

Honeymoon Sweet

A Hotwife Story

Honeymoon Sweet

By Matthew Lee

Prologue

I opened the little, black, felt-covered box. The ring sat pinched between two small cushions, the diamond glittering in the fluorescent light over my cubicle. The rock was undersized but big for the money I make. Zoey would understand that the instant she saw it. She wouldn't care. Money will come in time. We're just starting out.

My plan was to ask her this weekend at the lake. All our best friends would be there and I could surprise them at the same time. The big question was when? When do I drop to a knee and ask the most beautiful and sexy woman I've ever met to marry me?

Best not to over-plan. I'll play it by ear. My gut says when the moment arrives I'll know it.

Chapter 1

"Let me suck on it again," Zoey said. "Before they come bug us."

I looked out the cabin window. Our friends were jumping off the dock into the cool crystalline waters of Echo Lake. Sofia had lost her top already.

"We won't have time to finish," I complained.

"I don't care. I just love your dick in my mouth."

She presented an excellent argument. Wrapped in a too-small red bikini made her even more persuasive.

"So do I," I said. "But you don't suffer the blue balls."

She gave me a raspberry, moving to the coffee table and lighting the bong. She sucked hard, exhaling a dense cloud of sweet smoke.

"If I drown," she said. "Make sure it's Connor that gives me mouth to mouth."

"That's just mean."

She wrinkled her nose and grabbed a towel, skipping through the cabin door to meet our friends. I knew she was only joking. Connor is the handsome one in our circle of friends and we all tease him about it. Every one of us has been out with him doing one thing or another and some girl has tripped over herself trying to say hello or give him her number. Too bad for them, Connor is totally in love with Mia, Zoey's second best friend. He'd never cheat and honestly, his good looks make him uncomfortable.

Once we learned that, the teasing became merciless.

Zoey flashed a smile and closed the door behind her, waving to our friends who gave a big cheer.

"Did Aaron finally push you off his dick?" Sofia shouted.

"Yes!" Zoey yelled back, annoyed.

Everyone laughed. Zoey ran down the dock, dropped her towel at the last moment, and dove in. Sofia jumped in after her. Mia was wrapped around Connor like a monkey, both floating casually and laughing along with the others. Finn, Sofia's boyfriend, floated on an inflatable alligator, soaking up the sun. Axel, as always, stayed on the dock, keeping the bong stuffed and ready. All of us smoked so we went through a lot of weed. I sometimes don't like the foggy head it gives me but weed makes Zoey horny like nothing else, so I figure it's a worthy trade.

Zoey broke the surface ten yards out and Sofia came up next to her. The shore had a gentle slope so both girls stood in waist deep water, giving us a lovely view of Sofia's tits. They exchanged words and then Sofia yanked the string of Zoey's bikini top. When my girlfriend's hands went to hold her breasts in, Sofia yanked the other string and pulled, ripping the top away. Zoey whined and tried to chase Sofia but quickly gave up and dropped her hands, exposing her firm honeydew melon tits.

"Fuck it," she laughed. "I want to swim and can't fight you every second."

The guys cheered. Mia looked a little ruffled; Sofia and Zoey have nice firm fat tits, although Zoey's are bigger. Mia's are small and pointed. I saw Connor murmur something and Mia nodded. Moments later she peeled her bikini top off too.

Thank you, Axel, for always packing the strongest weed.

We'd all seen the girl's tits before but that was a backpacking trip five years ago. Bodies change. Back then they were all Mia's size. It's good to update masturbation memories.

My erection had dwindled enough to venture outside so I draped my towel around my neck and two bottles of Gentleman Jack. We wouldn't need glasses. We'd all just hit the bottle and pass it. I'd been friends with Axel, Connor, and Finn since high school and Zoey, Mia, and Sofia have been buddies since the fifth grade. When I started dating Zoey, we all kind of matched up one by one.

Except Axel. He's still rough enough around the edges most girls are turned off. He's Irish, pale skinned and freckled, with red hair and green eyes. Zoey says he's not bad looking, he's just immature.

But the man knows his drugs.

I left one bottle with Axel and the other on the picnic table before diving in. I aimed between Sofia and Zoey and release bubbles before coming up. They were ready and splashed my face from every angle.

"You just want to see Sofie's tits," Zoey accused.

"Of course I do," I said laughing "I want to see all the tits in the world. Every tit everywhere."

Sofia made a face. "I've been in ladies' locker rooms, Aaron. There are plenty you don't want to see. Trust me."

I curled around behind Zoey and wrapped her in my arms, forcing myself to ignore Sofie's breasts even when she rose from the water a little. I knew she was testing me and Zoey was watching so I ignored her completely. I felt Zoey relax. She's not the jealous type, none of us are, but naked breasts in front of your boyfriend are naked breasts in front of your boyfriend.

The day wore on. The sun drifted across the sky, we drank and smoked too much, and as the light started to dim we dressed and moved to the cabin. Usually we split into threes, with Axel picking which couch he wants nightly, but this trip we'd all be forced into one big cabin. A storm last week had knocked out the power and damaged several, forcing the campground to move people around, but of course we didn't learn that until we arrived. No big deal. We're all friends here.

Mia loves to cook so she got dinner rolling while Connor played guitar and we all sang along. Zoey curled up in my lap, innocently resting her fingertips along the bulge in my swim trunks. Yeah, I was getting some tonight.

About an hour later, after we'd finished eating, Axel took the guys aside. We'd been playing charades, boys against girls, when he pulled us into the bathroom. From a large grocery bag, he withdrew four green and purple kilts.

"What the hell, Axel?" Finn said.

"I got an Irish tune for us to sing," he slurred. "Been saving it."

We tried to decline but Axel wouldn't allow it. He argued since we smoked his grass we owed him. Connor, Finn, and myself all looked at each other.

"That's actually a fair point," Finn said.

"Strip lads," Axel said. "And don me family plaid."

I don't know if he did the research or was just wasted and stupid but what the hell, we've done plenty of stupid things over the years. We all undressed and, laughing like idiots, wrapped his kilts around our waists. He cued up a video on his cell like a Karaoke bar and we ran through the thing several times, smothering our barely contained laughter. This was going to fail spectacularly. Sofia yelled from the common room that we were taking too long. We ran through the song two more times and then burst through the bathroom door, bagpipe music blaring from Axel's phone, lifting our knees high and signing his damn clan song at the top of our lungs.

Axel was serious in the way only a drunk can be serious. The rest of us lasted one verse and then burst out laughing, fighting to get back on track and failing. The girls joined in the laughter but at us, not with us. Axel stopped abruptly and I ran into him and like dominos, or maybe the Three Stooges, our drunk and wasted asses stumbled and almost fell. I clutched at the arm of a chair, trying to stay vertical, and the other guys clutched at anything, including each other. An instant later we all held green and purple kilts in our fists.

Now the girls really laughed. I thought Zoey would pass out she laughed so hard. Sofia's face turned crimson and then she looked at the girls to see their reaction. Mia looked away, started laughing, and turned back again. I tried to hand Axel his kilt and Connor tried to shield me but tripped and for a solid ten to fifteen seconds all four of us lurched and blundered, naked, dicks flopping, asses bouncing.

The women were rolling on the floor.

Finally, we got ourselves covered. Axel was annoyed we'd messed up his family anthem and made us promise we'd do it again, and do it right, before we left for home. We all made a serious vow.

Zoey fired the bong and hit it hard, passing the thing to Mia. I opened the whiskey and took a belt, sending the bottle in the opposite direction. Our group was high as fuck and having a blast. We left our kilts on and just continued with the night. More drink, more smoke, more tall tales. We shared stories from childhood and hopes for the future. I couldn't ask for better friends.

One by one we started to nod off. Zoey mentioned since we all had to share this cabin we should all go to sleep at the same time. Nobody argued. We shoved furniture out of the way, spread blankets and pillows on the ground, and assumed sleeping positions, the girls insisting on being closer to the bathroom.

Done.

Connor hit the lights. Predictably, there was all the silly giggles and goofy ghost sounds, sarcastic comments and dumb jokes.

Gradually, the room grew quiet. I thought about the small black box in my pants pocket. Would now be a good time? I could click the light on and ask for everyone's attention. I played the scene in my head but something felt off.

Zoey inched her ass backward, rubbing against my dick.

Thank you magic weed.

I still wore my kilt so she had easy access to my dick. I felt her fingers grip me moments later.

"I want to fuck," she whispered, guiding my rapidly swelling Johnson between her butt cheeks.

"Me too," I murmured. "But first I need to pee."

"No. No time. Just let me feel it inside."

She still wore her bikini bottoms under a long T-shirt and fabric rustled as she untied the knots at each hip. She pulled the triangles forward.

"Baby," I whispered. "I really, really-"

"Stop talking," she whimpered. "'Just put it in."

I love how much she loves sex and her eager horniness had me hard fast. She rubbed the head around her hole and then tugged me in, sighing softly as my thick cock filled her. I held still and let her roll her hips around my shaft. The sensation was incredibly but when you need to go, you need to go.

"Baby," I exhaled. "Don't move. I'll be right back."

She whined as I withdrew but her firm ass kept pushing on my bladder and that won't do. I maneuvered in the pitch darkness, moving slowly so I stepped on no one. I crossed the floor like I was avoiding landmines, feeling with my toes, carefully placing my weight, hands stretched out before me. Because I was so high it felt like an hour before I reached the entrance. I closed the door before turning on the light, waited for my still too-erect penis to shrink, did my business, turned the light off again and waited for my eyes to adjust. The trip back seemed twice as long. Eventually I began to see familiar blurred shapes. I knew I was close.

Zoey's soft moan confirmed it.

I guessed she was masturbating, tired of waiting for my return. I slid my bare foot along the floor bit by bit, creeping my toes and then shifting my weight. I shuffled one last time and encountered a hairy male leg.

Someone was spooning my girl!

I left my toes against his skin, assuming in their sleep someone had rolled over and found a warm body. As I stood motionless, pondering the best way to proceed, I realized I was feeling the slow in and out of two bodies moving in concert. Zoey and the faceless man were not merely spooning, they were fucking.

Connor, or Finn, or maybe even Axel, was fucking my woman.

We never know what we'll do in such moments. We like to think we know. I certainly thought I knew. But I'd always imagined exploding in rage and indignation. I'd always imagined throwing punches and kicking ass.

Zoey's gentle moan crushed all those considerations.

I heard in her voice a powerful effort to remain silent. The cock moving inside her was driving her crazy. I know her well. I recognize all her sounds of passion. I have a fairly large penis and know what she loves. I get sounds from her too.

But not like these.

These sounds were a woman fighting to maintain sanity. These sounds were Zoey struggling to keep it together and not scream with delight. Maybe being in a room with people where she might get caught contributed to her excitement. Maybe all the weed did too. But there was no denying this hunk of meat did something to her, something strong and powerful.

By the suppressed noises she made, I suspected she had both hands over her mouth, doing her best to remain quiet. The air felt thick with tension.

A smothered orgasm ripped through her!

Her body trembled and shuddered. She sucked air through her nose and held it. Her legs went stiff while his legs kept moving, working that cock in her hole. I absorbed it all, transfixed by the erotic energy racing through me. This was beyond hot. This was excitement beyond my imagination. I'd never considered Zoey with another man but now that it happened at my feet, I was spellbound. Zoey does not orgasm from penetration. She whimpered briefly and seemed to immediately begin climbing towards another, even more powerful climax.

Now, I was thunderstruck.

Someone, some guy I'd known for years and considered a friend, had, under cover of darkness, seized the moment to fuck my girl. Maybe Zoey was a mistaken identity for him, too. Maybe he thought Zoey was his girl. Maybe this was all a big mistake. We were high and the room pitch black.

But why was I allowing it?

Someone was fucking Zoey and I was just standing there. I threw no punches. I made no scene. I stood motionless in the darkness, listening intently, feeling the rhythm of their bodies through my toes. The sensation was remarkably erotic, and not merely because it was sex, but because it was Zoey. My Zoey, fucking an anonymous cock. Zoey had a new cock in her. Zoey was having sex without me. There wasn't much to hear and even less to see but the knowledge, the awareness of what happened at my feet sent shock waves through me. My heart ignited with lust. I carefully reached under my kilt like I needed to verify my own arousal. I squeezed my penis, shocked at how incredibly hard I'd grown.

The faceless male continued his short, solid thrusts, retreating an inch before burying his cock again. They made almost no noise. I detected only the occasional choking gasp or restrained groan. I was convinced Zoey thought it was me that fucked her. She would never cheat on me. I know it. But she was loving that cock.

Moments later a deep and muffled grunt told me the man was cumming. Zoey sucked air in frustration, teetering along the edge of a second earthshaking climax. She worked her hips quietly but rapidly, trying to get there but failing.

I heard the male haul out his cock, a faint sucking slurp rising to my ears, and then blankets and fabric shuffled as he retreated. I tried to determine who the midnight thief was but lost him in the darkness. I crouched to take his place, lying on the floor and carefully inching closer until I felt the heat from her body. I moved a hand to her hip and then took my rightful position behind her.

"I got so close," she whimpered, amazed. "Almost two...from fucking, Baby."

Wonder dripped from her voice. Zoey does not orgasm from penetration.

"I'm still hard," I said, trying to sound surprised. I was supposed to have just ejaculated.

"Put it back in then," she begged.

Her writhing butt found my dick. I lined up with practiced ease and followed her crack down, sinking every inch into her steaming pussy, gliding smoothly through a pool of hot semen. She felt slightly stretched. I held still and she used my hard rod to fuck herself. He'd gotten her to the brink and she was dying for that second climax. Sadly, I did not hit the same places he had so she was forced to slip a hand down to rub her clit. I covered her mouth and nose with my palm, allowing her only enough air to stay alive.

That set her off.

My hard cock combined with her dancing fingertips got her there at last. I held on tight, wrapping my arm and leg tightly and restricting her movements. She came hard, loving the forced submission.

If only she knew.

When I let her breathe again she wilted into a gooey loving mess. She wriggled close, holding my dick inside and struggling to stay awake.

"What about you?" she asked. "You're still hard."

"Sleep, Baby," I murmured. "You can owe me one."

That worked. She dropped her head to my arm and was out.

I stared into space. Someone else had fucked my girl and I'd loved it. Who the fuck was I?

Chapter 2

In the morning, Mia cooked breakfast. She's a sweet girl, petite and pretty, but surprisingly shy and bashful for a girl from Tijuana's back alleys. She won't talk much about her childhood but over the years we've all concluded it was brutal and cut her plenty of slack. If she wanted to be shy, she can be shy. Every one of us protect her like she's made of glass. She thinks we're all smart and rich and she can't believe God gave her a man like Connor.

I was up before Zoey. Mia and I discussed the last episode of True Detective. Zoey rose from her blankets, still dressed in her long T-shirt, and took the spot on the bench next to me.

"How'd you sleep?" Mia asked.

"Like a rock," my girl replied.

If anyone suspected anything regarding the night before, they did not show it. One of these men fucked my girl and after an hour of watching them I still couldn't tell which. Zoey waited until Mia turned to the sink before she playfully punched my shoulder.

"You felt huge last night," she mumbled.

"You liked that?"

"It made me cum," she whispered. "We've got to try that position again."

Mia brought a plate of eggs and ham and Zoey thanked her and dove in. I sipped coffee. Do I tell her? Why not? Three times I opened my mouth to speak and each time my mouth closed again without a word. Her moans from the night before drifted pleasantly through my mind and I was confronted with a new truth about myself: I loved that she'd been fucked. I did. I saw her this morning in a new way. I felt squeamish even thinking that but there it was. If I told her what happened, the odds that it ever happened again dropped to zero.

Happen again? What the fuck was I thinking?

I watched her shovel food. She said I felt huge. Which of these guys was bigger than me? I'd caught glimpse over the years, the way guys who hang out always do, but I'd never seen any of my friends erect. A lot can change from soft to hard. I began pondering a way to get the information from one of the girls. Sofia and Mia would know. If it was Axel I was screwed.

Connor and Finn entered the cabin soaking wet. They'd jumped in the lake to wash and were ready for food. Mia kept the ham and eggs flowing and we all discussed which trail we'd hike that day.

