Chapter 1

The side-gate clanks and Dawn and Lily turn the corner talking a hundred miles an hour. Lily called to tell me they were on their way back so I had lounge chairs and wine-coolers ready. They dropped their shopping bags on the deck and plopped their butts into seats. They talked for a minute, telling me all about their shopping day, and then Lily suggested they try on their new swimsuits to get my opinion.

“That is an excellent idea,” I offered.

“Pervert,” Lily replied. “Come on, Dawn, let’s give this old man a thrill.”

They entered the house to change.

Lily was more right than she knew. Dawn and her husband Randy had ventured onto a nude beach while on vacation and discovered they both liked it. They’d dieted and worked out for months in advance and coming home they’d continued the routine. Both looked great but Dawn looked especially good. She’d gotten breast augmentation to go with her flat stomach and carried herself with a new sense of confidence.

I let the sun heat my bones and sat up when I heard the women return.

God. Damn.

Dawn wore a wild strappy thing with strings running all around her body and patches of bright blue cloth strategically placed to keep her suit legal. Lily had purchased a tight white one-piece but holes had been cut out randomly so a large portion of her ass lay exposed as well as under and side boob. I couldn't wait to get her in the pool to see how transparent the thing turned when wet.

I asked questions and had them turn side to side which they bitched about but loved doing. Only when I was finished gawking did I offer them drinks. They returned to their seats and continued their tales of shopping. Behind my sunglasses I eyed them relentlessly.

We'd been talking almost an hour when I heard another clank at the gate. I looked down the side of the house, expecting Randy, and saw Leo approaching. The girls could not yet see him or his big shit-eating grin.

Leo visited our home every two weeks or so, always unannounced, which was as often as he could slip away from his wife undetected.

Outside in the real world I was his boss but here in our home, he ruled. The sex tape he had of Lily was damning and its release would spell the instant end to her burgeoning career. If I had to suffer petty slights, for her sake, I would. I was lucky he had no serious inclinations towards humiliation because I'd have to do whatever he said. He enjoys little digs like sending me to grab a beer or telling me to leave them alone in our bedroom and to shut the door on my way out. Maddening, true, but a small price to pay considering the demands he could make.

He was here for sex and that suddenly made Dawn a huge complication. I needed a cover story and fast.

Not that we had much of a clandestine life, but what we did have, we kept secret from family and friends. After Jimmy got married he retired from acting. Lily had flown to New York to work with her other favorite leading man, Trevor, and that had resulted in rave reviews and a one-night-stand that none of us will ever forget. After that, our covert lifestyle slowed way down. Leo became our only occasional sip of decadence. Lily continued to work with Sebastian and others but the planets never aligned, the spark never reignited. Other than padding her growing resume, Lily's association with Sebastian produced no additional encounters. Lily had sex only with me.

And, sometimes, Leo.

He'd surprise us, like today, and we'd need to drop what we were doing to accommodate him. I'm sure that was a big part of his rush. Lily loved the spontaneity but for reasons I do not yet fully understand, my chronic jealousy had made a triumphant return. Perhaps it was the familiarity growing between them. She fucked Jimmy once and Trevor twice but I knew those men were dead ends. The Leo road seemed able to go on indefinitely. Infrequent or not, the man had stopped by half a dozen times already and they shared an ever-increasing intimacy. I did not like it.

I said nothing, because Lily and I had no options, but I did not like it.

Leo read my frozen face and deduced others were just around the corner so his smile went away but he kept coming. He turned the bend and the girls saw him and Dawn just stared but Lily's face became fixed. She recovered quickly. I was quicker.

"Hey, Leo. How's your Saturday? Let me grab those documents for you. This is Dawn, a friend of ours."

Leo's smile returned. He stuck his hand out and shook Dawn's firmly, eyes running over both women. I swear I saw a flash of jealousy cross Lily's face.

"Stay there, Honey," my wife said to me. "I'll take Leo inside for the papers. I need to charge my phone anyway."

I stayed in my seat but my heart went thud. Why was Lily taking him in the house? I watched them leave.

Dawn spoke: "You work with Leo?"

"Yes, he runs one of our stores."

"He seems nice."

"Yeah." I answered absentmindedly, trying to watch them through the sliding glass door. They stood in the kitchen, talking, with Lily keeping one eye on me and Dawn and the other eye drifting down to the front of Leo's pants. He took a step back so the kitchen counter blocked the view of his body from the waist down and his arm moved. Lily's eyes got big and then a wicked smile spread. I knew he'd pulled his big dick out for my wife, I just didn't know if he'd done it on his own or she'd asked him to. They continued chatting with Lily taking long stares behind the counter.

Dawn asked me if I had any ideas for Randy's upcoming birthday.

"Yeah, he wants tickets to the Golden Knights game."

She skewed her lips, thinking but not thrilled by my suggestion. She stood abruptly and said: "Gotta pee," and headed indoors. I watched paralyzed as Dawn walked into the house with Lily and cock-hanging-out Leo. He turned and held his hips against the kitchen counter.

Dawn chatted with them for a minute and then left for the bathroom. Lily laughed and Leo hid his face with his hands. Lily stepped closer to him and her arm pumped several times. My wife was horny and wanted that man to fuck her.

Hello jealousy, my old friend.

Soon Dawn returned and my wife stepped away in plenty of time. Dawn had no idea the hanky-panky she'd just missed. She conversed another minute and then joined me by the pool.

"They seem to know each other well," she said.

"Yeah, Leo has to stop by often for work."

"Weird that I've never met him before."

"Almost never on the weekends," I added, thinking fast. "Today he was near the house so he surprised us."

Dawn adjusted her sunglasses and faced the sun. "He's not a handsome man but there is something strangely attractive about him. He's so confident. He must be all right if he's your friend but I get a dangerous vibe from him. Do you know him well?"

"Not outside work. I have no idea what his hobbies are."

She settled into her lounge and made small adjustments to her swimsuit, mostly edging the fabric closer to nipples and pussy, exposing as much skin as possible to the sun's rays.

I looked inside the house in time to see Lily kneel behind the counter. She was sucking Leo's cock. I'm sure the threat of discovery made the event more exciting for her but if she got caught, I was going to be angry. I was automatically complicit unless I feigned ignorance and threatened divorce. Lily was making this choice for both of us without talking to me.

The top of her head repeatedly appeared above the countertop as her mouth bobbed on his dick. Even with Dawn here she'd found a way to enjoy Leo. The smug and satisfied look on his face annoyed the shit out of me. He grinned at me through the plate glass and then bit his bottom lip. Lily was doing something he loved. They had only a few minutes before Dawn would become suspicious and they used every second. Leo put both hands on his head and arched his back, pushing his hips toward her face. I imagined she gulped his massive load.

When she stood, I saw Lily wipe her mouth with the back of her hand and then give Leo a quick peck on the lips. He brushed a strand of hair out of her face, hooking it behind her ear. They acted like a goddamn married couple. I hated it. Was there some way I could end his visits?

I searched my mind for an idea and as Lily straightened her bikini and handed Leo an empty manila folder, I hit upon one. Leo worked for me but he also worked for Sebastian. If I could convince Sebastian to draw Leo away, I'd be saved.

They stepped onto the patio and Leo announced he had to run. He waved the folder at Dawn and said it was nice meeting her and let himself out through the gate. Lily sank into her lounge and took a long drink from her cooler and then cast a guilty glance at me. I gave her my very best, yes-I-saw-everything-you-sneaky-whore look and she stuck her tongue out at me before she slipped her sunglasses onto her face and joined Dawn at worshipping the sun.

Chapter 2

I thought a phone call better than an email. Sebastian did not answer and the call went to voicemail so I left a brief message about needing his help and expertise. I had no idea if he'd feel sympathetic to my cause or if he'd tell me tough luck, but I had to try. Jealousy is an awful feeling. A few days later he returned my call and I explained the situation. He listened attentively and then invited us to a party in Los Angeles.

"I'm in New York now," he said, "but planning a get-together in LA soon. I haven't seen you or Lily for months. Can you both make it? I'd love to catch up."

"I'll make sure we do."

"If I understand you correctly, Leo Mason has a sex tape of Lily taken at one of my parties?"

"Yes. That god-forsaken opium den thing you did."

"He's using the recording to coerce her?"

"Yes. No." I hesitated., embarrassed. "He did the first time but, um, Lily loves fucking him so each time after that has been mutual." My face burned. He was quiet for a moment.

"Mr. Mason knows better. Are they using protection?"

An odd question.

“No.”

“This will not do. My rising star cannot get pregnant right now. We’re building momentum here and dropping out of the public view for a year would kill her career, possibly for good. I’ll make sure he stops. He won’t bother you anymore.”

Sebastian’s voice carried a hard edge I’d never heard before. He was trying to hide it but I heard the cold calculations. For an instant I felt badly for Leo.

“Thank you.”

“Don’t mention it. I’ll call Lily to invite you both to Los Angeles. Our phone call today never happened.”

“I understand.”

“And Luke, this party is different. You and Lily won’t know anyone. These are not theater people.”

Again, that edge.

“I understand.”

“Do you? We’ll see. Let me call Lily.”

We disconnected. Moments later I heard Lily’s phone ring in another room and her sweet voice answer. She spoke softly for a while and then hung up. Moments later she appeared at my office door holding her cell.

“That was Sebastian,” she said.

“Another awards show?”

“No. A party. On a yacht. Los Angeles. A rich friend of his wants to meet me. Sebastian invited us both but says no one can know you’re my husband. If you can’t do it he says he’ll understand. Should take all weekend. Interested?”

“Spend the weekend partying on a yacht? Sounds intriguing.”

“I agree. He told me to pack a dress that looks scandalously formal. What the hell does that mean?”

I turned to the computer and ran a Google image search. I spun the monitor towards her. “Looks like a lot of see-through lace, cleavage, and high slits.”

She stepped close, scrolling through images. “Damn. Underwear not allowed. Looks like I’ll be flashing the wealthy.”

She called him back and said we’d attend.

That weekend we went dress shopping and she chose an ankle length, long sleeved, form-fitting black number which had a wide swath of see-through mesh running down the front between her big tits and curling to the side just before her pussy. In back it did the same thing, narrowly missing her butt crack. If she stood tall everything was concealed but movement of almost any kind revealed something. I thought she looked insanely hot and told her so.

There was little I could do but wait. The sound of Sebastian's voice left me slightly troubled and so much of this event was out of my hands. I'm a thorough man, with a head for details, so I decided to search the name of the yacht Sebastian had given us.

Iscariot's Revenge was registered to a company called Pandora's Chest, Incorporated, but a shell company owned that. I reached a dock master where the ship was berthed who said Iscariot's usually sailed out to international waters to hold parties, untroubled by authorities. I discovered little else.

Work kept us busy. Lily starred in Hamlet, playing Ophelia, and I had my mountain of spread sheets.

We took flew to Los Angeles Thursday night and skipped work Friday. Separate limos carried us from the airport to the Dragon Yacht club on the California coast. I removed my wedding ring and drank a screwdriver in the backseat. I wore casual shorts and polo shirt and Lily had opted for a sundress. The formal wear would come out Saturday night for the party.

Apparently, my driver was less skilled than hers because by the time I arrived Lily was already onboard. The brilliantly white yacht was three astonishing decks above the water and two below. A hardwood platform covered with lounge chairs rested at sea-level off the rear of the ship and a sundeck with more chairs waited at the front. Three large radar and satellite dishes turned slowly from the top of a high aluminum mast. Everything about the vessel was sleek and sexy and high-tech state of the art.

Lily stood beneath the mast with Sebastian, an older woman, and two older men. Sunlight lit her thin dress, framing her delicious body. A steward led me below deck to settle into my cabin and stow my luggage.

I rejoined the others, sipping champagne and enjoying the small talk and whenever anyone asked, I suggested I was a recent friend of Sebastian's and that I handled business odds and ends for him. That seemed innocuous enough that no one asked more. Mixed in with Sebastian's older friends were younger men and women of every nationality. I remembered his serving girls from the opium den party. These gorgeous youths were here to mingle.

We left the marina and then watched as a glorious sunset lit the horizon in front of us. Dinner was served buffet style. I hadn't seen Lily for over an hour so I casually circled the ship enjoying the views.

I found her alone on the front sundeck. She saw me and glanced around to make sure we were alone and then looked out to sea. I stood far enough away to have some distance between us but close enough to hear her if she spoke. She did.

"Fuck me, not meet me," she said. "Kind of an important detail."

I was confused for an instant but then I got it; Sebastian's rich friend.

"He says he has to have me," she continued. "Even if only for one night. What are we filming here? Indecent Proposal?"

She sounded angry and insulted but her words did not match her face or body language. I waited.

