Chapter 1

I continued to meet Josh for Saturday cycling, wondering what might happen next, but each time too many riders joined us and we had no time alone. The weather warmed and the roads crawled with cyclists, which meant Josh's shop got busy.

We conversed like old friends and eye-fucked each other every chance we got, but no window of opportunity opened for us.

I did get in much better shape. Fat melted away replaced by toned muscle. My boobs shrank some but that was okay. I still had plenty of size. I trimmed two inches off my long brown hair for summer.

Chapter 2

Robert and I waved goodbye to Jessica from gate number five. My daughter was off to Miami to see Giorgio, although she swears it's for dance lessons from the well-respected Plymouth Academy. Yeah, right. She's her mother's daughter. Giorgio was her first and I know she was dying for more. I didn't blame her. She showed me pictures of him, including some of them lying around the pool, and that boy from Brazil was gorgeous.

"Hungry?" Robert asked after she had gone.

"Yes," I smiled. "But not for food."

Robert swallowed hard. Months had passed since we'd played any of our scandalous games and I was horny as fuck. He was too, but he enjoyed the games from a distance. They were more like something done to him instead of with him. He preferred things that way but it left him wondering what I'd do next, what he'd be forced to endure next. I was comfortable with our new arrangement but he still had plenty of unresolved issues. Watching your wife fuck another man flies in the face of every social norm and he'd not yet come to terms with any of it.

"Josh?" Robert said, his voice tightening. "Or Tony?"

Josh and my husband had never formally met. Tony and my husband had been rivals in college and I knew even speaking his name had to twist a dagger between his ribs. That he was directly offering me to Tony had to just about kill him.

Such is the place we found ourselves. I've always been highly sexed while Robert is more submissive. We got married and had a kid and I tried to play the good wife, but as I got older my lusty desires returned.

Lucky me, Robert has a kinky streak too.

"Neither," I said.

I turned and gave him a kiss and a hug. His disappointment was obvious. I slipped my arm through his and aimed us towards the parking lot.

"I know you hate to talk about these things, so I won't. Let's go have a nice romantic dinner, just us, as a couple. It's been a long time since we've done that. Our daughter is gone for eight weeks. I'm sure we'll find something to do with that time."

That perked him up.

Chapter 3

I may have been acting cocky, but on the inside, I wasn't. The truth is I was scared. Robert and I had opened Pandora's Box and I was afraid what might happen next, where all this might lead.

There is a sense of safety when fooling around behind your husband's back. Guilt, sure, but you control all the moving parts, or at least it feels like you do. Once I made Robert aware of my infidelities and discovered he liked them, he became a part and they were no longer exclusively mine. I lost control.

When I let him watch from his closet hiding spot, some part of me always felt like I was performing for him, and that sucked some of the excitement away. I wanted exclusive ownership of my secrets again, and you know what they say about trying to get toothpaste back in the tube. Yes, I was horny as hell, but I wanted a way to regain a sense of control.

Adding to my fear was a growing realization of how much I loved our new arrangement. I know that sounds paradoxical. I was playing with fire. With a stable, loving, happy marriage surrounding me, there was no limit to my potential depravity. I was free to pursue any erotic dream I had, and I knew my imagination ran deep. Did Robert's? How far would he let me go? How would he react when I crossed some line only he understood? What happens if I cross a line too far? Once crossed, could we ever go back?

The next day I was back at work. I had a split shift; two customers in the morning, two in the evening. We'd hired a new girl, Tina, to replace Abby who took a better-paying job at Target. Tina was cute and petite, with short red hair and freckles. She had eyes green like a lime. She had lots of energy but little common sense. What do they teach kids in school these days? To her credit I had only to show her something once or twice and she got it.

Tina finished her morning shift as I finished my second massage and we bumped into each other in the small locker room the staff shared. She was eager to leave.

"Gymnastics meet," she said. "I vault and uneven parallel. You know those?"

I explained I was a gymnast through high school and college and her face lit up.

"I knew I liked you!"

"Scholarship, in fact. I placed sixth in State."

"Wow, Mrs. Rhoades, that's impressive. What about after college?"

I shrugged. "Only Worlds and the Olympics and I was nowhere near good enough for those. I had my fun though."

She unzipped her top and whipped it off over her head. Beneath she wore a sheer bralette to cover her small breasts but the nipples showed through and I got flustered. Down came her pants.

Her body was firm and tight with great musculature. Her ass looked fantastic but I kept my mouth shut. I was already uncomfortable with her complete comfort. She was either oblivious to how hot she was or fully aware and great at acting nonchalant. Her tiny thong panties hid nothing.

Maybe she was naïve enough to think girls don't look at other girls like that?

"I do all right," she continued, pulling a gym bag out of her locker. "I'm getting better every week. I'm ranked third in the state at vault and I've only been doing it for a little while. Maybe I could take first."

Her smile was contagious.

"Maybe. Best of luck."

She started pulling items from her gym bag and I took the opportunity to eat her alive with my gaze. Jesus. In just one hot, bisexual session Abby had opened my eyes to how sexy the female body can be. I looked away before I got caught.

We chatted a while as she changed clothes and then she was out the door and on her way. I sat on the bench and collected myself.

I had the house to myself when I got home and watched Ellen and started some laundry. When that finished, I thawed some chicken for dinner.

With Josh and Tony available to me, I called neither.

Soon it was time to return for my two evening massages and after I signed in I checked the board. The first name I did not recognize but the second was Thomas, a handsome young quarterback type with a pretty dick and pretty muscles. He was too young for me, or at least that's what I told myself, but after recent events I guess I should just shut up.

I finished the first client; an older black gentleman with nerve damage which caused muscles twitching down his right side. He left impressed with my technique and promised to return and I believed him. My client list of regulars had grown long.

I prepared the room for Thomas and of course I was nervous. I'd not seen him in weeks but he always got to me. I snickered at the memory of Abby's face when I'd made her touch him that first visit. I set the music I knew he liked and placed the basket with the towel and nylon shorts on the massage table. I punched the intercom button and told our other receptionist, Tonya, to send Thomas back.

Behave, I told myself.

Thomas looked great; blonde-haired, green-eyed, athletic physique and smooth skin. He was an athlete at the university but I could not recall which sport. We exchanged pleasantries and I left him alone to change. He knew the routine. Tonya and I killed a few minutes bitching about the price of manicures.

I reentered the room and locked the door, as always, and got to work. Thomas was face down with the towel over his round butt. I pumped lotion, asking him how life was treating him.

“Great,” he said.

I rolled my eyes behind him. Aren’t unexpressive men wonderful?

The clothes basket stuck out so I pushed it under the table with a knee and noticed the nylon shorts were still in it. My eyes jumped to the towel. Was Thomas naked under there? That would be a first.

I kept the conversation casual and spare as I worked his trapezius and moved across his scapula to the teres minor and major. His moans made my heart flutter.

I continued working down his back until I reached the towel. I sent my fingers under, working the fascia and then rolling right into the gluteus. If he minded I was under his towel, he sure didn’t show it.

I worked up the other side and told him to flip while I went for more lotion. Back at the table, I started at the anterior deltoid. I may have seemed focused but I couldn’t wait to get to his lower abdomen.

I followed his oblique south until I met the fuzzy edge of the towel, which, acting bored and like I do this every time, I pushed several inches lower, exposing the top of his trim pubic hair.

What a fucking male specimen. Tina had a hot little female body but goddamn, nothing pushes my buttons like men. I keep working at the edge of the towel and he seemed fine with it.

“I’ve found some tension and want to follow it,” I said, trying to sound disinterested and professional at the same time.

“No worries,” he muttered. “Do what you gotta do, Doc.”

I love it when they call me Doc.

I let my hand nudge his towel low enough to expose the base of his shaft while concentrating my attention on his arcuate line. I leaned into the massage, continuing my charade and my descent, until I’d bumped his towel low enough only the head remained hidden. My face was inches above his young cock. I had to see it. I let a stray elbow brush the towel aside and there he was; long, plump, veiny, healthy pink and delicious. Fat balls rested under and behind.

God, I fucking love dicks. They mesmerize me. I have a few girlfriends that feel the same way. Some are better left covered, sure, but most are fascinating. I pretended I hadn't noticed but like a bitch I aimed my hot breath down at it. How do you like that Mister Thomas?

He liked it plenty. He began to swell. Not like here comes a raging erection but more like that feels nice keep doing that. His cock lengthened as it grew. The head was filling faster than the shaft and already had a purplish hue. Several veins bulged as they carried blood where it was needed.

Like I said; fascinating. I exhaled all over it again.

I've massaged Thomas a dozen times or more and other than that one time I brought Abby in, I've always kept it strictly professional. Even that time with Abby, really. That record was in serious jeopardy.

"How's that feel?" I asked. "Everything okay?"

"Everything's perfect," he breathed. "You're the expert. You do what you want."

Fuck. Why didn't he just grab my head and fuck my mouth like I wanted him to?

I exhaled a wash of hot air over his puffy cock. He had to know my face, my mouth, was mere inches from his dick.

On the other hand, he did say I should do whatever I want.

I leaned closer and licked from behind his crown all the way up to the base, up and over fat veins like speed bumps. I lifted my tongue only after I encountered pubic hair. I felt the pulsing life of his young dick, the strong heartbeat of an athlete throbbing against my taste buds. His lungs emptied in a long and heavy wheeze.

"Yeaaaaahhhhh..."

I moved the heel of my hand over his quadricep and slurped the head of his pretty dick into my mouth. I pressed the muscles against the femur and carefully drove my palms towards his hip, while gently suckling the tip of his cock. The dual pleasure made him clutch the table. He was growing in my mouth, heat and blood pouring in. Once he'd stiffened enough, I began to bob and suck while kneading his thigh. When he moaned loudly, I told him to be quiet or I'd have to stop. He bit his lips shut.

He was quickly hard and I took him as deep as possible, swinging around to his other thigh once I'd finished the first. He covered his mouth with both hands. I continued his massage while simultaneously sucking his penis.

“I’m gonna cum,” he warned after a while. I sucked harder and bobbed faster and continued the massage. Soon he was spurting and lifting his hips as he clamped his jaw to make no sound. I sucked his hot male essence and drained his balls.

I fucking love dicks.

I left him weak and breathing hard as I moved on to his calves and then his feet, his milky taste coating my lips and tongue.

When I finished, I told him to take his time dressing and meet me at the register. He gave me a groggy wave.

Tonya and I small-talked until he showed, paid his bill and departed. She suspected nothing and he said nothing. She cashed out my tips and I gathered my things. The urge to call Tony or Josh on my drive home had never been stronger.

Robert was working in the office and we caught up on our day but I left the Thomas blowjob out of our conversation. I couldn’t tell you why.

Two days later I was at work and a good-looking twenty-something gentleman walked in and asked if Madison Rhoades worked there.

“That’s me,” I said, raising my hand.

“Thomas sent me. My name is Dane.”

I kept my face straight so Tonya suspected nothing.

“Tommy said you fixed his muscle spasms. I’d like you to do for me what you did for him.”

I gave Dane a solid once-over. He was easy to look at; a little over six feet, fit, black hair and trim beard. A face like a young George Michael.

“Absolutely, Dane. I’m happy to take care of you. Tonya will get your information and then come back to room three. I’ll go set up.”

I gave him a nice, professional nod.

Fuck. What did Thomas say, exactly, and was Dane expecting a blowjob too?

I got the room ready and was just setting the basket with the towels and shorts on the table when Dane walked in. I gave him the same pitch as everybody, asked what music he liked, and then told him I’d step out while he changed.

When I went back in he was face down, towel across his ass, nylon shorts still in the basket.

So, it’s gonna be like that, is it?

Unlike Thomas, Dane was a chatterbox. Despite being on guard I liked him right away. As I started on his traps and worked my way down, we talked about school and sports and the human body. On the way up the other side, we discussed how awkward dating could sometimes be. I finished and told him to flip while I refilled my lotion.

I stepped to the table again and started on his pecs. He had a lovely body; lean and strong but not too muscular. He either had little body hair or got himself waxed. I approached the towel over his hips carefully, determined to send no message at all. I needn't have worried; when I got near his belly button, he pulled the towel aside and dropped it on the floor.

"Sorry. Do you mind? The fabric is scratching my skin."

I gulped. "No problem. Happens all the time."

His hairlessness included his genitalia and for a girl who enjoys the sight of a penis, let me tell you that was delightful. He looked clean and tasty but the absence of hair also made him look bigger and more pronounced, like his hips were lifted off the table even though they weren't.

My mouth literally watered.

Was this my new path now? Sucking off handsome young men?

Fine with me.

I enveloped his cock head and vacuumed him in and moved my hand to knead his thigh. His hand quickly rose to rest on the back of my head.

"Perfect," he murmured. "Thank you."

He lasted longer than Thomas but in the end, he fed me his seed too, squirting all over my flapping tongue.

Chapter 4

After that, word got out. Thomas and Dane were part of a small clique of guys at the university, all part of the same fraternity, all athletes, all studying business administration. I met Andy and Steve and Tyler and each came to see me for identical treatment and each received my very best care. They were nice looking and clean and polite, with no time for girlfriends in their bruising student-athlete schedule. I was perfect for them. For the next three weeks, I got to know them all.

Steve had a cock half the size of his friends and the shape reminded me of Robert. Andy had a cock twice the size of his friends and the first time I moved that towel I gasped. He asked if something was wrong and I said no, but I stopped the massage to hold him upright with both hands and suck the living hell out of him. His cock was fucking beautiful. I never did finish any of his massages.

