

The book cover features a woman with long, dark, wavy hair and brown eyes, looking slightly to the side. She is wearing a white lace-trimmed top. The background is a soft, out-of-focus light gray. The title 'I'll Need to Drill' is written in a large, yellow, stylized font across the middle. The author's name 'Matthew Lee' is at the top in a yellow, outlined font. The subtitle 'A Hot Wife Story' is at the bottom in a yellow, outlined font.

Chapter 1

I heard Rayna, my dental assistant, speaking in the front room. Her voice is deep for one so young and feminine and easily passes through my office walls. My next patient had apparently arrived and Rayna was running through the rules. I checked my calendar online and read the name: Delphine Dixie. She was a new patient, first visit, so I knew Rayna would hang on to her for a few minutes while they completed the new patient questionnaire.

As usual, I jumped to Facebook and searched for Miss Dixie. It helps to know what kind of person they are so I can make them comfortable. Early in my career I'd made the mistake of joking about a woman's husband only to learn he'd recently died. I was mortified. Now, I check. I made sure I spelled her name correctly and clicked. Options popped up and I narrowed my search.

Her face was gorgeous so I clicked on the pictures link. Those fuzzy and over-exposed photos only hinted at her beauty so I searched for her Instagram page.

Sweet Jesus. What a face. What a body.

She and her sexy girlfriends wore skimpy clothes everywhere they went, turning male heads and pissing off other women. I leapt to her Twitter page, where I've learned women often show more skin, and was rewarded with multiple bikini shots and even some tastefully discreet lingerie photos in which she complains about the inattention of her boyfriend. What an idiot. I'd never allow this hottie to leave the bed.

Not that my wife, Kayla, is a hag. She isn't. Far from it. She works out often and has gorgeous tits and a pretty face. But let's be honest: there is nothing like hot, young, new pussy. Delphine was a babe and knew it. Her friends were too but not like her.

I continued scrolling and found a picture from last year. Miss Dixie and a friend at a Vegas club, drinks in hand. Her eyes were huge and so were her pupils. She wore a little black dress but the picture was taken just as a club strobe flashed. I saw the darker circle of her small areola through the fabric. Easy to miss but something told me Delphine knew when she posted she was showing herself to the eagle-eyed.

I heard Rayna running the X-ray in the room at the end of the hall. Delphine had finished her new patient paperwork. I searched a few more pictures. The girl was hot. I couldn't decide if her best feature were her stunning cerulean eyes or her slightly too-big for her petite body spectacular tits. After several more pages I decided on tits. They were big piles of vanilla ice cream sitting high on her chest. In the hard-nipple shots, and there were quite a few, the twin points perched well above the equator of her delightful orbs, pointing skyward. This was the kind of girl that had a ton of nudes on her phone. This was the kind of girl that surprised her lucky boyfriend with nudes at work. This was the kind of girl that stood before a mirror and marveled at her own body.

This generation of hot young women have all migrated to the Internet. They have their own webpages and make a lot of money off their good looks. They are empowered by the money they make and don't give a shit what the older generation thinks. We can keep our inflamed morals, thank you very much. They laugh all the way to the bank.

The X-ray machine stopped and Rayna escorted Delphine to an examination room. I threw on my white lab coat and straightened my tie. I checked my hair in the mirror and my breath in my hand and went to meet Miss Dixie.

"Doctor Gaines?" Rayna said. "This is Delphine."

"Hello young lady," I said, extending a hand. "Call me Brian."

Chapter 2

The young woman was charismatic. Rayna is a lovely young woman too but she's serious and studious, even a little bit nerdy. Delphine was so magnetically attractive she had Rayna stumbling over her words. Delly took my hand and we shook. She smiled broadly, revealing old-school braces like railroad tracks.

Rayna hurried from the room to watch the front counter.

I began asking all the mundane and expected questions, engaging in dentist office small talk. I had her sit and then recline, adjusting the lamps and chair, angling one light above her head to shine between her gorgeous mounds, illuminating the skin and turning her thin cotton top almost transparent. She wore a sheer gauze bra that showed me the same luscious young tits I'd seen on her Twitter page. I pretended not to notice, continuing my work quickly and efficiently.

I was sure the men and boys in her life gave her tons of attention so I resolved not to. No point in behaving like a lusty teen-aged dog. She was accustomed to that. I gave her only a passing indifference and quickly discovered I'd hit upon exactly the right approach to her. She hated my irreverence. Delphine enjoyed turning heads.

I surmised she'd blossomed only recently, possibly suffering years of adolescent neglect, and now savored the attention her face and body brought her. She was having fun and rubbing her new-found popularity in the face of every boy and girl that had snubbed her. I was happy she'd come-of-age, but I wasn't about to join the ranks of those now fawning over her. I remained professional and a bit aloof.

Delphine became flirtatious.

When she did not get the customary male reaction, she began to seek the response she craved. She complimented my body and asked how often I worked out. She told me I had pretty eyes. She said my wife was a lucky woman and when all that failed to deliver, she mentioned how dissatisfied she was with her boyfriend.

"My girlfriends and I talk about it," she said. "Guys our age are so dumb. We're going to date older men, men who can think about more than one thing, men who have goals and ambition and money."

I smiled through it all. I've known girls like her since I was one of those dumb high school guys and while I chased them like an idiot in my youth, I'm too old and wise for that game now.

"How long have you worn those braces?" I asked, ignoring her comments.

She got embarrassed

"Since I was twelve," she said. "My mom made me get them but then my dad got laid off and we ran out of money to finish the job. I've had them forever. My dad got a new job with a big raise when we moved to this city. My mom wants to finish so we can get them removed. I can't wait."

I nodded.

"All right," I said. "Lie back and open your mouth."

She chuckled.

"Haven't heard that for a few days," she muttered.

I pretended not to hear. She closed her eyes and laced her fingers, resting her hands across her stomach. I was free to stare and stare I did. She was exquisite. Her body was firm and ripe, bursting with vibrant sexuality. Her young tits barely flattened when I flattened the chair. My chilly office gave rise to small nubs of hardened nipples poking through her mesh bra. She wore a short denim skirt, sexy not slutty, and I realized how much thought she'd put into the length. She'd determined exactly what she could get away with, showing as much leg as possible but not crossing the line into whoredom. Most women in skirts cross their ankles but not this girl. Her feet had two or three inches between them. Completing her dental exam gave me several views up her skirt and to the matching see-through mesh panties hidden there. She wore her pubic hair shaved into a small landing strip. The cotton panel hid her labia but I was sure they were soft and pink. This young woman was the embodiment of hot high school sex. I pitied the poor boys who shared a class with her.

I stepped on the pedal and brought the chair vertical.

"Those braces can be removed but that will take time. Your smile still needs work. It looks great now but that will fade unless I fix it. I will attach an invisible band behind your teeth to complete the job top and bottom, and you will return often for a tightening until I can take all that hardware off simultaneously. I'd guess about four months to perfection. Good?"

"Anything for you," she said.

"Great. You have a tiny cavity forming in another tooth that I'd like to take care of now if you have the time, before it gets worse."

She bounced her eyebrows up and down.

"You gonna gas me, Doctor?" she teased.

I smiled.

"No need. You won't even require Novocain. The hole is small and away from the nerve. I'll take only a minute or two."

She pouted.

"Can I have some gas anyway? My mother wants me to attend a tea party with her after my visit here. I can't stand those catty women. I'd like to avoid them. This would be the perfect excuse. My mom would be forced to take me home. Please? I swear I won't tell. I love that stuff. It makes me feel so good. I'll do whatever you want."

"Nitrous oxide is no joke," I warned.

"Please? Just a little?"

Unethical? Yes. But you can't see her pleading eyes framed by that gorgeous face. You can't feel the pull like I did to give this breathtaking young woman anything she asked for. I may have dodged her little game in the beginning but now she aimed double-barrel charm at me.

"All right," I said.

She clapped softly and tilted her head back. I plucked the nose cup from under the chair and hesitated.

"Don't worry," she said, anticipating me. "My mom dropped me off and is picking me up when I finish here. I won't drive. Thank you so much. I owe you."

"You don't owe me."

"I do," she insisted. "You can ask for anything."

She was good. She knew my imagination would take off before I could stop it. She'd probably played this head game on many males before me. I fitted the cup over her nose and turned the dial, instructing her to breathe deep, in through the nose, out through the mouth. In seconds her eyes rolled around and her body relaxed. She lifted a limp hand to pat me reassuringly on the arm.

"Glas fin undow," she said, or something like that.

Her arms and legs fell to the sides, pulling her top tight across her breasts and spreading the gap under her skirt. I turned the dial again, adding extra vapor. She breathed deep. Lecherous thoughts ran through my mind, just like they would have run through the mind of any man in my position. The stretched fabric over her big firm tits showed their exact shape. Even the slight rise of her puffy nipples was obvious, perched at the high points of twin mounds. She'd slid down in the chair, pushing her skirt higher and exposing her fit, toned legs. A sudden desire to touch her filled me. I wanted to feel the warm pulse beneath that smooth skin. My mouth went dry. My hands began to shake.

She'd gotten to me after all. I drilled the tooth and had Rayna take her to a recovery room to wait for her mother.

Chapter 3

"Winner of this year's highest customer-satisfaction award," the announcer said. "Brian Gaines!"

Everyone applauded politely. Kayla stood with me, giving me a long, proud hug. I kissed her briefly and headed for the stage to claim my award, smiling and waving to colleagues, laughing at their goofy comments.

An hour later the awards portion was over and we all retired to the big hall next door. A band played and three open bars served the crowd. I hated these gatherings but Kayla loved to come. We attended every year. I usually score an award or two and she loves the recognition, the free booze, and a chance to get away from the house, our boring routines, and spend time in a different city. We've bounced all over the United States. We always schedule extra days to see the sights and play tourist.

I noticed Kayla staring and casually looked across the vast hall. The place was filled with large round tables and metal chairs. A small disco ball turned slowly over the dance floor. Few people danced, most intent on getting drunk, but a man and woman swayed slowly beneath the disco ball. The woman wore a backless dress open to just above her round ass. Her body was killer. The man had his gaze locked on my wife just as she had her gaze locked on him. I was unwrapping a straw when he smiled at Kayla over the shoulder of his dance partner. I was sipping some Sprite when she smiled back. I pretended not to notice.

The awards ceremony continued, dragging into the night. At last the final name was read and we politely applauded. The gathering broke up. Kayla and I shook some hands, said hello to old friends, and headed for our hotel room, slightly buzzed and sleepy. She undressed before climbing into bed and I ran my eyes over her, watching each article of clothing leave her body. Delphine may be the hottest thing under twenty but my wife owned the cougar category: long hair and great tits, an ass she works on and flat stomach. My wife's a hottie. She caught the look in my eyes and slowed, undressing becoming a strip-tease. She slipped into bed naked. I yanked my clothes off, revealing a pudgy penis. Kayla stared at my dick.

"Is that because of me?" she asked.

"Indeed it is."

"That's sweet. Every time I start to wonder if my attractiveness has begun to fade, you do something to make me feel sexy."

"You are sexy."

I dropped my socks on the floor, turning to face the bed. Our eyes were locked and I was grateful when my dick began to rise. She eased the covers lower, exposing her breasts. My penis swelled faster.

"For about half a second tonight," Kayla said, pushing the blanket lower still, "I thought you were going to confront me and make a scene."

I walked forward, resting my thighs against the bed. My dick was pointed directly at her face. Subtle.

"Confront you about what?" I asked.

"About the way that handsome guy was flirting with me. I know you caught us."

"I did."

"Why didn't you say anything?"

"It was harmless flirting. You're a babe. I didn't blame him. Nothing happened so why should I get upset?"

"What if something did happen?" she taunted.

I shook my head.

"When?" I asked. "You stayed at our table all night."

"I was at the table while he danced and looked at me," she said.

"What about the times I used the restroom? What if something happened then?"

I smiled. Her little game was intriguing. I suspected she was motivated by a need to feel she could still pull a man in.

"You barely had time for a blowjob," I teased.

"I made it quick. I'm so incredibly talented and gorgeous he couldn't hold back."

She was smiling too, suppressing laughter.

My dick pointed at the ceiling.

"Well, since you sucked his you are therefore required to suck mine. Husbands have rights. Whatever you did to him you must do to me."

"Okay."

She shuffled closer and stuck my erection in her mouth. I enjoyed that for a minute and then threw the blanket off, moving into a sixty-nine with her. Kayla loves sucking dick. She always has. She sucked my dick on our first date, which I still tease her about, but she makes no apologies. We gorged on each other until she had me close. I pushed her away and moved my hips around, continuing my oral assault. I eased a finger up my wife's ass and another in her pussy and wiggled them while licking her clit. That did the trick. She grabbed a pillow to cover her face and yowled, cumming hard. I continued until she got too sensitive and then buried my dick in her. I came fast.

We were basking in afterglow when she casually dropped the question: "Is there someone you'd fuck if I said you could?"

Careful, Brian, I thought.

"No one comes to mind," I said.

She rolled on her side, resting on an elbow.

"Cut the bullshit," she said. "We're adults. I won't get mad and I won't hold it against you. I know you'd never cheat on me but that's not what I'm asking. Is there someone who makes your list? What about Rayna? She's cute. I've often wondered about the two of you, alone in that office hour after hour."

I was still scrambling. This felt dangerous but Kayla's eyes told me she was sincere. My wife wanted the truth.

"Never Rayna," I said. "That young lady is too serious. Also, don't pee in your own bathwater."

She made a face.

"Don't fuck up your own environment," I explained.

"Who then?" she asked. "A client? A colleague? Anyone at this convention?"

I studied her face.

"You're asking because of that man you flirted with."

She nodded.

"He got me thinking," she said. "I'd never cheat on you either but the world is filled with attractive people. If I wasn't with you I would have had sex with him. Let's be honest. I'm not asking to have sex with that man. I'm not going to steer the conversation that way. But it got me wondering. Is there someone you feel that way about?"

"No repercussions?" I asked. "No consequences?"

"None. But you better not name a minor, pervert."

"No, she's an adult. Barely."

"Who?"

I told her about Delphine, downplaying just how sizzling hot the young woman was. I talked about her pretty face and nice body.

"But I'd just be using her for sex," I concluded. "She's not old or complicated enough to hold my attention." I let my wife digest that a minute and then hit her with another question to distract her from my admission. "Besides the man from the dance floor, who else makes your list?"

Kayla chuckled.

"Baby," she cooed. "I told you the world is full of attractive people. I see men every day. I have a yes-I-would list long as your arm, starting with your friend Chris Costa. The cosmetic surgeon that rents the other half of your suite of offices. He's a hunk. I saw him years ago when you first moved into that space."

Not the first time I'd heard a woman say something like that about Chris but it's different coming from your wife's mouth. The man is obnoxious. I saw him often and knew what a jerk he could be. We'd clashed numerous times over the lease, parking assignments, paying our share of utilities, and CCTV arrangements. I avoided him now. All Kayla knew was his face and body. She knew nothing of his annoying arrogance. I pulled a lip, thinking of all the things he'd done over the years.

"Honey?" she said, disbelieving. "What are you thinking about right now? Are you picturing me and Chris?"

"No! Of course not. What do you mean a list as long as my arm?"

"We're talking just sex, right? Like you said: no repercussions, no consequences, no strings. If it's just sex then yeah, I've got a directory."

She was laughing again but stopped suddenly.

"Don't tell me that girl was the only one on your list," she said.

"I don't have a list."

"Well, start one. It's fun. Start tomorrow. We'll compare notes. You start noticing the women around you and tell me who makes it onto your radar."

This was weird. I guess it was cool in a shared-secrets kind of way. Like we'd be at a party and Kayla would give me a signal about some guy. It was non-threatening because she was right: we'd never cheat on each other. I wondered if I should tell her what kind of man Chris was, but why rain on her parade? Besides that, I'd probably sound petty and jealous.

"All right," I agreed. "Let's make an actual game of it. I'll start paying attention to the other ladies in my life."

"Does Delphine have an Instagram?" Kayla asked.

"I don't know," I lied.

"Let's check. I'm curious what she looks like. I'm wondering what kind of woman hooked my husband."

We spent the next fifteen minutes searching via Kayla's phone. We ended up on Delphine's Twitter page, just like I had, and Kayla was impressed.

"You have excellent taste," she said. "Honestly, I thought you'd go for giant boobs or something slutty. That girl is gorgeous. I'm curious to see who else you pick."

"I'm curious to see the rest of your list," I said.

That part was true, I was, but I hated she wanted Chris in that way. I hoped the others on her list were better.

Chapter 4

"Delphine is in room three," Rayna said.

I made my dismissive wave as casual as possible.

"Thank you," I said. "I'll finish this file and get around to her."

I hoped I sounded convincing. Since my conversation with Kayla I'd felt a sense of freedom, like I could pursue indecent thoughts about this little bombshell and my wife would be fine with that. I was sure Kayla felt the same and most likely ogled every attractive man in her office. I'd been right about the sense of shared-secret. We'd opened a fresh line of communication, speaking honestly about those around us, revealing what turned us on and what turned us off. We'd both encountered surprises and felt the occasional pinch of jealousy, but by far the interactions had been positive. I felt closer to my wife. I felt I understood her better and I could trust her more. She was sharing herself with me and expected me to withhold judgment and accept her for who she truly was. I did, and she did the same for me.

