

A Bull by the Horn

A Hot Wife Story

MATTHEW LEE

A Bull by the Horn

A Hotwife Story

By Matthew Lee

Before

Chapter 1

"He posted a video of a girl slapping a guy and then getting punched in the face for it," she yelled, over the sound of people talking and loud music playing. "He captioned the video: 'Here, have some equality Bitch.' I commented that men already hit women in far greater numbers than women hit men. How the fuck does this represent equality? You're just showing more of the same disparity."

"What was his response?" I asked, trying hard to ignore her deep cleavage and porcelain skin. Faint blue veins ran here and there through her breasts, giving her robust tits a healthy look of vitality. Her dress followed the womanly curves of her body like a coating of honey.

"He said I needed to get fucked by a big dick," she said. "Then he blocked me so I couldn't reply."

I shook my head, laughing.

"Courageous," I said.

She showed me her palms.

"Why do guys always go there?" she asked. "I've lost count how many men have said something similar. Big dicks do not solve women's problems. We don't care about them nearly as much as men think we should."

"I doubt he was being literal," I said. "He thought you'd hate that idea. He was trying to piss you off."

"Because men think feminists hate men."

"Exactly."

She shook her head sadly.

"We don't," she said. "Some do but most don't. I wish more men knew that."

"There's a lot of misunderstanding."

"That's true," she said. "Even men that call themselves our allies have these built-in prejudices. A feminist can be a prostitute. A feminist can be a stripper. A mom or a nun can be a feminist. It's not about being anti-man. It's about being pro-woman. It's about women able to choose their own lives. They don't understand that when you give women a voice, you shouldn't be surprised when they say something you don't like. When you give women a choice, you shouldn't be surprised when they chose something you don't like, maybe wear something you think they shouldn't. Like that guy who posted the video. Men like him don't get it."

We sat on a downstairs couch at Kappa House while a party raged around us. Kappa is known for the athletes, not the geniuses, it produces. Emma was here with her best friend, Sara, who was trying to join some secret society. I hadn't known Emma or Sara were coming. I was here because a few of my students invited me.

Emma and I had been dating exclusively for a long time. I was crazy about her and she felt the same about me. I met her in Econ first day of classes and a bomb went off in my head. What a knockout. I teach at the school while working on my doctorate, so we've kept the relationship secret from everyone, including her bestie Sara. Eager to avoid scandal, the college had made examples of other teacher-student relationships. It was hard getting admitted to this prestigious college. Why get ourselves kicked out?

If she noticed my mammalian glances, she hid it well. I felt like an immature creep listening to her defense of feminism while gawking at her spectacular tits. I am an enlightened caveman.

We've had sex three times in nine months, each time frantically rushed. Our schedules are packed and our windows of opportunity tiny. Also, as I've mentioned, we must keep what we're doing secret. We've met in a riser room, fucking standing against a cooling tower. We've met in a stockroom, fucking against shelves of printer toner. We've met in a storeroom, fucking against cabinets of laundry detergent. I've never seen her naked. I've never seen those spectacular tits that now held my rapt attention.

A murmur swept the crowd that grew into chatter. Something was happening. I drew Emma's attention to the fact and we both rubbernecked, trying to find the source. A loft looked down on this room from the second floor and some frat guys were up there arranging women along the banister. The women giggled and flirted, grabbing each other's tits and ass. The one thing they all had in common was skirts or dresses. Each girl was bent at the waist and then her skirt or dress flipped over her ass. They all pretended shock and dismay.

On the third floor a bedroom door opened and several guys ushered another guy, who was naked, grinning broadly, sporting a hard on, and having a great time, down the stairs towards the balcony. The guy's thighs were thick with muscle, his chest broad. His dick was a fucking cannon. Not the biggest I'd ever seen, if I include porn, but certainly impressive, especially in girth. The crowd went wild, cheering and shouting.

"Isn't that your friend, Sara?" I asked, pointing to the blonde at the end.

"For fuck's sake," Emma exhaled. "She always does shit like this. I better get her down before something bad happens."

I'd heard the rumors about the Kappa House Ritual but never seen this initiation before. Apparently, there were huge post-graduation benefits for any woman willing to undergo the hazing. The college banned the practice but I could see how effective that measure was. Emma gathered her purse and that told me she'd be grabbing Sara and then leaving.

Thighs reached the first girl and bent over to bury his face in her ass and kiss her pussy from behind. The crowd cheered again and the girl feigned arousal. Or maybe she actually felt arousal. I couldn't tell the difference looking at her face. Thighs straightened and stepped closer, bringing his cock to bear. The girl squealed in anticipation and he pushed his fat cock in.

My angle from below gave me a clear view of the penetration. His bulky penis spread her wide, forcing a grunt from her lovely throat.

The entire gathering went wild, the girl gripped the bannister tight, biting her bottom lip. Thighs pumped several times while raising a triumphant fist before moving on to the next girl and repeating the process.

"I'll see you later," Emma told me, struggling to move through the crowd. "I gotta get her and take her ass home."

"I understand," I said.

Emma angled across the packed living room, fighting her way through all the squashed bodies, while above her Thighs moved on to the next girl, working his way down the line to Sara. By now he no longer needed to lick each pussy. Either the girls were wet with eager expectation or his dick was slick enough from the previous girls.

Emma reached the balcony and fought through the guys standing there. She repeatedly shouted, trying to get Sara's attention, only to see Sara's expression change to disappointment once she realized Emma would be taking her away. Emma pushed and shoved, wedging herself closer.

In the noise and confusion, some of the guys thought Emma was pushing to join the line of girls. Multiple hands grabbed her all over. She was spun and her purse yanked from her shoulder. Her pretty dress was flipped and her panties yanked to her knees. She struggled but she's petite, and too many hands held her. Facing away from the guys, her small voice was lost in the din of the party. She was bent at the waist and locked into position, her arms and legs held fast.

I leapt to my feet, ready to bellow a warning in her defense. Faces turned to see what I had to say. Surely I would not protest this one specific girl? Where was my protest for the others?

Our need for secrecy kept my lips sealed. My objection died in my throat.

Thighs pushed his beefy cock balls-deep into Sara and Emma's best friend pushed her ass back at the man. The crowd loved it. He fucked her for several seconds and then withdrew, stepping sideways and aiming his weapon at Emma's slit. My girl thrashed against the restraining hands but everyone thought it part of the phony drama. Some laughed at her outrage, including women. Thighs stepped forward.

From below I saw his head poised against her pussy lips. Nausea swept through me. Events had unfolded too quickly to react. The moment was upon us and there was nothing to be done. My mind stopped working. My body turned cold.

He flexed his ass and drove the heavy spear forward, splitting her labia and piercing her sacred temple. Emma's head snapped up, her mouth open wide in a silent scream. Her struggles stopped. He thrust again, driving deeper, and her eyes went wide. He raised a triumphant fist and clenched his ass, burying the last of his cock. His corpulent balls pressed against her opening. Her expression was shock and disbelief. I read her lips, the room too loud to hear: "Oh, my God."

The crowd erupted with laughter.

A deep chill swept through me. He was fucking my girl! He was inside her, feeling her wet walls wrapped tightly around him. He was buried inside her body.

Emma's face melted. Her eyes rolled and her body sagged. He fucked her firmly, holding her ass and taking his time because she was the last girl on the line. A few of the other girls peeled away from the banister and smoothed their skirts and dresses. Others, like Sara, stayed, hoping he'd return to fuck them again. He didn't. He remained inside Emma, moving slowly and sensuously, sliding in and out.

Emma hung her head. A breast slipped from the dress but she made no move to replace it. Many in the crowd, especially the women, fell silent, empathizing with what she must be feeling. Emma's brow furrowed. Her lips puckered. Her eyes narrowed and then opened wide with surprise. She grunted, then whined, then whimpered as her legs trembled and her toes curled. She groaned, a deep and meaningful groan. Shock spread across her face. Her hands clutched the bars of the banister and the muscles in her thighs contracted.

"Please," she moaned. "Please . . . no . . . oh, God! Unnnngh!"

I staggered backward. Despite this insane situation, despite the eyes of so many on her and the unwelcome and uninvited set of circumstances, Emma was experiencing a deep, rumbling orgasm. She couldn't stop it. She couldn't hold it back.

A murmur swept the crowd. This unexpected occurrence left them stunned. No one was more shocked than Emma herself, a sudden slave to primal pleasures. Thighs worked his large cock in and out, relentlessly magnifying Emma's pleasure until her climax peaked and she cried out again. Her body sagged against the railing. Thighs withdrew his curved, conquering, throbbing erection for all to see. Sara dropped to her knees to suck the gleaming head.

The crowd moved on from Emma, attention swinging now to Sara's oral display. Emma did a slow collapse, sliding off the rail to the floor, tugging her panties in place and crawling for her purse before rising to her feet and fixing her dress. She tucked her breast in place and snagged Sara's arm, heaving her best friend free.

"But I want to suck it," Sara whined, drunk.

The crowd laughed. Another girl took Sara's place and the two friends shoved through the crowd for the stairs. I met Emma's eyes as she passed. My girl was angry but more than that. I saw the expected embarrassment and guilt but I also saw a surprising hint of arousal too. Sara was looking back at the action on the balcony and missed our exchange, keeping our secret safe. We said nothing and I watched her leave the party holding Sara's hand.

More cheers erupted behind me but I did not turn to see why. I was too busy staring at Emma's retreating ass and picturing what Thighs had seen. His view had been delicious. When we fuck, her pussy is like a boa constrictor wrapped around my dick. With his size, how tight had she felt to him?

As for her, I did not need my imagination. She'd orgasmed promptly. He'd brought her to that pinnacle in mere minutes, something I'd yet to do in our several brief encounters. There was no question she'd loved feeling him inside. I doubted she even knew the man, which made all this easier to take, but I stood amazed at what he'd done to her and how quickly.

Chapter 2

"Did you call to break up with me?" Emma asked.

"What?" I exclaimed. "No. Why would you say that?"

"Come on, Ron. You were there. You saw what happened. Everyone on campus is talking about The Girl That Came. A guy in my Poly Sci class asked if he threw a party would I come. Ha fucking ha. The whole class laughed. I'm a celebrity. Guys are asking me out in every class. My father can never hear about this. I got bent over in front of you, Ron, like a slut. I was one of those empty-headed girls at the banister. I cannot believe I orgasmed. I humiliated us both."

"I don't feel humiliated."

She scoffed.

"Only because our relationship is secret. If people knew we were together they'd laugh at you as hard as they are laughing at me. You'd be the man with the slutty girlfriend."

I knew better than to deny her point.

"You're right," I admitted.

That stopped her.

"But they don't know," I continued. "Only we do. I feel no shame and neither should you. Our bodies just respond sometimes. It's like being angry that you're ticklish. It doesn't say anything about you as a person."

She was quiet for a moment.

"I'm so mad at myself," she said. "I'm not blaming anyone. I won't file a lawsuit or even telling the dean that stupid ritual continues. I saw what was happening. I never should have gone up to that balcony. That was rash. I felt like I was going to show them who's boss and ended up face down."

"No way you could have known that would happen."

She sighed.

"You are trying hard to make me feel better," she said.

"I am. I also want you to know my feelings for you haven't changed."

"You're an amazing man," she said. "To other men I'd be damaged goods. Men have this sense that if they fuck a woman, they own her. I mean, men feel like they own women anyway, sex just makes it worse. Even my brother tries to tell me what I can and cannot do. Men think they're in charge of us, responsible for us. You all work so hard to get us in bed, like we're some prize to be won or trophy to claim, and if you succeed we become your possession."

"That's not just something we impose on your gender. Many women like to feel they belong to a man. They want the man to possess them. Sex makes them feel that."

"That's true." She paused. "So you don't think I'm tainted now?"

"Not at all," I said. "I knew you weren't a virgin."

"Yes, but my past is easy to ignore. Witnessing my fucking leaves no room for self-denial. Men often feel women are stained by sex, like we only have value if we're modest or chaste."

"I am unaffected," I said.

"So then why'd you call?"

"I called to ask you out," I teased. "I hear you're a lot of fun at parties."

"Fuck you, Ronald Jenkins. That's not funny."

I chuckled.

"I called to check on you. I know where you stand on things, especially between men and women. I know your views. I thought what happened would be particularly difficult for you."

"I'm angry, I admit that. I'm angry at that stupid fraternity and I'm angry at myself for allowing that to happen. I'm furious but I'll be fine. What do you think about what happened? That had to be a difficult thing to witness."

"It was indeed."

"So how are you feeling?"

Good question. I was stumped. I had no answer but not because I felt nothing. I had no answer because I felt a lot. My mind was awl. I had jealousy mixed with anger and regret and even some self-pity. I should have protected her. I should have helped her somehow. But I also felt bad for myself. He'd given her an orgasm and I haven't.

"Hello?" she said.

"Shut up. I'm thinking."

"Okay."

"I'm feeling a lot, Emma. No single emotion rises to the surface. I'm pissed that was done to you and angry at your violation. I regret you went through that."

"Thank you."

"But you orgasmed, Emma. How is that possible? How were you able to climax? All those people and all that noise, a man you don't even know fucking you. None of that bothered you. You climaxed. I try to stay angry and offended on your behalf but this little voice in my head reminds me you came. I'm forced to reevaluate. I'm wondering if my interpretation of the event is wrong."

Silence.

"Should I be angry?" I continued. "Should I feel bad for you? I hate to suggest this but maybe you liked what happened, maybe you're glad it did." Full steam ahead. I was running near the edge of a cliff. "Maybe you want it to happen again. Forgive my fragile male ego, but he made you cum. I haven't. We've had sex three times and I haven't and I hate it."

More silence. I was sure she was furious with me. Then another thought occurred. I'd assumed she didn't know him but what if I was wrong? That would explain a lot. That would explain why she was so comfortable.

"Wait," I said. "Do you know him? Do you share a class or something?"

Even more silence. I was onto something.

What if he's a former lover? my mind screamed. What if she still wanted him?

I took a deep breath before continuing.

"So," I said. "You do know him. You know him and now he's fucked you and maybe you're okay with that. He fucked you and made you cum. In front of the whole school. Will you be dating him now?"

"Shut up, Ron."

"Do you know him?"

