Chapter 1

Doctor Brand laid an intricate diagram of the male pelvis on his desk. He used the eraser end of a pencil to show Samantha and me what he meant. We studied the colorful lines of veins, arteries, nerves, muscles, and ligaments.

"The surgery is simple but the side-effects complex. You'll be in bed maybe a week. After that you may experience numbness, localized paralysis, possible infection and blood clots. All the usual stuff."

He paused to consider his next words.

"Why do I feel like you're not telling me the worst?" I asked.

"John, I'll be working near the dorsal penile and pelvic splanchnic nerves. Until they fully heal, and I mean fully, you will have trouble getting and maintaining an erection. Expect to go a full six weeks without one, maybe longer. After that the impotency will begin to fade but only intermittently. Erections will be rare. Nerves heal slowly. This condition will last a while. I can remove the constant lower back pain." He swung his attention to Sam. "But there will be a price to pay."

"Why are you looking at me?" My wife, Sam, asked.

"Because I've known you both a long time. I helped you get pregnant with and deliver Tina. I know you, Sam. This will be harder on you than John."

I chuckled. Sam looked annoyed.

"A small price to relieve John of shooting agony," she said. "Six weeks will go by quickly. I'm sure I'll be fine. We'll both be fine."

Doctor Brand looked skeptical.

"I'm with her," I said. "I won't like it but if my pain goes away, it will be worth it."

He leaned away, tilting his head and raising an eyebrow.

"I appreciate your optimism, guys, but I need to know you've truly heard me. I've performed many of these procedures and experience has taught me this is where couples falter. This is where problems arise. No matter how intimate you both feel right now, a denial of physical intimacy always causes problems. I need you to understand how stressful and frustrating this element of your recovery will be. I need you informed. You especially, Samantha."

"I'm not that bad. You're exaggerating."

"I'm not judging you. I'm trying to address the situation."

"Consider us informed," my wife said.

Doctor Brand looked unconvinced. He was right: he'd been our doctor a long time. He first learned of Sam's powerful sex drive when we tried for Tina. Sam wanted sex multiple times a day. The good doctor had to inform her that sperm needed time to mature in the testicles and intercourse every day actually reduced our chances of conception.

"All right. Then we all agree. I'll schedule your surgery."

He returned the pelvic diagram to his desk drawer. He folded his fingers and rested his hands on his desk. His face turned serious.

"This next topic is a little embarrassing but I want you to have all the information I have."

"Go on," I said.

"I've helped many couples with this kind of thing. I want you to know that some relief is available during this time. You can drain your testes via prostate stimulation without an erection. A bit messy but you may find you need it."

"Thanks, Doctor, but ass play is not my thing."

Sam and I were quiet for most of the ride home.

"What are you thinking?" I finally asked.

"I'm thinking about the photoshoot we signed up for last year and how we can't get the huge deposit back. The shoot is still months away and I hope you've healed by then."

"I'd forgotten about that."

"It's important to me. We need to find some way to make it work."

"I'm sure I'll be fine by then."

We'd joined a gym to reverse the aging of our bodies and we'd had good success, until I injured my back. Our plan had been to get in great shape and have sexy pictures taken as a couple. Sam wanted memories from the time before our bodies deteriorated.

"Maybe the photographer can change his schedule and shoot us now?"

"No. I called already. The guy does amazing work. He's booked. We're lucky to get a slot at all. We look so good now. Damn it."

We did look good.

"If we don't do it now, you'll be forced to wait over a year," she finished.

"I can't wait. The pain is too much. Help make sure I eat right. I can't give back all my gains."

"I'll help, Baby. You'll still look good." She slid a hand over my leg to fondle my crotch. "Since we won't be able to have sex for a long time, we'll need to have a lot of sex before your surgery."

I chuckled.

"Like charging our batteries? Topping off the tank?"

She squeezed my penis through my pants.

"Precisely."

"We should buy a new toy for you. Something crazy to get us through this dry spell. Something different."

"How about a male prostitute?"

I laughed.

"How about a new sex toy?"

Chapter 2

The restaurant filled the entire top floor of this skyscraper. We looked down on the city from twelve-hundred feet through four smoked-glass walls. Sunset was three hours ago and a million colorful lights sparkled like gems scattered against a dark blanket. My surgery was a week behind me and this was our first night out. I adjusted my legs under the table and the pelvic numbness receded a little. Our daughter, Tina, spent the night with friends.

The candle in the centerpiece lit Sam with a warm orange glow. Her dress shimmered. She'd tried to look pretty for our anniversary dinner and she'd masterfully succeeded. My wife was breathtaking.

"I watched a movie last night," she said. "While you stayed late at work. In one scene, this dad picked his child off the floor and hugged him. I had to hit pause. I was shocked, John. I stared as a realization hit me. I suddenly understood there had been a time I'd picked up Tina and that was the last time I ever did. It happened without my knowing. I was unaware. From that moment forward, she'd be too big or too grown up to let me."

"Wow. Yeah. It happens and we don't know it."

"My mind expanded from there. How many other things have I done that with? How many things have passed that last-time threshold and I never knew it?"

"Like the last time I drank out of a garden hose or went outside to play with my friends. At the time it felt like it would last forever but you're right. There was a day I ran outside to play and that was the last time I would ever do that."

"It's still happening. The phenomenon is not limited to childhood. I still drink but when was the last time I got drunk? I hate the idea now."

"Me too. Drunk has lost all its appeal. I feel like shit the next day."

She watched herself circle a finger around the rim of her glass.

"Did we get old? Is this how it happens? You stop doing things you used to love doing until all you have left is a short and boring list that the young laugh at? I used to laugh at old people when I was young. Are we old, John?"

"Maybe. We are definitely older."

"I hate to think we've left all youthful recklessness behind. I hate to think our spontaneity has died. We need to stay a little irresponsible."

"It's easy to be irresponsible when you have no responsibilities. We have people counting on us now. You run a business with five employees. I manage a team of twenty-five. We have a teen daughter. Most of those people have kids. We can't be foolish anymore. We affect other's lives. People we care about would suffer."

She chewed a lip.

"I feel like there's more you're not telling me."

"There is. I worry you'll blame yourself, especially considering your recent surgery. My timing is terrible, I'm sorry."

"Just say it, Sam."

"I see my body aging. I wonder if I'm still attractive. I feel my sex drive fading. I love feeling horny. I love sex. What will I do when those are gone?"

"We'll find new ways to have fun."

"Fun. We had more fun when we were younger. I miss fun, John."

I placed a reassuring hand on hers.

"I can't believe you think your sex drive is fading. You exhausted me before the operation."

She laughed quietly.

"Yeah, I may have overdone it. I'm just worried. Life happens so fast."

She sipped her gin and tonic.

"I hate that I can't remember the last time I picked up my little girl."

"Pick her up when we see her tonight."

"She's as big as me now," Sam chuckled.

"Do it. It will be our inside joke. Tina will be like: What the fuck, Mom?"

We both laughed.

"I understand your worries, Baby. That all makes sense. Mostly I enjoy getting older but certain aspects suck. We can't stop time. What I can do, though, is promise I'll be right by your side through it all. That's worth something."

"That's worth a lot, John."

We held hands. Our eyes turned towards the window and the beautiful nighttime city outside. I looked down on a park.

"Feel like a walk after dinner?"

Sam followed my eyes.

"That sounds romantic, yes. We can circle the lake. The path is well lit."

Dinner continued. We enjoyed wonderful conversation, fantastic food, and several glasses of intoxicating spirits. Sam loves her gin and tonics. Personally, I find them disgusting. We paid and took the elevator down. I waved the valet man away, explaining our intention to walk. Walking helped my sore back feel better.

We entered the park through the famous floral archway. Our conversation continued as we meandered, the air filled with the delicate scents of honeysuckle, jasmine, gardenia, and lily. The park was almost empty despite the warm and pleasant night. The path wandered through manicured lawns and fastidious gardens. We sat for a brief time on a memorial bench before heading for a stand of oak trees. I saw movement in the shadows as we approached.

A man, sixtyish, short hair graying at the temples, stepped from behind a tree. He wore a long coat, open down the front, and pantlegs from the knees down, held by elastic. He was naked, in good shape for his age, with a flat stomach and well-groomed body hair, and he sported an enormous erection. Tight black rubber rings circled the base of his large cock and separated his large testicles.

For a moment, time stopped. Sam and I gazed at the man and his penis. He held his coat wide, allowing us to view him in all his rampant glory. We slowed our pace, shocked but not afraid, and said nothing. Sam and I stared, which I presume was what he wanted. We continued past the man. Sam kept her eyes fixed until her head turned.

"Dang," she joked, a few steps later. "That was impressive. Why hang out in a park with a dick like that? With that monster for a resume you'd think he'd get dates."

"I think his problem is getting a second date."

We laughed and said no more about the man. We spoke of Tina, daily life, bills, colleagues, and concerns about staying healthy and happy. We circled the entire twisting path through the park until once again approaching the floral archway. Sam looked to the street outside and then into the park.

"Second lap?"

"Sounds great," I said. "The walking helps me recover. Plus, I'm still feeling those drinks and walking them off before I drive sounds good."

"I'm feeling those drinks too. How many did I have?"

"I didn't count. Is this just you getting a second look at flasher-man?"

"Maybe."

I stopped.

"Seriously?"

"Is that bad? He has a nice penis."

"You're supposed to be offended."

"Why? He was handsome with a nice body and a hard dick."

"You are so unlike other women."

"Lucky you. So? Can we do a second lap?"

"Sure. I'll just think of him as a street performer. Let's go drop a dollar in his coat pocket. See? We can still have fun."

She took my arm as we started on the path. I felt her tension rise as we approached the stand of oak trees. Our conversation stayed light and pleasant but a tautness entered her body. Our conversation faded. I noticed the flap of his overcoat against the tree trunk. He was hiding.

"He's behind the tree."

"I see him." Her voice was strained, low and husky. "He has someone with him."

We drew closer but flasher-man did not approach us again. He was busy. We walk by his tree, giving ourselves a perfect view of a young woman jerking him off. He pressed his back to the trunk and she pressed one hand against his nicely groomed chest. Her other hand yanked his long cock from head to balls. She was well dressed.

"That's sexy," Sam rasped. "I wonder how many people saw his dick before one wanted to touch it. He's probably been out here all night."

We did not stop but we sure stared. Our eyes were glued. As we followed the curving brick path, we eventually entered her field of vision. She caught sight of us from the corner of her eye and quickly abandoned the man, hurrying back the way we'd just come. Flasher-man stayed rooted, back against the tree, breathing fast, curved erection dark and throbbing in the dim light. Sam took my hand and squeezed, pulling me away from our new friend.

"That was exciting."

"Talk about blue balls," I muttered.

"Perverts have needs too."

"The voice of experience."

Sam laughed. We walked in silence. I was sure the sight made her horny.

"Are you wearing panties?"

"Yes. Of course. Why?"

I grabbed her elbow to pull her off the path. I pushed her between some large shrubs and against a statue of Lewis and Clark. We were shielded from view. I spun her away from me and flipped her shimmery dress over her ass. I crouched and tugged her panties aside.

I love eating her pussy and she never tells me no. I knelt on one knee and wedged my face in her crack. My probing tongue found her slit. She was already soaked, which surprised me. I wiggled my tongue and fastened my lips to her clitoris. She gasped loudly.

"What the fuck, John? What are you—?"

Her voice was husky but she put up no fight. I took that as a sign and began my feast. She groaned but caught herself, covering her mouth. I devoured her hot cunt.

"John? Why are you—?"

I teased her mercilessly. The tip of my tongue traced a map of torture inside and out. Her hips rolled and rocked, twitching from my torment.

"Cum for me, Sam."

She moaned with feeling. I licked and sucked and made a mess of my face. Her legs began to tremble. She pushed her ass at me, another encouraging sign, and I doubled my efforts. I slid a finger in and found her G-spot and rubbed. Within moments she tumbled over the edge, climaxing hard. I continued until she'd had enough, pushing my face away and turning on me. She breathed hard and deep. I grinned. She refused to spoil the moment by asking questions. I dropped her dress in place. She adjusted her panties. I took her hand and, after checking to make sure no one would see us, left the bushes for the path. We continued walking. She was flustered, fixing her hair and nervously adjusting her clothes.

"What brought that on?"

"I wanted you and these days that's about the only way I can have you."

"Well, you can act on that impulse wherever you'd like."

"Thank you, I will."

We followed the winding path to the entrance. She plucked a pine needle from her hair and looked into the park again.

"How about a third lap?"

"Sounds perfect. My back feels good."

I understood. She wanted a third look. We walked a little faster. We had purpose. We approached the stand of oaks and flasher-man stepped out. He hesitated, recognizing us from earlier, but our pleased expressions told him all he needed. His cock was harder than ever, teased without release by the young woman earlier. He tilted his hips to aim it at the sky and display his manhood like the trophy it was. He studied our faces, arousal soaring from our lingering stares. The head flared.

"Sweet Jesus," Sam whispered.

"You like that?"

"It's a beautiful dick, John. Dicks that pretty are rare."

"Touch it."

Sam flashed a hard look at me. I jerked my chin at the throbbing phallus.

"Finish what the other girl started."

Her jaw dropped.

"Are you serious?"

"Why not? We have no idea who this man is, which makes this harmless fun. Remember we talked about fun? Do it."

Sam glanced around but we were alone. The hour was late. I walked the slight embankment mindful of the slick grass. The man shied away. I raised a hand to reassure him.

"May my wife touch you?"

Their eyes locked. He nodded. Sam hesitated a moment before climbing the rise too. Nobody spoke. Her attention dropped to this man's impressive manhood and stayed there. The tight black rubber rings dug into his skin but forced his cock to maximum size. Raised wiggly veins covered the thing like worms. Sam saw beauty. I tried and failed.

"I'll keep a lookout."

I kept an eye out for passersby, but mostly I watched my wife. She studied the man's face and then curled her bare fingers around his hot shaft. She squeezed. Hard. Hard enough to swell the large head. The man gasped but stayed rooted.

"This is crazy," Sam said. "I can't believe this is really happening."

She loosened her grip a little and slid her fingers to cover the helmet head. He filled her palm. Her thumb wiped away leaking semen and she rolled her hand around, teasing him. She scratched at one of the black rings with her other hand.

"Can you cum wearing these?"

"Yeah."

He was wound tight. Two women in one night was probably the best he'd ever experienced. His voice was packed with emotion.

"You'll ejaculate if I jerk you off?"

"I will. I'm close already."

"Do it," Sam said.

She stroked him from balls to head, aiming his cannon away from her. She could not take her eyes off his cock.

"I should not be doing this."

"So irresponsible," I teased.

"Shut up."

"It's just a dick, Sam. No worries, no commitments, no repercussions, unless we somehow get caught, which we won't. He's a stranger."

Her hand held a steady rhythm, up and down his length. Her lips were parted and her shiny dress swayed. She did her best to give him pleasure. His expression said she succeeded. I noticed her wedding ring in the low light and my breath caught in my throat. Her tits swung, threatening to slip out of her low-cut neckline. My mouth went dry but my palms turned clammy.

"You look sexy, Sam."

"You're an odd husband."

Her free hand slipped under to fondle his balls. She was determined. He watched her hands work the length. I scanned again to make sure we were still alone and when I looked at his cock, the head flared.

"You close?" Sam rasped.

He nodded rapidly. A man of few words. Sam jerked him faster.

"Give it to me. I'm looking right at your dick. That's what you crave, right? You want women to see the gorgeous cock you have. All right. I see it. I see you. Shoot for me. I want to watch that shit spray out of your big cock."

He covered his face with his hands. His dick was so hard he looked purple. My wife goaded him but he loved every word.

"Ungh!"

A long thick rope of sperm shot from the tip and flew across the grass. Sam laughed joyfully. He shot again, another huge blast, followed by many bolts of hot seed. My wife jerked his shaft and fondled his balls. The man shot long strands of semen again and again.

I muttered, "Jesus," and Sam grinned at me.

She stroked like every drop mattered, like it was her responsibility to drain him completely. His thick blasts gradually reduced to dribbles. She reluctantly released his heavy appendage and wiped gooey knuckles on his coat.

"That's more cum than I've ever seen," she said.

He looked sheepish. He looked dazed. His cock did a slow wilt, drooping and drooling. His balls hung low, empty. Removing those tight rings would be easy soon. His erection had raged like a dragon but now needed sleep. The grass sparkled with streaks of jizz. Sam gently hefted his scrotum, feeling the weight of the orbs within. She dragged a finger down the length of the shaft from root to head. She looked wistful and I wondered what she thought.

"Seriously the biggest load ever."

I recognized her tone. I knew what she was thinking. I knew she hated to see such waste.

