Chapter 1

“Oops, I almost forgot.”

Lisa pulled off the engagement ring I’d given her and discretely handed it to me. I slipped it into the little coin pocket of my Levi’s.

“Good way to lose before I even start.”

“Shit,” Sherri said. “Good point. Hold my ring too, Gary.”

They do this every time.

We were in a massive ballroom at Caesar’s Palace in Las Vegas and my fiancée was about to sign-up for her fifth bikini contest so far this year. There are two big events yearly, today’s and another later in the year at the Cosmopolitan down the street.

Tropic Heat, one of three companies that promote these events, also promotes a version for married ladies, but those ladies have money and backing and Lisa feels like she can’t compete with breast implants and professional makeup teams. Hence, no wedding rings allowed. I tell Lisa she can compete with any woman on Earth but she just says love is blind. Whatever.

Sherri is Lisa’s best friend. Her long, straight red hair is a perfect complement to Lisa’s long, straight blonde hair. Around the circuit they’ve been nicknamed Cinnamon and Sugar. Their placing varies each contest but they always finish in the top five, and you’d be surprised how much money there is in these events, especially majors like today. We live in San Diego and Sherri comes with us whenever we hit a nearby city; Los Angeles and Las Vegas pay the best but even Phoenix pays well. Vegas throws prize money around like candy on Halloween.

I slipped Sherri’s ring in with Lisa’s.

Sherri has bigger boobs than my fiancée but Lisa has her beat on ass and overall body. Both have pretty faces. They play off each other when they compete and get the crowd into it. Neither has ever walked away with the top purse but they have a ton of fun and we get to do entertaining weekend road trips. First place means you must make schedules appearances at various sporting events and wear only sponsor-brand swimsuits, and that's more involvement than our girls want.

Sherri's husband, Dwayne, almost never gets to join us but that's all right. He's a rugged, manly type of guy. The sponsors would never let him near the girls. I get to because from the beginning we tell everyone I am their gay best friend. Go ahead and laugh if you want. I don't mind. I've seen more hot girls naked than you. Day one of each event I wear tight jeans and a tight T-shirt and worry after the girls like I'm their mother. After that nobody asks questions.

I stepped out of line and leaned against an accordion wall to browse my phone. With five or six age brackets, I've seen contests with over a hundred women and girls. This one was close to that. Every type of body, race, and look filled the room. Sherri and Lisa never go to the gym, eat almost anything they want, and rarely wear makeup, and yet they stand out, and I'm not just bragging. They both possess natural beauty and vivacious personalities. Yes, they were born lucky, but they know it and are grateful for it. They treat everyone with kindness because they know their looks won't last long.

For now, however, it's easy money and we all get to have fun.

The girls got their numbers and we moved on to a large room for their age group. The room was sectioned off into several dozen cubicles by five-foot-high yellow curtains. I was stopped at the check-in table.

"He can't go back there," an older woman with white hair stated. "No men allowed."

"It's okay," Lisa said, cheerfully. "He's gay."

"I don't give a shit if he's from Mars. No men."

Lisa turned to me, smiling. "Sorry, Gary. Wait for us in the hall."

I tried to act like I thought an offended gay guy would act, but I have no idea if I got it right. "Okay, Lisa. You and Sherri come get me." I left the yellow-curtain room for the ballroom. I didn't care, really. This happens sometimes and now I didn't have to gopher for them.

The main event will be in some other room with a T-shaped runway down the center. The contestants walk the stage in waves and the judges and crowd vote, eliminating the bottom two girls each time. The ladies switch bikinis and walk again. It takes all day. Contestants are eliminated until the top four or sometimes five remain. They'll then announce fourth and fifth place, saving the top three for a little more competition and final decisions the next day. You can usually find me seated at the back of the room, waiting, just letting the girls do their thing.

This all started by chance. Back in our home town of San Diego, Lisa and I were hanging with friends in the Gaslamp District and entered a rowdy bar that had an amateur bikini contest. We'd spent the day at the beach so Lisa had hers on under her cutoff shorts and tank top. Several beers later she got up on stage, with lots of encouraging from all of us, and took second place without trying. She did everything wrong and still the crowd went crazy.

That was the easiest five-hundred dollars she'd ever made and as a part-time student and a part-time makeup-counter girl, it helped a ton. An executive from Tropic Heat happened to be in the crowd and after the contest he talked to us about the circuit. It's just evolved from there. These contests are everywhere if you look.

Back in the ballroom I watched moms run around trying to promote their daughters and dads trying to keep their eyes to themselves. Give up, brother. You'd have to be dead not to ogle all the hotness.

I spotted a drinking fountain and gulped some cold water and then wandered for a bit. Caesar's Palace is huge and I soon found myself buried in banks of slot machines. No thanks. I turned around and headed back into the conference rooms and hallways and soon found the competition room. I took a seat that had a good view of the stage but was still sufficiently out of the way. I buried my nose in my phone.

An hour later the announcer said something and people started flowing in, filling the room quickly. The lights dimmed. The first wave of girls came out.

Ah. Lovely.

Lisa followed Sherri. My fiancée wore a conservative royal blue basic triangle number that hinted at her dynamite body without showing too much. Sherri went with emerald green that complimented her hair and showed her big tits to good advantage. Of course, my girls survived the first round.

With each wave, Lisa wore less. Sherri too. Neither went slutty; that was instant death at these affairs. The sponsors wanted to see attractive girls that radiated wholesome, sexy fun.

Lisa's blue eyes are a little too big and her smile a little too broad. You notice it in pictures, mostly, but from the stage you can see her bright smile all the way to the back rows and that's pure gold.

The girls walked and slowly the waves got smaller

Sherri appeared in this little green one-piece I'd never seen and goddamn. For a minute, I wished Lisa's tits were bigger. The cut showed off side boob and cleavage and a generous but tasteful portion of ass. I was worried for my baby until Lisa strutted the runway. She'd changed into high-heels, giving her legs more length, but the two-piece she had on rocked the place. Even other girls applauded. If Lisa didn't win the genetic lottery she at least got six out of seven. Her pert, grapefruit-sized tits bounced, firm and succulent, and her round butt stretched the thin electric blue fabric perfectly. I saw a judge nodding appreciatively. Lisa's body is porcelain smooth all over. She has no muscle tone but her body is feminine as fuck.

The excitement from the crowd got to her and she laughed out loud; just a true expression of joy, happiness at the thrill of being alive. She gave a little appreciative wave and turned at the end of the runway to head back. Girls whistled at her ass.

Next wave. Girls, again, but two fewer. Another wave. This would be my day for the next few hours. I looked up occasionally but mostly I'd seen it all. Soon they were down to eight girls. Six.

They marched the remain girls to the end of the runway and made their announcement; Sherri captured fifth place and a check for five-hundred dollars, Lisa, fourth and a cool grand. Amazing. Just to walk around. Just to exist. Nobody would pay shit to look at me.

I was delighted for both. Sherri had placed above Lisa the last few times so I knew Lisa would be relieved she'd beaten her this time. I collected my things, dimmed my phone, and headed for our agreed upon meeting place in the ballroom.

About half an hour later my ladies appeared, beaming, of course.

“World-class beauties,” I said, raising my voice and pointing, embarrassing the girls. “Make way, make way.”

Lisa ran the last ten yards and jumped into my arms. We hugged fiercely but waited for privacy to kiss. I hugged Sherri too. They’d changed into jeans and T’s but had gym bags with them.

“What now?” I asked. “Food? Drink?”

“Drink!” hooted Sherri.

Outside Caesar’s I gave them back their rings. It was early evening so the streets were packed with foot traffic and the air was hot enough to blister. We headed south past Bellagio and the beautiful City Center.

We stopped at the first sidewalk vendor selling shorts and tank tops and changed behind his stall. Some guys got flashed a lot of skin but they didn’t mind and neither did Lisa or Sherri. Our next stop was a small bar built in the shadow of the Big Apple roller coaster. Up a thousand, Lisa paid for drinks.

Chapter 2

We awoke back in our cheap room at the El Cortez. I was on the floor in my boxer briefs and the girls were in the bed in bras and panties. I felt like I had a bus parked on my head. I stumbled to the bathroom and gulped tap water by the glassful. I looked in the mirror. I had a slight scratch on my chin and when I touched it I noticed I had a ring on my finger.

A wedding ring on my finger.

I staggered out to the bedroom and lifted Lisa’s hand. She now wore two rings. Sherri woke up, sort of, and looked at me cross-eyed.

“Congrats,” she murmured.

“What’d we do?”

“You and Lisa decided you’d waited long enough. You guys got married at the Chapel of Flowers. I was the bridesmaid.” She extravagantly clutched her hands over her heart. “Just as I’ve always dreamed of being.”

I ran my eyes over her and Lisa in their underwear.

“Honeymoon night,” I said. “Did I fuck you both?”

“You wish.”

She slid out of bed and patted me on the butt on her way to the bathroom. “You didn’t even fuck your wife, loser.”

Sherri and I go back a long way. We’ve never dated, never had sex. I’m not sure guys can be friends with girls, but she and I get close. I mostly see her as a little sister. My eyes fell to Lisa, sleeping, her hair a mess, her dry lips twisted against her drool-stained pillow; Absolute perfection.

I gazed at the new ring on my finger. Married. I felt a rush of pure happiness. We had been engaged long enough. Now, at last, it was official. We got drunk and did it as a goof but in the bright light of morning the thought moved me. Deeply. I was married to Lisa. Lisa was my wife. I am Lisa’s husband.

My blushing bride opened one bleary eye. “What the fuck are you grinning for?”

I held up my hand and showed her the ring. Her eye narrowed before growing large. That famous smile split her face.

“Oh yeah!”

“We did it, Baby!”

She reached out and I jumped, landing on her for a passionate kiss. Mr. and Mrs. Gatton. Hot damn.

“When you all are finished fucking around,” Sherri whined. “Will you feed me? Please?”

We both looked at Sherri using her pathetic face to maximum effect.

I kissed Lisa about a hundred times and then we got out of bed to go find breakfast. The girls had scrambled eggs, pancakes, bacon and sausage, and wheat toast no butter, because butter will make you fat. I shook my head.

“Someday soon you will both need to stop eating like this.”

Lisa smiled like a maniac while stuffing her mouth and Sherri laughed. “Yeah, but until then we eat like kings.”

Lisa’s phone rang and she quickly chewed to answer. She said hello and then listened intently, the little spot between her brows wrinkling more with each second. In the end, she thanked the caller and hung up.

“Diana got disqualified. She was number two. The committee is pumping all the girls up one spot.”

Sherri's phone rang. Lisa talked fast. "That's them calling to give you five-hundred more dollars. I'm in the top three, if I want it, but I must compete again today and give back the thousand."

Sherri answered her phone and we heard her side of the conversation. Lisa was right. Sherri was elated and ended the call by agreeing to come by later and fill out the necessary paperwork.

"What are the prizes for third, second, and first?" I asked.

"Five-thousand, seventy-five hundred, and ten-thousand. I'm guaranteed at least five grand." Her eyes were huge. "The finals start at six this evening."

"Why was Diana disqualified?" Sherri asked.

"They found out she was married and lied about it."

Lisa and I looked at each other.

I said: "No way the Chapel filed our paperwork with the county office yet. It's the weekend. We'll be home before anyone can check."

"This is awesome," Sherri murmured.

"Give me your rings right now," I said. "For five grand I'll be gay one more day."

"The woman on the phone asked if I'd run off last night and gotten married," Lisa said. "I told her no. Can we get away with this?"

"If we keep our mouths shut," Sherri said.

"Let's head back to the room," Lisa said. "I need to lie by the pool. I got to sweat this alcohol out and get some color. I look like shit. Baby, will you go to that snack shop by the motel and buy us big bottles of water?"

"Yeah, but let's finish eating first."

Soon we were back in the room. Sherri took charge, going through their combined wardrobes and planning Lisa's outfits. There would be a sportswear portion, an evening gown portion, and a swimsuit portion. The girls went into mercenary-mode and ruthlessly separated the good outfits from the great. Both tried on every possible combination, forgetting I was still in the room, and I was treated to lovely flashes of tits and ass.

"In the finals," Sherri informed. "You face a panel of three judges; two male, one female. I don't know the guys but the woman is named Johanna and she like girls. That gives you an advantage because you can show more skin. Usually that will upset the female judges. For your evening gown, I say the sparkly blue; killer with your eyes and long blonde hair but best of all it tapers through your waist, showing off your butt, and has a deep V in front to show off your perfect tits.”

“You have perfect tits. Mine are too small.”

“Shut the fuck up. Sportswear you can go with anything you brought, it all looks good on you. For swimsuit, I’m torn between the blue and white two-piece or the skimpy one-piece. What do you think, Lisa?”

I jumped in. “The one piece is a Tropic Heat brand swimsuit. Maybe a good idea to kiss a little ass and wear some of the sponsor’s product.”

“Smart,” Sherri said.

In the end, Lisa felt confident with her choices and options.

We had to get there early to check in and go over the routines so I drove. I dropped the girls and all their gear at the front entrance and then parked and walked back. Security wasn’t as tight because the crowd had thinned; lots of disappointed moms and daughters headed home to try again next time. I wandered backstage until I found Sherri.

“She has her own room,” she said. “The judges go around and interview each girl first, so I told her to flirt with all three.”

“Thanks.”

She waved my comment away. “First, you obviously don’t care about other people looking at your girl and second, you’re gay so shut the fuck up.”

I laughed. Sherri said she had to pee so I told her to meet me out front. There was nothing else for us to do backstage.

On my way, I passed the prefabricated rooms the finalist used. The walls were sectional and loosely screwed together with gaps of light showing. I was on the back side of them with a cinderblock wall behind me so I risked looking through the cracks to see which room held Lisa. In the first was an Asian girl with a killer body I remembered from the day before. She was talking to judge Johanna. The next was a muscular black girl with big tits and a beautiful face. The judge interviewing her had her standing and flexing. Weird. I slowed at the last room, knowing already it contained my new bride.

Lisa sat at a cheap desk looking up. Her judge, standing way too close in my opinion, spoke to her in a low voice. Lisa’s body language looked uncomfortable but her face looked ready to laugh.

The judge, a man about forty, full head of brown hair and wearing creased slacks and a Tommy Bahama short-sleeved shirt, took Lisa's hand and placed it against his crotch. I rubbed my eyes and peered through the crack again; yup, Lisa's fingers landed on either side of a fat bulge.

Around a corner I heard high heels clacking on concrete and headed my way.

Mother fucker.

I couldn't stay. I either pound on this wall and yell at him to back off, revealing everything and costing us a ton of cash, or I move on and talk to Lisa about it later.

I wasn't too shocked. We'd all heard these stories before. Most of the time the girl is looking for any advantage and comes on to the judge. Sometimes a judge might try something inappropriate with a girl. I wanted to believe that's what was happening this time. Lisa wouldn't flirt that hard to win, would she? I may not have been shocked but I sure as fuck did not like it. I stared through the little gap one last time before walking away. Lisa's fingers had curled around something hard and cylindrical. Gosh, I wonder what that might be?

I tried to calm myself. Let's find Sherri and ask her what the fuck was going on.

Sherri was seated at the front of the stage with her feet up on the railing. I flopped into a chair next to her and gave a hard stare. She smiled for a moment before realizing something was wrong.

"What?"

I explained what I'd seen. "She was squeezing his cock through his pants, Sherri. Is that what you meant when you told her to flirt?"

I was obviously upset but Sherri and I do not bullshit each other.

"Not specifically but sure, why not?"

My shoulders sagged. "Seriously?"

"What's the harm, Gary? We feel more than that every time you and Dwayne take us dancing or we ride a bus. Guys always do shit like that. I'm sure it wasn't her idea. We don't just grab dicks out of the blue. The judge probably hinted she made him hard. They love using that one."

"How long has this been going on?"

"Since the dawn of time, dumbshit. You told me you flirted with the boss's wife to get your promotion at the lumber company."

Oh, yeah. Shit. I was still angry but now felt like a hypocrite too. I was about to complain I never touched her but then I remembered sliding behind her at a charity event. I'd never mentioned that to Sherri or Lisa.