I finally told Robert what was happening. He was upset I'd kept silent for so long but understood when I shared with him what I was feeling about performing.

"This is all mine," I said. "And I know you love it when I'm slutty. You'd hate it if I was doing any of this just to please you. Like I was only acting because it turns you on."

"That's true."

"I'm trying figure out how all this works, Honey."

"Have you seen Josh without telling me?"

"Never."

He paused and then ploughed ahead, afraid of my answer to his next question. "What about Tony?"

I grinned and let him suffer for a few seconds. "No, Baby. Those guys are part of our game. I'd never do something with them and leave you out. These college guys are all mine."

He seemed to accept that but he's so unreadable. Who knows?

Thomas came to see me a few days later and he was already hard when I turned to face the table. The towel was on the floor.

"Rough week?" I asked.

"Hell yes." He gripped his cock and held his erection vertical. Such a romantic.

I looked at him lying on the table, waiting for me to suck his dick. Nice body, young, handsome face, erection aimed at the ceiling. He paid his money, he expected to be serviced.

Dumb kid. Most women would have gotten angry. I liked it. Yes, technically this made me a whore. I was a whore to all five of them. I should feel shame, right? I was supposed to think less of myself, as a woman, but all I felt was thrilled. I moved to the table and engulfed his cock. I rubbed his balls while sucking and bobbing. I forgot about the massage and focused on making him cum as fast and as hard as I could. I was thirsty to drink his sperm. I wanted to feel slutty.

I got my wish. I added a hand to his shaft, stroking as my mouth moved up and down, and then coated a finger in spit and pushed it up his ass. He choked and coughed and his cock started spitting jizz. I sucked it out of him with a powerful vacuum, wrecking him.

He looked stunned: "Holy shit, what was that?"

"Little trick I learned."

His head fell back on the table. "Jesus, Mrs. Rhoades, you're amazing."

"I like to think so." I wiped my mouth on the towel. "Let's get started."

He looked sheepish. "Well, uh, actually I only came here for that."

"Looks suspicious, doesn't it? You're back here just long enough for a blowjob and then off you go? Are you trying to get me fired?"

His face fell. "Oh my God, no! I'm sorry. You're right. That was stupid. What do we do? I actually need to leave."

I thought for a moment. "What's your phone number? I'll call you so out in the waiting room they hear your phone ring and then we say you got a call and need to leave. I'll put a credit on your account for next time."

"You're amazing."

"You said that already. Thank you again."

I flustered him. I dialed his phone and we let it ring a few times. He answered and went through a charade of a conversation and then told me he had to leave.

"Before I leave, can I ask you something personal?"

"Sure."

"Does your husband know about me and my friends? What you do for us?"

"No, you cannot ask."

"I'm sorry."

"Private stuff between married couples should stay private."

"I only ask because I want to ask you something else."

I gave him a funny look. "Ask what?"

"Will you be my date at the homecoming party?"

I laughed out loud. "Thomas, please, I'm probably twice your age."

"Yeah, but you're hot. I'll be honest, I'll be using you to make a girl jealous. Sara Rawlings. She says she doesn't have time for college boys and I can't get her to see me and my friends are more mature than the rest of the frat."

"Oh God. This would be a frat party?"

"Yes. Will you do it? I'll pay you, just like I do for the massages."

Our eyes met. He was so hopeful.

"Let me think about it. How much?"

"Fair enough. Three hundred."

I watched him get dressed.

Out in the lobby Tonya gave us a funny look.

"He got a call," I volunteered. "Has to leave."

That satisfied her.

As I drove home I laughed again. A frat party? Seriously?

Robert got all excited by the idea and told me I should go.

"You'd be encircled by hot young men," he said. "Picture it, Maddie. They'd fawn over you. You'd be their Princess."

"You want me to be naughty."

He grinned.

"I have to be careful, Robert. I want to keep my job."

"Understood. You'll help Thomas win his lady true."

"You're terrible." I leaned against his chest and offered him my lips. We kissed. "You just want me to come home well fucked by a gang of horny college boys."

I felt his body temperature rising. "That would be exciting, yes."

Chapter 5

The frat house was not what I expected. This fraternity had to be one of the wealthiest on campus. Across the street from the university, inside a gated community, I'd have to call it a mansion. In Vegas, they tend to build flat instead of up so while only single story, the place was sprawling.

I dressed conservatively; heels and knee-length black dress, pearls; necklace and earrings. A slit up the side and some decent cleavage kept me from looking too prudish. I wasn't there to chaperone.

The girls at the party gave me one look and hated me. I liked that. Thomas had sent a black sedan around to pick me up and Robert had been so excited kissing me goodbye he'd trembled.

Thomas met the car in the driveway and opened my door and then gave me a tour. Eyes followed us everywhere. Andy and Steve and Dane and Tyler were all there too, each with a date on their arm but big smiles for me. The girls were eaten alive with jealousy. I had Thomas point out the girl he wanted and I admit, she was pretty. She wore construction boots and a black tank and jeans with pretentious rebellious rips in them and I thanked God I was no longer that young. Her long blonde hair was held back with a clasp. Nice tits. Nice ass.

The three hundred dollars was fine but I wasn't there for the money. I played my role to the hilt. I stayed close to Thomas, engaging in deep and meaningful conversation, acting grown-up and touching him appropriately but often. Before long I saw Sara's eyes flash green with jealousy. Mission accomplished.

Tom had calculated how to get the girl's attention, but not what to do with it after. I sighed and told him I'd return shortly. "Ladies' room," I whispered playfully into his ear. I knew while I was gone, Miss Sara would make her move.

After, I saw them talking by the French doors so I allowed Dane to distract me. His date was talking to the debate captain.

"Musical chairs," I said, whipping a finger around the room at all the shifting couples.

"Yeah." He pointed at his date with his beer bottle. "Let's face it; I'm not smart enough for Dani."

"Well you're smart enough for me. Tell me something nice to ease my broken heart. That bastard Thomas has fallen for another."

He laughed. "Heal your shattered heart, my Lady. These girls are a shadow of you, Mrs. Rhoades. They can only hope to aspire to someday rise to your level."

I gave him a blank stare. "Dane, that was lovely. I was kidding."

"I'm not. Me and the guys think you're awesome; smart, beautiful, confident." He leaned in. "And sexually secure. These college girls have no idea what they want yet."

I took his arm. "I saw a pool table in the den. Do you play?"

"I do."

An hour later Andy joined us, letting me know Thomas had left with Sara. I took a bow. Andy and Dane stayed with me playing one game after another, drinking beers and talking. Others from the party stopped by and joined for a time before moving on. After a while the traffic died and it was just we three. Dane said he was going to go run a check on the house and yard and would return soon.

I sank the eight-ball and marked my win on the chalkboard.

"I'm two games up on you both," I bragged.

I turned to taunt him but found his eyes on me and a hungry look on his face. He sent his gaze down my body slowly and back up again so I did the same to him. He was lean and strong, like the others, blonde hair, blue eyes, pointy chin. I tried to guess his sport by his physique.

"Tennis?"

"Lacrosse. They all tell me you finish their massages but mine you did not."

"I'm guessing you want a refund?"

"No. I'm wondering why."

I looked at his crotch and then back to his eyes. "You know why."

He tossed his cue on the felt tabletop, scattering balls. "Yes, I do, and I want more than just a blowjob."

"Shut the door," I said.

He did as I asked and then came around my end of the billiards table. I waited as he circled behind and kissed the nape of my neck. He gently eased his chest against my back so I reached around to grip his butt and pull his crotch against my ass. Too many attractive young people at this party. I was hot and horny. Knowing what Andy carried around in his pants helped too.

"Don't make me wait," I breathed. "Put it in me."

Andy bent me at the waist and shoved my face onto the pool table. My head knocked some balls around. He yanked my dress over my ass and fumbled with his zipper. I was biting my lip, anticipating a nice fat penetration.

"Jesus you're wet," he said. His finger ran up and down a few times and then slipped inside.

I was craving cock, not a finger. "Fuck me," I rasped.

"Slow the fuck down," he ordered. "I want to remember this. You're fucking hot and this looks amazing. I can't believe this is happening. I want to enjoy it."

I tried to be patient but my pussy ached. I needed something bigger than a finger.

“Goddamn it, Andy, fuck me.”

He laughed. I felt pressure at my opening and then a slab of hard meat traveled up my tunnel. I remembered he was only an inch or two longer than the others but he was much bigger around and I felt that difference now. My hole spread and my walls expanded. He felt glorious in there. He held my hips and started hammering away, the way young men always do. Perfect. I must have been carrying a lot of sexual tension because I felt the first tingling of a climax right away.

“You’re going to make me cum,” I grunted.

He laughed again.

I heard the door open and looked up to see Dane return. He was surprised but recovered quickly, shutting the door and shedding clothes.

Uh oh.

“Move her around, dude,” he said. “I want to fuck her mouth.”

Andy grabbed my hair and backed away from the pool table. These guys were strong. Dane walked up, hard dick swinging, and I braced myself on his hairless thighs. He poked my lips with his dick and I opened. Each fucked me at their own rhythm so my body jerked and flopped.

“If only Jessica could see you now,” Andy said.

What. The. Fuck.

I pushed Dane out of my mouth with my tongue and turned my torso to glare at Andy. “What the fuck did you just say?”

He looked worried. “I made a joke about your daughter catching you like this.”

I pushed Dane away and pulled myself off Andy. “You guys know my daughter?”

“We went to high school with her,” Dane said. “I met you at the Halloween carnival three years ago. Jessy was a freshman. You don’t remember? You met Steve before too. He’s even been to your house to study with Jessica.”

Fuck. Fuck fuck fuck.

Andy reached out to touch my arm. “You’re our fantasy mom,” he said. “We’ve all had the hots for you since forever. I thought you knew.”

“I can’t fuck you if you know my daughter. That’s too close to home. Jesus.”

Dane's smile faded. "I think that logic is backward," he said. "It's too late. Now you should fuck us because we know your daughter. We've got dirt on you."

My jaw dropped. "Are you threatening me?"

Dane and Andy looked at each other. Andy shrugged. "Yeah, I guess we are. Keep going or we tell."

Neither seemed menacing so I couldn't tell if they were fucking with me or not. Were they testing for my reaction? Do I call their bluff? What bargaining chip did I have?

Dane lifted his erection and pointed it at my face. "I believe you were sucking my dick?"

What a moment. I had nothing to gain and everything to lose. Fucking bastards. Never trust frat boys. That was rule one in college. I'd learned it well and forgotten all about it. I was furious; angry at them and angry at me. The worst part is in searching their faces, I still couldn't tell if they were serious or just fucking with me. Would they tell Jessica? How could I be so fucking stupid? Dane wagged his dick like he was teasing a dog with a bone.

Son of a bitch.

Andy took my shoulders and bent me over again. "Suck his dick," he said.

I did as I was told but my mind raced, wondering how to get out of this. Dane held my head like he was worried I'd bite him so I grabbed his hips and pulled him forward. I anger-sucked his cock while Andy reinserted himself in my pussy.

I'm such a sex fiend. In two minutes, I was dripping wet and loving dick at both ends. In some ways, I liked it more because it was coerced. I'd gone from cocky and superior to submissive and powerless and it felt good. I was being used, true, but because I'd been chosen by them as the woman they all wanted. I felt urgency in their desire. They'd wanted me for a long time. I wasn't some random girl at a party. I was Mrs. Rhoades. They'd talked about me for years, yearning. I was a fantasy object. I liked that.

Andy had no conscience. If his dick was happy, he was happy. He held my hips and piledrove my little hole, occasionally smacking my ass and high-fiving Dane. He had big balls and they slapped my pussy often and despite my terrible situation, I felt the inkling of an orgasm return.

When I looked up, Dane had unbuttoned his shirt and washboard abs stared me in the face. That sent a thrill through me and I moaned. Andy heard it and pounded me faster.

“She’s digging this shit,” he told Dane. “Fuck her.”

With the instant teamwork young men are so good at, they timed their thrusts and fucked me from both ends.

I confess my pussy gushed. So much about this was wrong but I got turned on anyway. They worked me over a long time. Andy swelled first and began to spray cum in me while making sounds like he was being strangled. His extra thickness rubbed me exactly the right way and I climaxed too, moaning and groaning around Dane’s dick as I came. Poor Dane wasn’t sure what to do so he pulled out of my mouth, grabbed my shoulder with one hand to help us balance, and jerked off hard and fast, shooting hot sticky cum all over my face and neck. Andy was down to grunts and small jerks of his hips. When he staggered backward I reached for the pool table and went to one knee.

“Fuckers,” I mumbled.

I was staring at the floor when I felt liquid drip out of my pussy onto my ankle. Andy’s sperm leaked. I heard a click behind me and turned to see him with his dick still hanging out of his pants and his phone in hand, snapping pictures.

“What the fuck, Andy? No pictures.”

He snapped another. “Insurance, Mrs. R.”

This kid was going places. We all stood and arranged our clothing and then, as young men tend to do after climax, they ran. Not actually but they made excuses and quickly got themselves out the door. I dropped into a battered green La-Z-Boy, wondering how fucked I truly was. I saw a towel hanging near the chalkboard and used it to wipe my face and neck. Young men cum so much. I dabbed at my pussy too but most of Andy had been injected deep.

I needed to get out of this house. What a fucking disaster. A checked my appearance in a Budweiser mirror and grabbed my clutch from the bar. Behind me the door closed.

Steve and Tyler were obviously nervous but looked determined.

“I ran into Andy in the kitchen,” Tyler said. “And he told me what’s up. You need to take care of me and Steve now.” He moved to the couch in the far corner.