Sam cleared her throat. My wife seethed with bottled lust. I gave the man a small wave and he waved back, shy and embarrassed, before closing his long coat and slipping away between the oaks. We watched him go.

"That man cums like a river," she joked.

I heard the rasp in her voice. I heard the tension. I grabbed her at the shoulders and pressed her against the tree trunk he'd just vacated. I kissed her fiercely and dropped to one knee on the soft grass. I lifted the front of her dress and tugged her panties aside and mouthed her whole vulva, gobbling her mound. She groaned and almost collapsed, bracing herself on my shoulders. I split her soaked labia and found her clit, dragging my taste buds across her sensitive nub. She whimpered and gasped. I fucked her hole with my tongue, determined to make my wife orgasm. I braced my back and buried my face. I had her on the edge in minutes despite the gin and tonics. She grabbed my head and shuddered, groaning and shaking, trying hard to stay quiet as an orgasm ripped through her tight body. She growled.

"Jesus Christ!"

I desperately wanted to fuck her but couldn't. Despite the sexual tension crackling in the air I was soft as a noodle. I released her panties and she crumpled into my arms.

"That was crazy."

"Jerking off a flasher or twice getting eaten in a park?"

"Yes. All of it."

"We wanted more irresponsible fun in our lives."

Chapter 3

I set cruise control and took my foot off the gas. Sam held my hand.

"His cock must have weighed three pounds. Damn thing was big."

"Size matters?"

"Not for a relationship but for a jerk-off-a-stranger-in-the-park encounter? Yes."

"It did enhance the moment."

"You were turned on too. You went down on me twice. Publicly."

"Too bad I couldn't fuck you. I wanted to."

"All in good time, Darling."

Imp. She looked coy. She'd climaxed hard but her glittering eyes said she was ready for more. I'd take her home and dig out our bedroom toys and see if I could rip another orgasm from her. With Tina gone tonight so Sam could be as loud as she wished. We could take our time.

"Any jealousy?" she asked, showing me her left hand. "This was wrapped around another man's penis only minutes ago."

"No jealousy."

"I'm surprised. No way would I let you finger-fuck some big-titty babe."

I laughed.

"I suppose if you'd try to kiss him or get to know him. If you showed any interest in the man, maybe. But all you cared about was yanking his dick. It all felt like harmless racy fun. Should I feel jealous?"

"No. Do you think less of me?"

"What? No way. Why would I?"

"Men do. You want us to be virgins, or at least act virginal. Often our value equals our modesty. If we love sex we're worthless sluts."

"I am not one of those men."

She snuggled my shoulder. We drove through the darkness, headed for home.

We soon pulled into our garage. I hurried her to the bedroom and before she even took off her heels I bent her over her side of the bed, crouching to eat her from behind again. I tongued her sopping pussy while carefully drawing her favorite vibrator from the nightstand drawer. I licked the tapered tip to wet it and slipped the device in while teasing her clit. She gasped.

"What were you thinking? You stared at his cock while you stroked him. What were you thinking?"

She tensed. She stopped squirming. I expected her to say she was worried we'd get caught or she was concerned for my feelings. She didn't.

"I wondered how his penis would feel in me."

Her honesty caught me by surprise. I had no idea what to say.

"I had no curiosity about the man but the penis had me wondering. I almost put him in my mouth. Would you get mad at me?"

I pumped the vibrator, slow and gentle. In the drawer sat a dildo we'd never used. I brought it home as a surprise but Sam said the size intimidated her. I carefully withdrew it from the nightstand while working the vibrator. I lifted the head to my lips and licked all around, even sucked the first few inches to get them wet. I moved my mouth to her clit and brought the big dildo to her opening.

"You imagined fucking him?"

"No, Baby, not him. His dick."

I eased the head between her labia and pushed gently.

"His dick would feel like this."

Sam groaned and lifted her ass. I tongued her clit and fed her soaked pussy more stiff latex cock. My wife whimpered with pleasure.

"What— What is that?"

"Flasher-man."

I held her leg and pushed the dildo all the way in. Sam arched her back and cried out, a blissful sound of joy. I sucked her pussy around the toy, licking any flesh I found, driving my lovely wife insane. Her pussy gushed, easing the smooth slide in and out. I pumped the faux cock faster, building speed. Her stretched pussy clung to the shaft.

"Does his big cock feel good, Baby? Better than you imagined? You're stuffed with dick."

Sam groaned loudly and orgasmed! I was caught by surprise but quickly recovered. I pumped her cunt like he fucked her. My wife dropped her face to our bed and hugged a pillow and I deep-stroked and she came again! I'd never wished for an erection so much in my life. I pushed the toy all the way in and held it deep while I stripped her clothes off. She barely moved, eyes closed, cunt stuffed, body trembling as I undressed her. I pushed her onto her back and lifted her legs on my shoulders. I held the toy against my pubic bone and fucked as if it were me. Her eyes flew wide open, astonished. She grabbed my head and kissed my mouth and I fucked her deep and slow with a thick new cock.

"Jesus, John," she panted. "I can't take it. That cock feels too good. It's like you're fucking me again after so long. I want to scream."

"Scream."

Her eyes closed and I fastened my mouth to a nipple. I was in no hurry. My little gambit was paying dividends. I fucked her slow and deep, shifting between breasts, kissing and nibbling her throat, gently kissing her sweet lips. She was adrift on an ocean of pleasure. My limp penis bounced against my fingers, leaking semen like crazy. I held steady as she started to build yet again, soon exploding in another thunderous orgasm.

I climbed on the bed over her and she brought her heels behind my butt, helping me drive the big cock deep on every thrust. She tried to keep herself together but this new position hit all the right places. Her mouth opened. Her breathing turned ragged. Animal sounds escaped her throat and I fucked her harder. Her pussy was soaked, sloshing around this thick invader. I tried to heighten her passion.

"Was he handsome?"

"Y-Yes."

"Did you want him inside you?"

"I wanted his cock."

"Now you have it. He's fucking you."

Sam groaned and grabbed her tits. She pinched and pulled her nipples. I made my voice a little deeper, playing the part.

"You like my big cock, Lady? Cum again horny slut. Fuck me, bitch. Fuck me out in the open under my tree in the park. You want people to find us. You want people to watch you. Fuck me on the wet grass."

I had no idea what I was saying. I blurted anything that entered my mind. I searched for lines that would hit Sam hard.

"Answer me! Do you love my big cock?"

"Yes!"

"You know how much I cum. You saw. You want all that cum inside you?"

Sam groaned and her body tensed. I'd hit a nerve.

"You remember? You remember the fountain of semen? I saved it all for you, bottled up, waiting for weeks until you arrived and teased it out of me. You want that flood of man-seed in you?"

"Yes!" she snapped. "Fuck, yes!"

I pounded my wife into the bed. She was hooked on his copious ejaculate as much as his size. I don't know why but I didn't need to know. My hips rose and fell. My back hurt but I wasn't about to stop. This was crazy. We'd never done anything like this.

"Come back to the park," I said. "Drag your husband along. He can watch you like everyone else. Tell your husband to bring you to the park. Tell him!"

Sam clenched her jaw. I'd gone too far. This demand was real, not fantasy. I tried to think of something quick, something to take us in a different direction, but nothing came to me. I decided bold was better than meek.

"Tell him! Tell him to take you to the park. I'll fuck your brains out, pretty lady."

Her fingers curled into fists. She clenched her jaw. She fought the urge to speak.

I used my normal voice to pour gas on the fire.

"Should I, Samantha? Should I return you to that man? Is that what you want? He's so demanding. Should I hand you over to him?"

Sam wailed and arched her back, cumming harder than ever.

"Yesssss!"

I held the replica tight and fucked my wife into oblivion. My flaccid penis drooled a long strand of precum. My fingers were slippery. Emotions warred in me. I won't lie: her admission stung. But I'd pushed her to say the truth and she had. She'd been many weeks without sex and still faced months more.

Opposing that sting was a host of new feelings. This game was hot. Sam was on fire and sexier than I'd ever seen her. I loved how crazy she was for sex. If I took her back to the man in the park would she stop at jerking him off?

I pumped her tight cunt until she stopped moving. She might be unconscious. I'd drained her completely. I eased the dildo deep and left it in her. I lay beside her. She rested her cheek on my chest and crossed her legs to keep that cock buried.

We fell asleep like that.

Chapter 4

She was in the shower when her phone rang so I answered it. Her mother, Mary. Surprise birthday party for dad. Can we make it? Yes. I waited outside the shower to tell her but also to see her naked. I never get tired of seeing Samantha naked. She worries I'll get bored looking at the same body over and over. I told her to shut her mouth. I told her that's not how male brains work.

She said she was surprised to learn they did. Ha ha.

I held her towel open for her and got an eyeful. I explained about mother and the party. She wrapped the towel under her arms. She opened her closet to find an outfit for the day and when she reached, the towel dropped. I stared. She watched from the corner of her eye and smiled coyly. She made several selections and moved to the full-length mirror, trying the first and then the next, holding them before her naked body. She walks around nude more often since my operation. She laid the outfits on the bed and returned to the closet, digging deeper, searching dresses she'd not worn in years.

She pulled her wedding gown, wrapping in clear plastic.

"I wonder if it still fits."

"Not really appropriate for Dad's birthday but okay, you're eccentric."

"Not for Dad's party, ding-dong. I'm back to my marriage weight but my body is totally different. I wonder how the gown would look."

"Try it on. You might be the same weight but you're in much better shape."

She removed the plastic wrap and held the dress high. Her body looked great in the sunlight. I gawked. My dick might be broken but my eyes worked fine.

"You had that dress on when we got back to the hotel room."

"I remember. You told me to leave it on and then fucked me. I went to the reception with a pussy full of cum."

"Spontaneous lovemaking. Those were the days."

She lowered the dress.

"We will make love again."

"Someday."

She gave me a backhand wave.

"Posh. You pout. I miss sex more than you but you don't hear me whining."

"Because we've found substitutes for you. My balls ache. Doctor Brand was right. This is horrible."

"That big dildo is delightful but no substitute for real cock."

I dropped the subject. I was venting. She was frustrated too.

"Are you going out with Macy tonight?"

"Yes. She got promoted and wants to celebrate. Also, she's single again and wants to mingle. I'm taking her for dancing and drinks. I'm not sure when I'll be home."

"No worries. Tina and I will watch movies and fall asleep on the couches."

She slipped the wedding dress over her head. With a few adjustments, it fell into place. She zippered the side and faced the mirror. She looked sexy. She turned side to side, checking, judging.

"Not bad."

"You look great, Sam."

She shrugged the dress off and plucked a tight black number for tonight. I stayed out of her way. We kissed at the front door and she was gone. Tina and I ate dinner, watched our movie, and fell asleep on the couches.

I was awakened by the buzzing of a text message.

Macy is flirting with a handsome black guy.

I read it again. The message was remarkable for the things it did not say. Why did Sam feel it necessary to inform me of Macy's behavior? Because Sam was doing the same. Why inform me at all? Because Sam needed permission for something.

What are you asking? I replied.

Smart husband.

I did not respond. I pictured my wife at the club. Macy is wild. They were drunk or nearly drunk, horny and frustrated. This was the first time they'd seen each other in a while so Sam undoubtedly shared our story about the flasher in the park. I was sure it made Macy hornier. A thought hit me.

You want permission to jerk off a black man?

I felt certain that text landed hard. It was a huge intuitive leap and I might be wrong but so what if I was. After long minutes, I got my answer.

You'll need to explain how you got there so fast but yes. May I? It's like that time in the park. I've never seen or held a black one. I'm curious.

I glanced at my daughter. Tina slept soundly. Sam and I had been trying things a little differently lately so I was inclined to say yes. What harm? She'd come home crazy horny so that would be fun.

But what about what I wanted? My wife wanted to touch another man again and I wasn't angry. Maybe I felt guilty for my limp dick and my inability to satisfy. Maybe this was a good way to shift things closer to fair.

Do it, I sent.

My heart raced. Intuition told me I'd not hear from her again, and I was right. I moved Tina from the couch to her bed. I brushed my teeth and changed into pajamas. I slipped into bed to read, now that I was awake again. The clock said one-twenty in the morning. I fell asleep about an hour later.

The bed sagged when Sam sat on the edge. I opened my eyes. I smelled alcohol and weed. The black dress had stains from spilled drinks and ash on a sleeve.

"Have fun?" I mumbled.

Her lip trembled.

"What's wrong?"

She tossed her hands in the air. They landed on bare legs with a slap.

"I fucked up."

I sat up.

"What happened?"

She explained how Macy ordered a ton of drinks and flirted like crazy. She explained how two hot black guys joined them at their table. She described how the guys were touchy feely and Macy welcomed it. She said the guys had marijuana vapes and she took one puff but declined more.

"My guy, Ramses, touched my knees and touched my shoulders and tried to kiss me but I stopped him. He sat with his body touching mine. He touched my hands. He was gorgeous and stared into my eyes when speaking to me and I loved his attention. Eventually he put my hand on his crotch. He was hard. I did not pull away. I squeezed."

"That's when you texted me."

"Yes."

"That's when you wondered if a man in a park is okay, why not a man in a club."

"Yes."

"What's the problem, Baby? I said you could."

Her eyes filled with tears.

"The weed was so strong. Macy was making out with her guy. He'd freed her breast and played with it right in front of us. Ramses unzipped and pulled out his black cock and I reached to stroke him but he pushed on the back of my head. He pushed my head to his lap and I let him guide his cock into my mouth."

"Wait. You blew him?"

"Yes. Baby, I'm sorry. Nobody saw me do it. We were in a dark corner. I told myself you'd be glad I did. After you encouraged me with the guy in the park and all that dirty talk about fucking a big dick, I convinced myself you'd be okay with it. I rationalized you'd want me to. I thought since your penis doesn't work, you'd want me to enjoy his. I justified everything in my head."

"You sucked his cock?"

I was reeling. My head fell onto my pillow. I stared at our ceiling. Her words were a thousand tiny razors lacerating my heart.

"I know I was stupid, Baby. I'm so sorry. He pushed my head down and I just let him. He expected I'd suck so I did."

I saw her in my mind. I pictured everything perfectly. I saw her head rising and falling. I saw his black rod vanish between her lips. My hands curled into fists but I put anger aside for the moment. I needed to know more. Panic flashed through my body.

"Did you fuck him?"

"No! God, Baby, no. No way."

"Oh, I see. You were able to draw a line after all."

"You have every right to be angry with me."

"You're goddamn right I'm angry. I trusted you, Sam. I thought I could grant your request and let you step a toe over the line but you took a full step. Why? Never mind. I know why." I yanked my pajama bottoms down to show her my limp dick. "This is why. I can't satisfy you so you find another man."

"No, Baby! Please. I was drunk and high and stupid. I saw Macy and her man and I got caught up. Yes, I'm horny and frustrated but that's not why I did it."

"Did he cum?"

"John! Don't torture yourself."

I raised my voice.

"Did he cum?"

"Baby!"

"Goddamn it, Samantha. You don't get to hide anything. You don't get to protect yourself or make yourself look better. I need to know everything you did. All of it. Stop hiding and answer my questions: did he cum?"

"Yes."

"Where?"

"In my mouth."

"So you went all the way? You didn't realize what you were doing at any point and stop, you just kept going, going until he finished."

"Yes."

Her tears started again. Her lip quivered.

"You swallowed?"

"Yes."

I could not breathe. My skin was a thousand degrees. This was agonizing for us both but I needed to understand, like hearing every detail would rob the thing of its power, like removing all mystery somehow made it smaller and less frightening.

"I bet you went after it. I bet he warned you he was close and you sucked harder and faster. Am I right?"

"Yes."

Her voice was so low I barely heard her.

"I'm sure his hands were all over you."

"They were."

"Tell me."

"He played with my breasts on top of my dress. When I didn't protest, he slipped under to caress them bare. My pussy, too. He fingered me until I orgasmed."

"You fucking orgasmed?"

Unbelievable.

"Yes, John, I did."

We stared at each other.

"I'm terribly, terribly sorry, Honey."

We'd arrived at the end of her confession. I knew everything and there was no undoing what she'd done. His seed was in her belly as I sat and looked at her face. What was my path forward? I was hurt, deeply, but I didn't need revenge. I didn't need to hurt her so I felt better. But if I did nothing I'd feel even more impotent than I already was. Did she simply get away with her crime? I felt a powerful urge to fuck her but with a broken dick, that was not an option. If there was no punishment, if she faced no repercussions, if I simply forgave her and we moved on, what stopped her from doing it again? If she'd confessed to a years-long affair with a man she was in love with, our marriage would be destroyed. She wasn't doing that. How much smaller was this single violation? Would I give it the power to destroy our marriage too? That felt wildly disproportionate. Only a weak marriage would so easily crumble, and Sam and I did not have a weak marriage. On the contrary, we were rock solid. But if we were so rock solid, why did she turn to another man?

