Chapter 1

Christopher Brant tucked his bulky penis into his jockstrap and checked the full-length mirror again. The athletic supporter barely contained his hefty cock, but that's why he bought a jock a size too small. He played with his dick and then tugged the netting down, making himself look as large as possible. He dropped to the dirty dressing room floor and knocked out a quick set of ten pushups. Pumped muscles and healthy vascularity drove the girls crazy, and he loved driving the girls crazy. Overhead he grabbed a dusty waterpipe and performed ten pullups. He checked the mirror again.

"Merciless," he said, grinning at his muscular reflection.

The door opened and Adam Tipps entered, along with a flood of booming club music. Adam quickly closed the door on several girls trying to enter with him. He wore tank top and jeans and carried a gym bag off a beefy shoulder.

"The babes are in heat tonight," he laughed

"Mo money," Chris joked.

The young men high-fived. Chris moved to his backpack and dug around for the three-pack of condoms he'd purchased on the way to the club. He held them to the glaring spotlight and with a pin punched numerous holes through the center of all three.

"That's fucked up, dude," Adam said.

"Right? I'm such an asshole."

"How many kids you have out in the world?"

"How the fuck would I know?" Chris laughed.

"You ever feel bad about it?"

Chris laughed again. "Fuck no, bro. Ninety percent of the women I bang are married. What do I have to feel bad about? They're the ones breaking vows and cheating. I'm sure if some woman I knock-up decides to keep the baby, she just tells her husband the kid is his. I got all these dumbass dads raising my babies for me, thank you very much.”

Adam shook his head sadly but smiled. “Ruthless.”

“I really am,” Chris replied. “I’ve been dancing at the clubs around town every weekend for eight years and I score almost every night. I probably have a hundred kids out there.”

“Don’t you worry about getting caught? That’s a lot of child support.”

“No. How? I never tell them my real name, I change clubs often, and every one of those married ladies has been drinking. You think they want to destroy their lives for some stripper they met only once? No way. Better to take that secret to the grave. I’m telling you, Adam, women are sneaky, conniving, and naturally deceitful. You better keep an eye on Tammy.”

“I would fucking kill you,” Adam chuckled.

Chris laughed too. “No dog, you’re cool. I don’t mess with friends. I mostly target girls from out of town.”

Adam dropped his gym bag and smacked Chris on the jockstrap, causing him to double over. Both men laughed again.

“You dick!” Chris cried.

“You better get out there,” Adam said. “Your adoring public demands you.”

Chris played with his bulge again, giving himself a little swell. Adam stared at the lump and shook his head.

“God fucked up when he gave a beast like that to someone like you,” Adam pronounced. “You’re like a kid with a shotgun.”

Chris checked his pumped muscles and slightly inflated cock in the mirror again. He looked good. He stuffed the sabotaged condoms into his gym bag.

“I’ll hit the stage now, you come out in twenty?”

“Sounds good,” Adam said.

The strippers fist-bumped and Chris exited the dressing room, heavy pouch swinging.

Chapter 2

Sally Tench waved goodbye to her two sons, Bradley and Thomas, as the yellow school bus pulled away from the curb. Her boys smiled at her through the dirty windows. A gust of wind lifted her skirt slightly. She adjusted her windblown shoulder length hair and smoothed her pleated garment. A light blush hit her cheeks as she worried if she'd exposed too much skin in front of the neighbors. She hurried home. Moments later she was in her kitchen, sipping her black coffee and watching the neighborhood.

If it's windy again tomorrow, she thought. I'll wear pants.

Gary Tench descended the stairs and dropped into a chair at the table.

"I made eggs," Sally said.

Gary thanked his wife and they shared a brief peck on the lips. He powered up his Kindle to read the news.

Sally moved about, cleaning and tidying after the mess the boys left. Gary finished the news and turned his attention to the small stack of yesterday's mail.

"Damn it," he exclaimed, moments later.

"What's wrong?"

Gary held a plain white government envelope in front of her face.

"Jury duty."

He read the small print in silence and then announced in four weeks he'd need Sally to run the salon Monday through Friday, possibly longer.

"Can you get away from work?" he asked.

"Easily," she said. "We're training new cashiers for California so we're overstaffed. This is good timing. May I take your plate?"

Gary said she could and leaned out of her way.

They made small talk and then Gary showered and dressed for work, the favorite part of his day. He kissed Sally at the door and drove to the Parkway mall where he unlocked the door to the tanning salon he and Sally owned, Sizzles. They'd rolled the dice a few years back, after Gary got laid-off, and invested in a business of their own and Gary was so happy they had. Not just for the money, which was good, but he quickly discovered a shop this close to a mall brought him an endless stream of hot young girls.

For the first year, he'd sat and watched as all the nubile flesh paraded by. One night an attempted burglary prompted him to install CCTV cameras and when he awoke the next morning an idea was perfectly formed in his head. He told Sally he needed another night to finish the installation and crawled into the space above the ceiling tiles in almost every room, slipping motion detecting cameras into air vents and behind smoke detectors. Separate lines now ran to secret monitors carefully locked away. Gary could sit in comfort all day and watch pretty girls strip. He recorded his favorites, and there were many. He had hours of hot girls dressing and undressing, posing for selfies, getting ready for a date or work, and even, occasionally, masturbating.

He'd never been so happy.

The jury summons worried him for a minute but he reassured himself the steps he'd taken steps to hide his illicit secret were sufficient. The monitors and recording devices lay hidden in secured cabinets far under the sales counter. Even if Sally somehow stumbled across those cupboards, she'd have no way to explore. He had the only key. Additionally, he'd draped all the wires from the register, credit card reader, membership scanner, and monitors across the doors. Sally would get nervous and back away from all that electricity.

Gary looked up when the chime sounded. Tabitha, a pretty coed, said hello and scanned her card. Gary handed her a towel and goggles and directed her at room eighteen. The first fly of the day had entered his web.

Many more followed. The shop required long hours but Gary hardly minded. Thirteen hour days were easy when all one did was gaze at sexy women. Men tanned too, of course, but Gary directed them to the few rooms without cameras.

The chime sounded again. Gary said hello to Chris Brant and handed him a towel and goggles. As always, he directed Chris as far away from the other women as possible. He hated the way the females looked at Chris. The young man radiated calm confidence like he was stamped USDA Prime Cut.

Chapter 3

Beci squirmed and tried to ignore the grit irritating her back. Two minutes later, she squirmed again. With a huff, she climbed out of the tanning bed and bent to examine what caused her so much annoyance, discovering a mix of white powder, sawdust, and tiny bits of black plastic.

First she surveyed the walls around her but all the hanging art was as it has always been. Construction? Everything looked the same. Her eyes naturally drifted up. There, behind the air vent, she saw the hidden camera.

Mr. Tench was watching her.

She quickly wiped the dust from the bed and climbed inside again, pulling the door closed. She looked down the bed at her naked body, feeling far more aroused than violated by his degenerate plot. She slipped a hand across to rub her almost hairless pussy.

When the timer sounded, Beci opened the lid and stood. She did her best to appear nonchalant but the idea that a man's eyes may be on her naked body at that moment was too much. She cupped her large brown tits and lifted, running her palms up and over. She casually checked her ass in the mirror, trying so hard not to look at the camera.

I wish I knew, she thought. I wish I could tell if he was looking at me.

She set her feet about shoulder width apart and sent a hand to her clit.

I know how to find out if he is...

Beci masturbated in the mirror for several minutes then quickly pulled her dress over her head and walked to the front counter. Gary was flustered, sweating, and, when he turned to toss her towel in the basket, she noted an obvious bulge under his pants.

He was!

From that day Beci began a game of cat and mouse. She wore the flimsiest of dresses, flirted mercilessly with the poor man, and spent every minute she could parading around in front of his eye in the sky. This was the perfect setting for her to enjoy her exhibitionistic streak. She knew he'd never try anything. He simply wasn't the type. He'd stare and jack off after she'd gone. She loved this game and sometimes played it at school or the gym, but never with such flawless conditions.

With each visit, she pushed things farther. She loved how his eyes lit up when he saw her. She loved the aching desire she saw there. Her boyfriend mentioned her increased longing for sex but Beci never told him why.

By the third week, she was openly masturbating before she tanned. Nude, with legs spread and hands roaming, she innocently played with herself until a bone-shaking orgasm soothed her. Out in the lobby she'd casually chat with Mister Tench before leaving, laughing with delight on the inside.

When Sally showed up to run the salon, Beci tried to imagine a new way to play her game.

Chapter 4

Sally arrived two hours early to give herself time to open the salon. She'd kissed Gary goodbye in the driveway, told him to take notes and do a good job, and waved as he headed downtown to the courthouse to start his civic duty.

Now, she locked the front door behind her and sat the keys on the front counter. Gary had provided a list of notes and she moved around the place, sipping her black coffee and familiarizing herself with the layout.

When she returned to the front counter, she rested her cup on the counter and accidentally knocked the ring of keys behind the register. She heard them tumble against the thin wooden panel all the way to the floor.

"Damn it, Sally!" she yelped, immediately feeling awful for the language she used, making a mental note to address it at prayer on Sunday.

Forty-five minutes later, sweaty and dusty, she'd maneuvered the entire counter enough to create a gap sufficiently wide for her arm. She stretched as far as she could and felt the cold metal of the keyring. She withdrew, bent a paperclip, and tried again. Too thin, the wire bent.

I need something heavier, like a letter opener.

She searched each room of the salon, propping doors open and checking wastebaskets. She found a hanger on the back of a door and bent the heavier gauge wire into the hook she needed. She returned to the front counter.

Something was different. Light now showed from the back of the panel. She twisted her head to see what caused it, peering through a small gap. She realized she'd pulled the backing away from the cabinets underneath and now looked down on several hidden monitors which showed the interior of individual tanning rooms. The glow was from the lights she'd left on in each room. For a moment, her mind could not comprehend. Then understanding flooded.

"Son of a bitch," she growled, her language again making her feel immoral. "Gary, you bastard."

With effort, she pried the backing farther away and saw inside. Each monitor was split into four screens with a box below for recording. She poked the closest button and watched time run backward until a pretty blonde girl entered the room. After a moment, she hit play and saw the girl disrobe, revealing a tight, young body. Shame flushed Sally's cheeks.

"Oh, Gary, how could you?" she breathed.

Exploring through trial and error taught her each monitor had a large library of stored video and each contained hours of naked women. She'd seen enough. If this got out the scandal would be huge. Gary would lose the business and possibly land in jail. Every parent would want to know if their daughter had been recorded, every husband would wonder about their wife. Her thoughts leapt to her boys, Bradley and Thomas. Life at school would become unbearable.

We'd have to sell the house and move, she thought. Damn you, Gary.

She pushed the cabinet in place and straightened the cables. The salon needed to open soon and there was work to do. She began to imagine her inevitable confrontation with her husband.

He must delete everything. Wipe it out and remove the cameras.

She smoothed her dress and fixed her hair and unlocked the front door.

And then I need to decide how I feel about a pervert for a husband.

For the first few hours of her workday, Sally was unable to look customers in the eye. She bashfully said hello and handed them goggles and towels. The pretty girls were especially difficult as she was sure Gary had seen them nude. She tried not to compare her soft, chubby body to the lithe and sexy young ladies but couldn't stop herself. By lunch she felt ready to cry.

Is this why Gary and I rarely make love anymore? How can he look at me with desire after spending the day looking at them?

Hours later her self-deprecation had turned to anger. The initial shock had worn off and now she was furious about his lies, the wasted money, the risk he'd selfishly subjected the entire family to. The door chimed. Her eyes were still angry when she greeted the next customer.

"Woah," Chris Brant laughed. "Who pissed you off?"

Sally blushed again.

"I'm sorry," she stammered. "I was thinking about someone else."

"Then I feel sorry for that guy."

Sally smiled and reached for goggles and a towel.

The man was undeniably handsome. She glanced at him again, noting his broad shoulders and dazzling smile. He wore a loose tank top and basketball shorts and seemed to have muscles everywhere. His eyes pierced her and stole her breath.

He took the items from her hand, allowing his fingers to graze hers. A tiny gasp slipped from her mouth which she turned into a small cough. She straightened and they looked at each other a moment until Chris asked which room he should use.

“Oh,” Sally mumbled, mortified. “Um, room five.”

“Thanks.”

Sally watched him leave, her finger still tingling where he’d touched it. His face was movie star handsome and his body nearly perfect. He oozed confidence. He was attractive, she had to admit it.

Or am I just trying to hit back at Gary? A beautiful man like that wouldn’t look twice at an old woman like me.

He turned the corner and was gone. She aimed her gaze to the huge parking lot. A mother and her three young children crossed the lot carrying armfuls of shopping bags. Bradley and Thomas were that age only yesterday, it seemed.

“Excuse me,” said a voice behind her. “Room five is out of paper towels.”

She turned to discover Chris wearing only a towel held loosely around his hips. Blood rushed to her face. His virtually naked body was flawless; muscular but not muscle-bound, lean, healthy, and strong. His abdominal muscles ran down until disappearing beneath his towel and she could not prevent her eyes from following them. She tried to offer an apology, stumbled, tried again, stuttered, gave up.

“I have them here,” she said, pulling a stack from under the counter. “I’m Sorry.”

“No worries, Babe,” he cooed, further flustering her.

He took the napkins from her, again touching her hand. Sally felt shivers of excitement race up her legs. He returned to his room, twin dimples above his firm ass cheeks catching her eye. She heard the door close. She exhaled the breath she did not realize she held.

Before she understood the thought had formed, Sally was crouched under the counter, prying the backing away. She saw movement on the screen and zoomed the camera for his room. Chris set the paper towels next to his pile of clothing and dropped the towel. He turned towards the hidden camera.

Sally struggled for breath. There was a naked male specimen on her screen and the sight affected her deeply. His penis, heavy and thick and magnificently masculine, matched the rest of his body. Sally zoomed the camera closer and his torso filled the screen. She shamefully felt the twin bumps of her nipples stiffen under her bra.

Worried she was about to get caught, she quickly scanned the parking lot. When her gaze returned to the monitor, Chris stood before the full-length mirror in his room, rubbing his hands over his abs and reaching for his penis.

“Oh good Lord!” Sally exclaimed. She pushed back from the screen.

An instant later she was watching again as Chris slowly stroked before hitting the buttons and slipping into the bed. The overhead door came down and blue light filled the monitor. Sally leaned against the sales counter. Her hands trembled. Her legs shook. She might still be angry with Gary, but she suddenly had a much better understanding of why he spied.

I'll talk to Gary tonight after the boys are in bed, she thought.

Chapter 5

She said nothing.

