

HAPPY ENDINGS

An Erotic Hotwife Series

KT MORRISON

HAPPY ENDINGS

PART 4

KT MORRISON

CONTENTS

About the Author

Also by KT Morrison

1. Mineshaft
2. Deals
3. Cheetah
4. Safari
5. Flutes
6. Foyer
7. Freight
8. Service
9. Three
10. Past
11. Stories
12. Hearthfire
13. After
14. Rapeseed
15. Robe
16. Naked
17. Control
18. Stakes
19. First Class
20. Captain

Epilogue

Afterword

Other Books by KT Morrison

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

KT Morrison writes stories about women who fall in love with sexy men who aren't their husband, and loving relationships that go too far—couples who open a mysterious door, then struggle to get it closed as trouble pushes through the threshold.

Visit My Blog!

sparrow3dx.blogspot.com

ALSO BY KT MORRISON

SERIES

Landlord

Maggie

Obsessed

The Cayman Proxy

Happy Endings

EPIC NOVELS

Cherry Blossoms

Learning Lessons

NOVELS

Going A Little Too Far

Pool Party

Après Ski

NOVELLAS

Watching Natalie Cheat

Taken While He Watches: On Their Honeymoon

Taken While He Watches: At The Combine

Taken By His Best Friends: At The Hockey Rink

Measured Next To Her Ex

Size Curious Brat

This is a work of fiction. Similarities to real people, places, or events are entirely coincidental.

Models on cover are meant for illustrative purposes only.

HAPPY ENDINGS

Part 4

62,500 words

First Edition. July 8, 2018.

Copyright © 2018 KT Morrison

Written by KT Morrison

Cover by KT Morrison

MINESHAFT

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 18

SUKIE WAS the only one awake when the Toyota Land Cruiser pulled up and two women from the kitchen that prepared meals for the villa brought in breakfast. One central chef managed commercial kitchen, about two miles up the road, prepared meals to cater to seven villas along the river like the one where they stayed.

The two African women brought in the meal in a zippered bag. They wore American clothing and spoke perfect English. Sukie thanked them, gave them a tip, they cleared away the empty bottles and got back in their Toyota.

There were omelettes in the zippered bags, three other baked egg dishes, a stew made with pork and fish, three kinds of fruit, and two loaves of warm and freshly baked bread, formed in the shape of crocodiles.

When she was bringing plates down from the shelving, Tommy came into the kitchen. She set the plates down on the counter and he came behind her and kissed her neck.

He whispered, “Big day today,” and she wasn’t quite sure if he meant business, pleasure, or both. She patted his cheek then kissed his lips over her shoulder. Now Dio was up, too, and they could hear his feet beating down the steps to join them in the kitchen. He came in looking tanned and refreshed, and frankly drop-dead fucking gorgeous. He had a white linen button-down shirt underneath a slim black blazer that showed off his broad shoulders and muscular arms. Dressed for business.

Tommy was dressed similarly, in white shirt, navy blazer, and khaki pants. Frankly, they were both studs. Tommy hot in his own right. All in all, she was one lucky woman. Alone in the kitchen, alone in Africa in a beautiful villa on a weekend intended to be wall-to-wall sex. She had her loving husband, and she had a lover that any woman would drool over.

As Dio came into the kitchen, this notion sent a shiver through her and she visibly shuddered then laughed.

“How did everyone sleep?” Dio asked, his deep and confident tone implying a lot.

“Just fine,” Tommy said confidently, sitting on a stool set in front of the island.

Dio said, “I bet. I bet you slept like a baby. Sukie take care of you?”

Now she blushed and turned her back to Dio. Tommy laughed.

Dio said, “I bet she did. You take care of her?”

There was silence, Tommy not giving an answer. He hadn’t taken care of her, but that was her choice.

Dio’s hands touched her on both sides of her waist and it made her jump. She faced the sink, and he pressed his body against her back. He made a deep groaning noise, his hand squeezed her sides and came around to smooth her tummy. Her nipples snapped into diamond points. Her mouth fell open, and her scalp tingled.

Dio said, “Sukie’s gonna get taken care of today.”

While he had her knees practically trembling, touching her like this in front of her husband in the daylight kitchen felt strange and awkward, and she put her hands over his to stop before they wanted to dip a little lower. She said, “What time do you guys get back?”

“Get back?”

Tommy said, “The meeting with the Norwegians is at eleven.”

“We’re not coming back here after. Sukie’s coming with us,” Dio said and his hands slipped out from underneath hers then moved around her thighs, stroking up the back of her legs and cupping her bottom.

She didn’t stop him this time, instead falling forward to lean against the sink with her hands out. “Go with you?” she said, her voice breathy.

Dio said, “I got a surprise for Sukie in the afternoon. We go straight there from the mine.”

Now his warm lips pressed against her collar, and he kissed his way up her neck to behind her ear. Her nipples ached, and she pressed her thighs together. It was way too early in the morning to get so turned on but she couldn’t help it. Tommy was behind them and watched it all. She didn’t turn to see his expression. After their talk last night, both of them knew it didn’t matter. She was Dio's right now, and Dio could do to her whatever he wanted. As long as she thought it was all right. And, shit, even though it was early in the morning, and felt strange to get so naughty, she would let it happen.

She said, "What's my surprise?"

He bit at her collar. "It's not a surprise if I tell you."

"I'm going with you today?"

"You're coming with Tommy and me."

Now his fingers stroked up and down the back of her legs and he got her quivering. She wondered how intently Tommy watched. "What do I wear?" Her question was a soft gasp.

Both Dio's hands stroked up her haunches, and then he grabbed the hem of her sleeping shorts and began to work them high up her ass. She wore nothing underneath.

The crotch of her shorts wedged against her sex then Dio threaded them up her butt crack as he pulled higher to reveal her bare cheeks. She went to the tips of her toes. He said, "If it was up to me, you'd wear nothing. But we'll see what happens. Come up to my room and see what I brought you."

Now he gently tugged upward and back on the shorts and put agonizing pressure against her pussy. Her toes flexed and she could feel herself getting wet. It wasn't even eight in the morning.

SUKIE WALKED the rutted red earth track in expensive leather loafers, glad Dio didn't want to dress her up in heels. Stored in his luggage, he'd brought her a gift along to Africa.

Escorted up to his bedroom, she was alone in there with him until Tommy joined them, looming in the doorway, casually putting his hands in his pockets and leaning a shoulder on the doorjamb, watching over her protectively. Dio unzipped his luggage, flipped the top open, rummaged until he found a transparent zippered bag with neatly folded items of clothing inside. Brought it out and showed it to her. Now she was wearing them.

They were at the Norwegian's mining operation, Arvid Minerals, somewhere southwest from the villa where they were staying—seemingly in the middle of nowhere. They'd flown in by helicopter, directly from the SAPI Safari area, over miles and miles of endless brush until a white glimmering dot appeared on the horizon. A red clod of earth rose from the woodlands, and in its center, bulging up like a pimple, was the bright white mining operation.

According to their tour guide, they processed the lithium right on premises. There was a sprawling facility of low, single-story white metal sided buildings with low peaked roofs, tall towers, chutes and conveyer lines running crisscrossed from tower to tower and into the insides of some of the low bungalows. It was a crazy network of outbuildings and construction equipment and factories. But it was all clean, and it all looked to be running efficiently. And though she was no Megalos expert, she saw a lot of Dio's equipment here.

The tour had brought them to their present path: walking alongside a metal trolley track, her low loafers tapping across hard pack and the occasional stretch of concrete walkway. They were heading toward an enormous black maw that disappeared into the earth. There was a ridge high above them, the mining tunnel mouth set in it, shored up with steel and concrete pillars. On her right-hand side, a truck rumbled their way, its sound deafening, halting the tour guide's presentation for the moment. The mining truck was the size of the two-story apartment building she lived in when she was in college. The tires had to be twice her height.

She lingered at the back of the tour group, mostly because she was unimportant here today, but also because the skirt Dio had brought made her feel very self-conscious. It wasn't too short so she would be considered some kind of slut, but it was indeed short. Just a little above mid-thigh.

Dio had bought her an expensive and tailored Prada skirt and blouse. The short skirt hugged tight at her waist and there was a black alligator belt, thin and narrow as a wristband practically, with a gold bolt-over buckle. The top was tight as well, and he brought her a push-up bra. Her breasts were well presented, but she was at least glad that he hadn't picked a little scoop neck top that showed off her cleavage. The outfit was tasteful, but the skirt was shorter than what she would have selected. It made her feel self-aware, but since Tommy didn't object, she wouldn't either. Her hair was tied back in a tight bun, and she was made to wear protective glasses. They put earplugs in her ears, soft foamy things that swelled into the shape of her openings, and they made her wear a hard hat.

The tour guide was an executive wearing khaki pants and a white oxford shirt with the sleeves rolled up his forearms. His hard hat was white. Some of the executives' were blue; Tommy, Dio, and she wore yellow—some sort of significance in the color coding.

There was an important political figure here, too, and his helmet was a dove gray. He was a black man, an African, wearing a three-piece suit but not even sweating out in the hot sun. Minister Perry Bonyongwe. He had an aide with him, a tall, young, thin guy who carried his briefcase for him. Tommy said the dove gray hat guy, Bonyongwe, was the Mining and Mineral Minister in Zimbabwe, here to make sure the local population benefited as well as the foreign nationals. Then Tommy held out his palm behind him like he was looking for a tip, said, "Hope what the guy gets goes to the right people."

WHEN THEY FIRST ARRIVED, Tommy had introduced her to Kal and some other guy called Gudmund he said was in charge of purchasing. A slick mean looking movie villain with a deeply seamed forehead and a white brush cut, dressed all in black. They shook hands then hooked up with a few more executives who wanted to go along, taking their turns shaking hands with Tommy and Dio. A lot of patting each other on the backs was followed by a young African woman in a suit taking pictures of them all as they held hands and posed with big smiles. Two new guys joined in, blue-collar types with their zippered up jumpsuits and red hardhats. During the tour, they were frequently referred to for the technical information. They all went together from the parking lot through the impressive lobby, took their pictures, got their hardhats and headed out to the dirt.

Now they were being shown the grounds, walking this earthen track to look at the mining operation itself, heading into a tunnel dug into a massive red ridge where they would find administration offices built right into the ground. Supposedly they could cut through there, out to the other side and into the refining plant. That's where they would show them the brine water, and the battery operation. It was all foreign to her, but she liked to see her husband in his glory. Everyone loved Tommy. Couldn't get enough of him. Dio, too—although he was the owner of the company, and a handsome and slick son of a bitch, it was Tommy who ran the show. There was something about that that excited her.

So here they were, heading toward the enormous mouth of the mine, into the practical gates of hell given today's temperature, and Tommy was up front, letting them know all the good that Megalos was going to do for them. Dio? Dio had drifted back to walk alongside her trailing at the rear of the party.

Now the group passed from the intense African sunlight into the jet black of the tunnel. It was like the lights had been turned off. She didn't know if anybody else could see, because now she was blinking and could barely make out shapes except for a distant light that reflected off the top rails of the trolley tracks, showing two ghostly lines fading into the distance.

She plucked the yellow foam out of her ears, not wanting to be deaf and blind. She worked her jaw around, listening. There were no motors running, none of the heavy machinery moving in and out at the moment. Somewhere deep in the tunnel there was banging, it was loud but distant. At least she was able to hear people talking now. She put the foam buds in the pocket of her skirt, looked around, could see back out into the daylight, saw people moving around out there, a truck backing down a ramp.

The guy with the rolled-up sleeves was telling Tommy and the politician and a few of the executives their plans for a new system of trolleys that will run in and out of this tunnel, multiplying their ranks by three. Three separate tracks running in and out of the earth, dragging lithium out all day long.

A hand rested on the small of her back and she knew it was Dio without looking. Big hand, bold move—she didn't need to turn around to know who it was.

One of the two men who wore the red helmets and blue jumpsuits flicked on a flashlight that looked as big as a lunchbox. Its strong halogen beam shot up and down the track as the executive continued his speech. Then when the executive was done talking about the prospects for future lithium exploration, he deferred to the man with the flashlight to talk about current logistics or something. It was hard to pay attention.

They were all standing around, the one with the red helmet going on about numbers and volume, his flashlight aiming deeper down the tunnel. Dio's hand moved from the small of her back over the curve of her rump, drifted low until the tips of his fingers touched the bare back of her thigh. Her legs began to tremble, and she knew this was a bad idea, but didn't move away. His hands stroked up and down the back of her leg, touching her bare skin, then his thumb slipped up under the hem of her skirt and she felt him get closer to her sex.

Now his hand was between her thighs and she let her legs part, leaving her back to him while her eyes stayed steady ahead.

AS HER EYES grew accustomed to the dark, the backward splashing glow of the flashlight silhouetted all the executives standing and listening ahead of her and Dio. Tommy was up at front, but she could see him clearly. He was nodding, comprehending, his thumb and finger on his chin. That guy was probably figuring out an angle right now. Meanwhile, his boss had other things on his mind. Things she kind of liked.

With everyone's attention focused up front, listening to the executive drone on, she let herself settle back against Dio while his hands touched her bare skin. Thumb-side up, his hand stroked the inside of her thigh, and now she felt it bump against the satin of the panties she wore. Expensive satin panties in a vibrant pink that he had purchased just for her. They were elegant, well-made, with frilled edges and a lacy side panel.

The knuckle of his thumb bumped against her sex, and even protected behind the triple layer material his touch felt electric. She parted her legs a little wider. Now his thumb scooped along the curve of her ass cheek, slipped up underneath the panty's trim, his fingers following behind, and he grabbed a handful of her bare flesh. It separated her cheeks, pulled her creases and folds open and she could feel the coolness of the mineshaft air get under her skirt and touch her feminine parts.

She enjoyed a quiet moan, knowing it wouldn't be heard down here. Dio's other hand slipped up the opposite side, going under her skirt as well—but now he was lifting it, pulling it right up. If the flashlight shone on her, everyone turning to see, they would see the skirt bunched up around her waist, her bare thighs and her bright pink panties. The ones purchased by a man who wasn't her husband.

"No," she hissed, "don't do that, Dio. Not here ..."

She knew he heard her, but he disregarded her complaint. Now his hands were around the front and he slipped them under the waistband of her panties just below her stomach. Little fingers first, then hands completely inside her panties he pulled them outward and down. If anyone were to turn now, they would see her shaved fairy cake. And while that was the most outrageous thing she could imagine, one that would probably ruin Tommy's career, she stayed frozen, watching their faces as they watched the red helmet guy talk, knowing that if they turned, they would see her pussy. Her stomach tightened, a hard knotted ball formed behind her navel.

"Seriously, don't, she said again, but did nothing to stop him.

Dio nibbled at the back of her ear, and her new worry was that her nipples were showing through the fabric. They had turned hard in an instant, burst from her body like bolts. She ached for them to be touched, and pushed away the urge to do it herself. Instead her hands were clenched in fists at her side now. She relaxed them, put her hands gently over top of Dio's. She whispered, "Don't show them my pussy."

He groaned, "Don't you think they want to see it?"

"Don't," she said softly.

Still disregarding her, he began to push the panties down her thighs. She let go of his hands, and grabbed at the fabric, taking a grip on her panties and stopping him.

"Oh my God, don't do that," she said.

But he forced them down. Instead of fighting, she let them go, sawed her hips from side to side to free them from the inside of her thighs. The dampness had them clinging. He worked them halfway down to her knee, his chin digging into her collar. Then he let them go and she brought her knees together and felt them fall around her ankles. With no hesitation, Dio's right hand grabbed her between her legs. Between thumb and knuckle he pinched folds of her feminine flesh. She could feel the wetness, feel the slickness her insides had gushed into his grip.

"Holy fuck, Sukie, I can't fuckin' wait," he growled, and it made her moan.

"I can't wait either," she whispered though she wasn't sure she was heard.

Dio's middle finger stroked front to back, working through her folds, plumping them, finding her central furrow and plunging up inside her. Her toes grabbed at the insole of her expensive Gucci loafers.

"Holy fuck," she gasped. She was totally exposed. Everyone had their backs to her, and the man talking shone the flashlight deeper down the tunnel. She moiled her hips against Dio's touch.

She closed her eyes, pushed her cheek against his cheek, smelled his aftershave, felt the light stubble already growing there. Could feel the hard ridge of his jaw against her cheekbone.

His hand whipped from her, his finger snapping out from inside her tightened canal, and her eyes shot open.

Her hands went to instant pins and needles. The red helmet was talking about the trolley tracks. The man was turned now, and he was flashing the light up and down the metal lines that ran in the red hard pack, talking about the extra freight that could be added, the extra haulage. The flashlight's cone inched closer to them. She could see in the dim, her skirt pulled up, her bare thighs. She grabbed the front of her skirt quick and pushed it down between her legs and Dio withdrew his hand. Her other hand slipped behind her and she stood demurely.

The flashlight's beam crept toward her feet. She saw the executives with their clean pressed chinos and steel toe boots, saw the African politician's gleaming alligator shoes—and, beginning to glow bright pink, her panties around her ankles.

"Shoot, shoot, shoot," she hissed now, and she pulled her feet out of them, stomping and digging her heels in. She mashed the panties into the ground under her Guccis. Holy fuck, holy fuck, holy fuck ... Her heart pounded in her chest, her eyes bulged from their sockets. Dio still pressed himself against her back, and now his thumb pushed at the center of her palm behind her back, forcing her hand open. They weren't directly in the flashlight beam, but it shone on the ground in front of them and they were lit in the hazy dim from below. He put his penis in her hand. This dirty, cocky son of a bitch had pulled his zipper down and took his dick out. Did it in front of all these people that meant so much to his business, meant so much to her husband's business. This man said he liked danger, and he wasn't kidding.

Dio's cock was soft, gummy, and hot. She squeezed it, could feel the shape of his glans under the foreskin just at the choking point of her thumb and forefinger. She squeezed him there, grabbed a tight ring around his foreskin and pulled.

Heart pounding, pulse jabbering away a mile a minute up one side of her neck, now she saw that Tommy was watching her. His face was solemn, expressionless, but there was a sparkle of interest in his eyes. He wanted to know what she was doing because he suspected something. Her husband knew he couldn't leave her alone for a minute with Dio. She wanted his hands all over her, wanted her hands on him. And Dio wanted the same.

They had to get out of here fast. Dio had her so worked up if everyone looked away right now, she would put her hands on a mining cart and let him fuck her from behind hoping they wouldn't turn back around and catch them.

Then the flashlight was gone, zipping back up the depth of the mineshaft, the man saying now they would walk up the tunnel and on the left-hand side, built into the landscape itself, he'd show them the offices, take them to the corridor that would lead them to the processing facility on the far side. That was where they would meet and have their lunch, Tommy and Dio could sign their papers and they could get the fuck out of here.

As the group began to trundle forward, Dio grabbed his cock, pushed it up between her ass cheeks. She flexed and crushed it, and he groaned. She could feel slippery excitement surge from his tip and mix with her own dampness. Now Tommy stood there with his hand out, looking to walk with his wife as they went deeper down the shaft.

She reached behind, pulled Dio's cock from her crack—the thing gaining a little rigidity, feeling so fucking huge—and she tried pushing it back into his fly but couldn't find the opening. She let him figure it out, walked forward adjusting her skirt and straightening herself. Didn't even look back to see if her panties could be seen, just went forward and took the hand of the man she loved.

He held it, brought her close, wove his fingers through hers then kissed the back of her hand. He pulled her close and tight, whispered, "I don't even want to know."

She went to her tiptoes, walking as she went with her calves flexed, kissed his neck and whispered, "No, you definitely don't."

DEALS

THEY ATE lunch in an executive dining hall on the far side of the mine, in a walnut-paneled room with one wall that was a window looking out over a landscape that reminded him of pictures he'd seen of Mars. The food was excellent; it had to be, what with the African there. He was a real piece of work, a frightening and powerful man. Less so now that Mugabe was gone, but he still had influence. So the Norwegians and Tommy and Dio kissed his ass.

Bongyongwe took a liking to Sukie, but how could he not, given that fucking outfit she was wearing. Dio bought her this tight black number with a light black cashmere top that clung to her breasts. This other man—his fucking boss—had gone to a lingerie store and picked out her exact size of push-up bra. Panties that matched, too.

Of course Bonyongwe sat next to her. Sukie could handle herself, though; had the guy eating out of her hand. He'd never seen the Minister so lively and full of smiles. It was a good thing they brought Sook.

Dio just brought her along to stick it to Tommy, putting his hands on her all the time while everybody else watched. Hanging back with her like those two were buddy-buddy. Dio liked to play his games, but Sook was no fool; every chance she got, she was right by his side, making sure everybody knew who she loved. So it was all fun and games, of course, as they say, until someone gets hurt.

Now they were in Gudmund's office. All windows, the man's corner office offered a view still looking out over the torn up red earth of Mars.

It was time for paperwork. Bongyongwe was gone, the executives were gone; the entourage had dissipated. They'd shaken hands with the company president, too, dropping in for a brief talk, but now they were down with the VP who made things happen. This was a no-brainer, a sure thing for Kal, bringing them out to Africa would never have been done unless they wanted to sign. Formalities. Probably enforced by Bongyongwe to remind them of his power.

They had the books open, their lawyer there, a good-looking Dutch woman in a gray suit. The paperwork was presented, all the Megalos sales contracts, future commitments. Tommy took the Mont Blanc pen offered and zipped his signature off on all twelve sheets, shoved them back and sat in his seat.

On one side of the desk you had Gudmund, this mean looking dude with an angular face under a white brush cut. Behind him, Tommy's new buddy Kal. On the other side, the Dutch hotshot lawyer. On Tommy's right, sitting in a chair between him and Dio, his wife. And in his periphery: Sukie's bare knee, Dio's hand resting on it. Not where anyone else could see, but Tommy sure saw.

He glanced a look over at Sook and saw her cheeks flushed, her eyes excited. It hit him low in the belly, and he couldn't wait to get out of here. This thing was done, the money was as good as in the bank, and there was a lot more going on than anyone knew about. Despite all that, there was only one thing on Tommy's mind, and that was getting this ball in the hoop. It had been dribbled up and down the court for fucking two months driving him crazy while he had real important shit to do. But ultimately there was nothing more important to him than his wife. And as crazy as that might sound, he wanted this for her. For him, too. For them.

Business was important. But lust was, too. So now he slapped his hand down on Sukie's other knee. It made her jump, and he squeezed her. When she jumped, Dio's hand whipped away, not wanting to get caught. He liked danger, but he was a boy who didn't like consequences.

OUT IN THE HALL, the cute black girl with the tight pants and the big camera was back to take their picture. They took turns posing again, shaking hands, holding up contracts and smiling. Sukie stood behind the girl and watched. Her face was long and tense. Once this was over, it would be time finally, and she would get to have sex with Dio. It wasn't tension or doubt today narrowing her expression as she battled with the morality; now it was frustrated eagerness.

When the pictures were done, they all gathered for their goodbyes. Kal and Gudmund, Dio, him and Sook all gathered in the hall while some Arvid staff began tidying.

Kal seemed to like Sook, holding her hand and saying, “You’ll be coming to Africa with Tommy now?”

“Oh, I don’t know,” she said, “Maybe. I think this might be a one-time thing—”

Dio put his arm around her and explained to Kal: “Sukie’s here on official business. A paid perk.”

Gudmund smiled and nodded but had no idea what Dio was talking about. Kal got it, saying: “Oh yes. You’re a masseuse, yes?”

“I am,” Sukie said with her friendly smile.

Dio patted Kal on the chest with the back of his fingers, said, “Next time you’re in Atlanta you should come and see her. I mean, you wouldn’t believe how good she is.”

Sukie beamed cautiously, taking the compliment but not saying any more.

Kal seemed interested, but not lecherously. To Sukie, he said, “In Norway, we sauna first. Ski, then sauna, then massage.”

Sukie said, “I don’t offer a sauna, but I could definitely see the benefit in it. And I did study Swedish massage.”

That pleased Kal and Gudmund as well, who nodded with his mouth turned down appreciatively. Kal said, “Did you?”

Tommy guided Dio’s arm from around his wife’s shoulders and he made a face to Kal indicating he just needed a minute to talk to Dio. He walked with Dio a few paces down the hall. He wanted to talk to Dio without Sukie, and once they were done here, he wasn’t sure if Dio’s surprise would allow him a chance.

Facing each other now, Dio waved back to Kal who smiled and kept Sukie’s attention. When he turned to face Tommy, again, he said, “What’s up?”

“Why do you want to fuck Sukie?”

Dio looked around, said, “You really want to talk about this here?”

He didn’t, but he didn’t want this in front of Sukie. He repeated: “Why?”

“You kidding, Tommy? Every guy I know wants to fuck your wife.”

“Don’t make me knock you out.”

“It’s a compliment, Tommy.” Dio rested his two hands on Tommy’s chest, smoothed his shirt. “I’m not trying to rile you. You don’t think the guys say dirty shit about what they’d do to her when you’re not around? Shit, you shoulda heard the stuff we said after the last Christmas party.”

“You’ve fucked around with her behind my back.”

Sukie was with Kal and Gudmund still, but she watched him and Dio nervously. He had the sudden notion he needed to be careful not to wreck this for her.

“We never fucked, Tommy. Maybe I tried, I don’t remember. I know you know we fool around. You ever watch us? Maybe you did, but I think I got you off your game. Did you?—ever watch us?”

“So what if I did?”

“Exactly, Tommy. Get a hold of yourself. You’re the first guy ever shared his wife? I’ve been to swinger clubs. Relax. This is your first time, I can see it in you. I’m not going to hurt her, I’m not looking to hurt you. It’s going to be hard for you, I get it. Don’t lose your shit. Swear to me, Tommy, swear you’re not going to lose your shit.”

“I’m not.”

“Good. Okay? We had to come to Africa so I could get you away from your guns.” He laughed, clapped Tommy’s shoulders. The young black woman walked by and gave him a smile and he stepped back and waved to her, too, watched her walk down the hall putting on a sway just for him. When she rounded the corner, Dio turned back and his smiling face went more serious. “Listen, Tommy. I like danger. Fucking your wife—sorry, almost fucking your wife—has been a rollercoaster ride. Fucking parasailing over power lines. Now it’s time to bring it home, you know? Don’t lose your nerve. Sukie wants it so bad. Don’t wreck it. You see me get her to beg for it? Fuck, that was hot, tell me it wasn’t.”

Tommy looked back to see Sukie standing in the hall all by herself, Kal and Gudmund continuing away down the hall with the lawyer. Sukie waved to him.

He smiled at her then nodded to Dio, held his gaze, getting mad but submitting. No, not fucking submitting; permitting. Permitting this arrogant young prick’s behavior for Sukie and for him. They both wanted what was going to happen this afternoon. “It was hot. How long have you known?”

“Known what? You wanted me to fuck her? I don’t know. That day after golf when I went to your house, and you got Sukie to rub my back.”

“That day? I didn’t know that day.”

“Sukie did. She grabbed my dick.”

“When? That day on the pool deck? She did not.”

“She did, Tommy. I knew she wanted it that day. When did I know you wanted it? The minute you gave me her card. Back when we met with Kal and Gudmund when they were in Atlanta. I asked for that card, Tommy, and I thought, this fucking macho guy gives me her card he wants me to fuck her. Next day you gave me her card, Tommy.”

Tommy nodded, remembering, looking over at Sook again.

Dio said, “You thought about it all night, brought me her card the next day.” His two hands went up the lapels of Tommy’s blazer and squeezed his collar. “So we’re going to go, Tommy, right now, leave here. I got a surprise. We have a nice lunch, and then you’re going to watch me fuck your wife. It’s like a reward. You did so good, Tommy. So good with these guys. Let’s live a little. Blow off some steam.”

SUKIE AND DIO behaved themselves in the helicopter. After he’d had a private talk with Kal, Tommy had caught up with his wife and his boss, waiting in the sun at the mining facility’s helipad. The two of them stood close together—but kept their hands to themselves—as the pilot readied the bright red and yellow chopper behind them loaned to them for the weekend by the Dutch.

Now they were in the Land Rover, heading down a desolate dirt road that was winding its way through the safari area, heading into the unknown. Dio’s hand had fallen on her knee and Sukie didn’t remove it. Benny and Morris were up front, and their eyes were on the road, at least Benny’s were—Morris seemed to watch out the right side looking for wildlife.

Benny wouldn’t see where Dio’s hand was even if he looked in the rearview mirror, but if Morris turned around, he would definitely see this man who wasn’t this woman’s husband putting his hand where he shouldn’t. Not that they hadn’t already given these two plenty to talk about.

They wore no seatbelts, Sukie in the middle between Dio and Tommy. Tommy on the right-hand side with his elbow on the sill, occasionally scanning out the window looking for wildlife like Morris, but mostly watching his wife's bare legs. Her skin was flawless, not even the slightest blemish. The skirt that Dio had bought for her rode high. Sitting the way she was on the Land Rover's flat rear bench, it had ridden high up near her crotch. If she were to let her knees drift apart, he was sure he would see the bright pink panties Dio had also bought her without having to bend over too far.

Tommy watched Dio's hand. A big strong hand, but refined. Dio went for manicures once a week at a place just outside the PCM. His nails were perfectly clipped and trimmed, no hang nails. No evidence of physical labor, either. All of Dio's muscle came from the gym. His thumb caressed circles on the point of Sukie's narrow knee.

Sukie turned to Dio, and the two of them looked at each other, directly in one another's eyes without saying anything. They drifted close, Sook settling into his body. The way she shifted, her legs parted, the knee that Dio held lifting slightly higher than the other leg. Dio's hand instantly claimed the new real estate. Inching higher up her knee, the pads of his fingers touched the inside of her thigh now.

Sukie scissored her legs, the knee that was lower climbing higher. It swiveled her hips so the fronts of her thighs now faced Dio. Her right hand rested on his thigh, her hand curling over the inside. Their faces drifted even closer.

Tommy watched intently. Looked at his wife in her nice and expensive outfit, black and sexy and clinging, something purchased for her by another man; looked at her bare legs, seeing almost the crack of her ass the way her skirt had shifted.

Sukie leaned close to whisper something to Dio, and Tommy knew she was saying nothing. Could tell by the expression on Dio's face that Sook was kissing his neck or maybe nibbling on his earlobe. The hand that curled the inside of Dio's thigh drifted higher. Tommy assumed Dio wore no underwear, and when Sukie's hand began to flex and grip something, he knew what it was.

Dio's lips parted then pouted, kissed near Sukie's little ear, took a grip on her diamond earring and pulled it in his mouth. His hand had slipped between her legs, inching up, making its way underneath her skirt.

Tommy's tiger couldn't wait any longer.

He checked the front seats. Saw Benny with his eyes on the road, which was good. Only now, if he were to glance in the rearview, he would definitely see something Tommy didn't want him to see. Morris was oblivious, looking out the right-hand side at the passing woodland.

It had to be stopped. He scooted close till his hip touched Sukie's rump. His hand went to her thigh, and feeling his touch she pulled her lips from Dio's neck and turned so their eyes met. Tommy grabbed Dio's hand and pushed it down between her knees again. Dio smiled, a sneer really, sucked his teeth with his eyes narrowed on the side of Sukie's face. He eased back to his side of the Rover. Sukie's hand still held his penis through his pants.

Tommy reached down from her elbow to grip her wrist and eased her hand back to her lap. Their eyes locked the whole way. Her gaze was distant, almost unseeing. She was looking at him but she wasn't comprehending. Why was this mean old man stopping her? He got her to sit straight again, and she began to come to. Dio had an effect on her.

She closed her eyes and let her head fall back and grimaced. Her two hands clenched into fists and pressed down on the Land Rover's bench as she flexed her hips and her stomach. She pressed her knees together and Tommy saw her legs shake. She groaned with frustration.

She wasn't even touching Dio, and she was turning Tommy on. Just seeing her so wild had his heart pounding.

Benny and Morris could take a look in the back and see Tommy kiss her, they were fucking married, so now he grabbed Sukie by the waist and twisted her so they faced. He kissed her on the mouth, took her tongue, his other hand coming up to grip the back of her neck. Her mouth was hot and hungry. She was a burning furnace inside. His cock grew uncomfortably hard in his tight underwear, trapped under his khaki pants. His hand went down to her knee, formed a blade and slipped up between her thighs. He was going to stick his hand down her panties and jerk her off.

She was warm and receptive, writhing in his grasp, her kisses eager. But when his hand went under the skirt, he found out she wasn't even wearing underwear.

He whispered, "Where are your panties?"

She gasped, "Dio took them off me. I left them in the mineshaft."

"You're so fucking dirty, Sook."

“I know,” she gasped, and now her hand took his wrist, wanting him to touch her pussy. He did, finding the inside of her thighs right down to her ass crack, even up the front where she was shaved, was absolutely sopping and slippery. She’d just been sitting here in the backseat with them and she lubricated herself till she was spilling over.

He slipped a finger inside her and she bit his tongue. He pulled back, said, “Dio gets you so wet.”

“He gets me so fucking wet, Tommy,” she said and she gripped her nails into his arm. Her hand fumbled between them, looking for his hard bulge. She found it, her fingers pinching at it through the fabric.

“Is he going to have you begging for it?”

His dirty talk made her gasp softly near his ear. She said, “I’ll beg for it. I’ll beg for it so bad. God, Tommy, I want his cock inside me. I want him so bad my stomach is hurting.”

He tightened his own stomach, flexed his thighs, wanted to take his cock out so Suki could grip it, but they couldn’t do that back here. His hand was hidden under her skirt though, and now he ran two fingers deep inside her. Her canal stiffened on him, her interior muscles gripping him. He fucked her with his fingers and watched her face. In his periphery he saw Dio watching as well, enjoying the show. Couldn’t wait for his turn—Tommy could tell by the way he was handling his cock through his pants.

Suki began to buck a little in her seat, and she gripped his arm harder.

“Stop, stop, Tommy, please. I don’t want to come right now.”

“You going to come?”

“Oh, please, stop, Tommy.” Her eyes fluttered, and she tried to focus on his. His fingers stroked out of her, slipped up her front and found her hard button, swirled it and pinched it between.

“Ah, mm, fuck, Tommy, I’m close, don’t make me ...”

He had control over her now. Her orgasm was under his fingers, and it felt good to be her boss again. He said, “You want Dio to make you come?”

“Oh God, yes,” she gasped and her head rocked back.

Tommy teased her with his fingers again, got her thighs shaking. He said, “Tell him. Tell him quietly.”

Her head rolled on the back of the Land Rover’s seat and she faced Dio. Tommy watched her jaw move as she mouthed toward Dio, “I want you to make me come.”

Dio wasn't quiet, but he said in a lower voice, "Don't worry. I'm going to."

Sukie's lips parted, and she said, "I know you're going to." Her thighs pressed together, sealed Tommy's hand between her warm legs and stopped him from moving it. He kept it where it was, the point of his finger pressing against her button.

Her head drifted lazily toward him, and he enjoyed the smile on her face. His wife was having a good time and surrendering herself to all of this. This was what he wanted—from the very time he watched the secretly recorded massage from his nanny cam hidden in a planter. Didn't know it at the time though apparently Dio did. And now it had all come to fruition. It wasn't easy getting all the pieces to fit, but it seemed like it was all going to come together. Everyone was going to get what they wanted and Tommy was going to stay on top.

Now Sukie's eyes fluttered and her head shook. Her eyes snapped wider, and she leaned toward him, but looking past his shoulder and out the window.

"A cheetah, Tommy. A cheetah," she said.

All three of them bundled together on the one side of the Rover watching out the window as they bounced along the rutted path. There was a lone, large-trunked baobab tree in the center of a grassy savanna field rimmed with distant woodland, and racing along in the same direction as the Rover was traveling they could clearly see a big, bright gold cat with black spots racing across the landscape.

"Holy shit, Tommy," she said and dug her nails into his leg. "Look at that."

Dio was pressing his chest against her back, peering over her shoulder and watching the cat as well. His hand had returned to her knee though it looked innocent as if it was there for support.

"Where are we? And where are we going?" Sukie breathlessly wondered, not really asking anyone the question.

Dio said, "We're almost there, Sook. It's just up ahead. Not too far now."

