Chapter 1

"It's not cheating if we both agree to do it," Tess said. "Don't think of it like that. I'm doing nothing behind your back. This clinic is professional."

She lifted her hips, capturing the last inches of my penis, and worked a slow rotation. Persuasive.

"Can we discuss this later?" I asked. "I'm a little busy right now."

She pouted.

"I," she stated, emphatically. "Want. A. Baby."

"So do I. I just prefer it be our baby."

Her hips stopped. She glared.

"It will be," she said. "Babies are more than lumps of DNA, Mark. We'll raise that child, feed that child, love that child. We'll keep it safe and warm. That baby will be our baby. We'll love that baby completely. Why does DNA matter so much? What matters is what the presence of a child does to our marriage, our relationship. Our lives. Besides. there's a decent chance it will have a mix of ours."

My erection sat inside her, waiting.

"Can we not talk about this right now?"

"Mark," my wife said. "You are so busy with work this is the only time I can talk to you. I have to use my body to get you to listen."

I sighed and pulled out, flopping onto my back. My hard dick throbbed. I hated that she was right. I felt shitty about that.

"Ariel and Nate used this facility," Tess continued. "They've struggled to get pregnant, like us. First they tried a place that had men listed in a catalog; photographs, head and body. Ariel went through every book but nothing clicked. Then she heard about this place. At this place, she and Nate got to meet the males, interact with them, try for chemistry. She said it was amazing. All the men are screened for drug use and disease and their DNA has been examined too. These are top-quality candidates. She knew any guy she wanted would be a safe choice. Instead of a catalog the men are required to walk around naked, making themselves available to any woman that wants them. She mated with three different guys while Nate waited in the lobby. She made love with her husband once they got home. They went back three times over the next few weeks. A month later and she says she might be pregnant. If they'd used IVF, they'd know for sure the baby wasn't Nate's. This way there's a chance. Not to mention they saved tens of thousands of dollars."

I scoffed.

"Saving money is great," I said. "But Ariel made love to three men who were not her husband."

"I wouldn't call it making love. I'm sure her time with the men was clinical. Nate held and kissed her through the entire, um, procedure."

"Procedure?"

"For lack of a better word, yes. She said it was sexy and intimate and felt like she was sharing the moment with Nate. The men deposited semen and then Ariel and Nate got up and went home. The only love Ariel made was with Nate in their bedroom. There was no jealousy or anything. The men didn't even have names. They were mere sperm dispensers. Can we at least try it? Even if only once?"

I was still hard and she wrapped fingers around my penis.

"We've struggled for so long, Baby," she said. "I'm exhausted. I'm getting older fast. This needs to happen now. If we are going to build a family, we need to get started. We've waited too long. We should have two kids by now and working on our third. Instead, we have zero."

The problem was me, not Tess. Testing had revealed the truth. The doctors said it was technically possible we could make a baby, but we'd need to be patient. Real patient. Incredibly patient. That was over two years ago, almost three. Patience only lasts so long. Bodies age. Tess and I had tried everything, everything within our financial and mental reach.

"But other men, Honey," I sighed. "Their bare penises will be inside you. You're asking me to allow other men to fuck you. I don't know if I can get my head around that."

"Maybe don't think of them as men? Maybe that makes you see them as threats, possible competition. They aren't. At all. Try thinking of them as semen donors. They're robots. They happen to possess a mechanism that can inject sperm. That's all we need them for. That's all they are. They get nothing else from us. From me."

She squeezed my dick, her excitement growing. She felt my protests fading, my resistance weakening. She piled on.

"My friend Candy was there when Ariel told me about all this and now she and Tyler are visiting the clinic next weekend. I didn't even know they were trying to have kids. I won't tell anyone about our visit. No one needs to know what we do but us."

My blue balls ached. I was iron in her hand.

"Can you picture me pregnant?" she continued. "Just imagine it, Mark. It would make me so happy. In the end, it won't matter how I got pregnant. The only thing that will matter is that we have a baby."

Her eyes were misty. Her face glowed.

Maybe she was right. Maybe I needed to see past the surface to something deeper. In a way, I'd let her down three years in a row.

She swung a leg over, her pussy hovering an inch above my hard dick. Despite the topic, I was throbbing. She guided me in, her pussy wet and blazing. She began a slow up and down.

"The facility is clean and white," she said, picturing the place. "Four or five big rooms, all connected, with smaller, padded and intimate rooms off to the side for privacy. It would be so easy, Baby. We'd pick men we both felt good about. It's not like I'd be picking guys I wanted to fuck. We'd select men to make their deposit and move on. I know it will work, Honey."

I stayed silent. Tess was riding me, her tight pussy clinging to every inch, and I was quickly lost in the sensations. She was too. My wife closed her eyes, savoring the feeling of me buried in her. Sex is different when you and your wife are trying to make a baby. It's deeper, more intimate, more meaningful. Each thrust carries a purpose. You aren't simply seeking pleasure; you're trying to create life together. My nuts tightened.

"Can we try it?" she murmured, barely audible. "If we hate it we'll never go back. I want to try everything before losing all hope."

I closed my eyes too.

Maybe this will be the time, I thought. Maybe I'm about to impregnate her and we can skip a trip to that place altogether.

I grabbed a handful of tit. Our routine was I came first and then pulled out to eat her until she came. Female orgasm causes the cervix to dip into the pool of semen and greatly increases the chance of conception. I've read every book written on how to get pregnant. We used every trick, every time. She felt my dick grow harder and expand. She knew I was close. She clamped her pussy around me and whimpered.

"Do it!" she hissed. "Shoot it in there. Fill me up. Put a baby in me."

I did not hold back. I blasted away, launching hot sperm deep inside, and then, once I'd squeezed out every drop, rolled her onto her back and withdrew. I slid down her body and teased her swollen clit with my tongue. She grabbed my head with both hands and held my mouth in place. She placed her bare feet on my back and lifted her pelvis, tilting her womb and helping my fluids. I licked her, tasting myself in there, tasting our efforts. She quickly achieved climax. After we laid side by side, cuddling.

"Okay," I said, after a long time.

She instantly understood. She rolled towards me and hugged me firmly.

"Thank you so much," she whimpered.

Chapter 2

Clean was an understatement. The place was spotless. White lobby and white furniture and white walls. The floors were polished white marble. Ariel's description had been accurate: five big rooms with ample seating, each with smaller rooms leading away for a more intimate setting. Husbands were everywhere, wearing what they'd arrived in. Wives wore more easily removed smocks made of paper. Several single women milled about, ready for a child on their own.

Over the last two weeks we'd completed a mountain of disclaimers and forms, interviewed with a doctor and a psychologist and a marriage counselor, signed affidavits, and had our blood tested.

The Breeders, as Ariel had named them, wandered the place nude. I mentally named them Specimens. Each was handsome, physically fit, intelligent, easy-going, and likeable. I had no idea how much they were paid to fuck all day but given their upbeat moods, it must have been a lot. Nice work if you can find it.

Tess was incredibly nervous. I thought she might back out. She avoided the men for the first half-hour, not even raising her eyes to look at them. Once she did she began to relax. There was no rush and no obligation.

"If none of these guys do it for you," I'd said. "We can come back another time."

She did not reply.

I was torn. Every naked penis was a threat, and there were a ton of them. I watched couples all around the room make their selection and wander off with a Breeder in tow. New Breeders entered from a back door: a constant supply of fresh meat. Everyone was very matter-of-fact about the process, but I heard muffled cries of ecstasy from the smaller rooms. The place was surreal. More than once I wondered if this was truly happening or if I was home at that moment, in bed and dreaming.

An hour later and Tess had still done nothing. I hesitated to push her as I had no desire to launch her into the arms of another man, but I knew she'd kick herself if we left this place unsuccessful. I waited. The selection had to come from her.

"None of these men turn you on?" I asked. "None are attractive enough?"

She scoffed.

"All of them are attractive enough, Mark. That's the problem. These are beautiful, healthy men, and everything is made more exciting because I know they've all been tested. I can indulge fearlessly, to my heart's content."

"Then what's the hold up? I'd like to get this done and get home."

"I'm shy."

I gawked at her. She showed me her palms.

"I can't help it!" she protested. "What do I do? Just pick a man and walk up to him? Hi, my name is Tess and I'd like you to fuck me?"

"Yes," I said. "That would work, yes. That's what these men do, Baby. That's why they wander the place naked, waiting to be called upon."

"Well, this is a lot harder than I thought it would be."

She was so stressed. I put my arm around her shoulders and hugged. I was anxious but she was a mess. That made sense. I'd not looked at this from her point of view, only my own. Tess is cute but a bit frumpy. She hides from interacting with people. We have few friends and do not go out a lot.

"Let's make it a game," I said, turning her away from me and wrapping my arms around her. "I think I know which guy you'd pick. Tell me your favorite to see if I'm right."

She hesitated.

"He's not in this room," she said, relaxing. "Let's go find him."

We remained in our hug as we walked. I was a little surprised by her certainty. She'd mentally selected one man out of all those here and I'd not noticed. We entered a room and she sent her eyes crawling. She stopped.

"Him," she said.

She did not point. She did not gesture in any way. There were six nude men in this room but I knew whom she meant.

He was a few inches taller than me. He lacked the hard, physical fitness of the other men. He wasn't fat, but his body was smooth, like he watched what he ate but enjoyed the occasional cookies and ice cream and only hit the gym maybe three times a week, whereas the other men went every day. He smiled easily and often and even I could tell his face was handsome. He had brown hair and broad shoulders, fairly defined abs and big arms. He had more body hair than the other men.

He also had seven inches of soft, chubby, circumcised cock hanging down his thigh. One of the biggest I'd seen in this place.

I admit I checked every man here. Considering our mission, given the reason I'd driven my wife to this clinic, it mattered. Tess may not care one way or the other about the size of their genitalia, but I did. What husband wouldn't? When she chose a man she'd also be choosing which dick would find its way into her. Hell, I cared more about their penises than their faces.

"Were you right?" she asked, snapping me out of my thoughts.

"Right about what?"

"About which man you thought I'd select."

"No," I said, since I'd never actually picked a man and had only played this game to get her moving. "Why him?"

My wife ran her eyes from his toes to his hair.

"I like him," she said. "He laughs often, jokes and smiles a lot. He's confident, with a nice body and intelligent eyes."

"I guess that large dangling cock has nothing to do with it?" I teased, knowing very well it did not.

"Oh, absolutely yes it does," she said, shocking me.

"Really? Since when?"

"Since right now," she said. "Absolutely. A woman goes on a date and she has no idea what the man has down below. Sometimes we don't find out for months. It's not the most important thing but it is important. In this place, I see exactly what I'm getting. It's a delightful change of pace."

I had no idea what to say. I never expected her to care about penis. She turned a little bashful.

"Does that make me naughty? I normally wouldn't care but window shopping like this is different. It's like the red-light district in Amsterdam with all those women behind glass. When you date looking specifically for sex and not in the hopes of finding a relationship, your criteria changes. I've never been with a man who had a big penis like that. I'm intrigued. One hears stories and wonders. No offense."

"I'd say none taken but I think maybe some was."

"Sorry, Baby. You know I'm in love with your dick."

She turned from me to eyeball the man again.

"But today we're not looking for love, are we?" she said. "Today we are measuring all sorts of different features. Today I examine men in ways

I've never examined men and I find it intoxicating. I don't care if he's kind or generous. I don't care that he's funny or he can cook. I care that his testicles are big and produce a lot of sperm. I care that his penis is long so he can shoot that big load of sperm straight into my womb. I care that his penis is thick, so it fills my vagina and keeps that baby-making juice from leaking out. I'm looking at him in entirely new ways, ways I've never looked at men before. You guys have been appraising us based on physical attributes since the dawn of time. Today it's my turn, and, honestly, it's kind of fun."

I was stunned.

"Who are you?" I asked.

"Tess," she said, a glint in her eye. "Do I shock you?"

"I'm gob smacked. Dumbfounded. Astonished."

She dared to giggle.

"Sorry, my love. But you can't blame me. Imagine if we were at a strip club and I allowed you to pick the girl you wanted."

"That's a lovely thought."

She pinched my arm.

"You can forget it, buster," she said. "No chance. I'm not here to find a new lover. I'm here for a baby. That's it."

I scrutinized the man again considering this new information. How strange it was to know my wife wanted sex with him.

"So approach him," I said.

"I'm too nervous. What if he says no?"

I rolled my eyes.

"They aren't allowed to say no."

She chewed a lip.

"You better go get him before some other woman does," I urged, scarcely believing the words came from my mouth. "I see a lot of wives checking him out. Once he's drained, he's done."

She squirmed. She fidgeted.

"You do it for me," she said.

"What?"

"You ask him for me. Go tell him I choose him."

She might as well have punched me in the face.

"You want me to invite the guy to fuck my wife?"

"Yes. Hurry."

"Me?"

"Yes."

Holy Mother of God.

The thought boggled my mind. When I'd imagined us at this place, I'd assumed my role would be minimal. I'd hang back, out of the way, inconspicuous, silently complicit, almost invisible. I was there for moral support. I'd pictured Tess making her choice and wandering off with some guy. I'd grab a magazine and wait for her return. Not only were things clearly not going that way, but now it turns out I'd be the one to make the request. I had to ask him to fuck my woman. Unbelievable.

I know I stood motionless only a second or two but it felt like an hour. I stared at the man; his face, his body, his cock. As I considered what I might say to him, a burning ball of angst sizzled in my gut. Do I simply walk up and offer her? Maybe turn and point at Tess? My wife wants you, I might say.

"Please?" she added, nervously twisting her fingers. "I can't do it. Go get us a baby, Mark."

I sighed.

I left her standing there and approached the man. He smiled, knowing what I was about to say before I did. I gestured at Tess who gave a small wave and timid smile. I cleared my throat.

"Sorry to bother you," I said. "That's Tess, my wife, and, um, she picks you."

"Terrific," he said. "My name is Andrew. What's yours?"

"Mark."

"Hello, Mark. I'll introduce myself."

He left me and headed for her. They began an animated conversation. Tess was flustered by his bold approach but quickly got her feet under her. Every few seconds her gaze darted around his body and, more specifically, his cock. I had to decide to join their conversation or hang back and let them work out details on their own. I took too long to make up my mind and received another shock when Andrew took my wife's hand to lead her away. She must have assumed I'd naturally follow because she kept her eyes on his face and never looked back at me. I watched the tall naked man walk alongside my smock-clad wife and my heart seized in my chest. It was happening. I told my legs to work but they refused. Tess and Andrew were still holding hands as they vanished through a doorway.

Chapter 3

At last adrenaline overcame paralysis. I hurried after them, passing through the same doorway. Inside was a warm and cozy room, appointed with a large comfortable bed and plush chairs. Tess nervously sat on the edge of the bed, Andrew stood close, smiling at her and stroking his dick to get it hard. They chatted quietly but the roaring in my ears drowned them out.

The only thing in my universe was the growing cock in his hand.

"Can I help you with that?" I heard Tess offer.

The ground lurched beneath my feet. The room spun.

My wife did not wait for his response, sliding from the bed to kneel at his feet. She folded her hands in her lap and Andrew aimed his soft cock at her waiting mouth. I smothered a groan. How was a blowjob part of a baby-making insemination? Their eyes met and locked and Andy slid his cock into my wife's open mouth. He fed her about half and then allowed her to adjust her jaw and then pushed more inches deep. She coughed but nodded and he sank even more. Her cheeks bulged with dick. He paused and I knew her tongue was busy in there, moving him around, teasing. They held that pose until, finally, he moaned softly.

"That feels fantastic," he muttered.

Tess beamed with pride. He was thickening and rising and her hands left her lap to play with his hanging balls. I fell backward the few inches to lean against the wall. My legs were weak and my mouth was a desert.

Soon he was stiff enough to support his own weight. She sucked the head while she stroked his length with both hands. Her slithering tongue was a paintbrush along his shaft. Dozens of small veins latticed his penis, a dense network of squiggly ridges. She continued to suck his cock long after he was fully erect. He gleamed and glittered from my wife's saliva.

Tess stood and loosened her smock. The paper garment dropped at her feet. She's no bikini model but her ample tits and round ass give her a womanly figure. She crawled onto the bed backward, her intense gaze welded to his hard cock. She filled her hands with her tits, waiting.

Andrew would need to take the final steps.

Andrew took the final steps.

His straining cock seemed to reach for her, each inch of his thick shaft covered in a web of raised veins. The head had swollen more than everything else and capped his cock like a fist. I held my breath. He looked too big for her little pussy. I worried he'd hurt her. I worried she'd bruise.

Tess had no such worry. My wife openly gawked at that meat ram, pinching her nipples and opening her knees wider. She'd forgotten all about our purpose here, all about the baby she craved. A sexy stranger was about to fuck her with his large and pulsing penis. That was the truth that filled her mind, everything else forgotten.

He stayed on his feet but grabbed her ankles, pulling her hips to the edge of the bed. Her labia were engorged and flushed, a drop of wetness drooling from her ready slit. I know they weren't, I know they couldn't be, but his balls looked even bigger. Tess stared down the length of her body to Andy between her legs.

"That might be the sexiest view I've ever had," she muttered.

