

When
The Right
One
Comes

Sean Geist

When The Right One Comes

Copyright (2022) Sean Geist
Cover Image © (iofoto) / DepositPhotos

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced in any form without written consent of the author, except for brief quotes used in reviews.

All Characters in this book are fictitious and any resemblance to any actual persons is entirely coincidental.

All characters in this story are over the age of 18 unless specified.

Table of Contents

When the Right One Comes Along

When the Right One Cums

Reunited Feels So Good

Excerpt from Cuckold's Gift

For More Sean Geist

More by Sean Geist

When the Right One Comes Along

“Hey, Miss, is this seat taken?” I asked my wife. We were playing a little game, one we loved to play when out of town. My wife would go down to the bar ahead of me, then I’d follow a few minutes later and act like I was a stranger. We’d chat, then I’d ask if she’d like a nightcap up in my room. Most of the times our role-playing would break down in the elevator and we’d end up having really good sex. On the rare occasions we were able to stay in character, we had the best fucking sex. She’d be the lonely wife, I’d be the stud come to seduce her. It was all a fun sexy game.

Until it wasn’t.

“No,” my wife said. She took a sip of her wine, but didn’t invite me to sit. So, she’d be playing hard to get tonight. And with the way she looked, she’d be worth the trouble. She was wearing a tight, green strapless dress that hung halfway down her calves, but with a long slit that ran up almost to her hips. Its V-neck front displayed her bountiful breasts. She wore modest heels. Her red hair was pulled back in a ponytail, and her makeup was simple, yet enticing.

As I ordered my drink, a Johnny Walker Black, I marveled at how lucky I was to ever get her to marry me. I was average looking, some girl’s called me cute in high school. I made regular trips to the gym, but I wasn’t what you’d call a hunk. I did have a pretty decent-sized cock, around seven inches when fully erect, the one time I measured it, but few women ever got the chance to see it. I’d only slept with three other women before I met my wife. I guess it was my personality.

“So, you come here often?” I asked. The bartender laughed, my wife gave me an odd look.

“That line is older than dirt,” she said, and went back to checking her emails on her phone. She was giving me the brush off.

I always like to start my seduction with a different opening line, but for the life of me I had nothing at the ready. So, I cheated.

“Hey, bartender,” I said, waving the tall white guy over. “Can you put the Sports Channel on, I think Liverpool and Chelsea are playing.” It didn’t matter whether the guy would change the channel or not, Stephanie loved watching soccer, especially Premier League, and she loved talking about it even more.

My wife gave a sly grin, but decided my opening was good enough.

“So, who you rooting for,” she said, “Chelsea or Liverpool?”

“Well, I’m an Arsenal fan, so I gotta root for Chelsea in this match. Name’s Rex, by the way.” My real name was Charlie, but we liked to use fake names during our game.

“Audrey,” Stephanie said with a grin. “Pleased to meet you.” She extended her hand. I wanted to kiss it, but it was a little too early in the evening for that, so we shook.

The bartender did get the game on, so we watched for a bit and chatted about the match, the standings, and who we thought would end up relegated at the end of the season. We acted as strangers, but the conversation was real.

I finished my first drink, and Stephanie was just about ready to finish hers when nature called and I excused myself to use the men’s room. I was only gone for a few minutes but when I got back there was another man sitting on the other side of my wife, chatting with her. He was tall, with pale skin and short brown hair. He wore a pair of black slacks, with a light blue polo shirt and a black leather jacket.

My first reaction when I saw the two was annoyance. This guy was barging in on our game, but then I noticed myself becoming aroused as I watched a real stranger chat up my wife. It was an odd sensation, part jealousy, part lust. I was watching the game instead of playing. I held back for a moment and saw Stephanie laugh at one of his jokes. It felt like a stab to the heart and I made a move to reclaim my wife’s attention. She had other plans.

I was just about ready to tap her shoulder and ask if she wanted to head to our room, thus ending the game, when she turned to face me. “Oh, Rex, I was wondering where you’d gone off to,” she said.

I didn’t really feel like playing anymore, but obviously my wife did. Now, if we were a smart couple, we would have set up a magic word or phrase we could use to end the game, one that wouldn’t let others know what we were up to, but would tell our partner we didn’t want to act like strangers anymore. We didn’t have one of those. So I had the choice of blowing my wife’s cover, or continuing the game. I chose the chivalrous path.

“Just using the restroom, Audrey.” I sat down next to my wife who was now sitting with her back to the bar. Her drink was empty so I asked if I could buy her another.

“That’s okay,” she said. “Ian here just order us a round.”

I assumed that meant I was included, but when the bartender just dropped off a wine for my wife and a beer for him, I learned I was not.

“You need another drink?” the bartender asked with an amused grin.

“Yeah, the same.”

Stephanie, or Audrey I should say, introduced me to her new friend. Ian was a Scotsman on holiday in the States. He stood up to shake my hand. He was about six foot two, a little taller than I am. His accent was thick but clear, and pleasant enough to charm the panties off of any American gal, my wife included. And wouldn't you know it, his brother worked for Manchester United.

