Chapter 1

"This time," Clarence Hanover said, unzipping his dress slacks and sliding them to his ankles, "use your tongue only. No hands." He pushed his chair away from his desk and sat, resting his penis on his scrotum. He laced his fingers behind his head, master of his universe. "And leave your glasses on," he added.

This was the best part of his day. Innocent Brooke Nathan was dutifully on her knees, hands clasped behind her back. Clarence enjoyed the way her large breasts strained her conservative white blouse, the gaps between buttons granting him a peek of pale tits trapped by an industrial-strength brassiere. She always covered herself neck to ankles, so any glimpse of flesh was an illicit thrill.

Brooke had been his employee for almost a year and sucking his cock for almost half that time. The mistake she'd made her first week was huge, normally resulting in immediate termination. Federal law was broken. Millions of dollars were nearly lost. Clarence stepped in and saved her, but told Brooke he could reveal her error at any time. Brooke would be fired, her industry reputation forever tarnished. Worse, Clarence said she would owe the IRS a huge fine. That was a lie but Brooke knew not better. Clarence had used that lie many times.

Each day, after almost all the other employees were gone, Brooke visited Clarence in his office. She'd cried and begged that first week, reminding Clarence she was married, insisting she shouldn't have to do this. He ignored her protests, dropping his pants and underwear and ordering her to get busy. Day after day she'd driven home depressed and disgusted, angry at herself for being so weak and stupid.

Clarence scooted his chair closer, trapping her between his knees and the desk. He noticed his dick reflected in the lens of her glasses and smiled. They'd done this so many times, he no longer needed to tell her to begin. Brooke lifted his penis onto her warm palm and slipped the soft shaft into her mouth. Clarence sighed. He wouldn't fuck her. He'd learned the hard way that many problems lay down that path. He wouldn't fuck her but he sure wanted to.

"Open your shirt," he said.

She knew what he liked. Delicate fingers manipulated buttons and she shrugged her blouse around her waist. Her fingers moved to release her bra and then her large tits tumbled free. The exposure secretly thrilled her. She returned her hands behind her back, feeling the surge of excitement swell his dick.

Yes, the first few weeks had been torture, but that's not how she felt now. Now a warm and pulsing penis lay on her tongue and if she avoided thoughts of her husband, these moments were gratifying. She'd learned to set aside Freddy, Clarence, and even herself, and live in the moment. She'd sucked her first cock in high school, under the bleachers during a playoff basketball game, and loved the feeling. She'd not sucked another until Freddy fed her his. She loved how sexy it made her feel.

She relaxed her throat and flattened her tongue, easing the twitching sausage towards the back of her throat. Her nose nestled his pubic hair at the same time her chin bumped his scrotum. She drew a deep breath through her nostrils and held Clarence there, a quivering tube of hot meat filling her mouth.

Chapter 2

"How sure is sure?" Freddy asked.

"As sure as sure can be," Donny said.

Freddy chewed a fingernail.

"That's a lot of money," he admitted.

"Freddy, the more you invest, the more you make. I've got forty-thousand in and looking to refinance and pull out equity just so I have more. It's a sure thing. Once in a lifetime killing."

"Brooke won't let me do it," Freddy said. "We're already in debt. I've got almost no cash on hand."

"I know a guy if you want to borrow some," Donny said. "I owe him thirty grand. He's flush with cash. If you pay him back fast enough the rate is low. Lower than banks. Lower than credit unions."

Freddy glanced around the pub. Donny seemed so sure. His enthusiasm was contagious. The deal was spectacular and Donny had already profited twice from the same investor. The guy had insider information.

"All right," Freddy said. "Arrange a meeting with your money guy. Don't tell Brooke. I want to surprise her with something nice."

"You can buy her diamond earrings after this," Donny said.

Freddy sipped his beer.

"What's your guy's name?" he asked.

"Jerica Miles," Donny answered.

"Never heard of him."

"You wouldn't. He does not move in our circles. I'll give him a call and let you know. We need to move fast, so make up your mind."

Freddy gave a nod.

Chapter 3

Brooke held the stiffening penis in her mouth and did not move. The strong quaking heartbeat excited her. She anticipated how in the next few minutes Clarence would grow harder and longer and then, quivering, spurt hot liquid all over her tongue and teeth. She loved the effect she had on the man and there was something special and intimate about giving a man your mouth.

Guilt and shame had almost destroyed her those early days. Finally, she'd tearfully confessed to Freddy what she was being forced to do. He wanted to beat Clarence to a bloody pulp but Brooke talked him out of it. She'd explained her terrible mistake, how much trouble she would be in, and that she might even face jail time. She admitted, other than performing orally for Clarence, that she loved her job, the money was great, and she wanted to remain there.

"I would never find a job to replace it," she'd told her husband. "But I could no longer do this behind your back. The betrayal almost killed me."

Freddy listened, comforting his wife, understanding her terrible position. They'd talked for hours, trying to find some way out. Eventually, they faced the truth.

"I'll continue until he grows bored," she'd said. "Some new woman will come along and I'll be discarded and everything will return to normal."

Freddy did not like the arrangement but trusted his wife. For the next three months whenever he glanced at the clock around closing time, he knew, at that moment, his wife was across town on her knees. Humiliated but sympathetic, he spoke no more about it.

Once Brooke admitted everything to her husband, something inside her shifted. Guilt evaporated, shame receded. When she visited Clarence's office the next evening, her palms turned sweaty. She hid all her raging emotions from her boss as he lowered his pants and his penis came into view. Her lips obediently slithered around the head, but this time her panties turned wet. His dick wasn't big; he was a little smaller than Freddy, but it was nicely shaped, a healthy color, pubes trimmed close to give him the best view, and Clarence had dabbed cologne she liked right above the base. Thoughtful. Tonight, she took her time, allowing herself to fully experience the man for the first time.

When she'd gotten him so excited he could no longer hold back, she'd directed his blasts to the back of her throat, realizing for the first time his sperm wasn't salty and sour like Freddy, but almost sweet, like dark chocolate.

The next day she watched the clock, eager, all doubts gone. She'd taken Freddy's understanding and empathy as permission. She entered Clarence's office without being summoned and pushed him away from his desk. He was on the phone with a client but allowed her to get started, savoring her deep need. Brooke obediently sank to her knees, thrilled to submit, happy to drain the man's balls. The unfamiliar penis was a magical creature waving before her.

Brooke slid the head to the back of her mouth and teased under the tip. She'd learned all the tricks that Clarence liked best and experimented with a few of her own. At home, she'd watched porn online, while Freddy was at work, and learned new techniques, like wetting a finger and slowly pushing it up Clarence's asshole. That brought a deep and satisfied groan from the man. Brooke was already imagining the taste of his sweet cum.

Chapter 4

Jerica Miles was a big man: thick, rounded shoulders and arms that strained the sleeves of his Ed Hardy shirt. Muscles bulged. Tattoos covered the parts of his neck his scraggly beard did not and ran down his arms to his hands. Three teardrop tattoos dripped from the corners of each eye. A ponytail, rife with split-ends, hung over a shoulder and lay in his lap. Freddy approached the booth, extending a hand.

"You must be Jerica," he said.

The big man shook his hand. Freddy felt bones of iron under skin. Their eyes met and Freddy saw iron there too. The man had seen things. The man had done things. This was a man nobody toyed with. A propensity for violence, mental and physical, slumbered beneath the surface.

"Call me Dreadful," Jerica said, gesturing for Freddy to take the seat opposite him in the booth. "Everyone does."

Freddy hesitated then slid home.

"That's a funny nickname," he said. "Why do they call you that?"

Jerica leaned against the booth, spreading his long arms along the back. He tilted his head, evaluating Freddy.

"Let's hope you never find out," he said. "How much money do you want?"

Chapter 5

Brooke's probing finger found the little grape she'd learned was Clarence's prostate. The videos online had taught her a lot. She rubbed gently with a fingertip, his sphincter suddenly clamping around her digit, and heard Clarence suck in a bushel of air. His balls lifted from the seat cushion. She placed just the head in her mouth and sucked, then sucked harder, pulling blood and semen up the shaft.

Brooke was dizzy with lust. Clarence had inadvertently tapped into a deep fantasy, a powerful, hidden, erotic vein running through her mind. She was down on her knees, a new cock waving in her face, and she was overjoyed.

She'd always liked making love but this was something different, this was raw sex. She had no intimate feelings for Clarence and never would, but his dick was rock hard and that was all because of her. She felt compelled, like that hard dick was her responsibility and she had to do something about it. Clarence had revealed something about her to herself.

Erections shouldn't be refused. Ever. She had a duty to drain them. She felt a sense of urgency.

Clarence believed her enthusiasm was all about him but Brooke knew this new understanding would apply to any penis. She would never cheat on Freddy, not beyond what she was forced to do with Clarence, but she recognized this feeling within herself. A surge of lust bubbled up. She pushed his cock to the back of her throat, choking on glorious, pulsating, rigid dick. Clarence misunderstood.

"You like the taste of cum now?" he asked. "You didn't at first."

She stopped sucking long enough to push her glasses up her nose and answer.

"I've always liked the way you taste," she said. "Your sperm is almost sweet. The problem wasn't your flavor. In the beginning, I felt crushed by guilt."

Clarence made a face.

"But not now?" he asked.

She shook her head, nibbling his balls.

"What changed?" he asked.

"I couldn't take the secrecy so I confessed to my husband what you were forcing me to do," she said, teasing his testicles again. "I told him you made me suck dick almost every night. He got mad. Real mad. Like he wanted to kill you angry."

"I'm still alive," Clarence chuckled. "How did you calm him down?"

Brooke slathered her flat tongue from balls to tip.

"I reminded him how badly I needed this job, how badly we needed me to keep this job. We have a lot of debt. He understands."

Clarence snorted derision.

"For money? What kind of husband trades his wife for cash?"

She smiled.

"That's not all I told him," she continued. "I admitted I get turned on when you force me. He hated hearing that but came around to understand. He tells himself at least you're not fucking me. That helped. Strangely, once his anger subsided, he became much more attentive to me. Me sucking you made him want me more. We make love often now. I come home wet and Freddy pounces on me. Our sex-life has never been better."

Clarence couldn't believe his dumb luck. He grinned. Her husband knowing but unable to make them stop made it more exciting. Clarence enjoyed a new feeling of owning them both.

"Does he still get angry?" he asked, hoping the man did.

"Yes," Brooke admitted. "It torments him but makes him hard too. I joked once that he was a Pavlov dog. He's been trained to associate me with you and us with his own pleasure. He can't help himself. If I get home late, he's already erect. He knows what I've done, what you've made me do."

Clarence stiffened, balls tightening.

How many times have I sent her home with a belly full of sperm?

Adrenaline shot through him. Blood surged.

"I own you both," he scoffed. "Do you kiss when you come through the door?"

"Yes."

Strong tingling stirred his balls.

"Does your husband taste me in your mouth?"

Brooke bashfully looked away.

"Yes," she murmured.

Clarence laughed.

"That's hot. I need to meet him. I want to shake his hand and look him in the eyes. Suck. I'm going to shoot in your mouth. You can take my jizz home to your man."

Brooke moaned. She had to do what he said or he'd destroy her life, but that was secondary to the deep arousal she felt knowing he was about to cum. His cock throbbed with excitement and the promise of nectar. She arched her back, thrusting her large tits forward. Clarence groaned, thrilled by her complete obedience. He fucked her mouth, watching her tight red lips cling to his meat, watching his hard shaft glide in and out, gleaming with saliva.

His body tensed and the first jet shot. Brooke groaned and sucked harder, teasing his prostate, coaxing his load. She gulped his sweet juice, enjoying his sphincter clenching her finger over and over. She loved the pleasure she gave. She loved how excited she made him. He wasn't her husband and of course this was wrong but he was a powerful and important man, and she could reduce him to a kitten. Her eyes glowed as she drank his essence, feeling him spurt and writhe.

Freddy will know, she thought, moaning at the debauchery. He'll rip my clothes off and bend me over. I can't wait.

Chapter 6

"You said the turnaround was quick!" Freddy hissed. "It's been a week!"

"Usually it is!" Donny countered.

Both men paced Freddy's living room.

"Dreadful expected the money yesterday. What do I tell him?"

"Ask for patience," Donny said. "You'll pay him back every cent."

"Did that man look patient to you?" Freddy asked, confronting his friend.

Donny looked away.

"No," he admitted.

"Call the investor," Freddy insisted. "Tell him to make this happen . . . Now."

There was no point in pushing, but Donny promised he'd try.

Chapter 7

"Five days, four nights," Brooke said. "You must come. I can't go alone. All the husbands and wives will be there. I'd be humiliated if my husband refused. Not to mention you'd be leaving me alone with Clarence for almost a week. "

Freddy looked at his hands in his lap. He had the vacation days and Brooke knew it. It would be easy arranging the time off. But that would take him out of the city and out of contact with Dreadful. The man would conclude Freddy had run from his debt, and that was worrisome.

Clarence had decided this year's awards ceremony would take place on Mount Charleston, at the new lodge, and every employee and their significant other was expected to attend.

"What's the problem?" she asked.

Freddy dared not tell her. He'd raised the idea of borrowing money to invest and Brooke had squarely squashed it. Far too risky, she'd said. Digging one hole to fill another, she'd said. Freddy was kicking himself now for not listening to her.

"Just work related stuff," he lied. "Let me make some phone calls."

Brooke clapped and hugged him tight before leaving to shower. Freddy plucked his phone from the dining table and dialed Dreadful's number. Of course, the big man did not answer. Fred dialed Donny next and quickly explained the situation.

"Get ahold of Dreadful," Freddy pleaded. "Explain why I've left town. Convince him I'll be back and with his money."

Donny said he would and they ended the call. Freddy headed for the bathroom. He undressed quickly but stopped to watch Brooke through the glass. His wife was so sexy he often wondered how he'd won her. She didn't radiate sex like some Las Vegas women, she caught your eye with her sweet face and understated body. Freddy watched her big tits swing, covered in suds and dripping.

"You're staring," she called out.

"You're stunning," he said.

She opened the sliding shower door, allowing him to gaze on her wet and naked. She'd sucked Clarence tonight; he was sure of it. They'd discussed nothing but he'd learned to read the signs; lips slightly swollen, blush to her cheeks, eyes bright and alert. He imagined her on her knees, another man's dick waving in her face. They'd struck a strange bargain. He was amazed he allowed her to continue, but then he'd see her like this and his penis would rise, just like it did now.

"Is that for me?" Brooke asked.

"Maybe."

"Are you picturing a cock in my mouth?"

"Yes."

Brooke shivered and not from the cool bathroom air. She reached her dripping arms to her husband. Rivulets of soap trailed down her body. Freddy walked towards his wife, eyes roaming.

"Is it your cock I'm sucking?" she asked.

"No," he croaked.

Goddamn this whole fucked-up situation, he thought.

"He gets so hard, Baby," she said, and Freddy knew she meant Clarence. "You know how exciting you gets me excited. Well the same happens with him and I get him so excited." Freddy nodded, suddenly unable to speak. "Tonight I told him you knew about us." She covered her tummy with a hand. "He filled my belly with his sweet semen and sent me home to you."

Freddy groaned. Brooke had no idea the impact words like that would make on a man. She was just innocuously narrating the truth.

"This can't go on," he mumbled. "I can't take it."

She smiled.

"Clarence will get bored," she said. "He's a guy. Soon he'll go after some hot young woman. You know how men are. Be patient. We'll win in the end."