"Goddamn it, Samantha."

"I know, Baby."

She rested a hand on my chest. I was a mess. Part of me acknowledged how difficult these past weeks had been for her. To avoid further embarrassment, we'd avoided my penis completely. We'd attempted nothing intimate. I'd shown her a ton of attention but she's a giver. Intimacy needs to go both ways. With no outlet for pleasing another, she'd stumbled upon a man she could please.

I understood there were many factors contributing to her fall from grace, starting with the flasher in the park, like she'd said, and the elaborate fantasies I'd constructed while using our toy on her. We'd blurred that formerly distinct line.

To her credit, she'd come directly home and confessed. She'd hidden nothing from me. If this was something she planned on repeating she would never have said a word. No, she'd simply fucked up in the moment.

I met her eyes. I saw sorrow and regret and hope. She wanted me to forgive and move on but understood there had to be a price to pay. My gaze dropped to her mouth. She'd had a cock in there recently. A black cock.

"Was he big?"

Her eyes went wide.

"I'm not sure. Our little corner was dark."

"Bullshit. Just answer. You touched him and had him in your mouth. How far did your jaw open? You know the answer. How big was he? Are the rumors true?"

She made a circle with thumb and forefinger, leaving a small gap.

"About that big around." She held up two fingers separated by about eight inches. "About that long. I never saw his testicles. They stayed in his pants."

"That's kind of large."

"Yes, a little bigger than average, for sure."

I studied her face. She proceeded cautiously. Any wife would in her situation, I suppose, considering our topic.

"Why would a husband ask that?"

"I wondered if that factor mattered in your decision," I replied.

"Meaning?"

"In a heated moment like that I'm guessing that fact nudged you over the edge. You said flasher man's size mattered because of the situation. I'm guessing size mattered in this situation too."

She'd not considered that point until now.

"Maybe. Yeah. Probably."

I sighed.

"Come to bed. I'll probably have more questions later but that's all for now."

"Okay, Baby. Again, I'm incredibly sorry."

She leaned over and we kissed and I tasted him in her mouth. Slippery, salty, black guy sperm coating my wife's teeth and tongue. We finished the kiss.

"Probably should have brushed your teeth first."

She covered her mouth with a hand.

"Oh, shit, I'm sorry, John. Fuck. That was stupid. Goddamn it. I'm sorry."

"Just come to bed."

She stepped away and unzipped her dress. Bra and panties hit the floor next. I watched her and couldn't help but admire and desire her body. She looked sexy in the dim light. She kicked her discarded clothing against the wall and walked to the bathroom. The light flared and the door shut. I laid there thoughtful for a moment then slipped from our bed. I found her panties. Soaked, as I'd suspected. Drenched all the way through but pure pussy juice, no sperm. She was sorry and filled with regret but that did not change the fact what she'd done had turned her on. I should take comfort in the fact she didn't fuck him. Her sopping cunt certainly wanted to. I placed her panties where she'd kicked them and returned to bed. She soon joined me. She tentatively took my hand and when I responded she rolled over and spooned me, providing me what comfort she could.

"Did you want to fuck him?"

"John!"

"Be honest, Sam. It helps me understand the encounter. Did you?"

Her breasts smushed my back as she drew a deep and calming breath.

"Yes, of course. He was gorgeous. I'm older and starting to lose my sex appeal. This body has given birth to a child. I'm an aging woman and he was a hot black stud with a large hard cock. Yes, I wanted to fuck him. I wanted to, but I didn't."

Fair and honest.

"Did Macy fuck her guy?"

Sam scoffed.

"When I denied Ramses Macy snagged him. She left with both men. I heard from her a little later after she'd fucked them unconscious and taken an Uber home."

That was enough for now. Drowsiness had returned. I was sure more questions would arise in the days to come but sleep beckoned.

"Good night, Sam."

"Good night, John. I hope you know how sorry I am."

"I do, Baby."

I patted her hand on my chest.

Chapter 5

Ben, the photographer, owned a vast studio warehouse attached to a small front office. We entered the office through a simple front door and took a seat. We signed some paperwork and he led us to the studio behind.

The interior was like a high school gymnasium. Along the walls were countless props and facades: for a western theme, he had fake stables and barn. For an underwater theme, he had glittery blue and turquoise sheets covered with fish and kelp. The man had it all. Dozens of fake rooms waited too: office settings, kid's bedroom settings, adult bedroom settings. Give him a little time and he could photograph you wherever you wished.

Huge sheets of green told me if he didn't have the right setting, he could manufacture one digitally. I suggested to Sam we do a Tarzan and Jane theme. She shot me down.

"I purchased the Boudoir package because I want the Boudoir package," she insisted. "These photos will be hot and sexy, even scandalous. Not X-rated but close. We've worked hard on our bodies to look our best. I want to capture our achievements. We are getting older and may never look this good again."

His assistants brought around poolside scenery and Ben showed us the dressing rooms. He provided me a small Speedo and Sam the tiniest bikini I've ever seen. We changed and wrapped towels and rejoined the man. He posed us and started snapping pictures, growing increasingly sexier and provocative. I declined a few poses that hurt my back but he graciously worked with us to find substitutes. We had fun.

Soon came the time for Sam to loosen and eventually remove her top and she sailed along, confident in her new body. We might be headed for old age and these bodies would irreversibly fade, but we would go out fighting. That's why this photo session was so important to her. Ben posed Sam in ever sexier positions and I found myself enjoying the reactions from him and his assistants.

"All right," he proclaimed. "Time for nudes."

His assistants stepped forward with towels. Sam and I stripped. Ben posed Sam facing the camera and placed me behind her, looking at the lens over her shoulder. I was self-conscious about my surgery scars and, of course, my limp dick but Ben worked with me.

"What I can't pose out of the photograph I'll airbrush out."

Sam and I had never done anything like this but the man made us comfortable. His employees, too. The camera focused on Sam with my body only partially in most shots. She was the star, as it should be. The more pictures he took the more she relaxed. Soon we were laughing and having crazy fun. Nobody would see these photos so why not? Ben took a break and returned with two glasses of cabernet. He opened his hand in front of my face. A Viagra sat on his palm.

"That won't work," I said. "The surgery messed everything up. Nerve damage. We'll need to proceed without my erection."

"Without? Entirely? Oh. Samantha had warned me I'd need to work around your scars but not about this."

"Did she not mention my condition? Sorry. It's temporary but difficult to discuss."

He tugged his bottom lip, thinking.

"You purchased the deluxe session which means about half the pictures will be sexual. If you can't get an erection, that's a problem. I can skip that style of photograph but I assure you, the portfolio will feel empty. Erections provide a lot of heat. They give the shot urgency. There's a natural progression to the pictures, each stage building on the previous. If we stop now it will be obvious something is missing."

I lifted my shoulders about an inch.

"What can I do?"

He rubbed his forehead. Sam joined us wrapped in a large towel.

"What's wrong?"

I explained the situation to her.

"I can refund half your money and we end the session now, or, for the close-up shots only, I can use a substitute."

"Substitute?" Sam asked. "Like a replica? A strap on?"

"No, a real penis. The pictures call for an erection but it doesn't have to be John's. To get the balance and shading and lighting right, we just need a body with a penis. This has happened before with other clients and I used my assistant, Mike, for the zoom shots."

Sam and I exchanged a look.

"Mike takes my place in the pictures?"

"Only the close-ups. No face. Almost all hips. Mike will stand in for any pictures with penis and Sam. Let's be honest, the photoshoot is mostly about Sam. These shoots are always about the wife. We use you for the face and distance shots, but you don't need an erection for those. For any shot that shows dick, we hustle you out and Mike in. I've done this before and it completes the flow. We use Mike to fill in the story, as it were. We're sitting at halfway. Terrible to waste this opportunity."

"What do you think, Sam?" I asked.

She made a squinty little face, then smiled.

"Why not? We can try. If we're uncomfortable or we feel like it's just not working, we try something else."

"All right, Ben. Tell us how to pose."

I said Ben is a professional and the next few hours proved it. We'd thrown a wrench into his machine but he barely broke stride. He's good. He gave all his attention to Sam until she was relaxed and having fun. He placed me here and there around her. His assistant brought props like sheer gauze for her to drape over her body or elaborate necklaces that hung between her breasts. We complimented her often and the wine helped a lot. She began to laugh, parting her knees a little wider, arching her back a little more to thrust her breasts forward. Ben had me lower my mouth close to her nipple. He often brought us within millimeters of touching. He posed Sam leaning back on one elbow, lifted her foot to the back of a lounge chair, and tapped her knee.

"Open yourself. Show me your gorgeous pussy."

She did. Her slit was revealed to us all and she knew it. Her eyes darted around the circle, resting briefly on each man looking at her. Her cheeks blushed. Ben clicked a few pictures of her that way, fully exposed, then added my hand on her inner thigh.

"Keep your legs spread, Sam," he told her. "This next shot uses Mike, okay?"

Sam tried to swallow in a dry throat, failed, nodded instead.

"Mike?" Ben said. "Hit your mark."

Mike knew what that meant. Bobby, the other assistant, took Mike's big reflector sheet so Mike could undress. We have similar bodies in height and weight and muscularity and skin tone and body hair, but Mike's penis was obviously longer and thicker than mine. Would Sam think it was pretty?

"You want me full or partial?" he asked Ben.

"Partial, for now."

Mike lifted his soft cock and stroked. He stared at Sam, running his gaze over her fit and naked body. His penis grew. When he was about half erect, he stepped between her legs and brought his cock close to her pussy. He locked his fist around the base for control and carefully aimed.

"Hang on a second," Sam protested. "I'm uncomfortable with his penis so close."

Ben patiently lowered his camera.

"Mike won't touch you, Sam. He's done this many times. These are the shots I would have done with John but can't. Trust me, you will love the finished product. I will seamlessly mix Mike and John and it will look like you and your husband. Mike will vanish, I promise."

Sam looked at me.

What could I say? Racy and naughty is what we came here for. If we'd only wanted pictures of our new bodies, we could have done a front and back and called it a day. This photoshoot was about doing more than that. We were here for fun. We were here to do something wild and crazy, to step outside our comfort zones. Also, I felt some guilt for my impotence.

"It's okay with me, Sam. I'm here with you. We're doing this together."

Sam took a deep breath and released it. She looked at Mike standing between her thighs, his dick aimed at her pussy like the barrel of a gun. She nodded to Ben.

"All right, Ben. I trust you."

"Thank you. Go ahead, Mike."

The man stepped even closer. This was the quintessential moment before penetration, the moment before man takes woman. I realized I'd forgotten to breathe.

Sam looked wildly sexy. For the next several minutes Mike held his cock at Sam's opening as Ben circled both, capturing his models from many angles. I enjoyed the thought that anyone viewing these pictures, if we ever decided to share them, would believe that penis belonged to me. I liked the idea others would believe me well-hung.

Mike never touched Sam but over time I saw her inner labia swell and begin to protrude. She was wet inside there, growing more aroused by the minute.

"More wine?" I suggested.

We took a short break and then Ben posed us again. I was in all the distance shots but then he brought Mike to replace me. Ben rolled Sam on her stomach, face near the edge of the bed. He used me for distance shots again and then moved closer.

"Mike, offer your dick to her mouth from about four inches away. Perfect. Closer. Perfect. Sam, open wider and look down at the head. Show me that you want it. Put that in your eyes."

Ben had no need to tell her. I saw her desire plainly. My wife is horny all the time anyway and in this situation, and with several glasses of wine in the stomach, she was practically climbing the walls. Mike was hard enough he no longer needed hands for support. Ben told Sam to open wide.

"Mike, avoid touching but put some of the head inside her mouth."

Mike leaned closer, the tip and an inch of head suspended in her mouth. Mike was fully hard, the swollen head dark red. A small droplet of precum oozed from the hole at the tip and I softly gasped. One wrong move and Mike's semen was in her. My heart fluttered. This was insane. When Sam saw the photos and that dollop of milky sperm in her mouth, she'd lose her mind. Ben must have spied the droplet because he moved closer, almost on top of them. The camera clicked as Ben captured the moment in super close-up.

"Bobby," Ben ordered. "Oil. Sam, stand next to Mike."

Bobby hurried to obey. He grabbed a spray bottle from a nearby work bench. Mike withdrew and I stared at his dick. The droplet was gone but I never saw where it went. Did he touch Sam's tongue? Did he wipe it away and I missed his hand? The models stood beside each other, Mike's erection protruding like a red spear.

"May I?" Bobby asked my wife, lifting the bottle.

"Sure."

Sam had no idea what she'd agreed to. Bobby circled, misting her skin with baby oil from the neck down. He sprayed his palms and handed the bottle to Mike, then rubbed his palms together. He started at Sam's feet, smearing the oil and moving higher, leaving her skin gleaming like chrome: calves, knees, thighs. Sam's breathing quickened as his hands roamed her body. Bobby avoided her pussy directly but massaged all around the vulva, tantalizing her far worse in many ways. She glanced at me often but always returned to watch his hands moving over her skin. He continued up her flat tummy to her breasts where he boldly palmed the full orbs and roughed the nipples. Mike returned the bottle and Bobby started at her feet again, behind her this time, following the same pattern. He spent extra time on her firm, round ass and I suspected his fingers may have grazed her pussy one of the many times his hand dipped into her crack. He glossed her back muscles and finished with his hands around her throat.

He left my wife trembling. I saw her racing heart in a vein on her neck. Her stiff nipples gleamed like shiny pencil erasers. Bobby sprayed Mike's hands and then returned to his reflector screen. Mike rubbed some shine on his arms and abs but mostly worked the oil around his pelvis and hard cock.

"I need to get on the bed again," Sam said.

Ben gestured.

"Excellent. All fours, if you please."

Sam assumed the position. We'd known this would be a sexy adult style shoot and I saw no reason to end it. I had not expected Bobby to touch Sam but he'd behaved professionally. What was my complaint? We were pushing the envelope but that's what we both wanted. Sam glanced at me again and I playfully bounced my eyebrows.

Ben showed Sam how to lift her ass and bow her back and shift weight forward so her arms took it, flexing her cute little muscles. He made her clench her butt. He taught her a crash-course in provocative posing.

Ben and his boys had her hot as fire.

Mike returned to his place at her mouth, oiled cock sparkling. Sam gazed at his meat, mesmerized. How long had she gone without? I studied her expression and wondered if the vibrator and our hot talk had made things worse or better. Ben had instructed her to look like she wanted it but this was no act. Sam longed for that cock. Only her determination to never hurt me again stopped her from doing more.

"Here's the next shot," Ben said. "Samantha will open her mouth wide and Mike will insert about a full inch. We might get two. Depends. There will be no touching so everyone hold your pose when I say so. I'll photograph from several angles, showing the penis is actually in your mouth."

Mike lazily stroked his cock, occasionally squeezing from root to head.

"Open your mouth, Sam," Ben said.

My wife obeyed. Mike eased his hips forward. The dollop of semen had returned. He'd intentionally squeezed it up the shaft. The small pearl passed between her wide-open lips into her mouth. Sam and Mike gazed into each other's eyes. Ben leaned closer, rapidly snapping pictures. Sam's jaw had to ache. Only pure determination kept her from closing. Only her determination to never hurt me again kept her faithful.

I've never wanted her so badly. I ached everywhere for her. My penis was utterly deflated and limp, like it never intended to get hard again, but my heart hammered at what I saw. I craved Sam desperately. She must have been out of her mind horny. Ben opened his mouth to speak, no doubt about to shift the models into new positions.

"She should close her lips on him," I said.

Ben shot me a look. Sam whimpered.

"It seems natural, right? You'd expect to see that shot in the portfolio. Right?"

"I agree," Ben said. "But are you sure?"

"Not really."

Mike backed out, awaiting instructions. Sam said nothing but watched me closely. This had to be my choice. She'd broken the rules with a black penis. She wouldn't break the rules again.

"Tell me what to do, Ben," I asked.

"What we usually do in this situation is exactly what you suggest. Couples are always glad they did. You're right: linking photos complete the session. There needs to be some payoff or you're left frustrated. People want to see it, including the couples in the pictures."

Mike looked my way but I was searching Sam's face. She tried to stay neutral but her eyes burned with want. I gave Ben a curt nod.

"Mike and Samantha," Ben said. "If you please. Assume your last pose."

My wife opened wide. Mike stepped closer. His dick had grown harder as we talked, anticipating Sam's mouth, and the drop of precum had grown to a pearl. He eased in and pressed the tip on her tongue, smearing his jizz. I shivered. Sam exhaled through her nostrils as her lips settled around his shaft in a warm and wet caress.