CHEETAH

TEN MINUTES after they'd spotted the cheetah, the vehicle lurched and slowed to a squeaking stop. They were on a narrow track, enough room for only one vehicle in one direction. Both sides of the road were closed in with woodland brush. The track they drove on was rutted but hard-packed.

"Is this it?" she asked. There was nothing here to see.

"I guess so," Dio said. She wondered if he'd been here before.

Driver side and passenger side doors both opened, Benny getting out, Morris getting out, too, on the other side and slinging his rifle over his shoulder. Morris looked up and down the track while Benny came around behind the vehicle.

She asked Dio, "You've never been here before?"

Dio didn't answer, pulling the lever on his door, clunking it open, kicking it outward with his shoe.

To Tommy, she said, "What are we doing here?"

Tommy shrugged, also looking through the windshield and then out the back. Behind them, the Rover's back barn doors opened, and she saw Benny smiling. Dio came around to join him. Tommy opened his door, got out and held his hand to help her. She slipped across the Land Rover's bench, took his hand and stepped out onto the hard-pack.

At the back of the vehicle, Benny was pulling a cooler by its two handles. He got it out and was trundling it to the roadside, Dio stopped him with a hand on his shoulder. He said, "Hey, Benny, Benny. You don't need to do that. Tommy'll take it. You guys hang back here, we're going to go down. We'll be about an hour."

Benny said, "I don't mind, Mr. Megalos. It's not heavy."

Dio said, "If it's not heavy, Tommy'll take it." He slipped paper money to Benny. "About an hour. Okay? Don't come looking for us."

Benny gave a worried look, said, "Are you sure?"

Dio said, "Unless you hear us screaming for help." That made Benny laugh.

It made Sukie nervous not knowing what was happening. It was a hot day out, and though her top was breathable cashmere and it was light, she instantly felt herself beginning to sweat. And it wasn't all the heat—there was a certain nervousness that inspired it as well. She held Tommy's hand.

Dio said to Benny, "So, we go where?"

Morris had come behind Tommy and Sukie, and he said, "Just this way, Mr. Megalos," pointing toward the right-hand side of the road. "Cut through these trees, it's not far, you'll see."

Dio nodded then looked at Tommy. "Tommy ...?" he said, nodding his chin toward the cooler as indication he should carry it. Then he held his hand out for Sukie. She looked up at her husband who had a blank expression, brow a little low. Not low enough that he objected though. He let her hand go, let her decide what to do. This was what they were here for, so she stepped forward and took Dio's hand.

Tommy bent at the knees and hefted the cooler. Dio led the way, holding her hand like they were a couple. Pushing aside branches they ducked and stepped through the brush, Tommy horsing the cooler behind them. It wasn't far before they could see daylight through the trees, coming to the edge of the woodland brush they were passing through. Benny and Morris stayed behind and it was just three of them now.

Dio said, "Must be just up ahead."

Then they were there, passing through the edge of the forest onto another grassy field—only they were higher up here, the plain spreading out before them and sloping low. Woodlands circled the field, at the lowest sweep downhill the woods parted and there was another field below them in a totally different shade of grass; beyond that floodplain, a glistening lake. On the other side of the lake a rolling low wooded ridge. The sky above was a brilliant blue with round, painted splashes of creamy clouds. In the centre of the grassy field where they stood, a strange and towering tree stretched up high to the sky. It was a breathtaking view.

Dio squeezed her hand, said, "We'll see wildlife by the water we wait here long enough."

“What kind of wildlife?” she asked him.

Dio shrugged. Behind them, Tommy said, “It’s dry here. Tropical, but dry. When the plain floods like that all the animals come out for a drink. You might see a black rhinoceros if we’re lucky, maybe a hippopotamus. Zebra’s possible ... cape buffalo. Hope that cheetah doesn’t come around here. Or a lion.”

She looked behind her at her husband and said, “Do you think it will?”

He shrugged, and the cooler bounced up and down with his shoulders. There was clinking inside, the sound of bottles. She imagined it would be champagne, they had a lot to celebrate again today.

They circled the field heading counterclockwise, and now they could see a table sitting underneath the enormous fairytale tree. The tree was tall but the trunk thick with a disproportionately small canopy. The bark was smooth and silvery. Underneath it a table was set with a white tablecloth and gleaming cutlery. This was the surprise. This was the spot where she would finally make love with Dio. She couldn’t help squeezing his hand. He liked it, smiling and rubbing his thumb over the back of her hand.

She said, “It’s beautiful. You plan this?”

“Best view in Zim,” he said proudly.

She turned to Tommy, said, “You see this?”

He didn’t answer, nodded, his eyes not watching her now but looking over the view.

They walked down the hill, her hand in her lover’s, her husband trailing behind and carrying their lunch. When they were at the table, she saw that a padded quilt had been laid on the grass, the four corners staked and tied. This was where Dio would finally take her. It was perfect.

As Tommy set the cooler down, Dio said, “Open it up, Tommy. Let’s crack some bubbly. We did everything we came to Africa for.”

Tommy said, “And then some.” He wasn’t smiling, and she knew he was tense.

Dio said, “Almost everything,” and he squeezed her hand, gave her a smile that got her knees trembling again.

Tommy flipped the cooler’s top open. Inside were covered serving containers that still steamed. A metallic divider kept the alcohol separate on one side—dividing the hot and the cold. Two foil tops of champagne poked straight up. Tommy withdrew the serving containers and put them on the table.

Jesus Christ, were they going to eat first? It was fucking insane.

As Tommy bent to retrieve the champagne she let Dio's hand go. She held her breath, feeling that tension return to her—which she didn't anticipate.

Dio gave her a puzzled look. "What?"

"Why don't ...?" She licked her upper lip. "Why don't we get naked again?"

That broke Dio's smile wide open; cheeks pulled high, he showed off his perfect white teeth. His eyes sparkled in the sunlight. Eyes on hers, he said, "What you think, Tommy? Great things happened last time Sukie took her clothes off."

She giggled and covered her mouth. Tommy didn't answer. She wasn't taking no for an answer anyway so her hands came down and gathered at her waist. She flicked that gold bolt-over gold buckle on her belt, her hand swiftly going to her side and drawing down the zip on her skirt.

Dio slowly pulled his jacket off his shoulders while he watched her. He moved much slower than she did. She pulled off her top and threw it on the chair set at the table. Tommy watched it. Now she was standing there with an unzipped skirt and a beautiful but tight pink satin bra that her lover bought her.

Tommy's hands were at her back, and she jumped at the touch. She flashed him a smile over her shoulder as he undid the clasp on the back of the bra. She sucked her lips in her mouth, still smiling at him. Tommy traced the straps over her shoulders and she held the cups to her bosom. She turned back to Dio. When she was sure he was looking, she let it fall to the grass at her feet, revealed to him her big bare breasts in the broad sunny daylight. He liked what he saw.

Now he was unbuttoning his shirt, slowly revealing that hairy, tanned chest. She shoved the skirt down until it fell around her feet, pulled her loafers off and stepped out of it, standing now completely naked in a grassy field in Africa. She was about to submit herself to a man who wasn't her husband. Submit herself solely for pleasure. Her husband would watch her and she would take from this young stud all the masculine gifts he offered. And they were many. Her heart raced like a rabbit's.

Dio took too long, his hands slowly pulling the shirt open and shrugging out—she was up against him fast, pressing her body to his, her hands shaking as they worked his belt open. She kissed his chest, felt the warm heat of his flesh between her lips as she suckled. Dio chuckled.

Fuck lunch. Fuck all this buildup. She was literally aching for him. Dying to have him. If she didn't have him right now, she was going to scream. He'd had her so built up in the Land Rover, her husband had almost made her come just touching her.

Dio stepped back to support her weight pushing on him. He stroked his hands on her bare arms while she did his zipper down, pulled his button, shoved his pants down. He wasn't wearing underwear and she could feel his big penis dangling between her breasts. She dropped to her knees in front of him.

"Holy shit," she heard Tommy whisper behind him. She hoped he liked this. She hoped he was ready. Dio had her so hot she would beg again. If he didn't give it to her right now, she would beg for him with hands held in prayer; she would do anything for his cock right now.

SUKIE DROPPED to her knees before Dio and he wasn't even undressed yet. Dio's shirt still clung to him, one arm through a sleeve, the rest hanging down to the grass. His pants had fallen to his ankles, and he was still in his shoes. Sukie sucked on his hanging member, angling her neck so that it would fall into her open mouth. She kissed it, ran her tongue on it, put it in her mouth, sucked and pulled. Her fingers found his balls; they were large, and they hung low in the African heat. When she touched them they rose. Now she gripped them in one hand, squeezed and fondled as he grew hard in her mouth. Dio moaned and looked up to the tree canopy above, chuckling and sighing, his hands coming together to work apart her bright blonde bun.

There were no more games. This was it. Nothing to get in the way. Dio wasn't up to anything. He'd arranged for this moment, didn't fuck Sukie last night because this was where he wanted it to happen. Now they were here. Now they would fuck. There was a freight train on a track and it was too late for Tommy to stop it now, to step out and put up a hand. It would splat him. He didn't want to, anyway. He'd stoked his wife's steam engine. Filled her hot little oven with fiery coals until her sides glowed red. It was him—his lust—that set this in motion. Whatever piece of him liked it better sit back and keep its fucking eyes open because it was in for a show.

A weakness went through his legs, his heart raced. He stepped to the side, pulled a chair out from under the table and sat down on it. It was comfortable. A perfect place for a spectator.

It wasn't long before Dio was fully engorged. God, his cock was ridiculous. As he bent to kiss the top of Sukie's head she let it go and it swung between his thighs, the tip dangling not that far above his knees. Tommy gripped a handful of tablecloth to stop himself from falling over.

Dio smirked, said, "Don't you want something to eat first?"

"Dio, I don't want to eat. Please ..."

"You don't want Tommy to hear you beg for it again, do you?"

She said, "Tommy knows I came all the way to Africa for this dick. Dio, fucking give it to me." She put her hand on it and milked it from base to bulbous tip. That was the password Dio needed to hear. That got her into the club.

Dio went to his knees before her, clasped her neck between both his tanned hands, pulled her lips to his and they kissed. Sukie's hands drifted up his body, gripped his shoulders lightly, they went in circles over his muscle then they stroked back down his arms. She ran her nails up and down his forearms as he caressed her sides now. Their mouths sucked on one another, their lips popping and pouting, their tongues darting in and out of each other's mouths.

Tommy unclasped his belt and undid his pants, standing up and pushing them down. He wasn't gonna sit here with his clothes on and get his dick strangled in the cotton. He threw off his jacket, unbuttoned one shirt button then pulled the shirt over his head and tossed it to the grass. Pants undone and stepped out of, he sat back down and let his erection feel the warm African air, felt it throb and bob until it pointed straight up again.

Dio played with her breasts now, their mouths still connected, his back arched, one large hand coming to scoop up a breast and run his thumb over her hardened nipple. She moaned in his mouth, caressed his hand encouraging him to coddle her tits more.

She pulled from him, looked in his eyes, whispered, "You gonna fuck me?"

He squeezed her breast, said, "I am. You ready for it?"

“Aching,” he thought she said, but Dio took her lips again and cut off the end of her response. His hands went around her bottom, cupped her ass cheeks, scooted down and grabbed her thighs where they met her ass. He stood up with her, Sukie throwing her forearms around his neck and squeezing herself to him while they still kissed.

Dio hoisted her up, his huge dong bouncing between his thighs, Sukie’s little legs wrapped around his hips. He turned with her, walked to the tree, angled himself for Tommy’s best viewing. He dropped with his knees to the quilt and set her back on it. She sighed and lay back, let her arms come off his neck, lay there submitting herself to him with her big breasts flattened on her chest and her legs open. She had a strange look of passion, almost love in her eyes. Lust, he supposed. Her hand slipped down her belly and she fingered herself. Played with her own folds and Tommy could hear how wet she was. It was no surprise, he’d had his hand up under her skirt and already knew how shocking the mess she had produced in anticipation of her big dick lover.

SAFARI

DIO WAS on his knees before her, framed in the V of her open legs. His hands curved over the point of her bent knees, watching over her body, one of her arms folded up above her head, the other extending her fingering hand between her thighs where she spread her slickness over her shaved sex.

Dio's eyes drifted to watch. She spread her petals for him, showed him her interior. She was completely exposed to him; surrendered to him. This had been a long time coming, and this was the way she wanted it. This was perfect. Remote, isolated. Intimate. Not home. Not her real life. This was fantasy. A beautiful fantasy.

Above her spread the sparse canopy of the odd tree, stretching out to the sky like deer antler. Below the branches, Dio's naked body was a darkened silhouette against the brilliant blue sky. Broad shoulders, handsome yet roguish face, a wide muscular chest that swooped to a narrow and tight waist. Her lover had been getting in shape for today and she was flattered. The way his eyes roamed over her fluttered her heart and tightened her breath. She could imagine she was alone. Alone in Africa with her dashing playboy. And her lover had prepared a bed of soft cotton quilting where they would make love, all set out on a vista of unearthly beauty. Dio, her lover, had prepared this for her. While she could imagine she was alone, she was glad and safe with Tommy here. Africa was dangerous.

Now she ran her slippery finger from her throbbing sex up to her navel and it lured her lover. He moaned, leaned forward and put his hands down on the quilt on either side of her. He walked himself up her body, his gorgeous face over hers, a long shining black curl of thick hair dangling over his brow. She smiled, gasped, looked in his eyes. His heavy dangling member tapped against her sex.

“Make love to me,” she said in her softest and quietest voice meant only for Dio’s ears, though if Tommy heard it wouldn’t be terrible. She still sought to protect him.

Their eyes connected, Dio’s and hers, his mind receiving her instruction. Make love to me. It would be her only instruction. She didn’t want it weird or kinky right now, or too hard. There would be time for that later. What she wanted right now was to be made love to by the fantasy man Dio appeared to be. That hunk, that stud, that drop dead gorgeous man from the hottest romance novel she ever read come to real life before her. She would only tell him once because she trusted Dio, trusted his manly sensibility. He was kinky, and he loved danger—but he was a lover. And that was the Dio she needed right now.

“I’ll make love to you, Sukie,” he whispered near her ear before he kissed her neck.

“Yeah,” she whispered, “make love to me,” and her hands came up to caress his neck. Their mouths found each other, kissing and softly suckling.

Her hands had been all over his body for months. She knew every inch of him; knew what every bit of his anatomy felt like under her fingers. Today was different. Right now she touched him as a lover. Touched him as a woman. Touched him as his woman.

Familiar as her hands were with him, touching him here, underneath him on this quilt, excited her in a new, deep way. Her hands went over his collar, his big shoulders, down his hard sides; her nails ran back up his ribs, her hands caressed the muscles of his back while they kissed.

Their lips parted when her hand came around the front, slipped between them and went gently around the end of his cock. The pad of her thumb stroked soft circles on the bulging meatus tip. He’d grown to throbbing steel; the head of his cock was hard and plump, his foreskin rolled back past his coronal ridge, bunched at its neck. She told him: “You are so big.”

“You knew that,” he whispered, pushing his hips forward and running his cock through her hand.

She kissed him again. Now she whispered, “Be gentle with me,” and she guided his cock between her legs.

MONTHS of erotic subterfuge came together before Tommy, his wife and his boss on a quilt at his feet while he watched from a seat in a grassy African field as a warm breeze rustled his hair. He smiled.

Sukie's passionate face made him smile. A woman he'd known and loved for eleven years now. Watching her expression as a dirty romantic fantasy came to life made him love her even more. He was giving this experience to her. But Dio had certainly gone his own extra mile, setting the stage before he made love to Tommy's wife. He could be worried or perhaps just thankful—he'd decide later, for now he would watch his own dirty fantasy play out.

Feet from him, his wife lay on her back and his boss was on top of her, her tanned knees poked up on either side of Dio's hips. They kissed slowly and passionately; Sukie's hands explored his body. Dio's erection was naked against Sukie's sex. Then Sukie reached between them and held it. Tommy could tell by her glistening eyes and rosy cheeks she was ready. She told Dio he was big. She asked him to be gentle. The whole interplay between them had Tommy's cock pounding with his heartbeat.

Dio's rump drew up and back, his cock dragging along Sook's belly, her hand holding it and guiding it. It was an enormous, dark, red-brown thing, and the timorous look on his wife's face excited him.

The muscles of Dio's back did a rippling dance as he shifted his weight. His right leg went to the side, knee pointing out, and Sook lifted and draped her leg over his. It exposed their genitals' connection and Tommy groaned. Sook had a hold of Dio's cock just below the glans and she stroked her slick opening with the tip. Dio's smooth glans gleamed with her wet, and she nestled him into her hot membranes. When Dio sunk the big cock head into her, she moaned and sucked her lips into her mouth. Dio paused, watching her expression as he entered her.

Now Sook's hands came up Dio's slim muscular sides and stroked him up and down. Dio pushed himself deeper. Her reaction was far different from the time on the massage table in their backyard when she'd been timid and thought she couldn't do this. She let out a pained sound but her chin nodded up and down, encouraging him to continue.

The way Dio had opened his hips showed Tommy the full view of his huge cock going into his wife, and he realized Dio was cognizant. Was doing it on purpose. Maybe he got off on it, knowing this woman's husband watched, or maybe he was considerate, knowing Tommy wanted to watch it go in her. Dio was hard to read. It didn't matter anyway; it changed nothing. Tommy gripped the sides of the chair, licked his lips and watched.

"Oh God," Sukie whimpered quietly, and her brow furrowed.

Dio pushed deeper, making Sook hitch her breath, then he withdrew. There was a wet gush; Tommy's wife's own copious lubrication spilling from her. Dio plunged in again and got her moaning. Her hands clutched his back then hiked down, grabbed his bare hard ass. Dio withdrew and thrust again, and Sukie's neck arched, her chin pointing to the sky. She hooked her other leg around Dio, her heel digging behind his knee.

Dio began a rolling and curling of his hips, finding a pace and fucking Sukie with only half his cock. Sukie's pink membranes clung to his girth in a tight pulling ring, flickering with his thrusts.

"Oh God, oh God, you feel so good," she sighed, nails running up his back again, coming around his sides. Dio found her hands with his and laced his fingers through hers. He stretched her hands up above her head and pinned her like that. Her eyes fluttered open and their gazes locked; their two faces only inches apart. Now he closed his hips off, squared them against Sook's and Tommy couldn't see his wife's pussy spread open anymore.

With Sukie pinned and their eyes on each other's, Dio's hips curled in undulating circles, his muscles bulging and flexing, his stomach sucking flat then flexing out as he fucked Sukie deeper and deeper.

Sook chugged and bucked, her eyes batted, but she struggled to keep them open and maintain Dio's gaze. Her wet lower lip plopped in and out with her excited breathing.

"Oh fuck, oh fuck, oh God," she gasped.

"You're so wet, so tight," Dio said in his low voice.

"Ho-oh," she groaned and chuckled. "You're so, so big."

Then they were kissing, eyes closed, Dio going into her nice and steady and easy and Sook's hips beginning to roll to meet his. She drew her knees up, gasped at the change in her exposure to his large intrusion. Her ankles crossed under his round rump, and her head rocked with her kisses on his mouth.

DIO WAS ENORMOUS, and he filled her completely. His size pushed out her walls, stretched her ring, and when he was deep, it was like she felt him in her stomach. The head of his cock was a hard ball that plunged electric blips of pleasure as he thrust it in and out of her. There was no way to escape his domination of her sex. No way to move that would change the fullness he delivered. Every angle felt her insides stuffed with his hard man meat. She loved it. She was claimed. The way he held her hands above her head had her exposed and vulnerable to him and the removal of her defenses, her ability to cover herself left her unguarded. It made her feminine, made her surrender to his undeniable animal masculinity.

His eyes bored into her and she squinted and blinked, but held his gaze, held this intimate, inmost connection. Her bare breasts bounced and rolled on her chest, sometimes when he thrust into her she could feel her hard nipples drawing crescents on his muscular chest. Every time they did, she'd hitch her breath in an excited gasp. Each time she would exhale just a little less, and now her lungs felt ready to burst.

She let it out in a babbling moan. "Oh Dio, oh you feel so good, mm, oh Dio, mm, that's it," she encouraged him, her hands stroking his neck, her fingers raking through his hair.

"I've wanted to be inside you for so long, Sook, so long ..." he growled, his fiery gaze focused on her.

She had to look away. It was too much. His huge size, the way he used it, his handsome face, his lustrous hair, his tanned skin; now his words, too? Her jaw trembled with a flux of things she wanted to say but was afraid to hear come out of her mouth. The way his cock moved inside her had her brain looking to utter her unending love for him, looking to tell him she would do anything to be with him. He possessed her completely.

"You're the most flawless woman I've ever made love to," he said now, and it made her frown. He'd been with models.

She said, "Stop, Dio ..."

He whispered in her ear, "You're soft, but you're strong, you have the face of the most beautiful angel." Now he got nearer her mouth and ear, his breath souging her neck. It brought his cock deeper inside her and that made her squeak with its unexpected stabbing. She dug her nails in his shoulders and humped him harder, her brow lowering to a scowl.

"You're a woman, Sook, a goddamn woman, and I can't believe I get to make love to you. You feel it?—feel how I want this?"

His eyes were on hers and they were deep and black and serious. He brought her hand over his heart, flexed his cock inside her body over and over, and it removed her scowl, made her eyes open wide and staring. He'd stirred something inside her, and now she clawed his neck, pulled herself up to take his mouth with a hot, passionate, and stormy kiss.

FLUTES

THE TWO OF them talked in soft whispers, their mouths close, kissing each other's necks and biting earlobes. Dio fucked her with masterful movements that had Sook responding with sighs and gasps, and deep moans. His hips moved like a dancer's, and Tommy watched the small muscles of his waist flex and press out against his tanned skin. His muscular back was mostly hairless, same as his ass, but his thighs were furred, and his forearms; the muscles flexed in blades as he gripped Sook's wrists up over her head. His big, excited balls were drawn up high, straddling the wide, massive shaft where it formed a bulb behind his testicles. It was swollen large and hard, and Tommy imagined that indicated the entire ten-inch body of that monster was rock hard and goring his pretty wife's guts. It certainly sounded like it; wet mucus sucking and smacking, and of course Sook's impassioned feminine gasps. Tommy had made Sukie produce all kinds of sounds in his life with her, but here today they were definitely, distinctly different. And her excited sounds made him excited—not mad like he'd worried. In fact, he'd been smiling dumbly for a little while now, and the smile wasn't looking to leave.

Dio fucked her like that for almost ten minutes. Changing pace, going deep, teasing her with shallow thrusts. It wasn't fucking. They made love though they weren't in love. They were lovers. It wasn't rough; it wasn't animal. Dio wanted to please Sook. Sometimes they'd lock eyes, Sook's mouth open and gasping. They kissed, whispered dirty things, Sook encouraged Dio, told him she liked it. It was undeniably beautiful, and the jealousy it brought wasn't harsh and blunt, it was sublime, slippery, and it whirled in Tommy's core, taunting him, tormenting him because it knew how much he loved his wife.

Sukie came. Not one of her scorches, not one that made her cry out. This was slow and strange. She kept Dio's eyes the whole time though her gaze was glassy and purblind. A long tremulous whimper came from her and it lasted for minutes. Maybe she was coming the whole time. Sometimes she would nod to Dio and he would respond by going deeper, holding it inside her. Probably flexing it. Then he would stroke it in and out again. This lasted a while, and finally she put her head right back and closed her eyes. She let out a dry hissing sigh, her mouth working open and closed. She clenched her teeth. Then it was done. Dio let her wrists go and Sook rubbed at her eyes and cheeks, blinking, looking bewildered. They spoke to each other very close, Tommy couldn't hear them.

THEY CHANGED positions and started all over again. Sook went to her side and Dio spooned behind her, both of them facing the chair where Tommy sat. Dio's erection stayed inside her the whole time so Tommy didn't get to see him reenter, didn't get to see her expression when he did that, they just started again, Dio moving himself in and out of her, Sukie making those new noises again. New noises for a new man.

One hand on her knee, Dio spread her legs open so Tommy could see his wide cock go in and out of her pussy. His tremendous girth had mashed her hood high and her labia were stretched to a thin ring around him. Her interior flipped in and out with his fucking.

Sukie covered herself like she was embarrassed, the sight of their connection too garish for her husband to see so close and unhindered. Her hand came down and blocked Tommy's view, her wedding ring throwing off a glint in the African sun like a hazy white star.

Those fingers of hers stroked at Dio's cock and when he went very deep, she formed a claw around his big scrotum and clenched, held him from pulling out. With his cock held rigid in place, Sook swiveled her hips in awkward circles, humping it, her sex around his deep intrusion. She came again. This time she cried out.

Tommy ran his hands together, leaned forward with his elbows on his knees. His aching hard on pressed into his stomach. It became a marathon session. There were no acrobatics, no hard-core porn fucking. Just slow, romantic intercourse. It went on for more than half an hour.

At one point, Sook ended up sitting on top of Dio, with her hands on his thighs. Reverse cowgirl. Her feet were tucked against his sides, the soles scrunched up and her toes curled. Her breasts swayed as her hips rocked in circles, his size fully embedded inside her, his scrotum bunched in a ball under her, sitting in the seam of his closed thighs. Sook's chest was red, so were her cheeks, she looked out of breath, worn out. Her mouth hung open, her eyes were watery, she blinked away wet, caught Tommy's eye as he watched. She gave a breathy chuckle, the corners of her hanging mouth came up a little in an exhausted sort of smile. She rolled her eyes wondrously and mouthed Oh my God, Tommy.

Couldn't help himself—he'd intended to stay out of it, let her have this time with Dio as if she were alone—he leaned forward in his chair, took a step and kissed her lips. She let him, raised a hand up to caress his cheek, kissed him back, but it was clumsy and she panted in his mouth. Back in his chair, like a good and thoughtful husband, he let her get back to it.

And she did. Right away. Head nodding down with a lusty gasp, she fell forward, hands walking down Dio's thighs until she gripped him above the knee. Eyes closed, brow furrowed in focus, she spun her hips making high little girlish squeaks as she chased down another orgasm for herself.

She got it. Face turned up to the sky right in front of him, he watched as she cried out, her face scrunched up in a sexy grimace.

It went on for almost three-quarters of an hour and Tommy started to worry Benny and Morris would come looking for them and find Dio fucking his wife. And Tommy would still need his turn, short as it would last right now. He felt like he'd been making love to her for forty-five minutes. He was as aching to explode as Dio must be.

NOW DIO HAD Sook on her back again, a hundred-and-eighty degrees from where they started, their heads at Tommy's feet. Sook had her knees up high, her feet pointed, both hands wrapped around the back of Dio's neck. The thrusts he gave her like this were quicker, more urgent. Dio was close to coming, and Sook recognized it, too, and she caressed his jaw, ran her thumbs on his cheeks till they were looking in each other's eyes.

She whispered, "You like danger, Dio?"

He laughed in a throaty growl, went deep into her and made her grunt and smile. “You know I do,” he said, mean and low.

She said, “Come inside me,” then gasped at how terrible her own words were.

Tommy made fists as his heart pumped sudden ice water through his veins. His heart froze its beats.

Dio rumbled a deep sound from his chest that became a mean chuckle. “You’re so fuckin’ bad.”

“Dangerous,” she sighed and smiled.

Hips pumping faster, Dio agreed: “So fucking dangerous.” His hand went up her haunch, his elbow squeezing her ankle against his side.

“Do it, Dio,” she pleaded now, “Do it, please, come inside me.”

Dio’s jaw muscle flexed, and he stared fiercely at Sook. “You’re on the pill?”

“No,” she gasped, shook her head. Her breaths were coming faster now. “It’s okay. I think it’s okay. Please, Dio ...”

Dio growled again, his hips rolling, pausing while he considered. His big-dick thrusting slowed.

Sook didn’t let up, running her nails on his neck, she said, “Do it, Dio, I want you to come inside me, I want to feel you come inside me.”

That big-dick thrusting returned with certain, quick, very deep pounding as Dio made his decision. Sukie squeaked and gasped little Yeah sounds now, and Dio fucked into her harder and harder.

A blazing red fire charged up Tommy’s chest, set his neck and cheeks ablaze. His ass lifted off the chair and his hands formed into hooks to pull this man off his wife. It was too late though, and he knew it was. Didn’t even know how to feel, didn’t know if pulling Dio off was what he should do—he felt suddenly distant, far away; strangely inferior to his wife. Her power over him was enormous.

He thumped down in his chair and watched. His fingers dug and pulled at his cheeks as Dio finally reached his own orgasm and ejaculated inside Sukie.

He growled and roared, thrust deep and hard, held still, bucking. The cords and cables of his neck pulsed out against his skin, his muscular arms quivered. Then he was thrusting again, hips hammering fast.

Sukie wailed, “I feel it, I feel you. Oh, mm, Dio ...”

Dio got deep again and held. Sukie ran her nails through his hair, scratched along his neck and shoulders as he continued to buck, continued to growl and grunt.

Both of them held still then. Both breathed fast and heavy, both their tanned bodies gleaming with sweat. Dio's back heaved, his ribs went in and out on his sides. Sukie's chest rose and fell, her breath scored from her open mouth. One hand caressed Dio's cheek.

Soon they were chuckling lightly. Sukie smiled so she showed her teeth. "Wow, Dio," she whispered.

"Unbelievable, Sook," Dio said and kissed her shoulder. He groaned then, raised off her, got his hand between them and carefully pulled his cock out of her. It fell heavily on her belly, making her flesh shake. Semen still spilled from it, pooling in the shallow of her soft tum.

Dio sighed, laughed again, Sukie joining in, giving a soft chuckle and watching his face as he came out of his intense orgasm. She darted a kiss to his cheekbone. Dio returned, taking her mouth with his and Sook's arms hooped around his neck, raising her knees up to his armpits again.

THEIR LIPS PARTED, and Dio got on his knees over her, enormous penis hanging down between his thighs and almost touching her sex. Sukie put her feet down, smiling at him admiringly. Eyes on Sook, Dio said, "Fuck, Tommy, you get that every night?"

"Every night," he said coolly, though his nervous system was jangling and his insides wanted to burst out in rage and scream.

Sukie made a hoydenish sound in her throat that turned to an embarrassed sort of giggle, and she covered her face with her two hands. Dio squeezed her knees and stood up.

"Fuck, Tommy," he sighed and came to the table.

As he leaned across and hoisted a pitcher filled with water, his penis curled on the tabletop. It was slick and shining with his wife's insides, a whitish sticky ring circled almost near the base and droplets beaded in his scraggly pubic hair. He poured three glasses for all of them and knocked one back.

Tommy looked over to Sook and now she was sitting upright on the quilt, hugging her own legs with her chin planted between the two humps of her thin knees. She smiled at him and when he smiled too, he saw a relieved little shrug slump her shoulders. She winked and curled her index finger, his sexy tiger summoning him to her den.

He stood slightly hunched, a sickening tightness pulling on his middle, hurting with the knowledge that Dio had ejaculated inside her. Sook scooted back, and he got on his knees before her. Her legs had parted and with the flexing of her stomach to shift backward she pushed out a dribble of Dio's semen that spilled from the seam of her abused little folds and slipped down between her cheeks.

An awful image of his wife, profoundly dirty. This was the mother of his children. But it provoked an unstoppable animal lust that washed up from below and swelled through him swirling in eddies and gurgling pools until his insides were coated with the insane drive to copulate with her, to fill her with his own seed, to claim her. Not ownership, but to prove to her his worth, to show her who was the better man, prove he deserved her. It made him see red. Not rage, but love.

He was over her in a second, his lips on hers, taking her by surprise and as she fell back to the quilt with him between her thighs, her arms snaked around him now. Her nails scratched his neck now.

No hand was needed to guide his cock into her entrance. She was smeared with wet and he merely pushed his hips and his point found the weakest spot and plunged deep.

She grunted into his kiss and her nails scratched furrows in his back. He felt her gushing around him. Felt another man's hot seed displaced, overflowing from her slit and burbling around his intrusion. She was wet and loose and her hungry hole welcomed him.

He pounded into her. She'd been made love to already, she'd been pleasured. Time was short, and the evidence of the other man needed to be expunged. It was his seed that should fill her canals, seek her womb. Dio might have shot deeper inside his wife, but he was sure his own cock squirted harder and farther. His cock pounded her with machine precision, driving in and out in perfect piston action until her heels locked around his waist and he got her squawking. His balls boiled over in fiery tumult and his seed launched into her with force. When she felt it, she moaned and grabbed fistfuls of his hair. He looked for her lips but Sook's neck was arched, her head tilted away and teeth clenched between her sneering pink lips. He bit at her neck as his cock continued to pulse and jump and swell inside her. Her heels dug into his spine painfully. They lay clenched like that, breathing heavy. He was wet with her sweat, mixed with his own and probably Dio's but he didn't dwell. Sook was his.

"Oh God, Tommy, that was so good," she sighed, her breath hot against his cheek. When her eyes fluttered open they kissed.

When he had his breath, he gasped, "How close is it, baby? Do we need to worry?"

"About what?" she said with a bemused frown.

"He came inside you, Sukie."

She looked in his eyes and smiled sweetly, condescendingly, caressed his cheek and played with his hair. "Come on, Tommy," she said, "I'm on the pill, are you kidding me? You think I want Dio's baby?"

Dio laughed from behind him somewhere, and Sukie shook underneath his body, chuckling breathily as well.

He covered his hand over his heart and laughed too. "Sook, you killed me," he said.

"Was it hot?" she asked.

"Oh God," he sighed, withdrew himself from his wife, his cock pulling out a spate of semen. He kneeled between her legs and rested his hands on his thighs, feeling a little lightheaded. He said, "Holy fuck was it ever."

"I know. I turned myself on, too," Sukie laughed. "And I knew it was okay. You must have been dying."

"When did you go on the pill?"

"Back when you asked me to have sex with him."

"You couldn't tell me?" he lamented, running his hand through his hair.

Sukie said, "I bet he would give me a baby boy."

"What do you mean?"

Sukie said, "You have to go deep for boys, remember? And he'd probably give me triplets."

Tommy groaned, feeling the humor, liking it, but still reeling.

"Although I could hit him up for money," Sukie said, still on her back with her knees up, letting them both see her slit and not being ashamed. "Alimony. Get some of his millions."

Dio scolded, "Hey."

Tommy said, "You don't need his money."

Sukie cocked her head, watched him for a moment, said, "You're my provider, Tommy." She extended a hand toward him, wanting him to lay with her. He did, sinking onto the quilt and shimmying up to be at her side.

She whispered, "You didn't stop him from ejaculating inside me."

"What did you want me to do, pull him off you?"

She shrugged.

He said, "I trusted you. I really do trust you. I didn't know you were fibbing, but I figured you knew what you were doing."

"I did," she said, laughing again.

TOMMY SAT up and put his elbows on his knees. Dio sat in the same chair where Tommy sat to watch him with Sukie. He'd finished his water, but held his hand on the empty glass sitting on the table. He slumped in the chair, his expression drowsy and satisfied. His legs were wide apart, his genitals dangling over the edge of the chair. His cock stayed half-engorged; Dio aroused by watching Tommy take his turn with Sook. The shine on his cock had dulled, the wet from Sukie's insides turning tacky.

Sukie sat up now, too, drawing her knees together, her feet splayed wide. She bumped her shoulder to Tommy's, then settled against him, her skin hot. She smiled at Dio and gave a funny chuckle in her throat.

Dio smirked and shook his head at her. "So you're on the pill?"

She giggled, hugged her knees. "Yeah. Of course."

Dio laughed appreciatively, leaned over the table again to hoist a bottle of champagne out of a silver decanter frosted with condensation. He plunked the base down on his thigh where it met his hip. It had been in ice, and water trickled down the inside of his thigh. His scrotum drew up, big balls rolling around inside, tucking up under his dangling penis. He said, "That's why I like you. You are so fucking bad."

"Thank you," she said slyly.

"Tommy?" Dio said. "Champagne?"

"Sure," Tommy grunted. Sukie put her arm around his back.