He watched her lips move as she spoke, realizing those lips had recently been sealed around another man's dick. His penis pulsed, aimed at the ceiling, balls hot and tight. He moved closer and Brooke curled her fingers around the shaft. She squeezed hard, on the edge of pain. She slipped a hand behind his neck and pulled him close, kissing her husband with honeyed lips. Freddy recognized the sweet, sticky syrup Clarence had left behind, but held the kiss anyway, sending a tongue in to swirl around her mouth. They were trapped in a bizarre circus, all the customary rules and expectations of marriage thrown out the window. They were trapped, but Brooke was right; waiting it out was their best option.

"I'd hoped to never meet him," Freddy said. "He's going to be so smug. He'll rub it in my face a hundred different ways."

"Sorry, Honey."

Freddy saw no way out. He had to go to the lodge for the week, he had to hope Dreadful understood, and he had to endure Brooke sucking off Clarence for at least a while longer.

"What are you thinking now?" she asked.

He grabbed a handful of her wet hair, forcing her to her knees. If she was going to suck her boss, then she was going to suck her husband too. He gazed down at his attractive wife. Her eager and trusting mouth was already open, happy to please, ready to even the score. She suspected what all this did to him but wanted her husband to know she was loyal in her heart.

A wave of guilt and shame washed over him. She was on his team. Was he on hers? She'd been honest, even when it hurt. He was the only true liar here.

He hesitated, refusing to give her the dick she craved. Confused, she stood.

"I need to confess," he said. "I did something really stupid."

Chapter 8

"Your boss?" Sara asked, dumbstruck. "You're fucking your boss? Are you crazy? Do you understand how badly that complicates your life?"

Brooke glanced nervously around the Starbucks.

"Please lower your voice," she mumbled. "I'm not fucking him, Sara. I'm only sucking his cock, and only off the clock. There's a difference."

Sara rolled her emerald eyes, sarcastically flipping her long brown hair over a shoulder.

"Oh my God," she said in her very best high-pitched bimbo voice. "You are so right. Totally different."

She leaned over the table, suddenly serious, meeting Brooke's eyes.

"The only difference," she laughed. "Is where his load ends up. Sucking or fucking, you're still having sex outside your marriage. You might be blowing him now but trust me, I know how these things go. He'll get bored with that and want more. He's going to fuck you, and soon. What are you thinking, Brooke? Freddy's a great guy. Is Clarence super-hot or something?"

"No," Brooke replied. "That's why I invited you to lunch. I know you know about these kinds of things. You've told me . . . stories . . . about wild things you've done. He's forcing me, Sara. I messed up bad my first week at the company but Clarence hid my mistake. Now he holds it over my head. I have to blow him wherever he wants."

Sara hesitated and leaned back. Brooke thought a flash of excitement passed behind her friend's eyes but dismissed it.

"Freddy knows," Brooke added softly.

Sara's expression turned calculating.

"Is this something kinky you guys are into? Because if there's agreement between you, that changes everything."

"I wouldn't say Freddy agrees. I'd say Freddy understands the necessity and is standing by his wife in her difficult time of need. The whole situation just grew up around us organically, one thing leading to the next. The next thing I know, Clarence has me on my knees with his dick out."

"Nice dick at least?" Sara asked.

"Not bad at all. Smaller than Freddy but a lovely shape. His cum is almost sweet, like molasses or dark chocolate. I don't mind."

"Lucky you. Why does Fred allow this to continue?"

"We owe creditors a lot of money. Also, we refinanced the house and pulled out equity but spent it on stupid shit. Now the adjustable rate has turned sour and we're buried in debt. My job pays well and we'll dig ourselves out in time, but not if I get fired."

Brooke stirred her iced tea, thoughtful.

"Now Freddy has gone and made everything worse. He tried to rush things and borrowed money from a guy named Dreadful, who is supposed to be some badass."

"What?" Sara interrupted, eyes big. "How the fuck does Fred know Dreadful?"

Brooke looked confused.

"You know him?"

"I do," Sara said. "That is a man you do not mess with. You and Fred need to pay up and forget you ever heard the name. Don't wait for the investment to pay off. Sell watches and jewelry and get out."

Brooke looked frightened.

"What?" Sara asked. "What'd I say?"

"We're leaving town for a week."

Sara placed both palms on the table, controlling her breathing.

"Are you insane?" she asked loudly. "Dreadful will conclude you are trying to avoid him. He'll think Freddy is trying to run."

Tears welled in Brooke's eyes.

"I didn't invite you to lunch to yell at me," she murmured. "You're my best friend. I need a shoulder to cry on."

"You're right. I'm sorry. I'm just worried for you. I'm worried for Fred. I know Dreadful and you do not want to tangle with that guy. Maybe I can call and explain, buy you guys some time."

Brooke covered Sara's hand with her own.

"No," she said. "If he's all bad, stay away. We'll figure something out. Fred met the man through Donny. Maybe we can have Donny call and explain."

They fell silent for a while, digesting what they'd learned. Sara glanced around the coffee shop, remembering her times with Dreadful. The man was vile and ruthless but that did not stop her heart from beating a little faster, her pussy from turning wet. She checked on Brooke, imagining that sweet angel face confronting a man like Dreadful. Sara shivered. The man would eat naïve Brooke alive.

"Let's hope Donny can convince him," Sara said.

Chapter 9

Clarence threw wide the cabin doors, gesturing grandly at the rustic spacious interior; furniture and fixtures all of pine, three wagon wheel chandeliers, two brick hearths. A mounted, sixteen-point stag head gazed the length of the room.

"Bedrooms are first-come first-served," he bellowed. "Except the master suite, which is mine. No need to push, every room is fully appointed."

Clarence grinned as his employees dropped luggage and fanned out, racing to pick the best room. Freddy and Brooke meandered, content to get whatever was left. This was just another demeaning game Clarence played, watching everyone run around like bargain shoppers, and they refused to play. Freddy and Brooke stepped through the first door they reached and flopped their luggage on the bed.

Everyone had met at the office and taken the gaudy Hummer limousine Clarence rented. He'd insisted Brooke sit next to him. A few people noticed but ignored the staged arrangement, concluding Clarence probably wanted to talk business. Freddy sat close to his wife, watching them like a hawk, burning with shame. Clarence had made everything worse by magnanimously offering a hand, praising Brooke loudly for all to hear. Freddy knew it was all for show.

Tonight, Clarence would need his balls drained and send for Brooke.

"Once you're settled and unpacked," Clarence continued, "help yourself to anything you want. We had a record-breaking year and you all deserve a reward. There's a movie theater downstairs and a five-star restaurant just down the path. Tomorrow you can snorkel or scuba dive in the lake, jet-ski, water-ski, swim, sunbathe, play golf or horseshoes, hike, or hang-glide. This place has it all. You'll sleep exhausted every night. Plan on having a great time!"

Several people applauded and Clarence bowed at the waist.

"Enjoy," he said. "Everything's paid for."

The large group broke up with everyone heading for the rooms they'd chosen.

"Brooke," Clarence said. "Can you come see me please? We need to discuss the Watkins account."

Brooke stopped and changed direction, casting a backward glance at Freddy, pleading for understanding.

"I'll give her right back," Clarence told Fred. "This will only take a few minutes."

Freddy glanced around. One or two may have noticed but nobody paid much attention, too eager to start their night of fun. Freddy returned to his room, standing in the doorway. Clarence opened the door to his suite and ushered Brooke inside. His wife wouldn't look at him but Clarence did, grinning like a fool. He closed the door in Freddy's face.

Fred closed his door too and staggered to the large bed. Coworkers had to know. No way you can hide shit like this. They suspected but said nothing. What CEO takes a female employee into his bedroom and shuts the door? The truth was obvious.

Freddy stood, fists at his side, wondering what the other couples thought of him. Images of Brooke on her knees tormented him and he began to pace the room. He wanted to leave, to head outside and walk off this nervous energy, but that would bring him into contact with the others. What would he say? What would they say? He glanced around at the furniture until his eyes landed on Brooke's unopened suitcase.

"Fuck this," he said, aiming for the door.

Chapter 10

Sara nervously flipped her phone end over end and then side to side. Anxiety ate her alive. She'd texted Jericah, Dreadful to those who did not know him, pleading on behalf of Brooke and Freddy. The man had ignored her requests, skipping each to insist on meeting. Sara had not seen the man for almost two years but he still affected her like she'd seen him yesterday. Of course he'd chosen this mall; the same where he'd first stalked her, kidnapped her, thrown her into his plain white van and driven away with her. The memories flooded back. He'd injected her with a powerful aphrodisiac and taken her to an isolated spot in the desert. He'd gagged her. He'd circled her neck with a dog collar. He'd made her strip and then undressed too and she remembered perfectly the insane rush of heat and lust his body and his long fat cock had caused. She'd learned a lot about who she truly was in those moments.

Now, sitting at the same bistro where she'd enjoyed lunch so long ago, desire rose again. Her pussy turned wet against the hard plastic seat.

Why the fuck did I wear a skirt? she wondered, but she already knew that answer. In the parking garage her car sat in the same spot it had that fateful day two years ago. She looked at her reflection in the restaurant window. She'd wanted to look cute for the man, knowing she dangled raw beef in front of a grizzly bear.

He used me, she thought. He gave me to others, like Dean and Jack. He tortured me mentally and physically. He had others torture me. Why do I still want him?

Her memories drifted back to ugly Jack and his big ugly dick. Her sphincter tingled, remembering what Jack had done to her back there. She'd hated it at first but quickly learned to crave a hard anal fucking.

Jack and Dreadful didn't change me, she thought. Jack and Dreadful revealed me. Jack and Dreadful introduced me to myself.

She squirmed on her seat, trying to refocus.

My mission is to protect Brooke and Freddy. They do not know the man like I do.

A clear memory of Jack and Dreadful double-penetrating her appeared in her mind. She felt the twin behemoths moving inside her and gasped out loud. A couple at a nearby table turned to look at her.

"Forgot to buy milk and bread," she told them, smiling.

She'd ridden Dreadful as Jack eased his lumpy cock up her ass. Pleasure had exploded in her body and mind. She sighed, allowing the memory to run. Two years distant and she still felt the men pulsing and throbbing within her. Lives pivot on three or four moments and that was one of hers.

I am defenseless against Dreadful, she thought. I need to admit that.

He was savage and ruthless, an unstoppable and unmistakable masculine force. Dreadful had turned loose a host of men on her but somehow also touched her heart.

I would fuck him, she admitted. Right now, without hesitation. Hubby Mike would love it, probably hold my legs wide open to the man.

She pictured her husband's tattoo. Dreadful had ordered Mike strapped to a chair and ink pumped into his skin. Once it was over, a gentle arc of stylish letters curved like a black rainbow over the base of her husband's penis, below his belt buckle:

Cuckold

Over the last two years she'd met a few men at clubs and brought them home. Each had smiled to see Mike's tattoo. Men love fucking hot women, but especially love it if they're taking her from another man.

"You're thinking about sex," a deep rumbling voice said.

She jumped, startled by how close he'd gotten without her noticing, like her mind refused to accept how dangerous this man was.

"Dreadful," she murmured.

He took the chair opposite her, muscles flexing as his thick arms controlled his descent. Dreadful was a big man, towering over everyone else. He carried the impressive size easily, seemingly ready for action in any direction. A jet-black ponytail hung to his butt. He wore jeans and a Harley Davidson T-shirt and tattoos littered every inch of visible skin. Sara noted the raised ring of a pierced nipple through his shirt. Every person in the restaurant watched him sit. He gazed at her, smirking, waiting for an answer.

"Yes," she admitted.

"You were thinking about sex with me."

She did not try to lie.

"Yes."

The waitress approached, pad ready.

"I'd love to fuck you again," Dreadful told Sara, ignoring the waitress and her astonished reaction. "I'll come over next Saturday night."

Sara blushed. Hard. The waitress looked at her expectantly, hanging onto Sara's response. Flustered, Sara grabbed her menu, scanning items.

"Caesars salad," she blurted. "Side of ranch."

The waitress turned her attention to Dreadful. He held up two fingers separated by two inches.

"Jack Daniels," he said. "Neat."

The waitress jotted on her pad and left.

"You want me to leave your friends alone," Dreadful said.

"Yes. Please."

"The man owes me money, Sara. A lot, although the amount doesn't matter much. I warned him not to test me. He swore he would not. Then he skipped town."

"He'll be back. He had to go with his wife. He's good for the money, I promise."

Dreadful stared. She shifted uncomfortably as he looked right through her.

"If he isn't, will you pay his bill, including interest?"

"I don't have the money."

The waitress returned with their order. Dreadful gulped his drink. He stood before the waitress had Sara's plate on the table.

"Sara, I've called and texted the man but no response. That's rude. That's insulting and impertinent. I get they are your friends but this is business, and nobody disrespects me without repercussions. I need to hear from him, today, or I will release the Hounds of Hell."

His eyes met hers and she did not blink. The air between them crackled with electric sexual tension. The waitress froze.

"Tell Mike I'll be there to fuck you around eight," he told Sara. "He'll like that."

Sara blushed again. The waitress stared at the salad, clearly an intruder in this conversation. Dreadful pulled a twenty out of his pocket and dropped it on the table. He walked away without looking back.

"Sweet Jesus," the waitress exhaled.

"Yeah," Sara agreed, folding her fingers together. "His name is Dreadful and I just admit, he's something special."

The waitress watched the big man stride towards the exit.

"I hope you don't mind me saying," She admitted, "But I'd fuck him."

Sara followed her gaze. Dreadful moved like an athlete, coiled and strong, smooth and sexy. Both women watched his firm ass roll with each step.

"I don't mind," Sara said. "That's the usual reaction from the women I know. Just understand you'd never get over him. You'd move on, because he's definitely not marriage material, but you'd never forget your nights with him."

The waitress slowly nodded.

"I could use a man like that right now," she said.

Sara scrutinized the woman; olive skinned, mid-eastern features, large dark eyes, big breasts stretching her uniform. She was pretty, almost exotic. Their eyes met. Dreadful would eat a woman like this alive. Sara smiled. The waitress smiled back.

"Who's Mike?" she asked. "That guy told you to give Mike a message."

"My husband," Sara said.

"Did he mean it?"

"Are you asking will that man will come to my home on Saturday and fuck me in front of my husband?"

"Yeah."

"Yes," Sara said, not backing down an inch.

The waitress chuckled.

"You are by far my most interesting customer ever," she said.

Sara smiled weakly but held her head in her hands.

"Him at my house is not the problem," she said. "A friend left town while still owing him money. Dreadful has taken that as a personal insult. My friend is in trouble."

"You met him today to try and talk him out of it, " the waitress said.

Sara took a bite of salad.

"Yes," she said. "Jericah–Dreadful–and I go way back. We have history. A sordid, complicated, X-rated history."

"Lucky girl."

Sara wondered if that was true. She'd been through a lot with the man; terrified one minute, ecstatic the next. Dreadful had put her through Hell but she'd come out the other side better for it.

"What's your name?" Sara asked.

"Pirayeh," the waitress answered. "Call me Pira. What's yours?"

"Sara."

Chapter 11

Freddy stepped into the huge common room and stared up into the eyes of the dead stag. Most of the couples had headed off to do other things; unpack or grab a bite. Those that remained watched Fred closely while pretending to do something else. Their eyes burned against his skin; the wimp husband that allowed his wife to be taken to a bedroom. Freddy's guts churned. He knew what they were thinking, what their opinion of him must be.

