X Flies

A collection of four hot stories about the illicit thrill derived from having sex with a stranger.

End of the Line - Kerry's husband wants sexy texts to read during a long train journey, and she obliges—revealing fantasies they'd never discussed face to face. But when he tells her he's lost his phone, she goes a lot further than sending just texts.

Hors d'Oeuvres - English art student, Denny, finds himself sitting opposite a strange couple on a late night train out of Paris. The guy is huge, drunk and sleepy. The girl is tiny, sexy and very forward.

Character Reference - On the night before her interview Angela takes a mild tranquiliser to calm her nerves, but the only thing relaxed is her inhibitions. Having had very little sleep, she needs to think fast next morning to answer all the awkward questions thrown at her.

Trade - Denise's husband assures her his obsession with wife-swapping doesn't mean he wants a different life-partner—and she discovers a short-term trade can be a lot of fun.

End of the Line

Kerry's phone rang and she looked at the caller ID: Phil – work. She picked up. "Hello, you."

"Hi. Listen, one of the other guys called in sick, so I've just been told I've got to take his place doing an audit at the Aberdeen office today."

"Oh, okay. So how long will it take?"

"I'll come home and grab a few overnight things, then get a train out from Euston that'll bring me back just before six tomorrow night. I should be able to finish all the work by tomorrow morning if I work late tonight."

"I'll be working from home this afternoon as well because my car's going in the garage for a service. Maybe we'll have time for a quickie before you leave?"

"Now that would be great, but my train leaves in about an hour. I'll be cutting it fine as it is."

"Okay. Have a nice trip."

"Nice? I'm going to spend the entire afternoon sitting on a train reading up on all the things I'll need to check while I'm there. It'll be duller than dull."

"That's your fault for being an accountant."

"Very funny, especially coming from a statistician. But maybe you could make my journey a little less tedious by sending me some smutty texts to keep me from dying of boredom."

Kerry smiled, pleasantly surprised. "I could do that, if you like."

* * * *

After she'd dropped her car off, Kerry sent Phil her first message during the short walk home. What kind of sex-talk do you want me to send you?

She heard the 'ping' of a received text on her phone as she walked up their drive. Checking the screen, she saw Phil had replied. She didn't bother reading it until she'd removed her coat and plated up the filled bagel she'd bought from the deli round the corner. She poured herself a drink of fizzy water, went to sit on the couch in the living room, and opened Phil's message.

Tell me the last thing you saw on TV that turned you on?

Kerry was surprised by his request. She thought about it for a while and struggled to remember any shows that had interested her, let alone turned her on. But then there was that documentary she'd seen a few weeks earlier.... She felt a smile grow as she typed. A documentary on dogging.

Dogging turns you on??

God no! Most of the people on the show were really sad. But one woman said something that appealed to me. She revealed she and her husband parked their car at the arranged spot and then she lay on the back seat with the car doors open. Her husband would stand and watch as a group of men lined up to take turns at his wife.

Another quick reply followed. And that turned you on?

Yes, a bit. She said she didn't want any of them to try and make love to her for an hour, or to try varying positions. As she put it, she just wanted them to 'come and then go'. THAT bit turned me on.

Kerry felt almost guilty for revealing this to him, because she knew it made her sound like a slag.

So you'd want a stranger to just come and then go? What if he came before you did? Phil obviously couldn't see her point.

That's not a problem – there are six other blokes waiting to take his place.

Is that what the lady on the TV said, or is that your view?

Both. She said sometimes she doesn't come until the fourth or fifth guy. Sometimes she doesn't come until she and her husband get back home, and her husband has her.

When there was no response for several minutes, Kerry didn't know if Phil was thinking about what to write, or whether he'd lost signal. Maybe his train was going through a tunnel. She finished the last of her lunch and took her plate and glass through to the kitchen. On her way back to the living room, the doorbell chimed. She signed for a box and headed back to the couch, where she finally had a reply. Would you wait until we got home?

Of course not. Kerry smiled as she wrote her reply. I'd come with the second, fourth and sixth men. And I'd be too sore when we got home so you'd have to sort yourself out!! Before she got a reply, she sent another message. New shoes I ordered on-line have just arrived. She added several smiley faces.

Send me a photo of your shoes. Apparently the dogging conversation was over.

Smiling as she opened the box, she kicked off her own shoes and tried on one of the new ones, which were pale lilac suede with an peep-toe and a three-inch stiletto heel. She tried on the other, held her legs out straight and took a picture with her phone, attaching it to her next message. What do you think of these babies?

Nice. But I'd like to see a better picture. Take one in a mirror so I can see the heels from the side.

Enjoying herself now, she went upstairs to the full length mirror in their bedroom and stood sideways-on. She took another picture, which showed the shoes in a much more flattering way. She sent it off and got back on track with the sex-talk. How would you like to feel these heels scraping down the backs of your legs?

Yes please! But make the picture a bit sexier. Lift your skirt up and show a bit more leg.

She stood back by the mirror, pulled her skirt up with one hand and took another picture. Then another pose, this time kicking one leg up behind her, bending her knee until her calf was at right-angles. The sort of pose film-stars used in advertising posters. She hit 'Send'.

Then another idea – she climbed onto the bed and propped her heels up on the bed frame, checking the view through the lens on her phone screen. She let her knees fall apart slightly to show the heels properly, pulled her skirt further up her legs and took the picture. When she checked the image on the screen she was a little shocked at how effective it was. It showed a lot of thigh, and her legs were open and inviting. It gave the impression that she was naked apart from her shoes. If only she'd owned some hand-cuffs, she could clip them to her ankles, too.

There was a reply to her model pose. Much sexier. I like this one a lot.

Kerry attached her bed pose photo and added another tag she hoped he'd find sexy. Maybe I should stay like this until you get home...

What would you have me do to you?

This seemed such an odd phrase for him to use because he didn't talk like that. Kerry wondered if other people were sitting close by and he was rushing his texts. She liked the idea of him being shocked and embarrassed while strangers were sitting next to him. She made her way back downstairs while thumbing her reply. Well obviously you'd have to fuck me. Hard. But you wouldn't be allowed to come until I told you to.

All thoughts of continuing work on her spreadsheets had gone; she was enjoying herself far too much to think about statistical analyses. She wandered into the kitchen and poured herself a glass from the open bottle of Sauvignon-Blanc in the fridge. Carrying it back to the living room, she heard the next text arrive.

How long would I have to last?

Kerry took a large mouthful of the chilled wine. Long enough for me to come twice.

I'm not sure I could wait that long.

She considered the options before sending her reply. In that case, bring a couple of our dogging friends home with you. They can take your place if you can't manage your end of the deal.

She had another drink of wine as she waited for his response. A tingling began between her legs at the freedom of these texts.

You'd have them instead of having me?

Don't be silly - you're my husband. I'd have them AFTER I've had you.

Her phone 'pinged' twice in quick succession.

She opened the first one.

Could I stay and watch?

She was considering her answer when she opened the second message.

Better yet, could we all have you at the same time?

Kerry realised she was actually turned on. She could feel the wetness building between her legs. I'll have to think about that one. Why don't you catch up on some audit-reading while I decide which I'd prefer, one after the other or three at once?

How can I concentrate on anything else now?

I'm sure you'll manage somehow...

Leaving her phone on the coffee table, Kerry went to replenish her wine glass. She was surprised at the texts they'd shared. Their content — both received and sent — were very unlike the conversations they had when they were face to face, and she was unsure why that should be. Was that why chat-rooms were so popular now? There was no denying the effect the texts were having on her. She felt a little silly, and briefly wondered if she'd admit to Phil just how much she'd enjoyed them.

It was twenty minutes later when she heard his next reply. She smiled and leaned forwards to pick up her mobile when the landline started to ring. She carried her mobile across to the dresser, picked up, and recited their number.

"Hi, it's me." Phil's voice was clear, but there was a lot of background noise on the line.

She glanced at her mobile screen, confused. The text was also from Phil. Barely seconds ago. Maybe he wanted to hear her talk dirty in person. She put on what she hoped was a sexy voice. "What can I do for you, darling?"

Phil hesitated. "Kerry?"

She reverted to her own voice. "Yes, it's me. What's up?"

"I'm just changing trains at Leeds, so I've got a fifteen minute wait. I thought I'd call to let you know I've lost my phone."

Kerry's tongue seemed to stop working, but her mind was racing.

When she didn't reply, Phil spoke again. "I think I've left my mobile in the coffee bar at Euston."

Her mobile screen alerted her to another sext from somebody who wasn't her husband. "You idiot," was all she managed to say.

"I know. I'll try and phone you from the Aberdeen office later tonight to let you know how it's going, but now I need to phone the office to let them know they won't be able to contact me on my mobile."

Phil wasn't the only 'idiot'. How could she have been so stupid? She knew Phil's phone wasn't PIN-protected and anyone could just pick it up and use it. She used to warn him people could find his phone and call all their friends around the world and he would have to pay for their calls, but he'd pointed out his was a work phone, so he didn't care.

“... so I’ll hopefully speak to you later.”

She jumped as his voice broke back into her panic-mode. “Sorry, yeah. Okay, bye.” Kerry put down the phone and walked back to the couch with her mobile. She opened the message.

This is killing me. I can’t think about anything else. Tell me your answer!!

Kerry started to write an angry reply. The game’s up, so fuck off you pervert. Her thumb hovered over Send for a few seconds, but she deleted her message. Her mind kicked into overdrive. The most likely scenario was some teenager had now got the phone and was having a good laugh at her expense. Or maybe it was a gang of them, all egging each other on with ideas of what to write. Then another thought crossed her mind. What if it really was Phil, and he wanted to see what she’d do now she thought it wasn’t him she’d been texting? She put her phone back on the coffee table and picked up the wine. She sipped as she thought about what she should do next. Her thoughts meandered a while. Play it safe and not reply? Or punish Phil’s underhandedness — if it was him testing her — by cutting loose even more. She finally picked up her phone and typed.

I know my answer, but just out of curiosity, what would your preference be?

All three at once.

Kerry couldn’t decide if she thought it really was Phil or a stranger. She felt fairly sure now that it was a stranger, and this somehow removed all boundaries on what she could write. She found herself wanting to write a whole load of shocking things that she could never write to her husband. And what would you all do to me?

What would you want us to do?

Kerry decided to let her imagination answer for her. I’d want to be kissed and licked all over until I was really turned on. Then I’d do some licking and kissing on the three of you to make sure you were all turned on as well. Do you think you would be?

Yes, I’m sure all three of us would be standing to attention.

Kerry held her breath. Good. Then I’d climb onto the bed and point out there were three dicks in the room, and that I had three holes that needed filling.

She re-read her text before sending it. This was probably the filthiest thing she'd ever written, and she had never spoken to anyone like this. Although she'd performed oral sex on Phil quite a few times in the past, it wasn't something that they'd done much of lately. What's more, she and Phil had only actually tried anal sex once, on holiday last year, when she'd been drunk. Her fuzzy memory of it was more discomfort than pleasure. Sure, they'd both had intense climaxes at the end of it, but that was more to do with Phil's fingers rubbing her clit than where his dick had been.

Waiting for a reply, Kerry finished her second glass of wine and poured the remainder from the bottle into her glass. She went to put another bottle into the fridge to chill.

When the text arrived she lay back on the couch to read it.

Which hole would I get?

Kerry was enjoying herself again, no longer bothered about being deceived.

Seeing as you're my husband, you can take your pick. Which hole do you want to go in?

Ping.

Don't you mean which hole do I want to 'come' in?

Kerry considered how to make her answer as crude as possible. No, none of you get to come in there. You all have to come on my face.

She bit her lip as she waited for the reply. She realised she was also squeezing her thighs together.

I can't choose. I want them all.

