He smiled. “Uh huh.”

“Good, because that’s how I’ll want you when you pick me up.”

Steven watched her walk downstairs, the skirt hugging her backside and heels emphasising her calf muscles. She turned to smile from the back door, then left. He had to stay in the kitchen for a few moments to steady himself before joining Isla and Brad. He brushed the kids’ teeth and got them settled while on autopilot. They were already asleep by the time Becky arrived.

During the drive to Lambert Road, his heart beat faster than it had during any of his previous trips there. He called at the ATM, smiling to himself as he withdrew enough cash to pay his wife for sex. Ten minutes later, he turned left at the traffic lights. He drove slowly, passing Elsa and the Asian lady with long hair he’d hired, but he couldn’t see Alicia. He got all the way to the end of the road, and she hadn’t been there.

She’s being fucked at this very minute.

The nervous thrill was almost unbearable. He turned his car around, then headed back down Lambert Road from the opposite direction. Since there was still no sign of Alicia by the time he reached the traffic lights, he decided to park up and wait five minutes before driving down the road again. The old adage about a watched pot taking forever to boil had never felt so appropriate, but he managed to wait a full five minutes before setting off.

There was still no sign of her.

It was during his fourth wait-and-prowl that he finally saw her. A black Vauxhall facing the opposite direction had stopped at the kerb, and she was saying something to the dark-haired driver as Steven drove past.

That guy's just fucked my wife.

In his rear-view mirror Steven saw her step out of the car, cross the road and move towards the black railings. There was nowhere for him to turn around, so he had to go all the way to the traffic lights and then use a small car park by the shops to do the manoeuvre. The lights changed to red. He tapped impatiently on his steering wheel as he waited and pulled off the second the lights changed. He was too late; when he was just thirty yards away, Alicia was walking around to the front passenger seat of a silver saloon that had stopped at the kerb. As he slowly drove past, she glanced in his direction before ducking her head and climbing into another stranger's car.

His pulse throbbed in his temple. He turned left at the end and pulled up, looking over his shoulder for the silver car. As it passed him, Steven caught a glimpse of his wife's face as the guy accelerated away to find a quiet spot.

He looked at his watch.

There was no way Alicia would be back on Lambert Road before he was due to return home. After slapping his steering wheel in frustration, he headed home.

He'd missed the chance to fuck his wife during her last night working as a prostitute.

* * * *

As Alicia pulled onto their drive, it was almost three in the morning. Unsurprisingly, all the lights in the house were out.

She walked as quietly as she could upstairs but as soon as she opened the bedroom door, the bedside light clicked on.

Steve was sitting up in bed, wide awake, and no doubt horny as hell. “I tried to—”

“I know, I saw you.” She gave a shrug. “As I was getting out of a car, I saw you drive past. A minute later, a car slowed down and I thought it was you. It wasn’t until it had stopped that I realised it wasn’t your car.”

He looked as if he were about to say something, then ran his eyes down her body.

She could sense his need. She pushed her jacket back and let it slip to the floor, then bent down and pushed her panties down her legs and off over her shoes. Holding his gaze, she pulled her top down to reveal her boobs and rolled her skirt all the way up to her waist, just as she had done for all the other men that night.

He gave an embarrassed shrug. “You’re probably too tired.”

“No, I’m not. Clothes on or off?”

“On, including the shoes.”

She climbed onto the bed and pulled the quilt back. He was fully erect. “How do you—?”

“Lie on your back.”

Alicia smiled and lay down.

Steve knelt between her parted legs and looked into her eyes. “Can I ask details?”

She shook her head. “Just the numbers, for now.”

He looked a little disappointed, but eased his dick between her tender folds and pushed in. She moved with him, enjoying her first bare cock of the night.

“How many men picked you up?”

“Nine.”

“Nine? I was expecting two, three at most.” His startlement seemed to turn quickly to lust. He pushed in deeper. “How many of them fucked you?”

“All of them.”

He blinked, then swallowed. “You’ve had nine cocks?”

“Ten now.”

“Jeez.” He seemed to be thinking about what she’d said. “I’d thought some might want other things.”

“Two had blowjobs as well.”

He pushed his dick deeper. "Did they both come twice?"

She nodded.

"What about you? How many times did you come?"

She hesitated before answering because she wanted to make sure she came this time. "Three."

He slowed down his thrusts, probably already close. "Jo-Jo never comes with clients. But then, she never kisses them, either."

"Really?"

He nodded. His breathing had become laboured.

"I think I kissed them all, even the smokers."

"What about anal?"

"Not tonight."

"Did any of them ask to go without a condom?"

"No." She placed her hands on his backside and started to move beneath him. "That's enough talking. You can let it blow now."

Steve seemed to watch her face intently as she worked his cock, squeezing and releasing, obviously preoccupied with images of her doing this all night long with a series of strangers. That was fine with her. When he cried out, she raised her hips to grind against him. Her orgasm arrived before his had finished, and she clung to him until he'd stopped thrusting.

He lifted himself up and slid out. "I'm sorry," he said. "After nine guys, that was probably the last thing you needed."

"That was exactly what I needed." She kissed his lips. "Do you want me to go shower off the smell of the other men?"

After sliding his arm around her shoulder and pulling her close, he shook his head. "No."

She snuggled into him. "By the way, you owe Lily for the fuck."

"Can I pay her in the morning?"

"Okay, just don't leave the country."

* * * *

As soon as the alarm on his phone went off, Steven opened his eyes and muted it. He'd had less than three hours' sleep but didn't care. He showered and then went downstairs to put the kettle on. When he took Alicia a cup of tea, he placed it on the bedside cabinet and woke her with a kiss.

She blinked and sat up, and he laughed.

“What?” she asked.

“I think you’d better remove what’s left of your makeup before the kids wake.”

Alicia used her phone camera in selfie mode to inspect her face.

“Christ, I look like Alice Cooper.”

“Take a photo so I can remember my night with Lily.”

She clicked the phone, then smiled at him. “It was actually your second night with Lily, and we both know you’re not going to forget them.”

“True. Which reminds me.” He took out his wallet and counted out five crisp twenties. “Does this cover the cost of what I did?”

“I charge seventy-five for what you had, but you went in bare, so...”

“That’s double.” He nodded, counted out another fifty and dropped all the money onto the bed. “It was worth every penny.”

“Thank you.”

During his drive to work, Steven kept thinking about all the questions he’d love to ask Alicia about her night. He had no idea what any of the men were like, apart from the one he’d glimpsed briefly in a dark car. He wanted to ask if they were old or young, where each had driven her to, what part of the car they’d used, what positions she’d been asked to perform sex in. What had been special about the three who’d made her come? Were they better endowed, better looking, or did they have better technique? It’d take him all night long to ask everything he wanted to know.

His dick stayed half-hard for the entire day as his mind played different scenarios over and over. As soon as he got home that evening, Alicia looked at his expression and laughed.

“What?” he asked.

She glanced at the kids, who were busy with their dinner, then motioned him to follow her upstairs. In the bedroom, she shrugged off her leggings and panties, then spread her legs. “You’ve got two minutes.”

Steven didn’t hesitate.

As he entered her, she slipped her arms around his waist and rolled her hips. “I knew you’d be desperate. You’ve probably spent all day thinking about my night.”

He closed his eyes and sighed at the hot wet clench of her well-used cunt. “There’s so much I want to know,” he whispered.

“I know, but right now I think you have a more urgent need.”

He opened his eyes and looked at her. “Tell me stuff.”

She smiled. “No.”

He shuddered with each thrust. “Bitch.”

“Mm-hmm. Now hurry up and come because I need to go and serve dessert.”

“Are you going to come?”

“Not now.” She hooked her feet around his calves and rocked her hips. “Maybe later, though.”

Steven pushed deep and unloaded with a powerful surge. It was more than a physical release. All his emotions—hunger, angst, lust and frustration—seemed to flood from him with the torrent of cum he fired into her ravenous channel. He jerked and shivered until it was over.

When he opened his eyes, Alicia was smiling at him. “I really needed that,” he admitted as he pulled out and stood up.

“I could tell.”

“I don’t know what’s more embarrassing—getting turned on by it or being so transparent.”

Alicia pulled on her leggings and stood up. “It’s not a case of being transparent, it’s a case of you being honest. With yourself, and with me.”

“It’s nice to get hot sex and therapy after a hard day at the office.”

She slapped his arm and went back downstairs while Steven got changed.

Alicia found the kids still eating dinner, seemingly unaware that she’d left them to their own devices while servicing their dad’s vices. She cleared away Isla’s empty plate and the aftermath of Brad’s broccoli carnage, then handed out small pots of trifle.

Steve came into the kitchen five minutes later, a smug grin on his face.

“I thought we’d eat later,” she said. “You can make yourself a coffee or grab a beer.”

“Beer sounds good. Want one?”

“No. I’m okay, thanks.”

Once the trifle was finished, Steve lifted Brad from his highchair and the kids wandered through to the living room. He chatted to Alicia about his day while she cleared the kitchen.

His phone pinged with the arrival of a text, so he took it out of his pocket. He looked surprised by the sender ID. After he’d opened and read it, he frowned.

Alicia was worried it was bad news. Maybe one of his parents had been taken ill. “Is everything okay?”

He shook his head. “It’s a text from Jo-Jo.”

“What?”

His frown was even deeper as he looked up. “She wants you to phone her.”

Chapter 26

Alicia felt a cold shiver run down her back. “Why would she want me to phone her?”

“I don’t know.”

“What I mean is, how does she even know you’re married, let alone to me?”

“She saw you on the night you met Jacob.”

Alicia was none the wiser. “I’ve spent several hours on Lambert Road, but she can’t have any idea who—”

“She was already in my car when I saw you being picked up by Jacob.”

“What?” Shocked, Alicia stared at him. “What, so... you kicked her out of the car?”

“Not like that, but...” He shrugged. “Maybe I did. I offered to pay her, but she laughed.”

“She laughed?”

“When I told her you were my wife, she cracked up laughing and clapped her hands. I didn’t think it’d bother her if the clients were married or not, but she kind of...” He waved his hands around to show he didn’t understand Jo-Jo’s reaction.

Alicia sighed, the pieces now falling into place. She knew she had to come clean after all her rants about honesty. “I followed you.”

“Sorry?”

“The night you went with the blonde with fat legs, I followed your car. That’s how I found out about Lambert Road. And the next night, when I told you I was going to the supermarket, I returned to Lambert Road to look for a girl with long red hair.”

“Ah. And she told you that I’d seen her one lunchtime.”

“What? No, we never discussed when you’d seen her.”

“But that was the night you came back, got dressed up and went straight out again.”

“Yes.” Ignoring the new information about it being a lunchtime tryst, Alicia tried to explain why she’d gone looking for Jo-Jo. “I just wanted to know what you got from seeing her.”

He gave a sarcastic snort. “I thought that’d be obvious. She’s a hot babe with a killer body.”

Alicia nodded. “I agree, but isn’t that what your teammates say about me?”

Steve blinked in surprise.

She smiled. “And yet I’m still not enough for you.”

“Yes, you are. You’re more than enough.” He put his beer down and came closer, placing his hands onto her hips. “I’ve already told you I don’t need to see anybody else.”

“That’s only because I’ve learned what you like from Jo-Jo.”

“What?” He looked bewildered.

“When I told you about other men fucking me, you got really hard. When I let Charles come inside me, you almost fucked me through the mattress.”

“That was—”

“It wasn’t until you’d watched me fuck Jacob that you decided you didn’t need prostitutes anymore. But even then, you still wanted me to act like one.” She could tell by his expression that she’d got through to him. “And when I got back, you asked me about the numbers.”

He gave a single nod.

“I’m sorry for going behind your back,” she said quietly, “but I only did it so I could become the woman you wanted.”

“You’ve always been the woman I wanted. I just...” He gave a shrug. “I just never realised it until...”

“Until I showed you how good I can make another man feel?”

“Yeah.”

“And how good another man can make me feel?”

“You’re making me hard again.”

She laughed and slapped his arm. “Will you send me Jo-Jo’s number? I think I owe her an apology.”

Steve glanced down at his phone, then shook his head. “I don’t understand why she pretended not to know who you were when we saw you.”