Hours later we were climbing the hillside, Finn and Sofia walking ahead of us, when Zoey made a crack about Sofia walking funny. I watched for a second but saw nothing odd.

"What do you mean?" I asked. "She looks strong."

Zoey looked at me humorously annoyed.

"It's a sex joke, dumbass."

"I still don't get it," I admitted.

"I'm talking about Finn," she said. "Did you not see Finn's dick last night?"

"When?"

"That absurd skit with the music and kilts. You guys tripped all over each other and us girls saw everything."

"Oh."

"Yeah. Finn's a horse."

My blood turned to molten iron. I had to turn my face away as if I felt a sudden need to enjoy the majestic mountain views.

Finn.

Finn had fucked my girl. He had to have known it wasn't Sofia, right?

"Mia and I looked at Sofia in disbelief," Zoey continued. "She laughed in our faces. Gloating bitch."

"I missed all that," I said. "We were busy trying to cover ourselves." She laughed.

"You and Connor and Axel hurried. Finn took his time."

I watched him hike. He was fit and good looking, not Connor handsome but no slouch, and he obviously loved Sofia. They walked close, bumping shoulders often or holding hands.

He'd been inside Zoey. My penis swelled despite the taxing climb.

We reached the peak and the view down the valley was spectacular. We took pictures, posing together and separately, and my dick swelled again when Finn put his arms around Sofia and Zoey. Sofia gave me a funny look but at that moment it occurred to me that Zoey carried Finn inside her. I gasped. Everyone turned to look at me.

"I'm fine," I lied. "Just remembered I never filed a doc-ten-eighty at work on Wednesday."

They rolled their eyes.

We have a habit of mixing couples when we hike. We walk together for a while, chatting, and then spin off to hang with someone else. I watched for Finn to make his move and when Sofia slid over to Mia, Finn dropped back to Zoey. I peeled away, pretending to take pictures, and watched him with my woman. I turned hot as they walked ahead of me. Was he asking about last night? Did he tell Zoey what happened? Did he realize he'd made a mistake and beg forgiveness?

I clenched my jaw. This whole thing was one big mind-fuck. When Finn moved over to Connor, I took my place beside Zoey.

I waiting a good ten minutes, then casually asked: "What'd Finn have to say?"

She was calm and relaxed, answer ready. "Nothing, really. He suggested we all play poker tonight, with plenty of whiskey and weed."

"That sounds fun."

"I agree. Maybe after we get a good buzz we can switch to strip-poker."

"You just want to see his horse dick again," I teased.

She laughed loud, surprised. "Well, yeah, who doesn't?"

I had no idea how to respond and she laughed again, taking my arm in hers.

"Poor baby," she cooed. "Don't worry. I'll look but not touch."

"Mia will die of embarrassment."

"Mia looked the longest and teased Sofia most. She's not the angel you think she is. She might be shy socially but not in the bedroom, according to her. She's told Sofia and me some stories, stories about Connor and stories about men before Connor."

I studied Mia. What Zoey said did not match my definition of the girl.

We all jumped in the lake when we got back. The day was hot and the trail dusty and the crystal waters felt fantastic. Our camping trips follow the same routine: a little formal day one, hiding while changing clothes or taking showers, but relaxing with each passing day. When we finished swimming, we gathered on the dock to change into dry clothing. Finn was unconcerned as he dropped his towel and pulled on his boxers. Sofia scowled at him.

"Finn, Darling," she said. "At least pretend to have some modesty."

He gave us a small wave. "Sorry."

"Yeah," Zoey added. "At least wait until we're all fucking high before you go flapping that beast in our faces."

Everyone laughed, including shy Mia.

Connor started a fire and stuffed the bong. Whiskey made the rounds while we roasted delicious hotdogs. The hike had been long and arduous and Sofia started nodding off right away, sedated by the drink and smoke.

"I'm crashing early, Loves," she said, stumbling towards the cabin.

"I'll put you to bed," Zoey offered. "I gotta use the bathroom anyway."

The girls locked arms and headed off.

Mia snuggled Connor and Axel asked Finn about motorcycle repair, an interest they both shared. I stared up at the Milky Way. My mind raced, conceiving and rejecting various plans to bring Finn and Zoey close again, just to see what happens. Why would I do that? All day I'd thought about last night and gotten excited. Not angry, excited.

I took a big gulp of whiskey from the bottle.

What kind of man was I?

Worse, I now had a secret from the love of my life and it involved her. Intimately.

Perhaps fueled by the alcohol, guilt came crashing in. Zoey had been vulnerable and exposed and I'd done nothing to defend her. I went from feeling guilty to feeling terrible to feeling like an absolute shit.

I had to tell her.

Fear and anxiety rose. My world heaved and dropped. She'd probably hate me after this, or at the very least be so angry and disgusted she stopped talking to me. She might even break up with me. I'd deserve it. I dreaded the moment.

I searched for what to say. I ran over the events again and saw all the opportunities I had to interrupt them. At the time, nothing occurred but that's because I hadn't wanted to stop them. I'd need to admit that to Zoey.

The cabin door opened and she descended the steps, large breasts swaying beneath a small tube top. Moments later she took her spot next to me again. I wasted no time, fearful I'd chicken out.

"Let's take a walk," I suggested.

She weighed my idea and shrugged. "Okay."

I let the guys know which trail we'd take around the lake and how long we'd be gone. They told us to be careful. Zoey grabbed a small bottle of whiskey as we left camp and I grabbed a shawl. We walked slowly, sipping Jack and gazing at the stars.

"I need to tell you something," I said, once we were far enough from camp. "I'm sure you won't like it."

Her expression turned deadly serious.

"You fucking better not be breaking up with me," she warned. "I'll kick your motherfucking ass. Forget it, Aaron. I won't allow it."

"No," I assured her. "But wait until you hear what I need to say. You may want to dump me."

"Did you cheat?" she snapped. "Who did you fuck? Sofia?"

I took the bottle from her and gulped a mouthful, shaking my head.

"Not who did I fuck," I said. "Who did you fuck?"

Instantly confused, she started to swear she'd been with me only. I cut her off, offering the bottle.

"Last night," I confessed. "You got fucked twice."

She waited.

"I went to the bathroom," I said.

"Yes."

"When I returned someone else was fucking you."

Her confusion returned as she played the events in her head.

"You thought I pulled out and then slipped back in," I said.

"Yeah."

"The first time wasn't me. The second time was."

"You went to the bathroom but quickly returned."

"No. It was so dark I had to move slowly. I was gone awhile."

"You move in behind me."

"No."

"You kissed my neck. I felt your erection poke me."

"Not me."

She examined her memories, trying to apply my new information.

"How do you know all this?" she asked. "Did one of the guys confess?"

Well, shit, I thought. Here it comes.

"No," I admitted. "When I returned from the bathroom he was still fucking you. I saw only blurred shapes but I knew. I did nothing, Zoey. I let him fuck you."

Her face became a jigsaw puzzle of mixed emotions, trying to make the pieces fit. I saw fear and anger and confusion and disappointment all fighting to be heard. I waited, allowing her mind to settle before I continued.

She beat me to it.

"Who?" she asked, her voice strained. "Which guy? Which one of our supposed best friends thought it would be awesome to trick me?"

"I'm not positive, but I think it was Finn."

I expected tears. I expected an eruption of hurt and anger. I got thoughtful consideration, like because it was Finn she minded less.

"Why do you think it was him?" she asked.

I took a deep breath. "When I arrived, you were making sounds I'd never heard before. You could barely contain yourself. Your soft gasps and quiet moans paralyzed me. I understood whoever owned the cock was doing something right, doing something you loved."

Her eyes unfocused as her mind drifted back.

"You guys could barely move without hitting someone, so it wasn't that he was pounding you into oblivion. With such restricted movement, I figured he had to be big. Then this morning you made a comment about that. I had no idea who it was until you mentioned our collective kilt flash and Finn's horse dick."

Her mind relived the moment. I wondered if she was picturing the kilt flash or remembering that big cock fucking her.

"Finn?" she mumbled. "Finn fucked me?"

"Yes, Baby, I'm sure he did. I'm so sorry I didn't stop him. I don't know what came over me or what I was thinking. I feel terrible I let that happen. I'm sick inside."

She snapped back to the moment, her eyes narrowing, her stare hard.

"You pushed in moments after he pulled out."

"I did."

"You were hard as steel, Aaron."

I said nothing.

"Did Finn fucking me get you hot?" she asked. "Is that why you were so hard?"

"It did. I'm so, so sorry, Love."

We fell silent. Her mind raced but so did mine. She took a long pull from the bottle, wiped her mouth on the shawl.

"I can't believe Finn would cheat on Sofia," she said. "That's heartbreaking. If I say anything I wreck their relationship but if I don't, Sofie has an asshole for a boyfriend. What should we do?"

"I think Sofia knows already."

"What? Why?"

"A look she gave me on the trail earlier. Finn put his arms around you both and my face must have done something. She looked at me like she knew. What was your exact comment to her when we had our kilt fiasco? What did you say, word for word?"

Zoey drank again, staring at the ground. Her head started nodding well before she answered.

"First, I called her a bitch, then I told her how lucky she was."

"Ouch."

"Yeah, sorry. It was just girl-talk, Baby. Locker-room talk for ladies. You know I love your big dick."

"Yeah, well, my big dick has never made you cum like that."

I hated to speak those words, I hated to state that truth out loud. It was terrible admitting another man could do something to her I could not.

My words completely flipped our conversation. I went from being the bad guy to her worrying about my hurt feelings. She stepped close and tenderly touched my face, worried how her admission made me feel.

"Aaron, I'm so sorry. I was drunk and high and stupid. We all were."

"That's true."

She snuggled. I wrapped my arms around her. We stayed like that a long time.

"You know," she offered. "You looked impressive up there. Poor Axel though. Connor was a disappointment too. That gorgeous face but such a boring penis. Finn stole the show but you came in second. Second's not so bad, is it?"

I skipped over all that. I did not want to talk about second place.

"When you told Sofia she was lucky," I said. "I think she decided to share him with you. I think she encouraged him to try something. I know that sounds far-fetched but did he say anything when he got behind you? Did you give him a green light? Before you answer, understand I'm not in any way blaming you or saying it was your fault. I'm just playing detective."

She searched her memories.

"I was fucked up, Baby," she said.

"I get that."

"He kissed the back of my neck, like you do, and slipped his cock between my thighs. He worked it back and forth a bit then asked if I wanted 'this dick?' Those were his words: 'Do you want this dick, Zoey?' I heard your voice. I'd swear it was you."

"I guess you told him yes?"

"Not exactly. I said 'Fuck me already, bastard. You know how horny I am.' Finn pushed it balls deep. I saw stars but I thought it was you."

This was maddening. I came out here to confess but our talk had me hot again. I took the bottle and gulped twice.

"Why haven't Sofia and Finn said anything?" I asked, changing the subject.

"Maybe they're enjoying their own private joke? Maybe they think we were too high to realize what happened?"

We started walking again. We wandered under trees and then along the shore. The night sky was breathtaking. Lost in our own thoughts, gently holding hands and taking in all the beauty around us, I was stunned when she paused and looked me in the eyes.

"Do you want me to fuck someone?" she asked.

I stopped dead. My jaw moved but no words came. Where the hell was this coming from?

"I'm surprised you allowed Finn to do that," she continued. "I get how complicated the moment was and how it would have completely turned our world upside down. Sofia would have freaked. I would have freaked. You would have woken everyone and caused a massive ugly scene. Friendships would have ended and that would have sucked big time. You hesitated, and I get why."

"Exactly."

"But you said nothing, Aaron. You did nothing. You even let him finish in me, and that's hardcore. Then you silently took his place and added your load to his and you were hard as steel while doing it."

"I feel terrible about that now, Baby."

"Yeah, I'm not talking about now, Aaron, I'm talking about then. I think you got off on it. I think it made you hot. So now I'm walking along the shore and wondering if that was a one-time thing you deeply regret or if the hotness has stuck around, and that makes me wonder if you want me to fuck someone else. If you liked it that much, do you want me to do it again? Be honest. I know you're embarrassed but be honest."

"No way," I said. "Why would I want that?"

She studied my face. Then she smirked.

"You're lying," she said. "I can tell."

"No, I'm not!"

"You are. It's so obvious. Your reaction last night tells me everything. You got hard, Aaron. You liked Finn fucking me. Maybe not Finn specifically. May you just liked another man fucking me."

My face burned.

"I'm not mad at you, Aaron," she said. "I was hurt right at first, like maybe I can't count on you to protect me. But I know that's not right. I pity the man that tries to hurt me. You'll kill him."

"I will."

"But Finn wasn't hurting me, was he? Finn was making me feel goood. You heard it and liked it. A lot. Didn't you?"

I felt trapped. I tried to think of a way around her accusations.

"Yes," I finally admitted. "You sounded so sexy. Your bodies moved together in such a sexy way. My imagination went wild."

"Thank you for your honesty," she said, rising to kiss my lips.

"You're welcome, I guess."

A slow smile crept across her face. Her eyes narrowed and filled with mischief.

"I'll do it," she said. "I will. It sounds hot. If you want to try it again, only this time with me a willing participant, I'll do it."

I couldn't move. The idea raged through me like a wildfire.

"Hot guys flirt with me a lot," she said. "Almost every time we go out. I shoot them down because I'm with you but I sometimes what they'd be like. I know you've met girls you'd like to fuck."

"You're killing me, Zoey."

She laughed. Not scornful or sarcastic or vindictive, but open and clean and from the heart, aware and embracing the follies and weaknesses of being human.

"My poor Aaron," she said. "Did I short-circuit your brain?"

She kissed me again, soft and meaningful. She was waiting for an answer but I couldn't bring myself to speak. No way could I confront her suggestion head on.

"How?" I finally rasped.

"How?" she giggled. "Do you mean like how would we go about doing it? Who knows? You know I hate figuring out details. I'm just talking about the idea. I'm just talking about a small relationship rule change. How or when or who we can work out later. Shit, maybe nothing ever happens. Maybe I just have a lot more fun flirting, knowing I have nothing to feel guilty about."

She stepped away and put her hands on her hips, elbows pulling the shawl, revealing her straining tube top and cutoff jean shorts. I ran my eyes over her juicy body, imagining some other man touching my prize. She grinned.

"You're thinking about it right now, aren't you?"

"Yeah," I croaked.

"That's hot, Baby. We could have fun with this."

Why was she so okay with the idea so fast?

"You're already thinking of a guy," I said, jealousy flaring. "Who? Some guy you work with?"

She moved into my arms.

"No," she said. "Aaron Turner, you know that's not true. We're standing here because of things you did, not me. But don't worry, Baby, your secret's safe. I feel much closer to you. I feel like I learned something about who you are way down deep. I feel like I hold sacred knowledge. I'll never betray that."

We continued walking and twenty minutes passed before my mind cleared. I realized I'd never told her yes or no. I was wondering what was going through her mind when she began to speak.

"Not Finn," she said. "In a twisted way it's kind of hot that he's fucked me but that's way too complicated. Maybe someone we meet while we're out partying. If you want, I'll let a guy take things farther. They always try. I'll be nervous as fuck, though. Can you imagine? Jesus. What an awesome idea, Baby."

I stopped.

"This wasn't my idea, Zoey. This was your idea."

"Okay, fine, it's my idea. But I only thought it up because you let Finn fuck me."

"I didn't let Finn fuck you. I had no idea who it was."

"Well you let someone fuck me," she countered. "My point is you enjoyed the moment. I think that means you want some man to fuck me. Am I right?"

I felt skewered. She was forcing me to face something frightening. She may be right and probably was, but framed that way the idea was harsh. She grinned at my tortured expression. My mind raced. The idea was hot, Goddamn it.

We started walking again.

"He came in me," she said after a few minutes.

"Yeah," I croaked.

I couldn't even discuss the possibility of Zoey with another man. To talk about it pulled the idea from the heavens and made it solid. Zoey hit the bottle again, a slight grin curling her mouth.

"Baby," she offered. "It's cool if you don't want to. Honestly, I thought you'd jump at the chance. Maybe I read you wrong. If the idea freaks you out, we can skip it."

"Let me think about it," I said, buying time. "It's a big deal."

The whole proposal was classic Zoey. Speak first, sort out details later, apologize if she needed to. To her it was just sex and no big deal. Like kissing a stranger on New Year's Eve. Wild in the moment but meaningless and unconnected.

