

Vacation at Hotel Eros Part Two

BY MATTHEW LEE

Vacation at Hotel Eros Part Two

André pulled over a lounge chair on the opposite side of Janie and sat on the edge so his big cock and balls swung free between his legs. He wasn't aimed right at Janie, but he was close. It was difficult for me to tell for certain but I'd guess André about the same length as Billy, maybe a little longer, but clearly thicker. Where Billy had been smooth André was veiny.

I felt my nuts tighten when I saw Janie take a blatant look at it. André saw her too and smiled. So much had changed in such a short time. Just a few days ago and Janie would never have stared at a men's penis like that, at least not in a way that he would know. Her new confidence allowed her to; if he was going to bare it, she was going to look at it.

André was older than the two of us but in great shape. No fat on him anywhere. He had more body hair than Billy and fewer muscles, but just looking in his eyes you saw how smart and well educated he was. Billy was bright but young with a lot to learn. André was worldly and sophisticated.

"So," he began. "What have you two love-birds been up to while on your vacation? Anything interesting?"

"André," Janie answered. "Every single minute of this vacation has been intensely interesting. Now you are here and everything just became even more interesting. Tell me more about yourself."

André looked at me a little surprised by Janie's confident response. He laughed.

"Well, I hope I can live up to such pressure."

"You have the advantage of being handsome," Janie said. "Your audience will stay and listen just to look at you."

I felt a little embarrassed by her obvious flirting and I think André did too at first, but soon he was letting the compliments roll off his back as he regaled us.

Just like in the sauna, André was passionate about his tales. Soon he was on his feet and gesturing, playing different characters and using different voices. Janie loved him, laughing constantly and egging him on. Even I had to admit he was tremendously entertaining and remember; I wanted to drag my wife upstairs and fuck her.

As he began, Janie sat up straight in her chair. He told one story after another, his arms waving and his pendulous cock flopping, bouncing, and swinging back and forth. Often times when André paused, his penis was mere inches away from her face. I knew she had done it intentionally. She saw on my face that I knew what she was up to and she couldn't have cared less. She smiled and twice when André was busy talking to me, she lowered her gaze and studied his cock up and down.

Thank God André had the decency to leave the episode last night alone. I'm sure he had questions but he acted as if the awkward moment in the lobby had never happened. There were so many times I saw his eyes travel over Janie. The hunger in them was obvious. I know Janie saw it too and this time it did not make her nervous or uncomfortable. This time she did not shy away from it. In fact, she welcomed it, meeting his gaze and smiling, flirting like she never had before in her life.

The crowd around the pool had grown and most chairs were taken now. We were still fairly isolated down at the far end but we were not alone. Finally André decided he needed a break and begged off any more stories. Janie was genuinely disappointed. Her eyes glowed as he spoke. André lay down on his lounge on his back. The two of us did likewise. We all still chatted but now we were facing the sun instead of each other.

I glanced over at my lovely wife. A light sheen of sweat gleamed on her skin, highlight the fit muscles just beneath. Her big firm breasts slid a little off to the sides toward her arms pits. On glorious display to anyone that wanted to look were her perfectly hairless pussy and slightly swollen nipples.

What a passer-by couldn't see, of course, was contained within that pussy were hundreds of millions of sperm busily seeking her egg, and none of them were mine. Over the last twenty-four hours Billy had pumped my wife full of as much semen as he could get into her. With each passing minute the chance that one of them would find her egg and impregnate her increased. I frantically needed to get her upstairs and have her take a pregnancy test, and if it proved positive, take the next steps to correct it. Additionally, Billy had claimed her all night. I ached to take her back.

But she was enjoying the torture she was inflicting on me way too much. When André joined us he interrupted my plans and gave Janie the window she needed to continue my mental and emotional agony. She had discovered this new game and wasn't about to abandon it so easily.

I was baking in the sun, trying to calculate my next move when I heard André speak.

“Janie darling, would you mind spraying me with my sunscreen? I think I’m overdue for a new coat.” Janie quickly agreed to help. Both of them stood and André held his arms out to the side as Janie worked the little aerosol pump. He slowly turned as she covered him, spraying first and then rubbing it in with her free hand. Once the top half was complete she knelt on a towel and he continued slowly turning. She sprayed his butt and rubbed it in; she sprayed his hamstrings and rubbed that too.

Like a full moon rising, André’s big cock slowly came into view as he rotated. She sprayed his thighs and rubbed it in. Then she stopped. André’s heavy lance hung directly before her, his big balls drawn up tight to his body. She viewed every square inch of it, studying it, learning it. It appeared to mesmerize her. What I didn’t know was that sex with Billy had changed her opinion of big cocks. Now she found them fascinating. Now she felt drawn to them.

The head was a perfect tapered mushroom and the shaft expanded and thickened behind it. Crisscrossed with spidery veins and arteries just beneath the skin it possessed a powerful animal masculinity. There was no mistaking this appendage. It radiated male power and authority.

When she looked up and met his eyes, he was smiling. She smiled too.

“It’s really very beautiful,” she gushed, which surprised me. I thought she might find it too raw, perhaps a little disgusting.

“I’m delighted you think so.”

“I do. It’s quite virile and manly, if you don’t mind my saying so.”

Of course, she was having an effect on him. She’s gorgeous and on her knees just a few inches away from his naked penis. Not affecting him was impossible. André began to fill and expand.

“May I, André?” she asked.

“Of course my love.”

I felt my second public erection growing and did not try to fight it.

Janie sprayed sunscreen on her palm. André’s cock angled out and down from his body like a tree branch. She reverently wrapped her fingers around the middle of his shaft and began to stroke back and forth, spreading the lotion from the base to the head, coating him thoroughly.

She handled his balls separately, spraying again and covering them one at a time. Her attention to detail was fascinating. Obviously taking much more time than was necessary, she even traced a big vein running along the side all the way back to his testicles, which she then hefted, feeling their prodigious weight.

André was now half hard and a deeper shade of pink. She gripped the loose skin on the shaft and pumped a few times. My penis stood up from my lap, straining to grow even bigger, but of course it didn't. Many in the crowd watched Janie's performance with André. Most of them knew Janie and I were together. Many had seen her sunscreen performance with Billy. My face blushed red as I saw their smirking faces. What they thought of Janie was obvious.

“ I should probably stop now.”

André looked around. “I suppose so, although I doubt our assembled audience would mind if you didn't, and Lord knows I wouldn't.”

Janie grinned and turned towards me. “Honey?” she said. “I have extra lotion on my hands. Here.” She caressed my balls and erect penis with her slick hands. It felt amazing. Under the pretense of using the last of the sunscreen to protect me, she slowly jerked my shaft, giving me a hand-job, squeezing harder than she ever had before. I spotted André watching us intently, his calculating mind fast at work deciphering what he was seeing; perhaps understanding a little bit the game of torture Janie was playing with me. Intense sensations electrified my brain and before I could stop myself, I ejaculated a small puddle onto my stomach, gasping for breath quietly to not draw us any attention.

Janie leaned over and whispered in my ear, her heavy breasts resting against my right arm.

“ Aw, my love. Looks like you'll need a little more time to take back what's yours.”

She then discretely guided one of my fingers between her labia, coating it with Billy's slimy jizz. I groaned with excitement and frustration. My wife was rapidly becoming a master tease and thoroughly relished the role.

I jumped in the pool and swam several hard laps. It was almost too much to bear. Janie was driving me crazy but in the best possible way.

Our lives had turned outside-down in such a short time. We both agreed when the vacation was over we went back to our old lives but now I was beginning to wonder if that were possible. Genies do not go back in bottles. I did not see Janie returning to the strict, disciplined, serious business woman she had been. I knew she would never display slutty behavior back at home and especially not around family and friends, but could she just drop all that we had gained here at the resort? I doubted it. I imagined our life back home would look almost the same from the outside but we would need to take steps to keep it exciting on the inside. I had no idea what those steps might be.

I pulled myself up and sat on the edge of the pool, shook the water out of my hair. I checked on Janie and saw she and André were about thirty feet away and engaged in animated conversation. André sat now at the end of Janie's lounge chair, facing her. Janie sat up straight now too. Their legs were on the outside of the chair which meant they were spread wide open at each other. I'm sure Janie's tight pussy lips had parted and André loved the show, but I'm sure André's big cock was flopped on the chair pointing right at Janie so no doubt she had a show to enjoy too. By her obvious flirting it seemed to me that Janie intended to fuck André. I remembered that first day she met him and how flustered he made her.

I thought about it and realized once I weighed it, Billy was actually less threatening than André. Billy was Chippendale Dancer beautiful and had a crush on Janie and she had really enjoyed him. But Billy just didn't have the complexity to steal Janie away from me. André did, and then some.

I again looked over at them talking. Janie's conversation with André was very different than her conversations with Billy. With Billy it seemed like she was always eager to stop talking and get to the sex. With André, the desire for him was just as intense, if not more so, but it was a slower burn. The stimulating conversation just kept heightening the tension. She wanted André, and wanted him badly, but the more she got to know him, the more of him she wanted to know. That worried me.

From that first day by the pool her desire for him had been building. She found him handsome and sexy, but also attractive and compelling. This was a grown man; confident, poised, composed, thoughtful, educated, sophisticated. Toss in André's lean body and Superman cock and I had to ask myself; was I being a fool here? André was pure trouble.

I considered my options. The first best thing I could do and would do is talk to her about how I was feeling and what I thought I saw. Then I'd get her thoughts and feelings on the table and we would figure out a way forward. That's how we always handled our issues. Any attempt to separate them or forbid her to speak to him were just folly and frankly disrespectful.

