Sixty-Second Man

Edward's body trembled. His nerves were ablaze, and he was precariously close to the edge. He willed himself not to come, but the velvet pleasure of his wife's wet pussy was overwhelming. It was too much. He gasped as his three-and-a-half-inch cock erupted, spilling his warm spunk into her, even as he tried in vain to hold it back. Thick globs of cum leaked from him into Kylie's cunt as she stared, expressionless, at the ceiling.

He had been inside her for less than a minute. He thought about the old song, "Sixty-minute Man." Fuck. He wasn't even a "Sixty-second Man." What a loser.

The thing was, in other areas of his life Edward wasn't a loser at all. He'd been born into a good family, was well-educated, and had started a business from nothing that had grown into a multi-million dollar enterprise. At this point, he was quite well off, and lived with Kylie in a large, beautiful house on the outskirts of town that sat on a hundred acres, with horses, a swimming pool, and a beautifully landscaped yard.

But ever since those days back in high school gym class, when the other boys had teased him mercilessly about his small penis, he'd felt self-conscious, especially around girls. Maybe that's why he excelled in his studies, and ultimately in business. Maybe he was making up for what he considered a deficiency down there. Maybe it was classic "small-dick syndrome."

Whatever it was, he was confident and sure in most areas of his life, but not so much when it came to women. And most certainly not in the bedroom. He wasn't a great looking man, but he was handsome enough, even if he had a few extra pounds and a bit of a belly. But throughout his life, any time he'd been lucky enough to get a girl back to his place and into bed, his self-consciousness about the size of his cock zapped any confidence he might have had right into the ether the minute his trousers came off. He'd even had one woman laugh out loud when she saw what he was working with, and that had only made him feel that much more inadequate.

But Kylie had been different. In his heart, he knew she was likely only attracted to him because of his money, but she had been sweet. She'd slept with him and never complained. Never even mentioned his size, or lack thereof. He'd learned how to please her by going down on her. At least he was good at that. But she'd never said a word, and didn't even let on that she missed being filled by a larger cock. Not until after they were married.

Kylie liked being taken care of, and Edward did a great job of that. Thanks to him, she wore the latest fashions, and looked great in them. She drove a convertible Porsche, and had an extensive collection of fine jewelry that he had purchased for her. In return, she dutifully spread her legs for him, once a week, like clockwork, on Saturday night. She didn't think of it so much as being "bought." Edward was sweet to her, and she wanted to return that sweetness in kind.

She was almost twenty years younger than him, and well out of his league. Maybe that was why he got so excited and came so quickly every time she fucked him. At any rate, she had known from the first time they were together that he wouldn't be able to satisfy her, so she'd taken the platinum card he gave her and purchased a few accessories to pleasure herself with when he was at work.

But one evening as they were preparing to go out to dinner, she'd asked him to retrieve a particular necklace for her from the top drawer of her bedside table. She'd forgotten that she left one of her toys there earlier that day instead of putting it away into its normal hiding place in the large master closet.

Edward had opened the drawer in search of the jewelry only to be greeted by an enormous, dark black dildo. His mouth dropped open in surprise, and he was immediately reminded of, and embarrassed by, how small his own dick really was.

It wasn't so much that he was shocked that she had a phallic sex toy. It was the size of the thing. It wasn't just big, it was huge. Like it needed its own zip code. A battleship compared to his tiny sailboat. Clearly it could reach places inside her that his own cock couldn't even think about getting to. If cocks could think, that is. Edward considered that sometimes his actually might be able to. If it could, its thoughts would be those of embarrassment and inadequacy, and yet still those of longing to be inside of his wife's beautiful pussy.

When he pulled the large dildo out of the drawer and showed it to her, Kylie's expression fell. She teared up and sat down on the edge of the bed, finally confessing to him that she loved him, but that their sex life didn't satisfy her.

That might have been difficult to hear, but Edward already knew that it had to be true. He'd never been able to please a woman in his life, at least not with his manhood.

But even though he felt shame at his inability to do so, was struck by how she'd never made it an issue. She'd never complained, and had always been kind. She'd allowed him to repeatedly pleasure himself inside of her even though it clearly did nothing for her. True, he wished that it happened more often than just once a week, but since it wasn't something that was sexually satisfying to her, he understood why she wasn't craving the chance to do it more often.

He'd sat down on the bed next to her and held her tightly. He loved this woman, and he'd decided then and there that he was willing to do whatever it took to make sure she could be sexually satisfied.

"Kylie," he'd said softly. "Let's think about what we can do. Maybe I will have to get used to the idea of you taking another lover. I want you to be able to find satisfaction, but I don't want to lose you. Why don't we take some time to think it over?"

She'd hugged her husband and agreed, and although they hadn't talked about it since then, she'd done some reading and research online. Now, as he pulled out of her and rolled over onto his back next to her in the bed, she broached the subject.

"Eddie, what do you know about cuckold relationships?"

"Not much," he confessed. "That's where the wife sleeps with other men and the husband gets to watch?"

"Something like that," Kylie replied. "There are a lot of different variations, depending on what works for the couple. In most cases, the husband actually gets satisfaction from knowing that his wife is being well-fucked. Sometimes he watches, but not in every instance. Sometimes he participates, or even pleasures the other man. But the wife is the one in control."

"Is that something you think you'd like to try?" Edward asked.

"I would," Kylie said, looking into his eyes. "Are we agreed that I can explore this?"

Edward thought about how quickly he had given in to the orgasm. Even if his dick was larger, there wouldn't have been much pleasure in it for her. He nodded, even though he was unsure about how he would ultimately feel. He had to do something. Kylie was too important to him.

Kylie kissed him and thanked him for understanding. She snuggled up against him and he fell asleep with her head on his shoulder, forgetting about all of it, at least for now.

* * * *

Edward was working late in his office several days later. His growing company was in the process of buying two smaller ones, and the paperwork seemed as if it would never end. He was on his fifth cup of coffee, poring over a profit and loss statement, when he heard his phone beep.

He ignored it at first, but when it beeped a second time, he set the paperwork down and picked up the phone, swiping away the home screen. It was a text from Kylie, and he pressed the icon to bring it up.

His jaw dropped when her message appeared. It was a clear photo of his wife, kneeling on the floor next to a bed. She was completely naked, and her lips were wrapped around a thick, veiny, and fully erect black cock.

He blinked at the image. The dick in her mouth was huge, easily three times the size of his own. Her eyes were open, but they were rolled back into her head as if she was in ecstasy just from sucking on it. It was an incredible sight.

Before he could fully process what he was looking at, another photo popped into the text feed below the first. He scrolled down to it and pressed it with his finger, bringing the image up to fill the screen.

It was Kylie, smiling broadly. Her face was covered in thick cum that glistened white against her dark tanned skin. The load was huge, and had splattered from her hair to her chin. One eye was closed, with a large glob covering her eyelid, and semen dripped from her cheeks and her jawline.

Edward was stunned, but became aware that his cock had swollen to its three-and-a-half-inch hardness in his pants. Without even thinking consciously about it, he unzipped his pants and barely had it out between the teeth of the zipper before it spasmed, squirting cum across his hand and onto the desk, where it pooled on the P&L report he had just been reading.

It was a strange orgasm, but it rocked his body even harder than those he'd had when he was inside his wife. The muscles of his sphincter tightened, and his toes curled inside his leather shoes. He came hard, groaning involuntarily as he shot thick ropes of his seed across the desk.

When the eruptions stopped, he collapsed into his chair and took a moment to gather himself. It had been the most intense climax of his life. He looked at the phone again, amazed at how the pictures made him feel. He'd had no idea Kylie was already beginning to explore this cuckold thing, but the worries he'd had that it might make him jealous were completely gone. In their place were only feelings of intense arousal and flames of desire. His small cock was already stirring again, only seconds after it had softened. That never happened.

He felt the phone vibrate in his hand. It was another message from Kylie. It was just text this time, that read, "I hope you like the pics! Can't wait to tell you all about it!"

He switched the phone off and grabbed a box of tissues to try and rescue the pages of the report that he'd been reading. Once he cleaned up the mess, he tried studying it again, but he couldn't focus on the numbers. All he could think about was that big cock in Kylie's mouth, and the glorious sight of her face bathed in the man's cum. Unable to get any work done, he finally decided to call it a night and gathered his things to head home.

Kylie was waiting for him when he arrived. She'd poured him a bourbon, and handed it to him as soon as he'd set his briefcase down, leading him by the hand to the living room. They sat together on their exquisite Boco Do Lobo couch and he sipped the whiskey while she told him about her evening.

She'd decided to go out to happy hour at a local watering hole, and had dressed in a short skirt and sexy top that showed off her incredible cleavage. As she'd sat at the bar nursing a vodka soda, a striking man had approached her. He was tall, black, and incredibly handsome.

She'd flirted, and even though she felt a little unsure of herself, he'd picked up the signals that she was interested. After buying her several drinks, he'd placed his hand on her thigh and invited her back to his apartment. Giddy with excitement, she had followed him there, where he'd slowly removed her clothes and licked her body from her neck to her feet, back up to her thighs, and had finally begun lavishing her pussy with his tongue.

Kylie had begged him to fuck her, wanting to feel his full hardness inside her dripping pussy. But he'd said no, at least not this time. He told her she would "have to earn it."

Edward was already completely hard inside his pants. "What did he mean by that?"

"He said I would have to suck his cock first," Kylie replied. "He said that if he liked it enough, he would see me again, and would fuck me until I couldn't stand up."

Edward's cock twitched. He was getting more and more aroused as Kylie continued the story.

"So I took him in my mouth and started sucking him off," she said. "He was so big that I had to relax my throat to take all of him, but I did it. I barely even gagged. I was so turned on that all I could think about was pleasing him so he'd let me come back for what I really wanted."

"Did you tell him you had a husband?"

"I did," she said, and looked down as embarrassment clouded her face. "I told him about you, and that your dick was small. I'm sorry, Eddie. I probably shouldn't have said that."

"It's okay," he said, and realized that it really was true. For the first time, the humiliation he felt about his lack of endowment had an additional effect. It was driving Edward's arousal. He didn't fully understand why, but his cock felt as if it was harder than it had ever been. Somehow, hearing that his wife had shared the fact of his inadequacy with another man was actually turning him on.

"I don't mind," he said, reassuring his young wife. "What did he say when you told him that?"

“He made me get my phone so he could take a picture with his dick in my mouth. He said I had to send it to you so you could see what a real man’s cock looked like. Please don’t be mad at me...”

“Honey, I’m not!” Edward said. He stroked her hair with one hand, while rubbing his crotch with the other. It was a good thing he’d already come once today, or he would likely have already made a sticky mess in his pants. “So what happened next?”

“He made me get on my knees on the floor and keep sucking him. I did everything I could to give him pleasure, and it worked. After another couple of minutes, he pulled out of my mouth and came all over my face.”

Edward could feel his own orgasm building. The thought of that stranger’s huge cock showering his wife with cum was pushing him to the edge.

“There was so much cum, Eddie,” Kylie said. “It just kept shooting all over me. I tried to catch it in my mouth, but it just went everywhere. When he was done, he took another picture, and I sent you both of them. He said I’d passed the test and I had to come back on Saturday so he could leave another load in my pussy.”

Edward’s hands flew to his belt buckle. He was about to come, and he didn’t want to get it all over the inside of the Armani slacks he’d worn to work. Kylie could tell what was about to happen and pulled her shirt up over her head, exposing her firm, round tits. She leaned toward him, taking her breasts into her hands and squeezing them together.

Her husband barely got his pants down in time. His dick felt like it was on fire. He pointed all three-plus inches of it at her chest and came in a flurry, coating her beautiful globes with thick streams of jizz. His body trembled as the warm load landed on her tits. Kylie squealed with delight.

“Damn, Eddie, this cuckold thing must really work for you,” she said, staring at the deposits of semen that were beginning to drip from her boobs. Edward blushed, a little embarrassed that he’d once again come so quickly, but his wife was right. The idea of another man using his wife was degrading, but it was just that feeling that had turned him on so much. This orgasm had rocked his world even more than the one he'd had earlier at his office.

He headed for the kitchen for a towel to clean her up. "Honey, do you want me to bring you your dildo?"

"No, I'm not supposed to use it," she called back.