"I don't like it. I hated seeing it."

"Then don't be a Peeping Tom. The door was closed."

"You guys do this every time? Is that how you always place in the top five?"

"Fuck you, Gary. No, we always place because we're fucking beautiful. Lisa is a goddamn princess. Stop acting like a bitch."

I pouted. I crossed my arms on my chest and glared at the stage. The lights flickered and I was grateful the show would start soon. The three judges took their seats at the side of the stage.

Maybe I am a hypocrite but I don't care. No man should ever see his wife touching another man, even clothed.

Normally Sherri and I are talking a mile a minute but now we sat in uncomfortable silence. The lights dimmed and the spots came up and the announcer started informing the crowd of Diana's dismissal and how it was handled and then asking for a round of applause for the remaining girls. The crowd responded. All the spotlights went dark except one beamed at the huge curtain across the back of the stage. A muscular black girl stepped through in evening wear and walked a circuit to applause.

Lisa followed wearing the gown Sherri picked and she looked stunning. She turned on her ten-thousand watt smile and dazzled the room. Her tits looked incredible. Next came the Asian girl in a slinky black dress and then the announcer said acrobats from Cirque Du Soleil at Caesar's would entertain us until the sportswear portion.

"I'll be back," I told Sherri.

"Don't act stupid," she said.

I gave her a sneer and tried to make it as gay as possible.

I had to delay before entering the hall behind the contestant rooms. Some woman with a clipboard meandered along flipping pages. Once she was gone I had my eye to the gap, peering into Lisa's room. She was changing out of her gown and into her sportswear. She looked good and I felt a perverse thrill spying, even on my own wife. I jogged to the bathroom and made it back to my seat before the next portion.

Muscle girl did some cartwheels coming down the runway and Asian girl seemed to float gracefully. Lisa just waved and shuffled with a bounce in her step. The announcer said there'd be a short break, which meant someone would come out and hit us with a sales pitch, and then the final round would start. As a side note, the announcer added that the voting had the girls all within a few points of each other.

When the judges left their seats, I waited a few moments and then circled around. Sherri glared at me but I ignored her.

I made it to the gap just in time. The second male judge, some old skipper type with gray, slicked back hair and an expensive blue suit, leaned over Lisa, speaking close to her face.

"Eric told me what you did for him. The voting is close. Only a few points separate you from Ling-Mai. Would you like to tip the scales your way?"

For a moment, I thought she might tell him she was married but then I remembered she couldn't, not without losing money and future contests. I saw in her eyes she was furious.

"Ten thousand dollars is a lot of money," he said.

She wanted to tell him to stick his contest up his ass. My heart went out to her.

"Or I could tell the sponsors you got married last night and they could sue you for breach of contract."

I had to stifle a gasp.

"How stupid do you think we are?" he mocked. "We check chapel websites before each show."

Lisa's eyes flashed up to his, pleading.

"I bet your little red-haired friend is married too. How many times has she cheated us? It will be a shame to make her give back all that money."

What a mother fucker. Lisa looked down at her hands. I wanted to bust in and save her. I wanted to kick that asshole in the throat.

He drew his zipper down. "Hurry, girl. We haven't much time."

Red mist filled my eyes. Rage flooded my body. I wanted to punch through the flimsy wall. I wanted to snap his neck.

I did nothing. I have no idea how I controlled myself. I thought of Sherri suddenly owing hundreds if not thousands and unable to compete anymore. I thought of Lisa suddenly in debt too and out of a lucrative job. I thought of her school bills. I thought about so many things in a split-second that I was left frozen.

Lisa's hand slipped into his pants and pulled out his long, soft penis. She obediently began to yank.

I couldn't watch anymore.

When I got back to Sherri she saw something seething in my eyes.

"What's wrong?" she asked.

I just shook my head.

After a short time, the lights dimmed and the judges, all smiles and waves, returned to their seats. Asian girl walked the stage, muscle girl walked the stage, and Lisa walked the stage. The gleam in her eyes and the brilliant smile on her face showed none of the distress from only moments before. She wore the skimpy Tropic Heat one-piece and she killed it. The crowd ate her up. I told myself based on that reaction she probably would have won anyway, but of course I have no idea what those judges got out of the other two girls. Quick blowjob? Quick fuck? Was Lisa the first girl they talked to or the last?

I watched the rest of the show with a distracted mind. I heard and saw only bits and pieces. I remember almost none of it.

One thought did occur to me: today was technically my honeymoon and my wife had touched another man's cock before she ever touched mine. That stung, believe me.

Chapter 3

The drive back to our room downtown was quiet.

"What the fuck, guys?" Sherri asked. "Did you fight and I missed it?"

"Ask him," Lisa said. "I've tried to talk to him. He wouldn't kiss me after the show. All I got was a mumbled, 'Congrats.' What the fuck is that? He wouldn't even hug me."

"Gary?" Sherri said.

I sighed and looked at the city passing outside my driver's window.

“I saw, Lisa. I saw what you did.”

I felt her tense.

“What did you see?”

“I saw you take that judge’s dick out. I saw your hand playing with him. I left after that so I don’t know what else you did. I think maybe you gave him a blowjob.”

“I gave him a handjob. That’s why I took second place. Ling Mai blew him. That’s why she won.”

“Oh boy,” Sherri muttered.

“So you say.”

“Gary, he threatened to expose our marriage. Sherri and I would owe them money and the goose would stop laying the golden eggs. I touched his dick. So what?”

“Did you enjoy it?”

“Are you twelve? No, of course not. I was being forced to touch it. He wanted me to suck it and I refused. Because I love you. Because I’m married to you. What did you want me to do? He had us.”

I knew she wasn’t lying. I heard in her voice she spoke truth. I was still pouting and angry. I knew everything she said was logical. I knew I should let it go and be happy for her. I knew all that, but I couldn’t. I saw her hand wrapped around his old dick with crystal clarity.

“You should have called me back there,” Sherri said. “I would have sucked it. He’s a good looking older guy.”

Lisa’s laugh sounded like a cough.

“I’m sure Dwayne would have something to say about that,” I said.

“Come on, Gary,” Sherri sighed. “It was a joke.”

We packed our things in silence and loaded the car. With a little time, I softened. I should be made at the judge, not Lisa, but the judge wasn’t around so I transferred my anger to my new bride. As time passed I felt like more and more of an ass until I finally apologized and I made sure to do it in front of Sherri. Lisa hugged me and Sherri acted like she was kicking my butt.

At first our drive back to San Diego was subdued but it turned friendly.

“Seven thousand, five hundred dollars!” Sherri shouted out her window at passing cars. “My best friend is so hot. All the guys want her.

The judges want her too!”

Lisa cringed and Sherri laughed.

“Too soon? Am I obnoxious? Am I rude? Gary? Gary, am I being rude? Gary?”

She got me to smile.

I dropped Sherri at her place and we went in to say hello to Dwayne. He worked security and had just pulled a double so he sat in shorts and a wife beater drinking a beer and watching mixed martial arts. He’s solidly built like a linebacker and looks tough, but baby animals melt him instantly.

Nobody mentioned the incident but Sherri would tell him as soon as we left. I blushed. My buddy Dwayne would know my wife had played with another man’s dick.

Back at our apartment our border collie, Lalo, went crazy when he saw us. We pay Jeremy, the kid from across the courtyard, to dog-sit whenever we leave town. Lalo and Jeremy loves each other. I took Jeremy home.

When I got back, Lisa gave me a long hug and sat me at the dining table. She set a stack of thirty-seven hundred dollar bills in front of me and then topped it with a fifty. While she goes to school I’m covering our household expenses so she insists on splitting her winnings with me. That helps but still doesn’t cover her share. Normally it’s no big deal but this time the money felt tainted. I stared at the stack.

Refusing the money would open a whole new ugly line of argument. I needed to put my male pride to bed and get over this. I ignored the money, for now, and met her blue eyes.

“Thank you.”

She gave me a little tilt of her head. “Baby, I’m so sorry you had to see that. Sherri and I keep it from you and Dwayne but there are always lecherous guys at these things. I want you to know I only did it because I had to.”

“Have things ever gone farther?” I had to ask.

“No. Never.”

I brought her hand to my lips and kissed the back and then led her to the bedroom. Despite what happened I was surprisingly horny and she was eager. I know getting on stage like that and showing her nearly naked body turns her on. How could it not? After we officially consummated our marriage I took Lalo for a long walk.

In the morning, we were back to our routine; I rise first and start the coffee and then Lalo and I go back and wake her. She hates mornings. I dress for my job at the lumber company and she readies for school. Lalo grabs a corner of the couch. He knows Jeremy will visit mid-day after school and walk him again. On the weekends, I take Lalo to one of the dog beaches and that boy runs and runs.

Three nights later Sherri and Dwayne stopped over after work. We played black jack to practice for our next trip to Vegas. I've known Sherri longer than Lisa, all the way back to high school. We became friends right away although I think she's hot and god, those tits.

Dwayne put his arm around my shoulders and said he understood why I was upset about that judge.

"Dudes," he said, slowly shaking his head. "Always gotta pester the babes."

I knew that was all I was going to get from Dwayne. Lalo curled at my feet and as the chips flowed around the table, most of them stuck to me. I finished up almost two hundred but I gave back Sherri and Dwayne's money. Friends, right?

Days passed and work plodded along and I shuffled paper like a good robot.

No matter how many days passed, the sight of Lisa's hand wrapped around that cock would not leave my mind.

Chapter 4

Over the next few months, the girls entered two contests in San Diego, one in Los Angeles, and one in Tijuana. That was an adventure. Lisa's long blonde hair and blue eyes made every guy there fall in love with her and every girl there want to slash her throat. Lisa took first place easily and we got chased out of the club by five angry young women. The border agent told us we were crazy for going.

The girls spent the money as fast as they made it.

Nothing had changed, really, but being married felt different.

More time passed. Halloween came and Thanksgiving too.

Christmas approached and that meant office parties and that, my friends, is where everything went wrong.

Last year we made our office party employees plus one and there was more quarreling than any previous year. This year we went back to employees only. We did a secret Santa and the boss handed out awards and bonuses. I scored a nice one-fifty.

Tammy, the boss's assistant, looked great in her red velvet skirt and top. Especially great. Too much spiked eggnog made her even cuter and then I spotted one of the older gray-haired salesmen wearing a blue suit and I swear he looked exactly like that judge. I'd had enough spiked eggnog I thought it was the judge.

So, I let Tammy blow me.

I'm a piece of shit.

The party was held at a seafood restaurant down by the bay and she did it in a back room and we didn't get caught but the moment we finished we both felt terrible. She has a boyfriend and I, of course, have a wife. We parted swearing to never breathe a word to anyone.

I lasted five weeks. Guilt turned my blood to vinegar. Nothing tasted good, nothing was funny, I was sad and Lalo was worried. Lisa knew something was up but because she's so amazing she gave me space. I couldn't stand it.

"Honey," I said one night as we lay in bed reading. "Tammy gave me a blowjob at the office party."

Lalo raised his head from the foot of the bed and stared at me.

Honestly, I had no idea what I was going to say when I first opened my mouth. I didn't even know I was about to confess. I'm sure there are a million better ways to do it.

I watched Lisa crumble in slow motion. Her face went from faint smile to anguished grimace and I swear to fucking god it took six hours. My pain at hurting her was second only to her pain at being hurt. I got the genius idea to try and make things better by suggesting that what I'd done with Tammy canceled out what Lisa had done with that judge. Lisa's agony morphed into anger in a fraction of a second.

“Fuck that, Gary. I was forced to do that. I can’t believe you said that.”

Lisa started crying. Not a blubbering crying like watching those boys stand on their desks in the last scene in Dead Poets Society, but eyes of blue steel crying Gary you fucking asshole.

“And I gave you half the money,” she added, feeling stupid.

If I have my choice between making a woman angry or making her feel stupid, I’ll take angry every time. Lucky me, I’d managed to do both to my wife simultaneously.

Lalo climbed off the bed and headed for the living room. Even he knew something bad was going on.

I sank deeper down a black hole. Every second the realization I may lose her grew. I don’t know how that thought escaped me before I opened my mouth, but now, watching bleed from the deepest wound anyone had ever given her, the branching path forward suddenly had several trails that ended in me without her.

I broke into a cold sweat which turned my skin to ice. I could do nothing but take what she spewed. She told me what it was like for her, trapped in that chair, used by a man she did not know, utterly powerless to say no. As her anger rolled back, deep, forlorn sadness replaced it.

I’d broken her heart. I felt like dying.

Eventually, she ran out of words. Emotions drained and she just stared at me, occasionally shaking her head almost imperceptibly. She lowered her eyes to the comforter, pondering, and then reached for her cell on the nightstand. She left the bedroom and entered the bathroom with it, closing the door behind her. I heard the lock.

Lalo poked his head into the bedroom, checking on where things stood, and turned back for the living room.

Lisa exited the bathroom after a while and silently dressed and collected her purse and a satchel from under the bed. She floated around the room like a ghost, stopping at the closet, stopping at the chest of drawers, stuffing clothing into the travel bag, and then floating out the bedroom door. I heard the refrigerator open and close and then the front door does the same.

She was gone.

Lalo stuck his head in, concerned.

I lacked energy even to invite him up on the bed. I flopped face-first onto my pillow, barely breathing. He joined me, uninvited.

Twenty minutes later my phone chimed and I found a text from Sherri; She's with me and Dwayne for as long as she needs. You fucking asshole.

I couldn't argue. She was right.

Each day was misery. I sent the occasional text apologizing. I called from time to time and left voice messages. I groveled, you bet I did. I heard nothing from her, Sherri, or even Dwayne. My fate drifted in limbo.

I saw hope in the fact she went to Sherri and Dwayne and not her parents. Her mother is a control freak and if Lisa got them involved getting them uninvolved again would be a task. Lisa is aware how close Sherri and I are and this was her way of distancing herself from me but also keeping me from freaking out. She knew Sherri would text me.

Five days. Almost an entire week. I expected to grow numb to the pain at some point but no, each day was worse than the last. By the week's end I was a tormented zombie.

I was on the couch, staring at the television but watching nothing, when her keys hit the lock. The door opened and she stepped inside. She looked awful. Her face was puffy and her hair greasy. She wore a sweatshirt baggy enough to be Dwayne's and gray sweat pants. Lalo jumped off my lap to go to her, tail wagging a thousand miles an hour. Lisa crouched to pet him and he licked her face wildly.

"I'm not staying tonight," she mumbled.

"I wish you would."

"No. I can't. You've made that impossible."

"Are you divorcing me?"

She slowly stroked Lalo like a security blanket and he seemed to understand his role. He leaned into her and gently licked her hand.

"For the first three days I was, yes. Then I started wondering if you would have done this without me touching that judge. I asked Sherri and she called you every name in the book and said I needed to kick you in the nuts but eventually said no. She said that was no excuse at all and I was still in the right and you were still totally wrong, but she knows seeing that hit you hard."

"It did."

“Shut up. I need you to know she’s completely on my side.”

“I know it.” I saw a faint glimmer of hope.

She sighed and sat on the carpet. “So, that understanding complicated things.”

“Baby,” I said. “I messed up so bad. I’ll never do it again. I swear.”

“That’s not good enough, Gary. Your words were so cruel. We aren’t even. Far from it. I was victimized by that asshole and then again by you.”

“What can I say? What can I do to prove how sorry I am to you?”

“Nothing. There’s nothing you can do, but there is something I can do. Sherri thought of it. You got a blowjob? All right. I get a blowjob too.”

I stared at her waiting for the rest.

“What do you mean?”

“You are right about us needing to be even. There’s only one way to do that.”

I’m not stupid but I took a full minute to understand. “Oh.”

“Yeah. You’ll hate it as much as I hate what you did with Tammy. If I have to live with that shit, thinking of that every time we kiss or make love, then so will you. No way am I going to carry the burden alone. I am not some weak little wife who will put up with a shitty husband to avoid being alone. No consequences? Fuck that. What’s to keep you from doing it again? Either we both find a way to get over it or neither of us do.”

