Chapter 1

The bell dinged. Jessika stepped through the ropes and held the large placard overhead. I watched her walk a slow path around the four sides. The crowd screamed louder for her and that tiny yellow bikini than they did when I rocked my opponents jaw with a right hook a minute ago. She beamed, laughing with real joy as the target of their lust and adoration. Her brilliant smile, one of her best features, lit up the ring. This was where my wife was happiest: on display and objectified for every man to see. If ring girl paid less she may have been a stripper, but I'd be proud of her then, too. We've been to nude beaches. Walking the ring she showed less but got paid. What do I care what other men see?

She gave me a wink as she passed my corner.

"Kick his ass and I'll suck your dick tonight," she whispered, teasing.

She wasn't kidding. Jessika loves men and she especially loves watching hard men fight. Muscles and sweat and fierce competition turn her on. I defeat this guy and she'll be dying to give me a blowjob.

She spun a little pirouette and her big tits bobbed a little, provoking her nipples to rise. The screams from the crowd got louder. How did that bikini top hold those magnificent beauties in? She flipped her tight ass towards the mob and laughed at the cheers. She was in her element, at the top of her game, loving life and loving all the attention. She lifted the sign high and encouraged the horde, jumping on the balls of her feet and almost freeing her bouncing tits. Her twin nipple points strained the fabric. The crowd went wild.

At last she completed her trek and the ref stepped on the rope. Jessika bowed low, breasts threatening to tumble free, and exited the ring waving to her wild fans.

I watched her go, the bell sounded. I kicked his ass.

Chapter 2

"Crap," I said, swinging the freezer door closed. "Hey, Jess?" I yelled to the back of our apartment. "Weren't you going to buy groceries yesterday?"

"I did," she yelled back. "Check the fridge."

I opened the lower door. Yup: milk, turkey, oranges.

"Remember I asked for a bag of ice?" I shouted.

Silence. Soft footsteps. Big brown eyes peeking around a corner, followed by her pretty face and lovely tits.

"That's not fair," I said.

"I forgot the ice," she admitted. "So I brought you these."

"That's thoughtful, but I can't ice my hands on those."

"I'm sorry, Baby. Call Brandon and Cara. Maybe they have some we can use. Their ice maker works."

Brandon and Cara live in our apartment complex, two buildings over. Like every hetero man on the planet, Brandon has the hots for my wife. I think it's funny but Jessika gets annoyed with the constant stares.

"You call," I said. "Groceries are your chore."

She pouted for a second then headed for the bedroom to put her shirt back on.

"You can leave those babies out though," I said.

She stuck her tongue out at me.

Twelve minutes later Brandon arrived with ice in a towel. Any excuse to get a look at Jess. I answered the door and invited him in, both of us dropping onto my shitty sofa. He glanced over my shoulder down the hall.

"You train at Marco's today?" he asked.

"Yeah. With Marco. Weights and striking."

"I've got to try that," he said for the hundredth time. "At least weights and cardio."

"I go almost every day, Brandon. Come with me. Come with me tomorrow morning. Seven o'clock."

He thought about it, looking serious.

"I'm there," he said. "I'll knock on your door at six forty-five."

I'd believe it when I saw it, but I didn't tell him that. Brandon has flaked on me so many times. I've trained a lot of people and I've discovered they fall into two groups: those that want to train, and those that want to want to train. The second group never lasts long but the first group you can't keep away. If you want something, you'll get it. If you don't, truly don't, you won't.

"Perfect," I said. "We can share my locker."

Jessika entered the room with a cool hello to Brandon. She had her shirt back on but had skipped a bra. Why do girls say they don't like how guys look at them and then walk around so sexy? Her tits aren't huge but they're full and round and firm as shit and guys drool. The truth is Jess loves to show them off. She makes extra money as a ring girl at some of the gyms around town. She picks up a lot of extra work. Booty shorts and tiny bikini tops, she parades around holding a huge placard showing which round is about to begin. Guys in the audience go wild. She just laughs, drinking in their adoration.

She walked to the kitchen and lifted on her toes, showing us a peek at her butt cheeks. She grabbed a bucket and headed for us, a slight wobble to her tits with each step. She set the bucket on the coffee table, took the towel of ice from me, dumped everything into the bucket she'd brought, and then stuck my hands in after.

"That's better, thanks," I said.

She sat on the arm of the couch. Brandon does nothing for her but Jess loves showing off anyway.

"Brandon, did I hear you were joining Tucker at the gym tomorrow morning?"

Brandon lit up. "Yes. You sure did."

"Don't let Tuck run you into the ground," she said. "He thinks everyone is as training-obsessed as him."

"I'll go easy on him," I said.

We talked and laughed but I could tell Jessika was careful what she said. Brandon can look but she didn't want him getting any ideas. I think he's harmless and besides, Jessika's husband is a bad ass MMA fighter, right? Jess doesn't care much for Brandon but she likes the way he worships her.

Chapter 3

The light tap on my door surprised me. I opened to discover a bleary-eyed Brandon holding a gym bag.

"Impressive," I whispered.

Jessika still slept but Brandon sent his eyes around our apartment anyway. I felt proud. Guys are always trying to get another look at my wife. I grabbed my gym bag and keys and we left.

At the gym, I enjoy a special locker section reserved for fighters. I wear the gym logo at all my bouts and talk them up. The main training area is for civilians, weights and cardio and what not, but the advanced section is for real athletes. Marco's Athletic Club has a display case filled with trophies. He trains champions at every level. He also helps the chubby housewife lose weight and get strong. The gym occupies an old warehouse and he has boxing rings and wrestling mats too. Out back he goes old school with giant tires, suspended chains, blocks of concrete, and free weights.

I dropped to the wooden bench and began undressing. The place was already busy. Brandon kicked off his shoes and pulled his sweatshirt over his head. I wasn't paying much attention until I reached into my bag and found Brandon's cock about six inches in front of my face. Damn. The boy was packin. I would never have guessed by the goofy way he acts. You'd think being born with that much dick would change your approach to life, make you confident and suave. I grabbed my shoes and continued changing.

I'll give him credit: he stayed with me longer than I thought. I train hard and friends that have tagged along always fade quickly. Brandon completed more than half, complaining the whole time. I sent him to the whirlpool and finished on my own.

I found him talking to Janice, a cute girl who works out about three times a week. I've known her and her boyfriend for years so I was surprised when Brandon got out of the water to sit on the ledge and Janice ogled his package. Granted, the water made his trunks cling to everything, so his dick was hard to miss, but I thought she was happy in her relationship.

We soaked for a while and then Janice said goodbye. She wore a one-piece and the water made her suit cling too. Brandon and I gawked at her fine ass as she climbed the steps to the ladies' locker room.

When I'm not training for a fight I sell men's clothing at an upscale mall downtown. Jessika works at that mall too but at the other end. She sells makeup. Brandon and I soaked a while longer and then I needed to get ready for work.

"Same time tomorrow?" he asked.

I laughed.

"You say that now," I said. "Let's wait. By tonight you'll be sore. Tomorrow morning you'll hate me. Let's plan on two days from now."

He shrugged.

"If you say so."

We showered to get the chlorine off and I got back to the locker before him. I was half dressed when he sauntered up, towel tossed over a shoulder. He'd played with himself in the shower or given himself a vigorous and not exactly innocent toweling. He'd grown a bit. His fat dick slapped his thighs, bouncing like a pendulum from one to the other as he walked. I ignored him and finished dressing.

Jessika was still sleeping so I made a protein shake and watched the news. We both worked an evening shift tonight. I let her sleep in on those days.

After the news, I peeked in on her. She lay on top of the covers in tiny panties and a tank top. Of course, her shirt had gotten twisted and both delicious tits sat exposed. My dick twitched. I thought about jacking off. She's crazy sexy. I could wake her with my erection. She loves that. Let her sleep in and then wiggle my tongue in her pussy or offer a hard dick to her mouth and she's in Heaven.

I don't know why but my mind returned to the gym and Brandon's cock in my face. What would Jessika say when I told her Brandon had a big dick? I saw her face in my imagination, looking like she'd eaten a lemon. Should keep that information to myself? Is it a weird thing for a husband to tell a wife? I lot of guys at my gym have big dicks. I'm above average too, a bit, but not like so many of those guys. I wonder if the extra testosterone that makes us love to fight also gives us more size?

I stared at her lying there almost naked. What if Brandon had come home with me? With our bedroom door open like that he'd have seen what I was seeing. Jessica would be furious, but would I? Doubtful. Like I said before, I enjoy guys looking at Jess.

"Are you staring at me?" she murmured.

"Yes."

"Why?"

"You're beautiful and I love you."

She covered her face with her hands, softly squealing.

"Oh my God, that's so romantic," she said, turning shy. "Come kiss me."

I did. The kiss quickly turned passionate and soon I was fucking her tight little pussy. That's the right way to start an evening shift.

Chapter 4

Cain faked a jab and swept a leg. Brilliant. His opponent, some loud-mouthed guy from a gym across town, went down hard. Cain hustled into a baseball choke and moments later the dude tapped out. I'm glad I don't have to fight Cain. He's a monster but he's a weight class above me.

Marco called my name and I stepped into the ring. Cain gave me a sneer as he exited but he does that to everyone. Marco called Russell and we bowed, ready to spar.

Russell was not ready for my speed. I threw jabs and uppercuts then shook him with a hook. He was busy trying to block the last punch I'd thrown and I was busy throwing the next one. He landed some body shots but I saw his eyes glaze a bit and I swooped for an ankle pick and he hit the mat. I whipped a triangle choke and he tapped.

I helped him stand.

"You're fucking fast," he said as we touched gloves.

"Thanks," I said. "My ribs will be sore for a week."

That was all for me so I thanked Marco and hit the showers. Cain was in the locker room describing his victory to some fans and he stopped as I walked by.

"Hey," he said, looking at me. "You dating that hot ring girl, Jessica? The slut with the big titties and hot bod."

I shook my head sadly.

"No, Bro. Pay attention. I married that hot ring girl over a year ago." Everyone laughed. That made him mad.

"Then tell that bitch to stop looking at me like she wants some Cain dick."

Every face turned to me. Marco does not allow fights outside the ring. I'd lose my sponsor and my membership.

"No, Cain," I said, pitching my voice in a mocking tone. "You're misreading her. She wants to know your makeup secrets. Especially how you do your eyeshadow."

A few laughed. He took a fast step towards me. I relaxed. If we grappled I was fucked but I'd light his face up first. I still wore my four ounce Kanpeki gloves. I'd hurt him. A few of his fan boys stepped in front, reminding him of Marco's policy. He went back to his narration and I went to my locker. I was down to my jock when he walked by naked, heading for the shower. He grabbed his cock and balls, aggressively waving them at me, his mouth a sneer.

"She wants this," he barked. "Tell her she can have it."

I wish there was some way in that moment to keep my eyes locked to his but that's not what happened. I darted a glance at what he was shaking. He had a big dick and hefty balls. I looked away as fast as I could, ignoring him the rest of the way, regretting he'd seen me look.

I stripped and joined him in the shower area. No way would I back down. He does this to everyone and if you cower he never lets up. He'd apparently said all he needed to say because we ignored each other. I couldn't help but notice his soapy cock flopping around as he vigorously scrubbed. He's not a good-looking man so I guess God compensated him in other ways.

I put him out of my mind. I had a fight coming up on Saturday and needed to focus. I washed and headed for home. I was off tonight but Jessika worked another evening shift.

She was laying by the pool when I got home, talking to some girls from the complex. She wore a bright orange bikini and even from our balcony I saw how hot she was. Her body is ripe and juicy. The other girls were cute but Jess is next level, and she doesn't even try. She eats what she wants, drinks what she wants, and never works out.

Amy sat to her left, a cute Asian with short hair and bangs. To her right was Danielle, tall and skinny but with tits bigger than Jess. Dani loved her boobs, always wearing the tightest, smallest anime tops she can find. I often tell her I'm looking at the cool tentacles or a katana when I'm really staring at her monster tits. I think she turned eighteen about a week ago. Both girls wore bikinis, but Dani's was three sizes too small.

I was about to head for the kitchen when I saw Brandon enter the pool area. I expected him to cut a straight line for Jessika, which would send her home early, but he didn't. He pulled a lounge around like he'd failed to notice three hot girls sunbathing. He aimed the end at the girls and then flopped in it. I knew behind his sunglasses he was staring at my wife.

Cara, Brandon's wife, is not ugly. Cara is sexy; smallish boobs and a fine ass, her face is pretty and her black hair long. Brandon loves her and treats her like a princess except when he's busy lusting after my wife. I suspected Cara was at work.

Brandon moved his lounge chair again and now he was aimed directly at Jess. He pretended to sunbathe, seeming to nap, but I knew his male mind. He was doing what I would do in his place. That's how I knew it was bullshit. Behind those sunglasses he ate Jessika up.

My phone rang. Marco wondered if I could move my next fight back four spots. I'd be stepping into the ring after nine o'clock. I said sure, I had Sunday off from the clothing store. He thanked me and we shot the shit about upcoming events and the latest news from the fighting world. By the time I got off the phone I saw Brandon had jumped in the pool and now laid on his chair with soaking wet shorts. I couldn't see from our balcony but I remembered from the gym. All three of those girls now witnessed a long tube snake bulging his trunks. I was sure Jessika would give me an earful when she got home about gross Brandon ruining their good time.

My phone rang again. Marco said a sponsor from Monster Energy Drink would be at my fight Saturday. He said my undefeated record and local popularity caught their eye and they are looking for an up-and-coming fighter to promote.

Holy shit!

"So you gotta win," he said. "Take that fucker out."

"Hell yes I will," I promised.

We talked about how to fight my opponent. He added a local news crew might be there too. I thanked him and disconnected.

When I again turned my attention to my wife, Brandon and Jessika were alone at the pool. Brandon had his man-spread going. Jess had her back to me. I couldn't see where she was looking.

I was surprised she stayed with him alone. I called her and saw her pick up.

"Sup, Baby?" she said.

