Chapter 1

Lauren Sugar rinsed the last breakfast plate and stacked the dish on the bamboo drainer. She looked at the clock over the sink.

Eleven fifty. Perfect.

She dried her hands, untied her apron, sent her husband, David, a quick I-love-you text to alleviate her guilt, and climbed the stairs to her daughter's room. She stood on Stacey's bed and peeled the curtain back just a bit, not enough that anyone outside would notice.

Windex, I owe you one, she thought.

Weeks ago, she'd been cleaning the glass in all the upstairs bedrooms while her son and daughter were at school. She'd been standing in this very spot when Troy, the long-haired free-spirited bachelor next door came out to his backyard to smoke some weed and sunbathe. Lauren had almost opened the window and shouted hello but before she could, Troy, already shirtless, tugged his swimming trunks to the ground and flopped naked onto a poolside lounge chair. High fences and tall trees gave him all the privacy he needed, unless one happened to be standing on a bed in an upstairs bedroom and leaning against the window.

Lauren soon learned Troy did this several times a week.

She knew he surfed professionally. Most mornings she'd see him leave the house before the sun was up to head for the beaches. He was always home before noon. She suspected he must be very good at it because the homes in this neighborhood were expensive. Only David's substantial inheritance allowed them to live there.

Lauren watched the neighborhood closely during the day and knew Troy had a continuous parade of pretty girls passing through. Few girls lasted more than a week and no girl lasted more than three months. Lauren had caught David staring on many occasions as some young lovely climbed off the back of Troy's motorcycle and flitted across his shaggy lawn. Half the time they wore bikini tops and shorts and Lauren found herself staring as well. She'd never seen Troy with an unattractive female.

The back door opened in the yard next door. Lauren held her breath. Troy emerged; sunglasses, shorts, no shirt, straw hat on his head and a small bong in his hand. He aimed the chaise at the sun and stretched his arms high overhead. He wasn't muscular but he was tall and lean and she liked that. David had put on so much weight since he started working for Home Depot.

Troy lit the bowl and filled his lungs. He twisted side to side, stretching, as he released the dense smoke. He adjusted his hat, tucking all that blonde hair underneath, and then scanned the backyard to make sure he was safe. He shoved his shorts to his feet. Lauren gazed at his perfectly smooth bubble butt and sighed. His tan was perfect. He had small but well defined muscles everywhere.

He faced his chair and his cock swung with him and Lauren looked away, blushing. She glanced back frequently, too embarrassed to stare at his penis directly. She'd seen two in her lifetime; a friend of her brother when she was much younger, and David's, but Troy looked bigger than those. Size didn't matter to her, she just liked the way it swung and flopped when he moved. It matched his body perfectly; long like his legs. Her gaze roamed his lumpy abs and cut chest. He was probably ten or fifteen years younger and she wondered, as she often did, if she married too young.

No, she quickly corrected. I love David, I love Stacey, and I love James. I wouldn't trade my life for anything.

Troy straddled his lounge and sat, adjusting his hat again to let the sunlight hit his face. He pulled hard on the bong, exhaled a cloud, and settled in.

Lauren reached tentatively for her pussy.

Troy did not move but Lauren didn't need him to. Her eyes wandered his now familiar body, lingering at all her favorite places. He was good looking and she loved his dimpled chin. She'd bumped into him at the mailboxes a few times and his pretty blue eyes melted her. She'd never seen a grown man naked. Not like this. Not on display for her to examine at her leisure. On the occasions when she and David made love the lights were off and they were under the covers. Troy was presented gloriously to the open sky.

She slipped her hand under her dress and touched herself. Troy was beautiful. She spent long minutes admiring him, waves of pleasure radiating from her clit. She rubbed and wished and dreamed and eventually sighed. There was no harm in a fantasy but she knew she could never cheat on David. He'd divorce her in an instant and probably get the kids and that would leave her devastated.

"Time to vacuum," she muttered.

She took one last look at her gorgeous neighbor and smoothed her clothing back in place. Troy turned onto his stomach. She continued staring, wondering if David would be in the mood for sex tonight.

Chapter 2

David Sugar slowed as he turned into his neighborhood. He'd worked a late shift today and the sun had set hours ago. That used to bother him but he'd recently made a discovery that changed his mind. He took a right on Grande avenue and a left on Harris and slowed. He was on the hill behind his house now gazing down into backyards as he drove. They'd develop this area soon but for now he was surrounded by open lots. He turned off his headlights and coasted to a silent stop. Below him lay Troy's backyard. With nothing behind his backyard but hill, Troy and his many girlfriends had no need to shut the curtains. David had to wait only a minute before movement drew his eye.

She was skinny and petite and small breasted and utterly nude. He watched her move from the kitchen to the living room to the bathroom and back to the kitchen, and then he unzipped and pulled his penis from his pants. Troy entered the living room and sat on the couch to watch television. The girl spoke with Troy a moment and then headed again for the bathroom. She closed the door and opened the bathroom window and David saw her delightful body even better. She was young but they often were at Troy's place. David thanked the gods he'd tried this shortcut weeks ago. That first time he'd seen a lovely black girl fucking Troy on the couch.

He gently stroked his dick. Over at his house a bathroom light came on.

Lauren getting the kids ready for bed, no doubt.

Guilt nagged at him. He'd spend a few more minutes and then head home to his wife and kids.

Troy's girl started the water and drew the shower curtain, then leaned close to the huge bathroom mirror. David smiled at the opportunity to see her front and back at the same time. She played with her hair, trying various styles and lengths around her face, and then leaned close again to pick her teeth. Her arm mashed her small tit, pushing the firm mass forward and up. David stared hard at the young tantalizing flesh.

The girl opened the curtain and disappeared into the shower.

David put the car in gear and aimed for home.

Lauren had dinner waiting in the oven and David put the kids to bed as Laurie prepared his plate. They sat at the table together, sharing the events of their day, and then moved to the living room to watch the news.

Later, as they got ready for bed, David watched his wife undress. He couldn't help but compare her to the body he'd seen earlier. His wife still carried fat from her last pregnancy years ago. She had faint stretch marks around her stomach and her tits hung an inch lower than they did a decade ago. His heart filled with love. Not pity or sympathy, but a deep love for the woman he shared his life with. Her body, in a very real way, was as attractive as that tight young thing he'd so recently seen.

Lauren turned and caught her husband staring. She lowered her hands and let his eyes roam, despite her embarrassment.

"Come here," he said.

She hit the lights and slipped under the covers.

Chapter 3

Troy Hackney saw the light go out in the bedroom next door. He wondered if Lauren was fucking her husband at that moment. He hoped so. He'd spotted her window cleaning almost two months ago. His polarized sunglasses cut the glare to nothing and he'd spotted movement while lying in the sun. Just for fun he'd shed his shorts and shown her everything. He expected her to pull the shade but she hadn't. She'd watched and he suspected she'd maybe even masturbated. Deciding this could be fun, he'd timed his trip to the mailbox to coincide with hers, flirting as they spun the locks and retrieved the post. He'd seen her check him out when she thought he wasn't looking, remembering the body beneath the clothes.

Days later he'd spied her at the window again, waiting for him to emerge. He'd shown her everything again, promising himself he'd escalate their secret rendezvous in the days to come. She was cute and genuine and while her body was not that of an eighteen-year-old, it was certainly desirable.

I am going to have fun with this one, he thought.

Chapter 4

Gina Thomas loosened the strings on her bikini top and retied them, showing as much skin as possible. The bathroom mirror showed the fabric barely covered her nipples, exposing the darker rings of her areola.

That will get him, she thought.

Her bottoms were already three sizes too small. The material left her ass on display and failed to cover her bald labia completely.

Perfect.

She grabbed their iced teas and opened the sliding glass door with her foot.

Troy was already comfortably spread out. She studied his body as she approached, remembering that big cock from the night before. He'd fucked her senseless with the thing and then come back for more an hour later. She loved gazing up into his striking blue eyes and feeling his fat dick stirring her insides.

"Refreshing beverage?" she said.

Troy shielded his eyes from the sun. He noticed Gina's big tits spilling out and realized she'd intentionally tied her top that way. He took the tea with a smile.

"You look sexy," he said.

She acted innocent, flipping her hair off a shoulder. "Thank you."

She pulled the lounge chair next to him but had to move a little when he asked her to. She had no idea why and he didn't offer a reason.

"Last night was amazing," he said. "You're gorgeous."

"Look who's talking," she countered.

She sipped her iced tea and sucked an ice cube into her mouth. She leaned over his lounge and sucked his cock head in there too. Troy whooped and threw his head back.

"Holy shit!" he yelled.

He put a hand on the back of her head and forced his dick deeper.
"That's goooooood," he said.

Gina was happy to serve. Troy had a ton of money and she wanted to be his girlfriend. She knew his reputation but believed she could last where all those other girls had faded. She sucked hard.

Troy opened an eye behind his sunglasses. He slowly raised his gaze until he saw Lauren at the bedroom window, watching Gina suck him. A hot surge of blood flooded his cock and Gina moaned, thinking herself the cause. Troy began to fuck the girl's mouth with slowly undulating hips. He loved that Mrs. Sugar watched. He worked his cock in and out of Gina but it was Lauren he was trying to excite. He imagined her touching herself and his dick grew stiffer.

She's older but sexy in an innocent way. I bet she's only ever had sex with her husband. I'd love to be the one to corrupt her.

He imagined himself between her legs and the look of shock and wonder on her face. He closed his eyes as Gina sucked his cock and envisioned Lauren amazed by what a fantastic lover he was, comparing him to her husband, confessing how she loved his big cock and begging with him to cum in her.

Maybe I'll get her pregnant, he thought, chuckling. She could tell her husband the baby is his.

"What the fuck are you laughing at?" Gina said, stopping suddenly.

Troy recovered quickly. "That feels so good, Baby. You make me happy. Don't stop. I love what you're doing."

Gina gave a look like she didn't fully believe him but she stuffed his fat dick in her mouth again. He watched for a moment until he was sure she was into it again and then closed his eyes, searching for the thread he'd lost. He imagined Lauren on all fours, offering her asshole.

I want you to have it, she'd say. Nobody has ever done me there. I hear it hurts but I don't care, Troy. I want you to be my first.

He surged even harder and Gina moaned she was ready. Troy pictured Lauren spreading her big butt cheeks and his inches sliding down her hole.

"Jesus Christ," he muttered, just before grunting and filling Gina's mouth with hot cum. He knew he needn't tell Gina to swallow. That girl was a freak. He watched her suck the last drops and then tilt her head back so he could see her throat work. Down his load went. He loved it because what guy wouldn't, but he loved it best because he knew upstairs Lauren saw everything.

Right now, she's wondering if she could do the same. I'm going to make sure she does. That innocent little housewife and mother of two will take my load. I'll find a way.

"Your turn," he told Gina. "Lie back. I want to taste the pussy I fucked last night."

Upstairs and one house over, Lauren gasped. Already flustered by watching a pretty girl put a penis in her mouth, now she saw handsome Troy bury his face between the girl's legs.

God! What's that like?

She slipped a finger under her panties and touched the bump that felt so good. She circled around it, imagining Troy's tongue licking her there. Her face flushed bright red. She watched the girl's expression and longed to feel what she felt.

David would never. No way.

She rubbed as she always did, lovely waves of pleasure spreading from her bump out through her pelvis. She continued teasing herself until in the yard below the girl clawed at Troy's shoulders and arched her back. She cried out a single shrill shout.

Why aren't my orgasms like that? she wondered.

The girl's body tensed all over and then went limp. Troy kissed up her stomach to her lips and then they lay side by side in the warm sun. Lauren desperately wished it was she recovering next to Troy.

No, she corrected herself. It's bad enough I spy on another man. Touching him is out of the question. I shouldn't even think about sex like that with him. I love my husband. I need to stop this.

But she didn't. She nudged the curtain a little farther open and watched the happy couple tenderly kiss and touch.

After a long time, they went inside and Lauren headed for the laundry room. There was a lot of housework to be done before David got home.

Chapter 5

David held the hose and watered his front lawn. He watched his son James ride his new bike up and down the street. James was learning fast and David was proud of him. David turned the nozzle and directed the spray at a patch of lawn which defied him. The soil was poor and nothing he tried worked. He watered the newly planted seed and hoped for the best.

Next door, a slate grey Bentley Flying Spur pulled into the driveway. Troy got out and waved to David then started heading over. A young Asian girl, still wearing her tiny sparkly dress from the night before, emerged from the passenger side. David returned Troy's wave but his eyes went to the girl. She was stunning. Her dress hung from her shoulders, lifted by small pert tits and round firm butt. The garment looked more like liquid than fabric, like a billion shards of broken mirror had been poured over her head and run to drip from her tits and ass. David realized he was staring and quickly checked on his son.

"He's a natural," Troy said, gesturing to James. "Great balance. I should take him with me to the beach, see how he does on waves."

David forced a fake laugh. "Sounds great," he said. "If he can make money like that," he waved the hose at the Bentley, "he can take care of his old man."

Troy turned to look at the car. He laughed once and placed a hand on David's shoulder. "That's not surfing money," Troy said. "No way. That's endorsement money. The real money's not in the sport. The real money is in this face." He dramatically brushed the back of his fingers against his cheek.

David looked at the Asian girl. She leaned against the Bentley, bored, studying her nails.

"I guess your face earns you a lot of benefits."

Troy turned to look at the girl. "Stina," he called. "Come meet my friend, David."

"I have heels on."

"So?"

"You guys are standing on grass, dumbass."

"So take your fucking shoes off," Troy said. "Jesus."

Stina reached for her ankle, lifting a leg and flashing David a pink triangle of panties. She turned her leg one way and then the other and David stared at the tiny landing strip of pubic hair beneath see-through mesh. Once she removed her shoes, she crossed the connected yards, clearly annoyed. David stuck out his hand.

"Nice to meet you, Stina," David said. The girl was beautiful.

"Yeah," she replied.

Up close, David saw her dress had a million tiny holes like a football jersey. The milky skin of her tits pressed against the fabric. David quickly located her centered nipples, small, dark brown circles in a sea of pale. He stared as long as he thought he could get away with and then turned to Troy again. Stina spoke before he could.

"Can we go inside now? My feet hurt and this grass is wet. I'm hungry."

Troy rolled his eyes at David, who tried to shrug in an understanding way.

"Gotta go," Troy said.

He offered Stina his arm and they cut across the lawn for home. Once they were out of earshot she leaned in.

"That's the guy you want me to fuck?"

"Yeah."

"Just so you can fuck his wife? Like that time in San Diego?"

"Yeah."

"He's not hot. Is his wife hot?"

"Nope. But she's super sweet and innocent. She has a pretty face and she'd have a nice body if she lost some weight, but that's not why I want to fuck her."

"Why then?"

"I'm not exactly sure. Maybe to see if I can? I think she hides who she is. She keeps everything bottled up. I get the feeling that deep down she's a passionate woman, but nothing in this life has yet brought that out of her. She's shy and I envision a long seduction, but I'm going to have fun with this one. No one has shown her there's more to life than husband and kids."

"But you will."

"Yeah. I want to rock her world." He grabbed the front of his pants. "I'm thinking I can make her scream."

"Watch out or she'll fall in love with you."

"I hope so," Troy chuckled. "Talk about total victory."

"Your ego is massive, Troy. Why ruin their marriage? He seems like a nice guy."

"That's why I need you, Stina. I don't want to destroy their marriage. If you fuck him first, I can fuck her to make things even. I've seen the way she looks at me and I think she wants me to fuck her, she just doesn't know how to speak those words or even think those thoughts. Once you bang David, I can act all hurt because he was with my girl and suggest he needs to hand me Lauren to make things right. That's fair."

"Aw," Stina teased. "Am I your girl?"

"Fuck no. But he doesn't know that."