The boys got home from school, Gary returned from the courthouse, dinner was pleasant and conversation lively. Once Bradley and Thomas were asleep, Sally joined Gary in the den to discuss their day. Feeling she needed more time to understand, she made no mention of what she'd found.

The next day she directed every man to room five. All day she saw bodies of every type. After lunch curiosity took hold and she watched the pretty girls strip too. There was a different kind of excitement to that; more appreciating and less visceral reaction. Spying was wrong but it was exciting.

By closing, the excitement had waned replaced by guilt. As she turned off the lights and locked the doors, she swore tomorrow she'd leave the secret monitors untouched, and she did.

The next three days proved frustrating. Sally felt drawn to watch many times. She considered calling her pastor and, without specific details of course, talking about her lustful feelings. Her mother had raised her to be disciplined in the face of temptation and Sally had found that rule easy to follow. Why was this so difficult?

Day four, Chris returned.

Sally spotted him the moment he emerged from his cherry red sports car. She had two girls and an older gentleman in beds already and immediately worried she'd say or do something stupid and get caught. She told herself to leave the monitors alone and just let the young man tan. She watched him sling his ever-present backpack over a shoulder and stride towards the salon. She sighed without meaning to.

"He's smoking hot, right?"

The voice behind her made her jump.

"Sorry, I didn't mean to scare you."

Sally turned to find a petite Latina girl, large breasts wrapped in a short, tight green dress, ready to leave. She remembered the girl's name from sign-in.

"No, Beci, he's much too young for an old woman like me."

"Shut up, Mrs. Tench. You're a MILF."

"A what?"

"A MILF. You know; mom I'd like to fuck? Have you never heard that expression?"

"No."

Beci laughed. "That's cute. I'm not saying I find you fuckable. I'm not so much into girls. Although now that I think about it I probably would just for your big tits. I'm saying it because I've noticed men in here looking at you. You're hot, Mrs. T. You're not old yet."

Sally could not believe what the young girl was saying. Flustered and overwhelmed, she took the offered towel and googles and thanked Beci for coming.

"Here he comes," Beci said. "Act like we're just talking so I can check him out. I hear he go-go dances at some of the clubs around town."

She leaned closer to Sally.

"I hear he's hung like a stud bull."

Sally stepped back. "Beci!"

Beci laughed again. "That's what I heard. I've never seen his show but a girlfriend has. She said he's super sexy on stage. Dances like a dream."

Both women stared into the parking lot, watching the young man move. Chris stepped onto the curb and opened the front door.

"Fifty-percent off?" Beci said as the door swung wide. "That's a great sale, Mrs. Tench. Thanks for telling me."

Sally was confused momentarily and then understood.

"I'll check it out this weekend," Beci added.

Chris approached the counter and Beci moved behind him, running her eyes from his shoulders to his bubble butt. She caught Sally's eye and gave a huge grin and thumbs up. Sally kept her composure.

"Hello again, Chris. Room five?"

"Yes, thanks."

He turned to look at Beci while Sally scanned him in.

"I'm Chris Brant," he said, extending a hand.

"Beci Mezza," the young woman replied. "Nice to meet you."

They shook hands and chatted while Sally grabbed eyewear and a towel.

"Your room is ready," Sally said.

Beci and Chris shook hands again and Chris headed down the hall to the rooms.

"Fuck me, he's hot," Beci murmured. "Did you see his eyes? And that body. Fuck. What a stud. Too bad I have a boyfriend."

"You have a boyfriend?" Sally exclaimed.

Beci laughed. "Yeah. Look but don't touch. No harm in looking, right?"

Sally shrugged. "I suppose."

"Gotta go, Mrs. T. See you next time."

"Gary will most likely return before then."

"Okay. Tell him Beci said hello."

Beci exited and Sally moved to the large mirror in the corner, running her eyes over her soft body.

"Milf," she muttered. "Lose fifteen pounds maybe. Maybe."

Behind the register again, Sally watched Beci drive away.

No harm in looking.

Sally checked the timers on the other guests. She had time. She knelt to pull the backing away and find Chris's room. She gulped.

Chris stroked his penis to erection, laughing and trying to take pictures of it with his phone. Sally's mouth dropped open. The young man's penis looked rather large. Sally had heard of dick pics and obviously, that's what the young man was doing right now. She watched him use the mirror in his room to find the best angle. She wondered where he sent them. Did he have a girlfriend?

Highly doubtful. He acts totally free.

After a moment, he dimmed his phone and sat it on the shelf. He faced the mirror again and stroked his erection with both hands. Sally nervously checked the timers, wondering what Chris planned. Once fully erect, he climbed into the bed and hit the lights. His erection reached beyond his belly button.

Sally plopped onto the high stool.

Good Lord.

She was breathing shallow and tiny drops of sweat coated her upper lip. Her body held an unfamiliar tension, almost a tingling. She took a quick look around the lobby and brushed her hands over her breasts, feeling the pointed nubs of her nipples beneath her bra.

He wanted to tan with it hard? Why?

Timers chimed in the back rooms and soon the other girl and the older gentleman appeared at her counter. She got them out the door quickly and returned to watch Chris. Fifteen minutes later, he emerged from his bed and she immediately checked; he'd deflated, but even soft he still swung like a pendulum. She shook her head and abruptly put everything away.

I've become Gary. How can I confront him now? I must stop this.

But she didn't. For the rest of the day and all the next she watched the monitors closely, spying on every man and half the women. By the time she closed and aimed for home, she was filled with shame and hornier than she'd been in a long, long time.

Chapter 6

Chris finished his three-song set and pushed through the crowd to reach the dressing room. He dumped the money from his G-string into his backpack. He snapped his pants up the side and tossed on a baggy T-shirt and laced up his boots. Adam came through the dressing room door.

"You outta here?" he asked, raising his voice over the booming music.

"Yessir," Chris replied. "Gotta study."

“Right. So, that hot thirty-something sitting at the bar isn’t waiting for you?”

“Did she wait? Ha! I was a cocky ass to her. I thought she’d ditch me for sure. Why do the hot ones take the abuse?”

“She got a nice fat ring on her finger.”

“Those are the best, right?” Chris asked. “Single girls want something from you. Married ones want the sex and then want you to get the fuck out.”

They shared a scornful laugh.

“You want to come with? I bet I could talk her into a threesome.”

Adam shook his head. “No, thanks, I got Tammy at my place tonight.”

Chris slung his backpack over an arm. They fist-bumped as he left.

Across the dance floor Chris saw the woman waiting. He guessed her age at thirty-six, give or take a year, and that she was well educated and probably a professional. He gave her a little grin and cut through the crowd. He liked how she couldn’t take her eyes off him.

Twenty minutes later they were in the backseat of her Mercedes. She tore at his belt and then his zipper and he just leaned back to watch. He enjoyed watching their faces when they saw his cock for the first time.

He’d learned her name was Rhonda, she was half Asian and half Irish, and happily married but horny. Her husband, Robert or something, was all the way back in Dallas and Rhonda needed dick now.

The familiar ziiiiip filled her car and Chris lifted his hips to help her get his pants down. His underwear bulged obscenely.

“There’s a surprising amount of room in this car,” he joked. She stopped and rolled her eyes before tugging on his boxer briefs.

Here it comes, he thought.

His meaty cock twisted free of his shorts and fell to his leg with a thwack. Rhonda leaned back to gaze at it.

“You’ve got to be kidding,” she mumbled.

“What’s wrong?” he asked. “Not big enough? You expected more? I can go grab a friend from the club if you need more dick.”

She playfully gave him the finger. “Believe me, you’re dick enough for anybody, and you could have warned a girl.”

“And miss that expression? No way. You saw me dancing. You even tipped me a few times. Did you think that was a bunch of gym socks stuffed in there or what?”

He stopped talking because she'd stopped listening. She grabbed his thick shaft in the middle and shook it like a dog with a rag, her face lighting up with joy.

“It's heavy,” she laughed.

He put a hand on her wrist to stop the shaking. “And sensitive,” he added.

“Aw, sorry. Did I hurt Mr. Wang? Should I kiss him and make it better?”

“Yes.”

He watched her smile fade, knowing at that moment she was imagining his cock in her mouth. She moved her knees farther back and lowered her face.

“Use your other hand,” he told her. “I want to see your wedding ring on my cock.”

She gave him a dirty look but switched hands. The head slipped into her mouth. He wanted to groan because it felt sensational but he'd learned over the years that giving head was a point of pride for most girls. If he remained silent, she'd work extra hard to get a moan from him. He sniffed as if bored and fiddled with the door lock. She took a deep breath and forced her head lower. His dick slipped partially into her steaming hot throat and he wanted to grab her head and fuck her mouth.

“That's pretty good,” he said, casually. “Only about half the girls can take that much so you're a little above average.”

He knew that would infuriate her and it did. Rhonda opened her mouth like a snake dislocating its jaw and forced her mouth farther down. Veins bulged on her neck and forehead. She gagged. She drooled on her fine Corinthian leather seats.

He knew there was no way she could throat him. He'd lied about other girls. Rhonda had already taken far more than most but watching her choke on his cock amused him. Maybe they won't use it as a criterion for a relationship but for a hot one night stand, bitches love a big dick.

She was good. He rose slowly, as always, gaining length and thickness, and shortly she had his enormous erection waving in the dim light of the back seat. He felt around in his pocket for the outline of a condom, a surge of electricity jolting his balls as he anticipated Rhonda's possible impregnation.

Take my hot load back to Dallas with you, he thought. Celebrate with your husband when you discover you've been blessed with a child.

She felt his dick harden and moaned around his shaft. She unbuttoned her top and pulled her panties from under her skirt.

"Condom?" she gasped.

"Here."

She held his cock and rolled the latex down his length, marveling at his size. She lifted a leg and aimed his erection at her pink slit, groaning as his hard girth spread her wide.

"Jesus," she exhaled, lowering her tunnel around his shaft.

He opened her top to play with her fine tits, watching her slam herself down around him, pleasing them both, moving them towards orgasm. Cynically thrilled, Chris loved that she did this to herself; her risky insemination was her own doing.

He allowed her to go for a while but then took over, moving behind her and turning her towards the windshield. Everyone that worked at the club knew to avoid a car Chris had entered. The parking lot attendants looked the other way. He pounded her from behind, ripping a climax from her as she gasped for air, her long hair flying, her firm tits bouncing, her gushing pussy lubing his dick with excitement. She came again.

He lifted her with ease, strong muscles bunching, and lowered her to the seat. He drove his cock balls-deep and pumped his hips hard. He'd just sucked a nipple when she peaked again, burying her face in his neck and crying out as she came. He pumped faster, eager now to fill the sabotaged rubber, exhilarated by the decadent prospect of another unfaithful wife inseminated.

She grabbed both ass cheeks and pulled.

"Cum for me you big stud," she growled. "Fuck me harder."

Chris worked his pelvis until his penis ached and throbbed.

"Take it," he growled, driving his cock deep and spewing hot sperm.

Rhonda wrapped her arms and legs around her strong lover, feeling the pulsing vibrations of his spasming prick deep within, secure in the knowledge she'd wrapped his penis herself.

They lay together a long time and Chris left his cock buried in her. When it was time, he rolled down the window and removed the condom in one smooth motion, shielding the almost empty sleeve from her eyes if she tried to look. She did not. They lay together and talked about their separate, busy lives. About half an hour later he began to rise again.

“Seriously?” she asked.

“It just does that around insanely hot women,” he said.

She rolled her eyes again but he knew the compliment struck home. He handed her another condom and they repeated their tryst. Once again he kept his cock buried and careful disposed of the used condom. When they finally parted company, she still had no idea.

Chapter 7

Sally was seconds away from sleep when she remembered she was supposed to be angry with Gary. None of confusion, guilt, shame, and anxiety she now faced daily would exist if he hadn't planted those cameras.

He snorted, already deep asleep, and turned on his side.

She'd been in the mood for lovemaking earlier and tried to drop a hint but it had been so long Gary missed it completely. She watched him and tried to summon her irritation but nothing came. Annoyance with the lying, perhaps, but now after days of depraved voyeurism, she understood the draw.

She'd pray extra hard come Sunday.

At dinner, Gary said the judge mentioned there may be two weeks left on the trial. Sally opened her work schedule for Vons and they discussed how to cover that much time, mostly by closing the salon early or opening late. She planned a mass email to all members tomorrow, announcing the new but temporary schedule.

Gary snorted again and she gave up trying to sleep. She slipped out of bed, checked on the boys, and made her way to the den to watch some television. When that failed, she thought perhaps a hot shower would help and used the guest bathroom to avoid waking anyone.

The water felt fantastic but the frothy suds were out of this world. Sally marveled at the heightened sensitivity of her skin and ran her hands everywhere, giggling. When she unintentionally rubbed a knuckle against her labia, she gasped and lurched. The jolt of electrical sensation left her gasping. She froze for an instant and then sent a finger to explore. More fantastic feelings bombarded her mind. She knew all about masturbation and even had a couple friends that admitted to it, but that behavior was mostly for males.

I will have a lot to pray about, she thought.

She pumped more liquid soap into her hands and sent them roaming. Everything felt so good! She closed her eyes to enjoy the pleasure and an image of nude Chris instantly formed. She saw his handsome face and chiseled body, confident gaze and hanging penis.

Cock, her mind corrected.

She opened her eyes, flooded with guilt. She shook her head, defiant.

I should not be thinking this and I certainly should not use words like that.

Her eyes closed again and her hand began to move on its own. Chris stood framed on the monitor, penis firmly erect, cell phone snapping pictures.

I wonder if he was recording video?

Now her mental image of Chris had sound and motion. The young hunk stood with muscles flexed, stroking and laughing. Sally imagined him standing over her, gazing up at that magnificent body and pulsing cock.

Her hips jerked as a bolt seared her clit. Her eyes squeezed shut and her hand slowly zeroed in on pleasure. She found her clit beneath a fold of skin and grazed a fingertip across the raw flesh. A gasp escaped before she clamped her jaw. She circled the finger around and found the same nub and worked that bump until she wanted to scream. How could something feel so good?

Open your mouth, she heard Chris command.

Her lips parted.

Take my cock in there, he said.

She stopped and opened her eyes. She knew that's not how he would say it and shook her head again, disappointed in herself. She closed her eyes and sent her finger exploring once more.

Suck my cock, Sally, Chris said.

This moan she couldn't stop. His words rang in her ears and she opened her mouth to suck on a soapy finger. She felt his fat balls hit her chin as she pulled his dick into her mouth, trying to take all of it, wanting to give him anything he wanted. She sucked and rubbed and the sensations built until her eyes flew open and she bit her finger. An orgasm smashed her sideways against the tiled wall and sent her entire body trembling.