“I didn’t tell her I was your wife. I showed her your photo and asked if she knew you. Jo-Jo thought I was another sex worker, and I didn’t see any reason to correct her.”

“But why would you ask—?”

“She seemed to assume I was new to the scene and wanted to find out who was safe to go with.” Alicia heard her mobile ping from where it sat on the counter and picked it up to find that Steve had transferred Jo-Jo’s number. She glanced at him before walking upstairs to make the call. Jo-Jo picked up on the first ring.

“Hi, it’s Woody’s wife.”

“Hey, thanks for calling.”

“I think I owe you an apology.”

“No you don’t, you made my night. Anyway, I was wondering if you’d be willing to meet up for a coffee tomorrow morning.”

“A coffee?”

“Yeah. You know, where two people sit in a café and chat over steaming cappuccinos. I know it happens because I watch movies.”

Alicia laughed. “A coffee would be lovely. Where and when?”

“There’s a nice place called Fred & Ginger on Market Street. How does eleven sound? I tend to sleep in late—I’m sure you can understand why.”

Alicia laughed. “Eleven it is.”

“Thanks, hon. See you tomorrow.”

After she’d ended the call, Alicia wondered why Jo-Jo wanted to meet up. It didn’t sound like she wanted to rant about being lied to. She went downstairs and reported back to Steve, who was hovering in the hall.

He looked as stunned as she felt. “Did she say why she wants to meet?”

Alicia shook her head, and then Isla came out of the living room to tell them Brad had dropped the TV remote into the fish tank. Steve gave an exasperated sigh and went to sort out the problem.

* * * *

Alicia arrived a little early for her meeting with Jo-Jo, so she found a table near the back and ordered two cappuccinos.

Jo-Jo walked in at exactly eleven. Though apprehensive, Alicia raised a hand and smiled. The redhead walked over to the table and slipped off her charcoal trench coat, under which she wore a smart pair of black trousers and a cream blouse. Her makeup was much more conservative than the last time they'd met, with no false eyelashes and just a hint of lipstick.

"Hi," she said, folding her coat and placing it on a free chair at their table. She looked around for the waitress. "Should I go and—?"

"I've already ordered us both a cappuccino," Alicia said.

"Oh. Thanks." Jo-Jo sat down and gave her a warm smile. "And thanks for agreeing to meet up."

"I think given the circumstances, it's the least I could do." She bit her lip, then shrugged. "I should probably explain about our marriage."

Jo-Jo shook her head. "No, you shouldn't. Your marriage is none of my business, and it's not why I asked you here."

They were interrupted by the waitress delivering their drinks. Once she'd gone, Alicia leaned forward. "So why did you ask me here?"

"After I found out who you were, I went back over our conversation. You never claimed to be a new girl on the street—"

"I didn't deny it, either. I could have been more honest."

"No, I really don't think you did anything wrong. I assumed you were a working girl because of the way you look."

"Thanks, I think."

Jo-Jo gave a beautiful smile. "If it's any consolation, you're too pretty to be working on that road. Which kind of gets me round to answering your question." She turned her cup around on its saucer. "Remember I mentioned that some Arab gentlemen like to have two women at once?"

Alicia put her hands over her mouth and giggled. "You want to be my pimp?"

Jo-Jo laughed along with her. "Yes, and no." She turned serious. "I'm asking if you want to join me on a job tonight. I'm definitely going, and the guy asked if I knew anyone else who would join us." She gave a little smile. "I don't usually like sharing the fee, but he insists on two women and is willing to pay for the privilege."

"I can't imagine myself doing..." She frowned. "Besides, you told me I was the wrong flavour."

Jo-Jo laughed out loud. “He doesn’t want a floor show, he wants to stick his cock in two different girls.”

Alicia glanced around the café to make sure they hadn’t been overheard. “I’m afraid my very brief career as a sex worker is already over.”

“You’ll get two grand.”

“What?”

Jo-Jo nodded. “Like I said, these guys have big egos and wallets to match.”

“What would he expect for that sort of money?”

“He’ll expect a beautiful girl to let him stick his thing in her, and for her to not tell any of his wives back home.”

Alicia was shocked at the amount. That was almost three times what she’d made from taking nine men.

“You’re thinking about it, aren’t you?”

“No, I’m just...” The thought of watching Jo-Jo have sex would no doubt lead to imagining Jo-Jo with Steve. “I think it’d be awkward.”

“Why?”

“Well, I’ve never had sex with a man while another woman was there.”

“It’s fun. What’s more, we’ll be taking turns so you only have to do half a shift.”

“And then there’s the fact that you’re my husband’s wet dream.”

“Don’t let that bother you.” Jo-Jo cast her big brown eyes around the café. “You’re probably not the only wife in here whose husband’s sampled my wares.”

Alicia laughed and shook her head. She watched as her companion picked up her coffee cup and took a sip, then licked foam from her top lip.

Jo-Jo smiled. “What do I call you?”

“I suppose Woody’s wife is a bit of a mouthful.”

Another peal of laughter rang from the redhead’s lips. “Yeah, I guess it is.”

“Well, my working name is Lily. And yours is Jo-Jo, right?”

“Actually, my birth certificate says Jocelyn-Joanna, but it was always my parents’ intention to shorten it to Jo-Jo. I think there’s a Jocelyn in every generation of my mother’s family, and my paternal grandmother was called Joanna, so...” Jo-Jo frowned and shook her head. “I don’t know why, but I seem to just tell you everything. When we had our other chat, I told you about my properties and investments and shit. I never share that with anyone. Do you just stare with those big eyes until people tell you everything?”

“No, really I—”

“You should be a therapist. Or a cop.”

Alicia laughed.

“Please come tonight.”

Alicia opened her mouth to refuse but her voice caught in her throat.

Jo-Jo leaned over the table. “Pretty please?”

“Okay.”

The redhead looked genuinely happy. “Wear a nice dress and classy shoes. Make yourself up as if you’re going to a ball, not the way I recommended last time.”

“Oh?”

“You don’t need to look like a slut because he’s already booked you,” Jo-Jo explained. “But you’ll need to act like one.”

“Playing the slut is my default setting, lately.”

“Then you’re even more perfect for this than I thought. Did you phone me last night from your own mobile?”

“Yeah.”

“Okay, I’ll text you the time and hotel. We’ll meet in the bar and go up to the suite together. Take a taxi because there’ll be lots of champagne. Alcohol’s banned in his country, so he really likes to push the boat out when he’s here.”

“How long will I be out?”

“Probably not that late.” Jo-Jo smiled. “I think we’ll wear him out fairly quickly.”

Alicia wondered if Steve would be as excited about her night out as she was.

* * * *

“You’ve got to be fucking joking.” Steven couldn’t stop pacing, even with Alicia smiling up at him from the couch.

“I thought you’d like the idea. You know, thinking about some guy taking turns at both your favourite whores.”

Steven glared at her. “Why did she ask you?”

“My legs are a lot better than your blonde’s.”

Her retort made him smile, and he relaxed a little. “It’s just so weird, you two—”

“I know. I told her that.”

He huffed a sigh, trying to get his head around this surreal arrangement. Alicia was right that it was a nice thing for him to think about, but he wished he was the guy taking turns at the two of them.

“Besides,” she said, “this will be very profitable.”

“Oh?”

She nodded. “I was thinking that tonight’s fee, along with all the money I’ve already made on Lambert Road, would provide a pot of money for us to spend on nice hotels when I meet up with bulls.”

“On hotels?”

“Hmm. I reckon there’ll be enough for us to rent a very nice room maybe once a month for a whole year.”

Steven stared at her. Did she just offer to take twelve bulls? Was she saying this was something she was happy to do long term? “I guess if you really want to go tonight...” He held his breath and thought about Alicia and Jo-Jo tag teaming some lucky rich guy. “There’s one condition—I want you to tell me all about it when you get home.”

* * * *

Alicia chose the same outfit she’d worn for Ewan’s wedding. She pinned her hair up and wore dangly earrings. When she walked into the living room, Steve stared with a hunger she was getting to like.

“You look amazing,” he said, though Isla and Brad seemed incapable of tearing their eyes away from Paw Patrol.

She smiled. “Thank you. I’ll see you when I get back.”

“Shall I wait up?” he asked, looking a bit hopeful.

“No, it’s okay.” She leaned in and blew in his ear. “I’ll wake you up if I’m still horny.”

A knock at the door told them her taxi had arrived. It took just quarter of an hour to arrive at the hotel's bar, where she saw Jo-Jo standing near a high table, wearing a knee-length green silk dress that hugged her curves.

She greeted Alicia with a double air-kiss. "Hey, hon, you look fantastic."

"Thank you." Alicia glanced down at the ample cleavage on view. "So do you."

Jo-Jo signalled to the barman for another glass of champagne. "Where did you get that dress?"

"Edinburgh."

"It's gorgeous."

The barman placed Alicia's drink down and the women chinked glasses.

"I still feel weird," Alicia confessed.

"It'll be fun. Just relax and make him think you're enjoying yourself. If a guy thinks he's satisfying you, he'll be happy."

Alicia nodded and sipped her champagne, aware that every man in the room was staring in their direction.

"Come on," Jo-Jo said. "Let's go and make his night."

The two women walked out of the bar and headed for the lifts, their heels clicking on the tiled floor. Once out in the top floor hallway, their heels were silenced by plush carpet.

Jo-Jo grinned and flashed her eyes. "Showtime."

The door was opened by a young man wearing a waiter's jacket, which surprised Alicia. Even more surprising was the number of men inside the suite. She glanced sideways at Jo-Jo, who smiled reassuringly.

Taking Alicia's hand, Jo-Jo led her over to the group of four men standing around a table. She stopped in front of a guy of about forty with black hair and a beard. "Akeem, I'd like to introduce Lily."

The man reached out for Alicia and kissed the back of her hand, keeping his eyes on hers. "Lily, it's a pleasure to meet you." He had dark brown eyes and a posh English accent. He gestured to the other Middle Eastern man at the table. "This is my associate and good friend Jamal, and his guests Anton and Steffen."

Alicia smiled at them. It seemed she and Jo-Jo weren't the only ones who were working; Jamal had hired two young men for his fun.

They chatted, drank champagne and ate canapés for about thirty minutes. Alicia noticed Akeem's eyes wandering over Jo-Jo and herself, and it gave her a tingle of anticipation for this new experience. In the last week she'd had a threesome with two men and taken ten guys in a single night. Tonight, she'd have a threesome with a man and another woman.

When all the nibbles had been consumed, the hotel waiter collected the plates, put them onto a trolley and left. Jamal and his young men moved over to one of the couches by the windows while Alicia and Jo-Jo stayed by the table, listening as Akeem told them stories about the oil business and ran his hands down their backs.

Eventually, Jo-Jo suggested the three of them adjourn to one of the bedrooms.

Akeem grinned, picked up what was left of the champagne and nodded towards one of the doors.

The bedroom was fantastic, the bed even bigger than the one in Jacob's hotel room. Akeem placed the ice-bucket containing the champagne on the dresser then smiled, his dark eyes gleaming in the dim lamplight. "Perhaps you ladies could help each other out of those beautiful dresses."

Jo-Jo stepped close to Alicia. "You look great in this dress, but I'm looking forward to seeing you without it."

Alicia smiled and turned to give Jo-Jo access to the zip. The style of the dress meant no bra could be worn. Beneath, all she had on was a black lace thong. Jo-Jo supported the dress as it slid down. Alicia stepped out of it and stood still while the four other eyes in the room took in her body.

Alicia slowly unzipped Jo-Jo's dress, which slid effortlessly off her shoulders and down to her feet, revealing a half-cup bra and matching French knickers in dark green.

Alicia smiled. "I seem to be wearing less than you." She slipped her arms around Jo-Jo's back and unclipped her bra, then pulled it off to reveal her breasts. They were perfect; full yet firm with puffy pink nipples.

"Oh my," Akeem said, staring between them. "The Gods have been good to me tonight."

Jo-Jo took the lead. "Why don't you take off that rather lovely Saville Row suit?"

Akeem kicked off his Italian shoes, shucked off his suit and dropped it on the floor. His Egyptian cotton shirt and silk tie soon followed.

Jo-Jo ran a hand down his bare stomach and smiled. "Before we get into the fun part of the evening, haven't you forgotten something?"