"What you doing?"

"Tanning. With Brandon."

"I thought you didn't like that guy."

She dodged my comment since Brandon could hear.

"What are you doing?" she asked.

I told her about my calls with Marco.

"Oh my gosh, Babe, that's amazing. You better kick that guy's ass."

Brandon stood. His crotch was right in front of her face. I waited for her to turn away or smack Brandon on the leg or something but she was unaffected.

"Should I come join you? Is Brandon getting on your nerves?"

"No," she said. "I'm finished. You're home already?"

"Yes," I said. "Just walked in."

Not entirely true but what's the harm? She'd get pissed if I admitted I spent the last thirty minutes spying on her with Brandon. She said she'd be home in a minute and hung up. I went to the kitchen to start lunch; boiled chicken breast and raw broccoli. We have little money but I eat as healthy as I can.

Jessika got home and I stared at her ass as she passed. I followed her into the bathroom and watched her peel off her bikini to shower. She knew I was watching and loved it.

"God DAMN, girl," I said.

She giggled and flicked water at me. We chatted about the news while the water warmed and then she climbed in.

"How's Brandon?" I asked.

Uncomfortable silence. Weird how we can always tell the difference between that and regular silence. She hesitated.

"Fine," she said.

That was all she said. She changed the topic to apartment gossip she'd heard from the girls, who was getting fat, who got fired recently, who was suspected of cheating, and said nothing more about Brandon until we were in bed and ready to sleep.

"When you take friends to work out," she asked, "do you ever see them naked?"

"All the time."

"Like who?"

I knew where this was headed but let myself appear oblivious.

"Mike, Trevor, Russel, Brandon, Taylor. I always share my nicer locker with them so yeah, we change right next to each other."

"Hm."

I waited. When she said nothing, I continued.

"That's a strange question, Jess."

She laughed. "I guess it is."

"I'm wondering why you asked it."

I waited again.

"Okay," she said. "At the pool today Brandon went swimming and when he came back Dani noticed how big his thing looked. I was wondering if you knew."

"I never knew you cared."

"I don't," she quickly countered. "But Dani and Amy wondered if it was true and when I said my husband works out with the guy they asked me to find out. Is it?"

"Is what?"

"Is Brandon's thing big? I'd just ask Cara but she'd get pissed."

"Why do they want to know? He's married and you're good friends with Cara. You should be telling them to back off and mind their own business."

"It's just girl-talk, Sweetie."

She snuggled close.

I furrowed my brow. I felt conflicted.

"Yeah," I admitted to my wife. "He's big."

"You're big," she said. "Is he bigger than you?"

This kept getting better.

"Yeah, at least soft. But a lot can change between hard and soft."

She pondered. I realized she was scheming a way for me to try to see him hard.

"No," I said, flatly.

"But, Honey," she pouted. "I can't go back to Amy and Dani with that. You haven't settled the question."

"Not my problem. You figure it out."

She scowled.

At that moment, I was utterly unaware of the wheels I'd set in motion.

We lay in silence for a while.

"I'm horny," she murmured. "You still awake?"

"Yeah."

"Talking about your dick got me hot."

My dick. Yeah, right.

She thumbed the button on the side of her phone, filling our small bedroom with a blueish glow. She kissed me and pushed the covers down, hooking a thumb and dragging panties too, exposing her naked slit. The gleam in her eye told me what she wanted. I smiled and paused to lower her guard and then I pounced, planting my mouth over her mound. She squealed with delight and started laughing.

Me and my tongue made her stop.

Chapter 5

I demolished my opponent.

Demolished.

Marco had scouted the guy and asked around regarding weaknesses and every insight we gathered proved true. I knew his tells before ever fighting him.

He had no answer for my speed. I love watching someone's head snap back and hitting them again as their eyes try to refocus. I blasted this guy from every angle. If I weighed more I'd probably have knocked him out but instead I battered him for four rounds until the ref called it. We shook hands and I wished him well.

Jessika was the ring girl for all seven fights tonight and she saw me obliterate the guy. A wink told me I'd earned a reward. She gets turned on when I dominate another man like that.

A man waited in the locker room. He works for Monster Energy and after a brief discussion, he offered me a limited contract.

"The money gets better fast," he said. "Keep winning."

Jessika would be thrilled.

The final bouts played out. Cain was last and utterly destroyed his opponent. All the fighters from Team Marco hit the showers. As usual the winners boasted of their success. I always lay low after I win. It's just respectful. To step into the ring is a courageous act and I want to honor that despite the outcome.

We laughed and joked as we scrubbed the sweat from our bodies, some of us sporting bandages and icepacks. Walter was on crutches, ankle in a boot.

Cain sauntered in, bragging loudly about his victory. He apparently loved kicking the shit out of someone because his dick looked partially engorged as he strode through the open room. He high-fived friends and graciously accepted the claps on the back.

He stopped when he saw me.

"I hear Monster signed you," he said.

All eyes turned to me.

"That's true," I admitted. "Limited level-one contract."

He waved away my self-deprecation.

"No man," he said, walking up to me. "Credit where credit is due. That's a big deal. Lots of fighters never make it that far. They must see something."

He put his arm around my shoulders, standing a little behind and to the side of me. I felt his cock slap my outer thigh and lay against my skin.

"All right guys," he said, addressing the other fighters. "Give it up for Tucker."

They applauded. I admit it felt great. His dick resting against my leg was weird but I let it pass, enjoying the accolades and recognition from my peers. Then they all started throwing washcloths or snapping towels at me. I ducked my head, laughing.

I dressed after my shower and waited for Jess to leave the manager's office. She still wore her bikini top but had thrown on a pair of booty shorts. In her hand was a white envelope of money. She spoke over her shoulder as she left the room and then saw me and smiled, running to jump into my arms.

"I just heard about Monster!" she squealed. "Baby, that's amazing!"

We kissed and then she kissed my face repeatedly.

"Let's go home," she said, eyes gleaming.

Marco waved us goodnight and shut the door.

We'd been home five minutes when a knock at the door surprised me.

"That's Cara and Brandon," she said. "I invited them to help us celebrate. Cara will have champagne."

She had sparkling cider, but close enough. None of us had money for actual Champagne. We dropped into chairs or the sofa and started talking. They wanted to know everything about my big win and the contract that followed.

I was talking to Cara when Jess left to change into pajamas. I did not notice Brandon leave for the restroom a minute later.

By now we all had a good buzz going off the cider and beers. Cara was engrossed by the strategies of the ring and how to defeat a man trying his best to defeat you. I relished the opportunity to share my insights. Moments later a random sideways glance showed me what I'd missed.

In the corner of our bathroom and bedroom there are tiny windows which open into a space like a chimney. The shaft rises to the roof of the complex and provides airflow. Every apartment has them. Our bedroom has normal windows too, but then this strange setup in the corners. I noticed right away and showed Jessika she could watch me taking a piss if she wanted.

"You mean you can watch me undress from the bathroom."

We'd laughed it off, never bothering to try.

Now, from my spot on the sofa, I saw down the hall to Jessika walking around our bedroom topless. As she moved from closet to bedroom, she turned the light off and on. She was trying to draw Brandon's attention. When she had it, she slid her booty shorts off too. Then she boldly smiled at a man she did not particularly care for. She stood tall, hands on hips and let him gawk a minute. She smiled broadly and nodded, and I assumed Brandon now showed her his cock. She encouraged him with more smiles and nods and I knew behind that bathroom door Brandon was stroking his dick, ogling my wife's body and getting himself big and hard. I'd told Jessika to figure it out on her own and she had. She had her answer. Amy and Dani would be thrilled.

Jess smiled and began to dress. I leaned back, continuing my chat with Cara. Jess rejoined us, unaware I'd seen her. Brandon returned, bulging outline of a dick not yet fully soft down his pantleg. Dotted sweat crossed his forehead. Cara noticed nothing.

Most husbands would be furious, but that's because most husbands would be frightened. They'd feel threatened. My time in the ring has taught me to control my fear. Mastering your fear like that makes you fear fewer things in life. I wasn't threatened and I wasn't afraid. Brandon was harmless. Jess wouldn't want him. Jess had promised Amy and Dani she'd find out and that's all she was doing.

Cara and Brandon left about two hours later. I was exhausted but horny and Jessika was just plain horny. I considered confronting her with what I'd seen but wanted sex more. I was sure the argument that was sure to follow would kill our mood. She hurried to free my dick as I sat on the couch. She slapped my meat on her tongue.

"You seem eager," I said.

"I am," she said. "You know watching the guys fight always gets me hot."

This was true. The best sex of our marriage comes after she works a bout. But I couldn't help but wonder how much seeing Brandon naked helped.

Chapter 6

Jess gave me a blank stare.

"Monty," I repeated. "With Monster. He says I need to gain weight."

We were on our way to work. She stared out the window.

"Why?" she asked.

"If I go up a weight class I face bigger names, make bigger prize money, and they'll increase my contract payout."

"Greater risk of injury," she said.

"True."

"You gonna do it?"

I shrugged.

"Yeah. It's a lot more money. I'll be careful."

That was that.

I upped my calorie intake and hit the weights. Brandon tagged along and proved a reliable workout partner. I got bigger all over and Jessika loved it. She'd come into the bathroom to watch me shower or run her hands over my new body while we fucked. She'd squeeze my biceps in the kitchen or grab my ass at the laundromat. She was fascinated. I pumped up surprisingly quick. I worried I'd lose hand and foot speed but didn't and was shocked how much power I could deliver. I saw guys start to crumple at my feet. The bigger arms and legs let me take more abuse and I added a few tricks to my arsenal. Jess was always horny before but now she bordered on nympho. She couldn't get enough of my muscles.

I stayed undefeated but had a few close calls. My take increased and Monster boosted my contract. They started looking for bigger names for me to fight. Jessica and I started looking at a better apartment.

Now that I was in his weight division, Cain gained respect for me. We even sparred a few times and holy shit that man hits like a cement truck. I thought I was in the ring with a Brahma bull. I had to raise my game but that's why we practice, right? I learned a ton fighting him. He boasted he'd kick my ass in a real fight but I said nothing. I'd not gone full speed on him and I wanted to keep him unaware of that.

I trained hard, I ate right, I studied, and I practiced.

I kept winning.

Jess and I got the nicer apartment. We stayed in the same complex but moved to the other side. Our new parking spot was one away from Cara and Brandon.

Days later I was sparring late with Reggie, an older black guy expert at jiu-jitsu. We finished and bumped gloves.

"You're lightning fast," he said.

"Thanks."

We made plans for more rounds tomorrow and I headed for the locker room. I was stripping my gear when Jess rushed around the corner, giggling and acting sneaky.

"What the fuck are you doing in here?" I asked, alarmed.

"I watched you spar with that black guy," she whispered. "You made me horny. Let me suck it real fast."

She tried pulling my tank top over my head.

"You can't be in here!" I hissed.

I wrapped my arms around her and pulled us towards a small room for towels and equipment. I shut the door, glancing through the small window to make sure we were undetected.

"Jess, I'll get in trouble. Big trouble."

She ignored me. She yanked my trunks down and sucked my sweaty penis into her mouth, spinning me in circles with her tongue. I groaned. She laughed with her mouth full. Voices came from the entrance. The gym had closed. Time to hit the showers. I whipped my dick free and pushed her farther into the utility room, then shut the door, heading back to my bench.

A group of five guys scattered to their lockers, undressing. I saw Jessika watching through the small wire-mesh window in the door. A few guys grabbed their stuff and left, but another group entered from a side door. The locker room filled with naked guys wandering around. Jess saw it all. White dicks, Asian dicks, black dicks, all flopping and bouncing. Heavy balls swung everywhere.

Her eyes were huge. Nobody saw her but she saw everything.

A boisterous voice boomed in laughter. Cain entered, fist bumping guys as he passed. He stopped for a minute to talk and then moved to his locker. He whipped his shirt off and then his trunks, standing in a bulging jockstrap. I held my breath.

I considered striking up a conversation, just to keep him clothed, but nothing came to mind. He tugged his jock down and that big cock and those hefty balls tumbled free. Through the window Jessika stared intensely. Her eyes ran all over his body.

I had to get her out of there.

Cain began arranging things in his locker, unaware he was watched. Jess swung her gaze around the locker room, gawking at all the naked male bodies. I killed time, waiting for the sudden surge of guys to leave. Only half did. The other half showered and dressed slowly, talking, checking cell phones, laughing. Jess saw every guy in that locker room naked, virtually every fighter on Team Marco.

I was stuck, undressing, showering, killing time and dressing slowly until the last guy left. I made sure we were in the clear and then hustled her out. She laughed all the way home.

"Oh my God," she howled. "First, I had no idea guys just walk around the locker room naked. Girls don't do that." She drew a deep breath. "Second, I had no idea so many guys had big dongs. I can't wait to tell Amy and Danielle what happened."

"You were supposed to wait in the car."

"I got bored. Why did you never mention fighters are hung? You guys are men."

"Are you kidding? What husband would tell his wife that?"

She laughed again.

"Good point. Holy shit. I'll never be the same ring girl, Baby. I've seen you all nude! Now when I walk the ring I'll picture all of you naked."

Her laughter dropped to a constant giggle. I started to laugh too.

"That was funny," I said.

"Like a scene out of a movie," she agreed. "Except a movie with a ton of dicks."

"You can't let any of the guys know," I said. "I'd lose my gym membership. I'd lose my sponsor."

She nodded then grabbed my arm.

"Cain!" she exclaimed. "That guy's a monster! His dick is huge and he's got all those muscles. He could kill someone without trying. I'm gonna have nightmares."

"I'm sure his ex-opponents do."

"Has he ever lost?" she asked.

"No. He's undefeated like me."

"The next time I ring girl I know I'll just stare at him. I'll stare at them all but especially him. He was frightening."

"Don't stare too long," I said. "He already thinks you're hot. Don't give him the wrong idea."

I knew I was an idiot as soon as I spoke the words.

"He mentioned me? Seriously? Cain thinks I'm hot?"