I'm cumming!

The climax rocked her and she almost fell in the slippery tub. Way at the back of her mind she heard her mother scolding her but she ignored that no-fun bitch and rode the euphoric wave all the way in. Once the incredible pleasure began to fade she slumped to the floor of the tub under the spray of water.

What's happening to me?

She thought she might cry for a moment but the feeling passed. Eventually she stood and finished her shower, returned to bed, and slept like a baby.

Chapter 8

Chris visited again three days later and this time she was ready. When the shop was slow, she'd experimented with different rooms and different cameras and discovered room three was best for viewing, including a slow zoom button.

She found several recordings of Beci, Gary's obvious favorite, using that room, including some where the girl openly masturbated. Sally felt sure the girl suspected she was watched but doubted Gary realized this. Her moves were too affected. Sally viewed the girl with interest, given her own recent self-pleasuring, and wondered if there was anything to learn. There was indeed, she found, the first being a complete comfort with one's own body and desires. Beci had not a shred of inner conflict, camera or not.

Sally spotted Chris in the parking lot and quickly primped in the lobby mirror. He was on the phone as he approached but disconnected as he entered. Sally smiled discretely and said hello. He dropped his backpack on the floor.

"Hello to you too, Sally. How's your day so far?"

That he knew her name flustered her.

"Good. Fine. How's yours?"

"Life is good. Aced my test, love my job, happy and healthy. Room five?"

"Let's go with room three," she said. "I need to clean five."

"Three sounds great."

When did I learn to lie so easily? she wondered.

She found herself walking him back before she realized she was. He thanked her for the great customer service and they both laughed.

“My mind is a million miles away,” she said.

He met her eyes. “Mine is right here,” he said. He was close enough she felt his body heat.

Panicked, she hurried back to the lobby. Chris chuckled watching her hurry off.

She’s pretty, he thought. A little too soft but gorgeous eyes and pretty face.

He watched her full ass sway as she rounded the corner moving away.

I’d hit it, he concluded.

He stepped into the room and began to undress.

Sally rounded the counter and opened the cabinet; he already had his shirt off and she admired his strong torso. He kicked off his shoes and tossed his socks in a corner. Belt buckle, button fly; down came his pants. Sally felt a ball of heat form in her lap which began to radiate. Down came his underwear. She leaned in to zoom the lens and his body from knees to nipples filled her screen. She sighed. He was such a pleasure to the eyes. She tapped the zoom button again framing midthigh to belly button. She stared at his gorgeous penis. Even with her extremely limited experience, she knew this one was lovely.

I’m a terrible wife, she thought, absentmindedly.

She leaned closer and her elbow bumped the towel and protective eyewear she’d forgotten to give him.

“Gosh darn it,” she said.

She grabbed both and flew down the hall. She knocked on door three.

“Who is it?” Chris asked.

“Sally. I forgot your towel and goggles.”

She heard shuffling as he pulled on his pants again.

“It’s unlocked,” he said.

She opened the door.

He’d maneuvered behind the corner of the tanning bed, using the bulk of the machine to hide, but was unaware the mirror on the wall partially caught his reflection and showed almost everything. She stood paralyzed for an instant and then awkwardly held out the items.

“I can’t really take those from you,” he said. “Can you set them on the shelf?”

She nodded dumbly and stepped farther into the room, her body temperature skyrocketing. The shelf was near the mirror so she had a full-length view of him as she moved to the ledge. With each clumsy step, she devoured every inch of his body. When her eyes got to his cock she slowed, barely breathing, keenly aware she shared a small room with a bare-naked man and his large bare-naked penis. Chris watched her expressions. He knew all about the mirror and his exposed reflection but wanted to see her reaction, and he liked what he saw.

“Don’t you have a second job, Sally?” he asked, making small talk.

She did not look at him. “I do. I cashier at Vons.”

He leaned an elbow on the tanning bed. “Do you like working there?”

She barely heard him. He’d turned his body such that she now had a full length frontal view. That was disconcerting enough but apparently he liked being naked in a room with her because he was growing and she could not pull her eyes away.

His penis was beautifully shaped; long and tapered and thick. He had almost no pubic hair and he looked clean and healthy. She was sure he smelled good. The head sat like a fireman’s helmet at the end, a darker shade of pink, and bald testicles the size of chicken eggs hung at the base. Looking at the thing, she thought she felt vibrations travel through the air to her.

“Sally?”

His voice broke the spell.

Blood rushed furiously to her face.

“Yes, Chris?”

“Do you like working there?”

Her gaze reluctantly left his manly organ and rose to his face. His expression was blank but his eyes laughed.

When she still did not answer, he rolled the dice. He moved from behind the tanning bed and held out his hand for the items she carried, moving towards her. His rolling muscles flexed and his slightly inflated cock flopped thigh to thigh and she thought he was the sexiest, most beautiful thing she'd ever seen.

Her gaze returned to his body and this time she stared openly. He grinned. He took the towel and goggles and tossed them into the tanning bed, then took her hand and led it to his penis. With his fingers outside hers, he wrapped her hand around the shaft just behind the head.

"How's that feel?" he asked.

"Nice," she whimpered.

"Am I warm?"

"Yes."

"Can you feel me getting harder?"

"Yes."

"You're a beautiful woman, Sally."

Sally looked down at the cock resting in her hand. Warm was an understatement. He was a red-hot iron bar searing her palm. She tried to engage her mind but primitive lust ruled her. How much did he weigh? She squeezed slightly, watching her fingertips dent his veiny flesh.

His hands rose to her shoulders and he pressed lightly. Probably too soon, he reasoned, as with this step he needed to proceed slowly, but worth the gamble.

If she doesn't bend a knee this time, he calculated, she will next time.

For two heartbeats, she stood stiff and confused, her mind frozen.

Then the purpose of his urging made it through the fog.

He wants my face down there.

She knelt.

Now he hung mere inches in front of her face. Her mouth was parched. She couldn't feel herself breathing. He'd grown a little more and extended almost horizontally from his pelvis, staring her straight in the eye.

"Just take a small taste," he murmured. "Make me feel good. Let me see you."

Sally opened her mouth. Her head spun. Her jumping heart shattered ribs. She knew she shouldn't but she wanted to so badly. Her tongue licked the tip, then curled sensuously around the ridge as he invaded her mouth. His spongy head slid across her tongue until her lips closed. Her mouth felt full, stuffed. She closed her eyes and took another inch but no more. There was no room. She sucked but held her mouth still. She sucked harder.

"Look up at me, pretty girl," he said.

Sally met his eyes.

I will never get bored of this sight, he thought.

Her gaze roamed his fit body. She closed her eyes, savoring his firm flesh. His cock throbbed against her tongue with each beat of his strong heart.

I want him, she thought. Inside me. I want him inside me.

He gently moved his hands to her hair and began to slowly fuck her mouth. She whimpered and let him take over. He tried to push deeper but had to settle for only an inch. Her inexperience thrilled him.

Just a moment more, he thought, watching his wide cock ease in and out. I want to remember this moment.

He tenderly pushed and pulled his girthy member, now almost completely stiff, loving how her greedy lips clung to the shaft.

“Suck on me,” he said.

His word rang in her ears, proof this truly happened. It all seemed so surreal. She breathed through her nose, pulling on his meat with a strong vacuum. She had no idea what to do and hoped she pleased him.

“Harder,” he insisted. “I love my cock in your pretty face. Try to draw my cum out. You’re doing great.”

Draw his cum out? Did he hope to orgasm while in my mouth?

Sally shivered, repulsed and yet intrigued by the idea. She wondered about the taste of sperm. Her hand drifted to cup his hot and heavy testicles and she speculated how much they carried. She intensified her vacuum seal.

Chris knew they’d not have time to finish. She had no idea what she was doing and although seducing this innocent mom was hot, she simply lacked technique. He began to fuck her mouth more vigorously, taking what pleasure he could. Finally, he decided to end this for now. He gripped the shaft at the base and extracted his cock. The head left her mouth with a pop. He squeezed hard and moved his hand towards the head, pushing a large drop of clear fluid out the slit at the end.

“Open your mouth,” he said. “And stick out your tongue.”

Sally stared at the clinging wad, mostly clear but with milky trails swimming through it. This was liquid Chris, she thought. The essence of the man in fluid form. Curious, she extended her tongue.

“Good girl,” he said, triumphant.

He aimed his dick at her taste buds and wiped, smearing a shiny trail across the writhing purplish-pink mass. She instinctively closed her mouth, moving him around, evaluating his flavor. She found his extract salty but wonderfully male, instinctively recognizing the masculine fluid.

“Suck out the rest,” he said, aiming his cock at her mouth.

Sally fastened her lips to the pink tip without hesitation, eager for another sample. She sucked hard, like he’d taught her, and was rewarded with another slippery glob or two of semen. She rolled these around as well, deciding men tasted exciting. Spicy, yes, but with a touch of decadence and depravity. She realized she’d officially joined the ranks of women who have taken sperm in their mouths. Strangely, pride flared before guilt overran it.

“We’ll finish this later,” he said, helping her stand. “You better get back out there in case someone comes in. You did well, pretty girl. I’ll have more for you next time.”

Sally left the room in a daze. Her lips tingled. Her salty mouth tantalized. She still felt him in there, throbbing, pulsing. Emotions swirled but she could not place a name to them. Too much crowded her mind. She knew she’d need time to let things settle.

When the next client entered the shop, Sally floated through the transaction. When Chris checked out thirty minutes later, they exchanged knowing smiles. Sally waited for the crushing guilt she knew was inevitable. She braced herself; she’d done something terrible and once Chris was gone and she was again calm, she knew a wave of regret and shame would smash her.

But it never came.

She spent the remainder of the day and well into the night pondering this shift but arrived at no conclusion. She tried to force remorse, chastising herself for such dishonest and untrustworthy behavior. Each time her mind circled back to the months of Gary living his lie. A rationalization, yes, and his deceits did not alleviate hers. She’d gone a step farther and touched someone else. From everything she’d seen, Gary had never done that. Nevertheless, she found herself shockingly untroubled.

Her orgasm in the shower that night left her clinging to consciousness. She’d never cum so hard in her life. She limped from the shower and collapsed into bed, exhausted, sleeping deeply until morning.

Chapter 9

Minutes after Gary ended his routine lunch-time call with Sally, a court clerk emerged from the judge's chambers to announce a recess for the day and added an admonition for everyone to return at seven tomorrow morning.

Gary gathered his things and headed for the parking garage, checking the time to see if he could catch Sally at the salon. With a few green lights and favorable traffic, he could just make it.

He did not.

Arriving only minutes after she locked the doors for the night and drove away, he put the car in reverse to head home.

He stopped.

Let me run in just to check on the place, he thought. I'm sure Sally is doing an excellent job, but just to be certain. She won't even know I checked up on her.

He put the car in park and entered the darkened building.

After a brief walkthrough, he returned to the front counter. Every towel was clean and stocked, every shelf was full of product, no dust or fingerprints anywhere.

She runs the place better than me.

He sat on the tall stool behind the counter and noted her clean and organized nature extended even back here. The shop was immaculate.

He crouched under the counter to examine the hidden cabinet and then checked the time.

Maybe just a peek to see what I've missed these last days.

He fished the key from his coin pocket and opened the cabinets, instantly noticing the monitors had been moved. Cold fingers gripped his heart. Sally would be furious. He opened the program on the store computer and checked the change history, noting the times and dates and which cameras were used. He saw all the times where while Sally tended the store, going back to her first day.

She'd seen everything.

She knew everything.

Why had she said nothing?

Cold sweat trickled down the space between his shoulder blades.

She'll leave me. She'll take the boys, divorce me, publicly shame me, and ruin my life. I was so stupid. Why did I do this? To look at naked girls? What a lame reason. I risked everything for so little. I'm an idiot.

He noticed camera three had a recording pending.

Why make a recording and then not watch it?

He drummed his fingers on the counter.

Why is Sally making recordings at all?

He turned the monitor around and hit play.

The door to room three opened and Chris Brant stepped in. He began to undress. Moments later he seemed to speak towards the door and then maneuver behind the tanning bed, checking the mirror to make sure he revealed himself in it. Gary held his breath. He knew Sally was about to open that door.

When she did she quickly turned away but aimed her shy face right at the mirror. Gary expected his timid wife to back out of the room. Instead, she entered holding a towel and goggles.

What happened next snatched the air from his lungs and drained the blood from his veins. He saw it all; His wife holding that big cock in her hand, his wife kneeling and taking that big cock in her mouth, his wife extending her tongue so Chris could wipe his cum across it. His wife eagerly opening her mouth and throat so Chris could face-fuck her. He saw it all and could not believe what his own eyes told him.

Chris helped her stand and she left the room. Chris dressed and exited too. The meter had another twenty minutes of recording but Gary knew it would all be of an empty room.

He sat on the floor, dumbly staring at his hands.

Sally sucked another man's cock.

The words slowly ricocheted inside his head.

Sally sucked Chris's cock.

That stung even more.

His hands trembled when he hit rewind and then play. He zoomed the monitor. Handsome Chris sported a formidable cock. Like every other female around, the stud had caught the attention of Sally too. Gary wished the cameras had sound so he could hear what they said to each other. Sally seemed to be in a daze.

Is this her revenge for what I did? Is this why she's said nothing?

He queued up all the recordings made since her first day. One after another were of male visitors. She'd watched almost all of Gary's female recordings before making male recordings of her own. Her recordings of Chris were crisp, well-lit, and zoomed.

What can I do? he wondered. What is her plan?

He reversed the Chris blowjob recording and played it again, maximizing the zoom feature until only her face and his cock filled the screen. Her expression showed how much she loved what she did. Her eyes were closed. She savored that rigid dick in her mouth. Still timid, but determined, eager.

This was a side of Sally he never dreamed existed.

Why had she said nothing?

He watched the recording again.

An internal sensation he struggled to name grew and gained strength. He rewound certain moments and watched them again. He watched that flared head slide between her tight lips and realized he found the sight erotic.

Sally sucked cock and Gary, despite all his fears, liked it.

He watched the recording again.

Then he watched it again.

He opened his pants and began to masturbate. On two other monitors, he started recordings of Beci masturbating on the tanning bed. Images poured into his brain as his eyes jumped from screen to screen. His penis hardened quickly. His cum rose fast. He groaned and doubled over and blasted ropes of cum all over the tile floor. On the screen, Chris smeared sperm across Sally's taste buds.

When Gary recovered, he cleaned the mess with paper towels and put everything back exactly the way he'd found it. He discovered how Sally had found a way into the locked cabinet but carefully returned the monitors to her positions.

