Chapter 1

Where was Gendry?

The dark and smoke-filled room stank of weed and spilled booze. I held Trina's hand as we navigated the bodies passed-out on the floor and the tangle of legs jutting from couches and chairs. In my other hand, I carried a bottle of Old Grand Dad whiskey. The room was packed with people we did not know, but many faces were familiar. No big-name actors, which Trina would have loved, but lots of B-listers which still made her feel like she'd been invited to something important.

We stumbled often, laughed, but took another drink.

A hookah sat like an octopus on the low, expensive-looking coffee table, tentacles reaching to mouths all around. The large bowl glowed. Dense smoke was exhaled and the fog grew deeper, making me lightheaded and euphoric. Trina is half my body weight. If the grass affected me like this, she must be sky-high already. A long-haired man offered me a nozzle as we passed but I thanked him and waved him off. My wife and I don't smoke. We started a fitness kick a year ago and we're doing well. Trina looks amazing. Her breasts have shrunk some and she's bummed about that, but not as much as I expected. She's thrilled with how everything else looks and so am I. Tight round ass and toned legs get me every time. We don't judge those who do smoke, it's just not for us. That didn't matter tonight because a hazy cloud of weed filled the house. I felt it. Trina did too. Her buzz was far more than just the booze I carried.

"I'm horny," she mumbled, over my shoulder.

I chuckled. Intoxication always has that effect on her. I should have seen this coming. I turned and held the bottle of Old Grand Dad to her lips. She drank.

"Let's find a room," I joked.

"Okay."

Yeah, she had a serious buzz going. She's no prude but normally the idea of borrowing a stranger's bedroom for a quickie would put her off. I considered it for a moment but backed away from the idea. If we had sex in this stranger's house she'd be annoyed with me once her high was gone.

"Let's sit here," I said, snagging the only open spot available, a patch of upholstery next to a couple making out like it was the last time they'd ever see each other in this life. Trina watched them closely, drawn in by their public displays of lust. I sat and she took my lap, her legs between mine, her torso twisted so she could continue watching the couple.

The invite for this party had arrived days before. We'd booked a quick flight from Seattle to Los Angeles and Gendry, my agent, met us at the airport. He felt it vitally important I share in the success of the movie since it had been my book used to write the screenplay. He insisted we attend this celebration. He'd dropped us at a posh LA hotel and took off, promising to see us at the party. He'd texted about an hour ago to let us know he was running late and that we should go ahead and mingle.

"You might find your next big deal in that crowd," he'd said. "Actors, directors, and producers will all be there. Make sure they know who you are."

"Isn't that your job?"

"Shut your hole. I'll be there. Mingle."

Fine. We'd mingled. Sort of.

I felt movement at the end of the divan and twisted my neck to see. A familiar looking man dressed in baggy clothes reclined over couch cushions, making out with a young, pretty, hopeful starlet, writhing tongues visible. They both looked wasted. He palmed a fat tit while she rubbed his crotch. Drunk sex is so sloppy. They pawed at each other, raw lust on full display. After a while he pushed her head down and she did not resist, opening his zipper and digging out his penis. The thing flopped across his lap like felled lumber.

"Oh," Trina said.

Starlet adjusted his pants, spreading the opening.

Yeah. Oh, indeed. The dude was hung. Starlet opened wide and sucked the large head. Baggy moaned softly, complimenting her oral talents. She sucked harder. My wife and I watched in shocked silence. The dude got hard fast. As he stiffened, she struggled to keep the beast in her mouth. Her hand began sliding the length of him, spreading her messy saliva. He groaned. She placed the head just inside her mouth and sucked hard. Really hard. Like, leave a hickey on his dick hard. He groaned again. Trina shifted uncomfortably on my lap.

"Don't you recognize him?" she whispered.

"No," I said. "Should I?"

"Yes!" she hissed. "Bradley? Does that ring any bells? He's only the fastest rising star in Hollywood. Seriously?"

I studied the man's face.

"I still don't know who he is."

Exasperated, Trina gave up on me. We watched Starlet force her mouth down the man's length, stretching her lips wide and making her throat bulge. She slowed, only reaching about halfway, and then held him there.

"She's using her tongue," Trina murmured through a drunken haze.

I saw what she meant. Starlet's cheeks fluttered as she teased the man.

"God," my wife murmured. "If only."

Before I could ask her what that meant someone spoke behind us.

"Ashley?" a deep male voice asked.

We all looked up. Starlet, who was now Ashley, looked instantly guilty.

"Will?" she slurred. "What are you doing here?"

"Checking on you," he snapped.

"You followed me?"

"Yes, and good thing I did."

Ashley still held upright the throbbing cock she'd been sucking. Bradley opened bleary eyes, wondering where her delightful mouth had gone.

"Come on," Will demanded. "We're leaving."

"No."

Ashley sucked again, bobbing a few more times. Take that, male ego.

"Ash!"

Ashely stopped and pouted.

"Let me finish him," she pleaded.

"What the fuck?" Will growled. "Finish him? Are you crazy? You're my girlfriend, Ashley. Stop. Come on."

Ashley looked at Bradley.

"I'm sorry," she said. "My name is Ashley Emerald. Find me on Instagram. I'm a really good actor. I just need a break."

Ashley took as much of the man's cock as she could, sucking hard as she drew her mouth up the length. She teased the head for good measure, and then apologized to Bradley again. The dude groaned his disappointment, dropping his head to the silk cushions once more. Ashley stood and adjusted her clothing. Will snatched her elbow.

"I knew I couldn't trust you," he complained, pulling her away.

"Do you know who that is?" Ashley said, jerking a thumb over a shoulder.

"That's Bradley," I said, being helpful.

They ignored me.

"He said he'd give me a part in his next movie," Ashley lied.

Will led her away, stepping over bodies. Bradley reached for her, then dropped his arm to his lap.

"Goddamn it," he muttered.

He lay motionless, hard dick out where everyone could see it. His eyelids drooped and he slumped, too wasted to budge. His dick gradually began to deflate. Poor guy.

Trina stared. First at his shirking dick, then at his handsome actor face, then at his shrinking dick again. She snatched the bottle of Old Grand Dad out of my hand and took a gulp. I knew what she was thinking. It was obvious on her face. I impulsively thought it would be funny to call her on it.

"I dare you," I said.

I knew there was no way she would. She quickly looked away from the man, blushing, laughing.

"Don't tempt me," she chuckled.

"You said you were horny," I said. "Here's your chance. Big name actor right out in the open. What a great story for the grandkids."

She stared at his dick again and shook her head.

"Too many people around," she said.

I laughed.

"That's what stops you?" I asked. "Too many people around? What about your wedding vows to me?"

"You dared me, Kenny. Vows have nothing to do with it. You dared me. How can it be cheating if you are sitting here daring me? You're the one who skipped over our vows with your taunt."

We regarded each other. She was high, yes, drunk, yes, but watching that pretty Ashley girl suck dick three feet away had gotten to her. My wife was really horny.

"Dare you," I teased again, pushing her.

She laughed out loud.

"You're a bastard."

A group of four walked by, maneuvering around my knees, Bradley's legs, the low coffee table, and the other people lying around. Each of them looked down as they passed, noting the long fat cock out in the open.

"I've seen him in movies," Trina said. "Ashley made the right move. Will shouldn't have ruined her play. Tonight could have been her big break."

"You got the big part right," I joked.

My wife returned her gaze to the exposed penis. He was half his former size and I felt bad for the guy. Blue balls are terrible. An interrupted blowjob is like going to a party and learning you're a day late. Maybe I should go get Ashley and bring her back?

I shook my head. I was high and not thinking straight.

"If he turns into a huge movie star," Trina said. "We'll always remember the night we saw him like this."

Trina continued to stare and that titillated me. Blame it on the smoke and drink. Alcohol makes me horny too. I wondered what she was thinking, why she just kept gawking at it. I thought if I goaded her, embarrassment would force her to look away.

"I double dare you," I said. "Nobody knows us. Everyone is high. You could totally get away with it. Go on. Do it."

I was being an asshole, but I meant it playfully. We were drunk. I wanted to call her bluff, maybe shame her a little. I wasn't sure why I wanted that, but it sounded like fun, like we'd have a great story afterward. As I mentioned, I wasn't thinking clearly.

My wife jammed the whiskey bottle into my hand and slithered off my lap, pouring like sand onto the carpet between my knees. She curled around, crawling her torso up the couch until her face reached his lap. He was out.

"What are you doing?" I asked. "That's too close."

Trina lifted his soft spongy tube and flopped him side to side.

"What the fuck are you doing?" I said. "All right, Trin, you win."

"You dared me," she whispered.

"I was messing with you."

She giggled.

"Well," she said. "Now I'm messing with you."

I could barely breathe. She had her hand on him and my heart pounded in my chest. Her delicate fingers now circled his girth. Her wedding ring was touching his penis flesh. Trina glanced around to be sure no one watched, but of course several did, and then lowered her mouth, lipstick red lips parting. She wouldn't allow an audience to stop her. The tip of her tongue eased out to lick the tip of his dick. She giggled again, stared at me but said nothing. Her lips reached the soft head and swaddled his sensitive skin, enveloping the crown, sliding over and around to encase him in hot wet flesh and then sealing around the shaft. Bradley lifted his head, assuming Ashley had ditched her man and returned, delighted to see it was someone new, someone pretty.

"That's so thoughtful," he muttered before dropping his head back once more. "You're a very nice person."

"Trina!" I rasped.

My wife sucked softly, playfully puffing on his meat like a cigar. She tugged his dick, drawing more out of his pants, and worked her lips lower. He was gaining size, growing an erection again only this time inside her mouth.

The crazy thing was, and I cannot believe I am admitting this, she looked sexy. I didn't see him as a man, as a competitor for my wife's affection. He was drunk. He was not present. I saw him as merely a penis. That was the only thing he contributed to this moment. He was just a penis and my gorgeous wife Trina had that cock in her mouth. It's always sexy to watch her suck my dick. I found it far sexier to watch her suck someone else's.

She's not a prude but she's no pornstar. She didn't know how to deep throat him or anything like that. Hell, she'd gotten almost all her sexual experience from me and I'm nothing special. She struggled with his girth and his length, unable to take more than half a dozen inches. Maybe less. Her cheeks bulged and her eyes watered. She forced herself to do better, to take more, to gobble as much hot actor cock as possible. She was lost in the moment. He started pumping his hips like a drunk, erratic and irregular.

Trina gagged a few times when he went too deep, choking on her own spit as much as his hefty male meat.

I glanced around. A few people were paying close attention but most were too high or just didn't care, like they'd already seen more outrageous things today. A blowjob to them was no big deal.

She may have started out just trying to mess with my head but now she was into it, sucking this handsome man's cock with enthusiasm.

He caught us both by surprise when he grunted without warning and began spurting hot semen into Trina's mouth. Her eyes flew wide open and she gulped what he gave her, but I think as much to prevent a mess as to make the guy cum harder. She swallows me rarely so this asshole got quite the treat. I watched her cheeks dent as she drew his syrup from him, draining his balls and drinking his essence.

He never woke up, not truly. His head tossed a bit while he was ejaculating into her mouth but otherwise he was out of it. Trina sucked on him like a fat straw, vacuuming up that vanilla shake. He began to soften and she stretched him with suction, eventually allowing his soft penis to slip free and fall to his shirt. She licked her lips and turned to me. I saw in her eyes she was shocked by her own actions but determined to forge ahead with bravado.

"You dared me," she said.

I smelled cum on her breath. His cum. His sperm filled her belly.

She'd never looked sexier.

"Holy shit," I said. "Trina. Holy shit."

She crawled onto my lap again.

"Don't be mad," she murmured, the first tendrils of guilt brushing against her. She knew she'd gone too far but here we were. What's done is done. I impulsively tried to kiss her but she turned her face away.

"You'll get a mouthful of him," she warned. "I taste his cum. Give me a drink."

Thoughtful, and I probably should have listened to her advice, but I was way too worked up by what I just seen her do. I held her face and kissed her and, yes, I tasted him, and by that, I mean I tasted his semen on her tongue. I didn't care. It wasn't a gay thing. I wasn't hoping for or looking for the taste of cum. I was looking for the taste of cum in my wife's mouth. What I tasted was more about her wild indiscretion than his actual ejaculate.

His presence in there was evidence of her misbehavior. My blood surged through my veins.

"I can't believe you just did that," I said.

"I can't believe I just did that," she panted, then gulped from the bottle.

"I need to fuck you," I growled.

"I need you to fuck me," she agreed. "But we're too late. There's Gendry."

My agent shuffled through the crowd, head on a pivot, searching for us.

"Let's move," Trina said, yanking my hand. "He hasn't seen us yet."

She pulled me through a marble archway and down a painting-lined hall. We entered an enormous bedroom immaculately furnished and adorned with sculptures and more paintings. Several people sat around talking, taking all the available seats.

"In here," she said.

She opened the walk-in closet and shoved me inside, closing the doors behind us. I expected we'd be alone but at the far end a young girl on her knees blew an old man. There had to be a fifty or sixty-year difference in their ages. We ignored them and they ignored us. Trina sank to a knee and opened my zipper, stuffing my soft dick into her mouth. I worried I was too high to get hard but quickly discovered that fear was unfounded. Once she had me rock solid, she leaned back to admire her handiwork. The young girl and old man looked too. Trina then swooped on my erection again, tugging my balls and teasing the head.

"Just give it to me," she panted. "Shoot as fast as you can. Don't worry about me. We don't have time."

"You want to add mine to his?"

I don't know why I said it but Trina groaned. Did that decadent thought turn her on? I held her head with one hand and gulped Old Grand Dad with the other, feeling like an outlaw, a badass, a blowjob-getting desperado. Trina attacked my dick with hand and mouth, working me fast. Moments later my balls clenched and I blasted hot sperm down her throat. She gulped and licked, nasty as I've ever seen her. She carried two men in her belly now. Her sluttiness dazzled my eyes.

"You owe me a fuck," she said, tucking my penis into my pants.

We left the closet with a wave at our blowjob buddies and reentered the mix of people moving around the house. We returned to the divan where passed-out Bradley still slumbered, dick out for all to see.

Gendry spotted Trina and smiled, picking his way through the crowd towards us.

"Enjoying the party?" he asked.

I pointed the bottle at Bradley.

"Yes," I said. "We even made a friend."

Gendry looked at the actor splayed on the couch.

"Rough night," Trina said. "Let him sleep it off."

"No worries," Gendry said, tucking Bradley's penis away and zipping the man up. "We don't want a picture like that circulating on the Internet. I represent him too and planned on introducing you but that can wait. Lots of other people for you to meet."

Gendry led us away. Trina looked at me with a gleam in her eye. We'd never in our lives acted this crazy and it was fun. Regrets were for tomorrow. Once Bradley was sober Gendry would bring us together and I was sure he'd have no idea what my wife had done. Trina was thinking the same thing but obviously looking forward to that moment more than I.

Chapter 2

Regrets were for tomorrow. The weed wore off and the alcohol drained away and I grew increasingly angry. I tried rationalizing all that had happened, the unlikely tumbling of dominoes, but I couldn't get the image of that man's cock in my wife's mouth out of my head. She'd sucked him enthusiastically.

Trina knew she'd fucked up. Things that feel so right when you're high come crashing to Earth once you're sober. I didn't speak to her for two days and when I finally did, I shouted. She cried. I slept on the couch because I did not want to sleep next to my slutty unfaithful wife.

When I calmed down, I felt terrible. I was a party to what happened. I was right there. She didn't sneak behind my back and if I was so against it, why didn't I stop her at the time? Worse, why did I encourage her?

I found her in the den within a half-circle of used tissues, watching a sad romantic movie. I knelt beside the couch and apologized for losing my temper. She apologized like crazy for sucking Bradley's dick. I told her I forgave her completely and admitted my role in what happened. We hugged and kissed and agreed to put the whole mess behind us. A lot happens during a long marriage. We chalked it up to life, agreeing to never get that drunk again.

Chapter 3

"We must get home," Trina pleaded. "You're the only one that can help us."

The grizzled older man took a huge bite of his burger, smearing a streak of Dijon mustard in his whiskers, and studied my wife's face. The countertop had a decades old sheen of grease soaked right in. I'd struggled to find a place for my bare forearms but eventually gave up, leaning back and folding my hands in my lap. I resisted the urge to wipe my skin with a napkin again. I'd tried that already but it didn't help.

"It's out of my way," Dijon said. "You'd need to make it worth my while. I have deadlines too."

"We have money," Trina said.

"I have money," Dijon replied.

He fixed her with a stare.

Our car was out in the parking lot, dead. This remote mountaintop dinner was the only place open at this time of night and every truck driver within twenty miles had stopped here for a hot meal, riding out the storm which had also taken the phone lines. Cell reception was zero. The huge gravel parking lot was covered with closely parked rigs and after interviewing every driver there, we found only one was headed our way. We asked him for help.

"I have deadlines," he repeated.