"Ah, sorry." Akeem bounded over to the wardrobe and opened the door to reveal a small safe, from which he took two envelopes. He walked back to the women, his cock bouncing in front of him, and handed them over.

"Thanks, hon." Jo-Jo dropped hers on top of her dress, which was still on the floor. "So, have you got anything particular in mind for tonight?"

Akeem nodded. "I thought we could have a little more champagne. Please remove your underwear and sit on the bed."

The women glanced at each other and did as asked, sitting side by side on the bottom edge of the mattress. Akeem walked over to the magnum and topped up his glass, then came to stand in front of them. He took a sip, dropped to his knees and crawled between Alicia's legs. Lowering his head to her crotch, he squirted the champagne from his mouth into her sex. The coldness of it made her catch her breath. She glanced at Jo-Jo, who just shrugged.

Akeem pulled back and took another sip, then moved to his left and did the same to Jo-Jo, who moaned sensually, arching her back and wriggling her hips. Alicia realised that this was the sort of response she should've given.

Akeem repeated his trick several times on each of them. Alicia felt him probing her channel as he lapped at the liquid seeping out, then the chill of his tongue as he flicked the tip over her clit.

Jo-Jo stood up and walked over to her bag. She took out a condom, then went to the ice bucket on the dresser. She dropped a small chunk into the teat. "This will make the tip of your cock feel all cold," she said, dropping to her knees next to Akeem and rolling the condom down his shaft. "Even being inside two hot babes like us won't melt the ice for a while." She stood and helped him to stand. "But when you come, your hot cream will flood the condom and warm your cock."

Akeem grinned, his arms and legs shaking slightly.

"Who are you going to put it in first?" she whispered.

“You.” He nodded at the bed. “Please, sit on the bed and lie back.”

Alicia was still sitting on the bed, and Jo-Jo sat so close that their legs touched. Jo-Jo lay back and smiled up at Akeem. “Come on, give me some of that big cock.”

Akeem didn’t hesitate. Alicia saw his cock slide in and heard Jo-Jo let out a sexy moan. Her hair fanned out around her head like a flame, and she began to writhe and push her boobs together. An image of Steve fucking her tits flashed briefly through Alicia’s mind.

After less than a minute, Akeem pulled out and smiled at Alicia. She lay back next to Jo-Jo, and he entered her. She let out a moan and clenched around him, then began to rock her hips.

Akeem fucked her slowly but soon withdrew and returned to Jo-Jo. He alternated until his breathing became ragged.

“Who do you want to finish in?” Jo-Jo asked, stroking his cheek.

Akeem shook his head. “I don’t mind, you’re both beautiful.”

“We’ll make sure you finish inside us both before the night’s through, so just let it happen wherever you are, okay?”

He nodded, then withdrew from her and re-entered Alicia. She closed her eyes and enjoyed the cock sliding in and out. All too soon, he pulled out and went back into Jo-Jo. Within a matter of seconds his eyes squeezed shut and he let out a stifled sob.

“Hmm, that’s it, hon. Shoot all that hot cream onto the ice.”

Akeem groaned and jerked his hips. Jo-Jo writhed beneath him, stroking his head and whispering. When he’d finished, he pulled out and smiled at the two of them, then went to the bathroom.

Jo-Jo turned to Alicia. “You get the next one, okay?”

Alicia shrugged. “It’s no big deal if he happens to be in you again when he comes.”

“It’ll be a big deal to him. He’ll feel more powerful knowing he’s come in both of us, even though he’s in a rubber.”

“Oh, okay.”

“How did you like the champagne up the love-chute?”

Alicia scrunched her nose. “I’m just glad we’d finished the canapés.”

Jo-Jo giggled, then got up. “Come on, let’s lie further up the bed.”

By the time Akeem returned, his cock now bare, clean and flaccid, Alicia and Jo-Jo were lying on their sides facing each other on the bed.

They'd left a gap between them, which Akeem eagerly crawled onto the bed to fill. He lay on his back and smiled from one woman to the other.

Jo-Jo leaned down and sucked one of his nipples, so Alicia followed her lead and did the same to the other. Akeem murmured quietly, his hands stroking their breasts.

After a few minutes of this, Jo-Jo went to retrieve another condom. As she unwrapped it, she smiled at Akeem. "This one," she said, holding it up for him to see, "is the type that tastes nice."

His eyes widened.

"It's not champagne flavoured, but I think it'll be okay." She rolled the condom down on his cock, then lowered her head and took him into her mouth.

Akeem began to recite what sounded like a prayer.

Jo-Jo released his cock, looked up at Alicia and opened her eyes slightly in invitation. Alicia crawled down the bed and smiled at Jo-Jo, then opened her mouth and took Akeem's full length all the way into her throat. With her nose nestled in his black pubes, Alicia hummed around his cock and began to bob her head.

By the time she released him, Akeem was fully hard again. Jo-Jo took her turn, showing that deep-throating was a strong part of her repertoire. The women worked Akeem like this until he was sweating, and then he pushed them away and suggested something else. Alicia sat on his face and watched Jo-Jo ride his cock. The redhead was incredibly sexy. No wonder Steve kept going back to her.

"Let's swap places," Jo-Jo whispered. "He's getting close."

As they changed positions, Akeem grinned up from the bed, his cheeks gleaming with Alicia's juices. Jo-Jo lowered herself onto his face and Alicia impaled herself on his cock. She rocked her hips and closed her eyes, grinding down on him to get more contact on her clit.

Jo-Jo was making all sorts of grateful sighs on Akeem's tongue, but Alicia was concentrating on her own needs. Her thighs began to tremble and she rocked faster. As the orgasm finally arrived, she opened her eyes and looked at Jo-Jo.

Akeem cried out and arched off the bed, lifting Alicia with him. She felt him pulse a split second before the contractions from her own climax milked his cock. He eventually lowered himself back to the mattress, his muted cries stifled by Jo-Jo rubbing her crotch against his face.

Alicia took a deep breath and blinked, slightly uneasy at having come when she knew Jo-Jo never allowed herself to. She gave an embarrassed smile.

Jo-Jo leaned over, placed a hand on the back of Alicia's head and kissed her on the mouth. Alicia hesitated, shocked by the other woman's actions and the softness of her lips, then returned the kiss. Jo-Jo's tongue slipped between her lips and moved against hers. Instinctively, she reached out and cupped Jo-Jo's breast. It felt as good as it looked.

Jo-Jo fell to her left and dragged Alicia with her. Akeem's cock slipped out. The women were now lying at right-angles to their client and ignoring him completely.

Jo-Jo had said the guy didn't want a floorshow, but that was effectively what they were providing. She relaxed and let herself be carried along. Jo-Jo rolled on top and pushed her leg between Alicia's. Their breasts mashed together, and it felt wonderfully different from a man's hard and sometimes hairy chest. Jo-Jo pushed up with her thigh and Alicia moved her sex on it, rubbing against the firm, smooth flesh. Their kiss got more heated: teeth clashed and tongues probed. Alicia entwined her fingers in Jo-Jo's wonderfully silky hair and held their heads together, then suddenly another orgasm bloomed and broke.

Alicia pulled her head back and screamed. She reached down and dug her fingers into Jo-Jo's backside, then moved her hand lower and slipped a finger into her hot, wet sex. She rolled Jo-Jo onto her back, pushed her legs apart, and inserted two fingers into the juicy cunt.

Jo-Jo groaned, rocking her hips, and Alicia lowered her head to take one of the puffy pink nipples into her mouth. Never having touched a woman before, she mimicked the motions of her own masturbation, slowing her caresses and bringing her thumb into play, moving it slowly across Jo-Jo's clit.

Jo-Jo cried out and raised her hips. Alicia pushed her fingers in deeper and felt the contractions. This was no fake orgasm. She resumed the clit stroking with her thumb and kept sucking Jo-Jo's nipple.

The noise of Akeem's whimpers alerted the women. They looked up to see him pumping his unsheathed cock. Jo-Jo reached over and eased his hand away to jack him off herself. She motioned for Alicia to move closer and, as Akeem knelt up on the bed, pointed his cock at their chests. With a grunt, Akeem came, sending a thick rope of cum onto Jo-Jo's boobs. She groaned appreciatively and kept wanking him, aiming his cock so that his second shot hit Alicia across the chest. Jo-Jo smiled and kept pumping her hand, but Akeem was out of juice.

He fell back onto the bed and sighed. "Oh my. That was..." He blew out his cheeks and shook his head. "I have been blessed." He stumbled off to the bathroom and returned with warm flannels and a big fluffy white towel. Jo-Jo took a flannel and wiped the cum from Alicia's boobs, smiling as she did so. Alicia returned the compliment. There was no awkwardness as she wiped the cum from the perfect tits her husband had already come over at least twice.

"Ladies..."

Alicia looked up to see Akeem, now wearing a fluffy white robe, smiling down at them. In his hand he had two more envelopes. "Please accept this as a token of my appreciation."

Jo-Jo took the money immediately, smiling broadly. "Why, thank you."

Alicia smiled and thanked him.

Akeem walked over to the dresser and poured three glasses of champagne. Jo-Jo got off the bed and started to dress, so Alicia did the same. They shared a final drink as a threesome before heading out into the main suite. There was no sign of Jamal, Anton or Steffen in the lounge, though items of their clothing remained scattered around the couch and on the floor. Akeem kissed both women's hands again, then opened the door and let them out into the hallway.

Jo-Jo linked her hand into Alicia's arm and pulled her close. "Was that okay?"

Alicia chuckled. "You told me I was the wrong flavour and that he didn't want a floorshow."

The redhead shrugged. "Maybe I lied."

"Hmm." Alicia couldn't help smiling.

Jo-Jo narrowed her eyes. "Or maybe I got carried away."

"I'm going to tell myself it was the latter." She wanted to ask about kissing and coming, because she knew for a fact that Jo-Jo had done both tonight, but it seemed unimportant now.

Jo-Jo opened her second envelope and counted the money, then looked up with wide eyes. “The floorshow earned us another grand each.”

“You’re joking.”

She laughed and shook her head. “I wish these guys came to this country more often.”

There were several taxis outside the hotel, and the women made their way towards them.

“Want to share a taxi?” Alicia asked. They’d shared everything else, including her husband.

“No, we live at opposite ends of town. But I would like to meet up for a coffee again sometime.”

Alicia smiled. “Yeah, I’d like that.”

Jo-Jo gave another beautiful smile and kissed her cheek. “I’ll text you in a couple of weeks. Have a nice time when you get home.”

Alicia watched her walk away, still in shock at being paid three grand for two hours’ work. She also couldn’t believe that not only had she been made to come by a woman, but she’d also returned the favour.

When Steve heard about all this, he’d probably fuck her until daylight.

Chapter 27

Steven felt drained when he got up on Sunday morning.

Even though he and Alicia had only had sex once after she'd arrived home, hearing about her night with Jo-Jo and the rich Arab had fired his imagination. She'd answered every one of his questions during their brief but frantic lovemaking, but his racing mind had turned up others long after she'd fallen into a well-deserved slumber. He'd lain awake for hours thinking about what had happened in the hotel bed.

He helped with the kids' breakfasts and getting them dressed before it was time to leave for his football match. As he picked up his kitbag, Alicia walked over and slipped her arms around his neck.

"Enjoy your match," she said.

"I'd rather stay here and have a replay of last night's game."

She stood on tiptoe and kissed him gently on the lips. "Maybe we can do that tonight, but we'll take it slower and be a little bit gentler."

He felt guilty. "Was I too fast and rough last night?"

She shook her head. "No, last night was exactly how I wanted it. But tonight I want rose petals on the bed and candles on the floor."

He smiled and nodded, remembering doing that for her on their first wedding anniversary. "I'd like that."

"And while you're running and chasing a ball around, I'm going to sit on the couch with a coffee and open a Twitter account. I'll post a few photos and invite people to send private messages about a playdate."

"Really?"

She nodded. "It may take us a while to find someone we're both happy with."

"Okay." He closed his eyes and sighed. "I'm not sure I'll be able to concentrate on the game."

She laughed. "It serves you right for turning me into a slut."

"I don't regret it."

Alicia gave him a beautiful smile. "Neither do I."

