

House Warming

A Hot Wife Story

Matthew Lee

Contents

Chapter 1
Chapter 2
Chapter 3
Chapter 4
Chapter 5
Chapter 6
Chapter 7
Chapter 8
Chapter 9
Chapter 10
Chapter 11
Chapter 12
Chapter 13
Chapter 14
Chapter 15
Chapter 16
Chapter 17

House Warming

A Hotwife Story

*Copyright © House Warming (2022) Matthew Lee
All rights reserved.*

No part of this book may be reproduced or used in any manner without the prior written permission of the copyright owner, except for the use of brief quotations in a book review.

This is a work of fiction and any similarity to persons living or dead is purely coincidental.

By Matthew Lee

Chapter 1

I watched Carina spin slow circles through our new kitchen. Her face was beaming. She stopped to gently pet the huge stainless steel refrigerator with ice and water dispenser in the door, before moving on to the Italian marble-topped island in the middle. She leaned on her elbows.

"This kitchen is almost as big as our last apartment, Dean," she said.

"Almost," I laughed.

"We need a bigger bed, now that we have a bedroom that can handle it. No more smashing knees and elbows in the night."

"I can't wait. Queen-sized is too small for two adults."

We'd gotten lucky. We wanted the house and made an offer but the seller had rejected it. We moved on, searching for our dream home, a different dream home since it couldn't be this one. But weeks passed and no other offers came in. Their agent called us back and asked for five-thousand more, which had secretly been our plan all along. I told him we'd think about it. He'd let slip the sellers needed to sell quickly. I hung up with him, called Carina to get her okay, waited an hour, and called him back. That was four weeks ago. Now we walked through our new kitchen on the way to our new living room.

"I love this house," Carina said. "The kids will too. I can't believe we got it."

"Luck smiled on us," I said.

My cell phone rang. Work.

"Nevan," I told her. "I need to take this."

She nodded.

"Tell him I say hi," she said. "I want to check the kids' rooms upstairs. When we came through the first time we moved so fast we missed a lot"

She kissed my cheek as I answered the call. I left the house and walked around the side yard. Lots of landscaping needed over here. Vines and shrubs had overgrown everything. Nevan's voice droned in my ear about some document emergency but I already knew the proper fix. I told him to get pen and paper and I'd explain what he needed to do. He was so relieved. While he was away from the phone, I shimmied down some flagstone steps to a door under a grapevine trellis. I'd missed this door on our first visit, eagerly zipping from front yard to back. The door was latched but not locked.

I followed steps down to a basement. Until this moment I was unaware the house had a basement. I'd agreed to purchase the place without knowledge of any basement. I was feeling like we'd scored a bonus room. There was no door at the bottom. The stairs just opened into a large room under rafters. The floor was bare concrete with multiple support posts attached to exposed beams. I expected cobwebs but found none. In fact, the space was surprisingly clean and organized. The previous owner had forgotten some boxes. A quick glance at their contents showed me yellowed newspapers and old cleaning supplies. Bags of potting soil waited against a wall. One of the bags had spilled, long ago, but I noticed brush marks through the dirt. The angle and direction made it look like the wall had moved, which was impossible, of course. Right?

Nevan returned to the call and I patiently explained the true problem he faced and the fix. He called me a lifesaver and we ended the call. I bent to examine the potting soil. The only explanation that made sense was that somehow a portion of the solid wall had swung across the dirt. I studied the marks to determine how wide the door would have been, and then began searching for anything resembling a knob, if such a hidden door existed. I used the flashlight on my phone to help with the illumination, eventually stumbling across a small black wire that emerged from a two-by-four to run two inches or so before vanishing into the wood again. A tiny fingernail scratch gave me my final clue. I pinched the wire and lifted, slipping a finger under. I pulled. A faint click whispered my success. I released the wire and pressed along the wall until a seamless panel swung open. I'd discovered an actual secret door and my heart was racing.

I stepped into a modern room of low carpet and cool air. The wall on the right was a bank of monitors, most of them on. I powered up those that were dark and soon saw every room in our new home, every angle of the house from outside. I saw front and back yards and both sides. I saw the pool and jacuzzi.

I saw Carina, in fantastic high definition, pacing off the master bedroom. She wanted a bigger bed as badly as I did.

I saw rooms I did not recognize.

I'd never noticed any camera anywhere. I lifted my phone to call my wife and tell her of my discovery. We had a complete security system already installed and didn't know it. I had my finger over the button.

But I didn't.

This was a mystery. This was a riddle. I get the desire for security cameras but then why hide them in a secret chamber? This was way beyond mere security. Also, where were those unidentified rooms? I turned from the monitors to examine this space. I found a small refrigerator, small microwave, comfortable chair. There were desks along a wall, filing cabinets, dry erase boards. Someone had spent a lot of time down here. One of the desks had been built in and I scanned the drawers, expecting nothing and finding nothing. All the drawers had been cleaned out. I dropped to shine the phone light under the desk and discovered a few discs in the dust against the wall. I assumed they'd fallen out the back of a drawer. I approached one of the monitors and slipped the first disc into a slot. I reached for the play button but the video started automatically.

We'd never met the sellers but our agent had let slip this was the third home of a well-known actress and her older husband. I had a huge crush on the actress named but tried to keep that out of my feelings regarding the house. Now I saw that actress on screen, walking one of the long hallways inside the home, but the man walking behind her was not her husband. She shed clothing as she moved and I sat up straight. A chance to see this actress nude was worth all my attention. I'd always enjoyed her movies and I'd always found her remarkably attractive, but now I was watching her strip and I must admit, I liked naked better. I chuckled. She'd never done a nude scene until now.

She stopped in the hallway outside the master bedroom, discarding the last of her clothes. What a body. What a face! Her blue eyes mesmerized. The man following stopped too, drinking in the sight. The camera zoomed as the wife-slash-actress dropped to her knees and began working on his belt.

Was I about to see my favorite actress give a blowjob?

Yes, I was.

The camera zoomed again as the hefty shank of meat lifted into view. She held him in two hands, laughing with delight, and then slapped the big head on her tongue. She sucked hard, denting cheeks. The camera zoomed again and it was at that moment I calculated it was most likely her husband behind the lens. It was the only thing that made sense. What didn't make sense was why a husband would willingly watch his wife suck another man's cock, or why that husband would go through the trouble of recording the event, which, I can only presume, is for the opportunity to watch it again.

The camera zoomed closer.

There she was, my now all-time favorite actress, on her knees and stuffing her mouth with thick dick.

How could The Husband stand the sight? She reveled in this slab of beef. She tenderly licked the length, sucked the head, nuzzled the big balls. The man grew erect quickly. Once he was hard, she stood and led him into the bedroom. The camera jumped to a new angle: her reclining on the huge bed and spreading her legs towards her lover. The man had shed his clothes too and his erection approached like a battering ram. She reached down between her legs to eagerly guide him in. The camera jumped again, from behind the man, showing in perfect detail as his girthy cock spread that lovely little pussy wide, his big hanging balls moving closer to her ass.

"Goddamn," I muttered. "God damn."

The man slowly sank every inch he had, causing her back to rise from the duvet. There was no sound but I imagined the moan she must have made. Her leg folded around his waist, her hands cupped her tits to offer him a taste and he sucked a nipple hard. Her head snapped back. It was the sexiest thing I'd ever seen. How could her husband stand it?

I hit eject and popped in the other disc. My favorite actress was on all-fours, one muscular stud behind, holding her lovely hips and slamming her cunt, and another stud at her mouth, holding her beautiful face and fucking her mouth. I hit fast-forward, watching scenes flash by, always staring her, rarely with the same men. Her husband recorded her fucking in every room of the house and sometimes in the driveway in another man's car.

I dropped into the comfortable chair and ran fingers through my hair. The find was unbelievable. I wanted to continue watching but I needed to return to Carina. Would I tell my wife? At this moment, I thought not. I needed to digest my discovery. I liked the cameras scattered around for home security reasons but what if Carina was made uncomfortable and wanted them removed?

Movement caught my eye. In one of the rooms I did not recognize, a woman entered wrapped in a towel. She was beautiful and strangely familiar. I thought perhaps I was looking at another actress but then the answer came to me: this was Stacey, the woman next door, one-half of the neighbors I'd met yesterday when Carina and I came by to introduce ourselves. Husband Todd was not in the picture. Stacey dropped the towel, exposing her tennis-fit body, and for the first time I noticed small red type in the corner of the screen, warning me no disc was inserted so no recording was taking place. The bastard had these running with motion detection and auto-record. This set-up was a total invasion of privacy, but what a magnificent library of captured moments he must have. His hot wife and the wife next door.

I wondered who the other two unidentified rooms belonged to.

A thought occurred to me and I knew in an instant it was true: The Husband and previous owner of our new home did all this without his actress wife's knowledge. That's why he was forced to leave the monitors behind. I wondered if she'd learned the truth and divorced him but no, a celebrity divorce like theirs would have made the news. They were still married and I knew her husband was still recording her unfaithful ways.

I checked the two discs. There were hours of video stored on each. I could take days, weeks probably, to watch them all the way through. I shivered with delight at the prospect.

Stacey rubbed lotion on her arms and across her chest, lifting each small breast. She coated her stomach and then her legs. Behind her was the master bedroom and their king-sized bed. I knew I'd soon see Todd fuck Stacey.

I carefully retraced my steps, hiding the secret panel, latching the outer door. I hurried to Carina and fielded questions about high or low carpet and what color, but my mind raced. I needed to search that little room carefully. If he lost two discs, perhaps he lost more. Perhaps there were other clues to his broad voyeuristic plans. I wondered what I might learn with a thorough examination.

I knew I shouldn't, but I resolved to buy more discs and keep them loaded. I needed to know who lived at the other end of those two mysterious rooms.

Chapter 2

For the next several days, as the movers filled our new home and before the kids returned from camp, I tried to find the hidden cameras. The man must have spent a fortune. I found most of them, but only with great difficulty. Great effort had been made in their concealment. Some were embedded in walls, recording through pinholes. Some were hidden in smoke and carbon monoxide detectors. Some were nestled in the corners, behind crown molding, and, in a few instances, the lens was located behind a film of special see-through paint. The man must have had some serious contacts in the espionage business. The capabilities of the hidden cameras astounded me.

Over and over I returned to the question of how The Husband had witnessed her infidelities. How could he stand it? I tried to understand what that had been like for him, what thoughts had gone through his head, what emotions had gripped his heart? I made no progress. My efforts at empathy got nowhere. I could not put myself in his shoes.

I had to leave town for work so it was a while before I returned to continue my exploration of that hidden room. Carina was at work and would not get home for hours. The kids were in school. I had no appointments today so I stayed home, working from the office I'd set up here. I waited until the family had been gone about an hour and then headed for the basement.

I searched every square inch of that secret chamber and I'm glad I did. I found another disc behind some empty boxes and a fourth disc fallen behind an empty bookcase. I savored the moment. Without knowing precisely what they contained, I knew those discs would set my heart racing. I sat in the comfortable chair and gazed at my treasures. It was a magical moment despite my ignorance of what they held.

I loaded the first disc and watched as my favorite actress led a new lover down the hall. I unzipped and drew out my penis, anticipating the blowjob I was about to watch. We all develop crushes on movie stars. That's why those people get chosen. They are selected and financed for their appeal to the masses. But watching her now, seeing her real sexual desire, her real excitement and need, created a feeling of intimacy towards her. I was a stranger to her but she was no stranger to me. I was knowing her in ways the masses never would. I was watching her with her guard down, open and vulnerable. She has always been beautiful and sexy to me. Carina thought so too. But now I was in the room with her, watching her have sex, make love, fuck. I saw her lust. I saw her love of men and dick. I saw the real her.

I fell in love with her a little.

My masturbation life took off. I'd pause the screen on favorite moments and jack off to my fantasy girl looking amazing. Her body was lovely but her face was stunning, especially with a fat dick in her mouth.

Disc three was more of her having sex with always handsome and usually hung men. I wondered if The Husband arranged her lovers. She often seemed to be meeting them for the first time. I got Carina diamond earrings for her birthday. Apparently, this husband got his wife a black stud with a heavy, swinging cock.

Disc four was a mess. I found cell phone video of galas and opening nights mixed with my favorite actress sucking cock in the back seats of limos, sometimes her victim of choice was her leading man, often married. There would be plenty of furious wives if this ever got out. Her pretty and pristine public persona was nothing like her reality. She was a wild child, constantly horny. The Husband fed her every desire.

The remaining two mystery bedrooms showed life only occasionally and the motion detector kicked in and recording commenced. One was of a woman, young and sexy and hot, apparently single as no one else ever entered the frame. I watched her dress and do yoga and play with her dog. I also watched her return from two dates and fuck two different men. It was exciting to watch, but since I had no idea who she was, the excitement was diminished. This was my first hint at what drove The Husband. Bodies are just bodies. Connections are what truly matter. Relationships are what gives sex its power, and isn't a wife the ultimate relationship?

The other was an older woman, fiftyish, long dark hair and a chubby husband, who she cheated on several times a week.

Those four discs became my fantasy life. I watched them again and again. I noticed new things with almost every viewing: a curl of her tongue around a cock head, the fact she masturbated while sucking dick, the pinch of furrowed brow on her forehead when she orgasmed, the way her toes curled when she came really hard. I got to know her, intimately, like a secret lover. Through it all, I never lost my amazement that her husband had watched and filmed.

Chapter 3

Our house warming party was huge. Carina invited everyone from her office and I invited everyone from my office and the kids invited all their friends, and we invited all of ours. We invited family too. Carina and I walked the neighborhood handing out invitations and I met Stacey again, although I viewed her quite differently now, and we discovered the home of my fiftyish cougar, down the street and around the corner. She was even more attractive in person. Strange to shake her hand, knowing what she looked like naked and spread-eagled, knowing that she often cheated on her husband. We did not find my sexy single woman.

Carina's cute and much younger sister, Sabrina, arrived early to help set-up, and Aaron, my best friend since the fifth-grade, also chipped in.

People filled the house, both stories, and spilled into the back yard. I overheard a lot of talk about the actress and her husband that previously owned the place and understood many were here just to see where they'd lived. Drinks flowed, conversations filled the air, kids played. The party was a smashing success.

I spotted Carina talking to Nevan, the guy from my office. She has mentioned on several occasions that she finds the man attractive but I never thought anything of it. The events of the last few weeks changed all that. I was about to brush it off as harmless flirting, like I always do, when it occurred to me, on an infinitely smaller scale, I was now in the same position as The Husband, watching my wife with another man. I decided to see what it was like, what the draw was. I noticed Carina's wine glass was empty so I filled another and swept by, swapping them out. She laughed. I gave her a peck on the lips and continued, circling around to watch their interaction.

This became my routine for the night. I engaged in conversation with everyone, checked on the kids, hung out with Aaron, and entertained as the perfect host, always with one eye on my wife. Her wine glass was never empty. She moved on from Nevan, for a time, but a good buzz makes Carina horny and I was determined to see what it was like watching your horny wife entertain a man I knew she found attractive.

The night wore on.

Much later, guests finally began to leave, thanking me for a wonderful time. Kids fell asleep. The crowd thinned. For a while Carina had bounced around from person to person, always delightful, but now, with the crowd down to a handful of our closest friends, including Aaron and Sabrina, Carina was back with Nevan again. She wasn't drunk but she was close. I watched the way she talked to him, how close she stood, the eye-contact she maintained, but nothing stirred my feelings. We'd been at this level before. I'd learned Carina could be trusted and I'd seen her talking and flirting with Nevan a thousand times over the years. This was nothing new. Perhaps I needed something new? Perhaps I needed something daring?

Soon the last remaining friends headed for home. Nevan tried to say goodnight but I suggested he stay as he'd had a lot to drink. He'd slept over before when we'd pulled all-nighters for work. He quickly agreed. I told Carina to get ready for bed and I'd handle the kids and she kissed me and headed for the shower. I grabbed a handful of firm ass and stopped her. She planted a deep and meaningful kiss on my mouth.

"That's for handling our children," she said. She kissed me passionately again. "That's for being a wonderful husband." She kissed me passionately again, this time with tongue. "That's to put you in the mood," she added.

