

AN EGG IN THE NEST

An Egg in the Nest

By Matthew Lee

I'd fallen asleep on the couch, again, when I heard our apartment door creak open. Brian, my roommate, was slinking in with yet another hot college girl and trying not to wake me. I heard the door click and their whispered laughing and I opened my eyes to slits.

She actually wore a cheerleader's uniform and I remembered he had gone to the football game. Normally I'd wonder how a nerdy guy working on a technologies degree could score a cheerleader but this was Brian, and no doubt word had spread.

Brian was tall and handsome in a geeky Clark Kent kind of way. We'd been roommates for three years. To help with stress he worked out often and his lean and muscular body was proof of his dedication. But there were tons of muscular guys at this college and word doesn't spread about yet another buff guy on campus. There were tons of guys taller, more fit, and more handsome. But word does spread when that guy also has an especially large cock.

When we first met our freshman year, Brian was painfully shy. I'm no social-butterfly but I was able to get him involved in a few clubs and after class activities. Once they got to know him, people liked Brian more than me. It took him all year to land his first girlfriend and she only lasted three months, but she must have blabbed to her girlfriends because after her, girls were practically throwing themselves at Brian. I was happy for him. No girls for me but that was okay; I am a very serious student.

Little miss cheerleader could not wait. Brian was shooting the deadbolt when she dropped to her knees. Either she had not spotted me on the couch in the dark or she didn't care. Brian tried to stop her for about half a second and then he just leaned back. Down went his zipper and Cheerleader fished around inside his pants.

"Jesus, Kandy," Brian whispered. "Can't you wait for the bedroom?"

She was pretty; long blond hair and big tits. Even in the dim light her bubble butt was obvious. Her short skirt showed off her strong legs beautifully. I wondered what football player Brian had stolen her from.

As soon as her hand found his cock, she smiled. Her perfect white teeth almost glowed. "Holy shit, Brian," she laughed, tugging him out through the opening. "Cindy was telling the truth."

Bingo; I knew word had gotten around.

Kandy maneuvered Brian's dick until it hung down the front of his pants. I'd seen it a million times around our small apartment, just like he'd seen mine. But mine wasn't noteworthy and his most definitely was. I'd seen him hard a few times when I had to sneak into his room in the morning while he still slept. The parking around our shitty flat is horrible so we often need to swap cars or parking spots.

With the bed covers kicked off I saw he was twice my length and probably double my girth, maybe even a little more. We are both circumcised but his balls are huge and mine are not. I've seen a little porn and he easily is as big as any of those guys and I'd say bigger than most.

Kandy leaned back on her heels and gawked at it. His cock started to grow. She laughed and then covered her mouth.

"I fucking love big dicks," she whispered hoarsely. "But they are so hard to find..."

She opened her mouth and dipped it down and under, capturing the head. I hated Brian a little at that moment. A goddamn college cheerleader sucking his dick and he'd said and done nothing to get her to do it. She came to him. She tracked him down. Fucker.

Actually, I was happy for him. I was envious, not jealous.

Slurping sounds filled our apartment, followed by Brian moaning softly. I watched Kandy the Cheerleader suck that big cock and felt my penis get hard. She unbuckled his pants and pulled them down and Brian pulled his T-shirt off over his head. He stepped back out of his pants long enough for Kandy to strip and my heart hammered; she was fucking amazing. What a body. I'm an ass and legs man and she was world class, but her tits were insane too. Add to that her long blond hair and gorgeous model face and in seconds I was dying to jack off watching her.

She told the truth about loving big dicks. Porn-stars don't suck dick as well as she. Kandy traced every vein with the tip of her tongue and then painted the shaft in tongue-wide strokes. She sucked his balls one at a time and then wriggled the tip of her tongue into his cum-hole at the tip. As talented as she was she only took the first few inches. He was simple too thick. I know it frustrated her and him but she did her best.

“Your sperm tastes good,” she whispered before opening wide and taking a third of his cock into her mouth. Her cheeks dented as she sucked hard, trying to pull the cum up from his nuts. Her hand joined her mouth and her head began to bob. Soon Brian was completely erect and holy fuck was he big. Big.

He let her work on him and leaned over to play with her tits. Glorious. He ran his hand down her smooth back and cupped her ass. Heavenly. His fingers disappeared behind her and she moaned and I knew he had slipped them inside her pussy. My dick was a diamond.

“Stop,” he said. “Let's go to my room.”

In response Kandy turned away and got on all fours. She laid the side of her face on the carpet and dipped her back, lifting her pussy high into the air and into Brian's face. His eyes got big and he grabbed both ass cheeks, spreading her open. His big dick curved up and he lowered his hips to line up with her slit. It took him a few tries but the head found her wet slit and they both groaned when he pushed it in.

They were mostly turned away from me so I risked some movement. My fingers wrapped around my penis as I watched Brian's huge cock fill Kandy's pussy again and again, each time pushing it a little deeper. She had stuffed her long hair into her mouth to keep quiet. Eventually Brian got balls-deep in her and that was a sight to see; his large scrotum covered her pussy from clit to asshole. I was amazed her petite body could take that much dick. He must have been poking her lungs.

They fucked as silently as possible. I saw Kandy orgasm and it was beautiful. When he got close she hissed a warning about no birth control so he pulled out and she spun around and captured the tip of his cock in her mouth. He clamped his jaw and grit his teeth. She stroked the shaft as he came and came, gulping down his salty load. I was as surprised as she at the incredible volume of semen. He just kept pumping it out. She gulped and swallowed as his huge balls rose and fell until she finally drained the last drop. She licked her lips and chuckled.

“Fucking Hell, Brian, that's a lot of cum. You would have gotten me pregnant for sure.”

Brian was only half listening. His world was still spinning. They rolled onto their backs right there on the rug and caught their breath. After a while Kandy lifted her phone.

“Oh shit! It's late. I have to meet my boyfriend. Thanks!”

She stood and dressed and let herself out. Brian waited a while and then gathered his things, looked over at me to make sure I was still sleeping, and then staggered off to his bedroom.

With him gone I was finally able to really jack off and I did, shooting cum like crazy while imagining hot and sexy Kandy on her knees, that big dick slipping and sliding in and out of her mouth.

Next weekend he brought home a new girl, Sara. Sara was a pretty brunette and friends with Kandy. I was studying at the kitchen table when they entered and after quick hellos, the two of them zipped off to his room. In minutes I heard Sara moaning. I studied another five minutes before I realized I could see into Brian's room from the fire-escape. I debated, because it was creepy, but Sara was too cute.

Outside in the dark I had a perfect view. Both had stripped and Sara rode him with her small tits bouncing and her brown hair flying. His window was partially open and I heard her urging him on, telling him how much she loved his big cock. She pinched her nipples and lost her mind as his meaty spear penetrated her over and over. She came on top and then ordered him to fill her with cum. Brian was a little intimidated but did as he was told.

My school year passed with more of the same. Almost every weekend and often on week nights, Brian brought a new guest home. Girls of every shape, size and color walked through our door. I had enough masturbatory material for a life-time.

He became more confident. Within a few months he was the one in charge and soon after that he was actually bossy. The girls loved it. I saw him drag a few girls to their knees by their hair and force his cock into their mouths. They protested, at first, but once each started sucking they went wild. Some really got into being forced. Brian was becoming a master cocks-man right in front of me.

We talked about my lack of sex life but honestly, I just wasn't as smart as he. I needed to study. Brian got passing grades without really trying. He tried to get me laid a few times, even offering to share me with some of his dates, but I declined. I was saving my virginity for someone special.

I met her July seventh at lunch time. I was studying in the cafeteria and a stunning brunette with long straight hair sat a table away. She was an incredible distraction. The last five weeks had been brutally hot and everyone wore light clothing. I was in a T-shirt and khakis. She entered wearing short shorts and a white crop-top and a back-pack heavy with books. Her big hazel eyes paralyzed me as she said hello. I said hi back and she stuck out her hand.

“Teresa.”

“Nice to meet you, Teresa,” I mumbled. “Brad.”

“Nice to meet you, Brad.”

I had no idea what to say next so I dropped my eyes back down to my book. Mostly. Over the top I kept stealing glances at Teresa's hot little body. Her bubble butt stuck out as much in back as her big round tits did in front.

The place was deserted because of the holiday so I was able to ogle her constantly. She sat facing the window and I happened to be facing her so I was able to take my time and not get caught. At one point she leaned forward on her arms and her top pulled away. Magnificent curves of side and under-boob greeted my probing eye. Her flawless skin looked warm.

She shifted in her chair and I saw the title of the book she studied and it was a class I'd taken last year. I considered a million ways to mention it to her but rejected all of them.

“Have you read this book?” she asked.

I blushed. She'd caught me looking.

“Yes,” I forced out. “Last year. Professor Seeland. Good class.”

“I have him this year. What grade did you get?”

I blushed harder. “An A.”

Her beautiful face contorted. “How? For God's sake, I kill myself over this stupid class. How did you get an A?”

“Um...”

“I'm not stupid,” she protested, “so don't even suggest it.”

“No! No, that's not what I was thinking at all. I would never say that about you. You have sparkling, intelligent eyes.”

I was nervous, talking fast, and she was chuckling. I was blushing furiously now. “I just get this stuff. It's easy to me. I don't know why.” My face was bright red. "That sounded like bragging. I'm not bragging. I'm going to shut up now."

"I was teasing," she offered.

I looked back down at my book.

"May I ask you a few questions? Do you mind?" she said.

It was the start of our relationship. I helped her study two hours that day and she aced the next quiz. We bumped into each other at the cafeteria again a few days later and she was very excited. She gave me her phone number and asked if I would tutor her. She offered to pay me. I shut my brain off and just said yes.

Four nights a week I met her at the library and taught her physics. She said something about the way I expressed things made it easier to grasp. I expressed the concepts visually. All I know is for four days every week I was in Heaven. Her hazel eyes swallowed me. Her voice was music and her face angelic. I tried not to look at her amazing body because I was terrified she'd catch me. As we became more comfortable around each other our conversation meandered and before long we were discussing some pretty personal thoughts and feelings. She was actually fairly brilliant but, like so many, struggled with the counter-intuitive aspects of physics. I learned as much from her as she got from me.

She'd recently ended a relationship with a guy she had been dating since high school and he had put her through an emotional-ringer. She claimed she was done with men for a while. Not the news I was hoping to hear but I loved just having her around. I was content.

Saturday night Brian brought Kandy back to our apartment. I was in my room with the door closed when I heard their voices. I waited for them to enter Brian's room and shut his door and I headed for the fire escape.

Kandy looked better than ever. She must have just come from a party because she wore a little black dress and stiletto heels. As I watched, she tugged the dress off her shoulders and down, stepping out of it. Underneath she wore no panties or bra and in this better lighting I noticed her delicate pussy was bald.

Brian pounced on her, throwing her petite body on the bed and burying his face in her cunt. She squealed with laughter. He ate her until she came and then stood and stripped. Beneath his twelve-pack hung that beefy cock and Kandy's mouth watered. He teased her with it until she punched his thigh and whined, and then he eased his hips forward and fed her his cock. She clearly loved sucking dick. I watched for a while, until she came two more times, and then I headed for the kitchen and a snack. I had jack-off material for tonight. Kandy was smoking hot and knew it.

In the dark kitchen I had thrown together a PB&J when Brian's door quietly opened and Kandy slipped through, nude. She didn't notice me but glanced at my closed bedroom door and then tip-toed across the living room carpet. When she finally looked up she saw me and after a moment of shock, started laughing.

"So much for sneaky," she giggled, using her arms in a failed attempt to shield her nipples and pussy. I stared. I could not stop myself. I devoured her perfect body and gorgeous face like a starving man. She was stunning. She stopped giggling and studied my face. I don't know what my expression was but she loved the way I was looking at her. She smiled.

"I think that's the nicest, sincerest compliment anyone's ever given me, and you didn't speak a word," she murmured.

She slowly let her arms drop to her sides, revealing herself to me completely. She was glorious. The cool air had her nipples hard as rocks. Her hair was a tousled mess. The longer I looked, the more erect I grew inside my baggy shorts. Of course she noticed. She looked down at my tented trunks and then back up to my eyes.

"Okay, maybe that is the nicest compliment," she joked.

I blushed, mumbled "Sorry", and tried to walk past her. She stepped in front, and, taking my hand by the wrist, lifted my sandwich and took a big bite, her eyes never leaving mine. She stepped aside. I was hard as iron.

I went to my room, glancing back as I shut the door. She was reaching into our refrigerator for two beers and the light shone between her legs illuminating her hairless gap and smooth labia, and I knew she knew I was watching.

I closed the door and locked it and came after less than a minute of stroking. What a girl. For hours afterward I heard them in Brian's room, fucking. I liked to imagine my encounter with her had fed her sexual fire and Brian was the beneficiary of her elevated lust.

I reached for my phone to check football scores and noticed Teresa had sent me a text. She wondered what I was up to and would I like to grab a beer. The text was now four hours old. Fuck. I checked the time and debated if ten o'clock on a Saturday night was too late to text back. I finally decided I'd respond with an apology about how late it was. She answered quickly that she was up anyway. We agreed on the pizza place by the basketball courts.

When I walked in she was already there. We ordered and talked and sipped beer and munched pepperoni pizza. I swear with each passing minute I was more in love with her. We played darts, which she won, and watched some football highlights. When one of the waitresses bent over at the table next to ours and I couldn't help but glance at her firm butt, Teresa raised her eyebrows at me.

"You should try to get that," she said, jerking her head at the lovely ass just a few feet away. I laughed.

"I could never get that," I replied, "and if I somehow did, I wouldn't know what to do with it. Besides, I want my first time to matter."

Her jaw dropped open. She closed it. It dropped open again. She closed it.

"Are you saying you're a virgin?"

Of course I blushed yet again. I stared into my drink.

"Amazing," was all she said. Uncomfortable silence descended on us. I expected her to call it a night any second and was not surprised at all when she did. I dropped money on the table and slipped on my sweatshirt.

"I'll walk you home," I offered.

"I'm not going home."

"Oh. Okay. I'll see you at the library tomorrow night then?"

"No."

Now I was confused. Could she not be friends with a virgin? Was she offended I'd looked at the waitress's butt? I waited for her to say something.

"I'm coming home with you."

Boom. I instantly knew what she was saying and rejected it just as fast. She was breath-taking. Her body was flawless. She is intelligent and gorgeous and experienced. No way would she want me. I had to have it wrong. The vision of her that first day appeared in my mind and I remembered the gentle curve of her under-boob. My mouth went dry.

"What?" I stuttered. Not smooth.

"Take me home with you," she said and stepped right up to me.

"Can I spend the night? You like me, don't you?"

I gazed down into the most beautiful eyes on earth.

I made my mouth work. "So very much," was all I could manage.

She smiled and took my hand. "I feel the same way."

She picked up her purse and slid up under my arm. Like a zombie I aimed us for the door. I was in shock.

I have no memory of the walk home. All I do remember was wracking my brain for how clean our apartment was and if my room was a mess.

It wasn't.

We sneaked in without Brian hearing us. I thought I heard voices from his room and wondered who he had in there with him but the door was closed and I didn't stop to listen. As soon as I closed my bedroom door and locked it, Teresa pulled her sweatshirt off over her head. Her T-shirt got tangled and followed more than half way up and I once again caught a spectacular view of the bottoms of both large breasts with a bonus flat tummy.

She tossed her sweatshirt on the bed and moved closer to me. I felt her body heat. She leaned closer still and both tits mashed against my ribs and that was all I could take. Without thinking about it I held her face and kissed her lips. I poured every minute spent talking, every text, every hour we studied together and every time I'd gazed at her with longing into that kiss. I hit her with all of it. She felt it. She felt it and returned it.

She wrapped her arms around my waist and walked backwards, falling onto the bed. My heart was pounding. I caught myself on my hands and she reached for my belt buckle. I looked down in wonder as a gorgeous girl fumbled to free my penis. She opened my pants and pushed them down and then she grabbed the elastic of my boxers and pushed those down too and my rock hard and throbbing dick sprang into view. She wriggled her hips, scooting down the bed, until my penis was right in front of her face. I'll never forget it. We locked eyes and she smiled at me and said, "pretty" and then bent it down and sucked the head into her mouth.

I'm proud of myself. I lasted well over an hour, fucked her in every position, made her cum, ate her pussy and made her cum again, and then finally pounded her from behind before pulled out and shot all over her back. She loved the way I touched her. We fell asleep naked and hugging. A virgin no longer, my life was perfect.

Sunday was more of the same. She thanked me for pulling out as she wasn't on birth control, but we spent the whole day in bed fucking. Brian knocked on the door to check on me and tell me he was heading out but I just yelled through the door to have a good time. When he came home that evening we were still in bed. The sex had slowed down but we were still naked. I could not get enough of her or her body. I walked her home late Sunday night.

Monday she buried me with texts worried I thought she's a slut and apologizing for going too far, but I just reassured her everything was fine, perfect, actually. When we met at the library for our usual Monday evening tutor session instead we ran back to her place and fucked three more times. Tuesday we studied but Wednesday was another marathon fuck session.

She had a test coming up so Thursday and Friday we behaved but Saturday she was back at my place, naked and in my bed. That evening she swallowed my load for the first time and I thought I would die. How can something feel so good? We always talked between our sex and this time she asked if I had condoms because the pill affects her poorly. I said I didn't but I would get some. She excused herself to get a refill on her water and I rolled onto my back to gaze at the ceiling and contemplate my amazing life. She tossed on one of my T-shirts and left for the kitchen.

She wasn't back after five minutes so I guessed she also made a bathroom stop. After ten I became curious and peeked out my bedroom door.

Teresa and Kandy stood in the kitchen talking, and Kandy wore only a bath towel; her butt-cheeks curved out down below and her cleavage was on full display above, and Teresa seemed to enjoy both. I couldn't hear them but I watched for a minute and Kandy reached out to play with Teresa's hair. They both laughed. Teresa said something about Kandy's muscles and gripped her arm and then dropped her hand to run the length of Kandy's strong thigh. I held my breath.

Brian's door opened as he came looking for Kandy. He stepped out of his room, not knowing Teresa was over and unable to see her behind Kandy, and took several steps towards the kitchen. He was completely naked and his huge and heavy cock swung side to side with each step, slapping and bouncing off his thighs.

"What is keeping you, Baby?" he asked, pulling on his dick, "I want some more of your sweet ass."

Then he saw Teresa. "Oh shit! I'm so sorry," he exclaimed. He covered his penis with both hands. He needed both. He started to retreat.

Teresa stared and stared. I wish she didn't, but she did. Before Brian could back away Kandy pulled him forward and introduced them. Brian hesitated and then extended his hand to shake. Teresa's eyes went from toes to head and back down again, lingering on both trips at his massive shank. As she shook his hand, she drank in his face, his broad shoulders, his well-defined abs. I saw lust on her face. I saw the look of desire in her eyes. I shrank back because now would be the worst time for her to notice me, but I knew in that instant Teresa wanted to fuck Brian. She gave Kandy a knowing and approving smile.

I stepped back into my bedroom, wondering what I was supposed to do. I leaned over and turned the light on and heard movement in the kitchen. I pretended to pull shorts on over my boxers as Teresa stepped into my bedroom and I heard Brian's door close.

“Hey,” I said. “I was just coming to look for you.”

She was so smooth. “I met your roommates Kandy and Brian. They seem nice.”

“Kandy doesn't live here, only Brian. She just comes around for sex.”

Teresa laughed once, loud. “Just like me.”

She shut the bedroom door and dropped to her knees in front of me. Down came my shorts and boxers and I watched my penis disappear into her warm vacuuming mouth.

I have to admit I wondered what she was thinking while she sucked my dick. She'd been pretty satisfied when she left for water. Now she seemed sex-starved. I also wondered why she hadn't mentioned Brian accidentally walking out naked. Maybe she didn't want to embarrass him needlessly. Regardless, after a minute or two of her incredible oral skills I'd forgotten all about Kandy and Brian and held her head so I could fuck her mouth. I knew she'd swallow everything I gave her and that got me there so fast. She gulped it all down.

On the bed she pulled off my T-shirt and spread her legs, aiming her sweet pussy right at me. “My turn,” she teased. I dove in and when she came, she came like an earthquake, pinching her nipples and arching her back.

She was soon asleep and I lay there worrying. The look on her face while she was checking out Brian made me feel like I couldn't trust her, which was terrible. I actually trusted Brian more. Teresa had experience and

I did not. She understood the way things work between men and women and I did not. She knew where invisible lines lay and when and how to cross them and I, sadly, did not. I was in over my head with her but determined to swim as hard as I could.

Over the following weeks Teresa wanted to stay at my place more and more. She slowly became more vocal during sex and often made trips out to the kitchen wearing less and less. One night after sex she surprised me by making a quick trip to the kitchen totally nude. I listened intently for Brian's door but all I heard was her opening the fridge and grabbing us both beers. I teased her about how comfortable she was at my place now and she just agreed.

A few nights later we had just finished making love and Teresa was heading for sleep so I ran the water for a quick shower. After a few minutes but before I got in I realized I'd forgotten all my towels were in the dryer so I went to fetch one and discovered Teresa was no longer in bed. I crept out to the living room and there she was, on the fire escape, completely nude, watching Kandy and Brian through his bedroom window, just like I had done on many occasions. I froze.

My first impulse was to confront her but who was I to judge? I was as guilty as she. Besides, did I really care she was a voyeur? As long as she didn't cheat on me I actually liked how sexual she was. I hid behind the door to watch her. She glanced once at my bedroom and listened for the shower and then slipped a hand down to her pussy. She looked intensely sexy masturbating outside in the dark and the longer I watched her, the more excited I became; her tits swayed and a breeze caught her hair and her nipples hardened. She was stunning. Her sex-drive was a little intimidating.

I watched as long as I could and then returned to the shower. When I finished she was back on the bed in the same position, seemingly asleep. I crawled up next to her and unceremoniously pushed my penis into her pussy from behind. She was predictably already soaked.

She pretended to wake up and then grabbed my hip and made me fuck her hard. I flipped her over on her back and pounded her like a whore and she welcomed it, wrapping her legs around my waist and pulling my mouth down to kiss me. Our fuck was short and intense; she came fast and I came right after, barely pulling out in time and spraying all over her tummy.

Three nights later it happened again. I awoke around two in the morning and she wasn't in bed. I heard Brian's deep voice growling through the walls and knew he had some new babe in his room. I slipped out of bed and peeked and sure enough, Teresa watched them from the fire escape. I returned to bed and listened and about an hour later Teresa carefully slid under the covers next to me. I felt like I needed to do something to keep up with her, something to show her I wasn't sexually immature.

The next night I picked her up after class and took a different route home. When I pulled into an adult store parking lot, she looked at me surprised.

“Oh really?” was all she said.

Inside we were amazed by what we saw. Neither of us had ever been inside a store like this and it was over whelming and more than a little embarrassing.

“Why did you bring us here?” she asked.

I steered her towards a wall of adult toys. “Pick one,” I suggested. “Or two. I thought it would be fun to spice things up. Not that they need spicing, but more is better so why not?”

She studied my face for a second and then smiled and shrugged. “Okay.”

I watched her as she searched the wall. Her eyes traveled one latex cock after the other. I noticed right away she skipped over the smaller ones, even the ones my size or a little bigger. She also ignored completely the ones that did not look like an actual penis. She wanted big and real and that aroused me for reasons I did not understand.

She stopped to gawk at a huge black cock that had to be almost a foot of man-meat and was modeled after a well-known porn star, and then moved on to a white one of about equal size. Here she stayed. Her eyes traveled from the plump pink head back to the large fat balls and back again. A tiny smile curled the corner of her mouth. I looked again at that flesh-colored beast and with a jolt I realized it looked remarkably like Brian.

“This one,” she grinned.

I croaked, “Okay,” and pulled it from the shelf.

She wasn't ready to leave.

“You really surprised me with this trip, Baby,” she said. “I like it.”

I smiled. “Good. Just trying to be spontaneous.”

“Let's look around.”

I stepped aside and fell in behind her. We explored the store, marveling at the spectrum of human sexuality. She loved the bondage accessories but told me that would be much later and I didn't know if she meant for me or her. No way was I getting tied up, I can tell you that. We examined the DVD section but agreed everything was too crude. When will they learn the market is no longer jaded and dirty old men?