Together they watched Dio pop the top off the champagne with a bursting puff of carbon dioxide, leaning forward as it sudsed out the top and cascaded over his hand. Sukie gave quiet applause, hugging Tommy's neck to do it.

Tommy said to Dio, "What if you were wrong?"

"Wrong about what?" Dio said, lining up three crystal champagne flutes at the edge of the table.

“What if I didn't know? What if you were trying to fuck my wife, but I didn't know?”

Dio lowered the bottle, pausing before pouring, turned to regard Tommy.

Sukie rubbed Tommy's back, up high between his shoulders. She whispered, “Tommy, don't.”

Tommy was still watching Dio. “You don't respect me?”

Dio thought about it, holding the neck of the bottle with two hands. “The truth, Tommy?—if you didn't know, and I fucked Sukie, you're a chump and you deserve it. Last thing I think is you're a chump.”

“You didn't know for sure.”

“I knew for sure I was going to fuck her, Tommy,” Dio said, now pouring champagne into the first glass.

Hand still caressing Tommy's back, Sukie said, “I had no say?”

Pausing before pouring the second glass, Dio said, “You were going to fuck me, Sook.”

“Oh, I was?” she said, raising her eyebrows and cocking her head defiantly.

Dio poured the third glass now and said, “Sook, you were going to fuck me, you just didn't know when.”

“Don't be an asshole, Dio,” she laughed.

“You wouldn't?”

“No,” she said without pausing to consider.

“We were going to fuck, Sook.”

“I could resist you,” she said with a smile, but Tommy didn't like how she'd sat straighter, getting flirty with Dio, making eye contact.

“Sukie, I didn't even try.” Now looking to Tommy, he said, “And you think I got no respect for you.” Back to Sukie, he said, “Imagine if I tried to seduce you.”

“Oh, please,” Sukie said, rolling her eyes, all flirty smiles. Tommy watched her playful profile, her nipples swollen, sitting on her heels now, feet crossed over under her rump and her hands on her thighs.

“What does it matter, anyway, Tommy?” Dio asked, standing up and taking a champagne flute in each hand. “Everybody got what they wanted. Got what they came here for. No one got hurt. Now have some champagne.”

He stepped over to the laid out quilt and handed them each a glass held by the flute so they could take the stem.

Back at the table to retrieve his own glass, Tommy stopped Dio. "Then what was all that shit on the plane?"

Dio turned back, sipping champagne. "What? Booking the seats?"

"Yeah, booking the seats."

"Jesus, Tommy," Dio said. He came to the quilt and sat down, Sukie in between them. "Testing ... I don't know ... fucking with you. Trying to make this fun."

Sukie looked to him nervously, a funny twist of a smile hiked to one side. She said, "Tommy ... come on ..."

Dio said, "Sukie liked it," and he pulled her arm so she fell to sit between his legs, her back to his stomach. She yelped and held her flute high so it wouldn't spill. Dio growled and bit her neck playfully, making her laugh.

She said, "Tommy liked it, too, come on, Tommy, you did, you told me you did." Now she extended her leg and poked his leg with her pointed toes.

Dio said, "Enjoy the champagne, Tommy, enjoy the view. It's all out now. Out in the open. Let's have fun. A lot more fun. We got all night. We don't go home till tomorrow morning." His hand circled Sukie's waist and rested over her navel. Sukie settled against him, smiling at Tommy and putting her ankles to rest over his thighs.

"One more day, Tommy," she whispered, putting her hand over Dio's, sipping her champagne but eyeing him the whole time.

The sight of her like that produced a bewildering reaction: he laughed. Silent chuckling through his nose, he let his head nod forward.

"What?" she laughed.

She sat between her lover's legs, her hand over his. They were both naked, Sukie looked gorgeous. Her light hair was tussled, her pouting lips plump from the afternoon's activities. Her cheeks were flushed, nipples hard, her sexy little pedicured feet held together in his lap.

"Take what you want, Sook, take what you need," he said and gave her his most honest and caring smile.

Her sweet expression was worth it. She slumped, her eyebrows going up in the middle, her eyes glistened with wet happiness. Her lips wriggled in a squiggly line then she mouthed, I love you, and he squeezed her foot.

The three of them drank their champagne and watched the water from the quilt, naked but protected by the small shade of the big baobab tree's high canopy. When they finished—and decided to get dressed before Benny and Morris came looking for them—Sukie gasped and grabbed Tommy's arm. She pointed across the field.

He followed where her finger pointed and they all watched as that sleek golden cheetah slunk out of the woodland on the far side and crept into the field. It saw them sitting there and watching but kept its prowl heading downhill. Dio held Sukie and Sukie held Tommy while they watched the cat go all the way down to the water's edge, sunlight rippling on its shimmering muscle.

FOYER

AFTER BENNY and Morris dropped them off at the villa, they all stumbled into the foyer, Dio saying, "Tell me that wasn't uncomfortable."

Sukie said, "I didn't want to say anything." When she'd closed the door, she'd put her back against it as if to prevent the awkwardness of the Rover ride from following them in. "They were really quiet."

Dio said, "I guess they watched us."

"No, they didn't," Sukie said. "No way."

Tommy said, "I think they probably did."

Sukie looked to him now and said, "No, don't tell me that. No, they didn't."

"Come on, Sook," Dio said. "Tell me you wouldn't. You and your girlfriends."

They both watched her, her back pressed up against the door, her eyes scrolled up and to the right as she thought about it.

Tommy said, "And you're a woman."

"And they're men," Sukie whispered. Her cheeks reddened, and he wanted to go to her and hold her. Also, he wanted very much to laugh at his reluctantly naughty wife.

"Of course they watched. How would you think they wouldn't?" Dio said. And now he did laugh.

They still stood in the foyer, Sukie with her back to the door, sunlight filtering in from a slatted skylight fixed in the plaster roof work above their heads. Dio leaned against a heavy log support and smirked at Sukie.

Her eyes came up, and she caught them both staring at her. She averted her eyes, her gaze tracked to the right and saw a large circular mirror framed in a sunburst of grey crooked twigs. There was a dresser below it, an ornate heavy thing with legs carved to look like an elephant's. She walked to it and rested her hands on the top. Tommy watched his wife's reflection in the mirror as she sighed, "They watched us from the bushes."

Dio eased himself off of the log support, walked past Tommy to come up behind her. To her reflection, Dio said, "We gave them a show, didn't we?"

There was an identical log behind Tommy and he leaned back on it now and put his hands in his pockets.

Sukie's eyes met Dio's gaze in the reflection in the mirror. Her mouth worked around and she bit her lower lip. His wife was thinking about all the things those strange men would have seen from their hiding spot. All the dirty things they saw this sweet little Atlanta housewife do with two men. It reddened her cheeks further, but her eyes took a glassy far away look. Tommy knew that look and instead of feeling compassion for her shame, he knew something more profound was happening in her—could see it in the way her lips hung parted.

Now his wife's gaze dropped so she could watch her own face; she looked into her own eyes while Dio loomed behind her, standing very close. She licked her lips as her pupils darted wildly over her own reflection.

Her hands were moving—they'd been gathered together at her chest—but now they slipped down over the black skirt her lover had bought for her. She gripped the hem, gathered bunches of fabric in her fists, scrolled the skirt up her rump, exposing her ass to him.

Sukie's gaze now engaged Dio's. She stared at him, her expression overflowing with pure want. When her eyes connected with Dio's, a switch had been flipped, her young lover's hands moving into action swiftly, fumbling between their close bodies where Tommy couldn't see. The metallic clicking sound of his buckle being hastily undone was evident, then the sound of a zipper, and Dio's pants dropped to the floor.

He bit at her neck lustily, and it brought them close together, skin touching skin where they were both naked below the waist. Sukie gasped at the hot feel of him against her, and Dio's hand came around and held her throat. Sook began to grind her hips, seesawing them from side to side and rolling them in circles as she pushed her rump back against Dio. His other hand came between them, and Tommy watched his elbow dart in and out as he fumbled with his cock. Tommy's eyes moved to Sook's reflection in the mirror, watched as her eyes went wide. She gasped, and her throat made a high clicking sound. Those wide eyes narrowed to slits and her eyebrows tented. Her face pinched now in an expression akin to pain. Dio's knees dipped, then he rose up, and Sukie made a bawling sound. Her head nodded forward and her nails scratched at the glossy surface of the dresser.

"Oh God, oh God," she groaned.

Then Dio was whipping his jacket off, tearing it over his shoulders and throwing it to the floor behind him. He wore a white linen shirt, and it hung down below his rump. He bucked his hips, and it rocked Sukie's body. Tommy couldn't believe the kid could have got hard this fast. But whatever he had between his legs, it was stiff enough to go inside Tommy's wife. He could tell by the sounds she made.

She breathed, "Oh shit, mm, oh yeah, oh that's good, mm, yeah ..."

Dio's legs shuffled, parted wider; his hands went up Sukie's sides, slipping underneath her clothes to touch her skin. Tommy could see in the reflection her hand come up to cover one of Dio's where it cupped a breast underneath her shirt. Then Dio's hips began pumping, and Sukie's face twisted up again. She bit her lips and made a warbling cry.

The hem of Dio's shirttail tapped in and out, and Tommy knew that was the kid's testicles swinging back and forth. He swallowed dryly while he watched. One moment, they're coming in from the Rover, Tommy assuming they were going to have something more to eat, maybe sit around and talk and have a drink, and later this evening they would get back to it. But two minutes inside the front door and his wife had bent herself over a dresser and pulled her skirt up looking for her twenty-six-year-old stud to fuck her again.

"Oh Jesus, it's big," she whispered.

That got Dio biting at her neck again, and he curled his back over hers, pressed her harder into the dresser. His hips pumped at a quicker pace. There were two carved candlesticks with tall tapered candles set in them, and they began to wobble and roll on their bases.

Tommy had to adjust himself, tugging at the leg hole of his underwear through the pants pocket. Seems like he might be the only one wearing underwear around here, his wife and her lover not wanting anything to slow them down when it was time to get passionate. Meanwhile, out on safari, Sook's dumb husband put his briefs back on.

The initial passion aroused from their unexpected coupling washed away, and now Sukie raised her chin, making eye contact again with Dio through the mirror. Her breasts bounced under her shirt and Tommy watched her thighs shake as Dio fucked her hard from behind. Their skin made soft slap-slapping sounds, and there was that maddening tap at the linen of Dio's shirt as his balls continued to swing around, dangling low from the heat.

"Ah, ah, that's it, ah, you gonna, ah, come in me?" Sook panted.

"Fuck, you want it?" Dio growled.

"I want it, do it, fucking do it," she growled, mimicking Dio's low tone. The hand she had planted on the dresser turned to a claw and Tommy could hear her nails drag on the wood's surface.

Dio fucked her faster, and it made Sukie cry out.

Dio's hips hammered triple time, and Sukie's cry exhausted itself until all she had left was choppy exhalation through her nostrils, Dio's fucking giving it syncopation.

Then he stopped suddenly, withdrew, went back in slow; withdrew again. Sukie fell forward on her elbows and hung her head down. From under her hair, she moaned, "Keep going." She pressed her hips back, trying to get impaled, and Dio went with her motion, not giving her the cock she wanted.

He said to her, "Beg for it. Worship my cock."

TOMMY WATCHED as Sukie stayed bent over, her face hidden behind her hair. Her sides went in and out as she breathed heavily, and a few moments passed before she whispered, "I worship your cock."

That brought her a reward of a small pleasure from Dio: he eased back then pushed in a little deeper and Sukie gasped. Her hand gathered up her hair, pulling it behind her ears, gripping it in a tail and pulling it to her shoulder. Her chin rose, and she looked up until she could see Dio's face in the mirror. She said again, "I fucking worship your cock."

"Fucking right, you do," Dio said in a low grumble. He shifted his feet and inched himself deeper. Sukie's mouth fell open but this time she made no sound. The tail she'd gathered in one hand was taken hold of by Dio; he pulled her head back with it so the crown touched his chest. They both stared at each other's face in the mirror. His hips began to work in contracted circles. "You fucking love it, don't you?"

"Uh-huh," she squeaked and nodded, her eyes on Dio's. The hand he had on her throat slid higher, squeezed the angles of her jaw, the thumb running along its slope to the point of her chin then plowing upward and prying her mouth open. That made her sigh, and Dio tucked his thumb in between her puckered lips. She sucked on it, and now his hips changed from swaying circles to seesawing lines; pulling out and pushing in. She snorted through her nostrils.

"Tell me," he said now, and his thumb tugged on her bottom teeth to open her mouth. He pressed down on her lip and let it flick.

"I fucking ... ha, mm ... fucking worship this fucking cock," she gasped, her eyes boring into the mirror, wanting him to know this was no platitude, this was her deepest truth. "I worshiped it with my hands for a month"

"Was it worth the wait?"

"Oh fuck," she laughed. "So worth it ..."

"Your pussy grips it's so tight."

She raised her chin higher, her eyes lowered to look at his face watching her in the mirror. She said "You fill me up, stretch me, you feel like no other man."

With a tug on her ponytail he angled her face so she could see Tommy. Dio whispered, "Why'd he make you wait so long?"

She gave a breathy chuckle, whispered, "He's such a jerk."

Dio said, "Make my girl wait for the things she needs ..."

She closed her eyes, her mouth went to a smile and Tommy knew she was playing it up—but he also knew that deep down there was a shiny black gem of truth in her words. She said, "I need it."

Dio angled her face to look in his eyes again as his cheek pressed to her ear. The other hand came and held the blades of her jaw. He said, "Show me how you need it. Show me how you love it." And with that, he stepped back, and there was a slick sound; his cock sliding out from inside her. He unbuttoned his shirt as Sukie slowly turned around, her eyes hazy and unfocused, leaning back with her elbows on the top of the dresser and trying to understand. She looked down between his legs and Tommy moved away from the post so he could see, too. Dio's cock glistened with her wet, fully engorged but hanging downward between his legs. He had the shirt unbuttoned now, and he pulled it off, standing there naked in front of her except for his pants around his ankles. He stepped out of a loafer and a pant leg, let his legs part wider and put a hand on the dresser on either side of her. In a low voice, he said, "Show me. Show me how you love it."

Sukie's chin pointed up toward Dio, her wet eyes bouncing around his face, taking his meaning and wanting to show him what a good girl she was. She didn't want to make a mistake here, didn't want to disappoint her lover. It twisted up Tommy's stomach. She was still fully dressed, her skirt had fallen down now to above her knee, but her clothing was rumpled. With sultry slowness, she kept Dio's gaze as she eased herself down, her hands running along his muscular torso, and then she was dropping to her knees. Dio didn't even watch her now, both hands still stretched out on the dresser, his head came up and he watched his own face in the mirror for a moment and then closed his eyes. Between his legs, Sukie was knee bound, and she took his huge hanging cock in two hands, gripping him at the base. With no hesitation, she put her mouth over it though it shone with her wetness. Her head bobbed quickly up and down, twisting in circles, making loud flatulent sounds of suction as she slobbered Dio's cock with no shame.

Dio let her suck him like that for a good long while. Sukie worked him over, her head bobbing, humming in her throat, her two hands stroking, sometimes one would cup his balls. Dio's head went up and down, his carefully combed hair tumbling forward. Then he stopped her. Standing a little straighter, he looked down his body to regard her with her mouth on him. He reached down and cupped her cheek. He guided her mouth away from his cock.

He said, "You do love it."

With her eyes on his, she nodded quickly, wiped her mouth with the back of her hand. Waiting for further instruction.

Dio said, "You've been with a lot of guys?"

Her eyes darted for a second but Tommy caught it. Wary of what she would say in front of her husband. "I don't know."

"You were a little slut in high school, weren't you? Tell me you were a little slut."

That made Sook smile bright enough that she showed teeth. "I was a little slut in high school," she softly said, playing along.

"I bet you never thought you'd fuck a man like me."

Still smiling she shook her head no.

Dio dipped at the waist and bent his knees, slipped his hands under Sukie's armpits, and then lifted her easily, placing her like she was a toddler, settling her bottom on the edge of the dresser in front of him. She leaned back, making a high-pitched squeak, laughing a little and putting her back on the wall. She narrowed her eyes and watched him coolly.

DIO JAMMED his thumbs under her skirt, and Sukie bit her lower lip. He hiked it roughly up her thighs, pushing it under her rump, and Sukie had to shift back and forth as he pushed it roughly upward so it bunched around her waist. She let her legs part and Dio ran the back of his fingers along her wet folds.

"I bet you fucked only the hottest guys in high school," Dio said.

Sukie chewed her lower lip until her smile stretched it. She said, "I did."

"Girl like you only gets the best."

"The best," she agreed.

"The top dog. The biggest man. The best man," he said, getting closer to her now, and Sukie's lips parting. She wanted his kiss.

She sighed, "The best ..."

Dio took her mouth then with his, sucking on her lips and Sukie caressed his neck. He moved closer, he was between her thighs now, and her knees poked out on either side of his hips.

She began to sway where she sat, her hips rolling from side to side as she was eager to be penetrated again. Dio eased her back so she rested her head on the wall. He stood straighter, took his cock in one hand and tapped it between her legs. His huge organ made little wet plops against her damp skin. Sukie's shaved sex quivered with his strikes.

"Put it in me," she told him.

Dio teased her with it now, and it made Tommy wonder if this was what they were like in the front seat of his Ferrari, the day Sukie told him that she almost lost it and ended up fucking Dio even though she told him she wouldn't. Did they talk like this to each other? Did Dio make her say such terrible things? And how did Dio know that his wife would responsible so well to being spoken to like this? How did he have such mastery over her? No one could say these things to Sukie. Or at least he thought.

Sukie's hands stroked on the insides of her own thighs, and she watched as Dio teased her with the head of his penis. He flicked it up and down her folds, pushed it against her clit, and Sukie's stomach rolled in and out with excited breath.

"You want to watch it?" Dio asked her.

Without looking up at him, she kept her gaze between her legs, waiting to see herself be penetrated. "Yeah."

Dio rolled his hips, going in easy curls. Slowly, that thing pushed in, withdrew, pushed in deeper. He stroked her like that until he was fucking her. Sukie watched the whole time, watched it go in and out of her own body, her mouth hanging open, her breath coming in quick, quiet gasps.

Then they were fucking again, Sukie closing her legs around him, locking her ankles over his rump. One of her loafers fell off and clattered on the stone floor. She scratched at his neck, hugged herself to him. Dio started to pound; one of the candles rolled clean off the dresser, fell to the floor and broke in two.

Dio stood and Sukie clung to him. They stumbled toward Tommy, and Sukie's back thumped against the log support where he had been standing a moment ago. She gasped, and the crown of her head made a hollow coconut sound. It didn't stop her passion in the slightest. With her back braced against the log, Dio pressed himself to her, and his hips hammered that thing in and out of her. She gasped and cried and panted.

There was something thrilling with being ignored. It gave him the opportunity to see what Sukie looked like being truly taken, or owned, by another man. He'd appreciated the interplay in the mirror, her calling him a jerk, but he much preferred seeing her in her natural sexual habitat. Was Sukie a slut in high school? Was that dirty talk? He didn't think she was a slut, but she was no prude. Given her reaction to Dio's mastery over her sexual controls though, he had to admit he was seeing her in a new way. Sure there were times she could be dirty Sukie—the other week tying off his balls so she could kiss him while she used her hand—but to see her engaged in lust like this was depthlessly thrilling. He could picture himself like a fly on the wall watching some alternative reality Sukie, one where she was single and on the prowl. God, he remembered that Sukie, and he loved that Sukie in a different way than the one his wife had become. Not less, not more; just different.

"You might like fucking me, but you don't know what it's like for me to fuck you," Dio said.

"Tell me ..."

“You are a solid gold fuck trophy. Fucking you reminds me the best parts of being a man. Reminds me why I try so hard, why I get up every morning. Only the best men can find themselves between your legs. I deserve you like you deserve me ...”

Sukie cried out in ecstasy and hugged his head.

FREIGHT

THE BACK of her head throbbed, and she was sure she'd knocked it. Dio's face before hers was warbled and gauzy, her vision washed in ghostly palpitating white. She'd hit her head, and she didn't know when.

Right now, like a lightning rod embedded deep in foundational rock, Dio's cock stole every electric thought from her. When this man was inside you, his dominance was complete. There was no way to pretend you were the one in control. His cock had her stretched to her fullest, it enslaved her every thought and movement. Deep, deeper than she thought possible, and full and tight; the membranes of her opening sizzled with bright and tingling worry—that feeling of tearing, of a stitch threatening to come loose. And if she tightened her stomach to alleviate the fear of fissure, it only heightened the feel of his penetrative depth inside her canal. Dio was inescapable.

“Oh Dio, oh God,” she sighed as he hoisted her higher up on his hips and her rump thumped down again, taking him deep. They were somewhere in the living area, Dio carried her, her legs wrapped his waist, and her arms circled his neck. Now his forearms hooked suddenly under her knees and it hiked the angle of her pelvis upward, pushed her body down, and the feeling of her weight sagging against his intrusion made her mind do a sudden clapping bellyflop. She grunted one loud cough and felt a line of spit drool over her lip and scroll her chin. Dio's cock—she would swear it right now—was made of throbbing hot iron and had to be roughly the size of a baseball bat.

“Oh fuck, Dio, mm, fuck, you're so fucking big,” she babbled near his ear, wanting to encourage him but nothing creative coming forth just further inane cock worship. But it was fitting.

“Yeah, fuck, Sukie,” he growled, and he stood with her, bouncing his hips, picking up syncopation, the sounds of their flesh slapping wetly together. The pace picked up, and here she was totally suspended over the world’s largest cock, held up by a powerful and wealthy man, strong enough to hold her and fuck her little body. She cried out as something squirrely came loose from her insides and started rattling around like a marble in a tin can, pinging and clanging off every pleasure nerve she had. Tears streamed her face, and that made no sense, she was going to orgasm and she was going to laugh all at once. “Oh, oh, jeebee,” she babbled then bit her lips. Her stomach snapped into a line of cramping steel and when she clamped his huge cock, it hurt. He fucked her harder and now he had her bouncing up and down, her feet flopping wildly, her butt thumping against his hips like she rode a horse.

“Oh God, don’t stop, don’t stop, mm, don’t,” she urged him desperately, and her head thumped forward, hairline clumsily colliding with his chin, then her cheek settling against his hot hairy collar. Her arms clutched him for dear life as she was thrashed by his fucking. The loose marble was gone now, tossed off somewhere and replaced by a rumbling freight train overloaded with pleasure; hot lusty magma spilled from the open top of its cargo car as it thundered up from her core.

WHEN SUKIE ORGASMED, her head snapped away, pretty neck curled back at an impossible angle. She wailed a mournful sound that soon turned to shuddering yips timed with Dio’s bucking. The guy had her locked on his body, Tommy’s petite wife clutched to him like she had velcro on her wrists and ankles, his huge cock fully impaled between her legs. Her toes separated and curled independently, then formed to a point as Sook flexed her calves and bowed her bouncing feet.

As her head returned upright, moving slowly and shakily, her eyes narrowed and lashes fluttering, she made a creaking sound in her throat that came in chokes. If he were to hear the sound from his wife at any other time he would be alarmed, but knowing what intense lust seized her right now, hearing her making these almost ugly noises clamped down on his own sexual need. It was a sound she would otherwise be embarrassed by, but with her lover and caring husband she allowed herself abandon.

Tommy took a step back and let his shoulders rest on the log support. His hands were still thrust deep in his pockets, and his own impressive arousal bowed out the front of his pants.

Dio let Sukie clutch herself against him. His hands stroked up and down her bronze back as it heaved in and out with her breath. He cupped her bottom and helped her sit a little higher. Then he was walking with her, Sukie so small the way she clung to him she was almost childlike, like she was sleepy after a long day at Disneyland. Only this was profoundly lubricious, and the relationship she had with the man she clung to was far more simple—primal, guttural, basic, and needy. But for the moment it seemed tender as Dio walked around the couch, holding her and coddling her while she recovered from the orgasm he'd delivered.

With the back of his legs at the face of the couch seat, he whispered something in her ear and she nodded.

Now he sat down, and Sukie lifted her knees higher, set her feet on the cushion as he plopped himself down. With both hands on the backs of Sook's thighs, he guided her upward and his cock slipped out from inside her, glistening in the late afternoon African sunlight. It shone from tip to scrotum in a heavy coating of Sukie's excited syrup.

Dio sat on the couch, Sukie on her knees over top of him, looking in his eyes. His hands smoothed circles over her round rump, that big cock still excited, still hard, going at a sideways angle and pressing up against the seam of her buttock where it met her thigh. Sook scratched her nails through his chest hair. She rose up and tucked her feet so the tops curled over Dio's thighs. Eyes lowered, she looked over her shoulder, reaching behind and holding his weapon, guiding it to her glistening seam. Her toes wriggled as she nestled his corpulent glans into her wet twist of flesh. Hands off, resting again on Dio's chest, she let her weight sink down on him and Tommy watched that big thing slide up inside his wife once more.

Dio took her hands as she slowly rode him, and they cupped them together, Sukie's small fingers curling around the heel of his big hands.

"You like that?" he asked her and she nodded.

Now his hips began to work as well, swiveling on the seat, thrusting up to meet her as she picked up a little bounce that had her breasts swaying side to side and giving little jumps. In a soft whisper, Tommy heard her say, “You going to come for me?”

“Just keep doing that,” Dio said, chin jutting up toward her as he narrowed his eyes on hers and settled his head deeper into the couch cushion.

“Come inside me again, okay?” she whispered now. “Make me all wet inside.”

Dio exhaled, astounded by how sexy she was. Tommy felt it, too, his wife’s dirty words making his knees watery. With his hands pulled from his pockets he made his way around the far side of the L shaped couch, following the path they’d taken, and he had to run his hand along it to steady himself. His vision had gone a hazy bright fog.

Dio eyed Tommy coming, watching him past Sukie’s bare shoulder. Sook’s pale hair wavered on her tan back with the movement of their fucking. To Sukie, Dio said, “Tell me a secret.”

She sighed in a gasp, tilted her head back like she was aroused by the idea of sharing one with him. Tommy could see her lips press in a line between her teeth as she considered. Now he was standing next to them, looming over them as they made love.

“Tell me the dirtiest one. That’s the one you want to tell me, Sook. Let me hear it.” He gave her hands a tug, and she fell onto him willingly, her hips still bouncing on his cock, and now leaning forward like this Tommy had a good view of where they were connected. He could see Dio’s big balls settled in the seam of his thighs, could see the shine his wife had left on them, saw also where her dainty pink sex was yawned wide to accommodate her lover’s massive manhood. Her sex clung to Dio in a thin ring. Sook mashed herself to his chest, her pillowy breasts squashing against his hairy muscle and she nestled her mouth near his ear. Sook’s secret was uttered in sweet soughing, her hand cupped so Tommy wouldn’t overhear. Her secret made Dio laugh and groan appreciatively. They made eye contact and Dio smiled. Sook had more to tell him, leaning close and whispering again behind her hand. The whole time, her hips had moved up and down, Dio’s rising and falling to impale her sex each time, his cock making slick sounds inside her as her flesh was displaced by his immense size.

Dio kissed her then, and it took Sook by surprise but she liked it, pulling back and looking at his lips, pausing before returning and kissing him in return. When she pulled back again, Dio kept his eyes on hers but said to Tommy, “Sukie wants two men at once—”

Sook put her finger over his lips and mashed them together. She said, “That was my secret.”

Dio chuckled and kissed her finger. She slipped it into his mouth and he bit down gently with his perfect white teeth and held onto it.

Tommy’s hands were moving, untucking his shirt from his pants and quickly undoing buttons. He’d been content to watch, but the arousal it provoked had him boiling over and his balls aching. Now he pulled his arms from the shirt and wrestled it off, putting one knee down on the seat of the couch next to them.

Dio let her finger go and said, “Not now, Tommy, later.”

Sook looked over, her eyes seeing him but also looking unseeing, faraway; she recognized he was undressing, said, “Later, Tommy, not right now, later.” She rode up and down, her breasts making their sexy movement, her soft tummy moving in and out with her lusty breath.

The first reaction he had was a dry click-clicking of anger; like a thumb flicking the wheel of a Zippo, trying to get it to light. It was hard to push back, but he did, and he settled to sit on the couch, a body length between them and watch how beautiful his wife looked when she was hot and passionate.

Dio caressed her narrow waist now and said to her, “Come with me, Sook, look in my eyes.”

She nodded and gasped again, a soft groan hidden in the breath.

With his hands held up with the palms facing her, Sukie’s little grip curled around them, Dio began to move underneath her. Sukie responded, her breath coming at a quicker pace. Dio’s hips pushed up and settled pushed up and settled, and Sook sat and swiveled, looking a lot like she was riding a horse. Tommy watched her navel as it danced; stretching horizontal then squashing vertical. Somewhere behind that soft, tanned skin, Dio’s cock was squirming inside her.

The muscles of Dio’s stomach rippled, and Tommy noted the sweaty sheen they’d both taken. It was hot out, and while they were in the shade, and the breeze blew in from the riverside through the open air of the living room, the heat these two generated with their passion had them sweating.

“Yes, uh-huh,” Sukie sang sweetly.

“Yeah?” Dio whispered.

“Uh-huh,” she squeaked, her eyes closed now, her chin tilted up. She gave him a rapid nod.

“Come with me, we’ll come together,” Dio said, raising his own chin up, arching his back so he could leverage his hips better. Now Sukie writhed on him. The sound of their sexual connection made wet, squelching sounds. Dio had Sukie soaked.

“Oh God,” Sukie gasped, and her swiveling hips jolted with a hitch. Her tummy trembled. She was close.

Now she ground herself on him eagerly. Dio kept feeding it to her; he didn’t close his eyes, kept them on Sukie, watched her reactions. His hips rose and fell in greater oscillations now. The muscles of his thighs flexed as he dug his heels in the carpet to push up.

Sook’s head darted forward, her silky hair slashing dryly over her shoulders. “Oh Fuck,” she panted.

“That’s it, that’s it, Sook, come with me, let’s do it ...”

Tommy grabbed his arousal through his pants, gave it a hard squeeze, flexed his own hips, tensed his own stomach. Watching his wife like this was exquisite. Seeing her in the throes of passion was the most erotic thing he could imagine. This was her independence. This was her without him. But he didn’t fear losing her, so he just enjoyed it.

Sukie blurted, her wet lips popping with her exhalation. She stuttered for breath, took three deep ones and held them. She fell forward, letting her grip come from Dio and collapsing them into claws in the furry muscle of his chest. She dug her nails in him and squirmed her hips. She made soft braying sounds, guttural and high-pitched and all woman. She panted for breath and she blubbered. Her face was closed off, her lips parted, she frowned like deep in thought. Her beautiful hair hung down, and her breasts swayed between her arms. Dio ran his hands up and down from elbow to shoulder, urging her, “Come for me, come for me right now,”

“Yeah, I’m coming, coming ... oh ...”

A low grumbling sound built in Dio’s chest, and Tommy watched his face. A vein stood out on his temple, disappearing up into that slick greasy hairline. The tendons stood out on his neck and the muscles of his jaw flexed. His eyes were narrowed but kept open, studying Sukie’s face. They were going to come together.

The low rumble built, and Sukie’s squeaked and stuttered exhalatory bursts from her nostrils. She let out a warbling cry, turned her head to the left and then snapped it to the right. She bit the flesh of her upper arm and moaned around it.

“Oh fuck, oh fuck, Sukie, fuck, yeah,” Dio grunted while his hips began to power. He bounced her, making Sukie cry more. He was coming inside her again.

Tommy gripped himself, holding it near the base, worried if he gripped himself too near the tip he would lose it inside his pants. He didn’t want to do it. Didn’t want to come that way.

Watching his wife orgasm like this, so close, knowing how much the man who encouraged it from her turned her on was wild and outlandish. Couldn’t believe he was here, couldn’t believe this was really happening. This was so treacherous. Just like he’d told her: jumping from an airplane without a parachute.

Sook released her teeth from her arm, and Tommy watched where she’d bitten herself, saw the skin in pale white, saw the marks her teeth and left, watch the skin turn from pale to tan then blushing.

With her head tilted up now, her hair back from her face, she panted, “I feel it, I feel you coming, I can feel you ...”

She grabbed fistfuls of his chest and it must’ve hurt though Dio made no sound. She dug her nails in it and pulled on his hairs, how could it not hurt? Dio let her, probably liked it, too.

His hands slipped down her sides and pinched at the narrow of her waist. He forced himself deep up inside her, his ass coming right off the couch and Sukie riding on top of him. He held her like that, in her very deep, impaled fully inside her.

Tommy studied her face just like Dio. Her eyes still closed, her mouth open and closing, like she was whispering more secrets. Her face had gone red, the blush spreading in a broadcast across her collar and between her breasts. The sunlight filtered in through the open breezeway and lit up all the highlights of her damp skin in shimmering yellow-white. It was one of the most beautiful things he’d ever seen.

Dio held her like that for a long time. Sukie’s legs draped over his hips, her feet on the couch but her body weight resting on the suspended arch of his hips. They breathed together, deep and heavy. Their orgasm hadn’t been a pounding, screaming one, it had been slow and purposeful and frighteningly loving. Tommy rubbed his forehead, found he broke a sweat as well, without lifting a finger. Just watching them had his heart rate high in the hundreds. It beat drums in his ears.

“Okay, okay,” Sukie sighed. She opened her hands to flatten on his chest and smoothed over him, her thumbs coming down and rubbing over his hard brown nipples.

“Oh fuck, that was hot,” Dio said in his low voice.

“So fucking hot,” she sighed, her face hidden away behind her hair again, her chin tucked to her chest.

Moving slowly as if she were exhausted, enervated, she lifted herself higher, the points of her knees pressing down on the couch on either side of Dio’s thighs. She leaned forward toward him and he kissed her between her breasts. She slid her hand down her belly and as Dio’s cock slipped out from inside her, she ran her hand over her opening as if she were plugging it.

She rolled away, falling to a haunch, resting her cheek on the back seat of the couch, drawing her knees up and putting her feet on Dio’s thigh. She curled up like a kid. Tommy could see she had one hand pressed over her sex, the other one sliding down her haunch and covering from the backside. She made a frowning face.

To Tommy, she whispered, “Can you get me a towel?”

It flooded his stomach. He knew what she wanted. Knew why she wanted it. Dio had come inside her and she didn’t want to leak all over the couch. It was outrageous, it provoked a fiery madness inside him, but a swirling protective coating went around it. Lust. Pure unabashed lust for his own wife.

He chuckled.

“Yeah, coming right up,” he said

He eased himself up to stand, his cock so hard the head poked up like a knot above his belt buckle. “Jesus,” he sighed, afraid to squeeze it, not wanting to shoot off right now. Wouldn’t want to do that in front of Dio.

He limped his way to the kitchen, opened a drawer where he knew there were folded linens. He grabbed two tea towels, soft cotton ones with elephants printed on the trim. When he returned to the living room, he found them together. Sukie cuddled up with Dio, and he was whispering in her ear and kissing at her neck. She still had both hands clamped between her legs.

SERVICE

SUKIE AND DIO cuddled together on one end of the couch while Tommy lay with his back on the opposite arm with his feet up and his shirt open. Sukie had two tea towels bundled together between her legs, her thighs pressed together, her hands holding the towels in place. Dio had wedged himself with his back to the couch, his arm curled around behind Sukie's back while they both leaned against the arm. Every once in a while, Sukie would pull the towel away and check herself. It was driving Tommy crazy.

Outside, above the sunlight's glare on the glossy tile floor of the lanai, beyond the pool and the river and the castle koppie skyline, the sun sparkled in brilliant cyan. Clouds had puffed in dashing brush strokes earlier, but it was endless blue right now. A soft breeze tugged at the trees, and the sound of their fluttering filled the cavernous villa.

Dio took a long, deep inhale, said, "Anyone hungry?"

Sukie said, "I'm starving," and she checked her towel again.

Dio traced a finger up her thigh and ran circles over the point of one of her knees. He said, "I'm going to place an order. Going to call the kitchen."

Sukie asked him, "Can you get more champagne?"

"I'd love more champagne," Dio said, and he kissed her neck again. Sukie smiled and leaned her head away so he could get at her.