He walked briskly to the front door and stepped in the cool forest air. A fast walk amongst the trees would clear his head. Several trails led away from the lodge and he picked one at random, curling around the house before disappearing between towering sequoias. He jammed his hands in his pockets and set a fast pace.

He stopped abruptly less than a minute later. The path took him around the back of the lodge. He saw Brooke through the sliding glass doors of the master suite. She sat on the corner of his bed, bent forward, legs crossed, wrists resting on knees. Clarence stood in front of her, pants pushed to his knees, dick sliding in and out of her mouth.

Freddy gasped and jumped behind a tree.

Clarence fucked his wife's mouth, gazing down at her face, watching his dick move in and out. Brooke met his eyes and smiled. She didn't mind. She was happy to help. A slight smile curled the corners of her mouth, like she and Clarence shared an inside-joke. Freddy had imagined this a hundred times, waiting for Brooke to get home from work, but always pictured Brooke reluctant, doing what she had to do for their marriage, begrudgingly pleasing the bastard boss. That was not what Freddy saw. Brooke was delighted to have a cock in her mouth, toying with it, teasing with lips and tongue. Clarence moved his hands to her head, fucking faster, getting close, and Brooke giggled, eager for what was coming.

Freddy pressed his face against the rough bark. Brooke loved sucking that dick. Freddy had known Brooke serviced her boss almost nightly but seeing was far more powerful than imagining. His heart ached. Clarence's hard dick brought joy to her.

The rest of the world fell away. His vision narrowed until all he saw was that veiny shaft gliding between the lips he'd kissed so many times. Clarence drew a deep breath and then his hips jerked and his legs trembled. Brooke leaned farther forward, sealed lips creeping down the shaft. Clarence grunted and Freddy watched as his wife swallowed and swallowed. Clarence was lost in ecstasy, covering his head with his arms and smothering his cries of pleasure. Brooke tickled the man's balls, coaxing every drop, and then eased him from her mouth to lick the oozing head over and over.

She looked like a porn actress to Freddy. His heart almost burst to see his beloved squeeze the shaft, drawing the last drop to the tip like wringing a wet rag. She licked that away too then wiggled her tongue down his little hole, seeking more delicious semen. Freddy's legs went weak. Clarence stuffed his dick into his pants and kissed her forehead. She stood and straightened her clothing, wiped her mouth with both hands, and aimed for the door, waving goodbye to Clarence.

Freddy sagged against the tree, his hike now forgotten. His dick was stiff in his pants and he glanced around before taking it out. He looked at his surprise erection, amazed by the curving red thorn pulsing in the mountain air. His desire for Brooke boiled his blood. He squeezed his rampant dick, shocked by his own rigidity and inflexibility. All his thoughts were on fucking Brooke. He needed to fuck her. He especially needed to fuck her mouth. His exposed penis bobbed in rhythm with his heart. He stared at his dick, trying to remember the last time he was this hard. He lifted and pushed, stuffing the thing into his pants before retracing his steps to the front of the house. She was smiling as he entered through the front door, but her expression quickly turned to concern on seeing his face.

"What's wrong?" she asked.

He didn't answer. He grabbed her hand and tugged her towards their suite. He shut the door behind them and grabbed handfuls of her hair, forcing her down until her knees buckled. His free hand yanked his zipper and freed his still semi-erect penis. Brooke opened wide, eager for her second penis of the hour. She felt slutty to be sucking another dick so soon. Sperm boiled in minutes and Freddy held nothing back, plastering her teeth and tonsils with a hot load. Brooke choked and gagged but swallowed, mixing husband and boss semen in her belly. Freddy pushed her aside as the final blast launched from his dick, splattering her lips and face. Brooke left herself messy as Freddy tumbled to the bed.

"What brought that on?" she asked.

"I saw you," he croaked. "Through the glass door in back. I saw you suck him."

Dismay twisted her face.

"Oh, Baby," she whined. "I'm so sorry. You were never supposed to see that. How awful. I'm so, so sorry, my Love."

She hugged him tightly, kissing his cheeks and face, reassuring him of her love. Freddy returned the hug and soaked up her comforting embrace.

"No, Baby," he mumbled, scarcely believing his own words. "It's okay"

She squeezed him harder.

"I thought I would die," he said. "I thought my heart would explode. I saw his shiny cock slipping in and out and I wanted to scream, I wanted to smash his face. But you looked so hot, so lewd and indecent. I got so turned on my legs went weak."

She had no idea what to say. They held each other for long minutes.

"Do you think my coworkers know?" she finally mumbled. "Am I the office slut? Are we being obvious?"

Freddy nodded.

"Yes," he said. "I wandered among them. I saw it in their eyes and the way they looked at me. No one will confront us but plenty looked at me with pity. I think word has gotten out about your error. I think they know Clarence is covering for you."

"Shit."

Freddy studied his wife; her eyes were alive, her skin flushed. She did not like the others knowing but did not mind the penalty she paid.

"You enjoy sucking him off," he said.

"I do."

"You'd fuck him if he demanded it."

She shook her head.

"He won't. He's built his little empire and fears a paternity suit would destroy everything. Blowjobs leave no evidence."

"Tell that to Bill Clinton," Freddy said. "But you are only telling me how he feels about fucking you. I'm talking about how you feel about it. I think you'd fuck him."

Brooke stared at the rug, searching her feelings. After a moment, she nodded almost imperceptibly.

"Yeah," she muttered. "If he demanded me in that way, yes. I'd insist he wear a condom but I'd fuck him."

Freddy held her face and kissed her fiercely, tasting a slightly sweet and sticky sap. They'd crossed a threshold and both felt it.

"I wish I was hard," he mumbled. "I'm dying to fuck you."

Brooke groaned with need.

"Save that thought," she said. "Fuck me as soon as you can." Her eyes filled with mischief. "Or I can go find out if Clarence has recovered."

It was Freddy's turn to groan. They were contemplating the unthinkable and he was more aroused than ever. He hated the idea of Clarence inside Brooke but the images came anyway. He saw her tight pussy clinging to his erection. He imagined her soft moans as Clarence gave her pleasure, possibly even bringing her to climax. His balls tightened and grew warm. He shuddered.

"You hungry?" he asked, giving his mind something else to think about.

She grinned.

"Yes," she said. "Despite all I've had to eat in the last hour, I'm starving."

Freddy took her hand and they left for the restaurant.

Chapter 12

Dreadful peered through a window. The group inside played Pin the Tail on The Donkey and were having a great time. Three large punchbowls and rows of red plastic cups on a back table. Trays of Hors d'oeuvres covered the open space. Dreadful studied the crowd; Not everyone was eating but every person held a cup. They all faced forward, laughing and joking, watching the latest attempt to land the tail.

From a pocket, he plucked two small bottles, one containing pills and one containing liquid. He entered through a side door, hesitating briefly at the punch, smoothly adding pills and liquid to each bowl. He left through the far door and circled back to his original window.

Time passed. One by one, they came to refill their cups. Husbands poured for wives, wives poured for husbands. For thirty minutes Dreadful gazed through the dirty glass. Most people have no idea how dangerous the world truly is. He watched as they all drank freely, the drugs he'd added slowly taking effect. At last he pulled his phone and jabbed a button.

"They're ready," he whispered. "Tell the others. Move on my signal."

He ended the call, locating Freddy in the crowd. The man was about to learn a hard lesson. Dreadful switched his gaze to Brooke, Freddy's wife and Sara's best friend. The woman wore glasses and a conservative pantsuit, but she was pretty. Not Sara pretty, not stunning, but cute and attractive in an innocent way.

He watched Brooke for a while, detecting the delicious body hidden under the boring clothes. She kept looking at another man, not Freddy, and Dreadful realized the sweet and innocent wife was having an affair. He chuckled. The drugs he'd used to spike their drink probably had something to do with her constantly looking at this other man. By now the entire room would be hot and horny. This was a company retreat they'd never forget. He pulled a shiny black gun from under his arm and stepped through the door. His men, watching through other windows, entered the room too, blocking all exits. The crowd noticed but the drugs did a wonderful job on their fear. Nobody panicked. Several giggled. Not Freddy though. Freddy recognized Dreadful and his face fell, his shoulders sagged.

"Who the fuck are you guys?" Clarence yelled, woozy.

Dreadful stopped inches in front of Clarence, towering over him, face close.

"We're the entertainment," the big man said. "Have a seat."

"I didn't order entertainment," Clarence said, staring at the gun. "Is that real?"

Dreadful fired a shot into the ceiling. The loud bang startled everyone, cutting through their euphoria. Someone asked what was happening.

"Change of plans," Dreadful answered, grinning.

One of his men opened a small canvas bag and began circulating.

"Earrings, bracelets, chains, watches; everything goes in the bag," Dreadful announced. "My associates will collect your cell phones and please, don't be stupid. I have drugged you. You are all high as fuck. Attempts at bravery will result in disaster. Hand over anything valuable and this will go smoothly."

Dreadful's men moved through the crowd, collecting loot, returning to stand beside their leader.

"All right," Dreadful's voice boomed. "Let's make sure you've got nothing hidden. If everyone will please remove their shirts and tops? You're a young, good-looking crowd so you've got nothing to worry about."

Many froze but several, with powerful drugs flowing through their veins, began undressing. Others saw them do it and joined in. A few women refused but a pistol waved in the air got them moving. As bare skin came into view, temperatures rose. Dreadful's men collected clothing. Eyes darted everywhere. Several women removed their bras, feeling the drug-induced sexual heat.

Dreadful laughed. He'd performed this act many times and the results were always the same. He let them stand there, eyes roaming. People that had worked together for years suddenly exposed. He'd told the truth, it was an attractive group, but that was thanks to Clarence handling all the hiring, surrounding himself with women he hoped to seduce.

"You're doing great," Dreadful continued. "Now it's time to get out of those skirts and pants. Please remove the rest of your clothes."

Half the crowd complied eagerly. Those that resisted were convinced with a glare. The drug cocktail helped even the most steadfast change their minds. Clothing fell away, bodies revealed. In minutes the group stood naked, wandering eyes drinking in every inch of bare skin, desire rising despite the fear they felt. As always, Dreadful easily identified the hidden relationships between them. Their eyes gave them away. His knowledge and experience with the human animal, especially under difficult circumstances, told him everything.

He decided to get things started. He took the hand of a tall skinny blonde woman and led her to a young olive-skinned man. Their eyes devoured each other's naked body. Dreadful had found it was best to start with what people wanted to do anyway. Once you had them doing that, it was easy to build on their desires. The aphrodisiacs coursing through them had their skin tingling, their genitals vibrating.

"I see the attraction," Dreadful said. "What a shame to waste."

He tilted the woman's face to look into her eyes.

"I want to see his cock in your mouth," Dreadful told her. "Will you do that for me please? He wants you to do it but is too shy to ask. Make us both happy, Darling, and take his cock in your mouth."

Olive-Skinned could not believe his luck. His uncircumcised penis began to bounce slightly, swelling thicker and longer until his dark penis pointed directly at her. Neither moved other than their trembling bodies.

"Put it in your mouth," Dreadful softly commanded.

Tall Skinny bent at the waist, obscenely exposing her pussy to those behind. Olive-Skinned gasped as her warm wet lips circled the foreskin and crawled lower, the inches of his dick disappearing into her mouth. A soft murmur swept the aroused gathering. Dreadful chuckled on the inside. This was his favorite mind-fuck. What people showed the outside world rarely reflected what they felt or who they were.

"You," he said, pointing to a young man in glasses. "Eat her pussy." He swung the same finger to a short Asian girl with bangs. Her eyes grew huge.

The young man crossed the distance quickly, sinking to his knees and burying his tongue. He lapped at her liked he'd dreamed of this day for years. She grabbed his head with both hands.

Dreadful matched people all around the room, rarely guessing wrong. He avoided Brooke and Freddy, combining coworkers in twos or threes or fours. Soon the room was filled with writhing bodies, freed at last to act on their desires, fueled by the drugs burning them alive. The crowd seethed with erotic frenzy. Only Freddy and Brooke stood apart. Dreadful surveyed his handiwork and smiled.

"You," he said, pointing at Brooke. "Stand here." He aimed his finger at Freddy. "You stand on this side."

While Dreadful's men sorted their loot, Freddy and Brooke stood by his side. They watched the room collapse into pure lust as rock hard cocks, unable to climax, sought greater and greater stimulation. Women orgasmed all around them, feminine cries of pleasure filling the air.

The drugs worked differently on the men, dangling climax like a carrot, just out of reach. If they could but get a little more pleasure they could cross the threshold and achieve the release they so desperately craved. Dreadful laughed at their anguish. He knew they'd chase that orgasm for hours, ravaging the women unto exhaustion.

Dreadful gave instructions to his men and guided his two new friends towards his van. Brooke looked over her shoulder at the sexual carnage behind. Bodies twisted and writhed. Hard dicks thrust into any hole, male or female. Mouths closed on skin.

"What did you do to them?" Brooke asked. "They're like animals."

"I set them free," Dreadful replied.

"What are you going to do to us?" she nervously asked.

Dreadful stopped and looked her in the eye.

"I'm going to enslave you," he said. "Body and soul,"

Chapter 13

The garage stank of old motor oil and paint thinner. Naked Freddy tested the nylon straps that held his arms and legs to the chair, but there was no give at all. He sent his gaze around the room looking for any obvious means of escape but saw none. He was surrounded by greasy auto parts and workbenches, power tools and chains hanging from the rafters. His chair was iron, one of three bolted to the concrete floor. The drugs from the party ran through him, electrifying his skin and causing his penis to grow and shrink randomly. He did not see Brooke and this caused him to breathe a sigh of relief; this was between him and Dreadful and the big man knew it.

A door opened behind him but he couldn't turn his head far enough to see. He heard clanks and clunks until the door closed again. Footsteps approached. A squeaky wheel told him something rolled his way too.

Horror fried his eyeballs. Brooke, nude, on a hand truck, strapped to a metal framework in crucifix position, extended arms at her sides and shoulder high, feet strapped together. A man Freddy did not recognize wheeled her around and placed her about three feet before Freddy's chair. She looked unharmed but a long stem of florescent pink plastic protruded from her pussy. She was gagged, eyes huge through her glasses, face curious and happy. Powerful drugs flowed through her veins.

Freddy gawked at his captive wife, hating that this stranger saw her exposed breasts and pussy. The man locked the wheels to the hand truck and exited the garage. Moments later, Dreadful entered. He carried a syringe filled with pale-yellow liquid. He approached Brooke.

"Leave her alone," Freddy growled. "Don't touch her. This is between you and me. I'm your problem."

Dreadful nodded slowly.

"You are indeed," he said.

"Then free us. I'll get your money."

Dreadful eased the plunger, sending a tiny squirt airborne. He tapped out any remaining air bubbles.

"Yes, Mr. Nathan, you will. But that's the future. What I do now, I do for what you did. Punishing you will prevent any future failures."

Dreadful gazed closely at Brooke's extended arm, choosing his site carefully. Brooke watched his every move, unafraid, trapped with perfect immobility. Dreadful set the needle against her soft skin.

"Stop," Freddy begged. "What is that? Leave her alone. She's innocent."

Dreadful ignored Freddy. He eased the needle in, penetrating soft skin. Brooke gasped softly.

"This is my own special brew, Darling," he told her. "Sara knows it well. You'll love it. You'll come back seeking more."

Dreadful pressed the plunger and the yellow fluid flowed.

