

Tiffany Opens Up

By Matthew Lee

The Buffalo Exchange is a funky second-hand store with a reputation for authenticity. My wife, Tiffany, often brings her designer outfits here when she's finished with them and trades them in for store credit, which she then uses to pick up unique vintage items. In our early thirties, we may be slightly too old for this store, but I'm still in shape and Tiff is a knock-out. There were girls in here half her age that did not look as good as she.

Tiffany has a talent for fashion and all her girlfriends offer to pay her to shop for them but she won't do it. Tiffany is an ensemble artist. She actually works for the photography arm of a Las Vegas advertising agency but fashion is her passion. She'll try on dozens of outfits to find the perfect combination. She's petite but since most of her height comes from long legs, she can often make something work. Her breasts are slightly more than a palm-full but really firm so she rarely wears a bra, even to work.

Today my friend, Brian, shopped with us as Tiff would drop us at the basketball courts afterwards. I waited until Tiffany entered a dressing room with several items before I pulled him to the side.

“Okay, Bee, now you'll see my real reason for inviting you to this store today. Watch. ”

The Exchange used heavy drapes instead of doors on all their dressing rooms. Every room had gaps in the curtains allowing Brian and I to catch sexy glimpses of girls trying on clothing. Tiffany was at a sharp angle to us so Brian and I couldn't see her, but we sure saw plenty of everyone else. We played it cool, of course, acting like we were occupied with our cell phones and not paying attention to anyone or anything, but for the next thirty minutes we feasted on one hot girl after another; tits, ass, legs, back, stomachs... Everything was fair game and on gorgeous display. We drank it up. Tiffany never suspected my true motivation to go shopping with her.

Eventually Tiff made her selections and left the dressing room. We were on our way to the front of the store when we passed through the men's section and she started looking around. She told us to wait and then handed Brian and I some pants and shirts.

“Back to the dressing room, Jon,” she told me.

I tried on a pair of black leather pants, which I hated, and a Jimi Hendrix T-Shirt, which I loved. Outside I heard Brian and Tiffany debating what looked best on him and then she ordered him back to the dressing room. I stepped out to get her opinion on my choices and she agreed with them.

“Now the wine shirt and other black pants,” she encouraged.

I turned to re-enter the dressing room and stopped. Just like with the girls earlier, Brian's curtain gaped. He was nude and hanging a shirt on a hook before trying on some pants. His monster-cock pointed at the floor, pulled down by its own weight, with a pink pair of chicken-egg sized testicles partially hidden behind it. I quickly checked to see if my wife had noticed and she had, standing there staring at it like she'd been turned to stone.

“Good God,” she whispered. “Did you know?”

“I had no idea,” I replied. “He's always so shy at the gym. I thought he was small or embarrassed by how skinny he is.”

His cock wasn't as thick as a soda can, but it wasn't far off. He was completely soft and doubled my length when I'm hard. In reality we only saw him for five seconds or so but it felt like we gawked for ten minutes. Tiffany could not look away. My gaze bounced back and forth between her and him.

Brian's hairless and under-developed body looked almost gaunt. He has a flop of curly black hair atop his head that has never met a comb. He's kind of uncoordinated and the main reason I bring him to the courts with me is his height, about six and a half feet, and he's gotten pretty good at defending the basket.

I know him from work. I supervise a pool of sales people and he works in our IT department. I'm his only real friend. He's an introverted computer whiz but he's genuine and kind and smart and funny. As I did, Tiffany liked him instantly. She suggested he visit more often. I think she felt a little sorry for him.

He moved out of view.

“I bet you like him more now,” I teased and she punched my shoulder.

“Pants, now” she said, pointing at my dressing room. I saw her glance at his dressing room a couple times as I walked away. I felt disturbed and strangely conflicted. I should have been jealous my wife tried to see another man naked, and I guess I was a little, but I was also titillated. Brian is so geeky and completely harmless that I saw him as no threat at all. My wife could only be trying to catch another glimpse of his large cock and that was provocative me. Tiffany and I never discuss fantasies or sex, so her behavior provided me with insight.

Back in my dressing room I started thinking. How could I be so unaware of my wife's preferences? We both enjoyed sex and had it a couple times a week but it just did not seem a priority to either of us. Our careers absorbed most of our time and attention. Our love-making was passionate and on rare occasion I might talk to her a little aggressively, but as soon as we finished all that went away. Sex is not a priority.

I got the Hendrix shirt and Brian bought an Ed Hardy sweatshirt. Tiffany bought two mini-skirts and two completely see-through lace tops, one pastel pink and one dark green. I raised an eyebrow when she showed them to me and she told me to calm down, they go on top of other shirts as an accessory. Whatever. I pictured her small firm breasts covered in lace and she knew it.

We left the store and Tiff dropped us at the courts. Brian and I played while Tiff got her finger and toe-nails done. Vegas heat will wear you out quickly so two hours later we were exhausted and finished playing. Tiffany drove us home and Brian took off right away. I needed a shower and Tiffany sat in the bathroom talking to me about work as I soaped and rinsed.

When I stepped out to dry, Tiff ran her eyes all over my body. I'm no Superman but I am in good shape and time spent in locker rooms tells me my penis is above average in length and width. I know it is silly to mention it, but men care.

As I reached for my towel, she grasped my penis and closed her mouth around the head. I braced myself against the wall and let her suck. It felt so good! I got hard and soon started fucking her mouth. Her long brown hair was still in a pony-tail from the morning so I used it like a handle to hold her head in place. She's so good at sucking cock I swear she has a second pussy.

After a few minutes I pulled her tail and drug her to our bed. I pushed her skirt up around her waist and pulled her panties to the side. Her hairy pussy looked back at me. With her knees on the carpet and her torso on the bed, I pushed my hard penis inside her from behind. She was drenched. I pushed all the way in until my balls touched her labia and I left my dick there, stretching her in every direction, and she groaned. I pushed harder, my hips firmly against her butt, and waited until she started to kick her feet and struggle and then I started fucking her pretty hard. Her pussy sloshed around me. I pulled back on her tail with both hands, driving my penis deep on every thrust. Every now and then I'd touch her buried cervix and she'd moan and squirm. As far as sex goes, that was her favorite thing.

“Oh my God, Jon, that feels so goooooood... Do it again, Baby. I love feeling you that deep. Do it again. Reach all the way up inside me, Baby. Uuuuunnnhhhh, yeah...”

I tried but I wasn't long enough to do it whenever I wished. I needed some random combination of her hips and mine to touch her there. I did touch it a few more times as we fucked and on my last attempt I was able to press my head against the gateway to her womb and rub up and down. She came hard, screaming about being stuffed with dick. I lost contact again as soon as she moved but by then her orgasm was almost over.

Yeah, I felt pretty manly.

I let her climax run all the way out and then worked on my own, pounding her hard until pulling out and shooting all over her ass, back, and hair. The pill does weird things to Tiffany and condoms ruin sex for me so we just kind of arrived at this form of birth control by default. On rare occasion I will cum inside her but then we fret for weeks so I've become an expert on pulling out at the last second. I turned her around and made her lick my penis clean.

When she finished I dropped onto the bed and she crawled up on me, resting her head on my chest. She played with my chest hair for a few minutes.

“What brought that on?” I asked.

“I just love you,” she replied. “You looked so sexy out of the shower. I had to get some.”

We lay there in silence for a while.

“You were pretty aggressive yourself, Jon. What brought that on?”

“I just love you, too.”

I felt a lingering doubt as soon as the words left my mouth. Not that they were false, but that I wasn't tell her the whole truth. She hadn't either so I considered that fair. She asked if I wanted to see her new clothes and I said I did. She jumped up like an excited child and retrieved the shopping bag. I propped myself up with pillows and she stepped into the bathroom to change. One by one she showed off all her new outfits. She even matched her new items to some of her older ones and they looked excellent too. The skirts ended at the knee and she liked to layer her tops so nothing was even remotely risqué, but there was no hiding her hot body. I complimented her choices and the fashion show played out until at last she was finished. She started placing items on hangers for her closet but I stopped her.

“Wait, Honey, what about my fashion show?”

“What do you mean?”

“Those lace tops. Try them on with nothing underneath. I want to see them on you.”

“Why, Jon? They aren't lingerie. I'll never wear them like that.”

“Because my wife is sexy and gorgeous and I want to see them on her.”

She sighed. “Didn't you just have sex? How can you be interested again already?”

“Because my wife is sexy and gorgeous,” I repeated, rolling my eyes.

She dug into the bag for the tops. She acted annoyed, but I spotted the little smile curling the corners of her mouth. Deep down, she liked showing off for me. She retreated to the bathroom and when she emerged minutes later she wore the black velvet skirt and just the pink lace top. The sheer fabric followed the contours of her pert tits and flat stomach and I stared to my heart's content and then she tried on the dark green for me. More hotness. I'd seen her wearing these items in the store but they looked so much sexier now. Of course, when I remembered the store I remembered Brian. She was about to head for the bathroom to change back to street clothes when I spoke.

“So, how about my buddy, Brian?” I asked.

“What about him?”

“You know; how big he is. I never would have guessed.”

“Was he big? I didn't really notice. I was concentrating on fashion .”

“Shut up, liar. You couldn't look away.”

She chuckled.

I pressed her. “I saw you looking and then looking back again. I guess you liked what you saw?”

“Yeah. Actually, I was shocked. He's so shy, you know? Most guys would brag about a gorgeous weapon like that but introverted Brian tells no one. I'm like you; I never would have guessed.”

So Brian has a gorgeous weapon? Her vivid description intrigued me.

“Why did you keep staring? Did it turn you on?” I ventured.

As I mentioned, Tiff and I simply do not discuss sex. My blunt question left her feeling awkward and self-conscious .

“Well, yeah, I guess it did. It was so unexpected but if I'm totally honest, also because it was so big. Does that bother you?”

“No, not really. So are you saying bigger is better?” I asked, innocently.

“Sure.” She pondered a moment. “I think so. I'm sure some women don't care but I'd say it matters to most, including me. I've watched female-friendly porn and I've seen the Chippendale dancers perform and I'd have to say yes, bigger is better. There's no club for ladies to go see tiny-dick strippers is there? Female authors don't write erotica about small-dick heroes do they? Porn for women doesn't have guys with great bodies but small dicks; it has guys with great bodies AND big dicks, so, yeah, it matters. Is that terrible? I feel bad for saying it.”

“Why, Honey?”

“For all the little guys. It must suck to have a little thing. Girls with small tits can work out and have a nice ass and be hot. Girls with no butt can get implants and be hot. Guys have zero options. You just have to be a guy with a small dick forever. I'm guessing that would kind of suck. I've not been with many men. In fact, as far as actual intercourse my number is three and that's including you. Yours is the biggest penis I've had inside me and it also happens to feel the best. I've had small too and the sex was boring. Bigger is just better, Honey. It turned me on but not for Brian. He's a nice guy but honestly, he's too nice. Jesus, that sounds terrible too. I'm just saying the shock of a big penis just appearing like that was exciting.”

“I understand,” I offered. “Like the wind blowing a girl's skirt and revealing a nice ass.”

“Exactly, I think.”

For the next few days her comments about size stuck with me. I felt an ever-present excitement just under the surface. Tiffany seemed over our conversation completely but it stayed with me. My wife cared about penis size and for some reason that pleased me. What did it say about her and what did it say about me? I had no idea.

Saturday morning Tiffany was out shopping and I was home trying to get my phone to hold a charge. I was ready to give up when online research revealed my phone used the same battery as one of Tiff's old phones and I excitedly ran downstairs to find it. I searched the junk drawer and there it was. I plugged the cable in and was delighted to discover it began charging. I headed outside to work in the yard and came back in an hour to check on it and discovered it held a charge. Sweet.

She had this phone when I first met her years ago and it brought back memories. We used to text a hundred times a day. Texting is the modern day love-letter. I wondered if any of our old romantic texts were on it still. I searched for them but instead accidentally opened the photo-gallery.

Tiff had pictures of friends and food and ski trips and shoes and beach parties and shoes and a dent in her last car and shoes. Mixed in with her friend pictures were two guys I did not recognize. At the bottom of the gallery she had several videos saved. I studied the guys for a minute and then played the first video.

Tiffany stood before a mirror filming herself. She wore black garter-belts and thigh-high stockings, which made her long legs look even longer, and a black lace push-up bra. Her hair was many inches shorter and she wore dark eye-shadow and lipstick.

What the fuck?

"You can do this," she told her mirror-self. "Don't be a pussy."

She panned down and then up again. She looked fucking hot, like a high-class stripper, and I wondered what the fuck she was doing. The screen went black. I quickly played the next video. The camera spun wildly and I heard her say, "No way, not your camera. Use mine. I want to be able to delete it."

A deep male voice said, "You don't trust me?"

"Not completely, no. You have a penis and that makes you occasionally stupid. But I trust your friends even less and I can imagine one of them searching your phone while you're in the shower and finding this video."

The deep voice laughed. "You're probably right. "

The spinning settled down and I briefly saw a man's face way too close. The view turned and there was Tiffany in her stripper outfit, standing patiently with her hands clasp in front of her. She somehow managed to look angelic and devilish at the same time.

“So how do we do this?” the male voice asked.

“Like this,” she answered, moving to her knees.

The camera panned down as Tiff opened his belt and fly. She tugged his pants down to his ankles. He kept filming as she drew his boxers down, revealing his semi-erect penis. His cock rose in front of her face and her eyes got big. She actually licked her lips!

I hit pause. My hands shook. My wife was about to suck another man's cock! I looked at her face frozen on the screen. Her lips were parting, her tongue extending. The tip of his penis was only inches from her mouth. Her eyes were glued to the plump head and her lips gleamed, wet from when she licked them. She wanted his cock in her mouth. I could see it in her eyes. She was eager for it. She looked carnivorous.

I studied his penis, the penis that was about to fill my wife's mouth. Fat veins crisscrossed under the skin with two big ones running along the side. The head tapered before flaring into a pink ridge and smoothly blending back into the shaft.

I held my breath and hit play.

Tiff's mouth slowly opened wide as she leaned forward. Her eyes closed. The first inches of his cock disappeared into her maw before her shiny lips closed around the shaft, sealing him inside.

My guts felt like I had swallowed broken glass. Just a few days ago she'd told me I was the biggest she'd ever had, but this guy was a serious challenge to that claim. We might be the same thickness but he sure looked an inch or two longer than me. Maybe it was the angle. She made him harder with each second and soon it was obvious; this man was clearly bigger than me, length and thickness.

Her cheeks pulled in as she sucked on him and I heard him moan. Her hand appeared around his shaft and she stroked him in time with her bobbing mouth, trying to coax his sperm from him. She was sucking a cock other than mine. My wife was sucking another cock. I could not get my brain to grasp the reality. Of course, everyone has a past but thankfully we never see it. I watched as my wife sucked cock with glee. I zoomed in a little and then zoomed back. Yes, that was her face. Yes, those were her tits. Holy shit! I watched my wife suck another cock!

He grew harder as she worked him, slowly gaining a gentle upward curve. She had to sit up higher to keep him gliding smoothly in and out. After a few minutes she leaned back to admire her handiwork, allowing him to bounce in the open air. Her saliva coated him and dripped to the floor.

“You have a pretty cock, Danny.” she told him, and I remembered no Danny from her history. She moved under and mouthed his scrotum, licked his fat balls, and then leaned back again to gaze at his erection. Her eyes were wild.

He whimpered and reached for her but she just laughed and smacked his hand away.

“Not so fast, mister,” she chastised. “I’m in charge here.”

“Let me fuck you,” he pleaded.

“No, Dan, that wasn’t the deal. I don’t know you well enough and we have no birth control. I’m not stupid. Just fuck my mouth. I’ll swallow whatever you give me.”

She opened wide and took over half his erection at once. He groaned and tried to hold the camera steady as my lovely bride vacuumed his dick. Her hand found his shaft again and she worked him earnestly, sucking and stroking until he grunted and groaned and erupted across her tongue and splashed her tonsils. She gulped him down. The camera aimed at the floor and filming was forgotten by them both. The screen went black.

My penis was hard as diamond.

I watched the remaining videos. Most were just good times with friends but one was twenty seconds of a smaller than average penis moving in and out of a vagina and another was her sucking a totally different cock from the first one. This penis was closer to me in size and again, she only sucked it and refused when the guy asked to fuck her .

I went back and watched the vagina fuck again but it lacked excitement. I took a minute to realize it was his small size that robbed the scene of any zip for me. Tiffany made no moans or groans and did not seem especially wet either. I witnessed nothing more than passionless intercourse. Even when the guy pulled out and shot all over her stomach, I didn’t care much.

I took her phone upstairs to my computer and downloaded all four sex videos and then stole her battery. I went back and tossed the phone into the junk drawer and then a question occurred to me; do I tell her what I'd found or not? I decided not to.

I went to our bedroom and searched her closet and chest of drawers. In the bottom drawer I found a shoe-box and opened it. Black lace garter belt and push up bra, but also another in red and another in white. Why had I never seen these? I put everything back as it was and headed for the kitchen where I opened a cold beer.

All this time I'd assumed sex was a low priority for us because Tiff and I weren't sexual people. Now I knew better. Tiffany was sexual. Tiffany just wasn't sexual with me. I needed to find out why.

I finished the work in the front yard and then headed back to the office. I watched all the videos again but the big-dick blowjob one I watched twice. As my general shock faded, arousal replaced it. I watched her suck cock in slow-motion and zoomed in. Her lips twisted as they slithered over his crown, her cheeks dented as she sucked on his meat. My penis tingled and I felt what he felt. Her mouth had done the same to me often enough. I got hard again and this time I stroked as I watched. I set the video to play in a loop and by the third pass I sprayed cum all over the carpet. Watching my wife suck cock was hot!

I cleaned up and tried to get some work done but the video crept back into my thoughts. I soon found myself with dick in hand once more. By the time Tiffany came home I'd watched that video repeatedly and climaxed four times, and I was still incredibly horny.

We went about our day like nothing was different but for me it was. I saw her in a whole new light. Neither of us were virgins when we met but denial is a powerful thing. Now I had images in my head and those images drove me wild. Of course I had questions about the guys in the videos but I worried if I told her about what I'd found, she'd be mortified and insist I delete them.

After dinner we watched a movie and then headed for bed. We snuggled under the covers and talked about our day and goddamn if my exhausted penis didn't rise again. Tiff felt it against her thigh and smiled at me before disappearing under the covers. I felt her hot mouth envelope me and I pushed back the bedspread; I needed to see my dick in her mouth.

The sight was glorious. I've seen it a thousand times but this time was different, this time I had something to compare it to. I throbbed rigid and pushed my penis to the back of her mouth. She moaned about how stiff

I was and sucked harder. I held her long brown hair back to watch my inches slip in and out. Mine was the third penis I'd seen in her mouth today! She was a porn star in my mind. I'd never looked at her in this purely sexual way and it lit my mind on fire. She was so sexy!

