Gabriela Gets An Education

Part Two

By Matthew Lee

Chapter 1

“So, you didn’t actually go to college,” Justin said. “You went to a school to get ready for college?”

“That’s right.”

“Then, why not just go to college? Seems like a waste of time and money.”

I watched Justin sip from his can of Budweiser. How many times had I already tried to explain this to people from high school? Was Justin worth another attempt? I sighed.

Gabby and I had come home for the summer to see family and friends and take a much-needed break. So far we’d been to a pool party, roller-skating, and, today, Carmen’s birthday party.

Nobody back home knew the crazy things we were doing at Exeter, and Gabby and I agreed to keep it that way. Secrecy was important. Nobody needed to know what we were up to. The school was founded on religious principles and while they no longer taught Christian doctrine, they did still house the girls separately from the boys. A sexual incident could get you suspended. What Gabby and I had going on could get everyone involved expelled.

Of all our parents, Carmen’s were the coolest. Not cool like they’d smoke pot with you but cool like her mom is a writer and her dad paints and rebuilds damaged eco-systems. No one at this birthday party was old enough to drink, legally, but her parents allowed those eighteen and up to have a few beers.

"Yes, the expense is great," I said into Justin's dull eyes. "Only the full scholarship allowed me to attend. But when I graduate I have a guaranteed spot at Harvard or Yale. Any top university I want, really. I lose a few years but studies show I will make far more in the long run. I'm not looking to get a job; I'm looking to create jobs. Those kids with bachelor degrees will work for me at one of my companies."

Justin pondered for a moment. "Cool. Maybe you will hire me?"

I nodded thoughtfully. "Maybe I will, Justin."

He tapped his beer can against my Mountain Dew. "To my new job," he said.

I said the same and we drank.

"You and Gabriela still tight?"

"Better than ever," I said. "You know we got engaged end of senior year?"

"I heard."

"Why do you ask?"

"I saw her getting friendly with Brandon Skye and I was a little surprised. I know you and Brandon hate each other."

Ice water chilled my veins.

I met Brandon my first day of high school and he began a three-year reign of terror, bullying me every chance he got. He would have made it four years but I got up the courage to record him and showed the video to a teacher. When they did not act fast enough I turned to social media and local news stations. That did the trick. Brandon got expelled and went to live with his dad.

"What do you mean getting friendly?"

Justin waved towards the back of Carmen's house. "Sitting on Brandon's lap, smacking his hands. Things like that."

I tried to think of a reason to leave this conversation and go check on my fiancée.

"Plus she seems different," he continued. "She's more confident. I used to get the feeling if you guys broke up she'd kill herself, like she feared no other guy would ever want her. I saw her wearing something other than a sweat suit and talking to guys without running away. I thought maybe you'd split."

Now that he mentioned it, Gabby was dressing different. Her tops were tighter, she'd cut and styled her long hair, and I noticed red fingernail polish a few days ago.

"Nope," I reassured him. "We're better than ever."

"That's good to hear," Justin said.

I was still trying to figure out how to end this conversation when Justin said he needed to check on a friend. We shook hands and parted company.

Carmen's place is a single story three-bedroom so I had little ground to cover. I hoped Gabby was behaving. A fair number of people at Exeter knew my fiancée had sex with other guys but I wanted no one at home to know. I needed to find Gabby fast.

Carmen's dad had built a gazebo in the far corner of the backyard and that's where I found her. I was happy to see she wasn't on Brandon's lap but she did share a bench with him. They were surrounded by a mix of his friends from our high school and the school Brandon had to attend after I got him expelled.

"What's up, Chuck?" Brandon asked, predictably, when he saw me. He thinks it's hilarious to say up-chuck in a sentence.

I held out my hand for Gabby. "Not much, B. How are things?"

I played it cool but I really needed Gabby to leave his side and take my hand. She'd tutored him his junior year so they had a friendship independent of me, but at a moment like this, I wanted her allegiance to be clear. Bless her heart. She stood and held my hand without hesitation. Justin was right; her thin sweater was pretty tight.

"Can't complain. Gabby says you guys are kicking ass out at Philips."

He was too cool.

"We are. You guys have a good night," I said, before he could speak again, gently tugging Gabby to come with me.

"You too," Brandon replied.

I felt great. I felt like I won that exchange.

"Good night, Brandon," Gabby said.

"Good night, Gabby," he replied. A few of his friends giggled. Shit. They'll think Gabby was flirting with Brandon right in front of me. We walked in silence twenty feet before she asked where we were going.

"No place. I just wanted you away from him."

She leaned her body against mine as we walked. "He's just a friend, you know."

"I know. But I have a history with the guy."

She held my arm. A minute later I asked: "Did he say anything?"

She gave a little shrug. "The same things every guy says. He liked my sweater and my haircut. He said I have pretty eyes, but he says that every time." She chuckled. "When guys compliment my tops it's so they have an excuse to look at my tits. You're all so transparent."

I waited a heartbeat; "That's a nice sweater," I said, staring hard at her tits. She punched my shoulder.

"What else did he say?" I said.

"He asked what school was like for me."

I waited.

"No, Chuck. I told him nothing about what we're doing. I talked about academics. That bored him right away. You and I agreed to keep our secret life secret."

"Thank you."

We left Carmen's backyard and wandered down the tree-lined street where I grew up; quaint houses set back, broad lawns and no fences.

"We should go back to school early," she said, after a while. "The dorms opened yesterday. We can get a jump on our classes for next semester."

I wondered if that was her real reason for heading to school early, or if lusty passions were drawing her back.

Chapter 2

Martin had applied for an exemption to remain in the dorm and never went home. Those things are rarely approved but his sailed right through and I was sure he did some hacking to move it along. He's an only child with a single-mom and just enjoys school life better. He's made friends at Philips Exeter.

When I walked through my front door, I discovered my dorm was packed with kids playing a massive online game. There was food all over the floor and empty wrappers everywhere. Jackets and sweatshirts buried our couch. It was already cold outside but the fall and winter looked to be mild this year. I waited patiently and as soon as he got to a stopping point he hit pause and told everyone to help clean up. An army of minions got our place squared away in no time.

I got online and purchased my school books and downloaded and organized all my syllabi. I mapped the routes between classrooms and scheduled meals and study times and sleep. I even planned my campaign for sophomore class president before bed. Gabby sent me a text she was tired and going to crash and I wished her sweet dreams. We agreed to meet at the Waffle House for breakfast.

Martin said goodbye to his friends. I was brushing my teeth when he stood at the bathroom door.

I spit. "What do you know about the Fox Club?" I asked.

"Powerful. Enigmatic. You can't join, you must be invited, and only by a senior. I hear there's a secret initiation ritual. You want in?"

"Thinking about it. Looks great on a curriculum vitae."

"True. Know any seniors?"

I rubbed my chin. "Let me work on that one."

I didn't. Not anymore. I knew several that just graduated though. Maybe I could have Gabby reach out to Blake or Dakota and get me an invite from someone still at the school. That idea came with perils, however. I worried if Gabby reached out, they'd reach back. I could easily remember Dakota on top of her body tiny, pounding and grunting until he blasted inside; a sight I both hated and loved. I shook myself.

"You okay?" Martin asked.

"Fine. Just reliving an unpleasant memory."

"I bet you have a lot of those."

I heard his bedroom door open and saw movement behind him.

"What's up, dudes?"

Martin stepped aside and I saw a skinny young man, obvious freshman, thick glasses and dirty brown hair. I raise my eyebrows at Martin.

"Oh, sorry; Chuck, meet Jerry."

We jerk our chins at each other.

"Jerry is a coding God," Martin continues, "and that's saying something coming from me. He hacked Wells Fargo."

“NASA too, almost.” His voice was nasally and high. “But my mom found out.”

“Jerry is my partner on Sniper’s Nest. We’re going to take down Rommel’s hideout. Probably take us until dawn.” They high-fived.

“Cool,” I said.

Martin turned to Jerry. “You ready?”

“To kill Nazi’s? Hell yeah. I just need to pee.”

Since Martin and I share a bathroom I finished up and said goodnight. When Martin and his friends get in the zone, time has no meaning. They’d play all night.

I went to my bedroom and checked my phone for a message from Gabby, found none, and put my toothbrush away. I realized I left my Bluetooth in the bathroom and quickly spun on my heel. I opened the bathroom door to see Jerry holding his phone close to his thick glasses with one hand while holding his cock with the other, urinating. The kid had a slab of beef hanging, I had to give him credit.

Let me just stop right here.

I’m sure your first thought is; “I bet later Jerry fucks Gabby with that big dick.”

I get why you’d think that. Considering everything Gabby and I went through the last ten months, I’d have the same thought. So, let me just admit you’re right, he does. Sorry to ruin the surprise. I’m only telling you because when I saw Jerry’s cock, and this is hard to admit, I wanted to see Gabby fucked by it. I thought you needed to know that.

I apologized to the kid for barging in and grabbed my Bluetooth, quickly shutting the door behind me. I dropped into my chair and stared at the floor.

When Spencer first blackmailed Gabby, he forced me to watch as she blew him. I almost died. Gabby too. We had been saving ourselves for marriage. Spencer casually destroyed our naïve innocence without a backward glance. In the months that followed he used Gabby often and shared her with friends too. He treated us terribly but he also awakened something in her. By the time the school year ended, our situation had evolved to the point I’d sit near the bed and masturbate while Gabby writhed with orgasmic pleasure while some guy hammered away at her.

I was amazed how sexual Gabby was turning out to be but I was equally amazed with myself. I'd get so excited watching her. We never talked much about it; we didn't have the language or the maturity to have a conversation about our feelings. We were reacting as things happened to us, repeating what we liked and avoiding what we didn't. We operated on gut instinct.

When I saw Jerry's big dick, I instantly thought of Gabby. I connect anything and everything sexual to her now. I imagined her expression looking at that cock. I saw her mouth open to suck it. I heard her moans as it pushed inside. She'd love Jerry's penis.

I left the chair and shook my head.

Go to bed, Chuck.

I was tired. I'd pushed hard all day, gotten a phenomenal amount of work done, eaten too little and stressed too much. The hour was late. I needed sleep.

By morning, I'd changed my mind; Gabby and Jerry needed to remain strangers.

I met Gabby at the Waffle House. She wore a body-hugging long-sleeved pastel pink sweater and jeans and her big round tits looked fantastic. We talked a million miles an hour. I told her everything I'd accomplished so far and she acknowledged the same. The first day of school was a week away but we were ready.

I walked her to the library and left her at our favorite table while I tracked down a few supplemental texts I'd need. I was on the second floor, which looked down on the first, when below I saw Spencer take a seat across from her. She was reading and didn't notice. He grabbed her hand and growled "Boo!" and she jumped. He laughed and she threw his hand back at him. They both laughed and started talking.

He extorted the sex from her in the beginning but no more. I watched two familiar lovers have a chat. I got that acid-drip in my stomach I always do but my heart fluttered too. I don't understand how I can be excited and jealous at the same time. I don't understand why I get excited at all, but I do. Gabby is naturally sexy just sitting and reading. She's infinitely more so when behaving sexually. I concealed myself behind a bookcase and watched. Nothing happened, other than simple conversation, which I was too far away to hear, yet I found their interaction titillating. Each time he made her laugh, each time he touched her hand, each time their eyes met; I saw the sexual tension.

Eventually Spencer brushed his fingertips along her hand and said something and Gabby looked down at her books, thinking. She waved her hand at the library around her and I got the feeling she was mentioning me. Spencer smiled and grabbed his backpack and headed for a small audio/visual room, looking back at her. Gabby sent her eyes around the library, rising through all five floors, obviously looking for me, and then darting mischievously for Spencer's private room. The door closed behind her.

I stayed where I was, pretended to thumb through a book, watching the door, realizing, after a few minutes, I was disappointed I couldn't see Gabby sucking cock. Other guys got to enjoy her feminine gifts but not me. Why did that turn me on?

Twenty minutes later Spencer walked out grinning. Gabby soon followed and returned to her seat to study. I felt positive she'd just sucked him off.

Welcome back, how was your summer vacation?

I put the book away and headed to our table. She saw me as I emerged between bookshelves and licked her lips, smirking.

"What did I miss?" I asked, dropping into the chair Spencer had vacated.

"Spencer."

I acted surprised. "He's on campus already? I never pictured him so dedicated."

Gabby leaned across the table and I automatically leaned in to meet her. She exhaled sperm-breath in my face, giggling, and, before I could react, grabbed the back of my head and kissed me deeply, her slippery tongue swapping spit with mine. I returned her passion, just like always, but this time Spencer mingled with our saliva. I tried to pull back but Gabby held me, swirling her tongue all around inside my mouth.

She finally released me and I sat back in my chair.

"What is that?" I asked, knowing Goddamn well.

"I told you," she giggled again. "Spencer."

"You blew him? Where?"

She motioned with her head towards the audio room.

"That was fast."

"He was horny and in a hurry," she said.

I was jealous, but I wasn't mad. "Sorry I missed him," I said, sarcastically.

Gabby perked right up.

"Are you? Because blowing him got me hot. Are you sure you want to save our sex for marriage? I think we should go back to your place and kick Martin out. I love that you want to make our honeymoon special but damn, I'm horny. What's the point if I'm having sex and you're not?"

"It's important to me."

"I know, sorry for bringing it up again. Baby, I think about sex all the time. I never used to. I was focused on school and work. Now my pussy feels empty all day. Maybe there are things we can do? What if we tried oral sex? I'd love to suck your dick. Wouldn't that be okay?" She leaned closer and lowered her voice. "Wouldn't you love to eat my pussy?"

Wow. In less than a year Gabby was a completely different girl.

She might be comfortable with sex now but I wasn't. The idea of going down on her totally intimidated me. I had no idea what to do. I made a mental note to study online porn and get a jump on my sex education, but no way was I going to allow those other guys to ruin my honeymoon night.

"Gabby, our wedding night is very important to me. We'd only be having sex because you had sex with them, and that's a terrible reason. I don't want to give them that much power. They've taken a lot from us but I won't give them this too. We've talked about our honeymoon for a long, long time. I still believe that night will be magical. I need to believe that."

She stuck her bottom lip out in a pout but her eyes turned soft and loving.

"All right, Baby," she said. "I understand. Spence mentioned the first Social is coming up and he wants me as his date. Will you go or stay home?"

My penis twitched. I ran my tongue over my lips and tasted salt.

"What do you want me to do?"

She pursed her lips and thought about it. "Stay home. That will help kill the gossip. I'll come by your dorm after, if it's not too late."

"Sounds good."

I needed to bring up another topic but it made me nervous.

"Have you heard from Blake or Dakota?"

She nodded. "Blake, no, but Dakota, last night. He'll be on campus next weekend for the homecoming game. Says he wants to see me."

See me. I knew what that meant and so did she. Did I already see a gleam of excitement in her eyes? Dakota would be the straightest line to my Fox Club desires.

Looks like I'll be offering sex with my fiancée for an invite.

"Do you know about the fraternities on campus?" I asked.

"Most. I wanted to talk to you about a few. I'm thinking I should join Alpha Delta Pi. They sent me an invitation and they're huge and well-connected. Why?"

"I want the Fox Club but I need a senior's invite."

She saw right through me.

"You want me to ask Dakota," she smirked.

"Yeah."

"Okay. Pimp me out for your own selfish aspirations."

I did not bother to deny it.

We tried to study but our minds raced. The upcoming semester seemed on a trajectory to surpass the last, and last semester was insane. We read in silence for a few minutes and then Gabby spoke.

"Now I'm hornier, Chuck. I wish Dakota was in town already."

Chapter 3

In the morning, I checked the schedule and visited the lacrosse field. Gabby had been right; I had the build for this game. Not big and strong like defensemen but fast and wily like attackmen. The coach gave me and a handful of other guys a tryout and added all of us to the team. I lack strength but I have stamina. I'll still be sprinting in the fourth quarter when everyone else is dragging.

The remaining days before the official start of school passed quickly. Gabby and I had a million things to do but we stayed focused and got them done.

We were in the laundry room when Dakota responded to her text and offered to introduce me to Jasper Bode, a linebacker like Dakota and now a senior. He added: "Jasper is just the kind of guy you two need."

"What's that supposed to mean?" I asked.

"I have no idea. I'll ask when I see him this weekend."