"Yeah, Jess. What guy doesn't?"

She smelled blood in the water.

"But he mentioned me, by name?"

"Yes. He said he likes your big tits and then he wagged his dick at me."

She stared.

"Guys are so weird," she said.

I dropped it hoping she did the same. She didn't. Moments later she spoke.

"Why did he shake his dick at you?"

I sighed.

"He called you my girlfriend and said you keep staring at him like you want Cain dick. I told him we'd been married for over a year. I may have added something sarcastic. He got mad."

"You never told me about this."

"No, it was just stupid machismo guy bullshit. Cain and I are cool now."

She got quiet. I knew what she was thinking; a locker room full of naked men.

"Stop thinking about other guys!" I yelled.

"There were just so many!" she laughed. "A parade of USDA sausage!"

I laughed too.

Chapter 7

The lights were off, the living room lit only by the glow of the television. Cara and Brandon were helping us celebrate our new place. We'd enjoyed Persian food and ice cream, then retired to the living room to watch The Irishman. Jess snuggled against my chest, Cara and Brandon sat across from us on the couch. We'd joked that it would be like a slumber party but they'd taken us seriously. Cara wore a pale blue camisole and sweatpants, Brandon wore shorts and a T-shirt.

About twenty minutes ago Brandon adjusted the leg on his shorts to pull the fabric tight over his sizable bulge. About ten minutes ago Jess squirmed in our chair, turning to partially face him. Brandon knew nothing could happen, but since the exhibitionistic moment they'd shared, he thought he had something Jessika wanted to see. Judging by her effort to keep him in her line of sight, he did.

I thought about making a joke or giving him a heads-up, warning him that he was busting out, but I was curious. I wondered how my wife would handle his overt display. My guess was she'd let it go so far and then turn her back. She's said he's not attractive but after that bathroom scene, was that still true?

Cara began to lightly snore. More of a soft whistle, really. I don't know exactly why but about five minutes later I pretended to join her, breathing deep and closing my eyes to slits. Cara truly was asleep but not me. I spied on my friend and my wife.

After some time, Jessika slowly looked up at me. She searched my face a long time then decided I was sleeping. She settled in again, her face turned mostly towards Brandon, glancing at the movie only occasionally.

Cara nuzzled his shoulder, further burying her face.

With his wife's vision obscured, Brandon took a chance. He slid a hand down his thigh, slipping a finger under his pantleg. He made sure I was out and that Jess wasn't looking at him. Satisfied, he lifted. His fat sausage dropped out the opening, escaping his shorts and invading my living room. Their exchange the other night had emboldened him. He could plead ignorance if Jess flipped out but he suspected she wouldn't. His chubby schlong rested on his inner thigh in full view of my hot wife. I had no idea what would happen next. This could go in any direction. Jess could call him disgusting or turn her back or simply pretend she hadn't seen it.

Their eyes met. I breathed deep, continuing my charade. Jess lowered her eyes to deliberately stare at his hefty shank, and her gaze affected my friend. His dick began to fill and then rolled off his leg to point at the couch. Neither of them moved. Her unflinching gaze excited him and he continued to rise, now pointing at Jessika and me.

The whole situation was incredibly hot. My wife had no feelings for the man but certainly enjoyed looking at his penis. The head swelled and the shaft thickened, simply because Jess looked at him. Sexy women have such power. Jess checked on me but I continued my sham. She studied my face and then, convinced I was asleep, turned her attention to Brandon again. He raised an eyebrow.

Jess carefully lifted her T-shirt.

I couldn't see what he saw but I knew those gorgeous titties well. I wasn't sure if she'd exposed one or both but Brandon gawked. His cock flared, growing longer and broader. His mouth opened, amazed. I wasn't all that surprised my exhibitionistic wife had decided to show more, but what could they do? Where was this headed? Both were anchored by a sleeping spouse. Brandon cautiously curled his fingers around his dick, moving his hand in tiny strokes, cautiously jacking off without waking Cara. I felt Jess move slightly as she played with a nipple.

Brandon was firmly erect now. The head was broad but tapered, the shaft fat. He lifted his dick from the base and aimed it at our ceiling, showing my wife every magnificent inch. Brandon knew what he had and I didn't blame him for showing it off, but I was shocked by Jessika's interest. Her temperature climbed until she felt feverish against my chest.

She doesn't even like the guy, I reminded myself.

He tries too hard to be funny, she'd said. He's not as smart as he thinks he is. He brags too much. He looks at me like a pervert.

None of that mattered now. I felt her hands move and I knew she was running a palm over her firm delicious tits. Brandon nodded slowly, so turned on his cock gleamed in the low light. That they wanted to do more was obvious but they were constrained by Cara and me. I wondered what would happen if I left the room.

Brandon sat up and moved Cara farther under his arm. He switched hands. Now he could masturbate easier and with little chance of waking his wife. Jessika arched her back some, jutting her tits into the open air. God how she loves showing those things off. Brandon concentrated, staring at her breasts and occasionally glancing at her face. In no time his lips gathered into a small circle, like a silent whistle, and his eyebrows rose. By the time I figured out what was about to happen, he started spurting hot liquid. White syrup erupted in a tiny fountain and oozed down his knuckles, soaking his shorts. He'd need a trip to the bathroom to clean that mess.

Jessika drew slow, deep breaths. I thought she might find the whole thing disgusting but apparently making a man orgasm just by showing your tits is a huge turn on. She kept playing with her nipples as he deflated and only pulled her shirt down after he tucked his cock away. They turned their attention to the movie once more. I waited a solid seven minutes before pretending to wake.

"What'd I miss?" I mumbled.

"This movie moves too slow," she said. "Let's go to bed. Brandon, you and Cara are welcomed to stay."

"Thanks," he said, lifting his arm over Cara's head. "I'm too sleepy to walk home."

They've spent the night a thousand times, just like we have at their place, so Brandon knew the routine. I helped him move Cara to a chair and unfold the hide-a-bed under the couch. He was careful to hide his messy shorts. Jess grabbed pillows from the cupboard. Once our guests were comfortable, Jess turned everything off and I followed her to bed.

She didn't even shut the door all the way. She hugged me and turned that into falling backward onto our bed. She buried her fingers in my hair and forced my mouth to her pussy where I discovered she was drenched, a sopping wet slit that soaked her panties. I knew it wasn't Brandon that had turned her on like that. Was it the thrill of getting caught? Was she that much of an exhibitionist?

I slipped my tongue into her smoldering hole and teased. She came fast but was ready for more so I kept licking and she came again right away, covering her mouth and groaning into her palms.

She tugged my head up after her second climax.

"I need a cock in me," she softly moaned.

Maybe it was because of what just happened in the living room but I thought it odd she said a cock and not my cock. It turned me on how turned on she was. I pushed my shorts down and aimed my erection at her pussy. She guided me in and curled her legs around me. I lifted her shirt to gaze at the glorious tits Brandon just saw and felt a surge of excitement expand my dick. I loved that he'd seen them too. I fucked her harder because she'd been naughty.

Movement at the door caught my eye. Brandon hid behind the doorjamb, watching me fuck Jess. I stayed cool and pretended I was unaware, lifting Jessika's body to show him more.

"You on top," I said, rolling over. "Lose the shirt."

She was more than eager, whipping her remaining clothing off and climbing onto my dick. Brandon had a full view of her naked body, now looking as sexy as possible while she fucked. My dick was cast iron. She ground her hips and mauled her own tits, lifting her nipples to her mouth and sucking hard. She looked hot as fuck. I recognized the moment she spotted Brandon but like me, she played it cool. Her fucking turned frantic though. For a girl that likes being watched, fucking is way hotter than walking around in a bikini. Jess tossed her head, sending her hair flying. She groaned and forced my dick as deep as it would go. I heard a note of frustration and wondered what she was thinking. Was she trying to cum and couldn't or was she wishing I could go deeper? Brandon could go deeper. Brandon would fill her tight pussy. Brandon would stretch my wife's snug cunt.

Good thing I was on my back. Thoughts like those turned me on like crazy. If I'd been on top, I'd have shot my load. I watched her above me, fucking like a slutty porn star, tits bouncing wildly, and imagined it was Brandon's cock she rode. I couldn't help it. My imagination grabbed the idea and ran. I saw Brandon in my place, in our bed and on his back. His cock rose like a tower of meat and Jessika's pussy gobbled every inch. She made no frustrating sounds then. She moaned and groaned from his bulk.

She snatched the pillow by my head and covered her face with it, howling as she came yet again. Was she imagining him or did she just like the audience? I squeezed her tit hard, pinching a nipple until she squealed, and then exploded, pumping jizz up and out. She went wild, thrashing above me as if cumming again. Then she crumpled to my chest and fought for air. When I glanced at the door, Brandon was gone.

When her breathing returned to normal, I rolled her limp body off mine and mumbled I need to use the bathroom. I didn't. I wanted to check the frame around the door. Yup. In the dim light, I saw Brandon's sperm running down the wood. He'd tried to wipe it away but only smeared it. He'd cum a second time watching Jessika fuck me. Hot. I pissed and returned to bed. Jess was out, breathing deep. I stood over her, staring at her naked body. I'd just imagined another man fucking her and was completely undisturbed. What did that say about me? I thought about it and then decided I didn't give a shit. Our marriage was ours to do as we pleased.

Maybe I'd tell her I saw the whole thing.

Chapter 8

Cain landed a crushing right and his opponent dropped. He rushed in before the man took another breath and hammered a cheek bone, further stunning the guy, who went pure defense. Seconds later the bell sounded.

Cain jogged to his corner and the guy staggered to his. Someone parted the ropes and Jessika stepped through, lifting a huge number three over her head. I'd fought over an hour before and now watched from ringside. This bikini was new, smaller than the others, and tits peeked out from all around. As she passed I saw the bottoms were a thong in back, showing everyone her perfect round ass. The crowd, as always, went wild. She slowed as she passed Cain's corner, hit him with a coy smile and knowing eyes, and then finished her circuit. Like all of us, he watched her leave the ring with hungry eyes.

I thought about the look she'd given him. Flirtatious, yes, but she flirts with everyone. Was it because she'd seen him naked? The look seemed to be more than that. I tried to put my feelings away but something nagged.

Something still nagged almost two hours later as I drove us home. She counted her money on her lap using the calculator on her phone.

"What's up with you and Cain?" I asked, surprising her.

She met my eyes.

"You two shared a look," I said. "During his fight. Or did I imagine that?"

"No, you saw it right."

Honesty. That was not the answer I expected.

"His brother got shot a few days ago. Cain found out he's going to be all right."

"When did he find that out?"

"Today."

"You talked to him? When? I had no idea you two knew each other at all."

"We talk around the gym sometimes," she admitted, her voice trailing off like she was leaving something out. "Or sometimes we text."

"What? He has your number? Since when?"

"Since a few weeks ago."

"Why?"

"I don't know. We see each other at the gym all the time. I've worked a ton of his fights. It suddenly seemed weird I'd never spoken to him, so I said hello."

"Since when and don't say a few weeks ago. Tell me exactly when."

"Are you jealous?"

She was smiling.

"I don't know yet. If my hunch is right, I'm about to be. Check your phone."

She opened her texts and scrolled backward. I couldn't believe what was happening. Cold sweat tickled my lower back. I already knew my hunch was right. She was about to confirm it.

"Twelve days ago," she said.

I counted backward.

"The day after you came into the locker room. The day after you hid in the utility room and saw all of us running around naked."

"If you say so."

"Stop playing dumb," I said. "How can he text you? How did he get your number?"

"I gave it to him."

"When?"

"When I said hello."

"Goddamn it, Jess!"

"You are jealous," she teased.

I clamped my jaw shut, forcing myself calm.

"Yes," I admitted. "I'm jealous. Why did you give him your number?"

She acted innocent.

"I see those guys every day but talk to none of them. It suddenly felt strange to me, like I was hiding because I'm married. I talked to other guys too, not just Cain."

"Did you give any your number?"

"Yes," she admitted, laughing. "A few."

"God DAMN it, Jess!"

She giggled.

"It doesn't mean anything, Baby," she insisted. "They're friends. They are guys and they are friends."

"Guys can't be friends with hot girls."

"Well, I can just be friends with them. If they think there's more they can get over it. Thanks for calling me hot."

I sighed. Sometimes her naivety astonished me. I collected myself. Once my breathing slowed I spoke.

"So what does Cain say when he texts?"

"He mostly sends dick-pics."

I hit the brakes.

"What?" I yelled.

She was laughing, fucking with me again. Bitch. I stepped on the gas.

"You are so cute when you're suspicious," she said. "I lied, of course. He hasn't sent a bunch of dick pics. He's only sent one."

"Seriously?"

"Yeah. Want to see it?"

I didn't, but I did. Who wants to see another guy's dick? But I had to know what he'd sent. She didn't wait for an answer. Seeing my struggle, she decided for me and stuck her phone in my face. The camera angle was from below, between his legs and looking up at his face. He was naked. He was rock hard. He was massive. The angle helped but his shaft was a redwood tree.

"Big," she said. "Right?"

I ignored her taunt.

"What was your reply?" I asked.

"I haven't answered yet. He sent that from the locker room just before his fight tonight. He said he was having trouble getting into his trunks and I asked why. He sent me that to show me why. He said thinking about me walking the ring does that to him."

"That's why you smiled as you passed his corner."

"Yeah. Who gives a shit about his brother? When I didn't respond, he texted again, saying he wanted to fight you for me."

I know her so well. Cain and I fighting over her would make her hot.

"You plan on answering him?"

She shrugged with one shoulder.

"Maybe. I don't know. He's so alpha he makes ignoring him fun."

I slowed and turned into our apartment complex. I pulled into our spot under the canopy. She was withholding something.

"What else have you guys talked about?" I asked.

She looked out the windshield.

"You won't like it," she said.

"Tell me anyway."

She sat up.

"He says you have incredible talent. He said you have the fastest hand and foot speed he's ever seen. He says you're really good, possibly one of the best, but you'll never be number one."

"Why? Because he is?"