"Yes," she murmured.

Goddamn it!

"What's his name?"

"Tyler. Tyler Wolfe."

"Go on. Tell me everything."

"We have French Lit together which he's barely passing with a C minus. He's a Neanderthal. He has no original thoughts of his own. He's a frat boy on the swim team and riding a full scholarship. Ron, I could never date him. He doesn't deserve to even be at this school. I don't want him, I want you."

"I can't make you cum."

"Not yet," she said. "But that's just because we're always so rushed. I've felt myself getting close. You haven't had time."

"He needed three minutes!" I said, voice rising. "Why was it so easy with him?"

"What is your obsession with this?" she asked.

"Is he a former lover? Did you want one last fuck?"

"Now you're being an asshole," she growled.

"You're right, I am, and I'm sorry, but I cannot get my head around your ability to orgasm in front of a thousand people. I'm just looking for some truth. Tell me the truth."

"Because he felt fantastic!" she snapped. "I am as upset as you. I didn't want to orgasm in front of my peers. Seriously? Think about that for a second. My body did that, not me. I couldn't help it. Do you think I wanted Tyler to have that over me? Can you imagine the shit I'll face Monday morning? I can already hear his slimy voice and see his condescending face. I'll never live this down."

I made myself calm down. No matter how conflicted I felt, Emma was right: she had it worse. I took a deep breath.

"I'm sorry," I said. "That was selfish. I was an asshole. I'm sorry."

"Why did you call, Ron?"

"I called to see if you wanted to sneak over. I'd love to see you. I miss you."

I felt her melt.

"Truly?"

"Absolutely."

"That's good to hear," she said. "I was worried. I'll be there in an hour but I can only stay about thirty minutes. Focus group."

"Understood."

I have a small apartment on campus that has a front door on the street to the school and a backdoor off the kitchen which opens into a small garden. The garden can be accessed through a gate on the side of the building or by cutting through a perpendicular alley and stepping over a low wall. Leafy trees hide that route and that's how Emma always came to see me. I can see down that path if I crack my bathroom window and I did that now to watch for her, strangely anxious and pensive. My heart skipped when I heard her light sandals on the moldy concrete. I'd already unlocked the backdoor so I watched her until the last minute. She'd worn a light green dress and a floppy hat to hide her face.

I met her in the kitchen. I expected tense conversation until we put Tyler in the rearview but that's not what I got. Her need was great. She bolted into my arms and smothered my lips with her own. Her urgent tongue found mine.

I don't know what happened to me. A beast rose inside, famished and deprived. I grabbed a plump tit and squeezed. I jammed my hand under her dress and seized an ass cheek. Emma moaned her submission and the beast roared. I grabbed her panties and yanked, lifting her to the countertop. Her hat went sailing. Encouraged by her willingness, I plucked the hem of her dress and pulled it off over her head. Her long pretty hair fell in cascades around her face.

"Take your bra off," I ordered, my voice strained.

She hurried to comply, her eyes glued to mine. I shoved my pants and underwear down. I had her naked, for the first time, on the kitchen countertop, my boxers around my knees. I stepped back to drink in every inch of exposed flesh, her full, plump tits resting on her chest. My eyes ate her alive. My dick rose, quickly throbbing.

"You like what you see?" she asked, teasing.

I didn't answer. I couldn't. I could only stare like I was seeing the glorious naked female form for the first time. She moved a foot several inches along the counter, tastefully opening herself to me. With one step forward I slammed my penis into her sopping wet hole. I yanked her hair to bite her neck.

"Do it!" she rasped.

I set the beast free. I've never fucked her like that. This was no lovemaking. An urgent need to assert what was mine had me. She wanted me to. A shattered coffee cup and the jangle of pots and pans did nothing to slow me. I hammered her tight pussy like an animal. She clawed my shoulders and arms.

"Don't hold back," she growled. "I need it."

Those words were pure music. She monitors her temperature, tracking ovulation, because we both hate condoms and the pill makes her hormones erratic. I've pulled out every time anyway, just to be doubly sure, so telling me to cum inside is like Christmas morning. My hips pumped like a piston and I was there.

"Here it comes!" I cried.

Emma turned frantic. She slapped her arms and legs around me like a vise, holding my writhing body, pulling me deep. My dick erupted like an oil well, a faucet of boiling cum spewing in her womb. We shouldn't have, but we did. Our cries filled the small kitchen. My neighbors heard the teacher get some. I clenched my balls over and over until I had nothing more to give and then I slipped through her arms to kneel on the linoleum and thrash her pussy with my tongue. I would hear her climax, goddamn it, even if it meant licking her used pussy. I had ten minutes left and I would make good use of them. I ignored my own jizz, discovering most of my load was far up in her, and lapped at her clit and inner lips. I slid fingers in and out of her dripping hole.

Victory! She was so worked up from our passion she came right away, holding my head with both hands and spreading her legs wide, toes pointed at the refrigerator and the owl wall clock. Tick tock, motherfuckers, I'd finally done it. Her gasps and moans thrilled me to the bone. She barely had time to recover, holding me tight and kissing me before her eyes strayed to the clock.

"Shit," she murmured. "I must run. We'll talk later."

I gave her a peck and watched her adjust her clothes. She threw a look as she slipped out the backdoor like: You sexy savage beast and I felt pretty good about myself. I heard her light feet travel the sidewalk and fade.

"He may have fucked you," I told the empty kitchen. "But I came inside you."

Chapter 3

The next morning sucked. Monday mornings always suck but this one was especially awful. I led a study group at the same time I knew Emma sat in class with Tyler. I worried about her and what she might endure but also I hated she sat so close to a guy that had fucked her about thirty-six hours earlier. What might they say? The possibilities ate at my stomach. For the first half of class I imagined Tyler and Emma snarling at each other and I cringed thinking how awful that would be. Then my brain took a turn for the worse and I found myself imagining they talked it out, patched things up, got along great and laughed the whole crazy thing off. I preferred the snarling.

As soon as my study group concluded I walked across campus towards my apartment. I fired off a text to Emma asking if she was all right.

Tyler joined the long line of guys asking me out, she shot back.

So much for them snarling at each other. I was relieved she'd not been subjected to abuse at his hands. It took my dim-witted brain fully three hours before I thought to ask what her answer had been. I assumed she'd declined him like all the others.

I accepted, she wrote. How could I not? They say he's one of the most desirable men on campus. A refusal draws additional gossip and attention. I don't need the scrutiny or the headache. I'm supposedly single so what reason could I have to say no? I'll meet him for coffee where we can laugh about what happened ha ha what a crazy mix-up. I'll go through the motions of not clicking with him and then never go out with him again.

This way everyone just lets it die. Who knew college would be so much like high school?

A chill tickled my spine. I read the message twice. She's attractive and guys ask her out. Something like this had happened three times since we started dating. She'd meet the guys for a drink and they'd chat. The guys always asked for a second date but she'd explain there was no spark and she was too busy. She'd never hear from them again. Simple.

Now she would run the same game on Tyler.

So why was my mouth dry? Why did her text make my stomach ache? I struggled to make myself face my feelings. Her text had a different feel. It lacked indignation. It lacked rage. She treated Tyler differently from the other guys and I struggled to spot the difference.

Because the ice is broken, I realized.

He's already fucked her. They've shared an intimacy. They are farther down the road than a get-to-know-you first date. Her conversation with him would be different than other men. Her guard would be lowered. She'd find the things he said more interesting, she'd realize how handsome he was. Men can have a meaningless fuck. That trick is much harder for women, and that includes feminists. The act is automatically intimate for women and that makes sense. Women allow someone inside their body. Emma would hate me for making that distinction but I believe it.

When will they meet? I suddenly wondered.

Not only had I forgotten to ask how she responded to Tyler's invitation, but after learning she'd said yes I forgot to ask when they'd meet. Or where, for that matter. Jesus, I sucked at this.

I typed: when and where? I'd hate to stumble across you guys out on your date.

When is now, she quickly responded. Meeting at Dawes Island and walking to Lizzy's Ice Cream. I have women's studies after. I'll call you late tonight.

What a great day. I stumbled through the next hour with clay feet and a numb mind. I knew nothing would happen out in public like that but just her seated across the table from him, sharing ice cream and conversation, was enough to make me grind my teeth. Halfway through I got the idea to ask what she was wearing. She'd known she'd face him first thing this morning and I wondered how she'd dressed for it. I asked for a full-length picture.

Fifteen minutes later my phone chimed. In Lizzy's bathroom mirror I saw her solid periwinkle dress and ponytail. Innocent enough unless you count how the buttons rise from her bellybutton to stop just below her tits. The neckline is open with large lapels. Her milky cleavage was gloriously displayed yet classy. Cute, not slutty, but why couldn't she have worn a baggy sweatshirt?

Because that would have been hiding. Not my Emma. Her outfit was a statement: you will not intimidate me. I am undaunted. She was taking a stand. As a guy, I knew her stand was wasted. Tyler wouldn't care. Tyler would enjoy her exposed tits and then ponder what to have for lunch.

Finally, my day ended. I walked home and cooked some dinner, waiting for Emma to call. She did, eventually, and talked about everything except lunch with Tyler. Our conversation was winding down when I brought the subject up. No way was she skipping that conversation. I asked how it went.

"He talked about himself," she said. "He talked about his wealthy parents, his school record in the thousand meter, and his plans for after college. Him, him, him."

Relief washed over me.

"Then he asked if my orgasm had been real. I thought about lying, just to bruise his ego, but I admitted it was. No way am I shrinking from this guy. That made him really happy. He's a big puppy. He asked if I wanted another one and I politely declined. Then he asked for a second date and that I accepted."

"What?" I snorted. "Why would you do that?"

"It's a good strategy, Ron. Think about it: Tyler makes the perfect cover. You and I must keep our relationship hidden. No one will even look twice at us if they know I'm dating Tyler. You should date some women on staff. Let yourself be seen in public."

My body ached. My stomach did flips.

"I barely see you now," I complained. "Tyler will get some of your precious free time? When will we have time together?"

"We can make it up to each other," she said. "We were seen together at the party. If we are seen together again tongues will wag. We need to fake date others to protect ourselves. I cannot get kicked out of school. I know you understand."

My mind raced. She had solid reasons but I hated even the suggestion they were a couple. People would expect something to happen though, given Emma's reaction to Tyler at the party.

"I do understand," I grumbled.

"You and I will be fine," she assured me. "Think how hot our sex will be after missing each other so much."

"Fine."

"Don't be surly," she said. "You know this is a good idea."

"It has some merit but that does nothing to alleviate my hatred for your plan."

"Oh poo. You'll see. Time will fly."

We small-talked and started to wrap up. This time, the important thoughts arrived before I forgot to ask them.

"Wait," I said. "When you say fake dating you mean fake everything, right?"

"I don't know what that question means."

"Do you plan on holding his hand? Will you kiss him?"

"Oh. I hadn't thought about those considerations. I suppose a little public affection is necessary. Just remember it won't mean anything."

"He'll want more."

"Let him. I'll drag things out until he breaks up with me. I just want people to see us together for the next couple months. I want to fix in their minds I'm not with you."

I exhaled slowly. Trepidation had claws in me.

We ended the call. Strangely, my first thought was I needed to marry this girl as soon as possible. I still had my phone in hand so I dialed my best friend on staff, Richard Thornbud. He taught psychology at every level and always had the best advice when I was stumped by life. I've never seen Richard without a book in his hand. He's scruffy and portly and everything you'd expect a college professor to be. Someone nicknamed him Benjamin Franklin and it stuck because they looked so similar.

He answered after one ring. I left her name out but hinted I was seeing a student and struggled with the need to keep the relationship secret. He assured me virtually every professor on campus was enjoying improper dalliances with students and I shouldn't beat myself up about it.

"Remember," he said. "Time passes in a blink. Take a deep breath, resolve yourself to your path, and understand that the big wheel turns and your situation will change in no time. The pressures you feel are merely the pressures of the moment."

I thanked him and we talked about mundane things. Eventually we ended the call. Strangely, I felt better immediately. He was right: time passes swiftly.

Chapter 4

The massive structure covering the pool was all chrome and lime colored glass. Beautiful, but gargantuan. Twice the size of an Olympic pool, the extra lanes allowed the men's swim team to practice at the same time as the women's. Emma had mentioned she'd starting studying in the bleachers while Tyler trained.

"The diffuse green lighting is fantastic," she'd said.

Carol Spalding teaches criminal science full time but is also a part-time assistant coach for the women's swim team. Dating her would give me a reason to visit the building and allow me to spy on Emma and Tyler, which is why I was here today, standing by the pool.

"I'd love to," Carol said.

"Fantastic. I'll pick you up at eight."

She shook her head and smiled.

"I'll meet you there," she said. "I live walking distance from the restaurant."

We grinned at each other and I waved goodbye, my first attempt at fake-dating a smashing success.

I hated the idea of using women as players in my charade so I made it clear we'd be meeting as friends and colleagues. I said I needed more of a social life and Carol felt she did too. As I rounded the pool, I spotted Emma sitting in a patch of sunlight several sections away, nose buried in a book. Tyler swam laps while his coach yelled at him.

Emma and Tyler had gone out several times, that I knew about, since ice cream at Lizzy's. She doesn't tell me every little detail. She admitted they'd shared their first kiss but swore it left her unmoved. She'd laughed it off and encouraged me to do the same. I told her about pursuing Carol and she was intrigued, asking what she looked like and what I thought of her. I had my backpack with me so I took a seat close to Emma but not too close, also pretending to use the same patch of sunlight. I withdrew a book from my pack and opened it.

"I'm seeing Carol tonight," I murmured, head down.

"Big first date," she teased.

"Not a date," I corrected.

"You should try to kiss her."

"No," I'd said flatly. "Not a date. Nothing sexual. I'm avoiding that road."

She'd dismissed me with a pfft.

"If you say so," she said. "Kissing isn't sexual but that doesn't even matter. None of this is real."

"Carol's feelings are real."

Tyler climbed out of the pool to take his place on the swimmer starter block, practicing his launch. He wore a cap to keep his hair dry and the tiniest pair of Speedos any man had ever attempted. I wanted to laugh at his ridiculous appearance but his fucking banana bulge silenced me. I remembered the party. I remembered his march on Emma, his thick cock leading the charge like a lance. I could see the outline now and that meant Emma could to. I glanced at her to see if she stared at Tyler and found her staring at me, silently laughing.