"I'm already in the mood," I countered, returning her hot kiss and grabbing a palmful of tit to go with the ass.

"Good," she breathed. "I need a hard-fucking tonight. You should try to get me pregnant. I think I'm ovulating."

Sex when we're trying to make a baby is the hottest sex we have.

"I'll do my best," I chuckled.

Down the hall she went. I made sure the kids were tucked in and then swept through the house, turning off lights and locking doors. I checked on Nevan, discovering he showered in the guestroom. He'd not planned on spending the night so he had no change of clothes. I had some clothes that might fit him and turned to go get them but stopped. I'd noticed Carina's cell phone on the kitchen counter and I knew she'd come looking for it after her shower.

Which would take her past the guestroom.

The cameras recorded this location perfectly. I'd seen my favorite actress get fucked against the wall where I stood.

I left the guestroom door like it was and headed upstairs.

Carina was finishing her shower and we played some more grab-ass, then I told her it was my turn to shower.

"Don't be too long," she said. "I need dick."

We kissed and I stepped into the huge bathroom. I saw her toss on a loose robe to go downstairs for her phone.

I took my time in the bathroom. My hands trembled with excitement. Is this what The Husband felt? I washed and shampooed. I shaved my balls and all around the base of my shaft. I planned on her spending a lot of time down there. I left the shower and began to dry. My skin felt warm and extra sensitive.

She had not returned.

I continued drying and took care of other post-shower tasks until I heard her. She walked the stairs and then the hallway and then she entered our new bedroom. I barely had time to notice her robe was tied differently than when she left and then she was on me, loosening the sash and throwing wide the two halves, swooping on me like a bird of prey. My penis vanished into her mouth as she shrugged her robe off. She whipped a leg over as she pushed me backward and I learned foreplay tonight would consist of a sixty-nine. Fine with me. She gets wildly horny sometimes and tonight I'd done my share to contribute to her arousal. I was dying to know what happened downstairs but video would show me everything. I needed only patience.

We fucked like animals right there on the bedroom floor. I felt a strange mix of emotions. I was hot for her, I loved her, and I was eager to make a baby with her, but there was something else floating in the air, like a faint whiff of perfume. I couldn't define it but since my dick was hard as iron, I didn't try.

Carina was especially in the mood to suck cock so I let her. I tried to make her cum orally but the wine blunted that effort. I moved us to our new king-sized bed and started pounding her and that got her all excited again, but I still could not put her over the top. I forced her onto her back and buried my tongue, this time enlisting the aid of the vibrator we keep in the night stand. Tongue and fingers and toy did the trick, but not as hard a climax as I'd hoped for. She flipped onto all fours and grabbed a butt cheek, opening her slit to me.

"Give me a baby," she coaxed. "Put a baby in me."

I slammed my erection home and fucked hard, releasing my load in a massive explosion minutes later. She curled up on my chest and we both fell asleep.

Chapter 4

For many frustrating days, I found no window of opportunity. The recordings sat in the basement waiting for me. I'd learned, after a thorough examination of the equipment he'd installed, that the previous owner had designed the system to capture everything and anything with motion detection got archived. I learned with a push of a button I could transfer stretches of video to a save disc. I learned which buttons controlled zoom. I also discovered I could log in remotely, viewing the monitors on my phone if I wished.

At last I had the house to myself again and I queued up the night of the party. I zipped ahead and found Carina leaving our bedroom wearing only a robe. I followed her on screen: hallway, stairs, hallway again. I had her from two different angles as she approached Nevan's open door. Had I timed it right?

Yes.

I jumped to the guestroom camera. My friend stood before the bathroom mirror, toweling himself dry. Carina saw him through the partially open door and paused to watch. He dried back and arms and hair and my wife stood hidden behind the jamb and watched. I switched to another angle and saw from the front that she'd pushed her robe aside to free a breast. She toyed with a nipple. If Nevan looked towards the door he'd see nothing but an eye watching him but he didn't look that way. Why would he?

He tossed the towel aside and scrutinized himself in the mirror. He grabbed his phone and flipped to some pictures and I tried zooming but the image blurred. Whatever he was looking at, it made his penis rise a little. He lifted his dick and began to stroke.

Carina opened her robe to caress both tits while playing with her pussy. She stopped to listen for the upstairs shower, checking to make sure I was still busy, then pushed a finger into her pussy. She rocked her hips, masturbating to my naked friend and coworker.

She looked sexy.

I'd never seen this side of her. I'd seen her aroused many times but that was always with me and for me. This excitement was for someone else and that gave me perspective, that humanized her, that allowed me to see her not merely as my wife but as an aroused woman, a woman lusting after a man. I was sure Nevan was not the first man other than me my wife fantasized about. She may have imagined other men while having sex with me. I was secure enough to admit all that.

My dick rose. Nevan continued jacking off and Carina fingered herself right in step. They'd spent the whole night flirting. I suspected he was thinking about her now. I suspected the photos he looked at on his phone were of her. I'd seen him take pictures on our trip to the lake a month ago. They were shots of us having fun but Carina had been in her bathing suit.

His hand moved faster and then a long white rope of semen arched from the tip of his dick to land on the tiled bathroom floor. Another quickly followed. Carina's knees buckled a bit and I realized she was climaxing. No wonder it had been challenging to get another from her when she'd returned to bed. She gripped the wall and rubbed her pussy and Nevan kept pumping out thick strands of jizz.

He finished and so did she, tying her robe again and grabbing her phone. I knew the rest of the story: she'd come upstairs and we'd fucked. I played that wonderful night in my head, remembering. On screen, Nevan got ready for bed and closed the bedroom door. The light went out.

I hit fast-forward. I sat thinking. I'd arranged a lot of that. I'd kept Carina intoxicated and handled everything so she could spend time with Nevan. I'd left his door open and her phone on the counter. I'd tried to make something happen and it had. I could blame only myself.

I continued to ponder what it all meant, what it changed and how I was feeling, until I noticed a dim light on the screen. Carina, using her phone like a flashlight, descending the steps in fast-motion and headed again for the guestroom. I checked the time stamp. This was after our romp in bed. I thought we'd both passed out but clearly, only I had.

Carina had gone looking for more.

I reached for the monitor and slowed the recording to normal speed. I jumped to the angle that showed the guestroom from the inside. I saw Carina's light at the bottom of the door. The door opened and Carina entered, phone light in hand. She walked softly and slowly. I had no sound but I imagined she called Nevan's name. Her body language looked like she was calling his name.

The bedroom light came on. Nevan was under a thin sheet and by his outline I knew he was in bed naked. Carina had her robe so loosely tied that cleavage bulged, thighs were exposed. Nevan blinked, surprised, but his eyes devoured all the flesh he saw. They talked, Nevan wary, Carina reassuring. They stopped talking. Carina stood tall, straightening her shoulders.

She opened her robe!

She let it fall from her shoulders, collecting on her arms at waist level. Nevan's eyes bulged. They started talking again. Carina was delighted to stand in front of him almost naked. Then my wife pinched the sheet and tugged. Nevan let it go. My wife drew the sheet lower until the edge crossed his stomach and exposed his penis. He was growing hard quickly, staring at my nearly nude wife. She stood there and took it, reveled in it, savored his eyes crawling her flesh.

My heartbeat filled my ears. I hadn't drawn a breath in almost a minute. Nevan took penis in hand and began stroking while gawking at her. She began caressing her breasts while watching him jack off, loving how the sight of her made him diamond hard. They pleased themselves while ogling each other and my mouth turned dry.

Nevan came first but that sent Carina soaring. Her legs wobbled as he shot. She dropped to one knee and threw her head back, silently wailing in pleasure. Nevan blasted healthy spurts onto the guestroom sheets and my lovely bride orgasmed right along with him.

I fell back in the chair. Holy shit.

Carina finished her convulsions and Nevan finished spurting and they sobered and looked each other in the eye. Both burst into laughter. Carina started talking a million miles and hours and Nevan drew the sheet up, just shy of his messy cock. My wife stood and hesitated, giving the man one last look at her nude form, and then tied the robe and returned to bed, where I still slept like a dead man.

Chapter 5

"I have something to confess," Carina said, lifting her face to me.

We were on our laptops at the Dutch Brothers Coffee near our home. A babysitter watched the kids. I'd been out of town for work again and files had piled up. Carina and I both had extra work to do and needed to get away from our unholy spawn. I sat my espresso down.

"What?" I asked.

"Remember that night of the house warming?"

"Yes."

"I watched Nevan jack off."

"Did he leave his door open or something?"

"Something like that."

"No biggie," I said, feeling the hypocrisy since I'd watched too and confessed nothing. "I probably would have watched too. You don't see something like that every day."

She was shaking her head.

"Yes," she continued. "I admit curiosity played a big part. The first time. But then I came to the bedroom and you and I had sex and I was still terribly horny. I snuck downstairs while you slept and made him jerk again for me. I masturbated while I watched. He's seen me naked, Dean. I was drunk and opened my robe. I let him see me naked. He was so complimentary all night. I can see how badly he wants me. I know I should not have done that but you kept bringing me more wine. I blame you. Why are you laughing? This is serious."

I stopped laughing.

"It's all right, Baby," I said. "I did bring you wine all night so I am partially to blame. It's no big deal. If I know Nevan, and I do, those were not the first and second times he's masturbated over you. I know you guys find each other attractive and really, you didn't even touch so what's the problem? I forgive you."

I'd completely deflated her. She'd spent days working up to this big confession and I'd punctured it in an instant.

"Oh," she said.

I returned to my work and so did she.

"What if we had touched?" she asked. "Is that the line which cannot be crossed? Would you still be unperturbed if I'd put my hands on him or he me?"

I pondered.

"Depends," I said. "What kind of touching? Where? For how long? I don't care if he caressed your elbow. I wouldn't care if he gave you a scalp massage or you rubbed a kink out of his shoulder."

"Obviously."

"But I might be upset if you jerked his cock for him."

"Might?"

"Probably."

Her eyes got big.

"Probably?" she squawked.

"Yeah, probably. Say you were both drunk at a party and acting like goofs. Say he was wearing a kilt and you yanked his dick as a joke. I'm not going to flip out. What if you were a nurse and he was a patient with two broken hands? That would be a kindness. I'd allow that. Hell, I'd encourage it. I can't draw definite lines around all possible scenarios. Life is messy."

She leaned back. Her confession was finished. Whatever she'd expected my reaction to be, I hadn't done it. She eyed me suspiciously.

"Now that I hear you talk like this," she said. "I'm beginning to see devious intentions behind the continuous flow of wine that night. You know I think Nevan is hot. Why get me buzzed when he's around? Why handle everything so I can spend more time with him?"

I scrambled for an explanation.

"I knew we'd have wild sex after," I lied. "I used Nevan to turn you on."

"Hmm."

I let the conversation die. When digging one's own grave, it's best to go shallow. If I kept talking, I'd only make things worse.

Chapter 6

Carina poured another glass of cabernet, her third. We were at this bar, known for their barbecue ribs, to celebrate Sabrina's birthday. A lot of their friends from the old neighborhood were present, including Joey, Carina's old flame from high school. He'd played baseball in high school and was one of the popular kids, but he'd put on a little weight since then. Carina had peeled away from me as soon she saw him, pinning Joey in a corner, catching up on old times. She was playing a game with me, unaware I was busy playing another on her. She thought she was teasing me, challenging my statement about the messiness of life, trying to get a reaction that overturned my words, while I was still trying to understand how a man could share his wife.

Without meaning to, she played right into my hands.

So, I sat back and watched. I let Carina catch me looking from time to time, just to make her feel like she was winning. Joey definitely felt like he was winning. He had Carina all to himself and she seemed to be interested in every word he had to say. I spent time talking to different people around the bar but always with one eye on my wife. The party played on. People danced and ate and drank and had fun.

I already had a plan.

I waited until the time to go arrived, then I suggested we say goodnight to everyone and head for home. Before she could respond I added, if she wasn't finished talking with him yet, that Joey come home with us too.

That caught her by surprise.

"Yeah," she stammered. "Okay."

"What do you say, Joey?" I said. "You ready to call it a night or do you have time? The kids are at grandma's."

He jumped at the chance.

"Yes," he blurted. "That sounds great."

"Perfect," I said. "Carina, why don't you ride with Joey in his car to show him the way?"

My wife hates being out maneuvered but graciously accepted this setback, probably because she did not view riding with Joey as a setback at all. We found Sabrina and wished her happy birthday again, threw some hugs all around and waved goodbye. Carina followed Joey to his car. I watched her walk away and felt a tremor of what The Husband must have felt with his actress wife. Just a flash. She didn't hold Joey's hand or anything like that but she did look back at me with a funny look in her eyes and a strong longing filled my heart. Lust rose inside me, which I found surprising. Why lust?

He held the door open for her and she slipped into his red Mustang. He closed the door and butterflies fluttered in my gut. I beat them home and turned on lights and sexy background music. Carina entered first and kissed me and I tasted the wine from earlier at the bar in her mouth. I handed her a glass filled with cabernet.

"Are you using Joey to turn me on?" she whispered. "Like Nevan?"

"Yes," I rasped.

"It's working. You might be on to something."

Joey followed not too far behind, rubber-necking our new place and commenting on how much money we must make to afford the house. Tacky, but Joey is a simple guy. Honest, handsome, and simple. Carina landed just off-center on the sofa, leaving room for Joey but not for me, so I took the large leather chair close by. Joey took his spot beside my wife without even thinking. With their shared history, it came naturally. Carina asked him a question about the work he did now, landscaping, and they were off again. I interjected a comment here or there but mostly stayed out of it. He was a good-looking guy and Carina was enjoying herself and the obvious interest he still had in her. They sat askew, mostly facing each other, with denim-covered knees touching, which gave me an idea.

"Honey?" I interrupted. "I'm going to change out of these clothes. Wouldn't you like to get out of those uncomfortable jeans?"

For the first instant, her expression was gratitude for my thoughtful suggestion. In the next, her expression turned to surprise, wondering why I would try to get her out of those pants.

She quickly embraced my idea. She excused herself, leaving Joey and I to talk about baseball. What would her selection be? Shorts and big T-shirt? Panties and tight T-shirt? Flannel pajamas? I found out minutes later: big, fluffy, white terrycloth robe, the same robe she'd worn the night Nevan was over. She'd cut through the kitchen to refill her wine glass and then dropped into her spot on the couch, closer to Joey than last time. I caught flashes of bare leg and bare skin at the décolletage, but could not determine what she had on underneath.

They continued their conversation and I soon felt the momentum start to fade. There'd been a surge when she'd left to change but now they were just talking and drinking, sharing memories that left me out. I wondered if I could give the situation another shot in the arm by leaving so I excused myself to go finish some work in my office. I reassured Joey he was welcome to stay. I kissed Carina's cheek and we locked eyes for a moment but she was unreadable, other than a titanic horniness brewing. She was a bit beyond buzzed and possibly a little reckless but I decided, in hot pursuit of forbidden knowledge, to roll the dice anyway. We were home and safe and Joey seemed harmless. I was in my office thirty minutes or so when I heard bare feet approach down the hardwood hallway.

"Dean?" her soft voice asked.

"Yes, Baby."

I looked up from my computer. Carina stood in the doorway, hugging the doorjamb, cheek pressed to wood. She was just shy of drunk.

"The man you used to turn me on has turned me on."

"Sweet. Is it time to send him home?"

"No."

"No? What comes next then?"

She acted coy, turning a toe against the floor, making her eyes soft and alluring.

"Well," she purred. "I want to get even more turned on."

"How will you do that?" I asked.

"I want to suck his cock," she murmured, a slight slur to her voice.

My eyes went wide.

"I do," she continued. "Can I? Me and Joey used to have great sex. I'm sitting there talking to him but I don't remember the emotions I felt for the guy. All I remember is loving his dick. He's got a nice one. I might be drunk but I want to see it again. Touch it. I promise it has nothing to do with the man, so don't worry. Can I, Baby? Can I just one time? For old time's sake? You brought in a man to turn me on and he did."

Correction: not shy of drunk. Drunk. Clearly drunk.