Her face glowed at the prospect. Maybe it was his massive muscular body or maybe it was his thick and heavily veined cock, but I just automatically deferred to the man. I was smarter than him, by a lot, but that didn't matter in the natural human hierarchy. He ranked higher and that gave him rights. If he demanded my woman, I gave her up; those are the rules. He was returning for the homecoming game but I knew he'd fuck Gabby that night. She knew it too. I heard the excitement in her voice.

Saturday morning brought my first lacrosse practice and I was pleased to learn Philips Exeter was part of an Intercrosse league which allowed girls to participate. If you think that made the game any safer, think again. Those girls were vicious. We ran our asses off for three hours, learning the basics and then a few plays, and then the coaching staff excused us to get to work on what they'd seen. We had another practice tomorrow.

Monday, Martin and I launched my email campaign for student body president and I hung flyers after class. The rest of the week was a blur; classes, homework, lacrosse, more homework, campaign speeches, where I learned my opponent would be Debra Kingsbee, more homework, and occasionally, food and sleep.

Debra was smart and pretty and everyone liked her but more importantly, she had daddy's money. I was in for a fight.

Gabby was skipping school politics this year.

Saturday dawned and I was out the door to lacrosse practice and then study time. Gabby joined me for two hours and we caught up on the week.

"Where do you want to meet before the game?" I asked.

"I told Dakota to meet me at the ticket booth. You want to join me there?"

"Perfect," I lied.

Dakota would be sitting with us for the game. In public. Where everyone would see all three of us together. I could already hear them calling me Cuck again this year.

“He says he won’t hang around,” she continued. “He wants to go see all the players he knows and will probably spend the game down on the sidelines. Did you know he got a full scholarship to play for Oklahoma? After the game, we’ll go for pizza and Jasper will meet us at the restaurant.”

“Great. I hope he can help.”

Gabby left to go grocery shopping with Diana, her roommate, and I studied alone for another hour. Back at my dorm Martin had his door closed so I showered and dressed for the big game. As I approached the ticket booth, I saw Gabby already had her arm slung through Dakota’s. She wore a pleated skirt above the knees, which was the shortest skirt I’d ever seen her wear, and a tight sweater in the school colors of crimson and silver. She even wore a little makeup; eyeshadow and lipstick.

They leaned against the ticket booth and the big man had a clutch of fans, mostly female, gawking at his muscles and asking about life at Oklahoma U. He looked even bigger, which made sense, given the Sooners world-class training program.

Gabby loved standing in his inner-circle, soaking up any residual adoration that spilled over. The jealous, fawning girls especially seemed to please her. Dakota played into it, keeping Gabby close like she was his girlfriend. Picturing them as a couple was easy and the idea stung.

She saw me and extended her free arm. Dakota asked how I was and we small-talked about a minute and then Gabby suggested we take our seats. The three of us walked into the stadium just like that; arm-in-arm, Gabby in the middle. Heads turned and I felt a little what Gabby enjoyed so much. No one knew if we were dear friends or threesome lovers, which would be scandalous at this school, so tongues wagged. I loved the attention and the ability to push their buttons. Everyone said hello to Dakota so arriving at our seats took time.

Eventually, we settled in. Gabby sat between us and held both our hands. Her hand felt warm and several times I caught her looking up at Dakota. Halfway through the first quarter I realized she wanted to leave the game and go fuck him right now. I saw it in her eyes.

Dakota excused himself and made his way to the field where he was greeted by players and coaches alike. Gabby watched him like a hawk.

“If he had brains I’d be worried for us,” I said.

She took my hand. "Baby, I'm just having fun being a girl. I promise you have nothing to worry about. He could be Einstein and you'd still be safe. What I have with you transcends a simple relationship."

How romantic.

"I've never done anything like this," she said. "It's fun being a girl."

I leaned closer. "You want to leave and go fuck him right now."

Her gaze whipped around to me, reading.

"Yes," she said after a moment. "I do. Just look at him. Better yet, borrow my female eyes and look at him."

We both turned our attention to the field. One of the assistant coaches was giving Dakota a hug.

"Everybody loves and admires him," she said. "That pushes primal buttons."

"He's alpha?"

"Exactly."

She was already staring at him again.

I wanted to be angry but I understood. He had a similar effect on me. No, I did not desire sex with him, but I saw him as the top-dog. If he was around, he was in charge. We watched the game. Gabby kept one eye on Dakota. A concessioner came by and a guy a few seats down the row passed money and asked me to buy popcorn. I sent the snack and his change back.

"Thanks, Cuck," he said.

Gabby heard him and turned to me. "Why do some guys call you Cuck?"

I lowered my voice. "It's short for cuckold; a man with an unfaithful wife."

"Oh."

"Spencer's friend, Toby, started it last year and it caught on. I'd hoped it died over the summer but no."

"Does it bother you?"

"Sometimes. Mostly I just tune it out."

She thought about it a moment and then snuggled up to me.

"I like it," she whispered. "I love that you're a cuckold. I love that you let me fuck hot guys. It's an intimate thing we share. We're different and special. I think you show strength and trust each time. Forget about them, Baby.”

At halftime Dakota returned to his seat and shared some stories from OU, and we all had popcorn and soda. He and Gabby touched a lot but they never kissed, which made me happy.

The teams took the field and he joined Big Red on the sidelines again, cheering loudly until the final gun. Our boys won by fourteen. Dakota made the rounds saying his goodbyes and then drove us to Pappy’s, the pizza place off campus. We sat and talked for an hour, sipping soda, looking up each time the front door chimed. At last the door opened and Dakota’s face lit up.

“Ghost!” he called out.

The man was well over six feet tall and probably two-hundred and fifty pounds. He had broad, rounded shoulders like Dakota and thick, muscular arms and legs. They could have been cast from the same mold, except this man had skin as black as coal.

“Kota!” the black man yelled back.

I glanced at Gabby. Her eyes were doing a slow crawl over every inch of this hunk. I worried she might actually drool. The guy had sharp, chiseled features and a dimpled chin. He wore a tight T-shirt and cargo shorts and sandals.

“Ghost,” Dakota said. “These are my friends, Gabby and Chuck.”

We shook and I watched my small white hand disappear inside his enormous black one. He was as monstrous as Dakota.

Dakota continued. “Chuck wants in the Fox Club and needs a senior’s invite. I thought you could help him with that.”

Jasper’s eyes darted to Gabby and I knew compensation had been discussed.

“Why does Dakota call you Ghost?” Gabby blurted.

The big men chuckled. “It’s a football thing. Jasper sounds like Casper, which is perfect because I’m white as a ghost too.”

I laughed along with Dakota and Jasper. Gabby looked confused.

“No worries,” Jasper said. “Just call me Jasper.”

Dakota asked me to go get the waitress and when I returned I understood why; Gabby now sat between them. I pulled an empty chair to sit across the table. She looked like a bunny sandwiched between redwoods. I realized with a shock I had no idea how Gabby felt about black guys.

The waitress took our order and departed.

I had no idea how I felt about black guys either. More importantly, I had no idea how I felt about how Gabby felt about black guys. We all talked about life at Exeter until the food arrived and then we dug in. We were ten minutes into the meal when I noticed Gabby's left hand was under the table, her arm angled slightly towards Jasper. He gave me a happy grin. I met Gabby's eyes and she gave me a hard stare. As I watched her face, she mouthed a single word; Big.

She took a bite of pizza. I knew she held Jasper's cock in her hand and my heart skipped a beat. My mouth went dry. Where the fuck was this night headed?

I soon found out.

Gabby kept her hand under the table while she ate but once the waitress cleared our dishes, Gabby reached for Dakota too. We were in the corner and I shielded the table so her behavior was not as outrageous as it seemed, but still; she held two cocks out in public.

"Your place, Cuck?" Dakota asked.

I gave him a clumsy nod.

Dakota drove and I sat in the passenger seat but Jasper and Gabby sat together in back. I tried to give Jasper shotgun but Gabby said she wanted to finish her conversation with him. After a while silence filled the car and I turned to see Gabby French kissing Jasper, his jet-black hand holding her lily-white chin. He dropped his hand to her big tits and massage through her sweater.

Dakota parked close to my dorm. On the way through my apartment I saw Martin in the kitchen making a peanut butter and jelly sandwich. His eyes grew big as our foursome headed for my room. I closed my door and shot the bolt. Behind me I heard the rustle of clothing and jingle of belt buckles. I took a deep breath. I turned.

Dakota and Jasper stood side by side, naked, huge, powerful. My fiancée was already naked too and on her knees. Two hefty cocks, one black, one white, hung inches from her face. She looked up at the men like an obedient slave.

"Show Ghost what you can do," Dakota said.

Gabby was eager to comply. She curled her fingers around Dakota's meat and began to stroke, sliding the loose skin up and down. She kissed Jasper's dark brown head and opened her mouth wide, working him deeper with her tongue. Her lips sealed around his shaft and her cheeks sank in as she vacuumed his ebony cock. I now knew how Gabby felt about black guys. Her eyes were wide open and staring up into his. His dick quickly gleamed from her saliva.

"That's some excellent cock sucking," Jasper said.

"I trained her on this," Dakota said, hefting his dick in one hand. The guys chuckled again. They fell silent, gazing down at the sweet, pretty girl with the big tits, trying so hard to please them. Jasper put his hand on her head and his fingers reached almost to her jaw.

Dakota took a step closer. "My turn," he said.

Gabby backed her mouth off Jasper and slipped Dakota in, closing her lips. She jacked him into her mouth and moaned.

"What's this this remind you of?" Dakota asked Jasper.

"Miami."

They both laughed.

Dakota looked up at me. "You know the drill; jack off while you watch me fuck your girl. I can't have you just standing there and staring."

I hurried to obey the alpha male.

"In fact," he continued. "How about this? You stand between us so Gabby can see your dick too. I know you guys are saving your shit for marriage but I think she'd like your prick waving in her face while she takes care of us. Make her feel less guilty."

He looked down at Gabby. "Would you like that, Darling? Cuck stroking while he watches you?"

Gabby moaned and nodded several times.

"There you have it, dude. Get naked and get over here."

I undressed and they stepped aside to make a space for me. I filled the gap, Gabby directly before me, and started masturbating while she serviced them. She watched me get hard with a burning intensity, sucking and stroking Dakota and then doing the same to Jasper. Back and forth she went until I was throbbing in my hand.

"Come closer," she said.

I nervously took a step forward.

She popped Jasper's cock out of her mouth and held his dark meat against mine. The difference was astonishing, like comparing a boy's penis to a man's cock. Dakota chuckled and moved closer too, sandwiching me between their hot dicks. Both were at least twice my size, maybe more. I wasn't about to go find a tape measure. Gabby sucked Jasper while gazing into my eyes and then, mouth wide open, sailed across the space and closed her mouth on Dakota. Their cocks were shiny and slick and she looked wildly sexy. I felt a shooting tingle each time her open mouth passed the tip of my dick. I was a good six inches or more behind them but still, looking down at my dick and seeing Gabby's open mouth was exciting. She kept her eyes on mine.

"I need to fuck this baby-girl," Jasper said. "Clear your bed."

I grabbed the laundry I had not yet put away and stacked it on the floor. Dakota stroked his cock as he watched me. Jasper moved behind Gabby and wrapped his huge arms around her and she practically vanished. His warm, jet skin looked striking next to her frosty white. He cupped a big tit and rolled her pink nipple and I saw her adjust her hips. An instant later his long black spear slid out between her legs, through her gap, splitting her labia and dragging across her clit. Her legs buckled but he had her with his arms. He thrust a few times, rubbing his fat erection against her pussy. He pushed all the way forward and six solid inches jutted out from her mons. She tried to twist around to kiss him but he held her tight.

"Condom?" he asked Dakota.

Gabby snapped her head around to look at me.

"What do you think?" Dakota asked.

I studied my beloved's face. Her eyes were desperate. She wanted nothing between herself and these hot young studs and I could not disappoint her.

"No," I said. "I know what Gabby wants."

Jasper grinned and leaned her forward, causing her tits to swing out in space, and moved his hips around, probing. That black cock head retreated and then Gabby gasped and her eyes grew big.

"That's what I want," she growled. "Get it in me. Hurry. Oh shit. Oh shit. Oh shit."

Her jaw dropped and her eyes swelled. I knew he was traveling up inside her.

"Fuck!" she exclaimed, grimacing. "God, yeah, more, get it in there."

I examined her expressions; discomfort, pleasure, surprise, shock, deep pleasure. Jasper was filling her pussy with dark meat and Gabby loved it. I saw nothing of the penetration but everything on her face. He walked her to the bed and bent her at the waist, his hips now smoothly pumping back and forth.

"That is tight fucking pussy," he gasped. "How'd you get in here, Kota?"

"Takes a while," he drawled. "But sweet Gabby loves her little hole stuffed with hard dick, don't you sweet Gabby?"

"Unngh, yeah, keep going."

Jasper moved his hands to her hips and thrust deep. All the air rushed from her lungs and she groaned but reached back to grab his thighs, trying to pull him even deeper. He partially withdrew and then sank balls deep inside my girl. Gabby dropped her head. Jasper began fucking her, her long hair swinging in time with his thrusts.

After a few minutes, he walked her forward onto my bed. She moved to all fours. Her tits bounced wildly.

"I'm gonna cum fast," he warned. "Pussy too tight and it's been too long."

"Fill her up, Ghost," Dakota said. "We got all night."

Gabby moaned and Jasper did too. He fucked faster and deeper and I heard Gabby's cries of pleasure begin to climb. The idea of sperm inside thrilled her. She was moving towards orgasm too. Jasper got there first and exploded, pumping hot jizz deep for a long time. When he finished, he remained motionless, savoring her tight grip, then pulled his drooling black cock free with a sucking sound. Gabby's pussy was awash in thick, white cream.

Dakota quickly stepped up. He placed one foot on the bed and pulled Gabby's hips to him. He bent his huge erection down to line up with her slit and eased his cock into my fiancée's guts. Gabby held still, like an animal used for breeding, and chewed her bottom lip. I couldn't imagine what penises that large felt like. She seemed overwhelmed with pleasure.

She'd wince every now and then when the guys hit a bad angle but otherwise she loved their big cocks fucking her. Dakota held her in place and quickly built up speed, slurping and sloshing sounds bouncing around my room. After a while he moved Gabby to her back and crawled between her legs. Jasper's white cream was gone now, pushed far inside by Dakota's fat shaft. He began fucking her missionary and Gabby kissed his massive chest, running her hands over his arms, enjoying his muscles. Small whimpering sounds escaped her throat as this hulking brute pummeled her depths.

"Your load's gonna make me cum too fast," Dakota said. "She's super slippery."

Jasper laughed. "Just like Miami," he said.

Dakota clamped his jaw. He bent her legs over her body and hammered her tiny hole. Gabby was moaning and gasping, moving closer and closer to climax.

"Nope," Dakota grunted. "Been too long. Shit, here it comes!"

His strong ass clenched and his back flexed and white hot sperm sprayed everywhere inside my girl. His throbbing dick swelled bigger and he fucked faster and his climax lasted a long time. Gabby urged him to give her every drop.

Soon he rolled off and she snuggled under his strong arm. Her tit mashed his chest. Jasper had moved to his pants and now checked his phone.

"Shit, dawg. Teena is only an hour out. I gotta go."

Gabby lifted her head. "Wait. You guys are leaving?"

"Sorry, girl," Jasper said. "I owe you one. My girlfriend is on her way. Kota, you give me a ride?"

Dakota nodded as he slipped from the bed to put clothes on.

Gabby opened her arms to me and I crawled onto my bed. We watched the guys quickly dress and then both came over to give my fiancée a kiss. They fist-bumped me and headed for the car. I locked my bedroom door behind them.

Gabby looked at me, frustration knotting her brow.

"What?" I asked.

"I'm dying."

"What do you mean, Baby?"

She chewed on a fingernail. "They got me so close. My whole body aches."

I still wasn't understanding. She spelled it out for me.

"Chuck, Honey, will you make me cum?"

A giant gong rang in my head. "What?"

"I'm so close, Baby. They got me right on the edge. I'm almost there. I know you want to save intercourse for our wedding night but you can't leave me like this. Can we please make an exception? Just this once?"

"You want me to fuck you?"

"No. We're saving that. I want you to make me cum."