"You are so busted," she chuckled.

"It's absurd," I whined. "Where's all his body hair? Does he shave every inch? And how does he have no fat anywhere? Zero."

Emma laughed loud.

"You were staring at his dick," she said.

"I was staring at that ridiculous bulge," I said, trying to be funny. "It kind of steals the spotlight. His dick is absurd and preposterous and unreasonable and incredible."

"Oh," she said, breathless. "Trust me, I know."

Ow. She was teasing, being playful and making light of an awkward memory for us both, but still.

"Sorry," she said, reading my face. "I was trying to be shrewd."

"No," I said. "It's okay. It happened. I need to get over it."

She checked the bleachers to make sure we were still alone.

"I'll make it up to you," she murmured, pretending to read. "After I leave Tyler's place tonight, I'll stop by yours. How's midnight?"

She winked when I looked up. While I was excited by the prospect of sex with her again, I was shaken by the news she'd been to his apartment.

"You go to his place?" I asked.

"Of course."

"How many times have you been to his place?"

She shrugged.

"Ten," she said. "Fifteen? Our Lit class takes turns meeting at various students' apartments. We've all met at my apartment too. We've been rotating since week one."

Well, shit.

I understand she has this whole other life outside her time with me and I can't expect her to tell me every detail about every single thing she does or says and with whom, but this Tyler thing was wearing thin. Class meeting at his place was inconsequential until the moment he fucked her. Until then he was just some guy. She can't be expected to go back and describe everything she'd done. I'd just have to accept that things would come out over time.

"I gotta go," I said. "Tutoring."

She did not look up but said again she'd see me tonight.

"Hey!" she said, before I could leave. "I left a book at your place. On the kitchen counter. Can you drop it at my place around three?"

I pondered.

"No way," I said. "Sorry. Scheduling. Commitments."

"You're sure? Absolutely no way you can come by my place at three?"

"Sorry, Babe," I said. "I'll be on the other side of campus."

"Okay. I'll figure something out."

I left without looking back.

My day was busy, lots of errands and loose ends, but I was able to rearrange things to drop Emma's book at her place after all. She'd be pleasantly surprised. Like she does for my apartment, I take a circular route to get in.

I entered the back door and headed for the kitchen with plans to leave the book in plain sight where she'd know I'd come through for her. Before I could, I heard voices just outside the front door. She was coming up the stairs and she was not alone. A deeper, male voice, was with her.

Her place is old and small. The water heater sits in a tiny closet built for it and that's what I ducked into now. I still had her book with me. I pulled the door closed with a finger and held my breath. I had little room to move. The door was vented, slats at top and bottom, so I'd have enough oxygen to live.

"Thanks for letting me shower at your place," Tyler said.

"No worries," Emma replied.

Her keys hit the counter. His heavy steps told me he'd headed for the bathroom. I angled my neck to peer through the slats, catching some views well but others not at all. I waited for the sound of the bathroom door closing, debating if I reveal myself or not, but it never came. I heard the shower start and the tank behind me begin to crackle as the fire came on. More heavy footsteps sounded, this time approaching the living room.

"Goddamn it, Tyler," Emma complained, a note of amusement in her voice.

I craned my neck. Tyler stood completely naked at the threshold between living room and bathroom. His hairless body and long hanging cock just standing there.

"What?" he asked, feigning innocence. "I forgot my shampoo. I needed to ask if I can use yours."

"Put something on," Emma said. "You can't walk around my apartment naked. Wrap a goddamn towel around that shit."

"Why? We're dating, aren't we? We're boyfriend and girlfriend. Right?"

"So? You still can't walk around naked like you own the place."

He moved towards her. I followed his movement from gap to gap to gap. His dick bounced. His muscular thighs wobbled. His dick wagged. His twelve-pack flexed. His dick swung. He stepped close and slid his arms around her waist. He hugged her, his hanging dick pressed against her leg.

"We fucked once already," he said. "Let's do it again. You liked it. I know you did. What's the big deal? Girlfriends usually fuck their boyfriends. This isn't high school."

His hand cupped her big tit. She smacked his wrist but did not insist he remove it. He caressed, kneading her firm and fleshy mound, and she weakly tried to push him away. He ignored her, continuing his grope.

Emma and I once had a fight about implicit gender bias. I told her if you ask a man a yes or no question you get a yes or no answer. I said ask a woman the same thing and you'll get a yes, a no, or a no, try harder. Times are changing and gender expectations are shifting but mostly women still expect the guy to be the aggressor. Women want to be pursued, they want the man to jump through a few hoops in his pursuit. Emma was furious with me for saying so but later admitted there was some truth to my words.

I saw that truth in action now. She wanted him to stop but loved how badly he craved her. She was pulled in two directions: loyalty to me and the pleasure of his desire. He took her hand and placed it on his swaying meat.

"I've already been inside you," he murmured. "Don't you want this again?"

She did not remove her hand. Her fingers curled around his thickness. She was caving, in slow motion, right in front of me. His hands moved with confidence now, traveling her body, enjoying her curves, feeling her up on top of her clothes. She began slow pumping his cock, so slow I wondered if she was aware she did it, like it was an instinctive response to a dick in hand. He was circumcised but while soft had lots of extra skin. Emma slid this sheath up and down like a sleeve, hiding the head briefly before it reappeared.

"We cannot fuck," she mumbled. "I'm not on the pill and I have no condoms. I will not end up like my mom or my sister."

"I'll pull out."

"You think I trust you? No way."

He took a step back, his penis slipping from her hand. He leaned against the wall, hips put forward to emphasize his hanging meat.

"Just suck it, then," he said, bedroom eyes mere slits.

Emma ran her gaze over his fit form and oversized penis.

"You might be the most conceited man I've ever met," she said.

He waited, counting on adorable good looks and natural charm.

"That's it?" she sneered. "That's your best move? Does that work for you? Just whip your dick out and stand there and women drop to their knees to do your bidding? Do you even understand how narcissistic your behavior is? Jesus, Tyler, you are being an asshole."

"I'm sorry," he said. "But I've always just gone after what I wanted. I've been chasing you a long time and we're not any closer, not really, not like a normal boyfriend and girlfriend. My friends say you're stringing me along, that maybe you're a lesbian. Are you? Any other girl would have had sex with me by now."

"Don't brag, and no, I'm not a lesbian."

"I'm not bragging. It's true. Women love sex as much as men. Maybe more. I get they need to be way more careful but think about this: you call yourself a feminist then don't pursue something you want. Why? Because of what others might think? If you want sex with me, take it. Do you want sex with me?"

"Yes," Emma admitted and my heart seized. "You're hot. You're what all the women want and that includes me. But it's complicated."

"No, it isn't. Men just go after what they want. Women should do the same."

"Men don't get pregnant."

"I told you I'd pull out."

Emma chewed her lip. I was bathed in cold sweat. What was she even contemplating? There was no choice here. She should be throwing him out.

"I'll be honest," she murmured. "I'm afraid if I fuck you, when your big moment arrives, you try to pull out but I won't let you. I worry lust will overtake me. I may have orgasmed at the party but I wasn't satisfied. Most women aren't unless the man cums too. It's emotionally complicated for us. You felt amazing in there for many reasons and I want to feel you explode inside me. I want to give that to you. I want to watch your face as I drain your balls. It's not just you I don't trust. It's that I don't trust me either."

Was she playing him or being truthful? She sounded utterly honest. My legs began to tremble. A trickle of sweat ran down my back. Her words pushed a slow knife into my heart. My rational mind told me desire for Tyler was reasonable. How many girls at this school wanted him? Tyler was highly fuckable. Emma wasn't talking about love. She was talking about sex. I clung to that rationalization like a life preserver, praying she wouldn't do it.

"That's the hottest thing any girl ever said to me," Tyler said.

"I monitor my ovulation," Emma said. "I know right now would be a terrible time, a huge risk. My temperature has been up for days."

"Yeah, I don't know what that means."

She stepped close to him again, cupping his clean balls, sliding her hand up to the thick shaft and gripping him like a club. Her hand slid farther, fingers surrounding the head, thumb swirling the leaking precum she found at the tip. I was dying.

"It means, dumbass," she purred. "I most likely released an egg already or I'm about to. It means the chance of conception is higher."

Tyler struggled to concentrate.

"My hormones are elevated," Emma murmured. "I tend to dress lighter, expose more skin, flirt. Worst of all, I always get incredibly horny around this time."

"I get horny every time I see you."

"Just— shut up, Tyler," Emma said.

Her expression was pure lust. My girl wanted to fuck Tyler so badly she could barely stand. I'd stopped breathing minutes ago and only stood and watched, powerless. She teetered on the edge of indecision, torn, struggling, craving what she should not have. My mind had ceased all motion, waiting with her.

Emma dropped like a stone. Her fingers from both hands spread over his stomach as her tits slid down his body. His penis passed between her mounds and then landed under her chin. She kissed where his pubic hair would have been if he'd had any and then kissed the base of his cock, where a wide blue vein emerged from his body to run the length of his shaft.

"You have the most beautiful cock," she murmured. "It's so annoying. It's like God gave a kid a shotgun for his birthday."

She tilted her chin lower and planted a kiss on the large pink head.

"I bet you've fucked a lot of women with this thing," she said. "I bet they always come back for seconds."

Tyler, the Neanderthal, knew to keep his mouth shut.

"Just like me," Emma added.

She parted her lips and slipped her tongue free. She lifted the head with it, opening her mouth and leaning forward. His bulbous tip disappeared behind her lips. I almost groaned in dismay. Dear God, she had his cock in her mouth. She sucked lightly and slid her lips several inches farther down his length, where she sucked hard. She held him in there, feeling him throb and pulsate. She retreated, her lips gliding over the veins and ridges along his shaft. Her lips went up and over the crown like a tiny wave.

"Put your hands on my head," she said. "Fuck my mouth. Don't hold back. I want you to cum in there. I'll swallow everything you give me, so give me everything."

Displaying more self-control than I thought he possessed, Tyler defiantly put his hands on his hips.

"Take off your clothes," he said. "You say I'm beautiful well you're beautiful too and I've been dying to see that body. Give me something to look at while I fuck your hot mouth. I want to see you naked."

Emma hesitated and I understood her struggle. All this was far more than our agreement. But now she was horny and wanted Tyler to look at her nude body.

"Do it," he nudged. "Show me. You're fucking hot. Let me see."

Emma stood and pulled her sweatshirt over her head. Her bra hit the floor. Shoes, socks, pants, and underwear joined the growing pile. She's not naturally exhibitionistic and her body language showed her awkward discomfort, but that faded quickly as Tyler's eyes roamed her form. His cock stiffening further, expanding, throbbing. Emma couldn't take her eyes off it, loving her effect on him.

She took her place on her knees again, one hand bending his dick to her mouth and the other slipping between her legs. Her lips parted and his inches slid in. She closed her lips around him and her tongue got to work teasing and coaxing. This was her solution to fucking the man: drink his sperm. Keep his seed away from her egg. A pragmatic choice, yes, but his cock was in her mouth. She was working every inch. She played with his balls and suckled the fat head. She was playful, enjoying herself, enjoying his cock.

I thought I might pass out.

Her passion grew and so did his. She'd started out planning on simply draining his balls but lust was getting to her. Her arm moved rapidly as she rubbed her clit. She was going to orgasm from his cock in her mouth. She would have a lot to explain.

Tyler hooked his hands under her arms and lifted, bringing Emma to her feet. Tyler shoved, spinning her in place.

She put one hand on the sofa and the other reached backward over her ass, searching for his cock. She found him and tugged, rubbing the head around, seeking her pussy, and then pulling his bare cock into her fertile cunt.

They groaned together.

"You're on fire," he said.

"Shut up," she moaned, eyes closed now.

He grabbed her shoulders and sank that hefty spear balls deep. Emma groaned at the massive intrusion, arching her back and shaking her head in disbelief. Tyler fucked smooth and deep, savoring every tight inch he traveled. She must have felt fantastic wrapped around his thick inches. The sounds of her wetness reached my ears. They fucked in silence for long minutes, punctuated only occasionally by gasps and groans. Emma's tits wagged back and forth with each thrust, her arousal running in streaks down her inner thighs.

Outside, keys jangled. I froze. The front door opened and closed. The bolt shot.

"You home?" Sara called out.

"Fuck!" Emma growled.

Sara entered the kitchen and her face lit up. Then she laughed and dropped her purse and keys on the counter. She entered the living room, eyes glued to the fornicating couple, and sat facing backward on the sofa, her face inches from Emma's face. She lifted Emma's chin and gazed into her eyes.

"You little whore," she teased.

Emma grinned!

"I said you'd be unable to resist this boy's charms and I was right," Sara continued. "I know better than to ask you to share. I saw what happened at the party. We all saw what happened at the party."

"Shut up," Emma rasped, teeth clenched.

"I told you to get some more of that cute boy and you surely did," Sara concluded. She offered a hand to Tyler. "Hi, I'm Sara. Nice to formally meet you."

"You sucked my dick," Tyler grunted.

"I did," she admitted. "Right after you stuffed my pussy."

"Sorry about that," Tyler gasped. "House rules."

Sara waved him off.

"My pleasure," she stated.

Sara left the couch to take a chair nearby. She settled in, curling her feet under her legs. Tyler and Emma ignored her and continued their hot fuck. Soon Emma began breathing in short gasps.

"It's coming," she growled.

Tyler moved his big hands to her waist and locked her in place. His cock was a fat piston, plunging into her soaked hole before reappearing, gleaming and dripping. Tyler bore down, thrusting even deeper somehow and Emma whimpered. He started pumping faster.

"Like that," Emma whined. "Just like that. Don't stop. Fuck!"

Emma clamped her jaw and squeezed her eyes shut. Her whole body went rigid, muscles taut, toes curled, hands made into fists.

"Fuck!" she yelled, arching her back. "Aggh! Fuck!"

I thought another orgasm had seized her and maybe it had but then a wave smashed her like nothing before. Her skin flushed rosy, her mouth fell open in a silent scream. Tyler was a machine, deep-stroking her spasming hole, pumping iron inches in and out. Emma wailed like a soul released and tiny convulsions wracked her.