Only Connor remained awake when we got back to camp. Zoey and I got ready for bed in the bathroom. Her usual giant T-shirt lay thrown over her suitcase.

"Topless tonight?" I whispered.

"I'm horny," she said.

She pulled my elastic waistband, reached inside. Her delicate fingers were warm.

"Let me suck it," she pleaded.

I rested my ass on the sink. She leaned at the waist and gobbled half my dick on her first pass. She sucked air through her nose and forced her lips to the base, easing my cock head back to her tonsils. I swear she has a second clitoris at the back of her throat. Swaddled in hot and wet, I began to fill rapidly. Once I was hard I spun her around and fucked her standing up.

After, she pulled her T-shirt on. We found open spots on the floor near the couch and were soon asleep.

Chapter 3

"That's the place," Zoey said. "Make a left. Pull in there."

She was so stressed her voice practically squeaked.

I left the highway and took the frontage exit. That led to a hard-packed dirt road which ended in a gravel parking lot. The huge pink neon sign flashed Tommy's Joint and I maneuvered around the big rigs and motorcycles until I found a parking spot against the building. The place was way out of town but that ensured we'd meet no one we knew. I put the car in park.

Zoey had her back to the passenger door. Her short, light, shimmering silver dress piled in her lap but I knew if she stood, the hem would barely reach mid-thigh. The fabric strained to contain her big tits and since she was without a bra tonight, keeping those babies in was a good idea.

In the months since our cabin adventure we'd talked a lot about her wild scheme. I learned plenty of new things about her but I'd learned even more about myself. For weeks I tried to blame my excitement that night on the weed, the whiskey, or the chance of us getting caught. She saw through my bullshit but didn't call me on it, waiting patiently for me to work through my fears. We talked long into many a night.

For her part she tried to say she was doing it for me but abandoned that position after a week, admitting this was something she wanted for herself. At last we finally understood the truth: a new lover for Zoey excited us both.

We agreed no friends or coworkers.

If I make us sound calm and cool, don't be fooled. We were worried and anxious, jumpy around each other for weeks. The last five days were especially bad.

She'd come up with a plan. The idea was Zoey and I would enter a bar together and order some drinks. She'd survey the crowd and if she saw an attractive man, I'd approach him and invite him to our table. From there we'd see what happened. We agreed no promises and no expectations.

I was shocked when Zoey mentioned this place. Bikers and truck drivers? I did not see that coming. She said they've always frightened her a little bit and I thought that meant cross them off the list but no, Zoey likes adventure. To her that added to the excitement. Bikers and truckers made me nervous as fuck. The last thing I wanted was a bar fight with some three-hundred-pound asshole who was pissed Zoey rejected him.

The fantasy had entered our bedroom dirty talk just one day after we got home. Zoey was on top, riding my hard dick. She took my hands and placed them over her big tits and then let her head fall back.

"Baby," she moaned. "His cock reached soooo deeeeeep."

My balls tightened. My dick hardened.

"I felt him all the way inside," she continued. "Big and fat and stiff."

I let her ride while I got myself under control and then I flipped her onto all fours and got behind her. I sank my dick and asked if she liked walking around for days with two men swimming inside her. That got a loud groan.

For the first two weeks we talked about the night with Finn but after that we branched out, making up ever wilder stories about what we might do with a stranger. We'd work ourselves into emotional volcanoes, staying hot and horny for days, fucking almost every day and some days two or three times.

Gradually we inched closer to reality. The law of diminished returns is a bitch. When the fantasies started losing their kick, we began visiting nearby bars. She'd go in as a single woman and flirt and I'd hang back, just one of the hopeful guys. She'd dance with us all, getting passed around from man to man, never paying for a drink and having a blast. I was the man she always chose at the end of the night. We'd go home and talk about what-ifs while we fucked.

Our sex life had never been so good.

But that goddamn law of diminished returns.

We knew what was coming. We knew where we were headed. Finn had picked the lock. The door was closed, but it wasn't bolted anymore.

So here we were sitting outside a honkytonk bar. I wondered if now was the right time to pull the box from my pocket. We were about to do something wild. Would it help to have something solid to anchor us? Wouldn't the promise of a life together give us faith and confidence?

Zoey clicked on the overhead dome light. Her hair was piled high, too classy for this place, but I wanted them all to know she had sophistication. She was no tramp, no whore looking to make some money. I knew her looks would scare off a lot of men and that was fine. I ran my hands up her smooth legs until my fingertips disappeared beneath her hem. She closed her eyes, savoring my touch.

Tonight, we'd be deliberate for the first time. We'd speak plainly to those we met, no secret games, no charades. She was hoping for some magical spark, some man that just lit her fuse. It's hard to admit, but I was hoping for that too.

She placed her hands on top of mine. I'd been tapping fingertips nervously.

"Some smoke to steady the nerves?" she suggested.

"Yeah."

She pulled the pipe from her purse and we hit it twice, filling the car with smoke. We started laughing.

"I feel like Cheech and Chong," she giggled. "I hope no one is watching when we leave the car."

We waited for the buzz to hit and then opened the windows, airing out the car.

"Ready?" she asked.

I wasn't. I was on the edge of panic. She may have stilled my fingers but my leg rocked and my toes wiggled inside my shoes.

"Yes," I grated.

We climbed out of the car. I came around to her side and she took my arm. We were early enough finding a booth was no problem. We settled in and waited, sipping our drinks and watching the room. I let the idea of proposing drift away for now. There was way too much going on. We were buzzed and distracted and our hearts raced. We'd crossed a line that deserved all our attention. I decided to wait. Things could get crazy here any moment.

Nothing happened.

Everyone stuck to their own groups and the few single guys were apparently frightened off by me.

"Any prospects?" I asked after an hour.

Zoey shrugged.

"You're a babe, Zoey, and especially tonight. Maybe give the guys enough time to drink some courage before they get up the nerve to approach the gorgeous woman?"

"Whatever," she said.

We continued drinking. The weed came on slowly but kept building higher and higher. We'd gotten it from Axel so you know it was good. After another hour, I knew Zoey was horny by the absentminded way she touched her own skin and licked her lips. Her eyelids had slowed.

"Any prospects now?" I asked again.

She used the cherry from her Manhattan to point at a rough looking older man seated alone at the bar. He wore jeans and a long-sleeved plaid shirt, his brown hair pulled back in a ponytail. I guessed he'd be tall and skinny once he stood.

"Seriously?"

"Yeah."

I looked the man up and down. I did not see what she saw.

"Why him? He looks nothing like me."

"When the woman three seats over couldn't find her lighter, he slid her his. When the bartender made a mistake on his drink, he waved it off and paid anyway, keeping what the bartender brought. When some drunk guy playing pool bumped him and thought about starting shit, my guy gave him a hard stare, freezing him solid. I don't know what that man saw in those eyes but it made him back down. My guy is confident, kind, observant, and fearless, but mostly I like his looks. He's handsome in his own rugged way."

"He's skinny. You like muscles."

"That he looks nothing like you is a big part of my attraction. I've never picked a man before. I get hit on a lot and I've always selected one of the guys chasing me. This time it's like I'm the man, chasing the woman. I'm on the other side now. I pick someone I want and pursue them. It's a lot harder and I've gained new respect for what you guys face. The fear of rejection has my palms sweating. I don't know how you guys do it."

"It sucks," I said. "Women have all the options."

I studied the man at the bar again. I don't know what I expected from her, but this guy sure wasn't it.

"I don't want a watered-down version of you, Aaron," she continued. "I want someone completely different, someone I'd never pick. I'm out of my comfort zone. This man is unlike anyone I've ever dated. That's exciting all by itself."

Dated. Yeah. Code for had sex with. Zoey wasn't a slut when I met her but she wasn't a virgin either. I eyed the man carefully and concluded I'll never understand how women think. This guy was so different from me. How could Zoey find us both attractive?

"What do you want to do?" I asked.

If she'd said she wanted to head for home, I'd not have been surprised. I expected as we tested the waters of this crazy plan, we'd have a lot of misses to go with our hits. Probably a lot more misses.

"Go invite him to our booth," she said.

"Out of the blue?" I stammered. "No dancing first? No flirting? What do I say? Excuse me, you've caught my girlfriend's eye. Want to come meet her? He'll think we're running a scam."

"Good point," Zoey said, finishing her Manhattan. "Let me go."

She slipped out of the booth while I was still trying to think of what to say. She slid up to the bar one chair away from her guy. Ponytail looked her up and down. The bartender saw her and walked over. She asked something and he nodded and she raised two fingers. The barkeep walked away. She turned her back to the bar, resting her elbows behind her while she surveyed the big room and all the people in it. Gradually her gaze came around to him.

"Hi," she said.

Smooth.

He gave her a nod, said something low, gestured towards her slinky sparkly dress, and spun the barstool next to him to face her.

Zoey sat.

Sex, I decided in that instant, has little to do with the body. Sex lives in the mind. Her acceptance of his invitation, and all the unspoken ramifications that went along with it, sent my temperature rocketing skyward. My palms started to sweat and so did my back. Zoey held an innocent conversation with a man she'd just met and my mind crashed around its cage like an enraged gorilla. She was leaning forward, elbows on knees, listening to him speak over the music and background noise. I knew he saw plenty of cleavage.

The bartender brought two drinks, whatever she'd asked for in the first place, but Zoey remained seated. Their conversation looked comfortable and easy. As they talked she finished the first drink and started the second. I sat patiently, waiting. Enough time passed she finished the second drink too. She said something. They shook hands. She started towards me and he spoke again, causing her to pivot. She listed for about thirty seconds, made a comment, then headed towards me again.

"Let's pay the bill and go," she said.

"Home?"

"No. I mentioned we were both too high to drive. I asked if he knew about nearby motels. He travels a lot and recommended the North Star, about a mile down the frontage road. I thanked him. Then he added I should ask for room one-twenty-two, if it's available, because that room has the best mattress. Let's go rent room one-twenty-two."

Amazing. The shit that woman have easy, they have really fucking easy.

"So," I mumbled. "We're doing this?"

"Maybe," she said. "Maybe we get a cheap motel room and get high watching shitty movies. That sounds like fun. Or maybe Mister Rough Around The Edges boldly knocks on our door and then who knows what happens?"

"He mentioned that room number so he'd know where to find you," I said.

"I'm aware of that," she said.

I finished my drink.

Chapter 4

Tick. Tock. Tick. Tock.

Fuck me, time is a bitch. Either it flows way too slow or way too fast.

We sat on the bed, shoes off, backs against the headboard, watching Ghostbusters for two dollars and ninety-nine cents. Every sound outside caught my ear. I was fucking high-strung. Zoey seemed relaxed but that might have been the weed.

"This is exciting," she said into the open air.

She offered no explanation but didn't need to.

Boots thumped outside, someone heavy passing in front of our room headed to theirs. Zoey and I held our breath and then laughed about it.

"This is nuts," I said.

"We can go home," she suggested.

I let her words hang.

More boots. Thump, thump...pause...thump.

I'd closed the drapes over the big window so I left the bed to use the peephole. Empty. I'd just returned to the bed when heavy footsteps, a longer stride this time, passed our door again.

"That's a lot of foot traffic," Zoey said, a little frustrated.

She'd folded one leg under, showing skin all the way up on the other, a hint of white panties exposed at the top. Her dress hung slack, exposing cleavage and flat tummy to several inches below her navel. What a fucking wet dream.

When the tap came, it was on the window, not the door. Zoey's face furrowed with concern, all her confidence taking flight in the face of reality. I jumped to the peephole. Ponytail stood illuminate in the yellow porch glow, fisheye lens making his face round and bulbous. The man held a large brown paper bag.

"It's him," I said, awaiting further instruction.

Zoey nervously bit her bottom lip like a dork, giving her bunny teeth. She glanced down at how she was seated, how her dress was arranged, and must have decided she looked good enough.

"Should we open the door?" she asked. "I'm suddenly not so sure. This shit is real. I'm shaking."

Her cocky self-assurance was gone. Now she was a girl headed down a dark forest path. Trees of uncertainty towered over her.

"You tell me," I answered. "This is your moment. Even if we let him in, nothing need happen. We can just talk, like at the bar. You made no promises, right?"

She gave a quick nod, simultaneously answering my question and telling me to open the door. I shot the bolt and swung it wide. He extended a hand, which I took.

"Clyde," he said, stepping inside. His eyes darted to Zoey. "Told you I'd come."

Excuse me? I thought. Left that little detail out, didn't you?

"I'm glad you did," she answered.

I gave her a hard stare which she avoided.

"I'm Aaron," I offered.

I shut the door but first checked outside. The parking lot was dark and deserted. He'd come alone. I shouldn't be surprised. Zoey was a fine piece of ass and worth the risk. I'd have come to her motel too.

I turned to discover he'd taken the open side of the bed, leaving me a small cushioned chair. I thought about telling him to move but why start off on the wrong foot? My curiosity was growing now that Zoey's confident façade had shattered.

Clyde peeled away the paper bag and displayed a big bottle of Jefferson's Ocean Bourbon. I was impressed. He looked like a hillbilly but obviously knew a few things. Zoey clapped in delight and jumped from the bed to grab three glasses, unconcerned about who and what she flashed. Her thong panties were a thin strip of white covering her pussy and Clyde and I enjoyed the brief view.

Her purse sat on the table next to me so I fetched the pipe and weed. It appeared we were about to party. I had no idea where any of this was going but neither did they. Zoey took the bottle and poured and then raised a toast. I expected her to say something about adventure or new friends but she didn't. That's when I learned just how nervous she was.

"Down the hatch!" she said.

Clyde and I drank without comment. She filled our glasses again and then took her spot on the bed, sitting, I noticed, about eight inches closer to Clyde than before. That dress was killing me and I knew Clyde felt the same. The flashes of leg, ass, tits, and tummy were almost too much to take. We never got a clear or long look at anything and that made it all better. Tease us, bitch.

Clyde gulped his drink.

"What are you guys up to?" he asked.

I turned to Zoey.

"That's a good question," I said. "What are we up to, Zoey?"

She just grinned like a dork.

"I don't know," she said. "Just hanging out. Talking."

Clyde poured himself another and topped off ours before setting the bottle down. Zoey has a small dolphin tattoo on her butt and part of the tail showed now. Clyde pointed with his glass.

"What's that?"

Zoey twisted to see but I answered.

"A dolphin. She loves dolphins. Show him the tat, Zoey."

My girl hesitated half a second and then stood, lifting her dress until the small picture came into view. The curve of her ass and the long bare leg turned the air electric. Clyde leaned close and Zoey stopped breathing. I was sure she felt his warm breath on her skin. He lifted a rough hand and lightly touched the image. Zoey sucked air. I clenched my jaw. How can I feel such a surge of excitement and fear simultaneously?

"That's a lot of detail," he said. "How much?"

"Two hundred dollars," Zoey exhaled, keeping her dress lifted.

"Worth it," Clyde drawled.

From touching the tat, Clyde spread his hand and slid his palm down her smooth leg, turning to observe me. Zoey flinched and stiffened but did nothing to stop him or move away.

"Any others?" Clyde asked.

Zoey looked over her shoulder and met my eyes. She was pleading for something but I couldn't tell what.

"Show him your tramp-stamp, Baby," I rasped.

Zoey's eyes grew wide.

"I'd like to see that," he said, and slid his hands up her legs and under her dress. He turned her ass towards his face, squaring her up. Zoey's mouth opened in shock at his assertiveness but said nothing. Clyde lifted both sides of her sparkly dress until her round ass and white thong came into view. Her legs were trembling. She finished her drink all at once. Clyde admired the smooth ass in his face, running his gaze up a leg, along her tan lines, over her butt, and down the other leg.

"Your thong covers the tat," he said.

That was a lie. Her thong hid a tiny portion of the bottom. The tattoo was a Chinese character for joy about the size of a postage stamp. Clyde was manipulating the moment, testing Zoey. I thought she might tug her underwear aside but she shocked me when she hooked her thumbs and slid the flimsy things down her legs. I saw her hands shaking.