Holy Mother of God. She was serious. Jealousy turned my bones to ice. My mouth was a desert. Lalo looked at me like I was a bastard but that may have just been my guilty conscience. Lisa had been staring at the carpet this whole time but now she lifted her pained eyes to mine.

“Sucks, doesn’t it?”

Because I’m a guy, my brain went into logic mode. I knew there was only a small chance Lisa would do it. She wasn’t bluffing; she absolutely believed every word she said. It was the follow-through that would trip her up. At this point she was more interested in hurting me with the idea, like she’d been hurt.

“Sherri thought of this?”

“Actually, she told me to fuck someone. Dwayne said that wouldn’t be fair so she reduced it to a blowjob. Eye for an eye.”

“Only makes—“

“Do not quote Gandhi to me.”

I was suddenly and irrationally irritated with Lalo. Furry little traitor.

What could I do? There was no talking my way out of this. I saw that on her face. I took my lumps or we went our separate ways. Fuck.

“Okay,” I exhaled. “I’ll take my punishment.”

I thought she might smile or something but her face stayed hard. She stood and reached for the front door. Lalo trotted back to me.

“I’ll come back home late Saturday night,” she said. “After.”

She opened the door and left. Lalo looked up at me wondering why I allowed her to leave but then jumped on the couch and curled up in his spot.

Chapter 5

If work was difficult without her in my life, work with the thought of her sucking someone else’s cock was virtually impossible. By Friday I was a basket case. No thought stayed in my head for more than a few seconds. Conversation with my co-workers was unbearable. I saw genuine concern for my mental health on several faces.

I’d sent Lisa several texts asking for clarification of her ultimatum but she ignored me. Saturday morning, I awoke after a shitty night’s sleep in an anxiety-induced panic. No matter how I tried to rationalize what she was doing or find her wrong for doing it, I couldn’t. Everything came back to my fuck up. The fact that hers was calculated changed nothing. I get no pass because I’d been drinking or it happened impulsively.

I walked Lalo twice as far, both of us burning off stress. I’d neglected him the past week, keeping him cooped up in that small apartment with me.

After noon, I picked up the book I’d been reading, Joe Haldeman’s The Forever War, and found myself truly distracted for hours. Not until I noticed the room was growing dark did I put the book down. Once I did, reality kicked my door in; by this time, she was probably out with him.

I paced the room. This was crazy. I sent her a text asking where she was, who she was with, and what she was doing, and instantly regretted it. I was playing into her hands. No way would I show her how anguished I was.

I threw my phone on the bed and then immediately thought maybe I should show her what she was doing to me. Since she may not and probably was not out with anybody, revealing my torment would satisfy her, possibly even make her feel guilty. I waited twenty minutes and sent her another text asking what she was doing, and then forty minutes later sent another asking if she'd done it yet.

Tacky? Yup. Crass? You bet. My heart and my mind were emotional train wrecks despite my belief she wouldn't follow through, so I just poured my thoughts out in the form of pleading text messages. She ignored them all, as I expected. All, except one.

I glanced at the clock on the television when my phone chimed; Eleven fifteen. She was probably telling me she was headed home. I opened her message and discovered a photograph of her dainty left hand, familiar wedding rings sparkling in the flash, wrapped around a rather large and intensely erect penis. Saliva made the top half of the shaft gleam. This was no older gentleman's dick. This looked like a Big Man On Campus dick. In fact, only then did it occur to me she'd have her choice of hot guys from her college. Below the picture were these words; No, not finished yet.

Fuck me.

That cock was a sword between my ribs. I studied the picture and, bizarrely, this stranger's penis. I scrutinized every pixel for information. He was definitely bigger than me as her fingers didn't quite meet on the other side. I saw her out of focus knee in the background and recognized the dress she wore, so at least she had her clothes on. The tip of his dick glittered which I finally realized was precum and a mule kicked me in the guts. Combine that with saliva halfway down the shaft and I knew his sperm had been in her mouth. She'd tasted him. My wife was, at that torturous moment, tasting another man. Agony lanced my heart.

"Fuck!" I yelled and Lalo looked up.

Unintended, my mind summoned memories of Lisa sucking my penis. My evil brain substituted this fat dick for my own and I saw horrible flashes of my wife pleasuring this stranger. A second mule kick knocked the wind out of me and made my mind lurch.

Lisa always swallows.

Dear God in Heaven. How had that not occurred to me yet? How had none of this occurred to me? I'd heard her words but not understood what they truly meant. So much of this night I'd kept hidden from myself, barricaded behind a wall of denial and rationalization.

I yelled "Fuck!" again and left the bedroom to pace the apartment. How do I respond? Do I respond? Do I send Sherri a text telling her I hope she catches on fire and dies? My body trembled. My legs faltered as I walked and I almost fell. If I respond, what do I say? Would Lisa dare send me another picture? Could I handle that? Did I even want to see that?

No.

I now knew she'd sent that picture to shut me up and because she knew I'd doubt her resolve. She knew I'd expect her to chicken out. She wanted me to know she hadn't. I always wondered if I'd cry at a time like this but crying was the farthest thing from my mind. I sat at the dining table and opened the picture again. Only twelve minutes had passed! I knew she wouldn't fuck him no matter how attractive he was. That would put me in the lead again. I took small comfort in that knowledge.

I rested my face in my hands. Lalo came down the hall from the bedroom to lay at my feet. On my phone Lisa's manicured hand gripped a fat, hard cock and there was nothing to be done about it. I dimmed my phone. I moved to the couch. I found a replay of John Wick on HBO and stared at the screen.

One hundred and one minutes later, Lalo left the couch to stare at our front door. Minutes later, Lisa's key hit the lock. I was on my feet when she came through the door.

She wore the dress from the picture, dark blue with tiny yellow flowers, perfectly in focus now. Our eyes met and we both held our breath. I half expected her to tell me it was over anyway. After a moment, I realized she was waiting for the same announcement from me.

She looked amazing. Her blonde hair was slightly messy and her eyes slightly red from watering. Her lips were slightly swollen. If I hadn't known how she spent her evening, I'd never have suspected. The top few buttons on her dress were undone and a hint of cleavage teased the eye.

She said: "Hi," and her eyes sparkled and my heart exploded.

I have no memory of crossing the distance between us but then she was in my arms and we were hugging fiercely and then kissing and her mouth tasted like Saltine Crackers and I could not have cared less. Lisa was in my arms again, back from the dead, smelling like faded perfume and Axe body spray for men and recently dried sweat. I kissed and kissed and kissed her and she returned every kiss with passion.

I got hard. I got incredibly hard.

She felt it against her hip and grabbed it, squeezing me in her fist. I dove at her buttons and she attacked my belt.

Bored, Lalo wandered to the kitchen.

Our clothing exploded off us and then she was naked and heart-achingly gorgeous and I picked her up and set her soaked pussy down onto my erection. I fucked her standing up and then slammed her against the wall and fucked her some more and then drove her into the couch and fucked her some more.

We went insane.

Our moans and groans filled the room. We attacked each other with a desperate urgency and a burning need. Her long hair flew around and I started to sweat. I fucked her hard and deep and she urged me on. She came right away but I didn't stop. I rolled onto my back and she hammered her hips down against mine and soon came again, tossing her head and mauling her own tits.

She had been with another man!

That knowledge blended in with my loneliness, my fears, my frustrations, and my relief, and fueled a manic rush of lust. I had no doubt he'd put his hands on her. I would have. Lisa is far too beautiful to not at least make the attempt. He'd touched her and she'd let him because she's a woman and not a robot. She'd let him and she'd enjoyed it. We all saw his throbbing desire. My wife had been with another man and somehow I wanted her more because of it.

I gazed up at her. She looked spectacular, beautiful, painfully sexy. I ran my hands over every inch of flesh I could reach and she shivered with desire, moaning at my hungry touch.

We lost ourselves in ourselves. I moved her to all fours and pounded her from behind and when her cries of a third climax rang in my ears, I lost control and spewed a hot fountain of semen deep inside her. We fell to the carpet, sweaty, breathing hard, and keeping our bodies pressed as tightly to each other as we could.

I hesitated to speak. The moment was perfection. I curled my arm around her body and brought my hand up her stomach to cup a breast. I was torn between wanting details and wanting to put this all behind us. Unsure, I said nothing. She remained silent too, no doubt lost in all her own complex thoughts and emotions. There's not exactly a road map for moments like this. We snuggled and cuddled and let sweet calm wash over frayed nerves.

Soon, I started to get hard again.

She felt it and turned to face me, a puzzled expression twisting her eyebrows. I was as surprised as she.

She rolled onto her back and spread shapely legs as an invitation. I moved up between them and sank into her and her legs folded behind me. We kissed, less energetically than before but with equal passion, and I began a slow, drawn out rising and falling.

Face to face now, I saw something in her eyes I could not name. Not exactly amusement but related, and more than pleasure. I saw something mischievous, something naughty. It sank beneath the surface as our lovemaking intensified, replaced by deep longing, relief, and joy.

I awoke before dawn and took her again and, again, it was, hot, fast, and furious. We were driven, spurred on by a wild mix of conflicting emotions.

Chapter 6

"Should I buy this jacket?" Dwayne asked.

"Why ask me?" I replied. "I have no fashion taste whatsoever."

"Good point. Where are the girls?"

We were in a Goodwill thrift store with shelves higher than I am tall, so I climbed on a display to get a better view. I did a slow turn, shielding my eyes from an imaginary sun. Both were in the corner, flipping through large oil paintings leaned against a wall.

"Yonder. Beyond the area rugs and housewares. They seem to think they know something about fine art."

"God. Let's pull them away before Sherri brings home a Grand Canyon sunset or some such shit."

“Leave the jacket on and see what they say.”

I took a step forward but Dwayne put his hand on my arm.

“Hang on. While we have a moment, may I ask you some personal questions? If it’s too private just tell me to fuck off.”

I shrugged. We checked around to make sure we were alone. The girls were completely occupied.

“That night,” he began. “I want you to know I fought them on it. Sherri and her crazy ideas. I tried to turn them aside but they were angry.”

“I appreciate that.”

“What happened? After staying with us all week, Lisa packed her stuff early Saturday, gave us both a hug and a kiss and a heartfelt thank you, and drove off.”

He gave me a blank stare.

“And?”

“And what happened? Did she meet some guy? Did she chicken out?”

He was burning with curiosity but trying to be respectful. I rubbed my chin.

“She met some guy.”

“Wow. For sure? I mean, I could see her getting a drink to kill time and then telling you she did it. That’s what I thought she was going to do.”

“I thought that too. Until this arrived.”

I pulled out my phone and discretely showed him the dick picture. His eyes narrowed.

“That’s Lisa’s hand,” he murmured. “Those are her rings.” He leaned closer for a better look and studied the photograph exactly the way I had. I know he saw her saliva coating the veiny shaft. “Fucking A.”

“Yup.”

He took one long, last look. “Did you lose your shit?”

“Pretty much. Strangely, I didn’t feel like crying as much as I wanted to hit somebody. It was torturous. I was filled with angst and anguish. I paced the apartment, yelling.”

“Understandable. Did you guys fight when she got home?”

I glanced to make sure the girls were still busy. “That’s where things get weird, D. She said hello and then we fucked like savage animals.”

His eyebrows shot up.

“Right then and there. I fucked her standing up. I fucked her against the wall. I fucked her on the couch. She met me growl for growl, giving as good as she received. We were maniacs.”

“I don’t get it.”

“Neither do we. All that soup of suffering I endured mixed with whatever else was going on beneath the surface and turned my dick to stone. We don’t talk about it. We still haven’t talked about it. I want to know nothing about the guy. We had sex again right after and then in the morning before sunrise. We’ve fucked every day since.”

“What the hell? How does that happen?”

I said nothing. He was thoughtful, trying to make sense of it.

“You know,” he smirked. “Lisa’s hand on that dick is actually pretty sexy.”

I laughed. “You fucking asshole.”

“I am, I know, but that’s intense hardcore shit. That dude’s big too.”

“Thanks for the reminder.”

“I also want to say how impressed I am with how you’re handling all this.”

“The fuck-up was mine.”

“Yeah, but still.”

“But nothing. When it’s his fault, a man takes his lumps. I deserved it. Don’t tell Sherri I said so, but she was right. It was awful, but she was right.”

“Fuck no, telling her she’s right is the last thing I want to do. I’ll never hear the end of it. Can I see that picture again?”

I flicked his ear hard enough to make him wince.

We cut through children’s clothing and circled around the furniture department.

“Nice jacket,” Sherri said when she saw us.

I turned to him. “Get it.”

Lisa stepped away from the paintings to come snuggle under my arm. I wrapped both arms around her and hugged.

“Easy, lovebirds,” Sherri teased. “This is a family store. There are children present and if they see you guys hug then they’ll want love from their mothers and I ask you to take a look around; these miserable women do not have time for that shit.”

Sherri showed Dwayne a painting of Yosemite at dawn and said she liked it. I choked on my laugh.

We wandered the store and Dwayne mentioned this would be a great place to shop for Halloween costumes and I agreed. Beyond the racks of used kid's toys, we found a beauty aisle and the girls started trying on goofy wigs and hats. Most looked absurd but then Lisa tucked her hair under a black bob that came to just beyond her chin. I was stunned. She pretended to be a Russian spy and shot Dwayne and Sherri with her fingers while turning her head like she was in danger. All three laughed. Not me. I was too busy staring.

"You should buy that one, Baby. That looks amazing. You've transformed into a different person."

"You just want to pretend you're fucking someone else," Sherri teased.

I froze, worried for a second that was too soon and things were about to get ugly. Lisa did not react so I played along.

"Look at her for Christ's sake," I said. "Who wouldn't? She's exquisite."

Dwayne and Sherri looked at Lisa in a new way and Lisa looked at herself in the mirror. She tilted her head and played with the black hair a little and a smile spread.

"Gary's right," Dwayne added. Good man. "That hairstyle works with your chin and cheekbones."

Sherri nodded thoughtfully. "I have no idea when you'd use it but the boys are correct. Maybe you should just cut and dye your hair?"

I covered my heart with both hands. Lisa laughed.

"No, Gary loves my hair long like this." She was scrutinizing her face in the mirror and thinking hard. "I think I will buy the wig, though. It's only five bucks and who knows? Maybe we'll find something fun to do with it."

"You get that one and I'll buy this hot pink version. Maybe I'll get a part-time job as a stripper."

"You'd make a truckload of cash," Dwayne said.

Sherri patted his cheek. "You are such a good boy," she said.

They kissed.

We moved on to Kitchenware.

Chapter 7

“Little black dress or denim skirt and plaid shirt?”

Lisa hung the skirt and shirt on the bar and turned to her jewelry display. She lifted a silver necklace of interlocking hoops and held it to her neck. “Along with my silver hoop earrings? What you think?”

“I think you could be smeared with owl shit and still look fabulous.”

She cocked her hips in one direction and her head in the other, exasperated. I made myself concentrate, picturing the ensemble.

“Yes,” I said. “It will work beautifully.”

Beyond her I saw the black wig, purchased two weeks earlier, resting on a shelf.

“Maybe you should try that tonight,” I said, pointing. “The black hair with the black dress would look hot.”

She turned to see where I was indicated and lifted the wig. She left the closet and stood before the bathroom mirror, pulling the wig on and quickly stuffing her mass of blonde hair under. As she tucked the last few strands, I held my breath. She looked hot but I wanted her to make the decision.

“Hand me my dress,” she said.

I did. She stepped out of her shorts and tube top and stepped into the dress. The twist of her shoulders meant I needed to pull up the zipper in back. She shoved her pert tits up and shifted the fabric a little higher, revealing more thigh. I barely recognized her.

“Fuck yeah,” she murmured. She searched her makeup trays for specific items and began applying dark eye shadow and deep red lipstick. Once finished, she stepped back and faced me.

“Breathtaking,” I admitted, and meant it.

“I don’t even look like me,” she said.

“You don’t. You look European. Maybe Ukrainian. Like your name should be Natalia and you have a derringer in your purse.”

She laughed hard. “Right? I look badass. Tomorrow let’s go buy me a gun.” She studied herself. “Wait. Unzip me.”