"You're a bastard."

Troy laughed as he opened the front door. "Yeah."

"Why should I do this for you? What's in it for me?"

Troy made a face. "Well, I could remind you about that USC quarterback you wanted. I set it up for you."

"That's true."

"But instead I'll buy you the plane ticket to Madrid to see that DJ you love."

Stina clapped her hands and threw her arms around Troy's neck. She pulled him to the couch for hot kisses.

Chapter 6

David turned into the neighborhood and aimed for the street along the hill. He dimmed his headlights and coasted along the curb. He checked the back of Troy's house every night now and was often rewarded for his diligence. Stina had spent all week with Troy and David had twice seen her walking around the house naked. Her body was delicious. He saw them begin to make love but the bed was below the bedroom window. He considered leaving his car and climbing down the hill to look inside but worried about getting caught. He would hate to be that married older guy on the news, handcuffed and staring into bright lights, bewildered and shamed.

The next day he'd worked in the backyard as pretense for examining the hill more closely. There were boulders at the edge of the property which would allow him to get into Troy's yard and trees for him to hide behind. He'd only have a few minutes to look but when he imagined Stina naked and having sex, he decided it was worth the risk. Happy with his plan, he'd mowed the lawn smiling.

Lauren had taken the kids to the mall so once he finished, David popped a Budweiser and surveyed his handiwork.

"Hi? Hello?"

The feminine voice came from the side gate. When he rounded the corner, he found Stina in a T-shirt and flipflops. She'd spilled something on her shirt.

"Hi, David," she said. "I hate to bother you but I've made a mess and locked myself out of Troy's house. He won't be back for a couple hours. Can I rinse off in your shower please? Maybe your wife has an old T-shirt I can borrow?"

The white cotton clung to her body, virtually transparent, and those little dark brown nipples glared at him. He made himself look away.

"Sure," he said. "Of course. Follow me."

On the way through the house he tried to fabricate a story to tell Lauren in case he needed one. Lauren usually stayed away for hours when she took the kids shopping so most likely Stina would finish well before she got home. As he moved through the living room, his hands began to tremble. His legs went weak at the foot of the stairs and the hallway to the bathroom seemed well over a mile. He thought of a million comments to make but rejected them all as sounding too stupid. A girl this pretty gets hit on all the time. She's heard everything. He'd already made a fool of himself by staring at her tits. Better to keep his mouth shut. He opened the bathroom door.

"You can shower in here," he said. "I'll check for an extra T-shirt."

"Thanks."

As she stepped into the bathroom, Stina grabbed the bottom of her shirt and lifted. David tried not to look. He really did. He stared at his trembling hands and the snips of grass covering his shoes. Then his eyes came up to the bathroom mirror. Stina, wonderfully topless, pretended to rinse something sticky off her hands.

David's heart stopped. There she was. Her petite body held no fat; wiry strong like a ballerina, her small breasts were topped with tiny cones of erect chocolate nipple. Her flat stomach led to sheer lacy panties again and that goddamn landing strip he found so sexy. Lauren carried a sizable bush with her everywhere she went. David saw in the poised way she squared her shoulders that this hot young woman was confident in her own sexuality.

"Can I help you?" she asked.

David suddenly realized he'd been staring. His mouth opened. He shut it.

"You like what you see?" she asked, turning to face him. She rested a hand on her hip. "Most men say my tits are too small. Do you think so too?"

David shook his head.

"Come here," she said.

His feet, all on their own, moved him closer. She took his hand and placed it on her breast and his mouth went dry.

"Too small?" she asked.

He stared at his hand. His fingers moved, rolling the erect nipple and squeezing the spongy flesh. Her tit filled his palm. Warm, soft, and firm, he watched his hand caress her. She placed his free hand on her other breast.

Jesus Christ, she thought. Is this guy twelve years old?

She waited for lust to do the job it always did between her and men but David just fondled her tits and stared. She got things moving.

"That feels good," she purred. "This feels better."

She guided his hand between her legs. David gasped when he cupped her mound, shocked by the blazing heat coming from the girl. She pulled her panties aside and ran his fingers over her bare lips. She placed a finger behind his and forced his digit into her hole, surrounding his finger in tight roasting flesh. At last instincts took over and he pumped in and out.

"I like that," she said. She moved his hand long enough to tug her panties down and then guided him back in. She rode his hand, more into the pleasure each minute. She palmed the front of his jeans and was pleased to discover his erection. She looked at him with large innocent eyes and then drew his zipper to the bottom. She fumbled at the hole in his boxers but then withdrew his penis.

Not bad, she thought.

He filled her hand nicely. She guessed him slightly above average, which was a pleasant surprise, with a promising thickness and a nice helmeted head. The tiny hole at the tip already leaked fluid.

He's no Troy, she thought. But he's bigger than some I've met.

She cupped his hot hairy balls and pulled them free too. She leaned from the waist and closed her lips around the end, tickling under the base with her tongue. David jumped, shocked by her action. His trembling legs told her Mrs. Sugar does not suck cock. Ever.

That makes this more fun, she thought. She opened wide and slid the head to the back of her throat. I'm about to rock his world.

She was right. David was stunned. He gazed down at her pretty black hair and watched her head rise and fall. She leaned to the side to show him his dick in her mouth and her pretty face. The sensations were mind-boggling. He'd gotten a blowjob way back in high school and it was awful. The girl, whose name he could no longer remember, had thrown up a little. She'd cried and they'd both gone home and never dated again.

Stina moved up and down his cock like a hot wet vacuum. She forced too much in because she liked gagging on dick. She held his thighs and sucked hard like she wanted his sperm. David felt through her touch how much she enjoyed having a man in her mouth. He felt his semen tingle and already start to rise.

"No, no," she chuckled. "Not so fast."

She pushed his legs and pulled his arms, moving him to the floor and shoving him on his back. She held his penis vertical as she straddled him, her incredibly tight pussy enveloping him like a jacket of hot flesh. He gawked at her pert tits and gorgeous exotic face. When she sank onto him, her eyes fluttered and her head fell back.

"God, I adore cock," she exhaled.

Every move she made showed him how much pleasure his penis brought. She loved feeling him inside. She ground her pelvis against his and bit her bottom lip. He loved the way she moved and the way she looked, but mostly he loved what his dick did to her. He felt desired and virile.

"I'm getting close," he said.

"Me too," she grunted. "Wait...wait..."

Her hips thrust back and forth and she leaned her hands on his chest. Her eyes were closed as she used him to orgasm and he loved it. Lauren never rode him like this, never took from him what she wanted.

Suddenly she grabbed both tits and pulled hard. A low moan escaped and her hips added a rolling motion to her grind and then she hugged herself hard and gushed juice all over his crotch. She was cumming on him and he was blown away. He held her hips and thrust awkwardly and then his sperm boiled and shot.

She grabbed his face, her eyes wild. "Cum in me, fucker. Give me that hot load."

His eyes went big and he groaned loudly and pumped his dick until his balls were empty. She urged him on, touching his face and saying sweet things that he couldn't quite hear but loved anyway. He thought his heart would burst from his testicles cumming that hard. He lay on the floor breathing fast.

She rested on him a moment then lifted, watch his penis slowly withdraw. He dropped out of her with a slurp.

"I love that part," she teased. "I needed that. Thanks."

She started the shower, testing the water with a hand. She wiped leaking sperm and rinsed her hand. David moved in slow motion, eventually informing her he'd find her a T-shirt.

"Thank you so much," Stina said. "Maybe something from your daughter's room so your wife doesn't notice anything missing. I'm pretty small so I think your daughter might fit me better."

"I noticed," he said, smiling weakly, hoping she understood his double meaning.

Stina smiled back. He's trying to flirt, she thought. How sweet. I didn't mind this favor for Troy at all.

She wound her hair into a tail and coiled it on her head. David left the bathroom, returning with a standard white T-shirt from Stacey's chest of drawers. He draped it across the vanity and let her know he was leaving the bathroom.

Fifteen minutes later she was crossing the yard, freshly showered and dressed. It never occurred to him, even as he watched her open Troy's door with a key, that she'd never needed his shower after all.

Chapter 7

From the living room window, Lauren watched Troy enter his house alone. She'd not seen him with a new girlfriend for several days and wondered if everything was okay. She moved around her home, dusting and straightening and putting away the kid's things and then heard a lounge chair squeak from the backyard. She hurried upstairs and climbed on Stacey's bed. Troy was below, exhaling a huge cloud of smoke. He set the bong on the deck and stretched, reaching for the sky, and then shoved his shorts down and off. She covered her mouth with a hand. He looked partially swollen, bigger than before. When he moved, his penis swung slower, heavier. She liked it.

She left her daughter's bed but quickly returned with David's binoculars. She focused the lens and gasped. His penis filled her vision, slashing across the twin circles of the lens from top to bottom. She saw his big smooth testicles, individual veins running the length of his thick shaft, and that perfect pink helmet, darker and plumper. She zoomed out and found Troy still filled her field of vision from belly button to knees. She passed the binoculars over his lean body, lingering on his handsome face before returning to his butt and dick. She never thought much about them but she found his intriguing.

He settled into his lounge chair and faced the sun. He squirted tanning oil on his hands and ran them all over his well-defined muscles until his body gleamed. He finished and leaned back, but his hand drifted immediately for his penis. Lauren held her breath. She lifted the binoculars to her eyes again and watched his fingers curl around his shaft. Her question of what he had planned was answered a moment later when he began a slow and steady stroke.

"Oh, good Lord," she muttered.

She lowered the binoculars but soon raised them again. He grew fast. He kept his eyes closed and she kept the binoculars focused. She felt like she was only inches from him, imagining she heard his soft moans. A drop of semen oozed and his hand wiped it away, using the fluid as lubrication, adding to the oil which coated him. Lauren felt a strong need to look away; this was private and she was married. She was a terrible neighbor and wife. She knew she should look away, but she didn't. She couldn't. His hand traveled up and down and his penis stiffened and grew and she had to watch.

He lifted the bong for another hit and his cock throbbed in the bright sun, standing tall, fat, and long. His helmeted spear sparkled in the sun.

Soon on his back again, Troy returned to his smooth stroking. Lauren noticed he was breathing faster and she wondered what would happen next. She focused the binoculars and was rewarded with a full blast of hot sperm launching through the air and splattering across the deck. Her mouth dropped open, amazed. Again, and again thick ropes of semen rocketed from his cock, splashing on his legs and around the chair.

Lauren groaned. His handsome face was contorted in ecstasy. His muscles bunched beneath his skin. His manly penis swelled, turning darker, as he spewed precious baby-making fluid.

The tension in Lauren's body made her want to scream. She'd been watching him for weeks and he always left her feeling empty and lonely. It helped when David wanted sex those nights but she never reached the full sense of relief she craved.

Below, Troy sank into his chair, utterly satisfied. She wanted that satisfaction too. She reached between her legs and yes, that felt good, but never brought her true contentment.

"Why do I do this to myself?" she muttered, shaking her head. "I should just ignore him when he tans."

Troy appeared to doze so she returned the binoculars to the closet and finished her housework. When David got home she had dinner ready and was extra affectionate. He seemed distant. Something was on his mind but she couldn't draw it out of him.

She was sure nothing would happen and came to bed wearing a flannel nightie but David kissed the back of her neck and spooned. She wiggled her butt at him and he pressed close and she was shocked to feel him already hard. She discretely lifted the back of her nightshirt and David rushed to get inside. They made love harder and faster than she could remember. She liked his passion. After his orgasm, he asked if she'd climaxed too.

"Yeah," she said. "I think so." She knew her answer left him wondering.

"What's it like?" he said after a minute.

"A kind of tingling."

"That's all? No spike of pleasure?"

"No."

"That doesn't seem fair. It's so obvious when the man does."

"A few of my girlfriends say the same thing," she said. "Just a really nice tingling sensation. I don't mind. You feel so good in there."

David was silent but she felt him pondering.

"I think next time I'm going to do a few things different," he said.

She wanted to ask what he had planned but left his words hanging in the air, too embarrassed to talk about sex. After a few moments, she realized she should say something.

"All right," she said. "I'd like that."

She found his hand and held it and they fell asleep.

Chapter 8

"We need to tell Lauren," Troy told David.

They stood on David's front lawn, hands filled with junk mail.

"Troy, I'm sorry. It just happened. Stina is so beautiful and she was just there, naked, and she touched me and everything just happened. I'm sorry. Can we just forget all about this?"

"Nope. I felt like Stina and I had something special. I thought she was the one, maybe even my soul mate. You ruined everything."

"I'm sorry. Why does Lauren need to know? I won't do it again. I can give you money."

"Do I look like I need money? I need my sweet and perfect Stina back."

"Where'd she go?"

"David! Don't be dense. I kicked her out once I learned the truth. Now man up and let's go tell Lauren."

"No! Wait. There must be something I can do. I have kids, Troy. You don't want to ruin a kid's life, do you?"

Troy rubbed his chin, pretending to weigh David's words. He felt bad. He expected the game to be more fun than this but David was such a sincere guy. Troy felt bad for torturing him. His act worked flawlessly.

"Let's work this out, man to man," David added.

Troy looked David up and down. The man was distraught. His world was crumbling around him.

He's almost ready, Troy thought.

"I don't know, David. Can you keep secrets from Lauren? She seems so nice. Can you handle lying to her face every day for the rest of your life?"

"Yes. Over this? Yes. It's for everyone's best interest. I was stupid and weak. Stina is stunning and I lost my head. Please don't tell Lauren."

Troy crossed his arms, again playing the role. "It's not right," he said.

"No," David agreed. "It's not. It's wrong. I never should have done that."

"You had my woman."

"I did. I'm sorry. I was wrong."

Troy waited a heartbeat for dramatic effect. "So it's only fair I have yours."

David stared at him blankly. "What?"

"You fucked Stina. Let me have Lauren and we're even."

"Wait. What?"

Troy waited for the idea to penetrate David's skull. Once he saw comprehension bloom, he continued: "Or we can go tell her together what you did."

"Stina lied," David blurted, trying to backpedal. "I never touched her."

"It's too late for that, David. I can get Stina to call Lauren and describe your body to her as she tearfully confesses. Would you rather your wife hears the horrible details from the other woman? That's going to really hurt."

David chewed a fingernail. He scanned the neighborhood, suddenly feeling open and exposed. Had neighbors seen Stina come over that day? Had they seen her leave later with wet hair?

How could I have been so stupid?

Troy read his face. "Don't be too hard on yourself, my friend. Stina is impulsive and gorgeous. She always gets what she wants. That day she wanted you."

"It was her fault, not mine."

"Maybe. But she didn't make a solemn vow to Lauren. You did."

David felt the Earth tilt. A humming bird buzzed his head. Sounds receded. A dog barked on the other side of the neighborhood. He was trapped.

"How?" he croaked. "How will you...do it.?"

Troy knew then he'd won.

"I'll figure something out. I may need your help to make it happen but hopefully not. I'm pretty good with the ladies. Do you want me to tell you afterward or leave you ignorant? That way you can pretend I haven't fucked her yet."

Troy's words were a fist rammed into his guts. David winced and felt his legs go weak. He knew Troy could succeed, even with Lauren, and the thought made him sick. He wanted out of this conversation and away from this man.

"I've got to go," David said.

Troy watched him pass through the front door.

On to step two, he thought.

Chapter 9

Lauren gazed into the yard below. Troy lay spread-eagle, eliminating tan lines, and Lauren studied every beautiful inch of him. She sighed. He touched his penis often and she wondered if all men did that.

He'd been out a short time when he suddenly stood and pulled up his shorts. He left his towel and bong so she expected him to return and so the knock on her front door startled her. She quickly closed the drapes and smoothed her dress. She checked her face and hair on the way past the bathroom. Through the peephole, she saw Troy, shirtless, on her porch. She took a deep breath to calm herself and slowly opened the door. His gorgeous face was almost pretty, she decided.