Clyde slowly moved his hands to cup each butt cheek. As my girl lowered her undies, Clyde gently lifted and separated her ass cheeks, first exposing her winking sphincter and then her pink slit. He pulled a little more and her labia separated, revealing wet inner lips and a tiny welcoming hole. Zoey gasped and straightened, her dress falling like a curtain over his hands. They froze for a second and then Zoey stepped out of her panties, seating herself once more on the bed. She held her empty glass in front of his face and he dutifully poured. He'd seen her excited pussy up close. She studied his face, apparently finding there whatever it was she sought. Her eyes softened. She'd had the desired effect.

"Smoke?" I asked.

Clyde said sure but Zoey frowned at me. We both were fully aware what weed does to her. I was dumping chum in the water.

I lit the bowl while Clyde puffed and then he did the same for me. I offered Zoey the pipe but she shook her head, looking worried. When all this was just an idea, she loved it. Now we had a man in our room and she was naked under her dress and he'd just gazed at her wet and naked cunt. Things had gotten serious.

But she wasn't running for the door either, and that meant something.

I was conflicted. Just like that night with Finn, I battled myself. The fantasy was hot; the reality was a little frightening.

"I also have a tat," Clyde said into the awkward silence.

Zoey brightened.

"Oh? What is it?"

"The Eye of Horus. Do you know what that is?"

"No."

"It's Egyptian," I interjected. "An eye with a curlicue underneath."

"That's right," Clyde said.

"Show me," said Zoey, naively.

"Happy to," Clyde said, standing quickly and facing Zoey.

He opened his belt buckle and popped the buttons of his fly. Zoey looked like she might protest any second but pressed her lips shut. I expected the tat on his hip or thigh. I expected he'd pull his boxers aside and show her. No. Clyde was commando. He pushed his pants to his knees, exposing everything from the waist down. He was hairy and partial aroused. His pale, bulky, vein-covered penis bounced as his pants went down. He wore a thin silver ring pierced through the head, passing through the pee-hole and looping under. He pushed his cock and balls aside with one hand and with the other flattened the hair on his inner thigh, showing Zoey a small turquoise eye about an inch long.

She wasn't looking. Her wide-eyed gaze was welded to his dick. He waited and slowly her vision swung over.

She coughed. "That's pretty," she said. "Bigger than I thought it would be."

"Get a good look," he suggested. "There's a lot of detail. Can you see the tiny hieroglyphs in the ink?"

Zoey swallowed some whiskey and set her glass on the nightstand. She leaned close, his cock inches from her cheek. Veins began to rise and so did he.

"What do they mean?" she asked, her voice husky.

I was rock hard but terribly twisted inside my jeans. I straightened a leg but that didn't help so I pinched my erection and moved it to a better spot. Zoey spared a tenth of a second to glance at my movement but then returned her gaze to his tattoo. Her eyes bounced repeatedly from the artwork to his cock, mere inches away. My girl had a new cock in her face, close enough to kiss. Clyde continued to swell, sticking out horizontally now, but still held aside by his hand.

Zoey sat up. Clyde released his penis, grabbing his glass for another drink, standing there with his pants down and his cock protruding. Zoey turned to me.

"Hand me the pipe," she said.

I did and then lit the bowl. She filled her lungs and then exhaled.

"Hey," Clyde said. "You guys mind if I shower really quick? Been on the road a few days. A hot shower sounds great."

I waved towards the restroom.

"Help yourself," I said.

He pulled his boots off and kicked his pants free. We watched him undress. He was hairy all over but lean, with a flat stomach and wiry muscles. He stacked his clothing on the dresser, offering only a "Steam makes them damp," by way of explanation for stripping out here instead of the bathroom. Uh huh. Right. He wanted Zoey to see his body naked. Maybe he just liked showing off that piercing. Either way, he got what he wanted. Zoey sipped whiskey and watched every move he made. She returned again and again to stare at his unfamiliar cock. Finally, he disappeared through the bathroom door, leaving it ajar two inches.

Damn that unfriendly steam, I guess.

Water flowed, the shower sprayed.

Zoey turned to me.

"I'm shaking," she said.

"Nice piercing," I noted.

"What do I do?"

I shrugged with one shoulder.

"What do you want, Zoey?"

I honestly feared either answer; end this, or go all the way. She glanced at the bathroom door.

"Should I go in there?"

"What do you want, Zoey?" I repeated.

This had to be all her. I couldn't encourage or suggest. When tomorrow came, I'd need to know I didn't push her into something. That would ruin whatever happened tonight. On the other hand, if what happened next was all her idea, I'd get crazy hot. I'd brought out the weed. That was contribution enough from me.

Zoey left the bed. Her breasts wobbled beneath the shiny dress as she pulled a gulp of whiskey directly from the bottle. She stared at the bathroom door and then moved without looking back. She stepped through, leaving the door open about eight inches. Clyde was not surprised.

"Can you wash my back?" I heard him say.

Zoey mumbled a reply too low for me to hear. I moved closer, using the mirrors and the door gap to see what was going on. Clyde had the shower curtain pulled back, shielding Zoey from the spray. Suds dotted his hairy body. His penis had deflated but looked bigger with all the surrounding hair matted.

Zoey hooked her thumbs and slipped the thin straps off her shoulders. In a blink, she was nude and standing before his ravenous eyes. His cock twitched and he wrapped fingers around the shaft, slow-stroking while he examined my girl.

"You look like a model," he said. "Better. Best looking woman I've ever seen."

Corny, but effective. Zoey melted a little, the tension in her shoulders and back relaxing. The longer he looked at her like that, the more she liked it. He held out a soapy sponge and she stepped into the shower with him, drawing the curtain and blocking my view. I stayed put though and minutes later I heard him moan and Zoey slurp on something. My balls tensed instantly.

"Look up at me," he said. "Yes. Now try to take more. Good girl. A little more. Yeah, like that."

Zoey moaned around the cock in her mouth and I unzipped.

"More," he encouraged. "Relax. Let it slid back. Ungh, yeah, that's perfect. Jesus Christ you're pretty. Work your lips towards the base. Goddamn, girl, you're an angel."

She was blowing him and I was hard like iron. I stayed at the door listening to her groans and lip-smacks and his counsel on how best to pleasure him. Zoey was an obedient student, eager to please this older man.

I darted to my chair when the water shut off, expecting them to move to the bed. That's where I'd take her. Moments later the door swung wide.

Neither of them had bothered to towel off. Droplets of water dotted their skin. Zoey's hair was slicked back and reached to her waist. Clyde was erect, rigid, deep red and arching towards the ceiling, silver ring shining. Zoey entered the room and came to me, leaning over my chair and kissing me, pushing my hand off my penis and stroking my dick. I cupped her big cantaloupe tits, thumbing the nipples and hefting their weight.

Clyde stopped to collect glasses and pour three whiskeys. He moved around the room fully erect. He moved casually, unhurried, but his firm dick was like a weapon that held Zoey and me hostage. His cock was a menace, an implied threat. Anticipation radiated from the thing and penetrated our brains. He approached us, penis pointed skyward and throbbing, and handed us full glasses.

His erection was level with my face. Squiggly angry veins meandered under the skin. His testicles were hairy golf balls. The silver ring had Zoey's saliva on it. I tried to think of a toast but words died in my throat. He raised his glass and was about to say something but Zoey cut him off.

"To hard cocks," she giggled, waving her tumbler first at mine then his.

Clyde and I said nothing but we clinked our glasses anyway.

Gulp, gulp, gulp.

Our new friend took the empty cups and, untouched penis still hard as red diamond, walked them to the table. Zoey and I followed him with our eyes, staring at his proud cock. She placed her hands on the arms of my chair and leaned over, kissing my mouth. She returned a hand to stroke my dick.

"You all right?" she asked, gazing into my eyes.

"I have no fucking idea," I admitted.

She chuckled.

"Me either," she said. "But it's all hot, right?"

I conceded with a nod. A shadow moved over us. I heard Clyde kissing up her spine. He moved higher, kissing her shoulders and then her neck.

"I feel his cock," she hissed. "He's between my thighs. God! He's so close to my pussy, Baby."

Her eyes grew big and then narrowed and then grew big again. A shudder raced through her. I leaned over to get a look and saw his pierced cock head first graze her labia and then drag against her clit. He pulled back and sent it in again, this time mashing her inner pussy lips before momentarily plugging her hole. I met her eyes again. If this was going to happen, I wanted her connected to me when it did.

"Find that silver ring," I whispered.

She gasped but reached between her legs. A moment later her eyes narrowed in victory. I had no idea what to say next but I think deep down I knew what she'd do. She concentrated, the tip of her tongue protruding, and then her eyes opened wide.

"Stay with me," I said. "Stay right here."

Our eyes locked, her body moved over me as his weight came forward. The air left her lungs carrying a long deep moan with it. He was sliding in. She grabbed my hand and squeezed.

"Aaron," she groaned. "Oh, Jesus, Aaron..."

Her brow furrowed and her expression turned to dismay.

"Fuuuuck," she whimpered, drawing the word out as she exhaled. "He's in me, Baby. He's in me. We did it. We actually did it. Another man..."

Her voice trailed away. Her body began to gently rock as Clyde pumped his cock in and out of my girl. Her face twisted into a dozen different expressions but mostly she was staggered by the blissful sensation of his hard cock expanding her tunnel. She had a new man in her, just like she wanted, and it felt far better than she ever expected. She squeezed my hand hard, hard enough to hurt.

"I love it," she muttered. "You've never been filled with a cock so you don't know what I'm talking about. Baby, he feels amazing."

She remembered my dick in her other hand and tried to jerk me but the overwhelming sensations coming from her pussy proved too distracting. I pulled her hand away and took over. I knew what I needed to do. I looked over her shoulder until I caught his eye.

"Take her to bed," I said.

Zoey gasped. I was handing her over. I'd just given her to him. She moaned and pushed her ass backward, driving his stiff cock deep. He hooked behind her knees and scooped her up, spreading her legs wide right in front of my face. For an instant I saw her tight pussy stretched into a teardrop around his buried erection and then he spun, carrying her to the bed.

At the edge, he leaned her forward until she was on all fours and then followed her onto the bed. His firm cock never left her pussy. He gathered her long wet hair like a leash and pulled, driving his cock into her intestines. She groaned in painful satisfaction. She wanted to feel fucked. She wanted this stranger to use her cunt. He caught on fast and began to hammer her, forcing her head down while keeping her ass high. His hairy balls slapped her clit mercilessly.

She came screaming into the pillow. Her toes were curled into little fists. He let her finish and then flattened her, sucking his thumb before pushing it up her ass. She grunted and thought about protesting but he fucked her twice as hard and she gathered pillows in her arms and held on.

I moved around to her face. Her eyes were clamped shut and her expression was half pleasure and half pain, but when I bumped my dick against her mouth she opened wide. I held her head in both hands, using the pounding he gave her to drive my cock in and out.

"Omf mu fkng Gd!" she yelled, filled with dick at both ends.

He was going to make her cum again and that hurt. Zoey does not orgasm from penetration. But she did for Finn and now she was about to again for Clyde.

Twice.

A tiny dagger twisted in my heart. Both men lifted her someplace I couldn't. That rankled. The truth aggravated me but also made my dick harder. I took out my irritation on her mouth, fucking her face while he hammered her cunt. My cum started to boil and I just let it blow down her throat. She grunted and sucked eagerly.

Clyde kept pounding until his orgasm smashed him flat. He drove his cock all the way in, making sure that jizz shot into her womb. He pumped hot liquid for several moments and then withdrew, dragging his seeping cock across her hamstrings as he flopped onto the bed. His pee hole oozed white fluid.

I sat on the edge and stroked her wet hair. We'd done it. We'd finished and survived. I was ready for Clyde to leave so Zoey and I could talk about everything.

After a minute Zoey turned over, resting her head next to his on the pillows. I took the spot next to her. We stretched our legs, wiggling toes filling our field of view, and laughed. Then Zoey turned on her side, her head on his hairy chest. She threw her leg backward over mine.

I sensed she wasn't finished with us.

I grabbed the remote and clicked on a music channel and after a few minutes Clyde left the bed to grab the glasses and whiskey. Zoey watched him move around the room, pierced cock swinging.

When he returned, we sat in a circle, drinking and talking. He drove trucks for a living but didn't own a rig, instead signing on for one-way trips all over the United States. He'd been in the military, married and divorced twice, and had a fourteen-year-old daughter living in Florida.

I'd just wondered aloud about the Eye tattoo when Zoey interrupted and asked me to grab the pipe and prepare a bowl. I left the bed. When I turned, pipe in hand, Zoey had her head in his lap, his cock in her mouth.

I'm not sure why but I decided to sit this one out. I lit the pipe for Zoey and she stopped long enough to inhale. Clyde took a small hit and then I retired to my chair, filling my lungs and watching my girl use her mouth and tongue to get him hard again. She held him upright in both hands, painting his inches with her tongue, then flicking the silver ring at the tip.

Once he was hard she backed away and spread her legs. The top of her head aimed at me so I looked the length of her body. He sat between her outstretched legs. Our eyes met. He then turned his attention to Zoey, who lifted her big tits as an offering. He climbed over her, cock levelled like a spear. He lowered himself and they kissed. Her gasp told me when he entered.

I hit the pipe again. Jesus, she looked sexy as fuck. He scooped his arms under her shoulders to trap her wrists above her head and then he began moving his cock in and out real slow. Zoey got into it and lifted her hips a few inches to meet each of his smooth thrusts.

My angle was shit and this was way too sexy to miss. I moved by the bed, kneeling on the floor, and hit the pipe again. My head was spinning. My dick thought about getting hard again but just couldn't manage so I stayed there, mere feet away, watching this guy hungrily fuck my girl. Zoey loved it. They French kissed and I sometimes saw their tongues writhing. She was so wet we all heard it. Clyde deep-fucked her with meaning and Zoey came while staring into his eyes.

She and I were going to have a long talk about other guy's dicks and what they did for her. The charge she got from a new lover was beyond compare. There was no greater rush for her than opening her legs to a new man.

Zoey crossed her ankles behind his back, grinning like a fool. He sank every inch as they kissed with passion. I wished my dick could get hard again but I was way too high. I wanted to jack off watching this sensuous hotness. I turned my back on them. Let Zoey have her fun. I closed my eyes and tilted my head onto the bed and listened to my girl enjoy his cock.

I woke later with a stiff neck. My eyes resisted opening and for a moment I had no idea where I was or what was happening. I heard sex nearby and rolled to my side and saw Clyde on his back and Zoey riding him, her hips jerking back and forth. His hands massaged her big tits. I crawled onto the bed and Zoey noticed.

"Welcome back, Sleeping Beauty," she teased.

"How long was I out?"

She didn't answer. The room smelled like sweat and cum and I discovered I was lying in a wet spot. Her hair had dried and gone naturally curly. She leaned over his face, feeding him one tit at a time and I guessed I'd been asleep about two hours. I wondered if they'd kept fucking the whole time or dozed like me. Zoey held his head to her breasts and worked her hips, grinding her clit against his pubic bone and then boom, she was cumming again. So glad I woke up in time for that.

I listened to her strained voice and the moans he was forcing from her and my dick stiffened. Definitely at least two hours. I took my dick in hand and jacked off watching Zoey fuck and spewed cum just as Clyde was arching his back and filling her pussy again, growling something about how gorgeous she was. This was a once in a lifetime event for them and they were going to wring every drop of juice from it before the thing vanished in the morning light.

They crumpled in a heap, Zoey sandwiched between us again, and we all dozed.

When Zoey and I awoke in the morning, Clyde was gone. He left his cell number and a long thank you in ball point on a paper towel, telling Zoey, again, how beautiful she was, inside and out. Bright sunlight streamed in through a small window. The blinds had been left open and I got up to close them, looking out dirty glass into a gravel parking lot. I wondered if anyone out there last night saw what went on in here. They got a great show if they did. Behind me Zoey yawned. I turned. She stretched and then smiled.

"That was...amazing," she said. "I knew it would be hot to take a lover but it was a thousand times hotter with you watching. I never expected that."

She scooted to the edge of the bed and slipped my dick in her mouth and all at once I was desperate to fuck her. Images and sounds from the night before exploded in my mind and I flipped her over before I was fully hard. She spread her arms and legs, welcoming me, and my dick sank into a smoldering pit that was her pussy. She gasped at the same time I did and we began making slow, sweet love. I last only a few minutes but she was too sore for more than that. I emptied my nuts and she was all over me, kissing and touching and rubbing like a devoted housecat. We clung to each other like we'd survived something.