Lucky me, I thought. So the three of us spent the next half hour or so chatting about the Premiere League, occasionally cheering or jeering at the television. I should say my wife and Ian chatted, I was mostly left out, so I sipped my drink, occasionally nodding my head or adding my two cents when I could get a word in edgewise.

“I see you're married,” Ian said to my wife, pointing at the gold ring on her finger. “Is he around somewhere?”

This was the point when Stephanie could call the game over. Everyone could have a good laugh and my wife and I would go back to the room and fuck like crazy, cause I was hard as steel and wanted nothing more than to make love to her.

“No, he's at home,” my wife lied. “I just wrapped up a business trip, and I'm flying back to Phoenix, tomorrow.”

“You ever see a game, live?” Ian asked.

“No,” I said, almost adding, “we haven't.”

“Neither, have I,” my wife said.

Ian, who obviously only cared about my wife's answer, pulled a card from his pocket and handed it to her. “If you're ever in Great Britain, give me a ring. Maybe I can get you into a match.”

“Sounds fantastic,” Stephanie said.

“I'd love to see a real football game in person.” Ian gave me a funny look, and to my surprise so did my wife. She was still playing the game, he was wondering why I thought he was talking to me. I'm sure my face turned beet red.

The bartender sat another drink in front of me. “On the house,” he whispered, having pity on this poor schmuck striking out with the hot red-head.

I excused myself to use the restroom again, but I need not have bothered since neither of the pair were paying any attention to me.

I stood at the sink and splashed my face with cold water. What the fuck was going on? My wife was playing our game with another man. And again, thinking about it made me more aroused than angry. I should be furious that this guy was seducing my wife right in front of me, but I wasn't. In fact, I kind of wanted her to go off with him, to see what it felt like to have a cheating wife, to feel that sense of betrayal and the danger of losing her to another man. God, I felt like such a freak.

When I went back to the bar, Ian was just getting up. I was glad that he seemed to be leaving, but also a little disappointed that our new game was coming to an end. At least I'd get to release this sexual tension that had been building inside me.

"Well Audrey, he was a nice chap," I said. I decided to stay in character to see if I could salvage a bit from our busted evening. I was sure we could use the close call with a real stranger to spice things up in bed.

Again, Stephanie was playing on a different level. "Charlie, don't get mad, but I think I want to make this game we've been playing a reality."

It was like she swung a hammer and landed it square in my chest. My heart skipped a beat, but my cock remained hard as steel.

"Okay," I said, hesitantly. "Let's talk about it, and maybe next time — "

"No, I mean tonight. Ian just went out to make a call. I think he's going to invite me to his room." She paused for a moment, then added, "and I want to accept."

I think she was afraid I would get mad and stop her. If she only knew the storm of emotions raging within me. I both wanted her to go and stay with me at the same time. It made no sense.

I didn't know what to say. A prouder man would have stopped her, asked her to apologize for flirting in front of her husband, and demanded a blowjob in exchange for his forgiveness. I was not that kind of man. Although I was a little angry and hurt, I was more concerned about her safety.

"Are you sure it's safe?" I asked.

Stephanie's eyes lit up, which sent another stab to my heart. She knew I was giving my approval, tentative though it was.

"Oh, Ian's a great guy, I'm sure. And I'll have my phone with me, I'll text you the room number and you can wait outside the door if you want."

She was rattling off words like a schoolgirl whose crush asked her to the prom. She was so excited and Stephanie was so sexy when she was excited. I just wished I could get her excited like that.

“You have my permission, Steph. Follow your bliss.”

My wife blew me a kiss.

I decided to leave before Ian got back. I didn’t want things to get too awkward, so I paid my bill, which included the drink ‘Audrey’ had before Ian showed up. That felt a little humiliating, but stirred my cock. I took what remained of my drink and left the bar. I still wanted to watch, so I found a dark corner to hide in. The bartender saw what I was doing, but seemed willing to play along since I’d left him a hefty tip.

A few minutes later, Ian came back. He looked around and smiled, pleased I wasn’t around anymore. He spoke to my wife and she nodded her head in agreement. While he settled his bill, Stephanie — I was done using her ‘game’ name — Stephanie fiddled with her phone.

A few seconds later, my phone buzzed.

<Room 1834>

It was 3 floors above ours. I wasn’t going to be hanging out in the hall, but it was good to know where she was, in case Ian was some kind of serial killer.

I wanted to tell her how I felt, let her know the storm of emotion roiling through me — the jealousy, pain, betrayal, arousal, lust, desire. How I wanted her to turn him down, but fuck him at the same time. My state of mind was a paradox. It would take a master’s thesis to get it across, so instead I just texted

<Have fun>

She replied with the winking emoji.

The bill was squared away and my wife tucked her phone into her purse. The couple got up and headed out of the bar, Ian with his hand on the small of Stephanie’s back, like he owned her.

I watched them leave, with a heavy heart.

I waited a few minutes, to make sure they were truly gone, and returned to the bar.