But then days later Delphine came for an adjustment. She wore a bikini top under her wife beater and she'd just come from the pool. The wet fabric combined with my office air conditioner and dual peaks of hardened delight rose until they looked like they were about to pierce her shirt. All my willpower was required to avoid looking. Her bright bikini bottoms were visible through her white, wet shorts. I caught Rayna sneaking peeks. Delphine was that hot. That I felt like I had my wife's permission made self-control almost impossible.

Now the young tart was back again for another adjustment. She waited in room three. I prayed she wore a parka. Rayna left me to my file and I plinked away at the keys. I finished minutes later and pulled on my lab coat.

Delphine wore a Bohemian style peasant blouse with an open neckline that kept slipping off her shoulders when she moved, first this one, then that one. She wore a billowy pleated skirt and flipflops that showed her immaculately painted toenails. Her long hair was piled on her head. Worst of all, as she moved towards the chair, I saw the independent wobble of each breast which told me she wore no bra at all today. I gasped and stared half a second too long and she caught me and her eyes turned knowing. I was captured and she knew it.

She stopped and glanced at her sandal.

"Uh oh," she giggled.

She bent to adjust the buckle, which was bullshit because the shoe was fine. What she was really doing was lean forward to make her top fall away from her body. What she was really doing was grant me a view of her incredible tits, and they were incredible. My dick inflated just to see them.

She continued, climbing into the chair with a broad smile on her face. We chatted about school and work and she mentioned she'd broken up with her boyfriend.

"Was it amicable?" I asked.

"What does that mean?"

"Are you still friends?"

She rolled her eyes.

"Oh, no," she said. "Not amicable. He caught me making out with his friend at a party. No, not amicable at all."

Her top had slipped off both shoulders and the upper swell of her breasts was intoxicating. She glanced down, probably feeling cool air on her skin, and checked to see how much she revealed. Apparently, she decided it wasn't enough and as she shrugged, squishing her tits closer and sending her top lower another inch. She looked me straight in the eyes.

"Should I not do that?" she asked.

Oh boy. Answer yes, don't do that, and I've made the relationship awkward. Answer no, go ahead, and I've given her a green light and crossed an ethical line. The problem was that I wanted her to do that.

"Do what you want," I said. "Doesn't bother me."

"Self-control is sexy, Doctor."

She pinched the fabric over her stomach and gently pulled the top lower, the thin elastic band expanding as it moved across the swelling curves of her tits. I held my breath. I felt my heart thump thump thump in my chest. She continued pulling and the elastic band caught on her nipples briefly before twanging the little nubs and sliding down the undercurve of each tit.

There they were: full exposed and spectacularly, fabulously, marvelously perfect. She watched my face for my reaction, thrilled that she had this kind of power over older men too. I don't even know what my face did. All I know was my head filled with an overpowering desire to suck those stiff nipples into my mouth, to feel those raised nubs drag along my tongue.

I didn't do that, but sweet Jesus, I wanted to.

"You like?" she asked, fishing.

"Perfection," I said, regaining a modicum of restraint.

"You can touch them," she said. "And don't worry, I'm legal."

Says you, I thought.

I leaned back. I drew a deep breath and held it, letting it out slowly.

"But then I could no longer be your dentist," I said.

She seemed to understand but did not put her tits away.

"I was flat as a board until about a year ago," she explained, staring down at her breasts. "I was so upset. Every day. Every day. Guys are mean but girls are vicious and cruel. I'd cry when I got home from school. My mom told me to give it time but I didn't believe her. I was so depressed for so long." She looked up to make sure I was still staring at her breasts. I was. "Then last summer," she continued. "Everything changed. I grew taller, my hips flared and my waist narrowed. These beautiful babies began to grow and didn't stop. They're still growing. I can feel them growing. Girls are still cruel but now I laugh in their face, now I know they're being shitty out of jealousy. I can make their boyfriends ignore them just walking by. I can make their guys come running if I want. Fuck those bitches. I suffered for years. I'm going to enjoy this while I can."

Delphine ran her palms up the curves of her under-boob, resting her hands atop each mound. She looked pleased with herself. Satisfied.

"If you change your mind you can touch them whenever you want. You're married so I get why you wouldn't but I like you. You're cool. It's up to you."

I thanked her.

She left them out several more heartbeats and we both stared. Finally, she tugged the elastic band up to cover herself, resting her hands on the arms of the chair after. I thought nothing of it until seconds later, when I leaned in to continue adjusting her braces. She moved her hand to slide her knuckles along the front of my pants, tracing the length of my erection. She grinned despite me working in her mouth.

"Ey thot su," she mumbled.

She was so pleased with herself. I froze. The back of her hand reached the head of my penis and rotated there before moving towards my balls. She was checking my size and all I could do was remain motionless and let her.

"Nithe," she said.

I removed my fingers from her mouth.

"Can I have the gas?" she asked. "Just a little?"

I didn't argue. We were way beyond that. I placed the cup and she filled her lungs. She closed her eyes and settled in, allowing the euphoria to wash over her.

I wanted to eat her alive.

Her knuckles found my hard-on again and when I didn't pull away she swiveled her hand to squeeze my diamond shaft. Her palm was hot on the underside of my dick.

I concentrated on work. I tried. She occupied herself studying the length and girth of my hard dick through my pants. I could fuck her if I wanted, even without the nitrous oxide. She played with my stiff prick until her grip loosened and her mouth opened. The gas had relaxed her almost to sleep. Her shapely legs fell open a bit, her arms rested limp. I stood to gaze down on her and drink every inch: she was stunning. Hollywood gorgeous. World-class starlet gorgeous.

I sighed. She opened her eyes to watch me look at her and smiled.
"Like what you see?" she murmured.
"Love it," I admitted. "Flawless."
She smiled. Her eyes fluttered briefly and closed.

Chapter 5

Kayla was not amused. We stood in the laundry room talking. I admitted I still had only Delphine on my list of fantasy fucks and my wife felt that meant my feelings for the girl were serious. I tried to assure her they were not but she remained unconvinced. Maybe she was right. I got nervous and flustered and made another mistake when I shared how Delly rubbed her knuckles against my erection. I included details about knuckles quickly becoming fingers and a palm and that Delphine had felt me up.

"Did you get an erection?" Kayla asked.

"Yes," I admitted.

Oh boy. Kayla got angry.

"Since when does talking about fantasies give you the go-ahead to touch?" she asked. "Did we agree to that and I don't remember?"

I tried to make the point that Delphine had touched me and that I'd done nothing wrong, but Kayla wasn't hearing it, and, admittedly, that point was weak. I apologized and promised I'd prevent that from happening again. Kayla raged for a while but then fell silent. I promised a second time that nothing would ever happen again. I promised, but from the moment the words left my mouth I knew they were false. The only behavior I'd change was telling Kayla about my encounters with Delphine. I could swear a thousand times I'd behave but when I got that young babe in my chair again I knew in my heart I'd have a hard time controlling myself.

Kayla changed the subject and I was glad she did.

Days later, at my office and after closing, I was reviewing the CCTV recordings at my building before erasing them to free disk space. We have multiple cameras inside and out. On the monitor, I saw Chris leaving his office and encountering Delphine in our shared lobby. He hit on her immediately, of course. After a moment Delphine fawned and squeezed his bicep. Chris and I use the same gym and he's in shape like me. That girl never turns it off. Chris let her feel his arm while his gestures and body language told me he complimented her incredible shape too. She ate it up. Chris is so vain he probably had no idea the girl was playing him.

The longer I watched the more jealous I became. I told myself my feelings were completely inappropriate but I still felt them. I zoomed in and saw she wore the peasant blouse and pleated skirt, which meant she'd stopped to flirt with him on the same day she'd rubbed her knuckles on me, just minutes after leaving my chair. They talked for twenty minutes and Chris loved every second. I continued my review, taking pleasure in erasing their encounter.

I hit the lights and locked up, setting the alarm. Minutes later I was on the road to the gym. It was Thursday evening so Chris would be there too. Normally I avoided him but seeing him interact with Delphine on tape had me vexed. I stowed my gear in my locker and hit the gym floor, stretching first and then meandering through the weight machines. I saw Chris using the dumbbells. He spoke to a girl with long dark hair and for an instant I thought Delphine was with him. My heart lurched. It wasn't she and I breathed easier.

I moved through my workout and he moved through his. He flirted like crazy, oblivious to the girls who found him obnoxious. He was in great shape, I had to give him that, but the constant gazing at oneself in the mirrored wall was a turn off. I finished before him and drifted around, staying out of sight but watching him still. When he shelved the last weight and began removing his gloves, I knew it was time to go. I beat him to the locker room and undressed, grabbed my towel and aimed for the showers. I'd wanted to spy on him to convince myself he had nothing Delphine would actually want and I'd done that: he was so vain he'd turn her stomach. I felt good. He had a great body but that level of conceit would turn off any woman. She might use him for attention but I already knew her well enough to know he'd never have her. I wasn't sure why that mattered to me but it did.

I pulled the knob and tested the water, waiting for the spray to turn hot. Shower stalls ran both sides of a long hallway, a door to the pool area at the end, and most of them were open. I stepped under the hot water.

Chris walked by, nude, towel over a shoulder. He gave some guy a thumbs-up and another guy a big smile, shouting "What's up!" and then stepped into a stall of his own, starting the water running. He turned to hang his towel.

Below his rippled abs hung a pound of beef.

His muscular thighs, which left no gap, pushed cock and balls forward, making them even more pronounced. He felt the water and, satisfied, stepped under the spray. I watched the water flow over his muscular body. He squirted shampoo and lathered and while his eyes were closed I scrutinized every inch of him.

Douchebag or not, the man was a full-on stud. His soft cock swayed and swung, flipping water and suds. His big balls were shaved smooth, his pubic hair trimmed close to the skin. He was circumcised, a large helmet head pulling his soft inches towards the floor like a weight. I caught myself staring and wondered why.

I hated that he had a big cock. Hated it. It made me mad. Handsome, smart, educated, and wealthy, why the fuck did God give him a big cock too?

He rinsed the shampoo and I turned aside, taking one last look at his pendulous penis. I soaped and scrubbed, glancing back when I felt safe, catching him from every angle. I stayed busy while he finished, toweled off and headed for his locker. I finished my shower and drove home.

Kayla arrived minutes after me and we shared our days. She works at a book publisher and it's a stressful time right now. They are trying to figure out how to move to digital, like the rest of the world, yet still make enough money to pay everyone. I listened to her bitch and then she listened to me. We ordered Thai as neither one felt like cooking. We were seated and eating, already in a better mood, when I brought up what I'd seen at the gym. I was trying to do some repair work on us. Kayla had been hurt by Delphine touching me so I thought to balance the scales by telling her something about the man at the top of her fantasy list.

"Chris Costa was at the gym tonight," I said. "I saw him working out."

"That sounds delightful," she said around a mouthful of spicy chicken.

"Not so much. He can't stop watching himself in the mirrors."

"I wouldn't stop watching him either," she teased.

She was still getting me back for Delphine.

"Later I saw him taking a shower," I said.

She stopped chewing. Her eyes met mine, searching.

"He's handsome and buff but his dick is tiny."

She studied my face.

"It's a shame," I continued. "He seems like such a stud."

She put her fork down and dabbed her mouth with a paper napkin. I kept my face utterly passive.

"You're lying," she said.

"Tiny. Little baby dick. I think he might have only one testicle."

"Shut up."

"I mean it. Pink mushroom. I thought I was watching Fantasia."

She laughed around a mouthful. A welcomed sound given our recent stress. She chewed and washed it all down with some chardonnay. We ate in silence for a minute.

"Seriously, though," she said. "What was it like?"

"It?"

"His dick."

I debated telling the truth but only for half a second. I wanted her to feel like I'd always be honest. I wanted her to feel like I could be trusted. Honesty regarding another man's penis would go a long way. I stood and pressed my index fingers to the front of my pants: one at the crotch, one about eight inches down my thigh.

"A fucking donkey," I said.

She checked my face to see if now I was teasing in the other direction. After a moment, she knew I was telling the truth. A sly smile curled her lips.

"Daaaamn."

"Indeed," I said. "It looked somewhat prehensile. I kept waiting for him to grab his towel with it."

She laughed again.

"Is he hairy?" she asked, wrinkling her nose.

"No. I think he waxes his chest, legs, and back. His skin is smooth like marble. He has a three-finger patch of hair, closely trimmed, where his dick connects to his body. He probably gets manicures and pedicures. He probably gets his teeth whitened. He probably has hair plugs."

"Nice. You paint a lovely picture."

The ice was broken. We were good again. We finished dinner and watched a movie and climbed into bed. I thought there was a chance talking about Chris would turn her on and we'd have sex but maybe she felt that would be disrespectful to me. Sleep took us both in minutes.

Chapter 6

She waited three days.

"Honey," Kayla said, gazing into our bathroom mirror. "I'm thinking about some lip filler, maybe a little work to tighten up my crow's feet. What do you think?"

She pushed around the skin on her face. For a smart guy, I'm often fairly dense.

"I think you're beautiful just the way you are," I said.

"Hm. That's sweet, Brian."

She cupped her tits and lifted slightly, studying the new look.

We showered and dressed and left for work. I texted in the morning like I always do and called at lunch but her phone rolled to voicemail. Not a big deal, happens all the time. I thought nothing of it. That night we had dinner and read in the den until bedtime. The next day I stayed late to erase old CCTV footage. I worked my way forward to yesterday's material and then froze. I zoomed.

Chris was walking Kayla from his office to her car.

I read the time-stamp. All the pieces fell into place. This was yesterday at the same times I'd tried to reach her.

She stopped to lean against her Audi and he stepped close. For the millionth time, I wished the cameras had audio. He gestured towards her ass and she turned to look. They took a few minutes to talk about her butt. He gestured towards her breasts and she tilted her chin to look down. They talked a few minutes about her tits. He went around her body, commenting, pointing, talking, and Kayla followed along, eagerly presenting each body part to his scrutiny. He pointed to her breasts again. Kayla hesitated and checked the parking lot to be sure they were alone, forgetting all about the cameras. My mouth went dry. She opened three buttons and pulled her top so he could see in. He spoke and she opened two more buttons, almost the entire front of her blouse, and pulled the two halves apart. Chris stepped closer, rubbernecking my wife's tits. I knew they were discussing cosmetic surgery.

I'm not stupid, as a rule, but I was stupid four days earlier when I gave her an excuse to go see Chris. Would she even be talking to him if I hadn't blabbed about how good he looked? Would she have chosen another surgeon?

Her chest heaved. She held her top open for him to see. She wore a bra but my wife enjoys sexy, feminine things. I was sure Chris saw plenty.

After an eternity, he jerked his chin and she began to button up. They were negotiating now. I expected in the next few days she'd start a casual conversation about wanting work done. I didn't care about that. It's her body and she can do whatever she wishes to it, but I hated Chris would be doing the work. I hated he'd have her anesthetized and able to touch her any way he chose. I hated he'd have memories of her naked. I hated he'd have my wife in his head. These images were husband privileges. His work on Kayla would move him into an inner circle. She'd probably start sending him a fucking Christmas card every year. Just the thought of him anywhere near her made my blood boil.

She got in her Audi and he got in his Mercedes and they drove away. I moved my finger to delete the recording but stopped. I had no idea why. My finger trembled. After a moment, I clicked save instead. I finished my review and set the alarm, locked the door and headed for the gym.

Chris was already there.

I kept to myself but watched him go through his routine. I noticed girls here and there that watched him too. He'd grown from an annoyance to something like a rival and we'd not exchanged a single word. I knew he'd soon be touching my wife.

At home Kayla made dinner. She waited until dessert to inform me she'd done research on different cosmetic surgeons and surprise, surprise, Chris was the highest rated at the best price.

"He's so close to your office," she added. "Convenient, right? If I ever need a ride home, there you are."

"Handy."

"There is one thing, though," she said. "I know it's inappropriate but don't get mad. It's harmless."

"What?"

"When I went for my initial consultation, he asked me to dinner."

I waited.

"I told him no," she continued. "I said I was married. He offered a fifty-percent discount if I said yes."

"That's tacky."

"Agreed, but that's also a lot of money saved. In a way, I'm flattered."

"You want to go?"

She shrugged a bit.

"Why not? I'd like to know my surgeon better before I let him do anything and it saves us a lot of money. It's more like why wouldn't I go?"

"Why ask me if you've already decided?"

She leaned back.

"You're upset," she said. "Why? He's just a doctor I'm using."

I thought about using the tape I'd watched to bolster my claim he was more than that. One does not flash one's tits in the parking lot to just anyone. But my gut told me that would be a mistake. She'd feel like I'd spied. I took a deep breath. The truth was there were many factors adding to my irritation: she'd placed him at the top of her fantasy list, he was hot and hung, and, if I'm completely honest, I hated that he'd also flirted with Delphine. No way I could tell Kayla that. My resistance to him as her doctor did not equal what she could see.

"Are you jealous?" she asked. "Is it because I put him on my fantasy list?"

"Maybe."

Her face softened.

"You dear, sweet man," she said. "I picked him because he's the best, not because he's sexy."