We'd originally pitched him our need to return home to the jobs that needed us: deadlines for Trina at the hospital and me to my publisher. He hadn't budged.

"Please," Trina begged.

"What's in it for me?" the man insisted.

"What do you want?" I chimed in.

He looked Trina up and down, from her slippers and skintight black yoga pants to her bulky fuzzy sweater. Next he swung his attention to me. Her, he was imaging as a sex partner. Me, a physical opponent, concluding, rightly, he could take me in a fight if I got so offended by what he was about to say. He returned his attention to her.

"I drive a lot of long lonely miles," he said. "Some company would be nice."

"You just want us to ride with you?" Trina sputtered. "That's stupid. We've been saying that for the last hour. Of course we want to ride with you."

I placed a gentle hand on her arm. She turned to look at me, meeting my eyes. After a second, it all connected. She got angry but smothered it.

"Really?" she said, scathing. "You won't just help people in need?"

He shook his head.

"Nope," he said. "I tried that when I was younger. Did not work out. I got used and abused and taken advantage of. I'm still sore about it. Now I get what I can when I can. It's better this way."

Trina turned desperate eyes on me. I had advertising campaigns ready. I had book signings and corporate meetings arranged. Any delay would start a row of dominoes falling from which I'd need more than a year to recover. Trina too. She had patients relying on her. Test results to examine, more tests to run. Her presence back home was absolutely necessary.

"Fuck," she growled.

Dijon chuckled.

"Nah," he drawled, thinking himself clever. "No fucking. Just a nice long blowjob. I don't need no little Oscars running around."

We were trapped. We both forced our brains to produce a different solution but nothing came. We'd been trying that for hours. Fate had boxed us in. We'd crossed paths with a heartless degenerate and that was that. I met Trina's hollow gaze.

"I've done it before," she muttered, speaking too low for anyone but we three to hear, rationalizing a decision she hated to make.

The party in Los Angeles was almost a year ago. We'd talked about it extensively, after my apology, with Trina asking for forgiveness over and over for weeks. She still sometimes expresses regret. I let it go. Our sex life went through the roof after that. We'd fucked like animals these last months, fucking like we did our first months after marrying. Ultimately we decided it was something we'd done together so we let it lie. There was equal blame to share.

Oscar grinned. He fished in his pocket and found his keys, a small, pink plastic pig dangling from the ring.

"Either of you know how to handle eighteen wheels?" he asked.

"No," I said, answering for us both.

"Good," he said. "Grab your gear and load it in the big blue rig with Road Hog painted in red on the doors. Start the engine but touch nothing. Let the engine run while you wait for me there. I'm going to finish my nine-dollar steer burger and join you."

Trina snatched the keys and angrily got to her feet. There were a million things to say to this villain but she held her tongue. I slid off my bar stool and took her hand. We headed for our car to grab our belongings and then found his truck. Oscar had adorned his cab like an altar: little statues of animals, cutout pictures of naked women, an old photo of a girl, possibly daughter, and dozens of food wrappers and empty cups.

The engine roared with power. Trina and I took this waiting time to clean, tossing all the trash, wiping things down, and making room for ourselves. The passenger seat was a two-person bench so, once we finished, we got comfortable. Oscar took his time.

Eventually we heard the crunch of gravel and saw him wave to friends about to hit the road too. Several made the effort to look through the windshield at us and we knew Oscar had opened his mouth and bragged. Those men were getting a good look at the married couple in Oscar's rig, knowing what my woman would soon be doing. They waved and laughed as we pulled out of the lot and merged onto the freeway. Oscar checked his mirrors, gauges, and eased into the left lane.

An uneasy silence settled over the cab. Tension filled the air. If he was waiting for Trina to make a move, he'd wait a long time. After a few minutes, he reached the same conclusion. He hit cruise-control.

"As good a time as any," he chuckled. "I'm Oscar, by the way."

"You already told us your name," Trina sneered.

"Did I?"

"Yes, Oscar."

My wife packed as much bitterness into her words as possible.

"Kenny," I said. "Trina."

He did not try to shake hands.

"All right, Trina," he said. "It's going to be a long drive. Why don't you slid over here and get my dick in your mouth? I ain't emptied my balls in a long time. I'm guessing on this trip we'll have time for you to drain me a few times. Just unzip my pants and take me out. You know the rest."

Trina hesitated. She drew a deep breath and held it. She was doing this because she must, but she was outraged. She squared her shoulders and left my side, sliding along the plastic seat to join him. He reached around to grab her ass and pull her closer, bringing her thigh to rest right along his.

"Go ahead," he said.

I detected a hidden eagerness in his voice, an eagerness separate from the joy of an approaching blowjob.

"Take it out," he continued. "Let's see what you'll be working with today."

In that moment, I understood what was coming. I knew what Trina would find. I heard it in the sound of his voice. He had a confident anticipation few men possess when a woman is about to see their dick for the first time. He knew he had a surprise waiting for her and that meant one thing only.

My wife drew his zipper down and spread the gap, sliding a delicate trembling hand inside. My heart skipped a beat. She was acting calm and composed but that slight quiver told me a storm raged within. She searched briefly inside his pants and then stopped suddenly. Her face went blank. She maneuvered her fingers and then withdrew her hand, dragging out an elongated plump pipe. She laid him out for all to see. Oscar grinned like a scoundrel. He was soft and ox-bone thick.

"What do you think?" Oscar asked, clearly pleased with himself.

Trina did not give him the satisfaction of an answer, staring for long moments at his exposed cock. He did not rush her, reveling in the moment. I wondered how many times he'd done the same to other women. It must be fun to have a big cock.

"You like it?" he asked.

She drew a light fingertip down his length, root to head, following a faint blue vein. She paused and then, decision made, she circled him with both fists, standing him upright, playfully wobbling the extra inches waving free.

He chuckled.

"Answer me," he insisted. "You like it? I want to hear you say it. I know you do."

"I'm doing this because I have to," she said. "There's nothing to like."

He laughed.

"Yeah," he scoffed. "Right. That's why you're playing with it and staring like you're in love or something."

She ignored him. He gave her no more instruction, allowing her to do with his penis as she wished. Trina turned him this way and that, examining the skin, learning the shape and weight. He drove through the night while she introduced herself to his dick. I thought she'd get right to the task but no, she wanted to judge his cock first. Her touch felt good and he began to expand, growing in her hands, head flaring, veiny shank thickening. She began stroking with one hand while holding the shaft steady with the other. Oscar grunted softly.

Without being told, my wife leaned over and slipped his dick into her mouth.

"Yeah," Oscar sighed.

Trina crawled her lips down the shaft.

"That's real good," he murmured, spellbound, gazing out the windshield down the dark mountain road.

Trina closed her eyes. Her head began to bob. Her hand worked in time with her mouth as she sucked his cock. Trina was obviously enjoying this. There was no denying it. Her face showed a faint reverence, her touch a certain tenderness, like it was impossible for her to take a man's cock in her mouth and not adore it. I tried to ignore what I saw. I know she was furious with this asshole for coercing her, but some part of her also enjoyed her forced submissive role. She pressed his thick pubic hair away from the base and opened her mouth wider, working her lips lower, capturing as much cock as possible.

"Damn, girl," he warned. Then, to me: "She's got skill. First one's gonna be quick. I can feel how much she likes my big dick."

I don't know what Oscar was used to, but Trina is not that great at sucking dick. She did it because she knows I like it but there was nothing in it for her. Was she handling him differently? She said nothing but sucked and pumped faster, making up for what skills she lacked with fervor and zeal. I wondered if she was in a hurry to get this over with or if this somehow turned her on. Her head bobbed quickly and her hands slid up and down. Her tongue teased the crown and probed his pee hole.

"Ungh," he groaned.

His ass left his seat as he blew the first batch against the roof of her mouth. She choked but never stopped, never missed a beat. She made him cum hard. She milked and coaxed, forced those balls to spit every drop. He held her head down with one hand, forcing his dick deeper, but my wife welcomed it, swallowing as many inches as she could get. He produced a huge load. We swerved in our lane but he kept us on the road. Over and over he grunted followed by a flex of his hips and a jet of hot cum.

"Sweet Jesus," he mumbled, at last, spent.

Trina kept her head in his lap, his cock in her mouth. She suckled tenderly, holding him in there as he shrank. As he softened, she could take more and sucked down to the root, wiggling her lips into his dense pubic hair. We drove in silence, riding inside a huge, dimly lit cab.

At last Trina pushed herself away, rising to sit next to him. He started to put his dick away but Trina laid a hand on his.

"Leave it where I can see it," she asked.

"Okay," Oscar said, pulling his hand away.

His soft cock rested on his pants, drained, defeated for now.

Chapter 4

We rode through the cold mountain night. The mood in the cab had shifted. Although we were still eager to get home, Trina sat closer to him now than me, a hand resting on his thigh. He talked nonstop about his divorce, life on the road, his lovely teenaged daughter, and the places he'd seen. He'd driven loads all over the United States and admitted he'd given away plenty of rides.

"You'd be shocked how many women are willing to suck dick for a ride somewhere," he'd said.

"Most women like sucking dick," Trina had replied. "It's usually the man the thing is attached to we can't stand."

He'd left his cock resting on his jeans like she'd requested and after an hour of driving and conversation, my wife had lowered her head again, nudging his shank into her mouth. He took longer to get hard this time but once he did he was throbbing. Trina awkwardly reached back to free my dick too, so thoughtful, and stroked me as she sucked him. I surprised myself by growing a steely hard on. Another big rig pulled alongside as they passed and Oscar clicked on the dome light to show the driver what happened in our cab. He got two horn toots for that. The other driver laughed and gave a thumbs-up before accelerating and vanishing down the road. Oscar clicked off the dome light. We rode to the soft sounds of her slurping and sucking, her efforts illuminated by the dashboard panel. Oscar talked to me about my work, our marriage, our plans and if we'd have kids. A totally normal conversation between strangers except his cock was in my wife's mouth the whole time.

"Rest stop just ahead," Oscar announced, reading the big blue sign on the side of the road.

"Pull over when we get there," Trina said.

She continued to suck and stroke as Oscar left the freeway. She eased a foot out of her slipper. The big truck slowed and Trina released my dick to yank at her yoga pants, tugging and shoving until she freed a leg. I'm so stupid. I assumed she needed the rest stop to use the toilet. I assumed she had to go badly if she was already removing her pants. Oscar pulled into the parking lot and Trina scrambled to her knees, flung her bare leg over his lap, and, holding his hard cock upright, aligned her slit with the wide head. Her twisted expression showed her desperate need. I had time for one shocked gasp before she found her hole with the tip of his penis and sank her cunt down around his shaft.

My heart exploded!

He was coasting to a stop as she hooked her hands behind his neck and forced her pussy down to his length. She hugged him, smashing her baggy sweater. She gasped wretchedly, sobbing without tears, reckless frustration finally boiling over and proving too much. She needed his big cock in her. My wife worked her hips up and down as he attempted to park the rig. She fucked herself on him, gasping for air, almost weeping from want. Her sopping cunt made slurping sounds up and down his pole, the sweet smell of her wetness filling the cab. He slammed the vehicle into neutral and hit the brakes, sending a shuddering wave through the frame, and then grabbed her at the waist with both hands, guiding her up and down. He was grunting, she was gasping, both moaning from the intense pleasure. Trina looked gorgeous; lusty, lost in wild pleasure. I'd never even imagined her this way. I was paralyzed, amazed.

She sprayed a little spit and clamped her jaw shut, wailing as a powerful orgasm ripped her wide open. Caught up in her passion and ferocity, he roared too, ejaculating, stabbing far up into her and then holding himself deep, spurting her womb full of boiling sperm. She ground her hips on his lap and squeezed her cunt around his girth, milking all she could get, trapping him in there, keeping her pussy filled.

I was stunned speechless. What was inconceivable moments ago was now ancient history. She'd turned our world upside down in less than a minute. There was no way to reverse what she'd done. There was no way to turn back the clock. There was no way to undo what she'd done.

There was no way to get all that semen out of her.

As she slowly returned to Earth from her sky-high climax, reality reasserted itself. I waited for the crush of guilt to bury her but none came. She smiled weakly at him and then slid her hips aside, drawing his spongy cock from her guts. She thoughtlessly stuck her ass at me in order to lower her head to his lap again, or maybe her act was intentional. Maybe she wanted me to see up close what she'd done. Her pussy was inches away, gaping, smeared with hot sperm, swollen with arousal, leaking his seed. She cleaned his cock, licking and sucking away the fluids of their mating. I stared at her cheating cunt, unable to look away.

Finally, she flopped her bare ass into the seat and ran her fingers through her hair. She wiped sweat from her forehead and upper lip. Oscar stared blankly out the front glass. Nobody moved. Nobody spoke.

Time passed.

"We can go," Trina said, at last.

Oscar moved to tuck his penis into his pants before putting the truck in drive.

"Leave it out," Trina said, stopping him once again.

"All right," he answered, pleased.

Oscar rested his shiny cock on his jeans again and put the semi in gear. He hit his turn signal and left the rest stop, merging onto the empty freeway. Trina finally risked a glance at me and, noting my dumbfounded expression, gave a little goofy shrug. I waited for her to say something, to apologize, to explain, maybe to even ask forgiveness. She did none of those things. What I got was a coy little grin.

Oscar got us back up to speed. I looked down at Trina's legs: One exposed, the other still sheathed in black stretch yoga pants. Her underwear was tangled in the one inside out pantleg. That meant her pussy was bare, bare, and resting on Oscar's bench seat. I lifted the front of her baggy sweater, greeted by the sight of her swollen, pink, and puffy pussy lips.

"I can't believe you just did that," I muttered.

"I can't either," she boldly agreed.

Oscar glanced sideways at us, anticipating a fight. I had more to say but not in front of him. Trina removed her remaining slipper and then worked her yoga pants off, dropping them and her panties to the passenger floorboards. Her oversized sweater hid everything, piled up around her hips, but we all understood she was naked from the waist down. She slipped her dainty feet inside her slippers again.

Cute.

Cute, until it struck me she was sitting there with a womb full of Oscar's semen.

After a time, Oscar began talking again. Trina joined in and they discussed politics, the weather, family, and anything else that occurred to them. Her rage against the man had clearly evaporated.

An hour later, right on cue, she began fidgeting, stopping only once she lowered her head to his lap again. Oscar could not believe his luck. Wet slurping greeted my ears. Her head moved up and down slowly, savoring this dark highway moment she shared with him. In the distance, I saw a glaring red light. Oscar knew what it was before we were close enough to see.

"Bobcat Motel up ahead," he said, his voice heavy with suggestion.

Trina stopped worshipping his cock long enough to look out the windshield. She twisted around to look at me.

"We have time?" she asked.

Heat exploded inside me. Stop at a motel? I knew exactly what she truly asked. I could crumble into tears or stiffen with ego. I chose ego.

"Sure," I said, casually. "Why not? We're making good time."

She missed my cynicism. She returned to his lap, continued to suck. He pulled off the freeway and my stomach lurched. This was far more deliberate than spontaneous fucking. This was not getting lost in the moment, caught up in the emotions. This was premeditation.

There was a large gravel lot beside the motel with lots of rigs already parked. Oscar cruised in among them, gliding into an opening near the end and setting the brakes before killing the engine.

"Wait here," he said, putting his penis away at last. "They know me."

He climbed out of the truck and closed the door.

"How crazy is all this?" Trina asked, before I could speak.

"Insane, actually. What are you doing, Trina?"

"I know, I know. I went too far. I got carried away. He reached places, Kenny, do you know what I mean? Untouched places, virginal places. I felt cock sliding against flesh that had never been touched before. It did something to me. I lost control. I'm sorry. Truly. But try to understand. Try to think like a woman for a minute, if you can. We take men inside our bodies. Do you grasp how intimate that act is? He went so deep I felt like he was about to touch my heart."

SHUT. UP. My mind barked the words at me. Her details of Oscar inside her were arrows through my heart.

"But spilled milk, right?" she continued. "We are trapped in this situation so why not make it work for us?"

"Us?"

She turned bashful, which was bullshit.

"Me," she admitted. "Why not make it work for me. All you've gotten so far is a lame handjob, but I'll make that up to you. Let's just get through tonight, okay?"

Her tone told me this conversation was postponed. I could have insisted, launching an ugly fight just in time for Oscar to return, but a thought occurred to me, a realization of an uncomfortable truth: I wasn't sullen or defeated. my penis was poised, coiled like a snake, waiting to strike. My dick pulsed, ready to get hard. Sexual tension saturated my muscles, down to my bones. She'd released me long ago but I still hung in the open, wildly sensitive. The air felt good. My pants felt good. I was primed and ready to get hard as stone.

Oscar left the rental office and stepped onto the gravel. He saw a few guys he knew and veered off to chat with them, pointing at his rig. Their eyes lit up. One smiled. I turned my back on them, tired of this game. Soon I heard the crunching of boots. The driver's door opened and Oscar climbed up.

"Grab whatever you need," Oscar said. "That's our room right there: two-bee."