"I love watching you," I murmured before I realized I'd spoken. I panicked a little but of course she missed the double-meaning. How could she know?

Her eyes came up to mine but she kept the same pace. Both her hands went to my shaft and stroked as she sucked. She wanted my cum. The sight was fucking erotic. I let her go on for a long time before I rolled flat on my back and pulled her on top of me. She reached under to guide me in and I guess because I was so hard I touched her cervix almost immediately. She groaned and pushed her hips down and a few thrust later I again nudged the entrance to her uterus. She gasped and ground her hips on mine.

"You feel so big, Baby," she declared. "You're so hard."

I raised my pelvis to get even deeper and bumped her cervix again. She shuddered with pleasure. I tried and was successful again. She rubbed her hands over her small firm tits and arched her back, growling.

"You love that, don't you Baby?" I exhaled. "Feel me bottom-out? Feel your pussy stuffed with hard dick? That's what you love, I know it."

Her response was a drawn-out groan, "I dooooooo, oh my God yes, I dooooooo."

While pumping her cunt with deep and steady strokes, I let my imagination roam, no doubt inspired by what I'd seen that day. I reached up and grabbed the back of her neck and pulled her down on top of me, her ear next to my mouth.

"What if I was bigger, Baby? Can you picture it?"

She groaned. I kept thrusting.

"Imagine me twice as big, Tiff. Can you feel it? I'd push your tight walls in every direction, forcing you open. My cock-head presses on your cervix until you slowly dilate and I enter your womb. Would you like that, Baby? Do you want to feel a man all the way up inside you? Bigger is better, right Love?"

Her eyes flashed open, worried I was angry. When she found only lust Tiffany gasped and small, pleading grunts escaped her.

"Answer me," I ordered. "I want to hear you say it."

My penis head bumped her cervix again. All the air left her lungs in a rush.

“Ooooh, fuck yes, Baby. I want it.”

I filled my fist with her hair and pulled hard, hurting her.

“Say it,” I commanded. “Picture me big, big like Brian, big and hard and shoving your guts out of the way as I take over your little pussy. Would you love a bigger cock fucking you? Do you wish I was bigger? Answer me, I won't get mad. Say it!”

“Yes!” she screamed. “Fuck yes! I want it. I'd love you bigger! If your cock was bigger I'd fuck it all the time, Jon. Oh my God! Oh shit!”

Tiffany cried out and convulsed. As luck would have it my head hit her cervix several times in a row as she climaxed and that sent her rocketing up into the stratosphere. She buried her face in the crook of my neck and screamed as a massive, body-wide orgasm shook her. I continued fucking her hard all the way through it. Normally I would never have lasted this long and most certainly would lose it now and cum too, but my masturbation earlier let me hold back and use my erection like a battering-ram. Her tight cunt fluttered all around my inches as I drove her on and on. On each push I reached as far up into her as I could. Even when she collapsed on me I kept fucking. I had to concentrate to slow and finally stop my hips.

Tiffany was wiped out. I'd never seen her cum like that. I rolled her off of me and discovered my lower abs and pelvis were covered with pussy juice. She seemed barely conscious. My dick stood straight up but I felt no need to cum. I rolled her onto her stomach and her tiny pussy winked at me from between her round butt cheeks.

I got behind her and lined my dick up and eased it into her soaked cunt. She seemed only vaguely aware what I did. I've never reached her cervix from this angle so I didn't even try. Her tight pussy closed around me like a hot wet fist and I started fucking my wife with strong and sure strokes. She came around a little and I leaned down close to her ear again.

“Your sweet pussy is so tight, Baby. No wonder you crave big cock. I understand, Honey. I really do. I wish my cock was bigger just to drive you insane with it. I'd love to see that. I'd love to watch what my big cock did to you. I'd love to watch a big cock fuck my sweet sexy wife and drive her crazy.”

I was relentless. I fucked her with ever-increasing speed and she started to respond. She started making tiny gasping sounds and when I started talking dirty I felt her pussy gush wet again. Now I did want to cum.

I started talking nasty again as I pounded her.

“I wish my dick was as big as Brian's. Can you feel it, Baby? Just think how big he must get. I'd fuck you all the time with it.”

She groaned and lifted her hips off the bed, offering me her sweet hole. Her hand slipped under and I knew she rubbed her clit. Even after an orgasm like that, she wanted more. It made me crazy. I fucked her harder. I remembered the video and that hard dick in her mouth and my balls tingled.

“You'd want it too, Baby,” I croaked. “I know you would. My hot and sexy wife hammered by a massive dick as she begs for more. That's so hot. I can see it, Tiffany. ”

My cum started to rise. Her gasps became escalating cries of pleasure and I realized my wife was about to cum again and I knew it was the idea of that big cock getting her there and not my fucking.

“I know you want it too, Baby,” I gushed. “We both want a big hard cock pounding your sweet cunt. Just picture a cock as big as Brian's. I can see it. I can see Brian's big cock fucking you, Baby! I can see Brian fucking you. AAAagggghhh! Here it comes. I see it! Fuck! Take it! Take my hot cum! Yeeeeeah!”

I knew my wife climaxed beneath me but I was in my own world. Fire raced up my spine and out to my fingers and toes and my dick exploded inside her. I think I screamed. Light and color flashed through my mind as my bones shattered and my body melted. Tiffany thrashed around under me but my weight held her trapped and I think that amplified her orgasm. I poured inside her all the sperm I had left and then fell on her with a slap.

Neither of us moved for a long time. Eventually she touched my shoulder and I knew she needed air so I rolled off. We lay there in silence feeling the electrical impulses of afterglow running wild through us.

Slowly, and I mean very slowly, it dawned on me what I'd said, exactly. I also became aware that Tiffany stared at me. I turned to her. She looked ready to laugh.

“What?” I asked.

“Nothing,” she responded, snuggling up close to me.

I thought of a dozen ways to back away from what I'd said, but they all sounded lame. Did I need to distance myself from what I'd said? Tiffany did not seem upset.

"That was intense," I ventured.

She hugged me. "It really was, Jon. I loved it. Where did you learn to talk like that? You turned me on so much. Can we do that again some time?"

I returned her hug. "Hell yes."

Our room was so still and quiet I heard Tiff swallow.

"I'd really like that," she said. "You were so vulnerable and honest with me just now, Honey. You've never done anything like that. Are those your fantasies, Jon? They're really hot. God, that was so trusting! You were so brave. I had no idea you thought those things. "

A small fire ignited in my belly. She wasn't upset. She welcomed it.

"I don't know if I'd call it a fantasy," I said. "But I saw it like a movie in my head. I know you'd lose your mind. The idea of you that turned-on is very exciting."

She pursed her lips in a pout. "It's too bad penises are attached to other men," she stated. "I could never let another man touch me. I'd die of guilt and shame. I love our life and would never do anything to endanger it. The risks just aren't worth it. But isn't it a hot idea? God, you turned me on so much with your crazy talk! I can't believe you said Brian could fuck me. I can't believe you used his name. I know you were just talking but I could feel it, Baby. I felt his big dick inside me. I came so hard! You can be so naughty, Honey. Poor shy Brian has no idea how we used him tonight."

I put my hand on her head and softly stroked her hair. My mind swirled.

"It was hot, my love," I replied. "You're so sexy. I feed off your lust and passion and get excited by your excitement."

We fell silent again, lost in our own thoughts, and fell asleep like that; my hand on her head as it lay on my chest.

For days my head was in the clouds. That Saturday with Tiffany changed everything for me. Those goddamn videos played non-stop in my brain and our dirty talk that night planted so many erotic seeds I was left feeling completely unsure about what I really wanted. How could I even consider another man touching my wife? I should be stomping around in a rage about her cell phone videos and furious she liked what I said about Brian. Instead my dick was on a hair-trigger erection alert. Every time I thought about those videos I felt blood flow and my penis swell.

We had sex the next night and I talked dirty to her again. She liked it even more than the first time. I got a little crazy as I approached orgasm and talked about Brian cumming inside her and she went really quiet and I thought I'd gone too far. The next moment she exploded in an intense climax that shook our room .

Every time we fucked that week I filled her head with crazy sex stories about fucking Brian. We'd laugh afterwards because he was so shy and I had him acting like a womanizing-stud. We felt guilty talking this way about our friend but that didn't stop us from doing it. This became our exciting new sex life; dirty stories about passionate taboo sex. During the day I'd think of new ideas and situations and at night I'd narrate them to my lovely wife while I fucked her and feel her go wet at my salacious suggestions.

Later, when Brian came over for basketball, he had no inkling of his new elevated status. We played it cool but I saw Tiffany checking him out every time he turned his back.

Weeks later I drove home from work on the same route I take every day and I stopped at a red light like always and looked out the passenger window like always and there stood the same huge blue building with the words Adult Store in giant black letters ten feet tall, same as every day. I looked away waiting for the light to change.

Tiffany drifted through my mind.

I hit my turn signal and pulled out of traffic. Minutes later I entered the stale air of the store for the first time ever. The glare of fluorescent lights made me squint as I scanned the shelves, amazed at every variety of human sexuality, and aimed for the back wall and the replica penises displayed there. I sorted through them quickly because I had specific criteria; what would Brian look like hard? I narrowed my choices down to three and then considered closely. All of them looked incredibly real and vibrated as well as moved up and down. In the end, I selected the biggest of the three. I picked up a few additional items on my way to the register and then paid and left. Tiffany would not know what hit her.

I was home before she and unwrapped and washed my new toy thoroughly. I found a gap between the head board and the mattress and hid my big new cock there. I tied the scarves I'd purchased and tucked them away and then hid the blindfold too.

My night with Tiff went as it always did and hours later we were ready for bed. I'd hinted all evening that sex was on my mind and that, combined with a million tiny touches and intimate gestures had Tiffany ready to go. As we lay in bed talking I reached for her and she was more than receptive. I kissed her all over, fanning the flames of her arousal, and she let me know how horny she was with her meaningful moans and groans. When my mouth arrived at her pussy she was sopping.

I teased her with my tongue until she was ready but always backed away from making her cum. I nibbled on her inner-thigh when she whispered, "Talk to me, Baby. Tell me dirty things again." Her eyes were closed as she savored my probing tongue. I knew what she was really asking for and it turned me on she wanted it. I kicked around a few ideas before settling on one. Yesterday she'd lay out to tan and worn one of her smallest bikini's. I circled her clit with my tongue several times before sucking hard and then speaking.

"Honey, I guess I should tell you Brian stopped by yesterday to borrow some money. You were tanning out back wearing that micro-bikini and he saw you."

I heard her inhale sharply and knew I'd touched a nerve.

"He froze, Baby. I acted like I had no idea and left him alone while I went for my wallet. I came back silently and watched him watch you. Honey, he rubbed the front of his pants while he stared."

I closed my mouth on her pussy and stirred her lips, causing her hips to move in slow circles. I sucked and was rewarded with a low moan.

"You made him hard, Tiff. I'm sure if I wasn't around he would have taken it out to stroke it. I'm not surprised he got stiff. I know he thinks you're hot."

I felt her body tense and her breathing slow. "He...he does?"

Her voice was hoarse with restrained excitement, like she tried desperately to sound calm and disinterested.

"He does. I see the way he looks at you. All my friends look at you like that. All of them have made comments over the years, even Brian. He said you should be a model."

She sighed.

“You want Brian looking at you because he's special. You enjoy his eyes on you best.”

I had already taken our sex-life farther than it had ever been and I still had much more to do. Tiffany writhed on our bed in anticipation. She breathed through her mouth and tilted her head constantly seeking every clue about what came next. I admired her bound for a moment and then grabbed my phone and snapped a few pictures. I moved to the bedroom door and pretended to speak with someone in hushed tones. I altered my voice to mimic Brian's as best I could. I shut the door firmly so she heard it and approached the bed and pulled out that big fake dick.

“Honey,” I began. “I hope you're not upset but I invited someone to join us.”

She said nothing but her hips started moving again and she bit her bottom lip. I was nervous. I worried any second she might get serious and tell me to untie her, that she might scold me for taking things too far. I stepped to the foot of the bed and looked down at her pussy. She was so wet her inner-lips actually glittered. I thought about telling her it was Brian or trying to impersonate him but my gut told me those were bad ideas. Instead, I stretched my hand out and nudged her pussy with the tip of the big penis. She gasped.

“This is so hot,” she muttered and I felt much better. At least she was into it.

I rubbed the tip up and down a few times to wet it but Tiff gushed juice. I could have shoved the whole thing in all at once and not hurt her. Still, teasing her with it was sexy fun so I played with her pussy, feeding her an inch before pulling back and circling her clit again. This dildo was so accurate it took very little imagination to visualize Brian about to fuck her. My penis began to rise.

I loved the way her hairy labia flowered to welcome the massive intrusion, like they were trying to wrap him in a huge bear-hug. She lifted her hips, eager to capture more of him, and this time I allowed it, feeding her an extra inch and then another. All the air left her lungs. She was so tight this was like pushing a flashlight into a tub of peanut butter; I had to use real strength to sink it deeper and with every inch I gave her, my wife moaned a little louder.

From the half-way point I sank it in pretty fast. When I pulled it back the thing gleamed with pussy juice and the next shove drove it in smoothly. Tiffany ground her teeth and growled about how good it felt. I pumped the cock in and out of my bound wife and marveled what it did to her. All her responses were intense and powerful. I stopped briefly to switch to my other hand and she whined, her voice low and breathy.

“Don't stop. I love your big cock. Fuck me, Brian.”

I froze. Her words were so soft and airy I was unsure what I'd heard.

She was impatient. “Fuck me, Brian,” she whimpered. “I need your big cock in me.”

I worked the toy and watched her body slowly tighten, headed towards orgasm. Her cunt dribbled juice and the shaft slid back and forth easily now. Her labia were swollen and her clit engorged to twice its usual size. The thick dildo opened her pussy wide and filled her completely. She started rocking her hips and I knew her orgasm had to be close. Normally getting her to cum took more than this. I pushed the cock all the way in and held it there briefly before doing it again. I felt the head press against her cervix and Tiffany groaned. I looked down I still had inches of cock left outside her body.

“Give it to me,” she gasped. I pressed more firmly and her back arched and her mouth dropped open as that huge cock eased deeper a fraction of an inch at a time. Where was she putting it?

“What the fuck?” she whimpered. “What the fuck... Oooooohhhh God... Yeah, more. More! Uuuugh, that's so goooooood. ”

I couldn't get over how strained and stuffed her pussy looked. I would have thought it hurt but she clearly loved it. I pushed the cock in deeper and her abs locked tight and she pulled hard on the straps that bound her.

“Oh, yeah, like that, like that, like thaaaaat!”

Her orgasm hit her like a train. I held the replica all the way in and she seemed to climax around it. Within the limits of her restraints, her body writhed and twisted, impaled on a fat vein-covered railroad-spike. Her tone arms and legs flexed and her stomach quivered before locking into place again. The head of this cock was deeper than her belly-button. The sight was too much and I started stroking my erection with my free hand.

“Oh, Brian, fuck meeeeeeeee!” she wailed.

Her use of his name excited me. Tiffany had a massive orgasm skewered on Brian's cock like a slab of hamburger. I moved the dildo in and out as she came, stimulating her ongoing climax, until she gradually returned to earth. I left it inside her as I climbed on the bed in a sixty-nine position and forced my penis into her mouth. She sucked instinctively and I started working the cock in and out again. She was still too sensitive and jerked hard trying to get away but I ignored her and pumped Brian in and out. I fucked her body at both ends and forced her to take it. She screamed in agony from that massive shaft rubbing her raw clit, but I just got harder. When I felt my sperm boiling, I drove Brian all the way in and held him against her cervix. She shrieked around my penis and I pushed harder.

“Take him, Honey,” I commanded. “Spread your legs and let Brian fuck you.”

My orgasm was only seconds away when something inside her loosened and Brian slid deep. Tiffany howled with pleasure and her hips involuntarily began to thrust rapidly and my pretty wife climaxed again only much more intensely. Her screams excited me and I jerked and the first bolt blasted her tongue. I filled her mouth with semen as Brian fucked her stretched and overwhelmed cunt. Her orgasm lasted much longer than mine. When we came down, neither moved at all. My penis deflated inside her mouth. At long last, I began to move.

An awkward silence filled the room. I tucked the huge cock under the bed and undid her straps. I lay next to her and untied the blindfold and pulled it away. She blinked her eyes clear and found my face. We'd crossed an unspoken line and a long uncomfortable moment drifted by. Finally, Tiffany spoke.

“He can never know,” she stated. “Never.”

I nodded. She was as worried about the things she'd said as I was about tying her up. I felt exposed and deviant.

“Did you like it?” I asked.

She pondered before answering. "I did. I liked best that you just did it without asking permission first. You surprised me. It was exciting. Did I upset you by making it about Brian like that?"

"Not at all, Baby."

We sheepishly kissed and touched for a minute and then Tiffany spoke.

"Can I see him? Can I see what you used on me?"

Embarrassed, I lifted the toy and showed her. Now it seemed obscenely big. I felt like such a pervert. What had I been thinking? She took it and held it up, examining the thick shaft and big head.

"It looks so real," she observed. "Why did you pick this one?"

"Because it looks like Brian," I answered.

She turned it in her hands, scrutinizing the beast once more.

"You're right, it does. Why did you want one that looked like Brian?"

I nervously chewed my lips. "Because we both saw him naked and that made everything real, and real made everything hotter."

"What do these do?" she asked, pointing to the buttons and knobs on the base.

I took Brian from her and clicked the first and a low hum filled our bedroom. She reached to touch it and the vibration made her smile. I clicked the other button and the top four inches began to piston up and down. I turned dials and the vibration grew stronger and the piston head moved faster.

"Good God," Tiff exclaimed. "I may never get out of bed."

"You are much more sexual than I thought," I said. "Why didn't I know that about you? Am I boring in bed?"

Her face fell. "Oh my God, no, Baby." Her hands came up to my face. "When we married I told myself to grow up, that I wasn't a dingy co-ed anymore. I wanted to be the best wife possible to you. We focused on our careers and success came really fast. You never talk about sex so I figured it wasn't really important to you. I wasn't trying to hide anything, Honey. I just thought I should leave the irresponsible party-girl behind. I love our sex life. It is passionate and intense. I'm satisfied. I never felt the need to add anything."

That made sense.

“All this new stuff is exciting but if you want to stop, I will. If you want to keep going with it, I'll do that too.”

“What do you prefer?”

She looked around our bedroom until her gaze fell on the monster cock in my hand.

“I prefer we keep exploring. These past weeks have been so intimate and trusting. I feel closer to you than ever before. We share a secret. That makes me feel connected.”

I leaned over her and we kissed; soft, tender, intimate. As the kiss trailed away I carefully moved Brian up between her legs and found her hole. She gasped as I pushed him in. I continued my loving kisses as I slowly pushed him deeper. I flicked the vibration on and started the piston head too. Tiffany moaned and sank into the mattress.