I must wait for her to say something. I'll act like I don't know. This had to be an act of revenge. Maybe now she'll let this whole mess go. Erase everything and tell me to behave and I'll do it.

He checked to make sure everything was perfect, and, satisfied, turned to go. At the last moment, he stopped. He opened the cabinet again and with a few quick keystrokes sent himself an email of Sally's blowjob. He then erased every trace of what he'd done and closed shop.

Chapter 10

Beci arrived for a quick tan and found she was third in line. Business was booming. She had her eyes buried in her phone so only after she took her place did she notice the person in front of her was Chris Brant. From behind, she looked him up and down, her gaze lingering on his perfect round ass.

The line moved.

Behind the counter Sally raced. She was practiced now, checking people in, setting timers and rooms, handing out towels and goggles. When Chris stepped to the counter, all that changed. Beci pretended to study her phone but she saw the way they looked at each other. Something had happened between them. She felt an instant of remorse for poor Gary but then remembered that old pervert had recorded her along with countless others. She was surprised when she heard Sally give Chris room three.

That's my room, she thought. Then she understood. Probably has the best cameras. No wonder.

Chris wandered down the hall and Beci stepped to the counter.

"Business is good," she said.

"It is," Sally gushed. "I've gotten the hang of it now, though, so getting everyone in a bed is much easier."

"As easy as getting Chris in a bed?"

Sally froze, guilt plastered all over her face. By the time she remembered to deny everything and hit back with anger, it was too late.

"Don't worry," Beci said. "Your secret's safe with me. I'm actually envious. But you sent him to room three and that means you most likely have a recording, and if you have Chris recorded, I want to see it."

She watched the older woman's face pass through a wide and frantic range of emotions. She had Sally on the ropes. Beci almost felt bad. The double whammy of revealing she knew about the cameras, combined with her awareness of Sally's dalliance with Chris, had the poor woman reeling.

Sally tried a feeble defense. "I have no idea what you're talking about."

"No worries," Beci said, cheerfully. "I've always wondered how I looked on camera. I'll just ask Gary to show me everything he's recorded."

Fear gripped Sally. Beci's happy tone carried implied threat. This was disastrous. Not only was Beci aware of the cameras, she knew about her and Chris. How? Had Chris talked? That seemed so unlikely.

"What do you want?" Sally said.

“You have Chris recorded?”

Sally gave up trying to lie effectively. “Yes.”

“Is it true what they say about him?”

“Yes.”

Beci giggled. “Awesome. Show me.”

The girl stepped around the counter.

Sally had a million questions but kept her mouth shut. She moved the cabinet and turned the monitor. She played the recording of Chris jerking his dick and taking selfies. Beci looked amazed.

“Holy shit, that’s hot. I love watching guys stroke. Look at that body. Look at that cock! Delicious. So, what happened between you two? Did you fuck him?”

Beci’s blunt language and direct manner left Sally feeling a step behind.

“What? No. Of course not.”

“Well something happened. Did you blow him?”

Sally looked over the girl’s head and into the parking lot. Beci laughed.

“You did!” Beci watched Chris stroke his cock on the screen.

“Damn, and that’s a big one too. You’ve got to hook me up with some of that.”

“What do you mean?”

Beci pointed at the monitor. “Share, bitch. He’s got enough for two.”

Sally recoiled. “Are you saying...we both...at the same time?”

Beci laughed again. “No, although that sounds hot. I’m saying put in a good word for me. Tell him I’m interested. Tell him I have a boyfriend so I’m just looking for sex.”

Sally was stunned. Beci was so confident, so sure of what she wanted. Kids today were different from her generation.

“All right, I’ll tell him.”

“Great.” She watched Chris on the monitor again. “I’ll take that room now.”

Sally gave her the necessary items and watched her leave. When she heard the door close, she turned her eyes to the monitor and watched Beci undress. On the next screen over, Chris eased his gorgeous naked body into the tanning bed. Sally felt a rush of adrenaline and anxiety.

I’m losing control of all this, she thought. Too much has happened.

Beci stepped out of her gym pants and peeled off her tight top and Sally leaned in. The girl had an amazing body. She pictured Chris and Beci having sex and jealously erupted. She drew a sharp breath. For a moment, she considered telling Beci to go to Hell but then remembered the damage the girl could do. She resolved to mention Beci to Chris when he stopped at the counter on the way out.

I'll tell him and hope he ignores her. What else can I do?

Chapter 11

Adam opened the door to the dressing room and quickly stepped inside. The mirror-lined hall curved to the right and as he followed it around, he found Chris seated in a folding chair with a forty-something brunette between his legs, sucking his sweaty cock, the wedding ring on her finger gleaming.

“Nice,” he joked.

She was pretty; big dark brown eyes and short hair, high cheekbones and full lips. She wore a little black dress but that had ridden up her thighs until white lace panties lay exposed. She knelt in the dirt and grime, spilled drinks and dried cum, and did not care at all. She had about four inches of Chris in her mouth.

Chris raised a fist for a bump and asked if Adam wanted some. The woman looked up at Adam but kept the cock in her mouth. Adam shrugged. She was pretty.

“Sure,” he said. “Get a little size pump before hitting the stage.”

He unzipped and pulled his substantial cock into the open. He was smaller than Chris but then almost every guy was. He stepped closer, bumping the woman’s face with his soft dick. She scoffed as if she could not believe the audacity of these two arrogant young men, but then she transferred her attention to Adam’s penis and sucked him in. He moaned.

“She’s good, right?” Chris asked.

Adam nodded. “She’s fucking great.”

The woman took the compliment with a groan of her own and intensified her assault. Adam moved his stiffening cock so he bumped Chris and she groaned again, slathering both dicks with her tongue, sucking and licking and bobbing each in turn.

“You want to fuck her?” Chris asked.

“Nah, Tammy,” Adam explained.

“Cool. Hand me a rubber.”

The woman hesitated, apparently remembering her vows at this critical moment, but Chris pulled her to her feet and turned her away. He bent her at the waist and shoved her face towards Adam’s cock. She instinctively gobbled the bobbing head and then moaned loud and long when Chris pulled her panties aside and shoved his hefty dick into her drenched hole. Any argument died in that moment. At least he wore a condom, she reasoned. Chris held her hips and kept feeding her pussy dick until her hips squirmed. She felt stuffed and stretched and he still had more cock to give.

Adam held her head and did the same at the other end. She gripped his thighs like a vise, pinned between the two men, and howled around the dick filling her mouth. This was far more than anything she’d ever experienced. The dressing room door opened again and another dancer entered and she tried to see who he was. She heard him greet Chris and Adam but then nonchalantly go about the business of preparing to dance.

The young men began to fuck her at each end. How had this happened so quickly, she wondered. She had no time to contemplate as the immediacy of the moment took all her attention. Adam now fucked her mouth and surprisingly, she sensed Chris might give her an orgasm. That huge cannon reached everywhere and touched everything. She was still gasping for breath and fighting to maintain her balance when a climax ripped through her.

Chris was finished dancing for the night so he held nothing back. When his nuts boiled over, coaxed by her spasming pussy, he turned loose the flood and let it come. The sabotaged rubber quickly filled and then sprayed tens of millions of sperm into her unwitting pussy.

She went limp but Chris left his cock buried. Adam eventually slowed.

“You gonna nut?” Chris asked. “Make her drink it.”

“Nah, I need a swole dick to fill my G-string.”

“All right. Hold her up so I can pull this out.”

Adam braced the woman’s shoulders and Chris eased his fat and deflating log free. She hated to feel him leave. As soon as he slipped out, she turned to be sure he wore protection and relief flooded her when she saw the end of his enormous dick capped with latex. She flopped into the folding chair as Chris peeled the latex off and dropped the used condom into the metal trashcan.

“Come here,” she told Chris.

The guys fist-bumped again and Adam joined the other dancer, dressing for their first set of the night.

Chris stepped close enough his cock pressed her lips. She lifted him and slipped the end in her mouth, tasting semen. She swirled her tongue and sucked, rewarded with a glob and several drops.

“Hey, Adam” Chris said, watching the woman swallow. “You know a girl named Beci Mezza? I think she has a class with you.”

“I know of her but we’ve never spoken. Hot little Hispanic firecracker, right? Big tits, round ass. Why?”

“She told someone she wants to fuck me and I’m thinking I’ll do it.”

The woman slapped his thigh. “Don’t talk about another woman while I’m sucking your dick, you bastard.”

Chris placed a hand on the back of her head and forced more dick into her mouth, causing her to gag. She struggled for an instant but then enjoyed his rough manner and the fat cock fucking her mouth.

“Do it, dude,” Adam said. “Beci’s hot.”

Chris nodded agreement.

“Suck out every drop,” he told the woman. “When you leave here I want as much of me inside you as I can get.”

The woman intensified her efforts, utterly unaware of his double meaning.

Chapter 12

Gary agonized for two days. He felt feverish and sick. He struggled to concentrate in court and twice noticed the judge watching him.

By day three, he’d gotten his feet under him a little. When the jurors broke for lunch, he sat in a bathroom stall and watched Sally suck Chris again. With the passage of time and the fading of his initial shock and dismay, he’d learned to fully appreciate how amazing Sally looked with a cock in her mouth. If he blocked from his mind that it was Chris’s cock, she looked great. Gary played with his penis while the recording played. The courthouse bathroom was far too busy for him to climax but sitting and watching and stroking proved terribly exciting.

Eventually, days later, his position shifted again and he loved that it was Chris sliding in and out. Chris could have any girl that came into the salon, probably any girl he wanted. That he'd taken a liking to Sally made Gary, in a strange and tortured way, proud. He grew to love Sally's expression of bliss and pure abandon. He was surprised by his reaction but there was no denying his response; it excited him to watch Sally suck dick, and it especially excited him she was sucking Chris.

In all the days since his first discovery of their liaison, it never occurred to him that they may have taken things farther. He assumed the event had been spontaneous and never repeated. A one-time mistake. When the possibility did finally pop into his mind, he gasped out loud in court. Every face turned towards him.

"I'm so sorry," he said, raising a hand. "Sharp shooting stomach pains."

"Do we need a recess?" the judge asked.

"No. It's gone now."

The trial continued but Gary hardly heard a word.

Chris could be fucking Sally right now.

The agony was like a lance rammed through his chest and out his back. He couldn't swallow. He couldn't breathe. When the judge finally released them for lunch, Gary sent a text telling Sally he loved her. She responded right away. That eased his mind some but, paradoxically, he soon found himself in the stall again, stroking and watching his wife worship hard dick.

Each day grew more agonizing. He now felt something could happen at any moment. He was constantly on edge, worried and anxious. At home each night he carefully observed Sally for any sign a barrier had been breached, a vow broken.

Many days later he sent a lunch-time I love you text and Sally did not respond. He panicked. There were hundreds of legitimate reasons why she would not but only one ate at his soul like acid.

Home life that night was strained. He wanted to burst. He had a million question with a million matching fears, but if he didn't ask, he wouldn't be forced to face the truth. Sally seemed fine and he told himself if she'd fucked Chris, there was no way she could act normal. He slept fitfully and was exhausted in court the next day.

Lunchtime found him in his bathroom stall again only this time when he watched the video, he realized something inside him had changed overnight. All vestiges of any protective barrier of denial were gone. He really and truly for the first time saw his wife suck Chris's hard cock. He thought he'd understood he was watching his wife but today he seemed to truly see her for the first time. He saw how she truly treasured his seed. He saw how deeply she wanted Chris.

Unable to resist this new and powerful understanding, Gary shot several jets of cum on the bathroom linoleum.

Chapter 13

Sally set her black coffee on the counter too hard, bouncing the cup off the Formica. Had it been a week already? Chris parked his BMW and stepped out, slinging his backpack over a shoulder. Sally saw the whole thing in slow motion.

I didn't pray hard enough last Sunday, she thought.

He wore basketball shorts and tank, like he'd just come from the court, and the hot pure sunlight made him glow. She memorized every move he made. He entered the lobby and glanced around, surprised to see he was the lone customer.

"Holiday weekend," Sally offered. "Everyone's at the park playing softball or the lake boating."

"Lucky for me," he said.

In that moment, she made up her mind.

"Lucky for me," she corrected.

She got him checked in but followed him to the room and he held her hand after two steps. He kissed her after they rounded the corner. Her heart pounded wildly. She'd not thought beyond getting that gorgeous penis in her mouth again.

In his room, he pushed her against a wall and kissed her with passion. Her body exploded with heat. His big hands mauled a breast and the jolt of electricity fried her brain. He continued kissing her while he rapidly opened the buttons down the front of her dress. She gasped for air when he threw the two sides open and munched on her bra. She whimpered defeat when he lifted her big soft tit from the cup and swallowed her pulsing nipple.

Somehow he undressed during the brief time her eyes were closed. She felt his erection rise into her gap and moaned, breaking the kiss to sink to a knee and once more get that beefy slab of manhood sliding along her tongue. He let her, his busy hands working on her clasps and straps, rapidly dumping her clothing to the floor. Soon only her white panties offered a last line of defense.

She only vaguely understood her danger. His cock was almost hard for her.

For HER.

She chewed her lip and gazed at the beast, mesmerized by the stark masculinity. That a man like this wanted her so badly made her feel fantastic. She encircled him with both hands, marveling at the heat and the girth, and guided him lovingly into her wet mouth. His groan of satisfaction sent her heart racing.

She tried to remember his instructions from last time but just ended up bobbing her mouth and stroking with both hands. She sucked as hard as she could every second he was in there. Every time he moaned or groaned she burned that move into her memory forever.

On a hunch, she ducked under and licked his big hot balls, breathing in his musty male scent and relishing his sounds of pleasure. She'd guessed right. His fat testicles rolled around inside their fleshy bag and she smothered her face under it. Her tongue was wild, licking everywhere, and when she inadvertently licked his puckered asshole and he jumped and moaned from the intense pleasure, she burrowed her face deeper and devoured his tiny wrinkled ring.

"Oh God," he groaned high above her. "Holy shit, that's amazing."

She was so pleased with herself, so thrilled by her discovery and exploration, she wiggled the tip of her tongue through the clenched sphincter. Chris lost his mind.

He growled deeply like an animal and lifted her to her feet. His strong hand grasped her flimsy panties and ripped them down to her knees, exposing her hairy pussy. He circled her waist with one arm and bent her over with the other and Sally felt a freight train smash her delicate and inexperienced labia. An alarm sounded, chattering about promises and fidelity, but Sally ignored the warning.

Despite his massive girth, her dripping wetness helped him sheath half his cock with one thrust. The waves of pleasure left her stunned and speechless, too shocked to cry out. Her mind exploded with sensations she'd never known, rocking her world, turning everything upside-down; a penis cannot feel this good and yet this one did.