I stared them down but those little fuckers wouldn't melt.

"Fine," I snarled. "Let's get this over with."

I tugged Steve's pants down and sucked him into my mouth and told Tyler to fuck me from behind. The boys were so overwhelmed and intimidate Steve shot after a minute. Tyler lasted a little longer before adding his batch to Andy's.

On the way out of the house I pulled Andy aside to make sure we were even. He assured me we were and even promised to delete the picture after a while. I was in over my head. My first venture without Robert had blown up in my face. I felt stupid.

At home, my husband tried to show compassion but the poor man was worked up by my story. Once he knew I had a womb full of jizz he was so distracted I kept losing him. I was already annoyed and cranky so I pushed him onto his back and lifted my dress and lowered my sticky cunt to his mouth. That made us both feel better. I swear his tongue has magical powers.

After I finished venting he probed for more detail and I knew he was fishing for erotic nuggets. I was acting like a bitch so I calmed down determined to turn the experience into something sexy for us both.

"Did you orgasm?" he asked.

"Yes."

"When? I mean with whom? How?"

I knew what his real question was. We were in bed now so I snuggled under his arm and looked up at him.

"When Andy was behind me, holding my hips and fucking me so well. His cock reached deep, Baby, and he's so thick. I couldn't help it. I wanted to be angry but his dick made me forget all about that. I got really wet and then I came."

I reached under the blanket and found Robert stiff. I tickled his balls and grazed his penis with my nails, teasing.

"I've behaved like a spoiled princess these last weeks. I'm sorry."

He kissed my head. "This is uncharted territory for us both."

I took his hand and guided a finger into my molten mess of a pussy.

"But you like this...right?"

"I do."

"Because a slutty wife is an exciting wife."

"Yes."

I rolled onto my back. “Jack off while you eat me, Honey. I want to see you fantasizing about me.”

We hadn’t done this for a while but I knew he liked it. A little humiliating, yes, but it was just us. I leaned back and watched him bury his face in my pussy and wondered what could possibly be in this for him. He was braced on his knees so he could lick me at the same time he stroked his dick. He looked up and saw me watching and a wave of arousal washed over him. He jerked faster and groaned. I began to wonder what I could add to excite him further.

“Andy’s a little rough with his dick,” I said. “Should I bring him back here and have you teach him how to fuck me? You know exactly what to do. Too bad your dick isn’t big like his. You could show him how to ease his dick inside and then fuck me strong and smooth. He’s just some dumb kid with a fat cock who doesn’t know any better. You could tutor him, Baby. You could show him how to use that fat cock.”

He was licking me faster.

“Of course, that means you’d have to touch his cock. I know how you guys are about that. You’d have to hold it and so him exactly what to do.”

When he didn’t much react, I decided to push the envelope a little. If he won’t tell me what his edges are I’ll find them myself.

“I want you to lick my pussy while we’re fucking. God, that would feel amazing. You want to lick us as we fuck, Baby?”

Again, he moaned and seemed to love the idea.

“Maybe we can suck his dick together?” I said. Robert continued to feast on me. I wracked my brain for what to say next. I tried to guess what he’d like.

“Maybe he should fuck us both? You can lie on top of me, your asshole right over my pussy. We can make out while he first fucks my cunt and then your ass. Can you imagine a man dominating us?”

Robert groaned and pushed his tongue far up my flooded pussy.

I thought I might be on to something but then I considered perhaps it was not the ideas which excited Robert, but the fact it was me expressing them. Maybe he just loved to hear his wife talk dirty. Maybe he had no interest in doing any of them.

I’m not a psychologist. I’m an ex-gymnast. I have no education in human sexuality. The only human sexuality I know anything about is my own, and I'm not even fully up to speed on that. Frustration welled in me.

Robert is a grown man. It's not my job to figure out what he likes. It's his job to tell me. If he doesn't know, then we try new things. We keep the ones we like and drop the ones we don't. I was trying to think of everything but then worrying about everything I thought of. It was exhausting.

I put both hands on the back of his head and lost myself in his magical tongue. I love when Robert goes down on me but I especially love it when he eats me like this; slick and dirty and full of other men. I feel my most slutty.

"Stop jacking off," I said.

Robert looked at me questioning. From now on I was going to do what I want, but I was going to include Robert. Robert was responsible to tell me what he liked and did not like.

"Hand me my phone, please. Thank you, Baby"

"What's going on?"

"I think we need to be honest about what we want."

He nodded slowly.

"And I realized what I want is Tony to fuck me."

Robert's face fell. I grabbed his hair and guiding his mouth back down to my slit. Tony's phone rang as Robert got busy.

"Hey," I said when he answered. "You busy?"

"Parents are visiting. What's up?"

"Tell them Madison says hello." I loved that Robert was listening in. I was sure the familiar intimacy got to him. "I'm calling because I want you to come over and fuck my brains out."

Robert moaned and Tony choked.

"What about Robert?" Tony asked.

"Robert is right here listening to us and licking my pussy."

"No shit? God, I wish I could. What about Friday around eight? You guys live in the same place?"

"Yes, and Friday at eight works."

"Nothing gay, right? Robert's not going to try anything with me?"

I pet Robert's hair. "No, nothing gay. Maybe some incidental touching. I want him to put your cock in me."

"Jesus, you guys got kinky as fuck. Yeah, that sounds cool. Friday, then?"

“See you.”

We punched off. Of course, Robert said nothing, as usual, but this time I didn't worry about it.

“Make me cum,” I instructed. “Your tongue is Heavenly.”

Chapter 6

Andy called the next day. He told me to come to the frat house because he wanted more and I said no.

“That's cool. Steve has Jessica's phone number. I'll get it from him and send her your picture.”

“You said we were even. When does this end, Andy?”

“Why would it end. Mrs. Rhoades? For what possible reason would I ever let this end? Let those guys bail if they want. I still want to fuck you.”

“The others are out?”

“Yeah. Thomas had a magical night with Sara. Dane thinks Dani might come around. Steve is mortified every time he takes his penis out, and Tyler feels what we're doing is wrong.”

“It is wrong you idiot.”

“I know that, I just don't give a shit. Come to the frat house.”

I nervously chewed on the inside of my mouth. “When?”

“Whenever. I'm home all day, studying.”

“See you then.”

Fucking asshole.

I'd already finished my morning massage sessions and was done for the day. Robert was at work and would be home late evening. I headed for my walk-in closet and flipped through clothing and then laughed. Andy's a prick but you've got to give him credit for balls. Most of me loathed him but part admired him. Part was flattered he demanded more just twelve hours later.

Campus full of hot co-eds and Andy wants me.

Girls talk. He was smart, good-looking, ambitious, came from a good family and had a nice fat dick. Surely Andy had told some other girl no so he could be with me. The thought flattered me.

All right. Let's do this then.

Two-fifty-five I knocked on his screen door. I wore a tight purple miniskirt and periwinkle sports top two sizes too small so tits are spilling out left and right. Black flip-flops completed my trashy wardrobe. I'd curled my hair and done my makeup too. I turned heads all the way to his doorstep.

He opened the door and gawked. "Holy shit!"

"Thank you," I said. "May I come in?"

He wore baggy shorts and a green Boston Celtics tank top, but those were off the moment we entered his room. He shut the door and threw the deadbolt and turned around to stare at me again, kicking his shorts across the room.

"You are hot like fire, Mrs. Rhoades."

Yeah, I ate it up. Fuck off. Talk to me once you're a middle-aged mother.

I let my eyes travel his young male body and I melted a little. I couldn't help it. Abs and pecs and gluts and a nice, healthy, rosy, dick hanging in front of me.

"You look so good I'm going to fuck you with your clothes on."

In all my years and all my wild shenanigans, no man has ever said something that me hit me as hard or as sweetly as those words. But it wasn't just the words; it was also the look of pure and innocent appreciation in his eyes. It was just so gut-wrenchingly honest. He already had me. I was a guaranteed thing. He had no ulterior motive to say something like that, no reason to flatter me. He was a ruthless scheming bastard but in that moment, he was vulnerable.

My jaw dropped and tears welled.

He was too busy ogling me to notice what he'd done but all at once I was ready to spend the rest of my day fucking this young man. He walked a slow circle around me and I drank in every drop. By the time he was in front of me again, his cock ran parallel to the floor. Veins and ridges stood out and my legs went weak. He nonchalantly tugged the loose skin back and forth.

He studied my face. "I expected you to be pissed but I see you want it too."

I reached for the skirt zipper but he stopped me. "No. I mean it. Stay dressed."

I reached under my skirt and tugged my purple panties down and then stepped forward and swatted his hand away from his pretty meat. I knelt, resting my ass on my heels and locking my hands behind my back. I licked the top of his cock from head to stomach. I looked up and found him looking down, mesmerized. I held his dick up and bathed every inch, getting the skin wet to allow for easy passage. When I'd coated him in saliva, I pulled him down to the floor and straddled him. My favorite position. His eyes were as big as tennis balls. One knee down and the other up, I held his cock vertical with one hand and spread my labia with the other. We both watched as my pussy engulfed him in warm, tight, wet.

True to his word, he left my clothing on. I rode him hard, getting rug burns on both knees and the tops of my feet. I came twice and I was kissing his young lips when his dick fountained a geyser of sperm in my pussy.

We rested and discovered we had almost nothing in common and nothing to talk about. I asked about school but what was a big deal to him I knew in two years would be meaningless. We talked favorite movies and books for a time and then I kissed down his body and blew him until he filled my mouth with cream. I got horny despite my best efforts not to.

"Wait here," Andy said. He threw on his shorts and left the room.

I stared at the ceiling seriously wondering my life choices. What was I even doing here? Fucking on the floor in a frat house? I didn't do that while I was in college.

Andy returned with a tall young black man. "This is Deter."

"Hello, Deter."

"I'm going to go study in another room while you suck Deter's cock."

Deter grinned but I did not. All the usual arguments jumped into my mouth but I said nothing. What was there to say? Andy had me and until he let me go I was stuck. My only hope was to appeal to his sense of humanity or right and wrong but I think he had both in short supply. More likely he'd grow bored first.

Andy left the room, pulling the door closed behind him. Deter looked me up and down and his grin broke into a smile.

"Stand by the bed," I instructed.

He hurried. I grabbed a pillow for my knees and opened Deter's pants. His average dick had a nice shape and was brown like dark chocolate. I liked that. I took my time but Deter came fast anyway and then hurried from the room. I sighed.

The bedroom door opened and a tall, redheaded kid with freckles across his nose entered. He was nervous.

“Um, Andy said—“

I held up a hand. “Sit.”

One by one they came to me; shy, cocky, handsome, nerdy. I sucked one cock after the next. None of them tried to fuck me and I wondered if Andy had claimed that right as his alone. I had a jungle of penises dangled in my face and left the house with such a conflict of emotions I had to stop at Starbucks before heading home.

I dropped my keys and purse and poured a glass of cabernet. Robert walked in the door about thirty minutes after me and asked how my day went, kissing my lips and hugging me. He noticed nothing and I wondered if I’d so quickly adapted to my new situation or if he was just oblivious.

He poured himself a bourbon and we leaned on the kitchen counter. He went first, sharing stories of office politics, and then it was my turn. When I’d finished, he openly gaped at me.

“Holy shit,” he muttered.

“Yeah. Some day, hm?”

“How many?”

I knew what he meant. “Eight? Ten?”

He glanced around, nervous. I read him easily. He was turned on and wanted me but worried after a day like today I’d be exhausted and burnt out. Honestly, after all those dicks, I was horny again. We brought our drinks with us into the bedroom and he went down on me as usual, but this time he fucked me too, pulling out as he came and shooting all over my back.

Later in the day I asked why he pulled out of his wife’s pussy and he said he liked the idea that Andy was in there alone. He wanted to leave it like that.

Sex is so different for men and women. Men think they own you after they cum in you. I never feel like I own a man after he cums in me. I do feel a strong connection, but never a sense of ownership.

As we fell asleep that night I lay staring at the dark ceiling. Sex had become such a common part of my daily life. Less than a year ago, Robert and I were a typical boring married couple. How quickly things completely changed. Now I felt saturated with sex, surrounded by it all the time. A steady diet of hot college boys was nice but there was something lacking. I had no emotional connection to those young men.

All that changed Friday evening when Tony visited.

Chapter 7

Robert was a nervous wreck. When the knock on the door came, he jumped and put his hand over his heart. I said nothing because what was there to say? Another man was there to fuck me in front of him and not just any other man, but Tony, my husband's longtime rival.

Despite the belly, Tony entered the room like a champion,. He wore blue jeans and a tight white T-shirt over his stomach. Robert caught my hungry look and winced, and I saw doubt flash behind his eyes for the first time. I know he wondered why it had to be Tony.

I wore a white teddy and panties. No sense wasting time. I'd seen Andy every day this week but all that did was make me thirsty for real sex, and I was done messing around. I pointed at the loveseat.

"Sit."

Robert gave me a blank look, debating, then sat.

Tony grinned. "It's going to be like that, hm?"

I stepped up to him and let him take me in his arms. Our kisses have a history and a passion and I held nothing back. I needed this. I needed Robert to see this. After a moment Tony shoved me out to arm's length.

"Jesus, Maddie," he said, his eyes roaming the teddy.

I knocked his arm away and came in for another kiss.

"My cunt is soaked," I growled, using the word Tony loves to hear me say.

"Let's not keep her waiting."

I wasn't trying to drive Robert from the room but this time I wasn't going to keep it from happening either. I was going to do exactly what I wanted without reservation. Robert and I could sort things out later.