He pointed at a long, low building. Six red doors faced us, each adorned with a gold number and letter. Ours was the second door.

"I need nothing," Trina said, sliding across the driver's seat to climb out the driver's side, slithering her body against our captor as she descended. Slippers dangled from her feet. Her sweater caught on his buckle and lifted. Her legs, ass, pussy, and flat tummy were all exposed for the world to see, and the guys by the check-in office saw plenty. Her feet hit the ground and the sweater dropped into place, reaching halfway down her shapely thighs and covering everything. Oscar took her hand and headed for our room. I hurried, tucking my dick into my pants and grabbing our things. I hurried to catch them.

They reached the door ahead of me and Oscar swiped the card. They stepped inside and Trina whipped her sweater over her head, exposing her firm, petite breasts and toned body. Oscar wasted no time, bending to suck a nipple, one, then the other. Trina attacked his belt, opening his pants and pushing them down. She jerked him while he moved from tit to tit.

Impatient and horny, my nude wife dropped his cock and jumped on the bed. She lifted her legs high, opened them wide, and garishly aimed her pussy right at him. Oscar shed clothing fast, faster than I thought a heavy-set guy like him could. He threw his clothes aside and jerked his erection as he approached my wife. She reached for his cock as he climbed onto the bed. He placed his hard dick in her waiting hand. My wife guided him into her steaming cunt, labia forced wide to accept his girth.

All of that with the door wide open.

I stepped into the room and shut the door. My heart boomed like a drum. My hands shook so much I could barely flip the deadbolt. I worried about a million things simultaneously but one truth pushed them all out of the spotlight: My dick was so hard it practically screamed at me.

Trina's behavior was wildly, insanely, outrageously sexual, utterly out of character. I've never seen her act this way. She's never expressed any desire to act this way. Had this side of her been there all along? Was the event in Los Angeles, almost a year ago, a window, a glimpse into the real Trina? If that were true, she would be as surprised as me.

Oscar's big belly smothered her. For an instant, her fit and small body was lost beneath his large and obese body. He rose to his knees and pulled out, his big cock glistening from her soaked cunt. He pushed her legs far over her body, smashing her tits and opening her pussy and asshole at the same time. He parted her legs and her holes opened wider. He pushed her ankles as far apart as he could and her cunt and asshole were yawning gashes, a lewd spectacle. I could see into her. It was such a jarring act of ownership. He was completely in control. She'd already done intimate things with him that she'd never done with me, like fucking while driving and giving a long and adoring blowjob on the road. Now he had her spread wide, wider than I'd ever spread her, taking more than she offered because he knew he could.

I had to set my dick free. I was iron hard seeing her like this. He aimed his cock at her open pussy and paused, all eyes on his impending threat. Trina whimpered with need. He moved his hips forward and sheathed the beast, using his weight to force the last few inches. She seemed to narrow on the inside the deeper he went but I've never been that deep so I couldn't say for sure. Trina groaned loud and with meaning. Her stretched pussy looked fantastic, erotic and obscene. My wife was stuffed with huge stranger cock and every sound she made showed she loved it. My mind could barely comprehend what I saw.

He began short in and out strokes, grunting with each thrust. Trina crossed her ankles behind his neck. Her hands gripped the bedspread, further anchoring herself in place. She showed no desire to kiss the man but she was keenly interested in what his cock was doing to her. Her eyes opened wider and wider, her mouth slowly formed into an O. Something unexpected was happening.

"Deeper," she groaned. "God, deeper."

He was moving her towards another orgasm and I could hardly believe it. He'd begun to sweat from his exertions, working harder, realizing she was about to cum.

Her chin lifted. Her neck arched.

"OOHHH Gawd!" she cried, sucking air to cry out again. "Oh my fucking God!"

Her body was trapped under his bulk, immobile and fixed. She tried writhing but couldn't. She tried arching her back but couldn't. She was trapped and had to take it and that made her orgasm ten times more powerful. His cock pistoned and she came all over it, imprisoned beneath his bulk. Her words became unintelligible wailings. He pounded my wife through all the howls and cries and only slowed once her moans dropped to whimpers. He pushed all the way in and held it there.

"God, that's intense," she whimpered.

"I knew you liked my cock," he said.

He started moving again, in and out slowly, like he was in no hurry and had no place to be. Trina savored the sensations of that big cock inside her, closing her eyes and turning inward.

"I didn't know," she whispered to no one.

I watched his sopping inches pump in and out.

"Your turn," she said at last. "But get on your back. You're too fat to stay on top of me. I need to move around."

Oscar chuckled but pulled out and rolled over. His thick cock was a gleaming meat stake. On his back he pushed his cock straight up with a thumb and Trina threw a leg over, grabbing the head and guiding him in again. She settled her hips down around the man and began to rock, riding his hard dick, stirring her guts. He lifted his hips but she slapped his shoulder.

"You lay there and let me do all the work," she said.

He laced his fingers behind his head, staring up at my nude wife. She placed one hand on his chest and reached the other to play with his fat and hairy balls. Her hips began an up and down, his thick greased cock vanishing inside over and over. She began to pause for a heartbeat on each down-stroke, clenching her pussy around his girth, squeezing his dick like she always did mine. He gasped softly the first time but she soon had him moaning.

"That's a goddamn nice touch," he said. "You fuck your husband like that?"

"Yeah," she breathlessly admitted. "Sometimes."

She added a little twist to her downward grind, squeezing and milking, trying to draw his sperm out. He tried resisting, wanting this moment to last forever, but she was winning. Her hips moved faster.

He moved his hands to her thighs, trying to slow her.

"Cum in me," she muttered.

Her hips moved faster still, gliding her pussy up and down his erection. My balls ached with need.

"Damn it, girl," he growled. "You just – I can't–"

His heels dug in and his ass clenched. Trina laughed with delight. My wife rode his dick, fucking him hard, forcing his semen to spurt. She slammed her hips against his pelvis and held on as he began bucking and writhing. A strange gurgle bubbled out of his throat. He was inseminating her, blasting gobs of jizz far inside. She rode him until he lay still and then wiggled her ass playfully. He looked wiped out.

She turned her attention to me.

"That looks painful," she said, jerking her chin at my erection.

"It is," I admitted.

"Bring it here."

I stepped closer tentatively, unsure of entering the same space she shared with him. Things happened in that space, wild, unpredictable things. Was she even Trina right now? I honestly had no idea what she'd do with me.

She rested her hands on my hips and pulled me close. As my penis approached her lips she opened them, slipping me into her hot mouth. Her tongue twirled around the ridge and I thought about Oscar's cock buried in her at that moment, swimming in all that sperm, acting like a stopper in a bottle, keeping her filled.

"Clamp your pussy around his dick," I said.

"Okay."

A tiny line appeared between her eyebrows and I knew she was doing it. I pictured the extra semen her clamped pussy forced out of his shaft and into her uterus and I moaned.

"Crazy, right?" she giggled.

Oscar opened his tired eyes to watch us. She stuck me in her mouth again and began sucking. Her tongue was all over the place. She'd never sucked my dick like that before, like she was fueled by lust. It was as unskilled as always but now with far greater enthusiasm. Her desire for the sperm in my testicles was real. Previous blowjobs had been more for what they did for me. What she did now was all for her. I couldn't hold back. I grabbed her head to hold it in place and exploded a flood of jizz into her mouth. She gulped and swallowed with no intention of pulling away. I shot over and over. She finished and pulled me out, wiping my last seeping drop onto her tongue. She lay on Oscar's big belly, draped over the man like a sleeping kitten. I staggered back to drop into a low chair. I'd orgasmed so hard I could barely keep my eyes open. Trina began to breathe deeply. Oscar was already out.

We dozed.

I awoke to the sound of something wet. Oscar had his hairy arms around her, holding her on top and fucking up into her sopping pussy. Trina had her face buried in his neck to muffle the sounds she made. I blinked my eyes clear just in time to see her body stiffen, her fingers and toes curl. She was cumming again.

Once she finished he rolled her off and left the bed for the bathroom. She landed on her stomach and melted into the comforter.

I heard the shower. I left my chair to move to her feet, gazing up her toned legs to her oozing slit. I lifted an ankle, spreading her wider, and she seemed to come out of a daze. She quickly caught on and opened her legs so I could see. Her cunt was pinkish and swollen and leaking cum from another man and my mind could barely grasp what I saw. She lifted her butt and slipped a hand down her belly to her pussy. She pushed a finger in, coating the digit in semen, and then pulled out to rub her tiny clit, smearing Oscar juice all around. I stared transfixed. She masturbated for me, using Oscar as lube. Her hips bounced slightly and she may have had a small aftershock orgasm.

She rolled onto her back and reached for me. I knelt beside the bed and we kissed hot and fevered.

"What we're doing is insane," she admitted.

What was there to say? We gazed into each other's eyes for a long moment, searching for something, but neither voiced any protest. She smiled.

"I'm going to shower too," she said.

I watched her until she entered the bathroom with Oscar and the closed door.

Chapter 5

The rig rumbled through the night. My orgasm may have filled her belly but I was hornier than ever. Trina had draped Oscar's dick outside his pants again as soon as we hit cruising speed. She rode stretched across the bench seat, her head in his lap and her feet in mine. I watched the slow up and down of the back of her head and although I couldn't see her face, I understood exactly what she did. She was insatiable but so was he. He'd admitted he'd gone without sex for a long time before he met us, which certainly explained his ability to sprout so many erections. It also meant the loads he gave Trina were massive.

She'd lost the sweater and yoga pants, stuffing them into her large gym bag, and now wore only a loose crop-top which barely covered her tits. She was naked from her ribs to her toes. Oscar ran the heater in the cab, hoping Trina would lose the top too.

"You should be completely naked," I suggested.

"I agree," Oscar said.

My wife stopped sucking long enough to look back at me, searching my face to see if I joked, and then slipped her arms free and tossed the garment to me. I dropped it on her gym bag. Now fully nude, Trina stretched like a cat before lifting Oscar's dick and sliding it into her mouth once more. I ran my hands over her smooth bare skin, up her legs and over her firm bubble ass. She had become our willing plaything. She lifted her butt slightly and I sent a finger through her gap, seeking her tight slit. She was soaked and slippery, constantly wet, saturated with a mix of her own excitement and Oscar's huge loads.

Oscar began telling us about his relationship with his daughter and ex-wife. We rode through the night, dashed lines flashing briefly in the headlights before vanishing under the rig, and listened to the man narrate his pain. He gently stroked her hair with a big hand, driving with the other.

A strange intimacy filled the cab. We'd hated this man only hours ago. He'd forced us to make an awful choice. Now a peculiar bond existed. We had seen his human side and that softened us but something else was going on, something deeper. Beside her obvious playful lust for his beastly cock, Trina had an emotional connection to the man I could not fully understand. Oscar was fat, balding, unkempt, slovenly, and poorly educated, and Trina did not care. No, I had that backward. She did care. All those shortcomings made her desire the man more.

"Good boy," I heard her mutter.

I looked at his lap. She'd gotten him hard yet again and now leaned back to admire what she'd done. His thickly veined cock rose from his lap like a pillar. My wife gazed at it, delighted, like it was the big diamond in her wedding ring.

She rose to all fours and crept forward, dipping under his arms to come up against his portly belly. She shoved a leg against the driver's door and pressed her torso to his. He moved his head around hers often, keeping his eyes on the road.

"What are you doing?" he asked.

"Putting this where it belongs," she said.

She reached a hand to nudge his cock backward an inch and then sank her pussy down around it. She rested her chin on his shoulder, eyes closed, arms circling his thick neck. Her knees were outside his hips and his cock was balls-deep inside her. She sighed contentedly.

"Don't cum," she said. "Just feel me wrapped around you."

"Okay," he rumbled. "I like that."

He drove. Trina bit her bottom lip and rocked her hips almost imperceptibly. They both savored their union, neither working towards orgasm. They were mated and it felt fantastic. They wanted that to last. I was on the outside of their bubble looking in.

Miles sailed by. The freeway split and Oscar guided us onto a highway, darker and lonelier. We climbed in elevation and soon the open meadows were left behind and towering trees grew right up to the road. The night was pitch black except for the stars wheeling overhead.

I heard Trina exhale deeply. My eyes jumped up to Oscar.

"She's fallen asleep?" I whispered.

He nodded, smiling.

"I wore her out," he said.

My stomach did cartwheels. Their intimacy was so much harder to take than their sex. This showed how much Trina trusted him, how safe she felt. He must have felt like a king. I watched her ride his lap for a full minute, her pussy stuffed with his hard dick. She woke after a short time but realized what she'd done.

"Oh my God," she breathed. "You were inside me while I was asleep."

"Yeah," he said, proudly.

"Find a place to pull over," she said, growing more aroused by the second. "I need you to fuck me right now."

She worked herself free of his encircling arms and knelt on the bench, her ass aimed teasingly at me. She lowered her mouth to his dick, sucking hard and bobbing fast. A sign approached informing us of another rest stop and Oscar signaled to leave the highway. He pulled into the lot, parking the rig across several rows.

"Back here," Trina said, fumbling with the sliding doors that separated the sleeper cab. She opened them and crawled onto the single mattress. Oscar set the brake and began shedding clothes, moving quickly to join her. He'd left the engine running. She lifted one leg to allow him to move between them, his throbbing cock aimed like a spear at her slick opening. She didn't reach to guide him in this time. That would take too long. She planted her feet on the roof of his truck and pulled his mouth down to hers. His thick weapon pierced her cunt smoothly, gliding almost all the way in. They kissed, for the first time, and with incredible passion. Oscar began fucking Trina hard, driving his cock all the way in. My wife made wildly erotic noises, wailing and moaning and gasping. His body was a sledgehammer, powering his rigid cock deep.

"Fuck me!" Trina cried. "Shoot it in me. Do it!"

Oscar fucked her fast and deep. Trina tossed her head side to side, eyes wide in disbelief for the sensations this fat man was giving her. He mauled her pert tits, sucking the nipples until they stood up, stiff and hard. He bit her neck. He bit her tits. He suckled her earlobe. That fat man fucked her every way he could in that cramped space. She looked my way and her eyes locked to mine. Oscar began grunting.

"Kenny!" she shouted. She reached a hand and I held it. "Fuck! Kenny! He's going to—Aaaarrgh!"

Her orgasm was massive. Her body shook, the muscles in her legs clenched. She pushed her feet hard on the roof of the sleeper cab and orgasmed like an earthquake, my name on her lips but his cock in her pussy.

Now it was Oscar's turn to roar. He curled his hips under and pushed his dick all the way in and held it, spurting and spewing blazing sperm. Their bodies rocked together but Trina held her eyes to mine. Her expression turned to dismay, caught by surprise as another orgasm, right on the heels of the first, washed over her, fueled by the gushing fountain of semen buried in her.

"Kenny," she said again, squeezing my hand. "Baby."

She hoped I understood. I saw it in her eyes. Oscar laid on her until his dick deflated enough to pull it out and then he dressed. Trina remained in his bed. I noticed he checked the time on the dashboard clock before he settled into the driver's seat, released the brake and got us moving again. Trina reached for me with both hands. I moved into the sleeper cab and Oscar merged onto the highway.

"Take your clothes off," she pleaded.

She parted her knees, resting one leg against the cab's back wall. I took a long look at her used cunt. Oscar had beat her petite little slit raw. Watery milk leaked between her labia to trail down a well-rounded ass cheek and soak the mattress. I began to undress. Oscar cast a glance over his shoulder and grinned but said nothing. Trina reached for my soft dick and held me on her palm. She started jerking me. I put a question in my eyes and left it there: why, Trina?

She read my expression and understood. We'd traveled so far, so fast.

"When I was in my early teens," she began, pulling softly on my limp penis. "There was a fat and grizzled old man who lived on my street. He never shut his drapes. I'd pass his house every day on my walks home and glance inside. I couldn't stop myself. He was always standing behind one of his windows, watching, looking creepy. One evening I'd stayed at a friend's house later than usual and as I approached his house I noticed the lights on. I slowed. It was dark outside and I doubted he could see me, but I could see inside perfectly. His house was away from others so I had no concern about being seen by neighbors. He had a clump of trees and some overgrown shrubs in his yard and I left the sidewalk to blend in, hiding briefly so I could stare. His place inside was cluttered. I sent my gaze around his place, curious what kind of person he was. I found out later his wife had died and he'd become a recluse."

She glanced at my soft dick before continuing, tugging gently.

"I saw him step out of a back bedroom. He was naked, drinking a bottle of water. I was young and almost panicked. For an instant I was terrified he could see me, but he just stood there, pondering what to do next. As my heartbeat returned to normal, I began to study him."

She glanced at Oscar, driving us through the night.

"He was fat and balding, hairy everywhere except his head, but what drew my eye and held it was his penis. I was young and frightened but even so, the thing was enormous. Like his forearm from wrist to elbow. I couldn't look away. It was the first real penis I'd ever seen and I was mesmerized. This was no Internet dick. This was a real dick, twenty feet away behind a thin sheet of glass. That heavy cock dangled and my mouth went dry."