"Damn," Sara breathed. "Daaaaaamn."

Emma wasn't finished. Her pussy was the center of her universe, wild magic radiating outward. She contorted and twisted, writhing on his cock like a dying creature. Tyler could take no more and pushed his meat all the way in, holding himself deep while he grunted and his ass clenched over and over. For several heartbeats, I did not understand. Then my blood froze: he was ejaculating a river of sperm far inside. Emma twisted to see his face. Not to admonish, not to protest or scold, but to witness, to watch his handsome face as she drained him. Tyler wore a mask of most exquisite pleasure, almost pained. His big balls pumped a flood and his adorable face grimaced in mind-blowing pleasure. Emma looked so pleased. His climaxed drained away slowly.

Sara stood abruptly.

"I've got to go," she said. "That was too hot. I need my vibrator. Emma, we'll talk later. It can wait. Tyler, very nice meeting you."

Keys, purse, front door.

Tyler held Emma's hips and tenderly began to free his softening cock. Emma whimpered and shoved her sopping cunt down his length. She held him there, clamping her pussy around him until he began to slip. She relaxed and let him flop out, the tip dribbling semen. Emma turned and sank to her knees, guiding his head with a fingertip, sliding his meat into her mouth where she sucked him clean. Tremors shook my body. They kissed. Emma shook her head.

"Goddamn it," she murmured, her voice filled with rising guilt.

No explanation was necessary. Tyler helped her stand and they wrapped arms around each other. His spongy, vein-covered cock nestled between her legs, splitting her labia and resting comfortably there. They hugged a long time.

"We better get that shower out of the way," he suggested.

She nodded and they separated. He could not see her face but I could. I saw the distant, faraway, mind-racing fever behind her eyes. She took his penis in hand, leading him with it like she held reins and led a horse to stable.

Or a bull by the horn, I thought, remembering her comment from days ago.

They headed for the bathroom. This time, I heard the bathroom door click. I counted to three and slipped from my dry, dusty hiding place. My legs could barely support me. I took a step for the backdoor and then impulsively slid her book under her purse. She'd see it. She'd know I knew. She'd assume I happened by while they showered, and that wasn't good enough. My next conversation with her needed to be about the truth. I heard them talking under the spray of water so I took the time to write a brief note and place it like a bookmark several pages deep:

You should have used a condom.

I headed for the backdoor again, taking a moment to listen at the bathroom. I heard slurping, sucking, slippery sounds. Emma was worshipping that annoyingly beautiful cock again.

Chapter 5

I considered canceling my date with Carol but the idea of sitting home alone with my thoughts got me out the door. I expected the date would be a disaster because I'd be too distracted, but Carol was a delight. She was witty, insightful, and cute. She'd worn makeup and a pretty dress.

I expected a growing desire to break up with Emma, but those feelings never materialized. Instead what I felt was a burning need to fuck Emma within an inch of her life. All through dinner my body filled with a deep and longing ache.

Carol and I said goodnight and I kissed her cheek, walking briskly across campus to my apartment. I still had a late-night rendezvous with Emma, if she'd show. I was reading when I heard her sandaled feet out back. I rose to open the backdoor for her.

She'd dressed to kill.

Me.

She'd dressed to kill me.

She'd dressed to kill me and she nearly succeeded. Her tight skirt showed no panty lines. Her thin, form-fitting top with plunging neckline would normally have held my complete attention, but now two diamond-hard nipples struggled to pierce the fabric. She's spent time on her hair. She'd spent time on her makeup. She'd done everything she could to make herself as attractive to me as possible.

She stopped on the walkway when she saw me waiting. She raised one hand as if swearing on a Bible.

"I fucked up," she admitted. "I thought I knew myself. I thought I knew my limits. I was wrong. I don't. Not even close."

I ran my eyes over her. She looked fucking delicious. My earlier desire to fuck her within an inch of her life flared and intensified. I wanted to kill her with my dick.

"Get in here," I said, stepping aside.

Her eyes locked on mine. Whatever she thought she heard in my voice, she needed it confirmed. I let her see the burning lust I felt. I inhaled her fragrant perfume as she passed.

"What did you see?" she asked, turning in the kitchen to face me.

"Everything," I said. "I was in the heater closet. I saw everything."

"Sara?"

"Everything."

I thought she might cry. Humiliation washed over her.

"Take off your clothes," I said, quoting Tyler from their tryst. "I've been dying to see that body. Give me something to look at while I fuck your mouth."

Her eyes grew wide.

"If you're going to leave me," she said. "Just leave me. Don't toy with my emotions. I made a mistake, a huge one."

"An annoyingly beautiful huge one?"

She stiffened.

"I'm so sorry," she said.

I studied her. I wanted to feel the hate of betrayal. I wanted to feel the fury of broken trust. I searched for them but came up empty. I was hurt, there was no denying that, but she looked dazzling in the pale-yellow light of my kitchen. She looked stunning. Her earlier infidelity somehow made her more alluring, more attractive.

"I've never wanted to fuck you so badly," I growled. "Jesus, Emma, you're killing me. I changed my schedule to drop that book and got trapped in that closet and I witnessed the most painful thing I've ever seen. It also happens to be the sexiest thing I've ever seen."

Her jaw hit my apartment floor.

"What?"

"I'm shocked too. I died in that little space. You ruined me, tore me up, drove a dagger through my heart. But after all that, my only desire was to fuck your brains out."

"That's crazy."

"No argument from me," I said. "I can't stop thinking about what I saw. You looked like a fantasy. My dick is a rock in my pants right now."

She boldly stepped close and grabbed the front of my jeans. She squeezed my erection through my pants, surprised I was so hard.

"That's incredible," she said. "Amazing. I don't understand."

"Me either but you need to get on birth control."

"I can't," she said. "But I've discovered I have other options. I did a lot of research after Tyler left my place. There's a pill for after sex but it messes you up, causes cramps and headaches. I'll get some."

She squeezed my hard dick again.

Some, she'd said. Not, a pill. Not a couple of pills. She said she'd get some. In that instant, I knew she planned on fucking Tyler again. She probably planned on fucking Tyler a lot.

"I admit I did not see this response coming," she said. "I thought I was coming over to get dumped. I was ready to face it. I wanted to look my best. You've caught me by surprise."

"I'm as surprised as you," I said. "And you didn't try to look your best. You tried to look good enough to make me change my mind. You thought if you could seduce me you could save yourself and you're right."

She stepped away and pulled her top off. She shimmed her skirt to her feet and kicked the garment away.

"So," she said. "You mentioned how badly you wanted to fuck me?"

I couldn't answer. She looked too good. I pulled off my shirt and kicked off my shoes. Pants and underwear followed and I brandished my hard penis. We stared at each other naked, breathing fast and wondering what the fuck we were doing.

"This is insane," she mumbled.

"Completely," I agreed.

I grabbed a handful of her hair. She struggled as I turned her away from me, intent on fucking her from behind the way Tyler had. I was an instant from sliding my dick in when she spoke.

"Remember he's in there," she warned. "I'm wet for you, but it's not all me."

It thrilled her to say it. I heard the strange inflections in her voice. Her warning to me was also a hurdle to clear: my desire for her must be great if I was willing to plunge ahead anyway. If I fucked her under these circumstances, I must truly want her, and she loved feeling so desired.

I rammed my dick home and she was right: I felt his sperm slithering all along my penis, lubing me. He coated her walls and filled her tunnel. He was soaking into her. The thought was maddening.

"You're full of him," I growled.

Emma groaned.

"I felt him pumping," she rasped. "His cock spit, over and over."

She closed her eyes, returning to that moment.

"You men expand before you cum," she said. "He already felt fantastic but then swelled even bigger. No man has cum in me for a long time. I forgot how good it feels."

Jesus Christ. She was talking dirty, reliving the moment, thinking about his cock while mine was inside her. Thank God she was so slippery. I would have shot my wad in a minute. I'd slowed my stroke when she first started talking and the reduced friction helped me stave off orgasm.

"It was just sex," she murmured. "I don't know why I cum so hard for him."

Her words provoked me. I gripped her the same way he had and started pumping. I fucked her until sweat dripped from my face. I admit I was trying to make her orgasm like Tyler did but I couldn't. He simply possessed something I did not. Emma loved the rough handling, which is not something I usually do, and when I could hold back no longer I yelled and released my full load. It felt sensational. Like Emma, I'd gone a long time without cumming in a woman.

After, I was weak but still excited so I knelt behind her and licked her pussy. Emma moaned and quivered so I kept at it. I grabbed her ass with both hands and spread her like a nasty whore and buried my face. My tongue was a whip, torturing her clit and inner lips. Her excitement rose. I got the sense that while my efforts felt good, it was the idea of what I was doing that excited her more. She loved that my desire for her was so strong I'd brave her used cunt. Her gasps grew into moans and those built into cries of pleasure. At long last, I gave my girl an orgasm. She arched her back and curled her toes and I was so proud.

We rested a bit and then moved to my bedroom to cuddle. Neither of us wanted to speak and shatter the magic spell. We were way outside our comfort zone but enjoying it. Conversation was inevitable and she began by touching my lips with a fingertip.

"I'm surprised you went down on me," she murmured. "Was it unpleasant?"

"I didn't think about him," I said. "I was just dying to hear you climax."

She squeezed me.

"I had no idea we'd have sex tonight," she said.

"You show up looking like that? Seriously? You took my breath away."

A wide grin split her face.

"I was determined to keep you," she said. "I was ready to fight for us, for my relationship with you. Fucking Tyler means nothing. I got lost in the moment. He's a human dildo. He's hot and hung and fucks like a stallion. That's it."

"That's a lot."

"It's not enough for me. You know that. He's exercise. He's cardio. He's stress relief. You're my partner. You're my soulmate. I want to love you always. I plan to."

I admit, her words went a long way. I felt the tight knot around my heart loosen. I lay there basking in her undying love like an iguana in the sun. Then a thought from earlier intruded like a splinter in my brain, bursting my perfect bubble.

"You're going to fuck him again," I said.

She squeezed me tighter.

"Regrettably, I'll have to," she said. "He's our cover. School administrators don't care about which students fuck each other, they care about which students fuck teachers for better grades. They care about which teachers extort sex to pass failing students. The school's reputation would be destroyed overnight. The more public Tyler and I are, the more convinced everyone will be."

There was a vibration to her voice, an excited timbre that tickled my ear. She had everything in her favor and knew it.

"I guess I should have sex with Carol," I said. "To convince people."

That stopped her. Instant internal conflict. She started to speak but caught herself, wrestled with her conscience and jealousy, tried to rationalize her feelings, but gave up, and finally accepted her fate.

"If that's what you think," she mumbled.

"Fair is fair."

"Is it though?" she asked. "Tyler and I are just fucking, plain and simple. At year end he's gone forever. Carol is older and looking to settle down and you're quite the catch. You'd be leading her on. Also, for our ruse to work, we only need me and Tyler together. You're the studious professor with no time for frivolous relationships. Tyler and I are enough to distract everyone. You don't need to be fucking around too."

I had no intention of fucking Carol but Emma did not know that. I should tell her but the arrangement was so unfair I hated to give up my one piece of leverage. I saw plainly how upset the idea made her. Emma was allowed a lover while I, in her perfect world, was not. I weighed holding the idea over her head just so I had some sense of power. I quickly realized how emotionally immature that was. I fought to cling to it but gradually gave in. Emma was right about Carol. I couldn't play with the woman's emotions like that. I couldn't play with anyone's emotions like that.

"All right," I relented. "Carol will remain just a friend."

Emma squealed with delight. She grabbed my head and kissed me wildly all over my lips and face.

"How did I look?" she asked, stopping abruptly. "You're stuck in that tiny closet, watching another man fuck your woman. How did she look? Did I make any weird faces? I bet I made weird noises. Was I sexy?"

I rolled my eyes. The shit women worry about.

"Your feminist friends are going to throw you out of the sisterhood."

"Just tell me. Did I look hot? I must have looked hot because you just fucked me like you've never fucked me before. That was animal sex. But it got me wondering."

I gave her a blank look.

"Tell me," she insisted. "Was I sexy?"

I let myself relive those terrible moments trapped and forced to watch.

"You looked hotter than I'd ever seen you," I admitted. "Hotter than any woman I've ever seen. You were wrapped in lust, drunk on it. You knew you shouldn't, you shouldn't even be thinking it. You knew how wrong it was, but naked desire won. You knew where it all was headed when he told you to strip, but you went along. By the time he sank his cock in, you were out of control from craving it."

My words were getting to her. She squirmed against me, shifting her legs, trying to get comfortable. She was warmer than minutes ago. Her hand slid up my leg. She cupped my balls.

"Down on your knees," I continued. "His cock dangling like a temptation, your mouth watering for it, and everything in my mind made hotter by your defiant stand on subservience. You bow to no man yet there you were, panting like a bitch in heat."

I was pushing the envelope. I was flirting with danger. My words might turn her on or piss her off. Her hand left my balls to grip my shaft just behind the head. She pulled slowly, stretched me like rubber to my furthest length.

"I was," she whimpered. "His cock stood out crystal-clear, every inch in focus. Everything else was a blur. I was filled with want, shocked by how badly I craved it."

"You took him in your mouth like his penis meant the world to you. You were adoring and reverent. You thought you'd spare your pussy if you drained him down your throat but that's not what you truly wanted. You wanted to finish what he started that night on the balcony. You wanted him to fuck you again, this time for real, this time all the way."

Her body radiated a rising heat. Her chest rose and fell slowly, deep breaths of barely contained lust. I'd taken her back to those moments.

"I know that's what you had planned, Emma," I said. "That's why you asked me to drop off your school book. You needed to make sure I was busy at that time and wouldn't arrive unannounced and catch you. You know my schedule. You knew I couldn't come then. You were making sure you could count on that. You already had plans to bring him back to your place at three. You confirmed I wouldn't interrupt."

Her body tensed. She'd been caught and expected outrage. But I wasn't angry, I just wanted her to know I'd figured things out. There'd be no repercussions for her duplicity. Deep down I found her manipulations exciting. She schemed to get the cock she wanted in her again. She waited for the thunder that never came.

"You're right," she admitted. "You're not mad?"