Andrew rested her leg on his shoulder and took his cock in hand. He rubbed the tip around her hole, wetting himself, lining his cock up, teasing my wife. She caved fast.

"Just do it," she moaned. "Put it in."

The lust in her voice cut right through me. Her barely controlled desire for the man was a naked razorblade against my heart. She thought she'd want me present for this encounter but there was no need. In this incredible moment, I was forgotten, unnecessary and unneeded.

If I had anything to say, any protest to make, now was the time. His throbbing cock was at her door. I said nothing and did nothing.

Andrew flexed his ass. His thick cock began sliding into my wife, expanding her labia, one inch following the next as he vanished, consumed by her enveloping pussy. Tess groaned. He paused, giving her time to accept the intrusion, with her body and her mind, and then he eased another inch deep.

"That's a big dick," she mumbled.

Andrew flexed his ass again and fed her more inches. Her pussy formed an airtight seal around his girth. Tess groaned. For a woman who was only here to collect sperm, she was taking an awful lot of pleasure from it. Andy rested her other leg on his shoulder and covered her hands on her tits. They caressed her breasts together, his forward weight now slowly driving his cock deeper until he reached her cervix. About two inches remained outside her body. My wife gasped for air, her face a mix of intense pleasure with a dash of pain.

"That's a big dick," she groaned.

He withdrew half before sheathing it again. Tess moaned loudly.

"You're going to make me cum," she whimpered. "I can't believe it."

An earthquake rocked my brain. At no time did I ever consider my wife reaching a climax with this man. What quirk of my brain had skipped over that possibility, and how had he gotten her there so goddamn fast? This event was supposed to be emotionless, robotic.

Andrew began working his hips and Tess breathed faster. Her hands left her tits to lace behind his neck. They gazed into each other's eyes. He planted a fist under her arms and long stroked his cock: in, all the way until her cervix stopped him, then out until her pussy lips clung to the large head, then all the way in again, forcing gasps and groans from my beautiful wife.

"Almost," she muttered, eyes growing wide. "Almost, yeah, almost—"

Her body curled like a bug. Her face scrunched and her eyes squeezed and an orgasm ripped through her. Her toes pointed and her jaw clenched and her bent body went rigid. Her asshole puckered, winking over and over as her cunt clamped around his stiff meat. His cock was a steel piston as my wife climaxed.

"Fuuuuuuck!" she cried, her voice deep and guttural.

Andrew pumped her hole, faster to make her cum harder and then slowing after she peaked. He watched her writhe beneath him and grinned with delight. He continued to thrust as the last vestige of her climax drained away. Her body relaxed. Her head fell to the side. He never stopped but he did return to the long strokes of before. Now when he touched her cervix she shuddered from pleasure. She twisted her body to find his balls, cupping the heavy swinging globes in a warm palm.

"Your turn," she rasped, at last remembering why we were here.

"In time," he said. "Let's make this last a while."

He leaned close to kiss her. Surprised, she hesitated, but quickly returned his kiss with deep passion.

"I didn't expect that," she said. "I thought that wasn't allowed."

"Most husbands forbid it," he said. "But yours seems to be okay with anything."

She cast her eyes my way, guilty, but hungry for more. He rolled her body onto her side and slipped one of her legs between his knees. Her other leg he pointed at the ceiling. He placed his hands on her butt and tummy, holding her steady as he sawed in and out. His fat balls dragged up and down her inner thigh. Sometimes he'd stop while fully buried, testicles resting on her leg, and forced blood to make his cock expand inside her. Tess swooned.

"That's intense," she gasped.

He continued to play with her, using his dick to torture her cunt, making her feel each solid inch, but after a time, he turned her face down and pulled her hips to the edge of the bed, legs hanging off, feet dangling off the floor. She reached back with both hands to separate her butt cheeks, offering him unrestrained access to her pussy. He had her soaked, drenched, sopping. It was difficult to see my wife so aroused for another man. He moved closer to the bed and forced his stiff cock down, aiming at the offered hole. He plunged his dick deep. He forced her tight tunnel wide. She slipped a hand under to play with her clit, teasing another spasming orgasm.

Finally, he turned her over and moved her up the bed. He threw her legs open and crawled between them, hard cock bouncing wildly. Tess knew he was ready to cum. She knew what would happen next. She saw it in his eyes and so did I.

She seized his dick with both hands and stuffed him into her pussy, grabbing his face after for another hot kiss. He fucked her yet again with those long strokes he loved, inching closer to his orgasm. Tess climaxed under him again, unable to hold back. He began slow but soon his hips pounded her body. Rhythmic slapping filled the room and drifted out to the main area. Those people that had seen me come back here with my wife and another man knew exactly what was happening now. His breathing grew harsh, sweat formed on his face. His body worked hard. Tess lay pinned beneath him and ran her hands over his sweaty chest. She murmured continuously, urging him to fuck her well, begging the man for his sperm, pleading, praising, beseeching. On and on his pelvis rose and fell.

All at once he stopped abruptly and buried his cock all the way in, the broad fat head of the beast pressed directly against her cervix. He groaned deep and loud, shuddering as he spat seed. His balls lifted and clenched over and over, hot sperm flowing like a river. He filled my wife to overflowing, slippery white cream oozing out around his thick phallus. He collapsed onto her, catching his breath, and then, after a time, lifted his body to remove his penis. My wife stopped him.

"Stay," she said, touching his shoulder.

Still mostly stiff, he sank his cock back in.

He said something softly and my wife chuckled. She hugged him using arms and legs, holding him close, holding him buried. They murmured sweetly to each other.

In time, he shrank enough to slip out. Tess pinched her labia closed and snuggled against his chest. They chatted about what they'd done, things they'd liked and things they'd loved. In less than ten minutes the man was hard again. Tess stared at his erection, flattered and delighted. He gently pushed her backward, shouldering his way between her knees, holding his hard cock in hand until she smoothly sheathed it in her sopping cunt.

There was no pain mixed into her pleasure this time. He had all the lube he needed from his first orgasm and her runaway wetness. He pumped twice to get his knees positioned and then began a slow climb in speed and ferocity. Soon he hammered her hole, slamming his cock deep, biting her nipples and pinning her to the bed. She came screaming seconds before he did. Every muscle across his back clenched as he released another robust flood of baby-making semen. Tess's expression turned serene. He kept himself buried and spurting until the last drop departed his cock. He moved his knees, positioning himself to withdraw, but she touched his shoulder.

"Leave it in," she said. "I love feeling you inside me."

I knew what she was thinking. That fat cock was a cork in a bottle. Now she was filled with the two things she loved most at this stage in her life, penis and semen, and hated for the moment to end. I studied her face and it seemed she was concentrating, focusing and trying her best to absorb every precious drop of elixir he'd shot into her.

Chapter 4

It was dead quiet in the car for the first five minutes. Tess wore her sundress once more, panties now in place to keep her pussy closed and her liquid treasure captured. She looked satisfied. She dropped her gaze to her lap.

"Now," she muttered, resting a hand on her lower abdomen. "We wait."

"No," I said. "Now we go home and I fuck your brains out."

She gave me a goofy grin.

"I'm looking forward to that," she said. "I couldn't tell if you still wanted that step included or not."

"Of course I do."

"I know we agreed to that plan before we went to that place but I have no idea how you feel about that plan now. I'm happy to hear you want me."

"More than ever."

"You don't show it," she said. "I don't know if all this is hard on you or not. You're stoic, face blank, body stiff. I try to imagine what that must have been like for you but I can't. I'm not a man or a husband. Was it horrible to be there and see all that?"

"Not horrible," I said. "Intense. Difficult to process. I had to keep reminding myself why we were there and what the goal was. Part of me, and this is hard to admit, got turned on a little by watching you behave that way."

"Wow. Truly?"

Alarms went off. Red flags waved. I felt a danger in admitting my voyeuristic arousal, like I was indirectly giving her a green light, like I was removing my say in the matter. If she knew it turned me on, she had tacit and carte blanche approval. Conversely, I hated the idea of lying to her.

"Yes," I confessed. "Because it was you. I got jealous too, and frightened, and anxious, but all that noise got shoved aside by the sight of you. I've seen you do those sexual things but only with me, and in those moments I had my attention split because I was doing them with you, too. This time I was a pure observer and sweet Jesus, Tess, you looked gloriously sexy at times. Like, radiant. I knew what you'd be doing inside that building but I never pictured you doing it. What a sight."

Tess grinned like a fool.

"I'm terrified to admit that," I continued. "I'm fearful of what you might do, armed with that knowledge. I worry you'll run with it."

"Seriously?" she said.

I nodded. We drove in silence, lost in our thoughts.

"Tell me a time I was radiant," she said at last.

I hesitated. I felt like I was digging my own grave, each word a shovel full of earth. I sighed.

"Your first orgasm," I admitted.

Her head snapped up. She stared out the windshield.

"That's not true," I said. "Not only your first, but every orgasm he gave you. I don't know why I never thought that would happen but I didn't. I had no idea you would climax, but you did, easily, and so fucking often. I was wholly unprepared. It was amazing to see but cut right through me."

"Sorry, Baby."

"He felt good, I guess?"

She shook her head.

"No," she said. "He felt fantastic. I'll be honest since you are. It was hot to have a new lover and it also turned me on knowing I had you as an audience. I was as mentally turned on as I was physically. He has that big dick and knows how to use it. Don't take this the wrong way but I also liked how different he felt, like how obvious it was I wasn't fucking you. I was fucking someone new. That sounds bad, sorry. I hope you get what I mean."

"I think I do."

"Then top all that off with trying to get pregnant. Today was the most intense experience of my life. Crazy. I hope you still plan on fucking me. I hope you throw me around our bedroom when we get home."

I hit my turn signal, changed lanes.

"I'll understand if you never want to go back," she said.

That caught me by surprise. What a loving gesture. I was speechless for a moment. That she loved the experience was obvious. That she would give it up to spare my feelings was touching.

"No," I conceded. "We'll do it again."

I felt her tense, a wave of heat coming off her. My admission we'd do it again had turned her into a volcano. She hid her excitement.

"I'm happy to hear you say that," she said, trying to sound casual.

I changed lanes again, spotting our off-ramp ahead.

"Did you notice all the veins on his cock?" she asked.

"I did. He was covered with them."

"I don't know why that turned me on so much but it did. His dick looked so masculine. I've never seen one like that. His looked like it belonged on an animal. Like super healthy and potent. Yours is smooth, like every other penis I've seen. "

"I think I feel insulted."

"Don't be. I'm not saying his was better. I'm saying his was different. Way different than what I'm used to. I felt such a contrast between his cock and yours. Add to that the fact I knew he was going to ejaculate inside me, I knew he was trying to get me pregnant. Do you have any idea how fucking exciting that is for a woman?"

She lifted the front of her dress to gaze at her panty-covered pussy. Some of his semen had soaked through leaving a wet spot on her underwear and the upholstery.

"Do you still masturbate?" she asked. "Like on days I work late or go to bed before you?"

"Sometimes."

"Stop, please. Stop doing that. I think from now on you should save every drop for me. I want sperm inside me every day. Can you fuck me every day?"

"I can try."

I knew I couldn't. My busy and stress-filled life did not allow for so much bedroom activity. I worked far too many hours. I often got home exhausted. Logic told me where this would lead. She'd go to the clinic without me. She'd come home, hoping I would fuck her when I got home from work, but I'd be too tired. It might be days before time and energy allowed us to have sex. Other men would own her pussy all that time.

"Will you go back to the clinic without me?" I asked.

She looked like she'd been caught.

"I was wondering about that," she said, sheepishly. "Would that be all right? I'll always let you know so you can jump me when you get home. I know how busy you are but I think our maximum delay should be three days. We have three days for you to fuck me after one of those men do. That way we always know your seed is always in there with theirs."

"Those men? I thought you'd stick with Andrew. You seemed to like him."

"I did," she said, either missing the hurt in my voice or choosing to ignore it. "But I don't want to focus on one man. Then it would come down to you or him. I think more partners makes it more anonymous. That way it's you or a faceless group. You're my one man."

We pulled into the driveway and I hit the garage door button. I hit it again once we parked to close the big door behind us. Tess collected her things and headed for the door to the kitchen but I grabbed her wrist and spun her around. She yelped. I walked her forward and bent her over the hood like a cop about to frisk. I forced her down and hooked her panties to the side. I sank my dick into the hot soup filling her pussy. Lightning fried my brain. That was Andrew. Another man owned her cunt.

I turned caveman. My dick turned even harder. I would have hoped for more friction but I was so aroused what I felt was enough. I pumped hard, wet sounds filling our garage. Tess tried to look at me but I shoved her down, pinning her on our car. I kept her pinned with one hand and held her panties with the other and fucked her rough. There was no love. There was lust.

A little demon sat in my brain giggling at me, taunting me, reminding me that, no matter how we dressed it up, my wife had fucked someone else. We had rationalized the entire process and made it all about conception but too many individual moments provoked me. I saw her faces of pleasure, I heard her cries of passion. Our impersonal and clinical mission had proved anything but and I now took my angst out on her, using my penis as a weapon to punish her. It wasn't right and it wasn't fair but I did it anyway.

"Fuck me!" she snarled, welcoming my attack.

I grabbed her around the waist with both hands, ramming my dick as deep as I could get it. I couldn't reach her cervix like Andrew but I tried. Tess wiggled her pussy along my length, coaxing, doing her best to force my ejaculation.

I did not last long.

"Fuck!" I shouted, boiling cum rising. "FUCK!"

An explosion rocked me. A titanic, earthshaking detonation seized my penis and testicles and ripped an ejaculation from me. Many more followed the first until I'd emptied myself inside my lovely wife. My dick shrank and slipped free and her panties slipped from my thumb, snapping into place.

We lay there panting.

"You can fuck me like that whenever you want," she mumbled.

Hours later we were showered and cozy on the couch, watching Game of Thrones again. We each had dishes of ice cream and wore ear-to-ear grins. Home and comfortable, satisfied and safe, it was easy to put some distance between us and what we'd done. I'd already buried a lot.

Tess moved her legs, causing her robe to part, and I caught a glimpse of her panties, something she would never wear while watching a movie and eating ice cream with me. Reality came rushing back full force. Normally she'd be naked under that robe but tonight she wanted to keep her pussy closed and Andrew and me securely locked inside. Her womb basted in our fluids.

My dick rose fast, and robes do not hide erections. Tess stopped a bite of ice cream headed for her mouth. She stared.

"Did I do that?" she asked.

"You and Andrew."

She plucked my dish from my hand and set both on the coffee table. She spun away, aiming her ass at me. She flipped her robe over her butt and pulled her sticky underwear away to display her welcoming cunt.

This is how it was going to be.

Sex was our top priority now. It wouldn't last indefinitely, but for now it was everything. I stood on the couch, bent my knees, opened my robe, and shoved my dick into her sweltering pussy. I fucked her hard, struggling to remain balanced, as she urged me to cum. I surprised us both when I began ejaculating only moments later. I squeezed out the last drop and then stepped back, dropping my mouth to her pussy.

"Mark!" she yelled, shocked.

She was going to say more but my tongue made contact and she lost the ability to speak. Yes, she carried two men in there, but one was me and besides, I wanted her cervix to dip. The fertility doctors had informed us that when the female orgasms muscles pull the cervix into the pool of semen, so we should as make sure Tess came, which was fine with us. I attached my mouth to her cunt and ate ravenously, tasting myself and him but looking past all that to her pleasure.

She orgasmed like an eruption.

Just like that, it was over. With trembling hand, Tess carefully positioned her panties again. We straightened our robes, giggled a little with delight, and returned to our show and our delicious desserts, with sweet ice cream replacing the tangy flavor in my mouth.

Chapter 5

"I can't make it," I said. "I'm sorry. The client is here, in my office. No way can I just walk away."

"We skipped last night too," Tess whined.

"This is the job, Baby. We enjoy the money I make. This is the price we pay. I'll be here late. Probably midnight."

She was silent.

"Call the facility and reschedule us." I added.

Silence.

"What if I go without you?" she said. "We never did answer that question. You can have me when you finally get home tonight."

An icy bone-chill raced through me. Without me? Tess wandering those rooms in that smock, alone, selecting a man and fucking him without me present? I shivered. There was no real difference if I was there or not, but the idea of her alone with him stabbed right through me.

Andrew.

Fuck. What if he was there again and available? Tess would select him in an instant, spending all the time she wished in his arms. They'd find a private room and enjoy each other, unhurried, intimate and passionate. She knows how late I'll work tonight. My wife would have hours with the man. Hours.

I picture his vein-covered cock. I imagined those large swinging balls. I stifled a groan of frustration and angst. Jealousy raged.

"Well?" she asked.

"Not Andrew," I croaked. "I've seen you with him. No Andrew without me."

"That makes no sense," she said.

Was she hoping to see him? Was that her plan?

"I've been with him once already and you stood by and did nothing. What does it matter if you're not there this time? It will be the same except you can't watch us. Is that the problem? Are you hot to watch me with him?"

"No."

"Then what?"

This was killing me. I heard in her voice her desire and excitement. She was thrilled at the prospect of another session with the man. She'd end this call and race out the door, eager to be with him, eager to be under him. Her desire for him, specifically, daunted and intimidated me.