"Oscar looks like that man," I said.

"Like they are brothers. Twins, even."

"So Oscar stirs up all those old powerful feelings."

"Those feelings, and more. Oscar looks at me with lust, sure, but also a kind of gratitude. He can't believe his good fortune and I like that he makes me feel pretty but what I like most is how I feel like I'm making not just his night but his whole life. I love giving that feeling to him. I like pleasing him."

"I can see how that would be a rush,"

"God, is it ever. Anyway, the next time I walked home I went by that man's house and slowed so he could see me. I stared at him and he at me. I wanted him to see in my eyes that I knew, that I'd seen him naked and I knew. I stopped and pretended to tie my shoe and he caught on right away, stepping out of view for a moment and then stepping back, naked again. He was nervous, worried I'd scream and run away and bring the police, but I did none of that. I just stared at his big hanging penis. I had no experience, no idea what sex was or what a dick felt like, but I knew I loved the shape of it, the way it looked, how masculine and male it was. He just stood there and let me stare."

Trina was growing more animated and excited with each passing minute. She was back there, standing outside that man's house, gazing through his window.

"After that," she continued. "He'd wait inside his house, watching for me to get out of school or come home from a friend's house. He'd show off for me. I found the best spot, under a tree and behind some bushes, and I'd stand there a long time. Soon he began touching himself. Frightened and tentative at first but gaining confidence when I didn't flip out. Before too long he was growing erections. Not long after that he ejaculated for the first time. I went weak in the knees and had to sit on the fallen leaves. It was the most amazing thing I'd ever witnessed. We played our parts in our secret drama through all my years of high schools. I never told anybody."

Trina met my eyes. I'd grown hard in her hand.

"Never told anybody until right now," she said.

"Your first lover never even touched you."

"That's a lovely way to put it," she said. "He was my first lover. I look at Oscar now and I am reminded of that man and I get so turned on I tremble all over. I am once more looking at that man only this time I can do something about it. I'm allowed to touch. I'm no longer required to remain outside in the cold and dark."

We both dropped our gaze to my erection in her hand.

"Put it in," I told her. "Guide me in like you guide Oscar in."

She rubbed my head around the opening and then pulled me forward. Her cunt was filled with hot soup. How much of him was swimming in there? I easily sank through the slippery morass until my pubic bone met hers. I'd fucked my wife many times over the years but nothing compared to fucking her after he had. Oscar's cum swirled around my dick and I felt my nuts begin to tighten. I pumped in and out, gazing into Trina's big eyes. We kissed, hot and heavy.

"I want your cum in there with his," she murmured, holding my head and breathing hotly into my ear.

Thank God for all the extra lubricant. I would have shot too fast without it. Trina had never been so hot and sexual. As it was, I didn't last long. Trina was some erotic creature lying beneath me, weaving her spells around my brain. She placed her feet on the roof of the cab and pressed lightly.

"You have something special in that little lady there," Oscar added, from the driver's seat. "She uses her pussy to grab me and squeeze. She's one in a million."

"Shoot it," she told me. "Give it to me."

She clamped her pussy around my penis just like she'd done to him. I couldn't hold back. I groaned, feeling used and manipulated by these two but not minding too much, and then a blast of cum launched from my dick and I worried about such things no more.

Chapter 6

"I love coming to these events," Trina said. "The men are all so hot."

I scanned the room: yes, dashing men everywhere, as well as gorgeous ladies. Professionally attractive people are attractive.

"Most of those men are gay," I said.

"So? I just want to use them for sex. I bet gay guys would get it up for me."

"The dead would get it up for you."

She pondered that.

"Flattering and disgusting at the same time," she said. "Thank you, Love. But I think saying most is an exaggeration. I could find out, see if you're right."

I smiled. Across the room Gendry continued his animated conversation with a producer. He was pitching book two and enjoying some success. We'd flown into Los Angeles this morning, spent the day lying by the pool, then dressed in our best and headed to the event. There were movie stars everywhere: big names, medium names, and some faces that looked familiar but we couldn't quite remember their names, like we'd seen them in a movie somewhere but then not seen them again for a while. Unlike our first event, the air here was clean and clear. These people were all about the money, the business-end of movie-making.

The adult industry had a presence here today too. In the far corner of the room was a contingent of loud men and scandalously attired women, drinking, having fun, and watching to see who looked at them. Deals were being made and the X-rated people had money to burn. I steered Trina away from them. Since our night in Oscar's rig, my wife had been absolutely insatiable.

Oscar had dropped us, as promised, at the first outpost of civilization. We'd arranged for transportation home and the repair for our car but Trina cared about none of that. She sucked my dick in the rental car as I drove us home and jumped me as soon as we stepped through the front door. Oscar had awakened something in her that was buried and primal. I was benefitting but barely keeping up. We'd purchased and regularly used multiple sex toys. The last thing I wanted was to introduce her to some big-dick stud that could fuck all night.

Our life had mostly gotten back on track. Trina flirted more while we were out and now shared stories about the hot guys at the hospital when she got home.

The porn industry and Trina would make a volatile mix.

I led her away to an open bar at the far end of the big hall.

Our midnight journey with Oscar had done things to me, too. I still saw Trina as my beloved wife and partner, but she was more than that now. I'd seen her voracious sexual appetite. That would daunt most men, and admittedly I feared for our marriage after we got home, but none of those fears materialized. Yes, my wife had fucked another man, but the ramifications were not what I expected, not what everyone tells you to expect, and certainly not what they show you in Hollywood movies.

Our marriage did not come crashing down around our ears.

With drinks in hand we moved onto a massive glass balcony overlooking the city. We talked about the success of my first book and our hopes for my second. Trina told me about a possible promotion and positional shift which had her excited. We were a happily married couple enjoying each other's victories.

Gendry emerged from the crowd, walking quickly and waving.

"The money guys want to meet you," he told me. "They await you in the Chandelier Lounge. You can't miss it."

I took two steps and turned around. He was already on his way to Trina.

"Gendry," I called.

He faced me.

"Don't let her out of your sight," I said. "I know her. Keep her away from those porn people. Keep her close."

"Will do," he said with a smile. "Get going."

I left. I had no idea where the Chandelier Lounge was so I asked someone in a hotel staff uniform. They gave me directions and I soon entered a large room of all glass. The décor was all glass and white leather furniture. Several chandeliers sported fake electric candles. A massive chandelier hanging over the middle held the real things which they must raise and lower it each night to light and extinguish each candle. I spotted the money guys in a group underneath: serious men wearing suits to a party.

Their faces lit up when they saw me. I shook hands all around and a waitress stopped to take my drink order. I settled into a plush chair. We chatted a bit about story ideas and possible changes to the script I could work. We were deep into a discussion when Santi, a musician who would produce the score, interjected.

"Now I recognize you," he said. "A party like this one. Meet and greet. About a year ago. Your women blew that actor in front of everybody. That was hot. You guys did not give a fuck. So bold. Respect."

I stopped speaking, stunned.

"Oh, yeah," Russell said, facing me. "That was you? I heard about your wife. Is she here tonight? I'd love to meet her." He chuckled, believing himself clever. "It's two in the morning, do you know where your wife is?"

They all laughed briefly before turning expectant eyes on me.

"She's with Gendry," I said.

"Totally safe," Curt announced, to everyone's laughter.

We returned to our discussion but I felt Santi's eyes on me. The other's cast occasional glances. I suspected that in this circle I would forever be known as the man with that wife who blew an actor in public. We continued our discussion but I knew they heard every word out of my mouth through a filter of mirth. I had an unfaithful wife and they found that amusing.

We concluded our conversation and I stood. More handshakes all around and I wished them a goodnight. I turned to leave and Santi said he'd walk with me to Gendry and Trina and before I could tell him there was no need he dropped into step with me.

He talked about music theory and how watching the films he scores really helps. Then, in an awkward change-of-subject, he blurted: "If your woman ever desires another man again, I want you to know I'm available."

I met his eyes. I think he replayed his words in his mind and his eyes got big.

"What I mean is, I think she's truly lovely, a rare beauty. I thought so from the moment she entered that house. Watching her with Bradley only inflamed my longing. This is coming out all wrong. All I'm trying to say is I want her. No, that's terrible too. I'm going to shut up now."

I laughed. He was so flustered I couldn't get angry. He was different from the money guys: real and imperfect. He had a vulnerability to him.

"I'll see you around," he said. "I need a drink."

"Wait. Come with me. I'll keep your secret but you can meet Trina and say hello. No harm in that, right?"

He looked simultaneously relieved and anxious.

Gendry and Trina waited on the balcony where'd I'd left them. Two men had joined, both tall, dark-haired, and handsome, and Trina looked delighted. I introduced Santi and turned to Gendry, updating him on my conversation with the money guys. He made a few comments, plotting a plan of action. I cast furtive glances at my wife and her suitors. Santi kept his distance but the other two, clearly on the prowl, had moved closer, occasionally touching her. She soaked up the attention. As fate would have it, a cool breeze chose that moment to tickle her spine and stiffen her nipples. Now two perfect points lifted the fabric of her backless dress and everyone noticed. The Tall Darks grinned wolfishly. Santi removed his sports coat and offered it to her. She politely accepted. Gendry and I joined their conversation and for an hour we talked about the movie industry.

"I have another group for you to meet," Gendry said, at last.

We said goodnight to the disappointed men, returning Santi's jacket, and slipped away. After we'd moved some distance away, Gendry spoke again.

"I don't really," Gendry admitted. "I was just done with those two oafs."

"Santi was nice," Trina said.

We circled the room, avoiding the porn contingent. Gendry recognized a director he'd worked with before so we aimed that way.

"Isn't that Ashley?" Trina asked.

I looked where she indicated. Indeed, seated amongst the porn stars and producer was pretty Ashley, dressed as scantily as any of the women in their group. Behind her stood a glaring Will. Several of the sexy porn starlets had gathered around her, complimenting her dress and hair and makeup. She lapped it up like a kitten with a bowl of warm milk. They touched her shoulders and arms and thighs; any exposed skin, and she loved it.

"You're so cute," said one.

"You'd make so much money," said another. "Tell your boyfriend not to be jealous. He's too possessive."

"I love your shoes," said a third.

The male stars held back, allowing the women to charm the younger woman, slowly lowering her guard, seducing her.

"Ashley's in for a wild night," Trina said, stopping to watch.

I stopped with her. The male stars watched closely, waiting for a sign to pounce. Gendry kept walking, unaware Trina and I had stopped. When he finally noticed, he turned and came back to us.

"Wait here," he said. "Paul moved. I'll track him down and call your cell."

I nodded and Gendry vanished. Trina sipped her drink and watched Ashley.

"You know," she said. "I owe that girl a lot. It was because of her that Bradley's dick got left in the open. That's what started us down this crazy path."

"That and about half a pound of weed in the air and a gallon of alcohol."

Trina ignored me. She was busy. The porn guys had moved closer and now joined the ladies in heaping praise on Ashley. Will was steamed, glowering like he was about to hit someone. One of the porn girls, a hot Asian, slipped her arm through Will's and led him away.

"Let me show you something pretty," she said.

Distracted, Will went with her. We watched the vultures circle Ashley another minute, then Trina finished her drink.

"Let's join them," my wife said. "I can't hear everything they're saying."

"We don't know them," I said.

"Not true," she replied. "We've seen a movie with the guy in the red shirt, remember? I do."

Shit. I did recognize him now.

"Come on," Trina insisted. "We can act like we're big fans."

Trina sent her eyes around the gathering, lingering on the men.

"Just think," she mumbled to me. "We know with certainty every one of those hot guys has a big dick. In the wild, big dicks are rare. Here, a girl's surrounded."

I snorted a laugh.

"Perhaps you've died and gone to Heaven?" I asked.

"Possibly. Maybe Oscar fell asleep and drove us all off a cliff."

"Grim."

"You started it."

I laughed again. She held my hand. We approached the group and Trina led with a compliment for Red Shirt. That's all it took. I expected the gang to be standoffish and snotty but I was dead wrong. They were some of the warmest people I'd ever met. The waitress kept the drinks flowing and Trina and I relaxed with our new friends. When a tall blonde man mentioned he had a suite at the hotel across the street and we should move our party there, everyone picked up their trash, stacked their glasses, and dropped cash for a tip. We never made it though. On our way across the main floor one of the actors, a young Brad Pitt lookalike, met a producer he knew. They spoke briefly and he turned to us.

"There's a helicopter waiting on the roof," he said.

The producer eyed all of us and then spoke into the actor's ear. The actor raised a finger and pointed around the group: "You and you and you and you and you and you and you."

Four men and three women. Trina, Ashley, a pink-haired girl named Becca, me, Red Shirt, and two men I hadn't noticed until now. Those two had dressed like slick porn stars from the nineties, one in a pastel green shirt and the other in a pastel peach shirt, so I assumed they were. I checked on Trina and she gave me a wide-eyed grin.

Helicopter? Hell yes!

We veered across the room to the elevator and soon stepped onto the roof. A large black helicopter waited. Pastel Green held the door and we all climbed aboard, Trina absolutely delighted with the turn of events. We buckled in like Young Brad showed us and placed headphones over our ears and then Brad took his seat up front. My stomach dropped out my ass as the helicopter rocketed skyward, leaving the roof of the skyscraper far below. Becca suddenly turned to Green and kissed him deeply.

"Flying makes Becca horny," Peach explained.

"Me too!" Ashley yelled. "This is awesome!"

Peach leaned over and kissed her passionately. She looked surprised and then guilty for an instant, but then let herself enjoy it.

"Me too!" Trina shouted, planting a hot kiss on my lips.

Red shirt waited until Trina finished kissing me and then turned her head by the chin and kissed her. My protest never made it out of my mouth. Trina was delighted to kiss this handsome stud.

"Where are we headed?" I asked.

"Hollywood," Red Shirt said.

The rotor overhead made too much noise to talk so we shut our mouths and grinned at each other. We left the city behind, sailing over houses and businesses below. We aimed for the low rolling hills to the east, eventually hovering over a museum of some kind. We floated down to land on a concrete pad painted with a giant H, set perfectly within a manicured lawn filled with sculpted hedges and shrubs and statues of winged figures and such.

"That's a nice switch," Trina said, indicating the statues.

I looked where she pointed but missed her meaning.

"All men," she said, helping me understand. "Every sculpture is a nude man. Usually sculptors use women as subjects."

"Not just any men," Red Shirt said. "Look closer."

I checked again. The statues were done in Greek style but each face and body was different. These were modeled after real people. I arrived at one statue close to the landing pad and laughed.

"That's you," I told the man.

Red Shirt laughed.

"Good eye," he said.

I scanned the rest. Every sculpture was of a nude man with lean muscles and large genitalia.

"These are modeled after actors," I said. "Maybe the museum curator is gay."

"Museum?" Red Shirt asked. "This is the home of Simon Reuben, richest Brit you'll ever meet, and, yeah, he's gay."

We unbuckled and climbed down. The place was a palace, not a home. How much does Los Angeles cost by the acre?

"Why are we here?" I asked Red.

He shrugged.

"Because Simon's boy said to bring you," he replied.

I stopped asking questions. Red had no answers. We hurried under the downdraft from the blades, headed for the huge marble building across the perfect lawn. A handful of men emerged from the marble building, naked, all buff and all hung, naked men hurrying to greet us, joyful, playful, laughing. Long dicks flopped and bounced everywhere. They carried trays of drink and food. They were young and lean and Trina and Ashley stopped in their tracks.

"Holy shit!" my wife laughed.

"Now that's a welcoming committee," Ashley said.

Red, Green, and Peach began to undress.

"What's going on?" I asked. "Who are they?"

"Like Ashley said," Brad declared. "The welcoming committee."

"Men go nude," Red added, tugging off his socks. "Simon's rules. Women are required to wear clothes."

"About time," Ashley said. "It's always the girls forced to go naked."

"Why would I strip?" I asked.

"Suit yourself," Red said. "You can wait in the helicopter until morning."

The men undressed rapidly, lots of practice but also nothing to hide. These were porn actors, hot, fit, and hung. Trina and Ashley laughed and clapped with delight. Becca took a step back to watch, eating from a tray.

"Your turn," Trina said to me.

"No way," I replied. "I look bad enough naked. Put me next to these guys and I'll look terrible."

"Rules are rules," Trina insisted. "I'm not waiting out here. You sure you want to let me go inside without you? Simon is gay, but what about the rest of these men?"

She raised a taunting eyebrow at me. Red and the others, all naked by now, began to leave. Becca and Ashley joined them, smiling smugly at all the naked man flesh surrounding them. A few guys slipped their arms around the girls. Everyone was happy and having fun.

"Let's go, cowboy," Trina said. "I'm headed in."

Fuck. Fuckity fuck fuck.

I began to undress. Trina giggled.

"The tables have turned," she said. "This is awesome."

"This is most definitely not awesome," I said.

Trina giggled again. Fuck it. I decided to man up and stop hiding so I stripped and stood tall. One of the nude males from the house had waited for me and he took all our clothing in his arms. I headed inside with the others. Trina was about to burst with delight.