He drove his cock deeper and her head snapped back, a mild but spontaneous climax racing up her body from her clitoris and robbing her of strength. Only his muscular arms kept her standing. He drove the remaining inches far up into her and this time she found her voice, wailing like a wolf. He pulled out a bit and drove his cock home again and Sally lost all composure.

Chris was an animal. Her bare pussy astounded him. How long since he had sex without a condom? The sensation was overpowering. And this was a mother of two? Sally gripped his enormous shaft like a vise, her smooth and slippery walls milking him, coaxing, teasing. He sucked air, shocked by the tight grasp. He'd not expected this. Her body encased him in snug folds of warmth and wet. He shivered and fought for control.

Sally abandoned herself. When Chris slammed his iron cock deep her first and last thought were this was the second man to be inside her, and he felt nothing like the first. Chris derailed her mind, reducing her to pure physical sensations. She felt every throbbing inch of his bumpy, veiny cock and thought of nothing else. He fucked her hard and fast, mashing her tits against the wall, battering her dripping hole. She rode the pleasure he gave and quickly found herself climbing towards another climax, and this one would not be mild.

Intercourse had never given her an orgasm and she squeezed her eyes shut, clamped her jaw, and let this hot hunk pound another one out of her now. When it hit, she screamed into her hands and gushed surging fluid all over the tanning room floor. Her body shuddered.

Chris held her butt firmly, holding her in place while he drove his meat spike into her eager pussy again and again, addicted to the mind-blowing hold her cunt had on him. When he heard her strangled cries of orgasm and felt her pussy rippling along his length, he buried his face in her hair and growled in her ear, fucking her faster until he slammed his hips against her ass, pinned her to the wall, and with a roar pumped sperm until she was awash in it. Semen splashed and dribbled, mixing with her pussy juice on the floor. His convulsing nuts emptied, fertilizing her married womb, again and again lifted and shooting.

He kept her there, on her tippy-toes and stuffed with cock, until he shrank enough to fall from her hole. He backed away and sat on the edge of the tanning bed. His cock, still long and spongy, rested on the rounded edge and stared at the floor.

Sally rolled her shoulders along the wall to face him. Her swollen inner lips peeked from behind her hairy pussy, her disheveled panties around her knees like silky handcuffs. Her eyes moved from his gorgeous face to his formidable cock to his pumped muscles and back to his face.

“That,” she exhaled, voice trembling. “Was romance novel sex.”

He nodded slightly.

“That was. I’ve never had such a hot fuck. Jesus, Sally.”

She looked down, suddenly shamed. “Let’s leave his name out of this.”

Chris left the bed and took her face in his hands, kissing her passionately.

“Put my cock in your mouth,” he told her.

She did not hesitate. A tiny voice far in the back of her mind tried to make itself heard but she wasn’t having it. Not yet. She fell to her knees, again face to face with the monster that owned her, and slipped his deflated beast in her mouth, holding him there, tasting them both mixed on his glossy shaft. She moaned, wondering how this thick appendage had given her so much pleasure.

He tenderly brushed the hair off her face, noting the occasional strand of gray. She was lovely and her eager willingness to please touched him. He watched her rolling his soft cock around, licking the head and gently sucking the shaft, until he worried someone would enter the salon and catch them. He pulled his cock out and kissed her.

“I must get back out there,” she said before he could.

He gave a quick nod and she quickly dressed.

“No,” he said. “Those are mine. Give them to me.”

He held out his hand for her panties and, blushing, she slid them down her legs and handed them over. They kissed again, an awkwardness already growing, and she exited the room, shutting the door behind her. She hurried to the front counter, praying no one had entered. They were still alone and she was shocked to discover only twenty-two minutes had elapsed.

She pulled the tall stool under her and sat.

Chris finished tanning and after a brief chat at the counter where Sally handed over Beci's number, left with the promise to see her soon.

Alone, she reached under her dress and drew a cum-coated finger out, rubbing the slick fluid around. With each passing second, the full extent of what she'd done pressed upon her. She checked her phone and saw an I love you text from Gary but did not respond. Not now. Not so soon after.

She waited for the crushing guilt and shame, holding her breath and counting the minutes. Like before, it never came. Even when the sudden realization of possible pregnancy slapped her across the face, remorse never appeared. She called her doctor's office and asked they send a request for the morning after pill to the pharmacy by her house.

Just like that, her tryst was behind her.

Minutes later, she was wondering when she might fuck Chris again.

Chapter 14

Gary knew. He didn't know how he knew, but he knew. It was far more than just the text she left unanswered. Dinner that night was meatloaf and mashed potatoes; his favorite, and Sally hummed while she did the dishes. Little clues, he knew, and hardly enough to reach a conclusion, but he knew.

He checked her phone while she showered but found nothing. He checked the hamper, looking for her panties, but the pair he found seemed to be from the day before. Where were today's?

At lunch the next day, he texted from the courthouse, informing Sally he needed to stay late to review evidence, but in reality planning to stop at the salon after she'd gone. He had almost two hours to explore.

He needed less than fifteen minutes.

He moved directly to the monitors and reset all the recordings to three days prior. He hit fast forward and his eyes jumped from screen to screen, dozens of people zipping around the salon, dressing, undressing, talking, and tanning. He caught a glimpse of Beci and slowed the feed to watch her strip and stretch, marveling at the girl's natural sexual beauty, but then sent everyone scurrying again. Minutes later camera three showed Chris slam Sally against a wall. Gary held his breath and hit stop, jumped back five minutes, and hit play.

Chris manhandled Sally, and Sally loved it.

Gary had to pause the feed several times. The sight was gut-wrenching. Chris was a thoroughbred stallion, a prized bull. After Sally worshipped his cock on her knees like a dirty whore, he pinned her to the wall and fucked her hard until ejaculating deep. Gary watched the insemination of his wife in full color and slow motion. Then he watched it again. Then he watched it again.

His agony was full and complete. He had no retreat, nowhere to hide. Sally welcomed Chris with every atom of her being. She was a full and willing participant. She even returned to her oral worship when his messy cock dangled in front of her face.

Gary's penis swelled as he watched but he dismissed it. He watched raw sex; of course his penis grew. Most unsettling was what all this might mean. Was his marriage ending? He'd never, ever seen Sally behave this way. She was so lusty, so hot for it. She was heartbreaking to watch but he couldn't look away. Each time he replayed the recording he slowed at the moment Chris came. He suffered searing anguish watching the young virile man inject his wife with cum. The recording was less than a day old. All that sperm still swam inside her.

How can I go home and face her, he wondered, now that I know the truth?

He watched the recording again and then emailed a copy to himself, erasing all trace of what he'd done. As he locked the front doors again he wondered if this made them even.

At least I never touched anyone, he reasoned. What she did was far worse.

On the drive home, his stance softened. He may not have touched anyone but he had to admit he would have if one of the girls had offered. Things are different for men and women. He'd only lacked opportunity. He would have fucked Beci without a moment's hesitation and how much did two years' worth of lying and deceit weigh? The images of Chris fucking Sally tore him up but he could already hear her coming back at him, throwing his huge lie in his face.

Another mile under his tires and he realized he wasn't thinking clearly at all. Too many conflicting emotions muddied the waters. Some part of him was happy for Sally. She'd looked so excited and blissful. That was absurd, right? He shook his head. How could he be pleased in any way?

He used the remote too open the garage door and held his breath. He entered the house and greeted the boys, bathed and ready for bed. Sally gave him a peck on the lips, same as always, and took his leather briefcase. Gary tucked the boys in, talked to them about their day, kissed them goodnight, and headed out to face Sally.

Within ten minutes he was ready to hand her an Academy Award. She was flawless. He detected absolutely nothing. She was so good, in fact, he seriously doubted the recording he'd seen. No way was this the same woman.

They moved through their evening routine with practiced ease. They hit all the right topics, they said all the right things. As bedtime approached, Gary wondered how he'd feel sleeping next to his unfaithful wife. He showered and got into bed and she showered, taking a little longer than usual, and then joined him.

She smelled clean and fresh. She turned out the bedroom light.

Gary's penis began to inflate.

He moved his hips away so she wouldn't notice.

"How's the salon?" he asked, wondering why he was hard.

"Good. Business is up. I tell everyone to sends friends and family."

"Smart."

"Thank you."

His dick was hot steel. What was happening? He scooted farther away. Sally rolled on her side facing away and asked him to spoon her.

"You seem distant," she said. "Wrap your arm over me?"

He froze. There was no way out. His mind raced but hit on nothing. He moved closer, keeping his hips away. His arm curled across her large breasts and he kissed her ear, hoping this was enough. Sally moved her butt to make contact and his erection poked her butt. Both froze.

"What's going on?" she asked.

"You smell so good," he said, speaking the first words that came into his mind and then silently grimacing behind her.

They remained immobile several heartbeats until Sally reached between her legs and guided him to her pussy. All the air left his lungs in a rush. He first felt how she'd shaved her pubic hair and an instant later, sinking into her volcanic pussy, how Chris still thoroughly lubricated her. Her tunnel was a tight, slick, scalding tube. He groaned involuntarily and Sally took that as all the encouragement she needed. She shoved her butt at his hips, hungry for every inch he had, reaching the base of him in one thrust. He groaned again and she turned her head to kiss him over a shoulder.

“I was sooo hoping you’d do this tonight,” she breathed.

I know why, he thought.

Her hot pussy quickly drove all uncertainties from his mind. He gasped at her smoldering grip. How long had it been? He couldn’t remember. She was slippery and he was sure he stirred Chris inside her. Working his penis through his soup left him partially disgusted and partially aroused. His dick sloshed semen. The more she pumped her tight pussy on him, the more stimulated he became.

His disgusted faded. Soon Chris in her became a badge of hotness. What else was Sally capable of? He grabbed her tit and squeezed and she welcomed his touch. There was no denying her responsiveness. She wanted Gary. She needed Gary. Soon her urgency wiped all other thoughts from his mind and he made love to his lovely wife in earnest.

They cuddled after and Gary felt her starting to drift off.

“Are you happy?” he murmured.

Instantly awake, Sally turned to face her concerned husband, touching his cheek and meeting his eyes.

“Absolutely,” she said and he saw she meant it.

He considered telling her in that moment that he knew but worried where that might lead. What if that was her only time? What if all this had run its course and was already behind them? Why bring it up?

She trimmed her pussy.

Deep down, he knew what that meant.

“I saw the recording,” he mumbled. “I saw Chris fuck you.”

Chapter 15

Chris drove away from the tanning salon in a fantastic mood. Strange that the best sex he’d had in months, possibly years, came with and older, slightly overweight woman, and not one of the hot young babes he so frequently banged. He already looked forward to fucking Sally again.

He questioned why he skipped the condom. He questioned why he risked impregnating someone he knew. A baby would wreck his plans and did not fit into his despicable game at all.

Unless Sally and Gary knew it was mine and raised it anyway.

A surge of blood rushed to his dick.

That would be fucking hot, he thought. An egotistical swell of domination boiled his blood. He liked Gary well enough but this had nothing to do with that. This would be like owning them both.

I want to get Sally pregnant, and I want Gary to know it was me.

He stopped at a red light.

I just need him to find out about me and Sally without losing his shit.

Chris laughed at himself.

Yeah, good luck with that plan, dumbass. What husband would be okay with his wife banging me?

Chapter 16

Sally felt paralyzed. Her mind screamed but her body froze. Her eyes were wide as she gazed at her husband. Thoughts tripped and fell in a mad rush to be heard. At last, one broke through loud and clear.

But we just made love!

Slowly, her feet came back to Earth.

Proceed with caution, her mind warned. “You’re not angry,” she said.

“No.”

“You don’t seem hurt either.”

“I am, but I’ve had a long time to think. I know I have more than my share of guilt. Honestly, I’m mostly numb. Or maybe I’m feeling so many things at the same time, and have been for so long, all I’m left with is numb.”

Sally took his shriveled penis in her hand.

“How were you able to make love?”

Gary chewed on that. Hard to insist you’re hurt when your penis is erect. He decided to ignore her question for now.

“Why, Sally?” he asked. “Why did you do it?”

Her defenses came up. He had plenty to answer for as well. She thought about calling it plain revenge but that would only make things worse and honestly, she knew that wasn’t the whole truth. She took a deep breath.

“I don’t have a simple reason, Gary,” she said. “I love you. I want you to know that. I want you to hear me say that and look in my eyes and see I mean it. I am happy. If you’re worried about Chris, don’t be. At first, after I found your camera set up, I was angry and used what you’d done to justified my behavior. Clearly, things have gone much farther now. There’s so much more to it.”

“Like what?” he asked. “What went through your mind?”

She was thoughtful for a moment.

“Well, Chris is beautiful. I saw him on your monitors and I felt drawn to him. I was flattered he’d even noticed me and when he flirted and meant it, I guess I became a little smitten.”

“Go on.”

Sally paused, studying her husband’s face.

“I’m getting older, Gary. My looks, such as they are, fade more every day. I’m gaining wrinkles and weight. I discovered you spend your days sitting there watching and recording girls less than half my age and that felt bad. Add to that our lives have become a little boring and routine and I don’t say this as an excuse or to blame you, but you rarely touch me anymore. I wanted to feel attractive, I wanted to punish you for what you’d done, and I wanted Chris.”

“Are you leaving me?”

She touched his face again and kissed his lips softly.

“No, Gary. Never. You’re my husband and the father of my children. Are you leaving me?” She added that question at the last moment and now found herself holding her breath.

“No,” he said. “Never.”

They regarded each other across their pillows. They’d been through so much together. They shared so much history.

“What happens now?” Gary said. “My wife has been unfaithful.”

Sally winced and Gary regretted saying it.

“I’m done with Chris,” Sally answered. “I’ll speak with him the next time he comes in, probably five or six days. In the meantime, I’ll remove the cameras.”

Gary thought back on the times he tried to quit the cameras, knowing it was wrong, realizing the risk. He knew how powerful the draw was.

“I believe it will prove more difficult than that,” he said. “Why did you trim your hair down there? Did you plan on having sex with him again?”

Sally took his hand. “Yes, but that was before.”

Gary dropped it. He hoped she was right. He hoped she told the truth. He changed gears.

“You shouldn’t worry so much about getting older, Honey. You’re beautiful. I watched those recording and you looked amazing. I’ve never seen you so sexy. I watched them again and again.”

“You watched them? More than once? All the way through?”

“Yes.”

She squeezed his hand. “That sounds awful.”

“It was hard to watch, I won’t lie, but incredible to see. Insanely intense.”