"No. Because you lack rage. You think too much. You lack ferocity."

I was stunned. The truth rang like a gong in my head. Every now and then in life we experience a moment that alters everything after it. I knew in an instant Cain was absolutely right. I couldn't see it because I was down in it. To him it was obvious.

So many fighters I know have a history of abuse as children. They were molested or orphaned or beat. Their childhood fears filled them with anger. That anger fuels them in the ring.

I never had that motivation. My childhood was fine. We were poor but we had love. I stumbled into martial arts when a gym teacher saw my hand speed while I played basketball. I was good at boxing and I learned more from there.

Cain was right. I'd never thought of myself that way but Cain was right. My fighting is surgical. I believe I can always outsmart my opponent. That's proven true so far but a well-rounded fighter is ready to go in any direction. One day I will need to call upon an animal ferocity and find nothing. I can see that. I lack rage.

Jessika let me chew on that.

"Ready to go in?" she asked, jerking a chin at our apartment.

I nodded.

"I didn't give him my number because I saw him naked," she said, exiting the car. "I love what he said about me. You know me, Baby. Guys staring make me hot. I love turning men on."

"I know you do, Jess."

I grabbed our stuff and we headed up the stairs.

Chapter 9

My next fight was two weeks later. I won, but during the fight I tried to tap internal fury, but there was none to be found. I could have used a surge of adrenaline and wrath. I've not had a hard life. No one has done me wrong. Not really. Neither of my parents molested me. I've never been raped. No one ever cheated me out of money. I fight because I like it, it keeps me in shape, I'm highly competitive, and dominating someone fair and square feels good.

I watched video of the fight days later and spotted many times I could have used some savagery. I could have put him away sooner. A shorter fight means my body absorb a less damage. On top of that, what if he got lucky and dropped me?

I hated that Cain was right so I said nothing to Jess. We went about our lives like normal and I concentrated on my next opponent, four weeks away.

A week later I finished my workout with Brandon and sent him home. I stayed late, training extra hard, but also because Jess was working the ring. There were a few small bouts scheduled but I hadn't checked the ticket. I had other things on my mind. I heard the crowd through the wall as I shadow boxed and lifted weights. I kept an eye on the clock try to finish the same time as Jessika and drive us both home.

With some delays for injuries the fights ran a little long so I left the gym to watch the last few bouts from the back of the small arena. I always enjoy Jess parading around half naked as guys lose their minds. I welcomed the distraction. I pulled a heavy curtain that separates the ring area from the gym. An accordion wall completes the split but Marco never fully closes it. I peered through the gap.

Jessika was talking to Cain ringside. He was dressed in street clothes, just there for the fight, but she wore the tiniest bikini imaginable. Her ass was revealed and the small wedge of fabric in front barely covered her pussy. Two small triangles covered her nipples but I saw hints of areola. Her luscious tits spilled out in every direction and she had them stuck in Cain's face. All the guys around rubbernecked, staring at her hotness and envying Cain.

The round ended and guys laughed as she hurried to tear herself away from Cain and grabbed the placard. Whistling started as she mounted the steps and then the shouts began. I was amazed how much skin she showed. She laughed and flirted with every man until she finished her circuit and left the ring. She dropped the sign and rejoined Cain. Pride puffed his chest.

Jess and I would have a long talk on the ride home.

Or so I thought.

She sat on his knee to watch the bout but I saw her hand slip to his crotch. She squeezed what she found there and my blood boiled. Cain floated a hand to land on her knee and edged higher, lightly caressing her bare thigh. There were plenty of guys in the crowd that knew she was married to me. She turned her body to rest more ass on his lap and if he was hard, she was feeling him between her butt cheeks. I thought about barging in and busting them apart but I might as well announce my humiliation over the loudspeaker. Not only would I interrupt the fight but everyone would see and hear. Everyone would know. I hid a little farther behind the curtain. Jessika rose to walk each round, the crowd watched, the fighters fought, and my wife returned to Cain's lap. I saw their shadowy hands moving every time she returned. Jessika had a handful of dick and Cain would have easy access to her slit with only that tiny bikini to cover her. I bet he finger-fucked her between rounds. I bet she walked that ring drenched to the bone. I was furious but powerless.

At last the fights ended and I raced to the showers. A text awaited me, Jess saying she was ready to go and would meet me at our car. I hurried. She sat on the passenger seat wrapped in a trench coat when I arrived. We kissed hello and I headed out of the parking lot.

Until this instant I'd planned a million different confrontations. I still couldn't believe it. Not in a hundred years did I imagine Jess would cheat on me. I saw it with my own eyes and still couldn't believe it.

"Did it make you mad?" she asked, breaking the silence.

"What?"

"Me, flirting with Cain, sitting on his lap, letting him touch my legs."

She caught me by surprise. How did she know I knew? Someone saw me watching and told her? All my fantasy scenarios for a confrontational ride home flew out the window. I hesitated.

"Did it?" she asked again.

"Yes."

"Good. You need to fuck my brains out when we get home."

This was not going the way I'd imagined. Not even close.

"I'm upset with you, Jess. Why did you do that?"

She turned in her seat to face me.

"To make you mad. Tucker, your next opponent is Kamaru Usman. He's a big deal. He destroys guys. Cain told me all about him and I'm afraid you're going to get hurt. Cain's right. You've got to change the way you fight."

"You're flirting with Cain to help me win?"

"Yes."

"For fuck's sake, Jess. Don't you think that's a conflict of interest? Isn't it a little suspicious Cain's great idea is for you to flirt with Cain?"

"Sure, but I don't care."

I shook my head in disbelief.

"Cain is playing you," I said.

"Maybe," she said. "But is he wrong? Look me in the eyes and tell me."

"No, he's not wrong, but I don't need this kind of help."

"You do."

"Very convenient you also find him hot. Makes this strategy easy, doesn't it?"

She leaned forward, eyes dancing, goading me.

"His dick was so hard," she teased. "I squeezed but couldn't dent it. Hell, I couldn't even get my fingers around it."

She was trying to make me mad and it was working.

"That's when I sat my ass on his lap. His cock squished my pussy."

"You're being a bitch. How is what you did tonight supposed to help me? You just want his hands on you."

"You're right, I do, but there's going to be more than just tonight. Until you fight Usman I'm going to piss you off every day. By the time you climb into that ring you'll want to tear his head off."

I met her hard stare.

"Now take me inside and hate-fuck me," she said.

I did. Sweet Jesus, did I ever. Every time I rammed my dick into her I saw Cain's hand on her thigh. Every time I fucked her mouth I saw her squeezing his dick. I fucked her angry, telling her to stay away from him, warning her to keep her distance. She taunted me right to my face.

"They all saw me with him, she said, grunting with each thrust. "I bet they're thinking if Cain has a chance, so do they. I bet they all flirt with me like crazy now."

I was pounding her, sending shock waves through her hot little body. I got carried away and began spurting. She made me go down on her to finish her off.

Chapter 10

The guys avoided me at the gym. Rumors swirled. Jessika had been seen with Cain more than once, and nobody wanted to be the one to tell me. Brandon suspected something was going on but asked no questions.

They had no idea I already knew. What they didn't know was Cain had been to our apartment too. He showed up to take Jess to the movies. I paced the first hour and then went to the gym, beating the shit out of a training bag. She said nothing happened. He tried to kiss her but she said no.

"But he's so hot," she added. "How long can a girl resist?"

I started to see them hanging out talking, a casually touch on the hand, a gentle caress of the cheek. They radiated a growing intimacy. I'd see them all around the gym, at fights and in the weight room. One night he was leaving the mall as I was arriving. I knew he'd gone to see her at work.

I'll give her credit. She was pushing buttons I didn't know I had. I knew I was being manipulated yet her methods were still effective. My workouts have never been so intense, my sparring so focused and strong. I was rocking guys off their feet.

I tried talking to her about how it made me feel but she wouldn't hear it.

"Use it," she told me. "Store it and let it out all at once. Take his head off."

I trained harder than ever.

One evening I got home and opened a beer. Jessika was working at the mall so I had the place to myself. I dropped my gym bag on the kitchen floor and headed for the bedroom to change out of my sweaty clothes.

The bedroom door was closed. I heard voices, male and female. I lifted a knuckle to knock and stopped. Why the fuck would I knock on my own bedroom door? I reached for the knob but stopped, I cannot fully tell you why. Curiosity? Fear? How about a jumbled mess of conflicting emotions? I couldn't just stand there because if the door opened and someone came out, I looked like a creep.

Then I remembered the bathroom-bedroom window trick. I hurried.

The mirror in the bathroom was covered in steam. Jessika's work clothes, the ones she wore out of the house this morning, lay on the floor. I stepped over them and into the shower, slowly and silently drawing the plastic curtain, hiding, leaning over to see out the small window and into our bedroom.

Jessika was naked, a towel wrapped around her hair. Cain sat on the foot of our bed, clothed, watching her walk from dresser to closet to dresser. They were talking but I couldn't hear what was said. Jess was nervous but in an excited way. Cain looked as hungry as a wolf, his eyes following every move she made. I knew she'd love that. Her spectacular tits swayed as her round ass bounced. The girl oozed female sexuality and Cain was under her spell.

Most guys would have smashed their way into the room, started a fight, screamed at their wife. I didn't do any of those things. I watched, consumed by a burning curiosity. What would Jessika do?

She exited the closet and left the bedroom. Seconds later I heard the water run in the kitchen sink. She returned and reentered the closet, stepping out minutes later with a handful of clothes. She dropped them on the floor and plucked lace panties from the pile. She followed those with a short denim skirt. She stopped dressing long enough to make some conversational point, hands on hips, slight bow to the back, but really she was just making her tits look fantastic in his face. She pulled a bra from the pile, followed by a cute top, cute socks, cute shoes, and she was done. She turned side to side, smiling, gobbling up his adoration. His eyes burned into her.

He said something and she nodded and he left the bedroom to enter the bathroom. He shut the door and unzipped and I heard his piss stream hit the water. He had his back to the shower curtain and believe it when I say I thought about snapping his neck.

"Sexy as fuck," he mumbled.

I remained motionless, not even allowing my breath to move the plastic curtain.

"Be patient Big Boy," he said, but I didn't know if he was talking to himself or the substantial dick I knew he held. "Be patient. Let her play her game and when the moment arrives, and it will, I will bury you balls deep in that flirtatious sexpot."

So. He was talking to his dick.

He flushed and exited the room, leaving the door wide open. I waited a few heartbeats and stretched a hand to nudge it shut a few inches. I returned to the window.

Cain stood in front of her, in our bedroom, dick still in hand.

"Look what you do to me," I heard faintly.

"Put that away," she said, without conviction.

She stared at his cock. He held it on an open palm.

"I can't. He's too fat. We have to wait."

She rolled her eyes at his obvious ploy but went right back to staring.

"How big are you?" she asked.

"I've never checked. You have a ruler?"

I heard the lie in his voice but Jessika didn't. She went to her sewing kit and returned, a pink measuring tape hanging from her fingers. He lifted his meat and Jess pinned the end of the tape in his spares pubes. She drew to the end.

"Wow," she said.

"Measure around."

She repositioned the tape, sliding a loop to the widest part of his cock, just behind the head. She drew the tape snug and he grinned, looking down on her.

"Wow again," she said.

"Aren't you supposed to measure a guy when he's hard?"

She looked at him like she wasn't falling for his bullshit, but then she smiled too.

"So get it hard," she said.

He thought about telling her to do it but suspected she'd refuse. He closed his fingers and began to stroke.

"What are you going to tell Tucker about this?" he asked.

"Everything."

"Really? Ouch."

"Yeah, it will sting but it will fuel his fire."

"Maybe you should suck it and royally piss him off."

She rolled her eyes again at his clumsy suggestion.

"Bigger than Tuck?" he asked, changing direction.

"Oh yeah."

That pleased him. Uncomfortable silence grew between them, Jessika watching him jack his meat and Cain smiling down on her. He was growing, but slowly.

"Fine," she said after a minute.

She bent at the waist and lifted his cock to her lips. She kissed the tip and then slithered her lips over the crown. I gasped but they heard nothing, too engrossed. Cain wisely kept his hands to himself, allowing Jess to decide how much and how far. I was shocked but absolutely riveted. Jess moved casually, like sucking is just what a girl does when a cock is in front of her. Of course she put it in her mouth. That's just what naturally comes next. Cain closed his eyes then squeezed them shut, fists on top of his head. I knew what he was feeling because I've felt it. She suckled the head then slipped several inches in. Her cheeks moved so I knew she was swirling her tongue. Cain stiffened fast. She had her hands on her knees supporting her weight and bobbed her head slightly. She sucked incredibly hard and pulled her mouth off with a loud pop. They both laughed.

"That feels fucking good," Cain exclaimed. "Do it again."

"I'm not blowing you," my wife said. "Not all the way. I'm just making you hard."

"That's cool. Just do that pop thing again."

Jessika maneuvered her mouth around the large head and worked her lips down the shaft. He thrust his hips a little, unable to stop himself, and Jess inhaled through her nose loud enough for me to hear. She exhaled and then pow, her cheeks dented again from a powerful suction.

"Fuuuuuuuck," Cain groaned.

She held that intense vacuum a while then yanked her head back. The loud pop bounced around our bedroom. He was fully hard now. Jess put him back in her mouth, ignoring his shaft and balls, and sucked another minute for her own pleasure. She did the pop once again and then lifted the tape measure. She first measured from pubic bone to head then ran the tape around the bulge behind the shaft. They spoke but with lowered voices so I missed what they said. Cain laughed and Jess nodded, impressed.

I read Cain's lips: Let me fuck you with it.

Jessika nodded but then shook her head. She stepped away and pointed, saying something, and Cain took over, jacking his meat in front of her. They exchanged more words and Cain stroked faster. Jess opened her top to exposed her tits trapped in her sexy bra. Cain stroked faster still, gazing at her face and tits. She watched his hand and bit her bottom lip. She smiled. They talked, occasionally laughing, as Cain masturbated for her. His first jet of semen laid a rope across her forearm. She laughed, jumping back, as Cain blasted stream after stream of jizz. Jessika's laughter turned to amazement.