Tommy said, "Get more bourbon."

Dio sighed again, stopped his kissing, cuddled Sukie against him. He said, "I say I'm hungry, you two just ask for booze. You suburbanites all have a problem, don't you?"

"Hey, we're on vacation," Sukie said and giggled.

"I'm not," Tommy said.

Now Dio laughed. "We're on the clock right now, me and him," he said to Sukie and nodding his head toward Tommy.

"I'm on vacation," she said, her face content and drowsy.

Dio said, "Not really. I might call on you for a massage later."

"Gladly," she said.

"Do that thing for me?" he joked and gave her a wink.

Tommy said, "That wasn't work. She liked doing that. Free of charge."

Dio laughed again, and Sukie shook against him. "I did," she admitted.

"You really told him all of it?"

"Most of it," she said, winking at Tommy like she was joking, too, being playful.

"Uh-oh, Tommy, she didn't tell you everything." He slipped out from beside Sook, stood up, laughing, and stretched his two hands up over his head. Sukie admired his ass.

The two of them were fucking with him, getting to him, too, but he wouldn't show it to Dio. Sukie told him about the blow job. That had to be it, right?

"So what do you say?" Dio asked now, turning and crouching over Sook, resting a hand on her back and moving his face close to hers.

"Lots and lots of food," she said.

"Any requests?" he said.

"Whatever they want to send," Sook told him.

Tommy said, "Red meat."

Dio snapped his fingers and pointed to Tommy. "Red meat. You got it." Two male minds thinking alike. Now he rubbed his flat, muscular stomach, flaccid penis dangling over Sook's shoulder. Another deep and satisfied breath, and he said, "I'm going to call it in."

They both watched Dio walk around the couch, head toward the foyer then turn and go to the kitchen. In there, he called out, "Where's my phone?"

It was probably in his pants. Tommy looked to Sukie, and they both shrugged their shoulders. She called out over the back of the couch, "There's a landline. Call from the kitchen."

Tommy sat up, rolled forward and scooted down the couch, filling in the space where Dio had been. He put his arm around her back just as Dio had done.

Looking in his eyes, she smiled and said, "How are you?"

“How are you?” he asked her in a low and comically sexy voice.

“Well, I’m doing pretty darn good,” she said and darted a kiss to his lips. She pulled back and watched his eyes, her mouth twisting around.

“Threesome, huh?”

Now she shied away, turned her face to look toward the fireplace, the view of the river on either side of it. She said, “I don’t know, Tommy. That was dirty talk.”

“This whole thing started with dirty talk.”

It made her laugh, and he watched her shoulders shake. He ran a finger through her hair, pulling it away from her face. She turned to look at him and lay her cheek on her shoulder.

He told her: “You’re beautiful.”

“Thank you,” she said very quietly.

They watched each other for another moment, Sukie’s mouth working around, sucking on her lower lip. As much as he loved her, as much as he wanted all this to happen, seeing her like this, naked, curled up, and worse of all, satisfied, twisted at him. He wanted this, he knew he did. But right now his wife held two tea towels between her legs to collect the seeping seed that her lover had deposited inside her. This thing they were doing was like a twisted caduceus, a central core of love and a snake of jealousy coiling around it in opposition with a snake of lust. What he just watched was astounding and wonderful, but still his features sagged because now he couldn’t look at his wife the same anymore. It wasn’t a bad thing, it was a new thing. It would take some getting used to.

She saw the change in him, and she looked down between them. He listened to her breathe for another moment, and she checked her towels again. He watched as well as her legs parted and she opened her hand that held the towels against her sex. He saw the cleft of her perfectly formed mound, shaved smooth, a sheen of sweat on the inside of her thighs, a hazy shine on the soft puffy flesh that curled to her commissure. The towel showed damp, but nothing fresh. He saw her flex her stomach a little, and she wiped at herself, balled both towels up and leaned forward, tossed them to the coffee table.

When she sat back again, she didn’t look at him. He said, “You like it when he comes inside you?”

She didn’t answer, stared straight ahead. After a moment she said, “Jesus, Tommy,” and rolled her eyes.

“What?” he asked. “I can’t ask that?”

“Maybe you can. I don’t know. It’s your tone of voice.”

“What’s in the tone of my voice?”

“You don’t like it.”

“That’s in my tone of voice?”

“Yeah. You don’t like him coming inside of me.”

“Is that crazy?”

Sukie sighed, let the air exhale from behind her pouted bottom lip, blowing a lock of hair aside. She leaned a cheek into a palm. “If I fuck him, Tommy, he’s going to come.”

He said, “I know.”

“You know you want me to fuck him. That’s what this whole thing was about.”

“Yeah, I know it was.”

“Where do you want him to come? What’s your favorite place? You want him to come on my face?”

“Don’t talk like that, Sook.”

“You love it.” She chuckled and smiled, her eyes narrowing. She turned to face him and taunted him. “You want him to come on my face, Tommy? We can do that next time. Would that turn you on?”

“Are you being funny?”

“I think I’m pretty funny. Is that your thing? Is that your favorite porn? Some eighteen-year-old slut letting some guy do it on her face—sticking her tongue out?”

“No, it’s not,” he told her, but he didn’t hate that one bit. For those other girls.

She said, “Tommy, I’m not going to apologize. I like it when he comes inside me. I like it when you come inside me. And before I met you, I liked it when other men came inside me. Are you trying to come shame me?” Her words were serious, but she was trying to be funny, even raising a quizzical eyebrow, and one corner of her pretty mouth curled up slightly higher than the other.

“I’m not looking for an apology, Sook.”

“Good. Just when you bring it up, the way you asked me, the way you mentioned it ... I know what you’re getting at.”

“What if I asked you not to let him come inside you?”

“Are you? Are you asking me that?”

He shrugged, frowned.

“Don’t ask me. I mean, what’s the point? I know you can make an argument, I can see it before you say a word. You’re not entirely wrong. I know what it means if he comes inside me. I get the symbolism, trust me. I’m a woman.”

Now it was his turn to roll his eyes, he cocked his head and looked away from her. “Forget I said anything,” he said, made a flicking away motion with his hands.

“Petulant Tommy. I wondered if you were going to be able to handle this.”

“I can handle this.”

“Oh, you wanted it. You thought you could handle it. I knew you would be like this.”

“Like this what?”

“Come on, Tommy. You can hear it in your own voice. Listen to yourself. Is this my tough man Tommy?”

They held their gaze together; she wasn’t being mean. He could see the humor in her eyes, see the smile ready to pull on her mouth. She knew she was right. And she was fucking right.

Now she said, “Always be my Tommy. Tommy the man, the Tommy I loved and married. What you asked me to do with Dio was crazy. I didn’t want to do it. I didn’t want to have sex with Dio, not for real.” She looked away, admitted: “Maybe in my dreams or something.” She got his gaze again and said, “Now I’m doing it. I’m doing it and I like it. Be the bold Tommy that asked me in the first place. Be cool. I swear to God if you wring your hands and ask me if I like his big dick better than yours I’m running off with him and never coming home.”

It made him laugh; she knew how to press his buttons. She liked pressing his buttons. She knew she could get away with it because he loved her so much. But in many ways she shaped the man he was. Sukie was sweet and soft but she was good counsel. Now he couldn’t stop laughing. Keeping it quiet, the two of them shared a laugh on the couch together while Dio walked around naked in the kitchen talking on the phone. Sukie laughed, too, and her head fell forward and butted on his.

Now she whispered, “You were the one that said it: the only way you can share me is because you own me. I wondered if we could do this. And now we’re wedged in deep. I fucking love it, Tommy. Look in my eyes.” He did. She said, "I'm telling you I fucking love it. But you better be the Tommy I married. Not some petulant little boy who plays with guns, sulks and pouts, and reminds me to tell him he's got a nice dick, too, and pat him on his head."

"I know I have a nice dick."

"You do. You've got a nice everything. Don't make me feel bad because I want Dio to come inside me. Don't make me feel bad about any little piece of this, Tommy."

"Don't feel bad. I don't want you to feel bad. You know this is tough for me. I told you to cut me some slack."

"I'm cutting you slack, Tommy."

"You are. You're good to me." Now he cupped his hand to her cheek and ran his thumb under an eye. She kissed the heel of his hand. "Maybe it's you I'm okay with. I liked watching you. Maybe it's Dio that's still getting to me."

"Get over it. You wanted it to be Dio as much as I wanted it to be Dio."

With his other hand, he pinched the bridge of his nose and rubbed a thumb into his eyebrow. She was right. He was getting everything he wanted. As much as it bugged him that the man she slept with was Dio, it was always Dio for him. Dio was the one. The one he chose, not the one his wife chose.

"Forty-five minutes, folks," Dio said, coming in from the kitchen and walking around the couch. "Prime rib, shrimp, champagne, bourbon, masala, I don't know, some other shit she told me. Who wants to get in the pool?"

Sukie said, "I should rinse off."

Dio laughed, scratched his stomach below his navel. His penis swung between his legs. He said, "How about you, Tommy? Why don't you change into something more comfortable? Walking around in your suit pants with your dick sticking up."

WHEN THE SERVICE from the kitchen arrived and knocked on the front door, they were still naked by the pool. Sukie was playful, wet from swimming, and she lunged for Dio, grabbed at his penis and balls with both hands, squishing them and trying to hide them. She said, "You can't go out there like this." She was naked, too.

Tommy was never one to be self-conscious about his body. Just the same, he wore a pair of swim trunks. He had a good dick, one he was proud of, but Dio stole the show. It wasn't just his dick; Sukie was in love with his ass, too. His whole body. Tommy didn't have the muscle like he used to, but Sook knew him then, knew he once was built even better than her playboy. So he wore shorts while the other two romped and played in the swimming pool with the view of the river beyond.

Dio put on a robe, went in the house to receive the kitchen staff. Tommy handed Sukie a robe to cover up as well, and she bundled it around herself and tied the belt in a knot. When they went in the house, Dio was ushering two women up the stairs.

"Where are they going?" Sukie whispered.

"Upstairs," he said, which wasn't even an answer because they both could see that's where they were going.

Dio called after the women, saying, "Top of the stairs turn right, first door on the right. The master suite."

"Looks like we're having dinner in bed," she whispered to Tommy.

"Those women don't know what to think," he said.

"And they seemed so nice," Sukie said.

There were two African women heading up the stairs, one with a zippered bag, the other one had a foldable tray with chrome legs and straps that looked like seatbelts tucked underneath her arm. Both of them had wan expressions, their eyes warily darting but not wanting to be seen as ogling the spectacle of these rich Americans. Yes, there were three people here barely dressed. Tommy was the most appropriate in his swim trunks. They knew Sukie was the wife, Tommy was the husband, and Dio was the handsome boss-man who paid all the bills. He was younger than the two of them. What would they think? It was pretty clear what was happening. They were taking food up to the bedroom. Food for three. Why would three people be sitting in an intimate bedroom, the view no different than in the dining room or living area? There would be a lot of rumors around the kitchen tonight. He would absolutely love to hear the terrible things they would say about his wife. The dirty things.

SHE ATE steak and shrimp in bed, and drank champagne, the belt on her robe untied, her robe open. Her two men took turns serving her, bringing her things from the zippered bag on plates brought up from the kitchen. Tommy cut up her steak for her. Dio made sure her glass was always filled, laying next to her with his robe open as well, his genitals spilling out and laying over his leg.

It was late afternoon, and they mostly stayed quiet while they ate. Tommy drank his bourbon. Two glasses, two fingers; four fingers total. When it was done, she lay propped up against the pillows. This was Dio's suite, Dio's bed. The room that she and Tommy stayed in was romantic, but this one even more so. The room formed a prow that jutted out above the living area and fireplace below. It had a balcony, and the overhanging eaves were jagged sticks. Outside, they had a clear view high above the deck and out over the river and the rock formation beyond. The sky was blue, but color began to desaturate from the landscape, turning it dark.

She drifted off. It was hard not to. There had been a lot of buildup to this day. Weeks and weeks of sexual torture building a knot of frustration in her core. Sometimes it played on her heart, racing it, other times it worked below, swirling lust, and making her ache between her legs. It had been a long time since she had that feeling. That need for penetration. She missed it, and she loved it.

They'd fucked on a quilt spread out where the animals could get them. Dio made love to her like she never had it before, under a big, beautiful, almost fantasy-novel tree. The most incredible sex of her life. Came back home and did it all over again. Then she swam and cavorted with him in the pool for half an hour. Her hair was still damp, the muscles in her back weren't sore but they were pulled tight from exertion. Pulled tight yet somehow everything in her felt relaxed. All the hype was gone, all the buildup. They'd done it, and they were going to do it again. Her hair was combed back from her face, her belly was full, she could feel her pulse between her legs. She wiggled her toes while she watched the landscape. Then she was asleep.

When she woke the sky wasn't blue. It was burning orange, and the sound of insects buzzed so loud it echoed in the open air of the bedroom. Dio was asleep next to her. Tommy sat higher, but he was asleep as well, his head nodded forward so far his chin touched his chest. He'd brought his iPad into the room, but never opened it. He still held a tumbler of bourbon, the glass tilted sideways but there was thankfully just a drop left in it. She took it from him, reached across and set it on the night table. He wore swim shorts, but he was topless, and she kissed his stomach until his hands woke up and began to rub her back.

THREE

SUKIE'S SKIN WAS SOFT, warm, and smooth under his touch. He ran the very tips of his four fingers on each hand along the shapes of her shoulder blades, keeping his touch at that firm but feathery point just beyond a tickle. Sukie squirmed against him, nuzzling into his chest.

Next to them on the bed, Dio began to come awake, too, feeling Sukie move around between him and Tommy. He licked his lips and blinked, looked around the room moving only his eyes and keeping his head angled on the pillow. The sun was about to set, and the room glowed orange. Tommy kissed the top of Sukie's head, and now Dio sat straighter, elbowing two pillows up into a steep pile that he could lay his back against.

Between them, was an empty saucer plate and Tommy's iPad. Dio looked over at him stroking Sukie's bare back, watched them snuggling, took the saucer and put it on the nightstand. He picked up Tommy's iPad, wagged it at him, said, "Bringing your work to bed?"

Tommy raised his eyebrows and shrugged.

Dio put the iPad on the nightstand next to the saucer, and when he returned, slapped Sukie's ass over the sheet and it made her yelp and laugh. He said, "I brought my work to bed, too. I put in all the effort where Tommy doesn't—Tommy always worried about making money." He spanked her again, rubbed his hand in a circle, said, "All I care about is keeping Sukie satisfied."

Tommy watched Dio's big good-looking hand on the white cotton curve his wife's ass. Rolling around in circles and feeling her softness. And Sukie liked it, little heels kicking under the sheets lightly, tenting up tall ghosts.

He said to Dio, "You think you're better than me cause you fucked my wife? She's my trophy and you can take her?"

"I'm more than a trophy, Tommy," Sukie said scoldingly.

"Okay, but I'm talking to him," Tommy said without his eyes leaving Dio's. "Think that puts you on top?"

Dio said, "You tell me."

"You can't beat me so you fuck my wife."

"It kills you I fuck her better."

Tommy laughed without humor, shaking his head. "That what you think?"

Dio laughed now, too. "Tommy, I'm fucking with you."

Sukie turned her head to look over her shoulder at Dio. "Don't fuck with him," she said.

Dio put his hands up in mea culpa, and Sukie looked away again, brow lowered with concern. Dio couldn't leave it alone, said, "But ask Sukie who fucks her better."

Sukie scoffed, rolled her eyes. "I'm not answering that."

"See, Tommy," Dio laughed, "wonder why she won't answer?"

Sukie ran a heel back and poked Dio in the knee but it only made him laugh. He took her wrist and then gently held her hand and admired it as he ran his fingers over top and through hers. Sook let him, watching his big hand envelop her little one.

Eyes still on their joined hands, Dio said, "You don't have to say. We all know."

Sukie laughed lightly, rolled her head so she faced Tommy with her chin on his chest, smiling and happy-eyed. She shook her head, the two of them sharing a sweet moment over her lover's petulance. Gaze on her husband, she said to Dio, "Tommy's more than you can ever be to me."

Tommy laughed, held Sook's eyes, but said, "Uh oh, Dio, you hear that?"

"Oh God, Tommy," Sukie sighed, smiling, and she kissed the center of his chest. "Not you, too."

"I heard it," Dio said. "Sounds like I was right."

Sukie still watched him, that sweet smile on her face. She was with her husband and the greatest gift a husband could give her. She was happy, beautifully, bottomlessly happy and his heart soared. He said, "I like what I heard," and he leaned close to kiss her lips.

Dio said, "I like what I heard," and he bit at the curve of her tanned shoulder.

DIO'S HAND swept up the side of her thigh, traced the opening of her robe and parted it wider, letting it fall behind her legs. The warmth of her belly and the cool of her bared breast pressed against Tommy's chest and ribs. Sukie sighed into his kiss. Her body began to writhe. Tommy looked down to see Dio's hand stroking her skin, caressing her haunch from knee to rump.

Tommy sucked on Sukie's lips, his own body beginning to squirm with impending excitement. He drew his knees higher, felt them graze along his wife's thighs. He tucked his thumbs into the sides of his swim trunks' waistband and scooted them around his butt, pushed them to his knees and kicked them off. His cock dropped against Sukie. Her hand was on it right away, fingernails dragging over his scrotum, then gripping his floppy dick and trying to stroke life into it.

Over her shoulder, Tommy could see Dio shrugging himself out of his robe. When he had it removed, he tossed it off the bed, and scooted himself behind Sukie. He pushed on her shoulder, opened her up so her breasts faced the ceiling. Sukie rolled to her back letting Tommy's cock go.

Now she lay between them, her head turned to Tommy and kissing him, one hand running over Dio's hip, her nails dragging his skin while she searched for his manhood. Her other hand doing the same, looking for Tommy's. Her breaths picked up, breasts spilling off her narrow rib cage as it rose and fell with lusty heaving. Tommy gripped her neck, and Dio stroked her thighs again.

She had both their cocks in her hands now. Tommy could feel her wriggling between them; ecstasy was going to make her crazy. Two big dicks lay over her hips, her hands stroking them while they squirmed in her grip. She stroked and pulled on them, kissing Tommy, Dio then slipping a hand along her neck and pushing on the hinge of her jaw to steal a kiss for himself. She left Tommy, kissed Dio now. Tommy kissed her neck and bit her collarbone.

Soft feminine gasping sounds came from her, squeaky ecstatic sounds. It stiffened him; he looked down to see his cock like hardened steel, extending over her hip to her navel. Dio was right there along with him, his even bigger organ arcing above Tommy's. He had to be two inches or more longer than Tommy and he was a lot thicker. Sukie's hand gripped his foreskin and rolled it back and forth over the cock head that had to be twice the size of Tommy's. He watched Sukie's manicured nails as they traced Dio's very tip, Dio already producing lubrication, and Sukie's finger using it to slip over the bulbous shapes around Dio's deeply set urethra.

Sukie gasped and broke away from both their kisses, breathing heavy and looking down her chest at the two dicks in her hands.

In a breathy whisper, she gasped, "Oh my men, my two big men ..."

She squeezed both of them, ran her thumbs over their glans'. She couldn't keep still, her body squirming between the two of them, his wife so eager to get fucked right now. It was going to happen. His sweet innocent wife was going to have a threesome. His wife was going to take two men at once, and he was going to be one of them.

Sukie caressed them, her hands stroking over their engorged members, studying both of them. Tommy was big, no one would deny it. But Dio was far bigger. It was obvious to Sukie, and he knew she liked Dio's better. Maybe she loved Tommy more—of course she did—but she loved that thing between Dio's legs.

"Are you going to fuck me? Are you both going to fuck me?"

Dio's hand came up between her thighs and he stroked at her opening with his two middle fingers. Sukie made a mewling sound in her throat. Her legs opened and the side of her thigh pressed into Tommy's legs. Dio dipped his fingers inside her and pulsed them in and out. Sukie's knees worked up and down and her hips moiled against Dio's hand.

She licked her lips, clenched her lower lip between her teeth as her clumsy grip worked both their cocks faster.

"Oh God," she sighed, whatever Dio did with his fingers affecting her; her hand slipped off Tommy's cock and it bounced up and tapped his stomach. He was so hard he ached.

THE COCKS she held were big, long enough she could make them touch each other, but she knew neither of her men would like that. Much as she wanted to press them together, she refrained.

Tommy was big, and she loved his cock, but there was something making little jumps in her stomach to compare his so close to Dio's. Tommy was long, Dio was longer. Tommy's girth was average, Dio's was massive. All the way to the end, Dio was thick. Tommy's got narrower near the tip. Now she stroked them, watched her hands on them, got their cock heads close together. Dio's glans was so much larger than Tommy's, so plump and swollen. Dio seeped excitement and her grip went slippery on him.

She sighed as she watched them, "My big men, God, I love your cocks." Now she pushed their hard sides down onto the soft of her belly and both men worked their hips, thrusting them along her skin.

Dio ran his fingers inside her pussy and he had her heart fluttering. She was wet, sopping wet, she could feel how ready she was to accept a cock. It was like her body knew she'd need more lubrication to accept this man larger than her husband, having her opening practically overflowing right now.

They bit at her neck and her collar, kissed her jaw and her lips. Dio bit her ear.

"These big tits," she whispered, "and no one's playing with them."

They both grumbled and chuckled, each of them kissing their way down her chest and her nipples ached then hardened painfully the closer they got, the buds steeling themselves in anticipation. She cried a bright gasp as they suckled on her nipples finally. Their cocks slipped out of her hands and she missed them, caressed their hips and stomachs as their mouths worked over her.

Dio's hand pushed from underneath her, curled over her shoulder blade. He heaved her sideways, and she rolled with his push to face Tommy, who consumed her mouth now with an eager kiss. She turned her hips and thrust her rump out to Dio, wanting that huge cock inside her again so bad her pussy quivered.

She let Tommy's kiss go, whispered over her shoulder, "Fuck me, put that huge cock inside me." Tommy groaned, and she smiled, turned back to face him. Wanted to give him the gift she expected he wanted. She wanted to look deep in his eyes as another man took her.

She cupped his cheek, ran her nails in light lines along his cheekbones and he studied her eyes.

She said, "He's going to fuck me, Tommy, fuck me with his monster cock."

“Oh fuck, Sook,” Tommy groaned, his voice a weak gravelly thread.

“I’m going to suck you off while he fucks me, Tommy.”

Her husband was frozen, his mouth opened to answer her, but he did nothing but croak. His eyes trembled with outrageous excitement.

Dio pressed his cock head into her opening, and she frowned. “Oh God, Tommy,” she whispered, “he’s so fucking big. It hurts, and it feels so fucking good at the same time. Look in my eyes, baby, look in my eyes.”

As Dio pushed himself into her body, stretching her to that feeling of tearing all over again, she struggled to maintain her gaze with her husband. Her eyes narrowed, teared up, and her mouth fell open and she gave a complaining “Ow.” Tommy squeezed her arm then caressed her.

“Oh fuck, he’s in,” she told him, keeping him updated, “He feels so good, Tommy, so fucking good.”

Now as Dio pulled out and pushed back in, she let her eyes fall from Tommy, let her eyes close, and she kissed her husband’s collar, kissed his chest, thrust her rump out to Dio and bent at the waist. Dio held her hips and ran that huge thing in and out, being slow and gentle for now. She sucked Tommy’s nipple, reached down and gripped his cock.

Her kisses traveled his stomach, down to his hip, pushing and stretching her body between them, getting comfortable. She wrapped her husband’s cock with her mouth, sunk him deep.

Behind her, Dio laughed and caressed her back with his warm, strong hands. He said, “Look at Sukie. Something tells me this little slut’s been in a threesome before.”

PAST

MORE TRASH TALK FROM DIO. The guy was good at it, too, getting in his head just like when they played racquetball. All that old man shit. It worked on him then, and what he said now worked as well. Seconds into a threesome with his own wife and now Dio was in his head.

He'd watched Sook's eyes as Dio slipped that massive salami inside her, and his wife let him know what that felt like. A sweet thing on Sukie's part, figuring her Tommy would like to hear that. She was intuitive.

Two seconds later he's wondering if this isn't his wife's first threesome. What? Why? Why did Dio say that—because she took position so quickly, so easily? How hard was it to figure out how to get between two men?

So now he watched his sweet Sukie's back muscles move, watched the triangle shapes of her shoulder blades, watched the way her bright hair brushed along her tanned skin—and while she lovingly sucked on his cock, he had images of her before he ever met her: his wonderful girl thrashing around in bed with two men he didn't know.

And now he was focused on Dio's cock which he could see slipping in and out of her, Dio on his side, holding her waist, Sukie on her side, bent between them. That thick, dusky thing pushed in and out of her slowly, making sticky noises. It made him think of Sukie and every guy she'd ever fucked. All these guys who'd known her intimately. The mother of his children. Did she ever fuck two guys at the same time? When?—college? It wasn't impossible.

This was a wild roller coaster now. As Sook's soft, wet tongue did amazing things to the head of his cock, his heart was doing loop-the-loops.

A new poisonous thought came: there was a soft, clapping whomp—whomp as Dio’s hips patted Sukie’s ass cheeks, making them give a jiggle. Sook’s little cake was taking every thick inch of Dio’s monster. In bed before this began, the day he surprised his wife masturbating in the shower to the thought of Dio, Tommy’d asked her if she thought she could take Dio’s size. She said Oh, probably. Not even afraid. Not concerned. Shit, she’d said Tommy wasn’t her largest. How big was her biggest? Had she taken another Dio? Had she already been with a man even bigger than Dio?

Dio spread his hand wide, the fingers outstretched over her upper back as he fucked her, saying, “Yeah, this little slut fucks too good to be a simple housewife, Tommy ... Your wife is a fucking thoroughbred.”

It was true, too. Every dirty thing she did with her husband had probably been learned somewhere else. Sukie hadn’t been easy to win. Old Tommy had to work hard to bag this little filly. She went with a lot of dudes back in the day. In fact, some nights she would bring them by the bar, The Fontaine, and he’d have to watch her with these other guys. He was never intimidated, never felt like he couldn’t tie her up, just knew Sook needed proof Tommy had what it took. He showed her, proved it to her. But how close had others come? And what had they done to wow her?

It was fucking salacious. This was expanding his understanding of her, his concept of her. She was more than his wife. More than his property. She was a woman. She was independent. It was profoundly sexy. But goddamn, it was also fucking scary.

Right now she bobbed her head on him, one hand squeezing the base of his shaft, the other cupping his balls. She was so good with her mouth. Then she was off, his cock soaked with her saliva, her hand slipping up and down as her kisses went along his stomach. She panted hot breath on his skin in time with Dio’s thrusts. When her mouth suckled one of his nipples, he couldn’t wait anymore, grabbed her upper arm and the back of her neck and kissed her hard. She hummed appreciatively into his kiss, and when he pulled her head back by her hair, he asked her: “Is it? Is this your first threesome?”

Her eyes were closed, mouth hanging open, her body rocked by Dio’s pumping. Sukie ignored him, her folded arms coming up to her chest, squeezing her own nipples then closing her breasts around his slippery cock. He tugged her hair again, said, “Sook, have you been with two men before?”

“Come on, Tommy, get into it,” she sighed, diverting him, wanting his attention on what they did here and now in this bed. She stroked her breasts up and down his cock a little faster.

“Tell him, Sook, man wants to know,” Dio said, and now his hand went to her knee and opened her legs wider. She rolled to her back and rested her head on a pillow; her hand found Tommy’s cock and stroked it.

“Tell me, Sook,” Tommy said.

“Sexy Sukie,” Dio said, hand coming up now and cupping one of her breasts rolling around on her rib cage, “you always been a tiger, am I right?”

“I want to hear it, Sukie, baby, I mean it,” Tommy said.

Another chuckle from Dio, liking how this was playing out. Liking the dirtiness, liking there being an unknown in Tommy’s life that affected him, liking that Tommy’s wife had every inch of him up inside her, and Tommy was floundering with striking revelations. Dio said, “Tell us, Sook, tell me, turn me on.”

Not to be outplayed—outmaneuvered—Tommy ran his hand down his wife’s abdomen and slipped the scissored first two fingers of his right hand into the center of her mound. He felt how it was pushed plump by Dio’s intrusion. All he sought was one swollen pink button—and he found it, sitting high and alert, rising above the wrinkled mess of membranes shoved forward by her lover’s massive intrusion. Her clit was pumped and alive, big and hard as a pencil eraser dipped in oil. Dio’s thrusting inside her was evident under his hand; he could feel this other man fucking his wife. He asked: “Turn me on, Sook, tell me about your tiger.”

“I’ve...”

“Come on, Sook,” he urged her when she hesitated, his heart hammering.

She softly whispered, “I’ve done it before.”

DIO WAS JOYOUS, saying, “I knew it, Sook, I knew it.”

Tommy’s brow knit together in the middle like he might cry, but inexplicably he also wanted to smile. This was a glimpse at who his wife really was and he should be grateful. “Tell me, baby,” he said, his voice tight and restricted but staying strong. “A boyfriend?”

She inhaled a long, draggy breath, wanting to tell them but looking for a way out, too. "I didn't... I didn't even know them."

Tommy's stomach bounced. Images of her on Spring Break popping up, two frat boys fucking her on a beach towel while spectators urged them on; in the back alley behind The Fontaine, maybe one of those guys she brought one time, him and a friend fucking her up against a dumpster...

"Ooh yeah, I love it, Sook," Dio said and ran his hand in a circle over the centre of her chest, between her breasts swaying in gentle circles from his slow humping. Her nipples were hard, studded bolts. Now she wanted to tell them. "This at college, baby?" Dio asked.

"Oh God," she gasped, suddenly reluctant again, and now images of Sukie doing it with Joe Sheppard and the little league coach came to Tommy, jumping out and frightening him. "No, not college," she sighed as she wriggled her hips against Dio's huge cock. Tommy's cock was forgotten, but he was frozen with anticipation anyway, aching to hear her next words.

"When, Sukie, honey, when?" he asked her, tracing his finger along the angle of her jaw, her soft, tanned skin feeling like dry silk.

"High school," she said in the weakest, softest whisper. Barely words at all.

"Oh no," he laughed, his brow frowning but an awful smile tugging at his lips. His innocent but curious girl; he wanted to take the teen girl she was and hold her, take care of her, protect her.

"Oh yeah," Dio growled appreciatively. "Sukie was the high school slut."

After a sharp intake of air, his wife reacting to his harsh words with excited shock, she whispered, "No, I wasn't ..."

Dio grumbled again, giving a throaty laugh. His fingers plucked at her aching nipples. Going from left to right while he still gently pushed himself in and out of her. Tommy's finger continued to run circles around that swollen hard part of her. They had complete control of her sexuality, and it was like she was hypnotized. She would tell them anything right now. Dio said, "Oh yes, you were. You were a little slut."

"No," she gasped unconvincingly. Tommy watched her face now scrunch up. Her eyes squinted and her brow lowered. Those pouting lips were sucked between her teeth then clamped down upon. She made soft sexy sounds in her throat, and her hips worked in circles against Dio's intrusion. Her lips plopped back out, and she said, “Maybe a little. Just the tiniest bit ...” Those lips were sucked back in, she made a pained sound, blurted the lips out and sighed, “I didn’t think I was, but some others, other girls, oh, ah, mm, other boys ... maybe said that. But I wasn’t. One threesome. One threesome isn’t that bad, is it? ...”

“I’ve had a lot of threesomes,” Dio said with a mean smile that Sukie couldn’t see.

Eyes still closed, she whispered, “I’m not a slut, Tommy. Am I a slut?”

Hearing her words like this was driving him crazy. This interior struggle his wife had, this battle with her own badness. He never saw her this way. He always saw her as strong and independent and knowing what she wanted. The fact that she had done something so salacious when she was young, was running electric tentacles up through his understanding of her. Pulsing zaps that at once made him love her more, and wonder how he could have never known this before. He scooted himself higher up the bed, his hips leading the way, bringing the tip of his penis near her mouth. He let it rest on her cheek, and she felt that there, knew what it was.

“Oh,” she gasped, turned her head and pressed her pouted lips against the point of it. He eased it past her lips and she sucked on him.

“Maybe you were. What did you do? Tell me what you did, Sukie ...”

Her head bobbed weakly on him, then her lips plopped off. She panted now, Dio’s pace picking up between her legs. “We were on a school field trip to DC ... My class was ... the guys weren’t from my school ... ah, th-they were from a school in Baltimore.”

“Black guys?” Dio asked.

“White guys. Football players. I think they were football players. They were big. They were so good-looking.”

Tommy couldn’t take it, he pressed the point of his penis past her lips again. Sukie sucked him eagerly. Her head bobbed quicker and her mouth made slick wet sounds on him. His hand came up and held the side of her face. By a pinched ear, he eased her head back. He asked her, “They take advantage of you?”

“No way,” she said, eyes squinted shut like she was picturing it all over again. “I wasn’t a virgin, and I wanted it to happen. I wasn’t ashamed.”

“How did you meet them?” Dio asked her.

“At the Washington Monument. Their class was there at the same time as ours. They were funny, and they were flirting with me. They, ah, asked me where I was staying, and it turns out, mm, we were in the same hotel. They said to come up to their room that night, and I said I might, though I knew that I wouldn't. They knew it, too. We were just playing. Only I couldn't stop thinking about them. I showed up at their room ..."

Tommy frowned, hating the thought of her like that, but somehow aroused as well. He said, "Did they fuck you at the same time?"

She grunted and shook her head, frowned.

Dio said, "Tell us. Tommy wants to hear it. He's your husband, you can tell him."

Sukie gasped at something Dio did, then said, "No. They took turns fucking me and I sucked them. I let them do whatever they wanted to me."

"You hear that, Tommy? Your wife's already done this. We're nothing special."

"You two are so special," she said, and her hands searched for their arms so she could run her nails on them.

Dio said, "They didn't fuck her at the same time."

When Tommy's eyes raised up, he saw Dio looking at him. That was a message. Tommy got it right away. Maybe his Sukie was freakier than he thought. He hadn't been prepared to learn this, but this whole visit to Africa was about being wild. And if she was already wild, he would have to be wilder.

Now he worked his way down her body until he was kissing her shoulder and his hand was on her waist. He scooped his hips up against her haunch. Dio took her knee and raised it until it was at his armpit. It forced her to face him, too, and now her eyes fluttered open. She said, "What are you doing?"

Dio said, "Look at me, Sukie."

She darted a glance over her shoulder and saw Tommy behind her. She looked to Dio, and bit her lower lip. Dio nodded. She knew what would happen. Now he asked her, "Did they have big dicks?"

Her voice was a tentative whisper. "Kind of. They had good ones. Not big like you two, but I liked what they had. And I didn't have much experience."

"You did when you left that room," Dio laughed.

"I limped out," she whispered.

"Oh fuck," Tommy groaned, hearing that. He'd been lining himself up behind her and hearing that awful detail just twitched his already steely cock. He felt his urethra part and warm lubrication surged from him and rolled down his cock head. He slipped it up Sukie's ass crack, and she cried out in anticipation. "No, oh God, no," she whimpered.

"You don't want it?" Dio asked, eyes glowering on hers.

"I do," she whispered to him and nodded.

STORIES

WHEN SHE FELT the tip of Tommy's penis stroking a slippery line down her ass crack and pressing at her anus, she hiked her knee higher up Dio's body. She flexed her haunches and opened herself to him. She didn't know if she would be able to accept two large men like this. Dio was huge, and Tommy was a big boy, too. But she would submit to these two men tonight. Whatever these two wanted to do to her she would let them. And if that meant they would be in her at the same time that's what was going to happen. She would just keep her fingers crossed that they didn't want both those huge dicks in her pussy at the same time.

When Tommy pressed it into her, she hissed. It was painful. She dug her nails into the muscle of Dio's bicep. He made a growling sound, and his hand gripped her ass cheek. He opened her wider to accept her husband.

Tommy had a good grip around her waist, and now he pushed himself deeper. She could feel him flexing his thing inside her. Knew he would be propelling his clear excitement inside her. Soon she would be slick in there and he could get himself even deeper.