Tony practically ripped my teddy off. I started on his clothing and discovered he'd thoughtfully skipped underwear and socks. We were both naked in less than a minute. My eyes went to his dick. His eyes went to my tits. Robert's eyes went to his dick too.

We all have our priorities, it seems.

I wanted him in my mouth but he grabbed my hair to keep me on my feet.

"No," he ordered, in a tone that gave me shivers.

"Yes, sir."

He spun me by the shoulders and shoved me towards the loveseat. He bent me at the waist so my face was even with Robert's and then spread my ass with one hand and tested my slit with the other.

"Your cunt is soaked," he confirmed. He smeared a drop of precum around the tip of his dick and sought my hole. As soon as his cock dipped, he pushed. I was gazing into Robert's eyes when I groaned from penetration.

This was going to be fast and rough and that sounded perfect to me.

Tony grabbed my hair with both hands and began to saw, building in speed and strength as I coated his cock with slippery juice. The living room filled with the sound of flesh slapping.

"Take...your...dick...out," I told my husband.

He was tentative to do that in front of Tony but he did. Tony couldn't see but I could and when his half-sized erection left his pants I smiled. I needed no words to communicate with my man. He knew the cock inside me at that moment was bigger than his and that thrilled us both. He wheezed a little and shifted and finished pulling himself through his zipper.

"Jerk it," I said.

He licked his dry lips and began.

Tony got me close fast. Too much stored sexual tension I think. I told Robert to kiss me and moved my hands to his chest. Our lips were pressed together when the first wave hit me and I orgasmed on Tony's cock while clinging to my husband. Hot.

I held nothing back and neither did Tony. With Robert as his audience he had something to prove and I admit that was part of my reason for arranging this scenario. He used his cock like a weapon, pulling it out of my body, gleaming with my excitement, showing it off to me and Robert before pinning me down and shoving it deep again.

Eventually Tony moved me away from the loveseat and when he did he saw Robert's penis. I held my breath. Tony was cool about the size difference and didn't humiliate my husband directly but he made sure Robert knew who stood at the top of the hierarchy; the bigger cock was claiming the woman and that's what nature intended. A twisted part of me enjoyed Tony's dominance over my husband. It didn't make Tony more of a man but in a primal way it made him more masculine and that turned me on.

I was on all fours on the living room carpet and Tony was walking forward on his knees when he stopped and told Robert to come around and spread my cheeks.

"Show me your wife's slit," he said.

Robert hesitated a second and then left his seat to do as Tony asked. My husband put a knee on each side of my head and leaned over the length of my body to spread my ass. Tony moved closer.

"Now grab my cock and pull me into your wife," Tony said. "Open her up and guide my dick into Maddie."

I gasped. Using my pet name was a low blow but an electric charge of excitement raced through us all. Would my husband do it? I held my breath, waiting. Robert leaned across and Tony sighed. Tony's cock head mashed my pussy lips and slipped inside and his inches began to fill me.

"Thanks," Tony said.

Unbelievable. I wanted Tony even more after that. He was top dog and I wanted his sperm in me. I was back in high school fawning over the quarterback. Robert had touched Tony's dick! He'd wrapped his finger around another man and aimed him into me. What was next? What else was possible? Adrenaline sloshed through my veins and sent my head spinning. Now that my husband had invited him in, Tony built speed until he pounded away at me. I felt sweat dripping from his face onto my butt.

After some time, I pulled off his cock and rolled onto my back, reaching between my legs to quickly guide him home again. Robert was still kneeling next to us, watching Tony fuck me from only inches away.

I spread my legs wider.

"Lick my pussy, Baby," I cooed. I spread my labia with my fingers. "I love your magic tongue. Lick my clit while Tony fucks me. Make me cum again."

Again, Robert hesitated before leaning in.

I was unprepared for how good that shit felt. Truly, almost more than I could bear. My husband's swirling tongue licked and swabbed and I sometimes felt him slip off my pussy and knew he had to be licking Tony's shaft. Holy hell. This was the hottest shit ever. My left hand went to the back of his head, forcing his face deeper between our merged bodies, and my right hand went to Tony's thigh, pulling him deeper into me. I pulled my knees towards my tits and felt surrounded by male bodies. Glorious.

I yanked Robert's leg until he moved into a sixty-nine over me. I had my husband in my mouth while my lover fucked me and I was happy. The guys apparently had an unspoken rule that any incidental contact between them was okay if the purpose was to pleasure me. I was so fine with that.

Here came another orgasm. I strapped them down with arms and legs like a pickup truck full of furniture and rocked my hips until I exploded all over Tony's cock and my husband's probing, teasing tongue.

After that I was too sensitive and fought them off so I could rest. Tony spooned me, his belly in my back, running his fingertips lightly over my skin. Robert returned to the loveseat, leaving me with my lover. I worried he felt left out until I realized he did it to get a better viewpoint. He wanted to see Tony and I together in the same frame. I caught him rubbing the front of his pants and he stopped but I muttered we should all be naked and he reluctantly undressed. I say reluctant because that was his body language but I swear I saw a glint in his eye. He liked being the smallest dick in the room. He liked Tony's alpha presence. When it came to sharing his wife with other men, my husband enjoyed a dose of humiliation mixed in. I made a mental note to always remember that.

Robert suggested we move to the bedroom. I took their hands and three naked bodies traveled the hallway and opened the door. Everything seemed surreal. I'd fucked Josh in here not too long ago. Robert was hiding then and to a degree out of sight was out of mind. I felt Robert presence but he wasn't an active participant. This was my husband and I bringing another man into our sacred chamber. I'd never look at this room or our bed the same.

I told Robert I wanted him on his back and then I climbed on top, in a sixty-nine with my husband again. I aimed my ass at Tony and he took the bait, climbing behind me and pushing his dick deep. Once he was buried I knew his hairy balls were less than an inch above Robert's face. I spread my knees as Tony fucked me until my stomach rested on Robert's chest. Tony's alpha balls grazed my husband's face.

With a little trial and error, I found I could manipulate my hips so Robert bathed Tony's shaft each time he withdrew. Within minutes I was being fucked and eaten with abandon. Neither of them cared anymore and just let the sex happen. Robert's penis stiffened in my mouth well beyond what I was used to. I came yet again and shortly after Tony did too, flooding my tunnel. Robert kept licking through it all, even after I got a little messy, and then he surprised me by groaning and spurting into my sucking mouth.

We fell apart but there was little conversation. These men had a history and once the excitement drained, they remembered it. Robert clicked on the television and we half-watched some Harry Potter movie for an hour until Tony started kissing my arm, ready to go again. Robert turned off the set and leaned against the headboard, watching his rival pleasure his woman and eventually filling her again with semen. I tried to imagine what Robert must be feeling but too much operated in guy-world, which I did not fully understand. Judging by my husband's face the sensations were agonizing, an excruciating mix of psychic pleasure and pain. He hated what he saw but he loved what he saw. He desperately wanted Tony to stop but he desperately wanted Tony to fuck me again and again.

I felt sinful and depraved. Like I said; hot.

Chapter 8

After Tony left I wondered what would happen and I was thrilled when Robert came back to the bedroom after walking him to the door and pushed me onto my back. His tongue was in me in what has now become our personal ritual. If he's fine with it, I'm fine with it. I came extra hard knowing Robert had his tongue buried in Tony.

Saturday Jessica called and we talked for over an hour. We'd not spoken since the previous weekend and she had lots to tell me.

Her excited voice fell to almost a whisper. "Mother, I had a threesome."

My brain seized. Nothing prepares you for those words out of your sweet, innocent little girl's mouth. I realized I'd paused too long and needed to speak. I cleared my throat. "You and another girl with a guy or you and two guys?"

"Wow, impressive. Nice work, mom. Good save."

"Thank you. I'm scrabbling here."

She chuckled. "Me and two guys; Giorgio and a Cuban dancer named Palo."

"I can't have this conversation, Jess. You were a baby just fifteen minutes ago. Ten minutes ago you lost your first tooth and five minutes ago you got your first period. I am freaking out."

Her voice was reassuring. "I know, mom. I debated not telling you but we've never been like that. I do not want to keep secrets from you. I need to talk to someone wiser and more experienced than my friends here. I know you were wild in your day. You've told me stories plus I found your school annuals in the garage and read the comments. I'm not trying to be like you but I was curious so I did it."

I forced myself calm. The girl needed her mother. "What did you think?"

"Well, it was intense. I can't say I loved it but I can't say I'll never do it again. The part I did love was being the center of attention. That was nice."

I could not believe our conversation. I am aware I needed to have these kinds of talks with my daughter and Robert and I always speak reality with Jess, but my fucked-up brain just pictured two hot Latino guys fucking my little girl at both ends. I shook my head. Hard.

"Have you ever done it?" she added.

Oh boy.

I sighed. "Yes."

"More than once?"

"Yes."

"And what did you think?"

"About the same as you; I can't say I loved it but the attention was nice."

"Does dad know?"

"He knows. We dated in college, before I outgrew my wild side."

"Wait. You dated dad while you partied? I thought you guys met after you put all that behind you. Did you have a threesome with dad?"

Don't judge me. Lying to your children is an important part of being a parent.

"No. Of course not."

Jessy started laughing. "Oh my God, mom, you totally freaked me out. Dad's such a nerd. I can't imagine him ever doing something like that. I thought you were trying to break the news to me gently."

She laughed again and I giggled along with her, eager for this fucking conversation to die.

"Protection?" I asked, feeling like a hypocrite.

She paused a tenth of a second too long. "Yes."

"Don't lie, Jess. What happened?"

"I'm sorry, mom. You're right. Class got canceled and Giorgio and I were home smoking a little weed. We started making love. Palo thought we were at school so he walked into our room naked looking for his shower slippers which he left in our room the night before when we were all watching a movie. Everyone freaked and then laughed like crazy and then we started talking but we were all naked, but it was no big deal, right? Giorgio started up kissing me again and then Palo started kissing me too and then I don't know what the fuck happened but there were male parts everywhere; hands and beards and muscles and lips and tons of kissing and then...well."

"Gotcha. Giorgio was cool with it?"

"Yeah. It's like Latin men are either macho assholes or passionate artist types."

"All right, Baby. Be careful. You should get that morning after pill."

"Already did."

"Good girl."

We kept talking about school and work and the future and how much we missed each other. Her mom might be a nut but that girl is smart and tough. Robert poked his head in the room and I handed him the phone and it warmed my heart to listen to them. He's such a good man. He's a fantastic dad and a wonderful husband. I had watery eyes when he gave the phone back and kissed the top of my head before leaving the room again.

Chapter 9

I had Tuesday off and hadn't heard from Andy so I called Josh to check his schedule. He said his assistant manager had things covered and if I wanted to log some miles he was down for that.

I loaded my bike and met him at the reservoir. It was too hot and too late in the day for our mountain ride and we both knew if we took that route we'd fuck at the top, and I felt like I needed a breather from my ridiculous sex life. Halfway around the lake, I wished we'd ridden the mountain.

Josh looked great. His older-man confidence and lean body made him sexy as fuck and ninety minutes in I was hot for him. The reservoir has a dedicated bike trail all the way around, wide open, flat, and public.

Back at the cars I mentioned I regretted my decision to ride the lake and he laughed.

"Yeah, me too. You look amazing. I haven't seen you since...that night."

How could I be horny? After the last few weeks you'd think I needed a break. We hugged and cheek-kissed and promised we'd try to make a Saturday morning run.

As I pulled out of the parking lot, I sent Andy a text. Twenty minutes later I was in his room with my face buried in his crotch and his young thick cock bruising the back of my throat.

Chapter 10

The weeks flew by. Andy got caught up in school and some girl in one of his classes and called only infrequently. Josh and I kept missing for a Saturday rendezvous or an evening fling. Tony stopped by twice, including a marathon session on a Saturday night when the three of us went at each other like animals. We all dripped sweat by the time we finished. I told them I felt like my sex drive was growing and they agreed it was already more than it had ever been in college.

That surprised me because it didn't match my memory but time plays funny tricks. Their observation disturbed me some so I devoted serious thought to it.

Finally, Robert and I stood at gate five, waving hello to Jessica as she pulled her suitcase behind her.

Followed by Giorgio.

Followed by Palo.

Surprise.

Robert was thrilled to hear we'd have house guests for ten days before they left on a cruise ship from Los Angeles, but that was only because I'd never gotten around to telling him about Jessica's threesome. I knew the instant I saw them all together they'd done it again, at least once but probably more. All three moved with that personal-space comfort people get after they've had sex. There's nothing quite like it if you know how to look. Robert's face told me all he saw was his sweet little baby girl, but I knew.

Jessy looked happy and well fed. She'd gained a little weight and like her mom, most went to her boobs. Her hips had opened some, possibly from the strenuous dancing and weights. Her body was now more womanly than skinny girl.

The first few nights we stayed up late, talking and getting to know the boys. They were respectful and genuine. During the days Jessica took them around to meet her friends but really she was just rubbing her girlfriend's noses in it, showing off her hot, Latino, trophy men.

Some of Jessica's friends spent the night once they found out the boys were staying with us and I saw the guys turn on the charm. Palo especially had the girls wrapped around his finger. Giorgio flirted too and I asked Jess if it bothered her.

"Not at all. We had our fun but we're just dear friends now. He'll go his way and I'll go mine. We both have too much to accomplish to get involved in a serious relationship."

A few nights later Jessica, Giorgio, and I were in the loft watching a movie. I had laundry in and Robert was working in his office. Palo had just come back from a run and was using the master shower.