Upstairs we discovered a theater and individual booths which played porn and some of them had holes leading into other booths. Teresa and I chuckled. She may be more experienced than me but neither of us were brave enough to enter a booth.

We crossed the second floor to another staircase on the far side and she said she was ready to go. As we approached the stairs we passed the booth on the end and there was an older man inside rubbing his penis through his underwear. He'd left the door open intentionally so we would see him. He had a heavy five o'clock shadow and a beer-gut and greasy, gray-streaked hair to his shoulders. His shirt was unbuttoned all the way down and his pants were around his knees. He sat on a small bench inside the booth.

Teresa saw him first and jumped, startled, and then giggled, embarrassed. I reached passed her to close his door but her hand on my arm stopped me. Our eyes met.

"Let's watch him," she said. "Just for a minute. This is crazy."

I stepped back and she came around and stood in front of me, her back against my chest. I nodded at the guy. He seemed to love her eyes on him. We filled the doorway and anybody walking by would see nothing, although the second floor was deserted.

He had a gang-bang video playing and I saw Teresa glance at it a few times. He hooked his thumbs and pulled his boxers down his legs to join his pants.

He was surprisingly big. Certainly bigger than me. He had a mass of black and gray pubic hair and his cock was thick and covered in veins. I thought it was ugly but Teresa made a small gasp when she saw it. He locked eyes with her and started stroking. After a minute she lowered her gaze to his hand rising and falling and I saw the head of his dick swell as his blood surged. A droplet of clear cum formed at the tip. He loved her eyes on him.

"Show me those big tits," he growled. "Help me get off."

I was about to tell him to shut up when Teresa leaned back on me and lifted the front of her T-shirt. She wore a sports bra underneath and lifted that too. Her big tits tumbled free.

“This is okay, Brad? I won't let him touch me.”

I grunted. What could I say?

He licked his lips and his hand moved faster. I was shocked she had done it but it was kind of exciting too. Before I thought of something to say she said, “Hold this,” and placed my hand holding up her shirt. She reached her hand down into her sweat pants and began masturbating too. On screen, the woman moaned and all three of us glanced at her. She straddled one man, his cock in her pussy, while another moved up behind her and pushed his cock up her ass. A third man stood beside her face, moments away from feeding her his long dick. Now that we were all turned on it looked exciting instead of crude.

Teresa was breathing hard and her whole body was warm. The old-timer was pumping his meat pretty fast.

“Suck it,” he ordered. I held my breath.

“No,” Teresa replied. “Just shoot for me old fucker.”

He smiled at her insult. I didn't blame him for trying. Jacking off for a hot college co-ed was probably the sexual high-light of this fucker's life. I was so relieved when Teresa told him no. He lowered his eyes to her breasts and stroked faster. I heard him suck a sharp intake of breath and the woman on the screen gasped and climaxed, moaning around that third cock in her mouth.

“Oh yeah,” old guy muttered. “Oh fuck yeah. Goddamn you are a sweet piece of ass. If I was younger...” The look in his eye was fierce. At that moment I believed if given a chance, he would fuck my girl to death. Teresa pushed down the front of her sweats, showing him her bald pussy. I sensed she loved the way he was looking at her. She loved causing him that much lust.

“Oooooohh fuck yessssss....” he breathed, almost drooling.

A blast of cum shot from his dick and hit the monitor. Another huge blast followed it.

“Fuck yeah, fuck YEAH!” he growled, jet following jet. He came a lot. Teresa leaned hard against me and rubbed her pussy. Her gaze was riveted to his spurting cock. She whimpered and I knew she was cumming. I held her up. Sperm dribbled down his shaft and off his hairy balls. He was making a huge mess. The tiny room filled with the smell of uncooked bread dough and clean wet pussy.

Teresa spun around and kissed me passionately. I grabbed a tit and squeezed it hard and she moaned.

“Take me home and fuck me,” she groaned. “I need to be fucked.”

I pulled her shirt down and her pants up and shut the door on our friend. We stopped at the register and paid for our new toy and soon we were home. Brian and some girl I had never seen before sat at the dining table talking, her wearing one of his T-shirts and he wearing just a pair of boxers. When does that guy study? Teresa ogled him as we went by, everyone exchanging quick hellos.

Once in my bedroom Teresa was naked before I finished locking my door. She had my dick in her mouth before I got my shirt off and kept it there, sucking like crazy, while I undressed. By the time I was naked I was hard.

She turned away from me and got on all fours, her glistening wet pussy staring me right in the face. I knelt behind her and slammed my penis home. She was dripping wet and hot as lava. No matter how hard I fucked her, she wanted it harder. I'd never seen her this turned-on. I pounded away and she urged me on until I felt the first tingle of orgasm and then I slowed down.

“No!” she barked. “Fuck me!”

I didn't want to cum yet. From the black plastic bag, I pulled our big new toy and ripped off the wrapper. I licked it to get it wet, pulled my dick out of her pussy and before she knew what was happening or could say anything, pushed that monster cock up into her.

“OOOOHHH my fucking God!” she screamed. Her hips bucked and her head snapped back. I worried I'd hurt her until she ground her ass back at me and ordered me to go deeper, which I did. She sank her nails into the bedroom carpet and shoved her pussy farther down that fat shaft. Her asshole was pulsing and wild animal sounds poured from her throat. I began to fuck her with it.

“Oh my God, Baby! Oh my God, Baby, I love it! I fucking love it!”

I pumped it in and out faster and gripped her ass. I discovered the sight of that huge fleshy cock stretching her wide open and filling her turned me on greatly. My penis throbbed and felt ready to spurt. This was easily the sexiest she'd ever looked. She was my girl but she was also a porn-star like we'd just seen at the adult store and the combination rocked me.

Totally submissive, ass held high, face buried in the rug; Teresa was pure slut. I heard her mumbling, "So big... So big..." as I deep-fucked her with this huge cock. Her breathing was ragged, her skin covered in goose bumps, sweat drops dotted the small of her back. The shaft gleamed with her excitement.

I moved around in front, never breaking rhythm as I drove the toy in and out. With my free hand I grabbed her hair and pulled her head up. As my penis brushed her lips she opened wide and gratefully sucked me in. I fucked her at both ends.

I was surprised when she came first. She came so hard her body twisted like rope. She screamed around my dick and that made me shoot into her mouth. I kept fucking her pussy and it was obvious that big cock owned her. Her pussy clamped down on it and her orgasm seemed to envelope her entire body, starting inside her pussy and radiating outward. It was easily the strongest climax I'd ever seen her have.

She fell to the rug and I followed her on my knees, keeping my dick in her mouth as long as possible. Her big tits wobbled. I left the cock buried in her and it was so fat it stayed inside. I leaned back against the door, watching her.

Neither of us spoke. As our breathing returned to normal, she slowly moved a hand down between her legs until she found the big ball-sack and gripped it. Moments later she was slowly working that big penis in and out again. She was insatiable. From my angle I saw how her labia were forced far apart and her tiny pussy stuffed with cock and deep down in my mind I felt a wild and savage arousal. She looked so good getting fucked. She looked so good filled with cock. I shook my head. Her sweet hole struggled to accept that much meat and I loved it. A minute later she came again, curling into a little fetal ball, trembling.

I got us both into bed where we dropped into a deep sleep. Hours later I awoke as Teresa sucked my penis under the covers. I climaxed surprisingly quickly as she drank it out of me and then snuggled under my arm, her head on my chest. We fell back asleep.

In the following weeks we used our new toy often. Teresa had no defense against it. Any time I pushed it up into her she became a submissive slut. One night after an especially exhausting and slightly drunk sex session

I started asking her about her previous relationship. She was uncomfortable talking about it, mostly because she let him walk all over her and was embarrassed about it, but I patiently stuck with it and she opened up.

His name was Samuel but everyone called him Sammy and she'd know him since the fifth grade. He was her first and only boyfriend and had taken her virginity early. He was naturally athletic and played every sport and in high school had scouts in the stands every game. She knew he cheated on her but never caught him and the more success he had the bigger asshole he became. After years of emotional bruising, she finally ended it for good six months before she met me.

Maybe I asked it because of the alcohol but my next question turned things weird.

"I suspect he was, um, much bigger than me. Is that right?"

Teresa looked up into my eyes.

"Why would you ask that?" she inquired, slightly irritated. "Why would you care?"

I had no good answer so I went with the truth.

"Insecurity, I guess. Just silly male fears."

Her face softened. "You have nothing to worry about, Brad, my sweet man. You satisfy me completely."

I considered her non-answer answer and after a moment, pressed again.

"So, is he?"

She met my eyes and I saw her mind racing. She contemplated a dozen replies before lowering her eyes.

"Yes," she stated.

"A lot?"

"Yes."

"Bigger than Brian?"

Her eyes came up flashing. I saw dangerous excitement before she buried it.

"How would I know?"

I explained I saw her that first night in the kitchen. I left out her trips to the fire escape. She listened intently, watching to see if I was jealous or angry. When she felt confident, she answered.

"No, Brian is bigger."

“I appreciate your honesty,” I offered. “I appreciate your desire to spare my feelings. I’m totally okay with this topic, though. I got the size I got, you know? I’m not little, thank God.”

She smiled. “No, you’re not.”

“But you like them big?”

Her jaw fell open.

“Brad!”

I stood my ground. She looked at the wall, the bed, the window, and then, finally, my eyes.

“Okay, yes.”

I nodded. “That explains some things,” I admitted. I picked up our toy and she laughed and looked away.

“You love this big guy. I think I’ll name him Brian. Naming him Sammy would be too weird. A little weird is cool.”

I thought about telling her I’d seen her on the balcony but it seemed strangely creepy to me, like I’d been stalking my own girlfriend. She was still gawking at me over my Brian-naming comment.

“It’ll be our secret,” I suggested. “The real Brian will have no idea. We can have scandalous fun with it. I know he’s hot and hung. I see the babes he brings home. It would be pretty unbelievable if you felt nothing for him. He’s my best friend and I trust him, and you,” I quickly added and she missed the slight pause. “I’ll be honest too,” I continued. “When I see this big dick fucking you, it turns me on. I love seeing you like that. I can’t explain why.”

“That’s interesting. I worried you’d be jealous or intimidated. You really shocked me when you took us to that store. I didn’t know what to think. I was super worried when we watched that old guy jack off. I guess I have an exhibitionistic streak I wasn’t aware of. I thought you might be mad once we left.”

“Did you want to touch that old guy? He was pretty big.”

“No! Ew. He was gross.”

“You stared right at his cock like you wanted it. You couldn’t pull your eyes away. I know you loved the way he looked at you.”

“What woman wouldn’t? I felt gorgeous. He wanted to devour me. Who doesn’t like inspiring that in a man? I wanted him to want me but I did not reciprocate. You’re right though, he did have a big dick. That part turned me on.”

My penis twitched and she saw it.

“Oh, really?” She teased. “You like it when I talk dirty? Did it turn you on when I stared at his big cock?”

Damn it. I grew a little more despite my efforts not to. Every time she said 'big cock' my heart raced a little faster.

“His big cock was nice, Honey. It was thick with lots of veins. I've only seen a few of them but his looked really masculine. It turned me on.”

I shifted on the bed and pulled the covers onto my lap.

A light-bulb went off for her. “Wait a second... did you want me to touch it?”

“No, of course not.”

“Oh, okay, because right now it seems like you did.”

I didn't answer. Had I wanted her to touch it? I was growing more anxious with each second. I changed subjects.

“Do you ever see Sammy?”

She was successfully distracted. “Yes. After my Lit class I cut across campus and that takes me passed the gym. Every now and then I see him working out.”

Great. Brilliant subject change, Brad.

I pulled her closer and wrapped my arms around her, nuzzling her nape. Faint traces of morning perfume still lingered. I grew a little more and she felt it on her back.

“You know I can't resist that,” she said, rolling to face me. Her face disappeared into my lap under the covers and her mouth enveloped me. I put both hands on the back of her head. The Brian toy lay on the bed next to her ass and I reached for it. The thing was still wet from our earlier romp. I aimed the head between her pussy lips and gently pushed. Teresa groaned deep in her throat and lifted her butt. I sank more in.

She sucked me as I fucked her with it but really my attention was on her. The effect this large cock had on her was remarkable. She craved it. She loved being filled with it. I stayed completely focused on her, learning what she loved and what she really, really loved, until I made her cum with it much later. I realized my sweet girlfriend is more like cheerleader Kandy than I originally understood and that in spite of her advanced intelligence and sophistication, she too was an easy victim to a man with a big cock. This was her Achilles heel, her Kryptonite.

Weeks became months. Teresa rented her place to another student and moved in with me and Brian. Brian kept a steady stream of hot college babes flowing through the apartment but we actually saw less and less of him.

The semester ended so we both took part time work. Our scholarships covered everything but left no money for extras. In-between semesters I usually picked up work busing tables and she served drinks. The summer passed quickly and we both agreed to really focus on our last year in school.

We talked about moving in together once we graduated and then shared our ideas with Brian. He understood this was most likely our last year as roommates.

Teresa would enter the world of finance and I would pursue a career in engineering and we could have jobs waiting for us if we played it right. We were hopelessly and happily in love and knew how lucky we were. Our sex life actually increased in both frequency and intensity. New toys joined our Brian-toy and she always choose the biggest and most realistic.

Teresa surprised me on one trip to the adult store when she picked a male-torso bed mate; it was a man's body from knees to neck, minus arms, and came complete with a massive tower of bendable cock. Once you had it where you wanted it, pressing down locked it in place. She'd ride her new friend while I climbed all over her, sucking nipples and kissing her body. She'd ride him cowgirl and I'd feed her my dick or lick her clit. One night after a few drinks we tried double penetration, him in her pussy and me behind her, conquering her ass, but it was too much. He was too big. I did get a finger inserted and when she came I thought she might pass-out from the intensity of her orgasm.

Although only latex replicas, the addition of a second cock had a slow and subtle effect on me. I started talking dirty to her about fucking two men at once and her response was always eager and accepting. I began to prefer double fucking her. Sometimes we just made sweet and simple love with lots of kissing and nuzzling, but most often she wanted it harder than that and so did I. Two cocks at the same time became our new normal.

Once while we were having dinner in a nice restaurant I caught her looking at our waiter. After he'd gone I asked her what that look in her eye meant. She tried to deflect but I persisted and eventually she confessed she found him attractive. That night in bed I teased her as she rode her bed-buddy that it was actually the waiter under her and wow did she explode with lust. Her orgasm was so strong she burst into sobs. After that she started pointing out hot guys whenever we were out and then she'd fantasy-fuck them that night.

I realize now the moment was inevitable, but at the time it really shocked me. Teresa and I were lying in bed wearing sweats and reading homework when she folded her book shut and rested it on her lap. She waited for me to notice.

“Could you actually do it?” she asked.

I raised a questioning eyebrow. She often has a conversation in her head and then shares only the tail end of it with me.

“A threesome,” she stated. “We talk about it all the time; during sex, out for dinner, shopping at the mall. I always thought it was just a fantasy and would always remain so but lately I'm not so sure. You are so into the moment when you watch me and clearly I love it. Sometimes I wonder if you want me to really do it. Do you?”

I instantly had the obligatory “No” ready, but for reasons I did not understand, I did not say it. I kept my mouth shut.

“Interesting,” she smiled.

My stomach flipped over and my throat went dry. I felt like we had unexpectedly crossed a threshold and I was completely unprepared.

“Do you?” I croaked. “Do you want us to have a threesome? Me and you and another guy?”

She looked down at her hands a long time. “I do,” she murmured at last.

My heart skipped several beats and when it started again it was beating a hundred times faster. I was stunned. This was a huge step. The love of my life was telling me she wanted another man to fuck her and since she'd said threesome I had to assume she meant for me to be right there too but maybe she just wanted to fuck him while I watched, the way we do in bed so often.

Had we been moving towards this moment all along?

A whimper escaped my lips.

Sudden images flood my brain; my lovely Teresa on her back, legs spread wide and inviting pussy on display, an actual faceless man moving up between her thighs, fully engorged and inching closer to her shiny wet pussy. She reaches down and her delicate fingers encircle his shaft and gently pull him forward. Her labia flower as the head pierces her and her head falls back as she moans...

I whimpered again.

"Are you okay?" she asked.

A battle raged inside me. I absolutely hated the idea of another man touching her. I believed just the sight would kill me. Yet all our double-dick sex-play had laid the ground work. I could not help but imagine what a real living penis would do to her. I knew exactly how she would react and honestly, I wanted to see that. I craved the experience even as I loathed another male presence. For months I'd teased us both with the fantasy and the law of diminished returns had caught up to me.

I met her eyes, hoping for guidance, but in them saw the same conflict which flared in me; she wanted it too but feared it as deeply as I did. She looked so vulnerable. She'd answered truthfully knowing how dangerous her response was. We'd always been honest with each other and now here was a moment which could damage our relationship and she'd stayed true. She'd taken the high road. I had to admire her courage. I melted. She wasn't asking for it; she was only admitting she wanted it.

I took a huge breath. If she could be that brave, so could I. I realized I had not yet answered her and she was waiting nervously.

"Yes, Baby, I'm okay." I kissed the back of her hand and then held it. I exhaled deeply. "Whom?" I asked, my heart bouncing around inside my chest and my head spinning.

Her eyes opened wide.

"Holy shit!" she exclaimed. "That's a big jump! I can't believe you are already wondering who! I thought you'd get irritated at me for even bringing it up. Do you really want the answer to that question? Think about what you're asking, Honey."

"Teresa, I'm not agreeing to it, I'm only speculating about the idea. Who you pick makes a tremendous difference to me. I need you to identify all the variables. Whatever you do, please don't say Brian."

"Ha! That would be too weird. He's super-hot but we still have to live with him for a year. Can you imagine how awkward? I'd never know which bed I'd be sleeping in at night."

I knew she was joking to relieve tension but that comment bit.

She chewed her bottom lip. I thought she was thinking but after a second I realized she already had something to say but was afraid to say it.

“Say it,” I said.

“Brad, you have to understand I never expected the conversation to go this way this fast. It's not like I'm sitting around dreaming of a threesome. My original question was rhetorical. I'm shocked you're asking me who I'd pick. Doesn't that make the whole thing so much more real?”

“Yes, but let's both have some back-bone here. We agreed to only speak the truth, right. Not just when it's comfortable. So stop buying time and answer me; whom? Whom would you pick? Be honest.”

“Samuel,” she blurted. “Sam, Sammy.”

I looked down at my chest, perplexed no knife stuck out of it. The pain I was experiencing said a knife should be protruding. Of all the men on earth, she picks her well-hung ex. Not Brad Pitt, not George Clooney. She could have any guy on campus, fuck, she could have any guy on earth, and she goes back to one she has an intense history with. Fuck. I kept my face calm. On top of that, Sam screwed her over and treated her shitty. Sam lied to her. Sam hurt her. Sam tore her down and disrespected her and yet she still wants to fuck him. I will never understand women.

When I looked up she was terrified. She was sure she had gone too far, been too honest, pushed the envelope and hurt me deeply, unforgivably. I did not trust myself to speak so I nodded several times while I caught my breath and got my feet back under me.

“Wow,” I exhaled. “Just, wow. That surprises me, Teresa. Why him?”

She spoke tentatively. “For closure, mostly. I'd use him for sex and that would balance the scales somewhat. I'd be giving him a dose of his own medicine. I'd get revenge when he saw how I no longer cared about him at all.”

“Are you sure you're capable of that?”

“Oh yes. He'd know. He'd know and it would upset him. I know that's pretty callous and shitty of me but I don't care.”

At least her answer made some sense, but in a perfect-chick logic kind of way. My initial shock had faded and I'd gone into calculating engineer mode; he was safe, clean, available, known, and hung. I shook my head. How could I even consider this? I calmed myself. The truth is I was considering it. The idea of Teresa with two penises at the same time was powerful. I imagined approaching Sam and discussing our plan with him. No way. Teresa had to ask him, not me.

“I'm still not saying okay, but how would this happen? No way am I inviting him to fuck my girlfriend. Have you thought about the details? I know your mind and I'm pretty sure you have. How would you make this happen?”

“It's pretty easy, actually. Like an ass he hits on me every time he sees me, so I just make sure he sees me and this time instead of telling him to shut the fuck up I say okay but my boyfriend gets to watch. He'll go for it in a second. I know him. He won't care that you're there. He might get off on it; doing me one last time in front of my new guy. Once we get started, you join in, if you want.” She was trying to keep her face calm but I saw excitement in her eyes. Minutes ago this had been abstract and rhetorical; now suddenly we were working out the details. I suspected this idea had not just occurred to her as she certainly had it all planned. I wondered how many times I'd fucked her with one of our toys and she'd been imagining it was Sam.

She was waiting for me to comment but I took my time answering. I tried to imagine the day after; would we be glad we'd done it or filled with regret? If we did it and hated it we didn't have to do it again, ever. I thought about the variables; what if I liked it and she didn't or she liked it and I didn't? What if I was too intimidated and couldn't get hard and only Sam fucked her? Strangely, that worry aroused me.

I explained my concerns to her and saw the excitement growing in her eyes. She had not expected the conversation to go like this. She listened carefully and then we discussed our fears and we agreed to err on the side of caution; if either of us did not like it, even a little, we never repeated it and the other party never brought it up again.

My palms were sweaty. In the silence that followed I realized we'd crossed a bridge; a tacit choice had been made. We never came right out and said okay, let's do this, but this was actually going to happen. She moved her book to the night stand and backed into me. I spooned her. Neither of us spoke.

I was constantly nervous every day for the next six days. Every text or call I got I expected her to drop a bomb. The first few days I asked several times a day if she'd seen Sam and she always patiently said no so I stopped asking. After a week I was to the point where I would go long stretches without thinking about it. So many things had to fall into place for this to work, I began to suspect it wouldn't. Teresa got her period which pushed everything back almost two weeks. Life for us went back to normal.

I relaxed.

Two more days passed.

The whole idea was behind me and I was so busy at school I forgot all about it. I was in my calculus class listening to an interesting lecture when I noticed the message light on my phone was blinking and I discreetly checked the message; Skipped my last class to head home. Sam will meet me there soon. Get home as fast as you can. T

My heart stopped beating. The message was already fifty minutes old. I don't know how I missed it. Not only was Teresa home by now but I was sure Sam was there too and had been for a while. Alone, with my love. Brian would not get home until later tonight. Teresa and Sam were together with the express intent of fucking and I had been sitting and listening to a lecture for almost an hour. An image of a big hard cock sliding in and out of Teresa's pussy flashed into my mind. I knew at that moment my love was getting fucked.

"Goddamn it!" I hollered.

Every face in the classroom turned to look at me. I told the professor I was sorry but I had to leave and began gathering my things. My feet were lead blocks, my legs rubber. My apartment was close but suddenly not nearly close enough. I swung my back-pack on and double-timed it across campus and up my street.

I was sweating and breathing hard as I turned the corner and approached my apartment. Teresa's car was at the curb along with a silver Mercedes I did not recognize and did not belong in this neighborhood.

As the building front door loomed, I had to decide what to do. On the run over I wondered if she would have started without me and I had difficulty believing that. Our agreement was they would get started and I would join in but if I'm not there that messes up everything. She had to wait for me.

I put my hand on the door knob to our building and stopped. I imagined racing upstairs, hot and sweaty and looking panicked, bursting into the apartment, gasping for air. This was not the entrance I wanted. I needed to know what was going on in that apartment before I entered. If I could get to the fire escape, I'd be able to see the whole apartment. If I went up an extra floor, I could come down the fire escape quietly and check on things.

So that's what I did. I climbed one floor too high and then slipped out the window at the end of the main hall. I moved carefully because noise would ruin my plan. My apartment window was open, as always, so I peeked through the pane and around the long drape and scanned the interior. I big line-backer looking guy sat on my sofa. He had short blond hair and scruffy chin stubble. The couch faced the long window but he sat with his back against an arm so I saw him in profile. He wore a tight white T-shirt and gray dress shorts. Several beers bottles cluttered the coffee table, testament to how long they'd been waiting.

My bedroom door was closed and Teresa was nowhere to be seen. A wave of relief flooded me. Judging by the bottles, they'd sat here talking, waiting for some word from me. I imagined Teresa had excused herself to use the restroom. I could now return to the front door and enter cool and collected like I was totally in control.

Then my bedroom door opened.

Teresa stood framed by it, wearing tiny sheer white panties and sheer white bra. Her small nipples topped her large breasts and even from here I saw they were hard. The bedroom behind had the curtains drawn and candles lit. The comforter was pulled all the way down to the foot of the bed.