Her eyes fluttered open, and she caught Dio staring at her face. She wanted to kiss him but her neck was frozen. Her whole body was rigid, trying to hold itself in a comfortable position so that her two men wouldn't hurt her going inside. Her mouth opened and closed, and Dio watched her lips.

He said, "You're such a slut. Look at you. I wish we had another cock here so we could put it in that pretty mouth of yours. Fill up all your holes ..."

It was the worst and most degrading thing someone could say to her. But Dio knew how to work her. Those awful things spun her excitement like he held it on the tip of his finger, slapping his hand over and over on a basketball spinning so fast it was a blur.

“Oh God,” she said. “Oh my God.”

“Yeah, you fuckin’ love it,” Dio said. “You love cock, don’t you? You want it all the time.”

“Uh-huh,” she squeaked. She nodded her head quickly for him. She wanted to hear more.

“You sure can take two big cocks, can’t you?”

She nodded again.

“You got one hungry pussy,” he whispered to her, and he kissed her cheek. She ran her hand up his arm and over his muscular shoulder to hold his neck. Tommy bit her ear, and he slipped himself inside her even deeper.

“Oh Tommy,” she gasped. “Tommy, it feels good ...”

Dio said to Tommy, “Next Christmas party we’re gonna run a train on your wife ...”

Sukie gasped at the thought.

He said “Every dick at Megalos is hard for you, Sook. We’ll lay you out on a conference table and every man gets a pump. You like that? You like men to come inside you, we’ll have you overflowing ...”

Sukie said, “That’s so awful...”

“You fucking love it,” Dio said. Then to Tommy, “You picture that, Tommy? You picture your Sukie on the conference table with her legs open. Everyone had a shot at her ...”

Tommy was getting conditioned. She could feel it now, feel her husband’s improved confidence. One week ago, if Dio had said that, this threesome would be over. One of her two men would be unconscious on the floor, and the fun would be over.

And to think, a month ago she could barely stand to have Tommy ask her about her massage appointment with his boss. That talk was too dirty. Now tonight she was in bed with both of them and the dirty talk had escalated to the horrid; painting pictures of her laid out unconscious on the conference table with semen spilling out of her slit.

“Fuck it,” she gasped, “Keep going, please, keep going.” She wanted to hear more.

Dio's fucking grew more lively, and she felt that big swollen cock head running deeper in her guts. Tommy worked with Dio, husband and lover in syncopation designed to give her maximum pleasure. Her seams felt ready to burst.

Dio's size was already stretching her pussy to the limit, and now it was pulled even tighter with her husband slipping in and out of her anus. The tightness tugged her clit downward or something because every time she felt him thrust into her, it was like her little nub did a somersault. She could picture her swollen pink bud rolling over and over, being tumbled by that thick dorsal vein that ran the topside of Dio's beautiful cock.

"Oh, mm, oh wow, oh no," she blabbered breathily. A hot wave of electric pleasure just washed up her back and her hands began to scrabble over Dio's shoulders and arms. "Oh God, oh fuck, it's coming ..."

Her breaths ran in and out, hot dry breath scoring her nostrils in heaving gusts. Both her men humped themselves against her, and she felt squashed between them. The feeling of their intrusion took her over, it was consuming her; rods of pleasure thrust up into her core, so large and slippery they couldn't be ignored.

Dio said, "You little slut, you need a big cock in your mouth, too, we'll get you one, Sook, we'll have you plugged tight. You left their hotel room limping that night, but you're going to leave Africa in a wheelchair ..."

With that she cried out, a sharp tearing in her vagina making her jolt, a squirt of pleasure spritzed from her and she felt herself tinkling around Dio's thrusting. Tommy slapped her ass hard and the bright white tingle it brought kicked off her orgasm like a starter's pistol. She bucked between them, choked and coughed on her own swollen tongue, her eyes reeled up and tumbled backward as a jetliner shot up through her womb, trawling barbed lines of pleasure that tickled every part of her insides, fluttering her muscles and seizing her feet into curved bows.

Dio clutched her breasts, and her nipples pressed his palms like hot stones. He bit her neck hard, and she screamed out.

HE AND DIO fucked her lifeless body, and she sagged between them. She'd shot to seized iron, and he'd felt her sphincter crush his cock like a vice when she came. Her legs had gone straight and shook with tremors, her body had seized to cords. Then she screamed, cried, blabbered, slumped.

He watched the point of her nipple run around drawing circles against Dio's chest as they both fucked her, both of them looking to fill her up with their seed. Sukie moaned and her head rocked from side to side. He kissed her ear, and it made her eyes flutter.

"I'm going to come, Sukie," he whispered to her. She nodded her head and gave a quiet, breathy, "Yeah."

As Sook's hand reached and stroked his hip, and up and down his thigh, urging him to have his orgasm, he could also feel the interaction of the threesome's other participant. The wide belly of Dio's cock ran against the belly of his own despite their efforts to work a rhythm together. Both of them were large, and they were careful with Sook. She'd showed them she could take a pounding, even with a huge size, but she was a little thing and they didn't want to find her limit—and this had to be close to it. But the closer Tommy and Dio got to ejaculating the less careful and synchronized their thrusting became. Now Tommy could feel this other man's cock through his wife's thin membrane as it stroked up against his.

"Come for me, Tommy," Sukie whispered, and it ran a feathery tickle through him, hearing his dirty wife coaxing him while she submitted to something so base, so terrible. This was the mother of his children, his sworn lifelong companion. His eyes roamed her flawless skin, the sweet soft body he was so completely familiar with; he was seeing it in new ways. He was seeing her in new ways.

"Oh fuck," he cursed as he jolted. His hips bucked and pushed his cock up into her like a spear. Slick, jumping pulses began pounding through his cock and they felt like they wouldn't cease. He grunted and flexed, held himself buried in her ass as he launched hot stream after hot stream inside her rectum. "Oh God," he laughed and groaned when it didn't stop.

Sukie squirmed a little, feeling the wet he was filling her up with, and Dio never stopped—his hips kept pumping that monster in and out of her punished little pussy. Her hand caressed Tommy's hip lovingly, and she made a soft cooing sound, acknowledging to her husband she felt his orgasm. He bit on her neck and held the pinched flesh between his teeth while his cock still throbbed inside her.

Eyes fluttering, breaths coming deep and heavy, he lay next to Sukie, twitching at the ticklish feel of Dio's cock rubbing against his own. It got him chuckling and Sook began to giggle as well, feeling him squirm when the tip of his penis was stroked. She was still enervated and sluggish, barely responding to Dio's thrusts now. Dio pushed her to lay flatter, and she squashed her back against Tommy. Dio got over top of them, Tommy underneath Sook, and when he looked up, he saw Dio's handsome face over his; getting a very clear image of what it was like to be made love to by this young, handsome playboy. Before looking away, he smiled, appreciating how his wife must love to have this man over top of her—he could see the appeal.

Hands on the narrow of her waist, he held Sukie steady while her body was rocked over top of his. Her breasts rolled around in circles on her chest, and Sukie made soft gasps every time Dio shoved that huge thing into her.

She must have felt Dio was close because she whispered, "Don't come inside me, Dio, don't come inside me ..."

"No?" he asked her, now his thrusting slowed, and he held himself inside her deeply, rolling his hips in circles, making Sook's pussy make wet sounds.

Sukie squirmed and gasped, and Tommy felt her grip tighten on him.

Dio was over top of them, sneering, he asked: "You don't want that?"

Sukie whispered, "Come on my chest. Come on my tits."

That made Dio smile wider, and he bucked his hips quickly a little, making the bed bounce and Sukie squash against him.

He said, "You like it when I come on your tits?"

"Yeah," she gasped. Tommy could feel her back arching against his chest.

Dio withdrew himself, his huge cock glistening in the dim light with the wet from Sukie's insides. He stroked himself a little, put his knees out wider, set a foot down and leaned an elbow on his knee. He stroked himself above Sukie's chest.

Now Sukie said, "Come on my face. Tommy wants you to come on my face."

Dio chuckled, his eyes darting to Tommy's. Tommy wanted to protest because that wasn't what he asked for at all. This was Sukie's way of taunting him again. Teasing. It was an awful thing to request, but he appreciated his wife's badness.

Dio shuffled himself higher, stroking himself now over Sukie's face. Tommy squirmed to get himself out of the way. He shoved his wife off his chest, pried himself out of the way with an elbow and got himself to the side, but still pinned between Dio's foot and Sook's hip. He turned and watched Sukie. Saw her with her body still draped over his hips, his erection, though dwindling, was still firmly planted in her rectum, and his pretty wife, the woman who he loved, hugged her arms across her ribs, pushing her soft breasts up to her neck, and she opened her mouth wide and stuck her tongue out. Her eyes were closed, and she was willing to accept this man's seed being splashed on her.

Tommy had an enormous urge to look away, feeling almost disgusted by the sight. But his love for her was so enormous he merely narrowed his eyes and watched through protectively squinted vision.

Dio's hand stroked faster and faster, his foreskin making sticky sounds rippling over that swollen purplish bulb end. Then it was coming, Dio roaring and bucking, his hand squeezing. Semen flitted out and splashed on Sukie's outstretched tongue, cheeks and forehead. She chuckled through her nose, laughing at the hot wet feel as it landed in dots and lines over her collar, neck, breasts, and face. Still she kept that tongue outstretched and her mouth open. Tommy narrowed his vision tighter, looking to squeeze it off. It was incredibly hot, he wouldn't deny it. But that was his wife, and this was far too dirty. It was an intimate thing, and he liked it, but actually seeing it was hard to stomach.

When he was done, his hand squeezing and choking his cock, flicking it and sending the last splashes onto Sukie, Dio finally rolled away and collapsed on the bed on the far side of her. Sukie bounced against Tommy, and his arms went around her waist to brace her. She laughed softly, and her hands came up to her face touched what had been left there. Now she groaned, feeling what a mess that had been left. She looked at her sticky fingers, touched together some fingers and looked at the strands that were left jiggling. But Tommy was already there, snatching up her discarded robe and bringing it close. He took the corner flap and brought it over her face, getting his hand out of the way before she touched him with her dirty fingers. He watched her and ran his hand in the circle over her hot tummy while she cleaned herself up.

When he withdrew his cock, pinching the base and pulling it from inside her tight sphincter, Sukie's knees jumped, and she made a pained little sound. He kissed a clean and dry spot on her shoulder and shuffled to her side, pressing himself against her body and pulling her tight to him. She snuggled against him, giving him her back.

He wanted to kiss her face, kiss her mouth, but she'd need to shower first. So for now, he bit at her ear and kissed her hair. He squeezed her tight against him, and she held his arm lovingly. They lay and watched young Dio on his back next to them. Spent and exhausted, a long day of business and drinking and eating and a whole lot of fucking finally taking its toll. They watched him laying there, his beautiful tanned and hairy body gleaming with sweat, his chest rising and falling deep, satisfied breaths. His cock lay up on his belly and it shone wet from Sukie. It was exciting and thrilling, and a great way to end the events of the last month. Tommy breathed deeply as well, feeling his wife against him, and it wasn't long before all three of them were fast asleep.

HEARTHFIRE

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19

EXACTLY LIKE HE'D done almost twenty-four hours before, Tommy woke up to silence in the middle of the night. This time he wasn't in his own bed, but he was alone again.

He blinked himself awake, looked to the left and the right. All he could see were twisted sheets, bundled clothing, and empty pillows. Knees drawn up, he went to his side, looked down the foot of the bed and saw the night sky the color of ripe eggplant. There were bright stars and no sound but that of the lapping river. He inched himself to the foot of the bed, put his feet on the floor and held the drapery that hung from the corner of the four post bed.

Silence at night like this meant the presence of predators, he thought once again. He stood up, looked around until he found his swim trunks and he pulled those on. Went to the bedroom door, quietly opened it and stepped into the hallway.

On the right was his bedroom, the one he shared last night with Sukie. The door was cracked open, and it was dark in there. Didn't even bother to check, she wouldn't be there, nor would Dio. Across the hall, the bathroom door was also ajar. They weren't in there either.

Now he made his way quietly down the hall on bare feet, stood at the top of the stairs and let his eyes adjust. He went down one step at a time, making no noise. As he descended the stairs curling a curve to the left, he saw the main floor walls lit up in flickering shades of fiery amber. He could hear the soft crackle of a fire in the fireplace.

At the foot of the stairs, he stopped and leaned on the newel post which was a large, gnarly trunk of an old tree with half an inch of lacquer on it.

From here he could see the kitchen, the dining room where he found her last night ... Tonight he found her in the family room.

Not on the couch where he watched her have sex with Dio this afternoon. No, she and Dio were right by the fireplace.

On the coffee table there was a bottle of wine and two glasses. One almost empty, the other empty. A heavy armchair had been pulled near the hearth. And that was where he found Suki lit by the light of the fire.

She sat on the very edge of the chair, her feet pulled up and curled over the lip. She was naked, and she had her arms planted behind her. Dio had edged himself to the face of the chair, his hands on her knees where they were thrust up. He was fucking her.

Suki's chin was tucked to her chest, and her heavy breasts swayed with their motion. She was watching Dio's huge penis slipping in and out of her, biting her lower lip, and snarling.

Just over top of the fire's crackle, Tommy could hear the gentle slapping of Dio's hips against the back of Suki's legs.

Now they were looking in each other's eyes, Suki reaching and caressing his neck with her hand. They kissed. Dio came closer, pushed himself deep; Suki writhed against his body while her mouth explored his. Her hand went through his hair and Tommy was sure he could hear soft moaning from her.

When they withdrew their kiss, their gaze still connected, Dio moved back and let his penis slip out of her. Her mouth fell open and then she smiled. He held his cock by the base and he tapped on her belly with it. She curled up her toes and opened her knees wider, watching down her body to see what he did.

Now he took the huge glans and swirled it in circles over her mushed sex. That got Suki breathing heavy, and she let her head fall back.

Then he was lightly slapping at her haunch, indicating for her to get down from the chair. She did, putting one foot down then the other, her eyes on his, and he took her hand and led her down to her knees in front of him. With his hands on her waist, he guided her to turn. Suki planted her elbows on the armchair's seat cushion, arched her back and presented her backside to Dio. He spanked her, and it made her kick her feet. She smiled over her shoulder at him. He slapped her again, and she made a squealing sound that she then covered up quickly with her hand.

Hand pressed in the center of her narrow back, he pushed Sukie forward and she gathered up a bright red pillow, bundled it against her ample bosom and hugged it with her arms. She wiggled her butt from side to side. Dio lined himself up, stroking her with his cock, moving it north and south from her anus and down the wet folds of her pussy. When he pushed into her she kicked her feet again, made a bright chirping sound. Her fists gathered up the pillow, and she bit down on the triangle corner. Stifling her cries so she wouldn't wake her husband.

Dio pushed himself into her deeply, and Sukie made loud sounds in her throat. Now he had her by the waist again, gripping her at the narrow with his big hands. He started to fuck her, going slow at first, and Sukie tossed her hair behind her shoulder to watch him. She still clamped the corner of the pillow between her bright white teeth. She smiled around it. Dio fucked her and spanked her haunch and she laughed.

Tommy's knees felt weak and watery. This was the most intensely erotic thing he had seen from her yet. This was so unexpected, so abrupt, and yet so exciting it surpassed even what he'd witnessed yesterday afternoon when Dio had taken her finally on a quilt laid out on a grassy field. That had been expected, that had been built up to. This was a punch in the stomach. A punch in the stomach after a couple of jabs in the mouth. His hands were numb, and he caressed them over the burred end of the newel post.

The two of them fucked, bouncing against each other, Dio's muscle rippling in the oscillating light. A log cracked in the fire and sent off sparks.

It was beautiful. Absolutely strangely beautiful. He loved to see her like this. All along, he thought he had to be there. But a lot of this was about Sook. Watching her was about him. This was a gift to catch her like this because it exposed her to him in a new way. This was what she was really like. This was what she was like when her husband wasn't watching. It was far dirtier, far more intimate, far more fun. She seemed alone and free-spirited.

This was what he wanted. She could have this without him. He would allow it. He watched a little longer, then felt a twinge in his heart and stomach. He loved it, and he hated it, too. So he slipped quietly into the kitchen, moving around in the dark, but his eyes were adjusted now a little more, and moonlight filtered in from the windows on the far side of the house.

From the shelf above the sink, he pulled down a crystal glass and the bottle of bourbon without making a single sound. He poured himself two fingers. Then poured one more. The front of his swim trunks were pressed out like an enormous tent. He pushed it up against the edge of the counter, felt one of the most profound feelings of lust in his whole life. Something more powerful than when he thought she'd been cheating on him. Now she was, technically, one hundred percent cheating on him. Then again, she wasn't.

He didn't know what to think.

At once he wanted to take the bourbon bottle, come up behind Dio and clock him over the head. He'd grab Sukie's wrist, call up that Land Rover, be at the helipad in twenty-five minutes. Bundle that little slut into First Class and get the fuck back home to Atlanta. Get back to their normal lives. But why wasn't this their normal lives? He wanted this. He wanted it bad. And there was no denying how much Sukie wanted it. It was clear to see.

In fact he wanted to see it again.

So now he made his way back to the bottom of the stairs. They were still going at it. Dio still fucked his wife from behind. They both thought Tommy was asleep in bed. But maybe they both thought this wasn't that bad. They'd been doing it almost solid for twelve hours. What was just a little bit more? So what if Tommy wasn't watching?

He made it in time to see Sukie build to another orgasm. She panted and panted, her back arched, her chin trying to point to the ceiling and yet the edge of that pillow still clamped between her teeth. She snarled and growled around the fabric. He saw her ribs heave in and out with pounding breath. When she came, she blurted out, made a pinched off scream and coughed away the corner of the pillow. He watched her snort and kick while Dio kept fucking her as she came.

Dio was close now, too, and he grabbed a hold of her hips and pulled her farther away from the chair, practically lifting her off the ground with his cock still inside her. She planted her knees down a little further from the chair and held onto the seat edge with her fingers. The cushion fell to the floor and her breasts hung down.

Now Dio rose and squatted over top of her, he pulled his cock out and slapped her ass with it. He was fully hard, that thing he had glimmering in the firelight with the wet Sook had produced. It was so long, so thick. He took it and angled it down, pushed the point of it into Sukie's anus. She made a long moaning sound, and Tommy watched her toes curl up, and her feet bow.

Dio slapped the side of her leg, and Tommy heard him tell her to put her knees together. Sukie brought her two knees together, rolling forward on the points of them, her feet coming up off the ground. Dio planted his feet wide on either side of her, rising up above her, hand pushing that huge cock almost straight down into her upturned ass. She let out another long warbling groan as he entered her.

Tommy watched as it sunk deep into her until Dio's balls pressed up against his own anus in a mashed up ball. He rocked himself into her like that, thrusting back and forth an inch at a time. Wrapped his two hands around Sukie's neck like he choked her. Her face went bright red, and she coughed a line of spit that winked in the light.

He gripped her tight and fucked her ass hard. Sukie made choking, snorting noises—but reached back and grabbed Dio's hip, digging her nails into his flesh, encouraging him. She liked this.

Tommy drained his glass, eyes wide and glued to the action. He palmed his aching cock through the swim trunks.

Dio had her like that, pounding her aggressively, Sukie's face bright red. Just when he thought he'd have to intervene, to break it up and save her, Dio pulled out and let her neck go. Without even touching his cock, he launched streams of white over Sukie's ass; pulsing and spurting up over her tailbone, sending sprinkles up to her shoulder blades. He growled and roared, his hand slipping down and squeezing at her waist now instead of her throat. He moaned expletives: holy fucks, oh my Gods, you fuckin' slut, and then he dropped to his knees and curled his chest over her back. The whole time, Sukie had wiggled her ass against him, his monster cock bouncing on her rump while he ejaculated.

Both of them breathed heavy, both of them now chuckling lightly. Sukie folded her arms up over the seat, rested her head on it, now she faced Tommy's direction.

When she saw him, all the pleasure from her face was erased. He hated to be the one to change such pleasure to such regret. She looked ashen; her face drawn. He could feel the shame emanating from her. Dio hadn't noticed him, he still caressed her ass while folded over her back. Sukie hid her face away.

Now Tommy was frozen, unsure what to do. He wanted her to feel the shame, but he wanted that pleasure for her, too. Wanted it more.

All she'd ever wanted from him was for him to be the man. Be my man, Tommy. Be the bold man who asked for this.

He took long steady breaths, and when she finally peeked again over her shoulder, he could see her red-rimmed eyes were wet, the whites tinged pink. He raised his empty glass to her in salute, licked his lips and smiled. She rested her cheek on her arm and watched him. Her expression was unsure, uncertain. But he saw hope there. Now that he loved. He blew her a kiss. Now she smiled. She blew him one, too, and he smiled back. He gave her a wave good night and let her see him sneak up the stairs to leave her alone with Dio.

AFTER

TOMMY WAS SITTING upright in Dio's bed, working on his iPad with his back against the pillows, when he heard movement in the hallway. A door opened and closed, there were some voices; Dio's low rumble, and Sukie's soft sibilance.

It was well after dawn now, mid-morning practically, and he'd been awake since then. It had been hard to get back to sleep after what he'd witnessed down in front of the fireplace. It would've been easier if he masturbated, but he wouldn't do that. He wouldn't masturbate to the thought of another man fucking his wife. So instead he tossed and turned, lay in Dio's big comfortable bed and tried not to think too hard about what was happening downstairs.

He'd drifted off eventually, slept fitfully, and then woke with the sunrise. The sun came up on the far side of the house, but from the vista of his wide open room, he saw the sky turn from inky blue to a faded denim color, tinges of orange for a moment and then a bright cyan. The sky was completely cloudless. And he was still alone. Still alone in the big bed, the two members of last night's threesome off together still. At first he thought that they'd fallen asleep down by the fire, maybe passed out on one of the couches with a blanket pulled over them. But now with the sound in the hall, he realized that while he'd been sleeping, the two of them had made their way into the bedroom where he and Sukie had slept the night before.

He waited and listened, finger poised over the screen. He'd been busy this morning. Somebody had to do the work. Not everybody got to be a playboy, and not everybody got to be a loose little housewife with no morals. Someone had to make money.

More talking outside. A soft little chuckle from Sukie. Then the click-clack of the bedroom door opening. He could've put his iPad away because he knew she was coming, but he wanted her to see that he'd made it through last night just fine. He made it through just fine and he was up and at 'em first thing this morning and back to work.

So he coolly looked over his shoulder at her as she entered the bedroom. She was quiet and sheepish, opening the door just wide enough so she could slip herself inside—like she was sneaking in. He had a new picture of his wife: a sneaky little teenager who probably drove her parents out of their minds. One who slipped away from a school field trip to have sex with two football players in a hotel room. It would take getting used to, but he figured he would love this Sukie just as much as the last one—the one he knew before he asked her to rub a kink out of his boss's shoulder after a day of golf.

Now she was in the room, and she shuffled around to face him. She wore a fresh and clean terrycloth robe. Her legs were bare. The sleeves on this robe were too long. She looked at him tremulously and sucked on her bottom lip.

"Hey," she said softly.

"Good morning," he said, finger still poised over his screen, and he gave her an unfazed expression. Let her know he was the fucking man. Let her know if he asked her to do something, and she did it, he wouldn't punish her. He could take whatever she wanted to dish out.

She stood there for a long moment, unsure of what to say. He didn't help her. She could figure out what she needed to say all on her own. He kept her gaze. She swayed her hips a little, looked around the room, avoided his gaze. When she returned to look at him, she said, "I slept in the other room."

"Didn't want to wake me?" he said flatly.

Now she slumped, made an exasperated sort of face. Her knee clicked. She said, "I had fun. I had fun last night, you know?"

"I hope you did," he said, and he closed up his iPad. He leaned to the side and rested it on the night table. "I had a good sleep," he lied.

"I'm glad," she said. She made the half-dozen steps to come to the side of the bed, moving a little tentatively, but without hesitation she climbed up onto the bed and kneeled next to him. She rested her hands on her bare knees, just the tips of her fingers poking out from the robe's too-long cuffs.

They stayed quiet a little longer, and he watched her as she looked down at her own hands. Her mouth twisted around. At last she said, "I hope you don't want to make a thing out of this."

He said, "No."

"I'm sorry, you know," she said, still looking down.

"I know. I would have let you if you asked."

"Really?"

"I would have. I trust you." He might have, too. If she asked.

She said, "I really am sorry—it wasn't like how it might have looked."

"You just wanted me to sleep?" he said, and when her eyes raised to regard him, he showed her a little smirk.

"Something like that," she whispered.

"You just wanted to be uninhibited?"

"You're getting warmer."

"It's fine. We're heading home today and there's things you wanted to experience ..."

She nodded, and her eyes cast down again to the bedsheet space between them.

He said, "I'm fine. It's been a lot for me to take. I feel like I don't know you. There's so much I didn't know."

"What didn't you know?"

"Look, I asked you to do something with Dio. You obliged me. You wanted to be alone with him, that was something you wanted. I can oblige you, too. That's new, and maybe I even like it. Finding out you've been in a threesome before, however, was—"

"Tommy, that wasn't real."

"What do you mean it wasn't real?"

"That was dirty talk." She frowned at him speculatively.

"I thought you were confessing something."

"Oh, come on, Tommy. That wasn't real. I didn't have sex with two football players when I was fifteen-years-old, for Christ sake. I'm your wife. I'm the mother of your children."

"So? Women have pasts, Sukie," he said defiantly. "I didn't fault you for it. I just ... And why are you mad at me for me believing something that you told me?"

"I'm not mad at you. Sorry, I'm not mad at you." Now she looked around the room, and he watched as a smile started to form. She said, "It's kind of funny, I guess.”

“For you, maybe. This has been fucking crazy for me, Sukie. I’m trying to understand you. I’m trying to get a grip on who you are, and who you were. I want to have a better understanding of your sexuality. If you keep flip-flopping, telling me things that are true, some that aren’t, and you have me believing all of them, how am I supposed to feel about you?”

“Excuse me,” she said and rolled her eyes, put up her hands in surrender. She said, “I was in a threesome with you last night, which is pretty crazy, I think you would agree. Dio gets things out of me. He makes me do things. Say things. Those things I said were for his sake, I guess. I wanted to say things to him that I thought he wanted to hear.”

“Yes, you two are quite close.”

She left that one alone. She looked up quickly then back down, ignored him. “I did go to DC when I was fifteen. I did meet two guys from another school who asked me to come up to their room. They were really hot, but I never went to the room on my own. I would never do that. But yes, I thought about it. I actually thought about it a lot. And for a long time afterward.”

“But you honestly never did?”

She looked at him and cocked her head and gave him her best Are you serious? face. He looked deep in her icy blue eyes. “I honestly never did. That was my first threesome last night. With you.”

“Well, holy shit,” he sighed.

Now he looked around and shook his head. All the things that he thought of his wife since she’d said that; she had him believing her story was true. He’d had to recalibrate what he thought of her—now he had to do it all over again.

“Well my heart is getting a lot of exercise,” he said. “Up and down, sideways and backwards. You’re twisting me all around.”

“I’m sorry,” she said, but she was smiling and it didn’t sound quite sincere.

Now he rubbed his eyes and breathed into the palms of his hands, covering his face up. He said, “I woke up this morning thinking you were somebody else. I was getting used to it, flexing my heart around to fit you in. Now I find out ...” He shrugged.

“You found out, I’m still your wife. The same wife that you came to Africa with. You’ll be fine, Tommy.”

He buried his face in his hands and groaned, rubbed his eyes. There was relief that her story wasn't true, but now the tiny excitement he found in that dirty story was also extinguished. He felt saved and somehow very surprisingly disappointed as well. Feeling saved was more important.

She said, "You know all that stuff we said isn't true. I don't want a train run on me at Megalos. That's crazy Tommy, but it turns me on to hear about it. Did you think I want Chili and all those apes you work with to come in and fill me up with jizz, me spread eagle on a conference table?"

That one he didn't actually believe. That one he knew was dirty talk. Why didn't he know the high school threesome was dirty talk? Part of him maybe wanted it to be true; if it was true, then there could have been more secret stories of his slut wife. Mad at himself, he turned it on her instead: "You did sneak off with another man last night to fuck him behind my back. That did happen. That wasn't dirty talk."

She stared at the ceiling and scratched her neck. "I said I was sorry, Tommy, and I meant it."

"I said it was okay."

"Then don't wield it like a weapon."

He shook his head, said, "Now I'm the one that's gotta apologize?"

"I don't want an apology."

"You just want me to be the man you married. Be the man in your life. How's a man supposed to take it, finding his wife fucking some guy behind his back?"

"I wasn't fucking a guy behind your back."

He could tell her that's how it felt, but she didn't want to hear that. No, she wanted to hear he was okay with it and she wanted him to leave her alone. That was what she thought was the manly thing. That's what he would fucking do then, despite how it chewed his insides up with rusty teeth.

"I said it was okay," he said, and showed her his palms in surrender.

She said, "I was thirsty, I was awake, and I saw Dio was, too. We both went down, and we were just going to get a glass of water. Then we had some wine. Then he made a fire, and we sat and we talked. Then we started kissing ..."

"And then you started fucking."

She shrugged her shoulders, her eyes looked up and to the right. "Yeah. We did."

“I woke up, I was alone. I came down I found you like that.”

“It wasn’t so secretive, Tommy. We weren’t doing anything we hadn’t done before. But yeah, I did feel guilty for being alone with him. But I wanted to be alone with him. I’m ashamed that I wanted that, but I did. And I swear, there was nothing different between us, we didn’t do anything different than when you watched us.”

But he had watched them. And he was pretty sure there was something different. Not an emotional connection between them, but it wasn’t the same as when she knew he watched. He wouldn’t chase her on that, he had to understand she was different when he wasn’t there. And different could still be okay.

He said, “I let you do it. You saw me ...”

“I was so ashamed. And thank you for being ... I don’t know ... kind about it. I was afraid it might get ugly.”

“Not that afraid.”

“What do you mean?”

“You went to bed with him. You didn’t come back to bed here with me.”

“You gave me a blessing, Tommy. I saw it. I saw it in your eyes, too.”

“I suppose I did.”

“I’m sorry if your feelings were hurt that I didn’t come back to your bed. Dio and I went to our bed.”

“Our bed,” he corrected her.

“Pronouns,” she lamented and rolled her eyes. “You know which bed I mean.”

He smiled, shrugged, trying to pass it off like he was being a jerk on purpose. She didn’t like it when he acted like his feelings were hurt because she slept with Dio or did other things with Dio. So he wouldn’t let her see that. It was a funny situation: now if he tried to prevent her from having sex with Dio he would appear like less of a man to his wife. Before this started, she pondered if he was less of a man because he would let someone else sleep with her. His wife had really tied him up here. She was good at this. He chuckled.

“What’s so funny?”

“Things sure have changed around here, haven’t they?”

“They sure have,” she said.

“Honesty time. What happened last night after I left you?”

“You don’t really want to know, do you?”

“Listen, I can be the man around here. I can be the man you want me to be, the bold one that asked for this. But I’m never not in the know. When have you ever in our life together known me to be a guy who didn’t know what was going on? I’m a big, big boy. I’m a man. I don’t play with guns and I don’t fuck around. And I don’t need you to pat me on the head and tell me I have a pretty nice dick, too. You were right about those things. You keep me on track. But one thing I won’t tolerate is shit happening behind my back. You can do it, but you tell me about it. Deal?”

Her eyes were still cast down, and she smiled wide then pulled her lips between her teeth and clamped down on it. She drew a deep breath and exhaled a long sigh. She said, “Yes,” a soft sweet and sexy sound from his wife. She slumped to one hip, and scooted higher up on the bed to sit next to him, their sides pressing together. She lay her head on his shoulder.

“Tell me what you did,” he asked her.

SUKIE SAID, “I don’t know, Tommy. What do you think we did?” She let Tommy hear the smile in her voice.

He surprised her with: “When we had the threesome, I felt like a third wheel. It was like you left me out.”

She darted her eyes up to meet his, kissed the corner of his mouth. She said, “Tommy, I didn’t leave you out. It’s just, I don’t know, when we’re having a dirty threesome, it feels weird to have your husband there. You know what I mean?” and she showed him a big smile.

His eyes stayed on hers, and she saw his smile twitching. He was thinking of what to say. “So, if you’re going to have a threesome it should be with two men you’re not married to?”

“I guess so,” she said. “I’m kidding, you know. I thought we had fun last night, and I didn’t think I left you out at all. Maybe it’s just because we’re a team. It’s you and I together, and Dio was the third party. But he was the new party, so he got all the attention.”

“And I guess he’s the best looking one of all of us,” Tommy said.

She told him, “Speak for yourself,” and she gave him a mean frown.

Tommy kissed her forehead and said, “Oh, I’d pick you over him any day.”

Now she laughed, and she put her arm around his chest and hugged him. It was a weird thing that they'd endeavored to do. But it was done. And she knew they would be okay. She knew they would survive this. Had no idea what it was going to be like when they went home, but she knew they would be on the plane together, holding each other's hands. Life moving forward in Atlanta would be a different story.

Now her expression got more serious, and with her cheek laying on her husband's chest and her gaze cast across at the stucco wall and the view of the river beyond, she told her husband something very important even though he hadn't asked. "Tommy, I love you more than I love myself. You don't need to ever feel hurt. Here is our hierarchy ..." She held up her hand where he could see it, continued, "our two boys together, intertwined," she said, showing him her index finger and middle finger woven together. "That's number one. Number two is you," she touched his chest, "Number three is me. This is sex, Tommy. Just sex. I don't want Dio for anything more than what he can do to me when we're in bed."

"Jesus, Sukie, you know how to stab a guy in the heart while you're giving him a compliment at the same time. But thank you for saying it. I know what you mean. And you're a sweetheart."

His arms went around her, one under her shoulder where she lay against him, the other hand coming up to rest on her side.

She said, "Being my man is more than the size of what a guy pulls out of his zipper. You got that, too, Tommy, you're big but you're not the biggest. I love what you've got between your legs and you check off every other box I got. Tommy, I ... admire you."

"Admire me for what?"

"Are you crazy? I've always admired you. From our first date and you showed be who you really were, you were so impressive it frightened me."

"This is my kind of dirty talk, Sook."

"I know all your buttons, Tommy. But I'm not joking. I'm not trying to press buttons."

He sighed and smiled. "No, but you're putting off telling me what you did with Dio last night."

She lightly head-butted his chest a few times with her forehead. "I'm not. You want to know, I'll tell you."

"Tell me. I don't care if it's nothing or if it's the worst thing you think I want to hear. You have to tell me."

“I don’t know what’s bad, what you might think is bad. We didn’t do anything crazy. After I saw you on the stairs and you let me know I could stay, we just lay by the fire for a little while and we finished our wine. It was really nice.”

“You know, that hurts. It’s cool, but it hurts far worse than if you told me you gave him a rim job.”

“What’s a rim job?”

“Don’t ask.”

“Google will tell me. Then maybe Dio and I can do it ... after we cuddle by the fire some more.”

“One minute you’re saying sweet things to me, the next minute it’s like you’re stabbing my brain with an ice pick.”

“Tommy, I want you to get off on this. If I can figure out a way that makes you go crazy inside, I’m going to poke around and see how I can make it happen again.”

“So after you cuddled naked with that boss of mine by the fire, you went to bed together?”

“We came upstairs, and Dio pulled me into the bedroom you and I slept in last night. I wanted to come in and stay with you, but I wanted to see what he would do. So I went into the other room with him.”

“And what did he want to do?”

“He didn’t want to cuddle.”

Her husband groaned now, and she felt him squirm against her body. He was topless and his skin was warm, the sheets were bunched up around his waist. She tucked a thumb under the bed sheet and peeked underneath, disappointed to find out he was wearing swim trunks. But she was pleased to see how his cock had pushed the front out. Her husband was hard, his thing pointing up slightly sideways, the head of his long cock making a round impression against the trunk’s fabric.

He caught her looking at it and he said, “I think I’ve been hard since I caught you two together in the middle of the night.”

“You didn’t come up here and jerk off?” she asked him, looking up at his face now.

He said, “I don’t jerk off while another man fucks my wife. I’m patient.”