"How?"

Gabby scooted higher on the pillows and spread her legs. "Use your tongue," she breathed. She slipped a hand behind my head and tugged my face down. "Just lick me, Baby. I need it. Please? I swear I'll be fast. I'm dying."

I was torn. I wanted to; her bald pussy was smooth and pink and swollen. Just looking at it made my dick throb. Her pained face got to me. I wanted to make everything better. But we were supposed to be saving sex. Was I a fool? She's fucking other guys. Shouldn't I just give in and fuck her too?"

"No intercourse," she whimpered. "Just oral. Oral is okay, right? We're still saving the best for last. I won't even suck you. We can save everything else. Just get me there, please?"

She spread her legs wider. "Your tongue would feel so good, Baby."

I lowered my face to her pussy.

"Yesssssss...." She exhaled. Her head fell back.

I smelled her juices and something else, something tangy. Her inner labia protruded slightly, engorged with excitement.

"I have no idea what I'm doing, Gabby."

"It won't matter, Baby. Just lick softly...I'm tender. Just lick and listen to me. You'll figure out what feels best."

I pressed her thighs open and kissed her sticky pussy. Heat warmed my face. She smelled like bread dough. I slipped my tongue out and as delicately as stirring a rose petal, parted her outer lips. She shivered. I probed deeper, parting her inner lips, encountering intense heat and viscous fluids. She tasted sharp but clean. I stuck my tongue into her hole and licked her walls.

“Yes, just like that. God, Chuck, that felt so good.”

I leaned in and carefully curled my tongue, discovering a patch of rougher tissue just inside on the roof. I rubbed it with the tip. Her entire body tensed.

“God!” she grunted. “That’s perfect. Keep going.”

I pushed my tongue in and gently licked in a broad circle, stirring a spicy mix of slippery fluids. Gabby shuddered with pleasure and pulled my face closer so I pushed deeper and licked far inside her vaginal walls. Her pussy was a million degrees and dripping wet, coated with slick, salty liquids. I began to explore, testing what she liked and what she loved. I discovered I had profound control over what she felt and the sounds she made. I could make her dance. I learned soft was best, but sometimes soft-fast and sometimes soft-slow. I know what a woman’s clitoris is and when I found hers she almost died. I was too rough at first and she shoved my face away, but swiftly pulled me back.

“Sorry, Honey,” she said. “Keep going, gently.”

Within ten minutes I was a pussy eating expert. I loved it. Gabby was a writhing snake on my bed, squeezing me between her thighs, clawing my back, messing my hair. I had her moaning and groaning, almost laughing with pleasure. I felt powerful. Her juices were flowing, soaking my bedspread and trickling down my throat. In the back of my mind I knew Jasper and Dakota were mixed in and I was probably getting some of them, but that didn’t matter right now. All that mattered was the incredible result I was having on my love. I felt amazing giving this to her. I ate her pussy like a crazy man.

After a while the pitch in her voice changed, like the pleasure was so intense it almost hurt. She clamped her thighs to hold my face pinned to her mons and ground her hips against my mouth. I looked up her body to watch her maul her tits and twist her nipples. Her cries continued to climb and I wondered where they would end. I soon found out.

Gabby filled her lungs and held it. Her face twisted into a knot. Her body locked and her toes curled into tight little balls. I had no idea what was happening until it happened. With a shriek her head snapped back and she smashed her fist into my mattress. Her pussy gushed like a small fountain and I swallowed quickly while licking faster. She covered her mouth and screamed into her hand. Tremors raced up and down her body as every muscle she had trembled and convulsed.

I finally realized I was giving her an orgasm.

I was giving her an orgasm!

I licked and sucked faster than ever. Gabby went insane. I held on, trying everything, driving her higher and higher until she sobbed and covered her face. I was unsure what to do when a girl cries at this moment but her body continued to respond so I kept going. Her pussy was contracting around my tongue like she was trying to milk me. Juices flowed and I drank her like she fed me honey. She seemed to come down a little but I kept going and minutes later she screamed again and had another orgasm.

Honestly, my self-esteem had never been higher.

This one lasted longer but wasn't as mind-blowing but it left her exhausted. I kept going because I had discovered my new favorite thing and eventually she nudged my mouth away and pulled me up to snuggle her. My penis was a blazing diamond. She kissed my mouth and then licked her lips and smiled at me.

"It didn't bother you?" she asked. "You don't mind?"

"Mind what?" I answered, confused.

Her smile spread and she closed her eyes. "Never mind."

I spooned her, my throbbing erection dangerously close to her sopping hole, but we adjusted our hips so I slid through her gap, my penis head resting on her clit, many inches shorter than Jasper. I'd never been so turned on. We stayed like that until she started to fidget.

"Your turn," she murmured. "Cum for me."

She turned to face me and lifted her tits to my mouth. I sucked a stiff nipple and licked all around her areola. She placed my hand on my penis.

"Pull on it," she said. "I like watching guys masturbate."

I kept sucking her tits and began to jerk off.

"I love it when you watch them fuck me," she said. "I feel so hot and naughty. I know you love it too. Look how hard you are."

She was right.

"You look so sexy, Gabby. I don't understand why I like it so much."

She started moving my hand up and down my penis.

"We don't need to understand," she said. "Let's not analyze everything in our lives. Some mystery is good."

She laced her fingers between mine and her touch on my penis felt electric. She jacked me until I took over. She watched me for a moment and I liked her eyes on me. Occasionally I'd hold my stiff penis up for her to see, wondering if she was comparing what I had to Jasper or Dakota. How could she not? I stroked a few times and then held my dick at the base and lifted my hips, slowly thrusting my penis at the ceiling. She gasped a little.

"Your penis is pretty," she said.

"Thanks. Jasper and Dakota are much bigger, though." I stroked and rolled my testicles around before thrusting at the ceiling again.

She said nothing and her silence turned me on. My words hung in the air between us, honest and inescapable. Now we both knew we both knew. I stopped stroking.

"It's okay," I said. "You can speak the truth. I won't get hurt."

She exhaled. "Yes, they're so much bigger. Those guys are such men. They melt me, Baby. I bet they leave a trail of wet panties wherever they go."

"I bet they do."

"They're so tall and broad and strong. The big dicks are a bonus. I have little experience in these matters but those cocks perfectly compliment their physiques."

She leaned in and kissed me. "I fucked a black guy, Baby. I can't believe it. My parents would shit. It was over too fast but God, it was so hot!"

"You seemed to love it."

"I did. None of my girlfriends have been with a black man. I can't wait to tell Diana. She thinks they're super-hot."

I started slow stroking again.

"Thank you for making me cum," she said. "You have an amazing tongue. I hope we can do that again. I loved it. None of those guys ever think to do that for me. They just use me to get off." She laughed. "Don't get me wrong; I like the way they use me. In fact, I love the way they use me. Hopefully you want to do that to me again sometime."

"I do. I enjoyed it as much as you."

She gave me a skeptical grin. "No, you didn't."

I laughed. "No, I guess not. But I really loved it."

She snuggled up to me again. "Your balls must be aching. Let's get you there. I want to see your stuff shoot out."

I nodded.

"What can I do to help? Do you want me to suck on you after all?"

"Not until we're married. Stand at the foot of the bed and let me look at you naked. That will do it."

She played with her big tits and struck poses. She ran her fingers through her long hair. Whatever she thought looked sexy.

Maybe we should have sex, I thought.

I jacked off watching her but what put me over the edge was a fat dollop of sperm leaking from her slit to my bedroom floor.

"I wonder if that's Dakota or Jasper?" Gabby said.

Chapter 4

Monday after the game I got an email. The chairman of the Fox Club had received my name for possible membership and would like to interview me.

Thank you, Jasper.

I had an appointment tomorrow at six in the morning. I text Gabby right away and she was thrilled for me.

I was five minutes early and had my curriculum vitae ready. He was appropriately impressed with my accomplishments and then asked about my family and my upbringing. I thought the interview went very well. He said he would confer with his colleagues and I'd hear from him soon. We shook hands.

The next few days were tense. I checked my phone and my email a hundred times a day. Finally, I got back to my dorm after class and found a note under the door; soccer field, midnight, alone.

I told Gabby and Martin and, of course, I was five minutes early. The directions weren't specific so I wandered to the center of the field. The night sky was cloudy so the field was dark. I'd worn a jacket and stuffed my hands in the pockets.

Ten minutes later a shadowy figure steps from the goal at the end and starts towards me. He was there the whole time. He stops five feet away.

“Chuck?”

“Yes.”

“Take your pants off.”

I lifted my chin high and pursed my lips. “Say again?”

“Take your pants off.”

I got the feeling too many questions and this encounter would go poorly for me so I looked around to be sure we were alone and stepped out of my pants.

“Boxers too.”

Shit. Down came my underwear. He extended a gloved hand, holding something inside his fist. I lifted my hand to take it.

“We understand you have a fiancée. This becomes your initiation. Put these on and do not take them off. No more sex with your girl. Anytime a Foxman tells you to Present, you will drop your pants and show him.”

I held up lace panties, pink even in the dim light. They’d done their homework about me being in a relationship but missed we had no sex. Their hazing was not as bad as they thought. Still, I was not looking forward to lace panties.

“Put them on now. We will tell you when your initiation is complete.”

I stepped into the underwear. Sheer and tight, my genitalia were mashed behind a screen of pink lace. I swear my mystery man wanted to chuckle. He spun on his heel and walked away. I put my pants back on.

So. I’d completed stage one and I felt good about that.

I didn’t think about the lacrosse locker-room until the next morning when I had to change. I thought about taking them off but what if a Foxman played lacrosse? I stepped into a bathroom stall and changed into my shorts.

I’d been running around at practice almost an hour when an upperclassman, an attacker I did not know, worked his way close to me.

“Present,” he muttered.

No way was I pulling my shorts down on the playing field so I casually pulled my waistband aside to show I wore them. He snickered and ran off, satisfied. I was ordered to present in the library that evening and again as I jogged to my dorm that night.

For the next two weeks, I was told to present at least once a day. Three times it happened in front of Gabby. The first time she laughed her ass off but the second time she got thoughtful. I was walking her home through the quad around ten at night and a random senior walked up and told me to present. I stepped near a pine tree and showed my pink waistband. He laughed and messed my hair and hurried home. I looked at Gabby and saw her pondering.

“What?” I asked.

“Those are like a medieval chastity device.”

“I guess so, yes.”

“Interesting.”

She pulled out her phone, tapped a message, and hit send.

“What was that?” I asked.

“Patience,” she said.

We walked on and her phone chimed. She read and changed direction.

“Where are we going?”

“Your place,” she said. “Jasper is meeting us there.”

Instant heat.

“Why?”

She moved her pretty face close to mine. “Because I want him to fuck me with his big black cock.” She kissed the end of my nose. She took my hand and we started walking again. I felt the lace cut into my swelling penis.

Jasper was waiting outside my dorm. Martin was in the kitchen again so I introduced them. Gabby took Jasper’s hand and led him to my room, leaving me in the kitchen with Martin.

“What the hell?” he asked. “Is Gabby fucking that guy?”

“Yes.”

“Jesus, that’s fucking hot. Sweet, petite Gabby and that black mountain of muscle. You should set up a website, dude. Gabby would make a ton of money as a cam-girl, especially an interracial one. Can I watch? That guy’s huge. Does he have a big dick to match his big body?”

Would Gabby perform on webcam? Are you fucking Gabby too or just him? Did Dakota fuck her?"

"Martin!"

He stopped and controlled his breathing.

"Sorry," he continued. "But seriously, can I watch? Interracial is my favorite."

"Your favorite what?"

"Porn, ding-dong."

"I don't watch porn. Ding-dong."

I wanted Martin out of the picture but could not think of a reason to refuse. He continued to pester me until I just walked away and left him in the living room. I entered my bedroom intending to ask if Martin could watch but Gabby and Jasper were already going at each other, naked.

Jasper stood in the middle of my room and Gabby had her legs wrapped around his waist and her arms around his thick neck. His big cock arched up and disappeared into her slit. His huge hands gripped her butt cheeks and moved her up and down on his rod and they kissed hotly, his big lips covering hers, her large breasts mashed against his solid chest. His biceps curled as he pumped her on his cock.

"That's the hottest thing I've ever seen," I heard Martin whisper. He was standing beside me, quiet as a mouse, eyes big like golf balls, and little Jerry was with him.

Gabby broke the kiss and looked over at us, surprised to see company but especially surprised to see Jerry. She waved around the room.

"All of you; naked, now. Martin, you and your little friend take the desk chairs. Chuck, you come sit on the edge of the bed. I want you close."

Martin hurried to undress. Jerry was in a state of shock but followed Martin.

"Are we going to have sex with that girl?" he murmured.

"Yeah," Martin replied. "But keep your mouth shut and don't messed it up."

I started to undress but remembered my pink lace panties. Fuck. I did not want Martin to see me wearing them but I really did not want Jasper and Jerry to see me wearing them. Gabby read my mind.

"I know, Baby," she said to me, smirking. "It will be hot, don't worry. Just do it."

I had no idea what her game was but her lust was obvious. I kicked my shoes off and dropped my pants. Jasper glanced over and smiled but was not surprised and why should he be? No doubt someone from the Fox Club told him what my initiation would be. Jerry would not take his eyes off naked Gabriela. Martin looked at me like I was insane.

"Dude?" he said. "Crossdressing?"

"Long story," I shot back.

His attention swung back to Gabby getting fucked on a black iron rod. He sat at my desk and started playing with his dick.

"Jesus, Gabby, you're so hot," he said.

She smiled at his compliment, noticing Jerry's massive erection for the first time.

"Oh, that's nice," she purred. "What's your name?"

"Jerry. I'm friends with Martin."

"You all need to shut the fuck up," Jasper growled, "and let me at this gorgeous girl. You all can make introductions later."

We three males fell silent. Gabby's eyes flared, thrilled by Jasper's alpha assertion. His broad cock stirred her wetness and the sounds of her arousal filled my bedroom. I was getting harder by the second. My dick stretched the lace and Gabby kept stealing glances. I didn't understand but I think she liked that I was officially off-limits. Like that somehow freed her more. I don't know. What I did know was my penis behind bars elated her.

Next her eyes jumped to Martin and Jerry masturbating. They looked her from toes to hair, devouring her naked, gorgeous beauty the way only sexless virgin nerds can. She kissed Jasper again and then checked on me. She was the center of attention and loved it. Jasper moved to the bed but kept his cock buried. He laid Gabby on her back and lowered his weight and her pale form practically disappeared under him. All I saw were her small arms and shins. His strong black ass rose and fell as he worked his big black cock deeper.

"Me on top," I heard my fiancée gasp, after a while.

Jasper held on and rolled her over. She looked glorious. Her hair was a mess, framing her face and cascading around her big tits. Her nipples were hard, pointing up and begging to be sucked. She rode Jasper hard, forcing her tight pussy down to envelope his wide black shaft. She wildly scanned the circle; Martin, Jerry, me, Jasper, and back around again.

“Bring me your cock,” she told Martin.

He stood beside the bed and fed Gabby his dick. She sucked him fiercely, stroking with both hands and working hard to get that cum. Martin watched Jasper fuck and he’d told the truth; interracial truly was his favorite. He got so excited he came quickly and I watched my fiancée gulp it down. Martin had to push her off his dick. She was so eager she climaxed as she swallowed and Jasper was right behind her, pumping hot cum into her tight pussy. My penis strained at the underclothes I was forced to wear. Gabby tapped Jasper’s chest and lifted herself off. She flopped onto her back and held out her hand for Jerry.

“Your turn,” she breathed.

The freshman could not believe his luck. His hands trembled as he walked his dick forward. Gabby opened her thighs and then a delicate hand snaked down and spread her lips. I thought the boy might die. Jerry pointed his straining cock at her opening and eased into my beloved. Once buried, his hips began to pump, moving much too fast. Gabby slowed him down, telling him what to do, what felt best. The freshman lasted longer than I thought but soon he too blasted away inside her, almost yelling his moans. He seemed to lose himself, swooning, and then coming back suddenly, startled to find himself between a girl’s legs. He pulled his softening dick out, shaking his head and muttering. Martin and Jasper laughed.

The guys stared at naked Gabby. She spread her legs, a wicked grin lighting her face. I was confused for a moment then understood. With a sideways glance at my friends, I lowered my mouth to her soaking pussy.