"You know this yacht cost over twenty million? How insane is that? Some of these men and women represent old money. These people are the manipulators behind the political figureheads." She paused for a moment. "Should I do it?"

Don't be fooled; her question was not simple. If I say yes, I look like an asshole for selling my wife to the highest bidder. If I say no, I look like I'm trying to control my wife. We both knew that after Jimmy and Trevor and Leo, certain aspects, normally present in a conversation like this between husband and wife, had been removed. I can't say no just because she shouldn't have sex with anyone but me. We were way beyond that. This was not a morality debate.

My gut told me what she really wondered was if sleeping with powerful men who would help her career tainted her success. He obviously wanted her. But did she want him? Did she want him independent of what he could do for her? These were questions for which I had no answers. To me, her question was rhetorical. So, I waited. She looked down the railing at me.

"Would you be hurt?"

I made sure we were still alone. “You fuck someone once, I’m good. Maybe even fuck them a second time. More than that makes me feel like you’re seeing them. I’d hate for you to form a relationship. I am your husband.”

She nodded a few times. “Your referring to Leo.”

“Leo. Whomever.”

“I get that. Did you see me with the man in the green sweatshirt?”

“Yes.”

“Mister Jay Robert Pritzker. Sebastian says the man could buy the Rockefellers three times over. Jay thinks I’m the most beautiful woman he’s ever seen and he simply must spend some time with me. By time he means sex. He offered money.”

I admit I was curious about the amount and believe me, I felt shitty about that.

“He offered a ridiculously large amount and I laughed nervously and turned my attention to Sebastian. I didn’t mean too. I was just so shocked. I had no idea what to say. He took that as rejection and doubled his offer. He insisted on an answer.”

I bit my mother-fucking tongue. How much?

“I won’t torment you, Luke. I said yes. I’ll sleep in his cabin tonight and again tomorrow night after the ball.”

Holy Christ. I casually checked my watch and wandered to the railing far to her left. My head spun. Lily had accepted money for sex.

“I guess that makes me a whore,” she added.

“Only if you wouldn’t have slept with him anyway.”

“I might if I wasn’t married. He’s handsome but not Trevor or Jimmy handsome. I doubt I would ever take him as a lover in this game we’ve been playing. Before I met him, Sebastian briefed me, mentioning facts including his reputation as a stud. He’s confident and educated and brilliant. If I were single I would at least have dated him.”

“Then you’re not a whore. But who cares if you were? Morals are more about crimes than sex. What’s the difference if he buys you dinner or just hands you the money he would have spent on dinner anyway. Judgements are so stupid.”

“For almost three days I’ll be his wife, not yours. Will it drive you crazy?”

“Yes.”

“will you masturbate in your cabin at night while I’m getting fucked in his?”

“Yes.”

“Is it weird that turns me on?”

I chuckled. “Fuck yes. We’re both freaks.”

“This will be the greatest role of my career; three days of pretending I’m not married to you. Three days of ignoring your handsome face and sweet eyes. Three days of pretending I don’t see the longing way you look at me. This will be hard on us both. I need your arms around me. I really wish I could kiss you.”

“Me too,” I agreed.

I heard steps approach so I turned to face the waves as if Lily did not exist. Two older men, including one in a green sweatshirt, shuffled by to talk to her. My wife and I ignored each other but I listened intently to their conversation.

Jay seemed like an all right man, maybe a little full of himself, but not a physical threat. I tried to relax with the idea but every glance I stole showed me his arm around her shoulders or his hands covering hers. She leaned into him. My last look saw them kissing. My heart shrank and my stomach turned queasy. She played her part perfectly. So well it seemed she truly adored him. The other gentleman left and Jay turned Lily towards the bow. He moved behind her and wrapped my wife in his arms, kissing the nape of her neck. She tilted her head to give him better access.

These three days were going to kill me.

Chapter 3

Friday night almost everyone turned in early. I unpacked and put everything away and then brushed my teeth. I got into bed and tried to read but seething curiosity would not leave me alone. What was Lily doing right now? I jabbed my bookmark and left my cabin.

Sebastian was on deck speaking to a young man who looked about twenty but I ignored them both, heading to the other end of the ship. I admit I carefully peeked in portholes along the way trying to find Lily’s cabin, but I did not. The breeze was much cooler and I wished I’d brought a jacket. I made my way down to the lower sundeck and dropped into a lounge chair. Mist filled the air down here, churned by the powerful blades spinning just beneath the surface. The ship rumbled and vibrated from the turbine engines.

A uniformed steward came by and asked if I needed anything and I requested a hot chocolate. Left alone with my thoughts, of course they turned to Lily.

When she went to New York last time and landed in Trevor's bed again, I felt like that was something we did together. She communicated everything from his invitation and her interest in it, to telling him yes and then the hot sex that followed. We shared that experience as a married couple. Lily and I discussed every detail and I knew exactly what was happening. Trevor was a pawn to be maneuvered around our board.

What I felt now was entirely different. I was the pawn. Lily and Jay were the players. I was on the outside, blind. Lily's connection was to him and not me.

A strange and perverse pleasure flowed through my veins. Some part of me liked that she was temporarily his.

My hot chocolate arrived followed by Sebastian, alone, pulling a lounge chair closer to mine. The steward took his drink order, a Douro Red, and departed.

"How are you?" he asked.

I shrugged but then realized he couldn't see me in the dark. "Fine, I guess."

"Can't be easy, watching Jay with Lily."

"It's not. What are you fishing for? Just ask."

He grinned. "Good ole Luke; always direct. All right then. I've taken a big chance with you. If you cannot maintain your deception Lily and I will suffer for it. I'm looking for reassurance. I need these people. So does Lily"

"Did you say something to Leo?"

"Yes. You won't see him again."

"I'll let you know if that turns out to be true."

An uncomfortable silence settled on us. I realized he was waiting for an answer.

"Yes, I'll maintain the illusion. I'll follow the script and play my role."

“Excellent. Who knows? Perhaps nothing will happen.”

I scoffed. “She said he’s already offered her an absurd amount and she accepted. Trust me, something will happen.”

He asked me how much and I told him. His small hand came up to cover his mouth. Four black fingernails stared back at me. The steward returned and deposited a glass of red wine, asked if he could get us anything else, and then left us alone.

“That’s a fantastic sum,” Sebastian said. “Good Lord.”

“Is she safe with him?”

“Absolutely. He’s been married for years but he and his wife do enjoy their dalliances. Serious scandal would rock their empire so yes, Lily is safe.”

I believed him. “By serious you men criminal.”

“Yes.”

“Cold comfort. I spoke to her briefly. She says you describe Jay as a stud.”

“That is his reputation. I’ve...procured...other girls for him and that’s what they tell me. Stamina. Size. Passion. Lily is in for a treat.”

“Thanks.”

“Come now, Luke. I remember our talks; Lily loves a strong, thick cock attached to a handsome man. Who doesn’t? Smaller men, men like you and me, we meet our partner’s needs in other ways.”

“I meet all her needs.”

“Don’t be contrary. You know exactly what I mean.”

He was right; I did. I just hated to be lumped in the small-penis category with him. I sipped my hot cocoa, staring at the truth. Whatever.

“What did you say to Leo?” I asked.

“I reminded him I demand discretion. I reminded him my clients and friends are off-limits. I threatened him and he knew I meant it.”

“Any chance you can get that recording from him?”

“Already destroyed.”

“By you?”

“No, by him. Trust me, Leo knows I’m to be taken seriously. I told him to delete all copies and he assured me he did. I believe him.”

“I don’t? He’s kind of a snake.”

Sebastian studied my face, debating. He leaned closer. “I’m not a simple little faggot that loves theater, Luke. Don’t define me too quickly.”

I heard that edge in his voice again and after pondering for a moment, believed him. Sebastian had a hard side. I had a sudden insight.

“Does all this have something to do with that inverted pentagram tattoo?”

Bingo. I’d struck a nerve. Sebastian’s face went blank, his eyes unreadable.

“No.”

He lied. I wasn’t going to call him on it but I knew.

“Okay.”

He drank some wine. “The party tomorrow night will be...difficult, for you.”

“How so?”

“You know how I love my parties.”

“Legendary. Why difficult?”

“Costumes. Nudity. Sex in the open.”

“Sounds like all your parties.”

“Lily will be a featured guest. Jay loves to brag. He wants everyone to know she belongs to him. He controls her. That’s what he likes.”

“Will he fuck her in front of a crowd? I’ve already seen Lily taken like that. One more time will be easy to handle.”

“Possibly. But he may have other plans for her.”

Imagination is worse than reality. I felt a strong tingling at the base of my penis. I wanted to ask Sebastian to explain what that meant, exactly, but I saw in his eyes he’d evade me. Perhaps he had no idea what to expect either.

Chapter 4

The next day dawned bright, clear, and hot. We’d left land behind during the night and the horizon was ocean in every direction. They slowed the engines and the crew put a dozen Sea-Doo into the water and many of us spent hours running circles around the yacht. Snorkeling, scuba-diving, and parasailing were available too. The party girls looked stunning in their fashionable bikinis.

I saw Lily after an hour, sitting on the top deck with Jay. I thought she'd want to try the Sea-Doo but she seemed perfectly happy to just sit with him and a few of his friends. When they did come down to the sundeck, I saw she wore a tiny, red, G-string bikini. Her ass looked fantastic and Jay must have thought so too because he always kept his hand on her butt cheek. I'd been watching them together for several minutes when I realized they'd had sex last night. The air of intimacy was unmistakable. The barriers of personal space had been obliterated. Lily hung on his arm or held his hand. Jay held her close with an arm around her shoulder or a tight hug. I was instantly jealous and aroused.

I aimed the Sea-Doo away from the boat and blasted full throttle, jumping waves and spraying water. A blonde man about my age suggested a race and we were off. I glanced back at our floating island of activity and saw Lily kissing Jay on the mouth.

She was still in her bikini when I got back to the ship about three hours later. A dozen passengers had gathered on the upper sundeck for drinks and I felt I could blend in without notice. I ordered a beer and took a seat across from Lily and Jay.

She sat with her legs behind her and her head on his chest. One arm snaked around behind him and the other disappeared into his far armpit. He tenderly stroked her head. It was a pose for high school sweethearts except it was my wife and another man. Her eyes swept over me without a flinch. A heartbeat later she tilted her head back for a kiss, which I know was aimed at me, and he accommodated. Their lips touched soft and wet.

My heart started racing. He brought his large hand up under a breast and lifted slightly. I saw the red strings of her bikini move. His thumb grazed her nipple and it hardened. I knew their tongues danced together by the movement of her cheek.

Nobody cared. This jaded group of the super wealthy had seen it all. Each of them was accustomed to taking what they wanted, doing what they wanted, and on the rare occasion some force opposed them, money thrown at the situation made the problem go away. They allowed each other the benefit of their riches; I grant you complete freedom, so you do the same for me.

Lily melted. She slid down his lap until she knelt between his ankles. Her fingers fumbled at his snaps and then she lowered her face over his crotch. Her black hair fell forward, obscuring our view, but her bobbing head and soft sucking sounds told us everything. An older gentleman seated to Jay's right asked him about his investment in Kuwaiti Oil and Jay responded intelligently and concisely. The men carried on a conversation while my wife sucked Jay's dick.

No, not sucked; worshipped. Lily's entire body endeavored to orally please him. Her hands worked. Her shoulders hunched. She needed his dick in her mouth. Jay graciously allowed my wife to service his cock. He and his colleague debated various financial intricacies as Lily bobbed joyfully on manhood.

She adjusted her legs beneath her and he was briefly exposed; a pillar of turgid pink flesh, covered with squiggly blue and red veins and arteries. He looked hard as glass. Her mouth quickly vacuumed the purple helmet and her hair once again hid him.

His voice never varied, nor did her pace. I slowly realized she had no intention of making him climax, my wife simply craved his cock in her mouth. He understood her need and graciously obliged.

I had to look away. The carnal display matter to me only, and that gave me away. I forced myself to follow the flight of a seagull headed for land and then scanned the endless whitecaps. When I finally permitted my gaze to return, just for a moment, Lily's smooth suction continued, as did his conversation. I couldn't stand it. I had to leave.

I spied my blonde racing companion on the deck below and waved and he waved back. I left to join his group and we chatted like old friends. From the corner of my eye I watched Lily's head, one deck above, rise and fall. After some time, I returned to the lower deck and tried parasailing and then snorkeling.

The sun traveled across the sky. Lunch was served and then, later, an early dinner. Every glimpse I caught of my wife showed me the same thing; Lily, clinging to Jay like they were high school sweethearts. Was this real or was Lily truly that great an actress? How could she have such feelings so fast? What had happened? I imagined he'd fucked her so majestically all night she was now in love with him, or, more accurately, in love with his big veiny cock.