“You just have to wait your turn,” she whispered to him in a sexy voice.

It got him, she could see a sparkle in his eye, a change in his demeanor. She bet if she put her hand over his heart right now she'd feel it beating like a rabbit's. She said, "I can jerk you off now."

"I don't want a hand job."

"Want me to use my mouth?" she asked him, smiling.

"He beat your little cake too much? Can't have sex with your husband?"

"He beat my little cake really good, Tommy. His huge dick presses every button inside me. My G spot, H spot, J spot—that beautiful thing he's got between his legs knows the whole alphabet."

"You're not going back to Atlanta in a wheelchair?"

"This little tiger isn't afraid to get fucked," she whispered. He was inching out from underneath her, pulling the arm he had around her back away, she was slumping to the side and her husband was getting over top of her. "You boys aren't careful my pussy might grind your big dicks down to skinny little toothpicks." Her fingers went down his sides, and tugged on his shorts, purposely catching his erection in the waistband. She liked it when they sprung back up again. She watched for it: her husband's big dick being pulled down to his thigh and then snapping upright again.

"Oh Tommy, you want to hear about all the things I did with Dio in our bed?"

"Jesus, Sukie, your cake must be really hungry. How many times you come in the last twenty-four hours?"

With Tommy looming over top of her, she undid the knot in her robe, tugged the flaps and opened herself up to him, revealed her naked body. Tommy was watching. She said, "I lost count. But it was more times than I came in the last year."

She watched her husband's reaction. Saw that spark there again, saw the humor in him. He knew she was joking, knew she was prompting him—provoking him—and she saw what worked and what didn't.

He said, "I've been letting you down?"

"You've probably been doing your best, Tommy. I just think your young boss might be able to do it better," and now she was swaying her hips and rubbing the fronts of her thighs against his.

Tommy said, "Open those legs up. I want to see my wife's dirty little snatch."

"Yeah? You want to see it?" she said, running her hands down her stomach and covering up between her legs while she opened them. She had her knees wide, but her hands over her sex. She could feel her warmth, feel an emerging dampness, too. She said, "Holy shit, Tommy, I've never been so horny in my whole life. Am I going to go back to normal?"

"I hope not," he said in a little gravelly voice, his eyes coming up to meet hers. He said, "Now take your hands away so I can see the mess Dio made down there."

Tommy's dirty words got her stomach rolling over. Her voice was a shaky whisper: "You want to see it?"

"Show me," he said.

Her fingers drummed over her little lady, and she watched Tommy move his gaze down her body to look between her legs.

From the nightstand there was a gentle bubbly digital sound, Tommy's iPad issuing notification of an incoming video call.

"Are you fucking kidding me?" Tommy sighed, and now he was looking away from between her legs and up toward his iPad.

"You better ignore it, Tommy."

"I can't ignore it, Sook."

She thought he was kidding. She said, "You're going to miss it," and she opened her hands a little to give him a peek. But he wasn't looking.

"I have to take it," he said, and she saw he was serious. He crawled off of her body with his steely cock sticking straight out like a spear. When she rolled to her side, he was laying on his back, reaching to retrieve his iPad.

She said, "Tommy. Seriously, Tommy, you have to get it?"

"I really do. Some of us haven't forgotten that this was a work trip."

Now she closed her robe across herself, hugged her breasts to her chest. "Tommy, you got me so horny," she lamented. It was true, too, her motor was running.

With his iPad clutched to his chest, he looked to her and said, "I really want to, Sook. But I have to take this."

"I was gonna tell you all the things Dio did to me last night," she said, hearing the little girl voice she used to use to convince men to do her bidding when she was younger.

"You can tell me when I'm done, Sook. I really do have to take it." He nodded his chin toward his iPad to show her she had to leave him alone.

She sat up, put her feet down on the floor. Over her shoulder, she said, "There's a man downstairs who won't let me stay horny for long," then regretted it. Now she looked over to see what Tommy thought of such an awful thing to say.

He was smiling. He shrugged and said, "You're a big girl. Whatever you do, you tell me."

There was something thrilling about it. This time, she was sure he meant it. Tommy the big man. Crazy Tommy. She smiled back, and patted his hip, very, very close to his erection. She said, "Your loss, big man. Dio's downstairs, he's making coffee. I'm going to go have breakfast. Don't be long."

"I love you," he said.

"I love you, too," she said and rose to go to the door. Tommy opened his iPad but before he could answer the call she said, "We're leaving soon. I won't be able to fuck you until we get back to Atlanta. And if you're not gonna jerk off, somebody's gonna have an uncomfortable plane ride. I hope those overripe bulbs of yours don't burst at altitude." She closed the door laughing.

RAPESEED

AT THE BOTTOM of the stairs she smelled coffee, and as she turned into the kitchen, she found Dio hunched at the counter by the sink, trying to figure out the coffeemaker. He was wearing a robe similar to hers, the one he wore when they'd parted this morning in the hallway outside the bedroom. He'd be naked underneath, and though he'd heard her coming down the stairs, she still went stealthy, trotting barefoot on the cool tile of the kitchen floor until she was right behind him. Bent at the waist, she scurried a hand up underneath his robe from behind and found his penis on the first try. Hand gripped round it, she gave it a few honks, and pulled it toward her between his legs. Dio didn't even flinch.

"Coffee's ready," he said, then peered at her over his shoulder. Couldn't see his smile but she knew it was there given the tilt of his eyebrows and the sparkle in his eyes. "What are you doing?"

She smiled, said, "Got my elephant by his big trunk."

"You didn't get enough last night?"

She shook her head no.

"You insatiable?"

"I don't know what's got into me."

When he chuckled, she got the double entendre, and gave his dick another squish.

Dio said, "You make me feel like such an object."

She rolled her eyes playfully and said, "Oh please, you know how many men have touched my breasts without asking."

"Can't blame them."

"Can you blame me? This is one magic dick you've got."

“I told you I was more than just my big dick,” he said and eased himself up slowly. She let his cock go, and it dangled again under his robe. He stood tall over her, stepping into her space, and she gave a few steps back. He followed. “Wouldn’t you agree?”

With her back bumped up against the edge of the kitchen island, she said. “I’m playing. You know I think you’re way more than your dick.”

He took a long breath, leaned a hand on the counter’s edge on either side of her. He said, “Way more?”

“You really know how to use it,” she whispered.

“That session last night, little Sukie, was some of the best sex I’ve ever had.”

About a dozen funny, off hand quips came to her, things that would bat away his intense compliment because it was too frightening to consider he wasn’t kidding. But she’d be crushed if he took it back. Instead, her mouth worked around and her throat made an embarrassing croak. Her cheeks felt like they’d just caught fire. “We got a little crazy,” she said softly.

“How you feeling this morning?”

“Sore. In a good way.”

“Satisfied?”

“Very.” Now her eyes darted left and right, avoiding his close stare. “Tommy denied me this morning.”

This made Dio’s eyebrows raise, and his smile went wider. “He mad?”

She shook her head no.

“That Tommy’s one cool cat,” he said, “denying you.”

“I know, right?” she said, bringing her eyes back to meet his.

“Sukie knows where to come,” he said in a low voice near her ear. One hand dropped from the counter and it settled between her legs. The fingers tugged at the robe’s flap and she felt cool kitchen air touch her thighs. “Don’t you?”

She nodded, gave a bashful smile and bit at her lower lip.

“You want a cup of coffee?” he asked her.

“What?” she asked, confused. Her little heart was racing and her breath had grown slow and lusty. She’d wanted him to lift her up on to the island and get her to open her robe, show off that little cake. What she wanted Tommy to do.

The things she had to tell Tommy—because if he wanted to have the truth, she would give it to him—were wild and salacious. Dio had fucked her, pounded her, made love to her. She'd come on his cock a dozen times. Her hole had been stretched and tugged and pulled, and she felt it. Yet, here she was, first thing in the morning after maybe only two hours of sleep and her pump was primed. She was game right now for another session.

"Coffee?"

"I guess," she said.

"We'll bring it out on the lanai. I've got a surprise for you out there."

CUP OF COFFEE IN HAND—A nice Vienna roast with cream and sugar—she and Dio passed through the open air living area and toward the patio when she saw that they weren't alone in the villa this morning. It faltered her step, and she sloshed hot coffee over the rim of her ceramic mug and it scalded a knuckle. A hiss escaped her, and Dio chuckled.

"Come on outside, Sook, it's a beautiful morning," he said.

It was, too. Sunny, bright, and hot. Sitting on the loveseat where her husband had watched her suck Dio's cock was Benny. On the far side of the lounge set, someone had dragged out one of the large and heavy dining room chairs. A massive thing made from thick lacquered branches. Morris stood next to it in his army pants and web belt. His shirt was off and the sunlight glinted off the muscles under his black skin.

To the two men, Dio announced, "Hey guys, she's up now," as he strode a pace ahead of her.

Benny turned in his chair to regard her and gave her one of those large and friendly smiles. There was trepidation there, a certain nervousness. He said, "Good morning, Mrs. Travis," giving her a head nod, sitting upright and proper, his hands together in his lap.

Morris was more relaxed, resting an arm on the high back of the dining room chair, and saying, "Good morning," his smile more confident than Benny's.

"Hi guys," she said politely, a little timidity holding her happy tone down. Her nudity was alarmingly evident to her again. One more time, here she was with unexpected strangers and all she wore was a bit of terry cotton shrouding, her nude body held back with one loosely tied belt.

Dio had stopped himself behind the loveseat, resting a hand on it, coffee cup casually held up in the other. She came to join him, positioning herself a little behind him, keeping him between her and the other men. Though there was a good chance Dio was the one she had to fear the most in a situation like this, given his love of danger. “So, what’s up?” she asked, her voice thinned by hesitation.

Dio said, “Oh, you know. I was saying this morning, I saw these guys out by the Rover, we were talking, I was asking about breakfast ... I told ‘em how you were my masseuse, how I was getting a massage this morning. Said I wanted ‘em to have one on me, they’ve been so good, so helpful.”

“Okay,” she said, her voice tight, her tone rising in inflection.

To the men, Dio said, “I tell you, she’s very good at what she does. You sure, Benny?”

Benny raised his hands and showed his palms, big smile again. He said. “Oh no, thank you, Mr. Megalos.”

To Sukie, Dio said, “Benny declined, but I think Morris and I are in need of some magic hands, Sook.”

She held his gaze, gave him a steady look, her eyes blasting, You fucking asshole messages to him, but he gave her no reaction, just that same steadfast handsome face, black eyes sparkling in the African sun.

Now she mouthed: You fucking asshole.

He mouthed back: What? and gave her a little shrug

Come here, she mouthed, giving him a scolding expression, and taking a step back.

While she walked back, Dio was all smiles, always the salesman, just like her Tommy, waving to the African men, pointing to Benny then and saying, “Coffee, Benny?—let me get you a coffee. Morris—you want one?”

IN THE PRIVACY of the living area, she told Dio, “I think I know what you’re getting at, and you’re out of your mind.”

“What am I getting at?” he asked her, with a sly, smug expression.

“Oh, come on,” she said and set her coffee cup down on a table so she could fold her arms over her chest. “You want all my holes plugged, remember?”

“I don’t know what you’re talking about,” he said, mimicking an expression of confusion.

“Dio, I will spank your balls,” she said sternly.

“That’s very kinky, Sook,” he said appreciatively. “That’s why we’re so good together.”

“There is no way I want to have sex with strange men.”

“You’re disappointing, Sook,” he said, turning his mouth down in a sad bow.

“You’re not going to trick me into it, Dio.”

Now he laughed. “Do it or don’t,” he said.

She sighed, rolled up her eyes. “God, you sound just like Tommy.”

“He have to convince you to sleep with me?”

“Yeah.”

“I’m offended.”

“It wasn’t hard,” she said and showed him a smirk.

“I know it wasn’t. You wanted me so bad.”

“Fuck off, Dio. It was a big deal making that decision.”

“Yeah, but please, look at us all now. It’s cool. Just sex, Sook.” He smiled, took a step until he was in her space and he put his hands around her, resting them on the small of her back. “Think of all the fun we had last night. And, I mean, we had fun. Fu-un. Fuck, that little pussy of yours ...? God, you are so fucking hot. Tommy knows it. I know it. Shit, I even think little Sook knows it but she likes to play the coy little girl.”

“I do not.”

“Mm. You used to know it. I think you’re remembering what a thrill it was to take a man for a ride, see that look on his face when he thinks he might get some. That’s power.”

“You have it, too,” she said with a smile.

“I do. Fuck, I get hard when I see that in a woman. Some woman, like you, you’re married, and she knows she shouldn’t, but I know I make one, two moves, I’ve got her knees up to her ears and she can’t even remember her husband’s name she’s coming so hard. You have that power, too.”

“So what?—maybe I do,” she said, giving her hair a little shake and narrowing her eyes on him.

“Let’s play around a little. You and me are the same, Sook. You say Tommy says you got a tiger, too?—you do, we both see it, you know? Let’s put that cat on a leash and walk it around, show it off a little.”

“I’m not going to do anything with those two guys, Dio.”

He shrugged, moved his hands against her back so their pelvises pressed.

Now she said, “That story I told you—about the two football players I had a threesome with?—that wasn’t true. Maybe I’m not the tiger you think I am.”

He chuckled, said, “I didn’t think you did. Your story was too generic. And it lacked details. Today’s story won’t. After today you’ll have a story forever.”

“Dio, there’s no way I’m going to sleep with two strangers. I don’t even want to.”

“They are hardly strangers, Sukie. They watched us ... making love.”

“Exactly. You ask me to massage them and what are they going to think? If they spied on us from the bushes what are they going to think about what kind of girl I am?”

“Oh, I think they know exactly what kind of girl you are.”

“Benny, the nice one, he doesn’t even want me to. He doesn’t want me to massage him. You know why he thinks that, don’t you?”

“Yeah, I do. He told me he’s married.”

“Oh my God. See, that’s exactly what they think. So Morris is out there and he thinks I’m going to do something? I’m not doing anything ...”

“Then don’t. It’s just a massage. How many massages have you given?”

She didn’t answer for a while, finally said, “Thousands.”

“Just another massage. But I tell you what: I know what you said to me.”

“What did I say to you?”

“You whispered you wanted more than two men.”

“Dio ...”

“At least come out and put your hands on the guy—I told him you would massage him, what’s he going to think you come out now and say you can’t do it?”

“Dirty talk, Dio,” she whispered, “Remember, it was just dirty talk.”

HOW LONG COULD a video call take? Standing out on the lanai, she watched inside the house to see for her husband coming down the stairs. Only he didn’t show up. Truth was, she guessed a video call could take hours. It didn’t seem like that when Tommy answered it, but who knows how long his conversation would go. She’d like to go up and tell him what was happening, but she guessed this was just a massage. She’d done thousands of them, quite literally. So she would rub Morris until her husband showed up. In fact, she'd like to see his face when he came down the stairs. What was his wife up to now? She smirked.

Of course, out on the lanai, Dio said, "Let Morris go first, he's the guest."

"Sure, that's fine," she said. "I should go—"

"Is this okay?" Dio asked, holding up a square edged brown glass bottle. "Found it in the kitchen. Grape seed, or rapeseed oil ... Any good? ..." He held the bottle so he could read the label again.

"It's actually perfect," she said. She'd been about to say she should go change, but seeing the spectacle before her, she changed her mind. Dio stood by the pool's edge, looking outrageously sexy, with his tanned skin so dark against the white of the robe. Morris sat facing her on the dining room chair with his hands on his knees. The muscle on his hard, black body practically gleamed. And even polite Benny had her heart racing a little faster—he sat upright on the wicker loveseat still, hands together in his lap and a tense smile on his face. It was that body language that illuminated the badness that was implied here for her.

If they were correct, these two African men who worked for the villa watched her have sex with two handsome and powerful men. What must they think of her? She was one-hundred percent sure it gave her enormous power. Even though she intended nothing, she could see the huge thrill that could be gleaned here. This was Dio and his attraction to danger, and maybe she got it now.

Thousands of massages she'd given, this was just one more. Sure, she wore nothing under her robe, but that was hot. The man she wanted to arouse stood in his white bathrobe with his shining black hair brushed back from his face. If it would arouse him, she would do this. And if Morris grew aroused, well, hell, she'd like that, too. In fact, she'd be offended if he didn't. But he would because she did indeed have power. Dio was right, and she really liked the feeling.

"We'll start with your back, Morris?" she asked in her professional tone—but her eyes were half-lidded and she smiled at him as she passed by on her way to Dio. She went to her cheeky, sleazy lover by the side of the pool and took the bottle of oil from him.

He smiled and sucked his teeth. "Have fun," he said.

She held his gaze confidently, and quietly said, “I think you’re the one having all the fun.” With her free hand she pulled tighter the flap of his robe below the belt, indicating to him his arousal might soon become prominent and he best be careful.

“Show Morris those magic hands,” he said, giving her back a confident eye.

“You know I will,” she said, walking backwards, holding up the rapeseed oil in two hands like she was doing a commercial for it.

Morris had straddled the big, armless dining room chair backwards, arms draped over the top of the seat back, chin resting on forearms. A man who worked at the villa accepting a massage from a guest, she imagined, must be a huge no-no around here, but bold Morris was willing to risk it. Willing to risk it, she imagined, because he thought there’d be a chance it might go further. Or at least curious to see how far it might go. She was as well.

Dio still stood by the pool, but he’d walked across to where he could stand and still stay in her field of vision while she worked. Just a little to the right of Dio, Benny still sat stiff and upright, his face drawn, but his eyes wide.

Now she cupped her palm and spritzed oil into it from the plastic filter top set in the glass bottle. She squatted, keeping her knees together, and set the bottle down on the decking, stood and rubbed her hands together. With her eyes on Dio, she said, “You’ve got a good strong back, Morris.”

“Very strong,” he agreed in his deep voice.

“Yes,” she said, and set her oily hands on his traps. He was hard as stone, his black skin thin as paper before it met the muscle underneath.

Across his back, she saw clearly now—standing close without the sun in her eyes—he had a thick ragged scar that ran from his left shoulder in an almost forty-five degree slash to the lowest point of his rib cage on the right side. The tissue was thick and raised up like it hadn’t healed properly, or hadn’t received the best medical care. Maybe not even stitches.

ROBE

FIRST THING he saw coming down the stairs was an unattended firearm. It was propped upright in the corner of the dining room between the wall and a waist-high cabinet with carved antelopes in the doors. A weathered looking SA80, the 85A1, and he figured it was Morris's, but couldn't for the life of him figure why it would be left so carelessly. One of the dining room chairs had been removed and as he set foot down on the main floor, he figured Morris must be changing a light bulb or something.

No one was in the kitchen, so he turned left and headed out to the patio.

Coming through the living room area he saw that Morris was not changing any light bulb. They were all outside on the deck, with the brilliant blue African sky above them; Dio, his wife, Morris, and Benny. Morris had his shirt off and was straddling a chair backwards with his head down. Sukie rubbed his back, the guy's black skin shimmering with oil. Sukie only wore a robe, her legs and feet bare. She'd rolled up the sleeves of her too-large robe and Tommy saw how her hands also glistened. It stopped his step.

He stood to the side of the living area, the fireplace at his right hand, the place where she'd also done something sneaky with another man. Now here she was, up to her dirty tricks again. He'd left her unsatisfied and maybe this was her little stab at him, her little way to get back at him. Maybe he liked it, maybe he didn't.

Once again, he found himself torn by his wife's lust. He loved it, absolutely loved it, and he hated it, too, though the hate felt a lot more like fear. Like the way you might hate a tiger bearing down on you.

Despite the conflicting emotion, despite the measurable fear, he felt his underwear tightening. The pouch on the front began to swell with his manhood pressing against it.

Before coming downstairs, he'd changed into traveling clothes. Business was done in Africa. This chapter was closed. There would be a new chapter, and it was time to turn that page. First things first, they had to get back to the US of A. They had a flight this afternoon, and they had to get to the airport in Harare.

Dio was up to games—he'd come to Africa for more than business. Sukie was a big part of his business. Tommy's, too, but to Tommy, Sukie's business had been done. Sukie got what Sukie needed, and, admittedly, so did he. Maybe a little more, too ... And now, out on the deck, stalking around his wife as she manipulated her hands over a strange man, Dio moved back and forth and watched her as she raised the stakes even higher.

Dio looked good in his bathrobe with his tanned skin, and his gleaming black hair combed back from his face. He looked like the powerful businessman he was. The sunlight glinted off the gold watch on his wrist. And boy did he seem the master around here. His best salesman's wife obeying his command, performing dirty tricks for him like she was a slutty little dog. And the working men of the villa? He had them wrapped around his finger, too—using Tommy's own wife's sexuality to command their actions. These two guys hadn't seemed like the kind of guys who would find themselves in this situation, but Dio knew how to work people, knew what to offer. And Sukie was a lot.

Sook's hands worked down Morris's back, and now she slid them back up again, rubbing the muscles bunched up at his neck. Then her tanned hands, looking quite pale against his jet black skin, worked circles over the globes of his striated shoulder muscles. She said something close to his ear, and Morris nodded, sat straighter. Tommy guessed it was time to do his front now.

Tommy adjusted his package, shifted it to the right side where it was more comfortable if it wanted to grow. And he had a feeling it would grow.

When he walked onto the veranda, showing everyone confidence, Sook looked over her shoulder at him, raised an eyebrow and a smirk tugged on half her pretty mouth up high. She knew she was bad, and she did this to rile him.

She said, "Oh hey, Tommy. If you're here for a massage, you're going to have to get in line." She gave him a bigger smile now, her friendly Sukie smile, and it disarmed him. Any anger he might've felt at her was diminished greatly when he saw the expression on her beautiful face. If she wanted to play games, he would play along. He put his hands up in acceptance, gave her a little nod, said, "Boy, you take one video call and look what you miss."

"You're not getting bumped to the front of the line just because you're my husband," she said.

"I'm not looking for special treatment," he said, and then made his way toward the loveseat where Benny sat.

"I'm not here for that, Mr. Travis," Benny said, sitting quite upright and nervous, watching what happened but knowing how wrong it was. Poor guy worried for his job, Tommy bet.

"You're just here to watch?" Tommy said.

"I should go," Benny said, his eyes staring forward at nothing, while his mind raced over all the options.

Tommy sat next to him and clamped a hand on his shoulder to keep him seated. "Don't worry, Benny. I was only joking. Believe it or not, I'm not here for that either. Stay with me."

Benny nodded, relaxing a little, but his posture still stiff. He wrung his hands together between his knees.

Tommy said, "You know what you're doing, Sook?"

"Just what I came to Africa for, Tommy."

Dio said, "Megalos brought her here just for this."

"Just a massage, just doing my job," Sukie said.

"That's good," he said coolly, though his heart was pounding and his temples were throbbing.

On the coffee table across from him there was a tall mug of coffee and steam still rose from it. There was one sitting in front of Benny as well. He said to Sook, "This your coffee?"

Sukie had both her hands spread out on Morris's chest, and she ran them in circles, digging her thumbs in the divot between his shoulder muscles and pectoral muscles. She looked over, said, "Yes, it is."

“I’m going to take it, you got your hands busy, anyway,” he said, and leaned forward to pick up the cup of coffee. He sat back with it and took a sip, wanting both Sukie and Dio to see that Tommy was the man.

TOMMY PLAYED IT COOL, sipping her cup of coffee and sitting back in the loveseat next to Benny. Acting like this didn’t bother him. It probably didn’t. She was hoping her husband was getting off on it. But just underneath ‘getting off on it,’ she hoped that what she did here right now also got him a little tense. Keep that man on his toes. Crazy Tommy liked to dance.

Morris had a beautiful body. One of those long, lean builds that was deceptively packed with muscle. His thin, tight skin showed it all off. He had big shoulders. Long blades of muscle that came down to the middle of his upper arm and cut deep into his bicep. Veins stood out on his forearms and up into his biceps and even across his shoulders. She could see every ridge and muscle in his ribs, sternum, and the square plates of his abdomen. He was so lean and hard, his outie bellybutton rose out like the top half of a cherry. And with her right hand, she could feel along the left side of his rib cage a hard knot right where the ribs met the obliques. When her hands worked down the ridge of his hard chest, she found it there with her palm then worked her fingers along his ribs, her right hand making swoops around the hard bump.

While she worked, Morris watched her intently. He was bold, but when her eyes would dance up to meet his, he would keep her gaze only for a few seconds then look away. The guy was worried what he wanted to happen might not happen. That was exciting. That was control. That was a clear display of the effect of her power.

Her sleeves fell down again, and she pushed them up to her elbow, leaving her forearms a little shiny. She put her hands back on him, and could see now between his legs what she was pretty sure was an erection in his pants. His hips were tight and narrow, and the belt of his pants swooped in a circle around them, leaving a dent in his pants below that then swooped out with a bulge of his penis and balls. She’d noticed it before he got hard. She wasn’t shy of checking out a man’s crotch to see what he might be packing (although it was usually done in quick furtive glances and definitely done while there was no chance the man might catch her). When she'd started, it looked like young Morris might have a two-hander in his pants. And now, rising up and poking out his pants pocket at the side was a round bulge, she saw he indeed had a long, sturdy penis. He was hard. Mission accomplished, apparently. She'd aroused him, and she barely got to work on his front. Maybe this guy was like Dio, and he got off on danger. As soon as Tommy came down, the game was on and the blood started pumping into that thing between Morris's legs. She let her hands work lower, let her eyes drift up to see Tommy watching. A smile wanted to pull harshly on the corners of her mouth, she felt a giggle want to burst from her, but she tamed it—showed Tommy only a restrained and confident little smile.

He watched in awe.

She worked low down, touching Morse's hard stomach just above the waist of his pants, then let her hand drift back up again, teasing him. Teasing all of them. Her two middle fingers of her right hand found that knot in his ribs, and worked around it. She asked him, "Is this another injury?"

Morris's hands rested on his hipbones, twitching. Probably wanting to reach out and rest them on her skin. Wanted to reach out and touch her bare legs.

He said, "Gunshot."

That gave her a strange thrill. A bump on the road that shook the load of her lust around a little. Didn't know what to make of that.

The sleeves of her robe fell down again and bunched at her wrist. Using the insides of her forearms she pushed each terry sleeve back up past her elbow, but didn't want to handle the cloth of the robe and end up getting tufts of fabric stuck to her oily palms.

Tommy leaned forward and asked Morris, "You been working here less than a year?"

Morris opened his eyes a little wider, alerted by Tommy's voice, as if her hands had lulled him into forgetting her husband was here. But now he remembered. Her hands still made swoops over the hard muscle of his stomach. She wondered now if she might have the nerve to touch his bulge. Wondered if she had the nerve to get him to take his pants off. Probably not, he had big lace-up boots on.

Morris's eyes fluttered as he considered Tommy's question while Tommy's wife made very suggestive moves over his bare body with her oily hands.

"Yes, not a year."

"Lying low?"

Morris seemed to consider what Tommy asked, and Sukie wondered what laying low meant. After a deep breath, Morris said, "I like the work here."

Dio said, "I'm sure you do," and it made Morris smile. Dio had moved around the chair, watching and strolling, and now he was behind her.

Tommy said, "I mean biding your time?"

"No, no," Morris said in a reassuring tone. "I am retired now, want to settle down here."

Her robe's sleeves tumbled down again, and she swiped at them with her forearms.

"Well, we'd all like to see First Lady Grace where she should be," Tommy said, studying Morris.

Now Dio was standing right behind her, body touching her back, and his hands came around to help roll her sleeves up.

Morris answered, "Yes. In power."

"Yes," Tommy said, nodding and watching still with narrowed eyes. "In power," he repeated cautiously.

"How's that?" Dio asked her, his voice close to her ear.

"Thank you," she said, holding her shining hands up. Morris lay back in the chair watching her, a content smile on his face, a confident but curious look in his eye.

Dio said, "You know, they're just going to roll down again."

She said, "Oh, probably."

"That robe's too big for you."

"I know. It's Tommy's," she said, and wove her fingers together to smooth the oil on her hands before she got back to working on Morris.

"It would be a lot better for us all if you just took it off," he said, his voice so close now she could feel his breath against the back of her ear and it gave her a shiver.

"You wish," she whispered over her shoulder. The belt came away and her robe opened. Dio had tugged the knot free and withdrawn the belt.

She gasped and sucked in her stomach, frozen on the spot.

NAKED

SOOK'S MOUTH FELL OPEN. Her face went red.

Dio stood tall behind her, enjoying himself, stepping back and holding her belt. Sukie's hands were held upright like a surgeon after scrubbing in. They gleamed with oil. Morris sat slouched in the heavy chair with the sunlight making his oily muscular body look like it was black chrome. The man watched Sook's body revealed in the white fuzzy window provided by the two open halves of Sook's robe. As Dio stepped back, the belt snagged the sides of the robe and parted the opening wider, giving him, and Benny, and especially Morris, a very revealing show. Her nipples weren't revealed, just her cleavage. But her tummy was bared, and, most exciting, her soft, shaved pussy.

Tommy jolted at the sight. Could feel an electric spike shoot up his spinal column. Knowing these men saw his wife, the most prized thing in his whole life, bared like that, shown what was most intimate to her and to him, made him at once mad, protective, and strangely thrilled.

But most surprising, and most erotic, was his shy wife's reaction. She didn't move. She stayed frozen even though she knew they all looked at her sweet little snatch. Two months ago, if Tommy, or even Dio, had pulled that stunt, Sook would've turned around and kicked them in the balls.

Today she stood and let all the boys take a peek. He could see her brain's gears whirring around behind those wide open icy blue eyes, trying to gauge what her reaction should be. Probably surprising herself that she didn't turn around right now, clutch her robe closed, and hoof Dio right in his big ball sack. Instead she stood frozen and let the men and her husband look at her while she contemplated covering up. Then didn't cover up.

With slow but growing determination her mouth closed until her lips tucked in between her teeth and the corners of her pretty, pink, pouting mouth curled devilishly upward. Her thighs came together until her tanned skin closed off the gap and her legs shut with her knees pinched together. Not that bold, his Sukie, but she did like the eyes on her, he could tell.

That Morris could be dangerous might be a concern but he didn't think there was a reason to fret right now, and when Sook looked to him, lips still pursed inward, he shrugged and gave her a small smile back. He didn't know what to think of this either. Only knew he liked to watch his wife, and seeing her face this unexpected challenge had his cock throbbing. The shrug was returned, Sukie's shoulders moving up a little, and it showed the movement of her big breasts behind the robe.

Now Sukie looked to Morris, trying to be sexy but coming off a little sheepish with her lips pursed between her teeth and all. But she leaned forward again and rested her hands on his chest. It opened her robe, and Tommy imagined Morris just got a complete eyeful. Those big, heavy breasts swaying forward and hanging from her chest. Behind her, Tommy saw that Dio tossed the robe's belt to the ground. His hands caressed her back and came to rest on her narrow waist. He leaned forward and whispered something to her, and it made Sukie pinch her face in puzzlement.

She pushed herself off Morris's chest and rose to stand. Dio put his arms around her and nuzzled his chin into her collar. She rubbed her cheek against his and closed her eyes. Dio's hands smoothed up her stomach, slipping in the gap of the robe and touching her bare skin. Then he gently took the lapels, starting at the waist and moving up to her breasts then slowly he pulled back and bared her. Sukie made a low reluctant moan, eyes closed at first but then gradually opening to watch the men's reaction as they got to see her naked.

Dio stepped back, and the rope slipped down her shoulders while she held her arms back so he could slide the sleeves down.

And there she was, completely naked. The craziest thing he'd ever seen. Sukie had become quite a different person than she was before this started. He could never imagine she would be confident enough to stand like this.

She should though. She should because she was beautiful. She'd given him two boys, and the best years of his life. And look at her. Absolutely gorgeous. More beautiful than when he met her and she was just twenty-five. Her light, lank hair hung down the sides of her pretty face, and as she blinked, she flashed them her baby blue eyes. Her lips had pooched forward, and she almost pouted at them. Her large breasts were perfect teardrops and her nipples were hard as bullets.

“Hoo, Sukie,” he sighed and adjusted his pants.

HER HEART absolutely hammered triple time in her chest. The squish of her heart was like thundering suction ocean sounds in her ears. A sudden wave of vertigo passed over her and she felt like she was falling forward. She even had to put one bare foot in front of the other to brace herself before she tumbled into Morris’s lap. Boy, would he like that. Exactly what he was looking for, to have her tumble into his waiting erection. But how bad would that be?

Now her gaze traveled to Tommy. Saw him sitting there, his face drawn, but his eyes wide and alert. The muscles of his jaw flexed as he ground his teeth. His two hands were clasped together between his knees, and she saw him wringing them, his big knuckles swirling around each other as he struggled to deal with what he was watching.

Seeing him like that was definitely exciting. She knew the feeling that must be racing through him because it was probably quite similar to what she felt through her own central nervous system right this moment. This was crazy. It was wild. It was why they came to Africa.

Then Dio was there again, standing at her side this time. She felt his large, warm hand resting at the small of her back, just above her tailbone. The way he stood reminded her of being presented to someone—like he was introducing her at a party. Only instead of introductions, Dio now introduced to Morris some ground rules: he said, “No kissing her mouth. Don’t put your fingers inside her.” Then he pressed against the small of her back and she took one more step until her knees bumped the side of the chair where Morris sat.

Now old and demure Sukie returned, and she found her two hands coming together to cover her fairy cake. It was right where Morris’s eyes were looking.

She kind of wanted to be touched. Wouldn't mind feeling what his hands would be like on her. But not between her legs.

Now her eyes went back up to Tommy, took in what her husband might think of all this. His reaction had changed. He still watched grimly, but did nothing to prevent it.

Morris grinned. As his hand came up and touched behind her knee, she almost fell over him again. She felt a tremble pass through her and her bladder suddenly wanted to squirt something out. She pinched herself closed. His hand moved slowly up the back of her leg, and the hair on her scalp flexed like a cat's back. Her nipples clenched tighter, so tight they hurt. She fought the urge to cover them, to pinch them and relieve them because it would reveal the other thing to him. That was still hers, at least for the moment.

Morris's hand swept higher. It was warm, and very large. It moved smoothly over her skin because it had taken on some of the oil that she used. He came up and cupped her buttock and she liked it. His middle finger began to stroke along the seam where her cheek met the top of her thigh. He was looking to slip it along that line until it found her womanly creases.

So she slid one hip higher than the other and it closed her sex off. She leaned forward at the waist, twisting her hips now so that it was harder for him to reach her sex. But she would reach his sex.

Now her hands moved on his ribs, her right hand swooping along the bulges of his abdominal muscles, coming along until her fingernails actually swept the belt line underneath his pants in a wide circle—then back again, running along with her fingers slipping underneath his pants just a little deeper this time.

And now she found the back of her fingers under his pants, and the head of his penis resting on her fingernails.

Morris's grin turned to a smile, and she saw his unbelievably perfect white teeth. She smiled, too.

His hand began to mimic hers, stroking up and down her thigh as she rubbed the back of her fingers on the top side of his cock.

A glance up to the loveseat found Benny watching with wide eyes and open mouth, like he was watching a horror movie, and her husband maybe a little tenser but still not looking to stop what was happening. She'd like to see how far Tommy might let this go.

The belt that wove through Morris's pant loops was a military webbing style. The belt buckle was a lever, and she ran her hand over it, tucked her fingernails underneath its lip and released it.

He was so trim that his belly was not cinched at all by the belt's tightness. Instead, when the belt was undone his pants only relaxed. Slowly, she wound out the webbing from the buckle and let the two open ends dangle on either side of his fly. She undid the top button, her eyes moving up again to regard Tommy. He leaned farther forward, and now his hands were clasped together and he made flatulent noises with his tightly pressed palms suctioning in and out anxiously. His brow was lowered in anger and his jaw muscle was flexing a mile a minute. He could use his big boy words if he needed to, and she wouldn't hate him—but for now she was honestly curious to see what Morris's penis would look like.

She asked him that: "Is it all right if I take a look?"

Morris grinned broadly again, said nothing, but his hips began to flex, his butt muscles moving around on the chair, and his left hand now boldly coming up and cupping one of her hanging breasts. His thumb was warm, oily, and smooth, and he worked the cushion of his curled digit in circles around her iron-hard nipple.