She took off the dress and her old bra and put on a new black lace bra that gather boob flesh from all over. She fastened the clasp in front and then put the dress back on. She undid a button to show more cleavage and then another.

“I love this bra.”

I saw why she said it. Her tits looked bigger than ever. She undid another button but that showed too much under-boob and bra so she refastened it.

“Okay,” she said. “Out. I need to get ready.”

Fine with me. I got on the computer to kill time. I heard the shower run and the blow dryer briefly. After an hour or so she yelled she was ready. I logged off.

She looked implausibly gorgeous.

Her eyelids were smoky and her lips ruby. Her tits popped out at me. She’d added sheer, seamed stockings with thin black lines running up the backs of her legs.

“Wow!” The word flew out of my mouth. “Like, wow. Jesus.”

She was giggling.

“What the fuck, Lisa? That’s crazy. You’re absurdly beautiful.”

“Lisa?” she teased. “I’m sorry, sir, you have me confused with another. My name is Natalia.”

Fucking fine with me.

“Yes, ma’am. I believe dinner awaits.”

“Good,” she said, momentarily lapsing back to Lisa. “I’m starving.”

On the drive to the restaurant, every time I mistakenly called her Lisa she corrected me. I got it after a while and made no more errors.

The restaurant was busier than we expected so I dropped her at the front to put our names on the waiting list and went to look for parking. When I entered the restaurant, there was a crowd in the lobby but no Natalia. I worked around the outside edge, searching.

I did find her, finally, standing at the bar, drink in hand, talking to some suited thirty-something guy I didn’t recognize. He was flirting with her like crazy but she deflected. Good girl. She looked fantastic and I enjoyed watching the guy try so hard. I was flattered. I didn't blame him at all.

Natalia saw me watching and gave me a funny bug-eyed stare like Come rescue me, but I stood and admired for another moment. She gave me another look I ignored and then she gave me an Oh, it's like that, is it? look and laughed at something he said and touched his coat sleeve. My brain tried to back out of my skull through my ears and almost sucked my eyes with it. I'm not sure what my face did but Natalia had to cover a laugh with her hand. Suit made a grand jest at that moment and Natalia let herself laugh, but I knew she was laughing at my face, so to speak.

Okay, Natalia, you win.

I took a step towards her but Suit said something that genuinely caught her attention so I stopped. Now that he had her he poured it on. I saw him speaking earnestly and Natalia gobbling up whatever lines he dished. She even watched his mouth while he was speaking. If a girl watches your mouth when you speak, you've got her. She's yours. Jealousy curled around my brainstem like a serpent.

He leaned forward an inch or two and spoke important words and Natalia gazed into his eyes. He tipped her chin up with a gentle finger, as if to kiss.

That broke the spell.

Natalia suddenly remembered where she was and what she was doing. She chuckled politely and glanced over at me and, surprised as if seeing me for the first time, waved me over. I acted like I'd just seen her too and cut a direct path to my wife.

She introduced me to Travis and we shook hands but he was not pleased to see me. He spoke of his work in the financial world and I mentioned how awesome our marriage was. Soon he checked his watch and wished us good night. Natalia thanked him for the drink.

The pager in her purse went off so we headed for the hostess who escorted us to our table. Natalia turned heads the whole way.

Waiter, menu, choices.

I watched her closely. After he left with our selection, our eyes met over the centerpiece candle.

"That was interesting," I said.

"You think?" Coy.

“I think Travis fell in love with you the moment he saw you.”

“Natalia does often affect men that way. Jealous?”

“A little, yeah. It looked like he had you for a minute there.”

“I was flattered. He’s quite handsome.”

“Plot twist; I was flattered too. All these women and he picks my lovely wife.”

“So we both got what we wanted.”

“What’s missing?”

“You, beneath me, legs spread.”

She grinned. “Natalia is feeling a little heated.”

I surveyed the restaurant. “I parked far out in the parking lot.”

She took a moment but then understood. “I’d love to see that parking spot.”

I waved the waiter over. “She must make a call,” I lied. “And I must use the restroom. Hold our food?”

“Of course, sir.”

I stood and Natalia joined me. We almost ran to the car. I moved three rows farther out while she worked the stockings down her legs. We met in the back seat.

Hot, fast, and furious.

What was going on?

Something was happening to us and for us.

She left her stockings tossed over the driver’s seat and we returned to our table. Moments later our food arrived and we gorged ravenously.

Later, at home, we fucked to exhaustion.

Chapter 8

For me, work. For her, work and school.

Two weeks passed while we did our thing. Lisa found out about a contest last minute and took second place.

Sherri and Dwayne visited twice and we played cards the first night and went night swimming in the apartment pool the other. Sherri and Lisa in bikinis are national treasures and D and I had a good time watching the husbands and wives at the pool. The men would try to look but not get caught and the wives would try to watch the husbands while pretending they were above caring.

Back at the apartment I thought Lisa would mention her night out as Natalia but she didn't so I left it alone. Once they were gone I asked her why she was silent.

"I don't know. I liked that it was our thing. I liked the secrecy. The whole night had an air of mystery and intrigue to it. How many dates have we had like that? Don't bother thinking about it. The answer is zero. If it's all right with you I'd like to keep it our thing."

"Works for me."

"Want to do it again next weekend?"

"That works for me too."

I don't know what I expected but I was nervous all week. Maybe I was just eager to see Lisa become Natalia again.

Saturday arrived and she left for the mall to do some shopping. She returned hours later with several large bags.

She'd heard about a warehouse party on Midway Drive and gotten an address, but it took me forty-five minutes to find the place.

Natalia wore furry pink boots to her knees, white sparkly booty shorts, and a sheer fluorescent pink top that accentuated breast movement, jiggling with each step. She drew bright pink and green lines across her face, arms, and legs. Her stark black hair set the whole outfit off and I realized that was her plan all along.

The warehouse was all the way in the back of a cluster of warehouses, and under the flight path of airliners arriving to San Diego airport. The parking for it was around the corner so we had to walk. As we crossed the asphalt, Natalia stopped and kissed me.

"Let's pretend we don't know each other," she said.

I lifted an eyebrow.

"Let's act like we don't know each other. Give me a head start and then come find me. You want to flirt with Natalia?"

"Fuck yes. Natalia is hot."

"Sweet! Our night will have a hot one-night-stand vibe."

"That sounds fun. Let's try it."

“Yay! Thanks, Baby. Let me have enough time to get lost in there.”

We kissed again. I found the door to get in hidden behind a dumpster and I opened it and waved her through. I shut the door and leaned against the stucco wall, pulling out my phone to surf and kill time. I got involved with a rekt thread on 4chan and then switched to a You Save You Lose thread. More time passed than I intended. I put my phone away and opened the door.

A long drab hallway greeted me with double doors twenty feet down. Beyond those was another twenty-foot gap and another set of double doors. When I passed through those, I heard the low wub wub wub of dance music. The walls vibrated.

The last door opened onto a fantastic sight. The owners had converted an old airplane hangar into a party. Thousands of lights, dozens of dry ice smoke machines, and a dance area so big four DJs spun simultaneously, one in each corner. Centered on the dance floor was a huge cloud of dry smoke fed from a massive tube high above. A column of gray mist poured down. Shapeless bodies writhed within.

That's where Natalia will be.

I took my shirt off and tucked it into my jeans in back. I waded into the foggy madness. Twenty minutes later I knew; Natalia might be in here somewhere, but I'll never find her. The smoke poured out like Niagara Falls and in the still hangar air it piled on top of itself. The only clear air was at the far edges of the hangar. I exited the fog.

I wandered aimlessly, looking for my wife but taking in the amazing sight of hot young rave women everywhere. I'd thought Natalia's outfit racy but soon discovered compared to these girls she was conservatively attired. After an hour, most girls began removing their bikini tops to reveal sparkly or glowing stickers covering their nipples.

I stumbled onto a guy selling bottled water out of a handcart and bought two. I did a lap outside the smoke but saw no sign of Natalia so I headed back in.

I found her.

She and another girl danced together in a ring of guys. She'd taken her pink top off and tied it around a thigh. Her firm breasts were covered with sweat and she'd gotten two stickers of her own from someone; small, glittering butterflies covered each nipple. The other girl looked Indian and danced with only a sari around her waist. Her bare tits were smaller than Natalia's but nicely shaped. The guys watched, riveted, but respectful. Rave crowds are so much cooler.

Natalia hadn't noticed me so I held back. She looked incredible and her new girlfriend thought so too, dancing close before backing away. On her next pass, Natalia reached her mouth out and they kissed. Natalia's hands went to bare breasts and they stopped dancing long enough to kiss.

Hot.

Both girls felt each other up. I watched in awe. Natalia certainly wasn't Lisa. Lisa would never do something like this. The sexy drama continued until Indian girl turned Natalia away and kissed her neck before sliding a hand down her belly and under the elastic waistband of her white booty shorts. I expected Natalia to pull away but she only leaned into the girl.

Some of the boys moved closer.

Natalia opened her eyes and searched the crowd and of course I was sure she searched for me but I choose to remain buried in the throng.

More of the boys moved closer.

Indian and Natalia danced with a shared rhythm, half-naked and sweaty bodies undulating, until Indian girl reached out and gripped a boy's wrist, pulling his hand forward and onto Natalia's tit. My wife, surprised, opened her eyes to see who touched her but apparently liked the boy's face because she merely smiled and closed her eyes again. The young man kneaded my wife's breast.

I felt excitement and anxiety. She looked undeniably sexy, sexier, maybe, than I'd ever seen her, and that was exciting, but she also had another man touching her and clearly loved his touch, and that worried me.

More boys moved closer.

Natalia felt their presence and cool crowd or not, guys will be guys. She got nervous. She sent her gaze around the crowd, searching, and this time I stepped forward enough for her to spot me. I was expecting her to swat the hand on her tit away or at the least turn her body but she did neither. Instead, she studied me. A slight smile curled her mouth. She looked down at the hand on her tit and back up to me, amused.

If I was going to do nothing, she seemed to think, why should she?

If she was trying to force my reaction, she was in for a surprise. I stayed where I was, watching, gently moving to the beat. I wondered if she was trying to goad me into action, intentionally making me jealous. A second young man cupped her other tit and Indian girl, from behind, began to nibble on my wife's earlobe. Natalia's eyes fluttered. I watched her and she watched me watching her. The pleasure on her face and excitement in her eyes got to me.

A young Indian man appeared from the smoke and wrapped his arms around the Indian girl. He spoke into her ear and she nodded once and kissed my wife on the neck before backing away. The crowd swallowed them both.

Alone now, Natalia drifted away from the pawing boys and towards me. As they realized, one by one, her connection to me, they turned and disappeared into the mist.

My topless wife pressed her butterfly tits against my chest.

"Did you like that?" she drawled.

"Very sexy."

"Are you mad?"

"No. Were you trying to make me mad?"

"No."

She pulled my mouth down to hers and kissed me, her hot, wet tongue snaking into my mouth.

"You let those guys touch your tits."

"No, Natalia did. She's a wild girl. She carries a derringer in her purse."

Fair enough. I could insist she was Lisa, my wife, and, like a jackass, lodge a formal protest, or I could calm the fuck down and roll with it. What harm was done? Besides, if Lisa was having this much fun playing Natalia, why would I be a dick and end it? To what end?

"She is a wild girl. I like that about her."

Her eyes flashed wide. "Is that right?"

She kissed me deeply before I could answer and dropped her hand to the front of my pants, squeezing my half-swollen penis. No, Natalia was absolutely not Lisa. Lisa may participate in bikini contests and parade around in front of strangers, but a public display like grabbing my dick was something Lisa would never do.

After the kiss, she said she was thirsty so I led her back to the water guy. I left my shirt off but so did she and I loved watching guys break their necks as she wandered by. All those hot girls there and my wife still stood out. We drank our waters fast and returned to the foggy area.

We danced until we could no longer move.

We helped each other across the parking lot as the sun was peaking over the mountains and she fell asleep with her head in my lap on the drive home. Yes, I got hard with her face that close to my dick.

I got us both undressed, clothing on the floor, wig on the bathroom counter, and into bed, skipping the shower for now. I expected we'd sleep but she woke enough to realize where she was and vacuumed my dick into her mouth. I slipped a finger down and discovered her hole was slimy with wetness, soaked on a level I'd rarely seen. That made me more excited than I already was and I popped my penis out of her mouth and flipped her over. She lifted her ass and spread her cheeks.

"Fucking ram it in, Baby!" she growled. "Get it in me."

I sank into her smoldering cunt and the intense sensations rolled my head around on top of my neck. Shivers of pleasure jangled my nerves. She was steaming hot and wet. Her back arched and I grabbed her round butt to balance and began slamming my dick home, smearing the lines of color she'd drawn on her body hours earlier. Her yelps and cries of delight drove me. Images of her dancing in fog flashed in my mind.

"All those guys...wanting you...touching you..."

She groaned.

"Squeezing your firm tits...staring at your body..."

She started breathing hard through her mouth, constant moans bubbling up from her throat. I looked down at her writhing body. I pulled my dick out and backed away. Her head snapped around in a panic.

"Why'd you stop?" Her voice was a whine.

"Put your wig back on," I said, firmly.

She scrambled out of bed. A minute later she exited the bathroom, transformed. She still wore enough makeup to complete the change.

"On your back," I said, pointing at the bed. She hurried to comply. "Spread your legs. Wider. Spread your fucking legs, Natalia. Show me you're a slut."

Her eyes rolled back and she grabbed her legs behind the knee, pulling herself open beyond what her legs alone could do. It was lewd and obscene and it shamed her but thrilled us both.

“Holy Christ you’re hot. Keep your legs like that.”

She whimpered, humiliated and embarrassed and wildly aroused. Her eyebrows knotted and her top teeth dropped like a pearly curtain over her bottom lip. Her slit glittered like I’d swabbed it with honey.

“Look at me,” I said. I wanted to see her face framed by that black bob.

She lifted her head and looked down the length of her body. To see herself so indecently displayed excited her even more. Her gaze reached my erection and her ribs sagged a little.

“Put it in me,” she begged. “Fuck me, Baby. I need it. Put it in me.”

I’d reached my limit too. I leaned over and shoved my penis deep. Her pussy wrapped around me like a squid, hotter than a blast furnace. I held myself over and started to move, quickly reaching speed until I just hammered my poor little wife beneath me. She was more than eager. A hammering cock was exactly what she craved. She shocked me by how fast she climaxed and surprised me with another only minutes later. I couldn’t hold back. The sweet sounds of her orgasm rocked me and I emptied my frothy load inside her.

Sleep gobbled us both.

Chapter 9

We now had a dirty little secret. We avoided discussing the matter, like asking too many questions would jinx us or break the spell, but about once every two weeks Natalia would make an appearance. We’d get dressed and head for dinner at a nice restaurant or dancing at an upscale club. Natalia and I would act like we didn’t know each other and I watched as she worked the room. The guys were just thunderstruck and she turned on as many girls as she pissed off.

Each time we got home we fucked like crazy.

On one trip, Natalia made out with a gorgeous black girl. On another she found herself in the middle of a circle of hot, muscular guys all trying to cop a feel. Some succeeded.

Once, she was sandwiched between an attractive married couple who danced ever closer until the wife kissed her lips. When she turned, the husband did the same.

That got to me like a kick in the balls. I winced as their lips met and Natalia did not pull away. The wife took her back and I gasped for breath but then the husband turned her once more and another kiss, this time with passion and tongue, electrified the air. When the kiss broke Natalia locked eyes with me, watching, waiting. As I stood there breathless but immobile, she grabbed the back of the man's neck and pulled his mouth down for another.

It's not Lisa, it's Natalia, I told myself, although I needed little convincing.

The three of them moved off the dance floor to a dark corner. I grew quickly frustrated by what I could not see. I found a position on a balcony above that provided a view, but then they were leaving their hiding place and headed for a table. I took a spot across from them, eyeing Natalia as she eyed me.

At home that night, she was insatiable. I never asked what happened in that dark corner, but by her voracious appetite, I knew something did.