I had my refusal ready when it occurred to me this was the perfect opportunity. I had a burning curiosity about what sharing one's wife was like. I wanted to know what went through a man's head in those moments. Here was one staring me in the face. All I had to do was allow it.

"You're drunk," I said.

"I am, and horny as hell. I will fuck your brains out after I send Joey home and you know I will. I thought a quick blowjob would be sexy fun. Nothing too serious. I didn't tell you about Nevan for a while and it bothered me a lot. This time I want to hide nothing from you. What do you think? Can I?"

I was rocked to my core. I was frozen. After dancing all around the arena, whipping my cape, I now found myself standing directly in the bull's path. What a razor's edge sensation. A yes sent us tumbling over a cliff. A no killed any plans I might make regarding Carina and other men. She'd shut down in that way. She'd flirt with no one for a long time.

"You truly want this?" I asked.

"I do."

"You're ready to face tomorrow when you're no longer drunk?"

"I am."

I drew a deep breath.

"All right," I said. "Go do it."

My heart was a freight train. She strode across the carpet and planted the hottest, wettest, most meaningful kiss ever on my mouth.

"You stay here," she murmured, pointing at my chair. "Don't spook him."

She turned and aimed for the living room and Joey. I watched her vanish.

What was I supposed to do now? Did I truly want to sneak out there and see what was going on? I imagined the horror of being caught. I felt my body temperature rising. Did Carina already have his penis in her mouth?

In her mouth!

This was torture and getting worse by the second. How did The Husband stand it? I reminded myself that everything they did out there would be captured by the cameras, and that helped calm me. I'd miss nothing. I'd see everything for myself. I exhaled, drawing comfort for the fact I would not be frozen out.

I tried to return to work but my mind simply would not go there. Part of me experienced the tumultuous emotions and part of me watched myself experience the tumultuous emotions. I was afraid and anxious and jealous. I was excited and worried. More immediately, I was hard. Is that what drove The Husband to share his actress wife? Did watching her with others, somehow, turn him on? Love scenes, watching your actress wife with handsome Hollywood men, sure would be a whole lot easier to take.

Joey's soft moan drifted down the hall. I almost died. I knew exactly what her mouth did to him, I understood exactly what the man experienced. Carina doesn't merely suck a penis, she worships them.

I thought about the floorplan and where we'd placed our furniture and thought there might be a spot for me, in the kitchen and looking under the stand where we keep the watercooler crock. I could crouch, peek through the legs, spy on the sofa. The kitchen island would shield me.

I had to try. If I was him I'd be watching for me, so I expected he'd keep one eye out for the husband. He'd never think to look away from the office and down at floor level. I removed my shoes and began to crawl down the hallway. A left took me onto the tile of the kitchen and from there I maneuvered under the tall stand. What I saw stunned me.

Joey sat on our couch, arms stretched to either side along the back. Carina was on the floor between his legs, sitting on her heels. Her robe was untied with most of it carelessly flung sideways. She had one arm through a sleeve like she'd tried to remove the thing in a hurry but gave up because something more important came along. She'd worn nothing underneath, which answered that question, so Joey saw full tits swinging each time he looked down, which was often. Carina was a mommy twice over and her tits were much bigger than her high school days, back when they dated. Joey clearly appreciated this fact.

Carina's head bobbed slowly but blocked my view. I was certain his cock was in her mouth but I wanted confirmation. Inexplicably, I wished to see the sight for myself. I waited, watching, and before too long she tilted her head to lick sideways along his length. Now I saw everything, including why my wife would remember his dick fondly years later. The man possessed an impressive meat pipe.

I'd wanted to see it for myself, and here it was. My heart stopped. My breathing stopped. My body froze and my mind caught fire. Nothing prepares you for this. My head filled with thunder. Dear God, she was sucking another man's cock with such relish, such open lust and desire. I hated that he was so big. It was daunting, intimidating, astonishing and mesmerizing.

She mopped under the head with the tip of her tongue while stroking the length with both hands. She slid her tongue along the underside until she reached his hanging balls and then sucked those in, one at a time. After rolling him around, she licked up the shaft again until working her mouth over the head and adjusting the angle of her throat. She took a breath and seemed to concentrate, determined.

Her lips began a journey downward, a red ring around his shaft gliding towards his pubic hair. She slowed about half way and then stopped with inches to go. She adjusted her throat again and forced her lips lower, incrementally crawling lower like crimson caterpillars.

She can take all of mine, but his was about to defeat her. She pushed, a vein rising on her forehead as she tried to force him deeper. She was desperate to get her lips around the root. Joey moaned, staring at her face, amazed by her effort and determination.

"That feels as amazing as it looks," he said, gazing at Carina's head in his lap. "You can take so much now. That's way more than before."

Oh, yeah. His cock had been in her mouth many times before. With all this adrenaline roaring through my veins I'd forgotten that important historical fact. I stared at her red lips stretched into a circle around his shaft and thought about how many times she'd suck that prick already. She clearly loved doing so. After all these years, it's what she most wanted to do again.

Carina lifted his wrists to place his hands on her head. He understood. This was something they'd always done, a playful and familiar intimacy between lovers. Joey held her head steady and lifted his hips, pushing his cock deeper. Carina groaned with submissive satisfaction. She loved being forced to take more dick. Joey pushed and my wife's throat bulged and his cock slowly crept farther down her gullet. He paused out of thoughtfulness but she smacked his arm and grunted her displeasure. He pressed with both hands, forcing his beefy cock into her throat. She moaned with pleasure as her red lips nestled into his dark pubes.

"You've never taken that much," he rasped, ass lifting slightly.

She gave herself a moment to get used to his bigger size and then began small bobs, barely moving, holding the ground she'd conquered. She slid her lips up and down the last inch, fucking him with her mouth and throat.

"Baby," he mumbled. "Stop. You're gonna make me cum."

My mind tumbled. Why had I not considered that likelihood? Denial? She'd said blowjob and I'd only imagined the act. I never contemplated the end. He was going to ejaculate, and he was going to ejaculate into her mouth. Fucking hell.

Carina did not flinch. She did not pause. She did not alter her rhythm at all. If what she was doing would make him explode, then she was doing it right. She would make him burst and swallow everything he gave her.

"Baby," he pleaded. "Rina. Baby, shit, Rina. Slow down Stop."

She did not stop. Her head was a steady piston, rising and falling and gobbling his dick. He sucked air. He gasped.

"Rina!" he growled.

I saw it coming. I saw it on his face. I read it in the taut muscles of his body. His ass lifted off the couch. His pelvis pumped. She gripped his hips with both hands and kept his cock lodged almost all the way in.

"Ahhh!" he cried, covering his face. "Ahhhrgh! Fuuuuuuuck!"

Boom! His hips jerked and Carina groaned. Boom! Boom! He shuddered. He shook. He was blasting away in there, spewing and spurting. Semen gushed and Carina gulped. She forced her lips to grip him around the root, holding his throbbing, pulsating cock enveloped as he disgorged a hot and massive load. He almost wept behind his hands. His balls jumped with each squirt.

She held him buried as he drained. She held him in there until he began to soften. She slid her mouth off the shaft, retreating, revealing his slobbery length an inch at a time. She let the defeated beast fall with a splat on the sofa cushion, and then she giggled. She tried to speak but needed to clear her throat first.

"That was a lot," she chuckled.

He was breathless.

"I haven't cum in a long time," he exhaled. "Too busy. No girlfriend."

"It was a lot. I feel full. I was hungry but not anymore."

She grabbed the pudgy shaft and squeezed, pulling a fist towards her mouth, drawing from root to head. A large blob oozed from his pee hole. She licked it away.

"I want to fuck you," he muttered.

"I want to fuck you," she replied. "But no fucking. Only sucking."

I'd seen enough. I turned and crawled away, hurrying to my office. I opened more tabs so it looked like I'd been working and waited, heart rumbling behind my ribs like a stampede of elephants.

"Hi," her sweet voice sounded behind me.

I turned, casual, unperturbed.

"How'd it go?" I confidently asked.

"Amazing," she admitted. "Better than I remembered. Thank you for that. I owe you one."

"A blowjob? Or do you mean I get a blowjob from another woman?"

"You pick. I'll be fair if that's what you want but I'm hoping you pick a blowjob from me."

"You sucked Joey off?"

"Yes."

"Did you swallow?"

She crossed the room and kissed me, her tongue sliding in. I tasted him.

"You could have just said yes," I said, mildly disgusted.

She laughed.

"I'm putting him in the guestroom," she said. He's too drunk to drive. He'll leave first thing in the morning." She glanced at my monitor. "Finish up here and come to bed. I need to be fucked."

Our eyes met. I'd rarely seen her so aroused. What she'd done with Joey excited her but most of her lust was for me, her husband, the man that have given the green light and allowed her to enjoy Joey. Women get funny when you place their wants and needs above your own.

"I'll be right up," I said. "Don't shower or change anything. Don't brush your teeth. Don't even brush your hair. I want to experience you exactly as you are."

Her face softened. She bent to kiss me again and again slipped me tongue, but this time she lingered, testing, gauging my reaction. Satisfied, she headed for upstairs. I faced my monitor again but my mind was a million miles away and roaring like a rocket. What a fucking rush this was. Emotions swirled. All of them. I felt everything all at once. One thing amazed me above all others: I was rock hard.

Chapter 7

Our sex was amazing. Neither of us spoke much. We were turned inward, wrestling with new and unfamiliar feelings. Our minds may have been occupied but our bodies were alive, electrified. Despite being drunk, Carina orgasmed four times. I fucked her every way possible, feeling like her dalliance gave me the right to be rougher than usual. She responded to that.

She insisted on intercourse but I made her start by sucking my cock the way she had his. I asked questions about how it was for her with him but her answers were clipped. Guilt, I presumed. Eventually I brought the questions around to his cock until I finally got her to admit he was big and she liked that. After I came, she passed out. I laid beside her, holding her in my arms, and then I fell asleep too.

Breakfast was awkward. Carina was ashamed by what she'd done and I felt foolish. Why had I allowed her to do that? We tried talking about headlines and errands and the kids, everyday stuff, but everything felt stiff and stilted. We parted for work. She wouldn't meet my eyes.

To make things worse, I had to leave town for a few days and fretted the whole time I was away. When I got home I discovered the time apart had softened our discomfort. By Friday morning we were talking freely again, happy and once more intimate. The ghost of the event lingered in the air around us, but we'd managed to sidestep reality and just carry on. My work day was uneventful until I got a text from Carina: How do ribs sound?

Great, I replied.

Same bar as Sabrina's birthday, she wrote back. After work. Meet you.

I texted I'd see her then. Odd, but all right. I suspected nothing until I entered the bar. I'd seen Carina's car in the parking lot so I knew she was already here. A quick scan showed her sitting in a back booth.

With Joey.

I slid in next to her. She acted like Joey was my friend too and so did he so I went along and the conversation flowed. Nobody mentioned what had happened between them. I quickly discovered I actually liked the guy. After several plates of ribs and several beers, Joey excused himself to use the bathroom. Carina waited until he was out of earshot.

"After we finish here," she said. "We head home for more of the same."

I looked at her, confused.

"Beer?" I asked.

"No," she said, bringing her mouth close to my ear. "I want to suck his cock again."

"You promised it would be a onetime event."

"You're right, I did, but I've been thinking. If you can let me do it drunk, you can let me do it sober."

"Why would I do that?"

"Why did you let me the first time?"

I had no answer, not one I could share.

"It didn't bother you at all, Honey," she said. "In fact, once Joey was tucked in and we were in bed, your dick was cast iron. You fucked me like a king. You let me suck his cock and then you fucking conquered me, so what's the harm? Our lives returned to normal. I was sure disaster would strike but we went a whole week and nothing blew up, nothing wrecked our marriage. We handled the kids, we were excellent parents and lovers. We were a close and loving couple. We had a few uncomfortable days but I think we did that to ourselves. There were no repercussions, Dean. I had my fun and nothing bad happened. Tell me why I shouldn't do it again."

Facts fuck up every argument. I had nothing to say.

"Does Joey know your plans for him?"

"Not yet," she said. "I invited him to dinner to get to know you better. He thinks I sucked him off behind your back. He's nervous and worried. I think it would be best if you gave us your approval, up front and out in the open."

"You want me to say it's okay?"

"I do. If we all just admit we're in on it, he can relax. We can all relax."

"Wow. That's asking a lot."

"Is it, though? You've already said yes once. Just say yes again out loud."

She was thinking about blowing him. Her eyes danced, full of light and excitement and anticipation.

"Can you take us both on?" I asked.

She shook her head.

"Kinky," she said. "But not this time. I think it's best if tonight you tell him to his face that you know and you're okay with it. Once we're home you leave us alone like last time. After a few encounters we can introduce the idea of you joining in."

"A few encounters? So tonight is just the start? You plan on more?"

She grinned.

"No," she said. "The night of Sabrina's party was the start. Tonight is the natural continuation of what we started then."

Her eyes were filled with fire. I don't know when this idea first came to her but it had built into an inferno.

"I'll make myself scarce," I said, hardly believing I'd said it.

"Thank you, Baby," she said. "You know I'll make it up to you. You know I can't wait for you to take it out on my body."

I swear she practically vibrated with excitement. Over her shoulder, I saw Joey exit the bathroom.

"Here he comes," I said.

"Okay," she said, licking her lips. "Remember: you tell him. It should come from you. He won't believe it otherwise."

Joey drew near. I stood abruptly and he paused, cautious. I gestured with an open hand for him to take the seat next to her, my seat, and he did. I took his spot across the table. I fiddled with the silverware, struggling for what to say. The tension grew fast and saying anything was better than saying nothing.

"Carina wants to suck your cock," I blurted. "Again."

His body tensed, ready for a fight.

"I told her if that's what she wanted, I'd allow it."

"Holy shit," he said.

He turned to her.

"When?" he asked.

"Now," she answered, giggling with delight. "Dean and I will pay the bill."

"You guys go ahead," I said. "I'll pay it. I'll come home much later."

Carina was delighted. Her face softened. She touched my hand.

"Baby," she said. "That's so, so sweet."

She leaned across the table and we kissed.

"Give us two hours," she whispered.

I sat to wait for the waiter but they slid out of the booth, eager to get going. I watched them leave, already hatching my plans. I wouldn't make myself scarce. I'd be in the basement watching the whole time. The waiter came by and I dropped my credit card, sipping my beer.

I gave them a head start, knowing they'd take the most direct route to our place. At last I left the restaurant, looping around the house, pulling up around the corner and walking the rest of the way. It was dark so a quick right turn into the side yard went unnoticed. I closed the basement door behind me, latched and locked it this time, and moved through the secret door to the bank of monitors. Three were already recording. One filmed the single girl getting railed in her bedroom. The other two showed Carina and Joey in the hallway from different angles. They'd never made it to the bedroom. She was already naked and he was kicking off his pants, long cock swinging. Carina chased it with her mouth, missing repeatedly, both laughing until she shoved him against a wall and rammed the soft thing to the back of her throat. My wife inhaled his big dick, sucking hard, tugging his scrotum and jerking the shaft. She stopped and they kissed deeply, which I should have expected but still gutted me. They were both naked and his hands roamed her body. She jerked him with one hand while they kissed again, getting him hard.

When she could wait no longer, she squatted in front of the man, or at least that was her plan. Instead, Joey used his strength to spin her around and pin her face-first to the other wall. He took his big hard cock in hand and probed between her butt cheeks with it. My heart seized. Fucking is not sucking. Fucking is on a whole other level. She tried to turn, to spin her hips away, but he leaned into her. His hard cock slowly vanished between her legs. I hoped he merely filled her gap but then I noted her legs almost buckled.

He was inside her. He was in her pussy. He moved his hands to her waist and looked down, watching his inches disappear and then reappear, wet and shiny. Carina took it for several heartbeats before coming to her senses.

I saw her mouth form an unequivocal and emphatic NO.

She spun to face him, his wet cock hanging in the open air, and pointed a finger in his face. He was all kinds of apologetic. She scolded him and he showed her his palms. She crossed her arms, tapped a foot, and then grinned before dropping to a knee. She grabbed his dick with both hands and jammed him into her mouth. He fell backward against the wall and watched her work.