Her face was a mask of anxiety and nervousness. Sam looked up as the door opened and rubbed his chin. He stood and peeled his T-shirt off in one motion and I was intimidated by the hard muscular body beneath; he had no body fat at all and his chest and arms were chiseled stone. His abs were ridiculous symmetrical bulges. He unsnapped his shorts and hooked his thumbs in the waistband and down came shorts and underwear simultaneously. His cock was big, bigger than Teresa had described, and already half-hard and bounced and bobbed as he stood back up.

"We've waited long enough," Teresa said, her voice shaky and uncertain. "Brad can join us when he gets here. I'm sure he'll be here any minute." She was scared and excited and nervous and she could not take her eyes off Sam's penis

I yanked myself away from the window and put my back against the outside wall. Holy fuck! She was going ahead without me! I thought about barging in but I was on the fucking fire escape. How weird would I look to both of them? Goddamn pervert spying on his own girl. No way I'd let him see me like that. It would take me way too long to climb quietly back around to the main hallway and enter through the front door. Who knows what I would miss in that time?

“Fuck, Sammy, I've missed this big guy.”

Sam chuckled. “Yeah, he's missed you too. Come here, Slut.”

I whipped my phone from my pocket and tapped out a text; Don't start without me, almost there. Love you, baby. I hit send and heard her phone chime inside the apartment. I also heard Sam let out a long, deep, meaningful moan. I risked another look in through the window.

Sammy stood over her, his long cock resting across her face. She held his big balls in her mouth, rolling them around with her tongue, while he aggressively held a handful of her long hair. His dick was fucking huge. She balanced herself with her hands on his thighs. She licked the length of him from balls to head and then spoke.

“That's him, I know it. Stay right here.”

Sammy finished removing the last of his clothing while Teresa went for her phone.

“It is him,” she said. “Awesome. He says he's almost here. We should wait.”

Sammy stepped closer. “Fuck that,” He said, once more grabbing a fist full of hair. “Let him walk in on this. You said he wants to watch so let's make it easy on him.” He forced her to her knees. “No time wasted this way. Now show me how much you've missed my big dick.”

She did. She offered no resistance so she clearly hoped Sam would do exactly what he was doing. Teresa opened wide and moved her lips half way down the shaft before closing them on him. Sam moaned again and Teresa shivered with pleasure. He grew harder by the second and more difficult for her to handle. I needed to leave and come in through the front door but honestly, I was mesmerized. My girlfriend and love of my life had a large and rock-hard cock sliding in and out of her mouth and I could not look away. Jealousy never even entered my mind. The scene was surreal. With my limited sexual experience this was easily the most erotic thing I'd ever witnessed.

Her hands rubbed the length as her mouth bobbed and sucked on the end. Sammy had no doubt she wanted his cum. He rested his hands on her head and let her do all the work, a sly grin twisting his lips.

“I'd almost forgotten how good you are at that,” he said.

She stopped for only a second; “Liar.”

He laughed. “Yeah, you're right. I jack off nightly remembering exactly how good you are. Try to take all of it.”

Teresa took a deep breath and composed herself. She opened her mouth and I watched his firm inches slide deep. She stopped a few times to adjust his cock or her throat but with slow progress more and more of his dick vanished into her mouth. His big hanging balls drew close to her lips. She paused and then pushed down the remaining inch or two. Sam's testicles mashed against her chin. Her throat bulged and I saw her muscles swallowing, working him over. His head was back in pure sensational bliss.

Teresa held him buried and bobbed slightly. She drove him crazy. His legs began to tremble and when she felt it she started moaning with intense desire.

Sam let her enjoy her moment and then pulled her long hair and made her stand up. He spun her to face away from him and bent her over the back of our couch.

He turned his hips and his massive shaft slipped between her legs and I knew what he intended and I was frozen in place as a million conflicting emotions crashed into each other. He pushed her legs farther apart while keeping her pinned.

“Sammy! Sam!”

“Fucking shut up, Teresa. I know you want me to fucking take you. I know you hate me now so you must have invited me over for my big dick. We were wrong for each other in every way except the bedroom. Now quit bitching and take my cock.”

Teresa struggled for a moment but only for show.

“Show me your perfect pussy, Nessa. Is she wet already? I know she is. Spread her and show me.”

Teresa hesitated and then reached both hands back and spread her ass and pussy, taking the strap of her panties with her thumb. Sam aimed his enormous cock head at her opening and flexed and for a moment his crown smothered her labia, but then pushed through and disappeared inside her. A deep and loud groan flew from her lips followed by constant gasps and cries. He shoved it deep inside her drenched cunt and she wiggled her ass back to help take it.

Sam was fucking my girl!

I should be furious but instead I was growing hard. It made no sense at all but I couldn't deny it. I was wildly turned on watching my sweet Teresa take Sam's huge cock. He held her hips firmly and fucked her deep and she loved it. They moved together with a practiced air and I caught a glimpse into their previous sex life. They may not have been compatible in any other way but Teresa loved his massive dick.

His thick cock forced her pussy wide open, stretching her. He pulled out long enough to pull her panties down and off and then guided his cock right back into her depths. Bent over like that she was at his mercy but obviously that's what she wanted. She loved how hot he was for her. Sam fell into long, deep, gut-penetrating strokes, owning my girl's womb.

Womb.

A tornado roared in my ears as I realized his cock was inside her bare and unprotected. Her cries of pleasure increased suddenly and I knew she was having a powerful orgasm and in spite of my current panic I spurted twice inside my pants! That knowledge seared my brain. I was trembling with excitement as I listened to her. Teresa screamed into the sofa and Sam pounded her harder and she screamed again, stuffing a cushion into her mouth.

This was more than Sam could take and before my wildly aroused and horrified eyes he clamped a death-grip on her hips and buried his cock head as deep as she could take and told her to take every fucking drop he gave her, and then jerked convulsively as his climax pumped a gallon of white hot and potent sperm deep inside. I watched as Sam enjoyed a pleasure I had never experienced with Teresa and my penis spurt again in my underwear. My heart broke and my penis throbbed. He leaned his chest on Teresa's back and twitched as the last drops oozed from him inside her. His balls slowly relaxed and began to hang lower.

On weak legs he stepped back from her and a trickle of semen dribbled from her pussy to the floor. What would she do as the passion drained away? How would the knowledge affect her? She surprised me by sliding off the couch and kneeling before him. Her tongue snaked out and she slowly licked each inch of him clean, sucking his last drops out when she reached the tip. If she felt any guilt, I couldn't see it.

I put my phone away and made the climb back through the window. My hands were shaking as I reached for the door knob to my apartment. I was a zombie. I had no idea what would come next.

When I opened the door Sam was on the couch and Teresa curled in a little ball on his lap. They both raised their head when I entered. I have no idea what Teresa saw in my eyes but it made her smile and reach out a hand for me. I crossed to where they sat.

“I’m late.” I muttered.

“Very,” she replied. “I tried to wait, I swear I did.”

I knew that was mostly true but it was also her that got the ball rolling. She slid off his lap to the floor between his legs and held up his mostly softened but still quite formidable penis, showing it to me. The thick and heavy tower of pink flesh flopped side to side. A thin drool of cum stuck to his stomach and formed a strand to the tip of his dick.

“Told you,” was all Teresa said.

I had no idea how to reply to that so I said nothing. Sam was watching us both. Teresa pulled the loose skin up a few times as she gently stroked him. Locking her playful and teasing eyes with mine, she licked away the drop of cum from his dick-hole.

“What did I miss, exactly?” I tried to sound cool and under control.

Sam spoke, answering before Teresa could. “She sucked my cock and I fucked her with it until I gave her my load. She totally wanted it, dude. I made sure she came first, though. I’m not an ass.”

Teresa looked irritated and I understood why they were no longer together. Her face softened when she turned to me. “Yes, Sam is right, Baby, and I’m very sorry. We... I, got carried away. Things went way too far way too fast.”

Remarkably, I felt my penis stiffen some.

“Show me.” I have no idea why I said it, but I did. Sam grinned and Teresa looked shocked.

“Show you? What do you mean?”

“Show him your pussy, Nessa. The man wants proof.”

After a heartbeat she shrugged and moved up to the couch. Sam pulled one leg and Teresa spread the other and as her pussy lips parted I saw milky cum leaking from her puffy cunt.

I stiffened more.

There was no road map to follow. There was no precedent for what to do next. This was visceral and intense and immediate. I was emotionally feeling my way forward. I knelt to inspect her more closely without touching her. Sam's load was huge. She was awash in his seed.

"I'm really sorry, Honey," Teresa said.

"Yeah, sorry, Dude," Sam added. "Shit happens."

Teresa and I ignored him.

I was close enough to see the swirling patterns in the sperm. His cum was brilliant white and clean and from this distance I smelled the aroma of him, very different from mine. I thought about licking her but rejected the idea with a shiver of disgust. Besides, what would they think of me? What would I think of myself?

I was upset that Sam had Teresa in a way I never had but I was also rock hard.

"Use your fingers," I instructed. "Spread your pussy open."

"Honey," Teresa sighed, embarrassed. "Are you sure you want to see that?"

"Do it." I ordered and she complied.

I saw inside her and it was glorious. Sperm coated everything. She was a dripping mess of semen, none of it mine. I loved and hated it.

Sam murmured, "That's hot," and I saw him begin stroking his soft cock. What a ego boost it was for him; he just fucked my girl and not only did she love it, but I did too. He probably thought his cock had magical powers and perhaps it did.

Teresa was watching me intensely. I fumbled with my buckle and freed my penis. Nobody noticed my wet spots from earlier, thank God, and I started jacking as I gazed at my unfaithful girl's pussy. Teresa took my arousal as forgiveness, and maybe it was, and let her head drop back on the sofa as she held her pussy open. I was hypnotized.

To my right I noticed movement and Sam nudged me back from Teresa. He was fully erect again, assisted, no doubt, by my reaction to him fucking Teresa, and he moved to the floor in front of me and up between her open knees. Her head was back so she couldn't see what he was doing.

Sam took his heavy spear in hand and inched closer. I moved to see around him and watched as his cock closed the gap between them. When he nudged her hole she reached for what I'm sure she thought was my penis because when her fingers closed on his thickness, her head snapped up and her eyes flew open, shocked to discover it was not me between her legs.

She put a hand on his chest to stop him but he was too big and strong. Her wild eyes looked at me.

“Brad!”

I knew what Teresa was thinking; the first time was almost an accident. Too much booze, things got crazy and carried away, she got swept up in the moment. This was so deliberate. I was right there in front of her. She did not trust herself. She worried she'd love it too much and I'd see it and then she'd feel shitty. She did not want to hurt me. I noticed although one hand pushed him away the other still held his meaty shaft tightly, pulling him forward. I decided to make it easy on her.

“Fuck her,” I commanded Sam. “Fuck my girl again. She loves your big dick.”

Sam smiled ear to ear and Teresa looked confused. Sam sank his hefty cock into her well-lubed tunnel and all the air left her lungs. Almost against her will her legs rose up and encircled his waist. He leaned in to kiss her and she kissed him back, which stabbed me in the heart, and then Teresa's resistance collapsed completely. She grabbed his head and pulled him into the passionate kiss.

Sam fucked her hard and deep. He lifted her legs and placed them over his broad shoulders, allowing him to bury every long inch on every stroke. Teresa tightened her legs and drove him forward and I watched as he made her climax again.

Sam's breathing was ragged and his voice raw. “Dude, fuck, her pussy is clenched around my dick. She's so fucking tight! Pinch her nipple and make her cunt squeeze my dick.” I did as he ordered and Sam growled with satisfaction.

Teresa came again and she buried her face in his chest as she climaxed and Sam just kept pounding her with steady strokes, allowing her no escape, driving her crazy. She bit his chest muscle and crossed her legs hard around his ass.

He did not last long. After just a few more minutes of constant pounding he grabbed her at the waist and drove his cock repeatedly into her. Teeth clamped so hard I thought they might chip, he exploded inside her for a second time. She wrapped arms and legs around him and pulled him as deep as she could. He filled her to over-flowing. I saw his hot cum, fresh from the source, dripping from her pussy and his shaft. He grunted and growled and all his muscles flexed at once.

This orgasm was much more powerful than his first, draining his energy as well as his cum. I climbed onto the couch for a better view and the way her soft pussy lips clung to him so desperately totally turned me on. I leaned my penis in and Teresa sucked me into her mouth. I stared at his massive flesh plug, trapping all that semen deep inside her, and before I knew what was happening my climax rocked me. Teresa swallowed it all.

I dropped my ass to the couch. They kissed and touched, sharing intimacies as their bodies remained connected. He ran his hands over her sheer bra and pinched her nipples playfully and with familiarity. She touched his rock hard abs, admiring his physique.

Sam remembered I was there before she did and gave me a fist-bump. Teresa looked ashamed. He held her hips as he slowly withdrew his thick shank and a gush of semen followed him. He pinched her pussy shut, trapping the rest inside and she playfully slapped his hand.

“You are so bad!” she exclaimed.

None of us spoke much and before too long Sam dressed, thanked us both and offered to do it again anytime, and left. Teresa walked him to the door in bra and no panties and I have to admit, knowing what she carried inside her somehow made her infinitely sexier. We retired to our bedroom after removing all trace of our adventure from the living room. We cuddled but words came haltingly. As the passion drained away the reality replaced it and soon we were both crushed under the weight of what we had done. Within half an hour I was seriously regretting our choice.

That night almost ended us. As days passed we talked less and less. Teresa was devastated by her reckless lack of protection and I could not get the images of how much she loved fucking him out of my head. Fear took root and I rationalized better to end it now than endure what I was certain was coming; she loved him, not me, I saw it with my own eyes.

She felt remorseful and ashamed. This was supposed to be an exciting and shared experience but she had lost control and taken far more for herself than she had offered me. She knew she had hurt me and that knowledge almost broke her.

A week later we were lying in bed, waiting for sleep, and I spoke into the dark and silent room. “I don't want to lose you,” I stated. I'd done a lot of thinking and I was ready to share my thoughts.

She started crying. I wrapped my arms around her and pulled her close. I started crying too. We both just let the tears flow and squeezed each other. After a long time, she lifted her head.

"I'm so sorry," she whimpered. "I don't know why I let him do that, Baby. This was supposed to be my big revenge fuck. I was supposed to show him how little I cared. I never should have allowed that to happen."

Over the past week I'd thought a lot about the way things went and I was ready.

"But you did."

"Yes, and I'm sorry."

"Teresa, my love, I'm not trying to blame you more than you already blame yourself. I want to talk about what really happened, and why. I'm not innocent here; I told him to fuck you again, remember?"

I saw her pale oval face nod in the dark.

"The truth is you wanted him to fuck you and you wanted him to cum inside you. I've thought a lot about that night. It tore me up over and over until I realized I was trying to reshape what actually happened, and I have something to confess."

I had her full attention now.

"I watched you, that first time, from the fire escape. I had to know what was going on inside the apartment before I entered and my timing was perfect, or awful, depending. I watched you suck him and I watched him fuck you. I could have stopped it too, just like you, but I didn't either. It took me days to face the hard truth but here it is; we both wanted him to fuck you. We both wanted him to cum in you. If we accept the truth of that, everything makes sense. It's still scary as fuck, but it all makes sense."

She's no dummy. She didn't argue or get mad. She skipped over all that. With perfect insight she zeroed in on the heart of it.

"You're right," she breathed after a minute of intense contemplation. I heard her exhale. "I am terrified to admit it, for what it says about me and fear of hurting you, but it is true; what happened is exactly what I wanted to have happen."

"Me too, and that's not an easy thing for a man to admit about himself."

Neither of us spoke as we surveyed this new position.

Long minutes later she leaned in and kissed me. "I don't want to lose you either," she whispered.

"Are you absolutely certain?"

She did not hesitate. "Yes. I know you saw things between Sam and me...things that had to hurt. We both know it wasn't just sex. But I want you to know I would never leave you for him or anyone else. You bring me the deepest happiness I've ever known."

"You just really like fucking Sam."

"God help me, yes, I do."

I weighed what I was about to say very carefully. The idea had come to me only yesterday and I needed to be sure. Once I said it, I could not take it back. Once she heard it, she'd always know the real me, how I really felt. She could deal me tremendous damage armed with this information. I would be trusting her completely. I'd never done that with anyone, anywhere, at any time.

"Let's do it again."

Even in the dark I knew her reaction; her whole body stiffened, her face fell forward, her jaw dropped open, her eyes grew huge.

"Are you insane?"

"Maybe," I replied. "Probably. At least a little."

"That night almost killed us, Brad."

"Yes, but because we denied it. Because we lied to ourselves about how we truly felt. We stopped talking because the truth was brutal and terrifying. We could have apologized and buried it and never repeated it and gone on with our routine. Facing the truth is always an option, but humans are terrible at it. This way is better."

I stopped talking. I knew her mind was racing a million miles an hour. I expected she'd need a day or two to examine everything I'd said.

"Okay," she said, threads of excitement woven into her voice.

That was fast.

"Hand me my phone," she said. "I'll text Sam now."

My face fell. I heard her laughing.

"I can't see you," she chuckled. "Is your face all screwed up?"

"Yes," I answered, amused and annoyed.

"Gotcha."

I sighed. "Very much so," I admitted.

We talked about rules. Free now to speak our true feelings, everything that made us special came back. We expressed our fears and concerns but also our lusts and wants. A mutual desire to stay together no matter what anchored us. We were brutally honest, not in a mean way to our partner but in an embarrassing way regarding ourselves. We laid ourselves bare. It was invigorating.

After we finished we made the sweetest love ever, although I still had to pull out, and fell into a deep and contented sleep.

The next day dawned bright and cheery and everything was different. I got up first and started the coffee and Brian joined me at the kitchen table. We talked for a bit, catching up, when my bedroom door opened and Teresa stepped out. She wore a tight wife-beater that clung to every curve and a pair of white booty shorts. Her nipples were barely visible as small smooth bumps. She looked stunning. She gave Brian a nod as she walked by and poured herself a cup of coffee, and then headed back to the bedroom. She casually kissed my cheek and told me she loved me, and then closed the door behind her. Brian and I were speechless. We both heard his name called in a feminine voice from his room as whichever girl he brought home last night wondered where he was, but he ignored her.

“Holy fuck,” he said. “I’ve always only seen her in baggy sweats and hoodies. She’s crazy smoking hot, Brad.”

I smiled. It had already begun. I was about to learn the true Teresa.

Three days later I received a text in my architecture class; What time Brian home?

I resisted asking questions and shot back; eight o'clock.

A minute later I got; You're home at three?

I said I was. I checked the time. Three was almost an hour away. My phone vibrated again. Too bad. Sam and I are here now...

Fuck. FUCK. Fuckfuckfuck. This class I could not bail on. This class I needed. The professor was giving us guidelines for the midterm and I had no friends in this class. I was stuck. My toes curled inside my shoes. I quickly text back; And if I asked you to wait?

Too late...

My temperature skyrocketed. I'd left the house first this morning so I had no idea what she was wearing. I was sure she had worn something sexy. That seemed to be all she wore these days, and around the house it was even worse, or better, depending. Brian and I were constantly shocked at the generous amounts of skin exposed. The girl Brian was dating took what Teresa was doing as a general rule and she wore less and less too. Brian and I were in hot-girl Heaven.

I thought of no clever reply so I just sat and stared at my phone. I suspected at this moment she was already sucking his cock. In my mind I saw Sam's thick penis resting on his muscular thigh as Teresa's tongue swabbed it from balls to head. He'd be hard in seconds and mere minutes from this very moment, my love would have another man's cock forcing itself deep into her body. My penis swelled in my pants.

In the greatest act of sheer will-power I have ever exercised in my life, I set my phone to silent and dropped it into my pocket and returned my attention to the professor and for the next hour took the best notes of my life. When the class ended I sat for the two minutes it took everyone to bolt for the door and once alone withdrew my phone.

My hands trembled as I opened the first of many texts. It was a picture, sent five minutes after my last text, of Teresa looking into the camera with Sam's big cock resting against her face. Clearly Sam had taken it and as I quickly discovered, he'd taken them all.

I flipped through one picture after the other as he slowly undressed my woman and used her for his pleasure. She denied him nothing. He'd been saving his load for days and first I saw her tongue painted white, then her pussy filled with jizz, and lastly, and most surprisingly, a short video as he deep fucked her ass and shot one last load into her guts. The video was shot only two minutes before class ended. If I raced home, he might still be there.

He was and when Brian got home Sam was still in our bedroom. Sam didn't actually leave until the sun was coming up the next morning. Teresa was a mess. I couldn't keep up with Sam but together we fucked Teresa virtually unconscious.

Teresa and I never discussed birth control for him and somehow Sam ended up with all the pussy privileges. I was crushed each time he ejaculated deep into her but I loved it and Teresa loved it too. It tormented me and she knew it but understood it was a delicious anguish, a desired agony. Sam loved knowing he never stuck his dick into my cum. He loved conquering her, owning her, and I think he loved it most because he was indirectly dominating me at the same time. What an ego rush.

Teresa loved being the bad girl, the secret slut. None of her friends had any idea. To her she was the athlete and dedicated student, very serious, no imagination and no lusty appetites.

Months ticked off. Brian never suspected. Sometimes we'd go to Sam's apartment when mine wasn't available. Once, during finals, Teresa went without me and I was tied into agonizing knots. That day was murder. She sent no text, no picture, no phone call before or after. She was just gone. For an entire afternoon, she was his and his alone. I was ready to kill someone when she finally came home, utterly exhausted and dripping, too tired for more sex. I jacked off five times as she described everything they did.

Oddly, that trip to Sam's convinced me beyond any doubt she'd never leave me to go back to him. He had nothing to offer her other than his strong cock and insatiable sex drive. An idea formed and the more I thought about it, the better I liked it and after two days, I knew it was the right thing to do.

That weekend we got dressed up for dinner at Jacobson's, the nicest restaurant in town, and, with the help of the entire staff in on my surprise, I asked Teresa to marry me. She said yes the moment I stopped speaking. She said she would have said yes the day she met me and every day since then. There was not a dry eye in the place. We left to a standing ovation. We did not have a lot of money, yet, but we didn't care.

Three months later, with Brian as my best man and both our families and friends in attendance, we made it official. Her parents sent us to the Bahamas over Christmas for our honeymoon and we left directly from the ceremony. After a short flight, we arrived.

We checked into the hotel and the bellboy showed us to our room. We were ridiculously happy. We were on the top floor overlooking the ocean with a huge patio and an indoor Jacuzzi. We showered and dressed for dinner and Teresa surprised me when she exited the bathroom in an ankle-length, long-sleeve, pure white dress made of silk and lace. It plunged to her navel in front and the dimples above her ass in back and she clearly had nothing on underneath. Her hair was piled high on her head with strands hanging all around. She stole my breath. I was already looking forward to our honeymoon night and this filled me with an aching desire for her.

We took the elevator down and in the bright light while we waited I noticed in the mirrored wall her nipples were just the tiniest bit visible. I mentioned this to her and she hit me with the sexiest hazel eyes on earth; "I know,” she murmured, “Tonight I want all eyes on me. I'm trying to turn you on as well as anyone else that sees me. I'm on a mission.”

She got her wish. We ate and talked and our waiter was incredibly attentive, as well as everyone else in the restaurant.

Afterwards we went dancing and every head turned. Men and women lusted for her openly. Usually when we go out men hit on her the moment I leave for any reason but tonight was special. They didn't wait. Several men approached our table and asked her to dance right in front of me. She declined but I saw how much she loved it.

My desire for her grew by the minute. She was radiant. She was captivating. She was in love and glowing and it only made her more beautiful. Everyone saw it. This was our honeymoon night and I couldn't wait to claim my new bride. My self-esteem soared every time a man approached our table and asked Teresa to dance. Women judge men by the women the men have with them and my stock with the other female's present was off the chart. To score a woman like Teresa there must be something special about me and every other female present wanted to know what it was. I didn't give them the time of day. Teresa was my universe.

The night wore on and we had more drinks, relaxing from the stresses and strains of travel and the wedding ceremony. We made friends with several other couples there for vacation or a honeymoon as well. One couple, Marcy and Ray, were celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary and re-taking their vows. They were an older version of us and we loved them instantly.