“You’re not following?”

I looked up at the bartender.

“She’s your wife, isn’t she?”

“How’d you know?”

“Five years behind this bar. I’ve seen some things.”

“We’ve never done this before.”

“It shows.” The bartender set another drink down in front of me. “From what I’ve seen it’ll be the first of many — or your last.”

We chatted awhile. The bartender trying to lift my spirits, telling me about a few regular couples who play at his bar. I told him we’d been role-playing for about a year, but this was the first time someone else has stepped in.

“Ian knows what he’s doing.”

“You know him?” I asked.

“He’s one of the regulars. He always stays here when he’s in town. Never fails to leave with some hot chick on his arm.”

“You think he knows.”

“He probably expects. I’m sure once he’s had his cock in your wife, she’ll tell him.”

My heart raced, reminded of what my wife and Ian would be up to. As if on cue, my phone buzzed. It was a picture, from an unknown number.

“It didn’t take him that long?” I told the bartender as I looked at the picture.

It was my wife, on her knees, looking up at the camera, a rather large dick in her mouth.

A text came while I was staring at Ian fucking Stephanie’s face.

<Your wife’s mouth feels so nice. Come on up if you want to see more.>

A bit of humiliation and an invitation to watch. What more could a new cuckold ask for, I thought. I knew the terms, but never in my wildest imagination would I have believed I’d see my wife fucking a stranger if you told me just an hour earlier.

“Can I get you anything else?”

Here I was, facing the biggest decision of my life, since asking Stephanie to marry me. Should I go watch her get fucked by Ian or stay and stew in my anguish and lust? It took me only a moment to decide.

“Nah, I’m heading back to my room,” It was my wife’s first time with a new cock since we’d met — I wasn’t going to miss it for anything.

“You okay?” the bartender asked. “I mean, really — are you okay?”

“I’m more than okay,” I said, slapping a couple of twenties down on the bar. “And I’m going to see what kind of trouble my wife has gotten us into.”

I didn't feel embarrassed or worried. My body was buzzing with excitement as I decided to embrace my kink. My cock was hard just imagining what Ian was doing to Stephanie. Now I wanted to know how it would feel to actually watch them.

I raced to the elevator.

When The Right One Cums

It took fucking forever for the elevator to arrive. Pressing the up button repeatedly didn't help. When the doors finally opened, I was relieved to see I would be alone in the car. I selected floor 18 and the doors slowly slid closed.

I found it hard to believe my wife was sucking another man's cock at the moment, and I was not only fine with it, I was aroused and going to watch her go all the way with him. If you had told me the day we started playing this game, that I would eventually let my wife fuck another man I'd have told you to get your head checked.

It was just over a year ago, and it started innocently enough. We were on vacation. I was in the shower and my wife was ready to go. I told her to get us a table.

When I went down to the hotel lounge, the place was packed. I saw her sitting at the bar, an empty seat next to her.

"This seat open?" I asked, playing the stranger. I didn't mean it to be a thing, but she played along and we spent the next hour getting reacquainted as a couple. The sex we had that night was awesome.

I was pulled from my reminiscing by the ding of the bell and the elevator doors sliding open. I hesitantly exited and turned left down the hall. I was agonizing over what I was about to witness. Imagining your wife in the arms of another man couldn't compare to actually seeing them together.

I stood at the door, 1834. I checked my phone to make sure I had the right one. I did, so I knocked. I tried to picture what my wife and her lover were doing, but I couldn't. Whatever vision I was trying to conjure up, it failed to compare to what I saw when the door opened.

It was my wife, her red hair disheveled, the top of her dress was pushed down exposing her bare breasts. Her nipples were sticking out, slick with saliva. All this was arousing enough, but what really blew me away was seeing her face. My wife's beautiful face was dripping with white pearly fluid.

I was frozen. I didn't know what to do. Ian had come on my wife and then sent her to get the door.

"Hey, hubby," Stephanie said. Her smile shone through the streaks of cum. She snaked out her tongue and collected a bit that was sliding down her cheek. "Took you long enough to get here."

Most other men would either go running in shame or storm into the room in anger. I found myself filled with desire. My wife had never looked sexier than she did now, painted by another man's semen. Without thinking, I grabbed Stephanie's face and pulled it to mine. I kissed her lips, forcing my tongue into her mouth. She tasted of beer and salty. We swapped saliva and Ian's cum and it was delicious.

Our reunion didn't last long. I was startled when Stephanie was pulled away. Ian was holding onto her shoulders possessively. "Uhm, this is sweet, but we're in the middle of something here."

I got a good look at Ian. He was a well-built man, thin but with plenty of muscle. He looked like a runner or maybe even a soccer —er, football— player. I hadn't noticed before, but his black hair had a tinge of grey, but instead of making him look old, it gave him a sense of gravitas.

And his cock, got damn did he have a big cock. It must have been seven or eight inches and not fully erect. It was pale and veiny with a bulbous crown.