I shook my head.

"It's hot," I said. "It's so unlike you. It's scary but it's hot."

"You like me turned on? You like me turned on and you don't care why or who got me feeling that way?"

"That's right."

"Maybe you'd like another serving of hot, wet pussy?" she muttered.

I kissed a trail down her body. It was humid under the covers, steamy, heady. The bread-dough scent of semen filled my nostrils. I smelled wet pussy too but I was drawn to Tyler and me seeping from her slit.

Our occasional sex life had undergone a revolution. I teased her slippery slit with a fingertip and was rewarded with a soft moan. I continued kissing down her tummy to a thigh and then shifted across. I held my mouth almost touching her labia, my hot breath panting on her sensitive skin. She was squirming again. I had questions, but now was the wrong time to ask. So, of course, I did.

"Why do you cum for him?" I said, planting my lips on her pussy.

Emma gasped. I kept my lips still, teasing. Emma knew if she wanted more, she'd best start talking.

"He's hot," she rasped. "I know so many women that want him. They talk behind his back the way women do but some throw themselves at him. He's got a great body and a handsome face."

I delicately parted her labia with the tip of my tongue.

"God," she groaned.

"He just fucks you, Emma. There's no intimacy, no build up, no foreplay. He just bends you over and shoves it in. How can that possibly work?"

She rolled her hips, trying to find my tongue again.

"That's why it works," Emma exhaled, growing frustrated. "He just fucks a girl. He's a gorilla but sometimes that's exactly what a woman needs. Lately I spread my legs and lift my ass and twist myself into lewd sexual positions and I love it. If you tell anyone I'll kill you but it all makes me feel like a woman."

The covers moved and her hands landed on the back of my head. She pulled me forward, driving my mouth into her cunt. I pushed my tongue in as far as I could, licking her inner walls, licking her G spot. I stirred the semen in her.

"That's nasty," she moaned. "I love it."

I saved my questions for later.

"He's thick," she added, her voice fading. "His penis has weight and girth. It feels amazing, but I already told you that."

I spread her pussy lips with two fingers and teased the inner lips. She was sopping, slick and slippery. I took my time. If I encountered another man's semen, on a car seat for example, I would recoil. Encountering another man's semen inside the woman I love was something very different. It changed her in my eyes. It changed our relationship. The feelings were complicated. It was undeniable proof of what she'd done, of how she'd cheated, and that enhanced her sexually. It changed my fundamental view of her. She was more stripper and less librarian. She was hotter.

Chapter 6

I was hurrying across campus when my phone chimed.

T and me, my place, ten minutes.

Not much notification for such a scandalous rendezvous but she'd already warned me earlier she was feeling horny.

"I'd come over and fuck you," she'd said. "But you're tutoring at that time."

"So you'll take Tyler instead."

"Yes. His class canceled. Professor's sick."

I'd heard the excitement in her voice. There is nothing like new pussy and I guess there is nothing like new dick either. My reaction to her cheating had us both feeling elated but cautious, like we'd stumbled across a rich but abandoned gold mine, the whole structure unstable and dangerous.

Then four days passed with nothing but one obligation after another. I'd briefly seen Emma once for coffee. Emma and Tyler had not spent any time together at all. She casually mentioned the sexual tension growing in her like a volcano.

Hours ago, I called my student to cancel tutoring. I told Emma what I'd done. It never occurred to her to cancel Tyler's visit and have sex with me, only to suggest I get to her place before them and watch.

I double-timed it, arriving first by minutes. I'd left my backpack at my office and silenced my phone. I cut through the kitchen and slid into the hot and dusty closet. I calmed my breathing. A moment later her front door opened and closed. I heard muffled kissing, clothes hitting the ground, giggles and gasps. I feared they'd fuck out of sight but Emma led him by his penis into the living room. They were already naked, his fat cock risen to half-mast.

She stopped to plant a deep and passionate kiss on his mouth and I knew sometime during the last few days she'd stood in this closet to find the best angles for me. She'd even moved some furniture. How thoughtful. She led him to that spot and shoved him backward into her big beanbag chair. He fell, laughing, weighty cock flopping against his rippled abs. Emma gazed at his face, then his body, then glued her eyes to his bulky meat. I gazed at it too, my breath fast and shallow, my heart wrapped in trepidation.

No verbal argument could penetrate her impregnable feminist defenses but as it turns out, there was yet a way in, and Tyler had it hanging between his legs. She'd kill me if I ever mentioned it but I saw the look on her face as she stood over him, I saw her eager lust and willing submission. She grinned, stepping over him and bringing her smoldering pussy to his mouth. He reached between her legs with both arms, planting his hands on her round ass. He pulled her cunt closer and began to feast.

Emma turned to stare at the closet. She knew I was in there, watching. She cupped her tits and offered them to me, grinning wickedly. Tyler was oblivious. I stifled a groan. Our situation was one I'd never imagined but now that we were deep in it, Emma and I had become junkies. When we did have time to talk, we talked about little else. Gone was our social consciousness and priorities for improving mankind. Hot sex was our world. Our schedules had suffered as we canceled meetings or skipped classes. We'd need to bring that under control or risk tanking this semester, but for now we were intoxicated by this new drug.

Emma's wicked grin spread. Her knees bent and her hips sank, pulling her pussy away from his mouth. He looked at her face but she kept her eyes on me and he was too dim-witted to notice and understand. She slid her wet pussy down his bumpy abs until his throbbing cock prodded her swollen labia. He moaned from frustrated need and buried his face between her tits, his muscular arms circling her waist. She wrapped her arms around his head and began to press her hips lower, forcing his spear to penetrate, spreading her tight hole around him like a sheath. The head eased inside, swallowed. Emma couldn't see me but she never took her eyes from mine.

How immoral is it for a woman to slide down on another man while locking eyes with the man she loves? Her hips began a slow rise and fall, pushing and pulling her tight cunt up and down his rampant prick. Her expression softened as the bliss of his cock spread through her. She wanted me to see what he did to her. She wanted me to see and understand. I watched in amazement, blood flowing as my penis grew firm in my pants. I was tangled in my boxers, twisted upside down, and the harder I got the more uncomfortable I became. Watching her was the most exciting, erotic, sensual thing I'd ever seen.

I always carry a small notepad and pen with me and I withdrew both, moving carefully to avoid making noise. I scrawled an awkward note. I risked opening the door wide enough to extend my arm holding the pad. Emma read my message as she dragged her cunt up and down his cock.

Marry me?

Her eyes grew wide, her jaw dropped. She began nodding enthusiastically, riding Tyler harder and faster. My trapped and folded penis ached for release. Emma was still nodding vigorously, fucking Tyler hard and fast, when she cried out in orgasm. She slammed her hips down burying Tyler in her belly. My legs went weak. I withdrew my note and silently closed the door. Emma soared, head falling back and hips moving again, her face twisted in seeming agony.

"Aaaaa!" she wailed, drawing her knees together as another orgasm crashed into her first. Her nipples, untouched, rose to twin peaks of rosy flesh. Her hands clasped behind his neck, her back arched farther as she ground her hips down on his lap. She was wild, barely contained madness.

Tyler's big meat was far up in her. She howled in mind-blowing pleasure, stuffed with cock. His hands slid up her back, allowing her to arch even more. Her hair brushed the living room carpet. She went silent, lost in the insane sensations he gave, rocking her hips against his rigid meat. She seemed to peak and slightly drop off when suddenly she yelled.

"Fuck!" she cried. "Unngh! Oh, God! Now!"

She started cumming again! I'd leaked a wet spot on my jeans and felt the cool liquid against my thigh. Tyler squeezed his eyes shut. He made a stupid monkey face and then his hips jerked repeatedly. Emma's wild eyes locked on my hiding place as the first blast of Tyler's sperm swamped her ovaries. She knew this moment thrilled us both. He grunted and dumped another bucket far up into my new fiancée. Over and over he spurted, injecting Emma with hot studly Neanderthal jizz. She melted in his arms, her body turning rag-doll to his short but powerful thrusts. He inseminated her right before my eyes. Again and again he shot, days' worth of saved up sperm. I suspected he'd skipped masturbation, bottling his load, letting it build into a reservoir of semen, storing every tadpole for the next time he could plant those seeds in her. Her groans of release matched his until they both wilted into a limp pile of arms and legs.

They stayed like that only a moment, his pearly fluid beginning to leak.

"We're late," he mumbled. "I told you a quickie would be impossible."

"Shut up," she replied. "Get dressed. I already skipped this class once this week. I can't miss it again."

"If you want me to fuck faster," he joked. "Stop cumming so much. I can't pull out while you're busy having an orgasm all over my cock."

She laughed.

"All right," she conceded. "I guess I'll just keep cumming on you."

Her face glowed. Her skin was radiant. Her casual comfort, naked in front of him, made my dick throb. They dressed quickly. I watched her panties slide up her legs, pinching her labia and trapping every drop of him inside. They kissed. She let him bolt for the front door and then lingered a moment. I heard him leave and shut the door behind. I stuck my head out of the closet, tasting dust.

"Hell yes," she said. "Marry you? Fuck yes. Absolutely yes."

She blew me a kiss and ran for the door too.

I was alone in her apartment. Not my first time, but my first time since all this started. Before Tyler I was comfortable, possibly even a little asleep. I'm embarrassed to admit I treat Emma better now than I did then. I give my full attention, I listen. Doubts assails me every day. I'm challenged by what we're doing every day. That makes me be fully present when we're together.

I moved to her bedroom. I wasn't searching for anything specific, I was just investigating. I never worried about her life away from me before Tyler, but I was curious as fuck now. How did she spend her time when I wasn't around? I peeked in her closet, noticing the dress she'd worn the night of the party. I opened nightstand drawers, discovering a dildo twice the size of my dick and a six-pack of condoms.

Condoms?

I remembered her telling Tyler she had none.

She had Post-It notes all over the place, little reminders about events she needed to worry about. I read a few, noted most were already expired, and moved to her bathroom.

What a slob. No wonder she always wants to meet at my place. I've been here several times but we always had sex fast and furious in the living room or the kitchen. I'd never ventured this far.

I sat on her unmade bed and thought about the proposal I'd just made. I always imagined I'd drop to a knee when I asked some woman to marry. Maybe I'd recreate the moment later and do it right. Or maybe she thought asking her while she fucked another man was the hottest thing on Earth. I'd see how she felt about what I'd done. I stood, ready to leave, and checked everything was as she'd left it. As I passed the full-length mirror by the door, I saw yet another sticky yellow note.

Tommy Macmaster 679-5050

I knew that name. I'd taught Tommy. Tommy would be a senior now. Tommy reminded me of Tyler in face and body but Tommy was bright, maybe even brilliant. Why did Emma have his number and more importantly, why had she never mentioned Tom's name to me? The note looked new. Perhaps she shared a class with him. Perhaps they were part of a study group. Either could be true and I'd rightly never hear his name. But then why was his name all by itself and on her mirror?

My mind jumped to the obvious conclusion: if she is allowed to fuck a Tyler, she can also fuck a Tommy. Our farce only needed her dating, not necessarily dating one man alone. She was probably flirting with every attractive guy she knows.

I looked at myself in her mirror. Why was I allowing all this? Why was I going along? My eyes gazed back at me. In the reflection and over my shoulder I saw her party dress hanging in her closet. Memories of her in it that night stirred my penis. I was still horny from the night of the party. I was still horny from watching her and Tyler the first time. I was intensely horny from what I watched just minutes ago. Despite our deep conversations about equality, I loved watching my girlfriend, now my fiancée, bent over and used.

"How about that?" I said to her bedroom.

There it was. How sophisticated. How evolved. How enlightened. I met my eyes again and accepted the truth: make that sexy bitch moan. Make the militant social justice warrior cum on your big stud cock.

Not my proudest moment.

Then it dawned on me that Emma, who is naturally the more insightful of us, already knew this about me. She knew, accepted, and charged ahead.

My dick swelled.

I removed her party dress from the closet and laid it on her bed. I freed my penis from its entanglements and began to stroke. I pictured her that night, wearing this dress, bent over the banister, Tyler's big cock edging closer. I'd thought them strangers but now understood she'd known him, she'd known the man about to fuck her. He was no anonymous frat boy. The moment had been intense when it happened but my new understanding seared it into my brain. She'd known him and wanted him. She'd fought those that held her. Her struggles had been real. No way would she be lumped in with the school bimbos. No way would she join the ranks of the empty-headed babes that will carve their future only with the help of powerful men. She would not allow herself to be one of the girls bent over the railing. Like almost every woman at school, she'd wanted Tyler too, but not like that, not like some piece of meat impaled on the end of his dick. So, she'd fought. She'd resisted. She'd scuffled until the moment he penetrated her, then all that stopped. I'd seen her shock and surprise, but also her instant gratification.

My dick throbbed in my hand. I pictured her above the crowd, tight pussy stuffed, tits spilling out, hair a mess, humiliated and mortified for all to see. Then the final disgrace: Emma, the feminist, crying out in orgasm in front of everyone.

I gazed down at her dress and jerked my penis faster. My aching balls bounced wildly. She'd looked so hot up there but some part of me also liked witnessing her transformation. I enjoyed her capitulation. I enjoyed watching her surrender to Tyler. His big cock hadn't turned her into a bimbo. Nothing so clichéd as that. His big cock had awakened something.

I grunted suddenly as a bolt of semen launched, splattering her garment. I clenched my nuts and another jet flew. I considered aiming away but then a perverse thrill gripped me. I stroked faster, emptying my pent-up and burning balls, plastering her clothing with hot semen.

Finished, I zipped up and wiped the dress clean, thankful the busy pattern helped hide my dirty deed. I rehung it and stepped back.

Class started soon and I needed to leave.

Chapter 7

I walked through my days in a constant state of arousal. My libido climbed into overdrive. I started eyeing every hot female in my class, searching for any flash of skin. I discovered there were a lot, crowds of them that I'd been blind to. I remained faithful, even when openly flirted with, and not just to protect my tenure. There was an irrational thrill to be had by denying myself while Emma played freely.

I couldn't mention Tommy to Emma without admitting I'd nosed around her apartment so I kept his name to myself and waited for her. Two days later she did, on a phone call, casually commenting she planned to study with a friend.