We flirted with danger. I believed the little sexy game we played tapped into the raw hurt we'd suffered. I wondered if the mischief we relished with Natalia allowed us to flirt with that deep hurt, but in a safe and controlled way.

Maybe.

There was more to it than that. Lisa obviously has an exhibitionist streak, and I am clearly comfortable with that. My ego loves how badly other men want her and my penis loves what that want does to her.

We saw Sherri and Dwayne several times but told them nothing.

More time passed and our game continued.

One Saturday night found us at a dive bar near the community college. Lisa had seen it on a drive home and Natalia had made a mental note. We arrived in the same car, as always, but I delayed while she went inside.

As soon as I entered she walked up beside me and spoke, her voice low. She was clearly trying to hide from someone.

“Head back to the car,” she murmured. “I’ll be right there.”

Before I could ask any questions, she veered off for the lady’s room. I headed back to our car and surfed the Internet until she emerged minutes later.

“What’s going on?” I asked as she entered the car.

She gave me a hard look, debating.

“Danny is here tonight.”

“Awesome,” I joked. “Who’s Danny?”

“He’s a guy from one of my classes.”

I still didn’t get it. “What’s the problem?”

She searched my eyes, hoping the light bulb switched on.

It did. “Oh.”

“Yeah. I’d rather you two don’t meet. Ever”

Danny. Now I had a name. I wondered about a face.

“No,” she said, reading my mind.

I was curious and queasy at the same time.

“I’m not comfortable running away,” I said. “It makes me less of a man. Is it possible the thing is far enough behind us now? Have you spoken to him since that night? Hung out with him after class?”

She gave me a scathing look.

“I thought not. I’m just trying to guess his mind.”

“Can we just go home?”

I ran my eyes over her. “You look too good to waste, Natalia, and remember, he won’t recognize you. He’ll have no idea.”

Her eyes lit up. That thought hadn’t occurred.

“You could stand right next to him, talk to him, even, although I’m not encouraging that at all, and he won’t know it’s you. You don’t need to run away.”

An impish grin spread but quickly became a straight line. “You won’t get upset?”

“How could I? The place is packed. I have no idea who he is. I don’t want to know who he is, so don’t tell me. Let’s just have fun and ignore him.”

The impish grin returned. “It does add an extra kick to the night, doesn’t it?”

“Like a mule,” I agreed.

She leaned over to give me a peck on the cheek before leaving the car. I watched her round ass sway across the parking lot and disappear inside.

Of course, I’d be watching her like a hawk, trying to guess who he was. I prayed she succeeded in deceiving me. I wanted to know but I desperately did not want to know. I needed him to remain a blank spot in my mind and I now had a name I never wanted. I wanted nothing more but knew I’d be unable to stop myself from trying to deduce who he was. I’m so stupid.

I gave her an extra fifteen minutes. I don’t know why. I sat thinking about that night, now that I was forced to, and wondering why she’d chosen that particular guy. He had to be good looking. The picture on my phone showed he was clearly bigger than me. Had she known he was bigger before she made her choice? Did she pick him because he is bigger? That sent a chill down my spine. How well had she known him before she sucked his cock? Had he asked her out? Pestered her? Did she want him too and use that night as an excuse to finally share something intimate with him, knowing it was for one night only?

I would have, in her shoes.

I left the car.

Tonight was different. I felt it. Our little game had a super-charged air about it. I felt nervous.

The bar was a combination of barnyard implements hanging on the walls and NFL sports memorabilia everywhere else. There was a small section for tables and food was served, a small section for sports and wide screens dotted the walls, and a larger, darker section for people to mingle and drink. I suspected Natalia would be drinking but I scanned the smaller sections to be sure.

Three steps down and I entered the bar area. The place was loud and crowded. There had to be a thousand potential guys for her. Any of these dudes could be the one. I took my time circling, looking for her, but I saw nothing.

I found an archway that led to another dark room with three red felt pool tables centered and lit by overhead spots. I did a slow pass, keeping to the shadows.

There she was.

She sat on a barstool with her back against the wall and a tall drink in her hand. Four guys ringed her, each doing their best to be charming. Instinctively, I guessed none of the four was her guy.

She'd worn a new little black dress tonight, shorter, tighter, and she displayed a lot of leg. The front laced with back and forth string to a couple inches below her breasts. She'd loosened the laces to show some extra cleavage. If she noticed me as I swept by, she did not show it.

I took a spot at the end of the bar that allowed me to see her with minimal effort. Tonight definitely was different. It was like we knew a shark swam in the ocean waters around us. We were both on guard.

One by one, guys came up and rolled the dice only to be shot down. Natalia looked amazing and plenty of young men approached her, but she seemed afraid to play. It took almost an hour but eventually every guy gave up.

I order another beer for me and a screwdriver for her. I approach and hand her the drink. Every guy there had his eyes glued to me.

"A girl should never accept a drink from a man she doesn't know," she cautions.

"It's the only way I could get the drugs into your bloodstream."

She guffaws into her glass and we chat as if meeting for the first time. Twenty minutes later, she leaves with me, her arm through mine, and every man there is looking at me like I'm a wizard.

Chapter 10

Natalia was quiet as I drove us home.

"Not how I wanted this night to go," she said quietly.

"Me either."

"What happened? We were ready for fun."

“You chickened out,” I said. “You got nervous and self-conscious and turned tail.”

She scoffed.

“You reverted to Lisa in a black wig.”

I felt her tense. My words sounded harsh as I heard myself say them. We rode in an uncomfortable silence for a time.

“He was in the crowd,” she said.

“But Lisa wasn’t. He couldn’t know you were there.”

“But you were,” she snapped.

“I don’t know who he is.”

“Gary, both of you in that small room was intimidating, regardless of whether you know each other. I know both of you. It was frightening and upsetting.”

I tried to see it from her point of view. “I get it,” I said after a moment.

We drove in silence a while. She was staring out the passenger window when she spoke: “I get your point too, Baby. Natalia could have handled that situation. I should have trusted her.”

She looked down at her sexy black dress, long thighs and hint of cleavage.

“Turn around.”

I flashed a quizzical look. “And go where?”

“Go back. Natalia’s not ready to call it a night.”

I wondered what she had planned but didn’t challenge her. The night was young. As we pulled into the parking lot she had me drop her at the door and go park.

“Take your time walking back. Give me a chance to find a seat.”

We shared a peck of a kiss and I pulled the car up to the curb. She shut the door without looking back. The lot had more cars in it now so I had to drive around a while. I finally found a spot in an overflow lot and walked three blocks back to the bar.

Natalia was playing pool, which in that short dress was a treat for everyone. A crowd of college guys watched and a line of quarters ran along the cushion rail. Her opponent was a tall jock with dark brown hair and big hands. I wondered if he was the guy from her photo but then stopped myself. There were far too many guys here tonight. I’d drive myself crazy trying to guess. I ordered a beer and hung back, watching my wife play the part. Natalia had been good for her. She had much more confidence these days and her sex drive was off the charts. I guess Natalia had been good for me too.

She flirted like crazy and the guys ate it up. I couldn't tell if she'd spotted me yet so maybe this act was for my benefit but maybe not. A young man approached her with a drink, a screwdriver, and she pointed to her barstool and purse. I saw two screwdrivers there already, untouched. Simple minded idiots.

The longer I watched her, the hornier I got. These guys were ravenous. I know the signs. I loved how many men were willing to roll the dice and try to score with her. My wife had drawn a crowd. What an ego rush for her. What an ego rush for me. She rejected no one and encouraged, gently, all.

This was more like it. I knew all this attention had to be getting to her. The guys were practically salivating over her. When we got home I'd find her already wet.

A waitress brought her a screwdriver and carried away the other three. Good girl. Natalia sucked up half the glass in one pull and the guys laughed. Natalia lost the game but the next guy stood up and the winner sat down. I looked again at that line of quarters; those were guys waiting their turn to play with her. My wife.

Time passed and Natalia lost again and again, but each time the winner sat. Natalia moved around the table, stretching and leaning, exposing legs and tits and even some curve of butt cheek. She'd move between spectators, rubbing her body fully on theirs. More drinks arrived and quickly vanished. She leaned her back against one man's stomach. She laid her head on another man's chest. The men inched closer.

My temperature kept rising. I was jealous, I can't deny that, but it was an exquisite pain, a mix of pride and fear and lust. I kept telling myself it didn't matter what she did with them, she was coming home with me. The hotter they made her the better our sex would be later tonight.

Finally, she said she needed a break and suggested some of the other guys play each other. Several men crowded around her, her petite body lost like a flower among redwoods, and their conversation darted around, everyone trying to be clever, everyone laughing. I couldn't hear their words but I read their body language. She poured another screwdriver down her throat.

One of the guys said something which Natalia took as a playful challenge. She stood tall and pointed up at him.

He leaned down and kissed her.

Bold move, mother fucker.

Natalia gave him a hard, chastising look but then her expression slowly shifted. She grabbed the front of his polo shirt and pulled him down for another. The guys laughed, cheering her on. From the side, another bold mother fucker turned her chin and kissed her too. This time she returned the kiss instantly. When that kiss ended, my wife began traveling the circle, her lips pressed to the lips of each man in their small group. Some backed out, intimidated or perhaps faithful, but most took the opportunity to kiss my woman. My heartbeat was an earthquake rumbling through my chest, my lungs were tiny sandwich bags trying desperately to get me enough air. A droplet of sweat trickled down my back. Tormented, yet I could not look away.

Natalia opened her eyes during a kiss and her gaze landed on me. She'd known where I was all along. She continued her kiss, even bringing a hand up behind the man's head. Our eyes were locked. I knew our sex tonight would be spectacular.

Natalia stepped back, laughing, and the guys laughed along with her. All in good fun, all in good fun. She fanned herself with a hand and said something about stepping outside for some fresh air. Every guy moved to go with her but she laughed again and pointed at two; Big Hands and some guy wearing a tweed sportscoat. Disappointment showed on the faces of the others. My wife grabbed her purse.

I thought fast. They were headed outside and I could stay where I was and wait and wonder or I could think of a reason to go outside too. Big Hands and Tweed were coming my way with Natalia between them. As she drew near she gave me the most sinful grin I've ever seen. I had no idea that expression was even in her repertoire. Our gaze held as she swept past until I found myself staring and her little round ass.

I turned to the bartender and asked if he sold cigarettes and he said there was a machine in the lobby. I broke a five and he slid me some matches.

I don't smoke.

I waited what I thought was an appropriate amount of time but was probably too brief, bought some cigarettes and stepped outside.

They were leaning against a black SUV in the far corner. I stuck to the wall of the bar and moved until I was across from them and then tried my best to look like I knew how to smoke. I needn't have worried. They were not watching me. Natalia glanced my direction but Big Hands turned her face and kissed her again. Tweed took his turn after.

I fumbled with my prop and pulled smoke into my mouth, careful not to inhale, and then blew it out. Don't worry about me you guys. I have no idea you're even there, making out with my wife. I'm just enjoying a cool, refreshing cigarette.

When Big Hands brought his big hand up Natalia's body to cup her pert breast, I almost choked anyway. She kissed Tweed while Hands caressed her tits and then she switched, kissing Hands while Tweed loosened the laces between her breasts. She arched her back to help him. He pulled the two sides apart and even in the low light, I saw her milky globes appear, topped with small, dark nipples.

All the wind left my lungs. At the rave her areolas had been covered by stickers. A silly distinction, perhaps, but imagined or not there had been a barrier between her bare tits and the guys fondling them. No more. My wife's breasts were out and exposed, caressed by anonymous hands and the cool night air. Tweed lowered his hot mouth to a nipple and I heard Natalia gasp.

I looked at the ground. Holy fuck. My heart pounded madly.

I looked up in time to see Hands lower his mouth to her free nipple. Natalia curled her arms around their heads, her hands on their hair, holding them in place, feeding them her tits. Her eyes opened and she looked across the parking lot at me, her expression barely contained excitement.

Against all good sense and logic, I felt my penis begin to swell.

The men feasted on her sensitive tits, as I would in their position. Natalia's chest heaved with arousal and she held her suitors tight.

Big Hands placed a hand on her naked thigh and inched his way higher. I heard my wife's high-heeled shoe grind on the asphalt as she worked her foot wider, spreading her legs slightly to encourage him. Her ankle knocked her purse over. His big hand disappeared under her short black dress. I couldn't breathe.

Natalia's head fell back against the SUV with a groan. Did she now have a finger inside her? Her brow wrinkled and her jaw fell open. Hands arm began to work. My wife moaned deeply.

The men fed on her like jackals at a carcass, mouths moving from breast to neck to lips to earlobe to neck to breast. Natalia writhed under their attention. She opened her eyes to stare at me again and I saw so much desire, so much lust. She looked preposterously sexy.

A group of people exited the club coming our way. The men covered Natalia with their bodies, hiding her from prying eyes, until the group had started their car and driven away. When they leaned back I saw Tweed had freed his penis, a pink horn of stiff flesh curling up from his zipper. He took Natalia's hand and placed it on his erection and my wife's knees went weak. The men supported her as she began to stroke.

"Get yours out too," I heard her whimper.

Big Hands hurried to obey and now her hands stroked two cocks. All three of them looked down at the action. Her dress had been pushed up enough I saw a small triangle of lacy black panties. Hands covered her pussy again and worked a finger inside her once more. Tweed suckled at her exposed tits.

I was stiff as iron in my jeans.

They stayed like this for a while. Eventually Tweed wanted more and tried to turn her away and maneuver his cock into her from behind but at last she fought him.

"No," she murmured. "I'm married. That's too far. Cum for me."

He relented, instead sending a hand down her back and rubbing and squeezing her lovely ass with one hand while caressing the front of her gorgeous body with the other. Her breathing sharpened as Hands fingered her faster and she braced her legs against them. Her head fell forward as she orgasmed standing up.

Hands pushed his finger deep and looked down at his penis. Moments later stark white liquid flew, spurting from his cock to land on the blacktop.

"Help me," Tweed said.

Natalia was still recovering from her intense climax and when Tweed took her shoulder and pushed down, she did not resist. I held my breath in disbelief. My wife closed her lips around his knob and began to suck and bob as he jacked the shaft. His free hand landed on top of her head, holding her there until his legs quaked and his hips jerked. He grunted, his lips curled in a snarl, and Natalia groaned in appreciative encouragement, no doubt drinking his salty load of sperm. Spasms wracked him as he dumped his seed into her willing mouth. I heard the pop of a vacuum as she came off his dick. He leaned against the SUV, stunned and amazed.

Big Hands chuckled. "That was intense," he said.

"I loved it," my wife agreed, wiping her mouth with both hands.

Tweed was speechless.

Utterly neglected, my cigarette had gone out. I quickly lit another. The group chatted too low for me to hear until the end when Natalia told them to head back in without her, she wanted fresh air. They hugged her and kissed her and departed. She rearranged her clothing and adjusted her panties. She retrieved her purse.

She looked across the parking lot at me.

Lisa would have been mortified. Natalia brazenly grinned.

I watched her walk closer, devouring my sexy woman with my eyes, until she stopped before me. She grabbed the front of my pants, gripping my erection.

"I knew it," she said. Her voice was throaty.

I held her face and kissed her, tasting sperm in her mouth. Tweed coated her teeth, her lips, her tongue. I was repulsed at the same time I was deeply aroused.

"Take me home and fuck me," she exhaled.

I smelled Tweed on her breath.

Chapter 11

Epic. Historic. Momentous. I've yet to find the right words to describe our sex that night. Perhaps transcendent would be the best description? Out of body, maybe? Whatever. Lisa and I connected on levels we did not know we had. In reclaiming my woman, I drove her body into orgasmic exhaustion. I postponed my own climax and used my eternally erect dick to savage her. I reached farther down her throat and deeper inside her pussy than I'd ever gone. It felt so important. Even when she tried to crawl away and rest I followed and possessed her body. I was relentless, demonic.

We awoke around eleven and I fucked her again. I fucked her again after noon. She eagerly gave herself up to be brutalized. She craved my rampant desire as much as her own punishment.