"It's beautiful, isn't it," my wife said. She was standing by the bed, slowly unzipping her dress. She let it fall into a puddle of green cloth on the floor. I was kind of embarrassed she'd caught me staring at another man's penis.

I didn't answer her.

"You can have a seat over there," Ian said, pointing to a chair on the far side of the room. There were a couple of small liquor bottles on a table next to it. "Have a drink if you need it. What you can't do, is touch your wife, she's mine for the rest of the night, understand?"

I guess he really was used to this sort of thing. Since this whole situation was new to me, I did what I was told. I opened one of the bottles—a Jack Daniels—and took a swig. Ian was kissing my wife, not worried about the cum that was drying on her face.

I unzipped my pants, intending to relieve the pressure on my own modest erection.

"And no touching yourself," Ian added. He was looking at me, but still letting his hands roam over my wife's body. "We can't have you cumming and losing that sexual tension. I've seen men decide that once they came, they weren't too keen on what I was doing to their wife. Don't want that, do we?"

Ian had taken total control of me and my wife. And it was obvious, we were both enjoying it.

“Trust me, you’ll be glad you listened to me later tonight in your room when you’re reclaiming Steph.” Ian kissed my wife again and lust swept through me. No matter what Ian said, I had to adjust myself. I watched with growing arousal as Ian bent over and sucked on her breast. He grabbed her ass with both hands and lifted her up. My wife grabbed his hair and threw her head back, moaning in pleasure. I would never be able to carry her around like this, like she weighed nothing at all.

“Oh, Ian.” She sighed, thrashing her head about, sending her hair into an explosion of red. I could see he was sucking her flesh just below her left nipple. With a pop he let go, leaving a distinct red mark that would surely last a few days.

“Something to remember me by.” Ian threw my wife down on the bed.

She quickly bounced back up with a laugh. She reached out for his erection. “I won’t soon forget this monster.”

“Or how it makes you feel.”

Ian embraced Stephanie and then fell back on the mattress bringing her with him. They rolled and tumbled about, playing like teenage lovers experiencing their first tryst.

For the first time, I felt a stab of real pain. This wasn’t playing a game. This could easily get serious, feelings could develop. And then what?

I was snapped out of my angst by a loud thwack.

“Ouch,” my wife shouted, playfully. Ian had flipped her over and swatted her plump ass cheek. A red hand-shaped mark was slowly developing on her pale skin.

“Should I stop?” Ian asked, his hand raised to strike the other cheek.

Stephanie smiled coyly. “You wouldn’t.”

Thwack! He did.

“Ouch,” she moaned. I could tell my wife was getting turned on by this man’s powerful spanking. He gave her four more good whacks and by now her moans of pleasure became more pronounced as her flesh became beet red.

Ian stopped striking and instead started running two fingers of his left hand down the crack of her ass, teasing her rosebud while moving further past. My wife yelped when he reached her pussy. I could tell he’d penetrated her moist folds.

“You’re so god damn wet,” Ian said. “Like a bitch in heat.”

“You think you’re hard enough to fuck me?” Stephanie teased. “You did just spray a load of cum on my face.”

“Oh, Steph, I’m ready.”

We could all tell he was. I looked at the club that protruded from Ian’s groin. It was long—at least ten inches. And looked as thick as my wife’s wrist. There was no way he’d fit that thing inside her, but I really wanted to see him try.

“Well then.” My wife turned over and spread her legs wide. “Let’s do this.”

It felt like a punch to the gut, my wife asking, almost begging, another man to fuck her. A man with a much bigger cock. He was going to ruin her. She’d never be satisfied with my cock again, I was sure.

Her pussy drooled with copious amounts of lubrication. She was languidly playing her fingers through her folds, spreading her juices around. I couldn’t help but pull my cock out and start stroking.

“Should I use a condom?” Ian asked.

It was really going to happen.

“Not if you don’t want to, it should be fine.”

Should be? What the fuck did that mean. I knew she wasn’t on the pill. We weren’t really trying to start a family, but we weren’t avoiding it either. Should be fine?

“I’d rather feel you cum inside me,” my wife said, her sultry voice slicing my emotions to the bone. “I love when a cock pulses in my pussy, releasing its warmth into my womb. It makes me feel like a real woman.”

I didn’t know where this filthy talk was coming from, but I loved it. I could feel pre-cum dripping from the tip of my cock. Each time I felt my climax approach, I slowed my stroking for a moment so I didn’t cum.

“Well, I don’t want to disappoint,” Ian said as he lined himself up to mount my wife.

I stopped moving, almost stopped breathing, as he rubbed the tip of his erection through my wife’s lower lips, getting it nice and wet. She started moaning.

“Oh, god you feel good.”

The intensity of her moaning increased when he started tapping his cock on her clit.

“You ready?”

“Oh fuck yeah, put it in.”

And he did. With one long thrust, Ian forced that beast of a cock into my wife. She threw back her head and screamed.

“FUUUUUUUUCK!”

Ian held himself, balls deep, until my wife’s first climax settled. She looked up and smiled at him.

“I’ve never done that before,” she said. “Cum from penetration alone.”