Inside was even more palatial than outside. Columns and art and tapestries, long halls and giant rooms. More naked men walked around or sat and drank and talked. Simon liked having nude male models everywhere and was happy to pay for that proclivity.

At last we were shown into a cozy room with bookcases along two walls and paintings along another. The fourth wall was all glass and looked out onto a pool and garden area. More naked men lounged out there. Trina beamed. She was in Heaven. An old, short, fat, and bespectacled man sat in a plush chair speaking with another older man, also bald, and raised a finger as we entered. We headed his way.

"I am Simon," he announced, running eyes over each of us. "Make yourselves at home. I have food, drink, games; whatever you desire."

He returned to his conversation. Trina and I looked at each other.

"Let's explore," she said.

"Great," I replied.

"Don't be such a baby," she teased. "If this was a strip club filled with naked girls you'd be all for it. Let me have my fun."

She was right. I gave her a nod.

"I'm coming with you guys," Ashley said.

Ash looked directly at my exposed dick and I admit, I liked it. Maybe forced nudity wasn't all that bad.

"Okay," Trina said. "We kind of owe you anyway."

"Owe me?" Ashley asked. "For what? Do I know you?"

Trina took her hand and led the way. I followed one step behind. Trina explained about that night so long ago and how she'd stepped in to finish what Ashley had started. She went on to explain how that had opened the door for us. She told Ashley about the wild midnight ride we'd taken with Oscar. Ashley grew more and more amazed. Finally, she stopped Trina.

"Enough," she said. "I'm so jealous you finished off Bradley. Isn't he dreamy?"

I cast a sideways glance at Trina, disbelieving any woman still talked that way about men. Trina smirked.

"Dreamy and creamy," my wife said.

Ashley laughed and took my wife's arm.

We meandered about the house and outside grounds. Simon had amazing taste. Room after room was perfectly embellished, floor to ceiling. We encountered a wide range of people: artists, musicians, actors and writers, and in every instance the men were nude and the women clothed. It was Simon's world and we just lived in it.

At last we stumbled upon double doors made of heavy wood and carved with scenes from the Kama Sutra. Ashley and Trina studied closely, commenting, giggling. Trina tested the handle and found it unlocked so she pushed and we entered.

Our jaws dropped. Our eyes bulged. There were hot naked guys everywhere and virtually all of them sported erections. There were women in this room too, Becca, for one, and others we did not recognize, dressed, of course. Everywhere I looked I saw muscular thighs and powerful arms and rock solid abs. Some men conversed with each other and some engaged the women. Some stood alone. Almost all of them, regardless of activity, stood with pulsing erections.

"Holy Mother of God," Trina exhaled.

"And then some," Ashley said.

Ashley and Trina couldn't look away. Thank goodness there were some husband types like me mixed in. Here and there I saw them, hanging back, trying to blend in, trying to look inconspicuous. They were hard too. What was the story behind this room?

Trina led the way. Three steps down and we set foot on an area rug woven to depict an ancient Roman battle. I noticed decorative stands about waist high scattered around the room and approached the closest, discovering each held an inset ornate candy dish. I stepped closer and peeked inside and found a pool of blue Viagra pills free for the taking. I grabbed one. Trina noticed.

"You have plans, big boy?" she asked.

"Always wanted to try one," I said.

She nodded, and sent her gaze around the room, understanding.

"Sounds like fun," she said. "Let's find you something to wash it down with."

Ashley came along, stumbling over furniture, gawking, staring with disbelief at all the naked man flesh.

"I've never wanted to get fucked so badly in my life," she muttered. "Simon is an evil genius. Is this how men feel at a titty bar?"

I assumed her question was rhetorical and left it unanswered. There was an unattended bar at the back of the room so Trina went to search and returned with a small bottle of water. I swallowed the Viagra. We moved away from the bar to grab some seats on a plush couch.

"This is splendid," Ashley said.

The girls chuckled together, delighted by this world. Some men approached and began a conversation and I witnessed one man's untouched penis, all during his conversation with Trina, grow and stiffen and then shrink and deflate, and then do it all over again. My wife noticed, glancing frequently at the man's appendage.

"I need a bib," she said after they walked away. "This place is ridiculous."

"It's too much," Ashley agreed. "I can't focus. There are penises everywhere. So distracting. Let's go outside for some fresh air."

"Good idea," my wife agreed. "You wait here," she said to me.

"What if I want to go with you?" I asked.

"I'm asking you to stay. I want to walk around this place without a male escort, feel free in this holy place."

"Would you mind?" Ashley echoed.

Turn my horny wife and her horny friend loose in an environment rich with hard male cock? Sure. What could possibly go wrong?

"Fine," I relented.

The wall to our right had French doors which led to the garden area behind the house, and Trina and Ashley exited that way. I made myself comfortable on the couch. I had no desire to engage in conversation with anyone. I was nude, stuck in a room filled with naked men. I intended to pass my time right here, hoping no one tried to talk to me.

"Hi," I heard over a shoulder. "I'm Archie."

I sighed. I turned, meeting Archie: short, chubby, pale skinned and red haired Archie. His penis was a mushroom hidden in a bush of flaming pubic hair. He looked lost and intimidated and despite my desire to be left alone, my heart went out to him.

"They took my wife," he said, pointing at a door against the opposite wall.

"Who?"

"Some men. Well, honestly, they didn't take her. That sounds bad. She went with them willingly. Which I guess still sounds bad but in a different way. Do you know Simon? I don't. This is his house. What do you think my wife is doing behind that door?"

"No," I said. "I don't know Simon. We were invited by a guy that knows a guy that works for Simon, I think."

"Where's your wife?"

"Wandering the gardens in back with a friend."

He came around to sit next to me on the couch.

"What do you think my wife is doing behind that door?" he repeated.

I studied his face.

"Maybe nothing," I said. "Maybe something."

He regarded the heavy door through which his wife had vanished.

"We were here a couple years ago. Simon had a house party. I write screenplays and he was a possible investor. I think he makes most of his money in porn but wants to go legit so he's looking for good projects. What do you do?"

"I write books that become screenplays."

"Nice."

He stuck a hand out. We shook.

"I've been trying to find the courage to open that door and follow my wife," he said. "But that courage eludes me. Would you mind coming along? I might make it if I have a traveling companion."

"Sure."

We abandoned the safety of our sofa and approached the door, two forty-something men in a sea of young virile studs. The remaining women in the room did not note our passing. Archie was too daunted to open the door so I did it for him, swinging it wide and following as he entered. We were inside a reading room with floor to ceiling bookcases and comfortable highbacked chairs. I turned to shut the door and then join him but he had stopped moving, standing still as a boulder.

She was pale like him and a bit chubby like him and she also had red hair like him, although hers was thick and lush and hung like the Gardens of Babylon down to her waist. She was pretty, with a dusting of freckles across the bridge of her nose. Her alabaster tits, far too big for her small frame, were topped with lovely pink nipples.

She was seated on her heels, facing the door, ringed by big-dicked studs jacking off on her face. Archie whimpered, dismayed. Her delighted face already had a plastering of hot male jizz but she was ready for more. A man moved to confront her, grabbing her neck front and back. She opened her mouth and he slid his hard cock in, choking her as he fucked her face. Her tits bounced and Archie whined, discovering all at once his wife was a slut.

"What is she doing?" he mumbled. "Why? Why is she doing this?"

His expression was pure psychic pain.

"I guess this means divorce," he added.

I drew a deep breath. I decided I'd try to help.

"Not necessarily," I said.

He turned tortured eyes on me.

"Touch your dick," I suggested. "Just try it."

He didn't budge.

"My wife did the same thing to me," I said. "My dick moved so I touched it and could not believe the sensitivity. Jerk your dick as you watch her. Trust me. There are areas of your brain built for this. You'll cum like a volcanic eruption."

He thought I was insane. Maybe I am. I drew his attention to his wife.

"Look at her," I said. "Look how aroused she is. Look how hot these studs have her. Look at all those thick cocks around her face and how badly she wants them. She's so turned on. You know she'll fuck one or two. Which guy will feel her from the inside? Can you guess which man she wants most? The dude with the tattoos and piercings maybe?"

I grabbed Archie's wrist to guide his hand to his penis. He let me. I was killing him but at least he'd begun to listen. The man fucking her mouth did not last long, choosing to leave his dick in there when he started shooting. She was obviously unfamiliar with swallowing hot cum but he didn't care, holding her as she gagged. He blasted a huge load down her throat. It was gulp or drown and she gulped. Archie looked ready to die watching this man's semen slide down his wife's throat. We watched the man's balls flex as he pumped seed.

The guy with tattoos pushed blowjob man away before he was finished. He snatched a doily from an end table and wiped the mess off the wife's face. He took her hands to help her stand but then spun her away and bent her at the waist. It was easy to figure out what was coming.

"Alma?" Archie whimpered.

At the sound of her name, Alma turned. Now she realized her husband watched. She froze, alarmed and wondering how long her man had been there and what he'd seen. Realizing it was too late for any of that, she braced her hands on a low table and lifted her ass. Tats tugged a butt cheek aside and aimed his cock at her pussy.

"You're drenched," he stated. "You love all these men walking around naked."

"I do," she admitted, looking at the man over a shoulder.

Her eyes dropped to his throbbing erection. She stared with an intensity that told me she'd never even seen a penis that size, much less fucked one.

"Were you and Alma high school sweethearts?" I asked Archie.

"Yes," he sniveled. "How did you know that?"

Tats leaned down to bury his face in her crotch from behind. Her legs almost gave out. He licked to make sure she was wet on the outside too and then stood, aiming his hard dick at her slit. He slid balls deep with ease. He laughed. He held her shoulders and pushed every inch he had inside, trying to reach her ovaries.

"We have an audience," he said, glancing at Archie and me.

"That's my husband," she muttered.

Tats laughed again.

"Suck his dick," the man said. "Suck his dick while I fuck you."

Archie didn't move but neither did his wife. All this was way outside any experience they'd ever had. I nudged Archie but he stayed put, so I shoved his ass at his wife.

"Fuck her mouth," I said. "Trust me. You'll love this and so will she."

Tats turned the woman slightly and Archie approached. His dick was soft and limp and small. The woman saw it and leaned at the waist, bracing her hands on her husband's hips and lowering her mouth close.

"Alma," he said. "What are you doing?"

She didn't answer. She slipped Archie in her mouth, sealing her soft lips around his flaccid penis. He gasped. Alma started sucking and Tats started fucking. Archie stared the length of Alma's body, watching where Tat's cock vanished and reappeared, over and over. She was sopping. Tats dick was drenched.

Alma didn't bother to explain or apologize, just like Trina. Our women concluded if we were going to protest, we would have, and in a way that made our protests stick. They certainly did not need to police themselves. A year ago Trina had slipped another man's cock into her mouth. That night had unfolded gradually. I had plenty of opportunities to demand she stop.

Later, we rode in that rig with Oscar and I had even more occasions to demand they stop but I never did. Why would she? Why would she even feel the need to explain? If I was going to allow her behavior, she was going to run with it.

"Fuck her mouth," I told Archie. "You guys are in it now. You might as well enjoy it. Hold her head and fuck her mouth."

I don't know what kind of sex life they had at home but Archie seemed baffled by my suggestion. I stepped close and placed his hands on her head, then forced his hips to pump.

"Fuck her mouth," I repeated.

"That's disrespectful," he said.

"No, it isn't," I said. "Or maybe it is. Who cares? She'll love it."

Alma moaned right on cue. Tats gripped her ass and sawed his cock and Alma sucked hard on her husband's dick.

"Do it," I demanded.

He did as he'd been told. Archie was tentative until Alma moaned again and sucked harder. Archie thrust and liked it and thrust again. He was getting into it so I stepped back. Soon both men fucked her at each end. Archie had all kinds of fear and anger to work out and he did, on Alma's mouth. She welcomed it, as each thrust alleviated her guilt. Archie was a participant now. No way for him to point the finger.

As I watched Archie with his wife, my thoughts turned to mine. I left my new friend, no longer caring that I walked around nude, and wandered off, heading out the door I'd seen her use last. I found her easily as she and Ashely had not traveled far, getting comfortable with two studly young men in a gazebo under a canopy of roses. Ashley was face down and ass up, fucked from behind by her lover, while Trina lay on her back with legs spread wide, her lover teasing my wife with his big hard cock. He'd insert an inch or two quickly but withdraw just as fast. He'd spank her clit with his iron rod, drawing gasps, before sliding in again and pulling out just as fast. He tortured her mercilessly, reducing my woman to a lusty beggar. She pleaded with him to fuck her but he only laughed, enjoying his power. Many people had gathered to watch, including Simon himself, who looked pleased.

"Make her climax again, Bobby," he told my wife's lover. "Her face is even prettier when she cums."

Bobby pulled out and rapidly rubbed the tip of his dick across my wife's clit, back and forth, forcing a loud gasp from her and a chuckle from the crowd.

"Put it innnnn," she whined, trying to raise her hips and capture the thing.

He did as she asked, shoving his fat cock into her tight tunnel, but then he held himself still, compelling Trina to fuck herself on his dick. God, did she ever. He remained motionless but laughed and my wife worked her pussy up and down his pole like a desperate woman. The crowd laughed too. Bobby grabbed handfuls of bouncing tits and squeezed, flicking sensitive nipples. He locked eyes with Simon and then flexed his hips, pushing that mammoth cock balls-deep inside my woman. Trina gasped, groaned, and orgasmed, cumming hard on the man's fat buried penis. An appreciative crowd murmured and I saw what Simon meant: Trina's face was even prettier when she came. Her eyes brightened, her cheeks turned rosy, her lips engorged.

Someone I'd met earlier back at the event but couldn't remember their name because I'm terrible at that, leaned over and whispered into Simon's ear. He fixed his eyes on me and I knew he'd been informed Trina was my wife. He focused his attention, smirking, enjoying whatever emotion it was he saw on my face.

"Roberto," he instructed. "Help Bobby with this one. Let's make this girl go up like fireworks."

I don't know what that means but a young naked man separated from the crowd and approached Bobby and my wife. Bobby thought about telling Roberto to fuck off but Simon had ordered it so he said nothing. Roberto approached Trina's mouth and offered his swinging dick. She vacuumed him in. As chance would have it, when she opened her eyes to receive his cock, she spotted me watching from the sidelines. A coy smile curled her lips just before she closed them around Roberto's soft dick. The man got hard fast and soon, just like Archie and Alma and Tats, my wife was getting fucked at both ends. She was a piece of meat to them; hot, wet holes to sheath their dicks, but they did pay a lot of attention to her pleasure too. Bobby had her close to another orgasm surprisingly fast. Maybe she liked being treated like meat. Robert got too excited listening to her moans and pulled his dick out of her mouth, stroking fast with his hand. Trina opened wide and extended her tongue.

"Shit, Mama," he exclaimed.

He held his balls in one hand and jacked his big dick with the other. Trina laughed with delight. Roberto aimed his dick lower and the first long thick rope of semen blasted from the tip to land lengthwise on Trina's tongue. Another bigger blast followed that. Roberto produced sperm like a firehose. His third shot arched straight down her throat, splashing her tonsils. She swallowed fast and held her mouth wide open and he kept launching hot bolts of jizz, coating her tongue and chin with dripping strands of pure white. Trina kept her mouth wide open to receive it all.

Balls empty, Roberto staggered backward. Bobby grabbed Trina's hips and began to hammer her tight pussy, chasing the orgasm that got away. She was ready. She wrapped her strong legs around his waist. With hot semen dribbling from her chin her body curled into a fist.

"Fuck!" she grunted. "Yeah! Fuck!"

Her head snapped back and her mouth flew open. A soundless howl issued from her throat sounding like a long low hiss. I saw her spasming pussy clench around his fat cock again and again.

"Where do you want it?" he finally moaned.

"In me!" she barked. "I love to feel them throb."

He slowed his stroke but lengthened it, withdrawing until just the tip remained inside and then propelling that wide flared head and thick shaft all the way to her cervix. Over and over he sank that hefty beast into my woman, inching ever closer to climax.

At last it hit. He pushed deep one last time and groaned long and loud and began spurting his seed far up inside her. Simon began to applaud and the others joined him. Bobby kept his cock in her until he'd forced the last drop out and then slowly withdrew. Her lips clung to his inches, closing slowly as the head fell out. A long dribble leaked from her open hole, hanging like drool.

Bobby headed back to his friends with Roberto in tow. There were high-fives and pats on the back and the whole naked batch of them wandered off, leaving me with Trina. I checked on Ashley and found her collapsed on the bench, well-fucked and satisfied. I'd never noticed her lover finishing and leaving. I'd lost track of her getting fucked altogether. I'd been so focused on my wife I'd seen nothing that was done to Ashley.

Gradually the two women came around. They sat up and smiled and Ashley moved to sit by Trina. My wife patted the bench and I took the open seat. All three of us sat naked and dazed. Trina glanced down at my partially swollen penis and slipped off the bench between my knees.