"What?" Edward asked, re-appearing in the living room with the towel.

"Derek says I'm not to come until I'm with him on Saturday," she explained.

Derek. So that was his name. The man who would be pleasing his wife. Filling her with a member three times the size of his own. Edward cleaned Kylie's breasts with the towel.

"I'd sure like to be there to see it happen," he said as he wiped the last of his cum from her soft skin.

"He said he would make you watch in due time. He said he gets off on humiliating cuck husbands. But for now, I'm supposed to go to see him alone. You understand, don't you honey?"

Edward furrowed his brow. From the moment Kylie had sent him the photographs, he'd realized that he desperately wanted to watch this man, this Derek, breed his wife. But apparently Derek was calling the shots now.

He nodded his approval to Kylie. Maybe she would please Derek enough that Edward could watch the next time. He could only hope.

* * * *

By the time Saturday arrived, Edward had come up with a plan.

It was simple, really. He'd have Kylie ring his phone from her lover's apartment, and then leave hers lying nearby while Derek had his way with her. At least Edward would be able to eavesdrop on their encounter and hear his wife being fucked. The forbidden nature of it titillated him, and he walked around most of the day with his cock hard beneath his pants just thinking about it. Not that anyone would notice, of course.

Derek had sent Kylie a text instructing her to arrive at 7:30 pm. She was to take her clothes off in the car and walk naked to his apartment door. The sun was beginning to set by the time she arrived, but in the dusk it would still be totally possible for her to be seen walking nude from her car.

More difficult than that would be getting undressed in the small interior space of her Porsche. She'd opted for shorts and a tank top, with no bra or underwear so she could slip out of them easily. Kylie eased the car into a parking space and pulled her clothes off, leaving them in the passenger seat. She dialed Edward on her phone before she got out of the car. She'd brought a small purse with her, and when he answered, she slipped it into an outside pocket upside down, so that the microphone was not covered up.

Holding the bag in her hand, she stepped from the car and made her way to Derek's door, her tits, ass, and pussy on full display. She was nervous about it, to be sure, but she was craving Derek's cock and was determined to follow his instructions.

She knocked and waited for Derek to answer. He didn't respond for several moments, making her stand there just long enough for her to hear someone whistle and catcall from an apartment across the way. Was he doing this on purpose? The door finally opened and Derek motioned her inside, smacking her bare ass with his hand in full view of anyone who was watching.

The sting of the slap ticked Kylie's arousal up another notch. Her face flushed, and she was aware of both nipples as they hardened against the skin of her breasts. Over the phone, Edward heard the smack, but couldn't tell what was happening. The mystery of it drove him crazy, in a way that was both frustrating and incredibly arousing.

He was sitting in their bed in the upstairs master suite of their luxurious home, and had removed all of his clothes. He'd put wireless earbuds into his ears and synched them to his phone so he could hear everything while leaving his hands free. One of them was already wrapped around his cock, which had been hard for so long it reminded him of that commercial for male enhancement that suggested calling the doctor if an erection lasted for more than four hours.

But he hadn't needed a little blue pill. The thought of Derek pumping his wife full of manly seed was all it had taken to swell Edward's member to its full three-and-a-half inches. He waited, breathlessly, for more from Kylie's phone.

He finally heard her speak. "Where do you want me?" Her voice sounded tentative, but thick with desire.

Inside the apartment, Derek pulled her into his living room and instructed her to kneel on the floor in front of the sliding glass door that led to a small porch behind his unit. The curtain was pulled wide open, and a group of apartments from the building behind him would have a clear view of what was happening if anyone looked out their window.

He was wearing only a robe, and as Kylie sat her purse down on the floor nearby, he let it slip from his shoulders. His enormous schlong flopped out next to her face, dangling over his shaved balls.

The next words Edward heard in his earbuds were Derek's.

"Take it in your mouth, bitch. I want you to get me hard."

"But anybody out there can see!" It was Kylie's voice now. Was she objecting? She sounded almost playful, like she was daring him to fuck her mouth in full view of his neighbors.

“You’re goddamned right they can. You won’t be the first slut they’ve watched suck my cock!”

Obediently, Kylie slurped him into her mouth. She swirled her tongue around the head of his dick as it began to stiffen and press against the entrance to her throat. She savored his musky taste and the saltiness of the drop of pre-cum that made its way out of his cockhead.

In his bedroom across town, Edward heard her moan, and could hear the wet smacking sounds of her going down on Derek.

“Mmmmm, yeah, that’s it! Suck my cock, baby! Suck it good!”

The sounds from Kylie in Edward’s ears were mostly grunts now, as Derek was obviously keeping her mouth quite full. Edward had to take his hand away from his dick as he listened, because he was dangerously close to shooting his load. He wanted to prolong it as much as he could, because he imagined that Derek had plenty of stamina and would be fucking his wife for quite a while yet. It would give Edward a good chance to practice not coming so soon. He took a deep breath to calm himself and hold his climax at bay. So far, so good.

“Mmmmm, that’s it, you little slut! Suck my fucking dick! Show my neighbors what a little cock-whore you are!”

The sounds in Edward’s ears nearly sent him right back over the edge. He would never have guessed that hearing his wife submit to this rugged stranger would be so erotic. He wouldn’t have thought that being a cuckold husband would bring him such forbidden satisfaction. He longed to give in to the orgasm, to let his cock pulse and shoot, but the longer he held out, the more intense it would be. He was learning self-control, but it wasn’t easy.

The next thing he heard over the phone was Kylie’s voice. She must have released Derek from her mouth.

“Oh, Derek,” she purred. “I love your cock so much! I want to feel you inside me. Do you want to fuck your little slut?”

In the apartment, Derek lifted her from her knees and carried her to the nearby couch. He dropped her into its cushions and loomed over her, his dick swollen and throbbing.

“Is that what you want?” Edward heard him ask. It sounded like Kylie exhaled, letting out a long breath.

“Yes.”

“Beg me for it. I want to hear you begging for my cock!”

“Oh, please, Derek!” Edward heard her plead. “I need to feel you filling my wet cunt with your big black cock. I want it so bad! Please, I’m begging you to mount me and fuck my pussy!”

Edward’s dick throbbed. The exquisite anguish of trying to hold back his orgasm while his wife begged this stranger to fuck her was almost more than he could bear. Then he heard two distinct sounds at the same time.

Derek grunted, and Kylie squealed. The bull had pushed the head of his cock into her tight opening. Kylie had explained to Edward that the man that a cuckold’s wife chose to mate with was often called a “bull.” He thought the description made sense, especially in this case. She’d described Derek as a large, imposing figure, and now the man was between her legs, partway inside her cunt, and preparing to breed her. In Edward’s mind, the term totally fit.

“Give it all to me!” Edward heard Kylie say, followed by a series of high-pitched moans as her bull buried himself deeper in her pussy. “Oh my god, your cock! It’s so...”

Kylie’s didn’t finish the sentence, but let out a wail, and more sharp cries. Edward had never heard these sounds come from her before. He could only imagine what she looked like, impaled by Derek’s thick, veiny monster.

“Ahhrrgh!” Derek grunted, like a feral beast. “Take my dick, you little whore!”

Try as he might, there was no way for Edward to hold back his climax any longer. He jacked his dick furiously as he listened to Derek's words and his wife's responding cries. Edward's cock throbbed and released thick spurts of cum, soaking the bedsheet in front of him in an explosion of semen. The orgasm surged through his body like an erotic tidal wave, endorphins flooding his brain. Stars clouded his vision, and for a moment he thought he might pass out. And in his ears, he could now hear the slapping sound of Derek's balls smacking up against Kylie as the bull picked up the pace, fucking her harder.

Just as he was catching his breath, Edward heard his wife's orgasmic cries as she came for the first time that night. She shuddered against Derek's cock, gripping him tightly as the climax took her and she screamed. It was the deep, lustful scream of a woman who was being completely satisfied.

Her cries urged Derek forward, and he growled as he plowed her even harder. Edward could hear the sounds of the couch creaking against the force of the big bull's thrusts, and then the unmistakable exclamations of his wife as she came for the second time, calling out Derek's name in a pleading tone, begging to be fucked.

Edward's dick might be small, but it was still completely hard, even after his intense orgasm. He reached into his nightstand for a bottle of water-based lubricant, and slathered it across his erection.

Derek had slowed his thrusts, and in the earbuds, Edward heard him command Kylie to turn over. There was shuffling, and Edward pictured his wife propping herself up on all fours for her lover to take her from behind.

There was a spitting sound, like the bull was preparing to use his saliva for extra lubrication. Edward couldn't imagine why he would need it, as it was clear that Kylie had already come twice. She should be more than wet enough to take him, even as large as his cock was.

It was quieter for a minute, and then he could hear Kylie moaning softly. Was Derek licking her pussy? He couldn't tell. Her moans became gradually louder, then died away.

“Oh, Derek,” he heard her say. “I don’t think it’s going to fit.”

What was she talking about? Before Edward could picture what might be going on, there was a grunt from Derek, and he heard Kylie scream.

“OH MY GOD!” Her voice pitched even higher than it had during her orgasms.

“Stay still,” he heard Derek say. “It will pass.”

Kylie’s scream faded away, replaced by a soft, lustful moan. Whatever had happened, it sounded like she wanted more of it.

“Relax and spread your cheeks,” Derek said over the earbuds. “I’m going all the way in!”

Kylie’s breaths sounded short and ragged. But the carnal cry that escaped from her throat was one of intense, forbidden pleasure.

Suddenly, Edward realized what was going on.

Derek was sliding his gargantuan cock inch-by-inch into Kyle’s tight ass!

Edward blinked as the realization hit him. Small as he was, Kylie had never allowed him in her back door before. And yet, if what he suspected was true, she was opening her ass for her bull’s giant dick right now!

His suspicions were confirmed a second later when he heard Derek groan louder than before and Kylie’s voice say, “Oh my god, you are so fucking deep in my ass!”

Her voice began to pick back up in pitch again, and Edward could tell that Derek was beginning to pump in and out. The bull’s voice grunted, “Uhgh, Uhgh, UHUUGH!!!” Kylie took each thrust with a squeak before beginning to call out his name.

“Ohhhh, Derek! Fuck me, Derek! Fuck my ass with your huge black cock! YEEEESSSS!”

Even though he couldn't see what was happening, Edward knew she would be frantically rubbing her clit as Derek ravished her tight pink hole. The noises she made were the most erotic thing Edward had ever heard. He held his breath as he listened to the sounds; her squeals, Derek's groans, and the sound of the bull's balls slapping up against the cheeks of the young woman's ass.

Edward's hands worked across his own lubricated prick furiously. He wouldn't even try to hold back his orgasm this time. It wasn't going to be possible.

He heard a smack that could only have been Derek slapping his wife's ass while he fucked her, and a squeak of carnal delight from Kylie's mouth.

She managed to utter only one word.

“Cuuuuuuminnnnng!”

Derek let out a roar that told both Kylie and Edward that he was about to reach his climax as well. Edward was already there.

With his hands a blur as they slid over his member, Edward felt his cock spasm as the sounds in his earbuds drove his humiliation and lust, and he came for the second time, dribbling large gooey drops of his manly milk out of the opening in the head of his prick. It didn't spray out in long jets like the first time, but the orgasm was just as powerful and just as intense. He pictured Derek shooting his load in Kylie's ass, and while he didn't fully understand why that turned him on so much, the degrading knowledge of another man filling his wife's asshole with cum fueled his own pleasure with a wild intensity that was dark and forbidden.

As he collapsed back on the bed, his hands and crotch sticky with the payload of his own ejaculation, he heard his wife's voice in his ears saying the words that he would not soon forget.

“Do it, Derek! Fill my ass with your hot cum!”

The big bull growled again and drove deep, unleashing an incredible torrent of his seed into the far reaches of Kylie's asshole. He held his cock there as it pulsed, breeding her ass with powerful squirts of his semen, letting it pool inside her until the final spurt was done.

He pulled his dripping dick from inside her and stood beside her as she fought to regain her breath, his foot accidentally knocking over her purse where it sat on the floor. When it toppled, her phone came sliding out and the screen lit up, showing that it was connected to someone. The name "Eddie" glowed from the display above the rows of virtual buttons.

Derek picked up the phone.