This was Ian’s chance to rub it in, humiliate me, her husband, for not being able to make her come with my cock. But he didn’t.

Instead, he leaned over and kissed her. It was a tender kiss, a lover’s kiss. He whispered something in her ear that I couldn’t hear. She sighed and hugged him tight, then said, “I need you to fuck me now, Ian.”

“Gladly.” Ian held my wife tight and started thrusting his hips. He started slow, but the rhythm quickly sped up.

“Fuck, shit, fuck. So good. Faster. Fuck me faster.”

Stephanie’s words drove her lover on and I watched him somehow increase the speed of his fucking. I kept masturbating, matching my strokes to his. I was close to a climax but I couldn’t stop. The scene was too intense, too erotic. None of my wildest, wettest dreams had ever been so vivid.

“OHHH, shit,” Ian said. “I’m going to cum.”

It was the last chance for my wife to have him pull out. He could cum on her tits and that would be just as hot—but not really. I wanted him to pull out, but I didn’t want him to pull out. I was a mess and I was about to make a mess. I wanted to watch him come in my wife. It was safe, Stephanie said so, herself. Her decision couldn’t possibly have been tainted by passion. It was a delusion, but one that spiked the intensity of the moment.

“Give it to me, Ian,” Stephanie demanded. “Give me your cum. I want it. I want it all!”

Her words stung, but felt good. She wanted this man to inseminate her. She wanted to feel his cock pulse and release his seed deep inside her, deeper than I’d ever been. I’m sure the thought of getting pregnant roamed somewhere in the back of her mind. And that made the whole decision hotter.

Ian’s hips were a blur. I could sense he was close. I was close.

“Here it comes, baby. Here. It. Cums.” With a deep grunt, Ian thrust deep and held. His ass clenched and I could tell he was cumming in my wife. The moment was burned into my memory and I came myself. I shot several ropes of white tacky semen onto the carpet. It felt wonderful releasing, even if my cum was wasted.

Ian collapsed onto my wife. They hugged and kissed. And oddly enough, I felt guilty for watching such an intensely intimate moment.

I fell back in the chair and caught my breath. I closed my eyes and replayed what I had witnessed. My wife giving herself to another man. It felt both arousing and disturbing. I was filled with jealousy and lust. I couldn’t explain it, but I loved it.

“I told you not to masturbate.”

I opened my eyes. Ian was sitting in the bed, my wife next to him. She was slowly stroking his waning erection and avoiding my gaze.

“You couldn’t wait, could you?”

It felt weird, being lectured to by a man who had just fucked my wife.

“It was too damn hot,” I said. I wanted to explain myself, but Ian wasn’t going to allow me to.

“You can leave now. Don’t bother cleaning up the mess.”

I was more than happy to. I stood up and tucked my cock back into my pants. I reached toward Stephanie.

“Let’s go, sweetheart.”

I was stunned when she didn’t say anything. She had stopped playing with Ian’s cock, but she still wouldn’t make eye contact.

“Stephanie?”

My wife finally looked up at me, but instead of saying anything, she bit her lower lip.

“I think, since you broke the only rule, you should be punished. So, if she wants to, I think Steph should stay with me tonight.”

I felt a sick feeling in my gut. I’d blown it. I couldn’t control my libido for a few goddamn minutes and now look. I really wanted to plead with my wife, implore her to get dressed and come back to our room. But that’s one thing I would not do. I would not beg my wife. It was her decision.

“Do you want to stay, or do you want to come back with me.”

The look in her eye and the silence told me her answer.

I fought back the desire to scream. I turned toward the door.

“It’s only for one night,” she nearly whispered. “I’ll see you in the morning.”

I couldn’t look back. It hurt too much. And I wasn’t sure if my eyes were dry or not.

When I entered the room, I was envisioning watching Stephanie and Ian enjoy a round of fucking, just one round. Then I’d take her back to our room and reclaim her.

But, that wasn’t to be.

I left the room and as the door closed behind me, I heard my wife and her lover getting on to round two.

Reunited Feels So Good

My trip back to our room was slow and fraught with emotional tension. I felt angry and jealous from being kicked out of the room where my wife was fucking another man. She was my wife, after all. But I couldn't help but feel that I didn't deserve to be there, since I did break a rule and masturbate when I promised I wouldn't.

What hurt the most, and made me so fucking hard, wasn't that Ian made me leave, it was that my wife had agreed to stay with him. Up until then, we had been sharing the experience, but now, she was fulfilling her own desires.

I was confused, not sure how I was supposed to feel—hell, I wasn't even sure how I actually felt. I was jealous and angry, but also aroused. My wife had been so excited when I agreed to let her fuck Ian. I thought it would be easy to share her with another man, I thought our game had given me enough practice. I was wrong. During our play, I was always in the room, playing the lover, my role was to please her. In reality, I was the husband, destined to spend the night alone.

My mind had been so caught up with angst, I was shocked to realize I was now back in our hotel room. The room my wife had booked, that I had paid for, the one we should be fucking in, right now.