For several heartbeats, Brooke felt nothing. Then a wave of euphoria washed over her. Her pussy tingled and she clenched it, wishing for something solid to squeeze. Her clitoris began to throb. Her bare nipples stiffened. She sucked air around the gag, nostrils flared. Her body tightened and turned hot, filling with lust.

Dreadful watched the potion take effect. Brooke's pupils dilated, a sheen of sweat appeared all over her skin. He stepped to a nearby workbench and carefully placed the syringe then pulled his shirt off over his head, revealing a hairy and massive barrel chest. He kicked off his boots. Brooke watched him keenly, following every move. He unbuckled his pants and her eyes narrowed. He was hairy and wore no underwear, his pants traveling the long length of his soft cock. He stepped free and faced Brooke. Her body sagged within her restraints, her hungry gaze sweeping his masculine body.

A heavy stainless steel ring circled his genitalia, running around the base of his dick and behind his large balls. Brooke gawked at his heavy phallus; a long fleshy tube ending in a tapered helmet. He was naturally thick, with two veins running along the side until vanishing beneath the skin just before the crown. By her expression she was seeing cock for the first time, but of course she wasn't. The drugs, combined with his length and thickness, had her mind reeling. He let her get a good long look before he faced Freddy.

"I'm sure you have noticed the way she'd looking at me."

Freddy stared at Dreadful's cock too. The thing was about eye-level to the seated man and Freddy had a hard time looking anywhere else.

"Study it," Dreadful said. "Learn it. Become familiar with every inch because I promise you, Brooke will."

Freddy groaned and dropped his gaze to the floor but only for an instant. The draw was too strong. That monster would soon slide into Brooke; Freddy knew it was true. He couldn't look away from the thing. He could only imagine Dreadful's big cock stretching her wide. He growled in frustration.

God help me, he thought. Why did I ever borrow that money? Why?

Freddy's distress was obvious and Dreadful chuckled. He lifted a small remote from the bench, snapping the power on and turning the dial a few clicks. Brooke jumped, moaning around her gag.

"That's setting number two out of a hundred," Dreadful explained. "Right now every slick inch of her insides is quaking and quivering. I've destroyed women with this thing. Evolution gave them multiple orgasms for a reason and then men promptly forgot all about it. Men orgasm in two minutes and then their brains put them to sleep, but women orgasm and are ready for the next, each better than the last. Why?"

The big man shrugged.

"I'll tell you: because nature wants women to fuck. A lot. Nature wants her to take every hard dick presented, and may the best sperm win. Nature wants us to dump our load and move out of the way, granting the next man his turn."

He put his big hand on the arms of Freddy's chair, leaning close, naked cock wobbling over Freddy's knees.

"I've learned things probing my victim's minds," he said. "I've learned all women carry a slut gene, deeply buried. Socially, we've done a great job hiding it. We made up rules and guidelines for how women are supposed to behave, but it's not natural, it's not what they crave deep in their bones."

He stood, turning the dial another click. Brooke groaned behind him.

"Once I wake them up," he said. They never go back to their old life."

He turned several clicks more and Brooke gasped loudly, her body tensed, her eyes rolled. The man left her at that setting for a long minute and then added two more clicks. Brooke howled and threw her head back, body convulsing, held tight by the straps which bound her. The orgasm shot through her like fifty-thousand volts. Dreadful dialed the vibration down.

"Most vaginal stimulators are egg or bullet shaped," he told Freddy. "This one is special. This one expands to take the personal shape of each woman's vagina, touching everywhere at once. I'm sending wicked vibrations directly into her vaginal walls, her G-spot, and her clit. I've reduced women to delirious blobs of flesh with this device, and that was without pumping them full of pleasure inducing drugs. Brooke will be ruined by the time I finish."

Freddy could not look away. Brooke's entire body was writhing and twisting, radiating sensual arousal. Dreadful turned the dial again and Brooke wailed, rocking her hips, desperate for more. Dismayed, Freddy saw she kept her eyes on Dreadful's big dangling meat. The thick metal ring accented the fat, hanging sausage, pushing everything forward and drawing a line between his body and his massive pendulous member. Brooke's pussy clutched the vibrator but Freddy clearly saw she craved something else. Her eyes were glued to Dreadful.

Soon Brooke orgasmed again. The hand truck held her upright or she would have collapsed on weakened legs. Dreadful toyed with her again and again, turning the dial up and down until she could not anticipate what was coming. Unprepared, he ripped orgasm after orgasm from the woman. Freddy watched his wife closely, feeling her slip away a little more with each orgasm.

At last Dreadful turned the dial all the way down and set it aside. He moved to a dirty old aquarium on a shelf above the workbench where he grabbed a small jar. Inside the aquarium he coaxed something into the jar. He held the jar for Brooke to see while speaking loudly enough for Freddy to hear.

"These little guys are called Paraponera Culumnus. You've probably never heard of them but you may have heard of their cousins, Paraponera Clavata, more commonly known as Bullet Ants. The Clavata bite feels like you've been shot. Trust me, it's awful. But the Culumnus has a different effect on the human central nervous system. Their toxin inflames nerve endings in the way monosodium glutamate inflames taste buds. Their stinger burns, yes, but more importantly it amplifies all other sensations."

Dreadful lifted the jar higher. Tiny, bright red ants scrambled within. Brooke shook her head, eyes frightened and pleading.

"If you thought you climaxed hard before," Dreadful murmured. "Wait until you see what these guys can do."

Brooke strained against her straps, desperate to get away. Freddy did the same against his. Dreadful chuckled.

"Don't fret," Dreadful laughed. "I won't put any inside her."

Brooke shuddered. Freddy looked faint.

"Leave her alone!" he shouted.

Dreadful ignored him, tipping the jar over Brooke's areola and nipple. All eyes focused on the scarlet creatures as they began to crawl over her spongy flesh. Dreadful tapped the glass with a fingernail, angering the arthropods. Brooke hissed, spit flying around the gag, when the first ant sank a stinger into her sensitive skin. Dreadful tapped the glass again, harder. Brooke yowled as multiple stingers fired.

After a minute Dreadful knocked the ants into the bottle and moved to her other nipple. She groaned deeply. Dreadful repeated the process and Brooke melted, her mind jumbled with conflicting sensations. Pain lanced through her puffy flesh, interwoven with searing pleasure like she'd never known. Her hips undulated within the confines of her restraints. The men watched and then Dreadful readied the jar again.

"This is where it gets really fun," he smirked.

Dreadful knelt before her pussy, carefully tilting the jar to prevent escape. He spread her labia with two fingers and then pinched her clit to a high point. He settled the jar over her little nub and rattled it. The ants attacked the only target they had.

Brooke screamed through her gag. Dreadful, unfazed, waited for multiple stings and then tapped the jar again, igniting a second assault. Brooke wailed. Brooke howled. After a moment, he hit the jar one last time. Brooke could only sob, helpless against their intimate onslaught. Dreadful shook her tender flesh, knocking ants off her clit to the bottom of the bottle. He stood back to watch the venom do his handiwork.

Brooke's pink nipples and irritated clit rose and swelled. Her most sensitive, most intimate parts were bloated and throbbing. Her bound body wriggled constantly, writhing under the attack on her mind. Dreadful leaned forward and did a slow drag of his hot tongue across her areola and Brooke seized, snapped rigid and overwhelmed by his simple act. A clear dollop of pussy juice leaked from her slit and trickled down her inner thigh. He watched her reactions like a master chef.

When he leaned in again, she arched her back to meet him, thrusting her tits forward as best she could, hungry, starving for more, all fear gone. He closed his mouth on her nipple and the air left her lungs in a rush.

A shuddering orgasm, the strongest Freddy had ever seen by far, shook her body. Dreadful continued to lick and suck, moving from one breast to the other, driving Brooke into a frenzy. She thrashed within her restraints but not to get away. She craved more of what Dreadful did to her. Eventually he worked his tongue lower, eyeing Freddy as he approached Brooke's pussy.

Her clit was a pink swollen grape, begging to be touched. He teased with the tip of his tongue and Brooke threw herself at the straps. Dreadful lowered his hot mouth and teased her tender nub, drawing delicate circles until she screamed. He closed his lips and sucked, dragging his taste buds over her inflamed skin, torturing her with almost immeasurable pleasure until she sobbed and climaxed, drooling around her gag and barely hanging on to consciousness.

Finally, he stepped away, proudly surveying his achievement. Brooke's body twitched and jerked, convulsing with the echoes of insane pleasure. Her engorged nipples strained towards the ceiling, her labia and clitoris pulsed and throbbed.

"Just leave her alone," Freddy whimpered. "You've done enough." Dreadful turned.

"No," he said, towering over seated Fred, heavy flaccid cock once more at eye level. Freddy found it impossible not to stare.

"Men will gladly suffer all manner of torment to protect those they love," Dreadful said. "Toughness is woven into a man's sense of masculinity. I could spend the time and eventually break you, but why swim upstream? To most effectively strike at a man, you strike those he loves."

He crouched and stared Freddy in the eyes.

"I promise you," he said. "We are far from finished."

Freddy sagged. Dreadful moved to Brooke and ran a finger up her thigh, wiping away the pussy juice. He held the finger in front of Freddy, showing him indisputable proof of his wife's arousal.

"Here's what will fuck with your head the most," Dreadful said. "She'll scream and sob and cry, she'll fight and kick and resist. But you'll witness her surrender right before your eyes. She'll begin to want me, crave me, need me. If I go on long enough, my conditioning will become permanent. She'll be unable to live without my deviant flavor. I'll break your wife but leave you married. I'll irreversibly change who she is in the bedroom. Some husbands adapt, learning to live with this new woman, but only if they learn to accept my specter in their bedroom. You'll sense me each time you have sex. She'll be different, hungry, horny, insatiable. She'll ask you to do things you've never done and you'll think of me, recognizing where her desires come from."

He wiped Brooke's juice on Freddy's cheek and grabbed the remote, turning two clicks and pulling a deep moan from the woman.

"Make yourselves comfortable," he said. "I'll be back."

Dreadful left the married couple, closing the door behind him. Brooke groaned at the ceaseless vibration tormenting her venom saturated pussy. Freddy tried to think of what to say, how to apologize, but no words came. How could he hope to make this right? Freddy watched his wife roll her hips, moaning softly, and was grateful the man had not chosen pain as the punishment. He watched his wife until something Dreadful said came back to him.

"Baby?" he said. Brooke opened her bleary eyes. "Dreadful knows Sara? Did you talk to her after I told you I'd borrowed money?"

Brooke tried to focus on her husband but constant waves of pleasure swept through her. She nodded weakly.

"I wonder what he has planned for me?" Freddy said.

The door to the garage opened and Dreadful entered, carrying several stainless-steel parts. Freddy had no idea what was coming. Dreadful knelt before the man's chair and lifted his penis, slipping a steel ring over and snugly securing it at the base. Freddy struggled unsuccessfully. Dreadful deftly held the ring and snapped a perfectly formed wire mesh cage in place, trapping Freddy's penis and testicles. Brooke groaned, dismayed by her husband's fate. Dreadful slipped a key into a lock at the top and with a click sealed Freddy's genitalia away. His penis was now useless, unable to grow erect, out of reach of pleasure. Dreadful looped the key around his thick neck, grinning at Freddy's angst.

"That is tungsten reinforced steel," Dreadful said. "Attempts to cut or burn through will mutilate your dick. Trust me, I've seen several attempts. I will remove it once I have my money and I feel the lesson has been learned."

"You'll get your fucking money," Freddy shouted. "The stock I bought is about to blow up. They'll soon have a vaccine everyone will need. Be patient. I'll even pay you more than we agreed on. Just let Brooke go."

Dreadful shook his head thoughtfully.

"I hope you're right," Dreadful said. "And on that day, I'll set you and Brooke free. But until then you will watch and learn."

Chapter 14

Freddy awoke to Brooke moaning. He shook his head to clear it and glanced his bonds, hoping this was all a horrible dream. Then he looked for Brooke.

His wife hung by her wrists from an overhead chain. Broad leather cuffs protected her skin from injury. Thin chains led away from each ankle to tracks set in the floor, holding her legs wide open, like an obscene Mercedes-Benz logo. A man moved behind her but Freddy couldn't see him clearly, obscured by her nude, hanging body. Freddy was shocked by the thimble-size of her protruding nipples. Her clit poked from beneath the hood like the tip of a tongue. The pink plastic stem still protruded and the low droning told him her stimulation was constant.

The man stepped clear. He was short and fat, with greasy hair and a Fu Manchu mustache. He was nude like Brooke but his hanging gut couldn't hide his long penis. The man carried a small tub of Vaseline. He'd stroke his gleaming cock and then stir his fingers in the goop and stroke again. He moved behind Brooke and lifted a slimy finger, parting her ass cheeks. Brooke grunted when the man shoved his finger far up her ass.

"Stop it," Freddy hissed. "Leave her alone."

The man chuckled.

"Welcome back, Sleeping Beauty," he said. "I see Dreadful already caged you. Shame. I really enjoy that job. Some men cry. I love that. Did you cry?"

"No."

The fat man shrugged.

"There's still time for that," he murmured.

Freddy glanced down at the wire mesh around his penis. His brief nap had almost wiped reality from his head and he groaned to rediscover the truth.

"Yeah," Fat Man continued. "Whatever you did to earn that you better take care of. I know a guy who's still wearing his, almost a year later. His wife got tired of waiting and started fucking his boss. You will wear that until Dreadful gets what he wants. You owe him money?"

Freddy nodded once.

"That's an easy fix. One guy had to get the combination to the vault at the bank where he worked. Took him a long time."

Brooke groaned again and Freddy realized Fat Man had continued working his finger in her ass, using conversation to distract him.

"I said leave her alone," Freddy insisted.

Brooke's eyes were closed, lost in bliss. Her body swung slightly as the man pumped her sphincter.

"Or what, tough guy? You gonna bust those straps and kick my ass? Doubtful. Keep acting like an idiot and I'll put my cock where my finger is. You want to see an ugly lump like me fuck your wife's asshole?"

"No."

"Then behave. Be nice. You know you're in for it. Don't make it worse. It could get a lot worse. Imagine my dick up your ass"

Freddy grit his teeth. The man was fucking with him. He knew the guy wanted to push Freddy around, enjoy his power over him.

"I'll pay you to set my wife and I free," Freddy said.

Fat Man laughed.

"If you had any money," he said. "You would have offered to pay Dreadful the moment you opened your eyes."

He smeared some Vaseline around his cock and circled the head. He was swelling with anticipation, growing thicker and heavier. He left Brooke to grab a remote from the workbench and then returned to his spot behind the hanging woman. A click sounded overhead and a motor hummed. As Brooke began to drop, separate motors drew back the ankle chains, pulling her legs farther apart, opening her labia before Freddy's eyes. Fat Man stroked his stiffening cock, staring at Fred.

"How much?" he asked. "How much you owe the big man? A few grand?"

He spoke in a light conversational tone but Freddy saw through it. Fat Man was drawing out the moment. There was a click and a whirr and Brooke inched lower, legs spreading, asshole drawing ever nearer to that well-lubed lumpy spear.

"Dreadful once stole a woman from a man that owed him ten grand," Fat Man said, casually aiming his cock at her asshole. "He sold her to a pimp. She's still working, sucking and fucking anyone with cash, paying off her old man's debt. I hear she likes it."

Brooke's puckered sphincter was less than an inch from the tip. He held his dick at the base, upright like a spike.

"Please stop," Freddy whimpered.

Click, whirr.

"Please. That's my wife."

Freddy wanted to scream.