"If you're exclusive to him it's like you're trying to have his baby."

"I'm trying to have ours. Trying hard and I must say, I feel a little like I'm dragging you along. I worry I want this baby much more than you."

"That's not it," I said. "Please understand."

"If I'm understanding then I feel you need to be understanding too."

"That's fair."

"He's unlikely to even be there and available," she said.

I was boxed in. With so many men to choose from and the random assignment of shifts, the odds she could hook up with Andrew were slight. I worried needlessly.

"All right," I conceded. "Go. I'll see you late tonight."

"Thank you, Baby. I'll be ready when you come through the door."

We ended the call. I returned to the conference room and my client. We talked strategy. We talked plans. I asked questions and took notes, made suggestions and provided guidance. The hours fell away but my mind was elsewhere. My guts were a tangled mess, my palms sweaty. With each word I spoke, my mind was busy picturing Tess. I noted the time when she most likely arrived, most likely changed into the smock and stepped onto the floor, most likely inspected all the men and made her choice.

I don't believe in mysticism, but I swear when a penis slid into her wet vagina, I felt that moment too. I was midsentence with my customer, explaining the benefits of a certain tactic, when my mind suddenly filled with white noise and my heart began to race. I had no way of knowing if it was true but I felt it. I felt the moment another man entered her and began pumping.

Thank God for my powers of concentration.

I forced the sensation down and away. I returned my full attention to the man before me. I was a wizard, displaying business acumen earned through years of experience. Time passed and his respect for me grew.

I was a paragraph deep into explaining yet another complex concept when my phone buzzed. A one-word text, from Tess, scrolled slowly across the top of my phone before vanishing off the other side.

Andrew.

Fucking Hell.

Andrew.

ANDREW.

His erect cock filled my mind. I saw his goddamn meaty missile perfectly: every raised vein and pulsating artery.

Now my focus was shot. I misspoke, made mistakes, had to go over difficult material two or three times. I was a mess.

Tess was fucking Andrew.

Right now.

As I sat in this conference room discussing meaningless shit, my lovely bride was on her back, legs spread wide. That goddamn meaty missile was stuffed in her tight pussy. They would fuck with purpose. They would fuck with intent. They would fuck with passion and desire and real lust for each other.

My temperature shot up to a hundred and twenty. My hands shook. My client asked if I need to eat something and I took the opportunity to walk the long hall and buy a Snickers from the vending machine. I walked back slowly, eating fast, battered by a barrage of mental pictures. Andrew had my wife all to himself. What would he do with all that time?

I wanted to smash something. I wanted to hit someone.

I returned to my client and thanked him for his suggestion. I started the next phase of his plan.

Minutes ticked off. Reality ate me alive. They'd have so much time together. He'd fuck her over and over. He'd shoot her full over and over. I'd get home and add my teaspoon to his bucket and hope for the best. What a joke. Adding mine was the lie we told ourselves to feel better, the lie Tess and I spoke to justify what we did.

I barely contained my anguish. I barely finished the meeting. After, my client had additional questions. He wanted to chat. He started talking about professional golf. The account was too big for me to do anything other than listen. I sat and chatted while across the city my wife fucked another man. I wanted to scream in his face.

At last he collected his things and closed his briefcase. We shook hands and I walked him to the elevator. I said goodnight and returned to the conference room and then my office, shutting everything down and closing everything up. I hit the parking lot, tires screeching as I gunned the engine for home.

Tess waited in our bed, wearing see-through lingerie and after-glowing all over the place. I ripped my clothes off, penis hard and straining, tangled in my underwear.

"Don't you want to know how it went?" she purred, taunting, teasing.

Her nipples were swollen, poking the lacy fabric. I knew how it went.

"How many times?" I rasped, yanking my pants free and throwing them aside. "How many times did he cum in you?"

She eased back against the pile of pillows, parting her legs, sliding those delicate lace panties off to show me her pussy.

"Four," she stated, dropping her panties to the floor. "You'll be the fifth."

"Andrew?" I croaked. "All four?"

"Yes."

Kick to the gut.

"Did you cum?" I asked.

Stupid question. My eyes darted all around her body. Evidence was everywhere: her skin was flushed, her face rosy, her hair a mess.

"Like a crazy woman," she playfully mocked. "He knows what to do with a woman's body, but he also knows what to do with her heart and mind."

Another kick to the gut. Blood surged and the head of my dick flared. Veins rose. Tess noticed and giggled.

"Oh!" she said, giggling. "Your guy likes that. Your expression says agony but your penis says tell me more."

I wanted to jump on the bed and fuck her to death but I stood there, listening. Her gaze stayed fixed on my erection.

"Baby," she said. "I spread my legs for Andy and guided his cock in. I knew what to expect and how to handle his size. He never hurt me. He sank so deep, Baby. He reached so far up inside."

My penis throbbed with every word. It was unrelenting torture but I was paralyzed, hungry to hear more.

"I sucked his cock until he got hard and then offered him my married pussy. He says he loves fucking me. He says he wants to put a baby in me. Each time he'd orgasm, I'd get him hard again. I drained those big balls until he had nothing left. What a fucking stud. That man is a gift to women."

Tess planted her feet far apart and spread her labia with two fingers.

"Take a good look," she said. "See your sweet wife's pussy? Mix yours with his inside me. I get so hot thinking about it. What kind of woman carries two men inside her at the same time?"

I jumped onto the bed and dropped between her spread knees. I caught her by surprise. She wanted my dick but she would need to wait. I buried my face in that perfect used cunt, desperate to fuck her but also desperate to make her cum. I needed to know I still had that power.

She was expecting to get fucked, and she would, but somehow that pretty pussy called to me, overriding my need to cum in her with a more urgent need to hear her climax. I curled my arms around her thighs and buried my tongue, tasting her infidelity, savoring the flavor of her betrayal. She'd gone to fuck him, in my mind, not create life. I ate her fast and slow, tender and rough, slowly nudging her towards climax. When she got there, I refused to let go. She wailed in orgasm and I kept feasting until I tore another from her.

I gave her no respite. I crawled up the bed to force my raging hard on into her slack-jawed mouth, fucking her face until she came around. I used her and she welcomed it, her guilt a sure sign of her true intentions tonight. Only once she had me close I yanked my dick away and scooted down the bed. I slammed my penis balls-deep, thrusting wildly before exploding in her sopping tunnel. I collapsed beside her, panting. She retrieved her panties from the floor and neatly pulled them into place and then rested her head on my stomach, slipping my soft dick into her mouth and suckling like an infant.

"No more Andrew," I muttered, wiped out. "Pick other men."

"But I like fucking Andrew," she protested.

"Pick other men," I insisted.

She sucked the length of me, her tongue a swirling propeller. I gasped at the jolt of pleasure.

"All right," she relented. "No more Andrew."

"Not without me."

"Not without you."

She sucked my dick but I'd cum too hard. No way would I get erect again. Four times in four hours? How did Andrew manage it?

Chapter 6

Practice means repetition. It's not the definition of insanity. That's how we learn. Our minds are predisposed to routine. We're wired for it. So, when Tess and I fell into a pattern, it quickly felt comfortable.

The human mind can adapt to any situation.

Admittedly, I work way too much. I get home late and stressed. Tess and I have few hours each week to be a married couple.

Tess and I had sex when we could but more and more she would visit the facility without me. We agreed if I had sex with her within three days, we'd covered our bases. There would be an acceptable chance any child conceived would be mine.

That's what we said to each other. That's what we clung to. But at the back of my mind was a nagging, whispering voice asking if I couldn't get her pregnant in three years, how would I get her pregnant now?

Our story was a rationalization, plain and simple.

We used it anyway. An outrageous and unacceptable situation for most, but agreeable for us, and since the only people we need to please in this marriage is ourselves. To Hell with everyone else.

Soon, Tess was horny all the time. The more sex she had, the more sex she craved. She'd wake me at three in the morning. She'd visit me at work. We fucked every chance we got but no matter how often I found myself inside her, I knew other men had been there first, sometimes only minutes earlier. I'd slide my dick into the hot broth marinating in her pussy and gasp.

She stopped talking about her time at the clinic, leaving me to guess what she'd done and with whom. She learned to use her dalliances as a weapon, teasing me erect and eager to reclaim her. What had started as a calculated and depersonalized effort to conceive a child had blossomed into an erotic extravagance of raw sex. Tess went there for the cock. All variety of faceless men grunted and groaned between her legs. She was addicted to the incomparable and unrivaled rush of a new lover.

I grew addicted to her addiction.

Tess transformed into a drastically more sexual version of herself and I benefitted. She started watching what she ate. She dressed sexier. She started working out and jogging. Her body shaped up and, inexplicably, her tits swelled. I should have questioned that more at the time but with everything going on, I didn't.

This was Heaven.

I'll be honest: I forgot all about our original intent. I forgot about the baby.

One night, after sex, we watched The Wrestler. Mickey Rourke looked his age but Marisa Tomei was a goddess. At forty-four she looked stunning, even better. The film was powerful and we sat a moment after the conclusion, thinking.

"I could do that," Tess said.

"Act?"

"No, strip."

I tilted my head at her.

"Not in a dive place like the one Marisa worked in," she said. "A nice place. I'd get hot showing my new body to horny men and the extra money would be nice. We're spending a lot at the facility."

I stared at my wife. She'd changed so much in such a short time.

"All right," I said. "Wouldn't hurt to try. If you hate it, quit."

"Really? You'd be okay if I tried?"

"You're naked in front of new men almost every day now. This way you'll get paid for it, and a night spent dancing is a night not at the facility. There is a lot of money going out. A lot. It would be nice to have more coming in."

The issue was settled that fast. I queued up a Games of Thrones episode.

Chapter 7

A full body-stocking became her signature look. She had different colors. She had patterned and solid, crotchless and vented. Each had little Velcro snaps for easy removal. Fishnet was the crowd favorite. She'd start her dance with a bikini or matching bra and panties on the outside, removing items as she worked through her songs. She'd finish nude, her bald and wet pussy an inch from some man or woman's face. She was a wildly popular addition to the staff.

She was hired right away at a club called Babes and quickly given the prime shifts. Her rise in popularity had a lot to do with how much she'd allow the patrons to get away with. Now that she had work, she had fewer hours to visit the facility, but when she did go, she was far hornier.

Her breasts continued to grow, swelling two cup sizes before leveling off. It made no sense. She was losing body fat, faster, now that she'd added frequent dancing, yet her tits had grown. It made no sense, but then again, I gave it no real thought. Too trusting, I suppose.

I learned why when I was putting laundry away.

In the drawer for her stripper outfits, I discovered her hidden birth control pills.

Birth control.

To prevent pregnancy.

Birth control.

Based on the used packages, she'd been taking them for months.

I hate that she lied to me. I was hurt and angry. I sat on the bed and tried to muster outrage but it wouldn't come. I was upset, but this meant all those trips to the facility had been for new dick, and that was hot. We'd started off trying to get Tess pregnant and instead had discovered a ravenous sexual succubus. I was married to a sex fiend.

Maybe she'd changed her mind about having a child and lacked the heart to tell me. Maybe she'd uncovered something about herself she never knew and was merely postponing conception. Maybe, and this thought bothered me most, there was something I'd said or done that made her feel like she couldn't share her shifting desires. I work a lot of hours. I'm often impatient and tired. Had she tried to talk to me and I'd missed it? Had I shut her down and left her out in the cold?

That was a real possibility.

She'd left for Babes an hour ago. She was probably on stage by now. I resolved to finish the laundry and visit her at the club and discover the truth. I wasn't mad. I was worried I'd done something thoughtless.

Laundry finished, I dressed in dark colors and drove to her work. I found a dark corner and sat, back against the wall. I waited through three girls before my wife appeared. My plan was to wait until she finished dancing and took a break. I'd approach and we'd find a place to talk.

That was my plan, but that's not what happened.

Tess exploded on stage like a bolt of lightning. Her energy far surpassed the other girls. Her smile was charged with fifty-thousand volts and the crowd woke up. She wore a bright yellow body stocking with a tiny black bikini on top. After the first song, she loosened the top and exposed her new big tits.

Now I understood. The birth control had caused them to grow. Tess was delighted, revealing them to joyful appreciation. Imagine how good all that attention felt after a lifetime of never turning heads. She flirted with everyone so much so much she often forgot to dance, moving from one man at the railing to the next. The women loved her too and my wife loved them back, flirting equally.

I leaned back, staggered. There she was, my wife, on stage, dancing almost nude. My wife was a stripper. Not in a billion years would I ever have imagined we'd land at this place in life, yet she held the audience enthralled. I felt a strange pride, an odd satisfaction. I had a babe of a wife.

Next song and there went her bottoms. Their removal revealed a small opening in the stocking directly over her vulva and now my wife circled the stage sticking her exposed pussy in stranger's faces. When a pretty redhead woman dove in for a quick lick, Tess grabbed the woman's head and ground her cunt against the woman's mouth. The crowd shouted approval. Tess looked like she couldn't believe what she'd done. The song ended and she gathered her discarded bikini and buckets of cash. As she left the stage a man approached. They had a brief conversation which resulted in her walking away and him following. I decided to investigate and tagged along behind, lost in the crowd. She led him through an archway into a VIP section. A muscle-bound bouncer stopped me but I gave him a fifty and he allowed me to follow.

There were dimly lit horseshoe booths back here, all facing a small center stage with a stripper pole. Tess did not go for the pole, instead leading her man to an open booth. I grabbed a booth across from her and her new date and one down. A girl approached the pole and started a bored dance to canned music and I pretended to watch her. A waitress took my drink order.

Across the way, Tess sat close to the well-dressed business man, elbow to elbow and asses touching. They chatted. Her legs were crossed in a double-parallel pose, slanted towards him, warm and inviting but classy. She'd put the bikini bottoms on but her tits showed through the yellow mesh.

My wife may have been born frumpy and spent her life that way, but she was not frumpy now. She was dazzling. She was sexy.

Without breaking conversational stride, my wife drew down the man's zipper and went fishing in his pants. She found what she sought and pulled his dick through the opening. He glanced around, nervous, like this wasn't his idea, but he did nothing to stop her. She lifted her hair and twirled it, tying a big knot of her tresses atop her head to keep them out of her way. She wanted him to have a great view of what she was about to do. She lowered her mouth to his dick and closed her lips around him. Her hands trembled with excitement. She was eager, impatient to get him in her mouth, as shocked by her own wild behavior as me.

I imagined all the attention, all the fawning praise and open lust must be something like a drug for her. She'd never gotten the attention of men. Maybe here and there, like most women, but probably never to the level she wished. Now she had everyone's attention. Women too. The desire to act on all those new feelings had to be overpowering.

She worked her lips down his shaft, slowly gobbling more and more, until she reached his pubic hair. She held his soft cock in her mouth, whipping her tongue like a blender, feeling him grow in there. Her expression was pure lust. She was wildly turned on doing this, behaving this way. She stopped blowing him long enough to say cum as soon as you can and then swallowed his cock down to the root again. He rested his drink on her bobbing head. In minutes his body stiffened and his hips jerked. He was shooting and she was swallowing.

He finished, looking utterly wiped out, and she plucked his drink from his hand and took a swig. She gave it back and left him there, heading out to the main floor again. She never made it. Another man intercepted her and they had a brief discussion. My wife left the VIP section with him, guiding the man to a large black door. They passed through before I could grab it and the door locked on me. I had to wait for someone to exit. I slipped in and stayed to the back, keeping in the shadows.

This room was hexagonal with a vaulted ceiling and packed with boisterous men. A thousand voices shouted, talked, laughed, and sang. Drunk men having a party.

Four large, vinyl-covered mattresses rested on the floor. On the first, three nude girls covered in baby oil licked and sucked and nibbled every square inch of each other. Men stood around and watched. On mattress two, a black woman with large tits got fucked pussy and mouth. She was on all fours with a white man at each end. Mattress three was empty but mattress four had my lovely Tess kneeling, mouth wide open, with a long soft cock resting on her tongue as a naked man, laughing, poured a magnum of Cristal Rosé Champagne down his stomach where it ran along the top of his dick and streamed onto my wife's tongue. He might have been peeing in her open mouth except it was expensive Champagne. Everyone was having a great time. Tess swallowed the Rosé and opened wide, swallowed and opened wide. When the bottle emptied, she closed her lips around his dick and sucked hard. He held her head to fuck her face.

This was the new Tess. Our baby can wait.

A line formed behind Champagne guy. Each man held a bottle of beer so I knew what was coming next. I grabbed a bottle at the bar and joined the line. Unlike Champagne Guy, these men were dressed with only their penises protruding, so the plan would be to pour the beer on your dick while in the girl's mouth, and that's exactly what the next man up did. Tess captured as much liquid as she could before she sucked the penis clean, swallowed, and waved the next guy forward.

"Hurry up, guys," she laughed. "I need to get back on stage."