"That feels good," she told him.

Her hand worked down his zipper. She saw the top line of his bright blue boxer shorts. She put a thumb in the waistband and tugged them forward, angling her head to take a peek in his shorts. Couldn't really see anything, but the act was mostly for show, trying to turn all these boys on. This slut wife who loved cock so much she couldn't wait to take a look at a new one. Shit, in a way it was kind of true.

She needed to change her angle so she could use two hands to take his penis out of his pants, so she reminded him, "Don't touch my pussy, okay?"

He nodded, but he didn't seem too trustworthy. Still, she rotated her hips in the opposite direction now, and if he wanted he could put his fingers right up inside her. She bent over at the waist, and her butt was thrust out. She kept her legs together, but that didn't matter.

As she put both hands into his waistband, Morris flexed his stomach and lifted his butt off the chair and she was able to shove them down low enough that she was could take the base of his cock in one hand and free it from the cotton of his boxer shorts. He was big. As big as Tommy maybe, and, of course very black. Blacker than his dark skin. He was circumcised, and the glans, though small and arrow shaped, was a blushing cherry color.

“It’s nice,” she told him in a distinctly pornographic voice meant to drive her husband wild. Dio, too, though it probably took a lot more to get him off than her husband.

WHEN THEY CAME TO AFRICA, he knew for sure that Sukie would sleep with Dio, but he never imagined the scene he saw here right now. It was unexpected. Not unwelcome, hurtful, yes, but so lubricious it had him enthralled and stopped him from interrupting.

Sukie was jerking off their armed guard. It was actually quite a beautiful sight. Seeing her completely naked with that perfect body of hers, so petite, and next to this perfectly built black man glistening with oil. He had a big dick, and his wife slowly stroked oil up and down its length.

He gritted his teeth and narrowed his eyes, but would not stop watching. Morris’s hands caressed her. He liked her body, and he wanted to explore it. While she stroked him off, he tweaked at her nipples, slipped his hand across her chest, felt her neck; his other hand worked up and down her legs. He tried to get between her knees and move up the inside of her thighs but she kept her legs too tightly closed. She didn’t want that.

Benny leaned forward now, sitting just like Tommy, and in his periphery Tommy saw that their driver had taken on a sweaty shine.

They looked at each other, their eyes meeting, Benny sheepish and worried looking. He chewed the inside of his cheek.

Tommy asked him, “Morris is okay? He’s a good guy?”

Benny cleared his throat, blinked, said, “He’s a good guy.” His voice was shaky, croaky, and Tommy wouldn’t know whether he was telling the truth or not but there was something about Benny that he liked so it would have to do.

Now Benny’s hands stroked up and down his own knees, and he rocked where he sat like he was becoming distressed. He leaned back in the chair and put his hands on the back of his neck with his elbows sticking out to the sides like wings. He watched with wild eyes as Sukie continued to jerk off his friend, and his friend got free reign to touch this beautiful woman’s body anywhere but between her legs. The front of Benny's pants had tented with a huge bowed bulge.

Benny rocked forward then stood upright next to Tommy. His hands still stayed clasped around the back of his neck with his fingers interlocked. He watched and took a step forward, took a step back. Dio, who was still standing right behind Sukie, watching her bare body up close, caught Benny in his periphery and he looked up and smiled. He waved Benny over.

Whatever hesitation was keeping Benny at bay, seeing Dio wave him to join was all it took for him to let his hands fall to his side and walk toward Dio.

As Benny walked, he pulled off his shirt, and he tossed it next to the pool. When he stood beside Dio, he was already unbuckling his belt and doing down his zipper.

Sukie looked over her shoulder and watched between his legs to see what he would reveal. Though he was older than Morris, he still had a good physique. His body didn't gleam because he didn't get the Sukie 'magic hands' oil treatment, but the intense sunlight still cast shadows of his big shoulders and ridged chest.

His pants fell to his knees, and before he pulled down his jet black briefs, he showed quite a bulge in the cotton fabric. Sukie squirmed a little while she waited.

Then it was revealed, Benny pulling down his underwear and proudly showing her his thick, uncircumcised cock. Despite Benny's boldness, Tommy could see his expression was still one of worry. But Sook liked what she saw, liked what had been presented to her.

Now with her knees still together and slightly bent, one hand still going up and down Morris's long cock, Sook reached out to trace her fingers along Benny's. He was fully hard, pointing upright, thick and gnarly with a bulging cock head that hid behind a long and very black foreskin. Sukie gripped it and stroked, and still didn't reveal the glans underneath. Tommy watched her chest heaving in and out with lusty breathing. His wife getting into this. His wife having the dirtiest time of her life so far from home.

Dio said to Benny, "Remember: no kissing, and don't put your fingers inside her. And do not try and put your dick in her either, understand?"

Both the men nodded, and Dio gave a big wide smile, smacked Sukie on the butt then came around the chair walking toward Tommy to join him where he sat on the loveseat.

CONTROL

AS DIO APPROACHED THE LOVESEAT, he laughed and said, “Well, holy shit, what do you think of this development, Tommy boy?”

Tommy didn’t answer, let his eyes return to the action on the deck. Morris had stood as well, his legs wide apart but still with his boots on and his pants hooped around his ankles. In both hands he cupped and coddled one of Sook’s big breasts. He sucked on the point of her shoulder and Sook still jerked him off in a slow and steady motion. Sook’s left hand gripped Benny’s thick tool overhand, too thick to close around, and she jerked him clumsily, her hand catching on the flared end of his big cock head but still not exposing his glans with all that foreskin. Benny cupped her other breast, and his hand spread wide across her ass, his fingers pressing into her feminine softness.

Dio said, “Hope you’re cool.”

“Sook’s a big girl, she can make up her own mind. Do what she wants. For now.”

“Hoo, man,” Dio said, settling back in the loveseat next to Tommy and crossing one leg over the other, squeezing his legs together against his probably hard cock. “Sook is so hot. Look at her, huh?”

“She’s beautiful,” he said, and the truth of that statement brought a smile on his face. She was. Even being a bad girl, a bad woman, doing dirty things while her husband and lover watched, she exuded innocence, strength, and womanhood.

Morris stooped to suckle her nipple, cupping her breast in both hands and mouthing his thick lips on her hardened bud. it made Tommy groan with something like enjoyment and concern. Morris had spread his legs wider and curled his pelvis forward so she could keep stroking his long cock. Benny had moved himself as close to her as he could, and one hand went over her tummy on one side and her back and ass on the other, moving fast like he knew this gift wouldn't be offered for long and he wanted to take as much as he could.

Still watching his Sukie, Tommy said to Dio, "This why Maria left you? This why you thought she was a prude? You wanted her to fuck other guys ..."

"I wanted to watch her fuck other guys."

"These guys?"

"Who—these two? No, other guys. But Maria would never do this for me."

"She's doing it for me."

Dio watched Sukie with drowsy eyes and smiled. "You know what I mean, Tommy."

Now Sukie was standing with the two men on either side of her. She was short between them, only as high as their collars. She stroked both of their cocks overhand now, running them up and down, their shafts held just above her waist. They looked so big against her body—but nowhere near as big as Dio.

There was something so crazy about seeing her with two men he didn't even know. It drove him wild despite the danger.

Her hand was small on their cocks. She worked them back-and-forth together. Benny's was shorter but much thicker and her hand struggled to circle it. The two men watched her face, and they kissed on her shoulders, Morris's kisses traveling to her neck. He kissed her jaw, working his way to her mouth, but Sukie didn't want that and she lifted her chin up and turned away. Still stroking him, Morris stayed content for now to suck on her neck.

Tommy said, "You don't even know these guys."

"Makes it hotter. Sides, what's to know?"

"You don't see Morris's scars?"

Dio shrugged, waved his hand like he pooh-poohed him. He said, "I got you here to protect me, Tommy. And tell me you're not fucking turned on seeing your Sukie like this." He leaned close and turned so their eyes met. He nodded low with his chin, eyes turning down to regard the bulge in Tommy's pants.

Benny's hands slowed on Sukie, getting into this a little more, calming, maybe thinking he didn't have to rush so much. Sukie let their cocks go, brought her hands up to hold both of their necks. Now the two men kissed her neck as she tilted her face up to the sky. She palmed the back of their heads while they kissed her, and Morris was bold enough to run his hand down between her legs and touch her there.

Tommy firmly said, "Not inside her."

Sukie went to her tiptoes, smiled a little, her face still closed off and in soft ecstasy. Morris stroked the inside of her thighs now, came up again and cupped her pussy. Benny ran his hand in a circle around her navel.

Sook went down on her heels, began to kiss Morris's collarbone, suckling on his shining black skin. Her hands came down again, running on their flat stomachs until she found her grip wrapped around their hard black shafts. Upright, her hands working together again, up and down in unison, jerking two strange men off.

Dio moaned, "Man, they want to fuck her so bad."

"No way," Tommy said, low and authoritative.

"You picture it though? Fuck, that would be hot. She totally wants it, too."

"No, she doesn't."

"She does, just won't give herself permission."

Dio had leaned back in his seat again, his legs crossed and probably flexing his thighs against his hard, massive cock. He smiled as he watched, his face lifted with glee. He had his hands in the pocket of his robe and in the one closest to Tommy he could see Dio fidgeted with something; crinkling plastic wrapper sounds from behind the terry cotton.

Morris and Benny had Sukie sandwiched. She had both arms circled around Benny's waist. Her left hand had grabbed his balls, and pulled them down hard, retracting his foreskin. Her right hand made polishing circles on his exposed glans. It was surprisingly lighter in color, flared like a huge mushroom. Behind her, Morris held her like he danced with her. His two hands went up and down her shoulders and along her slim sides. His big long cock was pressed up against her back. He dipped at the hips to slide its base along her ass crack.

"Tommy, let them fuck her. Least Morris."

Tommy shook his head. This was rattling him—too many things coming at him at once, just when he thought he had a good grip, too. What was the right thing here? Let Sukie decide? She was an independent woman and all that, right? What about his say?

Sukie had turned around now, and it was Benny who had her from behind, his hands running over her like she was the most amazing thing he'd ever seen. And she was, too. Smooth and perfect skin. So beautiful. Her blonde hair looked white against her tan, and despite the color of her skin she looked pale next to the two black African men. Their cocks were even blacker against her. Benny ran his through her ass crack now, wide thing going up and down her tailbone, his wriggling black foreskin shaking as he thrust up and down.

Sukie rocked her head on Morris's chest as she sucked on one of his black nipples. She stroked his cock with her hand, held at her waist. Morris watched her mouth work on him and held her breasts, lifting, holding their weight, squeezing them.

Dio said, "Why don't you lay out with them on the floor, get more comfortable. You don't wanna stand like that, do you?"

Sook didn't look over, but she heard because she paused now, her stroking hands slowing and only holding their cocks. Her eyes turned up to regard Morris, like she wanted to know what he wanted to do.

Tommy said, "Finish up, Sook."

Sukie still regarded Morris and bit at her lower lip while she contemplated what she would do. Benny gripped her narrow waist, and he held her ass steady while he ran his oily cock through her ass cheeks.

"Imagine those two guys, Tommy, glistening in the sun, your little Sook skewered between them, making those sounds she makes. You know the ones."

"Use your hands, Sook," Tommy said to her.

"Bet we could even get our own dicks in her, too, once she's primed. Four of us fucking her senseless, and that little tiger would beg for more, trust me."

"You got condoms in your pocket, don't you?" he said.

"Yeah ..." Dio said hopefully.

"Keep 'em in your fuckin' pocket."

"Aw, come on, Tommy. Can't you picture how your Sook would love that?"

"My rules, Dio."

Dio huffed an exasperated puh sound, leaned forward. “Let them look at that little puss, at least, Sook. It’s such a pretty one. Least show it to them.”

Sukie smiled while their hands caressed her. Her body was writhing now. She bit at her lower lip, the corners of her smile tugging a little higher, her white teeth dragging on her lips shining from the oil she’d kissed off their bodies. Slowly, her pelvis curled forward, and she tilted her sex up to be seen.

Morris was eager to look, and he dropped to one knee, eyes level with her pink sex. Her labia had grown full and glistened with her own excitement. Morris’s hands touched her thighs, slid up to frame the V of her sex and pushed to stretch her skin up. It tugged at her opening, and her labia clung together with the sticky damp she produced, but Morris continued to pull until they came apart and he could see her pink insides; wet and eager.

“Hoo, look at that,” Dio said. “Imagine putting your dick up in that. Doesn’t she have a nice one?”

Morris nodded, but the lust had built so high, his neck was stiff, his movement drowsy; mesmerized by that pretty thing between Sukie’s legs.

All this talk of her perfect pussy had Benny wanting to see, too. Only he was a gentleman, guiding Sook back a step to sit on the dining room chair.

She looked like a queen on it with her perfect body, perfect skin and hair, totally naked, sitting on a throne and shining in the sunlight with two muscular men attending to her. They both kneeled before her and she opened her legs so they could inspect her.

They each ran a hand up and down the insides of her thighs and got Sook trembling. Tommy could see her excited breath in the rapid rising and falling of those big teardrop breasts.

Tommy said, “Finish them off, Sukie, okay? We gotta get going.”

“Lay back with them, Sook. Lay out on the deck and do it that way.”

“Don’t lay with them, Sook. Just hurry up.”

“Hurry up?” Dio said disapprovingly.

Sook’s eyes fluttered, but when they opened they met Tommy’s. He gave her his best shot, eyeballs shooting love, compassion, support, but also a request; a desire to be truly heard.

Benny was on her left and she leaned over to him, extended her hand down between his legs and pulled him to stand by his thick cock. He shuffled close, his pants bunched up around his boots. One of her hands coddled his balls, the other circled his shaft as best she could. With his balls tugged down, she had his foreskin retracted and now she got a good grip on it and worked her other hand in a swirling, slippery circle. With her eyes turned up, she watched the expression on his face she put there with the pleasure her hand delivered.

Morris leaned over her lap and got two handfuls of her big breasts and he pushed them together, his mouth kissing and sucking each of her nipples.

With her hand on Benny's cock moving faster and faster it wasn't long before she had the man rocking where he stood, his thighs trembling and quivering, his breath heaving in and out.

She nodded while she kept his gaze, encouraging him, letting him know she wanted him to come.

"Do it," she softly urged him.

Benny came in a pulsing fountain. Not spurts, but a continuous though pulsating stream that looked like he was urinating a weak fountain; only it was clearly thick, viscous, pearly white semen.

"Oh wow, oh wow, mm, oh no," Sokie chanted, watching this man's cock in her hand send out an unbroken stream of wet and white excitement.

Her hand gripped the flared rim of his cock head and squeezed and rocked, his thick and copious foreskin bunched up in her grip to keep his big glans exposed.

"Oh wow," she laughed as it kept coming though beginning to weaken. Her eyes darted quickly to his face as her thumb teased the underside of the head, running circles in the split like she coaxed more from him. It drizzled down her hand and forearm.

Benny couldn't look at her and he closed his eyes, both hands on his stomach, body bucking and jumping as the stream abated to a dribble.

He'd come on her thigh and all over her hands and Sook held them out so she wouldn't get any more on her. Morris was moving though, aroused to greater heights seeing what this hot wife had just done to his partner. He was on his knees now, getting between her thighs, kissing her chest then up her neck. From where Dio and Tommy sat it looked like he would enter her, slide that long cock up inside Sook without a condom. Her arms came around his neck, hands still dripping Benny's product, and her knees lifted, too, her ankles coming around his bare ass.

"Whoah, Sook," Tommy said, and rose up off the chair.

Dio pulled him back by his belt, and it was the closest yet Tommy had come to punching his boss.

He thumped back down, but now he could see that Sook sat back with her breasts presented and Morris had risen higher. Two breasts squashed together, he ran his black cock back and forth through them, the cherry glans popping out of her glistening flesh and touching her collar. Sook made an unquenched lust face, like a woman so close to an orgasm, but knowing it just couldn't be reached.

As Morris fucked her tits, her body rocking, she turned to Benny who stood there dumbly with his thick cock sagging and dribbling semen. "Hold my hair back," she said.

Benny helped her, shuffling around behind the chair to gather up her bright blonde hair off her shoulders, gathered in a tail behind her head. As Morris got closer and closer to orgasm, she pinched her expression like she'd just jumped off a diving board and was about to splash in the pool, lips pursed to a tight sphincter, eyes in narrow slits, cheeks puffed out like she held her breath.

Morris roared and growled, tensed, then ejaculated on Sook's chest. his body jumped and bucked and he held her breasts roughly, his cock squeezed tightly between them. Semen flitted out and over her collar and neck in short quick darts, accompanied by a growl each time.

It took a while, but he finally stopped pulsing his semen, his stomach heaving in and out with his rasping breath. He let her breasts go, and they sagged aside, long red fingerprints left across them. Sukie chuckled, gave a smile but made eye contact with no one. She got up, stood before them all as if this was no big thing, semen running her cleavage and down her tummy. She swiped up her robe and dabbed at herself then tossed it aside.

Tommy's heart raced a mile a minute. The two men looked exhausted. Morris had taken her spot in the chair, sprawled in it with his legs wide, one bent, one straight, pants still hooped over his boots and his cock sticking straight up. Benny watched her with bewildered expression.

Sukie acted cool as can be, shook her hair out from the gathered bunch Benny had made, then walked away from them. Hips sawing from side-to-side in a burlesque sashay she strutted her way inside the house. It was a confident and powerful walk and while he really liked it, he was pretty sure it was faked.

STAKES

TOMMY FOUND his wife in the glass-walled shower in the master suite's bathroom. She had the water so hot the mirror had gone foggy even though the room was open-air. He came in and leaned on the bathroom counter and folded his arms, watching her. She knew he was there, and her movements were already fast. He could see her blurry, naked body through the glass, saw that she was sudsed up with soap. She was running a bar in rapid circles, swirling all over her body, going over her stomach and then moving down her legs.

She thunked the soap down in its dish, and he saw that blurry shape pull its hair back from its face and wring the wet out. The water still running, she cracked the door open enough and stuck her pretty face out. Her expression was wild and bewildered. She showed rosy blossoms on her tanned cheeks. She looked more beautiful than he'd ever seen her. That perfect face fully exposed, her darkened hair slick and wet, pulled back to show it off. Her lips were parted, puffed and pouting from the lusty excitement this morning.

Her eyes met his, and they stared for a moment. Finally, she said, "That was crazy ... did you see that?"

"I did."

"What the fuck was that?" she said.

"Get out here," he said.

"Yeah," she gasped, nodded, disappeared back inside the shower stall. He watched her foggy body turn the lever for the tap and close off the water. Now she appeared in the gap again, pushing it open and stepping her bare feet out onto the grid work of emerald tiles. He snatched a towel from the counter, snapped it open and held it for her to come to him.

She took the four steps, and he was surprised that they weren't more tentative. Again, had she done two months ago what he watched down below on the deck, she would've been devastated. She would've been shaking; she would've come to him so frightened, so worried, but now it seemed more like while she knew what she did was crazy, they were in this together. And he had to appreciate that.

So as she got close, he closed her up in the big oversized fluffy towel and held her body. She rested her cheek on his neck, her wet soaking into the fabric of his shirt. He rested his chin in her slick hair. Her arms were folded together over her chest, hands under her chin—she sighed. Content in his arms.

He asked her: "What the fuck was that?"

"I know, right? What is wrong with me? When I started that massage I was completely sure nothing would happen."

"But it sure did. You okay?"

"God, I feel so horny and so ... disgusted with myself at the same time."

"It was hot." The way he said it was honest, but it wasn't gushing and overflowing with emotion. Sure, it was hot, but if it hadn't happened, he wouldn't have thought about wanting it.

"Was it?" she asked, and she pulled back a little so their eyes would meet.

He didn't know what to say anymore. He kept it simple. "I love you."

She gave him a weird smile and lowered her eyes from his. Just one half of her pouty mouth tugging to one side making a funny dimple. Then she said, "I love you, too."

He said, "Okay? You had your fun, you got mind-controlled by your big dick Svengali, we can go home now."

"Did he mind control me? I didn't want to do what I did down there, but I did it."

"Dio has power. He's got power over you."

"No, he doesn't."

"Sure, he doesn't."

"Does he?"

With perfect timing, Dio appeared in the open doorway of the bathroom, big smile, leaning a shoulder on the doorjamb. He said, "There's my tiger."

"I'm here," she said. Sukie stood up now, pushing off of him and gathering the towel around herself. Instead of tucking it under her armpits like she might've done at home, she shook it out, standing there naked in front of the two of them. Her breasts bounced, and the two men stared, then she draped the towel around her shoulders like a cowl. "Wasn't that crazy?" she said. Tommy could see in her little girl expression she looked for approval from her lover.

"Turned me on," Dio said.

"Did you like it?"

Dio eased off the doorjamb and stepped into the bathroom to join them. He held his palms out at his sides and without even asking her to, Sukie took two steps and he encircled her in a hug—holding her just like her husband had a minute ago with his chin on the top of her sweet head.

"I loved it, that's the tiger I was looking for. You're my special girl."

Tommy said, "Great. Well, you and your special girl need to pack your bags because we gotta get out of here."

"We got an hour," Dio said. "There's a lot we can do in an hour."

"We got half an hour." Tommy said.

Dio said, "No, the guys are picking us up in an hour."

Sukie stepped back from Dio and said, "The guys?—oh no, they're taking us to the helipad." Not a question, a realization.

"They are," Dio said. "Maybe I'll get behind the wheel and you can sit in the back with them."

Sukie shook her head and turned to face her husband. "Tommy, I can't ride with them to the helipad. I can't see them again."

He said, "I know. I took care of it."

"Come on, Tommy. Ruin all the fun?" Dio said.

To Sukie, Tommy said, "I called for a private ride."

"You did?"

"I did. Don't worry. But we really should get out of here. It'll be here in half an hour."

Dio stepped to join them, standing behind Sukie, he put his hands on her shoulders and said, "Still a lot we can do in half an hour."

Tommy held out his hand for Sukie. He said, "It's time to get going."

As she took a step toward him, Dio took her wrist. “Half an hour, Sook. One half hour left in Africa.”

It stopped her, and she stood between them, looking back at Dio—but she turned her face to her husband and asked, “Are we in danger?”

He said, “Probably not.”

Dio said, “Don’t you like danger?”

“What’s with those questions you asked Morris?” Sukie said. “Is Morris a bad guy?”

He told her: “Honestly, probably not. But it’s hard to tell. He could be ZANU, he could be G40, or he could be none of those. Maybe he’s the opposite. Those marks on his body aren’t that old. And if he came up here less than a year ago, maybe it was after the failed coup. Or maybe he just retired from the Army and got himself a cushy job up in the Safari area ...” He shrugged and lifted his hands, showing the size of the unknown. “I do know we’re not riding to the airport with him after he had that little taste of you, and I do know in half an hour we’re getting in that car I called.”

Dio said, “Relax, Tommy, those guys are pussycats.”

Sukie said, “Dio thinks everyone’s a pussycat.”

“You never know, Dio. You never know what someone can do.”

To Dio now, Sukie said, “We should go.”

Dio tugged her wrist her so her back fell against his chest. He put his hands around her front and settled them, one over her tummy, one resting over the towel in the V of her mound. He said, “One more time, Sook. The things I watched you do down there got me so I can’t stop thinking about you. No way I can get on a plane without having you. Don’t you want me one more time?”

Sukie nodded, then bit at her lower lip.

Dio said, “You’re mine while we’re here. All mine. And I want you right now.”

Tommy broke the news to him: “You got her for less than one half hour, Dio, if she wants you. But things are going to change when we go home to Atlanta. In a lot more ways than one.”

DIO SLIPPED a hand underneath the hem of her towel and his bare fingers touched her skin. She squirmed against them, rubbed her shoulders against his hard chest. His hand eased down and touched her bare mound. She could feel his large arousal, hard but hanging down and pressing into her ass.

Yes, she knew they had to get out of here. She understood. Tommy would take care of things because Tommy was the man. But one more time was something she needed.

Dio spoke over top of her head, saying to Tommy, “What?—no more appointments? No more Tuesday and Thursday afternoons laying on Sook’s table? I thought you said she could make up her own mind.”

Tommy said, “She can make up her own mind. She wants to keep you as a client, you can keep coming.”

Dio slipped the pad of his middle finger over her clit in ticklish circles. It was hard and bursting. He went around it three times then pushed upward, slipping his middle finger inside her. She moaned.

Dio said, “What’s going to change?”

“My sales contract ends with Megalos in three months.”

She felt Dio’s chest chuckle against her back. He said, “Oh, come on, Tommy. You can’t be mad at me now. This is what we came to Africa for. Sukie told me you wanted this for her.”

“I did.”

“So what happens in three months?—you’re gonna get me back for all the fun we had this weekend? You wanted this, too.”

“I did. I’m not mad at you.”

Dio still worked his finger inside her. He wound it in circles, and stroked it in and out, but she felt the tension in his wrist where it rested over her hip.

Tommy folded his arms over his chest and leaned to sit his butt against the lip of the counter. He said, “I’m not mad at you at all. When we go back to Atlanta, we’re all going to have to get used to the fact that I’m the boss is all.”

“Sure, Tommy,” Dio said, “Who doesn’t know you’re the boss?” There was a friendly but snide eye-roll in Dio’s voice.

Tommy smiled now, too, and said, “You’re gonna have to keep me happy you want me to re-sign.”

“I know that.”

“Gotta keep Sook happy, too.”

“That right, Tommy?” Dio laughed, the tension left his wrist and now his finger stirred inside her again and her legs began to dance. “So if I don’t keep Sukie happy you won’t re-up?”

Tommy said, “More complicated than that.”

“Is it?” Dio said, the movement of his fingers slowing again.

Tommy said, “Might be out of the sales game.”

“I see. You ready to retire?”

“I’m a stakeholder in a mine.”

Dio said, “Right, Tommy bought a mine.”

“Kal bought the mine. I just got a stake in it.”

That stopped Dio, and he slid his finger out of her, moved his hand away from her crotch. She gasped at the speed of his swiping finger withdrawing, took a step away, flexed her stomach muscles, her ass; did a Kegel. Dio frowned now, and he grabbed a hand towel off a copper ring mounted on the wall. He dried her wet off his fingers, eyeballing Tommy. He said, “What kind of mine?”

Tommy said, “Molybdenum. Turns out the DoD wants Molly. Lots of it. On the hush-hush. I staked the contracts from ‘em and Kal paid. Now I’m three percent in KBL Multinational Mining. Like a finder’s fee.”

Dio licked his lips, plopped the hand towel on top of the toilet tank and crossed his arms like Tommy, staring at him, studying him. Seems like her satisfaction was forgotten now, and she still felt waves humming in concentric radiation from her sexual core. But there was an intensity in the room, a palpable quiet as her two men stared at each other.

She stayed quiet, too, drawn in by their confrontation, then her husband said, “I’m ten mil richer than when I woke up this morning.”

That silence drew like a long thin line, a woven metal cable being drawn in opposite directions by two large and powerful tractors, its strands popping and zinging under the strain. All the pieces came together in her mind. Crazy Tommy. Old Tommy. Tommy the Man. Young Dio. Dio the Boy. Tommy just schooled him.

She was the snapping cable that broke the silent tension: a loud, bright laugh burst from her then she clapped a hand over her mouth and brayed more laughter into it.

Dio chuckled nervously and shifted his stance. His frown deepened, and he licked his lips again. “On paper you’re richer,” he scoffed.

Tommy reached over and took the wrist held up toward her mouth. She let it fall, and he wove his fingers through hers and she moved to stand at his side. Tommy said to Dio, “You think this mine won’t throw ore? Think Kal’s a dud?”

“You’re fucking kidding.”

“What do I need to hustle machines for any more?”

“Don’t fuck around, Tommy. This isn’t funny.” Dio unfolded his arms but didn’t know what to do with his hands. He stuffed them into the pockets of his robe. “Can you even do that?—legally?”

“My contract with you? I’m not on payroll, you don’t own my time. Yes, I can do that.”

“Well, what the fuck, Tommy,” Dio said softly now, incredulously.

Tommy said, “We got three months for me to decide if I re-sign. We’ll see how happy I am.”

“What’s going to make you happy?”

“I’d like everyone to know who the boss is.”

“You’re the boss, Tommy. You know you are.”

“I know I am. And, yeah, everyone knows it, but let’s make it official.”

“Tommy, I can do that,” Dio said, recovering and getting a hold of his confidence again, giving Tommy his deal-making charm.

Tommy said, “Yeah, you can. With what I accomplished here in Africa, in three days, your Pop will step down for good and you’re moving up. That makes me VP.”

“It does, Tommy, it does, and not cause you’re threatening me.”

“I’m not threatening you, Dio, I swear.”

“You’re VP, Tommy,” Dio said, in a fait accompli manner, with his hands up and head turned away like there were no other way he would have it.

Sukie’s eyes swelled up suddenly in an overwhelming wave. There it was again: admiration. She admired her husband. Even when he put a knife in Dio, showed him he’s the man with the biggest proverbial dick in the room he showed compassion. He had shaped a narrow path for young Dio to save face. There was no other choice for his young boss but to acquiesce, but her husband let the boy believe he could retain face and they would salvage their relationship. She squeezed her husband’s hand with love and blinked away a strange and unexpected wet.

Then she did her duty: she broke the tension, saying, "This is the kinkiest performance review I've ever been to."

"Your Tommy is good. Me fucking you brings out the best in him." Dio nodded, and she could see that same respect there in his eyes as he regarded her husband. Dio smiled now, eyes on Tommy, mouth quirked up on one side like he was trying to restrain it.

The front of Dio's robe was still bowed out, his cock hanging down but lifting up to push against the terry cotton. She reached out with her toes and pinched the fabric, peeled the flap apart and Dio's cock lifted free in the gap.

She said, "All this, and my boyfriend's still hard." She lifted his engorged cock with her foot and let it rest over her ankle.

Dio looked to her now, said, "I'm a stud. What can I say?"

Tommy said, "Dio gets off on it. He likes danger because he's a little boy and he needs a man to come home and tell him not to run around the house with fuckin' scissors. He likes to be disciplined, but no one's ever done it for him 'cause he's a spoiled playboy."

"You're such an asshole," Dio said, eyes narrow, but still smiling. "So what, now you're going to make me fuck Suki? You don't gotta."

Tommy said, "If you're good to my wife, KBL might consider buying a fuckton of machines from Megalos."

"Oh fuck, Tommy," Dio groaned, breathing deep so his chest puffed out the front of his robe. There was excitement in his glassy eyes.

"It's not a deal yet. Suki decides if it's a deal."

"Yeah?"

To her, Tommy said, "You've got a lot of power here, Sook. You like it?"

"I like it just fine, Tommy," she said, moving her foot where it rested against Dio's leg, his cock stiffer now over her ankle, his sticky foreskin beginning to roll back.

Tommy reached over and parted the opening of her towel shroud, said, "Look how hard her nipples are, Dio. I think she's going to go easy on you. She likes you."

With her hand tugging her towel, covering over her rock hard nipples, she scolded her husband: "Tommy, don't do that ..."

He said, "But if I were you, Dio, I'd bring your A game because Megalos has a lot riding on how you please my wife."

“He’s bringing his A game, Tommy,” she said, and bounced his cock a little on her foot.

Now she looked in Dio’s eyes and she liked what she saw. He was into it. This was all a game to him and he knew they all liked to play. It was like he knew he’d been beaten but respected the game; knew there would be more games, more opportunities. Dio admired Tommy, and part of him wanted her because of her sexuality, but part of it was to possess something Tommy earned, to take it from Tommy, please it better, look to hear he’s better than Tommy. Dio had a Tommy problem.

Eyes still on Dio, showing him her smile, she said to Tommy, “What if I want my husband now instead?”

“You get your husband when we go back home. This is your goodbye fuck, Sukie. I suggest you take it.”

She breathed deep and hummed thoughtfully, put her foot down and watched Dio’s beautiful cock poke straight out from the gap in his robe.

She decided, saying, “Tommy’s right. I think we should pack and get out of here.”

FIRST CLASS

IN FIRST CLASS, sitting side-by-side with her husband thirty-thousand feet in the air, Sukie wished they had the same flight attendant they did on Friday. It would be too much to hope for, too much of a coincidence. She'd sure like for that woman to see her sitting this time with another man. The one who was her husband.

Sure, on the way to Africa she'd been frisky—and quite frankly super horny—and she sat with Dio and they'd done their dirty little things, talked slyly to one another. But that flight attendant would see something different today.

Today she would see the husband and wife who were really in love. And who really got one another.

She wasn't kidding when she said she admired Tommy. She really did. She hoped he admired her, too. She didn't know what for, but she knew she wanted his respect.

What happened while they were away in Africa was crazy. She'd been a bad girl. But it felt good to have it out of her system. It felt good to do it for herself as well as her husband. She went too far maybe, staying up late while Tommy was in bed and messing around with Dio.

She knew it was a bad idea when Dio poured a glass of wine. Knew it was a bad idea when they started kissing by the fire. But by that point, her body started telling her: What the hey? Why not? You guys already fucked a whole bunch of times, what was a couple more? And yeah, when she was so worked up like that, her hormones zipping through her body and making her do crazy things, she was maybe a little easy to manipulate. Dio took advantage of it.

He was a guy who got what he wanted. He was a guy who got women to do the things that they thought he wanted them to do. Why? He was the height of manhood. Truly physically beautiful. In all aspects. Then he was rich, confident; he had it all. A guy like that could get in your head. It was hard to believe that she'd ever massaged Morris in such a sultry way. When it started, she figured it was just another massage. Then the next thing she knows, she's talked herself into doing what Dio wanted: she's got the guy's dick out of his pants and stroking it. It wasn't like she didn't like it. God, it was so crazy. It wasn't her. She was a mom, a good one ...

It was going to be nice to go back to their home. Back to her old life. Back to the book club and back to reading about crazy fantasies like this. She was already blessed with too much. More than one woman could ever hope for. Her husband was a dynamo. Good-looking, great in the sack, dutiful, dedicated, and a good dad. Sure, the guy was a little devious, what could you expect when he was a salesman? He was good at what he did. He sold her on this whole thing from the very beginning. In many ways, she was just another piece moved around on his chessboard, and he was way more the master than Dio would ever be. Dio moved her hormones, her lust; Tommy moved her being. Her soul. She laughed, giggled in her seat, crossed one leg over the other and covered her mouth.

"What's going on over there?" Tommy asked her, giving her a funny little smile, in his white dress shirt with a button-down collar and khaki pants. He looked good with his first-class scotch glass in his hand.

"Just thinking to myself. And I was getting a little melodramatic."

"You do like your fantasies," he said and held her gaze.

"I sure do," she said. She smiled then, leaned closer, and he dipped his head down so she could kiss his lips.

"Thank you," she said. "I didn't know I needed this weekend, but I did. I learned a lot. And had a lot of fun, too, Tommy. And I love you."

"Boy, you just keep the melodrama coming."

She gave him a little girl face and pouted out her lower lip as far as she could. "Don't you love me?"

"Of course I do, Sook."

"Tell me."

"I'll tell you that. I love you. I'll tell you a lot more. But let's not do it here."

She looked around the first-class cabin, saw that while they had the luxury of privacy, it wasn't exactly private.

Across the aisle, sitting in the solo seat angled slightly away from them, was Dio. Also looking super hot, dressed up now in black pants and white dress shirt like Tommy. Although she knew he didn't shower. There was no time. In fact, he probably wore a lot of her body fluids smeared all over his beautiful body.

They'd packed hastily, Tommy leading the way. Dio fell in step behind her husband, and when the car arrived to take them to the airport, Dio even held the door for them.

She leaned close to her husband now and said, "Can I ask about the mine?"

"What about it?"

"You're joking?"

"I wasn't joking at all." Now her husband looked a little shiftily toward Dio, leaned close and said, "But don't spend that money just yet."

"I don't have any plans, Tommy."

"Dio was right," Tommy said. "It might pay, or it might not. If it does, it won't be tomorrow, anyway."

"I don't care about the money anyway, Tommy," she said and let her head fall back on the leather seat. "I like the success though."