* * * *

After Steve had left, Alicia made herself some toast and a coffee. Then she picked up her laptop and opened a Twitter account in the name of @hotwife_lily10. Adding the tagline, ‘A lucky hotwife with an understanding husband’, she gave her location as Northern England. Then she cropped a couple of the photos Charles had taken of her with his cars and did the same to others from her phone gallery. These included one of her body in the Edinburgh dress at Ewan’s wedding and another of her from behind, wearing cut-offs in the garden. After making sure that her real identity couldn’t be worked out from any of the photos, she posted them on her feed and invited potential bulls to send DMs and accompanying photos.

By the time Steve returned from his football match, her post had generated over fifty likes, numerous retweets and a dozen private messages. She was amazed at both the interest and the speed of the responses—surely people had better things to do on a Sunday morning than surf social media for potential fuckbuddies?

They spent the afternoon looking after their children and laughing at some of the replies, shaking their heads at the ones from men who couldn’t spell—cum to London and cum all nite long—and the ones who couldn’t possibly expect a date—suck my big fat prick and swallow my load. There was also one in Spanish that included the word puta several times which, when they used the translating tool, suggested she’d be expected to spend several hours on her hands and knees while the man treated her like a whore.

“I’m guessing he doesn’t really expect a reply,” Steve said, reading over Alicia’s shoulder.

“I’m guessing he’s actually a fifteen-year-old boy with a nasty mouth.” Alicia snapped the lid of her laptop closed and looked outside. “Let’s take the kids to the park before it gets dark. We can look at the rest when they’re in bed.”

* * * *

With Isla and Brad fast asleep upstairs, Steven settled next to Alicia on the couch and passed her a wine while peering over her shoulder. “So, how many real contenders?”

“Quite a few.” She looked up at him. “I’ve had another thirty-odd messages since we last looked.”

“Wow.”

They spent fifteen minutes reading the replies in relative silence. Alicia read much quicker than he did, so he had to ask her pause or scroll back up a couple of times. A lot of the messages included shots of men wearing just their underwear, and a few of them were naked. But it was their words that seemed to matter most to Alicia.

After they’d read them all, they went back to the start and quickly filtered out the ones that didn’t merit any further thought. Alicia copied and pasted the more interesting messages into a Word document, adding their name.

Steven watched her face as she re-read them, trying to gauge what she was feeling. It was weird for him to think that some of these total strangers might get to fuck her, so he couldn’t begin to imagine how it must feel for her.

Throughout her single life, she would have been flirted with and chatted up before anything ever happened on any of her dates. Since they’d started these adventures, Alicia had gone out knowing she’d have sex with whoever she picked up in the bar, and that had escalated to her having sex with anyone who stopped at the kerb without even being able to see the driver’s face properly. And now here she was, reading short messages from men hoping for the chance to slide their big bull cock into her willing hotwife body.

“Steve?” She was squeezing his hand, dragging him back from his reverie.

“Sorry.” He smiled. “What did you say?”

She looked concerned. “Are you okay?”

He nodded. “Yeah, I’m fine. I just... Don’t you find this a bit weird?”

“I find it exciting.” She glanced at the screen, then back into his eyes. “One of these guys might be my next lover.”

A tightness gripped him. “Yeah, and that’s why it’s weird.”

“Don’t you want me to find someone on here?”

“Of course I do. Like you say, it’s a lot safer than getting into a stranger’s car.”

“It’ll be a lot more comfortable, too.” She leaned close and held his gaze. “I’ll be able to stretch out on the bed, and you’ll be able to sit in a chair less than six feet away and watch everything that goes on.”

His heart thumped in his chest.

She placed her hand on his arm. “If you want to, that is.”

Images of her with Jacob flashed through his mind. “Yeah,” he confirmed. “I definitely want to watch.”

“Good.” Alicia went back to her list of potential bulls and counted them up. “I thought I’d reply to all the ones we’ve shortlisted and see how their second messages sound. Hopefully I’ll be able to see quite a few of them.”

His cock thickened inside his jeans at the thought of her being passed around between a roomful of well-hung bulls. “You mean one at a time though, right?”

“Yes, you pervert.”

He smiled. “Just checking.”

Alicia quickly tapped out a generic reply thanking the bull for his message and asking where he was based, if he could travel, and if he had any problem with her husband being present. She showed Steven the screen. “What do you think?”

“It seems fine.”

“Okay. I’ll send this out and see what comes back.”

He watched her copy and paste the same message into numerous threads. “How many exactly have you replied to?”

“Fourteen from this list, but they all arrived today. I guess I’ll get a lot more replies over the next few days.” She smiled at him. “I’m hoping that I can make dates a few months in advance, or just tell them I’ll be in touch when I get around to them.”

“They’ll wait?” He really had no idea what sort of timescale these things worked to.

“If they want to fuck me, they’ll have to.” She laughed at his expression. “I’m sure they’ll be busy with other hotwives in the meantime.”

“Right. Yeah, of course.”

“Besides,” she said, “we might not like them all once we start exchanging more messages.”

“True.” He slipped his arm around her back. “But what if you like a lot of them?”

“Then I guess I’m going to be a busy girl.”

His breath caught, and she laughed.

“Where?” she asked.

“Where what?”

“I can read you like a book. Where are you going to fuck me?”

He shook his head. “I haven’t had the chance to get candles or rose petals yet.”

“They can wait, we can’t.”

“We? Are you horny too?”

Alicia laughed. “I’m writing to a bunch of men who all want to fuck me. What do you think?”

He took the laptop from her, placed it on the rug and pulled her close. Her lips were soft and tasted of wine. She clambered onto his knee and kissed him passionately. Sliding his hands up inside the back of her t-shirt, he thrilled at the warmth of her body. He unclipped her bra and slid his hands around to the front and gently cupped her breasts, stroking his thumbs over her nipples.

She smoothed his t-shirt up to his shoulders and he raised his arms so she could drag it off over his head. She climbed off his knee and pulled him to his feet. “Take me to bed,” she whispered.

Steven held her hand as they went upstairs, leaving the lights on. In the bedroom they hugged, both topless, and resumed their kissing. His cock rock hard, Steven dropped to his knees and pulled down her leggings and panties. He stripped while Alicia slipped beneath the quilt, then slid into bed with her. Her body was soft against his. They kissed, stroked and caressed each other until she grew breathless and pulled him on top of her.

He entered her gently and moved slowly. She held him close and kissed his neck, her body moving in perfect sync with his. Alicia came fairly quickly, but he maintained his slow, steady rhythm. He kept going for a long time, and when she came again, her contractions brought on his climax.

They lay entwined together in the afterglow. Alicia leaned over to kiss his shoulder. "I love sex like that."

"Me too."

"I'll only ever have sex like that with you, though."

"What d'you mean?"

"I mean that wasn't just sex, that was making love. I won't make love with any of my bulls."

He thought about her with the men whose cocks and bodies he'd seen in pictures on her laptop. "You want them all to fuck you hard?"

"No, of course not. They can fuck me hard and fast, or they can fuck me soft and slow, but whatever they do, they'll only be fucking me."

He finally saw her point. "But with me?"

"You can fuck me hard, fast, slow, however you want. And you can also make love to me." She stroked his chest. "And I can do the same to you."

"It sounds like I'm getting the best deal of them all."

"You'd better believe it."

* * * *

Alicia received a reply from all fourteen shortlisted bulls and new messages from six more. As she read through, she decided she'd be happy to see every single one of them.

What does that make me?

On Tuesday evening, after Steve had gone to training, she received an instant message from one of the six new bulls she'd sent her standard questions to. His Twitter name was frankly_frank and he said he'd be happy to chat on FaceTime if she wanted.

Alicia was surprised but excited at the idea. She briefly considered putting on some makeup—but only briefly—then replied asking if he was available now. Thanks to the miracle of modern technology, in less than a minute she was talking face-to-face with a guy who wanted to fuck her.

He was good-looking, with short, fair hair and a bit of stubble. His eyes were blue.

"Hello, Lily," he said, smiling. His accent was from the Newcastle area. He sounded a bit like Ant and Dec but was much more pleasing to the eye.

“Hi.” She liked his smile and felt immediately that this guy could be a wonderful first bull.

They chatted for over ten minutes. She laughed a lot and flirted shamelessly. He offered to strip off so she could make sure he was worth meeting. Alicia said she’d take the risk but warned that if he didn’t satisfy her, he wouldn’t be getting a second date.

He was based in Gateshead, which was about a hundred and fifty miles from where she and Steve lived. They settled on a meeting in a hotel in York, which was roughly between them and a lovely city to visit. Even better, he was free on the date she proposed and was happy about Steve joining them to the point he suggested meeting for a drink at the start of the date.

As soon as they’d ended their call, she phoned her parents.
There was something she needed to ask.

* * * *

Steven returned from his five-a-side session to find Alicia sitting on the couch drinking a glass of white wine. Her cheeks were pink and her eyes sparkled.

“Are you drunk?” he asked, smiling as he sat beside her.

She nodded. “Yep.”

“Is there any particular reason for you being inebriated at nine-thirty on a school night?”

“Yes, I think so.”

His balls were already beginning to tingle. He was pretty sure why she was like this; she’d been exactly the same after she got her job offer.

“And why’s that?”

“I’ve arranged a date with my first bull.”

He’d been right. “Oh, have you?”

“Mm-hmm.” She leaned closer and blinked her big eyes at him. “I’m going to get nailed, and you’re going to watch it happen.”

His entire nervous system seemed to twitch. “And how does that make you feel?”

“The thought of getting nailed makes me wet.” She smiled. “And the thought of you watching and getting turned on makes me even wetter.”

“And you’re wet now?”

“Oh yeah.” She was smiling in a teasing way.

“So, which one did you choose?”

“A new one. He only wrote today, and when I sent him the follow-up questions, he suggested we FaceTime.”

“Oh? And did you?”

She nodded. “Yep. His name’s Frank, and he’s from near Newcastle. He’s got a Geordie accent.”

“Right.”

“We’ve arranged to meet up next Saturday, the twentieth.”

That was the day before his birthday. “Oh.”

“Because of the distance between us, we thought we’d meet in York.”

“York?” Steven started thinking about the logistics. They’d have to get back here at a reasonable hour because Becky couldn’t be expected to stay up until all hours.

Her smile got wider. “The reason I chose that date was partly because I wanted to give you something special, but also because it seemed like the perfect time to ask my mum and dad to have the kids overnight. I’ve told them I’m taking you away for a surprise romantic weekend.”

“Ah.”

“Which is true. I just didn’t mention anything about the hunky guy who’s going to fuck me as well.”

Though excited at the prospect, he felt a strange unease about it.

She frowned. “I thought you’d be happy.”

“I am.”

“You don’t look happy.”

“I am, it’s what we agreed. I just...” He shook his head and sighed.

Alicia put her glass down and turned on the couch until her body was facing his. “Are you having second thoughts about—?”

“No!” He shook his head. “Not at all. I’m just worried that it’ll be weird, you know, me being there.”

“I thought... Don’t you want to watch?”

“Yeah.” He was desperate to watch. “I just think it’ll be awkward. I’ll feel like some sort of pervert.”

“No you won’t. There’s nothing wrong with what we’re doing.”

“I’m not sure most people would agree.”

“The three people who’ll be in the room don’t think there’s anything wrong with it. Frank’s done this loads of times, with and without husbands present. So stop worrying about feeling awkward.”

“Okay.” He remembered the thrill he’d got from seeing her with Jacob and squeezed her hand. “How do you feel about it?”

“Take me to bed and I’ll show you.”

* * * *

Alicia was excited about their trip to York. After dropping the kids off with her parents on Saturday morning, they drove across the Pennines and arrived in the city late morning. The hotel they’d booked had a spa, but check-in wasn’t until two. It was a cold November day with a clear sky, so they went for a walk along the city walls and past the Minster, then had lunch in a nice bar in the Shambles area.

The hotel room was fantastic, though nothing like as impressive as the suites Jacob or Akeem had rented. After checking in, they visited the spa. Alicia avoided the pool in case the chlorine made her eyes red, hitting the sauna, steam room and the hot tub instead. They headed back up to their room at four-thirty and ordered a sandwich from room service. After they’d eaten, Alicia suggested Steve go for a drink while she got ready.