Now it was my turn. My wife was laughing and having fun when I stepped up, dick hanging out and beer in hand. She looked up at my face and then froze, recognizing her husband where he should not be. Our gaze held and then Tess burst into laughter. This was not the time or place to talk, so roll with it. I leaned over to kiss her mouth and then stuck my dick in. I drank my beer instead of pouring it into her mouth, and let her blow me before moving on, giving way to the next man. The mattress was a mess and so was Tess. At last she finished off the last man. They all gave a cheer and buried her in cash and she collected her things and hurried off to get ready for her next dance back on the main stage. I found a seat and waited.

She stepped into the spotlight wearing a pure white body stocking topped by a small white bikini. I watched her through her first song, adding my tip to the many lining the stage. She removed her bottoms. This body stocking had a small opening over her pussy too. I gave her a twenty and she gave me a sultry look and then I leaned close. If she expected me to say something flirtatious, she got a big surprise.

"I found your birth control," I said.

Her smile froze and then faded. Her face looked stricken. For one tense moment, she expected me to explode. When I did not, she studied me closely. A grin slowly spread across her face. All eyes were on her so she leaned close to my ear.

"I'm glad you found it," she said. "We'll get back to baby-making soon, all right?"

"Yeah."

"For now, let's have fun."

"Sounds good."

This was not the reaction she'd expected from me. My non-reaction showed that her reasons for hiding the pills were unfounded. Despite her underhanded moves I was still with her all the way and that realization ignited her like a bonfire. Relief and adrenaline surged.

She was wildly flirtatious with everyone for her next song. She allowed hands all over her body, laughing joyfully at the sensations. As the song ended she kissed an enormous black man on the mouth. He was seated at the end of the stage and had been tipping her profusely, putting his giant black hands all over her, testing her reactions. He slipped his hand under her crotch, grazing her pussy. She squatted close enough to sit on his knuckles and plant another kiss. She shuddered and I suspected he'd pushed a huge black finger up her pussy where no one could see. When she spoke to him, her lips were easy to read.

"Take me to the VIP room," she said.

She finished her song and left the stage, pausing to tie her bottoms on. The mountainous black man rose from his stool to meet her. He towered over everyone in the club, massive stooped shoulders and thick arms and legs. He wore a gray hoodie and black sweatpants and I swear his hands were big enough to grab her whole head if he wished. She was a Pomeranian next to a Great Dane. She grabbed his sweatshirt and tugged. I knew where they were head and raced ahead, landing across from the only open booth in the VIP room.

Tess walked him in and pushed him backward onto the bench. She started a little lap dance, eyes searching the room for me, yet showing surprise when she found me watching from the shadows. Her expression turned a little roguish. Not only was she no longer hiding anything from me, but I was her audience, and she wanted to impress. She climbed all over his lap like he was playground equipment. In the darkness, the only way I knew she'd freed his black cock was the curl of her ivory fingers around something long and thick. She brought her bikini bottoms down on the wide black head and teased him mercilessly, grinding her pussy on his dick, separated by only a fragment of thin white material. She rubbed his head back and forth, letting the man feel the dip of her cunt, letting him feel how incredibly close he was to penetration. I got the sense that she might let the customers get away with a lot, but fucking them was too far. She'd get fired if she got caught.

He grabbed her new big tits and mauled them, bringing a squeal of delight to her lips. He placed a hand on her hip to lock her down, and then pulled her torso forward, sucking a nipple between his big lips. My wife closed her eyes and her head fell back. The other booths were too busy to notice us.

I saw the big black man pluck the string which tied her bottoms. She was oblivious so he did the same to the other side. He softly bit her nipple to distract her and under the pretense of adjusting her butt on his lap, lifted her ass a little and deftly drew the bikini bottoms away. When she sat again he had his cock lined up to her hole. She sat for an instant, unaware she now teetered on the brink of penetration. She felt the pressure of him down there but had no idea the cloth which had protected her was now gone. He used her weight and his strength to push her lower, spearing her labia, forcing her pussy lips open, sliding thick black cock in to fill her cunt.

Her eyes flew wide. She tried to rise but he pressed harder, driving her butt deeper into his lap and his cock farther up inside. Her strength was meaningless compared to his.

Her head whipped around and she locked eyes with me, panicked. This was too much. She'd lost control of the situation. She could get fired and thrown out. Law enforcement turns a blind eye to certain shenanigans but this was a serious breach. She tried again to rise, to lift her pussy off him and withdraw all that meat from her guts, but he merely pressed harder. Her resistance was inconsequential. She grabbed his wrist and said something but he only pushed her down onto his cock. That fat black spear slowly disappeared between her clinging labia.

She mustered resolve to demand he stop. I saw it on her face. I don't know what happened but her expression suddenly changed, melting into stupefying pleasure. Perhaps he reached something extra sensitive or touched something so far up in her it stole her breath, but all at once her resistance vanished. Her tense body relaxed. Her sopping cunt slid down his remaining inches, enveloping his black cock entirely, her stretched labia snugly wrapped around the base.

He hooked a massive arm under her knees and another around her waist and then began raising and lowering her body all at once. He fucked her on his cock like she weighed nothing, her sopping pussy a sleeve encasing his meat. She gasped and groaned, all control lost. He speared her on his cock, bouncing, hitting bottom over and over. Her arms flopped loosely and her legs rebounded wildly. Her tits bounded up and down. He used her snug pussy to drive himself towards orgasm without thought or concern for her. He chased something for himself while he had the chance.

Tess cried out. An orgasm had seized her, ripping through her flailing body. The bouncer turned at the sound but remained at his post. Tess cried out again, wailing in unexpected pleasure.

The big black man drew a breath and then held it. His ass left the bench in a crouching half-stand, her weight in his arms, his charcoal penis pumping. His hips jerked upward one last time, driving his cock all the way in, and he grunted once, twice, three times, each a tremendous expulsion of sperm. He repeated the rapid pumping and then rammed deep again, keeping his cock buried, unleashing another torrent, grunting and groaning. He spurted and spurted and spurted and then withdrew half his cock only to slam the thing upward again, spurting once more. He shot her full as my wife climaxed on him and that only made her cum harder and longer.

He finished first but kept dragging her cunt up and down his length, extending her orgasm until he softened too much. He sat, Tess perched on his lap, and lifted her off his dick. That tower of black flesh fell to the side with a thwack. He sat her on his massive thigh. My wife was dazed and bewildered. He knew he'd gone too far and quickly moved her to the bench. He pulled up his sweatpants and quickly shuffled out of there, never looking back.

Tess cast about for her bikini bottoms. I took his place in the booth, gliding through the shadows until I slipped in next to her. She turned watery, unfocused eyes on me. I wasn't going to say some stupid shit about how out of control she was or how wild she'd become. We knew who we were and what we were doing. Instead I dipped two fingertips into her dripping cunt and smeared black man's semen around. I lifted my fingers in front of her face.

"Good thing you started the pill," I said. "Black baby might be hard to explain."

"I had no idea he'd do that," she said. "I was only going to jerk him off."

"You orgasmed."

She looked at the carpet.

"I did," she admitted. "Hard. His cock felt fantastic. That's the first black dick I've ever had inside me. Hot."

She was utterly unrepentant.

"Open your mouth," I said.

She parted her lips slightly and I slipped my semen-coated fingers in. She closed her lips, sucking the man's sperm off.

"Salty," she murmured. "Next time I'll drink it from the source."

She grabbed my face and kissed me. She forced her tongue between my lips and I tasted the man. Funny how things can be disgusting and arousing at the same time. My tongue played with hers. I pushed a finger up her pussy again to coat it and then moved back an inch to slide up her ass, depositing his sperm in there, too.

"You might be kinky," she said, understanding what I'd done.

"Definitely. We should have started all this years ago."

She stood over me, facing me, planting each foot next to my ass on the bench. She balanced herself with hands on my head and brought her pussy to my mouth, looking me in the eye, daring me to turn away. I refused. Her eyes were laughing as she fed me her dripping cunt. I split her labia with my tongue and vacuumed my puckered lips over her clit. My tongue became a wiggling serpent, probing inside, rewarded by her throaty gasp. I raised my hands to cup her butt and ate her pussy ravenously, determined to make her orgasm. He was in her but that only turned me on more. I repeated my move with a finger, juicing my digit in her pussy first and then pumping her asshole while I ate her. That did it. Seconds later she was sobbing in orgasm, turning heads all around the VIP room. I feasted until she could take no more. Eventually she tumbled down my body to land on the rug between my knees. She lowered my zipper.

"Cum fast," she told me. "I need to dance again soon."

"You'll dance with a pussy full of cum?"

"Won't be the first time," she said, taunting.

Won't be the first time: essentially confessing that since she started this dancing gig, she's fucked at least one other patron, probably more than one. God, she makes my dick hard. While I'm working late at the office, she's here, enjoying new dick.

I surged diamond hard. She sucked me down to my short hairs and held me there, working her tongue and throat, intentionally displaying oral skills she did not possess before getting a job at this place, showing me how she spends her nights.

"Think about it," she teased, "If you cum in my mouth, then that black guy will own my pussy. He'll be in there but you won't."

I held her head and pumped my hips, releasing gushes of cum right away. She gulped and swallowed.

The DJ announced that Athena would be next and Tess stood.

"That's me," she said, fixing her bikini in place. "I gotta go. I need a new outfit."

I smacked her ass as she walked by.

Chapter 8

I waited in the parking lot. The side door used by employees opened and my wife and her friend emerged. Tess is pretty and her body, especially now, is delicious, but the girl walking next to my wife was breathhtaking. Youth is its own kind of beauty and this young woman had all that and more. Her body screamed hot and sexy. She wore a short, tight, bright red dress like a coat of paint. I would have stared longer but Tess was right there and I'd already ogled too long.

"Baby," she said, gesturing with a hand. "This is my best friend, Taylor Dare. When none of the other strippers would teach me anything, Taylor took me under her wing. I learned every trick I know from her."

Taylor looked too young to know all the tricks but perhaps she grew up fast. I met her eyes and smiled, offering a hand.

"Thank you for helping my wife," I said.

We shook. I forced myself to look away. Gorgeous big brown eyes and a mass of long thick brown hair, big tits spilling out the front of her dress, a dress worn so short only the curve of her butt cheeks held it in place. Her face said high school cheerleader but her body screamed Instagram bikini model. In truth, she was none of those things. She was a stripper that worked with my wife, and she needed a place to stay while her penthouse apartment was remodeled. Tess had offered our guest bedroom. Taylor would live with us for two weeks. I'd have two hot babes running around the house for fourteen days.

I couldn't wait.

"Let's get your suitcases," I said.

An hour later we were giving her a tour of our home, showing her where her bathroom was, how to work the remotes, and how to set and turn off the house alarm. She plucked the parenting book Tess had left sitting on the end table and held it up.

"Trying to get pregnant?" she asked wryly.

"We were," Tess admitted. "We'll try again later."

"Yeah," Taylor chuckled. "When you're not going through men like French fries."

Taylor promised not to be a nuisance and thanked us for our kindness. We left her in her room and headed for our own, holding hands.

"You're a wonderful husband," Tess said, surprising me.

"Why do you say that?"

"I saw your face. I'm not naïve. I'm not into women but even I can see Taylor is incredible. You thought so too but forced yourself to look away. That's super sweet. You don't need to but thank you. That's thoughtful and kind. I'm almost twice her age."

"I bet you make more in tips."

"Nobody makes more than Taylor," Tess said. "But I do own second place."

"Who owns third?"

"Gloria. She's fifty-one. The guys all love her. Not the frat boys, but the men. Gloria will give you the best conversation you've ever had and then suck the cum out of your nuts like a turbine."

"I think I'd like to meet Gloria."

"That can be arranged."

We entered our bedroom and began to undress and, as I often did these days, I stopped to watch my wife. She was aware but pretended otherwise and I was treated to the slow reveal of her gorgeous feminine form.

"I have a bachelor party scheduled tomorrow night," Tess said. "They requested Stacey and me. A bunch of IT nerds but the money will be amazing."

"No Taylor?"

"No. She's got a date with some politician."

"Alone again. Poor me."

"Poor you."

She started the water for a shower. She moved around the bathroom casually but she knew I followed her every move. She brushed her teeth and tested the shower with her fingertips.

"Baby," she said, without turning around. "I left my phone in the kitchen. Will you bring it in here?"

"Sure."

I waited until she'd stepped under the spray of water and then left the bedroom. The refrigerator door was open when I got there. Taylor leaned over, inspecting the food. She wore a thin, oversized shirt and the refrigerator light cut through, revealing the glorious shape of her breasts and body beneath. She noticed me but did nothing to hide, allowing my lingering gaze to explore every curve. She was succulent, juicy, young and firm and full-bodied. I tried to stop scrutinizing but couldn't. Each smooth inch led me on to the next smooth inch. She was every high school boys dream.

"Midnight snack," she said, grinning.

Yes, you are, I thought.

"Grab the homemade breaded chicken strips," I said, trying to sound cheerful and not like a creepy guy who'd just eye-fucked her. "With ranch."

She shifted to reach a container and the front of her shirt swung around, a clear view between those bare tits all the way down to her bare pussy.

I was going to love the next two weeks. I grabbed the phone and returned to the bathroom. My wife was under the water, suds running down her curves.

Chapter 9

I worked late the next day, as usual, and realized as I drove home that Tess was most likely in the middle of her bachelor party. I knew which room they use at the club for events like that and I also knew I could swing by and spy on her a little without being seen. Tess would get home well after I was asleep so this would be my one chance to see her in action, and I was feeling a little horny. Watching my wife dance for a gang of nerds would provide fuel to a nice jackoff before sleep.

I aimed the car towards Babes. I felt a strange mix of pride and shame having a stripper wife. My busy schedule had kept our circle of friends small. Only we knew what she did. If word did get out I would defend her, telling anyone upset to fuck off. She would quit when she was ready. I loved seeing all the ways other men craved her. I love what she does to them, how she ties them in knots. She may cross the line with them and do more than she should, but that never threatens me. All the rules we were taught about how relationships are supposed to work are wrong. Every couple makes their own rules. That's the truth.

I found a parking spot and paid the cover. I grabbed a quick drink at the bar and worked my way through the crowd to the events room. Gloria was on stage and I saw what Tess meant: her body and face showed her age but she was sexy anyway. Half the crowd was in her age group and appreciated what she was doing.

All the bouncers knew me by now and waved me through. I entered the back area, hearing one song fade behind me and the next song grow ahead of me. I parted the black curtains and slid along the back wall. The club stored all their extra chairs back here and I used them for cover. I wanted to watch Tess without her knowing I was there. The voyeur in me loved spying on my naughty wife.

The IT nerds stood in a line, shoulder to shoulder. Each had his penis poking through his pants. Some were nervous and some were laughing. Tess was nude except for her red shoes. She crouched on high heels, halfway down the line. Three soft dicks hung behind her, drained and discarded. Four hard dicks, including the one she sucked right now, remained. She gazed up into the face of the young man she blew, grinning around his wet penis. She was consuming the boys as she went, teasing and coaxing until these inexperienced men fired their load down her throat. The guy at the end of the line wore a golden crown and I presumed he was the one getting married.

The young men looked at Tess with awe. She owned them. She had them by the dicks, enthralled, willing to do whatever she asked. Her head bobbed. She held that young man at the hips and fucked him with her mouth and true to his nerd status, he erupted quickly. The young man's penis slowly deflated, shrinking and drooping, defeated. My wife sucked hard, making his legs tremble, and then shuffled to the next victim. Tess was feeling her power.

One by one she sucked these guys off. The second-to-last was large and I presumed he was the best man. This shindig was probably his idea. The groom looked nervous and guilty. Tess moved on, one penis after the next, until she reached the best man. He was hard and throbbing, anticipating my wife.

"Oh," she purred. "Nice and big. The rest of you boys see this?" She held the young man at the base, wagging his dick, displaying him to his friends. "Here's your team captain."

She guided that dick into her mouth and gobbled until his dick strained with need. The boy was hard. Then my wife stood and turned around, bending at the waist. Everyone gasped. She backed her pussy onto his cock and reached under to play with his balls. My wife fucked him for a short time and then, when she had him close to orgasm, whipped around and sank to her knees, jerking his load into her open mouth, showing all of them how his ropes of sperm landed on her waiting tongue and down her throat. They were stunned speechless. The young man, all bravado gone, shot until he dripped from her knuckles and chin.

"Will someone hand me that bar towel?" she asked.

All the young men hurried to help. She wiped herself clean and then crouched before the groom. She studied his stiff and pulsating penis, examining his dick waving free in the open air. She leaned in with agonizing slowness, bring her parted lips ever closer. The groom was barely breathing. She stared at the young man's penis.

"Nice dick," she said at last. "Too bad you're getting married tomorrow."

She stood and backed away, denying the groom release. The guys realized her terrible game, that they would all get off but the husband to be would not, and burst into laughter and cheers, teasing the groom.

I quietly slipped away, returning to the car. I aimed for home, dick in hand as I drove. Tess would not be home for hours but I could not wait. I stripped as I walked the hallway, ignoring the half-painted nursery. That plan felt like a hundred years ago. I entered our bedroom, lying on our bed on my back, closing my eyes and stroking my erection. I pictured Tess back at the club, working on one young man and then the next. I remembered the looks of anticipation on their faces, eager to feel my wife's mouth engulf their dick. I adjusted the pillow under my head. I wanted this orgasm to be awesome. I stroked another minute and adjusted the pillow again, straightening my legs and getting ready. In the brief moment my dick was free, a wet mouth descended my length. I gasped, electrified. My eyes flew open.