I exhaled slowly.

"But I'm sure you don't mind that he is," I said.

"Not at all," she smirked.

We cleaned up and retired to bed. Halfway through the movie she slid under the covers and found my penis. Her hot wet mouth felt fantastic.

Chapter 7

Maybe it was me. Maybe I was feeling edgy and cranky and read into things. But Kayla sure seemed to put a lot of effort into looking great for her Saturday night dinner date with Chris. Her dress was tight and her hair and makeup perfect. She looked sexy and sophisticated. I kissed her cheek and walked her to the garage door and waved as she drove away, red taillights winking as she braked at the corner before turning.

I thought my heart would explode. There wasn't enough air on the planet to fill my lungs and I felt dizzy and weak. I entered the house and dropped onto the couch and stared at the fireplace, one thought beating my brain like a drum: my wife was on a date with a man she fantasizes about fucking, and she knows he has a big dick.

How does she know that? Because I fucking told her. Me.

What husband does that?

I'd worked in the yard all day so I ran the shower to wash away the dust and dirt. I stripped, tested the water, and then ducked my head under. I grabbed the soap, worked a lather, and began to wash.

My penis and testicles were hot to the touch and insanely sensitive. I began to swell in seconds. The slightest contact sent blood pumping. I was rock hard and throbbing in less than thirty seconds. I let go, gazing at my pulsating dick.

Kayla was out with another man.

Kayla was out with another man.

My penis grew even harder. Was I having some kind of competition response? Clearly I saw Chris as my opponent, Kayla as the prize. At this moment, he was winning. I almost doubled over as a searing thought ripped through me: What if he fucks her? My dick jumped and a drop of semen oozed to pool at the tip. Images flashed in my mind like a strobe light: Kayla on all fours, Kayla on her back, Kayla riding him, tits bouncing. My balls drew tight to my body and my penis grew so stiff it ached. The hot water hammered my back as I gazed at my confusing erection. I leaned one hand against the shower wall. I grabbed my dick with the other. Pleasure rippled through me more intense than I could remember. Jacking off never felt this good. I stroked slowly, amazed, and closed my eyes, instantly filling my head with agonizing pictures of Kayla lost in ecstasy. Chris's big cock filled her tight hole and I was mere inches away. I saw everything. I gasped for breath as he fucked her, listening to her piercing cries of pleasure. He drove her insane with that monster.

I released my dick and opened my eyes at the first tingling of climax. I wasn't ready. How had I gotten here so fast? I closed my eyes but kept my hands away. I saw Kayla readily sucking his inches, salaciously tracing thick veins with the tip of her tongue, her hungry eyes locked to his. Where was all this coming from? Kayla doesn't suck my dick like that. Why was I picturing her sucking his this way?

I tried to calm myself but failed. She'd admitted she wanted to fuck him. He was handsome, fit, and hung and he'd taken her out to dinner. Why hadn't I insisted on a curfew? I had no idea when she'd be home. Why hadn't I asked which restaurant? I had no idea where she was. I had no idea what they were doing. The more I thought about it, the more convinced I became something would happen. Delphine had stroked my erection. Didn't that give Kayla tacit approval to at least do the same?

"God damn it!" I yelled, my voice echoing around our tile bathroom.

I ignored my penis and finished washing. I stayed rock hard the entire time. Even after drying and tying a robe around my body, my dick still throbbed, poking through the gap into open air. I had to do something. I sat on the corner of our bed and closed my eyes again, allowing my imagination to run wild: Chris had Kayla on all fours like a dog, her ass filled his hands, his thick curving cock filled her pussy. I saw with perfect clarity his fat hard tube stretching her wide. I saw the gleam of her excitement all over his inches. I opened my robe and stroked my dick and watched Chris fuck my wife in my mind. I'd never been more excited, turned on, and in utter agony as I was right then. I saw Kayla orgasm on his cock and my penis joined her, spurting a long rope of thick sauce across our bedroom carpet. I jerked faster, spraying sperm wildly, groaning from the best climax of my life. I yanked my dick and emptied my balls and in my mind, Chris did the same, pumping his goddamn semen into my wife. I spurted again and again imagining it. I pumped a gallon of hot jizz picturing my wife getting filled.

I flopped onto my back, robe open, hand dripping and sticky. Fuck. What an orgasm. I flexed my penis and found I remained mostly hard. I had a lot of questions about why but the afterglow of my climax held them at bay. I dreaded Kayla coming home and telling me they'd fucked, but the possibility turned me on. It was a paradox I did not understand. I'd never in my life been in a situation like this. I'd never in my life digested thoughts like these.

I checked my dick and discovered I was still mostly hard. I pushed my thumb on the base and stood myself straight up, lifting my head to gaze down my stomach at my erection. I felt a weird pride my erection endured after orgasm. I pushed more blood in and watched the head flare. My mind jumped to Chris in the gym shower, the only other cock in my life. That heavy tube had hung straight down, wobbling as he moved, water and suds dripping to the shower floor. Had Kayla seen it tonight? Had my wife touched his dick? Was she touching it right now?

I closed my eyes and began a slow stroke, pinching a nipple and imaging Kayla sucking Chris's heavy meat. I had no idea if size mattered to her. She'd never mentioned it in all our years of marriage. But in this moment it mattered to me, and it mattered to me a lot. Imagining her with a penis that large freaked me the fuck out. It tore me up inside. It twisted my guts and made me feel sick. I couldn't draw a full breath. My body trembled. By every indication I bordered on a blind panic, but I was also more aroused than ever.

I let my mind roam. I wondered what time she'd get home: the later she returned, the likelier something happened. When the calm and rational part of my mind tried to remind me Kayla would never cheat, this new animal part of my mind shouted it down. I realized I was stroking my dick and hoping she would cheat. I ran with that. I saw him all over her, like I was standing in the room with them. He put his hands on her and placed her in different positions, holding her steady while he eased his thick erection deep. Kayla loved his big cock. It may not have mattered to her before she left our home this evening, but it certainly mattered to her now, and for the rest of her life.

My dick throbbed in my hand. Cum still sparkled on my belly and I was stiff and ready to go again. I pumped my penis, reveling in my stiffness, watching him take her in every way. My delightful imagination even tossed in the poignant sounds of my wife orgasming on him, her tight pussy sealed around his girth. I groaned. My balls tightened. An impending orgasm built and I couldn't believe it.

I squeezed my eyes shut. He flipped her on her back, placing her ankles on his broad shoulders. For a frozen instant, his hard curving cock sat poised outside her pussy, a spear aligned to her dripping slit. She wanted his dick so badly she whimpered, rocking her hips in an effort to get him inside. He bowed his back and sank his dick into my wife, pumping hard, eager to inject a massive load. Kayla urged him on. He hammered her until finally he pushed deep and held himself there, barely moving as he gritted his teeth and filled her.

She groaned with such deep satisfaction that I shot another fountain of semen straight into the air. My hips pumped wildly as I spurted over and over, moaning loudly alone in our bedroom. I kept jerking my meat like a madman, flailing away at my erupting penis, fully embracing the vision of my unfaithful, inseminated wife.

My body collapsed. I started laughing. I was weak as a baby and wondering who the hell I was. How could I have done all this? I remained motionless a long time. Eventually I rose and showered again, amazed that my dick was still sensitive. I scrubbed all over but especially my genitalia.

With each passing minute, my fears and regrets grew stronger. What had I been thinking? Now that I'd cum, twice, reality crept in, pushing fantasy out. Kayla sleeping with Chris would be a disaster. I hated that guy. We worked in the same building. If he had this to hold over my head I thought I might die.

I left the shower, dried, and returned to flop onto the bed, staring at the ceiling. Why hadn't I gotten more information from Kayla? In addition to what time she'd be home, I did not know the restaurant or if they planned other activities for after dinner. Idiot. I grabbed my phone from the dresser and sent a text. I hated how weak and insecure that made me look but by now anxiety had her claws in me. I should have protested. I never should have allowed this. I tapped out a simple message, asking how her night was going. Depending on her response I may ask more. I hit send and waited. Four seconds later I heard her phone chime out in the kitchen. I walked out and stared at the bright screen. She'd either forgotten it or left it intentionally but regardless, there was no way to contact her. I was on my own until she returned.

I got an idea and plucked her phone from the countertop. We knew each other's passwords so I opened her messages and read. She's exchanged texts with Chris planning for dinner and asking what she should wear as she did not know the restaurant. Nothing suspicious, nothing sinister, but I hated that they'd swapped numbers. They had a way to communicate that left me out.

I set her phone on the counter where she'd left it and returned to our bedroom, forlorn and dismayed. What a shitty night. I sat on the corner of the bed and stared at the carpet. I had no more moves to make.

I sat like that for a while. Partially formed thoughts bounced around inside my skull, like debris in a tornado, appearing briefly before swept away. Regrets ballooned: regret I let her go to dinner with him, regret I'd masturbated to such terrible thoughts, regret I'd opened her phone and spied on my lovely wife. I felt shitty.

That lasted only minutes. I noticed dried cum on the rug and an image of Chris's soft dick in Kayla's mouth popped into my head. I tried to think about work but instead I saw my wife sucking hard, flicking the head with her tongue like a snake. My penis twitched.

"Seriously?" I asked the silent room.

I could not hold back the flood. Images poured into my brain, scenes of Chris fucking Kayla all over again. My traitorous penis rose quickly, eager to be of service. Imagining Kayla with another man was something I simply had no control over.

I gave up trying and let my mind soar. I fell onto my back, robe wide open. My thoughts turned from sexy to slutty and I witnessed Kayla transform. She serviced Chris like a cheap whore and I loved every second of it. I started jacking off again, amazed at myself. I let the movie in my head play and when Chris shot Kayla full again, I launched my third load into the air. Hot sperm splattered all over, raining down on me like hot shame. I groaned loud and deep, shooting less but cumming harder. My whole body felt squeezed in a vise. Sparks flew around inside my head. Colors exploded. I jerked until I had nothing left and then jerked some more, keeping the waves of pleasure going.

Tonight, I'd opened the door to something new and powerful.

At last the sensations ebbed. My head spun and my body shook. I let my arms fall away and closed my eyes, savoring body-wide tingles. I resigned myself to the guilt I knew was coming. Orgasms like these made it worth it. I stayed like that until thirst drove me to the kitchen. I wondered if I'd ever tell Kayla about this night. I poured some orange juice and sat at the dining table, robe open wide, exhausted penis resting on the chair. I lifted my drink and made a silent toast to a crazy night.

An hour later Kayla still was not home.

An hour later and Kayla still was not home.

An hour later and Kayla still was not home.

I checked the clock over the fireplace. Two o'clock in the morning and my wife was still out with him. What a jumble my head was. I knew I should be concerned for her safety, and part of me was, but another part liked that she was still out. The entire situation was maddening. My response to this insanity was to play with my dick but he was finished for the night. My excitement would rise and fall for the next hour but I had no recourse. He was done getting hard. Butterflies would fill my guts and all I could do was wait them out.

At long last, I heard the thump of a car door. My heart leapt, pounding wildly. I listened for a second thump, meaning he might be with her, but heard nothing. I tied my robe and stood before the door to the garage, waiting. The knob turned. Kayla stepped through.

Chapter 8

She was trying to be quiet, assuming I slept. She carefully shut the door behind her and tiptoed forward, her eyes coming up to mine.

Deep, deep guilt lived there.

My stomach dropped. Her face fell. She sat her purse on the washing machine and came to me with open arms.

"I am so, so sorry," she rasped, but whether it was for being so late or fucking his brains out, I did not know.

I lifted my arms to hold her and my robe opened, exposing my naked body. Her eyes darted to my withered and exhausted penis before meeting mine again.

"I'm so sorry," she repeated.

"For what?" I croaked.

I held my breath. This was the moment of truth. Whatever she said next could change our marriage forever.

She said nothing.

She tightened her hug, squeezing hard, tangling her fingers in my hair and pulling. I returned her fervor, waiting.

"I'm so sorry," she said again. "You must believe me."

I shifted my feet so our bodies touched all the way to the knees. I held her hug, arms trembling. Her head fell to my chest. Her breathing stopped.

"He fucked me," she whimpered.

An invisible fist grabbed my guts and squeezed. Gravity tripled. My world turned upside-down. Those three simple words had the power of a nuclear bomb. A mushroom cloud rose over our heads. I tried to separate from her, to pull back and get my bearings, but she held tight, squeezing fiercely.

"We fucked," she whined. "After dinner. He invited me to his place for a glass of wine and to finish our conversation and I knew he'd try to seduce me. I knew he'd try. He did try and I don't know how he did it but I gave in. I was so sure he'd fail I went to his place with him but he didn't fail. He fucked me."

My mind tumbled down a dark well. I could barely comprehend my fears had come true. I'd spent hours tonight imagining what was happening only to be hit with the truth: it had been no fantasy. Chris had fucked Kayla. I immediately pictured that big cock from the gym disappearing inch by inch inside my wife.

"Oh my god," I growled.

My legs went weak. I began to sink and she tried to hold me but she lacked the strength. I landed in a pile at her feet, holding her quivering legs. She drew a ragged breath. I grabbed the hem of her skirt and lifted, consumed with a desire to see the pussy he'd fucked, obsessed with a need to see my wife's cheating cunt. My eyes were instantly stricken when I saw her pretty, delicate, feminine panties were gone. Gone. No, not gone, laying on his bedroom floor.

"Fuuuuck," I groaned. "Oh my god."

"Oh, Baby," she whimpered, holding my head, about to sob.

Under her scruffy bush her labia were swollen, smashed and beaten. Her inner labia, normally inside and out of sight, extended half an inch into the open air. They were puffy and pink and raw, a cloudy drop of semen clinging to them.

Chris had fucked my wife for hours. Hours. Her precious slit dazzled me. Her pussy looked amazing, astonishing. This was a moment I never imagined possible. My mind had no ability to understand. In an instant, I'd gone from the impossibility of Kayla cheating on me to another man's sperm leaking from her, clinging to her pussy lips. I lifted the drop of semen with a finger, rubbing it around a fingertip. His was slippery and slick, just like mine, but this was his seed spilling from my wife.

I grabbed her ass with both hands and placed my mouth over her entire furry mound, capturing inner and outer labia all at once, engulfing my wife's cheating cunt. My hot tongue split her down the middle and burrowed deep. Kayla cried out, shocked, shamed, horrified. I pushed my tongue deeper and sucked her pussy lips, twirling her flesh, sending shudders through her well-used body. My mind repeated the same refrain:

Chris fucked Kayla, Chris fucked Kayla, Chris fucked Kayla. I got more aroused with each passage. I brought my arms up between her legs and lifted her to the kitchen counter. I devoured her pussy, eating with wild abandon, licking and sucking, tasting her infidelity, burning the sharp flavor into my brain. She struggled but I didn't care. She resisted but I didn't care. She whined and complained, trying to stop me but I didn't care. Finally, my efforts broke through. She grabbed my head and sucked the first breath of pleasure and I doubled my efforts, pleasuring my wife until she orgasmed screaming on the marble countertop. She thrashed about, half crying in shame and half moaning with mind-boggling sensation. No way could she have hoped for or expected this reaction from me. She clawed my back as she peaked.

"Fuck me!" she cried.

I ate her harder.

"Fuck me!" she cried again. "Brian, Baby, I need you."

I knew that would not happen. My fatigued dick was drained and depleted. I pushed a finger up her hole and she groaned with delight. I added another, semen running over my knuckles, and pumped, rubbing her rough G-spot and smooth inner walls. I had her howling in minutes, another mind-shattering orgasm rocking her body. She was crying, overwhelmed and overcome. I took my limp penis in hand and jerked but only for the stimulation. There would be no erection. There would be no climax.

"Fuuuucck meeee," Kayla moaned.

I continued my assault until her crazy orgasm drained away. I stepped back, leaving her panting on the counter, skirt pushed up to her waist, legs splayed, sopping cunt leaking. She covered her face with both hands and began to cry. I stepped forward and covered her head with my arms, kissing her hands, kissing her exposed forehead, pulling her hands away and kissing her lips. Her sobs dwindled but she kept her eyes closed. Her breathing slowed.

"I'm a horrible person," she murmured, meeting my eyes. "You should leave me."

"Never," I heard myself say.

I saw in her eyes how much she wanted to explain, how badly she needed to confess, but I shushed her. Now was not the time. Not in this moment. This moment was for us. I held her hands and kissed her face, kissed away her tears, kissed her fingertips. We let calm settle over us. We waited while normalcy returned.

"Are you about to tell me you fucked Delphine?" she mumbled. "Is that why you're so okay with what I did? Is that why you won't fuck me?"

"No," I said. "You already know everything that's happened with her."

She closed her eyes, shaking her head slightly. I realized she'd been hoping I had fucked Delly. She could have used the absolution. Now it was all on her.

"We went back to his place," she began. "I should never have agreed. I knew I was growing more attracted to him as the night wore on. I knew I had no business in his home without you but I was certain I had things under control. We drank a bunch of wine and talked and talked. I kept waiting for him to make a heavy-handed move or drop some cheesy line but he never did. He was so sincere, so honest and vulnerable. Desire grew in me with each heartbeat. I told myself to get up and leave, to call an Uber and leave my car at the restaurant."

She tilted her head to meet my eyes.

