Chapter 1

The toxic stench of burnt sulfur filled the yard this morning, as it does every time the wind swings around to come at us across the bay instead of through the forest. The mill crew was turning lumber into pulp and then into paper and that always stinks. I trudged through the mud and muck headed for Sunrise, the drive-through slash walk-up coffee shop where my girlfriend works. The shop sat next to the highway but still within the Yard and served the constant flow of traffic headed north, but it was mostly men from the Yard that paid the rent. All day long we'd stop for coffee or espresso or burritos or pastries. The menu was simple but the food and drink good.

The huge Yard was a chaotic mix of business uses. Anything the owner, Marcus, could think of to make money. I've mentioned the mill and the coffee shop, but the Yard is also home to a scrap metal business, chemical wash warehouse, and a heating, cooling, and refrigeration factory, among other things. A railroad cuts through it and ships arrive at the docks on the bay side all day, loading and unloading. It's dirty, dangerous, and unhealthy, but they are always hiring, and just about the only place a man in this dying town can find work.

Honey loves her job and wants to keep it, at least until the colleges get back to her. Most days she rises before dawn to get the pots brewing and the griddles cooking, and then flies around that tiny booth with her girlfriends for hours. They can get really busy but she has a great crew. I went to high school with them. Five girls and Drake, the only gay guy at school. Honey says going to work feels like a sporting event. The hourly pay is shit but they make a lot on tips.

I dodged a truck rumbling by and waited on a car from the highway. The walk-up window had a line so I joined the other guys and waited. A man two spots ahead of me commented how seeing these pretty girls every morning is the best part of his day and we all agreed.

Nobody knows Honey and I are dating.

Marcus, the man that owns all this, forbid his guys to date the coffee girls. He wants to tear the coffee shop down and add a scrap metal compressor on that plot of land. The profit margin on the coffee shop is too low after buying all the food and coffee beans and paper products and payroll. Only a threatened mutiny from all of us keeps the place open.

Honey was working a drive-up window so I caught only glimpses of her. She'd gone to work in jeans and a Mickey Mouse sweatshirt but now ran around in a tight white T with sweat circles under each arm. Her glasses were fogged from the humidity and her curly hair held up in a bow. Cute. The other girls had shed clothing too, sweaty strands of hair glued to foreheads.

"AC broke," Tammy told me. "Marcus doesn't give a shit."

"Sucks to be you," I said.

"Thanks, Noah," Tammy said, voice sprinkled with sarcasm. "You're so thoughtful and compassionate."

"It's empathy he lacks," Regina added.

I chuckled. My eyes landed on the tip jar, filled to the brim. Another glance at Tammy showed me traces of areola beneath her white sports bra. Regina walked around with stiff nipples under her thin pink top.

"Looks like you're making mad tips though," I said.

Tammy shook her head, bewildered.

"Men are dogs," she chuckled. "Nobody cares that we are sweating our balls off. Titties are all you guys think about."

She handed me the coffee I'd ordered. I had no clever rebuttal. She was right. I gulped too-hot liquid and choked, leaving the window and trudging across the dirt lot again to take my place on the assembly line. I looked in on Honey through a side window. She was talking to some big rig driver, handing the man his drink and a burrito for the road. Bright sunlight beamed down. Her nipples were hard, her top snug enough to show the shape of her beautiful teardrop tits and thin enough to show, like Tammy, the faintly darker circles of her areolas. The man was in no hurry to leave. He took his order and shot the shit with my girl until another vehicle pulled up behind him. He only moved on because he had to. Honey greeted the next customer with a broad smile.

She spied me crossing the muddy lot and flashed a wink. She had no idea what the daytime sunlight was doing to her top. Tonight, she'll talk about how nice everyone was today. If I shared my thoughts on the real reason, she'd call me silly. Honey's cute but her mother has convinced her the world is filled with thoughtful, helpful people. I'm not worldly but I at least know that isn't true.

In that moment, I was glad nobody knew we were dating. With Honey and the girls looking like that, I would have gotten endless teasing from the guys. I'd never hear the end of it. I knew when I got to the factory floor I'd hear some chatter about the Coffee Girls anyway. The guys always have dirty shit to say about the Coffee Girls.

I winked back on the sly and hurried on my way. One last look back showed Honey hanging out the drive-up window to pet some guy's dog. Her elbows squished her tits together and pushed them higher: two smooth humps bulged at her neckline. She was oblivious.

Chapter 2

In the evenings, we either meet at my trailer on the edge of town or the casita, a small one room house, she rents from her parents. It has a bathroom off the main room and a walk-in closet, but everything else: dining, living, and kitchen, fill one area. Tonight, it was my place. She walked in without knocking, as usual, and I started making mac and cheese, her favorite. She dumped her purse on my bed. Wads of green bills tumbled out.

"Four hundred dollars!" she exclaimed. "That's just my share. Me and Regina and Tammy split it all. Can you believe it? One day!"

She beamed.

"Twelve hundred in one day?" I asked. "That's amazing."

"No. Sixteen hundred. Tammy and Regina worked more hours so they got bigger shares. That's fair."

I bit my tongue. T and Reg told Honey they worked more hours but I doubted it. They show up minutes before Honey and then say they've been there longer. Whatever. Not my fight.

"Does that money go in your college fund or are you shopping with it?" I asked.

"College," she gushed, throwing her arms around my neck.

We kissed. Actually, we made out. A lot. We fell to my bed and kissed until the water boiled. I got up and threw the noodles in and returned to bed. We kissed some more. Honey rubbed her thigh between my legs, hunting for my erection. We've never had intercourse, with each other or anyone else, but Honey loved my dick.

"Let me suck it," she whimpered.

I jumped out of bed and killed the fire under the pan. I kicked my pants off on the way back. I stood over her, dick rising, and told her to take off her sweatshirt. She did.

"Now the T," I commanded. "Leave the glasses on."

Her eyes got big and her hands shook but she obeyed. She always obeys. She trembled like a frightened kitten. We may be saving ourselves for marriage but we do other stuff. I stared at her pretty face and heavy boobs. How many men today wished they were me right now?

"Put it in your mouth," I said. "But just hold it. Let me see myself in there."

She moved to her knees and sat on her heels. She rose slightly, watching my face as my dick slid into her hot mouth. I don't know why she loves sucking my dick so much but I don't question it. She'll do it in the car, while we're watching a movie at home, while we're watching a movie at the theater; any place and any time. I try to return the favor but she nudges me aside.

"Pussy is not for eating," she'll say. "Dicks are for sucking."

I gazed down at her. I brushed a strand of her curly hair away, gently caressing her cheek. I stroked her head. She held my soft penis on her tongue and felt me fill with blood. A gentle pulsation began and her eyes narrowed.

"Keep your mouth closed," I said. "But lick me all over."

She got started.

"I want a picture," I said.

Her eyes went big.

"That makes me nervous," she admitted. "What if someone sees it?"

"It will be in my phone. No one uses my phone but me. I just want to be able to see you when I jerk off. I'll be super careful. I promise."

She hesitated but gave a nod. I held my phone to my eye, watching her work. I continued caressing her and enjoyed her tongue working. I played with her tits and she moaned. I told her many times how pretty she was, how sexy. I told her I loved and adored her and I meant it. I snapped my picture.

I warned her when I felt my orgasm start to rise and she pulled me out of her mouth to finish on her tits. I sprayed as she jerked, losing my balance and moaning as the explosion of pleasure swamped me. I caught myself against the trailer wall. She laughed, giddy with what she'd done. She wiped off the tip of my penis and slipped me into her mouth again, swirling her tongue. My legs went stiff. Hypersensitivity jangled my nerves. Her eyes were alight, delighted by the frenzy she caused. Eventually, I could take no more. I pushed her off my dick, leaning over the bed with hands on the wall. My arms trembled. She was so pleased with herself.

"Your turn," I said.

She made a face.

"Nature doesn't need me to orgasm," she said. "Only the man needs to."

I wasn't going to force her to climax. Weird. I leaned down to kiss her and then staggered back to the mac and cheese.

Once the food was ready we snuggled on my bed, watching Netflix and eating. She finished first and set her bowl aside, ducked her head under the blanket and slipped my dick into her mouth again. I was hard again in less than a minute. I casually fondled her breasts and she casually suckled my dick. We were in no hurry. We had no orgasm as a goal. We simply pleased each other because it felt good and we were in love.

"Four hundred dollars," I muttered. "That's a lot."

She poked her head from under the blanket.

"Such a great day," she said, holding my dick in one hand. "Just out of nowhere. Just lucky. I hope it happens again soon."

"Do you think the broken AC had anything to do with it?" I asked. "You girls all took your sweaters and sweatshirts off. There were boobs everywhere, Honey. I know for a fact the guys loved it. They talked about you all on the factory floor. Strip clubs exist for a reason."

She was thoughtful.

"Maybe you're right," she said.

She pondered another minute then slipped my dick in her mouth again.

Chapter 3

At work the next day the line for coffee was fifteen men long. Five cars waited at drive-up. Inside the little booth I saw girls, including Honey, flying around in a mad scrabble. The drive-up window opened and Regina handed out drinks, hair tied back, tight sports bra accentuating her full tits. She chatted and laughed and closed the window. The tip jar on the shelf was already more than half full.

I was running late so I skipped coffee, hurrying to clock in. Today I was assigned to the mixing vats: open-air four-hundred gallon coned-bottom drums that can take any combination of caustic liquids we throw at them. The uses for what comes out are endless but sometimes it seems the only use for what goes in is to provide a grisly end to a human life. Work on the vats meant eight-hours in a hazmat suit, followed by a foaming detox shower. After a couple deaths and massive lawsuits, the company installed this protocol to keep us healthy. We also get double-pay when we work the vats so that's nice. Extra money is important because I plan on asking Honey to marry me. Her ring won't be huge but it will be the biggest I can afford. I can't wait to see my ring on her finger.

Today's vat crew was not one I've worked with before. I've seen the men around the Yard, and spoken to a few, but never more than that. We logged our eight hours, sweating like pigs inside those suits, and I was relieved to learn the guys were as competent and diligent as me. Lots of men cut corners and put themselves and you at risk. Not me and not these guys. We recognized each other's talents and fist-bumped at the end of a long day. We hit the showers, stowing our gear at our lockers and entering a large marble area with three columns each ringed with multiple shower heads and soap pumps and recessed drains in the floor. We started the water, hung our towels, and got under the hot spray. The special soap we are required to use lathers like crazy and soon the floors were covered in foam spiraling away. The guys that know each other shower close so they can talk, the guys that don't, like me, stay off a way. I was washing my hair when I heard someone laugh.

"What the fuck, Snake?" they yelled. "I hope you didn't pay for that by the inch. You got a small fortune hanging there."

I rinsed my face to see what he was talking about. Snake, a man from our crew I knew only in passing, was scrubbing his chest hair. Down below, his long cock wobbled and swayed, flipping suds everywhere. The guys laughed. Snake laughed too.

"This fucking bastard has gotten me into more trouble than he's worth," Snake joked. "You can have him."

One guy quickly raised his hand.

"If you're getting rid of it, I'll take it," he joked.

More laughter.

"Gerry," another man said to him. "Your wife would have no idea what to do with that thing. A dick like that would be a waste on you."

They all laughed again.

"That's not true," Snake countered. "When I showed Gerry's wife my dick she knew exactly what to do with it."

They all roared. Even butt-of-the-joke Gerry.

Clearly, these men were life-long friends, even outside work. Nobody thought anything more about Snake's swinging dick but I admit I found it unnerving. Their conversation moved on. I turned my back.

Honey's mom made dinner for us so tonight we went to her place. Spaghetti and garlic bread and salad, all delicious. Her dad poured me a beer and we watched some baseball while the ladies, plus the family dog, Socks, went through some of Honey's childhood clothes to donate. We ended our night by me walking Honey to her casita in the back yard. I noticed her mom watching from an upstairs window. Honey and I kissed under the porchlight.

"My parents love you," she said.

"I love your parents."

"My mom has never cooked for any of my boyfriends, until you."

"I'm honored."

We kissed again.

"How was work today?" she asked. "I've hardly had you alone at all. How was your day?"

"Boring. I worked the vats. I'll work them all week. I crewed with some older guys included this one dude nicknamed Snake. He looked rough. He has a bunch of tattoos. The other guys all gave him a hard time but I don't know him so I said nothing."

"Why'd they tease him? Do they not like him?"

"No, with guys teasing is a sign of affection. I saw him in the showers. The other guys tease him because he has a big dick. The banter was funny. Those guys are quick. Otherwise, my day was monotonous. How about you? AC fixed? How were your tips?"

Honey stared at the ground.

"Tips were great," she mumbled.

"How much?"

"Five hundred."

"Holy shit! Two days in a row. Nice."

"No," she said. "Not nice. The other girls wore bikini tops. The guys were drooling. I resisted and suffered through the heat until lunch. Then Tammy said that I wasn't doing my fair share to generate tip money but I'd still get an equal cut. She had a point so I took off my sweatshirt again, like yesterday."

"What did you have underneath?"

"A T-shirt, like I usually do, but this one was tight and thin. I need to do laundry. I was embarrassed. We got busy so I forgot about it but I think you might be right. I think the guys noticed."

I wrapped her in my arms.

"Don't worry too much, Baby," I said. "You wear less at the river and we see those guys there too. I don't like it but if the AC is busted, the AC is busted. Might as well make the best of it."

She hugged me hard. I tried to end the hug but she squeezed harder. I returned the love and again tried to end the hug. She held fast.

"I need to tell you something," she murmured.

She sounded serious so I wrapped my arms tighter.

"I dated Snake before I met you," she said.

Bang. Suddenly I again saw that man naked and soapy, smiling into the camera, pendulum dick swinging.

"Dated?" I asked.

"Yes. He took me to the movies a few times. He made me dinner once. I felt like he was too old for me but Tammy said I should at least give him a chance. I felt bad for the guy so I did."

"If he made you dinner," I said. "Then you've been to his place."

"Yes."

She had to feel my body temperature skyrocket. I feared the next question as much as I needed to know.

"Did anything happen?"

"I told you I'm a virgin and I meant it."

"I don't mean did you go all the way. I mean did you do anything sexual?"

She stayed silent.

I was merely her boyfriend. Did I have a right to details about her past relationships? Did she owe me an answer? Probably not. I felt bad for asking. I didn't need her to come to me pure like the Virgin Mary. Sex doesn't tarnish a girl. But Snake was a man I worked with and that had me burning with curiosity, curiosity, and more than a little jealousy.

"We made out," she said. "After a ton of dates. I wasn't really attracted to him but wanted to be sure."

"Of course," I said. "That makes sense."

I pictured them kissing and my skin went cold.

"I sucked his dick," she mumbled.

The air turned electric. My head spun. My legs went weak. That big soapy cock had been in her mouth. My hands tingled.

Of course, I thought. That makes sense too. Honey loves sucking dick. She went there right away with me. It's expected she went there with him too.

"I broke up with him, though," she continued. "He's older and wanted intercourse. He got mad when I said no. Then I knew for sure we were wrong for each other. I ended it and that was that. We haven't spoken since."

I was immobile. My forgotten arms continued to hug her, but there was no emotion behind my embrace. I stared at her concrete porch.

"Are you mad at me?" she asked.

"No. We all have a past."

I said the words and heard the words and knew they were true, but I didn't feel the words yet. I was still in shock.

"You look mad, Noah."

"I'm not mad, I promise."

"Kiss me then."

We kissed. Yes, I kissed the same mouth he'd put his cock in. I was pondering that fact when Honey pushed her tongue in to play with mine. The tongue that had teased his dick, slithered along his shaft.

"Your mom is watching," I gasped. "Upstairs window."

She did not look to see if I was right.

"You promise you're not angry with me?"

"I promise."

She studied my face again, seemed to like whatever it was she saw there. I had no idea what my face was doing.

"Come inside real quick," she said, tugging my sleeve.

We stepped inside her small house and she shut the door. She sank to her knees without preamble. I probably should have said something but I didn't. She unzipped me and tugged my pants down and then sucked me in. God, her hot mouth felt amazing. She sucked hard and fast, trying to overload my senses, and it worked. I got hard in record time. She lifted my balls out of my underwear and licked those too. I wondered if she'd used that trick on Snake. She returned to the head and wiggled the tip of her tongue all around the ridge and I wondered if she'd used that trick on Snake. I watched her attack my dick and wondered about every move she made, wondered if he'd taught her those things. Was it on his big dick that she'd learned to love giving blowjobs? Was she thinking of him while she sucked me?

Insecurity had sunk claws deep.

Nothing interfered with my erection. No matter what intimidating thought my brain offered, my dick stayed hard and throbbing. I warned her when my orgasm began rising and she whipped me out to blast all over her living room carpet. I came incredibly hard. She was pulling up my pants and underwear before I'd caught my breath.

"Good boy," she said, kissing my cheek. "That was fast enough. No way Mom thinks anything happened. I'll see you tomorrow."

She nudged me out the front door and shut it behind me. I stumbled to my car in a daze.