About an hour later the captain fired a green flare into the night sky and everyone cheered. The man next to me saw my confusion and volunteered, "We've crossed into international waters. Anything goes."

I thanked him. All around the ship stewards step up small tables topped with brightly colored bottles and jars. I saw individuals snort blasts of cocaine or pack bowls with weed. Music started on each deck. The party had begun.

Minutes later, the first bikini top hit the deck. The party girls were in their element now and excitement rose. People started laughing and talking loud. More tops flew and bottoms followed. Within minutes the Gorgeous Youth were naked and the guests quickly followed.

Less than fifteen minutes after the green flare, every passenger was nude. I struggled mightily but caved. Remaining clothed while everyone around me partied naked was simply too much pressure. I undressed and a steward swept in and collected my garments, quickly making notes on a clipboard. I found myself standing in a forest of nudity. I wasn't the worst body revealed, but I sure as fuck wasn't the best, either. Not even close. I searched the faces of those around me and discovered I was the only one that cared. Everyone else paraded naked and unashamed.

I spotted the older woman from yesterday. She had her back to the railing, watching the crowd and sipping her drink. Her breasts sagged some and her legs looked soft but she did not care. Nobody gave a shit. I was the only one to even notice. I made my way towards her. She smiled when she saw me.

"It takes some getting used to," she said, raising her voice above the music. "But once you do it's wonderful!" She laughed and rocked her hips side to side. I smiled back and faced the crowd with her. They all seemed to be having a good time.

I took a while to relax, but eventually I gave in. Before too long I was dancing naked with the natives. Jean, the older woman, became my spirit guide and had me smoking and dancing like a wild man. I let myself go and have fun. I danced until my legs grew weak. Jean steered me towards the far railing and brought me some water. We looked back at the crowd as we caught our breath and then she said: "Let the young dance. I'm too old to go for very long. Are you ready to see something truly wild?"

I said I was and she took my hand, leading me one level below deck. We approached a set of double doors guarded by bouncers.

"He's with me," she announced. They stepped aside. I was starting to feel my nakedness again. Beyond the doors were stairs down which led to double doors again and more bouncers. She gave them a nod and they opened the doors to us. Inside was a double-sized room with a high ceiling. Dim red bulbs lit the scene. A naked crowd of about a dozen stared at something on the floor in the center of the room.

Jean and I circled until we found a gap and stepped to the front. A large black pentagram marked the floor and arising from the center of the glyph a large black cock swayed like a blade of kelp connected to the seafloor. It looked roughly as big as my arm from elbow to fist.

I turned to ask Jean what the fuck but she silenced me with a finger to her lips. I'm not stupid. I knew what was coming. Sebastian's warning came back to me in a rush and I hurriedly searched the crowd for Lily. I found her, off to my right, still clinging to Jay like he was everything to her. Quiet conversations scattered around the room, filling the space with a soft murmur. I turned to Jean again but she redirected my attention with a jerk of her head.

Lily stepped from the circle of people. Jay stood at the edge, large penis more than half erect, encouraging my wife to move to the center. She looked worried and unsure and scanned the gathering for support. She did not see me.

"Show me, Lily" Jay murmured. "Show us all."

Lily took tentative steps, her big tits gently swinging as she crossed the black lines. She kept looking back at Jay for encouragement. I caught a glimpse of her huge pupils and wondered if Jay had drugged her or if she'd merely imbibed like all of us.

When she reached the center, she knelt and stretched a cautious hand out to touch the appendage. Her face lit up.

"So warm!" she exhaled.

I watched her dainty fingers try to circle the girthy member. She appeared enthralled by the size and shape of the thing and more focused with each passing moment. She placed her knees on either side and hugged the cock, rubbing her slit up and down on the shaft. She lifted her big tits and teased her nipples.

"She's beautiful," Jean breathed. "Look at that body. I wonder where Jay found her. He always finds the most gorgeous women."

Jean's fingers closed around my penis and I instinctively let my hand fall back to find her bushy slit. We masturbated each other as the spectacle of my wife unfolded.

Lily's touch had affected the solitary cock, causing it to lengthen a little, curve backward some, and thicken a lot. She rubbed it with her clit while stroking the length with both hands.

Jay played with his formidable erection, his eyes a fevered glaze of lust. Lily's arousal grew until she was twisting her nipples. I saw her struggle with her decision and then suddenly cave, unable to fight her need anymore. My wife stood over the pulsing erection and lowered her soaked cunt down onto it. She controlled her penetration with her legs but she was eager to be filled. I watched the dark shaft spread her lips and smoothly push inside. Lily moaned. Jay jacked his cock rapidly. Lily's head fell back and a deep groan rose from her throat.

She was drugged. I saw the signs on her face and read it in her body. Her legs flexed and more of the cock disappeared inside. Ragged breath escaped her lungs as she cried out from overpowering pleasure.

"God! What's happening to me?"

She bit her bottom lips and lifted her heels and the head sank farther up inside until reaching her cervix. Her head rolled from the exquisite sensations.

"Unnnghh," she groaned. "So good... why so good?"

Deep lines of disbelief etched her gorgeous face. She scanned the crowd for answers but found none. She looked down between her legs and watched as she fucked herself on this monster cock and her breathing became short and ragged. She leaned forward, hands on the floor, and pumped her tight pussy up and down. Her eyes rolled back. She drooled.

"Aaaaa, what, what's happening? God help me."

Her little pussy rose and fell faster. The dark shaft, solid as marble now, gleamed with her copious juices. Her hands became fists and she closed her eyes and her head slowly sank to the floor.

"Aaaargghh! Christ!"

Her orgasm slammed her like a truck. She shook her head.

"Oh! God! Oh, fuuuuuuck!"

Ripples rolled her stomach. All the muscles across her back tensed and flexed. This thing buried in her guts electrified her, turned her inside out and upside down. She slammed her cunt up and down the monster cock and her climax thundered on without end. Her eyes were squeezed shut. She shrieked as a jolt of orgasmic pleasure stabbed her and refused to let go, like her orgasm was no longer her own but was being done to her. Her mouth opened and hung limp as another wave smashed her and then another. She started to sob but still her pussy pumped the stiff creature inside. The longer she rode the beast, the longer her climax continued.

The crowd went nuts. Couples grabbed whomever was nearest and the room dissolved into a fucking frenzy. Jean dropped to suck my penis into her mouth but I pushed her back and slid into her hairy cunt. I fucked her hard, our eyes on the gorgeous girl impaled on the devil-dick rising from the floor.

Lily never stopped fucking the thing. Her cries filled the room, driving us wild, until pleasure fried her brain and she passed out. Jay had to come lift her off the appendage and carry her back to his cabin, stepping over the writhing floor like he'd done it many times before.

I filled Jean with cum as Lily sailed over my head.

Chapter 5

So much for the evening gown. The party was still raging when Lily and Jay reappeared a couple hours later. I'd lost Jean somewhere in the crowd but I think she was finished with me anyway.

Lily and Jay appeared fully nude and holding hands. I knew he'd taken her back to his cabin and fucked her brains out because her swollen pink nipples and labia told me so. She looked a little dazed but satisfied and happy. She still clung to him constantly and he loved it. They never stopped touching. I took a seat to keep an eye on them. Much later, when the party began to die, I watched them leave and determined which cabin was theirs when the light came on. I worked my way forward until I saw through their porthole. I pretended to watch the moon and stars.

The moment the door closed she was on her knees and orally worshiping his cock again. Once he was hard he made her face the wall and fucked her from behind standing up. She had to be drugged. Her orgasm came so fast and powerful there could be no other explanation. I jacked off into the ocean watching them.

Sunday the yacht was almost silent. The primal orgy from the night before had lasted until sunrise and drained everyone. The stewards moved about, cleaning up, as well as myself and a handful of others. I drank a gallon of orange juice and lay in the sun. About half the passengers put clothing back on but the other half did not, including all the Gorgeous Youth.

Sebastian is a genius. I surveyed the fantastic young bodies parading around and realized this man had created for himself an Eden. He climbed on deck moments later and a few raised a weary toast to him. He waved back graciously. He had with him a nude young man, fit, blonde, hairless, and sporting a long cock. He saw me and sent the boy on some errand while looping around to my lounge.

“Intact?” he asked.

“Barely.”

“I appreciate your discipline.”

“Lily was drugged?”

“A bit. She was stunning, was she not?”

“I can’t deny it. You’re an interesting man, Sebastian. Pentagrams?”

“Never underestimate their shock value.”

“They do set a mood.”

He judged the bodies strewn across the deck, declared the party a success. “Last day; can you make it?”

“If I kept my shit together watching Lily fuck herself on some devil-cock and then watching Jay fuck her afterward, I think I can make it the rest of the way home. Those had to be high points, right? What can happen on a Sunday afternoon to top those moments?”

“I’m just checking on you.”

“Leo has a pentagram tattoo, just above his cock. Related?”

Sebastian eyed me warily. “In good time, my friend. Private things are private.”

Interesting man, indeed. Most telling, to me anyway, was his constant absence from the festivities. Why only throw parties for others? He was always dressed even when those around him are not. I’ve never seen him indulge in the same drugs he gives all of us, and that rare edge to his voice all combined to make me reevaluate the man. There were layers and depths here I’d missed.

The return trip to the marina went much faster. The captain announced when we were just a few miles out and the naked reluctantly got dressed. Lily and Jay sat on the top deck eating breakfast and when Lily saw me she got flustered and dropped her fork.

We took separate limos to the airport but didn't interact with each other until we were safely on the plane and headed home. I had an open seat next to me and Lily stuffed her bag in the overhead and plopped down, exhausted. We made sure no one from the party was on our flight.

"That was interesting," I said, opening conversation.

"How much did you see?"

"I saw you all over Jay. I saw you in the pentagram with the devil-cock. I saw you below deck and against the wall in his cabin."

"That's all?"

Until this moment, I had been feeling on top of things.

"Yeah, what'd I miss?"

She leaned closer, her voice low. "Me with a woman. Me with Jay and five of his geezer friends. Me in the pentagram again for a private ceremony only this time the devil-cock ejaculated inside me."

I made a face. "Ejaculated what?"

"Cum. Sperm from Jay and all his Masters of the Universe."

I leaned back from her. "You mean a little from each of them?"

"Yes."

I was simultaneously strangely disgusted and wildly aroused.

"When?"

"Just before sunrise. Almost everyone on board was asleep. Jay and his closest friends took me down there and watched."

"That devil-dick got to you."

"Jesus, Honey, it vibrates and undulates and radiates heat. My poor pussy never had a chance. I'd taken a pill to enhance everything too. I almost lost my mind riding that dark fucker."

I pictured her on top again. "So you're full of them at this moment?"

"Yeah. Which is why I'm wearing three pairs of panties."

I took her hand and whispered: "I'm going to fuck you senseless when we get home."

"I expect nothing less," she whispered back, squeezing my hand.

Chapter 6

I didn't fuck her senseless, not right away. We got home and unpacked and hit the shower. When her panties came down she was such a slippery mess she wanted a nice long bath. After that she was too sleepy and tender. Cum continued to leak from her slit for a long time.

I hated that she'd had sex out of sight and incommunicado. I felt like the intruder in our extracurricular sex life. Certain aspects of it were exciting to me but overall I preferred total involvement. I promised myself to avoid this arrangement going forward. I loved watching Lily with a long, fat cock. She has a streak of sexual abandon running through her and when it blossoms I want to see it. That's the thrill for me. So much this weekend was done out of sight and behind my back. I was left feeling estranged.

Nevertheless, when I saw milky sperm leaking from my wife's slit, my dick grew hard. When I thought about how many men swam around inside her right now, I got even harder. We had no sex that night or the next and when I did finally have her, we both went a little crazy.

Four days later, Sebastian sent her a completed contract with a large check attached. Money was nothing to these people. For a check that size I thought we'd dance around the kitchen or open some champagne and celebrate, but we didn't. We leaned on the kitchen counter and stared at it until Lily said she'd make the deposit tomorrow.

Just like that our credit card balances were reduced to zero, we knocked a big chunk off the principle on the house and gave her brother some money to help him get back on his feet after a nasty divorce.

Weeks flew by and Leo made no appearance.

"I hope Leo's okay," Lily said one night while we were out at dinner. "Weird that he's vanished."

I sensed disappointment. "Maybe his wife caught your scent."

"Maybe. Leo seems like a cautious man, but maybe. I sure as fuck don't need a crazy Latina woman pounding on my door."

Leo forced himself into our lives and into my wife. He coerces sex and extorts obedience. He intrudes. He demands. I finally discover a way to remove him only to discover Lily misses his indelicate touch. I feel our path forward narrowing. With Trevor and Jimmy out of the picture, Leo becomes Lily's only choice, a choice I just eliminated.