The beeper sounded on the wash and I ran downstairs to move the clothing into the dryer. I know what you're thinking but I swear I'm innocent. I first pulled the previous load out of the dryer and ran it into the master bedroom to throw it on the bed.

Palo was shampooing his hair, hot sudsy water running down that delicious, dusky, hairless, dancer's body. His soft, plump cock, uncircumcised and heavy enough to pull the skin on his stomach, hung about eight inches down his thigh. Most noteworthy, however, were his gorgeous swollen balls. I imagined Jessica seeing that while she's high and making love to Giorgio. I'm high and having sex and Palo wanders into my room? I would have fucked him too.

Palo scrubbed his dark hair. I could have backed out. I had a window. I toss the clothing on the bed and head back upstairs and he rinses the shampoo and never even knows I was there.

Fuck no I didn't do that. He was sleek and graceful and lithe and hung like a Spanish bull. I stood and stared.

He dipped his head and suds flowed and he splashed his face and wiped his eyes. He shook his head, sending the pendulum of his meat gently swinging, and then opened his eyes to look right at me. He stared at me as hard as I stared at him.

That cock had been inside my daughter. This was wrong. So wrong. Wrong, wrong, wrong. I wondered if he made her orgasm with that thing and then wondered how she could have prevented one. That dick had climax written all over it.

I wanted to lick his fat balls.

Finally, I regained my composure. "We're watching a movie in the loft," I said, pointing at the ceiling. "Feel free to join us when you're finished here."

I shifted some laundry around to draw his attention so he knew I didn't just come into the bedroom to look at him, and then headed for the washing machine. I moved the wet clothes to the dryer and set the timer and climbed the stairs.

My brain was on a loop, endlessly playing sudsy Palo in slow-motion, dark skinned dick gently swaying.

I. Must. Not. Fuck. Him.

Jessy would lose her mind and all respect for me. I'd shame Robert in front of our daughter. I'd expose our secret lifestyle and shame Jess in front of family and friends.

Thick, wavy, jet black hair. Smooth olive skin. Big, dark eyes.

I dropped on the sectional next to Jess and pulled her feet into my lap.

"What'd I miss?" I asked.

Chapter 11

I tried to focus on work. I picked up additional shifts and stayed away from Tony and Josh. Andy left me alone so I did the same.

Evenings were hardest. We were suddenly a family of five and there was always someone around. Alone time disappeared. Giorgio and Palo were from large extended families and for them everything was routine but for Robert and I the shift was awkward. He had his office retreat but I had nothing and for many reasons mom is the go-to person for every crisis. Out of milk? Tell mom. Need fresh towels? Ask mom. Use the last of the detergent? Let mom know so she can buy more.

Perhaps it was their Latino background or maybe the Vegas heat, but Giorgio and Palo usually wore only boxers and wife beaters around the house. Jessy picked up their style and often wore the same. She especially loved wearing Giorgio's boxers. The wife beaters were too big for her and the guys were often treated to flashes of side and under boob. I felt like I should say something but they'd lived together for the last two months probably wearing less around each other. What's the point of trying to cover her up now?

I'd gotten off work around three and headed home to make meatloaf for dinner. I was pleased to discover I was alone in my own home. They'd mentioned hiking at Red Rock canyon last night but I poked my head into the guest room and Jessica's bedroom just to be doubly sure. Her car was gone and Robert's too.

Nice. I had at least two hours.

I changed into baggy shorts and a loose tank, turned up some music, and got started in the kitchen. It felt good to be alone.

I worked for twenty minutes and then Palo scared the hell out of me by suddenly appearing in the kitchen. I turned down the music.

"Sorry," he said. "I tried to get your attention."

"What are you doing here? I thought you were hiking?"

"Jess and G went without me. I went for a run instead. I just wanted to let you know I was home. Believe it or not I wanted to avoid frightening you."

"Thank you. I'll keep the music down."

“Not at all, Mrs. Rhoades. I love dance music, obviously. I’m going to hit the shower now. Dinner smells great.”

I watched him climb the stairs.

Leave it alone, I thought. Finish dinner. Leave it alone.

I cut carrots and celery. I heard the shower start and pictured him undressing and the tension in me began to grow. I was home alone with him. I should just get in my car and drive away but I was halfway through dinner preparations. Besides, I needed to learn some self-control. Since Robert and I learned of our new kink I’ve been a spoiled brat, doing whatever I wished. I could do without one more lover, especially since he’d also had sex with my daughter.

After ten minutes, my urges subsided. I was proud of myself.

Then I felt Palo’s hot lips kiss the back of my neck and holy shit they felt good. I jumped at first but instantly understood. I turned and there he was, naked, a bath towel resting on the kitchen counter. His hair was wet and his skin damp.

My gaze dropped. Have I mentioned I fucking love cocks?

His foreskin was long enough to cover the head and I was amazed how smooth his penis was. It almost looked polished. His huge balls were separated by the heavy shaft, one nut on each side.

“That,” I said, staring. “Is a gorgeous penis.”

He said nothing but stepped closer and kissed me. I was stiff with indecision for a full two seconds before caving completely and returning the kiss. His full lips were soft and warm and his dick thumped my thigh. I might have groaned slightly.

He took control and I just let him. First he grabbed my tank and pulled it off over my head and then down went my baggy shorts. He lifted a breast and sucked a nipple and then bit lightly, sending shivers bouncing around inside me. He moved his mouth to my other breast but his free hand followed the curves of my body, moving firmly but softly. I felt him rising against my thigh.

He turned his hips so his cock engorged in open air and kissed my lips again before feasting on one breast and then the other. When he turned me away and bent me over the sink, I did not resist. He trailed kisses down my back.

He lifted his dick and rubbed the head around my hole. I was so eager for that first penetration. I already knew his cock would feel fantastic.

I reached between my legs and cupped his heavy ball bag, rolling the twin eggs around. He filled my hand like a grapefruit. His trail of kisses made a return trip up my back and he fed my pussy his inches as he did it. I braced myself against the kitchen wall, savoring the smooth invasion. He started to fuck me.

“You are on pill?” he asked.

“Don’t worry about it,” I purred.

He chuckled. “That’s what Jessy said too.”

His words stabbed me right through the heart. If you think most women would have ended our encounter right there, you’d be right. Do not mention having sex with a woman’s daughter.

Apparently, I am not most women. His words stabbed me but my sick mind relished them. I delighted in my decadence. The same cock that had been inside my daughter was now inside me and I am a total psycho whore because I loved it. Such a surge of wicked joy rose in me I gasped loudly and told Palo to fuck my cunt deep.

Let me clear up one thing right now; if you expect me to say my husband or daughter came home unexpectedly and walked in on us, bringing our torrid fuck session to an abrupt halt, you’re wrong. No one bothered us at all.

Palo worked his cock in and out with excruciating slowness and control. That young man could fuck. He loved banging Jessy’s mother as much as I loved fucking her lover. Palo’s big balls were hot in my hand, hot and heavy and full of sperm. I pushed my pussy down on his wide penis each time he drove it deep.

Depraved lust flooded me. I craved his decadent touch. We were behaving so badly, like evil children, and I lapped it up like honey.

He pushed his cock deep and held it there, as deep as he could get it, and let the pleasure and intensity rise. He was pushing on my cervix and I groaned from the pressure but the dull ache built quickly into delight. His penis filled my cunt completely, and with the rampant firmness of youth. He was hot iron.

That’s how he made me cum the first time. He wasn’t even moving. He just buried his rigid member and shoved my sensitive tissue out of the way and held himself still until the burning knowledge of our immoral act and his deeply throbbing cock combined to take the top of my head off. I screamed in my own kitchen and clawed the marble countertop. I was fucking my daughter's lover and loving it.

After that he began to pound my dripping cunt until I came again, lifting a leg and offering him my slit completely. I even pulled an ass cheek aside to allow him deeper.

He turned me to face him and lifted my ass to the countertop. He put my feet on each shoulder and I looked down to watch his olive-skinned fuck tool pierce my opening. His pretty cock spread my labia wide and I enveloped him, swaddling him in scorching wet flesh. I was fiercely determined to drain those balls inside me. This new position made his cock even harder and I lasted a short time before cumming again.

I begged for a moment to catch my breath but no, he lifted me and carried me to the living room floor and coincidentally placed me in the exact spot Tony had fucked me not so long ago. My mind somersaulted. I glanced at the loveseat where Robert had sat watching and moaned from the bottom of my heart. This was all so insane.

Palo moved over my body and long-stroked his Latin cock fast until he sucked air and pushed deep and with one long groan, emptied his cum-filled balls straight into my womb. His body shook. He gritted his teeth. He smelled like soap and shampoo and I kissed him passionately as he poured his seed into the center of me.

When the adrenaline drained, we were horrified.

I moved to the kitchen without a word and slipped on my shorts and top and he wrapped in his towel and headed for the shower again. After, he stayed in the guest room and I the kitchen until Jess and Giorgio got home. They complimented how good everything smelled and asked where Palo was and I waved distractedly towards the stairs as if I was unsure he was even home. Jessica kissed my cheek as some of Palo leaked into my shorts, and then ran the flight to the second story. I soon heard them laughing.

Dinner was delicious and the three of them cleaned up while Robert and I caught up on our day. I said nothing of Palo. We all met in the loft for another movie and after an hour in the dark my guilt was almost gone and I risked a look at that handsome bastard. He was cautiously looking at me too and we grinned knowingly before watching the screen again.

Chapter 12

The next day I called Josh and went riding. Robert perked up but I said it really was just to ride. I needed someone to talk to, someone outside my world.

Josh asked which route and when I said the reservoir, his disappointment was obvious.

“I’m about to explode,” I said. “I need someone to talk to.”

“No problem,” he said. “I got you.”

We rode abreast and while I had intended only to speak of Palo, I coughed up everything. Everything. With each mile, his eyebrows moved farther up his forehead. By the time I revealed I’d just fucked my daughter’s lover, his face was frozen in disbelief.

“Jesus Christ, Maddie,” he said.

“I know, right? What the fuck is wrong with me?”

“You sound obsessed.”

“I am. I think I’m trying to average out twenty years of mediocre sex. I think I’m just about there.”

He laughed. “Maybe. Or maybe that’s just one of multiple reasons and that’s why your drive is so strong.”

“What other reasons?”

“Getting older. Jessica moving out. Fear you’ll lose your attractiveness. Stuff we’ve talked about before. Maybe everything is all coming down at once and sex is your escape from it.”

I searched my insides and felt little grains of truth. “You might be right.”

“Add to that you just love sex. You love men.”

“I love dicks too. Don’t leave them out.”

He laughed again. “You have no idea how charming you are.”

We crested a hill and coasted down the other side.

“You keep up with me now,” he said. I gave him a perplexed look. “When we ride. You’ve gotten strong. Look in the mirror. Your body is amazing. I knew your muscles would remember.”

“I will. Thanks for listening. You’re a good friend.”

“Don’t give me too much credit, Maddie. I’m still trying to find my way back into your pants.”

The next few days passed quickly. Jessica took G and Palo around to see the sights of Las Vegas and party at the clubs at night, and Robert and I stayed busy with work. Our two groups might see each other for a minute at breakfast or dinner but otherwise we were on opposite schedules. Giorgio and Palo's day of departure was coming up fast.

I was heading to work to cover a shift when I got the call it had been already covered. I was relieved. Today felt like a lay by the pool day not a work extra time day. I turned my car around.

The house smelled like weed the moment I entered. I dropped my purse and keys and changed clothes in my bedroom then heard something hard hit the floor in Jessica's room and everyone laughing. I heard music start.

I went upstairs to let them know I was home and planning on lying by the pool. Jessica's door was partially open.

My daughter was on her back with her legs spread wide. Palo had half his cock buried, stretching my baby's cunt. Giorgio knelt by her head, feeding her his dark dick, which she gobbled.

My stomach flipped. My mind somersaulted. My heart burst in one massive beat.

I quickly moved behind the wall. Jess hooked her heels behind Palo's butt to pull him deeper and tugged on Giorgio's cock aggressively. He was uncircumcised too, although not Palo's size, but what stood out most to me was my daughter's aggression. She almost forced these laughing boys to fuck her body. She sucked hard on the dick in her mouth, playing with his balls, and raised her hips to smash against Palo. The guys were amused by her open lust.

Some catatonic portion of my brain noted absentmindedly that Jessica had a really nice body. Her tits had filled out, with a lovely perfect teardrop shape, and her skin looked healthy and clear. Her pussy was shaved, which shocked me, but I realized I hadn't seen my daughter naked in years.

Palo leaned over and pushed his dick home. Jess grunted.

"That thing's like a truck," she joked. "I love it." She turned to Giorgio. "Sorry, my love, Palo has you beat." They all laughed.

Giorgio said: "I know how to silence your cruelty," and forced his dick into her mouth. "Now shut up and let us fuck you."

Jess vacuumed his penis like a pornstar.

I desperately wanted to look away but couldn't. It was like watching me in bed. My innocent daughter made so many moves which mirrored my own.

Palo flipped fallen hair out of his eyes and spotted me. A flash of panic and fear crossed his face, but something he saw in my eyes just as quickly told him to relax. He shifted his knees so he could fuck Jess strong and smooth but keep his eyes locked with mine. I watched his shiny penis slide in and out of my daughter. Giorgio leaned over her too and began to fuck her mouth in earnest. It was too much. I backed away, staring at Palo, and headed back downstairs. I shut my bedroom door and flopped onto my bed.

Surreal. Mothers are never supposed to see such things. Of course they happen and my daughter is a her own woman, but what has been seen cannot be unseen.