“Fuck that feels amazing. More.”

I expanded my kisses to her eyelids and throat, all while easing Brian deeper. I thumbed the dial and increased the vibration slightly and Tiffany arched her back and gripped the comforter. Her mouth hung open and her breathing was shallow. I lowered my mouth to her nipple and rolled it around. I moved back up to her ear and whispered, “Do you love Brian inside you?”

“Yeeees,” she exhaled. “I love Brian inside me.”

I determined to make her cum again. I sat back and ran my free hand all over her skin while raising the vibration and pumping head. I pushed him almost balls deep and then teased her clit with my tongue. The cock vibrated my lips too. When I sensed she was close, I gently forced more of him inside her. I knew the moment I found her cervix by the twisted look of intense pleasure on her face. I turned the dial up and held him there and moments later she ground her teeth and strangled a cry as her body went rigid and she once again climaxed all around his impaling shaft.

This time, I let her sleep.

From that day on our sex life was wildly different. We talked about fantasies and fears, insecurities and needs, desires and ideas. Sometimes our conversation flowed smoothly and sometimes it was halting and uncertain as each of us worked our way through our thoughts and feelings. What came out of it all was a sense of acceptance and a nurturing environment where ideas were shared without judgment.

We fell in love all over again, only this time I saw her for who she truly is. I learned her sex-drive was actually much stronger than I'd ever suspected and her conservative attire was something she did for me. When I suggested she dress more to her liking she gave me a wicked smile and warned me to be careful what I wished for. Our life had improved by magnitudes and we were happy and grateful.

One day my boss called me into his office and closed the door behind me. We small-talked for ten minutes or so and then he got to the point.

“Jon, we are expanding our offices to the Europe and I want you to be part of it. Your work is unimpeachable and your vision is second only to mine. There'd be a fat bonus in it for you as well as a hefty raise. Interested?”

“Of course, but what are the details?”

He pulled a chair up next to mine.

“I need you in London for sixteen weeks. Maybe only thirteen, but most likely sixteen.”

He continued with other details and half of my brain listened to him, but only half; the other half imagined Tiffany's reaction when I told her. Four months is a long time for a happily married couple to be apart. The money and prestige would be nice but one hundred twenty-four days is a big chunk of time. He went on and I asked lots of questions but a dread built in my gut. In the end I informed him I'd discuss it with my wife and sleep on it. We shook hands.

I got home before Tiff and had a large glass of red wine waiting for her. She kissed me, saw the glass, and sat at the dining table.

“What?” was all she said.

I told her everything.

She was silent a long time, thinking about every aspect of what the change might mean. I knew her well enough to leave her alone and let her calculate. At last she spoke.

“Do not sleep with anyone else.”

I smiled. “I love your mind,” I said, kissing her on top of the head. Like me, she'd factored everything in and concluded I had to go, but she'd done it ten times faster than me. She'd also made the leap to knowing I'd already reached that conclusion and was only waiting on her. She knew if she said no, I'd decline the offer, and knew that would be foolish. She'd sifted through all contingencies and possibilities and potential hazards and reached the one thing that could actually do us harm in the long-run.

“I mean it.”

“I know you do, and you know I won't.”

Our love-making that night was extra tender and intimate and she cried a little afterwards. We knew we'd miss each other horribly.

The next day I accepted the offer. From there things happened rapidly and ten days later I kissed Tiffany goodbye as I boarded an international flight to England. I was simultaneously excited and sorrowful.

My first week in London I slept rarely. Tiffany and I spoke when we could and emailed and text often. I was eight hours ahead of her so we had a communications window around her lunch-time and made full use of it.

At the start of the third week Tiffany mentioned how much she missed sex with me and I agreed, although truthfully I was so busy every minute I was awake I hardly had time to think about it. She brought it up again five days later and six days after that. I suggested she use the Brian-toy and she said she had been but lately that only made things worse.

“I need real cock,” she bluntly stated. We both laughed. She continued, “The toy feels amazing but there's so much more to sex than that. One of my favorite things is knowing a man is inside me. I just love it. I love your weight on me and your muscles and whiskers. I don't just need to be penetrated, I need to be fucked. Come home and take care of your wife, dammit!”

That night a demon crept into my head while I slept and whispered terrible things. I dreamed of Tiffany, head down and ass up, fucked slowly from behind by a large pulsing cock. I never saw the man's face but his swinging sack slapped my wife's clit repeatedly. She looked so sexy and happy and satisfied and it all felt so natural that I awoke comfortable with the idea of Tiff having sex with someone else. By lunchtime the idea had been ridiculed out of my head as idiotic and foolhardy and I mentioned nothing to my wife when we talked that day.

Three days later on our midday call she told me how work was going and some gossip about a few of her friends and I told her how fast my team accomplished their goals. It looked like my stay would be closer to thirteen weeks than sixteen and that made her happy. I told her we were all going out for drinks on Friday and she suggested maybe that was something she should do too.

“Just to vent some steam,” she said. “You know, catch a little buzz, laugh and hang out with friends, come home and crash. What do you think?”

I told her I thought the idea was excellent. “It has to be difficult all alone in that big house. Go spend time with friends so you miss me less.”

She said she'd think about it. Our conversation went on about more mundane things before we signed off with mutual I love yous.

I had another sex-dream that night; this time Tiffany was out with her friends and I watched from across the room, as invisible as a ghost. My wife and her friends had fun drinking and talking and occasionally dancing with each other. Then a tall skinny man approached her table and the next second they were on the floor dancing together and my wife wore the same white lingerie she wore on our honeymoon night. My heart beat faster and faster as they moved in rhythm and she stepped ever closer to him. He took her into his arms and after a moment they kissed and he raised a hand to her breast and caressed it and Tiffany melted and kissed him deep and hard.

I woke up, heart pounding and out of breath. His hands on her made my heart ache with longing. I took a second to realize under the covers, I was rock hard.

My head was a tumultuous mix of warring emotions and I sat there sorting through them as my breathing returned to normal. I was excited to see her dressed like that again and I was excited by him touching her. Although it was only a dream and therefore made no sense, part of me liked that she wore the same lingerie for him as she had for me and that baffled me. The sight of her filled me with yearning desire but so did the sight of him touching her. Most exciting of all was her reaction to his touch. She wanted it. She was hot for him and her lust on display like that set me aflame. I could not sort it all out so I gave up and lay back down to sleep. At work the next day I was slow and dull-witted.

I got back on track the day after as the dream faded from memory.

Friday arrived remarkably fast. When Tiffany and I spoke during the day she informed me she was indeed going out with friends that night and would text once she was back home safe so I wouldn't worry. My boys and I finished work and headed to the first of many pubs.

We drank and sang and they educated me on the finer points of English football. As our night wrapped up we all ate a heavy lamb dinner and headed for home. Although the sun would be up soon and I was exhausted, I felt antsy.

Once back at my hotel room, I watched the time and vaguely tracked Tiffany; now she's in the shower, now she's getting dressed, now she's at the club. I did not expect a text but I hoped for one. I sent her a few telling her to have fun but be safe and another telling her how much I loved her, but heard nothing back. I fell asleep on the floor, dreaming yet again of my gorgeous sexy wife dancing intimately with another man.

I awoke after a few hours and quickly checked my phone, but no message awaited me. As my morning wore on I grew increasingly nervous. I reminded myself she swore she'd never touch another man but that brought little comfort. I kept orange juice in the refrigerator and poured myself a large glass. My tongue felt swollen and fuzzy and my brain packed in sand. I had only taken my first sip when my phone buzzed and I snatched it up with lightning speed.

I read her message; having a blast. Dancing. Getting LOTS of attention. Boys can't be trusted.

I read it again and fired back, What are boys doing?

She responded quickly, Touching. Tired of slapping hands. Should not have worn this dress. May just go home.

I took a deep breath. I wanted her to have fun and I hated that obnoxious guys might ruin her good time, but I hesitated to grant her any kind of green light. I was thousands of miles away, after all. After a moment I felt selfish and petty and replied; stop worrying and just let yourself do whatever you want. We know it's all in fun. I'm not there to take care of you so I want you to be safe.

Her response took almost five minutes; WOW! You sure?

I tried to sound clever; Desperate times calls for desperate measures. We'll sort it out later. Text me when you're home and tell me everything.

Right away I got back; I LOVE YOU, and I knew Tiffany was seriously buzzed because she hates writing in all caps on her phone. I chuckled. Relief flooded me and I showered and dressed for breakfast in the hotel restaurant. I ate potatoes and bacon and wheat cakes and then staggered back to my room to sleep. I showered and fell into bed.

Six hours later I awoke and decided I was still sleepy and dozed another three hours. When I woke that time my brain was so sluggish I had finished my coffee before I thought to check my phone. I had a dozen messages from Tiffany. I opened the first and began reading, one after the other ;

Oh my God, Jon, you are amazing! I can't believe you said okay to this but you did and so I'm holding up my end of the bargain. I'm home now, safe and sound, and ready to tell you EVERYTHING. After your text I relaxed and let myself go, just like you said. Within a few hours the others from work started leaving until only Gina and Sara and I remained. We danced together and of course that attracted some guys, but this time I didn't chase them away. One guy went to Gina and one to Sara and one came to me. His name is Angelo and he's Latino and very handsome and a great dancer. The girls and I hung out with them the rest of the night. We danced and talked and drank and when it was time to leave I went for it like you said and told Angelo he could drive me home. He's sleeping right next to me in our bed as I write this! I can't believe it!

I re-read that last line again, and then again. I threw my phone away and it landed on the couch. What the hell! What the ever-loving fuck? I jumped over to my phone determined to call and scream at her. What the fuck was she thinking? Jealousy consumed me. I was wrapped in flames. I felt psychic pain all the way down to my skeleton. Tiff brought a guy home? To our bed? Why?

Before I called her I needed to know everything. I finished her message;

When we entered the house I put on music and fixed us drinks. I planned on a quick shower to wash off all the smoke from the club and then wrapping up in a bath robe, but that never happened. Angelo heard the water running and before I knew it he was in the shower too and hugging me from behind. I felt his cock pressed against my ass and he grew harder by the second. Baby, I don't know what came over me but I turned around and kissed him and then sank to my knees and sucked his cock. Fuck! It was so exciting! I sucked a long time, until he was ready to cum and our tank was out of hot water. We then moved to our bed. Honey, I was safe just like you requested, and we went through four condoms. What a stud! I felt so sexy and desired. This was such a good idea and exactly what I needed. I came so HARD! Thank you, Darling. You are so unselfish and giving. I'm exhausted now and Sara keeps calling so I'm going to text her I'm okay and turn my phone off. I LOVE YOU.

The time stamp said the last messages were only a couple hours old so I knew my wife still slept. I pictured our bedroom and our bed and her in it and Angelo sleeping next to her. Fuck! I wanted to claw my skull open and pour my brain out. Why had she done this? I went back through my messages to her looking for something that could be construed as, “Hey Honey, fuck someone else tonight,” and goddamn me if I didn't find it. I was hung-over when I wrote it and she was drunk when she read it, but it took little effort to see what she saw. Now I understood her WOW and her all capital letters. I'd missed it in the moment but I sure saw it now. I wanted to hate her but could not. Of course, she'd seen what she'd wanted to see, but I had a hand in this too.

I sat down on the floor right where I was. My wife had fucked another man tonight. I couldn't believe it. My heart felt like it bled inside my chest and gravity was a hundred times stronger. I wanted to wail. I grasped at mental straws and was disproportionately pleased she'd used condoms; to hell with that guy; he hadn't fucked my wife. Not really. Not truly. I feel her skin on skin. His penis never actually touched her insides. I was one up on him just like a husband should be.

For the next hour my mind threw images at me and then battled those images. I was drained of every emotion as I wrestled with myself. I saw snapshots of her sucking his cock and him eating her pussy. I saw them kissing. I saw them hugging. I saw him fucking her from behind. I saw her face twisted in orgasm while his cock moved in and out and I groaned and doubled over. That one got me. That one crushed me with blistering agony. My gorgeous Tiffany crying out as Angelo ripped a hard climax from her. Shit. I ran all these thoughts and pictures through my head again and again until I believed I would vomit.

Eventually I sat up and reread her texts. My hands shook as I thumbed through the pages. At the end I read them all again and then again. Questions began creeping in and I made myself sick wondering how big he was. At first I pictured him tiny but as time passed I had to admit he wasn't. I knew he wasn't. Tiffany said she came HARD. No way was he small and producing that reaction. I knew he was big and as time passed I began to suspect he was bigger than me and for some twisted reason my penis twitched and grew. Really? At a time like this? I was disgusted with myself.

I was reading her texts yet again when a realization exploded in my mind; I was eight hours ahead of her. They were still in bed, right now, at this moment.

They could be fucking again.

I grabbed my phone and dialed and as I suspected, the call went straight to voice mail. The more I thought about it the more obsessed I became until I knew, I knew with absolute certainty that they were fucking again at this very moment. I grabbed a pillow from the couch and beat a chair with it. I saw Tiffany's beautiful face floating in the air before me, her brow furrowed as she bit her bottom lip and looked over her shoulder at Angelo, pounding away behind her.

I threw the pillow across the room and beat the chair with my fists.

I went on like that for almost two hours; my emotional roller-coaster took me down and then up and then down again, over and over. In the end, the hotel room was a mess and I was utterly drained and devoid of any emotion. I turned on the television and stared at it. For two hours I watched a farmer clear rocks from a field and try to teach me how to do it too. When my phone rang my hand moved towards it slowly.

My voice was leaden. "Hello."

"Hi, Baby," Tiffany said, her voice deeper than usual and completely relaxed. "How are you? What are you doing?"

I snapped out of it. "I'm good," I lied. "Just watching television. How are you?"

In the background I heard a deep male voice mumble. My heart froze.

"I'm really good," she answered. "I wanted to hear your voice. This has been a wild night and I miss you terribly. "

"He's still there?"

"Yes."

"Can he hear you?"

"Yes."

"Are you guys still...naked?"

"Yes, Jon. You sound funny. Are you having second thoughts?"

And third and fourth and fifth.

“No,” I lied again. “Just trying to picture everything. I'm exhausted. I drank way too much last night.”

She giggled. “Me too, but otherwise there was no way I could do this. Did I give you enough detail? Is there anything else you want to know?”

My traitorous balls tingled and my back-stabbing mouth spoke.

“How big is he?”

I felt betrayed. I had no intention of asking that. Parts of me seemed to have a mind of their own. I knew my question seemed to indicate acceptance and compliance on my part and I wasn't fully ready for that, but my mind and my mouth seemed to have their own agenda.

“Pretty big, Baby. Bigger than you.” She was tired but I still caught the excitement in her voice. My penis twitched. My heart sped up. I needed to share how upset I was but no part of me cooperated. Instead, again, my mouth forged ahead.

“Your messages were sent hours ago, Tiffany. Have you fucked him since?”

I heard rustling bed sheets and Tiffany move the phone, followed by gently exhaling.

“I'm fucking him now, Baby.”

My dick started to grow.

This was wrong: I am hurt. I am angry. Why is so much of me willing to ignore these facts? I heard a moan and realized it came from me.

Tiffany heard it too. “I guess that means you like it,” she teased.

I could not make my tongue work. I was unable to form words. My mouth was dry as dust and I needed to fill my lungs with air, but I couldn't. He was in her right now. Mustering all my will power I forced out a single word question.

“Condom?” I croaked.

“We're out. He's reusing one from earlier. I know that's risky. I'm sorry. I'll send him home after this. It keeps sliding off. Should we stop?” she whimpered.

He did something to her that made my wife inhale sharply.

My double-crossing dick surged and my turn-coat mouth spoke again against my will. I danced to deeper urges. I was driven by an unknown need and propelled by wants and lusts well below my conscious mind.

“No,” I rasped, and a teardrop of semen formed on the slit of my dick, oozing up and out from my agitated testicles. I have never been so turned on as I was at that moment and I couldn't even fully explain why. Now I was drunk on lust and craving more. I pictured the scene in our bedroom perfectly. In my mind I saw the baggy used condom clinging to his erection as he moved in and out of her. I saw Tiffany talking to me on the phone as he gazed down at this gorgeous prize of a woman beneath him. I knew what he wanted and I knew she wanted it too.

“Take it off.” My voice was strained and tight. I felt her tension skyrocket.

“Bare? Baby? Are you sure?”

“Yes. Let him feel you.”

Tiffany exhaled into the phone and groaned. “That's so hot, Jon. I'll tell him now.”

I heard more rustling and a rubber-band snap and then, faintly, Tiff tell him to go ahead. Her mouth was away from the phone but there was no mistaking her moan as his bare-naked cock sank home. He was bigger than me and he now filled my wife's tight pussy. I heard grunts and gasps and then a blanket or pillow rub rhythmically against the phone. Sounds can be almost as exciting as sights. I strained to hear everything and caught Tiff telling him how good his big cock felt and encouraging him to fuck her. Tiffany returned to me after a moment but that moment felt like years.

“Ungh, he's in me, Baby. He's, mmm, fuck, he's fucking me. He's fucking your wife, just like you wanted, his cock bare. I can't believe it. Uuuunnnggh. I can't believe we really did it.”

“Open your legs, slut,” I told her, and heard her pant. “Tell him to push it in. I want him as deep as possible. I know what you like. Hang up on me and fuck him. Grab his ass with both hands and pull his big cock all the way up inside you. Do you hear me, Tiffany? As your husband I'm ordering you to fuck him. Do you understand?”

“Yes!” she wheezed. “Oh, fuck, Jon! Oh my God! I love you, Baby! I'll do it.”

I heard a beep as she tried to hang up but missed and dropped the phone on the bed. I listened as Angelo fucked my wife hard. He drove her higher and higher until every sound from her mouth was a cry of pleasure and want. I heard his deep growls and grunts woven in with hers and I bathed in the animalistic chorus of their fevered mating. He fucked her for real now and I knew what that would do to Tiff.

When she screamed in climax minutes later I grabbed my penis and furiously started beating off. I prayed they would leave the phone on until I heard him cum too and they did. Tiffany begged him to fuck her. In the back of my mind I hoped she'd tell him to pull out like I always did, but she didn't. She enticed him, offering him her tits and goading him, telling him how badly she wanted what his balls carried. In this moment she was single and had brought home a hot guy from the club. This was pure irresponsible passion. This was the raging excitement of fucking someone new. He held out as long as he could but with a lion's roar I heard him ejaculate again and again and inseminate my lovely wife.

Only when I heard him squeeze the very last drop inside her did I allow myself to cum. The room spun and the floor tilted as my hot jizz blasted out of me like artillery. I cried out and I know they heard it and I cried out again. I couldn't stop it. My semen felt white-hot as it shot in ropes across the room.

Silence descended on all of us.

The line went dead.