"What do you want?" I hear my mouth ask.

She looks up from her plate, a question behind her eyes, concern on her face. She toys with a noodle. For a moment, she's about to speak something serious but backs away.

“Dessert,” she giggles.

I know what’s happening. More than Trevor’s striking looks and Jimmy’s hot passion, Lily misses Leo’s rough manhandling. She misses his conquering phallus and the way he forced her submission. She wants the one man I do not want her to have.

“Brownie and ice cream?”

She purses her lips. “Or German chocolate cake?”

I’m comfortable with one night stands; hot sex with handsome strangers soon forgotten. I’m even cool with two night stands with colleagues. But I’m intimidated and threatened by repeated session with the same man. Too much can happen. Feelings will form. A connection will grow.

“Brownies are like cake, and then you get ice cream too.”

“You’re right. Good call. I’m going to go use the restroom. Will you order for me?”

We kiss briefly and I watch her ass as she walks away.

This is complicated. I consider telling her the favor I asked of Sebastian and what truly happened to Leo. I realize I’m worried she’ll react poorly. I’m trapped between her desires and mine. I want her to have what she wants but I want that for me too.

The waiter arrives and I place our order and Lily returns and we eat and laugh and thoroughly enjoy each other’s company. She’s horny on the drive home and blows me in the car. I enjoy her as my second dessert and she falls asleep right after and I lay there thinking, wondering what I should do.

Chapter 7

More time passes. I sense a growing need in Lily. I begin to understand we’ve set something in motion that has no simple fix. Simple denial won’t work. Abstinence won’t work. We’ve awakened a hunger which requires feeding. I frequently dream of her cheating on me with Leo. I ask myself hard questions about my confidence in her fidelity and about my own insecurities. If she’s capable of cheating, shouldn’t I know that?

Would knowing be better than not knowing? Would it even be cheating? She has no idea the steps I've taken to eliminate the man. Leo is still on the table from her perspective.

I either tell her what I've done or find some way to undo it.

I dream again that night; I catch Lily in bed with Leo and demand she stop and she instantly climbs off his cock and hugs me, telling me everything is going to be okay. Her choice is so easy and spontaneous and natural; I wake up feeling like a bitch. No way would Lily fall for Leo. This really is just sex. It's a sex only he can give her and that's hard for me to accept, but it's the truth.

After I check in at the main office the next day, I drive to our Spring Valley store. Leo is on the phone when I arrive so I wait outside his office, wandering the aisles. He runs things well, if you subtract the occasional siphoning of funds from the till. He finds me after his call and we sit in his small office with the door closed. He looks wary.

"You stopped your visits," I said.

"As Sebastian demanded. He found out about the tape I have of Lily and how I was using it. I was sure it was you who told him."

"It was."

He snorted. "So your visit today is about my store?"

"No. Lily wants you."

"Lily wants my cock."

"Don't flatter yourself; Lily obtains cock easily."

"Not like mine, with my ass driving it deep, and my rough hands pulling her hair. She likes my cock because it's attached to me, an ugly man with an ugly body and an ugly personality. She can't believe such an unattractive man is fucking her and that reminds her she's only in bed with me because my cock is so big and gets so hard. She loves it. She's slumming, Luke. I make her feel dirty and slutty. She gets her loving, nurturing, marital bliss with you and her dirty, whorish impulses satisfied with me. Trust me, dude, she's not my first little suburban housewife."

Deep down, I suspected he was right. Insightful for such an ugly man. I kept my mouth shut.

"But it doesn't matter," he continued. "Sebastian says no, and that ends it. I am not about to cross Sebastian."

"Why not? What's the deal with that guy?"

He shook his head slightly like he had no intention of explaining anything to me.

“What if he doesn’t find out?” I asked.

“How do you guarantee that? He could be watching your house. He could have a private detective following you right now.”

“That sounds a little paranoid.”

“You don’t know him, Luke. At all.”

He leaned back in his chair. “So, tell me why you are here, and don’t say it’s because Lily wants me. That doesn’t tell me why you are here. That only tells me what Lily wants.”

I chuckled nervously. “Honestly, I’m not sure. I thought if I talked to you we could reach an understanding. I want her to fuck someone else but she wants you. I hate watching you two now. You’re the only man she’s fucked more than twice. I see a growing intimacy between you and I don’t like it.”

“You’re jealous.”

“Yes, and frightened.” I felt so stupid for coming. Talk about casting your pearls before swine.

“I threaten you. You worry Lily will develop feelings for me, maybe even leave you for me.”

“Yes.” This conversation could not be over soon enough. He gloated. Of course he did.

“So you drove out here to give Lily what she wants despite how it makes you feel?”

“Yes.”

“You’re a good husband, Luke, I’ll give you that. At first I thought you might be setting me up for trouble with Sebastian but I can see you’re sincere.”

He studied my face. “All right,” he said, after a long pause. “I’ll fuck her again but not at your place. We need to be careful. There’s a Motel Six off freeway Fifteen and Craig Road in the north. Tomorrow night around eight get a room in the back facing the freeway. Make sure you aren’t followed.”

He tugged at his pants bunched in his crotch.

“I’m getting hard just thinking about it. I love that you came begging. I love that you’re inviting me to fuck your hot wife. Tell Lily my wife is getting suspicious and that’s why I haven’t been around.”

I had a nasty reply but, again, I kept my mouth shut.

He went on: "I'm a happily married man, Luke. I told you that. Lily can crave me all she wants but she's not getting anything more than a fuck from me. All I want is her hot pussy wrapped around my cock and all I want to give her is a steaming batch of fresh cum. Does that make you feel better?"

"Yes." It did. I'm so fucked up. This situation is so bizarre.

"Good. Then I'll see you tomorrow night. Keep your eyes open."

I stood and closed my briefcase.

"One last thing," He said, his eyes mocking. "Buy some new lingerie to dress her in. I want you to hand her over to me like a beautiful Christmas present."

Chapter 8

My hands shook as I drove back to the office. I buried myself in work and got home late. Lily was in the bath. We chatted about our day and then, as the conversation wound down, I told her.

"Listen, I arranged for Leo to fuck you tomorrow night."

Her face lit up. "Really?"

"Yes. I visited his office to see why he no longer comes by. He said his wife was snooping around." I hated that I was lying to her.

"When will he arrive?"

"Eight O'clock, but not here. We are to meet him at a Motel Six on the north side. He needs to be more careful."

"Do you think his wife is suspicious?"

"Probably."

"Luke, I can't believe you did this. You're the most wonderful husband ever. Are you sure this is all right?"

I smiled on the outside. "Yes. He set a condition though; I must buy you new lingerie for him to remove. He wants you dressed like a sexy Christmas present."

Her eyes flared. "Honey, that's hot. You're taking me shopping so I have a sexy outfit for Saturday night?"

"Yup."

“A sexy outfit for him?”

“Yes.”

“That’s wicked. God, that will put me in such a slutty mood. I can’t wait. I’m already feeling it.”

On one hand, I was happy she was happy. On the other hand, fuck me; her reason for her happiness was anticipated sex with another guy.

“I’ll let you finish your bath. I want to check basketball scores.”

We kissed and I departed.

The next morning, we grabbed a quick breakfast and aimed for the biggest mall in town. She finally decided on a slutty fishnet body suit, black, with a strip of Velcro running along her pussy for rapid access. The panels over her full tits peeled away too. Leo was in for a treat.

On our way to the motel I made a few extra turns, doubling back and noting the make of cars behind me. I’d informed Lily of Leo’s concerns but blamed it on a suspicious wife and not Sebastian. The element of secrecy only heightened her excitement. She wore her lingerie under a long coat.

Just for fun I pulled into a gas station and asked her to run inside and buy me gum. She gave me a confused look.

“And if your coat falls open a bit...oh well.”

Now she understood. I filled the tank and she returned in five minutes looking flustered.

“He saw more than I intended,” she laughed. “I bought your gum and some breath mints for me but dropped the tin. My coat did fall open. The man behind the register saw my whole body. He ran around the counter to help me pick everything up and stared. I think he saw my pussy, Baby.”

I laughed. “You made his night.”

She glanced back as we drove away.

At the motel, she entered the lobby with me and flashed the attendant some cleavage and thigh. She was having a blast. I told him a room in the back facing the freeway and he slid two plastic keys under the security window.

The suite was small but clean with a queen bed. I text Leo the number and he text back he was twenty minutes out.

Stay in the room, he added. I have plans for you, too.

My stomach soured. I was sure he resented me going to Sebastian and no doubt had some devious torture in mind.

Lily brushed her teeth again and hung her coat in the closet. She paced. We both heard the car door outside and I told her to get on the bed and look sexy. She quickly crawled up and leaned her back against the headboard. She spread her arms to the pillows and crossed her legs at the ankle. She looked amazing and I told her so.

A hard knock brought me to the door. Leo entered wearing jeans and T-shirt and tossed his keys on the television stand. He glanced at me once and then his eyes landed on my wife. He froze.

She looked stunning.

I heard him mutter, "I love my life," and then he pulled his shirt over his head and kicked off his shoes. As he removed his pants he told me to undress too. I hesitated with a glance at Lily. She looked positively carnivorous. She watched us undress but as soon as Leo revealed his cock her eyes were glued to it.

I believe in that situation every man would check on the other guy's equipment and I did too. Long ago Lily had named him donkey-dick and that moniker returned to me now. He was circumcised, but the tube of flesh had extra skin so at this moment he looked uncut. Soft as butter, his dick was still three fingers wide and longer than my wrist to middle fingertip. His scrotum looked as big as a softball.

"Tell her to come over here and suck my cock. On her knees."

I turned to Lily. Her eyes darted from me to Leo and back to me again. This was the first time he and I have ever stood nude next to each other and she couldn't help but compare. She said nothing but the moment was brutal. I may have shrunk half an inch. I gave her Leo's instructions and she slithered from the bed to comply.

"Hold her hair while she does it," he ordered. I saw what kind of night this was going to be. Leo would punish me for being a tattle-tale and given the universal bro code, maybe I deserved it. I gathered her hair and gently pulled it behind her neck.

"No," he said. "Kneel with her. I want you close to my dick in her mouth."

I laced my fingers through her hair and knelt.

The difference was astonishing. On my feet, I was a man, like Leo, watching a pretty woman suck cock. On my knees, I was a participant, like her. Instead of looking down on her I looked across and the fact this was my wife with another man's cock in her mouth driven home. The sucking and slurping sounds were more intense. Her saliva gleamed on his cockhead and part way down the shaft. I saw the wrinkles of his flesh, the pumping of his blood, the slight movements of his testicles in their pouch.

Lily met my gaze. Her eyes sparkled. How long had she gone without? She held him with both hands and leaned across to kiss me. Her mouth tasted like Irish Spring soap smells. She squeezed his shaft and aimed the tip at her face and pulled a clear drop to the small opening. She rubbed it on her tongue.

My penis began to rise. Without fail, Lily and big cocks look great together.

Despite my discomfort, that part of my brain that loves watching her act this way was firing like mad. Leo was filling with blood, slowly growing longer and thicker, slowly rising to horizontal. Lily swabbed every inch with her tongue. She sucked and licked and gagged, working to get this cock hard enough to fuck.

It occurred to me this was the closest I'd ever seen a blowjob, including my own. I'd seen Lily suck other men but those had some distance, some space. Leo's cock filled my field of vision. My wife pulled his semi-erection from her mouth.

"Want some?" she teased. She was having a blast.

"No. No, I don't, thanks." Above me, Leo snorted a laugh.

"Force her head up and down," he said. "Make your wife suck me."

I did as instructed and goose bumps spread across her arms. Her nipples hardened. Apparently, she enjoyed Leo bossing me around almost as much as she enjoyed him bossing her around.

"Make her deep-throat me."

Lily held her breath. I held the front of her throat and pushed on the back of her head and she moaned encouragement. She took half of this horse-dick but that was all. I tried to force more down her throat but he simply did not fit. Leo groaned.

"Goddamn, I love looking down and seeing my big dick in your pretty face. Stand up, both of you."

We did what he said. He made her turn slowly and raise her arms. His eyes glowed with appreciation. He motioned to the panels covering her breasts.

"Take those off."

Lily started to reach for them.

“I think he means me,” I said. I pulled the strips apart and Lily’s big tits tumbled free. He began stroking his dick with one hand while rubbing and pinching her tits with the other.

“Does the crotch do the same?”

“Yes.”

“Open her there too. Show me your wife’s pussy, Luke.”

I opened the strip there too. Lily had shaved perfectly and her pink skin looked fresh. Leo stepped closer and I pulled my face out of the way of his advancing dick. He aimed his rod through the gap between her thighs and shoved until inches came out the back. I started to stand.