"Eddie. Is that your husband?" Kylie turned her face to him and nodded.

He put the phone to his face and spoke into the mic. "Eddie? I know you're there!"

Edward froze in his bed, not sure what to say. Derek continued anyway.

"I just fucked your slut wife and left a huge load of cum in her ass. She's headed home to you now. She's going to clench her asshole the whole way there to keep it inside her."

Edward found his voice. "Okay," he said.

"Here are your instructions. When she gets home, I want you to suck every drop of it out of her and swallow it down your throat. You'll need to send me a picture of you eating it out of her ass so I will know that the two of you obeyed."

Edward gulped.

"Do you understand? I am in charge of both of you now, and you will both service me whenever I want. Are we clear?"

His mind was spinning. He'd do anything for Kylie, but surely this wasn't what she wanted, was it? Edward stalled, trying to come up with the right response.

But it was Kylie who spoke. Actually, it sounded more like she was purring.

“Of course, Derek,” she answered. “We’ll do anything you say.”

“Yes, we’ll do whatever you want,” Edward found himself saying to his young wife’s bull. His whole life was about to change, but to his total surprise, he felt his three-and-a-half inches beginning to stir again. Kylie had been right. The cuckold thing did really suit him. He sighed with resignation, but also, strangely, with excitement.

Kylie took the phone from Derek to speak to her husband.

“Honey, I’m on my way home. And I’ve got something nice and warm for you for dinner.”

The Cleaner

He's waiting for me when I get home, like he always is. My husband. Mark is in bed, but I know he's not asleep. I can see the "tent pole" he's making with his erection under the bedsheet, and I have no doubt he's been hard since the picture I texted him of Carlos sliding his dick into my pussy.

The bedside lamp is on, and in its glow I can see the small wet spot that his precum has made where the head of his dick is pushing up against the sheet. Poor thing is probably aching for release, but I know he has waited for me before jerking off.

This whole thing was his idea, actually. He wanted to be cuckold. He's the one that kept telling me how hot he thought it would be for me to go out with other guys. How he wanted to "enjoy the spoils" after I let them fuck me. It took him a while after we were married to talk me in to it.

He had no idea what he'd wind up unleashing. I'd always enjoyed sex, more or less, but I'd only been with a couple of guys before Mark, and to be honest, none of them were very good. Mark had been a little better, but I still didn't orgasm with him unless I used a vibrator when we were together. I just thought that's the way things were with all men.

Boy, was I wrong! The first guy I slept with at Mark's urging was our landscaper, Tony. He was a college student who took care of our lawn for extra money, and Mark had pulled him aside and told him that he'd really love for him to have sex with me. Tony had been unsure at first, but when I showed up at his apartment one evening wearing a see-thru top and holding a bottle of wine, he'd lost his inhibitions quickly. He fucked me all night, showing me pleasure I hadn't realized was possible, and I learned what it felt like to orgasm over and over with a big dick deep inside me.

That was just the beginning, of course, but it fundamentally changed me. I began to crave the feeling of coming all over a man's cock. I couldn't get enough. And my husband found the whole thing to be a big turn-on, especially when I made him lick me clean once I got home. I no longer wanted Mark inside my pussy, but I loved having him serve as “my cleaner.”

“How was it, honey?” Mark asks as I undress. He always wants to know the details. How many times did I climax? How big was the guy’s dick? Did I suck him off, or do I have a nice warm load waiting in my pussy for my cleaner?

Naked, I climb into bed and squat over my husband, lowering my crotch to his face. He licks me hungrily, and I bear down on him, tensing and relaxing my pelvic muscles to release the deposit from Carlos into his mouth. Mark slurps and sucks, greedy for his reward. His tongue darts in and out of me, brushing across my clit every so often, and I ride his face as I feel the orgasm slowly begin to build in my body.

Mark knows that he can’t use his cock to make me come, but if he licks me just right as he’s cleaning me up, he can bring me over the edge one more time before I climb off of him to go to sleep for the night. I rub a hand across my nipples and grind against him as I feel the blossom of ecstasy begin to take me. With a cry, I tremble and shudder as I add my juices to the cum from Carlos in Mark’s mouth.

When my climax subsides, I drop onto the bed beside him and watch as he jacks off furiously. He’s pulled the sheet away and is moaning as he works his cock with both hands. I lean in next to his ear and whisper.

“Oh, babe, Carlos fucked me so hard! I rode his big cock for what seemed like forever before he put me up on my knees and banged me from behind. I could feel every spurt when he unloaded in my pussy. Was his cum tasty, baby? ‘Cause he sure did breed me good!”

Mark’s dick throbs as he sends jets of semen flying in squirts across his stomach. He moans my name as he comes, and I watch him cover himself in his own spunk. I offer him a box of tissues from the nightstand, but he says he's going to get up and take a quick shower.

I'm asleep by the time he comes back to bed.

In the morning, Mark is already in the kitchen by the time I wake up, and he's making me breakfast. I'm wearing a soft robe that's hanging open in the front, and I can see him stealing glances at my pussy. I know he's picturing Carlos' big dick sliding into it, because I can see he's getting a little stiff inside the boxer shorts he's wearing.

He'll be off to work soon, so I decide to tell him about my plans for the evening.

"I think you should go out tonight, honey," I tell him. "Maybe see a movie or something."

He stops stirring the scrambled eggs in the pan and looks over at me. I give him a good look at my tits before pouring myself a cup of the coffee he's brewed.

"Oh yeah?" Mark says. "What's up?"

"Carlos is coming over. And he's invited several friends that he's told about me. They're going to give me my first gangbang."

My husband stirs some green pepper into the eggs and is silent for a moment. I'm sure the wheels are turning in his head. Satisfied that the breakfast is ready, he dishes out the eggs onto a couple of plates and brings one to me.

"Do I have to go?" Mark finally asks. "I'd give anything to stay and watch that happen. Seeing you take on a group of guys. Wow!"

"I don't think Carlos would like that. He says one of the other guys is a politician, or somebody important. He told Carlos it had to be as anonymous as possible, and no pictures."

“I could hide in the closet,” Mark says. “They would never know that I’m here. Please, baby! I really want to see this.”

I think it over as I pour hot sauce on my eggs. Mark has been very supportive since I began my extracurricular activities. He’s been a dutiful cleaner, and has allowed me to explore and to blossom as a sexual woman.

“I suppose it can’t hurt,” I finally say. “But you’ll have to stay in there, and be totally quiet. No matter what happens. Can you do that?”

“Yes, darling, of course!” Mark replies. “They’ll never know I am there.”

He excuses himself, saying he needs to get dressed for work, but I’m pretty sure he’ll be masturbating first. I can see how hard he is beneath the fabric of his shorts. I laugh to myself when, sure enough, he heads directly to the bathroom. I wait a few moments and then listen at the closed door. I hear him moaning and grunting, and I laugh again. He’ll have to be a lot more quiet than that tonight.

I’ve got the day off from work, so when Mark leaves I busy myself straightening up the house. He returns late in the afternoon, saying he took off early to make sure he was home and in position in the closet by the time my guests arrive. I can tell he’s thought about little else all day.

By the time I hear the first knock at the door that evening, he’s already got himself set up in there. He’s got a stool to sit on, a towel, and some lube. He’ll be able to see the bed through the crack between the two closet doors, and I shut him in before answering the knock of my first guest.

It’s Carlos, and he’s got one other guy with him, a tall, strapping black man who introduces himself as Tucker. The new guy looks me over, appearing to like what he sees. I’m wearing a very sexy black dress with a bra and underwear beneath. I was thinking of just my soft robe and nothing else, but I decided I wanted the experience of them undressing me.

We chat and I pour them some wine while we wait for the other two. Kenny arrives next, a tall, handsome guy with great arms and a wicked smile. I'm pretty sure he's the politician. Gavin shows up a few minutes later. He's stocky, with a full beard and a hipster look. Carlos has told me about him. Apparently, his cock is extremely thick and the guys will make him go last because they're sure he will stretch me out quite a bit. I can already feel some moisture between my legs just thinking about it.

All of us enjoy a glass of wine before I invite them to the bedroom. Carlos grabs my ass on the way. Is he being possessive, letting the others know that he's my regular bull? I chuckle at the notion, thinking that it's kind of cute.

I perch myself on the edge of the bed, giving Mark a good view from his closet hideaway. Kenny sits next to me and takes my face in his hands. We kiss, his tongue probing me and his lips soft against mine. I run my hands across his muscular arms as he pulls me to him and down onto the bed.

His kisses arouse my passion, and I melt into him. Tucker kneels beside the bed and begins massaging and kissing my legs, working his way slowly up toward my pleasure center. He pulls the dress up above my waist, exposing my skimpy panties and the wet spot that is already evident where they press against the lips of my pussy.

Tucker slides them down my legs as Kenny continues his passionate kiss. I'm lost in him, but not so much that I don't notice Tucker's warm breath against my crotch. I'm longing for him, dying to feel his mouth and tongue. He moves slowly, building the anticipation until finally I'm rewarded by the sensation of his lips brushing across me. I quiver, letting out a small groan as he begins to kiss my pussy while Kenny continues to kiss my mouth. Kenny's hands roam freely across my body, and I begin to feel like every part of me is an erogenous zone. I am on fire, and these two men are stoking the flames.

My body temperature ticks up another notch as I feel Tucker slide a finger into my ass. He's licking my clit with intensity now, and that feeling, along with his middle digit in my tight pink hole make me cry out from the pleasure. Kenny has broken away from the kiss now, and he pulls my dress up over my head before unclasping my bra in one smooth motion. Not bad for a politician.

My tits bounce free, and Kenny hungrily covers the closest one with his mouth. He's licking. He's sucking. And Tucker is working my pussy with his tongue and my asshole with his finger.

I do the only thing I can do. I come. Waves of erotic sensation rock my body to the core as my muscles contract and my juices flow. I become pure pleasure in this moment, giving myself over to the men who are so expertly summoning my orgasm. I don't know if I believe in things like astral projection, but I could swear I'm floating above my own body, watching myself come. From my overhead view, whether real or imagined, I see Carlos and Gavin stroking their cocks, waiting. And I know that between the cracks of the closet door that Mark is watching, and there's no doubt that his dick is in his hands as well.

When my shaking stops, Kenny and Tucker switch places. They each remove their clothes, and Gavin and Carlos approach as well. I'm now surrounded by four naked men, and four stiff cocks.

Tucker's is by far the longest. He dangles it in front of my face and I take him into my mouth, savoring the taste of his fleshy member. As I open my throat to take in more of him, I feel the head of Kenny's dick pop into my pussy. For the first time in my life, I'm about to take on two men at once.

Kenny slides in slowly, burying his manhood in my dripping cunt. Tucker begins to rhythmically fuck my face as I take in as much of him as I can. I'm doing my best to control my gag reflex, and he's clearly enjoying my efforts. Kenny picks up the pace just slightly, and the head of his dick brushes repeatedly against the pleasure spot deep inside me.

I have never felt more alive.

Carlos and Gavin explore me with their hands, feeling up every inch of my body. Squeezing and pinching my nipples. I writhe beneath the affection of four men at one time, wondering just how much sensation my body can take.

Tucker groans and unleashes streams of cum down my throat. I feel the pulsing of his dick as he unloads while gripping my hair tightly in one hand. He's so far into me that I don't even have to swallow, as his warm spunk heads straight into my throat on its way to my stomach. I feel totally used, and I love it.

He pulls away, leaving me gasping, and Carlos climbs onto my chest. He's applied a generous amount of lube to his cock, and he pushes my breasts together and slides himself between them.

As he begins to fuck my tits, several things happen at once. In the closet, as he will tell me later, my husband gasps and pumps a large wad of cum into a towel. Between my legs, Kenny bucks against my groin and begins to unload inside my pussy. I can feel the warmth of his seed as he fills me, grunting like a beast that has captured its prey.

And like an orgasmic chain reaction, I begin to come. The climax takes my body, and it doesn't stop. I don't know if I'm coming repeatedly, or if it's one long, extended orgasm, but it goes on and on. It's the most intense and sexual thing I've ever known. It's as if my body is a vessel, made to give these men pleasure, and in that total surrender to their desire, I find my own gratification as well. I lose track of how long it lasts, or how many orgasms I have in a row. The lines between ecstasy and agony blur, and the intensity continues to build like a ripple that becomes a wave, then becomes a tsunami.

