

Matthew Lee

My Wife Spins Out of Control

My Wife Spins Out of Control

By Matthew Lee

Chapter 1

Our parking spot lies five blocks from our flat but at least it's inside a secured garage. When you haul around as much DJ equipment as me, security matters. When we first decided to move to New York, we reached out to family and friends and got lucky. Reba's grandmother had a flat she could rent us inexpensively. We sat above a warehouse that printed and stored cardboard, and directly under the intersecting flight paths of jets landing at JFK and La Guardia, but for the proximity to all the city nightclubs, the place was fantastic.

I'd gotten off early tonight because the rotation had changed when two guys called out. Fine with me. Reba and I hardly saw each other these days and I know she's pissed about it. Hurt, is probably a better word. She's patient and supportive but even I was getting fed up with all the hustle. The DJ racket is tough.

I left my stuff in the van to unload later. I wanted to surprise her, maybe even take her out for a late dinner. I hoped she was still awake. She works two jobs: morning shift manager at a fancy coffee bistro overlooking Battery Park called Pink Ladies, and as a sometimes-go-go dancer at my shows. She sleeps whenever she can.

Her body is rocking, as you'd expect for a dancer; incredible ass and pert tits, about the size of half a grapefruit, flat stomach and smooth, light olive skin. She's never researched her ethnicity but her shoulder-length dark brown hair is curly as fuck. Her green eyes give her a touch of the exotic. Both sexes hit on her constantly. I'm always too busy to care.

I crept up the stairs and turned the key slowly, easing the door closed behind me. The living area was empty but a dim light burned in the corner where wardrobe screens made up the walls of our bedroom. I moved closer and peered around a screen.

Reba lay sprawled across our king-sized mattress, naked and masturbating. The glow came from her laptop where a video of a small Asian chick took on a handful of men; one in each hole and one in each hand. Three men, fully erect, waited their turn with her.

Not what I was expecting. Not what I was expecting, at all.

What's the proper protocol here? Do I strip and offer her real penis? I imagined she'd be too embarrassed at being caught to still want sex and besides, I'd just worked in a dank and sweaty club. I was tired and hungry and needed a shower.

She wore headphones so she'd heard nothing of my approach. She worked her pussy with one hand while the other rubbed her hot body and played with her firm tits. Her areola are petite circles but the dark nipple stands up about as big as a bee. Her toes were curled and her mouth open. She looked incredibly sexy but I was shocked by what she watched. Never has she mentioned an interest in more than one man. Reba loves sex. I think she'd fuck me every day if she could. I've been so busy we haven't had sex in months but is that what got her hot enough to watch gangbang videos?

I spotted her cell on the bed by her pillow and slowly backed out of our flat. Down the stairs and back to the last intersection, I gave her a few minutes to finish and then texted I was on my way home.

When I opened the door, she was on the futon in front of the widescreen watching Avatar. We kissed and I told her about my night and she told me about hers, failing to mention the hot masturbation scene. She wore one of my wife beaters, her dark nipples only partially obscured by the thin cotton fabric, and a pair of ratty gray shorts.

She said she was hungry so we locked up and headed for Mulberry and Vine, our favorite place to eat. I had three bites left to my M and V Rosemary Roasted chicken when she hit me with it.

"How much longer will you try to make it as a DJ, Baby?"

“Until I make it. We’ve had this conversation. I feel like you’re really trying to say something else.”

“I am. I miss you, Mike. We hardly see each other anymore. I’m up early, you’re up late. I’m lonely.”

I covered her hand with mine.

“I’m sorry, Love. I’m close though, I can feel it. I had four producers at the club tonight talking notes. The crowd was good and I had them rocking. These guys are opening three clubs soon. One in Los Angeles, one here in New York, and their flagship in Vegas. If I could get in with them, I’d blow up, I know it.”

She sighed.

I’d put her through a lot. My six-month plan was now well past two years. Guilt ate at me.

“What if you don’t?” she asked. “How much longer will you try? Is this just my life if I want to stay with you?”

Woah.

“Are you thinking of leaving?” I asked.

“No, never. I’m just frustrated. We’ve been living like this a long time. We’re getting older. I just turned thirty-four for Christ’s sake. What about kids? I’m on the clock here.”

We both wanted kids but not yet. The form of birth control we practiced was me pulling out. As infrequently as we had sex these days, the method was highly effective.

I leaned back. I did not like her words but she was right. I couldn’t do this forever and it was unfair to just leave the plan open-ended. I spread my fingers on the Formica tabletop.

“All right,” I began. “I see your point.”

Her eyebrows went up.

I chewed on my apprehension, hating to give ground.

“Twenty-four months,” I said. “From tonight. If I haven’t made it by then, I give up.”

“Eighteen months, and I’m not asking you to give up, I’m asking you to change tactics. Be more selective. Only take the top gigs. Get a second job like me and make real money while you work on landing the big fish. I’m tired of being poor.”

I eyed my gorgeous wife. She'd left the flat with what she had on and in the bright lights of the diner, her sassy tits looked juicy. She caught me looking.

"That's another thing," she said, leaning closer. "You have got to do a better job of banging your wife. I need sex. She's missing dick in a bad way."

I considered mentioning what I'd seen earlier but the mood felt too serious.

"Let's go home," I said. "I can get started on that one right now."

As she slid out of her chair, her leg rolled over the hem of the tank top, stretching the fabric. Glorious titties showed all the way around with the two straps barely covering nipples. I gasped and she looked down, giggling. Several people seated nearby noticed.

I smiled.

"Don't get jealous," she said. "It was an accident."

"I don't get jealous," I replied.

She stared at me while pulling on her sweatshirt.

"Well that makes me feel like you don't care," she said. "Every man gets jealous."

"If I'm fine with you dancing, I'm fine with you flashing," I said. "You know I love you more than life. Besides, I trust you completely."

"Just take me home and fuck me," she said. "I'm craving cock."

Chapter 2

The next weekend I headlined at Club Haus and lit the place on fire. Reba was with me but, as always, we pretended not to know each other. Every club manager assumes a husband and wife team are trouble. I'd get zero bookings. Reba is smoking hot and guys flirt with her all night. I've known plenty of husbands who couldn't take it and threw punches. I have a buddy who spins and his wife dances and they keep their relationship secret too.

Reba usually dances in booty shorts and a microscopic bikini top but a few clubs allow the dancers to go topless. I leave it up to her. She loves to dance and loses herself in the music and pays no attention to the guys watching. She's there for the vibe.

Tonight, things were different.

My crack about never feeling jealous annoyed her. I thought women liked secure men and I thought she'd enjoy being so trusted, but mostly she took my comment to mean I wouldn't be destroyed if I lost her. Tonight, she made it her mission to get a genuine response out of me.

We'd been at the grocery store the day after Mulberry and Vine and she'd sent me all the way to the back for almond milk. Upon my return, I saw her talking to a muscular black guy and standing closer than usual. She gets hit on everywhere we go. Her entire wardrobe consists of tight and revealing clothes but she says that's not her problem, it's theirs. She catches every eye around and I'm including girls in that count.

The big black muscle man took her hand to make his point and their eyes locked. I stayed back, hiding behind a display of Campbell's soup, and saw them talking intently. He kissed her hand. Cheese. She glanced around for me, trying to time her little game, so I waited to see what she'd do. As the guy got more aggressive she got irritated. I stepped around the corner with the almond milk held high.

"Found it," I called.

The black guy took a half step back and eyed her suspiciously. Dumbass; she's wearing two rings. Reba closed the gap and continued talking to him. Her ploy was so obvious I almost laughed. I considered acting jealous and taking her scorn just to get her beyond this stupid game but instead decided to play a game of my own.

I placed the milk in our cart, swatted the guy on the back and asked him what was up, and told Reba I was going to grab some cereal. Her face was priceless. I left them alone and hid behind a stack of toilet paper to watch.

The guy pulled out his phone and asked for her number but I was too far away to hear if the number she gave was legit. They spoke a little more but I could tell the guy wanted to leave. I'd rained on his parade. He'd gotten her number and was happy with that. I jogged to the cereal aisle and picked out two boxes of Captain Crunch and jogged back.

Into the cart they went. I played it cool, asking what was next on the list.

"Aren't you going to ask who that guy was?" she said at last.

I looked around dumbfounded. "No, why? Should I? I figured he was a friend of yours. I didn't want to butt-in."

"He asked for my number."

I stopped.

"Did you give it to him?"

"Yes."

She watched me like a hawk.

"Why?"

I waited.

"He owns a kick-boxing studio by Saint Paul's. Offered me a discount."

"That's terrific, Reba. You should check that place out. You've mentioned possibly joining a gym a few times."

I turned her hand to look at our list, pretending the matter was settled.

"Maybe I will."

"I'll go get the broccoli," I said.

"He's really handsome. Did you notice his muscles?"

"I did. I bet he's an awesome kickboxer."

I almost felt bad, but her attempt was so transparent. She let it go.

That was days ago.

Tonight, she was back on track and trying a new ploy. Her outfit was hot; painted on white booty shorts and two tiny white triangles which covered her stiff nipples but left most of her mounds exposed. I knew the top wasn't lined by how pronounced the dual nipple bumps were.

The guys, and a few girls too, were all over her. That happens nightly but this time she flirted back. She even allowed guys to touch her from the knees down. That was new. The night wore on and I played higher energy music just to watch her move. The crowd was wild. She was one of four go-go dancers but her attitude lit up the room. Sometimes she dances slow and sexy and sometimes she dances hard and sexy. I always watch her but tonight I watched closer than usual. She played it cool, pretending not to notice, pretending not to know who I was. She does a great job keeping our relationship hidden.

We finished the gig before dawn and made our way to the van separately. Once inside, she kissed me deeply.

“What was that for?” I asked.

“I’m in a mood,” she said. “I know it’s late and I work tomorrow morning, but I don’t care. Take me home and fuck me.”

That was our pattern for the next several weeks. Reba did not always accompany me, but on the nights she did, she flirted with other men like crazy. Allowing them to touch her became routine and I noticed they were reaching farther and farther up her toned legs. I refused to play and said nothing. What started as a way to make me jealous was becoming for her a sexy turn-on. When we got home she’d jump me.

I knew she couldn’t maintain the pace. Lack of sleep soon caught up to her. Two jobs will kick your ass.

She started coming less and leaving before I finished but while she danced, she took her flirtatious ways to a new level. Guys ran their hands all the way up to her crotch. Some squeezed her ass. Their hands on her body got her worked up. Her excitement was obvious. The bouncers left it up to the girls what they allowed and Reba let the guys get away with a lot. She’d get crazy aroused but now when I’d get home, she’d already be asleep, no doubt having masturbated herself into a stupor.

Chapter 3

The sunrise was turning the sky pink when I got home. Reba had danced her ass off and worked the crowd into a frenzy. The manager asked if I knew who she was and I said I’d seen her around. He told me to make sure she came with me every time.

I kicked off my shoes and slipped out of my clothes, too tired to shower before bed. Reba had a shift at six so I eased the covers and crawled in next to her. I pulled the covers to my chin.

“Why don’t you get jealous?” she mumbled. “No man is that confident.”

I turned on my side to spoon her.

“Don’t you care if they touch me?” she asked.

“You’re encouraging them. They’re not doing it to you.”

“So?”

“So I’m not your father or a cop. You’re a grown woman. If you want to let guys touch you, that’s your choice. That’s your right.”

“But other men are touching me. Doesn’t that make you mad?”

I wondered if I should let her know I was in on her game.

“No,” I said. “I don’t get mad.”

“Why? I’d be pissed as fuck some girls touched you like that.”

I hugged her from behind.

“Because I know it’s not genuine. Remember that black guy in the grocery store? I secretly watched you with him. You weren’t attracted despite his hot body. I know the game you’re playing; you’re trying to make me jealous. None of this is real.”

She rolled over to face me, annoyed and amused at the same time.

“You’re a dick,” she said. “You watched me in the store? How embarrassing. I thought I was so sly.” She pinched my nipple. “But what if it was real? What then? Would you be jealous then?”

“Why do you need to win so badly? Why is it so important?”

“It’s like losing me would be no big deal to you. What girl wants to feel that? I want to know you’d suffer. I want to know you’d pine for me daily. I want to know your life would be ruined and you’d wander the city streets wailing in agony. You should cut off an ear.”

“What an interesting definition of love,” I droned.

She yanked my chest hair.

“I’m going to get to you,” she insisted. “Every man has a breaking point. I want to see it. I’m going to find yours.”

“Do your worst,” I replied. “You might be right, but I doubt it. I’m not the jealous type, never have been. I like when you act all sexy. I’m not worried.”

She pouted.

I pulled her in for a kiss. “You should go back to sleep,” I said. “Your alarm goes off in a few hours.”

She pushed my head towards her pussy.

“I’m restless,” she whined. “Help me. Make me cum so I can go to sleep.”

I was happy to help.

I've dated a lot of different women but Reba is by far the most sexual. When we first met, I worried about keeping up with her drive. We hit a reasonable balance but I often sense she reigns herself in for my benefit. I know I satisfy her when we have sex but I suspect she wishes we had a lot more.

Me and my tongue brought her to a towering climax minutes later and she rolled over to sleep; her way of punishing me for thwarting her. I let it go.

Chapter 4

After many weeks of our old routine; little sleep and no sex, I landed my first gig at The Dock. The promoters had refurbished a warehouse on the Hudson near pier forty-five. The crowd was a little younger and a little richer than what I was used to, which also meant they brought a sense of entitlement to the party, but they paid a lot better and I was pleased to discover they tipped generously. Both sexes dressed well, but the girls were especially sexy, unashamedly displaying miles of smooth, taut skin. Short skirts and low tops, booty shorts and halters. Everywhere I looked, hot, young, female flesh danced and partied.