I sank to the floor in front of the television. Tingly waves of pleasure raced all over me. I'd never climaxed like that before and I wanted to laugh with joy. Muscles still twitched down my arms and legs. The arch of my right foot cramped. My balls felt like they were on fire. I held myself still, closed my eyes, and absorbed every sensation.

I did not hear from Tiffany again all day.

Eventually I pulled myself up and had some very late breakfast and lots of coffee. Every few minutes I remembered anew what we'd done. Half a world away my wife lay in our home, in our bed, leaking stranger's sperm. I swear I've never experienced such a wide range of emotions in such a short period of time. I swung between elation and lust and regret and sadness. I worried we'd destroyed something precious and then blissfully embraced our bold act. I went from absolutely convinced we could never do such a thing again to elated we'd discovered something totally new about ourselves.

It was exhausting.

As more time passed, I found myself feeling arousal above all else. We'd ripped the top off Pandora's box and I knew there was a long and intense conversation in our future, but for right now I was giddy with decadent lust. I masturbated five times before bed. I also called Tiff twice and sent four texts but heard nothing back.

Late Sunday morning my phone rang and we talked at length about every boring and routine thing, almost as if nothing had happened. We both put it off as long as we could but eventually the topic arose and I learned Angelo fucked her again before leaving Saturday night, filling my wife with sperm a second time.

She asked me a million times if I was okay and I assured her I was. When I mentioned I'd jacked off listening to them she got very excited. When I told her I came as I heard Angelo pour himself into her, she reached for her pussy and began masturbating, asking for every detail. I told her. I told her what the night was like for me and every thought and emotion I felt as it happened. She made me go back over some parts and asked tons of questions about other parts. She was incredibly aroused by the fact I listened in and did not hang up.

“You listened to me getting fucked! That blows me away, Baby. I think that's a really big deal. It tells me so much. You didn't hang up and you didn't get angry. You listened and it made you cum. I thought you'd be crushed or furious. I feel like a porn star! I wish I had taken video. I'd send it to you to watch and jack off again. Fuck, this is really hot, Honey. I can't believe we're really doing it.”

She fell silent for a minute and I knew she was thinking.

“Jon, why did you have him remove the condom?”

For a second I feared she was upset I'd put her at risk but something in her voice told me that wasn't it.

“I imagined I was him,” I began. “I saw you lying before me, legs spread, wet pussy open and waiting. Here was this gorgeous woman giving herself to me. I knew he'd want to feel you envelope him. I would. I knew you wanted it too. You wanted nothing between you and him. You wanted to fuck him for real. My request was the only reason he wore one at all. I just decided to remove myself from your moment with him.”

I heard her breathing slowly.

“You're amazing. You're the most amazing husband ever. I want you to know I told him it was a one-time thing. He understood. I didn't ask but I think he might have a girlfriend. Angelo was a living breathing dildo and I got what I needed from him but I won't need it again.”

“Nine more weeks, Honey. Maybe more. That's a long time.”

She giggled. “Are you telling me to do it again?”

I had “No” on my lips, ready to go, but I never said it.

One second stretched into two, and then three.

“Oh,” she murmured. “It's like that.”

I needed to say something. Tiffany made a lot of assumptions from my silence and I needed to explain. She spoke again before I could.

“From your silence I'm guessing you want me to do it again but can't bring yourself to actually say the words. I understand. Holy shit my heart is racing. You need to say something, Jon. This is wild stuff we're talking about here. Is anyone off-limits? What does your gut say?”

“No friends. I want this hidden. What do Sara and Gina know?”

“Sara knows everything. Gina thinks Angelo dropped me off. No one else knows anything. Sara can be trusted.”

We were calmly negotiating my wife's infidelity.

I tried to swallow, couldn't, spoke anyway. “You mentioned video.”

I heard her whisper, “Oh my God,” before clearing her throat and speaking.

“Yes, Baby, I'll send you video if that's what you want. Is it?”

There are moments in your life where everything stops and seems frozen in time. I sensed an affirmative answer would send us careening down a path we knew nothing about but promised intense excitement and erotic adventure. There were risks and dangers too, but the draw of that path ate me alive. Without fully understanding what I agreed to but irresistibly drawn in that direction, I spoke.

“Yes.”

“Oh my God!” Tiffany exclaimed.

My heart hammered inside my chest. Both our minds raced. Tiffany spoke first.

“I need to call Sara.”

“Okay, Honey. I love you.”

“My sweet husband, I love you madly. Fear nothing, Baby. Trust me.”

We said a few more sweet-nothings and ended our call.

I wandered over to the bed and flopped onto my back, staring at the wood beam ceiling. I tried rationalizing what we had done. I told myself I was kind and loving to allow her this; I was so far away and would be a long time. I comforted myself with my selfless act. I told myself how admirable I was. There was some truth in all that, but that's not why I did it. I did it because the idea of my wife fucking someone else made me rock hard. I did not understand why but in just a short time we'd moved from catching a friend naked to sending Tiffany out into the night seeking new cock. I wondered if I'd gone insane and did not know it. Do crazy people know they're crazy? Probably not. Great.

Erik from work called and for the next several hours I was distracted by the project he worked on. We solved some problems that had stumped him and made plans to go over everything Monday morning. By the time we finished it was late so I sent Tiffany a good night text and hit the shower. She'd not responded by the time I was ready for bed so I called it a night.

The next day passed slowly and I realized I waited for Tiffany to drop a bomb. She didn't. Or the next day either. In fact, days and days passed and our lunch-time conversation was completely normal. Perhaps she digested our previous conversation or perhaps she had mixed feelings about it. Regardless, everything was as it was before. We laughed and shared love as always.

Four weeks sailed by.

I sat in the Parliament Square Garden, enjoying a sandwich in the shadow of Winston and feeding the crumbs to the birds, when my phone chimed. I opened it and discovered a message forwarded to me by Tiff which some guy named Cliff Evans had sent to her. It was a single photo of a soft but hefty cock with a single word caption; Sufficient? It took me a moment to realize he had sent it to her with that caption and she was merely sending it along to me.

But who the fuck was Cliff Evans?

I tapped the picture and spread my fingers to enlarge it, zooming in on this foreign interloper. Cliff had sent this to my wife as enticement. I had trouble with perspective until I saw his thumb at the corner of the frame. Cliff had a big dick. Cliff had a really big dick. His legs were hairy but he'd shaved his balls and all around his shaft. He looked clean and smooth and thick and long. The head was a perfect fireman's helmet of pink flesh and the column of meat had faint blue veins under the skin. It looked powerful and intimidating, like life itself surged through his blood vessels.

I was gazing at it when my phone chimed again. Tiff had forwarded me her reply; Beautiful. Remind me to thank Sara.

I contemplated a text to Tiff when I received one directly from her.

"What do you think?" she asked.

"Big," I replied.

"Should I?"

Adrenaline shot through me. Could I so deliberately tell my wife to fuck another man? Angelo was spontaneous and I got caught-up in the heated moment. This was an objective calculation. Uncertainty spread from my heart outward. I considered many responses but eventually sent back a tepid, "I don't know. What do you think?"

Five minutes passed before she replied. "I'll just meet him for coffee first."

A strange sense of relief flooded me. I finished my sandwich.

Three hours later I regretted our hesitation. Tiffany was all alone and I still had weeks to go. I looked at that picture of his cock again and again and soon all I thought about was that beast easing into Tiff and the sounds she'd make and the things she'd feel. I was afraid at the same time I was aroused. Confused, I completely bailed on any responsibility and sent Tiffany a text stating I left the decision up to her. She replied she'd already met him for coffee and he was an arrogant asshole and she'd rather fuck her brother.

"Guess it will be me and the Toy tonight," she joked.

Over the next few weeks Wild Sara introduced Tiff to a few more ex-boyfriends. Tiffany felt no connection with any of them. She said they were handsome and Sara made sure they were hung but zero chemistry meant Tiffany would not touch them. As my return drew closer, we lost interest in this sexual game. Our desire grew exponentially until, with two weeks to go, all we wanted or thought about was each other.

Tiffany met me at the airport on a Friday. We kissed and cried with joy for twenty minutes before heading for baggage claim. Tiff sucked me as I drove and we ran directly to the bedroom. I undressed her and discovered her pussy was now perfectly smooth and hairless. She saw me looking at it.

"I did it for Angelo that night and liked it. Do you like it, Baby?"

My wife had shaved her pussy for another man and I found that incredibly arousing.

"I love it, Tiff."

"It's sexy, right? Look how well you can see everything now. I have greater sensitivity bald so I just kept it that way."

We made love for hours.

I awoke around three in the morning to a silent house. Tiffany lay nude on top of the covers. I slipped from bed and used the restroom and gazed at her nude upon my return.

God was she ever beautiful.

From her delicate feet to her long, tousled, brown hair, my wife was the epitome of feminine grace and loveliness. Her medium breasts were mashed against a pillow and her round ass curved into the small of her back. I stepped back and took it all in.

Angelo had fucked her in this very bed.

My eyes went to her tiny hairless slit as heat rose in me. I replayed the sounds from that night in my mind, like I had a million times already, and tried to imagine where she was when he touched her. I pictured her head off the edge of the bed and her legs over his shoulders. I pictured her face in my pillow and her hips high in the air, offering him her dripping cunt. He'd fucked her all night and cum inside her twice. If my penis wasn't already exhausted, I'd fuck her again right now.

I spooned her and fell back asleep.

Over the next few weeks I'd say things returned to normal, and to anyone outside looking in they certainly seemed to, but Tiff and I knew differently. We had a secret. Everywhere we went, every minute of the day, we knew what we had done, and it changed us. It changed us for the better. Her bald pussy was just one sign of the subtle changes she'd made. She showed more skin now when she dressed. She rarely wore a bra but now one or two extra buttons undone displayed deeper cleavage. Our friends commented how close we'd become. Tiff's girlfriends told her we seemed so intimate now and asked what had changed. We told no one and Sara kept her mouth shut, just like Tiff said she would.

When Brian came to visit Tiffany looked at him like he was filet mignon. I made a face at her and she smothered a laugh but mostly behaved herself. He had no idea. Even after she changed into a light house dress which exposed a generous amount of leg and breast. She behaved herself but the game was on. From that day forward my wife showed more skin whenever Brian came over.

Saturday night Tiff and I were at our favorite steakhouse, Lawry's, when Tiff made an exclamation and abruptly looked down at her hands. I asked what was wrong but she just shook her head. I waited a full minute as other guest walked by our table and then she leaned in to whisper.

“That's Cliff; tall, grey hair, suit.”

I casually scanned the restaurant and found him. He and a male friend sat at the bar sipping drinks and watching a basketball game on the big screen. I studied him; cocky tilt of his head, pretentious laughter loud enough we all heard and then he glances around to see who's listening to him. Every gesture is affected and posed. I understood why Tiff stayed away. When he rose to use the restroom, I stood too.

“What are you doing?” Tiffany asked.

“Surveilling the enemy. Relax. He knows you but he doesn't know me.”

I kissed the top of her head and cut across the restaurant ignoring him so I was in the men's room first. I picked the wall urinal at the end and waited. He came in and checked himself in the mirror first. I was surprised to see his age up close. I'd guess him around fifty-five but I had to admit he looked great. He left the sink area and approached me, pulling down his zipper well in advance. He pulled his cock out the hole in front and gave me a quick jerk of his chin in greeting. He held his enormous dick in hand as he approached the toilet.

“What's up, Bra?” he said.

God, I hated him.

He released a fire hose stream. He sounded like a horse urinating. I risked a quick glance over the little wall that separated us and stifled a cough. His cock was massive! He held it with both hands and his fingers did not reach all the way around. This was an elephant's trunk, a flesh colored torpedo. He looked so much bigger in real life I doubted that cell phone picture had actually been him. The weight of it pulled his pants down and forward.

I finished first and zipped up, stopping to wash my hands. He used the sink next to mine and made a comment about the Raiders moving to Las Vegas and I said something stupid back and exited.

Outside the restroom I aimed for the bar where Tiff couldn't see me and ordered a shot of Jack. I was shaken. Not because I was jealous or intimidated, but because I wanted to see that monster cock fuck my wife. Tiffany disliked this man and that was that but my reaction was unplanned, irresistible, and irrefutable. I needed to collect myself before I returned to our table. I downed the whiskey and dropped some cash and headed for Tiff. As I rounded the corner, Cliff was at our table talking to her. I veered off behind a pillar and circled back around to the bar, this time standing where I could see them but they couldn't see me. Not very well, anyway.

Their conversation seemed intense and Tiffany appeared to scold him. He listened earnestly, nodding his head, chastised, then reached across the table and placed his hand on top of hers. She melted. She continued talking to him, her face much softer now, and after several minutes managed a smile. Cliff gestured at the dishes on the table and I have no idea what elaborate story Tiffany told him but he leaned back in my chair and relaxed. I held back, playing along, allowing my wife to enjoy his company now that she apparently liked him again.

They spoke at length and I had a second and a third tumbler. The nature of their conversation seemed to be an airing of grievances, all from Tiffany, and Cliff adopting a conciliatory tone. After twenty or thirty minutes he excused himself to check on his friend, kissing the back of her hand before leaving.

In a flash Tiffany was on her cell phone. My phone buzzed and I read her text.

OMG, Jon, Cliff saw me and we're talking. I told him I was at dinner with my husband but you got called away by work so I finished the meal without you. Where did you go???

I text back, Watching.

Her head came up and she scanned the restaurant but I hid.

She text, What do I do?

I replied, What do you want ?

I knew the answer already but wanted to hear her admit it. My hands trembled. This was such a rush. I'd seen him up close and knew what he'd do to her. I was shocked by how badly I wanted that huge cock fucking her.

I saw her type and then I received her answer, Him.

My hands shook so much I struggled to type. Use our bed again.

I hit send and watched Tiffany's face as she read it. Her shoulders tensed and her lips parted. She unconsciously drew her knees closed. I bet she was soaked. Tonight she wore a deep green stretch-cotton dress that hugged her body all the way to her knees. I knew Cliff would be taking it off of her within an hour.

Cliff returned to the table and I was torn between watching them and possibly racing home to find a hiding spot. I had no idea how much longer they'd sit and talk. I could be trapped in a cramped closet for hours. The choice was made for me when Cliff signaled a waiter over and handed him a credit card. Such a gentleman. He paid for our meal. I slipped along the wall and out to the parking lot, and then drove home like a maniac.

This plan had more holes than Swiss cheese. If I hid in the bedroom they might fuck in the living room. If I hid in the living room, I'd have to sneak through my own house to find them and risk getting caught. I took a breath. I'd told her to use our bed again so I had to trust that's what she'd do. I made room in our closet by lifting a ton of her clothing out and hanging it in the guest room closet. I came back and tested my new hiding spot. I had a view of our bedroom and part of the master bath. I went back to watch the street through the living room windows and when his Camaro pulled up to the curb I got ready to run.

They sat and talked for several minutes and I wondered if any neighbors noticed. The street light allowed me to see shapes and movement and I was stunned when I saw them kiss. Anyone could see them! They made-out for a while and then Tiffany slowly lowered her head to his lap. This was outrageous! I scanned all the homes around us and saw nobody but I couldn't be sure. Tiff's head rose and fell but only an inch or two and I knew it was because his thickness prevented her taking much. I desperately wished I had more light. I wanted to see everything. Of course, I'd have a lot of explaining to do around the neighborhood so darkness was best.

I rubbed the front of my pants watching Tiff's brown hair bob up and down. I remembered his monster cock vividly, both from the picture and the men's room, and it excited me to know that pink head was now in my wife's mouth and swabbed by her tongue. Tiff worked on him for a long while and I kept expecting any second they'd leave the car for our home, but they didn't. Soon I saw Tiff's head jerk a few times and Cliff hold her steady and I knew at that moment he ejaculated into her mouth.

When he finished they talked a little longer and then Tiff got out and headed for the front door. Once she opened it, Cliff pulled away from the curb. She stepped inside and shut the door. I stepped out of the shadows, pants tented, showing her my palms.

"What happened?" I asked.

She noticed my tent and smiled.

“He has a date for tonight with a boss's daughter. He had to go.”

“You sucked his cock.”

Tiff crossed the distance between us and kissed me deeply and I tasted sperm. She pulled back.

“No,” she said in a sexy voice, “I didn't suck his cock. I sucked the most amazing, perfect, gorgeous piece of meat attached to any man on earth. God, Honey! I loved his cock. LOVED it. It weighed eight pounds and radiated heat like the sun. He gets hard as steel. It's beautiful and I'm going to fuck him some day, but first I need you to fuck me right now.”

We never made it to the bedroom. I fucked her right there on the living room floor and afterwards covered us with the throw from the sofa. She went on and on about how sexy and powerful he is but mostly she raved about his huge cock. On our way to the shower she saw my hiding place and stopped.

“You would have hidden in the closet and watched him fuck me?”

“Yes.”

She stepped inside and closed the door, gazing through the shutters. She opened the door and kissed me; soft, wet, warm, slippery lips, slimy tongue, salty tang.

“Jesus, Jon, that's wild. How could you stand it? I'd be right there.” She pointed at our bed. “Wouldn't you lose your mind?”

“I didn't think that far ahead. I was just dying to see it.”

She kissed me again. “Fuck that's hot. You'd seriously watch him fuck me? That's kinky.” She kissed me again and reached for my penis and I loved the way he'd marked my wife's mouth.

“His cock makes me weak in the knees, Jon. I'm going to fuck him. I no longer care that he's an arrogant asshole. With a cock like that he has every right to be. The count-down clock has started and it is only a matter of time. You know that, right?”

I nodded slowly.

“And you're fine with that?”

I nodded again.

“Should we talk about this? Do we need some rules or boundaries?”

I answered instinctively. “No. Just let it happen. So far we've handled everything fantastically well by just doing what feels right. Why mess with it? We're closer and more intimate now than we've ever been.”

Shivers ran up and down her. Her nipples rose to hard points. I knew exactly what she thought about. She took my hand and we hit the shower.

The days ticked off slowly as I waited for Tiff to announce today was the day. I felt a little reckless at my rejection of her rules conversation and part of me wanted to revisit it. Maybe boundaries would be a good thing. Maybe I should protect myself with a few rules. I never said anything though. Another part of me wanted to see how far Tiffany would go if I left everything up to her. Wednesday night I found out. After dinner we took a walk around the dog park. We were ten minutes in when Tiff spoke up .

“So, I have some things to tell you.”

I stopped for a moment but she took my elbow and kept walking.

“Not like that, Baby; good things. Important things.”

We walked a little while in silence and then she continued.

“Before our recent...escapades... we rarely discussed sex. Our focus was on our careers and we both kicked ass. When we had sex it was intense but we never made it a priority. We had other more important things.”

“I completely agree.”