Ben's camera clicked like mad. Mike gasped but held steady. He would do nothing to ruin his chances here. Sam's cheeks dented when she sucked, then bulged when she moved down the shaft, filling her mouth. His shaft surged even harder, veins bulging along the length. He left his cock in there, pulsating against her tongue. Sam paused a moment, breathed deep, relaxed her jaw and forced more cock in. She worked his head farther back, rotating her jaw, crawling her lips gradually down his shaft towards his hanging balls. He did not move. Not a muscle. Sam's mouth crept closer to his sparse pubic hair. He felt his inches swaddled in hot wet flesh.

At last it was too much. Mike groaned with pleasure, a hand drifting to Sam's hair. Ben snapped pictures through it all. Sam turned greedy. She groaned deeply and grabbed Mike's ass with both hands, forcing him to fuck her mouth. He slid a little deeper each time until his cock head was plunging into her throat. My wife mouth-fucked herself with his meat, hungry and eager. I caught a glimpse of what this extended break had really done to her. I'd been a fool thinking I could keep her happy with mouth and toys alone. Sam was not that kind of woman.

Her throat bulged. Drool spilled. His penis was a slippery mess. Ben clicked, struggling to keep up, recording everything. I told myself this was for her but my arousal was off the charts too. I felt a faint tingling in my limp penis and hoped, but nothing happened.

Sam shoved hard on Mike's hips, forcing him backward and out of her mouth. She was breathing hard. They looked at each other with raw lust.

"I can't," Sam mumbled. "Not again. I promised." She turned forlorn eyes to me. "I'm sorry, Baby. I should have refused. I just miss it so much. I'm sorry, John."

"You did nothing wrong, Sam. This was my idea. I said okay."

Mike stood there with a raging hard on. Ben paused to see what became of my exchange with Sam. My wife had a burning question behind her eyes but she said nothing. We all froze in the moment, intense emotions rendering us paralyzed.

"Let's take a break," Ben suggested. "Cool off. Drink some wine. Relax. We can proceed however you both wish. Just let me know."

Chapter 6

Sam slithered from the bed to come into my arms. I wiped saliva from her lips and the corners of her mouth. I kissed her softly but passion built quickly. Our tongues met and I remembered the smear of semen he'd given her.

"I can't believe I did that," Sam murmured. "I can't believe you were okay with it."

"I'm surprised with myself. It seemed natural in the moment. Like we were interfering with nature or the natural order of things."

"Like hard cocks can't be ignored?"

"Something like that. They demand attention. You looked so sexy and I figured with me out of commission for so long, you were probably dying for something real. Was I wrong?"

"No." She kissed me again. "I was dying for it. I'm sorry, Baby."

I hugged her tight.

"I think pretending our big toy was that guy from the park prepared me for someone else touching you. I was training myself without realizing it."

"You made me crave real sex more."

Mike leaned against a car prop. His cock remained fully erect. He and Bobby chatted but Mike kept looking at Sam. We'd lit a fire. The man wanted my wife and wanted her badly. Ben headed our way.

"Shall we continue?"

Sam checked with me for an answer.

"Yes," I said. "Do you have a way to get me in the pictures again?"

"I do. Oral sex. Since we have shots of Sam performing, I'd like some shots of you doing the same. If you could get on the bed on your back, I'll have Sam kneel over your face. I will take progressive snaps as she brings herself closer and then you perform cunnilingus."

"Sounds good to me," Sam said.

I gave my wife a peck on the lips and climbed on the bed. I got comfortable. Ben started with pictures of Sam standing over me, holding her hair back and looking down. He took some photos and moved her to her knees. More pictures and then he got close, instructing Sam to slowly lower her pussy to my waiting mouth. Ben stopped us often, snapping away.

"All right," he said. "Feed him. Slowly."

Sam eased her pussy closer. I parted my lips and she sat her soaked vulva on my tongue. I closed my eyes and worked my tongue all over and in. Ben climbed around the bed taking pictures.

I opened my eyes when I heard Sam moan. She usually grabs my hair when she rides my face but hadn't this time and I discovered why. Mike stood on the bed next to her, feeding my wife his dick. Sam used one hand to play with his balls and the other to stroke the man, milking his cock. Ben had his camera pointed at me. Mike simply took advantage of the opportunity to get his dick sucked. Why not? She was no longer off limits. I'd smashed that rule. Once broken, there's no enforcing it again.

I gazed up her body, between her bouncing tits, and watched his fat erection slip and slide in her mouth. She lifted him to lick all around the head and shaft before stuffing her mouth. I was going to make her orgasm and she would do the same to him.

Ben moved us before we could. We stood by while Bobby wheeled in a prop tent and trees, rapidly creating a camping scene. Ben placed me on my back inside the tent while Sam straddled me. I never wished for an erection so much in my life. Sam pretended to ride me and I fondled her breasts while Ben took pictures. Ben gradually repositioned us until Sam's ass hung out the open tent flaps.

"All right. John and Mike trade places, please."

I vacated my spot and Mike laid down. Sam straddled his hips and maneuvered his erection out of her way. My throat constricted to see her hands on him. Ben rattled instructions and Sam lifted her hips while Mike guided his erection to stand in her butt crack. We were all looking at the underside of his cock now. Sam sat on his pelvis.

"Slide your ass up and down me," Mike said.

Sam did. His balls looked huge.

"Go slow," Ben said.

My wife began an agonizing ascent, dragging her crack along his length. She reached the top where her pussy touched his head and held the pose while Ben photographed rapidly. I saw how clever the man was. These pictures with Mike would blend seamlessly with the ones featuring me. The result would look like Sam had a marathon fuck session with my big dick.

Her tits swung over his face and I suspected he occasionally suckled her, but the tent blocked my view. Sam slid her ass down his length and then rose again until her labia partially enclosed the head. I gasped. Ben held her in that pose. He carefully manipulated her pussy lips and Sam jumped and then laughed when he touched her. Ben made her labia hug the angry cock head. When he had the shot he wanted, he lifted his camera, moving in for an intense close-up.

"Unbelievable," he whispered. "Glorious."

My wife's pussy lips encircled his cock head like rose petals.

"Fantastic," Ben muttered, clicking rapidly. "Another small adjustment."

He licked a fingertip and gently pressed the underside of the glans, nudging the tip slightly into Sam's hole. My wife exhaled deeply and shivered with pleasure. She knew our eyes were aimed at her exposed cunt. Mike barely breathed, afraid to break the spell. Ben snapped pictures and then licked his finger again, nudging Mike half an inch deeper. Sam gasped, suddenly aware maybe things had gone too far.

"J—John?"

"I'm right here, Baby."

The ring of her pussy slipped over the tip of Mike's cock. Her asshole clenched, puckered, and clenched again. Another shiver ran through her. She placed her palms on his chest, elbows close, and pushed, straightening her back and mashing her tits together. This changed the angle of her body and Mike slipped half an inch deeper. She quickly leaned forward but her pussy held him.

"God," she groaned.

What torture. She was frozen, unwilling to pull herself off his cock but unable to make herself slide down the remaining length. Should I say something? Should I make the choice for her? I couldn't bring myself. We'd played with the idea for months but always with a fake dick. Now we faced reality. Couldn't I just hand her over?

Ben crawled closer and took a few zoomed shots. He looked at me over a shoulder, a question in his eyes.

"You're the expert," I muttered, vacating responsibility. "You decide."

Ben placed his hand on the small of Sam's back.

"You look sexy, Samantha," he murmured. "Take a little more. It's okay."

He gently nudged her lower. She allowed it, lost in the sensation. The head eased another half inch before she recovered and realized. She searched frantically for me and our eyes met.

One of us needed to say something.

Neither did.

Ben pressed again and Sam's face turned to agony only it wasn't pain she experienced. It was pleasure, the pleasure of penetration, the pleasure of a pussy long empty filled again at last. Mike's mushroom head forced her wide as it crept deeper. I watched my wife's expression turn from shock to the realization that another man had entered her. She kept her eyes locked to mine as if that somehow made me a part of what happened. I guess it did. Ben took photos and adjusted the lens.

"All the way down," he said. "Slowly."

Sam hung her head, defeated by her own lust, willpower gone. Mike was rigid like steel. He looked bigger from this angle, thicker, and his balls were hen's eggs under tight skin. Sam's pussy slipped farther over the head and began a journey down the meaty pillar. She moaned as he slowly filled her and I did too. She was so wet she slid smoothly. Ben snapped away. At last his shaft was buried. Sam straightened her back, forcing her lips to expand around his base. He was fully embedded. She was completely stuffed. I marveled at the wild sight. Angst tied me in knots but part of me acknowledged the erotic power of the scene.

As gradually as she'd enveloped him, she began a slow withdrawal, lifting her ass. His pulsating cock emerged from her shiny and wet. Blue veins covered his inches like tree roots. She rose until the head reappeared.

"Stop," Ben said. "Hold right there."

His camera clicked.

"Spectacular. Incredible, Samantha, truly."

He took more pictures.

"All right," Ben said. "That was something special. I mean it. Let's take another break. We are almost finished, people."

Bobby dropped the reflector screen and Ben aimed for his office computer.

Sam and Mike did not move.

I approached. Mike stared at my wife's hanging tits. Sam held her eyes closed, no doubt savoring the feel of a cock in her, even if only half an inch. She heard me and opened her eyes. She was desperate, stressed.

"What do I do, John? Should I keep going?"

I lifted her chin and kissed her lips. Her sweet eyes were so desperate.

I placed a gentle hand on her back and pressed downward. Her eyes grew wide as she realized my intent. She grabbed my arm and pulled me for another kiss, straightening her back again and sending her cunt gliding down his pole. She held my face between her hands and began moving her pussy up and down his length as she kissed me fiercely.

This was how she'd make it work. This was how she'd resolve her inner conflicts. I may have a dick as soft as cotton but we could connect on other levels. We'd use a grateful Mike to provide what I lacked. I kissed my wife. I kissed her lips and her eyelids and her throat. I kissed my wife all over as she fucked herself on Mike's iron bar. He palmed her tits and sucked her swinging nipples. I held her pretty face and showered kisses. Sam and I made out, gazed into each other's eyes, filled with burning passion. The moment boiled my brain.

"Faster," I said. "Deeper. Fuck every inch of him."

Sam groaned and bore down. Her hips rose and fell.

"May I cum?" she pleaded. "Please?"

"I demand you cum, Sam. Fuck yourself. Let his cock be mine. Let him replace me in you. For now, you fuck him. Fuck him like you'd fuck me. Let me watch my beautiful wife orgasm. Show me."

Sam pumped her hips faster. I watched in awe.

"Kiss me!" she cried, and when I did she released months' worth of pent-up sexual frustration, digging fingernails into Mike's chest and wailing into my mouth. We kept our lips pressed and Mike smartly pinched her nipples. Sam orgasmed like she never had before. Her body shook. Her pussy gushed. Mike's steely rod reached deep and touched everywhere.

"Fuck!" she howled.

She collapsed on him but kept her hips pumping, driving towards a second climax. She tossed her head and moaned loudly, her pussy clenched around his thick solid meat. Her skin flushed pink body wide. I was thunderstruck. Her head snapped back and she ground her cunt against his body, growling like an animal as another orgasm smashed her. She writhed atop his body. He kept her balanced and let her cum. Once she finished, he rolled her on her side. He scooted to the edge of the bed, preparing to leave us. His wet dick was hard as diamond.

"You going to take care of that?" I asked, gesturing at his penis.

"No. Not yet. Ben wants more pictures. I'll save everything until the end."

Such a professional. I'd forgotten about Ben. Sam wrapped a towel under her armpits and I did the same around my waist. Mike joined Bobby and Ben in the office. Sam looked at me with sweet compassion.

"You must be dying, John."

"I am."

"At least I've had a few orgasms. You must feel trapped."

"I've never wished for an erection so badly in my life."

"You don't have to suffer. Doctor Brand said prostate stimulation will empty your testicles. Maybe we should try that?"

"Let you fuck my ass with a strap on? No thanks."

"Not like that. There are little remote control eggs. They vibrate like crazy."

I fidgeted. Sam had tried a finger up my ass when we first started dating and I told her never try again. My erection died that night. All it did was hurt.

"Let's get you some relief. Don't you want to experiment?"

"Maybe."

I handed Sam a glass of wine. Her hand shook, sloshing the contents.

"Are you angry with me?"

I took a step back.

"No, Sam. I take the blame. I pushed you on his cock. How could I be mad?"

"Do you want to stop? We have a lot of pictures. Probably enough by now."

I sighed. She had a point. If we continued, we both knew what the future held.

"No."

"You know what's coming, John. You heard what Mike said. Think about it. I need you to be the calm voice of reason because I can't be trusted. I want to fuck so badly I can't see straight. If we go on, Mike will fuck me. Not posed, pretend fucking for the camera, but real fucking. Intercourse. I won't stop him from cumming. I'm admitting it now. If we allow that to happen, we can never undo it. Can we live with it? Can we both live with that?"

I rubbed sweaty palms on my towel. I glanced at the office. The three men discussed something. I realized I was fidgeting and made myself stop.

Sam let her towel fall. She wanted me to take a hard look at what I was giving away. Her smooth skin gleamed. Her toned arms and legs and flat stomach screamed sexy. Her gorgeous body made my eyes ache.

Soon those three men would return and we'd begin again. I'd seen enough of his work to know Ben would take things all the way. If I said nothing, Mike would fuck Sam until he filled her with seed and Ben would photograph it all.

I gulped wine. There was no need for the photoshoot to go that far but deep in my heart I knew I'd allow it. I did not understand why. Sam saw my agony on my face.

"You will let it happen," she murmured.

I nodded. I couldn't speak.

The office door opened and the men exited. Mike had wrapped his towel around his waist too. He dropped it on the walk across the studio, displaying a partially erect penis. His gaze was glued to Sam. I checked on my wife and discovered she stared at him with equal hunger. Ben gave the guys some instructions and Bobby hustled the tent prop away and brought a yacht setting to replace it. He bathed the set with light like a bright noon day sun. Ben explained the scene.

"Sam is reclining on the deck, sunbathing, when the steward, that's you, John, brings champagne. I'll give more direction as we go. Mike get ready. Sam, I'd like you here on your back. John will serve drinks on a tray and we'll proceed to foreplay followed by more cunnilingus. Mike will replace John for the finishing shots. Questions? No? Fantastic. We're almost there, people. Let's get it done."

Bobby raced to complete the setting. Sam took her position. I accepted the fake tray with fake Champagne flutes. Ben took pictures. Soon I was on my stomach between her legs, licking that sweet pussy I love so much. I thought Sam might be burned out a little but I made her orgasm quickly. Then a new thought occurred: I prepared her pussy for Mike. I was her husband but I was getting her ready for another man. I felt my face blush.

"Mike," Ben said. "Get John out of there. "

Mike smacked my ass like a football player. We changed places. Mike touched her labia with the tip of his penis and Sam jumped.

"Put it in," she quickly whimpered.

Her request hit hard. Mike took his cock in hand and rubbed my saliva around her slit. Ben snapped photos. Sam hooked one leg behind Mike and gently pulled him forward. If I wasn't there, she would have grabbed his cock with both hands and stuffed her cunt. Mike leaned in and the head spread Sam's pussy. Her inner lips caressed the helmet and then he moved deeper, sliding his cock home. Sam instinctively looped an arm behind his neck and pulled him down for a kiss, which shocked me. There was no need. Ben would not photograph them kissing. Ben's camera was aimed elsewhere. Mike responded and then pushed deep enough to make her back arch.

Just like that, I was gone from her thoughts.

Ben circled the mating couple, capturing the best angles, capturing Sam's body at her sexiest. Mike plowed into her, concerned with nothing but fucking my attractive wife. I found my eyes drawn to where their bodies merged. His penis pushed her soft opening wide, forcing her wider than I ever had. I watched her toned abs clench and her leg muscles flex as she worked her body around him. This was the fucking she'd craved. No toy, no riding my face. Here was a man between her legs who lusted for her. Mike understood his good fortune and fucked my wife powerfully. Ben offered almost no direction, allowing the lovers to follow their desires. He lifted the camera from time to time to watch, just like me and Bobby.

Mike rolled Sam on her side. He lifted her leg vertically and held it. His thick cock slammed her over and over and my wife orgasmed again. I was amazed at the ease he caused them. She peaked and wilted and he rolled her onto her stomach, lifting himself over her body. Ben stepped back to watch. Mike bore down, plunging deeper and faster each minute. Sam groaned constantly.

I realized Mike was building towards orgasm. The photo session had ended. My stomach churned. I should stop them. I should protest. If this wasn't part of what we'd purchased, then what the fuck were we doing?