Reba came with me to dance, arriving about two hours later and ignoring me completely, as per our routine.

Tonight the go-go dancers would be inside cages which sat inside large shipping crates. They wore makeup to look like wild animals and the artist the promoter hired did a fantastic job. I didn't recognize Reba, a black panther, dancing in the cage near me for almost twenty minutes, and when I did I realized she was watching me watch a hot, tight, nearly naked blonde teen gyrate in front of my booth. Oops. Reba was not amused. I saw how annoyed she was even through the panther makeup. I put my head down and got back to work.

When I looked up again, the dancers had rotated cages and Reba was now across the warehouse and under a deep red spotlight. Lights flashed and smoke poured but her body looked amazing even at this distance.

She had a small crowd of male fans urging her on and she was giving them a show. When one of the young gents reached through the bars to grab her firm ass, she let him. Encouraged, others reached through. Ass-grab guy moved his hand higher and cupped her full tit and only then did I realize she wore no bikini top; her panther body paint was the only thing covering her breasts. Ass-grab was feeling bare Reba against his palm. My wife gasped from the electric shock of a stranger's hand and closed her eyes. Other hands traveled her legs and stomach and a new hand squeezed her ass. It looked like she battled an octopus.

Ass-grab did what any guy would and moved to her other breast, dragging a palm across her sensitive nipples. Reba stared at the ceiling far overhead. Her mouth dropped open. I couldn't hear over the music but I was sure she moaned. I heard the familiar sound in my head.

Only so many guys could reach through the bars at one time but now everyone that could, did. Reba had hands crawling all over and she reveled in the erotic sensation. Her eyes snapped into focus and she looked directly at me, smirking. She pulled her body tightly against the bars and I saw the guys go wild. A mouth closed on a painted nipple. My view was often blocked by their bodies but I believe I saw a hand shift to her pussy. Her eyes widened. Had a finger snaked under her thong to find her steaming cunt?

I almost missed the cue to launch the next song. I scrabbled and barely caught the beat. I hit the crowd with a barrage of flashing lights and poured an ocean of fog on them from above. The dance floor disappeared. Obscured bodies writhed in the mist.

The dancers switched stages again, bringing her close. Reba and I saw each other plainly over the sea of vapor. One of the guys offered her a pill but she shook her head. Reba and I don't do drugs. No judgement for those that do but I need to stay sharp and she considers her body sacred. After seeing her, most guys consider her body scared too.

I killed most of the bright lights, shifting to banks of glowing orange and red and green. Deep shadows fell across my wife, plunging her into a pool of dim emerald. Effectively hidden, the guys fell on her; mouths closed on nipples, hands slipped passed G-string. She gasped, her face shocked pleasure. Her grip on the bars faltered until she gathered herself and accepted their onslaught.

Unbelievably, her eyes told me she was headed for an orgasm. She barely maintained control. I dimmed the lights further and her eyes fluttered. She moved one hand to hold the head of a man feasting on her tit. She barely held herself standing. Eyes locked to mine, her body trembled.

My wife came.

She looked stunning, breathtaking, spectacular. I watched her pass through the stages; peak, plateau, spike, descent. My mouth was dry. I'd never seen her so sexy. Her head drifted back and she needed both hands on the bars again.

Eventually she came back to herself and remembered where she was and what she was doing. She backed away from the cage and her adoring fans and returned to dancing amidst the raucous cheers of her young admirers. I noticed her legs looked weak, her movements slowed.

The remainder of the night was Reba and I watching each other intensely. Once the party started to wrap up they paid the girls and sent them on their way. I'm always last to leave so I wasn't home for another two hours but when I walked in the door at our flat, Reba was on me.

She'd showered and her black panther makeup was gone and she smelled clean and fresh. She pinned me to the wall as I stepped into the room and kissed me. Her hand dropped to my zipper and she freed me before sinking to her knees to suck me to the back of her throat.

We fucked for hours. I delayed my climax to the end, driving her crazy with my tongue and hard penis. Hot.

I thought she'd want to talk about our night; what she'd done with her adoring fans or at least my eyeballing of hot young girls, but she let it go. Maybe she felt she'd crossed a line too so we were even. Let sleeping dogs lie. She had to know I intentionally lowered the lights to help hide her. I contributed to those guys enjoying her body. If that had been another attempt to make me jealous, she had to realize it failed spectacularly. I wondered if she'd try to escalate things next time or if she accepted I just wasn't wired like other men and let it go.

Chapter 5

On Tuesday, I got a call from Trevor Gains, one of the biggest promoters in the business. He'd attended my show at The Dock and wanted to meet me for lunch. My hands were shaking by the time we ended the call. I texted Reba to let her know and she sent back she was headed to the kick-boxing gym to check it out. I told her to enjoy herself.

I met all six-feet seven-inches of Trevor at Mulberry and Vine. He wore his sandy blonde hair messy but his suits crisp. Deep green eyes met mine as he told me his plan to finance a tour of twenty-seven cities in ninety days.

"I'll need a handful of committed DJs and I want only the best. Your show on Saturday rocked the wharf. You blew that place up."

"Thanks."

"Are you interested? I notice you're wearing a wedding band. Is your wife cool with this lifestyle? She can travel with you, I'll cover her cost, but I want her to stay away from the club while you're performing."

"That's standard and yes, she's fine with this life, but no, she won't be coming with me."

"That's great. I have a ton more interviews but I'd say you're a front-runner. Also, if you know any reliable, no-drama dancers, have them call me. I'll need a busload to learn the routines and travel with us."

We chatted a bit more and then he went off to his next meeting. I stayed behind, nursing my coffee. This could be it. This could be my big break. If Trevor selected all the top names and I got included, my reputation would be made. I couldn't wait to tell Reba. I texted and told her the news, asking when she'd be home.

When Luca is finished with me, she replied.

I barely read her message, so focused on my meeting with Trevor. I finished my coffee and headed for home. Adrenaline flowed through my veins. I made myself remain calm; this business is full of bullshit artists and disappointments. I made a mental note to search online when I got home to see if the tour was legit.

It was.

Now I was excited and couldn't hold back. I paced our flat, calling my buddies in the business to see what they knew. Trevor was the real-deal, a business man all the way. If he picked me, he put me on the path to recognition.

Reba got home a little over an hour later, sweaty and tired. I hardly asked about the gym, running her over with details of my meeting with Trevor.

“He needs dancers, too. Here’s his number.”

“Ninety days is a long time away from work.”

“Call him. Maybe you can do the shows near home or come and go as your work schedule allows. My friends say he pays well.”

She took his number but seemed disappointed. I scrambled to figure out why and realized I’d blown right by her.

“How was the gym?” I asked.

She perked up. “Luca’s amazing. He’s super knowledgeable and patient and my God, the body on that man. He has a hands-on teaching style which I love. I signed up for twelve-months at a ridiculous rate. I think he just wants hot women in his gym to bring in the guys.”

“Us guys are so easily led,” I said, still chewing on her ‘hands-on’ comment. Her voice when she said it had a certain tension, a kind of stress, which I didn’t recognize. I thought about asking but then suspected she’d think I was jealous and she’d won so I said nothing.

“You really are. Dangle sex and you all become zombies.”

Reba showered to get ready for work and I wracked my brain trying to think of ways to influence Trevor without getting caught.

Chapter 6

Reba talked to the coffee shop owner. They looked at accrued vacation time, shift needs, and schedule flexibility. She called Trevor and they worked out the details. In the end, she’d hit twenty-five of the twenty-seven cities with me. Her pace would be grueling for three months but the money was great.

“I’ll sleep for three days at the end of it all,” she said.

I had to wait an additional four days to find out I’d been hired. Reba and I celebrated with a bottle of Champagne.

“Now the work truly begins,” I said, raising my glass.

We had four weeks before the first show on Governor’s Island, New York. How he got the permits, I’ll never know. Trevor had to be well-connected. Reba hit the gym harder than ever and I buried myself in the latest music and effects, designing a show and compiling a playlist to shatter young minds. I worked eighteen-hour days.

One evening I got home from the nearby studio I rented and found Reba and Luca doing yoga on our floor. He wore only a white T-back thong, European swimsuit, he'd called it, and she wore her tiniest black bikini. She introduced me properly, stating she had only a small window today before work so Luca agreed to meet her at home. I said no problem and opened my laptop. I sat where I could watch them from the corner of my eye.

I felt this had to be one of her attempts to rile me and I wasn't having it. I put on headphones and pretended to lose myself in work, all while watching them pull and stretch each other. I know it's cliché to say the black guy had a massive bulge, no doubt containing a huge black python, but this guy truly did. I have no idea if that swollen knot was all dick but if it was, damn.

They had zero personal space. Luca pressed his body to hers without hesitation or shame. They worked together to stretch her muscles to new lengths, ripping moans and groans from her that sounded, to me, somewhat sexual. He rubbed that enormous pouch all over her back, legs, stomach, ass, tits, and hair. Twice he had the thing hanging inches in front of her face. I caught her staring right at it. The white fabric was tight enough to show the outline of his cock and made it obvious he was circumcised.

She willingly welcomed his attention. She obeyed every instruction without hesitation. Her absurdly small bikini covered little and many times her petite nipples slipped free. She casually covered them without a glance at me. Shameless.

They began to sweat from their exertions and their bodies slid easily against each other. I felt a strange arousal watching his dark skin glide against her light olive skin. They made a sexy couple.

No way could a straight man workout with Reba and not react. Luca did. His bulge grew, pulling fabric away from his legs and exposing streaks of dark, hairless scrotum. Reba pretended not to notice. I bet she was soaked. We all feigned disinterest and went about our tasks.

They finished before me and Luca pulled on a sweat suit and said goodbye. Reba headed for the shower. I waited until I heard water running and crept to peek in and for the second time saw my gorgeous wife masturbating. She leaned against the tile wall and vigorously finger-fucked her hole.

She emerged from the bathroom fresh and pretty and kissed me before leaving for work.

I tried to continue but a strange buzz bounced around inside my head. Images of her and Luca rolling around on our floor floated through my mind. His cock had touched her everywhere. I saw again that confined beast an inch from her mouth. Why wasn't I jealous? Reba might have a point. Was there something wrong with me?

I gave her long enough to get to work and then stepped out of my clothing. I sat on the floor where they'd just been and began stroking my dick. Reba looked sexy but she looked far sexier all sweaty and rubbing against an exceptional male body. I closed my eyes and stroked faster. I saw her, clearly enthralled by his masculine presence, mesmerized by his hanging slab of beef.

I came way too fast.

After I cleaned up and got back to work, an idea flashed in my mind. I grabbed my phone and dialed. Trevor answered.

"I have a great idea," I said. "Put hot guy dancers next to the girl dancers. Hire both sexes. Tell them to interact with each other suggestively. The effect will be dramatic. You'll need to work out waivers and liability, but if you can in time, your shows just got headline-sexy."

"I love it," he said. "Let me make some calls."

I hung up and stared at my phone. I would beat Reba at her own game, plus it further reinforced with Trevor that Reba wasn't my wife because what husband would make such an arrangement?

The next day Reba came home and took the chair across from me.

"Did you suggest to Trevor he hire hot male dancers too?"

"Yes."

"Why? Why would you put a gorgeous man next to me?"

"When I saw you with Luca I got the idea. Fit bodies are sexy. I think the crowd will love it."

"Yeah, the crowd will, but what about your wife? What will she think? You didn't even ask me first. Did you know we'll be sharing a dressing rooms with these guys?"

“No.”

“Yup. Some of the female dancers are furious. Now they must lie to their husbands and boyfriends. Trevor pays too well to walk away. Smooth move, Sport. Thank God no one knows I’m married to you.”

Oops. “Yeah, I’m sorry, Baby. I got carried away. That was stupid. I wanted to show Trevor my worth.”

She remained annoyed.

A few days later Luca was at our flat again. I watched the yoga routine from our kitchen table while pretending to work. Reba looked sexy as fuck.

Perhaps it was residual resentment over my male-dancer faux pas, but Reba seemed especially into Luca today. Zero personal space became constant touching. Her grapefruit tits rubbed all over his body, including dangling centimeters above his mouth. The stiff bumps of her covered nipples brushed his full lips. His bulge looked absurdly large. Veiny ridges poked through the thin swimsuit material. I pretended to miss it all and Reba was too engaged with Luca to notice me.

For one pose he pulled her legs over her torso and leaned his weight to stretch her hamstrings. His package slowly descended towards her face. She gazed right at it. I held my breath.

I have no idea what I was expecting. I wasn’t thinking that far ahead. I was reacting to the visually erotic display before me and that was all. Two hot bodies. She never looked my way, even when his nylon-wrapped bulge landed between her tits. As before, they finished and he left. My wife jumped in the shower and got ready for work.

Reba wanted to look her best for this tour so she worked her body hard. On the days she couldn’t make the gym, she practiced yoga inside or went for a run. She tightened up abs that I thought already looked phenomenal and gave her firm ass a little lift. I know she felt good about her results because, never conservative in the first place, she began walking around the flat in panties and loose tops. Sometimes no tops at all. Her tits looked better than ever. All that exposed skin made our sex-drives jump up a level, but with all the planning and training and working, we had even less time to fuck.

Chapter 7

At last the big day arrived. I drove the van to Governor's Island and Reba took an Uber. The show was inside the round at Castle Williams and the décor was impressive. Massive functioning robots towered over the courtyard. Lights and streamers enclosed the parapet. Once night fell and the crowd arrived, this place would explode with energy.