Marcy was at least a little Asian as her straight, jet-black hair reached almost to her waist. Her eyes were so dark they looked black. She wore a diaphanous green dress that showed off her small breasts from every side and barely covered her nipples and followed the curve of her round ass. The hem-line stopped at mid-thigh.

Ray was ex-military gone hippie. He was barrel-chested with huge arms and legs. He still had most of his hair and wore a close-cropped beard. He had a belly laugh that at times was louder than the music.

All four of us started doing shots and swapping stories. Ray had been around the world and seen everything and done everything. We let him do most of the talking, even when he tried to turn the attention to someone else. He was a natural story teller and we all laughed until our sides hurt.

Hours later, sweaty and tired, we all decided to go for a walk along the beach to clear our heads. Ray and Marcy walked in front, holding hands and kissing often, with Teresa and I a step behind doing the same. I carried Teresa's shoes and Ray carried Marcy's. Soon the hotel was a dot of light far behind us. The moon was up and nearly full and we had plenty of light.

We reached a spot where the cliffs came down to the sea. I thought we'd turn back but Teresa asked Ray if he saw a way over and he replied yes. Minutes later we jumped down from the rocks and found ourselves in a small secluded cove. Waves crashed at both ends of our little crescent and a warm breeze carried the salty mist. A smooth beach of white sand welcomed us. Teresa turned to me with excitement in her eyes.

"It's perfect!" she exclaimed. She grabbed my face and kissed me.

Marcy faced the sea and grabbed the hem of her dress and pulled it up and over her head. She wore nothing underneath. Ray looked at us with an apologetic face, hoping we understood his tipsy and impulsive wife. We gave him a forgiving smile.

Teresa rose on her toes and kissed me again and then backed away. She pulled one arm and then the other out of her sleeves and stepped from her lace dress. Like Marcy, she too wore nothing underneath. Ray and Marcy devoured nude Teresa.

My wife walked to Marcy and took her hand. Together they began to wade slowly deeper, clinging to each other and laughing as they jumped over each wave. Moments later Marcy called back to Ray, telling him to join them. He looked at me and I shrugged and smiled.

Off came his Polo shirt and down came his khaki dress shorts, followed by black boxer briefs. His massive lightly hairy chest and arms were matched by a lightly hairy stomach and legs. From a neatly trimmed pubic patch a wide and heavy cock hung half a foot, capped by a large and tapered head and backed by impressive testicles. Ray was a manly man.

He flicked his feet and his sandals joined the pile of clothing in the sand. He walked towards the ladies and I saw Teresa's laughing face slowly turn serious. She said something to Marcy, who nodded in agreement, and returned her stare to naked Ray. I felt a twinge of worry at the way her eyes lingered on his big swinging cock.

As Ray reached the ladies he slid a large arm around each waist and lifted them over the next wave. Everyone laughed. They turned to face me and Ray called for me to join them so I began slowly undressing. The water swelled under them and Ray's log floated briefly in front of him, pointing right at me.

I took my time. Confident I would be joining them soon they all turned back to the water and the waves. Their laughter floated on the warm breeze. The women held Ray's hands and together they walked farther out. As the water grew deeper, the women drew closer to Ray.

By the time I got out to them each girl clung to one of Ray's arms. The water was chest deep on us men but chin deep on Teresa and Marcy had to tread-water to keep her head above. I was surprised by how warm the ocean was.

We spent almost an hour drifting and floating. Sometimes we all drew close and made small talk and sometimes we drifted off as couples and kissed and felt each other under the water. When I pushed a finger into Teresa she was steaming hot. We kissed again and she pushed her tongue deep into my mouth.

"I want Ray to fuck me," she whispered hoarsely.

Ouch.

"I think Marcy might have something to say about that, Baby."

She studied my eyes. "You don't want him to?"

"Well," I began. "It is our honeymoon night. I think typically the new husband has all the rights to the new bride, yes. We will never have another honeymoon night."

"But I want him. Just look at him, Baby. Did you see his big cock? What a man. He's so masculine and powerful. I want him to fuck me."

"I heard you the first time, Teresa."

I tried to keep all irritation out of my voice but I doubt I succeeded.

During our exchange, Ray and Marcy had been drifting closer. They were not yet close enough to hear what Teresa and I were saying but they would be soon.

"Why not?" Teresa asked. "I thought this was what we did."

"You're my wife now, not my girlfriend and because it's our honeymoon night. You're supposed to want me, not Ray. If you had sex with Ray, then for the rest of our marriage you would have had sex with another man on our honeymoon night. Every anniversary would be a reminder you fucked some other guy. How would that make you feel? I think you'd regret it."

She smiled but it was not a sweet smile of understanding. It was a taunting, teasing, independent smile of stubborn mule-hardheadedness. She kicked her legs a few times and, while keeping eye-contact with me, floated towards Ray and Marcy. I stopped talking.

Ray and Marcy saw her coming and turned to face her. She swam to Marcy, floated right up to her, and wrapped her arms around Marcy's neck. I saw Teresa's tongue an instant before their lips met. Marcy returned the kiss with passion. A heartbeat later Teresa turned her attention to Ray and kissed him the same way. Any hope I had about Marcy stopping this died when I saw her reach around and caress Teresa's big tits. She seemed fascinated by them. Ray's big hand slipped under the water and I heard Teresa gasp. Next both her hands went under the water too. Little waves splashed around them.

Ray started moving them both to shallow water and Marcy followed. As the water dropped their bodies became exposed and I saw Ray was already half erect. His thick cock stuck straight out from his body like a spear. Marcy took his hand and halted him and then sank to her knees and popped the plump head into her mouth. She was petite and only able to take the head and an inch or two.

Teresa moved in front of him where she could also see me. I slowly shook my head but she only gave me that goddamn coy smile again and ran her hands down his solid frame. Slowly she sank and joined Marcy on her knees. Marcy pushed Ray's cock over to my wife with just her tongue and the two women began an exchange where one would suck it for a minute while the other licked the shaft and balls, and then using only their tongues swap positions. Ray had a large hand on each head. Marcy loved playing with Teresa's tits.

Marcy took their hands and led them out of the water. I followed close behind, trying to catch Teresa's attention. I thought about throwing a fit but our evening had been perfect and I really liked these guys. On top of that, the history Teresa and I had with Sam made my protests sound hollow. I wanted her to stop but just because I said so and I am not that immature.

The wet sand above the waves was firm. Ray's cock pointed at the night sky and his big balls were drawn up tight at the base of the shaft. Teresa walked around in front of him and Marcy stepped back, giving her room. My new bride kissed Ray deeply again and he held her in place with his hands on her hips. He was so much bigger than she his hands almost encircled her. The kiss was passionate and erotic and I was busy watching Teresa's sweet face and the emotions of desire playing there. Ray gently lifted her a few inches, tilted his hips down and under, and aimed his stiff cock up between her legs. I knew the moment he penetrated my wife by the look of pure ecstasy that contorted her face.

I dropped my gaze instantly and witnessed his cock head disappearing inside my wife's pussy. Her labia were twisted out of shape to accept him and she must have been soaked all the way up because his shaft followed the head in one long smooth motion. Teresa started a cry of pleasure which climbed the more cock she took and finally cracked and broke when his balls came to rest mashed against her opening.

They kissed again and Teresa snaked her legs around his, her arms around his neck. He began a small in and out motion and Teresa broke the kiss to once again cry out her extreme pleasure. He held her in an iron-grip and worked his hard cock in and out of her body. Marcy joined them, dropping to her knees and coming at them from underneath. I was sure she was licking both their assholes, his scrotum, and Teresa's pussy.

Teresa stiffened from toe to head and arched her back. All the muscles in her arms and legs went taut and her ass clenched. Seconds later I heard a cry rip from her throat as she came all over the big cock working her. Ray kept going, fucking her through her climax, pushing her higher and higher with each thrust. The muscles on his back rolled around like whales.

I felt like Ray was taking my wife's virginity. I know that's foolish and illogical but I felt it anyway. It crushed me to see her giving this night to him. Too late, I realized he wore no condom either. If I said nothing, Ray would also fertilize my new bride on our wedding day. I took a few step towards them with the intention of warning Ray to pull out when I heard Teresa urge him to inseminate her.

"I'm close again," she panted. "Fuck me deep. Fuck me hard, Ray. God, I love your big cock. You're so hard! Bury that monster deep and give me your cum, Baby. Cum inside me. I want it! Push me over the edge. Do it! Oooooohhhhhh fuuuuck.... Ooooh fuck! Here It comes again! Fuck! Yes! YES! Aaaaaahhhhhh!"

Teresa squirmed and shook like a snake that had been run over. Her body twisted and convulsed and her second orgasm, much more powerful than her first, wracked her like a torture. She screamed into his neck and ground her pussy down on his dick.

Ray tensed all over and froze. His jaw fell open and his hips curled up, driving his cock as deep as possible into my wife. When the first blast sprayed from his cock deep inside my wife, he bellowed and began pumping his hips blindingly fast. Teresa's weight was insignificant compared to his strength. Her climax was still going when his hit and I watched in dumbfounded amazement as my new wife came at the same time as her lover. Ray's bountiful sperm started dripping from his balls to the wet sand below. I was stunned by the length of his climax.

I have fucked Teresa standing up and it is no easy task but Ray did not miss a beat. His tree-trunk legs anchored them both and only when his penis began to soften minutes later did he move to separate their connected bodies. His soft cock fell from her tight pussy with a slurp.

Marcy pounced on him, kissing his mouth and face fervently. I suspected they had done something like this before and Marcy loved watching her king seduce and conquer other women. I wondered if it made it better for her when the woman was married. I suspected she liked it best when the husband watched and suffered.

Teresa stood on wobbly legs and slowly crossed the distance which separated us. I took her into my arms, taking most of her weight, and she rested her head on my chest. Nobody spoke.

After some time, Marcy joined us and led us by the hand over to Ray and all four of us returned to the water to rinse. I think I may have been in shock because I was utterly compliant. We bathed in the warm ocean for a while and then Marcy asked if we were ready to get out. We were.

Once we reached the wet sand Marcy broke off from Ray and came around to take my arm. She twined her fingers in mine and led me a short distance away from Teresa like she wanted to say something to me in private. She stopped and took my other hand, gazed up into my eyes.

Movement made me look back at Teresa and Ray. Ray stood before my wife already hard again. I gave Marcy a quizzical look and she smiled.

"Watch," she murmured, studying my face and the anguish playing out there.

Ray held Teresa by the shoulders and eased her down onto her back, moving up between her legs. My wife opened her legs and raised them, pointing her toes up at the night sky. Ray walked forward on his knees, his huge spear bouncing, until he made contact and sank almost the entire length smoothly into my wife's delicious body. Teresa's ass sank into the warm wet sand.

“Oh, fuck yes,” my bride growled.

I opened my mouth to protest but Marcy placed a finger across my lips. I don't know why I obeyed her. Ray lifted his ass and dropped it again, sending his hefty cock deep. Teresa cried out.

Their first time they fucked. This time they made love. The intimacy of their position skewered me; this was face-to-face, man on top, woman giving herself. They kissed sweetly and softly as his hips gently rose and fell. Teresa ran her hands all over his massive body, cupped his ass, held his face. My heart ached when she came the first time and ached worse with each orgasm she gave him. She was his new princess and he adored her even as he fucked her deep and steady. Each time she climaxed his pride grew.

His cock mastered her. Before my eyes she became his pet. Ray was a consummate lover and his intense and burning desire for her drove Teresa wild. She could not get enough of him. He wanted to own her beauty and she wanted to please him more than she had ever wanted to please any other man. She reached up and took hold of her feet and spread her legs as wide as possible. Ray feasted on her tits and mouth.

Much later, when he came inside her, she had her arms tightly around his neck and her heels buried in his buttocks, pulling him as deep as she could and forbidding him to leave.

Eventually we all dressed in silence and made our way back to the hotel. I mistakenly thought we were finished but Marcy and Ray had other plans. Marcy invited us to stay with them and I could not resist Teresa's pleading eyes. Besides, what was the point now? He was dripping out of her.

Teresa sent me ahead and stopped by our suite for something and then joined me in their room. She excused herself to use their bathroom and when she exited I discovered what she'd stopped for. My wife wore the sexiest lingerie I'd ever seen; snow-white and barely there, this was to have been her honeymoon gift to me, now presented to Ray. Thin lacy straps lifted her breasts and offered her nipples. Two more ran along the outside of her labia and accented them as well. Lacy garters held up sheer thigh-high stockings and a white lace choker circled her delicate throat. A pure white and completely see through shawl hung from her shoulders to her waist.

She was a carnal Christmas present and Ray got to unwrap her. Marcy sat next to me and masturbated, glancing at my face often, as Ray inseminated my new bride again right away and again a few hours later. Marcy watched as her conquering man took my woman, wildly aroused by her man's masculine power.

They left two days later and we spent almost every minute with them until they did. Ray was a god. He got hard often and fucked Teresa every time he did. When he was soft the girls took turns sucking and licking his master dick. Somewhere in there we ate and slept and showered but mostly our time was spent watching Ray claim Teresa.

That first night with them it became too much for me and I started masturbating as they fucked. Marcy had a look of total victory on her face. She glowed with delight. My deep hurt was still present but Teresa looked so insanely sexy with a huge hard cock moving in and out of her my lust won. My hurt would rise to the surface each time they finished but as soon as they started again my excitement rose to smother it.

Once they left the island Teresa and I returned to our room. I wanted to talk about what had happened and my hurt feelings but she wouldn't have it. Each time I tried she kissed me and sucked my dick or started talking about how amazing Ray's hard cock felt. I'd lose track and sprout an erection and we'd never get back to the conversation.

Days later I tried one more time while we were lying in the sun on the beach surrounded by other people. She listened patiently for a while then stopped me.

"Brad, Honey, listen to me; let it go. You are only hurt because you think you're supposed to be. Search your feelings and I mean really honestly search. You liked it. You loved it. I took what I wanted and you got hard. Explain your erections any other way, I dare you. The truth is you will always have a wife that fucked another man on your honeymoon and you find that truth wildly erotic."

She stopped talking as a family walked by.

"That's the truth, Honey. You loved it in your way as much as I loved it in mine. You're hurt because you felt a lack of control over me and that frightened you. Men love to control women. You think marrying me changed your percentage of ownership? You think that marriage license made you the boss of me? How about this reality; I can do any slutty thing I want and you'll let me. More than that; you'll welcome it. Your wife fucked another man on your honeymoon? You'll be jacking off to that fact the rest of your life.”

Wow. I wanted to come back at her, to argue, to tell her she was wrong about me. No way I could actually be the man she described. That man was despicable. That man was weak and pathetic. But I didn't argue. I chewed on everything she said and it upset me but a tiny voice in my head told me to keep my mouth shut, and I did.

After a while she spoke. “I'm not trying to be a hard-assed bitch, Baby. I swear I'm not. You're just not facing the truth. Let me prove something to you. See that lifeguard right there? I'm going to go ask him some questions and if I can I'm going to take him into that tower and suck his cock. You stay here and think about what your new wife is doing.”

She stood and gave my lips a peck and walked towards the lifeguard tower, her tiny green bikini barely covering her. Goddamn if I didn't spring an erection when the guard put down his binoculars and ushered her into the tower after just a few minutes. The door closed and my penis went rock hard. I rolled onto my stomach.

Twenty minutes later I heard the sand next to me crunch. Her bikini top was tied differently as were her bottoms. Her cheeks were flush and her nipples twin bumps of raised green fabric.

I waited for her to say something.

"Hard?" she asked. I chuckled. What could I do?

"Yes," I answered.

"Good."

She settled back into her chair. I glanced up at the lifeguard as she returned her attention to her magazine. He glanced in our direction every few minutes until his shift ended and he drove away.

I couldn't stand it anymore.

"How was it? What happened?"

"Finally! Damn, Brad, you're stubborn. He was really cute with a great body but only about as big as you. I let him eat my pussy and suck my tits. Then I sucked him until he was ready to cum and left him dripping with saliva and sat my ass down on him. I rubbed my clit while I rode him and when he shot into my ass I came. It was pretty hot. He wanted my number but I told him no. He was so confused."

My dick was ready to burst.

"Come on," I ordered. "We are going back to the hotel room."

She jumped right up and began collecting her things. More and more I loved stumbling across the evidence of her infidelities; when Ray fucked her he'd left her pussy pink and puffy. Sam would leave occasional hickeys and bite marks. I found dried cum around her asshole after the lifeguard. All these things turned me on and excited me to unheard of levels. The more I allowed myself to embrace this slutty wife life, the more aroused I became. Or sex was intense and we both came explosively.

She had me wear a condom again which really confused me. She said, "If I need to end a pregnancy I need to know the baby is not ours. I would hate myself the rest of my life if I did that. This way we know for certain it is not yours."

Sound logic. Twisted all out of shape, but sound.

She went on. "I promise, once we know I'm not pregnant, if I have any more ... dalliances... I'll make them wear the condom so you and I can continue trying to make a baby."

When we got home we discovered over the break Sam had dropped out of college due to grades. Fine with me. I was a little tired of the Simple Sam charm and when Teresa said nothing I knew she was too. Time to close the book on that guy.

In short order we were back to our school routine with one twist; any time I got a call or text from Teresa I had to prepare myself for what I would find. I assumed she'd want to replace Sam with some other guy and I was nervous who he would be. I was jumpy but soon learned Teresa was focused on grades. We were down to the last semester and she wanted to end on a high note. I agreed and we helped each other do our best.

We saw Brian more often and he joined us for dinner or studied with us. Teresa went right back to her scantily clad flirtatious ways but Brian was a rock. I think the more he resisted the harder she tried. I was nervous at first but they were totally cool with each other and my wife never gave any indication she would break my one rule. As time passed they actually became great friends. She saw in him what I saw in him and we became a family of three; Teresa was his little sister, albeit a smoking hot and sexy little sister.

One night Teresa and I got home from the grocery store and Brian had someone in his bedroom she was vocal. I didn't recognize the voice and neither did Teresa. Brian was really pounding her and she was losing her mind. Teresa and I stood in the kitchen listening and she slowly brought her hand up to her breast.

"That's so hot," she whispered. "I can imagine what he's doing to her and her voice is so sweet and feminine. She loves what he's doing. She loves his cock. It's so sexy."

I watched her teased her nipple through her shirt.

"I'll tell you what's hot and sexy," I whispered back. "My wife."

She gave me a smile that would melt steel. We continued listening and the girl's voice rose until it was obvious she was having an orgasm. Teresa was right; this girl had a pretty voice. I stiffened and Teresa took my hand and slipped it inside her sweat pants; she was soaked. The girl reached a crescendo and then suddenly fell silent.

“Shit, Brian killed her,” I whispered. Teresa smothered a laugh with her hand.

Brian's door opened suddenly and Brian stood there, nude and looking over his shoulder back into his bedroom, harder and more erect than I'd ever seen him. This was no morning wood viewed from across the room. This was iron-bar hard. This was; I stopped right in the middle of fucking some hot bitch's brains out hard. His cock gleamed wetly with the girl's pussy juices. His veins stood up like ridges. Teresa stared right at it, her mouth fallen open. He stepped out and quietly closed the door behind him.

He faced us.

All three of us froze.

Brian moved first, jumping back in and slamming the door shut. “I am so sorry!” he cried. “When did you guys get home? I didn't hear you. Oh my God, I'm so sorry.”

I yelled back through the door, “No worries! Everything okay? Did you kill her?”

I heard him moving, probably throwing some shorts on. “Yeah, she came so hard she passed out. I was getting her a bottle of water.” He was so nonchalant, like girls passing out from more pleasure than their brains can handle happens to him all the time.

The door opened and Brian, wearing white boxer-briefs with a slight tent, stepped through and quickly closed it behind him, but not before I saw a hot brunette nude and splayed on his bed.

“Tell the truth, Brian,” Teresa joked, “Did you actually fuck her to death? Is she dead, right now, in your bed? Body growing cold?”

He ran his fingers through his messy hair. “God, I hope so. This bitch would not leave me alone. She's been asking me out since sophomore year.”

From any other guy that would sound arrogant and cocky but from Brian it was simple the truth. Brian is so genuine it seemed he was merely narrating historical events.

“Well, I think you made her very happy,” Teresa quipped.

I let Brian know we got him his favorite cereal and a few other key grocery items and he thanked us. From the corner of my eye I noted Teresa carefully eyeing him up and down. His muscles were pumped from his exertions and sweat glistened across his hairless chest and the outlines of his semi-erect cock were obvious through the thin tight material of his underwear. Teresa behaved herself but I felt her sexual tension through the air.

Now when she wore her tiny little nothings around the house I knew she was doing it specifically to wear me down. Brian was my only victory. Every other man she wanted, she'd had, but for my sake and to honor my one serious request, she'd left Brian alone. She wouldn't touch him but flirting with him and driving me crazy in the process was fine, I guess.

Brian respected the ring on her finger and never crossed the line but I caught him looking all the time. Teresa went from short shorts and wife beaters to panties and camisoles to lace thongs and bras. Sometimes she might as well be naked. Sometimes she was sexier than if she was naked. I know he was jacking off every chance he got and the number of girls he brought home went way up. Teresa was getting to him. Teresa was getting to us both. At any given moment in our apartment the sexual tension was thick in the air like a fog.

But we made it.

Finals arrived and working as a team we all scored our best grades ever. I once read that opportunity appears disguised as hard work and sure enough, just weeks before graduation each of us received a job offer we were thrilled to get. Brian would be moving to Dallas, Texas, and Teresa and I were headed for Las Vegas, Nevada. We had our last dinner together in the apartment and in the morning hugged and went our separate ways. All three of us cried.

Weeks became months. We missed Brian but kept in touch over the phone and Facebook. He got a steady girlfriend who worked part-time as a Dallas Cowboys cheerleader and we teased him that some things do not change. Teresa and I were more intimate and more committed than ever. Our sexual escapades took a back-seat while we set up our home and our work reputations and quickly established routines.

At first we were too busy for extracurricular sexual affairs but even after that we just never made something happen. Always the athlete, Teresa joined a gym and kept her body as ridiculous as always. She traveled from time to time for work but not enough to make it annoying and the sex when she got home was incredible.

Sometimes in the bedroom I'd reminisce and replay something wild she did and it always sent her through the roof, but we never pursued anything new.

Months became a year and a year became several. Work was good and married life was great. We began to wonder if it was time for a baby and after a long talk we decided it was. Teresa scheduled a doctor visit for both of us and he said she was incredible fertile. He told me to stop masturbating so I'd have a higher sperm count when Teresa and I made love. I assured him I would.

A few days later I was home while Teresa was at her office. It was time to discard some old socks and underwear and rearrange all the drawers in my closet. When I reached the bottom of the drawer I discovered our original sex toy; Brian, now long unused. I smiled thinking back on those wild exploratory days and where the purchase of one simple dildo had sent us racing down a path of sexual liberation and anguish. I washed it thoroughly and hid it under my pillow. Tonight during sex, I would surprise Teresa with it.

But I was the one who ended up surprised.

I sat with my back against our headboard and Teresa on her knees between my legs. She was sucking my penis like it was made of ice cream, her gorgeous ass high in the air. As always, I ran my hands all over her; playing with her swinging tits, cupping her perfect butt, running my fingers through her long brown hair. She loves sucking dick and I love letting her take as long as she wants. I waited until she was really into it and carefully slipped the toy from under my pillow. She detected nothing. On the next pass of my hands over her firm and shapely ass, I brought the latex cock up against her pussy and gently pushed. I knew she'd be wet because sucking dick always makes her wet.

When that thick cock began to fill her hole she moaned so deeply and with so much desire she sent my heart pounding. Blood surged into my penis. She pushed her mouth down my shaft until her bottom lip met my balls and held me there. I felt her suck harder. I inched the huge cock in her pussy even deeper, pulled it almost all the way out and then buried it completely.

A surge of fifty-thousand volts electrified her body. Goose bumps exploded across her back. An orgasm ripped through her that left her quivering and weak. Her excitement translated directly into my excitement and I was spurting cum into her mouth before I could stop it. She clamped her lips around me and sucked like a hungry pig, pulling extra sperm from my nuts, and kept sucking after my climax ended. The sensation became almost painful and I had to push her mouth away.

Her eyes were filled with sexual fire. She wiped her mouth with the back of her hand. Rising over me on her knees she dropped her ass to the bed, driving that huge cock up into her womb. She screamed and lifted her hips to do it again. She was so wet her juices ran down the shaft and across my hand. I held the cock straight up and let Teresa fuck herself mercilessly on it. Her hair flew all around her face and her big tits bounced and her breathing was ragged. After just a few minutes she came again, much harder than the first, and collapsed in a sweaty pile on my chest.

