Cucked By The Cam Girl

I'm A Loser, Baby...

Hotwife Holds The Key

Boston Cream Pie

Living in Dallas was fine, but Elliot really missed Boston. He set his reading glasses down on his desk and looked around his office, his gaze finally resting on his framed lithograph of the 2004 Red Sox. That was the year the Sox had finally beaten the curse and won the World Series. Elliot had been in the stands that chilly October day when they completed their sweep of the Cardinals and won their first championship since 1918, and had actually cried tears of joy when his team clinched the pennant.

His job had transferred him to Dallas the following year, and although he'd learned to like it there, he missed his home city terribly. He missed the Sox and the Patriots. He missed eating lobster. He missed cruising down Storrow Drive along the Charles River in the summer, with the top down and the wind in his hair.

But if he hadn't moved to Dallas, he would never have met Lilly. It had been love at first sight the instant he laid eyes on this statuesque Texas girl. He'd been dragged to a honky-tonk by a couple of his work friends who kept insisting he needed to become "more Texan."

And there she had been, wearing faded jeans, cowboy boots, and a shirt unbuttoned just far enough to show off her incredible cleavage. She was the picture of confident Texas sexiness. And even more amazing, she had sauntered right up to him and offered to buy him a drink.

Back in New England, he'd bought drinks for plenty of women, but no one had ever bought him one, or actually hit on him.

"Look at me now," he thought. He'd insisted on paying for the two whiskeys she ordered, and while he sipped on his, she shot hers down in one gulp, slamming the glass down on the bar and asking for another. Yep, he was in love!

It hadn't bothered him at all that she liked being in control of everything when they started dating. He had plenty to deal with at his job, and he liked letting her be in charge. He'd never even proposed. Lilly had just set a wedding date and started planning it all, from the location to the flowers and guest list, and even his tuxedo.

She was in charge of everything in their lives, and he followed along dutifully. It suited him just fine, and his reward was an incredible sex life. Lilly was like a whirling dervish in bed, and fucked him so well and so thoroughly that she would leave him spent and gasping every time.

She did so many things that aroused him, including telling him about how she would love to make him stand by the bed and watch as several different strangers had their way with her. The scenarios she described while she was riding his cock were wild and forbidden, and they never failed to make Elliot fill her with a big load of spunk. He wasn't sure about how he'd feel if something like that did actually happen, but the fantasy was erotic and amazing.

Lilly had spent her whole life in Dallas, and had never been to Boston. He'd been begging her to plan a Massachusetts getaway, but she always wanted to go somewhere warm and lay out on a beach for their vacations.

He looked from the Red Sox lithograph over to a framed photo of the Boston skyline that hung above his desk, and spent another few moments daydreaming about his former home.

The chirping of the phone on his desk snapped him out of it, and he reached to pick it up.

"Hi, baby!" Lilly's voice cooed in his ear. "How's my birthday boy?"

Elliot had almost forgotten that today was his birthday. He smiled and told his wife that he was doing fine, and that he was almost done for the day.

“Well, I can’t wait for you to get home,” she told him. “I’ve got your present all wrapped and I picked up a cake this afternoon and a nice bottle of Scotch. And I think you’ll like what I’m wearing when you get here.”

Elliot’s mind reeled. Lilly loved wearing lingerie, and had a large collection of sexy teddies and sheer panties. If she was wearing something like that when he got home, it would certainly mean that she intended to fuck him tonight, and just the thought of being between her sensuous thighs made his dick begin to swell.

He was still halfway hard when he pulled into their gravel driveway. He parked the car, turned it off, and started toward the house. Lilly met him at the door with a glass of whiskey, clad in a revealing new pink nightie that showed off her perky tits and was practically see-through from the waist down. Elliot could easily see that her pussy was freshly shaved.

After dinner, she cut the cake and presented him with a brightly wrapped box.

“Open it!” Lilly said, her eyes sparkling with excitement. Elliot unwrapped and opened it to find an envelope inside. He ripped off the flap and pulled the contents out. He was stunned at what he found.

“Lilly!” He exclaimed. “It’s a pair of tickets to a Celtics game!”

“That’s right,” she said. “They’re for Saturday night. And I’ve booked us plane tickets and a suite at the Liberty Grand Hotel. I’m taking you to Boston, baby!”

She pulled him into her arms and kissed him deeply. “Happy birthday, Elliot!”

Releasing him from the embrace, his wife reached to his waist and loosed his belt. Lilly tugged his pants down his legs and knelt on the floor in front of him, her bare knees against the hardwood.

Elliot felt his pulse race as the blood thundered from his heart to his thickening shaft. He let out a gasp as he felt Lilly’s lips engulf the head of his cock, her breath hot against his groin like the radiance from a smoldering fire. She ran a finger across his taint, eliciting a moan from his lips as she began to suck with feverish intensity. Lilly knew exactly what to do to bring him to orgasm quickly, and she wasn't wasting any time.

She slipped the straps of the lingerie off of her shoulders with her free hand, causing it to slide toward her waist and expose her amazing tits. One look at her beautiful mounds, combined with the expert fellatio, and Elliot was a goner. His cock swelled in her mouth as it prepared to unload, but she pulled her lips back from him and began to stroke his slippery dick, aiming it directly at her chest.

"Fuck, baby!" Elliot cried out as his cock spasmed and shot white milky ropes across her breasts, coating her nipples. Lilly jerked him expertly, squeezing still more spurts of cum onto her body as he shuddered and groaned.

Covered in his seed, she stood, tracing a finger across her tits until it was wet with cum. She kissed him lightly on the lips, then fed Elliot a glob of his own jizz from her hand.

"Mmmm...taste your own cum, baby," she purred. "Happy birthday!"

Elliot collapsed into a chair, spent from the birthday blowjob and excited about visiting home. He knew it would be a great trip. But there was no way he could know what Lilly was planning.

* * * *

The basketball tickets were tucked safely away in his jacket pocket as their flight touched down at Logan airport. Lilly had arranged a town car, which picked them up in the baggage area and drove them through the tunnel and into downtown Boston. The city was lit up just as he remembered, and he pointed out various buildings and landmarks as they pulled in to the hotel.

Their suite at the Liberty Grand was amazing. Lilly unpacked and changed into a stunning black dress as they got ready to head to The Garden for the Celtics game. It wound up being a thriller, with the home team scoring a buzzer-beater in overtime to win. The town car was waiting for them outside the arena after the game, and the driver took them to Legal's for a lobster dinner.

It was Lilly's first time eating lobster, and Elliot couldn't help but stare at the sensual way she sucked the meat out of the claw shells. He was practically glowing with happiness by the time they loaded back into the car to return to the hotel.

In the back seat, she leaned over and kissed him. "I've got one more surprise for you," she said.

"Oh yeah?" Elliot replied. "What is it?"

"You'll just have to wait," she said teasingly.

They made their way to the room, and Lilly suggested he change into something more comfortable. Elliot slipped on a hoodie and a pair of shorts, and noticed that his wife was checking the time on the bedside clock.

"So...what's up?" Elliot asked, trying to figure out what her surprise could be.

"You need to put this on, too," she said, approaching him with a long layer of dark silken cloth. She fashioned it into a blindfold and pulled it across his eyes, tying the back of the scarf into a knot.

"Now sit there in the chair, and wait. We'll take it off in a few minutes."

Growing more curious by the minute, Elliot did as he was told. He made himself comfortable in the bedroom's large chair and listened, trying to discern what she might be doing.

A few moments went by and nothing seemed to happen. Then he thought he heard a knock at the door to their suite, but he couldn't be sure. Straining to hear, he made out muffled voices near the door of their suite. One of them was Lilly's, but he couldn't tell what was being said.

He sighed softly to himself, waiting for the big reveal. There were noises in the bedroom now, some shuffling and a couple of laughs from Lilly. It had been such an amazing night so far, and he couldn't imagine what she might be up to.

His ears picked up a slurping sound, and he tried to focus on what that could be. He heard Lilly sigh, making one of her deep, sexy sounds. Was she masturbating? If she was, he really wanted to see!

"Go ahead and take it off him," he heard his wife say.

Who was she talking to? A pair of hands began to untie his blindfold, and he blinked as it fell away, his eyes adjusting even in the dim light of the room.

And he couldn't believe what he saw.

Lilly was completely naked, lying on the bed with her legs spread wide. Between her thighs was a large black man, his face buried in her crotch as he tongued her clit and licked her pussy with abandon. Lilly moaned and ground her face against the man as he pleased her. She was rubbing her breasts, and her nipples stood proudly out from her flesh, pronouncing her arousal.

Elliot started to stand, but two strong hands gripped his shoulders and pushed him back to the chair.

"She says you have to stay sitting here," a deep and commanding voice told him. He turned to see another man, dark-skinned, statuesque and muscular, standing behind him and holding him down in his seat. The man was totally nude, and when Elliot looked him over, his gaze inevitably came to rest on the man's semi-hard dick.

It was huge. At least eight inches, veiny and thick, and it wasn't even completely hard. It was the biggest cock Elliot had ever seen.

He turned and looked back at the bed where the first man was still worshipping his wife's pussy. That guy's prick was enormous, too, and it looked completely hard, jutting out in front of his body like a baton, or a fleshy baseball bat.

A third man stepped from the shadows and he was naked as well. He was stroking his dick as he watched Lilly squirm in pleasure from the tongue-bath her clit was receiving.

"You're Elliot, right?" The man behind him said. "That's Darius, and the guy licking your wife's pussy is Carl. I'm Leo, and we met your wife in a chat room on the internet. She asked us to come tonight because she wants to cuckold you. Do you understand what that means?"

"I-I think so," Elliot said, trying to remember what he had read before about women who cuckolded their husbands.

Before Leo could say more, they all heard Lilly's voice rise in pitch as she exclaimed, "Ahhhh! Oh fuck...I'm gonna come!"

They watched as Carl licked her furiously, pressing his face even tighter against her clit. Lilly began to buck and squirm against his face as the orgasm radiated through her body in waves. Her face flushed and she cried out as she came, shuddering against Carl's mouth and chin. He rode the wave with her, his tongue never leaving her swollen pearl.

Elliot looked back at Leo, trying to process what was happening. "You met her in a chat room?"

"Yep," the large man said. "And my friends and I are going to run a train on her while you watch. Carl's got her good and ready."

Darius, the one from the shadows, moved to the bed and climbed above Lilly, straddling her face. He slapped his now-hard dick against her rosy cheeks several times, and then worked it into her mouth.

Carl had lifted his face from her crotch, and it was wet and shiny from her juices. He pulled her toward him and plunged his cock into her wetness, eliciting a moan from Lilly as she felt his large manhood hit the back wall of her pussy.

This was very much like what Elliot remembered from their fantasies, but he'd never quite imagined it happening in real life. Was she actually cuckolding him? What would this mean for their relationship? All three of these men sported erections that were so much larger than what he could ever hope to attain. Would she even be able to feel his dick again after taking something that big?

Despite his apprehension, Elliot could feel himself flush with arousal. His cock strained against the fabric of his shorts, begging to be set free. Leo noticed the tent pole in his lap and laughed, taking his hands off of Elliot's shoulders.

"She says you can jerk off if you want to," he said. "But you have to stay in the chair."

It was a crazy thing, watching your wife take on two strangers right in front of you. She was moaning louder now, Darius' dick still in her mouth and Carl stroking in and out of her cunt. Elliot reached down to unfasten his shorts and let his own cock spring free.

A friend had given him a viagra once in college, and he'd taken it before hooking up with a girl one summer weekend. It had made his dick really stiff, but it was nothing compared to his swollen rigidity now. His prick felt almost supernaturally hard as he stroked it slowly with his hand, watching another cock twice as large as his pumping in and out of Lilly's pussy.