The circular wall inside had stages evenly stationed all the way around. A metal catwalk connected them so the dancers could move from stage to stage.

I was shown to a dressing room inside the castle itself and began unpacking. I always spread my gear and go through my mental checklist and I started that now.

Hours later I heard familiar voices laughing and talking outside my door so I poked my head out and there was Reba hanging with two girls. One I recognized; Bentley, cute, with long blonde hair and a great ass and small tits. The other girl, a petite Asian with straight black hair down to her calves, I'd never seen before. All three wore incredibly revealing costumes styled from Japanese anime. Thin bands ran down their bodies covering nipples and another between their legs to hide their vulva. Reba had obviously waxed everything. I glanced before I could stop myself. I wasn't supposed to know her that well so I was acting like a total perv.

"Can I help you?" she asked, irritated. Her friends looked bugged too.

"No, sorry. Thought I heard someone I knew."

Their costumes were amazing. They looked like warrior princesses. A combination of body paint and fabric, their bodies were almost completely exposed with strategically placed material to keep them legal. Down the hall came three male dancers and their costumes were just as scandalous. The main piece was a belt around the waist which held a flap of stiff, ornately etched leather front and back. I presumed they wore a jock under but in the bright lights of the hallway I noticed that assumption was false. The hint of movement told me penises flopped and bounced. They wore elaborate decoration on their wrists and ankles, supposedly some kind of armor.

“Hey, Nate,” Reba said to one of the guys.

“What’s up, ReRe?” he answered. “I had no idea you landed this gig. Nice to see a familiar face.”

Nate made introductions all the way around and I took that as my cue to back away. I returned to my dressing room and closed the door.

ReRe?

I had to do a stellar job tonight and needed to get my head right.

Thirty minutes later, Trevor made the rounds, pumping everybody up and talking excitedly about the show. His mood was infectious and I was ready to rock, although first I had to wait for a competitor, Tiesta, to finish his set. Tiesta was older, close to fifty, I think, but still cut. He had a receding hairline to go with his short, dark hair but he was so well-built you never noticed. I’d been battling him for gigs for years. He often acts like he hates me but he hardly knows me so I think he just sees me as the up-and-coming competition. Reba has stated the man is strikingly handsome but I can’t see it so I’ll take her word. Judging by the reaction he gets from other women, she’s probably right.

After Trevor left, I changed into my special silver club shirt and black jeans. I donned my headphones and ran through my set list one last time. When I closed my eyes, I saw Reba in that ridiculously skimpy outfit.

My phone buzzed and the green light flashed and I was on.

Chapter 8

The DJs had their own walkway so I could get to my rig with no one seeing. When Tiesta finished, I hit my buttons and flipped my switches and the air exploded with sound and light. I saw the throng illuminated and my mouth dropped open. This was the largest mob I’d ever had. A sea of bodies confronted me, energized by my blast of music. I moved rapidly through my effects until I had them screaming with joy. I was in my element, and I was good.

I was four tunes in before I looked for Reba. She danced above a giant robot with some crewcut guy I’d never seen. They were lit with overhead spots so his lack of underwear was no problem. I watched her gyrate for a minute before returning my attention to my set up.

A bright blue light flashed above the stages, cueing the dancers it was time to change positions. Reba now danced with an Asian man so cut, I saw every muscle even from this distance. He tried flirting with my wife and she playfully but not seriously flirted back. I checked my feed and watched them again. He'd moved closer and now they danced sexy with each other. He loomed over her and she played along, bringing her face an inch from his. He moved close enough his chest mashed her exposed tits. Her expression changed to surprise, with a glance around to see if anyone cared, and then leaned into him, flattening her firm tits and pressing her stomach against his. He held himself there, enjoying the sensation of her body.

That was when I noticed her far hand, the hand shielded by her body, was now under his leather flap and playing with his bare cock.

The air in my lungs left in a rush. I automatically checked my feed and then my eyes hooked on Reba again. Her elbow moved rhythmically and I knew she was jacking him. Their bodies screened the action from those below but his face told me everything. He leaned in to kiss her and the horde around them cheered. Reba laughed with joy.

She continued only a minute or two, worried she'd get caught, and then stepped in front of him and bent at the waist, sticking her incredible ass back at him. He took her hips and the crowd cheered again. Her tits swung in tight circles, the straps fallen away and nipples exposed. He reached under to cup a breast and those close enough to see went wild. I waited for the jealousy which never came.

They continued like this until it was time to change positions again. Reba found herself paired with a short black guy who was far more interested in guys than girls so they just danced and had fun. I focused on doing my job well.

Next she moved to dance with Nate, who kept things completely professional, and then she landed with a tall, black-haired demi-god sculpted from white marble. The dude was amazing. Broad, muscular shoulders and pectorals as big as Frisbees. His biceps looked as big as cantaloupes. Usually muscular guys can't dance but this man was smooth. Reba responded instantly, flirting and laughing and dancing close. When he circled her waist with an arm and pulled her close, she melted and let him do whatever he wished. He slowly drew her closer, as if to kiss, and the multitude went nuts. The women were especially drawn to the pair and screamed and hollered, telling Reba to kiss him or grab his ass.

He moved his legs to shield the gathering and Reba understood. Once again her hand slipped down and her elbow pumped. She jacked her second cock of the night. He continued to pull her close and the mass of people screamed encouragement. The chemistry was real. We all saw the connection. Reba closed the last inch by kissing him first, caught up and carried away in the moment. The gathering erupted in madness and I blasted a few sound effects to highlight the moment. Waves of scintillating pleasure raced through the assembled throng.

The lovers threw arms around each other and the kiss became passionate. I pulsed the lights and hit the couple with three red spots, dropping the bassline into a throbbing, earthshaking beat. Now everyone saw and ten thousand throats yowled in approval. Encouraged, Reba and her new man let their passion soar.

I willfully highlighted my beloved kissing another. I displayed her salacious and unfaithful behavior to the gathered masses...and I liked it. Every eye in the place was on them. He crushed her in his arms and they kissed like Valentine's Day sweethearts, hot lips pressed together until both started laughing with joy. I killed the red spots and dazzled them with a sexy blue. Reba finally looked my way, only slightly ashamed. I was too far away and she had too many lights in her eyes to see me clearly, so she returned to dancing, ignoring me for now. The demi-god moved behind her, following her lead on their sexy moves. After a minute, her left hand slipped behind her. I knew she held his bare cock again.

My wife held another man's cock in her left hand. That meant her wedding and engagement rings were pressed against foreign cock skin.

Again, where was my jealousy?

I slowed the tempo and checked the set. Time for another rotation. Reba and her new friend went in different directions and my wife landed on a stage close to me, dancing with a lean hippie type, long blonde beaded hair swinging. They were instant friends, laughing and smiling and grooving on the vibe I laid down. They shared zero sexual tension but I felt sure she'd just made a new buddy. I doubted he was gay. Maybe he was married and loyal?

I checked the positions and realized Reba had run the circuit and would soon rejoin Crewcut. I pumped the volume and dropped into my zone.

Time flew.

Reba was more behaved when Asian guy came around and rotated through Short-black and Nate uneventfully. This time when she paired with Demi-god, she was only one stage away. I queued up a sensuous slow backbeat and sampled women's moans in the background and looped it. The crowd ate it up. I saw couples making out in front of me. That slower tempo allowed me to dim the lights and slow things down. I knew I was setting the mood for my woman and her new man but the whole thing sounded so wicked and sexy and the crowd loved it. Reba and her new man couldn't actually fuck on stage. I wasn't ruining my marriage. But I was forcing Reba into exciting situations and then voyeuristically and vicariously enjoying them. I was a master manipulator and it felt good.

I back-lit them and killed the spots, which gave them more privacy than I intended. I let it play and slowly brought up the back-light a little. They moved together, Reba in front, mutual hips rolling and thrusting in a sensual standing fuck-from-behind motion. People stopped to watch. Random people began pawing at each other lustfully. Reba and her man looked sexy as fuck. I let them move and slowly began to bring the tempo up.

Movement on the catwalk caught my eye and I noticed Trevor, across the courtyard, watching my sensuous wife. Uh-oh. Boss is on to us, time to get back on track. I smoothly engaged the crowd; pumping volume and beat, until the seething mass of humanity was once more screaming with abandon. Masterful, if I do say so. From there I began a climb until I had them wheeling.

Eventually, my set ended and I handed the reins to Dipla, a solidly built guy coming up on forty, like me, also from the States, with short blonde hair and blue eyes. I climbed the catwalk and headed for my dressing room.

I was shaking. I thought my set had rocked but what Trevor thought mattered more and I was dying to hear his view. We had twenty-six cities to go.

Chapter 9

Trevor loved my work. Loved it.

I didn't see him until later that night after the crew started breaking down the stage. He found me in my dressing room, already mixing for the next show. He grabbed me in a bearhug, laughing.

"Lord in Heaven," he roared. "You're a motherfucking artist! The way you mixed to match those dancers had everyone on edge. The air was electrified. I've never seen anything like it. Do that every night, my friend. Twitter has lit up."

He told me about an afterparty for the crew, including DJs and dancers, held at the Two-Oh-Five Club. I said I'd be there.

"Make sure some of the dancers come too, if you can, especially that one you recommended. Find out if she's single or married and if she's married, how seriously does she take her vows. She's hot like fire. Damn."

"I'll do my best."

He high-fived me before leaving. I texted Reba, asking where she was.

Hanging out with Tanner, she replied.

I didn't know a Tanner so I skipped over him and told her about Trevor's request, reminding her how important it was to keep this man happy and asking if she'd please play along. She said she'd be there and she'd come alone so my boss could flirt with her, and promised to flirt back.

But you owe me one, she added.

I thanked her sincerely and agreed.

I took the ferry and dropped the gear at home and then caught an Uber to the Two-Oh-Five. The driver dropped me at the corner of Chrystie and Stanton and the enormously obese bouncer checked my ID.

I made a funny face. "Seriously?" I asked. "I'm thirty-nine."

He shrugged. "I flat check them all, Bra."

Inside the place was cozy like a cave; dark, with a low ceiling. Tiesta was already there and surrounded by hot young girls. Yeah, the bouncer checks every ID. You bet. I aimed for a table with some guys I knew but Trevor intercepted me, slipping his arm around my shoulders.

“No, no,” he said, loudly. “My rising star sits with me.”

He shoved me towards his booth.

I noticed Tiesta’s head jerk up at Trevor’s comment. He’s not fond of me; strong dislike but shy of hate, so Trevor’s attention rubbed him the wrong way. He’s done things over the years to make me stumble or show me up, but I’ve just glossed it over. I have no time for petty bullshit. I threaten him so he acts out but that doesn’t mean I need to as well.

I plopped down between two women wearing heavy makeup and low-cut plastic clothing. Seated on either side of them was an older white man wearing a full-length mink coat, who I later learned was named Andy, and a black guy wearing crystal earrings and necklaces, whose name I never learned. Trevor ordered another round of drinks but I asked for water. One of the plastic girls told me my set was sick and I thanked her.

Conversation zipped around the table with lightning speed. They might look weird, but Trevor’s associates had brains. They knew music theory and music history.

I was engrossed in a conversation about Deadmaus when Trevor spoke softly and caught my ear.

“Here she is,” he hummed. “My Goddess of Fuck. My Angel of Sex. Did you see what you did to those poor mortal souls?”

I looked up and saw Reba weaving between tables with Bentley and the long-haired Asian girl from earlier. They’d changed clothes and cleaned up but their outfits still showed lots of skin. Reba and Bentley wore different sixties-style sundresses, unbuttoned lower than their tits. Asian girl wore a red silk Geisha kimono, designed to button under the armpit all the way to the ankle, but she had buttoned only the first four, roughly to her elbow. The slit swung as she walked flashing pale flesh from ribs to feet.

“Grab that seat, Obi,” Reba said.

The Asian girl flipped a chair from a nearby table and dropped into it.

Trevor muttered something to one of the plastic girls and she left her seat to make room for Reba. Trevor waved her over. My wife completely ignored me as she slid in next to him.

I returned to the Deadmaus conversation, trying hard to avoid stealing glances at Reba. She looked radiant. The dancing got her high but the praise she'd heard from everyone did more to make her heart race.

I must admit she impressed me. Reba was the perfect, gracious guest. Trevor fawned over her and she ate it up and dished it right back. They touched constantly, deep in lively conversation which excluded the rest of us. He made her laugh often. She flirted coyly. Within an hour she'd hooked him. He was smitten with this exotic, green-eyed beauty.

The rest of us let them be. I did my best to appear disinterested. Several times Trevor made a comment about my talents and the conversation swung my direction, but soon everyone returned to their own business.

Time passed.

Guest started to depart until only a small group of us remained. My ears perked up when Trevor invited Reba back to his hotel room. She handled it gracefully.

"I'm here with friends," she said, waving a hand at Obi and Bentley.

Trevor shrugged. "Bring them too. Mike, Andy; you come too."

This time Reba shrugged. "All right."

Trevor paid the bill and we piled into cabs. We pulled up to the curb outside Andaz Wall Street and shot to the top floor on the express elevator. Where did this guy get all this money? He opened the door and grand stairs led down to his suite. The room was loft-style; wide open main room with bed and bath attached. Art deco furniture filled the place.

We gathered in a small sitting area to talk but soon Obi and Andy complained of fatigue and excused themselves, sharing a cab back to their hotels. Bentley wandered out onto the balcony so I followed and we chatted about living in New York. After a while I put my back to the railing to casually check on the main room and discovered Reba and Trevor were gone.