"But I didn't, Brian. I stayed. I stayed and I began to run my eyes over his handsome face and incredible body. He's at the top of my list and now here we were drinking wine in his living room."

She stopped talking. Her hands crept up to cover her face again.

"Go on," I said.

She shook her head.

"I'm a terrible person," she muttered.

"Tell me."

She pulled her hands away and met my eyes.

"I told him my husband had seen him naked at the gym. I told him I didn't believe my husband and wanted to see his naked body for myself."

I leaned back, surprised.

"I can't believe it either," she said. "I cannot believe those words came out of my mouth. I've never prioritized stuff like that."

"It was you that spoke the cheesy pickup line."

"Yes," she admitted. "I'm a terrible person."

My heart was racing. She was painting a delicious voyeuristic view and I was drawn in. I saw them seated on the rug before the fire, talking, sexual tension filling the air. It was exciting to picture my wife in this way. It turned me on that she'd said those things to him.

"He stood," she continued. "I had a moment where I could have stopped him but I said nothing. I thought about you and Delphine, alone in your exam room, and I used that to rationalize what I was doing. I know that's bullshit but that's what I did. He asked if I was sure and I gulped wine and gave him a nod."

She paused. I waited. She paused longer.

"Go on," I nudged.

"Oh, Baby," she exhaled. "Are you sure?"

Her eyes were filled with concern. She had no desire to hurt me. Her fingertips rested gently on my forearm. She believed if she told me what happened next I'd be crushed. Maybe she was right.

"Ask me how I spent the night waiting for you," I said.

She looked confused. My sudden subject change left her bewildered.

"How did you spend your night, Brian?"

I did not hesitate. I told her everything. The longer I spoke, the bigger her eyes got. By the time I described my third orgasm her mouth hung open in disbelief.

"While you were home imagining him fucking me," she said. "He was."

"Yes, he was."

"There's a chance you orgasmed at the same time he did."

That thought was a punch to the gut. Mine had sent semen flying through the air. His had shot semen deep inside her.

"There's a chance, yes," I said.

She seemed to like that idea.

"It's like you were somehow connected to me. Like you could sense what was happening across time and distance."

"Anything's possible," I said.

She got thoughtful for a minute.

"I left my phone behind intentionally," she said. "I thought this would be a once and only once kind of event. I wanted no interruptions. I think I wanted you to notice I'd left it at home and feel a little jealous, like I had with Delphine."

She reached out to me. We kissed deep and slow.

"I need you to fuck me, Brian."

"I feel the same way. As soon as I can, I promise, I will."

She drew a deep breath and let it out slowly. We'd returned to the point we'd left moments ago. I gave her an encouraging nod.

"After I told him to strip," she began, "he stood over me. I craned my neck. He removed his shirt. He opened his pants and kicked them away. He drew down his underwear and tossed them aside, standing there confident and sexy."

She drew a deep breath and let it out slowly again.

"I had to touch him," she stated. "All my vows and promises took second place. The urge to touch him was undeniable. I had no options. I had to touch him so I did."

Her gaze was tortured. All this was too recent. She wasn't relating events, she was reliving them, only now guilt and shame ate her alive.

I relented. There was much to talk about, and I wanted every detail of her night, but not until I could get hard and do something about it. We knew the world we lived in had shifted but we'd did not yet know what that meant. We'd take things slow. I placed a finger over her lips, quieting her.

For now, I helped her off the kitchen counter and to the bedroom. She wanted to see my dried cum on the carpet so I showed her all three places. We cuddled and she sucked my tired dick. I closed my eyes and thoughts of her with Chris drifted by and desire flared.

Monday at work would suck. He knew she was married but not to me, thank god, but seeing him at the gym would be agonizing. I'd look at his body in a new way. I'd look at his cock in a new way.

I got hotter by the minute. Her mouth felt fantastic but I stayed soft. I needed to do something so I rolled her onto her back and eased her legs open. Her pussy was a saturated mess. Her hopeful eyes studied me as I lowered my mouth to eat her again, her expression turning to utter disbelief.

I made her orgasm in minutes but that was just the warm-up. I spent hours between her legs, so long the sun lightened the sky. I ate my horrible, terrible, cheating wife like I loved her down to her bones, because I did.

Eventually my dick awoke, hardening enough to fuck her. Ignoring her sore and tender flesh, she begged me to pound her faithless pussy, to punish her disloyal cunt, and I did. I pummeled my wife until sweat dripped from my face. I fucked her with the desperation we both felt.

Spurting my load to mix in her womb with his was the hottest moment of my life. I'd never felt anything like it. My mind was as excited as my body. My orgasm was thunderous, earthshaking. I was left weak and quivering and I knew nothing would ever come close to exciting me like that again.

I was wrong.

Chapter 9

Waking up was like getting smashed by a speeding armored truck.

Kayla cheated, hammered my brain. Kayla cheated. Kayla cheated. Kayla cheated. Kayla cheated.

She slept next to me, her hair a mess. She stank of wine, sweat, and semen. This was the morning after. This was when the enraged husband screamed about divorce. Maybe I should, but that's not where my head was. I had a lot of emotions raging, and maybe anger would be the last one standing when the others drained away, but right now lust won over all. My main regret, and it was huge, was not that she'd taken a lover, but that the lover she'd taken was Chris.

Chris.

I had only myself to blame for that. I'd never told her the kind of man he was and now it was too late. She had her own ideas and any attempt by me to change her mind would be viewed as simple jealousy and insecurity. Besides, I wasn't perfectly right. Maybe Chris was only that kind of man around me.

I studied her sweet face. She slept deeply, on her side, barely moving. I tried, for a moment, to make myself hate her for what she'd done but I had no rage waiting in the wings. I lifted the sheet to inspect her body and noticed faint handprints on her ass, a bite mark by a nipple, more bite marks around her nape. Chris had been rough. Her legs were flopped one over the other so I couldn't see her pussy but I remembered how her little cunt had looked hours ago.

I wondered if Kayla told Chris she was married to me. I'd be relieved if she didn't. We'd discussed nothing about it before she left for her date but then again we had no idea the night would turn out like this.

The cool air must have gotten to her as she stirred in her sleep and rolled onto her back. Her legs parted. Now I saw her pussy clearly, still swollen. There was a wet spot under her hips and I knew half of that was me and half was him. I took a weird consolation knowing Chris and I shared her equally.

Then a thought hit me like a thunderbolt: had he cum in her more than once? How had I not considered this? She'd been gone for hours. She'd been with him long enough to fuck many times. If Chris was half the stud he pretended to be he'd fucked my wife more than once.

Sweet Jesus. What naivety. What an egotistical blind spot. I'd subconsciously protected my vanity: my wife loved me but had made a simple mistake. It happens. I was sure he'd seduced her, she'd burst into tears after swearing to never do it again, and then come home to me. But a little tickle at the base of my skull told me nope, that's not what happened. I did some math. From the moment she left our home to the moment she returned, subtracting for dinner and conversation, Kayla had been at his place a long, long time. I gazed at her and my little imagined scenario took a new shape with Kayla as the aggressor. I felt the truth in it. My lovely wife had climbed all over the man, fucking him again and again until he lay drained and exhausted.

Surprisingly, my dick began to rise.

I had to know.

"Baby?" I whispered, my voice strained. "Baby?"

"Hm?"

"How many times did you fuck? Was it more than once?"

She nuzzled the pillow with her face, mostly still asleep.

"Baby," I whispered, insistent. "How many times did he fuck you?"

She rolled onto her side again, curling her legs up.

"Four," she mumbled.

I froze, allowing sleep to take her again. In seconds, she breathed deeply. I lowered the sheet, my hands trembling.

Four.

Fucking four.

Chris shot semen into my wife more times than I'd shot semen on my belly.

Fuck.

I lifted the edge of the sheet to stare at her pussy from behind. Four times his big cock had churned her insides, four times he'd spit gobs of sperm into her womb. He was in there right now. I was looking at a fertilized pussy. That wet spot was almost all him!

My dick rose higher. This was pure torture. How could such agony feel so good?

I lowered the sheet and slipped from the bed. I stepped into the master bathroom and eased the door closed. My dick was pointing at the ceiling, straining, throbbing, so hard my skin was stretched paper thin. The head was deep red. Veins stood like ridges along the length.

I'd discovered something terrible, terrible like an addiction, terrible like heroin.

I began to stroke, amazed that the extreme sensitivity had returned. I thought about jacking off into the toilet and flushing the evidence away but changed my mind in less than a minute. I'd done enough jacking off for now. I left the bathroom and eased into bed, sliding head-first under the sheet, nudging her leg with my face. My mouth fastened to her vulva and my tongue began to probe. She lay still for an instant, still deeply asleep, but then woke enough to understand what was happening. Her fingers snaked into my hair and she groaned. I licked and sucked until I had her body quivering and then moved higher, aiming my erection for her slippery hole. Her eyes were just opening as I sank all the way in. Her soaked pussy was a furnace.

"Did you suck it?" I hissed.

She didn't answer. I thrust balls deep and pushed deeper still.

"Did you suck his cock?"

She circled her arms around my neck, pulling my ear close to her mouth.

"Yessss," she exhaled. "All I could."

Her arms tightened like a vise. I continued my smooth in and out.

"I tried," she continued. "But he's too thick. I forced him in, gagging, holding him in there while I rubbed my pussy. He felt so big. My jaw ached. I got so turned on. I orgasmed because his cock stuffed my mouth. I pushed it in until he hit the back of my throat and I had to stop. Baby, you know how much I love sucking dick but there is something special about a dick like that. He filled my mouth. I let him pulse on my tongue, against the insides of my cheeks."

I fucked her harder. She winced, obviously sore after a night like that. She spread her legs wider.

"Tell me everything," I said. "Pick up where you left off. You guys were in front of his fireplace. You were seized by a desire to touch him."

"I told him to take off his clothes," she said, "and he did, standing over me. I gazed up at him, his muscular thighs and ripped stomach stealing my breath. I crawled forward, lifting my glass to submerge the large head of his cock in my wine. I pulled it out and sucked chardonnay off his pink helmet."

I groaned. She continued.

"He looked so good naked. He forced nothing, he hurried nothing, allowing me to move at my own pace, do only what I wished. I moved to my back and opened my legs, aiming my pussy at his face. He grabbed my ankle with one hand and pointed his hard cock with the other." She stopped to catch her breath. I fucked her with strong strokes. She was into it now, building towards climax with me. "His cock felt much bigger than it looked. He forced my little hole wide open, Baby, like a goddamn Cadillac going in there. I recoiled, shocked at how much he expanded me. He held my hip and slowed, showing complete self-control. He inched forward, eager to get all of it in but giving me time to enlarge. Finally, I felt him hit bottom. He started to fuck me good then, Baby, strong, smooth strokes in and out, just like what you're doing now."

She hesitated, obviously feeling guilty.

"I came so fast, Brian. I climaxed before I even knew I was about to. His penis in me was fantastic. I gripped his arms and came so hard. I'm sorry."

I lifted my body higher and began to hammer her tender pussy.

"Go on," I growled.

"As his excitement grew he got wild. He started to bite me, not too hard but hard enough, and I loved it. No man has ever done that to me and it felt animalistic. I got more turned on and so did he. He flipped me over and smacked my ass. I yelped but kept pushing my hips back to meet his thrusts. Once he saw I was into it too, we just went crazy, fucking like beasts in every position possible."

As my wife told me the story of her night, I duplicated everything Chris had done, matching every position. I moved her around and smacked her ass. I bit her, drawing a snarl and raising goose bumps. We grunted and fucked as she confessed.

"I came again while he fucked me from behind," she said.

I pulled out and turned her over, putting her on all fours, fucking her like he had. She thrust her hips at me.

"Hold my waist," she moaned.

I did. I knew that's what he had done.

"Harder," she begged. "It's okay. Fuck me like Chris did."

I started to pound her, she sucked air a few times, crawling towards orgasm. I was fucking her the way he had but I knew she felt a difference. That turned me on. How humiliating. I wanted to ask but feared her answer. I felt her pussy tighten around me as her orgasm approached. What had she felt when she gripped him?

"Almost there," she hissed.

I kept going, excited I could make my wife climax the same way he had. Sweat dripped from my face. My abs began to ache. I continued to hammer my wife until she tossed her head back and howled. I could hold off no longer and released along with her, spurting inside her soaked cunt. It was a short orgasm for us both, too wiped out for anything more. My penis shrank and slipped out immediately. I fell to the bed. I was breathing too fast to speak. Kayla dropped to her stomach and did not move. We stayed like that a long time.

"Ey wun yu tu fuk Delphin," Kayla said into the mattress.

"What?" I asked.

She rolled over, staring at the ceiling.

"I want you to fuck Delphine," she said.

Holy shit!

"Thank you," I said calmly, "But I think that's a bad idea."

"No," she insisted. "I'm not telling you it's okay if you want to. I'm saying I want you to do it. I want you to fuck her."

"Why?"

She crossed her arms over her chest.

"I'd feel a lot better about what I've done. I'm feeling a lot of guilt right now. Be honest, after the rush last night, once the morning came, you freaked about what I did. Right? Fuck Delphine and make us even."

"How can two wrongs make things right? Why would you even suggest that?"

She turned her face to me.

"I cheated on you, Brian. I got drunk and fucked another man. We've always prided ourselves on not being that kind of person. We looked down on friends that stumbled, pridefully thinking that would never be us. Guess what? I did it! I fucked another man. There's no way I do that unless I am that kind of person. I've been lying to myself and you."

"I think you're a good person that got carried away. It will never happen again."

She took my hands in hers, staring at her wedding ring. A strange tension began to build. She lifted her eyes to mine, waiting for me to understand, waiting for comprehension to dawn.

"Oh," I said at last.

"Yes," she said.

"You're saying it will happen again."

"I'm saying I want it to. I'm saying it will if you allow it, and I want you to allow it. I thought our marriage was over as I drove home last night. I never dreamed you'd react the way you did. I had no idea you'd spent the night masturbating, fantasizing about me. I was sure you'd be furious and dump me the moment I confessed. But that didn't happen. Far from it. Now that I've had time to think about what happened, and the way it affected you, I know I want it again. I can't wait to have it again. If you say no, I'll accept that. Our marriage will endure. But the truth is I can't wait to fuck him again."

I shivered. Her words sliced right through me. My precious wife wanted Chris. He'd awakened something in her, a wild buried lust, and she wanted more. She wanted him so badly she'd tossed me Delphine like a consolation prize. I was staggered by the implication. Kayla is jealous by nature.

I mulled the idea of banging Delphine. She was young, gorgeous, sexy, and ready. She was eager for me. She was mine to take.

Monday was going to be intense.

"Does . . . he . . . know?" I asked. "Did you tell him about me?"

I couldn't bring myself to say his name. Our bedroom had never heard it. I worried if I spoke his name in here, in our sacred, intimate place, I might summon his spirit, I might cast a hex upon us, upon our marriage. I had a growing sense that Chris would occupy more and more space, that he might come to dominate our marriage. I caught a glimpse of our future and Chris was all over it, Kayla wrapped around his finger, fucking him all over the house. I shook my head.

"He knows I'm married," she said. "But I never mentioned your name. That wasn't planned. It's not like I knew I would end up fucking him so I hide your name. It just never came up during dinner. After, once things started to heat up, I got cautious about revealing you. By the time I was at his place I'd resolved to keep your name secret. No, he does not know I'm married to you."

I relaxed. That would have been terrible.
Monday might not suck after all.

Chapter 10

Monday sucked.

Chris is not stupid. What's the first thing you do after you bring home a hot married babe and spend the whole night fucking her? The next morning you look her up. You visit her Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and anything else you can find on the Internet about her. Chris discovered where she worked, who she was married to, what her favorite dog breed was, and a lot more. I should have seen it coming but I didn't. My mind was all over the place.

I'd been at my office an hour when Rayna called from the front desk. She said I had a visitor and could I please come up front. She wouldn't bother me if it wasn't important so I excused myself from Mrs. Flanders, promising I'd only be gone a moment, and headed to the desk. I stepped through the door and into the lobby, smiling broadly, ready to meet someone special.

"Hey buddy," Chris said, extending a hand.

My skin froze. My blood turned to ice water. Never in all our years of sharing this business suite has he come to my side just to say hello. Today, less than twenty-four hours after fucking my wife, he's stopping by to act friendly? Rayna watched me carefully. I hoped my face behaved but I have no idea what I revealed.

"Hi," I said, shaking his hand.

"I just wanted to say I'm looking forward to our workout tonight. We're going to kickass. I think it's great that you agreed to partner up."

"Um, me too."

"See you then."

He left. Rayna looked at me and raised an eyebrow.

"You and Dr. Costa are friends now?" she scoffed. "Since when?"

"News to me," I answered. "He's probably going to hit me up for a donation to his favorite charity."

"I don't trust that guy," she said.

"I get the same vibe."

"Then why agree to workout with him? He's creepy. When I run into him in the parking lot after work, which is often, he hits on me every time. Every. Time. He runs his eyes over my body like I'm filet mignon. I'm cold as ice but he doesn't care. The guy can't take a hint."

"Tonight at the gym I'll mention you have a boyfriend. Maybe that will back him off. If he knows he has no chance."