Chapter 4

The line of cars was twelve deep. The line at the walk-up window was fifteen. How much would she make in tips today? I cut across the muddy lot with an eye glued to the drive-up window. It opened and Honey leaned out. The other girls sported bikini tops but shy Honey hadn't gone that route. Yet her little pink top still did a wonderful job of showing off her tits. Her midriff was bare, her shoulders covered in little cap sleeves. A frilly border circled her ribs. The neckline wasn't plunging or anything slutty, but the fabric was thin and tight. Even from here I clearly saw the wonderful size and shape of her tits. Her nipples were slightly raised cones atop gorgeous orbs.

The little shop buzzed with energy and activity. Two guys in cars yelled at each other. Farther back in line two cars fought for position, neither budging.

The girls were going to cause a riot.

I got in the walk-up line. Eventually, Regina took my order. She'd curled her long black hair, put on makeup, wriggled into a tight T-shirt with no bra that had I wish these were brains in gold glitter across her big tits. These ladies cared not at all if Marcus never fixed the AC. They'd already adapted. They'd stumbled onto a gold mine. If all they had to do was wear slightly revealing tops and make ten times more money, they were fine with that.

I waited at the counter as she made my drink, watching Honey across the way. Tammy and Regina openly flirted with the men at their windows. Honey was so naïve she did not realize she was flirting. She laughed and chatted and gave each man her full attention, oblivious to their hungry eyes. I tried to catch her eye as I headed in to work but she was too busy to notice.

I changed into my hazmat suit and operated the vats with the other guys. It was a pleasure working with them. They were experienced and skilled and we produced a lot. At the end of the day we all showered again, washing away the fumes and toxic particles the suits missed. I knew them better now so etiquette required I move closer to wash and engage in conversation, so I did, but I stole a look at Snake's cock every chance I could. There was no way I could stop myself. That thing had been in my girlfriend's mouth. His brawny cock bounced and swung, flipped soap and slapped off his thighs. When he stepped under the spray and rinsed, I saw every detail, including his big hairy balls. He was naturally strong and had multiple tattoos scattered here and there around his hairy body. Some looked professionally done, some looked amateur. One looked like it said something about the Marines. He had a knife scar between two ribs and a bullet scar on his abdomen. He was a rough and tumble badass, for real.

I finished first and got the hell out of there. On my way to my car I spied Marcus at the coffee shop. The walk-up crowd had dwindled but they still had a line of cars from the highway. Marcus talked to one of the girls and as the angle changed I discovered it was Honey. Both looked upset. There was a guy my age standing with them. He was about my height and weight but dressed far better. He looked shy and made uneasy by the things Marcus was saying. As I drew closer I realized it was Jared, his son, who I hadn't seen in years. Their conversation ended with Honey nodding and shaking Jared's hand. She went back to work, Marcus and son headed for the main admin building. I was dying to know what that conversation was about but my curiosity would need to wait. Honey and I were supposed to barely know each other, after all.

I had to wait until eleven that night. Honey worked late since the shop was still busy and then her mom wanted to spend some time with her too. She took Socks out for a late walk and detoured to stop by my trailer. I could tell she was upset and had been crying. I asked what was wrong but she was reluctant to tell me. I only got it out of her by insisting.

"Marcus says I have to date his son," she sniffed. "Marcus wants to close the coffee shop. He said the long lines are messing with the Yard's overall productivity. Delivery trucks are complaining they can't get in. Hauling trucks are complaining they can't get out. Cops told Marcus to reroute his driveway as the line sometimes backs up onto the road. I tried to talk him out of it. Us girls need that job. He said women in the yard are too distracting. He said the only benefit to having girls around was if one of them was dating his boy."

"That's stupid."

"So stupid! Marcus found out I dated Snake and was going to fire the man. I talked him out of that, too. He said fine, since I was open to dating guys I worked with, I should date Jared. His son works in the admin building so according to Marcus, there's no conflict of interest or loss of productivity. I really cannot stand that man."

"What does Marcus mean by date?" I asked, feeling jealous. "Jared is older, like Snake. He'll expect sex too."

Honey threw her hands in the air, exasperated.

"That's what you care about?" she said. "How this affects you? What about me? I don't even know Jared. My life will be a big lie. No way will I have sex with him but he'll expect a kiss. I don't want to kiss him. I don't even want to hold his hand."

I was seething. I was stricken by horrible worry and concern. I felt sick to my stomach. I hated the idea of people even seeing her with him. She's mine. I hate that we hide our relationship but at least they think she's single. For people to think she's with him would drive me crazy. My blood ran cold. People need to know she's with me.

"You're right," I said. "This is harder on you. I'm sorry."

"Thank you."

"What are you going to do?" I asked, controlling myself.

"What can I do?" she whined. "Tammy and Regina need that job. Regina's sister is a single mom and Reggie gives her money. I can't quit and I can't allow Marcus to close the shop, not until we all find better jobs and how hard will that be in this town? This affects a lot of people, not just me."

"So when you see him next, you'll say yes?"

"What do you mean when I see him? I've already said yes. What choice did I have? I couldn't tell him I was already seeing someone, could I? We've done such a great job hiding our relationship, Marcus assumed I was single. I told Tammy and Regina what was happening and to start looking for other jobs. I promised them I'd delay with Jared as long as possible. They were grateful."

Socks began tugging on his leash. Honey kissed me.

"I gotta go," she said. "I just wanted to tell you right away and in-person. I'm sorry, Noah. I'll go out with him a few times, long enough for Jared to see there's no spark between us, and then we'll break it off. He's probably as miserable as me. He was mortified by daddy's demand. I'll buy Tammy and Reggie and the others as much time as I can."

"This sucks. I'm sorry, Baby."

She kissed me again.

"I'm sorry too," she said. "Try to have a good night."

She disappeared into the darkness.

Chapter 5

Gerry started a conversation with me as I entered the showers so of course I had to join in. Snake entered the showers soon after and took the nozzle around the column from me. That flopping tube of meat was directly in my line of sight. Worse, Snake started talking to me too, asking how long I'd been at the Yard, did I like the Seahawks, what was my favorite beer. I was filled with a churning angst from head to toes.

That cock had been in Honey's mouth!

It was maddening, maddening to casually chat with a man knowing my girlfriend had sucked him off. I was sure those big balls had sprayed a gallon of cum on her tits.

His cum all over her tits!

I almost shouted. A chill swept through me despite the hot shower. Tits. How could I have missed that? Snake had enjoyed Honey's tits. I should have asked more of her. Did he suck on them? Did she feed him her nipples like she does me? Did he tenderly caress them or was he rough?

Holy Mother of God: has he seen her completely naked?

I shook my head like a wet dog. Fuck. How far did they go? She said he wanted intercourse and she refused but how close did they get? Was his big dick hard and aimed at her pussy? Did the tip nudge her cunt lips?

I put my face under the spray to hide the sound of my hysterical growl. I was in agony. A thief was wandering through the memories of my perfect relationship with her, gathering up all our best moments for himself. Worse, I was helping him. Snake talked to me and Gerry and Jones, who showed up last, and all the while his soapy cock swung back and forth.

It's heavy, I thought, like a cop's baton, but soft and spongy, like a Nerf football. I bet Honey admired its weight on the palm of her hand. You know, before she PUT IT IN HER MOUTH!

Sweet Jesus, I desperately needed to stop looking at the thing. My imagination was running wild. I turned my back on all of them and rinsed my hair, eyes closed, breathing deep. My stomach was clenched, my body trembling. Worst of all, I'd felt the blood flowing to my penis. Snake's dick didn't turn me on, obviously, but it did fire up my competitive juices. The more I thought about Honey together with his cock, the more provoked I became!

I needed to get out of here. Honey had the early morning shift and should be home by now. I could stop by and get a blowjob. That would set my mind right. Get a blowjob and gaze down at her pretty face and reassert myself as the alpha dog in my brain.

"All done," I said, a little too loud. "See you assholes tomorrow."

They waved me off, returning to their conversations. I dried and dressed and texted Honey to make sure she was home. She didn't answer but that didn't stop me. I headed for her place and texted again. She lived close to work. Our town is small.

I rounded the corner and spied the sports car in her parents' driveway and saw her walking out of the house with Jared and pull her phone out of her purse to check it and put it back without responding and that was my text arriving and oh God why was she wearing that short skirt to go out with him fuck!

I kept driving without slowing. She never even noticed my car. Jared didn't either but that's because Honey looked amazing and his eyes were glued to her. Why did she dress-up for him? Why does she look so good? My whole body was tense and aching. I get she needed to make it all look real but bloody hell, she looked great. I headed for home, hands shaking on the steering wheel.

I entered my trailer and dropped my keys. Irresistible need assaulted me. I kicked off my shoes and pants and dropped into the living room chair, my dick already almost hard. I closed my eyes and imagined Honey's lips around my penis and I jerked my meat. I needed some fucking relief. I wouldn't hear from her. She worked the morning shift tomorrow too so she'd go home to sleep after her date. I wouldn't hear details until late tomorrow morning.

I remembered the photo on my phone. Seconds later I was staring at the sight of my hard dick in her mouth. She looked cute and the photo was sexy as hell, but what really got me off was the look in her eyes. She loved sucking dick. The act thrilled her, pleased her, electrified her as much as it did me. I was looking into those eyes when I blasted my load all over my lap.

After a few minutes, I cleaned up and watched some television. I slept terribly. I went to work foggy-headed and worked the vats in a stupor.

Thank God I hurt no one. I went for coffee at lunch and Honey was working the walk-up. The place was swamped, all the girls dressing in matching crop tops. Nobody wore a bra, including Honey. I ordered my coffee.

"How was your night?" I asked, making conversation as if I barely knew her.

"Great," she chirped. "I had dinner at Flamingo's. Steak."

"That place is nice," I said. "Expensive."

"Yes, it is. But my date was rich so it didn't matter."

"Must be nice."

"It was. We had an excellent time. He's smart and funny. I'm going out with him again on Friday."

She gave me a flirty little smile and left to pour my cup. She was acting playful, making light of our predicament, trying to make the best of things and indirectly reassure me all was well, but it didn't work. This was bullshit.

I got a text an hour later when she was on break but it just provided more detail of the night she'd already described. At least it ended with a big I love you in all caps. I finished my shift and watched Snake's cock swing in the showers and then drove home, stopping once for a case of beer.

If I was going to put a ring on her finger, I needed to do it soon.

Chapter 6

They went out three times over the next seven days. I was dying. Who the fuck dates like that? After the third date, I was hiding in the bushes outside her casita when she got home. The trees and shrubs grow right up to the building so she never closes the blinds. He dropped her off at the front door to her parents' and I waited until she told them goodnight and walked to her casita. I knew Mom would be watching from a window somewhere so I remained hidden until Honey was inside and the lights were on. I moved around to a window, planning on tapping the glass and slipping in. I raised a finger but stopped. Honey had begun to undress and I suddenly realized I wanted to watch. Perverted, considering I could just go inside and undress the girl, but spying carried an extra thrill.

She'd worn another cute outfit, one I'd never seen before, and dropped articles of clothing on the floor as she moved from the living area to the kitchen area. At last she popped her bra and set those gorgeous tits free. She scratched her butt and drank some orange juice out of the bottle and clicked on the television. She got a text and read it, smiling, and then typed something in response. Terrific. Jared had her number and they were exchanging playful messages. She was enjoying her dates with him. I saw it on her face. Why shouldn't she? He was taking her places and doing things that I couldn't.

Like a kick to the stomach, I suddenly realized the reason I'd never seen that outfit was because he'd purchased it for her. He'd picked out something he'd like to see her in and she'd worn it for him. I groaned softly, gutted.

She set her phone on an end table and walked to her closet. I couldn't see in there but she emerged with a beautiful white lace teddy and matching panties on a hanger. She held it before her body and smiled, looking at herself in the large mirror. She had a picture of us at the lake tucked into the frame of the mirror. She kissed a finger and touched my face, then returned the hanger to the closet. Jared might be buying her cute outfits but Honey was buying me lingerie.

She kicked off her heels and settled into her chair, ready to watch some television before bed. She sat low in the chair and I didn't realize she was masturbating until I saw her hand glide up and over a nipple. No way I could tap on the window now. I'd never seen her masturbate. I had no idea she even did it. I added my shock to the tornado of emotions battering me.

She stopped and retrieved her phone, tapping out another message to Jared. My blood ran cold to know she was thinking of him while touching herself. To my surprise, my phone chimed in my pocket. I yanked it out and killed the volume and read what she'd written.

Thinking of you.

My heart melted. A weight lifted. Fresh from her date and feeling horny, she nevertheless had me on her mind. I was deeply touched. I was comforted. She maneuvered her phone and took some pictures of her tits, flipping through them until she found one she liked and deleted the rest. She added some text and hit send. Strange to watch the woman I loved this way, spying like she was a stranger. I held my phone, waiting, eager to see how great her breasts looked. I waited.

I waited some more.

That picture never came.

Not to me.

The ground tilted under my feet. I balanced myself against her house.

By the way she'd held her phone, too close, I knew her face wasn't in those pictures. But, still, she'd sent a photo of her tits to someone.

It had to be Jared.

Now he's seen her tits too.

He must have said something about them while on one of their dates. Some compliment to her good looks and effortlessly hot body. It is Honey's personality to please others so it followed she'd grant his wish and let him see her twin orbs of perfection. She's proud of them, delighted with the gifts nature has bestowed. Why wouldn't she show them off? Not to everyone in a slutty display but one on one, to someone she had some feelings for. Someone special. After this many dates she'd probably made it known that intercourse was off the table. Perhaps this was a scrap she was throwing to the dog. Give the boy something. The dating had to seem real.

She returned to masturbation: an unhurried pleasuring. She rubbed her pussy and slid her hands over her tits and body, savoring the sensations. Her phone lit up but I couldn't see the screen. She sat up suddenly, raking her curly hair out of her face and adjusting her glasses. She stared at the screen, riveted. Her arm began to move, slow and then fast, teasing her clitoris until her head fell back and her mouth fell open. The phone slipped from her fingers to the carpet.

I was defeated. All desire for conversation, dead. I carefully worked my way through the branches and shrubbery until I was back on the road and headed to my car. I was determined to get a look at her phone. What did she receive, and from whom?

I answered her text: Thinking of you too...always. Have fun on your date?

It was okay, she replied. I'll tell you about it later. No biggie. I miss you. I'd suck you dry right now if you were here.

I'll be there in ten.

LOL, she wrote. Too sleepy. Go to bed. See you tomorrow. Xoxo Goodnight.

I tossed my phone on the passenger seat and started my car. I sent her the picture I had saved of my dick in her mouth.

Thinking of you, I teased.

HOT! She fired back. Then, a moment later, I received a picture of her tits. I had no doubt it was the same picture she'd sent to Jared.

I was horny when I got home so I jerked off quickly and hit the bed.

Chapter 7

"I hear you're dating Jared," Russ said.

I was behind Russ in line at the coffee shop. Honey worked the window.

"That's true," Honey laughed. "What of it?"

"Fucking Marcus breaking his own rules, that's what," Russ complained. "If you can date Jared you can date me too."

"Is Marcus your daddy?" Honey asked.

Everyone in line laughed.

"Fuck no," Russ said.

"Then I cannot date you," Honey said. "Marcus doesn't break the rules, he writes them, and he can certainly write a rule that allows me to date his son. Sorry, but that's how it is."

"But I'd treat you so nice," Russ continued.

"Jared treats me nice already. Really nice, if I'm honest. But thanks for the offer. I'll keep you in mind if Jared turns into an asshole."

The guys laughed again. She finished his drink order and he moved on. I stepped up. In my pocket, I fiddled with the little black velvet box I'd picked up on my way to work. Her ring was inside and it thrilled me to have it so close to her.

"Coffee black?" she asked.

"If you can date Jared," I said. "You can date me. And I'm prettier than Russ."

Honey smiled.

"You are prettier than Russ," she admitted.

Everyone laughed again.

"But is Marcus your daddy?" she asked.

"Nope."

She shrugged playfully but I saw the knowing in her eyes.

"I'd totally date you, pretty boy," she said. "But rules are rules."

"I think she means it," said Gary, in line behind me.

"Coffee black," I said.

She left the window to prepare my drink and I watched her ass. The AC was finally fixed but the girls had not returned to their baggy sweatshirt attire. Honey turned and I salivated over twin stiff nipples tenting the fabric of her top. I dropped two ones in the tip jar and moved on. As I wandered away I heard every guy in line ask her to date them.

The schedule said today was my last day on vats. I entered the locker room to don my hazmat suit and discovered my crew gathered around Snake. He saw me and lifted his phone.

"Nice, right?" he asked.

I looked at the photo he displayed. There was no mistaking Honey's perfect tits staring back at me. I even recognized the chair behind her. I recognized a lock of her curly hair.

Snake, not Jared. She'd sent that picture to Snake, not Jared.

My head exploded. I kept my composure by going blank, turning dead inside.

"Those are perfect tits," I said, voice calm. "Whose?"