She read the reply and wondered again if it really was Phil. In that case let's forget your dogging friends and I'll have just you.

That sounds better. What will you do to me?

Smiling to herself, she made her way up to the bedroom and picked up a bottle of nail varnish and a bottle of baby oil from her dressing table. She took them back downstairs and spent a few minutes carefully painting her fingernails bright red. Then she picked up her phone and took a photo of her left hand gripping the bottle of baby oil. She attached the photo to a text.

First of all I'll give you a full body massage...

Ping. There were no words in the replying text, just a smiley face.

Curling the fingers of her left hand into a loose fist as if she were gripping a cock, she took another photo, adding: Then I'll massage just the interesting part of your body...

Before there was time for a reply, she had another idea. She placed the phone in her other hand and took a photo of her right hand, palm up with her second and third fingers curled upwards.

And while I do that to you I'll also be fingering myself...

The reply arrived while she was applying more lipstick to her mouth.

I'm hard just thinking about it.

Kerry wondered if this was true, then realised she wanted him to be hard. She toggled her camera to selfie mode and snapped a photo of her face. She checked the image, and then took two more. When she'd chosen her favourite one, she used the software on her phone to crop the photo so it showed just her mouth; her lips were cherry red and slightly parted, and looked very inviting. She attached it to her next text. Then I'm going to put your dick in here... The pause at the other end of the line gave her time to start searching the internet on her laptop for other handy snapshots.

Ping.

Can I come in your mouth? I want to come in your mouth.

She soon found a suitably disgusting close-up of a woman's genitalia. What's more, it was shaved. Kerry aimed her phone at the screen and snapped the picture. A little more cropping with her software and she had a nice close-up of a shaven pussy. She sent this picture with her next message.

You can come in my mouth if you want to, but not until I've had your dick inside here for long enough to make me come!

Ping. This time the smiley face had red cheeks and his tongue hanging out.

Kerry smiled and walked to the fridge. Instead of taking out the wine, she took out a carton of natural yogurt. She looked at the liquid, and put a couple of spoonfuls into a cup. She added a few drops of milk and stirred it around with a spoon, testing its consistency. Then she tipped up the cup and took a mouthful. Walking back to the living room, she picked up her phone and flicked to selfie mode again. She opened her mouth slightly and let the liquid dribble onto her chin. She took three photos, one after the other. Then she wiped away the mess with a tissue and studied the photos. They were all disgusting, but the one she liked the most showed her painted lips parted and just the tip of her tongue showing, with a large glob of cream-coloured liquid oozing its way down her chin. She cropped the photo to remove the rest of her face and looked at the image; the colour of the liquid was too yellow, not the glassy-white shade of real semen. She used the software on her phone to convert the image to black and white. Suddenly it looked amazingly real. She was shocked at just how sexy the photo was.

She sent this image with the added line: Then you can go back into my mouth and leave me looking like this...

Ping.

I am so horny it hurts.

She knew immediately what she wanted to happen next. Then I suggest you find yourself somewhere private like a toilet cubicle. Text me when you're there.

* * * *

Kerry made her way back up to her bedroom and lay on their bed. His reply buzzed in.

I'm sitting in a small locked room.

Kerry smiled, satisfied.

Take your dick in your hand and describe what it looks like.

Ping.

Big. Hard. Wet.

Kerry licked her lips, enjoying the taste of her lipstick.

Wrap your hand around it and wank yourself very slowly. Pretend it's me doing it to you.

Ping.

Tell me what you're going to be doing.

Leaning over to her bedside cabinet, she removed her vibrator. She held it up in front of her and raised a knee to support her hand. Through the phone lens she saw a naked knee lying on a bed, with the black cock-shaped vibrator pointing up at the ceiling.

I'm going to pretend this is your dick and make myself come with it.

While waiting, she teased her clit with the vibrator.

Another sext: Who do you think will come first?

Kerry tugged the gusset of her panties aside and eased the toy inside, rocking her hips a little as she pulled it deeper. Then she held herself still while she tried to type her reply. Twice she had to correct typos.

Let's make it a race...

Then she dropped her phone onto the bed at her side and rolled over onto her stomach; this was the position she preferred when she used her vibrator. She pushed it deep inside, thrust herself onto it and came immediately. The intensity made her cry out; biting her lip, she rolled onto her back and pushed the vibrator in even further. She used both hands to move it quickly in and out, arching her back and raising herself off the bed. Kerry was grunting like an animal when she heard a text arrive. She left the phone unattended as she pounded herself with the toy until she reached her second orgasm. Again she cried out, but then she was suddenly too sensitive down there and had to remove the vibrator. Kerry lay panting on the bed, the vibrator still humming in her hand. She picked up the phone and looked at the text. It was a photo. It showed a dick and hand, both covered in semen. She was shocked, but also still turned on.

She now knew for certain that it wasn't Phil; this wasn't his hand, or his dick.

Kerry pointed her phone at the vibrator in her hand. The toy glistened with her juices, and she took a picture. It was sent without any tag.

Several minutes later, she received her final text.

I had a lot of fun today, but I'm not who you think I am.

Apparently the stranger had a conscience. She smiled and thumbed a shaky response. I know you're not. But I had a lot of fun, too. She re-read the text and added a couple of kisses before sending it.

* * * *

It was good to have Phil home again. For all the fun she'd had yesterday with the sexts, it wasn't the same as the warm permanence of snuggling up with him to watch TV. She and Phil were watching Grimm when there was a knock on the door. Phil went to answer, coming back a couple of minutes later with a smile on his face. He held up his iPhone for her to see.

Kerry felt herself go very cold. “What’s that?”

Phil looked at it, and then back at Kerry. “It’s my phone. Gary just brought it round.”

Gary was a neighbour who lived over the road. Kerry felt sick. Her heartbeat was pounding in her ears. “What the fuck was he doing with your phone?” Kerry knew she sounded unreasonable.

Phil looked suitably shocked. “What’s wrong with you?”

She tried to hide her anxiety. “Nothing. I just don’t understand why Gary would have your phone.”

“He gave me a lift to the tube station yesterday and my phone must have dropped out of my pocket in his car.”

Kerry felt numb. She didn’t know Gary very well, but she liked him. And she was particularly fond of Gary’s wife, Stella. They were friends for chrissakes.

Phil dropped the phone onto the arm of his chair and went back to watching the television. Kerry pretended to do the same, but couldn’t stop herself from stealing glances at Phil’s phone. When Phil went to the loo twenty minutes later, Kerry snatched up the phone and opened the messages. All of the texts from yesterday had been deleted. She checked the phone’s camera roll; none of the pictures that had been exchanged were still there. She returned the phone and sat back in her chair, her legs shaking from the adrenaline surge, when she heard Phil making his way back down the stairs.

For the rest of the evening Kerry could think of nothing but what she should do next. What would Gary’s next move be? She had images of him stalking her, demanding all sorts of things for his silence. She thought about threatening to tell his wife – and if necessary, Phil – if he tried anything funny. Could she go to the police?

When they went to bed, Phil was randy and started to paw her. She didn’t want sex but gave in to his demands in case he suspected something. She couldn’t get herself into the mood, and so when she knew Phil was getting close to coming she faked her own orgasm. A few minutes later Phil was sleeping contentedly but Kerry lay awake for a long time, worrying.

* * * *

Over the next couple of days Kerry relaxed a little and felt more normal, but then Phil reminded her they'd been invited to a barbecue next door the following afternoon. Kerry froze when she realised that Gary and Stella would probably be there, too. This was the problem when a lot of young couples moved into a new housing development all at the same time – they socialised. Kerry wondered if she should feign illness, but the sooner she confronted Gary, the sooner she'd have some sort of idea of what to do next. She needed to get it over with. They walked to their neighbours' house an hour or so after they'd seen the first visitors arrive. This was not a conscious effort to delay the inevitable on Kerry's part, but because Phil had to finish writing up the report of his Aberdeen audit to get it e-mailed off. Everyone greeted them with smiles, and they exchanged pleasantries with a few of the other neighbours before Kerry spotted Gary and Stella talking to another couple at the far end of the lawn. It was another ten minutes before Kerry noticed Gary standing alone by a table at the side of a garden fixing himself a drink. She looked around to see where Phil was, saw him deep in conversation with Stella and another woman, then made her way to the drinks table.

Gary looked up and flashed a friendly smile. "Hi."

Kerry smiled back and then looked at the assortment of drinks on the table.

"What are you after?"

Kerry shrugged. "Any white wine open?"

He bent down and dragged a large work bucket from under the table. It was full of ice cubes, propping up several bottles at odd angles. "Julie reckons she's shielding this from the sun, but I reckon she's keeping as much of it for herself as she can."

Kerry laughed and bent to inspect the labels of the three open bottles. Choosing the Oyster Bay, she looked for a glass. Gary was already holding one out for her. "Thanks," she said as she took it from his hand.

There was an awkward silence as she filled her glass and then replaced the bottle in the bucket. When she stood back up she looked directly at Gary but didn't say anything.

Gary looked down at his feet for a few seconds and then back at Kerry. "I... er... think I owe you an apology, and some sort of an explanation."

Kerry looked down at her own feet, and then back at his face. She wanted to say something, but was momentarily dumbstruck.

"After I'd dropped Phil off in town, I had a couple of errands to run. I'd just pulled into my drive when I heard a text arrive. I knew it wasn't my phone, so I checked round the car and found Phil's phone down the side of the passenger seat. I saw from the screen it was from you, but the screen also showed the first few words of your text."

Kerry saw him shuffle his feet in embarrassment.

"I knew I should just put the phone down and not look, but I touched on the icon. To be honest, I was expecting it to be locked so I was shocked when it opened the message. And it was you, offering to send dirty messages."

She shook her head but smiled at him.

Gary grinned sheepishly. "I know I shouldn't have looked, and I know I definitely shouldn't have texted you, but I couldn't resist. I obviously didn't have a clue as to what sort of things you usually text each other..."

"We don't. Ever."

Gary looked at her and nodded. "Yeah, course not."

She laughed. "No, really, we don't. But when Phil found out he was going to be stuck on a train for hours, he asked me to send him something smutty to cheer him up."

Gary smiled. "Well, I can understand that. So I just stuck to asking something general, like what you'd seen on telly."

"Like dogging?" Kerry cringed. It sounded even worse out loud.

They both took a drink. There was silence, but this time it wasn't awkward. Gary looked down at Kerry's feet. "I was hoping you'd have your new shoes on."

Kerry laughed again, peering down at her flip-flops. "Sorry. I should have thought to put them on."

Gary shook his head. "I swear I didn't mean to go so far with the texts, but I just got hooked. And when I got the photo with your feet on the head board, I knew I wouldn't be able to stop. I even considered chucking

Phil's phone away afterwards so you'd never know it'd been me, but I know people have a lot of photos and other stuff on their phones they haven't backed up yet."

Kerry watched the cluster of people giving good advice around the barbeque, and saw Phil chatting to Stella right at the other end of the garden. She wondered what they were talking about.

"Were you really as turned on as you said you were?" Kerry was surprised that she'd actually asked this.

Gary cleared his throat. "Yes."

Kerry thought about his answer for a few seconds. They were standing side by side, looking over at the rest of the people there.

"You're not really bald down there, are you?"

Kerry burst out laughing. "No," she managed to admit. "That was a photo of my laptop screen."

Gary nodded. "Thought I recognised it. www dot shaver-raver dot com wasn't it?"

She chuckled. "All my other photos were real."

"What was dribbling from your mouth?"

"Yogurt. But the colour didn't look right, so I made it black and white."

Gary nodded his approval. "Nice touch. It looked great."

"Thanks. And thanks for deleting them."

Gary shrugged. "It seemed a shame, but it had to be done."

"So you were at home when you read them?" Kerry realised they were literally twenty yards from each other as they sent the texts.