"I want some too," Ashley said, joining my wife.

If you've never had two mouths on your dick at the same time, I highly recommend it. There's no feeling like it. Two pretty faces staring up at me as they played with my dick, passing my soft shaft back and forth, nuzzling my balls and flicking their tongues at the head. More can be done with a soft cock than a hard one and I was reluctant to grow erect, but it was impossible to avoid. Soon Ashley bobbed on my dick while Trina sucked my balls. Trina paused long enough to tell me I had permission to fuck Ashley if I wished.

"Is that true?" I asked the girl.

"Yes," she replied. "Trina and I discussed it. You're attractive and I told her so. If you don't mind, I do ask you put in a good word for me when they make your next book into a movie. I'd love a part. But you don't have to."

Her face was angelic. She was certainly pretty enough to star. I had no idea if she could act but she looked stunning.

"I promise I will," I said.

She aimed my erection at Trina's mouth and climbed up my body. My wife held my hard dick, spreading Ashley with her fingers and guiding me in. Ashley settled her hot cunt around my shaft and sweet Jesus, did she feel amazing. Trina turned her full attention on my hanging balls, licking and sucking as her friend began a slow up and down. No way I'd last long like this.

"I'll do a little porn, too," Ashley breathed. "If I have to. I'll take anything. I need the money and I just want a chance. If Simon asks about me tell him I'm hungry."

"Okay," I gasped. "I will."

My wife sucked my entire scrotum into her hot mouth and then pushed a finger up my ass. I groaned, barely fighting off an instant orgasm. These women were too much. Trina's tongue swirled my nuts and her finger pumped my prostate and Ashley's tight pussy squeezed my shaft and fought like hell to maintain control. I let the fantastic sensations wash over me, physical and mental, since I was inside a hot new pussy after all, and tried to absorb everything. I got a grip on the initial rush and my imminent climax retreated. I let these two hot babes fuck me wild. I caressed Ashley's tits and teased her nipples and boldly pulled her mouth down for a hot kiss. Will would be furious.

"You can cum in her," Trina said. "If that's what you want."

My wife sounded funny, like that was one of those inside-out questions women often ask. My first instinct, shaped by years of marriage, was to say no, down your throat would be fine, Honey. But the truth is I did want to cum in Ashley. Trina had done exactly everything she'd wanted. I was owed some consideration. I wanted to shoot my load in this budding starlet and I was going to. I let them work my dick until I was pulsating and ready to explode and then I grabbed Ashley's hips and forced them down.

"Keep sucking," I told my wife, savoring her slathering tongue and pumping finger. "Here it comes."

Ashley moaned softly and Trina accepted my decision. Her hand was a blur as her finger rubbed my inner G-spot and then suddenly my dick was an erupting volcano. My orgasm slammed me like a truck, seizing my body as my dick jumped and spurted.

Nothing compares to new pussy and I was having my first taste of something new in a long time. I let go and released the flood. Sperm sprayed out of me like a fountain. To her credit, although she may not have liked that I was cumming inside this hot young tart, Trina worked hard to make my orgasm as powerful as possible, and goddamn, she succeeded. I was lightheaded as my orgasm drained away, dizzy and weak. Trina pulled my softening dick from Ashley's pussy and licked the dripping cream. Then she stuffed my penis in her mouth. I gasped, shocked by the heightened sensitivity. I sent my eyes around those watching, enjoying their soft smiles and knowing eyes.

Until I saw Gendry.

He'd shed his clothes like the rest of us but he was not happy about it. He marched furiously across the manicured lawn, face stern, small penis bouncing wildly.

"Are you crazy?" he growled. "Do you two even know this girl? Are you high? How many lawsuits do you plan on paying?"

"Gendry," Trina said, wiping her mouth with both hands and rising to her feet. "This is Ashley. Ash is an amazing actress looking for work. You should be her agent."

Gendry stopped yelling at us. He scrutinized Ashley.

"Seriously?" he asked Ashley. "Are you talented or is Trina just redirecting my ire at my client's irresponsible behavior?"

"I'm good," Ashley said. "Trina and Kenny are my best friends. I'd never call the cops on them."

Gendry took a last look at naked Ashley and then switched to us. I got a cursory up and down but he burrowed his gaze into Trina.

"I had no idea you looked that good naked," he told her.

His mind was off and running. If there's a way to make money, Gendry will find it.

"I didn't know you guys had this kind of marriage," he said. "Are you comfortable being filmed naked?"

Trina laughed.

"I'm sure the hospital administrator would love that," Trina teased. "I'm not making porn, Gendry. Just keep selling my husband's books."

"But you're a natural, Trina. Look at all these scrumptious men. I see how you stare. Wouldn't you love to have whoever you wanted and get paid for it? You'd make a lot more than you do now."

"I make plenty now," Trina said, laughing.

"I need money," Ashley admitted. "Can you arrange any porn gigs for me?"

Gendry swung his attention to our new friend.

"Let me talk to Simon," he said. "Simon's the money guy. You are a very pretty girl. I'm sure we can find you something to make a little cash."

He stepped back to take in all three of us.

"Let's get out of here," he said. "Find some clothes and something to eat."

Chapter 7

There is something so exciting about watching a man hold your wife's head so he can force his cock farther into her mouth. I also love how she welcomes his aggression, his runaway desire for her, welcomes it and adjusts her throat to give him what he wants. I see the muscles work; I see her efforts to please this guy. A vein rises on her forehead. Another on her neck. She strains to give him maximum pleasure. His pleasure is what matters to her. She has no idea who he is or what he's about but he has a big dick and it's erect because he kept looking at her.

He rests both palms on the back of her head, standing over my wife as she kneels submissively before him, and tries to fuck her mouth like a pussy. We've all tried it, with greater or lesser success, but the true thrill comes from the act, not the sensations. Some gorgeous woman is allowing you to fuck her face. No, more than merely allows it, she wants you to fuck her face.

Trina relaxes her throat and they hit a rhythm, the head of his cock slipping over the hump of her tongue and plunging several inches down her throat. Spit drools everywhere and it's an awkward angle for him but he relishes what he's doing. This hot babe is taking his cock eagerly.

Clearly, her skills have improved.

She gets him close quickly, like all the others, and then lifts a carved marble goblet almost filled with a milky substance. She waits. He whips his cock free at the last moment and bends the shaft, aiming the pee hole at the small receptacle and squirting jet after jet, adding to the liquid already captured. He is final man to empty his nuts in the cup. Trina has drained them all. His big balls contract over and over until it's done, there's no more to give. She raised the goblet, careful to avoid spilling, like she was making a toast at a wedding.

The camera follows her as she stands and adjusts her skimpy toga, then as she crosses the set, a makeshift Roman palace, littered with naked bodies, male and female. Sweet Ashley has been tied to a wooden frame, bound, head down and ass up. Ropes bind her arms and legs. She has a crude pad under each elbow and knee. A circle of gorgeous women fawn over the nervous sacrifice, playing with breasts and licking exposed and offered pussy. Two women, one on each side, slip fingers into Ashley's cunt and gently pull in opposite directions, opening the girl's pussy until we can see inside her body.

Will, on set like me today, whimpers at the inevitable.

"What's Trina going to do with all that?" he mumbles.

I don't answer. The question is melodramatic. He knows, as we all do, exactly where my wife is going to dump that sloshing cup of hot jizz.

One by one the women of the circle take a sip from the cup, tasting the accumulation of men, holding the potent liquid in their mouth. My wife sips last, draining what little remains. Each woman then leans over the gapping pussy and spits the contents of her mouth, spits sperm directly into Ashley's womb.

Will groans in psychic anguish. He'd been against Ashley in porn but she'd convinced him.

Trina spits last, then begins to apply many small clamps, normally used on nipples but this time used on soft labia. My wife closes Ashley's pussy and seals it.

The women work the ropes and the framework rotates until our friend is hoisted upright. Not a drop escapes her. Her pussy is watertight, labia pinched.

A long-dicked old man playing the Emperor enters the camera's view. His toga is loose, barely hanging on, and his big soft cock bounces all around. Makeup and Wardrobe have done an amazing job making him look ancient and decrepit. He kisses Ashley softly and orders her taken to a bed. The camera moves to him and he speaks his lines to one of the women, but I'm not listening. I'm watching Ashley lifted from the frame and set on her feet. Her legs are wide. Clamps like big staples run the length of her slit.

The director yells "Cut!" and more stagehands fly into action, quickly disassembling the rope and frame scene and building a bedroom scene. Ashley waits patiently but I see the discomfort in her eyes. The crew announces they are finished and the director places everyone on their mark. Cameras roll. Ashley is led to a large bed and laid down. Some woman takes her hand to comfort her. They speak their lines.

"This is intense," Trina says, standing behind me.

I turned. She's still nude. Robes hang around the set for those that want them but Trina is comfortable being naked in front of others. No, more than merely comfortable. She wants it. I think about kissing her because she looks so good but then remember her mouth was full of sperm only moments ago and while I may have kissed her after she'd blown some guy, I've never kissed her after multiple men.

We stand together and watch as the actors go through the scene. Ashley is rolled onto her belly and her ass lifted, sending all that jizz trapped inside sliding downhill into her womb. The script says the Emperor wants a son but has been unable to father one. As queen, Ashley is expected to produce a male heir. This ancient fertility rite is guaranteed to help. Will looked ready to collapse. They rarely allow boyfriends or husbands on set but this director is a bastard.

The ancient ruler shuffles around the bed until he reaches Ashley's mouth. He lifts his cock and she obediently sucks. The script calls for her to display disdain but her true eagerness shines through. She gets that under control and produces a memorable scene. Once she has the man hard he moves to the foot of the bed and orders the clamps removed from her labia. He slides himself in, pumping her sopping cunt slowly. Cameras move to capture everything.

At last he erupts, emptying his balls inside Ashley too. The women attending are quick with the clamps and our friend's pussy is once more sealed tight. The Emperor is led out of the chamber. The cameras slowly zoom on Ashley's secured pussy and then fade to black.

"That's all for today," the director calls out. "Tomorrow at seven. Check your schedules. See you then."

Chapter 8

The hospital administrator confronted Trina at the Christmas office party. Someone had seen a video online and insisted it was Trina sucking dick in the background. She'd avoided taking front and center in those videos, instead working the minor parts and occasionally acting the fluffer for free, but someone at the hospital spotted her anyway. How that affected their life and why they felt the need to report what they'd seen, I'll never know, but they sent the link to the administrator and after viewing it, he agreed to speak to Trina. She left me standing near the huge and well decorated Christmas tree in the corner while she went with him to his office.

She was back in twenty minutes.

"How did that go?" I asked. "Did he fire you?"

She pulled the front of my shirt to give me a kiss on the mouth. Her lips were tangy, her tongue slippery.

"I offered to suck him off to deny it was me," she said after breaking the kiss. "He accepted. I owe him a blowjob a week but I get to keep my job."

"You're okay with that arrangement?"

"His dick is nice and he's not bad looking and his cum is almost sweet. An occasional quickie at work sounds good. I'll relieve stress for us both."

"Sucking cock relieves your stress?" I asked.

"Hell yes."

"Kiss me again."

She did. I hunted for it this time and she was correct: her lips and tongue were a bit syrupy. My fearlessness turned her on and she transformed the kiss into something deep and passionate.

"That," she said, breathless, "was bold."

"What? Kissing you after learning you'd swallowed him?"

"Yes."

I pulled her close and kissed her again, possibly the raunchiest act I'd ever committed. My tongue danced in her cheating mouth. We parted.

"Fuck that's hot," she gasped. "You can smash that taboo anytime."

I felt a growing recklessness. His presence in my wife's mouth lit a fire in my heart. We'd traveled so far down this road, and so fast. Blood surged. My dick swelled.

"Did you leave him in his office?" I growled.

"Yes. He said he had work to do."

"Lead the way."

"To his office? Why?"

"You're going to fuck him for me."

I took her hand but she was already moving. Minutes later she knocked on his door and entered. He was at his desk. He saw me and stood, backing away, fumbling an apology, assuming Trina had told me what happened and I was there to kick his ass.

"Sit," I told him, my recklessness blossoming.

I shut his office door and locked it. Trina already had her hands under her dress, drawing down her panties.

"David," she said, approaching him. "Meet my husband, Kenny."

My wife rounded the desk and dropped to her knees. I followed closely, noting Trina's video played on his monitor. He'd gone back to watch it over and over, even after she'd blown him. She worked his pants, discovering his zipper already down. I drew her attention to his computer screen.

"Were you jacking off to me?" she asked.

"Y-Yes," he muttered.

She circled her fingers through the gap in his pants until she found his partially swollen snake. She drew him into the open and laid the shaft on his slacks, like she had with Oscar, then went back in for the balls. The head was a pink triangle, narrower than the fat shaft behind. She deposited his nuts on the outside too.

I guffawed. His scrotum was huge.

"Those are the biggest balls I've ever seen," I told him. Then, to Trina: "I bet he gave you a lot to drink."

"Mouthfuls," Trina murmured, lowering her mouth to his lap.

He was nervous, confused about what was happening and what to expect. His face softened as she slipped his cock in her mouth.

"Fuck her, David. I want to see it." I gestured at his computer monitor. "You like watching her in action, and so do I."

"But I'm married," he said.

"Too late for that now," I said. "You already let her suck you off."

Trina told him to stand. She wanted his pants off. He was tall, gray-haired, and carried a little belly. He was probably twenty years older than us. His cock hung soft because he was older and she'd drained him only an hour ago, but the precum oozed. A silver strand hanging four inches, ending in a droplet of pearly white. He was a maple tree, trickling sap, except this sap could get my wife pregnant.

I expected lots of questions but David was too overwhelmed to ask even one. I doubted he had much of a sex life at home. Trina continued to remove his shoes then socks, yanking his pants and underwear down. The man's cock hung there, sweet nectar dripping. She may have recently emptied those nuts but he had a backlog.

Once he was nude from the waist down she scooted closer and brought her mouth up underneath. His sack was too big to take so she sucked one large testicle and then the other. He moaned softly and a second dollop of jizz seeped through his pee hole and followed the strand to merge with the first.

Trina sat up and noticed the dangling dewdrop and opened her mouth and stuck out her tongue. She rose from underneath, tongue rising like an elevator, drawing closer and closer to his semen tear. David and I stared, rapt, mesmerized by my wife's fearless lust. At last the drop touched her tongue and broke the strand. She left it there, first showing him and then showing me. The fire in my heart flared.

"Don't move," I rasped.

I rolled onto my back and slid my head under her crotch, like a mechanic examining the undercarriage. Her dress covered me but there was enough light to see her swollen pussy. I tapped her ass and she lowered her hips, bringing that delicious slit to my mouth. I began to feast.

She was soaked. She'd wanted to be fucked from the moment she first sucked his cock well over an hour ago. Since then she'd only craved it more. I sank my tongue inside her like a small, wriggling cock and she groaned deeply. I felt her start to suck him in earnest.

I showed no mercy. I was inflamed by what she'd become, aroused beyond measure by what she'd done before and did in this moment. Her cunt gushed and I lapped it up, driving her crazy but refusing to allow her to cum. Her body moved rhythmically above me and I knew she worked his cock eagerly, both hands and mouth. I sucked and licked and teased, pushing a thumb up her asshole. She ground her pussy on my face. I was in no hurry. The door was locked. We were safe. I ate her engorged and unfaithful hole like dripping ice cream.

I felt her body shift, her angle change. Her stomach moved over my head and I understood he'd pushed her onto all fours. I licked and sucked fervently, better able now to reach her clit. My wife moaned continuously over me. I felt a pair of hot balls slide up my throat and rest on my chin and Trina cried out as his cock filled her. I didn't care about him. I was there for her. He fucked her tight hole and I ate all around him, torturing her clit as his fat and hard cock pumped her. Trina went wild, hips gyrating on his dick. When my tongue made occasional contact neither he nor I gave a shit. She was the lamb led to slaughter.

She covered her mouth with a hand and howled like a wolf, slammed by maybe the most powerful orgasm I've ever seen her have. I licked until she reached the peak and then gently bit her clit, ripping a shriek of absolute pleasure from her. He fucked her hot hole and she gushed juice, cumming for us both. Her body was rigid like steel.

He pushed all the way in and held himself there, my whiskered chin separating his balls. Trina slowly came down from the stratosphere and he began slow, short thrusting. I heard his shaft slipping and sliding. I knew this man was going to ejaculate inside her and all I did was lick faster and softer.

When I heard him suck air, I licked even faster.

"Oh Baby," she groaned. "I feel him growing. He's gonna shoot."

I fastened my lips to her clitoris and sucked. Inside my mouth, my bumpy tongue scoured her nub. Her hips seized and locked and I felt her pussy clench around his shaft, gripping him tight as he pumped. He groaned deeply. I kept licking and sucking and Trina arched her back and David blasted a huge bolt of sperm into her womb. He moaned long, barely thrusting his hips, holding himself deep as he inseminated my wife. Over and over his large balls lifted and fell and I never slowed or stopped.