I took a step closer. Sam was moaning, writhing under him knowing where this headed. She lifted her hips to meet his thrusts, eager to coax the load from him. If I stopped him, I also stopped her. If I did nothing, we'd all see my woman breed with another man.

"Take photos," I rasped, and Ben looked shocked.

Bobby looked at me like I was insane. Ben shook his head with disbelief but moved between their legs, snapping pictures of Mike's thick, plunging cock. He aimed the lens between their bodies. He captured Sam's face frozen in ecstasy. He prowled around the lovers, recording every gorgeous view.

Mike roared like a bull and Ben dropped to the floor, snapping photos of the moment. Mike thrust repeatedly and then once all the way in. His ass clenched. We all understood his cock was spurting deep inside her. Sam groaned with delight, urging him on. He pumped several times and then slammed all the way in again, delivering another batch of hot sperm. He pumped again and delivered more. Over and over he blasted away and Ben recorded it all. Sam begged for every drop.

At last Mike finished, drained. The sperm injection was complete. He rested a moment to catch his breath and then began to withdraw. Ben stopped him, camera raised, and recorded each retreating inch, capturing, as the large mushroom head exited, a white flood dripping from her pussy.

The men headed for the office. Bobby slapped Mike on the back. Mike grabbed his towel and wiped his cock and balls clean, tossing the towel aside. My wife stared at the metal rafters high overhead.

"Do you hate me?"

"No, Samantha, you're lovely. You're gorgeous. I love you. You're sexy."

"How can you say that?"

"I can't see how sexy you are when I'm the one fucking you."

That hit her hard. She waved for me to join her on the fake yacht set. I did. She curled under my arm.

"You liked watching me?"

"I did. At times the sight was difficult to take, and I desperately wish I was hard right now, but, yes, I liked watching you."

We said nothing for a minute.

"What happens now?" she asked.

"Nothing, I suppose. We go back to our lives. We make an album of the photos and flip through them before we fuck for the next thirty years."

She chuckled and nuzzled my chest.

Mike emerged from the office carrying a business card and wearing boxers. He approached tentatively. He apologized for intruding and then offered Sam the card.

"I'm not just a photographer's assistant. I also DJ and I'm a painter. I have a loft studio downtown. Maybe you guys can come by?"

Sam took the card and glanced nervously at me.

"What do you paint, Mike?"

"Massive cityscapes. I especially love the city when it rains. I'd love for you guys to see them."

"We will," my wife said.

"I put my cell on the back of the card. I'm not sure what you guys are into but I'd love to take you to dinner, Sam. I apologize if that's out of line."

Sam answered before me.

"I'd love that too. Thank you for the invitation."

Chapter 7

We spent the next few days in shock, I think. We moved through our routines, smiling and laughing and carrying on as always, carrying on like nothing significant had happened. We got home from work on day three, listened to Tina tell us all about her day at school, shared what our work day was like, and then enjoyed a delicious supper. Tina went to her room to do her homework. Sam and I retired to our family room. I queued up the next episode of The Last of Us and waited for Sam to pour drinks. We have a good life. Sam handed me a glass of cabernet and joined me on the couch. I lifted the remote.

"Before you hit play I need to tell you something."

I set the remote down.

"I bought three home pregnancy tests today."

My blood ran cold.

"Why?"

She sipped wine.

"Why do you think? Mike's attractive but I don't want to have his baby."

I lowered my wine glass. I steadied myself on the arm of the couch. How had I missed that aspect of what we'd done? Was I living in denial?

"What are the chances you conceived?"

"Slight. The timing is way off. I'm sure we're fine."

My mind did cartwheels. My chest felt like someone squeezed me in a giant fist.

"Jesus, Sam. How did I miss that?"

"Women must think about these things. We should talk about what we did. That was supposed to be a sexy photoshoot, not a porn shoot. I know why I let it happen but why did you?"

"Lots of reasons. I saw how badly you craved a real functioning penis and felt guilty I couldn't provide one. I saw how badly Mike wanted you and felt a strange pride. The list goes on. I never considered repercussions or consequences. I lived in the moment. Why did you let it happen?"

"Truth?"

"Always."

"I'd gone so long without. Masturbation is a poor substitute and might even make my longings more intense instead of less. I've been desperate for hot sex. I craved a good hard fucking. Men empty their balls to make room for new stuff. Women are different. How intimate is allowing someone inside your body? How intimate is allowing them to inject something in you and leave? I craved that kind of intimacy. Hot, hard, pounding sex with an explosion at the end. You don't know the joy of making a man orgasm, other than yourself."

I chuckled.

"That's a lot of honesty. What do we do if you're pregnant?"

"Tina says she wants a little brother."

She laughed at my expression.

"I'm kidding, John. You should see your face. If I'm pregnant we'll deal with it. There are pills."

"Talk about irresponsible. We went crazy."

"We did! Our conversation about getting old paid off."

"How long before you need it again?"

Now? Tomorrow?"

"Seriously. I have a long way to go before I'm functional."

"I know."

"Will you want to fuck someone else?"

Pondering, she looked at her wine glass like it was a crystal ball. Hurt me with the truth or spare my feelings with a lie?

"I already do."

So. Hurt me with the truth.

"Now I understand. This wasn't merely about a possible pregnancy was it, Sam? We have arrived at the real reason for this conversation."

"I have tried so hard, John. I thought I could hold out. Mike satisfied me for a short while but then the need started again and fucking Mike has only made it worse. I am reminded of how much I miss it, how much I love it."

I finished my wine in two large gulps.

"You're asking a lot."

"Am I? You let Mike fuck me. You had me jerk off a stranger in the park. The way I see it, I'm simply using a man instead of a dildo. I'm masturbating with a real cock. That's all. There will be no emotional connection to anyone. Just physical."

"Who? I'm not saying yes to this, I'm merely curious about who."

"Mike again, for sure. I felt how much he wants me and liked it and his body reminds me of yours, mostly. I'm not sure beyond him. I guess I didn't expect you to entertain my idea."

"How would this work? You just start dating Mike? I stay home with Tina and we watch you get ready for your date? Where's Mommy going? Out to fuck another man, Honey."

"Never mind. This was a stupid idea."

I heard the frustration in her voice. I heard the disappointment. We'd already done so much. Why slam the brakes now? I remembered how we kissed while Mike fucked her. I remembered the connection we felt.

"Maybe this can work."

"How?"

"I need to be there. Remember how we kissed during the photoshoot? This is something we do together, as a married couple. If they want you they also get me."

Her eyes were bright with possibilities.

"That works. How soon do we start?"

"Tomorrow, if you want."

"I'm out of town on business until Saturday. How about Sunday?"

"Whatever you wish, Sam."

She sat her wine on the end table and threw herself into my arms. She kissed my face and zeroed in on my lips. I'd made her happy. Our kissing turned into hot making out and I grabbed her tits through her clothes.

"I'd fuck you so hard right now," she said.

"I'll take a raincheck. When I get my dick back, you won't be able to walk for a week. We aren't leaving the bedroom for days. Tina can forage."

Chapter 8

My phone rang. Samantha, no doubt, updating me on her flight. I listened as she vented.

"Canceled?"

"Yes," she said. "All flights out. I'm forced to stay in Chicago."

"Will the airline put you in a hotel?"

"Everything is booked. I may need to sleep on the floor at the airport."

"Sam, don't do that. There must be something."

"I'll ask and call you back. There's a bunch of us standing around."

We ended the call. Poor baby. Her business is doing well and she'd flown to a conference on franchising. She already had interested parties lined up. I made Tina dinner and we watched a movie together and then off to homework and bed for her.

Sam called hours later.

"Here's the deal. There are zero hotel rooms available but I met a man at the conference, Ethan, who is willing to share his room with me. What do you think?"

"In the same room? That seems dangerous. Do you trust him?"

"I trust him. He's one of the professors that taught class. We had lunch together all week. I know him enough to feel safe."

Lunch together all week. Voltage rocked my body. Funny how she did not share that information while it was happening.

"Do you plan on fucking him?"

"Can I? I thought we said you had to be there?"

"We did."

"Then how could I make plans like that?"

"You couldn't. Sorry. I panicked."

"But you thought I might."

"Yes. I guess for an instant. I was afraid you would."

She fell silent. I kicked myself for being an idiot.

"I think you want me to fuck him. That's why you joked like that."

My turn to be quiet. Was she right?

"Let me start over," I said. "Do you want to fuck him?"

When a husband asks his wife that question, the proper response is a quick "No!" Her prolonged silence chewed my guts. After another moment, I realized she was no longer deciding, she was trying to think of the right way to tell me.

"Yes, Baby," she said, at last. "All the ladies at the conference want him. I used the sauna after class and saw him wrapped in a towel. He's older but has a nice body."

I pictured her ogling this man. I saw her walk over and kiss him. I saw her reach for his crotch.

"Sam, this is crazy. You have my heart pounding."

"Mine too. What do you think, John? Should I do it? We agreed you had to be present but maybe we bend the rule once? This seems like the perfect opportunity. I'll be out of sight and out of mind."

"You think out of sight means out of mind? Come on, Sam. You know I'll be thinking about nothing else until you call to tell me it's over."

She chuckled.

"That sounds like you've decided. That sounds like you're telling me I can do it."

The excitement in her voice was intense. I caved.

"You've already fucked Mike. Why stop there?"

She squealed with delight.

"Thank you, Baby! I'll call him back and accept his offer. Who knows? Maybe nothing happens. At the very least I have a room for tonight."

"Don't leave me in the dark, Sam. I'm worried about you being in his room. I'm your husband. Involve me. Use a condom. Remember the scare we had with Mike."

"I will, Honey. I promise. I need to call him now."

We disconnected. I sat my phone on the table and stared at it. Our journey down this path was gaining speed.

Tina came out of her room to tell me goodnight and ask about mom. I explained the canceled flight and the overnight stay but of course left other details out. We hugged and she went to bed, leaving me alone with my thoughts.

Time moved slowly. I tried not to imagine what Sam was doing but that was a pointless exercise. My mind would think of nothing else. I pictured this older professor with a nice body. I saw him in the sauna wrapped in a towel, knees parted, thick cock resting on the bench. Sam noticed and moved closer, lifting his towel, lowering her mouth, engulfing the head.

"Jesus," I muttered.

I squirmed in my seat. I turned on the television just to give myself a distraction. Maybe nothing happened. Maybe he was a perfect gentleman. Maybe he was in a relationship and faithful and Sam would back off. There was no guarantee she'd get what she wanted. I flipped through channels and settled on a documentary. My phone buzzed as the show ended. Samantha. I answered.

"Hello?"

"This is a nice room," I heard my wife say.

"They treat us instructors well," a deep voice responded.

"I appreciate you offering me a place to stay."

"I have double queens. Why waste a bed?"

Fabric rubbed the microphone. Sam had her phone in a jacket or pants pocket. She'd found a way to keep me informed and involved.

"Incredible view," she said.

"You aren't looking out the window."

"No. I'm not."

More fabric swished. Sam softly moaned.

"I think it's my turn to treat the instructor well."

"Why waste a bed?"

"Exactly."

Clothing rustled.

"Talk about a great view," he said.

"I try. Your turn."

I heard a zipper, a swoosh.

"I knew it," Sam said.

"How could you?"

"Yesterday, in the sauna. Your towel was wet and clingy."

"I did that intentionally."

"Your clever scheme worked because here I am."

Lips smacked as they kissed.

"In my mouth," Sam said.

"No. You first."

More movement and then my wife gasped, followed by a heartfelt moan. Ethan ate her pussy. What could I do? I was a thousand miles away with a flaccid dick. I listened as this stranger feasted on my wife's cunt. I knew so well what he enjoyed. Jealousy made me clench my jaw and make a fist but Sam's groans excited me. Her many sounds grew louder until they peaked in a piercing cry. The bastard had made her orgasm. I heard more kissing.

"Big," Sam said. "Do you have a condom?"

"No. You've caught me by surprise."

"Shit."

"Are you on birth control?"

"No."

"That's a plot twist, isn't it?"

"Yes. Can you pull out?"

"Are we seventeen?"

The man knew what he wanted and was willing to push for it. I would have yelled at him to fuck off but I knew Sam had the call muted on her end. She would have thought of that.

"No, we are not. You're right. I have options. There are pills. Stand up. Stand over me. I want to look up at you around your cock."

The part about pills was for the benefit of my eavesdropping. That was the same thing she'd said about our scare with Mike. Sam had promised to use a condom but when confronted with a failed encounter, she chose to break her promise instead. She knew what she wanted too. Trouble was, I didn't blame her. There are pills, and she had a fat cock hanging in her face. He stood. I heard kissing and then a slurp.

"You're pretty," he said.

"Every woman looks better with a big cock in her mouth."

They laughed together, casual and comfortable. My wife was going to orally worship that dick until he throbbed and then guide it into her body.

My balls felt like two-hundred degrees. I craved an erection. I needed some kind of fucking relief. Could I listen to them the whole time? I'd go insane.

I moved to our bedroom and locked the door. I pulled the smaller vibrator and wet it in my mouth. I laid on our bed and poked around until I found my asshole and then gently pushed. It hurt until I lined up correctly. I pushed deeper and flipped the switch. A gentle vibration shook my sphincter and prostate, feeling great. I turned the dial higher and sat my phone near my ear. Sam continued to slurp away on his cock. A minute later he spoke.

"Enough. Come up here. Let me kiss you."

Lips smacked. Sudden motion rustled her phone.

"Put it in," Sam said.

"No, you put it in. Nothing's hotter than a woman guiding a cock into herself."

Their voices were a little farther away but I heard clearly.

"Let me lie on the bed."

I pictured my wife rolling onto her back, much like I was. I imagined he followed. She grabbed his cock and lifted her legs. She pulled him closer. On cue, Sam groaned.

"That's good."

"You're so tight," he gasped. "Do you have children?"

"One. A daughter."

"I would never have guessed."

A man had his cock in my wife. A man had his unprotected cock in my wife. He must have sunk deep because Sam groaned again, loud. I clicked the dial on the vibrator and felt the shaking all the way to my balls. My dick stayed soft as cotton candy but my asshole tightened around the intrusion. Buried tingling gave me hope.

He started to fuck Sam and I dialed the vibrator higher. I heard bodies slapping. I heard her wet pussy. I heard her constant groans of pleasure and soft words of encouragement, asking him to go harder and deeper. Ethan alternated between pounding Sam into the bed and tenderly kissing her lips as he glided in and out. She built towards orgasm, finally slapping her hands on his ass and screaming.

A moment later he must have flipped her over to fuck her from behind. She recovered quickly, again urging him on. I pumped the toy in my ass, maxing out the vibrations, and let myself get caught up in their passion. Sam's voice was so beautiful, her cries of pleasure so poignant. He fucked her until she climaxed again and then he warned her he was close.

Precum leaked from me in a trickle. How much did my balls hold? I hadn't orgasmed in months. He growled that his load was rising and my testicles released the first discharge of scalding semen, a wash of hot milk on my stomach. My sphincter clenched around the toy and my nuts convulsed again and again. I felt little sensation in my penis but I felt an overwhelming wave of sensations deep in my ass and balls. I gasped as my load gushed all over my tummy.

He yelled as the first blast filled her naked womb. He shouted over and over as each new spurt flooded her. I worked the vibrator in and out and my nuts clenched hard, forcing the last drops out and sending me swooning. My orgasm was different from any before but felt amazing anyway. I carried so much sperm in my nuts, emptying them almost hurt. Ethan drove his cock deep and pumped his load into a yearning and grateful Sam.

My arms and legs dropped to our bed. I heard nothing over the phone. I strained to hear and caught faint mumblings. Bodies eventually shifted.

"I'm going to fuck you again as soon as I'm hard."

"Maybe I can help with that."

Sam slurped his soft cock into her mouth. He moaned. I listened for fifteen minutes as my wife played with his cock and balls. I heard her say he was hard enough and ask him to fuck her again. I didn't catch his answer but I heard Sam ask him to wait one second. Then her phone went dead. She'd shared their first time with me but the rest of the night would be hers alone.

Chapter 9

Thirty-six hours later Samantha walked through our front door. Tina gave her a big hug and a kiss and so did I. I took her suitcase and followed her into our bedroom. She shut the door behind her.

"All night," she offered, before I could ask. "Then twice again this morning."

She sloughed her coat to the floor and lifted the front of her dress. She pulled her panties away to show me her leaking pussy.

"I couldn't leave him. What a stud. He fucked me on the furniture all over his suite. This morning I finally rushed to the airport and almost missed my flight. I had no time to shower. I was sure everyone on the plane knew what an incredible slut I've become."

I could not take my eyes away from her cunt. I'd never seen anything so profoundly erotic. Here was the pussy I knew so well. I recognized her. She was mine. Yet, silky white fluid leaked. The Professor overflowed my wife.