"Holy fuck, Cain!" she exclaimed. "You cum like a firehose."

When his output dropped to a dribble, he wiped his knuckles on his pants and stuffed his dick into his pants. They exchanged a few words and left the bedroom. He held her hand. I heard her purse drag across the kitchen counter and then the front door close. The apartment fell silent. I didn't worry they'd see our car because Cain had driven and guest parking was in the other direction. I stayed in the shower long enough for Jessika to remember if she'd forgotten anything and when she didn't return, I moved to our bedroom.

I sat on our bed. Splatters of Cain's sperm were drying on our carpet in the sun. I closed my eyes and saw Cain's cock slowly sliding into her mouth.

I hated that it was him.

Hated it.

But, if I ignored the man, I had to admit Jess looked insanely sexy with a dick in her mouth. I replayed the scene. I knew I'd never say anything to Jess about what I'd seen. Never. She could never know I watched and did nothing. Never.

I pushed my gym shorts down and began playing with myself, picturing my wife sucking. Moments ago, she'd stood just about where I now sat, working a cock in her mouth. That had happened. Truly happened. As my mind slowly came to understand that truth, I got harder and harder.

I blasted gobs of cum in just a few minutes.

When my head cleared, it occurred to me Jessika had done this all for herself. I get that she was trying to fan my flames but this had all been done behind my back. Would she tell me the details later? If not, this was just her cheating.

Chapter 11

Cain swept a leg but caught the man before he hit the mat. He used the momentum to pivot and drop a shoulder, deadlifting the guy onto his back. Cain lowered a knee before the man could react and rotated his body, slamming his opponent on the canvas, knocking the breath out of him, stunning the man. Cain quickly spun into an arm bar and the man tapped out. Cain would use that body slam technique in his next three fights, all to devastating effect. He was on a roll, just like me.

I'd picked up Jessika from work like normal the night she sucked Cain. She told me she'd spilled makeup on her clothes and had a friend run her home to change. I said nothing. I tried to fuck her when we got into bed that night but she told me women weaken legs.

"You need to be ready," she'd said.

Instead, she pushed my head down to eat her. She'd been dripping, still wet from her afternoon with Cain. I don't know why I raised no protest. I lapped her juices like a happy puppy. She came incredibly hard, soaking my chin and the sheets.

At last my fight with Usman arrived. I was the top of the ticket tonight and the arena was packed. Jess was the ring girl and she looked stunning, wearing a black lace teddy with electrical tape X-ed over her nipples and high heels. She flirted with Cain in the audience often.

I demolished Kamaru in two rounds. I was striking so hard the force jolted my body. Usman looked surprised the first time I rocked him. He clipped my jaw but I was full of fury, raining kicks and blows on him from every angle. Visions of Cain and Jessika danced in my mind and I unloaded all my anger and frustration and humiliation out on my foe. I overwhelmed him and he crumbled. Part of me had been worried the tricks Jessika played would prove distracting, but the opposite occurred; I had laser focus as I beat Usman's ass. Not only was I furious, but I had a lot to prove. Jessika and Cain had challenged my manhood. I needed to show them my power.

After the fight, Marco gave me a bonus and so did Monster. Jessika and I celebrated with dinner at a five-star steak house. I bought her a new sexy dress and she turned every head. She wore my favorite perfume and smelled great.

We'd never been so happy.

We were driving home to what I hoped was hot sex when she dropped the bomb: "Did you like the view?"

"Baby," I said. "You look amazing. That dress follows every curve."

"No," she said. "Not tonight. The afternoon you hid in the shower and watched me put Cain's dick into my mouth."

I was stunned. She'd known the whole time. She grinned like a devil.

"I admit I was naughty," she continued. "I went too far. But I love the way he looks at me. I wanted to be naked in front of him so I let him watch me shower. When I left the bedroom for the kitchen, I saw your gym bag. I glanced out the window and saw our car. I knew you were in the apartment. I knew you were hiding. There's only one place to hide when I'm naked in the bedroom."

She moved her back against the passenger door and slid lower, displaying her sexy body.

"You could have stopped me," she purred. "I expected you to barge in any second, but you didn't. I went farther and farther but still no Tucker. Even when I put Cain's dick in my mouth. In fairness to me, had no idea he'd return from the bathroom with his dick in hand."

She placed her hands on her thighs, gathering her dress, exposing more leg every second.

"Would you have stopped me if I'd tried to fuck him?" she asked. "The thought crossed my mind, you know. Since I knew you were watching I wanted to test you. At the last second I decided that would be too, too far. Was I right?"

My mouth opened and shut.

"You obliterated Usman," she said.

I was still bewildered by my non-response to her fuck question. I wasn't ready to move on to discuss the fight. Why wasn't I yelling at her?

"I'll fuck Cain before your next fight," she continued.

I gasped. An explosion of heat and fire detonated in my belly. Jealous rage flared like napalm and my heart jumped and then pounded in my chest.

"I talked to Marco," she said. "He thinks your opponent will be Khabib Nurmagomedov. I looked him up, watched his fight videos. He's a beast. You'll need every advantage we can get."

My eyes roamed her delicious body, barely hearing her warnings. I saw Cain's hands all over her. She giggled, reading my mind, and slightly parted her knees. I saw Cain between them, his heavy spear curving like a tusk as he crawled closer, his cock aimed at her wet and hungry gash. I gasped again, squeezing the steering wheel until my knuckles were white. I felt trapped, boxed in by her sinister plan, my arguments negated by my success against Kamaru. I hated the idea of Cain taking her.

"Fuck!" I yelled.

Jessika giggled again, tickled by my angst, delighted by my torment. Not in a cruel way. Not in a fuck-you-Tucker way. But like I'd lost a bet and we were about to ride the scariest rollercoaster in the world. She opened her legs wider. The new dress I bought slid towards her lap. I saw her tiny white panties. She saw where I looked and pulled them aside, exposing her excited pussy.

"Just think, Tucker," she said. "I'm going to let him in here."

I groaned. She was killing me.

"Show me your dick," she said.

I stared out the windshield.

"Do it," she playfully insisted. "I know you're hard over this, you fucking pervert. Take your dick out and show me."

I fumbled with one hand while driving with the other but she grew impatient and unzipped my pants for me.

"I knew it," she breathed, pulling my erection free.

God, it felt good to get out of those pants. She tugged the skin and scooped my balls until all of me waved in the open air. I prayed she'd suck it.

"Too bad I don't have my tape measure with me," she teased, giggling.

I glanced down at my throbbing erection.

She leaned across the driver's seat and sheathed my dick in her hot mouth. She moaned, like I was doing her the favor. She sucked hard. Hard. Her big firm tits were pressed against my thigh. My balls tightened quickly. I felt cum rising right away. She pulled her mouth off me.

"You know," she began. "You never said I couldn't."

I knew instantly she referred to her announcement. She'd stated she was going to fuck Cain and I'd still not forbidden it. I'd raised no protest at all. In a situation like this, to not say no is to say yes.

She swaddled my penis in her wet vacuuming mouth again.

I wanted to fuel my anger but let's be honest: but part of me, and this was hard to admit, wanted Jessika to fuck Cain.

I wanted it.

There was no explanation, no rational reason. This desire was something deeply buried. Adrenaline surged through my veins. I felt invincible. I felt reckless. I felt like I'd take apart anyone Marco put in front of me.

Go ahead and fuck him, I thought. I'll use this angst to rip my opponent to shreds.

But I didn't, and my next opponent was not Khabib Nurmagomedov.

Chapter 12

All week Jessika stuck to Cain like a groupie. Brandon noticed and looked ready to burst with questions but kept his lips buttoned. He's a good friend. I was sure he gave Cara an earful every time he got home from the gym. Her plan was simple: infuriate me until I was ready to kill.

But on Friday Marco posted the upcoming fights and I wasn't facing Khabib.

I faced Cain.

My stomach dropped. This was the worst possible twist. Jessika, assuming she still wanted me to win, was free to do anything with Cain she desired and chalk it up under motivating me.

Fear of losing multiplied a thousand times. He already had Jessika wrapped around his finger. How would she behave if he beat me? I know my wife. Our battle would arouse the holy fuck out of her. The winner would have a wildcat on his hands. I needed to focus every nerve, every ounce of will towards the one goal of victory. Trepidation filled me. Cold, toxic mercury flowed through my veins.

Everything was at stake. Everything.

Jessika worked early Saturday morning so I slept in, giving my muscles extra time to recover. I eventually rolled out of bed and made breakfast, did some yoga and then went to the pool to sunbathe. I needed every calming trick I knew.

I dozed.

I awoke when the pool gate clanged. I sat up, wondering who joined me.

Jessika and Cain.

He wore European-style white Speedos and Jess wore a matching tiny white bikini. He towered over her, a pillar of sinew and muscle. I refused to be intimidated or cowed. I waved them over. Jessika studied my face from behind her sunglasses.

Cain pulled two chairs over, placing Jessika symbolically between us. He gave me a fist bump like no big deal and I wondered if Jess told him I had been hiding in the shower. I searched their faces and decided she hadn't.

"Marco says me and you are gonna go round and round," he said, cocky.

"No," I replied. "Your motion will be primarily vertical, on your way to the mat."

He grinned. We were just a couple of trash-talking pals. The failure of his taunt made him try something else, dropping a possessive hand on Jessika's thigh. My wife said nothing, opening her Diet Coke and slipping her magazine under her lounge chair.

"How was work?" I asked.

"Same as always," she said, puckering her lips and sending me an air kiss.

Except you brought Cain home, I thought.

I refused to show them the reactions they craved. Cain slid his big paw higher and Jess moved her thigh to make it easier. Nope. Nothing from me, fuckers.

"Sunscreen?" he asked and I thought wow, talk about cheesy.

"Not yet for me," she said. "You want some?"

"I do."

I rolled my eyes behind my sunglasses.

"Are you filming a bad porn movie?" I asked. "Seriously. Sunscreen? Chicka bow chicka bow wow."

Jessika laughed but Cain turned serious.

"Just my legs and stomach," he said. "For now."

Jessika fetched the bottle from her bag and knelt beside his lounge chair. She squirted a blob on her palm and mushed it around, then passed her hands over his rocky abs, leaving a white smear. After a minute his stomach was coated.

"Is that for me?" she said.

I turned my head only slightly, wondering what she meant.

"All for you," he said.

The snake filling his briefs was absurd. Why do men still buy those ridiculous banana slings? Her hands on his skin had him partially erect and the tight, white fabric made every inch obvious.

The pool gate creaked and clanged again.

Amy and Danielle waved excitedly to Jessika.

"What's up, girlfriend?" they crowed.

Fuck. This was no coincidence. Jess had invited them. Now rumors would swirl around the complex just like at the gym. I saw the girls scrutinizing the scene as they approached: Jess putting lotion on some muscular hunk while I sat nearby doing nothing.

Yeah, I was gonna be angry for this fight. Furious.

"Who's this?" Dani asked.

Jess sent her creamy hand skipping along his waistband.

"This is my dear friend Cain. He fights too, just like Tucker."

"Dear friend is right," Amy joked. "You need some help with that sunscreen?"

Amy and Danielle pulled up chairs and dropped their stuff. Jessika lifted the bottle. Danielle fell into her chair but Amy joined Jess in smearing lotion over Cain. The girls giggled.

"I can't believe Tuck is allowing you to do this," Amy whispered.

"Tuck lets me do a lot of things," my wife said.

I'm sure Amy was burning with questions but not here, and not in front of me. I knew all three girls would be cackling like hens the instant they were alone. I watched Amy closely, waiting for her to notice that ridiculous bulge. She did, freezing before jumping her hands over his suit to a thigh. Cain opened his legs and tilted his head, closing his eyes to soak up the sun and attention. I did the same but watched from behind my glasses. Amy pointed at Cain's lump with an elbow and mouthed the words: Oh, my God. My wife bounced her eyebrows in response.

The next hour was exactly what you'd expect. The girls, all three, rubbed sunscreen into every exposed inch of Cain. Their eyes asked a million questions. The man got rock hard, stretching his Speedo and lifting the waistband off his stomach. Dani coped a few feels, gently gliding fingertips over Spandex, and Cain moaned soft encouragement.

Jessika said she was ready and Cain, not me, leaned over her body and applied the lotion. Amy and Dani swooned. His hands went wherever he wished, sliding under her bottoms to caress her ass and under her top, fondling her breasts. Amy was squirming. Dani was dumbfounded.

Later, when Jess asked if they wanted to come to the apartment, they both quickly agreed. I considered staying put but I knew curiosity would drive me crazy. I collected my towel too and followed them. Jessika led the way. Amy and Dani kept glancing back at me, wondering what the hell was going on.

In the apartment, Jessika got everyone something to drink and then announced she would shower.

"I need to wash that sticky lotion off," she said, meeting Cain's eyes.

"I'll help you with that," Cain offered.

My wife left the living room with him and the girls descended on me.

"What the fuck is going on?" Amy demanded. "I thought you guys were happy."

"We are. Jessika is messing with my head. We play a twisted game."

"Jessika is fucking Cain," Dani blurted. "I promise you. Go open that bathroom door. You'll see. I know that girl at least that well. I know that look in her eye."

I met their concerned stares.

"You're sweet," I said. "But that's not how this game is played."

"I'd fuck Cain if I was in there with him," Amy said.

"Don't you have a boyfriend?" I asked.

"Yes. Gino. You won't say anything, right?"

I shook my head.

"Jess will let you fuck Cain," I told them. "She'll share."

Dani and Amy looked down the hall.

"I'll go if you go," Dani said.

They sat frozen for several seconds.

"Fuck this," Amy spat. "I gotta know."

They left and headed down the hall. I waited to hear the door close and then trotted to the bedroom, opening the vent window to see into the bathroom. I was glad I did. Dani and Amy peeling off their bikinis was a delightful sight. Jessika and Cain were in the shower, soaping each other and playfully laughing. Cain yanked the shower curtain closed but Dani yanked it open again. Water was splashing everywhere. Dani and Amy stepped into the crowded shower and Amy pulled the curtain closed. I saw vague shapes moving and heard more laughter.