Slipping her earrings in, she checked out her reflection with satisfaction. She looked sexy but not trashy in a pale blue stretchy dress that hugged her bum and thighs. With bare feet, she stepped into dark blue shoes with a four-inch heel and turned slowly around. She hoped this was how a hotwife was supposed to look.

The group of four men who paused their conversation as she walked past them in the lounge seemed to like what they saw. She found her husband sitting alone at a low table surrounded by leather armchairs.

He smiled as his gaze wandered down her body. “You look fabulous.”

“You’re just saying that because you want sloppy seconds.” She saw his laughter turn to alarm and held up her hand, realising her mistake. “That’s not what I meant. Frank’s a bull who sees a lot of hotwives, and he’ll be wearing a condom throughout proceedings.”

He nodded. “Right. What would you like to drink?”

“G&T, please.”

He smirked. “Shall I ask for a large one?”

“I already have, but he’s not arrived yet.”

“Very droll.”

She sat in one of the other chairs and relaxed in the tastefully decorated room with its oak flooring and subdued lighting. Steve returned carrying a tall glass with lots of ice, a slice of lemon and a straw. She accepted it with a smile, and he ran his eyes down to her crossed legs.

“I think you should sit like that all evening,” he said as he dropped back into his own chair.

“Am I showing too much thigh?”

“Not at all. But what’s on show looks great.”

“Thank you. While we’re waiting, you’ll be intrigued to know I got a call from Jo-Jo. I’ve arranged to have another coffee with her next week.”

“Oh?”

She smiled. “Don’t get your hopes up. It’s just a coffee.”

“How d’you know?”

“We chatted.”

“Did she not mention having another threesome?”

“No she didn’t, and it won’t be happening.” Alicia smiled. “With one of her clients or with you.”

He nodded. “Right.”

She sipped her drink through the straw. “I told her about tonight, though.”

“What did she say?”

“She thinks it’s a good idea. For me and you. She also told me I’d been very fortunate during my brief spell as a sex worker. As she pointed out, a lot of women are forced into it because they have no alternative way of making ends meet, and they never make the sort of money I did.”

“Isn’t that exactly what you told me when I got back from Prague?”

Alicia laughed. "Yeah, I guess all my moral outrage seems a bit hollow now."

"Yep. I'd say you pulled your morals down with your panties for every single one of your johns."

"Bastard." She smiled, sipped her drink again and leaned closer. "So, tonight. What do you want to see?"

"I don't think I should be the one making requests. I'll be happy to see whatever you do. Sometime in the future I might want to see certain things but for now, I'm happy to just sit back and enjoy the show."

"You don't want to join in?"

"Not yet. I'd feel awkward."

This surprised her. "You didn't feel awkward before."

"That was different." He sighed. "Jacob was unaware that I was your husband, so I didn't feel conspicuous. That wouldn't be the case with your bulls."

"From what I've read, quite a few husbands join the bull in pleasuring the wife."

"Really?" He seemed to think about this for a while, then nodded. "Maybe that will happen in our future, but for now I'm happy to simply watch."

"Okay, that sounds good. Is there anything you don't want me to do?"

"No." His smile gave her the impression he appreciated being asked. "I'm happy for you to go wherever your mood takes you."

As Alicia smiled her thanks, her phone lit up on the table with a text from Frank. "He's in reception." She took a deep breath, stood, smoothed down her dress and looked down at Steve. "How do I look?"

"Fuckable."

Flashing him a smile, she passed the men standing at the bar on the way to introduce herself to the guy who was going to fuck her.

She recognised Frank immediately. He was taller than she'd imagined and had shaved off his stubble. Dressed in a tweed jacket and jeans with an open-collared white shirt, he looked very handsome.

"Frank, hi." She stepped in front of him and smiled.

He gave her a warm smile and held out his hand. "Lily, great to meet you in the flesh."

She took his hand, then leaned close and kissed his cheek. His aftershave sent shivers all the way to her crotch. “My husband Steve’s waiting for us in the bar.”

He walked beside her through the reception and into the bar. “It’s a swanky hotel.”

“Yeah, it’s lovely.”

As they approached, Steve stood up and held out his hand. “Hi, Frank. Nice to meet you.”

Frank shook the proffered hand. “You too. Steve, is it?”

“That’s right. Let me get you a drink. What’ll it be?”

“I’d love a lager, cheers.”

As Steve headed to the bar, Alicia directed Frank to one of the other armchairs, then sat down. She picked up her drink and slowly crossed her legs, pleased to see him glance down as she did so.

“So,” she said, releasing the straw from her lips, “how was your journey south?”

“Fine. M1 was clear all the way, which makes a nice change. How about yours?”

“Yeah, good. We drove over this morning and had a wander around the city.”

“Nice.”

She knew from their FaceTime chat that he’d be driving back to Gateshead right after their date. As he put it, most hotwives preferred to reconnect with their husbands afterwards. Steve arrived with three more drinks, and once they were all sitting around the table, Frank took a sip of his lager.

“So,” he said, “how long have you two been playing at this?”

“About six months,” Steve said. “What about you?”

“About six years.”

“Wow.” Alicia glanced at Steve, then looked back at Frank. “That sounds like a lot of women.”

He laughed and shrugged. “A few. Can I ask how you two got into it in the first place?”

Alicia answered. “It’s something that’s sort of evolved slowly.” She didn’t want to admit he was her first bull and no way would she mention she'd worked as a prostitute for kicks. "I guess we've progressed from open cheating to this."

"Yeah, I get it."

"I had sex with a stripper on a stag weekend," Steve admitted.

Frank nodded his approval. "Nice."

Steve shrugged in a way that suggested the sex with the stripper hadn't been that nice. "That's what started it. Then Lily met up with a guy in Edinburgh, and after that we realised that she wasn't the only person who enjoyed her night."

"You liked the idea of it?"

Steve nodded. "It got to the stage where I was more interested in what Lily got up to than what I was doing with other women."

"I think it's the same for a lot of people," Frank said. "Though rather than things evolving slowly, they often have a single, life-changing encounter."

"What sort of thing?" Alicia leaned forward, genuinely interested.

"It depends. A common one is the husband finds out his wife's cheated on him. Rather than flying into a rage, he finds the thought of it arousing." He took another sip of his beer. "I know one couple where the husband saw his wife flirting with some guy at a party. He'd watched her disappear out into the garden with him and not done anything about it. When they got home that night, she confessed to kissing somebody, blaming it on the amount she'd drunk. The husband told her he'd seen them together and wished she'd gone further. Then she admitted there'd been a bit of groping but nothing more. That had been enough to get them started. She was allowed to go as far as she wanted so long as she told him all about it afterwards."

"He didn't want to watch?" Alicia asked.

"He does now." Frank smiled. "They're regulars who I see three or four times a year."

"You have regulars?" Steve seemed surprised.

"Oh yeah." Frank glanced at Alicia. "Don't you?"

"Yes," Alicia said, thinking about Charles. "I've seen some guys more than once."

Frank nodded. "I think it's better because a level of trust and understanding can build up. It's good knowing what each couple wants—what the wife likes to do, what the husband likes to see.”

“And what sort of things do you like to do?” Alicia asked, giving him a teasing smile.

“I enjoy it all. But I think it’s important that I remember why I’m here.”

“And why’s that?” She couldn’t take her eyes off his face.

“To have some fun and make some memories. To give you both what you want, and to be respectful of your wishes.”

Alicia lowered her voice. “And if I want to be fucked senseless while my husband watches?”

Frank smiled. “Then tonight, I’m the second luckiest man in this room.”

“Second luckiest?”

He nodded towards Steve. “He’s the luckiest. He’ll get to enjoy the show, and every other show after that, and he also gets to wake up with you in the mornings.”

Alicia’s heart was beating so hard she could feel her pulse in her sex. She glanced at Frank’s glass, which was still over half full. “Are you going to drink all of that?”

“Not if you don’t want me to.”

“More drinks can be brought up later if we need them. I think it’s time we headed up to our room.”

Frank smiled. “That’s fine with me.”

Alicia turned to Steve and raised her eyebrows. “And are you ready to watch us?”

“I’ve been ready for it all week.”

Chapter 28

Steven's legs shook as the lift took them up to the third floor. Alicia and Frank didn't seem to be able to keep their eyes off each other. What Frank had said about being respectful of their wishes had put his mind at rest. He'd been worrying that the bull would taunt him throughout the evening.

The lift doors opened and Steven led the way to their room. When he reached the door, he glanced behind. Alicia had her hand in Frank's arm, and she was smiling at something he'd said. He let them go in first, then followed and closed the door.

Alicia stood in the middle of the room, glanced at Steven and then stepped close to Frank. She slipped her arms around his waist and inside his jacket, then reached up and kissed him on the lips.

Steven held his breath.

Frank placed his hands on Alicia's hips. Their kissing went on until Alicia brought her hands around to his chest and eased off his jacket. The kisses resumed, becoming more heated. Frank's hands had moved around to her backside, his fingers gripping her arse cheeks. Her dress rode up a little, showing more of her thighs.

Steven marvelled again at how good her legs were, and how great she looked in a sexy pair of stilettos. He was still standing just inside the door and felt conspicuous. Neither of the other two paid him any notice as he carried the chair from the desk to the window so he'd get a view of the bed from the side.

He sat and watched as his wife began to unbutton her bull's shirt. Frank was well-built. His chest was broad with a smattering of fair hair, his stomach flat and ripped. Their breathing grew more ragged through their kisses. Frank slowly inched up Alicia's dress until her backside came into view. She wore a white thong, the perfect spheres of her bum cheeks standing out unobstructed. Frank squeezed them in his hands, pulling her close against his body.

Eventually Alicia broke the kiss and dropped to her knees. Looking up into Frank's eyes, she undid his belt and started on the buttons of his jeans. It didn't take her long to yank his denims down to mid-thigh. His cock sprang out, big and impressive, pointing straight at her face. Alicia stared at it as she wrapped her fingers around his shaft and pumped her hand. Steven locked eyes with her as she pressed Frank's cock against his body and ran her tongue up the shaft. They held the gaze as she licked it again, then went lower and took one of Frank's big, hairy bollocks into her mouth.

He let out a quiet moan.

Alicia released him and licked up his cock again. At the tip, she pulled her head back and looked up. "Get naked and lie on the bed."

He smiled. "Yes, ma'am."

While her bull shed his clothes, Alicia took the condoms from her handbag on the desk. She took one out of the pack and dropped the rest on the bedside table, presumably as a hint that Frank would be using more than one before his night was finished.

With Frank lying naked on the bed, Alicia quickly removed her thong but left her dress and shoes on. She glanced sideways at Steven. "What should I do now?" she asked.

Her question took him by surprise. He'd already told her he was happy to watch whatever she wanted to do.

"I think," Steven said, praying his voice held, "everyone in the room would like you to get on the bed and ride his cock."

Alicia looked at Frank.

"That works for me," he said.

"Hmm. Me too." Alicia hitched the lower part of her dress up around her waist. Without taking her shoes off, she climbed onto the bed and crawled up to kneel over him. She ripped the foil with her teeth and placed the condom on the end of his cock. She seemed to like the way he gulped as she slowly rolled it down his shaft. "It's a shame we need this."

He nodded. "I agree, but needs must."

She gripped his sheathed cock, raised herself up and swiped the tip through her folds. The evidence of her arousal glistened on the rubber. Steven couldn't tear his eyes away as she stared into Frank's face and slowly lowered herself onto him.

Alicia let out a long, throaty moan as she bottomed out, the entire length buried inside her. She raised up a little, giving Steven a brief glimpse of three or four inches of thick shaft, then dropped back down and let out another moan.

Frank's hands moved up to her hips. Alicia dropped her head back. Her eyes were closed and her mouth open. Steven found her expression incredibly sexy.

After only a couple of minutes, he could see Alicia's thighs trembling. She was already close, which was hardly surprising. He knew how much she'd been looking forward to this, and Frank had proved to be much nicer than he'd dared hope. From Alicia's perspective, he was probably perfect—good looking, personable, and hung like a bull should be.

Her movements became more urgent. She opened her eyes and looked down at Frank, grinding herself on him, teeth clenched and breathing through her nose. It was only a matter of seconds before the guy would feel the clench of her orgasm and Steven hoped she wouldn't make him come just yet.