We ate breakfast at a Denny's with our feet touching under the table. We held hands while I drove home but that wasn't good enough so she unbuckled and rested her head on my shoulder. We skipped a shower and crawled into bed, kissing with so much feeling both our eyes watered. We didn't fuck again but we kissed and caressed with such deep passion we were left trembling.

"I love you so much," she said.

"I love you too, Zoey."

I held her tight.

"We did it," she murmured.

"That was intense," I said. "You were breathtaking. I'll remember last night forever. I may forget Clyde's name someday but I'll always remember his cock in you."

"I'll never forget his name," she said. "That was the most intensely erotic night of my life. I remember every moment. I wish I could have also seen it the way you did. Record some video next time."

"Next time?"

She rose on an elbow to look at me. "Yeah, right? This wasn't just one and done, right? Was it?"

"No," I said, admitting the truth. "But not all the time either. I couldn't take it."

She laughed. "Me either. God, my body is sore all over. You guys were beasts."

"We had inspiration."

She snuggled under my arm. "Two men at the same time was nice," she said.

The weight of all the things we weren't talking about rested heavy on my shoulders. I know Zoey felt the same. We'd have those conversations, in time, but for now we basked in the warmth of what we'd done. I had insecurities and I'm sure she did too. Deep down I worried Clyde's lovemaking had somehow stolen her or changed how she felt about me. I'm sure she worried if I now thought of her as damaged goods, a slut, diminished because another man had her. We had a jungle of thoughts and fears to cut through but not right now. Right now was just for us.

I wondered about the black box in my pants pocket. Would our engagement dissipate many of those nagging fears? What better way to reassure Zoey that despite her salaciously and whorish behavior, I still wanted her above all others? I imagine taking a knee beside the bed and opening that small box. Zoey still carried Clyde's semen in her. That gave the moment a surprising erotic flavor. Asking her now would also place the night we'd just shared with Clyde in perspective. We did all that together. We did it and she'd know my view of her was utterly untarnished, perhaps even enhanced. Yes, definitely enhanced.

All this depended on her saying yes and for an instant the room spun as I imagined her saying no, but my gut told me that would not happen. We were more in love than ever. We were closer, more intimate, more trusting than ever.

"Hang on, Baby," I said. "I need to get up for a second."

She lifted her head, pulling the pillow in to replace my arm. I slipped out of bed, using my body to block her view. My hands shook as I pulled the little black box from my pants pocket. I lifted the lid, perfectly positioned the ring, and spun the box to face away from me.

Here I go, I thought.

Turn. Step, step, kneel. Extend my trembling hand.

Her eyes were already saucers.

"Zoey," I said. "I love you. Will you make me-"

"YES!" she screamed, cutting me off. "Holy fucking Jesus, yes!"

She flew from the bed. I don't mean she swung her legs out and jumped, I mean she somehow flew, like a cannonball shot at a fort, flying across the gap and wrapping around my arms and legs. We were kissing then, wild crazy happy delirious kisses, and crying. Both of us. Crying like we watched the last minutes of Notebook, crying like we watched Ethan Hawke stand on his desk and, eyes filled with tears, gazed knowingly at Robin Williams.

Eventually I pried her away enough to slip the ring on her finger.

Chapter 5

Sofia screamed.

Mia screamed.

Axel, Connor, and Finn smiled and gave me a hug.

"This bachelorette party will shake the pillars of Heaven," Sofia declared. "Mia, I'll need you to help me plan."

"You can count on me," she said. "I know a super fun bar in Tijuana."

"Hang on," I said. "That makes me nervous. Can we at least try to keep the three of you out of jail?"

Zoey took my side. "Both of you need to dial it back a little," she told them. "We can have fun but let's not go crazy."

Mia shrugged but Sofia looked crestfallen.

"Fine," Sofia said.

"The party is yours," Mia said. "We'll do as you wish."

Zoey looked directly at Connor. "No hookers," she stated. She moved to Axel. "No hookers." She skipped over Finn. "I know you guys will want strippers at the bachelor party," she continued, "and that's fine, but no hookers. If Aaron has sex with someone else I won't kick his ass, I'll kick yours."

In the months since that fateful night in the cabin, Finn and Zoey had exchanged maybe twenty words. There was no anger or guilt, but Zoey was intensely awkward around him. Zoey and Sofia were tighter than ever and my gut told me they'd had an open and honest conversation about the event, which she did not share with me, yet still Zoey avoided Finn. I left the whole mess alone. It was behind us now, why bring it up?

As it turned out, it wasn't my bachelor party we needed to worry about. We hit a strip club early, already high, but the dancers were unenthusiastic and not that hot. We retired to Axel's apartment where we smoked, drank, and played poker.

The next weekend the guys came to my place while the girls had their party. Connor and Finn left after a few hours so only Axel was there when the first text hit my phone. Sofia sent me a picture of some hot stripper grinding his G-string crotch into Zoey's face. My fiancée was laughing about it so I thought no big deal. I had a stripper's tits in my face last weekend. Minutes later my phone buzzed again.

Mia had a fat black cock in her mouth.

From the right a girl's hand entered the picture and pulled the dancer's G-string down in front. It looked like Sofia's hand freed that black dick. Something told me Sofia was the instigator behind all this. I looked at the picture again. Mia looked high but she also looked happy. They were all having fun. Connor would not think this was funny. Connor would lose his shit. Mia looked hot sucking that dick though. The black dancer towered over her, rippled abs and huge pecs, no doubt just moments ago grinding like the dancer had on Zoey. I wondered if Sofia had done the same for Zoey. She wouldn't send me that picture. My dick began to swell. I was sure Sofia had. Axel was too busy tuning his bass guitar to notice what I was doing.

Another picture arrived. Now Mia faced two big dicks, one white, one black, and she was laughing wildly. I decided to roll the dice.

Stop hiding the pictures of Zoey, I sent.

She's behaving herself! Sofia wrote. I'm trying but she's all faithful and shit!

I didn't respond. They had a long night ahead. By the empty glasses on the table I knew so far they'd only had alcohol but let someone bust out the pipe and Zoey would gobble any dick waved in her face. Since our night with Clyde she been bold, flirting openly, dressing hot. Strangely, at the same time I've felt a stronger sense of loyalty from her. She plays more, but she's only playing. I suppose if she told me she found a guy she wanted to fuck, she'd let me know.

Chapter 6

I'm not religious and neither is Zoey so we decided to get married by a ship's captain. Everyone chipped in and we moved the wedding ceremony to San Diego, where we both had family and friends. We booked a room at the Paradise Point Resort and Spa. The plan was for everyone to meet at the spa and then move to the yacht. We'd sail from Vacation Isle until San Diego was on the horizon behind us and then have the ceremony. We'd return to the resort as husband and wife and then party with family and friends in our suite into the wee hours. In the morning, Zoey and I would fly out, continuing our honeymoon in Hawaii.

I was shocked by the amount of money everyone contributed, especially my family. I'd underestimated how much they loved Zoey.

Mia stressed over every detail, leaving Zoey free to have fun. The girls never mentioned Mia's stumble at the strip club so I kept my mouth shut. Truthfully, I asked no questions at all. Zoey found that incredibly sweet and trusting but honestly, I wanted them to have their own secrets. That night was their thing. I wondered what happened and my gut told me plenty did, but I never asked or did any digging.

At last the big day arrived.

My sister had warned Mia that every wedding has at least three things go wrong. How those things are handled sets the mood for the day if not the marriage.

The first problem was the yacht company got our music wrong but Axel stepped up with four different mix lists he had ready, just in case.

Next, the yacht company discovered a leak in the hull. We panicked for about an hour until some filthy rich guy told us we could use his bigger and better yacht. We invited him to the wedding and he came, swapping shorts and a T-shirt for pants and a suit jacket. After the ceremony, I saw him leaving with two friends of my sister.

Lastly, Axel cracked a new bottle of whiskey and our group shared several toasts. Mia caught a strong buzz on an empty stomach and threw up over the railing. We had to maintain in front of family and friends but covered nicely for each other.

By nightfall we were docked and the wedding party had moved to our master suite, looking out over the lights of San Diego.

Zoey and I were husband and wife.

We changed into casual clothes and then partied hard but not too hard in front of family and friends. As the hours ticked away, people departed, wishing us good fortune and many children. The crowd dwindled.

In the end, it was our group, our close circle, just like always.

Axel raised a toast. "To good times and good friends. May they both last."

"Here, here," Connor added.

We lounged around on couches and chairs, swapping stories from the day. Finn mentioned my mom was hot and Sofia followed saying she'd definitely fuck my dad.

"Neither of them will ever know that," I joked.

Booze of every type made the rounds and Axel broke out some killer weed that smelled like pine needles. We all ended up on the floor beneath blankets and pillows, watching Dumbo on the big screen. We laughed our asses off.

Halfway through Zoey gasped softly in my ear.

"What's wrong, Babe?" I murmured. "Did you remember something?"

She shook her head.

"Finn roosted his bulge in my ass crack," she whispered.

I grinned. "History repeats itself."

"Not exactly," she grinned. "This time we're both wearing pajamas."

The bong circulated and we got baked. An hour later Mia announced she couldn't keep her eyes open. She thanked us and congratulated us and apologized for vomiting at our wedding, then left for bed. Connor tucked her in but wasn't sleepy so he returned, grabbing a seat on the couch. The bong made the rounds again and Zoey snuggled under my arm, intentionally rubbing her big tits against my chest. The weed, as always, had her horny, but there was more behind it this time.

Tonight was our honeymoon. She was feeling the urge.

"Let's sneak away and consummate this thing," she whispered, licking my lips.

She wore baggy shorts and a loose T so I slipped my hand up her leg and ran a palm over her smooth ass. I felt the bulge of Finn's cock with my pinkie. He didn't back away. I leaned in to kiss Zoey, forcing her backward, just enough to wedge Finn deeper.

"You're a bastard," she giggled.

I peeked over her shoulder. Finn was mostly on his side with Sofia spooning him, but she looked asleep. He watched the movie through eyes like slits, red and swollen from the grass.

"He's like a python back there," she chuckled.

I kissed her again, harder. She returned it. She knew I was trying to fluster her and no way would she cave easily. When she gasped directly into my mouth I knew Finn had worked deeper.

"You're killing me," she whimpered.

"Just like old times," I said.

I reached farther up her shorts and discovered she'd skipped panties. No wonder Finn was getting to her. Only two thin layers of cotton separated his fat head from her searing pussy. I bet he was pressed against her labia. I bet he felt the heat from her cunt. I ran my hand over her butt cheek again, dragging my pinkie, and Finn seemed bigger and firmer.

Zoey decided it was time to turn the tables and slid her hand down my stomach and inside my shorts. She gripped my dick and squeezed. In response, I pulled her butt cheek, opening her and causing Finn to plug her gap. He acted like he was utterly unaware. Maybe he was. We were all incredibly high.

Connor hit the bong. I used the gurgling water for cover and slipped a fingertip between her labia. She gasped. Finn was right there, cloth-cover head pressing on her hole. His cock squashed my knuckle.

I withdrew my finger and stuck it in my mouth. Zoey's eyelids fluttered a little.

Finn turned, moving his cock away. Zoey's bottom lip stuck out in a pout before she caught herself and sucked it back in. I moved my finger from my mouth to hers and she closed her eyes to be sexy but Finn moved again and her eyes flew open.

"Hith cok ith ut!" she whined, talking around my finger.

I peeked over her shoulder but Finn looked three-quarters asleep. Could a guy really be this cool? In a moment like this? I sent my hand up her leg and into her shorts again, slowing as I drew close. Through the thin material I felt the crown of his head. Intentional or accidental, his cock seemed to have slipped through the hole in his boxers. Only the light fabric of hers shorts now separated them.

I leaned in to kiss her again. Our lips met and I added some bodyweight, forcing her backward. Finn's cock slid along her ass and wedged against her hole. Zoey would have gasped loudly if not for my lips covering hers. Our eyes met, a hot sexy stare full of possibilities and challenges.

I hooked my pinkie and slowly pulled her shorts aside. Her eyes expanded and her breath filled my lungs. With a small tug, I pulled the last bit of cloth, removing the final barrier. In my imagination, I saw his cock ease forward like some sea slug, covering her slit and then, just the tip, creeping inside to feel her hot wetness. I held my lips to hers, stifling any protest. I released her shorts and moved my hand higher, once more pulling her butt cheek away, opening her pussy in the path of his beast. For a heartbeat, nothing changed. Then her body went rigid. Something was happening. I used all my self-control to be patient and let it evolve. Her hips rolled and tilted, Finn moved a knee, Zoey exhaled all the air in her lungs and I knew, at that moment, his cock was entering her a half-inch at a time. It must have been excruciating, but in good way. Finn stayed cool but Zoey's body temperature climbed.

Her tongue slipped into my mouth. I chased it with my own, playing and wrestling, kissing sloppy. She slipped her hand behind my neck and pulled me closer and her big firm tits mashed my chest. Her eyes closed. I withdrew my hand from her shorts and sent it under her T-shirt, caressing her breast skin on skin. When my palm passed over her nipple, she was stiff and swollen.

We stayed like that for several long minutes. Axel started snoring from the corner chair and Connor muttered goodnight and headed for Mia. I risked another look over Zoey's shoulder and learned Sofia had turned on her side to face the other way.

Zoey and I made out for a time then I pulled my hand away from her tit to explore between her legs. She was watching me closely when my pinkie brushed Finn's half-hard cock buried an inch in her cunt. He was slippery along the first two inches so I knew he'd been deeper. I felt him glide by, gently pushing deep. Zoey's eyes danced with wild magic. I rested my hand on her hip and we kissed with eyes open wide.

Through her body I felt the tremors of Finn's dick gradually moving in. I gazed at my new bride and an unspoken understanding passed between us. We knew what we were giving away and that reality thrilled us. We kissed again. I'd never seen Zoey so hot to fuck. How wicked to allow another man to claim her? On her wedding night? We were immoral, depraved, sinful. Zoey embraced every word, wrapping herself in them.

A low moan slipped past her lips. Finn was deeper now.

There's a special kind of burn that flowers in your chest when your woman fucks another. That burn explodes into a mushroom cloud when that other man is a friend. Finn and I had so many memories together, going back years. Now he was fucking my new wife. He was one up on me, forever. I'd never fuck Sofia. Finn would stay one up on me, forever. Every time Zoey was in a room with us I'd break into a sweat. Every football game we watched, every backpacking trip we took. I'd be watching their connection forever. This was no stranger, like Clyde. This was home cooking. This was best buddy.

There was only one thing left to do.

"Finn," I whispered.

I waited, staring at him over her shoulder. His eyes opened slowly.

"Let's take her to the bedroom," I said.

Zoey buried her face in my chest and moaned. Finn held my look for a second and then jerked his chin. We adjusted clothing under the blanket and carefully got to our feet. Zoey kept a blanket around her shoulders. Finn covered Sofia with a spread and I raised an eyebrow in question.

"She sleeps through everything," he whispered. "Especially after weed."

Zoey kept her eyes on the ground so I put my arm around her and she leaned in. I gestured for Finn to lead the way and we fell in behind him, walking the long hall to the master suite. As we passed Mia and Connor's room we heard soft moaning.

I swung the door wide and we all shuffled inside. I closed the door quietly. Zoey sat on the foot of the huge bed but Finn stood a few feet away, regarding us.

"You knew?" he asked.

"We did," I answered.

"When?"

"The next morning. We put the pieces together. She mentioned how big I felt and then later said the girls saw what each of us had under our kilts."

He nodded, understanding.

"You're not angry with me?" he asked.

Zoey and I looked at each other. She grinned.

"No," I said. "You kind of started something."

"Is that right? Like what?"

Zoey looked at the ground again.

"It doesn't matter," Finn said. "Forget I asked."

I had no idea what to do next. How do we pick up where we left off? I plucked the remote from the dresser and tuned in an all piano music channel. The same remote dimmed the lights so I did that too. When I turned to face Zoey and Finn, I found them standing at the foot of the bed, kissing. She had her fingers in his hair and he had his arms around her waist. I froze, unsure who had made the first move.