I was numb as I stripped down to my boxers. Even though I had just had an orgasm, my cock strained against the silky material. I fell back on the bed and pictured my wife and Ian, three levels above me.

In my mind's eye, Stephanie was on her hands and knees. Ian was behind her, hands grabbing her hips as he repeatedly drove his cock into her wet pussy. I heard my wife moan with pleasure, then yelp when he wrapped his hand in her hair and pulled her head up. The fierceness of their coupling shocked me.

I heard her screaming his name—Ian, Ian, Ian.

She was crying out how full she felt, then begging him to cum inside her.

My eyes were closed and my body shivered in sympathy with my wife's imagined orgasm. I was slowly rubbing my erection through my boxers, we may be apart, but I was still sharing the experience.

"Hope you saved some for me."

My eyes shot open on their own. My cock twitched.

I was so lost in my imagination, I thought I saw my wife, Stephanie, standing over me. She was wearing a pair of loose boxers and Ian's leather jacket. The jacket was open, giving me a teasing glimpse of her breasts. Her hair was a wild, sexy mess. She looked every inch a bad girl.

My hand never stopped moving up and down my erection.

Stephanie smiled, her eyebrow raised. "I was worried you were upset, guess I was wrong." She bent over and grabbed my wrist. "Let me help."

The vision of my wife knelt before me and pulled my boxers off. I had to lift my hips and that's when I fully realized I wasn't imagining. My wife was really here.

Stephanie started stroking my cock.

"Why aren't you with him?" I asked.

"I wanted to be with you," my wife replied, matter-of-factly.

My heart skipped a beat when she said that, which was weird because she was my wife. She was supposed to want to be with me.

"But he excited you so much. You were beaming when I said you could fuck him."

Stephanie smiled, a sweet smile. "You silly, silly man. You're the one who excites me. You're the one who let me go off with Ian. You're the one who I'll always come back to."

Her words were a salve to whatever anguish I was feeling and I almost missed the suggestion that this wasn't a one-off.

I grabbed my shoulders and pulled her down to me. I kissed her lips with a savage passion that had crystallized in my heart while I'd watched her fuck another man. I needed her right now. I needed to make love to her, to feel the warm walls of her pussy wrapped around my cock.

She melted into me. Her body was warm, despite her lack of clothing. She smelled of him, his cologne. The memory of Ian taking my wife drove me on. I slipped the jacket off her shoulders and started attacking her tits with my mouth. I needed to reclaim Stephanie. I bit at her nipples which were hard as pebbles.

My wife moaned and pulled my head to her chest. "Charlie, that feels so nice."

I turned my wife's body so she was below me and started moving down, planting kisses along her stomach as I neared my ultimate goal, her cheating married cunt.

I stopped and looked. Her pussy was slick with her juices and there was a hint of pearly fluid pooled in her folds. Without hesitation I flicked my tongue out to taste her. She was salty and tangy. I had gone down on her before, after coming inside her. This was no different.

I probed her with my tongue.

“Oh, God, babe, that feels nice,” she sighed.

She could have taunted me, I knew. She could have demanded I clean her lover’s cum, but she didn’t. This was a husband loving his wife, making her feel special. Showing he approved her cheating ways.

I felt her body quiver as a mild orgasm spread through her core. Stephanie mewed as I bumped her clit with my nose, my tongue lapping away at her pussy lips.

“I need you inside me,” she said.

I didn’t make her ask twice. I quickly moved over my wife and slid my erection into her well-lubricated pussy.

I was in heaven, my cock sheathed within her warm body.

“I love you,” she said.

I leaned down and whispered, “I know.” I began to move slowly within my wife, hoping to make her feel as good as her lover had. Also, I wanted to last as long as I could. I had already come once this evening, but I felt my own climax quickly approaching.

“Cum in me, love, Add your seed to his.” My wife’s dirty words reminded me I wasn’t the first man to be inside her this night. “You feel so good.”

“Better than your lover?”

Stephanie opened her eyes and looked into mine. She paused, her eyes searching. She wanted to know which answer I wanted more. Did I want the truth or the tease?

I twitched my cock inside her. “Come on, tell me?”

She gave me a wicked smile. “Not even close.” She gave me the tease.

“We’ll see about that.”

I started fucking my wife in earnest. I rapidly thrust my cock as hard and as deep as I could. In and out, I moved. My wife held her sultry smile until her eyes rolled back and her smiling lips parted. “Oh, gawwwwwd.”

I had touched something. I may not be as large as Ian, but I was her husband. My wife and I had a connection, no stranger could break.

“Fuck, fuck fuck,” my wife sighed. It wasn't a hard climax she was experiencing, but it was deep. It had meaning.

I felt my own climax arrive. I made one final thrust and held. My cock twitched and I released, my seed added to Ian's.

“That's it, baby,” Stephanie cooed. “cum for me. Yes, yes.”

My wife squeezed the walls of her pussy, milking my cock. We hadn't cum together, but it felt just as good.

When I had shot my last load, I rolled off my wife.

We laid there in silence for a few moments.