"Hi, neighbor," he began. "I'm home during the day and realized you are too. Feel like lying in the sun? We could get to know each other better."

Lauren stammered a no thank you and then lied about too much housework left to do. She immediately felt guilty.

"I understand," he said. "If you change your mind or finish early, come on over. I have some weed or beer if you prefer. My side gate is always unlocked. I'm out between noon and two. Don't be a stranger. We should be friends."

"That's a thoughtful invitation, Troy, thank you."

"No problem." He started to go but turned back. "While I'm here. Do you have matches or a lighter? My lighter ran out."

"Sure," she said. "Come in."

He stepped inside and she quickly closed the door behind him, wondering how many neighbors saw him enter.

"In the kitchen," she said. "Follow me."

He watched her butt from behind, picturing her naked. She carried a little too much weight but she carried it well. He rubbed his crotch. Lauren felt his eyes on her and her skin warmed. She got flustered and opened the wrong drawer. While she searched for the box of matches, Troy rubbed his trunks again, working up a little size. By the time she turned, he'd swollen enough to draw her eyes.

"Wonderful," he said, extending a hand. "I'll replace these."

"Nonsense. I have another box out in the garage. Don't worry about it."

She fought hard to keep her eyes on his but the moment he looked away, her eyes darted down again. She saw the outline and matched that to her memories of him naked by the pool. Her face blushed.

Troy made sure his finger brushed hers when he took the box. She walked him to the door and he repeated his invitation.

"You do not want to see this old body in a bathing suit," she said. "I am not young enough for that."

"You're wrong, Lauren. I think you're a lovely woman. Skinny is for anorexic models. Nobody wants that these days. I sure don't. I think you're sexy."

He stopped there. Her big eyes told him he'd said enough. He didn't want to frighten her off.

"Anyway," he added quickly. "Thanks for the matches. Hope you join me."

She closed the door behind him. He knew she'd head directly upstairs and he was ready, dropping his shorts when he returned to his lounge and showing off the half-swollen cock she'd given him.

Lauren saw the proof of his desire and her heart flipped. He wasn't just saying nice things. She'd had a real effect on him. He was half swollen because of her. She focused the binoculars and chewed her lip.

Troy could have any woman he wants yet he wants me?

The thought was too much to contemplate. For the first time in her life she imagined herself with a man other than her husband. Shame washed over her but she could not hold the thoughts back. Images poured over her, flooding her mind.

Troy reached for his penis as soon as he was settled. Lauren held her breath watching the man masturbate, daring to believe it was she he pictured. Sweat broke out across her warm skin. He got hard fast, much faster than David, and his straining cock throbbed in the bright sunlight. His hand stroked the length, the head flared with arousal, dark red and angry

"Dear God," she groaned.

She watched him intently, studying every muscle, every inch of skin. When sperm blasted from the head, she jumped.

David wasn't interested in sex that night but she noticed he asked a lot of questions about her day. She tried touching herself after he was asleep but found that only made things worse. She rolled over and forced herself to sleep.

Chapter 10

The next day Troy was at her door again. He returned the box of matches and thanked her again and then mentioned he'd be gone for five days surfing a tournament in Hawaii. He asked if she'd feed his fish and cat while he was away.

"Of course, " she replied.

"Awesome. Here's a house key. She's an outdoor cat so don't worry about her. Do you have a minute? I'll show you where I keep their food."

Lauren felt incredibly self-conscious crossing the front yards, sure every neighbor watched them closely.

Troy's house was spectacular on the inside; all glass and steel and marble. The tropical aquarium took an entire wall and teemed with brightly colored fish and coral. Troy gave her a tour and with each room her astonishment grew. He admitted to hiring a professional interior design artist from New York.

When he walked her through his bedroom, she fidgeted, nervous to be in here with him and her thoughts. She stared at his enormous bed when he wasn't looking and wondered how many women had been in it, under him, moaning and sweating as his hard cock...

She stopped herself. Such thoughts were unworthy of a happily married woman.

I shouldn't even be here. I need to leave quickly.

A long hall was lined with glass display cases which held innumerable trophies and plaques. Lauren saw Troy photographed with movie stars and professional athletes. He tried to move down the hallway quickly but Lauren made him slow, remarking on each award as she read it.

"You're world-class," she said, truly impressed.

"I'm just a natural," he said. "I got lucky."

"No, this kind of success takes hard work."

The kitchen took her breath away. She wandered while Troy went on about the state of the art appliances and clever cabinetry.

"The walk-in pantry is filled from the garage," he said. "I back the car in and stock everything. No carrying groceries. Then I lock my car and after a quick peek through this spyhole to make sure the door doesn't hit anyone, I come straight into the house."

"They thought of everything," she said.

Chapter 11

In the morning, David left the house first. Soon Lauren watched the school bus pull away with James and Stacey and then Troy threw his bags in a taxi and waved goodbye. She returned the wave, waited an hour, and then grabbed the key to his house. Lauren was in the mood to snoop.

She scooped cat food to account for her being here then moved from room to room, learning all she could about this man. She found a stash of marijuana and brightly colored pills in the master bathroom. In a nightstand drawer, she found several realistic latex penises, two white, one black, and stared at them slightly too long. Embarrassed, she shut the drawer. The next drawer contained padded handcuffs and a blindfold and she slammed that shut right away.

A remote sat next to a lamp but she saw no television. She picked it up and pointed it around the room at random, pressing the power button. A thin screen descended from the ceiling, coming to life, glowing with a freeze-frame of Troy on the bed, hands behind his head, staring down his body while two pretty girls sucked his cock laughing. Lauren hit play and the girls began to work, filling the bedroom with giggling and slurping. They were having fun without a shred of jealousy.

"What a life this guy lives," she muttered, feeling self-conscious. "Probably prostitutes." She watched them another moment and knew she was wrong. These girls were friends with each other and with Troy. Everyone was just having fun.

She studied them as they slobbering over everything while their hands stroked. She'd never tried to give David this pleasure because penises are dirty and don't belong in a mouth, but she couldn't look away. They clearly loved what they were doing as much as Troy. Maybe more. Lauren moved closer to the screen and watched his penis, now the size of a baseball bat in front of her face, slip in and out. The girls were gorgeous and happy and having fun. What she'd imagined oral sex to be like did not match what her eyes showed her. Troy was in Heaven. Lauren liked that Troy was in Heaven. The girls were having a blast.

Maybe I should reconsider, she thought.

Troy began to spurt and a girl laughed and quickly covered his head with her mouth. She sucked hard while the other girl licked testicles and Troy moaned loud and with meaning. Lauren watched, fascinated, as his balls lifted. The girl was sucking and swallowing sperm and, judging by her expression, sperm tasted wonderful. Lauren was stunned. The girl sucking wanted Troy's ejaculate. She wanted to swallow him. Her cheeks pulled in from the vacuum, her eyes glittered with laughter.

"Save me some," her friend said, shoving the first girl away.

The other girl closed her mouth over the end and Troy groaned again. His balls lifted a few more times and Lauren understood he was feeding the other girl now, and she was just as eager for his seed. Both acted like they wanted every drop.

Lauren was as disgusted as she was mesmerized. When his mighty balls finally ran out, the girls French kissed over his softening erection, swapping spit and sperm equally, making out as Troy's semen trickled down their throats. She could not believe what she witnessed, but she could not look away.

Eventually Troy left the bed and grabbed the remote and the screen went blank, but only for an instant before the next scene flashed and Troy held petite legs on his shoulders and pounded a small feminine body beneath him. Lauren couldn't see her face but her hair was long and blonde.

Lauren jumped when the camera angle moved. Troy and the woman were being filmed! Lauren assumed the camera had been perched atop a tripod near the bed. The pan came around and the blonde woman, who Lauren now saw was in her forties, looked at the camera.

"Isn't it sexy, Greg?" she said into the lens. "Look at that big cock hammering your wife. Point the camera down there, Baby. I want to watch Troy fuck me when we get home."

Lauren hit pause, her expression stunned surprise.

This woman's husband is filming her with Troy.

Lauren sat on the bed.

How is such a thing possible?

She tried to imagine watching David with another woman and her mind recoiled. She tried to imagine David watching, filming, her with Troy and her heart ached.

He'd hate it. It would kill him.

Lauren looked at the screen again. With trembling hand, she pointed the remote and hit play. The husband panned down his wife's body, pausing on her large heaving breasts before traveling south again. Lauren held her breath as the camera found Troy, rock hard and gleaming with wetness, sliding in and out of the woman's bare pussy. The sight was graphic and lewd and scandalous. Lauren leaned closer. His penis looked so broad. Her labia ballooned around his shaft, clinging to him as he sawed. Lauren felt an intense tingling between her legs. If David felt big, what must Troy feel like? The woman's heartfelt moans answered that question.

"Baby," the woman said. "I'm going to cum. I love his hard dick, Baby. Tell me to cum on it. Tell me to gush all over that beautiful beast."

A deep voice off camera spoke. "Do it, Jazmine," her husband said. "I want to see. I love what his cock does to you. Show me."

The woman groaned and the camera zoomed. Lauren saw the muscles in the woman's legs clench. She saw Jazmine grip the bedspread and heard her cry out.

"Jesus! Fuck!" she yelled, her abs tightened and her fists tugged the comforter. Her entire body went rigid and then she turned loose a long wail of pleasure, her hips thrusting wildly.

Lauren exhaled hard. She felt feverish and weak. Her orgasms were nothing like other women and she now wondered if there was something wrong with her. The blonde woman lost her mind under a pounding Troy.

"Fill her with cum," the deep voice off camera said.

Lauren was shocked. The man was telling Troy to inseminate his wife. Why? What kind of man says such a thing? She wanted to look away but she had to see Troy climax. This was no masturbation in the sun. This was not oral sex from eighty feet away. This was hot and real and up close.

Troy's cock swelled thicker and the woman went crazy. Moments later Troy joined her madness and they howled together as Troy pumped her full of sperm. Lauren was shaking by the time it was all over.

Unable to watch more, she hit stop and turned off the television. Jumbled emotions crashed around inside her: Guilt for watching something so intimate, especially after Troy trusted her, angst from watching something so passionate and wanting the same for herself. Lust, too, which she didn't recognize, after watching something so raw and powerful. She drank rarely but needed a glass of wine now. She knew Troy wouldn't mind.

In the kitchen, she pulled a barstool and poured. How had so much changed so fast? She downed a glass and poured another. After a few minutes, she returned to Troy's bedroom, feeling an odd comfort as she entered, a new familiarity. In here with his closet full of clothes and his matching bath towels, she felt him nearby. She wandered to the bed and powered up the television again. She took her seat at the foot of the bed and hit play. The final seconds of the husband and his blonde wife played.

The screen flickered. Troy had an older woman, nude, tied to the bed. A blindfold covered her eyes. In the background Lauren saw two other tripods with mounted cameras. Troy, already erect, circled the bed carrying a lit candle. He'd stoop to nibble and bite her skin. Occasionally he'd tip the candle and dribble hot wax across the woman's sensitive flesh. She'd jump and exhale sharply, writhing beneath the stimulation. Lauren noticed the woman's large nipples were terribly erect.

Troy set the candle on the nightstand and removed one of the large dildos Lauren had seen earlier. He teased the woman with it before easing the cylinder between her lips and into her hole. He flipped a switch on the end and the thing began to vibrate. He sank the remaining inches in and she groaned. Lauren noted the woman was about the same age as she and possessed roughly the same body type. Clearly, Troy had no problem with such a lover.

"No," she said into the empty room. "No. No. No."

Lauren hit stop. She pressed the button to hide the screen in the ceiling again and smoothed the wrinkles from the bedspread.

This was all too much.

"Go home, Lauren Sugar," she said.

She tossed the remote on the bed and stomped from the room.

Chapter 12

Troy dimmed his phone and glanced around the airport. He had to smile. Lauren had explored his home immediately, just like he knew she would. He'd paused the sex video in that specific spot and purchased extra dildos for the bottom drawer, hopeful he'd see Lauren use them.

Perhaps that was a bit too optimistic.

He'd been deliberate when he showed her the exterior cameras and video system and left her to assume that meant no interior cameras, but of course that was wrong. He had hidden cameras all over the house. She'd done nothing but watch the videos and drink some wine but that was a start. He knew curiosity would bring her back in search of more videos. She would find some doozies.

I can't wait to see how she reacts to me and Clarence double-teaming Kandi. Every woman loves watching that recording.

He imagined Lauren so aroused she used one of the replica penises on herself.

All in good time, he thought. I'm loving how long this is taking.

A spokesperson announced his flight for Hawaii and he grabbed his carry-on. He'd be gone a while, plenty of time for her to peruse his library. He imagined the day Lauren agreed to make a video with him and his penis twitched.

The ultimate seduction, he thought. Innocent, married, mother of two, knowingly making a sex tape with me. He smiled at the thought.
Heaven.

The flight attendant opened the gate and Troy made his way to the plane.

Chapter 13

David read the message again; Meet me today at the Blue Dolphin motel, room 18, 1 P.M.- Stina

He closed his office door and returned to his desk to read the message again. His heart hammered inside his chest.

She wants sex with me again, he thought. He pictured her naked; long black hair, smooth skin, dark eyes and small breasts. His penis lifted.

Or maybe she needs to tell me she's pregnant, he thought.

A cold chill raced through him. His life would be ruined. Lauren would be so deeply wounded. It knocked the wind out of him to think he could hurt Lauren like that.

He read the message again. There was no urgency to it, no sense of dire warning. The more he thought about it the more it seemed she just wanted more sex.

With me.

He told his colleagues he'd take lunch around twelve-thirty to run some errands and nobody cared. This dead-end job crushed them all. He grabbed his jacket and car keys and drove too fast across town. He knocked on the door to room eighteen at twelve-fifty and heard movement inside. The eyehole went dark and then Stina opened the door. She was nude and her hair was wet. Behind her he saw the bathroom mirror covered in steam.

An instant later he was in her arms and they were kissing ferociously. His greedy hands roamed her firm body, amazed to find her beneath his touch again. He dragged her to the bed and she helped rip his clothing off and then he was fucking her from behind, ramming his penis into her drenched slit and grunting wildly. He knew he was acting like an unsophisticated lover but he couldn't stop himself. She seemed to like his loss of control so he hammered even harder.

I gave Lauren to Troy for this, he thought. I might as well get everything I can.

He pushed thoughts of Lauren from his mind. Stina was gasping with pleasure, soaking wet, and thrusting her hips to capture his dick. Sex had never been better.

Five days later he got the same message and met her again.

Chapter 14

Lauren poured the wine first and then headed for the bedroom. She'd explored the house thoroughly and felt comfortable and safe. She'd found Troy's library and worked her way through each sexual romp, watching again the ones she liked best. Her favorite was Troy and a man named Clarence with a young but very pretty girl with large breasts and long legs. The girl stirred feelings in Lauren she had no idea how to handle. David was less interested in sex these last few days and masturbation only made her feelings more intense. Today she was going to try one of Troy's realistic penises. She'd thoroughly scrubbed the thing already and it now stood drying on the nightstand.

She set her wine next to the erect cock. It was big; taller than her wine glass and as thick as her wrist. In many ways, the thing looked like Troy and she wondered if that's why he'd chosen it.

I know that's why I did.

She hit play and the sweet girl on the screen worked Troy's cock into her mouth. Lauren watched and tried to do the same to the dildo, opening her mouth wide, relaxing her jaw, breathing through her nose and trying her best to take even half. She failed.

Thousands of miles away, Troy watched her efforts on his phone and stroked his cock. His plan had been somewhat successful; he wanted her to fuck herself on the toys he bought but that was too far for Lauren. She wasn't ready for that. She could explore the idea of oral sex, however.