"You're lucky," Fat Man taunted. "Dreadful has impregnated some wives. Wait. Yeah, I guess he could still take that path with you. Sorry."

The tip of his dick nudged her tight ring. She groaned, feeling someone back there, and opened dazed eyes to small slits.

Click, whirr.

Her weight atop his erection steered his cock directly at her hole. His tip settled at the center of her ring.

"Say," Fat Man joked. "Where you guys from, originally?"

Click, whirr.

Brooke's asshole mushroomed around the tip. His ample cock opened her up and got her attention. Her eyes went wide as she realized what was happening.

"Please," Freddy begged. "Don't fuck my wife's ass."

Click, whirr.

Freddy stared at the bulbous head spreading her hole. Brooke groaned with pleasure at the intrusion, rolling her hips and working the man another inch deeper.

"Stop!" Freddy cried.

"Nooooo," Brooke murmured. "Deeeeepeeer."

Fat Man gave Freddy a knowing smile.

"Women," he chuckled, shrugging. "They know what they like. Am I right?"

He did not wait for Freddy to answer.

Click, whirr.

Brooke's asshole encircled the shaft penetrating her, enveloping the head like a slick blanket. Her head fell backward, rolling around like she was drunk. The motor whirred and more chain fed and Brooke sank to the base of the man's slippery cock, moaning with pure and absolute pleasure. Freddy thought his heart would explode. Fat Man grinned obnoxiously, knowing this crushed Freddy. Brooke began a soft pumping on her own, slowly fucking her asshole on the man's hard meat. Freddy saw how her little ring was stretched into a large circle, forced to handle his thickness. He was far up her rectum, probing, reaching deep.

"I've got to tell you," Fat Man said, short of breath. "I've fucked a lot of asses but hers is something special. I bet she's never had a cock up here. She moves all wrong, like she has no idea what she's doing but wants it so badly she can't help herself. I love that about her."

Freddy wanted to murder the man. He sat mute, strangled by his own protests, gagging on the sight of his wife impaled. Brooke's empty pussy stared at him.

Fat Man turned his attention away from Fred, murmuring instructions to Brooke. She began to rock her hips, trying to fuck the man despite hanging from the ceiling. She had to work at it and soon her face glistened with sweat. Freddy felt acid flowing in his veins. His wife was willing to do all the work, lifting and tugging as best she could, fucking herself on that ugly lumpy dick. Sweet Brooke worked that hard cock, moaning and mewling, chewing her lips, ecstatic eyes squeezed shut. Brooke ass fucked the Fat Man and meant it.

"I'm going to make her cum," he told Freddy, reaching around to rub her mound and tease her clit. He occasionally slipped fingers into her empty cunt. "She's gonna cum with my dick in her ass and then I'm going to pump about a gallon of jizz up there. You cool with that?"

"Fuck you," Freddy whimpered.

The man tormented him but Freddy refuse to add to his satisfaction. Brooke writhed, working her hips and making little sounds. Fat Man teased her mons before finding her clit and teasing that. Brooke suddenly stiffened and sucked air, howling as she exploded with pleasure. Her first anal orgasm rocked her world and shook Freddy to his core. He watched his wife scream into her gag, pussy juice dripping from her empty hole. His gaze fixed on Fat Man's thick veiny shaft, watching it turn red and expand as this stranger blasted her bowels with white hot sperm. Over and over Brooke slammed her ass on his lap, ready for every drop. His belly jiggled and he grunted and groaned, pumping hot buckets of sperm into her. Even after his balls were empty Brooke still tried for more. He let her grind her ass on his lap.

When he had no more to give, he thumbed the remote and the overhead motor whirred. Brooke lifted off his still-hard cock, her asshole a small volcano until his dick slid free. A thick dollop of semen landing on the head. Fat Man lifted her high, then set the ankle chains taut, causing her labia to part. Freddy stared at his wife's delicate inner lips, pink stem mocking him, and wondering what new horror awaited.

Fat Man checked on Brooke and then dropped the remote on the workbench, exiting the garage. Freddy strained his neck to see through the doorway, glimpsing an office with filing cabinets and work desks beyond. He tried to talk to Brooke once the door closed but she was delirious, lost in euphoria. Deep voices came through the door but Freddy could not make out the words.

After a few minutes, Dreadful entered the garage. Freddy watched the big man move; smooth and balanced, ready for action in any direction. He had no muscle definition but Freddy knew the man was strong; thick arms and thighs, broad round shoulders and massive back. Freddy sensed there was little the man feared. Scars showed the dangerous life he'd led. Freddy's gaze soon arrived at Dreadful's cock. The shiny metal ring circling the base made it look like a separate entity, a creature all its own. Freddy remembered a line he'd heard from a movie: "It's like a dick, only smaller."

The opposite was true of Dreadful; his cock was a penis with the camera frozen on zoom. The plump head, wide shaft, oversized testicles, thick, and squiggly veins all made the thing look larger than life. Freddy forced himself to look away.

Dreadful grabbed the remote and turned the dial three clicks. Brooke melted. The drugs allowed her nerves no respite. There was no burnout, like growing accustomed to a bad smell, and instead she was kept fully aware, fully experienced every sensation. He lowered her to the floor and gently freed her wrists and ankles, lifting her like her weight meant nothing. She stood on wobbly legs, resting a hand on his huge bicep to steady herself. She never met his eyes. She never even looked at her husband. She had eyes for Dreadful's cock only. Freddy saw a wildness in her expression, a manic agitation. She looked hungry, starving, but not for food.

Without a word her hands slid down his body as she sank. Dreadful met Freddy's eyes and grinned, smugly, his spongy soft cock level with her face as she stared at it, famished. She'd experienced countless orgasms over the last few hours, and she'd savored each one. But each climax had also fueled a rising need. The vibrator felt good but it wasn't alive, it wasn't a man. Her pussy was filled but not by penis. Each climax had pleased her but also amplified her need for cock: hot, throbbing, living, cock. There's no comparison to a man inside your body and she craved it now, more than she ever had.

As delicately as kissing a butterfly's wing, Brooke reverently leaned in and kissed the bulbous head of Dreadful's cock. Freddy gasped. After everything she'd just gone through, her first impulse was to please her tormentor. Freddy wanted to look away but couldn't. Brooke was obsessed. She kissed that cock again, allowing her lips to glide open and swaddle the head, slithering over this new meat like a blanket. Dreadful held her hair back, granting Freddy the best possible view.

"I could tell you about the effects of dopamine and oxytocin on the female brain," Dreadful said to Freddy. "I could explain what the continuous flood of endorphins over the last few hours have done to her, how I've already rewired parts of her brain and intend to systematically rewire the rest. I could warn you she'll never again be the woman you knew and caution you I'm not even close to finished with her yet."

He drew her hair back farther.

"Or I can let to see the results of my efforts for yourself," he finished.

Brooke sucked Dreadful's soft snake like it was melting in her mouth. She moaned and mewled, rolling him around with her tongue, utterly delighted his cock stuffed her cheeks. One hand teased her overly sensitive nipples, the other played with her engorged clit. Dreadful towered over the petite woman like a redwood, offering the only cock she needed. Freddy watched his wife and felt his world crumbling.

Chapter 15

"Pull over up there," Sara said. "Park under that big oak."

"Why so far from the lodge?" Mike asked. "We don't know for sure Dreadful picked this event to go after Freddy."

Sara took her phone but hid her purse under the seat.

"I know the man," she said. "Up here we are away from the city and all those eyes. Public services like police are far away. Phone service is spotty at best and night in the mountains renders everything pitch black. I knew the minute Brooke told me about this event that Dreadful would strike tonight. If Clarence placed a deposit on this place with a credit card, Dreadful knows about it. This place is perfect for a kidnapping."

They left the car and began hiking the gravel shoulder. After some time, they saw the turnoff and followed it, soon approaching the first log cabin. They moved carefully, sticking to shadows and trees, gradually eliminating cabins until they saw a brightly lit lodge ahead. Sounds of music and laughter drifted through the giant trees and quiet mountain air.

"Sounds like everything is okay," Mike said. "False alarm."

Sara said nothing, carefully working herself closer. When she spotted a hulking figure outside peering into a window, she stopped Mike in his tracks. She pointed.

"Told you," she whispered.

Before they could plan their next move, the big man spoke into his phone. Sara and Mike watched helplessly as Dreadful and his men raised weapons and poured through the doorways, seizing the lodge and everyone inside.

"What do we do?" Mike asked. "Those guys have guns."

"I saw," Sara said. "We were too late to save them but we can follow Dreadful to his hideout. If we are patient, an opportunity will present itself and we can get Brooke and Freddy away from them."

Mike nodded. They waited in the shadows, hidden behind a massive trunk and several shrubs, until the rough engine of Dreadful's van started.

"Shit!" Sara hissed. "He parked on the other side."

The off-white van rumbled down the gravel driveway, headed for the main road.

"I couldn't see," Mike said. "Was Dreadful driving? Did he take Freddy and leave Brooke?"

"Let's find out," Sara said. "Be careful, Baby. Knowing Dreadful, he left some guys behind to mop up."

They approached the closest window, avoiding the warm orange light streaming through. A peek inside made both their jaws drop. Dreadful's men were easy to spot; long-haired and tattooed and clearly in charge. On the floor at their feet an orgy raged. Clarence lay face down as someone's husband fucked his ass. All around them coworkers licked and sucked and fucked any hole that came close. Sara and Mike watched in awe as wild passion drove the participants crazy.

"Fucking Dreadful," Sara murmured. "He dosed the whole group."

"Yeah," Mike breathed. "But with something stronger than he used on you."

Sara turned her attention to the crowd and saw Mike was right. These people fucked with ferocity, ravenous for sex. Sweaty bodies rolled and tumbled over each other, hard dicks sliding into any opening, mouths closing on body parts without concern, their one desire the overriding need for pleasure. Their eyes were clear. This was no alcohol fog, forgotten in the morning. These people would remember everything they did, everyone they fucked, everyone who fucked them. Come morning, their organized lives would be shattered.

"Fucking Dreadful," Sara mutter again.

"The man's a devil," Mike added.

Chapter 16

Brooke awoke in a dark room, sore, dizzy, and confused. She searched the bed around her, sighing contentedly when she felt the strong male body lying close. As her eyes adjusted to the dim light, she discovered Freddy, bound to a chair at the foot of the bed. She smiled.

"Brooke," he whispered. "Baby, we must get out of this place. Come untie me, Sweetheart. Untie me and let's get the key to this fucking cage. He's wearing it around his neck. Get the key and untie me, Baby."

Brooke kept her bewildered yet happy gaze on her husband but ran a hand over the lumps and bumps of the man in bed beside her. The newness of his unfamiliar body excited her. Memories floated by. She remembered the weight of his substantial penis in her mouth, compressing her tongue, bulging her cheeks. She pulled back the covers to reveal his long soft cock draped over a thigh. She lifted the fat hose in the darkness, marveling at the size and weight, tracing the squiggly veins with a fingertip.

"Brooke," Freddy pleaded. "Not now, Baby. Try to remember where we are and what's being done to you. Please stop. Baby, please stop."

Brooke played with the penis in her hands. She slid the loose skin like a sleeve to cover the head and then pulled it back to reveal the soft helmet. Dreadful was bigger than Clarence. By a lot. Dreadful was much bigger than Freddy too. She was unsure why that mattered to her but it did. That fact made this moment infinitely more exciting. Brooke bent at the waist and softly kissed beneath the head. How can something be so dangerous and so inviting at the same time?

"Brooke?" Freddy whimpered. "Not now, Baby. Please?"

She leaned over the muscular body to cover the head with her open mouth. Her lips sealed behind the ridge and she took a moment to enjoy how good this gently pulsing snake felt in there. Dreadful stirred, opening his eyes. Brooke wiggled her lips down the spongy shaft, taking many more inches than she could when he was hard. She worked lower until the head tickled the back of her throat and she gagged. Dreadful's deep chuckle filled the room.

"Look at your wife," he said. "Already enamored and I've yet to fuck her."

Both men watched Brooke reverently suckle the thick tube of meat.

"Women always develop feelings for the men they're fucking. It's hardwired. I will use that against you. I will make your wife long for me when I'm not around. She'll believe she needs me. She'll do whatever I ask."

Freddy hung his head, watching Brooke eagerly work the meaty shaft. She cupped the massive balls and teased the head like an experienced whore.

"This is wrong," Freddy whined. "I owe you but not a million dollars. Your punishment doesn't fit the crime."

Dreadful tenderly stroked Brooke's long hair as she sucked.

"This is not about the money," he said. "I thought you understood. This is about disrespect. This is about the way you treated me. My men will tell others what I've done to you and the story will spread. I'll personally make sure Donny knows. He's privately mentioned Brooke's attractiveness on several occasions. I'll allow your friend to fuck your wife, knowing he will blab to everyone and the story will spread farther. My reputation will grow. I'll have fewer problems in future transactions. Men will know the price I extract for failure."

Brooke slipped her tongue under to paint Dreadful's balls in hot spit, hoping she pleased the big man.

"Besides," Dreadful continued. "Donny's right; she is attractive. I like her. She's sweet and innocent. She's a natural submissive and I have a soft spot for those, and she's friends with Sara, and Brooke gives me a means to strike at Sara."

Dreadful laced his fingers behind his head and lay back. Freddy saw the man's gleaming smile in the darkness. Dreadful did nothing, allowing Brooke work his dick until she had him hard and pulsing. Freddy's mouth was dry knowing what approached. Brooke wrapped both hands around the thick pole and stroked in time with her pumping, vacuuming mouth.

"Here it comes," Dreadful murmured affectionately.

Brooke moaned with feeling and Freddy watched in agony as the straining, vein-covered penis erupted with frothy sperm, over-flowing like a sudsy beer bottle. Brooke capped the man with her mouth, busy tongue slipping out to scoop the semen she missed, pulling it back into her mouth where she swallowed it. Dreadful grunted in time with small upward thrusts of his hips, each sending another spurt into her welcoming mouth. Dreadful pet her hair gently.

"That was perfect," he told her.

Brooke beamed with pride, snuggling up to her new lover, feeling safe in the shelter of those massive arms.

"Your cock is amazing," she told him. "I feel the life in it. It pulses in my hands like a living creature. I thought about all the women before me, attempting to please your dick. I bet there's an army of us out there, thinking about you right now. But here I am, the one in bed with you."

"I'm going to introduce you to some friends," he told her. "You'll be responsible for their pleasure too, just like mine. Is that all right?"

Brooke nodded eagerly, squirming farther under his arms. Dreadful looked over her head to Freddy, enjoying the dismay etched into the man's face.

Chapter 17

"We caught them by the back gate," a gravelly-voiced man said. "Trying to sneak under the fence."

Dreadful left Brooke in bed and threw a robe over his massive shoulders. He checked Freddy's restraints before striding from the bedroom, annoyed. A few twisting hallways and then he entered the garage.

"Sara and Mike?" he laughed. "You're the rescue party? Two Saint Bernard puppies with brandy on your collars?"

"Is she here?" Sara snapped.

"Yeah, she's here. Freddy too. Now Sara and Mike get added to the list. I better send someone to buy more groceries."

"Let her go, Jericah. She's too soft and kind for you."

"That's why she's still here, Sara."

"Why must you always destroy everything beautiful? What is your perverse need? Just send her back to her old life."

"It's too late for that, Darling."

Dreadful motioned to one of his men, short and skinny, with a long facial scar.

"Strip them," he said. "Him in the end chair, her in the overhead chains."

