PROLOGUE

FRIDAY, AUGUST 4

THE LAST MASSAGE appointment for the day finished after lunch and Sukie Travis was going to get some sun. Sophie Vagara—Tommy always got a kick out of that name—had tweaked her back four years ago while walking her dog in the rain and came to Sukie for therapy. That was back when Sukie worked at the spa. Sophie Vagara followed her when she left there and had been coming to the home business once a week ever since. The other two appointments who held her usual Friday afternoons were both, separately, on vacation.

So now she poured herself a drink, white wine from the kitchen fridge, her paperback romance tucked under her arm and against the bare skin of her middle. She had an eleven-year-old bikini on, one she wore before she'd had her boys, and was buzzing that it still fit. I mean, it cut into her a little, and her breasts had definitely, well, matured, but the stringy little thing that Tommy bought her in Cancun on a vacation—back when that was something totally different because they weren't yet married and had no kids—still technically fit.

This was a great day.

She stepped out to the pool deck, on the precipice of a free three-hour window of time and blue skies and dazzling sun, and two boisterous boys who were away at a friend's, and a husband off celebrating yet another career victory. She'd ordered a rare and out-of-print ultra-steamy romance novel (hey now!), and it arrived from Amazon yesterday afternoon in fair and very readable condition. The previous owner had dog-eared it, and splayed the spine near the bottom, a common sight indicating a spicy, one-handed read.

MILLER

FRIDAY, AUGUST 4

TOMMY TRAVIS CINCHED Megalos's Salesperson of the Year again with the deal that closed yesterday morning. One-hundred-and-forty units to be shipped to Central Africa at the beginning of next month to Wa Feng Mining Combine, a Chinese-Dutch exploratory mining conglomerate raking up swaths of Zimbabwe looking for lithium. His end-of-year bonus would be high five figures, his commission would pay off what he owed on the Corvette Stingray with the Z51 performance package he and Dio Megalos now raced through Roswell traffic.

Tommy and Dio celebrated the multi-million-dollar deal with lunch at Cellar 91 followed by eighteen holes at the Golf Club of Georgia in Alpharetta. They'd had a few. Dio more than Tommy, but this deal, while a huge boon for Tommy, was even bigger for Dio. It would show Papa Megalos that young son Dio had what it took to assume the family corporation.

Megalos Mining manufactured heavy equipment. The order to Wa Feng included fifty-two fourteen-foot screen decks, modular jaw plants, cone crushers, and four cat-track mobile cone-crushers, Megalos's newest product and a heavy-invested piece of engineering that put Megalos into dangerous financial outlay territory. Shit though, the machines worked like promised, and they could tear up land and turn it inside-out in a quarter of the time when you didn't have haulage weaving in and out.

So maybe Dionysios celebrated a little too much. You know what? The kid worked hard, and he deserved it. Tommy told him, Hey, Dio, just leave your car at the club, get Mikey from down at the office come pick it up.

They left the key at reception, tumbled into his new Corvette and blasted home with System of a Down cranked to eleven on the Bose. Promised Dio they'd chill out, keep the party going back at his house, sit by the pool and pop a couple cold ones, work over how they would conquer the rest of African mining.

Dio rolled his head around on his neck in the passenger seat, the wind whipping his thick head of glossy black hair around as they did sixty-five down Woodstock.

"Still bugging you?" he shouted over the music.

"What?" Dio shouted back, tilting his head toward him, eyebrows bowing above his Armani sunglasses.

"Your back ...? Still bugging you? ..."

"Yeah," he said, now shrugging the right shoulder high to his ear, and arching his back in the leather bucket.

"We'll get Sukie to take a look at you."

They turned right onto Old Mountain Trail and then they were in the Shearwater Ridge subdivision. His secluded four-acre estate that overlooked the ravine and the Wildwood Ridge beyond was at the end of the prestigious Spearhead Road, where it curled up the Shearwater and ended in a bulbous cul-de-sac.

Of course the kid twisted his back. Dio had a terrible swing, but he hit hard. Hit a couple three-hundred-yarders out on the course today. Put too much into it. More power than finesse, which suited his body type. He had a solid build but you could tell he did a lot of vanity work at the gym. Lots of curls and high-rep bench presses. He was slim, but his arms and chest stretched out his suits. Probably did it for business and for the ladies. He was a single guy with a rich dad and a wealthy upbringing. Good looking too, with white teeth, black eyes and hair. But he worked in construction even if he was an executive. A lot of the guys they dealt with had blue-collar backgrounds and built themselves up from nothing. Tommy figured he'd bulked up to match some of the masculinity they'd bump up against.

The music was turned low as the Corvette geared down, curling the corner to ascend the Shearwater ridge, and up ahead loomed his Spanish Colonial house. Dio took his sunglasses off and popped a stick of gum in his mouth as Tommy pulled the Z through the brick-paved loop out front and yanked up the parking brake.

Tommy said, “I got some trunks you can wear. You want a Miller?”

SUKIE MET them at the door in a bikini and Tommy didn’t mind her showing off to his boss how good he did for himself.

“Howdy, boys,” she said, “wasn’t expecting you.” With an exaggerated look of embarrassment, she mocked covering up with two hands but didn’t touch herself. “How was your golf?”

“Didn’t keep score,” he said and winked, indicating that he bested young Dio.

Up on her tippy-toes, she kissed his lower lip. Dio came up into the foyer behind him and bent at the waist, he and Sukie kissing the air near their cheeks. “Hi, Dio, nice to see you.”

“You’re looking good, Sukie,” he said.

A blush coursed her tanned face, his demure wife eager to cover up, but she didn’t want to attract more attention to herself by putting her hands where she didn’t want the boys to look—because that would make them look.

She was stunning in a little pastel two-piece. Must have been sunning out back when they got home. Laying by the pool and getting more color on her already dark skin. Sukie had popped out two young Travis boys already, and he was dying to put another one up inside her. Sukie was a little thing, just over five feet. Her face was Disney perfection with bright blue eyes and turned up princess nose. She was a shapely girl, but since the kids, she’d put weight on, and goddamnit, that weight found all the right places. Legs, arms, and neck were thin, but her ass had swelled out like a big bubble and her Cs turned into heavy, round Ds. Sexier than when he’d married her ten years ago when they were twenty-six. Met her in his second year of a BA at Georgia State and she was starting at community college getting training as a massage therapist. Love at first sight, him and her. Well, him at least, she needed some coaxing. But sales was his gift.

The three of them passed through the foyer, walked into the living room headed for the French doors that lined the base of the twenty-foot high glass-walled cathedral that looked over the swimming pool and hot tub, and the wooded ravine beyond. Sukie let them get ahead, and he knew it was because she feared they would look at her ass. So he got close and whispered, "Get up in front of me, I want to see you walk."

She giggled and elbowed him, whispered, "Stop it," but his girl beamed.

They emerged on the concrete decking around the forty-foot kidney shape, lined with teak deck chairs and loungers. He saw where his wife had been sitting, her watch and jewelry laying next to a lounge, a brown bottle of Hawaiian Tropic next to a paperback and a glass of white wine, frosted with condensation in the heat.

"Mm, some place you got, Tommy," Dio said, putting his hands on his hips and admiring the view. A polite compliment, but they'd both been to Dio's penthouse for a party, a grand apartment that probably cost twice as much as their elaborate spread.

"Thanks, Dio. Let me get you a beer."

"Sure thing," he said, stretching.

Sukie said, "I'll get you boys the drinks."

"Oh, Sukie," Tommy said. "All right if Dio gets a session? Tweaked his back out on the course today."

"Sure thing," she said.

Dio looked pained. "Oh, hey, no, that's all right, you don't have to."

"I don't mind at all, Dio. That's what I do."

He was quiet a moment then said, "Aw, that's great. If you don't mind. I really am hurting."

"Not a bother at all," Sukie said, heading back through the living room, flip-flops slapping her soles as she walked.

"Have a seat, Dio," he said. "I'll get you some trunks."

When he caught up with Sukie, she was in the kitchen.

"That all right, babe?"

"What?"

"The massage."

"Of course, baby," she said, holding the door of the fridge open, bending over and pulling out two bottles of ice-cold beer.

"I didn't ask first, I should have," he said, leaning on the rim of the open door, hovering over her. She stood with the beer, the cold of it clenching her nipples and pressing them out against the stretchy material of her bikini top.

"No, I don't mind at all, Tommy-boy, Megalos put this beautiful roof over our head."

“Well, hold up, cutie-pie, that was me that did that.”

“You know what I mean, smart ass,” she said, bumping the door closed with a hip and putting the bottles on the counter. She noticed her hardened nipples and covered herself, two small hands cupping over her pendulous breasts. She made a comical grimace, and though Dio sat outside, way out of earshot, she hoarsely whispered, “And bring me down a T-shirt.”

Tommy laughed, said, “No way. This is the best part of my day.” His eyes roamed up and down her body.

“Stop it, you pervert. I’m serious. And one that’ll cover my tush, okay?”

“Yeah, yeah,” he said, waving her prudishness away with the back of a hand, smiling then heading upstairs.

ALMOST FOUR YEARS AGO, Sukie had decided to run a massage therapy business out of the home. She’d toyed with working for someone else—and did both for a little while, running the home practice and doing two days a week at a spa outside of town. They didn’t need the money, and his wife was just looking for a way to occupy her time once Tommy Jr. and Bobby got closer to starting school. So when she had difficulty with her boss at the spa and all their complicated rules, she’d taken her small but growing list of clients as her sole source of income. Nowadays she worked at her own pace, did it five days a week, six hours a day, and she made herself some spending money. Paid for their vacation to Puerto Rico last winter, booking them in a five-star for two weeks, she paid for the kids’ medical insurance. It was a pretty good income, but most of all it gave her a sense of worth. She had her own thing, her own business, her own independence. It was good for her, and what she did brought them more luxuries. She’d invested some of her earnings into improvements in the house and their accountant bundled a lot of their home improvements under the same business banner.

The massage practice centered on a corner area of the pool. They’d built a red cedar cabana that was fully decked out with electric and plumbing and it served as a client change room, even had a chamber with a fireplace to work when it rained or the weather was poor. Mostly the massage work was done outdoors on a heavy-duty custom made wood table on dense rubber wheels that she could move around the deck of the pool.