On the screen, Clarence moved behind the girl and slid his big cock deep. The girl's gorgeous face contorted with intense pleasure. Troy took the girl's head and gently pushed his cock farther into her mouth and down her throat.

This was Lauren's favorite part.

Clarence held her hips and began moving back and forth and Lauren saw the truth on the young woman's face; this was like nothing else in the world for her. Two men touched her body and filled her at each end and their throbbing meat made her swoon. Lauren saw her contentment and pleasure. This young woman loved fucking but especially loved fucking these two hot and well-hung men. They handled her with an expert touch, knowing what she liked but also taking control. She was their willing victim. The men pushed balls deep at each end and the pretty girl groaned, stuffed to bursting, then shivered with a small orgasm.

"You're beautiful, Kandi," Troy said, and he was right. Her healthy smooth skin was flush with excitement. Her nipples stiff, her pussy torrential. "Fuck her deep, Clarence," Troy added. "Let her feel you all the way in."

The men set to work and Kandi came again moments later.

Lauren relaxed her throat and tried again on the dildo, traveling a little farther this time before gagging. She whimpered with lust at what she witnessed on the screen and the emptiness she felt between her legs.

By watching and pausing and rewinding, she worked herself into a sexual frustration greater than any she'd ever known. When David got home that night she didn't wait for him, snuggling and rubbing her body on his until he made love to her.

In the morning, she sent her family out into the world and then, around noon, fed the fish and the cat and, nervous and trembling more than when she watched Troy's movies, stretched out in the sun in her one-piece.

She wanted to see what sunbathing at Troy's house felt like and she enjoyed it very much. She was anxious and jumpy but eventually relaxed. The scandal thrilled her. Partially undressed under an open sky at another man's home left her shaking.

Troy watched her first tentative steps on his phone that night in his hotel, chuckling to himself about the bold and adventurous Lauren. He was eager to get home and begin the next phase of her seduction.

She finished an hour later and returned to his bedroom, washing away the sweat in his shower and walking around naked. The cool air stiffened her nipples and her skin felt delicious. She had no idea Troy watched from halfway around the world. She felt reckless and unfettered and even twirled crossing from the bathroom to his bed. Something large and heavy was shifting inside her, something foundational. Her husband and her kids brought deep emotional satisfaction, but where was the fun? Where was the excitement?

She lay on her back on his huge bed and spread like a starfish. An idea tickled her brain, an inkling of a thought; can I have more than I do right now?

She felt ashamed for even thinking of herself in such an egotistical way, but there it was. Why not? a voice seemed to answer.

She lay another few minutes, reveling in her inappropriate nudity, and then dressed before returning to her married life.

The next day, she cleaned out the cupboards and refrigerator of all the junk food. She deleted almost all her television shows scheduled to record. She got on the bathroom scale and wrote her weight in dry-erase on the board in the kitchen, and she strapped on her sneakers and went for a long walk.

Chapter 15

Troy tilted his hat and nudged his sunglasses with his thumb. The cast on his arm let him do little else. He struggled to reach his drink and Lauren heard the chair squeak. She quickly sat up and held his drink for him, shaking her head.

"You kept competing even with your arm broken?"

Troy gave her a sheepish grin. "Yeah. Finished second. Forty-thousand."

"You took second place with a broken arm? And won forty grand?"

"Yes."

She shook her head again. "Boys."

Troy leaned back and she set his drink on the small table. She stretched out, working her sore butt into the chair, basking in the warm sun, skin gleaming under a fresh coat of moisturizing sunscreen. She'd been eating right and exercising and in the two weeks since he returned from Hawaii, her body had already changed some. He giggled internally. David was losing his mind, asking every day if anything had happened yet. Troy assured him no but David saw Lauren's gradual transformation. He knew his wife was making herself more attractive for this handsome younger man. Worse, to get more information, David had taken Troy golfing and they'd used the sauna at the clubhouse after. Troy had sat with his knees spread and David had seen under the man's towel. David's heart jumped to his throat.

He's going to put that inside Lauren?

They'd showered after and David looked at Troy's dick every chance he got. The sight left him speechless. Troy was a roguish, immature man, brash, over-confident, a little too loud, all the faults of a young male, but there was no denying his superior cock. David found it frighteningly easy to picture Lauren and that beast together. David was wildly intimidated and rendered speechless. Troy seemed oblivious to David's reaction, laughing and talking about current events. While they dressed at the lockers, Troy's dick swung within inches of David's face numerous times but David never shied away. The hanging shaft and heavy balls had filled him with dread.

Lauren's phone chimed. She checked the screen.

"Your husband again?" Troy asked.

"Yes," Lauren replied. "He calls or texts every day now, just to check up on me. He never used to at all. I don't know what's changed but I kind of like it. He has no idea I come over and lay out with you, but a guy he works with commented on my weight loss. I think my husband might actually be a little jealous."

Troy chuckled. "It's good for him. David should realize what an amazing woman he has in you."

Lauren rolled her eyes but secretly loved it. Troy was always so complimentary. She'd resisted his invitation to tan until she'd lost ten pounds but now she joined him almost every day. She was sore all over but it was worth all the effort. She had a long way to go but what a great start.

"What are you going to say?" Troy asked, watching Lauren punch the keys on her phone.

"That I'm grocery shopping," she said. "Which will be true in about forty minutes. He doesn't need to know I'm here with you. He'd worry for no reason. Nothing's going on but he'd hate it all the same."

"Something's definitely going on," Troy teased. "I gawk at you every minute you're here."

"Shut up."

"It's true. Why do you think I keep these sunglasses on?"

Lauren hit send and turned onto her stomach. She pretended to ignore Troy but he was right. She often caught him looking and a thrill ran through her every time.

"I should probably switch to a two-piece," she said. "Before I get weird tan lines."

"Lay out naked," Troy shot back. "I did all the time before you joined me."

"Really? I'm sorry to cramp your style. Should I go?"

"No, you should lay out naked with me."

She shook a finger at him. "Behave. I'm married."

He said nothing. The idea had been planted and that's all he wanted.

Chapter 16

The next day she wore a two-piece. He suggested since tan lines were her concern she untie the strings, at least while on her stomach. She surprised him by agreeing right away. He studied her from his chair, following the smooth curves of her body. He was fine with her body before but admitted her weight loss looked better.

"I can see a difference in your body, Laurie. Well done."

She sighed. "Thank you. David hasn't mentioned anything yet."

They lay in silence but Lauren was pleased. She liked that Troy called her Laurie, she liked that her weight loss was noticeable, and she really liked that he studied her enough to see the difference already. The two-piece exposed an uncomfortable amount of skin but here in the backyard, alone with Troy, she felt safe. She knew the neighbors must be gossiping by now.

"I'm having some friends over to the house this weekend," he told her. "You and David should come by. Eight o'clock on Saturday."

"That sounds delightful," she said. "I'll try to arrange a sitter."

Forty-five minutes later Lauren walked the produce aisle. David texted again and she responded, asking if he wanted bananas or oranges. She said nothing of her time by the pool but mentioned Saturday night and her eagerness to go. David was surprisingly reluctant but she wore him down.

Chapter 17

"You can stay or you can go," Troy said. "I don't care either way. Stay if you're worried for her safety or go if you can't handle being there, but this Saturday night I'm making a move."

David covered his head with his towel and filled his lungs with steam. Troy sat as always; knees spread wide, towel pushed back, thick cock hanging down, resting comfortably on the wooden bench. David looked at it more often these days, stung by approaching inevitability.

"Just get it over with," he snapped.

His beloved Lauren was in the path of an oncoming train and David knew he just had to resign himself to it. When they'd first discussed his wrongdoing with Stina and Troy's solution for it, David imagined Troy would move on Lauren quickly. He hadn't. The dread had built inside David for weeks.

"Maybe you should drink too much at my party and pass out," Troy suggested. "That way you can be there without being involved in any way. Lauren will stay at my place if you're sleeping there."

"Fine."

The other guys in the sauna smirked. They didn't know the details of the arrangement but they could guess what was happening. David was grateful he knew none of them. The last thing he needed was for word to spread around the club. He'd die of shame if anyone found out another man had sex with Lauren.

"Fair is fair," Troy said, playing to the eavesdroppers. "You fucked Stina. I fuck Lauren. After that we're even."

"Can you avoid names, please?" David hissed. "You talk like it's no big deal but it is to me. I know most of the men here."

"Yeah, all right. Sorry."

Troy smiled on the inside. He lifted his towel to wipe his face but in truth he showed the men the cock that would be fucking David's wife, and they stared just like David. Several smirked again and David stared at the floor. Troy looped the towel around his neck and leaned back on his elbows, the plastic bag around his cast crinkling in the silence. A few of the guys gave him a knowing grin.

"I need to go home," David said.

He covered his head and face with his towel and headed for the lockers.

Chapter 18

Lauren arranged the babysitter and David suggested she get one that could stay the night. Lauren was a little surprised but said okay. They arrived at Troy's place earlier than most and Lauren helped with finishing touches while David started drinking.

As guests arrived, David was relieved he knew none of them. Troy made introductions and David and Lauren shared small talk with many. Most everyone was involved in the surfing or skateboarding industries but some were beverage and promotions people. David lost track of Lauren while engaged in conversation with a man about Red Bull.

She'd worn a red dress to the party so David found her without difficulty, standing by the fireplace and talking to Troy and some of his surfer friends. David noticed Troy stood in her personal space but she seemed perfectly comfortable with it. David moved to the bar and gulped three shots of whiskey in a row. Knowing what was coming drove him a little crazy. Someone was sure to keep her wine glass full and David saw the effect that had on a woman who rarely drank. Lauren laughed often and talked with strangers easily.

A man raised his phone to take a picture and Troy slipped his arm around Lauren and pulled her closer. She laughed at first then flashed a guilty look at David, who lifted his tumbler in salute and downed his drink. Lauren looked concerned but when Troy pulled her body closer, she went with it, leaning on him. The camera flashed.

Lauren stayed and chatted a while longer before weaving through the throng and joining her husband at the bar.

"Sorry about that," she said. "He's had a few."

"No problem," David said. "We're all adults and we don't know any of these people and most likely will never see them again. Have fun with your new friend Troy."

David thought about confessing. The alcohol made him brave and the reality of an impending Troy drove him nuts. Lauren was the unsuspecting prey and it hurt just to look at her. He wished for the millionth time he'd never met Stina.

I can't blame it on a stupid mistake when I do it again and again.

He swallowed the rest of his whiskey.

Lauren gave him a serious look. "How many drinks have you had?"

"No idea. Not enough."

Lauren pursed her lips with disapproval but remained silent.

"We have the babysitter all night," David said. "I'm sure Troy will let us crash here. Have fun, Lauren. I'm stressed from work and a nice buzz sounds perfect."

She leaned in to kiss her husband. David spotted Troy pointing at Lauren.

"I think Troy wants you to meet someone," David said.

"Come with me."

"Honey, I'm comfortable right here. You go have fun. Don't keep Troy waiting."

He watched her ass as she crossed the room, fully aware of her new shape. He felt his stomach flip because all her efforts were for Troy, whether she realized it or not. He filled his tumbler and gulped it down.

Thirty minutes later a man he'd never met approached him.

"Hi," the man said. He wore a tan blazer and round wireframe glasses and looked like a promotions guy. He smiled at David and waited.

"Hi," David replied. "Can I help you?"

The man's smile would not fade.

"You've had too much to drink and it's my job to lead you to a back bedroom."

"What are you talking about?"

The man pushed his glasses up his nose with a knuckle. "You've had too much to drink and it's my job to lead you to a back bedroom."

David was about to tell the man to fuck off when everything clicked. "Oh."

"Yeah," the man said. "Lean on me. Make it look real."

David was mortified. Here was at least one man who was in on the game Troy was playing. How many other men at this party knew Troy would try to fuck Lauren tonight? Did they all know she was his wife? Undoubtedly. Knowing Troy, he'd want all his friends in on the joke.

David poured a double and guzzled it. He should have been drunk by now but a heavy dinner and a constant flow of adrenaline conspired to keep him sober. He threw his arm around his new friend's shoulder and walked the long hall to a spare bedroom. Lauren cut them off halfway.

"Honey? Are you all right?"

"He's fine," Glasses said. "I'll put him in a bedroom to sleep it off."

David played along. Lauren quickly scanned the party to see how many guests noticed her intoxicated husband and then primped her hair and returned to Troy. David entered the bedroom where Glasses dumped him on a bed and returned to the party. David found the television remote and turned it on but left the sound off. He hit captions to follow along. He kicked off his shoes and stripped down to his boxers and T-shirt.

What might be happening between Lauren and Troy began to eat at his brain.

He listened to the party from under the door and over the next few hours the sounds trickled down to almost nothing. He dozed for a while.

When he awoke, the house was quiet. The light under the door was dim. Trepidation filled him. He lay along the foot of the bed, facing the flickering television.

Do I stay and wonder or prowl and possibly see something I do not want to see?

He was wrestling with the choice when the door to his room opened slowly and quietly. He pretended to sleep, eyes imperceptible slits.

Lauren entered, carrying her shoes in one hand and a glass of wine in the other. Troy was with her.

"See?" he whispered. "I told you he'd be out. The bartender said he put away a gallon of whiskey in a short time."

Lauren gazed lovingly at her husband sprawled across the comforter. Troy came up behind her, standing close. Together they watched David sleep. Troy leaned closer and closer until Lauren felt the heat from his skin. When his lips touched her shoulder, she froze. The next kiss landed two inches farther up her neck and she softly exhaled. Her jaw moved as she tried to tell him to stop, but no words came out. The next kiss warmed her earlobe. Lauren shivered.

David wanted to scream. He could do nothing. Troy was making his move right in front of him but he was forced to stay silent. Troy kissed her neck again and Lauren sighed. Troy lightly ran his fingers up her arm, raising goose bumps on her skin. She desperately wanted to tell him to stop, especially with David only a few feet away, but her body would not allow it. The sexual tension she felt with Troy had been building for weeks, if not months, and the wine in her head kept saying everything was fine.

Troy leaned close enough his bulging crotch brushed her thigh. She gasped and moved a few inches away. Troy held himself perfectly still.

She knows that was cock, he thought. This is the moment of truth. This is where the woman always make her decision.

Married women respond better to sex than intimacy, Troy thought. Intimacy threatens their world, places the kids in danger, turns everything upside down. Sex is easier, cleaner, less involved.

Lauren eased her thigh against his bulge.

She'd made her choice, Troy thought. He smiled.

David felt his heart cave in. He'd seen what Troy did and Lauren's response. This was going to happen and going to happen right now.

Troy kissed her neck and Lauren's hand drifted ever so slightly around her leg. Her fingertips skimmed the warm pipe under his pants and briefly squeezed. David held his breath. This was pure torture. He wanted them to leave the room but was equally terrified of them leaving the room. He risked opening his eyes a little more. They were clearly involved now.

Lauren had her palm pressed firmly against Troy's shaft, her eyelids fluttering as she felt a new penis for the first time. He pulsed in her hand, full of blood and life and power. She remembered all those times watching him from the upstairs window, the long, solid tube spitting plentiful amounts of sperm over the deck.

"Not here," she whimpered, and David's heart broke. "Not in front of him."

Troy ignored her. His free hand slid up her leg and cupped her ass, squeezing before curling around in front and rising to her breast. Lauren was dizzy and leaned on Troy to remain standing. His hand moved on from her breast to hold her chin and turn her lips to his. David bit down hard.

The anxiety she felt at Troy's touch vanished when it came to kissing him. She returned his kisses with hot passion, turning to wrap her arms around his head. They made out for long moments, desire rising, until Troy spun her away and lifted her dress from behind.