God! The moan she made sent my penis throbbing. I carefully licked between her lips and circled her clitoris with the tip of my tongue.

“Ooooooh, Babyyyy,” she breathed. She closed her eyes.

I knelt next to the bed for a better angle and pushed my tongue as far up inside her as I could. Her back arched and she moaned again. Her vaginal walls gripped me and my rough taste buds scoured her soft, smooth interior. She was hot and slick and wet and salty and I worshipped every inch.

“Holy shit,” Martin whispered. “That’s love.”

Was it? Maybe. I suppose so. To me it felt like lust. I pushed her legs back to spread her open and buried my face in her sopping slit. She was a mess, extremely sensitive everywhere I aimed my probing, licking tongue and nibbling lips. I had her writhing with pleasure, already on her way to another climax, and I felt great.

Martin stiff again watching me feast.

"Move over a little," he said, partially climbing onto the bed. I didn't understand until his hard prick passed an inch from my face. I was right on top of the action when his pulsing head speared Gabby's pussy. He sank in and Gabby groaned.

"Fuuuuuck meeeee," she said, grabbing my head with both hands. I moved up to avoid Martin's dick and concentrated my lashing on her clit. Gabby went nuts. Martin fucked her as I licked and my fiancée lost her fucking mind. She came harder for us than she had for Jasper and that pleased me greatly. I continued licking and teasing her until she covered her face with my pillow and screamed. I kept licking even when Martin pushed his dick deep and spurted his second load of the night. Gabby may have orgasmed again; I couldn't be sure. Martin was grunting and convulsing as he shot and once he finished he just held himself over her, breathing hard. I was an inch away when he pulled his soft penis out. The moment Martin withdrew, Gabby pulled my mouth to her pussy. I took that to mean she liked what I was doing so I kept doing it. Martin backed away and after a minute Gabby muttered something.

"What, Baby?" I asked.

"I said: I think I can cum again. Keep going."

I kicked it up a notch; my tongue was a soft but firm whip, lashing her inside and out. I had her hips rolling and lifting. Moments later she grabbed my bedspread with both hands and growled like a cute grizzly bear, grinding her pussy against my mouth.

"Holy fuck!" she cried, and climaxed again.

I tried to keep eating her but she soon pushed my face away.

"Enough," she moaned. "She's raw. Come here."

I crawled up to wrap her in my arms.

"That was insane," she whimpered, kissing my chest. "I love it."

I was pleased. I felt proud. Officially, Christmas was still a little way off but I felt like it had arrived already.

Jasper took the hint. "Let's go, guys. Gabby, I'll see you later."

Chapter 5

Gabby and I did not speak for a long time, lying together in a strange afterglow.

"What triggered that group invitation?" I asked, finally.

She snapped the waistband of my panties.

"I don't get it," I said, confused. "These are just a joke, a goof. I'm being hazed before joining the Fox Club."

She turned serious. "I understand that."

"Then why did they excite you?"

She sat up on one elbow, her big tits swaying. "Can I be honest?"

"Please."

Her eyes narrowed. She fished for the right words. "When I asked if we could have sex and not save that for marriage, you said no."

"So? We've been planning that forever. We made that promise a long time ago."

"Yes, back when we were dumb kids. Now that I've had sex I get it; sex is awesome. What guy your age turns down sex? I started wondering if maybe you were saying no because you found me unattractive."

My mouth tumbled open. She continued.

"I offered myself a few times and you always said no. I was convinced you didn't want me. They made you wear those panties and suddenly you couldn't have sex with me. Now it wasn't because you didn't want me, now it was because you weren't allowed. If you have those on, it's not about me."

She moved up to the headboard and brought her legs down on either side of me. I was looking right up the barrel of the gun, directly at her messy pussy.

"Jasper was the perfect choice. As your sponsor, he knows what test they've assigned you. I knew you'd never take them off in front of him; your invitation would get rescinded. I was free to do anything I wanted, worry free."

"Gabriela, I want you very much. I want our first time to be special. I want our first time to be how and when we say. I don't want to rush it just because you've done it with others."

"You swear that's the truth?"

"Yes."

"You promise?"

"YES."

She studied my face. "You have more self-control than any man on Earth."

"Thank you."

"Can you see how that's hard for me to believe?"

"I can, but that's your insecurities talking."

She studied my face again. "Maybe. You might be right. Either way, if you're locked in those, I know exactly why you aren't fucking me."

She smiled broadly.

"You love being the center of attention," I said. "I saw it in your eyes. You had me and Martin and Jasper all hot for you and you loved it."

"I do. This last year has been crazy. I've never had guys look at me like that. You all look at me like I'm a beautiful, sexy girl, like you want to devour me. Do you know what that's like? I get dizzy. I want more."

She opened her arms and I moved up to lie beside her.

"You still want to marry me?" she asked.

"More than anything."

"Amazing."

That seemed to settle the matter. I saw her eyes soften as she glanced around my messy bed. She moved my arm to see my penis.

"You take them off to shower?"

"Yes."

"Do you sleep in them?"

"Yes."

She twisted until her face was close to my dick. "You should shave bald, like me."

"What? Why?"

"The pubic hair and the lace look weird together. You have a nice penis, Chuck. Hairless you'd look clean and pretty."

I nervously cracked a few knuckles. "Let me think about that," I said.

We snuggled for a while and then she said she had to get home because she had an early test. We kissed and I dressed and walked her home.

When I got back to my dorm I stood at the foot of my bed and remembered what I'd just witnessed. Like Gabby, I loved everything about it. I even liked the mild embarrassment and humiliation of my colleagues seeing me locked away, although those emotions were less clear. My balls ached from unreleased sexual tension and I moved in front of my big mirror. I pushed my underwear down and started jacking off, closing my eyes and picturing my super-hot fiancée. I had so many images flash through my mind. I was ready to cum quickly and shot a mess all over the glass. I wiped everything down and jumped in the shower.

I'd finished soaping when Gabby's suggestion came back to me. I held my penis straight out, examining the shape. Gabby was right; my dick was handsome. Nothing special size-wise but well-shaped. I grabbed the shampoo and squirted a drop and lathered my shaft and balls. With extreme care, I slowly dragged the razor all around, tapping the hair out repeatedly. I made a second pass and then a third, leaving nothing. I could not believe the heightened sensitivity. The water felt amazing, the lather felt amazing, my hand felt amazing. I rinsed and stepped out, dried off, wiped the steam off the bathroom mirror and checked out my bald dick.

Weird, but sexy.

I had the underwear soaking in the sink so I rinsed them out and pulled them up my legs. Gabby was right; hairless looked so much better. The thin material felt good against my extra sensitive skin. I rubbed my dick and felt a tingle.

"All right, Chucky Baby," I told myself. "Don't go all transsexual on me."

No worries about that. I got into bed and was asleep in less than a minute.

I was told to present twice before lunch. I did the usual waistband maneuver and both guys gave me a nod of approval. At lunch, I met Gabby and asked about her test, which she aced, and then told her I'd shaved. Her eyes lit up.

"I want to see!"

"We don't have time or a place right now," I said. "Later."

"I'm coming over around eight. I bet you look great."

We kissed and continued our hectic school day.

Martin was in his room with the door closed and that was fine with me. It's awkward when your best friend and roommate has fucked your future bride. I would have hidden in my room too.

Gabby has a key to my dorm so when I heard the front door open and close, I just kept studying. I looked up from my desk when I felt her eyes on me.

She had Jasper with her again! My girl's insatiable.

She giggled at my expression and closed the door behind them.

"Don't worry, Baby," she said, unzipping her sweatshirt. "I bumped into Jasper on my way here. It's his turn to make sure you're obeying the rules. He can't stay."

She pranced across the room and made me stand and then pulled down my sweatpants. She sank to her knees, staring at my bald dick under lace.

"I knew it," she gushed. "That looks sexy. All that hair just looked so wrong. How does it feel? Better?"

"Yes."

Jasper gave me a thumbs up.

"I know it sucks, bro," he said. "But you are almost through the initiation. Hang in there. I'll put in a good word for you."

"This is so humiliating," I said.

"Oh, poo," Gabby replied. "It's more funny than anything else. We're all friends here." She stayed on her knees but waved Jasper closer. "Really, really, good friends."

She unbuttoned his pants and worked his black cock through the opening. She held it on her palm and looked up at me. He was soft but thick and spongy. The head hung off the edge of her hand.

"Just look at this thing," she giggled. "It's like a black boa constrictor."

She did not need to tell me. I was looking at that thing. I was looking and holding my breath and wondering what she was about to do. She turned to look at the clock on my nightstand.

"You sure you don't have time, Jasper?"

He followed her eyes to the time. "I'm sure. Teena is probably parking her car right now."

Gabby lifted his cock and slipped the head into her mouth. Her soft lips closed sensuously around the plump head and flowed over the crown.

"Ungh. Damn it, girl. You don't fight fair."

He let my fiancée suck his dick another minute but then backed out of her mouth.

"I'm gonna fuck your brains out next time, but I've got to go."

I felt a weird twinge in my gut. Unbelievably, I was disappointed. I had to ask myself what was going on. Gabby was disappointed too, which I understood, but why was I? Jasper zipped up and kissed her and I heard the front door close behind him.

"This sucks," Gabby pouted.

I began to dress.

"Wait," she said. "I like looking at your penis all smooth and hairless. Can you leave it out?"

"Sure."

She scooted closer, her face so close I felt her hot breath. My dick began to rise.

"You're disappointed Jasper had to leave," I said.

"Yeah, I'm horny." She laughed. "But I'm horny all the time now. But you were disappointed too. Don't lie. I saw it on your face."

"No, you're right. It's true."

"Chuck, I think about sex all the time. Every guy I see. All the guys in my classes. My male professors. I even caught myself looking at a janitor. He had a nice build."

"Professors will get us in serious trouble."

"I'm not so sure," she said. "Now that I know how all this works, I've started noticing little things I missed before. Stephanie in political science looks at professor Isaac like she's picturing him naked, or possibly remembering him naked. Debbie watches Mister Jackson like a hawk. I bet some of these innocent school girls are fucking their instructors."

"Wow."

"I know, right? Put your reputation and your career at risk but that's the power of sex. I understand that now."

She abruptly stood. "I need to cum," she said. She untied her sweatpants and kicked them away. She wore no panties. Next she lost her shirt and sports bra and then crawled backward on my bed, naked. She lifted her knees.

"Use that magic tongue, Baby. You make me cum so hard. Jack off while you eat me and let me hear you. God, I wish Jasper's dick was still here."

That comment sent a surge of blood rushing to my penis. I groaned. She said she wanted to hear me so I let her. I started stroking while I dove into her soaked pussy again. Just having Jasper's big cock in front of her face made her wet.

"You like that?" she taunted. "You like hearing your fiancée crave some other guy's cock? Well, I do. You won't fuck me so I find someone who will. I'll believe your reasons if you say I should, but I'm not waiting. I can't. Not with all these hot guys."

I groaned again.

"You want me to fuck around. It gets you off. You like watching your sweet bride-to-be hammered by a big cock. Say it."

"I do," I gasped.

"No, say it."

"I like watching my sweet bride-to-be hammered by a big cock."

She giggled. My dick throbbed as I jerked it. I licked deep inside her.

"Then I'll make us both happy," she said. "You ain't seen nothing yet. My sexual imagination has awakened."

I sucked her clit and licked like crazy. I finger-fucked her as I ate. She was already making those noises I'd come to recognize. I didn't know what her threat meant but it excited me to hear her say it. I was already close too.

She came first, tensing her thighs and growling. I started shooting and we both moaned. I pumped out a lot.

Neither of us spoke about her warning. We cuddled until she had to head home and as always, I walked her there. I had just kissed her and turned to leave when she spoke; "I'm coming to your lacrosse game on Friday."

I grinned.

“I’ll point out the hot guys and you can do homework on them in the shower.”

Chapter 6

What separates a friend from a boyfriend from a husband? Is it sex alone? Of course not. So much more goes into those relationships. I was learning that quickly. Trust and empath and shared experiences; Gabby and I had a bond, a connection formed over years. We had something no one could touch. We’d fallen in love when we were young, before we learned cynicism, before we learned to guard our hearts against heartbreak.

Sex with others was just something she did. The act did not carry the emotional weight it sometimes can. It was just sex. Like she’d discovered sugar. For the next week she fucked a different guy almost every day. No one wanted to get kicked out of school so everyone kept the liaisons quiet. I watched her for signs of emotional attachment but she had none; she was sampling different types of tea. Dakota was the only guy she had any feelings for and he no longer attended school here. Basically, she turned into a guy. Wham, bam, thank you ma’am. Or, in this case, sir. She’d use them and lose them.

I did as she asked and spied on my teammates and two lucky well-hung fuckers got to spend a few wild hours with her. She told them to keep it secret from me, which they did, not knowing I knew all there was to know because Gabby told me everything, and I mean everything. She had to.

Her adventures became our sex life. She’d stop by my dorm on the way home from her latest encounter and I’d eat her pussy while she narrated. We’d both cum so hard. I’d lick her pussy and hang on every moan she made.

I wondered if I was being foolish for waiting and we should just start having a normal sex life, but I was stubborn. I refused to change our life-long plans.

At long last the day arrived and I received a summons to the Fox Club. I was surprised to see other initiates like me; two freshmen and a junior. All of us had to strip to our pink panties. Jasper was in the crowd but he played everything so cool. We handed in our ridiculous underwear and were given small silver rings for our pinkie fingers. We took a pledge, swearing to always serve our brothers true, which meant don't do anything stupid and embarrass the club and always, always, place a brother before anyone else. We shared hugs and handshakes and received a secret membership list and I was a little surprised to see Dakota was a member like Jasper. So were several other people, some in prominent positions, some famous.

Jasper took me aside and told me he would never again have sex with Gabby.

"Why?" I asked.

"We're brothers now," he answered. "I hope she understands. Let her know it has nothing to do with her. It's our code. Foxmen do not fuck each other's women."

"I'll let her know."

Gabby could not attend the ceremony so I text her as soon as I left but received no answer. I waited an hour and sent another text and only then realized tonight was the Social and she was out on a date with Spencer. I quickly checked the list to make sure Spencer was not a member. He was not, but Blake was.

Another one bites the dust, I thought.

I'd dressed well for the ceremony and I figured why waste it, so I headed for the Social. Spencer has never fucked Gabby, only using her for blowjobs, but I like him least of all.

The idea behind the Social was forced interaction between grades. The experiment failed miserably. Seniors did not want to hang out with juniors and juniors did not want to hang out with sophomores and so on down the line. Instead you ended up with segregated cliques all talking shit about each other. Some students made the jump; pretty girls were often invited upward as well as especially athletic students. Gabby had been one such girl.

Spencer was a junior and tried desperately to hang out with seniors but they always sent him packing. I entered Amen Hall and spotted a few friends my age so I flopped into a chair and tried to casually look for Gabby. I saw the cluster of juniors but she wasn't there. Spencer was, and he looked pissed. I naturally assumed a senior had stolen Gabby again.

I was wrong.

Amen Hall has enormous glass walls at the front and back and I noticed a familiar face through the tinted glass; Gabby, walking with Professor Isaac, walking close enough to Professor Isaac their elbows jostled, walking with Professor Isaac and laughing at his jokes and touching his arm.

An icy chill ran through me.

He wore faded jeans and a tweed sports coat. He was tall and thin and his curly brown hair was a mess. He had a closely trimmed beard and a big bright smile and Gabby never took her eyes off him.

Until this moment I'd been blissfully unaware of something and that thing was this; no matter how big their muscles or their cocks, no matter how high their social standing or how cool everyone thought they were, in Gabby's eyes I always won because of my brain. Intelligence is her weakness. Of all her extracurricular men, only Blake came close to my intelligence.

Professor Isaac beat me at every level.

For the first time in a very long time, I felt jealous. It was awful.

They stopped by the monument and I saw Isaac point and begin a brilliant lecture about the history and relevance regarding the plaque. Gabby hung on every word he spoke. I couldn't hear them and I had no idea if I was right but that's what my mind said was happening. He was charming her. I was sure she was already wet. I ground my teeth and made myself look away. Unfortunately, I found myself looking at Spencer. He'd noticed me and I guess my expression was obvious. He raised his can of diet Coke and gave me a "looks like we both lose" salute.