I tried to maintain my cool but it was difficult. I kept waiting for them to reappear. When they did not I suggested to Bentley we move inside. She declined.

"It's so nice out here."

I waited an acceptable period and then spoke.

"Bathroom break," I murmured.

"Go ahead," she said. "I'm loving this fresh air and amazing view."

I set my water on the coffee table and crept towards the back rooms. I passed the darkened master bedroom first and glanced inside.

The far wall, all glass floor to ceiling, ran the length of the room. Trevor stood with his drink in one hand while the other trailed a delicate touch between my wife's breasts and down her stomach. Her nipples were straining, so stiff they seemed to ache. His six-foot-seven frame towered over her.

Reba stood close, wholly nude, head turned to gaze out over the spectacular city lights far below. Her sundress lay in a circle around her feet. One hand held a tumbler to her lips, the other casually hooked fingers in his pants pocket. Her eyes were slits, her face an expression of physical desire. His touch seemed to electrify and satisfy simultaneously. I quickly hid behind the door jamb. Neither noticed me at all.

The blue-white glow of New York highlighted her tight skin, casting deep shadows under her arm and across her rounded ass. The toned strength in her arms and legs was obvious. Her firm butt was designed to catch the wandering eyes of men. Her gorgeous face and small upturned nose seemed a constant flirt. The woman oozed sex, and, fully aware how much she loved it, I knew that impression was real.

He trailed his hand lower and circled her bellybutton to head back up. Reba gently caught his wrist and stopped him. She opened her eyes slightly, a question there, and Trevor continued his journey down. Reba gasped and lifted her chin slightly when he found her opening.

I fixed this moment in my mind. Reba never looked so sexy. She was fucking dazzling.

I knew that was not the reaction I was supposed to have but it's the truth. Her exotic green eyes danced. Her light olive skin glowed. Her chest rose and fell with her excited breath. Trevor teased and Reba moaned softly. She subtly lifted her breasts in invitation but Trevor resisted, staring intently, like he, too, wanted to remember this moment forever.

Where was my jealousy?

I watched as long as I dared. Bentley catching me would be awkward but one of them catching me would be tasteless. I entered the bathroom and carefully closed the door. I opened my pants and gazed at my slightly engorged penis. How was this possible? I played with it, lightly stroking as I pictured Reba less than thirty feet away and felt an intense tingling running all the way down to my ball sack. I waited an acceptable amount of time and put everything away, flushed, washed my hands, and exited.

Reba and Trevor were once more in the main room, Reba's cheeks rosy. Bentley remained on the balcony. I returned to my earlier seat and lifted my water bottle to my lips. They had to suspect I saw something on my way to the restroom.

What the fuck does one say in such a moment?

I asked Trevor where he got the idea for the tour.

Life moved on. Reba relaxed. Trevor relaxed. I relaxed. We all played it cool and just continued our mundane conversation. Every time I glanced at Reba, I saw her nude form framed by city lights.

Bentley saved the day. She rejoined us and complained of exhaustion. Reba suggested it was time to go and Trevor invited her to spend the night.

She paused and my breath caught in my throat. Was she seriously considering?

"Tempting," she said, with a smile. "But I have calls to make before bed. Oh, and there's this." She held up her ring finger showing off the engagement and wedding bands fused together.

Trevor laughed. "Don't blame me for trying," he chuckled. "You're a singularly stunning woman, Reba."

"I guess I'll go too," I added. "Thanks for the company."

I joined the women and we all hugged Trevor goodbye at the door. Down on the street Bentley took one cab and Reba and I shared another. We were quiet until the door closed and the driver stepped on the gas.

Chapter 10

"What did you see?" she asked, turning to face me.

"My gorgeous wife, nude, offering herself."

She covered her mouth with both hands. "I'm sorry."

I looked out the windshield. "What happened?"

"He wanted me to see the master suite and opened the drapes to show me the city. The view was stunning. He stood close and I felt his body heat and then my Goddamn hand tugged my shoulder straps and I was naked."

I laughed. "You missed some details in there."

"But that's what happened," she pleaded. "Oh, and I heard your voice telling me to do whatever I could to keep this man happy. I thought seeing me naked would make him happy."

We rode in silence for a time.

"Are you jealous?" she mumbled.

I took her hand, knowing this was not the answer she wanted. "No."

She snatched her hand back. "Goddamn it, Mike. How can you not be?"

"I don't know, Baby. I grew suspicious out on the balcony and made up the bathroom excuse. I saw you standing there with him, nude, and I expected anger at any moment, but instead I thought you were more beautiful than I'd ever seen."

"What?"

"It's true. You looked fucking radiant."

"You are not my pimp, Mike. Do not use me to get this breakthrough."

The driver glanced in the rearview mirror.

"I'm not," I said. "I swear. I don't understand myself. I've been thinking about it since I saw you with him."

She studied my face.

"I also saw you with the other dancers," I said. "At the show. I saw you kissing. I saw your arm moving. Were you jacking them off?"

She let loose an exasperated sigh. "And yet you did nothing. Worse, since I know it was you controlling the lights, you drove me closer to them. You gave them the darkness they needed to take things a step farther. Anything for the show, right?"

I changed direction. "Did you strip for Trevor because you're angry with me?"

She looked at her feet. "Maybe. Possibly."

More silence.

"Do you hate me?" she asked.

I took her hands again. "I'm hotter for you than I can ever remember."

The driver checked the rearview again. What must he be thinking?

She shook her head. "You're a strange and complicated man."

We kissed.

"Like I said: I don't understand it myself," I admitted.

We paid the driver and rode the elevator to our flat. We undressed quietly, speaking little. I watched Reba strip from the corner of my eye and when her sundress hit the floor, my penis began to rise. She noticed and faced me squarely. A sly grin stretched her lips.

"Now that I do understand," she said.

She came around the bed and assumed the same pose she'd had with Trevor; one hand to her lips, the other on my hip. I knew the act was intentional and my dick surged harder. She felt it. I stared at her spectacular body just as he had, seeing her through his eyes. My diamond dick thumped with my heartbeat.

"I think I'm beginning to figure you out," she said.

She knelt and guided my penis along her hot, wet tongue and I groaned. Her mouth never felt better. She sucked and licked like I was made of ice cream until my penis pulsed in her hands. I was incredibly hard. I watched her work, remembering the dancers, remembering Trevor. I quickly felt my load stir.

"Should I fuck him?" she muttered, swirling her tongue around my head.

I groaned deeply. That thought was pure insanity.

"Three months on the road is a long time," she continued. "We'll all be staying at the same hotels, working closely together. How will I resist his advances? He's a handsome, wealthy, good looking man. This wedding ring only carries so much force and thanks to you he knows I'm vulnerable. He watched me with those dancers. You do realize your actions emboldened him?"

She sucked hard and I felt my sperm rise a little more.

"Should I fuck him?" she repeated. "You told me to keep him happy. He'd be overjoyed. You saw the way he looked at me. There's only one reason a man looks at a woman like that."

I couldn't concentrate. The idea was madness. I know Reba was just fucking with me. No way could I allow such a monumental event to occur. Right?

"You never asked who Tanner was," she went on, sucking between words.

The name drifted through my jumbled mind. I knew I'd heard it earlier.

"He's that Greek God who puts the others to shame. All the girls want him, even one of the lesbians."

She deep-throated me briefly before continuing.

"You asked me if I jacked them off. Yes, Baby, I did. I was crazy horny and that was all your fault. I jacked them but of course had to stop in front of the crowd. I played with each of them before I was forced to move on. But then I met Tanner after the show and did it for real. I took him into the tiny bathroom connected to our dressing room and pulled his dick from under his flap. He shot a fucking gallon of cum all over my hands, Baby. Some got on my wedding ring. That's why I was late to the club."

I groaned a third time and that made her moan with me. The thought was too much. I felt my cum rushing to escape. My penis convulsed and Reba buried the head in her mouth just in time. She sucked and stroked as I spewed. My knees buckled. My hips jerked. I came incredibly hard. Tanner? Trevor? What the hell was happening? Why was all this so exciting?

Where was my jealousy?

I woke in a few hours and fucked her while imagining Tanner's cock in her hand, pulling out and blasting all over her back.

We dozed and then I fucked her again.

Chapter 11

"Should I fuck him?" she'd asked.

I never answered. Days later I realized for that particular question especially, no answer is an answer. Reba, always a tease anyway, ran with a sense of new freedoms.

Our tour left New York for Philadelphia and then Chicago, Boston, Detroit, and Baltimore. At each show, Reba skirted the lines of legal. Most of the dancers came with us but some had to rotate out. Reba hit the newcomers like a hurricane. Dancers are a randy lot and all but one met her step for step, grinding as hard as she did. I saw her hand disappear into shadowed crotches again and again. My wife played with new cocks almost every day.

Trevor was far too busy to make an appearance. He was always one or two cities ahead of us, planning and arranging and working out nightmare logistics. Reba and I continued our sham flawlessly. We mostly communicated through text and slept in separate hotel rooms, sometimes even separate hotels.

Our tour caught fire on social media. Word spread that our show dripped overt sexuality and the cross-talk spread rapidly. After Philadelphia, every show was sold out.

Bentley and Obi left the show in Houston with the promise to return towards the end of our run.

Our San Antonio show was the biggest yet. Trevor invited another act out on tour, as well as several smaller local acts, and the event was more like a festival than a concert. The combined crowd was in the tens of thousands. We poured our hearts into this one and the masses responded. I saw Reba and Tanner making out on guy-wires high above a sea of stunned and upward gazing faces. Her costume hid almost nothing, same as his, and the crowd lost their collective mind. I hit my wife and her partner with spotlights and they looked even sexier.

After San Antonio, we had a five-days break in San Diego to rest and recover. Reba and I arranged to secretly meet in Balboa Park. I missed her terribly. I was at our designated spot in front of the botanical building, cheerfully awaiting my lovely wife, when I spotted Tanner, walking with a handful of other dancers.

This could be bad. I scanned for Reba.

Tanner and his boys sat on the stone-work railing and watched the world walk by. I searched desperately for Reba and then, too worried about exposure, mixed in with a group of passing tourists, leaving our meeting place and taking up position behind a stand of palm trees.

Reba appeared minutes later, looking around for me, and sat on the bench I'd recently vacated. One of the dancers noticed her moments later and informed Tanner who left his friends and went to sit with her. She looked pleased to see him. They spoke for a few minutes and Reba withdrew her phone and typed. My phone chimed and I read the message: Where are you? Tanner is here. I told him I was meeting a girlfriend who lives in San Diego. What do we do?

I chewed a fingernail. Too much was at stake.

Enjoy Tanner, I replied. We'll try again tomorrow.

She looked miffed but I couldn't tell if that's because of my message or if that's what her reaction would be if a girlfriend stood her up, and she was doing it for Tanner's benefit. She put her phone away and gave the man a huge smile. He pointed in the distance and they rose and left together.

I had work to do back at my hotel room and for a moment I considered doing it, but curiosity won. Where would they go? What would they do? I followed, keeping plenty of distance and people between us.

I've never seen a park with so many intimate and secluded hiding places. Dozens of flower gardens and memorial plaques lay scattered across the grounds. I lost them twice but luck was with me and I picked up their trail again.

Tanner seemed to know the park well. He led them down an obscure and unused path until they seated themselves under a canopy of dense trees, surrounded by strange, blood-red plants. I moved until I found a sheltered spot looking down on them between leaves and branches.

Tanner started to speak but apparently, Reba had enough. She took his chin and turned his face and kissed him like she was ready to explode. He returned her passion and I saw cheeks move as tongues played.

She'd worn another one of her sundresses and Tanner lifted a breast from behind a strap. Cool air hit her nipple and the little nub rose to a point. He lowered his hot mouth to envelope the tiny brown button and my wife groaned deeply. She squeezed the front of his shorts.

Despite her seeming eagerness, I saw the tension of resistance in her body. I know my wife well. This tour had been a terrible hardship; routinely sexually inflamed, but with no outlet for real intimacy.

Masturbation works at first but soon becomes a contributor to one's angst. I craved the real thing and I know she did too, probably far more than me.

She squeezed the front of his shorts again.

"Why does it have to be so gorgeous?" she asked. "I could say no if it wasn't so gorgeous."

Say what? My temporary confusion was immediately dispelled when she drew down his zipper and fished out his cock. She circled the base with her right hand and stacked the left on top. He still had several inches of soft meat waving in the air.

"Fucking beautiful," Reba murmured.

Was I about to witness another handjob? She played with him almost nightly and weeks ago had confessed to performing exactly that. Could I stand to watch her do it? I remembered her comment about how much sperm the man produced. She said she had jizz dripping from her hands, dripping from her wedding ring. Should I barge in and stop this? What reason could I give?

Still holding him at the base, her left hand began a smooth up and down. Tanner filled with blood, stiffening and gently curving back towards his stomach. She scooped his testicles outside his shorts and the leathery bag was large. She cupped and lifted, hefting the weight. My wife smiled.

"That's fucking manly," she said. "Big balls are masculine. You're a stud."

"You're too kind," he grinned.

"How many wives have you led astray, Tanner?"

He pretended to be hurt. "With any luck," he said. "You'll be my first."

She laughed. They kissed and her hand began moving faster.

When she broke the kiss, her face sank to his lap and his cock disappeared into her mouth.

My testicle exploded with heat. God! Did my eyes lie? Her pretty face rose and fell, her cheeks dented. She was famished, starving for intimacy, craving a man's touch.

He groaned deeply and my wife whimpered, seemly hungry for what he could feed her. Was she hot for sex or hot for Tanner?