“It was stupid of me to forget about the cameras. Too involved in the moment, I guess. I never thought to go back and erase what I’d done.”

She chewed her lip for a moment. “Did I really look good?” she asked. “I can’t believe you can even say that. I can’t believe you could even watch me. I could never watch you with another woman.” She scooted closer to her husband. “I’m sorry you had to see that, Darling.”

“You really went after his penis...orally...I thought you didn’t care for that.”

“I don’t mind, I’m just no good at it. I always feel stupid and inadequate. I kind of enjoyed doing it, if I’m honest.”

Gary’s soft penis twitched. Sally noticed.

“You like that idea?” she asked.

Gary cleared his throat uncomfortably. “Every man likes that,” he said.

Sally leaned in and kissed his chest. She kissed his nipple and then his chubby tummy. He twitched again. The closer she got, the faster he rose. A thrill ran through her.

Gary never recovers this fast. Does he like the idea of me performing oral sex, or does he like the idea of watching me perform oral sex on Chris? His answer is vague.

She kissed just above his dark mass of pubic hair.

“I’m a little confused,” she murmured. “Are you saying you like oral sex? Or are you saying you liked watching me blow Chris?”

She used the provocative word intentionally and it thrilled her. Yet another freedom she'd allowed herself. Gary whimpered as Sally closed her mouth over his penis. She wasn't truly waiting for an answer so she was surprised when Gary muttered: "Watching you blow Chris."

A bomb exploded behind her eyes. What?

She withdrew his dick long enough to ask: "You liked his cock in my mouth?"

The use of another dirty word sent shivers racing around her body. Gary loved it too. She felt blood pump into his penis.

"Yes," he hissed. "You looked so sexy. I had no idea you could be dirty."

Sally felt a burst of adrenaline. Tiny knots of guilt relaxed. Without understanding why, she felt a critical moment had passed and their marriage had survived. She'd spend days chewing on everything that happened here tonight.

"I liked it too," she purred.

Gary got hard. He watched every move she made. She wanted to suck on his penis like she had Chris, just to tease him, but a deeper and more urgent need drove her now. She pushed Gary on his back and straddled him, easing her wet pussy onto his dick. She rode him hard, grinding her pelvis and feeding him her breasts, but she couldn't quite climax.

In a move as bold as any she'd ever made with him, she rolled onto her back and pulled his face to her pussy. In the heat of the moment, both forgot Chris had emptied himself in there just twenty-four hours earlier. Gary was reminded the moment his writhing tongue pierced her soft labia but was far too excited to care. Sally was making sounds he had not heard in such a very long time and he wiggled his face deeper and licking her like mad. He'd never seen her so aggressive.

Sally came hard and fast. Barely giving herself enough time to collect her wits, she rolled Gary onto his back and sucked hard, enjoying the profound difference between her husband's manhood and Chris's. Like her, Gary was ready to orgasm quickly and she left her vacuuming mouth on him until the last second, turning him into a small fountain and finishing him with her jerking hand. He covered his mouth to not wake the boys.

Now they were ready for sleep. Both left many things unsaid, especially Sally, but drifting off to blissful sleep after hot lovemaking was simply too dear. They cuddled and said they loved each other and fell asleep in a tangle.

In the morning, they felt strangely closer than they had for years. Neither wished to shatter their new intimacy so they moved through their normal routines with smiles and kisses. Gary left first, headed for the courthouse.

Sally saw the boys off to school and then showered and dressed for the salon. Once she arrived, she turned on the lights and the open sign, set the air conditioning, and moved behind the front counter to gaze into the parking lot.

“Oh my God!” she yelled, slapping both hands on the counter.

Recent events washed over her, flooding her mind and squeezing her heart. She’d cheated and her husband found out and yet here she was, tending the store like nothing happened. Her passionate tryst with Chris raced through her mind and left her tingling.

How did I get to experience that and have it cost me nothing?

She thought about she and Gary in bed last night, making love for the first time in a long time.

How was he able to after learning what I’d done? And not just once. Twice!

She shook her head. Nothing made sense. Life was a chaotic mess.

When Chris comes in I’ll tell him it’s over.

Gary had given her the secret key but told her since he put the system in, he should be the one to take it down. Besides, he reasoned, the equipment was expensive and he’d hate to see any damaged. She’d agreed.

She opened the cabinet and turned the monitors to face her.

Mornings were always slow so, curious about what Gary had seen, she set the recorder to play her encounter with Chris. Minutes later she rubbed her pussy through her dress. The man was hot. Sally watched herself sucking his large cock and then gasped a little when he pinned her against the wall.

I’ve never experienced sex like that. We were animals. It was exciting and I felt dirty and wild.

She watched Chris pound her from behind, noting that first, spontaneous and unstoppable climax, ripped from her by girth and penetration.

Maybe dirty isn’t as bad as I’ve been told?

The man's desire for her was obvious. She'd felt it at the time and been aroused by it but now, seeing it as a spectator, brought an entirely new and powerful charge. She was the prize and Chris had to have her. He ignored all risk and charged directly at what he wanted.

It feels good to be desired so much, she thought.

She watched him hammer away, saw herself have a second orgasm, saw Chris curl his hips and convulse.

That's him cumming inside me.

She rubbed her tingling pussy again.

A hot, hard, fast fuck.

The bad word jarred her but this time she didn't shy away.

We didn't make love, she reasoned. He fucked me. Fucked.

"Fuck," she said out loud, feeling a tiny thrill. "Fuck me," she said again. "Fuck me, Chris." The words carried a charge which surprised her. "Fuck me hard, Chris." Her pretty voice bounced around the empty lobby. "Fuck me hard. Fuck me with your big cock, Chris."

She giggled. She scanned the parking lot and lifted the front of her dress, pulling her panties aside. She'd trimmed the hair so short a new sensitivity titillated her. She knew what she was doing when she'd done it.

I was ready to fuck him again.

She pushed a finger in and gasped loudly. The pleasure was far more than she'd expected. She started the recording over again and watched Chris's big cock slip into her mouth. Moments later, she saw herself move under and lick his balls.

And then his asshole, she remembered. I bet Gary didn't realize that.

In her mind, she heard his gasp and groan of excitement. She'd pleased him greatly and that excited her too. She began to pump her finger, eyes glued to the screen. The first stirrings of an orgasm surprised her so she checked the parking lot again and pumped faster.

On the monitor, she came with Chris right behind her. His firm ass clenched and his face buried in her nape and she knew he was pumping her full at that moment and Sally clutched the counter with one hand and fucked herself with the other. She came hard, leaning on the tall stool and groaning. She smelled fresh pussy everywhere.

After she caught her breath she washed her hands in the bathroom and fixed her makeup. The first customer arrived a little later and she greeted them with a smile.

Chapter 17

Sally never got to tell Chris.

The trial ended abruptly when the defendant changed their plea and Gary drove to the salon to relieve Sally. She finished the day with a half-shift at Vons.

Gary moved around the shop, looking for something Sally had neglected but there was nothing to do. The woman ran the place perfectly. He began making notes for the removal of the cameras.

Since the night Sally confessed, their relationship had passed through several stages; at first they felt close and their routines brought comfort, but soon they realized those same routines had been what led them stagnation and boredom. They spoke more openly and honestly now and navigated their way through the emotional maze.

Gary initiated sex a few times but both felt a strange tension between them, like there were things that yet needed saying. Neither knew what those things might be. Four night later Gary attempted sex again and the awkwardness reared its head but then Gary bravely told Sally he was going to fuck her. Her response to that word set their bedroom on fire. They made love that night and when Gary tried again the next, Sally was more than ready.

On their third night of lovemaking in a row, Gary rolled Sally on her stomach and entered her from behind. Chris was on Gary's mind because he'd tanned earlier that day. They'd exchanged few words but Gary couldn't help but scrutinize the man that had fucked Sally. He watched him on the monitor too and had zoomed in to watch him strip. They'd barely spoken.

Now Gary moved inside Sally until he built to a smooth rhythm and then leaned close to her ear. "From behind, just like Chris fucked you."

As soon as the words left his mouth he panicked. Why the fuck would he say such a thing? He wanted to run to the bathroom and lock the door. He waited for her inevitable anger or hurt. Instead, she moaned from far down in her chest.

"Ooooooh, Gaaaawd," she whimpered.

Encouraged, Gary pumped faster, feeling her go wet.

“You looked so hot, Honey. So sexy. I couldn’t look away. It hurt me but the truth is, I loved it more. I loved it. I loved watching you get fucked.”

“Mmmmmmmnnngh,” she moaned, thrusting her ass at him. She couldn’t believe he was saying these things. She wanted to show him it was okay he talked to her like this. She wanted to join in. She let him take her from behind for a few minutes and then pulled herself off his erection and spun around.

“I did this to him too,” she said, engulfing Gary’s penis in her mouth.

Gary watched his straight-laced and conservative wife suck hard on his dick. He tentatively held her head and, when she did not react, gripped her firmly and fucked her mouth, discovering she could take his length without difficulty.

Because I’m smaller than Chris, he acknowledged. That reality sent a charge racing through him. He had no idea why it mattered to him, but it did. I wonder if it matters to her?

Sally slurped and licked his penis, easily handling his size, and he considered asking how she felt about Chris’s big cock, but then backed away, fearing perhaps he wasn’t ready for that answer yet. He watched his pretty wife gobble his dick like a slut. The sensation was fantastic.

From this night on, each time they made love, one or both mentioned her illicit liaison. Sally wondered if it was also Gary’s way of reducing the hurt by making it familiar, but either way it spiced up their sex life like nothing else. They got bolder as time passed, risking more, teasing harder. As they learned what they could get away with, they pushed the envelope, chasing that excited rush.

It was Gary that hinted she fuck Chris again.

They were missionary at the time and his suggestion brought their little game to a halt. She pushed his shoulders back to see his face. He tried to avoid her gaze but eventually met her eyes. They stared intensely at each other, neither wanting to be the first to speak and break the spell. The moment held a powerful erotic charge. Sally felt Gary’s penis swelling inside her.

When he could wait no longer, he began to fuck her again, firmer and slightly bigger than before. She climaxed on his penis for the first time minutes later. Her cries of pleasure drove him crazy and he spurted soon after.

As before, they cuddled and drifted off without discussion, neither brave enough to discuss the whirlwind emotions raging inside.

Chapter 18

Beci answered her phone with a Bueno. Chris introduced himself, mentioned he'd gotten her number from Sally but left out why, and they had a delightful conversation. Beci never mentioned sex and neither did Chris. By the time the call ended, they had a date planned for Saturday night.

Gotta use a real condom for that one, he thought. Too close to home.

Beci needed Chris to accompany her to a party. She admitted an ex would be there and she also admitted she'd be using Chris as arm-candy. He had no problem with either and joked they may even run into one of his exes too. Beci warned the party would be a little over the top.

"Explain," Chris said.

"Drugs, drink, sex, and all of it out in the open. I'm guessing you don't blush easily."

"I don't blush," Chris answered. "And that sounds like my kind of party."

"Bring friends, if you have any."

"Not really. I'll rent a couple so I don't look like a sociopath."

"Perfect. Thoughtful. Considerate."

They both chuckled. They discussed logistics and then Beci said she had to go. They ended the call. Chris stared at his phone for a moment, surprised how attractive the girl was already. He remembered her from that day in line but he'd seen her before; on campus and at the salon. If she had brains to match that body, she could be a problem.

Way too early to get involved, he thought. Gotta keep this purely sexual.

Thinking about the salon made him want to tan and thinking of tanning made him think of Sally. That woman had gotten under his skin. He still thought of her often while masturbating, which surprised him.

I'm a day early but maybe Sally is working instead of Gary.

He grabbed his backpack and car keys.

Chapter 19

“Call the babysitter,” Gary said, slapping his palm on the kitchen counter. “We’re going to a party.”

“What?” Sally replied. “When? Where? Whose?”

Gary kissed her forehead. “Saturday night.”

Gary left the details out. Chris had stopped to tan a few hours ago and innocently asked what happened to Sally and would she be coming back. Gary chatted with the young man, perversely enjoying that Chris did not know Gary knew.

Whenever he could get away with it, Gary ran his eyes over the hung stud. This man had fucked his wife and yes, that made him a little jealous still, but mostly now it turned him on. Sally had fallen for this guy hard. She loved the muscles that rolled and bunch under the stud’s shirt. She loved how his round ass stretched his jeans. He had a quiet confidence about him and Gary understood a little better why Sally had caved; the guy was a hunk.

Chris seemed genuinely disappointed when informed Sally would not return. That he was eager to see her again was obvious. He tried to hide the fact but Gary saw through his casual charade.

Does he have a crush on my wife?

Gary found the idea appealing.

She’s mine, motherfucker, he thought. You had her for a few minutes. I have her forever. I have kids with her. She’s never leaving me.

The more Chris talked, the more Gary realized it was true; Chris was smitten. The passion of their time together had touched the cold-hearted bastard and left him wanting more.

Chris mentioned a party but Gary only half listened. Chris mentioned Beci’s name and Gary was all ears. Chris described it as a get together, with people of all ages and backgrounds present. The young man tried to sound cavalier when he invited Gary and Sally, but Gary knew he was fishing for the opportunity to see Sally again. He wrote down the information and said he’d ask Sally.

Now Gary stood in the kitchen waiting for Sally’s answer.

“I don’t need a babysitter,” young Bradley said. “I’m old enough. You guys go. I’ll watch Thomas.”

Sally and Gary exchanged glances and Sally shrugged.

“All right,” she said. “It’s time we trust you.”

She turned to Gary, excited they might do something social.

“What’s the party about? Where is it? Who invited us?”

“Chris, at the home of a friend of his. No real reason other than to bring people together to mingle.”

Sally tried to act casual. “Chris? Customer from the salon Chris?”

“Yes.”

She regarded her husband carefully. Gary seemed intent on acting like it was no big deal. Was he testing her? She’d told him she’d never touch Chris again. Was Gary testing to see if that was true? Or was this connected to his recent hot comment made in a moment of passion? Did Gary want Sally to fuck Chris again? How could she ask without seeming like that’s what she wanted? Was that what she wanted?

“That sounds great,” she said, sounding indifferent while her mind whirled a million miles an hour. “We haven’t gone out in a long time. Maybe we’ll make new friends.”

Chapter 20

The house was large, shrouded in massive oak trees, and at the end of a long driveway. As soon as Sally stepped inside, she was ready to leave. This was no mix of people. This was no mingling of all walks of life. This was beautiful young people with ridiculous bodies showing off for each other. Guys in tight shirts and stylish blazers, girls in short tight dresses and showing tons of cleavage. Sally felt outclassed and underdressed and made a mental note to ask more questions the next time Gary said they were going to a party.