Finn stepped away.

"Take your clothes off," he told her. "You have no idea how many times my eyeballs have ached to see you fully naked. All those bullshit flashes and glimpses of skin over the years. You drive me fucking crazy. Take your clothes off. Let me see all that gorgeous Zoey."

His words struck a chord. She pinched the bottom of her T-shirt, ready to pull it overhead, then something clicked in her mind. She was married now. I was her husband. She should get permission.

"Aaron?" she asked.

My insides turned to jelly. I was married. This woman was my wife. Zoey, sweet beautiful Zoey was my wife. My WIFE. How could I hand her over?

My gaze followed her lines. I started at her delicate feet, her red toenails painted perfectly for her big day. I roamed up her shapely legs to the goofy pink and white striped shorts, over her T-shirt, barely concealing the size and shape of her big tits, along her neck to her pretty face.

My head nodded less than half an inch, barely enough for Zoey to see. Her face went blank as her arms lifted. Stomach, ribs, glorious full breasts, then a cascade of long hair. Her shirt hit the carpet. Finn ran starving eyes over all that skin. Zoey took the next step on her own. Her shorts slid to her ankles and she stepped out of them. I thought she'd make some move to hide herself but no, Zoey likes the way men look at her, even men she's known for years and years.

"Your turn," I croaked.

Finn looked surprised but recovered quickly. His T-shirt landed near the door, revealing his fit and generally athletic body, and then his boxers fell, divulging the real reason he was in this room with us, the only reason I'd invited him in.

Zoey's eyes went right to it. So did mine, I won't lie. Anybody standing in that room would have looked. Finn ignored it for now, stepping close to her again and holding her face in his hands. He tilted her chin up and kissed her throat, slowly climbing to her lips. She melted, her eyes closing and her arms lifting to hold him.

I needed something to do so I moved to the bed and turned down the covers. From this new angle I saw his cock sandwiched between them, pointing at the floor and backed by two large balls. They kissed several times, growing more comfortable with each heartbeat. Zoey opened her eyes to find me and extended an arm, waving me closer. I whipped off my shirt and boxers and moved behind, kissing her ear while Finn trailed kisses to her breasts. Zoey drew a sharp intake of breath. I left her ear to shower her sensitive back, adding the occasional nibble. Zoey moaned with rising desire.

"I want you so bad," Finn groaned. "From the first day Aaron introduced you. You have no idea how sexy you are and that just makes you sexier."

"I knew you'd work your way to me," Zoey exhaled.

She seemed about to say more but stopped herself. I was curious what she meant. I arrived at her ass and crouched, spreading her cheeks and slipping my tongue in. Her pussy was wet and warm and seemed to cling to my tongue. I spread her wider and now I could see through the gap and Finn's heavy cock hanging in front. He had the same thickness from the base all the way to the large head. Zoey's fingers curled around the shaft and she held him like that, loving the weight in her hand.

Those big balls caused me some concern. How much sperm did they produce? I remembered sliding into her all those nights ago, feeling like I stirred a bowl of soup.

Suddenly this seemed like a bad idea. Dread intruded on my arousal. I was daunted by those big balls and the menace they carried. Did I want his cum in Zoey? Last time we had no choice. This time would be deliberate.

I continued kissing down the back of her legs.

"You came hard that night," Finn said, his voice barely audible.

"You felt amazing," Zoey whispered. "I couldn't help it."

"Did you know it was me?"

"No," Zoey said, and I breathed a sigh of relief. "I thought it was Aaron at first."

At first? I thought. She realized it wasn't me?

"But after a few seconds I had my doubts," she added.

"You didn't stop."

"No way. It felt fantastic. I kept going and hoped I was wrong."

They'd lowered their voices but still, I was right there. Were they so high they thought I couldn't hear? I continued kissing her legs and pondered.

So Zoey suspected but just kept fucking? Also, what did she mean by "I knew you'd work your way to me?"

Something was going on. Zoey wouldn't cheat. I knew that. This felt like some members of our group were keeping secrets from other members, and I was one of the guys on the outside.

I kissed my way up her legs again, sending shivers through her body. Zoey shifted her feet, parting her legs and offering me her pussy, or so I thought. As I drew closer she pulled Finn's cock through her gap. A solid three or four inches stuck out under her ass and in my face. Zoey rocked her hips, dragging her clit along the top of his meaty tube, leaving a shiny trail of wetness. I avoided his dick and continued my path up her spine until I once again was kissing her nape. Gooseflesh covered her back and arms. They were making out passionately, releasing years of bottled up yearning.

"Hey!" I heard from the main room. "Did everyone go to bed and leave me here?"

Axel. Awake. Awake and loud enough to rouse Sofia and if that happened, who knew what she'd do.

I quickly slipped on my T-shirt and boxers and stepped through the door, softly closing it behind me. I zipped down the hall and found Axel standing in the main room, looking bewildered.

"Aw, I'm sorry man," he said. "Did I fucking wake you?"

"No," I said, putting an arm around his shoulder. "I was up but everyone else is sleeping. Let's get you to bed too."

"That's cool. I'm fucking drowsy."

He let me lead him down the hall and to his room. I was eager to get back to Zoey and Finn before something happened without me. I didn't know if Zoey would wait.

"Here you go, Axel. Strip down and jump in bed."

"Thanks, dude," he said, fumbling with his clothes. "You're always so good to me, Aaron. All of you are. I love you guys like family."

"We love you too, brother."

"It's awesome you and Zoey got married. You guys are perfect for each other. She's so beautiful. Sofia's cute and Mia's pretty but Zoey is beautiful, man."

"I appreciate that, Axel. Time for bed."

"Why can't I score a hot girl? I'm happy for you guys but I'm lonely, you know? What's wrong with me?"

I sighed and glanced down the hall at the doors to our honeymoon suite.

"Nothing's wrong with you, Axel. You just don't give yourself many chances. Connor and Finn and I dated a lot before we found our women. You never date at all."

"Girls don't like me."

"Bullshit, dude. Here's some tough love: you're afraid to get out there. You're afraid of rejection. Our group keeps you nice and comfortable."

He seemed to weigh my words.

"Love is a risk, my friend," I continued. "Even Connor got shot down a ton of times and the girls say he's gorgeous."

"That's true, that's true. I've heard them say that."

Oh for fuck's sake! my mind screamed. Let me out of here!

But I couldn't do that. Not to Axel. His pain was my pain and I would be there for him until he told me to go.

"Listen, Axel, here's the truth: you play bass. You write songs. You have a job and a great sense of humor and all the girls have at one time or another called you cute. That's all you get but that's all you need. Failure is not the end, it's part of the winning. Start asking girls out. Watch what happens."

Axel wrapped me in his arms and squeezed. I had to get away.

"You're a good, good friend," he mumbled. "I'm so happy for you guys."

He patted his pockets, searching.

"What's wrong?" I asked.

"Lost my lighter. Want to do a bowl before sleep. Probably fell out of my pocket in the big room. I'll go grab it."

"No," I said. "You undress for bed. I'll get the lighter and check on Sofia and then we can say goodnight."

He gave me a thumbs-up, stuffing the bong on his nightstand.

I slipped out of his room and hurried down the hall. I spied his lighter in the seat of his chair. Reach, pluck, turn, glancing at Sofia. Shit. Her sleepy eyes were open.

"Where is everybody?" she asked, rubbing her messy hair.

"In bed," I said.

She scrunched her face. "Finn went to bed and left me here? I don't think so. Where's Finn?"

I froze.

"Let me run this to Axel," I said, holding up the lighter. "I'll be right back."

She nodded and waved me away, adjusting the blankets around her.

I ran on tiptoes to Axel's room, my heart eating itself behind my ribs. I stared hard at the double doors to the honeymoon suite as I passed, listening intently. I heard nothing; no moans, no gasps, no groans. They were waiting for me. Awesome.

Axel was still dressed.

"Dude!" I snapped. "Undress already. I want to go to bed."

He raised his hands like I'd demanded his wallet but then got busy taking off his clothes. I pulled the covers back and fluffed his pillow and then tucked him in, handing him the bong and the lighter.

"Sweet dreams," I said.

"You too, bro."

The hallway looked longer than before.

I rushed to the main room hoping to find Sofia asleep. She sat up pawing at her tank top, trying to cover more breast. She wore no bra and her hard nipples were highly distracting.

"Where's Finn?" she asked again.

I hesitated. How the fuck do I talk about this? What do I say?

She studied my face, awareness dawning. I waited for her to get angry or jealous but apparently, she was a little like me.

"Let's go," she said. "I love this part."

My brain screeched to a halt. She loves this part? What part? What does that mean? This had to be a rare situation. How could she know what was happening?

She stepped from the pile of blankets, revealing that her tiny thong matched her yellow top. She pulled her shirt to better cover herself, grinning.

"This part?" I asked. "What do you mean?"

She looked at me like she was reassessing my intelligence downward.

"This is the part where my Finn fucks another hot babe," she said.

My brain screeched to a halt. Again.

"What?"

She moved close, slipped her fingers between mine.

"Who's missing?" she asked. "Sofia is here. Aaron is here. But where are Finn and Zoey?" She tilted her head, listening down the hall. "I think I know," she continued. "I think they are in a dark and quiet honeymoon suite while faint, romantic piano music plays. I hear sweet floating notes and I wonder: where are Finn and Zoey?"

I couldn't keep up with this sorceress.

"I'm a funny girl," Sofia said. "I think women are the sexiest, most beautiful thing on this planet. I love to see them dressed sexy and I love to see men chase them. They're so lovely. Beautiful women need to be touched. Nothing turns me on more than to see them bent over and fucked by a mighty cock. I love watching their willpower crumble. I love watching their pretty faces twist in pleasure."

I swallowed hard. That first time had been her idea.

"I launch Finn at them. He loves it. I give him their scent and he circles like a shark. Most want it but deny themselves, yet afterward come back for more. I love to see gorgeous women prowling around for more dick. Hot, right?"

I admitted it was.

"What do you think they're doing right now?"

"I think they're waiting for me."

She giggled. "Why? Why would they? Why would she? He's already been inside her. You know that, right?"

"Yes."

"Oh my God," she purred. "It's so sexy you guys were cool with it."

She stepped right in my face.

"But then why would she wait?" she asked. "I bet my man is fucking your new bride right now."

"Maybe," I rasped.

"Fuck!" she growled. "That's so hot. Zoey is so pretty. Finn's big cock will stretch her. She'll go nuts. Can you imagine her face?"

She waited for me to say something but all I did was clear my throat. My guts were churning, my legs weak. Was she right? Was Finn already fucking my woman? My heart sank at the possibility they continued without me.

"Let's go see," she giggled. "Can you handle it?"

I don't know if I answered or not. I felt her hand squeeze mine and then we were creeping down the hallway. She listened at the door and then carefully turned the knob.

Chapter 7

Sofia's face glowed with pride.

Finn had moved Zoey to the corner of the bed and bent her at the waist, a small triangle of mattress protruded between her straight legs. He stood close behind, both hands around her small waist, his hips gently swinging back and forth. Her arms, tangled in her long hair, covered her head. Her face was turned towards us and an absolute vision of pure pleasure. Her mouth was open, her eyebrows contorted, her eyes clamped shut. Her big tits were mashed to the side under her torso, pale bowling balls under her armpits.

Lord have mercy. Sofia was right; gorgeous women do look better getting fucked.

"Do you see?" Sofia asked. "Has she ever looked so hot?"

I couldn't argue. Zoey was stunning, wildly sexy, the picture of mind-boggling sensuality. Finn heard us enter and glanced over a shoulder. He grinned and shifted his hip, showing us the thick tube of beef connecting them. Then, eyes locked with mine, he withdrew several wet inches and pushed the shaft deep. He pulled her ass towards him, forcing every inch into her and ripping a deep groan from my bride. He raised on his toes and my eyes went between his legs, my view blocked by his large scrotum.

Sofia giggled.

"Finn is such a showman," she said. "He loves being a stud. Look at his sweaty muscles. Listen to your girlfriend." Her hand flew to her mouth. "Wait! She's not your girlfriend anymore, she's your wife!" Her gaze drifted around the room, noting the still made bed, the luggage unopened, the neat and tidy hotel room, barely touched. Disbelief spread across her face. Then she smiled broadly.

"You never consummated your vows! With family around you were too busy." She turned to watch Finn work his cock in and out. "Finn is having her first, before you, her new husband." Her face lit up. Her eyes danced wildly. "That's awesome."

Zoey moaned as Finn probed her cervix.

"Holy shit, Aaron!" Sofia said, putting her hand on my arm. "Holy shit. Finn is fucking her before you. That's twisted and messed up. I love it. Don't you love it?"

I assumed the question was rhetorical. Did she really expect me to admit to that? Actually, at this point I would have. Watching Finn fuck Zoey ahead of me, her proper husband, had my dick rock solid. It was as agonizing as it was exhilarating. Sofia turned and locked the bedroom door, then grabbed my hand and pulled me towards the bed.

"You guys are rock stars," she said. "I knew you had a wild side but this is just beyond. I can't believe you're doing this. Talk about total commitment. Jesus!"

She smacked Finn on his muscular ass as we sailed by.

"Fuck her brains out, Baby. Teach her all about cock."

Sofia crawled on the bed near Zoey's head. She tilted my wife's face and leaned down to kiss her lips. Zoey just went with it, accepting her friend's attention. When Sofia slipped a tongue into her mouth, Zoey accepted that too.

"You're so pretty, sweet baby-girl," Sofia murmured.

I'd stopped at the edge of the mattress. Finn owned a pornstar cock and he was working my wife over with it. Zoey seemed to suffer excruciating pain but I knew that was wrong. Finn was hitting every nerve she had. Her wet cunt was stuffed with dick. His pole slurped and sloshed pumping her tight tunnel.

"Turn her over, Finn" Sofia said. "I want to see that face. I want to watch what your big cock does to her."

Finn drove deep and then lifted Zoey's leg. He rolled her along the bed, her legs cartwheeling, until she was on her back. She lifted her head to watch his abs and saw me for the first time. I saw a hundred things behind her eyes, a hundred words she considered and rejected. In the end, we merely held each other's gaze and let the experience wash over us. Finn lifted her calves to his shoulders. Zoey closed her eyes, disappearing under waves of intense sensations. Her big tits wobbled in time with his thrusts, her lower stomach bulged from his meat inside.

Sofia moved away to lean against the headboard.

"They haven't done it yet," she told Finn. "You interrupted their honeymoon. You'll be the first man to have this lovely new bride."

Zoey heard the words and her face contorted with emotion, but she made no move to stop him. Finn kicked his thrusting up a notch, now long-stroking Zoey. His expression showed how delighted he was that this landed in his lap.

With her eyes still closed Zoey reached for me and I took her hand. I leaned over and kissed her softly. Her eyes opened, blazing with desire. She was trying to tell me something but I could decipher what.

"Fuck me harder, Finn," she rumbled. "I'm close."

She pushed her fingers into my hair and pulled my mouth down for another kiss. Her breathing was erratic, short and shallow.

"It's coming," she told me. "I can't help it. It's too much. There's no fighting it."

Her body stiffened. Her eyes opened wide.

"Oh!" she cried. "Oh, fuck. Dear God I love it."

I tried to kiss her again but she held me in place by my hair. Her arms turned rigid, her body locked up.

"Unnngh!" she groaned, "Jesus, Finn. That's good. That's so good."

She sucked air. Her eyes closed.

"Oooooohhhh, yeahhhhh," she moaned. Then, louder: "Oh fuck! Aaaaaaa! Oh my GOD!" Her upper body twisted one way and her lower the other. A piercing whine flowed from her throat and her face knotted in agony. Finn pumped faster. "AAAArrrrgh! OHMYFUCKINGGOD!" she howled. "OOOOoooooAaaahhhh!"

I was stunned by what Finn's cock could do to her. Here was my lovely blushing bride. Here was the light of my life. Finn's cock working in and out made her a savage animal. Her orgasm seemed to be killing her. No words escaped but a constant flow of moans poured out. She grabbed her own tits and squeezed hard.

I glanced rapidly between Finn and Sofia and prayed Zoey would not wake the others. Sofia looked like she shared Zoey's exquisite pain and Finn grinned like a thief. Sofia masturbated, one hand inside her yellow panties and the other pinching an exposed breast.