"His name is Tommy Macmaster," she said, "and he's fairly brilliant. I've fallen behind in class, you know why, and studying with him is a good way to catch up."

"How is Tommy?"

That caught her by surprise.

"You know him?"

"Yup. Taught him his freshman year. Smart."

She paused a moment, wrestling.

"I didn't know you knew him," she said.

"What difference does it make? You're just going to study, right?"

More silence.

"I'm thinking of fucking him," she confessed.

"Do it," I said. "At your place. Pick a time I can watch."

"Seriously? You've turned out to be a complete pervert."

"Guilty. You've turned out to be a complete slut."

She gasped. I'd struck a nerve. That word was a trigger but also true. She couldn't deny the word. She needed to embrace it. I waited as she calmed herself.

"I can fuck Tommy?" she asked, skeptical.

"Yes. Why not? Why would Tyler be okay and Tommy not?"

"Does that mean I can fuck anyone?"

"Again," I stated. "Why not?"

She turned thoughtful.

"I'm wrestling with a lifetime of learned condemnation for women who behave slutty. You're right, I am acting that way. I got angry when you used that word but it's true. The real question is should it matter? I've been taught good women don't do that."

"Put that out of your head. Does acting slutty feel good? Is it pleasurable? If you enjoy feeling slutty then I say run with it. Men and women can fuck whomever they wish as often as they wish, unless they've promised they won't. It's not automatically slutty unless you want it to be because you like seeing yourself that way."

"Thanks, but I accepted your proposal. We're getting married."

"We are. The minute you graduate. Until then you're single and dating. Our engagement will be a parade of studs."

We both chewed on what I'd just said.

"Why Tommy?" I asked. "How do you know him? Share a class?"

She shook her head

"No, from Sara. She slept with him and raved to me about it. She told me I should try him on for size. Isn't she clever? We'd talked about Tyler and of course she was there that night. She said Tommy and Tyler had some similarities."

"Handsome? Nice body?"

"All that and more," she said.

I heard the implication: hung.

"You're already looking forward to him," I teased.

"I'm soaked," she replied. "I'm soaked and about to sit through two hours of ancient social constructs mirrored in current culture."

"Fun."

"No, it isn't. I want to skip class and call Tommy, give him my address, spill my guts, reveal my desires, and hurry home to meet him. It may not work like that. He might tell me thanks but no thanks. I don't know if I'm his type. I hope so."

"I can't right now," I said. "Busy. How about this evening?"

"Yes. Seven. I shouldn't miss another class."

"I'll sneak into my cubbyhole at six-fifty," I said. "See you at seven-oh-one."

"We're insane. Jesus."

"Jesus indeed. Did you stop by the pharmacy for those pills?"

"Shit."

"Emma."

"I know. I will. I'm so busy."

"Do it."

We disconnected.

My heart hopped all over the place. My sex-drive was full throttle. I remembered Tommy well. We developed a friendship that lasted after class ended. Emma fucking Tom carried an extra charge. Tom and I had talked about some of the hot girls in class. We'd bonded. We were buds. Now my fiancée was going to fuck him and he had no idea what was coming his way. My dick swelled. I empathized. Hell, I envied. I had sex with Emma too but not as some hot sex-drenched hook-up.

I checked my watch. I taught a class in four minutes and my bulge was plainly visible and headed on the way up, not down.

"Oh well," I said.

I'd do my best to hide my hard on but some, especially the students in the front row, were in for a show.

Fuck it, I thought proudly. Let them stare.

The hour raced by. Two girls and one gay guy smirked but the rest of the class seemed not to notice. After ten minutes or so I was back to normal. I expected the day to drag, given what I was anticipating, but like the class, the hours raced by. Six-fifty had me sneaking into her place and taking my spot. Emma arrived alone and spoke to her empty apartment but her words were meant for my ears.

"He's on his way," she said, her voice pitched high with tension. "I can't believe we're doing this."

I said nothing, wishing to avoid any chance of discovery. What if he was right outside? She primped her hair and adjusted her clothes in the small mirror, loosening a button to show more cleavage. Someone knocked at her front door. I heard a male voice and held my breath. The sounds drew closer and then there they were.

Four years of college can change a person. It was Tommy but now he sported tattoos and piercings. His head was shaved. He wore jeans and a sleeveless shirt. He stepped close to Emma.

"Sara said—" she began.

He cut her off, grabbing the crotch of his jeans.

"I know what Sara said," he rumbled. "We know why I'm here."

Emma's eyes flashed angry. She had a rebuttal ready, ready to put cocky Tommy in his place. Emma had dealt with overly assertive guys her whole life. She had a rebuttal ready but never spoke it. Tommy pulled his shirt off, revealing a wildly tattooed chest and stomach. A silver ring pierced a nipple. Tats ran down each arm. Emma gazed at his body, her eyes creeping over every inch.

"That's a lot of ink," she said, astounded and intrigued.

He straightened, unbuckling and unzipping. She was conflicted: aroused by his confidence, annoyed by his arrogance. He kicked each foot, drawing his pants off. He wore no underwear and the tattoos continued down his body to the root of his hanging cock. A silver ring ran through the head. Two fat silver studs sat at the base.

"That looks painful," she said, pointing at the embedded posts.

"It was," he said. "But let's see what you think when I'm balls-deep and those studs are polishing your clit."

He took his soft cock in hand and began to stroke, watching Emma, waiting. She shifted uncomfortably, challenged, unsure. She'd worn a simple summer dress with pockets and she stuffed her hands in them now, inadvertently pulling her dress lower and showing more cleavage.

"I was at the party," he said. "I know you got accepted to the Skeleton Club. I don't know Tyler but I saw what he did to you."

Emma watched his hand travel from root to head to root, seemingly hypnotized. He was long and floppy, but that was changing quickly.

"I was shocked," he continued. "I thought you were an angry man-hating lesbian. I never saw you with a guy, never saw you on a date. Then ole Tyler lights you up for everyone to see. I bet that boosted your social calendar."

"I started dating Tyler."

He laughed.

"You liked it that much? Wow. Yet you got Sara to arrange this meeting for you. If you're with Tyler why are you watching me jerk off?"

He let go of his dick to toss some of her long hair, which had fallen to cover her cleavage, over her shoulder, giving him a better view. His cock hung in a downward curve, the tapered head pointed at the floor. A pencil-thick blue vein ran along the side.

"I choose who I'm with," she said, with a touch of defiance.

"The Skeleton Club will be a huge help after college. I wonder if you'll use your connection. I'm sure you plan to forge your own path out of spite."

"I don't need a man opening doors for me."

"We'll see," he said.

Emma got annoyed.

"I don't need a man," she insisted.

"You just want our cocks," he said.

He started unbuttoning the front of her dress, his boldness sending a shiver up her back. He flipped the halves open, revealing her pretty white bra. His cock had continued to rise and expand on its own and Emma stared at it. He followed her gaze and grinned.

"Sara told you," he stated.

"She mentioned it."

"That's why you wanted to meet me."

"You're right," she admitted. "I like them."

He lifted his pants from the floor and withdrew a foil-wrapped condom from a pocket. Emma watched him bite the wrapper and roll the prophylactic halfway down his shaft. The thin latex stretched clear.

"Cool?" he asked.

"No," she said, stepping close and pinching the reservoir tip between thumb and index finger. She pulled, stretching the thin rubber like chewing gum. She pulled harder and the sleeve began to slide up the shaft. "Don't worry," she said. "I like to feel the big ones go boom. If there are any consequences, I'll handle them."

The condom popped off with a loud snap. Emma glanced at my hiding place as she finished unbuttoning her dress. She shrugged and the garment landed in a ring around her ankles. Her bra and panties hit the floor. Tommy folded his arms across his chest, admiring. Emma basked in his rapt attention.

"Bedroom?" he asked. "Or should I fuck your brains out right here?"

She threw me another glance.

"Bedroom's a disaster," she said. "Fuck my brains out right here."

He grabbed her arms and kissed her deeply. They moved closer, his cock sliding down her stomach and then slipping between her legs. She closed her thighs, trapping him, so he began to gently back and forth, sliding the shaft through her gap and rubbing along her clit. He pulled her closer, kissed her again, mashed her tits against his ribs.

"Do those silver studs really work?" she asked playfully.

He reached around and cupped her round ass.

"Ask me again in about two hours," he said.

"Braggart," she said. "Actually, I don't mean that. I have all night."

"Me too."

I don't, I thought, wondering how I'd escape.

He pumped his cock through her gap, teasing. Each time he pulled a little farther back the silver ring would graze her hole, threatening to plunge inside. Emma allowed him to do as he wished. He lifted each breast to his mouth, one at a time, taking turns and taking his time. He tongued her nipples, biting playfully. Behind her, one hand parted her ass cheeks, the other dipped a finger in her wet pussy and then wiggled it up her ass. She moaned.

"I want you to suck my cock," he said.

"Okay," she readily agreed.

"But I don't want to take the time," he continued. "I'm dying to be inside your hot wet pussy."

Emma kissed him, holding his head in her hands, and then turned to face away, lifting her ass slightly, offering her slit from behind. He cupped a big tit and guided his cock around her hole. They both gasped when he found the opening. His free hand landed on her hips and he pulled her backward while sliding an inch inside. My fiancée groaned.

"That ring really adds something special," she panted.

He pushed, sending the ring traveling up her tunnel. His swelling cock expanded her, filled her. When the hard metal ring met her cervix, she winced.

"Sorry," he muttered.

"Don't be," she replied, breathless. "It's a good pain."

He began a slow but strong in and out. Her slippery cunt slurped a few times. She reached her arms up and back, trying to circle his neck, thrusting her tits out and up. Every now and then their bodies parted enough for me to see the thick shaft which connected them like a bridge.

I was trembling and hard as oak. There had to be a better way for me to experience this rather than breathing hot dust and cobwebs. The answer leapt into my brain and I almost gasped. I knew it was true the instant I thought it. I saw our future.

We would continue this way after marriage.

For now, this was our lot: Emma and her parade of lovers. But the school year would end and who knows what happens then. I could take a sabbatical while she finished her last year. Either one of us could transfer. Our choices were many.

Tommy pushed her off his dick and spun her around. They kissed again.

"Jump up and circle your legs around my waist," he said.

"You want to fuck me standing?"

He gave her a wicked grin.

"Just do it, Em."

Emma slipped her arms around his neck and jumped, circling his waist. They kissed again and he reached under her ass, guiding his cock back into her hole.

"Oh!" she said, squirming.

He held her ass in his big hands.

"Oh!" she said again. "Wow. Daaaaamn!"

She rolled her hips on his cock, grinding her clit against his silver implants. My angle wasn't great but I caught flashes of her pussy stretched into a wide O around his meat. His balls hung low, looking like they might be connected to her instead of him. She tightened the arms around his neck and they began to make out: hot, passionate, meaningful kisses of raw lust.

"Jesus, you're tight," he said.

Emma did not respond. Not verbally anyway. My fiancée tightened her arms and legs and fucked herself on his meat, lifting her ass to slide up his cock one or two inches before sinking again and rotating slowly. Their tongues wrestled in open air. She fucked him with everything she had, a smoldering burn, deliberate and intense.

She was still fucking him like that when she came.

It started as an increase in wetness, her pussy slurping as his cock moved those few inches in and out. Her breathing grew ragged, her moans deep and animal. Aside from her hips, her tight body was motionless. A pink flush spread across her back. Her nipples puckered into diamonds. His hard, pierced cock stirred her insides and tortured her clit. Tommy held her like a vise.

"I feel your cunt milking me," he murmured sweetly.

That did it. Emma groaned as her pleasure spiked, pussy juice dripping from his balls. I expected a wail of soaring pleasure but this went beyond that. Her jaw muscles worked as she struggled for breath and then every muscle and tendon clenched. She buried her face in his neck and trembled, sobbing as an orgasm unlike any other ripped through her. On and on it went, driven by his impaling spear and stimulating contact against her clit. Emma clung to him as the storm raged, desperate hips subtly rocking.

At last she pulled her face away, gasping for breath and howling as her mind melted.

"Aaaaaaaaaaaaa God!" she screamed.

Tommy would not let her go. He gently rocked her back and forth, churning her cunt, working the thick hard cock far up in her. Her relentless orgasm showed no mercy. Prolonged and Earth-shaking, Emma whimpered, overcome, then began to sob. She kept her grip on him and suffered through it all, suffered until her body and jangled nerves could take no more.

Tommy bent his knees and tenderly lowered her to the floor, remaining between her legs as he began a smooth in and out. My fiancée wept as he fucked her deeply, wiping tears and kissing him.

"Don't you dare pull out," she murmured after a time.

He moved his legs for a better angle and then started pumping his cock with long head to root strokes. He bent her legs and lifted them to his shoulders, guessing correctly her pussy was his to do with as he pleased. Emma kept her hands on his muscular arms and closed her eyes, savoring the sweet sensations and her complete surrender to this man.

Tommy, on each plunge, now held himself buried for a heartbeat. He had to be pressed against her cervix. His eyes locked onto hers. Veins rose along his length and his fat balls tightened. He sucked a gulp of air and held it, jaw clenching and toes curling.

"Emma," was all he said before pushing his long cock all the way in and holding it there, balls contracting and eyes closing as he ejaculated again and again and again. He slowly hung his head as he injected my fiancée with sperm. Emma tangled her legs with his, trapping every inch inside.

Once the last jet entered her, he collapsed, sprawling his tattooed body over hers. Her arms circled his neck and they did not move.

I waited, my erection so hard it ached.

They lay in a crumpled pile. Five, ten, fifteen minutes. I shifted uncomfortably. At last they stirred.

"Bedroom?" Emma asked.

"Bedroom after all," Tommy confirmed.

I would not be able to see them in there. It was my window to slip away but there was no place for me to watch. Emma was helping me escape but she was also sending me home while she continued with her lover.

Tommy rose to his feet and Emma sat up, guiding his slippery cock into her mouth. He gazed at her face as she sucked his soft sensitive inches and licked his balls. He stroked her hair.

"You are not the lover I thought you'd be," he said.

"I'm not the lover I thought I was," she admitted.