Carl was banging her intensely now. He crushed her body deep into the mattress with every stroke, and she released Darius from her mouth, letting out a whimper with every thrust of Carl's manhood.

"You know she's never been fucked like this before," Leo said as Elliot continued to stroke himself. "She'll be black-owned by the end of tonight!"

Carl slowed his pace and pulled his enormous length from between the lips of her dripping pussy. It glistened in the low light of the hotel suite as he moved away to allow Darius access between Lilly's legs. She cried out again as the second big dick of the night impaled her and Darius began to fuck her fast and hard.

Leo moved toward the bed and laid down on his back beside her, fondling her tits as they bounced in response to Darius' pounding. Her eyes rolled back in her head as she wailed in pleasure and managed to say only the word, "Coming!"

Her body tensed as she began to orgasm again. "Ahh, yeah!" Leo said to Darius. "Make that bitch come!"

Darius thrust deep inside her and held himself there as her muscles gripped him tightly. With a groan that sounded more otherworldly than human, he tensed against her, unloading a tidal wave of seed into her spasming cunt. Elliot could see the man's asscheeks flex as he delivered his load inside her, filling her with spurt after spurt.

"Fuck!" Darius exclaimed as his climax began to subside. "Fuck, that pussy is good!"

Elliot had never before seen the expression that Lilly wore on her face. It was a look of intense satisfaction, still laced with a searing lust. When Darius pulled away, his dick dripping with cum, she got up and straddled Leo, whose cock was pointing straight up from his body.

Grabbing it with her hand, she guided it to her opening and slowly lowered herself onto his monster cock. Elliot could clearly see the man's thickness spreading her as she took him all in, the lips of her pussy finally nestling against his pelvic bone.

With a slow, rhythmic motion, she began to rock back and forth against his hips, feeling his dick press against her most sensitive spot with each movement. She gasped as she rode him, and Leo thrust up against her ever so slightly each time.

The image of his wife riding Leo's enormous cock was both unnerving and glorious to Elliot. The combination of those two different feelings was almost more than he could take, and his body felt like it was on fire as precum leaked from the head of his dick while he continued to masturbate in the chair.

Lilly was grinding faster now, moaning and clawing at Leo's chest. Her breasts swayed and bounced as Leo gripped her neck firmly with one hand. There was no doubt that another orgasm was imminent.

"Fuuuuck!" Lilly wailed as Leo began thrusting wildly up into her, grunting like a madman. She cried out again, shaking wildly as she came for the third time, this climax crazier and more forceful than before. Leo bucked beneath her, his cock exploding in her wet cunt with a torrent of cum that leaked out around him, coating both of them in a pool of sperm.

At that exact moment, Elliot felt his own dick swell and pulse in his hand. The three of them were all cumming at the same time. His cock shot gooey wads of semen onto the overstuffed chair and across the hotel room floor as he whimpered from the force of his orgasm.

Carl had been the guy who got the evening started, but now he was the only man in the room who hadn't shot his load. When Lilly climbed off of Leo, Carl joined them on the bed, positioned Elliot's wife on her hands and knees, and mounted her from behind.

His hands and crotch coated with his own jizz, Elliot watched from the chair as Carl destroyed Lilly's pussy. The man fucked her savagely, almost knocking her over with the force of his thrusts as his thick manhood assaulted her already well-fucked hole. It went on for so long that Elliot was starting to wonder if Lilly was okay, when suddenly Carl tensed and drove deep inside her, erupting like a thick black volcano in the depths of her quivering cunt and filling her still further with jet after jet of milky wetness.

Once he was finally spent, he stood and the three men high-fived each other, laughing in agreement about how amazing her pussy had been. Lilly was on her back now, lost in a daze from the orgasms and the toll the strangers had taken on her body.

Carl wiped his dick off on a pillowcase as the men dressed and said their goodbyes. Elliot sat motionless in the chair, trying to take in all that had happened.

The men all kissed Lilly and thanked her before they left, leaving a phone number in case she was in town again. When they were gone, Lilly called Elliot over to the bed.

“Well, birthday boy,” she said, her eyes sparkling as she spoke. “What did you think of your surprise?”

Elliot paused, still a little shell-shocked by what he had witnessed. These men had done a number on his wife, and it had aroused him more than he would ever have imagined. But in his heart he knew that he would probably never be allowed back in her pussy again. He was a cuckold husband now, and he suspected that from this point on, Lilly would likely only crave large black dicks.

He decided that he was okay with this. He would get to witness scenes like the one he had seen tonight, and it had unlocked an level of arousal in him that was new, dark, and difficult to describe.

“As long as you’re happy,” he finally said to Lilly, and she smiled at him knowingly.

“Well, you got to see the game, and you’ve had your lobster,” she said, spreading her legs.

“Now it’s time for dessert. Here’s your Boston cream pie.”

Full House

It started out innocently enough. My husband Dale had his friends Hawk, Izzo, and Damien over for cards, and they were doing their usual thing. Telling complete bullshit stories, laughing, and drinking beer. I had planned to go out with a girlfriend tonight, but she cancelled on me at the last minute, so I joined the guys at the table and sipped a glass of wine while I watched them play.

Hawk was gesturing wildly and talking the most. He was a piece of work; former military, broad-shouldered, and handsome, with a hipster beard that he's honestly a little too old to be sporting, but that somehow looked like it belonged on his face. Izzo was a handsome black man who looked like Idris Alba but spoke with a deeper, James Earl Jones kind of voice.

And then there was Damien. When you looked at them all together, you immediately pegged him as the one that was "trouble" with a capital "T." He was dashing and mysterious, and would have made a perfect spy, or even a sexy villain in a dramatic movie or tv series.

My husband was truly the odd man out in this bunch. Dale was handsome enough, but there were three alpha males seated at our table playing poker, and Dale was not one of them.

I'd fallen for him in college, when I was quite honestly a bit of a hot mess. I had been failing half my classes, partying like a fiend, and discovering my inner "wild child." Dale had been so sweet, driving me home when I was too drunk, helping me study so I wouldn't get kicked out of school, and even giving me money when I was too broke to make the rent one month.

During my junior year, I'd woken up one morning to a rare moment of clarity. What was I doing fucking all the wrong guys when someone with such a big heart who genuinely cared about me was right there in plain sight, always picking up the pieces when I came apart? My friends and I were always asking ourselves why none of us could land a decent guy, and there one was right in front of me if I just opened my eyes!

I'd called him right at that moment, begging him to skip his early class and come over because I had to talk to him. He showed up almost breathless, worried that I had gotten myself into another ridiculous bind. When he walked in the door, I wrapped my arms around him and kissed him like he'd never been kissed before.

Holding him tightly, I told him that I loved him. And that I needed him. He responded by dropping to one knee and asking me to marry him, and the rest, as they say, is history. Our history, at least. We began a comfortable life together and I knew I could always count on him for anything.

Did I miss my wilder days? I'd be lying if I said I didn't, but comfort and security are pretty important, so I kept my "wild child" mostly under wraps, only letting it out occasionally in bed to try and spice things up. Dale was honestly pretty vanilla, but he'd go along with something if he could tell it was really important to me. As a lover, he was okay, but most of the time after we fucked I would wait until he fell asleep and sneak away to the bathroom, finishing with my hand or with a vibrator while I fantasized about other men, or some of my crazier exploits back in college.

I took another sip of my wine and looked around the table. Dale was losing, as usual. Try as he might, he just didn't have a good poker face, and the guys could usually read his expression and get a good feel for what kind of hand he was holding. He was trying to act like he had good cards from this particular deal, but everyone at the table, including me, figured that he was bluffing.

Izzo folded anyway, and so did Hawk. That left Dale, and Damien, who looked my husband in the eyes and said, "You're bluffing. I'll raise $500!"

Dale looked dismayed. He didn't have much left to wager with, and couldn't match Damien's bet. "I'm all in," he said, pushing what little cash he still held into the center of the table.

“Dude,” Damien taunted. “That’s only 25 bucks. That’s not even worth my time, and you can only get 25 of my 500 if you do win the hand. Come on, man! Go get some more money or something!”

“I don’t have any more cash on me,” Dale said. “But I’ll tell you what. I’ll throw my watch in. It was almost a thousand when it was new. Will that call your five hundred?”

“Dale, you are so full of it!” Damien spat back, laughing. “I don’t want your stupid watch.”

He looked at me, then at Hawk and Izzo, and finally returned to meet Dale’s gaze.

“I’ll tell you what,” he said. “Let’s make it interesting. I’ll leave my 500 in the pot, and it’s yours if you win the hand. But if I win...”

He paused and looked around at all of us one more time.

“If I win,” he continued, “I get to take your wife into the bedroom and have my way with her.”

My face flushed at the very thought. As much as I didn’t want to be the stakes in their game, the little “wild child” that I had been repressing for so long flared up within me almost immediately, rushing forbidden thoughts to my brain about how naughty and erotic that would actually be. The rebellious inner voice reminded me of how I’d admired the thick bulge in Damien’s swim trunks last summer when we had all been in the pool in his back yard, and how I’d actually thought about it more than once when I was masturbating.

I shifted uncomfortably in my chair, aware of a faint moistness in my panties.

Dale turned toward me with a confident look that I didn’t often see on his face. Maybe he was holding better cards than I thought. There was no way he would agree to the bet on his own, but he appeared to be wanting me to say yes. He seemed fiercely determined to try and win this hand.

I opened my mouth to say “No way! I’m not going to be part of your bet!” But the “wild child” inside me seemed to block those words from ever coming out, and instead I heard myself say, “Well, okay.” The words were out before I even realized I had said them.

I looked at Dale, trying to read his face, and quickly added, “But you’d better have a winning hand, honey!”

My husband turned back to the group and frowned. “Okay then,” he finally said. But if those are the stakes, then it’s got to be worth a lot more. You’ll either have to fold, or it costs you another 300 to match the bet.”

I wasn’t sure what he was doing, but I looked at Damien’s stack of cash, and it was clear he didn’t have enough to call. Maybe this was Dale’s way of trying to get out of the whole thing gracefully, with a win.

Damien looked at his money. He only had about a hundred left that wasn’t already in the pot. He scratched his head, looking genuinely disappointed.

A silence fell over the group as Dale tried his best to put on a convincing poker face. It was Hawk who finally broke the ice.

“Fuck it, this is just too good,” he said, reaching into his pants for his wallet. “I’ll give you another hundred, Damien. Izzo, you up for it?”

“Oh, fuck yes,” Izzo said, his voice booming with enthusiasm. He fumbled in his pocket and pulled out a small wad of twenties, handing them to Damien.

The combination of their cash and the hundred Damien already had was enough. He counted out the money and pushed it to the center of the table.

“Read ‘em and weep,” he said, his face beaming a confidence that totally put my husband’s to shame.

But Dale didn't look defeated. He turned his cards over slowly, revealing a flush. It was a pretty strong hand.

"Ahhh, man!" Damien said, looking as if he was beaten. But then a sly smile crept across his lips and he flipped his hand over with a flourish for everyone to see.

"Full House!" He yelled triumphantly.

"FUCK YEAH!" Hawk bellowed, high-fiving Izzo and getting up from his chair to do a goofy little dance. "You did it!" He said to Damien. "You fucking did it!"

Dale looked stunned, as if he couldn't believe what had just happened. He'd gambled access to his wife's pussy, and he'd lost. Once again, he had come away the loser.

I sat motionless, trying to form a look of disappointment and concern on my face, but my inner "wild child" was having a victory celebration. The idea of doing something this dirty and forbidden was turning me on in a way I hadn't felt since my partying days.

Damien raked the money from the pot over to his side of the table and pocketed the cash from his victory. When it was all tucked away, he stood and looked me up and down, undressing me with his eyes. He was ready to collect the rest of his win.

I looked at Dale, who was blushing with either anger or embarrassment. I put a hand on his shoulder and spoke to him softly.