Usually we cuddle after sex but not this time. She lay on top of me, panting and sweating, until she caught her breath and calmed down. She rolled off and wordlessly headed for the shower. I knew something was amiss, even if I didn't know exactly what, so I gave her alone time while she rinsed. Instinctively I hid that big cock under the blanket. When she returned to bed, I was sitting up, waiting.

She looked embarrassed.

"I tried to stop," she began. "I tried not to want it. I told myself it doesn't matter, really. I'm a wife, your wife. I'm a serious partner. We aren't crazy kids anymore. I did not want to risk this marriage or my career." She sighed. "But I'm older now. Bullshitting myself is more difficult. I tried to let that life go but I can't. Pressure has built. I've hidden it but it's exhausting. I thought it might go away, but it hasn't."

She reached out and rested her hand on my thigh.

"Did you ever wonder why I stayed with Sam for so long? You met him; can you even picture the two of us as a couple? He's a pretty simple guy, right?"

I nodded. "Yes," I answered. "I have wondered that. I figured he was your first love so that made it much harder to end. You grew up with him. You loved him."

"I loved his cock. I still love his cock."

Oh.

My analytical mind raced way ahead.

"Did you ever...with Brian?"

She squeezed my leg.

"No Baby, never."

I exhaled a sigh of relief.

“But oh, how I wanted to, every single minute he was around. There were times he and I were alone in that apartment and you wouldn't be home for hours. I tortured that poor man, exposing myself to him. I even arranged for him to 'accidentally' catch me masturbating. You owe him a big thanks; he was the strong one. If he had made a move on me, I would have cheated on you.”

Oh.

“Sam, Ray... Brian; I have a fetish, Baby. I have a weakness. It's embarrassing. Men are supposed to be the dogs, not women. Sex for us is supposed to be an option.”

She didn't need to say more. I understood. Her behavior on the beach that night made so much more sense now. What I didn't understand was my reaction. Inside I was churning. My wife had just admitted to a gap in her matrimonial armor and while that caused me serious concern and made me a little afraid to trust her, it also deeply aroused me. This was a dangerous mix; we had the same weakness for the same drug and I wanted to feed her sexual addiction.

We sat silently for several minutes, digesting. I tried to lighten the mood.

“Good thing Sam's not around anymore,” I joked. “Or Brian.”

She looked me in the eye. “This is serious, Brad.”

Oh.

“I tried so hard, Honey. I put it out of my mind and got on with being your wife. I told myself our honeymoon was my last hurrah, my last fling, so to speak. It was perfect; incredibly decadent and wonderfully wrong. Our honeymoon! We haven't talked about it but every anniversary I just about masturbate my clit off remembering our time with Ray and Marcy.”

She moved closer on the bed.

“Then tonight you pull that big latex cock out and it is senior year all over again and I've met the most amazing, intelligent, sensitive and thoughtful man. He adores me and looks at me like I am the most beautiful woman on earth. He's caring and patient and best of all, he's got a kinky side too. Before long we are in bed and toying with some pretty hot ideas. Soon after that he watches me fuck someone else right in front of him and gets off on it. Jackpot. But then we got married and married people settle down, right? Isn't that what was supposed to happen? That's what everyone says is supposed to happen. But nobody tells you what to do with those feelings and desires. Nobody tells you how to make it happen. Does everyone just lie to themselves?"

Her voice was strained. Her struggle obvious.

She continued. "Fuck, Baby, tonight you stirred up powerful memories. It felt so good having a cock in my mouth and a huge cock in my pussy. I'm a freak, I know I am. I tried not to be but I am, and I know you love it, and that makes it so much harder to resist."

I had no response. She was right.

"You don't need to reply, Brad. I know that's a lot and sorry for unloading on you like that. Just think about it. I just wanted to share my feelings with you. You're my husband and my partner and a damn good one. I'm so in love with you. We've always been completely honest with each other, so now you know."

She curled up under my arm and we lay silently for a while. Thirty minutes later we were asleep.

The week passed slowly. My brain was chewing on a problem, like it often does, but I had no idea what. I knew trying to force it never worked so I pushed it into the background and got on with my life.

As the weekend drew near Teresa mentioned we were invited to a birthday party for Jillian, a girl at work. Normally we skip things like this but I thought it would be good for us to get out and loosen up a little.

The party started at Irene's house. Irene was an older woman and kind of everyone's grandmother. There were about twenty of us total, wives and husbands, with a few single girls, and we just talked and snacked. Later we watched Jillian open her presents. As the night wore on some of the girls started talking about going to a club after the party. Teresa asked me what I thought and keeping in the spirit of the evening I said sure. The rest of the husbands, feeling like they'd done their duty, went home, leaving the wives to themselves.

Almost everyone in Vegas has at least two irons in the fire; salespeople are also dancers or students. Business owners are also real estate agents. Few towns have as much hustle as this one. Businesses are often run the same way; restaurants have a hookah lounge in the back. Grocery stores have a slot machine parlor by the Starbucks and a chunk of the parking lot is a hand car wash.

Our club had dancing and drinking on the main floor but also had female strippers up one floor and male strippers in the basement. We all hung out at the bar for an hour, drinking and getting loud and then five of the girls wanted to go downstairs. My wife declined because men are not allowed and she didn't want to abandon me but they insisted. She faced me looking for support. I told her she should go. All the girls cheered and Teresa rolled her eyes but I thought I saw a twinkle of excitement too. On the bar was a large glass bowl of condoms and when no one was looking I grabbed one and handed it to my surprised wife.

"You're not on birth control," I reminded her, "and who knows what surprises the night may hold."

She tried to give it back but I refused, pulling my hand in my pocket. She grew serious.

"What are you saying, Brad? I mean what are you saying, exactly."

"I don't know, exactly, Teresa. I just know I want you to have fun tonight, let your hair down. I know it is better to have a gun and not need it than need a gun and not have it. Take that. There is very little chance you will use it but honestly, isn't it kind of exciting just having it on you? It excites me knowing you have it."

She stared at me for a heartbeat. "Okay!" she exclaimed, sneaking it into her clutch. She stopped by the girls and looked back at me and several of them waved goodbye. I watched the bouncer check all their IDs and move the velvet rope and my wife and her friends descended the steps to the basement.

I pondered what to do next. I ordered a whiskey and watched the crowd dance; everyone was trying to get laid. I was wearing black jeans and a long sleeve white dress shirt and noticed a waiter come by and clear a table wearing exactly the same thing. Great. I was dressed like the help.

The crowd was full of really pretty girls but this was Vegas so that happened all the time. I've seen world-class beauties working behind the counter at a convenience store or waiting for the bus. The Vegas heat meant most girls wore very little anyway and when you combine that with the sex and party atmosphere you got a constant and continuous parade of hot babes. On the dance floor girls ground on each other as they spilled out of their clothing, laughing and not giving a fuck. To the side one girl pulled her top down and flashed the crowd her tits while moments later another flipped her mini-skirt up and flashed the crowd her shaved pussy, both to raucous cheers. I bet more than half the girls here wearing dresses wore no underwear. I love this town.

My eyes drifted around the club and fell on a swinging doorway and a small room beyond where employees came and went. By the amount of traffic passing through that door I deduced this level, upstairs, and downstairs all converged in that little space. Brilliant design. Waiters and waitresses and bussers and bouncers all zipped by each other with trays stacked with drinks or piled with empty glasses and bottles. This place was jumping and they struggled to keep up. My eyes continued until they made it full circle and I was once more looking at the table next to me. The waiter who had started clearing it was gone, no doubt helping someone carry drinks, and he'd left his tray covered with empty glasses and his towel. I gulped the last of my whiskey.

My legs had the idea before my brain and catapulted me out of my chair. I scooped the tray, threw the towel over my shoulder, and headed for the swinging door in the corner. I might as well have been invisible. Going through it I jostled with other employees as we tried to do our job and spotted large stainless steel sinks piled with dishes with two guys in T-shirts washing as fast as they could. On one side were stairs headed up and on the other, stairs headed down.

I radiated confidence and headed down the stairs. At the end a bouncer stood guard at a door but he saw my tray and towel and ignored me. I followed the wall, staying in the dark, until I saw the room open up. At one end was a stage where a man in a G-string danced, surrounded by women. To either side were smaller one-person stages and each had another man in a G-string dancing with women crowded around them too. The stages had tables in a half circle around and along the side walls, way back away from the light, were private, high-walled booths where a woman could get a one-on-one lap dance. Silk plants filled in around the entrance to each booth giving a surprising amount of privacy. I set the tray and towel on a table and stepped back into the gloom.

Four of the girls, including my wife, stood in front of the main stage screaming and waving their arms, offering the dancer money. The dancer was tall and lean and his shiny body was covered with baby oil. His lumpy G-string bulged obscenely and the women were going crazy over it.

Nearby I heard a moan. I inched closer and realized a girl was in a private booth with a dancer. I risked a quick look, peering around the corner, and saw a dancer standing over a girl while she sucked his big cock. I recognized the girl as the blond that was with my wife's group. He warned her he was "Gonna blow" and she sucked harder and faster. I heard him grunt and saw his ass flex and knew that girl was drinking some cum. He finished and tucked his dick back into his pouch. I leaned back into the darkness and heard him say he had to get back and she said no problem. He left and a few minutes later she did too, rejoining her friends. The other girls looked at her and laughed and clapped like they knew exactly what had happened. When she picked up her drink I saw her wedding ring glitter. Naughty girl.

I saw a better hiding spot and moved over to it.

Thirty minutes later I was bored to death. Nothing happened. New dancers came out, new music played, the girls went wild and tipped them money, but nothing happened. I suppose my adventures with Teresa have jaded me but other than the blow job earlier, this group was boring. I made my way back around, retrieved my tray and towel, and breezed by the bouncer no questions asked. I even asked him to open the door for me.

Upstairs things were winding down. We'd gotten to the club late because of the birthday party at Irene's and the crowd had thinned while I was downstairs. I ordered another whiskey and waited for the girls.

The first two came up together and thanked me for allowing Teresa to go downstairs. Shortly after a third came up alone and walked by without noticing me. I waited and waited until the bartender asked if I wanted another because they'd be closing soon. I let him know I was waiting for my wife to come up from downstairs and ordered another whiskey and he said no problem, but gave me a funny look.

I had time to finish that drink and another before Teresa and her friend appeared, and they weren't alone; four dancers in sweat suits and carrying gym bags were with them. They all walked slowly, talking excitedly about their night. Teresa's eyes darted to me and back to the dancer she was talking to. I waited for a reaction but she acted like I was just some stranger she'd never seen. As they drew closer I sat anticipating a greeting but soon they were right next to me and then they were passed, still talking about the great night they had. Her friend hadn't noticed me but I knew Teresa had.

As they approached the restroom the girls detoured into it and the four guys waited. They were young cocky jock types, bumping fists and laughing too loud, entitled and arrogant. I'd known plenty of them in college and detested them out of habit. They constantly surveyed the room to enjoy all the people they were certain were looking at them.

My phone vibrated in my pocket. I fished it out and read; Maybe you should wait for me at home, Baby. Debbie and the guys want to keep the party going so we are going back to Ricks apartment down the street. I will be home later...late.

I quickly tapped out my reply; What time so I know when to start worrying?

She must be sitting in a stall; Late. There are four of them after all... Wait. What?

I jumped on my response but half way through it the bathroom door opened and Debbie and Teresa exited. The guys put arms around the two girls and headed for the main exit. I sat with my finger over my phone mid-text and watched my wife leave, her sexy and perfect round ass taunting me with a hint of the sex to come.

My night was pure torturous agony. I knew those guys had fucked plenty of married women and didn't give a shit. My wife was in the hands and at the mercy of bastards.

Teresa sent me the first text after about forty-five minutes, while I was driving home. I opened it, splitting my attention between traffic and what she'd written, which was difficult given her message; Needed a gun, didn't have it. Sorry Baby, condom didn't fit him. He's HUGE. Went without because he promised to pull out...but he didn't. Not all his fault though, I kind of didn't let him.

I pulled over to the curb and read the text again. That muscular asshole had cum inside my lovely wife. I saw the sneer of his lips clearly. Yeah, Dude, she wanted it...

I took shallow breaths. Sweat dotted my upper lip and my hands trembled. At this moment somewhere in this city my fertile wife was full of stripper cum. I thought I felt my heart rupture inside my chest. My penis got hard but I don't know why; this was too much. Teresa had allowed another man to seed her at the same time I was trying to. If she was pregnant we wouldn't know with whose child. This was a whole new level of slut and in spite of my rock hard erection I did not like it, right? Okay, I admit some deep and disturbed part of me clearly liked it very much, but I couldn't let that part win, could I?

My mind flashed back to that night Teresa first fucked Sam. I'd watched them from the balcony and then joined them and when she hesitated to fuck him right in front of me I'd ordered him to do it over her objections. If I can give her pussy away, so can she. Sometimes I hate my logical engineer's brain. Sometimes I wish I could just react emotionally, unfairly, selfishly. Why did I always see the bigger picture? It sucked.

I sat at the curb with the engine running, pondering my reply. Before I decided what to say, a new message arrived. I was devastated; the picture was shot straight at Teresa's pussy so obviously not taken by her. All those jocks knew my wife was sending pictures to her cuckold husband. Her lips were swollen and her cunt gaped. Pure white cum flowed from her. Draped across her thigh was a huge and vein-covered stripper cock, soft but still massive, covered in a sheen of their mixed fluids. A man's hand was at the bottom of the picture giving me a "hang-loose" hand-sign. A stupid yellow plastic bracelet circled his wrist. I hated this guy.

I zoomed in on her pussy. Her clit was engorged as were her inner-lips. She was undeniably turned on. Another message arrived and I opened it with lightning speed. This was a short video clip that began with a stripper guy talking to the camera but the rap music in the background was so loud I could not understand him. His smug face smiled and joked and then he stepped aside to reveal my wife to me, on top and straddling a man with his fat cock balls deep in her pussy while another guy had his large cock half buried in her ass and a third fed her his dick. At times it appeared she struggled to get away but they had her arms and hair and kept her pinned. She was impaled from every angle and in every hole and every one of these guys was big and rock hard. I had a sudden impulse to rescue her but I didn't even know where she was. She had to take it and so did I.

The camera bounced and the picture was shitty but after a few moments I saw her push her hips back and down to capture more of the cock in her ass. That bitch was trying to cum! Even over the music I heard her long loud moan. These guys were like wild dogs, tearing her apart. The guy in her ass drove it deep until his balls sat on the other guy's balls and my wife squirmed and tried to get away. All three guys laughed about it. Not to be outdone, the guy fucking her mouth laced his fingers behind her head and forced his cock down her throat. She gagged and choked and they all laughed again. They grabbed her big tits and pinched her nipples and smacked her ass repeatedly. They pulled her hair hard until she squealed.

There was a sense of ownership in the way they treated her, like they could whatever they wanted. I felt certain they had brought many girls back to Rick's place and treated them exactly the same.

Just as I was wondering what became of Debbie the camera man panned down for a second and there she was, on her knees sucking his big dick. He returned the camera to his face, zoomed in for a close-up and said, "Married bitches are the best," and then swung the camera back to Teresa.

She fought them when they went too far in but to no avail; they just used her and made her adjust. In spite of the blurry video I saw her body stiffen and her back bow and I knew she was having an orgasm. They were treating her like a whore and it made her climax. They all laughed and cheered her on, encouraging her to cum hard on their cocks.

The video ended and my phone went dark. In a daze, I put the car back in gear and continued home. I was pulling into our driveway when I got the next message, a text; Baby, I am out of control. It's been too long! These guys are pigs but I keep eating it up. Debbie got worn out and took a taxi home. Good thing her husband is out of town! It's now just me and them and I have to tell you, I am loving this. We need to talk. Xoxo.

I was up all night. Those fucking guys loved sending me pictures and videos of them fucking my wife. Each time I dozed for just a few minutes my phone buzzed and I saw some new arrangement, some new tangle of bodies. They gang-fucked her brains out. The coup de gras was when each of them took the camera and filmed their cocks close up pumping in and out of her pussy until they came inside her; one after the other, four in a row, boom, boom, boom, boom. They fucked her in order of size, smallest to largest, although their smallest was still much bigger than me. Sperm was dripping out of her as each man stepped up and buried his erection. By this point she was barely participating. She was exhausted.

A fifth guy showed up at the very end and jacked off into her mouth and all over her face. She was a mess.

Half an hour later there was a knock at my front door and when I opened it the fifth guy stood there with Teresa leaning on him. He handed her over along with her shoes and sarcastically said thanks, from all of them. She was so tired she seemed drunk; almost a dead weight. She had cum oozing from her ass and her pussy. She had dried cum around her mouth. She had cum in her hair and streaked across her back. I walked her to our bedroom and showered her off and put her to bed.

She was deeply asleep instantly. I went to our office and played the videos over and over and jacked off three times.

In the morning she wandered into our kitchen, drawn by the rich smell of coffee. She was hung-over and memories of the night returned to her slowly. When I mentioned I'd received video she wanted to watch and by her face I knew she was upset. She read the texts too and when she read the "We need to talk," she set my phone down, ashamed. I asked her if she remembered why she'd said that and what she'd meant. She said yes.

"Baby, I loved what they were doing to me so much I wanted to make porn movies for a living. I want to get paid to fuck hung men every day. Good God, what's wrong with me? Can you believe that? I'm such a freak. I fucking love sex. Come here."

She leaned back against our dining table and opened her robe and her legs and pulled me to my knees by the front of my shirt. She put one hand on top of my head and spread her pussy with the other. Milky cum trickled out and down her ass crack.

"They were so rough with me, Honey. Use your tongue and get me off. They didn't care if I came or not. Do you mind? Just be really soft and gentle. I need it."

My brain screamed at me to stop and I felt a rising disgust in my throat by her eyes pleaded with me and I knew she'd suffered at their hands. I lowered my mouth and my tongue crept out of my mouth. I closed my eyes.

Without aiming for it I sank my tongue right into the salty and acrid mix of all their loads. Her inner lips slid along my taste buds as I pushed deeper. She was tangy mixed with tart and I curled my tongue back up against her G-spot. She shuddered and put her other hand on my head too, guiding me. I heard her sigh.

Her clitoris was raw and almost too sensitive for direct contact. Inside her, I licked all around and gently fluttered my tongue near her clit. She had tremendous sexual tension stored up. In minutes I had her thighs trembling and soon her whole body was shaking. She forced my head deeper and I licked and sucked faster and her thighs clamped around me and a high-pitched wail started in her throat.

When she came she squeezed her legs hard around my head and her pussy convulsed sending a surge of cum into my mouth. She was still caught in the throes of climax so I kept licking and just swallowed it. She had no idea. I felt a little sick at what I'd done. Her wail grew into a scream and she ground my face against her pussy, air exploding from her lungs. As she came down her entire body trembled.

I pulled out a chair and she curled up in my lap. Was this my role now? Teresa free to act on every carnal impulse she has and I her patient and doting husband? My feelings were hurt about the way last night played out. I'd started the night with my wife attending a birthday party and ended the night as her cuckold bitch. Worst of all, she'd done it in front of her friends. I'm sure the other three girls were shocked at how flirtatious Debbie and Teresa were with the strippers and Debbie now knew beyond a doubt Teresa cheats on her husband. We began as a happy couple and ended miles apart with me powerless and voiceless. My opinion did not matter. Teresa ran me over in pursuit of her desires.

I should be furious but once again, I wasn't. I struggled to get angry and stay angry with her. Her sex drive turned me on and a big part of me loved that she was such a slut on the inside and some little demon living in my brain saw the image of Teresa with another man's cock in her as the most exciting and sexually glorious thing on earth.

I was screwed.

Teresa sensed the tension in my body and asked me what was going on. I tried to be vague but she's a bull-dog and within minutes I'd shared with her every thought and concern I'd chewed on for the last twenty-four hours. She felt terrible. She'd assumed it was as fun for me as it was for her. She thought I loved the agony of not knowing and not participating. She promised she'd never do it again and inside of relief I felt disappointment. We are both freaks.

Debbie called a few hours later and warned Teresa that if her husband called tell him Debbie fell asleep at our place. We both agreed we would. I've never met her husband. That night Teresa told me to fuck her and I mentioned her tender flesh and she said she didn't care. She felt guilty. I was hard in seconds and then she handed me a condom. Oh yeah, her backwards logic. If I was going to get her pregnant I was going to have to keep all other men away from her long enough to knock her up.

I rolled the prophylactic down my penis and leaned her back and as I slid in I felt her sperm filled vagina lube my passing. What we were doing was so twisted it turned me on. I actually loved knowing other men swam inside her and mine wouldn't. I guess that's a pretty submissive position to accept but nevertheless, there it was. I came extra hard knowing mine would not be joining theirs and I think Teresa knew it. She looked at me like she knew my secret.

Back at work her circle of girls kept that night private. Teresa had to tell them she lied to me and said she went back to Debbie's place to crash. All five of them were eager to go back to that strip club again but Teresa kept putting them off. I wasn't going to tell her no; the choice was up to her.

I hate to admit I'd watched her gang-bang videos and jacked off many times over the last two weeks. She was just so in the moment. She loved it. I studied those videos, watching every turn of her body and looks on her face. They may have thought they were using or degrading her but she loved their big hard cocks pounding her. I'd missed it at first but my wife actually climaxed again and again with them. At first I'd only seen her most powerful one but she was on a high plateau the whole time in an almost constant state of orgasm, interrupted occasionally when she'd shoot even higher. I began to feel like a hypocrite.

So she put the girls off, making one excuse after another, but the clock was ticking and I knew it. I'd break into a cold sweat every time I imagined her going out to that club again. Those guys had a control over my wife that I hated. I realized a big part of my disdain was who they were. I've never gotten along with loud jock types. I was always so quiet and studious. All the way back to grade school, guys like that picked on me. Bullies took my lunch money and my self-esteem and now it seemed they also had the power to take my wife.

Days passed and each night I held my breath and anxiously awaited the words I dreaded, but each night I didn't hear them. We ate dinner and watched movies and made love and time passed and Teresa showed no inclination to repeat her adventure with them.

About a week after her gang-bang she'd taken a pregnancy test and we'd both held hands in the bathroom as we awaited the results. When the line showed negative we laughed and laughed. Teresa thoughtfully took my condoms and threw them in the trash.

"I am all yours from here on out," she joked and I laughed. "If I fuck anyone else, he's the one that has to wear a condom, not you."

I gave her a polite chuckle. I knew she was still joking around but even hearing the words made me nervous.

That night I sank into her bare for the first time in what seemed like forever and I did not have to pull out. I was in Heaven. Tonight was our first step to starting a family.

We made love four nights in a row and I emptied my balls as far up inside her as I could. Sometimes while we were fucking I'd remember Sam's cock fucking her or Ray's and I'd grow much harder and my orgasm would slam into me.

The weekend rolled around and we went out for dinner to one of the extra nice steak houses down on The Strip and then after walked around the casino talking and enjoying each other. We stopped for a few drinks at the Bellagio piano bar and then walked some more. As we passed the black-jack tables Teresa stopped and looked at me, her eyes wide, her face white.

“What?” I asked.

She blinked, dumbfounded.

“What?” I asked again.

She took my arm and led me a few steps away and then circled around.

“Look over my shoulder at that table by the palm tree and tell me who you see.”

I followed her instructions as cool as possible and then there he was; Ray. Muscles even bigger than before, laughing as loud and joyfully as always, he sat with a group of people playing black-jack. Marcy was not with him but he still wore a wedding ring.

“What do we do?” Teresa asked.

I debated. We were having such a lovely time as a couple I wanted it to continue. On the other hand, we'd shared something intensely intimate with Ray and Marcy and I felt bonded and close to them. Teresa came around and looked beyond me at Ray and I studied her face. Her eyes roamed him slowly, pausing at his massive chest and arms. I knew she was remembering what it was like to be with him. Her face softened. It was obvious Teresa had very strong emotions regarding this man.

“He looks good,” she murmured. “Happy. I wonder where Marcy is.”

My heart raced. Fucking Vegas. The whole world visits our town. I expected her to take my hand and say she wanted to meet him but she didn't. Apparently when I'd expressed my feelings about how she often left me out of the decision making process I'd reached her and struck a chord. She was waiting for me to answer her.