"I tried that already. He doesn't care. He just looks me up and down and smiles and acts like he knows I'll come around sooner or later. I never will. No way. He makes me feel like I need a shower."

We watched him disappear into his office.

"He is good looking though," she admitted. "And that body is sweet."

"He's hung like a donkey," I blurted.

I don't know why I said it. An impulse rose and my mouth moved and out those words came. Rayna slowly turned to me. Why the fuck had I tossed that in?

"I've seen him in the shower at the gym," I added, suddenly self-conscious and talking fast. "Talk about filet mignon. The man is packing a shotgun. Probably the biggest dick I've seen in that locker room, and I've seen a lot. They are wagging all over the place."

I needed to shut up. Rayna watched me closely in that way she has. I fought the urge to admit he'd fucked Kayla. I was rambling, stressed out over what my wife had done, stressed out over seeing Chris, hearing him speak, knowing that across town Kayla still carried his seed while he stood there talking to me, had freaked me the fuck out. I wanted to confess everything to my dental assistant. I desperately wanted to vent. Chris had rattled me and I was sure that was his intent. Fucker.

I didn't hang around. I returned to Mrs. Flanders and finished up, retiring to my office to regain my composure. After several minutes the intercom squawked.

"Your next client is here," Rayna announced. "Room four."

I took a deep breath. My hands were shaking, my mouth dry. Fuck that guy. He'd come over purely to mess with my head and succeeded. I'd let him get to me. I calmed myself, focusing on the work at hand. I drank some water and straightened my tie.

I left my office. A short walk and I entered room four.

Delphine smiled from the chair. She wore a tight white crop top and stretchy cotton black mini skirt, already more than halfway up her toned thighs.

"Hello handsome," she chuckled, genuinely happy to see me. "Gas me, Baby."

She leaned back in the chair, anticipating the nose cap.

"You're here for a tightening," I said. "Why would I use gas for that?"

"Cause I like it, Silly." She tapped the tip of her nose. "Come on. Just a little. Pump some into me."

I tried to avoid looking at her incredible body but failed. Her tight clothing showed every curve, every developed swell. She was bursting with youthful sex appeal, radiating attractiveness into the world, broadcasting allure to any who saw her. She was young and stunning and, after an upbringing filled with neglect and inattention, was thoroughly enjoying her new-found sway.

My wife wanted me to fuck this young goddess. How could I refuse?

My head spun. I tore my eyes away and grabbed the nose cap.

"Yes!" she laughed, raising a fist and causing her full breasts to wobble. "Pump me full, Doctor."

Good god. This girl and her innuendo were going to kill me. I pulled a disinfecting wipe from the counter and cleaned the cap, waving it like a Polaroid to help it dry. I turned to Delly and discovered she'd parted her legs several inches.

Her eyes bore into mine. Despite my best efforts to resist, my eyes darted to the triangle of skirt, thighs, and crotch. Boom, no panties today. Soft skin and trimmed landing strip with nothing between my gaze and her treasures. She bit her bottom lip and moved her foot aside another inch, just enough to, finally, reveal the glorious slit that split her hairless labia. I looked away but too late. She'd seen me see her. Her smile faded and the humor left her eyes. Her eyelids fluttered slightly.

"It's okay," she exhaled softly, lips trembling. "You can look. I want you to look."

I looked.

She parted her feet another inch or two apart and sweet Jesus, there she was in all her glory. Her little pussy looked delicious. That I had my wife's permission, no, her insistence, made my heart hammer in my chest. There were a million reasons to stop right here and not take another step down this road, from losing my license to massive public humiliation and shame, to the destruction of my professional reputation, and all of it hanging on the unpredictable nature of youth.

Yet, not one of those reasons stopped me. I gave up trying to control my reaction. I stared at her feminine form from toes to hair. I hit her with the full intensity of what I felt looking at her and she whimpered with gratification.

"Show me more," I growled.

Her eyes lit with excitement. She controlled herself, barely, gathering the soft skirt in her fingers, slowly drawing the hem higher, slowly exposing herself to this older man. She watched me with the same burning intensity I watched her, thrilled she could completely capture my attention, as turned on by exhibitionism as I was by voyeurism. She tilted her hips as her pussy came fully into view, granting me the unobstructed spectacle of her gorgeous flower. A further tilt revealed her puckered asshole.

"Oh god," she murmured, watching my ravenous eyes bore into her.

Without a word from me she tugged her top off her shoulders. Another pull brought the neckline to her nipples. The edges of areolae sent my dick swelling in my pants. A third tug and the stretchy material slid over her nipples and snapped into place under her tits. Her nipples stiffened before my eyes.

"You're breathtaking," I rasped. "I've never seen anything like you."

A shiver of delight raced through her. I was sure every guy had reached for her tits by this point, grabbed at her pussy, climbed all over her like gorillas. She loved my starved gaze feasting on every exposed inch. She loved my mature self-control.

The sexual tension had turned the air thick. Neither of us wanted to break the spell we'd cast. Movement out the window caught my eye and I glanced that way through the blinds: Chris climbed into his Mercedes to leave for lunch. Ha. Who's the stud now, bitch?

"Take a picture of me," Delphine whimpered. "I want to be in your phone. I want you to look at me later."

Her request highlighted our generational differences. I withdrew my phone and opened the camera, gazing at her image on screen. Fucking Hell, the girl was astounding. I snapped a picture and she squirmed.

"Put your hands on your perfect tits," I ordered.

She shivered again, eager to comply, eager to obey.

"Now just one fingertip on each stiff nipple."

She did as she was told. I continued taking pictures.

"You have a pretty pussy," I said, knowing how most girls felt about their genitals. "Gorgeous. Delicious. I can't wait to taste you."

She moaned softly, her expression a mix of shock and desire. I doubted she'd ever heard those words uttered before and she had no idea how to react.

"Has anyone tasted your pussy?"

She shook her head slightly, too hoarse to speak.

Younger men had no idea what to do with a girl like this other than fuck her. I pushed all her buttons.

"Show me your soft pink insides," I murmured. "Open your pussy to me."

"Okay," she whimpered.

She left one trembling hand on her breast and sent the other sliding down her belly. She followed the tidy landing strip to her clit and then her labia, delicate fingertips parting the slit and opening the petals. She was breathing hard as she unsealed her cunt to my burning gaze.

"I'll do anything you say," she confessed, chest heaving.

I burned that sight into my mind forever. Perhaps another moment like this lay in my future but I seriously doubted that. I wanted to carry this memory to my dying day. Her opening was bright pink and fresh. I smelled her arousal. All the tiny folds and ridges reached for me. My dick was stiff down my thigh. I easily imagined that tight cunt wrapped like a vise around my inches. She drew a finger up her slit and rubbed her clit.

"That's enough," I said after a minute. "Play with your tits for me."

Her shapely hands cupped her firm balloon breasts and she strummed her fingers over her nipples without being told. Her breathing now was fast and shallow. I'd snapped pictures and video continuously, panning from her tits to her pussy and back, recording every move of her glorious writhing body.

"Will you jack off to me later?" she groaned.

"Yes," I admitted. "Many times, I'm sure."

Her body sagged. Her mouth opened. I filled my nostrils with the scent of her excitement and breathed deep. I had her wildly turned on and I'd not even touched her.

"Are you going to fuck me?" she pleaded.

I shook my head slowly.

"Yes, but not today," I said.

She was practically panting. Her pussy was soaked. She wanted to protest, to insist I fuck her right now in the exam chair. She wanted my dick, but she enjoyed too much my control over her.

"All right," she whined. "You say when."

Her confident bravado was gone. She did nothing to cover herself and I took more pictures and video. I made her lift her feet and spread her knees and filmed the gentle parting of her pussy lips. Her young cunt glistened and gleamed with excitement. My dick throbbed in my pants, yearning to bury itself inside her steaming pussy. She desperately wanted me to. I was rock hard. All I had to do was unzip and push it in. So simple. I imagined her tight hot cunt enveloping me. I was tempted.

My phone buzzed in my hands. A text balloon popped up.

I'm meeting Chris for lunch, wink, wink. Hope you don't mind. -K

My blood turned to acid. That's why Chris left for lunch! He was going to meet my wife. They were probably together already, Kayla sending me a text as an afterthought.

My mind plunged into a bottomless pit. Delly squirmed in her chair and I stared at her amazing body, knowing at that moment probably Chris did the same with my wife. Without a doubt Kayla already had his big dick in her mouth.

"Do you suck cock?" I asked the sweet young woman before me.

She hesitated and gave a weak nod.

"Not very well," she admitted. "Only my ex-boyfriend. Only a few times."

I kept the camera rolling and unzipped with one hand.

"Get out of the chair and on your knees," I told her. "Don't cover up. Every inch of you is gorgeous."

She hurried but I saw the uncertainty. She lacked experience and she worried she'd do a bad job.

"I'm dying to see my dick in your mouth," I said. "Your face is so beautiful, you won't need to do anything. Just let me look at you sucking my dick."

That helped. She knelt and lifted my lab coat, finding my erection already freed underneath. Her eyes got big and I took comfort knowing I was bigger than her ex. She grabbed me around the base and opened her mouth.

"Slowly," I said. "Kiss the head. Then slide me in and just hold me there. Let me look at my dick in your mouth. I'll want to remember the sight forever."

She puckered her lips and planted them on the tip. I'd been playing to her ego but yeah, that was a moment I'll never forget. Holy shit she was stunning. She parted her lips and took as much as she could and then lifted her eyes up to mine. Somewhere in the city I imagined Kayla doing the exact same thing with Chris and my dick surged diamond hard. Delly thought it was because of her and reached for her pussy, rubbing her clit while sucking my dick. My ego had never been bigger. This sweet creature touched herself because my dick in her mouth turned her on so much.

I wished I could give her my full attention. I wished the only thing in my world right then was my dick in her mouth. But somewhere in our city my wife was getting fucked and that detracted from the moment.

Or perhaps it added to it?

I pictured Kayla pinned against a wall, her work skirt shoved up to her waist, pretty panties around her knees, Chris driving his cock like a battering ram over and over into her dripping cunt. My dick surged even harder.

Delly groaned and rubbed her pussy with one hand and her tits with the other. She was trying to learn how to suck dick on me and it was wonderful. She was terrible at it but that only made it hotter. Teeth scraping never felt so good.

She stopped sucking long enough to ask me again to fuck her but I said no. She pouted but her eyes sparkled. She happily returned to my penis, experimenting with mouth, tongue, and lips. I let her play a while.

"Take me out and squeeze around the base," I said. "Then draw your fist towards the head."

She did and a large drop of milky fluid pooled. She stared at it quizzically.

"That's my sperm," I told her. "That's the essence of me. If you want to make me feel good, if you want to make any man feel good, treat his sperm like honey."

She studied the milky fluid.

"Lick it away," I told her.

She hesitated. Some girlfriends probably warned her that guys' cum tastes terrible. She'd need to get over that.

"We all taste different," I said. "Kayla says mine is almost sweet. Lick that drop away and find out."

She was afraid but did it anyway, pleasantly surprised when reality was far less than her fears. She squeezed another big drop up the tube and licked that away too, grinning, relieved. She had a lot to learn but what an angel. I let her do it a few more times, watching my semen slide down her throat.

"Is there a lot when you cum?" she asked.

"Not really. About a tablespoon or so. You should always swallow what you're given. If a man tastes bad push the head all the way in and let him squirt back there. He'll miss your taste buds and think you're amazing."

I watched her play with my hard dick, squeezing more semen to lick, tracing the veins with her fingertips, pushing me in as far as she could and then rubbing her pussy again. I could let this go on forever but duty called.

"That's all for today," I said, pulling my penis away from her. "We're already running late. Next time make your appointment for five. You'll be my last client of the day. Rayna can leave for home and we can take our time. Fix your clothes and get in the chair. I need to hurry."

She did, her expression like we were insiders together on some secret game. I placed the nose cup and got to work.

Chapter 11

After I finished I sent her away, returning to my office to stare at the message from Kayla. I understood why Chris had said hello this morning. It was probably his idea for Kayla to send her husband a text. My wife did not yet know that Chris knew her husband was me. She sent the message playing along with his game. We thought we'd play him but he was playing us.

He knows, I typed.

I hit send.

I leaned back in my chair. My dick was wet in my pants from Delphine's saliva. My balls ached. I desperately wanted to jack off. What a day. I had three more patients before I got a break. I checked my phone often, hoping for anything from Kayla. It occurred to me that while she'd given me permission with Delphine, she'd indirectly given herself permission for Chris. I usually get several texts from her during our work day, sharing a memory, reminding me of a chore, or just telling me she loves me. I do the same. This utter silence whetted my appetite and drove me crazy. How long was she with him before returning to work?

I never heard from her. Rayna knew something was up but gave me space. I was eager to get home and ask for details but remembered this was a gym night. Then I remembered Chris would meet me there. Rayna told me goodnight and I locked up, setting the alarm. I sent Kayla a text telling her I loved her and I'd see her after the gym.

Chris waited for me by the juice bar, acting like we were old friends. We changed clothes, hit the weights, completed our workout, and headed for the lockers. He was pleasantly conversational the whole time.

At our lockers, I stripped off my sweaty gear and he did too. I sat on the bench to pack my gym bag and he appeared before me, nude, cock in my face, towel draped over a shoulder. I couldn't resist a glance. Had that beast been inside my wife just hours ago? Perhaps she only sucked it. I glanced again, searching for signs of a recent blowjob. The pole just hung there, soft, fat, helmeted, veiny. His hefty penis radiated health and strength. His pubic hair looked as well-tended as a putting green. His balls were oval and clean-shaven. Had Kayla licked them a short time ago?

I turned slightly away. He was careful to keep his cock in my line of sight, moving smoothly from place to place, taking things out of his locker, putting things into his locker, keeping the conversation going and his big dick swinging.

At the showers, he took the stall across from me to keep his display going. He shampooed and at last I could look without risk of getting caught. The hot water made his balls hang lower and turned the veiny skin on the shaft pink. He slathered suds all over, stroked his inches casually, rubbed and squeezed. When he rinsed he was noticeably bigger. I pulled my gaze away too late and he caught me looking.

"I'm seeing this woman now," he said conversationally. "I just met her. She's married but god, what a freak. She's insatiable."

He grabbed his dick at the base, thumb digging into closely trimmed pubic hair, and lifted, showing me his prized weapon.

"She says she's never been with a man like me and wow, she loves it. She was a little bushy and I'm not into that. I told her to get a Brazilian wax because I wanted to see my cock slide in and she did this morning on a break. Her pussy was slick as glass when we met for lunch. I spent more than an hour fucking the shit out of her."

"Sounds hot," I muttered.

Fucking head games. Asshole.

"She feels guilty though," he continued. "She hates doing it behind her man's back. I asked her if he knows what she's doing and she said yes. Can you believe it? So then I suggested he be in the room with us and watch. He sounds kinky to me, maybe he'll go for it. I think he'd like that. What do you think? Is that something a husband would like to see?"

I shrugged. I could barely breathe. Could I handle that? I thought I might die. It took all my energy and self-control to remain casual, like I had no idea he was talking about me and Kayla. We both knew he was but clung to this bizarre charade, neither wanting to be the guy that broke.

"Invite him," I rasped. I cleared my throat. "Try it and see. What's the harm? If he hates it he can always go to another room or even leave the house altogether. He's not forced to watch. You're not going to tie him to a chair, are you?"

I was telling him how to do it. I was giving him directions on how to fuck my wife in front of me. My legs were trembling and not from the workout.

"Good idea," he chuckled. "But I'll have his wife invite him instead of me. That way she can answer any questions he may have, and I'm sure he'll have plenty. Also, it's hot for the wife to invite the husband to her breeding, don't you agree?"

I gave him a weak nod. Breeding.

We finished and dried and then left the shower area. At our lockers again, he was sure to stick his cock in my personal space. The clean skin gleamed. I considered how much sperm balls that big must carry. I bet he released a flood of semen. My throat was constricted so I kept conversation to a minimum, eager to get the hell out of there.

At last we were dressed and I said goodnight. I began texting Kayla the instant Chris and I parted. I sent four or five messages in rapid succession, each completely ignored by my wife. I drove home fast.

Kayla wasn't in the living room or the kitchen so I headed for the bedroom. I found her, waiting for me, on her back on our bed, nude, legs crossed.

"Open them," I barked.

She was coy.

"Do it," I pleaded.

The blood in my veins flowed like battery acid. She took an eternity to do as I asked. She studied my face as she uncrossed her ankles, a teasing smile playing with her mouth. Her legs spread. With each inch, I saw nothing but bare flesh. Then I saw bare vulva. Then I saw her bald slit, skin smooth as a pink billiard ball.

"You waxed," I said.

"Good guess."

I hurried to undress, blood boiling, penis growing.

"I'm going to fuck you," I said.

She grinned.

"Baby," she said. "I've been fucked. We can check that one off the list. What I need right now is to be eaten. My tender pussy needs your loving tongue."

She continued opening her legs, spreading wide until her ankles slipped off the edges of our mattress. Her glittering pussy beckoned me. I knew Chris had been in there and that crushed my soul but also brought my dick to full attention. Had he told the truth? Was Kayla insatiable for him? I shed the last of my clothes, standing naked with a raging hard on before my freshly fucked wife. She slipped a hand down her belly to spread her pussy lips farther apart, a question in her eyes: would I do as she asked, knowing what she'd done?