She sucked like a slut; stroking with her hand as her mouth and tongue worked his prick. She blew him differently from how she blows me; more energetic and slutty. She desperately wanted to make him give up his load, pure and simple. She wanted to please him, pleasure him, savor the fat, hard cock in her mouth. She wanted to gobble his seed and get him in her belly.

She dropped to slather his big nuts and then returned to the head. He watched her work, fascinated, grunting and moaning occasionally. He'd continued to harden and now presented her a rosy and unyielding iron bar. She moaned louder and more often than him, losing herself in the act, relishing the gorgeous male phallus before her.

I was so busy being excited, I forgot to be jealous.

Reba looked so good with a new cock in her mouth. To me, he looked relatively big. Judging by Reba's reaction, I was sure she'd agree. I was shocked that size seemed important to her but in the moment, it only added to my arousal.

My pretty wife worshiped his cock until saliva dripped from his balls. She can deepthroat me with ease but when she tried to with him, she only made it halfway. She kept trying, failing each time, gagging and choking and trying again. After many attempts, I came to understand that there was a thrill for her was in the failing. It excited her that he was too much to handle. It excited her that she lost to his cock.

I found myself looking forward to my wife gulping his salty load. Far back in my mind I knew an intense conversation was coming. Reba and I would need to discuss this event at great length. But for now, in the moment, the air was on fire.

"Give me your panties," Tanner said.

My heart stopped.

"I can't, Babe," she whimpered.

"Give me that pussy."

"Tanner, I'm married."

"Too late. How many times have you had me in your mouth? Stop rationalizing. Give me your panties and straddle me facing away."

This was not their first blowjob? A rush of heat lit me on fire. I pictured Reba sucking his cock often; in their dressing room, behind the stage, after shows.

Her inner-battle ended quickly. My wife whimpered reluctantly, stood, and reached under her dress. Her hands and legs worked and down came her thin panties. She handed them to him and he nudged her hips to turn. She opened her legs, spread her feet and straddling his lap. His cock was a spike of meat pointed at the sky.

He placed his hands on her hips to guide her and she bent at the knees. Her dress fell around his lap but her gasp told me when his cock entered. My mind stumbled as if kicked by a horse. Sweet Jesus; Reba had a cock inside her.

I covered my mouth to prevent my moan. This was the hottest thing I'd ever experienced. She flexed her strong legs and gasped again and then began a small up and down.

"Just like that," he encouraged, gasping a little himself.

"I've wanted you for so long," she muttered.

They fell silent as they concentrated on the task. Reba leaned her back against his chest and ground her pussy on his stake. From a distance, she appeared to simply sit on his lap. If someone happened by, they'd be able to recover quickly. I rubbed the front of my pants listening to my wife fuck herself on his hard cock. He freed her other tit and cupped both, playing with her nipples and kissing and nibbling her neck. Reba closed her eyes

After several moments, she told him to cover her mouth.

"I'm going to cum already," she said. "Make sure I'm quiet."

He clamped a big paw, smothering her nose too, and thrust up into her. She gasped under his hand. She began working her pussy on his dick, slamming on each decent. She struggled to breathe. He held her fast and drove his spear deep, reaching undiscovered nerves. She went limp as he took over. His cock was a piston in her cunt.

That did it. Moments later she clawed at his wrist, fighting for air as an orgasm slammed her and sent her head spinning. He suffocated my wife and drove her climax into the stratosphere. She screamed into his palm, cumming hard, amplified by her lack of oxygen. He pounded her relentlessly until her stiff body completely relaxed. When he moved his hand, she gulped air and sobbed softly. She looked ready to cry. He'd wrecked her. Her entire body trembled.

That was harder than any orgasm I'd seen her have.

She pulled herself off his cock and I heard a slurp from beneath her dress. On her knees again, she tongued his dripping cock clean before trying again to deepthroat him and failing. She held his scrotum in one hand and slid the other up and down his pole while sucking and licking the head and crown. Her pussy had him close so he shot soon after, moaning and pumping a gallon of sperm into her mouth. She sucked and swallowed, careful to capture all of it. When she had him drained and deflated, she took a seat next to him on the bench.

I could not believe what I'd just seen.

Chapter 12

I slipped away and set a hard pace, burning off nervous energy. How had we arrived at this place? I could trace the steps backward but still; how? My hot wife had just fucked and sucked another man.

I zipped by the photography museum and the art institute until I found myself steamrolling across the Cabrillo Bridge. The view was amazing but all I saw was Tanner's big dick plunging into my wife. I had a weird tension in my penis and testicles.

I found a place to hide amongst some trees and pulled my dick out. Just a few strokes had me growing hard and before I knew what was coming, my dick was spitting hot cum on the leaves. My head spun.

Once I'd recovered I visited a nearby street vendor and purchased a large pretzel with mustard. I texted Reba: Perhaps I was too hasty? Is Tanner still around? Want to meet by the fountain?

Minutes later I received: He left right away. How close are you? See you in five?

I finished my pretzel and hurried to meet her. At the start of my walk I intended to tell her what I'd seen. I knew we needed to talk about what was happening. She seemed happy and in love with me but what happy woman cheats? I would talk to her about her feelings and our future.

Then I saw her standing at the fountain. The frothy spray of water shot a hundred feet into the air and framed her beautifully. She saw me and lit up like a Christmas tree; she was thrilled I was there. I saw the undying love in her eyes. She threw herself into my arms and we kissed like high school sweethearts. There was no dissatisfaction here. She was frustrated, not dissatisfied. She wasn't in love with Tanner. She told me over and over how happy she was to finally have time with me, how much she loved me, how happy I made her. There was no deception, no dishonesty. Reba was in love with me and fucked another man.

I was equally happy to see her. We'd not been a husband and wife for so long I'd missed how clenched my guts had become. I longed for her terribly and only our breakneck pace had kept me from feeling it earlier.

I said nothing about what I'd seen. My feelings were a jumbled mess and I wasn't ready to share them. We spent the day like lovers, feeding fish and wandering through museums. We stuck close, shoulders rubbing, hips bumping, until it was time to head back to the hotel.

"Before we go," she said. "Let me suck you off. I haven't had your dick in such a long time."

Your dick. Clever girl.

I showed my palms. "Where?" I gestured around at all the people.

"Let's find a spot," she said.

She took my hand and led me seemingly at random. Soon things looked familiar. We turned a corner and she led me down the path Tanner had led her.

"Where are we going?" I asked. "How do you know this place?"

"I don't. I'm just guessing. Relax and roll with it, Baby."

We descended some steps and she sat me in the exact spot Tanner had sat. She glanced around to make sure we were alone and then freed my penis and lowered her mouth. I got a special charge knowing what had just happened here. I wondered: did this balance things in her mind? I'd recently cum but that didn't matter. Sitting here was an erotic thrill like no other. I had no idea my wife can be such a bad girl. I was hard in an instant and helpless before her attack. She sucked and licked and stroked and talked dirty about how badly she needed to taste me, how she needed me in her belly to sleep soundly tonight. I blew like a volcano.

The moment I had my wits back I switched places and pushed her dress out of the way. Tanner had never returned her panties! I buried my face in her bare pussy, noting how pink and puffy that large cock had left her. She was nervous for me to see but I pretended to be oblivious and she relaxed. She tasted different but still delicious, and I chalked it up to his penis stirring her insides. She came like an earthquake. I guess her dalliance was exciting for us both.

We smoothed our clothing and spent another hour walking the park, and then felt we'd pushed our odds far enough. I put her in a cab and caught the next one.

Chapter 13

My sex drive skyrocketed.

After San Diego, we hit Los Angeles and Reba went a little crazy. Tanner had been inside her now and that changed everything. The sacred seal had been broken, but the world had not ended.

She kept it hidden, at first, and I had to be sly to catch a glimpse of her lascivious behavior. Since theoretically we only barely knew each other, I'd watch carefully and choose my moments. I spied and a few times saw Tanner's big cock in her mouth. I spied and twice saw her eating a blonde dancer's pussy. I waited in her dressing room, hidden behind a closet full of costumes, and witnessed the lean Asian guy fuck her from behind and pullout to shoot across her toned back.

On stage, she was a meteor, racing across the sky, expelling vast quantities of energy. Night after night I witnessed the crowd mesmerized by my lovely wife. The dancers, male and female, could not wait for their turn with her. The crowd went wild. I spotlighted my lusty beauty which drove her even higher.

We rarely had a private moment. I said nothing about her exploits, content to appreciate her voyeuristically, and I believe my lack of protest encouraged her. I masturbated to colossal orgasms remembering what I'd seen.

The first time she caught me watching she pretended she hadn't and finished gulping Tanner's massive load. The next time she stole away with someone, she waited until his cock was balls deep in her married pussy before looking directly at my hiding place. No way could she see me yet some instinct guided her eyes to mine. She stared into the shadow where I hid and grinned slamming her hips down around his pole. She came and then he pumped ribbons of cum across her stomach. They adjusted clothing and she blew my hiding spot a kiss before leaving. I knew, and she knew I knew, and that changed nothing.

We did not talk about it.

Days later I was in my dressing room when the door suddenly opened and Tanner and Reba stepped through. She quickly shut and locked the door behind her. She faced me.

"Your name is Mike, right?"

I gave a bewildered nod.

"I hate to bother you, Mike" she continued. "But we need some emergency privacy and there are way too many people out there. Can we borrow your room? Tacky, I know, but a girl has needs."

She awaited my answer, staring me down, smiling, devilish eyes dancing in their sockets.

This was the moment.

I swallowed hard in a dry throat and gave a tiny nod.

"I'll leave you alone," I murmured, collecting my laptop.

"No," she said. "I know you're busy. You can stay. Just ignore us."

Tanner pulled off his T-shirt, revealing his muscular body. Reba did the same, setting her breasts free. I watched him ogle her and my dick swelled along with his.

"All right," I said.

I returned my attention to my computer but from the corner of my eye watched them undress. He wore no underwear and his heavy cock swung free when his shorts came down. Reba fell to her knees and lifted his log to stuff her mouth. He brushed her hair back to see better her pretty face.

My bed was to my left and I suspected they'd head there soon, so I subtly turned my chair anticipating when they did, I'd have an unobstructed view. Reba ducked under and sucked his balls like they were hanging grapes and he lifted and carried her to my bed. He watched where he was going but she watched me, eyes burning into mine. This was boldly wicked and she knew it. Her gaze was not challenging or defiant, but like we shared an exciting secret, which we did.

"How did you know he'd be cool with it?" Tanner asked.

She kept her eyes on mine. "A hunch," she said. "He seems like such a sweet man. His wife's a lucky woman."

Tanner lowered her to my bed. His cock had risen to horizontal on the walk over and Reba eagerly scooted to the edge of the bed and inhaled the head. He held her hair and slow fucked her mouth, gaining length and thickness. She played with his big balls.

When he was ready for more, he reached back and grabbed an ankle, flipping her onto her back. She yelped playfully and my heart seized.

Here it comes, I thought.

Reba spread her legs wide. She gripped her calves and pulled wider, opening her pussy in universal invitation. He stroked his hard cock a few times and crawled onto my bed. He moved over my wife. They kissed and he buried his face in her neck and she moved her head to look at me. His cock moved forward, perfectly aligned, until the tip met her labia and split them. Her expression turned to lust. She loved that she was doing this in front of me. She loved that I sat passively and watched. No more hiding. No more guilt.

"Fuck me, Tanner," she groaned, eyes on mine.

His cock spread her pussy wide and impaled her, pinning her to my bed. She fought to keep her eyes open, clinging to me, drawing me in and making me part of their sex. It worked. I leaned back and showed her the lump down my thigh.

"Mike," she exhaled. "You can watch, if you want. Is that all right, Tanner?"

Tanner grunted a yes.

Another man gave me permission to watch my wife get fucked.

"You can jack off," she added. "That would be hot."

Something in her eyes was asking me to do it. Absolution? Relief? I unzipped and pulled my growing penis out. She welded her eyes to the dick she'd known for so many years and lifted her hips to accept a new one. The smell of her arousal filled my small room.

Tanner began to fuck my wife.

This was no view through the trees. She had no dress draped around their hips. This was well lit cinema graphic surround sound full color madness. His cock was so stiff her pussy twisted to accept him. Each time he plunged that weapon into the heart of her, my wife cried out in exquisite pleasure. I got hard fast. He may be fucking her, but her eyes were with me.

She brought her legs up and encircled his waist, opening her butt cheeks and displaying her obscene penetration. His cock forced her hole into a wide ring, stretching her opening to the breaking point. Tanner was unaware of what my wife and I shared.

I stood and removed my pants. I tugged my shirt off. I returned to my chair and spread my legs, giving my wife a perfect view of my stiff dick and tight balls. I stroked my erection and gawked at Tanner fucking my woman.

Reba moaned. Tanner kissed her and she practically devoured him. She was so hot, so turned on. Her pussy juices flowed and she soaked my bedspread. Tanner was a machine, stuffing her full and then withdrawing to the tip before stuffing her full again. Their display was lewd and explicit. Her drenched cunt sloshed. They moaned and grunted like animals. I couldn't get enough. I rolled my chair a foot closer and jacked my penis faster. Reba's eyes were wide. Tanner relentlessly pounded her tiny married hole and moved her ever closer towards orgasm.

Orgasm.

Tanner was going to make Reba orgasm.

With his cock.

I struggled to remember the last time she came from my dick and not my tongue. Tanner made her cum with ease. Tanner made her cum hard within minutes. I watched the pleasure he gave wash across her lovely face and I was oddly pleased. His cock stuffed her tight cunt and gave her fits. She struggled to delay orgasm with him.