Gary nodded. "Yeah. That certainly didn't make it easy."

Kerry held her breath for a second, wondering how to phrase her next question. "So, was your photo real?"

Gary looked away for a few seconds, seemingly thinking this over, then turned to look straight into Kerry's face. "Yes, that was real. I locked myself in the bathroom like a teenager." He looked like he was going to ask another question, but stopped himself.

She knew he wanted to ask about the vibrator. "I didn't fake the 'juices', if that's what you're wondering."

Gary laughed. "You can read my mind."

It was a little disconcerting how easy it was to discuss this sort of subject with a relative stranger.

There was another short silence. Gary was looking over towards his wife. "I could never have shared texts like that with Stella."

"Me and Phil have never sent anything like that to each other. I was a bit surprised when he asked me to, to be honest. I suppose it wasn't until I knew it wasn't Phil that I felt I could really let my hair down."

Gary looked at Kerry. "So when did you find out it wasn't Phil?"

"He phoned me when he changed trains in Leeds."

"I mean when in the texts did you find out?"

Kerry frowned, a little self-conscious. "When I said I had three holes that needed filling."

Gary bit his lower lip. "You'll never know what effect that text had on me."

"Why?"

Gary shook his head. "I only know you as the good looking neighbour who's polite and friendly whenever we bump into each other at get-togethers like this one. Never in my wildest dreams did I think you'd have those thoughts in your head."

She felt embarrassed. Fraudulent. "I don't. Really, those texts were so unlike me. I can't understand what I was thinking when I sent them."

Gary smiled. "I know what I was thinking when you sent them. I was thinking Wow."

Kerry took another drink. She didn't know what else to say, but she didn't want this conversation to end just yet. She realised she was wet between her legs.

"Can I ask you a question?"

Kerry nodded.

"Why did you make the texts smuttier when you knew it wasn't Phil?"

Kerry thought about it for a few seconds. "I suppose it's because I thought there'd be no come-back on anything I said."

He looked puzzled. "Come-back?"

Kerry shrugged. "You know, Phil asking more questions about things."

“You mean Phil bringing two of his friends home to fulfil your carnal desires?”

“Yeah, something like that.” She took another sip of her drink. “So why don’t you and Stella share those sort of texts?”

Gary shrugged. “I dunno. I don’t think she has the imagination you have.”

They stared at each other for a few seconds. She felt herself getting knots in her stomach and even wetter between her legs. If they’d been alone at this moment, she would probably have kissed him. She may have done a lot more than kiss him.

Gary finally broke the silence. “We’re moving into dangerous waters, here.”

Kerry nodded but didn’t say anything.

“I’ve thought about you a lot since that day.”

“Likewise.” And boy, she had.

“Tell me what you’re thinking now.”

Kerry paused for just a brief moment. “That a little danger could be fun, but I won’t risk my marriage.”

He nodded, looked slightly relieved. “I agree. So — a smutty question for the road — tell me what you’re feeling now.”

Taking advantage, she made her face serious and looked right into his eyes. “I’m feeling turned on. And I’m really wet.”

“Wow.” He blinked, shocked.

“Are you hard?”

Gary laughed. “I’m getting there, yeah.”

Kerry leaned closer to his ear. “What I need right now is to be fucked. But we both know we can’t do that. So I’m going to drag my husband home and fuck his brains out. And while I do it I’m going to pretend it’s somebody else.”

Gary swallowed. “Who are you going to pretend it is?”

She started to make her way back toward the others, but turned after a few steps. “Now that would be telling...”

Hors d'Oeuvres

As Denny made his way through the Latin Quarter, he had a big smile on his face. He could hardly believe he was going to be living in Paris for the entire second year of his degree course. His mood was especially good after the Fresher's party he'd just been to. He'd met all the other art students he'd be studying with and spent over an hour flirting with a French girl called Maryse. When he'd explained he had to leave to catch his train, she'd asked him for his phone number.

Denny's apartment was out near the Charles de Gaulle airport, so it meant a short trip on the Metro followed by a longer ride on the conventional over-ground RER train. The simple fact that he could get home this late at night using public transport was a huge change from the sleepy Yorkshire village he'd grown up in, where the last bus was about nine o'clock.

He reached the Saint Sulpice Metro station and went down the steps. The clock on the platform read almost midnight, but there were still a lot of people around. Young couples leaned against walls and pillars, talking quietly and kissing. Older couples stood side by side without speaking. After a short wait a train arrived and he stepped on, feeling a weird sense of excitement knowing the journey was taking him under the Seine.

When he reached Les Halles he disembarked and made his way to the RER line. Although the station was busy, Denny was the only person in the carriage when he boarded. The carriage had a central aisle with two-person seats either side, some reversed to face each other. Denny chose an end carriage seat facing forward.

A door opened and a couple wearing replica France rugby shirts entered the carriage, talking quietly. The guy was a huge bear of a man, well over six feet tall and very broad, whereas the girl was tiny. She was probably no more than five feet, and very slim. The guy had bad skin, greasy hair and discoloured, uneven teeth; she had long black hair with a fringe that partially covered her eyes. She had flawless skin and perfect teeth. Even though they had the entire carriage to choose from, they walked towards the same end as Denny. The train pulled out of the station as they sat down in the bench seat directly opposite his.

A reek of alcohol filled the air. The guy's glazed eyes and vacant expression told Denny he was more than a little drunk. By the time the train had travelled a few hundred yards the boyfriend was fast asleep, his head leaning against the window. Denny stole a couple of looks at the girl while she stared out into the darkness. She had big brown eyes and a very pretty, almost elfin face. Apart from the blue rugby shirt, which was far too big for her, she wore a long flowing black skirt and lace-up ankle boots. She sat with her feet together and her hands on her lap.

Denny suddenly realised she'd seen him looking her up and down in the reflection of the window. She turned her head and stared at him. He gave what he hoped was a friendly smile, and looked away.

After a minute he had the feeling she was still staring at him. He glanced back in her direction and, sure enough, her eyes were fixed on his face. Her expression was blank, but Denny felt more than a little disconcerted under her glare. This may have been because he found her boyfriend so intimidating. Denny was five feet nine and built like a marathon runner; the other guy was a few years older and built like a rugby player. He probably outweighed Denny by a hundred pounds.

Denny stared out of the window as the train sped through an industrial area on the edge of the city. Occasionally the darkness was interrupted by bright lights as the tracks passed close to illuminated buildings. None of the lights disturbed the sleeping boyfriend.

In the reflection, Denny saw the girl was still staring at him, and he started to get annoyed. He turned to face her and held her gaze. Her eyes were not exactly cold, but there was no warmth in them. Denny and the girl held eye contact for what felt like a couple of minutes, both motionless apart from the gentle rocking of the train.

The girl moved her hands from her lap. She gripped the bottom of her shirt and slowly pulled it up. Denny couldn't help but break eye contact and look down. A few inches of flat, toned stomach were revealed. He looked back at her face. She still had the same blank expression.

Her hands kept moving upwards and the shirt rose higher. Denny's eyes were drawn down again and he saw she wasn't wearing a bra. She had small breasts with dark nipples that pointed slightly upwards.

He looked from the girl's breasts to her face, then across at her sleeping boyfriend, terrified of the consequences if the bear should wake up. Denny didn't know how to react. He knew he should stand up and walk to the other end of the carriage, but he felt glued to his seat.

She bunched her shirt up under her chin and ran her hand up her stomach towards her breasts. Denny noticed how tiny her hands were, the fingers slim and delicate. He watched as she squeezed her nipple between her thumb and forefinger.

He forced his eyes back up to her face; the girl was biting her lower lip, her eyelids half closed. Denny glanced at the boyfriend and then back at her. She raised her eyebrows slightly, as if waiting for him to do something. He remained motionless in his seat as she started playing with her breasts using both hands, stretching and pulling at her nipples. They were now so hard and enlarged they looked too big for the tiny swells of flesh. Denny tried to keep his eyes on her face, but all too often his eyes were drawn back to watch her delicate hands as she fondled herself.

Denny tried to hold her gaze, but all too often his eyes were drawn back to her exposed body. He knew this girl was being a prick-tease, but felt he'd maintain some self-esteem if he could just stare at her face. He was angry with himself for not being able to do so—it was obvious the girl wanted him to watch her touch herself. Denny suspected she did this type of thing a lot.

The train stopped briefly at a station, and although a door slammed further down the train, nobody entered their carriage. The girl lowered her hands and rested them on her legs, but didn't pull the shirt down to cover herself. Still holding eye contact with him, she gripped the material of her skirt, slowly pulling it up her legs. He was suddenly very nervous, but also excited. His stomach was in knots, his throat constricted. He struggled to swallow. He glanced at the boyfriend, whose head had now fallen forwards onto his chest.

The girl revealed more of her legs inch by inch. Her black ankle boots had a small heel. Denny assumed she was wearing black woolly tights, but when the skirt was raised higher he realised they were long black socks—probably rugby socks. These reached just above her knee and then stopped. Her pale thighs stood out against the blackness of her skirt and socks. Denny's eyes widened as his gaze passed between the girl's face, her thighs and her sleeping boyfriend.

As she shimmied the skirt up, he caught a glimpse of red silk. She bunched her skirt up around her waist and raised her eyebrows again. Her body was nice. She had smooth toned legs, and the swell of her hips were a perfect shape. Very slowly, she parted her knees but kept both feet together on the floor. Denny could see the thin gusset of red material between her thighs.

Denny felt a twitch inside his trousers. The girl rested her hand on one leg and lightly stroked her inner thigh with her fingers. She watched Denny's face then smiled for the first time, revealing her small even teeth and dimples in her cheeks. But to Denny, the best feature was her brown eyes. They really came alive when she smiled.

He smiled back at her, but then glanced at her boyfriend and frowned. He wanted to convey he was uncomfortable with the situation. He hoped she'd understand and maybe get up to walk down the carriage. Denny would have happily followed her. But the girl showed no intention of moving seats. Instead, she brought her other hand down into her lap and slowly pulled the red gusset to one side. Denny could see black pubic hair and the pink outer lips of her sex. Even in the dim light of the train, he could see her sex was wet, the lips glistening and slick.

Denny licked his lips. When he looked back at her face she was smiling again. She dragged a finger through the folds of her sex and watched his reaction. He tried to keep his face neutral. She stroked herself a couple more times, then traced small circles around her clit with her finger. Denny had to swallow again. Her smile had given way to a more sensual look, lips pursed and eyes half-closed. She briefly slipped a finger inside her sex, then brought her hand up to her face and held her finger out in front of her. She locked her eyes onto Denny's as she opened her mouth and sucked her finger.

He was getting an erection.

Her hand moved back between her thighs, her finger inside her sex again. This time she did it for longer before repeating the finger-suck. Denny stared as she pleasured herself more vigorously, this time using two fingers. He could smell her sex from his seat. His erection was now painful in the confines of his jeans.

The girl then pointed at Denny's crotch. With her fingers she pretended to undo buttons, suggesting he should open his trousers. Denny shook his head, flicking his stare in the direction of her boyfriend. She just smiled and nodded, repeating her buttons mime again.

He was in a quandary. He found the girl very sexy. Even with her over-the-top teasing and slut actions, he couldn't deny he found her really hot. Added to that was his now-raging hard-on.

Denny leaned back and undid the buttons of his jeans. He paused, unsure what to do. She mimed the action, pulling open imaginary underwear, and then releasing an imaginary cock. Denny glanced at the sleeping giant next to her, suddenly feeling like someone caught in a grown-up version of a fairy tale. The girl nodded her head impatiently, so Denny pulled his cock out of his jeans. It sprang out and stood up from the open flies. She nodded approvingly, apparently pleased.