"Remember, honey, this was your idea." Still trying not to look too eager, I rose from my chair and Damien reached for me, wrapping an arm around my shoulders.

"I believe the bedroom is this way," he said, steering me toward the stairway. He walked us away from the table and up the stairs, his free hand groping my ass as we left the dining room.

We were barely through the bedroom door when he dropped his pants and left them lying where they fell. I stared in amorous wonder as his dick flopped out in front of him. It was halfway hard, but already bigger than my husband's. My body flushed with a tingling warmth as I began to anticipate what he would do to me; that it would no doubt be wilder and more uninhibited than anything I had experienced with Dale.

I felt almost hypnotized as I gave in to the lustful urgings of my "wild child." I wanted to taste Damien, to be taken by him and to feel him fill me and satisfy my carnal cravings. I wanted to cum on his cock and feel him spurt his seed deep inside me as he used my body for his pleasure. I needed to be fucked, and fucked well.

He peeled his shirt off and started to undress me, slowly and enticingly. I took his dick in my hands and stroked it softly, feeling it reach its full hardness at my touch. Kneeling before him, I took his stiff member in my mouth and began to pleasure him with my lips and tongue.

"Ahh, fuck, Holly!" Damien moaned as I worked up and down his swollen shaft. "Your mouth feels even better than I've always imagined!"

I pulled away from him and looked up at this roguish man whose balls hung just below my chin. "You've been imagining my mouth?"

"Only since the first day I met you," he said, moving my head back to his crotch. "And I've imagined a lot more than that!"

I parted my lips and slurped him back in again, savoring the taste and feel of his cock. He tasted dark and manly, a sensation I couldn't quite describe but one that aroused me even more. I took him in deeper, feeling the swollen head of his dick begin to press against my throat. Relaxing it as much as I could, I finally managed to take all of him, and my lips brushed up against the base of his cock as he went further down my gullet.

Gasping, I came up for air, turned on beyond belief at what a dirty little cocksucker I was. Damien pulled all the way out of my mouth and sat me down on the edge of the bed that Dale and I shared, spreading my thighs with his firm hands. He squatted on the floor in front of me and zeroed in on my pussy with his mouth.

God, his tongue felt incredible! Dale went down on me sometimes, but it was nothing like this. Damien licked and nibbled at my clit, pausing only to work his tongue into my pussy for a moment, and then back out again to concentrate on my tingling button. I gripped his head with my hands, holding him firmly against my crotch as he made me squirm and gasp with pleasure.

As he worked his oral magic between my legs, I looked up and discovered that we had an audience. Hawk and Izzo had both joined us in the bedroom, and had their dicks out as they watched. Hawk's was impressive, but Izzo's was huge.

I arched my back and felt my head lean back in an involuntary reaction to the spectacular work that Damien was doing on my swollen clit. If he kept that up, I would be over the edge in no time. I moaned as he licked me with abandon. I was about to cum.

Just before the orgasm overtook me, I saw Dale watching from the doorway. Izzo and Hawk were both jerking off, but Dale stood completely clothed in a stunned silence, as if he couldn't process what he was seeing.

"Oh, fuck, DAMIEN!" I cried out as I shuddered and ground my pussy against his face. My body was tingling as if it was experiencing a small earthquake, and my throbbing clit was the epicenter. I let it take me, as my "wild child" screamed in my head with crazed sensual excitement. Damien lapped at my juices as I coated his lips and chin with the wet fruits of my pleasure.

He pulled his face away from my dripping pussy, licking my wetness from his lips like it was the greatest thing he'd ever tasted. Before my trembling even subsided, he stood up and plunged the full length of his cock deep inside me.

At the feel of his thick manhood against my inner walls, I kept coming. The orgasm that had started with his tongue against the swollen pearl of my clit kept on rocking my body as his fat dick filled me, finding my g-spot with the very first thrust. I gripped him tightly with the muscles of my cunt as I continued to come, wailing loudly as the longest climax I had ever experienced pulsed through me in uncontrollable waves.

When the ecstasy finally began to wane, I wondered what it had been like for Dale to witness what had just happened. I very seldom reached an orgasm with him, although I'd faked it from time to time just to pad his ego. But I wasn't nearly a good enough actress to fake a performance like the one that Damien had just coaxed from me.

Dale was still watching silently as Damien began to hammer my pussy. I was on the edge of the bed, my legs hanging over the side with Damien between my thighs and his cock impaling me over and over. He fucked me relentlessly as I squealed and moaned, calling out his name repeatedly.

He threw his head back and let out a loud cry as his dick swelled inside me and spurted out his load. I could feel the rigidity of his cockhead and the thickness of the veins of his manhood as he released streams of hot male wetness into my hungry cunt. There was an urgent, primal feel to his orgasm as he emptied his balls. He wasn't just fucking me. He was owning me.

Fully spent, and satisfied with the claim he had just placed on my pussy, he pulled his dripping dick from the center of my body and took a step back. Turning to Hawk and Izzo, I heard him say, "Well, boys? You both contributed to the pot. Now it's your turn!"

Dale finally spoke. "That wasn't part of the bet," he said urgently. "That wasn't part of the deal!"

"What does it matter now?" Damien said, his voice both gentle and commanding. "She's already got a pussy full of my cum, and I think we can all agree that she seemed to be enjoying herself."

He turned to me. “What do you think, Holly?”

I wanted to say I’d had enough. I wanted to say whatever I needed to say to calm Dale’s fears and ease his mind. But before I could bring myself to do so, my “wild child” found my voice instead and the words “I want more cock,” came tumbling out of my mouth.

That was all Hawk needed to hear. He spun me around so I was face down on the bed, with my legs hanging across the side and my ass in the air.

“If the lady wants cock, then the lady gets cock!” Hawk announced, and with great fanfare he lined up the head of his prick against my slit and took me from behind.

Hawk felt different from Damien. He was not as thick, but he was longer. He slid into my waiting canal with a single push, and I was sure he could feel Damien’s rich deposit squishing around his dick as he began to work in and out of my hole. I could hear the wet, naughty sounds of it as he fucked me.

Just the very thought of my husband watching as I took my second dick of the night gave lease to my “wild child” to completely take over from here. I backed my ass up against each of Hawk’s thrusts and began to fuck him wildly, shouting out things I would never have said to Dale.

“Fuck me, Hawk! Bang me like a dirty slut and fill me up with your hot load like I’m a cheap whore!”

Hawk’s hands were on my shoulders, holding me down against the bed, so I couldn’t see Dale’s face. But I knew that if I could, it would likely reveal how shocked he was to hear me say things like that. By this point, though, my kinder and gentler self had totally given way to my inner slut, and the pounding of Hawk’s lengthy cock was all that mattered.

“Harder!” I demanded, and the muscular man plowed me for all he was worth. With a cry, I came again, convulsing and shaking as I felt every cell in my body light up with an explosion of forbidden passion that rocked me to the core. In giving myself over to my hidden sluttiness, I was achieving a kind of orgasm that was either totally new, or that perhaps I had forgotten about from long ago.

The good little girl I had tried to become was nowhere to be found. The whore that I now was would need this kind of lusty passion. Would crave it.

Hawk was working me over like I had asked him to do. I felt a sharp sting as he slapped my ass, and it drove me wild again just as I was coming down from my climax. I gripped him with my inner muscles, and he responded by unleashing a flood of jizz into my cunt. His cock pulsed inside me as he came, and I could feel every spurt as his spasming dick unloaded nine—no—ten shots of semen deep into my trembling pussy.

As he backed away from me I sat up on the bed, turning around so I could wrap my lips around his cock and clean up every drop of cum that remained on his long, manly shaft. I was in full slut mode now, and I couldn't seem to get enough.

Dale had moved closer to the bed, and as he watched helplessly, Izzo approached me for his turn. His incredible black cock was enormous, and I knew that it would stretch me out more than I had ever been stretched before. He climbed onto the bed and lay on his back, motioning for me to mount him. My "wild child" approved of this, thinking it to be a most excellent idea.

I straddled Izzo's waist, and streams of the cum that Damien and Hawk had pumped into my pussy dripped out across his monster cock. I guided it to the opening of my slit and lowered myself onto his thick pole, feeling him stretch me to the limit as his wide cockhead popped inside. My more reserved persona would have taken it slowly, but that part of me was no longer in control. And the part that was in control wanted him deep inside me, right now.

I pressed myself down against his manhood firmly, taking as much of him into me as my body would allow. As bad as I wanted to start fucking him furiously, I needed a moment to adjust to the incredible size of what I had just impaled myself upon.

As I took a few deep breaths, Izzo began to move inside me, slowly and sensually. Instead of hammering away at my cunt in the way Hawk and Damien had, he slid his dick gently in and out of me in a smooth, erotic motion that brought my body alive with desire.

The first two men had fucked me, and it had been glorious, but Izzo began to worship my pussy with his incredible tool, like an artist that was painting a masterpiece. The sensation of his huge dick making passionate love to me this way was intoxicating and erotic, and I found that even my “wild child” couldn’t bring words to my mouth as I gyrated slowly on top of him. I could only gasp and moan as I moved like a sensuous dancer, performing a forbidden choreography on his cock.

I lost all track of time, space, and who I was. There was only his thickness inside me, only the feelings of rapture and ecstasy as he caressed the wet center of my body with deep, erotic strokes.

I came. I don’t know if it was multiple times, or if it was one long, extended climax, but dear god, I came. My body was weak and pliable now, responding only to the firm but gentle thrusting of the man beneath me.

Drained from the otherworldly orgasm, I opened my eyes, which I must have closed when it began. I gazed at Izzo’s face, and the look of ecstasy he wore.

“Are you ready for me?” The beautiful man who was buried inside me asked.

“Yes,” I said in a whisper. “Give it all to me!”

With a shudder, Izzo released his seed inside my pussy. It was as if a dam had broken, or a levee had been breached. He flooded me with wetness and heat, as if I had been sitting on a hose and he had just turned on the faucet. I felt every spurt as he drained his balls into me with an intensity that was like nothing I had felt, ever.

I came again just from the erotic realization of what was happening in my cunt. Semen from all three of the men leaked out around his dick as it began to soften. I collapsed on top of him, spent and sated in a way I hadn't thought possible.

As I lay atop him trying to catch my breath, I felt a hot splash of wetness on my back. I looked up to see my husband, with a rapturous look on his face, jerking his cock with both hands. He was coming on me!

Dale's spunk coated my back as he groaned and shot several more ropes onto my skin. He had finally gotten so aroused by watching his wife fuck these three men that he had given in as well, and climbed onto the bed to dump his own load on me while I was still impaled by Izzo's enormous dick.

After a moment, I climbed off of Izzo and turned to face my husband. He had found a towel, and he carefully cleaned his cum off of my back. He put his arms around me, taking me in with his eyes while streams of three different men's spunk drained from my well-fucked pussy and down my legs.

"Holly," Dale said. "Seeing you this way has made me realize that there is a part of you that must crave this, and I know that it's more than I can give you, at least on my own. I know about cuckolding, and if that's what you want, then I want you to have it. I will be your cuckold husband for as long as you want."

I kissed him, realizing that he knew me better than I probably knew myself.

He turned to his buddies, who had begun to put their clothes back on.

“So,” my husband said. “Next Saturday night? Another game?”

“You’d better believe it,” Damien said, his sly smile lighting up his face. But I think we should plan for a bigger contest. I’ve got a whole bunch of friends who would love to come over and get a piece of this action!”

He looked at Dale, and then stared at me. “I’m glad you guys have plenty of space,” he said.

Cucked By The Cam Girl

There's no one in the shop today but me. It's like that a lot this time of year, so I'm not surprised. I sometimes wonder why I even keep it open in the offseason, but every now and then someone will need supplies for their swimming pool even in the dead of winter, and I might as well make the sale. In a couple of months things will pick up dramatically as people get ready for spring, but today is like most other January days here at Oasis Pool Supply, and I haven't had a customer all day.