Kenny pulls out of me, and in his place I feel something huge. It's Gavin. He's working his thick roundness into me, and it stretches me wide as he makes his entrance.

It's a good thing I am soaking wet from my own juices and Kenny's load. I try to relax myself to take the girth of Gavin's prick, but I'm still coming, and I can't control my pelvic muscles. He makes his way in, spreading the walls of my pussy as he goes deeper. I have never felt so filled before.

Carlos kneads my breasts as he pumps between them. There's a look of wild lust on his face as he tittyfucks me. My extended orgasm subsides, and I try to catch my breath. Gavin is groaning as he buries his full thickness in my cunt. I'm amazed that I've been able to take him.

In my peripheral vision, I see that Tucker is hard again, and he's stroking his cock as he watches. And it's quite a scene. Carlos thrusting his dick between my breasts, and Gavin moving slowly as he continues to stretch my pussy.

With the walls of my box clenched tightly around him, Gavin's cock erupts. It swells even larger as he releases jets of spunk in me. I hear him yelling, "Aaaahhhh, FUCK!" as he floods my pussy with his essence, and I come again. Not quite as intensely as before, but enough to make me almost delirious. I'm a little surprised at how much I love this. At what a slut I've become. The pleasure is madness, and the madness is ecstasy.

As Gavin pulls out of me, leaving my hole gaping wide, Carlos begins to spasm. Thick ropes of cum spurt from the head of his cock, shooting against my neck and splashing onto my face. The enormous load pools between my tits and drips all over me. I am a wet, sticky mess.

Carlos slides his dick from between my breasts and shakes the last few drops onto my nipples. He collapses onto the bed beside me. He's totally spent.

As my breathing slowly begins to return to normal, I realize how completely used I feel, and how much I totally love that feeling. I hope that my cuckold husband in the closet is loving it as much as I am. I have little doubt about that.

Just as I'm thinking that we're finished, Tucker looms above me, his cock stiff and swollen. He reaches for me, and demands that I turn over onto my stomach. Suddenly, I realize what he's up to.

“This won’t take long,” he says, and his finger finds my asshole again, like it did when he was going down on me. He works it in and out, using the lube that Carlos brought and opening me up. I’ve let Carlos fuck my ass before, but Tucker is bigger, and I don’t know how this is going to work.

“Just relax,” he says, as he pulls his finger away and I feel the head of his cock against my opening.

“I’m going to count to three,” he says. “One. Two...”

But he doesn’t ever get to three. On the count of two, he pops himself inside my ass. I tense for a moment, but he’s done a good job of preparing me, and he slowly sinks more and more of himself into me. There’s pressure, but also a growing feeling of ecstatic pleasure at being filled back there.

Within moments, I feel his balls snug against the cheeks of my ass and I realize that he’s all the way in. That’s astounding. And then, he’s fucking my ass. Picking up speed and intensity. He’s plowing me, and yet somehow I love it.

As promised, it doesn’t take long. Tucker tenses, and announces that he’s about to come in my ass. And now he does, driving with long strokes as his cock throbs and delivers his payload deep inside me. My hand is on my clit and I climax one more time, together with Tucker, feeling him seed me as I collapse onto the bed, fully sated.

There’s a whimper from the closet, and I hear it. Everyone hears it.
Damn it, Mark, you were supposed to stay quiet!

Tucker withdraws his long dick from my ass and Carlos walks across the room, grabs the doors and yanks them open. I turn to look, and there’s my husband, his eyes wide and his dick in his hands. And there’s cum everywhere, dripping from the closet doors.

“Well,” Carlos says. He’s trying not to laugh. “Who the fuck do we have here?”

“Don’t be mad, Carlos,” I say. It’s my husband. He’s my cleaner, and he really wanted to watch. I’m sorry.”

“He’s your cleaner, huh?” Carlos asks, smirking. He eyes the messy closet doors and then looks at me. Cum is leaking from my ass and from my pussy, beginning to run down my legs. And I’ve still got some on my tits and my chin from when Carlos ejaculated all over me.

Carlos laughs. He waves the other three over and they gather in a half-circle around Mark. My husband looks at me, then back at the men who’ve just had their way with the woman he married.

“Well, Mister Cleaner. You’ve got a lot of work ahead of you. And you’re going to start with the dicks that have just fucked your slutty wife!”

Mark looks at me again, and then at the four dicks now dangling in front of his face.

He realizes that he has no choice. They’ve caught him red-handed.

“Mmmm. That’s a good little cleaner,” Carlos says, as Mark takes the bull’s cock in his mouth and begins to lick him clean.

Debby Goes Dogging

When Debby first learned that her husband Arlo was being transferred to his company's office in London, she was immediately excited.

She was a big-city girl, born and raised in Philadelphia, but she'd met Arlo while the two of them just happened to both be vacationing in Seaside, a small beach town in Florida. He had charmed her, and she'd missed him terribly when the vacation had ended. Once she returned to Philly and Arlo to his home in Lexington, Kentucky, they began a long-distance relationship that was mostly emails and late-night phone calls, as well as some serious sexting.

It was Arlo that had first started the whole thing. They'd been exchanging naked pictures of themselves for several months when he started sending her pictures of other guys. Well-endowed other guys. He told her he loved to fantasize about watching her take another man's large cock. That it really turned him on.

She'd been surprised, but decided to feed his fantasy and desire by purchasing a large dildo and taking video of herself masturbating with it. She sent the clip to him via text, and he sent back a reply about how he couldn't stop watching it.

His next message to her was an email with a plane ticket attached. A ticket to Lexington, and an invitation to join him for the weekend. He wanted to see her face to face, and text messages just weren't enough.

Debby had no idea when she stepped off the plane that she wouldn't be headed back to Philadelphia. Arlo met her in baggage claim and had immediately dropped to one knee, pulled out a ring, and proposed. Debby completely surprised herself by saying "Yes!"

They enjoyed a fabulous weekend together, and she never left. Arlo hired a moving company to pack her things and ship them to Lexington, and she spent the next year trying to get used to living in a much smaller city.

Lexington was fine and all, but Debby was bored. She was used to big city life, and the slower Kentucky pace didn't suit her. So when Arlo came home one evening and announced he was being transferred to London, she was thrilled. Finally, a chance to return to the sights and sounds of a real city. And besides, she had a thing for men with British accents. Maybe Arlo would finally get to see her taking a stranger's cock like he was always talking about.

She loved London from the start, and quickly made friends. While Arlo worked late getting acclimated to his new position, she frequented local pubs in the evening, and found British men to be as charmed by her Philly-American accent as she was by their fascinating use of the English language.

She met a few interesting women, too. One of them was Meg, a vivacious red-haired Londoner who loved to drink and flirt with the men in the pub. She told Debby wild and arousing stories about shagging Dirk, the bartender, on a table after closing time, going home with a set of twins from Essex who double-teamed her for hours, and visiting a hot site in South London to try her hand at dogging.

It was a term Debby was not familiar with.

"I don't know what 'dogging' means," she said as she drained her glass of red house wine.

"Oh, I was absolutely chuffed," Meg said. Debby had learned that was a term meant that Meg was thrilled. "I got fucked by three strapping fellows and one older bloke on the bonnet of my car. It was amazing!"

"Where did you find them?" Debby asked.

“There’s a spot in Croydon where men go and wait for any girls that might come. Sometimes husbands bring their wives there to watch them get shagged by other men. They call it ‘dogging.’”

Debby leaned in, wanting to know more. She told Meg about Arlo’s fantasy. About watching while she fucked a stranger. As much as they had talked about it, they never had figured out a way to make it happen.

“Oh, you’ll get fucked if you go dogging,” Meg said. “No doubt about that. The only question is, will he like watching it as much as he thinks he will? Some of these lads can go for quite a while!”

The waiter had brought them another round, and Debby took hers down in two big swallows. She would broach the subject with Arlo tonight. A drive to South London just might be in their future.

* * * *

Debby was quite tipsy by the time she left the pub. She walked the four-and-half blocks to their flat, where she found Arlo had just gotten home. He was in the kitchen, making sandwiches with some deli meat he’d picked up after leaving his office.

He never finished making the ham and cheese. Feeling good from the wine, and more than a little turned on from her conversation with Meg, Debby walked up behind her husband and slid her hands around his waist, dropping them down the front of his pants until she found his cock.

She wrapped her hands around it and began stroking as she pressed her firm breasts against his back. Arlo dropped the kitchen knife he was using to spread mustard on the sandwiches and leaned back against her, feeling his member swell in her grasp.

Without a word, she snaked his pants and boxer shorts down around his ankles and turned him around to face her. She squatted on the floor and began using her tongue on his balls while she continued to stroke him. His prick rose to full attention, and she took it in her mouth the moment it was fully hard.

Arlo groaned with unexpected pleasure as she worked her tongue around his cockhead and slid her lips down his shaft until he was fully embedded in her mouth. She knew how much he loved having his dick sucked. After all, what man didn't?

She released him from her lips just long enough to look up at him with the most lustful gaze he had ever seen on her face. "Don't hold back, baby," she said. "Just give me your cum!"

With that, she went back to work on his now-throbbing member, giving him the blowjob of a lifetime. He pumped in and out of her mouth, savoring the exquisite feelings as the passion began to rise in his body. It wasn't foreplay, and she wasn't trying to be slow and sensual. She was sucking him off. Debby wanted to taste him, and the sooner the better.

Her oral skills did not let her down. Arlo's breath was already coming in short gasps, and she knew he was close. Reaching under his balls, she slid a finger up into the crack of his ass, putting pressure against the tight ring of his opening.

And that was all it took. "Fuck, baby," she heard him groan, and she felt his dick tense as he let go spurt after spurt of rich, milky semen that filled her mouth and slid down her throat.

Arlo pushed firmly against her face as he delivered the larger-than-normal load across her tongue. She gulped and swallowed, savoring the salty treat from her husband. It was just what she had been craving, and she milked out every drop, licking her lips when his cock finally slipped from her mouth.

“Fuck, Debby...that was incredible!” Arlo said when his breathing slowed. “To what do I owe this lovely surprise?”

Debby stood and looked her husband in the eyes. She kissed him, giving him a taste of the remnants of his own seed from her mouth.

When she pulled away, she smiled broadly. “Arlo,” she said. “Have you ever heard of dogging?”

He was just as unfamiliar with the term as she had been. Debby sat him down at the kitchen table, retrieved a beer for him and more wine for herself, and proceeded to tell him Meg’s story about the spot in South London, and how four men had fucked the redhead on the hood of her car.

It all seemed wildly erotic to Arlo. Some men might have trouble seeing their wife being pleased by anonymous strangers, but not him. To Arlo, this sounded like a fantasy come true.

“And you’re telling me that you want to do this, darling?”

“Oh, yes,” Debby said. He loved this wild and adventurous side of her.

“But if we go, I won’t want you to fuck me while we’re there. I want to take as many other men’s loads as I can, and then when we get home, you will clean me up. After you lick it all out of me, then you can have your turn.”

Arlo had fantasized about this for so long that he quickly agreed to Debby’s terms. They made plans to go dogging on Saturday, just after dark. It was all Arlo was going to be able to think about for the next couple of days. He smiled and kissed his wife passionately. What a sexy, incredible woman he had married!

When Saturday finally arrived, Debby went out shopping in the morning. She returned that afternoon with a short skirt and a form-fitting tank top that would really show off her perky tits. She put the outfit on, without a bra or underwear, almost an hour before it was time to leave for their adventure, and Arlo’s dick grew hard in his pants the moment he saw her. Firm nipples were clearly evident beneath the fabric of her top, and the skirt provided easy access to her shaved pussy and beautiful ass.

They normally took the train or a taxi almost everywhere they went in London, but tonight's plan required a vehicle, so Arlo had rented a nice SUV earlier that day. When it began to get dark, they climbed into it and mapped out the directions on their phone.

Arlo guided the car south toward Croydon, and once there found Coombe Lane. He made a turn onto Oaks Road, and then immediately pulled into a car park. It wasn't paved, just a small area where vehicles could park to carpool or catch the train, and it was essentially surrounded by clumps of trees on every side. Unless someone actually pulled into the lot, they had no way of knowing what was going on in there, which made it perfect.