Someone turned the music up and shut the bedroom door. At least now I could pretend I missed it all. I alternated between seeing Jess as my child and seeing her as a sex object.

They went at it for a while. I was too stunned to move. I heard Jessica orgasm. Twice. I shut my eyes and may have dozed because when I opened them the music was off. I heard steps coming down the stairs and a knock on my door.

I opened it to Jessica and Giorgio.

"When did you get home, mom?"

"Not long ago. I had a headache so I laid down as soon as I got home."

"I'm so sorry. If I'd known, I would have turned off my music."

"Didn't bother me at all, Honey. What's up?" All I pictured was a dick at each end and my sweet daughter fucking herself on them.

"G and I are headed out to meet some of my friends. Palo is staying home. Just wanted you to know what's up."

"Thanks, Baby. Have fun. Be careful."

They both kissed my cheek. I watched them walk away, remembering what she looked like naked. No way was I sharing this one with Robert.

I sat on my bed, staring blankly at a wall, and ten minutes after they left Palo came downstairs. He didn't even speak. He pulled off his T-shirt and stepped out of his shorts and there was that pretty dick in my face. He took his cock in hand and slowly jacked it and he moved towards me. I awaited the inevitable, powerless.

I couldn't look away. He pushed me onto the bed and pulled my shorts down and pushed my shirt up. I opened my legs to him, eyes glued to that monster. He'd had mother and daughter. He'd pleased us both. There was something primitive and animalistic happening in my brain. He slipped a finger down and smiled, showed it to me, glittering and gleaming.

"You're fucking flooded."

"Did you shower?"

"No."

"Good."

He lifted my leg and began to insert his throbbing rod. This was the instrument of our insemination. He'd traveled straight from her pussy to mine and that twisted thought sent a gush of wanton lust through me. Palo had mastered the women of this family. He'd conquered us both. Poor Robert.

Palo gave me an inch and withdrew and gave me three and I groaned. He was fucking me with the same cock which had just fucked my pretty daughter. I seriously may need therapy.

I was prepared to give him everything. My pussy gushed, ready to enfold him within and coax his hot cum. My mouth watered. My nipples ached, yearning for him to touch and suckle them. My whole body was primed to orgasm. Every nerve danced. His cock sank home as his handsome Cuban face loomed over me and I kissed him deeply. Our tongues writhed. My shared lover grinned and began fucking me hard, slamming his hips, sending jolts of electricity coursing through me.

I started to laugh.

He was puzzled for an instant and then he laughed too. Fucking me hard on my husband's bed with a cock coated in my daughter's juices had to be the pinnacle of perversion. I welcomed my madness with open arms. He felt fantastic. I was so wet I splashed. He moved in and out for a long time, savoring my tightly wrapped flesh and his power to seduce me, and then I was there.

I curled my arms and legs like a dead fly around his body and climaxed screaming. As my orgasm tapered off, he opened his throat and roared, pumping hot sperm into me. He collapsed and I felt his heart beating through his cock.

We had only a few days before the boys left for Los Angeles yet Palo and I fucked three more times, and always after he'd had Jessica. He'd find me as she slept. I'd sneak him into the garage or backyard at night. The last time I brought him into the master bed with Robert and my husband held Palo's balls in the palm of his hand while the young man ejaculated in me. Madness.

I had so many conflicting emotions churning inside me, the sendoff at the airport was awkward and complicated.

Chapter 13

Once more a family unit of three, we quickly returned to our routines. Robert had a heightened sex drive for weeks and we ended most days with his magical tongue swabbing my pussy. I never gave him the details of Palo and me but he sensed something had happened and that was good enough for him.

Summer ended and Jessica started her final year of school. Her popularity soared, partly because the cool girls wanted to be friends with her now and partly because of her social life outside school. Thanks to her New York and Miami connections, she had international friends coming to visit us often. Mostly girls and the occasional gay guy, nothing like Giorgio or Palo again, but to her friends these kids were exotic and worldly.

Late one Saturday night I was sleeping and heard the microwave beep. I rolled over to check the time and discovered it was slightly after one in the morning. Jessica had been out with friends with a midnight curfew so I guessed she was enjoying a midnight snack. I rolled over to go back to sleep.

A deep masculine voice crept under my bedroom door. She was talking to someone and it was definitely a male. They were trying to be quiet, warming some snack before heading upstairs to her room. Given what we'd just let her do with New York and Miami you'd think I wouldn't care but something tickled my brain. I checked on Robert who slept soundly.

I eased out of bed to listen at my door. Did that male voice sound familiar? Curiosity aroused, I slipped out the door and peered around the corner into the kitchen. Jessica and her friend sat on the counter talking. I inched closer and then there was his face, a young George Michael in my kitchen.

Fuck!

What was Dane doing here? I thought their paths would never cross. Suddenly queasy, I was stunned thinking of the ruin this young man could bring my life. How many young men from his fraternity had been inside my mouth?

Jessica had heated some pizza wedges and the plate sat between them. They chatted, taking occasional bites. I wasn't close enough to hear their words but their posture was flirty. This was terrible news.

I stared at the tile floor. What could I do?

While I was debating my options, Jessica slid off the counter to stand between his knees. Dane set his pizza wedge on the plate as Jessy tilted her head up for a kiss.

Dane didn't hesitate. What college guy would? Jess is pretty with a tight body and perfect skin. He leaned down and kissed my daughter.

This cannot be happening again!

I wracked my brain. All I came up with was going back to bed and hoping for the best, and that made me enormously uncomfortable. Catching them now was stupid and would prevent nothing except tonight.

They continued kissing until Jess said: "Is that for me?" and leaned back to draw down his zipper. Dane got nervous.

"Jess, Jesus, what if your parents wake up?"

"They sleep like the dead," she chuckled. "You'd be amazed what I've gotten away with over the years."

Oh, really?

She fished around inside his pants and pulled out his erection."

"You shave?"

"Yeah. Swimmer."

"I love it."

She quickly aimed him into her mouth. I watched my daughter's head bob a few times and it was all too much. Fuck this. I carefully returned to the bedroom, shut the door, and fidgeted for an hour before finally falling into a fitful sleep.

In the morning, I asked Jess if she brought someone home last night and she said yes, a guy she'd met freshman year and hadn't seen in a long time. She said they met at a party and left together.

“Will you be seeing more of him?”

“Maybe, but probably not. It was good to see him again.”

I was tense for days. I fumbled around at work, worried every time my phone buzzed that it was Jess telling me she’d found out. I worked my shifts and hit the gym in addition to cycling solo, just to work the stress off.

Three days later, Andy demanded sex. He’d broken up with his girlfriend and wanted a sure thing for the party the frat had planned on Saturday night. I told Robert I had a date and watched him grow more excited each day.

To make sure I was safe, I asked Jessica what she had planned for that night.

“I’m meeting Brenda and Tammy at Rachel’s house to form a study group. This semester is going to be killer and we all want top grades so no time to waste. Why?”

“I’m going out with a girlfriend and won’t be home to make dinner. I wanted to make sure you got fed.”

“Such a good mommy. We’ll order pizza so don’t worry.”

Saturday arrived and we hung out as a family before I needed to get ready. I hid clothes in my car and stopped at a gas station to change out of my conservative dress into my party gear.

I’d been bothered when Andy first text but the more I thought about it, the more I liked the idea. A good hard fucking was probably what I needed most. I arrived about thirty minutes late wearing a short black mini and pumps and a man’s white dress shirt tied below my tits. I left a few buttons undone just for fun. I text Andy to come outside and meet me and seconds later there he was. He likes to act bossy but I know he thinks he’s the luckiest fucker on Earth. Honestly, with a dick like his I probably would be fucking him without the coercion. That he blackmailed me into it just gave everything a little extra spice.

“You look stunning, as always.”

I thanked him and gave him a peck on the lips. His arm circled my waist as we headed back to the house.

The place reeked of weed. Most states were relaxing marijuana laws and the dam had burst. Everything was so much more out in the open now.

In the living room, I passed a small group of kids snorting coke and in the den I saw mounds of people piled over couches and loveseats. The air was hazy with smoke everywhere I went. Andy found an open chair and dropped into it, pulling me down onto his lap. I knew where this was going. We'd drink a little and maybe smoke some and then he'd lead me to his bedroom. These guys used me to empty their young nuts or attract more women and I was fine with both. We all knew this was no-strings attached. In less than a year they'd all graduate and take off for the far corners of Earth. I'd never see them again.

He held a joint to my lips and I sucked a little. Weed makes me dizzy and slow but after the last few weeks, that sounded great. Next he gave me a sip from his beer. The room was dark and nobody cared what anyone was doing so when he caressed my tit I just smiled. Emboldened, he slipped his hand under my skirt to pet my pussy through my panties.

A large black guy walked by and I recognized Deter from a while back. He asked Andy if he wanted a hit and Andy looked at me.

"Sound good?"

"I don't know what you mean," I said.

Andy flashed a peace sign to Deter and Deter gave him two small pills. Andy handed one to me and tossed the other in his mouth, washing it down with beer, which he then offered to me.

"What is this?" I asked.

"Molly. You'll love it."

"What's it do?"

"Makes you feel amazing," he laughed. "And sex is just crazy. You think you love my dick now? You'll go crazy for it."

I hesitated and he moved the bottle closer so I popped the pill in my mouth and washed it down. We stayed in that room for a while and I felt the temperature slowly rise. I had sweat on my upper lip when I unbuttoned a few more buttons. He smiled.

"Getting warm?"

"Burning up."

"Molly's kicking in."

I didn't feel that different other than overheating. He watched me closely.

"I'll show you," he said. He reached inside my dress shirt to cup and then caress my breast.

Holy Mother of God. My eyes got huge and I gasped. My skin was on fire. His simple touch gave me goose bumps. Powerful sensations raced from my boob to my brain to my clit and back to my brain. Now he was grinning wide.

“Told you.”

“Holy shit.”

“Yeah.”

We stayed in the chair but now I felt my skin coming alive. My breathing went shallow and I became aware of all the points where my body touched his. His muscles excited me through my clothing. I touched his manly five O’clock shadow and the rough whiskers against my fingertips made me wet.

“What’s happening?”

“The stuff will come in waves. First you’ll feel amazing and then you’ll feel really amazing, and wait until I start to fuck you. You’ll beg for my dick. That pill was pure.”

I would have disregarded his boast as college guy arrogance except I felt my body transforming into one giant clitoris. It even worked when I touched myself. I ran a finger up the back of my hand and shivered. It felt incredible. When Andy grazed his fingers up my bare thigh I squirmed and whimpered.

“Yeah,” he said. “You’re ready.”

He lifted me off his lap and to my feet. My legs were weak and everywhere my clothes touched my body I felt pleasure. My shirt against my nipples had me dizzy. He gave me an arm to hold on to and we left the den headed for his bedroom. All around us couples and threesomes made out. I saw exposed tits and dicks and all of them fed my horny. I climbed his arm to his ear.

“When we get to your bedroom,” I said. “Choke me with your cock.”

He threw his head back and laughed.

His room was dark and I heard movement from the bed. “Goddamn it,” he whispered. “No one is allowed in here.”

“Sorry, Bro,” came a voice I did not recognize. “My room was taken.”

Andy told them to move over and I heard shuffling and a feminine giggle. Andy sat on the edge of his bed and pulled me to him.

“Get those fucking panties off.”

I reached under and whipped them down my legs, kicking them towards a dark corner. I tried to step between his knees but he stopped me and made my legs go on the outside. I felt his hand land on my thigh and move up. My pussy was aching for contact. I begged him to touch me. I impatiently wiggled my butt and stomped my foot.

“How much do you love my cock,” he teased.

“I fucking love your big cock.”

“Did you miss it? I haven’t seen you for a while.”

“I did miss it. I masturbated thinking about you fucking me. Are you hard already? Let me touch it.”

I reached down, searching in the dark, but he took my hands in his, frustrating me. I stepped closer and his legs hairs sliding across my hamstrings gave me chills.

“Take your clothes off,” he commanded.

My fingers could not move fast enough. He stood and stripped too and the air in the room felt cool on my skin. I heard him move onto the bed.

“Ignore them,” he said. “And start sucking my cock.”

The owner of the feminine giggle moaned at Andy’s words. I heard sucking and knew our bed partners were enjoying themselves. Andy’s friend would owe him a nice fat thank you tomorrow.

I lifted my tits and ran my hands over the nipples. I knew I was drenched without checking. My whole body felt sexually supercharged. My hands slid down my stomach and up my thighs. Everything felt fantastic.

“I love this stuff,” I whispered.

I climbed onto the bed and found his knees. I crawled forward, kissing his thighs as I went, until I nuzzled his hot ball sack. I let his scrotum smother my face while I licked his taint and then took each testicle in my warm mouth to roll around. I found his groan particularly satisfying. I licked all over his wrinkled bag until I found the shaft and then followed the swollen tube to the head. When I settled my mouth around the crown, he throbbed and leaked. I sucked hard enough to yank the sperm from his balls and he gasped.

“Fuuuuuuck,” he breathed.

I pushed my mouth down his shaft, feeling the pulsing life of it through my tongue. He was too fat to take much but I tried anyway, forcing him deeper until I gagged. I recovered and held him there, much deeper than usual, working his dick with my swirling tongue. I created a strong vacuum and began to bob.

I was so happy. The Molly coursing through me made cock the most important thing in my life and I had a special one in my mouth at that very moment. I felt lucky and proud. I bobbed faster and Andy's breathing turned ragged. I had no idea what the drug did to him but the tension in his legs and the sounds he made had me believing he felt like I did. I wanted desperately to please him. I wanted to rock his world and blow his mind. I wanted this young man to always remember the older woman that fucked him that one night and turned his world upside-down.