Alicia bucked faster, sighing and moaning through her release. Frank's fingers dug into the flesh of her hips, dragging her forward and back on his cock. His eyes were fixed on Alicia's face, but her eyes were closed.

Steven's cock was rock hard inside his trousers. He could feel the precum in his boxers and felt no shame. What he was witnessing was such an erotic spectacle that any man would surely be thrilled by it. Any husband would be thankful to have a wife like Alicia and should be proud to share her.

When Alicia's moans subsided, she opened her eyes and smiled down at her bull. "Time for a change," she said.

Steven looked at the cock as she raised off it. The entire length was coated in her juices, but the teat was empty. Frank hadn't come yet.

Alicia got onto her hands and knees, facing the headboard, showing Frank she wanted him to take her from behind.

"Why don't you turn around to face Steve?" he said. "I'm pretty sure he'd like to watch your face."

She looked surprised, then turned towards Steven. "Sorry, I thought you'd want to watch the in and out bit. Which way d'you want me?"

“I’d like to watch your face,” he confirmed.

She nodded, then gripped her dress and dragged it all the way up and off over her head before repositioning herself so she was widthways on the bed, her face a mere three feet from his. “Is this better?”

“That’s perfect.” Steven watched his wife’s expression as Frank’s cock slid all the way home. Her jaw dropped and her eyes squeezed shut.

He pulled back and pushed in again, and her fingers gripped the sheets. As he started to fuck her with a steady rhythm, it seemed like a struggle for her to open her eyes to look at Steven. Her eyes fluttered and a sob escaped her lips. As Frank upped the pace, Steven watched his wife’s body shake. Her small boobs swayed with his thrusts. The slap of their bodies sent a shockwave through her hips.

“Oh fuck...” Alicia’s voice was a shallow whisper. She looked up at Steven with a worried expression, as if she felt guilty for enjoying being fucked by someone else. “Oh...” She licked her lips, frowning. I’m sorry, she mouthed.

He shook his head and smiled. “Don’t be.”

“I’m going to come again.”

Her voice was a whisper, and he was sure Frank hadn’t heard her. “I know.”

She reached her hand out, and he took it. Frank fucked her harder and Alicia gripped Steven’s hand, letting out a scream. With a grunt, Frank slammed in hard and held still. Steven watched transfixed as his wife and her bull climaxed simultaneously. The smell of sex permeated through her perfume and Franks’s cologne.

All of Steven’s senses overloaded. He knew his wife’s cunt was spasming. Her walls were moving in and out around the thick cylinder of her bull’s cock. He could imagine Frank sending spurt after spurt into the condom, imagine him being milked dry by the relentless grip and release of her climax. And he could sense the resulting wetness from his wife’s orgasm seeping out around the fat shaft impaling her, soaking Frank’s balls as they nestled against her body.

While all this was happening in Steven’s head, his cock was dripping like a tap inside his boxers.

Alicia opened her eyes and looked at him. He tried to smile but suddenly felt tearful. He was so proud of her. She was so beautiful. So sexy.

She moved forward, and Frank's cock slipped out. Alicia sat on the edge of the bed and leaned close, then kissed Steven on his lips. "Was that okay?"

He smiled and nodded. "Oh yeah."

Frank got off the bed and looked over at them. "I'm just going to nip to the bathroom if you two want a few minutes."

Alicia looked puzzled. "What do you mean?"

"I'm just saying..." He nodded at Steven. "One of us is probably still quite horny."

Alicia looked surprised by his offer. "Is that what usually happens when you're with a couple?"

"Everyone's different. Some guys play with themselves while they watch, some don't. Some wives like to give their husbands something, some don't."

Alicia bit her lip and nodded. "I'm going to make him wait."

Frank nodded. "Do whatever works. But I still need the bathroom."

After he'd shut the door, Alicia grinned at Steve. "Do you want me to make you come now?"

"I thought you were going to make me wait."

"I'll suck you off if you want me to."

Her offer was tempting, but he doubted he'd be able to keep quiet. When he came, he'd probably scream. "I'll wait."

"Okay." She raised her eyebrows. "Am I allowed to suck him to get him hard?"

He remembered his frustration from not being able to get a good view of her sucking Jacob's cock. "Will you use a condom?"

She shook her head. "I'll only suck him until he's hard enough to fuck me again. I won't take him all the way."

He thought about it, his chest so tight that his breathing sounded like a wheeze. "Okay."

She smiled and moved back into the middle of the bed. When Frank returned, his cock was bare and hanging down against his thigh. Steven couldn't help but admire the guy's physique. He had a well-defined six-pack and bulging shoulders. His dick was impressive even when flaccid.

Alicia patted the bed next to her and Frank settled down on the mattress. "Tell me about some of your regulars," she said.

“What do you want to know?”

“The woman who flirted and was encouraged to go further, how old is she?”

He shrugged. “Mid-thirties.”

“What does she look like?”

“Short, blonde and curvy.”

“And her husband?”

“Tall, a few years older than her. He’s a nice guy.”

“And what does he like to see you do to his wife?”

Frank hesitated, his eyes darting over to Steven. He was probably wondering what had been said while he’d been in the bathroom. “He likes to watch me make her come. That’s his big thing.”

“His big thing?” Alicia asked.

“Yeah, most people have something they like most. That’s why it’s good to build up an understanding over time. I think she doesn’t always climax when they have sex, so he likes to watch her come with her bulls.”

“She sees others?”

“Of course, yeah. She sees a lot of guys, including a few she sees on a regular basis.” He laughed. “One of her regular playdates involves two black guys.”

“At the same time?” Alicia’s voice had gone up an octave.

“Yeah.”

“What about her husband? Does he watch?”

Frank nodded. “I reckon he gets to see her come numerous times during those dates.” He looked over at Steven, who could barely breathe. “What d’you think, Steve? Would you like to see Lily pleased by two black guys?”

The thought of it made him shiver. “Yeah, I’d like that a lot.”

Alicia stared at him, looking shocked.

“Well, I can get their number if you want.” Frank said. He didn’t seem to notice the look that Steven and Alicia were sharing. “She recommends them very highly.”

Alicia turned to Frank. “Yes please, send me their number. But in the meantime...” She scooted down the bed a little and ran a finger down his cock. “I thought I’d try and get some life back into this.”

Frank lay back on the pillows as Alicia got onto her knees and leaned over him, raking her hair to one side so Steven could see. She nuzzled the shaft with her lips, kissing and licking up the length. Then she opened wide and took the head into her mouth.

Frank's mouth opened in a silent groan, and he glanced over at Steven as if checking this was okay with him. Steven nodded while avoiding eye contact, watching his wife's beautiful face in profile as she worked her magic. The blood rushed to Steven's cock as quickly as it did to Frank's. Within a minute, Alicia's performance had got both men fully erect.

She released Frank from her mouth and reached over for a second condom. "I really wish I could take you bare," she said.

Steven blinked in surprise.

"Me too," Frank said. "Maybe another time."

"Are you suggesting I become one of your regulars?" she asked with a smile.

"Nothing would make me happier."

"And you don't use condoms with your regulars?"

"It depends. With some I always do, with others I don't." He shrugged. "As I said, we build up understandings over time. Some husbands insist on a condom, some prefer me to go in without."

"Interesting." Alicia had the condom out of the wrapper but hadn't yet rolled it onto his cock.

"There has to be trust," Frank explained. "If either the bull or the hotwife has unprotected sex with someone else, they have to get tested before their next date."

"I see." Alicia ran her hand down his dick again. "So if we were to ___"

"I can't. I have a playdate with a regular in the week, and there's no way I could get the test results back in time."

Steven could see her disappointment as she nodded her understanding, but he admired the guy's integrity. He felt pretty sure that most men would have fucked her bareback, given half a chance.

"In that case," Alicia said, rolling the rubber on, "we'll have to make sure we get the timing of our next date better."

"I look forward to it."

Alicia smiled. "So will we."

Steve shifted in his seat. By saying 'we', she'd almost directly told their bull that he was the sort of husband who liked sloppy seconds. The sort of husband who got aroused by knowing another guy had filled his wife with cum. Surprisingly, Steven wasn't ashamed of her revelation.

"So, what are you going to do to me now?" she asked Frank.

"I'll do whatever you want me to do."

She thought about it. "I want you to fuck me slowly. I want to lie on my back and feel you slide that big dick of yours in and out. How does that sound?"

"It sounds awesome."

She turned to Steven. "How does it sound to you?"

He smiled. "Stop talking and spread your legs."

Alicia laughed and looked at Frank. "And to think this is the guy who was shy about his desires."

Frank grinned. "Well, he doesn't seem to be shy about them anymore, so I think you should do as he says and spread your legs."

Alicia started to lie down with her head on the pillow, but Frank shook his head. "Not there, because he won't be able to see your face." He lifted her effortlessly and laid her down across the bed so that her head hung over the edge closest to Steven.

He admired her pert boobs, flat stomach and smooth thighs. As Frank climbed between her legs, Steven realised she still had her shoes on. She bent her knees and dug the heels into the mattress.

Steven gazed down between their bodies as Frank fed his cock into her. Alicia arched up to meet it, letting out a moan as her bull filled her once more. He soon settled into a slow, steady rhythm. Alicia undulated on the bed and let out little whimpers. It went on for several minutes before she opened her eyes and stared into Steven's, her face upside down and her hair hanging down towards the floor.

"He's fucking me," she whispered.

"I can see that."

She was silent for another minute or so, her expression one of concentration as the guy continued to slowly screw her. She winced slightly, and he thrilled at the idea of Frank's big dick hurting her a little. Then she licked her lips and smiled.

“Do you like watching him fuck me?”

Frank’s eyes were squeezed shut as if to give them some relative privacy.

“Yeah,” Steven said quietly. “Very much.”

“Why do you like watching?”

“It turns me on.”

“Yeah? Why?”

“Because you look your sexiest when you’re getting fucked.”

“Do you like that he’s got a big dick?”

Steven was pretty sure he’d enjoy watching even if Frank’s cock was smaller, but there was no denying that her struggle to take him made things more arousing. “Yeah, though probably not as much as you do.”

Alicia smiled. “I love it. I’m going to come on it pretty soon.”

“I thought you might.”

“And then he’s going to come.”

Steven nodded, amazed Frank hadn’t come already. This leisurely fuck seemed to have been going on for a very long time.

Alicia stared deep into his eyes. “When Frank leaves, you’re going to have to take your turn—oh!” She opened her mouth wide and slipped her hands around Frank’s waist. Her hips started to buck and a growl escaped her lips.

Steven watched his wife reach her third orgasm of the evening.

She cried out then raised her head to look up at Frank. “Okay, faster. Fuck me as hard as you like. Fuck me until you come.”

Frank picked up the pace and Alicia thrashed from side to side until the tendons in Frank’s neck stood out and he grunted.

Though understanding the need for protection, Steven still wished there was no rubber barrier to keep the guy’s cum from flooding Alicia’s body. She screamed and jerked as he pounded her. Maybe she’d managed to come yet again.

He was exhausted by the time the pair on the bed stopped moving, so he couldn’t imagine how they must have felt. Frank eventually pulled out and excused himself again.

While he was in the bathroom, Alicia sat up on the bed and finally took off her shoes. Her hair was tousled and her cheeks flushed pink. She had that ‘just fucked’ look that made him yearn for her.

When Frank returned, he started to dress.

“Is that all I’m getting?” Alicia asked, a teasing smile on her face.

He laughed and shook his head. “No, but it’s all you’re getting from me.”

Steven wondered if all bulls could read the room as well as Frank did. He was desperate for his turn, and the guy seemed to know it.

Alicia got off the bed and walked over to Frank. Without her shoes, she looked tiny beside him. “But we’ll have another playdate, right?”

“Yes please.”

“And you’ll send me the number of the two black gentlemen?”

He nodded, then looked over at Steven. “That’s one date you’ll want to film.”

Alicia’s head snapped up. “You mean make a video?”

“Yeah. Most husbands capture playdates on their phones. Some even use a tripod because if they’re using one hand to jack off, they get a shaky image.”

Steven was surprised that Frank seemed to accept being filmed having sex as something perfectly normal. Being able to re-watch what had happened tonight would have been a big bonus. He’d definitely video Alicia’s next playdate.