I don't own her. I want her and want her to want me. I love her and want her to love me.

They were still talking. I had to talk to her before she tried something with André, assuming she would, and by the way she kept eyeballing that spear of flesh lying between his leg, it was a safe assumption.

I went back to lie down and André moved back to his chair. After a while we all turned over onto our stomachs.

Eventually we'd had enough sun and I waited to see what Janie would do; invite him to continue his time with us or let him know we'd see him later. She asked me if I was ready to go back to our room and I said yes, so she thanked André for an exceptionally interesting afternoon and we gathered our things and left. I wanted to jump for joy but I played it cool.

The sun always drains us so after our shower Janie pulled me down to the bed for a nap. I had opened all the sliding glass doors and a nice warm breeze circulated through our suite. Waves crashed in the distance. I slid my head down Janie's flat stomach until it rested just below her belly button. She parted her legs a little, no sure where I was going with it. I lightly caressed her thighs with my fingertips.

“André intimidates me,” I blurted.

She placed a hand on my head and stroked my hair softly.

“I know he does, Baby. I see it in your eyes.”

I waited for her to go on but apparently she was waiting for me to go on.

“Our eyes give us away don't they Janie? That's why he intimidates me; what I see in yours when you look at him.”

She continued petting me for a minute, considering her response.

“I won't lie Mark. He's no Billy. Billy was great fun and I loved that the hot, popular guy from high school finally wanted me. That was kind of a fantasy come true. I think in time he would have fallen in love with me. I never would have returned it though. The best he could have hoped for was a serious infatuation. But you're right, André is something else altogether.”

She left that statement hanging in the air. I waited until I realized she was continuing with her 'torture my husband' game. She had meant every word she said, she just wasn't going to soften the blow or reassure me. This was an opportunity for her to be completely honest and also stir the embers of desire. I knew I had to prod her.

“ I'd ask if you want him but I already know that answer. Instead I'll ask if you are going to follow up on your desire for him. Is anything going to happen between you two? Especially given that I've shared my fears with you?”

“ I'm sorry Baby, but yes. I'm drawn to him. Have you seen the way he looks at me? He gives me goose bumps and makes me wet, with just his eyes. There's something special about him. I could tell you not to worry but I'd just be sugar-coating it. I can promise you I won't destroy our marriage for him. Does that help?”

I scoffed. There can be a lot of hard road before a marriage is finally destroyed. I considered putting my foot down and stopping this thing before it ever happened but it occurred to me it may be too late. Would Janie obey me? For the first time ever I imagined her sneaking behind my back. For André she just might. I felt ice-water in my guts as I realized she probably would, and I found that thought perversely arousing. I'm a twisted mess. I loved that she wanted it so much that she'd go behind my back, because that made her such a ravenous sexual creature, but loathed the thought of André sweeping her off her feet.

I wiggled my head lower, closer to her mons. She hesitated a split-second before opening her legs a little wider. I inched closer and she brought her heels up to her butt.

I wondered if I was losing her to André. I couldn't compete with that man on any level. All I had over him was that Janie already loved me and the life we had shared up to this point. I admit my gut-reaction was to pack up our shit and flee this place.

But if I didn't trust her now could I ever trust her later? If I didn't trust her now how would I know she was trustworthy? The proposition was scary as fuck but I had to risk it. If it was doomed to end better now than after wasted years. My heart was filled with love for her. In spite of my own fears I still wanted her to be happy. I just hoped her happiness meant staying with me and that's not as pathetic as it sounds. That's the same reality each of us faces in every relationship every day.

I shuffled farther down and now saw her smooth pussy. I slipped my tongue out and gently licked her clitoris with the tip. Her air left her lungs in a rush.

“ Mark?” she breathed. “Are you sure you want to do that? Think about it for a second Honey.”

Of course I knew what she was warning me about; Billy still filled her. I pondered that fact as I snaked my tongue out across her clit again, sending a jolt of electricity through her.

“ Oh Baby... Fuck that's hot and nasty... You want me that much Mark? Do I make you that hot? Do you have to have me?”

I growled and moved closer, slipping my tongue down and in. Hot, salty liquid welcomed me. I moved my body between her legs and spread her open. She moaned loud and deep. I pushed my strong tongue as far up inside her as I could get it and she put both hands on the back of my head and ground her hips into my face. I tasted the mix of her and Billy and it drove me crazy with lust. My sweet slutty wife.

I wasn't too concerned about me. In fact, it was still too soon and I didn't even get hard. But I worked her over in a fevered frenzy using my lips and tongue. When I pushed an index finger up her ass, reminding her of what Billy had taken from her, she arched her back and exploded in climax. I slowed down but kept my tongue working through it until after a few minutes she pushed my head away. I moved up and spooned her, wiping my face with the pillow, and that's how we fell asleep.

I awoke before her just as the sun was setting, filling our room with brilliant oranges, yellows, and reds. She stirred next to me and stretched like a cat, then turned to face me, looking deep into my eyes.

“ You know I love you with all my heart, right?” she asked.

“ Yes, Darling, I do.”

“ Good. That was hot Honey. You surprised me. I thought no guy on earth would ever do that, given the circumstances. I came so hard.”

“ I loved it. I love making you cum.”

She pulled the cover back, exposing both our naked bodies. She reached down and cupped my testicles.

“ I imagine these guys are working over-time right now. You can have me whenever you want me Baby. Just throw me down and fuck me like I'm your little slutty wife.”

“ That's good to know Angel.”

We rose and showered and dressed and went downstairs to eat. After dinner we wandered some shops, buying a few more dresses for her and another pair of swim trunks for me. We took our time, enjoyed being a couple, laughed and held each other close as we walked. We behaved like newlyweds except we hadn't acted this intimate back when we actually were newlyweds. As remarkable as it seems, everything we had done had only served to bring us closer. It was amazing.

I was examining an onyx and marble chess set when Janie came up and slipped an arm around my waist and whispered into my ear.

“When we get back to the room, it's time for me to take another test.”

My heart skipped a beat but I nodded my head. I remembered we'd passed a pharmacy on our stroll so if it came back positive, I knew where to go. If it came back positive. Why was that so exciting? For both of us! How many taboos had we smashed and destroyed so far on this trip?

Her comment brought back to me how she was walking around with Billy inside her. Had she mentioned it to excite me? To excite us both? Or was that her way of telling me she was moving past the Billy experience and it was time to act at least a little responsible again? I thought about asking her to clarify but decided I liked not knowing more.

Hours later we dragged ourselves back to the room, laden with shopping bags. We zipped back downstairs for a quick snack and then back up to put things away. When we'd finished Janie sat looking at me with an expectant grin.

“Ready?” I asked. She nodded. We moved to the bathroom and she broke open another test. She peed on it over the toilet then started a bath. We waited. Minutes later a little red line appeared. Negative. Janie carried no one's baby.

We watched each other waiting for the other to react. Then we realized what we were doing and laughed our asses off. When we finally regained our composure she stepped towards me and laid her head on my chest and sighed. I held her. A tornado of emotions played through us both. The coming conversation seemed to me like an ugly, unpleasant, tangled mess. I decided to avoid the whole thing by pulling from my pocket two tickets I had purchased on our evening excursion.

“How about a movie?”

Her eyes lit up.

“Let me get ready. Great idea Honey!”

It was past midnight by the time we returned to our room and we were both exhausted. We stripped and fell into bed and were asleep in just a few seconds. The next day was more of the same; we rose early and ate and shopped, really enjoying each other's company. We laughed and talked and just took pleasure in our relationship, knowing how lucky we were. After noon we skipped the pool for the beach. With each passing minute we were closer and more in love.

Back in our hotel room we showered together, helping each other get the sand and sunscreen off. We had not seen or heard from André for two days and I was feeling relieved. Janie and I had never felt this close before.

That night when we went to bed I stroked her hair and kissed her and the dam burst. Our love-making was intense and prolonged and at one point Janie sucked me to get me really wet, then rolled me on my back and seated my penis at her sphincter. She smiled at the surprise on my face and began to lower herself until I was balls-deep in her ass.

It felt astonishing. She was so insanely tight I could not imagine how Billy had taken her like this. She read my mind and leaned down to kiss me and whispered in my ear, "he took much, much longer to get all the way inside me. For him I was on my back with my legs spread so wide. My ass clamped down on him Baby, like a vise. I came so hard I passed out. I'd heard of anal orgasms but never believed in them but I sure do now."

My heart jumped and blood surged and I held her hips and fucked up into her ass. She loved it so I pounded her harder and she loved that too. I was planning on taking it up another level but it felt so amazing my orgasm arrived a little too quickly, which she also loved, and I shot my load as deep as I could get it. She collapsed on top of me.

We rinsed off again and got back in bed and tried to sleep but both fidgeted until she went down on me and sucked out another load. Finally we slept.

In the morning I started our day by returning the favor and going down on her. No trace of Billy remained and when Janie climaxed she actually called out my name. She hadn't done that in years. We showered and once again were out the door.

The resort town was seemingly limitless in the ability to entertain. We discovered there were trails leading back into the hills which followed a river and eventually led us to a small pool. We had worked up a sweat climbing and decided a quick dip would feel fantastic. I had my trunks on and Janie had a new bikini under her shorts and T-shirt so we stripped to our swimsuits and jumped in. The water was just a touch too cold, but invigorating, and we soon got used to it. I settled on a rock under some fern leaves that left my upper body out of the water and Janie swam up between my knees. We floated.