“Honey,” she whispered. “This is absurd. I’m at least twenty years older than the oldest person here.”

Gary looked around at all the hot girls, searching for Beci. He at least wanted to see her dressed up before they left.

“Okay,” he agreed. “I’ll find our host and thank them. Maybe I should also let Chris know we’re leaving.”

Sally took her husband’s arm. They wander the large house, moving from room to room, watching people smoking weed and snorting cocaine off mirrors. They saw many twosomes and threesomes already making out.

“We should not be here,” Sally murmured, growing more uncomfortable by the second.

They continued to search and Sally noted almost every person was good looking. Their gender didn’t matter. Males and females flirted, joked, laughed, or got high, and every one of them looked good doing it. This was probably an industry party for front-line people and entertainers. After forty-five minutes, Sally felt dumpy and depressed.

To make matters worse, she spotted Beci across the room. The sexy Latina wore a shiny red dress so tight the bumps of her nipples were obvious. That she wore no panties was obvious too. She’d spent time on her hair and makeup and Sally thought she looked the best she’d ever seen. She watched Gary to see his reaction but then circuits closed and she suddenly knew who Chris’s anonymous friend was.

“Did you know Beci would be here?” she asked her husband.

Gary tried to play it off. “Beci? No, why? Do you see her?”

Sally indicated direction with a jerk of her chin. Gary’s eyes swung around and then landed. Sally saw his face soften and his gaze intensify. He looked the hot babe head to toe. Hurt, Sally stared at the rug.

“Can we leave now?” she said.

Chris stepped through an open doorway carrying two drinks. He handed one to Beci, confirming Sally’s suspicions.

“Did we come here so you could see Beci?” she asked. “Now that the cameras are gone?”

Gary looked confused.

“I know she’s your favorite. I saw the recordings, remember? You don’t get to see her anymore so you come here to do it?”

“No,” Gary replied, revealing a partial truth. “We’re here to show Chris that you’re with me and we’re stronger than ever. He still wants you. We chatted the other day and his interest is stronger than ever. I want him to see you’re with me. That we’re happy.”

He glanced around to make sure no one listened.

“And the cameras are still up. I’ve been too busy to take them down.”

Sally ignored his camera comment. “How do you know he still wants me?”

“The sly way he tried to invite us to this soiree. He just wanted you here. We are too old for these people, but I wanted him to see you with me.

I wanted him to see you are forever mine. That guy can have any girl he wants and he picks you. That makes me proud. You're my trophy wife."

Sally took a step back.

"I'm your trophy wife?"

"Yes. I'm showing you off to everyone."

Sally grabbed her husband's face and kissed him.

"There are the two love birds," they heard Beci say. "Where have you been hiding? Wanna get high?"

Gary and Sally broke their kiss to say hello and exchange hugs. Beci was clearly already sky-high on something.

"No thanks," Gary said.

"Me either," said Sally.

"Well, let's at least find someplace to sit," Chris said. "I saw a big empty room upstairs about an hour ago."

"Lead the way," Gary said.

The men took the lead and Beci fell in next to Sally. She took the older woman's arm and held tight.

"I'm glad you're here," she said. "I want to thank you for giving him my number."

"Any luck yet?"

"No, but I'm confident. I'm already wet."

Sally coughed softly at Beci's blunt language. The girl was forever surprising her. She watched the men climb the stairs ahead of her, still tingling from Gary's comment. Many women would hate to be labeled a trophy wife but with the way she was feeling lately, Sally welcomed it. Her eyes moved from Gary to the strong broad back and narrow waist Chris sported. His ass looked amazing in those jeans.

Chris led them down the carpeted hall to large double doors. He opened one and waved everyone inside, closing the door behind them. The lights were low and everyone needed a moment for their eyes to adjust. At first, Sally thought the floor was moving. Then she saw the bodies.

Wall to wall to wall, fully nude, hot bodies stretched before them. Males and females mixed and moved, sliding over each other without regard or hesitation. Cocks and tits and asses and balls; mouths sucked, fingers probed, hard cocks buried themselves. Soft moans and sighs floated in the air, punctuated by occasional groans.

Gary and Sally were stunned speechless.

“Ready for a bump?” Chris asked Beci.

“Hell yeah,” she said, eyes wide and surveying the room.

Chris dug a small pill from a shirt pocket and Beci opened her mouth and stuck out her tongue. Chris placed the pill towards the back and Beci washed it down. Then Chris took one too. They began to undress.

“You all don’t have to participate if you’re not into it,” Beci said. “I know what voyeurs you are though. We thought you’d love to see this and maybe want to join.”

Sally took Gary’s hand and squeezed. She watched Chris and Beci strip and held her breath when Chris’s heavy cock swung into view, as gorgeous as ever. She let herself linger on his exquisite body because one glance at Gary showed him doing the same to Beci. Once nude, the young couple held hands and waded into the mass of arms and legs. They found an open spot and knelt, kissing. Sally saw a woman stretch her neck and suck Chris into her mouth as four pairs of hands began to roam Beci. Chris rose astonishingly fast. Whatever those pills were, the response was intense and rapid; Beci and Chris arched their backs and turned to face their new lovers, disappearing into the tangled pile.

“Are we...?” Gary whispered.

“No,” Sally rasped. “No way. Everyone is so...hot.”

“Can we watch?” Gary asked.

“Yes.”

Sally had nothing in her imagination to help her deal with the spectacle before her. She saw erections everywhere, breasts everywhere, sucking mouths and gaping pussies everywhere. Her eyes drifted, following one curve until it led to the next. A thick black penis broke the surface like a killer whale and plunged into a fresh pink pussy. A sweet feminine voice moaned. Sally rubbed her pussy through her dress, embarrassed. Gary did not notice, too mesmerized by the sea of flesh in front of him.

Even with so many bodies in front of her, Sally recognized when Chris’s hefty cock waved in the open air. Beci’s face rose above and her wide and smiling mouth scooped him in. A twinge of jealousy twisted Sally’s heart and she berated herself for such silly folly; in no way did she have a claim to that man.

The married couple stood and watched hardly believing their eyes. A hot blonde girl left the crowd and approached. Sally squeezed Gary’s hand harder, feeling threatened, until the girl took her hand and tried to lead her into the mix.

“You can’t just stand and watch,” her sweet, lilting voice said.

Sally resisted the pull and the girl tugged a little harder.

“You worry too much,” the pretty blonde said. “Trust me, you’ll love this.”

Gary drew a sharp breath. Could he handle Sally disappearing into that mass of flesh? How many men would fuck her before he saw her again? His dick stiffened at the thought. His ribs seemed to squeeze his chest.

Before Sally realized what was happening, the girl stopped pulling, rose on her toes and kissed her. Gary’s eyebrows shot up. Sally clutched her husband’s hand until her fingers turned white.

Beci saw what was happening and left Chris to join Sally. The two girls ignored the older woman’s protests and kissed her lips, her face, her neck, her ears. Gary held on, unintentionally aiding the girls in their assault of the older woman. Sally twisted her hand but Gary held tight.

“Kiss her on the mouth, Tina,” Beci said, and when the pretty blonde did, Beci pulled down the neckline of Sally’s dress to kiss the swell of her full breasts. Sally gasped loudly. Beci trailed kisses lower as she worked on the buttons.

“I can’t do this,” Sally protested, tugging on her husband’s hand. “This is too much. Honey, make them stop.”

The sexy naked girls only pressed closer. Gary stood motionless, stunned. Beci opened Sally’s dress to the waist, exposing the white lace bra. She partially lifted a full tit free, licking the pink crescent of an areola.

“Oh my goodness,” Sally exclaimed. She chewed her lips. “Oh God.”

Beci freed the breast and sucked the nipple into her mouth.

“Oh, my sweet Lord,” Sally whined.

Beci firmly gripped both sides of Sally’s dress and with a wrench of her strong arms, tore the garment open all the way down the front. Sally tried to cover herself but Tina tangled her arms and Beci, lightning fast, popped the hooks in back and tugged the bra away. Sally yelped.

Beci molested the older woman, hands too fast to follow, and soon had clothes flying. Beci chuckled a diabolical little laugh. Sally struggled but Tina thwarted her, pinning her arms and stealing hot kisses. Gary watched as the two coeds, hotter than fuck and high as clouds, stripped his wife. He still held his wife's hand and a white bra swung down to hang from his wrist.

Beci yanked Sally's pragmatic underwear down and then buried her face in the older woman's trimmed pussy. Sally squirmed hard now, grappling with Tina, trying to save her dignity, but she was out gunned and out maneuvered, and Beci's probing tongue proved distracting. The girls rendered Sally completely naked.

Another blonde from the writhing floor saw what transpired and joined them. Sally swooned, weakly calling for help from her husband one last time. Gary only shook his head, at last releasing his wife's hand.

Sally went down under the press of hot young female bodies. Like a pack of wolves, the three girls pulled the woman to the floor. Gary was thunderstruck as mouths closed on Sally's nipples and pussy and he heard his wife gasping and groaning under the onslaught. Quickly exhausted by one against three, Sally gave in and the giggling girls feasted. Gary's eyes were huge.

Chris left the masses to come watch. Gary noted his dilated pupils and backed away from his raging, drug fueled hard on.

"That's hot," Chris said. "It's cool you let Sally play."

"I don't," Gary said. "Nothing like this has ever happened to us. This is crazy. I have no idea what I'm supposed to do."

Chris watched the women and Gary stared at his cock, reminding himself the beast had been inside Sally. So much adrenaline flowed through his veins his entire body trembled. On the floor, Beci and Tina took turns licking Sally's pussy. His wife whimpered, lost and overwhelmed, making out with the second blonde.

"We should probably leave," Gary muttered.

Beci heard. She pushed Tina's face into Sally's crotch and walked over on her knees. Chris poked his dick at her and she took him in hand but then looked up at Gary.

"Don't leave, Gary," Beci whined, exaggerating, "The party is in full swing. I'm feeling the high and Sally's having fun."

"You want a pill?" Chris asked again.

"No, thanks, we don't do drugs."

"I do everything," Beci said, laughing maniacally.

She placed her free hand on the front of Gary's pants. He instinctively began to back away but then a quick glance at Sally showed her completely occupied. He looked down at Beci. She pulled his zipper down and felt around inside. Gary eyes darted constantly from Beci's pretty face to Sally buried under the girls. Beci pulled his partially erect penis out and popped the head in her mouth.

"Hello," Chris said. "I'm standing right here."

Gary could not believe what his eyes told him. After all this time, after so much fantasizing and wanting, hot little Beci Mezza had his penis in her mouth. He swelled rapidly despite his worry Sally would see. Chris caught on and moved to block her view. Beci opened wide and slid Gary all the way in and Gary had to smother a moan. She closed her lips around the base of his dick, her nose nestled in public hair, and sucked hard enough to dent her cheeks. Her hand on Chris began stroking and Gary felt a strange sense of camaraderie with the muscular stud, like they were sharing a babe and that made them brothers of a sort.

Tina straddled Sally, covering her face and lowering her pussy to the woman's mouth. Gary saw his chance and held Beci's face in his hands and began fucking her mouth slow and deliberate, keeping one eye on his wife. This was a dream come true, and Beci looked gorgeous. A final look at Sally showed her legs spread for the second blonde and her face covered by Tina.

Gary lost himself in Beci. His incredibly stiff dick slid all the way in and out of her greedy mouth and he gazed into her playful and smiling eyes. Never did he imagine this moment would someday come true. Her skill was fantastic. One hand played with his balls while her other hand joined her lips sliding up and down his shaft. He closed his eyes. This was Heaven.

Sally groaned deep and loud and he smiled, knowing those girls would probably make his wife orgasm. What a hot memory this night would be.

Sally groaned again, louder and more urgently. Gary opened his eyes to watch the hot babes make his wife climax and discovered Chris between her legs, stroking his big cock deep into her pussy. Tina still rode her face but the second blonde now held Sally's legs wide open for Chris.

Video is not real life.

Real life knocked all the air out of Gary's lungs and turned his blood to ice. That fat cock, covered in squiggly veins, pumped in and out and Sally moaned in time to match it. Chris was huge and powerful. Gary felt a wave blood surge in his penis. Beci moaned in appreciation, believing herself the reason.

Chris gleamed with Sally's excitement.

She must know that's Chris inside her; Gary thought. No way can she think that's me.

Chris fucked Sally smooth and deep and Sally welcomed every fat and steely inch. Gary suffered terribly watching. His face twisted in agony. This was infinitely worse than a small screen, but the idea of demanding Chris stop never occurred to him. He gazed in tortured anguish, listened to the deeply satisfied groans which poured from Sally's throat, felt the hot suction of Beci on his penis, and did nothing. As terrifying as the sight was, Sally looked sexier than he'd ever seen her.

"Shit," Tina said. "She's gonna make me cum."

Gary turned his attention to the pretty blonde. Sally held the girl's thighs and burrowed into her pussy like a gopher. Tina held the married woman's face between her legs, riding her tongue and moving towards climax. Gary knew Sally had never eaten pussy.

Chris lowered his mouth to Sally's nipples and softly bit and licked as he thrust. The older woman gasped before she buried her tongue in sexy young pussy again. Moments later, Tina came like an explosion. Chris waited until Tina finished and then shoved her out of the way, pressing his lips to Sally's and kissing her fiercely. Gary felt an icicle pierce his heart when Sally grabbed the man's face to return the kiss.

Gary's eyes drifted out over the twisting bodies. How had this happened? Everywhere he looked he saw hard dicks and wet pussies and people fucking and sucking. Tina took the second blonde girl's hand and led her into the mass, leaving Chris and Sally together. Chris rolled Sally's legs up and began deep-dicking the woman. Gary looked down at Beci.

"You can cum in my mouth if you want," she chuckled. "Seems fair."

Chris growled, drawing Gary's attention. He pounded Sally now, slapping her pale butt and driving his cock deep. Sally uttered a high, piercing wail and Gary knew his wife orgasmed around the beast that impaled her. She looked beautiful. Gary saw her face soften and her mouth open and another climax followed immediately on the heels of the first, catching her by surprise and rocking her world. She dug her nails into Chris's ass, pulling his cock deep.

"You want me to cum inside you again?" Chris asked.

"Yes!" Sally hissed.

Beci's eyebrows rose and she turned to watch before looking up at Gary.

"I thought she only blew him. He fucked her before tonight?"

Gary gave an embarrassed nod.

"Hot...and you knew about it?"

Gary nodded again.

"Love it," Beci said, and then slurped his penis again.