The man nodded and set to work. Sara threw her weight at the men holding her but she was a sparrow against two gorillas. He moved with practiced hands, stripping Sara and Mike and quickly placing them in restraints, pausing to chuckle at Mike's cuckold tattoo. A ball gag was slipped into Sara's mouth. The man clicked the remote and naked Sara began to rise above the garage floor, kicking and screaming in rage. He secured her ankle cuffs and set the chains. Another click from the remote and Sara's shapely legs irresistibly parted, spreading her bald labia before the men. Delicate inner lips protruded, humiliating Sara by the exposed intimacy.

"Get Freddy," Dreadful said. "Place him in the other end chair, leaving an empty chair between them. Put Mike in a cage like Fred's."

"What about Brooke?" Scarface asked.

"Leave her in my bed," Dreadful instructed. "I'll get back to her."

Dreadful watched the man go then stepped to a dirty refrigerator, withdrawing a syringe filled with yellow fluid. He removed the needle cap, pushing out a drop. Scarface returned with Freddy and strapped him into the other end chair. In minutes Mike was caged like Fred. Scarface checked both restraints and stepped away, revealing to Sara the syringe Dreadful held. She yowled into her gag.

"A walk down memory lane?" Dreadful taunted, tapping the glass hypodermic with a fingernail. "I've improved the formula since I first injected you years ago. You're going to prefer this one."

He gripped her toned thigh and jabbed the needle. Sara sucked air through her nose, almost crying with rage. Dreadful pressed the plunger and the yellow liquid eased in. He withdrew the needle and faced Mike.

"You're going to enjoy the next hour," Dreadful said.

He withdrew a second syringe from his pocket, this one filled with blue.

"I know you love to see Sara fucked," he said. "This stuff is going to make you feel amazing and send your mind soaring, but kill any erection. That snug cage will keep you trapped. You'll watch on the edge of ejaculation but unable to get there."

He patted Mike on the head.

"It will wear off in a day or two," he finished.

He turned to Freddy, who couldn't take his eyes off Sara. The stunning woman had been Brooke's friend for years. Fred had taken every opportunity to stare at her cleavage and gawk at her legs. He'd fantasized numerous times about her. Now she hung suspended by her wrists, naked, writhing, legs spread and tits swaying. She was sexier than he'd ever imagined.

"She's gorgeous, yes?" Dreadful asked. "You'll have a front row seat to her degradation. All my men will enjoy a piece of her. I'll have some too but mostly I'm saving myself for Brooke."

Dreadful and his men leaned back to watch the drugs take effect. Naked Sara writhed five feet off the ground, rage slowly giving way to horny and horny slowly building to lust. Her labia turned pink. Her nipples stiffened. Dreadful turned to the workbench and quickly filled a small jar with ants. He approached Sara, jar held high.

"Brooke can tell you more about these guys once you are both safely home."

He laughed and his men laughed with him. He tipped the jar over her bald clitoris and rattled it, angering the ants inside. Sara sucked air as the first stinger hit, then howled as jolt after jolt ripped through her. By the time Dreadful removed the bottle her clit was furious and throbbing. He licked the pulsing nub with the tip of his tongue and Sara shuddered.

"Drop her a bit," he told one man. "Let me hit her nipples."

Sara struggled but the taut chains reduced her efforts to nothing. Dreadful upended the jar and repeated the process and Sara arched her back, shouting in a terrible mix of pleasure and pain as the ants attacked. Dreadful held the jar steady, watching this new batch of toxins take effect.

"She's almost ready," he said, tapping the bottle and removing the insects.

Sara's eyes were big and pleading. Her fingers and toes wiggled anxiously and small whimpers slipped past her lips. She tried her best to ignore the yearning growing in her, to remember why she came, to focus on saving Brooke and Freddy and getting away from this nightmare place. But her bound wrists thrilled her, the cuffs on her ankles, spreading her legs before these rough and anonymous men, tightened her pussy and set her juices flowing. She resisted the urges bubbling up but could not pull her eyes away from the handful of men staring at her with raw desire. Her swollen clit and nipples throbbed, aching to be touched.

"Whip them out, boys," Dreadful said. "Let her see them. This is Sara, and Sara loves cock."

Some of the men high-fived but each of them opened their fly and pulled out their cocks. Sara groaned, hating herself for wanting them so much. They laughed at her conflict, taunting her by lifting their dicks in offering or twisting their hips side to side, bouncing soft cock off thighs. They were childish boys playing with their favorite toy, but Sara could only whimper again, mouth watering with want.

"All right," Dreadful said. "Let's bring her down and get her out of those chains. She has holes she wants filled."

Sara floated to the ground and watched the men work to free her. She stepped clear of her manacles, removed her gag herself, and knelt like a penitent worshiper at Dreadful's feet. He opened his robe, hefty, steel ring-adorned cock dangling in her face.

"I hate you," she pleaded.

"I know."

She cradled him, holding his warm, partially swollen shaft against her cheek. All around men jerked their meat, growing hard fast. Sara shivered with anticipation. They were men and she could count on their indecency and lack of empathy.

She sucked Dreadful into her mouth as the first man lay on his back next to her. His dick stood straight up and the drugs flowing through her made it one of the most beautiful things she'd ever seen. She tossed a leg over his body and moved her hips over his erection.

She'd been a fool to come after Dreadful. She and Mike were nowhere near strong enough for the task. In the back of her mind she'd known that all along.

Was this what I truly wanted? she wondered. Did I know I'd end up like this?

Her gut told her it was. She'd lied to herself. She'd lied to Mike. She'd thrown herself at Dreadful under the pretense of saving Brooke and Freddy, but, truthfully, craving capture.

The man beneath her lifted his ass at the same time he pulled on her hips. His cock penetrated her tight pussy and an earthquake of sensations slammed her body. She groaned loudly around Dreadful's fat cock. Someone took her right hand and she began jerking a penis. The same thing happened to her left. When someone pushed on her back, forcing her forward and exposing her asshole, she groaned like she'd been stabbed. She forced as much of Dreadful's cock into her mouth as she could take and then sucked hard as pressure on her anus told her another cock was about to penetrate. Her tingling skin burst into flames. She saw herself on the garage floor, every hole filled, hands working furiously, a slave to cock, a slave to pleasing men.

What a slut!

She grunted encouragement and they fucked her harder, reveling in this whore they'd found. Mike desperately wished he could reach his penis and masturbate to the spectacle but was forced to merely watch. Sara felt every nerve crying out, she felt her body sing, stuffed with hard male meat and loving it.

Her orgasm shattered her mind, catching her completely by surprise. Like a rocket, her pleasure suddenly soared and the decadent salaciousness of what she did slammed her. She felt every stiff inch in her mouth, her pussy, her ass, and her hands. Even the pain and discomfort added to her pleasure; evidence she was being ravaged by many men.

Before she could catch her breath another climax, stronger than the first, ripped her apart and set her sobbing. She did not miss a beat, thrusting her hips and ass, fucking every man there. Another orgasm rocked her and she cried around the meat in her mouth. She pulled Dreadful free, holding his slobbery cock firming at the base.

"Fuck you," she wept.

He chuckled. She hated him with a fury but clenched her sphincter around the shaft in her ass. She tightened her pussy and the man beneath her gasped.

"I'm gonna cum," he said suddenly.

Dreadful laughed.

"You won't rest until you've drained us all," he said.

To answer she slid his dick into her mouth again, pushing him so deep she gagged and almost threw up. He stroked her head gently, gazing at her sweet face.

"I know who you truly are," he said.

Dreadful's words landed hard on Mike. The big man was right: this was the real Sara. She was lost to lust, hard cocks and horny men. She could dress it up for society but it always waited beneath the surface. Dreadful understood that about her and now husband Mike did too.

The man in her pussy went rigid and hot blasts of cum filled her pussy. She kept her cunt tight like a fist around him, savoring the slick slipping and sliding as his semen lubricated them. The man in her ass pushed balls deep, expanding and groaning. She felt his blasts of semen thump against her rectum walls. He came a lot, and knowing she was being filled with seed set her off again, wailing around Dreadful in yet another powerful climax. Her whole body trembled and shook, incredible sensations blinding her, jangling her brain, sending her world spinning.

Dreadful stood over her when she next opened her eyes. The men from her ass and pussy were gone and the men from her hands had replaced them. Dreadful watched with delight as Sara was slow fucked, ass and cunt.

"Bring me your cock," she mumbled.

"No," he replied. "I'm saving myself for you and Brooke together."

Sara hung her head, defeated. Her mind screamed no but she knew she'd do it. She'd fuck Dreadful and Brooke at the same time. She'd hand him the ultimate victory and be happy about it. Her mouth already watered thinking about Mike and Freddy watching her devour sweet Brooke's cunt. She looked down at the man beneath her, noticing he needed to wash his hair. Where did Dreadful find these guys? She pushed her hips down, taking every inch of his cock, and kissed his whiskered face passionately. He grabbed her big tits and roughly squeezed.

"You like fucking me?" she asked.

"Hell yeah," he gasped. "You're gorgeous. I never get women like you."

Her heart melted. She kissed the man again and clenched her pussy around his dick, deciding right then to fuck him so he'd never forget. She rolled her hips, careful to keep the man in her ass, but deliberately driving her cunt to the base of his inches, squeezing him like a vise. She fed him her tits and ground on his erection.

"I want you to cum in me," she murmured. "When you're ready, push it all the way in, look in my eyes, and cum in me. Will you?"

"Hell yes."

She jerked her chin towards the chairs.

"That's my husband over there. Does that make fucking me better?"

"Yes," he grinned.

"Taking a woman in front of her man must feel great. Do it. Shoot me full and let him see you do it. I want it. I want what's in your balls in me."

"Goddamn," the man muttered. "You're something else."

Sara tightened her pussy as hard as she could. He gasped, overcome with pure pleasure. The dick in her ass slid along his length separated by only a thin wall. Her soaked cunt milked him.

The man in her ass swelled, grunted, and pushed deep, and Sara again felt hot sperm thump her inside walls. The man in her pussy held her face and locked eyes with her. She was simply breathtaking, and she wanted his seed. Her gaze softened and he saw she truly did desire his load inside her. His mouth opened a long animal groan floated free. His cock thrummed with desire. He lifted his hips until the head touched her cervix and then he erupted like a geyser straight into her womb. The man in her ass was still shooting, blowing a massive load into her bowels.

Two men filling her at the same time was more than she could take and her body locked down. Exhausted muscles tightened and another climax, stronger than the others, shook her body.

Chapter 18

Donny stepped on the gas, swerving around a Volkswagen Beetle. He'd first grown worried when Freddy stopped returning his calls but downright fearful when Brooke stopped too. He'd tracked Dreadful, learning the big man was hiding out with a handful of men at his Pahrump warehouse. Calling the police was out. Dreadful would have him killed if he involved the cops. Donny felt a better plan was to sneak in and free them, hide them in a motel somewhere and get Dreadful his money.

His exit caught him by surprise and he crossed several lanes to leave the freeway. He'd been to this warehouse once about a year ago. Dreadful had invited a handful of guys to a poker game. He knew Dreadful would have lookouts so he stuck to backstreets and alleys, slowing as he entered the warehouse district. Dreadful's place sat at the end of the street. Donny looped around the block and parked in shadows.

"This is stupid," he muttered.

He'd dressed in black and now lowered a ski mask over his face.

"This is stupid," he muttered again. "Stupid, stupid, stupid."

The warehouse was a basic garage with a house attached as an afterthought. If memory served, the place was poorly fenced. Dreadful had a dozen hideouts like this scattered around.

Donny wondered briefly how many people must want Dreadful dead.

Chapter 19

Clarence awoke slowly, body sore and stiff, head spinning. Pieces of reality drifted together, connecting, gradually filling in the many blank spots. He felt the hard floor under his shoulder. He felt weight, arms and legs and bodies, pressing down and all around him. He opened his crusty eyes to slits and tried to lift his head, discovering something spongy in his mouth. He tested with his tongue, quickly realizing a soft penis slumbered there. He spat it out and pushed the sleeping man away, horrified to learn it was Carl from sales.

He rose on an elbow. Naked bodies surrounded him, male and female, employees and their significant others. He rose higher and learned another penis, stiff with morning wood, filled his numb ass. He pulled himself off, the hard pole slithering free. Looking down, he learned his dick rested in Janet's mouth. She was from accounting and had flirted with Clarence often. She still slept, nursing on his dick like a pacifier. He slipped free of each body touching his and rose to his feet, surveying the large rustic common room. Dim memories returned of a night lost to raw naked lust for anything sexual. He'd sucked dick and swallowed semen. He fucked men in the ass and eagerly welcomed hard cocks up his own. There'd been women too, every woman from his office, every employee he had. They'd all lost themselves in a mindless orgy and in the light of this new day, he knew there'd be hell to pay. They all blame him. They'd all believe he'd spiked the punch at his own company party. People would talk. Rumors would be confirmed. Clarence felt his world tilt and knew the days of abusing his female employees were over.

"Why?" he croaked.

Red plastic cups littered the floor. More memories returned. Men had entered the room and taken over his party, ordering people to strip, ordering people to fuck. One man, a giant towering over the rest, had commanded Clarence to suck cock a nearby cock and Clarence had been unable to resist. He'd drained several men, husbands and subordinates. He tasted their salty seed in his mouth right now.

"Who?" he rasped.

Others started to wake. One by one they opened their eyes and looked around, shell-shocked and bewildered. A few tried to cover their nakedness. Awareness crept into their foggy brains as memories of the night before returned and guilty, shamed, embarrassed faces did their best to avoid each other. Work would never be the same. Work, as they'd known it, was probably dead. Clarence would need to hire almost an entire staff, if he wasn't bankrupted by all the harassment lawsuits he was sure to lose.

"What happened?" Sandy, from sales, murmured at Clarence's feet.

"We were drugged," Clarence said, noticing for the first time Brooke and Freddy were missing. "We were drugged and forced to behave like animals, and when I find the man that did this to us, he will pay dearly."

Sandy looked up at Clarence, drawn by the passion and rage in his voice. Her gaze landed on his penis. He'd fucked her with that penis just an hour ago. She should feel anger and resentment but the memory was nice. She reached for it but Clarence slapped her hand.

"Not now," he snapped.

Chapter 20

One of Dreadful's men, the one that needed to wash his hair, entered the garage and wheeled a hand truck in front of Freddy. He walked to the back of the garage and returned with another.

"What's going on?" Freddy asked.

"Your turn to take a ride," he said. He looked at Mike. "You too."

"Where are we going?" Mike asked.

Greasy Hair stood them up and backed them in. With sure hands, he swapped straps for manacles, gradually maneuvering both men to their own hand truck. He wrapped additional straps around their ankles and necks, cuffing their hands through the metal bars behind them. They were secured and ready for transport in minutes.

"Jesus," he muttered, tapping their wire traps with a fingernail. "It sucks to be you guys. First your wives are taken and then you're stuffed into these things. Guess you pissed off the wrong man."

"What is this?" Freddy asked. "Silence of the Lambs?"

"Thanks," Greasy Hair said obnoxiously. "I almost forgot."

From the workbench, he retrieved two ball gags and slapped them into place. Mike and Freddy looked at each other with resigned dismay. Another henchman appeared and spoke in low tones with the first. Together they wheeled the two husbands from the garage and into the house, following a long hallway where they entered a dining hall.