Taylor, still dressed from her date with the politician, gazed up at me, my penis stuffed in her mouth, her lips in my pubic hair. She giggled, a little drunk. I opened my mouth to speak when suddenly her cheeks dented as she sucked with all her might, slowly drawing her lips up my rod.

"Ooooh my God," I groaned.

My back arched from that fantastic sensation. Her eyes grew intense. As amazing as it felt, my mind jumped to my wife. This felt wrong. I tried to say something but all I managed was a single word.

"Tess."

Taylor slipped my dick out of her mouth.

"Tess knows. Don't worry. You think any woman would allow another woman into her home without an understanding between them?"

She slurped me into her mouth again, swirling her tongue around the head. She was young, hot, a body bursting with firm curves and delicious flesh. She was sexy and sexual, gorgeous, and my dick was her plaything. I desperately wanted to believe her so I did. I laid back and enjoyed. I'd certainly earned the right.

Taylor was young but she was highly skilled and there was no mistaking her love for dick. She sucked and licked my cock and balls with genuine enthusiasm. I got rock hard in her hands. She went after me like she expected my sperm to taste like honey. The girl could deepthroat me to perfection.

I announced my rising orgasm, warning her, but the girl only sucked harder and faster. Fine by me. I blasted away straight down her throat. I roared and growled and convulsed, giving every hot drop to this tight young vixen. She vacuumed it out, hungry, eager to please me.

She held my dick in her mouth as I softened and then climbed up my body to feed me her bald slit. She may have been old enough, but her pussy was immature: a sweet soft line through her vulva. She wasn't bald because she waxed or shaved. She was bald because hair didn't grow there yet. She had the sexual appetite of a jaguar and the body of a goddess, but her puffy genitalia looked juvenile. No wonder she raked in the money down at Babes. I spread her swollen labia with my thumbs and marveled at the two, small, delicate inner-lips. Blood surged and my dick hardened. My mouth watered. I wanted to devour every soft inch of this fragile flowered cunt. I might never get this chance again. I wanted everything this girl had to offer. I licked softly, drawing a gasp, and then got to work. I may not have a big vein-covered cock but I can eat pussy.

She came hard, grinding into my mouth and pulling my hair. I kept eating after she finished until she toppled to our bed. I rolled over with her, continuing to eat. She was incredibly sensitive but did not push me away, taking it and moaning for more. I hoped to make her cum again and achieved that goal with one finger up her ass and another in her tight pussy. She screamed from pleasure.

We fell asleep with my head between her shapely thighs.

Tess never made it home. I awoke alone. Taylor had left a note by the bed thanking me. I checked my phone and learned my wife had accepted an invitation from the best man to spend the night at his house boat. Her text included a video which he recorded of my wife orally worshipping the man's cock and balls. Once he was hard they switched position and he placed the head of his dick at her opening. That's when the video ended. The text had arrived from his phone number so I knew he had that clip on his phone, probably along with many others he took of her. He'd use them over and over to jack off, long after my wife left. I liked knowing that. I got so excited I jacked off before getting ready for work.

Chapter 10

"It's funny," Tess said. "We use sex as a way to distinguish one relationship from another. We can have great best friends but if we ever cross the line and have sex with them, we forever change the friendship. They are no longer merely a friend. We add a promise in our wedding vows to forsake all others, but then after we're married for a while we stop having sex with each other. Where does that leave us? It's crazy. Sex is sex. It's fun and it feels amazing. It can be intimate and bonding but it doesn't have to be. I think we give sex too much responsibility."

"I like our no rules approach," I said.

"Me too."

We'd finished dinner an hour ago and now walked arm in arm around Capitol Lake. A beaver swam towards us. Geese flew overhead. Washington State is the most beautiful place I've ever lived.

"You know what else I love?" she asked. "Dicks. Like, what a wonderful invention. They grow and shrink, turn hard and soft, come in all sizes and colors. I love the hydraulics of dicks. I love the shape and feel of them. I had a client that asked me not to touch him but instead just stare at his dick. Fine by me; it was a nice big one. That man went from small and soft to big and erect to ejaculating, all without being touched. He needed me to stare at it. What a fantastic thing to watch. His cock belched glob after glob after glob of sperm, all over the VIP floor. I started off happy not to touch him but soon my mouth watered and my pussy tingled. I begged to let me touch him but he said no. That wasn't what he liked most. Dicks are wonderful, beautiful. They captivate me."

"Hydraulics?"

"Yes! The goddamn things never sit still. They're alive all on their own."

We stopped to kiss and look out over the dark waters. I heard traffic in the distance, splashing and rustling closer in the reeds.

"I'm going to quit Babes," she said, after a minute. "Six months is long enough. It was fun and the money was fantastic but I think I need to move on before it becomes mundane. What do you think?"

"Entirely up to you. It started as a lark. If it's beginning to feel like a job, it's time to go. What will you do instead? Anything?"

She took both my hands.

"How would you feel about a wife that is also a high-end escort?"

I raised an eyebrow.

"A prostitute?" I asked.

"No. This isn't money for sex. I might accompany a gentleman as a date. Maybe I like him and decide to fuck his brains out, but probably I don't. It varies. Taylor says she knows a madam. I can make more in one night than I could in three nights of dancing, and the setting is much nicer."

"You'll miss the VIP room."

"I will. What do you think? How would it make you feel to know I was out with one man instead of getting pawed at by twenty?"

I kissed her forehead.

"I'll be honest," I said. "Sounds like the risk of you falling in love with another man is higher. I would not like that."

"I'm already in love with a man," she replied. "There's only room for him in my heart." She chuckled. "It's my pussy that's available to others."

I chuckled too.

"Try it," I said, shrugging. "After, I'll tell you how I felt and you tell me how you felt. We'll take it from there. Baby steps. Maybe we'll like it, maybe we won't."

She rose on her toes to kiss me.

Weeks later I sat on our bed and watched her at our bathroom mirror applying makeup. I love watching her get ready to meet other men. I used to watch her do it when she danced and I love watching her do it since she's become an escort. Her date tonight was a gentleman visiting from China. She would attend dinner and then an awards ceremony, and then a cocktail mixer.

"Three thousand?" I asked, disbelieving. "All cash?"

"Yup. Crazy, right? I'll get twenty-seven hundred after Miss Rita takes her cut. Just for dinner and drinks."

Tess wore a conservative evening dress, blue, ankle length with a modest neckline. It was tight enough one could see she had a nice body but it flaunted nothing.

"No talk of sex?" I asked.

"You sound disappointed."

"Surprised. Three thousand is a lot."

"He says he needs a white American woman. Someone who knows our customs, speaks English well and understands current world events. Rita gave him me."

"I bet he tries something," I said.

She shook her head.

"He's too old. Miss Rita has provided him girls before. He never tries sex. Miss Rita joked his last erection was probably fifteen years ago. He's a nice rich old man visiting the States to receive his award and fly home."

"I bet he tries something," I repeated.

She shrugged.

"I hope he does," she said. "A man that old could use a good time. I'd be happy to show him one."

"His heart couldn't handle you."

She brushed mascara on her lashes. Her efforts to look her best, to be her most alluring, turned me on. She did it for them, not me, and that made her endeavor more real, and more sexual. She looked stunning. She caught me checking her out.

"Like what you see?"

"You're breathtaking."

"You're sweet. I may have to jump you when I get home."

"I'm sure you'll be horny. Escorting always makes you horny."

"That's true. I can't believe I've gone out so many times without sex."

"You're such a good conversationalist they forget to fuck you."

She laughed. She studied me in the mirror. Her eyes were filled with love and she turned, kissing me sweet and soft on the lips.

"You're an amazing husband and an amazing man," She said. "How many men could allow their wives to do something like this? You don't merely allow it, you encourage it. It excites you as much as it does me."

"Why fight the feeling?" I asked.

She kissed me again. Her phone buzzed and she checked her messages.

"The car he sent waits outside," she said. "I need to finish up and go."

I sat back, watching my wife make herself look sexy for other men. Seven minutes later we kissed and she vanished out the front door.

Some men hire an escort because a beautiful woman on your arm says certain things about you. Some men hire an escort because they want the other women at the event to leave them alone. Some men hire an escort because they are lonely. There are a million reasons why they might pay a woman to spend time with them and then not expect sex. That was hard for me to believe but Tess had gone out many times so far and no man had tried anything. Difficult to argue with proof.

I watched the black SUV pull away from the curb.

I soon found myself wandering around our home, briefly scanning the nursery that needed finishing, the bathroom with all her makeup and hair products strewn across the counter. I took a moment to enjoy her perfume hanging in the air and then entering our shared office. Her email was still open and I glanced at the last message. I saw the itinerary for her night. They'd finish four hours from now with a cocktail mixer at the open air Olympic Sculpture Park. I imagined her gliding through the crowd.

Since I loved watching her get ready for her date, would I also love watching her on that date? Would I get frustrated when nothing happened?

Only one way to find out.

This was the first date that I knew where she'd be and when, and the location was open to the public. I was sure the mixer would have a roped off area but slipping in would be easy. My other option was wait at home, stressed and horny until she returned and I could take it out on her.

As usual, I turned to work rather than face the problem. I got started in my office and tried to relax. When that didn't help, I showered and changed clothes and wondered again if I should spy on her, only then realizing I'd changed into black and gray clothing perfect for blending in shadows.

"Answered my own question," I mumbled.

I tried to kill time by working some more but my mind drifted. I watched the clock constantly.

"For fuck's sake, just go," I said.

I drove downtown to Republic Parking and left my car in the lot. I walked the short distance to the sculpture park and began learning the lay of the place. I was early, well before the cocktail party, and soon located a section separated by a bright yellow ribbon with a sign that said reserved.

This had to be it. Waiters zoomed around setting tables, lighting candles, and generally getting the place ready.

I continued my meander, learning where the dead ends were and which walkways connected to each other. I fixed the bathrooms in my mind as well as the four open bars, creating a map in my head. As I went, I enjoyed the various works of art. I narrowed down the best places to look for Tess while remaining hidden and settled in. There would obviously be no sex under these wide-open conditions but it was still exciting to spy on her, to watch her in action, flirting, looking like a million bucks.

I did not wait long.

Limos and SUVs began to pull up and disgorge their passengers. Well-dressed men and women began to cluster. Waiters began working the crowd and an older gentleman tested the microphone on the small stage.

One waiter approached a couple near me and I gasped.

The waiter was a few inches taller than me. He smiled easily and often. His square-jaw made him handsome. He had brown hair and broad shoulders.

Andrew.

He wore a stylized tuxedo like the rest of the help and I'd only ever seen him nude, but there was no mistaking that face. I'd studied that face when I first asked him to fuck my wife and I studied it again as his big cock moved in and out of her. My wife had given him astonishing pleasure and he'd done the same to her.

Tonight, he'd serve her drinks.

What would she do? How would she react? Her octogenarian date would want her by his side, not sneaking off with the hot waiter. Would Tess do it anyway? Would my new slut wife be able to control her slut impulses?

Was my imagination running wild?

Yeah.

I took a deep breath.

Minutes later I saw a flash of blue exit an SUV. Tess had arrived. She and the old man were surrounded by giant bodyguards, chisel-featured Euro types wearing ridiculously expensive suits and dark glasses at night. Each had a communicator in his ear. Who was this old man? He hobbled his way around, shaking hands and chatting, and I waited, barely breathing, heart racing, palms sweaty for her to cross paths with Andrew. They came close so many times.

When Tess and her date took a seat, I moved to a better location. Andrew mostly worked the other side of the room but chance did bring him this way occasionally. Their meeting was inevitable. I needed only patience.

Tess was the perfect date: hanging on the old man's every word, touching his hand when she made a point or liked what he said. He had her full attention.

Then Andrew stopped at their table to refill water glasses. They smiled briefly at each other and looked away and then froze, slowly turning their gaze until they locked. Tess grinned, coy. Andrew smiled broadly. The old man missed the exchange completely but one of the bodyguards noticed and kept a watchful eye. There was no threat to the old man so he did nothing more than observe.

Two older women approached the table. A bodyguard ran a small electronic wand around their bodies and let them through. The old man gave them his attention and Tess casually pulled her phone from her purse. Shit! She planned on texting me! Lightning fast I plucked my phone from my pocket and killed the volume, seconds before I received a message.

Andrew, she'd written. Here. Now.

I bet that complicates your date, I sent back.

God! He looks delicious.

Too bad you're already out on a date.

I saw her study the old man and then turn her eyes to Andrew again. Her expression was pure longing and sexual frustration. Andrew left the table to continue his waiter duties and Tess watched him go.

One of the bodyguards did too, having noticed the exchange and Tess's not-too-subtle interest in that waiter.

The older women left and Tess once more engaged the old man in conversation. After a time, Andrew returned to clear empty glasses and refill water and casually dropped a small folded piece of paper near Tess's hand. The old man missed it but the same bodyguard noticed. Tess waited until the right moment, sure nobody was aware, and opened the note. She smiled briefly and slid the paper under a small dessert plate. After a minute, she excused herself to use the restroom. She did not notice the bodyguard that lifted the plate and read the note after she was gone. He replaced it and followed her.

I followed him.

Tess headed towards the parking structure and then stopped to look around. Once she had her bearings she angled towards a large warehouse. The first door she tested was locked but the next, farther down the wall, swung open. She vanished inside. The bodyguard held back to watch and then followed, moving cautiously checking for danger all around. He radioed briefly that he was escorting Tess to the restroom. He passed through the same door. I'd given him plenty of distance, keeping objects between us, moving slowly, hiding in shadows. Once I was sure he was far enough ahead, I opened the door to follow.

Inside was a vast warehouse of stored art. Giant sculptures sat around, some draped in canvas, some not. A giant head stared at the ground. A Trojan horse with a man's face rested against the wall. Every inch was taken up with statues. I silently eased the door shut and listened to the distant clack-clack-clack of Tess's high heels. I crept forward, always searching first for the bodyguard. There were a million places to hide, a million deep shadows. Prometheus firing a bow stood next to three jumping dolphins. The bodyguard hid behind a pair of battling rams. Ahead of him, Tess sat at the foot of Venus of Pietrasanta; a glorious nude woman ten feet tall.

Andrew emerged from between boxed crates.

"I'm so happy you came," he said. "I thought you'd stay with your elderly friend."

"I must return soon," my wife said. "I can blame a long line at the ladies' room, but not if I'm gone too long."

Andrew spaced his feet a little more than shoulders' width apart. Hans on hips, he radiated male confidence.

"What do you want, Tess?" he asked. "Tell me."

Tess slid off the marble pedestal and crouched in front of him.

"Your big veiny cock," she said. "It's been too long."

Andrew grinned like a stud. He drew his zipper down and pulled his soft cock out.

"There he is," Tess said. "Just like I remember."

My wife grabbed him, stacking her fists. Several inches remained exposed and she wagged those playfully before she slid them into her mouth.

"You still trying to have a baby?" Andrew asked.

She shook her head, cock in mouth.

"Too bad. I'd love putting one in you. Did you ever tell your husband how many times you came to see me? You said you wanted to."

More head shaking.

That hurt. We'd agreed no Andrew without me and she promised she wouldn't, but clearly she still had. All those big bills to the clinic and she was fucking Andrew every time. I tried to get angry but honestly, I was more aroused that she'd cheated with this man behind my back than I was upset.

"You still can," Andrew advised. "Get free of the guilt."

I was surprised and impressed by his empathy. Tess had no time for it right now.

"Fuck me," my wife gasped. "Just get it in and fuck me. Don't wait for me to cum. Just fuck me and unload this beast. That's what I want. "

He'd risen but halfway yet that was enough. His shaft looked like it was covered with baby earthworms: raised veins pulsed and throbbed. The head was a crimson flared helmet.

Tess stood and turned away from him, flipping her long formal dress over her butt. He yanked her panties down and off, carelessly tossing them over a shoulder. He approached, dick in hand, and opened her crack by pulling a butt cheek aside. He squinted in the dim light and then flexed his ass. Tess groaned and I knew he was inside her. I glanced at the bodyguard, wondering what the man would do. I was surprised to see he'd taken his penis out and masturbated to this highly-charged sexual exhibition. I left my dick in my pants. I may need to run away. Also, Tess would eventually come home tonight and want sex. I wanted to get hard when she did.

Tess gathered her dress in her fists and Andrew held her around the waist. He gained firmness by the second. His first strokes were clumsy as his cock hardened but then he was stiff enough to open her up. He began long smooth strokes that filled her cunt with cock.

"Yeah," Tess grunted. "God, I love your cock."

He fucked faster. Venus of Pietrasanta glared down at the lovers, furious to be trapped in her prison of stone.

"Just cum," Tess grumbled. "I need to feel you get off. I want to feel that fat cock expand and—Oh!"

Andrew buried his hard cock on each thrust, powering ball-deep, testicles slapping her clit as he fucked her from behind. Tess gasped again.

"Shit! I'm gonna— I'm gonna— Shit! I can't— Fuuuuuuck!"