“Then that day with Brian kind of started something for us. We saw him naked and it triggered events. We began to play and before I knew it we were saying and doing some really wild things. I learned you are a voyeur. You learned I'm a size-queen. I learned you are far more adventurous than I'd imagined. You learned I'm an exhibitionist and I especially love sex with a new partner. The point is we've come to know each other so much better in such a short time. We're closer than ever before. I really, really love it, Jon. I mean it.”

“I'm with you, Baby. This new phase of our life has been awesome.”

We turned a corner and headed up a hill. On the downward slope she continued.

“I have fantasies now. I did when I was younger but I pushed them away. Good girls do not think about such things. All this has brought them back and now they have a constant presence. I think about sex a lot.”

I took her hand as we walked.

“I want to act on some of them,” she stated. “With you, of course, and if you say no I'll totally understand. But like you've said, this is the best we've ever been. I think we got here by allowing each other to be themselves. Let's keep going.”

I watched a black Lab chase a tennis ball. I sensed here was another pivotal moment for us. There'd been so many lately. So far I'd always jumped in with both feet so why stop now?

“Okay, Honey, I'm in. Let's hear them. I won't judge. ”

She stopped and threw her arms around my neck, squeezing hard.

“I love you so much!” she growled.

We hugged and kissed and then started walking again.

“I want to be a prostitute,” she blurted. “I want to be forced. I want a stranger to want me so much he loses control and risks everything. I want to be a stripper. I want a threesome with two men and neither of them is you. I want a huge terrifying black guy to fuck me. I want to attend an orgy where everyone fucks everyone and I want a gang of men to hold me down and fuck every hole until I am running with cum.”

“Go on.”

She watched the lab trot back with the ball.

“I want us to suck cock together and once it's hard, I want you to guide it into me.”

“Wow.”

“Yeah.”

“More?”

“No. That's all for now.”

“That's an impressive list, Tiff, but there's nothing on it that freaks me out. I'm not too sure about sucking a cock with you but everything else is a definite yes.”

She laughed. “I'm not saying I want to work our way through the list. I'm saying those are the thoughts that fill my head now. When I say act on them I guess I'm really saying stop suppressing them. I want to feel like I'm accepted for the sexual person I am. I think about sex all day long, Baby. These days my mind roams unfettered and every fantasy I've ever had pops up. It's wonderful but a little scary. Are we being fools? Will this come back to haunt us?”

“My gut tells me no, as long as we always communicate our needs. Always be honest.”

“Always honest,” she repeated.

She led me off the path and we sat under an African Sumac tree. The lab had been joined by another and raced to the ball each time it was thrown. She took my hand.

“I feel us entering a new era, Baby. I'm a little frightened but mostly I'm excited. Who knew? We are one of those couples that have an exciting private life. I feel invigorated.”

“Me too. I look forward to whatever comes next. I never knew these things about myself or about you and this feels so much richer and more honest.”

We sat a while and talked as thoughts or concerns popped into our head but we stayed away from regulating ourselves. As the sun set we headed for home. We'd gone ten feet when her phone buzzed. She checked it and smiled.

“Cliff asks if I can get away and meet him at the Motel Six by the airport.”

My body temperature shot up.

“Are you out of town again?” she teased.

I thought about my wife in bed with him and I wanted it as much as I dreaded it. Her eyes were lit with a wild light and I knew it wasn't for me. She held her breath hoping I'd say go ahead. We'd just discussed this and the irony stabbed me.

“I am out of town so use our bed instead of the motel. I never put your clothing back so my spot is ready for me.”

Her eyes grew big.

“Oh fuck,” she whispered. “We're really going to do this.”

“Yup.”

She texts him back and grinned when he responded right away. “Like he's waiting by his phone,” she gloated. She fired off a text to Sara asking if there was anything she should know about Cliff before she slept with him and Sara went nuts, blasting Tiff with a million questions and demanding promises to share every detail. Sara also asked if I knew and when Tiff said yes Sara asked how I took it. Tiffany looked me up and down before responding.

“Nervous, excited, nauseated, aroused, frightened... Trying hard to appear cool about it but his wife is about to fuck a hung stud and he both wants it to happen and dreads that it will. I'll text you after and let you know how he took it.”

She let me read it before tapping send. She was right; we both wanted this. But this was no simple thing we did. She took my hand and headed for home a little faster than before.

“Hurry, Baby, we have to get you hidden before he gets there and I want to shower. ”

Thirty minutes later she stepped from the shower freshly shaved and squeaky clean. I reached for her beautiful pussy but she blocked my hand.

“That's for him,” she scolded. I don't know why but I liked that she did it.

She plucked a super-sheer white lacy teddy from the closet and dropped it over her head. It ended an inch before her butt did, the hem level with her pussy. She dabbed my favorite perfume behind her ears and several inches below her belly-button and gave me a wicked smile. She left her hair down and wild.

She held my hand as we walked to my hiding place and gave me a peck on the lips before gently shoving me back into the closet. She shut the door.

“Can you see?”

“Yes,” I muttered.

“Did you use the restroom? I have no idea how long he will last.”

I marveled at her outward calm and organized thinking. She wanted this so badly she planned ahead so nothing spoiled it. Who was this woman?

I said I had as our doorbell sounded. A flash of nerves swept across her face and she looked down at her virtually nude body. Her eyes jumped up to mine.

“This is madness,” she panted.

I closed the door.

Her footsteps left and I heard the front door open. Muffled voices followed by silence and then more silence and I feared they'd attacked each other right there in the living room. Seconds felt like hours. I heard movement and held my breath and through the slats saw Cliff walk by carrying Tiff in his arms like a baby. He'd undressed in the other room and his heavy cock swung below her with each step. The first few inches were already wet and I knew the previous silence was due to my wife immediately dropping to her knees to fellate him.

I thought the phone-sex had prepared me. I thought I was ready for a repeat of that erotic encounter only this time with visuals. I'd heard my wife fucked and been told every juicy detail so I believed I was ready for what was about to happen.

I absolutely was not.

Less than six feet from me he laid my wife on our bed. Tiff quickly spun around and vacuumed his fat cock into her mouth and he pet her hair as she worked hard to pleasure him. His huge snake in her mouth was devastating. Hearing sounds coming over a phone and using your own imagination to fill in the blanks has a built-in buffer; you only imagine those things you want to see. I did not understand this when Tiff went to work on his dick. I saw for myself how much she loved it. I denied it at first but had to face the truth; she loved his cock more than mine. She loved me and she loved his cock.

He filled with blood as she licked and sucked, swabbing his inches with a sloppy dripping tongue. Her small hands stroked him ever more erect and he rose like a mastodon's tusk. He gently pets her head, stroking her long hair and gazing at the tight little body stretched out before him. He cupped her firm ass and slipped a finger under.

"Already soaked," he quietly boasted and Tiff moaned in appreciation.

He took his shaft away from her and my wife brought her mouth up under his large scrotum. She suckled his balls as he draped his cock across her face. It reached well beyond her ear.

When she returned her mouth to the head she paused and squeezed the tip. A clear drop of pre-cum welled up and she touched the tip of her tongue to it, and then pulled back, drawing a fine spider-web bridge connecting them.

"Suck it out and swallow it," he instructed and my wife obeyed. She was a different woman with him. He allowed her to suck his cock until she needed him to fuck her. I think it was an ego-boost for him, like he compared how long each new woman could hold out before begging for it. I wondered how my wife measured up and felt certain she'd not lasted long. Once he was hard and throbbing she sat up and pulled the lingerie off over her head. Next she stretched out with her feet outside his thighs and opened her legs wide enough her bald labia parted too. Her inner lips blossomed for him. She kept her eyes on his erection and her expression twisted my guts with agony.

"You like that?" Cliff asked.

She nodded. "It's beautiful," she breathed. "I love them anyway but yours is especially attractive."

“Condom?” he asked.

“Not for you.”

He moved closer, knees against the edge of the bed.

“You put it in,” he ordered and my wife reached up and gripped him firmly. He bent a little more and Tiff rubbed his head around, searching for her hole. She quickly realized the head covered her entire pussy.

“Yeah,” she murmured. “Right there.”

She pulled him forward and the head split her lips. She was so wet I heard the sloppy sounds from here. She tugged again and half an inch shoved her open. She grunted and pulled again. He bent his knees and flexed his ass and began a slow penetration of my wife.

My palms were clammy. I barely breathed. The closet was hot and a trickle of sweat ran down my temple. Tiffany dropped her head back onto the bed and encouraged him to give her more, which he did, and my wife drew her legs up and ran her hands over her nipples.

“Your cock feels so good, Cliff. Keep going, Baby.”

Her use of my pet-name on him stung.

“You’re so big, you’re so big. I love it.”

Cliff grinned like a pig. Tiffany was just another cheating wife, victim of her own carnal desires. Her husband wasn’t giving her enough so here comes Cliff to save the day and fuck her right. She was yet another married slut seduced by his porn-star cock and callous indifference. A flash of insight told me his indifference actually made him more attractive to women; they could count on him to fuck them and then leave, leaving undisturbed their perfect suburban lives, marriages, children. The husband would never find out because Cliff had no interest in a relationship. The wives were free to use him as they saw fit.

Cliff crawled up on the bed with her, laying his body between her open legs, sinking deeper into the heart of her. She cried out and her arms circles his neck and her legs his waist. Her heels pulled him deeper still.

“Uuuuunnnhhh,” she exhaled as his shaft forced the air from her lungs. He brought his knees closer and I saw the point of penetration; his rock-hard girth forced her cunt obscenely wide. She looked ready to tear. The inner circle of her tunnel was stretched white and sealed around his shaft. Each time he pulled back her pussy clung to him and followed, creating a tiny vaginal cone with him firmly planted in the middle. He worked in in and out a little to get his cock wet and allow her to adjust to his size, and then he began to fuck her. He began to fuck my wife.

This was nothing like the phone and I was an idiot to think I was prepared.

He hit a slow steady rhythm and my wife whimpered with pleasure. I'd never heard sounds like this from her. He had her mewling with exhilaration and delight. She held onto his shoulders, her legs and heels always trying to capture him deeper. After a while I realized he touched her cervix, the sensation she loved best and never got enough of with me, on every thrust. Her neck was arched and her head writhed in our sheets. He drove her crazy.

When he pulled his knees up and crushed her under his full body weight, he also pushed his cock all the way in and held it there. Tiff went nuts, clawing his back and kicking her legs. He held the head against her internal barrier with constant pressure until slowly, slowly it eased open and it began to move forward again, a quarter inch at a time. Tiffany was impaled on his massive harpoon like a torture victim and it left her moaning in pleasure and gasping for breath.

Disbelief contorted her face. Her legs muscles stood out as she tried to force him deeper. He chuckled. She threw her arms to the side and pulled up fistfuls of blankets and sheets. Her breath came through gritted teeth. He sank more and more of that beast deep into my wife's interior and I saw his testicles move ever closer to her puckering sphincter.

"Don't stop," she begged, her voice dripping with emotion. She sounded like she might sob any second. "Please, God, don't stop. I'm so close, so close. I've never felt... "

Her voice faded as her head lifted off the bed and her mouth opened. Cliff flexed his ass and Tiffany cried out as half an inch more disappeared. I shook my head; I swear he had to be close to bruising her lung.

"Don't stop," she begged again. "Oh, fuck, Baby, you're gonna make me cum. Oh fuck! Don't stop! DON'T FUCKING STOP HERE IT COMES OOOOOHHH MY FUCKING GOD AAAAAAAA!"

Cliff knew just what to do. His hips drove in and out with short strokes and Tiffany pounded the bed and twisted around under him. A victim of electrocution, my wife contorted and jerked as an orgasm like none I'd ever seen ripped through her and turned her inside-out. She screamed silently, her mouth wide open and head thrown back, and Cliff just kept fucking her through the whole thing. It lasted almost a full minute and by the end, Tiff was a broken rag doll. Cliff fucked a limp life-less body.

He stopped moving and shifted his weight to his elbows and knees, holding himself above but remaining balls-deep in her. He kissed her face and breasts and arms and throat. After a while she came around enough to find his mouth and kiss him back. They exchanged soft words I couldn't hear and my wife held his face. She glowed and these little shared intimacies were, in their own way, harder to take than the sex.

More time passed and Tiffany slid a hand down his back to his ass and gently pulled him closer. A wave of pleasure sent shivers through her. He pulled an inch out and slid it back home and my wife moaned with delight, giving him a little nod that she was ready. Moments later they were fucking again.

After a while he scooped a hand under her small round butt and searched with a finger. I heard her protest until he covered her mouth with his. She kicked but he kept going and pushed his middle finger up her wet and sloppy asshole. She groaned into his mouth. He sank three knuckles deep and held it there while fucking her harder and my wife fought him for a second and then the pleasure hit her. Soon she shoved her ass down to meet him on every thrust. She came again, just like the first, screaming incoherent sounds of animal joy. Her pulsing asshole squeezed his finger as her cunt squeezed his thick cock.

With each passing minute I felt more inadequate. I would never fuck Tiffany like this.

Cliff gave her a minute to come back to earth and then once again started moving deep inside her. He fucked her a long time and Tiffany had several more orgasms, including a stunning climax while on all fours as Cliff fucked her from behind, holding her hips and slamming it home until she screeched and bucked. She'd learned how to take him and his long cock now penetrated her cervix constantly. That firm helmet-head rubbed and bumped around inside her womb, keeping her in a state of mind-numbing bliss.

At last he was ready. He withdrew his gleaming horn and rolled her onto her back. She spread her legs easily and automatically and reached down to guide him home.

“I want to look into your eyes as I cum in you,” he said and Tiffany gave him her most devastating smile.

“I'd love that.”

I was torn up inside but the erotic excitement was undeniable. Demons tormented me but my penis felt ready to burst. This man was about to seed my wife and I wanted it but feared it. No way could her body deny his formidable sperm. I felt certain I watched her insemination and impregnation.

He pushed her legs all the way back and penetrated her smoothly. They moved well together now. In seconds he sawed his entire length in and out, building towards his powerful release. They kissed and nuzzled.

“I want it,” she admitted. “I want to sleep tonight next to my husband yet filled with you. I want to know I carry you deep inside my womb. You're such a man .”

He pumped faster and I noticed the veins of his cock had swollen. His phallus looked like it belonged on a stud animal used for breeding. The lattice of protruding veins gave the whole thing a potent vitality and virility. He bore down and she took the length and girth of him with every thrust. She held his face again and gazed into his eyes.

“I want it,” she pleaded. “God, Cliff, fill me up. Flood me with your cum. ”

Cliff drew a sharp breath and shortened his stroke. His balls lifted and fell independently, first one, then the other.

“Yeah,” he grunted. “Here it comes. Take all of it. Don't fuck your husband tonight. Promise me.”

“I promise. Tonight only you.”

“Fuck yes. I like that. Take it! Fuck! Yearrrrggghhhh!”

He drove it deep and barely moved as jet after jet exploded from his nuts deep into her. She drove her heels into the bed to lift her pelvis and capture his last inch. He blasted his bolts of sperm directly into her womb. They clawed at each other, struggling to force their bodies together as tightly as possible. Both craved her deep insemination.

He came a long time, much longer than I do. I suppose that made sense given his testicles were much larger than mine but he came so long I had time to think, to realize the massive truck-load of semen he pumped into her. I watched his balls contract again and again until he'd given her everything. How many hundreds of millions of sperm now swam inside her? I felt sick. My penis was hard but I felt sick. He arched his back and clenched his ass to get every last drop into her. Gradually he straightened out and looked down into her eyes. My wife smiled. He returned to elbows and knees, his thick cock still planted in her guts, and they kissed with genuine affection. Her arms circled his shoulders and her legs snaked around his.

I wanted him to get off her. I was ready for his penis to vacate my wife. They stayed coupled like that for a long time. I became obsessed with them parting. As long as his cock plugged her no sperm could escape. Everyone one of those little fuckers raced around at this very moment hunting her egg. If he pulled out I knew a gush of semen would leave her but that mother-fucker stayed buried. When he moved a leg I felt relief but Tiffany quickly stopped him, pulling on his ass and sinking his inches deep again. He pushed all the way in and they settled into a comfortable position, talking softly and gazing into each other's eyes.

Fuck!

Eventually he softened enough that something had to be done. He lifted his body off hers and slowly withdrew his manhood. He was still thick enough her lips clung to him in a tight seal and when they passed over the crown and closed behind him, not a single drop escaped. He lay next to her and she nuzzled under his chin and he brushed a strand of hair from her face. She reached down and straighten his long soft cock across her thigh.

Their conversation lasted a long time but I heard none of it. His hands absentmindedly traveled her body, learning her curves and soft skin, her hands played with his chest hair. They'd stop to kiss every now and then. At last he disengaged and rose form the bed. His limp dick hung almost to his knees.

"I need a quick shower," he said. "You made me sweat."

Tiffany stretched and arched her back, grinning like a schoolgirl.

"Hurry back."

As soon as I heard the water I slipped out of the closet and to her side. She jumped but recovered quickly and grabbed my head, pulling her lips to mine.

"Oh my fucking God, Jon! Can you believe this guy?"

She glanced nervously over her shoulder.

I wasted no time. Holding her head in my hands I forced my penis into her mouth. She sucked fast and hard. I knew I had no time to cum but I was dying to touch her, to somehow reclaim her after him. She stopped sucking and looked towards the bathroom again.

“Now what?” I asked.

She wiped her lips on the back of her hand. My penis and balls ached.

“He'll leave soon and then you can have me.” She looked at my straining penis and then glanced up at me with guilty eyes.

“I guess you're okay with all this,” she said, raising her eyebrows at my erection.

“Yes, but it's way harder than I thought it would be. It's fucking intense.”

We checked on the bathroom at the same time.

“Kiss me,” she ordered, “and then get back in your cubbyhole. He mustn't catch you. ”

I leaned down and planted one on her lips and then hurried back to hide. Minutes later the water stopped and Cliff returned, a towel wrapped around his waist. He approached her side of the bed and leaned down to kiss her just as I had down. She tugged on his towel and in fell to the carpet. His fat sausage hung down even with her face.

Tiffany opened her mouth and scooped the head with her tongue. Cliff sighed deeply. He allowed her to suck for a while before climbing onto the bed and resting his back against the headboard. Tiff positioned her body to make sucking his cock easy and then began a slow and methodical assault on his tower of flesh. I saw how she adore his meat with every turn of her head and lick of her tongue. He responded gradually, swelling slowly and filling out. While he was soft my wife was able to take half his cock into her mouth and throat. He loved it. As he stiffened she took less and less.

When he was hard and sticking up from his lap she rose and straddled him. They kissed as she sank down, enveloping his cock in her smoldering tight pussy. He had four inches left when she hit bottom but this time she knew what to do. Placing a hand on each of his shoulders, I watched my wife relax and breathe deeply. She made small adjustments to her legs and then sank down onto him, her entire body weight added to the push. Incrementally he began to disappear. Both of them groaned.