The look in her eyes told me everything; she wanted him to fuck her right here on the casino floor. If I checked, I knew she'd be wet. I needed to tell her I wanted to skip it. I needed to tell her I wanted to keep walking. But that was the man that had fucked my wife on our wedding night. His cum had filled her, not mine. He'd made love to her for days and she'd welcomed him every time. I remembered his long thick cock and how hard he'd gotten for her. I saw them on the warm wet sand. A mental picture of his cum dripping out of her, on our honeymoon, flashed through my mind.

Run, I thought.

Nope. I'm too stubborn for that.

I took her hand and crossed to his table just as they were finishing a round. Ray looked up. His face lit up like a firework. He was over-joyed to see us both. He kissed Teresa's cheek and left the game and gave me a huge bear hug before kissing Teresa again, this time on the lips and for half a second longer than if it was just good old friends. I blushed wondering if the other persons at the table had noticed it.

He put his arms around us and walked us back towards the piano bar. He was talking a million miles an hour, asking how we were and how life had treated us. Marcy was off at a show with a friend but they were doing better than ever. He was a mountain of a man, much bigger than me in every way. I fit neatly under his arm and Teresa almost disappeared. We grabbed a booth in the back, away from the piano and the crowd, and placed our drink orders. I sat on one side of him and Teresa on the other.

The conversation was fast-paced and all three of us carried it. It was ten minutes before I noticed Teresa's hands were under the table and her face looked flush. I glanced around us but we were far enough back nobody paid us any attention other than the occasional look by random passer-by at Teresa because she's so gorgeous. I waited a bit and then caught Teresa's eye.

"What's going on?" I asked innocently.

Ray slowly pushed the tablecloth under to reveal my wife playing with his large exposed cock. One hand pumped the shaft while the other cupped his big balls, rolling them around and scratching the skin. She'd opened his zipper and pulled him out and continued right on talking. Him too. Cool customers, these two.

His dick is slightly disproportionate; a little too thick for the length, but that's probably why Teresa loves it so much. I spotted her wedding ring pressed against his scrotum and it knocked the wind out of me a little bit.

Our waitress approached with our drinks and Ray smoothly pulled the tablecloth back to hide my wife's hands. Ray dropped an American Express black card on the serving tray and said, "Tab," and the waitress nodded and left us.

As soon as she turned her back Ray pushed the cloth away again and Teresa lowered her head into his lap. I got a, "Sorry, Baby," from her and then his dick head was in her mouth. No way she could give him a full blow job here but she just needed a taste. My wife ached to feel his cock in her mouth. Her cheeks dented as she sucked hard. Ray calmly and casually surveyed our area to make sure we were safe and allowed my wife to service him. I knew where all this was headed and tried to figure out how I felt and what I should say. As always, I was terribly conflicted. I loved the slut in her but could never fully shake an insecurity about losing her to another man.

Teresa sucked and licked the top three inches or so, just enough to get him shiny and rock hard. He mentioned he'd forgotten how good she was at sucking cock and then she sat up and Ray left his penis out in the open for us to see but hidden behind the table.

"Can we, Baby?" she asked me. "You can come with us or stay here, whichever you are in the mood for." She turned to Ray. "Is that cool?"

Ray nodded full agreement. I was closer to telling her no than I'd ever been. Teresa saw it in my eyes. She'd asked me if she could and then once again not waited for an answer. This time she caught herself and sat waiting, not saying a word. Ray sensed our struggle and sat silent.

Here was my moment. This was my chance to make a statement about my fifty-percent regarding this marriage. I could deny Ray and show him I had the power here and at the same time teach Teresa a lesson about including me from the beginning or suffer consequences.

But then I looked down at Ray's lap. The tip of his erect reached almost to the table top and his fleshy helmet was purple with excitement. Teresa still had her hand loosely around the base and once again her wedding ring, the token of my undying love, rested comfortably against a blue throbbing vein. Her fingers did not touch on the far side of his cock. A wave of heat rose up in me.

“Okay,” I murmured and Teresa's eyes lit up. “I'll come with you.” Ray began to buckle up and I held Teresa's eyes; “Condom,” I stated.

She hesitated and then remembered and nodded. Ray seemed not to noticed.

Ray and Marcy had a huge suite, of course, and there was clothing draped over most of the furniture, all of it Marcy's. Women.

I was nervous even though I'd been in this spot many times. I was disappointed in myself for caving in yet excited for what I was about to see. Once Ray locked the door Teresa sank to her knees in front of him and freed his semi-erect beast. He ripped off his shirt and slipped off his shoes and soon stood nude over her, just as foreboding and massive as always.

My wife set to worshipping his cock. She held him with both hands and licked every inch from balls to head. His erection grew firmer and when she let go he was aimed at the ceiling. His dick was as big around as a ketchup bottle.

Teresa stood and leaned into him, snaking her arms around his neck. She whispered something into his ear.

“Really?” he asked. She reluctantly nodded. “Alright,” he conceded. Teresa stepped to her purse and withdrew a condom which she handed to him. She then turned to me.

“Undress me,” she suggested. “Strip me naked and hand me over to my lover.”

I have to admit her words got me pretty hot. Soon she was nude, her clothing in a pile around her feet, and she moved back to Ray. They kissed and he scooped her up and headed for the large bed. The condom on his cock only covered the first three-fourths and the latex looked stretched to near breaking.

Ray eased my wife onto her back and began kissing every inch of her body. They kissed often and then he returned to her sensitive flesh. She grew frustrated because although she loved the attention she was impatient for penetration. An Idea occurred to her.

“Baby,” she said to me. “Open me up and guide him in. I want you to give me to him. I want to know you want this too.”

Ray looked at me and smiled and I knew it was okay with him so I knelt by the bed as he moved up between her legs. Up close like this his cock looked even more intimidating. I spread her labia with one hand and waited but Ray stayed put about a foot away from her.

“Take it, Baby. Guide him in.”

My wife wanted me to touch another man's penis and granted, it was wrapped in rubber, but still. I guessed this was her way of making it extra exciting since Ray wore protection. I accepted her compromise and wrapped my fingers around his heavy shaft and pulled him forward, surprised by the heat I felt through the condom. I imagined what that heat would do to Teresa and understood female penetration just a tiny bit better.

Ray inched forward and his sheathed cock drew closer and closer until I used it to nudge Teresa's pussy open. Her small lips clung to the head and when I tugged him closer I saw them expand and envelope him. All the air left my lungs in a rush. I'd never seen something so erotic. I tugged harder and Teresa squirmed and moaned as I fed Ray into her. She was cupping her breasts and playing roughly with the nipples. I moved my hand farther down him until I held him at the base and forced more inches into my wife. I was masturbating her with a living dildo.

Moments later Ray and I struck a rhythm; he would thrust forward a little deeper every time and I would help. He pulled out less each time and his thick cock inched deeper into my wife. Soon there was barely room for my hand between the meeting of their bodies. They were kissing passionately with Ray dipping his mouth to tease her nipples and I was riveted to the way his big cock filled her pussy. I'd never seen her stretched wide like this. His condom was soaking wet now and sliding effortlessly through my hand.

Then I noticed a problem. Each time he withdrew and my hand slid across the ring of the rubber, it rolled forward a tiny amount. The sensation of my hand in addition to my wife's tight pussy was driving Ray wild. His thrusts grew deeper and stronger by the second and each time the condom crept forward.

I needed to let go of him or I would slowly roll the condom off.

Just as I was about to he groaned and muttered how fantastic it felt to slid through the husband's hand as he fucked the wife. I left my hand there. I even squeezed a little tighter, eliciting a deep moan from him, but inching the condom forward half an inch.

Several heartbeats later Ray withdrew and the condom piled up against my hand. I moved my hand just far enough to allow it to drop to the bed and then his hips flexed and his naked cock slid through my fist and into my wife. I heard him suck a lungful of air and I know he knew he was now bare but no man would draw attention to it and risk having to put a new one on. He pushed his cock all the way in. Her pussy dilated to accommodate his girth and I calculated with his length he had to be nudging her womb.

She jumped a few times like he'd gone too deep and he sheathed every inch he had and held it there, forcing her to adjust to him. She winced a few times and then something happened inside her and she gasped for air. Ray sank another inch or two deeper until his fat balls smothered her asshole. She had all of him.

“Oh fuck!” she exclaimed. “There it goes.”

“Just like last time,” Ray agreed.

I suspected something inside her, most likely her cervix, had responded to his constant invading pressure and had opened up a little and allowed him to slide deeper.

“Oh fuck, yeah, that's what I love. God! I missed it, Ray. I missed your fat dick. Fuck me, Baby.”

Teresa lifted her tone legs and pointed her toes at the ceiling.

“He fills my pussy, Honey. I love his cock. His cock is bigger than my pussy and he makes me take it. I can feel his prick force my cunt to take his shape. I fucking love it.”

Ray had been holding himself deep all this time but now he began to slowly saw back and forth. He was grinning like a maniac. Her lips clung to him like they feared he was leaving. I imagined what her pussy felt like for him. I remembered the way she folds around you and grips you. I remembered the slight vacuum I felt on the tip of my penis each time I withdrew and knew it must be much more powerful on him. He was so thick she was sealed tightly around him. Her pussy struggled to handle his bulk.

But all that combined only drove Teresa higher. Her petite body disappeared under his and his monster cock filled her to overflowing and she felt ravaged and conquered. Ray was an incredible stud, his hips rising and falling smoothly regardless of what else he may be doing. He suckled her breasts or kissed her deeply or ran his hands all over her and all the while his oil-derrick hips rose and fell, driving that beast deep only to withdraw and drive it deep again. My wife moaned non-stop and I heard the faint tension of her rising orgasm.

I impulsively leaned over and licked her clitoris. My tongue grazed his shaft as he slid by and both of them moaned simultaneously. I licked her again and she lifted her hips as much as she could. Ray made more room for me between them and I rewarded him with several more accidental licks. He encouraged me and I let my tongue slather his shaft as it sailed by on the way into my wife. I turned my attention back to Teresa and soon had her close. I wanted to watch her cum so I pulled my head back.

With me out of the way Ray leaned in and began pounding Teresa. She curled her legs behind his knees and rested her hands on his massive chest. I didn't have a plan for Ray's unprotected cock.

"You're such a stud," she exhaled. "I love the way you fuck me. I love getting fucked by you."

He was thrusting faster now and we all knew she was almost there. Ray slipped a hand under her head and grabbed a handful of hair and pulled back, exposing her throat. He bit her neck, hard, while slamming his hips against her cunt. That did it.

"Oh, Ray, Baby! You got me there, Honey. Fuck that wet pussy. Oooooohhhh my God! Sweet Christ, YES! Here it is! Here it is! FUUUUUUUUUUCCCCCKKKK!!!!"

Holy Christ I love watching my wife cum on another man's cock. She tossed her head and gripped the sheets in her fists and lifted her hips to meet his thrusts and screamed as his cock drove her up into the clouds. I heard them splashing together and knew she was gushing wetness.

Ray swooped on a hard nipple and sucked ferociously and Teresa let out another wail and then Ray drove his hips deep several times and growled and started injecting my lovely bride with his sperm. He'd been holding back, waiting for her to cum first.

I froze. Ray was mixing his seed in with mine. I'd filled her several times over the past few days and yet I suspected with this one orgasm Ray was flooding her with more than me. He moved his hands down to her hips and held her in place while his heavy spear spit blast after blast and then pumped her rapidly until ejaculating again, inseminating her far up in her pussy, past her cervix. I was sure he was shooting directly into her womb. I imagined that fat cock head spewing milk everywhere, semen running down her Fallopian tubes, racing to find her egg.

My Goddamn penis rose to attention.

What the fuck is wrong with me?

Ray dropped her body on the bed with a thump, like her had just killed her. Teresa writhed, rubbing her hands all over her skin. I know in some way her climax was still going. Ray's cock, still mostly hard, towered over her between her legs. When she looked down between her knees and saw all those gleaming unprotected inches, it took a moment for her mind and eyes to focus and realization to sink in. She slipped a curious finger down and in and then she knew. Her gaze shot to me.

I looked down. I couldn't face her. I had no explanation. When I looked up again I saw her brain going a million miles an hour. I think she was a little tired of my insecurities changing the rules on her only for me to change them back once I got aroused. She sat up and took Ray's semi-erect penis in the palm of her hand.

"Can you go again, like last time?"

Ray nodded. "I think so. Give me a few minutes. Suck it like you love it."

She spun on her back until Ray's semi-erect cock was over her face. She pulled it down and stuck it in her mouth. Ray is such a stud in five minutes he was hard. No way he was missing out on fucking Teresa again.

My wife rolled onto her stomach and lifted her hips. With both hands she grabbed her ass and spread herself right at Ray. No man can resist that. Ray walked closer on his knees and took hold of her hips. Seconds later his cock plowed into her again. She was drenched with her own wetness and his massive load and he slid right in all the way to the balls. He turned his back on me just like she had and got to work. From behind, I saw his heavy scrotum swing each time he thrust. I knew hundreds of billions more sperm waited inside.

I knew what was coming; Ray would fuck her as many times as he could and my wife would welcome it. Teresa would get every drop he had. They'd fuck until he couldn't get hard anymore, just like last time.

For lack of something better to do, I stripped and climbed on the bed in front of her. She felt the bed move and opened her eyes, staring first at my erect penis and then my eyes. She smiled but she was more coy than happy.

"You're as bad as me," she said.

"Yes, I am."

“We're perfect for each other, Baby. Give me that.”

She slipped my penis into her mouth and cupped my balls.

“What are we going to do about-”

She popped my dick free. “Not now, Honey,” she interrupted. “We can talk about it later.”

I nodded. That was that. The rest of the night passed exactly as I predicted with only one note of interest; I never came in her pussy. She was eager to suck me while Ray fucked her and I got so excited by the sounds she made I shot into her mouth. I didn't get hard again after that for hours and as soon as she saw my erection she pounced and I once again fell victim to her magic oral skills.

Ray flooded her uterus four times and I can't even tell you how many times my slut wife came. Sometimes it seemed one climax flowed into the next.

Marcy got back around three in the morning, a little drunk, looking sexy in a short black sequined dress and her hair teased big so it framed her face. We dozed between fuck-sessions and she'd slipped in quietly. I kept my eyes slits as she dropped her dress to the carpet. She wore nothing underneath and I admired her pert small breasts and firm ass. I thought she'd head for Ray but she surprised me by lowering her head between Teresa's thighs. Teresa stirred awake and as soon as she realized what was being done to her and by whom, and she wrapped her legs around Marcy's head and rode her mouth. Marcy loved licking her husband's jizz from my wife's tight pussy.

Ray woke up and got so excited he grew almost fully hard again. He turned Teresa to get at her cunt and pushed his cock deep as his wife ate mine. I thought about fucking Marcy but it somehow seemed wrong to me and my instinct told me Ray and Marcy wouldn't go for it anyway, much less Teresa. I sat back and watched the three of them, just like I had on my honeymoon night.

We awoke late morning and had breakfast together at a restaurant downstairs, talking and catching up. This time we made sure to exchange phone numbers and Facebook pages, as Marcy and Ray visited Vegas a few times each year. We then said our goodbyes. I was silent on the ride home, trying to organize my thoughts, and so was Teresa.

We showered and put on sweats and met in our bed. Teresa wanted to talk.

“What happened to the condom?” she asked.

I wasn't going to lie. I told her exactly how it played out. Her eyebrows lifted when I mentioned my tongue painting Ray's cock.

“That's really hot, Baby. You surprise me.”

I was still feeling pretty shy about it so I said nothing. She pondered for a minute. “So you basically removed the condom intentionally, without asking me, and made sure Ray shot me full. Is that about right?”

I had no place to hide. “Yes.”

“After you and I had spent days before trying to make a baby.”

“Yes.”

“Which means if I am pregnant, we won't know if it's Ray's or yours.”

“Yes.”

I am such a pervert that what Teresa was saying got me hot. I was burning up. My wife was just a foot away and there was a very real possibility that at that very moment she and Ray were making a baby. God help me, I loved it. I felt disgusted with myself and a little sick to my stomach but so wildly turned on.

“How's that make you feel, Brad?”

I took a deep breath and braced myself for all her hurt and anger.

“Honestly, Teresa, it turns me on. I know that's twisted as fuck but I can't help it, it just does.” I explained in detail my internal struggle between disgust and arousal and let her know I was sorry for betraying her and promised it would never happen again. She listened intently, holding my hand. When I finished she sighed.

She leaned back on the pillows and opened her robe, exposing her glorious naked body beneath. She placed a hand low on her stomach, just beneath her belly-button. Our eyes met. “Baby, it turns me on too. I couldn't say anything. I didn't dare. I was sure you would get so angry. I thought I felt the condom slip off but I couldn't be sure. It was so thrilling! When I discovered you'd done it I ran with it. Now my womb feels warm and just the idea, just the possibility, makes me feel so decadent and slutty my heart races. I love being bad, Honey. I love it.”

“What do we do?”

I watched her organized mind get to work. After a few minutes she spoke. “For now, nothing. If I'm not pregnant that means neither of you got to me and we dodged a bullet. If I am we won't know it for a week and will have that conversation, then. For now, we can do nothing but wait. This is going to be a tense seven days.”

Turns out tense didn't even come close to what we felt. I'm not sure I can convey the emotions experienced while you wait to see if your lovely bride is pregnant with another man's baby. In our own way, we were both twisted in knots. For me it was the agonizing humiliation of another man fertilizing my woman. For her it was pure whorish behavior; she'd let another man knock her up. We did not have sex so we'd know for sure the pregnancy had to come from our wayward night of sin.

Eight days later she took a test and it came back negative. She took another test every day for a week, all negative. We'd dodged the bullet.

That night I lit candles and incense and Teresa and I made the sweetest love ever.

Six months later she still had not conceived. We made love four or five times a week but no luck. I went back to the doctor and he said while my count was low it was certainly enough, don't give up.

Of course we didn't give up, but we stopped trying so hard. If and when it ever happened, we were ready so we slowed down and went back to our usual routine. Whenever Teresa or I got that mood for extra-curricular activities, she'd meet him for drinks and bring him back to our house where I'd secretly watch, and he always wore a condom. I watched her fuck the guy from Starbucks that makes her coffee every morning, a personal trainer from her gym, and my boss. All of them thought I did not know.

One day Teresa was at a bank downtown and met a guy on the elevator. I found out about it after the fact because they couldn't wait. She said she wanted him so badly. They found an empty stairwell and he fucked her from behind over a handrail, again, wearing protection. I got no pictures or texts and she only told me that night after we'd been home about an hour. She had a mischievous look in her eyes as she answered my questions about her day and I finally cornered her and made her tell me what was going on. She was giddy. It had become a game. She studied every man she met and if desire struck her, and it often did, she'd find some place to suck him off or fuck him.

Then one day I got a call from Brian. His employer was sending him to a conference in Vegas and he asked if he could crash at our place for a week. When I told Teresa she smiled like a sunrise and then just as quickly frowned.

“Did you answer him yet?” she asked.

“No, I was waiting for you. What's the problem?”

She twisted a finger and sat at the dinner table. She folded her hands in an effort to leave her fingers alone. I waited patiently as anxiety played with her face.

“I don't trust myself around him. You shouldn't trust me either.”

Not exactly what I'd been expecting but not too far off either. The look on her face told me I should believe her, so I did. But I couldn't tell Brian no.

“Teresa, you're going to need to control yourself. You say I can't trust you and I appreciate your honesty, but I can trust him, and he's the one man I told you was off-limits so two of the three people involved are against you doing anything. Behave.”

She chuckled. “Is it weird it kind of turns me on when you're assertive?”

I laughed too. I kissed her and wandered out into the living room as I called Brian back and told him no problem, see you soon.

When I returned to the kitchen Teresa still sat at the table.

“He'll be here Friday night at six, leave nine days later on Sunday at ten at night. Behave, I mean it.”

“Oh, I'll behave. I'll be the sweetest little bitch ever.”

She had the Devil in her eyes.

Friday arrived and after work Teresa came with me to the airport. We'd stopped at home first to change clothes and I expected her to come out in sweat pants and shirt but she did not. Instead, she wore a loose green tank top, baggy under the arms, that showed a lot of side boob and from the correct angle even flashed an occasional nipple, and black yoga pants that turned sheer if she bent over. She was back to her old tricks around Brian and sexy as fuck. He wouldn't know. He'd think she always dressed this way since that's how she always dressed around him. I knew she was doing something special.

As we walked through the airport everywhere heads turned. I've always enjoyed that part of Teresa's beauty. She's gorgeous and sexy and she's with me. Quite the ego boost.

She chewed a lip and fidgeted and it dawned on me she was nervous to see him. We met him at the gate and headed for baggage claim. We all hugged and Teresa gave him a quick peck on the lips. He looked better than ever; a little more muscle, a little more confidence, way better wardrobe. I caught Teresa eyeing him up and down on the sly.

Once we were home he wanted to shower and have a drink so I went to the bar and started making the first round. Teresa exited the bedroom wearing a short black house dress she usually wears when she wants to turn me on. Made from stretchy cotton and sheer in bright light, it was so short it barely covered her ass in back and her pussy in front. Normally she wears it with a pair of black-lace panties but not now. I caught a glimpse of hairless pussy as she swept passed me to claim her Cabernet. She dropped in the center of the sofa leaving space for Brian or me on either side. She gathered a small pillow to cover her lap and I knew she knew what she was doing. The V-neck in front showed the firm swell of both breasts.

Brian joined us next wearing white boxer briefs that hugged everything and plainly showed off his size. He carried a Tablet and wore a tight T-shirt and his hair was towel-dried and mussy. Teresa waited until he spoke to me to run her eyes all over him and that slut actually squirmed in her seat. I handed Brian his rum and Coke and excused myself as I was the only one who had not yet gotten comfortable. I knew we'd be up late sharing stories and catching up.

That might be the fastest shower I've ever taken. After I tossed on baggy shorts and T-shirt and when I got back to them someone had dimmed the lights and lit the fire. Brian sat next to her on the couch so I took the big chair across from them. We all traded stories and drank until we had a lovely buzz. From time to time Brian would check an incoming message or email on his Tablet.

Every time Teresa moved Brian and I stole a quick look at the skin she revealed. So far she'd shown nothing overtly provocative but she'd had some near-misses. She reached for her wine glass, took a sip, and then leaned her back against the far arm of the couch, aiming her legs at Brian.

"Remember our bet on the Cavaliers, Brian?" she said. "I think you still owe me a foot massage."

Brian laughed. "That was years ago, of course I don't remember. But okay, I pay my debts. Give them here."

Brian lifted her feet from the sofa and, turning to face her, pulled them into his lap. He began rubbing under her arch while talking about some idiot at his job. Teresa had maintained the pillow in her lap but this new position exposed her even more. She closed her eyes to enjoy the massage and her legs parted slightly and Brian glanced down and his eyes widened slightly. I could not see what he saw but I knew he was seeing something. He stumbled for half a second in the story he was telling but then regained his composure and carried on, his eyes darting every few seconds at whatever glorious view Teresa was giving him.

His cock swelled slightly under her other foot. I thought she hadn't noticed until I saw her toes curl a bit and squeeze him. She quickly released but I knew she knew.

This arrangement went on for a while. Brian took his sweet time, ogling my wife's pussy while rubbing her feet, narrating one story after another. When he switched to the other foot he was sure to place the first one right on top of his semi-erect shaft. I saw Teresa press her toes down and dent his boxers. She bit her bottom lip but kept her eyes closed. Brian was so cool about it.

I thought about breaking them up by asking Teresa to join me in the kitchen but I didn't. We all played it very cool and very innocently, each of us contributing conversationally.

Finally, he finished both feet. Teresa lifted her pillow and sat up and I knew Brian got a direct look at her bald pussy. She leaned over the coffee table to rest her wine glass and he no doubt saw at least one round firm breast and nipple. She was killing him. He moved his leg to hide when he adjusted his erection, pushing it farther down his leg inside his tight underwear. He tugged his T-shirt to help hide it but it didn't. He reached for his Tablet and used it to cover his lap, sharing pictures with us of his new friends and co-workers, his travels, his dog, his new car. I got up a few times to see.