When Tommy brought out trunks and a towel for Dio that was where he found them. Tommy changed already, shirtless now, just a towel and his sunglasses and his Rolex. Sukie had set their beers down on a table by the lounge and she stood talking to Dio, looking way up at him, smiling and nodding. She was a shorty, and Dio was probably good for six-one. Her arms were folded, covering herself, one foot crossed over the top of the other. She was shy and nervous. Sukie had a good heart and she could be intimidated by big groups and social situations.

Dio stood tall over Sukie, bare-chested, muscular, tanned, hairy. He looked shockingly good. Tommy knew he was built but seeing his boss for the first time without a shirt was strange and unnerving. His shoulders were round globes, his chest broad, his biceps and triceps pumped up and impressive. He didn't have abs, but he was very trim, though if he had abs it would be hard to see them anyway with the furring over his torso and down under the towel, traveling in a directional line below his navel.

"Hey, baby," Sukie said, seeing Tommy emerging into the sunlight, putting her hands out, indicating to him with her eyes to urgently throw her T-shirt to her before she had a panic attack. He did, tossing it to her, regretting not torturing her by bringing something tight and short, maybe botching the throw so she'd have to stoop in front of them and show off her cleavage. He complied though and brought her a long, baggy, white one like she requested, and his toss was on target. She was being a good sport about rubbing his boss down, he didn't need to be a dick right now even if it would be funny to tease her.

"Thanks, Tommy," she said from inside the shirt as she shrugged it over her head and tugged it down her body, her breasts pushing out the cotton. Her hand tucked in the neck hole, slipped under her long blonde hair and flicked it out to hang behind her. She had an elastic around her fingers and she used it to tie her hair back in a tail. "Okay, Dio," she said, "You can hop up here, lay yourself down and we can get started."

"Great, Sukie," he said, went to the table and took a long swig of the beer, set it down then sat himself on the edge of the massage table. It had been custom made by a local carpenter, height adjusted so his petite wife could work at it without having to reach, so it wasn't hard for Dio to lean back then swing his legs up. He and Sukie almost got a peep show up his towel but Dio had tugged it with one hand so it was tight to him.

HORSE

TOMMY PULLED a lounge chair up next to the table so he could talk to Dio while his wife worked on his back. Dio had his head turned toward Tommy but he kept his sunglasses on. Sukie had oiled him up from the nape of his neck, down to the crest of his paler buttocks where they met his bronzed back. The towel sparkled white against his dark skin.

Once she had him coated, she put her hands to work. Sukie wasn't a big thing, her hands were small and delicate, but she had a grip on her. Hours upon hours, years upon years of kneading flesh had made her hands like iron. So she stood aside his half-naked boss—all business, ignoring his muscle, his tan, and good looks—plucked off her wedding ring and jewelry, and lay them in a tray on a table by the door of the cabana and got to work.

He and Dio talked about their trip to Africa next month, talked about potential markets they would find. Tommy had paid for some top-secret ranging information that showed where two private contracted companies had been trolling for deposits. Tommy wanted to be ready when a market emerged, and jump in with both feet, fully geared up and ready for action.

Sukie dug her thumbs deep into Dio's tissue, working his muscles in hard circles. She squeezed a pleased grunt from him quite a few times. Up and down she rubbed, her hands always working away from his heart, working with the blood flow. A technique he'd learned along the way from the many delightful back rubs he'd garnered from her during the years.

Tommy said, "Jesus, Sukie ... and you should have seen these Chinese guys ... just about shit their pants during my demo. Mike and Chili ran that L3450 through a pile of aggregate and all these Chinese guys in suits and hard hats and clipboards ... ha, ha, hey, Dio ...? ... When they saw that caterpillar chew up that rock, how fucking fast it moved—”

“Ho, sheez, oh sorry,” Dio blurted abruptly, flinching and nearly jumping off the wooden bed. He watched Sukie over his shoulder with his hand clasped on the towel and his knees drawn up.

Sukie laughed, “Sorry, sorry, Dio, I should have warned you ...”

“What the hell happened?” Tommy laughed.

“My fault,” Dio said, “she touched—”

“I touched his thigh, and he wasn’t expecting it. I think he’s ticklish ...”

“No,” Dio laughed, “no, I, just ...”

“Hey,” Sukie said, “I know it’s your back that’s sore, but you can hold a lot of tension from the pain that built up in your erector spinae ...”

“Erector ...?”

“Up your lower back.”

“Yeah?”

“Yeah,” she said smiling. Her hands were held upright near her chest, her skin glistening with bright white lines of oily light. Rivulets ran her forearms. She’d also worked herself a sweat, staining the white of her cotton T-shirt under her arms and the middle of her back. The ties of her bikini top were visible through the dampened fabric. “If you don’t want ... I don’t have to, but I think you’ll benefit if I do up the backs of your legs.”

“Just let her, Dio,” Tommy said.

Dio settled back down, his arms folded up under his cheek, his sunglasses turned to face Tommy again. “Okay,” he said. “Go easy on me.”

“I’ve got a good touch,” Sukie joked.

“You do,” he agreed.

Tommy said, “So, yeah, Sukie ... these guys they took one look at the way this machine handled their test rock, and boom, they were jib-jabbering a mile a minute. Man, I tell you. Eh, Dio? ... These fucking cats can move rock.”

“They do,” Dio said.

“That’s great, guys,” Sukie said, taking her hands and digging up the inside and the outside of Dio’s thigh.

“Yeah, it sure is great for me and great for Megalos. We got a product will start selling itself.”

Dio laughed, said, “I heard that. I can reduce your commission.”

“Ha ha, try it, buddy,” Tommy laughed. “Beer?”

“Sure,” Dio said. “I didn’t finish the first one but I like to be prepared.”

“Sukie? Wine ...?” he asked her.

“Yes, please.”

When he stood and made his way to the kitchen, his periphery caught on something. Pace slowing, his head swiveled to the left. Dio lay face down, hands under his head, eyes closed behind his sunglasses, legs slightly parted, feet soles up. Sukie stood at his knee and she worked her hands into the backs of his thighs. But there, huge and obvious, like a heap of red-brown oil-glistened flesh, lay Dio’s cock and balls. They were on full display for his missus and there was absolutely no way she did not see them. Her hands stroked a mere inch away.

The step he was taking froze, and he stiffened for a moment. He made to say something, but there was nothing to say. Nothing was funny here. No banter could make sense of what he was seeing, no quip would ease the weird moment. His wife massaged his boss, a man who signed his paychecks and who he spent five days a week working under. And that man, his boss, had a big old horse cock. And that big old horse cock was on display for his wife. His poor little shy wife probably too worried to say a thing, she just worked away trying to be as professional as could be (though her hands danced precariously close).

He resumed his stride, hurried himself into the house and into the air-conditioned kitchen. What the fuck? His heart pounded, his ears thudded. His mind froze on that horrible image he’d just witnessed. Dio had a thick, wrinkled, uncircumcised cock with a fat, bulbous glans under the foreskin. He had huge balls that had relaxed in the heat, settled, his scrotum melting over his cock’s underside, one ball on the left, nestled on the white terry, the other ball on the right, leaning on the inside of his thigh. He shook his head vigorously but couldn’t shake the image away. He tried again and failed.

When he poured Sukie’s wine his hand shook uncontrollably, and he had to put the bottle down on the marble countertop for a moment. He darted back, went to the window and spied. Sukie was at his ankles now, working her thumbs up and down his calf. The terry towel had been tugged lower to cover his thighs again, but she could probably still see that monster from where she worked.

“Jesus,” he whispered to the empty room.

Back in the kitchen, he grabbed his wife's wine and two bottles of Miller, put them on a tray, opened a bag of potato chips, his muscles so uncooperative the bag burst wide as he tugged and he lost half the chips on the terra cotta tile.

"M-maid'll get it," he mumbled inexplicably. Jesus, the maid didn't come til Monday, this was Friday. Did his brain get baked out in the sun? Was this a stroke? Down on his knees, he gathered up the chips with shaky hands and scooped them into the garbage. His heart still raced and his vision blurred. That scene he'd witnessed had really messed with him. He carried the tray out to the pool.

SUKIE HAD FINISHED. When he stepped back into the bright sunlight and onto the deck, tray in hand, Sukie ran her hands up and down the sides of Dio's back. Slow and smooth, the action she performed during the cool-down when the massage had ended. The towel was snug in place, his legs closer together. Tommy licked his lips as he placed the tray down on a low table next to the loungers.

Tommy said, "We all done here?"

Sukie whispered, "Yeah, he might have drifted off."

"No, I'm awake," Dio mumbled, his lips barely moving.

"You faker," Sukie said, and she raked her nails lightly across his back and he made an odd purring sound.

Sukie came to Tommy, took her glass of wine and imbibed.

Dio breathed a long satisfied inhale. He sat up slowly, drowsily, his hair sticking up in clumps, his sunglasses dipping low on the bridge of his nose. He tapped them back in place with a middle finger as he said, "God, Sukie, that was incredible. Tommy ...? ... she do that for you?"

"All the time."

"Well, you are one lucky cat, man, seriously. Look at this big house, you got those two amazing little boys ... and look at your wife. God, I envy this, you know ...?"

Sukie said, "You're young—the right girl will come along soon."

"Mm," he said, "Some day." He raised his fists straight up in the air and stretched, thrusting each one, alternating while he twisted. "God, I feel so good now,” he said.

“You’ll see,” Sukie said.

“I hope so,” he said. Dio’s towel, loosely tied at his hip, had widened when he sat with his legs apart. His feet dangled near the concrete and as he arched his back and stretched, that big cock said hello again. Clearly visible to all though Tommy wasn’t sure if Sukie saw.

When Dio leaned forward, hiding his face in his hands and rubbing at his eyes with his fingertips, his penis eased itself forward, attempting to dangle over the edge of the table but getting caught up on the dry surface of the towel. The foreskin hung up, and the tip of his glans tried to vomit out. Tommy got a peek at his boss’s pee hole. Tommy shook his head, bothered again, but didn’t want to take a peek at Sukie to see if she watched. He’d prefer to think she didn’t.

When his hands came away, Dio seemed to notice his exposure in his periphery and tugged the gap in the towel skirt closed.

“Mm, where are those shorts, Tommy?”

“Hanging on the doorknob of the cabana. You can get yourself changed in there.”

Dio slipped languidly off the bed, padded over to the cabana, took the shorts and disappeared inside.

When he looked to Sukie she was drying her hands with a towel. She said, “Hey, you think he’ll stay for dinner? You want me to barbecue some burgers?”