Before too long we heard footsteps and a young, blond-haired college-age guy rounded the corner and dropped his backpack. He scanned the trail quickly up and down. Satisfied, he stripped off his T-shirt and dropped his shorts and underwear and started to step into the pool. His body was virtually hairless and incredibly cut. His muscles had muscles. His penis wasn't huge but was still obviously bigger than mine and I heard Janie say "Nice..." under her breath.

He was waist deep when he finally noticed us.

"Holy shit!" he exclaimed.

We laughed. He started a rapid-fire apology and explanation about how he came here every day and nobody else ever came here and he loved hiking and oh my God I'm so sorry. I said no worries brother but Janie said, "Oh, my pleasure."

He stayed under the water to his chin at first but relaxed soon enough until he would come out of it down to his waist. His body was insane. Billy has been built but this guy was intensely cut, like an Olympic athlete, and tan and Janie kept scanning every inch of him.

Once he calmed down and got over his shock he really loosened up and became quite the conversationalist and his quick-wit had both of us laughing. He introduced himself as Jason and said he was taking a year off from Cornell to travel and meet people. We introduced ourselves and that we were married and on vacation. He apologized again for skinny-dipping on us. I told him to relax, no harm, no foul, but Janie mentioned we usually lay out in the nude section of the pool and peeled off her top. Jason's eyes grew big as he gazed at her breasts. Next she reached under the surface of the water and her bottoms joined her top over on the shore. When I hesitated Janie shot me a look. What could I do? I slipped my trunks off and tossed them next to Janie's bikini.

"There," she said to Jason. "Now you can relax."

"That's so cool. You guys are awesome. You're like the coolest couple I've ever met."

We all small-talked a while longer until Janie said, "I hate to bother you guys but I'm sore from all the hiking. Honey, will you rub my feet and Jason, would you mind rubbing my neck?"

Of course we said no problem and we all re-positioned ourselves accordingly; I sat on a slightly lower rock and Janie put her feet in my lap under water. Jason moved closer to us and Janie floated towards him. I wasn't sure because I couldn't see through the ripples and the sun's refraction, but if she wasn't seated in his lap, she was very close to it. In just a few second of us rubbing, her head fell back against his chest.

Janie went silent as Jason started talking about the many trails around the island. At one point he talked about a waterfall on the other side of the island and both his hands disappeared under the water as he worked his way down her back. I watched Janie closely and saw her lips part briefly before she shut them again. Was something happening under the water?

When I switched to her left foot Janie's right foot came up gently between my legs and her toes lifted my balls. I looked up at her face but she kept her eyes closed. I was close enough to her that her torso blocked most of Jason from me. Her foot played with my penis for a minute or two and then her shoulder dipped and Jason gasped a little. Now I knew something was going on but I still couldn't see what, exactly. Water started to splash around her arm and after another minute she said, "Alright, that's enough of that. Sit on the edge."

Jason stood and moved to the side of the pool. As he emerged from the water he was already completely hard. He was no André or even a Billy but as I mentioned earlier, he was still bigger than me and now that he was hard I saw he was considerably bigger. He had gained in thickness quite a bit. Janie must have been playing with him under the water.

He sat and opened his legs and Janie was right there waiting. She floated up between his thighs and came from underneath and sucked one of his big balls into her hot mouth. Jason grabbed her hair immediately and started guiding her mouth and tongue all over his sac. I started working my way up her legs but she pushed me back to my seat with her foot and gave me a look and a shake of her head that told me she wanted me to wait. He never even looked at me. He just started tell Janie how hot she was and how sexy she was and how much he wanted to fuck her.

"That's not going to happen Ace," she corrected, "but feel free to feed me your cum." Now that Jason knew the rules he leaned back and let her do all the work. My sweet wife sucked hard on his pole, her cheeks denting in from the force of her intense vacuum. One hand cupped and played with his balls and the other stroked his shaft, trying to make him orgasm as fast as she could.

It was too much for me and I sat on the opposite side of the pool and started jacking off watching Janie work. Jason reached down and pinched her sensitive nipples and played with her big tits. Janie moved the hand playing with his nuts to her pussy and began masturbating while she sucked him. It was so fucking hot! She was actually so turned on by what she was doing and how naughty she was being, she came before he did. A minute later he blew his big load right down her throat. I came in the water.

Janie drifted back across the pool over to me and laid her head on my thigh. She looked up and told me to give her a kiss. I hesitated for only a second and then I leaned down and kissed her lips. She opened her mouth and I faintly tasted Jason's tangy seed.

Once we'd all caught our breath the conversation picked right up again, much more relaxed this time. After thirty minutes or so Jason shook my hand and hugged Janie and said hope to see you guys again, dressed and continued up the trail. We dressed a little while later and headed back to the hotel.

“ So,” Janie offered, as we tramped down the hillside. “That was really fucking exciting. How do you feel about what I did?”

“ I love it Darling. I can't get enough. I love watching you behave so sexually. Why did you push me back?”

She looked embarrassed. “I just wanted to suck him off. I didn't want it to turn into full-on sex... and believe it or not I was nervous about someone else coming down the path and catching us. We are in another country, after all. At the hotel they let us get away with murder but away from it like this... I worried.”

“ That makes sense.”

“ Did I hurt your feelings?”

“ Only right at first. But I have to say I love it when you go after sex. I love it when you are clearly turned on and ready to knock down walls to get what you want. The last few days have been wonderful. I feel so close to you, so in-love. That makes moments like that easier to take. I feel more secure. But that sexual-creature side of you; when it rears its head, I get crazy turned-on.”

Janie hooked her arm through mine as we came out of the foothills and saw the hotel. We walked along in silence. I knew something I had said had got her mind working.

Back at the hotel we did our usual freshen up routine and within two hours we were ready to go out again. Janie wore a new short skirt and white cotton top that wrapped around and tied in the front. She tied it a little loose and sometimes when she moved I caught a glimpse of swelling breast.

Janie seemed a little quiet but when I asked her if everything was okay she assured me it was and gave me a kiss on the cheek. I asked her if she was hungry and she answered she'd already eaten and I was about to remind her we'd had nothing since breakfast when I saw her mischievous, laughing eyes. Oh. Jason.

"Actually, Mark, I'm glad you asked. I was thinking we'd go down to the restaurant for an early dinner?"

I said sure, no problem, let me put on my sandals. I slipped my feet in and opened the front door and we headed for the elevators. Janie took my hand in hers. In the elevator, still holding my hand, she leaned up against me and rested her head on my chest. On the walk to the restaurant she put her arm around my waist and I put mine across her shoulders and she leaned full body against me again. I was surprised she was being this affectionate. She likes to touch in public but tonight she was all over me. I soaked it up.

No doubt you see it coming but put yourself in my place; an incredibly gorgeous and sexy woman is all over you, craving your touch. It's distracting, trust me. On top of all that the last few days Janie and I shared had me floating on a cloud.

As soon as the maître d' saw us he waved us over and guided us towards the back of the restaurant. I looked at Janie and smiled. I thought he was doing it because he remembered us and thought we were special. Janie gave me back a crooked smile and an odd look in her eyes I couldn't figure out. What was she thinking?

With a small gesture the maître d' presented our table, with André already seated at it. I tried my best to keep my face passive. I really did. I doubt I was very successful. The table had three chairs; one close to André and one across the table from him. Janie took the chair next to his, sharing a kiss on the cheek, so I sat in the other one. The maître d' told us to enjoy and departed.

My heart was racing. My palms were sweaty. My lungs were way too small to handle the amount of air I needed at the moment and I tried to force myself to be calm. This was obviously arranged, but when and how had Janie arranged it?

André and Janie sat passively, waiting for me to regain my composure. She had her hand resting on his. The table seemed huge. I had to scan the edges to make sure it wasn't nine feet to a side. Janie looked so far away.

"How?" I croaked. "When?"

"When we got back to the hotel, while you were showering. We traded numbers at the pool, while you were swimming."

I remembered André sitting on the end of her chair. I remembered them talking earnestly. I remembered something about the way they were talking to each other had disturbed me.

I looked back and forth between them.

"So, here we all are. What does this mean? An enchanting dinner with a new friend?"

Janie answered, smiling warmly at me. "Something like that."

She lifted her chair and brought it around to my side of the table. I know this sounds lame and weak but just having her close again was comforting. She put her right hand on my thigh and her left hand against my face.

"My Love," she breathed. She leaned in and softly kissed my lips. I'll admit it; I was nervous. "You made me call out his name, remember? You made me imagine gorgeous André was behind me, fucking me with his Godly cock. Do you remember how hard that made me cum?"

I did and told her so. I glanced at André and discovered he was smirking. Had Janie already told him what I'd done?

"I've been thinking about it ever since, wishing I could feel the real thing. Then Billy taught me about size and I realized André behind me would feel so very different from you behind me and I wanted it even more."

André leaned into the conversation. "Janie, my love, if I may interject here?" Janie and I looked over at him. "Mark, Janie already knows this but you do not; Billy told me everything. Everything. We bumped into each other often when watching various sporting events in the bar. After that night in the lobby where the four of us encountered each other, I asked questions the next time I saw him. He was quite forth-coming."

André leaned in more and lowered his voice. "I know things about your wife and about Billy, and about your wife and Billy, that you don't even know, and I'm sure that stings, but if I had to guess, I'd say that sting also brings you excitement."

He waited for a response but I didn't give him one. He was right; my heart was racing and my penis tingling, but I wasn't about to admit that to him.

"Tonight, as you suggested, let's enjoy an enchanting dinner between friends. Tomorrow will bring some changes."

I had no idea what he meant. Janie squirmed in her seat a bit but stayed by my side. I was on edge, ready for anything.