She stood and they kissed and she maneuvered to hug him while looking at the closet. She smirked playfully. She took his soft wet dick in hand and led him away. I waited until I heard moans from her bedroom and then slipped from my hiding place. I'd go home and jack off and she knew it. There was no chance of her visiting later tonight.

The cool night air helped clear my head. Watching Emma fuck was a huge turn on and I wasn't about to let it go, but the sight always shook me to my core. How could such contradictory women live in the same body? How could she be so adamantly feminist yet so submissively cock-loving? I pondered that awhile and then it occurred to me to ask myself a similar question: how can you love her so much yet share her with other men? How can you want to marry her yet want to watch her fucked?

The truth, for us both, was the complexity of being human. Paradoxical and seemingly opposed positions can coexist.

I hurried home and stripped, oiling my hand with lotion and resting on my back. I played the night's events in my head, adding the hottest scenes from her and Tyler.

Minutes later my dick transformed into a fountain of sperm.

Chapter 8

Tyler was furious. Emma confessed her tryst with Tommy and Tyler flipped out. Emma reminded him they'd had no agreement regarding exclusivity. In fact, she pointed out, Tyler had never even bothered to ask if she was already seeing someone. He just assumed since he was fucking her she must belong to him. He threatened to have sex with other girls and Emma said she thought he already was.

I had to wait fifteen weeks to have sex with Emma again. Almost four months. Our schedules, when you subtract the nights she could have come to see me but went to see Tommy or Tyler instead, were ridiculous. Almost every minute of every day was accounted for. She kept me apprised of her sex life via text and quick get-togethers over coffee. She even sent a couple pictures of Tommy's and Tyler's cocks in her pussy. I jacked off to the agony of those images many times. When we finally did have sex again it was like nothing we'd ever shared before. We were left sweaty, panting, satisfied and mentally wiped out.

Emma started dressing sexy. Gone were the thick baggy sweatshirts and pants, replaced by tight tops and generous swaths of bare skin. Her feminist friends disowned her. More than how she looked, her outward attitude drew eyes to her. She laughed more, flirted more, radiated confidence and joy. This brought more men to her doorstep which boosted her confidence further and caused even more flirting.

First semester zipped by and second semester was on pace to do the same.

I was seated in the staff lounge, enjoying a coffee and some T. S. Eliot, when Richard Thornbud dropped into the heavy leather chair beside me. He sat a stack of books and papers on the low table and adjusted his wirerimmed glasses.

"She'll be my death," he murmured, a sly smile on his face. "And I'll welcome it."

I closed my book.

"You're sleeping with a student," I said.

"I am. Me. Benjamin Franklin. Can you believe it, Ronald? It's delightful but she's a tigress. I'm exhausted most days. I know I risk my tenure and my reputation but the cheese in this trap is far too tasty. I cannot resist."

Of course, a little alarm went off in my head.

"What's her name?" I asked, holding my breath.

"Sara Goodwin," he whispered.

I exhaled, wanting to laugh. Close, but the wrong girl.

"I'm happy for you. Your secret is safe."

He smiled.

"Last night," he continued. "She paid me a visit and brought along a classmate, a young lady named Rachel. I fucked them both for hours. I may not have the body of my youth but I still possess the wand God gave me. I've never done anything remotely similar. They loved it."

I imagined how events had unfolded. I pictured Sara, who is always on the hunt, talking with other coeds, classmates and friends. One mentions Thornbud and his Godly Wand and they all titter. Sara takes note and makes a move because that's the kind of thing she craves and, being a dear friend, decides to share her good fortune with one of her better friends, or maybe just whoever had an interest and an opening in their schedule. Whatever. The point was that dread filled me now because I knew what was coming. Emma studied late last night and was unavailable but tonight she was open. She may not have invited Emma along that time but she would, and soon.

Richard narrated his conquest from the night before but I only listened with one ear. This man was on a collision course with my fiancée and had no idea. I appraised him anew. His large gut stretched his dress shirt and button vest. His bushy eyebrows touched his glasses. Gray stubble dotted his chin and cheeks. His teeth weren't truly yellow but they weren't exactly pearly white either.

This old codger would soon fuck my bride-to-be.

"Have you had two birds perch on your branch?" he discreetly asked, snapping me back to the moment. "Have you enjoyed two fine ladies simultaneously pleasing you orally? The sensation borders on the divine. Truly. Each seemed determined to outdo the other."

"I hope you used protection," I said.

He lifted both hands, dismayed.

"There was no time! They were upon me like jackals. Rachel, dear child, was especially insistent, practically knocking me over and climbing aboard. She rode me like she delivered mail for the pony express. My attempts to withdraw proved fruitless. She firmly planted herself around my penis. My ejaculate filled her and I believe she achieved climax from the sensation. Can you imagine? We spent the whole night indulging. I'm drained and exhausted. Rachel left at sunrise but Sara stayed. She yet slumbers in my bed. I'd be there too but duty called. Shaping young minds and all that."

I had no words. Tommy was close to home but Richard was like a brother. He was my colleague and my confidant. Sara would unknowingly lead my Emma right to him. I'd never look at him the same.

"Sara will return to my home this evening," he said, confirming my fears. "You should join us. I know you've carried a heavy heart of late. Perhaps some mindless distraction is what you need. They'll arrive at eight."

I had absolutely no business stepping into that quagmire.

"I'll be there," I said.

I finished my coffee, told Richard I'd see him later, and headed for class. To my surprise I was able to wall off the upcoming event the remainder of the day. Eight arrived quickly. Sara and Emma do everything last minute so I arrived at seven-forty-five and shared a scotch with Richard. He wore an extra-large dress shirt and baggy jeans like he lived near the beach. He was barefoot. After a few sips Richard dug something out of his pocket and showed me a little blue pill on the palm of his hand.

"Want one?" he asked. "I've taken mine already."

"No, thank you," I said.

A soft tapping at his door at eight-twenty made me mutter: "Nevermore," to which he chuckled. He opened the door wide.

"Welcome," he said, beaming.

"Hi Daddy," Sara squeaked, slipping between Richard and the wall and dragging another friend by the hand. Richard closed the door and locked it.

"This is Emma," Sara said. "My best friend."

I was right: Sara had swapped a Rachel for an Emma. On seeing me, Emma's happy face collapsed into guilty dismay. Richard read her wrong, believing she was merely upset to find a second man present.

"He's an old friend and a loyal colleague," Rich explained. "I shared my story from last night and he seemed keenly interested. I hope you don't mind. I'm sure if touching is out he'd be happy to merely observe. Isn't that right, Ron?"

I met Sara's gaze first. She was fine with two men at the same time. She had no idea who I was. I shifted to Emma and smirked. She was a twisted knot of conflict.

"I'd love to watch," I said. "Truth be told, my loyalty to my partner prevents my participation. Voyeurism is on the menu, however, so just pretend I'm not here. You ladies are gorgeous and will provide superior entertainment."

Emma gave me a withering look. I had her trapped. I was trying to push her buttons and had clearly succeeded. I grabbed the bottle of scotch and two additional glasses.

"Perhaps we'd all like a toast first?"

Sara took the whiskey and pulled the cork, upending and drinking directly from the bottle, which she passed to Emma. My fiancée did the same. Richard was standing beside me when he began to unbutton his shirt. Sara laughed playfully and moved to help. I bowed and stepped aside.

"Don't mind me," I told Emma. "I'm sure you girls will put on quite a show."

She was miffed but refused to back down. To spite me she joined Sara, working next on Richard's pants. They had to lift his belly to undo the belt and fly but everyone just laughed about it. These ladies could have any hot stud at school, and had, but here they were in an old professor's hut. Sara turned her attention to his underwear and Emma joined in.

I was expecting something slightly bigger than mine, hidden in a bush of dense pubic hair, but that's not what I got. Richard's cock flopped from his tighty whities and swung like a heavy pendulum. He was long, soft yet already about seven inches, but it was his thickness that stole the breath.

There is a black porn star with something equally fat and I remembered marveling when I first saw it. How did he shop for pants? Richard closed his hand around the shaft, fingertips not meeting on the other side. Not meeting by more than an inch. Emma gawked, slack-jawed.

"See?" Sara boasted. "I told you."

Emma nodded dumbly.

"This school is full of hidden treasures," Sara continued. "A girl just needs to ask around. Guys love girls that love dick."

"He's too thick," my girl muttered.

Sara smacked Emma's ass playfully.

"You say that now," she teased. "I'll check back when we're finished with him."

Richard looked shy and uncertain. How he could be shy and uncertain with a beast like that in his pants, I'll never understand. Maybe it was the two young things at the same time that got to him. He'd only participated in such an arrangement for the first time a mere twenty-four hours ago. He had no idea what to do. He lifted his expanding dick and offered it cautiously, expecting rejection.

"What do you think, ladies?" he asked.

The skin was much darker than the rest of him and I remembered his Armenian descent. He was uncircumcised but the foreskin was short, barely reaching the crown. The bulbous tip aimed at Emma like a threat. My fiancée was overwhelmed, shocked to find me here and surprised by what Richard had hanging. She hated that she had no choice without causing a scene and embarrassing Sara. She loves performing for me but only when it's her idea. She hated my smug grin and laughing eyes. She hated that I had the upper hand.

I was thrilled to be out of the closet, so to speak.

Sara told me and Richard to wait and watch, moving to Emma and starting on her clothes. I'd never asked Emma if she'd had sex with Sara but based on the way they moved so smoothly together, I'd say yes and more than once. Sara helped Emma take off her top and then popped the clasp on her bra, setting those big babies free.

"Wonderful," Richard giggled.

I realized I'd made some assumptions about Rich. I figured growing up with a cock like that he'd been a confident, babe-nailing stud but I could see his uncertainty came from a lack of experience. He'd been a bookworm, a nerd, a socially awkward goof with little understanding of the way things are between men and women. If not for Sara's natural aggression, none of this would have ever happened. He was lucky the girls found his clumsy discomfort quaint. He'd charmed them. After years of over-confident and over-bearing men their age, the girls were delighted to have discovered this big silly teddy bear. Or, more accurately, this big, silly, well-hung teddy bear. Emma turned her attention to Sara and in moments both were nude. Richard stared at the hot duo and licked his lips, no idea what to do next.

"Ladies," he said, confirming my suspicions. "I apologize, but I have no idea of proper protocol for this situation. What happens next? Was last night an anomaly or standard operating procedure? Do women run the show or does the man take charge?"

They laughed with delight.

"You're so cute!" Sara said.

She moved to hug him and then rose on her toes for a kiss. She took his free hand and slapped it on her ass.

"The women run the show," Sara said. "You need to lie on your back and keep that lovely dick hard. Emma and Sara will do the rest."

Richard got down on one knee and then rolled onto his back. His gut flattened a little, spreading side to side. Sara held his cock around the base and aimed him upright, grinning like a fool as his meat swayed.

"Goddamn," Sara laughed. "Mister Thornbud, you might have the biggest dick I've ever met. I'm going to send a lot of girlfriends to your doorstep. Do you like men, too? I have some gay friends that would love to meet you."

Richard did not answer. Growing fully erect was a slow process for him but he was getting close now. The bulbous head was flared and deep red, the foreskin drawn down the shaft. I peeked at Emma to discover her fixated on that pillar of meat. She had a finger in her mouth like a bimbo, practically drooling. She caught me watching and got flustered, embarrassed to be so obviously hooked.

"That's an impressive penis, Mister Thornbud," she said.

"It's lovely of you to say so," Rich replied.

Sara wagged the thing at the base, making it wobble, and then giggled.

"I have dildos this big," she said. "But this one is warm and alive and so much better. Does this feel good, Mister Thornbud?"

She shook the shaft again, playing with her new toy.

"That feels fantastic, my Dear," Rich said, scarcely believing all this was happening to him.

Sara bent over and fastened her lips to the tip of his dick, sucking so hard the line of her teeth showed through her cheeks. She pulled off with a pop, leaving a hickey around Richard's pee hole. He groaned. She laughed and did it again.

"Put your hands on my head, Daddy," Sara said. "Make me suck it."

Rich tentatively held her head with both hands, unsure.

"No," Emma said. "Make her suck it."

He spread his fingers and took a better grip. He shoved her mouth down his cock and both groaned. He did it again, pulling her mouth up his meat before forcing her down again. Sara moaned and Emma muttered encouragement. Rich grew more excited, getting ahead of himself, and forced his cock far into her mouth. Sara choked and gagged and coughed and Richard quickly withdrew, apologizing. Sara shook her head, waving him off.

"Don't be too nice," she cautioned, wiping spit from her lips. "Do it again. Make me suck it. A cock like yours deserves respect. Put me in my place."

She pressed her lips to the tip and Richard forced her head down. Her mouth opened, then opened wide as his cock slid in. Water sprang to her eyes and his cock traveled towards the back of her throat.

"That's right, Rich," Emma coached. "Fuck her mouth. That's what we like."

My fiancée no longer looked at me. I was hearing them betray the sisterhood. I expected it more from Sara but to hear Emma chime in surprised me. I'd seen behind the curtain.

Richard held Sara's head and pumped his hips. She braced herself and took it, dreamy eyes staring at his thatch of dense pubic hair. Emma finally accepted I would witness everything she did and gave a little shrug before she knelt and buried her face in his crotch, tonguing his balls and working her way up his shaft inch by slathered inch. When her lips met Sara's, the blonde peeled away to engage in a passionate kiss with my girl. When the kiss broke, Sara took Emma's head and forced her mouth down on Richard's cock. I watched Emma's lips spread like melting ice cream around the flared crown. Richard, having no idea this woman would soon become my wife, pushed her head down like Sara taught him, causing Emma to gag and moan.

"Deeper," Sara said, her eyes a little wild. "Fuck her mouth with that Big Daddy dick. Choke the slut."

Richard hesitated but then got into the spirit of things. He pressed Emma down, overpowering her feeble strength and shoving his cock deep. Emma panicked but Richard missed it, pushing his fat cock another inch. Emma's eyes went wide.

"Yeah," Sara growled. "Perfect."

Emma braced her arms to prevent more dick sliding past her tonsils, forcing herself calm. She relaxed her throat and jaw. Richard slid another inch.

"That's exquisite," he mumbled, staring at the ceiling. "Utterly fantastic. I've never felt something like this."

Sara clapped and swung her leg over the prone man, walking her knees up his body until her hot, bald, coed pussy hovered over his face.