"I'm there," Finn growled. "Where do you want it? Where do you want my load?"

I had no idea if he spoke to me, Zoey, or even Sofia.

"Put it in me!" Zoey snarled, before anyone. "Don't you dare stop!"

Finn moved over her so I tried to back away but Zoey wouldn't release my hand. They kissed, hard, and Finn palmed a tit. He squeezed and Zoey flinched then smiled seductively.

"You can fuck," she grunted. "You can fuuuuck."

Finn gobbled a nipple and his hips began to pound. Sofia was rubbing her pussy fast, tweaking a nipple. She looked on the edge too.

Finn groaned like he'd been punched. His back bowed. His hips slammed forward and his back arched and he bit his own fist, driving his cock all the way in and releasing an explosion of sperm. He gnawed a knuckle while Sofia gasped and Zoey urged him to give her everything.

I still held her hand.

Finn was emptying those fat balls and I was holding my wife's hand while he did it. Sofia squeaked, lost in her orgasm, and Zoey shocked me by cumming again. Feeling his thick cock expanding and discharging was enough to get her there. Her body flopped under his until everyone fell silent.

She would not let go of me.

Sofia tugged on Finn's arm and he slowly rolled off my wife. His soft fat cock slithered from her pussy and a deluge of milky semen followed. Zoey absentmindedly pinched her pussy closed, like she always does with me, but I let it go. After a night like this, what difference would it make? Zoey pulled my hand, drawing me onto the bed with her. I saw no guilt behind her eyes whatsoever. Why would I?

"You're still dressed," she mumbled.

Sofia and Finn shared soft, deep, intimate kisses. She loved watching her stud drive beautiful women into the stratosphere and she'd certainly got a big dose of that tonight. I ogled Finn's cock. He was shiny and glittery, coated with my wife's arousal and his spent cum. The fat tube lay like a snake tossed over his thigh. That monster was inside her only moments ago. My mind reeled.

"I meant to join you," I said. "But Axel and Sofia intervened."

"I was powerless, Baby," Zoey confessed. "I tried to wait but couldn't. I wanted it so much."

I understood. I smoothed her messy hair, noticing her toes were still curled in tiny fists. Sofia moaned behind us, making out with her hot stud. Zoey pulled my mouth down for a sensuous kiss.

Despite their titanic and earthshaking releases, the air was still thick with sexual tension. Zoey and I kissed and I ran my hands over her body. She felt taut. When my palm dragged her nipple, she sucked air and trembled. I grasped this sex was different from all other sex. Clyde had been a stranger; Finn was someone close. A connection existed way before that night at the cabin and that connection was only reinforced after tonight. With roots that deep, emotions ran hot.

Sofia gasped. Finn had striped her and had two fingers working her wet pussy.

Zoey murmured that my hand felt fantastic.

Those orgasms hadn't defused the heat; those orgasms had fanned it. I fingered Zoey like Finn did Sofia. My new wife gasped and rolled her hips. Sperm oozed out of her by the spoonful, coating my pumping digit.

"Get out of those clothes," Zoey whimpered.

I slid off the bed. My wife was ready to fuck me. Finn and Sofia noticed and Sofia moved to Zoey, noses touching, grinning and giggling like grade-school girls. They kissed, just a peck, while I dropped my T-shirt and boxers by the dresser.

Zoey sighed and I turned to see Sofia kissing my wife's pussy. A heartbeat later Zoey gasped as Sofia burrowed her tongue as deep as she could. In all our years of friendship, there had never been a moment of girl on girl sex. They've teased and taunted but never anything serious or real.

I met Finn's eyes. His girl was eating my girl and Holy Christ it was hot. I began stroking and so did he. Sucking sounds filled the room. Zoey gathered bedspread in her fists, bucking her hips against Sofia's mouth. I thought my wife might cum any second but Sofia stopped and allowed the orgasm to drain away before returning to Zoey's pussy and eating more. Finally, Sofia moved higher for a kiss.

When her face was over Zoey's, she thumbbed my wife's jaw. Zoey opened her mouth, then realized what was coming and opened wider. I was still confused.

Sofia parted her lips and the sperm she'd sucked out of Zoey pussy began to dribble into Zoey's mouth. My head just about exploded. The act was raunchy and raw and pure sex. My wife would carry Finn in her pussy and her belly. Zoey's eyes grew wide with indecent excitement. She extended her tongue, eagerly accepting the gift. I saw viscous milk trickle around Zoey's tongue like syrup before sliding down and disappearing into her mouth.

Fucking hell it was hot.

I was almost hard but Finn was already solid and curved. His fat head flared like a helmet. His huge balls hung lower this time but still intimidated the hell out of me. Sofia drooled the last of her mouthful and then the girls kissed like sluts.

"Oh my God," I groaned. "My heart can't take this shit."

They all looked at me. I felt the need to explain but what could I say? My dick was almost hard. They all saw it. My feelings about this moment were obvious to everyone and no words out of my mouth could alter anything. Then Sofia dropped a bomb. On me, anyway.

"Zoey loves Finn's cock more than Mia did," Sofia said.

My mouth dropped open. None of them were surprised so here was the secret they shared which I did not: Finn fucked Mia too. I wondered if Connor knew and decided he didn't and then another realization crashed into me: Finn had fucked all our women. I remembered other girls, friends of Mia and Zoey and Sofia, hanging around for a while and then disappearing again. Had Finn fucked some of them too?

"I do," Zoey giggled, bringing me back to the moment. "He fills me." She touched a spot on her stomach about two inches above her belly button. "I feel him all the way to here. It's wonderful."

I wanted to know more about Finn and Mia but that could wait. Right now, I needed something to happen. My cock and balls ached with all that I'd seen and heard. My gaze drifted around our suite and landed on Zoey's wedding dress, hanging in the wardrobe closet. I crossed the room and plucked the garment from the bar, carrying it to my wife.

"Put this on," I said

She made a funny face.

"Put it on, with nothing underneath."

She caught on fast and so did Sofia and Finn. Zoey lurched off the bed on weak legs and pulled the silky white dress over her head. Sofia moved to help her, mostly getting Zoey's big tits under control, and then stood back. We all gazed at my gorgeous angel in white.

"Fuck her again," I said, turning to look at Finn.

Sofia's face lit like fireworks. A huge smile spread. Her eyes laughed with delight.

Zoey looked stunned.

That impressive cock needed to fill Zoey again. I wanted him to fuck my wife until he could no longer get it up, until those daunting balls were empty. If she couldn't walk tomorrow, that was fine with me.

Finn did not hesitate. He walked on his knees to the edge of the bed and tugged her elbow. He lowered Zoey to her back and then moved between her legs, which spread like beautiful wings. Her labia parted. More semen leaked.

A fire raged inside me. His cock, still gleaming, was aimed at her married hole.

"Baby?" Zoey exhaled, questioning, checking if this was truly the path I wished.

This was our wedding night, after all. This was our honeymoon suite. Maybe the first time in the cabin we were too high and got swept up, carried away by the moment.

What I did now was calculated.

I stepped closer, erection swaying, and gripped her ankle. I pulled, opening her wider, offering Finn her cunt. Sofia gasped. Zoey gasped. It sounds crazy, but oh, did it feel so right. Finn has fucked all our women. Finn would continue to fuck our women. Here, in this moment, on this special night, Finn fucking Zoey felt perfect.

Sofia grabbed Zoey's other ankle and gently pulled. We wish-boned my wife, offering her sweet pussy. Finn moved over her, kissing her lace-covered tits. His cock brushed Zoey's opening and she shuddered. She can question my choice but her body betrayed her true desire.

"You put it in," Finn whispered.

Zoey searched and then her fingers encircled. Her wedding ring sparkled. She already knew the size and shape of him well enough that she brought him directly to her opening and guided him in, exhaling as his thick shaft sank deep. My heart ruptured at the sight and my eyeballs stung, but my dick throbbed harder than ever. Her tunnel expanded as he filled her. He slid in smoothly.

"Yeahhhhhhh," she said.

I watched until his scrotum, that big formidable ball sack, pressed against her asshole. I remembered how deep she said he went. He held himself still, giving her time to stretch, and then began a leisurely in and out. He was much too thick for her but that's what she liked. My cock would satisfy her for the rest of our lives. This wasn't about her missing out on something. This was about something more, something extra. He was a walking roller-coaster. I was a long drive up the coast.

Zoey reached for me but I said no, I had to see this. She looked hurt for half a second, then confused, then she realized I just wanted to watch, to drink her in with my eyes without participating. I wanted to soak up every nuance, every sound, every smell. With that as her guide, she changed instantly.

"Fuck me, Finn," she said, voice gravely. "God, I love your cock. I love feeling your hips move, seeing the pleasure of my pussy on your face. I want you to fuck me when we get back from our honeymoon. Baby, can he?"

"Yes," I answered.

I didn't mention I'd already decided that.

"Look at his cock, Aaron. Look at it pumping inside. Are you watching? Is it the sexiest thing you've ever seen?"

"It is, Zoey. Later, I want to watch you suck it and swallow what comes out."

She liked that idea, curling her hips to meet his thrusts. He was moving faster, aroused by our hot talk and having an audience, and moved his hands to her hips. He began pounding her, forcing little yelps each time he hammered.

"I love that you're watching me, Aaron," she said. "I love that you're watching me. I love that my sweet husband is watching me take a lover."

Fin thought she was talking too much so he lifted her legs and battered her cunt. Zoey sucked air, shocked by the sudden attack, then grabbed his shoulders.

"Gunngh," she groaned. "I want it."

We all knew what she meant. Finn moved even faster, her pussy splashing both, then clamped his jaw.

"He's close, Baby," I said. "You cum first. Let me see you cum on him."

She moaned and closed her eyes. Her mouth slowly opened. Her back slowly arched. It was easily the sexiest thing I'd ever seen. Zoey was right. Sofia was right.

"Unnngh!" Zoey erupted. "Yeah! Fuck!"

She wailed wordlessly, tossing her head side to side. Finn had been holding back and now turned it loose, sperm gushing from his cock and flooding her pussy, flooding her womb. Thick milk oozed around his shaft and splattered her thighs, dripping to our honeymoon bed. Sofia reached for my bright red erection but I shook my head.

"This is all hers," I said.

None of this was about new partners or swinging. All of this was about Zoey getting off on new cock while I watched.

The lovers slowed gradually until the only movement was their labored breathing. I scrutinized every move, every sound Zoey made. Finn rolled off and again a wave of sperm followed his cock but once again, by habit, Zoey pinched her labia shut.

I tried to think of a way to ask them to leave but Sofia got it. She let Finn rest for a minute and then she dragged her man out of bed.

"Let's leave the newlyweds alone," she said. "I want to suck Zoey off your dick."

They dressed silently and then we all hugged. They shut the door behind them.

Chapter 8

Zoey's eyes were full of laughter and madness.

"What the fuck did we just do?" she asked.

"That was...astonishing," I said. "My mind refuses to accept half the things I just saw. Zoey, you are the most exquisite creature walking the Earth."

She stepped into my arms, white lace and silk crinkling. I was a wild mix of emotions. I wanted to bite her and pull her hair as I fucked her unconscious. I wanted to softly kiss her lips and murmur how deeply I loved her. I was jealous and hurt and insanely aroused. My dick would not deflate. I hugged her and she returned it. We held our embrace in the middle of our honeymoon suite. The moment was surreal.

"I need you inside me," she whispered. "But I don't know. Part of me wants you in there mixing with him but another part, a dirty, naughty part, likes the idea that another man had me on my wedding night and my husband didn't. We'll forever look back on our honeymoon and get turned on. I don't know what to do."

"I want to fuck you," I said. "I need to fuck you."

"How about I just suck you off?"

She was fucking with me. I saw it in her eyes. She was playing, trying to build my need into a hurricane. She wanted me to ravish her, reclaiming my woman and bride. I saw through her little game and was about to pick her up and throw her on the bed when I decided I'd have more fun flipping it around on her.

"How about I just jack off while you talk to me about fucking Finn?"

That surprised her.

"I thought you were dying to fuck your new wife?"

"I am, but you raise a great point. We'll look back on tonight and get horny every time. We will never be in this position again. We should make the most of it."

Her hand slipped down to grip my erection.

"You know something happened with him, right?"

I gave her a funny look.

"When he made me cum, Baby. Earlier. It hit really hard and then plateaued and then spiked and rolled into a new one. Another followed, and another after that. I'm not sure how many I had. He turned my brain to jelly.

One orgasm folded into the next and the next. I don't think you or Sofia realized that."

"No, I don't think we did. I sure didn't."

"He staggered me. He left me dumbfounded."

Her eyes were bright with memories.

"I want more," she said.

"I'm sure he needs to recover. Us boys aren't like you girls. Besides, you and I need to catch a plane in a few hours. Let's get some sleep."

She squeezed my dick and sank to her knees. Her warm mouth enveloped me and my balls tightened. I was on high alert. Everything she did felt fantastic.

We moved to the bed and I removed her wedding dress. We kissed tenderly, filled with love. She pulled me on top and I slipped into her scalding pussy. The sensation was startling. She was hot and dripping wet.

"I won't last long," I warned.

"We do have a plane to catch."

I gazed into her eyes and we began making love. Both of us teared up. Soon we were kissing with unrestrained love. We held tight, moving together, lost in each other as husband and wife.

Chapter 9

I dropped the torn paper towel on the table in front of Zoey.

Soon after the wedding I'd received a promotion and then a few months later she did too. We saved our money and after almost a year, left our apartment and bought a small house. Boxes cluttered our new living room and digging through them I'd discovered the scrap with the name and number scrawled across. She flattened the towel to better see.

"Oh," she said.

I watched her carefully.

"Clyde," she murmured, her face turning soft.

"I wonder if that piercing is rusted yet."

She laughed, turning the paper over in her hands. I'd started her mind working so I waited patiently to see where it went.

"He's probably on his third marriage by now."

"Probably," I agreed.

"No doubt halfway across the US."

"No doubt."

She looked at me.

"Our one year wedding anniversary is coming up," she said.

"Pretty soon."

She ran a delicate fingertip over the swirls of his name. I knew what she was thinking, at least I thought I did, but I wanted to hear her say it. Spoken words, I've learned, have great power. Since the wedding, and with two promotions, we'd been too busy to play with others. We'd gotten together with our friends many times and on more than one occasion Zoey and Finn both went missing, but not long enough for anything truly decadent to happen. Mostly I've detected a reluctance towards Finn, like Zoey had been there and done that. We still talked dirty in the bedroom about other lovers and fantasized often. I missed our little adventures and I know she did too.

"Wouldn't hurt to meet for a drink," she said. "Just to say hello, see how he's doing, see what he's up to."

"That sounds like fun," I agreed.

We looked at each other. Neither said what we were really thinking.

"Maybe we should make that an anniversary tradition?" she said, finally.

"Make what an anniversary tradition?"

Her expression turned mischievous.

"To commemorate our wedding night, I bed someone else. We don't know who, we just know it won't be you. Would that be hot?"

Hot? It sounded scalding. I felt the burn in my stomach. Every year I'd endure what I suffered that night. As each anniversary approached, my dread and excitement would grow until I was tied in knots. I questioned what I'd be getting myself into, but the idea turned me on.

"It's a nice reminder of how this marriage began, don't you think?"

"That does sound hot, Baby," I admitted.

Chapter 10

Ninety-six hours later, night of our anniversary, I slide the keycard for room one-twenty-two into the slot and waited for the green light. Zoey is nervous as a virgin. I'd sent Clyde a text and learned he was only one town away. He answered quickly, willing to drive all day to see Zoey that night. I told him to take his time, our anniversary was four days away. Then I explained his role in our new tradition.

"That's some kinky shit," he chuckled. "I'm honored."

We worked out the details, or rather I did because Zoey hates details, and now we entered room one-twenty-two to wait. He agreed to meet us early in the evening because Zoey and I had work tomorrow.

"I can't wait to suck his dick," Zoey blurted. "I'm jumpy and I don't know why, Baby. He's not exactly a stranger. Maybe I worry I won't live up to his memory of our night together. Everything was so perfect."

"He'll be thrilled to see you, Zoey. You rocked his world and you look better now than you did then. He'll melt."

She gazed at me like she hoped I was right.