I went a little crazy.

I tossed her luggage on our bed and dropped to my knees.

"John, wait. What—"

I yanked her panties lower and grabbed her ass with both hands. I pulled her sopping cunt into my mouth. She was hot and wet. I tongued the folds of her labia and sucked her clit. She jammed knuckles in her mouth to stay silent. I tongued her without mercy, shredding her tender pussy, devouring her cheating cunt. I was ravenous and relentless. She balanced with a hand on my shoulder and orgasmed while standing and with a strangled cry.

I did not stop.

I sent my tongue far up into her, torturing her sensitive hole. Her legs trembled and her body shook and I thought she might collapse but she remained standing until I ripped another climax from her. She pushed my head away and sank to our floor. Her body curled into a fetal position.

"What the fuck," she muttered, basking in the intense afterglow.

Eventually, we got off the floor, Sam unpacked and showered. She gave me details about her night and I gave details about mine. She was delighted I'd discovered a way to empty my balls. She was so pleased, in fact, she ran out in the afternoon to purchase a vibrating anal egg. When she got home she lubricated the thing and inserted it up my ass and then had a wonderful time with the remote control, increasing and decreasing the strength of the vibrations until I was tied in a knot. In the end, she dialed the thing all the way up and kept it there until I doubled over and my balls began to spurt.

"I'm going to have so much fun with this thing," she warned.

I soon learned what she meant.

Later that night we were on our way to watch Mike perform a DJ gig and I carried the egg in my ass. Sam clicked the dial to the first setting, allowing me to drive with a gentle but constant vibration teasing my insides. I let her have her fun. The toy gave her a way to be more sexually involved with me. The egg felt fantastic. My balls had been so backed up they were swollen and hot. I was pleased to have an option.

The party was in the basement of an old bank downtown. They'd spent a fortune on the stage, lights, smoke machines, decorations, and male and female go-go dancers. The place was rocking by the time we got there. Mike was happy to see Sam and kissed her right in front of me. He introduced his friends, Alan on pyrotechnics and Bill on lighting, and both gave me a look like they knew what was going on. I blushed. I was there to hand over my wife for a good fucking and that was a little humiliating. Sam kissed Alan and Bill just to keep everything equal.

We grabbed drinks and headed for the dance floor but my back wasn't ready. I soon found a seat and enjoyed Sam out there flirting with everyone, male and female. Bodies writhed and Sam was slowly swallowed in the crowd, a crowd which continued to grow for hours. I knew she was out there somewhere because the egg in my ass would spike with vibrations and then drop again. Her little way of saying she was thinking of me. The crowd danced until the basement felt like a sauna.

I heard a murmur from the crowd which quickly became a roar of approval. I scanned the room to see what they cheered and found Sam on stage with Mike's cock in her mouth. He continued to spin discs and never missed a beat. My wife had pulled his dick through his fly and bobbed on it, bent at the waist, her ass and pussy visible under her skirt and aimed at the crowd. She'd left the house wearing pantyhose but those were gone. Mike pumped the crowd in time to flexing his hips and fucking her mouth. She didn't stay long. She tucked him inside and took a bow to the crowd roaring again. She left the stage, swallowed by the press of people.

When she emerged, she had Alan and Bill with her. Her top was askew and both tits almost spilled out. Her skirt was higher than it had been and her hair was a mess. She spied my table and cut through, dragging Alan and Bill along.

"There's an after party," she said.

"Where?"

"Right here. They'll kick all these people out except the chosen few and then we'll have the place to ourselves."

"To do what?"

"Talk. Drink. Whatever we want."

She pulled the remote from her purse and clicked one level higher. I gasped and squirmed in my seat. Alan grinned and Bill laughed. Sam had obviously informed them of my condition and what we'd done about it.

The party raged. The point of the soiree was someone's birthday but I never met them and never heard their name. People began to slip out as dawn approached. Mike announced it was time to go and a cheer went up and then people grabbed their things and headed for the exit. A handful stayed behind. Alan and Bill got busy straightening and cleaning up. Soon the room held only our five plus three others, two men and a woman. Bill adjusted the lights so only blue spots hit the stage, giving the place a seductive feel. Sam gave my remote to Alan and left to talk to Mike.

"What's this do?" he asked.

"Long version or short version?"

"Long."

I told him. I told him about my surgery, my extended impotence, my sexual frustration and my one and only form of relief, which he now held.

"So if I turn this dial, you get a kick?"

He twisted the small knob.

"Yes! Don't do that."

He laughed.

"I can make you cum in your pants with this?"

"Easily. Will you turn it down please?"

"No. You should see your face."

I searched for Samantha.

"Will you please give it to my wife? This is our thing."

He gestured at the stage.

"She's busy, mate."

I found her. Sam had shed her top. She and Mike made out passionately in the spotlights. The blue hue made the veins in her breasts more distinct, giving her tits a look of robust vitality. Her hand dropped to the front of his pants and she freed his dick, kneeling to suck and finish what she'd started earlier. The veins in his cock looked more pronounced too. I found the effect strangely erotic, like it heightened and displayed their health and strength.

"She's wild," Alan said.

"Lately."

"Not always like this?"

"She's always loved sex but lately we've branched out."

"Because your stinger's broke?"

"Yes. That, and we're getting older and want to try new things. We made some changes."

"She's trying new things right now."

I looked at the stage again. Sam leaned over the DJ table and Mike worked his cock between her butt cheeks, searching for her pussy. I knew he'd found it when her back arched.

"Sexy as fuck, she is. I'd say you're a lucky man to have a babe like that but she ain't fucking you, now is she?"

"No, she isn't."

Alan called the other girl over. He introduced her as Tonya and then embarrassed me by giving her the remote and telling her how it worked. She laughed.

"No shit? That's a great idea. I'm going to wear one to my next rave. I'll pass the remote through the crowd and let people zap me. Brilliant. So, if I turn this dial?"

She did and I grabbed the edge of the table.

"That might be too much, love," Alan said.

"Oh. Sorry."

She dialed it down and I relaxed. Sweat beaded on my forehead.

"That's his wife with Mikey," Alan said.

Tonya watched. Mike held my wife's butt cheeks in his hands and drove his cock deep repeatedly.

"No shit?" She faced me. "Truly? You're watching Mikey have your girl?"

"Yes."

"Hot." She spun the dial several clicks. "He fucks her and you get off. That's so hot. What a cool couple. Let's watch them together and I'll control the dial. Good?"

She didn't wait for my answer and slipped into the seat next to me. Alan left but soon appeared on stage. Bill was with him. Alan smiled at Tonya and me and unzipped, boldly offering his dick to my wife. Sam turned to me for guidance but Alan grabbed her hair and turned her head to his cock again. He jammed her lips twice and she opened her mouth. He pushed half his cock in.

"Luck girl," Tonya muttered.

She watched the action on stage for a minute.

"Does it hurt you to see your wife like that or does it turn you on?"

"Would it make sense if I said both?"

"Yes. Totally. I had a lover once who tied my wrists over my head and then lashed me with a horsehair whip. It hurt but I never came so hard in my life. The erotic is a blend of emotions, not just one, like lust. You see your wife, the mother of your children, taken by another and you fear for your heart but you also see her pleasure. Her pleasure is your pleasure because you love her. Look how she enjoys the two cocks. How could you not feel aroused?"

She turned the dial and I gasped, which thrilled her.

"I'm going to torture you with this. You understand that, right? You know as you watch those men take your woman I'll be inflicting as much pleasure and pain on you?"

"I do now."

She left her chair to circle behind me. She kissed the nape of my neck. On stage Alan forced his cock deep in Sam's mouth while Mike sank balls deep in her cunt. Sam writhed. Tonya bit my neck, hard, and turned the dial higher. I groaned. She reached around to unzip and free my soft penis, holding me on her palm, gently stroking. She bit me again and rolled the dial with her thumb. I began to leak semen.

"I fucking love this," she said. "What a hot mess of emotions."

Her breath was on my neck as she spoke.

Bill undressed. He watched the threesome and stroked until he was hard and then he laid on the stage on his back. He spoke to Mike and our friend withdrew his big dick to guide Sam over. She straddled the man and sank to her knees, guiding him into her pussy. Alan returned to his spot at her mouth and made her take his dick again. Mike watched for a minute.

"I think I see what's coming," Tonya said.

I didn't. Mike crouched behind my wife. I believed he waited his turn. He pushed her forward a little and then lifted his erection to search for her asshole. Tonya turned my dial three clicks and I groaned.

"She will take them all. Have mercy. I envy your woman."

Mike found her tight little star and pressed the head. Sam struggled but she was pinned between three men. Alan held her head and pushed balls deep, giving Sam something new to worry about, and Mike sank half his cock up her ass while she was distracted. Tonya moaned, playing with my limp dick and kissing my neck.

"You leak so much," she whispered, rubbing my oozing semen all around my head and shaft.

Her hand felt fantastic but no blood flowed. I stayed flaccid but the sexual tension in my body grew at an incredible rate. On stage, Sam twisted and squirmed. The men used her body and she welcomed it, craved it, pumped her hips and head to capture more of it.

Sam orgasmed harder than I've ever seen. Her tight body locked down, every muscle taut. Her squeals of pleasure reached us and Tonya began to masturbate. She clicked the dial up. Semen leaked in a steady trickle from my penis. The deep vibration against my prostate made me want to scream but I clenched my jaw and bore it.

"Mike is so big. He tried my asshole once but I told him no. Do you fuck her there often? She seems skilled. How does she bear him?"

I had no answer. The men pumped and used my wife until Alan grabbed her head and arched his back. He held tight and thrust sharply three times, each a blast of hot jizz down her throat. Bill exploded next, filling my wife's womb with seed. They growled from intense release. Mike let them finish and then shooed them away to enjoy Sam alone. He maneuvered her to all fours without withdrawing his cock. He pumped smoothly in and out, savoring the tight ring around his shaft and the knowledge he had taken Sam every way a man can have a woman. My wife writhed from the strong sensations but refused to retreat, bracing herself against the stage to take every inch of his large phallus up her ass. I stared, thunderstruck by the sight, never imagining I'd see such a thing in my lifetime. Bill's semen leaked from her swollen slit. Mike's big balls slapped her pussy repeatedly.

Tonya suddenly spun the dial all the way up. I coughed and retched like I'd been kicked in the balls. My forehead hit the table as buckets of stored semen were forced from me all at once. My rectum clamped around the egg, squeezing hard, and my soft penis spit a flood of sperm down my pants to dribble to the floor. Mike pumped faster and then drove all the way in one last time. He held himself buried and emptied his big balls. Tonya had held back but now orgasmed like a banshee. She lost control and dropped my remote. I groaned and tried to lift my head, powerful vibration shaking my prostate until I couldn't see straight. Semen continued to spurt. Tonya was lost to pleasure and I was forced to wait. She found the device and showed me the maxed-out dial, giggling. I was a brain-dead zombie. I reached to take it away but she was too fast. I slid from my chair, legs too weak to hold me, and crumpled in a pile on the basement floor. She stood over me and watched my soft penis dispense cum. She used a high-heeled foot to push me onto my back.

"I have got to get myself one of these," she chuckled.

I laid on the floor and stared at the colorful lights overhead. A naked Alan and Bill joined her.

"I knew you'd be cruel with it," Alan said.

"No more cruel than fucking his wife in front of him," she snapped.

"Nah," Bill said. "That was the part he liked. He's a twisted fuck. He probably likes what you're doing to him. Do you like what Tonya does?"

My whole pelvis vibrated. The only way out for me was to wait until the nerves burned out and I stopped feeling anything. When I didn't answer Alan and Bill walked away. Tonya stepped over my body. I saw up her skirt to her bare pussy. She bent her legs and lowered her cunt to my mouth and I ate like a good boy. She was soaked. She sat on my face and adjusted her skirt to hide my head.

I was trapped in a dream, a surreal erotic vision where a mere thought sent us spinning off in a new direction. She spun the dial way down and I focused on her pussy, filled with a strange desire to make her orgasm again.

I worried what Sam would think if she saw us but decided I'd deal with that if I needed to. In the meantime, here was a fresh, wet, bald pussy in my mouth. Tonya played with the dial, rewarding me with more pleasure when I did something she liked and backing off when I got it wrong. She had me trained in record time, gradually increasing my pleasure. Soon I got the orgasm I chased and she turned the dial all the way up again. I had no more semen to lose but my ass spasmed around the egg anyway, muscles convulsing and pleasure spiking.

Finally, she stood and turned the egg off. She dropped the remote on my chest and walked away.

Chapter 10

I climbed to my feet to discover Sam and Mike were gone. I called but her phone went straight to voicemail. I sent a text but got no reply. I saw Alan and Bill getting dressed and joined them, adjusting my clothing along the way.

"Have you seen Samantha?"

They gave me a funny look.

"You a sucker for punishment?" Alan asked.

"I just need to know where my wife is."

"I think Mike took her home," Bill said. "You know where Mike lives?"

"No."

"Well if he hasn't told you, I can't."

"He has my wife."

"No, your wife went with him. Big difference."

"Come on. Put yourself in my shoes. How would you feel if your wife left with another man? Help me out."

Alan stopped dressing. He aimed a finger at my face.

"You let her fuck other men. You watched her do it. I heard about the photoshoot with Mike. What the fuck did you think would happen if you left them together? They've gone home to do it again without an audience. Some place nice and quiet. If she loves you, she'll come back. If she doesn't, she didn't love you. You've rolled the dice and placed your bet. Now sit tight and see what numbers come up."

Alan and Bill were finished with me. I was paralyzed. What direction did I take? Go home? Send the babysitter home and wait? What answer did I give when our daughter asked what happened to Mom?

Alan and Bill finished dressing and left the basement. The two men that had arrived with Tonya left with them. Cleaning people had trickled in. Tonya stood by the stage, watching me.

"Alan and Bill lack empathy," she called out.

She crossed the room.

"I think I know where Mike and Sam went."

"Where? Alan said Mike took her home."

"No. That's not Mike's style. He'll want to impress her, show off a little. He wants women to fall in love with his big dick. He'd take her to the same place he took me after the first time we fucked and he caught feelings. It's raining, which he loves. I'm sure they went to his art exhibit at the downtown loft. I'll drive."

"Why are you helping me?"

She laughed.

"You eat pussy like a master. I help a guy like that."

I followed her to her car, a Maserati Quattro Porte, cherry red.

"You drive this?"

She laughed at me.

"Why do men always ask that? Yes, this is my car. I paid cash."

I gave her a skeptical look.

"That's a tremendous amount of money."

"I'm a paid assassin," she said. She sounded serious. "Hit girl for hire. Get in."

Tonya tore through the financial district at top speed, cornering like she didn't care if she lived or died, laughing all the way, circling many blocks in a giant circle, only to pull over close to where we started.

"What was all that about?"

She laughed.

"Would you do the speed limit in this car?"

She flashed a key card at the double glass doors and we entered the empty lobby. She called the elevator and punched the penthouse.

"Why do you do it?" she asked as the doors opened and we stepped inside.

The elevator began a zoom to the top floor.

"That's a great question. I thought I did it to be a good husband. I saw Sam's frustration building over the weeks and weeks and decided if she strayed a little, with my consent, that would be all right. At the photoshoot, we kissed while Mike fucked her and our connection was strong. Super-charged strong. I felt we'd discovered a way for her to get what she needs while still maintaining intimacy between us."

"But then she liked it too much."

"Yes, but I learned I did too. It's hard to admit. It's hard to admit I like seeing Sam fucked. She looks so sexy but that's only a part of it. I like the fear of losing her. I like feeling jealous. I like to see her turn slut for a big cock. It's complicated."

"I think it sounds fantastic. What a great husband you are."

"You think?"

"I want one like you."

"I'm afraid I'm losing her."

"She married you because she loves you. She's going nowhere. But up to now she's had to suppress her natural desires. You've changed all that. She lusts like I do but gets the safety and security of a stable marriage too. Lucky bitch. Trust me, men like you are exceedingly rare. She knows how good she has it."

The elevator stopped and the doors opened.

The entire top floor was glass walled. Huge paintings ten and twenty feet wide filled the space.

"Mike can paint."

"Yes," she said. "He can. One of his many talents."

We wandered the gallery of massive cityscape oils.

"They aren't here," I said.

"They are. Lights are on. Keep looking."

We turned another corner and the air left my lungs. Sam was nude and braced against a huge glass wall like a cop was about to frisk her. Her warm hands steamed the glass. Her lower back had a slight curl as she offered her pussy. Behind her Mike stood with a raging erection, the bulbous head swollen and angry. Outside rain pelted the cold glass sending rivulets cascading. The multitude of city lights were blurred like a Van Gogh. Mike heard us and turned slightly. He gripped his erection around the base and pushed it down to show us better. Sam, impatient, wondering why she did not yet have the cock she craved, looked over a shoulder at Mike and spotted us.