But I wasn't ready for the delightful dinner which followed. Goddamn André. I tried to hate him but couldn't. He was charming and funny and humble and quick-witted. He couldn't help it. Before long we were all laughing and talking like old friends. Janie stayed glued to my side, her leg usually touching mine under the table. I had no idea where all of this was headed. It was intoxicating.

After a few hours I felt the evening winding down and wondered what was coming. Anxiety began to fill me from head to toe. Janie picked up on it and snuggled even closer to me.

Then, all at once, we were finished. André paid the bill leaving a huge tip, bowed at the waist to us both and said his good-nights, and was gone. I chased two peas around my plate with a fork for half a second and then looked up at Janie. She was beaming. Her excited eyes danced. Her whole body seemed to be vibrating.

"You're sneaky," I said.

"I am," she admitted after a moment.

I was nervous enough to have cotton-mouth so I took another sip of Chardonnay. I was feeling a little tired of things being done to me so I asserted myself and told her it was time to head back to our room. She continued to cling to me as we walked, rode the elevator, and walked to our room. I really liked it.

Once inside she asked me to shower with her. I thought it was leading to sex so I did, both of us lathering and scrubbing the other. Under the spray I tried getting more details from her about how much she and André had communicated and what they had talked about but she was elusive. At one point I insisted and she stopped and gave me a stern look.

"Mark, Honey, maybe you should stop trying to control so much. Maybe you should trust more and relax and have fun."

I realized how tense I was and took a deep breath. I stared at her for several heartbeats and then relented. What else could I do? She always had the option of dropping our whole adventure and I really didn't want that to happen. She pecked me on the lips.

"Good, thank you. Now stand still."

She grabbed her shower trimmer but she had no hair left to cut. Then she gripped my penis.

"Come closer," she said. "And don't move."

I froze as she brought the trimmer down to my pubic hair and turned it on. I'm not a hairy guy at all; just a little on my chest, some on my legs and in my armpits.

She placed the tiny teeth just under my belly button and began removing my thin trail downward. I wasn't at all sure I wanted this done but I didn't stop her. Next she held my penis up and shaved away around the base, my lower abs, everything over to my thighs. She handed me a disposable razor and said, "Balls." When I didn't move she grabbed a bar of soap and began lathering. "Either you do it or I do it. I figured given the terrain you'd prefer to handle the razor."

I lifted my shaft and ran the razor up, down, all around until my bright pink testicles were clean and hair-free. She rinsed me and stood back to admire the work. She grinned.

"Perfect," she stated.

We exited the shower and began to dry and I moved to the mirror. I had to see what it looked like. I had lost almost all my manliness. I don't have a lot of muscle so the hair was really all I had going for me. I looked twelve, maybe fourteen.

"Hang on," she said. "One last thing."

She used the shower trimmer again and shaved away what little chest hair I had. Okay, now twelve for sure.

She backed towards the bedroom and our big bed, never taking her eyes off my smooth penis. She licked her lips. I followed her into the bedroom. She sat on the edge of the bed and I walked right up between her legs. I had grown half-hard already. She cupped my hairless balls and played with them and when I looked down to watch her I was dismayed. Somehow, with the hair gone and the penis swollen, I looked much smaller than before. She blocked my view with the back of her head as she sucked my dick into her mouth. Holy fuck my wife can suck. After her time with Billy she's even better. She had no trouble whatsoever tilting her jaw and relaxing her tongue and sliding every inch I have into her hot mouth. She used both hands on my hips to pump me back and forth. I was literally fucking her mouth. I held her head and forced myself deeper but she had no problem with it. In no time at all I was close. I pulled out and tried to push her onto her back to fuck her but she resisted. I pushed harder, in case she misunderstood what I was trying to do, but she fought me again.

"No," she flatly stated and returned my penis to her mouth. I admit it was heavenly, but I wanted to be inside my wife. I tried again. We struggled for a moment until she pulled back and said, "Mark, Darling, my pussy already belongs to André. It is off-limits to you. My ass too. You can enjoy my mouth or you can jack yourself off. Which do you prefer?"

My heart sank. So here it comes. If she tries to put me in a chastity cage I'm going to freak out. She went on.

"André is using tonight to emphasize the space between you and I and to expand it. He's a twisted genius. We can snuggle, kiss, even engage in oral sex, but you are not allowed to penetrate me. He will be taking me soon and I need to be perfectly fresh for him."

Her words fell like a hammer. What was I in for? For a split-second I saw myself raping my wife but recoiled from that image in a hurry, shocked my mind had even gone there. She backed away from me farther onto the bed. She took my hands and encouraged me forward. We were now both on our knees facing each other in the middle of the bed. She took my erection in her hand and began stroking.

"I bet I know what your mind is doing right now, Mark. Images of me with André have begun to haunt you, popping up uninvited into your imagination. Am I right?"

Fuck me, she was. I nodded.

"I thought so. Good. I want him so badly. Billy is nothing compared to André. Billy is a boy. André is a man. Remember my hands on André's penis as I spread the sunscreen? Can you imagine that big dick spreading my pussy lips? Sinking into me? Filling every inch of my tiny pussy? Oh my God, I can."

I tried to swallow, failed.

"Mark, just remember you opened Pandora's box. I admit I wanted you to, but I wouldn't have. You did this."

I moaned. Janie stroked faster.

"Now I want to point something out to you; do you realize you still haven't taken my pussy back from Billy? No? Think about it. You took my ass, then we showered and you took my mouth. After that you shot your cum into the waters of the pool."

Her hand moved even faster.

"Billy was the last cock inside me and now André's will be the next one. Does that excite you Baby? Other men keep having your wife but you don't."

She was right! What sub-conscious impulses were at play here? I couldn't hold back anymore. Janie moved to the side and pumped my sperm from me like lotion; one jet, then another. I streaked the sheets with blast after blast, my hips pumping back and forth. She shook out the last drop and wiped her hand on the pillow.

She held my face in both hands and spoke to me seductively. "You love it when I'm a sexual creature? You want me to go after what I want? I'm going to show you how sexual I am really."

The rest of the night was pure torture. Janie rubbed her body against mine and let her fingers stray across to my penis all night long. I felt breasts pressed against my back and hot breath in my ear many times. We'd been sleeping for a few hours when she woke me by squeezing my nuts just a little too hard and once I was awake I was treated to her masturbating in front of me. That totally got to me and she had me jack-off while on my back so she could have me eat her pussy. When I came, she did too.

In the morning I had no idea what the day would bring. Janie said she wanted to lay by the pool so we packed up our stuff but half way there I realized I was about to show everyone my hairless dick. She chuckled at my discomfort but reassured me everything would be fine and I relaxed a little. We arrived just before noon and André was already there with extra chairs for us. Goddamn his dick was impressive. He had taken the center spot so Janie sat on his left and I sat on his right. Twisted genius indeed.

I had been carrying our gear low and in front of my genitals but at last the moment of truth arrived. I dropped Janie's things at her chair and tried to quickly lie down on mine. The removal of the hair made my penis and testicles highly sensitive to warm sunlight and wind and any other day I would have swollen a little, but not today. Today I swear I even shrank a little.

The pool was crowded today with lots of people nearby and I felt unbelievably conspicuous and self-conscious. I glanced down and once again noticed how shaving made me look so much smaller. I knew logically it was surely an optical illusion. With no distinct border showing where stomach ended and penis began the effect was blurred. But I felt so naked and exposed! Why did I allow Janie to shave me?

I looked over at André. His body hair was neatly clipped and trimmed; the line around the base of his cock was laser sharp. His big log clung to his body like a stalactite, his huge hairless balls resting comfortably underneath. When I looked up, Janie was watching me check out André. She grinned with a 'gotcha' look in her eyes. I actually felt myself blush. Damn it. Flustered, I quickly leaned back and returned to tanning. This was all so confusing.

From two chairs away I heard Janie. "Lover, will you sunscreen my back?"

I answered "Of course" and searched for the bottle. The sound of a chair moving made me look up. André was already standing over her squirting lotion onto his palm. What the hell? He leaned down and began spreading the liquid across her shoulders. Her head was turned towards me and she was looking right at me with that same 'gotcha' expression. André stepped across and straddled my wife. He placed a knee outside each thigh and sat down on her legs. His fat cock plopped like a sausage right between her butt cheeks. He began smearing the lotion farther down her back.

"Thank you Baby," Janie said, and the blood in my veins turned to cool water and my stomach flipped over and ate itself. Janie just used our word for each other on André. A minute ago she called him 'lover' and he knew she was talking to him. Had they already been lovers? Now my blood was pumping. My mind raced back over our stay here. The only time we'd been apart long enough was her night with Billy. Had something happened that night with André too? I thought I was going to have a heart attack. I was having trouble breathing. The idea was simultaneously so upsetting and so exciting. Did Janie fuck them both? Oh my God, did she fuck them at the same time? What had André said about being friends with Billy? I racked my brain but could not remember his exact words.

I focused on André riding my wife. His prodigious member was still nestled between Janie's cheeks but had grown some. As I watched them he scooted down a little farther to coat her lower back and his cock dropped down between her legs. I saw her head come up sharply and she groaned. His dick head must be splitting her pussy lips right at this moment. I waited for his hips to push himself forward but he didn't. Jesus, that's self-control. In a minute he continued down her body. His long, veiny cock came back into view. As it drug along the backs of Janie's legs, drooling precum left little snail-trails on her skin. André's semen was on my wife's skin.

Janie thanked him and he returned to his chair. I thought about asking her to use sunscreen on me but it seemed like a petty gesture and honestly, I worried she'd refuse in the spirit of our day. André did make the request of her and she complied. It was similar to what she had done with Billy and André before.