Arlo parked the car and they sat for a moment, taking in the area. There seemed to be a few things going on, especially further back in the lot toward a wooden structure. A burly man sat in the front seat of an older model truck that was closest to where they had stopped, and his driver-side door was open. A young-looking woman was leaning into his vehicle with her head in his lap, clearly sucking his dick. In the shadows further toward the rear of the lot, another woman was bending over at the waist and leaning into her car while one man fucked her from behind, and another waited his turn.

They had pulled into a spot next to a large ash tree, and after checking out the scene, Arlo got out and put the tailgate down on the SUV. There was a sizable area in the rear of the vehicle, especially when the hatch was open, and he spread a soft blanket across the floor and tailgate.

“Okay, baby. It's ready for you!”

Debby's heart was racing, and she felt a little frightened, but extremely turned on. She'd already noticed the beginnings of wetness between her legs on the ride down, but she applied a little bit of lube to her pussy, just in case. She took a deep breath and stepped out of the car, making her way around to the open hatch in the back.

Arlo sucked in a sharp breath. She looked amazing! The red tank top accentuated her breasts just perfectly, and the skirt was so short you could almost catch a glimpse of the lips of her pussy as she walked.

Debby climbed into the back of the SUV and laid down on her back on the blanket, scooting her ass right to the edge of the tailgate. Seductively, she spread her legs and pulled up the skirt, giving full view of her womanly charms to anyone who walked by.

Arlo had left the safety lights on, and there was some illumination coming from the lighting in the back section of the car. He snapped a few pictures on his phone as his wife began to play with her pussy, and it wasn't long before they caught the attention of a few men in the area. They began to gather around her as she masturbated.

One of the guys had a woman with him, who was dressed in shorts and a tight blouse. She smiled as she watched, and then turned to Arlo.

"Is it okay for me to go down on her?"

"I think she'd love that," he answered. The woman nodded and knelt on the ground, slipping in between Debby's legs. She lowered her face to Arlo's wife's waiting snatch and breathed in, savoring the essence of such a beautiful pussy. Slowly, she began to lick, first all around the lips, and then finally zeroing in on the hard little bulb of her swollen clit.

Debby leaned up to put her hands behind the woman's head and pull her firmly against her crotch. Sparks of pleasure arced through her body as the stranger licked her, lightly nibbling her pleasure spot every so often. She arched her back in blissful ecstasy and whined softly. She'd never had a woman go down on her before, but it was instantly clear that this one knew exactly what she was doing.

The full day's anticipation of their adventure, the few moments she'd spent masturbating, and the stranger's excellent technique combined to bring Debby to her first orgasm almost immediately. She cried out as the woman darted her tongue across the sensitive button, and ground her hips tightly against her face as the climax took her, shuddering from the sensation and breathing in hard gasps.

Her moans of pleasure had attracted even more men to the SUV, and they stood watching as the stranger pleased her. Most of them had their cocks in their hands, swollen and ready. Arlo looked from one to the other, the sight of their erections and the knowledge of what they wanted to do to his wife driving his lust and arousal.

When Debby's orgasm finally subsided, the woman pulled her face from Arlo's wife's groin and stood to make room for whoever would be next. Her face was wet from Debby's juices, and shone in the glow of light from the vehicle. She licked her lips seductively, relishing the taste.

A thin man with a swimmer's build and what looked to be about a seven-inch erection was the first to step up between Debby's outstretched legs. He rubbed the head of his cock around her clit and the outside of her lips, which were slippery and soaking wet. Then, leaning in against the tailgate, he popped the first inch of himself inside her waiting cunt, groaning at its tightness.

Debby reached out to him and pulled him in all the way, burying his member in her tight canal. He began thrusting, sliding his full length in and out rapidly. Debby squirmed beneath him. She was taking another man's cock for the first time since she had met Arlo, and the forbidden feeling of being fucked by a stranger made her tingle all over.

It was having quite an effect on Arlo, as well. This was what he had dreamed of. He'd fantasized about it over and over, and now it was happening right in front of him! Arlo slipped a hand into his pants and felt his own hardness, firm against his touch. He unbuckled his pants and slid them down across his legs, joining the other men who were stroking themselves as they watched.

Debby pulled her legs high in the air and back toward her body as the thin man plowed her pussy. She let out a sharp “Ahhh,” each time he thrust into her, the pitch of each one a little higher than the last. As the group around the back of the SUV watched lustfully, he drove as deep as he could, delivering the first load of the night into her wet cunt with powerful spurts. Debby could actually feel the warm jets of semen as he released them inside her, and she growled with pleasure.

The man pulled his dripping cock from within her, and it was immediately replaced by that of another stranger. This guy’s dick wasn’t as long, but it was as thick as a beer can, and it stretched the walls of Debby’s pussy as he made his entrance. Two more guys surrounded her and lifted her shirt, groping her tits while he fucked her. The fat-dicked stranger had picked up speed as soon as her tight opening adjusted to his girth. He came quickly, adding his load to the first one inside her with several spurts, and pulled out of her to make room for the next man.

Debby felt a splash of warm milkiness on her tits as one of the guys who had been fondling her sprayed a load all over her chest. She rubbed it into her skin and nipples with one hand as she cooed from all the attention.

She let out a sharp cry as the next man mounted her, sliding a very large cock deep into her pussy before taking up a steady rhythm, his balls slapping against her with each thrust. The slight curvature of his dick pressed against the sensitive spot inside her with every stroke, and she knew it was going to make her come. She moved beneath him, matching his thrusts as the mounting feeling in her body built toward its explosion.

Arlo looked around the tailgate of the SUV at several more men who were waiting their turn with his wife. He was watching them stroke their dicks in readiness when he felt the softness of lips closing around the head of his cock.

Looking down, he saw that the woman who had started the dogging adventure by bringing Debby to orgasm with her tongue was now on her knees in front of him, and she was sliding her lips down the shaft of his prick. He gasped as she took his entire length into her mouth, cupping his balls and applying pressure just beneath them.

It felt incredible. He looked over at Debby, who was writhing with passion as the stranger plowed her, thrusting deep and hard. Her legs were locked around the man, pulling him deeper, and the sound of her voice let Arlo know she was about to come.

"Fuck meeeeeeeee!" Debbie exclaimed, and her body began to tremble as the orgasm took her over like a supernova, lighting up her nervous system and flooding the pleasure center of her brain with powerful endorphins. The muscles of her pussy contracted, squeezing the stranger's swollen member tightly and sending him over the edge as well. He bucked against her, emptying his balls into her already cum-filled cunt with a loud groan.

It was the naughtiest and sexiest thing Arlo had ever seen, and it pushed him to his climax as well. His dick throbbed and he filled the woman's mouth with his spunk, unleashing jets of cum onto her tongue and down her waiting throat. She slurped and swallowed, looking up at him approvingly.

One of the men who'd been watching them stepped forward and came on the woman's face, shooting thick globs of cum across her cheeks and onto Arlo's belly. The woman licked Arlo's skin clean as the older, chubby man they'd seen getting blown in the truck earlier took his place between Debby's thighs. He lasted only a minute before adding his load to the ones already collecting in her cunt.

Three more men took their turns with Arlo's wife, adding still more cum to the party between her legs. Debby came once more with the last one, who moved slowly and sensually inside her, determined not to come until she did. Once he was done, the crowd began to dissipate, which was just as well, because Debby wasn't sure she could take much more.

On the drive home, Arlo told her about the woman who had sucked him off, and she sighed happily. She knew how excited he had been about taking her dogging, and she was glad he'd had a chance to be pleased as well. Now he had a duty to perform.

All that remained was the cleanup, and Arlo got right to it as soon as they arrived at their flat. It was while he was licking the collection of cum loads from her pussy and swallowing down as much as he could that Arlo realized that seeing Debby take on all of those men had been the biggest turn-on of his life.

He wasn't sure if this meant that his wife was cuckolding him or not, but the look on Debby's face during the trip home had told him that she would be fucking plenty of other men from now on. He paused from his cleanup duty and saw that the same look of contentment still beamed from her face.

"Do you think you'd want to go dogging again sometime?" Arlo asked.

"On, I'm going again," she replied, and it was then that he knew that the dynamic of their relationship had shifted. Debby would be calling the shots from now on.

"You just keep doing your job, Arlo. You need to make sure this pussy is nice and clean, because tomorrow we're going dogging again."

Locked Away

“It wasn’t always like this,” I think to myself as I wait in the bedroom. Never in my wildest dreams would I have imagined getting to the place where things are today. Nothing I have ever been through prepared me for this.

I was a typical male, a “guy’s guy,” when I was growing up, and I had a decent amount of success with women. I even took my high school’s head cheerleader to senior prom, and wound up getting it on with her in the back of my Dodge Charger after the dance.

I wasn’t what you’d consider “hung,” but my six inches seemed to get the job done. In college, I had a pretty busy social life, but I never got tied down. I was more of the “love ‘em and leave ‘em” type. I had good looks and charm, and that allowed me to pretty much call the shots when it came to talking women into bed with me.

But everything changed when I met Marissa. First, let me say that she’s a goddess. Statuesque, very fit, with amazing breasts and those long legs that my buddy Carl used to say “go right up and make an ass out of themselves.” And what a fine ass it is.

I had asked her out way back when I was just an intern at Raidonton, a software development company that eventually hired me and where I am a Vice President today. She was an assistant to the big boss, so I’d known that I should tread carefully and make sure I didn’t do anything improper. The last thing I needed was for her to say bad things about me to the CEO.

As a result I didn’t really put the moves on her at first. We had a nice dinner out, and I gave her the old “I’d like to see you again,” line. She’d agreed, and after our second date I invited her back to my place. She turned me down, which to be honest was something I really wasn’t used to. By this time I was dying to get into her pants.

But she did agree to a third date. At the end of it, I walked her to the front door of her condo, thinking I would be headed home again with another frustrating boner, when she leaned in and kissed me. A pretty spectacular kiss, as I remember.

“Jayson,” she said when she pulled her lips from mine, “I’m going to invite you in to stay the night. But we need to establish something first, and lay out the ground rules before we go any further.”

“Sure,” I said. At that point I would have said just about anything to get to see her naked.

“I’m not your typical schoolgirl,” she told me. “I like things a certain way, and when it comes to sex, most guys have a tough time handling it.”

I had no idea what she was getting at, but I was pretty sure I could deal with anything she wanted to dish out.

“Try me,” I said.

“Well, for starters, I need you to be able to take direction. It really will only be good for me if I’m calling the shots. Do you think you can be comfortable with that?”

My mind reeled at the idea of her being assertive. Maybe she wanted to tie me to the bedpost with satin scarves and have her way with me. It all sounded pretty awesome to me, and if that’s what it took, why not?

“Don’t you worry about me,” I said, smiling to reassure her. Marissa cocked her head sideways, as if trying to assess whether I really could handle her or not. She must have at least decided I was worth a chance, because she opened the door and ushered me in.

Her place was amazing. I immediately wondered how she could afford a condo this nice on an assistant’s salary. I know now that she has family money, and was taking the job just to carve out a career for herself. Maybe the fact that she had access to all that capital was part of what made her so self-confident.

Something certainly did. From the moment we stepped inside, Marissa was in control. She poured us each a drink and after we sat on the couch sipping them for a few minutes, she stood up and instructed me to find her bedroom at the end of the hall and remove my clothes. She would be with me in just a moment.

Dutifully, and more than a little aroused, I did as I was told. By the time she appeared in the bedroom doorway, I was lying across the bed on my back, naked and waiting.

She was wearing one of the sexiest negligees I had ever seen. It was a deep purple color, accenting her perfect breasts as if it had been tailored just for her. She was a vision of bewitching beauty, with an almost otherworldly aura of sexiness. I was completely mesmerized by her, in a way that was totally new to me.

From somewhere in the room, a pulsating dance tune played from an invisible speaker. Slowly, with an almost agonizing sensuality, she peeled off the teddy as she swayed to the beat of the music. My dick had swollen to full hardness as I watched, enthralled by the sight before me.

I started to rise up to approach her, but she halted me with a wave of her hand. "Stay there," she'd said, continuing to move to the thump of the bass line. She climbed, catlike, onto the bed, and then stood above me, straddling me with her incredible legs on either side of my hips.