"Fuck her hard, Tanner," I heard myself say. "she's so beautiful."

Her eyes grew as big as poker chips, stunned by my encouragement. He laughed once and buried his dick and then flexed his ass, pushing deeper still.

My wife groaned. I aimed my penis at her face and jerked faster.

He had to be pushing on her cervix. I've been in her many times but never reached that barrier. I know every centimeter of her. How his heavy cock fit at all was a mystery. He must be stretching her in every direction. Judging by her face, I'd say I was right.

"You want some?" Tanner gasped, looking at me over a shoulder.

Reba slapped his chest. "I'm not yours to give away," she growled.

“I’m happy to watch,” I said. “I’m happily married. This is crazy hot, though, and I want you guys to know you can always use my room. I’ll keep your secret.”

Reba swooned at the offer.

Tanner slipped a big hand under her butt and found her asshole. He wet the tip of his finger in her pussy juice and then pushed a knuckle deep in her rectum. Reba gasped and tried to jerk her ass to push him deeper. He was owning my wife.

“You guys can fuck here every day,” I added.

Reba moaned again.

“I’d love to watch,” I breathed. “She’s sooo beautiful.”

Her eyes rolled back in her head. Reba filled her lungs and came hard. Tanner kept a steady, pounding rhythm, allowing her pussy to clench around him like a fist and driving her climax into the clouds. She clamped her jaw to smother a scream. Her tits wobbled and her legs shook. It was beautiful. His muscular body worked over her, sweating and straining, as his stiff rod pummeled her guts and sent her soaring.

Her eyes locked to mine and we shared the moment of her intense, illicit, unfaithful, treacherous pleasure. I was ready to cum but held back, waiting to see what he did. When her peak was far enough behind, he rolled his hips and lifted her ass.

Soon he had her on all fours and took her from behind. I rolled my chair to see her pretty face. I loved watching what his cock did to her.

He gripped her hips and began to hammer. Her eyes lost their focus. I ducked my head and spotted his massive balls swinging between their legs, hard against her clit. I remembered his huge load. Would he cum inside her? Had he already? The Asian guy had pulled out and at the park Reba had taken Tanner’s load in her mouth so I presumed she practiced the same birth control as she had with me, but did she?

I wheeled my chair closer still. Her tits were too firm to swing much but they wobbled with each jarring thrust. I moved until my erection was about three feet in front of her face. She slowly became aware of me again.

I started stroking my dick in time with Tanner fucking her. She caught on quick and furrowed her brow.

“God, that’s hot,” she grunted between poundings.

Tanner told us he was getting close. He told me to move away. I rolled backward until my chair hit my desk. Tanner kept fucking my wife until his climax hit and then he ripped his cock out and his hand took over.

The first blast sailed over her head and hit my shoulder. I was stunned by the force and volume. Too fast, more robes of hot white cum shot out and trailed across her back, her head, my bed, my knee. I tried to move farther back but the desk prevented me and Tanner grunted loudly and a fat blast of scalding cum launched and landed on her back and my cheek, running to my chin. I wiped him away with my sleeve but not before Reba saw what happened. Excitement flared behind her eyes again. Her lover had marked me.

She was right about how much the man came. He spewed liquid frosting, glazing her ass and back and hair. When his load finally abated, he keeled over and flopped to my bed on his back.

I moved to the tiny bathroom for a towel.

Chapter 14

They rested and dressed. Reba cast playful smiles my way whenever she thought she could get away with it. I feasted on her lovely nakedness and she welcomed my fierce gaze. Oceans of unspoken words passed between us.

Tanner checked the outside hall and left first and Reba closed the door behind him. She quickly turned to me.

"You okay?" she asked.

"I'm fantastic."

"We okay?"

"We're fantastic too," I said.

She blew me a kiss and slipped out the door.

I checked the bathroom mirror to make sure I got the cum off my face. I flopped on my bed, elbow in a wet spot, and stared at the ceiling. Everything was in the open now.

Holy fucking Mother of Christ.

I remained half swollen. My balls ached. Tanner's epic cum production and subsequent launch had derailed my orgasm. I took myself in hand and closed my eyes and there it all was again in living color. Reba was breathtakingly sexy. I stroked slowly, savoring each image. Minutes later I spurt wildly, ejaculating gobs into the air where they rained on me, just like Tanner had. I pictured his cock stretching her hole and shot some more.

Two days later we hit the halfway mark and the gang celebrated. We were in San Francisco so we dined at Quince and then partied in the Castro District, bar hopping and having a blast. Trevor had added extra guys for this city and they took us to all the hotspots. Tanner seemed to avoid Reba but she didn't care at all so neither did I. I suspected he'd said something possessive.

Once the bars closed a handful of us wandered the streets, heading for the Embarcadero and watching the fog roll in. One by one the others dropped away until only Trevor, Reba, myself, and a new guy named Oscar remained. Oscar was hilarious and I spoke mostly with him while keeping an eye on Reba.

We followed the north by north-west curve of the road until we arrived at large soccer fields covered in dew. We lay on the grass and stared up at the misty sky.

"All right," Trevor announced. "Time to head back. You're all welcome to join me at my suite."

Oscar instantly agreed and Reba quickly followed. I said I'd go too. We called an Uber and Trevor directed him to the Fairmont.

Trevor had a three-bedroom suite. The rooms were huge and each had their own bathroom including a built-in Roman tub. Oscar mixed drinks and we all moved to the balcony to watch the sun come up, but we never made it. Reba said she needed a shower and Oscar said he couldn't keep his eyes open. Trevor pointed to the bedrooms.

"Mike and Oscar in there, Reba takes that one, I get the master."

Oscar waved goodnight and headed for bed.

Reba hesitated and then stepped closer to Trevor.

"Or Oscar takes that bedroom," she pointed down the hall, "Mike takes that bedroom," she jerked a thumb over a shoulder, "and we take the master."

I'd known this moment was coming all night.

"We take the master," Trevor echoed.

Reba hugged me goodnight and then Trevor did too. I stood in the hallway, dumbly watching as he closed the double bedroom doors. I waited and then put my ear to the gap; muffled voices, feminine laughter, the jangle of a belt buckle.

This night would be agonizing.

Shadows under the door warned me and I jumped back and took several quick steps away. The door opened.

"Hang on," Trevor said.

I turned. He'd already removed his shirt and shoes. Scruffy, sandy blonde hair covered his chest and stomach.

"I've got a hot tub in here, if you'd like a dip before bed."

I'd bet a thousand dollars this was Reba's idea. I know she'd love to make me watch her with him. I'd placed her directly in his path, using her to get what I wanted. She owed me a little payback.

"That sounds perfect," I said. "But no swimsuit."

He scoffed. "Me either. We're all adults."

I shrugged and stepped through the doorway.

Reba was already nude and sitting on the first step. On the deck next to her sat three champagne flutes and she poured bubbly into each. Trevor unzipped and shoved pants and underwear to the floor, kicking them towards the giant closet. I stripped too. When Trevor turned, my wife and I both waited to see what he had. Strange, I know. Size was hard to determine because he was so goddamn tall but he appeared comparatively long. Reba handed us our flutes as we stepped into the water.

"I'll get the jets," I offered.

"No need," he said "Check this out." He raised his voice. "Hal?"

"Yes, Dave," a calm robotic voice answered.

"Will you set the hot tub temperature to one-hundred-five and the bubbles to vigorous, please?"

"Yes, Dave. I'd be delighted to do that for you."

A nearby panel whirred and energetic bubbles filled our water.

"Lovely," Reba said.

The water came to just below her knees. I couldn't help but glance between her legs at her sweet pussy as I moved to take my seat across from Trevor. What did the night hold in store for that beautiful bald slit? The heat had her nipples hard and protruding, aimed at the ceiling.

“Why did the computer call you David?” Reba asked.

Trevor shrugged so I answered for him. “2001, A Space Odyssey,” I said. “They made the computer mimic HAL 9000.”

Trevor grinned and then laughed. “You’re right,” he chuckled. “I totally missed it.”

We sipped wonderful champagne and enjoyed delightful conversation and Trevor never had any idea Reba was my wife. The water was hot and they often rose to sit on the edge and in those moments, up close, I saw yes, Trevor looked rather big. I don’t know a man who wouldn’t look. We all do. It matters even on the most boring of days and this was not one of those. Given the high probability that meaty penis might soon enter my wife’s body, you goddamn better believe I checked him out. I know she did. I caught her looking twice.

I finally summoned the courage to join them on the ledge but neither paid me any attention. Trevor had leaned back on his elbows, cock draped across a hip, and over the last twenty minutes Reba had subtly moved a foot closer. When the mood struck her, she reached across and wrapped her fingers around his shaft. He stopped talking to watch. Reba lifted his floppy dick straight up and closed her mouth around the tip. She rested her head on his belly, meeting my eyes. Trevor gave me a raised eyebrow and then forgot all about me.

I will never get over the sight of a fat and veiny male member stuffed into my wife’s mouth. The experience is life-altering. My perception of the world changes each time. She nursed on him leisurely, sucking him slowly deeper as her hand slipped over his thigh to cup his hairy balls. She’d suck a few inches, wait, adjust, suck a few more, slowly working him deeper. Soon the tight circle of her lips almost reached his pubic hair. He had to be tickling the back of her throat.

Her amused eyes held mine.

He was swelling slowly but Reba didn’t mind. Soft allowed her to inhale him all the way back. She pushed her head forward and his last inches slipped in, her lips buried in public hair and her nose nestled between his balls. She held him there, swallowing repeatedly, working his shaft with her throat muscles. Trevor groaned.

“Good Lord,” he exclaimed. “No one’s ever done that before.”

Proud Reba smiled around his still-soft cock.

"Mike," I heard him say. "Will you go to the night stand, please? In the drawer you'll find a wide, black rubber ring. Will you bring it to me?"

I rose from the water and quickly returned with the ring. It was heavy gauge rubber, soft but unyielding. I dropped it on his thigh in front of Reba.

"Sorry for the delay," he said. "Too much stress in my life. Once I'm hard will you put that on me? Help her if she needs it, okay, Mike?"

I said I would.

Trevor had swollen too fat for Reba to hold in her mouth and she slowly gave ground, allowing him to slip out a few inches at a time. His length was slippery with her saliva. When she let the head fall, she stroked with both hands. He looked hard to me so I handed her the ring.

She tried to stretch the thing over his cock but lacked the strength so I helped. She held him vertically and I looped the ring over the top. She rolled it to the base of his shaft and pulled it over his balls. The thick ring dented his skin all around the base and thrust his genitalia forward. I surmised it worked by allowing blood to flow in but restricting the flow out. In less than a minute his veins and arteries bulged and his length and girth had increased. I thought his penis looked ugly now but Reba looked at it like it was suddenly made of gold. I suppose to her feminine eyes he'd gained potency and virility.

When she tried to suck him again only the head and an inch fit in her mouth. She groaned with deep excitement and arousal. She marveled at the rugged beauty of such an erect cock, then rose to her feet and straddled him. She lowered her slit to the head, aiming for penetration, and rubbed the tip only a few times before trying to sink onto him. He was wide enough to cover her hole and suck in surrounding skin and too thick to enter her. She lifted her heels, using her bodyweight to force herself onto him, and with agonizing slowness he began to move up into her body.

"Jesus," Reba wheezed. "That's intense."

"Spread her ass cheeks," he told me. "That will help."

I wavered a moment, because what husband wouldn't at a time like that, but then did as he asked and further opened my wife. She growled deeply, aroused by the penetration of this fat dick and by the willing participation of her husband. I was literally helping him enter my wife's body. She lifted her heels higher and her weight pressed down and her stretched hole enveloped his ugly shank in the beautiful, wet, warm folds of her loving cunt. With inexorable sluggishness, he burrowed deeper.

“Unnnnggghhh,” my wife groaned, and even I felt it. Trevor was a tank.

A long clear strand of pussy juice dripped to his balls. His thickness was getting to her and her pussy began to gush. I now know my wife loves cocks which are difficult to handle. I remembered how her struggles with Tanner made her more excited and here it was happening again. She got so agitated she leaned forward and kissed him on the lips. She held his face with both hands and kissed him again. He pressed her ass to force her lower and her pussy slowly enveloped him. I saw the whole thing from inches away. Her tiny asshole winked at me, clenching and unclenching from intense pleasure.

Reba offered her nipples and Trevor suckled like a baby. I floated a short distance away to see it all and had to reach for my penis. They looked so hot!

After a short time, Reba pulled herself off his cock. His penis slurped out and landed on his stomach with a wet thud.

“I have got to see this thing,” she said, and spun into a sixty-nine position. She lifted him from the base and examined his tool, obviously impressed. He looked thicker than Tanner but perhaps not as long. She tugged the wide rubber ring farther down, pulling skin under. He looked about a half-inch longer when she finished. The head was dark purple and his veins sat like squiggly blue spaghetti noodles just under the thin skin. A large drop of clear liquid oozed from his slit and Reba licked it away.

“I love this fucking cock,” my wife exhaled. “Just look at this thing. So manly. So healthy and strong.” She glanced at me. “It screams babymaker.”

She traced several bloated veins with a delicate fingertip, following the winding paths from base to tip. Trevor gained no more size from her attention but he gained stiffness. His rod was a deep red and lumpy animal’s phallus. His large hanging balls were bright pink.

She tried to blow him again but he’d swollen so thick she struggled to get him in and avoid her teeth. He reached for her head and pushed.

“I don’t care if you scrape me,” he grunted. “I want your mouth.”