I kind of hated the guy but I needed to talk to him. I moved to the juniors group.

"Hit the road, Cuck," one of Spencer's friends said. A few guys laughed.

"Shut up guys," Spencer told them. He gave me a rueful grin. "I am fucking tired of losing her to older men."

"What happened?"

He explained he and Gabby were hanging out with his junior buddies and then through the glass she saw Professor Isaac walking outside. She said she wanted a soda but when he walked near the exit she slipped out to say hello.

"She's been out there talking to him ever since."

"How long?"

Spencer turned to watch them. "Over an hour. I'm calling it a night. Isaac can walk her home."

I loathed this question but had to ask. "You don't think an instructor would try anything with a student, do you?"

Spencer and all his friends laughed.

"Jesus, Cuck," one of Spencer's friend said. "How naïve can you be? Plenty of teacher are banging Exeter babes. Isaac too."

Spencer gave me an I'm afraid it's true look and downed his diet Coke.

"Good night, gentlemen," he said. Most of his friends said good night.

A guy with black hair and moustache who I'd seen only rarely pointed at me.

"How can you let your woman fuck other guys?" he asked.

I knew he'd never understand; he may be smart enough to get into Philips Exeter but he was not smart enough to understand something as emotionally complex as this. I considered all the ways I could explain but settled on none. How could I enlighten this Neanderthal that our arrangement was an expression of love and trust? How would I convey how beautiful and sexy Gabby is in those moments? I couldn't.

"I don't own her," I said, and left it at that.

I looked around the circle. A few chewed on my words but most did not.

I headed for the soda machine. I wasn't thirsty, but it would put me closer to Gabby. I saw she'd worn a dress for Spencer; pink and knee length, with black combat boots. She turned slightly and I saw she'd opened the snaps in front to accentuate her cleavage. Isaac was getting an eyeful. I spitefully hoped he had a little dick but then my big brain made several leaps. I remembered Gabby saying: "Stephanie in political science looks at professor Isaac like she's picturing him naked." and I combined that with Spencer's friend saying plenty of professors are banging Exeter girls.

Gabby already knows Professor Isaac is hung because Steph told her. Steph probably told Gabby lots of things about Professor Isaac.

Fuck. Gabby knew everything about the man.

I was so intimidated I bought a Fanta orange instead of Mountain Dew. I leaned in the space between the machine and the glass and watched my fiancée flirt with a sophisticated older man and the sophisticated older man flirt right back. I could not hear their words but Gabby pointed to a freckle or something on her arm and Isaac took her arm and examined it. His hands on her skin boiled my blood. Their eyes met and Gabby was ready to fuck him right there on the grass. Isaac was no dummy. They regarded each other for a moment and then he jerked a thumb over his shoulder at the neighborhood outside the campus. Gabby's eyes sizzled. She gave a slow nod. Isaac pointed to the path she should take and then pointed the path he would take and then gave her his number which she quickly entered into her phone. Without another word, they headed off in separate directions. He angled across campus and she ambled down Court Street.

Did I consider following and confronting her and sabotaging her evening with pops? You bet. Did I? No. I did follow her but I stayed hidden. She followed Court Street until she reached Pine and then she took a right. There were widely spaced streetlights but the huge oak and elm trees cast a lot of shadows. I was careful and silent.

When she reached Grove, she left the sidewalk and cut under the trees, aiming for a single-story home where a porch light burned. She stuck to the shadows like me and I lost her for a minute but then I heard her knocking on a side door. When the door opened, the inside light was enough. I saw Isaac standing there, now dressed in a white bathrobe. He held the screen door for her and she disappeared inside, swallowed by this big, dark house.

I waited, watching. Farther back in the house I saw a window light up. I moved through the shrubs and hedges until I was across from it. I observed the neighborhood but it was late on a Saturday night and most of these homes were dark because the inhabitants were already asleep. There was an abundance of cover as I moved to the window. A shade was drawn but an inch gap ran along the bottom. I put my eye to the opening. They seemed to be in a den or library. Isaac moved around the room lighting candles and then turned on music. Muted Brahms came through the window. As he circled the room he kept his eyes on my girl. He turned off the overhead light but enough candles burned I saw clearly.

Isaac came up behind her and tenderly kissed the nape of her neck. His fingers ran the length of her arms. He nibbled her earlobes. Gabby tried to unzip her dress but he made her wait, drawing out the moment, filling my girl with hot anticipation. He allowed her to do nothing, controlling the pace, setting the mood, teaching her who was in charge. Gabby ate it up. When her dress slid down her arms, revealing lovely matching white lace bra and panties, Gabby was breathing rapidly. Her legs trembled.

He left her in her underwear and while kissing her shoulders, turned her to face him. She reached for his sash and he allowed it and she tugged the two ends apart. His robe fell open. His eyes were glued to hers, waiting for her reaction. He was fit, with light body hair covering his chest and firm, lumpy abs. Gabby hefted his impressive cock and then reached under to weigh his balls too. They kissed. She rolled his balls around inside their sack and smiled. She nudged the robe off his shoulders.

He was lean but not muscular and he was already rising in her hand. She looked delicious. The candlelight gave their bodies warmth and accentuated her sheer underwear.

Fucking was so much easier to watch than lovemaking.

His lips never stopped moving. I knew he murmured a constant flow of adoration and appreciation. Gabby was melting before my eyes. She didn't even try to make something happen anymore. She waited for him to continue his seduction. Nothing alarmed me more than her eager willingness to cede control. She was under his spell and wanted to be. I believed at this moment if he'd ask her to name her fiancé, she'd struggle to remember me.

He was kissing her all over her neck and shoulders when he stepped to a large cabinet and opened a drawer. He withdrew a pink dog collar with a silver heart in the middle. He held it up for her to see and asked her something and my love nodded slowly. He moved behind her and fastened the collar around her neck. I held my breath for her reaction.

Gabby looked about to orgasm.

She was under his control and loved it. This was something I could never do with her. I simply am not dominant enough. He'd made her his pet in minutes. He'd known she'd love it before either of us did. I was frightened of his power over her but her reaction also made me stiff in my pants.

Brilliantly, he'd left her in her matching set and now, in the collar and the candlelight, I saw why. She was an erotic vision; Lolita, the nubile nymph. She looked young and innocent and virginal and intoxicatingly sexual.

He slowly circled his creation, admiring, stroking his large, hard penis. Gabby blushed under his intense gaze. Her nipples were diamond points straining at the thin fabric of her bra. This was no unsophisticated football player. This was no weak-ego upperclassman. This was a man.

I faced instant expulsion jerking off while peeking into a professor's window, but I couldn't stop myself. I unzipped and started stroking, praying to a God I did not believe in to avoid detection.

Isaac completed several circles, devouring my fiancée from every angle. He returned to the cabinet and withdrew small black rubber rings which he fit around the base of his dick and circled his balls. The veins along his cock stood out in ridged agony. How could that not hurt? Regardless, the cock-rings caused him to swell much thicker. His shaft turned to throbbing iron. Gabby looked at it with mouth-watering want, which pleased him greatly. He continued playing with his dick, making small adjustments to the rubber rings, until he sported a pulsing tower of masculine flesh. The purple helmet head looked ready to burst.

He took a step back and spoke and Gabby began to undress. He told her to slow and she did, turning her disrobing into a tease. When she slid her panties down her legs, several clear and sticky drops of pussy juice followed, obvious evidence of her arousal. Her pussy was literally dripping with anticipation. I'd never seen her look at a male like this. She was ready to give him anything, everything.

When she stood naked before him, he gazed on her with open lust. She loved it. If she loved catching the eyes of seniors, how much more exciting was it for her to catch a grown man's eye?

I was hopelessly outclassed.

My only hope was Isaac had a harem of sexy young students and would not settle on merely one. I hoped he would not take Gabby from me.

He motioned her forward and she eagerly complied, sinking to her knees before his rampant pillar. He looked hard as steel; thick and gently curving upward. His veins were thick worms on the surface, filled with blood trapped by the rings. Gabby took him delicately into her hands and began kissing each turgid inch. He allowed it.

She might have spent the night sucking his cock, if he'd let her. She was in no hurry, savoring every pulsing inch in her mouth. She was thrilled for the opportunity to please him. He must have lusted for Gabby since she arrived at the school because he gazed down at her working his cock and never looked away. A slight smile rested on his lips. Here at last was something he'd wanted very much and for a long time; Gabriela Simpson naked and on her knees and sucking his cock.

At last he pulled her to her feet. His dick dripped with saliva. He turned her away and bent her at the waist and then made her reach back and spread her butt cheeks, opening her small slit right at his face. It was his turn to sink to his knees. I f Gabby had orally worshipped his cock, he orally revered her pussy. How many nights had this man fantasized about eating my girl? I swear I saw it on his face. He licked and sucked with pure adoration, wiggling his tongue deep, gulping her juice. He held onto her thighs and buried his face from behind. Gabby moaned and groaned and roughly mauled her tits. When her orgasm hit, she fell to the floor on hands and knees. He didn't stop, eating her through that climax and right into another. She was gasping by the time he let her breathe. She dropped to elbows, ass high, and even through the glass I heard her beg; "Fuck me, Nathan. God! Please!"

What man can resist a pussy that sweet and fresh and so fervently offered? No man. Certainly, not Nathan. He stood and bent at the knees, aiming his absurdly rigid cock at my intended and lowering his weapon. I knew the moment of penetration by Gabby's shocked expression and cry of pleasure. Nathan grabbed her long hair with both hands and sank his dick into hot, tight, wet co-ed pussy. His cry of pleasure matched hers. I thought the rings were just to keep him hard for a long time but apparently it also enhanced sensation. His face looked pained and as began to saw his cock in and out. She rested her head on the shag carpet and lifted her hips higher and Professor Isaac began to dive deep.

He slapped her ass as he fucked her. Her shock almost instantly transformed into pleasure. She fingered the collar around her neck as he hammered her pussy, happy to submit to such a masterful lover. Nathan fucked her like she was the last pussy he'd ever know. She soon came screaming his name and pounding the rug with a small fist.

He flipped her over and drove his cock deep again, this time feeding on her big but firm young tits. She clawed at his body, trying to pull him farther inside. They kissed passionately as his hips pounded her opening. They were kissing when she came again. The man was in no hurry. They were in his house and he could take his time.

Headlights far down the street brought me back to my situation. I watched a car approach and as it passed under a light I saw a bar across the top covered with dark lights; a patrol car. Campus police or not, I could not be found here. I looked for a place to hide but nothing was dense enough to block a searchlight so my mind did something I'll never understand. I opened the side door and stepped into the house, carefully closing the door behind me. My vague plan was to only stay until the cop had passed but I heard Gabby moan and I froze.

"Cum in me," she said. "Cum in me as many times as you can."

The slapping of their hips increased.

"Does your fiancée know about us?"

"No," Gabby gasped. "I haven't told him yet."

What?

They returned to grunting and gasping as they fucked. Had I heard right? This was not their first time? Why had Gabby hidden Nathan from me? All the dread I felt earlier came rushing back a thousand times more powerful. She was fucking him behind my back. Gabby and I hide nothing from each other. Why had she hidden this?

My erection wilted. Fear and angst filled me. I crept down the hall to the den and peeked around the corner. Gabby's feet were in the air, her calves resting on Nathan's shoulders. He fucked her deep and hard with that meaty railroad spike. Gabby squeezed his biceps like he was killing her.

She came again.

Fuck! My fiancée could not get enough of this man. The arm of a reading chair partially blocked my view of his cock stretching her pussy so I crouched to see around it. I bumped the door and the door bumped the wall. I froze. Nathan's head snapped around at the sound and his blistering gaze skewered me. I was caught. Gabby looked where he was looking and scrambled out from under the man, frantically covering her bald pussy.

"What are you doing here?" she cried.

My mouth opened and angry, hurt words flew out; "What are you doing here?"

Nathan was on his feet and coming towards me. His cock was a livid, gleaming lance aimed at my face. He was coated with Gabby's excitement. He opened the door wider and ordered me into the room.

"Why are you in my house?" he barked.

"I followed Gabby here," I admitted. I turned to her. "Why would you betray me? I thought you loved me. I can't believe you lied."

Honestly, I was hurt and angry but I was on the verge of tears. She covered the distance between us and knelt with me. Her arms circled my neck.

"I haven't betrayed you, Baby," she pleaded. "I was worried what you would think. You would tell me to stay away from Nathan but I wanted him. I wanted him badly."

"Of course I'd tell you to stay away," I whined. "He's a professor. He'll get fired, his reputation ruined. You'll get expelled. Everything we've worked for will vanish."

"So I kept it secret," she replied, matter of fact.

"Even from me?"

"From everyone."

I looked up at Professor Isaac and pointed. "I can't compete with him. He's brilliant. I'm just a dumb kid."

Gabby stood over me, gloriously naked in the candlelight. "You don't have to, Baby. I'm not leaving you for him. If that's your fear, stop."

I looked at her. I wanted so desperately to believe.

Professor Isaac left the room and I heard him lock the side door. While he was gone Gabby hit me with the softest, most loving eyes I'd ever seen from her. She opened her arms.

"My poor man," she said. "How awful. Come here and kiss me."

At first I refused to move but that was no winning path. Reluctantly I stood. We kissed and hugged and I heard Nathan return. A glance showed his erection was just as hard and dangerous as ever.

He gave Gabby a stern look. "This is why I wanted him told," he said.

Gabby looked properly chastised. "I was worried," she said.

Nathan took her hand and pulled her away from me. She looked concerned for my feelings but allowed him to do it.

"On your knees," he said.

Wow, what a bastard. I'm standing in his house teary-eyed and he steals my girl right in my face. Gabby kept her eyes on mine but knelt. Nathan watched me for a reaction. I felt my face doing things but I was unsure what. Gabby began to suck him again. He was leaking cum and she played with it like a spider's web, connecting clear strands between her fingers. She tried to make a cats-cradle and then giggled.

"Don't play with your food," Professor Isaac said.

Gabby laughed and slid his cock far into her mouth.

He let her suck for a while. "I'm glad you're here," he said to me. "I've wanted you present from the beginning. So much more intense with an audience, especially when that audience is her husband-to-be."

I couldn't look away. Gabby sucked his dick like no other. She adored his cock, she savored it. She forced it too deep and made herself gag and swabbed his balls and wriggled her tongue in the hole at the tip. She trailed the tip of her tongue along his veins, following squiggly trails from the base to the head. I wondered if she was showing off for me but no, she just had stronger feelings for Nathan. Much stronger.

"Enough," he said. "Time to fuck you again, face to face, to honor our guest."

Gabby flipped onto her back and opened her legs. He brought his dick close but she guided him in. Not even Dakota got a moan like that out of her, and Dakota was bigger. Nathan pinned her arms to the floor but she curled her legs around his waist. Their eye-contact was intense. My presence made everything more extreme for them.

"Lick me," Gabby gasped. "Lick my pussy while Nathan fucks me."

I knew exactly what she meant and so did he. Nathan pushed himself away to give me room. I was still feeling upset by her lie but I couldn't refuse. I slipped my head between their bellies and snaked my tongue out to find her clit. She went wild. I felt weird and out of place for a few minutes but then I forgot about that and got into the sounds I was causing her to make. When Gabby came hard, my erection returned. Her pussy clenched around his cock and milked him.

He leaned back and began slamming her. Soon we were all back to the place before I interrupted. Nathan pounded her hot young pussy for a while and then he slowed way down, his thick veiny cock gliding in and out strong and smooth. I was fascinated. The rubber rings had his dick as bumpy as tree bark. Gabby sparkled all over him. He pulled his cock out and rested it on her mons, just to show me how far he penetrated. He put it back in.

I sat back to watch. Nathan pressed his body on hers and they tangled arms and legs, kissing and caressing. Their affection was so different from Jasper or even Dakota. It hurt to witness but somehow turned me on.

Gabby turned her head. "Jack off for me, Baby. Show me you're all right."

Professor Isaac looked surprised.

"He'll masturbate watching you fuck? Fantastic."