My wife orgasmed on his cock. She bit her lip and clamped her jaw, swallowing her cries of pleasure and struggling to remain silent. The bodyguard jerked off furiously.

"I love the sounds you make," Andrew hissed. "I love fucking you."

He curled his hips under, thrusting hard. He used her pussy and then his head snapped back and he growled.

"Take it!" he rasped.

Their bodies jerked and convulsed together. Sperm flowed from his nuts into her womb. Bodyguard launched several ropes of jizz onto the dusty warehouse floor. Tess came longer than Andrew, continuing to shudder and shake long after the last drop left his dick. Eventually he stood and straightened his shoulders. His fat cock softened and withdrew and gobs of jizz leaked from her to splatter the floor. He shoved his deflated penis into his pants. Tess stood and smoothed her dress.

"Thank you," my wife said.

Andrew waved her off, still too overcome to speak.

"Where are my panties?" she asked, glancing around.

"I'm not sure where they landed," Andrew admitted.

My wife turned and kissed him passionately on the mouth, hands to his face.

"Forget about them," she said. "Give me your phone."

Andrew did and Tess quickly dialed herself, ending the call without answering.

"Now you have my number," she said. "Use it."

She kissed him again and swept from the room. Andrew shook his head, his expression bewildered delight.

"What a woman," he mumbled, to no one.

He checked to make sure he was presentable and then exited the warehouse. I held my position until Bodyguard left too.

Chapter 11

I did not confront her.

My secret superseded her secret, and that made me feel like I held the power. Her date ended and she came home as horny as I'd ever seen her. My dick was ready.

Taylor's brief stay with us had blossomed, as those things always do, into an extended, open-ended roommate situation. The remodel had discovered hazards that the law required rectified, so we invited her to stay as long as she needed. We'd all relaxed around each other and I often found myself on the couch and watching a movie, sandwiched between two hot and scantily clad women.

Tess was aggressive after she left her date, striding through the door and announcing if she didn't get hard dick right now, she'd scream. Taylor looked at me.

"I don't have one of those," she stated. "So I can't help you with that."

I did, and mine was already mostly stiff anticipating my wife.

"I do," I proclaimed.

"Show me," Tess said.

I glanced at Taylor.

"I don't care," Tess said. "She can see it. She's already sucked it so who cares?"

I pushed the front of my sweatpants down, freeing my dick. Tess stepped close and grabbed Taylor by the hair, pulling our roommate down to my lap at the same time. Twin mouths landed on my inches. All I saw was a mass of hair and bobbing heads but what I felt sent my mind rocketing. They fought over my dick head, engulfed first by one and then the other, until someone nibbled down my shaft to suck my balls.

"Don't you dare cum," Tess warned. "I need to be fucked."

Again? I wondered.

I said nothing. The best thing a man in my situation can do, with two lovely women sucking his meat with abandon, is keep his goddamn mouth shut. They were ruthless. Taylor got up to speed in an instant. They sucked and licked and nibbled until I leaked precum and then they licked that away.

Tess left my penis to Taylor and climbed up my body, lifting her elegant blue dress as she went. She planted her knees near my ears and brought her pussy to my mouth. I rested one hand on the back of Taylor's head and the other cupped Tess's ass, pulling her closer, and I sank my wiggling tongue into my sopping wife. I was a little surprised she'd let me eat her without admitting Andrew was in there but if that turned her on, then so what? Her secrecy only made me more determined to keep my secret. I licked her slippery cunt and hard-sucked her swollen clit. She was dripping. Taylor was doing an amazing job on my dick so I shoved Tess lower.

"Put my dick in my wife," I told Taylor. "Then suck my balls."

Taylor is a natural submissive and did as I'd ordered. I had to fight back my orgasm. The sensations were mind-boggling. Tess rode me for a while, moaning and gasping, until Taylor complained.

"I want some dick too," she whined.

Tess dismounted and helped Taylor shed her pajamas. She moved the younger woman into position and I gave a good hard stare at that adolescent-looking pussy poised above my dick. Then Tess forced Taylor's hips down. I penetrated the tightest pussy I've ever felt.

"I get your cum," Tess warned.

I was not about to question her generosity. I suspected guilt drove her to share me with Taylor but I didn't care. Taylor rocked on my erection, feeding me her firm tits and stiff nipples. Tess ate our roommate's ass from behind until Taylor cried out and orgasmed. Her pussy was a fluttering glove around my penis. Tess waited until Taylor peaked and then yanked the young woman out of the way and took her place, reaching down to guide my dick in.

"Just cum," Tess said, repeating to me her message to Andrew. "I need to feel you get off. I stopped the pill a while ago. I'm ready to have a baby."

What the fuck did you say?

I froze. With the long hours I work, delayed information has always been a part of our marriage. This revelation cast a whole new light on her recent rendezvous with Andrew, however, and sent blood surging to my dick inside her.

"Oh!" she squeaked. "You like that? Fill that naughty pussy, my love. Shoot all your stuff up in there."

Like Andrew did?

God, I was driving myself crazy. I felt my dick slide through the semen already in her and my heart was a jackhammer. Tess did all the work, riding me like a pony. She paused to pull the dress off over her head and discarded her bra. She fed me nipples as her tight cunt squeezed my shaft. I held back long enough that Taylor came around and stuck her head down and under to lick my balls. No way to resist that. I fought bravely but minutes later I howled like an eagle and blasted Tess on the inside with frothy sperm. I added mine to Andrew's and loved it.

We all stayed like that until we caught our breath. Taylor mumbled how she loved living here and Tess leaned over to give her a kiss on the mouth. They left me on the sofa and headed for a shower. I considered telling Tess what I'd seen her do in that warehouse but decided not to, wondering what she would do next.

Chapter 12

I found the unused pill packets in her underwear drawer. She told the truth when she said she'd stopped a while back. By the time she fucked Andrew at the foot of Venus, she was capable of conceiving. Why did that danger give me such a rush? My dick was hard for her all the time now.

The problem was Andrew's dick was hard for her all the time too, and she loved sneaking off to fuck him. There was a covert thrill, like slipping out the bedroom window after the parents went to sleep, that electrified Tess. I'd forbidden her. No more Andrew. By doing so I'd elevated him to the most desirable man on Earth, and I was in direct competition with him to impregnate my wife. The race was on. I'd try to concentrate on work but my tortured brain would sabotage my efforts.

I'd think about his balls, somewhere in the city at that moment, manufacturing sperm twenty-four hours a day. I think about those big balls filling, storing gobs of semen to ejaculate inside my wife. He's doing it right now. He's waiting a table somewhere and the testicles in his pants are working overtime.

Images of that thick veiny cock would spring into my mind. It was agonizing. Tess had no set schedule. I'd never know where she was at any given time or what she was doing. She could fuck for hours and I wouldn't know. I wouldn't know until I got home late and carried her off to bed, burying my face between her legs and devouring her. I'd dump cum in her to finish and she'd practically purr.

It was a perfect life for her.

I thought about revealing what I knew but I'd become addicted to the adrenaline. I thought if I exposed her secret and demanded she stop, she probably would, but there was no guarantee, and how would I feel if she threw it back in my face. Worse of all, the longer I allowed her to continue, the more ridiculous any protest I made would look. It was already too late. I was stuck. My angst grew daily.

When I got home an hour ago, our bed was unmade. Not messy, like someone just climbed out of it, but disordered, lacking the clean crisp lines that Tess loves. I folded back the duvet and stuck a hand in the sheets and discovered a huge wet spot. She'd brought him here, to our home, to the bed she and I sleep in every night. My wife had fucked a man where she makes love with me.

I got rock hard.

I'd entered the house through the garage and now went looking for her. It was late and the house silent. I found her sleeping on the couch, television on. She'd waited up for me but couldn't stay awake. The heater was on and she'd kicked the blanket away and her nightshirt had ridden high, leaving her exposed from the ribcage down. Her pussy looked swollen shut. I heard soft footsteps behind me.

"Juicy, isn't it?" Taylor whispered, looking sleepy. "I first saw her like that a few minutes ago. I came to the kitchen for some water and there she was. I almost started eating that delicious peach."

Taylor had worn to bed a white lace bralette and matching panties. I needed a moment before I could answer.

"I'm thinking the same thing," I murmured.

"Do it."

She was devilish. Always.

Not to be outdone, I knelt next to the sofa. Tess had one leg resting against the back of the couch and the other thrown open. I leaned close, perversely thrilled to eat my wife's pussy in front of our roommate.

"Before you do," Taylor whispered. "You should know she fucked some guy about two hours ago."

Bitch. She was smirking.

"That's what stopped me," she murmured. "I wouldn't only get the taste of her. I'd get him too. Not too sure how I felt about that. Dude was hot though."

I was close enough to my wife's pussy to smell the mix of she and Andrew. Her labia were puffy, abused, pinker than usual. The clues of her infidelity fanned my flamed. Lust surged. I still carried my erection from the wet spot and adjusted it now, leaning even closer.

"Your dick is hard," Taylor said, breathless.

I slipped the tip of my tongue out to tease Tess on the clit. She shifted slightly. I did it again and then sank my tongue into her hole, parting her slippery pussy lips. I sucked and licked.

"That's hot as fuck," Taylor rasped. "You don't care. You want her so badly you'll eat her dirty pussy. I got to get myself a man like you."

"I like her dirty pussy," I rumbled. "I like her pussy dirty."

Tess awakened slowly. She opened groggy eyes to look down her body and discover who did those wonderful things to her. Expressions of concern and guilt flitted past, overtaken by pleasure. She covered her face with her hands and gave in to the sensations. Any thought of warning me vanished. She'd been asleep when Taylor informed me what Tess had done. She didn't know I knew. I softly licked every inch of her cheating cunt, slipping two fingers in to rub her G-spot while I suckled her clit. Andrew had fucked her to exhaustion. She took a long time to orgasm.

Now she was truly wiped out. She relaxed into the couch and I drew her blanket up, kissing her forehead.

"I love you, Baby," she murmured.

"I love you."

I stepped back but she was already asleep again. I turned to face Taylor. There were hints of darker areola showing through the bralette. I stared. She grinned. I grinned too.

"You know," she drawled. "I hate knowing you stand there with an erection and we're doing nothing about it."

"I'll beat off later."

She looked at Tess sleeping.

"No," she said. "Let me take care of that right now. Leave her on the couch. We'll take the bed. I've wanted to fuck you forever. Like, all the way."

That felt good. Taylor was a walking wet dream; casually devastating, with outrageous tits and ass and a pretty face. She'd been enjoying any man she wanted for so long she was bored with it. I didn't understand why a girl like her would want me but she had too much femininity to resist. I thought about asking why but worried that would kill her mood. I took her hand and led her to the bedroom.

I had so much stored angst, so much stored tension and worry, so much anxiety and fear, going all the way back to the first time Tess took a lover, and I released all that energy on Taylor. I pulled her hair and smacked her ass and drove my cock into her like a madman. I threw her around the bed, forced her to suck my dick, buried my penis over and over and over until she was almost weeping, and yet she begged for more. My dick was so hard! I felt a twinge of guilt, like I was cheating on Tess, which I was, but I certainly had the right and besides, Tess would have approved. The twinge passed and I hammered sweet young Taylor into the mattress. I asked where she wanted my load.

"Deep inside me," she growled.

I came like a geyser.

Chapter 13

I sipped my ice water and sent my eyes around the table: Ariel and Nate, Candy and Tyler, Tess and me. We were all dressed well, enjoying a lovely dinner with friends at our favorite restaurant. Andrew was with us, wearing a tight T-shirt and cocky grin.

"All three of you?" he asked. "Did I hear that right?"

"Yes," Tess answered. "We've all discussed it. First the women as a group and then we included our husbands. You're are simply the best candidate so we agreed to share you, which I assume is okay with you, until you've accomplished your mission for each of us. Is that all right?"

He took a bite of steak.

Yes, Tess did technically discuss it with me, but I was not thrilled by her plan and did not consent. I didn't protest either, because I had no real grounds, after everything we'd been through, to dig in against Andrew. We wanted a baby and Tess would prefer I was the father, but Andrew had moved into a close second place. My wife had abandoned the notion some anonymous mystery should be mixed in. She wanted me or Andrew to father that child. She'd discussed her feelings with her girlfriends too and they felt the same about the man. Some guys just have it. Women like them, desire them, are drawn and attracted to them. So it was with our wives.

Nate, Tyler, and I avoided each other's eyes.

Our new strategy arose from frustration. Despite our efforts, Tess had not conceived. I went in for additional testing and learned my count had fallen further. My blood pressure was up and I'd become slightly anemic. My job was slowly killing me. Tess got serious about getting pregnant, monitoring her body temperature every day and eating healthy. When nothing happened, she decided we needed to raise the stakes. At least she was fucking Andrew in front of me instead of behind my back.

"Competition," she'd said. "That will increase sperm count."

She was right. I felt my balls kick into high gear. If a little competition is good more must be better and here we are, having dinner with the man who would inseminate all our wives. Andrew hadn't realized yet my wife included him in that competition. She wanted Andrew's count sky high too.

I glanced up at Nate and Tyler. They studied Andrew, no doubt picturing this virile stud sweating between their wives' legs, working his hips, building towards climax. I knew him better than them. Not only had we picked him numerous times, but my wife had cheated with him for weeks.

I never did confront her.

On some unseen signal between them, the women began to search their purses. One by one each placed a house key on the table, sliding it towards Andrew. Nate, Tyler, and I were shocked. The gesture was powerful and meaningful and a gasp escaped me before I could stop it.

"Who's first?" Tess asked.

Andrew collected the keys and sent his gaze around.

"You, Tess," he said. "Starting tonight. After dinner."

"I'm not going home empty handed," Candy said. "We're coming with you guys."

"So are we," Ariel stated.

At last Nate, Tyler, and I allowed our eyes to meet. We were in this and there was only two ways out and since we all wanted to keep our wives, we silently consented.

Our group continued eating and conversing as if nothing waited for us, no wolf loomed in the darkness. We acted normal, but I promise you every husband at that table had his guts twisted into knots.

Soon we finished our meal and piled into our cars. Tess and Andrew rode in his car, to give him directions she said, but he fully well already knew the way. More like to suck his cock on the ride home.

We ushered them in quickly, hoping to avoid all our nosy neighbors, and Tess led the entourage towards our bedroom. By the time I got there, Tess was on the bed, masturbating to Andrew undressing. The other couples stood in shock until Candy began to strip. We were doing this. There was no point in halfway. The men took up chairs and footstools, their wives seated on their knees. Tess had eyes glued to Andrew, watching as that tight T-shirt hit the floor, watching as those jeans came down and the underwear followed. My wife rubbed her pussy as the man's cock came into view, a pendulum of thick veiny meat swinging. I'd not seen him in a while and he looked bigger than I remembered, especially his balls. Competition, indeed. Behind their eyes, Nate and Tyler looked hollowed out, daunted and intimidated. Nate thought he might protest but his jaw remained clenched.

Tess reached for the man, wrapping delicate fingers around his spongy shaft. She stroked lightly, teasing, playing with the cock she'd come to know so well. Our friends did not know that. Only I did. Which made her tender touch even more agonizing.

Andrew let her play for a time, enjoying all the eyes on him but especially the audience of husbands looking on. He displayed his big cock proudly, self-confidence radiating like sunlight. He had power over the women but he also had power over us because he had power over our women. Tess lifted his large balls on her fingertips, testing their weight, grinning in anticipation of the liquid they held. She scooted to the edge of the bed and kissed his balls as if blessing them.

"Invite the others," Andrew told her. "We have all night."

What he meant was she shouldn't worry about sharing him. He'd fill each with a load before dawn. Tess smiled at Ariel and Candy and waved them over.

"Shouldn't the women be naked like me?" Andrew asked.

They undressed quickly. I'd often wondered what Ariel and Candy looked like naked and now I knew. Tess had the best body but Ariel was a close second.

Ariel was nervous but Candy looked famished. Tess lifted the squishy dick and pointed the head at Candy's face. Candy floated out of her husband's lap and glided to a spot on her knees by the bed. My wife worked the tip of that cock into Candy's mouth. Ariel rose on her toes to kiss Andrew on the mouth.

I saw in their expressions there would be no sex between them beyond the incidental and accidental. Candy and Ariel were not into girls. Andrew may not survive the night, however. All three women looked at him like rare steak. These women were hungry and not solely for sex. They were fucking this man for pleasure, yes, but they also chased conception, and that attacked these women where they were weakest. They'd drain every drop this man had and force him to produce more. I moved to sit between Nate and Tyler.

"Maybe we should leave," Nate suggested.

I shook my head.

"Imagination is worse, trust me. You'd leave her with him and then agonize in misery until she came back to you. After that, you'd pepper her with questions until she wanted to scream. This will be hard to see but nothing compared to what your own mind would do to you if you left. I know it's hard to believe right now but what you're about to see will fuel your lust later. I always fuck Tess hardest after she's been with him."

They had questions but kept them to themselves.

"So I should hate-fuck a baby into Candy?" Tyler asked. "Is that what you're suggesting, Mark?"

"Do you hate her? Or are you scared, frightened that Andrew is a threat to your marriage? If that's true, relax. Andrew is living his best life. He's young and studly. No way he'd settle down with an older married woman."