Reba opened wide and shoved his head against her tongue. Her distended lips closed behind the ridge. She sucked hard and worked another inch in. Trevor groaned and stabbed her pussy with his tongue, eating her soaked cunt. For long minutes they gorged themselves. I played with my penis absorbing everything.

Reba was the first to break.

"I need this cock in me," she said, gasping for air.

She stood and took his hand and they headed for the huge bed in the corner. He'd forgotten about me but my wife cast a furtive glance and sly smile my way. He ripped the covers off and spun Reba to sit, walking his cock towards her face. At last he remembered me.

"What about Mike?" he asked.

"Mike's faithful," she replied, looking at me. "But I love an audience. Can you keep secrets, Mike? Can we trust you?"

I nodded. "Absolutely you can," I said.

She met Trevor's gaze. "Works for me," she said.

With both hands, he guided her mouth to his fat cock. She settled in to suck dick but he only allowed her to go long enough to get him wet. He gripped both her ankles and gently rolled her onto her back, stepping close, his swaying cock dangerously near her bare pussy. She did not wait, finding him and guiding him home. She was soaked and he ploughed ahead powerfully, her eyes growing the deeper he went.

"Oh, my, GOD!" she exclaimed.

His balls smothered her ass, his shaft expanded her opening. He began to fuck her with deep, smooth strokes. She seemed surprised by how good the angle and his girth made her feel. Her fucked her another few minutes and she muttered he would soon make her cum.

"That's good because I'm almost there too," he said. "You're fucking gorgeous."

Reba began lifting her hips to meet his thrusts. They locked eyes and I saw a real connection. This was more than mere sex for both. I jerked faster, excited by my wife's attraction to him. I witnessed them bonding right in front of me and the genuine emotions heightened the passion for everyone.

He fucked faster and she met him thrust for thrust. Both moaned and gasped constantly, dazzled by the pleasure the other gave. Reba pulled his mouth to hers and they shared hot kisses.

“Oh Fuck!” she gasped. “Yeah. Don’t stop. Fuck! Yessssssss... Aaarrgh!”

Her hips snapped up to meet his cock and an orgasm seized her like a fist. Her back arched and her mouth opened in a wail.

“OOOOOhhhhh Baby!” she cried. “OOOhh fuck yes!”

Tremors wracked her body and her thighs quaked. She was cumming on his fat cock and cumming hard. His eyes grew wide.

“So fucking beautiful,” he growled. “Take it, Reba. Here it is. Take it!”

His hips drove forward and my wife slapped her hands on his ass. His toes curled and his butt clenched.

“JESUS!” he yelled.

He blasted buckets of sperm deep inside my lovely wife.

My penis spit cum all over the floor and my knuckles.

Reba felt him swell and spew and her mind tumbled off a cliff.

“Oh, YESSSS!” she howled. “Fucking cum in meeeee!”

She was still coming down from her first when a second orgasm, triggered by his gushing phallus, slammed into her and sent her spinning out of control. Her arms and legs thrashed the bed. Her pussy convulsed around his absurdly thick shaft and her asshole spasmed. Trevor pounded her into the mattress, coaxing every drop up from his balls and out his slit. Semen leaked from around his cock and I wondered how much he had to dump for some to get passed that tight seal. He grunted hard each time his balls rose and fell and I realized this man was still pumping sperm into her. I stroked my deflating penis, desperately wishing I could cum again.

He still gripped her ankles and when he finished he held that pose. His chest heaved from his efforts and Reba looked unconscious. She ran her hands over her sensitive breasts and tugged her nipples, then rotated her hips slightly, enjoying the fat cock which still impaled her.

She opened her eyes and looked at his dick.

“You’re still hard?”

“It’s the ring,” he panted, wiping his sweaty face on his bicep.

Reba glanced at me, noting my spent penis in an instant, then met his eyes.

“Fuck me with it,” she murmured.

Trevor began a slow in and out, well lubed now and sliding easily. Reba jumped.

"Holy shit," she said. "That's even better."

She closed her eyes to savor the fully stuffed sensation his fat and slippery cock gave her.

"Can you cum again?" she asked.

"Not so soon. Can you?"

She tilted her hips and reached for her clit. After a moment, she nodded.

"Yeah, I think so. Keep going just like that."

Trevor slow-pumped his rigid dick in her sopping hole.

"Faster," she whispered.

He worked his hips, driving his cock like a steady piston.

She knew she gave us a show. She opened her eyes briefly to make sure I watched and then returned her attention to cumming. When she rubbed her clit faster, Trevor fucked her faster. She sucked air several times.

"Love it," she gasped. "Close."

He opened her legs wider, drawing her labia and clit closer to his shaft. My wife gasped. He rammed faster.

"God," she whimpered. "So close."

With a grunt, her head snapped up, chin to chest, and a long, low cry gurgled from her throat. "AAAhhhnnnnmmm, Fuck, Baby, close...Yeah, Fuck!"

Her mouth fell open and her head fell back as her abs cramped and she came on his thick cock again. Her hand was a blur and she screamed when her climax peaked, jerking her hips up and down and moaning constantly. Trevor pounded her mercilessly, totally turned on by my little slut. He hammered away until she tried to crawl backward. He refused to let her go but did eventually slow down to almost nothing. He eased balls-deep and leaned over to kiss her. She was wiped out.

"I think that's all for now," Trevor told me. "Sweet dreams."

I was being dismissed but I did not want to go. I tried to think of a reason to stay but failed, so I gathered my clothes, watching the lovers discretely, and showed myself to the door. As I was leaving I watched Trevor spoon my wife and Reba reach between her legs to slip his fat cock inside.

I shut the door.

A sweet agony welled inside my body from toes up. My chest suddenly ached. My heart surged with adrenaline. Reba was alone with another man. Intimately alone. My legs went weak and I steadied myself against a wall. He was in her, right now, moving, pleasing, teasing. I knew it was only a matter of time before he was ready to cum again and when he did, he'd shoot directly into her womb, just like the first time.

Reba and I had a serious problem looming but I put it out of my mind. There was nothing to be done right now. How many times would he fill her with sperm before we got back to the hotel? Anguish left me weak and aroused. I played with my soft dick anyway, too stimulated to leave it alone.

I entered my bedroom and locked the door. I shared a wall with them and placed my ear against it, hoping for any clue about what transpired on the other side. I heard muffled voices and then Reba make a high-pitch groan. The torment of not knowing what caused her to make that sound tore me open. I played with my dick again, stroking the shaft and rolling my balls around and gained some slight growth. Good enough for me. I jacked my penis, ear plastered to wall, and created images to go with the vague sounds I heard.

I cried out when I came and Reba, hearing me and understanding what I did, cried out too, letting me know Trevor pleased her greatly.

I stayed there listening until, hours later, all sound ceased.

Chapter 15

Within days, everyone on the tour knew Reba was Trevor's. Dancers stopped flirting with her but more importantly, she stopped flirting with them.

I saw her and Trevor together often and could only imagine how many times they were doing it. She spent every night in his hotel room. My boss was flooding my wife with sperm.

Reba searched my face for a reaction but I kept my cool. Mostly. At night, in my hotel room. I practically ripped my penis off masturbating frequently. I was horny all day every day.

The tour swept through the American south and then doubled back through the southwest. We had another festival type show in San Jose, and headed up the coast to Seattle and Portland. We were so successful even mainstream media picked up our story.

With Trevor and Reba out in the open, others felt free to reveal their newly formed connections. I've never known such a horny group of people. Tanner hooked up with an Asian chick and a gorgeous redhead set her sights on me but I deflected, telling her I was a loyal, one-woman, married man.

She quickly found someone else.

Most nights Reba stayed with Trevor at a hotel far away from us, but after the Portland show we were all in the same hotel for two nights. We tried to have a barbecue party by the pool but got rained out so Trevor invited us all to his suite. We played poker and watched movies and drank until one by one people staggered back to their rooms.

In the end, four men; Trevor, Tiesta, Dipla, and myself, and two women, Reba and Obi, who had rejoined our troupe, remained.

Apocalypse Now played on the widescreen in the background and Tiesta experimented with some mixes to provided mood music. The five of us sat around a huge sectional discussing life and how successful the tour had been.

"Soon we wrap in Vegas," Trevor said. "Back to our boring, normal lives."

"Back to husbands and wives," Reba added, lifting her ring. "Whom some of us miss."

A few chuckled. Trevor looked thoughtful, like maybe he wanted to say something serious, but then thought better of it and smiled ruefully.

"Husbands and wives," he murmured, agreeing.

Dipla fired up and the sweet smell of weed drifted through the room. I declined when it came my way and Reba did too, but everyone else took at least one hit. I settled into my corner of the couch.

Obi flipped her long black hair aside and started kissing Dipla on the neck. He closed his eyes to enjoy it and then pushed her against the arm of the couch and trailed kisses down her throat. When he got to the neck of her T-shirt, he tugged it down and kept going.

I watched because she's a gorgeous woman.

I've almost seen her small breasts on numerous occasions during this crazy trip and it appeared I finally would. Dipla pulled harder, trying to reach her nipples, and she backed him up and whipped the shirt off over her head. Her small, black-lace bra went next and there they were; beautiful little A-cups, firm and perfectly shaped. Dipla lowered his mouth and nursed.

I was engrossed and stared unashamedly.

"You want to join us again?" Trevor said.

I turned to find him standing next to me, looking down. Reba and Tiesta stood beside him.

"Join you where?" I asked, worried.

"The bedroom," Reba answered. She had fire in her eyes.

Oh.

"I know you're faithful," Trevor said. "But I hate to freeze you out. Dipla won't share and in a minute, you'll be feeling like a fifth-wheel. You watched last time and everything was cool, so, you want to again?"

He offered his hand.

Trevor with Reba was fine and more than fine. Hot and sexy, to be honest. Tiesta and Reba burned my ass. I've mentioned what a dick he's been to me over the years. I'm on my way up and he's on his way out, and that's how I console myself and let his shit slide. He didn't know she was my wife but that made it no easier for me. I hated the idea of watching him fuck her but I hated the idea of not knowing what was happening even more. No way could I sit outside the bedroom, him in there with her. I hoped the weed would kill his erection.

"Yeah," I said, accepting the help up. "That sounds hot."

Reba held their hands and sauntered towards the bedroom. I followed, watching her perfect ass sway, and tried to calm myself, with limited success.

Trevor closed the bedroom door behind us but my eyes were on her, Tiesta turned her to face him.

"Put my cock in your mouth," he ordered, working on the buttons of his shirt.

Reba shrugged a bit like why not, it's going there soon enough anyway, and sank to her knees. She freed him and I was relieved to see he was nothing special. She slipped the head inside.

Trevor undressed so I did too.

"I admire your loyalty," Tiesta said to me. "I can't do it. Look at this woman. How can a man resist? I will live with the guilt just to have fucked her even once."

He continued undressing and Reba dutifully held his penis in her mouth, waiting. Off came his shirt and down his pants. He wore no underwear. Shoes, socks, even his watch landed on the pile. Reba held his cock in her mouth the entire time looking like a dog with a newspaper. A very pretty dog.

"I don't mind," I answered. "My wife makes up for it in so many sexy ways. She's amazing. I'd never do anything to risk losing her."

Reba grinned around the dick in her mouth so I went on.

"You guys would love her. She's drop-dead gorgeous. I mean stop you in your tracks good looking. She works out, has a hot body, and fucking loves sex. I can't keep up." I laughed. "Maybe I should give her to you guys whenever she wants more."

They laughed but Reba gasped. Tiesta pinched her nipples.

"If that's what you're looking for," Trevor chuckled. "I know some guys in Los Angeles you should talk to. They're hung like bulls and thoroughly tested. They belong to this crazy club where rich husbands bring their wives for servicing. You'd be shocked how much money these guys make."

I laughed with them but the idea sounded hot. Reba liked it too.

Tiesta stepped back. "Strip," he barked.

"Be nice," Trevor snapped, protective.

Tiesta looked abashed.

"It's okay," Reba said. "I kind of like it. Just not too far."

"All right," he said. "Strip, please."

Reba giggled and began undressing, which took no time because, as usual, she wore little clothing and nothing underneath. Tiesta whistled when he saw her nude.

"Stunning," he said.

Trevor joined Tiesta and my wife sucked both cocks.

"Nightstand?" I asked.

"Not necessary," Trevor said. "Don't need it with her."

Tiesta had no idea what we were talking about but didn't care.

“You know how many nights I watched you dance and wanted you?” he asked. “Now here’s my dick in your mouth.”

“I hope you plan on more than just my mouth,” Reba quipped.

I back away. Tiesta was starting to grow and I did not like where this was headed. He only appeared small at first. I guess some guys grow a lot.

They moved to the bed and then the action truly started. She had both hard now and they took turns sampling her pussy. Reba had a special look in her eye, a wildness from two men for the first time.

We were not virgins when we married but I doubted she’d ever had a threesome. They sank their hard cocks into my wife like swords piercing her flesh. They moved her where they wished, took whichever hole they liked. A tense moment came when she climbed atop Trevor and Tiesta moved behind. I thought he waited his turn but then his butt clenched and I heard Reba tell him to go easy. He was pushing into her ass! My beautiful wife and future mother of my babies had Trevor in her pussy and Tiesta buried in her rectum. Her moans were out of this world, like wounded animal sounds. I got defensive but before I said or did anything, Reba groaned.

“Fucking Hell, I love it. Slowly. You’re going to make me cum. Jesus you guys...Fuck...OHMYFUCKINGGOD!”

She exploded, cumming hard on two cocks, stuffed with erect men and buried in balls. As soon as she started they began moving in and out faster, driving her insane. Her wail echoed through the suite. I thought Dipsa might come to check on us but apparently, Obi had him occupied.