THE BOYS WERE home after their day camp at four. Dio was still there when they arrived, swimming in the pool while Sukie grilled hamburgers and hot dogs on the Big Green Egg. Tommy Jr. brought home his friend Jesus from school, and they swam, and Dio played Marco Polo with them. Jesus’s mother came around seven and took him home. Dio left shortly after that, changed into his golfing blacks, thanked them for the awesome evening, the massage, kissed Sukie on the cheek, clapped Tommy on the back, got in a cab and went home.

Later, Tommy took his wife and kids into the village and they went to the creamery and he treated everyone to double scoop ice cream cones and they ate them in the park by the river, even though it was after Bobby's bedtime.

At ten, the boys in bed, dishes and laundry done, paperwork for his commission tended to in his home office, he sat in bed next to Sukie. Both of them with the table lamps on, sitting with their backs against pillows propped up against the headboard. He read the news on his iPad and Sukie read a dog-eared paperback romance novel. She had her hair tied up, her pajamas on, and wore her black-framed eyeglasses she needed for close-up.

"Some day, huh?" he said, fishing.

"It was nice. You should have called and let me know you were coming."

"Yeah, I should have. It was spur of the moment. We took the day off to celebrate. I thought we'd golf and then I'd knock off for the day."

"Mm," she grunted. "Call next time so you don't catch me walking around with nothing on."

"You looked good."

"Did I look good in the T-shirt?"

"Yeah."

"I was more comfortable in the T-shirt. I felt naked with company ... your boss ..."

"Dinner was good."

"I know my way around a barbecue."

"You do. You make those patties yourself?"

"Yup. Homemade."

"Can't beat 'em."

"Thanks, baby," she said, flipping a page in the book.

"Hey, and thanks for the massage. For Dio."

"I told you, Tommy, my pleasure. It's what I do, and ... I don't know, it's for the good of the family. You know ...?"

"Yeah," he said. "We make a good team."

"We do. Hey ..."

"What?"

"You believe that about him wanting to find a girl?"

"Yeah, why not?"

"Oh, I don't know. He's a good-looking young guy, and the girls must flock to him. How can he not find the right one?"

“I don’t know. It takes time to find someone you’re compatible with. So he dates, he spends time ... then he finds out it’s not going to work ... then he has to start all over again.”

“I know how dating works, Tommy,” she said, bumping him with her shoulder, her head still turned to her book.

“Well, he doesn’t go through women or anything. He’s been in longer relationships all the time I’ve known him.”

“I just mean he has a lot to offer and he must meet lots of potential—”

“A lot to offer?”

“Don’t you think?” she said, flipping another page in her book.

“Like that dick?”

She paused with her finger holding the page, her eyes regarding him in her periphery. He watched her carefully, was waiting to spring this on her and his eyes narrowed in scrutiny. The corner of her smile tugged up. A smirk, really. She said, “Yeah, that is one huge dick, huh?”

“You saw it, I guess ...”

“How could you not? I was afraid to put my hands near it, like it was going to leap out and bite me.”

“Jesus, Sukie,” he said with a disgusted sneer.

She turned her head, lowered her chin, looked at him through her brows, eyes peeping over the top of her glass’s frames. She held the gaze with an expressionless face for a heartbeat.

“What?” he said.

“I’m sorry. I was just vibing off the way you were talking.”

“Huge dick,” he mumbled, imitating her crudeness.

“Whatever,” she said, opening her paperback again.

NORWEGIANS

MONDAY, AUGUST 7

HE AND DIO had a lunch meeting with some Norwegian bigwigs from a mining company that had operations all over Afghanistan and southern Africa. The guys were shady as fuck, in a cold and brutal North European way. Like a couple of super-villains in a James Bond movie. That type. Like, when they alluded to having dealt with Blackwater, and still did in its current incarnation, Tommy's brows didn't even lift. They whiffed of underhanded government contracts.

The guys from Norway had selected a booth in the back corner of the restaurant where it was dark and dim. Tommy got off on it a little, even enjoyed pausing his usually gregarious conversation/sales pitch when someone walked near. He'd slow his speech, his eyes would dart to the passerby, and he tried to imagine if they were carrying a weapon where would they hide it. It was mostly to amuse himself but he knew the mining execs got off on the espionage.

The equipment order they'd agreed on was small, but it was a start. Mostly these dudes wanted to try out the new mobile cone-crusher, and when it delivered the results they wanted (he knew it would) there would be more orders placed. These fish were a six-month long battle once he'd got them nibbling on his line. The contract today was a solid land but it would lead to even more.

Gudmund Vinter, VP of purchasing, excused himself from the table and went to the restroom, leaving them with his stone-faced associate, Kal, a blonde-haired automaton in a black suit and shirt, no tie.

The papers had been signed, formalities surpassed. Kal's English was very poor, and he mostly had contributed in low and hushed guttural negotiations with Gudmund, so the lack of conversation grew uncomfortable.

Dio sighed, said to Tommy, "I still feel amazing, you know?"

"From ...?"

"Friday. Sukie ... the massage."

"Ah, yeah, right."

Then to Kal, Dio said, "His wife ... Tommy's wife ... she is a ..." and he motioned with his thumbs, a crude imitation of giving a back rub.

"Masseuse," Kal said flatly.

"Right," Dio said. "She is amazing. I mean it. I hurt my back ... golf," he said, speaking loudly like that would solve the language barrier, then giving a contracted swing with a double overhand grip.

Kal nodded.

"She ..." he motioned with his digging thumbs again. "Yeah, fixed me right up."

"She's a professional registered massage therapist," Tommy said to Kal. He nodded again, smiled grimly.

"So hey," Dio said, gently nudging Tommy's elbow with the back of his hand.

"What?"

"Does she have a card?"

"Why?"

"A card. For her business."

"Yeah."

Dio stared at him expectantly for a long moment. "Could I get one?" he said, his hand extended palm up.

"Well, I don't have one on me. And ... she's pretty booked up, you know? She has a long list of clients."

Kal watched them whispering back and forth, his head oscillating from left to right.

Dio said, "She can fit me in."

"She's ... well ..."

"C'mon, Tommy ... she can fit me in."

"I'll ... I'll ask her."

BOOKED

MONDAY, AUGUST 14

DIO BOOKED appointments with Sukie for the lunch hour on both Tuesdays and Thursdays. Tommy had told her he might call, and told her, Hey, it's up to you and don't feel obligated because he's my boss.

"Clients are clients, Tommy. At least he's clean and I know he can pay the bills," she said.

Tommy said, "Okay. If he calls."

But of course he called.

One night, the boys gone to bed, he and Sukie watched Netflix on the big screen on the lower level, and her phone rang with the tone she used for business calls. She excused herself, and an inexplicable malaise came over him while he sat on the couch and stared at the paused picture on the screen. Her behavior was very surreptitious. Then again, Sukie had no way of knowing it was Dio calling for sure ...

Why did this bother him so much? Or the real question: why were you afraid to address the real reason this bothered you so much? It was the big dick.

But why? She wasn't going to do anything, right? He trusted her. Thought he trusted her. But fuck, there was just something so sexual about watching her touching a man like Dio. He was younger, fit, hung, handsome. If his boss was a doughy middle-aged guy Tommy wouldn't bat an eye. It was the fact he had a lot to offer. Just like his wife had said. And his wife had also acknowledged the size of his penis. Had seen it. Had noted it. That was the real point of the blade. She was shy and demure and she was a good mom, but she read those smutty romances. Read a lot of them. She knew when a guy was hot, and here she had one. And fuck, Dio would be naked with her.

That display with the two of them when he'd gone to retrieve the drinks: her hands grazed up and down his thighs, practically touching his cock. I mean, he respected what she did and all, but what the fuck? That was too much. Still, he wouldn't say a thing about it. Wouldn't insult her. Wouldn't insult Dio either. Sukie wouldn't just start jerking Dio off because he had a great big cock. That was stupid. And Dio wouldn't throw a move on her. Sure she was hot and sweet, all rolled into one, but she was a mom and she was older than him. Oh, and married.

But still ...

So she'd come back and sat on the couch and he didn't even ask who was on the phone. She didn't hide it, flat out told him: Yeah, that was Dio.

It was? he said with manufactured disinterest. Yeah, he called. I took him on, she said. Mm-hm, he grunted, un-paused the show they'd been watching.

Two times Dio had visited her at lunch. This week had been spent thinking about nothing but. While at work, he anticipated with horror the time that Dio would leave the office. When he was gone, and Tommy was alone with the other sales guys, all he could think of was that Dio was fucking her right now. Then when Dio was back in the office, disgustingly relaxed, he was consumed with thoughts of Dio and Sukie together and the things that may have happened. But didn't. They just didn't. But he couldn't stop himself from staring at his boss and scowling inside, saying to himself, Did you touch my fucking wife?

It was so crazy. Sukie was professional.

But on Sunday night, after a long day of football failed to clear these sharp-edged thoughts from his mind, he knew he had to do something. What? Confront her? Say I'm uncomfortable with you massaging my boss. Why, Tommy? No reason. Tommy, is it his big, gorgeous dick? See, that was the problem. Didn't want his wife to know he thought about Dio's dick. Didn't want her to know this sort of thing bothered him. Didn't want her to think he didn't goddamned trust her. Because ... he really did. He loved his little Sukie.

The only real solution then, obviously, was to plant a camera in the room and get a look-see on the situation. A little recon, like when he was in the Army. Get a lay of the battlefield. And just like he wanted to be prepared for foreign markets and garnered a little secret Intel on mining activities through shady services, well this was the same ... and just like making money for his family this was okay because it was for the greater good. All that would happen was he would watch the video back, see that his wife was a professional, didn't fuck Dio, and then that would ease this metallic specter that had settled on his psyche. Three nights running he'd woken himself from grinding his teeth. He would watch what she did during her appointments with Dio and it would make him feel better, and maybe in a week's time he wouldn't think of it at all. Dio would be just another one of Sukie's regular clients.

SPYCAM

TUESDAY, AUGUST 15

THE SPY DEVICE was a simple nanny cam that he bought in a tech store in the city. Nothing fancy, just a black rectangle the size of a box of Tic Tacs. Hid it in a planter outside, but under the eaves to protect it in case it should rain. He worried that if the weather was bad enough that they may do the session in the cabana and he would be in the dark for a few more days.

He had to know.

Tuesday morning he checked the forecast, saw nothing but sunshine. His fingers began tingling; he had a drive within him, something fierce and he couldn't pinpoint what it was. Did he want to catch her? Or did he want to prove there was nothing wrong? What was it in him that burned so brightly?