Tommy asked her: "Want to watch a movie?"

"To be honest, Tommy," she said, and now she looked around a little slyly. She leaned close and whispered in his ear, "I am still a little horny. And I think technically we're still in Africa."

"What? You want a mile high with Dio?"

"No, that's not what I meant. I mean I'm still on my sex holiday. I told you, I wanted you," she said and now she drew over the blanket and put it across her lap.

Tommy watched her as she gave him her sex face and he chuckled, gave a quiet animal groan. "What if you don't go back to normal?"

They were silent for a moment, eyes watching each other, and then she asked him: "Want to meet me in the bathroom?"

He took a sip of the scotch, said, "I'd love to. But I don't want to do it on the plane. When we're down on American soil, and Dio's not around, you're gonna be in big trouble."

“I can’t wait,” she told him, “and I know you’re not a big talker. Why don’t you put your hand under the blanket?”

Tommy smiled, set his drink down. He picked up a napkin from his tray and dried his hands off. He looked around a little, watched for the flight attendant, shifted in his seat so he could face her, plopped down his elbow, and eyed her closely with a shoulder up to his cheek. His hand rested on her thigh under the blanket.

She said, “I didn’t have time to put on panties we had to get out of there so fast.”

He smiled, still looking in her eyes. Now his hand cupped around the inside of her thigh and slid higher. She bit her lower lip and smiled at him, wagging her hips in the seat.

Past Tommy’s shoulder, she could see Dio’s movie had ended. He shifted in the seat and was looking around for a flight attendant—probably going to order another drink. She caught his eye, and he looked at her. While Tommy slipped his finger up and down her labia, she took the blanket and pulled it a little higher. She parted her legs and made a snarling face at Dio.

He looked at her, nonplussed. Looked between her legs and saw what his dirty tiger did with her husband. Now his eyes met hers, and he raised one eyebrow. Slowly, his handsome smile curled up, forming a dimple in his tanned cheek.

While Tommy fingered her, she gave Dio a mean, snarling tiger face. He winked, shifted in his seat again and faced forward. His hand came up and rubbed his neck and then he gave her the middle finger, extending it to scratch his ear. She laughed.

CAPTAIN

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20

SOOK'S NAILS ran furry lines in the roof of her X6 parked in an underground alcove with VISITOR stenciled on the concrete wall outside the window. She straddled his hips in the backseat of their family vehicle like they were a couple of horny teenagers. He couldn't possibly be harder, no way, no how. His cock stretched to its fullest, hard as steel and he felt every bit of her canal, the tip of him rubbing up and down against her cervix. Sook rolled her hips on him, mashed her box forward, her pinkness grinding his pubic hair, squashing and punishing her hard button against him.

With her hands up and flat on the roof of the BMW she pushed her sex down hard on him, looking to get him deeper. Her body began to tremble and buck, her thighs jumping. His hands stroked them, her skirt up around her waist. From her throat she began a panting, crying sound, and he watched as she bared her teeth and her sobs became whimpers.

"Sook, look at me," he grunted, "look at me ..."

Her head thrust forward and her hair tangled in his face, but they connected their gaze; hers through tight and narrow vision, her eyes showing wet.

He said, "Come with me, Sook, let's come together."

She gave him a rapid, eager head nod, panting soft quick breaths in his face.

He reached up and took her hands, and they laced their fingers together. His balls tightened to his core, pulled up into his body it felt like, and he felt the hoses and cords that connected his balls to his penis pull taut, his pump was primed and his seminal vesicles fully engaged. Semen swirled and roiled, swelled his tubes, and he and the love of his life kept their connection, eyes boring into one another as he felt his cock swell with the coming onslaught.

He coughed and choked, held his gaze to hers as it exploded out of him, blasting his magma against the door of her womb. When Sook felt it, her eyes quivered, her eyebrows tented up high, and she squeaked lovingly, “Oh, Tommy ...”

She gave in first, collapsing against his chest as she came, crying deep ecstatic sobs into his neck and running her claws over his shoulder. Their orgasm buzzed through them for a minute and they held each other tightly clutched.

Two married people in love, holding each other in the backseat of their car in the underground parking below his brother’s apartment. Somewhere almost directly above them, their sweet boys probably impatiently awaited them, bags packed, feet tapping, driving poor Brenda crazy. But they needed this so bad.

Sukie slid off him, heaving an exhausted sigh. She sagged into the bench next to him, side by side, both of them panting and staring up at the lines her nails had drawn on the roof.

“Ho, fuck, Tommy,” she laughed after a long while of the two of them listening to each other trying to catch their breath.

“I know,” he panted, “I know ...”

Now he was sitting up, groaning, turning around to reach into the back hatch and retrieve a shirt from his suitcase. When he turned back, he plopped himself shoulder to shoulder with his wife and he smacked the bundled shirt between her open legs. Sook took it over with both hands, clutching it to her slit and wiping at herself.

“That’s how you do it, Tommy,” she chuckled.

“You’re welcome,” he said and slapped his hand over her knee and held it.

She moaned and pinched her thighs together. “Oh Tommy, my pussy is literally aching.”

“Want me to kiss it better?”

“We have to pick up the boys,” she lamented.

“Get back to real life.”

“I have to gear down,” she sighed, opened her thighs and scrubbed between her legs.

“Did we break it?”

“Maybe,” she laughed. “I’m still so horny, Tommy. It aches, but it aches good. What is wrong with me?”

“Looks to me like everything is right. What do you think is wrong?”

“I’m hornier than when I was a kid, Tommy.”

“When you fucked those big football players, one in front, one in back ...?”

She thumped him with her fist and gave a light laugh.

Now his face went serious, and he said, “Sook, look at me. I own this pussy. You understand that?”

She looked in his eyes with love, said, “Uh-huh,” and gave her head a little nod. “Tell me.”

“It’s mine, Sook. Bought and paid for with that ring on your finger. I might lease it out when I’m in the mood, but without my say-so, this little thing,” now he nudged the bunched shirt away and grabbed her labia and held them closed, gave them a light shake, “belongs to Tommy Travis.”

“Uh-huh,” she said, watching him still, her teeth clamping down on a thumbnail.

“No jerking guys off on your massage table.”

“Tommy. Sukie’s Magic Hands LLC is a legitimate business. I don’t do that.”

“I think my Tiger needs a leash.”

“Your tiger does need a leash,” she said, and she climbed so their chests pressed together and her face was over his. She made a low purring sound then kissed his lips. “Only guy I jerked off on my massage table was Dio. That wasn’t business that was pleasure. Now let’s get upstairs and pick up our boys. I miss them so much.”

They were quite a moment, Sukie still draining, then Tommy said, “How about Benny? See that guy come?”

Sukie chuckled quietly and covered her mouth and nose with her hands. She spoke an echoed voice through them, saying, “I know, I saw. What the hell was that?”

Tommy laughed then, too, took a stick of gum out of his pocket and unwrapped it, broke it in half offering one part to Sook. He said, “He’s a married guy, apparently. Someone’s wife’s not doing their duty, I think.”

“I didn’t think it was going to stop coming out of him. And his balls weren’t even that big.”

He turned to look at the side of her face, said, “Hot?”
She thought about it for a moment, said, “Kind of hot.”
“You liked Morris?”
She turned up her nose and shook her head, grimacing.
“You didn’t like him?”
“It’s not that,” she said quietly.
“You don’t want to talk about Morris and Benny?”
She gave a small, tight smile and lowered her eyes. “No.”
“Did you want to fuck them?”
“I honestly don’t know. Did you not want me to?”
“I don’t really know. I thought I didn’t.”
“But now ...?”
“I don’t know. Dio gets in my head, too. Maybe I didn’t because I didn’t want him to control you.”
“He doesn’t control me, Tommy.”
“Not so you see it.”
“Tommy, I ...” she looked around, palms up as she struggled to explain herself. She surrendered, turned to him and smiled, cocking her head and saying, “Can we just go get our boys—I’m dying to have them in my arms ...”

AT THE VILLAGE CREAMERY, he sat with his Sook, the two of them on the picnic table top, their feet on the bench. The boys had finished the Banana Split Sundae they shared combatively, and now raced around the grass and down by the river’s shallow edge, fueled on sugar.

Sook said, “I can feel myself gliding in for a landing now.”

He looked to see her profile as she watched her boys. They faced the setting sun, and she was lit in golden pink, bright blobs of fluorescent light glowing in those beautiful eyes of hers. The sun picked up the stray strands of her travel weary blonde hair and shone them in white. In her hand, she held a short waffle cone, pink rosewater ice cream licked down to a hump.

“That little puss stop growling?” he asked.

“You’re such a perv,” she laughed.

“Me? Me?” He leaned over to bump up against her.

“Little puss,” she grumbled with humor, licked a little more ice cream with her pink tongue. “That’s my sweet fairy cake, if you don’t mind.”

“I don’t mind at all.”

Looking at their boys down by the water’s edge, she said, “This is really nice.”

It was early evening in the village and the creamery was moderately busy, people from the neighborhood taking advantage of the warm fall weather. A young high school couple were on a nervous looking date at the picnic table beside them. Tommy J had re-purposed the acrylic tray the sundae had been served in to some sort of bass boat, and he and Bobby both had their shoes and socks off and were wading past their ankles, probably hunting for crawfish again. Poor crawfish.

“It is nice,” he agreed. “Returning to normal?”

“Yeah,” she sighed, smiling and nodding, playing with the wax paper that wrapped her cone.

Bobby stood up, pulling something out of the water. He held a huge bullfrog by its middle, its long back legs paddling idly, held up in the air where both boys could watch it with wonder.

Sook called out: “You be good to Mr. Frog, okay, boys?”

They both turned to regard her, their faces at once obedient and yet guilty.

“Okay, Mom,” Tommy J called back, and now they both stooped and set the sundae container up to be the frog’s dinghy.

Sook shook her head, smiling warily at her boys, stood and walked across the creamery’s brick patio and discarded the remainder of her cone, wiped her hand on a napkin and chucked it away, too. Tommy nibbled at the remainder of his own cone, watching his wife. Same Sook. Same woman. But different. Truer, maybe. Was that it? Boundaries had been lowered, and they’d explored. Both of them found happiness even though at times their hearts had raced. But they’d endured, and he couldn’t help feeling a stronger attraction to her, and a stronger bond. Loved her so much before this he would never have thought it could be made stronger. This Sook he watched was the same, but he knew her better. And he thought he knew her so fucking well already. This was so exciting.

She came back to him, taking two steps before the bulbs strung up in the canopy of the tree that stretched out above them flickered on accompanied by sounds of awe by the other patrons. Even Sook faltered her step and held out her hands with her palms up, like the light fell on her like rain and she could feel it. It lit her up in heavenly amber light, and fuck, did she ever look like an angel to him.

The sky had just deepened to a nighttime blue, and now his wife came to him, all smiles, and light steps, and she put her hands on his knees and kissed him, one heel coming up as she did, like she was on a date with him and they were teens like at the next table.

“Sukie Wilson, I sure want to get to know you,” he said.

And breathlessly Southern, she replied, “Well, Mr. Vice President, what would my husband say?”

“Guess we’ll have to fuck behind his back in my brand new big office,” he said and kissed her cheek.

“That’s Dio’s office,” she said.

“You’re familiar with it?” he prodded, his confident tone not entirely masking his peevishness.

“Dio fucked me a few times there. Bent me over his desk.”

He stared in her eyes, knowing she joked, seeing the restrained laughter in her expression—but he still couldn’t resist the carnal urge that it brought him. The idea that if she’d been with another man, he had to reclaim her, reassert his dominance. Fuck, that was a good feeling.

She laughed finally, said, “You’re such a sucker, Tommy. You might work your shit on other people, get over on them, but I own your balls.”

“I own that cake, you own these big honkers—seems about right.”

She laughed and worked her way between his knees so they were close and he could hold her.

“Mr. VP, huh? I like that. That’s good for you.”

“For now,” he told her, his hands working over her back.

“For now,” she agreed.

He said, “Dio’s going to offer me more than VP in a few months. I’m probably going to take it.”

She nodded. “You should.”

“I like Dio,” he told her. “He brings the worst out in me. And that brings out the best in me.”

“Me, too.” She chuckled a laugh then that sighed through her nose as she watched him through narrowed eyes.

“My position isn’t as strong as I made it out to be to Dio. He knows it, too. It’ll be years, probably, before the mine pays.”

“But it will pay?”

He nodded. He knew it would. “I like selling for Megalos.”

“I know you do,” she said.

“I like Dio. He knows this is a long game and I respect that.”

“I do, too. He’s a special kid. And I like things the way they are.” But now her face grew serious as though something had been weighing on her and it had just bubbled to the surface again.

He said, “What is it?”

She sighed, looked up and away, averted her eyes from his, said, “You didn’t ... use my lust to distract Dio?”

“No, Sook,” he laughed, holding her shoulders. “If I used anybody it was Dio, got him for you, for your fun.”

“I appreciate it,” she said.

He added: “Problem was for Dio, he had his head so far up your snatch I could move around behind his back and do whatever I wanted. What do you think, I’m not going to take an opportunity if one is presented?”

“Did you use me? Like a chess piece ...” she asked again, her voice high with honest concern.

He held her chin, caressed her cheek with his thumb and looked in her big icy blues. “No, Sook. I’d never do that. You’re not a pawn. You’re my queen. You’re the only reason I move pieces around the board in the first place.”

It convinced her and he meant it; her arms went around his neck and rested on his shoulders. Their foreheads touched and his heart soared.

An hour or two from now he’d be in bed with her, safe from danger in their home, and he’d hold her. Wouldn’t even fuck her, just feel what she felt like sleeping against his body.

“Mom, hey, Mom,” a maleficent little boy voice from behind her.

She pulled away from him and turned. They both saw their two boys coming up from the grass and onto the Creamery’s patio. Tommy J held the sundae boat, and at the mast: a proud captain frog.

“Oh no, guys, come on,” Sukie said.

But their two boys didn’t stop, still coming, determined to frighten their mother who they knew wasn’t a fan of amphibians.

“Guys, guys,” he cautioned them, but found himself laughing, too.

Sook backed away because she saw Tommy J and Bobby knew they had her, and when the Travis boys had someone on the ropes, they didn’t always let ‘em go; sometimes it excited them more.

She said, “Guys, keep the frog away, Mr. Frog doesn’t like to leave the river, boys, I swear to God, don’t you dare, boys ...”

And now she was back-stepping along the patio and together the boys held the boat, the fat frog content to ride these rough seas for now.

Tommy laughed as Sook ran up the steps at the side of the Creamery and the boys chased after. He tipped an imaginary hat to the crowd on the patio as he gathered up their things. There was light laughter and some cooing from the audience.

Content to his deepest core, he trotted up the stairs after them, holding his wife’s purse and his son’s jackets. Sook would have locked herself into the Bimmer and he’d have to calm the boys down, liberate the frog, clean their hands and get them in the vehicle. He was the luckiest guy in the world.

EPILOGUE

8 MONTHS LATER

LUNCH WAS SUKIE'S TREAT, and she met Heidi at Astor Court in the St. Regis. They sat in bright red velvet chairs at a table for two on the balcony that looked over the grand hotel's lobby below, eye level with a massive crystal chandelier. The waiter cleared their plates, both of them finishing their Verlasso salmon, and another waiter immediately brought them small white cups of espresso on thick saucers, served with lemon.

Heidi sipped, set her cup down and asked, "When's Tommy getting back?"

"He's home on Friday night."

"He's traveling a lot these days."

"I know. He's been very busy. But he's happy. I miss him when he's gone, and it's nice to get excited about seeing your husband."

"He's in Africa again?"

"Korea," Sukie said. "But he'll be in Nigeria twelve days next month."

"How do you fill up your time?—you're not massaging now."

"I keep busy."

"Well, I sure like hanging out with you these last couple days."

Sukie said, "I'm a lot of fun, aren't I?"

Heidi laughed, took another sip of espresso. "Kids'll be out of school for the summer soon, wreck all our fun."

“Nah,” Sukie said. “I’m gonna have a blast with them. They’re my buddies as long as I keep them exhausted.”

Heidi chuckled, sipped some more. They people watched as they finished their coffee then waited for the check. Heidi’s eyes darted around finally as their lunch drew to a close. She said, “Sorry I freaked out. You know, in the hot tub.”

“It’s okay,” Sukie said, leaning back in her comfortable chair and watching her.

“Guess I’m not very cool, am I?”

Sukie smiled and watched her face a little more, but Heidi’s eyes wouldn’t meet hers. She said, “You want to come over next Saturday night? The boys are staying with Francine’s kids for a sleepover. See if you can get a sitter.”

Heidi’s eyes rolled around, and she began a reluctant grin. Her cheeks had blushed. She licked her lips, nodded a little, said, “I’ll ask Joe.”

THEY LEFT TOGETHER, walking down the wide curving staircase and into the lobby. Across the polished wood floor, they stepped outside, and a valet had Heidi’s Audi ready for her. They stopped together, a bright and sunny spring day out there, the two of them protected under the shade of the hotel’s grand portico.

Heidi asked her, “Where’s your car?”

Sukie said, “I didn’t park here. I went shopping first, my car’s over on Vieux Carré.”

“Hop in, I’ll drive you there.”

Sukie said, “It’s just a hundred yards down that way, I’m going to walk.”

“You sure? In those shoes?”

Suki looked down at her eight-hundred dollar pumps, wiggled her toes a little bit. She said, “Yeah, I want to take them out for a walk.”

“You’ll turn some heads,” Heidi said.

“Highlight of my day,” she said and laughed.

“Tommy’s far away,” Heidi joked.

Sukie said, “I’ll see you on Saturday?”

Heidi went demure again, pinching her lips with her teeth, then saying, “I’ll see you on Saturday.”

As she turned to get into her car, Sukie stopped her. “Oh, hey, hold on.” She moved her purse to her waist and popped the brass tab to open the flap. She pulled out a paperback novel. One she’d ordered on Amazon a very long time ago. Heidi returned, and she said, “Here. I told you I’d bring it for you. I didn’t forget.”

Heidi took the book from her, used her thumb to flip through the pages before slapping the paperback on her palm. “Thank you. It was good?”

“You know what? It was, but I never finished it.”

“You said it was so hot.”

“It was, I just ... I don’t know. Things change.”

Tall Heidi bent at the waist to reach down and kiss Sukie’s cheek, and Sook patted her on the hip, then Heidi turned around and got in her car.

As she drove around the crescent and onto West Paces Ferry, Sukie walked out to the oval garden toward the sidewalk. Heidi gave a little double honk, waved through the rear window as she drove off. Sook gave her a wave in return, then waited for traffic as if she would cross. When Heidi was out of sight, Sukie turned around and headed back into the hotel.

THE PENTHOUSE SUITE, the Empire, had its own butler, and from him she’d taken a plastic access card that she now swiped through the room’s stainless access reader. Red light flashed to green, and a mechanical buzz unlocked its double French doors. She turned the lever and stepped inside. It was dim, no lights on in the suite, but outside the spring sunshine coming between the long, draping curtains lit the room and cast deep shadows.

She said to the cavernous space: “You need the biggest suite in the city to meet me for an afternoon fuck?”

The place was silent, but from the room adjacent to the living area she saw a shadow move, and heard footsteps on the hardwood floor.

She adjusted the lapels of her jacket, shook her head so her hair would fall on her shoulders the way she liked. She ran her hands down her hips and thighs to smooth her skirt; her lip gloss had been touched up in the elevator’s mirror. Now as the shadow loomed, and she began to see the figure of a man coming into the suite’s main room, she ran her tongue over her teeth under her lips.

“You kept me waiting,” he said.

“You know I’m worth the wait.”

Dio put his hands in the pockets of his suit pants and leaned on the archway edge. He wore a black suit, and a white shirt with no tie. Handsome and tanned, his black hair combed back from his rugged face shone almost wetly in the low light.

“You’re worth the wait,” he said.

Now he took one hand out of his pocket and held it out toward her, invitingly. She walked to him, her legs crossing over one another with her toes pointed. The heels she wore were indeed tall.

When her hand went in his, he gripped it, pulled her so she fell against him. His other hand grabbed a fistful of her hair and pulled her head back. She barely had time to gasp a breath before his mouth was on hers. Her hands slipped inside his suit jacket and felt the hard, hot muscle of his body underneath the fine cotton of his dress shirt. He sucked on her lips, and breath snorted deeply through his nose. He tugged her hair harder, forced her back. He looked deep in her eyes, and her mouth hung open. His expression was serious, intent.

He shoved her backward, and she sat heavily in a deep cushioned arm chair. Dio was over top of her in a heartbeat, his face over hers, kiss stealing her lips, his hand roughly shoving up her skirt. He grabbed a handful of her panties, the thong back wedged uncomfortably up her backside, and the fabric tightly tugging her hungry sex.

Now he slowed, making a low grumble in his chest as his eyes bored down into her. His other hand went up her skirt, and hers pulled at the hem to allow him access while she shot him her baby blues, telling him he had every green light down the next long stretch of road.

Both hands up underneath her skirt brought his face close to hers. They stared into each other’s eyes directly, intensely. He tugged and yanked on her panties and when they got stuck, he tore them at the hip.

He stood up and pulled them away, scrolling the one remaining intact panty leg down her right thigh and over her knee. He let it fall where it hung up on her expensive shoes. Then he was dropping over top of her again, both hands on the cushioned crescent of the chair’s frame, one knee up on the seat next to her thigh. They kissed again. Hot and passionate and lusty. She ached for him. She’d been aching for him for days now. She needed him.

While he kissed her, both of them ran their hands over each other, untucking shirts and undoing buttons. Their kisses became wet and frantic, both of them gasping for breath around each other's tongues. She grabbed him through his pants. Her lover wore no underwear, and he was half-hard already, penis hanging down one suit pants leg halfway down his thigh. She squeezed him and stroked him through the fine fabric.

He grabbed her by the clothing, lifted her right up off the chair and she heard the fabric of her shirt tear. She gasped, and their kiss broke away. He grabbed a thigh and pulled it up to his hip. Her two legs came around his hips together, and she climbed and hugged him, searching for his mouth again.

He stumbled with her, right across the sitting room, his shoes making hard sounds on the wood floor. Her back banged against the bedroom door and it burst open and hit something hard on the other side. Then they were practically running, stumbling, falling.

Dio threw her off him, and she bounced on the bed. His mouth clamped on her sex. She cried out at the feel of his tongue in her intimate space. Landing on the bed had brought her skirt bunched up at the tops of her thighs. Her sex was exposed, and the revelation of her slit had incited her lover so he couldn't contain himself. His tongue dove and swooped in her folds, but she clutched handfuls of his thick, beautiful hair, pulling him roughly up her body. Like a cat, he crawled over her again, his weight over top of her. Through his suit pants, she could feel his cock pressing the inside of her thigh. They kissed again, and her hands fumbled with his belt buckle, pulling the pin from its hole, yanking the leather through the roller.

"No condom," she gasped. "No condom," she said again.

Huge cock head pressed into her opening, she moaned a long, fearful sound. She loved when Dio took her. She loved to be taken by him. But when it had been a while, it hurt at first.

Dio wasn't gentle. He rammed it in, unrestrained because of his own burning lust for her.

"Oh fuck," she screamed, and she dragged her nails down his neck so hard that he hissed. His hands slapped up and grabbed hers, crushed them in his grip while he pushed himself even deeper.

"Yes, fuck, oh God, yes," she encouraged him. It hurt, it burned, it felt like she was torn—but she loved it. She could take it, knew that she could. The pain would be brief, and soon she would be coming all over his perfect cock.

Dio pounded her then, going fast right away. No buildup.

He grunted, “Make me wait?—while you eat your lunch?”

“I wanted you begging for it. Begging for me ...”

“I fucking need you so bad, Sukie,” he growled near her ear, and now she swore she was taking every inch of him inside her body, her entire canal had been stretched to its limit. She felt the hard swollen end of him as big as a plum somewhere deep inside her under her navel. It was the most erotic and intense feeling she could imagine. No other man could do it for her. No other cock felt like this.

“Oh God, Dio, I needed this so bad, couldn’t even fucking, ah, sleep last night.”

Dio grabbed her wrists and shoved them up over her head; she heard her shirt tear again. She was fully impaled, fully dominated by him. He was strong, and heavy, and he was on top of her. His grip was like iron and he had her wrists secured above her head. Her knees were up, her legs were open, her sex was bared to this man that wasn’t her husband. And his enormous cock was shoved all the way inside her. Just the mere thought of what a bad and indecent woman she was flooded her eyes, and they rolled up so she was sure all she showed Dio was the whites. It must look like demonic possession to him, but a huge orgasm rippled up in radiating waves, starting in her thighs and running in undulating lines right up through her heart and bursting into phosphorescent tickles that scattered on the underside of her scalp.

She moaned a ghostly whisper, she bit her lower lip.

He turned her over. Shoved her facedown and slapped her ass hard. He gripped that huge cock, shoved it in her again and it was starting all over. The pain, followed by the pleasure, followed by the awful knowledge that she was in love with having sex with a man who wasn’t her husband. She rolled her hipbones forward, tilted her pelvis so he could take her fully. Pushed her rump up so he could fuck it really good. And he did, hurting her, his thumbs digging into the small of her back on either side of her tailbone. Gripping her, pinning her, and pounding the shit out of her pussy. She came again. He slowed then, withdrew himself, kneeled over top of her and watched her admiringly.

She whispered, “I need you so bad.”

He grinned and fully unbuttoned his shirt, taking it off and shrugging it over his shoulders to throw it on the floor. He’d been working out, hitting the gym hard again. His stomach was flat and hard and she could see plates of stomach muscles stacked under his ribs. His massive cock jutted out like a forearm making a fist. It shone with her insides, the foreskin had been pushed back and stayed hung up on the flared lip of his huge glans. It was the hottest thing to imagine. He was out of this world. So beautiful, so perfect.

He got over top of her again, gently caressed her neck, stroked his palms over her collar and guided her own shirt off. She sat up, and he undid the clasp on her bra. Her breasts sagged, he flung away the lingerie top. Then his mouth was between her breasts, and she took them in her hands to press them together. He licked the seam of her cleavage and she presented him her nipples. He sucked each one individually, kissed them, looked in her eyes with those devilish black chips that shone like obsidian. His hands worked below her waist, unzipped her skirt and while he held it she scooted herself higher up the bed.

“Keep my shoes on,” she said to him. It made him smile. He slipped the skirt down her legs and made sure that her heels stayed on. She’d been hitting the gym as well, three days a week plus yoga. She flexed and pointed her toes and showed off her legs to him.

“You’re so fuckin’ perfect, Sukie. So small and soft and perfect; those pouting lips and those baby blue eyes, you twist me up. And you’re just a little fuck machine.”

“I’m your fuck machine,” she repeated, and now she let her legs fall apart and showed him her slit again. He got over top of her, kissed her mouth. Her arms went around his neck and she stroked at his hair. He entered her more carefully now though the damage was done. Tomorrow would be brutal. She would have to pick up aspirin on the way home.

“Go easy,” she said to him, whispering in his ear and then kissing it. “I want you to come inside me.”

Dio took her then, making love to her this time. This was about him. He’d fucked her hard, the way she liked it. He’d given her the orgasm she needed. Given her that feeling between her legs that she liked. But now she wanted him to come.

So their mouths worked over each other, chins rocking against one another. She ruffled his hair, stroked his cheeks, she looked in his eyes, too. He worked in and out of her, rolling his hips and sucking in his stomach. Not going deep, just doing it perfect.

It wasn't long, only a few minutes, and they looked at each other's eyes while he ejaculated inside her. Eyes gone narrow, light sparkled under his lashes still, keeping a connection with her, and he grunted, snorted, she felt him flex, felt his body buck. She squeezed his neck tighter and she could feel his cock surging inside her as he launched the contents of his huge balls deep in her belly.

When he was done, he pulled himself off and collapsed on the bed. They lay side-by-side on their backs on the unmade bed. Times like this, the two of them would spend the afternoon together. Tommy was away on another continent and they had the whole day until the kids got out of school. They'd order room service sometimes. Go extravagant. Caviar and champagne. Recover then fuck again.

"I missed you," she said.

"I've been thinking about this for a week now." He breathed heavy still and then rested his forearm over his forehead. It might take a while, but he would be ready soon. They would skip room service and she would fuck him again.

She sighed and traced her fingertips over the muscles of his stomach, twirling his body hair in circles until she came up to his chest. She ran the finger up and drew the shapes of his jaw and his chin, then traced that pouting perfect but masculine lower lip. She kissed his cheek.

He turned and kissed her again, felt her body. His hand went over her shoulder and down her hip. Then he was getting off the bed. She watched him moving around, her beautiful man. Her beautiful young man. He collected his clothing, and she wondered why he was being so tidy.

"What are you doing?" she asked him. He pulled his pants on, nodded his head to the opposite side of the room.

Tommy sat in the corner of the room in a leather high-back armchair. He'd watched the whole thing.

SHE LAUGHED and kicked her feet on the bed, covered up her face and giggled into both hands. "Jesus, Tommy," she said, peeking at him now between her cupped hands. "What the hell are you doing here?"

She sat up now and extended her arms to him, inviting him to her. He got up off his chair, wearing a suit much like Dio's, but he had his tie on.

He came to the bed, and she saw the huge hard-on pressing out the front of his pants.

Dio chuckled to himself as he did up the buttons on his shirt. He said, "His flight was delayed."

"Oh no, Tommy," she laughed. He hated when his flight got bumped.

"Three fucking hours," Tommy said, standing by the side of the bed. Then, looking at her, saying, "I had time, I thought if there was a chance I sure wouldn't want to miss this."

"You sat there in the dark and watched? You didn't say a thing?"

"That's the way I like it," he said.

"Come here," she said and patted the spot next to her on the bed.

Dio shrugged his jacket on, straightening his lapels. He said, "All right, I'm leaving you kids alone. Be good."

"Aww," Sukie lamented. She made scratching marks on the bed with her fingernails, encouraging him to stay.

Dio said, "Maybe later. Call me. Tommy booked the room overnight."

Tommy said, "I'm heading back to the airport in an hour."

"Call me," Dio said again.

"Maybe I will," she said

Tommy said to Dio, "See you when I get back."

Dio pointed at Tommy, giving him an instruction: "You knock 'em dead."

"I always do," Tommy said.

Now Dio came to her, dressed again, leaned over the bed and she put her arms out to grab his shoulders while they kissed. He slapped her haunch before he stood upright again.

With her husband sitting at the foot of the bed she lay naked with her legs together and her knees up, laying back down with a pillow pulled underneath her head. They watched Dio leave the bedroom, closing the door behind him but not latching it. They listened to his feet crossing the suite floor and then he left.

Tommy met her gaze, and she just stared back at him, sweetly watching as his mouth stretched slowly to a devious smile, and hers did as well.

Once a month, and over a three-day period that came practically like clockwork almost exactly five days after her period, she craved sex with Dio. An insatiable desire took hold of her, and many times over those three days Tommy allowed her to get what she craved. These days when she bought tampons, she associated them with Dio and also bought a travel bottle of lube.

The timing of her monthly hunger for Dio was perfect because she was trying to get pregnant again with Tommy, and five days after her period was a nice window for Dio to come inside her and she liked when he did.

Tommy said, “Risky having lunch with your friend in the same hotel, right before you fuck your husband’s business partner.”

She said, “You know how I like danger.”

“HOW DID HE DO TODAY?” he asked her, unknotting his tie.

“Ten out of ten,” she said, stroking his thigh.

“You feel better?” he asked her.

She rolled her eyes like she’d just got a spoonful of ice cream. “Mm, so much better,” she said.

He laughed and then she did as well, smiling at him and patting his leg while he unbuttoned his shirt.

She frowned now, sat up and touched his cheek. “What’s this, Tommy?”

“What?” he said, but he figured.

“Do you have a black eye?”

“Is it black?” he said.

“No, but underneath your eye, it looks a little purple.” She patted her fingertips near his cheek and looked at the spot with frowning concern.

He said, “Rough racquetball game.”

“With who?—Dio? When?”

“This morning. Met him at the club before my flight.”

“You guys ...” she said and shook her head at him admonishingly. She lay back down and put her hands behind her head on the pillow. Her nipples were still hard, and her soft breasts sagged over her narrow chest. He bent and plucked a nipple with his lips and she caressed his head.

She said, “Did you win?”

He grunted, sat upright and took his jacket off.

“You didn’t?”

“Almost,” he said.

“You’ll get him someday.”

“It was close,” he said.

She smiled and laughed lightly. “Someday I’d love to see you two finally go at it.”

He said, “We will, trust me,” and took off his shirt.

“Make sure I’m there, I’d love to watch,” she whispered. “Promise me.”

“I’m sure you’ll be there,” he said and dropped down to lay next to her on his back. She kissed his shoulder as he unbuckled his pants.

“My men going to fight over little old me?” She kissed his shoulder again as she stroked his chest.

He kicked his pants off and shoved them over the edge of the bed, saying, “Hey, listen, you free middle of July, like the last three weeks?”

“Of course, what would I be doing?” she laughed. “Why?”

“Vacay time,” he said, and pushed his underwear down, Sukie watching to see his dick spring up and slap his belly.

“Yeah,” she said. “What do you want to do?”

“Booked already. Surpri-ise.”

“Where we going?” she asked, reaching down and stroking his cock. Her touch made his belly jump, and they both chuckled.

He said, “Two weeks in Disneyland.”

“Oh, Tommy, the boys are gonna love you,” she crooned.

He said, “Disneyland Paris.”

“What?” she laughed, and the brightness of her face—the smile, the wide happy eyes—were why he did everything. “Taking me to Europe?”

He slapped his hands on his hip bones, and nudged his chin to his cock, showing her what he wanted. “I’m bringing Brenda and Teddy to France for a week, my treat. In trade, they’re gonna watch the boys for three days while we do the city. Live it up.”

“Ho-oh, Tommy, are you kidding me?” she said, sitting up and throwing a leg over his hips to straddle him.

“Unh-unh,” he said and struck her pussy with his cock a few times, making sticky wet noises. She leaned forward, and he held himself steady. Slowly she lowered herself on him, sitting right back and squashing his balls, taking every hard inch he had deep inside her. She was wet and hot like a slippery oven.

“Thank you, Tommy,” she said, face twisting up as her body adjusted. She began to rock a little, rolled her hips forward so she could get her face over his. She whispered, “I love you so much.”

Rolling forward had tightened her tummy and her pussy belched wetly on his cock. He felt warm wet slipping from her and sliding down around his balls. He said, "Whoa, he really came inside you."

"He did, Tommy. You have a terrible, awful wife."

She had got breathy, her eyes a little glassed by lust. Her pale blonde hair hung around his face like a tent, and he felt so combined with her. One with her. Her hips swiveled on him, stirring his cock inside her as she found the spot she liked. She kissed his cheek and he whispered near her ear, "I don't think you're terrible at all, Sook. I don't think I could love you more."

She gasped, "Oh yeah? Wait till you hear what I wanna do in Paris."

THE END

AFTERWORD

Sign up for my newsletter on my blog to get the latest info, sneak peeks at upcoming stories, and even a free story or two down the road!

Visit my blog!

OTHER BOOKS BY KT MORRISON

LANDLORD Series

Landlord: Box One

MAGGIE Series

Tempting Maggie

Sharing Maggie

Secret Maggie

Exploring Maggie

Discovering Maggie

Uncovering Maggie

Recovering Maggie

Learning Lessons

A Losing His Wife Novel

This long series is now one novel! A 160,000 word cuckold tragedy ...

Cherry Blossoms

A Losing His Wife Novel

This long series is now one novel! A 300,000 word cuckold tragedy ...

Après Ski

Pool Party

A cuckold thriller.

Watching Natalie Cheat

Obsessed Series

Obsessed: Book One

Obsessed: Book Two

The Cayman Proxy Series:

The Cayman Proxy \(Box One\)

Going A Little Too Far

Taken While He Watches: On Their Honeymoon

Taken While He Watches: At The Combine

Taken By His Best Friends: At The Hockey Rink

Measured Next To Her Ex: A Medical Size Comparison Cuckold Fantasy

Size Curious Brat