I undressed. I sat next to them on the floor and witnessed him work on her. He pulled out and called me closer, holding his rampant cock in comparison to mine. Gabby stared at the difference and smiled. She reached out and held my hand. Nathan aimed his erection at her hole and sank in. He pumped her firmly and moments later his hard cock made her cum again. That got me there. I moved up to my knees and aimed my spray away, shooting ropes of sperm on Nathan's floor. That put Nathan over the top and he stuffed his mouth with her nipple and unloaded deep inside, blasting her womb full of jizz. Gabby urged him on, pulling her knees to send his spurting penis deeper.

At last I saw his age. He collapsed on Gabby, struggling to catch his breath. He lay there a long time and she waited patiently, like they'd done this a million times, gently stroking his skin and kissing his head.

She and I had a long talk in our near future.

Eventually he freed his hefty log from her snug pussy. He pulled out with a sucking sound. The rubber rings still had him mostly hard and Gabby pouted a little when he left her empty. He flopped onto his back, covering his face with an arm.

Everything was silent until Gabby whispered: "Baby, I'm close to another. Will you get me there?"

The girl was voracious. I felt awkward licking her pussy right after Professor Isaac came in it but I couldn't resist her big, pleading eyes and trust me, neither could you. I started at her nipple and kissed my way down her body. Nathan uncovered his eyes to watch and had a look of surprise mixed with arousal.

"That's fucking hot," he murmured. "You always have him go down on you after?"

She tangled her fingers in my hair, pulling my mouth to her pussy.

"Chuck and I don't have sex," she said. "He wants to save our first time for marriage. I have sex and yes, whenever he's around I love his soothing tongue caressing me. He doesn't mind that I'm full."

"You two are the hottest couple I've ever met," Nathan said. "And I've been teaching at this school a long time."

I tuned him out. Gabby's blossoming pussy beckoned me. Her inner and outer lips were puffy and pink and I began kissing all around. I slowly worked my tongue in and then sent it deeper, dragging satisfying moans from my girl. It was my turn to show off. I licked her slippery hole and quickly gave her an earthshaking climax.

As the sexual tension in the air drained away, an awkward silence grew. I was in no mood to get to know Nathan and they felt strange conversing with me there. Gabby and I dressed and said good night. She handed him the dog collar and I thought I heard her mutter: "Tuesday night." I told him I'd walk Gabby home.

"Why did you hide him?" I asked, as soon as he closed the door behind us. "You know I can keep secrets. That story earlier was bullshit."

She sighed. "I know you saw it. Don't say you didn't. I know you saw the chemistry between us. You're a smart man."

"I saw it."

"That's the main reason I kept it secret."

I shook my head. "You need to explain."

She took my hand as we walked. "Nathan, Professor Isaac, is incredibly attractive. He's no bull stud like Jasper or Dakota, and he's no douche like Spencer. If I was single, and considerably older, I'd chase Nathan."

“Go on.”

“You couldn’t be there for my liaisons with Professor Isaac. I knew you’d see my desire. I knew I’d be unable to hide it. I knew you see it and it would freak you out. We both know I’m a sucker for your kind heart and your staggering intelligence. I expected you’d see those qualities in Nathan and become unnecessarily afraid. I worried nothing I said could make you feel better. Rather than try to convince you and fail, I choose to hide the truth and not deal with it. I can’t believe you followed me to his house.”

“How many times?”

She stopped at the sidewalk to stare at me.

“How many times?” I repeated.

“Ten?”

“Holy shit!” My voice came out too loud. “Ten? When? Always at his house?”

“Always, and always after curfew. I’d sneak out, meet him, and sneak home. Sometimes I went to see him after an evening studying with you. Sometimes I came to see you after I’d been with him.”

“Wait. What?”

“A couple times I saw him before I came to your place to study.”

I cast my mind over the preceding weeks. Yup.

“I went down on you some of those times.”

She got coy. “Yes.”

“So I was eating him too without knowing?”

“Dakota, Jasper, Martin; you never seem to care.”

Good point. “I love doing that to you more than I care about other guys, but never do that to me again.”

She snuggled. “Okay, Baby. Now that you know about him I’ll hide nothing. You’ll know every time I go to his place.”

We continued walking.

“How did your ceremony go?” she asked.

“Great. I’m an official Fox Club member. Don’t tell anyone. Oh, that reminds me; you won’t be having sex with Jasper or Dakota or Blake ever again. Members cannot fuck other member’s girls, and those guys are members.”

She was bummed. “Well,” she said. “I guess Professor Isaac has perfect timing then, and is about to get busier.”

Chapter 7

"When we marry," she said, serious. "I'm stopping all this slutting around forever. Marriage is sacred."

We were in the library at our favorite table, surrounded by books. We'd been studying for midterms for two hours.

I eyed her suspiciously. "Big talk."

"I mean it. This has been wild. Insane, really. There's nothing more exciting than someone new. I don't understand why, but it's true. I love you, but that first time with someone is an intoxicating drug. But when we get married, I stop. I promise."

I wondered if that was true.

The night I caught her with Professor Isaac was many weeks ago. I'd lost count how many times she'd been to see him since. Spencer left Gabby alone now. I think that night he saw her with Nathan got him a little worried so he backed all the way off. You never know with Spencer though. One fight with his girlfriend and he'd demand a blowjob.

"So when do we get married?" I asked. "End of school will be here soon."

She smiled. "You still want to marry me after everything we've been through?"

"More than ever."

"God, you are such a sweet man. How about after we graduate from Exeter?"

"In about two years? Perfect. Where?"

"An excellent question. Any ideas?"

"Any place but a church."

She tapped her pencil on her book, thinking. "Maybe a beach? Or a cliff overlooking the ocean? Either ocean is fine."

"I like that. Guest list?"

She rolled her eyes. "Ugh. I can't think about that right now. I need to focus on school. Family and friends from home. Martin. Nathan."

"Jasper. Dakota."

She pretended to be shocked. "Um, no. How would I explain to my parents?"

"You should hook Jasper up with your mom. She could use a big black cock."

"Don't be an ass. Ew. I just pictured my mom having sex. Thanks."

We moved on to other topics. Later Gabby mentioned on Saturday she would be attending a birthday party for one of the girls from her French Literature class.

"Anna Gifford. She reminds me of me about four years ago; homely, chubby, lonely. She invited several girls but they wouldn't commit so I said I'd go out loud. Funny thing happened after that; all the girls said they'd go too."

"You're the alpha female now."

"Whatever."

"Seriously. Those girls saw you with the most popular men on campus and your stock rose. Women are so political."

She wore a slight smile. Despite her indifference, I knew she loved the status.

"Am I going to this party with you?"

"Sadly, no. Female empowerment and all that. I'll meet you at the library Saturday afternoon to study but the party will go late so I'll just see you Sunday."

I made a mental note and we got back to work. I'd heard Anna's name but I had no face to go with it.

"You've never been homely, Gabby."

She kissed my cheek.

Saturday arrived and we studied until six and then Gabby left to get ready for the party. I'd looked up Anna on the student register and homely was too harsh. She was overweight, some, but she had a pretty face and beautiful blue eyes. Her long blonde hair reached to her ample butt. She was a freshman, so sophomore Gabby attending her party and bringing juniors and seniors was a big deal.

As usual, I had too much to do and worked myself to exhaustion. I fell asleep reading in bed and woke to a tapping at my window. The clock read one in the morning. I tilted the blinds and saw Anna and Gabby outside, tittering.

"Can we come in?" Gabby asked.

I threw on some shorts and hurried to the front door. Once in my room, I smelled alcohol. Before I could ask, Anna volunteered that Rachel Rice spiked the punch. They weren't drunk but they were tipsy. I asked about the party and the girls shared all the gossip. They seemed to be hiding something, like they shared a secret, but I let it go.

Anna hung on every word Gabby said. Her student photo did her a disservice; while a little chubby, she was prettier in life, and her boobs were bigger than Gabby's, which is nice. I told them to stay at my place until the booze wore off and then I'd walk them home. If security caught them intoxicated there'd be serious repercussions.

The longer we talked the more comfortable we became. Gabby complained about her tight party dress and asked me for a big T-shirt. She asked Anna if she wanted one too.

"Yeah," she gushed. Her and Gabby were pals. They moved to the bathroom I shared with Martin but Gabby did not fully shut the door. If I leaned just a little, I caught their reflection in the shower stall glass. Gabby undressed first and Anna did not wish to appear prudish. She awkwardly undressed too and I saw a wonderful version of reflected tits. They left panties on but each girl looked the other up and down. They were giggling when they returned.

Gabby flopped on my bed and patted the spot next to her. Anna nervously accepted the invitation. I moved from my spot on the floor to my desk chair.

"Let's look at pictures from the party," Gabby suggested.

Anna cast me a surprised look but quickly looked away. On their backs with their heads together, Gabby started thumbing through her phone. The girls snickered and laughed, pointing out things in the photos and making comments. Gabby flipped to a picture and Anna yelped.

"You took that picture? Gabby!"

Gabby laughed and jerked the phone away when Anna tried to grab it.

"Should I show Chuck?"

"NO!"

"All right," Gabby replied, ignoring the girl's insistence.

"Gabby! No. Shit!"

Gabby turned the phone so I could see; Anna and Gabby, laughing, kissing a naked penis between them.

"What the fuck?" I said. "What happened to female empowerment?"

Gabby laughed hard. "Me and Anna and a few other girls left the party to find some food and met these guys at a restaurant." Gabby reached out and stroked Anna's blonde hair. "Poor little Anna bird told me earlier she's a virgin so I told her don't despair, I too was recently afflicted with the same malady." Gabby kissed Anna's forehead. "Then I told her how, with my loving man's help, I cured it."

Anna looked at me. "You really let her fuck other guys?"

I was dumbfounded.

Anna continued. "I'd heard they call you Cuck but had no idea why. Now I understand. I don't know how you do it but I think it's pretty amazing."

I was speechless.

"Sex and love are two very different things," Gabby said to Anna. Then, to me. "Anna's still technically a virgin, but her mouth isn't." Gabby laughed again and flipped to the next picture. She handed me her phone. Anna's eyes were big and alarmed but her mouth was stuffed with cock. I saw Gabby's tongue licking a scrotum at the bottom of the picture. I swiped to the next photo and both girls licked the head, their tongues touching. I felt my balls tingle and my penis rise.

"You liked sucking cock, didn't you?" Gabby asked the girl.

"Yes. They felt so warm and smooth in my mouth."

"They?" I asked.

Gabby laughed again. "Anna sucked three cocks tonight."

"How many did you suck?" I asked.

"Keep going," Gabby replied, pointing at the phone.

She was right. As I swiped through the pictures I saw both girls pleasing three different dicks. Anna looked a little overwhelmed in each photo but Gabby looked sexy.

"I told her everything," Gabby said. She meant her comment for me but she was gazing into Anna's eyes. "I told her I'd show you the pictures and you'd get turned on. She didn't believe me. Are you turned on, Chuck?"

"I'm getting there," I said. Where was this headed? If Gabby was going to put a move on Anna, I wanted to see it.

"I told her you'd look at the pictures and get hard. Are you hard, Baby?"

Anna was growing more excited. This was way out of her depth but since it was Gabby she wasn't about to blow it.

"I am," I admitted.

Gabby kissed Anna on the mouth. Anna returned the kiss. Gabby slid a hand up Anna's paralyzed leg, disappearing under my T-shirt, and I saw the raised bumps of her hand caress Anna's big tit.

Sweet Mother of God.

"Keep looking at those pictures, Darling," she suggested.

My eyes darted from the photos of Gabby and Anna sucking anonymous cock to Anna closing her eyes and relaxing into Gabby's kiss. I thought Gabby would lead but she didn't need to. Anna's hand followed a similar path and soon the girls were playing with each other's tits. Anna lifted the front of Gabby's shirt and sucked a nipple. Gabby moaned. I never in my wildest fantasies imagined Gabby with a girl. The sight astonished me. My penis was rock.

Gabby returned the favor and both pulled the shirts off. Four big beautiful tits on my bed. Halleluiah. The girls wore tiny panties and nothing else. I flipped to a picture of Gabby's mouth opened wide and a bright red cock shooting sparking white sperm on her tongue. I moaned and Gabby remembered I was there.

"Take your shorts off, Cuck," she teased. "Show Anna how much you love watching me."

I hesitated a second, but only for a second. I loved the idea of Anna looking at my erection. I stood and pulled off my shirt too and kicked off my shorts and boxers. My hairless erection rose straight up. Good boy. Anna turned to look and her eyes got big.

"He is shaved. I didn't believe you. God, that looks amazing. I'm telling my boyfriend to shave too."

I moved closer to the bed to watch the action. Both girls ogled my dick.

"In fact," Anna continued. "I'm going to find out how he feels about me fooling around with other guys."

Uh oh, I thought. Gabby may want to talk her out of that one.

Anna lifted Gabby's tits and suckled each in turn. Gabby closed her eyes and let her head fall back. The sight was stupendous. They took turns licking and sucking and kissing passionately. My penis was diamond.

Gabby moved to look at me. "Walk around, Baby," she said. "Let Anna see."

I paced around the bed, glancing at pictures of the girls sucking stranger's cocks and eyeing two sets of perfect tits. I was shy about touching myself, at first, but then the idea excited me. I started stroking my penis as I stalked the two girls. They returned to making out. Anna kept looking at my dick, which I loved, and after ten or fifteen minutes she pulled away from Gabby and moved her face to about an inch away, staring so close I felt her body heat.

"Can I touch it?" she asked Gabby.

I held my breath.

Gabby laughed. "No, of course not. That's my fiancé."

"But you have sex with other men?"

"So? Chuck will be my husband."

Anna was confused.

"It's not fair," I explained. "But it doesn't have to be."

Gabby moved Anna's hand between her legs. "Touch me here now," she said. Anna's eyes got big for the millionth time but I saw her fingers working.

"I cannot believe this night," she murmured.

Gabby left Anna playing with her pussy while looking at me, then pushed the younger girl on the bed. She kissed her way up those chubby thighs and then shoved them open.

"Oh, God," Anna breathed. "Oh, God, oh, God."

I saw Gabby pull the girl's panties aside and lower her mouth just before her long hair blocked my view. Anna's long drawn out moan told me all I needed to know. Gabby feasted on the younger girl for a long time and then switched them around into a sixty-nine, aiming Anna's face directly at my penis.

"Jack off for us, Cuck," Gabby said. "Look at those pictures and let us see you shoot your load. Show Anna how much you love watching me act slutty."

I was more than happy to oblige. Anna licked her first pussy while watching me masturbate and came on my fiancée's tongue as I shot sperm onto the carpet. Gabby came too when she heard me moaning.

We rested but Gabby called me onto the bed between them. About forty-five minutes later I got hard again and Anna watched, fascinated, as I jerked off and Gabby whispered naughty, slutty things in my ear until I shot another load.

She never did let Anna touch my dick.

We stayed in bed and Gabby talked to Anna about involving her boyfriend. She explained guys like me are rare and if Anna wanted to broach the subject she better be careful or she'd lose a boyfriend. Anna paid close attention but still wanted to try.

"We're not saving anything for marriage. I want sex now and tonight just proved that. I get what you're saying but I'm going to bring it up anyway. I don't care if he sees other girls; I need to start having sex."

Gabby started kissing her again and soon they were in a sixty-nine again. Such a beautiful sight. Once they finished I walked them home, returned to my dorm, and jacked off a third time.

Chapter 8

About a month later, Professor Isaac put Gabby on hold. After that night with the police cruiser neighbors started paying more attention and someone must have seen Gabby visiting. Campus security interviewed him at his office. He told Gabby no more sex until everything cooled down. By week's end Gabby was cranky and antsy and asking me what she should do.

"Jasper is off limits too. Spencer is a boring partner. You need to find me more lacrosse players."

I laughed. "Hot guys with fat dicks are not that common, Baby. I'm thinking maybe we should dial it back on fellow students. We can still get in a lot of trouble with all this."

"So what? Go off campus?"

“Why not?”

“Where? Do you know people in New Hampshire?”

“No, but what if we take the bus up the coast to Portland? We can spend Saturday playing tourists and then spend the night. We aren’t old enough to drink but I’m sure there’s still plenty we can do.”

“Maybe I’ll meet a handsome stranger.”

“Maybe you will.”

She didn’t seem to have much faith in the idea but a day off campus would do us both good. “Okay,” she said. “Plan it.”