Gods! The man carried a gallon. His pulsating cock spewed steaming sperm and my wife ground her hips backward against his, pushing him as far in as she could. When he finally delivered the last drop, he pushed her ass away, withdrawing his shrinking cock with a slurp. I sealed my mouth over her labia, tormenting her mound, torturing her pussy, whipping her clit until she writhed above me and orgasmed, screaming, again. I rolled my body onto my stomach, like a wrestler, taking her with me until she was on her back with her husband between her legs, devouring her freshly fucked cunt. The recklessness returned in full force. I didn't care about him or what he'd deposited in her, I needed her moans and gasps like an addict needs heroin. I consumed her, destroyed her, ate her greedily until she gave me yet another orgasm, this one leaving her devastated, demolished, and immobile.

I wiped my face of their combined fluids and stood, hard on raging inside my pants. This was his office so despite my insane desire to fuck her right here and now, I resisted, even after she muttered her desire to feel me inside.

"We'll leave just him in there for now," I rasped.

I plucked her panties off the carpeted floor and tossed them to him. He was stunned, bewildered. He caught them.

"Keep those," I said. "Remember this night. Whenever the urge arises during your working week, call her into this office and fuck her again."

He nodded. Trina, still not fully returned to this world, smiled slightly. We left him once we'd recovered our legs, returning to the Christmas party and mingling with Trina's colleagues. She pulled me aside after five minutes.

"My legs are too weak and I have cum running out of me. Let's go home."

I was perversely thrilled knowing my wife carried another man's seed so I delayed, making her introduced me to friends and coworkers, shaking hands and making small talk, knowing all the while that David oozed out of her unfaithful cunt. I pictured the hundreds of millions, if not billions of sperm given the size of that ball sack, swimming around inside her, hunting her egg, racing around unchallenged in the pussy they now owned.

"Take me home," she whined. "I want you, too."

"You're walking around full of David," I said. "I get a sick thrill from that. Monday morning will be here before you know it and you'll discover everything has changed. Work will never be the same. I get a thrill from knowing that too. You'll fuck David at work and then come home to me. Not all the time. I doubt he's your type. But there must be some excitement knowing your boss is going to have you again and again. I can't really see you saying no to him often."

She studied my eyes.

"No," she admitted. "You're right, I won't."

She dropped her gaze to the carpet.

Chapter 9

The night was foggy and I almost missed the exit sign. I slowed. We were all alone on this dark highway. When the exit arrived, I took it.

"Do you think he'll be there?" Trina asked.

"He said he would."

"Yes, but that was before the snow made us two hours late."

Her hands sat in her lap, fidgeting. I rested my hand on them.

"I'd wait two hours for another chance with you," I said.

She smiled.

Bobcat Motel Three Miles, the sign read, in bright neon letters, turning the fog scarlet. We'd gotten Oscar's number before we parted company and last week Trina had sent him a text: I'm craving your cock.

Why him? I'd asked. Why Oscar? Trina could have her choice of hot studly men.

I have a deeply rooted need to please, she'd responded. To hot, studly men I'm just another woman. To Oscar, I'm an angel. He says I'm the best he's ever had, by far.

It's nice to be appreciated.

He was in Colorado but would drive the mountain pass soon. Bobcat Motel was a good halfway point for both of us. She'd set a day and time: tonight, at midnight.

Trina began to fidget again.

"You're nervous?" I said. "Why? You rock this man's world."

"I'm super nervous. What if last time was a fluke? A perfect alignment of the planets. What if I see him and there's nothing, no spark at all? Worse, what if he repulses me? He's a large, messy, scruffy man, after all. What if I see him and want to run away? Imagine how that will make him feel. But I don't want to be stuck. I don't want to make myself fuck him when I don't want him. So, yeah, I'm worried and nervous."

We wouldn't know until we knew so I kept my mouth shut. I rested a hand on her knee and focused on driving. We rounded a corner and the Bobcat Motel rose from the mist. The place was still, dead, silent. We had zero phone reception.

"There's his rig," Trina murmured.

The Road Hog was parked at the end, aimed at unit six. A light burned behind the cheap curtains. All the other windows were dark.

"That's his room," Trina said with certainty.

I parked near his truck and scanned the parking lot. We were alone.

"Ready?" I asked.

"No."

Her mouth was so dry her lips stuck.

She'd worn a simple black dress, just above the knee and not too low in front. A church on Sunday kind of a dress. We locked the car and headed towards unit six.

The door opened well before we got there. Trina stopped abruptly. Oscar, nude, beer in one hand and doorknob in the other. He'd trimmed his body hair. His cock hung in front of him like an elephant's trunk, eight inches or so of soft thick tube. He'd clipped his pubes and shaved around the base of the shaft, gaining additional length to our eyes. His balls, encased in leathery skin and hanging low, looked huge.

I watched my wife's face closely. She stared, her gaze running over every inch of the man. It was foolish for a man his age and weight to open the door like that, strike a pose like some hot girl in a movie, but Trina's expression told me she found the move endearing. It was playful and silly and shattered the ice.

She lowered her scrutiny to focus on his hanging dick. She just stared at it. My heart fluttered. Nothing about the man was a threat to our marriage except that dangling temptation. I found his exposed penis menacing, a silent danger, an unspoken peril. Other men's cocks will always intimidate me. I understand what they do to my wife, what they mean to her, and not just the big ones, although she prefers those.

Trina's face softened. Her fears and concerns melted away.

We started walking again, our shoes going crunch, crunch, crunch in the gravel. Oscar took a step back as we got close, cock swinging like a pendulum. Trina softly gasped. He set his beer on the corner of a table.

"You like that?" I asked.

"I love cock," she breathed. "God help me."

Her eyes were glued as we drew closer. We entered the room. I shut and locked the door and turned to find Trina facing Oscar.

To the side, another man sat with his feet on the air conditioner.

"That's my friend, Chuck," Oscar said. "He did not believe you were real, so I told him he could watch. Hope that's all right."

Chuck was long and lean, flannel shirt and oily jeans, cowboy boots. He wore a baseball hat, soiled, and had a thick mustache. He gave us a nod. I waited for Trina to make a move. She sized Chuck up, decided she didn't care, and cupped Oscar's large balls, lifting.

"I can vouch for him," Oscar added. "We double-teamed a girl in Dallas years ago. Chuck's a good guy. I called him after you texted me. He drives the black rig with the silver trim. You probably saw it out in the lot. "

Trina slid one hand around Oscar's flaccid shaft, rolling his balls with the other.

"I don't care about Chuck," Trina said. "I care about this."

My wife bent at the waist and popped Oscar's dick head into her mouth. Chuck and Oscar locked eyes, sharing a knowing smile and revealing Chuck was missing a tooth. Out in the real world, Trina would never have sex with this man. Inside our macabre private world, ugly unattractive men turned her on more. We all knew Chuck and Oscar would never bed a woman like Trina without paying for it. Trina understood the prize she was to men like this and that excited her beyond measure. She understood they'd never forget her. She understood they'd talk until the day they died about that one time they fucked her. She was thrilled to be on their pedestal.

I was apparently invisible so I spun a chair around and sat, dropping Trina's purse on the table. Oscar attempted to pull his cock from her mouth and backward to the bed but she grabbed the shaft with both hands and refused to let him escape. Chuck and Oscar laughed.

"She likes your cock," Chuck said.

"She loves his cock," I corrected.

Yes, as she'd mentioned in the car, she enjoyed pleasing him. But what else was in it for her? I saw plainly. I saw it in the hunger she displayed, the lust for his naked penis. Chuck pulled a wallet from a back pocket and fished out a twenty. He slapped in on the bed. He saw me watching and explained.

"Oscar said he'd open the door naked and Trina would have his dick in her mouth as soon as she saw it. I was wrong. He was right."

I checked on Oscar. He gave me a thumbs-up. Where does a fat man like him get all that confidence? I dropped my eyes to his thick cock slipping and sliding in her mouth. Her eyes were closed, her face adoring, her lips smeared against the shaft and swaddling the head. My wife wasn't sucking his cock. She was worshipping it.

Oscar took baby steps, retreating until the bed hit him behind the knees. He sat and Trina made herself comfortable between his thighs.

"She's sexy as fuck," Chuck said. "You mind if I jack off to this?"

"No, be my guest," I said.

Chuck stood and turned his back to me. He stripped, tossing his clothing on the bed. I saw his flat bare ass and when he bent to yank his pants off, I saw his heavy balls. An alarm sounded in my skull.

Who strips just to masturbate?

He turned to face me and I discovered a shank that matched Oscar's. Double-teamed a girl in Dallas? Now I knew why Oscar had invited Chuck to our little gathering. Now I saw their plan revealed. There may have been a bet but that's not the payoff. These men intended to fuck Trina together. She'd be that woman they double-teamed at the Bobcat Motel. For two heartbeats, I hated the idea that my wife would just be a story in the sexual history of these hillbillies. Then Trina happened to open her eyes and happened to notice Chuck standing there nude. He'd begun stroking his long cock and my wife moaned with need. Chuck laughed.

"She's already answered the question I never had time to ask," he said.

He plucked a condom from the back pocket of his jeans and crossed the room to Trina. He poked his dick right at her mouth, bumping Oscar out of the way. My wife switched her attention to this new man, resting his cock across her face so she could lick his balls underneath.

The men took turns, sharing her hot mouth as they both grew erect. They were almost there when Chuck pushed Oscar away.

"Let's get this hot babe out of that dress," he said. "That's a tight little body."

Trina stood and Chuck drew down the zipper in back. In moments, they had my wife naked. Trina noticed the condom Chuck held.

"You have some disease?" she asked.

"No ma'am," he said. "But I do have seven kids, scattered from one coast to the other. I do not need an eighth."

Trina plucked the prophylactic from his hand and tossed it aside, unintentionally landing the thing at my feet.

"You let me and my husband worry about any babies," she said. "If you're wrapped in rubber then you were never actually in my pussy, were you? Only the condom was. You'll have no idea what I feel like in there."

"I suppose not."

"If you're going to fuck me," she purred. "Fuck me. I want to feel you in there, skin sliding against skin."

His cock head flared.

"You're amazing," he muttered.

Yeah. Amazing. Her words were so sexy I started getting hard. Oscar maneuvered her to sit on her heels and lean back, arms behind her, palms on the old carpet. They stood over her, taking turns dipping their balls into her open mouth and writhing tongue. They'd jack their cocks a bit and popped the head in for a quick suck. They rubbed her firm tits and flat stomach. Chuck seemed to remember I was also in the room and turned to me.

"You all are kinky as fuck. I can't believe you let us get at your woman like this."

I didn't answer. He was fishing for a reaction. Instead I stood and undressed, freeing my hard dick. I sat again and began a slow stroke. The men murmured something and then helped Trina stand. She seemed a little intoxicated, like sex drunk, awaiting what was coming. They moved her to the bed, helped her crawl up on all fours. Their big cocks curved up like horns, pointed at the stucco ceiling. They gleamed from my wife's saliva. She turned her head side to side, first looking at Chuck's erection and then Oscar's. She spotted me watching. Her expression turned pleading, like she was admitting a terrible secret.

"I love giving men what they want," she confessed. "Don't tell my friends. The women at the hospital would disown me."

Both men now stood at the foot of the bed, staring at my wife's pussy from behind. Chuck grabbed a toned ass cheek and pulled, opening her crack and exposing her asshole. Her labia parted, revealing her thin and delicate inner lips. She was drenched. Chuck wet his thumb and grab a cheek again, this time slowly pressing his digit against her sphincter. He was about to get a rude surprise.

Trina does not do anal sex.

He worked his thumb in a tiny circle, gradually sinking deeper. Trina remained motionless, breathing slow and deep. She closed her eyes.

Chuck pushed in to the first knuckle and Trina rolled her head.

Chuck crawled onto the bed. He stood over her and aimed a long drop of spit at her sphincter. He worked it in and then aimed another. His big cock throbbed, yearning, anticipating. He expected Trina to stop him but every second that passed and she did not, his excitement grew. He aimed another glob of spit. With his free hand, he bent his steely cock to her asshole, rubbing the tip. Trina opened her mouth but said nothing.

Chuck began to ease his cock up her ass.

My mouth fell open too.

Never. I've fantasized a million times about fucking Trina's ass but never even tried. Her feelings on the subject were clear.

With smart-bomb precision Chuck dropped another glob of lubricating saliva. He moved his hands to her hips and his ass flexed and a thick inch slithered deep. Her puckered ring was stretched into a large O around his hard girth. Trina gasped at the bulky intrusion, doubt crossing her face. He sensed it.

"Give Chuck your ass, beautiful," he muttered. "I'm gonna take it. Oscar, distract this bitch. Rub those titties."

Oscar reached under to cup both, rolling her hard nipples. Trina bit a lip. Chuck pressed forward again, feeding her ass half an inch.

"You're tight," he rasped. "Real tight. Like you've never had a man take you this way. Is that true? Am I your first?"

Trina nodded in starts and stops. That knowledge turned Chuck on and blood surged. His already fat cock expanded. Trina's asshole stretched wide and she groaned from a mix of pleasure and pain.

"Here comes a bit more," he said. "Relax. I don't want to hurt you but you're going to take every goddamn inch I have."

My wife groaned with arousal. His assertiveness fanned her fire. He repositioned his hands and forced another inch. Trina hung her head, breathing fast and shallow. He tried to push another inch inside my wife but she jerked.

"Grab it," he told Oscar. "Grab the stuff."

Oscar casually opened the nightstand drawer and withdrew a small black bottle. He removed the red cap and Chuck pulled out until only the tip of his cock remained inside Trina's ass. Oscar dribbled slippery liquid on the man's cock. That hidden bottle told me they'd planned this from the beginning. Chuck worked his dick back and forth with short strokes and

Oscar added more lube. Trina began to moan. Chuck waved Oscar away and held my wife's waist firmly. He pushed his meat back in, sliding smoothly now, and I watched his large balls move ever closer to her cunt. She lifted her head higher the more cock he gave her. She grunted, growled, gasped, and pushed her ass back at the man to capture all the cock she could. His balls came to rest on her labia, hiding her empty pussy. He left his heavy cock in her like that, waiting, giving her time. Once her breathing slowed, he began to fuck my wife's ass.

Trina tried to control herself but this was too much. His thick tusk had her gasping in seconds. He fucked her slow and deep and in minutes she was wailing, almost sobbing as she urged him on. Several times he buried his cock all the way and held it and Trina writhed like a stuck snake. He allowed her to fuck herself on him before taking control again.

"All right, Oscar," he said and our friend climbed on the bed, resting his fat back against the headboard.

He held his cock around the base, waving the length in the air. It took a moment for Trina to understand but then she swooped, jamming his cock as far into her mouth as she could. Oscar held the back of her head with one hand, guiding her up and down.

It was too much. Her fingers and toes curled into fists. She choked and drooled around Oscar's cock and clamped her sphincter around Chuck's. Suddenly her body went rigid. She breathed hard and fast through her nose as a guttural animal sound rose from her throat. I watched my wife orgasm hard, stuffed with cock. The men chuckled, proud of themselves. Oscar held her head farther down on his dick and that only made another orgasmic wave sweep through my wife.

"You need a job?" Chuck asked me.

I shrugged, unsure what he meant.

"Why don't you get under there and lick her cunt? Ain't nobody using it."

I hesitated, reluctant to join these hicks. I thought myself better than them but was I? I was the one sitting by and doing nothing as my wife got fucked right in front of me. I left my seat and knelt at the foot of the bed, leaning backward. I shimmied between Chuck's legs and then Trina's, watching his fat cock plunge only inches above. I lifted my head and vacuumed my mouth to her clitoris.

Trina howled around a stuffed mouth. Her body jerked as if electrocuted. I dragged my tongue over her clit again and again and my wife started crying, overcome with mind-dissolving pleasure. Chuck's balls bounced against my Adam's apple but who gave a shit? I was way past caring about things like that. We all were.

We formed an instant team, the way men do. Trina was the target. Each of us used her in our way but her orgasm was our goal. She came again, harder than the first, but we steamrolled her climax and kept going. Another orgasm soon followed and she squirmed like an octopus, wailing and thrashing. What we did to her was torture but God, she loved it.

Chuck began thrusting harder and I knew he'd soon empty his nuts up her ass. I licked her gushing pussy, almost as excited as she. I relished her anal virginity taken by another. It made no sense but it turned me on. Chuck lifted higher and pounded her ass and then grit his teeth and buried his cock.

"Yeah!" he cried. "Yeah! Fuck Yeah!"

He was erupting, unloading gobs of frothy semen. I saw his pulsating balls from beneath, watching as the man shot jet after jet inside her ass. He left his cock buried long after he'd fired his last.

I felt movement on the bed. Chuck withdrew his sloppy cock. Before I could slide out from under, Oscar took his place, lubing the head with Chuck semen and then pushing his cock against Trina's asshole. My wife groaned but adjusted her hips, bringing her pussy closer to my mouth and offering her puckered ring to Oscar. He accepted her offer and I saw her sphincter flower around his large cock head. He pushed deep, gliding through Chuck's jizz.