She held up one finger and wrapped her hand around it, slowly moving her hand up and down. Denny stared at her for a few seconds and glanced at the bear. Then he loosely gripped his erection and slowly slid his hand up and down. The girl smiled and resumed fingering herself. They watched each other pleasuring themselves, and then the girl increased the speed of her hand. She gestured for Denny to do likewise, and he obeyed. There was a lot of pre-cum on the end of his cock; he was sure she'd noticed, too.

The girl shuffled forwards until her bum was on the edge of the seat. She spread her legs wide, and thrust her hips forwards and back a couple of times. Denny frowned. This time he didn't just glance at her boyfriend, but nodded in his direction. The girl just shrugged her shoulders and thrust her pelvis again.

She reinserted two fingers into her sex and finger-fucked herself hard for several seconds. Denny could clearly hear the squelching over the noise of the train. She leaned back a little and pulled her shirt up again to expose her breasts. Finally her fingers spread her outer lips and held herself open to him. Denny couldn't resist any longer. He moved forward and knelt on the floor between the bench seats.

The seat was slightly too high. He had to half-crouch to get himself into a position that enabled him access. He was uncomfortable with one leg bent and the other stretched behind him, the foot pressed against the base of his own bench seat. The girl reached forward, gripped his cock and guided him inside her. Her warm wetness enveloped him, and he shuddered.

She arched her back and pulled him further into her, using the repeated movement of the pelvic thrusts she'd used to tease him. Denny was already on the edge of climax. She was obviously aware of it, too—either from the expression on his face or the reaction of his body. She gripped the cheeks of his backside and dug her nails in, pulling him deeper into her.

Denny came then, three, four, five very intense spasms, his legs shaking from his crouch. Her pussy contractions gripped his cock. She was breathing heavily through clenched teeth. Her eyes were closed and her breathing got louder, but she managed to get through her orgasm silently. Denny stopped thrusting, but kept his cock pushed as far into her as he could until she'd stopped moving on him.

Her breathing slowed and became more regular. Finally she opened her eyes and looked at him. She smiled a beautiful smile. Denny returned her smile, withdrew and moved back and up into his seat. He couldn't believe they'd managed to have sex while her boyfriend was sitting right next to them, totally oblivious in a drunken stupor.

Denny quickly buttoned up his jeans and tried to straighten his clothing. The girl hadn't moved. She was still lying back in her seat with her breasts exposed and her skirt up round her waist. Denny frowned, impatient at her slowness to cover herself. She just stared at him. The gusset of her knickers had pulled back a little, now partially covering her sex.

When she knew he was watching, she pulled it back to the side again to reveal her pussy to Denny. She was contracting and relaxing her muscles. He knew exactly what she was doing. Sure enough, after a few seconds a big glob of his cum oozed from her pussy and ran down and onto the edge of the seat. Denny was aware of the phrase for this in porn films—creampie—and that many people found it a turn-on. He was far too nervous to be aroused by it. He just wanted her to straighten her clothes.

The girl still made no move to cover herself. Then she spoke quietly in French. Denny didn't catch any of the words, but her boyfriend suddenly sat forward and opened his eyes. Denny was horrified.

The guy glanced down at his girlfriend's exposed body, then over at Denny. As he stood, Denny pushed himself back against his seat. The guy towered above him, emphasising that one of them was a huge grown up, the other a skinny teenager. Denny was just wondering if he should make a run for the far end of the carriage when the guy turned sideways and reached for the buckle of his belt. The girl leaned forward and helped him with the buttons. Denny was so stunned he just sat motionless in his seat.

As the guy pushed his trousers down to his thighs, the girl pulled out his dick. It was the biggest cock Denny had ever seen. So long and thick that he briefly thought that it couldn't be real. It looked like a roll of salami, its length and girth emphasised more because of the girl's small hands. She leaned forwards and took the giant bulbous head into her mouth. Both her hands held onto the thick shaft as she sucked and worked her tongue around the tip of his cock. He gave Denny a vacant smile. His glazed eyes were a watery pale grey.

The girl lay back on the bench seat, and her boyfriend put one knee between her legs. Denny realised what they were about to do. He wanted to get up and walk as far away as possible, but found himself unable to move.

As she guided the cock between her thighs Denny saw it was easily thicker than her wrist. The big guy pushed forwards and Denny watched her wince. The man's cock bent as he tried to force it in; he was obviously not completely hard. With a final push, the huge thing disappeared inside her, and she let out a loud moan.

The giant gave Denny another leering smile, then closed his eyes and started to fuck her with long, slow strokes. He held himself up on his thick arms, a knee on the seat and a foot on the floor. The girl had her eyes closed. Although her expression suggested some discomfort, she was obviously enjoying it.

She moved her hips up to meet each thrust, her tiny hands gripping his backside. Then she opened her eyes and slowly turned to face Denny, keeping that blank expression in place. He forced himself to keep eye contact with her.

Suddenly she let out a growl and closed her eyes. She scratched at the guy's arms. He opened his eyes, grinned at her, and fucked her a little harder. She moaned and bucked on the seat, wrapping her legs around the one of his. Denny sat spellbound as she screamed and moaned through her orgasm. The guy fucked her harder, and her moans became grunts, crying out each time he slammed into her.

When the bear gritted his teeth and threw his head back, Denny could see the tendons in his huge neck standing out. He was obviously coming inside her, and she was rolling her hips, milking him of all he had. The guy responded with a few hard thrusts which shook her entire body. Then he collapsed on her, his breathing laboured.

Denny remained in his seat, his damp, limp cock shrivelled inside his pants. The French couple lay motionless. She looked exhausted, her hair tousled and clinging to her face. She opened her eyes and smiled at Denny. He didn't smile back. He wasn't sure what sort of reaction she expected, but he felt incapable of any sort of response, like he was in a trance. The man finally climbed off her and pulled up his jeans. Denny had some sort of morbid curiosity that drew his eyes towards the guy's dick. Even flaccid, it was longer and thicker than Denny could boast with an erection. The girl pulled down her skirt and shirt, running her fingers through her hair.

There was a strong smell of sex in the air, mingled with stale alcohol. The train slowed as it approached a station. Though Denny was several stops short of his own destination, he decided to disembark even if it took hours to get home.

But as the platform lights illuminated the carriage, the couple stood up and crossed towards the door. Neither of them looked at Denny before stepping off the train. On the platform, a girl with cropped blonde hair and a short denim skirt approached them. The two women embraced and kissed each other on both cheeks.

The girl from the train turned to look at Denny. As the train pulled out of the station she draped her arm round the waist of her blonde companion and gave him a little wave. Denny couldn't help feeling he'd been manipulated into playing a part in her plans. He'd been the hors d'oeuvres and the boyfriend had been the main course. From the way the girl had smiled as she hugged the blonde on the platform, Denny had no doubts she'd also be getting dessert. He wondered if the big ugly boyfriend would get to watch her consume that course as well.

Denny looked down at the stain left on the seat opposite. He took out his phone and took a photograph, his mind already working on ways to use this in one of his future art projects. The dirty-white stain was almost circular, set against the dark blue of the seat. An idea was already sparking in Denny's mind. He would enlarge the image and sketch on table legs, using the stain as a dinner plate set on a blue table cloth. He'd then add food items, sketching on a prawn to signify himself, a huge salami to represent her boyfriend, and a sickly-sweet strawberry sorbet for the blonde. Towering above the plate could be a gluttonous face with big brown eyes and a hungry mouth.

Before slipping his phone back into his pocket, Denny saw he had a text from Maryse. She asked if he was free for a coffee tomorrow afternoon. He smiled as he sent his reply. Less than a week in France, and he'd already had sex with a stranger and arranged a date with the prettiest girl at the Fresher's party. Not bad for a lad from a sleepy Yorkshire village.

Angela dropped her bag onto the bed and looked appreciatively around the hotel room. It was big and tastefully furnished. A quick inspection of the en suite revealed a deep bath and luxurious complimentary toiletries. A nice long relaxing soak right now would be lovely, but she knew it wasn't going to happen. She was far too nervous, but also a little excited. What she really needed to do was a bit more preparation, then maybe she'd have time for a bath later.

The first thing she did was phone home to see how her husband Jamie was getting on with the kids. "Hi, it's me. Just phoning to let you know I've arrived, and to make sure you're managing okay."

"Everything's fine. They've both been fed and bathed. How was the trip down?"

"It was okay. I did some reading up, but I need to do more preparation tonight."

"Well, don't work too late. And don't forget what Lorraine said—if you're too wound up, you won't be able to sleep. You need to do whatever it takes to relax."

Angela's friend Lorraine had advised her to take a Valium the night before the interview to enable her to relax and get a good night's sleep. Lorraine had also suggested taking another one before the interview to calm her nerves, but Angela had assured her that wasn't going to happen. The last thing she needed was to appear stoned at an interview. Images of the interview scene from Trainspotting had sprung to mind.

"Right, I'd better go. Don't let them stay up too late or they'll be grumpy tomorrow morning."

"Don't worry about us. Just concentrate on getting prepared for tomorrow and convince them to hire you."

"I think there'll be quite a lot of competition for this job." She was getting nervous again.

Jamie was his usual calm, sensible self. “Well go in and show them what you can do. We both know you can do this job. Just be yourself and tell them what you know. That should be enough to get hired, but if not you may have to give the manager a blowjob to seal the deal.”

“Ha ha. Right, I’m going to have something to eat and read through some more stuff. I’ll speak to you later.”

They hung up and Angela picked up her handbag, taking out the pills that Lorraine had given her. The label said Diazepam, but Angela still referred to them as Valium. She swallowed a tablet and washed it down with a mouthful of Coke from a bottle she’d bought on the train. She’d get room service to send up a sandwich in an hour or so. She settled down on her bed and opened her laptop. She had a lot of preparation to do.

When Angela checked her watch it was after nine-thirty and she still hadn’t eaten, but she didn’t feel hungry. Her stomach was tight from nerves. The Valium didn’t seem to be doing anything to help her relax and she wondered if she’d be better off putting her laptop away and chilling for a while. Then she had another idea—she could go down to the bar for a nightcap and then have an early night.

She went into the bathroom and combed her fingers through her hair. She applied a little lipstick and thought she looked okay, considering she’d spent four hours on a train and most of the day revising. The only clothes she had with her were her interview suit and the outfit she’d travelled down in, which comprised of a black top, jeans and cowboy boots. Angela then remembered she’d also brought another top to travel home in, so she changed into that because her current one was very creased. The fresh top was a simple pale green sweatshirt, but she liked it because it highlighted the green of her eyes. It was almost ten o’clock. She checked her mobile for messages and there were none from Jamie. She picked up her door card and made her way to the lifts.

* * * *

The bar was a big room with a mixture of easy chairs and couches placed around low coffee tables, and high stools around tall tables. It was fairly busy with about a hundred people in there. A girl in a cocktail dress was playing a grand piano in the far corner of the room. At the bar, Angela ordered a large glass of an Australian Cabernet Sauvignon from the extensive wine menu. She saw a free couch next to a table near the piano, and picked up a couple of magazines from a rack on a wall on her way over. Hopefully, filling her head with trivia and trash while listening to the pianist would stop her worrying about the interview. That way, she'd be relaxed enough to get a good night's sleep. She checked her watch and realised the interview was less than twelve hours away. She took her first sip of wine.

Angela was halfway through the magazine and halfway through her wine when she became aware of someone hovering near the table. She looked up and saw a man looking at her.

"Sorry to interrupt," he said with an apologetic smile. He pointed at the chair adjacent to her couch. "Do you mind if I sit here?"

Angela smiled and shook her head. "No, please..." she said, shifting magazines to make room for his bottle of lager.

"Thanks." He set his beer down and lowered himself into the chair.