"Can't say. A girl I used to date who says she misses me. She got a little drunk and sent me that picture, asking if I remembered her tits fondly."

Honey does not drink.

"What did you say?" Gerry asked.

Snake laughed.

"I said hell yes," he replied. "A minute later I sent her a picture of my hard dick as proof. That shut her up. No more texts after that."

"She was busy looking at your cock and masturbating," I mumbled.

The guys burst out laughing. Gerry slapped Snake on the back, Wendell high-fived me. I only knew I'd said that out loud by their reactions. I joined in the laughter but felt hollow. Honey had masturbated to Snake's cock. I would still check her phone to see if I was right, but I knew I was right.

I set the little black box in my locker. We got dressed and headed for the vats, spending a delightful day mixing caustic chemicals and praying we didn't get hurt. After, we showered. Snake said he'd gotten his dick hard for the picture he sent Honey. I could only imagine. I avoided even a glance at the thing, pretending to get shampoo in my eye so I didn't have to look. I dressed and cut across the parking lot. The shop was too busy so I slowed, keeping an eye on Honey until she looked up. She gave me a quick wink and I changed direction for my car. Inside, I sat my phone on the passenger seat and started the engine. I was still in the parking lot when my phone chimed.

Dinner at my parents', she'd written. Seven.

See you then, I sent.

I got home and ironed some clothes and tidied up my hair. I needed a professional cut. I killed some time online and then jumped in the car and drove. Honey greeted me at the door and we kissed and given the last few days, wow did that kiss feel good. Her eyes were filled with love. She was so genuinely happy to see me again. She slipped her arm through mine and walked me back to her mom and dad and they greeted me warmly. We caught up on work and life and then headed for the dining room. The food was almost ready.

An hour later we were finished. I helped clean up and then we retired to the den. We watched a movie and then moved to the backyard to enjoy hot chocolate around the fire pit and gaze at the stars.

I excused myself to use the restroom.

Honey had left her phone on the kitchen counter.

I went directly for it, punching in the password and quickly scrolling to her messages. There was nothing from Snake, which meant she'd deleted them, but on a hunch, I jumped to her photo album. I guessed she may have saved the picture while dumping the texts, and I was right.

I had to give him credit.

What a cock.

I'd seen it in the shower many times, soft, stretched by its own weight. In this photo, it curved upward. The thing was filled with blood, smooth, capped by a large helmet. Honey had masturbated to it. I took a picture of the picture with my phone and then had a thought: did she have some from the time they dated? I scrolled rapidly, flying through months and months of pictures. Friends, coworkers, nature, food, Socks. My girl took pictures of everything. Did she have pictures from her time dating him?

Yup.

I needed to hurry so I did. There he was across the table at a restaurant. There he was coming out of the lake wearing swim trunks and a smile. They'd dated for a while and she had all the usual pictures one takes to capture pleasant moments. I continued to flip through them.

There he was stepping out of her shower.

There he was holding his cock like a sword, laughing, goofy.

There he was three inches deep in her mouth.

Honey's love of sucking cock could not be denied. She'd obviously handed her phone to him and dropped to her knees. He'd taken the next few pictures, capturing my girlfriend orally adoring his hanging beef. The last photo, before the picture of a tray of beautifully arranged sushi, was her looking up into the lens, lips stretched around his growing bulk, eyes locked on his as she gave him the sight of a lifetime: half his swollen dick buried in her mouth. I took pictures of these pictures too. I realized with a jolt she'd most likely sent him these after taking them, so he had them on his phone, also.

I quickly closed everything, replacing her phone exactly as I'd found it.

I went and took my piss.

Back outside around the fire pit the conversation was light and humorous. My mind boiled. I had a head filled with images of the girl I love, currently seated next to me and holding my hand, sucking another man's cock. We all have a past. She said they'd never had intercourse and I believed her. Of course she'd done with him the same things she now did with me. I'd known that, logically, but never imagined those things. Now I didn't need to imagine. Now I had crystal clear visions of the actual events, visions which would not leave me alone. I wondered if checking her phone had been unwise. Perhaps ignorance would have been better.

"You okay?" Honey asked.

"Yes," I lied, kissing the back of her hand. "Thinking about work."

She laid her head on my shoulder.

Conversation continued around the fire but my mind was elsewhere. A conviction had sunk its teeth into me and grew stronger by the second: I needed to marry Honey. I needed to make her mine, permanently. I needed to marry her and love her forever. I looked down at her sweet face. She gazed into the fire, listening as her mother spoke about some vacation they all took years ago. Firelight warmed her skin. She was beautiful. Mom stopped talking but I took a moment to realize it. I looked up. Her mother was gazing at me lovingly, eyes soft and misty.

"That," Mom said. "Is how every mother wants her daughter to be seen. You love my baby, Noah. I see it in your eyes and on your face."

Honey turned her head to see what her mother meant. I went deer-in-the-headlights on everyone. Honey gazed at my face.

"I do love your daughter," I admitted. "With all my heart."

Honey hugged me fiercely.

"I love you too, Baby," she said.

Mom and Dad looked happy, content their child was in good hands. The conversation continued but there was something special in the air now, something warm and intimate. At the end of the evening Honey walked me to my car. We kissed and held hands. I checked the house and there was Mom, second story window. I was about to tell Honey how much I loved her but she started speaking first.

"I miss your dick," she said.

I laughed.

"Seriously," she insisted. "Like, my mouth is watering right now knowing it's this close. It's right there, hanging behind your jeans."

She patted my crotch and I twisted away.

"Your mom is watching."

"So? She can't see through your car. Let me feel it. Can you get hard?"

"Easily," I said. "I'm horny a lot these days."

"Me too! Me and Tammy and Regina get so much attention now. It's crazy. Jared has a crush on me and the guys at work flirt all the time. I was uncomfortable at first but now I like it. I wish I could see you more often."

"Maybe you should move in with me? Your parents could make extra money renting the casita."

"Maybe you should move in here," she said. "My place is nicer than your trailer. Plus, we have more room."

"That's true, but Mom and Dad so close will kill our privacy."

"That's also true. Doesn't matter, though. We can't live together unless we're married, so . . ."

She let her voice trail off. I seized the moment, pulling the little black box from my pocket and dropping to one knee. Honey's eyes went huge. Her hands came up to cover her mouth.

"Honey," I began.

"Say yes!" Mom screamed from the upstairs window. "Say yes!"

Honey and I burst out laughing.

"Yes!" Honey yelled. "Oh my God, yes!"

I stood and we hugged, jumping with delight. She started crying and I did too. We squeezed each other tight, laughing on top of our tears.

Chapter 8

Jared picked her up at eight. She wore my engagement ring when away from work or not on a date, so her finger was bare right now. I'd left my car around the corner and walked to the park across the street, hiding behind the trunk of a towering Western Hemlock and spying on my now fiancée. Honey wore a pale blue slinky knit dress and looked like a movie star.

Ever since she'd said yes and become my fiancée, she'd grown bolder in her flirtations, both on her dates with Jared and at the coffee shop. She'd told no one about our engagement, not even the girls. The shitty AC was broken again but now they all knew how to handle it. I think knowing I was determined to marry her gave Honey the courage of certainty. She felt more like a woman and less like a girl and that made her braver, feistier. She felt secure.

Honey's dad reached out to his brother and I had a job waiting for me in Spokane. Money would be tight for a little while but we could get away from the shit job I had and the control Marcus exercised over us all. Honey said she'd go out with Jared a little longer and then break it off with him. She'd warned Tammy and Regina. I believed her, but I wanted to see how she acted with him now, which brought me to the foot of this Western Hemlock.

Jared bought that dress for her and she was wearing it for him. It was tight, flowing around every curve like a coat of paint. Her breasts wobbled more than usual and that meant she'd skipped a bra tonight. Again. Mom and Dad must be out with friends.

She might be about to crush his heart, but she was going to thrill him first.

Funny how a busted AC led to her shedding some naivety. He held the car door open for her and she took his offered hand and I noticed a lot of side-boob in the cutout under her armpit. She looked so good dressed like that I knew this guy would have blue balls in less than an hour. She kissed his cheek as she dropped into the passenger seat. He jogged around and off they went.

I went home.

Our engagement changed things for me, too. I was jealous all the time now. Jealous, and horny. I'd mentioned to Honey that since we were betrothed it was okay if we made love. There was no longer a need to wait.

"Don't stumble so close to the finish line," she'd replied, breathing warmly in my ear. "Just imagine our honeymoon night."

She'd hinted that tonight's date with Jared might be the last. She'd take some time to read his mood and then, if the timing felt right, share the bad news.

"After I have fun with him first," she'd added.

I'd assumed that meant a lovely dinner and conversation but now, after watching her walk to his car and seeing what she wore, the attention given to her hair and makeup, I wasn't so sure.

I remembered how she got horny and asked Snake for a picture of his dick. Would she do something similar tonight? Some grand farewell? Would she try for one last encounter before settling down with me forever? And what about Jared? Would he quietly fade away? If he had real feelings for my girl, and it looked like he did, her decision would be a huge disappointment. Would he try for something to remember her by? These ideas ate at me. The grains of truth made me worry.

The walls of my trailer began to close in.

My agitation grew. Angst soured my stomach. In minutes, I'd convinced myself she was allowing him to touch her. What was the harm? It was their last date, after all. Throw the man a bone.

I imagined his hand cupping her breast.

"Damn it!" I yelled.

Most of their dates had lasted about two hours. I shouldn't text her and I had no idea where they'd gone to dinner. If she broke the news and he got angry, their date could end any minute. I grabbed a bottle of water and threw on a black sweatshirt. I drove over to her place and parked a block away. I walked calmly until I was close and then stepped into the bushes and trees, carving a trail using the light from my phone. It was well after sunset so the lights were out in her parents' house.

At last, I arrived at her window again. I killed the volume on my phone and settled in to wait. I wanted to talk to her the minute he dropped her off. I had to know what happened.

Minutes passed slowly. I raised my head like a prairie dog at each passing car. I shielded my phone and read the news and visited some sites and played some games. My legs went stiff and my back hurt before I finally heard the rumble of Jared's sports car. I couldn't see the front of the house from my hiding spot so I listened for any argument. I heard nothing but the shutting of car doors. The window rattled a little as Honey opened her front door and entered, with Jared close behind. I studied him carefully, surprised she'd allowed him into her home. He dropped his car keys in a bowl by the door without looking, revealing to me this was not his first time inside her place. I'd stopped asking for details about their dates after the second or third but never imagined she'd bring him home.

Honey began removing her earrings. They were talking freely, laughing, chatting, utterly comfortable around each other. I suspected she'd not told him her decision after all. She sat her earrings on the kitchen counter and opened the fridge, pouring them each some orange juice. She carried the glasses into the living room. She stepped close, lifted her arm, exposed a wide swath of side boob, armpit, and ribs.

She tilted her head back.

They kissed. On the lips.

My hands curled into fists.

He'd left her holding both drinks, arms out to her sides. Now he cupped her breasts, just like I'd imagined, except reality was a thousand times worse. His fingers dented the pale blue dress, pressing into her firm flesh. Her eyes closed slowly. She was not surprised. She was not shocked. She made no move to retreat.

All that told me he'd already touched her breasts many times before.

He began to caress them, palms gliding, lifting, thumbs teasing the nipples beneath the fabric. Twin points rose. She continued to hold the glasses of orange juice, allowing his touch to roam wherever he wished.

I had a belly full of broken glass.

One hand left her tits and headed south, slithering over flat tummy, snaking around to cup, squeeze, and lift each firm butt cheek. Her hips pulled away when he tried to come around in front and rub her pussy but after a second she relented, allowing him to drift a palm over her mons. He pressed a finger against the dress and sought her clit. My fiancée began to squirm. He knew enough to stay on top of her dress and I thanked God for the small favor. I'd ask her if anything happened but there was no way to admit what I'd seen without incriminating myself.

At last he took a step back. He lifted his drink from her hand. They were both grinning mischievously when they took a sip. They were still grinning when I saw her lips say my turn and she set her glass on the end table. She kissed him again as both hands went to the front of his pants. Seconds later she pulled his penis through his fly. No on-top-of-the-clothes restriction for her. She jerked his bare cock in her bare hand and I ground my teeth. I wanted to break in and hit him but that would rain disaster on both our lives. No, I had to stand in the dark and take it.

He grew at her touch, like any man would, and soon his shaft arched gently out from his pants. Honey dropped her gaze to stare at it, watching her hand glide up and down the length. After a minute, he was so hard he pulsed. The head had swollen and flared, a deep purple cap on the end. She stopped jerking to smear away a drop of precum, spreading the liquid around the shiny head. My fiancée seemed hypnotized by the dick in her hand, but her expression looked like she wrestled with the guilt from what she did.

He took a sip of OJ.

She bent at the waist to suck his cock into her mouth.

My eyes bulged. My jaw dropped. Her cheeks dented as she slurped on him. His eyes closed. His shoulders sagged. Honey worked her lips down his shaft until she took pubic hair into her mouth. Jared was afraid to move, afraid to break the spell. Honey sucked extra hard and slowly retracted, exposing his shiny dick inch by inch. When she reached the head, she sucked hard again and her lips slid down to the root once more.

She kept his cock in her mouth as she moved to her knees. She slipped an arm free, pulling her elbow backward and slipping the short sleeve off her shoulder. She did the same on the other side and then rolled the knit dress down and over her tits, freeing those perfect babies for Jared to see. Her dress slid in a ring around her waist. She rested her hands on his hips to help guide his cock in and out. She opened her eyes to look up at him and he sensed it, opening his eyes to look down on her. They both grinned. She grinned around his cock in her mouth. I thought about throwing a rock through the window. I thought about breaking off the engagement. How could she do this to me? Was this some sowing of last oats? Was this her goodbye gift to him?

She moved her hand to play with his balls and then popped him out of her mouth to suck his scrotum. She sucked a testicle and gently swirled

it. She sucked harder and drew her mouth away, stretching his scrotum. She let the nut leave her mouth with a soft pop. She repeated the treatment on his other testicle and then returned her mouth to his shaft, sucking and bobbing.

At last his legs began to tremble. She knew he was already close. She continued sucking until the last possible moment, trying to time his ejaculation, but missing by half a second. The first blast shot into her open mouth, landing far back on her tongue. The rest she jerked out of him, aiming his dick to paint her big luscious tits white. I expected her to spit the sperm that landed in there but she merely licked her lips repeatedly, as if tasting something strange. She must have accidentally swallowed what he gave her.

I decided to end our engagement. I didn't know her reasons for doing this and I didn't care. Maybe she was letting him down gently or showing him what he would miss. Maybe she was simply horny and thought she could get away with it.

I. Didn't. Care.

Honey spread his seed all around her succulent tits, mauling her breasts and teasing her nipples. For a minute, they gleamed like marble. She kissed his deflating penis and stood, slipping her arms into her short sleeves again and adjusting the dress. Jared sat his drink on the end table and kissed her and backed her against the arm of her couch.

My turn, he said.

Honey was confused until he crouched. She tried to lift him under the arms, telling him no, no, no, but he evaded her, lifting the front of her pale blue knit dress and pulling her matching panties aside with a finger. She was still trying to stop him when his tongue found her pussy. He licked her and then tilted his head back and I knew his tongue had slipped inside. Jared was licking inside my betrothed. Honey shuddered and groaned. She braced her hands on the couch. Her thighs parted slightly. Jared read the signs and forced his shoulders between her legs, burying his face in her crotch, feasting on her juicy pussy. He was clearly an expert because Honey stopped pushing him away, overcome by the pleasures he caused. She hooked one leg over his shoulder and down his back, pulling his body closer. Her nipples rose, tenting the dress. Her head fell backward. Her eyes closed. Her mouth opened.

Her body snapped rigid, every muscle standing out. Her head twisted and rolled. She bit a fist. Her stiff nipples turned into diamond cutters. Her chest heaved and then she cried out, loud enough I heard through the dirty double paned glass.

"Fuck!" she howled, grabbing his head. "FUCK!"

The man was making my fiancée orgasm. Him, not me. When I've tried to go down on her she's brushed me aside. For him, she orgasms.

She looked stunningly sexy, I'll give her that.

I was seething. I was hurt, angry, and outrageously jealous. I wanted to fight, to kick his teeth in.

Still writhing with pleasure, she yanked the front of her dress down, freeing her big tits. She grabbed them, squeezing, whimpering as his tongue kept her climax going. She was so wet he slurped, feasting on her tasty juices.

At last she shoved him away, shamed, crossing her thighs and dumping her tits back inside her dress. Guilt had finally overcome the rush.

"No more," she whimpered, pleading.

He stood and wiped his wet face, pleased with himself.

"You have to go," she said. "This never should have happened."

He thought about arguing with her but decided not to. He leaned in and kissed her on the mouth. She returned the kiss and then gently pushed him away.

"Go," she said.

He gulped some orange juice and grabbed his keys. He blew her a kiss and departed. I expected tears once he closed the door but no, she wasn't that upset. She locked the door behind him and dropped into her favorite chair, shaking her head. She sat only a moment before moving to the bathroom. I lost sight of her but when she reappeared, her dress and hair were perfect again. She plucked her phone from her purse and typed. My phone buzzed.