I'd seen her suck his cock but she'd been drunk then. This was nothing like that. No senses dulled this time, no desires blunted. This was an open display of raw and naked lust. She thought never to see this man again after she married me and yet here he was, his big cock half buried in her mouth. She was ravenous, attacking his meat. With a burst of heat, I realized she was tasting her pussy on his cock. That fat beast had been in her.

Inside her.

I opened my pants and released my erection. Carina was possessed by desire for this man and the sight aroused me as much as it stung. This had to be what The Husband felt. I was now he, sitting at the bank of monitors, watching my wife with her lover. My excitement grew with each heartbeat. A recklessness grew along with it. I wanted more. I grabbed my phone.

If he promises to pull out, I typed, you can fuck him a little.

I hit send. Normally, no passionate woman would stop in the middle of all this but that changes when you have kids. Her phone chimed when my message arrived and she stopped sucking cock. He tried to make her continue but her mommy DNA would not allow it. She pushed his hands away. The message had to be checked. The kids safety was her priority.

She left him standing there, penis throbbing and covered with saliva, to retrieve her phone. She read my message. She read it again. Her arms dropped to her sides, her phone slipped from limp fingers. She turned slowly towards him. Her lips moved as she narrated my conditions. He enthusiastically nodded again and again.

A wave of regret washed over me. What had I done? Worse, why had I done it? I had no idea of my own motivations, just a yearning to push the envelope.

She came into his arms and they kissed for a minute but she was hot to fuck. She turned her back on the man and reached behind, taking his cock in hand, probing between her ass cheeks, seeking her opening. I saw her body tense and knew she'd found it. He thrust his hips and her back arched. Her mouth opened and in my mind, I heard her cry of pleasure. He speared her, impaling her on a fat spit. He thrust deeper, lifting her to her toes and higher, almost off the ground, driving his cock all the in. Carina braced herself against the wall and pushed back, wiggling her hips, hotly craving the stuffing of his meat. He held her butt and withdrew about half before pushing that big hard cock deep again.

He hit a rhythm, pumping her tight pussy with a slow in and out, the pleasure so intense their faces looked agonized. He slid a hand up her stomach to grab a big tit and she arched her arms over her head, pulling him closer so they could kiss over her shoulder. She looked fucking erotic. I could scarcely believe it was my Carina on the screen. Joey pistoned that hefty tube of beef in and out of her body, driving them both crazy. My freed dick throbbed.

I now understood The Husband, watching his actress wife, flooded with lust and need. The powerful emotions were intoxicating. I understood the draw without fully understanding the complex feelings.

I started stroking to the sight of my wife getting fucked. I felt ashamed and perverted and a bit like a loser, but none of that mattered, and all of it faded quickly. I'd never been so aroused. Carina was a vision. I studied every inch of her, every move she made, every expression of tortured pleasure. I scrutinized his thick cock moving in and out, gliding, sliding, expanding her insides. I zoomed just like The Husband had, now understanding the need to see it.

Carina shook her head, tossing her hair wildly. Her body tensed, muscles taut. I realized she was having an orgasm, stuck on the end of his cock like that, fucked from behind against a wall. How many times over the years had she fantasized about fucking Joey one last time? I've had dirty thoughts about my exes. She must be losing her mind at this reality.

Joey withdrew and backed away, hard cock like a helmeted tusk jutting from his hips. Carina, no longer supported and left weak, crumpled, dropping like a sack of bones. Joey helped her stand and led her down the hall to our bedroom. I rapidly switched monitors, picking them up as they entered and headed for our bed.

Our bed! Our new big bed!

No, no, no, my mind raced. Fuck my wife in the hallway and it's passionate but less personal. Fuck my wife in OUR new bed and it's as personal as it gets. I'll remember every night. I'll fall asleep every night with the awareness that Joey took my wife on that very spot.

Carina shoved decorative pillows aside and climbed onto the duvet. She rolled onto her back and lifted her legs together, opening them gracefully and playfully, teasing him at the slow reveal. Her pussy was a little pink slit nestled in closely cropped pubic hair. As her legs spread, her labia parted slightly like rose petals. He took his heavy cock in hand and crawled onto the bed between her legs, eyes glued to her offered pussy. She bent her legs to grab her heels and then, with the help of her arms, spread herself wide open, elbows pressed to inner thighs, to force her legs as far apart as she could, elegantly lewd. He brought that weapon closer and I zoomed as fast as I could. Carina stared at the approaching head, partly nervous and partly fearful, but mostly eager to be filled.

Joey placed the tip and mashed her labia, spreading her pussy lips. His forward motion paused, halted by his girth, but he leaned his body forward and the large head opened her hole and eased inside. Carina's body arched off our bed. He moved his hands higher, holding himself over her, looking her in the eyes as he sank each new inch. Carina released her heels to grab handfuls of bedspread. Her jaw opened. I imagined the sounds he forced from her throat. His relentless shaft traveled deeper until only a large pink scrotum hung at her entrance. She folded her arms around his neck, pulling him down for a passionate kiss, but kept her legs open wide. His hips began to rise and fall. He kissed her, then tongued her big tits, then kissed her some more. He nuzzled her neck, her ear, her throat, his hips a relentless machine. He grabbed my pillow and stuffed it under her butt, lifting her pelvis and somehow allowing his cock to reach even farther up inside her.

I desperately wished for audio as Carina silently cried out, orgasming on his thick and deeply buried cock.

They began kissing passionately, remembering their youthful lust, remembering the hot raw power of first love. He fucked her strong and deep, knowing exactly what she liked, knowing exactly how to read her body. His hips moved faster. Their kisses grew more desperate. She held him tight, one arm still around his neck but the other low on his waist, almost across his ass. She brought her legs down to entrap him, heels digging into his butt.

Her muscles clenched and her body stiffened as she orgasmed again. She held him tight, clawing at his back, thrilled and overwhelmed. His head snapped back. His smooth and steady pumping turned erratic. He writhed and convulsed and for a heartbeat I wondered what was happening. His wild hips jerked and thrust, his hard ass clenched.

He was cumming in her! I was watching it happen in real time. His buried cock at that very moment spewed liquid fire into her womb. Carina ran her hands all over him, kissed his face, hugged him tightly with legs wrapped, encouraged the expulsion of every drop. Her cunt milked his shaft, just like it does mine. The man emptied his large balls deep.

I abruptly turned my lower body away from the monitors. My orgasm hit suddenly, hot jizz spurting onto the concrete floor. I jerked faster, my eyes riveted and my heart breaking, as one of the strongest orgasms of my life blasted from my dick. I groaned involuntarily, semen shot everywhere.

On screen, Joey collapsed onto my wife. He was breathing hard and she was lightly caressing his skin all over. Her legs still held him tight, keeping that fat log lodged deep, keeping her pussy stuffed with dick. They kissed leisurely now, satisfied lovers enjoying the warm afterglow. He came around, propping himself on elbows, brushing messy hair from her face. They kissed occasionally, chuckling, rubbing noses and murmuring, but she would not release him. She kept him buried, his balls now hanging low against her asshole. She savored the fullness his cock provided.

"Let him go," I said to the screen. "His dick traps all that cum in you."

She didn't hear me, of course, and continued to hold him. She liked being under him. She liked feeling him inside her.

Eventually they did move, rolling on their side to talk. His softening cock deflated enough to slip free naturally, followed by a flow of milky white sperm that spilled down her thigh. Carina pinched her labia closed, halting the leak. I groaned. She needed to allow all that sperm to drain. Oozing semen probably tickles and of course she'd want to stop that, but what if it was something else? What if she wanted to keep his sperm in her? What if that gave her some kind of womanly thrill? What if she liked having Joey in there, enjoyed carrying the load of a man she had feelings for?

I watched them for a while and then checked the time. I still had an hour to go. Carina said something and Joey left the bed to retrieve her phone. I grabbed my phone as she typed, waiting.

I let him cum in me, she confessed.

She had to get that off her chest. She knows what a big deal it is. We'd all agreed he'd pull out but no effort was made to honor that promise. I wondered if it titillated her to write that sentence and send it to me. What was she expecting me to say? I could ask why she allowed him to fill her with cum but that should be a face-to-face conversation, not a text exchange.

Before I could formulate a response, she sent another.

He's about to fuck me again. I want it.

What?

My eyes darted to the monitor. It was true. Joey sat on the edge of our bed and Carina had her head in his lap. She'd dropped her phone on the carpet. She held his cock in her hands and slid her tongue up and down the shaft. She teased the head, circling the crown. He was expanding and firming. He lifted his cock away from her and grabbed a handful of hair, bending her head back. She laughed and he jammed his cock into her open mouth, forcing her head down. He held her there and began to pump his hips, fucking her mouth.

Wild passion reignited. He got hard fast and pulled her onto the bed, face down. He forced her ankles apart and drove his cock into her sopping slit, powering the head through the ocean of semen already in her. He used his weight to keep her pinned and fucked her body.

Carina ate it up. He was rougher this time, using her, fucking her, and she lifted her ass to encourage him. She stiffened minutes later, cumming from his aggression, and soon after he shoved deep and arched his back, pumping out another gallon of sperm. Carina worked her hips, doing her part to make him cum hard.

Chapter 8

I hit rewind and played it again in slow motion. I understood. I watched it again. I understood. In the months after Joey, Carina and I had sex like nothing we'd ever experienced. Our lovemaking was transcendent. It was out-of-body. Jealousy lingered always at the edges of my mind, fueling a burning desire. Visions of Carina impaled on Joey's cock drove me.

She was ravenous. When we'd fucked so much I couldn't get hard, she'd force my head between her legs, demanding my tongue. I'd lap at her cheating cunt until she could no longer take it.

We'd discovered something mystical, something supernatural.

Today I was in the secret room. Carina was at work, the kids at school. I was watching my favorite actress suck a black cock, her pretty face stuffed with dark dick, and for the first time I saw past her beauty to the person, who she was and what she did. I saw her as her husband saw her. Not mere sex playing out on the screen, but her having sex. I now saw Carina the way The Husband saw his wife, and that aspect was far more exciting. It was about the relationships, the connections to people and not just bodies. To watch our wives meant we involved our psyches, our hearts, minds, and souls.

Joey had left that night and I'd returned to my car and pretended to come home. Carina had waited in our bed: a mess of fluids and scents. The aroma of sex had hit me like a fist when I entered our room, and I'd breathed deep. My wife opened her legs to me exactly as she had for Joey but with one huge difference: I was greeted with the sight of him already seeping out of there.

Nothing in life prepares one for moments like that. They either break you or strengthen you.

This one made me hard as steel. I'd shed clothing and Carina's eyes had turned animal. I licked her unfaithful cunt for only a minute before standing and slamming my dick home. I felt Joey in there, lubricating my penis. I felt myself glide through him as I pumped her pussy. It drove me crazy. She's my wife. I came fast.

We never had The Talk. I'd granted permission for them to fuck on the condition he pull out, but she'd ignored my demand and followed her instincts. I was left in a tough spot. I could throw a fit about broken promises, but I have no rights to her or her pussy. I can't make rules for her body. Carina can do as she pleases and I must deal with the fallout. The end of that path is divorce and I did not want that, no matter what, so why take even one step down a path I hated?

The truth is her lust for other men turns me on. Each time I thought about initiating a confrontational conversation, a little voice asked what was the point? There is no putting the toothpaste back in the tube, or, in this case, the sperm back in the penis. Even if I demanded she never do anything with another man again, she still might, especially now that it had already been done twice. She did allay my fears about pregnancy by mentioning she'd gone to the pharmacy and purchased several morning-after pills.

I decided to leave the whole mess alone. Just move forward and don't look back.

I hit rewind and then play and watched the big black cock glide past ruby lips. Yes, there was some excitement to be found in that pretty face and the act of sex itself, but the true arousal, the true deep and powerful intoxicant came from the relationship, came from watching your wife and the woman you love with another man. My world was upside down. None of the rules I'd lived for so long applied anymore. I desperately needed to talk to someone but there was no one to talk to that wasn't also involved.

Chapter 9

"These ribs are fantastic," my best friend Aaron said.

"Yesh," I said, making a mental note to stop drinking beer. "Yeth. Yes."

Aaron looked at me funny.

"You all right?" he asked.

I nodded.

"Lot of pressure," I muttered. "Lots going on. Work. Home."

"Like what? Tell me. We haven't talked in forever."

I should never have had so much to drink but the beer selection at this place was as good as the ribs. I'd called Aaron and arranged a meet, just to catch up since it had been a while since we'd spoken. It was great to see him again and eat, drink, watch football, and talk. His life was on track and moving fast. I told him mine was too but he knows me. He could tell there was more, there was a lot I was leaving out. So, I drank beer and worked up the courage. It is no easy thing to admit, to anyone, much less another male, that you've allowed your wife to fuck someone else.

"If I tell you," I said. "You take the secret to the grave."

"Dean, it's me, Aaron. We tell each other everything. I swear I'll tell no one."

I gulped beer.

"It's about Carina," I began.

"God, please don't tell me you guys are getting divorced. She's the best thing to ever happen to you."

"Not divorced."

"Is she sick? Cancer? That would be terrible. Is she okay?"

"Yes. Shut up and let me talk."

"Right," he chuckled. "Sorry."

I drew a deep breath.

"I've watched her," I said.

"She's gorgeous. I'm sure you've watched her. Any man married to her would watch her. Honestly, I've watched her."

"No," I stammered, the alcohol making it hard to organize my thoughts. "I've watched her with another man. Men. I've watched her fuck."

He looked stunned.

"So this is about divorce," he said.

I shook my head.

"No." I lowered my voice. "I watched and liked it."

He leaned back, assessing if I was being honest, assessing if I merely fucked with him. I followed up quick, leaving out the part about the house wired with cameras.

"Through a window," I continued. "I gave her permission first because she asked for it. It was her ex, Joey, from high school. She wanted him one last time and I said okay."

"Wow." He rubbed his hands over his crewcut. "Wow."

"She looked so hot doing it, so sexy. I couldn't tear my eyes away."

He absentmindedly put a French fry in his mouth and chewed, contemplating, trying to understand. I waited a while for him to work through everything.

"I guess," he began, trying to remain objective. "I guess I could do it if I completely trusted my girl. Like, completely. You and Carina are super tight so that works. Was this a one off or will she do him again?"

"I'm not sure. Now that we've taken this step I feel like there's no going back, but I have no idea what forward looks like."

He was thoughtful again. I was suddenly self-conscious about what I'd revealed. Aaron was a true best friend and would never spill my secret, but I felt the spotlight on me and did not care for it. What did he think of me now?

"Anyway," I continued. "Thanks for listening. It feels good to vent. It weighed on me. I got only you for this."

"No worries, brother. I got your back. I may not understand but I don't need to understand to be there for you. Keep me posted on developments. Don't keep it all bottled up inside you."

We switched the conversation to football and ordered another round.

Chapter 10

Three days later I learned I had to leave town for work again.

"What are the rules?" I'd asked Carina. "When I'm out of town. I feel like Joey should be off limits."

She'd stopped putting groceries away and faced me.

"Baby," she'd said. "Joey is already ancient history. I scratched that itch; once drunk, once sober. He's sweet and charming but he's not the man for me. I married the man for me. I'm finished with him and thank you again for granting me that indulgence. Did you think I'd want to keep seeing him?"

I'd shrugged.

"Well, yeah," I'd said.

"And you would have allowed that?"

Why had the ice beneath me felt so thin?

"Yes," I'd said. "I suppose I would have. If twice why not thrice?"

She'd glanced out the window, checking on the kids playing in the yard.

"You're so sweet," she'd said, emphatically. "So selfless and giving. You're a wonderful husband and I love you, truly, with all my heart. I know how much trust you have in me, but no, no more Joey."

She'd kissed my cheek. I'd felt relief and, damn it, disappointment. I'd come to enjoy this aspect of Carina, to look forward to this side of her. One of the kids had run in from outside, playing hard and dying of thirst, so Carina and I had spoken no more about it.