Eventually we showered to meet Sherri and Dwayne for burgers and beer and after ten minutes Sherri demanded answers. Lisa and I never stopped touching. We glowed. We snuggled and cuddled and caressed and kissed until Sherri placed her beer on the table and insisted we tell her what was happening.

"After what you two went through, how is this possible? Are you faking? Are you in denial? How can a couple flourish after suffering such a terrible loss of trust?"

"Just lucky," Lisa said.

"Bullshit. You guys are psychos."

I laughed. "That may be true."

Dwayne steered the conversation to more pedestrian topics but Sherri seethed. I think she was hurt Lisa and I would keep such a big secret from her, but I also think she had a right to be upset.

Lisa and I had fantastic sex for weeks. We'd be in the middle of it and our eyes would meet and we'd know, we'd know the other was thinking about what she did too. I loved seeing the excitement in her eyes. She loved knowing I'd witnessed Natalia's decadence and gotten hard. I'd known what she'd done but I hadn't been close enough to see what she'd done, but my helpful brain provided plenty of images anyway.

The thought of an unfamiliar cock in Natalia's mouth drove me crazy. Images flashed randomly throughout the day and I'd get a massive rush of adrenaline. I'd get jealous and anxious too, stressed at the sight of a hefty, blue-veined member sliding in and out as she gobbled it like ice cream, and whenever I remembered she'd swallowed his ejaculating cum, a spear would pierce my heart and I'd gasp for breath. No matter, it was all an intoxicating mess of excitement.

We were lying in bed after another marathon session, enjoying more afterglow, when Lisa mentioned she felt badly about freezing Sherri out.

"Me too," I agreed. "But she wouldn't understand."

"No, you're right, but I feel like shit for not telling her."

"I don't think you can tell someone something like this."

She nibbled a fingernail nervously, thinking. "What if I showed her? What if she came with me?"

"With you where?"

"Out."

"Explain."

"She bought that hot pink wig like I bought the black one. What if I suggest we have a girl's night out and wear them for fun? Maybe she'll experience something like I did? Maybe she'll connect the dots? If she learns for herself what I experienced, it will make a lot more sense. She wouldn't believe me if I told what we've discovered."

That idea had a ring of truth to it but risked exposing our game. Still, It's Sherri and Dwayne, not some co-worker.

"I think that sounds right," I said. "Do it."

I felt an odd excitement at Natalia going out without me. It was a huge and fundamental shift in our model but mentioned so casually. Did Lisa have ulterior reasons?

Chapter 12

"That was pass interference," Dwayne said.

"Clearly."

D and I sat in my living room Saturday night watching college football. The girls left about half an hour ago and my angst had been steadily growing ever since. They'd had a blast getting ready, acting like goofy schoolgirls, until Sherri was giddy.

Lisa pretended to inventing a lot of Natalia on the spot and suggested Sherri become Scarlett. Natalia was much more conservatively dressed tonight than previous nights out; black business skirt and long-sleeved white dress top. Sherri was a little sexier in denim skirt and sparkly blue top, but not much. To avoid meeting anyone that Natalia may have encountered before, the girls were headed for a new casino club.

Time...passed...slowly.

The game ended and Dwayne said he would crash at home.

"Sherri can stay here if she needs to," I offered.

"Thanks. If she calls, I'll go get her."

We hugged and off he went.

Lalo and I waited patiently. Then Lalo waited patiently while I paced. I checked my phone a hundred times. This was like that night not so long ago, the night Lisa told me she'd be giving a blowjob to someone else. Was she doing that again right now? My heart said Sherri was with her so nothing would happen but my brain said Sherri present could mean something and could mean nothing.

I was asleep on the couch when Lalo's claws on the tile woke me. He stood alert, staring at the bottom of the front door. His wagging tail went crazy when the door opened and the girls entered. I sat up.

Their clothing was disheveled but not wildly. Their hair was messy but not too much. Wigs and makeup still in place but both had guilty eyes.

"Did you have a good time?" I asked.

"Sorry to wake you," Scarlett said. "But we had a fucking blast."

Natalia confirmed with a head nod.

"I gotta pee," Scarlett said and left the room.

I looked to Natalia. "Anything happen?"

"I'll tell you later, when she's gone. Let's shower and get ready for bed, okay?"

Scarlett returned and they spoke of their night, dancing, gossiping, people watching, drinking. They were exhausted but happy. The wigs came off and they were Lisa and Sherri again. Sherri showered first and I put her to bed in the second bedroom, sending D a text she was safe. Lisa showered after and I had just locked our bedroom door when she came up behind me and grabbed my penis.

"I need him in me."

My imagination exploded. I ripped her towel off and pulled her to the bed. Our sex was hot, as it always is after Natalia makes an appearance, but this time I suffered more. My heart ached as my imagination worked overtime. Strangely, the only effect my anguish had was to make me even harder. I sensed I was reclaiming my bride but from whom? It drove me crazy. I was much rougher with Lisa than usual and she liked it, urging me on, driving her nails into my ass. We both came hard.

I drove Sherri home in the morning and when I returned Lisa jumped on me as soon as I stepped through the door. She'd changed into shorts and a T-shirt.

"I promised Sheri I would say nothing but oh my fucking god, that girl went crazy! I'm talking Doctor Jekyll and Mrs. Hyde type shit."

"What about you?" I asked, cutting to what I desperately needed to know. She stopped and gave me the sweetest look.

"Aw, Baby, did you go crazy last night wondering about your little whore Natalia?"

"Yes."

"Sadly, I was a good girl. I had to be to keep an eye on Sherri, I mean Scarlett."

"What happened?"

"She sucked two dicks! On her first night out!"

"At the same time?"

"No. We were dancing and drinking and guys hit on us like crazy. It was awesome. Most of them were foreign and the accents tickled our fancy. This tall German fell in love with her and wouldn't leave her alone. She left with him and came back to tell me Scarlett had blown him in a stairwell. We ditched him and she found a handsome black guy about an hour later who was all into her too. She sucked his cock in his suite before coming back to the club to get me."

"Wow."

"Right? She said it was the wig. She said her costume made her invisible. She said it was like it wasn't even her doing these things."

"Let's see if she feels the same way once she calms down."

"Yeah. I did. Maybe she will too."

"I feel bad for Dwayne."

"Don't. When she was at her most high, dancing and drinking and flying above the clouds, she confessed Dwayne likes her to do the bikini contests because he loves showing her off. She's told him about men hitting on her and he's hinted he wouldn't be angry if something happened. He got the idea from that week I stayed with them and how we made things right. I guess he had a talk with you and that got his mind turning. She's never done anything, until last night, but she's probably telling him everything right now."

I leaned back and smiled. "Birds of a feather."

"Best friends for a reason," she corrected.

She took my hand and led me towards the bedroom. "And now I need some of what I did not get last night."

I followed a few steps before she stopped and faced me. "Did you truly worry I was doing something without you?"

"I did."

"What if I admit now I did?"

"You said you didn't"

"I know. What if that was a lie? What if I was a bad wife?"

I tried to read her but she anticipated me so I couldn't. "I'd take you in this bedroom and fuck your brains out."

"You're about to do that anyway."

I shrugged. She leaned closer.

"Would your desire for me be stronger if I confessed I was wicked last night?"

My balls lifted in my shorts. My dick pulsed. My lips stuck together.

"Yes," I croaked. "Were you?"

She studied my face for what seemed a long time. "Yes."

A titanic wave of adrenaline surged through my veins. My skin and bones burst into flame. Blood poured into my penis, quickly tenting my shorts. I don't know what my face or eyes did, but hers got big. I wanted to start asking questions but I was dizzy from the intoxicating upwelling of carnal need. Jealousy ate me alive.

Maybe she was lying now or maybe she was lying the first time. At this point, I no longer cared. She started backing towards the bedroom, removing clothing as she went. I was breathing heavy already. My hands ached. Her T-shirt came off and I frantically scanned her body for evidence. Her shorts came down and my eyes drilled her pussy.

The bed hit her behind the knees and she rolled backward onto it, pulling her knees up to her chest. I was naked in a heartbeat.

We fucked like animals but I asked no questions and she offered no answers. I left her admission where it was; a single word confession of guilt. Like Danny's name, I wanted no more details.

Chapter 13

I pulled the gas spout from the tank and dropped the lever. I waved to the kids in the convenience store.

Sherri, Dwayne, and Lisa came out with arms full of snacks and the Gatorade to wash it all down. Lisa had a pinwheel to stick out the window while I drove, and Dwayne and Sherri each had old fashioned paddle-ball toys.

Now you see why I call them kids.

Already somewhat adept, Sherri repeatedly bounced her ball of Dwayne's head.

We'd stopped in Primm, Nevada, for gas, on our way to another major bikini contest. Like our girls, many of these contests are the same young ladies traveling around trying to win, trying to break into modeling or build a resume for Hollywood; exposure, exposure, exposure. I see the same faces, and bodies, over and over.

Thanks to social media, Sherri and Lisa already knew more than half of the sign-ups. There is always new local talent and plenty of contests are won by some girl making her first appearance, but more often the same small percentage of girls at the top cycle through the winnings. Lisa and Sherri knew they had a great chance at top finishes for this event.

On the freeway once more, I held Lisa's hand and squeezed. She looked at me and gave a coy grin. We'd never been happier.

In the days following their night out together, I'd been tormented by Lisa's possible infidelity. She saw my suffering and did nothing to alleviate it. Indeed, with subtle comments and well placed innuendo, she'd driven the dagger deep. Even now I still lack certainty. Did Natalia join Scarlett in that stairwell? Did both our ladies visit the black gentleman's suite? If I was forced to choose, I'd say no, she did nothing with those men. That night was all about Scarlett. But somethings truly are better left unsaid, and some mysteries truly are better left mysterious.

What I do know with certainty is the thought haunts me and drives me in ways I'd never predicted. Lisa and I often make love but just as often I fall upon her like a Viking sacking a defenseless village. She loves my barbaric savagery. I hate that another man may have inseminated her faithless womb but, God help me, the idea drives me to staggering carnal heights.

I squeezed her hand again. Her joyful eyes danced.

In the seat behind me I heard Dwayne and Sherri kissing softly. I'd kept my questions few and respectful, like he'd done for me, but from what I gathered she'd confessed everything, everything including some details she'd kept from Natalia. Dwayne was embarrassed to admit it but he was pleased by what Scarlett had done. I told Lisa we needed to introduce them to our little game.

"Baby steps," was all she'd said. I think she likes that we have a secret.

The contest this time was at the Cosmopolitan, one of Vegas's newest and swankiest casinos. Lisa handled the registration desk while the rest of us handled luggage. We met outside the Chandelier Bar and headed to our rooms upstairs.

Once we had everything squared away we went back down for the buffet and stuffed our faces. I am always amazed how much food those two young ladies can put away. Pre-registration opened at six so we played some slot machines for a while and then headed over.

"Wait," I said. "Wedding rings."

"Dang it," Sherri laughed. "Every time." Both girls handed me their rings.

At the desk, they signed up as single while Dwayne and I held back and people watched, which is code for checking out other hot girls.

"Someday that lie will bite them on the ass," Dwayne said, prophetically.

"I tell them to try the married division but they look at me like I'm a stupid man."

"I get that look a lot."

There was a new tension between Dwayne and me; We were aware of each other's wayward wives, but not yet comfortable to openly discuss it. Instead, we tiptoed around certain subjects, giving each other the benefit of silence.

After the girls joined us, we all walked the Strip at night, drinking ridiculous yard-long margaritas. Once we returned to our hotel rooms, which we'd gotten at a fantastic price, Lisa and Sherri planned their outfit program; evening wear, sportswear, bikini. Dwayne and I watched ESPN. I admit I stole glances at Sherri as she tried on different outfits. Those tits are spectacular. Mostly I think of her as a little sister but gorgeous naked boobs are gorgeous naked boobs. Now that I say that I hear how perverted it sounds. I'm hoping you get what I mean. Around midnight D and Sherri went to their own room to crash.

Sunrise found us gulping coffee and formally entering the contest. Dwayne has attended far fewer of these things so his eyes were kind of big and his head on a pivot. Sherri told him to behave.

"Just checking out the competition, Baby, looking for weaknesses to exploit."

Sherri rolled her eyes.

After a few hours, all the girls were arranged by age group and then led backstage to their dressing rooms. Dwayne knew he'd never be allowed so he kissed Sherri and said he'd play slots until the show started. As always, I attempted entrance once more adopting my gay persona. This time the attendant was a young gay man himself and he allowed me through.

"You help your girls win," he added with a smile.

"He likes you," Lisa teased, once we'd left him behind.

We made our way to the assigned dressing rooms. This show started with evening wear so the girls got to work on each other. I helped by keeping all the clothing organized and fetching whatever they needed.

I checked the schedule and then my watch.

"Judge interviews start in twenty minutes," I said. "Better hurry."

Twenty-three minutes later came a knock on the door. I opened it quickly, surprising an older woman with a clipboard.

"I'm here to interview Lisa and Sherri. My name is Nancy."

I waved her in with flamboyant style. "May I present Lisa and Sherri."

The judge laughed and took a seat. I stayed in the corner out of the way.

The next judge was a douche; some rich son or nephew of someone important and he believed that importance extended to him. He flirted and the girls flirted back. I was invisible to the dude since I had nothing he wanted. He finished his questions and departed, never giving his name or asking theirs.

Another knock on the door and I opened to see a familiar face; mister slicked-back gray hair himself. The skipper himself had returned. Great. He was looking down at his clipboard but raised his eyes to mine.

“Lisa and Sherri?”

I waved him in. When the girls saw him, their faces fell. Normally, we don’t see the same judge for years. A constant stream of B-list and C-list celebrities parade through, partnered with some corporate sponsor ding-dong.

This was bad. Exceedingly bad.

He came in and spun a chair and dropped into it backward. Today he wore an expensive looking charcoal suit and burgundy pocket square.

He turned to me. “Why are you back here with them? No men allowed.”

“He’s our gay best friend,” Lisa blurted. “He always comes with us.”

I was sure she wanted me to stay. He eyed me suspiciously but let it go.

“I’m a little surprised to see you two competing again,” he said. “Especially in the singles category.” He raised an incriminating eyebrow.

I’ve rarely seen Lisa so nervous. I know part was the damage he could do to their chances of winning, part was the damage he could do to previous winnings, but part also seemed personal. My mind flashed back to the day, long ago, when I briefly saw her jerk his soft cock before I stormed off. Did something happen then that contributed to her heightened nervousness now? She glanced at me, anxiety clearly behind her eyes. She did not like him and me in the same room together.

Sherri came to the rescue, sort of.

“What’s your name?” she asked.

“Anthony Jonas. Call me Tony.”

“All right,” she continued. “Your point is a good one but the answer is simple: Tony, we need the money. Lisa’s a student and I work part-time. We are struggling. Please don’t turn us in. Just let us compete this last time and we’ll stop.”

He leaned back in his chair, holding all the winning cards and loving it. After a moment, he stood.

“I have a better idea,” he said.

He unzipped his pants looking at Lisa. “You know how this goes. Suck my cock and I’ll let you compete. If both of you suck it, I’ll let you both compete. Does that sound reasonable?”

Mother fucking asshole shithead.

Lisa looked at me briefly before staring at the open zipper hole.

“Sounds reasonable to me,” Sherri chirped. Her hand disappeared through the opening. She grinned and seconds later pulled a long, soft penis into open air. He was circumcised but the shaft was thicker than the head was wide, giving him a tapered look. Lisa stared at it, Sherri stared at it, and I stared at it.

“Let the interview begin,” he said with a chuckle. There was no way out and the girls understood that way before I did.

Sherri lifted him on her palm and opened her mouth. The head slipped in. He put his hand on my wife’s head to gently draw her in and Lisa reluctantly opened her mouth to suck on the tube. She licked up the shaft until her mouth joined Sherri’s.

The sight hit me hard. This was not Natalia. This was Lisa, my wife. I became painfully aware that while disguising herself as Natalia allowed Lisa a measure of protection, I’d been unaware it did the same for me. I’d seen Natalia do salacious things and the disguise allowed me to enjoy it, blissfully unaware of the natural buffer.