Her mind was empty now, just animal reactions to his strong and aggressive touch and her own inflamed lusts. He bent her slightly and pulled her panties aside. She felt a thick, hot, iron bar slid between her thighs and split her pussy. All the air left her lungs in a rush. That impossibly stiff cock sank an a few inches deep and she covered her mouth with both hands, smothering a shocked cry. Her mind exploded in every direction. Guilt got trampled by intense pleasure and wild desire. She clenched her pussy around the large invading penis and her bliss shot through the roof. Troy pushed her wide open, filled her until she stretched. She felt his thickness in her hips.

"You're so big," she whimpered.

David died. He heard the desire in his wife's sweet voice. Her dress blocked his view but he pictured Troy's cock inside his wife's pussy. He knew that heavy cock from the sauna, that weapon waved in his face at the gym, now impaled Lauren, his loving wife and the mother of his children.

Troy kissed her neck and shoulders, slowly dragging her to the bedroom floor. He pushed her dress higher as Lauren braced herself on all fours and then he withdrew half before pushing all the way in.

This time, in the glow from the television, David saw everything.

Muted colors gleamed all along Troy's shaft. Lauren's arousal coated his enemy's cock. Troy held her ass cheeks and worked in and out and Lauren made soft sounds of surrender. David stared and did nothing. When he looked at Troy's face, he found the brash young man staring at him and smiling.

I know you're awake, Troy mouthed, the filled Lauren's married pussy with cock again. He wanted to give her no time to think, no time to remember her husband lay only a few feet away. He worked the length of his thick erection all the way in before withdrawing most and then working balls deep again.

Lauren was overwhelmed, David far from her mind. Sex had never been like this. She'd never imagine sex could be like this. The physical difference between Troy and David sent her mind reeling, but so did Troy's desire for her and his desire to please her. His fat cock throbbed with need. She felt him pulsating deep in her guts. He handled her roughly, taking her, possessing her, being the man and making her feel like a woman. Her pussy gushed until she felt ashamed.

The familiar tingling started again but this time all the muscles of her pelvis joined in. Her pleasure climbed skyward with every violent thrust he made. Something was happening, something different, something she did not recognize or understand. The sensations seemed to linger and stack atop each other. Her pleasure was growing and building, expanding until it reached her legs and chest. The tingling she knew spread up into her stomach and down into her thighs and she gasped for breath as he fucked her like an animal. They struggled to remain silent.

Troy was relentless and her pleasure intensified. A threshold was crossed and her ecstasy suddenly shot skyward.

"Oh!" she cried.

Her eyes flared and every muscle cramped. An explosion of pleasure detonated from her clit and where her pussy gripped Troy's stiff cock. She fell to her elbows and covered her mouth with both hands. A bomb went off like nothing she'd ever known and a long low moan poured from far back in her throat. She was cumming, hard, and for the first time ever. She pushed knuckles into her mouth to stay quiet but her throat gurgled from blinding pleasure. Small, panicked, animal sounds escaped her throat. She whimpered and whined. She sucked air as the intense sensations knocked her around and left her dizzy.

Tears sprang to David's eyes. Guilt ate him alive. This was all his fault. He felt awful that he'd caused this but far worse to realize Lauren was having her first orgasm, and Troy was the man to give it to her. All the times they'd made love and Lauren had claimed to climax had been false. She hadn't lied, she just hadn't known. Neither of them did until now and it was Troy's big dick that got her there.

Lauren lost her mind. Sweat sprang out all over her back and legs. She strangled her cries of pleasure but her body screamed anyway, jerking and writhing. David watched in the dim glow. Troy kept fucking, pushing her higher and higher, until her face fell to the carpet. She covered her head with her arms and lifted her hips, offering her cunt to Troy to do as he pleased. He fucked her even harder, ripping another orgasm from the stunned woman. Troy pounded her through that one too but then slowed and let her return to Earth. He had her. She would forever pursue the pleasures he'd shown her here tonight.

He gradually slowed until his head pressed to her cervix and his balls rested on her labia, looking attached.

"Why?" she panted. "Why'd you stop?"

"Let's move to the bed," he whispered.

Lauren shook her head. "David's there."

"He's unconscious. The floor hurts my knees. Yours too, I bet."

It was true. Lauren studied her husband. David considered yelling boo. He felt sick and brokenhearted but in the back of his mind a perverse and growing arousal had him wanting more. This was a new Lauren. This was a mysterious Lauren. What else would she do? How far would she go? How long would she last before guilt and shame overcame her and sent her crying from the room?

This is the punishment I deserve, he thought.

Lauren stood by the bed and smoothed her dress.

"Honey," she said, waiting. "Honey?" a little louder.

David didn't budge.

"David?" Her voice was clear. She shook the mattress, rocking his head. He did not respond. Troy moved next to her, his hard dick jutting out from his hips, pointed at David's face. Lauren glanced at it then watched her husband. Troy took her hand and tugged her towards the bed but she resisted.

"I can't," she said. "He's right here. It's too much."

Troy hugged her. "I understand," he said. "Let's go."

After a moment, he moved her towards the door and out of the room. David rolled onto his back. His guts were twisted in knots and he was glad for them to be gone, but what would happen next?

Do I stay here and wonder or go find out? Can I bear to see more?

He wrestled with his emotions until Lauren's soft moan floated through the doorway. He slipped from bed and padded down the hall. All the guests were gone and the house dark. The double doors to the master bedroom were wide open. The chandelier over the massive bed had been dimmed to an orange glow. Two small piles of clothing littered the floor.

Troy, naked, lay on his back and Lauren, also naked, worked to align his cock to her pussy. Her bare body hit David hard. He'd seen her nude a million times but no other man had. He'd been unaware how much that privilege meant to him until Troy's hands roamed her big tits. She rubbed his head around and then sank onto him. David had the perfect view of Troy's cock impaling her pussy. She moaned louder as each inch invaded.

"You like my cock?" Troy asked.

Lauren nodded and gasped for air. She balanced herself with her hands on his chest and eased her tunnel down around him.

"It's incredible," she groaned.

"You don't seem very surprised by it. Most girls are. Is this what you're used to?"

"No," she murmured, guilt flaring again. "You're bigger than David." She considered admitting she'd watched from the window but that was too depraved. No respectable woman would do such a thing. Troy would be disgusted with her.

"No more talking," she said.

She leaned down and kissed Troy with meaning. Neither of them had noticed David standing in the doorway yet. When they broke the kiss, Troy told her to lean back and play with her tits. She glanced sideways, clearly uncomfortable.

"Lauren," Troy said. "I'm trying to open the door for you. I want to show you how amazing sex can be."

"You already have."

Troy chuckled. "Your orgasm? Orgasms are just the beginning, Laurie. Play with your big gorgeous tits for me."

Lauren slowly leaned back, which drove his cock deeper. Her hands rose to cup each breast.

"Tell me what to do," she said.

"Tease your nipples," he said. "Find what feels best. Caress those beautiful globes. Please yourself and that will please me."

She did as he asked but closed her eyes. She moaned when she felt him grow harder. Shivers zipped around her body at her own touch too.

At the doorway, David was stunned the feel his penis begin to lift. His heart was in a thousand broken pieces but there was no denying the raw sexuality of the scene before him. Lauren looked amazing. Her back arched and her tits swelled. Her pussy had expanded to hold Troy and now looked intensely erotic. He desperately hoped he was not watching the end of his marriage but the sight staggered him. His penis stiffened enough to poke through the hole of his boxers. He thought about stuffing his dick back inside but worried that much movement would draw their eyes.

Troy noticed him anyway. He let Lauren fondle her tits another minute and then pulled her down for a kiss. With his fingers tangled in her hair and his arms holding her waist, he turned her head to face David.

Instant panic seized her. "Oh no!" she cried, struggling to escape.

Troy held firm. He pushed his cock deep and forced another kiss.

"Be calm," he murmured. "Look at him. LOOK at him. Your husband is hard from the sight of you. You're safe. Your marriage is safe. Look at him."

She fought a moment but gradually Troy's words penetrated her brain. Her eyes went to David's erection and confusion clouded her face. Troy began a slow in and out to distract her.

"I see the pain in his eyes just like you," Troy said. "But look beyond that. What else do you see? You see his erection. There's no faking that. He likes what he sees. It stings, but he loves my big cock in you."

Troy didn't have it exactly right, but David knew he was close. Lauren looked hot and exciting. It thrilled him to see the sexual side of his unadventurous wife. A flash of insight told him this was a partial reason for his cheating with Stina. He longed for something more.

Lauren studied her husband, reading his face and body. Her eyes dropped again to his penis, now fully engorged and lightly bouncing with his heartbeat. David looked at her with a hunger she'd not seen in years, if ever, and she liked it. Guilt sizzled in her guts but not enough to overcome the moment.

"Do you want him to join us?" Troy asked.

David's ears perked up.

A threesome? thought Lauren. The idea was too much. She'd heard of such things but those people were deviants.

"No," she said, unaware of the blow she dealt her husband. "Just you."

Troy grinned. "At least undress, David. You should be naked like us."

David hesitated until Lauren gave a little nod. He pulled off his T-shirt and boxers and stood awkwardly naked. Troy pulled Lauren's mouth down for another kiss. He pushed his cock deep to get her attention and then slowly and methodically made her forget David was there. He licked all around her areola before sucking her nipple into his hot mouth. His hips rose and fell, filling her with hard cock before leaving her empty again and craving more. Her moans grew louder. This was far better than any sex she'd ever known. Troy filled her pussy top to bottom and side to side, sending waves of new and exciting sensations through her. He seemed able to last forever, rock hard and unyielding. His presence inside her was a demand. He forced her pussy to accept his solid inches.

She felt the first tingles of another orgasm and disbelief rocked her world. She chased them, wondering if she'd cum again. She knew she'd joined the ranks of those women in Troy's videos. She was one of them now, fucking this hot sexy surfer and climaxing like a real woman.

Fucking. Her mind recoiled from that dirty word but she bravely stepped into it.

"Fuck me, Troy," she whispered.

David heard her. Blood surged to his penis. This woman was his wife and yet not his wife. Troy's cock had transformed her.

"Say that again," David croaked.

Lauren looked to her husband and saw his arousal. Mouth open, eyes big, breathing fast and shallow, it hurt him to see it but David loved what he saw.

"Fuck me, Troy," she said again, louder, keeping her eyes locked to her husband. "Fuck me deep."

Troy was dancing on the inside. This was far better than he'd ever imagined. Seducing Lauren was a dream and he'd been right about the woman trapped within, but David for an audience gave the night an agonizing twist he loved. He gathered Lauren in his arms, careful of his cast, and rolled her onto her back.

"Say it again," Troy ordered.

Lauren's eyes got big. This was another man, a man not her husband, telling her what to do in bed.

"Fuck me, Troy," she groaned.

His name rolled off her tongue with juicy debauchery.

"Fuck me, Troy," she said again on her own. "I love how you feel inside me."

David moaned from the kick to his guts but his penis throbbed harder than ever. This was madness. Husband and wife were lost in the moment with no thought towards the future. Troy pointed her legs towards the ceiling, exposing her hole and obliterating any shred of decorum. Her hairy pussy was on open display, his to do as he pleased. He lined his thick cock up and pushed, stuffing her with dick. She closed her eyes and grabbed her tits without being told. Troy began to pump his cock, forcing squeals and groans from her as her climax drew closer. She was eager for it, already addicted. Why had her life been devoid of such intense pleasure? Why had no one told her?

She thrust her hips to meet him as best she could, lost in the pleasure of being filled. From this angle his long cock reached new places and her sudden orgasm hit her in a rush, slamming her body and arching her back. Caught by surprise she babbled a choked cry and felt herself falling down a well. This orgasm was far more powerful and left her stunned. Troy kept going in pursuit of his own release, pounding Lauren relentlessly, and David abruptly realized what was about to happen. He lifted a hand as if to stop Troy but then watched in horror as the young man threw his head back and roared, pumping bolts of molten lava into his wife. David saw Lauren claw at the man's ass, trying to pull him deeper, instinctively trying to get his spurting beast as far up in her as possible.

David felt an invisible fist squeeze his heart. Lauren was being inseminated before his eyes. Troy took ownership of her womb, flooding her pussy with his seed. David groaned with despair knowing Lauren was on no birth control at all. Why would she be? He watched his beautiful wife eagerly accept Troy's potent load and his penis strained with excitement. Torn and conflicted, he stroked his dick only a few times before his balls boiled and his sperm arched across the carpet. He stumbled against the door frame as he cried out, molten lead spraying from his penis.

Troy pushed deep and held himself there. He knew any second reality would come crashing in for them both. That's what always happened to the married ones. But he also knew that was the best time to throw the doors wide open. She'd be vulnerable and frightened but David had already paved the way. What argument could he have now? He'd jacked off watching Lauren get pummeled and filled with sperm.

Troy turned to a dejected David. "Do you want to sleep in this bed with us or go back to the guest room and sleep alone? I'm going to fuck her again as soon as I can."

David studied Lauren for a reaction and when he saw none he assumed she agreed with this plan. He hated the idea of sleeping next to them but he hated the idea of leaving her alone with Troy even more.

"In this bed with you," he said.

Lauren kept her eyes closed but her husband's words rocked her. David was granting permission. Troy's spongy penis still filled her tunnel and David was handing her over for the whole night. She searched her heart and if David was all right with this, then so was she.

Chapter 19

In the morning, David and Lauren dressed and crossed the front lawns together. Lauren immediately checked on the kids while David drove the babysitter home. On the drive back he pulled into a McDonalds parking lot and left the engine running. His head was full of wild thoughts and he needed to collect himself before facing Lauren.

After they'd all gotten under the covers, Troy had assumed control. He suggested David go down on Lauren and give her another orgasm, now that she knew what they felt like and how to make them happen.

"I'll tell you what to do," Troy said. "She'll love your tongue."

He'd hesitated and Troy had gently pulled her knees apart, causing her pussy to flower. Lauren looked hopeful but anxious.

David rarely performed oral sex on her and never to the point of climax. He'd do it to get her wet but as soon as she was, they'd make love. She always felt nervous when he was down there, worried she was fresh enough.

Troy gave David directions and David found himself moving to obey. Troy was secretly thrilled to watch the man eat her pussy after he'd filled it. Troy told him how to use his fingers and tongue and after a while he got Lauren to cum again.

"That's a good start," Troy had said. "We'll do it again next time."

David had been shamed by the experience but also strangely aroused. Lauren's pussy was a sopping mess but for reasons he did not understand, that turned him on. He'd said little, thankful his penis was too tired to show his true feelings.

Part of him wondered if all that had really happened last night or was part of some twisted dream.

They'd all three showered together and Troy had used an attachment on his electric razor to trim Lauren's pubic hair close to the skin. She felt sexy and the cool air tingled.

"Keep it like that," Troy had said. "For me."

Lauren said she would and David felt an electric jolt.

For him, he'd thought.

He watched a family of four; husband, wife, son and daughter, exit the McDonalds and climb into their car. Yesterday he would have felt a connection to them. Today they were as alien as talking fish. He and Lauren no longer lived in their world. They now lived in a world of cheating spouses and hot sex.

All at once he missed his wife. The family drove away, on to family adventures, and David felt a deep longing to be with Lauren. He put the car in drive and headed home. On the way, he promised himself to never, ever, tell Lauren about Stina. He may have bought himself some wiggle room last night but his gut told him Lauren would be devastated. Far better she believes he simply allowed her to enjoy Troy. He looked open minded and progressive. Let her think that.

By the time he got home the kids had already eaten breakfast and headed for their best friend's house. Lauren waited alone at the dining table. She stood when he approached, worried and afraid. He wrapped his arms around her and felt her exhale.

Neither spoke for long minutes.

"Are we okay?" Lauren said, at last.

"We are."

"How can that be? How can you be all right with what happened?"

David took her hands. "I won't lie," he said. "My stomach is churning. Parts of last night were excruciating."