"Dani, grab his dick," my wife said.

"Jesus," Dani laughed. "His dick makes it feels like there's five of us in here."

Everyone laughed but soon all went quiet. Shadows played across the curtain and my imagination did the rest.

"You guys keep going," Jessika said. "I'll be right back."

My wife stepped out. The brief parting of the curtain showed Dani feeding Amy cock. Jessika drew the curtain again and looked directly at the vent window, knowing I watched. She left the bathroom, trailing water, and I stepped away and waited for her.

"Pissed off?" she asked, entering our bedroom.

Jesus, she looked delicious. Droplets of water coated her skin. Her wet hair was plastered to her head and her chilled nipples taut and hard. I noticed she'd begun to grow her pubes back.

"Thought you hated a hairy pussy," I said.

"Cain said he likes them. Answer me."

"Have you fucked him?"

"No. I was going to but then I got a better idea: I'll fuck him if he beats you. How's that for motivation. Are you pissed off yet?"

"Getting there. Did you suck his dick?" I jerked my chin towards the shower.

"No. Amy and Dani beat me to it."

"What are you going to tell them about all this?"

She scoffed.

"The truth."

"That's humiliating."

"Gas on the fire, Love. There's only one way you can save face and that's to beat his arrogant ass."

"He thinks he'll win."

"He knows he will. He's obnoxious as shit. He won't shut up about it."

She turned to look over her shoulder.

"I better get back," she said. "Remember what I said: if you lose, I'll fuck him."

She turned to leave. I gazed at her delicious ass.

"Oh," she said, facing me. "Dani will see all this as an opening to make a move. She's always had the hots for you. Behave yourself. No touching."

"How is that fair?"

"Fuck fair," my wife said. "You are our ticket out of poverty, Tucker. Get focused. Get angry. Get ruthless and brutal. Kick his ass and then kick the ass of anyone they put in front of you."

I admired her. This was a callous and merciless side I'd never seen. I also caught a glimpse of how much she hated living poor. She turned to leave, my eyes falling again to her round, jiggling ass. She caught me and smiled, then smacked her butt.

"Lose and this ass goes to him," she taunted.

Okay. Some of this was armchair psychology; a swift kick to the head to jar my reality. I was fighting better, there's no denying that, so Jessika's fucked up experiment did work. But let's not kid ourselves. Let's not pretend my wife operates from a position of pure altruism. This works out perfectly either way for her. I lose, she gets to fuck Cain. She finds herself with a clear, guilt-free path to something she craves. I win, we have more money, fame, and a brighter future. No matter what happens, she gets something she wants.

But do I?

No way do I want to lose. I want to win. But unlike Cain I have doubts. Anything can happen in the ring. One false move and Jess is all over him.

I heard everyone saying goodbyes in the hallway. It sounded like Cain was leaving with Amy and Dani. I knew a tidal wave of gossip was fast approaching from those girls.

Chapter 13

The man hits like a truck. He combines a great striking game with incredible ground and pound. My speed kept me out of his reach where I'd blast his eye sockets and ribs before moving again. He was getting angry and not in a good way. He was losing control.

The first few rounds I'd been intimidated. I'm not too proud to admit that. The man has a high MMA IQ and is well trained in many forms. I played retreat and dodge and the crowd grew restless. When I landed shots on his face they erupted in cheers. I pressed it and learned a painful lesson when Cain nailed my solar plexus and left me gasping. Fuck what the crowd wants.

After that we settled into a fight. I'm faster, he's stronger. He has more experience; I have speed he can't handle. We went back and forth, slowly growing bloody and bruised. Jessika walked the four sides between rounds, teasing us equally. She looked sexy as fuck tonight but I forced that from my mind.

I should have sparred with him more. What I learned could have saved me. A few rounds later he drew me in with a feint and I fell for it. He was ready and I was not. His arm looped around my shoulder and his knee dropped and the next thing I knew I was five feet off the ground. Don't worry, it came rushing back to me, hard, like a hammer. I remember seeing Jessika standing by a ring post, shock on her face as Cain lifted and slammed me to the mat. His signature move and I'd fallen for it.

It was over quickly after that. He caught me in a Jung Twister and I had to tap, my head spinning from the body slam. Everything went black. I tried to focus fuzzy eyes. Jessika was applauding and moving towards his corner. I was led the other way where I dropped onto a small wooden stool. Next time I checked, Cain had his arm around her waist, lifting her to a hip while he raised his other hand in victory.

I felt sick.

I left the ring quickly, glancing back. Jess never left his side, never even glanced at me. I hit the showers, checking my phone often, wondering what happens now. I'd lost. Lost. I couldn't get me head around it. Worse, Jessika was with him. He was the victor. He claimed the spoils of war. Dread stacked on top of despair and defeat. I waited at our car for an hour then realized she wouldn't be coming home with me. I felt raw all over. I drove home alone, settling into an ice bath.

I kept my phone close but needn't have bothered. She never called. She never texted. I had no idea what was happening with her but my tortured imagination supplied the details.

I imagined she left the arena with Cain, hanging on his arm and smiling as so many congratulated him. They climbed into his car and Jessika laid her head in his lap, freeing the triumphant man's cock and slipping him into her mouth. She savored that champion's penis, loving every inch with an adoring tongue. He no doubt filled her mouth on the drive, gushing seed which she eagerly swallowed. They arrived at his place and he took her directly to bed, stripping his prize and admiring her sexy beauty.

By now he'd recovered his erection. He's an undefeated bull, a mighty minotaur. She'd want him in her mouth again, on her knees and utterly submissive. Just his powerful presence was enough to get her drenched. Cain captures every trait she idolizes in a man. She's work his cock until she had him throbbing again and then led him to bed, ready to offer her ultimate gift. With absolute conviction, I knew she'd be the one to guide him in. She'd want that. She'd circle his large shaft with delicate fingers and pull him forward, steering his strong cock between her welcoming folds.

I groaned in every kind of agony a man can feel.

I shifted in the tub and the ice cubes clinked.

I searched my heart and I knew, I knew, at that exact moment, on the other side of town, Cain was sinking his hard cock into my wife. I felt that penetration almost as strongly as she did. My connection to her sent pulses of electricity through the air. I felt her in my head and in my heart and I knew the moment he intruded. She'd thought of me, briefly, before he filled her pussy and filled her world.

I floated in that icy water a long time, every minute in acute pain. He was fucking her, fucking her deep and with passion as I nursed my aching body.

Despite the ice water, the mental anguish, and the fractured heart, my penis tried to rise. I was already desperate to reclaim her. My dick slowly rose until it strained against my stomach. I wanted her so badly. I needed her so badly. This was the night of my defeat and my loving wife was in the arms of another. I lay there a long time, ice cubes slowly turning to water, sharing the psychic connected with Jessika, suffering the agony of her pleasure at his hands. A sudden sharp pain lanced through my chest and I groaned, knowing in that moment he was spewing hot sperm deep inside her. I gasped, experiencing her enthusiastic welcoming of his scalding seed.

He spent the night fucking her. He filled my wife with sperm over and over. My mental link to her diminished with each hour and by three in the morning I no longer felt her in my mind. She was his. Completely.

What a long fucking night. I ached in every way a man can ache. My body was bruised, my pride, scorched, my ego and psyche in tatters. What a rush he must be feeling. Absolute conquest. He'd defeated me in combat and defeated me as a lover. He'd taken my dignity and my woman.

I pulled myself from the tub and dried, wandering to our bedroom nude. I sat on the bed and then tumbled to my side, staring at the wall.

I awoke gazing at the clock, four fifty-three in red numbers glaring at me. I listened, unsure what had dragged me from a troubled dream. Naked, I left our bed and wandered to the living room, ears straining.

There was nothing. No Jessika turning her key in the lock, no car door closing to tell me she was home. Just a cold, empty living room filled with shadows.

I hung my head, gazing at the floor, and brilliant crystal clear images began to scroll across my mind; Cain was hard and veiny and powering into Jessika's narrow but sopping slit. He devoured her full tits, gnawed the nipples. She arched her back as his fat spear penetrated, feeling stretched on the inside in so many ways.

My penis rose. Again.

Closing my eyes made my visions worse but I did it anyway.

Now she was riding him hard, finally getting the huge cock she'd been craving since that day in the locker room. She'd keep him in her mouth a lot. I knew that was true. She loves sucking cock. The excitement of a new one would thrill her. But I suspected when it was time for that cannon to explode, she'd make sure he was deep in her cunt. My wife loves turning men on. She loves the sounds we make. She loves the feeling of sperm blasting into her.

I groaned.

I was hard now, standing like a statue in our dark living room. I ached for her to suddenly open the front door, surprising me with her stealth, sneaking up on me with the plan of slipping into our bed and telling me everything was all right. She did none of those things because she was still in bed with Cain, fucking the life out of him.

I returned to our bedroom. I checked my phone and discovered a text had arrived while I was away. My screen lit our bedroom. A single word stared back at me: WOW.

There was nothing to say. There was no reply I could send. I lay atop the covers and read that word again.

Everything I feared was proved true with that one word.

Chapter 14

Jessika, my beautiful, sexy, loving wife, stayed with Cain for two days.

Two days.

I was going out of my mind.

When I heard her feet on the stairs outside I raced to the front door and jerked it open. No words were exchanged. She dropped her bags and French-kissed me on our threshold. I backed us into the apartment and began ripping her clothes away and she did the same to me. I slammed our door, pinned her to the floor, and aimed my erection at her raw pussy. She hissed with discomfort as I rammed it home but did not back off. Her eyes egged me on as I hammered her sore cunt, eyes that taunted and teased.

I felt him in there; warm and slippery. My mind screamed. The faint hope she'd make him wear a condom vanished. He'd fucked her every time he could, and over two and a half days, he'd ejaculated an ocean.

I came fast and hard, harder than I can ever remember. The room spun and I lost my balance and she wrapped arms and legs around me to help, thrusting her hips to milk every drop. I don't know if she came. I doubt it. I didn't care. I needed to get cum in her. I was desperate to get cum in her. My balls ached with hot need. Our relationship, our friendship, our marriage; everything took a backseat to my overpowering animal desire to pump sperm into her.

After, we lay side by side, staring at the ceiling. A six-inch gap separated our bodies but she felt a mile away. I tried to think of something to say, hoping she'd be the first to speak.

Finally, I caved.

"How was it?" I said, instantly regretting my choice of words. What a stupid question for husband to ask.

"Fantastic," she exhaled. "He fucked me like he hates you. He bent me over the instant we stepped through his door, fucking me standing up in his living room. His neighbors saw us before Cain kicked the door shut. He left the drapes open and another neighbor spied on us. When he took me to his bedroom he made me strip while he shot video. He did things, like telling me to spread my legs extra wide or stick out my tongue while he came on my face. He ate my pussy and ass. Baby, he fucked me every way a man can. He shot a load in every hole."

I was already sorry I asked.

She went on.

"After an hour or so, he started all over again, making me suck his dick a long time. It was awesome. I sucked his cock so much. He couldn't get enough. Either we were fucking, eating, sleeping, or I had his dick in my mouth."

She sat up to look at me.

"Tucker, he took a lot of pictures."

Of course he did. He'd want to brag and the other fighters would demand proof.

Hey, guys, see that hot ring girl? I fucked her. Want to see her naked? Want to see my cock in her pussy?

Total humiliation. Jessika's plan to motivate me and turn me into a killing machine had failed and in the most spectacular way possible.

"Just so you know," she said. "I'm spending tonight with you but tomorrow night at his place again."

"Why have you given him so much control over you?"

She smirked, suddenly shy.

"It was my idea, Love."

My wife wanted to go back for more. Cain rocked her world. She was hungry, eager to fuck him again. Her lust excited me. My heart sank but my penis twitched. Thank God Jess did not notice.

That going back to him was her idea told me a lot. Cain had to be good in bed. Jessika likes her sex hot and sweaty, rough and playful. He'd done all that and with a big cock too. She was willingly headed back for more.

It occurred to me as Jessika lay beside me in our bed that she carried within her the semen from us both, but Cain's far outnumbered mine. He inseminated her over the course of two and a half days. What did my little teaspoon mean compared to that? She was flooded with him, awash in his seed.

A surge was rising in me like the magma beneath Yellowstone. A rising tide of fury. Fear boiled up. What if she conceived? He'd taken my woman and made her his. What if he planted a baby in her? My terror turned to seething rage.

I pitied my next opponent.

The loss would set my career back. I had to face that reality. But remaining undefeated in this business is rare. Most top fighters have a loss or two. True, I'd need damage control to save my Monster contract, but I was still a top fighter. Obviously, all the attention would be on Cain now. I'd have to fight harder than ever.

Later, once we were in bed and ready to sleep, Jessika asked what details I wanted to know. She wanted to avoid saying something she shouldn't.

"Everything," I said. "Every detail. Start right after the fight."

She folded her hands on her stomach. She took a deep breath.

"I was nervous," she began. "I admit that. Cain is scary. He's huge and I don't just mean his cock. He could snap me in half. But that danger made my time with him more exciting. He can lift me like I weigh nothing. I felt like a little girl with him. He made me suck his dick on the ride to his place and he didn't even shower. I was disgusted at first but then the salty taste and musky smell turned me on. The sluttier I acted, the more aroused I became. I was a cheating wife so why not go all the way?"

She pushed the covers off like she was heating up.

"We got to his apartment and showered like before. He had me scrub him all over. I didn't mind. His thick male body is so different from yours. I was fascinated. I admit for weeks I'd taunted you mercilessly but I was sure you'd win. When he won, I went blank. You and I never set any rules for his victory. I had no idea what his expectations would be or what would be too far for you. I had to decide in the moment and just bowed to his demands. I quickly discovered I liked it. I liked him in charge. I was the target of all his lust and want. It felt good. He's an arrogant prick but the man can fuck. He uses that gorgeous cock like an expert."