And then, with deliberate slowness, she'd lowered herself down onto my erection until every bit of my cock was embedded inside her warm, wet center.

That was the last thing she did that was slow. Marissa arched her back and began grinding on top of me, pleasuring herself on my stiff member with a series of dips, thrusts and contractions. For a moment, I actually thought that I might pass out. Sure, I'd fucked plenty of women, but this was different. She was fucking me. And something about the fact that she was so focused on taking her own pleasure turned me on in a way I could never have foreseen.

When my cock exploded inside her, she paused to savor the pulsing of my manhood, and then started riding me again. While stamina was not usually a problem for me, I had always been pretty much a ‘one-and-done’ kind of guy. Once I came, that was usually it for me, for at least a half-hour or so.

But that wasn’t what happened. She had a unique talent for controlling her vaginal muscles, and she used them to grip me tightly as she worked her body up and down across my dick.

I never got soft. And for what must have been an hour, she had continued to writhe across me, achieving orgasm so many times that I honestly lost count. I never came again, but I loved every second of it. By the time she rolled off of me and collapsed into the softness of the bed, my groin was drenched with the secretions from our marathon session. Mostly hers.

For someone who had been so deep in the throes of passion, she composed herself quickly, and propped herself up in the bed to look at me.

“So,” I asked before she said anything. “How’d I do?”

She took a breath and cracked a wry smile. “Not bad, Jayson.” She paused for a moment, and then said, “Now get your ass in the kitchen and fix me a drink. There’s vodka in the freezer, and I want you to make me a martini. Dirty. Olives are in the refrigerator.

I’ll admit, I wasn’t used to being told what to do, especially so forcefully. But there was something about the way she made me feel when she took charge that was incredibly arousing to me. The idea that it felt like my duty to please her seemed to somehow make sense to my crazed mind. I happily found the icy bottle and a shaker and mixed her the best martini I knew how to make.

The next time Marissa fucked me, she did tie me to the bed. The time after that, she started talking a lot during sex, which quickly became the new normal. But she wouldn't say things like "You feel so big," or "Fuck me, Jayson." Instead, she started to tell me how lucky I was to be in her pussy, and how she wished she was getting fucked by a real man right then instead of me. As it continued, the talk became more and more about how worthless I was, and how much of a let-down it was that my dick wasn't any bigger.

But for reasons I can't explain, my brain didn't process it the way I might have expected. It was humiliating, of course, but it seemed to go straight from my ears to my frontal lobe and then to every pleasure center in my body whenever she said those things. I realized I not only didn't want to disappoint her, I ached to please her. But that one single admission of "not bad" was the only instance of praise that I got from her for some time.

And she seemed to know that the harder she pushed, the more I liked it.

"Either that, or she just gets off on berating me," I think to myself as I wait in the dim light. I realize that whatever the reason was, my entire personality had begun to change from our very first fuck. The cocky swagger was being replaced by a drive to do whatever it was that she wanted. I had even developed a fear of doing something wrong or of disappointing her, which would inevitably lead to more insults and debasement. But what was crazy, was that the humiliation had now become the very thing that drove my arousal. It's mixed up, I know.

By the time she ordered me to move in with her, I was already well down the rabbit hole. The derision intensified and she began to be even more insulting. She'd call me a "loser" and a "sissy." But then just when I started to think I was never going to be able to do anything right for her, she'd give me these occasional days where she would praise me, and tell me she loved me, and laugh supportively at anything I would say.

I began to crave those few days. And yet whenever she would decide it was time for one of them, another part of me craved the rush of being humiliated by her, and I'd find myself counting the hours until the bossy, assertive side of her returned.

Marriage had been her idea, of course. She didn't so much propose as she commanded it. I was to make all the arrangements, and she would show up in a white dress. I hadn't known the first thing about how to plan a wedding, and it was an enormous pain in the ass doing so while balancing the growing demands of my job, but I did the best I could, hoping not to disappoint her.

At work, without the swagger I'd always had before I met Marissa, I became much more of a "yes-man." As it turns out, that's exactly what companies seem to be looking for these days, because my career had gone on a fast track and I wound up getting promoted several times. I was a "team player," which I'm pretty sure is corporate-speak for someone who knows not to rock the boat.

On our wedding night, my new bride used a riding crop on me for the first time. It stung like hell when she smacked my ass with it, but it only took a few slaps from it to make me blow a load all over the bed in front of me. And Marissa seemed to enjoy it just as much as I did.

The spanking accessories were one thing, but the next item she'd brought home was really intimidating. It was a pink resin cage, shaped kind of like a cock and balls. I'd eyed it curiously, wondering what she was up to. I would soon find out.

I look down at it now. The resin cage surrounds my balls and my dick, fastened just above my package. It's all locked safely away. Not only can I not touch myself, I can't even get an erection! The chastity cage won't let my cock swell. Not unless Marissa unlocks me.

Which at first, she did more often. Lately I stay locked up for days at a time. She laughs at me, telling me how pathetic I am, and that only a total loser lets himself get all locked away. And it drives me crazy with desire. Now, when I'm finally released and I can orgasm, the feeling is almost like desperation. Like the way a man who's dying of thirst reacts to a first drink of water.

I have to wear the cage under my slacks to the office and I just know that people can tell. This all adds to my humiliation, which makes my dick want to rise, which it can't. I think I'm getting addicted to this helpless feeling.

The sound of the bedroom door opening jolts me from my memories into the present. It's Marissa. And she's not alone.

"Jayson," she says, almost purring. "I want you to meet Orlando. A huge hunk of a man steps into the lamp's low illumination. He's handsome, large, and muscular, and I can see the outline of his dick against his leg under his pants.

He's enormous. This is the man Marissa has picked to fuck in front of me. To make me watch his gargantuan cock impale her incredible pussy. For the first time, I really do feel like the "small-dicked sissy" she's always telling me I am.

He steps up behind her and slides his arms around her waist. He snakes his hands up under her cotton top and fondles her breasts. He squeezes them firmly, and pinches her nipples.

Marissa melts against him with a soft cry as he rips her shirt from her body. His mouth is all over her now, sucking her 36D's lasciviously as he slides a hand inside her pants and gropes her.

She's letting him do anything he wants to her! She's not even attempting to take control of what's happening! And from what I've seen so far, he doesn't appear to be planning anything gentle.

My wife steps out of her pants and I see that she's not wearing panties. That doesn't necessarily surprise me, but the way he throws her to the bed does. Even more unexpected is that when he does, I actually hear her whimper.

Marissa whimpers.

I've heard her groan before, and I've heard her cry out loud. I've heard her moan and grunt when she's working her way to an orgasm. But I've never heard her whimper. This is new.

So is the way she's pulling her legs up until her feet are above her head while he buries his face in her pussy. She's beginning to wail, as if this is the most glorious thing she's ever felt. In only seconds, she comes, grinding her crotch into the big man's face.

My brain knows that it's not possible for my dick to get hard in the chastity cage, but that is not in any way stopping the little guy from trying. I feel the anguish of my body's attempt to send a rush of blood there, but my cock has no way to grow.

Orlando lifts his face from my wife's pussy, and it's glistening from her juices. Marissa doesn't squirt, exactly, but she releases a lot of wetness when she hits a climax. I see him lick his lips, enjoying the taste of her as he undoes his pants and releases a monster. I'm certain he's going to mount her, like a stallion mounts a prize mare, but instead he straddles her chest and drapes his huge cock across her face.

"Suck it, bitch. Get me hard."

I'm struck by two thoughts at the same time. First, there's no way Marissa will obey any man calling her a bitch and telling her she has to suck him. Not unless it was her idea. And second, I think, "Holy shit! Does it actually get bigger than that?"

To my utter shock, both of those things happen. My wife obediently takes Orlando's enormous member into her mouth and begins to suck his cock. And as she does, I can see it growing even larger. He pushes even deeper and Marissa begins to gag, but doesn't stop.

I never saw this coming. She told me she was going to bring another man home and fuck him, and that I had to watch with my cage on and locked. But it never occurred to me that she would relinquish control to the stranger. And she's doing whatever he tells her to!

He pulls his dick from her throat and slaps it against her face. She not only doesn't object to his dominant attitude, she seems to be getting off on it. One day perhaps I will understand that as mystifying as it may be, a woman can want one thing from one man, and something entirely different from someone else.

Orlando looks over at me, grinning at the sight of my discomfort. I'm naked and exposed, and my dick is straining against its prison. I'm a wreck.

He taunts me, telling me he's going to fuck my wife now, and show her what a real dick feels like when it's making her come. I'm throbbing inside my cage, desperate for release. But all I can do is watch.

And I'm not surprised when he spreads Marissa's legs and takes her, thrusting deep and hard with the very first push. She squirms beneath him, letting out a cry that at first I think must be pain, but I quickly realize is ecstasy.

And then he fucks her. My god, he is destroying her pussy. She's flailing around on the bed, spasming and shaking as he hammers her, and I know from her guttural moans that he's finding her g-spot with every stroke.

"Ahhhhhh!" Orlando roars. "Fuck, that's a tight cunt! You want it harder, slut?"

I don't know how he could thrust much harder, but Marissa manages a feeble, "Yes, please," and somehow he picks up the pace.

Again I think about how I could never have imagined this. My little prick locked in a resin cage while a stranger with an enormous cock bangs my wife relentlessly. When she told me she was going to fuck someone in front of me, I hadn't known it would be like this.

And I couldn't have predicted the way it is affecting me. My body feels like someone has plugged me in to an electric socket, and I am sizzling and overheating.

Marissa comes hard, calling out Orlando's name as she grabs the bedsheet with both hands and shudders beneath him. Her voice as she groans from the orgasm is deep and otherworldly, a sound I have never heard her make before.

Satisfied that he has his prey where he wants them, Orlando finishes the job. He's coming deep, his veiny monster pulsing as he claims her, filling her dripping pussy with sperm as the bed shakes and the headboard slams against the wall.

My wife is gasping for breath as he pulls his big cock out of her, rubbing it on a pillowcase to clean himself off. I'm gasping too. My dick has strained against the restraint before, but never like this.

Orlando is already putting his pants back on, stuffing the softening monster down inside them and zipping up.

"Next weekend," he says to Marissa. It's not a question.

And just like that, he's gone. He came, he saw, he fucked.

She's looking at me now, and I recognize the expression. It's pity. I deserve it, I guess. I certainly must look like the most pitiful man on the planet right now. With a devilish smile, Marissa reaches into a drawer on her nightstand and retrieves a silver key.

I'm trembling as she approaches me with it. I was thinking that I might have to beg her to unlock me, but maybe not. She dangles it in front of my face. She's asking me what it was like to watch her take a cock that big. How it made me feel when he filled her with his spunk. I can only offer a mumbled reply. My body is on overdrive and it feels like I'm going to explode.

And when she unlocks the cage, that's exactly what I do. I'm still almost completely soft, but the second the resin surface falls away from my cock, it pumps out thick streams of cum. Marissa is amused, giggling as my limp dick spurts onto my legs and the carpet where I'm standing.

But I barely notice the laughter. I'm having the most intense orgasm of my life. Nothing before has been even close. I sink to my knees, unable to keep my balance. And I'm still coming. It lasts for more than a minute, leaving me shaking as I kneel on the floor.

"That's good," Marissa says. "That's my good little cuckold husband. Poor baby!"

I've never even heard the term "cuckold" before.

"What does that mean?" I ask her when my voice returns.

"Cuckold? That's what you are. A sissy little cuckold. Let's get you cleaned up so you can make me a drink," she says. She picks up the little pink cage from where it has fallen.

"You can look it up on the internet and read about it later. You'll have plenty of time to learn about it once I've got you all locked away again."

The Gang's All Here

Brendan Silverman was the most notorious lawyer in Portland. He'd started out as a public defender, standing up for the rights of those who were being trampled on by the system, and who couldn't afford a high-priced litigator to make sure they got a fair trial. Brendan was meticulous and persuasive, and he knew how to pull a jury slowly but surely into his narrative.

But most importantly, he didn't lose. Even when the deck was completely stacked against him, Brendan had always found a way to thread the needle. A way to create some sliver of doubt that would keep a jury from feeling completely certain that his client was guilty.