This morning, I packed and took an Uber to the airport. I always go a day early to account for delayed flights, car rental problems, or hotel reservation mishaps. Nothing unpleasant happened on this trip and by evening I'd eaten dinner and now enjoyed a glass of wine. I called Carina to chat but she didn't answer. She was three hours ahead now so the kids would already be in bed, asleep. I waited half an hour and tried again.

Then I remembered I could see all over the house if I signed into the cameras. I used my laptop so I had the bigger screen. I got a thumbnail view of all the feeds and zeroed in on the one with people moving.

Aaron, sitting close to Carina on our couch, two glasses of wine on the coffee table. He laughed at something she said and briefly touched her knee.

Motherfucker.

That backstabbing motherfucker had a girlfriend. They'd been together for years. What was he doing at my house? I almost admired his killer instinct. The very next time I left town he was after Carina. He's never come visit when I wasn't home but the second he learns of Carina's sexual dalliances and my approval of them, he's all over her. What was the sleaze ball saying? I had no idea but it was working. He'd moved closer and now teased her thigh with fingertips. She still wore the pretty royal blue dress she'd had on this morning. He placed his palm on her bare knee and she did nothing to remove it.

I felt feverish. He'd moved so fast! He's probably yearned for her for years. This stung. This hurt. He's been my best friend almost my whole life! His hand on her knee traveled several inches up her thigh, bunching the dress. They continued chatting like nothing was happening, even when his hand vanished under her dress.

Carina's chin rose when he made contact. They stopped talking. My wife was breathing hard, her chest rising and falling. Emboldened, not believing his luck, Aaron moved over her, quickly unbuttoning the front of her dress. He threw the halves open, exposing bra and panties. Carina leaned back to give him access to her body and even lifted her butt when he hooked her panties and drew them off. He fumbled with her bra, never the ladies' man, but soon tossed that aside as well. My wife lay nude atop her open dress in full view of my best friend. He tugged his T-shirt over his head and got to work on his pants. Shoes went flying. Pants and underwear came down together and he tilted his hips to display how hard she'd made him, stiff cock pointing at our ceiling. He stared down at her, eyes narrowed, his face a mask of disbelief: Carina, naked and willing, before him.

What a dream.

He lifted her leg and kissed the arch of her foot. From there he moved to her smooth calf, gradually kissing down her leg. He planted wet lingering kisses, drawing the moment out like he'd fantasized about it a million times. Carina squirmed as his face and hot breath crept closer to her exposed pussy. He teased her. He tortured her. He kissed all around, tormenting her sensitive flesh, brushing her vulnerable mound with lips and fingers. She buried her fingers in his hair but didn't force his mouth. She loved the ordeal. He sent one hand up her body to caress her full breasts. He lifted her legs and rested them on his shoulders, his face buried in her most intimate places.

When his tongue made contact, I knew it. An electrified shock that ran through her. She crossed her ankles behind his neck and her head fell back. Aaron ate her languidly, savoring her flavor on his tongue, treasuring the joy of her in his mouth. Even when she was ready to be fucked he remained, relishing my wife, his lover at last.

Eventually he moved higher, suckling her nipples before kissing her lips, dragging his body over hers, bringing his hard, curving cock naturally in line with her pussy. He lowered his weight and his erection sank into her opening. He lifted her legs to his shoulders again, bending her body until her knees mashed her tits, exposing her cunt and asshole in a vulgar display. I saw his rampant cock clearly now, pumping, gleaming from her arousal, stretching her hole and filling her.

The hurt I'd been feeling got shoved to the background. I skipped around to check other camera angles but always came back to that driving, vein-covered shaft. Her cunt gripped him in a tight ring, clinging like she was so happy he was in there, like she hated from him to leave.

Obviously, Aaron had secretly desired Carina for years. Did all my friends desire my wife? My mind raced through memories: playful banter, spirited flirting, a million little signs that I ignored or failed to take seriously. In a moment of clarity, I understood what Carina had always known about them: they wanted to fuck her. She'd enjoyed their longing but kept herself faithful. Recent events had, in her mind, removed the need for that restraint.

On screen, my wife grabbed his head and forced a kiss. Her body tensed, her toes curled. Aaron stroked smooth and strong and held the kiss as my wife climaxed on his cock, her body shaking. He allowed her to rocket skyward and bounce among the clouds, but the instant he saw her orgasm begin to dwindle, he withdrew his sopping cock and placed the tip at her asshole. Carina seemed too lost in euphoria to notice. Aaron gently pushed, pinching her nipple and kissing her passionately. Her ass rose an inch like maybe she was instinctively trying to get away but then several inches of cock slipped into her rectum and she jerked her mouth away from his, soundlessly crying out, a mixture of pleasure and pain, surprise and salacious delight. She made no move to retreat or push him away. The rest of his erection slowly disappeared, gripped by a tight pink ring, swallowed by her ass.

Carina went wild.

She was trapped beneath him, folded in half and impaled, but her body writhed. I witnessed her efforts to fuck herself on him. She rocked her pelvis, worked her hips and butt, forced his hard dick in and out. He took over, keeping her awkwardly pinned and helpless, but she wanted it no other way. He braced his feet in the carpet and lifted her butt slightly with one hand and fucked her asshole deep and slow. He grabbed her throat, lightly choking my wife as he claimed her ass. Carina was a wriggling kitten. She managed to work a hand down and find her clit and she furiously rubbed while his cock probed her depths. She orgasmed again, far harder than the others. Aaron worked his cock in and out until he threw his head back and drove his hips forward, holding them there, ejaculating, far up in her guts.

Their composure returned slowly. Aaron wanted to cuddle but Carina denied him, kissing a few times instead and then buttoning her dress. She pointed at the downstairs bathroom in response to something he'd said and he left her alone on the couch, walking naked through our home with the kids sleeping upstairs. Fucker. Interloper. Thief. Liar.

The instant he entered the bathroom she reached for her phone. She discovered two missed calls, both from me, and typed out a text.

Do you love me? she asked.

I scoffed.

Yes, I replied. Why? What have you done? Did you crash your car?

No, she fired back. Aaron tried to fuck me and I let him.

Just like that. A simple confession. She left out important details but I let it go. We both knew the rules had changed and she was proceeding accordingly. She didn't tell the whole truth but she told no lies. Funny thing is, I knew if I asked her to stop she would and never touch another man. But Carina had become my actress, and I had become The Husband. I was as hooked as he'd been. I wanted to watch Carina fuck everybody.

What should I say in response? I was angry at Aaron for stabbing me in the back. Our friendship was over, and that hurt. But for Carina I felt only lust. She typed more.

He asked me to keep it secret, she wrote. He wants to keep fucking me and keep his friendship with you. I never answered him.

You want to fuck him again.

I do, she admitted. He's not like you. He's rough and demanding and bold and aggressive. I liked it.

I hesitated. I knew he was in the bathroom and would soon return. In fact, I thought he'd be back by now. In a testament to how far I'd fallen, my anger with Aaron moved to the background and my lust rose. I had to be careful with my words. I was supposed to be a thousand miles away with no idea about what was going on.

The bathroom door opened and Aaron emerged, hair wet and tousled. Had he showered? He walked towards her, cock hard again. Carina typed quickly.

Too late, she said. You should have answered.

She dropped her phone and stood. He filled his hands with her hair and held her face for a long kiss. She broke free and shoved him onto our couch, climbing his body as he fell backward. She whipped through her buttons, again opening her dress, and reached under to guide his cock in. She sank onto his lap and I zoomed to see his inches vanish. Carina rocked her hips, working his cock, stirring her insides. She fed him her nipples, hugging his head. Soon she threw her dress off and leaned forward and I saw his solid cock gleaming. She was so wet. She orgasmed when he stuffed both nipples in his mouth and he began pumping her full of semen soon after.

Once they caught their breath, Carina slid down his body to suckle his softening penis. She licked until he was clean, painting his balls, shaft, and head with broad strokes of her tongue. They dressed.

Their lust had exposed a secret world hidden behind the façade of civility. My wife desired some of my friends, my friends desired my wife. Carina and I had unknowingly eroded the barrier that kept everyone behaving properly. If she can fuck Joey, why can't she fuck Aaron? I had no good answer. Because I said so? She wasn't my child. I had no interest in bossing her around.

Chapter 11

I got home in a few days and Carina and the kids greeted me with joy. There were lots of hugs and kisses, I gave the kids their presents, like I do each time I leave town. Carina and I then moved to the den. She had an iced beer waiting. Thoughtful or manipulative? I sat. she remained standing. I took a sip as she studied my face.

"You're upset," she said.

"I'm hurt," I admitted.

"I thought it was all playful fun."

"I get that," I said. "I'm hurt by Aaron. I understand you were merely enjoying yourself but what he did was betrayal. He was my best friend and he pounced on you."

"He came on strong. I was shocked."

"I never should have told him about Joey."

She stopped, frozen, stunned.

"You told him?"

"I had to talk to somebody not involved."

"What the fuck are you talking about?" she said. "You needed to talk to someone? You got me drunk and pushed me at Nevan. You invited Joey back to our place and shoved me at him. It was obvious you wanted me to act on my feelings so I did. If all this has you so upset you needed to talk to someone, why did you aim me at both men?"

She was right.

"It's exciting to see you aroused," I said, fumbling for an answer and sharing my first thoughts. "How could I know how I would feel after?"

"I'm your wife, Dean. If you need to talk to somebody, you talk to me."

"You're what I needed to talk about, Honey. I needed objectivity."

She laughed.

"All you did was arm the missiles and aim them at me. This explains Aaron's behavior. This explains a lot. Aaron heard I'd fooled around and thought he could do the same. I thought he was so hot for me he was willing to risk everything but he knew he had a good chance before he ever started.

He knew things about me that I didn't know about him. I was blind. Do you see how you disadvantaged me?"

Ouch.

"Yes. I'm sorry."

"All this is hard on you? You're good at hiding it. Based on your bedroom performances, I thought what I was doing was the greatest aphrodisiac ever. I play around and you turn into king stud."

"It's complicated," I admitted. "You're hot as hell while it's happening but after, when things calm down, fear creeps in."

She hugged my head against her stomach.

"Should I stop?" she asked. "Give the word and I'll never touch another man. You know that, right?"

"I do."

She held me another minute.

"I'm done with Aaron. This information changes everything. He's a hot fuck but now I know he only made a move because he believed he was sure to succeed. That's not sexy."

"Do me a favor and shine him on. Make him suffer."

She smiled.

"You want him to suffer?"

"Yes. He's an asshole. I can believe he betrayed me like that."

She got a gleam in her eye and I instantly felt bad for Aaron. Carina would make him pay.

We left the den to check on the kids and went on with our day. Later, once the house was quiet and the kids asleep, Carina approached me wearing the lingerie from our honeymoon. She wouldn't let me touch her for thirty minutes while I sat there receiving an amazing blowjob. Only once I was throbbing and covered with veins did she turn me loose. I thought about being rough like Aaron but decided against it. She'd see through. That was his thing, not mine. We made tender but passionate love and then fell asleep.

At work the next day I received a text from Carina that she was meeting Aaron for lunch. My breath caught in my throat. I stayed busy, trying to think of anything else. Hours later my phone buzzed again. Carina had sent video. My mouth went dry and my hands trembled but I hit play. By the angle it looked like she'd slipped her phone into a pocket on her purse. She and Aaron sat in her car and Carina slowly stroked him while keeping an eye out for people wandering too close. Out the window it looked like they were at a park.

"Just suck it," Aaron ordered.

"No time," she said. "Too many people."

"I told you not to pick this spot."

She had him painfully erect, teasing his balls, scratching the sensitive tip with her nails. She played and tormented and tortured, then abruptly announced she'd forgotten something at work and had to leave.

"What about my dick?" Aaron complained.

"Finish it yourself," she said. "I got you close."

She made him leave her car with his penis hard as glass. He buckled up, the bulge in his pants obvious. She drove away and plucked her phone, laughing manically into the lens before ending the video.

She did something similar three days later. Aaron was furious.

The next day was a Saturday and Carina was off but I had to go in. No one does my work for me when I leave town so I'm always behind when I return. I'd been working an hour or so when my phone buzzed.

Kids are at Claudia's, she wrote. Aaron stopping by to end things with me. Says he's had enough. Lol.

I gave him credit for catching on quick. I put my head down again and worked hard but an hour later I'd heard nothing so I sent her a text. With no response, I signed into the cameras.

Carina was bent face down on the bar. Toppled bar stools were scattered on the floor. Aaron fucked Carina hard from behind, keeping her pinned. Her dress was bunched around her waist. I grabbed my car keys, about to fly out the door, when he stepped back and she spun on him, dropping to both knees and stuffing her mouth with his hard dick. He looked down at her, smug and satisfied. He let her go for a while then gestured towards our bedroom. Carina shook her head, standing, turning, lifting a leg onto the bar and offering her soaked pussy.

Aaron grabbed her hair and dragged her down the hall. He wanted to fuck her in our bed and he was going to get what he wanted. She fought him but not fully. I saw the difference. She'd teased him to the point of no return and now he'd have her. She was secretly pleased. He pitched her face down and towered over her. Before she could right herself, he pinned her with a foot on her back. He leaned closer and then drove his cock deep into her cunt. She cried out, skewered. He used his weight to keep her down and fucked her tight hole hard, pounding away. He bit her back and neck. He slapped her butt cheeks. He pulled her hair, drawing her head back, and drove his cock balls deep. Carina orgasmed hard, bucking and jerking. He kept going, fucking her body to satisfy his frustrated lust. I was grateful no one was in the office with me.

He was in no hurry to cum. He'd been denied over and over and he would have his revenge. He moved Carina all around our bed, fucking her in every position, often withdrawing to make her suck his shiny cock before fucking her again. She climaxed several times but he saved his for all at once, flooding my wife's womb.

I thought they were finished but he must have popped a Viagra or something because after a minute of keeping her pussy stuffed with cock, he pulled a hard dick out and realigned with an eye on her asshole. She tried to rise but he stabbed her sphincter, encountering resistance before his body weight pushed him deep. Carina arched her back and lifted her feet but then he was in. He forced her deeper into our bed and fucked her asshole, unconcerned about her pleasure. She continued to struggle but slipped a hand under and down, finding her clit and rubbing herself while he used her. She came hard with uncaring dick in her ass, her body clenching into a tight knot. He grabbed her free arm and twisted it behind her back, forcing her to stay where she was as his balls erupted and hot sperm shot, filling her rectum. He landed on her, cock buried, and waited a long time before moving.

At last he rolled away. She left the bed to visit the bathroom, returning with a washcloth to clean his penis, then slipped the tube of beef into her mouth. He lifted his head to enjoy the sight and she slapped his face, hard enough to send hair flying. Shocked, he laughed. She did too, around his cock. She suckled and tongued his meat until she satisfied her penis craving and then told him to get out. He dressed and left. She checked her phone to read my text and replied.

Aaron just left, she'd typed. I was a bad girl. Again.

Chapter 12

Carina was at the waterpark with our kids and several other moms and their kids. I stayed home to work but had wandered to the basement, drawn, again, for a look at my favorite actress performing slutty behaviors. I'd learned how to slow the feed while boosting the frame rate, giving me unrivaled clarity and erotic juiciness. She looked fantastic.

My cell phone rang from an unrecognized number. I trashed the call. It rang again and I trashed that call too. A text message arrived stating I needed to answer my phone and then it rang again.

"Hello?" I said.

"Mister Tarling? Dean Tarling?"

"Speaking. Who is this?"

"Hello Mister Tarling. This is Arturo Worthen. You and your lovely wife Carina purchased one of my houses. You've been busy watching the videos of my lovely and famous wife. You've made some your own, too."

I was stunned silent.

"You've quite an artist's eye," he continued. "Truly. Angles and lighting. Superb. Of course, it always helps to have a lovely subject, and Carina is lovely. I've enjoyed watching your wife as much as you've enjoyed watching mine."

"I just stumbled across that room. I'm sorry. I—"

"Have no fear, Dean. May I call you Dean?"

"Yes, of course."

"Excellent. I have no intention of getting you entangled in any legal trouble, although I assure you, I very much could. You've taken a system I set up for home security and turned it outward, spying on friends and neighbors. Such a scandal. We know that's not the truth but you see how easily I could convince people, yes?"

"Yes."