My office is through a door at the back of the store, and I've been at the desk doing paperwork all morning. A laser-activated chime will let me know if anyone opens the front door, so I spend a lot of time back here on slow days.

I'm opening the mail and sorting out invoices when I see the latest catalog from Robertson Pool Accessories in the stack. I've ordered equipment from them before, so I pick it up to see if there's anything I need to have in stock by the time things start to get busy again.

On the cover, a gorgeous woman poses in a "barely-there" bikini next to an elaborate backyard pool. It's a great photo, showing off the beautiful landscaping and the in-pool waterfall from someone's back yard. And it also shows off this very sexy woman's breasts. They're perfectly shaped, her nipples visible beneath the clinging fabric of the almost sheer bikini top. And the bottoms feature enough cloth to just barely cover her slit, but they clearly show the outline of the lips of her pussy.

I stare at the cover and feel a slight tingling in my pants.

The door to my office is closed most of the way. I unzip my trousers and pull my dick through the opening, fondling it softly. I'll have plenty of time to tuck it away if I hear anyone come in the store. I jerk off quite often back here when things are slow.

I flip through the catalog to see if there are any more sexy pictures. There aren't. Just images of water pumps, railings, and pool cleaning products. I turn back to the cover again, and then drop it on the desk with the rest of the mail. I'll find something more arousing on the computer screen.

I nudge the wireless mouse, and the screen saver dissolves. I'll open the web browser and find one of my favorite sites.

I've spent a lot of time looking at internet porn since I married Brenda. Before our wedding, she was a total bedroom slut, and could never seem to get enough of me. She'd wanted me multiple times every day, and I had come in her pussy, her ass, her mouth, and all over pretty much every inch of her incredible body. We'd fucked in hotels, in the car, in changing rooms at the mall, and she even crawled under the desk here in the office once and blew me while I was on a video conference call with one of my suppliers. I'm sure the guy must have known something was going on by the look on my face when I spurted a big load of goo in Brenda's mouth, but at least he pretended not to notice.

But for some reason, that had all changed once we were married. We still fucked, but not usually more than a couple of times a month, and always at home in our bed. The wild and crazy stuff had vanished, and it was all pretty much just straight, vanilla, missionary-position married sex.

So in between our infrequent sessions, I jacked off. A lot. The internet was my friend, and there were plenty of sites where I could find something sexy to watch while I stroked my cock.

After a while, all of the online videos started to look the same, and I got a little bored watching porn stars performing impossible sexual athletics. But I discovered that the web was teeming with "cam sites." On my favorite ones, I can find women of all shapes, sizes, races, and kinks that will perform private shows for a fee. I've read that interest in these kinds of sites is booming, and mine certainly has.

I enter the web address for one of my favorite websites and scroll through the selections. Some of the cam girls are solo, some are with other women, and several have men with them that they will fuck onscreen if you give them enough tokens.

I have a bank of web coins I've purchased for this particular site, and I finally settle on a redhead named "Jasmine", who I haven't seen on here before. She's an attractive, girl-next-door type who is lying on a bed surrounded by dildos and vibrators. Smiling with anticipation, I enter the required number of tokens and the screen switches to a private setting. Jasmine has her microphone turned on, and purrs in a sensual voice from her bed.

"Hi, sexy! What would you like to see me do?"

"Whatever feels good to you," I type into the chat, and then stand to pull my pants and boxers down to give myself full access to my dick and balls.

Onscreen, the cam girl makes an enticing show of slowly removing her thong panties. Her pussy is beautiful, with a pronounced clit and a full set of lips that seem to beckon my cock to slip between them. I'll be doing that in my mind in a moment for sure, as I can feel it swelling now in my hand.

Jasmine turns around on her hands and knees, giving the camera a stunning view of her incredible slit and the tight puckered asshole just above. She begins working her fingers across the bud of her clit in a circular motion and moaning softly. My rod stiffens still further as I watch her hand working her sensitive area, and a drop of pre-cum makes its way out of my dick and onto my mushroom head.

As I stroke the shaft, the cam girl stands up on her bed and positions a large purple dildo beneath her. She's got it anchored to a small pillow somehow, and it stays pointing straight up as she lowers herself onto it inch by inch until the entire thing is embedded in her cunt.

I love watching women masturbate. Almost nothing gets me off quicker, and something about knowing that this is happening live, even if she's halfway around the world, is just incredibly hot. I move my hand faster across my prick, feeling the tingling already beginning in my balls.

Jasmine begins rocking back and forth on the silicone cock, stopping every few seconds to lift herself up off of it, and then thrust forcefully back down, taking it deep in her pussy. Her face is flushed and her tits bounce hypnotically as she fucks herself, and she's moaning loudly now. I don't know if she's really going to come or not, but if she's just acting, she's doing a damn fine job.

I watch as she grinds herself on the enormous toy, her cunt swallowing it whole. I'm breathing faster now, and I can feel the orgasm building that will soon have me blowing my load all over the desktop.

"Ooooooh, baby!" Jasmine's voice calls out over the computer speakers. "Oh, fuck, this feels so good! Are you gonna come for me?"

I take my hands off my cock for just a moment to type into the chat. To tell her that she is turning me on beyond belief. To tell her that yes, I'm just about to come.

She reads my words on her screen, and begins bouncing furiously on the purple dildo, rubbing her swollen clit with one hand and using the other to squeeze her perfect tits.

In my mind, the dick she's riding is mine, and in my hands I feel my actual cock swell. With a groan, I unleash a wash of cum, shooting spurts of my hot seed across the desk and onto the computer screen. It drips down the front of it and across my view of Jasmine as she shudders and trembles atop the toy that's embedded in her snatch.

Is she acting? It doesn't matter. I'm in the process of emptying my balls either way. It's the best orgasm I've had in days, and I don't even care that I've spewed cum all over the invoices on my desk that I will somehow have to clean off before I can file them. My cock shoots its last as Jasmine pulls herself up off of the dildo and thanks me for buying the show. With my fingers on the cum-splattered keys, I type in "No! Thank you! You are amazing,” and she blows me a kiss into the camera before I click “exit” to leave the private room onscreen and search for a roll of paper towels to begin the process of cleaning up the spunky mess I have made.

* * * *

I’ve never told Brenda about my fascination with the cam sites. I’m sure she knows I jerk off in between our times together, but it’s just not something we talk about. She had seemed to be such a free and uninhibited creature when we were dating, but these days we never talk about fantasies, and the sex, as I’ve mentioned, is pretty routine.

Her company downsized a few months ago, thanks to the economic downturn brought on by a worldwide pandemic, and she’s at home during the day since she got laid off. She’s set up a small online business, selling stuff on a website and making a little money. Mostly, it keeps her busy, and any extra cash is helpful since we no longer have her paycheck. Actually, this month it seems she’s brought in quite a bit, so I guess the website must be doing better than I thought it would.

I’m back at the shop, and it’s a few days after I shot cum all over my desk while watching Jasmine on the cam site. I had one customer earlier in the morning, but the store is deserted now, and has been for hours. I’m feeling horny, but I haven’t gone to the website yet. I’m going to finish planning our advertising blitz for the spring, and then maybe I’ll reward myself with a little “me-time.”

When I’m finally done with the project, I walk out into the shop and look around. There’s no one there, of course, and even the sidewalk in front of the store is deserted. I seriously doubt I’ll have another customer today.

Walking back into the office, I sit at the desk and type in the web address for the same cam site where I saw Jasmine. I scan for her idly, remembering how turned on I was watching her ride the purple dildo, but it doesn't look like she's online.

I pull my dick out of my pants and stroke it absently while I scroll through the cam girls. Maybe I'll watch a little lesbian action, or something different than usual. I keep scanning, looking for something that looks inviting.

An interesting picture makes me stop. It's a woman, with a great body visible only from the neck down. Her tits are fantastic, and remind me of Brenda's. She's flanked by two men, one white and one black. The black guy has an enormous cock, and he's pressing it against her leg in the photo. The caption says that her name is "Exotica."

This looks intriguing. I'm in the mood for something different and I'm thinking I'd like to watch this girl get double-teamed. The flashing red graphic above the picture says "ONLINE NOW" so I think, "What the hell. I'll give it a go."

It costs more tokens to enter the private room than what I'd paid to watch Jasmine, and my balance is low, so it takes me a minute to enter my credit card information and purchase enough to fill my digital wallet. Once it accepts my card, I designate the proper amount and click "enter", and I'm in.

On the screen, a woman is bent over the side of a bed facing away from the camera. Her ass and pussy are in plain view from behind. The two men from the picture are with her, and the white guy is lying down, with the back of the woman's head bobbing up and down as she sucks his cock. The black man is stroking his dick, and it is huge—probably twice the size of mine. As I watch, almost transfixed, he lines up his megacock against the opening of her cunt and mounts Exotica from the rear.

My dick springs to life as I watch the debauchery unfold. The man is pounding her pussy wildly, and through the speaker I can hear the slapping sounds as he rams his body against the cheeks of her ass with each thrust.

Exotica moans, “Oh! Yeah! FUCK ME,” as he bangs her even harder. She can barely keep sucking the white guy because she’s getting rammed so hard from behind. He gets up from the bed and moves beside his partner in crime, awaiting his turn in the woman’s pussy. My hard-on is now raging. This is some hot shit!

The man pulls his enormous black cock out of her and the white guy flips her over roughly, pulling her legs into the air. I try to get a look at her tits but he’s already on top of her body, sliding his dick inside her and beginning a series of long, deep strokes.

Exotica wails and screams as he ruts her, burying himself in her cunt. Just like when I was watching Jasmine, knowing that this is happening live and in real time is a huge turn-on to me, and I’m wailing away on my cock with both hands.

I try not to come too quickly, because I want to prolong this for a while. I edge myself and then stop stroking, letting the impending orgasm recede before I touch my dick again. I figure I can do this for a while if the action onscreen continues.

The white guy has been pounding her pussy for quite a few minutes, and I can hear him groan over the speakers as I see his asscheeks clench. He’s coming in her now, releasing his spunk inside the walls of her cunt. He pushes deep and shudders as he delivers his load, and it’s a fucking erotic thrill to witness. The black guy zooms the camera in as the other man slips his dripping cock from her hole and sperm begins to seep out between the lips of her pussy. I’m about to bust as I watch, my hands sliding frantically across my swollen prick.

Exotica spreads her labia to display the large load that’s leaking out of her. She lifts her head as she does, and I freeze—just before I’m about to pump out a huge wad of cum onto the desktop.

I recognize the woman on the screen. Exotica.

Except that’s not her real name. Obviously.

The woman on camera, with streams of cum dripping from her pussy, is Brenda.

I've just watched my wife take that guy's load. And she did it for money, on the cam site.

I'm simultaneously horrified and yet aroused beyond belief. I was totally getting off on watching the guy pound her, and the sudden realization that it had been my wife that he was fucking hits me like an electric shock, overloading my senses.

I click the web browser closed, shutting down the the depraved thing I have just watched. I yank my pants back up, stuffing my still-hard dick into them as I grab my keys from the desk. In a few seconds, I'm at the front door of the shop, flipping the sign from "open" to "closed" and locking the door behind me. I climb in behind the wheel of my car and start the engine, screeching out of my parking space and pointing it towards home.

I'm not sure why I'm driving to my house as fast as I can, swerving around corners and heading for the interstate. I'm essentially on autopilot now, and I won't remember anything about the drive home. All I can see in my mind is the river of cum flowing from that pussy—which I now realize looked so very familiar—and Exotica lifting her head to reveal her true identity. And it all hits me now. The bed was familiar too, because they were in our bedroom! My wife was fucking other men in our bed, on the internet, to make money on a cam site! I feel like the world's biggest loser as I exit the freeway and make the right turn onto our street.