Next to me I heard grunting and a male exhaling through clenched teeth. The sucking continued, faster, and then the man moaned.

"Here it is," he gasped. "Take it, take it, take it..."

I could only imagine his partner gulping and swallowing, trying to keep up with what he fed her. It's so sexy when a man gives a woman his seed. The sounds were so erotic and the idea that they were only inches from us made me reach between my legs. I was soaked and hair-trigger sensitive and ready to cum.

The young man shot a lot of cum and the young lady eagerly took it all. As his climax ended he groaned and melted into the bed. She slurped as he went soft until he begged her to stop.

I understood her need perfectly. Andy could pump cum out like a hose and I'd drink every drop. I scooped his scrotum with my hands and played with his heavy balls while throat fucking him.

I felt her face slide in next to mine.

"Wanna share? My guy's out already."

To answer I put a hand on the back of her head and guided her mouth down to Andy's balls. He stiffened with a jolt, exclaiming: "Oh, God, fuck!" and arching his back and curling his toes.

We girls giggled with delight.

Andy's cock became the shrine at which we worshipped. We worked together in the dark, licking and sucking every inch again and again until we had this strong man writhing and clawing the sheets, begging one of us to fuck him. She held his dick straight up for me and I understood. I climbed over his body and lowered my pussy, enveloping him in hot folds of tight wetness. He groaned and so did I. My little helper smacked his nuts around with her tongue.

His cock inside me made me want to scream. So, I did. I ran my fingers through my hair and palmed my big tits. I pinched my nipples and rode his dick until I had his meaty spear up in my guts. The Molly had my body aflame and he was so thick he stretched me in every direction. I ground my hips on his and came with a hurricane of brilliant sunlight filling my mind. Small, soft hand kept me on him or I would have fallen. He felt huge, solid and unyielding, and I rode him with all my strength. I came again and I screamed again and I came again and buried my weeping face in his neck. The edges of my body blurred. His cock was the center of my universe.

His hands rose to my tits and he pushed me vertical, now driving his weapon into my limp body. He fucked me faster and faster until my mouth hung open. Waves of pleasure flashed through me without end. I ceased cumming and instead rose to an orgasmic peak and stayed there. Andy hammered my tight hole from below, desperate to orgasm but unable to cross that final line. Whatever the drug gave him in heightened sensation it took back by pushing his climax just out of reach, forcing him to strive ever harder to get there. His cock was a steam powered piston. I swooned and, once again, small hands kept me mounted.

At last I felt him twitch deep inside. He sucked air quickly and held his position, thrusting up into me like a jackhammer.

“Fuck,” he spit. “Fuck, almost...fuck!”

I felt him arch his back under me and then his cock ballooned and his sperm was spraying deep inside me like rocket fuel. Andy was speechless, his mouth frozen open and his eyes bulging, visible even in the darkness.

His hips collapsed into convulsions as he emptied his big balls in me. I urged him on, telling him how badly I wanted it, telling him how much I loved his big cock in me, pleading with him to fill me up. I drove him to heroic heights and he inseminated me with everything he had.

I lay on top of him and did not move. Astonishingly, he remained hard in my guts. I savored the electric feeling of his masculine presence and clenched my pussy around him like a fist. We floated like that a long time. I felt the bed shift when the other young man left and then again when my sweet helper departed. Light flared as they left the room but we didn't budge and the room quickly went dark again.

The drug swam thorough my veins and made me aware of every nerve ending I had. I wanted to fuck all night. I wanted to fuck to death. I wished Tony and Josh were there beside the bed, waiting their turn with me.

Andy's cock remained stiff. After a long time, I began working my pussy up and down and he flinched, telling me to go slowly as he was so sensitive it bordered pain. I cherished the firm fullness he gave me. I wanted a cock in my pussy forever.

Eventually, the sensitivity diminished enough he was ready again. He rolled me on my stomach and stacked all his pillows under my hips and spread my ass in a lewd display. I wiggled my slit at him. He pushed his young dick back in and began a leisurely in and out, relishing my tight grip on him.

Out in the hallway, someone turned on a light. A bright seam appeared beneath his door, granting us enough illumination to see the room dimly. On the floor off the side of the bed I now gazed, lay a crumpled T-shirt. I'd seen it before: Plymouth Academy of Dance. I blinked. I knew I viewed something important. I stared at it again.

Plymouth Academy of Dance.

Andy leaned his weight forward until his cock pressed my cervix. I groaned with pleasure as the drug now made everything feel good.

"Oh, you like that, hm?"

"Yes."

He withdrew and fed me every inch again. If you've never had a cock buried in your guts, I suggest you try it. Nothing like it on Earth. I smiled and turned my head around to kiss him and treasured the sensation of him moving inside me. He fucked me faster. His dick felt so big, so hard. He moved over me and now his cock hit my cervix on every thrust. Each jarring bump sent shivers of pleasure through me. His hands circled my small waist and he held me in place, fucking my body.

"Here it comes," he snarled.

My eyes landed on the crumpled T-shirt and I felt his cock head inflate. I loved that I excited him so much he was already able to cum again. He lifted me slightly and rammed his cock deep and spewed molten lava deep in my belly.

I closed my eyes, sailing through the warm universe aglow and content.

He pulled his cock out and landed on the bed next to me, tugging my arm until I lay with my head on his firm chest. I swear I felt the tickle of his tadpoles swimming. He cupped my breast and we snuggled like that for a long time.

Chapter 14

I drove home carefully. He'd gotten a partial erection about an hour after his last orgasm and I slid down to suck on it until he filled my mouth with sperm. I held his cum in my mouth to memorize the taste of him and then drank him slowly. I could still taste him now. It thrilled me to lick my lips.

Robert was awake and sitting in bed when I got in. A glance at the clock showed three-forty. He was alert. His eyes were big and his mouth dry when I kissed him.

"Did you have fun?" he asked.

"Huge fun."

"Did you have sex with anyone?"

"Andy fucked me for hours, Baby. His cock is so fat."

I dropped my clothing on the bedroom floor. I'd left my panties at Andy's.

Robert ate me alive with his eyes. He licked his lips. "Show me," he growled.

I placed one foot on the bed and swung my knee to the side. Robert's gaze fixed on my pink and swollen pussy so I spread her open with my fingers. He left the headboard to move closer. I dipped a finger inside and offered to him what I scooped out. He sucked me into his mouth.

"You are married to a bad, bad woman, Honey."

That was all the teasing he could take. He'd waited at home for hours with no word from me and we'd found his breaking point. He pulled me down to the bed and I grabbed a handful of his hair and as he dove for my cunt I pulled him down to meet her. His face met my pussy with a whump and his tongue sank as far inside me as he could get it. My brain short-circuited. I still had plenty of drug flowing through me. I exhaled a long, soulful: “Yessssssss,” and spread my legs wide. He slipped a finger in my pussy and another up my ass and I covered my face with his pillow.

He ate me for hours, satisfied only when I became deliriously nonresponsive. Bright sunlight streamed in around the blinds when we finally went to sleep.

Chapter 15

I awoke after noon, now fully aware of what I’d seen.

I wrapped my robe around me and left the bedroom. I checked my phone. Nothing. Robert was in his office so I casually asked if he’d heard from Jess and he said he’d called her around ten and everything was fine. They’d studied late into the night and then slept in.

Yeah, right.

Out in the kitchen I poured coffee and sat at the dining table.

The pieces floated together and I knew. I knew.

Holy shit.

Jessy got home around two. She came in the front door since Robert and I use the garage and I met her at the living room doorway. Her fake smile faded when she saw my face. We locked eyes. Neither of us spoke for a long, long moment.

“Sweatshirt is zipped up,” I said, finally. “It’s a hundred and two out.”

“Car’s air conditioner,” she said.

She knew about me, too. I saw the truth in her eyes.

What was there to say? We both played a devious game. She’s her own person as am I, but we love sex equally.

“Does dad know? About you?”

“Yes.”

“I thought so. Does he know about me?”

“No.”

We might talk about all this someday, but clearly we were not ready to talk about any of it now. She unzipped her sweatshirt two inches and I saw bare skin. She had to be roasting in that thing.

“See if you can get my shirt back. I love that shirt.”

I gave her a small nod. “Go say hello to your father. He worried.”
She kissed my cheek and headed for the office.
She was her mother’s daughter.

Chapter 16

“In the same room?” Josh asked.
I shook my head. “On the same cock.”
“Holy shit.”
“Yeah, now you get it.”
“That’s wild.”

I’d told him the story because I had no one else to tell. He was shocked and amazed but also turned on.

“That’s a pretty hot fantasy.”
“Josh!”

“I know, I know. It’s taboo and it’s terrible and I’m a horrible person, but Goddamn. Is your daughter hot like you?”

I couldn’t give him too much shit but I had to give him some. I accept there is something powerfully attractive about the forbidden. Lord knows I had my own decadent reaction to sharing Palo.

We arrived at the mountain top as the sun cleared the ridge and were rewarded with a spectacular wash of color. Reds and oranges and yellows lit the clouds and made the mountains glow. We parked our bikes and kissed passionately and clothing dropped. His dick was already hard as I lifted him from his nylon shorts. I popped him into my mouth and savored the swollen head.

Our fuck was hard and fast, fueled by absence and a beautiful sunrise, but also salacious thoughts of the unthinkable. I know my tale aroused animal lust in him. I felt his desire in the throbbing of his cock. He bent me at the waist and hammered me from behind before dumping his copious load in me. I welcomed it. His jabbing spear and bashing hips were the perfect punishment.

After, he again mentioned his well-hung friend and desire for a threesome.

“In front of Robert,” he added. “He’d love it, from everything you’ve told me, and that’s a kink I’d love to try but never have.”

“It is hot,” I agreed.

“Talk to your husband. Make it happen.”

I talked to Robert, but it never happened. Fate simply would not allow. We planned it but that night Josh’s bike shop was burglarized. The next time, weeks later, Robert got into a fender-bender on the way home. Our last attempt, a mere four days ago, Josh’s assistant manager was arrested for DUI and Josh spent all night getting him released.

After that Robert and I agreed to leave it alone. There’s a big difference between making things happen and forcing things to happen and the subtle mind recognizes the difference.

Josh knew it too and called me hours ago to let me know he had a date last night that went well and he was going to try and make something work with her. I wished him all the luck in the world and meant it.

One by one my lovers disappeared. Andy reconciled with his girlfriend, thanks in part to the rumors she’d heard about Andy’s hot date the night of the party. Like Josh, Tony started dating someone seriously too. Thomas, Steve, and Tyler never reappeared and when Dane did it was as Jessica’s date several times. Every time I saw him my heart raced, and not because I was excited. That young man landed right in the middle of my daughter and me and his face was a reminder of the damage he could bring.

I don’t blame Josh and Tony for choosing relationships over sex. Sex is pure sugar; wonderful in the moment but it will not sustain you. I have the benefit of an intimate relationship with a loving husband and the joy of sugary sex. We know the likelihood of a couple finding that is incredibly small and we feel correspondingly fortunate.

After the party, my relationship with Jessica changed. I had to acknowledge she was much more of an adult, much more of a complex young woman than I had given her credit for. In some ways we became closer but in others more distant. Our general conversations about men became more honest and frank but our specific conversations about men became fuzzy. She did not want me or Robert knowing the details of her intimate life. She assured me she was being safe and then chastised me for not doing the same. Total role-reversal. I could only stare at the floor and mumble she was right. We had raised a smart, independent woman who knew what she wanted and went after it unafraid. I was proud of her.

Chapter 17

“One hundred eighty-four dollars and seventeen cents,” the girl behind the counter said.

“I came here for a USB cord.”

The girl shrugged.

It is impossible to get out of Target for less than a hundred dollars. I looked at my cart stacked with laundry sorters and padded hangers and cute toothbrush holders. I sighed and reached in my purse for my wallet.

A strong hand gripped my wrist. “I’m afraid you’ll have to come with me ma’am,” a strangely deep voice said. “We saw you assaulting another shopper on aisle ten.”

I looked up into the face of nerdy Abby. She was grinning wide and her eyes laughing and before I thought about it, I was hugging her. I handed the cashier my debit card and moved my cart to the side. Abby wore khakis and a red T-shirt but her name badge said Assistant Manager.

I say nerdy Abby because she’ll always be that to me but she looked great. She’d lost a little weight and cleaned up some for her new position. Her hair was styled and her makeup light, emphasizing her green eyes.

“How are you?” I asked. “How are things?”

“Things are great, Maddie. I’m still living with my parents but I have an awesome boyfriend and a job that’s fun and pays me pretty good.”

“I’m so happy.”

“How are you? Still giving massages to hot guys?”

I may have blushed a little. “Yeah, well.” I fumbled and Abby laughed. The cashier returned my card and I grabbed my basket.

“I’ll walk you to your car,” she said. She fell in step next to me.

“Awesome boyfriend? Zach?”

She rolled her eyes. “No. That lasted until Christmas. I made a bunch of new friends though, but Zach was too dumb for me.”

“But he was cute.”

“He was cute. You know the guy I’m seeing now. Remember Derek? Black basketball player from the university? I think you worked on him a couple times.”

I remembered Derek; he was a giant, with huge hands and an uncircumcised cock. He was good-looking with dark skin and perfect white teeth.

“Yes,” I said. “I remember Derek.”

Abby chuckled. “He remembers you, too. Says you touched him a few times under his towel. I assured him it had to have been accidental but you and I know you love the dick. I’m sure you copped a feel.”