The men delayed their orgasms, equal participants in a secret pact to drive my wife crazy. They fucked on and off for hours. I fell asleep in my chair and when I woke they were gone, but I found them again in the giant enclosed shower, soaping each other. I worried I’d missed one or both men climaxing, but judging by their half-erect members, they were still holding off.

I hated the idea of Tiesta cumming in Reba. I recognize that’s a strange and arbitrary rule, given all that’s happened, but that’s how I felt.

After the shower, Trevor made a business call and Tiesta flipped through channels looking for music. Reba, naked, slipped to my side.

“How are you?” she murmured.

“Horny.”

"I know you don't care for Tiesta. Is this making you jealous?"

I studied her face. My eyes traveled her sculpted body, returning to meet her gaze. After all this time, she still played her game. Okay then, me too.

"Not at all," I smiled.

She left my side and wandered over to Tiesta. They spoke softly, touching intimately, until she took his hand and led him back to the bed. I remembered she once described him as strikingly handsome. I moved to the doorway to watch. They made out for a while and then Reba moved farther onto the bed and opened her legs. He was already hard.

"You sure?" he asked.

Reba looked at me, or, more accurately, looked through me. She knew me so well. She knew my strengths and, more importantly in this situation, my weaknesses.

"Yes," she answered, touching his face. "I want it in me."

That arrow sailed across the room and pierced my heart. How did she know? I admired her competitive spirit, even as my heart leaked blood inside my chest. I knew what was coming but could not look away.

Reba hooked her arms behind her knees and pulled her legs farther apart. Her pussy flowered before his eyes, her asshole staring directly at me. He moved over her and aimed his erection at her pussy and sank in with ease. She was already soaked. He began fucking and she spread her legs wider still.

I don't know what she'd told him, but he moved with purpose. He pounded her like he might never have the chance again. He had no regard for her pleasure or for savoring the moment. He was trying to cum. Maybe he worried Trevor would interrupt or claim her pussy as his only. I don't know. What was obvious, however, was Reba enjoyed his onslaught. Reba enjoyed his callous disregard for her satisfaction. He used her and she loved it.

He crawled his knees closer and began dropping his weight on her ass, slamming his hips against her butt. She yelped with each thrust but clearly treasured it. He moved faster and then began a long and slowly building groan. She urged him on.

"Do it," she hissed. "Blow your load. Empty your nuts."

He closed his eyes and strained and she turned her face to me. His moan stabbed between my ribs. His groan crushed my body. Reba saw the effect.

“Pump it into me,” she begged. “Fill my married pussy.”

I watched his face contort with approaching release. Tiesta was going to cum in my wife. Goddamn it. At least he didn’t know who she was to me. He’d be insufferable. That secret must be kept from him for the rest of our lives.

He bent down to kiss her hotly and she welcomed it, sending her tongue into his mouth. He fucked her hard, driving balls-deep each time, until, at last, his orgasm hit. He pushed all the way in and began spurting, groaning loudly as his balls emptied. Reba got caught up in the sensation of a man ejaculating in her womb and a mild orgasm raced through her body.

“What’d I miss?” Trevor asked behind me.

I stepped aside and he entered the room. A quick glance answered his question. He tugged the towel from around his hips and crawled onto the bed, lowering his flaccid cock to Reba’s lips. She began to softly suck.

Tiesta waited until his wits returned and then pulled his penis from my wife with a sucking pop. He staggered away and dropped into a chair.

And that was how the night went.

Tiesta, and then Trevor, and then Tiesta, and then Trevor; taking turns with her separately until she lay exhausted.

They double penetrated her again near dawn but this time stayed buried when they came. She freaked. Two men cumming in her at almost the same time sent her mind tumbling through the cosmos. She seemed to climax and just stay up there. Watching Tiesta take any liberty he wished with my beloved gave the evening a torturous twist I never accepted.

Chapter 16

Trevor added a few venues. Everyone wanted in on his white-hot tour. We did extra shows in El Paso and Albuquerque before finally heading for our last show in Vegas. The end of the road was in sight.

I thought we’d land some auditorium in a casino but they moved us to an open-air arena sandwiched between a cluster of hotels. The theme for the night was spiders and flies and a giant cobweb enclosed the amphitheater. The DJs wore fly costumes and the dancers dressed as spiders, which essentially meant some face makeup and see-through glow-in-the-dark webbing over their bodies. In bright lighting penises and vaginas and nipples were visible but in the dark of the theater they looked eerie. The crew hooked up guy-wires all around so the dancers could leap across the field to land on another stage.

Trevor had Diplo open and Tiesto hold the middle but he made me the closing act and I went nuts. I blasted the music loud enough to loosen masonry and teeth. I went so loud I breached a city ordinance. No matter. By the time the cops reached me I was winding everything down.

Reba and Tanner seemed to have reconciled and flirted wildly in the air above the crowd. She crawled all over his suspended body and even rode him while fifty feet off the ground. Her hands were all over and a lot of us saw her take his cock in her mouth while arcing through the air. The throng went wild.

As so often happens, the last show ends with a whimper. Many are homesick or just ready to get away. How much fun can one have? Performers miss family and friends and loved ones. Responsibilities must be met. Homework won't do itself. We closed the show and the players scattered quickly.

Trevor had a small afterparty in his suite and handed out bonus checks. He waited for the other DJs to leave and then asked me to tour with him through Europe over the summer. He gave me a night to think about it.

Reba and I slipped away and found a secluded spot in a stairwell. I told her about Trevor's offer and she smiled.

"Looks like you got your big break."

She was right. I had.

"Will he need dancers?"

I laughed and said yes. "Want me to put in a good word for you?" I asked. "I have some pull with the promoter."

She snuggled under my arm.

"I have some pull with the promoter too," she teased

Chapter 17

Reba and I got back from the tour six weeks ago, fully aware the events on the road had changed us forever. Our first night back I set her phone near her hand.

"Tell him to come over," I said.

She gave me a funny look.

"Luca. I know you want him."

She leaned away from her phone, eyes big.

I went on. "Picture him right there on our floor. Remember? Can you feel his huge black hands on you? Can you picture that ridiculous bulge?"

I slid her phone closer again.

"Wouldn't you love to see that big black cock hard?" I asked.

She looked at her cell.

"Why?" she asked.

"Did you think that life we lived ended with the tour?"

She swallowed hard. "I wasn't sure."

"It didn't," I said. "Tell him to come over."

She chewed inside her mouth. "Before I do, there's something you must know."

"You already crossed the line with him? Yes, I'm aware."

She looked at me shocked and surprised.

"It seems like long ago now but I once asked when you'd be home and your answer was: When Luca is finished with me. Remember that line? I do. Then I failed to realize what it meant. Now I know. I've seen you in action. I know how your mind works. In the early days, your plan to make me jealous got away from you, didn't it? He was more than you bargained for."

She stared at her hands.

"Tell him to come over," I said again.

She reached for her phone.

Chapter 18

Our flat was dark except for the spots in the living area. Reba told him I was at a gig but truthfully I was behind the wardrobe screens, watching.

She'd requested another in-home yoga session and paid the man as soon as he stepped through our door. I wanted her to pay him to fuck her.

She'd confessed everything; when she sent that text she already had a belly of his cum. He'd been aggressive during her session until she was ready to scream. The next time his crotch was in her face, she'd tugged his pouch aside and allowed the snake to tumble free.

"I was sucking his cock before I knew it," she'd admitted.

Now, today, they were on the floor again, going through the routine he'd established for her. She knew I was watching, but she didn't know I was also recording. Around the room micro-cameras picked up her actions.

I'd given her no rules, other than the freedom to act on whatever she felt. She'd made an appointment with her doctor to discuss birth control, but hadn't been yet. She'd confessed the idea of a black man cumming in her sent her mind spinning out of control.

"How many taboos can we smash in one night?" she'd asked.

They were still warming up when she made her move. As usual, one of her stretches brought his nylon package near her face. She turned and breathed hot air through the fabric. He looked down as she looked up and did it again.

He stayed where he was but she didn't. She hooked her fingers and pulled his tiny swimsuit down. His black cock unfurled like a hose. She kept pulling and he stepped out of them.

She lifted his dick and slid it into her mouth. Her look of satisfaction, after so much time and so much waiting, excited me. She relaxed her throat before he got hard and wiggled him partially down her throat, playing with his leathery balls.

He had other ideas.

"Fuck that," he said. "I've had your mouth. Get that pussy up here, girl."

Reba jumped to her feet. He tugged at her bikini and soon she was as naked as he. She'd not exaggerated about his body. I remembered that first day in the grocery store when she attempted to use him to make me jealous. She'd failed, but she was almost succeeding now. He was a specimen, towering over her, but more than that, she looked at him a certain way she looked at no one else, including me.

What secret fetish did my lovely wife have?

Luca sat on our futon and spread his legs. He played with his big black dick, getting harder by the minute. Reba tried to suck it again and he told her no.

“Get on your knees and suck my balls.”

My angle was perfect and I knew the cameras captured everything. I’d assumed they’d move to the couch and aimed several cameras directly at it.

Why did Reba seem so happy? I remembered Tiesta giving her orders and her comment she liked it.

“Asshole, too,” he barked.

I smothered a gasp.

Reba bent her head lower and tongued from underneath. His fat balls rested on her face as she licked and sucked his sphincter. She began to moan, aroused by the humiliation.

I had not expected this.

My wife took to it like a pig to a trough. A pretty pig. Luca slowly jacked his dick, eyes closed, and enjoyed this gorgeous married woman doing her best to please him. When he ordered her to suck his cock, she hurried to comply.

Luca did nothing. He commanded her and she hastened to obey. I’d never seen this side of her. I had no idea such a side even existed. The more he told her to do, the more he exercised his power and control, the hotter and more submissive she became. I hardly recognized her.

When he told her to climb on his cock and fuck herself, she scurried to get it done. She placed her knees outside his hips and reached under. Her delicate hand around his jet-black cock stole my breath. She held him vertical, rubbing the tip around her hole, and then sat on him, his coal shaft smoothly disappearing into her body. Shivers ran up my wife’s back. Goose bumps rolled down her arms. I knew she loved sex but something different was happening here. Sex with a hot black man pushed buttons I didn’t even know she had.

She mashed her lips to his and sank onto his shaft. Her moan was deep and meaningful. I got the sense she was trying to hide how much she truly loved fucking him but cracks were beginning to appear. Her true feelings were beginning to emerge. His oversized dick was way too big for her but that only excited her more. Her kisses became even more passionate and then she whipped her head back and howled in blissful orgasm.

Already.

After that, she lost any semblance of control. Luca made demands and Reba hurried to carry them out. She loved that he told her how to please him. She loved that she could. She worshipped that rigid black shaft, reverent and adoring. Her moans filled our flat. I'd never look at our place the same.

Eventually the time came where he lifted her easily and placed her on her back. The futon bent her head forward, forcing her to watch that black beast conquer her hole. Her mewling sounds of submission stabbed me. His cock gleamed like black glass from her runaway wetness.

She came again from that piston reaching far up inside. She had her heels hooked behind his hips and held onto his biceps and she shrieked her climax loud enough for our neighbors to hear.

Here, at last, was my jealousy.

I watched every move she made, flooding my mind with the minutia of her lust. The harder he fucked her, the more excited she became. I knew he'd be cumming inside her soon and this time the thought tore me to ribbons. This was far worse than Tiesta, and it had nothing to do with Luca. It had everything to do with Reba. My strong, independent, empowered woman became a meek black-cock loving servant. She came again and I almost yelled for her to stop.

He was a freight train now, ploughing into her with reckless speed. Her poor pussy took his hammering and gushed more juice, trying to save itself. Reba was a babbling idiot.

She came again.

I considered leaping from my hiding place and ending this. I considered grabbing a knife from the kitchen and playing the angry husband. I considered lots of ideas, but I did nothing. Jealousy dissolved my heart in acid.

When he bent her legs over her body and told her to get ready, my goddamn penis began to grow.

He pinned her ankles to the back of the couch and pounded her. Reba's head bounced like her neck was broken. She wanted him to use her all night.

"Ima fuck you every day," he growled. "Ima fuck you every day."

Reba whimpered her desire, praying he spoke the truth.

"Get it!" he yelled and buried his cock one last time.

"Unngh!" he roared. "Unngh! Unngh!" He pumped a hot load with each grunt. Reba clawed at his flesh, desperate for every drop.

I hung my head. I didn't even know this woman. An outsider would see her having the same sex she always had with a new lover, but I saw. I knew.

Epilog

"You win," I said. "I'm officially jealous."

She smiled and touched my cheek.

"My sweet man," she said, softly touching my lips. "I don't need that anymore. After everything we've gone through, I no longer have even a shred of doubt about your love. You say I win but I promise, I don't care."

We kissed.

"Out of curiosity," she added. "What changed?"

"Luca," I said. "I see the way you touch him, kiss him, fuck him. It's different. He reaches you on a level no other man has, including me."

She nodded thoughtfully. "I won't try to deny it," she said. "But we've only just opened the lid. There are lots of things in this box for us to discover, and we will. We both have kinks we know nothing about yet. Don't be jealous of Luca, Baby. He's no special threat."

I hoped she was right.

Reach Me Here: BunnyLovesBigCarrots@gmail.com

Visit my blog; <https://myeroticbunny.tumblr.com>

Follow My Twitter; twitter.com/MyEroticBunny.

Find me on: GoodReads

Get a FREE Cuckold/Vixen Story!

Join My Mailing List

<http://eepurl.com/cTvA7P>