The hall was decorated with flowers and ribbons. A DJ manned a turntable. Tables loaded with finger foods and alcohol lay scattered about. Rows of empty folding chairs waited. Freddy guessed forty people milled around, watching. When he and Mike were brought in, everyone stopped to stare, all eyes landing inevitably of the mesh cages which held them. Freddy especially hated the women in the crowd seeing him like this. He hoped he'd never meet them.

A trellis of roses stood next to a podium at the far end, and just behind that, a curtained wall. Next to the podium stood Dreadful, attired in a perfectly tailored tuxedo. The keys to Freddy and Mike's cages hung by a chain around his neck to rest tauntingly on his chest. The husbands were brought near Dreadful and stood upright. They would be his right-hand men for whatever happened next. The crowd took their seats. A man dressed in black robes entered and stood behind the podium. He opened a large black book covered in reptile skin. A few of Dreadful's men chuckled.

From doors on opposite sides of the room, Sara and Brooke entered, dressed all in virgin white. They wore white lace veils trailing ten feet behind and heavy lace corsets designed so their large bare breasts were pushed up and out, swollen nipples beckoning. Below their bustiers they wore white lace thigh-high stockings and high heels, their bald and naked pussies on display to the entire room.

"Whut du fuk?" Freddy shouted into his gag.

Mike gazed at Sara like he saw her in a vision. Someone had done their hair and nails, bathed them, perfumed and polished them. The ladies looked stunning: lovely wet dreams brought to life. That they were still drugged was obvious; their hyper-sensitive bodies were unable to remain still. Sara occasionally rubbed a palm over a stiff nipple and Brooke squirmed, slipping a finger to tease a clit.

"Friends," The man in robes announced. "Today we join these people in unholy matrimony."

Freddy threw himself at his restraints.

"We witness the binding of these three: Jericah Miles, forever known as First Husband from this day forward to Sara Jackson and Brooke Nathan, now and forever known as Jericah's Wives."

The preacher turned to Sara.

"Do you take this man as your beloved? To dutifully obey and please? Never refusing? Always ready to serve his needs?"

"I do," Sara said, eyes gleaming.

"And you, Brooke Nathan. Do you take this man as your beloved? To obey and please? Never refusing? Always ready to serve his needs?"

"I do," she said, nudging her glasses up her nose.

Freddy groaned but Mike was swollen inside his steel cage, tiny squares of pink flesh squished through as he engorged as much as the barrier allowed. Freddy shouted something unintelligible.

"The rings," The preacher said.

Dreadful dug two silver rings from a pocket and handed them over. The preacher signaled a young woman from the front row and she quickly moved to the podium, taking her chair with her, turning it to face the crowd. The preacher gestured to Sara who had obviously been prepped. She knew exactly what to do. She sat in the offered chair, facing the audience, spreading her knees wide, opening her pussy to everyone. The young girl knelt between Sara's open legs and with a small handheld device like a pair of pliers, spread Sara's labia. She slipped a pinkie under Sara's clitoral hood. The preacher handed her a ring. She smoothly set the ring in the tool and pressed the instrument against Sara's skin. A sharp click followed by Sara's piercing cry filled the room. The young woman leaned in to kiss away the hurt and Sara, shiny silver ring now adorning her clit, took her place next to Dreadful.

Brooke took her place on the chair, opening her legs far wider than Sara had. Her wicked expression moved from person to person until landing on Freddy's face. Their eyes locked followed by a loud click and Brooke's meaningful groan. Freddy gasped, aching heart squeezed as his wife eagerly accepted this symbolic commitment to another man. Brooke rose to take her place beside a beaming Dreadful.

"I now pronounce you First Husband and his wives," the preacher said.

Freddy had no idea what it all meant, and he was sure it was illegal, but hearing Brooke so eagerly and enthusiastically give vows to another man sliced right through him. He sensed Brooke's connection to Dreadful would last far beyond the day he repaid his debt. He sensed Brooke was, at least in some ways, Dreadful's forever.

Mike grinned around his ball gag. Dreadful had officially made Sara his own. The idea that he now shared Sara with another man, that another man had some claim to her, sent his heart racing and his penis growing. The tight metal cage held him trapped and he loved that feeling too. He was powerless in all this, forced to accept the choices Sara made. He loved that Sara had never gotten over Dreadful and craved the man even now, drugs or not.

The preacher turned to the curtained wall behind him. He tugged one side open and then the other, revealing a giant hidden bed. Sara and Brooke got busy undressing Dreadful. The preacher encouraged the audience to strip too, which they all did. Dreadful directed Brooke to lay on her back and Sara to take a sixty-nine position over her. The crowd watched the two women feast as Dreadful explained their long and loving friendship, that the audience was witnessing the first sex between them, and that the two men, shackled to hand trucks and forced to watch, were married to the women. Dreadful introduced them to the crowd.

Next he joined the women on the bed, kissing Sara's ass as his long cock dangled in Brooke's face. She sucked him in quickly and Sara spun around to help, both women worshipping Dreadful's impressive meat. His hands roamed their lovely bodies, gliding over lace bustiers and stockings. He fingered each, testing their wetness, getting them ready.

Freddy could barely breathe.

Finally, firm erection curved to point at the ceiling, Dreadful positioned both women on their knees at the edge. He moved behind Sara and bent his cock, teasing her with slow penetration. Sara squirmed, trying to rush it, hungry to feel the big man inside her again. He made her wait before sinking his hard inches deep. He fucked her awhile, smacking her upturned ass from time to time, until he withdrew and buried his shiny cock in Brooke.

Freddy howled in rage, watching his sweet bride's pussy mushroom around the invading head. Brooke groaned. Nothing in her experience prepared her for something so thick and invasive. She rolled her hips and buried her head in the blanket. Dreadful held her in place and began to saw in and out. Brooke shocked the room when she quickly wailed in orgasm. Freddy sagged. Brooke had cum so fast, so hard. Bewildered, he wondered if it was truly the same woman.

Dreadful fucked one and then the other. They waited dutifully for their turn, asses high, heads turned to watch their new husband over a shoulder. Veins along his shaft grew prominent and spidery, branching in every direction.

He was inside Sara when the first tingling of climax appeared. He thrust faster, raising a fist with one hand while holding the other close to her pussy. He grunted loudly with the first blast, spewing hot sperm far up inside her. He shot again and again and then quickly whipped his spurting cock free and rammed the monstrous spear deep into Brooke, gushing hot cum into her womb too. The women French kissed as he inseminated them, each now christened with their new husband's sperm.

Dreadful stayed inside Brooke until the last drops leaked and then withdrew. The ladies turned, cleaning his thick inches with lips and tongues, kissing each other wildly. The barrier between them was broken and they turned on each other, hands and fingers and tongues exorcising years of repressed sexual tension. Dreadful chuckled to see his new brides ravage each other.

Dreadful faced the room, heavy cock not yet soft swaying side to side.

"Friends," he said. "I invite you all. I offer my brides, and each other."

The crowd surged forward, erect penises and wet pussies everywhere. Sara and Brooke met them all, wicked eyes gleaming, offering mouth and pussy and ass.

Dreadful moved to stand beside Freddy and Mike, watching with them as men and women descended on their wives. Lines formed behind each woman, cocks curved like daggers as the best friends welcomed any lover that desired them, fucking and sucking anything that came close.

Mike groaned in sexual frustration, craving release more than air, but Freddy could only watch his sweet wife in despair, knowing their old life was shattered and gone forever.

Chapter 21

Donny crept from a dumpster to an abandoned car to a pile of large black trash bags as tall as a man. He darted to the side of the warehouse. A house was attached in back and the lights were on so he moved that way, peeking through a window.

Naked bodies lay everywhere. Brooke and Sara, nude, slumbered in a pile with Dreadful. Freddy and another man stood strapped in place on hand trucks near the bed, asleep standing up.

Donny continued around the house. There was no way in on this side. At the next window, he spied a master bedroom with connecting bath. A low window let the breeze stir the curtains. He carefully lifted the loose screen and slipped into the room, immediately understanding this was Dreadful's private quarters. Sweat broke out on his back. A huge pistol sat on the nightstand. Pictures around the room showed Dreadful with strangers, mostly social, but sometimes sexual situations.

"This guy has a thing for wives," Donny whispered.

Donny heard a noise and quickly darted into an open closet. He stayed motionless, fear churning his stomach. He waited, straining to hear, but when only silence greeted him he started to move again. His toe hit something solid.

There, stacked at his feet, was a pile of gold ingots that rose almost to his knees. Donny gawked. How much wealth? Dreadful had no need for Freddy's money. Freddy's punishment was all about power and control.

The bars were crudely formed, clearly heated and shaped by an amateur. No effort had been made to hide them. Dreadful dared anyone to steal from him. Donny stared in pure amazement, shocked at the glittering treasure. Impulsively, he slipped a heavy bar into each back pocket.

A noise outside made his blood freeze. He carefully sank into the hanging clothing, listening closely. A man stuck his head through the bedroom window, angry eyes scanning the room. Donny held himself perfectly still as the man climbed in, and, spying the pistol on the nightstand, grabbed it and checked to make sure it was loaded. Satisfied, he left the bedroom through the main door, creeping out into the house. Donny thought the man looked vaguely familiar but it was several minutes before he remembered.

"What the fuck is Brooke's boss doing here?" he muttered, confused.

He tried to imagine what may have brought the man to this house but came up empty. That the man was filled with murderous rage was clear.

Donny hurried to the window. Now was not the time to attempt a rescue of Freddy and Brooke. Things were about to get crazy.

Chapter 22

"Wake up, Sara," Dreadful said.

Sara slowly opened her eyes. She and Brooke lay in the same marital bed they'd crawled onto last night. Naked sleeping bodies of both genders surrounded them. A memory jumped at her and she quickly checked on the ring now piercing her clitoral hood and circling her clit. Any hope last night was a dream faded.

Dreadful watched her expressions change from confused to denial to acceptance.

"You belong to me now," he said. "We married last night."

"Some honeymoon."

"Marriages are traditionally consummated."

"By the newlyweds," Sara snapped. "Not the congregation."

"You insisted," Dreadful said.

Sara shivered. Arousal danced a tingling jig across her skin, raising goose bumps down her back and arms. She had insisted. She remembered begging an especially well-hung man to fuck her from behind so he'd feel even bigger. The memory made her heart skip. Her orgasm had been epic. She felt herself getting excited again, followed by towering rage.

"What have you done to me?" she barked.

Dreadful laughed in her face.

"The drugs I gave you don't put ideas in your head. I can't make you do something you would never actually do. My drugs knock down barriers you've placed to stop yourself. I dosed you but last night you only did things you wanted to do."

Sara looked at her hands.

"I've altered your brain's wiring, Sara. Those barriers are never coming back. You'll impulsively follow your true desires from now on."

He moved closer, standing next to the bed, leaning over her face, soft cock dangling. She licked her lips before she could stop herself. She immediately felt the emptiness in her pussy. Her fingers ached to curl around the plump shaft. Desire rose in the pit of her stomach. She hated that he was probably right. She hated that he had all the control.

"I know which drugs to mix. Experience has taught me a lot. I've chemically tinkered with the parts of your mind that control sex-drive and decision-making. You loved cock before we ever met but buried those feelings behind good girls don't. You're a slave to it now."

Sara turned worried eyes to her husband. Mike remained strapped to the hand truck. Dreadful's words had fired his imagination and his trapped penis bulged against his wire cage. Dreadful turned her to face him again.

"About once a year I'll inject you with a booster shot. You won't see me coming. You'll be fucking like crazy from now on. You never should have come up against me, Sara. There's a price to pay."

He stepped away. Sara felt disappointment as his cock retreated.

"Wake Brooke," Dreadful said. "You are all free to go. My men will return you to the cabin. Go back to your life but keep one eye over your shoulder."

"You're a fucking bastard," Sara muttered.

"You keep saying that."

"One day you'll regret doing this to me."

Dreadful laughed.

"Move through life fast enough," he said, "and regrets will never catch you. Did you hope I'd fall in love with you? Did you imagine yourself turning me from my ways?"

Sara ignored his questions and nudged Brooke awake. She lifted her head, remembered the night they all shared, and grinned. She saw Dreadful and reached for his dangling cock.

"Fuck my ass again," she mumbled. "I liked that."

Dreadful boomed laughter.

"For fuck's sake, Brooke," Sara said, rolling her eyes. "Get dressed. We need to get our husbands and get out of here."

Chapter 23

"Sheri's Ranch?" Freddy said, looking around the bar. "This place is sleazy."

Dreadful raised a glass of whiskey.

"Here's to sleazy," he said, gulping.

Brooke shifted on the bench. Dreadful had dressed her tonight, buying a black, long-sleeved dress that clung to her body like a coat of paint. She wore no bra and her big tits strained the thin fabric and the hundred sliver hooks holding the front of her dress closed. Freddy noticed Brooke was remarkably comfortable with her new outfit, enjoying the appreciative looks from men and women.

"You don't know elegance when you see it," Dreadful teased.

"Sheri's Ranch is one of the classier brothels outside Las Vegas."

"Brothel?" Freddy said. "You brought us to a whorehouse? Why? You want another woman for Brooke?"

Dreadful kissed Brooke softly on the lips.

"No. Sheri's Ranch offers something the others do not. Sheri is my friend and understands women have needs too. Brooke will select a man for tonight and you're going to pay for him."

Freddy gaped.

"In a few minutes," Dreadful continued. "The Madame will bring a selection of her finest studs. Brooke will choose the man she wants and we will move to a private room. Once there, you and I will watch your wife fuck her new lover."

Dreadful kissed her lips again.

Freddy turned to his wife. He saw excitement in her eyes. He hoped to see regret or hesitation but she felt none of that. Her honeymoon night with Dreadful had taught her the thrill of the new. Clarence had been nothing more than a drop into a bucket.

A door opened across the room and an older woman, dressed in conservative evening wear, led half a dozen nude young men across the floor. Most were white. One was black. One was Native American. Some were muscular and some were thin, some were tall and some were short. Regardless of all other physical traits, each man shared one common characteristic; a substantial cock swinging with every step.

Brooke looked delighted.

"I wager she picks the black guy," Dreadful said. "White wives always pick the black guy. His name is Jeremy and I've brought him at least a dozen married women over the years. You should see the husband's faces when the woman they love selects big black cock."

Freddy turned to study the young black man. The older woman approached to say hello but Freddy's mouth was too dry to speak. Brooke was surrounded by men; hard bodies and dangerous, dangling dicks. The men eyed her like prey, hungry to sink their teeth into this fresh meat.

"Jerica says you are paying for your wife's entertainment?" the woman said.

"Yes," Freddy croaked.

He handed his credit card to the woman. The men closed in on Brooke.

"You're hot," the young black man told Brooke. "Pick me."

That broke their silence and each man began pleading his case, begging Brooke to pick him. She savored the moment, openly desired by so many attractive men. Both men saw on her face the joy she felt.

"Bring her more," Dreadful demanded. "I want all your hottest studs here."

The Madame departed but swiftly returned, eight more men in tow. Brooke gasped at the variety of masculine beauty; lithe, athletic, healthy bodies, hairy or not, muscular or not. Every man had impressive inches hanging or he didn't work here. Brooke let her eyes roam, feasting on male flesh, giggling with joy.

"I never knew places like this even existed," Brooke said. "May I touch them?"

"Please do," the Madame chuckled. "They are here for you."

Brooke floated out of her seat, meandering between the masculine bodies, lightly dragging fingertips across bare skin, occasionally allowing her hand to graze a soft penis. The men playfully stepped closer to enclose Brooke in a forest of naked bodies. A few began to swell, hopefully anticipating they'd be chosen.