I had little to do. I mapped out the bus times and cost and then looked at the Portland social agenda. There were art exhibits and museums and some free music performances. Mostly I just wanted to get away from the school.

Our week flew by, as every week does when you’re that busy, and Saturday had us sitting in the back of a Greyhound heading north on Freeway Ninety-Five. Within minutes of leaving the school we began to relax.

“I think I needed this,” Gabby said.

The day was sunny and warm so we dressed light and each carried a backpack with overnight clothes. Gabby had on a maroon peasant skirt and black shirt and her combat boots. I wore a simple T-shirt and jeans.

We started at the Museum of Art and then toured a Victorian mansion. I like to walk around cities and Gabby does too so we hit a few more art museums on our way to Portland Observatory. After that red-shingled building we ate a late lunch and toured the Portland Science Center. Probably a boring day to most people but for nerds like us, it was Heaven.

When we exited the science center, the sun had set. We aimed for the Port City Music Hall but along the way we passed Aura, a strip club and sports bar. Gabby stopped to look at the poster in the window. We felt the throb of music through the walls as well as heard it.

“Let’s go in,” she said.

I held the door for her. Inside, the place divided in two; on the left was a ticket counter and archway filled with hanging beads and on the right a heavy door with a bouncer. He was a big guy, more fat than muscle, and he took one look at us and grinned.

"I need to see IDs," he said.

We handed him our identification.

"Sorry guys, the sports bar serves alcohol."

"What about the strip club?" Gabby asked.

He returned our IDs. "Knock yourselves out."

We paid our cover and pushed through the beads, headed directly into a strong beat. We entered a single large room ringed by booths and filled with tables and chairs. Small stages were scattered around and two main stages ran towards the center. A sexy girl danced on each small stage and two girls danced on the main. At the end of each main stage was a silver pole which attached to the ceiling and a third girl twirled and spun on each. Dance music shook the walls.

"It's okay if you look," Gabby yelled, reassuring me. "But no touching."

She steered us towards a booth that looked out across the entire room and soon a waitress took our orders for orange and cranberry juices. I cracked my knuckles. The waitress wore a super-short miniskirt and a see-through top. Her nipples were almost touching my face.

"Relax," Gabby said, after the woman left. "This could be fun."

"I don't know how to act," I replied. "I want to be respectful and I don't want to piss you off."

She laughed. "How about I give you a hall pass? Look all you want. Stare if you must. Just point out the hot girls to me too."

"Anna has you thinking about girls?"

"No, I've always thought about girls. Girls are sexy. Anna just proved it."

For the first hour, we sat and sipped our drinks and watched one hot babe after another come out and gyrate. They all rotated stages and occasionally a customer would disappear through an archway, covered with even more hanging beads, at the back of the room. Gabby asked the waitress what that room was.

"That's for VIP clients. You get a private lap dance back there."

"How much?" I asked.

“Twenty. But you can tip the girl as much as you want. In the VIP room the dancers do three songs instead of two and end up fully nude.”

“Which dancer do you have in mind, Baby?” Gabby asked. “The Asian with the long black hair?”

“No, I was thinking of sending you.”

The waitress chuckled. “Good man,” she said, collecting our empty glasses and dropping off fresh drinks before she left.

“Pick a girl, Gabby,” I said. “Go get a lap dance with her. It will be fun.”

Her eyes flared. “All right.”

Gabby looked at each girl with renewed interest.

They all started their routine wearing a bikini top or sports bra and tiny panties. After the first song, they shed that top and danced topless for the second song. After, they collect their tips and headed for the dressing rooms.

I noticed Gabby watched one girl most; a pale skinny redhead with big tits, tall, long-legged, and piercing green eyes. When she rotated to a stage by us I asked her name. She eyed Gabby as hard as Gabby eyed her.

“Lyric,” she said. “Or at least that’s what I always tell customers. My real name is Leslie.”

She and Gabby stared at each other.

“I want a lap dance from you for my fiancée, Gabby.” I stuffed money into Gabby’s shirt pocket.

“I was hoping you’d say that,” Leslie said. She left the stage and took Gabby’s hand, tugging her towards the VIP room. Gabby blew me a kiss and departed.

I suddenly felt strange. All alone in a strip club I wondered what other customers thought of me. I soon realized they were in their own world and hardly noticed me.

I finished my orange juice and ordered another. The girls on stage finished one song and started the next. More time passed and the next song began. Soon all the girls rotated again and a third song played. Then a fourth, then a fifth. I began to wonder if Gabby would run out of money. I wished there was some way to spy, some way to see what my young, pretty fiancée did with a hot stripper but security was tight.

About thirty minutes later Gabby reappeared. Leslie was with her as well as two other girls, and they were all talking and laughing and waving goodbye. Gabby carried several pages with her.

"What took so long?" I asked, when she got back to our booth.

"Well, first I got my three songs, then Leslie and I made out, then we made each other cum, then we talked about me dancing here."

Stunned. "What?" My mind was busy imagining Gabby and Leslie making each other cum. I scrambled to process this new information. "What?"

"Just on weekends," she continued. "The money is ridiculous but I'd do it more for the experience. And, of course, everyone's eyes on me."

"Wait," I said. "Back up. You working here?"

"Yeah." She leaned over and kissed me and I tasted pussy in her mouth.

"They gave you a job application?"

"Yeah." Her grin was a mile wide.

"Jesus, Gabby."

"I'd be over an hour and two cities away from the school. No one would believe it was me even if someone I know comes in here, and what are the odds of that?"

I looked around the room and saw mostly middle-aged men alone. Little, innocent, co-ed Gabby would make a fortune. Plenty of men were already looking at her clothed.

"There are bouncers and other dancers and hidden closed-circuit cameras. I'd be totally safe. The bus stops about thirty feet away. I could do a four-hour shift on Friday and Saturday nights easily and maintain my grades. No one would ever know."

"But what if you do get caught?"

"I deny everything. It's all cash here. I deny everything and insist it wasn't me. How would they prove it?"

I gave up. I've known Gabby her whole life and she was using her determined voice right now. She may sound like she's debating but her mind is already made. She went on and on about how exciting she knew it would be and how much she'd love all the customers looking at her. We stayed another hour and then walked to our motel room nearby. We ordered room service and a movie. After an hour, she said she was still horny and pulled my face between her legs. I stopped her.

"Gabriela, this idea is crazy. Why would you want to dance in a strip club? You risk so much."

"I don't think there's any risk. No real risk anyway. Almost all the girls encouraged me to do it. They say it's awesome and I believe them. I can try it and if it sucks, quit, simple as that. I'm young. I should be trying new and exciting things."

I sighed. She spread her legs. "I can't stop thinking about Leslie eating my pussy. It was dark back there but I know men could tell what was happening. I got so hot knowing they watched Leslie go down on me. I took my tits out and let them see and I came so hard."

I lowered my mouth and did my best to make her cum that hard again.

Chapter 9

Money was not the issue. Freedom, autonomy, individuality; these were what Gabby truly craved. Money, she had. True, most was tied up in her scholarship and had to be spent on things like housing, groceries, and school supplies, but that freed up a lot of cash and her parents aren't poor.

She knew I could not make that trip with her every weekend. In addition to classwork, I was sophomore class president and I played lacrosse. I rarely had time to spare. I watched her get on that bus Friday afternoon and it almost killed me. My study session that night was for shit. She'd warned me her phone had to remain in her locker so I got one text all evening; Miss you. Having a ton of fun.

She'd taken a gym bag stuffed with sports bras and bikinis, but I had no idea what she planned on wearing. I pictured all those older men ogling her and her big, firm tits and I gasped in the middle of my number theory class. Heads turned. I wanted to jack off as much as I wanted to hit someone.

She got home at two-thirty in the morning but I did not learn that fact until brunch the next day. She raved about how much fun she had and how independent the job made her feel. I was frightened and intimidated.

She opened her purse to show me a stack of cash, all of it wet and stinking of sweat and cigarette smoke.

I tried to ask if anything sexual happened between her and a customer or even Leslie but Martin joined our table right then. He ate with us and then left and I had my opportunity.

“Did anyone take you to the VIP room?”

“Yup. A few times.”

“What happened?”

“Not much.” Her eyes twinkled.

“Any problems?”

“Two girls, Jasmine and Destiny, do not like me. They argued I was stealing their regular clients. Lyric set them straight.”

If those were the type of answers she was going to give, I’d have to interrogate her. Clearly, she was reluctant to speak of her time at the club. She wanted this experience to be her own.

Jealousy lifted his fanged head like a cobra and sank his teeth into my heart. My gut told me something had happened so my ever-helpful imagination took over. I saw Gabby, nude, riding some guy’s lap as her pussy swallowed his pole. I saw her legs flexing and as he fucked himself on his cock. I saw her feeding him her young tits and cumming on his dick.

I shook my head.

“You okay?”

“Yes,” I lied. “I just have a lot of work to get done.”

We talked a while longer and then I had to leave for lacrosse practice.

Saturday night was more of the same.

The next weekend Gabby got a motel room and spent Friday night in Portland, dancing again Saturday night. I was going nuts. My practice was shitty and nothing I studied stuck in my head. Gabby got home Sunday morning but took a long nap. By the time I saw her Sunday evening, she was freshly showered and completely recovered. She again deflected my questions, answering with vague descriptions of her night. I grew frustrated enough to stop asking.

The next two weekends were duplicates; Gabby left Friday evening, danced and partied, stayed Friday night and did it all over again Saturday. She got home Sunday morning and slept until she met me to study.

It was maddening.

Not only was I certain she was fucking every man at the club but if I saw her on campus speaking to another student I knew she was fucking him too. Obviously, she saw the change in me but she felt since she was doing nothing wrong, she had nothing to apologize for. If I had a problem with it, I needed to get over it. She did not need to save me. She referred to dancing as her job, like she worked at a bank, and left details out. She remained as connected to me as always, thoughtful, loving, attentive, so I had no real complaint other than she was doing something I did not want her doing.

I had to know what was happening at her club. I thought about surprising her at work but that solved nothing and created all new problems. I needed a spy, someone she did not know, someone who could possibly be there anyway and wouldn't stand out. I considered and dismissed every guy I knew at school. Nathan was clearly out. Martin she'd recognize. I had no one. I paced my bedroom, cursing my brilliant mind for being so stupid. Frustrated, I decided to go to the school cafeteria for a snack.

On the walk over I looked at other girls and tried to imagine a relationship with them. I was deeply upset by Gabby's dancing. I felt her slipping away. Strange that I can watch her have sex right in front of me but out of sight feels like behind my back and I can't stand it. One of the girls caught me looking at her and gave me a sneer. I was giving her a creepy stare.

I stopped in the middle of the sidewalk.

Why did my spy have to be a guy?

I sent my mind over my conversations with Gabby and recalled two names; Jasmine and Destiny. I flipped around and headed for my dorm.

I found the website for Aura and then the page that listed their dancers. Destiny was not pictured but Jasmine was and she gave an email in case you wanted to book her for private parties. I searched the email and quickly narrowed to her Facebook page. I considered my words carefully; Gabby would be furious if she found out.

I sent Jasmine an email informing her I was Gabby's fiancé and I was as unhappy about Gabby dancing as Jasmine was. I asked her to spy on Gabby, for which I would pay, and get me information I could use to make my fiancée quit. I told her to keep everything confidential and if she was interested in my offer to email me.

I held my finger over the send button for such a long time. What I was doing was wrong. There was no way I could rationalize this away. I was jealous and insecure and going behind my girl's back because I didn't trust her. If I don't trust her, why am I marrying her? And what did I not trust her about? Fucking other guys? I already knew she did that. I thought about it a long time before I concluded it wasn't the sex, it was the sex without me. Gabby takes lovers and I watch; that's our thing. Incredibly, this felt like she was cheating.

I gave up trying to solve this riddle. Not everything can be reasoned away with logic. I had to know. I hit send and left the dorm to head for the cafeteria again.

When I got back, Jasmine had agreed. She demanded a reasonable amount of cash, said she'd tell me everything each Monday, and asked me to hurry as Gabby was stealing regulars from other girls now too.

"She's going to get her ass beat," Jasmine warned. "You need to get her out of here. She's too young and sweet for this place."

She went on to say how long she's been dancing and how hard it was to build up a group of regulars and how frustrating it was when Gabby came in and wrecked everything. She used a lot of profanity.

"She's a pretty girl, I'll give her that, but she needs to tell some guys no."

I said I completely agreed and thanked her. She shot back asking how much I wanted to know.

I sighed. "Everything," I replied.

I included a different email address to use that no one knew about and I gave her my cell, telling her what time to text so Gabby wouldn't be around. We exchanged a few more emails working out the last details and then there was nothing to do but wait for next Monday. I felt terrible for what I'd done.

Five minutes later I felt relieved.

Chapter 10

I thought Gabby would know exactly what I'd done the instant she saw me, but she did not. She did mention I seemed in a better mood and I said I was looking forward to the school year wrapping up.

"I thought maybe you'd come to terms with me dancing. I love it, you know. Those men stare at me and I feel like the ugly duckling that became a swan. Sometimes I have every pair of eyes in the club, male or female, looking right at me. It's such an ego rush. I'm thinking about not flying home and dancing over the summer. What do you think? You want to get a little one bedroom out here?"

How about that for a double-whammy? Living with Gabby sounded awesome. Living with Gabby so she could head off to dance sounded terrible. Without school, she'd probably dance more often than Friday and Saturday.

"Let me think about it," I said.

I needed Jasmine to produce something fast.

The week took forever and Friday and Saturday were pure agony. I knew what she was doing but now I was having her watched, which meant Jasmine would witness everything my fiancée did. How embarrassing. I was sure she'd judge me. I was sure she'd think I was weak, an actual cuckold like so many at school called me.

Monday arrived and I walked Gabby to her class and then found a secluded table in the corner of the library to wait for Jasmine's text.

It was ten minutes late. Dude, I feel awful. Are you sure you want to do this?

I swallowed hard. My palms turned sweaty. Yes.

The first picture was grainy and dark but I saw Gabby kissing a man that had to be in his late fifties. Jasmine must have changed the aperture on her phone camera because every picture after that was clear and bright. All dancers try to get clients to the VIP room. They make way more money back there. It seemed like Gabby took every man that talked to her back to that room. Picture after picture showed my fiancée crawling all over men of every age. She's kiss them deeply and they'd grope her big tits. Hands went everywhere.

The next two pictures showed Gabby kneeling on the floor first with one cock in her mouth and then with another. Jasmine snapped several in a row and I got to see Gabby swallow. The next picture showed my beloved straddling a customer, his cock pointed straight up, her bare pussy hovering only an inch above his knob. I held my breath for the next photograph.

Instead, a short video clip arrived. Music blared briefly in the library before I thumbed the volume low. Lights flashed in time with the beat. The video was darker than the photos but light enough for me to see; Gabby kissed her client and dropped her steaming pussy down to envelope him, enclosing him in a hot, wet sheath of young female flesh. His bare cock slid into her bare pussy.

The camera suddenly wheeled and Jasmine's face appeared too close. "Sorry, dude," she rasped, keeping her voice low. The camera swung back to my girl fucking this stranger until Gabby's legs tensed and her ass shook. Even across the space I heard her moan of orgasm. Off-camera I heard Jasmine mumble "Seriously?" and then the man's deep moan filled my ears.

Jasmine appeared again. "Bitch made them both cum. What a slut."

My spy again aimed the phone at Gabby and propped it against a wine glass. I saw my love work the shrinking cock inside her until he slipped out, followed by a rush of semen. They talked for a minute and then Gabby pulled her panties up and replaced her bikini top. The man handed her a wad of cash. Gabby moved off frame and soon the man did too. He had to be sixty.

Jasmine reappeared. "That's what she does. All night. She's cleaning up in the bathroom right now and will hit the stage again in a few minutes. She's draining balls left and right. All the guys want a piece of her young ass. Do something. I'm sorry you had to see that."

Shit. My dick was hard. My heart was broken.

I text Jasmine a thank you and transferred a payment into her PayPal account. I told her to keep going and I'd hear from her again next Monday, and any future tapes needed her face left out. She fired back no problem.

I was torn up inside. Yes, I was erect, but I was also in anguish. This was not Gabby and I sharing a wild sexual experience. This was my wife-to-be fucking other men, plain and simple. I know we broke that barrier but surely there had to be some boundary remaining? I could take this video to the club manager. The law says no touching but everyone ignores the law. If I showed him he'd have to fire Gabby.