My stomach had started falling from his first words and continued to fall.

"Excellent. As I say, I have no interest in that. What I do have interest in is righting this wrong. Those videos were and are private, Dean. Can you imagine what the unscrupulous would pay to see my famous wife fucked? To see my famous wife sucking eagerly on a penis? You can't. Trust me, it's more than the number in your head. I need guarantees we understand each other."

My profession tolerates no scandal. None. I'd be ruined.

"I'll go home and destroy everything," I said. I'll delete it all and shut the system down. I swear it."

He was silent a moment.

"I believe you, Dean," he said. "But I have a better idea. Carina. She's fantastically sexy. I know you agree. I propose I fly you both to Los Angeles. You can stay with us. I'm eccentric. I'll say I want to know the people that bought our house. None will suspect. I'm known for odd and impulsive behaviors. I'd love to meet you both. Wouldn't that be a delight?"

I didn't answer.

"I've watched your slow evolution, Dean," he went on. "You've grown into a true voyeur, like me. I sat enthralled as you gave into your illicit desires. We are kindred spirits. Let's share dinner and a few bottles of wine. Would you like to meet my wife?"

"Very much."

"Good. Make the arrangements to have your children cared for. Your flight is seven, this Friday evening. My wife is ignorant of my cameras just as your wife is ignorant of the spying you do. I want things kept that way. How do you feel about Carina discovering the truth?"

"I'd rather she didn't know."

He chuckled.

"That means you plan on recording her still, which I fully understand. This addiction is powerful."

I said nothing. He was right. We ended the call and my mind raced. We had to accept his offer. Carina would love the spontaneous trip.

When she got home, I explained that the previous owner was eccentric and wanted to meet us. As expected, she was thrilled. Thrilled with all of it: thrilled to fly to LA, thrilled to meet someone so rich, and thrilled to meet an actual movie star.

"You have a thing for her, if I remember right," she said.

I admitted I did.

When Friday arrived, we dropped the kids at the grandparents and waited at home. A limousine picked us up and took us to a private jet behind a private section of the airport. We felt like stars ourselves. Carina giggled with delight. We were served Champagne on the flight. I was uneasy but successful in hiding it. Another limo took us from the airport to the mansion. The grounds were covered with trees and flowering shrubs. Carina commented it looked more like an exotic resort than someone's house. Bungalows sat nestled back under the canopy of branches. The main house was three stories and easily sixty-thousand square feet. It had its own lake and canals. It had intricate arches and marble paths and flowered gardens. We were shown into the foyer where Arturo and his stunning wife met us.

She introduced herself as Anna.

"Don't use my screen name," she said. "Friends use my real name."

I admit looking into her stunning blue eyes, taking her hand, standing so close, was just about all my heart could take. Carina read me perfectly and suppressed a giggle. Anna gave my wife a full hug and Carina returned it, my wife and my crush becoming instant friends.

They walked us through the home, pointing out a famous painting or explaining the significance of a sculpture. Eventually we were led to our palatial bedroom with sunken bath and walk-in shower built for five. They left us, noting dinner would be served shortly. We freshened, dressed, and enjoyed a delicious meal prepared by master chefs. Carina was dazzled, moving through the place like she was lost in a fairytale. I stole glances at Anna, remembering some of my favorite scenes from her movies, and remembering how good she looked stuffed with hard cock. She was the consummate charming hostess. Like Carina, she had no idea those cameras or recordings existed, much less that I'd seen her do unspeakably decadent sexual acts.

Other guests were present, including a few actors I recognized, but the room was so large and the table so long, individual cliques formed. We found ourselves speaking exclusively to Art and Anna. After the meal, we broke into groups, some to play billiards, some for darts, some to sit and drink and chat. Anna asked Carina if she liked music and when my wife answered yes, led my wife away. Arturo took me aside, wandering a long path through the huge house.

"You've played your part well," he said. "Our wives suspect nothing."

"Why ruin a good thing?"

"Precisely. We share the same weakness. We are brothers in arms."

We turned a corner into a conservatory. The temperature dropped but the humidity skyrocketed. Water features, ponds and small waterfalls, abounded. Brilliant orchids bloomed. Every kind of plant imaginable grew. Arturo led me to an ornately carved six-foot waterfall set into the wall. He pressed three hidden buttons like looked like grapes and the entire waterfall swung wide, pool and all.

We entered a staircase down.

"You love your secret doors," I said.

"You have no idea," he mumbled.

We dropped two flights before entering a room much like the one in my basement back home, only this one was much larger. I recognized the camera feeds to my new house on one wall. He was still logged in. He'd probably never logged out. He'd seen everything I watched and everything I'd recorded. He'd seen Nevan. He'd seen Joey. He'd seen Aaron. On the other three walls were banks of monitors. I recognized many were of this place but others were unfamiliar. I spotted Carina and Anna seated on a white leather couch, talking, two huge magnums of Champagne sat close.

"Back home," I muttered. "There's a camera aimed at an attractive single woman. I've met all the others but cannot figure out who she is."

He chuckled.

"To reveal that juicy tidbit," he said. "I'd need to trust you completely."

"I hope you will."

He nodded towards a screen.

"I'll start building that bridge now," he said. "I told you there are people who would pay huge sums for video of my fornicating wife. You've promised to never share but I need guarantees. I'm sure you understand."

A man entered the area where Carina and Anna sat drinking and talking. Anna was led away, apologizing and seeming to promise a swift return. Carina sat alone for a moment and then three men entered the area through a different door. They approached casually, engaging my wife in conversation. I recognized one from an early porn with Anna. I knew the man kept a beast in his pants. The hairs on the back of my neck stood up.

"Pure anguish, is it not?" Arturo said, watching my reaction. "You know who that man is because you've watched my wife's videos. The other men are equally gifted. House vents in that room have been pumping a pheromone mixture of oxytocin and melanocyte hormones into the air, especially effective against women. Wildly expensive. Just staggering sums. But when your fetish demands you witness your wife play the whore, I found the product well worth the price. Carina already feels the effect."

The men stood over my seated wife, casually conversing. She began to look around nervously, wondering, no doubt, where these feelings of lust came from. She gazed up at the men and continued chatting but I could read her. Arousal sank claws deep. One of the men took Anna's spot next to Carina, man-spreading his crotch at her. She dropped her gaze to his bulge.

"That never works," I said. "Women don't ogle bulges."

"It will work this time," Arturo replied. "She's quite powerless before the onslaught of hormones. Against science of this caliber, we all become puppets."

Carina was breathing faster. We were guests here, unknown and unknowing. She desperately wanted to behave but something drove her, something irresistible. Without warning she placed a hand over the man's crotch.

All three men recognized the signal. They grinned like confident thieves. The casually began undressing until Carina found herself facing three buff men and their large dangling cocks. Her expression turned from overwhelmed to determined. The guys chuckled.

"You dose your wife with that stuff?" I asked. "You drug her so she fucks for your entertainment? To satiate your kink? That's pretty low."

"Not for a long time," he said. "Yes, in the early days. But Anna took to it. She's not breathed the mix for years. Carina will give me a recording like nothing else and I will hold it as insurance. If you two divorce, I'll send men to fuck your ass and your mouth and record that as well. You'll behave or I'll release it online and tag everyone you know."

What a smiling bastard.

"Brutal," I said.

"Such is the world I live in."

On screen, Carina already took immense pleasure handling three big cocks simultaneously. The boys draped fleshy logs over her face, coiled the soft snakes like rope around her throat, slapped her cheeks and forehead with helmeted batons. She laughed along with them, eager to get to the hard stuff.

"You're recording this, of course?" I asked.

"Of course. Would you like a copy?"

I couldn't answer. Carina was working her lips down a veiny shaft. I nodded and Arturo laughed.

"I'll leave you to it," he said. "Enjoy."

I was no longer listening. The men moved with practiced ease, fucking my wife as a team. First, one helped her straddle his hips and sink onto his cock. The one in her mouth withdrew to come around and push her forward, easing his fat cock up her ass. Aaron had taught Carina well. The third held her head and stuffed cock into her wailing mouth. They held her trapped and impaled, each man moving in time with the others. Carina gave up all control, accepting their inches with joyful resignation. Her first orgasm roared out suddenly.

I had come full circle. I'd started as a man who could not fathom why a man would suffer the agony of watching his wife with another, to a man that relished the sight. My eyes were glued to their rampant inches plunging, as if they stabbed her repeatedly, long and thick cocks gleaming with her arousal. The video had no sound but my mind supplied the gasps and moans I knew so well.

She orgasmed again, body contorted and clenched, and the men all laughed, confidently pleased at what they could make her do. The glimpses I caught of her face showed me a woman lost to carnal delight. I tried to imagine what a thick cock working her pussy at the same time a thick cock pumped her ass might feel like, but of course I failed. I possessed no pussy and nothing had ever been up my ass. Carina wanted this moment to last forever. In a deeply physical way, they'd taken her from me. I was nowhere in her thoughts. All she knew, all she thought about and desired, was them.

That truth made my dick even harder.

I was too self-conscious to masturbate in this wealthy man's mansion, but God, I desperately wanted to.

I had to look away. The sight was too intense. I explored the other monitors, skimming through channels but always glancing back at Carina and her lovers. I saw bedrooms all over the country, maybe the world. Arturo had paid covert teams to spy and they'd done it well. I came across a room that looked oddly familiar and stopped, wondering where I'd seen it. A photograph sat on a desk and I zoomed in, discovering a picture of Carina and Sabrina enjoying birthday cake.

This was Sabrina's bedroom!

Arturo must have seen her at the house warming party and either liked her looks or wanted additional insurance against anything I might try. I raced backward through recordings for that room. When I saw movement, I returned to normal speed, watching as Sabrina entered her room wrapped in a towel and began to change. I should not be looking at my wife's naked little sister but after all the wrongs I'd committed, did it matter? Her young body was delicious and I stared at her lovely tan lines, her firm young ass and tits like rocks.

Might I find a visit from her boyfriend? I was sure Arturo had a compilation disc somewhere of exactly that. I resolved to never ask. I studied young nude Sabrina moving about her room and burned the sight into my retina to remember always, and left that channel for another.

The men held Carina between them, face down. Her arms circled the man in front of her as he fucked her mouth. The man behind held her hips and fucked her pussy deep. Her toes did not touch the ground. She was a pig on a spit roast, suspended, filled at each end with hard cock. I watched her legs gently swing as they fucked her. The third man stood by, ready. I knew my wife would not be returned to me for hours. I was as horny as I'd ever been with no way to relieve it.

Chapter 13

Carina slept on the flight home. She'd confessed everything the moment we were alone. I told her nothing about the cameras or the pheromones used to get her going. Her clothing had been dry-cleaned and folded and she wore a fluffy robe and slippers. She was exhausted, used as a sexual plaything for hours, climaxing until she couldn't anymore and then filled with copious amounts of sperm before being handed back to me, all of it recorded in high definition. Yes, I'll keep my mouth shut about the naughty actress wife, thank you.

In my luggage was a disc of the event. Arturo had thoughtfully included a disc of Sabrina too, nothing but highlights. I should not watch my wife's younger sister fuck her boyfriend but I knew I would, first chance I got. I was a slave to my eyes now. Arturo was right about the demands of our fetish.

Carina's head rested on my shoulder as we sailed through the night, the only passengers on this private jet. Her legs had shifted during the flight, parting the robe and exposing some inner thigh. I carefully reached a finger to nudge the robe aside. Her swollen pussy greeted me, pubic hair matted with semen. I risked a soft and gentle swipe through the leaking fluids, swirling the slick liquid on a fingertip. Each man had ejaculated in her, two of them twice and one three times. Her pussy, ass, and stomach all held essence of male.

I nudged the robe open more. Her pussy was engorged and pink. She'd fucked those men with abandon, forgetting she was a wife, forgetting she was a mother of two. She'd lost herself in their hard bodies and big hard penises, becoming a creature of pure sex. Her vertical slit seeped what they'd put in her. She was a gorgeous, well-fucked mess. The fact she carried their seed drove me crazy. I hated it. I loved it. I wanted some way to have her yet not disturb the loads they'd injected her with.

I slid from my chair to the carpet at her feet. I gently, slowly, carefully spread her knees open a bit farther and then leaned in. Her pussy smelled strong but not bad, like a greenhouse in full bloom. I flattened my tongue against her labia and licked, experiencing the flavor of her infidelity. Blood surged through my veins. Smell and taste joined my eyes in their approval of her faithlessness. My dick filled, expanding in my pants. I licked again and then I split her labia and licked the soft petals of her inner lips. I pushed my long tongue inside her body and she made a whimper, still dreaming, and parted her legs further even as she did not yet fully realize what was being done to her. I licked her soft inner pussy walls, walls which so recently gripped and stretched around new fat cock. I was tender and gentle and loving, worshipping her sweet hole. I rose to find her clit and soothingly circled the nub, tongue as soft as a puff of air, languidly dragging my taste buds over the raw flesh. This was her pussy but not her pussy. They'd claimed it and I'd not taken it back. It was still theirs, hers, but theirs. My dick throbbed. This way of life was all so new and exciting.

She moaned softly, waking, and I slowed and her knees fell all the way open. I fluttered my tongue on her clit with the gentleness of a beating butterfly wing and her moan grew stronger. I pushed my tongue deep, deep enough to encounter them inside her, and licked all around, returning to her labia and her precious clit. I had her squirming now, tilting her hips to give me better access. I rested my palms on her inner thighs and pressed my face into her cunt. She groaned and I licked across her bump, dragging the length of my wriggling tongue over her sensitive clitoris. She gasped, finally coming fully awake. She turned wet in a rush, dripping honey into my suckling mouth. I swirled my tongue inside her and fought her natural reaction to close her legs. She melted into the seat and I flipped her robe fully out of my way.

"Oh, Baaaaaby," she drawled, every muscle relaxing.

I knew she was tender and sore so I brushed her skin lightly, probed carefully, licked with kindness. I sent my tongue under to tickle her asshole before returning to her clit. I made a feast of her, devouring my naughty wife like a dish of melting ice cream. She orgasmed quickly but mildly, which surprised me, and I kept going, working to satisfy myself as well as her. Soon I had her hips grinding into my face. She was building towards something huge. Liquids dripped from her slutty cunt and I loved it, lapping up every drop. My conservative mother of two had transformed into a fiend, a woman enslaved to sex.

I slipped the tip of my index finger into her pussy at the same time I worked the tip of my pinkie into her asshole and that did it, she exploded like nitroglycerine, grabbing the arms of her seat and turning rigid. Juices gushed and Carina growled before her voice rose to a cry of mind-bending pleasure. She continued to orgasm as long as I kept tongue licking and fingers moving, so I continued both, determined to melt her brain, which I did.

Easily the hardest climax of her life. She was left sobbing, tears spilling down her cheeks as she folded over onto me, muttering her love. I wanted to continue my feast but sensed it was finally time to stop. I wiped my face, closed her robe and lifted her head to rest on my shoulder again.

She nuzzled my neck as the jet flew through the night.

Chapter 14

Sabrina fucking, or, more accurately, Sabrina getting fucked, royally fucked, was everything I'd hoped it would be and more. Her boyfriend, Reggie, was a linebacker for some college football team. He was a monster, as wide as he was tall, with muscles stacked on top of muscles. His broad shoulders narrowed to a small waist and his cock was a shank of uncut beef that rivaled the porn stars I'd seen fuck my wife. Sabrina was petite and her weight meant nothing to the man. He held her like a puppy in front of him and fucked up into her body. Sabrina looked good drying after a shower. She looked spectacular as this man's sexual plaything.

If Carina ever found out, she'd murder me.

To placate my guilt, I'd decided to give my wife Nevan. Bad idea, I know, since the man works with me and one should not shit where one eats, but Carina wants him, and I'm jacking off to her little sister, which is terrible, so I needed to give him up.

I was at work now, staring out the glass wall of my office over to where Nevan sat working at his desk. What would work be like if every day I had to look at a man that had been inside my lovely woman? I'd want them to do it behind my back. I had no desire for Nevan to stop by my office and regale me with stories of how he fucked Carina. He needed to believe this was secret, even from me. He needed to believe she cheated on me and opening his mouth would ruin things for himself.