Come over, she'd written. Use the side gate. I miss you and I'm dying to suck your dick. I NEED it.

So, that's how she would placate her guilt. I had a choice to make. Forgive and get a blowjob or remain indignant and lose a fiancée AND a blowjob. Maybe I'd let her blow me and then break up with her, although that thought made me immediately sad. There was no way I wanted to lose her. I hated what she'd done. I didn't understand how she could say yes to marrying me and then suck Jared's dick, but the idea of breaking up with her crushed me. I needed to find a way to talk to her about it, learn why she'd done it.

Be right there! I sent back.

My dick was already beginning to rise. Despite what I'd witnessed mere minutes ago, I was horny. Was I horny because of what I'd just witnessed? That made zero sense but a whispered voice tickled the base of my skull. Honey had looked stunning. The sex had been passionate and raw and spontaneous.

I waited the right amount of time and then crawled from the bushes. I plucked some leaves from my clothes and dusted myself off. I was about to get some serious dick-sucking and I planned on making her pay. I can't imagine my life without her and I couldn't think of a way where I could tell her what I'd seen and what I knew she'd done, but I sure as hell could take it out on her.

I ran around to the side gate and slipped through the yard. Socks saw me but only wagged his tail and laid down again. All the lights were off. I tapped on her front door. She opened it a crack.

"Who goes there?" she hissed. "A villain most foul?"

"Yes," I hissed back.

"Awesome," she chuckled. "I like me some villains."

She yanked the door wide and grabbed my shirt, pulling me inside for a hot kiss. I kicked the door closed behind me. She wasted no time, untucking my shirt and grabbing at my pants. I helped her help me undress.

"Hurry," she whimpered. "I need dick to live. A witch placed a spell on me. I've gone too long without."

No, you fucking haven't, I thought.

I shoved my underwear down and she vacuumed my already partially erect penis into her mouth. God! I forgot how good that felt. Jared had enjoyed the same only minutes ago. I held her head, my penis stiffening faster than ever, and started fucking her mouth. She obediently accepted my dick. Emotions swirled. I felt hurt and betrayed but also angry and horny. I grabbed a handful of curly hair and forced my dick to the back of her throat. She choked and I felt bad. I immediately started to back off.

"Nomph!" she said, grabbing my wrist to keep my hand in her hair.

She slipped me free for an instant.

"Do it again," she panted. "Use my mouth."

She wanted her mouth fucked. I understood why. I moved to stand over her kneeling body and angled my dick down. I held her head, gazed into her pretty eyes, and slowly pushed my dick deeper. Her face flushed. Her eyes watered. She gasped and grunted and struggled to take as many inches as possible. She wanted to be punished just like I wanted to punish her. She sucked air through her nose. Spit drooled around my dick to drip to her thighs. She looked nasty and hot. I started pumping my hips, sawing my dick in and out, and she relaxed her throat, eager to take what I served. I wondered if I could get away with cumming down her throat. I could just pretend I was too excited to pull out. I gazed into her pretty eyes and pretty face and realized I didn't have that in me. I was hurt and angry but that was using her much too far.

I was ready to cum quick. I'd seen too much. My feelings about her and Jared were unsettled and my approaching orgasm pushed all other concerns out of my head. I worked my hips as I felt the semen rise and kept going. The tingling and tightening grew so intense I lost my place in space and time. My climax was still building when I oozed a glob of sperm down her throat. It felt fantastic. The rising sensations overpowered everything else.

"Nuagh!" Honey moaned, slapping my thighs.

I whipped my dick free and took over with my hand. She nuzzled my balls from below, licking wildly as my orgasm hit. Sperm fountained out of me, flinging and flying as I jerked rapidly. I cried out, legs wobbly, seized by blinding pleasure. Flashes of Jared in her mouth fueled my climax, tormenting me, crushing me, yet simultaneously portraying Honey sexier than she'd ever been. The hurricane of emotions was confusing but the singularity of my powerful orgasm was not. My back arched as I ejaculated a gallon of jizz. Beneath me, spattered and drenched, Honey giggled with delight at what she'd made me do.

I staggered back to fall into her chair. She followed me, crawling between my legs to give me no respite. My dick entered her mouth and a million volts wracked my body. It was too much, pleasure so intense it threatened to burn out the circuits, but I forced myself to take it. My dick was covered in dripping semen yet Honey had me in her mouth. This was not the same girl. It wasn't the same as shooting into her stomach but it was a big step forward, and I wouldn't ruin the moment.

I was at her mercy, and she had none. My fingers and toes curled as she sucked hard on me. I writhed in her chair, desperate. My mind screamed to shove the girl away but I did not. She was laughing with joy at her power, at what she could do to me. I pounded the arm of her chair with a fist but took it like a man. Her tongue was everywhere: all over my tingling balls and sensitive shaft. She tortured the head. I softened until I was utterly limp.

At last she crawled onto my lap and kissed me and then snuggled, wedging herself under an arm, resting her head on my chest.

"I may have accidentally sucked Jared's penis," she murmured. "I'm sorry."

So, this was her plan. Drain me of everything and then confess, knowing I'd have no emotional energy for a response, knowing my lingering euphoria would blanket everything. Smart.

"Why?" I softly groaned.

"I broke up with him after dinner," she whispered. "He said he wanted a goodbye gift. He said he'd leave me alone if I gave him one. It's over now. Don't be hurt."

I draped a heavy arm over her shoulders.

"Okay," I said, with little energy for anything else.

She snuggled closer, kissed my chin.

There it was. She'd put it out there, brought it into the light. She had no secrets from me. She'd lied about his request. I heard that in her voice. She'd sucked him off because she loves sucking on dicks. It's simply her thing. But the breaking up with him part was true, so I clung to that.

Chapter 9

"This heat is killing me," Gerry said. "Hottest summer I can remember."

We waited in line with fifteen other men outside the coffee shop.

"Does have some benefits," he concluded.

I followed his gaze. All three girls, plus a new girl, Amy, wore bikini tops and shorts as they flew around the place making drinks. Honey flirted and joked, rested her big tits on the drive-up window sill, bounced around the small interior, happiest girl on Earth. Her shyness gone, her tits proudly on display. They, and that pretty face, brought her the attention she craved.

Knowing that Marcus planned on closing the place gave the girls a sense of reckless abandon. They wanted to cash in, make as much money as they could in the days they had left. Regina and Tammy went farther than Honey, wearing tiny bikini tops that barely covered anything.

Amy, was a babe. Her natural blonde hair was straight and long and her eyes an icy blue. She was the youngest but the least worried about exposing her body. Her nipples were covered with two pieces of electrical tape each and then a lace bralette on top of her firm tits. Delicious.

Marcus left the AC broken. He hoped to drive the girls out of the shop. He'd reasoned fixing it would induce them to put clothing on again and things would get back to normal but that hadn't happened. The girls had discovered the goose laying golden eggs. When it broke again, he left it broken. Now he tried a different tactic: burn them out. Summer heat built higher every day. The small building was an oven. Roast them out and then demolish the place.

My turn in line arrived. I bought my coffee, ogled the girls, and headed for my spot on the acid wash line. Across the yard, Snake exited the factory and Jared exited the admin building. We maneuvered around a pile of scrap metal, all three within two feet of each other.

What did we all have in common? Honey's mouth.

I shook my head and took a sip of coffee black. After that night Honey was astonishingly good at putting the Jared incident behind her. In her opinion we'd talked it out and everything was fine. She'd confessed and

I'd accepted her confession. I'd checked her phone repeatedly, as recently as yesterday, and there were no new pictures of dicks.

I was on the line about two hours when the floor manager came by to inform us there would be a brief meeting at two.

"Who's getting fired?" Arnie asked.

Chuckles all around.

"Marcus is buying everyone pizza this Friday after work," Bob replied. "The company did real good this year."

"Keep the pizza," Arnie quipped. "Give me a raise."

More chuckles but not too many. Arnie was flirting with danger.

"Just have your ass in a chair at two," Bob said.

The meeting was as Bob said it would be: an invitation to pizza. Almost everyone raised their hand and said they'd go. I checked my phone after work and found a text from Honey. The girls were invited too and Jared had asked if Honey would be his date.

I said yes, she'd typed.

Chapter 10

Mickie's was packed. The interior was all open space with barn décor. Evenly spaced wooden posts held up the ceiling. We sat at picnic benches covered in plastic red and white checked cloth. Pitchers of beer dotted every table along with giant silver disks covered in giant pizzas. Most everyone from work showed but people came and left in waves. They made an appearance, ate and drank and talked, and then headed home. Jared was stuck with Dad which meant Honey was stuck with Jared which meant I was stuck with Honey. I hung back in a corner with a few friends, playing darts or pool and keeping one eye on my fiancée.

Everything was fine until Marcus had a little too much to drink.

"Be a man," Marcus said to Jared, his voice rising. "I brought you the prettiest girl and you can't even keep her. She dumped you. You never even got her in bed. Do you like boys? Is that the problem?"

Managers from work were moving in fast. Marcus could make a scene. He's done it before.

"Shut up, Dad," Jared said.

"Can't handle the truth," Marcus slurred.

"Dad," Jared snapped. "Sit down and shut up. You'll ruin your own party."

Marcus stepped closer to the table. He plucked Honey's hand from the table and pressed her palm against his crotch.

"You need a real man?" Marcus asked. "Feel that. That's all man."

Jared exploded and Marcus yelled back and Bob the dayshift manager ran over to break things up. It was chaos for five full seconds so nobody but me noticed that Honey closed her fingers slightly to give Marcus a little squeeze. Leave it to my girl to follow orders. Father and son were separated, each to their group of friends. Honey left the table to comfort Jared. Marcus spoke angrily to his group, finally waving them off and heading out the front door. Honey got Jared calmed and then told him she would check on his dad.

"You guys need to shake hands and apologize," Honey implored. "Fathers and sons should not fight. Let me go talk to him."

My fiancée walked out the front door. Good luck, I thought. Marcus looked angry and the booze will keep him that way. I chatted with a couple friends but always kept one eye on the front door. When Honey did not reappear, I grew worried. Marcus was drunk and belligerent. What if he got angry at her?

I told my friends I was taking a piss and circled around to leave by a side door. I meandered through the parking lot, searching, and finally located Marcus leaning against his Mercedes. He'd backed into the parking spot along the far wall and now rested his ass against the trunk.

He looked down at something on the ground before him.

I saw a head of curly hair moving back and forth.

Arctic winds blew through me. I knew that motion. I knew that hair. Honey was sucking the man's cock. I slipped between vehicles to come around the back side. I crouched, shuffling forward slowly. I peeked around the bumper of a Ford truck. Honey was perched on her toes, butt resting on her heels, short denim skirt riding high on her thighs. She held the flaps of his open pants to balance herself. His thick cock was a veiny bridge from his hips to her mouth. She nibbled along one side before swinging around and nibbling up the other. She lapped at the large bulbous head like a lollypop.

"Just put it in your goddamn mouth," he growled.

He dropped a hand to the back of her head and pulled her forward.

She relaxed her jaw and let him slide in. She closed her lips around the lumpy shaft and sucked, drawing him out slowly. She made a few adjustments and began bobbing.

"Yeah," Marcus sighed. "That's what I need. Did you at least suck my son's dick? I hope he got that much out of you."

Honey nodded, humming a yes.

"Good," Marcus said. "Now you've had father and son. I know who has the bigger dick."

Honey wrapped both hands around the man's shaft and began stroking and sucking in earnest. She paused a moment.

"You do," she said, before sliding him in again.

"Goddamn right," Marcus grunted softly.

He closed his eyes and enjoyed my fiancée's skills. With so much experience and such a variety of cocks, she'd become kind of an expert. He thickened and stiffened and Honey struggled but he kept his hand on the back of her head. She was going nowhere. She worked his dick faster and with a genuine eagerness and soon Marcus was breathing hard.

"Yeah," he rumbled. "Almost there. Yeah. YEAH! Unngh!"

He firmly held her head where it was. Honey struggled briefly to get him out of her mouth but he was too strong.

"Take it!" he growled.

His hips jerked and he grunted again. Honey went rigid. His hips jerked again and her eyes got big and her throat muscles worked. She moaned.

"Take it all," he hissed, hips jerking again.

He was ejaculating!

I'd taken so long to realize it. He was shooting directly into my fiancée's mouth and she was gulping his load! My head spun. My eyes were glued. Honey sucked the cum out of his dick. She pulled up a huge load from his hairy balls, and drank all of it. The girl that always made me spray her tits was swallowing his seed because he'd ordered her to.

"Yeah!" he rasped. "Fucking good. You're a pretty little angel, aren't you?"

My girl just moaned softly, swallowing what he was giving her. Her head bobbed and her hands pumped and she drained those big balls right down her gullet. He finished and tried to nudge her away from his drooping cock, but she still had suction on him. His softening cock stretched like rubber. He shivered from the sensitivity and pushed on her shoulder.

"Leave it," he said.

Honey's mouth parted from his dick with a pop. The thing swung between his legs. He flopped the heavy meat into his pants and buckled up.

"My son's an idiot," he said. "Now I wished I'd fucked you."

"No intercourse," Honey murmured, disappointed at the loss of dick. "I love sucking cock but I'm saving myself for marriage."

"That's stupid," Marcus said. "Life is short. My wife died after Jared was born. Drunk driver. You never know. Live your life, silly girl. Take your pleasures. You postpone shit and next thing you know, it never happened."

He helped Honey stand. I ducked lower.

"I'll go find Jared," Marcus said. "I'll offer my hand and an apology."

"Thank you," Honey replied.

Marcus walked away. Honey watched him go and then licked her lips and smelled her fingers, testing. She rolled her tongue around inside her mouth like she was learning the flavor of something, which she was. I waited for a reaction of disgust but never saw one.

Her expression turned from curious to proud.

I considered stepping out and blasting her with what I'd just seen her do, but I didn't. I stayed hidden until she headed for the front door too. I gave her a minute to get involved with the people inside and then I slipped in through the side door again.

My fiancée is a slut.

Those words beat out a rhythm in my skull.

But she's saving her pussy for me.

That made me feel better. We're young and inexperienced. Maybe she wants to sample a few dicks before settling on one forever. Maybe I am such a great catch she wants to hold on to me but still play a little. Or a lot. Why didn't I feel the same? Amy was hot. I pictured myself fucking her. Nope. Couldn't do it. I could never take steps to make anything happen. I had Honey.

My friends were still playing darts. No one even noticed I'd been absent.

Across the room, I saw Honey take a big drink from her iced tea.

Wash it down, I thought. Wash Marcus into your belly.

Jared and his father were off in a corner, talking. They shook hands and Jared hugged his dad. He left the man standing there and returned to the table, sliding into an open spot next to Honey. They chatted while I lost a game of pool, and then they rose, heading for the front door.

Act two?

I used the same meandering path to exit the side door. Jared was parked closer but pointed at a corner, facing a copse of elms. I made an easy loop around a beat-up station wagon. There was some grass and a park bench in front of his car and I saw two people sitting in the dark. After a while they stood and crossed the field to a small maintenance shed, putting a building between them and Mickie's. I swung wide and came at them through the forest. A dim bulb over the entrance gave off enough light. They had privacy out here. Jared looked around to make sure they were alone.

"Suck me again," he said. "Like that time at your place."

"Tonight's date does not mean we're dating again," Honey said. "I'm just checking to make sure you're all right after that shit with your dad."

"I'm cool. He's always been like that."

"I'm glad you guys made up. Family fights are the worst."

"Every son fights his dad," Jared said.

They stood silent a moment.

"Come on," Jared pleaded. "Just a little. You're so incredible. I want to feel that amazing mouth again. I want to look into those beautiful eyes and see my dick right below. You're so hot."

He didn't wait for an answer. He tugged his zipper down and pulled his soft cock out. He draped it down his pants.

"Jared!" Honey exclaimed. "What the fuck? What if someone walks by?"

"Who? It's dark and after hours. No landscaper works this late. Just look at my dick. I know you can't resist. You can never resist. Suck it, Honey."

My fiancée sent her eyes around the horizon, checking for anyone. She traveled over my hiding spot without seeing me. She punched his shoulder.

"You're terrible," she said, giggling. "You think all you need to do is show me your dick and you'll get what you want?"

He did not answer. He waited.

"I'm not doing it," she insisted, folding her arms across her tits.

He waited. His dick rose a little. She glanced down at it.

"I'm not," she said. "I'm not."

He pinched the head and stretched it out, allowing the soft appendage to drape against his pants. Honey stared.

"Damn it," she muttered.

She slid her denim skirt up her legs and sank before him. She opened her mouth, ready to envelope his limp dick in blankets of wet and warm.

"I'll cum fast," he said.

"You act like that's doing me a favor," she chuckled.

He held her head. She let him do as he wished.

"Just so you know," she said. "You won't need to pull out. You can cum in my mouth now. Just stay in there when you go off. Makes clean up easier too."