His pulse pounded with an unknown excitement.

Mission accomplished, he'd ducked back into the kitchen, kissed his boys on the head, and watched Sukie dance around the kitchen in her shorts and T-shirt.

"What's got you dancing?" he asked her.

"I don't know," she said, smirking. "Shall I stop?"

"No, by all means, I'll watch those pretty legs work while I eat," he said, taking a theatrical bite out of his bacon.

"Gross, dad," Tommy Jr. said drolly, without looking up from his tablet.

It was a nice and pleasant scene when viewed from the outside. Like through the eyes of his boys. Dear old dad macking on their mother, their mother light on her toes, twirling around the kitchen in her bare feet while their dad ate the breakfast she'd made. But a darkness had settled on the household and he may be the shadowy figure in this case. If Sukie wasn't up to anything—and damn it, she wasn't—then he'd broken a bond. He'd challenged the trust in their relationship. If she did nothing with Dio, then he was the bad guy here.

MORNING WAS TOUGH. He must have checked his watch ten times an hour. His feet bounced under his desk as he pretended to track down leads. Mostly he nursed his headache and four cups of coffee.

The sales room in Megalos was a quarter of an office floor, with steel grey dividers cordoning little spaces, defining everyone's offices. Except for Dio. He had a glass-walled office against the wall with a view of the Old Fourth Ward out his floor-to-ceiling windows.

11:55 came and Dio was on the move. Why wouldn't he be? He had an appointment with a soft-skinned angel with the bluest eyes and the silkiest hair. Tommy felt his bottom lip button up to the top in a sudden sadness. That headache came back with a vengeance and he yanked open his drawer and grabbed the Advil.

Dio's head bobbed along the tops of the low, grey office walls and Tommy tracked him as he went, popping two liqui-gels and dry-swallowing. Dio stopped at the point where the outer wall offices ended and checked his hair in the reflection. Then he adjusted his tie, turned his head from side to side, testing his shave and running his fingers through his hair one more time for good luck. When all was in place, he headed for the door that would take him to the elevators. He paused, turned, his eyes scanning, caught Tommy's gaze. A strange sort of tightness passed his expression, then he nodded, bounced his eyebrows and shot him with a finger pistol. Then he was gone. He hadn't even smiled.

LUNCHTIME WAS BAD, but the afternoon was worse. Dio took an hour-and-twenty minutes for lunch. Came back to the office looking incredibly relaxed, and his tie was missing. As he passed through the sales floor, he avoided Tommy's gaze. Then he closed himself up in his office for the next hour and he was on the phone, his office chair swiveled to face out the window, the back of the chair facing the cubicle offices.

Tommy watched the top of his head bobbing as he talked, sometimes his free hand would come up and gesture as he spoke to whoever on the other end. Could it be Sukie? The two of them talking how incredible each other was. How they couldn't wait for next Tuesday so they could fuck again.

By the time 5 P.M. had rolled around he was a mess. His hair was unkempt, his clothes stained with sweat. He rushed out to the Corvette and blasted home.

Whatever had transpired he would know now. It had been committed to video. His future was a bunch of bits and bytes in a thirty dollar spy cam sitting right now out in the open in a planter facing where his wife set up her massage table.

TOMMY WATCHED Sukie's face while they ate dinner. Turned away, her pretty features placid and calm, her pouting lips wriggling as she chewed the steak she had done on the grill tonight. Jesus stayed for dinner, after an hour of swimming after day camp with Tommy Jr. and his brother, and while the three boys babbled at the table about things he was only vaguely aware of, he watched Sukie—horrified at the potential things that may be revealed tonight when he watched his video.

Would he hate her by midnight? Twelve o'clock tonight this beautiful woman who he'd dedicated his life to, built a family with, could be ruined for him. Was Dio fucking her? Would they do it on the table? Would he have to watch it all transpire? Could he do that?—watch it right to the end, watch all of it? Would he have to see her on all fours with his boss banging into her from behind at thundering speed, making his wife's breasts sway and bounce? Her face would be twisted in pain and ecstasy. Her mouth in a drop-jawed O shape, her expression pinched into pleasurable pain. It made him hard. Right at the patio table under the shade of the green canvas umbrella, in front of his fucking family, he got an erection. Thinking of her with Dio. Why would something so awful be so arousing?

He pushed it away. Hunched his back to hide what had pressed out his shorts. Thought about good things and tried to scrape away the dread from his thoughts. Later tonight he may hate Sukie Travis, but right now he loved her. Might as well spend his last moments like this having fun. A memory to cherish when it's all over.

THEY BRUSHED THEIR TEETH TOGETHER, watching each other in the mirror and she was smiling at him, winking.

“Wha ...?” he said around the toothbrush.

“I owe-oh,” she said, shrugging her shoulders while she jabbed the brush in and out, getting her molars. She had a tank top on, an older one, the cotton practically threadbare. No bra, and those beautiful, big breasts of hers swayed with her movements, her nipples mildly aroused and evident under the fabric. His eyes traveled down while he continued his own brushing, saw she wore panties instead of her sleeping shorts.

First thought, seeing her like this, was that Dio had provoked it. Dio had sucked on her pussy today, shoved that big cock in her mouth, then fucked her wildly in the open air of the secluded Travis backyard. He was an animal of a lover, and he'd turned his little Sukie into a tiger. Got her primed up and now her motor was running.

He spat out in the sink, rinsed with water and dried his mouth and hands on a hand towel.

“I gotta make a few calls, okay, Sukie? I'll be in bed a little later.”

She frowned at him, said, “Rearry?” her mouth foaming over with toothpaste suds. A furrow crossed her brow like she was legitimately angry.

“Sorry, time zones. Gotta call now. They're expecting me.”

The anger in her face changed to disappointment, and she shook her head almost imperceptibly and spat out in the sink.

He left without saying anything, getting out of the master suite and into the hall, slipping quietly past the boys' rooms and down the stairs to the main floor. He'd love to get into bed with her, fool around and spend some time with her in that way. But this whole thing had fucked with his insides. Mostly his goddamned heart. Even right now it was thundering in his chest, beating against his ribs in anticipation of what he might find.

He slipped the French door open without making a sound, padded out onto the concrete deck under a quarter moon and a purple, nighttime sky.

Crickets burred madly, and they hid the sound of him rummaging through the planter and retrieving his spy cam. The whole night out here on the patio with the family had tortured his nervous system. He came home and everyone was already out here having fun and all he wanted to do was grab this camera, slam it into his computer and watch what happened. Instead he had to sit and make happy faces through a roiling inner turmoil, knowing the truth lay in a black box hanging twenty feet away under the eaves of the loving home he'd built with his loving wife.

Now he had it. Clamped it in his sweaty fist and felt its hard black edges press into his flesh. This was it.

So he made his way silently back into the house and closed the door behind him. Down the hall, less wary of noise now that he was near his office where he was supposed to be, should someone come down for a glass of warm milk, he made it to his office unchallenged. Went in the dark, sat at his desk, tapped the mouse to bring the huge iMac screen to life. Blinking in the sudden light he unwound a USB cable from behind the computer, tried plugging into the base of the camera but couldn't line them up he was shaking so wildly.

"Fuck, come on," he whispered, held the heel of one hand steady on the edge of the desk then guided the dongle into the camera with furious concentration.

Three swipes and clicks and he had the video player opened, waited, saw just black. The camera was motion activated, and he worried that something had interfered with it and that—

The screen burst to light in 1080p life.

There was Dio, wearing his suit, Sukie walking next to him. She seemed a little more comfortable now. This would be their third official appointment and it made sense that she was less nervous with him than she'd been the day they came home from golf unannounced. She wore a tight tank top, her bright blonde hair tied back in a tail that danced around her tanned shoulders. Her shorts were a little revealing, ending not too far from the globe of her beautiful, big ass. But it was hot today, Tommy. Keep it together.

Dio knew what to do, smiling and making chit-chat but heading to the cabana to get changed. There was no audio. He turned up the volume but all he got was wind noise and tiny indecipherable voices buried far underneath. He turned it back down. He wouldn't be able to hear what they said.

Dio disappeared in the cabana, closing the door behind him. Sukie had a table next to her massage bed, and she brought bottles and bowls up on to it from the storage underneath. Poured oil into one bowl, a different oil in another. There was a small music player that was plugged into an outlet in the mulch at the garden behind her. She turned it on, twisting the dial, and he heard nothing, but imagined the usual flutes and Asian inspired drums. One by one her rings were plucked free, including her wedding ring (you're free now, Sukie!), then the bangles on her wrist, all being placed neatly in a box with a lid that she put underneath in the storage (Out of sight, out of mind, you whore!). He squinted and groaned at his own internal discourse, troubled by the growing tension that pulled through him.

"Oh, Sukie," he sighed, seeing Dio emerge now from the cabana. He wore a white towel around his waist but he knew that underneath that his young boss was completely naked. He was looking even better than he was a week ago and Tommy had a lacerating notion that his boss had been dieting and hitting the gym harder to impress Sukie. His abs weren't prominent, but he was trimmer, and there was a tightness rippling across his belly as he walked. His chest was pumped up, his shoulders too. He was dreamy. Especially to a late-thirties housewife/masseuse with two kids who read romance novels. She could recognize the masculine attraction Dio Megalos had and respond to it. Wasn't this like a storyline from one of the dirty books she read?

They said something and a light laugh passed between them, and Sukie stepped aside so that he could get past and climb up on the table. Dio knew the routine and was comfortable, putting a knee up, then the other, getting on his elbows, then laying face down. The towel had covered him the whole time.

Sukie began. Her small hands struggled over the bulging muscles of Dio's upper back. She watched herself work. Up and down, around in circles, spreading oil over Dio and making him gleam. Tommy sat and watched, growing uncomfortable, seeing what his wife did naturally, all day long, for lots of clients, but now somehow intensely bothered by it.

"Okay, okay," he sighed, using the mouse to grab the slider and advance the video. Few more minutes. Still working his back. Getting more oil and going down his muscular arms. “All right, Jesus,” he whispered. Advanced farther. Sukie leaning over his waist and digging the points of her thumbs into the small of his back. Advanced again. She still worked his low back. A few more minutes ahead. Ah, her fingers pinched at the towel, inched it higher up his thighs. Dio’s legs spread wider, easing out the left one, then the right one.