“Not so fast, Luke. Go behind and lick her asshole. Rim your wife for me.”

Around back, his cockhead was right in my face. I pulled her cheeks apart and extended my tongue until I felt her lumpy rosebud. I wriggled in a quarter inch and my chin rubbed along his shaft.

“That’s right,” he said. “That’s good. Just like that.”

Lily squirmed from my anal probe. Her body shifted and I looked up to see them kissing. I pushed my tongue half an inch deeper and Leo’s cock poked me in the Adam’s apple. I resisted the urge to flee. He began to pump his dick back and forth between her thighs as I ate her ass.

Lily was coming unglued. Her squirms had grown into writhing and she broke his kiss long enough to tell him to fuck her. I was ready to take a seat and let this night play out. I’d had enough of Leo’s cock in my personal space.

“You two get on the bed and sixty-nine.”

Lily hurried to comply but I hesitated. If Sebastian was to be believed, Leo had destroyed the sex-tape he had of Lily. I was only here tonight for her. I expected he’d want to rub my nose in it a little for ratting him out to Sebastian, so, okay, but if he had any thoughts of serious humiliation he could forget it. I swear he read my mind.

“Yeah, I still have a copy. I gave it to a friend with instructions that if anything happens to me, he’s to destroy your lives. Now hurry up, Lily is waiting.”

My heart sank. I looked at Lily and she was on her back, legs spread, heels drawn up to her ass. She hadn’t heard what Leo said. She lifted her arms to beckon me, having the time of her life.

I climbed onto the bed and assumed the position. My penis dropped into Lily's hot, wet mouth and my lips closed on her clit. Leo let us pleasure each other and I was just getting into it when I felt the bed move. His hand came down on the back of my head.

"Open her pussy to me," he said. "Open her cunt and then guide me in."

Lily groaned. I licked all around her hole and sucked her labia and then spread her open with my fingers. I used my shoulders to push her thigh apart and lifted my head. Leo's enormous member, hard and throbbing, was mere inches away. I wasn't going to touch it but I did loop an arm around his waist and pull his body forward. I missed her hole the first time and she jumped but the second time that huge cockhead lined up and sank an inch deep. Lily gasped and then groaned. My wife loved his dick so much.

Leo pushed my head down so my face was an inch from her penetration. I saw the livid veins on his turgid manhood and her swollen inner lips clinging to him. He began to make slight in and out motions and the air left Lily's lungs. Once he was wet, he sank the length of his meaty spear into my wife's guts.

I thought he might get me out of the way but that was not his plan. He used my back and shoulders to brace himself and started a deep fucking of her drenched cunt, the sounds and smells so very close. If I stuck my tongue out, I'd lick his cock. I was front and center on the conquering of my lovely wife. Holy shit his dick was big.

Lily forgot all about my penis in her mouth. He fucked her slow and deep and sent such waves of intense sensation running through her all she could do was remember to breath and hold onto my legs for support. I saw now what his cock did to her. Her poor little pussy had no chance against it. On every thrust he pulled in surrounding flesh and on every withdrawal, he turned her cunt into a pink cone.

"Lick her clit," he ordered.

I hesitated, again, but bent my neck to obey. Lily lost her mind. I licked softly as he pistoned his fleshy spike and her claws gouged my legs and ass. I was careful to avoid his plunging cock...no need for anything weird here...and concentrated on her clitoris. Lily loves her pussy eaten delicately and that's what I did. Her back arched moments later when she climaxed hard from our dual attention.

We did not care.

With an unspoken agreement, Leo and I launched an assault on Lily's senses, our goal to drive her insane. My wet tongue swirled and looped and his vein-covered phallus probed deep and my wife became a mass of twisting, struggling flesh. I backed off a little when she orgasmed again but soon returned to my tortuous ways. Her third climax were screams of murder.

We let her rest after that.

When he was ready for more he pulled a chair near the bed and pointed for me to sit. He grabbed her ankle and rolled her onto her stomach and delivered a stinging smack to her ass. She seductively lifted her cheeks for more, the fishnet biting into her skin. Leo moved behind her and aimed his fat cock down at her hole. His ass flexed and his inches disappeared. Lily groaned.

"I love that cock so much," she muttered.

Leo wound his fingers in her long black hair and pulled her onto his cock. With her round butt in the air he leaned over her body and bit her shoulder. She curled an arm around his neck and behind his head and he moved his teeth to the nape. I heard her suck air and exhale a long: "Fuuuuuck..."

His hips began a smooth up and down. After a while he held her hips and pumped her faster and then he rolled her onto her back. Their eyes met.

"I can't wait to cum in you," he said.

"I can't wait for you to cum in me," my wife purred.

He pushed his dick inside and bent her legs back. Starting slow and smooth, he gradually built speed. I watched Lily go from wet to soaked to dripping. Little mewling sounds became cries and gasps.

Leo pulled his cock out and let it land on her vulva. Lily gasped at the sudden emptiness and looked down between her legs.

"What? Why'd you stop? Fuck me."

Leo chuckled. Cock in hand, he tapped the tip against her clit. Lily shook her legs impatiently.

"Fuck me," she said again, staring down at his hard meat.

He took the spear and rubbed the head all around her opening. He mashed her pussy lips and ran the rod up and down the groove.

"Fuck me!" my lovely wife insisted.

He ran a hand over her net-covered body; her round tits, her flat stomach, her smooth thighs. She reached for his cock and curled her fingers around the thick shaft. She tugged the loose skin, trying to pull him forward and into her.

“Leo...fuck me, Baby. You know I love this dick.”

I’d never heard her call him that. That word was mine. He gave me a sly look. He leaned over to kiss her and her free hand rose to his face and then there it was; that shared intimacy I’d come to dread. She closed her eyes and then he did too. Their lips met as she guided his diamond cock inside her hot, wet folds, enshrouding him in her snug and cozy tunnel.

Gone was the usual vigor of their mating; the slapping and fighting now replaced with tender gestures of affection, made worse by my ill-conceived and secretly enforced separation. I’d made them crave each other. The time apart filled them with longing. They nuzzled noses and smiled sweetly, gazing into eyes and moving together with fondness and affection. They murmured things I couldn’t hear. Their kisses were slow and meaningful. I was watching Lily make love and it was brutal.

Jealousy roared back. I neglected to breathe, transfixed by what I witnessed. Ugly Leo moved farther up her body and Lily’s legs naturally slid up his body and laced behind him. One arm circled his neck, the other reached around his back. Leo’s hips rose and fell in perfect time. Lily whimpered each time he reached far up inside her. I was tormented, tortured by the sight of my loving wife so willingly giving herself to another. Agony squeezed my body.

Yet, my penis grew.

I can’t explain it. I felt besieged. I suffered. My eyeballs ached at the horrible truth before me but within moments my dick throbbed and pulsed, jutting up from my lap, begging release. Why did this excite me? I had no answer. I was so far down the rabbit hole nothing made sense. This cruel paradox held me like a vise; I hated what I saw. I loved what I saw.

I started stroking. After a moment, Leo saw me and called me closer to the bed.

“Stand right here and do that,” he said “Let us watch you.”

I moved beside them. Lily fixed her gaze on my penis and moaned, loving what she’d done to both men. Leo fucked her faster and she held onto him while staring at my masturbating hand.

After a minute, she said she was going to cum again. Leo drove his hips and Lily watched me as long as she could, but as her orgasm drew near she turned her attention to her lover. They kissed again and again until her head snapped back and Leo's massive organ ripped another gut-wrenching climax from her. She gasped and growled and jerked beneath him and that got him there too; an instant later he was spurting hot, white lava inside my wife.

For reasons unknown, that fact hit me hard this time. My balls tightened and a jet of milk sprayed. I pumped faster, watching him fill Lily's womb, and jerked several addition blasts of hot jizz onto the sheets.

His orgasm lasted longer than mine and he was still shooting into her after I'd finished. After the last drop left my penis, reality immediately came rushing in. Her cries of pleasure combined with his grunts and growls of conquest stabbed me right through the heart, but I tried to hide it.

I flopped into my chair. They stayed tangled, touching, kissing, murmuring until Leo said he needed to get home. They kissed a few times and then he dressed, leaving Lily wrapped in fishnet and looking sexy as fuck on the bed. The door closed behind him and she turned to me.

"That did not go the way I thought it would," she said.

"What were you expecting?"

"It had been so long, I thought he'd throw me around the room and fuck my brains out. He got all touchy-feely instead. I admit I liked the change up."

"I didn't."

She sat up, leaning on one arm, concern on her face. "Are you okay?"

"I don't know. I feel so lame. I tracked him down because that's what you wanted but I don't like you two together. All that intimacy makes me think you're falling for him."

She laughed out loud. "Oh, Luke, Baby...never. Of course I'll develop feelings for a lover. Women always do. Sex is different for us, Honey. I'll even admit the feelings make the sex a lot better. But you're seeing all this through male eyes. You think if I'm feeling intimacy I must want a relationship. That's the way you guys operate, not us."

"You made love to Leo."

Her face softened. "I did. And he to me, in his way, and it was wonderful. I know he won't do that all the time but tonight was nice. A few days from now, he'll be back to throwing me around the room."

"A few days?"

"Yeah, in a few days. I want to fuck him again soon and told him so. He feels the same way. He said he missed me."

She scooted off the bed and knelt next to the chair, looking up at me. "If you can't stand me and Leo, you don't have to watch. You don't even need to be there. I can see him like I saw Trevor and send you pictures and texts. Would that work?"

"You're going to keep seeing him?"

"Yes, Baby. I won't lie. I'll hide it if you want but I won't lie. Maybe it would be better if I didn't mention it? Ignorance is bliss."

"Let me think about it."

I left the whole mess unresolved. Emotions churned on the inside with no feeling clearly dominant, so I decided to sleep on it and see how I felt later. Something would rise to the surface.

"Hungry?" I asked.

"Famished. Let me grab my coat."

We dressed quickly and hit a burger place across the parking lot. Lily wore her bodysuit under her jacket and several times during our meal had to shift her hips because Leo was leaking out. It made me hot and that pissed me off. My own fantasy was starting to anger and frustrate me. I considered dropping the whole thing. This much conflict and confusion was no fun. I want her to take only singular lovers but she likes the connection and intimacy of the same man. Maybe we should just stop. Maybe we should go back to the way things were. I wondered if we could. I watched her dab a fry into a splotch of ketchup and bite the tip. She looked happy.

"What?" she said, around a mouthful of food.

"I was just thinking how much I love you."

She beamed.

"Are you Lily Green?" the voice asked.

We turned. A pretty woman, early twenties, blonde and blue-eyed, stood hopeful near our hard plastic table.

"I am."

"I saw you in Streetcar last year. You were amazing. I'm sorry for intruding on your dinner but may I shake your hand?"

Lily blushed. "Of course! What's your name?"

“Amy Schum. I study theater at community. I think you’re remarkable.”

The women shook hands and Lily introduced me as her husband. Amy and I shook too. They chatted about acting and favorite plays and what Lily had lined up next and then Amy apologized and left us to our meal. Lily and I were quiet for a few minutes and then she said softly: “What a great night.”

Chapter 9

After that night, Lily and I seemed to get closer and closer. Maybe she paid me extra attention because I’d shown a vulnerability. She accepted a role in Les Miserables that would keep her busy for twelve weeks and my workload increased too, but whenever we were home together we snuggled and clung to each other like newlyweds. We were often too tired for sex but every couple goes through that and besides, it didn’t matter. Our intimacy was sky-high. I made no more mention of Leo and neither did she.

Four weeks after our night with Leo, Lily and I arrived home almost the same time. We entered the kitchen and dropped our belongs. She told me about rehearsal and I shared some exciting spread-sheet stories. The conversation hit a natural pause and our eyes met.

Clothing flew. No words were spoken. I kicked my shoes off without untying them and Lily almost broke her zipper getting out of her dress so fast. I picked her up, my hard dick bouncing, and carried her to the couch because it was closest. I whipped her panties down and off. She spread her legs as invitation. I froze.

My mind slipped out of gear. Her pussy was pink and swollen and cloudy milk lubricated her inner lips. I knew what I was seeing, but I couldn’t believe what I was seeing. I tried to reengage my brain.

“Only a few minutes ago,” she said, her voice teasing. She turned to her side and showed me the handprint on her ass.

My brain slipped back into gear, only to ram a brick wall.

Lily fucked someone else?

I couldn’t grasp it. “I thought...I thought you were at rehearsal?”

“I was, from two to three-thirty. Then I was under Leo until a few minutes ago.”

If you guessed my penis deflated, you’re wrong. Tires screeched and fenders smashed. I couldn’t process the truth.