We men turned our attention to studly Andrew. Tess held the man's cock on her fingertips, nibbling along its length on one side while Candy did the same on the other. The two women watched each other over the top of his cock, giggling. They ducked under to suck his balls together.

"Not sure how any of that makes a baby," Tyler grumbled.

"They're getting him nice and hard," I said.

Ariel had held back, unsure how to behave in front of friends and her husband, but the excitement of the moment was getting to her. She enjoyed being nude in front of us despite her worries and the sight of Andrew's big naked cock constantly drew her eye. Eventually her desires grew too strong and she knelt with the girls, joining Candy and Tess. She licked away an oozing drop of precum from the tip of the man's dick and then lifted the head on her tongue. She sucked him in, Andrew's cock surrounded now on all sides by our wives' faces.

The women lavished attention over every sensitive inch of dick flesh. Their tongues were pink paint brushes, swabbing up and down from root to head. He grew harder from their efforts, rising, filling with blood, expanding and turning stiff. Our women were thrilled by what they did to the man.

I remembered what Tess had said about the hydraulics of cock and her love of them and smiled: My wife was probably gushing by now. Then my eyes dropped to those big balls again and my smile became a frown. Andrew would soon inseminate Tess's gushing pussy. Those big balls would convulse and spit. He'd put a gallon of seed in her fertile womb. No matter how many times I thought I'd come to terms with that possibility and was ready to take the next step, I felt a wave of angst and torment whenever it raised its head. We were dealing with something too primal, too foundational to human existence: no man should impregnate my wife but me. I could mentally maneuver and intellectualize all I wanted and make myself feel better for a time, but it always came back to that.

Candy and Ariel traded places and Tyler watched his wife open her jaw and slide as much dick as she could handle to the back of her throat. Andrew groaned softly and the women were thrilled. My wife slapped her wide tongue on the man's scrotum. Ariel licked the exposed cock that wasn't in Candy's mouth. Andrew held himself still, savoring the moment. What a treat to have enough cock you could fit three women on it at the same time. I fucking hated this guy. Our wives crawled every stiff and swollen inch of the man.

At last he broke.

"All right," he ordered. "I'd love to let you babes suck my cock all night but I'm ready to fuck. Tess, get on the bed and spread your legs. You're first."

Tyler and Nate turned to me, watching for my reaction. I had the most experience with shit like this and they wondered how to act. They'd base their response, in part, by what they saw me do. I leaned forward attentively, unafraid, ready to watch my beloved get her brains fucked out.

Tess climbed on the bed and opened her legs wide, too far, exaggerating her lust, exaggerating her willingness, exaggerating her slutty wanton eagerness for that big dick. The wives had a good chuckle. Andrew crawled his knees close and aimed his cock at her pussy. I had a brief frozen-in-time moment before the man penetrated my woman. His thick cock a throbbing missile intended to create life. I gasped as the enormity of our actions hit me all at once. Then he sank his cock deep and Tess moaned with heartfelt pleasure. His mouth found her nipple and his hips began to pump. She was lost to me, gasping and groaning beneath this hung stud. They entered their own world where the rest of us ceased to exist and only them fucking each other mattered. They wrapped arms around each other, bodies moving together.

Their chemistry was obvious to all. Nate and Tyler watched in awkward silence, eyes occasionally darting my way. Ariel and Candy recognized the intimacy and familiarity and turned to look at me, concerned for my feelings, wondering if I saw what they saw. I did, of course.

I thought about explaining but said nothing. Let them wonder. Andrew pushed his cock so deep I saw my wife's stomach bulge. I half expected his cock to come out her mouth. He wanted to get as deep as he could. He wanted to touch her heart. Tess held on as the young stud fucked her. Candy reached under to fondle his swinging balls. Ariel stroked his hair and rubbed his back. They waited their turn, knowing he'd fuck them soon after he finished with her.

Prudish Ariel surprised us all when she cupped Tess's bouncing tit, caressing the sensitive skin and rolling the nipple. Tess closed her eyes, lost in the decadent moment. Candy escalated things when she ducked her head under from behind and wiggled her tongue against Andrew's puckered asshole. Tyler grumbled a complaint but Andrew sucked a bushel of air.

"Your friends are trying to make me cum," he said.

"They are eager for their turn," Tess replied.

Andrew leaned farther over my wife, bending her legs over her body. He began slamming his hips against her ass, driving his heavy cock all the way in. Tess groaned her approval and lifted her hips to meet him as best she could. His cock must have expanded inside her because her eyes grew wide.

"That's going to make me cum," she muttered. "Do it again."

Andrew obeyed and Tess moaned. A moment later she gasped.

"I love your cock!" she cried.

She had more to say but an orgasm prevented it. She growled and whimpered and twisted her body, speared and impaled and cumming hard. Andrew fucked her strong and steady until she began to taper and then thrust a handful of times before burying his cock and holding his breath.

"Fuck!" he grunted. "Take it!"

Their bodies trembled, vibrating from little spasms and muscle contractions. Their orgasms overlapped, feeding each other, heightening their pleasure. At last the sperm injection subsided and Andrew draped his body over hers.

"Leave it in me," my wife murmured. "Just a little while."

Andrew was happy to comply. He relaxed his hips and sank his full length into her again. His large testicles covered her opening all the way down to her asshole. They were content to lie like that but Nate got impatient.

"What happens now?" he asked. "How long does this guy need? I'd like to get home soon."

"Then go home," Ariel said. "I can come home later."

"Or spend the night in the guest room," I added.

Nate looked betrayed but resigned. Tyler took his side.

"That's not a bad idea," he said. "Me and Nate should leave. Let us know when all this bullshit is over. I can come back or Mark can drop the girls off."

Candy thought about giving a terse reply but then stopped short.

"Go ahead, Tyler," she said. "It's probably better if you're not here for this. I thought it would be something we shared as a couple but I understand how difficult it must be to sit and watch. You guys go on and we'll finish without you."

I'd warned them, but they didn't listen. Nate and Tyler grabbed car keys and cell phones and left grumbling. I was happy to see them gone but they are friends. Their long night of torment and anguish was only just beginning.

Once they were gone, I went to the kitchen and poured everyone a tall glass of wine, hoping to get the mood back. I shouldn't have bothered. When I returned with the serving tray, Andrew was on his back with fingers laced behind his head. All three wives sucked his cock again. They licked his balls and rolled them around in their mouths. Their intent was to get him hard but the young man needed no assistance. Whether because of youth or perhaps a pill he popped before dinner, the man had retained most of his erection. Ariel stopped sucking and raised her head.

"I want a promise from everyone here right now," she said. "What happens tonight stays with us alone. My husband left me and I'll deal with that later, but because he left, he doesn't get to know the details of what happened. I'll tell him I had sex with Andy and leave it at that. About anything else, I will be vague. Do you all agree?"

"Sure," Tess said.

"Of course," I agreed.

Candy and Andrew said the same.

"Okay, good," Ariel exhaled. "Because I've been dying to do this."

Ariel shimmied down the bed. She shoved Candy's hips, turning the girl over, and then shocked us by planted her mouth over Candy's vulva. Candy froze, stunned, alarmed but not disgusted. She released the large cock she held and swung around into a sixty-nine. Tess and I looked at each other, shocked.

"That's a great way to get a dick hard," Andrew admitted.

We watched the two women pleasure each other. This was clearly the first experience for both and there was plenty of hesitancy and uncertainty, but the longer they went the more they relaxed. Hands massaged breasts and tongued licked soaking cunts. My libido caught fire to see these women I'd known for years go at each other.

"You guys look amazing," Tess said.

"So hot," Andrew agreed.

Tess stroked his cock as we all gazed in wonder. He got fully erect quickly. He moved behind Ariel, who was on top, and rested his balls on Candy's face. He lined up to Ariel's opening. He pushed and I had the spectacular view of Ariel blossoming around his intrusion, enveloping the large head. Candy stopped licking Ariel briefly to suck Andrew's balls. Tess scooted across the bed to cuddle me.

"Did you know?" I asked. "Did you know Ariel wanted Candy?"

She shook her head.

"Ariel mentioned once she thought Candy was pretty but she never said anything about feelings like this."

"Do you want to join them?"

"You'd like that?"

I shrugged.

"I like seeing you turned on. Doesn't matter how."

"I'll wait. Let them enjoy their moment. We have a long night ahead."

Chapter 14

Candy and Ariel got pregnant.

Tess did not.

Candy and Tyler got divorced, her idea, as an already emotionally distant Tyler grew more so after the wild night we all shared. Candy makes plenty of money on her own and has a huge support network, so single motherhood will work well for her.

Ariel and Nate went a different route. Ariel admitted how much she'd loved every aspect of that night and, after much soul searching, Nate admitted he'd masturbated like a crazy man after he got home. They had a long heart-to-heart and, after Ariel gives birth and their lives return to normal, Nate suggested Ariel occasionally take hot lovers, like me and Tess. When Tess heard, she invited herself to go out on the hunt sometimes with Ariel.

Tess confessed to me of her many hidden liaisons with Andrew. She'd seen him even more times than I suspected. She'd fucked him exclusively each visit to the clinic, plus they started meeting at a motel downtown, where she continued to pay him because it turned her on. I'd bankrolled my wife's infidelity.

I asked her why she kept so much hidden from me and she admitted while the sex was amazing, it was her emotional connection to Andrew which drew her most, a connection she craved with me but lacked.

"You must stop working so much," she told me. "I mean it."

She was right and, finally, at last, I heard her. I sat down with the CEO and we structured a new workday for me. He hired a secretary and a personal assistant to help me. I handed off various projects until I was down to a few favorites and in a few short weeks, when I finished for the day, I went home.

Tess and I became like newlyweds. We were laughed and joked and made plans to travel and enjoy our life more. She stopped visits to the facility and she stopped fucking Andrew.

"All that intercourse and he never got me pregnant anyway," she'd said.

Our sex life skyrocketed. It helps when I'm actually around and not exhausted.

When I went to the doctor for the next battery of tests, we proved what we already knew would be true: my sperm count and motility were increasing. We were on our way. We'd have that baby without help from another man. To celebrate our positive life turn, we made reservations for two weeks in the Bahamas. We'd spend one week at Sandysport Beach Resort and the second week at Hawksbill Bay. When the day arrived, I walked out of my office.

From the moment we stepped off the plane, everything was different. Weight had been lifted from our shoulders. We laid under the sun on white sand beaches and talked about selling everything we owned and moving someplace better for raising children. We made love each night, sometimes during the day, on the beach.

Everything, was perfect.

We rented jet skis and raced to Balmoral Island, dropping our towels near the waves and falling asleep holding hands. We awoke after a brief nap and kissed and pulled Kindles from our backpacks. We read under the warm sun.

We decided to spend another day on this island and rented a suite. The shower was small, one person at a time, so Tess went first. I had just lathered my body when I heard a knock at the door. That would be room service, with lunch. I wanted to be sure they'd remembered the last-minute beer I'd added so I stuck my head out of the shower to say something and discovered Tess had answered the door wrapped in only a towel.

Now that she's started, the woman can't stop. The handsome young man, light-skinned for this island, looked mildly surprised but stepped inside anyway. I pulled back, watching from behind the shower curtain. Tess threw a glance my way, checking, but my instincts had expected that and I'd ducked. After a heartbeat, I looked again. She was keeping herself in the young man's field of vision, not so innocently positioning herself for him to admire, which he did. He arranged plates and glasses and silverware, taking his time, drinking her in. He'd set the slip for signature on the end table and Tess reached for it.

"I'll take care of this now," she said.

Her arm lifted and her towel dropped, snagged briefly on a breast, and then fell to the carpet. The young man confidently stared. Tess allowed it. He straightened and squared his shoulders.

"I hear a shower running," he said, with a light Haitian accent.

"My husband," Tess replied. "He'll be a while."

Our life was perfect. We were more in love than ever, more than on our honeymoon. We craved each other, made love almost daily, adored each other.

And yet.

Even with everything exactly how we wanted, Tess still wanted more. I guess I did too. She probably only planned on teasing him but once she saw how handsome he was, she wanted more. Wanting more is what we do now.

Tess was not the first married woman to drop a towel before this man. My wife was not the first married woman on vacation to dangle herself in front of him. The young man stepped close and slipped an olive arm around her naked waist. He pulled her close, kissed her passionately, cupped a bare breast and caressed. He held her like that a hot moment and then dropped his hand to her crotch, moving fast with the little time he had. Tess moaned softly and I knew his finger had penetrated.

"You picked the right guy," he boasted. "I got a big zozo."

Tess grabbed the front of his black slacks and squeezed.

"Show me," she murmured.

He unzipped and drew it out, tugging the last inch.

"Let me see it in your mouth," this bold scoundrel said.

Tess was amused and intrigued. I ducked again as she checked to make sure I still showered and then sat on her heels. She brought her face up under his hanging meat and opened her mouth, sliding him in. She kept her mouth open and rising until she had half his soft cock resting on her tongue. She closed her lips around him and I understood that we'd never go back to how things were. New dick would forever tempt her. Cock outside our marriage would forever draw her.

Tess began a slow bob. Room Service placed his hands atop her head, guiding my wife up and down his cock. He'd spoken truly: he was big, bigger than average, bigger than me. Tess quickened her pace. Room Service lifted his eyes to our ceiling. He pulled her head forward, pushing more cock down her throat. She choked and gagged and punched his thigh but did not stop. She allowed his aggression, relaxing her throat so he could fuck her mouth.

"Married women are the biggest sluts," he chuckled. "You're old enough to know what you like, and you're smart enough to reject all that good-girl crap."

He held her head tight and flexed his ass. Tess's face turned red, her throat bulged. Veins rose on her neck. She resisted the urge to shove him away and gasp for air, instead allowing the young man to use her as he wished.

"I wish I had time to empty into your stomach, but I don't."

He reluctantly withdrew his sloppy cock. Tess was dazed. He wiped her lips with a thumb and kissed her.

"I'd love to finish this later," he said. "My girlfriend loves to watch me fuck married women. Can you slip away from your man tonight? I live in a cottage on the north side with a bunch of other employees. Come see me around eleven."

Tess rubbed her throat but nodded agreement. He picked up the slip she'd signed and gave it a look.

"Make my tip bigger," he said, handing her the clipboard.

Tess made an adjustment and initialed.

"See you at eleven," he said, tucking his penis away.

"All right," Tess said.

He left our room. I silently reentered the shower. A moment later Tess entered the bathroom with her towel once more in place. I stared at her through the frosty glass. She opened her mouth to speak several times but nothing came out.

"Do you want to fuck him?" I asked.

She melted. She was on the verge of tears.

"You saw?" she mumbled.

"Everything. Why do you look so hot with a cock in your mouth? I'll go with you to his place. His girlfriend isn't the only one that likes watching married women fuck."

There was only room for one, but she dropped the towel and joined me in the shower anyway.

Chapter 15

The cottage was more like an old colonial mansion converted into separate quarters. About twenty of the staff lived there, ages from sixteen to thirty. There was a common kitchen, recreational room, and gym. A balcony wrapped all the way around the second floor.

We'd arrived together and Room Service, whose name is Bruno, introduced us to his pretty girlfriend, Camila. Camila wore a perpetual expression of sarcasm wrapped in cynicism and sprinkled with humor. How many white women had visited this cottage? How many had dropped onto the mattress for Bruno? Camila looked at me with scorn mixed with absurdity. Either I didn't know what was going on with my wife, in which case I was an idiot, or I did, in which case I was a fool.

If I'd cared at all about their opinions my feelings might have been hurt. Bruno and Camila had shown us around their place, skipping introductions to the few people at the mansion. We ended the tour in the rec room, racking up for a game of billiards.

"A sexy game," Bruno had said. "Simple rules. Two teams: Tess and Mark against Camila and Bruno. Each time a team loses, they remove some clothing. Winning team decides who and what."

"Strip pool?" Tess chuckled.

She turned to me. We were sure to get slaughtered but who cares? I was curious what the night held.

"Sounds good," I said.

Game one, Bruno ran the table. He broke and sank every ball one after the other. I removed my shoes. We did not lose every game as Tess was surprisingly good, but we lost most. Soon Tess and I were down to our underwear. Camila, wearing little to begin with, was in bra and panties too. She looked spectacular: chestnut skin, medium tits sitting high, firm ass. She enjoyed showing off. This couple relished the slow seduction of married couples from the mainland, toying with our emotions.

We lost again and Bruno pointed a finger at me. I stepped out of my boxers, adding them to the pile of lost clothing and stood nude before our new friends. Camila looked me up and down, her gaze stayed with my dick for a long heartbeat. I liked her eyes on me.

We won the next game on a fantastic shot by Tess. She instructed Bruno to lose his shirt and he did, revealing a wiry upper body.

We did not win another game. Tess and I continued playing naked, which made no sense given we had nothing to remove when we lost. We were playing to get them naked. Thank God the rest of the house slept. Humiliation can be arousing but I have no idea why. My dick swelled as I took shots around that table, especially so when I caught Camila looking. After a while Tess stepped close and whispered in my ear.

"Are we going to fuck them?" she asked.

"Looks that way. Are you cool with me and Camila?"