"It's incredible," she croaked. "You always hear about men getting multiple women; men get harems or men get seventy-two virgins. Lady killers sleeping around as much as they want get praised as studs for it. No one ever talks about a harem for a woman. It's intoxicating."

One man kissed the back of her neck and she shivered. They moved closer still, penises rubbing against her hips and ass, and Brooke softly groaned, hands moving from one tube of meat to the next, caressing, tugging, hefting.

Freddy and Dreadful watched her closely.

"She'll take them all," Dreadful said. "Put them on the card."

Brooke gasped at Dreadful's words, opening her mouth to kiss the black man in front of her. The Madame nodded, unsurprised, but Freddy groaned in dismay. Cocks swung all around his wife, like a dangerous swarm of bees.

Hands quickly removed her dress, discovering she wore nothing beneath. Strong arms flexed and Brooke was lifted overhead, carried under an arch leading to the private rooms. Dreadful followed the gang of men, dragging Freddy along.

The men had placed her in the center of a large bed. One man ate her pussy, teasing the silver ring around her clit, drawing soft moans. Other men feasted on bare breasts. Still others nibbled her exposed flesh: legs, arms, neck, and stomach. She was breathing deeply, face and chest flushed, eyes wide, bordering on overwhelmed.

"Who's first?" one man said, an Irish accent bringing a smile to Brooke's face.

Freddy held his breath.

"You pick," the Irish lad said. "Who do you want inside you?"

Brooke lifted her head to look at all the assembled men: broad chest and strong arms, flat stomachs and handsome faces. She bit her bottom lip, dropping her gaze to the throng of cocks surrounding her. She drifted from one to the next, sometimes returning for a second look. Her heart pounded beneath her ribs, her mind was alight with electricity. Finally, she made her choice.

"You," she told the muscular black man. "I want you first."

"Told you," Dreadful told Freddy.

The young black man smiled broadly. Already almost hard, he crawled on the bed between her legs. Two men each took an ankle and spread her wide. Brooke groaned deeply, feeling like a sacrificial lamb on this mattress altar. She lifted her head to watch the big black cock approach her hole. He hardened rapidly, lifting and expanding; a big black spear aimed at her tight cunt.

"She's never-" Freddy began, emotion choking him. "She's-" Dreadful chuckled.

"Stand up," he told Freddy. "Undress. Show these men the cage you wear."

Freddy stared at Dreadful, paralyzed.

"I'm not kidding," the big man said. "Do it." He raised his voice so the other men heard. "Gentlemen, this is Freddy, Brooke's husband. We are here tonight because he's being punished."

Freddy slowly stood, unbuckling, unzipping, unbuttoning, lowering his pants to his knees, exposing the steel cage holding him.

"All the way," Dreadful barked. "Naked."

Freddy stepped out of the last of his clothing. All the men watched and Brooke did too. Dreadful continued.

"Freddy is paying the bill for each of you to fuck his wife. Please, take your time. Make her the center of your universe. Please her like she's never known."

The young black man crawled over Brooke, his heavy shaft gliding over her clit. He climbed high enough to kiss her, his dark balls smothering her labia. Freddy saw how deeply the man's cock would penetrate. The head went beyond her bellybutton. This young man would reach far inside Brooke, touching places few cocks had reached. The dark meat lay in sharp contrast to her fair skin.

How much? Freddy wondered. How much cum did those big balls hold? Brooke will get all of it.

"Find it," the black man told Brooke. "Guide me in. Welcome me."

Brooke worked an arm between their bodies, searching for his erection. Her fingers closed around his thick cannon and she rubbed the head on her slit, wetting it. She tugged him forward, guiding his black cock to her married cunt. Freddy started a whine which turned into a whimper, eyes glued to Brooke's flowering pussy lips. Her soft labia crawled over the dark head like fog, enveloping and enshrouding the man in her warm wet flesh.

Freddy grew inside his steel cage, swelling until the wires stopped him.

"You're tight," the black man exhaled, flexing his hips.

They kissed again and then Brooke guided his mouth to a nipple. Now three men devoured her tits, making her squirm and groan.

"What are the rules about where you cum?" she panted.

"I'll cum where you tell me to," he said, moving his hips smoothly.

"Are you on birth control?"

Brooke shook her head, throwing Freddy a guilty look.

"You want this black man to cum inside you?" the young man asked.

Brooke gave him a quick nod.

He grinned.

"That's hot," he said. "That's exciting. I'm going to pump your bare pussy full of cum. Have you ever carried black man seed?"

"No," Brooke whimpered.

He lifted himself over her to begin long slow strokes that drove his slick cock all the way in.

"Say it," he said.

Brooke darted guilty eyes at Freddy again, wondering what this must be doing to him. Her husband must be a tortured wreck.

"Cum in me," she told the young man. "You'll be my first black man."

"But not her last," Dreadful murmured.

The hot young stud smiled and returned his mouth to her nipple, hips rising and falling smoothly, toned muscles coiling beneath dark skin. Brooke slid her hands over his skin, indulging the decadence of a hired well-hung lover.

The men moved around the bed. Several gathered at her head and lowered a bouquet of dicks to her mouth. Brooke sucked each a few moments before moving to the next. Some men lowered their scrotum and Brooke teased their balls with her tongue. In minutes, every man in the room was hard. They worked well together, lifting her legs or positioning her head to fuck her mouth. The conversation and jokes fell away as everyone turned serious. They fucked her eager mouth while the young black man fucked her pussy and when he announced he was getting close, they pulled her legs over her body to spread her pussy wide. This brought his plunging black shaft in contact with her clit.

"Oh shit," she gasped. "Shit, shit shit..."

Over and over the black man dropped his weight on her, driving his cock deep. Her breathing turned fast and shallow. Her body stiffened and then her wail filled the room. Freddy watched his beautiful wife cum, her pussy tightly gripping that thick dark meat. Nobody missed a beat. The black man fucked faster until he arched his back and pumped her full of semen. Before he softened a man moved from her mouth to take his place, sinking into her sopping cunt. A cock pushed into her mouth and Brooke groaned to feel her pussy filled again.

After a while the black man lifted his slippery cock to her mouth and made her clean him with her tongue. Brooke loved the way he took charge and she obediently lapped his pole clean, wiping away sperm as it bubbled from the small slit at the tip.

One by one the men took turns on her. Brooke's excitement and arousal continued to rise until orgasms came easily. One man rolled her on her stomach and eased his fat cock up her slippery ass, spreading her butt cheeks with his hands while the young black man, hard again, returned to her mouth to feed her dick. They fucked her from both ends, moving in time together. When their orgasms drew close, the black man suggested they push balls deep when they came. Brooke groaned to feel herself stuffed with cock and filled with cream.

The last men rolled her over and fucked her missionary, kissing her lips and sucking her breasts. A few of the guys got hard again and deposited second loads in her womb. Freddy watched it all in disbelief: Brooke flooded with potent sperm in every opening. By the time the men left the room, Brooke was exhausted.

Chapter 24

Freddy and Donny stood in the garage, eyes downcast. Freddy held a cloth shopping bag in one hand. Dreadful towered over both. A phalanx of his henchmen formed a crescent behind him.

"I have your money," Freddy said. "Plus interest. Plus a gratuity on top of that, for all the trouble I've caused."

Dreadful motioned to one of his henchmen. The man took the shopping bag from Freddy and opened it. He moved the contents side to side, counting quickly, and then nodded to Dreadful.

"Drop your pants," the big man told Freddy.

Freddy unbuckled and unzipped, displaying his penis cage. Donny gawked at it. The henchman knelt and twisted a key in the lock, the heavy wire cage landing on the concrete with a thud. Freddy pulled the thick ring surrounding his genitalia off and added it to the cage on the floor. Freddy breathed deeply, relieved to finally be free. He zipped up.

"I had no idea he put that on you," Donny murmured.

Freddy ignored his friend.

"What about Mike?" Freddy asked.

Dreadful laughed.

"Mike doesn't hate his cage," Dreadful said. "Sara has come to me twice since I sent them home. The woman is voracious and Mike is locked away. I fucked her slow and deep before filling her completely. Mike sat close, watching, dick straining against the wire. My marriage to her and Brooke may not be legal but it certainly has proved binding. Don't you agree?"

Freddy kept his eyes down. Brooke had come to see Dreadful too, alone. They'd fought about it before she left but with his penis secured under lock and key, what could Freddy say? Beg her to wait? What was the point? Brooke had already fucked so many, including Dreadful. What harm in once more?

Brooke had returned home exhausted and filled with cream.

"Don't you agree?" Dreadful asked again.

"Yes," Freddy answered.

Behind Freddy and to the right, chains clinked. A deep voice groaned. Freddy and Donny turned to look at Clarence, naked, hung from his wrists, legs spread like a Mercedes Benz logo. Freddy recognized the pose.

"Maybe you should let him go," Freddy suggested. "My wife needs her job."

Dreadful scoffed before rubbing a hand over a bandage on his upper arm.

"Brooke has no more need of money," he said. "I know your investment paid off. I know you are flush with cash. No, this man broke into my home to rob and kill me. He used my own weapon in an attempt on my life. There were witnesses. He must pay."

Clarence's eyes were wide with fear. Spit dripped from his ball gag.

"What will you do to him?" Freddy asked, afraid of the answer.

Dreadful lifted a syringe of red fluid.

"You see this?" Dreadful asked Clarence. "I'm going to make you feel things you didn't know existed. You never should have come after me."

Whoever told you where I live will pay the price too."

Dreadful jabbed Clarence in the shoulder, pressing the plunger, sending the scarlet liquid into the man's veins. Next he searched the bench until he found a wide glass bowl. He filled the container with his favorite ants, many times the number he used on the women. Tapping the glass to keep them at the bottom, he lifted the wide cup under Clarence's scrotum and penis, holding the rim against the man's flesh. He knocked the bowl with a knuckle and stingers began to strike. A loud wail, muffled by the gag, sounded above their heads. Freddy felt sick.

"I'd considered cutting off his dick and feeding it to him," Dreadful said, adjusting the bowl. "But I think sealing it away forever is worse."

He casually watched the ants pump venom into Clarence as the man struggled against the chains that rendered him helpless. Clarence sucked air through his nose, desperately trying to swing away, howling at nerves on fire. After a minute Dreadful handed the cup to a henchman and lifted Freddy's cage from the garage floor.

"Poetic justice," Dreadful rumbled, brushing off a few wayward ants and clicking Freddy's old cage around Clarence. He handled the man's genitalia like nothing bothered him. He tested to make sure the heavy ring was snug and then inserted the wire cage. A loud click sounded. Satisfied, he turned the key in the lock and then broke it off, finishing with a drop of superglue in the mechanism. Removal without harming Clarence would be almost impossible. Clarence wailed in despair.

"I'm turning this motherfucker into a cum-dump," Dreadful announced, patting the man's thigh. "I'll let him hang here for a day with the drugs and venom running through him and my special vibrator up his ass. After that I'll get to work on his mind. He'll forget he's a man by the time I finish. I'll drive the pain and pleasure connection so deep into his psyche he'll believe himself a woman. I'll condition him to feel desperate for dick, an overpowering urge to drain any cock near him, like some five-dollar crack whore. We'll all have a laugh about that."

Freddy and Donny shivered. The menace in Dreadful's voice was clear.

"He should be grateful," Dreadful continued. "I almost had him stuffed in a drum and shipped to my associates in San Francisco. You think I'm an evil man? Those fuckers are ruthless. They are without souls. They would have surgically removed his dick and built him a pussy. He'd disappear from life, vanished like so many others, He would have lived his life as a dickless gimp, chained to the floor in pitch darkness, fucked endlessly in every hole."

Donny leaned on Freddy, knees suddenly weak. The man's grisly fate turned his stomach.

If he ever learns it was me that robbed him, Donny thought, I'm a dead man. I can't even tell Freddy. Thank God the investment paid off.

Freddy met Clarence's terrified gaze. This fate was too much for what he'd done to Brooke, maybe even too much for what he'd done to Dreadful.

Dreadful gestured towards the two men and a henchman led them to the door. Sunlight poured in briefly. Freddy looked back. Clarence had swollen to fill the small steel cage. His hips thrust like he urgently sought pussy. Semen oozed from the tip constantly, long silver strands hanging from the wires. Dreadful would use the man's dick against him, turning his favorite toy into the device of his torment.

At least he got to keep it, Freddy thought.

Chapter 25

"I'm so sorry you and Mike got drawn into all this," Brooke said. "I never intended that. I just needed to talk to you about what was happening to me. I can't believe you went after Dreadful."

Sara shook her head.

"Don't worry about it," she said. "It's possible I have issues. Like some deeply buried and twisted gnome lives in my brain longing for Dreadful, or at least the deviant things a Dreadful can do to me. You're not to blame as you never asked me to talk to him on your behalf. I did that, knowing what kind of man he is, and Mike is happy I did. Dreadful gave me the key to his cage. I've let him out a few times but I've also made him wear it in front of lovers."

Sara raised her empty glass to the waitress across the bistro, silently requesting a refill. The women sat silent for a minute, lost in thought. The waitress sat two new Long Island Iced Teas on the table.

"Hello again, Pira," Sara said. "This is my best friend, Brooke."

"Hi Brooke. You ladies are all hunched over like conspirators. A lot on your mind today? Guy trouble? Annoying husbands?"

Sara chuckled.

"Remember the man I met here last time?"

"Oh yeah," Pira said. "He's hard to forget. I always wondered what happened with you two. He left upset."

"Sara and I fucked him," Brooke volunteered.

Pira pretended to take a step back, stunned.

"Actually," Brooke continued. "If I'm honest, he fucked us, to death. Almost. He fucks like an eighteen-wheeler, Pira, running you over and leaving you at Death's door but begging for more. Do you agree, Sara?"

Sara laughed.

"Yeah," she said. "He fucks your body, mind, and soul."

Pira fanned her face with her notepad.

"I could use some of that," she said.

Brooke looked up at her.

"He'll be here in a few minutes," she said. "I'll introduce you. You can give him your number."

Sara scowled at Brooke. She aimed her expression at Pira.

"I'm not sure you want to do that," Sara said. "He's a bad man."

"I'm no angel," Pira admitted.

Sara shrugged.

"Then what time are you off?" she asked. "You can come with us."

Pira's eyes glowed.

"Thirty minutes," Pira said. "Where we going?"

"Back to his place," Sara said.

"For drinks," Brooke interjected.

Sara scoffed, chuckling.

"Yeah," she said. "Right. For drinks."

Pira eyed the two married women; well-dressed, classy, educated, and intelligent. She would never have guessed. She eyed them again, this time picturing them naked. A foursome with these two lovelies would be a delight.

"Your husbands know?" she asked.

Sara nodded. Brooke looked embarrassed.

"Yes," Brooke said. "Jericah has a power over women. It's something that touches us in a primal way. We know it's probably bad for us in the long run but we are unable to refuse his call. If you come with us, he'll own a piece of you the rest of your life. Be sure you can live with that."

"That sounds exciting," Pira said. "My boyfriend doesn't need to know."

Sara and Brooke shared a knowing look.

"Your boyfriend will know," Sara cautioned. "Maybe not at first but he'll realize what's happening. What Dreadful does to us can't be hidden, not for long anyway. If you want to keep your boyfriend, bring Dreadful home and let him watch. Something primal happens to the men, too. They accept their place, understanding Jericah has the right of first pussy. It's a remarkable thing; jealous or not, your boyfriend will want you fucked by this beast of a man. It's only natural."

End.