I pull into the driveway behind two vehicles I don't recognize. My mind reeling, I jump out of the car and head for the door, completely unsure of what I am going to do. I will catch them in the act, for sure, but what will I do about it? Will I confront my wife in front of these guys? Do I have the balls to even confront her at all? And why is my dick still painfully hard in my pants?

As I burst through the front door I hear Brenda yelling “FUCK ME,” from the bedroom down the hall. They must have picked up another private room customer during my drive from the shop. My fury and confidence evaporate as I start down the hallway. Just what am I going to do, exactly?

Instead of charging into the room, I creep slowly toward the open door. When I reach it, I can see a tripod with a digital camera aimed at the bed. Its red light blinks as it streams out video of the large muscular black man that’s in my bed.

And he’s balls-deep in my wife. Brenda. Exotica.

Her legs are wrapped around his lower body as he drives his enormous cock into the wet folds of her cunt. The white guy is positioned above her, stroking his dick and slapping her face with it. Brenda is making sounds—crazy, erotic sexual sounds that I’ve never heard her make before—and begging the black man to fill her with his seed.

I don’t know what I thought I was going to do. Had I been planning to storm into the room and somehow put a stop to it? I clearly haven’t thought this through. All I can seem to do is stare in astonishment as my wife is being owned by two men who are obviously much more virile, and much more in control, than I can ever hope to be. And even though a part of me is furious at Brenda’s betrayal, another part of me is incredibly aroused. Even more than I had been when I sprayed cum all over my office desk while watching Jasmine.

The white guy begins grunting like a wild animal and aims his cock at Brenda’s face. With a series of strokes, he erupts, shooting jets of milky cum onto her forehead and across her eyes and her nose. For a man who had filled up her pussy while I watched onscreen not very long ago, he is still packing a very large load this time around.

The sight of Brenda with huge ropes of cum on her face is more than my poor stiff dick can take. I feel it pulse beneath the fabric of my boxers, squirting out wads of spooge that soak all the way through and form a wet stain on the front of my pants.

None of them have noticed me yet. The black guy is facing away from me, banging my wife like a madman, the white guy has been busy unloading on her face, and Brenda can't really see anything, because her eyes are covered in a layer of cum.

As the red light on the camera continues to blink, the man whose large black cock is impaling my wife announces that he is about to cum.

"YES!" Brenda wails. "Give it to me! Fill my cunt with your hot load! You're gonna make me coooooooooomme!"

Her body shakes and quivers as she gives herself over to a shuddering climax. As she does, her lover drives against her, delivering his payload deep inside her pussy. He crushes her body deep into the mattress with the force of his orgasmic thrust, spurting what must be jet-streams of hot milkiness into the far reaches of her vaginal walls. I would have come just watching them orgasm together, except I've already shot my wad in my boxers a moment ago.

It's only after she recovers from the wild climax and the man gets up off of her body that Brenda wipes the semen from her eyes and sees me standing in the doorway. She actually laughs out loud, and speaks to the two men who've fucked her instead of addressing me.

"Well, guys, it looks like we had an in-person audience for this one as well!"

"Well, I hope you enjoyed the show," the black man says to me. "That's one hell of a sweet pussy!"

Brenda looks back at me again. "So I guess you finally opened the email, huh babe?"

I have no idea what she's talking about. "What email?"

“I sent it to you last week. Check your phone!”

I am notoriously bad about checking my email. It's usually just social media notifications and spam about increasing the size of your penis. I pull my phone out and open the email app, scrolling back to last week.

Sure enough, there's one from Brenda. The title is “Look how much I've made!”

I open it to see an account report from the Sex Cams website for the month. According to what I'm reading, Brenda made several thousand dollars in the last 30-day period. And there are videos attached. I click on the first one, and it's a short clip of “Exotica” with the black guy's dick in her mouth and the white guy pounding her ass. The second video is her, speaking alone into the camera. She's got cum dripping from her face, and she speaks directly to me in the clip.

“I'm sorry to tell you about all this in an email and videos, but I wanted you to have some time to digest it first before you respond. I've found a new way to make us money since I got laid off, and you are just going to have to deal with it. You're a cuckold husband now, Jeff. I'm helping us financially, and I'm finally getting the pleasure I deserve. This is how it's going to be from now on.”

She smiles at the camera before the clip ends, and says that she loves me. Then she licks some of the jizz from her lips and swallows it happily. The video stops, and it's frozen on the image of her cum-splattered face.

Brenda watches me, studying my reaction. The guys appear to be done for the day, and they're getting dressed so they can leave me alone with my wife in the room.

“So if you didn't see the email, why are you home?” She asks. She knows I never leave the store during the day under normal circumstances.

“I...umm...” Do I tell her I found her on the cam site? That I watched her from the shop on my computer?

“I saw you online,” I finally say. “When I realized it was you, I just got in the car and drove home.” I’m at a loss to say much more than that.

Brenda laughs again, taunting me with her eyes. “Well did you come in your pants back at the store, or did that happen once you got here?”

The two men laugh as they walk from the bedroom. I am actually going to have to go and move my car before they can leave. I’m completely humiliated.

And yet, I’m strangely aroused by the whole thing. I don’t know anything about being cuckolded, but maybe this is the answer to opening a more fulfilling chapter in our relationship. The way she spoke to me in the video clip, taking command and telling me this is just how things were going to be was something I never would have expected, but it did actually turn me on. I can even feel myself getting hard again in my pants.

“I’ve got to go move the car,” I say. It sounds dumb, and even submissive, but the two men are waiting to leave.

“Well you go do that,” Brenda/Exotica says with an air of gentle command. “I’ll be here when you’re done and you can put those pants in the washer, and then come clean all of this sperm from my face and my pussy. I’ll bet someone would give us plenty of tokens on the site to watch that.”

So this is how the next phase of our life begins. I’ve been cucked by a cam girl, and the humiliation is arousing me in ways I never could have guessed.

I won’t be re-opening the pool supply store today. I’ve got a pussy to clean, and maybe, if I’m lucky, she’ll let me add one more load to what’s already inside her.

As I fish for my keys, she adds one more thing. Two, actually.

“Jeff, from now on,” she says, “you will address me privately only as ‘Exotica.’ And I’ll give you a complimentary pass to the site, so you can watch from work and jack off to your heart's content. I'm having three guys join me tomorrow. Friday is 'anal day' on the site, and I wouldn't want you to miss it."

I'm A Loser, Baby...

My name is Ned, and I'm a loser.

I haven't always felt like a loser. In high school I was actually kind of popular. To a point, at least. Popular in a math-geek kind of way. I was the captain of the mathematics team and was even able to get a date with Becky, the sort-of-hot girl who wound up being the class president our senior year.

Becky even let me get to second base in the back seat of her car after senior prom, but she left for college in Indiana before I could seal the deal. She wrote me a long email several months later, where she confided in me that she had realized she was really more attracted to women, and had fallen head over heels in love with some girl named Anita who was in her physics class.

I left for college too, but it was in my freshman year at NYU where my confidence began to fall like a house of cards. I'd gone out on a date with Tamara, a stunning coed I'd met at the campus bookstore, and she seemed eager to get naked when we got back to her apartment after an Italian dinner.

She'd taken her clothes off and reclined on the bed, beckoning me to join her. I stripped out of my shirt and pants, but she could barely conceal her disappointment when we started making out and she reached into my boxer shorts.

"Oh," she said, and to this day a single word has never deflated my spirit more.

"Does it get any bigger?" Tamara had finally asked. I'd assured her that it did when it was hard, but the truth was that even then, my dick was pretty little. Yes, I have a very small cock.

Tamara was kind enough to give me a hand job, which only lasted about thirty seconds before I shot my wad in her palm. She'd given me a quick kiss on the lips and had actually patted me on the head, like she felt bad for me. Then she mentioned how she had an early class the next day, so I got dressed and left, taking the steps down her apartment sidewalk as well as the first steps into a depression that I worried would last me the rest of my life.

To make matters worse, Tamara was apparently done being kind, and thought it was okay to tell some of her girlfriends about my woeful smallness. I guess they thought it was pretty funny, and word spread quickly around campus that I had a tiny penis.

You might think I would have been able to find someone who hadn't heard the story, and maybe convince her to go out with me, but you'd be wrong. I didn't have a single date in college after Tamara, and the only sex I got to have was with my own hand.

When I graduated, I decided to move as far away as I could to where no one would have heard about my size deficiency, but I was still traumatized. Even in Orlando, Florida, where I landed a job as a legal assistant, I still worried that if I got far enough with a girl to wind up taking my underwear off, she'd react the same way as Tamara.

But one day a woman came into our offices for an attorney consultation and I was assigned to prep her for the meeting. I couldn't help but notice how striking she was, and she carried herself with an air of authority and command. She was tall, even taller than me, with gorgeous legs and a taut, shapely ass that moved tantalizingly beneath the black dress she wore.

I was far too intimidated to strike up a conversation, but she seemed to take an interest in me and chatted me up while we waited for the attorney to meet with her. I have no idea what the meeting wound up being about, but when it was over she passed by my desk and dropped a business card in front of me.

Her name was Sasha, and she managed a small clothing shop near one of the amusement parks.

“I wrote down my mobile number,” she said, and I flipped the card over to see that she had scrawled her digits and a small heart below them in the blank space on the back. “Call me. I’d like you to take me to dinner.” With that, she walked confidently out of the office toward the bank of elevators in the hallway.

I was stunned. I could never have gotten up the nerve to ask her out, but she’d taken it upon herself to make the first move. I stuffed the card in my pocket, wondering if I’d be courageous enough to actually call.

That evening, after several scotches, I did the bravest thing I had done in years. I called her, and left a message. I was pretty sure I would never get a return call, but at least I tried.

To my delight, she called me back a few minutes later and said she was glad to hear from me. She told me to come to at a really nice restaurant called Hugo’s the next night at 7:30, and that she would see me there.

Somehow, I managed to keep from chickening out, and the dinner actually went very well. Sasha did most of the talking, which was fine with me, and she told me that we would go out again on Saturday for wine and seafood. That date went well, too, and was followed by another.

This time she told me she would come to my house and that I should order delivery from Carter’s, an expensive steakhouse. These dinners were costing me a fortune, but I had family money, plus I made a decent salary at my job, and I couldn’t think of anything I’d rather spend it on. Just to be around a woman this sexy was worth anything I needed to do to make it happen.

She arrived at my place for the third date dressed much more casually. She had on very tight jeans and a tank top that made it clear she had chosen not to wear a bra. Her nipples pressed proudly against the fabric, announcing their beautiful presence to the world in no uncertain terms. I couldn't take my eyes off of them, and my little prick stiffened in my pants. Not that anyone would be able to notice.

Sasha chose a movie from one of my streaming services and we watched it together while we ate the steaks. By the mid-point of the film, we were on the couch lying together, and she reached for the remote to pause the movie. We never finished watching it.

She climbed on top of me, removing her shirt to allow me full view of her incredible tits, and unfastened her jeans to begin rubbing her clit. I was still fully clothed, but she ground against me while she played with her pussy, her breasts swaying slowly as she moved. I was completely hard, and I wondered if she could even feel me as she gyrated.

Fortunately, it didn't seem to matter. She was losing herself to the pleasure from her fingers while drops of sweat began to drip from her neck, across her chest, and past her nipples. She grabbed and pulled at her hair with her free hand, and it fell across her face in a sexy mess. Her breathing came faster as she began to make the erotic sounds of a woman in the throes of passion.

My cock might not be large, but it was hard as a rock. I could feel the heat from her pussy through the fabric of her panties and my pants as she writhed against me, pressing me down against the couch.

She arched her back and began to cry out that she was coming. Sasha's hand was still down the front of her pants, and she was working it in small circles across her clit as she ground her crotch into mine.