I got home that night and Carina and I made dinner for the kids. We all watched a Disney movie and then put our babies to bed. We showered, slipped into bed, and cuddled. I got hard imagining how badly she wanted Nevan. She was spooning me so my erection went undetected.

"Your body feels so warm," she mumbled. "I like it."

I did not tell her why. She hugged me tight for a minute and then flipped around away from me.

"Spoon me," she said. "Keep me warm."

I rolled to my side and scooted closer. My stiff cock slipped into her gap.

"Oh, my," she muttered. "What's going on down there?"

I said nothing, choosing my words carefully.

"I'm thinking I'll let you have Nevan," I said.

She pushed her ass at me. She guided my hand to her tit.

"That's sweet," she said. "But you work with the man almost every day. Could get awkward. Could get messy."

She rotated her hips, rubbing her butt against my crotch.

"First Joey," she went on. "Then Aaron. Now you're hard imagining me with Nevan. Things that make other husbands want to kill make you hard."

"I'm a special boy."

"You are special, and I'm fucking lucky. Like, the luckiest wife on Earth. I've always enjoyed sex but this is a whole new world. This involves my head and my body too, not just my heart. This is mature and complex and requires trust and produces intimacy. I can't believe me sneaking down to Nevan's room the night of the housewarming has led us to this."

My dick was pulsating with need, trapped between her thighs.

"Now you say I can have Nevan, a man I've always found attractive, but not because you're a wimp and can't say no, but because you love and trust me and want me to have the things I want. Add to that it arouses you like it does me and we have a perfect storm. Our relationship is amazing."

I lifted her butt cheek slightly and tilted my hips. My dick head dropped into the dip of her cunt and she exhaled but stayed put. I pushed, sinking an inch into her steaming pussy. She pushed too, capturing another inch.

"If I see a man while I'm out," she muttered. "At, say, Starbucks. Can I fuck him if I want?"

I began moving my hips, working my cock a little at a time.

"Or a guy at my gym, or at yoga, or even a man at my work? Can I fuck him? Will you allow it?"

I leaned my mouth close.

"Only if you bring him home," I rasped softly. "I need to know you're safe. I'll take the kids, give you the house, fuck you when I return."

"Oh God," she groaned.

I was moving my hips faster now. Her pussy was soaked at the thought.

"Do you already have someone picked?" I asked.

She tried to answer but her words climbed into a groan and she orgasmed hard, clenching her teeth. She was fucking herself on my dick.

That meant the answer was yes, she had a man she wanted. There was some man in her daily life she longed for. No big surprise but I'd opened the door to her actually fucking him and that changed everything.

"Never mind," I conceded. "I know you do."

Her spasming pussy was milking me and I couldn't hold back. I grunted and drove all the way in and spurted my load in her guts. We fell asleep connected.

Chapter 15

Saturday dawned bright and beautiful. We'd planned a birthday party for our oldest and a huge crowd showed up. Sabrina and her boyfriend, Carina's parents, my parents, my brother Mel and his wife and kids.

I invited Nevan just for fun.

Friends and neighbors joined too and our big new home was a castle of running, screaming kids and the racing adults that followed close behind. The pool was overrun. The lawn was a mess of croquet, slip-and-slide, three-legged races, hide-and-seek, and a bouncy house. Inside, the big screen was a very popular first-person shooter game and the kid's rooms overflowed with little ones.

I don't know what I hoped would happen between Nevan and Carina in an environment like this. They barely had time to say hello. I think I just wanted her to feel the titillation of the man she desired close. I caught them glancing at each other often. When Nevan changed into swim trunks Carina stared, and he doesn't even have that great a body.

I kept my eyes off Sabrina like a good husband. It was not easy.

The energy output of that party could have powered a small city. The universe has a rule that hotter fires burn faster and after about four hours, kids started to drop. The adults had been taking turns at lifeguard and when it was my turn I got out my phone and tapped into the cameras. I'd not seen Carina and Nevan for a while. I kept one eye on the children and searched with my other eye.

I found my wife and coworker in the garage, refilling coolers with ice. Carina was bent over and Nevan was staring down the front of her shirt at her bikini top straining to contain her tits. Nevan lifted the cooler and exited the garage and Carina took a different way out, circling around through the formal dining room which is fully furnished but we never use. As she was about to round a corner and leave the screen I jumped ahead, but, due to my small screen and big fingers, I wrongly jumped to the security camera in the storage room that held the huge water heater, the water softener system, and various other equipment meant to be kept out of sight. The only reason a security camera was even placed in the room was because of a large vent near the floor that led outside. Nobody ever enters that room, except now, when Reggie had Sabrina bent over a stack of boxes and fucked her hard from behind. Her bikini top was untied at the neck and hanging from her ribs and her firm tits bounced with each hard thrust. Her shorts and bikini bottoms stretched like a bridge between her thighs. He had a handful of her long hair while his other hand pressed on her back, keeping her pinned. She had a knuckle stuffed in her mouth to keep quiet.

It didn't work.

Carina rounded the corner and passed the door, stopping dead and tilting her head like she'd heard something strange. She stepped back and opened the door. Sabrina's head snapped up. Reggie's head snapped up. They were caught. Carina took in the scene before her. I waited for hell to explode. I waited for my wife to berate her little sister, reminding her this was a birthday party for children. I waited for Carina to launch into a whirlwind attack on the impropriety of what Sabrina and her boyfriend did.

None of that happened.

Carina quickly stepped inside and closed the door. Sabrina smiled. Reggie leaned back, withdrawing his cock and displaying the beast. Carina dropped to a knee, taking Reggie's stiff erection in hand and guiding the head into her mouth.

"Fucking what?" I shouted.

Everyone around the pool looked at me.

"Interception," I explained, quickly lying.

I returned my attention to the phone. My jaw dropped. What the fuck was happening? Nobody's reaction matched what I expected. Carina sucked Reggie's dick, coated with her little sister's cunt juice, and then spread Sabrina's butt cheek to guide him into her pussy again.

I exhaled long and hard. My mind was falling down a cliff. I felt dizzy, like I'd been teleported to another planet where sisters shared boyfriends.

I checked on the kids swimming but then focused again on my phone. Carina moved behind Reggie to lick his scrotum from behind. He rose on his toes and Carina shoved her face deeper, his ass cheeks resting on her face. He worked his thick cock in Sabrina while her sister sucked his balls. This was madness. They moved with practiced ease. This was not their first time. In fact, watching how they all knew what to do, I got the sense this was older than our kids, older than my marriage to Carina.

My mind reeled. My grip on reality faltered. These sisters knew how to share a man. Did Carina stop once she married me? My mind was boggled. Reggie paused on a backstroke so Carina could gobble his entire scrotum, slipping the big bag into her mouth where she rolled his nuts around. She lifted after a minute to lick his little asshole as he sank into Sabrina again.

I was thunderstruck.

Carina stood and straightened her clothes. Sabrina waved goodbye and my wife left them, checking the hall both ways before quickly exiting and returning to the party. I was blown away. One thing was absolutely clear: that was not the first man Sabrina and Carina had shared. In fact, that was not the first time they'd shared Reggie. I tried to remember how long Sabrina and Reggie had been a couple. Was it longer than my marriage? Maybe. It was possible the sisters had enjoyed the man before Carina and I became exclusive but it was also possible the sister had done something while Carina was married to me.

The rest of the party was a blur. My mind was so preoccupied I hardly spoke, or remembered what I'd said. I went through the motions of the pleasant host but I was elsewhere.

One by one the party thinned. Nevan hung around and helped clean up but I no longer thought about connecting him to Carina. I needed to know more about Carina and her sister. I thanked him profusely for his help today and waved goodbye as he drove off.

When we were down to just Carina and me and Sabrina and Reggie, I told them I needed to run to the store to replenish some things. They were happy to see me go. The kids had gone home with some friends to spend the night. The sun had set so I did my trick of driving around the block and entering the basement through the side door. I quickly found them in the living room. Smart. That room gave them a view of the street and our driveway. They could keep an eye out for my return.

I zoomed, but I could not believe what I saw. I'd been gone no more than ten minutes but already Reggie sat on the coffee table, leaning back on his hands, big proud erection standing up from his lap. Sabrina licked one side of the veiny shaft and my wife licked the other. Their tongues danced perilously close to each other. They paused occasionally to whip off a shirt or slip off a bikini top but then they dove back in, attacking that fat tower of meat, sucking on the plump head, lifting his large balls on a tongue, flicking and licking and teasing every inch of his sensitive skin until the pillar pulsed, shiny and straining. They giggled at their handiwork.

Carina stood and put her back to the man, positioning her legs outside his. She reached down and caught the helmet head with her fingertips, slowly lowering her hips. Sabrina hurried around in front, kneeling between his knees, watching wide-eyed as her sister's pussy descended. She circled her fingers around the root to steady the man and make it easier for Carina to guide him in. I watched my wife's labia part as the fat head spread her open. Sabrina licked the vanishing shaft, greasing the pole to ease Carina's slide. From there the younger sister lowered her mouth to the hanging balls, holding Reggie's testicles on her tongue as Carina's cunt captured the shaft. Sabrina moved closer but her hair blocked my view. From the motions of her head it seemed she licked down to the balls and then all the way up again, over and over. Carina braced herself with arms backward, hands on Reggie's massive chest, dragging her tight pussy up and down the man's rigid dick.

Sweet Lord in Heaven, what a sight.

I had no idea what to think, what to feel, what to do. Carina let her head fall back, covering Reggie's face in long dark hair, and ruthlessly fucked herself on his solid cock. Sabrina kept her face buried in his crotch. Carina rose and fell faster and faster until the muscles on her arms and legs tensed and her mouth dropped open. She was cumming, hard, right in front of Sabrina. I wondered what the girl licked down there, wondered, and hoped for the most salacious truth possible.

After a moment's recovery, the sisters traded places. Sabrina, smiling, gazed at the meat stake that awaited her. She began to lower her hips. Carina buried her face in Reggie's crotch. She licked and sucked and nibbled on everything she could reach, rotating her head every direction. I was stunned. She was so close to Sabrina's pussy I don't know how she avoided it. Sabrina fucked her stud boyfriend like a pro. I watched in awe as the two women worked this man over.

There was no sense of personal space between any of them. Hands roamed, tongues licked, mouths sucked. Tits were shoved into faces, nipples teased. It was an orgy of three. Sabrina orgasmed like Carina, body tense, mouth open, then took a moment to catch her breath. Soon she drew her tight cunt up the length of him. The sisters hugged, bare breasts mashing.

Everybody changed positions. Carina got on all fours, knees on the sofa cushions, arms resting on the back of the couch. She kept one eye out the window, searching for me. Reggie stood behind her, hard cock a threat. Sabrina took his dense penis in hand and pulled him forward, guiding him into Carina. The younger sister moved behind him, slapping her hands on his ass and laughing as she pushed, shoving the man balls deep inside my wife. Sabrina smacked his ass hard and he yelped, driving deeper still. Carina's face showed a mix of pleasure with pain. I was sure she groaned at that deep and bulky intrusion. Sabrina laughed at her sister's discomfort, taunting her about her ability to handle Reggie, no doubt.

They knew I'd return before long so they hurried now, rushing through the sex. Sabrina took her turn before the man, holding tight as he pounded her from behind. Sabrina is always cute but when she orgasms, she's beautiful. Carina, on the other hand, becomes a radiant Goddess. Reggie's thick cock ripped an earthquake from my wife and left her dazed. The girls argued about who would receive his load and Carina won, dropping on her back with legs spread. Reggie hammered her roughly, plowing her tight slit as Sabrina sat over her sister's face and fed Reggie tits. My heart thundered in my chest to see Sabrina perched like that over Carina. Reggie's huge body dominated the scene. His hips rose and fell rapidly until they fell one last time and he flexed his muscular ass again and again. He was pumping sperm into her and he did for a long time.

They separated quickly, kissing, hugging, and then dressing. I had to make an appearance so I raced to my car, bolted to the store, purchased a handful of items and raced back, entering our home as if nothing had happened. Carina greeted me with a kiss but I suspected, rightly, this time I would not receive one of her blurted confessions. I put the groceries away and we all took seats in the living room, the same living room where I'd just witnessed wild sex take place. I chose the spot on the couch where Reggie had taken Carina and watched them all for a reaction but this group was cool. That probably should have hurt my feelings but I was too far gone. The fetish had me all the way. Besides, did I not kept plenty of secrets from Carina? The very cameras I used to spy was the first to come to mind. Every marriage has its secrets. I waited for my heartbeat to return to normal.

Chapter 16

"Can you believe the house warming party was just over a year ago?" Carina asked.

"That was fast," I said, shaking my head.

"I feel like that's the night we climbed aboard the crazy train. I caught Nevan masturbating and told you and your response so surprised me I thought perhaps I should do it again, or maybe even something riskier."

"So you did."

Her face turned soft. We were driving home from a date night at the movies and in the glow of the dashboard I saw the whimsical look in her eyes.

"You're talking about Joey," she said.

"I am."

The dark road ran ahead. We rode in silence for several minutes.

"It's early," she murmured.

I caught my trite reply before I said it. She was referring to something else and I needed to figure out what. A moment later I had it.

"I wonder what Joey's doing right now?" I asked, heart skipping a beat.

She gasped and looked out the window. After a long period of silence, she sighed and then spoke.

"Although the thought's exciting," she said. "I'm afraid Joey is off limits tonight. I'm out of Morning After pills and I'm pretty sure I'm ovulating or close to it. The timing after my last period is about right and I feel warm all over. Tonight would be a good night to take me home and put a baby in me."

I did not reply. Terrible thoughts had crept into my brain like worms.

I'd heard her reasons why Joey should not fuck her but that only made me want Joey to fuck her more. I'd become so perverted the risk turned me on. An astonishing rush of adrenaline and lust surged through my veins, setting my heart pounding and my penis filling. This was dangerous ground, sacred ground. Married couples do not flirt with the idea of another man impregnating the wife. No husband would ever allow it. While I was mildly disgusted by the thought of an actual Joey pregnancy, I was wildly aroused by the idea of risking a Joey pregnancy. I said nothing, convinced my thoughts, if I shared them, would anger and sicken Carina. This idea was a step too far.

"Your silence is freaking me out," she mumbled. "What are you thinking?"

I struggled for words. When I did not answer, she answered for me.

"You're thinking I should fuck Joey anyway," she exhaled.

"I am," I confessed. "Please understand, I would hate for him to actually get you pregnant. Hate it. I do not want that. At all."

"Okay. Good."

"But the risk that he might is intoxicating. The idea is pure cocaine. I know it's a terrible thing to even think but there it is. Imagine the intensity of the sex. Imagine what we'd feel, what we'd be going through as he fucked you."

"Oh my God."

"I know. I'm sorry, Baby. Let's forget the whole thing. It was stupid and I went too far. My mind just jumped to the idea before I could stop it because this kink we've been playing with has me by the throat. I'm sorry."

The interior of the car fell deathly silent. It was my turn to be freaked out by her lack of response.

"I'm sure you find me repulsive right now," I added.

She was staring at her hands resting in her lap.

"What are you thinking?" I asked.

She shook her head.

"Tell me," I insisted. "It can't be worse than what I said."

She looked out the window.

"It can," she said.

I waited.

"I'm picturing his cock," she admitted. "I'm remembering those big balls and thick shaft. I'm thinking about how much I love fucking that guy. It's not even Joey the man, it's Joey's dick. That's a terrible thing to say, I know, but it's true. I'm so shallow. We start talking about taking risks with my womb and I instantly jump to thinking about Joey's hard cock."

"The thought excites you, too?"

"Totally. What a shameful gamble. What a hazardous risk. It's different for me because I'm the woman and we're involving my womb, my body. We're discussing another man putting a baby in me. That's insane. We should not be talking about this. But, now that we are, I'm on fire. My pussy is soaked, Honey, and it's not for you. I'm drenched to ease his thick cock sliding home. I'm sorry."

I was rock hard. I thought about taking her hand and placing in on my crotch so she could feel for herself but instead I merely unzipped and pulled it out. Let her see for herself. She can decide if she wants to touch me or not.