Gary could not look away from his wife being taken. An erotic vision unfolded before him starring his pretty wife and his mind lit up like an electrical storm. He could not get over the vast difference between watching her on a screen and watching her from a few feet away.

Chris fucked Sally with a ferocity and a fervent desire Gary had never achieved. Gary loved Sally and she loved him but what happened between Chris and Sally was raw primitive lust.

"Here it comes," Chris groaned, his hips driving his cock. "Here it comes, Baby."

Sally hugged the young man, holding on tight, offering everything she had.

"Unnngh, fuck. Here it comes. Almost there."

Chris knew Gary watched and that helped fuel his lust. He fucked the man's wife right in front of him. How many women had he sent home to unsuspecting husbands? Now here was one that saw everything, knew everything, watched Chris take his woman right out from under him.

He moved farther over Sally and banged his cock head against her depths, swelling thicker and harder until his balls clenched and his back cracked.

"Fuck!"

He felt the boiling jizz race up his shaft.

"Fuck! Yeah! Sally! Fuck! Noooooooooow!"

He drove his meaty stake deep and spewed white lava into her womb, engulfing her insides in a sea of cum. His balls tightened again and again. Sally felt every spurt and urged the young man to give her everything.

Gary had to look away, but not because he hated what he saw. He loved it too much. He stared at the ground and there was Beci, sucking on his dick, her pretty face gazing up at him as she enjoyed herself. Gary stared into Beci's eyes, listening to Chris grunt with each ejaculation, knowing hot sperm inseminated Sally only feet away. The moment caught him and he began spontaneously spraying hot semen too, filling Beci's mouth as the gorgeous girl sucked his load. She giggled at the naughty thing she did and worked his shaft with her tongue until Gary spurt all he had and slipped from her mouth. Beci wiped her lips with a finger and stood to kiss Gary on the forehead. She looked at the other couple, noting Chris and Sally murmuring sweet nothings to each other.

"Guess I lost my date," she joked.

She left them and rejoined the orgy, losing herself between three girls.

Sally turned from Chris and reached a hand to her husband. Gary took it, moving closer, only then realizing Chris was still inside his wife.

"Did you get some?" Sally asked.

Gary stared at the fat log stretching Sally's hole.

"Yes," he answered, honestly. "Beci gave me a blowjob."

"Good," Sally said. "I'm glad. Sit with me, Honey."

Chris moved a leg and Gary took the open spot. To prevent himself from slipping out, Chris scooted his hips against her butt, pushing his thick cock farther in. He maintained a surprising stiffness considering how hard he'd just orgasmed but then Gary remembered the little pills. Perhaps those helped.

Sally pulled on Gary's sleeve and he leaned over to kiss her, amazed they shared a kiss while another man still penetrated her. He wondered how long before Chris was ready to go again and worried if he suggested he and Sally leave, she'd say no.

"Maybe you should undress too?" Sally said.

Gary looked around, discovering he was the only person in the room wearing clothes. The idea of being naked and next to Chris daunted him but clothed in a room naked felt worse. He stripped and rejoined them on the floor.

The door opened and a small group of two girls and one guy looked around. Their faces lit up and they stepped inside, shutting the door behind them. They undressed and slipped into the sea of bodies all around.

“Do you want to explore?” Sally asked. “I’ll be fine if you want to drift away for a while.”

The no was on his lips but he never said it. When would this moment ever repeat? Chris suckled Sally’s nipple and she groaned softly so Gary decided perhaps he should move away from them.

“All right,” he said. “You’ll stay here?”

Sally nodded serenely. “Yes, Darling. I won’t leave this room without you.”

They kissed again and Gary stood. As he moved away, he saw Chris’s hips begin to faintly thrust. Sally rolled her face away and they kissed tenderly, Sally gently stroking the side of Chris’s face. The intimacy they shared only made Gary more excited. He wondered if he’d ever understand this part of himself.

Gary looked for Beci. She’d blown him and he wanted to return the favor. He’d dreamed about eating the hot little tart since the first time she masturbated on camera. He spied her leaning her back against a chair, kissing one girl while a guy sucked her tits, and he stepped closer and settled between her legs. She noticed him, realized his intent, and with a wry smile parted her knees. He kissed her pussy before slipping his tongue inside. She put a hand on the back of his head to show him what she liked.

Chapter 21

Gary lost track of time. After he made Beci cum he moved away, taking in the spectacle of debauchery the party had become. Sex happened everywhere and not always conventional. He saw a hard cock push into another man’s asshole as that man fucked a hot Asian girl. He saw two guys sucking a cock about as big as Chris’s. Woman on woman was common. He marveled at it all, burning some especially hot scenes into his mind forever. He wondered about Sally and Chris but avoided that end of the room. Instead, when a lovely girl with black hair opened her legs in invitation, he buried his face and ate his second pussy of the night. He felt hands and mouths traveling his body and lost himself in the moment. A hot mouth enveloped his soft penis and he did not check to see who it was.

He stayed away from Sally and Chris long enough to enjoy two orgasms. Even then he joined others, contributing a mouth and tongue where needed.

Eventually, fatigue won. He lifted himself from the floor, noting the crowd had thinned by more than half, and went in search of his wife. He found them where he'd left them, only Chris balls-deep and gently fucking her ass. Gary was astonished.

She rested on all fours and Chris squatted over her, pumping his meat in and out of her sphincter. Sally's face was a twisted mask of intense pleasure. She played with her pussy and seemed ready to cum.

Gary sank onto a small padded bench to watch and before long, Sally cried out and arched her back. Chris had been holding out because as soon as Sally let loose, he did too, shooting her ass full of hot jizz. Sally came especially hard, almost sobbing, collapsing to her elbows and breathing hard.

In all their years of marriage, Gary had never even attempted anal sex with her.

Both were sweaty and Gary surmised they'd been fucking the entire time he'd been absent. Chris truly was a magnificent stud. Sally lifted her head and they kissed over her shoulder and she noticed Gary watching. She waved him closer and kissed her husband as Chris slowly deflated in her rectum.

They all sank to the carpet and, as always, Chris remained buried inside her body, reluctant to leave. Sally and Gary kissed softly and tenderly.

"Did you have fun?" Sally asked.

"I did."

"Good," she purred. "Me too. This night has been like a dream."

They kissed some more and Gary brushed a strand of hair from her face. He felt her body shift occasionally as Chris leisurely continued sliding his cock in and out.

"I can't believe this happened," Gary said. "What a crazy night."

Chris sat up a little to look around the room and then gently eased his dick out of her ass. He crawled up to join them, giving Sally a quick peck on the lips.

"I don't see Beci," he said. "Since I came with her I should check to make sure she's all right."

"Of course," Sally replied, offering her lips for another kiss.

Gary watched their mouths touch, a dagger of jealousy twisting in his guts.

Chris stood and began searching the room, eventually working his way around to the door. He exited the room still naked.

“Should we tell him he’s nude?” Gary asked.

Sally giggled. “No. He’ll notice soon enough. Besides, when you’re that good looking, no one protests that you’re naked.”

Gary met her eyes. “You love making love to him.”

“I do.”

“You gave him your ass.”

Sally seemed to shrink and Gary regretted his blunt language.

“It was hot,” he quickly added. “I admit you caught me by surprise but you looked mad sexy.”

Sally searched her husband’s eyes and then relaxed. “I stopped planning and worrying about everything. I just lived in the moment. Our predictable lives wait for us outside this house. I wanted at least a few hours to be adventurous.”

Now it was Gary’s turn to relax. That she saw these events as temporary made Chris less threatening.

“We should leave soon,” she added. “Where are my clothes?”

Gary pointed all around and both laughed.

“Those girls were like a pack of wild dogs,” Sally said. “I’d swear there was twenty of them.”

Gary helped her collect her things and dress. They waited a few minutes for Chris to return but when he did not, Sally suggested they leave anyway.

“He may never come back,” she said.

Gary watched her closely, wondering how concerned he should be. Every indication told him Sally felt no special attachment to Chris. She adored him and he turned her on greatly, but she knew no relationship could exist between them other than the one they already had. Age and wildly different worlds separated them. Gary’s anxiety drained away.

They walked the house but Sally’s premonition proved correct; they never saw Chris again. The party had swallowed such a hot young stud and he no doubt was off in some room banging away at a new hot girl. The entire party had degenerated into a Roman orgy. The married couple saw threesomes and moresomes everywhere they went.

They arrived at home and checked on the boys and found a note Bradley had left thanking them for trusting him.

In the master bedroom, they undressed to shower and crawl into bed. As Sally removed her wrinkled clothing, Gary's penis rose.

Sally stared when she saw it. "Wow. Really?"

Gary moved close and kissed her and she returned his kiss with volcanic passion. He lifted her to the bathroom counter and spread her legs, delicately fingering her leaking pussy.

"You're flooded," he breathed.

They both knew why.

"I have Chris in my cunt," she said, electrified by the filthy word.

Gary lifted a finger, watched a dollop of semen stretch to the floor.

Sally stuck his finger in her mouth.

Gary growled and pushed her against the mirror, forcing her legs apart and burying his face in her slit. Chris dripped out when Gary spread her labia and sucked her entire pussy in his mouth. His wriggling tongue shoved deep, his lips sucked hard on her clit. Sally gasped and covered her mouth to avoid waking the boys.

"Baby," she whimpered. "Baby, wait, there's so much of him."

Her words only inflamed Gary. He licked faster and sucked harder. His passion rolled over her and lifted her up and soon she ground her pussy against his mouth, a towering orgasm threatening to demolish her. Images of Chris fucking Sally flashed through Gary's mind and forced more blood to his dick. He started stroking and Sally felt it.

"Are you jerking off?" she asked, disbelieving. "I spent the night fucking Chris and you're jerking off about it? God! That's exciting."

Gary pushed a finger in and rubbed her smooth walls.

"Careful, Baby," she murmured. "I'm tender. He's so big."

Gary growled again and doubled his efforts. Sally's pussy began to slowly contract around his digit and her breathing and moaning increased. Gary licked faster, fluid drizzling out of her to splatter on their bathroom floor. When her pussy gripped his finger, he felt her walls begin to flutter. Now her breathing was ragged.

Sally ripped a towel from the wall and covered her face. Muffled, Gary still heard her impassioned scream as her sopping pussy held him like a vise. Her body quaked, her tits bounced, her thighs shook. Gary slathered her inside and out, driving her insane and extending an orgasm that threatened to ruin her. He held her on the counter and sucked the life out of her, leaving her destroyed. He stood and backed away, admiring his handiwork. Sally was a quivering blob of pale flesh.

He helped her stand and led her to bed.

“No shower,” he said. “I want you just like this; dirty, trashy, slutty, and dripping.”

He rolled her on her stomach and lined up his penis, easily sinking into her flooded hole. Chris had stretched and inundated her but that only made Gary more excited. The more proof he saw of her shameless night, the hotter he got. Despite the extra lubrication and his previous orgasms, he came quick and hard. They dropped into deep sleep almost immediately.

Chapter 22

Sally Tench waved goodbye to Bradley and Thomas as the yellow school bus pulled away from the curb. Her boys smiled back through the dirty windows. She adjusted her windblown shoulder-length hair and smoothed her pleated skirt.

Chris would be here in an hour and she wanted to look her best.

The orgy was six weeks ago and much had changed since. She withdrew her cell phone and called Gary at the salon.

“The boys are on the bus. I’m going to shower and start getting ready. Chris will be here soon.”

Gary gave a nervous nod which he realized she could not see.

“Okay,” he mumbled.

“How are you feeling? Still all right with all this?”

To steady himself, he remembered his penis sliding into Beci just two nights ago. Now it was Sally’s turn and that was fair. There were differences, of course; he had to pay for his two hours with Beci and his wife paid Chris nothing. Also, Chris always stayed longer than two hours. Last week when the boys spent the weekend in the mountains with friends, Chris spent the night in their bed. Sally found herself at the mercy of two horny men but after an hour, Gary faded. She spent the rest of the night as Chris’s slut. Gary watched and joined in briefly a few times but mostly he watched them fuck in their bed. He knew the bedroom would never look the same.

For days after the orgy Sally and Gary avoided speaking of it, both waiting for the world to end and the Heavens to come crashing down. That did not happen.

When they did finally brave the subject, they talking haltingly at first, but with growing confidence. Sally loved everything about it, describing the event as cathartic, like a shedding of skin. She felt reborn and unburdened.

“My mother’s voice has been silenced,” she said.

Gary admitted he enjoyed watching Sally act so raunchy. Beci and the others that night were a nice distraction but to see his prudish and conservative wife drop her guard and welcome a fat new cock pushed buttons he didn’t know he had. After a moment of silence, he’d asked the question both were thinking: “Will we do it again?”

Sally needed only a moment. “Absolutely.”

“Yes, I must admit I want to as well. Does it have to be Chris?”

Sally’s jaw had dropped. She hadn’t considered taking additional lovers but the moment the words left Gary’s mouth, the entire horizon opened before her. There was Tony, who worked with her at Vons. There was Richard, Gary’s boss at his former place of employment. She’d always found him incredibly attractive and he’d flirted unsuccessfully several times. Now she saw herself accepting his advances and where that might lead.

What would Gary do, she wondered, to watch Richard fuck me?

“No, Honey, it doesn’t. Am I free to choose?”

“Am I?”

She’d grinned. “You’ll pick Beci again,” she said.

“Do you mind?”

“If you can get her, more power to you. She’s a wild one.”

“Who will you pick?”

Sally watched his face closely. “Richard, your former boss. I bet he fucks like a stallion. Can you picture me under him?”

Gary had grabbed the counter to steady himself, certain such a sight would kill him.

“Then Tony from Vons,” she continued. “After that, maybe we can go out to dinner and dancing and see what happens? When I fuck Chris from now on, I’ll always make him wear a condom. We don’t want him getting me pregnant.”

Gary tried to control his face.

Pregnant?

A rush of adrenaline pumped through his veins.

And Richard?

The man had been a merciless taskmaster and constant thorn in his side.

Sally wants to fuck Richard? Good Lord, can my heart take this life?

Beci's pretty face floated before him, smiling, pretty, ready.

I guess I better figure out a way.

That he might have Beci again set his blood pulsing.

"All right," he'd told his wife. "I'm in if you're in."

Sally had smiled. "I'm in."

Gary's mind raced back to the present. "Yes," he said. "Maybe I should move some of the cameras from the salon to our bedroom. That way I can watch you while I'm stuck here at work."

"Ooooooh," Sally said. "I love that idea. I'll let Richard believe I'm cheating on you. He'll love fucking me in your bed."

A moment of comfortable silence settled on them and, unaware, each smiled.

"I love the new us," Sally said.

"I love the new us," Gary echoed.

End.