As Frank slipped his jacket on, Steven stood, hoping all the precum hadn’t seeped through onto his chinos. “Do you want me to escort you down to—?”

“No, I’ll find my way. You stay here and...” He smiled at Alicia. “I’m sure you two have got more pressing things to do.”

Alicia stood on tiptoes to kiss him, but Frank still needed to bend quite a way for their lips to meet. “We’ll do this again,” she whispered.

He smiled and nodded, then let himself out without another word.

Alicia looked at Steven, her expression a little apprehensive. “What did you think?”

“I think we should talk later.”

She walked straight to him. As they kissed, he undid his shirt while she opened his belt and trouser buttons. He was naked in seconds and they slipped under the covers. The sheets felt cool and clean, but Alicia felt hot and dirty. Her chest was damp with sweat, her thighs sticky from her own secretions. Her sex felt like a puddle of heat. He slipped two fingers into it.

“Go inside me,” she whispered.

“I’m scared it won’t be anything like what you’ve just had.”

“Shut up.”

He removed his fingers and guided himself inside her. He’d been afraid that she’d still be stretched out from Frank’s dick, but her channel closed snugly around him and he shuddered.

“Does that feel nice?” she asked.

Looking down into her beautiful face, he laughed. “It feels much better than nice.”

“Do you wish I was full of cum?”

“You soon will be.”

“Good.” She slipped her arms around his waist and moved with him. “Just come whenever you’re ready, and in the morning you can have your own sloppy seconds.”

Steven watched her face as he slowly slid in and out. He’d always considered her to be everything he ever wanted, yet now she was so much more. He stopped moving as he approached his release. Alicia held his gaze and kept rolling her hips, edging him ever closer to the line in the most delicious way.

She smiled. “Let it go.”

He sighed. A shiver ran down his back and his legs began to tremble. His breath caught as she clenched around him. An involuntary grunt accompanied his first eruption. Alicia moaned and bucked beneath him, and he resumed his thrusts. She clung to him as he banged her hard, filling her up as all the pent-up tension ebbed from his aching muscles.

They finally stilled. He opened his eyes to see her smiling up at him.

“Happy Birthday,” she said.

He checked his watch. It was ten past midnight. “Thanks.” He went to withdraw, but she held him where he was.

“Stay there.”

“Will you be able to come?”

She laughed and shook her head. “No, and I don’t need to. I want closeness.”

He stroked her cheek. “I think tonight was even better for me than the night with Jacob.”

“Really? But you got to join in with Jacob.”

“Yeah, but just watching you was enough.”

“Wow.”

He smiled. “You’re very sexy when you have a big cock inside you.”

She shook her head as if embarrassed.

“And the next time you take a bull, I’m going to film it so you can see exactly how sexy you look.”

“You’d be happy to do this again?”

He laughed. “God, yeah. Tonight was much less intimidating than I’d feared.”

“And what if I were to meet up with the two black guys?” she asked. “Would that be intimidating?”

“For me or for you?”

She laughed. “It would definitely be intimidating for me. I don’t know if I’d be able to handle that.”

“Course you will.”

Alicia looked excited at the prospect. “We’ll need to sort out how we’re going to do it, though. We can’t expect my parents to have the kids every time we have a playdate.”

Steven had already given this some thought. “We’ll arrange to meet them earlier, in the afternoon if we need to travel. Becky can sit for us, and we’ll be back quite early.”

She smiled. “I like that you’ve been planning ahead.”

“I’ve also thought about other things.”

“Oh?”

“Your older guy, with the cars...”

“Charles. What about him?”

“You can still meet up with him if you want to.”

She shook her head. “My whoring days are—”

“I’m not suggesting you charge him. Just have him as one of your regulars. He may not have a huge cock, but you mentioned feeling a sense of power when you’re with him.”

She was staring at him with wide eyes.

He shrugged. “It’s up to you, but I thought I’d mention it. Get a hotel room and do him in a bed.”

“And when I get home?”

“You’ll have to tell me all about it.”

Her eyes sparkled. “I quite like that idea.”

They lay in silence for several minutes, and his cock eventually slipped out.

“I’m going to leak all over the sheets,” she whispered.

“It’s what’s expected. Everyone fucks in hotel rooms.”

“Not everyone fucks two men, though.”

He laughed. “No, not everyone. Just sluts.”

“It’s your fault I’m a slut.”

“Is it?”

“Maybe not, but I’m blaming you anyway.”

Steven thought about how this had started. His momentary lapse in Prague had triggered something that had changed the sexual landscape of their marriage forever. Since returning from the stag weekend, he’d had sex with five different women and couldn’t begin to count the number of men Alicia had been with. But the numbers didn’t matter anymore.

There was no longer any need for them to seek hired help. He didn’t want anybody else, and there was a seemingly endless list of men who were happy to give Alicia exactly what she wanted.

Or to be more accurate, to give her what they both wanted.

A Hotwife's Journey

Her key in the door made his heart race. He listened as she came up the stairs, then held his breath when she walked into the bedroom. He couldn't help staring. Her clothes were twisted, her makeup was smudged, and her hair was dishevelled.

She's fucked someone.

Karen walked to the foot of the bed and looked into his face. "I did it."

He swallowed.

She pulled her top over her head and dropped it on the floor, then pushed her skirt down over her hips and kicked it away. Slowly, she unclipped her bra at the front. As the cups came away, he saw a love bite on one of her breasts. Karen held his gaze as she pushed her thong down her legs and then bent to pick it up, holding it open so he could see the gooey mess soaked into the crotch.

It was another man's cum, and it'd dribbled out of her during the drive home. The guy had deposited it deep in her cunt, and she'd returned home to her pervert husband to show him the evidence.

Nigel ached for her.

After her husband's open invitation to become a hotwife, Karen enjoys a variety of surprises and adventures that are hotter than any wife could wish for.

This collection covers her entire journey.

Karen's Open Invitation

Nigel is a lucky man. He has everything a man could want: a successful and beautiful wife, a happy marriage, two wonderful daughters, a nice home and his own business.

So why risk it all just to satisfy his dirty fantasy?

When Karen's throwaway comment about a hot colleague in the Sweden office unlocks the door to his secret desires, he offers her the chance to have a little fun; to mix business with pleasure.

Nigel has fantasised about sharing his wife for a long time. And from the way Karen's been behaving lately, he suspects the idea appeals to her, too.

But there's a big difference between fantasy and reality.

Will she take up his suggestion and have a passionate tryst with a virtual stranger while attending an overseas meeting? Neither know the answer when she leaves for the airport, but she doesn't have to make her decision straight away. She can see how the meeting pans out. After all, it's an open invitation...

Karen's Party Surprise

Nigel is amazed by how Karen's taken to her new role as a hotwife. Not only does she give herself freely to strangers, but she also thrills her husband by giving him all the juicy details he craves when she gets home.

Their sex-life is better than ever.

Nigel realises that an upcoming company get together will mean that they'll be staying in the same hotel as Sean, the first man he ever shared her with. He offers Karen the chance to enjoy another night of passion, and they hatch a plan that could work. But Sean comes up with a counteroffer that's just too good to refuse.

For a wife-sharing couple like Nigel and Karen, it's the ultimate party surprise...

Karen's Holiday Adventures

Life keeps getting better and better for Nigel. His long-held wife-sharing fantasy is now his reality, and he couldn't be happier.

Or at least that's what he thinks until his wife reveals her plans for a break.

Their daughters are going away with their cousin's family, so Karen books a holiday for the two of them—on a Caribbean island. What's more, she promises to make it a fun-filled week where nothing is off-limits.

Under the hot tropical sun of St Lucia, Nigel learns just how hot his hotwife can be.

He's shocked by the diversity of her sexual appetite, but then she did promise him an 'anything goes' holiday adventure...

Extramarital Pursuits

Michelle climbed up off the lounge and turned to face Harry. Lucas's sunglasses still hid her eyes, and his cum still covered her chest and stomach.

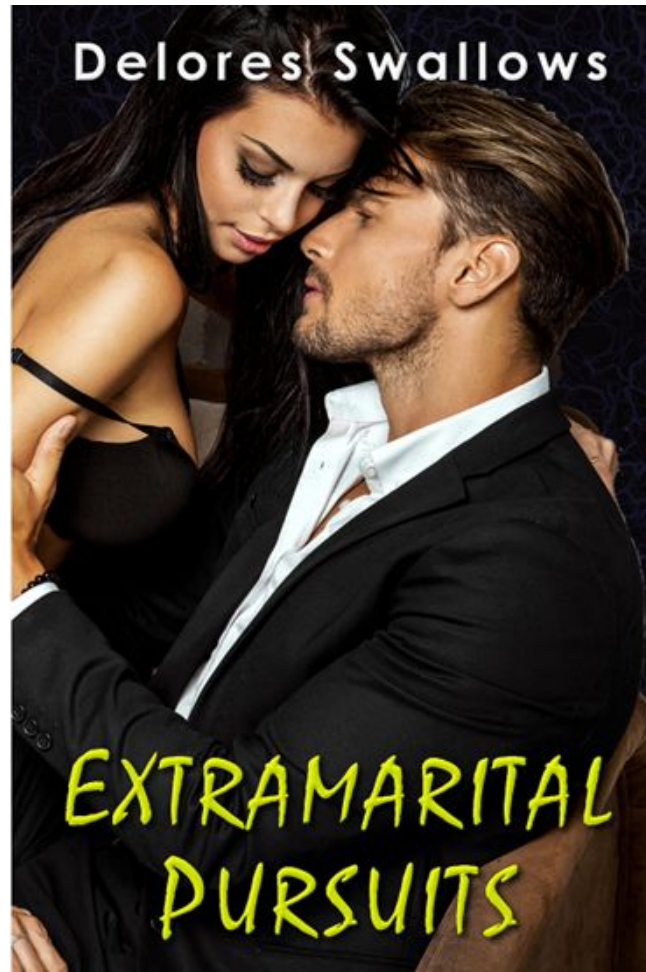

She tilted her head to one side and smiled. "Take my picture."

Harry did so, taking at least ten shots.

“And now shoot a video,” she ordered.

Harry obeyed, selecting the correct option and pressing the red button.

Michelle smeared the cum all over her stomach and breasts while looking directly into the lens. “I have a confession—this isn’t my husband’s cum. My husband has just watched another man fuck me, and I know he enjoyed it almost as much as I did.” She licked her lips. “And when we get home, my husband is going to use me for his pleasure, and then he’s going to come all over me as well.” Michelle gave her most beautiful smile. “I love my life.”

The complete sordid trilogy...

Operation Cuckold

Harry's having problems rising to the occasion and discovers Michelle's been using porn to help take care of things herself. He suggests she lives out her fantasy of a one-night stand, but is shocked by how much he gets out of it. As they repeat the experience with other men, pretty soon neither can stand the idea of going back to what they had before, even though Michelle pushes Harry right out of his comfort zone.

A cuck and bull story about a very happy hotwife.

Stag Nights

Harry and Michelle are now fully entrenched in their new wife-sharing lifestyle. Michelle is proving to be one of the hottest hotwives around, with bulls waiting in line to take turns. Literally. As Michelle gets more of what she craves, she pushes Harry further into the role of the cuckold and he's presented with situations he finds hard to accept. Things look like they might be going awry until a helpful bull called Ben explains that not all wife-sharing husbands need to be cucks...

Unleashing the Bull

When Josh's ex-girlfriend asks to meet for coffee, his hopes that they might get back together are crushed by news of her whirlwind romance and marriage. He offers his congratulations through gritted teeth, still besotted enough to agree to meet her again just days later. This time, Olivia's more provocative, more flirtatious, and she tells him exactly what part of him she misses the most. Caught up in a rush of emotions which steamroll over his morals, he goes back to her upmarket townhouse and indulges in what he's been missing. Her behaviour—coarser, sluttier—puzzles him, but that doesn't stop him going back for more. And then she tells him that her husband wants to meet him. Josh is stunned to find that her husband is a cuckold who actively encourages their liaisons. Hotwife Olivia, with her husband's help, convinces Josh that he has the physical attributes and stamina to service not just her, but several of her friends. Rising to the challenge, he becomes Ben the Bull, and loves every minute of it. As he explains to a friend, his life is full of dates with gorgeous women interested in having hot, dirty sex and nothing more. Surely, no red-blooded man could want for anything more than that...?