Now, my pretty wife closed her mouth around Tony’s wet, pink knob. His cock traveled several inches into her mouth and when her cheeks dented and he moaned, I know exactly what he was experiencing. He was experiencing my pretty wife suck his cock. My brain burst into flame. This was outrageous. My eyes were welded to the slipping and sliding as acid sizzled my heart. Sherri gave up the head to slip underneath and tongue-bathe the swollen tube along the underside. The man grew hard fast.

Lisa straightened her throat and adjusted her tongue and several inches slipped deeper. She was avoiding my gaze, concentrating on the task, trying to make him cum quickly. Because the shaft disappeared into his baggy pants I had no idea how long he was, but he was thick. Sherri came up and the girls traded places. Lisa's pink tongue swabbed up and down his length.

My mind revolted. This was vein-covered reality. I wasn't imagining what my wife might be doing with another. There was zero speculation. That is Lisa. That is a hard cock. I wasn't on the other side of a parking lot in the dark. They were only a few feet away. His dick looked angry. His erection carried a sense of urgency, like someone needed to do something about this right fucking now. The girls worked him over like they placated a tantrum-throwing child, offering every toy until the child calmed. My wife sucked another man's cock and she did it eagerly, with effort to please, bent on ejaculation. My guts were a writhing bag of snakes. I was tortured, tormented, anguished.

The knock on the door scared us all.

"Fifteen minutes," a young, male voice said.

"Thank you," I fired back.

Tony smiled ruefully. "A for effort, girls, but I'm afraid I must leave. Good luck in the show."

He pulled his dick away and noticed me staring.

"You like that, homo?" He held it up for me to see. "I bet you want to suck it too." He stuffed his cock back into his pants. As the girls wiped their mouths dry, he opened the door and left. I closed the door behind him.

"Holy shit," Sherri breathed. "Holy shit."

Lisa wouldn't look at me.

"Hurry," Sherri said. "We can talk about this later. We need to get ready."

Chapter 14

I joined Dwayne but kept my mouth shut about what happened. I figured telling him was Sherri's business. The show started and the first wave walked the stage and when our girls made their pass no trace of the dressing room encounter remained. They were brilliant beams of light filling the room and engaging the crowd. Even Nancy gave a little golf clap. Sportswear was more of the same. The other contestants were good but Sherri and Lisa were great.

By the end of the show four hours later, the judges had their top three for finals the next day; Lisa, Sherri, and a local girl named Erin. Erin was a little fox; shorter than the other girls, tight body, radiant smile, shoulder length brown hair and tits as big as Sherri's. I knew we'd be seeing her again and probably not just when we came to the Vegas shows.

I made my way backstage to help them pack and my little gay friend waved me through. I asked his name.

"Marcus," he said, flirting. "But you can call me Marc."

"Nice to meet you Marc."

The girls were manic when I stepped into the room. They knew exactly how well they'd performed and were energized little bunnies. Lisa hugged me hard and squealed. I decided against raising the subject until we were on our way home. What was the point? They changed into street clothes and we went out for a late dinner. Back at the hotel room, they planned tomorrow's attack, along with the appropriate wardrobe. Finally, bedtime arrived.

We'd been lying in the dark awhile when Lisa whispered: "Are you awake?"

"Yeah."

"Are you okay?"

"You mean with what happened."

"Yeah."

I tried to order my thoughts, but what a confused fucking mess they were. What difference did it make if it was Natalia or Lisa? The only difference was in my head.

"Watching Lisa was much harder than watching Natalia," I admitted. "That disguise worked on me, too, but I didn't understand that as it happened. I only do now."

"That makes sense."

"Beyond that I'm not sure what to say. I'm trying to see this as just a variation on the game we play but it's a struggle. I hate that he doesn't know you're mine. It's like you have no protector. It's like you're single. He feels emboldened."

"You want to protect me from the bad men, Baby?"

"Of course."

"God, that's so sweet."

Her hand moved under the covers until she found my penis. She tugged a few times but then her head slipped down and her hot mouth enveloped me. At first I saw this as a way she tried to make things right. We were stuck for now so let's make the best of it. After a minute, I eased a finger into her pussy and discovered she was drenched. Her little hole was sopping and slippery. I tried to move her body to fuck her but she grunted, pushed my hands away, and sucked harder.

My balls erupted in record time. I must have been carrying a lot more sexual tension than I realized. Lisa pulled it out of me with strong vacuum, moaning with delight. When I again tried to please her she brushed my hands aside and curled up on my chest content. That's how we fell asleep.

We all ate a quick breakfast and got the girls to check-in.

As before there were three rounds with three categories. The crowd was raucous throughout the event, stomping and cheering and whistling. Honestly, by the time Sherri walked the last circuit and the crowd exploded with applause, I had no idea how the three girls would place.

The announcer came over the loudspeaker and said Judge Nancy scored it Lisa, Sherri, and Erin, respectively. Next they announced Judge Rico's scores, who I knew was Mister Douche, and he scored it Sherri, Lisa, Erin.

I looked at Dwayne. That meant Judge Tony would cast the deciding votes. The girls realized it too and fidgeted nervously on stage. Asshole Tony let the tension build until the crowd was cheering and stomping. Finally, he stood and raised his hands, facing the crowd.

"Good friends," he cried. "Such a fantastic show. Such incredible beauty! How can I possibly choose one ahead of the other?" Applause rose. "But I must. It is my solemn duty."

Give me a fucking break. Just pick dick-head. He dramatically crossed his arms and held his chin and pondered deeply. His face lit up. He had an idea! Do tell!

“I see the truth!” he said. The audience fell silent. “Lisa and Sherri tie for first! Erin earns second place and the additionally monies will be awarded to each!”

Perhaps I was being too hard on him.

The girls shrieked. That meant a lot more money for each. All three hugged and jumped up and down. The audience cheered. Tony looked to a table in the corner where the sponsors sat and they gave him a thumbs-up. It was a smart move, really. The unexpected twist would get them local headlines. They’d make much more than they lost off the free advertising.

Contest officials greeted our wives on stage and escorted all three girls towards the back. I remained seated. Lisa and Sherri would get processed through paperwork, change and grab their gym bags, and meet us out here on the main floor.

“Well that’s fucking awesome,” Dwayne blurted. “How much extra money is that?”

“Twenty-five hundred,” I said.

He looked pleased. Workmen come in and begin breaking down the stage and stacking chairs. Pockets of audience members and the young women they supported gathered to talk. Soon Lisa and Sherri joined us wearing sweats. Sherri took a running leap into Dwayne’s arms.

“First-place tie!” she squealed.

Lisa had been walking a short distance behind Sherri and looked like she was about to treat me to the same but I noticed little gay Marc headed our way so I gave her a frown. She followed my eyes and saw Marc and stopped about a yard short from me.

“Who’s this?” Marc asked, speaking to Sherri.

“My sexy boyfriend,” Sherri said, proudly. “Dwayne, meet Marc.”

They shook hands and Marc gave Dwayne a twice-over.

“Good for you, girl,” he told Sherri. “He’s buff.” They high-fived. Marc carried a clipboard with bundled paperwork and handed sheets to both.

“There is a required afterparty tonight at the Chandelier Bar. Are you staying at this hotel?”

Lisa said yes.

“Perfect. I’ll have a courier deliver your outfits and wristbands.” He looked at Dwayne. “Sorry, no boyfriends at the party.”

“No worries. They never let me go anywhere.”

Marc faced me. “You’ll be fine, though. I’ll have three wristbands sent.”

The girls hugged Marc so I did too. Dwayne shook hands with him again. Marc hurried off to his next chore.

“You motherfucker,” Dwayne joked. “You get to go but I don’t.”

“It’s better this way,” I said. “Marc would just paw at you all night.”

We headed for our room and then to the pool. There was plenty of sunlight left.

Chapter 15

We were feasting on room service pizza and watching Baby Driver when the packages arrived. The required outfits were nothing more than extra-large wife-beaters, just barely long enough to be dresses, covered in sequins. There was plenty of skin showing under the arms, down the front, and along the back.

“Jesus,” Sherri scoffed. “By the end of the night everyone will have seen our tits.”

“And our panties,” Lisa added.

Dwayne looked nervous.

“The club will be dark,” I said. “And everyone will be drunk or high. You’ll see girls there wearing less.”

We finished the movie and then the girls started getting ready. I visited the mall attached to our hotel and found a new, slightly flamboyant shirt.

As we expected, when our wives emerged from the bedroom they looked stunning. I felt like this was a Natalia night but my eyes saw Lisa and that made my heart ache. I knew we’d have fun but part of me was ready to head for home.

A knock at the door surprised us. I opened it to find Judge Tony, dressed in a stylish pinstriped gray suit, smiling broadly.

“Marc gave me your room number,” he said. “Are you ready?”

Lucky for him, we were. Obnoxious prick. Who arrives unannounced?

He could have given you our phone numbers too, ass.

I did not like this guy.

Dwayne met me at the door and I made introductions. They smiled and shook hands and exchanged small talk while the girls grabbed their clutches.

Tony went over a few pointers as we marched to the elevator. The ladies were technically his dates, so he wanted them to lace their arms through his and act like they were out with him.

“You can flirt with other executives but no more than that. Do not embarrass me. I expect professionalism. Drink modestly. Carry yourselves with pride and class.”

He turned to me.

“Marc vouched for you so you are in but try to avoid the girls. Nobody likes a ghost hanging around. I’m allowing it because Marc is usually so bored at these things. It will be nice for him to have someone to talk to. The modest drinking and professionalism goes for you too.”

“I understand.”

On the elevator ride down Tony sized up Lisa and Sherri. He made minor adjustments to their outfits, tugging the dresses forward to reveal more cleavage, and brushing their hair back. I admit they did look sexier.

“Panties?” he asked.

“Yes,” Lisa said.

“Of course,” Sherri replied.

“Absolutely,” I added.

The doors opened onto a magical scene. The Chandelier Bar is two levels of spectacular lavender and glass. Several massive chandeliers hang over the seats and tables along with gauzy sheers. A periwinkle glow fills the club. The place was already packed with people but we had a reserved section at the back.

Babes. Studs and babes, but mostly babes. Girls from the contest were there and girls from Vegas were there and gorgeous prostitutes were there and all the prettiest girls from the other forty-nine states and around the world were there. Suddenly the girl’s scanty outfits fit right in.

We walked to a booth and Tony slid to the back with Lisa and Sherri on each side. A waitress brought them both tiaras and Tony told everyone present about their historic accomplishment.

I found a seat near a pillar to keep an eye on the proceedings.

Tony raised toasts and Tony talked about the sponsors and Tony listed all the travel the girls would be required to make. Lisa and Sherri ate up the attention.

After the first hour, the corporate mumbo-jumbo stopped and Tony switched to praising their beauty and class. Lisa and Sherri were asked for autographs and I thought they would die from excitement. Tony sent them around the room to mingle while he talked business with a small group of suits.

Alcohol flowed but the ladies behaved as requested. I did too. The seat next to me moved and I turned to see Marc smiling.

“Lovely location, isn’t it?” He gestured around at the bar.

“Astonishing,” I agreed.

We chatted. He was an interesting fellow, full of hilarious contest stories, and I liked him right away.

The night wore on.

Eventually, the party began to wind down and people made their goodbyes. At last, Tony said it was time to move to his suite with a few business associates. Marc finished his drink and got back to work.

I followed a few steps behind Tony and a handful of girls and four men in suits. We took a private elevator to the penthouses and Tony opened double doors to a fantastic rooftop suite. The men broke off in pairs and the girls headed for the balcony. I casually followed the girls. The balcony held a hot tub and when they saw it they squealed with delight. One ran back to Tony and I was shocked to see it was Erin. She didn’t look old enough to enter a bar.

Soon she returned to the girls.

“Tony says we can,” she giggled, and as one the girls stripped.

Holy Mother of God. I have never in my life seen such a display of smoking hot female beauty. After five seconds, I remembered I was gay and looked away but Christ, thank God Lisa or Sherri hadn’t noticed me.

I picked a chair that allowed me to see the hot tub from the corner of my eye but also the living room where the men talked business.

After a while two of the suits said good night. Tony and the remaining two suits came out on the balcony to a pool of naked sexy women.

“A hot bath sounds perfect,” Tony announced, and began undressing.

The two suits joined him. None of them wore swimming trunks under their suits and three naked men, all with backs toward me, joined a pool of naked girls.

Oh boy.

Other than conversation, nothing happened for a long time. The hour had grown late and some of the girls left the tub to go crash on the guest beds. A suit left with them. Now we were down to Sherri, Erin, Lisa, a Suit, and Tony.

Lucky fucker.

If you’re thinking I’d forgotten about this asshole’s interrupted blowjob, you’re wrong. I knew he had plans hatching. I knew he was planning his timing well. I had no idea who the other guy was or how Erin or the other girls would receive sexual advances from him, but I knew he’d make his move, and soon. I’d already resigned myself to Sherri and Lisa sucking Tony’s cock tonight. I was just waiting for him to make his move. It was inevitable.

What caught me totally by surprise, and what I was wholly unprepared for, was my wife, Lisa, making the move on him.

Tony lifted himself from the steaming water, wet body hair stuck to his soft flesh, and sat on the ledge. Three pairs of eyes, Sherri, Erin, and Lisa, all went to the cock hanging between his legs. Four pairs, if you count mine.

I’d seen him sticking out the front of his pants but pleated dress slacks hide a lot. In this case, quite a lot. The hot water had him soft but also had him slightly engorged. I’m not one to stare at another man’s penis, usually, but this one had been in my wife’s mouth, so it deserved special attention, and it impressed.

I could say he was easily bigger than me but that doesn’t say much; I’m average. I only say it at all because that’s the yardstick men always use, especially when another man and one’s wife is involved; how does he compare to me? So, now you know; he was easily bigger. Longer and thicker was intimidating enough but he moved his leg and I caught a glimpse of his ball sack too; White Spotted Pufferfish comes to mind. Look it up. I'm exaggerating, some, but only because I was completely daunted.

I mention all this because Lisa, my wife, left her side of the tub and floated across to his, arriving between his knees. A hush fell on the group.

He wouldn't need to seduce them. He wouldn't need to coax or threaten. All he needed to do was sit on the edge of the hot tub and part his knees. Natalia had taught Lisa a thing or two and Lisa acted on those lessons now.

Tony wrapped his hand around the base and pointed his dick at an approaching Lisa. She met him with open mouth. Sherri left her spot and joined my wife and Tony leaned back on his arms, grinning, looking down at his lap.

They were no fools. They understood what was expected. They knew the interrupted blowjob must be completed, but did they need to seem so eager? Neither showed a shred of reluctance. Lisa and Sherri painted his flesh with their tongues. I wondered if he'd taken a pill because he rapidly rose to throbbing.

Erin and the other suit watched, just like I did. Tony was in no hurry. Lisa closed her mouth over the helmet and Sherri slipped under to lick his balls.

"You've got a big dick," Sherri said, before burying her face in his scrotum.

Lisa slowly worked that big dick deeper into her mouth. I'd seen her do the same to him only yesterday but that helped my torment not at all. My pretty wife relished the pulsing cock on her tongue. She held his thighs to shove him deeper.

Pill or not, the combined attention from those two lovelies got him screamingly erect. They orally worshipped his dick, showing off for the audience.

Finally, Lisa looked down at Sherri and said: "Me first."

I was confused until I saw her lift from the sudsy water and turn her back towards him. She fumbled between her legs until she located his penis and then she lowered her hips. I knew the moment he penetrated my wife's vagina by the loud gasp she made.

She moved her feet outside his legs and climbed farther up his body like a spider walking backward. Her hands moved from his hips to his stomach to his chest. They both opened their legs.

The sight hit me like a freight train. Now I saw him inside her. I saw my wife's labia pushed aside, stretched into a circle around his girth. I followed his shaft up from his testicles until it was cut off by her enveloping pussy.

He's inside her, my mind screamed.

This was no tit grope on the dance floor. This was no parking lot blowjob. This was no dressing room blowjob. Another man had his bare-naked cock inside my wife!

I could only stare. I was paralyzed.