An instant prickly red wave of anger washed over him. His brow lowered and his mouth formed a tight line. He wanted to kill this kid. He was a good boss, a smart guy, they got along, but this ...?

And yet, surging with the same aggression through his body that the rage revved at was something surprising again ... an arousal. He’d swelled out the front of his underwear. The elastic of his waistband had pulled away from his belly. “Sheezus,” he whispered and leaned forward to see how bad this video was going to get.

From the angle of the camera he couldn’t see between Dio’s legs but knew from experience the equipment he carried between would be flopped between his thighs and fully evident to sweet Sukie Travis. She worked up and down his left leg, one hand on the outside, one inside. Her eyes tilted downward, watching what she did. Watching what this man sported, too, wasn’t she? His breaths came quicker and quicker.

Sukie made her way down his leg, over to the other side, worked his right leg now. He watched the woman he loved. Her short, shapely legs, her bare feet flexing in her flip-flops as her toes grabbed purchase to really throw some leverage into the kneading of Dio’s muscular leg. Again, that right hand would be slipping up and down the inside of his thigh, so close to what she had herself described as a huge dick.

Then she was moving down. Working his calf, then his ankles and Achilles. Was that all there was? Fuck, she was his professional loving sweetheart, wasn’t she? His pulse pounded strong, but slowing as he watched her hands go up and down the soles of his feet. Cooling down.

A tingling relief came over him, and he felt himself slink into the leather office chair. Now he noticed the slider below the video. There was lots of video left. His heart thudded again. It wasn’t over. But wait, no, the kids. There would be video of the kids playing after school, them eating dinner, maybe Sukie sunbathing during the afternoon, or yes, more clients ... more clients, of course. He eased the slider forward. Dio rolling over, getting on his back now.

“That’s okay, that’s okay.”

He checked the slider. Half an hour had played. Dio’s appointment was for an hour. She did fronts. She massaged fronts, people had muscles there, too, that needed fucking rubbing.

Dio’s towel had opened, the two ends parting in a V up the middle and across his hip where it was knotted. Nothing was visible. Not underneath at least. But Tommy saw something else. The clear hump of Dio’s cock under the towel, large and impressive, running along sideways.

He skipped ahead. Sukie rubbed his chest, his shoulders. Tommy grew again, stretched out his underwear. Fuck, please don’t, Sukie. After the reprieve he’d had thinking the massage was done, he wanted that back. The relief was what he wanted more than anything. Maybe under it all, lurking, bumping up against his hull was something twisted and ugly that maybe, just fucking maybe, he realized might have been tragically aroused by the thought of his loving wife having hot passionate sex with another man. He’d glimmered reprieve, then had it taken away, now needed its sweet taste back. Please, Sukie.

Her fingers explored his middle, going over his stomach, making it gleam with oil, slipped under the waist of the towel by the slightest degree and here he was stiffening between his legs further. She worked his stomach for a good stretch and had Tommy’s breath coming short and infrequent.

Then she turned to the table, and he sighed. Over? No, she dipped her fingers back into the bowl of oil, brought them out dripping then rubbed them together, interdigitated them.

“Oh shit, oh fuck,” he said as Sukie’s hands went to the knot in the towel, fingers working it apart, unfolding where it curled, brought the two halves wide open and exposed Dio fully.

LOVE DEN

SUKIE LAY the towel out flat around him. Something was said between them, a question from Sukie and an answer from Dio. No laughing, just lips moving.

Dio lay flat on his back and Sukie rubbed her hands together. Dio's flaccid cock lay heavily to the side, thick and brown, foreskin-covered, extending almost to his hip.

Sukie ran a hand up the front of his left thigh, and Tommy's eyes fluttered with excitement. She dug those fingers into the muscle and ran them in slippery lines from mid-thigh up to the point of his hip. His penis jostled as his body was rocked by her vigorous movement. She worked him like that for minutes, his cock exposed to her; prominent, and impressive, and obvious.

Then she stopped, gathered more oil, rubbed her hands together as she crossed to the other side, her legs and feet visible to Tommy now. She stood at Dio's thigh on the other side, the tip of his cock pointing right at her. Hands thoroughly oiled again, she picked up his cock between thumb and forefinger, held it in a wide C, lifted. It cambered in her grip, and she had to cinch it tighter, squashing its shape. She took it, guided it up onto his belly, pointing over the opposite hip.

Tommy shuddered with unbelievable ecstasy. "Oh shit, oh wow," he said to the empty room. His cock flexed in his underwear and he felt a trickle of excitement leak out of him. His hand slipped absently under his pants and into his underwear.

“Jesus, baby, oh Sukie,” he moaned as he watched her work her fingers into the muscles of Dio’s left thigh now, doing the same thing she’d done on the other leg, working from mid-thigh, high up into the hip, practically at the V where it met his belly. Dio’s dark brown cock rolled against his stomach with the movement. It was dry and dusky looking, but its middle showed the slippery glistening fingerprints of his wife’s small hand. Like evidence in a trial. There was the proof, your Honor. My wife touched another man’s penis. Only to move it, Tommy. No big deal. No big deal?

Now he noticed that Dio’s penis was changing shape. Elongating. Sukie continued her ministrations and there was no way she couldn’t notice the transformation happening in her hung client. Dio grew hard, heartbeat by heartbeat. Sukie’s touch had brought it on. It wiggled on his belly, gaining life, arcing and bucking as blood was pumped into it. His foreskin began to climb and recoil all on its own. His cock was transforming. Still Sukie worked his thigh, her oil-slick hands sliding right past this beast, then back down. Dio’s cock worked straighter then eased itself to the center so it began to point straight up to his chest, though it was still laying flat on his hard belly. As Sukie slid up and down, her hands nearly bumping its big wide base, it lifted off Dio’s body and stood on its own. It had reached mammoth proportions. Absolutely, incredibly large. It was as wide as Sukie’s wrist.

Tommy exposed himself now under his desk, his own hand working up and down what he’d been blessed with, which wasn’t terrible at all, but given what his wife had seen today ... I mean, Jesus.

It bobbed with Dio’s heartbeat now and as he reached what must have been maximum hardness, the end of it extending beyond the height of his belly button, the foreskin peeled right back on its own without anyone touching it, the large, plump glans fully exposed.

Tommy’s arousal was overwhelming. Touching himself, seeing his wife put in such an exciting situation, the sheer size and eroticism of what she’d witnessed, threatening to make him pass out. The feel of his own hand was making his consciousness blip in and out.

“Oh wow,” he said, watching her still work his muscle, watching his boss’s proud and superior erection pulse with power so close to her.

Then she was done. Her hands stroked down his thigh, right to his knee, lifted off with grace, and she collected a towel from the edge of the bed and dried her hands. Nothing was said between Sukie and Dio, and she quietly dried, gathered up a clean towel, unfolded it, let it hang flat at her waist then she lifted it, settled it over Dio and draped it across his arousal. His cock tented out the towel in an enormous hump.

“Oh, you good girl, Sukie. You good girl,” he said softly. Now Sukie leaned close to Dio, said something near his ear, and she left, walking towards the camera and off to the right, heading into the house.

“You didn’t even really touch it, baby,” he cooed. “Oh, you’re my good girl.” His heart swelled in his chest and his eyes rimmed with tears. Tears of happiness though, he supposed. Sukie was a professional. She wasn’t some skank. She didn’t jerk guys off, charge more money for happy endings. Even when presented with a young handsome hunk with a legendary tool, she kept her cool.

“Oh, I love you, Sukie,” he said to the screen, though she was gone and only Dio and his towel-bulge remained.

Then a new irritation crossed him.

Her brushing her teeth and winking in the mirror, her clothes meant to reveal her body to him. Her disappointment that he wasn’t coming to bed. She wanted to fuck tonight. They had a good sex life, there were never any shortages. They made love in bed before sleeping. Was Sukie so turned on that she was already revved up, sending him signals while they were brushing their teeth? That was it, wasn’t it? She’d been so turned on by what she saw today that she couldn’t wait to fuck her husband. But was that bad? That guy turned her on and Tommy reaped the benefit. That was okay. But still ...

How many more sessions before Sukie let her hands edge just a bit closer? Her wrist accidentally stroking up and down his shaft while her fingers did their magic. Oh, I’m sorry Dio, did I just touch your huge dick?

Then what?

Hey, you know, Dio, they say men store a lot of tension in their penises.

Would she—

Now on the screen, Dio sat up on the bed, the video still playing out on his iMac. This wasn’t over. This was where Sukie came running from stage right, leaped onto him, her legs wrapping his waist, her arms around his neck and though the audio couldn’t be heard, he would read her lips as she shouted, Oh God, Dio, give it to me, I need to feel it inside me.

His heart rate quickened again, and he waited for tragedy to unfold. Dio removed his towel, his eyes on the house, his hard cock sticking straight out at forty-five degrees, high as his sternum the way he sat. His head cocked left and right, looking in the windows. What was he seeing? Or what wasn't he seeing? Was he waiting for Sukie to return?

Dio's right hand moved between his legs, kneaded his own scrotum. His eyes still scanned the house, then his hand stroked upward. He gripped his own cock, slowly working it up and down, the foreskin tugging and yawning, exposing and hiding the bright shining rosy head of it. He stroked faster and faster then eased off the bed until his bare feet were flat on the deck. He stood now, masturbating on Tommy's own pool deck, masturbating to Tommy's own wife, and yet, instead of anger, Tommy felt arousal. His own cock reached maximum hardness, and he stroked himself in time to Dio.

Dio was aroused by the things Tommy had. Envied him. Dio was breaking a commandment, right on his pool deck. He was coveting Tommy's wife. He wanted Sukie for himself.

Then Dio buckled, shook. Long white ropes leapt from him, arcing in the air and splashing on the hot concrete.

Tommy came at the same time, the taboo, the erotic badness all coming together to rip a huge and blistering orgasm out of him.

He sat with his aching cock in his hand, slumped in his office chair, heart pounding deafening drumbeats in his ears, eyes blurry, neck tight. On the screen, Dio continued to stroke that huge thing he had, eyes on the house. Eventually he slowed, stopped. When he released it from his grip, the excitement had left his cock and it hung down, still engorged, swinging and tapping him mid-thigh. He ran the back of his wrist over his forehead, shook his head. The towel was gathered up, and he cleaned his semen from his hand, his legs. Wrapped it around that cock and squeezed himself into it, emptying it. Then he squatted and used the towel to dry up what he had splashed on the deck.