His courtroom skills had very quickly gotten him noticed. And once his notoriety had reached a certain level, he'd decided it was time to cash in. He transitioned from his role defending the poor and downtrodden to representing those who had money. In some cases a lot of money. And they weren't afraid to spend it when they needed the services of the most successful lawyer in the state.

So only a few years after opening his own practice, Brendan was not only a success in the courtroom, he had a fat bank account to go with it. Sure, he represented drug dealers, money launderers, and would-be crime kingpins, but he lived in an exquisite home in West Linn, drove a Maserati GranTurismo convertible, and could get a table at a moment's notice at any of the city's most exclusive restaurants.

He was successful, he was wealthy, and he was absolutely feared by opposing counsel.

But that wasn't all there was to him.

Brendan Silverman was also a cuckold husband.

His wife, Minka, was an exotic and beautiful vixen of a woman. Her long black hair looked incredible against her alabaster skin, and her tantalizing shape reminded Brendan of the women who regularly appeared on the cover of fashion magazines.

Minka was gorgeous and desirable, and she loved to fuck other men. Most people had no idea that her husband, the man who seemed in complete control of the courtroom, was totally controlled by her when it came to the bedroom.

In the early days of their marriage before his career began to skyrocket, she would bring men home with her from local bars or meet them on a dating app for married women, and she'd make Brendan watch from a chair in the corner of the bedroom while strangers had their way with her. Once he became more well-known and recognizable, that started to be problematic. It wouldn't be good if word somehow got back to his many opponents in the courtroom, who would jump at any chance to discredit him.

The couple took to planning weekend trips to other cities where Minka would entertain a stranger in their hotel room while Brendan sat watching and stroking his dick. Only after the stranger had come and gone would Minka allow her husband to have sex with her, and usually that was only after he had performed clean-up duty.

But this all worked just fine for Brendan. He was used to being in command of everything, but handing over control to Minka allowed him to step out of that role and into one that he found refreshing and incredibly erotic.

They were on their way home from a weekend jaunt to San Francisco when Minka told him about one of her unfulfilled fantasies. As much as she enjoyed sleeping with an anonymous man while Brendan watched, she wanted to up the ante. She wanted to take on a group of guys all at the same time, and experience her first gangbang.

Brendan was immediately aroused. Watching multiple guys fuck his wife at the same time sounded like something that would turn him on in a big way.

But there was more. Minka was an adrenaline junkie. She loved going skydiving and white-water rafting. Once, when Brendan had represented a NASCAR driver and gotten him acquitted on a charge stemming from a much-publicized bar fight, the grateful driver had offered to let him take his race car around the track a few times as a way of thanking him. Brendan had accepted the offer, but let his wife drive instead of doing it himself, and she had been thrilled. She loved anything that included an element of danger. Minka had found the NASCAR experience so exhilarating that she'd let Brendan come in her ass later that night, which was a rare occurrence.

"I don't just want to do a gangbang with random men," she whispered in his ear as their plane taxied to the jetway. "I want to do it with real gang guys. From an actual gang."

Brendan looked at her, surprised. This idea certainly had some built-in danger to it. Was that really what she wanted?

"I don't know how you would even set that up," he said, keeping his voice low. "You can't just march into Felony Flats and ask if anybody wants to fuck you."

"Of course not, silly," she said, patting his shoulder condescendingly. "I want you to arrange it for me. Maybe you could talk to some of the guys you represented in court."

Brendan thought about this. He had recently gotten several members of "The Bois" off from a charge of trafficking drugs. He'd discovered that the police had entered one of their houses without a warrant on the shaky grounds that they thought someone was in danger inside. When he'd pressed the officers in court, the cop's stories hadn't matched up very well, and Brendan had gotten the whole case thrown out as a result.

The Bois were an interesting group. They were one of the only interracial gangs in Portland. Black and white guys, as well as Hispanics and even a few Asians were all members of The Bois. When he'd kept three of their members out of jail, they'd not only paid his fee in cash, they'd let him know that from that point on, he was golden with them.

"The Bois got your back," they'd said. "If there's anything you ever need, you just let us know." Still, gangbangers were dangerous. But at least these dangerous guys owed him a favor.

"I'll look into it," he told Minka as they walked to baggage claim. They were flying first class, so their luggage would be among the first bags on the carousel. "Give me some time to see what I can arrange," he said as he kept an eye out for their Louis Vuitton suitcases.

Brendan's wife smiled at him, giving him a look that suggested he would be well rewarded for his efforts. God, she was beautiful. He stared at her tight ass beneath the form-fitting pants she was wearing. The thought of getting to see her taking on a group of thuggish guys was causing a slight stiffness in his groin.

Brendan still had the defendants' phone numbers.

He'd make some calls.

* * * *

Brendan sat in Arnie's diner, sipping a coffee while he waited for Nico. The large Hispanic man was the leader of The Bois, and was one of the three that Brendan had represented in court. It had been Nico's house that the police had entered and found stacks of cash that were no doubt fruits of their drug operation, but Brendan had gotten all of the charges thrown out by framing the bust as an "illegal search and seizure."

It was late afternoon, and Brendan had spent most of the morning in depositions for a new case where he was defending one of the city's biggest financial tycoons. There was much he didn't understand about the case, but he would in time. That was his superpower. You could always say that he would wind up understanding the case better than his adversaries. You could not necessarily say that he would use his superpower for good.

But that didn't bother him. He chuckled to himself as he waited for the gang leader. Nico had sounded happy to hear from him, and even excited when Brendan told him that he might need a favor. The Bois were fiercely loyal to anyone they considered their allies, and Brendan was very high on that list.

He looked up from his coffee as Nico entered Arnie's, instantly out of place in the diner. Arnie's was a favorite spot for older, balding white men who still read the printed newspaper and loved to complain to each other about the sorry state of the government, and how all elected officials were "corrupt to the core." The place was a bit of an anomaly in uber-hip Portland, but it was always busy and stayed open around the clock.

Brendan paid very little attention to the old guys' conversations, but he liked the coffee and the cherry-cheese danish that was his go-to at the diner. He'd already polished one off while waiting for his guest.

Nico found Brendan's booth and slid in. He was accompanied by O'Connell, a wiry Irish guy with a full sleeve of tattoos on his right arm, and Spike, a tall black man who was built like a linebacker. They were young, but all exuded confidence and swagger, which made them stand out even more among the clientele of Arnie's.

"What's up, Saul?" Nico said, offering his hand. "Saul" was what the members of The Bois had started calling him during their trial, naming him after the sleazy but likable lawyer from the TV show "Breaking Bad."

Brendan took the gangbanger's hand and shook it. "Good to see you, Nico," he said, nodding hello to Spike and O'Connell. "How's business?"

“Not bad,” Nico replied. He lowered his voice and looked around the room before continuing. “We moved everything from where the cops busted us and covered our tracks. Now we change all of our locations every three months to make us less vulnerable. If somebody tries to rat on us, chances are we will have already moved on by the time anybody’s got enough evidence for a warrant.”

“That’s smart,” Brendan said. “Did you take my advice about setting up some kind of a legit front business?”

“We did,” Spike spoke up. “We bought a couple of run-down dry cleaners and fixed them up. Now half the cops in Portland get their uniforms cleaned by one of our shops.”

“And we can funnel plenty of cash through them,” Nico added. “So it’s working pretty well. Is that what you need, ese? A little cash infusion?”

Brendan laughed. “No, no, nothing like that. What I’m going to ask you is...” He lowered his voice as well. “Something that’s a bit more of a personal nature.”

“Whatever you need, Saul,” Nico said. There was genuine admiration in his eyes.

Brendan cleared his throat and looked around the diner. It was buzzing with conversation. He heard one guy complaining that elections were rigged and that all politicians should be brought up on charges. As much as Brendan and the guys in his booth stood out in the diner, no one seemed to be paying any attention to them.

“My wife and I have an...unconventional relationship,” he began. He thumbed the home button on his phone and called up a picture of Minka in a stylish bra with a garter belt and panties and showed it to Nico and his guys.

Nico whistled softly. “She’s gorgeous, Saul,” he said. “You are one lucky bastard.”

Brendan laughed. “Yes, I am,” he said.

“But here’s the thing. She likes to be intimate with other men, and I like to watch when it happens. It’s kind of our thing, if you get my drift.”

“Wait,” Nico said, his eyebrows arching high. “Your wife fucks other dudes while you watch?”

“Exactly,” Brendan said. “I’m trusting you by telling you this. I can’t have that information getting out, and I’m sure you can understand why.”

O’Connell looked at Minka’s image on the phone again, and then back at Brendan.

“So you want us to fuck up some of the guys she’s been screwing?”

“No, no...nothing like that,” Brendan said. “It’s what we do. I’m totally ok with it. In fact, I like it.”

The lanky member of The Bois sitting beside Nico ran a hand across his short-cropped red hair, trying to process what the lawyer was telling him. If O’Connell was married to a woman who looked like that, any man that touched her would likely wind up eating a bullet from the Sig Sauer P320 he kept tucked in the back of his pants.

Brendan smiled and took a sip of his coffee. A waitress appeared and refilled his cup, and Nico and his companions each ordered a beer. Brendan waited until she brought a round of lagers from a local brewery and the gang members began sipping them before he continued.

“She’s asked me to set something up with a group of guys. A gangbang. I wanted to know if four or five of you would participate.”

Nico took a draw from his beer and sat it on the table, studying the lawyer’s face.

“So you’re asking us to fuck your wife?”

“That’s exactly what I’m asking,” Brendan replied. “We’ll get a hotel room downtown and have you meet us there. She wants a gangbang from real gang members.”

“Dude, I don’t know,” Nico said. “We have much respect for you. I don’t want there to be any problems between you and The Bois. You might not like seeing us all over your wife like that. I want to make sure we’re always good with you, ‘cuz in our business you never know when we’re gonna need your services again.” He rubbed his upper arm, where a six-pointed star was visibly inked on his biceps. It was the signature tattoo of The Bois.

“Let me assure you that I absolutely would like it,” Brendan said. It might seem strange to you, but I get off on seeing that. There would never be any problems between us, as long as all of you can promise me to be discrete.”

Nico drained the rest of his beer as he thought it over.

“You sure about this, ese? I don’t think my guys are actually what you would call ‘gentle’ when it comes to being with women.”

“She’s not looking for gentle,” Brendan said, keeping his voice low. “I don’t want you to hurt her, but she likes it a little rough.”

“And you’ll give me your word that you’re ok with it?” The Bois were certainly not model citizens, but Nico and his guys considered a person’s word to be sacred.

“Nico, I swear,” Brendan said. “Not only am I fine with it, I will consider it a personal favor to me. In fact, I’ll owe you one.”

Spike laughed and asked to see Minka’s photo again. Brendan pulled up another one from his phone, this one of Minka naked in bed, her legs spread and her marvelous tits on full display.

“Shit, Saul,” the big man said. “If I get to tap that fine piece of ass you won’t owe me anything!”

Nico and O'Connell laughed too, and Brendan knew he'd won them over.

"I'll be in touch," he said, pulling out a handful of twenties and leaving them on the table for the waitress. "We'll do it this weekend if that works for you guys."

Nico stood as Brendan prepared to leave and clasped his hand, holding it tightly. "I told you anything you need, Saul," he said. "If this is what you want, you got it."

* * * *

Brendan booked a suite at The Nines for the weekend. On Friday night Minka met a businessman from out of town in the hotel bar who had no idea who she and her husband were, and who looked like he could have played Captain America in the movies. She invited him up to their room where Brendan watched while she gave the stranger a fantastic blow job and let him shoot a generous amount of cum all over her tits. Brendan added a load of his own after the man left, and then happily licked her clean.

They had sent up the gangbang for Saturday evening. Brendan spent most of the day reading up on the details of his latest case while Minka went out shopping.

She returned late in the afternoon with a small assortment of bags containing lingerie she had purchased.

"Would you like me to model these for you?" Minka asked. "You can help me pick out which one to wear tonight."

Brendan set his work aside to give his wife his full attention. "I seriously doubt you will wear any of them for very long," he said, chuckling.

“Yes, but I want to answer the door in one, just for effect,” she replied, giving him a teasing look.