Take My Wife

After about fifteen minutes, Sophie leaned up on her elbow and started to kiss Joel, ready to continue with her night of passion. As she pushed the quilt down the bed with her foot, Jim saw that her hand was gripping Joel's dick, slowly masturbating him. Joel was already hard. Evidently, he was ready for more, too. Jim wondered how long Sophie had been playing with him. Sophie climbed on top of him, feeding his thick dick inside her.

Jim knelt on the bed next to their legs and watched as his wife slowly made love to the other man. Her head was buried against Joel's shoulder, her long tousled hair a dark fan over the pillow, hiding both their faces. Their bodies moved together in a slow, sensual dance. From his position on the bed, Jim had a perfect view of their union. With each slow, upward movement of Sophie's hips he could see Joel's slippery hardness, partially exposed for a second or two before it disappeared again inside the dark pinkness. Joel was holding Sophie's hips in his hands, moving her on him. Jim stretched his hand out and gently stroked the back of Sophie's leg, aroused to feel her thigh muscles working as she rode his friend.

There was a layer of perspiration on Sophie's back, giving her a sultry, exotic look in the dim yellow light. Their lovemaking seemed to go on for a long time before Sophie reached her climax. She was very vocal as she came – muffled moans and sighs as the current built up, urgent grunts as the waves swelled inside her, then screams and shouts as the waves broke into an explosion of pleasure. Finally, she let out grateful cries and whimpers as she rode the final waves.

The epic saga of how a really dirty fantasy becomes a fantastically dirty reality. All three books under one sweaty cover.

Bon Voyeur

Another man in their bed? Madness! Sophie and Jim had never done it before—heck, it was only supposed to be a fantasy to get them in the mood for each other. What if Sophie likes it too much? What if Jim has second thoughts when he sees his beautiful wife taken by another man? What if she enjoys the other man more because he has more to offer?

When the perfect opportunity presents, though, they both jump at the chance.

Joel is tall, handsome, and so much bigger than even Sophie expected! Best of all, he's moving to the other side of the world, so they need never see him again. If Jim plays this right, Joel won't even suspect the stranger they're sharing is his loving wife.

Watching his beautiful Sophie—so vulnerable, so unprotected, so utterly owned—Jim experiences a powerful revelation. It's sure been fun having a gorgeous wife all to himself, but it's much more fun to share.

Abuse of Power

Jim's learning things about himself that he never knew. Surprising things. Like how much he enjoys watching his wife lose herself with another man. Sophie's learning as well, like how when it comes to male attention, for her it's a case of the more the merrier.

And Sophie loves getting merry. You might say she's becoming addicted. Sometimes she needs it so bad she'll take the initiative herself, even when Jim is not around. For most men, that might be a problem, but Jim is not most men. Just knowing what his loving wife is doing without him, giving herself to those men, letting them have her in every way they can... Yes, he gets jealous, but if Sophie tells him everything, how she becomes so needy that she simply relinquishes her will, it can be almost as good as being there.

Drunk on the seemingly inexhaustible depth of his wife's libido, Jim oversteps at a swinging party and starts directing Sophie's lovers, telling them where they should finish. Finally, Sophie cracks. Sticky, degraded, angry, she strikes back and gives her cuckold husband a taste of his own medicine... or at least, her lovers' medicine.

Global Playground

Jim is a simple man with simple needs. He lives in a nice house on a nice street, he's got a good job, and he plays tennis to wind down. And on weekends he kisses his wife Sophie goodbye when she goes off to swingers' parties to service her ever-escalating needs. Billionaires, porn stars, dancers—one at a time or all at once, it doesn't matter to Sophie. She'll take it every way she can get it and relay all the juicy details to Jim when she gets home.

Life is good. Too good, you might say. For a voyeur like Jim, his open marriage is damn near perfect. Little bit of wife-watching, little bit of playing around... what more could a man want? Well there's only one answer to the eternal question, and that's the eternal truth. He want's what he can't have—romantic dates, curling up in front of a fire, sweet togetherness—and while Sophie is off jet-setting with wealthy men to service her needs, Jim falls into a comfortable friendship with Naomi, a stunning older woman and self-described cougar.

For a man who's known nothing but chocolate-chip, where's the harm in trying vanilla for once? Just a little taste... maybe a scoop...

A Loaned Wife's Journey

Julian was waiting in the kitchen, and his eyes widened when he saw the state of her.

She glanced down at herself, then looked at him and shrugged. "I got caught in the storm."

He raked his eyes over her body in the dress. He stared at her soaked new shoes, then looked into her face.

She couldn't read his expression. He looked somewhere between desperate and angry. "Do you want to go upstairs?"

"Here's fine," he rasped. Stepping close, he pushed her against the kitchen wall.

Nicole gasped in shock as he roughly mauled her breasts through her soaked dress.

"How was your bull?"

She stared up into dark eyes, unsure how to react. Her note had been the first time she could remember using the term. "He was fine."

Julian yanked at the belt of her dress. "I'm sure he was. And how did he enjoy your visit?"

She'd never seen Julian behave this way. Though not scared, she was a little unnerved. As her dress was pulled open to reveal her underwear, Nicole arched her back to push out her chest. "I think he enjoyed it."

"I'm sure he did." With an expression that was almost a sneer, Julian reached down and pushed his hand between her legs.

Nicole's breath caught as he stabbed two fingers into her cunt. She reached up and gripped the back of his head. "He loved his blowjob."

"And did you play with yourself?"

"No. I thought I'd wait to do that with you."

"So you didn't come for your bull?"

"No. I just sucked his cock."

He smiled and fingered her harder. "But you like him to make you come."

"Sometimes."

"But not this time?"

Her legs were starting to tremble as she edged closer to her release. “No, this time I just did what you wanted me to do.”

“You didn’t want his cock?”

“I only wanted it in my mouth.”

“And that’s all you got?”

The wave was about to break. “Well, not just his cock...” She gasped, clenching around his fingers as they curled inside her. “I got his... cum in my mouth, too.”

As he opened his mouth to answer, she gripped his hair, pulled his head forward and pushed her tongue into his mouth. Julian groaned and moved his tongue against hers, pumping his arm as she came, her inner muscles spasming against his fingers.

Nicole wrestled with the buttons of his trousers, forcing them open and pulling his cock towards her. Her shoes were so high he managed to enter her standing up. She screamed as his hot cock pierced her cold body. He slammed into her and she came again, crying out as he yanked down her corset to free her breasts.

Wrapping one leg around his, she clung to him as he fucked her with force, his fingers pinching and twisting her nipples.

She sensed his anger. His frustration. His need. “Give me your cum.”

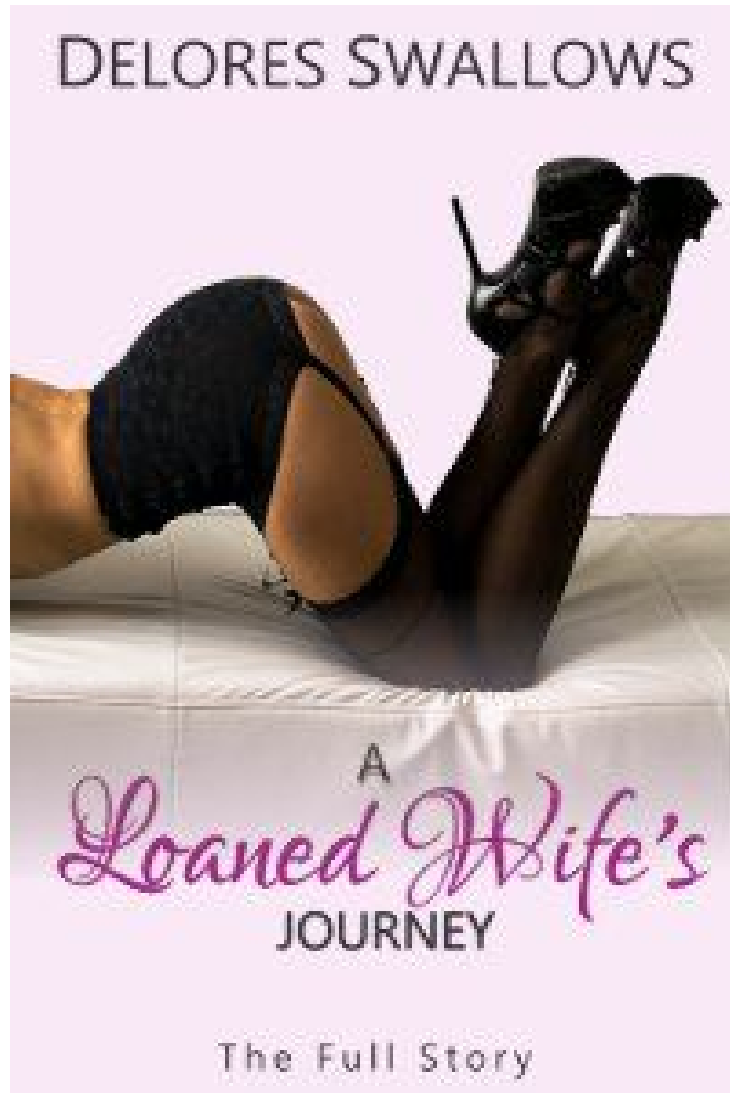

He stared into her eyes and kept pounding her.

“I want your cum.”

His eyes narrowed. “Slut.”

“Yes, I’m a slut. Now, give me your cum, because I’ve already had his.”

Julian’s mouth opened and his body shuddered as he fulfilled her request.

The full story of Nicole and Julian's adventures in the world of wife-sharing...

Entertaining His Boss – Julian's the perfect husband—kind, loving and loyal—yet Nicole had still allowed herself to stray with a colleague. But that was in the past. She'd learned her lesson.

At least she thought she had... until Julian invites his new boss around for dinner.

Ciaran is the exact opposite of Julian. He's probably never had a selfless moment in his life, but he's incredibly sexy, and seemingly captivated by her. After much flirting over pudding, she agrees to help him with his bookkeeping for a private business venture.

In the privacy of Ciaran's office the following week, she allows him to kiss her, and more.

She's just beginning to swim in the pool of self-loathing when something Ciaran says alerts her to the fact that her husband has a few secrets of his own. When she gets home that day, Nicole and Julian have a discussion that changes things forever...

Serving Both Partners - Everything's changing for Nicole.

Julian's promotion means they get to live in a fabulous home. And he's changing, too. Gone is the loveable-bumbler; in his place, a self-assured senior manager who takes control in the boardroom and the bedroom. Whether that confidence is a result of his new position at work or his decision to share his wife, Nicole isn't sure—but she's sure reaping the benefits.

Not only does her husband buy sexy lingerie and shoes for her to thrill her bull, he sometimes dictates what happens on her dates. He even encourages her to enjoy new adventures when the opportunity arises.

But life's not all plain sailing. They both learn that in an open relationship, openness is just as important as a stellar libido. Secrets have no place in wife-sharing.

When Ciaran reveals he's developing feelings for her, Nicole reminds him of the rules between hotwife and bull: they only share physical pleasure.

He puts her theory to the test by inviting his business partner along to one of their dates, offering her the chance to experience twice the physical pleasure. Though annoyed by his manipulation, a phone conversation with Julian convinces her to make the most of the opportunity. Nicole follows his advice.

The perfect husband is hard to find but, for a loaned wife, there's a long list of bulls waiting for their chance...

Approved by The Board - After Ciaran decided to share her with his business partner, Nicole knows it's time to move on. Only her husband gets to share her. Ciaran was just her bull, and the bullpen's full of alternatives for a beautiful hotwife—alternatives like the gregarious couple next door.

Unable to accept that their kinky times are over, Ciaran persuades Nicole to accompany him to Ireland on a business trip to charm a bank manager and join his firm's get-together in Galway. Angered by his deviousness on the first day, Nicole makes him pay on the second, getting along too well with his colleagues for his liking.

Set against the backdrop of a global pandemic, Nicole finds just how good life as loaned wife can be. And her husband's suggestion means that once the travel restrictions are lifted, her adventures will get even better...