When the work of cleaning was done he didn't know what to do with the towel, stood with it balled at his stomach. Decided to leave it, put it in a heap on the center of the bed, then walked naked to the cabana and closed the door behind him.

AFTER TOMMY HAD DONE his own cleaning, depleting the box of tissues on his desk, Tommy went to bed. He found Sukie still awake and reading, her back on a pillow against the headboard, her glasses reflecting the light from the bedside lamp, her paperback held in two hands braced against her knees, lifted up under the duvet.

“Finish your calls?” she said without looking up.

“Huh?” he said stupidly, then, “Oh, yeah. Finished them.”

Sukie continued to read while he stood at the foot of the bed. His perfect angel. The mother of his kids and his loving companion. She’d been witness to something wildly salacious today. And she’d come through intact. Sukie was a good girl.

He admired her while she read, oblivious to her creeping husband. She was tanned, and her skin was flawless. Her hair shone like white glimmering gold under the lamp they’d bought together at Pier One when they redid the bedroom in the old house when finances weren’t so good, but beginning to look up. He’d just got his first whopper of a commission and they celebrated by renovating and decorating their Love Den, as Sukie used to call it. Little boy Bobby was conceived under that lamp.

“What are you smiling at, Tommy?”

He startled at being caught, didn’t realize she’d looked up at him.

“Nothing. You, I guess. That lamp.”

“I know, aren’t we hilarious?” she said dryly, eyes lowering to the book. “We were thinking of taking our show on the road.”

“Ha ha,” he pronounced, climbing into bed. “Obviously the lamp is the straight man. I was just recalling when we redid the bedroom in the old house.”

“Oh,” she laughed, “yeah. I remember. The Love Den.”

“The Love Den,” he agreed.

She closed her paperback and put it on the night table, removed her glasses, folded them closed, and lay them on the book, turned herself on her hip and faced him, still sitting up. “Who’s hotter, me or the lamp?”

His heart pounded again, getting a real workout tonight, a passionate tremble coursing through his hands, making them visibly shake. Sukie had always excited him, but somehow what he'd witnessed on the video tonight had electrified him like never before. "I ... I don't know," he said. "The lamp is what ...? Sixty-watts?"

She said, "I put a forty in there."

Under the sheets, his hand found her thigh, traveled its silky smooth surface, bumped over the cotton of her short-shorts and settled at her waist. "You're like a thousand watts, Sukie."

Her lips were already on the way to his so they met in the middle. They kissed long and passionately, and Sukie settled her hand on his chest. She tasted like mint Scope and smelled like lemons. His cock had turned to steel again.

The hand on her waist slipped up under the cotton tank she wore and eased up her skin. His wife was compliant, lifting her arms and sitting higher so they could get it off her. He threw it to the floor next to the bed. His mouth went to her big soft breasts, kissing them, searching for her nipples, finding them, suckling them. Sukie's fingers raked through his hair while he enjoyed the sweet taste of her skin and absorbed the beautiful body heat she radiated. His hands explored, swooping up and down her hot skin, down to her knees then up the inside of her thigh. She parted them for him, gave him access and he found her damp mound.

"You're not wearing panties under your shorts," he said, not as a question, but as an appreciative statement. What happened to the panties she'd worn earlier? Had she soiled them with bad thoughts on what she witnessed today?

She gasped and pulled him harder to her chest. A finger slipped up under the loose trim of her shorts and found her sex already slippery and engorged. He traced the edges of her ruffled flower, spread her oily lubrication up and down, finding all her dry spots and making them wet for him. He wasn't going to last long the first time, but they might go all night because he was primed.

She was primed too though, wasn't she, Tommy? She got a real charge out of seeing your boss's big, giant cock today. God, it was so close to her too, wasn't it? How bad did she want to touch it? You know she did, Tommy. Of course she did. He was right out of that book she was reading. The one she lay under the lamp. He was fit, young, handsome. Aroused. Aroused with a capital, what...? Ten-inch A. He was convinced now that while he watched her with Dio on his spy cam video in his office she was up here masturbating.

Sukie's soft and small, but very strong, hand found him through his pajama pants. She made a satisfied grunt into their kiss, glad to find him so hard and ready. She traced up and down his length with her fingers, dipped lower and cuddled his balls.

Two fingers slipped inside her, breaching those slick lips of hers, finding no resistance given her excited lubrication. Now he was positive she had been masturbating while he was in his office. Another breathy gasp escaped her, and she clutched his head, pushing his kiss down to her chest again. She was really on fire tonight. With her head turned up like it was, her eyes closed, but rolling up in their sockets, he imagined she was dreaming a scenario, crafting an erotic scene in her mind's eye. What was it? It had to be an alternative ending to the story that played out in real life for her today. One where she wasn't a professional, married woman, and she let her hormones and biology run their intended course. She would grip Dio's cock, let him know she liked what he had, they would kiss, he'd peel off her clothes and they would make love under the sun, coated in oil. That big cock would fill her up, stretch her hole to its maximum, give her so much pleasure she would scream out Dio's name as she bucked against him, taking every thick inch of him inside her body. On Tommy's pool deck. At Tommy's house. While Tommy was at work.

Sukie's hand slipped itself sneakily under the waistband of his underwear, her grip squeezing him tight, a trickle of pre-cum giving her a slippery surge that she stroked up and down him. God, what did she think of what was in her hand? The man in her fantasy didn't relate. Was there a disconnect? What she saw playing out behind her closed eyes not matching what her hand felt. That should have killed his erection but somehow he surged even harder, and it urged him to thrust himself through her grip. She responded with excited Sukie sounds.

What he said next he instantly regretted. Her reaction wasn't one of worry, disgust, or shock. She seemed to consider him seriously ...

He said, "How was your appointment with Dio today?"

When the words came out of his mouth, the instant thought he had was that it was transparent. She would recoil and gasp, instantly understanding in one fraction of a second that he'd spied on her with a video camera. He'd seen what happened. Knowing she was innocent she would be mad that her trust had been questioned. She would be betrayed.

But she said, "Fine. Why ...? Tommy, does it bother you that I see him?"

Her hand still stroked him, and the grip she had, plus the lubricious subject they were talking about, brought him to the edge of something huge and he felt his eyes begin to flutter again.

See him? Bother you that I see him? Good question. Bother him, yes. And yet ...

"No," he grunted as she squeezed him tighter and ran her thumb over his urethra.

"Did he ... did he say something?"

Something? What would he say? Why would that concern her? He had an image then of Sukie watching Dio masturbate. Maybe Dio was performing for her through the window. Stroking it while Sukie maybe stood and watched through the small square window that looked out over the massage table from the kitchen. That could have happened. He couldn't prove it didn't. Sukie touching herself, her eyes mesmerized while Dio's hand went up and down his huge cock till he came for her. Maybe his wife and his boss jerked themselves off together, separated by only a sheet of glass.

He surged more pre-cum for Sukie, and she worked it up and down his shaft.

"Everything okay?" she said, frowning.

"Is it okay with you?"

"Yeah, why?"

Nothing. He didn't answer. This was so fucking arousing and he should hate that it was. He was outraged, incensed, angered at this idea that maybe his Sukie had witnessed his boss conjure up those long wiggling ropes of semen for her. Maybe she'd exposed her breasts for him while he did. God, he should hate this but he was fucking excited by it.

He grunted, "You like it?"

She frowned again. "What ...? Massaging him? Why? Did you want me to stop? Is it too weird because he's your boss?"

"Why would it be weird?"

"You know, because I'm putting my hands on him and he's your boss."

Her hand slowed on him and he swore he would propel his seed up to the headboard in about two seconds. He lured her deeper into his madness with, “Well, how are you putting your hands on him exactly?”

“What do you mean?” she said, stopping her stroke and gripping him looser.

He said, “Why would it be weird, Sukie? What is happening when he’s here?” He thrust his hips to run his throbbing hardness through her slack grip.

Her hand pulled away and when he looked up to her eyes, he saw that she was mad.

She said, “How dare you. I’m a professional ...”

“Of course, I know that Sukie,” he said, and he gripped her wrist, trying to guide her return to his cock.

She rotated her arm out of his grip with an angry yank and folded her arms up over her bare breasts. “Why would you say something like that?”

He smiled, gave her a warm expression, said, “Sukie, come on ...”

But she turned, found her shirt over the edge of the bed, picked it up and thrust her arms through it while she sat, her breasts swaying, her hardened nipples relaxing.

“What are you doing?” he said in a gentle singsong.

She didn’t answer, snatched up her pillow and got out of bed. She stomped to the couch on the far side of the room and threw her pillow into the angle where the cushion met the arm. They had a fleece blanket folded over the back of the couch and she whipped it out, snapped it open and lay herself on the seats.

“Sukie, don’t be like that.”

She turned her back to him and pulled the pillow under her head.

He went into his natural sales mode, easing off the bed and pulling his pants up to cover the arousal that thrust out from between his legs. Sitting on the edge of the couch in the space behind her bent knees he put a hand on her thigh, mid-way between her knee and her haunch, what he figured was neutral territory.

“Hey baby, come on, Sukie. Don’t be mad, you’re making me feel stupid.”

“You are stupid,” she mumbled without facing him.

“I know. I was just ... it was just dirty talk, I didn’t want to imply anything. I know you’re a professional, I don’t doubt it for a second.”

“Dirty talk?”

“Yeah, you know ...”

“Dirty talk about your boss? Why?”

His hand moved higher, seeing her guard come down a little.

“I don’t know. Spice things up. Say some dirty things.”

“That was freaky.”

“I’m sorry, Sukie. I thought the freakier the better.”

She turned, and he saw that she had softened. Her head lay in the pillow, her silky blonde hair spread around her, more beautiful than ever.

“Just make love to me. Make love like a man. I don’t want dirty talk.”

“Ever?” he said, not giving her a chance to change her mind, getting himself close to her, his lips coming to kiss her.

“Mm,” she said, her arms circling his back. “No, not never. Just not right now, Tommy. I need it straight and hard.”

He kissed the point of her chin, said, “I thought you didn’t want dirty talk?”

“That’s not dirty talk, Tommy, that was an order.”

“Aye-aye, captain,” he said getting his knees on the couch while she opened her thighs for him.

Now she sucked on his neck. So hard he thought he was going to have a hickey tomorrow. His hand worked his throbbing steel out of the fly of his pants and he slipped it under the loose trim of the leg of her shorts.

“Oh, right through my pant leg, Tommy ...? You bad boy ... give me that big cock.”