Angela went back to her magazine and he seemed content to just sit and watch the girl on the piano while sipping his beer. After about five minutes, Angela surreptitiously began looking at the guy sitting at her table. She guessed he was somewhere in his late thirties, or maybe even early forties. His fair hair was long enough to reach his collar, and he had a close-trimmed beard and wire-framed glasses. He was wearing a pale blue shirt which was open at the neck, and dark blue chinos. Angela thought he looked like an academic. She could just picture him lecturing to a group of undergraduates; she guessed his subject was something like genetics or biochemistry. He was probably a little less than six feet tall and relatively slim.

He caught her looking at him, and again flashed his apologetic smile, evidently still feeling guilty that he'd invaded her space. But the room was quite busy now, and Angela couldn't see any other tables with only one occupant, which hers had been. She wasn't quite sure why, but she decided to make small talk. This wasn't something she usually did—she'd managed to complete her train journey south without talking to a single person. But for some reason she felt like talking. Maybe it was something else to take her mind off the interview, another diversion like the magazine.

Their conversation was polite and shallow. He asked if she lived locally or was visiting; she confirmed she was just down for a couple of days on a business matter. She didn't mention she was here for an interview—that was the last thing she wanted to be talking about. He told her he was doing the same, and that he'd been based in Dublin for the past couple of years. This then got them chatting about Dublin, as she'd visited recently. Then they chatted about London, and how well the Olympics had been received by everyone.

Angela found his company very pleasant and when she finished her drink, offered to buy him one. He accepted, letting her know his order by pointing at her glass. A few minutes later they were both sipping red wine.

He held out his hand. "I'm Martin."

Angela took his hand and smiled. "Angelica." What? She couldn't understand why she'd lied about her own name.

He raised his eyebrows. "Ooh, pretty name."

Angela smiled, feeling a little ashamed of herself. "What business are you in over there in Dublin?"

He shook his head slowly, looking slightly embarrassed. "Oh, I'm involved with management consultancy. Very dull and very boring for conversations. How about you? What's your job?"

"I'm a freelance writer." Where did that come from? Angela couldn't believe what she was saying. Her brain seemed to be playing catch up with her mouth. "I write articles and then sell them to magazines. Sometimes I'm commissioned to write about a particular subject, and sometimes I write about what I think is interesting." It was getting very concerning, the way her brain was working. Could this be an effect of the wine and Valium?

"Wow! That must be a very stimulating job. What sort of magazines have you been printed in?" He looked genuinely eager to hear all about her achievements.

For the next twenty-odd minutes Angela fabricated all sorts of stories about herself, her work, people she'd 'interviewed' and articles she'd written. It was all lies, but like all good lies, they were based on the truth. She based her articles on things that she was interested in and had read about. She talked about locations she'd either visited or had seen on television. She named the magazines she often read as the ones who'd published her work.

Martin was a very good listener, and when their glasses were empty he went to the bar for more drinks. It was almost midnight by the time they'd finished their third round. The bar was a lot quieter now, just a handful of people left drinking. Angela realised she and Martin had somehow ended up on the same couch, sitting side by side.

Martin leaned against her very slightly, but she didn't mind. "It'd be interesting to know if you had many romantic liaisons while visiting all the exotic locations you have to go to."

"Oh, but I'm a good girl."

"I'm sure you are."

"Stop doing that."

"Stop what? What am I doing?"

"Making me wet."

And those three simple words changed everything. Martin seemed momentarily dumbstruck, and Angela's brain was screaming inside her head. But it was immediately obvious to both of them what was going to happen next. Without another word, both stood up and walked out of the bar. They walked in silence to the lifts, and Martin pressed the button for his floor. As soon as the doors closed, they grabbed each other. There were no gentle caresses, no tentative kissing. As soon as their lips met, Angela pushed her tongue into his mouth, her hand stroking his cock through the material of his trousers. She felt it grow harder under her touch. He reacted by cupping her breasts, brushing his thumbs over her nipples. Angela heard herself moan into his mouth.

They separated at the chime as the lift doors opened, like boxers when the bell rings at end of a round. They somehow managed to control themselves for the twenty or so paces down the corridor to Martin's room, but once inside were all over each other again. She pushed him against a wall and clawed at his shirt buttons. He was undoing the belt of her jeans and trying to lift her sweatshirt up at the same time. Angela wished she'd worn a silk dress. It could have slipped effortlessly from her shoulders and dropped onto the floor, leaving her elegant in matching underwear. As it was, she fell back onto the bed and struggled to get her cowboy boots off. Then Martin was pulling down her jeans, and her knickers came off at the same time. Finally she shrugged off her sweatshirt and bra as he removed his trousers, shoes and socks and joined her on the bed. Angela didn't want foreplay, she just needed to fuck. She raised her hips off the bed and watched as he fed his cock inside her. Then she wrapped her legs around his and allowed her body to take as much pleasure as it could get.

* * * *

It was over two hours later when Angela crept out of Martin's bed and pulled on her jeans and sweatshirt. She held her boots in one hand, and her bra and knickers in the other. Martin stirred, and she bent and kissed him on the cheek.

"I'm going back to my own room now," she whispered.

She stepped out into the corridor. She knew if she encountered any other guests they'd know exactly what she'd been doing, but made it back to her own room without meeting anyone. She'd left her phone on the bed, and when she checked it she saw she had three missed calls and two texts, all from Jamie. It was now after two-thirty—much too late to call him. Angela dropped the phone back onto the bed, stripped off her shirt and jeans and walked into the bathroom.

She looked at herself in the mirror and saw her cheeks were pink; this could have been due to the drink, the sex, or friction from Martin's beard. There was dried semen in her hair. Her nipples were still erect, and she was leaking fluids from between her legs. In spite of all this, Angela felt strangely calm. She knew what'd happened earlier had been a one-off, and that she would never mention it to Jamie. She felt no guilt. It was a surreal feeling, almost as if she believed it'd been out of her control, blaming the concoction of drink, drugs and stress that had affected her reasoning and inhibitions. She told herself she hadn't done anything wrong—it had been Angelica who'd spent two hours having filthy sex with a stranger. Maybe tomorrow she'd feel differently, but for now Angela could file it away as something that had happened to somebody else, almost like an out-of-body experience. She had a quick shower, brushed her teeth and climbed naked into bed. She was fast asleep within five minutes.

* * * *

Her mobile alarm went off at six-forty five. Angela felt surprisingly good considering she'd drunk a bottle of wine and only had about four hours sleep. She showered and ordered breakfast from room service. She sent Jamie a text, apologising for having turned her phone to silent while she was preparing for the interview, and then forgetting about it when she went to bed. She felt a twinge of guilt, but her interview worries were creeping up too strongly to allow her to ponder what she'd done the previous night.

After scrambled eggs, toast and coffee, Angela dried her hair and applied makeup. She dressed in her interview outfit—a dark grey suit with a knee length skirt, white pinstriped blouse and black shoes. She picked up her bag and made her way to the reception, praying she didn't bump into Martin on the way. The hotel receptionist said a car was waiting for her, and the doorman held the door and pointed to a dark blue Mercedes parked out front. Angela slid into the back seat and the car eased into the traffic. Fifteen minutes later they pulled up outside a large office block and Angela took a deep breath as she made her way inside.

A pretty secretary with short blonde hair escorted her to a small ante-room with a coffee machine and a plate of pastries, and ten minutes later someone else showed her into the interview room. Two people stood near the window, a man and a woman.

The woman approached Angela with her hand extended. "Good morning, Angela. I'm Jan Waring, senior group leader for the North-West region. I'm based in the Manchester office, and the vacancy you've applied for is in my group."

Angela took her hand and smiled. Jan was very attractive with short auburn hair. She was probably in her early forties and impeccably dressed in a woollen dress. She exuded confidence and professionalism. This woman epitomised what Angela wanted to be in ten years' time.

Jan turned towards the man, who was dressed in a dark suit, and looked about fifty. "This is Tom Oldham. Tom's VP for all UK operations. Our other panellist is just photocopying your CV and will be joining us shortly."

Just then the door opened and all three people in the room turned to face the newcomer. The smile froze on Angela's face as she recognised the final interview panel member.

Jan, clearly not noticing Angela's reaction, continued with the introductions. "And this is Martin Brewster. He's a consultant with one of our subsidiaries based in Ireland."

Angela realised immediately that Martin was just as uncomfortable as she was. They shook hands and then broke eye contact quickly.

Angela tried desperately to concentrate on what Jan was saying. Thankfully Jan wasn't asking questions yet, but just giving a brief outline of the day, which Angela was already familiar with because they'd sent an agenda with the interview details. Martin was scanning through the photocopied pages in his hand, and Angela could see the surprise on his face. The first paragraph of her CV clearly stated she was married with two children.

Angela was trying to judge Martin's reaction to what he was reading, but Jan started the interview off by asking Angela a few informal questions. In normal circumstances, these would have been to give Angela time to relax and get used to the surroundings and the panel, but these turned out to be very difficult to answer.

"How was your trip down here?" Jan wore a friendly smile.

Angela tried to force a smile onto her face. "Fine, thanks."

"And the hotel?"

Angela stole a look at Martin, but his eyes were fixed on her CV. "Really nice, thanks."

Jan was doing all the talking, with Tom and Martin apparently reading through Angela's details. Obviously neither man had had the opportunity to read up on all the interviewees in advance.

"Can you give us a brief overview of your career so far?" Jan asked.

Angela took a deep breath and tried desperately to put the previous night out of her mind. She spent the next ten minutes discussing her degree in biochemistry, the first job she'd held in a genetics lab, and her subsequent transfer within that company to a desk job studying clinical trial data. Four years later she moved to her current company. During her time there she'd had two children, but in terms of job progressions she'd gone as far as she could.

Tom and Jan asked a few questions about her current role, and Angela was able to talk with knowledge and confidence about all aspects of the job.

She was just getting into a good rhythm when Martin asked his first question.

"The job description for this role clearly states that the successful candidate must be ethical and honest. What examples can you give us where your integrity and honesty have been vital in your role?"

Angela remembered how easily the lies had come to her last night. She'd fabricated a career and lifestyle that were so removed from the truth that even she'd been surprised.

She took a deep breath. "I like to think that in all aspects of my professional life, I've always shown integrity and honesty. I've carried out many roles where I've had to prove this, and realise that when dealing with clinical trial data just how important it is to be completely truthful about all results—even the ones we don't want. I have several people listed as character references on my CV who I'm sure would back me up."

Jan asked a few more questions and then Martin asked another question. This time Angela saw the smile on his face.

"Can you give us some examples of the positions you've enjoyed in the past?"

Angela's mind flashed back to the previous night. She remembered being on her back with her legs over his shoulders, and then straddling him, grinding her clit against his pubic bone as she reached her first orgasm of the night.

“Er, I’ve enjoyed many of the positions I’ve been in,” she began. She saw his eyes twinkle with mischief and tried to keep her thoughts centred on what she needed to. “For a while I’ve been the primary contact for all issues regarding European trials, and that’s been rewarding.”

Angela waffled on through a few more examples, and then Tom and Jan asked a few follow-up questions.

Martin leaned forwards again. “When you’re involved in meetings with colleagues, do you usually try and take control, or are you happy to let others take the initiative?”

Her mind instantly flashed back to just after she’d come the first time. She’d instructed him to stand by the side of the bed and fuck her hard from behind until he came. She had achieved her second orgasm when he reached his first.

“I do like to see other people show initiative. However, if it’s during a meeting where I need certain things, then I can sometimes take control to ensure a fruitful outcome.” She smiled sweetly at Martin.

After another few follow-up questions, Martin chimed in again. “If you felt a member of your team wasn’t pulling their weight, how would you go about getting them to work harder?”