“You fucked him? Behind my back?”

She looked confused. “Yes, just like we talked about.” She moved to her knees and leaned on my chest, looking up at me. “He’s fucked me so many times, Baby. We made the motel room our rendezvous spot.” She turned towards our bedroom and waved a hand. “Although he’s fucked me in our bed a few times too.”

My dick could have driven a nail into concrete.

“It’s better this way, right?” she said. “You don’t suffer.”

My mind flashed back over the last month but found nothing. She wasn’t hiding Leo to be malicious. She was keeping the unpleasant from me.

“Is this for me?” she asked, tickling my erection with her fingertips. She lowered her head and enveloped my straining penis in her hot mouth. She sucked and her cheeks and tongue swaddled me in mind-numbing sensation. She tilted her head back to receive my kiss.

I poured every ounce of passion I carry for that girl into that kiss. For half a second I wondered if I should be hurt and angry but the truth is, I simply wasn’t. Lily and I had just enjoyed the best four weeks of our marriage and she’d been fucking Leo the whole time. What did I have to worry about? That fact told me everything I needed to know about how things stood between me and my wife.

The moment our lips met, her eyes opened. She felt my love. Like a warm wave swirling around her, my passion, loyalty, commitment, and adoration, enveloped her. Her eyes grew wide. Her face softened. She moaned and melted. I circled her with my arms and let all my fears and doubts go. I lay open and exposed and she sensed it, she knew it, and she returned my devotion step for step.

Water sprang to both our eyes. Our lips trembled. A powerful connection shook us. I held her shoulders and slowly bent her onto the couch and moved between her legs. My penis throbbed with want. I needed her, only her, and she needed only me. We lay exposed, uncovered, and defenseless.

My dick found her slit and I sank in with little resistance. Leo had stretched and lubricated her for me. His sperm made her slick and I sank balls-deep in one motion. Lily groaned from the bottom of her heart.

Leo and Lily had discovered a window of opportunity during the day because they no longer had to include me. He'd had her often, but never like this.

Leo and I battled over her pussy, but he left her heart untouched. Only I held that. I moved in and out and his cum in her thrilled me. It thrilled her too. We gazed with fervent intensity into each other's eyes and shared a fully awareness of what each meant to the other. We found each other at the center of the universe.

"He came so much," I rasped.

"Three days in a row," she panted.

My dick was a diamond. The handprint told me he was back to throwing her around the room.

I made love to my wife with slow deliberation. We never lost eye contact. I was reclaiming her and she knew it and wanted to be taken back, wanted her husband to own her. I knew he would fuck her again soon. I knew he might fuck her tomorrow. We both knew the truth but it only heightened our intensity.

If not for his semen rendering her so slippery, I would have shot my load quickly. I was able to draw the moment out until, finally, I exploded with such force I sobbed and buried my face in her neck. She wrapped her arms and legs tightly and begged for every drop, curling her hips up to meet mine.

Hours later I took her again.

We would forever refer to this night as The Night We Met. We'd formed an unbreakable bond, a transcendent connection. Crazy that it sprung from her involvement with another man, but let's face it; humans are weird.

For the next several weeks I'd sit at work, watching the clock, knowing any moment they'd be in their cars and driving to the motel. My dick would get hard under my desk as the minutes ticked off. I felt him fucking her through the air. Her brain waves penetrated the walls of my office and electrified my mind. I swear at times I even heard her scream or moan or gasp.

Most nights I'd race home to reclaim her. Some nights I would not, driving slowly, taking my time, allowing the knowledge she carried him inside to fuel us both. This erotic spell filled us both with madness and our lovemaking shook the bedroom walls.

All too soon, it came to an end.

Chapter 10

I was in my office when I saw the paperwork come across my desk; Leo had resigned from the company and we needed a new manager for our Spring Valley store. I text Lily to ask what was going on.

"No idea," she replied. "I've been chasing that dick for two days."

I called the home number I had for him and sent an email too. Days later I drove by his dark house. Nothing. His assistant manager was competent so I recommended for simplicity's sake we promote from within, and that's what happened. Within ten days, the world swallowed Leo never to be seen again. Lily was only mildly concerned, feeling like her time with him had pretty much run its course anyway. She was hurt he did not say goodbye but not surprised.

She didn't know what I knew. She did not know about Sebastian.

A nagging thought sank teeth in and vexed me; what if Sebastian discovered Leo was seeing Lily? Sebastian naturally concluded, as before, the situation was coerced. Leo had been warned. Sebastian did something terrible.

I tried to investigate and learned I knew surprisingly little about Leo. The address he had on file with us was old and he'd rented that property to a family. I could hire a private investigator but why would I? If anything bad had happened, I'd implicate myself by snooping around. I needed to treat Leo the same way I'd treated every other employee who quit.

So, I let it go. Lily received outstanding reviews for her work on Les Misérables, I got a merit increase as scheduled. No more Jimmy, no more Trevor, no more Leo. I remembered a conversation we'd had long ago and asked Lily if our escapades had run their course.

"I don't think so. How about you?"

I hugged her from behind. "I may never get enough of my sweet little wife struggling with a big cock. I love it."

She laughed and kissed the back of my hand.

Chapter 11

Les Miserables closed as scheduled and the afterparty was huge. Lily commented this would be out first party thrown by someone other than Sebastian and I laughed.

"He keeps the bar pretty high. I hope we're not bored."

The invitation suggested additional guests be invited as to promote the production company and the small theater, so Lily invited Dawn and Randy to join us. Randy had gained back almost all his weight but Dawn looked fantastic. Still not in Lily's league, but great. The women wore elegant gowns with plenty of cleavage and I wore my standard tux. Randy looked uncomfortable in a sports coat and tie.

The event was held at a small library on the west side and Dawn was nervous about being around so many stars. Lily and I shared a secret knowing look on that one. The open bar served everything and Randy felt like a bigshot walking around a library with champagne. I humored him and stuck by his side. I know he felt out of place too. The ladies went one direction and we went the other.

I took Randy around and introduced him to the people I knew, occasionally spotting Dawn and Lily talking to actors and producers and directors. Dawn's face was lit up like this was the best time ever. I discovered another bar around the corner and down a long hallway so Randy and I stopped for refills and some quiet time away from all the handshakes and backslaps. We found a small seating area which looked out onto a patio with potted bamboo.

"I don't know how you do it," Randy said. "I'm not the jealous type, at all, but even I'd have a hard time letting my wife hangout with all those handsome guys. She does kissing scenes with them too?"

I chuckled. "Yup. It's just acting. I trust Lily completely."

"Acting or not, her lips are still pressed against his."

“I guess what matters is the meaning you attach to it. Would you feel more comfortable if they rubbed ankles?”

“What?”

“What’s the difference between lips and ankles? They’re both body parts. We give them greater or lesser meaning. It’s subjective and so therefore under our control.”

“What about sex scenes?”

“What about them? They don’t actually have sex, Randy. They are naked in front of each other but how is that different from you and Dawn visiting a nude beach? Did she run off and fuck someone because you were naked? Did you?”

I thought it best to leave out the fact that Lily had fucked during a scene.

“No.”

“I used to be jealous but that proved unnecessary and exhausting. Who cares? Lily and I are blissfully happy. What else matters?”

He shook his head slowly. “I guess. But I’d always wonder if I could trust her every time. Do you trust Lily no matter what?”

“I do. It’s no big deal.”

He pondered a minute. “Any of those leading men ever try anything with Lily?”

This was tricky. Something about the way he asked made me think he knew or suspected and was fishing. I don’t know everything Lily tells Dawn. If she let something slip and Dawn told Randy, I might be caught in a lie.

“Of course,” I said. “Lily’s gorgeous. They all hit on her and a couple have bragged they made it to first base, but she confronted them and that stopped.” I thought that would cover anything he’d heard. “Just typical guy stuff,” I added.

We watched the nighttime breeze bend the bamboo and finished three glasses of champagne. Several actresses passed through and Randy’s eyebrows went up.

“On the other hand,” he said. “All of Lily’s friends are hot.”

I gave him a sensible laugh. “That is true.”

After a while we wandered back to the main party and discovered Lily and Dawn had separated. My wife stood with a group of older men, directors, I believe, and Dawn stood off by the wall with a well-built and vaguely familiar man who had his back to us. I leaned closer to Randy.

“Here’s your chance, big guy. Can you trust Dawn? That dude is buff. Can Dawn control herself?”

I was teasing, of course, but Randy’s eyes narrowed. Normally he’s so comfortable with this kind of thing. Maybe the alcohol had him worked up? Or maybe he was feeling insecure because he’d put the weight back on and Dawn didn’t? Either way, I felt badly for taunting him and excused myself to go check in with Lily.

My wife introduced me around the circle but I mostly stayed out of the conversation. I kept one eye on Randy. I worried in my effort to be funny, I’d planted seeds of suspicion.

When I turned my attention to Dawn, I was shocked. From my new angle, I saw the face of her companion and learned Dawn was enjoying a conversation with Jimmy. Why was he here? I had a program in my pocket so I pulled it out and scanned all the names. There he was: Second Understudy to the Lead. Jimmy knew the lines and was held in reserve but never needed. Lily probably had no idea. I caught Lily’s eye and pointed to the restroom and then excused myself from the group.

Jimmy took Dawn’s hand and led her out of the big room. Shit. This was going sideways fast. Randy waited a moment and then carefully followed them around a corner. Double shit. I did not need the people we’d brought as guests making a scene and fucking things up. I was going to catch up to Randy and then barge in on Dawn. I turned down the hallway and saw nothing but Travertine tiles and doorways. Where did they go?

I tested the first knob and then repeated that as I moved down the hall. Most doors were locked but a few opened, including one to another intersecting hallway. I calculated the odds they came this way or continued straight and entered the new hall. I faced a door on either side and one at the end. The side doors opened into dark and empty rooms so I carefully opened the door at the end and found myself in a dimly-lit and sheltered garden. I stood and listened and then crept towards low voices. I cleared a huge palm tree and spotted Randy on the brick trail ahead of me. He watched something intently off to his right so I retreated a bit and cut across. I wanted to see what he saw.

Goddamn it, Jimmy.

Dawn sat on a low wall in front of a giant fern and Jimmy stood in front of her. He wore a tux like me but the zipper was down and his ponderous cock was planted in Dawn's vacuuming mouth. I expected Randy to start throwing punches any second, but he didn't. Frozen in place, he watched his pretty wife suck dick.

His face was pure anguish; all those years of marriage wasted. All that heartache and struggle. His deeply furrowed brow and twisted mouth showed me the depth of his torment. Dawn sucked that long, fat cock eagerly, and Randy wanted to die. I resolved to offer our couch to crash, if he needed it.

Jimmy was almost fully erect when Dawn put a hand on each of his butt cheeks. She pulled him closer. She slathered the underside of his curving cock and playfully bit the side. Her cheeks dented as she sucked hard on the tip. She leaned back to look at what she'd created. Jimmy had one hand on his hip and stroked with the other.

"I must say," Dawn teased. "Lily did not do you justice. Goddam, what a gorgeous cock."

Wait. What?

I glanced quickly at Randy, hoping he'd missed that, but his confused expression told me he'd heard.

"Let me fuck you," Jimmy suggested, his Australian accent turning Dawn to jelly.

"No, no time. We need to get back. Hurry up and cum."

Dawn went back to sucking cock. Given the green light, Jimmy put his hands on her hair and began fucking her mouth. Randy watched in horror. Dawn worked that rod enthusiastically.

When Jimmy started to shoot, Dawn's cheeks pulled in hard. Jimmy staggered and had to lean on her to remain standing. She literally ripped the cum out of him. He kept his mouth closed and strangled grunts filled our little area. I risked another look at Randy and found him rubbing the front of his pants.

Holy Christ what a mess we had here.

Dawn sucked until Jimmy forced her off his dick. She wiped her lips with a thumb and smiled up at him. They mumbled a few words and then she told Jimmy to go all the way around to return to the party and then straightened her gown and headed for the exit. Randy ducked behind some foliage and Dawn did not notice. Jimmy stuffed his soft cock into his pants and left. Randy followed Dawn. I followed Jimmy.

Back in the main room I found Lily and gave her a look. She excused herself and when she reached me I told her all I had seen.

“Oh shit.”

“Yeah,” I said. “And what did you tell Dawn about Jimmy?”

“Not that we’ve fucked, if that’s what you’re worried about. I told her I saw him naked in the changing room and he’s huge.”

“Why did that come up?”

“Because Randy is small and Dawn is curious. She gets hit on all the time now. She and Randy watch porn together and those guys get her hot but she knows she can’t tell Randy that.”

“Great. Another one.”

“What’s that supposed to mean?”