She squeezed his hands.

"But parts of last night were the most amazing moments of my life."

Lauren seemed to melt. She sagged against him and drew a ragged breath.

"I'm so relieved to hear you say that," she said. "I feel the same way. I didn't sleep at all last night, wondering what the future would hold for us. I was terrified of losing you. Every time I'd get crushed by guilt, some sexy moment would appear in my mind and cancel my guilt."

She squeezed David tight.

"I'm so glad you were there to see it all. I'm glad we went through it together. I feel liberated, like I met myself last night. I want more. I hope you do too."

David's mouth went dry. A battle raged within; excited for this new version of Lauren and terrified of this new version of Lauren. What would she want? David was sure it involved more of Troy.

He was right.

Chapter 20

Lauren straddled the lounge chair and located the sun. She turned her chair to face it and set her glass of wine on the small table. Troy watched her closely. This bikini was new and noticeably smaller than the others. She noted him watching her and smiled. His gaze always felt good. She'd lost another five pounds and still had a long way to go, but felt much better about herself.

"I like your eyes on me," she said.

"I like my eyes on you."

To prove his point, he tugged the drawstring on his trunks and tried to kick them down his legs. He struggled because the cast kept him from using both hands.

"Let me help," she said.

Troy lifted his butt and she shorts slid off.

"There he is," she said.

"You like my big dick?" Troy joked.

"No, not because it's big, but I like that it is. Does that make sense?"

"Sure. It's not a criterion you look for but since it's here, you're happy about it."

Lauren reached down and lifted Troy vertical by pinching the plump head. She reached behind her neck and untied her bikini top.

"I should call David and let him know."

Troy nodded. In the days since their big night, Lauren's desire for sex had spiked. She fucked Troy every few days, always calling or texting David at work to let him know.

"It must drive him crazy," Troy said.

Lauren pulled the string behind her back, freeing her big tits. She pushed her bottoms down and stepped out of them. The warm sun felt great.

"It does," she admitted. "Although I sense there is something he's not telling me. Regardless, on the days you fuck me, he always reaches for me when he gets home at night. Last night he made me orgasm with his tongue. I thank you for that."

"I should leave him a surprise for tonight."

Lauren swung her leg over and straddled Troy. He was getting stiff fast. She bent her knees, lowering her nearly hairless slit. His mushroom head disappeared between her labia and she sucked air through her teeth.

"I love this part," she said.

Troy studied Lauren's face. She was a pretty woman. Being older and a little over weight did not change that fact. She was concentrating on working him deeper and Troy had to smile. She'd embraced her new sex life completely, just as he suspected she would.

I should tell her what David did with Stina, he thought. Let her know the truth. Cement her attachment to me. He pondered a moment, wondering if their marriage would survive. He decided it would. Lauren would wonder if all this was just me revenge fucking her but I'd say I broke up with Stina first and she seduced David to get back at me. Lauren would appreciate my honesty and trust me even more.

"Why are you smiling like that?" Lauren asked, nestling her pussy around the base of his cock.

"Just thinking how lucky I am," he said. "Beautiful woman wants me inside, warm sun, nice breeze...I'm a lucky motherfucker."

"Motherfucker," Lauren said, trying the word. "Yes, I guess you are."

She leaned down to kiss him as his long cock bumped her cervix.

Chapter 21

"She knows you're hiding something," Troy said, fanning his towel and flashing his cock. The other men in the sauna pretended not to listen.

"I can't," David said. "I've thought about telling on myself, confessing everything about Stina, but then I picture her face. She'd be so hurt. I can't do that to her."

"Your wife thinks you're letting me fuck her out of an erotic thrill."

David glanced around the sauna. Troy always blabbed too much. David knew a lot of people at the club.

"Yeah," David said. "What she doesn't know won't hurt her."

"You should tell her. It would sting at first, but look what she's doing with me. Can she really stay upset?"

David shrugged.

"You know what you should do?" Troy asked. "Get Lauren's permission like you haven't already done the deed. I'm sure she'll give it after all the sex we've been having. You could let Laurie believe you fucked Stina and your wife ends up feeling like you guys are even. You'll feel forgiven for your sins."

"Yes, but then you'll get an utterly liberated Lauren. That she gets to and I don't holds her back. She'd lose any last shred of guilt. Remove that last worry and she'd have sex with you every day."

Troy chuckled. "Well, yeah. I should get something out of it. It's my idea."

The automatic jets poured a cloud of steam into the room, dropping visibility to zero and making the hot dense air hard to breathe. The door at the far end opened and two older men entered and climbed to a top corner. They covered their heads with towels and muttered to each other.

"I'm going to teach your wife how to suck cock," Troy said.

"Terrific."

"Laugh if you want but you'll thank me later. I'll make her an expert. I'll train her on my big dick so taking yours will be easy."

A man sitting close snorted a laugh and David glanced around the sauna to see who else listened in. Troy always said too much.

"She doesn't like doing that," David said, his voice low.

"No, she doesn't know if she likes it or not. She hates not knowing how to do it well. Big difference. Your wife is shy but she's also proud."

David wanted this subject to go away. "You played well today."

"Advantages of a natural athlete, right?"

David gave up. Today, everything Troy said bothered him. They sat in silence a long time, allowing the heat and steam to relax tired muscles. Men occasionally came and went.

"Is she on birth control yet?" Troy asked.

David cleared his throat. "Yes...No...Sort of. She's gone back to monitoring her temperature like she did when we were trying to have James and Stacey. That worked well."

"That's hot," Troy said. "I'm firing off inside your wife completely unprotected. That's fucking hot."

David had enough. "That's all for me today," he snapped, wrapping his towel around his waist. I've got work to do at home."

"Me too," Troy teased. "I've got to sign new endorsement deals."

Chapter 22

David circled his desk to close his office door and returned to his seat. He withdrew his phone and punched in his password. He opened Lauren's last message: I'm thirsty, it read. There was a picture of Troy's limp cock attached. David knew this was all Troy's idea and that thought burned him.

Teach your wife to suck cock, he fumed.

She'd sent the message about ten minutes ago and David recognized Troy's backyard. Lauren was with him and by now probably had his cock in her mouth. David's face flushed crimson. His penis swelled slightly. Lauren sucking dick was exciting. Lauren sucking Troy's dick was maddening.

At that moment across town, Lauren knelt on her towel between Troy's knees. He sat sideways on his lounge, legs spread, soft cock pointing at the concrete. The heat had his balls hanging lower than usual.

"Don't laugh at me," she said.

"Never," he replied. "Unless you're trying to be funny."

"I have no idea what I'm doing. I can't believe I'm even attempting this."

"You're going to love it," he said. "Every girl does. I know that sounds weird but trust me. This cock has been in a hundred mouths and all of them enjoyed it."

Lauren rolled her eyes. "You're so vain."

"I don't mean it like it's because of my magical dick. I'm saying girls love sucking cocks. I've never done it myself so I can offer no advice except what feels good, but they say they feel empowered and sexy and in control."

Lauren gave him a dubious stare. She glanced around the yard to make sure they had privacy.

"What do I do first? Tell me everything."

"Hold my shaft on one palm and my balls on the other."

Lauren started to laugh but got serious. "It's warm," she said.

"Kiss the head."

She lowered her face to his lap and Troy's temperature shot skyward. Lauren was too good to be true. So sweet and so eager to please, she questioned nothing.

"Now open your mouth," he said. "Rest the head on your tongue and close your lips behind the crown."

Her warm mouth enveloped him and blood surged. She moaned softly.

"That was nice," she said, beaming. "It feels alive. I instantly know what you like, what feels good."

"Put it back in. I want to send David a picture."

"I still can't believe my husband is okay with this," she said, shaking her head.

She slipped the spongy penis into her mouth and ran her tongue all around. He was warm and firm yet soft. She suckled and was rewarded with another surge of blood. Troy moaned and her heart skipped. He was right; this was fun. He clicked a picture and then had her look into the camera for another. He added some text and hit send.

David was circling his desk to open the door again when his phone chimed. He continued his orbit and landed in his chair, opening the new message. Lauren was gazing happily into the lens, Troy's thick cock stretching her lips. David sighed. The sight was amazing. Just weeks ago his wife wouldn't take off her clothes if the bedroom light was on. Now she was sucking cock in broad daylight and sending her husband the pictures.

Because she thinks that's what I want, he thought.

He studied the photo. Her eyes sparkled with excitement and vibrancy. She felt alive and daring.

And because it's also what she wants, David admitted.

More pictures followed. Troy patiently showed her everything a woman can do with a cock. David received photos of Lauren sucking balls and licking a scrotum. He received photos of Lauren taking the top half of Troy's dick, cheeks and throat bulging, before backing off to cough. Troy thoughtfully sent pictures of Lauren laughing at herself, wiping her mouth with the back of her hand. In the background, her out-of-focus nipples were stiff, standing up like pink thimbles. David rubbed his penis through his pants.

After thirty minutes, he was desperate to jack off. The mandatory meeting on seasonal hires started in ten minutes so he was forced to wait.

More pictures arrived, Troy now stiff and veiny, and David studied them too. Lauren's expression had changed. No longer goofy fun, she loved what she was doing. Troy's cock had turned her serious. She had him hard as iron and it dawned on David Lauren would want to show him what she'd learned.

"Jesus Christ," he muttered, imagining the blowjob in his future.

She looked wicked and slutty, sights he never imagined he'd see. She looked whorish and excited and hot as fuck. The last pictures showed Troy standing while Lauren knelt with mouth wide open, tongue extended. Troy stroked into her waiting maw, aiming his fat shaft at the back of her throat. David could hardly breathe waiting on the next photos. His intercom squawked, scaring the shit out of him, and Tina, the floor secretary, reminded him of the meeting.

"I'll be there," he said. "Just finishing up something."

Tina cut off and David checked his phone.

There it was. Troy had blasted Lauren's outstretched tongue with gobs of pearly rope. Her eyes were open and pleased. Blasts of cum had landed all over her face and hair but by far most was in her mouth. A puddle of Troy's sperm formed at the back of her throat and Troy was sure to capture the image. David was stiff in his pants.

"Jesus Christ," he said again.

He zoomed the images and scrutinized every frame. Lauren was decadent, lost to lust and the joy of sucking. His balls ached, begging for release and he calculated a run to the men's room but there was no time.

A last picture arrived. Lauren gazed lovingly into the camera while holding Troy's limp dick in her mouth using suction. Sperm splattered her tits and neck and David realized with a jolt she must have swallowed by now. Her face and eyes showed no sign of displeasure or disgust. She looked happy to have a belly full of Troy.

"Jesus Christ," he said a final time.

The intercom squawked again and Tina barked that everyone waited on him. David said he was on his way and straightened his stiff penis as best he could. He grabbed the numbers binder to help hide his condition and silenced his phone, sliding it into his pants pocket. He was trembling. On his march to the conference room he knew at that moment Lauren was basking in the sunlight, licking her lips. She'd given her first real blowjob and appeared to love it.

Not her husband's penis though, David thought. Her first time and she loses her oral virginity on another man.

The erection that had been deflating suddenly flared again and David tried to clear his head of such thoughts. He stopped at the drinking fountain and gulped cold water, calming himself. Composed, he started for the room again.

Thank god I'm not making a presentation. I'd never live that one down.

At the door, his phone buzzed again. He wrestled with waiting until after the meeting to check the message but curiosity won. He quickly flipped through the screens until arriving at a final picture. Troy's soft tube lay sprawled across her naked thigh, mere inches from her closely trimmed pussy. The bright sunlight revealed a drop of sperm oozing from his slit.

"As soon as I get him hard again," the caption read. "He goes in here."

David choked back a groan. He knew what Lauren meant. It might take Troy a little while but the man was young. He'd be hard again before David's work day ended and then that cock would get buried inside Lauren. The single oozing drop of sperm was like a threat of things to come.

David dimmed his phone and caught his breath. His penis began to swell again but there was no time to waste. He'd kept everyone waiting too long. He squared his shoulders, hid his crotch with the binder, and entered the room, apologizing profusely.

Chapter 23

Troy set his bong aside.

Lauren lay nude on the lounge next to him, her eyes closed, a slight smile curling her lips. She'd left his cum where it landed, shiny spots dried in the sun.

Now, he thought. It's been long enough.

"Lauren?" he began. "Has David talked to you about Stina?"

Lauren shielded her eyes. "No, why would he?"

"This probably shouldn't come from me but we've gotten so close I feel terrible keeping something from you."

Lauren sat up and slipped her sunglasses on. "Keeping what from me?"

"I think something may have happened between David and Stina."

Lauren waited for Troy to go on. He debated which lie to tell.

"When I ended it with her she got angry," he said. "She threatened all sorts of retaliation. Then she got sad and begged me to change my mind. When I didn't, she got angry again and made more threats. David was watering the lawn and she saw him out the window. She said she knew David and I were friends so maybe she'd fuck him for revenge. She thought since we were neighbors it would hurt me to lose his friendship yet still see him every day."

"That's awful."

"Yes. She's a lovely girl but emotionally immature. I'm drawn to women more down to earth."

"Do you think she tried something? I can't believe David would cheat. I can't believe that. He hardly likes sex."

Troy showed her his palms. "It would explain why he's allowing you to do all this with me. Maybe that makes him feel you're even."

Lauren stared at her toes.

"How do you feel?" Troy asked.

She shook her head slowly. "Gosh. Confused? Conflicted? I would hate that he lied to me. I would hate that. If it's true, I'll be hurt. If this had happened before you and I started...all...you know, I would have been crushed."

She looked down at her naked body and then over at naked Troy.

"But now I feel a little hypocritical. If he let me have all this to punish himself, wow, what a punishment. He must be dying inside. If he did this to make us even and not because it turns him on, he's paid many times over. I do not like the idea of him with another woman but do I have a leg to stand on? No."

"I may be totally wrong," Troy said, surprised by her response. "I just know Stina so well. She can be a bitch. I could see her doing it."

"I'll ask David when he gets home tonight. I hope you're wrong."

"Me too, Laurie."

Lauren got the familiar tingle of excitement she felt every time Troy called her that. He was young and handsome and had his choice of women and he wanted her.

"Thanks for telling me, Troy."

"Of course. I'd want to know." They locked eyes for a moment. Troy lifted the bong. "You want some?"

She stared at it for a moment before shaking her head. "Better not. The kids will be home from school in two hours."

She dropped her eyes to his penis.

"There is something else I want though," she said. "But no pictures for David this time. This time is just for me and you."

Chapter 24

After the meeting David visited the staff room for a cup of black coffee. While he waited for the pot to brew, he scanned through the pictures again, amazed at Lauren's transformation. He zoomed the photos of her cum-filled mouth.

The door opened and Teddy, a portly sixty-something with the habit of excitedly announcing things instead of just speaking, sniffed the air.

"A fresh pot!" he laughed. "Great idea!"

He stood next to David and poured a cup. He checked to make sure they were alone and then leaned closer.

"I would never have guessed," he muttered. "You seem so straight-laced. You and Lauren. You fooled me!"

David gave him a blank stare.

Teddy grinned. "I was in the sauna that day. You must not have seen me. I heard you talking to that young man, Troy, I think his name is. He's packing a whopper! I'm sure Lauren loved it!"

David felt the warm blood moving through his body turn to ice water. Teddy read his face.

"Don't worry, son," he said. "I got you. Me and the wife have been dabbling for years. She likes the younger men too!"

The floor dropped out from under David.

Someone at work knows. Fuck fuck fuck fuck.

He'd worked with Teddy a few times on various projects and he seemed like a nice man. A little dull-witted but honest and forthright. David wondered if he could be trusted and then felt the cold chill of not having a choice.

Teddy checked the room again and lowered his voice. "Does he take her bareback?"

David felt his head nod on its own.