I was amazed at how capable each of us was at maintaining an air of innocence. No one wanted to break the spell. I noticed both their drinks were empty and collected their glasses and moved to the kitchen. My heart was racing. No way I wanted him to fuck her but I had to admit the rampant flirting was getting to me. From the kitchen I saw her change her position again and when I got back with their drinks I noted her dress pushed up on one side by a pillow. From his angle I knew Brian had another clear view of her pussy but I didn't know how clear until I circled around to hand him his drink; Teresa's ass rested partially on a throw cushion and with her legs parted like that the tension actually pulled her pussy open a bit. Brian saw her soft pink insides. My stomach filled with heat.

I dropped into my chair like nothing was happening but every second that ticked by I knew he was memorizing all the soft inner folds of my wife's pussy. Thank God my shorts were baggy because like Brian because I was now stiff too.

Teresa started talking about a girl she works with but I wasn't really listening. The name Debbie floated through my mind and bounced slowly off an inner wall. Teresa kept talking but all I could picture was the view I'd had only moments ago. She said something else and then a few more things. Brian checked his email.

"Wait, what?" I asked. "Say that last part again."

"I said Debbie from my office is pregnant with a stripper's baby. She hasn't told her husband. He thinks it's his. You remember Debbie, Honey. You met her that night at the birthday party."

Teresa was boring right through me with her hazel eyes. Her face said, Yes, that Debbie. She got pregnant but I didn't.

"Oh, yeah, I do remember her; pretty but dressed conservative, right?"

Brian chuckled. "I always say you have to watch the quiet and conservative ones. Still waters run deep."

"That's her," Teresa replied. "Apparently she went out after the party and got drunk. A bunch of them went to a strip club and she liked it so much she went back a few more times."

"That poor husband," Brian noted. "Debbie better take that secret to the grave. She shouldn't be telling anyone."

Teresa pouted. "Are you saying I'm not trustworthy, Brian?"

He stood his ground. "Not at all. But if she told you she told others."

Teresa took a long sip of wine. She folded a leg under her and smoothed her dress all around. The show was over for now.

We stayed up another hour talking and then said goodnight. Brian and I hugged and so did he and Teresa. She leaned in and gave him a kiss on the cheek that exposed another breast and he did not mind at all.

Once we were in bed Teresa slid over and gripped my penis just like I knew she would. Neither of us spoke. I was mostly stiff already and quickly grew rock hard. She climbed on top of me and guided my penis into her and then rode me hard, cumming fast. I played with her gorgeous tits and sucked and bit her nipples and she kept riding until she came again, this time like an atomic bomb. She was quivering when I slid her off of me to the bed and got behind her, unceremoniously lifting her hips and spreading her ass. I aimed my penis at her pussy and drove it home and then I fucked her hard, much harder than I usually do. I had her yelping and moaning and the sounds of our flesh smacking filled our bedroom.

I wanted to punish her a little bit for being so naughty even though I loved it. She had feelings for Brian and that scared me. This was not her usual flirt. This hit close to home. She came again and then I came and we both rolled onto our backs. Not long after I heard her breathing deepen as she fell asleep.

I wasn't sleepy. I tried to sleep but it was not going to happen. A big chunk of my brain was busy chewing on my wife's attraction to my best friend and the concern that gave me. I guess I worried Brian, of all the men on earth, could actually steal her from me, but I couldn't tell if that was just my high opinion of him or what I thought I saw in her regarding him.

I got out of bed and put my shorts and T back on. Sometimes peanut butter on bread calms me down so I padded out to the kitchen. The light was still on under Brian's door. I made my snack and stood over the sink eating it, thinking.

I don't know why I did it, but as soon as I finished I opened the back door and circled around the patio until I came to Brian's window. The blinds were closed but if I stood close I could see through a small gap.

Brian sat at the foot of his bed, naked and stroking his cock, while slowly and flipping through pictures on his Tablet of Teresa from tonight.

What the fuck?

I realized while he was showing her pictures he'd also been taking pictures. Every time he checked his email or messages, he also took a picture. Sly motherfucker. He had shot after shot of my wife's sweet pussy, including some during the time she was partially pulled open. He had shots down the front of her dress showing her perfect tits too. He sat with one hand stroking and another turning pages.

My gaze dropped to his cock and even I had to admit, it was beautiful.

In all our years together as roommates and then with Teresa living there, Brian had never found out about our kinky side. He knew Teresa was sexy but did not know she was also sexual. As I watched him fantasize about my wife I wondered if the truth would turn him on more or tarnish her image with him.

His cock was a redwood tree, a freight train. Even his hand did not reach all the way around and he was so hard the smooth skin was crisscrossed with turgid veins. I was proud my wife did that to him.

He leaned back a little and I saw on the screen was a shot of her partially opened pussy. He zoomed in some and her pink inner lips filled the screen. His hand moved faster and his muscles flexed and his cock head swelled. His head fell back and the Tablet tilted but that was okay because he was no longer looking at it. His eyes were squeezed shut.

His ass clenched and I had to cover my mouth before I yelped in astonishment; first a stream of fluid bubbled from his cock at least eight inches high and then a pencil-thick rope of sperm blasted four feet straight up, followed by another, followed by a third which reached even higher. They fell back onto his chest, painting him in semen, as his huge balls heaved and pumped out his load. Kandy had been right; Brian came a lot. After the first three they diminished in height but not volume and he spurted rope after rope of viscous milky jizz; three feet high, two feet, one foot. Sperm ran down his cock and dripped from his knuckles. His chest rose and fell and although, finally, no more cum came out of him, his hand kept stroking.

At last he stopped. His muscular belly quivered. His hamstring twitched. He searched for the Tablet without lifting his head and raised it. With his clean hand he flipped through screens until he found a picture he liked; Teresa, wearing a red bikini top, smiling into the camera. I knew it was from her Facebook page, taken while we were on vacation. He just stared at it.

His cock still stood straight up. It was softer but not turning soft. Brian had such a powerful longing for my wife his dick refused to go down. Even after an orgasm like that, he still wanted her and wanted her desperately.

I was filled with conflict. Brian is my best friend, easily the best friend this loner has ever had. He's closer to me than my brother. I love him and want the best for him. I want him to achieve his life's dreams and I'll help him do that in any way I can. I want him to be happy. I want him to get the things he wants. But one of the things he wants is my wife and my wife also wants him and fear smothers me at the thought of them together. I was sure it would cost me both. They would fall in love and leave me and I'd be left with nothing, just like I was before I met them. I had to think this through. Brian was no casual big-dick fuck Teresa could enjoy and then toss away. Emotions complicated this one. I couldn't even allow myself to consider giving her to him. As I watched him gaze at the picture of Teresa I understood better how deeply his loyalty and self-control ran. He would never do anything to betray me. He squeezed the last drops of cum from his cock and stood, dozens of rivulets of sperm running down his lean and muscular body. He reached for a towel and his cock bounced, seeming to nod, yes, yes, yes.

My hands were shaking as I opened the patio door and locked it behind me. Teresa still slept and I pulled the covers back and gazed at her for a while. She was so beautiful my heart ached. Guys like me never win the heart of girls like her. She could be married to a movie star or a billionaire.

As I crawled back into bed and pulled the covers up, I had no idea what to do.

Saturday dawned bright. Brian was up early like me and spread his papers out on the dining table to prepare for his presentation Monday. He wore baggy shorts and T-shirt, like me, and I sat his coffee cup in front of him. We went over his presentation and he asked a few math and graphics questions and I teased him about coasting through college. Teresa loves her sleep so Brian and I had a long morning together, reconnecting and talking about old times. When she finally made an appearance she wore an ankle length long sleeve night shirt. I poured her coffee too and she sat with us until our nerd talk bored her. She wandered into the backyard and sipped her coffee while watching the humming birds.

Brian needed to run some errands so he showered and took my car. I joined Teresa on the patio as she thumbed through text messages from the night before.

“Debbie told her husband the truth,” She said. “She told him everything.”

“Oh shit! How’d he react?”

She shook her head slowly. “Turns out he's like you; he got all excited and made Debbie suck his cock. She says it was the hardest orgasm she's ever seen from him. Too bad more husbands aren't like you two.”

“Yeah, there would be naughty wives all over the city.”

“No, there'd be honest wives all over the city. There already are naughty wives, they just keep their mouth shut and their slutty acts secret.

Stripper Rick told me stories about the wives in this town. Debbie says she and her husband are keeping the baby and raising it as their own. Debbie told him there was a possibility it was his and that was good enough for him, but she knows it isn't. Like so many women she says she felt the moment Johnny, the stripper, knocked her up."

I watched her face. "What was your stripper's name again?"

She looked up at me. "Rick. It was his apartment where...you know..."

"I know; where you made your cinematic debut. I still have those videos."

She smiled. "Since you and Brian are hanging out today, maybe I should go see Stripper Rick again, work off some sexual tension."

I made a face and she laughed. "I'm kidding, Love. Besides, he'd have to wear a condom and no way he'd go for that after all he and I have done."

She was so fucking with me. I know she saw the conflict in my expression. I love the idea but agonized over the reality, and there was no way I wanted to go back to condoms again, not even for a little while.

"Maybe you should just go shopping instead," I quipped. "I hear that's what other wives do." She laughed.

"Maybe I should."

Brian finished dressing and printing some maps and was out the door. Teresa ate breakfast and showered and dressed too and then took my advice to go shopping. We were all going out for dinner and a show tonight and she wanted new shoes and a dress. Two hours later I was all alone. I cleaned up, watched some college basketball, surfed the Internet, and worked in the yard. Brian got home first and Teresa not long after. For a brief moment I wondered if they had met up while out and wildly fucked each other but ten minutes of talking with them told me no. Nobody on earth is that good an actor.

Evening rolled around and Teresa was in the shower again getting ready for our night out when her phone chimed. She'd gotten a text message. I was sitting right next to it and saw the screen before it went dark. It was from Sam. He was in Vegas for a week and wondered if Teresa wanted to meet up for drinks and "whatever".

I was about to shout into the shower that she'd gotten the text when it occurred to me Sam couldn't know we lived in Vegas now. He'd left college while we honeymooned and we'd never heard from him again. We found out about our move to Vegas much later. So how did he know Teresa was here? They must have communicated and Teresa either chose to keep it from me or forgot to tell me. I was sure she just forgot.

I decided to ignore the text and let her find it on her own and then wait and see if she told me about it. We all got ready and less than two hours later piled into my Explorer to head for The Strip.

The dress Teresa wore was pure magic. When she left the bedroom Brian and I were waiting for her in the living room and when we saw her both our jaws simultaneously dropped. She laughed out loud. "Every girl dreams of that reaction," she chuckled. "Thank you boys."

Long sleeve and ankle length, pure white and body-hugging from the hips up, this thin garment showed every curve she had. No way could she wear bra or panties as they would show unsightly lumps and bumps, so my sexy girl went without. The effect was so sexy. Brian and I were stunned and stood there practically drooling.

Brian sat in the back and Teresa rode shotgun and we were about ten minutes in when she dug her phone out of her purse and checked it. I heard her try to keep her voice as flat as possible when she casually announced to me, "Sam's visiting Vegas too. He wants to see me, us, tonight."

"A friend of yours?" Brian asked from the back seat.

I stared out the windshield. I wanted Teresa to see me thinking so she'd realize Sam shouldn't know where we live unless she told him. I saw the pale oval of her face turn towards me in the dark.

"An old friend," Teresa answered. "I grew up in the same neighborhood and then we both went to college together, but he dropped out." She looked out the windshield too. "We stayed in touch."

"So it would appear," I murmured.

"Yeah, sorry. I forgot to tell you."

When I said nothing I felt Brian pick up on the undercurrent.

"Sounds more like an ex-boyfriend," he added, enjoying yet another opportunity to be playfully obnoxious. "Don't be jealous, Brad, Teresa loves you more than life. Everyone sees that. She'd never cheat on you, Dude."

Teresa gave me a look that told me she'd won this round.

"Thank you, Brian," I said.

I gave him a look in the rear-view mirror but he only smiled and shrugged. God, if he only knew the truth. Although he was technically right;

Teresa has never cheated on me. I still had plenty of questions for my darling wife regarding her communications with Sam. I wanted to know how many times and what was said. But all that could wait for later.

We pulled into valet and headed for the restaurant. Dinner was fantastic and the show, Zumanity, was even better. Saturated with dripping sexuality and intense visuals, I know all of us left feeling pretty warm. I don't know if she was getting me back for my tone in the car or rewarding Brian for taking her side, but she was all over him. At dinner she sat closer to him than me and as we walked through the casino she took his arm. I noted her breast mashed against his triceps.

We had balcony seats at the show and Brian sat in the middle. Teresa held his hand. He put his arms around us both. She never went so far as to make him uncomfortable with her attention but she sure pushed the envelope.

After the show she took both our arms and announced she was thirsty so we entered a small smoky bar off the casino floor. The place was designed like an east coast library with heavy leather chairs and small table stands for your drinks. Booths were high-backed and heavy leather too. Books covered the walls but there was no light for reading at all. In fact, it was dark enough navigating the furniture was a little risky.

Brian slid into a booth and Teresa took the spot next to him forcing me to take the seat across the table from them. The waitress came and Teresa ordered shots for all of us. Brian and I just went with it. Several rounds later we were laughing and getting a little silly. Out of the blue Teresa asked a serious question.

“Brian, why aren't you married yet. No, scratch that; why can't you even keep a girlfriend for very long?”

Silence.

“Okay,” Brian said at last. “Fair enough. I'll tell you; I am waiting for lightening to strike. I want magic. I'm not just going to marry the girl I'm with when I decided it's time to be married. I want sparks and butterflies.”

Teresa chewed on that for a moment.

“To sparks and butterflies!” she toasted, raising her shot glass over our head. We followed her lead.

“To sparks and butterflies!” Brian and I said at the same time.

After that Teresa talked to him about life and love and the difficulties of a relationship. Their eyes met for long stretches of conversation and I saw her face softening. His too. Since I was the driver tonight I stopped doing shots but they charged ahead. At points their conversation became deep and serious. Sometimes both of them forgot I was there.

Brian excused himself for a restroom break and Teresa and I watched him cross the bar and disappear around a corner. After he was gone Teresa looked at me.

“I want him,” she whispered.

“Old news. I know.”

“God, what a man. I have to find him a good girl. I hate all that delicious masculinity going to waste on tarts.” She stared at the spot where he'd disappeared. “Not even once, Baby? Are you sure? Just one night? Tonight, maybe? You love watching me fuck.”

I studied her. She was hoping I'd cave in and give her what she wanted. I always did. Not this time.

“Honey, no. I love him like a brother. He's the best friend I've ever had. If you two had sex all that changes in ways we cannot predict but most likely are bad. I can't risk it. You can have any man you want, including Sam, who is conveniently in town at the moment. Brian is my only rule.”

It was her turn to study me. I saw her gears turning.

“Fuck,” she said after a few minutes, relenting. “Fine.”

I said, “And you do realize it would not be fucking, right? You know I'd be watching you two make love? It would be different from anything else I've seen you do.”

She looked busted for a second and then relaxed. “Yes, Baby, I do. Why do you think I crave it so much? What woman wouldn't? I know exactly how amazing it would be. On top of that, and you may not realize it because you're not a woman, but since Brian can have any woman he wants and I see how much he wants me over all those other girls, I get wet. My ego demands I fuck him. He can pick any and he picks me. I want to give myself to him.”

I silently stood my ground.

She giggled. “Oh, Sweetie, you're so cute when you try to act tough. I think I want him more because you say I can't have him. You've created a monster. But I'll be a good wife, Baby. I'll honor your wishes.”

She thought for a moment before continuing. "If he's such a great friend, why haven't you talked to him about how we really do things? He's proven his loyalty to you. He's your best friend and you are keeping a huge secret from him. Things may get awkward at some point. Like what if I wanted to text Sam right now? What if I told Sam where to find me and he showed up here and I left with him, alone? How would you explain it to Brian? Wouldn't you rather Brian knew the truth about you? About us? He's going to be with us for a week. Am I on restriction? House arrest? What if I want to play?"

Her laughing eyes told me she was fucking with me, but her point was a valid one. I hated keeping secrets from Brian almost as much as I hated keeping a secret from Teresa. Before I answered, Brian came back.

Our conversation went back to comfortable and casual. Brian narrated an endless stream of crazy girl stories; one girl broke into his room while we were roommates and hid in his closet but he came home with a different girl. They all ended up in a threesome. Another girl blew him under a blanket during a football game and another attacked him with a coat-hanger when he wouldn't remain faithful to her, and on and on and on.

They kept knocking back shots and Brian had all of us laughing until our sides hurt. He is so charming. I swear I was watching Teresa fall in love with him.

Eventually we'd had enough and decided it was time to head for home.

We said our good-nights in the kitchen and Teresa, in what now seemed to be her signature move, kissed Brian on the lips for just a moment too long. He acted like nothing special had happened so we did too and then he and I hugged. He went to his room and we went to ours. As I entered, Teresa was crawling onto the bed backwards, still in her dress, her legs open and her sweet pussy winking right at me. I was surprisingly horny and dove mouth-first on her, eating her until she was ready to explode, but then stopping shy. She grabbed my hair in frustration but I pulled away. I stood and stripped, my dick standing up like a spring-board.

"Wait here," I said and she rolled her eyes and gave me a vexed look. I checked outside our bedroom, tossed on a robe, and then quietly padded over to Brian's door. The light was on and I heard an occasional bed-spring creek. I ran outside and checked to make sure and then went back to Teresa and motioned for her to follow me, which she did.

I led her out the back and around to Brian's window. She stared at me like I was an idiot and then I directed her gaze to the gap in his blinds. Like before, his Tablet displayed pictures of Teresa. This time he had it propped up and he knelt at the desk, jerking his big cock with both hands. He was completely nude and solid as stone. Teresa captured the moment in one flash of eternal memory.

"That's the sexiest thing I've ever seen," she whispered, her strained voice cracking. I moved up behind her while her attention was welded to our guest.

She muttered, "Brad, we should not be out here. What if he catches us? Holy shit, when did he take those pictures of me? Did you know? You knew and didn't tell me? Jesus Christ, look at his cock. Oh, Baby, that cock makes my pussy tingle. He's jacking off to ME, Honey. He's fantasizing about fucking ME. This is the sexiest thing I've ever seen!"

From behind I aimed my penis at her pussy and flexed. She was drenched. I slid in with little friction and stopped only when my pubic bone pressed her ass. She clamped a hand over her mouth and ground her butt against me. I'd never felt her so wet.

Brian leaned back and stroked faster. On screen the pictured dissolved and transitioned into a new picture of my wife. He'd added pictures from her Facebook page showing her in bikinis and slutty Halloween costumes.

"Oh my God, oh my God, oh my God," Teresa murmured. I had caught her completely by surprise. She had no idea Brian masturbated to her. What seemed like an obvious assumption to me had utterly blindsided my wife. Her free hand drifted between her legs and she played with her clit while I silently fucked her from behind. Her other hand left her mouth to tease a nipple.

When the first powerful fountain of sperm ejaculated from Brian's towering cock, Teresa bit her knuckle. Her entire body froze and her eyes went as big as dinner plates. When he blasted another spout followed by another, all of them higher than the desk top, my wife began to twitch and convulse as an orgasm ravaged her. If not for my arm around her waist, she would have fallen. White-hot cum cascaded down on Brian. Even through the double-pane glass we heard him moan and then say Teresa's name. When she heard it her climax escalated wildly and I had to hold her tightly.

As her orgasm began to drain away, she began to collapse and I had to withdraw my penis to keep her standing. When that didn't work I lifted her petite frame into my arms and carried her back inside. She was dead weight. I brought her back to our bedroom and locked the door. She lay where I left her.

If I'd thought about it first, I most likely would have talked myself out of it and never showed her my little voyeuristic secret. I wanted to give her something hot and sexy since by not allowing her to fuck Brian, I had taken something away. Her reaction had been stronger than I'd anticipated but that had only made it more exciting. I knew she'd have questions for me, later, once she was back on planet earth.

In the meantime, I had an erection that pointed at the ceiling and showed no signs of going away. I thought about using her to get off and no doubt she'd let me, so that's what I did, lifting her butt cheek and sliding my penis into her tight warm vagina. Minutes later I exploded and curled up next to her.

In the morning she woke first and then woke me up too. We lay there facing each other on our side, searching eyes and faces, lightly holding hands, smiling warmly.

"You knew," she said. "You've watched him do that before. How many times?"

"Just once, on Friday night."

"At first I was upset you kept a secret from me. Then I chalked it up to the way you feel about me and him together. Then I fell in love with you all over again for sharing it with me in spite of your trepidation."

She leaned forward and kissed the tip of my nose. "Secretly watching a man masturbate to pictures of me is fucking hot. Talk about your ego-booster. This girl is walking on air. Thank you, Baby."

She rolled over on her back and I saw she was naked. Sometime during the night she'd gotten up and stripped off her dress.

"You had to already know he fantasized about you, right? You wear revealing clothing around him. You're smoking hot. You already knew you are his fantasy girl, right?"

She continued staring at the ceiling. "Honestly, Honey, it never occurred to me. I love turning both of you on, I love turning any man on, but I'm not so egotistical as to think he or anyone else ever jacks off to me. I wanted him to but never pictured him doing it. Now I've seen it with my own eyes. Now I know, and that changes everything.”

It didn't change everything but it did change somethings. Before today Teresa dressed to entice and tease; a hint of bare skin or a flash of something naughty. Now she became an evil sorceress. Now she was merciless. Now she knew she would feed his self-pleasuring fantasies and that empowered her.

Around the house she wore next to nothing and on several occasions, like coming in from sun tanning or walking from the shower to the bedroom, she did wear nothing. As far as viewing privileges were concerned, she had two husbands. Later she had Brian help her pin a skirt and adjust the drawstrings of a bodice, all while wearing nothing underneath. His hands were on her frequently and his eyes never left her. She didn't care if I was around either. Once when I came in from yard work Brian looked flushed and flustered. Teresa was in the shower. When I entered the bedroom I saw matching sets of bra and panties set out on the bed and concluded she'd gotten his opinion about each. I suspected she'd changed right in front of him to save time.

By Monday the sexual tension in the air filled our home with a fog. My balls ached constantly and I know Brian's had to also. When I got home that night Teresa let me know she was going out for drinks with an old friend and just the way she said it made me think it was Sam. I laughed it off and said Brian and I would have a guy's night in, watch football and drink beers. He agreed. She'd changed her work clothes for a short dress and boots with a daring amount of cleavage but nothing too scandalous.

He moved to turn on the television and she set her purse on the kitchen counter to use the restroom one last time and I impulsively peeked in and sure enough, the corners of three condom packets stuck up from a side-pouch. Teresa was going to fuck Sam. Or at least Teresa was going to fuck someone. The sexual tension had gotten to her as much as Brian and me.

I heard the toilet paper roll and then I reached into her purse and pinched the corners and snatched the condoms from her purse. Would she fuck Sam without them? I jammed them into my pocket and quickly walked into the kitchen, open the fridge, and grabbed four beers. I heard the toilet flush. She came out, collected her purse and keys, kissed me at the garage door and, lowering her voice so Brian could not hear, told me to wait up because she'd need a good fucking from her husband when she got home.

“Shoot deep and make us a baby,” she reminded me. I promised her I would and then she was gone.

Since it was a work-night I expected her home no later than midnight but I was wrong. Brian had gone to bed hours ago and I was sitting up reading when I heard the big garage door open and her car pull in. My heart raced and I rubbed my sweaty palms on my pants. A glance at the clock showed two-thirty. I set my book down.

Teresa entered the house cautiously, peering around the corner until she saw me seated in the reading chair. She dropped her purse and keys and came and sat on my lap, facing me, legs outside mine and folded back. I was dying for her to say something about her night but she didn't, instead asking me how my night was. When I hinted I wanted to know she ignored me, asking about the football game; who played, who won?

I felt warm fluid seep through my pajamas and bathe my penis. I tried to get up but she held me in place and kissed me. For a split second I thought she had urinated on me. Then I understood. She pressed her pussy down and wet squishy sounds drifted up from my lap, along with the smell of hot semen. More sperm leaked from her and soaked my penis.

She moved her mouth next to my ear and exhaled soft words.

“That's not Sam, and that's not Ray and that's not Stripper Rick, but I will tell you it is not a stranger; you know the man that fucked me tonight but because you were a bad boy and stole something from me I'm not going to tell you who it was. Did you think your act of sabotage would stop me? Or did you want me to be extra naughty?”