She rode his hard once she'd captured every inch. She fed him her tits and reached back to play with his enormous balls in their sack. She did all the work, fucking this man like she hoped to earn a bonus, riding his cock, grinding her hips, using him until a huge orgasm ripped through her and left her trembling atop him.

He wrapped her up and laid her down and once again fucked her face to face. She came again somewhere in there but I was focused on his signs of climax. He was going to inject my wife with sperm yet again and that's exactly what happened long minutes later. He grabbed her long legs at the ankles and spread her obscenely wide and fucked her hard until he buried himself one last time and emptied his heavy balls in her guts .

As before they shared a quiet, intimate time afterwards, murmuring sweetly and trading soft little kisses. My erection faded. Eventually he rose from the bed and rinsed again in our shower but this time I stayed put. They left the room naked together and after a short time I heard our front door close.

He was gone.

To be sure I waited for Tiffany to open the closet door and when she did she's never looked sexier. I know my eyes blazed with ferocious light. She saw it and did a slow pirouette.

"How do you like your naughty wife?" she asked.

"Naked and on the bed," I replied, reaching for her.

She giggled and stepped out of reach.

"You heard what I told him," she teased. "Tonight, only him."

I froze.

"It's so naughty, Baby. Just think about it; fucking another man is wrong enough but then to not fuck my husband? It's outrageous. It's preposterous. It is crazy fucking hot."

I was speechless.

"I'm going to see him again soon and I know he'll ask and he'll know if I lie. Let's try it just this once, Baby. Doesn't it sound deliciously wrong and fucked up to you?"

"Yes!"

She stepped closer. I bet I can talk you into it," she whispered.

She took my hand and touched it to her pussy. I instinctively slipped a finger inside. Her vagina was a sloppy scalding inferno. She was awash in him.

Her voice was hushed and strained. "When he came he swelled to mammoth proportions. He expanded my cunt in every direction. His sperm shot out so hard I felt it hit my walls, my uterus. His liquid was boiling and I pulled him as deep as I could, knowing I'd carry him all night. Won't you let me have this little thing I desire?"

As she'd described what she'd felt, my erection returned. Her fingers played with me, teasing the crown and tossing my balls around, lightly stroking the shaft. I was close from an ocean of pent up lust and need.

"It's wicked, Baby. I'm a bad wife."

She sank to her knees and enveloped me with her hot mouth. I couldn't stop her. She sucked so hard I felt it in my rectum. I groaned and she knew she'd won. Her head bobbed and her hands helped and before I could stop it, my penis exploded. I saw flashes of colored lights and the ground tilted. I heard her laughing around my dick as she swallowed.

She sucked me off twice more that night. I'd awaken to her already at work, eager and hungry for my seed. The last time she helped me along with a finger up my ass and I grunted and shot instantly.

I never did fuck her. Cliff owned her all night and truth be told, the next three nights as well. She sucked me off again the second night but then work and responsibilities killed sex for two days. By the time I finally got my hands on her I figured her body had absorbed all of him. She was eager and willing to give herself to her husband and I was rough with her, rougher than ever before and she welcomed it. We lay panting and sweaty and she curled up next to me and talked about her perfect life and how free she felt.

The nights I waited to take her back were pure agony. Every minute we were home together all I could think about was him swimming inside her still. It was maddening. I loved it. I hated it. I realized this was almost certainly how it would always be for me; conflicted, aroused, anxious, and erect. Whenever I masturbated all I fantasized about now was watching Tiffany with another man. This erotic dream had replaced all others. There was no comparison. The power of this fetish dwarfed any other erotic thought I had.

The same was true for Tiffany. She described how sex filled her thoughts all day every day. She sized-up every man she met during her day. Strangers got her wet now. Co-workers had her ready to cum.

Less than a week later she came home and dropped her purse and keys on the marble kitchen counter.

"Oh. My. God."

"What's up, Honey?"

“R and R landed a website contract. The site is for gay porn but the models aren't gay. Today we went through some sets and I was surrounded by hot young studs everywhere I looked. Their bodies are perfect and their G-strings were bulging. I got so hot.”

“Did you finish the shoot?”

“No! Those guys will be there all week.”

My mind kicked into gear and I know hers did too. We regarded each other for long minutes before she spoke.

“What do you have?”

“Cameras. Lots of them. I can watch on my laptop. I don't even have to be in the house. We can turn our bedroom into a porn set starring you. You?”

Her jaw fell open.

“Fucking hell.”

“Yeah,” I continued. “I can hide them all around our room and watch from the booth at Olive Garden or around the block in my car. I can record everything and we can play it back later on the wide-screen as I fuck you to death. Endless possibilities.”

“Jeez. Let's go with your idea. I imagined blowing one of them in the stockroom.”

I worked on it the next two nights. Tiff flirted with the models and six of them flirted back. She focused on her favorite four. When I told her I was ready for whatever she wanted to do, she got really nervous.

Two days crept by and Tiff said nothing. I know she flirted like crazy because she came home horny as hell every night. On Thursday after work she told me about the shoot that day. The photographer had treadmills lined up so the guys could run at the camera but stay in place. Behind them the photographer put up different scenes; beach, park, lake. She said he had dozens. As the shoot progressed the models removed more and more clothing until they ran at the camera, laughing and jostling each other, wearing only the tiniest Speedo swimsuits.

“I saw the outlines of their cocks so clearly,” she whined. “These guys were hired for their bodies and I know the size question was asked too. Every one of these studs is hung. ”

“It's a gay site, Baby, of course they are.”

“Well it's making it impossible to get work done!”

I poured her a glass of red wine when my phone buzzed. Brian was in the neighborhood and wanted to stop by and say hello. I told him yes and then informed Tiff. We moved to the living room and I asked her more questions about her day and before we knew it, Brian rang the doorbell.

He joined us in the living room to catch up since we hadn't seen him for almost two weeks. In addition to basketball Brian also played volleyball and he had just come from a tournament. I got him some cold water and we all chatted. When Tiffany got a phone call from Sara and walked away, Brian asked if he could use our shower.

An idea popped into my brain.

I told him of course and directed him to the master-bath in our bedroom. I got him fresh towels and closed the bedroom door behind me and went directly to my laptop. In seconds I watched him untie his tennis shoes.

Tiffany finished her call and sat in the chair opposite me.

"What are you doing?" she asked.

I looked up and smiled and told her to come sit next to me on the couch, which she did. Just as she sat, Brian pulled his sweaty T-shirt off. Tiffany instantly knew what was next.

"No fucking way," she exclaimed and pulled the monitor to face her better. I leaned in.

Brian checked on his abs in the mirror and hooked his thumbs in his elastic waistband. Down came his shorts leaving him in a massively bulging jock-strap.

"Fuuuuck," Tiffany exhaled. "He has no muscle at all and that's still the hottest picture ever. Jesus Christ, look how far his jock sticks out!"

Honestly, I felt a little bad spying on my friend. I hoped he didn't pick his nose or something equally disgusting and ruin the moment. He didn't. Instead, he palmed the front of his jock and rubbed. Tiffany looked up at me like she'd won a jack-pot.

"This is so bad," she admitted. I nodded my head but we both went back to the screen.

Sometimes a plan just comes together. A few years ago Tiffany had placed a multi-picture frame on the bathroom counter and because it was inside our own house, filled it with photos of a trip we took with friends to the lake. In every picture Tiff wore a tiny blue thong bikini which barely covered her tits and left her butt cheeks fully exposed. We all drank a lot on that trip and some pictures were pretty racy.

I quickly hit the record button.

Brian picked up the frame and stared at the pictures of my wife while again rubbing the front of his jock-strap.

“Is he looking at me?” Tiff whispered.

“Yes, he is,” I replied.

“Oh my God.” her voice was less than a whisper.

Brian hooked a thumb in front and pushed down until his fat snake flopped out.

I got another idea. I faced Tiff.

“Honey, the bathroom door is open. Only the bedroom door is closed.”

She looked back at the screen and then to me.

“So?”

“So you were on the phone with Sara. You have no idea Brian is taking a shower. You walk in on him and see what happens. Or, better yet, you undress to take a shower too and walk in on him with both of you naked. Oops, ha ha, I'm so sorry. I thought you'd left. Ha ha, Jon forgot to mention you were in here. ”

Her jaw slowly fell. I saw her turning the idea around and around.

“What will you do?”

“I'll move to the upstairs office and watch on the laptop. If he freaks out too much, I'll apologize like crazy. At the least, though, you get to see him naked and let him see you naked. I think that's pretty hot.”

“You once said friends are off limits.”

I pointed at the screen. Brian had his meaty cock in hand, stroking it while gazing at pictures of Tiffany in a micro bikini.

“Look at that cock, Tiff. I know you want him and he wants you. Why stand in the way anymore? Truthfully, I think he needs you. He may still be a virgin. You can help him with that, show him what girls like, give him confidence. Do it for the sisterhood. Think how happy you're going to make some girl.”

She looked back at the screen. Brian was semi-erect, pointed at the vanity, reflected by every mirror. Tiff leaned over and kissed my cheek and stood, which set my heart pounding. She headed for the bedroom door.

She entered quickly, as if she had no idea Brian was in here. I watched on my cameras, changing views to always find the best, and saw Tiff slip off the shoulders straps of her dress. She dropped all her clothing by the closet and crossed the room, turned the corner and stepped into the bathroom.

Both of them jumped with surprise and alarm but of course hers was fake. She covered her bald pussy with both hands and let Brian see her firm round tits unobstructed. I heard nothing but their body-language told me everything. He held Tiff's picture frame in one hand and tried to cover his huge cock with the other but failed utterly. He was busted with no place to hide.

She started laughing and he set the pictures down and back into a corner, trying to crawl under a rock. She talked a bit and then shrugged. She dropped her hands. He was intensely uncomfortable but after a minute or two of his penis shrinking from shame and embarrassment, it started to grow again as he feasted his eyes on my boldly naked wife.

Tiffany stepped closer and took the picture frame from his hand. She pointed to a few and they spoke. She moved closer and his cock bumped up against her thigh and he moved away but she placed a hand on his arm to pull him close again. His cock rose fast.

He abruptly backed away. I imagined their conversation was now about me and being a good and loyal friend. Her body blocked his exit from the room and he'd have to shove past her if he wanted to leave and I just didn't see that kind of aggression from him. She kept talking and soon he calmed down. His hard cock was now a flesh-colored spear sticking straight out from his body. The shaft had very little curve to it. Everything about the way he moved told me he was mortified to have an erection in front of Tiffany, wife of his best friend, me. Such a good guy.

Tiffany sat the picture back on the stand and stood before him. She rested a hand on his shoulder and moved right in front of him, allowing his shaft to pass between her legs and stick out the back. I changed views and there was his plump cock-head nestled under her ass cheeks. He must be dying. She backed him up to a wall. He seemed to be in shock as his limp arms hung at his sides and his face was a numb and frozen mask. She spoke and he answered with either a nod or a shake of his head. I have no idea what she said to him but soon she stepped back and dropped to her knees.

She took his erection in both hands and rubbed up and down the length of it.

Tiffany took Brian's hand and placed it on her head. She had to show him what to do and I worried his deer-in-the-headlights thing would go too far. No girl wants a frightened man. She aimed his cock at her mouth again and I zoomed in as she closed her lips around the crown. Brian's chest expanded and my fears evaporated. He looked down at his cock in Tiffany's mouth and his other hand found her head too and he started moving in and out, sliding across her tongue. He dug his fingers into her long brown hair and held her still while he really worked his cock.

Tiff swallowed more and more of his cock. I knew he had to be tickling her throat. She sucked him deep and bathed him with her tongue until she'd had enough of sucking and wanted more. Without ceremony she stood and turned away, bent at the waist and stuck her ass back. She reached under between her legs and found his cock and pulled him forward and into her dripping wet cunt. Just like that, Brian was fucking Tiffany.

I expected I'd feel jealousy but instead I was turned on. I loved that he knew her. I imagined all those days he'd wanted her, all those times she'd worn something sexy and I caught him looking at her, and now he got to fuck her. I expected he wouldn't last long. He surprised me by aggressively grabbing handfuls of her long hair and pulling hard. Tiffany held onto the vanity with all her strength as Brian turned lose his bent-up desire for my wife. My office was right over the bedroom and through the floor I heard her cries of pleasure and the sounds of their smacking flesh.

I was right about how long he could hold out. It was all too much. He was ready already. Brian held her hips and forced her legs against the sinks and his whole body went rigid as he exploded inside her, his hips pumping with an awkward motion. My best friend was cumming inside my wife.

I felt such a strange mix of emotions. This was so different from a complete stranger having her. This would carry repercussions and consequences. I knew we'd be unable to predict every outcome but one thing was certain; my friendship with Brian had to survive.

On the monitor I saw the heat from the moment fade and reality rush in. Brian brought both hands up to cover his face in an obvious gesture of shame and guilt. Tiffany looked dazed and remained bent over the vanity. I needed to do something. I closed the laptop and ran downstairs.

He was still inside her when I entered the bathroom. His face twisted with panic and he showed me his palms.

“I can explain,” he began. I smiled and he froze.

“Brian, it's cool. Don't worry. I know about it and I'm fine. More than fine, actually.”

Tiffany turned her head back over her shoulder and smiled at our confused friend.

“We occasionally color outside the lines,” Tiff said. “Jon sent me in here to you. He knows we've wanted each other a long time and he granted my request.”

She pushed her hips back to capture Brian's slowly escaping cock. Brian's face showed how difficult it was for him to process all we'd said.

“Here, I'll show you.” Tiffany said.

She pulled her pussy off his dick and knelt at his feet. His cock was a semi-erect, glistening cannon and my wife slipped it right into her mouth. After a moment she pulled him out and said she loved the taste of her pussy on his cock and then returned to sucking. He looked bewildered. I stepped up and put a hand on his shoulder, looked him right in the eyes.

“Enjoy,” I said, and left them in the bathroom .

I'm no fool; I raced back up to the laptop.

Tiffany walked him to our bed and sat him at the end of it. She knelt on the floor between his knees and licked every inch of his cock clean. His dick was like a tube sock filled with sand. Heavy and dense, it flopped each time she turned it in her hands. She held his large testicles in both hands and slathered them too, hefting them and smiling.

For an hour my wife got to know his manhood. She took her time, thoroughly enjoying the fat trophy which dangled before her. She learned it and studied it, enthralled by this supreme icon of masculinity. Eventually he relaxed enough he grew hard again and she pushed him onto the bed and mounted him. I zoomed in on my wife riding his extra thick cock. With his dick curving up and away I saw his balls clearly for the first time and grunted. Two large chicken eggs in a smooth pink pouch. I was sure he'd flooded Tiff with jizz earlier.

I took my penis out and watched my favorite porn-star wife. I set the cameras to record on all channels. I had no sound but it was obvious whenever she climaxed. Her back bent and her legs and arms tensed and her neck twisted. Brian's cock was not quite as long as Cliff's but it was thicker and made Tiff cum more easily. I saw her orgasm three times in twenty minutes, each more powerful than the last. I'd seen enough and stripped to join them in bed.

We threw caution out the window and Brian and I spent the rest of the night taking turns on her, using her mouth and her pussy, filling her womb and her tummy with white hot seed. In the morning Brian dressed and said good bye and Tiffany walked him to the door nude. I knew after today, everything would change.

Brian started coming over a lot more often. He and I fucked Tiff so much she had to visit the doctor and find some kind of birth control. The risk was too high. Tiffany was filled with sperm on a regular basis now and the clock ticked. It was just a matter of time and I sure did not want her carrying Brian's baby.

The doctor ran some tests and together they settled on a ring inserted in her womb which released hormones gradually. The percent of effectiveness was not stellar but it was way better than nothing. From that day on every time Brian came in her I held my breath a little bit. My relationship with him changed too. At first he was incredibly insecure and expected me to rage at him any second. In time, he learned what a thrill it was for me to watch my wife take a huge cock. He did not judge and he and I became like brothers.

Tiffany and I learned that Brian's sex drive dwarfed mine. I always considered myself a horny guy but Brian was a monster. Tiff never refused him, even when she was dead tired after work. Partly that was because she knew he was a shy fragile lad but mostly it was because she was in love with his cock. Seriously. I saw it in her eyes. Every time they were together her face softened and her eyes lit up. She kissed it with reverence. She adored it. It made her feels things she'd never felt and it had the power to take her places she'd never been, but more than that, it seemed to be the epitome of manhood, concentrated masculinity. I have a friend that is crazy about big tits; loves them, drools over them, fantasizes about them. This is a more complicated womanly version of that.

After a few months of sharing Tiff with Brian, Tiff confessed she developed feelings for him. We talked about it for a long time because her words shook me to the core. She explained he wasn't replacing me in her heart but described it more as making room for him too. Sex is different for women than it is for men and after so much trust and passion, her heart connected to his. I asked her what she wanted to do about it and she asked if we could just allow it to run its course.

“I won't fall in love with him,” she explained. “That I do know with certainty. I fear if we cut him off I'll resent it. I thought I'd start dating him and show him how it's done, preparing him to move on to another girl. He has so much to offer. If I can get him over his own natural shyness, women will love him.”

Trepidation ate me up but I decided to trust her. Saturday night I stayed home while she went out to meet him for drinks and a movie. I have never masturbated so much in so few hours before in my life. I don't know why but knowing they were out on an official date drove me crazy and turned me on. It was pure agony. I paced our home. I watched the clock. I sprayed her perfume in the air and smelled it. I opened her pantie-drawer and gazed in wonder at all the lace and pretty colors. She wore a pair for him right now. I wondered which pair she'd chosen. She'd left wearing a basic little black dress but something told me her bra matched her underwear and she'd picked something sexy for him.

She got home at two in the morning. I'd been reading in bed and fallen asleep and I watched her through slits. She checked to make sure I was asleep and I smelled alcohol and cigarettes. Neither of them smoke so they'd gone public with it, visiting a club. Did our friends see them out together? She undressed on slightly wobbly legs and came directly to bed without showering, which surprised me a little, but I understood as her lips closed around my penis. I was hard fast and she turned on her side and slipped me into her cum-filled pussy. I fucked her slow and neither of us spoke. She played with her clit and had a mild orgasm and I kept my pace steady until I had one that made me see stars. All I thought about was my sperm shooting out and mixing with his as my penis shoveled us both into her womb. We spooned, holding each other tightly, and fell asleep.

She never spoke of her date and I didn't ask. Brian stopped coming over to our place and she started going over to his from time to time. Every time she did I jacked off like a madman. She never spent the night with him although there were some nights the sun was coming up when she got home, exhausted and satisfied.

To my surprise, this new arrangement infused pure adrenaline and lust back into our situation. I felt competition with Brian and I liked it. Friendly competition, but competition nonetheless. I found myself doting on Tiffany, courting her, charming her. He did the same. Tiffany commented one night over dinner that she felt like a slut-princess and loved all the attention and hot sex.