Her mouth free again, I heard Trina mutter a constant stream of nasty encouragement. Pure filth flowed from her lips, urging Oscar to fuck her ass and blast all his sperm in there. She begged him to fuck her hard, to smack her ass and pull her hair. Oscar was happy to oblige. I held on as the man hammered my wife's asshole, handling her roughly, fucking her like a cheap whore before blowing a flood of semen deep in her bowels. Trina climaxed again as he did, both crying out together. I flicked her clit and sucked her cunt, making her cum as hard as possible.

Oscar began to drag his fat cock out of her ass and she tilted her hips. From below I saw that semen drooling beast escape.

Trina rolled onto her back, arms and legs trembling. She licked her lips.

"Oh my fucking Christ," she exhaled. "What the hell. Anal sex is crazy good."

I ogled my wife's tight body: toned arms and abs, muscular thighs. I was rock hard and desperate to fuck her, but not in front of these guys. I'd wait until we were home. She noticed me watching and parted her knees.

"Want some?" she asked, voice quavering.

Kind, but I could tell she was wiped out.

"Later," I said.

She sucked lungs full of air and held it, released in a long sigh.

"I need a shower," she said.

She left the bed and I rolled onto my back. I didn't trust myself to go in there with her and I wasn't in a chatty mood for the guys. Trina and I would have a long heart-to-heart conversation about why she allowed two strangers to fuck her ass yet never me, but not tonight. It stung me that they'd had her ass yet I never had. It stung that these two unsophisticated yokels had fucked my wife in a way I hadn't. They had that over me. She shared a relationship with them, an exclusive club membership. I was on the outside looking in. I hated it. I knew I'd fuck her ass soon and not take no for an answer.

The drive had been long and I was tired. I closed my eyes and let myself picture fucking her ass and how good that would feel. Instead I saw images of Chuck's cock forcing her open and sinking in.

Chapter 10

I awoke to soft, secretive voices. Oscar was asleep in the big chair facing the television. The sound was off but on the screen, drag cars raced. Six beer cans sat on a table near him. The room was dark but a light shone beneath the bathroom door. I glanced around: No Trina, no Chuck. The clock above the television said I'd been out about two hours. Voices whispered again, from behind the bathroom door. I eased off the bed and crept close, silently.

"Seven kids?" Trina murmured. "That's a lot."

"Those are the ones I know about," Chuck mumbled in response. "Those are the ones where the mothers came after me for child support. I probably got fifteen or twenty all over the US. More."

"You must drive a lot."

"I haul twenty-four, seven, three-sixty-five. I got bills you wouldn't believe. I don't know what it is about my cock. I've got magic juice in these balls or something. All I gotta do is get my dick near a woman and boom, she's pregnant."

"Good thing you fucked my ass," Trina giggled.

"Doesn't matter. I probably still knocked you up. One drop of Chuck cum is enough."

They chuckled together. There was a moment of quiet.

"Can you imagine?" Trina asked. "Imagine you've impregnated me. You're a stranger. I know nothing about you. Can you imagine if you put a baby in me? Jesus. That's decadent."

Why didn't I hear alarm in her voice? Why no revulsion? She should be recoiling from the idea. I heard them moving around. It sounded like they were sitting on the bathroom floor. They'd wanted to talk but let Oscar and I sleep.

"I guess I wouldn't owe you any child support," Chuck said. "You make way more than me already."

"And I told you to skip the condom. That puts the responsibility back on me."

"Yes ma'am. You wanted this cock bareback."

"Is that what it's called?"

"Yes ma'am. Hookers charge extra for bareback."

"I gave you bareback for free."

"I sure am grateful."

Trina giggled.

"Let me see it again," my wife said.

More shuffling. A zipper.

"Damn that's a nice cock," my wife said. "Bring it to me."

Shuffling.

"I wish Oscar was awake. I'd love to compare you two side by side. Throw Kenny in the mix too. See my husband's cock next to both of you."

"He seems like a good man."

"He is," she said. "He's the best man I know. I love him with all my heart. I hope you know that. I hope you understand nothing I do with you or Oscar or anyone else changes how much I love my husband."

"I do know it," Chuck said.

They were quiet for a moment.

"This is a gorgeous piece of meat," Trina said.

"I'm happy you like it."

"There's something exciting about a cock I can't conquer. I can't get all of it in my mouth. I can't fit all of it in my pussy. I can handle it and I love that. Sometimes it hurts me but I don't mind. A cock like this forces every thought out of my head. I think about nothing except how it feels."

I pictured her holding him in her hand, turning his cock this way and that.

"You get so hard," she continued. "You're like this unyielding, unbendable iron spike in there. Everybody talks about size but nobody mentions stiffness. You get harder than my husband."

"When I was little I took a bath with my cousins. We'd been playing outside all day and gotten filthy. I pulled my pants down to jump in the tub with the rest and my aunt let out a whoop. I was already big even back then. Mama said I was born with a grown man's dick. She said I came out of the womb like that. She said all the nurses laughed, said I was going to be trouble. Don't know how true that story is but it's a story she told more than once."

Silence. I pictured Trina pondering that yarn.

"Twenty kids," Trina said.

"Maybe more," Chuck said. "Probably more."

"This gun is loaded and dangerous."

"Lots of victims."

Desperate to see what transpired, I laid on the floor and peered under the door. They leaned against the far wall, side by side. Chuck had his pants around his ankles. Trina was wrapped in a large white towel. She held his cock in the palm of her hand on the red tile floor.

"It's sexy that you've fathered so many children," Trina said. "Your cock is dangerous. In a minute your cock can turn women's lives upside-down while you get to drive off into the sunset. It radiates heat and virility. I know why women let you cum in them. We're drawn to it. I'm drawn to it."

Her free hand began petting the length of his dick like it was an iguana. Chuck said nothing but he began to swell.

"Don't do that," Trina said.

"I can't help it. You're the sexiest woman I've ever been with."

"Truly?"

"Easily. You're pretty and your body is unbelievable. I've never had a fit girl before, a girl that takes care of herself. I can't take my eyes off you. You're smart and educated. I've never been with any girl like that."

Chuck was saying all the right things without knowing it. The higher he built that pedestal to place her on, the hotter she got. She lifted her arms slightly and let the towel drop, exposing her firm tits. She pulled it off her lap to sit on it, and then parted her knees slightly.

"I left the condom out in the main room," Chuck said, voice husky.

My wife curled her fingers around his swelling girth.

"Don't worry about that" she muttered. "I want the risk. I want to fuck this dangerous cock. You can fuck me on this dirty bathroom floor, but be quiet. I want Kenny to keep sleeping through it all. This is just me and you."

"Jesus Christ," Chuck said. "Marry me."

"I'm already married, Chuck, but you can fuck me like I'm single."

My wife slid down the wall to roll onto her back. She lifted her legs and placed one foot on the toilet and the other on the bathtub. Her wet pussy was aimed at his face.

"It's hotter fucking you like you're married," he said. "Dirty girls are the best."

"Is that what I am? A dirty girl?"

"You're the best kind of dirty. You're an angel on the outside but a devil inside. Usually I have to pay girls to like sex this much but you do it for free because you like sex this much."

"I like your cock this much."

Chuck positioned his knees by her ass. From my spot peeking under the door I caught a glimpse of his scrotum but his dick was already hard and curving out of sight. His hands landed by her shoulders. I saw her hand search and find him, pushing the thick pulsing shank down, aiming him at her cunt. She pulled him forward, pulled him into her body. Chuck groaned.

"You're fucking tight," he gasped.

"Kegels. During yoga."

"What the fuck's a Kegel?"

"Never mind," Trina gasped. "God, your cock is a log. Pull back for a second. Yeah. Better. Now bury it."

My wife groaned like she'd been stabbed.

"Easy," she whimpered. "That's good. Fuck me. Go slow."

Under the door I saw her coil her legs around his. Chuck pumped slowly, savoring each inch of this high-class lady wrapped around his cock. I heard her wetness as he moved in and out.

"It used to be Oscar's," Trina murmured. "But now I have a new favorite cock."

Chuck sawed in and out slowly.

"You turn to steel," she mumbled. "You were just soft in my hand."

"You turn me to steel," he said.

My wife slapped her hands on his ass, helping him fuck her. For a time, all I heard were their stifled moans and smothered gasps. He fucked my woman with short strokes, lowering his mouth to suck her pert tits. She whispered encouragement, urging him to shoot whenever he wished.

"Cum for me and I will," he said.

"I can't. I'm too loud. Kenny will hear and investigate. I've never done anything without him, not like this. Not hidden. Not behind his back."

Chuck, buried, stopped fucking.

"I can make you cum and you won't make a sound," he said.

Something in his voice raised the hairs on the back of my neck.

"Is that right?"

"Yes, but you must trust me."

Trina debated. She did not know this man.

"Do it," Trina said.

His hands left the floor to circle her throat. His fingers dented her flesh as he began to squeeze. His hips began moving again, long slow strokes that filled her and left her empty and filled her again. Her breathing was ragged as he cut off her air. Her legs tightened around his, straining as her oxygen dwindled. She wheezed, trying to pull air into her lungs. His hips were a slow piston, strong and steady.

Trina began to panic. She slapped his hands but he just kept fucking. She pulled at his wrists but he just kept fucking. She began to writhe, deprived of life sustaining air, but he just used her thrashing to work his cock deeper and keep fucking.

I'd placed my hands on the floor, a heartbeat away from barging in, when Trina made a strange low keening sound and launched into convulsions. He kept his grip on her delicate throat but this only made my wife orgasm harder. His cock was a spear buried in her, impaling and pinning her. Almost without a sound my sweet Trina climaxed all over his intruding man meat, gushing juice and jerking with spasms. He worked his cock until she was spent, drain and defeated.

"I'm going to let go of your neck," he said. "When I do, I want to hear you say you're a whore. You understand?"

Trina nodded as best she could.

He pushed his cock deep, released her throat. My wife sucked bushels of air. Tears streamed from her eyes to run down and wet her ears.

"I'm a whore," she whimpered.

He kissed her forehead. She wept a little. Soft sobs of emotional and physical release. She sighed deeply.

"Why was that so intense?" she asked.

"I don't know. Something about oxygen starvation. It amplifies your orgasm. A hooker in Vegas showed me. She was addicted to it so be careful. You'll need some time before you can do it again."

"I've never climaxed so hard in my life."

She wrapped her arms around him in a hug.

"Now fuck me and empty those balls."

"Are you sure? We're taking a big chance."

My wife shivered on the bathroom floor. Not from cold tile, but from the idea a stranger could shoot a baby into her. How obscene and depraved.

"I feel your dangerous cock throbbing in there. I can't wait to feel you explode inside me. I want every drop."

Chuck worked her towel under his knees and drew his cock all the way out. He sheathed his meat again, forcing a moan from Trina. He circled his arms under her neck and brought his body snug against hers. She tightened her hug. His skinny hips began an up and down. Their faces were close, noses touching. Trina grinned.

"Why haven't you tried to kiss me?" she murmured.

"I'm not a good-looking man," he said. "I got no business kissing a fine-looking woman such as yourself."

Trina's grin faded. She closed her eyes and kissed Chuck on the mouth. He hesitated an instant and then returned her kiss with passion and a quickening of his hips. They stayed like that, hot kisses while he fucked her.

"Squeeze me with your cunt again," he gasped. "Perfect. Again. God damn."

"You like that?" she asked.

"It's incredible."

"You feel so thick and hard. I've never felt a cock like yours. I'll let you fuck me whenever you want. I'll give you my number and whenever you make a run through Washington I want you to come by our house and fuck me. Promise."

"Your husband will be cool with that?"

"My husband loves me to play the slut."

"Squeeze my cock again. Fuck that's good."

They'd made my penis hard. I felt her grip on my dick every time she squeezed him. I couldn't jack off without the risk of awakening Oscar so I just laid there on the floor, eye pressed to the gap under the door, and watched Chuck take my woman. Minutes later Trina spoke.

"Let's stand up," she said. "Fuck me from behind. We can watch ourselves in the mirror. I want to see you fuck me. I want to watch your face when you cum."

Seconds later all I saw were bare feet. Trina leaned over the sink and Chuck got behind her. She groaned as he sank his cock deep.

"I love your dick," she rasped. "I know I keep saying that."

"Say it all you want."

His feet were outside and behind hers and for a long time all I heard was the occasional slapping of flesh.

"It's coming," he hissed.

Trina rose to her toes, no doubt thrusting her butt back at him. The slapping flesh grew louder. This man was about to ejaculate a bucket of sperm into my wife. The next instant his toes curled and he snorted. Scattered droplets of spit fell to the floor. His feet moved erratically.

"Cum in me!" Trina urged, voice low and strained. "I feel you shooting!"

He was cumming at that moment, inseminating my wife, spraying scalding semen deep inside her while keeping his mouth shut. God! I needed to jerk off so much. My dick throbbed as his spit his hot lava. He shot a long time before everything slowed. Their feet stopped moving and then his took a step back. A cup of cum splattered the floor. Trina's feet turned.

"Why's it still hard?"

"It does that sometimes," Chuck answered, breathless. "You turn me on."

Trina's knees joined her feet on the floor and I heard slurping. She cleaned his cum-covered cock with her mouth. I heard her hand jerking him.

"Can you cum again?" she asked.

He chuckled.

"What?" he asked. "You think I'm fourteen or something? I need a little time."

More slurping. More stroking.

"Your cock gets me hot," she said. "Put it back in and let me make myself cum."

She turned away from him and then gasped softly. I heard her hands rubbing her clit fast and furious. He kept his cock in her, giving her pussy something to grip, until she masturbated herself to yet another orgasm. Once she caught her breath she turned and cleaned him again.

"All right," she mumbled, finally. "I could fuck that dick all night. Let's try for sleep."

"I'll sleep in my truck."

"No," my wife said. "Come to bed with me. I'll sleep in the middle. What about Oscar? There's no room for four."

"Leave him. He prefers that chair. Bad back."

"Sounds good."

I raced them to bed. They must have stopped to kiss because I was well in position when the bathroom door opened. The light was off but in the glow from the television I saw Trina wearing only a T-shirt. Chuck was dressed the same, pendulous cock swinging under the bottom of his T like a clapper on a bell. Trina crawled carefully into bed, facing me, and Chuck spooned her. I knew, I knew that meat would slide into her again before sunrise.

Chapter 11

"That's him," Gendry said. "Wait here. I'll bring him over."

My agent disappeared into the crowd.

Yet another Hollywood party. A studio had expressed interest in the film rights to book two and we were back in LA negotiating. This mansion hung on a cliff overlooking the Pacific and I'd commented how our host may have purchased the home from Tony Stark. Only Trina laughed.

"Lots of beautiful people here tonight," Trina said.

"You going to find a cock to suck?"

She took my hand.

"Maybe," she said. "Would that be all right?"

I didn't answer. She knew I'd love it if she did. We gazed out over the crowd, people talking and laughing and drinking and smoking.

"Gendry's going to get a lot for your book," Trina said. "I can feel it."

"I hope you're right."

"Then I can quit the hospital and make moves like Ashley."

"Is that what you want?"

She shrugged.

"Not really. Those aren't my people."

I jerked a chin at the room.

"Are those your people?"

She shook her head.

"No."

"Then who is?"

"Chuck. Oscar. Men like that."

"Men that adore you. Men that worship you."

She laughed.

"What's wrong with that? They get what they want and I get what I want."

"Perfection. Everybody's happy."

She snuggled close.

"Thanks for not divorcing me after I sucked Bradley's cock."

"I was upset," I admitted. "But also hugely conflicted. I liked it so much it scared me. I took a while to work things through."

She hugged me. Gendry returned with a slick looking Hollywood producer type guy. He'd worn a suit to the party. My agent made introductions and we touched on a few key points, things I insisted they not change, and then I turned the rest over to Gendry. Trina and I watched them head for the patio.

"Should we go find you that new dick to suck?" I asked.

"No," she said, shaking her head. "Let's get out of here. Let's drive east until we find some dump, some dive bar with three people in it. I pick one of those guys and turn his world upside down."

"Too bad Oscar or Chuck aren't around."

"Oscar drives through Seattle in three weeks. Chuck two weeks after that."

She tilted her head to look into my eyes. We needed no other words. We understood each other. We were partners. Movement drew her eye.

"Look who's coming," Trina said.

Gendry, with Bradley in tow. I smothered a laugh.

"Hey guys," Gendry said. "I wanted you to meet that first party but that never happened. Brad, this is Kenny, the writer, and his wife, Trina"

Brad shook my hand and swung his attention to my wife. He froze, his mind racing.

"You look really familiar," he said. "Are you in movies?"

"I've done a few porn," Trina quipped. "But you might be remembering me from a party about a year ago. We first met then when I sucked your dick."

Bradley had no idea what to say. He looked to Gendry, who looked equally confused.

"You guys sort it out," my agent said.

End.