I hit replay and zoomed in. It got grainy but I saw her labia mushroom around the client's straining cock head and envelope him in hot flesh. I saw their bodies react; muscles tense and roll, and wondered how good it must feel. I watched them fuck and saw how they both lost themselves in it. The tape ended. I sat in silence.

I had to say something. I had to demand she stop. I had to tell her how I felt. I'd take the next week to get my thoughts in order. Jasmine would send more pictures and video, this time without her face in them, and armed with those, in case she tried to deny her behavior, I'd insist she stop. If she loved me, if she truly cared, she'd listen.

The next day I changed my mind and the next day I changed it back. All week I was up and then down. Gabby sensed something was wrong and asked but I told her nothing and she backed off. Friday and Saturday brought all the same agonizing torture they always did now and by Monday morning in the library I was a contorted, tormented, animal. I was ready to chew my own leg off to escape this trap.

Jasmine's text arrived on time. She'd improved her sneaky, meaning the photos were closer and clearer, and this time she sent two videos. Gabby fucked clients in both. I thought I'd suffered the worst but Jasmine told me to prepare myself for something truly bad. When the next video arrived, I held my breath.

The time stamp said just after two in the morning. Gabby was leaving the club, saying good bye and waving. Jasmine had hidden herself behind a tall plant to get the shot. As Gabby walked through the main room, a man who had clearly been waiting took her hand. They kissed briefly and left together. Jasmine hurried after the couple, the video swinging wildly as she recorded table legs and carpet and crazy shots of the stages and the overheads lights. She emerged on the street and followed Gabby and her new friend, trailing half a block behind. Gabby led her man to the same motel we'd stayed on our visit to Portland. She even reserved the same room. Jasmine taped until Gabby and the guy entered the motel room and shut the door.

Fuuuuuuck.

She was actually and truly cheating on me. Worse, she was dabbling in prostitution. I know she'd say it was safe because all the girls knew the guys but still, she was accepting money for sex and those guys would think that bought them certain rights with her. I could hear her telling me that she was the one in charge and how sexy she felt to be so desired. I know the rules are different for us, given what we've done, but this clearly crossed the line. She was taking guys back to her motel room and telling me nothing! What had happened to her?

My hands were shaking. When we met for lunch today, I'd give her an ultimatum; no more. Them or me. We do this together or not at all. She could keep dancing. I know how much she loved it. But the sex when I'm not involved had to stop.

I watched the videos again. I had to pause as a group of girls passed my table but once they were gone I hit play again. I rewound and watched every frame in slow-motion, agonizing over Gabby's infidelity. I was so focused on that cock slipping in and out of my wife-to-be I missed the long, curly blonde hair on stage. I reversed and zoomed.

Anna. Unbelievable. Gabby had taken Anna down the path of betrayal too. There she was on stage, dancing in the tiniest bikini I'd ever seen. I was sure her boyfriend had no idea.

As lunch and my confrontation with Gabby approached, I grew ever more nervous. At last I saw her enter the cafeteria and smile broadly. She ran the last few steps to kiss me. To anyone watching, everything was perfect for us.

She sensed my mood right away.

"What's wrong?"

"Sit down, Gabby."

Her smile faded and I hated that I'd killed it. I'd decided to keep the photos and video secret unless absolutely required. Better to get her to admit what she'd done.

Our eyes met. Every prepared speech and planned comment I had flew out of my head. I gazed into those big eyes I loved so much.

"Something's been nagging me a lot lately," I began.

"I've seen that."

"I want to talk to you and I want you to tell me the truth. Please be honest."

"Always, Baby," she said.

"I suspect you are fucking guys at the club. My gut tells me you are sneaking around behind my back."

She carefully folded her hands on the table.

"No, I'm not."

She didn't flinch. She didn't hesitate.

"Do you take men into the VIP room and have sex with them?"

"No. I dance for them. That's all."

I couldn't believe it. Gabby always tells me the truth. I had no idea what to do. I was so sure she'd confess I had no backup plan.

She continued: "I know it kills you when I leave Friday and don't get home until Sunday, and I don't fault your imagination running wild, but you're wrong. I just dance."

I have you on tape! My mind screamed. I thought about playing the videos for her but worried Jasmine would get implicated. I wondered what to do. A crude plan formed; I'd drop my accusation for now and next weekend I'd wait outside her motel room. When she returned after work with her latest man, I'd knock on the door and catch them in the act.

"Okay," I said, relenting. "Sorry for doubting you."

"No worries, Baby," she purred. "I'd worry in your shoes."

When did she become such a skilled liar?

Chapter 11

Strangely, I could concentrate again. Gabby and I laughed and worked together like old times. I think because I had decided and because I had a plan, I was suddenly free from worry. I'd catch Gabby and that would make or break our relationship; simple as that. I had no idea which, but I was prepared for either. She'd lied right to my face and that was inexcusable.

We studied hard for finals, I played hard on the lacrosse field, and we spent loving, cozy time in the evenings.

At last, the weekend arrived. I kissed her goodbye Friday evening, keeping one eye out for Anna. After Gabby and I parted company I cut across campus to watch the road and saw Gabby approach the bus stop. A girl with long blonde hair already waited.

I returned to my dorm and joined Martin in a game of Dinosaur Hunter based on the Ray Bradbury short story called A Sound of Thunder. Fun.

Saturday, I took care of everything I needed to do plus a little more, including a deposit on a room, just to buy myself cushion on Sunday. I waited until nine at night and caught the bus to Portland. I ate at a Denny's and rented a single room nearby. At two in the morning, I zipped my jacket and headed for Gabby's motel room. I'd been there before and I knew bushes lined the parking lot. I found a good spot across from her room but near the sidewalk.

I waited.

I wish I could say deep and meaningful thoughts flowed through my mind as the clock ticked down but honestly, I was a blank. I can be obsessively patient when I need to and I used that skill now. Roughly thirty minutes later, I heard high heels approaching my hiding spot.

Gabby looked amazing. She'd learned the art of makeup, no doubt taught her by the other dancers, and her eyes popped and her smile dazzled. I hated that dazzling smile was not for me. Her little sequined dress gave her fantastic cleavage and her gentleman suitor feasted his eyes, which Gabby clearly relished.

They left the sidewalk to cross the parking lot and Gabby opened the motel door. Lights came on and they embraced in a passionate kiss as she closed the door.

I waited a minute and then crossed the parking lot too. I wondered if there was a view anywhere through the drapes and discovered a small gap at the bottom which let me see part of the room. The man was undressing Gabby quickly and she giggled at his rampant and impatient desire.

Not yet, I thought.

Naked and gorgeous, Gabby worked on his clothing, laughing as she evaded his hard cock when it sprang into view. She grabbed his erection and tugged hard, playfully threatening him with hard jerks.

"Mine," I saw her say.

He gently brushed her hair out of her face and my love sank to one knee. She was more eager to get his cock in her mouth than he was to be sucked.

Not yet, I thought.

The blowjob did not last long. If you were fifty-something and had a hot, young co-ed like Gabby eager to please you, how long before you moved her to the bed? Exactly. The man lifted her under the arms and kissed her fervently, backing her towards the queen bed. Gabby rolled onto her back and spread her legs to this man, her bald pussy beckoning him. His eyes roamed her youthful body. Her eyes were welded to his pulsing erection. She looked hypnotized by it.

Not yet, I thought.

He scampered onto the bed. Gabby reached down for his older-gentleman cock and steered him into her steaming, girlish cunt. I heard both moan.

Her hands slapped on his ass and her legs rose until her toes pointed at the ceiling. She was talking to him as he worked his cock around, getting every inch wet, probing her insides. He buried the length and her head fell back and they both moaned again and my goddamn penis began to rise. I willed that little fucker back down but he ignored me. He knows what I like.

No matter, I thought. That it turns me on is irrelevant.

Gabby urged him to fuck strong and deep. This guy's expression looked like he'd won the lottery. He slathered her big tits and bit her nipples and I heard her moan again in a way I recognized; Gabby was already heading for orgasm; fucking random strangers electrified her.

Now.

I left the window and banged on the door. The room fell silent and then I heard the bed squeak as they started fucking again. I banged harder. I heard the man curse and footsteps approach. The door flew open. He stood there, naked and erect, glowering at me. He was pissed, sure he was, but beyond him on the bed Gabby was horrified. Her legs were still spread wide open. Her young pussy still gaped. He pointed a finger in my face.

"Fuck off, mate," he said. "I'm busy here."

I ignored him, burning my gaze into my fiancée. Her hands rose to cover her mouth. She looked ready to cry. I held up my engagement ring and shook my head.

The man turned to look at her face and then down to her ring finger. Yup. He rolled his eyes.

"Figures," he said, disgusted with her lies. "I want my money back."

Gabby and I faced off, each waiting for the other to speak.

"It's in my purse," Gabby muttered.

The man rummaged and removed four hundred dollar bills. He yanked his clothes back on, furious, and then turned on Gabby.

"Not cool," he said. "What did I ask you?" He stormed out.

I shut the door behind him.

"You lied to me," I said. "Sounds like you lied to him too but I don't care about that. You lied right to my face."

She was barely holding it together. "I know. I'm sorry."

"You were so good at it. How many other lies have you told me?"

"None, I swear."

I shook my head again. "Why should I believe you?"

We fell silent. We were just a couple of dumb, brilliant kids trying to figure out relationships, and we had no idea where to begin.

"No more," I said. "This shit is over. I can't trust you. You stop tonight."

She filled her lungs with air and held it. "No," she said.

My eyes narrowed. Was she serious? She'd pick strangers over me? "You'd give up our marriage to dance," I asked. "To fuck men you don't know? Do I mean so little?"

She jumped out of bed and came to hug me. I resisted. She squeezed until I relaxed an inch. It was hard to refuse; she was warm and naked and smelled great. Her big boobs pressed my stomach.

"I'm not saying no I won't stop, I'm saying no I can't stop."

"What the fuck does that mean?" I asked. I tried to twist to see her eyes but she clutched my body and hid her face.

"I have a problem," she muttered. "I know I do. I love it all too much. I can't stop myself, Chuck, but even if I could, I wouldn't. I love it too much, Baby. I need it."

There was a catch in her voice, a plea. I pried her away. Her eyes were big and earnest. I sensed she was trying to confess a dangerous and dirty secret.

"What are you saying, exactly, Gabriela?"

She stepped away and sat on the bed. She folded her hands in her lap.

“I’m saying I love sex, Chuck. I love fucking. I like it with women but I love it with men. I want them all. I’m obsessed. Even more than the men, I love cocks. I’m enthralled by them. I love the way they start small and grow. I love the way you guys can make them bounce. I love how warm they are and how hard they get.”

She stared at her toes as if far away.

“I love how cocks are such a direct line to a man’s brain. I love the sounds I can make men produce. I love how cocks throb. I love how they explode and white liquid comes spitting out. I love everything about them. They’re dangerous and alive. I want to get what’s inside them, inside me.”

Now she nervously worked the skin between her knuckles, stared at the floor.

“Spencer opened my eyes,” she continued. “I wanted more. Blake and then Dakota blew the roof off my mind, but Nathan turned my world upside down. I tried to talk to you about it but did a terrible job. It’s hard to put into words. I need it, Baby. I wanted it with you but you want to wait and I respect that, but my cravings grew until they took control.” She met my eyes and I saw her desperation. “I can’t stop, Chuck. I don’t want to stop. I could tell you yes, because that’s what you want to hear, but I’d do it again.”

All the life left my body. You’re probably thinking I should tell the bitch to fuck off and die. It probably seems like a simple math problem to you; she lied, she cheated, I’m out. My mind did scream at me to walk but I stayed planted. We had so many years, so many memories. To just walk away was infinitely harder than I thought it would be.

“What about professional help?”

She shrugged. “Counselling won’t work if the patient’s not ready.”

“So either I accept you like this or it’s over?”

“That’s an awful sentence to hear.”

“It’s an awful sentence to say, but true.”

“It would help if we started having sex,” she said. “It would be fantastic if I could turn to you and get my needs met. I feel so much more sophisticated than you in this regard. I feel like I’ve outgrown you in some ways. You know, you pimped me out to Jasper to get what you wanted. What about what I want?”

Touché. I looked at my hands.

Moment of truth, I thought. I quieted my mind and searched. A hard truth bobbed to the surface. I made my choice.

Footsteps behind brought me around. Anna, dressed in a black micromini, crossed the parking lot, worried and afraid. She saw my face and hurried through the doorway to get a look at Gabby.

At least Gabby won't be alone tonight.

Anna sat on the bed next to Gabby and took her hands, saying nothing.

"Gabby," I began. "I love you with all my heart. I want to marry you. I want to grow old with you. But I can't let you walk all over me. We made promises to each other. You lied to me, you cheated on me, but I can forgive all that if it ends right now. Stop this and come home or we're finished."

Tears filled her eyes and ran down her cheeks.

"No," she said. "If I said yes I'd be lying."

I nodded my head thoughtfully. Without another word, I backed out of the motel room and closed the door. The last thing I saw was Gabby burying her face in Anna's neck and crying.

Chapter 12

I was hurting, I won't lie.

I went through the standard motions all week; class, study, practice, food, sleep, all without Gabby. I was a zombie. I cried every night. Martin was extra nice. On Thursday Gabby sent me a text asking if her organic chemistry book was at my dorm and I sent back one word; no. We did not see each other.

Late Friday night I text Jasmine asking if Gabby was dancing and she said yes.

So, that's it then.

I forgot to tell Jasmine to stop spying for me and on Monday I received photos and video of Gabby fucking clients in the VIP room. She looked hot as fuck. She'd teased her hair and wore her makeup heavy and the bikini she wore was outrageously small. I jacked off three times in the men's room watching the videos on a loop. In fact, I began jacking off multiple times a day, every day, staring at all the pictures and videos and remembering all the times I watched my fiancée getting fucked. I'm a sick and twisted pervert. I spent every day feeling awful and masturbation made me feel better. I wondered if some self-preservation part of my mind was having me gorge myself until the thought of her no longer affected me, like some bizarre inoculation. Maybe. More likely I just have a fetish for watching my woman getting fucked.

But she wasn't my woman anymore, was she?

Elisabeth Kübler-Ross had it right; denial, anger, bargaining, depression, and acceptance. I went through them and in that order. At first I expected Gabby to call, text, or just show up at my door any minute. Then I got pissed at her for being so weak. I almost called to yell at her. Next I tried to tell myself what she'd done wasn't so bad and since I liked watching her anyway maybe we could work this out. I should let her do whatever she wanted and be understanding. I should just be strong and accept her how she is. When I faced the truth, I got depressed. There was no way I'd allow her to treat me like that. Gabby and I go through life on the same page or not at all.

Not at all then.

Weeks passed and I never saw her. I avoided every place we'd ever gone together, spending all my time alone and focused on my responsibilities. I still hurt, and badly, but I knew I'd done the right thing.

I stopped crying at night just in time for finals. Despite my situation, or perhaps because of it, I roared through my exams like a wildfire, acing one after the other. I took one last test and just like that, my school year was over. I packed a few things at my dorm and shipped them to my parents and Martin and I agreed to remain roommates next year. He was super bummed Gabby would no longer be coming around and showed surprising empathy regarding my loss.

Gabby stayed in Portland for the summer. I'd occasionally check in with Jasmine and she'd send pictures and video, but that got old. I made a last payment and told her to stop. She reported most of the other girls got their regulars back after the newness of Gabby wore off.

Gabby, of course, had a constant supply of new men coming in the front door.

Back home my parents were bummed for me but said we were too young to be so serious. My dad suggested I intern at his office to stay busy and then a trip to Europe after Exeter. I accepted both. I wasn't over her loss and I knew I wouldn't be for a long, long time. All I could do was keep moving forward. I avoided anything that reminded me of her or any places we used to hang out. I put her out of my mind. I know that's not exactly dealing with my feelings but it was the best answer I had.

Late every Friday and Saturday night, I'd picture what Gabby was doing at that moment and invariably get hard. I'd lock my bedroom door and close my eyes, picturing that sweet girl I knew with a big cock buried balls deep. I'd cum like an earthquake.

End Part Two.