I wondered briefly if Chris had put her up to this? Was this a game he played?

"Please?" she murmured.

I crawled onto the bed. We didn't even kiss. I moved between her legs and licked the offered cunt. I tasted him but also tasted her wetness, her excitement. But this wasn't about what I tasted, this was all about what she'd done, and this well-fucked pussy removed all doubt. She'd unquestionably, undeniably, irrefutably cheated on me. Again. The idea was inconceivable just days ago. Now her leaking pussy stared me in the face. My head filled with roaring madness, my dick pulsed with need. I licked and sucked, jerking off at the same time I ate my wife's unfaithful pussy. Some men would explode with fury. Some men would break down, crying, wailing about love lost.

I got hard.

I finger-fucked her sopping cunt, listening to her grateful moans. I pushed a wet finger up her ass and pumped, devouring her clit the way I knew she loved. I made my wife cum with a quivering uterus full of another man's sperm. I crawled my knees closer, bowing my back, eating her pussy while jerking off. I wanted her to see me. She lifted her head and watched what I did and filled our bedroom with a deep moan.

We were different people now. In less than two days we'd transformed into somebody else. You never know who you are in any situation until you're in that situation. We like to think we're brave. We like to think we're smart. In truth, we have no idea. Kayla and I had fooled ourselves for years.

She was gushing. She'd pulled a pillow behind her head to watch me. She'd been unfaithful, fucking her fantasy man twice, and here I was jacking off to it. I caught a glimpse of how thrilling all this must be for her. Her gaze moved to my sliding hand, watching in amazement as I beat my meat. I curled my hips under to give her the best view possible. Let her see everything, I thought. Let her scrutinize her husband as he jacks off to her corrupt and adulterous pussy. Let her watch me spurt wasted cum. I pumped my fist and gave her a show, stopping long enough to hold my erection up for her to see.

"That's so hot, Baby," she said.

I started stroking again and her eyes returned to my hand. I don't know what she was thinking but she was clearly turned on. I licked faster.

"Are you going to cum?" she asked, breathless.

"Yes."

Her expression began to twist. A long, low moan escaped her lips. Her pussy tightened around my finger and I licked even faster and another strong orgasm began to shake her. That got to me. My nuts clenched and I groaned into her cunt, spurting hot jizz all over her feet and legs. I shot and shot and shot, my mind reeling. Kayla saw the fluid leave my penis and groaned loudly, writhing in ecstasy.

After the last jet erupted and my empty balls had no more to give, I turned and dropped on the bed next to her. We put our heads together and closed our eyes, savoring the pleasant tingling sensations running through us.

"Is this a dream?" Kayla asked, taking my sticky hand.

"It feels that way at times."

"Everything changed so quickly," she said. "Sex went from something we thought about occasionally to center stage overnight."

I turned on my side to face her.

"That tells me it was there all along, waiting for us."

We regarded each other silently for a minute.

"Do you like my haircut?" she asked.

I glanced at the hair on her head before realizing what she meant.

"I love it. Your pussy is pretty. I worked out with Chris after I closed the office and he said a lot. I knew what to expect when I got home."

"He's a bastard," she said, smiling.

I got a hint she meant more than what she'd said, like she was referring to how he is in bed too. My heart fluttered. Kayla squeezed my hand and I sensed she had something important to say.

"Would you like to watch him fuck me?" she asked, hopeful. "Could you stand being in the same room?"

I tried to swallow and failed. I tried to breathe and failed. Chris had said this would happen. My wife was inviting me to join them but not truly join them. My imagination over these last few days had been pure torture. Reality would be worse. Could I watch his veiny cock sink into her body without losing my mind? Would that big cock make me scream as she screamed? My face must have looked tormented because Kayla softly stroked my hair.

"I'd love it if you could," she added.

"What does he do to you?" I asked.

She was thoughtful, remembering.

"He loves fucking me," she said. "I mean it. He grows hard as marble just looking at me. He comes alive. His face lights up, his eyes turn intense, his skin goes feverish. His caresses are slow, enjoying every second his hands touch me."

I'd heard enough. I made a mistake asking about him so I quickly changed to her.

"Let me rephrase that," I said. "What does he do for you?"

Her eyes turned dreamy.

"Brian, you know how I love sucking dick and my mouth just waters for his. He's too thick to take much and that's frustrating, but there's a tradeoff because I love the feel of his weight in my hand, the ache he puts in my jaw, even the sight of him just hanging there like a fat pink firehose. All that turns me on so much. I lock eyes with him when I first begin. It's so hot. I love sucking his cock, Honey. I'm always eager because I know once I get him hard he'll fuck me and that frustrating thickness will feel amazing. His cock feels incredible. It's so easy to cum on him. I never cared about how big a man was but that's because I'd never experienced a man like him. I didn't know what I was missing. He's handsome and muscular, and those are a big bonus, but honestly, Baby, I'm obsessed with his dick."

I'd wondered why Chris made such an effort to keep his penis in my face at the gym and now I knew. He'd seen Kayla's enthusiasm. He knew she and I would talk. He wanted me to have his cock firmly in mind when my wife told me about her time with him and raved about how well he fucks her. A strange sense came over me, like I was a guest in my own marriage, like I was an outsider to my own wife.

"Why do you want me there?" I asked.

She wiggled closer.

"Because that would make everything perfect," she said. "I feel a touch of guilt when I'm with him. If you were there we'd be doing it together, as a couple."

"But is that true? Would we be doing it as a couple? How much would I participate? Would both Chris and I have sex with you?"

She turned timid and coy. I had my answer. She wanted me there but not in the bed with them. This was her thing, not our thing. Throwing me Delphine hadn't been enough, especially since I'd not fucked the girl. Kayla still felt remorse. But if I was in the room then nothing was behind my back. She was free.

I'm so twisted. She wanted Chris so badly she was willing to risk my psyche to have him, she was willing to risk having me in the room and what that might do to me to fuck him without shame. Her desire for him turned me on. The bigger slut she was, the more I liked it. I imagined the three of us in Chris's bedroom, me in a chair by the bed.

"You'd just watch," she said. "We can have our fun after he leaves. We can sleep in the next day, lounge around, make love talking about the night before."

"Wait," I said. "What do you mean? Where is this imaginary threesome taking place?"

"Here," she said, her hand making a sweeping gesture. "At our house. In our bedroom."

"Oh," I said. I looked at the bedspread and then around at the furnishings of our bedroom, seeing them as if I was Chris. I pictured him standing by the window, looking at Kayla on the bed. "You'd invite him into our home? You'd invite him into this bed, our bed, in our bedroom?"

"Familiar surroundings would be better than some anonymous hotel. I went to his place the first time and the motel by the airport the second. Bringing him into our bedroom would be so hot."

I sent my gaze around our room again: an abstract painting Kayla did our first year of marriage. Photographs I took on our many trips to San Francisco, framed and hanging. The custom wall color and carpet we'd picked out together. The eclectic mix of individual pieces of furniture. Chris would see it all. He wouldn't just be inside my wife; he'd be inside my head. I'd be laid bare, split open. Chris would corrupt my woman and corrupt my place in the universe.

Kayla watched my eyes move around our bedroom and read my mind.

"This room will never be the same," she murmured. "This bed, our bed, will be forever changed. We'll never forget Chris fucking me here. Just think what this will do for our sex life. Look at what this has already done for our sex life."

My shrunken penis began to unfurl. My temperature began to climb. She was right. We'd had more sex since this all started than we'd had in the previous six months.

"If he fucks me in our bedroom," she concluded, "he will be deeper than my cervix. His cock will be buried in the heart of our marriage."

My dick expanded and inched across the comforter. Kayla noticed but said nothing. Instead, she scooted her hips around and aimed her pussy at my face. She was wet all around her opening, shiny and slick. I knew what she wanted. I leaned forward and kissed her cunt, slipping my tongue inside again. She moaned softly, playing with my hair. I began to stroke my dick with one hand while spreading her labia with the other. She was raw, pink and tender, so I was extra soft and gentle.

I worshipped her pussy more than ate it: kissing, nibbling, teasing her clit, nudging her towards another climax but not attacking like before. I took my time, jerking off to the knowledge her tainted cunt was filled with seed but none of it mine. The erotic charge I got from that truth turned my dick to rock again.

I would take a long time to ejaculate, adoring her slit until I did. Her cries of climax are what finally put me over the edge. When my orgasm hit, I raised up, shooting cum all over her vulva, doubly aroused by the layer of rejection: he was inside, swimming freely. I sprayed my load on the outside, wasted, denied admittance. I couldn't understand why that excited me so much and I still don't, but my vision spun as I turned dizzy with lust. She was mine, but she was his.

Chapter 12

I texted Kayla I'd be home late. Really late. I'd not seen my best friend Randy for several weeks and I needed to catch up. I was meeting him after work for drinks and football on the big screen. Kayla answered she understood.

I'd thought a lot about it. I needed someone to talk to about what was happening in my life and Randy was the perfect guy. We'd been best friends since grade school, sharing every life event two guys can share. I was the best man at his wedding, there for him when they miscarried their baby, and stood by him during his messy divorce. I could tell him everything and he'd listen and not judge.

We met at the pub by my house and settled in. Hours passed. We drank, watched football, talked about life and work and relationships.

Eventually, I got around to recent events.

He was shocked but not disapproving, listening intently and asking lots of questions. We drank more, a lot more, and had a blast. When we were ready to leave, I realized we'd had too much and called an Uber to give us a ride. Randy would crash on my couch like he's done a million times.

We arrived without incident. I grabbed a sheet and pillow from the hall closet and tucked him in before staggering off to bed. I detoured to hit the bathroom first, using the guest bath to avoid waking Kayla. I removed my shoes and clothes, fumbling at buttons and laces, until I wore only boxers and socks. Then, since I was so close to the floor anyway, had the brilliant idea, or at least my inebriated mind thought it brilliant, to lie down for just a minute to rest my fuzzy eyes. The bathroom rugs were nice and thick, perfect for a quick rest.

I awoke with stiff arms and a bent neck. I left my clothes where they were and headed for bed, stopping in the dark and silent kitchen for a glass of water. I heard a soft thump.

The door to the master bedroom opened at the end of the hallway, the room beyond illuminated by bluish light from the television. Kayla emerged dressed in the flimsiest of lingerie, see-through under her armpits and the gap between her legs. She'd planned a sexy surprise for me when I got home.

She couldn't see me but I saw her perfectly. Her tits looked spectacular. I saw the perfect spilt of her bald pussy. She looked down the hall, anticipating me coming to bed. She must have heard a noise and decided to investigate what was taking me so long. She left the doorway, padding quietly down the hall, heavy tits swaying.

She entered the living room and spotted a body on the couch. She whispered my name. Sleeping Randy did not respond. She moved closer, feeling her way in the darkness, leaving the glow from the television behind, pupils still too small to see in the faint light.

It was warm in our home. Kayla had set the thermostat high while I was out. Like me, Randy had chosen to sleep in boxers and the heat had caused him to push the sheet to his knees. My befuddled brain began to calculate but only slowly, like I was drugged, which, technically, I was. Kayla knelt by the couch, thinking he was me, thinking I'd taken the couch rather than wake her.

"You sweet, thoughtful man," she whispered.

Her delicate fingers slipped through the fly of his boxers, withdrawing his soft penis. I stood frozen, paralyzed by what I witnessed. Kayla opened her mouth wide, descending on his prick like a shark. Hard vacuum sucked him in and her head began a slow bob, stretching his shaft before gobbling him up again. I rolled my lips in over my teeth and bit down. Holy Mother of God. Kayla was sucking Randy.

He was drunk and half unconscious but his dick wasn't. He grew, turning pudgy and lengthening, and Kayla bobbed faster and sucked harder.

Randy stirred to life, not fully awake but awake enough to know what was being done to him. He leered at Kayla and then glanced around to make sure they were alone. I saw it on his face: he assumed I'd gone to bed and this was something Kayla just did to guys now, or maybe I'd sent her out to him as a thoughtful gesture.

Randy laid his head back and watched, growing harder by the second. Kayla was too involved to look at his face. The woman loves to suck dick. Randy was quickly hard. He guided her head with one hand, which also prevented her from looking up at him, while he palmed her big tits with the other. His hips began a gentle up and down, fucking my wife's mouth. My best friend intended to shoot his load in there.

I hoped he did. I wanted to see that.

Kayla added her hands to his penis. One stroked his length and the other slipped up the leg of his boxers to fiddle with his balls. My wife was sucking my best friend's cock and my dick was rising. I drew my shaft through my boxer's fly too, casually stroking as I watched.

Kayla abruptly stopped, holding the head in her mouth, debating her next move. Decision made, she climbed onto the couch, holding him upright by the head, fingertips spaced around the flared helmet. She straddled him, one foot on the couch, the other on the floor. Lucky for him the darkness kept her focused on aiming his dick, lining him up and then sinking her hot cunt all the way down. They both groaned and Randy grabbed her behind the neck and pulled, burying her face in his neck, pretending to hold her but also keeping his identity secret. He thrust up into her, fucking my wife in our living room.

I stroked my tingling dick. Her asshole and stretched pussy were aimed right at me, the nightlight next to the refrigerator providing just enough illumination to see. He was about the same length as me but thicker and I wondered if Kayla noticed the difference. Probably, but just attributed it to the awkward angle on our couch. My friend's dick was so hard it looked ready to burst. I stared at his furry balls and reality slapped my face:

he knew who he fucked but she didn't. Would he inseminate my wife? Would he use my confession tonight to rationalize cumming in her?

I wanted him to. Once done, the act could never be undone. Randy will always have had my wife. My mind leaped ahead to birthdays and Christmas dinners, summer barbecues and celebrations: every time we got together I'd look at him and remember that hard dick thrusting.

The idea hurt but felt good.

She tried to lift her head to kiss but he held her tight. He fucked into her, stabbing hard, making her groan. He was pulling her hair when she came on him, moaning and gasping. I heard the messy sloshing of her wetness as his cock churned her cunt.

I let go of my dick. It was that or climax and I had plans of fucking her once I got to bed. Her orgasm lasted a long time and then Randy started thrusting hard, burying his cock and holding it deep for a second before smashing it home again. Soon he plunged and held, groaning as his sperm flowed, as his semen pumped out of his balls and into her. I witnessed his balls rise and separate, snug to the base of his dick as he shot. I understood this moment is what it's all about. Every look, every touch, every kiss, every blowjob, every thrust: all of it was just foreplay to this intense and incredible moment. Randy shot his sperm into Kayla and I barely withheld my orgasm. This was what I craved most, this was what excited me the most. I already yearned for Chris to fill her again. Other men would ejaculate inside my wife and I'd grow hard as glass.

They laid like that a few minutes and then she mumbled something. He let her head rise. She saw his face and covered her mouth, then covered her face with both hands. He placed a finger over his lips, silencing her. She punched his chest, hard, then wagged a finger in his face. I saw she wasn't truly angry. I guess it's hard to be furious after an orgasm like that. He chuckled. She tried to rise, pulling her cunt up his shaft, but he pulled her down again, sliding his cock all the way in. He pushed on the small of her back, forcing his spongy cock balls deep. Semen leaked all around his meat.

After a while, he allowed her to rise. She pulled herself off, the sloppy tube landing with a splat on his belly. Sperm dribbled from her slit to his leg. Semen ran down her thighs. She wagged a finger at him again but he was drunk and didn't care. She gathered her lingerie close, lifting her tits back inside and adjusting the sheer material, and marched to our bedroom.

I silently returned to the guest bath. I ran water in the sink and flushed the toilet, giving them time to locate me and calm themselves. I gave Kayla time to get back into bed. I collected my clothes and left.

Randy was already snoring.

I entered the bedroom and closed the door. Kayla yawned, pretending.

"Are you awake?" I whispered.

"You just woke me," she purred, lying.

"I'm sorry. I tried to be quiet. We drank too much. I have Randy sleeping on the couch. I'm sure you don't want him to see you naked so be careful if you go out there."

"Okay."

I dropped my boxers to the floor. My erection had mostly faded but the sexual tension in my dick and balls was worse than ever. I slipped under the covers. She snuggled close, throwing an arm across my chest.

"Did you guys have fun?" she asked.

"Yes. It was good to see him again. We drank too much."

"You already said that. I'm glad he didn't drive."

I was dying. I struggled to think of a way to initiate sex and then I realized I could use my buzz as an excuse in the morning. I ran my fingers into her hair.

"Suck my dick," I ordered, adding a slight drunken slur to my words.

I thought she might be satisfied after Randy and ready for sleep, but Kayla swooped like a predator. Sex with Randy only made her hotter. Her wet mouth engulfed me, a strong vacuum pulling on the sperm stored in my nuts. I got hard fast. That turned her on more. She surprised me by sliding her lips to the root of my dick without hesitation. The heat and the wet felt fantastic. She sucked hard while she held me there, tugging semen partially up the shaft. I was going to cum fast and hard.

"Fuck me," she said, her voice hoarse with emotion.

"Get on top."

"No," she protested, pulling me into a missionary position. "Like this."