“I'm living a dream!” she exclaimed.

Months went by. One night I was in the office upstairs and downstairs I heard her phone ring. They spoke briefly and then I heard her feet on the stairs. I turned in my chair and she was in the doorway.

She wore a red lace see-through dress that ended two inches below her pussy. Her nipples were visible if one stared, which I did, and a pair of matching red lace panties covered her labia. I stared at those too but could not quite make them out. Brilliant lipstick and dark eye-shadow perfectly matched her wild hair. She looked like a walking hard-on. The tight dress displayed her hot body just shy of illegal. My jaw fell open and she chuckled. I tried to speak but no words came so she spoke instead.

“Brian is taking me out tonight and I know I'll be home very late. I promise not to sleep at his house but if the sun is up and I'm still not home, don't worry.”

“Where?” I finally managed. My eyes were glued to her. This was a level of sexy I'd been totally ignorant of. She gave me a smile that made my heart bleed and my ribs crack.

“Spearmint Rhino. Private party. Brian knows a guy.”

“You look, you look...”

She laughed out loud.

“Wow, Tiff. Just, wow.”

“Thank you, Honey. I mean it. Your face was priceless.”

She crossed the room and I smelled her perfume. I stood and we kissed and hugged and I felt the heat of her. My wife was a Goddess. I was so smitten, so enthralled all I did was gawk. I actually embarrassed her.

“After that reaction if I wasn't headed out the front door I'd throw you down and fuck you,” she said.

“Baby, you look stunning. Breathtaking. Seriously.”

She kissed my cheek and turned to go and I burned this memory of her into my brain.

“Wait!” I yelled.

She turned. I grabbed the camera off my computer and started recording.

“Turn for me Baby, slowly.” She played along and I filmed every inch of her. The light was over her head now so her dress was more transparent; nipples obvious and a hint of labia. I got so hot. I looked forward to masturbating tonight. We kissed again and she left.

Acid slowly ate into my brain. I tried to go back to work but visions of Tiffany swam around knocking everything off the shelf. I closed my work window and opened the video and drank her beauty in again. I clicked on several of the videos Brian and I had made with her and watched his masterful cock own her cunt. Hours from now that would be happening for real. They were headed to a strip club. Was this Brian's idea or Tiff's? She'd told me that was a fantasy of hers. Were they going to watch or was she going to dance? Would they find a hot girl and take her back to Brian's place? My penis started to rise. I visited the bedroom and changed into a light bathrobe which I left untied. Back up in the office I watched a few more Tiffany videos and played with my stiff dick.

I visited Spearmint Rhino's website but that only made me miss her more. She would dazzle everyone at the club. Brian's ego would be sky-high. With a girl like Tiffany on his arm but no wedding ring, other girls will hit on him, calculating there must be something special about him to win her. I know how the female mind works; they judge a man by the woman he has with him.

The infinite possibilities of the evening welled up and overwhelmed me. My penis was rock-hard and ready to explode. I considered sneaking to the club and hiding to watch but rejected the idea. It would be too humiliating if I got caught and I probably would. Besides, what would I see there? He's not going to fuck her on stage. They'll party and have a blast and then go back to Brian's place and fuck there.

Brian's place. I have a key to Brian's place. I hadn't been there for almost a year but I pictured the layout and there were several hiding places. The problem was I had no way of knowing what he did every night when he got home. I pick a closet he uses all the time and boom, I'm cooked. Talk about humiliating. I had extra cameras. Could I race over and install them while Tiff and Brian were out? He's a tech guy. Would he notice as soon as he got home?

This was maddening. Tiffany looked so good. I had to see what happened with her. I closed my eyes and saw her slowly turning. I should have taken her to the strip club myself. I thought about other things I should be doing and wasn't.

The night gradually tied me in a knot and turned me inside out. I could only imagine the fun that had. Every guy there and probably every girl too lusted after my wife and thought she was with Brian.

“Fuck!”

I could stand no more. I jumped up and flung my robe across the room. I had to at least try. I showered and dressed rapidly and drove to Spearmint Rhino. I wore dark clothing and after paying the cover tried to make myself small. The club was huge but I preceded cautiously. I saw them before they saw me.

Tiffany and Brian were part of a larger group, none of whom I recognized. There was one other girl, a pretty Asian with long black hair and big boobs, and four other guys; two Asians, a Latino, and an older Black guy. They sat all around a small center table, covered with drinks, and the strip club swirled around them; flashing colored lights, dry-ice smoke pouring from the ceiling, pounding music, gorgeous nearly-naked waitresses walking around with trays and drinks while stunning topless girls writhed on the various stages all around them.

Tiffany sat on the Black guy's knee, her legs between his knees, his hand on her bare thigh. He had to be coming up on sixty years old. Her dress had ridden up to her panties. Brian sat across from the Asian girl, deep in conversation. Occasionally Brian and Tiff shared a smile or a knowing glance.

It was so strange to see her interacting with people utterly unknown to me. They were obviously all good friends and had a history. They had an easy comfort around each other. It was a kick in my gut. Tiffany had all these shared relationships completely independent of me, an entire second life. The group drank and laughed and shouted conversation over the booming music. I saw the depth of their relationship. I felt like an outsider and knocked the breath out of me. In many ways this was harder to watch than the sex.

The longer I watched the more I learned. Tiffany was Brian's girl and everyone knew it. The Asian girl was with the Black guy but also seemed to have a history with one of the Asian guys. But the group was much closer than those two relationships. All the guys had a familiar comfort with both girls, and touching, even intimate touching, was the norm.

The Black guy's hand was close enough to Tiffany's pussy I was sure a finger grazed her lacy red panties. The Asian girl moved over to the Latino guy and laid her head on his lap, which made her skirt ride up and exposed her white panties to both Asian guys, and neither reacted other than to glance at her underwear.

I began to suspect my wife and the Asian girl had fucked every man in the group at least once and almost certainly more than once. I studied them and soon became convinced. My blood began to boil but only half was from anger and jealousy. I felt tremendous conflict and anguish. Tiff took lovers on her own now. She'd asked if we should establish rules and I'd told her no, so I couldn't exactly blame her. The only person I could blame was me. But wasn't entirely worried about whom to blame. The other half of me loved that she had a secret life with secret lovers. I perversely enjoyed her hidden infidelity.

Tiffany noticed the Asian girl resting her head and left the Black guy's lap. She knelt on the floor by the Asian's girl face and they talked for a minute and then Tiff kissed the girl sensuously on the mouth. The Latino guy steered her head closer and both girls made-out an inch above his crotch. The Latino guy reached farther down and fondled Tiff's firm tits. All the guys watched the girls and then Brian continued his conversation with the Black guy, clearly no longer the shy wallflower he once was. His time with my wife had drawn him out of his shell in a huge way.

Minutes later one of the Asian guys said something and everyone finished off their drinks and prepared to leave. The girls headed for the bathroom and the Black guy settled the bill. I backed into a corner where and hid and minutes later when they left the club nobody spotted me. By the time I paid for my drinks and reached the parking lot, they were gone. Frustrated, I went home.

As promised, Tiffany got home around eleven in the morning, tired, beaming, and full of cum, which I discovered when I pinned her against the kitchen counter and fucked her the instant she came in through the garage door. The question in my mind now was who's cum it was. That thought fueled me and drove crazy. I fucked my wife hard, like I paid by the hour, and got several yelps from her. When I exploded inside and sank to the tile floor she curled up on me like a cat, purring and happy. I never mentioned I'd seen her and her friends.

Two weeks later she appeared in the office again, this time wearing an outfit which reminded me of a Catholic schoolgirl. Her long brown hair drawn into two pony-tail, short black and white plaid skirt, white men's dress shirt and no bra.

I asked where she was headed dressed like that and she said, "The Green Door," which I knew was a local sex club. "Bee's never been," she volunteered. I told her to come closer and then ran my hand up her leg to her firm ass, confirming my suspicions; no panties at all. I reached up and loosened another button on her shirt, exposing the under-curve of her gorgeous tits.

"I guess you approve," she grinned.

We kissed and my heart ached. So much beauty, such dripping female sexiness. I considered if I should challenge her statement; "Brian's never been," is vastly different from "Brian and I have never been." Was it a slip or had she visited that place before? She certainly never went with me and I was positive she'd never gone before meeting me. Which meant she'd gone with someone and not told me, but whom?

Cliff? Sara?

"I'm not sure what time I'll be back. Probably late morning or around noon again. I love you, Jon."

"I love you, Tiffany."

She cupped my balls through my robe and leaned close to my ear. "Do you save it up for me while I'm out being naughty or do you jack-off like crazy?"

"I jack-off like crazy."

"That makes me happy. Do you want to know what I do while I'm out?"

I really wrestled with this one.

"No. "

"Why not?"

I drew a deep breath. My answer had been instinctive. I had to struggle to but even a piece of my feelings into words. "Because if you thought you would be confessing to me later; you might alter what you did while out. I want you doing exactly what you want to do."

She gave me a wicked smile that could melt steel. We kissed again and she left the office. I heard her keys jingle, high-heels cross the kitchen floor, and the garage door close. Out the office window I saw her car ease down the street.

My wife is so fucking hot.

I kept working another hour but by then the tension had grown to the point I could no longer concentrate. Fucking Catholic schoolgirl. I searched for their website and flipped through the pictures to familiarize myself with the layout. Hiding from them would be difficult. Most of the club was wide open and several areas were couples only. Alone I'd never get to check on them. When I felt I knew enough I showered and dressed in baggy jeans and a dark sweat-shirt and headed for The Green Door.

I circled the parking lot but did not see her car, or Brian's either. I parked where I could watch the entry. After an hour I realized they may have arrived in a car I would not recognize. Curiosity nibbled all around the edges of me so I decided to pay the cover and check around inside the club. I was nervous as I went from room to room. It was too easy for them to see me first. As far as I could tell they were not yet present so I got my hand stamped and went back to my car.

Less than an hour later a huge black Escalade pulled in and eight of them got out; the seven from the strip club plus tonight they had a Latina girl with them. She looked vaguely familiar and I thought she might be a stripper at the club that night. The Black guy had been driving and the three girls sat in the passenger seat.

The guys were fairly well dressed with sports coats but the women looked stunning. Tiffany was a dirty schoolgirl, Asian girl wore a simple little black dress that ended where her butt cheeks turned into legs, and the Latina girl wore white short-shorts and a bra. Just a bra. In public .

Doors closed and locked, Tiffany cuddled up to the Black guy, Asian girl held Brian's hand, and Latina girl took a spot between all the remaining guys. I waited for them to pay and pass through the door, then waited a little longer for them to get settled. I flashed my hand under the scanner and entered.

I'd picked out good hiding spots on my first visit so I now worked my way through them. I quickly found my group in a glass-walled room that held one huge padded platform against the far wall and several small tables and chairs scattered around. They'd taken over two tables and circled them with chairs and were already laughing and talking. A waitress took their drink orders. I was again struck by their sense of camaraderie. They all knew each other so well. That familiar jealous pang zapped me when I watched Tiff kiss Latino guy just like she kissed Brian and me. Were these people friends of Brian? I thought he had no friends other than Tiff and me and Tiffany and Brian seemed to know them all equally well, like they'd gotten to know them at the same time.

The Asian girl moved to sit at Tiff's feet and I decided to worry about whose friends they were later. She rested her head on Tiff's knee and as the conversation flowed, Tiff slowly relaxed her legs and allowed her knees to part. Asian girl stared up my wife's skirt while the others talked and then gradually moved her mouth to Tiff's pussy. Nobody said anything. Tiff gasped a little when contact was made and her head wobbled and Asian girl moved forward again, now clearly eating my wife's pussy. The others continued their conversation like this sort of thing happened all the time and I suspected it actually did. Black guy moved to stand behind Tiff and lowered his mouth to hers and they kissed. His large black hands reached down and caressed my wife's tits. How strange it was to watch an older man kiss her. He had grey at the temples and a receding hairline. Heavy lines marked his face. His body was hard to see because he wore baggy clothing but he wasn't fat. He had no belly. His dark skin against her pale skin created a beautiful contrast and added an erotic element of taboo race-mixing. Interracial sex was never something that worked for me until this moment .

Everyone's unspoken permission with my wife was maddening. Anyone could have anything they wanted whenever they wanted it with her. My wife rested both hands on the back of Asian girl's head while she kissed Black guy.

After a while Black guy moved away and seated himself around the table. Asian girl kept eating my wife's pussy. They seemed intent on talking so I decided to take a walk and come back to check on them. I'd been staring for a long time and while that was okay in a place like this, I felt like I pushed the limit.

Honestly, the place was pretty wild. Everywhere I went I heard the impassioned cries of females suffering intense pleasure or males growling and groaning as they fucked or got their dick sucked. There was a dungeon area with a woman in stocks and her husband allowed any man to fuck her that wished. I thought about it stepping up and fucking her just to save some face and even the score but I didn't.

In the back of the club I found a private area with a guarded door and the words, "Devil's Den" painted on it. I asked the bouncer what was behind it.

"Private club. Guys have a requirement to meet but any woman can walk in."

"What requirement?"

"Eight inch minimum."

Oh.

"That's not me," I admitted.

"Me either," he sympathized. "Besides," he added. "Dudes have to walk around naked."

He nodded at the wall of lockers. "That's not me either."

"It's a woman's world," I said.

"It is beyond these doors," he chuckled.

I made my way back to the glass room. Tiffany was gone and so were both Asian guys, the Latino guy, and the Black guy. Brian leaned back against a wall, eyes closed, as Asian girl and Latina girl sucked his giant cock and balls. They'd drawn a crowd of admirers. I felt a jolt of panic. Where was Tiffany and what was she doing? I circled the club looking for her but there were too many places a single male could not go. I found a bar upstairs and although I knew it was risky to be so visible, I needed a drink.

Tiffany got gang-fucked right now. I knew it. I felt in my bones. Somewhere in this building, maybe as little as twenty feet away, my wife had a black cock, two Asian cocks, and a Latino cock pounding away at her pussy and her mouth. I was sure they passed her around, taking turns.

I gulped my whiskey and paid. A skinny but pretty girl sat alone at the bar and I said hello when she looked at me with big green eyes.

"You're cute," she said. "Need a date?"

"No, thank you, just kind of exploring."

She smiled. "Want to get into the restricted areas?"

Oh.

OH.

"Yes, yes I do."

"Fifty bucks. Make it a hundred and I'll blow you too."

"Here's fifty and I'll think about it. Let's go."

With her on my arm I was free to roam. Devil's Den was still off-limits but I hoped Tiffany wouldn't be in there. She wasn't. Darcy, the barfly, walked me all around and even showed me places I'd missed. I found my wife.

Tiffany still wore her clothes although her dress shirt was unbuttoned all the way down. She was face down, ass up on the floor and her face was in the lap of an Asian guy. His dick was surprisingly big and she sucked it like she was in the final stages of trying to make him cum and craved his semen. He held her head tightly and her arms were under his legs, weighed down.

Behind her stood the other Asian guy, the Latino guy, and the Black guy, all nude, all erect, and all well-endowed, especially the Black guy. His cock was like an ebony version of Brian. My fears were confirmed; they were indeed taking turns fucking her. Each guy would step forward and line himself up, hold her hips steady and shove his formidable cock deep inside her. Tiffany would moan and squeal at each intrusion and struggle a little to get away, and then relent and just accept their punishing cocks. As soon as she quieted the guys would trade places and begin fucking her again. They thoroughly enjoyed their little game of torment but it sure looked like Tiff did too.

Soon the Asian guy came in her mouth and she sucked him down. The Latino guy tugged her arm aside and pulled him on top and I felt that pang of jealousy again when Tiff reached down to guide him in. Latino guy moved around in front and offered my wife his uncircumcised cock and Tiffany inhaled him. Her cheeks dented deeply as she stroked with her hand in time with her bobbing mouth.

"I remember you," she grinned. "Your cum tastes like coffee creamer. Fed me mother fucker. I want to swallow you."

Obviously, this was not the first time she'd blown him.

The Black guy moved behind her. I was confused for half a second and then understanding exploded in my brain. He knelt and moved closer and took hold of Tiffany's hips. Everyone slowed and Tiff stopped sucking to look over her shoulder at her third lover.

"Give it to me, Uncle Joe," she encouraged, smiling. They'd been lovers many times. I saw it on her face. Her mouth returned to the Latino cock.

Uncle Joe gripped her ass and spread each cheek in opposite directions. I saw the cock in her pussy stop as her sphincter stretched open.

He was going to fuck my wife's ass. I'd never fucked Tiffany's ass in my life. Uncle Joe used a hand to aim his head right at her hole and then his black ass flexed and Tiff whined. He hesitated and she rasped, "Go!" He pushed again and Tiff reached back to pull him forward by his thigh and all at once several inches slipped inside her. My wife groaned like she'd been shot. She put both hands on the floor to brace herself and Uncle Joe eased his dark monster into her rectum. My wife was an expert at anal sex. Two or three deep breaths was all she needed to relax and open herself to a beastly penetration of her asshole. He worked it in smoothly and the guys started sawing in and out of her three holes. That old black bastard could fuck.

"That's hot," Darcy whispered and startled me. I'd forgotten she was here. It was hot, she was right, but it twisted my guts to see it. Tiffany moved with a practiced ease; these three had all done this before. Strange men had been fucking my wife's ass for weeks if not months and I'd had no idea. The jealousy that had been nibbling at my edges flared into a feeding frenzy. I wanted to race forward and shove them all away from her. Each second ticked off in slow motion. My wife eagerly took every hard inch they had.

Tiffany's hands curled into fists. She started to roll her hips and whimper and suddenly exploded in orgasm. The guys held their steady pace, almost ignoring her, and with each passing second her climax jumped up to a higher level. Her whole body shook and she screamed around the cock in her mouth and yet they just kept fucking her like machines. My wife screamed again and then again. Darcy startled me again, reaching around to hold my penis through my pants.

"I've never seen anything like that," she breathed.

Tiff's back bowed so much I worried she'd break it. She crossed a pleasure threshold and fought to get away but six hands held her in place and relentlessly fucked her. She screamed again and started crying and Uncle Joe fucked her ass harder and my wife's eyes flew wide open. All signs indicated her orgasm had not abated and these bastards were trying to kill her with it. I gain marveled at the pure stamina of this old geezer.

The guys started groaning too.

"Getting close," Uncle Joe grunted.

They all seemed to build towards a mutual climax. They did not cum at the same time but they were close. Black balls rested on Asian balls as both men spit gallons of semen deep inside my wife. Latino held her head and sprayed his jizz all over her tongue and tonsils which my slut wife sucked down. Uncle Joe came the longest. Tiffany's tiny sphincter was stretched into a wide tight ring around his black shaft and I saw his balls jump and pulse as he emptied them up her rectum.

For a long time, nobody moved. Slowly, they began untangling their bodies. The four guys sat on the floor and leaned against the wall and Tiff crawled up and lay across their laps, her face pressed against Uncle Joe's fat black cock.