"Seriously?" he asked, stunned.

"Yeah. I like it."

"Since when?" he asked.

Honey recovered quickly

"What I mean is I like the idea. Let's try it. I'll feel you spurt on my tongue, throbbing and jumping as your dick goes off. It'll be hot. Sexy."

She was describing her experience of only minutes ago with Marcus where she'd discovered something she loved. That looked promising for my sex life but it burned me that Marcus was her first. She'd swallowed that man's load with a moan. That would stay with me forever. I'd never be able to look him in the eye again without thinking about that.

She got to work on Jared's dick. He held her head and pumped his hips, now with the understanding he could fire whenever he wished. God, what a rush. His hips began to move faster until he was a demon, fucking my girl's mouth as if the Devil whipped him. He had no idea his sperm would join his father's in her belly. Honey did. That's what she wanted. This kinky twist got her off.

"Why do you love sucking cock so much?" he asked.

She pulled him out to answer.

"Have you ever tried it?" she joked.

"No," he scoffed.

"Dicks are alive. I love the way they look and feel."

She sucked hard on his head.

"I love how they change shape and get hard. I love how they spit seed. I feel sexy sucking a dick."

Jared chuckled.

"Geez," he said. "I wasn't expecting all that. How many have you sucked?"

She grinned mischievously, tapping his erection against her cheek while she pondered. This would be news to me too.

"Maybe ten," she said.

I was surprised. I knew about Snake, Jared, Marcus, and me. Who were the others? Men at work? Guys in high school?

"But I might be forgetting someone," she murmured, slipping his cock into her mouth again.

They were finished chatting. Things got serious. Honey sucked his dick with all the lust and passion she had and Jared watched, rocking his hips and holding her head. She got him there fast. He filled his lungs and his body tensed and he grunted something unintelligible and then his back hunched and he exhaled everything.

"Ooooooh God!" he groaned.

He was spewing in there. She was vacuuming his dick as it spat semen. His hips jerked. Honey slurped and sucked. He was filling her mouth and she was drinking him down. Like father like son. She jerked as she swallowed and he buckled against the metal door. He covered his mouth with both hands to keep from screaming. Honey worked his dick like she was starving, stroking pulse after pulse of steaming jizz up and out. He added his hand on top of hers and jerked himself into her mouth, moaning as he fed her. At last she let him go. He was wrecked. He could barely stand. Honey cleared her throat twice and wiped her mouth on her sleeve.

"That was a lot," she said, swallowing again. "You cum a lot."

"If you say so."

"You do. The most."

"Do I say thank you?" Jared mumbled.

"Probably a good idea."

"Thank you," he said. "Sweet Jesus, thank you."

She stood and adjusted her clothing.

"The pleasure was all mine," she teased. "You go in first. I'll come in later."

"Okay."

He meandered away, dazed, legs weak. Once again I wondered if I should step from the shadows and confront her and once again my feet remained planted. I do not know why. Honey checked her clothes again and mussed her curly hair. She wiped her glasses. She looked into the sky, stared at the stars.

"What an amazing night," she murmured.

I never wanted to fuck her so badly in all my life. To my eyes her cuteness was now layered with sexiness. There was but one reason to return to the party, and that was to see what Honey would do next.

"What are you doing out here?" the deep male voice said.

My heart jumped inside my chest. I was seen! Honey would know I'd watched her. This would ruin everything. I turned to see who spoke and Snake sauntered by me, oblivious to me hiding in the shadows. His eyes were fixed on my sexy fiancée.

"You just getting here?" Honey asked.

"Yeah."

"Late, as usual."

He stopped four feet from her, a cushion of space larger than normal, a silent display of the feelings he still had for my girl.

"They're lucky I came at all," Snake said. "I hate these things."

"I remember."

They regarded each other.

"So, answer my question," he said. "What are you doing out here? You don't smoke. Someone piss you off? Do I need to hit somebody in the face?"

"You'd do that for me? Sweet."

"Fuck off."

"I don't bite, Snake."

"I do."

"So I've heard. Amy's a little young, don't you think?"

"It was her idea."

"You broke her. She missed a day of work."

"She's all right," Snake grinned. "She came back for more."

"Don't they all?"

"You didn't."

"The one that got away? I did at first. Then I didn't."

Snake looked her up and down.

"I still want you," he said, moving closer.

Honey stood her ground.

"Nice to hear," she said.

"You still a virgin? Word is you're doing things with that Jared douche. Owner's son? Thought you were smarter than that."

"Still a virgin," she said. "Not that it's any of your business. Jared is sweet and kind and I like him a lot."

"But not enough to fuck him."

"But not enough to fuck him."

"Don't wait too long, Honey. Those looks won't last long. You better find a man while you got options."

"Maybe I already have."

Snake heard something in her voice. He studied her face.

"That had the ring of truth," he said.

"Ring is an excellent word."

He studied her again.

"You're engaged," he stated. "You ain't wearing the ring but you are."

She said nothing.

"I'll send you another picture of my dick as a wedding present."

"That was a moment of weakness," she protested. "I shouldn't have done that."

"No worries. I know how you are. I hope your new man does too."

She looked troubled.

"He doesn't," she said. "Not yet. I'm trying to get all that under control."

He took another long look at her.

"You won't. You'd suck it right now if I took it out," he said.

"Probably."

"Tempting."

The sexual tension was skyrocketing. The air around them crackled. I felt it all the way back here.

"I swallow now," she said, softly.

Snake scanned the area.

"Fucking hell, Honey," he growled. "Hit a guy where he's weakest."

"What will Amy say?" Honey taunted.

"She's not my girlfriend."

"You just use her for sex."

He laughed.

"You should have seen that girl," he said. "She used me."

"I guess that's what women have to do these days."

They stared at each other.

"I got your Kryptonite," he said.

"I know you do," she muttered. "Why do you think I stayed with you so long? We have little in common. I was there for your dick."

"But you never let me fuck you."

"No. I told you from the beginning."

"Now your new husband will get that treat."

"He's going to love it," she said, and meant it.

Snake moved closer, close enough her breasts brushed his chest.

"But he hasn't gotten it yet," Snake said.

Honey's chest rose and fell. Her lips were parted as she breathed through her mouth. Her eyes were locked on his and I was sure that walk down memory lane had fixed his cock firmly in her mind. How horny must she be right now? Boiling. First Marcus and then Jared, all for them and nothing for her. Her pussy was drenched; I was sure of it. Would she blow Snake too? Her eyes said yes.

"All I have to do is show it to you," Snake murmured. "That's it."

Honey squirmed.

"Why are men such bastards?" she chuckled.

Snake began walking a slow circle around her; a panther stalking prey. Honey hugged herself and squeezed her legs together, moving her eyes to follow his path. He circled once and then started around again. Halfway through, he moved closer, kissing Honey on the back of the neck. Her right leg trembled. He moved in close, spooning her where she stood. He lifted her arms and circled them backward around his neck, arching her back and thrusting her tits out and up. He ran a fingertip down her arm, through her armpit and across her ribs. When he reached the hem of her short denim skirt, he palmed her thigh, on the outside going down, sweeping around and on the inside coming up.

His hand disappeared under her skirt.

"Please," Honey whimpered. "You know I can't say no to men like you."

"I know it," he rumbled.

"Then, please, stop."

His arm moved gently and Honey gasped. He had to be stroking her pussy through her panties.

"Why are you so wet?" he asked. "Is that all because of me? Or were you out here with someone else?"

"Someone else," she gasped.

"Where'd they go?"

"I sent them away."

"But you're soaked. Did you suck them off first?"

Honey whimpered. Snake was touching her tenderly, in all the right ways.

"Yes," she whispered.

"How many?"

"Two."

Her voice was so soft I barely heard her. His hand was up there, petting her sweet pussy. He turned his body slightly to reach farther up but also to liberate the front of his pants. He drew his zipper down with his free hand. Honey had no idea. Her attention was purely on what he was doing to her under her skirt. He pulled his heavy cock out, keeping it away from her so she remained oblivious. He played with her pussy.

"Someone else, but not your fiancé. That's my guess. Am I right?"

"Yes," she admitted.

His teasing hand was melting her.

"Which means you're hiding him from the coworkers inside and you'd only need to do that if they know him, and if they know him, then I know him."

"Shut up."

He scattered gentle kisses on her nape. His hand stayed busy. Honey's eyes were closed. She breathed deep and slow. He murmured occasional flattery: how pretty she was, how sexy she was, how excited she made him and the other men at work, how they talked about her when she wasn't around. He stroked his dick as he talked, unbeknownst to her, getting solid and big. The hand under her skirt lightly tugged and her panties appeared, pushed down to make rings around her knees. His hand went back under, playing with bare pussy now. His thick erection waved in open air. Focused on his fingers, she was unaware when he dipped his hips to swing his rock-hard cock under the edge of her skirt. He brought the thing up between her legs, spooning her again.

I could barely breathe. His naked cock had to rest against her naked pussy. There was no other place for it to be under there. His arm moved as he maneuvered things around and then Honey rose on her toes, eyes opening.

"Shane," she rasped, using his real name. "God, is that you? Baby, stop. Please. You know. You know I'm saving it. Jesus, Shane, I can feel the heat off your dick. You're so close. You're too close. Baby, please."

"Don't you want to feel what Amy felt?"

Honey chewed a lip. She was shaking all over.

"I do," she whimpered. "I do, but I can't. I can't. Please."

Yet she made no move to run. She made no move to push him away. She made no move to stop him. She made no moves at all except to stay where she was, body pressed to his, hard cock perilously close to penetration. I was sure she felt his shaft throbbing with her pussy lips.

"You feel that?" he asked.

"Yes," she gasped.

"What am I doing?"

"You're rubbing the head around my wet hole."

"Does it feel good?"

"Yes."

"Does your pussy feel empty?"

"Goddamn it, Shane."

"Does it?"

"Yes," she whispered.

The muscles along his arm stood out. He did something under her skirt. Honey gasped loudly. His arm pulled away and he gripped her bare butt cheek, lifting.

"No," she whimpered. "No, no, no, no, Shane, shit, ahh, fuck, mmmm."

He eased her lower.

"Just let it happen," he droned. "Feel it."

Snake lifted his hips slowly. Honey gasped. Her expression contorted like she might cry, but she didn't.

I pictured her pussy spreading around his spear, gradually impaled.

"That hurts a little," she moaned. "But feels so good."

"Give it a second," he said. "You just need more of it in you. Once your pussy has something to hold onto, you'll love it."

My heart pounded. I was sweating. Every breath fogged the glass before me.

He carefully moved both hands to her hips, as if worried she'd bolt if he moved too quickly. He lowered his hips a few inches and then lifted again, cautiously, taking care not to frighten the baby doe. Honey's expression gradually shifted, twisted now by pleasure. He moved deliberately, sluggish, leisurely winning her over. He withdrew briefly then sank it home once more. Her whole body sagged against his.

"Ooooh," she moaned. "Oh, fuck, that's— That's— Oh my God, Baby."

He pulled out and then sheathed himself again, then did it again. Over and over, each time reaching a little deeper, each trip a little farther up inside her.

My fiancée was a virgin no more.

He'd taken it, not me. There was no undoing what he'd done, no reversing time, no way to take it back. Shane is, was and would always be, her first.

Her expression was blissful: brow furrowed, jaw slack. He pumped his length slowly, watching her reaction, long, smooth strokes probing her depths. He was pleased what his cock did to her. She left this world behind, savoring the sensations of his thick cock gliding inside, rubbing her walls, filling her, delivering sensations she'd never known, sensations she was feeling for the first time.

He held her up with his strong arms, held her close, cherished the feel of sweet Honey wrapped around him. He'd wanted her for years. They moved together, standing up and in full view should anyone happen by, lost to the passion and mutual attraction they shared. Now set free, they drank each other in with agonizing leisure. They fucked in silence, Honey adrift.

She returned to Earth reluctantly, guilt at last asserting itself.

"Shane," she pleaded. "Baby, please, take it out. I can't— I just can't— It wasn't supposed to happen this way. Not with you. It wasn't— Ungh!"

Shane had withdrawn to the tip before sliding all the way in, packing her cervix and killing any protest. Her body went limp. All the air left her lungs in a rush. He pressed deeper, holding himself fully buried. She reached a hand around to push on his thigh, trying to back him away.

"That's too much," she moaned. "I can't take it."

"Give it a minute," he said. "Amy said the same thing. That's a lot of dick for a girl to take on her first time."

He began using short strokes, slow and steady. Waves of pleasure soon overwhelmed her. She was squirming in his arms, back arching.

"Baby," she murmured. "Baby, do I feel good too? Do you like my pussy wrapped around you?"

"You're fucking fantastic," Shane growled. "You're like hot, wet silk gripping every inch. I've wanted you for such a long time, Baby. Such a long time. I knew you'd feel amazing but I wanted more than that. I wanted to be inside you. I wanted you to feel me in there. I wanted us connected like this."

She closed her eyes, listening to his intimate words, body and mind focused on his gliding cock.

"It's a crime only two men will have you in this life," Shane added. "Every man alive should feel how perfect you are."

"Is that right?"

"Hell yes. Stuck with one man forever? You won't be happy. At first, yeah, but not year after year."

"Does sex always have this much talking? Shut up and fuck me."

"I want to keep fucking you, Honey. I'll visit after you're married. I got a friend you would love. I'll bring him too."

"Who? Clyde?"

"Fuck no. Sammy. Down in Elma."

She imagined herself fucking both as Shane pumped in and out. A shiver ran through her. She loved the idea.

"Your pussy squeezes me," he continued. "I love it. You're the gorgeous owner of a flawless pussy."

At last Shane was finished talking. Honey wrapped around him was finally too much to take. His face showed how thrilled he was to be the first man to have her. I was crushed. He'd stolen my treasure. I watched them fuck and realized, no, he wasn't stealing it. Honey pushed her hips back with perfect timing. She gave herself to him.

She rested a foot on a gas meter, turning her hips and unknowingly giving me a better view. His thickness stretched her virgin pussy wide. His dick gleamed. My fiancée was soaked.

"Don't cum in me," she warned.

"I won't."

"I mean it," she insisted. "I know how you are, Shane. Don't."

"I won't. I promise."

She relaxed. His promise freed her. She picked up on his rhythm again, moving in time with his thrusts. Soon she took over, hips rising and falling on his stiff rod. Now she was fucking him.

"You love it," he growled. "Like a fish to water."

"I do," she moaned. "It's wonderful."

He lifted her shirt by running his hands up her belly. He pulled her bra down in front. The night air hit her breasts and nipples rose. The added exhibitionism fueled a deep groan from down in her chest. They lost themselves. Shane took over again, holding her from behind by the elbows and fucking up into her body. His hips slammed her butt as he pounded her pussy. Her tits bounced wildly.

Slowly, her body began to stiffen.

"I feel something," she said. "Something— I feel—"

Shane hammered her hole.

"Don't stop, Baby," she rasped. "Something's happening. Ungh! Fuck! Shane!"

Her head snapped backward against his chest. He was slamming his full length into her, halted only by her deeply buried cervix. Her body shook with each thrust.

"I'm gonna cum!" she groaned, disbelieving. "Holy Fuck! I'm gonna— You're gonna make me— Here it— NOW!"

He hugged her with strong arms. Her body thrashed. He clamped a hand over her mouth and she screamed into it, body twisting wildly as her climax raged. Impaled on his cock, her orgasm ravaged her, body and mind. He pounded her tight hole relentlessly, fueled a massive spike of pleasure. She was dizzy, disoriented. She would have fallen if not for him holding her up. He leaned a shoulder against the small building and bent her forward, ramming his big cock over and over. She was overwhelmed.

"Now me," he groaned.

She howled something through the hand covering her mouth but pushed her pussy onto his cock. He pumped two times and then shoved all the way in. His body hunched over hers. His face was a grimace. Muscles stood out along his arms and legs. His ass trembled and shook.

Milky semen began to leak from around his shaft, dribbling to the small concrete porch under their feet. Honey squirmed wildly, his deeply buried cock throbbing. He expanded inside her and spit over and over. He pumped his cock rapidly several times and then buried it deep again and released a second barrage of sperm. Jizz leaked all around his fat shaft and dripped from his hairy balls.

I expected reality to rush in and crush her, but that did not happen.

He tried to withdraw but she grabbed his forearms and made him hug her. She wiggled her hips down his softening length, clamping her tight pussy around him. She smacked his leg.

"I told you don't cum in me," she scolded. "I knew I couldn't trust you."

"I'm sorry. I tried to pull out but couldn't. It's amazing inside you."

"It does feel amazing. I shouldn't have done it but damn, wow."

"You want to do it again?" Shane asked. "Give me a little time. We've already done it and I'm already in there. Too late to undo any of that. Since we've gone this far let's do it again."

Honey stared at the ground. Her mind raced. I could not believe she was thinking about it. So much for getting swept up in the moment. She reached under to cup his big balls. She hefted them, pondering, contemplating her situation. I had no idea what thoughts went through her head.

She reached a conclusion.