She did it to prevent Randy's cum from dripping all over my crotch. Her practiced cleverness excited me more. She'd adapted to this life like a bird to the air. I looked down at our hips and aimed. My dick was cast iron as I sank into her steaming cunt, fucking her through my friend's soup.

"You're soaked," I teased.

"I was dreaming of dick," she said.

I pushed all the way in and made the head flare. She shuddered, moaning softly.

"Mine?" I asked, making my tone snide. "Or Chris's?"

She groaned. Just the mention of his name was enough to trigger her. My dick turned into pure diamond and I began to pump in and out. She was incredibly slippery and I had to fuck her hard to maintain sensation. I waited a moment and when she did not answer I asked again.

"Were you dreaming of your husband's dick?" I asked. "Or Chris's?"

"Chrisssss," she groaned.

Every muscle of my body suddenly clenched. I blew a huge jet of sperm inside her, shocked by my spontaneous climax. She tightened her pussy around my shaft and I let the other jets fly. The alcohol numbed the sensations but it felt good to drain my nuts. I loved that I was adding mine to Randy's. I bet Kayla got off on that too.

Chapter 13

I had just started reviewing tapes when I saw it: Rayna, leaving the building at the same time as Chris, as she'd mentioned often happens, and walking and talking with him to his car. After a moment, he opened the passenger door and she climbed in, unsure of herself. He hurried around to the driver's side and joined her. I zoomed the lens, watching as they laughed and conversed. They stopped, gazing at each other.

"No," I murmured.

His arms and shoulders moved.

"No," I whispered.

Her gaze tilted towards his lap.

"No," I said. "No, no, no."

Rayna's head bent over his seat. He leaned back a bit and her head and torso began to rise and fall. The same cock that enjoyed my wife was now enjoying my employee. What happened? Rayna can't stand the man. I hit slow-motion and watched Rayna perform. That would be only the second penis she's ever touched. Her boyfriend only took her nerdy virginity a month ago. Now she had Chris in her mouth.

The man was everywhere in my life. Chris held my wife in the palm of his hand, had infiltrated my gym, had stolen my assistant, and would soon invade my bedroom. In a matter of days, he'd gone from the occasional annoying business neighbor to an ever-present super villain.

My mind jumped to a comment Kayla had made this morning before work. She'd arranged a barbecue for Saturday and invited all our friends, then thought what-the-heck and tossed Chris on the list too.

Randy would be there.

Chris and Randy would meet.

My best friend would meet the man I'd confessed was fucking my wife. I never intended for that to happen. I did not want Randy to place a face with a name.

Kayla decided on a party because she thought it would be exciting to let the tension build all day. After the other guests left, Chris would hang around.

"When the time is right," she'd said. "The three of us move to our bedroom."

Rayna was invited to the barbecue too.

I hit rewind to watch Rayna climb into the car again. I watched her head drop into his lap. I pictured her face. I pictured her mouth, filled, her lips running up and down his length. So many people in my home at the same time, but only I would know how they were all connected to each other.

I hurried through the remaining tapes, discovering Rayna sucked off Chris three times last week, the most recent only yesterday.

Yesterday was her boyfriend's birthday.

I sighed. I erased the tapes and locked up, remembered to set the alarm. I stopped by the grocery store on the way home and grabbed a basket. As I turned onto the meat aisle, I saw Delphine ahead, walking hand in hand with her boyfriend. Yes, the boyfriend she said she broke up with, the boyfriend she said was dumb, the boyfriend she said paid too little attention, the boyfriend who lacked ambition, the boyfriend who'd caught her making out with his friends.

That boyfriend.

They were lovebirds, public affection making it obvious they were not only together, but that she'd never broken up with him. There was no resentment, no holding back. Delly had sucked my dick while in a relationship, made out with his friends while in a relationship. Were all women sluts deep down? Delphine had pursued new cock, just like my wife. Were all women masters at keeping secrets? Men were free to brag. Women kept things hidden.

I hurried to the end of the row and looped around, feigning surprise when I bumped into them. She panicked for an instant but relaxed when it became obvious I was willing to play her game. We chatted a while and he had no idea. She introduced him as Curt and gave me a look that said she wanted to fuck me right there on the floor for being so cool about things. She got more aroused because we were pulling a fast one on her boyfriend. On impulse, I invited them both to our barbecue. Chris would have a heap of babes to pick from. They accepted and we parted. I finished shopping and went home.

The rest of the week passed uneventfully. As Saturday drew closer, my nervous energy grew. I worked out with Chris on Wednesday and again on Friday and he was sure to keep his dick in my face at every opportunity. He showered across from me both times. This was pure psychological warfare. By Friday I was openly staring at his big sudsy dick. He saw me and chuckled.

"That woman I told you about?" he said, continuing his charade. "I've been seeing her every day for lunch. She loves to suck cock but I'm a lot bigger than what she's used to. She's been practicing on me, determined to get the whole thing in her mouth and down her throat. Lucky me, right? She gags but doesn't care. It's beautiful."

I heard the ring of truth. Kayla had responded to few of my texts all week. She'd been meeting Chris in secret.

"Tomorrow, I'm going to fuck her in front of her husband for the first time," he said, watching my reaction. "She says she doesn't want him to participate. He's going to sit and watch."

Staring at the cock that fucks my wife, listening to him talk about her blowjobs, and anticipating the events of tomorrow all proved too much. My dick started to swell. This is a supremely uncomfortable event while in a men's locker room. Chris noticed and grinned.

"I think her husband gets off on the idea," he stated, looking directly at my swelling dick. "But maybe that's because he's never actually seen her fuck. Maybe he just likes the idea. Tomorrow we'll see how much he likes reality. We don't use condoms. I offered the night we had our first time but she said no. She said she wanted to know I was truly inside her. Skin on skin, she said. I said fine, I'm not the one getting pregnant. I think that turned her on even more."

This son of a bitch had my dick pointing at the high ceiling. Goddamn it. I hid it from other guys, turning my hips away or holding my washcloth just so, but Chris saw plenty. I expected him to say something, to insult me by comparing our size, but he didn't. I guess he knew he didn't need to. We both knew the truth and we knew the other guy knew it. He faced the spray of water and rinsed all the soap down the drain, leaving his body gleaming. The hot water had his big balls hanging low, stretched scrotum smooth as glass. Maybe it was the angle or just the way they were hanging, but each of his oval testicles looked bigger than a hen's egg.

Chapter 14

Saturday dawned sunny and hot. The catering company set up tarps and drink stations. The barbecue truck smelled fantastic. People showed up early and Kayla and I were soon running around, attending to details. We have an inground pool and set most of the chairs around it, under the tarps. I set up some on the patio and some under the trees. Kayla got out the croquet equipment, a fake putting green, and several other lawn games. The kegs arrived. Everything fell into place.

The crowd grew. Delphine caused a stir when she showed up with her boyfriend and took off her wrap. Gods, what a physique. She'd worn a microscopic bikini underneath and that insane body was spilling out everywhere. Wives were not pleased.

They got over it when Chris arrived. I began to watch Kayla like a hawk but she played it cool. Randy saw through her pretense, raising a red plastic cup of beer to toast me across the lawn. He'd said he didn't judge, and I believe that, but he also didn't understand. He watched Chris and Kayla and imagined them together and then would turn his gaze on me. Neither he nor Kayla knew I knew about that night. I'd said nothing. But when Randy imagined Chris with Kayla, he knew what fucking my wife felt like.

Rayna showed up with her dogs, two big goofy yellow labs. Our yard is fenced so I told her to turn them loose. They were crazy for half an hour and then discovered people would feed them. After that they were glued to the tables.

I saw Chris sip a beer and look around our yard with a hunter's eye. Rayna, Delphine, Kayla, and a host of other wives and girlfriends: the man saw them all as potential partners. His eyes lingered longest on my wife and I felt a perverse pride. Kayla saw Delly and froze for half a second, scrutinizing every inch of the hot little ingénue, and then turned murderous eyes on me. I shrugged and smiled. She inspected Delphine again and then recovered, giving me a little wave.

Kayla was right: we had the whole day for sexual tension to build. My nuts tightened every time I caught her and Chris speaking, which was a lot. Kayla kept an eye on him like I kept an eye on her.

My wife started the day in a loose top and jeans but once she saw how much skin the other women were showing, especially Delphine, Kayla changed into her one-piece bathing suit and wrapped a loose sarong around her hips. The suit had big sections cut-out, showing her back down to her ass and all around her tits. As the day got hotter and more alcohol was consumed, more women shed clothes. There were neighbors with great bodies whom I'd never even noticed before.

It was just before noon when I observed Chris and Kayla were missing at the same time. I made a show of checking ice levels in the coolers and grabbed a bucket, heading for the garage. I looped around and slipped into the kitchen, listening closely, on high alert. I heard a soft moan from our bedroom so I crept that way.

They were just outside the master bath. Chris had changed into his swimming trunks and Kayla had intercepted him. My wife sat on her heels, her hands clasped behind her butt. Chris had his cock hanging out and Kayla had taken him into her mouth and was now trying to capture as many inches as she could.

My heart stopped.

My mind lurched.

Nothing had prepared me for this. My wife had shared details. My mind had created many images. I'd spent hours fantasizing, picturing scenes exactly like this.

None of that came close to reality. I saw how she'd spent her lunch hours. No wonder she'd stopped responding to my texts.

Chris rested his fists on his hips and gazed down at my woman, her head rotating slightly and her throat contracting. She was working him ever deeper, like a snake swallowing a snake. I should have known that a woman who loves sucking cock as much as she would never settle for below-average blowjobs. She'd met him for lunch every day, practicing, struggling, learning, improving.

Kayla moved to her knees, one hand pulling her swimsuit aside, the other playing with her pussy. She'd taken a surprising amount of his thick cock but wanted more. I was sure there was no way but as I watched she worked him deeper. Her lips continued to climb his root, inching forward slowly, until at last they sealed firmly around the base. Her nose was smashed in his sparse pubic hair, her throat bulged. He took a step backward, teasing her, and she eagerly crawled forward, desperate to keep his dick buried in her mouth. She breathed through her nose. He took more slow steps backward and my wife moved with him, their only point of contact his penis down her throat. His cock was a bridge of flesh connecting them. He was taunting her, illustrating to them both how frantic she was to suck him, to serve him. I saw the dynamics of their relationship perfectly illustrated.

He moved his hands to the back of her head and held her there. I saw my wife swallow over and over, using the muscles in her throat to massage his cock. She was masturbating fast now, thrilled to have him lodged in her gullet. His cock stuffing her esophagus turned her on. He was mostly soft but even so, the head had to be beyond her tonsils. She kept him there, rubbing her pussy until she groaned and orgasmed. The act was so erotically submissive I got hard. My wife just wanted to cum with his cock wedged down her throat. Her subservience turned me on.

Chris gazed down at my wife and grinned, master and slave. It was raunchy. It was lewd. It was vulgar. It revealed there were parts of Kayla I knew nothing about, but with which Chris was familiar. He brought things out of her I didn't. He made her feel things I couldn't. It was threatening, intimidating, and made me jealous, but my hard dick was proof which emotion ruled me.

I slipped away unseen. My last glimpse was Chris withdrawing his slippery cock and stuffing it into his trunks. My wife had climaxed but not Chris. That seemed odd until I realized they were saving his. Kayla wanted to drive him wild all day. They were delaying his orgasm so he could have it in front of me.

My dick was on fire. I left that scene and returned with ice, filling the coolers, but my whole body ached with need. Kayla and Chris discreetly exited the house from different directions.

The day wore on. Clients stopped by and left or stayed a while, neighbors came and went. Rayna and her boyfriend took her dogs for a walk. Delphine and her boyfriend managed to sneak some booze and soon became quite public with their affections. Everyone had a blast.

After sunset, the crowd began to thin. Small groups formed here and there. Drinks continued to flow. The darkness gave Chris and Kayla greater opportunity and the alcohol made them bold. I saw them kissing a few times and feeling each other up. I know if I caught them, others probably did too. I found a subtle arousal in my neighbors suspecting Kayla was cheating on me. I wondered if any husbands from our community would take that as a sign they had a chance and make a move on my wife.

Randy, again, drank too much and wandered off to crash in the guest bedroom. The party shrank until only a few guests remained, stragglers with nowhere else to go and nothing to do. Kayla caught my eye and jerked her chin towards the house, walking that way, taking the long route. There were still too many people hanging around for us to start our escapade so I wasn't sure what she meant. I followed a minute later.

The house was dark. I wove my way through, checking rooms, until I came to our bedroom door. I heard voices. I opened the door and quickly stepped through, closing it behind me and flipping the lock.

Naked Chris laid on his back. Kayla leaned over his rippled stomach, both hands held his cock up. She stroked from base to head. Her drooling mouth slobbered over his dick, sucking the head, licking the shaft with a broad tongue, glazing his balls.

I saw her wedding ring gliding up and down his bulging, veiny cock and all the air left my lungs. I almost toppled. I saw her sweet lips mold to take his shape, stretch to engulf the head, slide across the ridges along his shaft. I saw her work the tip of her tongue into his pee hole. I saw the look of wicked joy in her eyes. I saw my wife's familiar face sucking cock like I had so often, but now, and for the first time, it was Chris's big dick waving before her. I'd seen her suck off Randy but he's about my size. This was something wildly different. I don't know why it mattered to me but it did. Chris's size changed everything. This was a fantasy turned real. Kayla was so different with him. Different from her times with me and even different from her time with Randy.

Kayla was defenseless before this man, this well-hung stud.

I leaned against the wall to steady myself.

I dimly became aware of other shapes. There were people in the room with us. Behind my wife Delphine sat on the edge of the bed, her back to Kayla and Chris. Her boyfriend stood in front of her. She sucked his penis but either the alcohol he'd consumed or the intensity of the situation kept him soft as cooked spaghetti. She tried to excite him, pulling the string behind her neck and allowing her spectacular tits to tumble free from her bikini, but that only made things worse. There was no saving him. Her boyfriend was as soft as Cool Whip. He looked panicked and stressed and overwhelmed. I wondered what strange series of events had led to Delphine and her boyfriend being in this room with my wife and her lover.

Chris grew harder as I watched. Kayla sucked his cock while gazing into my eyes. Her hands slowed, drawing out each stroke, teasing me. She cupped his big balls in one hand, lifting them to give me a perfect view, his smooth leathery pouch filling her palm and spilling over the sides. Those veiny orbs struck fear in me. I knew the load they carried was huge. My gut told me Chris had held off a day or two so his copious ejaculate would be extra impressive. Kayla grinned wickedly and kissed his testicles.

These will empty in me tonight, her eyes said.

The day had been fun and filled with tension but all that had taken a toll. Kayla was impatient now, tired of waiting. I was nervous about who remained at our home, who might suspect what happened behind closed doors, but forgot about them when Kayla put her back to Chris, moving into a reverse-cowgirl. Her knees swung wide and I saw his meaty pole primed in front of her empty cunt. She balanced with one hand on his muscular chest while the other found his erection. She pressed his shaft to her labia with a palm.

With her eyes still locked on mine, she lifted a little and nudged him backward. Her pussy lips parted, wrapping his head like a wet towel. She smiled and relaxed her legs, sinking onto his spike. Her head rolled at his thick intrusion. She drew her feet closer, stuffed cunt sinking down his meat. His cock looked huge, wide and solid. The thick tube which ran along the underside rubbed her clit as he inched deeper.

Unaware, Delly felt the bed moving behind her and turned to watch, her man's dick like a floppy wet washcloth in her hand. She saw that large cock penetrating my wife and her eyes filled with disbelief. She swung her gaze to me, looking me up and down, reworking her assessment of me as a man. I expected scorn but saw delight. She released her failed boyfriend, abandoning him and his limp dick, and crawled onto the bed, burrowing her face between Chris's thighs to lick his big balls. Her boyfriend turned to me, eyes pleading for help. Like a ballerina, Kayla rose on her toes, giving Delly more room. My wife pumped her hips up and down, polishing Chris's pole. Delly quickly slipped off her bikini bottoms and dropped them to the floor, her boyfriend utterly forgotten. She buried her face again where Chris and Kayla melted into one and Chris moaned appreciatively.

I moved to stand next to the forlorn young Curt.

"He stole my woman too," I said.

"She's done this before," he whined. "Not as bad as this but bad. I forgave her because she promised it would never happen again. Now look at her."

I did. Naked Delly was a sight to behold. That firm young body, those exaggerated breasts, that preposterous bubble butt, that gorgeous face and long legs, thick hair and cobalt eyes, those full lips. Every part of her demanded my gaze.

Delly abandoned his balls to seek pleasure of her own, walking up the bed to hover over the man's face. She put her back against Kayla's and lowered her young pussy to Chris's waiting mouth. I saw his tongue reach for the approaching pussy. Delly leaned back and Kayla leaned forward, bracing her hands on his shins. Delly gasped as that tongue slithered up inside her. Kayla smirked, dragging her cunt up and down that fat, stiff rod.

My wife had told me I was free to enjoy Delly but my gut said that did not mean tonight. I was shocked Kayla even allowed the young tart to be naked in the same room. I tried to imagine fucking Delphine in front of my wife and instantly hated the idea. I wanted the young woman but Kayla would be hurt. I recognized how unfair that was but also knew it was the truth, and I was strangely fine with it. I could fuck Delly later.