"Let's find a place," Darcy suggested. "I'll suck your dick for free. "

I took her hands and looked her in the eyes. "No."

She looked genuinely disappointed. She had no idea we'd just watched my wife.

The room was dark but I still risked getting caught. Now that she was no longer occupied I worried she'd look around and see me.

"Want to see the rest of the club?" Darcy asked.

Brian's blowjob was certainly over by now. I needed to leave.

"No, I have to go. Thanks for your help."

Darcy eyed me suspiciously and looked over at Tiff and the guys. If she figured it out, she said nothing. We left this room and I dropped her back at the bar, carefully making my way to the parking lot and driving home.

My wife was a slut.

I tried to hate her for it but fell short. I was hurt and angry she'd given her ass to others, that she had an entire secret life, that she'd slept next to me every night and said nothing. I tried to hate her, but I couldn't. I'd never asked. On those few occasions it had come up she'd been willing to talk but I'd suggested we keep it private. I was ignorant of my wife's hidden life because I'd chosen not to know, and I'd chosen not to know, because, deep down, I like it. I loved it. My wife was a slut and it thrilled me. I wanted her to be the biggest whore she could. My balls ached and I knew as soon as I got home I'd jack off and spray a massive load all over the bedroom floor. Tiffany and I were perfectly matched; she harbored an inner-slut and I wanted her set free.

I rubbed the front of my pants. God! Her ass! To a black cock!

I couldn't wait. I drew my zipper down and jacked as I drove. As soon as I entered the house I kicked off shoes and shed clothing. I grew hotter with each passing second. My wife was a slut. I saw that heavy black club conquer her sphincter. She was so ready for it, so eager and willing. She loved cock and I loved her for it. My wife was a slut. I took my penis in hand and leaned on the Ottoman. I closed my eyes. In my mind I heard Tiffany ask if I jack-off while she's out and I groaned. I was doing it now. I would cum for her now. My slut- wife wanted me jacking off while she was out and I already felt the sperm boiling up from my aching balls. I threw my head back and yelled as a blast of liquid fire erupted and spewed across the room. Another followed it. I knew she got fucked again at that moment and I shot another powerful blast out onto the living room carpet. I felt like my angst and torment fled my body a little with each spurt. My orgasm lasted a long time.

Tiffany came home just after noon on Sunday. She was a disheveled mess. Even if I hadn't seen her, that she spent the night getting fucked was obvious. I watched basketball when the door opened and she dropped her keys and purse on the kitchen counter and met my eyes. She'd been a wicked bad girl and knew I saw it.

I left my chair and met her in the kitchen. As had become our custom, I fucked her where she stood. In her pussy, my penis sank into a morass of slimy sperm and pussy juice. She looser than usual and carried much more semen and I couldn't get the contact I need to ejaculate. I turned her to face the cupboards and pinned her thighs against the counter-top and pulled my penis out of her pussy. She whined. I lifted the tip two inches and before she knew what hit her, I pushed my hard dick up her ass, encountering almost as much sperm there.

“Yessssssss,” she hissed.

Now I had all the friction I needed. Using other men's cum as lube, I held her in place and fucked her ass, hard. The rougher I became the more she liked it. With that much jizz surrounding my shaft, I knew Uncle Joe wasn't the only man in her ass tonight and that fueled my lust.

“Fucking slut,” I grunted.

“Unnnh, yeah, fuck my ass, Honey.”

I felt her tight ring squeezing and milking me. She bore down and her ass felt like a fist. I gasped and she chuckled and squeezed even harder. It felt fantastic. I had to force my dick in and out and it drove us both wild.

She reached for her clit and rubbed while I hammered her. Her stranglehold on me brought my thrusting hips to a virtual stand-still. I grunt with effort and Tiffany moaned .

“Love it,” she whispered. “Love it so much...”

My orgasm was upon me swiftly. I could not resist it. When Tiff climaxed it was the last straw and I started spurting deep into her bowels, drooling like an idiot and making animal sounds.

We made our way to the bedroom. I refused to allow her to shower and spent the next three hours fucking my whore wife in every hole. She was starved and exhausted and filthy and barely conscious when I finished with her, but she smiled.

She was worn-out at work the next day and at home that night we just cuddled on the couch and watched a movie before bed. I never asked her about her night and she didn't volunteer, but I saw in her eyes she'd tell me if I wanted to know. I did, but I didn't. The rest of the week was our usual routine. I marveled how she was such a loving and adoring wife and also such a wild and wanton woman. I guess I was the perfect man for her.

All week I expected her to tell me she was headed out again but she did not. The weekend arrived and we made plans and spent every minute together, having fun and really enjoying each other's company. We made love Saturday afternoon by the pool and again Sunday night. Monday we were back to our regular routine once more.

What the hell?

On Wednesday after dinner I asked, “So, how's Brian?”

She shrugged. “Bee has a girlfriend. She's a gorgeous Asian girl and I take full credit for educating him on how to chase and catch women, and also how to continue treating them well after you do. I feel really good about their chances. Brian is a wonderful man. I think they'll last a long time.”

I stacked the dirty dishes in silence and then asked, “Does that mean you're done with him? Will he still come see us? Will they? Where do I stand with him?”

“The last time we spoke he mentioned you and he have a basketball league starting up in two weeks. He hopes to play on your team. He worries what he and I shared has damaged your friendship and wants to get back to normal with you. At least as normal as things can be after fucking your wife. ”

I pondered this information. I guess we'd come full circle. "I'll call him tonight," I said.

Three more weeks went by and Tiffany and I grew closer every day. I might as well have been the only man on earth. She gave me her full and undivided attention. I wondered if she'd fucked all the slut out of her but my gut told me no. I think her secret life and been a phase and it had run its course and she was merely resting before her next caper.

Four days later I discovered I was right. We were lying in our dark bedroom, waiting for sleep, deliciously satisfied from an especially passionate romp.

"I want bigger boobs," Tiff stated.

She caught me by surprise. She always seemed happy with her body. I had no idea what to say.

"Can I?" she asked, turning on her side to face me in the dark. "Can I have them?"

I pushed the covers down far enough to expose her tits. Each was a perfectly shaped round ball, topped by a pale pink nipple. I covered one with a hand and it almost filled my palm.

"Where is this coming from, Baby? You've never said anything like this before. I thought you loved your body."

"I do but that doesn't mean I think it's perfect. Brian and I went to a strip club a few times and the girls there had the prettiest tits. I want bigger too. I'm all ass and legs."

I searched my feelings and decided bigger might be nice.

"Okay, Honey. Whatever you want. Life is short."

"Really?" she squealed. "That's so exciting. I already know the doctor I'll use." She looked down in the dim light, no doubt imagining her new body.

"You'll need a whole new wardrobe," I offered.

She squealed again and kicked her feet. I think that fact pleased her as much as the new breasts.

Eight weeks later we were back at Buffalo Exchange. Brian was with us and so was Sachi, his gorgeous Japanese girlfriend. Nobody ever spoke of the wild life the three of them shared and I allowed them to believe I knew nothing of it. I occasionally caught one or all of them sharing a wicked knowing smile and I'd remember Sachi eating Tiff's pussy or sucking Brian's cock. I was sure the little I knew only scratched the surface of what all of them had shared. My wife now had a stronger connection to Brian than I did.

Tiffany had as much fun dressing Sachi as she had dressing herself. Tiff had a million ideas. She swept through the store with a trained eye, throwing together outfits for them both, showing much more skin than ever before. Tiffany loved her big tits and they looked absolutely stunning; perfect tear-drop shape with peaked nipples sitting way up high. They were easily three times bigger than before. As a delightful side-effect, her nipple sensitivity was now off the chart and they were in a virtually constant state of erection. This meant Tiff could no longer go bra-less at work but her increased sex-drive more than made up for it, at least in my opinion. I'd given her a few orgasms with nothing more than breast and nipple stimulation, combined with a lecherous narration of her previous exploits and that was all it took. She has memories tucked away that I know nothing about.

Neither of us expected that result but as soon as she started going out in public she started coming home aroused. Her gorgeous face and shapely ass and legs had always drawn attention but now her tits gave her a proportioned and wildly sexy body that screamed for attention. Men and women hit on her often and aggressively. She took no one up on their offers but she sure loved getting them. In fact, since that night all those weeks ago, Tiffany showed no interest in other men at all. Enough time passed I started to miss her slutty side and a few days ago I began dropping little hints or pointing out hot guys while we were out. She ignored them all. Finally, the weekend rolled around.

Saturday morning Tiffany said she was going shopping for more clothing and wanted us to go out that night.

"Dancing? Drinks? Dinner? Friends?" I asked.

"None of the above. Well, I guess drinks. I want to take you to the strip club I went to with Bee."

That tripped me up but I recovered quickly. "Okay," I said. She missed the pause. "Spearmint Rhino, right?"

"Right. Have you ever been?"

Oh boy. Lies or truth? Truth, then. At least mostly truth. "Yes, once, a while back. But I didn't stay long and didn't interact with the strippers."

"Cool. I want to leave the house at nine, okay?"

"Sounds good."

Not the total truth and I was really glad she asked for no more details. I kissed her goodbye and worked in the yard while she shopped. She got home around six and started to get ready. When she stepped out of the bedroom, I was dazzled. The big tits were a great idea because what she had on made her the sexiest woman I'd ever seen. She wore a white, body-hugging, and well above the knee, slightly see-through dress with long flowing sleeves. She obviously wore nothing underneath. The clingy fabric followed every curve, up and over her ass, under and around her breasts. The neckline was crew but the back was open all the way down to the two dimples above her butt. Smoking. Hot.

I wore jeans and a white polo shirt, topped by a black sports coat.

As we pulled into the parking lot I noticed the front lit up much more than last time. On the marquee out by the street a sign flashed, "Auditions Tonight-Amateurs Only."

Ah, now I get it. I strongly suspected I'd be watching my sexy wife dance topless in front of a hundred strangers. I felt that familiar tingling in my balls. This was going to be good.

Turns out, that's exactly what happened. For three hours I watched Tiff tease and strut, slowly eliminating the other girls in the competition until only my wife remained and they handed her the trophy and a thousand dollars. She was also offered a job dancing if she wanted it. She found me at my booth and handed over the trophy. We did a few celebration shots together and slammed our tumblers on the table.

"A grand!" she yelled. We laughed wildly.

Two shots later she excused herself. "I'm going to talk to the club manager about the position. If I can do it whenever I'm in the mood, I'll consider it. I have no interest in an every-weekend arrangement but the occasional Friday or Saturday night sounds fun."

She kissed my lips and left for the back office. I wondered if a casting-couch situation would develop but she was back in fifteen minutes.

"I'm in," was all she said. I presumed she'd let me know the nights she'd be dancing. My wife was now a part-time stripper. Hot.

We drank and talked and watched the girls dance one after the other. My balls tingled knowing soon my wife would be one of them, guys giving her money, staring at her naked tits, feeling her up, trying desperately to get into her pussy. I suspected the rare guy would succeed and that made me horny.

I thought about the guys she'd been with since my trip overseas and Angelo popped into my head. I asked her if she'd ever heard from him again and she gave me a blank stare.

“Why did you ask me that?”

I saw a flash of guilt behind her eyes, quickly hidden. What was going on here?

I decided to roll the dice and fudge the truth.

“I was just surprised the way he disappeared. By the sound of it over the phone, your connection to him was really intense. I expected you to have a lot more sex with him once I said you were free but you never said his name again.”

She held my eyes, searching, weighing what her response might do to me.

“I never stopped seeing him. Angelo was my little secret, my guilty pleasure. I'd slip away from you and I'd slip away from Brian and go see him. Our sex is always insane. He's a fucking animal.”

Isn't she just full of surprises? I pondered what else she had hidden and when I would finally hear about it.

“Why keep him secret?”

“I'm not exactly sure. Mostly because I liked having a secret from all of you. I always felt so decadent and naughty when I'd sneak away to see him.”

“When did you see him last?”

“Yesterday.”

She kind of ducked her head and gave me a goofy, embarrassed look. Tiffany had gotten hard-fucked just yesterday and I'd known nothing.

“When? You came right home after work.”

“Lunch time. He lives close to my office and works from home.”

“We had sex last night.”

“Yes, we did. You mentioned how wet I was but that wasn't all me.”

I remembered something and my eyes grew big. “I went down on you!”

She slid closer in the booth. “Yes, Baby, you did, and you ate some sperm while you did it without complaining. In fact, you made me cum really hard and I kind of flooded your mouth and you loved it. You've eaten Angelo and Brian many times. I get a perverse thrill from it. Bitchy, I know, but hot as fuck too. I've sucked your dick after it's been in my pussy and after you've played two hours of basketball. It's only a big deal if you retro actively make it one. You're still straight aren't you?"

"Yes, of course."

"Then relax, Honey. If it makes you feel better they've eaten yours without knowing too. What's the deal with guys anyway? You act like sperm is poison."

I'm not homophobic as far as I can tell but the idea I'd gulped down semen made me queasy. Tiffany raised good points but I was going to need a minute with this one. I was irritated with her. I let her do pretty much whatever she wants but this kind of crossed a line. I gazed out across the bar and watched hot girls dance half-naked. I felt better already.

"I told you I wanted to watch you suck a cock with me, remember?"

"Yes, and I told you I wasn't too sure about that one."

"Exactly," she shrugged. "You did not say no way, you did not say don't even think it. You did not get angry or insulted. You were vague and undecided. I decided for us."

I gulped some whiskey and subconsciously swished it around, sterilizing my mouth. An absurd gesture, of course, but I did it anyway. I was mildly pleased Brian and Angelo had eaten my cum too. Take that, bastards. I'd had enough of this club and was ready to go home. Tiff and I watched the dancers for a while in uncomfortable silence broken only by the occasional comment.

"You're upset," she eventually volunteered.

"Kind of, yeah. Humiliated, really. Thank God those guys didn't know either. You played a big joke on all of us."

"All right, Baby, I'm sorry. I get what you're saying. I shouldn't have done it. I won't do it again. I did play a joke on you but I swear I thought it was a harmless one. I respect that you're upset. I went too far. Let's go home and fuck."

God, I'm such a puppet sometimes. Her big sorrowful eyes and soft voice melted me. She felt bad for hurting me and I cared more about her feeling bad than my own hurt. The three hours of watching her dance and flirt combined with alcohol and other hot girls all around had me pretty horny so heading home for sex sounded awesome. I'd force me penis down her throat to punish her for what she'd done and then fuck her really hard.

"Okay," I said.

We made it thirty feet.

“Hey guys.”

I turned to see who spoke and there were Brian and Sachi. He wore a black polo shirt and jeans but she wore a flowing, gauzy, sheer white dress that ended well above the knees and showed her small dark nipples perched high on her big tits. Tiff moved forward to hug them but I took a second longer. Sachi stunned me.

We grabbed the closest booth and started talking. I caught the waitress and ordered a new round of drinks and then raised a toast to friendships, old and new.

There was no denying the electric connection between Brian and Tiffany. She'd liked him from the very start and now, after all they'd shared, she liked him even more. He told Sachi to trade places with him and the seating now went me, Tiffany, Brian, and then Sachi. We were back from the stages and the curved walls of the booth offered more protection.

This was not the Brian I remembered. This Brian was assertive and aggressive and daring. I heard him tell Sachi to take his cock out and she did without hesitation and draped it down his lap between his open legs, petting it like a snake. Of course I stole a glance at it. Up close it was absolutely daunting. Tiffany was overtly staring right at it, not giving a shit who noticed. I suspected these guys knew the club employees pretty well but why push it? Before anything happened I suggested we all head back to the house as Tiffany and I lived closest to the club. They all agreed and Sachi tucked Brian away.

Out in the parking lot Sachi announced she was riding with me and Tiffany should ride with Brian. My heart skipped a little. I knew what that meant. I said nothing and opened the door to our Mercedes for Sachi as Brian opened the door to his 4-Runner. I pulled into traffic and Brian pulled in behind me.

“They're going to fuck,” Sachi informed me a minute later.

“I know.”

“Do you want to fuck me? We could make it a foursome.”

I looked over at her. God she was beautiful. She leaned back against the passenger door, pulling the fabric of her dress tightly across her big tits. With one eye on the road and the other on her I drank her in. She lifted her butt and tugged her dress and casually slid the material up her thighs. She had a smooth and hairless pussy with dark inner lips protruding slightly. She opened the front of her dress and exposed her gorgeous tits. She pushed a finger inside and then leaned over and slipped it into my mouth. I sucked her cunt juice off it.

“Tiff says you don't fuck other girls. She says only she gets to play. Is that true?”

I sighed. “Yes.”

“Why?”

“It feels right.”

Sachi considered this. “Do you know how much sex she's had with other people?”

“I doubt she tells me everything.”

“That girl's a freak. I like dick but that girl's a freak.”

I chuckled.

“I mean it,” she continued. “Guys, girls, blacks, anal, gang-bang...She does it all. Did you know that about her?”

“No,” I lied. “Why are you telling me?”

She pouted. “Just trying to get you to fuck me. I think you're hot. Intelligence is so sexy. I love Tiff but I kind of hate her. She has everything. Lucky bitch. She knows I like you. Brian doesn't but after I suggested we take different cars he might. At least let me suck it.”

Sachi did not wait for me to answer. She turned in her seat and slipped the seat-belt off her shoulder. Her head dropped into my lap and down came my zipper. I said nothing, paralyzed with conflict.

Her hot mouth and swirling tongue settled any argument. She sucked my penis like a professional but she had no intention of making me climax. I think she still hoped I'd fuck her. She leisurely worshiped my dick and balls as best she could and I drove on in silence. In the rear-view mirror I saw Tiffany lower her head to Brian's lap too.

I did fuck her, eventually, but not that night. That night I watched as Brian fucked both women to exhaustion. He had become quite the consummate stud. Sachi came hard and fast and curled up next to Tiff and licked and sucked her all over. Brian turned his attention to my wife and I saw their true relationship revealed. He was her Sex God. She loved his cock and in a way loved him too. She came on him easily but the orgasms were earthshaking. He could just make her cum seemingly at will. His cock fit her pussy like a puzzle piece, touching and rubbing and stretching her in all the right ways. The way they moved together was beautiful and sexy. Of course his cock reached her cervix with every thrust and Tiffany lost her mind. He'd push the whole thing in and hold it there and we'd all watch Tiffany go crazy.

In the end, just an hour before dawn, he filled my wife with a bucket of hot potent sperm and then we all slept. Brian and Sachi stayed with us all weekend and then came back frequently for the next four weeks. It was the last week that I finally fucked Sachi and it was with Tiffany's blessing and help. I will never forget looking down at both those gorgeous faces, my balls in one mouth and my penis in the other. I made sure Sachi drank what I gave her. Tiffany looked down right disappointed but Sachi was right; Tiff already had everything .