“I’d be thrilled to help in any way I can,” Brendan said, a twinkle in his eye. Any chance to see Minka in sexy lingerie was one he wouldn’t want to miss. Minka stripped out of her dress and put the first one on. It was light brown and sheer in all the right places, showing off her nipples and the outline of the lips of her amazing pussy.

“Thumbs up,” Brendan said. “And I should point out that my dick is starting to point up, as well.”

Minka grinned seductively and tried on the second one. It was baby blue, a sexy bra with matching panties and a garter belt. Brendan liked that one too. She looked incredible.

“And here’s the third one,” she said. It was a red teddy with a plunging neckline that was open all the way to her navel, and did very little to cover her ass in the back.

“We have a winner!” Brendan exclaimed. He was fully erect now, and he slid his hand into his shorts to fondle the head of his cock.

“Easy there, big boy,” Minka said, seeing him begin to stroke himself. “You’re going to see quite a show tonight. Don’t want you to pop off too early!”

Her husband sighed. She was right, he would probably come with just a few more gropes of his dick, but the anticipation of waiting would make the night even better. Reluctantly, he let go of his stiff prick and decided to call room service. He ordered them a bottle of champagne and a plate of the hotel’s delicious appetizers.

Minka went to the door when the food and drink arrived, still wearing only the red teddy. “Mmmm, that looks delicious,” she said.

“Yes...um...delicious,” the young room service guy stammered. He couldn’t take his eyes off of the beautiful woman in lingerie who had answered when he knocked. Minka went for her purse to get him a tip, bending over to give him a perfect view of her ass.

“I hope that’s enough,” she said, handing him a twenty.

“Oh, yes, that’s great,” he mumbled. His gaze was locked on the contours of her body, and he didn’t even look at the tip as he stuffed it into his pocket.

Brendan watched as the man’s cheeks flushed and he thanked Minka before closing the door. He loved when his wife showed herself off to strangers like that. He wouldn’t have been surprised if she’d pulled the guy in and sucked his cock for a tip instead of giving him cash. She’d done that before on some of their weekend sex trips.

They opened the Veuve Clicquot and sipped it as they enjoyed the food. By the end of the bottle they were buzzed, horny, and ready for the evening to begin.

For gang members, Nico and his group were extremely punctual. They knocked at the door at exactly 7:30 pm, which was the time Brendan had set up for them to arrive. As she’d planned, Minka answered the door wearing the red teddy.

A wide-eyed Nico introduced himself, along with O’Connell and Spike, and two other members of The Bois that he had invited to come with them, Jae-Jin and Gilbert.

Jae-Jin was Korean, with a taut, muscular frame. Gilbert looked to be of mixed ethnicity, like one of those guys in the movies who could play just about any character. He had long-ish brown hair and an intense gaze that made Minka feel weak in the knees.

And they all fit the bill. Handsome, rugged, and yes, dangerous.

She felt an adrenaline rush and the beginnings of arousal just looking at them.

The five members of The Bois looked her over approvingly. Spike was the first to touch her, running his hands across her shoulders before squeezing her breasts. The others joined in, exploring her body with their hands as they stood just inside the door to the hotel room.

Nico, however, sought out Brendan instead. He found him seated in a large comfortable chair in the suite's bedroom, waiting.

"Saul," he said. "I just want to give you one more chance to back out. My guys are really excited about fucking your woman, but I can still call them off. Are you sure you can handle this?"

Brendan smiled at his unlikely friend, the leader of one of the fiercest gangs in Portland. "It's all good, Nico," he said. "Like I told you, this is something she wants. And I want it too."

"Okay, brother," Nico said. They both turned to look as O'Connell appeared at the bedroom door. He had hoisted Minka up into his arms and was carrying her to the bed. The other gang members followed them, beginning to shed their clothes.

Jae-Jin was the first to lose his pants, immediately disproving the stereotype about Asian men having a small penis. He was huge, both long and thick, and he wasn't even erect yet. O'Connell laid Minka out across the edge of the bed and pulled away the portion of the lingerie that covered her pussy. He dove between her legs with his face, burying it in her crotch as he began to lick, suck and bite her with determination.

Minka squirmed from the attention, beginning to moan immediately. Brendan and Nico watched as he devoured her, causing her pale body to flush with a pinkish hue.

Gilbert positioned himself on the bed above her head and began slapping his dick against her face. Minka cried out, and Gilbert used the opportunity to push the head of his cock into her open mouth. She tried to begin sucking him, but he took control, and in just moments he was fucking her face with abandon.

O'Connell rose from his position between her thighs, and Gilbert pulled his cock from her throat. He flipped her over so she was bent across the bed, her feet on the floor and her ass in the air.

Spike stepped up and mounted her from the rear. He pushed his large cock inside her with one stroke and began pounding her immediately. Minka started to moan again, her voice only slightly muffled by the fact that she was face down on the bed.

“You like that big black dick in your pussy, baby?” Spike called out. She lifted her head to say, “Oh, yes, fuck me hard,” but the words were barely out of her mouth when Gilbert, squatting in front of her on the bed, filled it again with his swollen erection. She made sounds that were half-moans and half-gags as the two gangbangers spit-roasted her, each shoving their cocks in her as far as they would go.

As Nico had warned, they were not gentle. When the leader of The Bois moved around the bed for a better view, Brendan released his throbbing dick from his pants and put lube on himself. He began stroking up and down, wondering how long he could last as he watched the two men ravish his wife.

Gilbert held Minka's face with both hands and pushed deep into her throat.

“That's it, you little slut! Get ready to swallow some cum!” He grabbed a fistful of her hair and held her head still long enough to release streams of spunk into her mouth. Minka gagged and coughed as she swallowed his sperm. She gasped for air, still being banged relentlessly as Spike's balls slapped up against the cheeks of her ass.

Gilbert pulled his dick from her mouth and wiped it off across her forehead. Her hair hung in front of her face, matted by sweat and the gooey mess from Gilbert.

From behind her, she could hear Spike's voice. “You want it harder, baby?”

“Yes. Give it to me,” she managed, and Spike began thrashing against her even more forcefully.

Brendan had watched his wife be fucked many times, but he had never seen her be so totally used. He worried for a moment, wondering if she was okay.

A few seconds later she answered the question for him by screaming out that she was going to come. Spike slowed his frantic thrusting and held his dick deep inside her as she began to tremble. Brendan saw her eyes roll back in her head as she shuddered with the most intense orgasm of her life.

Minka felt as if all of the energy centers of her body were activated at once. She cried out, “Fuck! FUUUUUUCK!” as the climax rocked her body, making her feel as if she were being consumed by a delicious, orgasmic fire. Her muscles tensed, then released all at once as she came hard. It was devastating and glorious.

Pleased with himself that he’d given her an orgasm of such intensity, Spike pulled his manhood from her pussy to give another of his gang brothers a turn. O’Connell stepped up and flipped her over on her back, ripping what remained of the lingerie from her body.

He pushed her legs into the air, exposing her wet cunt for the others to see before he entered her. He’d been stroking his cock as he watched Spike impale her, and he wanted to finish inside her pussy. He slid in, moving slowly with deep, hard thrusts that bounced her body against the bed. There was no mistaking it for gentle lovemaking. He was using her body to get off. He had pleased Minka with his tongue before, but now he was pleasuring himself inside her quivering hole. He grabbed her bouncing tits with both hands and squeezed them forcefully as he fucked her with long strokes and his orgasm began.

Brendan felt like his own cock was about to explode, and he slowed the frantic motion of his hand across it just in time to keep himself from coming. He wanted to hold out a little longer, because he knew the evening had really just gotten started.

O'Connell wasn't concerned with holding back. He grunted and thrust deep in Minka one more time as he satisfied his urges. His cock erupted, sending spurts of his hot seed flowing into her pussy. He held himself tightly against her as he emptied his balls into Brendan's willing wife.

As O'Connell pulled out of her dripping snatch, Spike climbed onto the bed and hovered over Minka, stroking his large erection. With a groan, he unleashed a flood of spunk across her tits and her face, coating her with the biggest load that Brendan had ever seen. It dripped from her breasts and her chin as Spike kept coming, even shooting it into her hair. Brendan's normally very composed and well-put-together wife was now a spermy mess, and he thought she'd never looked sexier.

As big as Spike's cock was, Jae-Jin's was bigger. Minka felt him against the lips of her pussy, about to work his way in. With a load down her throat, one in her cunt, and another all over her body, she felt totally used, which left her crazed with lust. She wanted more, and Jae-Jin was about to give it to her.

She felt her head spin when he pushed his enormous dick inside her. Her pussy stretched to accommodate his girth as he slid into her wetness. Minka had never taken a cock this big, and she felt filled in a way that she couldn't have even imagined.

But Jae-Jin wasn't all the way in yet. There was still more of him, more of his cock to go, and for a moment she thought she might lose consciousness. She held her breath until she finally felt his balls against her skin and realized that his entire member was now embedded in the tight walls of her canal.

The sight of his wife taking Jae-Jin's huge dick was all it took to send Brendan over the edge. He felt his cock spasm and his sphincter tighten as he came all over himself, shaking from the most intense orgasm he had ever experienced. Nico looked over at him, satisfied that his lawyer friend was more than okay with what was being done to his wife.

Minka came three times while Jae-Jin worked his cock in and out of her. Her orgasmic cries filled the room, which was now heavy with the smell of sweat and sex. Jae-Jin ravished her for what must have been fifteen minutes before finally tensing and filling her with his seed. It dripped from her as he pulled out of her well-fucked hole, soaking the bedsheets beneath her.

The other gang members had already retrieved their clothes and dressed again while Jae-Jin was pounding Minka into submission. Watching his cum pour out of her, he told her how tight she had felt, and how great it had been to get off inside her.

“That’s some first-class pussy,” he said. “A lot of women can’t take all of me, but you milked me dry.” He dressed and joined the others, who were clearly all ready to call it a night.

Except for Nico. He had kept his pants on, but he removed them now and dismissed the members of his gang before climbing into the bed and lying on his back. Minka was regaining her composure from the hard sex and multiple orgasms, and she gently stroked his cock until it stood straight up from his body.

Brendan watched as his wife stood over Nico and slowly lowered herself onto his stiff member. He wasn’t as long or thick as Jae-Jin, but from her position atop him, his now-swollen cock pushed up into her, touching all the right places. Minka began to grind against him, still hungry for more.

Nico fucked her for almost an hour, bringing her to orgasm again and again. Brendan couldn’t escape the feeling that the leader of The Bois wasn’t just having sex with his wife. He was owning her. Making her his. It was the first time that Brendan felt this, but it wasn’t unwelcome. His dick stiffened again as he watched his wife moan and writhe against Nico’s cock, taking her pleasure from the feeling of him deep inside her.

By the time Nico came, Brendan had already pumped out another load, adding it to the drying cum on his torso. He thought that Minka might call him over for clean-up duty, but instead she climbed off of Nico and laid next to him on the bed, snuggling against the gangbanger as if she were his property. In a few moments, she and the leader of The Bois were both asleep.

Brendan fell asleep in the chair, covered in his own juices.

* * * *

Although they didn't talk about it, Brendan could sense that there had been a shift in their relationship after the gangbang. He was still fine with it, but something was different. Minka started going out more, by herself, and sometimes wasn't home when Brendan arrived at the end of the day. He didn't really mind, but he did notice the change.

A few weeks after their experience with The Bois, he was feeling horny and wanted to get Minka in bed. She'd turned down his offer to go to Seattle for the weekend and have her fuck another stranger like they'd done so often before.

Brendan went out shopping and bought her a gift, a beautiful diamond bracelet. He brought it home, along with an expensive bottle of wine and some candles to set the mood.

She loved the bracelet, and they took the wine and some glasses into the bedroom for the evening. Once the bottle was empty, Brendan began removing Minka's clothes. He pulled her soft cotton t-shirt up over her head, exposing her beautiful breasts, and she sighed as he stroked and licked them, paying particular attention to her pronounced nipples.

But he was hungry to taste her pussy, and after a few moments of concentrating on her breasts, he reached down to take off her panties, and that's when he saw it.

Minka had a new tattoo. It was on her pubic bone, just above the folds of the hood that partially covered her clit.

It was a six-pointed star. The gang tattoo of The Bois. And one word below it.