"Okay," she said. "But not here. Go to my place. Use the side gate."

He placed his hands on her hips and slowly extracted his cock from her depths. He pulled out of her tunnel with a slurp, still half hard and jutting from his hips. Semen dripped from the tip of his dick.

"I'll leave first," she said, pulling up her panties. "Give me some time and then follow."

I heard the strain of excitement and anticipation in her voice. She lifted her skirt to adjust her underwear and then smoothed everything in place. She kissed his cheek, took his hands, looked him in the eyes.

"This is tonight only," she said. "This changes nothing between us. Tell me you get that."

"I get it," he said.

She kissed his cheek again.

"I should have fucked you when we were dating," she said. "I put sex on a pedestal. I made too big a deal of it. Tammy and Regina tried to make me understand that but I couldn't. Now I do. Sex is awesome and I want more, but I still can't be with you. I love someone else and I'm marrying him."

"I said I get it."

"Okay. Good."

She glanced at the semen spattered on the ground. She wiped droplets of semen off her inner thighs. She shook her head ruefully.

"I knew you'd cum in me, damn it," she said. "You can't be trusted."

He merely grinned.

"I'm glad you did," she said. "Don't worry about pregnancy, I'll handle all that. I do not want a baby. I'll get the morning-after pill or something. Tammy or Regina will know what to do."

Shane tucked his dick away.

"You're not worried about them spreading rumors?"

"Not really," she said. "I know their secrets too."

"Good," he said. "See you soon."

She wandered off and pulled her phone out, typing a text message. I received nothing so it was probably to Jared to tell him good night. I moved full speed to my car. I'd get to her place first and slip into my spot outside her window.

I'd confront her about all this, but not now, not in the middle of it. I needed to see what she'd do next. I needed to know everything.

Chapter 11

I got there first, but Honey was a close second. The window was open to relieve the summer heat. She flew through her little two-room home, straightening, throwing dirty dishes into the dishwasher. She turned off the porch light. She rapidly stripped her shirt and skirt and threw her bra and panties at the hamper in the corner. She missed. I couldn't see what she did in the bathroom, probably brushed her teeth given what she'd done with father and son. She exited naked and aimed for the walk-in closet. She emerged wearing a pink, see-through baby-doll teddy she's twice worn for me. My stomach hit the ground. She looked in the full-length mirror and grinned. Her tits looked spectacular, nipples showing through the lace. Her pubic hair was a tidy slice of dark brown pizza.

All for him, my mind raged.

We heard Shane knock at her door. She took another look in the mirror, mussed her hair and nudged her glasses up her nose, and drew a deep breath. She stepped away to open the door. Over her shoulder I saw Shane, smiling.

"It's dark out here," he said.

"I do not want my parents to see," she replied, pointing at the house behind him. "They do not approve of you."

"I kind of figured that."

She swung the door wide and stepped aside. He entered. She closed the door behind him. He turned and saw in full glory the lacy number she wore for him.

"Jesus Christ, Honey," he said.

"Shut up," she said, pleased. She pressed a finger to his lips. "One night. Tonight. That's it. I'm doing something I should have done long ago."

"Treasuring your virginity is kid stuff," he said. "Religious bullshit."

"Stop talking. I don't care about your values or your viewpoints. Get undressed."

He laughed.

"Yes ma'am."

She folded her arms and watched him strip. He dropped his clothing on the floor as he went. Before his underwear came down, she stopped him.

"Outside Mickie's place it was too dark to see anything. I felt you but I never saw you. You know how I like dick. Pull those briefs down slowly. Give me a chance to say hello properly."

"You're so weird," he chuckled.

She waited and he realized she was serious. He hooked his thumbs and, trying hard not to look proud, pushed the boxer briefs down. My fiancée stared at his soft, hanging penis.

"Now that's a cock," she said after a moment.

He wrapped fingers around the base and lifted the shaft, aiming the head directly at her. He'd cum recently so his big balls hung low, stretching the scrotum.

"Biggest you've seen?"

"Biggest I've seen," she said. "Easily."

"That means I'm bigger than your fiancé."

"I know what it means," she said. "I'm not marrying him for his dick just like I'm not gonna start seeing you again for yours."

"You just like that it's big."

"I do. It's like more dick for the same low price. You were born with extra dick. Lucky me."

He laughed.

"A large dick automatically separates the men from the boys," she continued. "Or maybe it's just that you make every other man look like a boy. Whatever. What matters is I think the big ones are sexier, more manly, more exciting. They are definitely more fun to suck. Now I know they're good for fucking, too."

Shane released his dick and it swung to point at the rug. The heavy head hung lower than the balls. They stood in silence, regarding each other, keenly aware of what would happen here tonight. His dick began to fill and rise.

"What's that about?" Honey asked.

"You look pretty amazing in that outfit."

"You get hard just by looking at me? And call it lingerie, Shane. It's not an outfit. Also, thank you."

"Leave it on. I'm going to fuck you while you wear it."

She took a step to see herself in the mirror.

"I'd like that," she said. "That sounds hot."

He casually rested his hands on his hips. His dick kept rising the longer he looked at her. Her eyes fixed on the thing as it grew. She couldn't look away.

"Your Kryptonite," he said.

"My Kryptonite," she admitted.

He waited.

"You're such a bastard," she said, laughing. "I hate that you know me so well. I hate that I'm so easy."

"I love this part. You fight and fight but your mouth waters. You have no idea how hot it is that a girl as pretty as you can't resist my dick. It's like the best part of my miserable life."

He was filling with blood and turning darker. The cock I'd seen in the shower had arrived and it was impressive. I hated him and I hated his dick. I hated Honey's reaction to it. I knew this was probably the end of us. I knew I'd break our engagement tomorrow. How could I marry her knowing there was a man out there she felt this way about? A man who had this much control over her? A man who only needed to show his cock and she'd do the rest?

"Take your panties off," he said. "Leave everything else on."

"They're crotchless," she said.

She dropped a hand to spread the two parts of her panties, showing him the slit down the middle and the easy access to her pussy. She closed it.

"Ain't that clever," he mused. "Do you have lingerie you were saving for your honeymoon night?"

"Yes. A little white number I purchased in case he ever asked me to marry him. I've been saving it for a while, taking it out occasionally to see how it looks."

"Go put that on for me. You can buy something else for him."

"No."

"Do it, Honey. I want you in fresh lingerie. Something you've never worn."

She looked shocked and annoyed.

"Why would I do that, Shane?"

"Because tonight you're giving me everything you were saving for him. I want you to give me that too. Make your slutty betrayal a perfect circle."

"I'm not betraying him."

"No?"

"No. We don't say anything about forsaking all others until we take our vows. That's the line that divides. I'm not married until I'm married."

"You got everything figured out."

"Shut up. I'm not going to act married until I am married."

"Go put the fucking lingerie on," he insisted. "I bet you look amazing. Since this is the one and only time I get you, I want you looking like a model and shit."

"You think I'm pretty enough to be a model?"

"You're the prettiest girl in town, Babe. Amy might catch you in a few years. Might, but probably won't. You'll reign a long time."

She'd been looking into his eyes as they talked but now her gaze dropped to his erection again. He'd grown as hard as iron. His cock fascinated her.

"All right," she relented. "Wait here."

Goddamn it! I wanted to punch the window and scream at her to stop. Shane took his dick in hand and casually stroked, casting his eyes about her place. He saw the wad of bra and panties she'd thrown at the hamper and chuckled.

"Never could make that shot," he muttered.

Chapter 12

Honey emerged from her closet. I'd seen her hold this lacy teddy in front of her and look in the mirror, but it was on a hanger then. Wrapped now around her hot little body I almost wept. She was pure sex. Shane was right: in this small town, no girl came close to Honey's looks.

Shane staggered backward, eyes huge. Honey giggled, delighted by his reaction. Despite this terrible scene, despite witnessing my fiancée's infidelity and naked lust for another, my dick began to grow. She looked that sexy.

"Honey," he exhaled. "You're stunning."

She heard the certainty in his voice, the conviction. He was not feeding her a line because he wanted to fuck her. He meant every word.

She walked several steps in front of the man and then did a slow turn, showing him everything, showing him the pushed-up tits with their excited and swollen nipples and the thong panties separating her butt cheeks. She used two fingers to show him these panties opened at the crotch too.

"You look like an angel," Shane exhaled. "A sexy as fuck angel."

Honey laughed.

"I want a picture," Shane said.

"No way. My name is mud if that gets out."

"How about from the neck down then? To remember how you look."

"You mean to jack off with?"

"Yes," he laughed. "To jack off with. Over and over and over."

"All right," she agreed. "But I approve every picture or we delete it."

"Deal."

She let him snap a few, posing for him, pleased he'd use them later to jack off. She lifted a tit at the lens. She opened the split in her panties, exposing her trimmed pussy. She stuck out her ass.

"I want to taste you," Shane said.

Honey shook her head.

"Enough fooling around," she said. "Your dick's been hard forever and I'm tired of controlling myself around it. Come here."

He stepped closer, leaving his phone within easy reach on the end table. She leaned her body against his and tilted her head back for a kiss. He palmed a large breast. She circled his shaft with her fingers, barely controlling herself.

"We got so close to fucking, so many times," she said. "This beast was knocking at the door. I remember the pressure at my pussy."

"Goddamn Socks."

"Goddamn Socks. It would have happened if not for that dog."

"Socks interrupted us a ton of times," Shane said.

"Smart dog. He knew I wanted to wait. I probably would have ended up pregnant with you."

"Better late than never," Shane said. "I was still your first, just delayed, and that makes me happy."

They kissed again. Their sweet and tender kissing was difficult to watch. More difficult, in some ways, than her fingers wrapped around his hard dick.

"Technically, yes," she said. "But we were standing, out in the open, against a utility shed and next to a park. This here, what we're about to do? To me this is the real deal."

"I expected us to get right to it," he said. "On the drive over I imagined us jumping straight into bed. I thought we'd start fucking the minute I came through your door."

"So did I," she admitted. "Instead we're dragging it out, getting all nostalgic. I'm anticipating what's going to happen and it's turning me on. I find myself stalling. I can't wait to fuck you but I'm loving knowing I'm about to fuck you. Once we start, that goes away. I'm treasuring this."

"You can't wait to feel me inside you."

"I can't. I'm shaking all over. I'm going to allow you inside my body. My pussy is going to tease this gorgeous cock until it explodes. I'll feel you blasting away in there and I cannot wait."

Why the fuck was my dick hard? Honey looked incredibly sexy, true, but given the situation, that shouldn't have been enough. My fiancée was about to fuck some other man. I should be limp and enraged. I understood what Honey meant about anticipation. The wait was killing me too. That was bad enough. But then to know she was dragging this out because she was so excited for the moment she didn't want this to end, that the moment they started was also the moment the end began, made me wish I was dead. Or maybe Shane was dead. She wanted him so badly.

"I still want to taste you," Shane said.

"Maybe later," she said, bending at the waist to slip his cock in her mouth.

We watched as she curled her tongue around the head, tracing the crown, and then ducked under to drag her flat tongue along the bulge that ran from balls to head.

"Honey loves sucking dick," he breathed.

"Honey loves sucking dick," she murmured.

She stuck her tongue out to find the tip and then guide him into her hot mouth. Her lips sealed behind the head. She paused and withdrew him, making a face.

"That better be me I'm tasting and not Amy," she said.

"That's all you, Darling," he chuckled. "I showered after Amy."

"Was that today?"

"Yesterday."

"You fucked her yesterday and me today. Still the same player you always were."

"I did Gerry's wife an hour before I fucked Amy. I like mixing bitches on my dick. You know that about me. The point of owning a cock like this is giving it to every woman that wants it."

"It is kind of hot," Honey said. "It's so male. Women can't act so irresponsibly but men can. Men can fuck and run."

He pushed her head down. She got to work. The way she sucked Shane's dick was very different from the way she sucked mine. His was a struggle. She stopped to catch her breath often but she also stopped to admire the thing. With me she was always in a hurry to make me orgasm, enjoying the fact I found her so hot, I could cum quickly. With him she took her time. He'd cum eventually, she knew that, so she had time to enjoy his dick. She used both hands and her mouth, pumping the length of him while sucking hard. She licked every inch of his nut sack, resting his balls on her face as she licked his taint. She eased him into her mouth as far as she could and then masturbated, cherishing the throbbing meat poking her throat.

"Enough," he said at last. "Get on your bed. Get on your hands and knees."

"Do they call that doggie?"

"Yes," he said.

Honey scrambled to comply. In position, she smiled at him over her shoulder. He climbed on her bed and knelt behind her. He rested his curved scimitar cock in the crack of her lace-covered ass. The head towered over the smooth plain of her back. My heart climbed up my throat to my mouth. Nothing spoke of anticipation more than that sight. He was poised, ready. We all knew what came next. He grabbed her butt cheeks and spread them with his thumbs. Honey's labia parted and then her inner lips did too. He gazed at her pink wet insides. Honey was panting.

"Like what you see?" she whimpered.

"I see Heaven," he said.

A shiver ran through Honey's body. She was vulnerable and exposed, her virgin pussy in a man's face, a stiff and solid cock perched inches from her opening. Shane leaned down and wiggled the tip of his tongue into her puckered asshole. She yelped and jumped. He licked her sphincter until she squirmed. Honey moaned. Her body trembled.

"You're so nasty," she muttered.

"That's why women love me," he said.

"We don't love you," Honey breathed. "We love that dick."

He placed his cock in her ass crack again and rubbed through his saliva, wetting himself. He pulled her farther apart, opening both her holes. She was defenseless. She was laid bare. She whimpered, dropping her head to rest on the comforter. Her lace-covered titties spread to the sides.

"I have fantasized about this moment a million times," Shane said.

He sat on his heels and pulled her hips back and lower, bringing her pussy close to the bed and only an inch above his hard cock. His girth dominated her tight hole. He held her steady and lifted his hips. The tip of his cock split her labia and my fiancée gasped at the contact. He lifted higher and his cock began to sink into her. Honey moaned.

"You're soooo thick," she whined. "God."

He flexed his ass and his fat cock glided in, her wetness and the semen already in there lubricating him. He rose on his knees, bringing her hips with him, and his heavy balls swung low. He started a smooth pumping, hard and gleaming cock sliding in and out. Honey kept her head on the bed, ass high.

He grabbed his phone from the end table, snapping a few pictures of his cock buried in my wife to be. Her pussy was forced wide, gripping his shaft tightly. He pushed surrounding skin in when he thrust and drew surrounding skin out when he pulled back. Honey was moaning nonstop, wiggling her butt at him, overwhelmed with pleasure.

"You gonna let Sammy fuck you?" Shane asked. "His dick is big like mine. You'll love it."

She didn't answer.

"That would be so hot: innocent little Honey with two hard cocks in her. You gonna fuck us both?"

"If that's what you want," she whimpered.

Shane reached around to hold her hipbones and began driving every inch deep. Honey lifted her feet to her ass, keeping her knees on the bed, whining, but forcing herself to take all that dick. He hit a rhythm, holding her in place and stuffing her pussy before pulling almost all the way out only to stuff her full again. Honey had no words. The sounds he ripped out of her told me she was in ecstasy. He was driving her towards an orgasm and held steady until she reached it, screeching into the mattress. He slowed his stroke to help her get the most she could and then buried every inch and held it there. Honey lay breathless a long time.

"I'm going to fuck my husband every day," she muttered at last.

Shane pulled out and flipped her over. He collected her legs and held them straight up, sliding his cock inside her again. My girl closed her eyes, her expression pure bliss.

"I'm an idiot," she said. "I could have had this all along."

"You want to keep fucking me after you get married?"

"No," she blurted. "Of course not." Then, after a heartbeat: "Maybe. I don't know."

Shane held her at the ankles and pointed her legs at the ceiling. He worked his cock in and out. Honey clawed the sheets and moaned.

"You want to get on top?" Shane asked, sweat dripping from his chin.

"I wouldn't know what to do," Honey said. "Just keep fucking me."

My balls ached. I'd seen so much. Too much.

The night went on and on, starting way back with Jared. That felt like weeks ago. I released my erection from my pants just to ease the pain. The night air felt fantastic. I know I was only hard because of the wild and chaotic emotions that raged inside me, but I tugged my dick a few times anyway. Habit, I guess. Electric tingles exploded. My hand never felt so good. I had tons of stored sexual frustration.

Shane rolled her to a side. He stuck one of her legs between his and kept the other pointed at the ceiling. His fat balls grazed her inner thigh. She was spread wide in this position, pussy stretched sideways, making her even tighter around his girth. He shuddered.

"I won't last long like this," he admitted. "You feel too good."

"Cum whenever you want. You just need to be gone before sunrise."

I whimpered. Could I stay at this window all night? Could I go home knowing I was leaving Shane with her, fucking her, filling her with his loads? He pulled all the way out and moved between her legs, folding them behind his back.

"Cross your ankles," he said. "Pull me deeper each time I push in."

She did as she was told, learning fast. He mauled her tits right through the lace. He scooped her in his arms and they kissed and his hips rose and fell.