"How many times?" I rasped.

"How many times did he fuck me?"

"Yeah."

She shrugged.

"Who knows? Ten? Twelve? He wanted me all the time. He was ravenous. Insatiable. At first I was caught off guard. No way could a stud like him want me so much. He has his choice of girls. But between our fuck sessions he'd share memories of times I walked the ring during his fights and how he felt every time he saw me. He described all my outfits. He's wanted me a long time and hates you for marrying me. Now that he had me in his bed, he said he wanted to fuck me so I'd never forget him, and he did. The last few days are a blur of passionate, sweaty sex."

"You liked it so much you're going back for more."

"Hell yes I am."

She turned towards me, caressing my face.

"The sex is raw and natural," she said, remembering. "Cain doesn't love me. There are no complications, politics, or maneuvering. He wants me because I'm hot."

"Why do you want him?"

She hesitated.

"Don't get mad," she said. "We're just speaking truths here, right?"

"Yes."

"Okay. I have a few reasons for wanting him. I want him because he thinks I'm hot. I want him because he's got a great body. I want him because he feels amazing moving inside me and I want him because he defeated you."

She winced, awaiting my reaction.

"I was shocked how much that turned me on," she added.

My face burned in the dark. My hands made fists.

"That's shitty, Jess. Why would that excite you? I could have been hurt."

"Baby, I was there and saw you weren't. It was hot because he took me from you. Mano-a-mano, with the female, me, as the prize. When you lost, the realization he was going to fuck me hit like a ton of bricks. In an instant, he owned me. I was his. He transformed before my eyes. I saw him differently in the blink of my eyes. I knew what was going to happen to me. I knew my future. What he would do was inevitable. I accepted my fate and got so wet. But I also knew you'd fuck me as soon as I stepped through our front door. I know you'll fuck me again when I get back day after tomorrow. You'll fuck me every time I come home from him."

I was shaking my head.

"How many times does he get to have you?" I asked. "It was just one fight."

"He's the winner, Baby. I'm his prize."

"That avoids my question."

She pondered a moment. Now that Cain was a lover, she'd not considered when she'd stop. She was living in the moment.

I was crushed. My heart ached. She ran her fingers through my hair, searching my eyes. She had no answer when this would end but hesitated to tell me that.

I could lay down the law. I could forbid her. I could pound my fist and demand she abandon this insane path. But I would feel like a bigger loser, and there was no guarantee she'd listen. She'd insist on following through and then I'd feel far worse for her refusal. She'd throw in my face that I had plenty of opportunities to turn away from all this before my defeat. Quitting after you lose the bet smacks of cowardice.

"Don't fret, Honey" she reassured. "Remember what you're feeling right now for your next fight. I see your anguish. Use it."

Chapter 15

I shouldn't have pitied my next opponent. I should have pitied my next three.

Like a rabid dog, I threw myself into fighting, accepting any invitation. I fought too soon and my body paid the price but I rocked my opponents, knocking them on their heels before dropping them like dead weight. People began to talk after my first victim and by my third nobody wanted to fight me. Marco had to import a guy from Germany. I crushed him too and the next guy from Brazil.

I withdrew as I focused. I saw less of Jessika. When we'd overlap at home we spoke little. I attempted sex a few times but she put me off, making excuses, saying she was saving herself for Cain. We fucked rarely but she let me see her naked often. She was always ready for me to eat her pussy.

As expected, Cain bragged around the gym, but only a little, and nobody teased me about it. My mood was obvious and they knew I'd knock a motherfucker out. They laughed behind my back but I couldn't do shit about that. I took it in and stored it, ready to use my next time in the ring.

In the gym Cain was sure to walk around me naked whenever he could. I always looked at his dick. I couldn't help it. That thing was inside Jessika all the time. Those balls were cooking fresh batter every minute, even while he stood two feet away talking to me. Those large testicles were dumping gallons of sperm in her.

Okay, that's an exaggeration, but he was fertilizing her way more than me.

It was maddening.

Jess grew a light bush of pubic hair because that's what Cain liked. She kept it trim and tidy because she still had to parade around in a bikini, but every time I went down on her and got a mouthful of hair I thought of him. I tasted him a few times, like he'd had her earlier, but said nothing. It was too humiliating.

Jessika would come home and share little details of her time at his place. Soon her descriptions started to repeat and I learned what Cain was like in bed with my wife. She gave him her asshole whenever he demanded it. I've never had her asshole. He was especially arrogant around the gym after that, even talking to me naked at my locker, making sure I got a good look at his big soft hanging cock.

"He likes to cum on my face," she added a few days later, laughing. "I kind of like it. How come you never cum on my face?"

"I didn't know that was allowed," I said.

She shrugged a little.

"Cain just takes what he wants."

One afternoon Jessika came home and said Cain would be spending the night.

"I want to see him tonight but I work extra early. I thought all three of us could share our bed. I'll sleep in the middle."

Sweet Jesus. Was she going to fuck him in front of me? That would be agonizing. My refusal was on my lips when I remembered I had a fight in two days. I could use this.

"Okay," I said.

She looked surprised.

I kissed her forehead.

Cain arrived just after nine. He'd come straight from lifting weights and muscles bulged under his tank top. Veins snaked over his forearms and shoulders. Jessika ran to the door to greet him and then planted a kiss on his lips. He scooped her up and carried her into the room on a hip. He dropped his gym bag to one side and Jessika on the couch.

"I need a shower," he announced.

I felt rage building.

"I'll help," Jess said.

She took his hand and led him away. I considered watching from our bedroom but skipped it. Tonight would be tough enough.

After, they joined me in the living room and we watched Netflix. Soon Jessika said she was tired. More likely she was merely eager to get both men in bed. Neither of us had ever done anything like this. We straightened the living room and kitchen, turned off the television, and casually strolled to the bedroom. I wondered how this would play out. I expected Cain to lead the way but Jess beat him to it, grabbing his shirt and pulling it off. He laughed and slipped his socks off too.

"Let's sleep naked," Jessika suggested. "Two big male bodies will heat this bed well. I'll be toasty."

Her eyes danced, sparkling with excitement and a little crazy. Tonight pushed the boundaries even for her. I felt like she watched me constantly, wondering when and if I'd break. I promised myself I never would. I silently dared her to try.

Cain flicked his wrists, sending his boxers to his ankles, and here he was, dick out in our bedroom again. I looked at Jess. Her eyes ate him alive.

How many times had they fucked? She was still hungry for more.

I stripped too, comparing my dick to his. I tried not to. It was automatic. Together, Cain and I turned our eyes to Jess.

"Holy shit," she said.

She slowly pulled her oversized nightshirt over her head. Beneath she wore a sports bra and panties but those came off too. Cain and I stared. Her light bush annoyed me because she'd grown it for him, but Jessika is a fucking knockout.

"Turn off the light, Tucker," she said.

Enough ambient light entered the windows from the apartment complex so I saw her pull back the covers and slip in. Cain did the same from the other side. I joined Jess and there we were: A boy-girl-boy sandwich. This could have been a college party except the girl was married to me. The heavy covers drifted down on us like a blanket of snow. Jess turned her back to me and wiggled her ass against my hip. I turned and spooned her.

I had a moment of triumph, feeling like she'd chosen to cuddle me, but then I felt the bed moving and knew she played with his cock. He was still on his back. I looked across the bedspread and saw the tent her hands made, rising and falling as she fondled his dick. She squirmed her butt against my penis and I began to grow despite this horrible situation. She felt me thicken and softly groaned, aligning my dick to her ass crack. She took my erection to mean I was fine with the situation and bent at the waist to lick down his chest. When her mouth arrived at his crotch, she slurped his cock.

My goddamn dick grew harder. She felt it and groaned again. Cain began breathing through his mouth, eyes closed, and Jessika slipped a hand between her legs to guide my erection through her opening. I gasped at her heat. Her pussy engulfed my dick and I sank every inch. Her head bounced, sucking and licking. I fucked in short strokes, careful not to shake the bed, like I didn't want to disturb anyone. I have no idea what that was about. My apartment, my bedroom, my bed, and my wife; I can disturb whoever I want. Still, I kept my thrusts short and shallow.

After a short time, Jessika pulled off my dick and turned. She was eager for him. I felt her mouth surround my erection, tongue teasing the head. I gasped again. I was happy for the blowjob but knew it meant Cain was about to penetrate her pussy.

When he did she stopped, frozen by pleasure, transported someplace where a cock ruled her universe. I lay on her tongue, forgotten. Her body began to shake with each thrust he made. She moaned like I've never heard before, allowing my penis to fall from her mouth. She breathed hot air against my stomach and pushed her hips back at him, driving him deeper.

"Oh, Caaaaaain," she moaned, drawing out his goddamn name.

I lifted my dick to her lips but she was distracted. I circled the head around her mouth, desperate for some attention, but he was sawing that big log in and out. She was dazed, lost in a euphoric cloud, every sensation amplified by my scandalous presence as another man fucked her. I reached between our bodies to fondle a heavy tit and waited.

Eventually, she remembered and her soft warm lips enveloped my head. She sucked a moment before spitting me out and moving south, sucking a nut into her mouth. She rolled my ball around, making both ache, before moving higher to inhale my penis to the root. She started moaning but I knew it was for the spear working her guts and not the dick in her mouth.

The sounds she made rose in volume and intensity. I'm so stupid. I did not realize what was happening until my wife orgasmed all over his cock. No sound on Earth can slice through a man's heart like that. I heard her piercing cry and knew Cain and the beast between his legs had driven her off a cliff.

By fucking her. That's all he needed to do to send her soaring.

That told me everything. I perfectly understood how she felt about him.

She trembled and shook, vibrating my body along with hers. His relentless thrusts drove her against me and her whimpers of pleasure tore me up. I was in bed with them but they were lost in each other. She was overwhelmed by this man, filled body and mind. My overlooked penis lay pulsing on my stomach, cooling in the bedroom air. My erection wilted but she hardly noticed. Cain was building towards an explosion and she knew his signs. She squeezed me tight, bracing her body, offering herself to his assault. He pounded firmly, wanting me to feel how he conquered my wife in our own bed. He roared, at last, and firmly gripped her small waist while injecting searing, potent liquid. He filled her womb with batter. I felt my wife pushing back at him to receive every drop. He expelled semen for a long, long time.

They rested and Jessika noticed my soft dick under her face. She said nothing but slipped me into her mouth again, sucking softly like I was Grandma's hard candy. I worried I'd be impotent after what I'd just endured but no, I grew quickly. Her passion was satiated with Cain's explosion and she fiddled with my dick almost absentmindedly. Like: Oh, look, a penis. I guess I'll drain it since that's what girls are supposed to do. I wonder who it belongs to?

It belongs to your husband, Sweet Jessika, and you should be worshipping every inch. But no. Cain was still inside her, slowly deflating, slowly turning soft. He'd slip out soon, his inseminating work complete. Jessika basked in a post-passion glow and I had to wonder how many times she'd done exactly the same thing over the last week.

Chapter 16

That night I shared the bed with them turned me into a demon. I destroyed my next two opponents, obliterating their defenses and driving them to submission. The third guy I knocked out.

Cain continued to fight but faltered a few times, almost losing twice. Women weaken legs, motherfucker. Jessika was right.

One night Jessika and I were home making dinner. We'd not heard from Cain for two days and I knew Jessika was horny. We were having a great night, joking and teasing, and for a moment it was easy to forget all the madness we'd invited into our lives. I moved behind her and wrapped my arms around her shoulders. I kissed her ear.

"Hate me?" she asked.

"A little."

She playfully elbowed my ribs.

"I made you better," she said. "A lot."

She had, but no way was I admitting that. If I agreed, it would sound like consent. Who knows what ideas that could lead to in her head? She might try to have me suck a dick or something. No way.

"You've had a lot of fun," I said. "This wasn't just about me."

"No. Cain's hot. I wanted him long before any of this happened. If I'm honest, there's a few guys from your gym I'd like to jump."

I raised an eyebrow.

"Who?"

"I don't know their names. I just see them around. I see the way they look at me. They love my tits. Some are crazy about my ass."

"Plus you've seen them naked in the shower."

She giggled.

"I don't care if their dick is big," she said. "I'd never chose a man for that reason. I just love men."

"I was in the same bed, remember? I heard what Cain did to you. I felt your body melt when he buried that thing. Some was the man but some was what he has."

She stared into the sink.

"Yeah," she said at last. "Maybe. I guess it matters."

I took my small victory.

The next morning Brandon knocked softly on the door. Saturday, Jessika was still sleep. I finished tying my laces and grabbed my gym bag. I looked back. The weather had warmed and Jessika lay atop the covers. She still wore panties but her tank top lay on the floor, discarded in the night. Her hair was a tangled mess across her face. She looked scrumptious. If Brandon hadn't already tapped the front door I might have started something.

I faced the bedroom door, ready to leave. I stopped. I looked back again before passing through and leaving a three-inch gap.

I met Brandon and let him in, telling I'd be a minute in the bathroom. From where he stood he had a view into our bedroom. I left him alone but peeked after a few seconds. He'd spotted the sleeping Jessika and inched closer to our bedroom. I took my time, allowing him to creep forward and get a good long look. Jess would have been furious. I remembered the night he watched us fuck. How badly did he want her? I got my answer when he turned slightly and I spotted the tent of his gym shorts.

I'm flattered when men desire my wife. She could easily take her pick of them, but chooses me. It's a huge boost to my ego. I also love what their lust does to her. She's hot for sex most days and some, like after working a ring, she's boiling. Everybody wins.

But in all our years together I never considered the next step. We always want to touch the things that catch our attention. It's automatic. But we never did anything like that. There had been opportunities. Many nights we'd been out with friends, drinking, having fun. Guys would ask her to dance or join their table and she'd always decline. She'd get hot, I'd feel proud, and we'd go home and fuck like bunny rabbits. When she'd go out shopping or work or to hang with friends she'd come home and tell me how guys gawked, but the idea to take things farther never occurred to either of us.