She used her legs to move up and down, her cunt swallowing more of him each time she descended. The vision stabbed my eyes but equally torturous were the sounds escaping her. His big cock gave her intense pleasure. She faked none of this. She and Sherri weren't maneuvering for position, trying to protect their win and guard against disqualification, Lisa and Sherri wanted to fuck this man and used that rationale to justify what they did. Jealously exploded in my chest.

Lisa's head fell back and she gazed at the desert sky. Her long blonde wet hair swabbed his chest like a mop. Her eyes were open and she stared at the stars overhead as Tony's big dick probed her tunnel, deeper every second. Soon she'd swallowed him completely, only that huge scrotum remained outside her body.

I heard a door open and close in the living room. Marc's face appeared at the sliding glass door.

"Oh. Hello," he said, grinning. "Looks like I'm a little late."

He sat next to me, eyes riveted to Lisa and Tony.

"He fucks them all," Marc whispered. "And they come back for more. Don't you love his fat cock? God. Have you seen your friend fuck before or is this freaking you out? You look a little strange."

"Um," I said, choking. I cleared my throat. "No, I've seen her do things with guys before. Blowjobs and handjobs, mostly." I forced my voice stronger. "This is the first time I've ever seen her fuck someone."

They heard me, as I intended. Lisa's head lifted until she met my eyes. Tony looked around her shoulder at Marc and me and he grinned.

“Do it,” Tony chuckled.

Marc stood and began undressing.

“This is my favorite part,” he said. “Your friend is so hot. Look at that cock working her. Gay or not, you must admit that’s sexy.”

I nodded once. “It is.”

“Take your clothes off and join me, Honey. Let’s jack off together. Don’t you just love Tony’s dick?”

He was already down to his bikini briefs.

“I love hetero sex,” he continued. “Women are so beautiful. I sometimes wish I was one. Look how sexy they are. Come on, don’t be shy. Tony loves being watched and it looks like Lisa does too. I do this all the time. I won’t bite unless you ask me to.”

I was trapped. Lisa couldn’t hear Marc.

“Don’t piss Tony off,” he added. “He’s got a temper.”

I couldn’t think of a way out. Not that I was thinking clearly anyway; my eyes kept going back to watch the merging of their bodies. Numb, I started to undress. Then I took my seat and started playing with my dick. My wife gave me an astonished look. I was getting hard fast.

All Lisa saw, all Lisa knew, was that her husband began undressing and masturbating while watching her fuck another man. A loud, long groan slithered out of her throat.

Sherri turned to see what made Lisa moan like that and her jaw dropped. Another man was balls deep in my woman and I was jacking off about it? She could not believe what she saw.

“Sweet Jesus,” she breathed. “That’s hot as fuck,”.

I loved Sherri staring at my penis. I was surprisingly hard considering the circumstances but Sherri’s eyes on me sent a surge of blood pumping. Soon, I was bigger and harder than I could ever remember. My penis pulsed in my hand, veins and arteries straining, taut skin stretched thin. A glance showed Marc stared at my dick too. Erin and Suit did too. They now sat on tub edge as well. Everyone present watched Marc and me masturbating. My head spun.

Sherri climbed out of the hot tub and fed Tony her big tits, but knelt so she could keep me in view. Lisa fucked herself on him, rising and falling on his big erection.

Tony kept Lisa's penetration visible to us. If her knee moved in front, he nudged it back. If Sherri got in the way, he told her to move.

"Is your friend on birth control?" Marc asked. "Because if not I'll need to make arrangements."

I suddenly couldn't breathe. How had I not considered that? That massive scrotum now took on sinister implications.

"No," I croaked. "I don't believe she is."

I knew goddamn well she wasn't.

Tony settled on his back. Lisa still rode him reverse cowgirl but now had her feet under her. Tony made her do all the work, relishing her eager enthusiasm. Her face began to twist. I knew she'd cum soon. Lisa was about to orgasm on his dick and I'd never been harder. I was torn up inside, anguished by what I saw, shredded by her heaving pleasure. If this was not a torture used by the Spanish Inquisition, it should have been. My brain was packed with razor blades. It killed me to watch my beautiful wife ride his cock but I could not look away and given the obscene firmness of my erection, on some buried level, I loved it.

"Get under there and lick my balls," he instructed Sherri. "Lick her clit too if you guys are into that."

Sherri's mass of red hair covered his scrotum and I heard him moan. Lisa opened her eyes to watch her best friend. I don't know if Sherri licked my wife or not. The view was blocked by Sherri's head. Lisa tangled her fingers in her best friend's hair and closed her eyes again, riding Tony hard. Moments later, Lisa gasped and her shoulders rose to cover her neck. She was close. She was going to orgasm on his dick and nothing would prevent that. Lisa's head snapped back and a growl, starting low and quiet, built until she screamed and her head tossed all around.

"Fuuuuuuucck meeeeeee," my wife squealed.

Her body quaked and Sherri licked harder and faster. All eyes turn to my wife as Tony made her cum. Her voice trailed away into a long groan as she bounced on him, locked in orgasmic bliss.

"That's so beautiful," Marc whispered.

Time slowed as I looked quickly around our little circle. Erin had her big tits out and teased a nipple while Suit teased the other. He was jutting up from his lap and I wondered if that dick would get inside Erin tonight.

Lisa's climax began to spiral down, finally, and her thrusting slowed. She looked dazed. Sherri drifted away to sit on the ledge and watch. She glanced at me many times, hot lust in her eyes. Lisa rocked forward to hands and knees but Tony kept his hard cock stroking in and out smoothly.

"I know this is your wife," he said, staring right at me. "I'm not stupid. We all know. We've always known."

I've never felt so embarrassed, mortified, or humiliated in all my life.

Erin and Sherri looked surprised by his words but everyone else just grinned. Except Lisa. Lisa was absent, lost in an exquisite afterglow, savoring the smooth sliding of his fat hard cock in and out.

I was paralyzed and Sherri looked the same.

"You guys think you can play us for fools. You're not the first."

He moved his hands to Lisa's ass, gently and deliberately pumping her sopping pussy. He pulled her body back on top of his and slipped an arm around her waist. He turned them both. Now she was on her stomach and he behind her. With his feet, he spread her ankles, giving me an obscene view of his cock sliding in and out.

He held himself over my wife and began fucking her deep. Lisa moaned at the penetration far up into her body. He began driving his hips faster. Her pussy lips clung to his girth. His huge balls were tight to his body but jiggled with each thrust.

"But if you can keep a secret," he snorted. "So can we. We'll just add you to the list of husbands whose wives I fuck. Isn't that right, Marc?"

"Indeed we will."

He looked dreamy, eyes glued to Tony's thrusting cock.

Tony thrust harder, stabbing his dick into my wife. He grunted and tilted his hips.

"Your girls will keep their titles, and they'll occasionally travel with me for shows."

He sucked air.

"But you and Dwayne won't be joining them."

The extortion excited him as much as the sex with a hot young babe. He exhaled in a strangled cough and a foot slid on the concrete and his ass flexed and the muscles along his hairy back and arms turned hard. I think he wanted to gloat more but couldn't.

"Oh, fuck yeah, fuck yeah, take it."

His hips worked fast now and he held his breath.

"Unnnngghhh, fuck, gunnngh, yeahhhhh!"

And then he was spurting hot sperm into my wife. Lisa responded instinctively, lifting her butt and groaning along with him. He fucked her hard as his heavy balls emptied, blasting cum deep. His shaft turned sloppy with leaking jizz. Semen dribbled to the concrete deck. He shot as much as I'd been afraid he'd shoot.

Tony left his cock in my wife. His body trembled from his exertions and the force of his orgasm. I was crushed by what I'd witnessed, heartbroken and hopeless, but still hard as glass.

"Do you want some help with that?" Marc asked, pointing at my penis.

I waved him off. "No. Of course not. Not from you. No offense."

"None taken," he giggled.

I met Sherri's frightened eyes. She worried what the future held.

Suit chose that moment to pull Erin's face down to his erection. Dazed and wildly turned on, she obeyed and I saw that cock slip into her pretty mouth.

Finally, Tony pulled his deflating cock from my wife's guts. He stood over her for a moment, looking down at her splayed legs and dripping cunt, and then smiled and eased back into the hot water, sitting at an angle to watch Erin suck his friend's cock. Sherri leaned over to check on Lisa and I got up to do the same. My penis stuck out like an inappropriate flagpole.

I wove a path through the poolside lounge chairs, eyes fixed on my wife's leaking pussy. Tony dribbled out of her. She held another man inside her womb. I phrased that truth a hundred different ways and each one was a slash on my heart.

Lisa rolled onto her back and covered her face with her hands. Her inner labia, so recently abused, protruded, still swollen with excitement. I knelt beside her and kissed her hands. She opened them.

"I'm sorry," she whispered.

I had no idea what to say so I gave a little shrug. “All four of us dug this hole, Baby. Not just you.”

Sherri leaned her face close to ours, lowering her voice to a murmur. “I feel weird asking, and this is probably the wrong time to do it, but why is your dick hard, Gary?”

Lisa looked down at it and then up at me, confused.

I was speechless.

Wet footsteps approached. We all turned to see Tony standing over us.

“I’m afraid it’s time for you to go,” he said to me. “I’ll send the girls home in the morning with an itinerary for travel. Four stops a year I think it is now. You and Dwayne are not invited.”

I turned to the girls. They had already accepted their fate.

Chapter 16

I entered the hotel room and flopped into a chair.

“What’s up, Dude?” Dwayne asked. He looked over my shoulder. “Where are the ladies?”

“Still with Tony and company.”

“That’s kind of weird. Why’d you come home?”

Before I left I asked Sherri if she wanted me to talk to her husband and she’d hugged me fiercely.

“Will you, please?” she begged. “You and Lisa seem to have such a handle on all this. If you could let him know where you stand I know he’d feel a lot better.”

I said I would and turned my attention to Lisa. Her eyes held pure guilt.

“It’s not your fault,” I’d told her, again.

She’d nodded and we’d kissed. I’d dressed and Marc showed me to the door.

I took the beer Dwayne offered.

“The girls stayed behind so Tony could spend the night fucking them.”

Dwayne, dressed in the usual boxers and wife-beater, stood abruptly.
“Sit down, buddy. We’re screwed.”

He slowly returned to his seat.

“Tony, the judge, knew all along Sherri and Lisa were married to us. We thought we were clever but we weren’t. We took the money and spent the money and now they have us by the balls.”

“We should leave. Go back to San Diego.”

“They have all our information. Not only could they sue us for the prize money the girls spent, they can sue us for breach of contract. We’d lose and after legal fees we’d owe a ton. Worse, Lisa and Sherri are now out of work and blacklisted. If other sponsors hear, they might sue us too. Like I said; we’re screwed.”

We both stared at the carpet for long minutes.

“You were gone for a while,” he said.

“Yeah.”

“What happened?”

“I’m your best friend. You can tell me anything.”

I did; word for word. When I finished, he was back to staring at the carpet.

“I bet he fucks Sherri next,” he offered. “That’s what I would do.”

“Agreed.”

“You said his dick was big?”

“Yes. He’s studly, especially for being an older guy.”

“Did it mess you up to watch Lisa fuck him?”

“It did. I got crazy jealous but something else happened too. While I watched, I’m embarrassed to admit I got a hard-on.”

Dwayne nodded thoughtfully. “The same thing happened to me that night Sherri went out as Scarlett. I walked around our apartment stiff as a board. When she got home I fucked her before she could tell me what she’d done, and after she told me, I fucked her again. I thought I was a freak. What a relief you feel the same way.”

“You’re still a freak, D. I just happen to be one too.”

A long period of silence filled the room, each of us lost in our thoughts. Dwayne spoke first: “So right now; knowing Lisa is with Tony... does that get you hot?”

“Yeah.”

“Me too.” He hesitated before continuing. “Honestly, I wish I could watch. Promise you’ll never tell anyone else but I like that he’s got a big dick and he’s using it on Sherri. I know she’ll dig it. Am I fucked in the head?”

His open honesty was disarming.

“If you are then I am too,” I said. “Watching her fucked me up but I got hard. I could easily get hard again right now, just imagining.”

“Maybe we should.”

I looked at him to see what he meant.

“Nothing gay, dude, but we’re both in the same boat. I need some fucking relief.”

Still unsure, I gave a tentative nod. He stood up and turned his back, then lowered and kicked off his boxers. He faced me, hard as rock and about my size. He sat again. I stood and removed my pants and returned to my seat. It was a strange and awkward moment, to be sure, but it bonded us in a weird way. We were alike in this regard; our slutty wives turned us on.

“God, it’s like a weight has been lifted,” he said. “I’ve had all these crazy thoughts and feelings lately. That night Lisa meet that guy to get back at you sincerely hit me hard. I tried imagining what it was like for you but all I felt was excited. When you told me you guys fucked all night when she got home I knew I was on to something.”

“Just wait. The first time our wives travel with him we’ll go insane.”

“Hard as rock and drunk off our asses.”

I laughed. Dwayne lightly fingered his erection and I fingered mine. When I was a teenager I’d watched porn with my best friend. This moment felt a lot like that one. We sat and waited for another man to finish fucking our wives and send them home to us. A twisted reality but here we were. After a short time, we finished undressing.

Reality settled in and we began watching the clock. What was happening? I imagined Tony fucking Lisa in every possible position. I envisioned our wives sucking dick all night. I was sure Suit got some too, and I bet they enjoyed Erin as well.

Dwayne suffered along with me. We passed through phases where it was terribly exciting and then it was just plain terrible. My imagination became my worst enemy. The waiting seemed endless. We stroked our dicks but not enough to orgasm. We were saving that for our women. Dwayne would share a thought about Sherri taking a hard dick and I would jack off until almost ready to cum but then back away. I did the same for him, describing some of Natalia's adventures without revealing they were true. He'd get close but then stop. We talked about things we'd like to see our wives do and made plans together to make them happen.

Hours passed but eventually we heard the card lock. It was still dark outside but the clock over the television said five-thirty-five.

The door opened and our wives stepped through, exhausted, bare-foot, wearing only their sparkly wife-beaters. Both women stopped the moment they saw us.

"What the fuck?" Sherri asked. "What'd we miss?"

"Nothing, Really," I said. "Just me and Dwayne undressing while we waited for our wives to get back from a party."

Dwayne's penis was starting to rise. Both girls watched for a moment and then looked at each other.

"Baby," Sherri said. "I'm exhausted."

"Can we just go home?" Lisa asked. "Sherri and I will sleep in the back seat. Please? Is that all right?"

"Did Tony hurt you?" I asked.

Lisa and Sherri exchanged a knowing look.

"No," Sherri said. "Not at all."

Cryptic, but I sensed we'd get little else from them. They were dead on their feet. I was dying to know what happened, dying to explore my wife's body, dying to throw her down and take her back. My aching blue-balls demanded release. But after waiting all night, I'd have to wait a little longer.

Dwayne was fully erect when he said: "Okay."

We moved around the suite, collecting belongs and packing. I called the desk to start check-out and then dressed and ran the room keys down to them. Dwayne brought the car around.

We used soft luggage to get the girls as comfortable as possible. I saw Dwayne examining Sherri like I examined Lisa. The girls had pink, swollen nipples and pink, swollen pussy lips, and each leaked milky fluid. Both had small bite marks around their necks and handprints on their asses. Dwayne and I looked at each other, stupid grins spread across our faces.

Our well-fucked wives were overflowing with other men's seed.

They curled up and I began driving. After a few minutes, I tilted the rear-view to check on them. Both already slept soundly, breathing deep.

Twin smiles curled their lips.

Dwayne and I looked at each other again. It was just the four of us, tooling down the freeway after a contest like we'd done so many times before. Everything looked the same but everything was different. The truth was out in the open. All four of us understood each other now.

We also understood ourselves. Lisa and Sherri were hot wives and that, despite everything we'd been taught all our lives, pleased us.

Tony had tried to punish us. He'd tried to fuck with our heads and fill us with anguish and torment. I was already filled with those and had learned they were no obstacle to deeper desires. He had succeeded in messing with our minds but not in the way he'd intended.

Take our wives with you on your trips, mother fucker, Dwayne and I can't wait.

End.