We now had the attention of virtually everyone around us. All we pool-people had seen each other all week and of course we'd all spoken at one time or another. Everyone knew Janie and I were married. Yet here was this well-hung gentleman sitting between me and my wife and touching her and her touching him. Add to that I show up today hairless and shy. They may not have known the details but every one of them knew what was going on. I was deeply embarrassed and ashamed and yet, aroused.

After a while André stood and extended a hand to Janie. She rose and the two of them wandered off to the pool and sat on the edge, their feet in the cool water. They talked but I could not hear them. I again noted the earnestness, the chemistry, the mutual attraction they shared. He made Janie laugh often and genuinely. I think that scared me more than anything else.

She leaned back on her elbows and her glorious body was on succulent display. André dipped a hand into the water and put it on her knee. He then slowly brought it up along her thigh and hip, across her flat abs, along her ribs and then out and over her breast and nipple, drizzling cool water the whole way. Janie's head fell back and he did it again, lingering this time, just a little, on her nipple. He repeated it several more times, totally calm and confident in his privileged access to my wife's body. Everyone watched him and I saw their faces turn from watching them to watching me. Janie parted her legs a bit and André repeated the process once again, this time straying a little off course as his hand dipped between her legs and caressed her labia. Janie's chest had begun to rise and fall from her labored breathing.

He dipped his hand again but this time it wandered Janie's body at random. Like a blind man trying to learn her, he touched and caressed every toned and tanned inch of her. I knew he was driving her crazy.

At last she could take no more. She sat up and said something to him and it was his turn to lie on his back. She bent over and hefted his thick shaft in her hand and pumped the skin twice, then lowered her mouth and engulfed the big head. Her cheeks dented deeply. She began a slow bobbing motion, continuing to stroke his fat shaft, taking more and more on each descent. She bottomed out on his wide spear at about the half-way point.

Janie sucked André's cock in full view of everyone. I was beet-red at the number of people that would switch from watching them to looking at me for a reaction. Two wives began to discreetly blow their husband. It was such an erotic sight. My reaction was part of why I was so embarrassed as starting from the moment she bent her head into his lap, my penis started to harden. I lay on my lounge in the sun with a nice hard, hairless dick pointing straight up as my wife sucked another man's cock.

An older woman approached me and said her name was Robin and offered to help me with my hard-on, saying it looked like I could use some relief, but I declined. Why did I decline? Because I'm a perverted mess. I actually enjoyed the fact that Janie was allowed to touch someone else but I wasn't. The woman was attractive, brunette, with small breasts and a great ass, but I said no thank you. She grinned and said she understood; her ex-husband was just like me, and to let her know if I changed my mind. I said I would. She sat next to me and we watched Janie suck André.

Janie was using both hands and her head jerked rapidly up and down. She was sucking so hard. André ran a hand over her back and tangled the other one in her long hair and took two sharp breaths and then arched his back and blasted a deluge of sperm into Janie's mouth. She swallowed fast and sucked for more and André blasted her twice more, then drew a lungful of air, then shot four or five more times. Next to me Robin said 'Jesus' under her breath, obviously impressed. André wasn't finished. Twice more his hips bucked and I heard Janie slurp.

Robin said, "She gets to have whomever she desires and you get nothing."

My penis was throbbing and leaking cum furiously. Around the pool I saw couples leave, single men rub themselves, and a few others lay back down now that the show was over. My new friend excused herself and walked over to a single guy and started chatting. In three seconds she was giving him a hand-job. Wow.

I couldn't wait and joined the single men rubbing themselves. Janie was looking right at me and wiping her mouth with the back of her hand when I shot my load onto my beach towel. After a bit they rose and held hands and walked back to our chairs. Nobody said anything about it. Ten minutes later hotel security did a quick walk around the pool area but everybody kept their mouths shut.

We all lay back on our chairs once again worshiping the sun, but I could not get the image of André's hard cock out of my mind. That was the first time I'd seen him fully erect and it was the most beautiful cock I'd ever seen. All I saw when I closed my eyes was my lovely bride working that pole like she needed his nectar to live. My skin was a thousand degrees. I was trembling.

I was still running hot when thirty minutes later Janie said, "Mark, Honey, Stay here."

They two of them exchanged hushed words and rose together, tossed on some light clothes, a blue sarong and bikini top for Janie and Khaki shorts and a T-shirt for André, and left the pool area holding hands again.

After twenty minutes I fell asleep. Over two hours later they returned and re-seated themselves. Two hours! Almost two and a half! They did not share with me where they had gone or what they had done but when Janie pulled off her top I saw her swollen nipples and when she stepped out of her sarong her red and puffy pussy lips and that told me everything. I couldn't believe it. Without a word to me, her husband, my wife had gone off to fuck another man. I bet she took him back to our bed. I weighed every possible comment I could make but ended up saying nothing. I was in this all the way. We both were.

Janie reached down and pressed her swollen pussy lips together, sealing everything in, making sure I noticed, and smiled sweetly at me. Fucking sexy bitch. Her pussy was once again full of cum and based on how big his balls were and how much I watched her swallow a few hours ago, André filled her with a gallon.

After another hour André announced he'd had enough and we all agreed. He kissed Janie's hand and shook mine and tossed his clothes back on and left. Janie and I dressed and she avoided my eyes at first but once we were walking snuggled up next to me again. I was surprised but slipped my arm across her shoulder.

"I thought you'd probably leave with him or something like that."

"No Honey, I'm staying with you. Every minute I can."

Her arms went around my waist and squeezed and we walked awkwardly for a time but I was so relieved I didn't mind. I had not expected this turn of events and was afraid to ask questions for fear of getting an answer I didn't like.

We left the pool area and crossed the lobby and once on the elevators I couldn't stand it anymore.

"So how does this work? Are you going out with him tonight? Is he coming to our room? Are you finished with him? When you two left the pool earlier did you have sex?"

Janie was chuckling. She reached her face up to kiss me and when our lips met, she slipped her tongue into my mouth. André. Salty André. She broke the kiss and held my face.

"Yes, husband, we had sex. André fucked me like I've never been fucked before in my life. I came so hard so many times I passed out in our bed for a minute. When I came to he was waiting for me, still hard. Did you see his cock? Can you fucking believe that manly thing? I thought Billy felt amazing. Honey, André inside me is out of this world. I don't know if he just happens to have the perfect shape or the perfect size or thickness or what but I lose my mind when he fucks me. Sweetheart, I love his dick."

"You know, I feel really weird admitting this, but at the pool today when you were sucking him and I finally saw him hard I thought it was beautiful. Is that a strange thing for me to say?"

"No, I totally understand. It is beautiful."

I thought for a moment. "Why are you here with me? I can see how much he excites you. You just admitted you love his dick. Why aren't you with him? Don't get me wrong; I love that you are here. It's just after Billy I thought that's how this works."

"André isn't Billy. Billy actually thought he had a chance of stealing me away from you. I thought it was sweet that he wanted me that badly so I didn't tell him otherwise. André isn't looking for a wife. André loves women. André is a sexual artist and his cock is his brush. He's imaginative. He's told me some of the things he'd like to do and I gave him permission. He's psychological. I told you; twisted genius."

"So I don't have to worry about losing you to him?"

She tried. She really did. If I didn't know her so well I would have missed it. But I do know her and I saw that split-second of extra hesitation.

"No," she lied. "André is incredibly attractive but he'll never settle down. I'd be a fool to think I could capture him. No woman will ever land that guy. Besides Baby, I'm madly in love with you."

But she wondered if she could. I'd seen behind the curtain. Janie was way more attracted to him than she was admitting. She was trying to keep her emotional distance and just enjoy this but she was having a hard time. Maybe she didn't realize the truth yet. Denial is so powerful.

But where did that leave me? My gut told me I'd not have my answer until the end.

"When will you see him again?"

She stopped and stared at the floor.

"Whenever he wants. He loves taking me, but he also loves me away from you. He said one day I'll stop fucking him but until that day, I'll keep choosing him over you. He says the mind is the most sensitive sexual organ. He loves games and has a million ideas. He wanted you shaved and on display at the pool. He wanted everyone to see his power, over both of us. Part of me hates that he's right. He really taps into a submissive side I did not know I had. It's hot. You ready for lunch?"

I stopped in my tracks and raised an eyebrow and she died laughing.

"No! You pervert. I meant food. I want a hamburger and fries."

I thought about what she'd said on the long walk down the hall to our room. Billy had been nerve-wracking but pretty straight forward. Where was this headed? All at once I knew I had to fuck her and fuck her hard. I temporarily only partially saw her as my wife. Mostly I just saw her as the prize.

Inside our room I came up behind her and started kissing her neck. She leaned back into me and moaned softly. I slipped her top off and slipped her sarong down. God, what a body. I walked her forward and as we turned the corner I saw our rumpled bed and big wet spots on the sheets.

"That's hot," I exhaled against her neck. We both looked at the messy bed and what it meant. I licked an earlobe. She reached behind and started jacking me. I stepped out of my remaining clothes.

“Oh, you like that do you? You love it when your wife fucks other men?”

“Especially the ones with cocks bigger than mine.”

“God, me too.”

In a now familiar ritual for us I lay her down on the bed and examined her body. Evidence of André was everywhere. I pushed her legs apart and spread her labia with one hand. A trickle of André leaked out. Her lips were bright pink. Milky cum filled her insides. Why does that excite me so much? Yet, I’m not the only one it excites. Janie enjoys this ceremony as much as I do.

As I investigate her pussy I see her getting wet again; such a naughty wife, presenting your husband with so much proof of your wanton behavior.