"Hi, Honey."

I gave her a small wave,

"Hi, Baby."

Tonya snatched the remote from my shirt pocket and turned the dial. I stumbled.

"Let's join them," she said. "Eat your wife. You'll be right there when Mike shoves it in. What a view."

Tonya hurried to squat at Mike's feet and slip his cock in her mouth. I moved to kiss Sam and then sat on the floor under her. I put my back against the cold glass and dragged my tongue across her slit. Tonya and I spent a minute orally pleasing our partners and then she pulled Mike forward by his cock.

"Stay there," Tonya told me. "His cock will be really close but don't pull away."

She upped the dial. I groaned from the pleasure in my nuts and rectum as she rubbed Mike's head up and down Sam's slit. She pulled him closer. I moved my mouth higher to focus on her clit and felt his sink into my wife. Her whole body tensed and then relaxed, like she'd spent her whole life waiting to be filled by a cock like that. She moved her hips slightly to get him properly buried and his balls bumped my chin. Sam gasped from the dual pleasure, realizing how each man had her. Tonya slipped under Mike to tongue his hanging balls and turned the dial up again. Mike began to fuck Sam slow and deep, his rigid cock sliding over my chin to vanish in her.

Sam writhed instantly. Mike held my wife's hips and pumped his thick cock right in my face. Tonya and I behaved like good little servants and made sure the lovers had fantastic pleasure.

Tonya stopped sucking his balls a moment.

"Too bad you can't get hard. Reclaiming her would be amazing."

I did not reply. I licked and sucked, addicted to Sam's constant flow of moans and gasps. Mike thrust faster.

"I'll make Mike cum whenever you want," Tonya said. "Just tell me." She giggled. "Tell me when you want Mike to cum in your wife."

I swear she got more satisfaction from my mental anguish than from sex.

"I'll push a finger up his ass," she continued. "He'll ejaculate instantly."

How fucking twisted was this woman? She was thrilled to make me give the order. She was delighted that I would decide when Sam got inseminated.

Mike moaned, pumping faster. I remembered Bill cumming in her earlier. With each thrust, Mike pushed Bill's sperm deeper. My head was a tornado of emotions. Too much happened all at once. Tonya upped the dial and my penis began drooling in my pants, hot sperm bathing my nuts.

Sam tensed all over. Her toned thighs squeezed my head but I kept licking. My wife moaned at Mike's plunging cock and then she came, body shaking as a massive orgasm ripped head to toes and back again. She cried out, hands squeaking against the window, hot breath fogging the glass. She fell forward and her big tits mashed the pane. I licked faster, trying to drive her crazy, trying to boost her climax on his meat.

"Now!" I growled.

Tonya pushed a finger up Mike's ass. The man grunted at the intrusion, bellowed like a bear, grabbed Sam's waist and fucked hard and deep. Tonya rubbed his prostate and Mike exploded, shouting incoherently. Tonya spun the dial on me again and a mule kicked me in the balls. Semen spurt, making a mess in my underwear. Tonya sucked Mike's balls into her mouth and laughed to feel him ejaculate into Sam. My mind spun with the knowledge I'd given the order. I lapped her gushing pussy and held on. They were climaxing together. My heart was a raging lion.

His cock slid over my chin as his blasts of sperm raced by. I became less concerned with avoiding his dick and more concerned with launching Sam into orbit. I licked all around her sensitive pussy but concentrated on her clitoris. His pounding cock brushed my lips but I did not care. Sam was losing her mind up there, making animal sounds, feeling her husband give her everything. Her legs shook and her pussy gushed and I lapped everything up like a whore.

He finished filling her and his beefy tube slipped free, slapping my throat as he backed away. I fastened my mouth to her still spasming pussy and ate her like I wanted to kill her. She screeched from insane pleasure, desperate to push my head away but taking everything I dealt because when would she ever orgasm this hard again?

Chapter 11

Sam stood at the kitchen sink, washing the lunch dishes and humming.

"You seem happy," I said.

She laughed.

"I'm ecstatic. Tina is happy and healthy and getting good grades. She has wonderful friends. I have a husband that loves me and would do anything for me, putting me before himself. Our careers are going well."

She watched Tina do yoga in the backyard with a girlfriend.

"I'm experiencing the most amazing sex of my entire life. I am happy. Thank you, John, for everything. Thank you for all your sacrifices. Thank you for loving me so much. I'm blessed. You're the best thing that ever happened to me, and that's saying a lot."

She left the sink to sit on my knee.

"I think about cocks all the time now," she said. "I do. I'm at the shop and a man walks in and I wonder what he carries in his pants. My mouth literally waters, John. I see some husband or boyfriend come in and I watch him closely, picture him naked, feel him sliding into me. It's crazy. I'll want to fuck a customer because he's handsome or has thick wrists or strong thighs. I'll want to fuck a man because his eyes are kind or dangerous and laughing. I'm out of control."

"Are you fucking men at your store?"

"No."

"Then you aren't out of control. In fact, you're only describing the way men have looked at women for centuries. We want to fuck your kind for almost any damn reason at all. Enjoy it, Baby."

Her glittering eyes danced.

"Take me shopping."

"Will that complete your circle of happiness?"

"Yes."

"Shoes?"

"God, yes."

An hour later we walked the mall. Tina asked to come along but took off to meet a friend once inside. Sam and I wandered from store to store. I saw other couples and wondered how many, if any, had discovered what we'd discovered. Did any of these husbands allow their wives to fuck other men? Doubtful. Were any of these wives fucking around behind their husband's back? Almost certainly. Maybe we need to take a hard look at the whole marriage dynamic? Maybe the ancient rules need an overhaul?

Sam and I entered yet another shoe store and I set our bags on one chair and dropped into another. Sam walked the wall and I stared at her firm ass. Her tight skirt made her look like she had two volleyball halves under there. Lucky me. The salesman approached and they exchanged a few words but he backed away and let her browse. She called him back when she was ready, pointing out several different pairs, and he hustled to the back room. She took the chair next to me. He returned with stacks of boxes which he set at her feet. His nametag read Todd. He opened the first box. She slipped off her sandal. She extended her foot and I saw his eyes dart up her skirt. She missed it. She was looking at the shoe.

"Todd," I interrupted. "Before we get started. May I have a tissue?"

"Sure. One second."

He popped up and headed for the backroom.

"Give me your panties."

"What? Why?"

"Salesman Todd has a wandering eye. He just looked up your skirt. Hurry, before he returns. The store is empty. This could be fun."

Sam hesitated only a second. Her hands slipped up and her panties came down. I stuffed them in my pocket as she adjusted her skirt.

Todd returned. I stepped away to blow my nose, or pretend to, circling behind him to see what he saw. Todd was mesmerized. He helped Sam but fought the urge to look again. Sam realized if she watched the young man he'd have no opportunity, so she dug her phone out of her purse and proceeded to text someone, which turned out to be me. I silenced my phone.

Watch him, she sent. I can't or he'll stop.

I pretended to scan the wall of men's athletic shoes but kept both in sight. Sam gave her phone attention while Todd placed on her feet one shoe after the next, calling her attention when he was ready, slipping one off and moving to the next. Sam pretended disinterest, but in truth watched him like a hawk. So did I. She absentmindedly allowed her knees to part as she pretended to laugh at something on her phone. Todd and I saw all the way up to her bald pink slit. She'd waxed her pussy for Mike and kept it that way. Todd gawked at her lovely lips. I was sure his mouth watered. When he stood to return most shoes to the stock room and bring out new choices, Sam and I noticed the bulge in his pants. She decided to throw him a few looks down her top when she bent over to buckle the straps. My wife was having fun.

We left with two pairs.

"Did you want to fuck that young man?"

"Yes! He looks like a handsome high school quarterback. I'd get to relive my girlish dreams. Why are you laughing?"

"You should see your eyes. So bright." I waved in the general direction of all the men and women around us. "You can take your pick now. So many strangers, so little time. Should I grab a cup of coffee so you can go back to that shoe store? The mall is slow. I bet you'd have time to fuck him in the stock room. Young man like that will cum quick. You'd rock his world."

I meant every word sarcastically but Sam grew increasingly hopeful. By the time I finished my sentence, I'd decided to let her do it.

"Seriously? You'd let me go back and fuck him?"

"Why not? Stranger sex is hot."

She took the shoe bag from me.

"I'll tell him I want to exchange a shoe I just purchased for a different color. If I think I have an opportunity, I'll go for it. Wait for me at the Pizza Kitchen. I'll text you when I leave him and I promise to make it a quickie. My God, Honey. This is exciting!"

We kissed and I watched my wife leave.

I ordered a beer at the restaurant and watched people walk by. I kept my phone close in case she needed help or sent me something exciting. I received a text minutes later, a photograph of a young, almost hairless, and incredibly hard penis. My wife's left hand circled the shaft, wedding ring catching the flash from the camera.

"What are you looking at, Dad?" Tina asked.

I panicked. Adrenaline shot through me from head to toes. Fuck! I quickly swiped left to replace the dick picture with a shot of Sam in a one piece by the pool.

"Mom," I said, showing my sneaky daughter.

Tina and her friend, Amy, had seen me sitting and enjoying my beer. They thought it would be fun to scare me. They had no idea how successful they were.

"You keep pictures of Mom on your phone? Weird. You see her every day."

"She's beautiful, Honey. I like looking at her when she's away."

"I think that's sweet, Mister Crew," Amy said. "My mom and dad hardly talk."

"Whatever," Tina said. "Where is she?"

"Buying shoes."

I instantly regretted giving the girls that information.

"Is she at the Shoe Factory? I bet she is. I bet Todd is helping her. We should go say hi. It's the perfect excuse to visit his store."

"You know Todd?" I asked, trying to keep them with me.

Amy rolled her eyes like I was an idiot.

"Every girl at our school knows Todd. He's a senior and a quarterback and he's super hot. He never even looks at freshmen girls like us."

I suppressed a smile. Sam had gotten so much right.

"My mom would be a good excuse to talk to him," Tina said.

A cold chill raced through me. Tina walking in on Todd and Sam would be disastrous.

"You girls must be hungry. You want to order something?"

"We ate. Why did mom go shoe shopping without you?"

"I wanted to check the bookstore and she didn't. I told her to go ahead."

Amy laughed and shoved my shoulder.

"No. Mister Crew, she dumped you to go flirt with Todd alone."

"Shut up, Amy," Tina said, laughing too. "My mom would never do that to my dad. They're in love. You should see them at home. Always kissing."

She made a silly face and batted her eyes.

"You girls are having fun with this."

"Come on," Amy said. "Let's leave your dad alone. I want to check the music store for something."

My phone buzzed again. We all looked at it.

"You going to answer that?" Tina asked.

"In a minute. Probably work."

In truth, I had no desire to open another dick-picture in front of my daughter and her friend. I was burning with curiosity though.

"Come on, Tina. Let's go."

My daughter kissed my cheek and Amy did too just to be goofy. I tried to wait until they were out of sight but snatched my phone and opened the picture. My eyes jumped to Sam's mouth enveloping hard dick. My phone buzzed again.

He's working alone today. I wait in the stock room for him to help a customer and then he hurries back to fuck me some more. I'm going to finish him off. See you soon.

There must have been some transmission delay because when I looked up Sam was talking to Tina and Amy. They hugged and parted company and Sam aimed for me. Her eyes glowed with satisfied joy.

"Mission accomplished?" I asked as she drew near.

"He's soaking into my panties right now."

Good God. Her words jolted me. This new life we'd discovered was powerful and exciting and terrifying. I never knew what was coming next.

"Don't tell Tina. She knows Todd."

"What?"

"He's a senior, a quarterback, and all the girls at school are in love with him."

"Sweet Jesus. Are you serious?"

"Yes. She can never know. How was he?"

"Unskilled but a bit bigger than average, which I never used to care about but now do. I was more excited by what I was doing, risking so much in a public place, than by whom I did it with. He did eat pussy well for one so inexperienced."

"That's my job."

She rested a hand on my cheek.

"No man compares to you, Baby. You eat pussy like a god."

She took the seat across from me.

"I want a small salad."

She waved for the waiter.

I watched her arrange her shopping bags and marveled at the woman she'd become. She carried Todd in her pussy, right now, as she sat at a table with her husband, and she regretted nothing.

She was beautiful.

She got her bags where she wanted them and rummaged in her purse for her phone. She placed that on the table and lifted the wine list. She noticed me watching.

"What?"

"You're gorgeous."

She blushed!

"What makes you say that, John?"

"Just look at you. You're confident, happy, successful."

"I feel loved."

"You have a young man's semen in you. You are slowly absorbing fresh sperm."

She laughed.

"Makes me horny when you put it that way."

"My forced impotence was the best thing to ever happen to us."

She laughed again.

"You might be right. We started exploring other possibilities and learned a lot about ourselves."

We heard Tina laugh from across the mall. Todd walked with the girls and they looked delighted to have his attention. He flirted and they flirted back, wide-eyed and innocent. Tina steered their threesome towards our table.

"Mom, Dad, this is Todd from school. He works at the shoe store."

Todd smiled as I shook his hand. He turned his attention to Sam and his face froze. Here was the crazy lady he'd just fucked in the stockroom. He looked at me to see his danger but I played it cool. Tina and Amy had no idea what truly transpired in that moment.

"Nice to meet you, Todd," I said, extending a hand, which he shook.

"Yes, Todd," Sam purred. "Always nice to meet a friend of my daughter. This is your last year, right?"

The young man was flustered and struggled to recover.

"Yes, Ma'am," he stammered.

"Any plans for college?"

"Yes, Ma'am, I hope so."

I studied the young man. His sperm was inside my wife at that moment, searching for her egg. Crazy. Tina and Amy were oblivious to anything except Todd's handsome face. The poor guy was terrified Sam would expose him and I'd flip out. He took several minutes of small talk to calm down, eventually realizing Sam would keep their secret.

"Do you have any classes with Tina?" Sam asked.

"One. English. I'm behind and Tina is really smart."

"Well, feel free to come to the house and study."

"Mom!"

"Why not? Maybe you can help him."

Tina's voice said embarrassment but her eyes said delight. She'd love to have Todd at our place, teaching him advanced English. Her stock at school would soar. I understood Sam's true motives and Todd did too.

"That sounds great Mrs. Crew. I could use the help."

We ended with more small talk. Sam looked gorgeous and I knew why. Todd thought he cleverly flirted with my wife in front of us all, undetected, unaware I knew what they'd done. The moment was thrilling.

At last the three kids left. Todd stood between Amy and Tina, both young women admiring him, hanging on his every word.

"Should we be worried?" I asked.

Sam shook her head.

"I had The Talk with our baby months ago. She's smart. She's already figured out males her age. She'll run circles around Todd."

Sam may have just fucked another man but now she was here and fully present, perfectly filling the role of my wife and mother to our child. There was no loss of responsibility or connection to our marriage. Without meaning to, she boosted my belief in us. She boosted my faith that our marriage would endure and grow.

I felt a slight tingling in my balls. I felt blood flow and my penis swell slightly.

"What's happening?" she asked. "Why are you making that face? Do you feel okay, Baby? Did you drink too much while you waited?"

"No. I'm sitting here gazing at the love of my life and feeling my dick expand."

She stopped the glass of water on the way to her mouth.

"Seriously? Do you mean it, John? Do not tease me about this."

"I feel it. Just a tingle down there but it feels hopeful."

She sat the water on the table and snatched my hand, squeezing.

"Let's go home," she said, eyes watery. "I don't care if it's too soon and I don't care if you get hard or not. I need you. I've never wanted your cock as much as I do right now. Tina can take an Uber."

Sam texted our daughter and we canceled the salad. I drove and she sucked my cock all the way home. I never grew fully erect but what I did get made us both happy.

We spent the next week experimenting. Some things worked and some did not. We discovered the more emotionally charged I got, the more my penis responded. Sam said she was determined to bring me back to life.

"Or we can wait. Doc says this is a good sign but we shouldn't rush."

"I need you to fuck me," she'd countered. "We've gone months without. Strangers are exciting but I need my man."

Honestly, I was gratified to hear it. We tried tying her up and tying me up and watching porn. We tried new toys and vibrators. She played with my ass, even working a vibrator up there, which felt fantastic but didn't cause much firmness.

Finally, she had another idea, a bold idea, an idea she never would have had before our adventures. I listened and then agreed to do it.

I even agreed to pay for everything.

Chapter 12

Ben instructed Bobby how to position the reflector. He told Samantha and Mike which position he needed next. I held back, soft penis in hand, watching. This would be for our entertainment, not distribution.