“That was the best sex I've ever had,” Stephanie said.

“Better than Ian,” I asked again, “the truth this time.”

My wife rolled toward me. “The whole evening, love. All of it. It was all part of the same act. The seduction, the teasing, fucking Ian and finally coming back here to you. It was all... The. Fucking. Best. Sex, I have ever had.”

I smiled. “Yeah, same here.” I reluctantly agreed. “It was the best.”

Stephanie rolled over and draped her body over mine, her hair falling into my face. She smelled so sweet, despite the hint of Ian's cologne that lingered. We stayed like that for a few moments, basking in the afterglow.

“So, did he trade you the jacket for your dress?” I joked.

“I think he wanted to ensure I came back to him.”

“Are you going to?”

It seemed odd, but I was okay with that.

“You could always take them back. Tell Ian we had a good time. Wish him well. Or...” My wife was trying to make me decide.

“No, Steph. It's up to you.”

“You're my husband.”

“You're an adult, who can make her own decisions.”

My wife was silent, obviously thinking what to say next. She played her fingers over my chest.

Eventually she answered. “Would you be mad if I said I wanted to go back?”

“I was kinda hoping you would.”

“Can I ask why?”

“Cause the sex we just had, when you returned to me, was the best we'd ever had. I want to feel that again.”

My wife tilted her head and smiled at me. “That's so good to hear.”

She stood and bent over to pick up the jacket.

"I think you should wear a robe going back." I wasn't too keen on my wife walking the halls again, in only a jacket that went down to her hips and a pair of Ian's boxers.

She looked at me. "Concerned for my modesty now, huh?"

"Please."

Stephanie laughed. "Sure. But I'm going to take it off before I knock." She gave me a wicked smile. "I want to be naked when he opens the door."

"I know I'd like it, if I were him."

My wife grabbed one of the hotel robes from the closet and put it on. She still looked like a slut heading off to meet her lover. She grabbed the jacket and her room key.

Even though I had just climaxed, for a second time, I still found myself getting hard, thinking what my wife and Ian were about to get up to.

"Enjoy yourself," I said as my wife reached for the doorknob. I started stroking.

"I will," she said, then turned to me. "And don't you spend the night beating off too much. I'll need you to be able to reclaim me in the morning."

"Even after all the fucking you'll be up to?"

"Charlie. No matter what. I will always be up to having sex with you."

"One more thing, before you go," I said, "Something's been bothering me."

"Beside me fucking another guy?" Stephanie asked smiling.

"That doesn't bother me." We shared a chuckle. "No, I'd like to know what he said to you after you came on his cock."

My wife paused, thinking about what I was asking, re-running her tryst with Ian. "Oh, that." She smiled. "I think it'll be hotter if I keep that to myself, don't you think?"

My cock twitched as the door slammed shut. She wasn't going to tell me. She was going to have a secret she shared with her lover. It felt strangely erotic, not knowing.

As I lay in bed, languidly stroking my cock, I couldn't help but marvel at our situation. My wife was heading out to fuck another guy, and I couldn't be happier.

Excerpt from Cuckold's Gift

I swiped the room key clumsily across the door sensor. It took several tries before I heard the click. Trisha wasn't helping, she was fumbling with my belt and zipper before we even got into the room.

We stumbled over the threshold. My wife disengaged and began tearing her own clothing off. I kicked the door shut behind me and quickly followed suit. She finished first. I was still fussing with my button-down shirt when I glanced over at the bed.

She was stunning, lying back against the pillows, naked, her auburn hair splashed in waves around her head. Her breasts lay squat against her chest, her small pert nipples were hard, yearning to be touched.

I glanced down between her parted legs and couldn't help but notice the glistening of her core. She was wet and ready.

"Fuck me," she said. "Hurry."

I moved swiftly, kicking my shoes off, tossing my shirt on a nearby chair and hopping about, trying to disentangle myself from my boxers. My erection was not helping matters.

When I was finally free of clothing, Trisha snickered.

"Took you long enough."

I moved across the bed, resting between her open legs, ready to thrust.

"I could stop," I lied.

She lifted her right eyebrow and smiled. "Really?"

I plunged forward. Trisha gasped. I felt exquisite warmth envelop my penis.

"You're pretty excited," I whispered as I worked my cock in and out of my wife's pussy.

"Shouldn't I be? Excited? For my—" She couldn't finish her thought as her first orgasm hit. I felt her contract around me. I could feel my own climax approach and I was stunned when a vision of the stranger at the bar taking my wife's hand entered my head.

I felt a rush travel through my body to my cock.

"Ahh, fuck," Trisha gasped.

The very thought of another man with my wife was filling me with a burning lust and I was helpless to stop it.

Trisha didn't seem to mind my newfound passion. "Fuck me, Glen. Fuck. Me."

I obliged, thrusting with a speed and force I hadn't known I possessed.

"You feel so good," my wife murmured. Her head was thrown back, her eyes closed. "So fucking good." She was lost in the moment.

I remained silent, drifting in my own thoughts, fighting the demons that seethed within.