“Another woman that likes big dicks. I thought you all say size doesn’t matter.”

She chewed a fingernail. “What do we do?”

“Nothing. Randy and Dawn should sort this out. Who are we friends with if they get divorced?”

“Dawn.”

I thought about half a second. “Yeah, Dawn. Okay, here they come. Act normal.”

Dawn was unaware she’d been found out. She said she’d wandered off to find a restroom and when she came out Randy was there. He said he’d gone looking for her. I saw behind his eyes he was ready to burst so to avoid an ugly scene I took him with me to grab fresh drinks for all. I needed to get him talking about this. I ordered drinks for each of us and then pulled him to the side while we waited.

“What did you see?” I asked.

“What do you mean?”

“I followed you when you followed Dawn. I know you saw something.”

His jaw clenched.

“You want to talk about it?”

“No.”

“You going to do something stupid?”

He glared at me. “No.”

I waited.

He looked around to make sure we had enough privacy and lowered his voice. "She sucked his cock."

"How do you feel about that?"

"What the fuck do you mean how do I feel?"

"Well, you didn't barge in and stop them, you didn't yell at her after, you didn't throw a punch at him, and you aren't storming out of here now. The way you're looking at me says you're angry but your behavior says you can't really be all that mad since we're standing here talking. Therefore, I'm confused."

He folded his arms across his chest. "What would you have done?"

His pain and internal conflict were obvious. I like Randy. He's a good guy. I thought perhaps if I commiserated with him a little I'd ease his suffering.

"All right, Randy, I'll be honest; Lily has done some racy scenes that were much more than a kiss. I admit I was upset. But at the end of the day she comes home to me and we're better than ever. My fears are unfounded. I've learned over the years that imagination is worse than reality."

I leaned in and continued.

"You asked what I'd do and my answer is this; talk to Dawn. Find out why she did it. Find out what it meant to her. Most of all I'd find my true feelings. I think you'll be surprised how you truly feel."

The bartender sat our drinks on the counter and Randy gulped his. I gave the barkeep a sign to refill and he grabbed the bottle, pouring Randy another. I decided to roll the dice.

"I saw you touching yourself...while you watched."

His eyes got big and he blushed furiously.

"No judgements, my friend," I said. "I get it. Lily looks sexy in those scenes. You've never seen Dawn like that and it caught you by surprise. She looked hot, right?"

He gulped this drink too and the barkeep gave up and sat the bottle on the counter. I peeled off a twenty and laid it on the bar. I poured Randy another.

"She looked like a pornstar, Luke. Better, because it was Dawn. Is she going to leave me for that guy?"

“No. I can almost guarantee not. He’s married. Women just love him and he can’t stop himself.”

He looked around the room. “I guess I can’t complain much. A few months ago, I let a woman blow me at work.”

I choked on my Scotch.

“This makes me and Dawn even.”

Wow. Did not see that coming. “Okay, yeah, that’s a good place to start.”

We collected our drinks and headed back to the women.

Chapter 12

Our women were not alone. Three men, including Jimmy, had joined our wives and engaged in spirited conversation. Randy seemed about to storm off when I put a hand on his arm.

“Hang on,” I murmured. “Let’s see what our girls do.”

I think he was more inclined because Lily was involved too. We stepped behind a potted plant to watch. Lily was as big a flirt as Dawn. Both women were mildly intoxicated and clearly horny and by the way Lily looked at Jimmy, I knew Dawn had shared her blowjob story.

“Why are we just watching?” Randy asked.

“Aren’t you curious what they’ll do?”

After a while the other two men left and Lily began glancing around the large hall looking for Randy and me. She never saw us. I doubted Jimmy would be ready to go again already but Dawn and Lily looked stunning, so, maybe.

At this point I should confess I wanted Randy to see Dawn fucked. I know that sounds awful. What kind of friend was I? But I suspected Randy had some buried kink like me and besides, I wanted to see Dawn fucked. I especially wanted to see Jimmy’s big cock drive her crazy. I suspected Lily wanted the same thing although I’m not exactly sure why. Vicarious excitement, I guess? But the idea got me hot. Bizarrely, I wanted to feed off Randy’s anguish, too. I felt bad about it but the idea was exciting. I already knew everything that would race through his mind. I knew the crushing anguish and blood-boiling torment he would suffer, and it turned me on.

Lily noticed us spying and she looked at the floor and smiled. I told Randy we'd been discovered so we casually left our hiding place and joined the girls. I gave Lily her drink and Randy gave Dawn hers. Lily introduced Randy to Jimmy and I must say, he handled it well. They shook hands and the conversation continued.

I noticed people starting to leave so I suggested all five of us head for our place to continue the evening.

Yes, I knew exactly what I was doing.

Lily gave me a raised eyebrow. Dawn spoke first, saying that sounded like a delightful idea and Randy didn't argue. Jimmy hesitated.

"Do you need to get home to your wife?" Lily asked.

"No," he said, his accent ringing. "She's out bar-hopping with her sister who's visiting from Wisconsin. I have no curfew." He smiled broadly, dazzling the girls. "I just don't want to intrude on your night."

"Not at all," Dawn chimed in. "We'd love to have you."

Randy winched. I laughed on the inside. Arrangements were made and everyone followed me and Lily. In the car, I asked what she had planned.

"Why do you think I have something planned?"

"I saw the way you were looking at Jimbo and I know you and Dawn had a nice girl-talk. No way will you let Jimmy slip through your fingers after so long."

"He's married now, Luke. That makes him off-limits."

"Jay is married."

She laughed and looked out the passenger window. "You're right, of course. I'm not sure how far I can take things in front of Dawn and Randy or if I want to let our secret out. Maybe we can send them home and keep Jimmy to ourselves?"

I drove in silence for several heartbeats. "Actually, I want Jimmy to fuck Dawn, right in front of Randy, if possible."

She looked shocked. "I thought he was your friend?"

"He is. I think he's got a touch of the kink too. I think he'll need to be shoved though. And don't act shocked because I know the same thought crossed your mind."

"It did. What if Randy doesn't think like you? What if we're wrong?"

“Then a good friend of mine will watch his wife get fucked and have his heart ripped out right in front of me, all to satiate my selfish lust.”

“You’re a horrible person.”

“Quite possibly.” I turned down our street.

“It sounds hot,” Lily said. “We’ve become so jaded.”

“I blame Sebastian.”

She laughed. I pulled into our garage and Randy took the driveway. Jimmy parked at the curb. I entered through the garage but Lily walked around to lead them all through the front door. Inside, the girls excused themselves to change out of their formal gowns. I grabbed Randy and Jimmy some extra swim trunks and T-shirts. As I left the room I stopped and hid. I wanted to watch Randy and Jimmy interact with no one else around.

“How long have you and Dawn been married?” Jimmy asked.

“Fifteen years.” Randy helped himself to the bar. “You want anything?”

“Beer? She seems like a great girl.”

“She is.”

“No kids?”

“Not yet. We’re trying. Have been about six months.”

That was something I did not know about our friends. I left to grab comfortable clothes. When I returned, they chatted about the new hockey team in town. I handed out clothing and aimed them at the guest bathroom.

We three men were comfortably scattered around the living room when Lily and Dawn returned. Lily wore a full length white nightgown, see-through with a bright light behind it. I expected to see Dawn in frumpy shorts and T-shirt but she wore one of Lily’s knee-length nightgowns, pale blue, and judging by the independent motion of tits and ass, nothing underneath. She tried to act nonchalant but her nervousness was obvious.

Dawn sat next to Randy but I had strategically placed Jimmy across from her. Lily caught what I’d done. She sat close to me and snuggled up under my arm. The group conversation roamed all around, from Randy’s work at the dealership to my detailed spreadsheets, to the fascinating world of acting. Dawn wanted to hear every story Jimmy and Lily had about theater life.

Almost two hours, and many drinks, had gone by when I suggested Dawn should perhaps give acting a try.

“You love so many things about it. I bet you’d be pretty good.”

Lily jumped right in. “That’s a great idea. Jimmy, do a scene with her. Is that okay, Randy?”

Put on the spot like that, Randy quickly agreed. Lily ran to the office and returned with two scripts. She handed one to each. “Just read from the book. It doesn’t matter. Just have fun with it.” She lifted her martini in toast. “To Dawn the actress,” she said.

We all toasted.

“You sure this is all right?” Jimmy asked Randy.

“Of course. We’re just friends having fun.”

I saw the tension in his neck and shoulders, the squint to his eyes. He was nervous and flustered.

Dawn and Jimmy stood by the fireplace. Jimmy glanced at his lines and set the manuscript down. Dawn rolled her eyes.

“Oh. Great,” she said. “One look at the manuscript and he’s ready to go? I can’t do this. I’ll look stupid.”

“Shut up, ding-dong,” Lily teased. “Just do it.”

Dawn studied her lines for a minute.

“We’re waiting,” Lily goaded.

Dawn shushed her. She mouthed her lines a few more times and then lowered the script. She gazed up into Jimmy’s blue eyes and spoke: “Even such a passion doth embrace my bosom: my heart beats thicker than a feverous pulse. And all my powers do their bestowing lose, like vassalage at unawares encountering the eye of majesty.”

Jimmy pulled her close, his hands on her shoulders, his face inches from hers. He spoke his lines but nobody heard them. We all watched as his mouth moved ever closer. His lips puckered. They kissed and Dawn’s body tensed and then melted. The kiss continued. Dawn moaned.

My gaze flashed to Randy. His worried and furrowed brow spoke volumes. Jimmy and Dawn separated but that gave Randy no comfort. For a moment, I thought of calling the whole thing off but then I realized he’d not said one word in protest. Was it my job to police him and his feelings? No.

Dawn and Jimmy continued reading and moving through the scene. Lily had chosen the play well. Several paragraphs later the lovers found themselves under a large elm, sheltered from the rain. The scene called for Jimmy to untie Dawn’s bodice so he plucked the bow of her nightie. The two corners fell open, revealing generous cleavage and smooth tummy. The tension in our living room was thick. The scene ended. Dawn seemed to remember Randy was there and moved back to sit beside him. She left her top untied. Lily and I applauded their efforts.

“Dawn, you’re so good,” Lily said.

“Oh, hush, girl. Stop teasing. I’ve never done anything like this and you know it.”

“Truly?” Jimmy asked. “You are quite natural, Dawn. You have talent.”

Dawn blushed. “Thank you.”

We all launched into a lengthy debate about who was the greatest actor of all time and that morphed into our favorite movies. Lily kept the drinks flowing and I realized she followed a secret agenda. Soon we were all pretty looped. All except Jimmy. My ears perked up when I heard Lily steer the conversation to plays she and Jimmy had done together. Minutes later, the bombshell landed. Lily, Dawn, and Jimmy had been discussing risqué scenes and Lily asked Dawn if she’d do another somewhat racy scene with Jimmy.

“I’ve done the scene a million times,” she exaggerated. “But I’ve never seen it from the audience perspective. Would you, Dawn? Would that be all right, Randy?”

Randy was more than tipsy. “No problem.”

Dawn and Lily exchanged a look and then it hit me. The women had planned this moment! Now I knew what they’d discussed back at the library.

“Well, since Randy says it’s okay, sure,” Dawn said.

“Okay. It’s a bedroom scene so let’s move everyone in there.”

We all collected our drinks and moved to the master bedroom. On the drive home I’d confessed to Lily I wanted to see Dawn fucked, not knowing she’d already made plans with Dawn. Women are so sneaky!

Lily got Randy and I comfortable in a couple of reading chairs and then took Jimmy and Dawn into the bathroom for instructions. After a while she emerged and turned off the bedroom lights. I heard sheets rustle. Lily went around the bedroom lighting candles. Once she had the lighting right she joined Randy and me. Jimmy and Dawn lay in bed.

Lily gave a brief narrative breakdown of what scene this was and which characters they played, but I recognized the setting; this was the old apartment scene from long ago. I knew Jimmy and Dawn were naked under those sheets. Randy's gaze was glue to his wife. Lily talked a little more and asked if the actors were ready. I knew what was coming. Randy only suspected.

Jimmy and Dawn exchanged lines of dialog and moved through the scene smoothly. She truly was talented. When the moment arrived, Jimmy rolled over between Dawn's legs and moved up to kiss her. My eyes went to Randy.

He looked tortured. Tortured and tormented and unable to tear his gaze away. His imagination ate him alive. What was going on under that sheet? Was his loving wife naked? Was Jimmy? Alcohol confused his brain but his penis was wide awake. Lily noted the tent in his shorts and drew my attention to it. We shared a grim smile.

Jimmy kissed Dawn's throat. The blanket over his ass lifted. When it fell again, Dawn gasped and then moaned.