Angela knew immediately what he was referring to. After Martin had come for the first time, they’d settled down in his bed to get their breath back. They’d chatted quietly, stroking each other and Martin had started to fall asleep. Angela had quickly sat up on his legs and pinched his nipples, jolting him awake.

‘Don’t think we’re finished here yet. I want to go again.’

And with that she’d bent forward and sucked him until he started to get another erection. She’d managed to get him inside her and had ridden him for about thirty seconds, lifted herself off and sucked him again, pumping her hand on the base of his shaft at the same time. By the time she impaled herself on him again he was rock hard. But she maintained the routine of alternately fucking and sucking him. She was well on the way to her third orgasm as she climbed off to suck him when he ejaculated. His cum splattered her face and hair. She'd quickly got his cock into her mouth, swallowing the last of his semen and making him cry out. Then she'd gripped his dick and pushed it back inside her. 'You'd better stay hard long enough for me to come,' she'd threatened, grinding herself against him until she tipped over the edge into her third and final orgasm of their tryst.

Angela tipped her head slightly to one side and stroked her hair where Martin knew his cum had landed on her. "I like to think that I could use my persuasive skills to let them know what I expect from each member I work with. I'm happy to lead by example, so if I could show them how I strive to reach my goals, hopefully they'd be happy to put in the same amount of effort to reach their own."

Martin smiled at her answer, and even Tom and Jan were nodding.

If only they knew what these questions and answers really meant.

Jan looked from Tom to Martin, seemed to get some sort of answer, and then smiled at Angela. "I think we've asked enough for now. The next part of the interview is a technical test. We're going to give you a three page report to read, and you'll have half an hour to prepare a ten-minute presentation summarising the results of that report."

They all stood up. Angela held eye contact with Martin for a few seconds, glanced at her handbag on the chair next to her, and then back at Martin. She hoped he'd get the message. The secretary returned to show Angela to the quiet room where she could prepare her presentation. Angela thanked the interview panel and followed the secretary out. She was relieved when she heard the door open behind her a few seconds later. They turned and Martin was standing there with her handbag in his hand. The secretary pointed to a door on the left and told Angela that was the room for her to use, and then disappeared into her own office, leaving Angela and Martin alone in the corridor. She approached him and he smiled at her.

She wanted to explain that she wasn't the type of person to have rampant sex with strangers, but she didn't want to say she'd only fucked him because she was drugged and drunk.

"I don't usually do what I did last night," she said. "Well, actually I've never done it."

Martin smiled and shook his head. "You're not the only one. I saw you were wearing a wedding ring, but I decided that if it didn't bother you, it certainly wasn't going to bother me."

Angela looked at her ring, and then back at Martin. "I didn't mean to deceive you."

Martin shook his head. "When I woke up this morning the last thing on my mind was that I may have been deceived. I thought I'd died and gone to heaven."

Angela smiled at that, but then turned serious again. "Obviously, I won't be admitting what happened to anyone."

"Neither will I. But I'm pretty sure I'll be remembering it for a long time."

"Me too." She looked towards the office where she was headed. "I really need to get started on the presentation. I just wanted you to know that last night's behaviour was out of character for me."

Martin handed over the handbag. "Well, I'm happy I was in the right place at the right time. Good luck with the rest of the interview. I think you gave a very good account of yourself in there." He smiled mischievously and added, "As you did last night. And if you ever need an out-of-character reference, let me know."

Trade

When Ray first mentioned it to me, I thought he was telling me I was no longer enough for him.

“I love you,” he said.

“So, why d’you want to sleep with other women?”

He shrugged but didn’t offer any verbal reply.

“And what makes you think I want to sleep with other men?” I continued.

“I don’t. It’s just something I’ve always thought about...” Ray looked embarrassed.

“An obsession you’ve never mentioned in all the years I’ve known you?”

He shrugged again. “I didn’t know how to bring it up.”

“So why now? Is it the seven-year itch?”

Ray shook his head. “No, course not. But as a teenager, most of my sexual fantasies included this particular scenario.”

“Why? What happened to you then?”

“Nothing—it just appealed. When you’re an adolescent, you hear stories and this one turned me on the most.”

“What? Orgies?”

“Not necessarily orgies. Just, you know...” Ray couldn’t look me in the eye. “Swinging.”

“Aren’t they the same?”

He shook his head. He gave another of his shrugs and I had to suppress the urge to kick him in the balls.

“So, you’re saying that after seven years of marriage you still love me, but you want me to have sex with other men so you can have sex with their wives.”

“It’s not just so that I can have sex with their wives.” He sighed, ran his hand over his head. “Since I was young, the thought of going to a wife-swapping party has turned me on. The idea of having sex with another woman is great, but that’s not the full story. I like the idea of my wife having sex with another man, too.”

“Bollocks! If anybody ever tries to chat me up, you go mad.”

“That’s different, Denise.”

“Why? Because there’s nobody for you to chat up in return?” I was struggling to understand his reasoning, and was hurt he’d happily let somebody else have sex with me if it gave him a route into another woman’s panties.

Ray held up his hands. “Okay, stop.” He stood up and started pacing in front of the couch I was sitting on. “What I was trying to say was, the idea of swinging is something I’ve always liked. In the seven years we’ve been married, I’ve never brought it up because I didn’t want to have this argument. I’m more than happy with our relationship, and I’m very happy I married you. I’m not saying swinging’s something I want us to do, necessarily. But it’s something I think about, and I suppose I wanted to know what you thought about it. That’s all.”

I nodded. “Okay. Well, it’s something I’ve never considered.” I took a few breaths to try and get my thoughts into some sort of order. “I think if people want to do it, that’s fine. If people find their sex-lives need spicing up, then it’s something they should discuss.”

Ray was looking at me and he seemed to be holding his breath.

A thought crossed my mind. “Do you think our sex-life is boring?”

He smiled and shook his head.

“So why now? Why suddenly tell me about your twenty-year fantasy?”

He sat down next to me. “There was a documentary on TV last week. It got me thinking, that’s all. And now we’re so settled and happy, I felt like it was something I could talk to you about.”

“So, are you saying you want to talk about swinging, or that you actually want to do it? Because I would have thought people who really are happy and settled wouldn’t need to swing.”

Ray gave an exasperated look, but before he could say anything my mobile rang.

I held his eye as I walked over to get my phone. “Saved by the bell.”

It was my sister, and as usual we chatted for almost an hour. By the time the phone call was over, Ray had washed the car and started to prepare dinner. He didn’t bring up the subject of wife-swapping again.

* * * *

I was glad he’d told me his secret fantasy. I think it’s important to know each other’s intimate desires. But I was a little freaked out.

Over the next few days I kept playing the thing through in my mind. I thought about how I’d feel being traded, loaned out like a power-tool.

“Give this one a go, I’ll try yours.”

In fairness, Ray hadn’t actually said he wanted to do it—he’d just asked me what I thought in principle. So I thought long and hard about it. I did a little research, visiting forums and chat-rooms on the web, and gained quite an insight from the comments written by people who’d tried it. Most of them said their marriages had definitely benefitted from swinging, and the regular sex-life with their partners was much better. One lady also pointed out how women had a physical advantage—if a woman wanted to sleep with five of the men at the party, she probably could do, whereas hardly any men could hope to achieve that.

Eventually, I realised I’d warmed to the idea and told Ray that if he really wanted to attend a swinging party, I’d go along with it.

“The idea of doing something you’ve wanted to try for years turns me on,” I explained. I smiled, admitting my other reason. “And after thinking about it for a while, the idea of having sex with a stranger is giving me quite a buzz.”

“Oh, is it?” Ray moved closer, slipping his hands around my waist.

“Yes. Or am I not supposed to get any fun out of it?” I asked playfully. I’d read that for a lot of the male swingers, a big part of the kick came from knowing their wives were having sex with other men.

“Well,” he said, pulling me close. I could feel his hard-on against my stomach. “I guess you could enjoy yourself just a little bit.”

Then he was kissing me, pushing me back against the couch. We tumbled over and started grabbing at each other with urgency. He hitched up my skirt and pulled my knickers to one side. His fingers slid into me easily, and there was a loud squelching sound as they moved in and out. I opened his zip. His dick was rock hard, the end slick with precum. Ray rammed it into me, and I pulled at his hips and moved with him. He came quickly, and I came soon afterwards. He kept moving inside me, watching me as I rode my own wave.

Ray eventually stopped his thrusts and rolled off me. We were both breathless as we lay side by side. My legs still shook from my orgasm.

I turned to look at him, surprised at the intensity of what we’d just done. “Well, that felt like you’re not tired of me, after all.”

He kissed my forehead. “I’ll never get tired of you, you know that.”

I stroked his stomach. “You were really hard, and you came really quickly.”

“You were really wet, and came just as quickly.”

“I suppose the thought of what we’re about to do is working for both of us.”

“So, what are we going to do about it?”

I stood up and straightened my clothes. “I don’t want to involve anyone we know. This isn’t something I want our friends to find out about.”

Ray buckled up his trousers. “Agreed.”

I was starting to get excited about this. “You get the laptop, I’ll open a bottle of wine.”

We found a site and Ray started to read out the questions on a form we needed to fill out. “Would you prefer to host the party?”

“No.” I didn’t want to do this in our own house—at least, not for the first time.

Ray nodded his agreement as he typed the answer. “What area of the country would you be prepared to travel to?”

I looked at the choices. We live in the north-west, and I really didn’t want to risk meeting anyone I knew. “South-east?”

Ray laughed but ticked the box I’d suggested. “Age range?”

I shrugged. “You tell me. What sort of women do you fantasise about having sex with?”

Ray looked up from the screen, shaking his head like he hadn’t thought about it. “We’re both early thirties, how about 25-35?”

“Let’s go 25-45, just in case I’m in the mood for a man with a few lines and a bit of know-how.”

Ray laughed as he typed. The final question was about the number of participants, and after a short discussion we agreed on four to six couples. We added our own details and hit ‘send’. We sat side by side and read several of the comments about the experiences of other users of the website. Then we looked at each other and went straight to bed for more sex.

A few days later, we received a reply inviting us to a party. We discussed it, both aware it was a big step. Fantasies are sometimes better left as that—making them a reality could have unpleasant repercussions. We agreed we wanted to do it, and accepted. An e-mail arrived naming all the guests. There were four other couples on the list, and I wondered if I’d be having sex with John, Mark, James or Andy.

* * * *

The instructions said to arrive around eight on Saturday night, and that none of the guests would be invited to stay over. We got a map to see where the party was, and booked into a local B&B for the night.

We headed off in the morning, stopping for lunch in a country pub, and found our B&B in the early afternoon. We walked around the small town and had a light meal. Neither of us talked about what we were going to do that evening, but I’m sure it was on both our minds. I couldn’t stop thinking about what I’d read in the forums on safe sex, and how we behaved towards each other after the party. I was on the pill, so there was no problem regarding contraception. As for ‘safe’, we agreed to play it by ear—accepting that condoms would probably be compulsory anyway. As for how we behaved towards each other afterwards, we both agreed we’d tell each other everything that happened, how we felt about it, and talk through any issues that came up. We bought a couple of bottles of wine to take with us to the party then went back to our room to get ready.

Ray dressed in a casual shirt and trousers. I chose a pale blue sleeveless top and a dark blue wrap-around cotton skirt with white sandals, showing off my tan from the summer. Since I don’t have very much of a bust, I didn’t bother to wear a bra, either. The material of my top was thick enough to stop me looking like a tramp.

We shared apprehensive looks as we stood at the front door. The guy who opened it smiled and introduced himself as John. He showed us into the lounge where we met his wife Amy and another two couples. Everyone seemed nice enough, and the conversation was light and friendly. The doorbell rang and the final couple joined us. The lounge was a large square room with a marble fireplace. Two sofas faced each other from either side of the fire, an oak coffee table between them. A leather wing-backed armchair was in one corner.