"Oh Fuck, Ned!" I heard her moan. "Fuuuuuuck!" Her body trembled as she came, her face flushing as she surrendered to waves of pleasure.

It was the sexiest thing I had ever witnessed, and I felt the warm ripples of an orgasm begin to rise in my own body.

"NOOOO!" I screamed at myself in my mind. "Not now! I can't come like this! It will be so embarrassing...ahhhh....Fuck!"

I wasn't able to stave it off. Surges of ecstasy roared through me as my hard little cock spat out globs of cum in my trousers. The feeling was incredible, but my enjoyment of it was almost completely snuffed out by the sense of humiliation I felt. I was such a fucking loser! I was such a loser that I had already come—in my pants—and any chances of getting into hers were now surely gone.

Sasha got up, running a hand through her hair to straighten the mess. She looked down at me, and her eyes zeroed in on the large wet stain that had formed on the front of my pants, proclaiming my status as a loser of the first order.

“Awww,” she said, her voice both sweet and condescending at the same time. “Did we shoot a little load in our britches?”

I was mortified. I was sure that this was it—that she would leave and I would never see her again. What was a woman like her doing with a zero like me in the first place?

But she made no signs that she was about to make a hasty exit. In fact, she seemed to be enjoying my embarrassment, and she stood above me while I lay flat on the couch, looking me up and down.

“Let me see,” Sasha said, reaching to unbuckle my pants and pull them down.

“Oh fuck,” I thought. This was going from bad to worse. Now she would see my inadequacy in all its glory, becoming even smaller as it softened, and covered in the evidence of my premature ejaculation.

“Wow,” she said when she finally got my pants and underwear pulled away. “You made quite a little mess here. And speaking of little, that cock is even tinier than I thought!”

All I could do was lie there in humiliation and in my own cum while she went on.

“How do you even look at yourself in the mirror with a dick that small?” Sasha asked, her voice taunting, but somehow still wildly sexy. “Can you even find it when you jerk off? I mean, I’ve been with some small guys before, but woah! That has to be the littlest dick I’ve ever seen!”

I blushed, my face a deep shade of crimson, but another, stranger thing happened.

I felt my cock begin to swell again. It seemed like the more she berated me, the more aroused I became.

“Look at that tiny thing!” Sasha said, seeing it beginning to stir. “It’s trying to get hard again. That pathetic little prick is trying to stand up!”

I couldn’t believe it, but it actually was. I didn’t know what to do or say. I was totally humiliated. And totally turned on.

Sasha laughed and reached to my crotch to smear a glob of cum on her hand. And then, using only her thumb and forefinger, she started to jack me off.

My dick was so small that she could masturbate me with just two fingers. And it was working. I swelled to my full two and a half inches as she pinched and squeezed it like my dick was a little toy.

“I can see I’m going to have to buy a dildo,” she said as she worked me with her finger and thumb. “There’s no way I would even be able to feel this tiny thing. It’s like a miniature replica of a real cock.”

I didn’t know if she was trying to be hurtful or if she was just truly amazed at how small I was, but her words and her fingers were turning me on in a way I had never experienced. My breath was coming in gasps and I could feel the flush of another orgasm beginning to build.

She seemed to know that the humiliation was driving my pleasure. Still stroking me with her fingers, she leaned in toward me until her lips were against my earlobe. I could feel her tits pressed against me and the heat of her breath against the side of my face as she spoke softly into my ear.

“You know what you are?” Sasha said. “You’re a pathetic, tiny-dicked fucking loser!”

As she uttered those words, my dick erupted. She squeezed it between her finger and thumb as I unloaded like never before, squirting long streams of milky cum into the air. Sasha let out a squeal as I shot my seed, astonished by the volume of semen I was releasing.

“Wow!” She exclaimed. “That’s a big load of cum for such a little cock! You’ve surprised me, Ned.”

I had surprised myself as well. It had been the most intense orgasm I’d ever experienced. And Sasha was still here. She was laughing at my tiny dick, but she was still here!

She went to the kitchen and poured herself a glass of wine while I got a towel to clean myself and the mess I had made on the couch. We sat and talked for a while, and she announced that she was staying the night. The two of us made our way to the bedroom, where she curled up next to me and we both fell quickly into a deep sleep.

* * * *

She was gone when I awoke the next morning, but she texted me around noon and said she’d be over that evening by 7:45. She showed up with a pizza, and an overnight bag, and from that point on, she never left. We didn’t talk about her moving in, it just happened.

Sasha moved her things into my house bit by bit, and when the lease was up on her apartment, she didn’t renew. We never really talked about marriage until she came home from work one evening and told me that she had made an appointment with the Justice Of The Peace the next day. Sixteen hours later, we were married.

We settled into a strange but somehow workable arrangement when it came to sex. She amassed a collection of vibrators and toys, and would use them on herself, or sometimes have me use them on her in bed. Every once in a while she would jerk me off, but most of the time I would masturbate while she used a vibrator on her clit or a big dildo in her pussy.

On my birthday and on Arbor Day she would let me fuck her. I thought the Arbor Day thing was kind of odd, but she said she was a plant lover and she liked to honor the holiday by letting me please myself inside her. I wasn't going to complain.

The most notable thing about our sex life, however, was the way she continued to humiliate me and tease me ruthlessly. The more she taunted me, and the bigger deal she made about what a loser I was, the more intense my orgasms would be. She even talked on the phone to her friends in front of me, telling them all about what a pathetic loser she had married, and how impossibly small my dick was. She would laugh as she told the story, and I would get hard every time. I didn't understand why the humiliation was arousing to me, but it was.

We'd only been married for a couple of months when she quit her job. She had taken over our finances, and she said we had plenty in the bank from my inheritance, plus I was still making good money at the firm. I told her I didn't know if that was a good idea, but she shut me up by giving me something that was incredibly rare—a blow job. Sasha wrapped her lips around my tiny dick and sucked for about two minutes until I shot a sticky load in her mouth. She swallowed it, and we never talked about her job again.

One day a few weeks later, I arrived home at the end of the day to find a car I didn't recognize in the driveway. I parked on the street and went inside, setting my keys and bag on the counter, and went to see where she was.

The door to the bedroom was open, and I entered it to find a large naked man in the bed. He was taut and muscular, with dark black hair. And his prick was embedded in my wife.

Sasha was on her back with her legs spread wide and her arms wrapped around the man's torso. I must have made a sound when I walked in the room, because she looked up at me from beneath the stranger and smiled.

"Oh, Ned, this is Logan," she said, as if it were the most natural thing in the world. "He's fucking me!"

And that is most certainly what he was doing. He drove his thick cock in and out of her with precision and purpose like a victorious warrior, claiming her cunt for his own. Sasha squirmed against him as he hit her sweet spot over and over, driving her wild with lust.

I stood stunned in the doorway. Was this what she did now that she was at home every day? How many men had she already entertained, offering them access to the pussy that I was so incapable of pleasuring?

I had never felt more like the loser I was. And my dick began to swell.

Logan pulled out of Sasha's dripping snatch and turned her over, positioning her onto all fours. She looked at me standing helplessly nearby.

"Honey, show Logan your tiny cock." And to the muscular stranger, "You won't believe how little he is!"

While it was true that I got off on the humiliation, this might be a bridge too far. Would I draw a line in the sand, right here and now? Would I finally grow a pair? Would I stand up to the taunting and teasing and tell her that I didn't deserve this kind of treatment?

As it turns out, no. Perhaps most men would have, but I am a loser. And besides, I was too aroused by the humiliating feelings that wrapped themselves around my brain and my dick as they pulled me further and further down the rabbit hole.

I dropped my pants, exposing my smallness to the man who was about to take my wife from behind. Logan laughed out loud, and once again my cock reached its full two and a half inch hardness as Sasha giggled along with him.

“Logan, why don’t you show him what a real dick looks like when it’s fucking my ass?”

Oh my god. She was offering her asshole to this stranger while her loser husband could only watch. She reached back to spread her cheeks and in he went—all seven inches of him.

Sasha bucked and squirmed as his balls came to rest against her asscheeks. Logan began to move slowly, pulling almost all the way out, and then thrusting smoothly back in. He started to pick up speed, and soon his large cock was pistoning in and out of her tight back door.

I stood in a daze, watching this man fuck my wife’s ass, with precum leaking from the head of my tiny member. I didn’t even know that Sasha liked anal, but she was groaning and rubbing her clit furiously while Logan destroyed her hole with his urgent thrusts.

She screamed out, “Yes! DO IT BABY! Show my loser husband what it looks like for his wife to take a bull’s load of cum in her ass!”

Logan hammered away at her, and he was getting close. He grunted and moaned in pleasure, and I could see his own asscheeks tense.

“Ahhh, FUCK!” He shouted, and pressed in deeply, his cock unleashing a flood of hot semen deep in her asshole. He bucked wildly as he came, his hands gripping tightly around Sasha’s waist.

At that moment, Sasha came too, shaking and shuddering as she felt Logan’s hot seed spilling inside her. Her body quivered as if it was out of control while her lover stayed buried deep in her hole, delivering the last of his load.

Sasha flipped over on her back when he pulled out of her, lifting her hips and putting her legs in the air. She motioned me to the bed to join her.

“It’s time for you to do your duty as the pathetic cuckold husband that you are.” she said. “Get over here and lick Logan’s cum out of my ass!”

Silently, I obeyed. I had never tasted cum before, but my dick was hard as a rock and I finally realized—at that moment—that she had obtained complete control over me. It had happened a long time ago, but I was just understanding the full impact of it now.

Positioning my face between her cheeks, I began slurping the spoils of Logan’s orgasm from Sasha’s ass. I worked my tongue as far as it would go inside her dripping hole to clean out as much cum as I could. It tasted salty and bitter on my tongue, but I was a loser. I swallowed it down obediently as she cooed and moaned from my efforts.

I was so focused on my wife’s ass that I hadn’t noticed that Logan had climbed on top of Sasha, straddling her and facing toward me while he watched me clean her asshole. I heard him groan and looked up to see him stroking his still-hard cock with both hands.

Before I could return my attention to Sasha’s ass, his seven-inch dick erupted again, splattering an enormous load of spunk all over my face. It landed on my nose and chin, and the second stream blinded me when it hit my right eye. Logan kept coming, soaking me with the blasts of his hot seed.

It was the most degrading and humiliating thing I had ever experienced. And the feelings of submissiveness were taking me over the edge. I clutched my tiny cock in my hand and it exploded, pumping out globs of cum that dripped onto the bedsheet below me.

Logan pulled up off of Sasha’s body so he could examine his handiwork. Sasha laughed tauntingly at my cum-covered face and told Logan to grab her phone from the nightstand so she could take pictures of my humiliation. She snapped away, then demanded that I turn over so she could get a few shots of my “little-bitty dick.”

Logan wiped his cock off across my chest, and she took a picture of that, too.

“Just wait ‘til I show these to the girls,” she said, laughing. “They will finally believe me about what a fucking loser you are!”

It was true. I might have been a loser before, but there was no denying it now. Logan dressed and left, leaving me lying in the bed, a sticky, degraded mess. But in a strange way that I couldn’t fully understand, I was happy.

My name is Ned, and I’m a loser. That’s just who I am. My wife now fucks whoever she wants to, and I pay the bills and do whatever she tells me to do. I never know who’ll be in her bed when I get home every day. If I’m lucky, I get to clean her up once she’s been satisfied. And I get to look forward to my birthday. And Arbor Day.

Hotwife Holds The Key

As it stood today, NuCal Microsystems was one of the biggest and most profitable technology companies in the world. They had offices in 37 countries, and NuCal software was commonly thought of as the most innovative in the world, with the most secure platform and applications available.