"I'm gonna cum," he growled.

"Me too," she gasped.

"I'm gonna shoot so deep inside you. You feel me getting harder?"

She nodded, grabbing his face and kissing him. She brought her knees under his arms pits. He slowed his hips, drawing close, and I reached for my pulsating dick. He slowed further, burying his cock and holding it in there for half a second before withdrawing and doing the same thing again. She pulled him closer, wrapping arms as well as legs around him.

"I'm close," she exhaled.

"Gungh!" he moaned. "Oh, fuck, here it is—"

His body jerked stiff as his hips slammed against her. Honey wailed. That big cock was inside her at that moment, spewing sperm everywhere, filling her womb. Over and over he sucked air and held it, emptying his lungs as he emptied his balls. My fiancée came too, riding his rigid cock and grinding her hips against his. They lay tangled, panting.

He moved first, rising over her on hands and knees. She lifted her head to watch his slippery prick slither free. Honey turned her body under him, shuffling towards the end of the bed, slipping his dripping dick into her mouth where she vacuumed the last drops from him. He fell onto his back but she was sure to keep sucking. She curled against his leg and nursed on his long meat.

I thought about leaving. I thought about driving home and letting them have each other. I thought about calling her and, if she didn't answer and I was sure she wouldn't, breaking up with her through a voicemail. I thought about a lot of the things I might do but I did none of them. I stayed at that window watching them fuck again and then again until, hours later, they were both so drained and exhausted they fell asleep naked on top of the covers. Honey held Shane's soft cock in the palm of her slumbering hand.

I slipped away and drove home.

Chapter 13

"Something's different," I said. "Something about you has changed."

Honey looked guilty as fuck. I started work before her today so I thought a quick good morning drive by her place for a kiss to start the day sounded sweet.

Actually, that was bullshit. I'd wracked my brain trying to find a way to confront her and this lame plan was all I came up with. Under the pretense of a kiss, I'd tell her I noticed she was acting different and hoped she cracked under the strain of lying directly to my face. If she didn't, I'd at least established a foundation to question her later.

"What do you mean?" she asked, buying time.

"You won't meet my eyes, you avoid touching me, you seem nervous and jumpy. It's like you're hiding something from me. Are you?"

I had the higher moral ground here. I could tell her; I hid in the shrubbery outside your window and watched you, and I'd still own the lesser evil, but I'd like to sidestep that admission if I could. My behavior was perverted and deviant and undermined my position with her. I'd rather no one knew about it.

"No," she lied. "Everything's fine."

I went fishing.

"Did Jared kiss you at the party?" I asked. "I'd try if I was him. Did he try for more than a kiss? I know I'm seeing something here, Honey."

She looked away, eyes on her shoes.

"Nothing happened," she murmured.

Fine. If she won't crack right now, I'll wait. I'll let guilt percolate until it boils over. Honey is not one for psych warfare.

"I'll leave the door open," I said. "If you think of something, tell me."

"Okay."

We kissed. I drove to work and checked the schedule, finding my place on the line in the acid-etching building. I did not visit the coffee shack at lunch. She sent a text an hour later saying she loved me and missed me but other than that we had no contact until just before I punched out. She texted again informing me she had errands to run after work and she'd call when she finally got home.

The hairs on the back of my neck stood up.

I was sure she was lying. Errands do not mean radio silence.

I went home and watched the clock until just before she closed the shack and then drove to her place. The sun had set by the time I took my place in the bushes. A lot could go wrong. If she truly had errands, I'd stand in these bushes like a fool for a long time. Even if she didn't have errands, if she was cheating on me, she might meet someone somewhere else, and, again, I'd stand in these bushes like a fool. But if I was right, if I'd read the nuances in her voice correctly, she was hiding something and she'd want a secure place to do it. But my gut told me I was right. I expected to see her and Shane any minute.

I was just starting to shuffle my feet with impatience when I heard her car pull up out front. I gave her time to greet the parents and Socks and then work her way through the house to the backyard and then to her casita. I was off by three minutes. She emerged from the house and cast a glance at the side gate before unlocking her front door and entering. She turned off the porch light again.

Inside, she paced nervously. She shed her sweatshirt and shoes and checked her short, tight top in the mirror. Her tits looked delicious. She then raised each arm and sniffed each armpit. Satisfied she didn't stink, she poured some orange juice. A soft knock on her front door stopped her from taking a drink. She set the glass down and wrung her hands, shook her fingers to loosen them and took a deep breath. She calmed herself before opening the door.

Marcus.

Marcus stepped through.

My mind exploded.

What the ever-loving-fuck?

Honey quickly shut the door behind him, checking first to make sure Mom and Dad and Socks did not see her guest.

Marcus seemed to fill the small room. He stood there, all cocky expression and broad shoulders. What the fuck was he doing at my fiancée's home? I think I may have growled. I was ready to fight, to hit him and scream at her. What the fuck was happening?

She locked the door and came around to stand before him.

"Convince me," he sneered.

"We need that job, Marcus. Don't close the shack. Your employees work harder and faster when they've had coffee. At least give us time to find other work. We—"

He raised a hand.

"Let me stop you right there," he said. "There's only one argument you can make that will reach me, and you know what it is."

Honey crossed her arms on her chest. She searched his face for mercy, but found none.

"If you have a plan," he continued. "Now's the time. I need to be somewhere in ninety minutes. At the Yard, you begged for an opportunity to convince me, to change my mind. This is it. What have you got?"

Honey tensed. Her expression froze. She grabbed the bottom of her shirt and peeled it over her head, big tits swinging in a flimsy mesh bra.

"That's a great start," he smirked. "What else?"

Honey reached behind and popped the clasp. Her bra fell to the rug. Marcus gazed at her fantastic tits but he was worldly. He'd seen a lot.

"Honey," he said. "Let me make this easy on you. Take off all your clothes so I can see that hot little body and then kneel and put my cock in your mouth. To consider your request, I'll need a blowjob first. Understood?"

My fiancée shivered with excitement. Marcus missed the sign but I read her clearly. He'd unknowingly stumbled onto her favorite button: being told to suck cock by a dominant man. I knew she'd follow his orders perfectly and, as I watched, she did. In moments, my girl was on her knees, his soft cock a bridge of flesh connecting her mouth to his body. He held her head with both hands and stared down. She sucked his limp appendage, licking the hanging balls and long shaft.

"Did my son ever fuck you?"

She shook her head, ducking under to slip a hairy testicle into her mouth.

"What an idiot," Marcus said. "Look at you: gorgeous. Sexy. Hot. I told him he better fuck your brains out or you'll dump him and that's what happened."

The man grew hard fast but with a girl like Honey slobbering all over your dick, who wouldn't?

"Stand up," he said. "Turn around. Bend over with your hands on your knees. I'm going to do what my son should have done."

"I thought all I had to do was give you a blowjob."

"I thought that too," he said. "But then I saw you naked. Let me fuck you and I'll leave the shack open. How's that sound?"

Honey stood. She stared down at the swollen cock poking her bare stomach. This was more than she imagined, more than she wanted to do, but that big cock waving in her face was changing her mind. She put her back to him and bent, resting her hands on her knees. Marcus marveled at the view back there, shaking his head.

"Honey, Honey, Honey," he mused.

He took his cock in one hand and spit a little on the other, rubbing the saliva on the tip of his dick. He held my breath. He held her hips to steady them both and stepped closer. Honey's back bowed at the contact and then Marcus pushed, his swollen cock sliding in several inches.

"You're soaked," he said. "Jesus. I didn't even need to wet my dick. You're drenched. You always get this wet for fucking?"

"No."

"You sure? I see on your face you don't truly want to fuck me. At least you think you don't. Maybe you like older men using that hot body? Maybe you like being forced a little bit? A lot of women do."

"Maybe," Honey moaned.

He circled her narrow waist with both hands and pulled her backward, pulled her onto his impaling cock. My fiancée melted. She groaned at the penetration, writhed a little from being stuffed with cock. Marcus shut his eyes, his expression changing to bliss as if he'd been touched by God.

"Damn, Honey, that's a sweet little pussy. I might fuck you again soon."

"Okay," Honey mumbled.

Marcus held her in his grip and began pumping. My girl's tits swung like udders, her ass and legs shook from each blow of his hips. He gave no thought to her pleasure, chasing only something for himself, but his disregard only excited her more. Honey stumbled and struggled to keep her balance but Marcus just hammered away at her. Her glasses slid down her nose to fall to the carpet.

Honey cried out as a massive orgasm suddenly ripped through her. Marcus threw his head back and laughed. He pulled her closer and reached his cock as far up in her as he could get it. Over and over he tried to stab her heart. Honey sobbed through her climax, delighted to be used.

When his orgasm hit, Marcus did not hold back. Pregnancy was not his concern. He turned the flood loose without reservation, blasting buckets of steaming semen up into her. He finished shooting as abruptly as he'd started, whipping his cock out to watch the milky fluid dribble out of her. He stepped back, leaving her shaking and struggling to balance. Strands of sperm ran down her inner thighs and the backs of her legs. He might be older, but he could still ejaculate a gallon of sperm. She remained bent at the waist, hands on knees, catching her breath and returning to Earth. She retrieved her fallen glasses and slid them on.

"My son's a moron," he muttered.

He left his dick hanging out of his pants.

"You bought yourself a month," he said. "I'll give you that. We'll reexamine the situation then. Tell the girls to keep looking for other jobs. Maybe I'll fuck you again and grant you another month."

"Okay," Honey said.

She stood, dropped her arms to her sides, clasping her hands in front of her leaking pussy. She looked innocent but I knew she was allowing him to look at her as much as he desired. She loved his eyes crawling over her body.

"Jesus," he muttered. "Unreal. Do me a favor. Trim all the hair off that sweet pussy. I want to be able to see it. In fact, shave or wax it bare. You've got the juiciest, most delicate little lips."

"Okay," Honey whispered.

My fiancée stepped closer and sank to her knees. She lifted his spent cock on her fingertips and slid him into her mouth, working the head towards the back of her throat. She moved slowly, taking as much dick as she could, breathing through her nose. Marcus watched, amazed. Honey sucked gently and then gradually worked her lips up the shaft, leaving him clean.

"I didn't even need to ask," he said, amazed.

"No," she agreed, stuffing his penis into his pants. "I kind of can't resist a cock hanging in my face. Jared figured that out at least."

"I love that you've sucked both our dicks. Does that turn you on?"

"Yes."

"Father and son. So twisted. I like it."

He kissed the top of her head and left her casita.

Chapter 14

"I messed up," Honey said, tears flowing. "I ruined everything."

"Tell me," I said.

We sat in my car and looked down on the lake. Some time had passed. After avoiding me at the Yard and over the phone, she'd come by my trailer after work. She said she had something to tell me but not where I live.

This will poison things and I don't want to poison your home, she'd said.

We'd jumped in my piece of shit car and driven out here. Honey still wore the bikini top she'd worn for her shift. I think she was trying to use her tits to influence me.

"You'll hate me," she said. "If I tell you everything you'll end our engagement and never speak to me again."

"Is that why you did what you did? To make me break up with you?"

"What? No! I did what I did because I'm weak. I have a problem and I try to resist but I'm not strong enough."

"What did you do?"

"I didn't just get weak one time and suck him off," she confessed. "I gave Jared a ton of blowjobs while we dated."

"Goddamn it, Honey," I barked. "I knew it! I knew something happened. What else did you do? You seem guiltier than that."

I knew, of course, but let's get it out in the open. She drew a deep breath.

"I fucked Snake. His name is Shane and I fucked him."

I knew it was coming. I knew the truth before she spoke it. Hell, I'd watched them together. But those words coming out of her mouth seared a scar onto my heart.

"Why?" I heard myself croak.

Tears rose to my eyes, surprising me. How much energy had I been using to suppress how I truly felt?

"Oh God, Noah, please don't cry. I'll die if you cry. I'll want to kill myself."

"I can't help it," I said. "We were saving something precious, something rare. You gave it to someone else? Why?"

She was crying harder now.

"I don't know!" she sobbed. "I've thought so much about it and still have no idea. I just wanted to so I did. He was there and naked and I got swept up. I just gave in to him."

I knew all the details but I asked for them anyway. She hesitated but I insisted. I wanted to hear her take, her angle on what had happened but I also needed time to process. She began with the first blowjob she'd given Jared. It was their second date! She'd caved right away and every time after that was easy. She'd start getting horny in the morning when she knew they had a date that night.

"You know how I am, Baby," she said. "You do it to me too. You take out your dick and order me around and I just do as you say, no questions asked. I'm a pleaser. A giver. If a man wants something from me I just give it to him."

"What about Shane?"

She told me everything there, too. Her truth matched what I'd witnessed plus some. They fucked again after I left the window to drive home. I thought the morning light would prevent such a thing, fear of the parents seeing Shane leave and all, but no. He woke hard and she swooped on it.

Marcus was difficult for her to admit. She was full on weeping as she confessed her lewd behavior. She tried to say she did it for the coffee shack and the girls but soon admitted she'd sucked his big dick in the parking lot, before she'd done the same to Jared, and simply wanted more of the older man.

"Father and son?" I asked, rubbing salt into her wound. "That's whorish."

"I'm a terrible, terrible person. Leave me, Noah. You have every right. I'll take all the blame."

I was tempted. The words were in my mouth. I felt the need to hit back, to balance the scales, but I couldn't speak them. She was a mess: bawling her eyes out, eaten alive by guilt, regret, and shame. I was a mess too. She'd ruined something beautiful and pure.

Here at last was my moment of hurt and anger and justice, my moment of retribution where I told her off, told her what a shit person she was and how much she'd hurt me. I'd thought about this scene often. I'd looked forward to it. I'd held it close as I'd watched her with others, telling myself I would have my moment in the sun. But I'd forgotten about love. I loved her, and seeing her suffering like this, although she was totally in the wrong, hurt me.

"Do you hate me?" she blubbered. "Are you going to leave me? Do you want your ring back?"

I wrestled with what to say.

I need some time, is what finally came out.

"I'm crushed," I added. "I cannot believe you did this to us. We are all only human but how could I trust you after we get married? What if Shane or Marcus show up? You'll just fuck them again and forget about me. I need some time alone, to think. Maybe I get past this, maybe not. Keep the ring, for now."

I took her home. She entered her casita through the side gate, avoiding her parents, avoiding Socks. I pulled away from the curb.

The drive to my place was the longest of my life.

Chapter 15

We broke up.

She didn't call or text and neither did I, but we never said the words. We never formalized the split. For now, we just left it alone.

I saw her looking like shit every day inside the coffee hut, like she'd spent the night crying. Tammy and Regina consoled her often. I was sure those girls all knew each other's secrets. They probably knew Honey and I were engaged AND that Honey was a slut with other men. The Yard guys knew enough to leave Honey alone. I thought about telling Gerry his wife fucked Snake who is Shane but that wasn't my business. Gerry can look out for his own.

I wanted to hate her. I wanted to be so angry and hurt I got over her. That didn't happen.

What about trust? I'd ask myself.

If I marry a girl with that kind of weakness, I'll always wonder.

Days passed. I was stuck in decision purgatory. I looked around at my shitty car and my shitty trailer and my shitty job and thought: really? I want to lose the one good thing in my life?

I needed to ask her if she could be faithful and I needed to be looking into her eyes when she answered. I jumped in my shitty car to drive to her house. I knew she'd already worked her shift. I was in no mood to face her sad parents so I parked and jogged around to the side gate. A glance over the fence showed me the lights were on in her casita. I got to the gate and stopped.

What is intuition, anyway?

I skipped the gate to cut through the brush, picking my path through shrubbery and tree trunks. I slipped into my spot outside her window. Was she crying? Was she asleep? Were Tammy or Regina over, comforting her?

Shane was on his back, tower of meat rising from his lap to disappear into Honey's tight, wet hole. Honey's tight, wet, bald, slick hole. She was on top, her body pressed to his.

Marcus had gotten his wish. Her pussy was as smooth and hairless as a cue ball.

She'd probably already been with my boss.

Shane had his arms around her now, hugging her tight. They kissed passionately. Movement drew my eyes.

Behind her, Jared crawled up the bed with a shiny, well-lubed erection in hand. He aimed the head of his dick at her winking asshole. Shane held tight as Jared found his mark. Honey stiffened, tense and worried, and then Jared eased his hips forward. Her asshole bloomed to swallow his cock. My fiancée groaned, stuffed with cock in both holes. Jared moved his hands to her shoulders to hold her in place and then gradually sent his hard cock up her ass. Honey writhed like she was on fire.

"All the way," I heard her gasp. "Push it in all the way."

Shane forced her body down while Jared pinned her and sank every inch up her ass. Honey tossed her head like a woman possessed. She growled and rolled her hips, working the two cocks buried in her holes.

I grabbed a branch to steady myself. What the fuck had happened?

The men timed their thrusts to advance and retreat simultaneously.

"Oh God!" Honey cried. "Yeah, together!"

Honey was losing her mind. I tried to imagine what possible work-place conversation could result in the scene before me. Not only do they not know each other, but what little they do know they despise: blue collar, white collar.