During the week I’d imagined myself looking around the room and wondering which man I’d be having sex with. But for some strange reason I seemed to be looking at the women, trying to decide which one would be the best fit for Ray’s fantasy. If I were a guy, I’d have chosen Chrissie. From the details we’d been sent I knew she was in her early forties, but she looked much younger. Her hair was thick, black and very nicely styled. She had a great figure and her dark red dress—buttoned up the front—was obviously expensive, maybe even a Westwood. Some buttons were strategically left undone, revealing long legs and an impressive cleavage. Her shoes were black high-heels, and she looked a vamp.

But I suspected Ray may prefer the taller, younger Claire.

John and Amy fixed drinks and passed around some nibbles. As the booze flowed and we all relaxed a little, there was more banter and laughter. Time seemed to speed up, and I saw that Ray had managed to isolate Claire from the others. People began to pair up, and I saw John and a woman called Sylvia heading upstairs. Then Ray looked over and caught my eye to see if everything was okay. I smiled discreetly and watched him disappear up the stairs with Claire.

As others moved into the lounge, I found myself alone in the dining room with Claire's husband, Andy. He was well over six feet and broad-shouldered, with a really nice smile. As we chatted, we seemed to move closer until we were toe to toe. I knew the time had arrived. I stood on tiptoe and kissed him on the mouth, just gently. He put his glass down and slipped his huge arms around my waist, pulling me close. Our kissing was quite passionate, and I loved the feeling when I ran my hands over his back and shoulders. The guy was solid muscle. He suggested we join the others and find ourselves somewhere more comfortable.

Peter Gabriel's Red Rain pulsed softly from the speakers in the lounge. Amy and James were sitting on one of the sofas, his hand gently stroking her hair as they chatted quietly. Mark was on the leather armchair, with Chrissie perched on one of the chair-arms, her high-heeled feet resting on his lap. Her dress fell down her legs to expose black stocking tops and suspenders. Neither couple seemed to notice that we'd entered the room.

Andy led me to the other sofa, and we sat down. He leaned close and kissed me again while he ran his hands over my body, feeling my boobs through my top. My heart raced to think about what I was about to do with Andy, who was so different from Ray. I was really turned on at the thought of Andy fucking me while Ray was upstairs doing the same to Claire. I could feel the wetness between my legs.

Over Andy's shoulder I saw Chrissie had removed her dress and was kneeling on the floor between Mark's legs in her black bra, thong and suspender belt. Her stockings and shoes were still on, and her body was excellent. I couldn't help watching as her head moved up and down in Mark's lap.

Amy was now naked and sitting astride James. Her figure was full, but there was no fat on her at all. I had a very clear view of James's hard-on as she heaved herself up and down on it. This was the first time I'd seen a sex act as a bystander, and it was a weird feeling. The thought of watching other people having sex had never appealed before, but was definitely working for me now.

Andy must have seen me watching the other people. “Would you prefer we went to find somewhere a bit more private?” He looked a bit concerned.

“No, here’s fine. But thanks.” I was enjoying being in the same room as other copulating couples. It felt suitably naughty. And I really didn’t want to hear Claire and Ray banging and grunting in the next bedroom.

Andy eased me down on the sofa. I raised my left leg onto the backrest, making my skirt fall open. He smiled and stroked my legs. Then he undid his own buttons and took his shirt off. He had a fantastic physique; broad chest, tiny waist, ripped stomach. His arms were thick and muscular.

I undid the button of my skirt and slipped it from beneath me, dropping it to the floor next to his shirt.

Just then, Amy came. She seemed totally oblivious to anyone else in the room and was really vocal, grunting and moaning. James was breathing heavily, no doubt getting close to his own climax. Chrissie now sat in the armchair, one leg thrown over the chair arm, the other over Mark’s shoulder. He knelt on the floor and banged her with force, Chrissie talking to him, coaxing him on.

I turned my attention back to Andy. He was undoing his belt and I watched his fingers, eager to see if his cock was in proportion to the rest of him. It was. Andy kicked off his shoes and stripped until completely naked. I still had on my top, white thong and sandals. He rested a knee on the cushion between my legs and guided his dick towards my sex. I pulled the wet strip of cotton to one side and watched his huge thing disappear inside me. I was so wet it went in easily, but I couldn’t help letting out a cry as it slid all the way inside. Andy started fucking me with long, slow thrusts. I moved my hips and contracted my muscles, eager to give as much pleasure as I was receiving. He pushed my top up to reveal my breasts and gently pinched my nipples. His expression was intense and intimate. It was as if we knew each other well, and that nobody else mattered. It didn’t bother us that there were four other people in the same room. What’s more, it certainly didn’t seem to matter that my husband was doing the same thing with his wife upstairs. For the moment it was just us two, with Andy slowly bringing me to the boil.

I was getting really close, then Andy closed his eyes and I knew he was about to come. This sent me over the edge and I moved with him, riding him from underneath. As soon as my orgasm hit I raised my head up and bit into his shoulder to try and stifle my moans, but I ended up just choking and screaming as he banged harder and harder. His thrusts were getting a little faster, but not much. I wrapped both my legs around his waist and started bucking with him, slamming our groins together. We grunted in time with each slap of our bodies, then Andy held his breath and unloaded the first shot inside me. He let out a couple of short breaths, and then I felt him pulse again as more spurts emptied into me.

I knew I'd be able to come again, and I quickly moved myself against him. It took less than thirty seconds after Andy had come for me to reach my second climax, and again I was crying out with pleasure, not caring who heard me.

The room was suddenly quieter, and I realised Peter Gabriel had moved on to Mercy Street. Andy eased himself off me and I swung both legs onto the floor. I was horrified to see James and Amy lying on the opposite sofa, smiling at us. Chrissie and Mark were cuddled up together on the big leather chair, and they too were looking our way. Obviously they'd finished before we had and we'd been the floorshow. I glanced at Andy, and he just smiled and lay back on the sofa next to me, breathing heavily. I eased my top down over my boobs and sat back next to him.

Chrissie smiled. "That was beautiful. You two were beautiful."

Andy kissed me gently on the mouth. "Yes, it was."

We sat and listened to the music, no-one talking. I can't speak for the others, but I was thinking about the sex I'd just shared. It'd been really good, and I wondered if I'd actually admit to Ray how much I'd enjoyed it.

Suddenly I became aware I was leaking spent love juices. I excused myself and went upstairs to find the bathroom. In the full-length mirror I glanced at my reflection. My hair was tousled and my lipstick had worn off, but I looked good. The heels of my sandals were only a couple of inches high, but my legs looked nice. There was also a glow to my face. I looked like a woman who'd just had sex—which reminded me why I was upstairs. I wiped myself clean and washed my hands. I heard no sound from the bedrooms as I made my way back downstairs.

In the lounge, Chrissie and Amy had both joined Andy on our sofa. They were stroking him and he had a hand on each woman's thigh. James invited me to join him on the other sofa, which I did. We watched as the three on the opposite sofa got more and more involved. Andy and Amy were both naked, while Chrissie still wore her suspender belt, stockings and shoes.

Mark came and sat next to me. The three of us watched silently as the two women started to kiss Andy, their tongues and lips caressing his big, muscular torso. By the time Chrissie's mouth had reached his waist, Andy had another erection. I stared at it, wondering how on earth I'd taken such a huge thing without being in agony. When Chrissie took his dick into her mouth, I realised my juices would still be all over it. I didn't know how to react to that, but Chrissie didn't seem to mind.

Andy was pushed onto his back and Amy climbed on top of him. Chrissie guided Andy's cock inside Amy, then as Amy slid herself up and down on Andy's huge dick, Chrissie leaned forwards and licked Andy's balls. After a couple of minutes Chrissie slipped Andy's cock out of Amy and took him into her mouth. Amy let out a disappointed groan, but after Chrissie had deep-throated Andy for a few seconds she fed him back inside Amy. A few minutes later the women changed places, and Chrissie became the third woman at the party to have Andy's dick inside her.

James traced his fingertips down my right leg, and Mark did the same to my left. There was a threesome occurring right in front of me and the room smelt of sex. I was incredibly turned on. I moved my hands to stroke Mark and James's legs, which evidently gave them encouragement. Mark's hand slid under my top and James lifted my leg and rested it across his lap, and then both men gently rubbed all down the length of my legs, from the inside of my thigh to my sandaled foot.

Chrissie screamed when she came and Andy was grunting, lifting her up and down on his cock as if she were a doll. Amy eased Chrissie out of the way and climbed back onto Andy. Chrissie didn't back away just yet, laying her fingers alongside Andy's cock so they pushed up inside Amy every time she was lowered down. Both seemed to have their climax at the same time, and Amy was again very vocal. I wondered if she did it so John could hear from upstairs. They eventually slowed their movements and the room was totally quiet. Even the album had finished.

When Andy, Amy and Chrissie sat back in their afterglow, they were greeted with the sight of me with my legs wide open and my top pushed up to my chin. The men sitting either side of me were taking turns to finger me, while I slowly wanked both men.

Chrissie purred like a cat, a wicked smile on her face. “Mmm. Show time”

I realised I was expected to perform with both Mark and James while the other three watched, but something about the last couple of hours had had an effect on me. I was comfortable about being watched, and more than comfortable about having both men at once. Feeling completely in control of the situation, I took command.

I stood up and removed my top and knickers, so that I was naked apart from my shoes. I looked at James. “Sit on the coffee table.”

He obeyed.

Then I turned to Mark. “Lie on the floor, with your upper body underneath the coffee table.”

When they were both in position, I straddled Mark and lowered myself down onto his cock. I leaned forward and took James’s dick deep into my mouth, tasting Amy’s juices all over it. I then rocked and wiggled like I’d never done in my life. I pumped my hips forwards and back on Mark, and I moved my head up and down on James.

I heard Chrissie giving me some encouragement. “Go, girl. Use that body.”

The friction of my clit on Mark’s pubic bone brought me off quickly. I was tired and bathed in sweat, but I didn’t slow down. My orgasm hit, and my cries were muted because I had James’s dick down my throat. I felt Mark start to buck and heard grunts from under the table. He came inside me, and I kept grinding on him until I felt him grow soft.

By now I was so exhausted I couldn’t continue with the blowjob. I stood, took a step backwards and sat on the edge of the sofa. Then I opened my legs invitingly to James, and indicated that I was ready for him to fuck me. He was off the coffee table and inside me pretty quickly.

Chrissie was still offering encouragement. "Go on, honey. Fuck her. Let her have it."

It was only then that I remembered James was Chrissie's husband.

At the point of climax he withdrew and ejaculated on my pubes, thick cords of semen clinging to the triangle of hair. He rubbed the end of his cock into the mess and against my clit, sending little after-shocks through my body. He pushed his cock back inside me and I rocked on it but couldn't come again.

* * * *

We all sat in the lounge, exhausted. I was still waiting for my heartbeat to return to normal when I heard the bathroom door closing upstairs, and footsteps moving around in the bedrooms. Apparently, the evening was coming to an end.

I found my clothes and Amy directed me to the downstairs loo off the entrance hall. I cleaned myself, dressed, washed my hands and tidied my hair.

John and Sylvia were already in the lounge when I returned, Ray and Claire trotting down the stairs. Ray came and put his arm around me, which made me feel good. We smiled at each other, and then everyone started to leave. We said our farewells, and then we were outside and walking to our car. My legs were still shaking from the exertions of the evening.

In the car Ray stroked my leg. "You okay?"

I nodded. "You?"

He smiled, and we finished the short journey in relative silence.

Once in our room, we undressed and slipped into bed. We held each other close for quite a long time. I could smell Claire's perfume on him.

"So," he asked. "What did you think?"