As I continued to fuck my wife, I could feel a rage building. A rage of lust and pain and pleasure in my core.

"I'm close," I said. "Close."

My wife just hummed, a smile on her face, her eyes still closed.

With a grunt, I pressed as deep as I could and released my orgasm, spewing my seed with several sharp spurts. Each pulse eliciting a gasp of joy from my wife.

I collapsed beside her, naked and spent.

"That was nice," I sighed.

Trisha mumbled in agreement.

"You were really excited tonight, sweetheart."

"You do that to me."

That wasn't a lie, I was sure, but not the whole truth, either.

"You were dripping wet."

Trisha stared at the ceiling as if oblivious to my question.

"Dripping. Fucking. Wet."

She started chuckling. "Yeah, I was, wasn't I. I really needed that, love. Thanks."

Blood was slowly working its way from my cock back to my brain and I really wanted to know what happened to make my wife so horny.

"So, Trish, was it me or your new friend that got you all worked up?"

I was kind of joking and I half expected my wife to laugh it off and come up with some excuse for her sexual excitement. Instead, she lay next to me in silent contemplation.

"Trish?"

She continued in silence for a moment. She took a few breaths before answering.

"You saw me with Nick, huh?"

I wasn't expecting her to admit her guilt so quickly.

"So his name's Nick, huh?"

"Yeah. And he's in Dallas for a couple days, just like us."

I should have felt jealous and deflated as my wife went on about her new acquaintance, but I didn't. I felt invigorated.

Trisha continued. "He's looking at some investment property. Asked my opinion about some locations. Of course, I told him I was just visiting here. He invited me along to look at some land."

My heart froze. My cock pulsed.

"What?"

"He asked me out, to look at property."

"And you said no, right?"

I looked over at my wife. She still had her eyes closed. Her mind was off in another realm.

"Trisha. What did you say?"

She turned her head toward me and smiled. "Of course, I told him I was married and not interested in checking out any property. You really think I'd —"

I had turned my body toward my wife and my erection slapped against her thigh.

"Glen! You're hard. Again?"

I admitted it, not like I had a choice, with the evidence poking in her side.

"Did my flirting with Nick excite you?"

"So you admit to flirting?"

My wife slapped my chest. "I asked first."

"Sure. Yeah. I'll admit it. Watching a stranger chat you up got my engines revving. Seeing him touch you, make you laugh. Got me hard. I could have taken you right there on the bar."

"Really?"

"Yeah."

"Well. I have an admission of my own. Sitting there, chatting with Nick got my engines revving, too. I would have loved to have been fucked on that bar."

It took me a few seconds to realize she didn't say who she'd like to have fucked. That laid me back, set my mind racing. I felt Trisha's hand reach over and glide toward my pulsing cock.

"You didn't ask me who I'd want to fuck."

"You didn't offer."

My cock twitched at the words.

"He was really well built."

I didn't say anything as jealousy and arousal took control of my body.

"And I could tell, he had an above-average cock."

I felt my erection jump in her hands.

"That excite you, hubby? Me telling you about another man's cock?"

"You'll call me a liar if I say no."

"Then why? Why does it excite you?"

"I don't know. Wish I did. It's something I just learned about myself."

"You getting tired of me?"

Now she was turning our pillow talk, into something else – something like an accusation.

"No. Fuck, no. I told you. Seeing him with his paws on you made me desire you even more than I thought possible. Or maybe it just reminded me, how much I've always desired you.

Trisha continued to grip my shaft.

"Well, that's good, cause I love and desire you, too."

That should have been enough. We could have ended our conversation there and forgotten about Nick and the flirting. But some demon tapped my shoulder and whispered a question into my ear.

"And you desire Nick, too."

This time, I was the one making the accusation.

Trisha didn't answer. I sat up in bed and looked down at her. A couple of tears had formed in the corners of her eyes.

"Don't hate me."

The tears started slowly rolling down her cheeks.

"Trish, I could never hate you."

I leaned over and licked up the salty drops.

"I love you. I desire you. And watching you with Nick drove me mad with lust for you."

A moment of silence passed between us, until it was broken by her whisper.

"You don't know how happy that makes me feel."

"I never want to lose you, Trish, but I'm not going to stifle you, either."

"What's that mean?"

"Flirt all you want. Know that I love you and want what's best for you."

Another moment of silence, as my wife processed the words I'd spoken, reconciled them with her own thoughts and desires, and finally worked up the courage to ask me, "So, you wouldn't be mad if I met him again? Tomorrow night? At the bar?"

For More Sean Geist

You can find my books on Amazon and where other eBooks are sold.

You can also follow me on Twitter at @SeanGeist

And if you want to send me fan mail you can reach me at SeanGeist@Outlook.com

More by Sean Geist

The Things We Do For Lust

What Flirting Leads To

Pictures at Ten

Sharing My Bride

Shift Change

Sherry Tells Stories

Simple Sketch

Twin Betrayals

Cuckold's Gift

Wives Playing Rough (Short Story Collection)

Zahara