Never.

Until Cain.

We said we crossed that line to fire my rage but the truth is, deep down, swimming in the dark waters of thoughts that never rise to the surface, such a step would be unthinkable, if I truly was against it.

Clearly, I'm not, and as I stood there watching Brandon get hard for Jess I knew what I wanted to do. I exited the bathroom and crept up behind him. He heard me and turned away, examining his fingernails as if oblivious to the angelic sight of my nearly nude wife. His face was pink. I put a hand on his shoulder.

"Give me ten minutes," I rasped. "I'll wave you in."

Confused, he squinted at me.

I left him standing there and approached Jessika. I crouched and licked her furry pussy through her lacy panties; once, twice, three times. She stirred. I licked again and lightly ran a hand over her soft tit, teasing the nipple, feeling the bump rise against my palm. I eased her panties aside and licked her downy labia. She moaned softly. I fastened my lips to her clit, pursing them to softly suck while gently wiggling a finger between her warm folds. Her hips lifted an inch. I slid her panties off. I worked her pussy another few minutes, leaving a finger buried, turning her wet, and then leaned over her face, pulling my dick out the leg of my shorts. I brushed her lips with the head. She kissed the crown and wrapped her lips around the tip. I pushed deep and she groaned. I continued to finger-fuck her while growing stiff. Her hands went to my ass. I gently elbowed her legs farther apart, aiming her slit at Brandon who watched from the doorway. I glanced at him. He had his dick out, masturbating, ready for anything.

I waved him in.

I put a finger to my lips to silence him and spread her labia, a lewd invitation. His fierce eyes burned like magma. He'd wanted her so badly for so long. Now she was ripe and ready and wet and spread open in front of his face.

She was going to be pissed at me. Furious.

He shed his clothes in three long steps, approaching my wife with wide dick in hand. His hairy balls looked huge, tight, and packed with unspent semen. He was big, like Cain, but with a strong upward curve, like a scimitar.

She was going to feel this.

I surged rock-hard as he approached. His cock was a deadly predator, a python slipping unseen, stalking prey. His express was stunned amazement. I felt an instant of guilt for Cara but there was no stopping this now. No way would I deny Brandon after allowing him this close. I was fulfilling his dream.

The distance separating them fell quickly. His blunt dick head, already leaking precum, was aimed unerringly at her sweet pussy. He looked too big for her little opening and a protective rush of anxiety swept over me, but then he was at her threshold. Too late to say something now. His meaty missile was on target. I timed my thrust into her mouth, pinning her to our bed while my hand held her shoulder.

She gasped, first in surprise as that heavy spike made contact and a wave of pleasure engulfed her, but then in anger as she felt herself parted and filled. His cock smothered her labia, forcing them wide. She groaned again, struggling to sit, but I leaned more weight, forcing her down.

Brandon sank deep. I watched the veined shaft disappear. His balls drew closer and closer. His pubic hair mingled with her as he stuffed the last inch.

Her angry groan became a gratifying moan.

Brandon's face lit up and then softened. He was, at last, buried in my woman. So many years of suppressed want now raced up his dick like high-voltage electricity. He partially withdrew, his cock shiny with Jessica's excitement, and buried it again. Exquisite pleasure twisted his face. Impossible to resist, Jessica moaned, filled with cock at both ends. She did not yet know who stuffed her pussy. I kept my dick in her mouth and my body blocking her view as Brandon began to fuck her, soft and slow at first but with increasing vigor.

The sensations of that beast made my wife forget the dick in her mouth. Her eyebrows scrunched together and she stopped sucking, concentrating on the tree trunk between her legs.

I eased away after a while, allowing her to lift her head and see who fucked her.

Her face recoiled. Shock, dismay, surprise, and anger as she whipped her gaze around to me. I said nothing. What was there to say? I saw in his eyes Brandon expected all this to end any second. He moved closer, savoring his final Heavenly moments. I grabbed her hair and forced my dick into her mouth. Brandon took the cue and lifted her legs, powering his fat cannon in and out. Jessika uttered a muffled cry, her hands floating to Brandon's shoulders. If she thought about protesting, those words died. I fucked her mouth and watched Brandon slide in and out. She looked hot with a dick in her. Especially a big one. I studied his wet cock and listened to her ragged breathing. Each thrust stuffed her cavity. She'd moan at the pleasure he caused.

I wanted to see better. I slowed until she seemed to have forgotten about me and then cautiously eased my dick away, moving off the bed to stand and watch, erection waving. Jess shook her head and filled her lungs, gulping air now that my dick was removed. She thought about saying something scornful but Brandon never gave her the chance. He bent her legs over her body in pursuit of a nipple in his mouth. His cock drove deeper than ever and all the air rushed from her lungs.

"God daaaaamn!" she cried, her words trailing away into a whimper.

I took another step back. Brandon fucked like a teenager, awkward and mostly in pursuit of his own pleasure, but that dick was doing things to Jess. His enthusiasm did things to her too. He wanted her so desperately she had to respond, caressing his leering face and whispering softly.

"Slow down, Brandon," she said. "Let me feel you. Let me feel every inch. You're a big boy. You can hurt me. Fuck me slow and strong."

Magic words.

Now he knew she wasn't about to throw us both out. He let her body slide forward and her legs fall to his shoulders. Brandon held her hips and eased his cock slowly forward. Her labia stretched into a circle, flowing over his inches and taking his shape. My wife swooned, gasping at the intensity.

"That's good," she panted. "You have a nice cock, Brandon."

He grinned like an idiot.

She relaxed her legs, opening them wider and allowing him to fuck her sweetly. My eyes were glued to his wide shaft sawing in and out.

Reality far exceeded imagination. This was something way beyond my expectation. His cock was laced with veins, shiny with her excitement. Brandon was fucking Jessica and she welcomed it. My dick had iron resolve.

"You're going to make me cum," she gasped, surprised by her own admission.

That event was something she never imagined Brandon capable of doing to her.

"I'd like that," he said, thrusting a little faster.

I watched his big balls swing. He had a little belly, hanging low over her stomach, and his pubic hair needed trimming, but he was my friend, and he was fucking my wife, and his dick was big, and she loved it. Her lips clung to his shaft like she hated for him to leave. He stretched her pussy into a tight ring, forming a seal around his tube. The idea of a condom hadn't occurred to me and suggesting one now was far too late. He'd most likely cum inside her. My hard dick strained, as stiff as I could ever remember.

There was no more talking. Brandon gazed down at her like he looked on the face of God. His hips had a smooth rhythm now, reading her face and body, learning what she liked. My wife closed her eyes. Brandon feasted on one breast and then the other, running his hand over her, burning the moment into his memory because he was sure it would never repeat. He'd wanted her for so long and now she was hanging on the end of his cock like dripping meat.

She began to nod. Her hands floated to his chest. Her legs opened wider. She sucked air in a gasp and scrunched her eyes tightly shut. He devoured a nipple and Jessica moaned loudly. All at once her pussy clamped around him like a vise. His expression turned to shock. His hips worked faster.

"Mmph," Jessica grunted.

His smooth rhythm broke through. Jessica's mouth opened, wider each second.

"Ohhh," she whimpered.

It was coming, climbing from down deep.

"Aaaayyyeee!" she cried, snapping her head back.

He was ripping a huge orgasm from her. Brandon. My friend. The one she didn't care for. His cock pummeled her tunnel and her orgasm wracked her body. I thought about joining them. I thought about cumming on Jessika's face like Cain does. But it pleased me that Brandon fucked her alone. My wife would never live this moment down. She'd act upset with me, maybe even for a few days, but that orgasm robbed her of any real argument. Brandon kept fucking and Jessika kept cumming. It was glorious.

Many minutes later she surprised us with another climax, stronger than the first. She'd accepted it was he who fucked her, embraced what Brandon was making her feel. She'd swallowed her pride and given herself to the massive cock pumping her cunt. Her emotion-filled cry filled our bedroom. Brandon pounded faster still and I knew the moment had arrived. Jessika knew it too and circled his neck with her arms. He gazed into her eyes as his body clenched.

"Fuck!" he screamed, his hips slamming her once and freezing in place.

His ass clenched and his balls rose repeatedly. Brandon was cumming inside Jessika, and cumming a lot. Her legs snaked around his waist. I was amazed. Now he'd had her too. I felt a stronger bond to him. She would too. He grunted and gasped with each new blast of semen. I smiled.

Once it was over I felt the moment drain away. I searched my mind for something to say, some way of explaining what had just happened. Despite how hard she came, I'd have a price to pay. I'd given her to another man and her body wasn't mine to give. Was it revenge for Cain? Maybe, a little.

"Go to the gym, Tucker" Jessika murmured from beneath him. "Brandon stays here. Leave us alone. I know you've got to be crazy horny. Go to the gym and work it off. Shut our bedroom door on your way out."

She wasn't angry. She was intrigued.

I shut the door behind me, plucking my gym bag from the bathroom floor.

Soon I found myself chalking my hands and slipping under the Olympic bar. I exhaled, focusing my vision on the center point. I adjusted my hands and took the weight, dropping the bar slowly to my chest before pushing away.

I knew at that moment, Jessika had Brandon's soft, fat dick in her mouth, bringing him back to life, sucking like her life depended on the elixir he would give.

Chapter 17

Cain circled Curtis Blades warily, blood dripping from a cut above his left eye. Curt was a new fighter at the gym, a heavily muscled black guy nobody knew and nobody had scouted. He was a wild card and he was good. Curt caught Cain a half-second too slow and made him pay, launching a whistling right overhead that smashed Cain's eyebrow and opened a second cut.

We were six rounds in and despite the gashes, the match was even. Both men were expert and knees and elbows were just as deadly as hands and feet. The fight was a strategic pleasure to watch, but I also loved seeing Cain get hit. Between rounds was a pleasure too as Jessika strolled all four sides dressed in a new white teddy and high heels.

The men grappled but broke, then grappled again. Cain threw the same feint at Curt he'd used on me and Curt fell for it. Cain dipped a shoulder and tried to circle Curt's arm but the man was ready, falling for Cain's feint had been a feint of his own. He knew Cain would try his signature move, and we all watched astonished as Curtis rolled Cain belly down and threatened to dislocate an arm. Cain struggled until Curt applied pressure to show he wasn't kidding. Cain tapped out and the arena exploded in cheers. The mighty undefeated Cain had fallen.

I caught Jessika flashing the triumphant Curtis a coy smile. Bitch. The man smiled back and I knew what would come next. I ran my eyes over his sweaty, gleaming, muscular body. Years ago, Jessika casually mentioned she has never been with a black man. We were watching Game Night and Kylie Bunbury had just confessed her tryst with Denzel Washington.

"He can forgive her for that," Jessika had said. "I've never had sex with a black guy but I mean, come on; Denzel."

I'd thought nothing of her comment at the time but considering everything we've done the last few months, it sure carried a lot of weight now.

Curtis bumped gloves with Cain and then raised his fists over his head. The crowd cheered. He looked carved from onyx and I was sure my heightened testosterone theory would apply to him. I left my seat in the crowd to head for the locker room. Jessika would ask if I've seen him naked. I wanted to be ready with my answer.

Chapter 18

Marco offered the bucket and I spit blood. My jaw ached and my mouth tasted like copper. I looked across the ring. Cain shook his head, trying to clear it. We'd gone ten rounds so far; five I'd give to him; five I'd keep for myself. Jessika stepped through the ropes and held the placard overhead, proudly strutting and smiling as she walked all four sides. Her bouncing tits were hypnotic.

The wild crowd knew our history. They knew Jessika was up for grabs. She'd leave with the victor and the mob loved the extra layer of drama. Jessika finished her lap. The ref stepped on the ropes. Jessika waved to the crowd and left the ring.

The bell dinged and I marched out to meet Cain again.

Seventy-five minutes later I was in my car headed home. Jessika's head bobbed up and down in my lap, my hard dick repeatedly tickling the back of her throat.

I was smiling.

Cain had tried his shoulder-drop feint and I'd been ready and waiting. A hard knee rose to meet his cheekbone and that was all. Good night motherfucker. I laid him out flat, his stiff arms pointing at the ceiling far overhead.

Jessika took me to the root and sucked hard. Hard. She wanted that cum. She was hungry for the victor's seed. When it came, I'd feed her a full load. I'd fuck her again the minute I got hard. I'd make her suck my dick all weekend, filling her with semen just like Cain had. Yes, she was my wife, but not in this moment. In this moment, she was the spoils of war.

I cannot describe how good that felt.

I got a text and read it while driving. Monster was ready to increase my contract again. Nice. Jessika's submissive head rose and fell and I did nothing to interrupt the wench. Let her worship my dick. Let her suck me like a whore. I'd enjoy every second of this new angle to our relationship.

I'd seen Curtis in the shower the night he defeated Cain, his big black cock wobbling as water ran down it, dripping suds and swinging as he moved. I'd told Jessika about that slab of hanging black beef and her eyebrows rose. She looked at him differently after that. I'd face the man soon and who knew if I'd walk away victorious? I suspected Jessika hoped I'd fall. I knew what she wanted. Curtis was fierce and intense and masculine. Jessika probably got wet every time the man walked by. She sure kept an eye on him around the gym.

I rested a hand on the back of her head, enjoying the gentle rhythm.

"If Curtis defeats me," I asked. "Are you going to fuck him?"

Her whole body heated. She sucked harder and faster.

"You hope I lose," I continued. "You'd love to see him beat me. You'd be on your knees at his feet before my body hits the mat."

She slipped a hand between her legs, softly moaning.

"I won't make it easy for him," I said. "He'll have to go through me for the right to fuck you. That will be an epic battle. I'll do everything I can to keep him out of your pussy. I bet you're already imagining him fucking you."

Her moans turned loud and her body clenched. She rubbed her clit as hard and fast as she sucked my dick. She took me to the base and groaned loudly, cumming to thoughts of a behemoth black man inside her.

I drove on.

Yes, I'd do my best in the ring, but, honestly, I wanted to see him fuck her.

End.