"I thought everyone was nice," I admitted. "I was dreading being in a room full of people I didn't like."

"I thought there was a shortage of good-looking women."

“Really?”

“Well, apart from you, Claire was the only one I fancied.”

“I knew you’d like her. But I thought they were all really attractive.”

He shrugged to show he didn’t agree.

“What about Chrissie? You should have seen what she was wearing under her dress. I think the phrase is Dressed to Thrill.”

“How do you know that?”

I realised Ray must have assumed every couple went into a bedroom. “Six of us stayed in the lounge. I thought you knew that.”

Ray shook his head. He didn’t seem happy about it, but I don’t know if this was because I’d been one of the six, or because he hadn’t.

“So,” I whispered, “tell me what happened.”

Ray looked embarrassed, probably not wanting to hurt me.

I kissed him. “Tell me.”

“Well, we undressed each other, stroked each other’s body a lot. There was no talking.”

I didn’t interrupt as he described his intimacy with another woman. Ray had gone down on Claire, and she’d done the same to him. They’d made love, first with her on top, then with him on top. They’d talked for a while, mostly about other parties Claire and Andy had been to, and had sex a second time. Soon after that, the evening ended.

He was waiting for me to tell him what’d happened in the lounge. Since we’d agreed to be perfectly honest with each other, I was. I told him I’d made love with Andy while two other couples were making love in other parts of the room. Then I said there’d been two threesomes—Andy with the two other women, and me with the two other men.

“So Andy had sex with all three women in the lounge?”

“Correct.”

He nodded, slowly. “And you had sex with all three men?”

“Yes.” I watched his face but couldn’t read how he felt about it.

“It sounds like you had a lot more fun than I did.”

I kissed his shoulder. “I don’t know about that. You lived out your fantasy. You took the woman you fancied the most to bed and had her twice.”

He nodded. A few minutes later we drifted off to sleep in each other’s arms. In the morning we had very tender sex. We drove home, chatting about normal things, but every so often Ray would ask a question about the previous night. I was completely honest, and also admitted how turned on I’d been by the whole event.

It’s been four months since that night, and although we’ve discussed attending another party several times, we haven’t actually done anything about it yet. I’ve told Ray if he wants to do it again, I’ll be very happy to go along with it.

Maybe we’ll repeat the swinging experience, maybe we won’t. Only time will tell—but I’m hoping we do.

And either way—the sex we have after these discussions is always great.

She took a sip of wine. “Can I ask you something?”

He sat forward “Yeah.”

“It’s about me being with Bromley...”

“Oh.” He looked deflated, as if resigned to the fact he wouldn’t be getting any after all.

“I’m just curious about your feelings. What goes through your mind when you’re out here and I’m in the bedroom with Bromley?”

He cast his eyes to the floor. “I try not to think—”

“Come on, don’t hold back. For the first time in ages, we’re actually talking to each other like we used to. We’ve had a lovely evening.” She adjusted herself in her chair, moving her legs to reveal more of her thighs. “I’ve even dressed up for you...”

He glanced at her legs, then held her gaze. “I think about how you must look on the bed.”

“How do you mean?”

“You know, your face, your body.”

Janine was puzzled. “I’m not sure I—”

“I think about your expressions, your body language. I imagine you lying down on the bed and looking up at him.” He shrugged, embarrassed.

“You mean when I’m lying on the bed and watching him undress?”

Adam nodded.

“What about when I pass him the condom and watch him roll the rubber down onto his cock?”

“Do you help get him hard?” His voice was little more than a whisper.

She shook her head. “No. By the time he unzips his trousers, he’s got a hard-on.” She saw him swallow, bite his lip.

“And what about you? Does he need to...?” He pushed a shoulder forward in a childish shrug, as if ashamed to use the word foreplay.

“No.”

“Why not?”

“I’m always wet enough.”

He nodded, took a gulp of wine.

Janine was enjoying herself. She was wet now, just talking about it. “He dribbles, too. I can see precum all over the head of his cock. It glistens until he rolls the condom on.”

Adam was silent, his eyes a little glazed.

Janine uncrossed her legs, placing both feet on the floor. “When he kneels on the bed, I open my legs for him, like this.” She allowed her knees to fall open. “Do you like me opening my legs for another man?”

He frowned, nodded his head slightly.

She smiled. “At last, you’re being honest. Good.”

Adam put his wine down and slid off the sofa, crawled on his hands and knees across the rug until he was by her feet.

She raised her bum high enough off the chair for him to remove her panties. “Can you imagine my expression when he runs the head of his cock through the wetness of my slit?”

When Janine allows Adam to talk her into visiting a casino to celebrate five years together, she never imagines that a night that starts with so much fun and flirting could end in such despair and debt. Adam doesn't just lose all the money they'd saved, he takes out credit they cannot afford to pay back. They work extra hours and struggle for a month to save up enough for the first payment. Then, it appears, the casino manager has another way the struggling couple could make the interest payments.

Outraged, Janine immediately rejects the indecent proposal. But, despite the sleaziness of the suggestion, she's flattered someone would be prepared to consider giving up that sort of money just for... her, and the thought of allowing a complete stranger to use her body pushes buttons she didn't know she had.

And why does Adam seem so keen she should do it...?

Operation: Cuckold

“Come on, Sissy. Get up here now.”

Harry obeyed.

Roy held his huge cock in his hand. “Right, now jerk me off into your wife’s pretty face.”

Harry’s mouth dropped open. “What?” He turned to look at Michelle, who stared back at him with unfocussed eyes. Her hair was clinging to her face.

Roy grabbed Harry’s arm and pushed it towards his huge cock. “I said beat my fucking meat. Your wife wants to feel my hot cum all over her face.”

Harry hesitated for a split second too long.

Roy slapped him round the head. “Come on, Sissy, I’m itching to blow, here.”

Stunned, he reached out and wrapped his hand around the dick. It was hot, wet and slippery. And bigger than anything he’d ever held before. He gripped tighter.

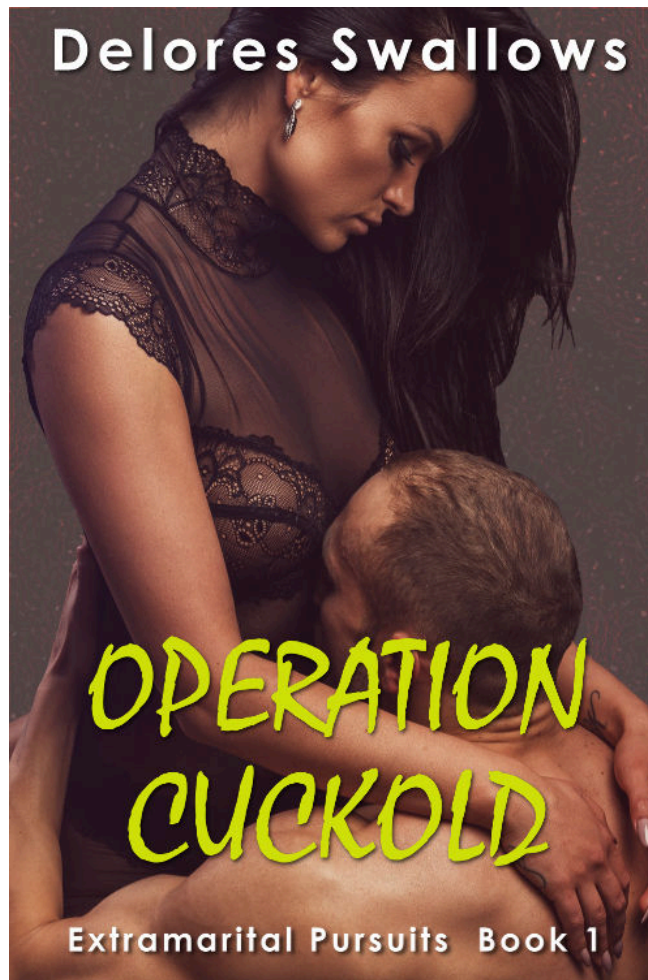

“That’s it. Now, wank me off.”

Harry started to slide his hand up and down on Roy’s cock. It felt surreal.

“Yeah, that’s it. Work it like that, but faster.”

Without taking his eyes off the cock in his hand, Harry started to pump his wrist faster. He’d had lots of practice at this over the years, but only ever on his own small cock. He looked up to his wife’s face. She was watching him, smiling. He moved his hand faster, gripped a little tighter.

Michelle shook her hair back from her face, licked her lips. “Come on, drench me.” She leaned closer and held her tongue out.

Harry's having problems rising to the occasion and discovers Michelle's been using porn to help take care of things herself.

He suggests she lives out her fantasy of a one-night stand, but is shocked by how much he gets out of it. As they repeat the experience with other men, pretty soon neither can stand the idea of going back to what they had before, even though Michelle pushes Harry right out of his comfort zone.

A cuck and bull story about a very happy hotwife.

A Hotwife's Journey

Her key in the door made his heart race. He listened as she came up the stairs, then held his breath when she walked into the bedroom. He couldn't help staring. Her clothes were twisted, her makeup was smudged, and her hair was dishevelled.

She's fucked someone.

Karen walked to the foot of the bed and looked into his face. "I did it."

He swallowed.

She pulled her top over her head and dropped it on the floor, then pushed her skirt down over her hips and kicked it away. Slowly, she unclipped her bra at the front. As the cups came away, he saw a love bite on one of her breasts. Karen held his gaze as she pushed her thong down her legs and then bent to pick it up, holding it open so he could see the gooey mess soaked into the crotch.

It was another man's cum, and it'd dribbled out of her during the drive home. The guy had deposited it deep in her cunt, and she'd returned home to her pervert husband to show him the evidence.

Nigel ached for her.

A Hotwife's Journey

After her husband's open invitation to become a hotwife, Karen enjoys a variety of surprises and adventures that are hotter than any wife could wish for.

This collection covers her entire journey...

Karen's Open Invitation

Nigel is a lucky man. He has everything a man could want: a successful and beautiful wife, a happy marriage, two wonderful daughters, a nice home and his own business.

So why risk it all just to satisfy his dirty fantasy?

When Karen's throwaway comment about a hot colleague in the Sweden office unlocks the door to his secret desires, he offers her the chance to have a little fun; to mix business with pleasure.

Nigel has fantasised about sharing his wife for a long time. And from the way Karen's been behaving lately, he suspects the idea appeals to her, too.

But there's a big difference between fantasy and reality.

Will she take up his suggestion and have a passionate tryst with a virtual stranger while attending an overseas meeting? Neither know the answer when she leaves for the airport, but she doesn't have to make her decision straight away. She can see how the meeting pans out. After all, it's an open invitation...

Karen's Party Surprise

Nigel is amazed by how Karen's taken to her new role as a hotwife. Not only does she give herself freely to strangers, but she also thrills her husband by giving him all the juicy details he craves when she gets home.

Their sex-life is better than ever.

Nigel realises that an upcoming company get together will mean that they'll be staying in the same hotel as Sean, the first man he ever shared her with. He offers Karen the chance to enjoy another night of passion, and they hatch a plan that could work. But Sean comes up with a counteroffer that's just too good to refuse.

For a wife-sharing couple like Nigel and Karen, it's the ultimate party surprise...

Karen's Holiday Adventures

Life keeps getting better and better for Nigel. His long-held wife-sharing fantasy is now his reality, and he couldn't be happier.

Or at least that's what he thinks until his wife reveals her plans for a break.

Their daughters are going away with their cousin's family, so Karen books a holiday for the two of them—on a Caribbean island. What's more, she promises to make it a fun-filled week where nothing is off-limits.

Under the hot tropical sun of St Lucia, Nigel learns just how hot his hotwife can be.

He's shocked by the diversity of her sexual appetite, but then she did promise him an 'anything goes' holiday adventure...