Jeremy Barnstead, NuCal's CEO and the creative genius that had taken them public in 2005—making himself a billionaire overnight—smiled as he confidently strode to the podium. He was accepting the award for “Humanitarian Of The Year,” based on his generous charitable contributions and NuCal's successful campaign to build schools and infrastructure in third-world countries. He'd be gracious and genuine, but of course he wouldn't miss the opportunity to promote the virtues of NuCal in his acceptance speech.

He opened with a joke, riffing on the current administration in the White House, and the audience ate it up, responding with laughter and thunderous applause. When the speech was over, a long line of very important people formed to await the chance to congratulate him, and to shake his hand. Today was a very good day, and Jeremy was the king of it, basking in his own innate power and in the adulation of the crowd.

Of the several hundred people attending the ceremony, only one besides Jeremy knew his secret. Only one other person in the auditorium knew that beneath the Armani slacks that were a part of the expensive suit that he wore to give his speech, a stainless steel chastity cage held his penis as a locked prisoner. His wife Arlissa knew. In fact, the sexy hotwife he was married to was the one who had secured his cock in the metal cage, and she was the one who wore the key to that cage on a 24 carat gold chain around her neck.

To the world, Jeremy was a mega-successful, alpha-type Fortune 500 stud. But Arlissa knew that deep down, he was really just a sissy. Just a subservient cuck that was hers to command. And she knew that it was the domination itself—the fact that she had complete control over his ability to even obtain an erection, never mind achieve an orgasm—that somehow lit his fuse and became the very thing that satisfied him sexually.

While cuckolding had become much more well-known in the past 20 years, most people still had no real understanding of the urges that drove the desire of the male in a cuckold relationship. It would be incredibly embarrassing to a powerful man like Jeremy if word were to get out, and his secret were to be discovered. And it was really nobody else's business anyway. If that's what got him off, then so be it. Arlissa certainly didn't mind.

She'd been attracted to his confidence and charisma from the moment they met. But when she discovered that he wanted to be submissive in the bedroom, she had been delighted. Something about lording over a man that most people recognized as virulent and powerful ignited passions deep within her that made her pulse race and her body flush with excitement. Regular old sex was fine, but exuding dominance over a man that the world thought of as such a charismatic leader gave her orgasms that were earth-shaking.

As she watched her husband shake hands with a state senator, and then the head coach of the football team that had won last year's National Championship, she remembered the first time she'd brought home a stranger to fuck in front of Jeremy.

She had left him at home, locked up in his metal chastity cage, dealing with some paperwork he had brought home from the office while she went out to drink and dance at one of her favorite clubs. On the dance floor, as she whirled around in a tight black top and leather pants, she'd been approached by an exotic-looking Asian man. He wasn't tall, but he was muscular and solid, with a confident air and a killer smile.

He hadn't asked her to dance, exactly. He'd found her on the floor dancing alone in the crowd, and moved in beside her while the music pulsed. Within a few moments he'd come even closer, brushing his body against hers in time with the throbbing bass. Arlissa could feel the shape of a large cock as his body came in contact with hers, and she knew she'd chosen her prey for the night.

He'd bought her a drink when they finally stopped dancing, and she purred a sexy "Thank you," into his ear.

"Let's get out of here," she said, downing the vodka tonic. "Why don't you follow me to my place?"

She looked incredible as the flash of the club lights lit up her face and revealed the soft curves of her breasts beneath the fabric of her top. There was no way the man was turning down her invitation, especially when she'd added "I want you to fuck me while my husband watches."

Twenty minutes later, the two of them walked in her front door. "The bedroom is the door at the end of the hall," Arlissa told him. "I've got to tell my husband what's happening. Be naked in the bed by the time I get there." She'd smiled wickedly and kissed him passionately, running her hand along the outline of his dick and giving it a soft squeeze through his pants.

She found Jeremy in his study, pouring over his paperwork.

"Hi, baby," she'd said, peeling off her tight pants and lace panties. She climbed onto the desk in front of him, spreading her legs to give him a perfect view of the wonderland that was between them. She knew his dick would try to swell as he took in the sight, but that the cage would prohibit him from getting hard.

"You love this pussy, don't you honey?" Jeremy could barely croak out a hoarse "Yes."

“Well tonight you’re going to watch it get fucked. By a real man, with a real cock. Not that little baby one you’ve got locked up down there.

“If you behave yourself, and do as I say, I’ll let your tiny guy out to play after he leaves.”

There are many different kinds of cuckold relationships, and that night Jeremy would learn much more about the one that he and Arlissa shared. He would learn the exquisite torment of watching his wife be pleased by a stranger while his own dick strained against its enclosure. He would discover what it looks and sounds like when she quivers in the throes of an orgasm, coming on the cock of a guy whose name she doesn’t even know. And he would learn what a man’s seed tastes like as it drips from a woman’s pussy. These things would all be new to him, but they would become a regular part of his life.

Obediently, he’d followed her into the bedroom. The muscular, stocky man was there, lying on his back in the bed where Jeremy and Arlissa slept. As he watched, his wife had shed her tank top and climbed into the bed, lowering her cunt onto the mans’ face.

The stranger tongued her as she ground herself against his mouth. Jeremy stood silently by the bed as Arlissa rode the guy’s face, her dark skin shining in stark contrast to the man’s more pale complexion. She began to moan softly, saying things like “Mmmmm, lick that pussy! Lick it good, just like that!”

Jeremy had taken off his pants, as if that would somehow help ease the feeling of discomfort as his dick strained against its steel restraints. His wife turned to look at him, her face showing momentary pity as he stood impotently by and watched. But the look had quickly changed to one of ecstasy as the strange man found her clit over and over with his tongue, sending jolts of pre-orgasmic pleasure throughout her body.

She’d climbed off of him and had assumed a position on all fours in the center of the bed. Thanks to the intoxicating splendor of the sexy hotwife who had been sitting on his face, the man's prick was stiff and engorged, and he lined it up against the opening to her slit as he prepared to mount her doggy-style.

Arlissa took her Asian visitor's cock all the way to the hilt as he entered her with a powerful thrust. She pushed back against him, meeting each stroke as he took her aggressively, his hands on her shoulders.

Jeremy never would have imagined that his wife liked it rough. Any time they'd been together he'd always done anything that she demanded, but she'd never asked him to ravish her the way this man was doing. The stranger's balls made a slapping sound against her ass with every thrust, and Arlissa was making "UH! UH!" noises with each stroke, her voice pitching higher and higher the longer it went on. Jeremy might be a big-time CEO, but this guy, whoever he was, was clearly superior in the bedroom. He was demonstrating in no uncertain terms how to please a woman, and how a wife should be properly fucked.

It was clear from Arlissa's response that the man was doing something right. She moaned and squealed as he pounded her, demanding that he fuck her even harder. The stranger obviously had the stamina to do so, and he began thrusting with such determination that it almost looked as if he would knock them off of the bed.

Her voice had begun to sound as if she were both begging and commanding at the same time. She threw her head back and cried, "I'm gonna come ! I'm gonna commmmmm!"

She told Jeremy afterward that it had felt like someone set off a series of laser beams inside her that emanated from inside her silky walls and arced across every nerve in her body. The stranger had brought her to orgasm so forcefully that Arlissa lost her balance and crumpled to the bed as the passion rocked her whole frame and flooded the pleasure center of her brain with a crazy dose of endorphins.

His cock still hard inside her, the man had collapsed onto Jeremy's wife's back when her knees buckled, and it drove him in even deeper. As it did, he came in a rush of hot wetness, his cock spewing streams of wet semen into her pussy. He groaned loudly as he delivered his load inside her in a blaze of climactic glory.

Arlissa regained her composure as the man pulled his dripping shaft from her cunt, and she had flipped over to take him in her mouth. Jeremy's head was spinning, the feeling of his dick straining against the chastity cage making him feel claustrophobic. It twitched painfully as he watched his wife carefully bathe the visitor's prick with her tongue. She moaned "Mmmmm," as she licked him clean, and then thanked him for fucking her so well.

His dick properly scrubbed, the stranger had found his clothes and walked out of the house, leaving Arlissa lying on her back in the sheets with his seed beginning to slowly drip out of her, and Jeremy still standing next to the bed, naked from the waist down, his limp dick swollen and red against the metal of the cage.

She'd motioned him over to the bed, where she instructed him to clean all of the man's cum from her pussy. When he was done, she would let him out of his cage for the night.

The Fortune 500 CEO had licked and slurped, getting every drop he could of another man's seed from inside his wife and swallowing it down. The clean-up duty only triggered his libido even more, and he'd gotten still further turned on when Arlissa had another small orgasm while his mouth was on her pussy.

When Jeremy finally had her licked completely clean, Arlissa had retrieved the key from around her neck and inserted it into the locking mechanism that held his dick captive. She clicked it open, and the very second the metal bands left his cock it had convulsed, spraying out clumpy shots of warm, sticky cum. Jeremy hadn't even touched it, but it had gone off like a latent bottle rocket left over from a New Year's Eve fireworks display. Laughing, his naked wife went for a towel and tenderly cleaned him up.

It had been a painful kind of ecstasy, but he'd never come that hard. To this day, in fact, it was the most intense and explosive orgasm he had ever had.

From the back of the auditorium, Arlissa watched as the rest of the dignitaries in the line shook her husband's hand and congratulated him. "He is so suave, so in command," she thought, and the contrast between his public self and his sexual self drove her desire and cravings for their lifestyle, and for the evening to come. She had a big surprise planned for her special cuck. She felt a dampness between her legs as she thought about the pleasures that the night would bring.

* * * *

The Humanitarian Of The Year ceremony had been held in the city, and they'd decided to stay in a hotel suite that night rather than make the hour-long drive back home. They went out for a celebratory dinner before returning to the hotel, and Arlissa rang room service once they got back to their suite to have them deliver a bottle of champagne.

She had told Jeremy to be ready for a surprise, and he wondered if she was planning to let him spend the evening without the chastity cage. Was she thinking of letting him fuck her? It had been quite a while.

Arlissa opened the champagne, and then busied herself on her phone while Jeremy poured them each a glass. After sending a couple of texts, she took the glass and excused herself for a moment to "get more comfortable." She returned shortly, clad in the sexiest lingerie Jeremy had ever seen her wear. The silky red teddy accentuated her luscious breasts perfectly, lying invitingly against her dark skin, and the panties were nothing more than straps across her hips, offering easy access to the beautiful folds of her pussy. Not surprisingly, Jeremy's dick began to twitch against the confines of its prison.

Arlissa poured herself another glass of sparkling wine and reclined across the bed. "Take a seat over there," she said, pointing to a comfortable accent chair in the bedroom of the suite. "Tonight we're going to celebrate your award. And I promise that by the end of the evening, you will be a changed man."

"What could that mean?" Jeremy wondered, but he sat down in the large, comfortable chair as he was told. On the bed, Arlissa licked two fingers and began using them to gently stimulate her clit. She was even more beautiful when she masturbated, and Jeremy sat transfixed as he watched her dip a finger between the gorgeous, pronounced labia that bordered her inviting pussy. She brought the finger to her lips and tasted it, only increasing Jeremy's discomfort from the thin metal bands that held his cock in check.

Her playful teasing was interrupted by a knock at the door. She got up, clad in nothing but the revealing lingerie, and went to answer, motioning to Jeremy to stay seated where he was.

From the chair, he could hear the door swing open, and a deep male voice say, "Wow!"

"Welcome!" He heard Arlissa say. "I'm glad you made it. My husband is in the bedroom. Do you remember my instructions?"

"Absolutely," the deep voice said.

Arlissa stepped back into the bedroom, flanked by not one, but two hunky young men. One was black, and the other looked Latino, and they smiled and said hello to Jeremy, who was beginning to realize that his wife's way of celebrating was apparently to make him watch her in a threesome.

“Honey, this is Miguel,” she said, introducing the Hispanic man, “And this is Kendrick. They’re going to entertain us for the evening.”