"That's fantastic!" the old man announced. "I met Lauren years ago at the Christmas party. Pretty gal! Quiet. Always need to watch the quiet ones, eh? Still waters run deep and all that. Do you watch? Do you join in?"

David felt himself come rushing back to himself.

"I'm really not comfortable talking about these things at work," he said. "I'm hoping I can trust you to be discreet?"

"Absolutely!" Teddy proclaimed. "I know how the game is played. When Lauren gets tired of this one, me and the wife know a few we can recommend. Does Lauren like the dark meat?"

David could barely keep his balance. This is the strangest conversation I've ever had, he thought. How the fuck do I end it?

"She's never mentioned black guys before," David said. "But this is all new to us. We don't know yet what we like. I'll ask her that question, Teddy."

"Terrific! We can show you around town too. We know the best clubs."

"I'll let her know. Right now, I must return to my office."

Teddy held up a hand. "Say no more," he said. "I understand! If you have any questions, I'm happy to answer. We've been at this a long time. Tess, my wife, was about to give up on sex when we discovered what she really needed."

Teddy stuck a hand out and David shook it. The older man left by the door leading to the restrooms. David leaned against the kitchen counter and shook his head.

"What the fuck?" he said out loud. "Teddy?"

He collected his coffee cup and backed through the double doors. Moments later he sat at his desk.

Someone knows. My secret is out at work.

He sipped his coffee and opened his phone, discovering the last picture still waited for him; Troy's soft cock draped over his wife's thigh.

Lauren looked sexier than ever.

He's probably fucking her by now, he thought. He zoomed in, studying another man's penis without a hint of homosexual awkwardness. Lauren loves that thing. He zoomed again on the large testicles. A thrill ran through him.

Chapter 25

What a day. David took the long way home, giving himself more time alone. He took the lone road behind all the houses and pulled to the curb. Lights were on in both homes and he saw Lauren helping the kids with homework at the dining table. Over in Troy's house he saw flickering light from the widescreen but no movement. That soon changed when Stina crossed the kitchen wearing only slippers.

"Son of a bitch," David muttered.

She looked fantastic. He instantly remembered how she felt under his hands, the sounds she'd made, how she'd felt wrapped tightly around his penis. That she was back at Troy's was unsettling and he wondered if he was being played or if they'd reconciled.

I hope they are back together, he thought. Something needs to distract Troy. If Lauren knows those two are working on their relationship, she'll leave Troy alone.

Troy entered the kitchen, walking around naked as always, and slapped Stina on the ass. David saw her yelp but couldn't hear her. They chatted like nothing was wrong or had ever been wrong. The suspicion he'd been used crept into his mind. He watched the happy couple goof for a while and then they returned to the bedroom and disappeared onto the bed. David put his car in drive and continued home.

Lauren was happy to the point of bubbly. She greeted David and made him a plate, got the kids ready for bed and then joined him at the dining table. His eyes roamed her body and she seemed to know what he was thinking.

"You're remembering those pictures," she said. "I can see it in your eyes."

"Yes."

"How did they make you feel?"

"It's a mix, Lauren. They turn me inside out. Every time you're with him it turns me inside out. I love it and hate it."

"Want me to stop?"

David wondered if he should tell her about Stina coming back into Troy's life.

"Yes and no," he said. "We've smashed our old life and there's no going back. That's a good thing. You are much happier now."

"I am," she admitted.

"But I'm afraid."

She held his hand. "I won't leave you for Troy, Baby."

"You sure seem to enjoy spending time with him."

"It's true, I do. You have work, Honey. I'm a sheltered stay at home mother and wife. He's home all the time too so we just hang out. He's fun. Even if all the sex stuff wasn't going on we'd still be friends."

Her eyes were dancing like she knew a secret and David noticed for the first time she'd cut and colored her hair. Her weight loss and the new style accentuated her cheekbones. She wore a touch of makeup too. She looked great.

"Nice haircut," he said.

"You like it? Really?"

"I do."

"I'm so happy you noticed. That's not usually your thing."

"You've gotten haircuts without me noticing?"

She laughed. "Yeah, only for like the last six years."

That stung. David chided himself and silently promised to do better.

"Troy is much too young for me," she said. "In every way. You have nothing to worry about."

"Thanks, Honey."

"Do I?"

David lifted his gaze to hers. Here was the secret she knew. David realized Troy had said something, but what?

"Have something to worry about? No. Nothing whatsoever."

Lauren squeezed his hand. "Good. Troy was worried Stina may have tried something with you."

David felt a chill. "Troy talks a lot."

"Did she?"

David kept his face calm but his heart was leaping all over the place. "Yes," he admitted. "She spilled soda on her shirt and asked to rinse in our shower since she was locked out of Troy's place."

"Stina used our shower?"

"Yes."

Lauren settled into her chair. "Go on."

David decided on half-truths. "She left the door partially open so I went downstairs and left her alone. I gave her one of Stacey's big shirts to wear and she tried again to entice me. I went downstairs again."

Lauren sat thinking and David held his breath.

I have official lied right to my wife's face, he thought. I'm a piece of shit.

Her face brightened. "That's no big deal," she said. "Troy said he broke up with her and she threatened to sleep with you out of revenge. I'm glad you didn't."

"You're welcome." The knot in David's gut relaxed.

"Although if you had," Lauren continued, "given everything I've done the last couple weeks, I wouldn't have been hurt for very long. The way you've let me explore this thing with Troy has really opened my eyes. Maybe we should look at the rules we have for each other. Maybe we should take a hard look at our lives. If you wanted to have sex with Stina shouldn't I let you? She's gorgeous. The fear is I'd lose you to her but now that I've been with Troy, I see that fear is not so real."

David couldn't believe his ears. He remained composed but a ton of guilt lifted from his shoulders. Sudden desire for Lauren raced through his body.

"You're serious?" he asked.

"Yes. Look how we're talking now. You may not have noticed but we've had much better conversations lately. We're communicating more after I had sex with another man than we did before. It's crazy, I know, but true."

Her eyes glittered with exhilaration.

"The kids are asleep?" he asked.

His question caught her by surprise.

"Yes."

He took her hand. Still confused, she started to ask a question. He covered her mouth and pulled her towards the bedroom. By the time they reached the bed, clothing was already coming off. Lauren locked the bedroom door and then they were at each other. They kissed with passion at first but then David forced her onto the bed and her legs apart.

"What are you doing?" she gasped.

Holding her legs wide he stared at her swollen pussy. She kept the hair closely trimmed because that's what Troy liked. She was puffy because Troy had fucked her earlier. Troy leaked from her now. All those afternoon pictures swarmed David's mind when he planted his mouth over her pussy and drove his tongue deep.

Lauren grabbed a pillow to cover her face. Her cry of shock and pleasure vibrated the downy feathers. His tongue whipped fiercely and caressed softly and Lauren moaned and let her legs fall apart. David tasted Troy's presence. He knew what had happened in there today. He didn't care. His mind was on fire with the overpowering need to take his wife back. He licked every inch of her until moans tumbled from her mouth nonstop and then he pushed a finger in and attacked her clit. He knew what he was doing now. She soon shouted a ferocious orgasm into the pillow. David waited as long as he could but then rose and buried his penis in her sopping cunt. She wrapped arms and legs around him and curled her hips like Troy had taught her and David felt his penis swimming in soup. The reality of her used pussy was too much and his back bowed and his hips bucked and he discharged bolts of hot cum into her.

Neither moved for a long time. Finally, Lauren started a giddy chuckle and David joined in. Soon they were hugging and laughing.

There were dishes to clear and leftovers to put away. David washed and stacked the dirty plates and ran the trash out. Lauren showered and David joined her and they fell asleep cuddling like two spoons.

Chapter 26

Jazmine tilted her head and let all that long blonde hair cascade off her shoulder.

"I'm growing my hair out," Lauren said.

Jazmine giggled. The two women looped arms for warmth and left the men standing by the car.

Troy, David, and Gregory, Jazmine's husband, watched the ladies walk away. Lauren wore a short black miniskirt and lacy top. Jazmine wore a strappy halter that let her big tits wobble and short skirt which showed off her legs.

They'd all arrived in Greg's black Range Rover. David knew Troy would fuck both women tonight. They all knew Troy would fuck both women tonight. David hung back with Greg and watched Troy hurry to catch the women. They slipped their arms through his and headed for the club entrance.

"You've been here before?" David asked, stomping his feet to keep warm.

"A few times, yeah."

Greg was David's height but a little heavier. When he spoke, it was with a rich baritone radio voice. "This is where Jazmine and I first met Troy. He pursued her hard and she loved it. I guess I loved it too. You like watching him fuck Lauren?"

"I do," David sheepishly admitted. "What's up with that?"

Greg shrugged. "I gave up trying to solve it. Now we just roll. Troy loves it, Jazmine loves it, and I love it. I don't need to psychoanalyze myself."

Lauren cast a wicked grin over Troy's shoulder and David smiled.

"How did you guys meet Troy?"

"He's our neighbor. He blackmailed me into letting him fuck Lauren but once he did I liked it. After a few times, I loved it. Lauren and I have never been closer."

"Weird."

"Weird."

Troy held the door open and ushered the ladies in. David and Greg watched them disappear.

"Should we follow?" Greg asked.

"In a minute. You know that tension you're feeling right now? That tight stress in your chest? A breathless sensation, like your body can't believe you just let someone steal something from you?"

"Yes."

"Why does all that feel good? It's a form of pain. My wife just walked off with a younger man, a man with a big cock and fat balls. I know he's going to make her suck that cock. I know he's going to fuck her tonight. I know he's going to empty those big balls inside her. I'm allowing it to happen and it hurts like hell but it fucking feels great."

Greg laughed. "You're spot on. It's a mystery. You know, during the day I'm part of a mergers and acquisitions team that takes over companies and rips them apart for profit."

"Pretty Woman."

Greg smiled. "Yes, like Richard Gere in Pretty Woman. My point is I'm a bastard. I fuck people up. I'm a ruthless shark and you better not get in the tank with me." He pointed vaguely towards the club entrance. "But when it comes to my wife, I love humiliation. I love eating her pussy after he's fucked her. I love holding her legs wide open to help him slid it in."

"I wonder if they're related?"

"What? Who?"

"Your guilty conscience and your libido. Maybe this is how you punish yourself for what you do to people."

"Maybe. What do you do for a living?"

David snorted. "Push sheets of paper around with my nose."

Both men laughed.

"So your theory about me doesn't apply to you."

"Nope," David said. "I just like watching Lauren get fucked."

"Sex is complicated."

"It certainly can be," David agreed.

Greg exhaled warm air on his hands. "Right now everyone in that club is sizing up Troy and our women. Their wondering what's so special about him that he gets two hot babes. Once we walk in they'll figure out Jazmine and Lauren are our wives but they've already seen Troy's claim to them by the way all three were acting. The crowd will figure out we're cuckold husbands. Men will get pissed because their wives will be curious about Troy; what's so special about that guy? Some will maybe want to find out for themselves. They'll leave their husband's side and come talk to our women, maybe even flirt with Troy. I've seen it. Happens every time."

David studied Greg's face. "Yet another form of humiliation you enjoy."

"I do," Greg said. He opened his jacket to show David a shoulder holster carrying a small pistol. "Some husbands think their problem is with Troy and not their own damn wives. They won't back off when told. I convince them."

"That's a solid argument."

"I've only had to flash it twice. Most guys walk away before that. It's a shame they don't just talk to their women and open their minds to new possibilities."

David drew his jacket closer. Winter had arrived overnight. He exhaled little puffs of steam. "How long should we wait out here?"

"I say give them a bit longer. I like everyone in the club to know what's going on. By now they have a booth and Troy has probably made out with both. They've most likely been asked to dance and have politely refused, saying they're with Troy and loyal to him. We'll show up and confuse the hell out of them."

"Until they realize we're the cuckold husbands."

"That's right."

David rolled the word around inside his mouth. It had a strange sound and made the tongue do uncomfortably twisty things. He said it again in his mind and thought about what it meant and Greg was right; there was an extra kick from a little humiliation, a dirty little thrill of taboo. He stamped his feet for warmth again.

"Lauren and I just started this," he said. "You've been doing it for a while. What's your best moment and your worst moment so far?"

Greg got thoughtful. "Best was the first time Jazmine went bareback. It was her idea. She was crazy about this one guy. He was an artist but had a models body and a stripper's cock. She fell hard for him. He pushed all her buttons. When she reached down that first time and pulled that rubber off, I knew it was because she wanted to take his seed. My head just about exploded. She was responding to some powerful urge to make a baby with him. I spurted without touching myself and stayed hard. I'd never seen her so turned on. She was wild, crazy, growling and shit, fucking herself on his massive cock, cumming over and over until she was sobbing."

Greg lifted his chin and stared at the far end of the parking lot, watching cars drive by.

"When he finally came in her she clawed at his ass, pulling him as deep as possible. Her legs were wrapped tight around his butt. She was like an animal. I love it. There was a real possibility of her getting pregnant that night. That's why he wore the condom in the first place. My fear she'd conceive with him, which is the ultimate humiliation for any husband, got tangled up in the excitement. My dick was so hard it hurt. I jacked for just a minute and shot again."

David felt his heart racing. Greg's excitement was palpable. He imagined Lauren in the story and Greg was right, the thrill would be intense. After a minute of silence, he asked again what Greg's worst memory was.

"That's harder to say. We've been lucky. A shitty night for us is when the guy doesn't show, which happens a lot more than you'd think. Or the guy says he's got a ten-inch cock and shows up with a four-inch bean. Those are disappointing nights."

"I guess Lauren and I have a lot to look forward to," David said.

They stood quietly a moment and then Greg suggested it was time to go in.

Before they could, the front door opened and all three emerged, bringing another man with them. The man walked close to Lauren, his thick arm around her shoulders, her head on his chest. He was big, towering over them all. He had black hair in a crewcut and a scar on his left cheek. His skin was dusky and he smiled broadly.

David and Greg waited and soon the four joined them.

"Honey," Lauren said. "This is Majid. He's Persian. He's from Iran."

Majid stuck his large hand out and David shook it, tentatively, because dark skinned men always made him a little nervous.

"Troy says we should all go back to our place," Lauren continued.

David froze. Greg noticed and understood the panicked look perfectly. He knew David had just been hit between the eyes by hard reality and had no idea how to respond. Lauren was making choices and David realized this would be his future; an ever more confident wife selecting attractive lovers. Greg patted David's shoulder.

"She knows what she wants," Greg said. He stuck his hand out too. "I'm Greg, Jazmine's husband. Nice to meet you."

"You as well," Majid said, his accent thick.

David was still too stunned to move. "What happened?" he asked. "How do you know this man?"

She met David's gaze with a determined stare. "We stepped inside the club and Troy turned me to face the packed crowd. He asked me who I would fuck based on gut reaction. 'Don't think, don't rationalize, don't question yourself,' he said. 'Go with your impulse. What man do you want most?' I searched the mob and then Majid seemed to appear. I pointed him out and Troy went and spoke to him and brought him back to me."

"Why are we all going back to our place?" David asked, knowing the answer.

"I want him to fuck me in our bed. Wouldn't that be hot?"

"I bet that was Troy's idea too."

"It was but I love it."

"Lauren, Troy wants to use our place because he has Stina hiding at his place. He's using us to get what he wants. He's manipulating us."

Lauren glanced at Troy but turned to her husband. "I don't care," she said. She tenderly touched David's cheek. "Like I don't care if you did something with Stina. I want us to have the things we really want and not have to lie to each other about them. We've spent so much of our marriage denying the things we truly want. Let's stop, Honey. Let's stop pretending. Let's start chasing better things."

David glanced at Majid. The man was enormous.

"Why him?" David asked Lauren.

Lauren kissed her husband softly. "Because he scares me a little. Because the old me would have put so much energy into denying I like his looks. Because he's so different from you."