Honey struggled to lift herself a few inches off Shane's chest.

"Suck my tits," she rumbled. "Yeah. Fuck me you bastards."

Shane vacuumed a nipple into his mouth and pulled hard. Jared's balls hung low enough to touch Shane's gliding cock. Honey used both rigid pieces of meat to chase a mind-shattering orgasm, which hit moments later. She thrashed between the two men, trapped and penetrated, howling and screeching. She fell to Shane's chest and flailed, wild electricity frying her brain. She was still my fiancée but she was truly out of control. Her orgasm lasted a long time, reignited by any move either of the men made, and they made a lot, fucking her sometimes together and sometimes separately.

"I'm close," Jared said, plowing her asshole faster.

Honey went off again, or never quite finished in the first place, wailing into Shane's neck as Jared began to jerk and convulse, spurting hot semen up her rectum. Shane kept her in place as Jared filled her ass. The younger man groaned as his nuts emptied. When he'd fired his last bolt, he withdrew, falling beside them on the bed. Shane had Honey to himself now and used her body fiercely, pumping her tight pussy. She seemed barely conscious, barely aware, overcome by the onslaught of pleasure. Shane rolled her onto her back and lifted her legs, long-stroking his pole. Honey closed her eyes and played with her tits until his relentless attack tore another howling orgasm from her. He turned loose his own, spraying and spewing inside her.

They collapsed to the bed, sweaty and breathing hard. Nobody moved.

Someone tapped at the front door.

Nobody moved.

Someone tapped again and Jared crawled from the bed to peek through the curtains.

"Some tall guy with a mop of black hair," Jared said.

Honey didn't budge. Shane sat up.

"That's Sammy," Shane said. "Late, but whatever. Let him in."

Jared opened the door and shook the man's hand. He ushered him in. Honey made no move to cover her body.

"Guys," Shane said. "This is Sammy. Sammy, that's Jared and this is Honey. She's the one I told you about."

"Hey," Sammy said to everyone.

"Strip, brother," Shane said. "We just finished but this sweet girl has more gas in her tank. Strip and show her what I've been telling her about."

Sammy wore green overalls which he unclipped and stepped out of now. He turned to face the group and displayed a cock very much like Shane's

"What do I do next?" Sammy said.

"Sit in that chair," Honey said, grinning, rising from the bed. "That beautiful cock needs to be sucked and I'm the girl to do it."

Sammy dropped into Honey's favorite chair.

"You're real, real pretty," Sammy told Honey. "I ain't never been with a girl pretty like you are pretty."

"Thank you, Sammy," Honey said, moving between his knees.

He glanced at her bare ring finger.

"I can't believe you're not married," he said. "A woman like you just walking around. I'd snap you up in a hot minute."

"I'm engaged."

Sammy looked around at the other guys.

"Not to us," Shane said. "Some other lucky bastard's going to get her."

"If you're engaged," Sammy said. "Why don't you wear a ring? What are you doing here with us?"

Honey lifted his heavy meat with two hands.

"I don't wear the ring because we're keeping our engagement secret until some things work out. As for being here with the three of you," she said. "I'll act married once I'm married. Why act married before? The vows are what separate all the other men from your husband. Until you speak them, you haven't taken any vows."

"Wait," Jared asked. "Once you're married, you'll act married? So, that'll be it for any of us? We're finished? You're done with us?"

"That's right, gents," my fiancée answered, tapping the head of Sammy's cock against her puckered lips, playing with it. "Have your fun while you can. Once I'm off the market, I'm off for good."

"She'll still fuck me," Shane boasted. "I'll wear her down. I know her weakness."

Honey did not reply. She turned her attention to the shank of beef hanging between Sammy's legs.

"Shane warned me about you," she said to the man's dick.

Sammy swallowed hard. Honey teased the tip with her tongue. She slipped the head into her mouth and rolled it around and Sammy sucked air. He opened his mouth to speak. Shane held a finger to his lips, silencing his friend, and Sammy closed his mouth. Honey crawled her lips down the veiny shaft, slowly consuming the man's penis. Everyone watched in appreciative silence, including me. We all knew what Sammy felt.

I'll act married once I'm married.

Her words drifted through my head. They made sense but maybe that's because I wanted them to make sense. I did not want to lose her. I still wanted to marry her. Yes, even as I watched her swallow what must be her third cock of the night.

I reached my decision at that window. I'd marry her and accept her promise to forsake all other men. I'd trust her. I loved her and that's all there was to it. I could protest or kick and scream but all that changed nothing. She had my heart. I sighed.

Honey played with Sammy's hefty dick, sliding her hand from root to head, licking the fat balls and scratching a fingernail under the tip. Blue veins rose along the length and the balls drew up tight. Her eyes were aglow. Her face radiant with happiness. Her fascination was clear.

"I got a condom in my overalls," he mumbled.

Honey gave him a wicked grin.

"You won't need that with me," she said. "I love the feel of cock skin gliding inside my pussy skin."

"I don't want a little Sammy running around."

"Me either," she agreed. "I'll handle any complications. But there's no way I'm letting this gorgeous slab of meat hide behind a sheet of rubber."

Jared had heard enough. He straightened his clothes in the mirror and grabbed his jacket.

"I'm out," he told Shane.

His expression told me he had feelings for Honey and knew those feelings would never be returned. It hurt him to know once she was married, she was done with him. These men were toys to her, their dicks mere playthings. Jared had decided to move on. Honey would not see him again. I knew it. He exited her casita without looking back.

Honey had begun a clumsy lap dance on Sammy, facing away from the man and rubbing her naked butt all over his crotch. His slippery cock flopped around and sometimes slipped between her legs, dangerously close to snagging her hole and sliding in. He grew harder as she grew more excited. She reached back for his hands and placed them on her tits, leaning her back against his chest. He looked a little overwhelmed, unsure what to do with a woman this attractive and wild. I was sure he'd visited strip clubs and even had lap dances, but he would never fuck those girls. He was about to fuck this one. She waited for him to take the lead and make a move but he didn't.

Honey made the decision for him. While grinding her ass on his lap, she reached between their legs. She found his solid penis and palmed it, pulling it up against her pussy. Her gyrating hips rose and fell and with a nudge she sent the head of his cock through her labia. She gasped at the moment of penetration and he groaned. She sank her butt onto his crotch, driving his cock deep. She opened her knees to give Shane a clear view of Sammy's dick moving in her and, without knowing it, gave me a clear view too.

"You are so crazy sexy," Shane chuckled. "I've never met a woman that loves sex as much as you."

"You have," Honey gasped. "You just didn't know it."

My fiancée began dragging her pussy up and down Sammy's pole. The sight was tortuous. Her expression was pure pleasure. She was soaked and his cock glittered and gleamed. He pawed her tits from behind. She planted her feet on the rug and began bouncing her ass, capturing his dick to the root each time. She was using her pussy to get him off. She leaned forward and braced herself on his legs, allowing her to bounce her ass faster. His dick was a throbbing spear, jutting upward from his lap, swallowed by her cunt.

"You're gonna make me cum," Sammy warned. "Too fast."

He allowed her another minute but then stood, swooping her into arms. Honey yelped and laughed as he carried her to the bed, his arching cock still buried in her. He pressed her face down on the comforter and bent her feet back to touch her butt. He drove his cock all the way in and her laughter abruptly stopped, turning into a strangled groan.

"That's a big dick," she mumbled, into the bed.

He released her feet and forced her legs farther apart, moving closer and grabbing her waist. He started pumping her pussy, staring at the place where his inches passed into her body. Soon he hammered her hole and Honey yipped and yapped as he pounded her, occasionally stabbing too deep or bruising a wall. She did nothing to get away, welcoming his hard fuck like deserved punishment.

She fell silent for a heartbeat, then two, then exploded with a howl, body quaking. Sammy realized he'd made her orgasm and that was all the poor boy could take. He groaned, fucking wildly and spurting inside her. He shot another bolt each time he slammed his dick deep until he had nothing left. He pulled his long cock out and slapped it between her wet butt cheeks, resting the heavy log there while he caught his breath. Honey didn't budge. Sammy staggered back to the chair and dropped into it "Beautiful," Shane murmured.

I understood what he meant. If I subtracted my emotional turmoil from watching my woman get fucked, it was a sexy, beautiful, amazing sight.

Shane moved around the side of the bed, coming at Honey from the other side. He crawled up on his knees and rolled her onto her back, casually dropping his soft cock into her mouth. She suckled like a baby. He caressed her full tits and leaned in, pushing more dick into her willing mouth. His hips began to move. He fucked her mouth casually, sucking her nipples and squeezing her tits. He gained some stiffness but did not turn fully hard.

At last he leaned back and took over with his hand, jerking off with the tip of his cock resting at her open mouth. She took over the task of playing with her tits. He held himself over her, stroking, jacking off with the tip of his dick pressing her tongue. He soon came with a moan, thick milk oozing from the tiny slit at the tip to flow into her mouth and down her throat. She graciously accepted the gift of his fluid, languidly swallowing all he had to give. He lay on his back next to her.

"Will you tell him you did this?" Shane asked.

She cleared her throat before speaking.

"No," she said, clearing her throat again. "This was for me. A final goodbye, if you know what I mean."

"He's a lucky motherfucker. I hope he knows that."

"I'm the lucky one," she said. "I know that."

Chapter 16

We took some time to find the right place, finally deciding on the gazebo at the park close to Mickie's. She dressed all in white, with a train ten feet long. Tammy and Regina were her bridesmaids. Socks was my Best Man. When she spoke her vows to me, I believed every word. I saw the conviction in her eyes. She transformed into my wife right before me.

I took the job in Spokane and Honey enrolled at Eastern Washington University. We found a small but clean one-room apartment.

We left our old life behind.

I never told her what I'd witnessed. I couldn't shake the feeling I was the pervert. She had her secrets from me, I had mine from her.

We made love our honeymoon night and I could not believe how amazing sex felt. I wanted it all the time. She agreed and we were inseparable rabbits for weeks. We fucked on every flat surface and standing up, too. We fucked on the balcony. She kept her pussy bald and slick. It drove me insane, knowing she'd done it for Marcus.

Slowly, memories of her with Shane, or Jared, or Marcus, or even Sammy, began to creep into my mind while I was fucking her. I got an incredible jolt, a blast of angst and lust, a rush of adrenaline that fueled massive orgasms each time I did. I came so hard it guaranteed I'd do the same thing the next time we had sex. Honey loved the explosion of desire, welcoming my wild fucking.

I started spying on her again. I'd slip out to the balcony and peek through the bathroom window while she showered. I'd hide outside the bedroom and watch as she dressed. Some days I went to the college and watched her talk with other students, wondering if she wanted to fuck the handsome men.

One night, minutes after I'd slipped my penis into her and slowly pumped in and out, I whispered in her ear before I realized I was speaking.

"Do you ever fantasize about fucking Shane?" I rasped.

She froze beneath me, so I froze too.

She held my face and gazed into my eyes.

"Why?" she asked.

"I'm trying to know you," I said. "I know you won't cheat on me but I wonder if the thoughts still excite you. If they do, I was going to use them in bed."

"Now? While we're making love?"

I boldly forged ahead. I'd gotten myself into it. Forward was the only path.

"Yes," I said. "I'm secure in your love. I thought spicing things up sounded fun. Should I leave it alone?"

She tried to see into my soul. Her eyes were huge.

"Yes," she muttered. "I mean no, don't leave it alone, and yes, I sometimes fantasize about Shane. Are you sure you want to hear that?"

"I don't care what turns you on, Baby, I just want you turned on. We're a million miles away from that place and those guys."

"Those junkyard dogs," she added.

"Those junkyard dogs. We're safe in our own world now."

I started moving in and out again. The excitement in the room had ticked upward. We both felt it.

"Maybe I should blindfold you," I said. "You can pretend my dick is his."

"Kinky. I had no idea you were into this stuff."

"We're married now, Honey. We should share everything: thoughts, desires, wants and needs. You can tell me anything."

She coiled her legs around mine.

"Let me try it," she said, closing her eyes.

I stroked deeper, trying to imitate Shane. I dropped my hips, fucking her rougher than normal. I grabbed a breast and squeezed. Adrenaline surged through my veins. My wife was using me to imagine another man fucking her. I got a rush from it. I fucked her like he had.

"Can you picture it?" I asked.

"Yeah," she gasped. "It's easy."

"You like it?"

"I do."

I gathered her legs and lifted them, spreading them wide like I'd seen him do. She may have wondered how I knew he did that, but she said nothing. I attacked her tight hole, using my hard dick like a weapon. It felt good, physically and mentally. I was free to fuck her any way I wished.

This game allowed me outside myself. I had her gasping and groaning, making far more noise than usual for us.

"You know I've seen Shane in the detox showers at work," I said. I moved my mouth close to her ear. "I know how big he is."

She gasped, lifting her hips to give me her pussy. Her heartfelt moan filled my head, bounced around in there, driving me crazy.

"You want that big cock to fuck you again?" I rasped.

Her body went rigid. Her jaw clamped shut and air hissed between her teeth. Her snug pussy fluttered along my length before she clenched around me and I took a moment to realize my wife was about to orgasm imagining my dick was his. There was no faking a body response like this. She climaxed for him. The mere idea that he was inside her again, moving in and out, pushed her over the edge.

I started spurting, spontaneously, out of control. An orgasm seized me and ripped the sperm from my balls. My hips flew into overdrive, spastically pounding her, sending my pleasure soaring as we moaned and groaned together. Our orgasms lasted a long time. We sank to the bed, tangled, spent.

"You know I would never," she muttered, drained, returning to the Here and Now.

"I know," I said.

"If you want that, for real, you will need to tell me it's okay. It must come from you. I would never without you. I made a vow to you."

A door had opened. The possibility could be real.

"I know," I said.

"Marcus too," she breathed. "Shane, and Marcus. Let's be honest: it's the cock that does the fucking."

Epilogue

The vertical blinds were set just so. We set the empty moving boxes on the dark balcony and arranged them to hide me from those inside and those on the street. I'd dressed in all black and unscrewed the light bulb. From where I stood, I could see everywhere inside our apartment.

There was a strong knock on our front door.

That night of dirty pillow-talk had opened a way for us. That conversation had led us down an exciting path. We'd admitted things to each other, speaking only truth, and we'd both displayed a lot of courage. I'd shared many of my thoughts but not all, and she'd done the same. Some secrets, like me watching her through her window, would remain sealed away forever. Why not? The past is done. Move on.

Honey approached the front door wearing only a pale blue teddy. I knew it was the same teddy she'd worn for me on our wedding night. Her idea. A cold razorblade of angst twisted in my guts to see her now wearing it for him, but that was the point. She was quickly learning which tortures I craved, which scandalous behaviors turned my dick to stone.

She opened the door and stepped away. Shane stepped in. He glanced around, a little nervous.

"He's not here," she reassured him. "It's just the three of us.: me, you, and your wonderful cock."

He looked her up and down while shutting the door. Since the last time we'd seen him at the Yard, he'd shaved his head and added a few tattoos. To me he looked more menacing than ever but Honey's face was aglow with yearning. She does love her villains, after all. He took a step back. His hungry eyes were glowing embers, searing her smooth skin.

"That's the sexiest you've ever looked," he rumbled, "and you spend a lot of time looking sexy. God damn, Honey."

A shiver of doubt and regret washed over me. There was a chance this encounter we'd arranged with Shane was a huge mistake.

In the days after our dirty-talk, I'd confessed my desires to see her royally fucked. She'd confessed her desires to be royally fucked. We'd agreed a big cock was required to accomplish that desire. We'd reached an understanding, built on trust and faith, and she'd sent the man a text.

Now he stood in our living room.

"Did you wear that little number for him?" he asked. "Wedding night fun?"

She seemed pleased he'd guessed correctly.

"Yes," she purred. "Which is why tonight I wear it for you."

"Kinky."

"I'm learning fast."

"I knew you'd call," he said. "Kryptonite."

She shook her head sadly.

"I believed I could resist," she admitted "But I can't."

She was playing for us both. Stroking his ego while taunting me. We were still learning what we liked but she'd hit upon that one right away: taunt and tease Noah because he loves it.

"A girl never forgets her first guy," she added, driving a splintery stake right through my heart. "I sometimes dream about getting fucked by you."

My dick was so hard it threatened to burst. I throbbed on my palm. I dared not jerk it yet. If I came too fast, watching this would be absolute agony. I needed to chase my orgasm, edge myself, get close and stay close and then I'd want to see her fucked for hours.

We'd learned a lot.

My wife began to undress the man and I swallowed a groan. He was a Christmas present I'd given her but I got something from this too. She tugged his pants lower, revealing that impressive tool, and then she stopped. She plucked her phone from the counter and snapped a few pictures.

"To masturbate with later," she teased.

He stepped out of his pants. The air was thick with tension. His cock started to rise simply at the sight of her. She backed towards a barstool and sat, spreading her legs and then spreading the slit in the crotchless panties.

"All right," she said, smugly. "You can have a taste."

End.