"Open your mouth," Sara ordered, gleeful. "Dessert has arrived."

Richard opened his mouth and Sara lowered her swollen labia. Her inner lips protruded half an inch, engorged and aroused. Rich caught them on his tongue and swirled, causing Sara to suck air. She placed a knee by each ear and straightened her back, playing with her tits and closing her eyes.

"Man can eat pussy," she mumbled.

Emma sucked cock until she'd had enough then worked herself free of his grip. She threw a leg over Rich and dropped her pussy to land on his dick. His penis split her labia. Emma lifted her hips and reached under to find his cock. She held him by the head with delicate fingertips and turned her gaze to me, her eyes asking an unspoken question: are you sure you want to see this?

I swallowed in a dry throat. Before I could answer, Emma guided his head to her slick hole and sat. Richard began to enter my fiancée and I watched the transformation through her eyes. Her mouth opened and her nipples rose as his thick tube filled her. I watched her tight pussy spread, enveloping the head and then the fat shaft behind it. His cock drew in surrounding skin and Emma gasped. She stopped about halfway down and lifted, turning the skin-sink into a cone of flesh, like he would turn her pussy inside-out. The snug ring of her hole reached the head and she reversed, sliding down the thick shaft once more.

"Fuck," she grunted. "That's good dick."

"I told you," Sara moaned without opening her eyes.

Emma leaned forward to hug Sara from behind.

"You're a good friend," my fiancée gasped.

After that, nobody talked for a long time. Sara fed Richard her hot young pussy and Emma dragged her soaking pussy up and down his shaft. She fucked herself on his dick like it was the most amazing thing she'd ever experienced. I know some of that was to torment me, and it did, but mostly it was real and true.

I'd started off smug, enjoying Emma trapped in her dilemma, but as time passed and she began to enjoy it, I found myself less and less thrilled that Richard was inside her. He was a friend and a colleague. I see him every day. This was no anonymous stranger or even Tommy, from many semesters ago. This was a close and dear friend.

A thunderbolt hit me when I realized he'd be a guest at our wedding. He was in for a shock. Emma seemed to read my mind as she turned her head to smile at me. She increased her strokes, drawing her pussy up the length of him before settling around the base with a deep sigh.

Sara began to squeak and grabbed Richard's head, grinding her cunt against his mouth. Minutes later she gasped and her body went rigid, pussy juice running around his mouth as she came. Her satisfied sounds pushed Emma higher and my girl began fucking Richard faster, soon slamming her sopping cunt down his full, glittering length. She pounded the man beneath her until hunching over and pressing her stuffed cunt against his root.

"Unnnngh!" she cried, cumming on his old man dick. "Fuck yes!"

Emma hugged Sara fiercely, mashing her tits against her best friend's back. Sara politely waited a moment to allow Emma to recover but then left Richard's mouth and pushed Emma off, freeing that thick cock for other work. Sara planted a knee and lifted his dick, guiding him into her steaming cunt.

"Feed him your pussy," Sara moaned. "He eats pussy well."

Emma moved to Richard's face, turning to look down his body and at her friend. She kissed his forehead sweetly before straddling his head facing Sara. My girl settled her trembling pussy over his mouth and grabbed Sara's tits, kissing her friend passionately. Sara began fucking Richard as Emma gave her a nipple to suck.

I deeply regretted my decision to abstain. I could be naked right now, fucking Emma along with Richard and maybe even sneaking a fuck of hot Sara. I'm an idiot.

Richard soon had Emma moaning with his oral skills. The girls were making out and taking turns sucking titties. Sara was moving closer to another orgasm and so was Emma and I caught a glimpse of the immediate future: they would last all night. Richard had prepared. That large erection would last until dawn. The girls would drag themselves home, tired and satiated, and collapse into sleep, sweet memories of the cock that wouldn't die drifting through their dreams.

Sara cried out and Emma joined her, rolling her hips, egged on by Sara's sweet sounds. Richard gripped Emma's thighs and ate ravenously.

I sank deeper into my chair. The tables had turned. This was confirmed a moment later when Emma cast a furtive glance at me.

"Give me that cock again, Sara," she said. "I want more."

Sara lifted her hips until Richard fell out, his dick landing on his thigh with a wet thwack. Both girls stared down at the imposing slab of meat and then giggled. Emma moved away from Richard's face and to all fours, head on the floor and pussy held high. She wiggled her hips invitingly.

"Fuck me like a dog, Mister Thornbud," she said with a guilty chuckle.

Richard got to his knees and his dick looked even more formidable jutting from his hips like a tusk. He took Emma by the waist and held her still, looking down and guiding his fat cock to her opening. My fiancée bit her bottom lip as his penetrating dick slowly spread her open. Sara moved in front of Emma and then scooted closer, opening her legs, inching her pussy to Emma's mouth. Emma started licking Sara as Richard buried his cock.

Something had to give. I was ready to explode. I opened my mouth to tell them I was leaving but Sara spoke before I could.

"Professor Jenkins," she said. "I get you're in a relationship and want to stay faithful, but this must be getting to you. Can't you even jack off? You must be dying. Just think of all this as porn you're watching online. You jack off to porn, right? You don't tell your fiancée every time you rub one out, do you? Take your dick out and jerk it. Get some relief. We're discreet. We won't say anything. No one but us will know."

Emma turned her smiling face at me.

"Yeah, do it, Professor Jenkins," she encouraged, an edge of sarcasm to her voice. "That would be hot. Let me see you jack off while I fuck."

Richard and Sara had no idea how devastating that sentence was. Rich stopped pumping my fiancée long enough to give me a reassuring nod.

"I concur," he said. "Ronald, please, at least allow yourself that."

I held so much sexual tension in my bones I could barely breathe. Emma sat atop Richard, his beefy cock planted deep, and chatted with me about masturbation. The reality was too much to take.

"All right," I said, unzipping, fishing around inside and pulling my penis through the opening. "Rich is much bigger, so don't be disappointed."

I closed my fist around my erection and looked up. Richard and Emma had already returned to fucking. Sara watched her best friend eat her pussy. They'd all returned to carnal pursuits so I did too, stroking as Richard's thick cock pumped Emma's cunt. Her expression was gleeful and triumphant. Our eyes met and she managed a weak smile. Richard's cock was really doing things to her, far more than she'd expected. Euphoria was rising in her eyes and across her face.

I crawled my knees closer to Sara, aiming my penis at her lovely tits. Emma gave me a warning look, like there were lines I should not cross, but I just smirked. Hard for her to be so stingy while a thick hard on pumped her depths. I watched Emma fuck Rich and jerked faster. Sara opened her mouth wide.

"Shoot it," she laughed. "Hell yes, Professor Jenkins. Can you reach my tongue? I'd love to taste you. Shoot a batch in my mouth and I'll share it in a kiss with Emma. That's hot."

She's right, it was hot, and Emma needed to experience a little of what I felt every time she fucked another. I jerked faster and lifted my hips, cum rising. Sara laughed again, extending her tongue. I groaned and launched a long rope of milky semen. I splattered across Sara's firm tits and splashed across her waiting tongue. I clenched again and sent an even bigger jet across her face and teeth. She held her mouth open and laughed, collecting what she could. When I finished she sat up, holding Emma's face with both hands and kissing my fiancée deeply. Emma closed her eyes, savoring my flavor in Sara's mouth.

Now

I checked the time, again, on the wall clock over the door. The crowd was shifting in their seats, impatient and uncomfortable. Emma had kept them waiting far too long and I know it's bad luck for the groom to see the bride before the wedding but come on. These people want to get to the reception so they can drink and party. I excused myself from the preacher and entered a long narrow hall painted a lovely shade of gray.

The chapel was a small building on the outskirts of town. At least a hundred years old, the quaint structure sat under a canopy of cherry trees by a lake. Emma had fallen in love with the place last summer. We agreed then that this would be the place for our ceremony.

I opened doors as I moved down the hall. The church organist played too loud to hear faint sounds so I cracked each door a bit and peeked inside. Fourth door was the jackpot. The knob was locked but the door not pushed fully shut. I poked my head in and heard Emma's muffled voice. I crept inside, closing the door behind me, and following the sounds.

I discovered a curtained-off area and slipped in. She was partially hidden behind stacks of boxes. Her wedding gown was a cascaded of white lace flowing down her body like she starred in Frozen. Modest and formal, the dress showed almost no skin from ankle to neck. However, now the dress was pushed over her ass. She was bent over a drop-cloth covered table. Sheer white stockings reached almost to her crotch. Her white lace panties stretched like a bridge between her upper thighs.

Tommy stood behind her, pants gathered around his knees, hard cock mere inches from her slit. His heavy balls hung like an udder. He held a fistful of white lace and satin and leaned an arm on her butt.

"Put it in me," Emma whined, her voice strained with need.

"Em," Tommy said, disbelieving. "It's your wedding day for Christ's sake."

"I know that," Emma snapped. "Ron will love it, trust me."

"I still can't believe Professor Jenkins was your fiancé all that time."

"Just shut up and fuck."

Tommy leaned farther forward and bent his fat cock to her slit. He eased the tip between her pussy lips and they parted, already wet and slick and gleaming. He sank his meat deep like he entered a jar of honey. Emma groaned with heartfelt satisfaction.

"Cover my mouth with your hand," she hissed. "Don't let me move around. Keep me quiet."

Tommy chuckled.

"I never thought you'd say those words to a man," he murmured, fingers closing over her mouth. "I'm happy to shut you up."

Tommy thrust his hips and pushed more cock in than she had room for. My bride moaned through his hand, stuffed and stretched. Tommy clenched his ass, forcing a surge of blood, flaring the head and expanding the shaft. Emma groaned, overcome, legs turning weak as she whimpered. If not for the table supporting her, she would have crumpled. Tommy swung his cock in and out, watching Emma's excitement quickly rise.

"I smell your sweet cunt," he rumbled. "I smell how badly you want this cock."

I heard her squishy wetness around him. He pushed all the way in and then leaned his weight on her, slowly shoving in another inch. Emma moaned, a mixture of pleasure and pain.

"You love it," Tom said. "Many feminists hate men but you love us. The main reason you want equality is so you can fuck like a man. You want the same green light. Why get married, Emma? Does Professor Jenkins know what you're up to?"

Emma muttered something into his hand. Nobody cared what she'd said, not even her. Tommy's thick pumping dick was all she cared about right now. Emma was lost to the world.

"Cum for me," he growled. "Show me love. I'm soaking in your pussy juice. Let me feel you cum all over my fat dick."

Emma couldn't stop the train that was barreling down on her. Tommy gathered more of her wedding dress in his fist and held a strong and steady rhythm. He lifted her leg, resting her knee on the table and forcing her cunt wide open, his fat cock stretching her tunnel even more. Emma clenched her jaw and snapped her head back, sobbing into Tommy's hand as her body twisted and writhed, captured in the throes of a powerful climax. Tommy pumped faster as she rode her orgasmic wave, driving her higher and higher until her fist pounded the table, imploring him to stop. He didn't, but he slowed, savoring her tight cunt's grip on him. He pistoned deep and strong until his muscle began to tighten and his breath turn shallow. Finally, he pushed all the way in and held himself there, grunting as he unloaded. Emma felt his load blast inside and her orgasm spiked again, inseminated on her wedding day. Hell, inseminated right before the ceremony. Tommy gushed a gallon, taking a woman promised to another, thrilled by the evil deed.

They wasted no time. After a moment to catch their breath, they separated, his long cock dribbling semen. They began tucking things away and adjusting clothes. Emma turned to kiss his shrinking cock before he zipped up.

"Leave by that door," Emma said, pointing across the room. "Be discreet."

Tommy turned to leave, a bounce in his step. I watched Emma draw her lace panties up her thighs and settle them into place, sealing Tommy inside. She'd pass by my hiding spot on her way out so I slipped away now, returning to the main room and announcing Emma would arrive in just a few minutes. My hands were shaking from what I'd witnessed.

Soon a chapel employee entered and whispered something to the organist. The music changed to Here Comes The Bride. All heads turned and the double doors opened. Emma, her cheeks emanating a radiant glow, entered holding her father's arm.

Jesus, if he only knew.

She locked eyes with me as she made her approach. I tried to put a knowing look in mine and after three steps I saw the moment she recognized my expression. I grinned slightly and nodded almost imperceptibly. When she drew closer I spoke, my voice low.

"Glad I went looking for you," I said. "Finding you was a visual treat."

Her father assumed I said those words in a large, rhetorical way but Emma knew exactly what I meant. She blushed and cast her eyes downward. I extended my arm and she left her father, slipping her arm in with mine. Dad peeled away to join Emma's mom in the front row. Tommy entered at the back and took an open seat next to Richard, who gave me an amused grin. We'd had a conversation when I told him I was marrying Emma and he took full responsibilities for his dalliances. I told him not to worry, I'd known about them all along. I went on to explain my arrangement with Emma because he's such a great friend. He humbly asked if perhaps he might "Sip from that cup again after the wedding." I told him to count on it.

I met Emma's eyes when she looked up.

"Tommy came," I said, jerking my chin towards the man and floating an innuendo only she would understand.

She turned slightly to see him sit and then grinned, catching my double meaning.

"Oh yes, he did," she purred. "I'm thrilled about that."

She was filled with another man's sperm as we took our vows, both of us fully aware what the future held. There was no stopping her now, but I had no interest in doing that anyway. My dick was solid cast iron in my pants. Hours from now I'd sink my dick into her and feel it swim through Tommy too. My wife at last, Emma would fuck me like a crazy woman.

"Did you ever get those pills for after sex?" I murmured, too low for anyone but her to hear.

"Shit."

I shook my head slightly. Unbelievable.

"Things could be happening inside you right now," I muttered, watching the minister approach. "As you pledge yourself eternally to me."

"My party dress has a funny stain," she said, changing the subject. "I thought I'd wear it and call Tyler, maybe see him once or twice before I leave with you on our honeymoon. Would you like that?"

"I would," I said, lowering my voice as the preacher drew near.

"Good," Emma teased. "Because I already called him."

End.

Join My Mailing List
Get a FREE Hotwife Story!

Follow My Twitter

Find me on: GoodReads

Talk to Me

BunnyLovesBigCarrots@gmail.com