Same old Abby; blurting way too much truth every time she opens her mouth.

“Yeah, I did.”

“Thought so.”

Suddenly I remembered not too long ago looking up her body as she pulled my mouth to her hairless slit. Abby was the first girl I’d ever tasted and the memory of our sex sent blood rushing around inside my body.

“Um,” I said, or something equally brilliant. I was stealing glances at her firm boobs as memories of that day drifted by. Robert, in the shadows and jacking off, caught me in bed with Abby and Zach and our lives were changed forever.

“Um,” I repeated.

“God you’re adorable,” Abby said.

“I’m a mess,” I laughed.

Abby put her arm around my shoulder as we walked. “Derek has a game Friday night at the university. I’d love it if you and Robert came. I’ll introduce him to your husband. I’ve missed you. If you can’t make the game, we should still meet for coffee and stay in touch.”

I rested my head on her shoulder.

“I’d like that,” I said.

She helped me load my stuff and we hugged.

“Does your husband know? About me and you and Zach?”

I drew a sharp breath. “Yes.”

“You guys are still married so I guess he didn’t freak.”

How much should I reveal?

“He was upset, at first, but Zach is young enough he saw no threat there. After a day, he admitted it was hot. He likes it when I’m lusty and sexual and he says the threesome was just an extension of that.”

“That’s cool. You have an awesome husband. Zach told me to call you up almost every day we were together. I told him no. Horn-dog.”

We hugged again and I got in my car.

Once I was home I found Robert in the loft and mentioned the game to him. He perked up.

“Derek? Big black guy you massaged a while back?”

“Yeah. The same.”

“That sounds fun. I’ll buy tickets online.”

I’m sure your mind is doing the same thing mine was and Robert’s too; would Abby and Derek try to have sex with me? Abby’s girl-crush was strong and I believed I still saw shades of it in her eyes, so I expected they would. I shared my thoughts with Robert and he said he hoped so.

“I know I don’t often express myself, but watching you with a huge black man sounds extremely exciting. You mentioned Deter a while back but I never was too involved with those college guys. I have no idea what he was like. You never shared details about them.”

With his green-light I began hoping something would happen. Abby’s relationship with Derek could be totally different than her relationship with Zach. I might be a million miles off base. We might watch a game, have a drink, and call it a night.

I dated a black guy in college while I was dating Robert and Tony, and he had a handsome face, but he was average in bed in every way. Deter had been too. I’d had Derek naked on the table that day and there was nothing average about him. My skin warmed.

“His cock is nice,” I said. “I’ve only seen him soft but he has girth. The skin is black and smooth. I remember his muscles too. His body was hard and dense. Massaging him took all my strength. I was trembling after.”

“Trembling for several reasons.”

“True.” I leaned closer. “You want to see me with a black man, Baby?”

His voice was strained. “Yes.”

“You’ve never said anything about that.”

“No, but I, um, find it erotic. I like the dark skin next to the light skin. I like the big strong black man over the petite white woman. The interracial taboo is stimulating.”

“We like smashing taboos.”

“We do.”

I was excited to have him talking so I kept going. “What else, Honey? What else do you hope to see?”

“I hope he makes you orgasm. I’d like to see that. I hope his cock makes you cum. I’d love to watch your face as his big black cock makes you cum.”

This was great.

“If he does you know I’ll want his load in me. Are you all right with him ejaculating inside me? A man, a black man you’ve only just met, cumming inside your sweet wife?”

Robert gasped.

Yeah, I was pushing buttons for the fun of it. It felt good to have my husband sharing his thoughts and feelings.

“Yes, I’d like that. I’d love to see that. I hope I can be in the room with you. I hope he fucks you right in front of me.”

“I’d love your eyes on me. I hope he and Abby want this too.”

I snuggled under his arm, feeling closer. Strange that our intimacy came on the heels of a conversation about my infidelity. An idea formed and I had to chew on it a bit before sharing the thought with Robert.

“If we do this, I said. “I think you should first masturbate in front of us. Empty your balls so you can’t get hard and that way be forced to spectate only.”

I felt his body tense and I held my breath waiting for his answer.

“Can you picture yourself limp in front of him? In front of all of us?”

“Yeah. Yes.”

“Will you do that for me?”

“All right.”

Chapter 18

We ‘d parked on the far side of the campus and cut across to the gymnasium. Attendance was good as the Running Rebels were on a winning streak. I glanced around constantly, nervous about the others on this campus I’d rather not meet tonight.

Abby waited outside and she looked super cute in a knee-length rainbow gypsy skirt and pink flutter blouse. Leather sandals strapped up to her knees. She ran over when she saw Robert and me approaching, thrilled we'd made it. She hugged Robert first and then me and then introduced herself to him.

"I remember you," was all he said, smiling.

Inside, Abby showed us the seats she'd picked out and I sat in the middle. We chatted through the entire game catching up on everything. I'd dressed conservatively in an ankle-length black dress that buttoned up the front. Since I wasn't sure where this night was headed, I wanted to be prepared.

Derek played well. At least that's what Robert said. At one point the coach called a timeout and all the players came to the side next to the fans and I couldn't believe the size of these young men. They were like another species of human. Out on the court they moved with so much control and grace; one big man was surrounded by so many other big men their true size was lost. Derek glanced at Abby but said nothing and I asked why she didn't wave or something. She got embarrassed.

"No, I found out early on, interacting with your girlfriend in the stands is a no-no."

"Ah."

"Yeah. Oops." She made a goofy face.

Finally, the game concluded and our side won. The players left with the coach and Abby led us around the gymnasium to another parking lot where we waited. Derek emerged a short time later, showered, carrying a gym bag.

"Hungry?" Abby asked.

"Starving."

She looked at me. "Burgers?"

I nodded and Robert agreed. My husband drove and the guys sat up front discussing basketball while Abby and I sat in back, talking.

I still had no idea where this night was headed and I was growing a little frustrated. Abby looked good and Derek looked scrumptious but it was the way Abby kept looking at me that had me going, like she remembered every detail of our time together and wanted more. I'm not usually into girls but Abby was special.

We were a block from the hamburger joint when Abby asked if we could get the food to go and eat at our place, since we were so close. I looked to Robert.

"Absolutely," he said. "Be nice to get comfortable."

My heart skipped a beat. I felt like things were slowly coming together.

We entered our home through the kitchen and set the food on the dining table while we kicked off shoes. Derek towered over us, his brown skin especially dark next to Abby's pale skin. Of course, I remembered him naked. I felt my skin flush.

We sat and ate and talked and then moved to the living room with coffee and beers. Derek finished his and I went to the kitchen to replace it with another and when I came back, Robert left his chair and moved behind me, his warm lips grazing the back of my neck. Derek took the bottle from my outstretched hand.

Robert kept kissing but his hands circled around in front to the buttons on my dress. I was stunned. Always so passive, my husband was boldly taking the lead. That told me all I needed to know about how badly he wanted this to happen. I had been unaware of his interracial fetish our entire marriage. Why does my man keep so much to himself?

His hands worked swiftly, moving down from one button to the next. Derek and Abby's eyes were riveted to me and my breathing turned shallow and rapid. I was on exhibition. Robert flipped the last button and opened my long dress like a book. I wore black lace bra and panties and Abby's eyes grew as big as Derek's.

"Jesus, Maddie, you look so hot," she said.

Female compliments carry so much more weight.

My legs trembled. I felt like a sacrificial offering and I liked it very much.

"Stand up, Derek," Abby said.

He set his beer aside and stood. Abby gave Robert a look which seemed to ask, Are you sure? and Robert gave her a slow and thoughtful nod. Abby moved behind Derek like Robert had done to me. Derek wore elastic band sports pants so there was nothing to untie or unbutton, just Abby hooking her thumbs in the waistband and slowly working the pants down. Derek removed his shirt and tossed it on the couch. His muscular body looked chiseled. I held my breath as she approached his penis.

Robert pulled my dress backward and off my arms but my eyes were glued. The waistband cleared the base of his black dick and I gasped. He looked thicker than I remembered. Abby giggled.

"This is fun," she said.

“Leave the bra and panties,” Derek rumbled. “That shit is sexy.”

Robert backed away, taking my dress and leaving his wife on display. My chest heaved now, not enough air in all the room. Derek’s eyes burned into me. Abby looked at me like I was pure diamond. Abby drew Derek’s pants to his ankles, causing his half-swollen cock to bounce up and down. He was a black giant in our living room, an ebony colossus. He stepped out of his pants and placed a huge black hand on Abby’s head, turning her small white face towards his cock and drawing her closer. She smiled joyfully and opened her obedient mouth, closing her eyes. His dick disappeared between her lips but he kept his piercing eyes locked to mine.

My pussy flooded.

I turned to Robert. The fire of lust glowed behind his eyes. This was pure fantasy material for him. He loves when I am slutty but standing here before a well-hung black man pushed all his buttons. I wished I’d known this long before now. He leaned in and kissed my lips and I felt his body vibrating.

“What do you want?” I murmured.

My question triggered such an internal struggle for him. He wrestled with defining his desire, he wrestled with articulating it. My heart blossomed in that moment, recognizing the difficulties my man faced in voicing his needs. All frustration I had with him drifted away. His shortcomings exasperated him as much as they did me and I should embrace him as my partner and help him, not selfishly whine to have my own needs met. I smiled and kissed him again, tenderly.

“Take your clothes off,” I said.

He groaned, slightly, but began quickly stripping. He knew what was coming. Once naked, I left him where he was and crossed to Derek and Abby. I looked back at my husband.

“Stroke,” I said, sinking to my knees. “Jerk your dick until you shoot. Empty your balls while I suck this beautiful black cock. Show me how much you love this.”

His fingers were closing around his shaft before I finished speaking. I positioned myself to meet his eyes while lavishing attention on Derek. Robert moaned again and began stroking.

Derek guided my head to his cock like he had Abby and she opened her eyes when she felt my presence. Her smiled split her face. Our tongues danced together all over the head of Derek’s dick. As a group our eyes moved to Robert's flailing hand. He breathed through his mouth now, his penis deep red.

I realized if I told him to suck cock with us he would but I suspected Derek would not approve, so I said nothing. I made a mental note though; getting a dick in my husband's mouth was something I wanted to do. Better yet, telling my husband to suck a cock to get it hard to fuck me sounded wonderfully decadent. My husband wasn't gay, he was submissive, and a dash of humiliation sent him over the edge.

Abby and I closed our lips around Derek. Robert gasped and jerked faster and surprised us all by coughing and convulsing as his too excited dick began to spit. I was so pleased.

Abby giggled. "Oh my God that's so hot," she said. "He couldn't hold back."

He shot a lot, distressed he'd cum so fast.

I pointed to the reading chair.

"Sit," I said.

He did, eyes locked on the black cock near my mouth.

Abby and I got to work. It was thrilling. She stopped momentarily to hurry out of her clothes but then she was with me again, tonguing and licking and sucking. Derek was the huge Black Lord of All Women and we did our best to tease and please him. Abby took my hand and placed it on her full tit. We kissed over Derek's erection and then her hands found my tits.

After that, the dam burst. Abby and I were all over each other and all over Derek. He fucked her first and then moved around to me but I stopped him and had Robert spread my legs and my labia as an offering to our black Lord. I wanted to see Robert grip Derek's cock and feed those black inches into me but I suspected Derek was not old or secure enough to be touched by another man. Instead I had Robert lick my pussy in preparation and then kissed me as Derek sank his cock deep.

That shit is fucking powerful. Gazing into your husband's eyes as another man penetrates you must be one of my most favorite things. The intensity of our connection leaves my mind reeling. I swear I could do it every day.

Abby pushed Derek onto his back and held his dark dick straight up and Robert helped me climb on top. Derek might possess the thickest cock I've ever taken and as far as women are concerned, thicker is better than longer. I came right away, Robert holding me steady and stroking his newly hard penis again, guiding his wife's hips up and down this fresh, black cock. Robert spurted a second time listening to his pretty wife orgasm.

It was at that moment I decided I'd be the one to capture Derek's cum and not Abby. I rode Derek hard, playing with his nipples and telling Abby to lick his fat balls. I think she knew what I had planned and wanted me to have her man's seed. We were too far gone now to stop. Derek thrust up into me and Robert held me tight and Abby swabbed her man's nuts and Derek exploded, pumping gobs of black baby sauce, flooding my tubes and tunnels, bathing my ovaries. He came a long time and I reveled in it. I felt his hot fluid drowning my insides.

Robert staggered back to his chair and Abby rolled onto her back, staring at the living room ceiling and giggling.

"You all are fucking hot," she said. "This nerd can't believe how far she's come."

I remained atop my Black God. His fat dick was a plug in my cunt, trapping his juice inside. A small, demented corner of my mind secretly wished for conception just for the absolute depravity of it. I was drawn to the ultimate scandal, like that urge to jump you get when standing on a high place and looking over the edge. The rest of my mind united and shouted the crazy child down, but I was left with a residue of wild recklessness, a strange joy at breaking all the rules and smashing all the taboos. For the briefest instant, I wanted to burn everything down.

"Look at her," Abby breathed. "She loves it up there with Derek buried in her guts. She never wants to come down. Give me back my man, bitch."

I waved a weary hand at her. "I'm going to need a minute."

"Madison loves to ride," Robert admitted. "And I love watching her do it. Can you guys spend the night? I feel like there's so much more we need to do. Let's really get to know each other."

"Count me in," Derek rumbled. "I'm just getting warmed up."

Abby nodded her head enthusiastically. "It's true. You'll see. By morning you'll all be exhausted."

"I love exhausted," I said.

End.