"He intimidates me."

Lauren laughed quietly. "Me too," she said. "He's a monster."

David looked at the others waiting for them.

"Roll with it, man," Greg said. "Let it play out."

David hesitated then gave a small nod.

"You all ride with Greg," Lauren said. "I'm riding with Majid."

She kissed her husband slowly and meaningfully, drawing her lips along his until parting. He felt her slip away.

"I'm going to suck his cock while he drives," she whispered. "I've seen that in movies and always wanted to try it. I won't let him cum though. I'll need him hard to fuck me in our bed."

David looked at his wife like he was seeing her for the first time. Where did this woman come from? Was she always like this or had Troy created her?

"I love you," David said, teetering on panic.

Lauren grinned. "Our love is untouchable," she said.

Chapter 27

David rode in the front seat with Greg so Jazmine and Troy had the back seat to themselves. Sounds of kissing and slurping were followed by masculine groans. David risked a quick glance and saw Jazmine orally worshiping Troy's cock as it jutted up from his lap. David looked at Greg briefly, trying to gauge his reaction.

"Yes," Greg murmured. "I know what's going on back there."

David stared out the windshield at Majid's black Hummer. Was the same thing happening in the car ahead of him? Lauren was like a tigress these days, freed from an invisible cage and hunting on her own.

"It's torture, right?" Greg asked, keeping his voice low. "Lauren's up there right now, mostly likely with a brand-new cock in her mouth. You know nothing about that man except your wife is attracted to him. You sit back here and wonder what's happening."

David nodded, one ear on the sounds of sex coming from the seat behind him.

"Trust me," Greg continued. "In my experience nothing you imagine will equal the truth. You think you're preparing yourself but you're wrong; seeing your beloved wife under his spell, loving his body and adoring his cock will hit you harder than anything you can imagine."

"Thanks for that," David said.

"I'm being real."

David stared at his hands on his lap. "She's been with Troy but he's a neighbor. I know him. It was hard to see but familiar. This man is a stranger. I'm looking at Lauren and her lover, not Lauren and the guy next door. All this is forcing me to see Lauren as her own woman instead of just my wife."

"Your old world is gone, my friend. The new world awaits."

They rode in silence a while. Jazmine sucked and David stared at the Hummer in the headlights. At last they took the turnoff and entered the neighborhood.

David pressed the button on his keychain and the garage door opened. Greg and Majid parked in the driveway and David hoped everyone got into the house unseen, but he knew some neighbors were nosy and would investigate the sounds of a group coming home late. It killed him to see Lauren cling to Majid's big arm, knowing there was a decent chance neighbors saw that too. He ran the trashcans out to the curb and hurried around the house closing crapes and blinds. By the time he joined the group in the living room, Lauren and Majid had already left for the bedroom. Jazmine made out with Troy while Greg watched.

"Drinks?" David asked.

Nobody answered. Troy was kissing Jazmine's neck and slowly unzipping her skirt. Greg was enchanted, rubbing the front of his pants. David turned to stare at the door to his bedroom.

Did Lauren shut that door or Majid? Will I allow myself to be shut out in my own home? Out of my own bedroom?

Lauren's gentle laughter settled it for him. He quietly turned the knob and stepped into their bedroom. The bed was empty but the covers pulled back. More laughter floated from the bathroom. David crept closer, peering around the corner.

Lauren and Majid were nude, standing near piles of clothing. Giggling, she held Majid's cock in both hands while he urinated into the toilet. David had to stare. Lauren aimed the thick stream around the bowl, seemingly amazed how it all worked for men. The act was intimate yet not sexual but David felt a burst of jealousy. Lauren was exploring in every direction.

David found the man's cock utterly alien. Majid was uncircumcised but the foreskin covered everything smoothly. His penis showed no veins at all, just a dark tan sheath of flesh all the way to the end.

"Pull the skin, Baby" Majid said.

Lauren held the shaft with one hand while easing the loose skin back with the other. The dark helmet emerged. Lauren aimed the stream directly into the bowl, filling the room with a rumbling bass.

When Majid finished, she dabbed the tip with toilet paper and tugged him towards the sink, reminding David of a jockey leading his prized stallion to a watering trough. The man was a monster, two or three times Lauren's size. She started the warm water and squirted soap into her hand, then rubbed all around his shaft and balls, working a thick lather. Majid watched her and chuckled.

"How many men have you been with?" he asked in a thick Persian accent.

"Two," she admitted. "My husband and Troy. You'll be my third."

David hugged his ribs. Her words sliced through him. Majid noticed the movement and smiled at David.

"I like your wife," he said. "I like her very much."

David gave a weak smile.

"Are you going to stay and watch?" Lauren asked, worried for her husband.

"Yes."

They silently regarded each other, both keenly aware a stranger stood naked in their bedroom. David heard the door quietly open and close behind him. He turned just enough to see Greg.

"Troy's fucking Jazmine. I thought you could use my support."

"Thanks," David muttered.

Lauren's eyes flared as she realized she'd have an audience. Her old life already seemed distant. She finished soaping the shank of smooth meat and grabbed a towel with one hand, maintaining her hold on Majid with the other. She tenderly blotted him dry. He ran a large hand over her tit and tweaked her nipple. He hefted the weight of her full, round orb.

"Great tits," he said. "Pretty woman, nice ass, great tits."

Lauren smiled. No man had ever spoken to her like this. Majid saw her as a lover and nothing more. She was a piece of meat. He wanted her while knowing nothing about her other than what he saw. She liked it. All her life the men that showed an interest were always polite and respectful. Even Troy's seduction had been warm and heartfelt. Majid looked at her and wanted sex. That was thrilling.

His strange and unfamiliar cock pulsed heavy in her hand. She was electrified by the depravity. Majid held her face and kissed her mouth and she tugged his fat cock without thinking. He bent and scooped her into his arms, carrying her to the bed. His cock bounced about wildly but David and Greg saw it already beginning to stiffen.

"No," David murmured, shaking his head slowly. "No. No."

"I understand what you're feeling," Greg said. "But do try to stop her. I promise you this goes beyond mere sex for Lauren. Your wife is awakening. Do not come between them."

David sagged against the wall. Majid and Lauren were smiling sweetly at each other, oblivious to David's decimation.

"With Troy I felt like I was only sharing her," David said. "This guy makes me feel like I'm losing her."

Greg put an arm around David's shoulder. "Did you know Jazmine and I have two kids? I've spoken with Lauren. She's seen the tapes of Troy and Jazmine. She wanted to know how a married couple can live a life like this, so I held nothing back."

Majid's cock had risen, curving up from his big balls, anticipating hot new pussy. David and Greg watched Majid carry Lauren over the bed.

Greg continued: "Trust me when I tell you Lauren does not do this because something is missing from her life or even your marriage. Lauren does this because she's learned there was room for so much more. She's seen behind the curtain and wants it all."

Majid lay her on the bed she shared with David nightly and leaned in for a kiss. She returned Majid's affection, then reached between those tree-trunk thighs and hoisted his hairy balls in her palm.

David's heart crawled up his throat.

Lauren pulled the big Persian closer and bent his dick to her mouth. She pulled the skin back revealing the bulbous head and snaked her tongue out to tease the slit at the tip. A silver strand connected them when her tongue moved back inside her mouth.

"God that's sexy," Greg breathed.

Lauren rolled her tongue around her mouth, savoring the taste of her new lover. She looked pleased. She pulled the head close again and sucked hard. Majid wrapped a fist and squeezed the length from base to tip and Lauren's eyes got big. She swallowed.

"That was a lot," she giggled.

"I leak very much always," he said.

Lauren moved her head to hang off the side of the bed and Majid dropped his cock into her waiting mouth. Before her lips closed around him, her tongue slithered around the ridge and lapped under the head. Then she was sucking. He filled his hands with her big upturned tits.

"Let's move over by the window," Greg said. "We'll have a better view."

David let the man steer him. They sat on the floor only a few feet from the action, watching sweet Lauren nurse on a fat tube. Majid gazed down as she worked, mesmerized by his inches slipping in and out of her mouth. The harder he became the more his cock head poked free of his foreskin. She grabbed him with both fists, admiring the inches that extended beyond her hands.

"I think I like the bigger ones better," she giggled. "They look sexy."

Majid allowed her to play another few minutes then gripped her legs and flipped her onto her stomach. He grabbed David's pillow to wedge under her hips, leaving her swollen pussy exposed to open air. Her cunt throbbed. She knew she was already wet. She felt lewd.

Majid stepped closer and burrowed his wide tongue in her tunnel. Lauren gasped loudly. He spread her ass cheeks and pushed deeper, licking her inner walls before withdrawing and ramming his tongue up her asshole.

She struggled to stop him mumbling something about being too embarrassed but he lifted her butt higher forcing her face into the bed. He teased her tight sphincter, nibbling all around her hole, before shoving a thumb up her ass and his tongue into her pussy again. His cock now curved sharply upward like a weapon, a menacing threat to the sanctity of her marriage.

David groaned, paralyzed by the inevitable. Majid was poised to conquer. Lauren unconsciously clenched her empty pussy, her lips winking as they strained for contact. She was desperate to be filled.

David groaned again. He'd forgotten to breathe so he sucked a ragged gasp, filling his lungs. This was all wrong. Troy fucked Lauren to get even for Stina. What the hell was Majid doing in their bedroom?

Lauren and Troy moved on to the next step while I remained oblivious. Now it's too late.

Majid effortlessly lifted her hips and gently brought her pussy to meet the end of his spear. Lauren sobbed into the bedspread. Majid guided her lower, impaling her in slow motion, splitting her wide open and forcing a growl from her throat. David heard pleasure and pain and fear and desire all combined in Lauren's sweet voice. He cursed himself for ever heading down this path. They were here because of him. Lauren would never have known, never have questioned her small, tidy life. He hugged himself and struggled to breathe.

He's stealing my wife, he thought. Right in front of my face. In our bed. Majid is stealing Lauren from me.

He wasn't wrong. Lauren's face contorted with pleasure and her shoulders twisted sideways. She pushed her ass backward, burying the intruding thumb deeper despite her shame. She spread her knees, forcing more cock into her stretched pussy. She tried to form words but only animal grunts and gasps came out.

Majid began an up and down and David was mesmerized by the large swinging sack between the Persian's legs. His mind shouted danger, warning of the obvious potency of sperm from a man like this. David felt compelled to do something but remained motionless, tormented and agonized. His expression looked about to cry but no tears came.

"Don't you love it?" Greg asked. "I see what this is doing to you and I understand. I never get tired of that sight. I hate it but could watch it every day."

David nodded, jerking his chin up and down. He did hate it but couldn't look away. He crossed his legs and was startled to discover he was stiff. He squeezed his penis to be sure, disbelieving. Greg laughed.

"Why does it bother me that he's bigger?" David croaked.

Greg chuckled. "Natural competition, I suppose. Balls like that produce huge loads and a cock that long will plant those seeds deep. She's your woman but he's going to flood Lauren with a million babies and worst of all, just look at her face. She wants every drop. Your innocent wife craves him. She may not even realize all the ways he gets to her."

Together they watched Lauren tilt her hips for deeper penetration. Every move she made was an effort to capture more of Majid. Pleasure drove her but so did a deeper instinct, a powerful urge to reach as high as possible for a mate.

"She's killing me," David groaned. "I'm so stupid."

"She's killing us both," Greg said. "I know what you're going through and I'm feeding off it. Sorry. Jazmine has shared her feelings at this moment. If you're lucky, Lauren will remember you're in the room too, but don't count on it."

The men watched Lauren fuck herself. Majid ran his free hand over her ass and back and legs. Lauren turned to look at the men, her eyes clouded by a dense fog of lust. She concentrated on her husband, trying to read what he was feeling.

"Are you hard like me?" Greg asked.

"Yes," David admitted.

"Take it out. Let your wife see what she's done to you."

David hesitated, reluctant to encourage Lauren, but then fumbled at his zipper and pulled his penis free. Lauren stared at her husband's erection while Majid fucked her and her gasps of excitement grew louder. David instinctively stroked and Lauren's eyes rolled back in her head.

"He's going to make her cum," Greg said. "Be ready. This will hurt."

David was confused for a moment and then Lauren's first cry of pleasure filled the room. David felt like he'd been shot. Lauren cried out again, trapped in a surge of pleasure wracking her body. Her eyes slowly closed, overwhelmed, as waves of orgasmic delight roiled her body. She was unprepared for the force of her wild climax, carried away by the immorality of what she did, thrilled by her husband's eyes on her as a lover fucked her hard. Her wickedness fueled a monstrous orgasm, twisting her body and clenching her muscles. She felt her pussy gush and loved the depravity of it.

David jerked his penis. His wife was lost to bliss. A thousand hot needles pierced his heart but his dick throbbed in his hand. Dismay crushed him but already his semen was on the move. Lauren bounced on Majid's erection and David spurt hot liquid. She looked like a beautiful dream, agonizing to behold yet impossible for him to look away. Majid held off but as Lauren started her descent, he held his breath and fucked her faster. Lauren reeled at the assault, uttering constant yelps as he hammered her hole and battered her cervix. This was hot sex beyond her imagination and she just took it, letting every sensation wash over and drown her.

Majid slowed but thrust deeper. Greg and David saw his balls lift.

"Here he goes," Greg whispered in awe.

Majid grabbed Lauren and drove deep and hard. Her head snapped up with each powerful push. At last he shoved one final time and held himself deep, growling loudly as cum flowed. Greg and David saw his asshole pucker over and over as he pumped Lauren full of hot sperm. David whimpered as ownership of Lauren's pussy passed to the Persian. Greg, better prepared for such a sight, timed his release to match Majid and shot his load on the bedroom floor. After the first spurts, he watched David's tortured face to dump the rest of his load, savoring his friend's anguish.

Majid pushed Lauren onto her stomach and laid on top of her. They murmured too low for the men to hear and after a short time Greg nudged David's shoulder.

"Let's go," he said.

"I'm not leaving her with him," David said.

"Yeah, you are. Don't make her feel weird. Let's go see what Troy is doing to my wife. That guy lasts forever."

David turned at the door. Majid kissed Lauren's nape and stroked her hair. She wore a satisfied smile, eyes closed, and tilted her neck to make it easy for him. David saw the man's fat cock was still buried deep.

Chapter 28

James and Stacey tore into the colorful wrapping paper. David sipped his coffee. Lauren leaned under his arm and wiggled her toes in her slippers. She'd never felt so happy. The lights on the Christmas tree blinked.

James held the new controller for his online games over his head and cheered. Stacey was thrilled with her new skates.

"Nailed it," David murmured.

"With your help," Lauren replied.

The kids ripped into the next present as Lauren snuggled closer to her husband.

"Are we swingers?" Lauren muttered.

David took a moment to ponder. Lauren had taken three new men over the last two months, never to see them again. She'd given David permission to fuck Stina but he'd declined, enjoying a young woman they'd met together at a bar instead. Lauren had dabbled in pussy for the first time that night and loved it.

"Yeah, I think we are," David said.

Lauren grinned broadly. "That's exciting," she said.

David pointed at a small package wrapped in green and red. "While we're on the subject," he said. "Open that one."

Lauren sat the present in her lap and looked up at her husband.

"Go ahead," he said.

Lauren started to carefully pull the tape and then realized what she was doing. She sank her nails through the paper and ripped, to the delight of the children. She flipped a cardboard tab and withdrew a video camera, smiling devilishly.

"Our movies will be better than Troy's," David said. "Greg has offered to assist."

"I can't wait."

"Good. There's a man from work, Teddy, who you met once, that offered to take us out for drinks with his wife. I told him we'd love to go. Next Saturday."

Lauren laughed, truly happy. She sent her gaze around the room; her fine home, her beautiful kids, her loving husband.

"I can't wait," she said again.