This moment was all about Chris. Chris in our bedroom, Chris in our bed, Chris blazing a path of destruction through our marriage. Chris and Kayla were the stars of this show. Delly and me and even Curt were co-stars.

Kayla straightened her back and smiled at me, raising and opening her knees to give me a clear view of her penetration. She held only the head inside and, looking at his incredible girth poised to plunge, I couldn't imagine that monster would fit. Kayla lifted her heels off the bed, pressing her bodyweight down on him. As his mass began to fill her cavity, her expression slowly changed from playful to serious to astonished. Slow as a snail she sank, sliding lower until his balls looked like they were attached to her body and not his. She looked like she might swoon. She held him there, stuffed, tightly stretched. She lifted watery eyes to mine and I saw what he did for her, I saw the reasons for her addiction. We shared the moment. Electricity crackled in the air between us, husband and wife. I soaked up every detail and she knew I did, a shiver running through her as I burned this moment forever in my memory.

"Beautiful," I muttered.

Her eyes filled with water, basking in my adoration. Her pussy was filled to bursting with another man yet I found her breathtaking. She waved me forward. She spread her straining pussy lips with her fingers, showing me her glistening clit.

"Lick my pussy," she whimpered.

How deep did my adoration go? I'd eaten her after she'd been fucked but would I eat her while she was fucked? It's what she wanted.

I balked.

I'd be too close to his dick. My chin might touch him. If Kayla moved unexpectedly I might accidentally lick him instead of her. No. She asked too much. Bad enough Chris was inside my wife. Bad enough my wife worshipped his dick. If Chris felt my tongue on him he'd never let me live it down.

Kayla and Delphine were back-to-back. My wife opened her knees wider, enticing me, grinning like a harlot. She knew what she asked. She understood my hesitation. She wanted it anyway. How much could she get away with? How far would I go? She'd realized the sluttier she acted, the more I loved it.

That fat cock never stopped, slowly pumping up and down. I looked around our familiar bedroom, mentally seeking a way out, but that only anchored me more in the moment. This was truly happening. I turned my gaze to his wide, thrusting dick.

Kayla waited.

I took a step forward and her hand came up, halting me.

"No," she said. "Get undressed. Let's all get naked."

Goddamn it. I was about to be found out. I took a deep breath. I stripped.

Curt groaned in misery when my erection snagged on my underwear before snapping back against my stomach, leaving him the only man in the room still soft. He began playing with his dick, desperate to join us, but nothing happened. He whined and tugged faster. The problem with my erection is it gave Kayla proof of my true feelings. I had no desire to accidentally lick Chris's cock but that hesitation did not slow my dick down. Kayla waved me forward.

I dropped my clothes and crawled onto the bed, aiming my mouth at her pussy. His goddamn cock loomed larger the closer I got. I saw Delly's saliva on his big balls. I kissed high on Kayla's belly but she pushed my head lower. I felt him inside her through my lips on her skin. I trailed kisses down.

At last I reached her clit. Her inner and outer pussy lips were stretched wide to accommodate him, exposing the shiny little nub. I puckered my lips, planting them directly on top, and began to softly tease her with my tongue. She sucked a bushel of air, hammered by the dual sensations. I slurped and sucked and I know the moment was intense for her but holy shit, the moment was intense for me too. His cock bulged her lower belly, filled her, touched everywhere inside all at once. He slid in and out, occasionally gliding along my chin. I was sure he felt my whiskers. For a moment, it seemed that, in a way, he fucked us both. His dick set the rhythm and we responded. Earlier Kayla had stated she wanted me present only to watch but this was far more than watching. Chris and I fucked my wife together. His wet cock slid along my jaw, leaving a trail of my wife's juices, and I realized, no, I was helping him fuck my wife. We were not equals. His cock owned us both.

Kayla's excitement grew. Two men at the same time was far beyond her sexual experience. That one of those men was her husband fried her mind. I saw it on her face.

She eagerly grabbed my head with both hands, intent on keeping my mouth on her pussy, but wanting her whole pussy licked, not just her clit. Lost in ecstasy, her writhing sometimes pushed my head lower. I resisted, straining my neck, but now and again she caught me by surprise. My tongue looped around, teasing and playful, and I'd accidentally range too far, grazing his slick and pulsing shaft. I'd recoiled but Kayla wanted me where I was and she is strong. The underside of his penis slid along my lips.

I pulled away, fighting her grip. I needed a moment. Too many times my mouth had touched his cock. I loved the sounds from Kayla but I had zero interest in pleasuring Chris. My wife moaned in frustration. I'd stopped licking and she craved more. I leaned in again, carefully, and she tangled her fingers in my hair. She held my mouth to her pussy. I pushed my tongue out, slithering over her nub. She tilted her hips and I found myself crawling up his shaft to find her clit again. Damn it.

I've never simultaneously had my penis buried in a pussy and a mouth working on me. I imagined that would be a lot to sort. I hoped he had too much going on to recognize what I'd done. I prayed he never found out.

Kayla's satisfied moans filled our bedroom as I got back to work. I teased her pussy and tormented her labia. I coaxed an orgasm from her clit. I avoided Chris and his piston-cock as best I could.

I should have known I'd cave. Kayla's responses were too intense. The more pleasure I gave her the more I wanted to give her and soon I stopped worrying and just let go, licking and sucking everything I could reach until I had her sobbing. I bundled his flesh with hers and just slathered both, dragging my tongue across everything. I gave up being careful and Kayla went wild. Her cries matched his moans.

My tongue circled the ring where his shaft vanished into her hole and that's when the orgasm I'd been building finally hit. I worked them both, terrorizing her clitoris as her climax exploded. I felt her walls tighten around him, squeezing, clenching him like a hot wet fist. He groaned, his mouth partially smothered by Delphine's little cunt. I attacked my wife, extending her orgasm, driving her insane. Her loud cries shook our bedroom walls. I kept licking through the whole long shuddering event, only stopping when she shoved my face away. She slid off his throbbing pole and crumpled to the bed.

His wet weapon waved in the air for an instant, gleaming and pulsing, and I perversely contemplated enveloping the head with my mouth. That was Kayla shining all over him and I wanted to suck my wife's nectar off his dick. I didn't, but not because I thought better of it. Before I could move Delphine slid down his body. He sucked a nipple as it went by then groaned as her little pussy enveloped him. Delly groaned too, far louder than he. His cock punched right through her. She sat on him, driving his length into her belly.

Curt groaned in dismay.

Delphine moaned in delight.

Chris crammed the young woman with cock, smothering her hole and dragging in the surrounding skin. She was soaked, partially from time spent in his mouth but more from the idea of fucking him. He split her bald pussy wide open. Her puckered asshole, only inches from my face, winked and clenched as she captured more of that monster cock, squeezing him to pleasure herself. I jammed the tip of my tongue in her sphincter and she jumped, squealing. Chris grabbed her hips and forced her tunnel down to his balls. He lifted her and buried his inches again. Delly stuck her tits in his face.

"Fuck me," she said, her voice hoarse and strained.

Chris inhaled a nipple and began fucking the young woman.

Curt whimpered and I glanced at the young man. His limp penis began a slow rise, filling with blood as he witnessed Delly impaled. I sighed. With a girlfriend like her, he was done for. He curled his fingers around his penis and began an awkward stroke, watching Delly and then checking to see if any of us watched him. He noticed I did.

"It's all right," I assured him. "It's hot to see your girl fucked."

That helped. He stared at Chris sliding in and out and jerked off, but only for a minute. He released his penis and stood mute, watching Delly get fucked.

Kayla reached for me and I covered my trembling wife with my muscular arms. I kissed her face lovingly. She guided my lips down and we made out. Close to my face, Curt grew harder until his penis throbbed in the open air, the smallest dick in the room, untouched and disregarded. Unable to tear his eyes away from his beloved girlfriend, but too ashamed to jack off, Curt watched like a tormented soul, drooling precum like an obscene Cupid fountain.

Delphine rode Chris only a short time before cumming hard, hugging herself and shrieking like a tortured mouse as she rocked. Her orgasm left her wiped out so she pulled off and dropped to the bed like Kayla had. Once again Chris's pillar of flesh waved in the open air.

My wife pulled away from me, slipping from my arms to mount Chris for a second time, but this time facing the man, cowgirl style, like Delphine had. He and my wife gazed deeply into each other's eyes. Kayla worked her pussy up and down his dick, feeding him one tit and then the other.

Soon he started to moan like he was getting close. He pushed her off his dick and scooped her up, arms under her knees, facing him, fucking my wife while standing on my bed. Deep strokes of his cock plunged into her. Kayla circled his neck with her arms, holding on and moaning with each deeply penetrating thrust. Curt timidly approached Delly, his erection leading the way, but she had eyes only for Chris fucking Kayla. She grabbed Curt's dick distractedly and clumsily jerked, watching, amazed, as Chris power-fucked my beloved.

Chris turned his attention to me.

We all knew what was coming.

My gaze moved to his big swinging balls. Earlier Kayla had made a point of showing me his large scrotum, silently asking me to contemplate what those balls contained. Now the moment had arrived. My wife was lost in bliss but Chris fucked her with intent. His eyes dared me to interrupt, dared me to protest. He hoped I would so Kayla could tell me to be quiet and let this happen. He began to pound my sweet wife, driving all the way in on each thrust, his well-built body glistening with sweat, his muscles coiling and flexing as he held her weight.

Kayla suddenly cried out, clutching her new man and cumming again.

Delphine touched herself while she watched, eyes jumping from Chris to Kayla to me, amazed I was willing to let all this happen. She continued to jerk Curt.

My wife tightened her arms and legs around her lover. They moved with familiarity, like they'd fucked many times more than I knew about. My dick throbbed to imagine her sneaking off to fuck him behind my back. Chris hammered away, flesh slapping flesh. His rigid cock was crisscrossed with veins, bulging because he was close to orgasm. I held my breath.

"Is he going to cum in her?" Delphine whispered, shocked and amazed.

"Yes," I rasped.

Her eyes went huge.

"You already know that? Has he fucked her before?"

"Yes," I said. "Many times."

Delphine stopped masturbating and grabbed my dick too, now jerking Curt and me. I thoughtfully reached down to rub her pussy as we watched Chris fuck Kayla. Curt stared at Delly's hand on his dick.

Chris lowered Kayla to the bed but my wife kept her arms and legs encircling the man. They kissed wildly, passionately, meaningfully. His strong ass was a machine.

"He's such a man," Delphine murmured.

Finally, when I thought I could watch no more, Chris groaned loud and long, his pumping suddenly erratic, his hips jerking, his ass clenching. He groaned again and then roared like a bear, driving his big cock all the way in spurting hot semen into her womb. His dick had swollen, her tight pussy lips sealed like a ring around his girth. He growled over and over, pumping out huge blasts of sperm that filled her until he began to leak around the shaft and drip to our bed. Delly's hand felt great but it was the sight of my wife's insemination that pushed me over the edge. My penis started spurting hot cum all over Delly's hand and our carpet.

"That's crazy," Delphine whispered, barely noticing. "Holy shit he fucked her right in front of you. He fucking came in her and you let him. That's wild. Look at all that jizz!"

I couldn't look at her. She wasn't talking about me.

"You fucked him in front of Curt," I retorted.

She giggled.

"Oh yeah," she said. "I guess I did."

Chris held himself over my wife on knees and elbows, cock still snugly imbedded. He looked under his arm at me, grinning. Kayla kept her eyes closed, savoring the fantastic sensations of the moment.

"Your tongue felt fantastic," he told me.

All hope that he didn't know or hadn't noticed died. Our relationship was forever altered. Now when he stuck his dick in my face at the gym we'd both know it was not just Kayla with intimate knowledge of the thing, but me too. He had that on me and forever would. I already knew I'd never fight with him about a single parking space or how we paid for utilities. He had me. I'd tongued his cock. We were no longer equals. We never would be again.

Delphine released my penis to reach a hand and massage the man's big nuts. Chris spread his legs to make it easy for her. Delphine hefted their weight and gave me a snide look.

"Feels like there's a lot more in there," she teased. "I'd take some for myself but I'm not on birth control."

Curt whimpered. Delly glanced at him and stroked his dick faster, flipping her hair back to show him her tits. Curt grunted and shot, blasting his load onto the bed.

Kayla wasn't on birth control either but I said nothing about that. She and Chris were kissing again, soft, heartfelt kisses, and I hated to interrupt. Delly had no such hesitations. She wiped Curt's drippings off her knuckles on our bedspread and climbed higher, joining Kayla and Chris. My wife met her smiling face, brushing a strand of hair behind the young woman's ear.

"You're very beautiful," Kayla said. "My husband thinks so too."

I held my breath, unsure how things stood between them.

"You're very beautiful," Delphine replied.

My wife pulled Delly's face close and gave her a peck on the lips. The younger woman froze, clearly in uncharted waters. Kayla palmed Delly's big tit and rolled her wrist, feeling the weight and firmness. Delphine's lips parted.

I instantly regretted cumming too soon.

Delly had no idea what to do. This was a dear-in-the-headlights moment for her. Kayla was an experienced older woman and Delphine the naïve young angel so she froze, gazing into my wife's eyes, smile locked in place. Kayla pinched Delly's nipple hard enough to make the girl wince.

"I want you to do me a favor," Kayla said.

"Okay," answered Delphine.

"Fuck my husband for me."

They both turned to look at me, their eyes drifting down to my soft dick.

"All right," Delly said.

Curt groaned again in frustration.

Chapter 15

I cut the wire and extracted the brackets. I withdrew the hardware.

"All finished," I said. I pointed towards the sink. "Brush and rinse before you leave. The toothpaste is in the cupboard above. I noticed you have another small cavity forming."

Delphine watched me closely from the exam chair, following every move I made.

"Has he fucked her again?" she asked, her voice vibrating with excitement.

I stopped and faced her.

"Yes."

"In front of you?"

"Yes."

She shook her head.

"I have got to find a boyfriend like you. Divorce your wife and date me. I'm happy to fuck hot guys in front of you too."

I smiled.

"I love my wife."

"She's the luckiest woman alive!" Delphine laughed. "Oh my god she gets a great guy like you plus all the new dick she wants. I want to be her. How did you guys figure this out?"

"She cheated on me and I liked it."

Delly was shaking her head.

"That's crazy," she said. "That never happens."

"We got lucky."

She rubbed her knuckles on my crotch.

"Are you still going to fuck me?" she asked. "Kayla says you can."

"Yes," I admitted. "Soon."

"Good. Your wife is cool. Chris said he wants me and her at the same time. I said I was down but Kayla says she needs to think about it. Your wife is pretty."

Delphine looked down at her body in the chair. I wondered if she was picturing Chris and Kayla touching her at the same time. I said nothing. I couldn't risk my voice cracking. I was trying to act casual but felt a rising panic. Chris would inevitably steal Delly too, slowly collecting every woman in my life. Rayna was already sometimes blowing him in the parking lot. I caught a glimpse of a future where he often fucked all three in my bed. The moment felt inexorable.

"How's Curt?" I asked.

She made a face.

"Brokenhearted but still hanging around. We all got high and I fucked his best friend, Josh, in the same room. Curt pretended to be passed out but I knew he wasn't. Josh came too fast. He pulled out and splashed my pretty dress. Then he zipped up and ran away. Guys my age suck. I want a man like you."

"I'm flattered," I said. "But get on birth control first. I'm not pulling out. You are way too hot to pull out."

That got to her. I saw the excitement in her eyes.

"Let me suck you," she said. "Hit me with some gas and whip it out."

I paused. She'd worn a tube top and short skirt, tennis shoes and a cute ribbon in her hair. Her ripe body stretched her clothes in every direction. She looked scrumptious.

At this moment, Kayla was next door with Chris at his office. They enjoyed fucking while I was one thin wall away, anchored by my obligations to clients and unable to do anything about it. I would drive her home when she finished and, as always, she'd take my hand and slide it under her skirt. I'd shove her panties aside and push a finger into her sopping cunt, feeling his slippery semen pooling in there. Kayla would free my erection but ignore it until we got home. This was one of the many games we'd discovered and loved.

She'd started getting little surgeries, tiny touch-ups here and there, and she looked fantastic. Her lips were fuller but not stupidly so, her eyes were bright, her skin flawless. Chris had started breast injections that would increase size and firmness without scars or recovery time. All his procedures and technologies were leading edge. His reputation in the industry was top notch. Kayla had blossomed under his care, more confident than I'd ever seen her, but also hornier than ever before.

"All right," I told Delphine, reaching for the nose cup. "But first push your top down to your waist. I want those perfect tits out where I can see them."

She beamed with pride. College would be a blast for this girl.

"What about Rayna? What if she walks in on us?"

I shook my head.

"She won't," I said. "She suspects a lot. She even saw Kayla kiss Chris at the barbecue, but she's said nothing and I doubt she ever will."

"I saw her talking to Chris in the parking lot when I left last time."

"She does more than talk."

Delphine bounced her eyebrows playfully, grinning with one side of her mouth.

"All the girls want Chris," she said.

"I mentioned you have another cavity forming," I said, changing the subject. "Next time you're here, I'll need to drill."

She tugged her top down, freeing her fantastic breasts.

"I'm counting on it," she said.

End.