“You love being bad,” I mutter

“I do,” she sighs.

“Why? Why baby? What goes on in your head?”

She thinks long before she answers.

“I feel so alive. I’ve done something wild. I mentioned before how all my girlfriends have sexy stories and I don’t. After this vacation, I will.”

“Why do you want their sperm inside you?”

Janie chuckles again.

“I could ask you the same question. Because I’m a woman and that’s where it goes. Anything else means it was wasted. I love walking around, shopping with you or sitting down to lunch, my pussy full of cum. I always liked it before, when it would just be your semen, but now other men put it there. That’s so fucking sexy so me.”

I ran my hands lightly over her skin, waiting for her to go on. She did.

“Hot, sexy men, men all the other women want but I get. Gorgeous men with big, hard, powerful cocks, taking me, fucking me, overpowered and out of their minds with desire for me. I’ve never felt so sexy. They make me climax so easily. I never knew this side of me. I used to be so conservative, so controlled, so frightened, all by what I didn’t understand.”

She arched her back and cupped her breasts, flicking her own nipples.

“Then I make them cum. Me. Janie. They give it to me. I’m the one that gets chosen to receive it, to hold it and treasure it and carry it day and night as it tries to make a baby inside me. Mark, my Love, this is the most powerful and intoxicating drug I’ve ever experienced. I had no idea all these feelings lay dormant inside me, waiting for the right opportunity to bloom. Honestly, Honey, if you told me to stop now, I don’t know if I could. We’re trapped, husband and wife, on a bullet train and can’t jump off. We have to wait for the train to reach the end of its run.”

My penis was standing straight up and pulsing. She was so beautiful, so vulnerable and open and honest. I loved her so much at that moment I felt it crushing me. I brought my mouth down to hers and we kissed and she felt it in my kiss. When I pulled back her eyes were big and filled with tears.

This was madness. We had fallen off the edge of the map. I had wanted to fuck her, to add my cum to André’s. Now I instinctively sensed that was somehow wrong. I reached down between her legs and softly pinched her pussy shut, sealing all that sperm André had pumped into her inside. Her eyes widened. I placed my palm against her labia, holding him inside. I leaned over and kissed her again and with my other hand, began to stroke my hard dick while gazing down at my lewd, promiscuous, and outrageously sexy wife. She flicked her nipples again and snaked a hand down to rub her clit.

“André fucks like a God,” she said, her eyes closed now, tears on her cheeks. “As soon as he began to penetrate me, I saw stars. I climaxed before he even had the whole thing inside me. I had another orgasm, a powerful one, once he finally did.”

I jacked faster.

“I felt it up inside me like an iron bar, anchoring me to the bed, impaling me, spearing me, pinning me down and conquering me. I swear I felt every bumpy vein and pulsing artery. My guts had to move to make room for it. I’ve never felt so womanly. My words don’t do the experience justice.”

She opened her eyes suddenly, staring at me. They were full of fear and panic and uncertainty. Her voice dropped low.

“Sex is an emotional experience for women. I loved him while he fucked me Baby. I felt connected to him in a deep, deep way. I loved his cock and I loved him.”

I aimed my dick at her gorgeous tits and beat faster. She was killing me with these words. She was stabbing me through the heart and inflaming me with insane yearning and need.

“His strong body writhed as he worked me. His runaway desire for me drove me crazy. We were gone only two hours but he came inside me three times. Three! He can’t get enough of me, Mark. He’s such a desirable man and he can’t get enough of me. Oh my God I want him again right now! I do Darling. I want André again. I wish he was right here, in bed with us, between my legs. I wouldn’t care that you were here too, longing to fuck me. I’d fuck him right in front of you and not care at all. You’re my husband and you’re holding his seed inside me and I fucking love it!”

I roared like a lion and liquid fire erupted from my penis. I painted Janie’s tits and stomach as a surprisingly big load squirted from me. I was enthralled by her raw emotion and blatant truth and although what she was saying was terrifying, I was so turned on by it.

We woke up an hour or so later, arms and legs still tangled. Janie lowered her face to my dick and started sucking. I saw in her big hazel eyes a longing to be fucked. She licked slowly at first but was soon sucking hard and playing with my balls. What she was doing felt fantastic but my earlier orgasm had been too powerful. I wasn’t recovered enough yet to get hard again. She dropped my penis after several minutes and gave me a pouty face. I was not going to suggest she call André to come fuck her. I knew her mind was working. Then her face lit up.

“I know what will get you hard.”

She slipped out of bed and I curiously watched her enter the bathroom and then return less than a minute later hiding something behind her back. She brought her surprise up before my eyes. In her hand were all the remaining pregnancy tests. One by one she began to break them into pieces and drop them to the floor. The implication was staggering. My blood surged and my penis began to lift.

“No more tests, Lover. No more careful, responsible approach to our wild and irresponsible vacation. We are committed. Starting now, we do this for real. May the better man win.”

I was hard.

She reached for her phone, dialed.

“Hi. Yes. Now.” She clicked off.

My heart sank. Here we go.

Janie dropped to her knees facing my penis and swallowed me whole. After Billy and André, my size was no longer a problem for her and her mouth bobbed from tip to base easily on each stroke; fast and then slow and then full stop, only to repeat. She was driving me crazy. I wanted to ask her what happened next. I knew that was André she'd called and most likely he was on his way to our room, but then what? Would I be asked to leave? Would I be forced to watch? Janie concentrated all her attention on my dick until a knock on our door pulled her away. My balls ached.

Janie answered the door nude and invited André inside. He nodded once to me but his eyes were ravenous for Janie. He told her to undress him and she did quickly. He took a seat next to me on the bed and told Janie to suck him the same way she had just been sucking me. With a sly smile she did.

As I watched André grow I was once again surprised by how pretty and powerful his cock looked. He was just so fucking manly. Watching my wife work on his impressive manhood was extremely sexy. I'd seen her once already, down by the pool, but everyone watching with me had made nervous. Here in the privacy of our room I was able to relax and get close. She was an artist with a dick; licking and sucking and teasing with her nails and teeth and lips.

I moved even closer and put my hand on the back of her head, making her take more of André's meat. She gagged but none of us cared, not even her. In fact, the rougher I was with her, the more she liked it. I buried my fingers in my wife's hair and forced her head up and down his cock, making her take more of his shaft farther down her throat than ever before.

Finally I pushed her down hard and held her there, then pushed even harder. Something happened in her throat; either she stopped fighting it so much or André's cock-head slipped past a certain point, but whatever it was, three or four more inches suddenly slid down her throat. André moaned loud which turned Janie on like nothing else I'd ever seen. Goose flesh covered her arms and back and she grabbed his thighs and forced still more of his mammoth dick into her esophagus. André clawed the sheets gasping in disbelief and muttering "no one's ever taken that much," which made Janie melt. She held herself down on him and then slowly began sliding and sucking and licking until André was growling and clawing the sheets.

I moved closer still and kissed her face as she sucked another man's cock. I pet her hair and whispered to her how good and hot and slutty she looked. Her lips were stretched white as André's big dick fucked her mouth. Her eyes watered and there were tears on her cheeks.

Janie drew him all the way out and he gleamed and glistened, his heavy veins running crisscross all over his inches, his big balls dripping my wife's saliva. She kissed me deeply, her hot tongue snaking with mine.

I did not realize she was also moving André's cock closer to my mouth. She pulled her tongue out of my mouth and quickly popped André's dick-head in. I tried to pull off of it but her hand as well as André's hand held my head down on it. I struggled but André brought up his other hand and held me fast as Janie helped hold me down and whispered rapidly into my ear, telling me how sexy it looked, how hot it made her. She begged me to get him as hard as possible so he could then fuck her with it. She explained this was a natural extension of André's dominance over both of us. He had already taken my wife and I did nothing to stop him. This was only another way for him to dominate me. She told me to relax, to breathe through my nose, to open my jaw, to feel his warm, rubbery shaft pulsing against my tongue and sliding in and out of my mouth.

I calmed myself. Janie's soft hand began pumping my penis. The combined stimulation was intense. When Janie's mouth joined mine on André's hard shaft, my balls tingled. I was sucking cock. I was sucking a huge cock with my sexy wife and I was beginning to enjoy it.

Janie felt me relax and spent the next twenty minutes guiding and teaching me how proper blowjobs are given. It was a surreal, bizarre, disturbingly intimate moment we shared. Soon she backed away a bit and watched as I licked and sucked his fat balls and towering shaft. She encouraged me to keep going as she climbed up on him and lined up her pretty pussy. I slathered him with my tongue and spread her labia, then guided her hips down and watched mesmerized as André began fucking my wife. Her sweet little pussy looked so beautiful and sexy stuffed to overflowing with cock.

After some time she spun around, still on top, straddling him, her back to his chest. I dove on her clit and his fat shaft, licking and sucking and teasing until my lovely wife climaxed hard all over him. Later, I was licking his balls and lifting them with my tongue when I felt him orgasm and pump hot jizz into Janie.

He didn't pull his dick out of her and she didn't dismount. She just lay there on top of him like that, staring at the ceiling and catching her breath. Eventually he did soften enough to slowly come sliding out of her, followed by a wave of semen. His semi-hard cock flopped down and pointed at the rug. Her well-fucked pussy was aimed right at me and my penis was still hard and throbbing and for a second I thought about stepping up and fucking her with it, but I didn't. After a while my erection went away.

I joined them on the bed and we all spent an hour talking about current social issues like nothing had happened. Before too long Janie kissed her way down his body again and slipped his soft cock into her mouth. She wasn't trying to get him hard or initiate sex; she just loved his dick and wanted it in her mouth. After a few minutes she motioned for me to join her so I did and the both of us leisurely blew him for a long time. From the tip of the head down to his plump balls, my wife and I sucked every inch of his cock.