"I am not thrilled by the idea," Tess said. "She's gorgeous. I'm not overjoyed by you with some Latina bombshell. It's fair, I know, but I still hate it."

We watched Bruno take a shot.

"But that's not why I asked," Tess continued. "I asked because when I took my temperature this morning it showed I am ovulating for sure. This vacation was supposed to be us getting pregnant, not some Latino stud knocking me up."

A surge of adrenaline sent my heart racing and blood flowing. I felt my shaft grow heavier, hang lower. The possibility was outrageous, shameful, and despicable. Yet her words caused my dick to rise. I tried to stop it. I tried to think about baseball and taxes. Nothing worked. Despite my efforts, my penis filled with blood and lifted, throbbing and pulsing. I looked at our new friends. Camila kissed Bruno fiercely and then checked on us. She spotted my erection and whispered something to Bruno. The man followed her gaze and spied my hard dick and grinned. He rested his pool cue against the wall and came around the table, removing Tess's cue and resting that against the wall too. He unbuckled his pants and pushed them down. His dick flopped into view. He moved next to me, standing hip to hip.

"Suck us," he told Tess.

Her eyes were filled with uncertainty but her mouth opened and her knees bent. As if someone else controlled her, my wife caved to her darker impulses. She should not be doing what she was doing but she couldn't not do it.

Bruno had placed himself beside me as if we were friends but that also brought his growing cock next to mine, and my ever-helpful brain could not decide if I should call him twice my size or call myself half his. His tan cock was smooth with a dark brown circumcision scar an inch behind the head. Camila joined us, leaning on my shoulder and gazing down at the two dicks offered to my wife. Her lips curled into a slight smile.

"Suck both," she told Tess, her Haitian accent stronger than Bruno's. "Get them hard. Let's compare."

If my wife hated taking orders from a woman, she didn't show it. She sagged a little, final defense falling, and grabbed Bruno to stuff into her mouth. Camila reached down to stroke my hard dick while we all watched Tess suck Bruno.

"You've done this before?" she asked.

"A few times," I admitted.

"She goes all the way with men?"

"As far as a girl can go," I admitted.

"To see your wife this way turns you on too?"

My mouth was dry. Her hand felt fantastic. Her hot breath in my ear made my balls tighten and tingle.

"Very much," I rasped.

Tess moaned softly, hearing me speak about her like that. She fucked her mouth on his dick slowly, savoring the gentle throb of him on her tongue. Camila was moved by my words too, rubbing her body against mine, imagining her man injecting hot cum into Tess.

"I love watching him fuck these bitches," she murmured. "He conquers them. He melts them and they fall for him, but he loves only me. Pretty women need to get fucked hard, shot full, and sent home."

I tried to speak but her hand and her words had me too hot. I was as weak and addicted as my wife. I grabbed Tess by the hair and lifted. She'd sucked his cock long enough. Camila wanted to see her fucked and so did I. I lifted my wife to her feet and then bent her over the pool table. Bruno nudged her legs farther apart with his knees.

"Baby?" she pleaded, worry finally asserting itself. "Remember what I told you? Is this wise? Should we do this? Think about what you're doing. What if I get—Unngh."

Bruno had heard enough. He'd held his cock like a spear and rammed it forward, impaling my wife from behind. I released her hair and he shoved her down, pinning her to the green felt.

I felt reckless. I felt unchained and rash. In that moment, I hoped Bruno would put a baby in her. That child's legacy would be our secret, our special erotic mystery. Every day that I looked at that child I'd remember the pure irresponsible freedom of this night, the pure decadence. Our love child would be a lust child, a living testament to a wild mother and father. I was ready to reject all the classical, romantic notions assigned to childbirth. Our kid would represent passionate living.

"Fuck her," I rasped, voice choking. "God, Bruno, fuck her to death."

Camila gasped. Tess moaned. Bruno laughed. His cock had a pencil-thick vein that ran along the top and I stared at it now, watching it vanish inside my wife only to reappear seconds later. Tess was moaning loudly, struggling to shove her ass back at the man and ram that cock deeper. We'd know everything about Andrew. We'd sanitized that interaction. We knew nothing about Bruno. Bruno was an enigma, a hot Latin lover. He lifted onto his toes to slam his thick cock deeper.

Tess cried out. An orgasm tore through her. He fucked her harder and faster and thirty seconds later she wailed as another orgasm, more powerful than the first, destroyed her mind.

"Drive her crazy, my love," Camila said. "Ruin her for her man. Make her fall in love with your big cock."

Bruno grabbed my wife's butt cheeks and hammered her pussy. He pushed a thumb in her asshole. His cock turned darker, harder. The shaft was a rigid iron rod, unyielding, inflexible. Tess ground her hips at him, writhing under his attack. My dick pulsed in Camila's hand. Tess moaned like she was already climbing towards her next climax and I moaned. Camila felt a surge of blood and began jerking me again.

"Look what my man does to your woman," she taunted.

I did look. I saw exactly what this outlaw lover did to my wife and I loved it.

"You're going to make me cum," I warned.

"So? Good. My Bruno will have the only hard cock. All night your wife will go to him and only him for what she needs."

She jerked me faster. I looked down at her jiggling tits, barely contained by her lacy bra. I lifted my eyes to Bruno pumping my wife. Tess whined and whimpered and twisted her body to look over a shoulder at the handsome man that did these wonderful things to her, that made her feel these impossible things. Their eyes locked and Tess began to chew a lip. Her eyes started to close but he barked for her to keep them open, keep them looking into his. Her mouth opened. Her jaw dropped. Her eyes went wide and another orgasm split her in two. She sobbed, gasping for air, but never looked away, sharing the moment on the deepest level with the man that possessed her cunt.

I saw in her eyes the connection she formed to him. I saw her heart follow her pussy. A strange gratitude filled her, like a rescue dog going home. I witnessed the moment my wife gave herself, heart, body, and soul to the man. We all saw it. My heart caved in as her wail of absolute pleasure filled the room. His cock ripped yet another climax from her and my dick jumped and spurt. Camila laughed and pumped me fast, squeezing my shaft so hard she almost cut off the flow of semen. Tess was staggeringly gorgeous in that moment, frustratingly sexy.

I shot again and again watching what he did to her.

Chapter 16

He withdrew his gleaming erection and lifted her in his arms. Camila led the way out of the rec room. I gathered everyone's clothing and followed close behind, climbing the steps to their spare flat. They had a mattress on the floor, simple table and chairs, and a large rug. Bruno lowered her to the bed and maneuvered between her legs. His cock looked harder than ever, skin so tight the shaft glittered. The head had swollen and turned dark purple. Camila joined them on the mattress and straddled my wife's head, facing backward to kiss Bruno. The man fucked my wife while he made out with his. Camila made Tess eat her. They used her for pleasure. He began long-stroking his dick and soon Tess cried out again, this time her mouth filled with pussy. Camila and Bruno chuckled and kissed.

I sat on the floor to watch. Tess had given up all control, handing her body over to them. She lapped at the pussy pressed against her face, licking all the way back to Camila's asshole. The surprised woman shivered with delight. Tess gripped Bruno's thighs fiercely, denting his flesh and pulling him forward on each thrust, eager to get his hard cock as deep as possible. The muscles across his back clenched and flexed.

"I'm gonna cum," Camila gasped.

Tess moaned and licked faster. Camila was gushing juice, dripping all over my wife's chin and throat. Camila fumbled at her lacy bra, lifting the cups and freeing her tits. She pulled the nipples hard, tugging as she ground her cunt. Tess coiled a tongue around the woman's clit and sucked hard.

"Aye!" Camila yelped.

My wife attacked the swollen clitoris, licking, sucking, nibbling the sensitive nub. Camila struggled to keep her balance. She tossed her head sending her long tresses flying. Then the muscles in her arms and legs tightened and the air left her lungs in a rush. A low moan floated free and I knew she was cumming in my wife's mouth. Tess maintained her oral assault, giving the woman as much pleasure as possible.

Eventually, Camila's orgasm subsided and she tumbled to the side, breathing hard and chuckling at the pleasure racing around her brain. Bruno had Tess to himself now and moved my wife's body higher on the bed. He opened her legs wide, obscenely wide, as wide as they would go, opening her labia and exposing her pussy for all to see. His cock was a bronzed iron bar, so hard he forced her cunt to take his size and shape.

Camila removed the rest of her underwear and settled in to watch her man dominate the older married woman. Her gaze occasionally darted to me, savoring my obedience too.

Bruno fists held my wife's ankles, his cock filled her pussy. She was spread like a Thanksgiving wishbone, pinned like a butterfly in a museum display case. He pulled his cock all the way out, keeping her legs spread wide. Tess whimpered, exposed, vulnerable. Her hips involuntarily writhed in tiny circles, desperate to recapture his cock.

"I love your dick," my wife whimpered. "I'm falling in love with your dick."

I knew she was playing but I flinched. Her words got to me. I knew we would dirty-talk about this night for years. Her words got to Bruno too. He bowed his back, lifted his hips high, elevating his soaked cock for all to see.

"Hurt me with it," Tess said, so much longing in her eyes it made my chest ache.

"You'll remember this night," he said.

He moved closer and sheathed most of his dick. A long sigh escaped her. He pulled all the way out again and then laughed at her instant look of disappointment.

"Put it back in," she pleaded. "Show me what my pussy's for."

Bruno ignored her.

"You and hubby are vacationing in the Bahamas?" he casually asked. "Thought you'd grab some sun and drink a little rum?"

"We came here to get pregnant," Tess countered, lifting her hips to capture his cock again but failing.

Bruno's eyebrows rose. Camila sat up in bed.

"You're not on birth control?" she asked.

"No," Tess replied, shooting me a nervous glance.

Camila and Bruno exchanged a wicked look. An immoral smile spread across Camila's face. Bruno turned serious.

"What if I get you pregnant?" Bruno asked.

"If you do, you do," I butted in. "We know the risk."

Camila and Bruno exchanged another look.

"Let me put it in," Camila said.

"No," Bruno said. "I want Tess to do it to herself."

Camila liked that idea. My wife reached for the man's dick.

It was one thing for us to get caught up in the passion of the moment and do something stupid while on vacation. We could have written that kind of foolishness off. This was something else. This was deliberate. This was choosing a dangerous path knowing it was dangerous. This was our moment to stop, to clear our heads and realize how close we'd come to doing something stupid.

Her fingers curled around his girth and my throat clenched, my mouth went dry. I couldn't get any air into my lungs. She pulled him forward, guiding his cock to her pussy, steering his fat dick to part her labia and sink home. Camila clapped her hands and kissed Tess on the mouth.

"Fuck her, Papi," Camila said, staring at Tess's face. "Put that baby in her."

Tess moaned and so did I. Bruno moved over my wife's body, working his cock deeper. Tess sank into the blankets, eyes wide as she gazed up into the face of the man inside her. She wasn't just fucking this guy. There was way more behind this act than that. Bruno fucked her with purpose. Camila got out of their way, sliding off the bed to come torment me. I couldn't help but gawk at her hot nude body.

My dick began to rise.

"Is that because of me?" Camila asked. "Or is that because you like watching?"

I didn't answer. Bruno was kissing Tess and she'd wrapped arms and legs around his lean body. Her heels dug into his ass, helping him bury that cock. They were making love more than fucking yet I couldn't look away.

"You should jack off," Camila said. "It's sexy. No one will blame you. My man and your woman look so good together. I'll masturbate with you."

She sat next to me and opened her legs. She slipped a finger into her pussy to wet it and then began rubbing her clit, making little circles before dipping to wet it again.

"No help from me this time," she murmured. "You get yourself off watching my man fuck your wife."

I took my penis in hand. She was right: I did want to jerk off watching Tess get fucked. I began masturbating and so did she. We fell silent, pleasuring ourselves as our partners pleased each other.

"Sometimes," Camila said to no one, "it is better to just watch."

I wondered how many women she'd seen Bruno fuck. She was a rare voyeuristic female. I'd had a girlfriend like her in college who would always comment on the sex scenes in movies, describing how pleased she was to see the female lead get pounded. Beautiful women need to be fucked, she'd said. That's why God made hot babes and big dicks.

Bruno circled my wife in his arms and rolled onto his back, taking her with him. Now we had an unobstructed view of her stuffed cunt struggling with his inflexible pole. He was a meat stake she slammed her pussy onto over and over, gasping and grunting. Tess leaned back, driving him even deeper inside her body.

He must have hit some sweet spot because her body went rigid. She repeated the same movement again and again.

"Yeah," she grunted. "Right there."

She fucked herself on him and inched closer to yet another climax. She lifted her hair over her head. Her hips rocked back and forth. Her butt cheeks spread on each thrust, revealing his fat buried cock. His large balls were snug against his body.

"Right there," she exhaled.

Her nipples stiffened. Camila gasped softly. Tess rammed her hips down one last time and groaned. Pussy juice gushed around Bruno's shaft and my wife threw her head back and growled a strangled cry. Her body flushed pink. Her asshole puckered and winked. Her pussy spasmed, clamping around his girth and releasing only to clamp again. She orgasmed around his cock like a shuddering earthquake, a long drawn out warbling moan escaping her throat.

Camila orgasmed next to me, watching my wife cum.

Bruno grabbed my woman's tits and lifted his ass six inches off the bed. I'd lost track of him while watching Tess and he blew the first batch of hot sperm into her guts before I knew it. Again and again his ass rose, each a rocketing jet of boiling semen. Camila's face was aglow. Were we watching Bruno impregnate Tess? That real possibility crashed down on me. My nuts tightened and I launched a bolt of jizz across the carpet and the back of my hand. Another followed the first and I groaned in ecstasy as my nuts emptied themselves. My eyes were glued to Bruno's convulsing testicles; fully aware each spasm was another huge load shot into my wife's womb. A jet spurt backward along his cock and out of her pussy. She was flooded in there.

"Fuuuuck," I whimpered.

"He's giving you a baby," Camila hummed. "I feel it. I know it. He's putting a baby in your wife right now."

She was so excited her expression was almost demonic. She looked down at my streaks of semen soaking into their carpet. She muttered something in Haitian Creole and then pinched my deflating penis, lifting me for a better look.

"My man has done what this could not," she said, her accent almost singing.

Her words landed like a giant foot, crushing me to the ground. I followed my trails of wasted semen to the bed, spying Tess resting atop Bruno. His thick cock still filled her, trapping all that seed within.

My gut told me Camila was right. Some women say they knew the moment of conception and I'd always doubted that, but now, gazing at that fleshy log stuffed in her pussy, I understood.

I was crushed and broken, but my tired dick began to rise.

Chapter 17

Eight pounds, two ounces. Black hair and dark eyes. Skin a few shades darker than me or Tess but enough that we'd be able to get by. Only the most astute would see our son and wonder.

I hoped they did.

Fatherhood surprised me.

I'd been buried in work for so many years I forgot to live my life. I'd made changes before our trip to the Bahamas but there's nothing like a baby to turn your world upside down. I gave notice and cashed out all my stock options and took a forty-hour a week job at a different company, but half of those hours are remote work-from-home hours.

Eight months ago, fatherhood changed me for the better. I loved being a dad and I loved our child. It made no difference to me that Bruno had sired the boy. In fact, I found it titillating, a daily reminder of what we'd done, how slutty Tess was capable of being. He could just as easily have been a step-son or adopted. He'd have a biological dad that wasn't me either way, yet I'd love him just as much. Instead we did it the old-fashioned way, with hot passionate fucking. I had sex with Tess after Bruno but there was no question in anyone's mind which man's sperm had found her egg.

Tess loved being pregnant and loved her new big boobs got even bigger. She loved nursing our child. We were happy, contended parents. Having a child was everything we'd hoped it would be.

But yesterday I saw a look in her eye. She's lost most the weight she'd gained but kept the big tits and a hunger had taken hold and started to grow. We wanted at least three kids and now we knew how to get them.

"I wonder what Andrew is up to these days?" I said.

We were enjoying a spaghetti dinner and Tess stopped the forkful of salad headed to her mouth. She sat the utensil on her plate, a tiny tremble in her hand.

"Are you saying what I think you're saying?" she asked.

"Yes," I said. "I am."

"How soon?"

"Whenever you're ready."

She looked at her plate.

"Excuse me," she said.

She left the table and then the room, returning after a few minutes. She sat and finished the bite of salad.

"Well?" I said, impatient.

"Oh. Yes. I'm meeting Andrew in an hour. His place. Will you help me pick out what to wear? My body is different now. I'm not as sure what looks good."

I scoffed.

"You look even better. Andrew will love your bigger breasts."

"I better warn him. I doubt he wants to take a drink of milk."

The air around us vibrated with a fast-rising sexual tension.

"I'll stay home with Baby Bruno," I said. "But I'll need pictures. Video. Text message updates."

Her neck was already flushed with arousal. Our night had taken a sudden and wonderful turn. She couldn't wait to have his cock in her.

"Understood," she said, voice cracking. "Cross your fingers for conception."

I shrugged.

"Not too soon," I said. "Maybe a month or two of hot fucking before his seed takes hold. Maybe six months or a year. Maybe not even Andrew. Maybe you pick another man."

I felt the heat coming off her from across the table.

"Maybe we need another vacation," she said.

End.