I moaned. She licked my ear. “Five times, Baby. I made him fuck me five times. We'd never done it before and I wanted to rock his world. Turns out he got more than either of us bargained for. I drained his balls and every drop went in my married pussy. Right now he's sleeping like a baby. He always got hard again so fast I called him my Lancelot and he named me Guinevere.”

She stood and held out her hand. I was confused for a moment and then understood. From my pant pocket I retrieved her rubbers, placing them in her open hand. She held them up, the foil packets glittering in the low light.

“These had been for him,” she explained, “but tonight you'll be the one using them.”

In a way it worked out alright. I was so aroused by what she'd done and how she was acting, and of course all the sexual tension in our home now, that without the condom I would have cum too fast, I'm sure of it.

Without ever naming him, Teresa described her night from the moment she left our home. She'd driven to his house with the intent of dinner at one of the city's best steak houses but they'd never made it. He met her at the door with a glass of red wine and their mutual attraction was pure electricity. She'd gone for the condoms and discovered my theft and faced him squarely, explaining what I'd done. He didn't like it. He said he wanted her anyway and promised to pull out. She'd thought about it and then told him no, leave it in. My husband wants to play a game; we'll play a game.

I tried every trick to discover the identity of her lover. It drove me crazy that I knew him but had no idea who he was. My gut told me Teresa may never reveal his name. Every party or office get together, every football game or BBQ, any and every time we were together with friends and co-workers, I'll watch them all and wonder which of them had fucked my wife. She was diabolical.

I rolled the first condom down my throbbing penis and sank into her pussy and his semen. She was searing hot on the inside and his cum lubed my latex covered dick. I pumped my shaft in and out of her slippery hole, tormented by the reality that my sperm would not be joining his. Mine would be captured and discarded. Only he would own her tonight.

She told me he had her pinned against a wall and forced his hard cock inside her before she'd finished her wine. In graphic detail Teresa painted a lusty picture of volcanic sexual tension and release and gloriously detailed every time he'd erupted deep inside her. I encouraged her, asking questions and urging her on.

Over the course of two hours I filled all three prophylactics and it was only at the end, as I came for the last time and rolled off her, that I saw the silhouette of Brian outside against our bedroom blinds. My eyes darted to the partially open window. I knew he'd heard and seen everything. No doubt he'd heard her get home so late and was concerned something was wrong. Then he heard the sounds of our sex and investigated, spying on us just like we had on him. I saw his shadow slink away and return to his room.

Now he knew everything.

Teresa saw the look on my face and asked what was wrong. I told her and that bitch smiled. "I suspect things are going to get pretty interesting around here, not that they weren't already." Her face told me she was glad this had happened.

I was worried. The dam I had constructed so long ago was slowly crumbling. Teresa and Brian were circling each other, gradually drawing ever closer. Anxiety flared and Teresa saw it. She held my face and gently kissed my cheek.

"Let's go to sleep, Baby. It's late. Tomorrow's a new day."

Tuesday morning dawned and the first sign that things had changed was the lingerie Teresa wore. I recognized it from our honeymoon night. She'd worn it for Ray then and wore it for Brian now. We both stopped in our tracks and stared at her, utterly dumbfounded. Nobody spoke as Brian and I quickly tented the front of our pajamas.

"I want to make you late for work," Teresa said to me while looking at Brian. She held out her hand and I took it and she led me to the bedroom but left the door open. She unbuttoned the front of my pants and freed me, sucked for a minute to get me wet, and then backed her asshole down onto my erection. I lasted no time at all and as I came I noticed Brian standing in our bedroom door, watching us, his eyes locked to hers. My penis was inside her but my wife was fucking him.

When we got home that night Brian sat us at the kitchen table and admitted he'd seen and heard everything from the night before. He added he'd long suspected something extracurricular was going on because while we were still in college he'd run home once between classes for a forgotten book and swore he'd heard two men and one woman in my bedroom having sex. A month later he stumbled across the same thing and listened at the door, now convinced we were engaging in threesomes. Last night clarified it for him; I liked to watch and Teresa liked to fuck other men. My face burned with shame.

"Which brings us back to the present," he concluded. "Teresa, you've been driving me insane for years." He turned to me. "I can't begin to describe the challenge I've had resisting my desires for your wife. I want you to know I will resist, but I wanted you both to know how I felt. I understand now it was all part of your sexy game and I'm not angry, I'm happy you let me play. If I have contributed to your passion at all that pleases me. I know I'm off limits and that makes sense, but mostly I wanted to tell Teresa I think she's the sexiest, most beautiful, most gorgeous woman on earth, and I always held back out of loyalty for Brad and not a lack of desire for her."

Teresa's eyes were intense. I was deeply moved by Brian's admission. I'd never felt so connected to him. Teresa tore her gaze away from him to look at me, pleading.

He looked down at the dining table. "That's it," he said. "That's all I have. I'm fine with the game and we can continue it if you'd like, I just wanted to clear the air."

Powerful forces vibrated inside me. I wanted to offer him Teresa and I wanted to hide Teresa away where he'd never ever find her. I also wanted to tell Teresa okay, I won't fight it any more, he's all yours at the same time I wanted to tell Brian to pack and never come back. I did neither. My mouth wouldn't move. I ground my teeth, gripped by a terrible fear I was about to lose everyone I held most dear, balanced by an acute sense of petty selfishness, given all Teresa and I had done. I was frozen.

Teresa wasn't.

"Brian, Honey, will you go back to your room and wait for me? I need to talk to Brad privately."

Brian looked surprised but complied, giving me a funny look as he shut his bedroom door. Teresa turned to me. I lifted my eyes to hers. I know she was working on what she wanted to say and I saw her reject a million openings. Ultimately, she said nothing. She held my hand for a while and we just sat.

After some time had passed she kissed my forehead and told me to wait. With my heart hammering in my chest, she rose and walked to Brian's door, knocking gently. He said "Come in," and Teresa opened his door, cast a backwards glance at me, and entered his room, shutting the door behind her. For over a minute I'd been unknowingly holding my breath so I exhaled as a wave of adrenaline boiled up inside me. My toes curled in my shoes and my tongue swelled. I couldn't breathe right. Sweat broke out on my forehead and palms. I considered running out the front door and down the street, screaming, but I didn't. I fully expected to explode any second.

One minute ticked by. Two. Pressure built inside me. What was happening behind that fucking door? My imagination erupted into a volcano of erotic images. I suddenly had every slutty thing I'd ever witnessed Teresa do play out before my mind's eye, only this time Brian's heavy cock was the focus of her adoring attention. Not knocking that door down to see what they were doing was the greatest display of self-control I've ever exercised.

Ten minutes later the door opened and Teresa exited, closing it quickly behind her. She came to me and took my hand and led me to our bedroom. I was so hard my penis hurt. We undressed each other quickly and I searched her for tell-tale signs every few seconds. There were none. She stopped us.

“Baby, I understand this is killing you, but you need to trust me. I said I'd respect your wishes and I meant it and nothing happened. Brian and I talked and I told him everything. He is loyal to you even more than me, so you have nothing to worry about. When Brian and I finally make love, and we all know we will, it will be because you have given me to him willingly, eagerly, and without reservations or fear. I think this is so difficult for you because of your shitty family and the way you were raised, especially your distant mother. You learned never love someone too much or you give them the power to hurt you. Brian cannot steal me, Brad. Once you fully trust Brian and that I love you and always will, you'll hold my legs open for him and guide him in.”

I saw that image in my mind and my penis jumped and tightened. Deep in my heart, I knew she was right. She saw it and wrapped her fingers around my shaft tenderly, pulling softly on me.

“Your fantasy perfectly matches mine, Baby. We were made for each other. I know you're afraid but deep down, in your darkest, most sexual heart, you want Brian to fuck me. You want this man to take me away from you. You want that huge cock invading my tight pussy. You want to hear what it does to me, see what it does to me. You want me to love it, cum on it, take every drop of sperm from it.”

She was killing me. Every word was true. All my defenses and rationalizations and denials fell like shadows before her brilliant light. She leaned back and spread her legs but held on to my penis, tugging me forward as she rolled backward onto our bed. She aimed my unprotected penis at her pussy.

“I have a new erotic idea, Honey; fuck me bare and add your sperm to my mystery lover's. Then go get Brian and add his too. Let me conceive. Maybe the child is yours, maybe it isn't. Does that decadent idea thrill you as much as it does me? You love Brian and he loves you. He's your true brother. Would it really be so bad if I carried his baby? He cums so much. Let tonight be the night we finally start our family. We write our own relationship rules, my Love. We live as we chose. Let's be as bold as we have been so far and not shy away."

I was on fire. My whole body tingled. I heard what Teresa was asking me for and with each word from her mouth a gallon more adrenaline dumped into my blood. I tried to think clearly but simply could not. My mind was overwhelmed with images of Brian driving his mammoth cock into my loving wife over and over again, driving her crazy with pleasure. I was breathing hard, shallow and rapid.

I couldn't wait to fuck her first, and I knew exactly the chance I was taking, but if I was going to do this, I needed to act now and not think too much. Nude and fully erect, I climbed off the bed and looked down on Teresa. She was breathing through an open mouth, her nipples pointed straight up and rock hard. Her big hazel eyes were wild, slightly insane, more aroused than I'd ever seen her. She knew what was about to happen.

I turned and strode purposefully down the hall to Brian's room. He opened the door after one knock and looked me up and down. I thought he would ask if I was absolutely sure but he didn't and for some reason that cemented my choice; he knew it was right and good too. When we got back to the bedroom Teresa had removed all her clothes and stuffed pillows under her raised hips. She played with her wet and gleaming pussy, aimed directly at the door, and parted her tiny lips when she heard us. Brian moaned because he knew her invitation was really for him.

I climbed on the bed as he undressed. Teresa reached up and pulled my lips down to hers.

"I want to be kissing you as he enters me. I want you to see in my eyes how badly I want him and how good his cock makes me feel."

She didn't thank me for giving her this and I loved her even more for that. We were doing this together, as a couple. The bed shifted and we both looked down between her legs.

Brian was walking up the bed on his knees, stroking his cock as he drew closer. He was swelling rapidly and would be fully erect in seconds. He wanted her as much as she wanted him. I was a coward for making them wait this long. Teresa and I kissed again and her body shifted under my hands. I knew Brian was positioning her where he wanted her. I pulled back a little to gaze into her eyes. Our connection was more intense that I could ever remember.

I reached a hand down blindly and Brian rested his cock in my palm. I was shocked by the weight of him. My fingers did not encircle him and the heat his cock radiated was astonishing. He pulsed with life and the power to impregnate.

“He's so big, Teresa, not even my fingers reach around him. I'm holding him in my hand and guiding him towards you. Do you want his cock inside you, Baby?”

She nodded several times, jerking her head down and then up. With my free hand I spread her labia and rubbed the tip of his huge organ across and around her opening, getting him wet. My wife whimpered. I darted a quick look down and the wind left my lungs. Brian's girth dwarfed my wife's tight little pussy. His organ was a tank, a ballistic missile, a giant redwood tree and from the slit at the tip he was already leaking milky pre-cum. Could I actually ease this beast into my wife?

Brian climbed higher over her and his cock now reached her belly-button. She felt it touch her skin and groaned, knowing how close he was.

“Do it,” she breathed. “Please, Baby, I need it. I want it so badly.” Her pelvis trembled.

I looked down again. The thing I'd feared most for the last several years was now about to come true and by my own hand. Life is so complicated. I aimed his heavy cock down and searched for her opening. His head covered her pussy entirely. I felt it dip and pulled him forward and my wife's labia spread like a flower opening.

She pulled me down and we kissed, eyes wide open, as Brian entered my wife for the first time ever, opening her wider and wider until her lips were taut.

Her eyes grew big and then bigger still. Her hands clenched my arms. “Oh God,” she growled. Her back arched as Brian took over and pushed his thick inches deeper. Her eyelids fluttered and almost closed but she forced them open, trying hard to maintain her connection to me. She was right; I did see the desire for him in her eyes. I did see what his massive invading spear did to her, and I loved it. Her eyes unfocused and turned inward, relishing the sensation of penetration. He was taking her away from me. She struggled to remain the good wife but his cock was overwhelming her bits and pieces at a time. She blinked rapidly several times and found my gaze again.

“Oh God!” she said again and moved her hands to hold my face. “Baby, it's the most, it's amazing. It's finally happening... I've wanted him for so long, since the moment I first saw him, and now my wonderful husband is giving him to me. I love you. I love you.”

It was time for me to get out of the way so I did. From this moment this would be less about Teresa and I doing this together and more about Brian fucking my wife. I say fucking but these two had strong feelings for each other. In another life Teresa would have ended up with Brian, sparing him a long line of meaningless one-night-stands. I drew some comfort from the fact that Brian would never have allowed Teresa to play the way I did but then my mind fucked with me and said yes, but with a cock like his, maybe Teresa wouldn't have wanted to. That stung.

Brian lowered his face and their lips met and years of longing and desire exploded in that first passionate kiss. Teresa was almost crying already. Brian was over her in a push-up position and the pillows under her hips allowed him to go deep, deeper than any man had ever been inside her. I envisioned the huge head of his cock mashed almost flat against her cervix, pressing forward with steady and unrelenting pressure, until she gradually began to open, her inner-most barrier blossoming before his manhood, admitting him into her most intimate recesses, granting him her most private and unspoiled place.

When the moment arrived, I saw it on her face. It began as an expression of concern and confusion as she felt unfamiliar shifting and movement deep inside her. She winced once and the beginning of panic briefly flashed in her eyes, but then several inches all at once sank into her as her last defense fell and her face contorted into a mask of astonishing and unexpected pleasure. He was moving his entire impressive length in and out of her, stimulating secret and hidden regions far inside her body, and her body was responding powerfully.

“That's it, Teresa,” he growled. “Milk me. Let your body work her primal magic. It knows what to do. Your pussy is squeezing every inch of me. I feel your walls gripping me so tight. I feel them fluttering all along the length of me and it's fantastic. I've wanted you for so, so long, Baby. You feel better than I ever imagined.”

Slow and steady Brian worked his cock, fucking her all the way into her uterus.

Like I had touched a charged wire to her foot, my wife suddenly bowed her body under him and stiffened. All the air left her lungs in a whoosh and she cried out hoarsely, surprising all of us with an intense and rapid orgasm. Brian kept his strong movements going, plunging his huge cock into the depths of her again and again.

“That's it, my Love,” he murmured. “Cum all over my big dick. Show me how much you love it. Show Brad how much you love it. Let yourself go. Don't fight it. Feel my cock moving inside you. Feel me fucking you. Let yourself go.”

Teresa was possessed by a demon. Crazy sounds boiled up from her convoluted throat. Brian fucked her with ease as her sopping wetness dripped from him and soaked the pillows beneath her. I saw his scrotum swinging smoothly as he paced himself and fucked her like he intended to never stop.

Teresa came again, harder than the first, and Brian moaned as my wife's pussy tightened all around him, trying to coax the seed from him. Her first climax had rolled forward into her second and his strong thrusting was shooting her into Heaven. Her cries turned to screams and Brian started hitting her harder. She began tossing her head and sobbing and he fucked her deeper and harder and then a strange and eerie sound ripped from her throat and her body went limp. Brian slowed to a stop, leaving his prodigious penis inside her. He looked at me, a light sweat covering his face. Just like that girl so long ago, Brian had fucked my wife unconscious. I was awed.

I leaned back. Brian waited patiently and moments later Teresa came around. She was confused at first and did not recognize Brian or why he was over her. She searched around and found me and her face softened and he moved his cock in and out slowly and gently. Her eyes focused. She started crying and Brian wrapped his strong arms around her, sheltering her, while he tenderly pushed and pulled his meat in and out. Soon she was herself again and began kissing him wildly.

Brian and Teresa sank deeper and deeper into their mutual passion and desire for each other. I watched as years of pent-up frustration exploded from the shackles which had bound them. Brian and Teresa went a little crazy on each other, thrusting and kissing and biting and clawing. Teresa came a third time and I decided to stop counting. Her orgasms with Brian were unlike anything I'd ever seen her experience and I knew this was something she could only share with him.

My head and heart were a whirlwind of conflicting emotions; regret, lust, worry, shame, and a thousand others all bounced around inside me, each making a brief appearance at the top of the list before supplanted by the next.

Strangely, my throbbing erection grounded me. No matter what I was feeling at the moment, the fact that through it all I was hard as steel told me all I really needed to know. I know that is typically, simplistically male, but there it was. I played with my penis but only sparingly as I was ready to ejaculate any second.

Brian's testicles drew up tight to his body. His shaft was now a pink and tan steel beam covered with lumpy veins. My poor Teresa was the slaughtered lamb on his altar as he mercilessly pummeled her sweet pussy, her big tits bouncing, her cries of pain and pleasure filling our bedroom. I'd never view this bed the same.

His breathing increased and his gasps and moans came non-stop now. He was about to inseminate my wife. I gazed at her looking for a sign that she didn't want this and saw only that she did; with every molecule of her being she wanted it. Her hands clawed and clung to him, her legs were tangled around his, her hips rose to meet each of his powerful thrusts, and they kissed like familiar lovers. I took a deep breath and held it, releasing it slowly.

"Where?" Brian asked breathlessly.

"As deep as you can," Teresa snarled in reply.

A burst of speed and Brian brought himself over the edge. Teresa opened her legs as wide as possible and threw her arms open. Brian was fucking the woman he wanted most in the world and had always wanted most, and that was true for Teresa too, but Teresa's need seemed more complex and I realized for her there was also a breeding element present. Consciously or sub-consciously, my wife was trying to create life.

"Oh fuck YES!" she cried and Brian slammed his hips one last time and then pushed his cock as deep as he could. His ass clenched and his balls jumped and the underside of his cock swelled as the first surge of sperm rocketed out of his penis and into my waiting wife. I remembered watching him masturbate that night and the ocean of cum he produced and grimaced as he now aimed that ocean directly into my wife's womb.

Teresa gripped the comforter in each fist, arching her back and offering Brian her cunt without reservation. Brian thrust twice and ejaculated another seeming gallon and then repeated it. So much sperm was being shot into my wife that it ran out along his shaft in spite of the tight seal her pussy made around him. Again and again Brian injected her with his seed, his muscular ass flexing as he filled her.

When the last drop left him he fell onto her. They lay there breathing rapidly, sweating and smiling. Teresa absentmindedly traced small circles with a fingertip on his back. Sperm dripped from around his veiny shaft.

I had a vague plan to add my load after his but it turned out I had to wait to do that. Brian and Teresa kissed and cuddled and remained between her legs and left his formidable cock buried deep in her. She reached a hand out to me and I moved up to kiss her and slipped my arm under her head.

“How is everyone?” she asked after a long time. Brian said he was wonderful and I said me too. I kissed Teresa again, softly, and felt her tense. When I looked up Brian had taken her nipple into his mouth at the same time. Teresa gazed into my eyes and I saw clearly how happy she was.

We all shared snap-shot moments from what we had just done and I felt so strange talking to a man who still had his cock inside my wife. They both seemed perfectly comfortable with it but it stirred something deep inside me.

After a few minutes the reality of all that semen at that very instant swimming around inside Teresa silently knocked the wind out of me. I was quiet for a time until I recovered but neither of them noticed. I thought about asking Brian to move so I could fuck my wife but worried it might taint the moment so I waited. Before too long Brian began kissing Teresa again and then moving his hips. The stud was already getting hard again.

This time was just as ferocious as the first, maybe more so. Brian had his own cum as lube and Teresa knew everything was fine by the time we'd all spent comfortably talking. He pounded her like a porn-star from the front and then flipped her onto all fours and fucked her like an animal. From that angle his cock bent and twisted her insides and he hurt her a few times but she only seemed to relish it, urging him to fuck her harder and faster. His cock made her climax easily, frequently, and really hard. She constantly talked, telling him how she loved him and she loved him inside her. I could take no more and moved around to her face. She lowered her mouth and sucked me in and I gave her my load before I could stop myself.

We spent the night fucking her. I did eventually add my sperm to his but there was no comparison. I'd already cum in her mouth twice. I felt like I added two drops to his lake of semen. We'd doze and awaken and fuck her again. At least, he would. After cumming three times I ran out of gas and mostly became a voyeur. As the night wore on I began to help him fuck her. I held her legs open or pinned her down. I even once held her in my arms while Brian stroked his long cock in and out of her. Teresa and I kissed just as Brian released his flood of jizz and I think the intensity of the moment gave her a mini-climax.

At last we were exhausted. I was the last to fall asleep and noted Brian was still buried balls deep as he and Teresa slumbered. As darkness overtook me I wondered if this would turn out to be a one-time event or if it would ever happen again. What a naive fool.

Wednesday morning the alarm woke us all and we set about the task of getting ready for work. After a brief awkwardness we all just decided to get on with things. All three of us showered together and I watched Teresa briefly struggle with trying to suck his thick dick.

"The curse of the hung," he pouted and we all laughed. "I've never gotten a decent blowjob my whole life. I hear they're amazing."

That night after work Teresa visited him in his room and gave him the best blowjob he'd ever received. She was unable to deep throat him, not even close, but she had big-dick experience and used every trick she knew. I remembered watching Kandy blow Brian a life-time ago and Teresa did much better than she. Brian was too worn out to cum or even get fully erect but it was still sexy as fuck.

I was wiped out at work and a few friends teased me about spending the night fooling around with Teresa. If they only knew. I was the last to get home and Brian and Teresa were already in bed. When I quietly opened our bedroom door she was on top of him, her big breasts swinging over his open mouth, her hips rising and falling on his engorged cock. Her ass was pointed towards the door so I had a graphic view of their melding genitalia.

The sight was gloriously carnal and raw. My wife was so wet for this man and he was rock hard for my wife. I kissed the top of her head and then knelt at the foot of the bed to take the scene in. She came easily and when he did I capriciously pushed down on her hips, driving his meaty stake up into her guts where he again released his flood.

The rest of the night was much like our first together and the next day was more of the same. I had errands to run but they stayed home and in bed and she told me later they fucked all day until I got home.

Long ago Teresa had joked how sleeping with Brian would be bad because she'd never know which bed she was supposed to sleep in at night. Brian and I were roommates at the time and I'd caught Teresa looking at him lustfully many times. Her joke had stung. The idea had been so unsettling, although I hadn't known it at the time, because it was something that so easily could happen because deep down all parties involved wanted it to happen.

I remembered that sting now because for the rest of the week my wife took turns with Brian and me. I didn't keep score but she clearly spent more time with him. We could be in bed watching a movie and she'd lean over and kiss me and tell me good-night, and then drop her nightgown on the floor and walk to Brian's room naked. I'd hear her knock and a brief exchange of words and then his door would close, swallowing my wife for the entire night. They both joined me in the morning as we all got ready for work, looking smug and satisfied.

Days passed one by one and Sunday finally arrived. It was time for Brian to fly back to Dallas and his life there.

Teresa stayed home while I drove him to the airport. She said she was too tired but I saw she was also too sad. As guys will do, Brian and I did not talk much about what happened. He told me he loved me and he loved Teresa and what we had shared was "really cool and special," and I agreed and we left it at that.

I knew from that moment forward he and Teresa would fuck every time and every chance they got. I knew Brian would visit Las Vegas a lot more. I also knew I could trust him because even though he was in-love with my wife and had been for years, he would never cross me, but mostly because peeling back the layers of fear had shown me something hidden; Teresa and I were perfect for each other.

The world is filled with attractive men and Teresa may feel more drawn to some of them than me. But none of them would connect with her like I did. We shared a secret understanding, a deep and natural alignment.

She could and probably would fuck them all to her heart's content but she would always come back to me. Always.

Two weeks later Teresa's breasts began to swell and grow warmer. Her nipples engorged and became more sensitive. Two weeks after that she missed a period. A home test confirmed it; my wife was with child and we were not sure who the father was, but we also had no intention of finding out. I elected to believe it was mine. In the following days I discovered when I looked at her I saw her in a new, more sexual light. Teresa wasn't acting naughty for my benefit. Teresa was naughty. My sexy bad girl really was a sexy bad girl.

Our sex life went through the roof. Her lusty nature skyrocketed and so did mine. She would not tell me the name of her mystery lover, only reiterating that I knew him and knew him well. It drove me into a frenzy. I reevaluated every man in my life; Teresa had fucked one of them, but which? I could not figure it out. Instead, I poured that sexual energy into her. I pounded all her openings equally, treating her, at least while we were in bed, like a slut, which she loved. Like she said, we make our own rules.