We had twenty minutes to kill so I found a music channel and started closing the blinds. Zoey asked me to leave them open.

"It's just sexy," she explained. "Last time I wondered if anyone watched me cheat on my boyfriend. Tonight, they'll get to watch me cheat on my husband."

"I didn't notice they were open until the next morning."

"I did," she said. "I was glad they were."

Zoey sat on the edge of the bed, back straight, eyes darting around the room. She wore sweatpants and a sweatshirt but underneath she had on a tiny white lace bra and matching panties. I had a picture of her in my phone from our bathroom back home. The second I saw her I made her wait while I snapped the photo.

Footsteps along the walkway made us tense but they faded. We suffered through two more people walking past our room. When it came, Clyde's knock on the window made us jump. We laughed. I moved to answer the door and Zoey checked her hair in the mirror. I opened the door without checking.

"Hello again, Aaron," Clyde said, extending a hand. "This here is my buddy, Chet. I think Zoey will like Chet."

Chet was a beast. He stood several inches taller than me and easily a hundred pounds heavier. Bald except in back, Chet wore his red hair in a mullet ponytail. He smiled broadly, revealing a missing premolar, and extended an open hand beyond his large gut. I shook his hand but concluded Clyde was full of shit. There was nothing about Chet Zoey would like. Clyde was just trying to move past the fact he'd arrive with an unannounced guest. I stepped aside and let them into the room, preparing an excuse for either him to leave or us. Zoey stood and smiled.

"Welcome, Chet," she said. "Nice to meet you."

Her hand disappeared in his. Her eyes were soft and kind and I think she felt a little sorry for Chet. He was smitten by her looks and it showed, and I think that helped. Zoey loves men looking at her.

I let it go. She wanted the blinds open to have an audience so what was one more? I felt a twist of the knife realizing another man would watch Clyde fuck Zoey. Sharing with Clyde was different. He was a participant. He was part of our threesome, even if I never touched Zoey. Chet would be a pure voyeur, like me, and he'd know she was my wife. He'd witness my wife taking another man's cock. It stung. It was humiliating. It was a situation none of us ever discussed and I had no time to prepare.

Zoey sat on the edge of the bed again and Chet took the one open chair. Clyde sat next to my wife, legs touching, and took her hand in his.

"Missed you," he said. "I told Chet and a couple others about my night with you and not one of my friends believed me. They all said if it happened that way then you must be ugly. I told them you are sexy and beautiful and they laughed. This time I brought Chet along as witness. I hope that's okay."

"That's fine," Zoey said.

I was the only one standing so I made myself useful and moved to Zoey's purse on the table. I filled the pipe and grabbed the lighter.

"Want some?" I asked Chet.

"Hell yeah," he said.

"Me too," blurted Zoey, a little too fast.

She was nervous as hell but hiding it. I think Chet in the room put her over the top. She knew these men would take this story back to their friends. They'd brag to every man they met, telling how they fucked her. Zoey loved that.

I lit the pipe for Chet and then Clyde. I added some weed before Zoey hit it and she made the cherry glow, releasing a thick cloud of smoke.

I expected the grass to relax everyone but the conversation was stilted and awkward. Zoey kept trying to include Chet in her conversation with Clyde, but then remember I was there too and try to link me in. Clyde was trying to appear suave in front of Chet. Chet gave me the impression we might be the only humans, other than Clyde, he'd spoken to in the last few years.

I'd just asked Chet how long he'd been driving big rigs when, just like last time, Clyde announced he'd like to shower.

The room fell silent.

Zoey reached for the pipe.

I jerked my thumb towards the bathroom and lit Zoey's hit. She inhaled in a hurry.

Clyde left the bed and stood next to a small wooden table. Like last time, he pulled off his boots and socks and then started on his belt buckle. Did he believe Zoey responded to strip-tease? He opened his cuffs and unbuttoned his long sleeve shirt, draping the garment over his boots.

Zoey hit the pipe again.

Clyde opened his fly and Chet grunted in disbelief. Yes, Chet, we were letting this happen. Clyde dropped his pants and that silver ring gleamed, winking at me like an old friend. I felt Chet's eyes on me, watching for a reaction.

Clyde stepped out of his pants, adding them to his pile. His half-swollen cock wagged like a dog's tail. Zoey's gaze was glued to the thing, head tilting slightly to follow the movement. I expected Clyde to head for the bathroom like last time but no. He turned to Zoey, pudgy cock swinging in her face.

"Show my friend what you got," he murmured. "Show him I ain't no liar. You're a rare and special beauty. Let him see it."

Smooth words for an uneducated hick, but they worked.

Zoey stood, handing me the pipe like an afterthought. Her eyes were on Chet's face. I took the glass cylinder and Zoey stepped closer to Chet. She pulled the drawstring on her pants. Chet licked his lips and rubbed the ten o'clock shadow on his chin. Zoey kicked each leg, pinning the cloth to the floor with a toe. She tossed her pants on the bed but her baggy sweatshirt hung down too far to see anything except her legs, toned and tanned. She studied Chet's face and then glanced at Clyde. She crossed her arms in front, grabbing the bottom of her shirt, and then pulled, lifting the top over each full round breast. Now the guys saw her in tiny white bra and panties, beautifully see-through and hiding almost nothing.

"Go get us some ice," Chet barked at me, about as dismissively as one man can speak to another. I'd opened my mouth to tell him to fuck himself when Zoey hit him with her calm but dangerous voice.

"Speak to my husband like that again," she said, "and this night ends."

"Goddamn it, Chester," Clyde said.

"I'm sorry," the big guy muttered.

I let it slide. What the fuck is proper conduct in situations like this? Maybe he thought I was a pussy because I share my wife. Maybe he thought I'd get off on being bossed around. I was so pleased by Zoey's instant and unmistakable reaction I was grinning like an idiot.

That grin faded in the next moment when Zoey took Clyde's hand and headed for the bathroom. She did not look back.

"I'm real sorry," Chet mumbled again.

"No worries," I said.

Zoey's ass looked spectacular. The panties were thong style and her rounded cheeks lifted and dropped with each step. I watched the dolphin rise and fall. Two dimples dented the small of her back on either side of her Chinese character tattoo. Her long hair swung like a curtain. Under her arms, Chet and I saw the sides of both breasts from behind, full firm curves bowing out from her ribs. We saw her pussy clearly, the darker slit of her inner lips a vertical tease, sandwiched by her labia.

She looked as sexy as women get.

"Goddamn," Chet exhaled.

"Goddamn," I agreed.

As I watched her walk it dawned on me: yes, she's a hot babe, but to my eyes she's made hotter by the fact she's on her way to fuck someone else. That made her infinitely sexier. I don't understand why, but it was true. She bedazzled my eyes and fried my mind because she was about to fuck another man.

My wife and Clyde stepped into the bathroom. Clyde reached behind her to pop the snap on the bra.

"The hook's in front," Zoey said.

Clyde looked down at those gorgeous cantaloupe tits, areola shining through the thin mesh, and shook his head in admiration and disbelief. He stared another heartbeat and then flipped the clasp, freeing Zoey's big tits in a rush. He grasped the thin straps of her panties and pulled down. She'd trimmed her bush to mere peach fuzz and from where I stood I saw her excited inner lips already protruding. Clyde cupped both breasts and leaned in for a kiss, half-hard cock poking her thigh about an inch from her pussy. I thought my heart would explode.

"I gotta get out of these pants," Chet rumbled. "They're killing me. I'm hard, brother. Your wife's fucking amazing. Clyde told the truth."

"Go ahead," I said, thinking that was a good idea.

My erection caused me discomfort too. Chet and I fumbled with our clothes a minute and then he sat down again, erection standing straight up from his lap. He was pretty big and I wondered if that's what Clyde meant when he said Zoey would like him. He looked about my length, although it was hard to be sure seated, but he was obviously thicker. Much thicker. Strangely thicker. He curved like a little horn but the base looked huge. He tapered quickly towards the head but even so, he had to be four-fingers wide or close to it. He was staring at naked Zoey and did not see me checking his dick out. I heard the shower start and watched Chet curl his fingers around his cock and start stroking.

I did the same.

They stepped behind the shower curtain and we saw nothing but shadows and heard only sighs and gasps. I expected to see Zoey's form get on her knees but they soaped up and rinsed and turned the water off. The curtain opened and Zoey looked me straight in the eyes, terribly excited. I saw why a second later. Clyde was hard as glass, pointing at the stucco ceiling, silver ring held fast by his engorged head. Like last time, they skipped drying and hurried to the bed.

Zoey pushed him to sit and then knelt between his legs. On cue, Chet and I shifted our positions to see better. Zoey glanced at us, surprised to see us naked and then doubly surprised by Chet curving scimitar. She gawked for a heartbeat before returning her attention to Clyde. He was still hairy like a bear but Zoey cared not at all, kissing from his knee, up his thigh, down to his ball sack, and then up his rampant meat to the ring at the tip. She enshrouded the head in wet lips and then sucked hard.

Clyde groaned.

Zoey pulled her mouth off with a loud pop and then turned nasty, lifting his hairy balls and slathering them with her tongue, sucking each into her mouth and rubbing them over her face. She ate her way to the head again like she was eating an ear of corn and then swaddled the crown with her tongue. She inhaled through her nose and then her lips began a descent, stretching as she approached the base. I was shocked at how much cock she could take and then it hit: I knew what she'd done when she and Finn disappeared from our group gatherings. Zoey's nose buried in Clyde's pubic hair and I made a mental note to ask my wife how many times she'd sucked Finn's big cock.

Clyde rested his hands on her head, closing his eyes in exquisite pleasure. My wife had his cock all the way to the back of her throat. I saw her neck muscles working the shaft. She held him there until he moaned deeply and then pulled her mouth off all at once, gulping air. His cock pulsed with excitement.

"I need you in me," she hissed, climbing onto his lap.

Her fingers found his erection and lined him up and my lovely wife sank his inches deep. A sigh escaped both.

"That's the hottest thing I've ever seen," Chet mumbled. "I didn't believe him."

Zoey began a slow lifting and dropping of her hips, polishing Clyde's pole, wrapping him in her dripping folds. She began to pump faster, already eager to cum.

This was what Zoey loved best. Clyde wasn't truly a new lover but it had been over a year, the newness was there. In the same way that men feel there's nothing more exciting than new pussy, my wife craved new cock. I doubted we'd ever see Clyde or Chet after tonight but I knew there'd be a string of new lovers in Zoey's future.

She held her breast to his mouth, whimpering and feeding him nipple. He sucked and nibbled and drove my wife higher. She was on the edge of losing control when she pulled too far off his dick and came down an inch forward. His head pressed against her puckered anus for a spilt second and then penetrated her ass. Zoey yelped.

"I'm sorry," he gasped, trying to lift her hips and find her cunt again.

"No!" she barked. "Wait. Don't move."

Clyde froze but so did me and Chet.

"That feels good," she murmured.

She ground her hips in small circles, adjusting to the intrusion. I was dumbfounded. Clyde held still, hoping against all odds. My wife closed her eyes and breathed deep. She arched her back and the tight little ring of her sphincter expanded, creeping towards the base of his cock.

"Unnnnngh," she groaned. "Slow, slow. That feels goooooood."

The skin pulled in all around her anus. Clyde slid deep, penetrating her ass, probing her where no man had gone before.

"Mother... fucking... amazing..." she whimpered.

She rested when her butt cheeks found his thighs but then lifted again, drawing her tight ring up his cock. She was constricted around his shaft, turning his skin white as she passed. At the top she lowered her weight again, swallowing his erection with her rectum. She kissed his mouth hard.

"God DAMN!" she cried.

Now she craved it. She hooked her arms around his neck and gazed fiercely into his eyes. She got her feet under her and fucked herself in the ass using his cock. Clyde just held on. Zoey's tits bounced and her breath escaped in gusts. She sent a hand down to rub her clit and seconds later exploded in a shrieking orgasm, riding his stiff dick until her legs gave out and then settling her stretched sphincter around the base while she tried to catch her breath. Muscles trembled across her back and down her legs. I held my breath, wondering what she planned next.

For a long silent minute, nobody moved. Then Zoey turned, swinging her legs around, but keeping his cock buried in her ass, until she faced the room. She moved her feet outside his legs and spread her knees. Her cunt opened slightly, beaconing me. She leaned her back on Clyde's hairy chest.

"Fuck me, Chet," she growled, her voice heavy with lust. "Take this story home with you. Tell them what I did to you men."

Chet was out of his chair and on the bed before I could blink. Honestly, I was still too stunned to move. Chet stood on the bed and offered his thick cock to her mouth and my sweet bride sucked the head and a few fat inches. He didn't wait long. Too eager to be inside this gorgeous bombshell, he took his spot between her legs, on his knees with cock in hand. He leaned down to suck a stiff nipple as he guided his hard dick in.

Zoey's eyes rolled back, a strange mourning groan pouring from her throat. Chet spread her cunt like a tank, forcing her lips wide to take his girth. Already strained by the cock in her ass, I worried he'd hurt her, and he did, but Zoey welcomed it, thrusting her hips weakly, trying to capture more of him.

"Play with your tits," Chet ordered. "Play with them while I fuck you."

Clyde took her weight in his hands, circling her waist and holding her up. Zoey slapped her palms on her full ripe tits and twisted the nipples, sucking one into her mouth while meeting Chet's stare.

The men began fucking her holes. I stroked slowly. I was too close to exploding. It hurt that some man she barely knew had taken her ass but then I remembered this was our anniversary and we were honoring our wedding night. How fitting another man claimed her ass. Another man claimed her pussy the night we wed.

An unexpected jet of semen blasted from my dick. I groaned and Zoey looked my way, watching as sperm shot from me. I stroked faster, trying to save this surprising climax but all my wife saw was me jacking off to her debauchery.

Her mouth opened and she forced her hips against them, urging them on, teasing the loads from their balls. A low animal sound spilled from her lips, quickly climbing into a screech. She was cumming again, filled with hard cock, stuffed in both holes with throbbing inches of meat. Her face contorted with blinding pleasure. Clyde groaned and then he was emptying his nuts up her ass, pumping and jerking, filling this hot babe with seed. Chet outlasted their orgasms but Clyde was still mostly hard when Chet began to thrust wildly, grunting and drooling and staring at the dazzling babe beneath him. Zoey's tits bounced wildly. She looped her arms around Chet's neck.

"Fucking fill me up," she urged. "I want to feel you shoot. Give me that hot cum, mother fucker. Put it in there. Let me feel it. Make me feel you shoot it in there."

Chet fell forward, his hips spasming and his back twisted and ready to break.

"Take! It!" he bellowed. "Here! Fuck! Aaaaa!"

He exploded inside her, detonating like a bomb, blasting buckets of hot sperm far into her like he knew he'd never have such a chance again. His cock was a rocket, bright red and angry. Semen spewed again and again and again until there was nothing left to give. My wife had drained his balls utterly. Chet rested his bulky body on Zoey, sandwiching her between the two older men. Moments later, Clyde had deflated enough to slip from her ass. She pushed Chet onto the bed and then wiggled between them. They covered her with heavy arms and legs.

I moved to Chet's abandoned chair. When their breathing told me they dozed, I rested my head along the back of the chair and did the same.

I awoke to voices in the shower. Clyde and Chet were in there with her and the occasional moan told me all I needed to know. I glanced at the television and the bucket next to it. I chuckled. Why not? I dressed and moved to the bathroom door, opening without knocking.

"Hey, guys," I said. "Just so you know. I'm going to go get that bucket of ice. Don't worry about me."

The air turned electric. I heard Zoey gasp over the spray of water. I was leaving her with them, handing her over completely, severing my connection to their threesome. She would be with them and not me and she knew it. The thought made her heart race.

"Take your time, Baby," she said. "These boys will keep me busy."

End.

Epilogue

They fucked my wife on and off all night. Zoey and I called out sick at work. There was a brief moment during it all for me to join and get my dick in her too but I ignored that moment and made sure Zoey saw me do it. She got turned on all over again. This would become our tradition; her with others on our anniversary.

We had other adventures sprinkled through the year, always with strangers, and I would occasionally join in, although my voyeur streak would often keep me in my chair, but nothing, nothing came close to the level of blazing heat we feel those nights we celebrate our honeymoon.