Of course, we did make him hard again, and he rolled Janie onto her back and instructed me to guide his shaft into her, which I did. They fucked for a long time. Actually, truth be told, they made love. They kissed and caressed and nuzzled and whispered soft words between them. I won't lie, it hurt to see. I knew how Janie felt about André so every touch was a tiny dagger. I wondered if I was watching my wife leaving me. I tried to sneak out of bed and leave them to it but André stopped me the first time and Janie stopped me second. I decided to just stay with them and see this night to the end. André would drape his leg over mine as they made love or Janie would hold my hand and squeeze or lay her head in my lap as André slow-pumped her from behind. Mostly they used me in ways that made me offer Janie to him; spreading her legs or guiding him in or bracing her body so he could fuck her deeply.

After a time we showered together and then ordered food and we were all still in bed naked when room service arrived. Janie was openly sucking André's cock while I was handing the Bellboy his tip.

Janie showed me some attention but not much. She was focused on André all night long. They wanted me in bed with them as they made love.

Janie and I spent a lot of time with André's cock in our mouths. I felt so weird at first but as the night wore on it became something Janie and I shared; an intimacy between my wife and me. If André had been a different man or his penis been smaller or not as beautiful, I doubt I ever could have done it. But I did. More than that; within hours I was enjoying it. I wanted to suck his dick. My favorite moments were Janie and me on opposite sides of his big throbbing shaft, gazing into each other's eyes, smiling at the insane turn our lives had taken.

André had fully recovered and was hard as he had been all night. He told Janie, "Make him do it now." She bumped me until I moved to my knees on the floor and André shuffled his ass to the edge of the bed. His tower of flesh reached above me. I focused my attention on his huge balls and Janie came around to whisper into my ear.

"Mark, my Love, it's time for you to swallow what André gives you."

I felt panic rising and she saw my eyes grow big but before I could pull my face out of his nuts and protest she said, "Do it for me. Will you? I know how much it will please and excite André and I really want to do that for him, so will you do it for me? It will make me so happy, and I know how much you love pleasing and making me happy."

I still wasn't convinced but I still had my tongue circling his ball-sac.

"Here," she said. "Join me, I'll help you. Watch me and then do what I do.""

Together we moved to his cock-head and continued licking and sucking. Janie sucked his fat crown into her mouth, pushing it as far in as it would go, and then began a steady rhythm of sucking and pumping with her mouth. André groaned but kept watching us. After a minute she pulled off of him and aimed his cock at me. I still wasn't sure about this, but I did it anyway.

I duplicated exactly what my wife had shown me and as quickly rewarded with another groan from André. I felt every prominent vein slide along the length of my tongue and his head swell bigger. I bobbed and sucked. When I felt his light hand on the back of my head I received a pleasing jolt of adrenaline and worked him faster and harder. A glance showed me Janie was masturbating as she watched me. A moment of dread welled up but I ignored it. I sucked his cock until my jaw started to ache.

Then I heard him draw a sharp intake of breath and his hips begin to thrust and I realized André was fucking my face. A man was fucking my mouth. My penis rose and I reached for it and when Janie saw what I was doing she moaned and said, “Holy fuck he’s hard! You were right Lover. Oh my God that’s fucking hot.”

I wondered about her comment for a split second but then André brought his other hand to my head and I knew he was getting close. That knowledge turned me on and I began to leak so I pumped my dick faster. I could not believe I was going to orgasm from this.

André drew a huge gasp of air and growled, “Fuuuuuck, here it comes. Take it! Don’t miss a drop! Aaaaaaaa!”

His cock swelled so thick I could no longer move my mouth up and down so I just bobbed in place and when his first salty blast hit my tongue, I swallowed and held on. He came like a volcano, detonating in my mouth and discharging jet after jet of white hot jizz. I sucked and swallowed like a whore. Instinctively I rubbed my tongue just under the tip of his penis and he arched his back and came harder still, flooding me with his syrup. Far away I heard Janie climaxing and it was all too much for me and my penis jerked and spat too. My hips thrust back and forth as I shot my load on the carpet, but I never stopped sucking hard on him.

Finally I felt him begin to soften but I still kept that beast in my mouth. I knew from experience to avoid brushing the ridge with my tongue but I still painted and fluffed all the areas I knew I could. He was a moaning idiot as I brought him down slowly and ultimately let him slip from my mouth.

When I looked up on the bed, André and Janie were locked in a hot, passionate kiss. I sat on my ass facing away from them and ran my tongue around inside my mouth. Semen was slippery and slimy and salty but not the acidic-poison I had feared it would be. Realization slammed into me. I had just sucked-off a man. I sucked his cock and swallowed his cum and more than that, I had liked it and tried to do a good job. I had wanted to please him. I wondered what that said about me and how I was now supposed to feel about myself. When I searched myself mostly all I felt was residual arousal.

André and Janie were very quiet and I wondered what was going on between them so I risked a look. They were sleeping! Janie was tucked full-body under André’s arm and nestled up against him. André had his face turned and pressed up against hers. It would have been a touching and intimate picture if not for the fact that Janie was my wife. I realized I was exhausted too so I lay on my back on the rug. I worried getting into bed with them would wake them. I awoke hours later to sounds of their love-making and lifted my eyes just in time to see André fill my wife with another load of cum before they both snuggled drifted back to sleep.

Sometime later they woke me and we all showered again and dressed and went downstairs to eat. André and Janie were clearly the couple now; walking pressed tightly together, holding hands, sharing hushed conversations, kissing softly. She wore a billowy soft white dress and sandals and he and I wore shorts and T-shirts. I tagged along and joined in the dinner conversation from time to time. Janie's dress was so loose that her breasts were almost entirely visible. Only her small nipples remained hidden. Waiters, bus-boys, other patrons; everyone got a good look at the sexy woman clinging to André's arm.

I was shaken by the vision of them as a couple. They fit together perfectly. A beautiful, intelligent, fit woman married to the educated, worldly, confident and secretly well-hung man. I was crushed. I had to look away.

I toyed with a vegetable and cream sauce side dish on my plate and forked a bite into my mouth. It was delicious but a subtle undertone reminded me of André's sperm. I looked across the booth at him and understood his cum was in my belly. He'd had me just like he'd had my wife. Their foreheads were pressed together as they shared some secret conversation and their natural organic connection brought water to my eyes. They both chuckled, oblivious to me, and André slipped a hand inside her top and gently played with a nipple, because he could.

I looked back down at my plate. Another bite once more reminded me of André's huge, masterful cock in my mouth and I felt my balls tighten and my penis tingle. I became aware I wanted it again. Is this what Janie experiences? Was her draw even more powerful because she actually takes him inside her body? An image of André behind me, easing his massive cock into my ass flashed into my mind. No! That would be too far. How could I even allow myself to imagine that? I'm not homosexual.

The rest of dinner was uneventful and I assumed we would all be headed back up to the room to continue. Part of me actually looked forward to playing with André's cock again. André had other plans. Instead we three went into town and walked and shopped. André and Janie held close to each other and I was paraded around as the Third Wheel. Janie and I barely spoke. She rarely even looked at me. I found her behavior hurtful and titillating. Please don't ask me to explain. I can't

After André and Janie had their fill of letting the whole world know she was with him, we returned to the hotel and grabbed a seat in the bar. To my dismay Sexy Brunette was there and saw the three of us enter. She knew Janie and I were married so her confusion was understandable and she looked over at us many times trying to figure out what was going on. Eventually understanding dawned on her. I actually blushed. She knew I was allowing André to fuck my wife.

Back upstairs a few hours later and Janie and I were reunited on his dick. Thirty minutes later I swallowed a second load from him.

Over the next few days Janie and I took turns capturing André's load; either down my throat or down hers, or in her pussy, right up inside her uterus. Janie told the truth. André did indeed fuck like a God.

Not once did André make any move or even suggest he take my ass. Janie either. Believe it or not, and I'm still not sure I believe it myself; I started to wonder why Janie and André had not yet attempted my ass. Twisted, right?

By day three I knew our routine; Janie and I make André orgasm as much as he wanted, whenever he wanted. We went everywhere as a threesome. The entire hotel, the entire town, now knew that André had stolen my wife and was fucking her with my permission.

Last night André conquered Janie's ass right in front of me and it was one of the hottest things I'd ever seen. By the end of it he was long-stroking her, withdrawing every long inch until just the tip remained, then driving it all back in until his balls slapped her sphincter and she was screaming from pleasure. I devoured her clit and fingered her vagina and we had her cumming one after the other for a long, long time. When André finally released his hot load deep inside her rectum, she collapsed to the bed like a wet rag and did not move.

André left our room to handle real-life stuff back home and I jerked off staring at Janie's body and fantasizing about what I'd just witnessed. My wife had become such a hot, sexy slut. She was now obsessed with sex. Her climaxes were so intense it got me wondering what they must feel like. My whole life no one had ever played with my ass at all. I had a co-worker once tell me a hooker pushed a finger up his ass just as he was cumming and he just about died from the pleasure, and a friend tell me his girlfriend did the same thing with the same result, so I was mildly curious. Did it work like that for all men?

After another hour Janie finally lifted her head and looked around. Her eyebrows went up with an unspoken question.

“He stepped out to make some calls and send some emails, didn’t mention when he would return.”

Janie reached up and grabbed the back of my neck and pulled my mouth down to hers. Her sweet, tender, gentle kisses stole my breath away. Gazing into my eyes she whispered, “I love you Mark.”