We discussed all we'd done over the past few months and agreed the moment we felt most intimate, the closest and most connected, was when Mike fucked her while she and I made out. We remembered the electric jolt we received and how thrilling it was. We'd never felt anything that exciting.

If anything could punch through and get me hard, it was recreating that moment.

Mike and Sam spun into a sixty-nine position on the large desk and I approached her face. She pressed the underside of my mostly soft penis against the underside of his mostly hard penis and opened wide, sliding both into her mouth. Her stretched lips wrapped around us. Her tongue whipped our heads before licking both shafts.

Ben circled with his ever-present camera only now he shot video. I watched my wife suck two cocks and stiffened a bit more. I was a little mortified slapped against Mike's much larger cock but that fueled my excitement too. Sam slobbered over us equally. She cupped our balls together and stuffed us deeper. He was easily twice my size. I felt a delightful tingle looking down at his cock sliding into her mouth. She opened her eyes to meet my gaze and tried to grin around a mouthful of dick. What a sight.

Soon Ben announced it was time for free-form.

"Do what you feel," he said. "I'll capture it in the best light."

Mike took over. His thick cock was throbbing hard and he moved with urgency. He rolled Sam over and pulled her mouth off my dick. He pushed her onto her back.

"Grab my dick," he said. "Put me in."

I panicked for a moment thinking he spoke to me. Sam reached between her legs, found his pulsating spear, and pulled him forward. His thighs met the edge of the desk. He pushed her legs open.

"Kiss me, John."

She hung her head off the desk. I shuffled closer, gazing into my wife's eyes as she tugged Mike's cock and fed him into her wet cunt. I saw her eyelids flutter the instant of penetration. She exhaled and her body tensed, like she'd been waiting for his cock a long time. He groaned and so did she as he sank about half.

I kissed my wife and she tasted like dick. She sent her tongue into my mouth and I began to slowly jerk off, making out with her as Mike worked his cock deeper. He curled his hips, flexing his abs like he wanted to drive as deep as possible. My wife hooked her legs around his ass like she felt the same way. My penis grew in my hand a little. The tingling increased. I continued to kiss her flavored mouth, rocking in time with Mike's thrusts, until I'd gained enough tumescence to drop into her mouth.

I stood and flopped my dick on her face. Her eyes got big. She was pleased with my growth. She tapped the head to maneuver me in and then sucked hard. My knees almost buckled. After so much time her hot, wet, vacuuming mouth was almost too much to take.

Mike grunted and shifted his knees. He grabbed a breast. I worked my knees to slip my penis in and out of her mouth and Mike fastened his lips to her nipple. My wife groaned from our attention. I pulled out and dropped down to kiss her again, tasting my dick on her tongue. A surge of lust raced through me. Anything that made Sam appear slutty excited me.

"Fuck her brains out, Mike. Make her remember this night forever."

Sam lifted her hips to meet his thrusts. She sucked my spongy penis down to the root. Mike scooped his hands under her ass and slammed his hips against hers, driving his cock all the way in. Sam screeched with a mouthful. Mike must have pushed a finger up her ass because her eyes flashed wide open, shocked. I pushed deeper, resting my hanging balls on her face. She struggled as I restricted her breathing and Mike fucked harder. Sam's tits bounced wildly. Finally, out of air, she shoved my legs away. My penis left her mouth with a pop.

"Fucker," she gasped. "Bastard. Do it again."

I jammed my dick in.

Mike lifted his body higher giving me a view of his thick shaft plunging. I grabbed Sam's throat and squeezed and she started kicking, helpless between her two men. After a minute, I backed away again. She sucked a bushel of air.

"Don't cum down my throat," she panted. "I want it in me. I need it."

I took a step back. I stroked my penis and enjoyed the new swelling my recovering penis displayed. God, it felt good. I was not fully erect but I was no longer soft and limp and I can't tell you what that did for my self-esteem.

"Enough with the fake set," I said. "Bobby, grab that mattress and drag it over her. Let's fuck Sam right."

He did and Mike carried Sam to it. I circled around to watch from the other end. I crouched, kneeling to see under Mike's ass and between Sam's legs. The girth of his meat pushed her pussy into a large ring, expanding her tunnel. His big balls sat at the base of his erection. He pulled all the way out to run the underside of his cock over her clit and Sam gasped.

"That feels fantastic, Baby, but put it back in."

My heart skipped. Sam's use of such an affectionate term rocked me. Mike pushed his cock lower and slid it home and Sam curled her legs around his waist. She pulled him down and they kissed with real feelings.

The head of my penis flared. He wrapped his arms around her and they began to move with slow purpose. Their kisses were heartfelt. The attraction was real. One moment they were fucking and the next they were making love. I loved watching Sam fuck. Watching Sam make love was brutal, but here's the strange part; some sickness in me enjoyed it, and enjoyed it more.

Mike held her tightly and their bodies glistened with a passionate sweat. Their hips rolled and their arms hugged and their mouths locked in deep kissing.

My dick rose. Slowly, yes, but, glory hallelujah, it rose. I watched for several heartbeats and then returned my attention to Mike. His cock was a slow piston, moving in and out. His inches gleamed with her arousal. Sam's pussy was soaked. They murmured things I couldn't hear and kissed repeatedly. He said something and Sam nodded and Mike began moving a little faster. Sam melted in his arms.

Forget the bank setting and forget Ben with his video camera and forget Bobby running around adjusting lighting. The moment was transcendent. The lovers lost themselves in each other. There was a deep agony to see Sam give herself so completely to another man. There was a fearful anguish gripping my heart to see my beloved wife so enthralled by the sensation of him moving inside her. Panic rose but I resisted. This mental torture fueled my erection and I would not deny myself a hard dick.

"Do you want Mike to cum in you?"

I knew the answer before I asked the question but I wanted to hear her scorching answer ring in my ears.

"God, yes," she rasped. "Then I want you to fuck me." I took my penis in hand and began to stroke. "I want your cock to push his sperm deeper. I want you to add yours to his. I want to carry my two men in me."

She sounded feverish. Her eyes were closed as she spoke. She hugged Mike, her legs lifted alongside his body and every ounce of her was focused on the place where they merged. She opened her dreamy eyes and saw how stiff I'd become and her eyes went wide. She moved her hands to Mike's ass, pulling him deeper each thrust.

"Give it to me, Baby," she purred. "Cum in me, Mike. Fill my pussy."

I doubt he was ready but what man can resist words like that? He pumped faster and soon bent his back, pushing his cock all the way in and grunting over and over. Sam looked devilish, her gaze fixed on me. Mike shot his last and Sam nudged him to move. She motioned me forward with an index finger. Mike pulled his thick cock from her hole and sperm leaked. I still wasn't rock hard but I was hard enough. I took his place and rubbed my penis around her hole, scooping his jizz and pushing it into her pussy. Sam felt what I did and groaned with deep feelings. Encouraged, I nudged any escaped sperm on her pussy and inner thighs towards her hole and in, collecting every drop and ensuring she received all of him. Sam squirmed.

"That's so hot," she whimpered. "You're spooning Mike into me. Jesus."

I squeezed my shaft to flare my head, giving me enough size to cover her opening. I eased forward, sinking into her hot wet folds but also pushing his potent sperm ahead like a plunger. Her tight cunt enveloped my sensitive inches and I groaned like I was dying. God! How long had I waited? Her soaked pussy glided over me and the sensations electrified my mind. To know I also pushed Mike deeper was an erotic pleasure I never knew existed. I could not hold back. I gasped loudly, groaning as a multitude of pleasures, mental and physical, assaulted my senses. I understood Sam's desire. She'd had more than one man's seed in her womb at the same time before but never when one of those men was her loving husband. How slutty would she feel? She craved that level of decadence and I would allow her to have it.

I pushed my hard dick all the way in. I bulldozed Mike towards her womb, all that he hadn't shot directly in there. I pulled back and pushed deep again. My wife and I groaned from our shared insanity. I could never have imagined such a bizarre ritual bonding us but here we were, and it did.

"I love you," she croaked.

"I love you too."

I pumped my hips but after so very long, how could I hold back? I didn't. I felt my sperm rising almost instantly. My head expanded inside her and Sam grabbed my face to kiss me.

"Oh, God, John. Fuck, yes. Mix yours with his. Jesus! This is crazy."

I pumped my hips faster and faster, slamming my pelvis against hers. She cried out as she orgasmed and my mind exploded. Semen sprayed from me like a firehose. I couldn't breathe, I couldn't see straight, I got dizzy. I kept thrusting and an ocean of sperm erupted. I flooded her womb. She wailed, overcome.

Chapter 13

The sky was cloudy, reflecting the colorful lights and giving the city a delightful children's playhouse feel. Dinner had been scrumptious as always and we'd forced ourselves to take our time and enjoy the moment. We were eager to return to the park.

Tonight, Sam wore a short black skirt and black thigh-high stockings, which gave the appearance of pantyhose, but in truth allowed the warm restaurant air to tickle her bald and unprotected pussy.

"I'm already wet," she admitted, voice low.

"I hope he's there."

"If not we call Mike."

Samantha craved sex. Her eyes held a desperate hollowness, a yearning hunger. We'd discuss a return to the park weeks ago and the need had been building ever since.

"Shall we skip dessert?"

"Fuck yes," she rasped.

I signaled the waiter to bring the bill.

Samantha and I talked a lot about what started us down this wild path and concluded the flasher in the park was the catalyst. That was our turning point. With a simple act, he'd revealed much of our hidden selves to us.

The waiter approached and I signed the charge. Sam collected her purse and we rode the elevator down. A man sold roses at the park entrance and I bought Sam one. She broke the stem and inserted the flower behind her ear, accenting what a gorgeous woman she is. We followed the path and I held her hand, intentionally forcing a slow and deliberate pace. The moment was delicious with tension and I wanted it to last. I led my wife to an erotic encounter. I was delivering Samantha for fucking, either to our flasher friend or to Mike. My heart raced and my palms sweat.

The warm air held an occasional chill woven through it, like a foreshadowing of fall. I spied the stand of oaks ahead. This was the moment of truth. Time slowed as I searched the shadows. I saw movement in the dark: the flap of a long coat.

"He's there," I croaked.

"I don't see him."

"The largest oak on the right. By the shrub."

"Oh."

Sam tensed. She saw him too.

"I bet you're drenched."

She squeezed my hand. She looked lovely. We drew closer and the handsome older man stepped forward, opening his coat wide. He presented us with a large cock, hard and throbbing. A black rubber ring circled the base behind his balls with another loop separating his egg-sized testicles. He watched our faces, savoring our eyes on him. He looked nervous, expectant, hopeful we'd appreciate what we saw. I did: credit where credit is due. But Sam was a salivating banshee. Sam was a junkie seeking a fix.

"You like my cock?" he rasped.

"I love your cock," my wife whimpered.

"Do it," I said.

She understood without further explanation. Sam left the path and the man cringed, worried she attempted an indignant attack. I was sure he got a lot of those. Sam grabbed his erection and he flinched. My wife pulled him by his dick into the shadows and under the tree. Her fingers tightened around his veiny erection.

"Have you ever been arrested?" she asked.

"Many times. I can't stop myself."

Her hand began a slow up and down. Each time she reached his head she palmed the large bulb and squeezed harder.

"Do you remember me?"

"Yes. You jerked me off months ago."

"I'm flattered you remember. Do a lot of women touch you?"

He shrugged.

"Not many. Some. Most get mad. I've been beat up a lot. Gay gentlemen like my dick too. I let them suck it if they want."

"I bet they do. What do you do when you're not flashing your cock in the park?"

"I teach high school."

Samantha laughed. Our new friend flinched.

"If those high school girls only knew."

"I stay away from kids. I would never."

"Relax." She nudged his back against an oak and he flinched again. "I just want to finish what I started all those months ago."

The man craved human contact but expected violence any second. Poor guy. I didn't condone his hobby but I think I partially understood it. This was a compulsion. He needed therapy to stop, not another ass-kicking. He glanced nervously my way.

"Put him in your mouth, Samantha."

My wife bent at the waist. She brought her face close to the head and our friend seemed to hold his breath. Sam slipped the swollen plum into her mouth and the man gasped.

"You like that?" Sam asked. "Do I please you?"

"Yes."

"Put your hands on my head. Make me suck you."

"I don't like forcing people to do things."

What a sweet man. My heart went out to the guy. Something compelled him to display his rampant cock but he was essentially harmless.

"Do it as a favor for me," I said. "My wife needs her mouth fucked by a big cock. She's been bad. You have no idea. Will you do it for me? Man, to man?"

He tentatively took her head in his hands. Sam braced her hands on his knees. She crawled her lips down his length and his breathing became harsh and raspy. He groaned and Sam withdrew.

"You like that?" Sam asked.

"You're really good."

Sam slurped the head and took some shaft again. I scanned the park for others but it was late. We were alone.

"You smell great," my wife murmured.

"I use cologne. I always put some down there near my penis."

Sam laughed again.

"Aren't you thoughtful?"

"I don't want to offend anyone."

I loved this guy. He was a mess. A conflicting compilation of desires. He jumps out of bushes to flash people his erection but wants to avoid offending people.

"Your cock is big," Sam said.

"I feel like I need to share it with others."

"You're funny," Sam said, laughing again. "Maybe you should make porn and quit your teaching job."

"The kids need me."

She lowered her mouth and began to bob on his erection. I kept watch. He didn't know it yet, but the reason Sam wore stockings and no panties tonight was to provide easy access to her pussy. We'd had the conversation before we ever left the house. We'd return to the scene of the crime, our garden filled with original sin. We planned this and then spent nervous hours driving and eating dinner.

Sam sucked and licked his shaft and then sucked each separated testicle into her mouth. She closed her teeth on the first rubber ring binding his sack and bit hard until it broke. She bit through the other rings too. She spat the broken bands out. Freed, his balls rose to sit at the base of his dick. She tried to deep throat the man but girth and length stopped her. She lifted her head to look at me.

"Keep a sharp eye."

"Don't worry, I will."

"What's your name?" she asked him.

"Call me Mister K."

"I'm Samantha. That's my husband, John."

Mister K licked his lips nervously.

"May I fuck you, Mister K?"

"Oh, Lord."

She turned her back to the man and reached between her legs, searching. She found his hard cock and guided him under her skirt, hunting for her hole. She gasped. I knew she'd found her opening.

"Grab my hips," she told him.

He did.

Sam moaned, softly at first but louder as he sank deep.

"Pull me down," she whimpered. "Pull me on your spike. Fucking fill me."

The man did as he was told, drawing my wife closer, sliding Sam onto his cock.

"That's good," she moaned, drawing out the word.

His lips were a thin line. His eyes were focused where his penis disappeared under her skirt. He adjusted his hands for a better grip and then began working her hips, using her, dragging her tight pussy up and down his length. Mister K grew more enthusiastic with each passing minute. He lost his balance a few times, stumbling against the tree.

"Get on the ground," he ordered.

Sam eagerly went to all fours on the wet grass. He knelt behind her and lifted her skirt over her ass. I love thigh-high stockings. He threw his long coat to one side and aimed his cock at her slit. He pushed, penetrating deep. Sam grabbed handfuls of grass. Her face was pure bliss. His big cock stretched her insides in every direction.

"What if someone sees you, Sam?" I teased. "Look at you. On the ground, fucked like an animal. What if our friends saw you?"

Sam twisted her head and snarled. An orgasm seized her. She clamped her pussy around his thick inches. The absolute decadence of her behavior fueled a powerful lust. His balls, filled to the brim with hot sperm and released from the rubber rings, swung freely, smashing her clit over and over.

"Give it to me," Samantha growled. "Unload everything. I want it so badly. John, take my hand. Hold my hand as this stranger fills me."

I crouched next to her on the grass and took her hand. He groaned and lifted his eyes to the stars overhead. His jaw fell open. His hips pounded her ass. He groaned loudly, wracked with spasms, slowing to an agonizing crawl as his buried cock spurt. My hard penis throbbed in my pants. Their cries of passion had silenced the night birds and probably drawn the attention of anyone else in the park.

"We need to leave," I murmured.

Sam nodded weakly and let me help her to her feet. Mister K staggered backward, merging into shadow and vanishing.

I led my wife out of the park. She curled against my shoulder as I drove home, the rose still resting behind her ear. Mister K had overflowed her womb. The man must have saved his load for weeks. Maybe abstinence helped him maintain that erection all night in the park. I don't know. What I did know was he'd held Sam's ass tight against his hips and pumped jet after jet after jet of hot sperm into her. His expanding, gushing cock had triggered another climax from my wife, leaving her dazed. I got us back to our car and on the highway. We'd driven in silence a while.

"Are you going to fuck me when we get home?" she asked.

"Absolutely."

"Good. I love it when you add yours to theirs."

"Me too. Stranger sex is hot."

End.