I pulled my erection into the open air. She watched me do it. I hoped she might drop her head to my lap and suck but this was not that kind of moment.

"Your hard cock makes me want Joey even more," she said.

"Text him," I rasped. "I'll drop you at home."

"We're closer to his place."

"No," I said, emphatically. "Our place. Fuck him on our bed."

Our words were clipped and strained. We were both so turned on we could barely breathe. The sexual tension inside the car made the air thick and heavy. She began typing on her phone. I stepped on the gas. This was crazy. My head told me this was a very bad idea but my erection told my brain to shut the fuck up. I drove with my dick out, throbbing, pulsating in the dashboard lights. Carina looked at it every few seconds but did not touch me. My exposed cock made her crave Joey's more with each passing minute. I wanted to tie her in knots. I used my erection fueled her desire for someone else. Humiliating but wildly arousing. I knew she had Joey's cock pictured perfectly.

Whatever misgivings we had, we kept them to ourselves. Instead of calming after the initial rush and coming to our senses, we grew more aroused by our reckless plan. Joey responded to her text just as I was turning into our neighborhood, agreeing to meet her in twenty-five minutes.

"Just drop me and go," she said. "I'll call you when you can come home."

I pulled into the driveway and she was out of the car. She ran around to my side, kissing me like they kiss in the movies, and then giggled and ran for the front door. She had preparations to make. I backed out and circled the block, following my usual path to the basement. Joey arrived in fifteen minutes, not twenty-five.

I clicked through the channels until I found my wife, standing before the open front door. I also discovered why Carina had been in such a hurry to get inside, as she was now dressed in sheer lingerie. She'd purchased the flimsy little thing to surprise me tonight, our first date-night in a while, but Joey would reap the benefit instead. Carina stood boldly in our doorway, scanty lace teddy hugging her body and following her curves, the dark circles of areola shining through, the dark triangle of pubic hair gone, removed earlier. I saw fresh pink pussy lips and the hint of a delicate vertical slit.

All the sexy surprises she'd planned for me would be given to him, and that was far more exciting. I am but her husband. He is her clandestine lover.

She stripped him in the foyer before the front door was even closed. His heavy cock and balls hung down his thighs, swinging as he moved. My wife craved that piece of meat. His eyes ran all over her lace-covered body. She'd obviously never worn lingerie for him when they were a young couple and he could not stop gawking. She stepped close for a kiss and she lifted his big balls on her palm, big balls that, tonight, carried an extra special threat. She weighed them, no doubt contemplating the same things I contemplated. She felt their heft, imagining the millions and millions of potential babies she held in her hand. She shivered, anticipation racing through her.

Our dangerous game possessed sexual tension beyond compare.

He ran his hands over her soft skin but was reluctant to undress this goddess in lace. He leaned back often, pleasing his eyes, devouring every gorgeous inch she offered. I wondered if she'd mentioned her heightened fertility to him but decided no, keeping that secret left her in charge and gave her options. She could change her mind. She could tell him to pull out or take his load down her throat. He sucked her nipples through the Chantilly, tonguing the little bumps of flesh. He cupped her pussy and she rocked her hips. He palmed the orb of her full tit and she smiled, kissing him deeply.

At last she led him from the foyer to our bedroom. I was short of breath. The closer they got to the act, the greater my fear about possible repercussions. The greater my fear, the greater my excitement. She pulled him forward by his thick cock, that sperm injecting instrument which would soon be buried in her womb. She'd said she'd scratched that Joey itch but we both knew the fix had been temporary. When offered any man, she returned to her ex. Their chemistry was real. Their history thrilled her. Her undying desire for him hurt but also electrified me.

His anticipation was obvious as he grew hard walking from one side of our home to the other. I switched cameras to keep up and by the time they entered our bedroom Joey was stiff, the big head swollen and looking huge. His balls had drawn up to the base of his member, twin chicken eggs sloshing with potent serum. My body trembled from toes to ears, fully and keenly aware of what I witnessed.

Carina loves to start with a thorough cock-sucking, getting the penis wet and hard, but not this time. My wife was feeling nasty. She released his cock and turned, gliding backward onto the king-sized bed. She parted her legs only slightly, just enough to tease, just enough to give a glimpse of the lace-covered pussy awaiting him. There was no audio but I plainly read her lips. She'd made her decision.

Fuck me, she told him. Cum in me, Joey.

Jesus fucking Christ. I was already leaking and I'd not touched my penis. I stripped and threw my clothes against the wall. I sat and scooted closer, hard dick aimed straight up. Joey climbed onto our bed, moving over her for a kiss, but she tangled her legs around his and reached for his throbbing cock. She used the tip to split her labia and dug her heels into his ass. He sank about half his shaft into her tight but drenched tunnel. She coiled arms and legs and lifted her hips to capture the rest, her head falling back onto my pillow.

He was sheathed. He was enveloped. That curving tusk of a cock was fully embedded in my wife, his length great enough that the large spongy head was pressed firmly against her cervix. His fat shaft stretched her slick passage wide. Occasionally his ass flexed and I knew he was forcing blood into his penis, ballooning that impressive slab inside her.

I was almost gasping for air, questioning this wild risk we took. His dangerous penis was lodged and he held himself motionless, savoring the fantastic sensation of Carina wrapped tightly around his inches. They were talking, chuckling, kissing soft and sweet. Their intimacy tore me up. She moved her hips slightly but he kept her ensnared. He wanted this moment to last. She tried again, wanting to be fucked by this man but he was in no hurry. This was Heaven. They gazed into each other's eyes, the outside world forgotten, marriage and children forgotten, work and family forgotten. All that existed in this moment was the merging and melting of their two bodies, the connection of their hearts and minds. It stabbed me through the heart. Carina had no idea I could see her. This was her private time with him and she was free to give herself completely, and she did. They remained joined as one for a long time.

It was Carina that broke first, rotating her hips. They kissed lovingly. Her eyelids fluttered and she rolled her hips again, desire building. Joey felt it too. Her hands drifted to his ass and she pulled gently, pleading, drawing the man even deeper. His hips began to move too, slow and gentle. Their intimate connection was excruciating.

A drop of semen oozed up my shaft to perch atop my tiny slit. I was riddled with anxiety and frayed nerves but my dick, the selfish, mindless bringer of chaos, demanded more.

I zoomed the image on the monitor. Yes, Joey had started moving his hips but only barely. He worked the shaft less than an inch in and out. His pubic bone mashed her clitoris and nudged her towards orgasm. He knew all her favorite ways. He knew everything she liked and what worked best. He had tricks to use on her that I'd never discovered, tricks learned during their years together, tricks that only a long and fat cock like his could perform. She felt things with him she'd never feel with me.

I swear I felt an orgasm building in my balls. The sight of her with him was beyond agonizing but my dick disagreed. My dick loved it. Sexual tension filled my body, tightening, growing, climbing towards release. I worried if I touched my penis I'd spurt, despite the ache in my heart, an ache which, paradoxically, fueled an even deeper arousal. I cupped my hot balls. I was manufacturing sperm at a tremendous rate. I could feel it. Every minute he was with my woman was another hot load produced and stored, ready for the moment I took her back.

But would it be enough?

I zoomed on his balls. The sack was big. If size mattered in these things then he was making more than I ever could, and fertile Carina was eagerly lying beneath him. I was defeated before I ever started.

She pulled his mouth down for a kiss and his hips began a longer stroke. He lifted himself over her, creating space between them, and her head rose, staring the length of her body, watching his wet shaft pump her hole. She was watching him fuck her, just like she'd wanted. She ran her hands over his arms and shoulders and down his chest to his flat stomach. Her head fell back and her legs lifted. She gave him everything. He adjusted his feet and braced his knees and began long-stroking her, withdrawing until only the head of his cock remained inside and then dropping his hips and plowing deep. Carina was crying out with each thrust. He hooked her legs behind the knees and bent them forward, now slamming his big cock home. Carina covered her face with both hands and a massive orgasm ripped through her, shaking her body, wobbling her tits. Her nipples turned stiff, rising to point at him. He dropped to suck them, never breaking rhythm.

I began to panic. His cock was swelling, veins rising into ridges all along the shaft. He was approaching orgasm too and would inseminate my woman with a hundred million sperm. I couldn't breathe. This could be the moment of conception and all I did was sit and watch. My dick throbbed. My balls were white hot. This was the ultimate nightmare to most husbands but I was on the verge of ejaculation.

Carina orgasmed again!

The knowledge of what she did was too much. Her body bent backward and her toes curled and Joey pounded away smooth and strong and Carina grabbed fistfuls of comforter and wailed, lost in pleasure. I thought that would make him lose control but he held back, not yet ready to erupt. He stroked her through her climax and then slowed, allowing her to catch her breath. She coiled arms and legs around him, pulling his body down to hers, and began fucking herself on his cock, grinding her hips against his. He pulled back, too close to orgasm and wanting to save it. Carina hugged tight, chasing him. She worked her hips to force her pussy up and down his erection, coaxing and milking his stiff rod. She pursued his climax fully aware of her own fertile state. She wanted his load. She chased it. She wanted him to cum inside her. She'd waited long enough and now needed to get him there, needed to make him orgasm. I realized, painfully, this was how she behaved with me on those occasions when we tried to make babies. There's fun sex and then there's serious baby-making sex.

This was serious sex.

I wrapped my fingers around my erection. Carina was in charge now, fucking herself on him. Joey closed his eyes and tried to forestall his explosion but he had no chance. Carina was a force of nature. She rolled him over and rode him hard, slamming her pussy down his length and grinding her clit against his abs. She had her hands on his chest which forced her tits together and her nipples bounced wildly. She orgasmed again up there, shaking her head and muttering. He tried to move but she slammed him down, fucking the man, using the man and his big erection. She came hard on top and then he roared like a dragon, cumming too, hips bucking like a rodeo bull, thrusting deep to spurt, holding her around the waist as he ejaculated over and over and over. Sperm ran down the shaft to drip from his spasming balls.

My orgasm began to rise but a sudden change of heart stopped me. I released my pulsating dick and stared at the screen.

Joey stopped thrusting gradually. Carina collapsed on his body. Both breathed hard and neither moved. We all waited and I wondered what thoughts ran through her head. She'd done it. A gallon of Joey now swam freely in her. I wondered if regret rose in the afterglow, when sanity and responsibilities returned.

Carina lifted her head to kiss his lips and they began talking. She rose to elbows, leaning on his muscular chest. His fingertips grazed her back. She adjusted, forcing her hips down and swallowing the inch of cock that had started to slip free. He was trapping that flood of semen inside. If she would but lift her hips his deflating cock would flop out, followed by a huge rush of sperm. I thought it was important to get that magical liquid out of there.

Carina rolled to the side but pulled Joey with her. In an instant, he was on top between her legs, legs she hooked around him. He kissed her throat. From there he moved to her breasts, first one, then the other. He took his time, nibbling, suckling, licking softly. She palmed her tits and pushed them together, lifting so that she could lick her own nipples at the same time he did. They'd kiss and then suck together and then kiss some more.

His hips began to move.

This was my reason for interrupting my orgasm. Instinct told me once would not be enough for this man. He was so excited, so happy to have Carina in his arms. There was no way he'd finish after one and go home. I knew the man would have a second climax in him. What I didn't know, and would only discover hours later, was the man had four in him. Joey fucked Carina for hours, filling her bountiful womb with potent seed again and again. She welcomed every drop, coaxing the man to give up everything he had. My wife fucked that guy until he could fuck no more.

Not until he shot his last did I allow myself to cum. I told myself to save it for the sex with Carina. At least I could add mine to his. But to what end? Hope it was my seed that implanted and not his? I was hopelessly outnumbered.

That's not what this night was truly about. Not really. Tonight was about the thrill of the risk, and what greater risk could there be than Joey swimming around in her alone. We were only hours from dawn when he dressed and headed home. She texted that I could return so I did.

She offered herself because she thought I needed it but I guided her mouth to my cock. Once she realized my intentions and the ramifications, she groaned deeply and sucked like her life depended on it. She rubbed her pussy and came hard as I shot into her vacuuming mouth. We both understood what sucking me off meant. The fact of Joey's sole ownership drove us crazy. When I got hard again an hour later I made her suck that one out too. Each time we reaffirmed Joey's exclusive claim to her, we orgasmed hard.

Chapter 17

Anna looked stunning, but so did Carina. The party had over a thousand people and I met movie stars left and right. It was Arturo's birthday and Anna had thoughtfully invited us to join the assembled mass, flying us out again and putting us in a guestroom. The party raged until almost dawn. We said goodnight and headed for bed.

That's when Anna visited us in our room.

We'd showered and slipped into the silk pajamas provided. Well, I had. Carina still walked around the huge room naked, admiring the art and furniture. How much money did Arturo have anyway? A light tap on the door made Carina grab a silk robe while I checked to see who it was. I invited Anna in. She asked about whether we'd had fun and if there was anything we needed. I tried to focus, truly I did. But when your celebrity crush is standing in your bedroom wearing only a silk robe, you get distracted. Static made the fabric cling to curves here and there, revealing the shape of her breasts and the fact one nipple had a piercing. I saw no traces of underwear beneath.

Carina caught me looking and moved closer. Then she veered off to stand next to Anna and brush a strand of fallen hair from the starlet's pretty face. The two women locked eyes. Anna smiled. Carina moved closer and Anna shut the door, throwing the deadbolt. My heart stopped. The women reached for each other's robe at the same time, untying the sashes and allowing the robes to fall open. They took turns nudging the garments off, crumpled piles of silk on the floor. My favorite actress stood naked before me.

"I hope this is okay," Anna said. "I really like you guys."

Carina kissed Anna on the mouth. Their hands floated up to begin caressing womanly curves. I was unsure of the rules so gratitude flooded me when Carina stretched out a hand and drew me in. Next, my wife took Anna's hand and guided it to my rising cock. I gasped at her touch. She was still kissing my wife but she started stroking me. I had to look down at her lovely hand on my penis, a sight I'll never forget.

Carina led us both to the huge bed, bigger than our new bed back at home, and Anna climbed on first. Nobody spoke. We all knew what was coming. Anna scooted backward and Carina crawled between her legs, lowering her mouth to taste Anna's sweet pussy. Anna met my disbelieving gaze and opened her mouth as an invitation. I shed my pajamas and joined them naked on the bed, holding my dick in one hand and bracing myself against the headboard with the other. I walked my knees closer and fed a willing Anna my hard cock.

My mind melted. I was gazing down at my favorite actress sucking my dick. How could this be real? But it was. She opened wider and crawled her lips down the length.

I began to fuck her mouth.

My circle of happiness was complete. I had a loving wife and terrific marriage. I had two great kids and a job I enjoyed. I had health and money, and I had a gorgeous and famous face stuck on the end of my cock. I had everything.

"Fuck me," Anna said, then, looking at Carina: "Is that all right?"

My wife grinned.

"I want him to fuck you. I need him to fuck you. I've been such a naughty girl for so long I need the scales tipped back some. He's loved you for years. You're his fantasy woman. I want to see him fuck you. He'll be the happiest man on Earth."

Anna was touched by my devotion. She slipped me into her mouth again for a minute and then turned Carina by the chin.

"Put him in me," she told my wife.

I hurried and they laughed. Carina held my erection around the root and pulled me forward. The tip of my dick brushed Anna's clit. Carina pulled again and I sank several inches into the woman I wanted most on this planet, other than my wife. Anna's face lit up and her eyes narrowed. I pushed deeper, moving fully between her legs and dropping my mouth to her nipple.

We all fucked until we could no longer move. I filled Anna with cum, then Carina, then, hours later, Anna again. The women enjoyed each other when I needed time to recover.

Late the next day their private jet flew us home. We collected the kids from grandma's place and held them tight. At home, we ordered pizza and watched a Disney movie.

End.

Join My Mailing List
Get a FREE Hotwife Story!

Visit My Website:
AuthorMatthewLee.com

Follow My Twitter

Find me on GoodReads

Email Me

BunnyLovesBigCarrots@gmail.com

Did You Enjoy My Work?
It would mean a lot if you left a quick review.
A sentence or two is fine.
Thank you for supporting an Independent Author!