He eased it into her, finding her hot wet stripe, stroking it till he found the weak spot and then putting his body weight behind it to sink it deep inside her. She was hot as fire and he slid all the way to his balls in one wet stroke.

“God Sukie, you’re so wet tonight.”

“Fuck you feel good, Tommy,” she said, and her nails raked his back.

Now, the words were, You feel so good, Tommy, but his mind played it back as You feel so good, Dio, and he got himself reeling. He imagined what he had between his legs was the size of what Dio had, and how impressed his lady would be. How she would squeal.

Then as if sensing his dirty mind games, she whispered, “God, I love your big cock.”

That was it. He had a big cock, those words were for him, but he knew those words from his wife were also for his wife’s fantasy boy, Dio. He ejaculated inside her. She mewled, sensing his heat and his flexing. She wriggled her hips while he thrust savagely, trying to catch up with the wild orgasm that had just surprised him

“Oh Tommy, you little boy ... am I too hot for you?”

“Oh fuck,” he grunted, heaving every inch he had into her sucking hole, the sounds of their wet sexes clashing together splashing in his ears. “Oh God,” he sighed again and again as it abated and he lay wetly on her, their hot skin sticking together.

“You said no dirty talk,” he sighed.

“That was nothing,” she said, running her hands through his hair as he lay his cheek between her breasts.

He pushed away with his arms, hovered over her, kissed her lips and said, “Get that perfect ass on that bed and let me show you how it’s done.”

“Yeah, you gonna whisper in my ear about your boss again?”

Their eyes darted over each other’s, both of them trembling. Sukie’s with apparent mirth, Tommy’s with excited, heart-pounding lust.

They stared too long; Sukie’s eyes drifted down and noted his erection. He’d just come, he’d deflated, but now while they stared he’d grown to steely hardness again. He could feel it bobbing with his heartbeat.

She laughed, batted her eyes. “Dirty talk, Tommy?—you like it? We can make it work,” she said and ran a fingertip down the underside of his renewed hardness. “But he’s your boss, and he’s my client, we probably shouldn’t talk about ...” She let it hang, and she turned her hips, looking for him to take her from behind.

Sukie was professional. She was right, they shouldn’t talk about Dio. But her unfinished sentence echoed in his mind with her words the other night, laying in bed: ...we probably shouldn’t talk about ... his huge dick ...

He entered her fully, tip to balls, and she let out a hoarse, impassioned groan. He watched her sweet profile; her parted lips, her closed eyes. Was she thinking about it, the thing she said? Was she thinking about Dio and his huge dick?

“Oh fuck, Sook,” he groaned, way too close to finishing again, worried now he would embarrass himself with too eager a performance again. “Your pussy is hot as an oven tonight, you’re so fucking wet.”

“Ah,” she squeaked. “Tommy, God, your dick is so fucking hard.”

“That’s right,” he growled, “You make me so fucking hard, Sukie.” He pushed away those dirty thoughts, pushed away this curious, jealous, covetous lust, and he fucked his wife with fury. Showed Sukie Travis what her husband was made of.

COCKSURE

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16

TOMMY HAD MADE love to her last night three times before they finally collapsed from exhaustion. It was after midnight—God, almost one in the morning—before she slept. Now this morning she felt that lack of sleep and getting the boys’ breakfast together was done with the gentle throb of a headache that burbled down her neck and into her collar as well.

So she stood at the counter while Bobby and Tommy J rifled Cap’n Crunch, and scorfed bacon, rubbing her neck with one hand blessed with strong fingers, the other hand holding her coffee cup to her lips while she sipped and prayed the caffeine would calm the suffering in her temples. A couple of Advil should help chase that away too, washed down with grapefruit juice as soon as she’d come down to the kitchen this morning. Maybe take care of her down below as well; Tommy had beat her fairy cake’s batter last night, and it had a distinct throb of its own.

Both boys had finished their cereal, at least the baked sugary bits, and now held their bowls up to their mouths, tipped to drink the sweetened milk. The two of them watched each other over the curved rims of their upturned bowls.

She anticipated their competition, saying now, “Hey, boys, don’t rush ...”

The two bowls were banged down, her boys disregarding her, Tommy J stretching his arms to the center of the table, bumping his bowl and making the spoon clatter, snatching the big cereal box with both hands and ripping it toward himself. Bobby was a hair behind, also lunging across and knocking his bowl, but not fast enough. They were giggling, but these competitive episodes often ended with tears or punches.

Exhausted, she stayed leaning the small of her back against the marble edge of the countertop and warned them again. “Hey, stop it, boys, I’m not kidding...”

Tommy J held the box of Cap’n Crunch protectively, one arm hugging it to his body, the other hand poked out to keep his brother at bay. Both her boys were very close to the same age. In fact, standing up on the altar at Peachtree Christian on that fine June Saturday nine years ago, Tommy Junior was already growing inside her. And it was only a year after Tommy J was born before she was back at Grady Memorial, gripping the vinyl sides of her birthing bed and snorting her stupid Lamaze. Cursing Tommy, too, for ejaculating inside her when he knew this would happen. Being so close in age removed much of the parenting she’d hoped Tommy Junior would presume over his younger brother. Instead they were just two rambunctious little boys, brimming with little boy energy and spurring each other on. She swore to God if one of them punched the other this morning she was going to lose her mind.

“There is enough for both of you,” she said, very loud but steady in tone, her voice filled with motherly authority.

Tommy Junior said, “There’s enough for both of us, stupid.”

“Don’t call your brother stupid,” she said.

The brewing storm seemed to fizzle, and while Bobby watched his brother Tommy with a baleful eye, he kept his pinching fingers and punching fists at bay and waited his turn. Probably figuring out how he would get Tommy J back later on today. Tommy J turned it around then, leaning over to his brother’s place setting and filling his bowl with dry cereal as well.

“Told you,” he said, evening out his kindness with a little superiority.

Firestorm avoided, she thought appreciatively. There were a million things she had to do today, and the morning wasn’t getting off to a good start. Usually after a night of sex she bounced a little in the morning. But something else was churning inside her, poisoning the morning afterglow she usually enjoyed. Probably what put the headache inside her head. While she and Tommy enjoyed a good and satisfying sex life, it dwindled recently. Becoming somewhat milder she would say, and not that she kept count it just seemed a little more infrequent. Last night's session was something she had ached for. But it wasn't just simple passion, now was it, Sukie? No, the poison that laced the pleasure was guilt.

Not wanting to think about that, at least not right now, she turned and dashed the remains of her coffee cup into the deep copper apron sink, blasted the hot water and rinsed her mug out before putting it in the dishwasher. Some thoughts are better left untouched. Some thoughts were better—

Now the boys were up, the new competition was racing to the dishwasher to get their bowls in first. She stepped aside, tousled little Bobby's blonde head of hair. Then Tommy J was on her, throwing his skinny but strong eight-year-old arms around her waist and hugging her at her hip—his chin poking precariously close to where she did not want to be touched right now and she twisted her hips and crossed a knee over protectively.

“Okay. Good stuff, boys. Thank you for cleaning your bowls. Tommy J, can you please bring the box of cereal and put it back in the pantry? Bobby wash your hands again, I can see they're grubby from here. Then both of you, if nothing else is left to be done, I want you to run upstairs and make sure your dad is up—he has to go to work today and I don't want him sleeping in.”

“Whoo-oo's sleeping ii-in?” Tommy growled like a bear, strutting into the kitchen looking handsome in his suit as he closed the clasp on his watch.

Bobby and Tommy J burst into exuberant giggles and clamored for him, Tommy stooping and clutching the boys with his arms. Hair was tousled, bottoms were patted, shoulders were punched then Tommy was around the counter and kissing her neck.

She sighed and closed her eyes, said, “You were out cold when I left you.”

“Wonder why,” he moaned in a low voice and bit at her ear.

“Stop it, Tommy,” she whispered with a laugh, looking around him but seeing the boys had moved on to their RC monster trucks, both of them using the remotes to make their toys mount the other. Now she whispered, “Can't keep up with your hot little wife?”

His face snapped back, and he looked offended for a minute but he held her gaze, a mean little smirk on his face.

“What?” she asked him, feeling unconfident in her jibe seeing the look in his eyes.

Now he shook it off and stepped back, cocksure again, his eyes narrowing, darting up and down her body, that smirk now saying he would destroy her in bed if she didn’t watch her mouth. He chuckled and winked, went to the fridge and pulled out the grapefruit juice.

She changed the subject. “You in the office today?”

“Yup,” he said, knocking back his vitamins with a tumbler half-filled with juice. “Probably. Who knows? There is something I’m working on ... What are you doing?”

“Getting these monsters off to camp, doing some housework, doing some paperwork. Sophie Vagara before noon,” she said, giving Tommy her full name so he could make his usual wolf-whistle and bounce his eyebrows even though Sophie was not what one could consider a hot mama, “on a Wednesday because she’s going away for the weekend, but that leaves me bunched up with Watson, Claypool, and Cleeves to do in the afternoon, and I have to grab the groceries.”

“Shit, babe,” he said, took a sip of his coffee and poked around the breakfast pan, grabbing end bits of bacon. “Want me to take the monsters to camp?”

“Yeah, Dad!” came gasping from behind him, two boy voices in unison. He glanced over his shoulder giving the boys a smug, half-lidded gaze.

Sukie rolled her eyes, shaking two weak fists in triumph, saying, “Yay, I can start my paperwork early ...”

TOMMY WAS FUCKING STARVING after sex last night, but he’d slept through breakfast and it was getting late. He would hit the PCM, grab a chicken biscuit at Hop’s before he rolled into the office. Maybe two chicken biscuits.

Sex with Sukie last night had exorcised some of those lustful demons that had been trying to claw him down to join them in their realm. Three sessions with her that left both of them panting and sweating. First thing he thought when he woke up this morning was how crazy it was for him to actually go and buy a spy cam and set it up and peep on his wife. It seemed so far away, so distant—like that was a different Tommy, and one he maybe wasn't so proud of. Since Dio had been going to his wife for massages Tommy's whole game was off. Last night though, last night he was old Tommy again. And fuck, it felt good. Bounce in his step this A.M., some drumming on the tiles during his shower ...

Then one dirty jibe from his wife and it's yesterday again, and he's the sweating, insecure sneak who positioned a nanny cam in a planter to record her massaging his boss.

Can't keep up with your hot little wife?