By this point in their relationship, Jeremy had watched Arlissa fuck plenty of other men, and had dutifully cleaned their seed deposits from her pussy. But this was the first time she’d brought two of them to the bed at once. Her eyes flashed with excitement as she reached to Kendrick and began removing his shirt.

His chest rippled with taut muscles, and a six-pack of abs were immediately visible as his shirt came off. When Jeremy’s wife unbuckled his pants and slid them down, his sizable cock flopped out into view, and Arlissa gave an approving, “Oooh!”

Miguel was disrobing too, and Arlissa looked him up and down as well. His cock was long and uncut, hanging proudly above a tight set of balls, and he was completely shaved.

“Honey, you might as well get comfortable!” Arlissa said, and Jeremy obediently stood and took off his shirt and pants. He was a nice looking man, but the metal cage around his dick made him look and feel completely subservient. The dominant creature from the podium earlier today was gone, and a submissive cuckold husband was now in his place.

“Damn,” Miguel said, looking at the device that imprisoned Jeremy’s prick. “Does that thing hurt?”

“I have a feeling that it’s going to,” Jeremy said as he sat back down. The sight of these two virile men, and what he sensed they were about to do to his wife was already affecting his manhood enough to make things uncomfortable. And clearly this was only the beginning.

Arlissa positioned herself between the two men and began stroking both cocks. They each reached a hand below the top of her teddy, fondling and squeezing her ample tits. She had both of the visitors hard in only a moment, and began alternating between the two of them, taking one dick in her mouth, and then the other. They each let out soft moans as she worked them expertly with her lips and tongue, bobbing her head up and down purposefully.

After she sucked both of the men for several minutes, all three of them climbed onto the bed. Arlissa pulled her lingerie top off and tossed it to the floor, her breasts hanging low as she got on her hands and knees. Jeremy's dick strained against its constraints as he watched Kendrick plunge his big member into her from behind, and Miguel take position in front of her face so she could suck his cock.

Jeremy had seen videos of a woman being spit-roasted before, but to watch it in person, with his wife in the center, was at once humiliating and incredibly erotic at the same time. He desperately wanted to stroke his dick, to free it from its confines and then release a big load of cum from his balls, but all he could do was watch and feel it throb against the cage as it tried in vain to become hard.

The men double-teaming his wife were having no trouble with their erections. Miguel moaned loudly as Arlissa took him deep in her mouth, exclaiming, "YEAH! Suck my dick, bitch!" This turned her on even more, and she gagged as she worked to take all of him in.

Kendrick was sliding smoothly in and out of her cunt, which was glistening with moisture from her juices. He began pounding her harder, his thrusts knocking her forward even further onto Miguel's cock as it sank deeper into her throat.

After about ten minutes of vigorous fucking, the men switched places and Arlissa tasted the wonderful sensation of her own pussy on Kendrick's dick as Miguel mounted her from behind. Her hair was a tousled mess, and her tits bounced and swayed from the force of the two men working her over. She was naked except for the strings of the lingerie bottoms around her waist, but those hadn't needed to come off since they were designed to allow access to her dripping cunt.

Miguel fucked her expertly, his long manhood stroking the sensitive spot inside her with every thrust. The sensations overtook her, sending her into orbit, and she pulled her mouth off of Kendrick's huge dick as the orgasm began to roll through her body.

Arlissa came hard, shouting Miguel's name as she shuddered and clenched the muscles of her pussy around him. He drove deep, letting her feel his entire length inside her as her body rewarded his efforts with an earth-shaking climax. Miguel laughed softly, clearly pleased at his ability to make a woman come so convincingly. Neither man had shot his load, but Arlissa's orgasm was a thing to behold, and they took it in proudly as she collapsed onto the bed, completely spent.

Miguel had pulled his cock from her pussy, and both men's dicks were shiny and wet in the dim light of the hotel room from Arlissa's juices and saliva.

She breathed deeply, taking a moment to recover from the orgasmic experience. Her body was flushed red, which added an amazing tint and aura to her beautiful dark skin. Jeremy thought she looked sexier and more beautiful than ever before.

Arlissa sat up in the bed and motioned to Jeremy to join her. The two visitors stepped away, both stroking their dicks, which still stood at erect attention.

Jeremy climbed into the bed, and Arlissa took the key from its spot nestled between her breasts and held it out in front of him.

"I'm going to unlock you," she said, "but you have to do exactly as I say. Can you do that?"

"Yes," he whispered hoarsely. "Of course, darling."

"Don't come when I unlock it. Can you keep that from happening?"

"I think so," Jeremy replied. He steeled his mind, reaching for the inner self control that it would take to keep him from squirting a load as soon as his dick was released. He paused for a moment, hoping he was ready.

“Okay,” he said. “I think I can do it.”

Arlissa reached for his cage, unlocking it slowly and carefully. When his cock sprang free, Jeremy felt his body tingle with arousal and the onset of an orgasm. With every ounce of determination he could muster, he forced the sensation down, willing himself not to come. After an agonizing moment, he felt the feeling subside, but his dick swelled to its full hardness. He smiled at his wife, proud he had been able to control the ejaculation, and realizing that he now knew what a ruined orgasm felt like.

She smiled and nodded her approval, and then instructed Jeremy to get on all fours. Dutifully, he did as he was told, his now-free erection bobbing in front of him.

“Tonight,” Arlissa whispered in his ear, “We complete your transition to a beautiful, sissy cuckold.”

She turned to the two men who stood waiting beside the bed, their dicks in their hands.

“Okay, gentlemen. I’ll get him ready, then he’s all yours!”

Jeremy froze in place. He knew what this meant. Arlissa was commanding them to take his ass. To fuck her husband mercilessly while she watched. He didn’t know how his virgin asshole could possibly take Miguel’s long dick or Kendrick’s thick one. This was going to be a whole new kind of humiliation.

Arlissa retrieved a container of lube and began spreading it liberally across Jeremy’s opening. She gently inserted a finger, then two, opening him up for what was to come.

He tightened around her fingers at first, but as she continued to rim him slowly, a sensual warmth began filling his body. She probed him, beginning to work both digits in and out of his ass. His groans of discomfort because cries of pleasure as she fingered him, and a single drop of wetness leaked from the head of his cock.

His wife continued her efforts for a few more moments, and when she finally removed her fingers from his puckered hole, he whimpered in submission. It was time.

She nodded at Miguel, who took up position behind Jeremy's ass and began rubbing the head of his dick against the opening. Then, with a firm push, he popped it inside Jeremy's outer ring.

Arlissa watched, enthralled as her husband tried to adjust to the tip of a man's cock inside him for the first time. Miguel gave him a moment, then pushed in further. He was halfway inside now, but Jeremy felt completely full, every nerve in his body on edge at the feeling of this stranger invading his most private space. Much like the feeling of being locked in the chastity cage, it was both uncomfortable and wildly arousing at the same time.

Miguel pulled back until only the head of his dick was still inside, then without warning he plunged it fully into Jeremy's ass. The Humanitarian Of The Year cried out as he felt Miguel's balls slap against his cheeks. He was now fully impaled by the man's long cock.

The stranger began stroking in and out, his manhood brushing against Jeremy's prostate with every thrust. This created a whole new sensation, and Arlissa watched her husband gasping for air and heard him squeal every time Miguel went deep.

She crawled beside Jeremy, positioning her face beneath his so she could kiss her sissy cuck while Miguel fucked his ass. She felt more in love with him at that moment than she ever had before as she watched her powerful husband made powerless by the man whose cock was imbedded inside him.

Miguel could feel the tight walls of Jeremy's canal gripping him intensely, and he knew he was about to pop.

“I’m gonna come,” he said to Arlissa, and she replied quickly, “DO IT! Breed my husband’s ass!”

With a powerful, wet explosion, Miguel unloaded inside Jeremy. His lengthy cock spasmed, spitting out robust, milky shots of semen inside one of the most respected businessmen in the world. He grabbed Jeremy’s hips, pulling them tightly against him as he came deep in his virgin asshole.

Jeremy was lost in a daze of sexual abandonment as he gave himself over to the feelings of being fucked, being humiliated, and being bred. This was different than anything he had ever experienced, and although he wouldn’t have guessed it, the surprising fact was that he actually wanted more.

He would get it. Miguel slid his softening dick from Jeremy’s hole and moved aside to allow Kendrick his turn. The black man’s cock wasn’t quite as long, but it was thick with a bulbous head, and it would call for still more adjustment from Jeremy’s ass when it went in.

Arlissa kissed Jeremy again, savoring the aura of submissiveness that was radiating from him. The air in the hotel room was thick with the smell of sweat and sex, and she breathed in the intoxicating vapor and let it fill her senses.

Kendrick started slowly, but once the head of his cock penetrated Jeremy’s wet hole, a bold and carnal feeling took him over, and he pushed into the CEO’s ass as far as he could go. Jeremy was so tight around him that it drove him wild, and he began bucking and thrusting harder and faster, pounding Jeremy’s asshole for all he was worth.

Still lying with her face beneath her husband, Arlissa saw Jeremy’s hard cock erupt, squirting streams of cum across the bedsheets below him. It spurted out six or seven thick, milky ropes, and kept coming, with several more large globs soaking the bed. No one had touched his dick, but the intense pressure from Kendrick’s thickness plowing in and out of his ass had triggered an orgasm, totally hands-free. Arlissa was sure it was the biggest load he had ever released.

As she reached up to hug him, wrapping her arms around Jeremy's shoulders, Kendrick groaned and gasped, and his hips began to shake.

His deep voice boomed out "FUUUUUCK," as his cock delivered a stunning series of cum blasts inside Jeremy's asshole. Shoving in deeper, he filled Arlissa's husband up with spurt after spurt of his seed, adding it to the substantial load that Miguel had dropped in that same tight space a few moments before.

With the fruits of his orgasm beginning to drip from Jeremy's ass, Kendrick withdrew his cock, spilling still more semen across the already soaked bedsheets below.

Jeremy dropped to the mattress in a bleary exhaustion, feeling used, degraded, and yes, wonderful. After a moment, his wife got up and found her wallet, handing each man a wad of cash and thanking them as they dressed.

When they were gone, she climbed back into the bed where Jeremy lay, a spent and shaky mess. "You paid them for sex?" He asked her.

"No, I didn't," she told him, putting a finger to his lips to silence him. "I paid them for discretion. You're an important man, Jeremy. We have to make sure no one finds out about our private life unless we want them to know."

Jeremy sighed, looking deep in her eyes. This beautiful, sultry woman was his everything, and he wanted only to please her.

"I don't feel very important right now," he said. "I feel like an unworthy, submissive sissy, and now I've learned that I like to be fucked by men with big cocks."

She put her finger back to his lips, quieting him again. "But baby," she cooed, "Are you happy?"

It took a moment for him to reply. "Happier than I've ever been," the Humanitarian Of The Year finally said. "You are my queen, and I'm happy when I serve you and when you are pleased.”

“And you are my wonderful strong man, and you’re my beautiful sissy cuck. Congratulations, baby.”

Lying in the wet sheets next to her husband, Arlissa fingered the key on the end of the necklace that nestled between her breasts. She held the key, both literally and figuratively, to his sexuality.

“You can sleep free tonight,” she told him. “But tomorrow morning, that cage goes right back on, cuck-boy!”

Thank You!

THANK YOU SO MUCH for reading HOTWIFE HOLDS THE KEY!

About The Author

Matthew Lee Ryan is an author, narrator of audiobooks, and Man About Town. He began writing for the campus newspaper in high school, although those stories were very different from these.

He also reads and narrates audiobooks, and a list of those and how to obtain them is available at www.matthewleeryan.com.

Matthew loves rescuing dogs, drinking rum and craft beer, and sex. All kinds of sex. Some of his adventures may or may not have inspired a few of the stories in this book. It is up to you to guess which ones.