“I love you too Janie. Are we okay?”

It flew out of my mouth before I could stop it. It seemed to me it hung in the air, bloated with insecurities and fear. Her eyes held such affection for me. She looked like she might start crying.

“Baby,” she said, pulling me down next to her in the bed and burying her face in my neck. She squeezed me tightly.

“Are we?” I asked again, desperation creeping up.

She pulled back to look into my eyes. I’m sure she saw fear there. In hers I saw worry and concern. My mouth went dry. I waited for her to speak. I wasn’t pushing this any farther. At long last she did.

“I don’t know. I think so. Yes.”

I waited some more. She went on.

“He melts me. I am so powerfully drawn to him. I know you experienced a little of that too; he’s charismatic and charming, almost hypnotic. I want to please him every second of the day. For women, for me, sex is connected to my emotions. I doubt I could even have a one-night-stand without feeling emotionally connected to the man afterwards. This man, André, has gotten under my skin and in my blood. I get wet at the sight of him. He’s conquered me Honey. He’s conquered us both.”

She studied my face, saw my dismay.

“Don’t worry too much my Love.”

I scoffed.

“You’re talking about the future of us. You’re my whole life Janie.”

I saw on her face that she was finished talking about it. Whether it was from self-denial and a desire to avoid the unpleasant, or apathy because trying to predict the future is impossible and worrying about it pointless, I could not tell. I felt her fingers grip my penis. She was insatiable. In spite of my mood I got hard and she rolled over onto her back. I moved between her legs, looked down at her well-fucked pussy. I lined myself up to penetrate; her hand around my shaft guided me home.

As my head touched her outer lips, her arm went stiff. I flexed my hips, trying to push in but she squeezed my shaft hard.

“Wait,” she whispered. Her mind raced. I witnessed a million calculations behind her eyes. “We can’t.”

What the fuck? My wife was telling me I wasn’t allowed to fuck her? Was she worried André would catch her? Was she saving herself for him or trying to be a good little pet and follow his rules? I pressed forward again. My urgency was obvious. She pulled me up towards her mouth. I didn’t want another blow job; I wanted to fuck my wife. I leaned in hard, trying to force her. She twisted to the side, catching me by surprise, and now she was on top of me. My penis stood up, waving in the open air. She jumped off the bed, her eyes angry and flashing.

“What?” she spat. “Where you just going to force me? Just take what you want against my will? I’m your wife.”

She strode to the bathroom and slammed the door. I heard the lock. Fuck.

My erection faded pretty quickly after that. I slipped on a pair of boxers and went out to the living room to watch some football. André returned not long after and Janie was still in the bathroom. He asked what was going on but I just shrugged. He tapped on the door and she let him in.

Fuck.

Ten minutes later I heard Janie moan. I heard her again a little while after that and then not long after that I heard her cry out in orgasm.

Fuck.

André was moaning and growling and then he cried out as he injected his cum into one of my wife’s openings. Knowing Janie, she’d want every drop in her pussy. She loves make-up sex and in a bizarre and twisted way, that’s kind of what André was giving her at the moment. Next I heard the shower run and then the bathroom door open and the bedroom door close. Then lock.

Fuck.

I spent the night in the living room on the couch, listening as hours later André fucked my wife again and then, later still, again. I awoke in pre-dawn hours to the sounds of them going at it one more time. I had driven her farther into his arms.

Fuck.

When sleep finally overtook me I sank to the bottom of the ocean and dreamed deeply about Janie handing me back my wedding ring. I awoke broken hearted. I lay still for a moment trying to determine what sound had disturbed me and realized it had been the front door closing. I was out of the bed like a rocket racing to the bedroom; had she just left me? I threw open the bedroom door.

Janie sat in bed leaning her back against the headboard. The sheets were piled around her waist so her gorgeous breasts hung free. A shy smile curled her lips. I had no idea what to do. She patted the bed. I sat next to her.

“Sorry I got so upset last night,” she said.

“No, no way, I was the one way out of line. I’m so sorry. I’m just dying to have you again. It’s no excuse. I should treat you better than that.”

Her hair was a mess. Her nipples were raw and swollen. André had fucked her brains out all night. The shy smile reappeared as she watched me investigate her. Her eyes held expectation and I understood she was hoping for our examination ritual. I pulled the sheets away from her body slowly.

Good God. André had been a beast, a monster. Janie’s eyes glowed with a post-coital vibrancy. She was still high on sex. Her pussy looked raw and tender. The sheets were soaked in several places, pink hand and teeth marks traced her skin. Semen leaked from her and oozed onto the bed. She was a mess; a dirty, slutty, hot and wicked mess. She loved presenting herself to me like this; obviously unfaithful and naughty.

André was nowhere to be seen. Janie saw me looking around the suite and said, “He’s gone.”

“When will he be back? Are the three of us spending the day together or do you still want just his company?”

“He’s gone.”

I looked at her confused. How had she not heard me?

“He’s gone, Baby.”

I was baffled.

“Honey,” Janie purred. “André is in a cab heading for the airport. Last night was our last night. He’s gone.”

Wait...what? The news would not sink in. How can things change so fast?

“What happened?” I finally sputtered.

“This was always the plan. I’ve known all along that today was his last day. I just didn’t tell you.”

“But last night we were talking about our future. I got the impression from you it was on thin ice.”

“You misunderstood. You asked me if we were okay. That’s different. You can’t ask a woman a question like that. I think about everything. Everything. When we get back to the States I know our relationship will be different. We can’t go back to the way it was. We may have problems coming we can’t even think of now. Besides, I thought about it and told you yes.”

“But you had to stop and think about it!”

“I thought you wouldn’t trust a quick answer!”

My heart was racing. This was a lot of really big news in a very short time. I remembered something.

“You wouldn’t have sex with me. You wanted André to fuck you instead of me. You rejected me, your husband. You chose him.”

She rolled her eyes. “Oh Sweetie, you aren’t thinking this all the way through.”

She crawled out of bed and went to the bathroom. She looked fucking hot with her puffy, dripping pussy and perfect ass. She returned with a small bottle of pills in her hand.

“Mark, I didn’t reject you. I knew André was leaving today. I can take a Morning-After pill right now and know that if I have conceived, it must be his. I can wipe away a week’s worth of irresponsibility with one pill. If you had fucked me last night I wouldn’t know if I was ending his baby or ours. That’s why I couldn’t allow you to last night, not because I was rejecting you for André.”

Wow.

“What are those?” I asked, pointing to the bottle she held.

“Morning-After pills Ding-Dong. André picked them up while he was out yesterday making calls and sending emails.”

I felt like a thousand pounds had been lifted from me. André was gone and Janie was still mine. We had survived it all. My heart soared. Yet...part of me was sad our crazy fun and games were over.

Janie walked to the nightstand and poured a glass of water. An idea was forming in my head; a wild, wicked idea. Janie popped the cap and fished out a round, off-white pill. She set the bottle down.

“Wait,” I said. Maybe it all didn’t have to end yet. My heart was pounding behind my ribs. My mouth was dry. What the fuck was I thinking? Janie stood patiently, watching me. Fuck she looked delicious.

“Don’t take that yet.” My mind was racing. “Everything you told me last night about your feeling for André: true or false?”

She looked ashamed. “True,” she muttered. “He was falling for me too. I know that’s why he left today. Why?”

I stepped forward and took the pill from her palm and placed it back in the bottle. I kissed my wife. I lightly pinched her nipple. I worked my fingers into her thick brown hair and pulled her towards the bed.

“Mark, what are you doing?”

“I’m going to fuck you. I’m going to spend the next three days fucking you. Then we’ll go back and grab another test and if you’re pregnant, we’re pregnant. How hot and sexy does that sound?”

Her mouth dropped open and her eyes boggled. I could tell the idea aroused her. A lot. André had her number and that was the truth.

“You’re saying I don’t take the pill either way? You understand that would mean the baby could be his?”

“I do, and it’s the biggest erotic thrill of my life. Yours too, by the look in your eyes. We’ll just resolve to never know. We raise the baby and love the baby let the baby remind us every day of the wild and supremely intimate time we trusted each other to our limits and beyond. We passed through fire and came out the other side.”

“That’s a hell of a souvenir to bring back from the island. I was thinking maybe a T-shirt.”

I laughed and squeezed her. I gently press down on her shoulders.

She lies on her back and spreads her luscious legs wide. Her pussy lips part and reveal to me André still seeping from my wife. I move up and sink my rock hard penis into her.

“You have a lot of catching up to do,” she whispers hotly. “There is so much of him in me.”

Blood filled my penis to bursting. I’ve never been this hard before.

“Sweetie,” she asks, in the calm space between my hips slamming into her. “If it’s a boy, can we name him André?”

My hips speed up. I'm not making love to her. I'm fucking my dirty, slutty wife.

"Yes," I moan. I'm not going to last very long.

"And if André comes to visit Vegas, and I know he will, can I see him again?"

Oh my God! "Yes!"

"Billy too?"

Fuck! "Yes!" I was so close!

"Thank you my Love. If André wants me to stay with him at his hotel room all weekend, is that okay?"

"Anything you want!"

Janie closed her eyes and enjoyed my hammering penis. Or maybe she was imagining André back between her legs again. I felt my orgasm start from way down inside my balls. I knew it was going to be epic.

"One last thing," Janie whispered, pulling my ear down to her mouth. "Your boss, Eric, I've always wanted to fuck him. Would that be alright? At the Christmas party your secretary mentioned to me he has a really big cock."

That did it. I exploded inside her, pumping as much semen as I could, launching the battle with André for her egg.