Just fun talk. Ribbing. She didn't mean anything by it, did she? Of course not. But like bubbles zipping up the sides of his gin and tonic, some awful ideas started to surface and bat at his lashes. You know who could keep up with me, Tommy? He's ten years younger than you, more handsome, richer, God, his body, mm, oh, and between his legs...? Yeah, Dio could keep up with her—she'd be the one sleeping in after a session with him.

"What are you smiling about?"

"What's that?" he said, finding Sook's pale blues under her puzzled brow, looking right at him.

"The smile, Tommy," she said, one eyebrow coming up a little.

He gave a menacing chuckle, got near her, said, "Thinking how much I fucking love you."

"Oh God, Tommy," she laughed and rolled her eyes, putting her hands on his cheeks to keep his oncoming kiss at bay. He let himself get stopped, his wife thinking he was just sweet-talking her. But he was serious. Sook was still shooting him a funny look of dubiety, thinking he was up to something. Truth was his heart soared for her. These terrible thoughts of her with another man—with Dio—did something harsh to his insides. He hated it. Hated it. But it got his heart racing; racing and pumping. Right now its beat whooshed in his ears. It was what brought out old Tommy.

He kind of liked old Tommy, and Sukie surely did, too, she married him. Tommy was a hard charger, competitive. The way his heart beat right now brought his focus to an intense point. It made him feel aggressive, territorial, and he liked that. It reminded him how much he loved this little fair-haired shorty and the babies he put up inside her.

She said, “Stop looking at me like that, and, I mean, like—” she laughed and shook her head, “—are you going to take these monsters like you said, or what?”

One more look up and down her curvy little frame, giving her a cocky stare, he said over his shoulder, “Boys, who wants to ride in the Vette today?” The response was unanimous and animated, and now he winked at his wife. “I’ll see you tonight,” he said, letting it sound a little like a threat. Then he was turning and heading out of the kitchen, Tommy J and Bobby racing ahead.

“Seatbelts, wild man,” Sukie said behind him.

“Seatbelts?” he said, pivoting.

“You’re not taking them in your two-seater, Tommy.”

“The camp is here in Shearwater. It’s just across to the—”

“No way, Tommy,” she said. “They’re supposed to be in kids’ seats, too, I mean ...”

“Fine, fine,” he said, showing her his palms. She was right. It was just around the fucking corner practically, but if anything happened ...

“Sorry,” she said, a little more earnestly than he expected, and he noted a wet glimmer in her eye, lit up with sunlight reflecting off the polished marble counter and lighting her from below. Hands hugging her bare arms folded over her chest, she stood looking sweet and beautiful in her loose tank and slim khaki shorts. A smile had tugged at her; a strange and sort of unhappy kind of smile and they stared at one another uneasily for a moment. Who knows what his face told her, he left it unguarded, his eyes just darted back and forth over hers, trying to read this strange expression.

“We’ll take the company car,” he said, flashed her his smile that came out even weaker than he thought he could manage.

By the time he’d made it to the garage he was one-hundred percent convinced his wife was keeping a secret from him.

Mike and Gretch: Not married, but dating for a good long while. Two comedy writers just at the edge of love, that strange and delicate space where the act of sharing can be so dangerous. But they're two cool cats and they're sure they've got it all locked down. They call her ex-boyfriend from college, Atticus Hawke, a guy who has in the years since their breakup, and before Mike, been a reliable booty call for her.

Sean and Courtney: Sean's a Type A stick of dynamite. A rocketing studio exec, competitive and driven, he shares an incredible bond with his gym-toned wife. Courtney is all in for the new game she and her handsome husband have devised. Their ten-year-old daughter is out of the house and away at boarding school. They've planned a one-year commitment to one another about honesty, openness, and exploration. They're going for broke. Their new thing? Sean likes to watch and Court likes to be watched. They've found a guy online. He seems too good to be true. A guy called Finch, endowed, muscular, handsome like a fashion model. Courtney's been working out and she's going to put this stud through his paces.

Steve and Becky: Becky's a headstrong X-Ray technician who landed herself a multi-millionaire tech investor husband thirty years her senior. Steve loves to be dominated and he found the girl of his dreams in Becky. She's got an iron will and she loves her husband. Loves him enough to lock him in chastity and keep him abstinent for months on end. It's okay, don't worry about Becky, she gets a regular visit from a drop-dead gorgeous man named Finch. He keeps her satisfied. Sometimes, if he's been good, she'll even let her husband watch.

JJ and Amy: Two young country bumpkins just arrived in Los Angeles. JJ wants to live a lifestyle he's only dreamed of and this city is part of it. He's married to the sweetest little nineteen-year-old outta Jackson Pond, South Carolina and he's sure she's on a fast ticket to stardom. She just needs her first big break. While they're waiting he's got a fantasy he wants to see lived out. He would do anything to see his little Amy with a man who's got a big one, one'll make her scream like those girls he watches on the internet. He found a guy online, one Amy didn't make her vomit-face at. He's got everything JJ's been looking for and, thank the stars, he's agreed to do it.

Atticus Hawke: Finch is his online name. His nighttime name. The one he uses on a site that puts him in touch with couples looking for a bull just like him. By day he is Atticus Hawke. You might have heard of him. You know the song from the eighties, 'Going With That Girl'? No? You'd know it if you heard it. That was Atticus' dad, Ricky Hawke. Yes, that Ricky Hawke. Now you know. Made a bunch of singer-songwriter hits in a time when all the kids wanted pop coming out of synthesizers and their stars to be pretty boys and have colourful hair. Ricky had real talent. So does Atticus. One of L.A.'s hottest emerging Modern artists, his work commands a fortune. But it pales against his enormous trust fund. These days his real work is done at night. His masterpieces. That's where his passion is. Watching and participating in intense psychological dramas in dark hotel rooms across the city. He gives women what they want. They're a canvas, a medium. His audience: their husband.

Going A Little Too Far

You couldn't picture a sweeter couple than Troy and Emma.

Troy's a former Division One college wrestler. A walking water park at two-sixty-five, with shoulders no woman could get her arms around and a set of abs you could scrub laundry on.

Emma's a sweet little Georgia Peach. Pretty as can be in her proper dresses; she's a good girl from a good family that raised her right.

You couldn't tell by looking at them that they were two straight-up freaks that loved to push each other's kinky buttons.

Emma, with all her book club shyness, loves to be man-handled, loves to be lifted off her feet and dominated. Troy is a monster with a six-hundred-fifty pound deadlift and she's like a feather in his arms.

Troy likes to be humiliated. He knows he doesn't have much 'down there' and he likes his virginal wife to tell him he's no good and she'd have to get what she wanted elsewhere.

Couple of closet freaks.

A summer housewarming party on a scorching hot West Texas day puts a gift in their lap. A big, larger-than-life playtoy for Emma to tease her husband with. He wants her to. She wants to do it. But once it starts, where do you stop? What's going too far?

Taken While He Watches: On Their Honeymoon

Ken and Ashley just got married and while money is super-tight they've got themselves a weekend getaway in the Honeymoon Suite looking out over the ocean on the sunny Carolina coast.

The room was a steal. Turns out it's Bike Week and no one books the Honeymoon Suite during Bike Week. Especially not two dopey white kids from the suburbs.

A mix-up leaves them in trouble and they don't know how they can get out of it, don't even know how they'll get home. They get some help from their hotel neighbours. A half dozen handsome, muscular, and very wealthy black men.

Ken's wary but Ash is all in.

When they find out she's saved herself for her special night she becomes the star of the show and they'll offer anything to help her...

Ken doesn't like it but she's going to do what they ask. She says it's for their future...

Taken While He Watches: At The Combine

Bobby just needs a big break. His business is a half second away from going belly-up. When their camera captures an XXL wardrobe malfunction by the combine's star prospect they see an opportunity.

Coralee will do anything to get an interview with him. She'll use the video as leverage. She'll get to this bad boy super-athlete, even if she has to break into the locker room...

She's doing it to save the family business, right?

Taken By His Best Friends: At The Hockey Rink

Marguerite was a sexy little French student Randall fell in love with at college. She loved hockey. He played hockey.

They fell in love and they married. They live a regular 9 to 5 now, but Randall and his best friends still play once a week. They are four big guys and they play rough and Marguerite is always there to cheer them from the stands.

When they all end up alone in the locker room after a bench-clearing brawl passions are already high. And when some innocent flirting starts it quickly tumbles out of control.

Marguerite does nothing to stop it. Randall is frozen...

He's going to watch his best friends do all the dirty things they've ever dreamed of doing to his wife...

Measured Next To Her Ex: A Medical Size Comparison Cuckold Fantasy

When Ben Watson went to the new Sexual Performance Clinic across from his office he was just looking to get some help.

But when he showed up on Opening Day the place was so overwhelmed they started doubling up in exam rooms to make sure all the patients were assessed.

Of all the gin joints in all the—

Guess who his exam partner is? Yeah, his honey-pie's ex-boyfriend. He is going to be sitting next to him, knees practically touching, while these nurses assess their size and performance using only their latex hands.

He could leave, get the hell out of there. That would be sensible. But he's kind of curious. A dark part of him wants to know something. Wants to know what his precious girl's ex-lover has between his legs.

He's going to wish he left.

Then, when his obscenely endowed exam mate starts to relate to the nurses the casual but very dirty hook-ups he's been having with an ex, Ben's hands really start sweating.

This is going to be the worst day of Ben's life.

Size Curious Brat

Matt Walsh is on his way home from Harvard. It's Thanksgiving recess and he hasn't been with his sweet Chloe Rose in months. He can't wait to get off the bus and wrap his arms around his baby girl.

Chloe's a perverted little high-schooler with a habit for trouble. She loves her boyfriend Matt and she's been aching for him.

But there's a problem.

Matt's step brother came home early. He's a bully. A domineering man's man who made Matt's life miserable growing up. Now he's a sexy deep-sea welder just getting home from Louisiana after two months at sea and he hasn't even seen a woman in ages.

After a brief, naked encounter in the hallway little Chloe can't get something out of her mind. Matt's stepbrother Moric is built much better than other men and she can't stop thinking about it.

It makes Matt mad but Chloe is just naturally curious. She doesn't think it's a big deal. She's just never seen anything like that before.

Now Moric's got his eyes on his little brother's prize possession. She's not exactly unwilling. Moric is a big powerful stud and Matt is powerless to stop him. Once he starts neither of them could stop him. He could take whatever he wants. It might be better—if Moric would let him—to just join him...