If Randy was going to lose his mind, this was the moment he'd do it.

He didn't. Not at all. His eyes got big, like understanding was trying to shove denial out of the way, but all he did was lean forward and put his elbows on his knees. He wanted to see better! Lily and I looked at each other. We had him.

Jimmy started to pump his hips. Dawn moaned in pure bliss and Lily left my side to stand and untie her nightie. Randy's eyes went to Lily and grew huge. Here was Lily as he'd always wanted to see her; radiantly beautiful and nude. His gaze crawled over her flesh, moving south from her face to her big sexy tits and then dropping to her perfectly shaved cunt. Randy devoured my wife, disbelief twisting his face. I saw the depth of desire, the years of want. How many times had my best friend jacked off fantasizing about my woman? Now here she was, naked and wet.

Lily met his ravenous stare. She stood tall, allowing Randy to gawk at every inch of her. She stepped to the bed and slowly and deliberately drew down the sheets, watching Randy's face, exposing Dawn and Jimmy an inch at a time. Clever girl had placed more candles on the right side of the bed so as the sheet cleared their legs, Jimmy's massive cock moving in and out of Dawn was plain. Randy's jaw dropped. He saw his wife fucked right before his eyes. Jimmy's gleaming spear impaled Dawn's sweet pussy and blasted Randy's brain.

Lily crawled onto the bed. She moved up and kissed Dawn on the mouth and the woman's eyes jerked open. Jimmy's already nibbled her throat so who was this? When she saw Lily, she groaned. I heard years' worth of smothered desire in the sound. Like Randy, Dawn had wanted Lily a long time too. I'd never suspected.

My wife held Dawn's face and kissed her deeply. Jimmy leaned in and Lily switched her kiss to him, and then moved his mouth to Dawn's. While Jimmy and Dawn kissed, Lily moved down to suck a nipple. Dawn groaned. Randy looked at me in utter disbelief. I motioned at his erection.

"Take it out, my friend," I said. "No judgments in this house."

To prove my point, I pushed my shorts down. Randy hesitated a moment and then followed me. His penis was smaller than average too. He waited so I took my dick in hand and started stroking, watching the action on our bed. He did the same.

Jimmy reached under Dawn's legs and lifted. He bent her knees over her body and we saw how his thick cock stuffed Dawn's pussy. She had closely trimmed blonde pubic hair and that sent a jolt of electricity through me. I felt witness to something private and personal. I imagined her in her bathroom, preparing for an evening out. No way did she know we'd end up here. She'd trimmed her bush closely and probably dabbed perfume too. Had she hoped for sex with Randy when she got home? I was looking at Dawn's pussy filled with Jimmy's cock.

"Fuck, that's hot," I moaned.

"You really think so?" Randy asked. "You don't think she's a whore, do you?"

"No, not at all. I fucking love it, brother. Look at Jimmy's big cock stretching her."

We watched as Jimmy dug deep. Dawn made intense sounds of pleasure; moaning and groaning with each thrust. Lily kissed down her body and fastened her mouth to Dawn's clit, softly licking in time with Jimmy fucking. Dawn couldn't stand it and moments later came screaming.

"Put her on all fours," Lily instructed.

Dawn was in a trance and did what she was told. He moved behind her and Randy gasped. Jimmy's cock was a threatening weapon aimed at Dawn's hole. Jimmy took Dawn's hips in his hand and slowly sank his thick, hard inches until only his balls remained outside. He lifted his leg to show us.

Lily spun around and slipped under Dawn in a sixty-nine, returning her tongue to Dawn's pussy. I have no idea if Dawn had ever eaten pussy but she did not hesitate. She lowered her mouth to my wife's cunt like she was offered ice cream. What a glorious sight.

Jimmy had been fucking Dawn for several minutes, our bedroom full of wonderful moans and groans and gasps, when I remembered Randy's earlier comment about trying to have a baby. I knew I should say something, but I didn't. The agony on Randy's face was too sweet. Wait until Jimmy began pumping buckets of hot cum into Dawn. Randy would want to die. My penis throbbed in anticipation.

Leo always held back for one massive climax and then was finished for the night. Jimmy needed only a little rest before ready again. I knew he'd spend the night filling both our wives and I looked forward to it. I tried to see Jimmy through Randy's eyes; that tube of meat, so big around and hard, those goose-egg balls, brimming with potent sperm.

I remembered the first time I suspected Jimmy was fucking Lily, on stage, in front of so many witnesses. I remembered the erotic thrill I'd felt then. My wife and Jimmy had been hidden by sheets. How much more powerful was this scene for Randy? The curtain pulled aside and everything laid bare. I was eased into my kink. The introduction to his fetish was taking place in stark reality only a few feet in front of his face.

Randy's gaze roamed everywhere. He watched Jimmy plunge in and out then shifted to naked Lily licking Dawn's pussy. He devoured both women's bodies and even watched me jack off. His small penis was deep red. Veins strained beneath the skin.

Lily pulled Jimmy out for a moment, just long enough to suck the head quickly before inserting him into Dawn again, but that proved too much for our dear friend. He let go his penis but too late; semen spurted out of his crimson mushroom and ran down the shaft. He moaned in frustration but remained hard and throbbing. I worried that after cumming he'd lose interest or change his mind, but that did not happen. If anything, he seemed more focused, like his frustrating climax left him hungry for more. He seemed to chase satisfaction.

"His cock looks good in you, Dawn," he rasped. "You look so hot, Honey. It's like watching porn, Baby. You're my pornstar. Dawn, Baby, you look so sexy."

Dawn ate it up. His words removed any last burden of guilt. She pulled Lily's pussy close and mashed her face into it. Her ass pushed back to meet Jimmy. He spread her butt cheeks and slipped a thumb into her crack. A sudden groan told me and Randy he'd penetrated her rectum. She was moaning and whimpering into Lily's pussy when she suddenly gasped loudly and went rigid. A low howl started deep in her throat and built into a scream. A moment later she was thrashing on the end of Jimmy's cock. I studied Randy's face as his wife came on another man. Her cries cut him like knives and made his dick so hard it was almost purple. He struggled to breathe. I drove the knife deeper.

"Just wait until he cums in her, Randy. You've never been so turned on."

He turned his bleary eyes to me. "Has he cum in Lily?"

Too late for secrecy now, I thought. "Yes, and it shatters your mind. You'll never look at Dawn the same after that."

We watched them fuck for a moment.

"I want him to cum in you, Dawn," Randy said.

Dawn moaned loudly. Jimmy grinned and gripped her ass, hammering her harder. Minutes later, Dawn came again. After that Jimmy slowed way down. Lily crawled out from under and came to sit naked on my lap. Randy's eyes darted from his wife to mine.

"Needed a break?" I whispered.

She cupped her hand to my ear so Randy couldn't hear. "No, I want to watch his face when Jimmy cums."

My wife is as heartless as me.

Jimmy turned Dawn over and moved between her legs. Face to face was so much more intimate than from behind and Randy's eyebrows twisted with suffering. Dawn and Jimmy kissed passionately. Lily and I knew his signs so when Jimmy began the climb, we were ready.

Lily circled my neck with her arms and we held our breath and then Jimmy turned into a volcano. Randy was hunched over, eyes wide and glued to Dawn's pussy, his face contorted as if he wanted to scream and laugh simultaneously. Jimmy roared like a lion and turned loose a flood of sperm, shooting repeatedly until semen dripped from around her stuffed opening.

"Oh my God that's hot," Lily breathed. "I've always been on the receiving end. I've never seen Jimmy cum. It's beautiful."

Dawn drove her heels into Jimmy's ass to pull him as deep as possible. Randy looked ready to die. Jimmy left his cock inside her until he started to soften and then pulled it out with a sucking sound. Her cunt gaped, stretched and flooded.

Randy shocked us all when he dove mouth-first onto her pussy.

Lily asked if she should finish me off but I told her no, I wanted to save it until the very end. She smiled coyly and joined Dawn and Jimmy on the bed. The girls headed south and gave Jimmy a tongue bath to clean his soft cock. Dawn wrapped her legs around Randy's head as he licked her.

Jimmy was too sensitive so he pushed them away, begging for mercy.

All at once the girls were talking nonstop to each other. Dawn shared every thought and emotion that passed through her head and Lily did the same. I left the room for the bar and brought back several bottles. We all took a few sips except for Randy. He kept eating Dawn and ignoring us.

Eventually he had enough of her pussy and did join the conversation, but remained mostly quiet and thoughtful. I saw the gears in his head spinning but I let him work through everything on his own. Dawn had a ton of questions for Lily and me and we answered most honestly except where it involved someone not in the room. Lily confessed she'd fucked Jimmy a few times and hinted there may have been others. Dawn looked at me with admiration, like I was a sweetheart for allowing my wife to indulge in trysts with her handsome leading men. I guess I was.

Like always, Jimmy was soon hard again. The girls kissed down his body until they double-teamed his dick. This was going to be a long night.

I put my arm around Randy and led him from the room. He resisted, at first, wanting to watch the action again.

"Let's give them some privacy," I said.

He remained reluctant but I insisted. I wanted him to experience the exquisite pleasure of a tortured imagination. I left the door open wide enough we could hear everything. In the kitchen, I brewed some coffee.

"How are you feeling?" I asked.

He scoffed. "Hell if I know. Confused. Mostly turned on. You say you and Lily have done this before?"

"A few times."

We heard Dawn groan in the bedroom. Randy listened intently.

"How much regret will I feel tomorrow?"

I chuckled. “Impossible to predict. You will feel some but no matter what level you start at, it diminishes quickly. After a few days, I was eager for Lily to do it again.”

“Jimmy’s got a big cock. That shit’s intimidating.”

I nodded. “Agonizing. Almost killed me the way Lily loved it.”

Dawn moaned and we both stared at the bedroom door.

“Fucking hell,” Randy muttered. “What’s he doing to her?”

I said nothing. I wanted his mind to be his worst enemy. The anguish and jealousy I feel each time I watch Lily is a strong brew of angst and voyeuristic lust. I love watching her get fucked but at the same time I am deeply disturbed. The raw emotions are an addictive rush. I’ve never cum so hard in my life, but there is a price to pay. Randy was just discovering this.

The coffee finished and I handed Randy a cup. We moved closer to the bedroom door. Dawn groaned: “I want this cock in me every day. Can I see you again?”

Jimmy chuckled and said yes.

Randy winched and I took a sip of his pain. We listened at the door for long minutes. Jimmy and his big cock ruled our wives, like a taskmaster cracking his whip. They eagerly performed every chore he gave them and he rewarded their efforts with boneshaking orgasms. Standing there, naked eavesdroppers holding their cups of coffee, we both rose to stiff hardness again.

“I can’t do it,” Randy whispered at last. “It’s too much. It’s like a knife in my guts. Dawn’s a different woman with him. She’s crazy for sex. I’ll never be able to make love to her again without thinking how Jimmy did it better.”

I took our empty cups and set them on the counter. “You can’t go back, Randy. It’s done. All you can do is move forward. You and Dawn will find a path. Your fears will fade. You’ll grow to love it.”

At that moment, he did not believe me.

Chapter 13

Lily gave Jimmy to Dawn. I asked her why and she said she and Jimmy had run their course but Dawn and Jimmy were just getting started. Honestly, I was relived and Randy did learn to love it, as I knew he would.

For months Lily and I enjoyed our small quiet lives and our satisfying work. Lily's reputation was big enough now offers came to her weekly, including some large productions which surprised us both. I wondered if Jay had sent them her way.

With the new year Sebastian returned to our town and cast Lily as the lead in his play about an interracial relationship during the American civil war. As always, Sebastian chose his male lead wisely. I had the wind knocked out of me during a nude scene when a strong black cock waved in my wife's pretty face. The man was a monster; a square-jawed pillar of onyx muscles. The longing in her eyes was real and I worry it's only a matter of time.

With each new success, Lily and I push back our efforts to have children. Long ago we agreed this phase of our life would someday come to an end and we'd settle down and several times we thought that day had arrived, only to discover we weren't finished after all. The success of our careers postpones our family and inadvertently keeps us in the wife-sharing game. Addicting on both fronts.

Lily has never been with a black man and I find the possibility daunting. I was raised with the idea the races should remain separate and although I reject my parent's guidance completely, I'm left with a powerful taboo deeply buried. My heart races each time they touch on stage. My palms sweat each time she leaves the house for rehearsal. I sense I am directly in the path of inevitability and I wrestle with my emotions.

Lily's attraction to him is obvious and while that makes for great on-stage chemistry and fantastic reviews, I am left intimidated and concerned. I wonder if I asked her to remove him from any possible consideration if she could. I wonder if she'd handle him like she handled Leo and tell me nothing. I wonder if she's already doing that.

End.
